HB304 Change Is Vetoed

Senate Upholds Action

By PAUL M. QUINN
BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson today vetoed and sent back to the Senate the controversial proposal that would lift the four per cent limitation on property tax revenues.
The Senate was to immediately begin debate on whether or not to sustain the governor's first veto of the current legislative session. Indications were that there were enough votes in the upper chamber to back up the governor.
Last Thursday the House, after a narrow debate, passed the Senate-originated legislation

Bulletin

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson vetoed the controversial proposal to lift the 4 per cent limitation on property tax revenues and the Senate failed in an attempt to override the veto.
The veto in the upper chamber—which required a two-thirds majority—was 18 to 17 to sustain the veto.
Only one senator debated on the veto message, Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise. The veto was the first by the governor of the current legislative session.

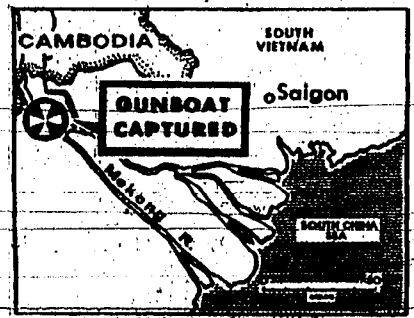

44-25. The Senate two weeks ago passed the bill, SB1414, by a 22-13 margin.

The measure killing the four per cent limitation on tax increases was studied by the governor during the weekend. Friday and Saturday he received more than 100 pieces of mail on the bill in addition to meeting with several delegations on the proposal.

Evans said, "I still maintain that the taxing responsibilities should be placed back with the city and county, officials" that the House Speaker William J. Laning, R-Hollister, and Majority Leader Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, said the legislature will "just have to start over again" after the Senate sustains the veto.

Crapo said Samuelson indicated he would prefer legislation along the lines of the defeated House Bill 483 which retained the four per cent limit but excluded certain items from the revenue base.

"He feels there has to be some latitude for the taxing districts without taking all the production off," Crapo said.

THE U. S. COMMAND said Monday in Saigon that Cambodia has captured and is holding five American sailors and the gunboat they sailed across the border from Vietnam Thursday. Officials said the boat crossed by mistake into Cambodia on the Mekong River, 103 miles southwest of Saigon. (UPI telephoto)

Allies Clash With Vietnamese Forces

By WALTER WHITEHEAD
SAIGON (UPI)—For the fourth successive day, Allied troops clashed today with North Vietnamese forces attempting to push into South Vietnam from Cambodian bases, military spokesmen said.
They said a U.S. patrol boat apparently trying to keep track of the infiltration strayed into Cambodia on the Mekong River Thursday and was captured. Its five-man crew was arrested. A civilian irregular defense group (CIDG) mercenaries led by American Green Berets killed 15 Communist troops today in the renewed fighting on the Mekong Delta's Plain of Reeds near the Cambodian frontier.
Since fighting in the region of wild marshes 60 miles west of Saigon and six miles from the Cambodian border began Friday night, the irregulars, backed by heavy Allied air strikes, have reported killing 117 North Vietnamese soldiers. Military sources said the CIDG lost 22 killed and 25 wounded in the action, while U.S. military sources said as many as five North Vietnamese regiments made up of 12,000 men have been moved into the Mekong Delta or nearby Cambodian sanctuaries since last summer to bolster Viet Cong forces. The sources said they may be preparing a major test for South Vietnamese units in the delta.
The U.S. Command said American troop strength in Vietnam declined by only 400 men last week in advance of the third phase withdrawal of 50,000 American servicemen. Spokesmen said there were 472,100 troops on duty in the war zone as of Feb. 5.
About 3,000 Marines have been withdrawn from Vietnam in the first of the third phase pullout but the reduction has not yet been reflected in official records because of bookkeeping red tape, officials said.
Elsewhere in Vietnam, Communist reported light and scattered ground fighting in the hours following the end of the Viet Cong's four-day Tet truce. Allied forces reported killing 160 Communist troops Sunday while suffering one killed and 14 wounded.

5 Arab States End Council

By RAYMOND WILKINSON
CAIRO (UPI)—Leaders of five Arab states today ended their three-day summit conference with pledges to liberate Israeli-occupied territories. They blamed the United States for endangering peace in the Middle East and the world.
A two-day summit conference issued after the final 30-minute session urged all Arab nations to mobilize all resources for the struggle against Israel and attacked the United States for its support of the Jewish state.
The communiqué—widely covered specific points discussed by leaders of the so-called "frontline" states—Egypt, Jordan, Iraq, Sudan and Syria. The meeting was called to coordinate military and political strategy between the Arab forces on the eastern and western fronts in the Middle East.
The urgency of their task was underlined Sunday by two Israeli air raids on Cairo's outskirts which killed 100 civilians in their suburban Heliopolis meeting site and sent shock waves across the Egyptian capital.
The communiqué said Arab nations would be able to absorb future Israeli "aggressions" but were "determined to liberate usurped Arab lands."
The leaders said the meeting was held "at a time when the United States is taking a new aggressive position against Arab nations and its real ties with Israel are becoming the conflict have been uncovered."
It was an obvious reference to reports that the United States planned to provide new weapons to Israel, sparking part in the controversy over the Union message. The king later this month will celebrate his ninth anniversary as Moroccan ruler.

Rogers Ends 10-Nation African Tour

RABAT, Morocco (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers wound up the first stop on his 10-nation African tour today in talks with King Hassan II of Morocco.
Rogers' luncheon meeting with the 40-year-old monarch followed morning sessions with Foreign Minister Abdelhadi Boutaleb and Prime Minister Ahmed Laraki.
The U.S. official flies to Tunis tonight.
The Nixon administration is known to be pleased with the skill Morocco's young king has shown in exercising what the United States believes is moderating influence on Arab extremist elements.
At a dinner hosted by Boutaleb Sunday night, Rogers praised Hassan for his wise and courageous leadership of this nation of 14.5 million people. The king later this month will celebrate his ninth anniversary as Moroccan ruler.

