Kellwood Head Asks For Realistic Competition

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

The only dark spot on the otherwise bright horizon of the Kellwood Company is unrestricted imports of foreign made hosiery into the United States. Fred Wenzel, chairman of the board and president of Kellwood told a VIP banquet audience at the Blue Lakes Country Club Monday evening he was not an isolationist and realized that our country has committed itself to help our foreign friends, but he said that production "must be shared on some realistic basis with these foreign countries by establishing realistic and meaningful quotas which recognize our needs in addition to theirs."

The executive, from St. Louis and here to participate in ribbon-cutting and opening ceremonies at the new Twin Falls plant today, said that it is good "for our economy generally" to be able to buy foreign and low cost goods from these people, then he asked the question: "But, unlimited and without regard to our own problems and well-being?"

He told of the impact on the economy Kellwood would have on Twin Falls — with a workforce of 660 expected within the next few years — and said that last year Kellwood built nine plants or plant additions and began construction on three others including Twin Falls.

"This created new employment for about 1,000 people in 1969 and will add another 750 in 1970," Mr. Wenzel said. "Our typical plant site is unlike Twin Falls in that it is generally in a much smaller community, less prosperous and sophisticated, but everywhere, just as we are doing in Twin Falls, we are willing to hire and train the previously untrained worker." This practice keeps these workers at home, he pointed out, and is one that will "practice preventive medicine at home and provide employment at home" instead of forcing untrained people to go to large centers in an attempt to find employment and more often adding to the national expense of social welfare. "I do not suggest a boycott or prohibitive tariffs," he said. "But after all, our country has people who need help and no one can argue the point that the best help comes from gainful employment which builds self-respect, not welfare." He expressed pleasure at having a part in locating the new mill in Twin Falls. "This is a great occasion and one of the most rewarding aspects of my responsibilities is to see the completion of a dream, a plan and then the action that results in the finest hosiery operation in the country today. We are proud of this. See KELLWOOD, Pg. 2, Col. 2

Bitter Words Mark Bus Discussion With Board

The problem of busing students in the South Park area to Lincoln School and other schools in the Twin Falls system has been solved, at least for the present time.

But there were semi-bitter words at the Twin Falls School Board meeting Monday night when the problem was discussed.

Last week the board was informed 27 students had to cross Highway 74 and walk to Diamond Street to catch a school bus for a ride into school.

Monday night Jesse Berain, a member of the Idaho Human Rights Commission and acting on behalf of the parents in question in the Twin Falls issue, said, "The meeting last week was not proper." He said he felt everyone did not have a chance to express themselves.

Members of the board disagreed. The problem is this: students, 26 of them Mexican-Americans, walk from their homes in an area to the north of South Park Avenue West. Many of them cross Highway 74 and walk on to Diamond Street to catch a school bus.

The answer the board gave was simple. It was found a bus stops on South Park Avenue West at Fall Street at 8:25 a.m. The board asked Mr. Berain why the students could not board the bus at that point, and Mr. Berain had no objection but said he would have to discuss the matter with the parents before a final decision could be reached.

Meanwhile, the students will not have to cross Highway 74 and walk to Diamond Street to catch a bus. They will be allowed to board a bus on South Park Avenue West near Fall Street.

Mr. Berain said, however, there was some problem with the children walking down Fall Street to catch the bus. "It is muddy and at times there is heavy traffic."

He said the city has agreed to gravel the street and gravel a turn around point for a bus should it be decided a bus should be sent north up Fall Street to pick up school students.

Board members said, "We have other bad problem areas in connection with the busing of students. This isn't the only area."

Chairman Elmer Sommer said, "We do not run the buses to discriminate against any one."

A visitor, Mrs. Marge Slotten, said, "You have a problem with your bus, contractor, Kirkman Brothers."

The board met in executive session, closed to the public. See BITTER WORDS, P. 2, C. 3

Tramways Ruled Out For Use In White Clouds Area

OGDEN (Special) — A preliminary study report concerning the use of aerial tramways for mining access in the White Cloud Peaks area of the Challis National Forest points up some limiting factors according to Regional Forester Floyd Iverson. The report concludes that, due primarily to terrain factors, this proposed project does not lend itself to use of aerial tramways for mining.

The report was prepared by Charles F. Dwyer, Forest Service engineer specialist in aerial tramways. Mr. Dwyer is a recognized authority in tramway and lift construction and operation with experience in both the United States and Europe. He is a member of the U.S. Standards Institute and Aerial Passenger Tramway Code Committee.