Equal Time

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—George Wallace's American Party was awaiting a reply from the nation's three major radio and television networks today for its demand for equal time to answer President Nixon's recent State of the Union message.
T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond, the party's national chairman, sent telegrams to the networks Sunday night after ABC, CBS and NBC allowed Democrats to air their rebuttal to the President's address.
The party's demand is that the networks give equal time to answer President Nixon's recent State of the Union message. T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond, the party's national chairman, sent telegrams to the networks Sunday night after ABC, CBS and NBC allowed Democrats to air their rebuttal to the President's address.

4 Governors Turn To Congress

By United Press International
Four Southern governors are turning to Congress in their battle against massive public school desegregation in Dixie.
Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama, Lester Maddox of Georgia, John McKeithen of Louisiana and John Dell Williams of Mississippi conferred in Mobile, Ala., for nearly three hours Sunday.
The governors expressed firm opposition to busing students to achieve racial balance and resentment over what they termed the federal "double standard" of enforcing desegregation in the South and ignoring it in the North.
"We plan to meet immediately with members of the Congress," Brewer said. "We're going to call on Congress to support us and pass the Stennis amendment (requiring freedom of choice desegregation programs)."

Republicans Uncommitted On Carswell

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Of the 17 Republican senators who are expected to vote on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Clement W. Carswell, only one has publicly indicated he will also vote against Judge G. Harrold Carswell.
The other 16, for the most part, are playing it loose, waiting until the nomination reaches the Senate floor.
Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said he could not vote for Carswell because the Florida judge failed to "head and promote" the civil rights revolution. An Informal survey among the other 16 GOP senators also indicated that Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York will vote against confirmation.
Javits said Sunday he probably would vote against Carswell. He said he had not made a definite decision and would wait to see the detailed questioning of Carswell by the Senate Judiciary Committee.
Four others—Republican Leader Hugh Scott, Assistant GOP Leader Robert P. Griffin and Sens. John Sherman Cooper and Richard S. Schweiker, blue to vote for approval.
In addition, Sens. William B. Saxton of Ohio and John J. Williams of Delaware appear to be leaning toward supporting the Tallahassee jurist.
The rest of the 17 are undecided, or at least withholding their opinion.

City Street Lighting Improvement Studied

Approximately 50 additional street lights of 18,800 down to 7,000 lumens in size are needed in Twin Falls to light areas which may be annexed, and existing areas where lighting is now sub-standard.
City Manager Jean Miller said he has completed a study of lighting needs and will meet in the near future with Idaho Power Co. officials to make plans for installation of the additional lights, depending on the outcome of the present city annexation suit.
Mr. Miller said the 15 larger lights of 18,800 lumens would be installed in areas such as the south entrance of the city, the new Kellwood Plant, and on Falls Avenue around the Priory and other new buildings, and some as replacements along Blue Lakes Boulevard North.
Residents would be largely for approval of a lighting, he said. For street lighting alone, not including traffic signal lights, the city pays about $1,600 per month, and the additions would increase the monthly bill by some $200, he estimated. The lights are paid on a monthly basis according to size. Where a pole must also be installed, the fee is an additional 75 cents per month.
Mr. Miller said when a schedule of new light installation is worked out with the Power Company it will be presented to the city council for final approval.
Lights are an important part of neighborhood protection in residential and business areas.
In one part of the city where police calls were numerous, ranging from window peeping to vandalism and more serious crimes, a new system of lighting installed several years ago almost eliminated complaints from that area. Mr. Miller said.
Residents frequently request additional lights on their streets and as the city can afford the

L. F. Team Wins Stanley 100-Mile Snowmobile Race

STANLEY—Teamwork was the answer for an Idaho Falls trio as they outtraced 24 other teams to win Stanley's annual 100-mile cross-country snowmobile race Saturday in Stanley Basin.
One member of the winning team ran out of gas a short distance from the finish line. To win, all three members of a team must finish the race, so with one member of the team pulling and another pushing, all three came across the finish line together to win first place. It took them three hours and 50 minutes to complete the race.
Members of the winning team were Val Robinson, Dr. Rulon Robinson and Arlen Buttkofer, all Idaho Falls. They each received a trophy and $50 in cash.
Finishing second was the Stanley team, consisting of Don Cutler, Louie Piva and Stan Twinkl. Stan was chairman of the race committee and Louie is president of the Salmon River Snowmobilers, sponsor of the race. They also received trophies and $25 each.
There were 25 teams starting the race and the Idaho Falls team led all the way after passing the first checkpoint. There were five checkpoints and the first two teams were running close all the way.
Lee Presley, district ranger at Stanley, started the race and kept close watch on it at various points along the course.
The race started at Smiley Creek, went up to Cape Horn area and then to the finish line on Main Street in Stanley.
When one member of the Idaho Falls team ran out of gas, Louie Piva raced ahead of them and was the first racer across the finish line. He also was the first to cross the finish line before the Idaho Falls team.
However, one of his teammates ran out of gas and had stopped to put some in, thus losing time which cost them first place.
Later Louie Piva said his strategy was to push the Idaho Falls team as hard as he could, hoping they would make a mistake. But they didn't.
The winning team members were riding Arctic Cat snowmobiles. It was Louie.
Third and fourth place teams were from Bellevue. Members of the third place team were Roger Fry, Martin Gutches and Mick Barker. Fourth were Ken and Nancy.

Nixon's ABM Expansion Plan Called Mathematical Nightmare

By DARRELL GARWOOD
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration's $1.5 billion proposal for expanding the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) system was called "a mathematical nightmare" today in an opening attack from the scientific wing of its opposition.
Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a nuclear physicist who was active in the 1969 drive that fell only one Senate vote short of killing ABM, said Soviet experts must be puzzled by the nervousness of Pentagon officials and by the "extreme assumptions" they are making.
The "extreme assumptions," Lapp said, are that 90 per cent of the Soviet missiles will be launched successfully, that 80 per cent of the warheads would be "on target," that 97 per cent would detonate properly and that 100 per cent of the Minuteman missiles would be trapped and fired in their underground silos.
Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., spearheading the political and diplomatic opposition to ABM, charged last week the Nixon proposal probably will stalemated the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) this spring in Vienna.
Details of the ABM extension will be announced later this month, Nixon, in his last news conference, said the increased system would be used as an area defense for cities and regions of the country instead of just missile silos.

Rights Committee Studies Charge Of Discrimination

Members of the Twin Falls County Human Rights Advisory Committee have received their first charge of discrimination filed by a local woman charging she was refused a job because she could not speak English.
The charge is now under investigation. Robert Stradley, Kimberly, committee chairman reported at a meeting last week, members heard a review by Jesse Bernin, member of the state advisory committee, on what steps are taken in the event of a charge being filed. He advised the committee to notify the company involved they have a right to file an answer within 10 days.
Mr. Bernin said the major function of the advisory committee is to negotiate with persons involved in prevent situations which lead to the discrimination charges.
The most valuable service the committee provides, he said, is as a communication link between the parties involved. He stressed the fact there are many types of discrimination other than racial but said a community where business firms display signs indicating they will not serve members of a minority race are those in which trouble can be anticipated.
It was suggested members contact advertising media in the community and ask they advise their advertisers of certain improper advertisements, such as those stipulating a job is open to persons of certain race, religion or sex only.
He noted there may not be too many women truck drivers, but it has been proven they are capable and a firm advertising for a truck driver would be wise.

LSD May Also Cause Malformed Offspring

CHICAGO (UPI)—LSD, the chemical which can induce fascinating hallucinations and interesting introspection, may also result in malformed babies, even if users of the chemical stay "clean" during pregnancy, three doctors said Sunday.
The physicians, writing in the February issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said LSD (lysergic acid diethylamide) may damage the chromosomes of germ cells in the parents, thus leading to abnormal offspring.
Kurt Hirschhorn and pathologist Lotte Strauss, all of the Mount Sinai school of medicine, City University of New York, based their study on the case of a malformed infant which died of respiratory distress nine hours after birth.
The child's father, 36, had its mother, 27, had taken several doses of LSD, the father four years prior to the infant's birth, and mother, nine months prior to conception.
The infant's mother continued to use marijuana, barbiturates and methedrine during her pregnancy, but the doctors said those drugs "have so far not been found to cause chromosomal damage."
According to the physicians, chromosomal aberrations in the infant resulted in its being born with low set ears, a broad nose with a prominent bridge, poorly formed wrists, a left hand with four fingers and right hand with six fingers, loose skin on both hands and many internal defects.
Neither parent was aware of any other congenital defect in the family, the doctors said. Both parents had chromosome breaks.
The doctors said chromosomal aberrations such as those found in the infant "in most instances are carried in two or more generations of the same family in individuals... with a history of diminished fertility and repeated miscarriages."
Since neither parent had a family history of such defects, the doctors said, "the chromosomal aberration in the infant and the history of LSD ingestion by the parents, both of whom show other chromosomal structural rearrangements in some of their cells, suggests that LSD may have induced abnormal chromosomal transients in the germ cells of the mother."

News Of Servicemen

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Gr. Richard O. Jacobs, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith L. Jacobs, Route 1, Kimberly, has been awarded the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal while attached to the staff of Commander Carrier Division Three, now embarked in the USS Ranger operating in the Tonkin Gulf.

He earned the medal during January while participating in special operations in the contiguous waters of the Korean peninsula.

Petty Officer Jacobs is assigned to duties in the flag office which is responsible for the administrative functions of the carrier division. He entered the Navy in January, 1967.

Navy Seaman Apprentice Rodney J. Herrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven J. Herrett of 1022 Second Ave., W. Twin Falls, graduated from Fleet Anti-Submarine Warfare School at San Diego, Calif. The course provided him with a comprehensive education in the various weapons and electronics systems used to track down and destroy enemy submarines.

Chris B. Talkington, 318 Maurice St., has been discharged from the Air Force. He spent most two years in Puerto Rico. He is now attending college at Idaho State University.

Navy Petty Officer 1-C Gary W. Ferris, son of Mr. Ralph W. Ferris of 675 Taylor St., is serving at the Naval Security Group Activity in Kamiseya, Japan.

Democrat Asks Governor's Aid On 304 Measure

Lloyd J. Walker, Twin Falls, a possible candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, appealed to Gov. Don Samuelson Saturday not to veto the repeal of House Bill 304. "The centralization of power and control in state government which is caused by House Bill 304 is not in keeping with the growing cities of Idaho or the return of power to local government which should be one of the goals of government in the 70's," Mr. Walker said.

Occupational Deferments Continue In New Draft Plan

Occupational deferments will continue under the new lottery system of draft selection, according to Maj. Gen. George B. Bennett, state director of Selective Service. In answering several questions that have cropped up repeatedly, Gen. Bennett explained that the new draft lottery law did not change the regulations concerning deferments.

Senate Study Is Critical Of U.S. Health Insurance Plan

By MIKE FEINSLBER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate staff study, sharply critical of the fees doctors collect for treating Medicare patients, says the government's health insurance program has driven up medical costs for all Americans.

Its chief proposal for overcoming the problem—a fixed schedule of fees participating doctors can receive for the Medicare practice—struck a sensitive nerve. The medical profession has always opposed government-set fees.

But the 323-page report, issued by the Senate Finance Committee Sunday after 18 months study, says only drastic reform and higher taxes can drive the health insurance trust fund from bankruptcy.

In addition to overcharges by doctors, it attacks sloppy management by the Social Security Administration and "erratic, inefficient, costly" performance by state insurance carriers, in most cases Blue Shield agencies, which have served as middlemen between doctors and the government.

The report says doctors have been receiving fees three or four times larger from Medicare than they are permitted to charge for the same services under Blue Shield or Blue Cross.

Medicare provides hospital insurance for Americans over 65, paid for through Social Security taxes. In addition, 19.3 million pay $1 a month for voluntary insurance covering 80 per cent of their doctors' bills above the initial $50. Medicare pays the medical bills of the poor, regardless of age, from the government treasury.

The report said President Nixon's proposal for collection of $10 billion in higher Social Security taxes over the next 25 years will be needed to keep the Medicare fund solvent.

But it urges Congress to set by law the $1 fee for the medical insurance portion of Medicare, known as "Part-B."

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, has announced a hike in that charge to $5.30 effective July 1.