Since the American Smelting and Refining Company's discovery of a major molybdenum deposit in the White Cloud Peaks area and the subsequent application for construction of a road in early 1969, the Forest Service has been analyzing alternate means of access. These include tramways, slurry pipelines, railroads, conveyor belts, and helicopter transport. Mr. Dwyer's preliminary tramway report is the first to be completed.

Mr. Iverson points out that this report evaluates only the technical engineering aspects of aerial tramways—it does not attempt to deal with tramway impacts on esthetic, watershed, and other values. Such evaluation of the tramway study is to be made by Forest Service landscape architects and soil and water management specialists. The recently completed tramway report is available for review by interested individuals. Copies may be reviewed in the office of the Forest Supervisor, Challis National Forest, Challis, Idaho, and in the office of the Regional Forester, Intermountain Region, Ogden, Utah.

Nixon Asks For Public Reporting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has ordered the Defense Department to make a public report from now on when any Americans are killed by hostile Communist action in the air or on the ground in Laos.

Nixon issued the order Monday after new criticism in Congress, where it became apparent his 3,000-word statement of last week failed to satisfy critics who claim he is hiding the scope of American involvement in Laos. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said two soldiers told him American troops were sent into Laos "to pick up (U.S.) bodies and bring them back into Vietnam so when they were counted as dead they would be counted as dead in Vietnam and not in the Laos theater."

Explosion Kills Two As Rap Brown Trial Starts

By CAROL ROSS

BEL AIR, Md. (UPI)—A car exploded with intense force late Monday night a mile and a half from the courthouse where black militant H. Rap Brown had been scheduled to go on trial later today on charges of inciting to riot.

The two black men in the car were killed. One of them was Ralph Featherstone, 30, a close friend of Brown's since the early days of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

State police said a powerful explosive tore through the vehicle from the right front seat. Lt. Col. Thomas Smith said investigators were checking "the possibility the explosives were being transported in the car."

The explosion occurred at 11:45 p.m. at an intersection of U.S. Route 1, a quarter mile outside Bel Air. The car was heading south from the town, perhaps toward Baltimore or Washington, authorities said.

Brown had been due to appear later today at his trial on charges of inciting arson and rioting by a speech he made at Cambridge, Md., in July, 1967. Brown's attorney, William M. Kunstler, said early today he telephoned Brown's wife in New York City with a message for him to remain there until things settled down. Mrs. Brown did not know where her husband was Kunstler said.

Featherstone, 30, a black civil rights leader originally from Mississippi, operated a bookstore in Washington known as the Spear and Drum, sources said. He had been program director of SNCC, which dropped the word "nonviolent" from its title in 1969. He reportedly was in Bel Air to attend Brown's trial.

The second man killed was not identified. State police cordoned off the blast scene, at a lonely intersection near a vacant house and a gas station. Several witnesses to the explosion said they heard two loud explosions as the car shattered. Only wreckage was left on the Highway. The car was blasted into fragments no larger than a man's arm. Pools of blood 50 feet on either side of the car marked where the bodies were hurled. The police would not speculate if the explosion was connected in any way with Brown's appearance at the trial.

Smith said a "high chemical explosive"—something more powerful than dynamite, perhaps TNT—was used. The bodies were taken to the Baltimore City Morgue and fragments of the car were collected for examination at the state police substation here. Twenty-five investigators were on the scene.

Today's 8 a.m. Magic Valley temperatures: Twin Falls 44, Weather Bureau, 25, with 70 per cent humidity; T.F. Entomology Laboratory, 27 and 74 per cent;

Weather Synopsis

Considerable rain and snow will fall today and Wednesday across Northern California, Nevada and Utah, but very little, if any of that precipitation, will spread north of the Southern Idaho border.

Skies are expected to be sunny much of the time over the agricultural valleys of Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon both today and Wednesday, although there will also be considerable high cloudiness at times.

Temperatures will rise slowly during the next two or three days. Afternoon highs will rise into the 40s and 50s, and the night time lows will be mostly in the teens and 20s.

Early season spraying operations should be able to make good progress this morning and again this evening. Winds will approach 15 miles per hour at times this afternoon. Field work and construction should also make good progress where soil conditions permit.

On the weather maps, weak high pressure dominates Idaho and Eastern Oregon, while low pressure disturbances are moving by to the south and causing the precipitation over Nevada and Utah. Satellite pictures indicate a vigorous upper air disturbance is over the Central Pacific, and it may move into this region later in the week.

The extended outlook for the last half of the week is for dry weather Thursday, and then a band of rain or snow and a change to cooler to move across Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho Friday or Saturday. Temperatures will rise to a little above normal Thursday, then lower to slightly below normal Friday or Saturday.