Under the fee schedule recommended by the study, the patient would be responsible only for 20 per cent of his bill if he went to a "participating" doctor, who could charge no more than the fee schedule allows.

If he went to a nonparticipating doctor, he would have to pay the first $50 and the government would pay 80 per cent of the balance, with the patient paying the rest.

The fees would be set by an advisory board of private health insurance company executives and underwriters named by the HEW secretary.

Trustbuster Doesn't Plan To Quit Post

By ISABELLE HALL
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard W. McLaren, the Nixon administration's trustbuster, has no intention of leaving his post as assistant attorney general, voluntarily or otherwise.

Rumors he might be leaving have floated in the business community ever since McLaren began cracking down on anti-competitive business practices—particularly mergers. The rumors resurfaced on Wall Street recently when he broke with the administration on some key issues.

Some said he was being forced out, others he was leaving on his own.

Asked to comment, McLaren said: "I hope when I get home tonight that my wife has closed the contract for a room we're adding onto the house we just bought here. How's that for an answer."

His antitrust actions drew blood in the business community and even some areas of the government were stunned when he went after the giant oil company, British Petroleum.

The State Department periodically was upset when European newspapers reacted angrily.

McLaren brought only 44 lawsuits last year but, like an iceberg, they reflected only the top of his activity. They also had considerable deterrent effect, causing some companies planning mergers to "back off."

Embarrassing

HONOLULU (UPI)—A motorist was cited for inattention to driving Sunday after his car collided head-on with another vehicle in full view of spectators watching a safe-driving "roadshow."

Police said the motorist had his eyes on the road, instead of the road.

Housing For Laborers Is Studied

BRIGHAM CITY (UPI)—The housing problem for an estimated 1,000 laborers who work in Box Elder County came a step closer to a solution recently, following a tour of Idaho migrant labor camps by members of the county commissioners.

A spokesman for the commission said that following recent tours of camps in Caldwell and Emmett, Idaho, the governing group initiated action to obtain a multiple housing unit proposal from a development firm.

Douglas Simpson, housing specialist for the Farmer's Home Administration in Salt Lake City said the FHA would grant the housing authority two-thirds and loan one-third at five per cent interest for construction of facilities for migrant workers.

He noted that normally over 1,000 migrants work in Box Elder County each summer. Farmers and growers have been furnishing housing, but have not escaped criticism because of the condition of the facilities.

Frank O. Reeder, Box Elder County Commission chairman, said the Hemispheric Development Corp., Salt Lake City, has been requested to make a study of multiple housing unit construction.

Antipollution Crews Work On Tanker

PORT HAWKESBURY, Nova Scotia (UPI)—Antipollution crews, under government direction, to destroy a shuttered tanker and the oil it is spilling into the North Atlantic, said today their greatest problem would be how to ignite the thick, gooey globs of heavy, Grade C oil.

The oil slick spreading from the tanker Arrow, owned by Green Shipping Magnate, Aristotle Onassis, soaked into the North Atlantic, breaking into smaller globs and depositing dead sea birds along the shores.

The tanker, carrying 6,000 tons of oil, split into two Sunday, snapping as it balanced on a small reef where it had run aground Wednesday. The main oil slick, pushed by northeast winds, stretched about four miles into the North Atlantic, about 750 miles northeast of New York City, said a spokesman for the Imperial Oil Co., which chartered the vessel.

In Ottawa, Transport Minister Don Jamieson, who ordered the ship and its oil burned, indicated Sunday he might fly to Nova Scotia to oversee attempts to ignite the slick.

"One of our greatest problems now is how we are going to get this stuff to burn," said an Imperial spokesman. "It's very heavy oil, and it just ends up in thick, gooey globs in this cold. It is very difficult to set alight and even harder to keep burning."

The 11,000-ton tanker, ran aground Wednesday on Cordero Rock, a small reef about three miles offshore in Chedabucto Bay, 140 miles northeast of Halifax. It was carrying the heavy oil to a paper mill. The crew was evacuated Thursday by the Canadian coast guard.

The tanker "broke right in the middle from its own weight at about 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon," said Glen Hancock, public relations officer for Imperial.

Army Court Proceedings Are Probed

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—Defense sought to determine today whether those who processed the court-martial proceedings against Lt. William L. Calley Jr. were "influenced by directions from on high" including the White House—to prosecute him.

Maj. Gen. Orwin C. Talbott, commander of Ft. Benning, was a prime witness scheduled for today's pretrial hearing into defense charges Calley cannot get a fair military trial because of improved "command influence."

On Nov. 24 Talbott ordered Calley's court martial. The 26-year-old Miami man is charged with the premeditated murder of 107 Vietnamese civilians in March, 1968, while leading his infantry platoon on a sweep of the village of My Lai.

"I have every reason to believe that the man who signed these court martial articles knew the President had spoken," defense attorney George W. Latimer asserted in a pretrial hearing Jan. 20.

UPI And Union Reach Accord

NEW YORK (UPI)—United Press International and the United Telegraph Workers (UTW) reached a tentative contract agreement Sunday night which provides a wage increase of 35 per cent over a three-year period.

Wages would go up $15 the first year and $10 in each of the next years, according to the UTW, the maximum monthly pension benefit was increased to $300.

The UTW negotiating committee, composed of Burt Red, Milton Caplan, and Al Fischer, said they would recommend acceptance.

Cambodia Captures 5 U.S. Sailors

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command announced today Cambodia has captured and is holding five American sailors and the gunboat they sailed across the border from Vietnam Thursday night.

The patrol boat crossed by mistake into Cambodia on the Mekong River 105 miles southwest of Saigon, the announcement said.

The crewmen apparently became disoriented in the dark when returning to their station at the USS Bonhomme, located 15 miles downstream from the border," the command said.

"The U.S. government is in touch with the Cambodian government in regard to the release of the personnel and the boat."

The crewmen were not identified.

Trustbuster

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard W. McLaren, the Nixon administration's trustbuster, has no intention of leaving his post as assistant attorney general, voluntarily or otherwise.

Rumors he might be leaving have floated in the business community ever since McLaren began cracking down on anti-competitive business practices—particularly mergers. The rumors resurfaced on Wall Street recently when he broke with the administration on some key issues.

Some said he was being forced out, others he was leaving on his own.

Asked to comment, McLaren said: "I hope when I get home tonight that my wife has closed the contract for a room we're adding onto the house we just bought here. How's that for an answer."

His antitrust actions drew blood in the business community and even some areas of the government were stunned when he went after the giant oil company, British Petroleum.

The State Department periodically was upset when European newspapers reacted angrily.

McLaren brought only 44 lawsuits last year but, like an iceberg, they reflected only the top of his activity. They also had considerable deterrent effect, causing some companies planning mergers to "back off."

EMPTY COLLEGE campus at Albion tells a story of neglect and desolation, but plans are under way for a trade and technical school to make its home on the 40-acre site. All photos were taken by Times-News photographer Dan Johnson.

Albion Campus May Soon Assume Fourth Name

ALBION — The college campus at Albion, which has known three different names during its 78-year history, may soon have a new name.

The fourth name, Intermountain Trade and Technical Schools, Inc., may soon grace the spacious campus whose empty grounds now give mute testimony to another period of desolation. The trade school has been incorporated as a non-profit educational corporation which stressed the need for farming vocations.

Robert Briggs, Pocatello, who heads the trade school, has been negotiating for the college property and it is expected that if no objections are raised at a hearing, slated for Feb. 16, the campus will be sold to the city of Albion by the State Land Board.

Albion city councilmen then would be legally able to lease the historic campus to the trade school, and have indicated they will do so if the purchase from the state is successfully completed.

The campus first operated as the Albion State Normal, then as the Southern College of Education, and last was the home of Magic Valley Christian College, a church-related school which moved its campus last fall to Baker, Ore.

The Albion campus began in the early 1890's when J. E. Miller, one of the town's pioneers, gave five acres of land to the state for a Normal School.

The residents of Albion put their collective shoulder to the wheel, raised $3,000 and with their free labor completed a two-story, three-room native rock building in which the Albion State Normal began its existence. Within a year the school found it necessary to hire a faculty of five to teach the students that had enrolled.

Through Mr. Miller's efforts, in 1893 Idaho's second legislature established two normal schools. The one designated for the south half of the state was to be established in Albion if the citizens could construct a building and furnish it until 1895, which they did.

John L. Smith, Oakley, Cassia County representative in the third general assembly of Idaho in 1895, was instrumental in getting $37,500 appropriated for the Albion school.

The legislature continued to support the college and the citizens of Albion donated another five acres to enlarge the campus. In January, 1905, the training school was added.

The normal school was almost snuffed out when the county seat was moved from Albion to Burley. The school itself was merely moved to Burley, but the Idaho Supreme Court declared the bill unconstitutional because it had originated in the senate but included a statewide tax on all Idaho property to be used to construct new buildings in Burley.

Buildings were added to the campus at Albion, and acres of land were added until a total of seven large buildings graced a 40-acre campus.

In 1917 the Albion State Normal became Southern College of Education, offering a four-year program. After the end of World War II a large number of veterans attended Southern College of Education under the GI Bill. Then the last veteran graduated and the school enrollment dropped.

In 1951 the legislature voted to close the college's doors. From 1951 until 1958 the campus remained silent and idle.

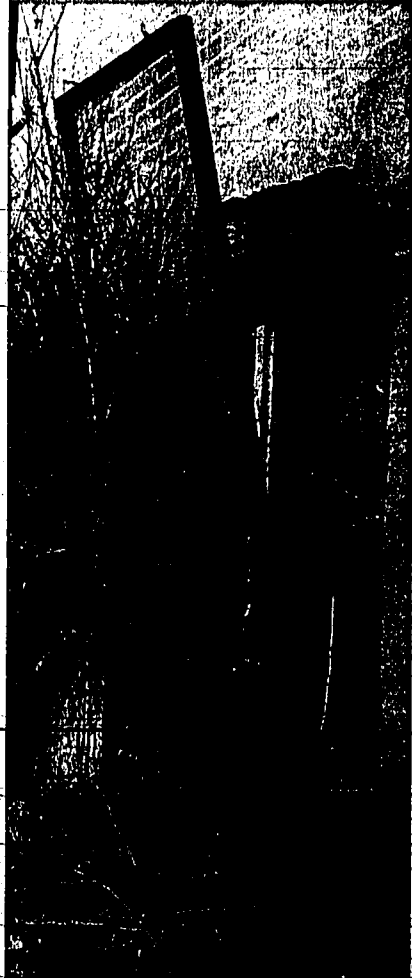

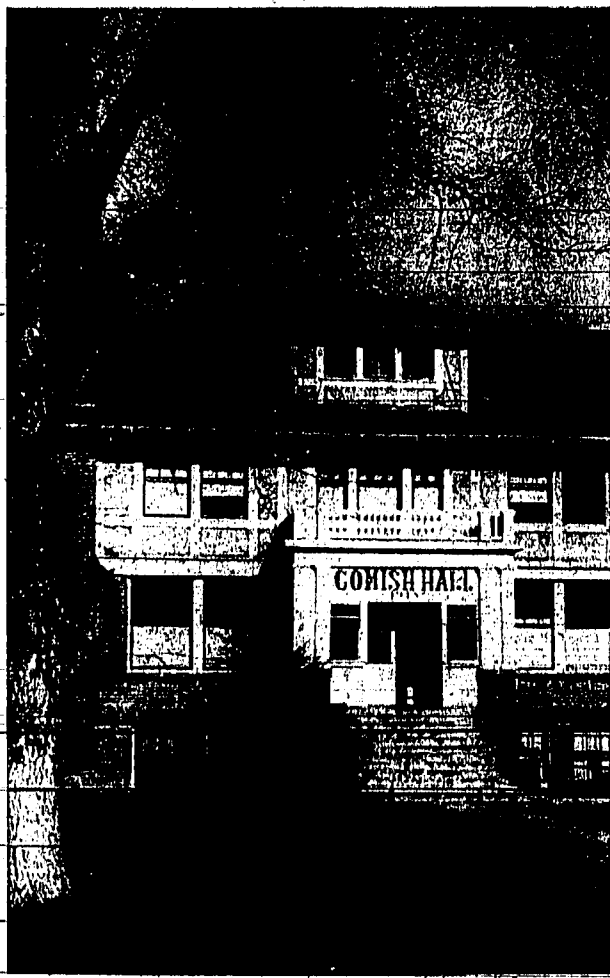

Then a non-profit corporation known as Magic Valley Christian College was formed in 1957 and a 99-year lease bill was passed by the legislature granting use of the campus to the corporation.