PAYSON, Utah (UPI) — "It was dark and my headlights were shining out into the lake and I could feel the water up to my neck... but I wasn't scared. I kept thinking about my two kids."

John Spencer, a 56-year-old paraplegic, was speaking of the thoughts that ran through his mind Saturday night as he sat trapped alone in an automobile submerged eight feet below the icy waters of Spring Lake 50 miles south of Salk Lake City.

"I kept some air in there and was pounding on the roof with my fist. I didn't know if they heard me, but I kept pounding."

They heard him.

Officer Larry Memmott of Payson City had rushed to the lakeshore when he heard on his car radio that an out-of-control automobile had plunged into the lake.

"When I got there and heard him pounding in the car, it kind of gave me a sick feeling," Memmott recalled.

"The car was about 40 yards from shore... I swam out and tried to open one door but it was locked."

Inside the four-door sedan, Spencer could feel the water rising through the floorboards.

"The bottom of the pond was soft and I could feel the car settling. When it did that the water would get higher—I was so cold, so cold."

Students At Jerome To Help Cleanup

JEROME — Jerome students will start their Easter vacation a day early so they can participate in the city-wide cleanup which begins March 26.

Jerome school trustees approved a request from Marshall Everheart, at their Monday night meeting, to start the vacation March 26. He said the local merchants will provide the needed equipment for the cleanup project which will not be restricted to the city limits.

Supt. John Campbell, in requesting that Easter vacation be extended to April 1, instead of having students return on March 31, told trustees that the students have two days of vacation coming and rather than change the closing date of school, it would be better to take the time off now.

He also pointed out that with the school plant facilities levy election scheduled for March 31, having students out of school would allow the older students to baby sit so more younger parents could vote.

Trustees approved the spring vacation to begin March 26 and continue through March 31, with classes to resume April 1.

Trustees also:

- Approved an increase in the superintendent's salary to $13,500 for the 1970-71 year and $11,000 for Ray Baker, assistant superintendent.
- Approved the calendar for next year which is similar to this year, with Aug. 25 as the starting date.
- Approved hiring Dalas Ward as vocational educational teacher for the last three months of the year. If the plant facilities levy passes, Supt. Campbell said $1,100 has been received for some equipment which was sold and this can be used toward the $2,000 Mr. Ward would receive.
- He will spend the time working on job write-ups for the vocational training program which will be adopted if the March 31 levy is approved.

Bitter Words

for two and a half hours before the regular school board meeting got under way.

Board members refused to discuss what went on in the executive session and said it has been board policy to keep children in school if at all possible and not kick them out.

The closed session, it was learned, concerned four high school students. The matters involved poor attendance and improper behavior, it was learned. A mother agreed to remove a junior and a sophomore from school for the balance of the year and two seniors were placed on probation.

The incident of "improper behavior" involved, it was learned, the placing of a small explosive in a doorway. A teacher opened the door and his coat was torn, it was reported.

In other business, the board voted to hold a public hearing March 30 on the 1970-71 school budget. The 1969-70 budget was $3,494,086 and the figures for the new budget are $3,469,310.

School Supt. Ernest Ragland said, "This new budget does not make too good a case for a teacher wage hike but because the limitations of House Bill 304 are still with us we must hold down spending."

The board also voted to call for bids for a new accounting machine, and a vote was given in support of the Twin Falls Mental Health Association request for moral support for a mental health program within the school system.

Crank Call Victim Dies, Ruled Suicide

Mrs. Ethyle Burk was alone in the world. Her son, EO2 Larry Manley, is in Vietnam and about two weeks ago she received word he had been killed.

The call was from a crank. EO2 Manley is alive and now he's flying home to attend his mother's funeral services.

Mrs. Burk took some pills Monday night and about 5:30 a.m. Tuesday, she died at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Coroner Cloyce Edwards has ruled the death a suicide. He said Mrs. Burk, 48, had been despondent.

She lived in an apartment at 601 Fourth Ave. N., and about 7 p.m. Monday she called a friend who alerted police Mrs. Burk might have "taken something."

Officers were unable to open the apartment door, and when they broke it in, Mrs. Burk was lying in a doorway. An ambulance was called and she was taken to the hospital, where she died about 10 hours later.

Coroner Edwards said the dead woman has no relatives living in Twin Falls. Funeral arrangements are pending arrivals of relatives from Montana and her son from Vietnam.

The false report that EO2 Manley had been killed while on duty with the Sea Bears near Da Nang resulted in an extensive hunt conducted by the Navy. The Navy is again in the process of seeking out EO2 Manley, this time to tell him his mother is dead and to fly him home for emergency leave. He has been in Vietnam since January and is scheduled for a year's tour of duty there.