In the fall of 1958 the college reopened under the name of Magic Valley Christian College with George W. Doffo as president. He served at this post until June, 1964. Donald R. Nelson assumed the president's post in the summer of 1964. Soon after his arrival at MVCC the decision was made that the college should return to a junior college status.

In the spring of 1969, Magic Valley Christian College announced plans to move the college to Baker, Ore., and the move was made when the college closed at the end of the school term.

Once again the Albion campus was reverted to the state and has been closed.

History seems to repeat itself and Albion residents have hopes once again having a successful academic climate in the community.

DEAR ABBY: I notice that you did not comment on that letter from "YOUNG at 37." You were smart.

She seemed so pleased with herself because she did all her own housework, cooking, laundry, raised four children and even laid tile and painted her house. I wonder when she found time to write that letter?

She bragged that after 20 years of marriage, she still weighed the same — 102 pounds — and she stood 4 feet 11 inches. The she had the gall to suggest that other women could be "slim," too — if they would get off their fat fannies.

Well, I have news for her. She is from 13 to 17 pounds OVERWEIGHT for her height. Maybe she should get a good look at herself in a rear view mirror.

Me? I am her age, also stand 4 feet 11 inches, and I weigh 85 pounds.

DEAR ABBY: This is for that cute-little 102-pound 37-year-old lady.

More Snags Plague Try For Stadium

BOSTON (UPI)—A hitch in plans to construct a $30,000,000 stadium for the Boston Patriots appeared Sunday as state legislators from the Neponset section pleaded for more attention to traffic and parking problems.

John D. Warner, head of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, scheduled a meeting Monday with the legislative delegation, which includes the Senate chairman of the Taxation and Transportation Committees and the House majority whip.

Warner said Saturday a "complicated legislative package" would be presented to Gov. Francis W. Sargent by late Monday or Tuesday. The sports arena would be built on 57 acres of marshland near the Neponset River by the South-east Expressway.

Seattle Meet Was Comedy Of Errors

SEATTLE (UPI)—In a track meet filled with miscues, stumbles and mistakes, you could almost count on a 27-year-old "overweight" lady college teacher to set a world record.

Veran Olympic runner Doris Brown proved the only star Saturday night at the Seattle Invitational track meet when she thrilled hometown fans by cracking the women's 1,500-meter indoor mark.

Mrs. Brown, a lecturer at Seattle Pacific College, posted a time of 4:21.1, more than 12 seconds better than her old record of 4:33.3 she set here in 1966.

In a thought I was in terrible condition, she said afterward. "I thought I was overweight. I used to weigh around 110 pounds and now I'm five pounds or so over that."
But the blonde Mrs. Brown, despite her age and weight "problem," admitted she is pointing for the 1972 Olympic games in Munich.

ably taller, than his 6-2 frame in the eyes of his teammates as a result of his clutch free throw shooting Saturday night that helped topple mighty Weber State.
He delivered two free throws with 13 seconds remaining to preserve the Zags' 87-66 upset victory over the Wildcats. Those two clutch tosses snapped Weber's 24-game winning streak in Big Sky play extending back to the 1967-68 season.

Gonzaga needed them both to clinch the win since Weber's Willie Sojourner, whose tip-in at the final buzzer gave the Wildcats a 43-41 win over Zags Friday night, scored the final two seconds to narrow the gap to one point.
Sojourner, Weber's workhorse center, tied Gonzaga's Bill Quize for scoring honors with 26.

Meanwhile, Idaho State blew its opportunity to climb into a first place tie with Weber when the Bengals lost an 80-68 decision to Idaho to split a weekend series at Moscow. The longest registered a 75-69 triumph Friday night.

Idaho took the lead with 15 minutes remaining in the first half and never fell behind, although the Bengals were able to tie the score five times.
The Bengals, who shot a cold 31 per cent from the floor, fell behind for keeps midway through the second half despite a 23-point scoring effort by Willie Humes.

Montana converted its free throw accuracy into an 82-75 win over arch-rival Montana State which evened the Grizzlies record at 3-3 in Big Sky play.
Each club finished with 32 field goals, but the Grizzlies scored seven more points from the line to knock the Bobcats deeper into the league basement.

Dave Gustafson was tops for Montana with 26 but that total was second to MSU's Jim Tillman, who scored in the second quarter. Four points are on tonight's schedule, including two league contests: They are Weber at Idaho and Idaho State at Gonzaga, followed by Parsons at Montana and New Mexico State at Montana State.

Weber is at Idaho State, Gonzaga at Montana and Idaho at Montana State for important league contests on Friday and Saturday nights.
9.5 Million Raised To Keep Pilots
SEATTLE (UPI)—A group of Seattle businessmen were to leave for Chicago Monday with a $9.5 million package they hoped would keep the American League Pilots in the Pacific Northwest.
The group will present the plan to a full panel of league owners or their representatives Tuesday when a final decision on the fate of the Pilots is expected.

last $180,000, needed to complete the package was gathered Saturday and a spokesman for the group said, "We have hit it on the button and perhaps a little more."
The group still needed to raise negotiations over a $1.5 million note called in by the Bank of California. However, with $5 million in limited partnership and non-profit group funds in hand, the note was expected to be paid before the Tuesday meeting.

THE TOP THREE in the men's special slalom of the 28th World Alpine Ski Championships was happily after the presentation of medals Sunday in Val Gardena, Italy. First place winner Jean-Noel Augert (C) of France is flanked by second place winner Patrick Russel (R) and American Billy Kidd, who provided a surprise by finishing third. Augert Takes Slalom Title In World Alpine Meet, USA's Kidd Has Third VAL GARDENA, Italy (UPI)—Mop-haired Frenchman Jean-Noel Augert Sunday won the slalom title at the world alpine ski championships after withstanding determined challenges from compatriot Patrick Russel and American Billy Kidd.

Augert, a 28-year-old from La Toussuire, clocked one minute, 39.47 seconds for the two runs and said later his victory came as "no surprise."
Russel, 23, who entered the race with maximum World Cup Slalom points from three and a complete disaster for the Austrians, their greatest rivals, who did not have a man in the official finish list.

Augert, who finished second in the 1968-69 World Cup behind Austria's Karl Schranz after scoring maximum points in the slalom, was the fifth fastest in the first heat and second fastest in the second. The 5-foot-7, 144-pounder, who finished the slalom in 1:36.14, had times of 51.36 seconds and 47.89 respectively.
Kidd, who has been racing on the European circuit since 1961 with moderate success since his two victories in 1969, was sixth in the first heat (51.63) but in the second he decided to risk everything and turned in the best time of 47.84.

Bulls Split In 'Twin Bill'

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Bulls, beaten 142-137, in an overtime playing off a Nov. 6 tie, came back Sunday to trip the Atlantic Hawks 117-107 and split for the day in a National Basketball Association "double header."
Lou Hudson tallied nine points in the overtime to spark the Hawks to 18 points in five minutes to wrap up the protested game of Nov. 6. The overtime was ordered by NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy who upheld a Bulls protest that officials had denied. Tom Boerwinkle a Heliac basket on the grounds the time had run out.
After an investigation Kennedy ordered the game to be completed with the score tied and one second to go. Atlanta couldn't score in the one second, but blew the Bulls off the court in the overtime.

Spurring down the long backstretch at better than 225 m.p.h. in his 1969 Mercury Cyclone, the popular Timmonsville, S. C. driver broke the old qualifying record of 100.707 which he set before the Firecracker 400 here last summer.

Fullmer Says Thursday Foot Made Mistake

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Don Fuller of West Jordan, Utah, said Sunday night Tom Bogs of Denmark has made a big mistake by agreeing to meet him in their middleweight non-title fight here Thursday night.
Bogs, 25, unbeaten European champion in 52 contests, was at the ringside when Nino Benvenuti of Italy defeated Fuller in San Remo 13 months ago. He did not rate the American too much of a threat.
"But Bogs only saw a mere shadow of my former self," said Fuller, blaming a pre-fight "case of the flu" which left him too weak to stage an effective fight against the world champion.
"The bout only proved that Benvenuti is better than half a Fuller. I'll say I reached the peak of my form now, and the Dane should never have stepped over here," said the Utah fighter.

Devlin Closes With 66 To Capture Bob Hope Classic By Four Strokes

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Cool Bruce Devlin, warming-up-in-blistering-heat while Larry Ziegler wilted, won the $25,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic Sunday by four strokes with a closing round six under par.

IT WAS THAT KIND OF DAY for Larry Ziegler, shown here holding his head after missing a putt on the fourth hole of Sunday's final round in the Bob Hope Desert Classic. The putter finally gave Ziegler an eagle. He lost ground steadily after that and finally blew the meet after leading for three days to Bruce Devlin — who took the prize by four strokes. (UPI telephoto) home in Florida, started the final round of the 90-hole marathon two strokes behind Ziegler. He caught and passed the St. Louis native on the 12th hole with his fifth bird of the day and it was no contest from there to the wire.

Devlin, a master plumber before he became a golfer, wound up with a score of 21 under par, 339. It won him $25,000 and a new high-priced automobile for the next three years.

Ziegler, who led or held a share of the lead from the first round, did not play all that badly but he was no match for Devlin, who bagged birds as though he were in a shooting gallery. Larry finished with a score of 71 under par, 345, and won $14,000. He had a closing round of even par 72.

Larry Ilson had a closing round 73 to finish third with a 13 under total of 347, one stroke ahead of Arnold Palmer, a three-time Hope champion who had a finishing 70.

One of the fiercest Devlin's 66 to advance from far back and gain a share with Bob Murphy at 349. Murphy's final round was a two-under 70.

Devlin said his play in the Hope Classic was his best in a long time. "I can't remember the last time I played this well," said Devlin who won the Byron Nelson Classic in 1969 and finished with earnings of $77,000.

Upsets Have Put WAC Race In Four-Way Dogfight For Title

By JAMES RADIS
United Press International
Don't blame Utah's beleaguered Jack Gardner if he irreverently refers to it from new-on-us "hushwaek country."

That would be an appropriate designation by the Ute coach for Ft. Collins and Larimer in view of the latest rounds of Western Athletic Conference basketball action.

Utah, which journeyed eastward over the Rockies underdog in league play, was jolted twice by Colorado State and Wyoming in decisive fashion.

Campaneris suffered a broken finger that forced him to miss a month of the 1969 season.

Rockne's greatest pupil, Leahy played center and tackle under the famous Notre Dame coach and was a starter on the Fighting Irish's national championship team in 1929. He was an assistant coach at Georgetown and Michigan State before serving Fordham as its line coach and helping to build the famous Seven Blocks of Granite during the 1930s.

As head coach, Leahy guided Boston College to a 20-2 record in 1939 and 1940 before returning to his alma mater as head coach in 1941. Under his direction, Notre-Dame had unbeaten teams in 1941, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1953. During his two terms (1941-43 and 1948-53), Notre Dame football teams compiled a record of 87 victories, 11 losses and nine ties. He coached in the Navy during World War II (1944-45).

Leahy second Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's presidential nomination at the 1956 Republican Convention and was named a Knight of Malta by Pope Pius XII in 1951.

Leahy birdied the third, fourth and sixth holes to make the turn at La Quinta Country Club in a three under 33 while Ziegler played the first nine in one under 35. That left them tied on the turn but Devlin lost a stroke on the 10th when he took a bogey five.

They both birdied the 11th but Devlin added another bird on the 12th while Ziegler bogeyed to put the Aussie ahead by a stroke.

While Ziegler struggled to keep his ball in play for parts, Devlin had birdie opportunities on nearly every hole the rest of the way. He got his sixth bird of the round on the 15th with a five-foot putt and his seventh on the following hole with a 35-footer to put the lead out of reach for Ziegler.