Fire Burns Trailer, 50 Chinchillas

About 50 chinchillas were burned to death Monday morning in a fire which gutted the trailer house in which they were penned.

The animals, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Terry Gled, 211 Monroe Street, were breeding stock. Mrs. Gled said they had been raising chinchillas for about four and one-half years.

She said value of the animals and the trailer house was about $3,000, which was not covered by insurance.

Firemen were called to the scene at 11:13 a.m., by which time the trailer house was engulfed in flames and all the animals had perished. Two trucks which answered the call were back in quarters at 11:45 a.m.

Mrs. Gled said the fire may have started when a small heater ignited sawdust used to line the chinchillas' cages.

Time For Cool

Those tantrum-throwing youngsters at University of California - Santa Barbara caused about half a million dollars damage in their rioting and the excuses they offered for their lawlessness made no more sense than a spoiled brat's reasons for burning down the house. Some said it grew out of the Chicago Seven trials, which were blamed for other outbreaks of violence across the country, including Berkeley, where rampaging students caused more than $160,000 damage. William Kunstler had told the Santa Barbara students to "fill the streets" — and they did, with rock-hurling, torch-carrying mobs. Kunstler told them the time for protest has passed, "It is time for resistance." What did that mean? In any event, the revolutionists burned down the Bank of America building in Isle-Vista. Some students prevented the first efforts to set fire to the bank but the hard core militants and non-student "street people" were determined and finally succeeded. The Bank of America has offered a $25,000 reward for those responsible and we hope the bank has the pleasure of shelling out. It also spent sizable sums on full-page newspaper ads for an open letter to Governor Reagan, urging the states to take all necessary steps "to bring this wanton lawlessness swiftly and completely to an end." Destruction of the bank's $400,000 building was described as a "wanton act of arson," and the bank branded it further as "a criminal act of violent proportions... a continuation of the mindless violence that has been emanating from our campuses as a result of the stimulation of a violent few."

We can only admire the bank's restraint. Many students are far from sympathetic with the militant activists but too many are willing to join the mindless mob, propelled by a handful of insurrectionists whose only goal is destruction. Some participants expressed regret for the violence after it was all over, apparently coming to a belated realization that they had been guilty of a crime and that only good fortune prevented fatalities in the melees and fire. Long-suffering college communities are beginning to demand stern measures to put an end to violence in the streets. A bill has been introduced in the California legislature to allow summary arrests of participants in illegal demonstrations who fail to identify themselves to authorities when asked to do so. Co-author of the bill, Don Mulford of Oakland, said non-students in the "revolutionary underground" are moving around in great numbers to incite campus rioting. Another bill would provide mandatory one-year prison sentences for illegal possession of explosives. There is and has been ample room within the framework of American democratic institutions for all reasonable and necessary changes. There is available ample procedures for the redress of grievances, and there is a hollow ring to the excuses given for protests leading to criminal actions. It would seem that a major motivation of students is the perverse pleasure some of these malcontents derive merely from tweaking the nose of authority. But there are some who want nothing less than to overthrow all authority.

CHICAGO—At one of his regular breakfast conversations with students recently, President Edward H. Levi of the University of Chicago listened to a law student's vigorous demand that students be given a voice in determining tenure for professors — that is, who shall have permanent faculty status. The student argued that ceding such powers to students would form an escape hatch for the university administration in touchy cases. At the large Midwestern state university where he was an undergraduate, the law student explained, students had been valuable allies siding with the administration against the board of trustees over a tenure for a faculty member so controversial that he had become a "political" question. Levi's reply was calm but firm. The trustees at Chicago, he explained, have no voice whatever in questions of hiring or firing professors. Furthermore, if any faculty member's tenure hinged on "political" considerations, Levi would walk out as president. In brief, the faculty will continue to judge itself without help from students. That single encounter between president and student helps explain why Chicago, with a traditionally radical student body and surrounded by Chicago's black slums, has so far escaped the worst of the campus insurrection. Even more remarkable in an era when the academic community nationwide despairs for the future of liberal education, the administration and faculty here are in a state of self-confidence, high morale.