New California Divorce Law Fails To Produce 'Stampede'

By JACK V. FOX

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A torrent of new divorce actions forecast by some after passage of a California law authorizing dissolution of marriages simply because of "irreconcilable differences" has not come to pass.

The law went into effect Jan. 1 and there had been predictions courts would be swamped with couples seeking to end marriages that had long been on the rocks because of the ease of doing so.

Superior Court Judge Lester E. Olsen, head of 11 Domestic Relations Courts in central Los Angeles County, says that he, for one, never expected any phenomenal rise.

Olsen says the number of petitions filed in the first two weeks of this year actually is slightly below that of the corresponding period in 1969. He said the rate may increase once the public—and attorneys—become more familiar with the procedure but he anticipates no great change even then.

Under the previous law, California divorces were granted on grounds ranging from adultery to mental cruelty. The vast majority fell in the latter category.

Now, not only are "irreconcilable differences" sufficient grounds but the only grounds for action except for incurable insanity.

Under the new "dissolution of marriage"—the word divorce is no longer used—a petitioner whose action is not contested can get a decree in a space of two minutes by answering four questions put by a judge:

1. In your petition you have asked that the court dissolve your marriage. Do you still desire to have your marriage dissolved?
2. At this time do there exist irreconcilable differences between you and your spouse?
3. Do you believe that those differences have caused an irreparable breakdown of your marriage?
4. Do you believe that marriage counseling, or the assistance of the Conciliation Court, or a waiting period before proceeding further, could restore your marriage?

If the petitioner is seeking "spousal support"—no longer called alimony—a settlement also can be reached in another few minutes by answering three more questions:

Are you working at the present time? Have you worked in the past? Is there any reason why you cannot work, either part or full time?

If the court has before it an uncontested documentation of the couple's community property and the facts of their income, their standard of living and other financial information, a speedy judgment can be made on support payment.

"What it really gets down to is the need of one party and the ability to pay the other," Olsen said. "The other common sense thing is the length of a marriage. If a woman is parting from her husband after putting 20 years into a marriage, she is entitled to greater consideration than one who is breaking up with a man after a year."

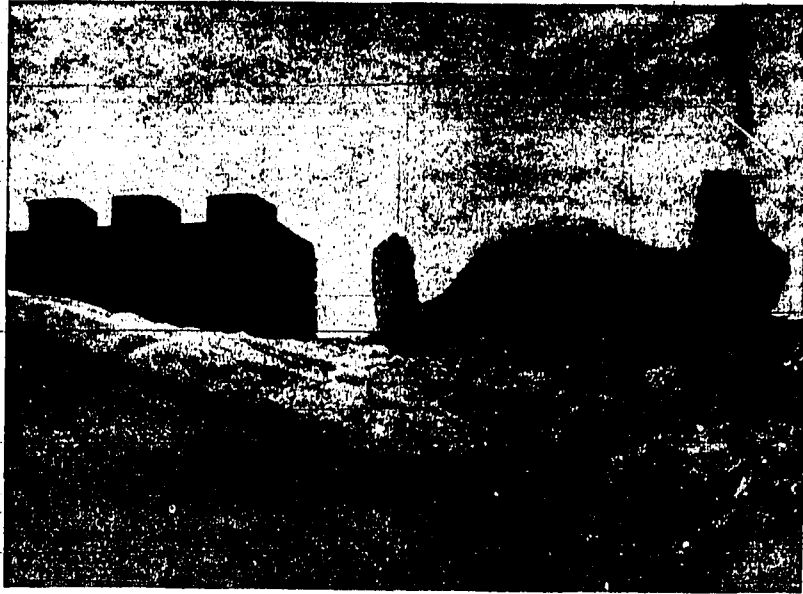

The only area in which personal behavior is considered is determining the custody of minor children. The procedure is to set a separate hearing on that matter.

If a petition for dissolution of the marriage is contested, the judge may call for testimony as to the facts in dispute as to why the marriage has failed.

The judge has at his discretion to listen only so long as he feels the testimony can help him in making a decision. He need no longer listen to the parade of witnesses spouting bitterness.

The new law does not provide any easy divorce route for couples from other states with stiff divorce laws.

It requires California residence for at least six months before filing a suit and the divorce does not become final for six months after a decree has been granted.

NASA Seeks To Develop New Fuels For High-Speed Jets

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is working at its Lewis Research Center on new fuels that are expected to increase the payload and lower the operating costs of planes of the future, including the supersonic transport (SST).

"The fuels are liquefied natural gas or liquid methane fuels. The liquefied gas offers higher heating and better cooling, but will require a pressurant to push the fuel into the engines and to prevent storage tanks from imploding.

Helium, which acts as a pressurant in moon rockets, is rated by the Lewis Research Center as the best possibility for this task, but NASA researchers will have to develop means of recovering and re-using the helium. Otherwise SSTs making three flights a day, 365 days a year, could consume more than 800 million cubic feet of helium, equal to total consumption of helium today.

Free-For-All Breaks Up Trial Of Protestors In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The trial of nine antiwar protestors charged with ransacking the Dow Chemical Company's Washington office resumed Monday after a wild fist-swinging melee forced abrupt adjournment of its last session.

The free-for-all, which involved U.S. marshals, spectators and one defendant, broke out while defendant Sister Joann Malone, S.L., a nun from St. Louis, was trying to exhibit pictures of Vietnamese children burned in a napalm attack.

U.S. District Court Judge John Pratt ruled the pictures were not relevant to the case, declaring "Vietnam has nothing to do with this."

When a spectator leaped in his feet yelling "napalmed children are relevant and so is the war," a U.S. marshal quickly moved in to escort him out of the courtroom.

To help the spectator free himself, Mrs. Pat Chappel, a member of the "D.C. Nine" defense committee, jumped on the marshal. She screamed and another defendant, Michael Slanki, 20, of Detroit, joined the scuffle. Other marshals then rushed in and removed the combatants.

FAILURE PREDICTED WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Council of State Chambers of Commerce has predicted that the $1.3 billion surplus in President Nixon's budget for the next business year will not survive added spending proposals by Congress.