The basic reason is that the men who run the University of Chicago have decided that the business of higher education is much too important to be entrusted to post-adolescents. Although Levi breakfasts regularly with students and has formed student-faculty committees, he is dubious about the value of student participation. In three years as president, the former law professor has made it clear that students will not make academic decisions. The dramatic testing of this policy came last spring when 400 student radicals, challenging the heart of faculty control, staged a 15-day sit-in at the administration building protesting the decision not to grant tenure to a radical professor. Resisting pressure, Levi refused to call the police. But in contrast to the permissiveness displayed that spring at Cornell and Harvard, the Chicago faculty expelled 37 students — and made it stick. Only once since then has Chicago's firmness been tested. When students picketing a university cafeteria as a protest against working conditions there tried to forcibly prevent anybody from entering the building, the reaction was swift. Without fanfare, 14 more students were expelled. Even so, the faculty still faces threats to academic freedom from student militants. In the last quarter, Maynard Krueger, a left-of-center economics professor, was harassed to the point of humiliation by radical students (and non-students, as well) in and out of class. Investigation failed to fix a basis for disciplinary action. Moreover, there remain scattered threats of force to influence the content of courses. The classes of one Negro professor, himself a militant, are being monitored by two Black Panther members (non-students) to guard against ideological deviation. The professor is furious at this challenge to his authority but can take no action until there is overt classroom disturbance. Compared to often outrageous classroom intimidation practiced by student radicals across the country, however, the cool Chicago campus is paradise. Indeed, there have been recent signs that the students here are turning away from attempts to take over the university and concentrating on whatever national issue is in the headlines — Vietnam, the environment, ABM, or, most recently the Chicago conspiracy trial. This is not because the Chicago students are particularly unusual. Faculty members confided to us that Chicago students, probably brighter and more alert than their predecessors, dislike contemplation and vastly prefer bull sessions to study. Had they been granted the concessions of the Santa Barbara or MIT students they might now be rampaging here on the Midway. The secret of Chicago seems to lie in the fact that the faculty and Levi (deeply admired by faculty, though not by students) believe in themselves, unlike many educators across the country. With distinguished academicians ranging from political scientist Henry Morgenthau on the left to economist Milton Friedman on the right, the Chicago faculty believes it has an invaluable product which should not be denatured by student whims. In an era of rampant student-worship on the nation's campuses, teachers and administrators here are unique in one vital respect. Unlike almost every college we have visited lately, nobody here told us: "You have to listen to the students; they have something important to say." Such academic self-confidence may be the starting point for the preservation of the university.

Sorry About That, Kid

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Has No Zest

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me if I am doing something wrong. I'm taking high blood pressure pills, a medication for indigestion, sleeping pills, and a tranquilizer every day. I'm tired all the time, have little or no zest for doing a thing. I don't go anywhere except to the doctor once a month, and to get my groceries and pay bills, and I'm just worn out. I didn't ask my doctor if it was okay for me to drink beer and ale, but I like it, and have a little.—N.A. With high blood pressure pills (perhaps a tranquilizer), sleeping pills, a tranquilizer, and some alcohol besides, I'm surprised that you stayed awake long enough to write to me. Next time you see your doctor, why don't you ask him if you can stop taking all or some of those medicines, to see what happens? If it is necessary to resume some medication, okay, but I would suspect that you have tranquilized and sedated yourself into the droopy-droops.

nerves, of course, often have a marked effect on that. One other question: Do you by any chance take some medication or other? Even simple drug store remedies? Some drugs (quinine and its derivatives are one) cause ringing in the ears. For a guess, you might be best off by going back to the doctor who thought your nerves were playing a big part of the trouble in your case. They could, you know. Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain alopecia areata. How long before the hair comes back in, and will it stay?—B.A. This is a patchy loss of hair either on the scalp or face — patches of baldness with the hair around these spots appearing normal. The cause is uncertain. Local inflammation may damage the follicles in these spots. It also can occur in highly nervous individuals, or those who have had a severe emotional shock, but we have no explanation for this. In many instances, the hair grows in again spontaneously, but this may take some months. Regrowth also can occur with steroid treatments, cortisone, or hormones either taken by mouth or injected into the bald area. This regrowth may not be permanent unless the treatment is continued. If the patient is of the nervous type, calming him down with tranquilizers or sedatives can be helpful. Generally speaking, chances of regrowth of hair are fairly good, but if the area has been devoid of hair for more than five years, the baldness will be permanent.

MR. SPECTATOR

Air Pollution

Air pollution isn't always caused by big industrial smokestacks, dumpgrounds, automotive engines on the blink, big jets pouring out fumes, sewage dumped here or there on the dumpgrounds. Today's Mr. Spectator proves the point. The picture taken just three blocks from the downtown section of Twin Falls (closer as the crow flies) and was burning away at a steady clip on one of our recent glorious pre-spring days. Without a little research—which we do not have time to do right now — we are not sure whether such burning in town is permitted but we will put in our two-bits worth that we do not like it. We caught this particular blaze because, from a few blocks away, it looked like a building was on fire. We took along the Times-News photographer just in case. As you can see, it was not a building fire. But we took the picture just to prove that there is something going on in the near-downtown section of Twin Falls. PEDALING ALONG Sixty million Americans riding bicycles? That is the claim of the League of Wheelmen, a national organization dedicated to the hardy pedaler, which ads the craze for the two-wheeler is gaining steadily, especially among adults. There you have the perfect solution to the generation gap: Junior takes the family car while Mom and Dad take to the hills on their bikes. Bicycling was a popular pastime before the automobile became the overwhelming compulsion for the mobile American. Perhaps it is staging an important comeback. It will be good medicine for a people who have become far too sedentary it does. Bicycle enthusiasts credit publicity over auto pollution for part of their increasing number. Bicycles, of course, emit no pollutants.

$24 Million Override

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon is going along, however reluctantly, with a minor cost "outrun" mandated by Congress, a 25 per cent aircraft price increase directed, in effect, by the House Armed Services Committee. The deal will cost the taxpayers $24 million in the new budget year. Many additional millions will apparently be involved in future procurements now planned to continue into the mid-1970s. The plane is the Harrier, designated AV-6B by the Marine Corps. It is a V-STOL fighter — that is, it is designed for almost vertical take-off and landing through the use of rotating jet engines. Harrier lands itself to use from undeveloped fields by Marine air support units. As a part of the first budget submission last spring by Melvin Laird, the new Defense Secretary, the Marines proposed to give up an order for 17 F-4 Phantom jet fighters and buy a dozen Harriers. The cost was a $57.6 million price trade-off.

There was a difficulty, however, Harrier is a British plane, made by Hawker - Siddeley. Those rotating jet engines are British-made Rolls Royces. As we reported at the time, this caused some concern in Congress, although U. S. plane makers have nothing comparable to show for large investments in V-STOL aircraft. Approving the proposed trade last year, in its report on the military procurement bill, the House Armed Services Committee took note of Harrier's British lineage by stating: "The committee endorses the procurement of the limited quantity of AV-6B Harriers for the purpose of test and evaluation by the Marine Corps. However, the Department of Defense is placed on notice that no further authorization will be approved by this committee for the procurement of this aircraft within the continental limits of the United States." That is what is happening, now that the Marines want to buy 18 more Harriers in the new budget year at a cost of $96.2 million. A United States plane maker will begin assembling Harriers here from British-made components this year. Under a four-year licensing arrangement, fabrication of most of the components, except for the engine, will be shifted to the U. S. In an appendix to his annual budget statement for the new year, Laird lays out the proposed arrangement in full, and makes it clear that Congress has decreed the additional costs involved. "Now that we have decided to move ahead with this program," says Laird, "and in view of the congressional desire to produce the aircraft in the United States, we have included $24.2 million (within the $96.2 million) to provide for the cost of partially assembling the 18 aircraft in this country under a licensing arrangement. "This $24.2 million," says Laird pointedly, "would not be required if we were to continue procurement directly from the United Kingdom." In trade circles it is reported that Hawker - Siddeley shopped around extensively among U. S. plane makers before deciding on a licensee. Under those circumstances it is an unhappy coincidence that the company which will profit from the Harrier deal is McDonnell-Douglas — the company which lost the Marine Corps for 17 F-4s last year. There are other questions which should be asked about the new Harrier purchase. Hopefully they will be asked in the Senate, even if the House committee is satisfied with the arrangement.

Social Problem

Months ago most Americans did not know the meaning of the word "ecology"; suddenly everybody does. Pollution of our environment, for years a concern of professionals and a crusade for cultists, now is everybody's concern. Today you'll hear demands for limiting families, parking all cars, shutting down whole industries, vigorously prosecuting polluters. Bob Hernbrode of Arizona's Game and Fish Commission says, "Professional ecologists welcome the host of amateurs now shifting the environmental crisis from the back burner to the front; our only reservation is they might get the pot boiling so vigorously it'll boil over and extinguish the flame." Experts who've recently studied pollution problems in 22 countries conclude it will cost much more to clean up our little corner of the earth than it cost us to get to the moon. And some are uneasy that the clamor for a cleanup might subside when the bills start coming due. Also, Dr. Frederick Smith, professor of resources and ecology at Harvard, says, "We are a crisis-oriented society; we have to become hysterical to get action, but we should make sure that proposed cures are not worse than the ills. HEW Secretary Robert Finch is among those urging, as an essential first step, limiting the number of children to two-to-a-family. President Nixon's top conservation aide, Russell Train, chairman of the newly created Council on Environmental Quality, agrees that his assignment, beyond technology, involves "a social problem." Dr. Paul Ehrlich, biological scientist at Stanford, says the "population bomb is ticking and it may be too late to defuse it." We are presently breeding one entire United States of America every three years. We've stacked 75,000 people to the square mile on Manhattan and, says Dr. Ehrlich, "81.5 per cent of them already suffer from some degree of neurotic or psychotic disturbance." India, with an annual birth rate of 43 per thousand, is talking about compulsory sterilization for males after the third child. But it would take a thousand surgeons operating eight hours a day five days a week for eight years to sterilize existing candidates; by that time it would be too late. "India's end of the boat is sinking!" He says Americans must take the lead in population limitation. He urges our tax and welfare laws immediately be rewritten to eliminate subsidy for large families. He urges mandatory birth control instruction in all public schools. Dr. Will Durant, historian, is altogether as concerned about our diminishing life-support resources as is anybody, but an historian sees a crisis through a wide-angle lens. He says population curtailment is overdue for other reasons. "The fertility of incompetence breeds the race from the bottom while the relative sterility of intelligence lets the race wither at the top." He says it is good that the young should rebel and the old resist, "but remember to remain civilized, for if civilization is sacrificed in the turbulence of change, we will all lose." And Dr. Durant suggests that cleaning up the world should begin with some people "taking a bath."

Rights Group Issues New Racism Book

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Civil Rights Commission issued a 43-page booklet today titled "Racism in America and How to Combat It," offering basic strategies for understanding and coping with the problem.

It was written by Dr. Anthony Downs, an economist who was a consultant to the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, and contained an introduction by Judge Otto Kerner of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, who headed the commission.

In one section titled "conclusion," Downs wrote: "First, racism in this country is the product of more than 300 years of systematic subordination of Indians and Negroes by the white majority, plus later subordination of still other groups. The racist attitudes, behavior patterns, institutional structures, and cultural heritage built up over these three centuries are profoundly embedded in our society.

"They cannot be eradicated overnight, or in just a few years. Therefore, effectively combatting racism will require continuous and prolonged persistence by both whites and Negroes. They must be deeply committed—indeed, dedicated—to this goal.

"However, there are signs that many white Americans are already tired of hearing about 'the race question.' Because most whites conceive of racism only in the overt forms, they believe it is rapidly disappearing or has already diminished to an insignificant level. For example, in 1968, 70 per cent of the national sample of whites interviewed by the Harris organization thought that Negroes were moving too fast toward integration."

Silver Price Tied Onto Wage Raise

KELLOGG (UPI) — If the price of silver climbs to $2.20 by 1972, 450 miners at the Sunshine Mining Co. will receive a 21 per cent wage increase under a contract signed Sunday.

The contract, the first in the Coeur d'Alene Mining District directly tied to the price of silver, provides for an eight per cent increase this year, five per cent next year and an additional five per cent in 1972.

However, there will be an additional one per cent increase next year if the price of silver goes to $2.05 per ounce and another one per cent on top of that if the white metal rises to $2.20 the following year.

The price of silver currently is about $1.90 per ounce. Union officials said the contract calls for an increase of 38 cents this year plus good fringe benefit increases.

Many economists predict the price will make the climb necessary for the miners to receive the additional increases.

Thomas McManus, Sunshine president who personally negotiated the contract, said "It appears to assure us of a stable labor situation for at least three years."

He said the company was pleased the miners were willing to assume some of the risk the company faces with the fluctuations in the price of silver.

Two People Get Normal Kidneys

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Two more persons have started back on the road to normal, completely useful lives as a result of two kidney transplants performed Sunday in Salt Lake City.

One recipient has been identified as Dennis Atkins, 22, of Bonner's Ferry, Idaho. He is at the University of Utah Medical Center.

The other was only identified as a patient at the Veteran Administration Hospital where he has been awaiting a transplant for three years.

Atkins has been living in Salt Lake City for the past six months. He came here after a fire destroyed his Spokane, Wash. apartment along with an expensive artificial kidney he kept there.

Coast Guardsman Saves Life In Icy Lake Michigan

By BILL NELSON
Elm Grove, Wisconsin,
The day is cold, raw — May 3, 1968. Along Chicago's Lake Shore Drive there is a steady "whoosh . . . whoosh" as thousands of cars rush their drivers to work.

Tires screaming, one car is cut off by a lane-changer. Smashing through a guard rail, it hurtles 60 feet out into Lake Michigan. Down it sinks, until only its roof appears above the whitecaps.

Roger Olson, a 22-year-old Coast Guardsman, frowns as the cars ahead slow down suddenly. Coming off a day of liberty, he is almost late for morning muster. He glances at his watch: 7:45 a.m.

The wiry, 155-pound sailor from Madison, Wisconsin, doesn't know it but the next five minutes, an infinitesimal slice of his life, will decide whether the driver of the stricken car, James Gilmore, will ever again see his wife and five children.

Traffic stops. Roger Olson now sees the submerged car. Two men have struggled through the choppy water to it. Peter Mayland, a student at Chicago Medical College, and an unidentified man. Neck deep in icy water, the two men wrestle with the car doors.

Olson turns off his ignition, climbs out of his car and walks over to the crowd of spectators. One minute has gone by. The unidentified man struggles back to shore.

"It's no use," he gasps. "Doors locked and windows up."

Olson looks down at his neatly pressed blue uniform. Reasons water makes him gasp. Two minutes. The sailor works his way around to the door of the sunken car, braces his feet on the side and pulls.

"Oh, God," he pleads as he strains. Slowly the door opens. He dives inside, struggling to see through the blurred waters. The man is wedged under the dashboard, his head near the other door. Olson gropes, finds a leg and pulls. He can't budge the body.

He surfaces, shouts at Mayland, "I'll try the other side." As he fights his way through the waves, he calls to the throng up on shore. "Please, won't somebody come and help!"

They stand and watch. One man tosses a tire iron to Peter Mayland. Three minutes. Mayland hands Olson the tire iron. With the fury of a man battling for life, the sailor smashes again and again at the car window. It drops out. He reaches inside, pulls the door handle, and tugs. It's opening, slowly.

He dives into the car. The man under the dashboard is stocky, well-built. He grabs the man's jacket and pulls mightily. Slowly the limp body slides free. Four minutes. Olson's lungs scream for oxygen. He bursts to the surface.

Minton Says Idaho Must Find Balance

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — Idaho must find a balance between preserving the quality of its environment and using its land to upgrade the economy. Al Minton, executive secretary of the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development, said Saturday.

Minton, here for a regional meeting of the Society of American Foresters, said 64 per cent of the land in Idaho is owned by the federal government, and brings in less than 1.3 million to the state annually.

In contrast, Minton said, Wyoming, with 48 per cent of the land owned by the federal government, receives $16 million annually. This money comes primarily from private free enterprise use of the federal lands, he said.

"We have come to the conclusion that the economy of Idaho . . . needs profit-producing areas such as the White Clouds, with the guarantee that recreation values of a carefully-planned total long-range ecology will be recognized," he said.

Minton said the prime concern in seeking profitable use from land is that it will not be spoiled for use by future generations.

About 150 delegates from Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho were on hand for the Society of American Foresters regional meeting.

Clifford W. Wylie, Sandpoint, was installed Saturday as the unit's chairman, succeeding E. L. Williams, Moscow.

Does he have a corpse? Or has he just saved a life? The body stirs. First a weak spitter, then the man chokes and vomits water.

"He's alive! He's alive! Olson shouts. He struggles to shore; hands reach down to help him lift the body over the seawall. Five minutes. The rescued man is laid on the pavement; someone gives him artificial respiration, and his breathing grows stronger and more regular.

It's 7:51 a.m. Six minutes have passed since Roger Olson stopped his car on Lake Shore Drive. Wet and cold, but smiling, he leaves quietly. Roger Olson would be late to muster. But because he cared,

Hailey Youth Hospitalized After Crash

HAILEY — A Hailey youth is in good condition at the Blaine County Hospital following a two-vehicle collision at the intersection of 3rd Street and Bullion in Hailey late Saturday night.

Investigating city patrolman Dick Ivie said Rick Knight, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knight, Hailey, was injured when the 1964 Ford pickup truck he was driving east on Bullion Street collided in the intersection with a 1959 Corvette driven by Gordon Miller, 18, Boise.

Miller was headed south on third when the accident occurred, Officer Ivie said. After the initial impact, the pickup truck, whose cab was broken off at the frame by the collision, was airborne for about 20 feet, rolled once and came to rest on its side. Neither driver, each alone in his vehicle, was thrown from the wreckage, although both vehicles were demolished.

Miller was treated and released at the Blaine County Hospital for minor cuts on his hands and knees. He was cited for failure to yield the right of way and for failure to carry his drivers license on his person.

Lone Bid Received By Commission

Only one bid was received by Twin Falls County Commissioners Monday for a cash control system in connection with the pending court reform program for the county.

The lone bid, which was accepted by commissioners as being reasonable, was from National Cash Register Co., in the amount of $3,002.47.

Harold Lancaster, who will direct the programming of the equipment, said it must be made specially for the county and will probably be available about Dec. 15. Court reform is scheduled to become effective Jan. 11, 1971.

There will be some 25 to 30 of different types of fines and filing fees under the reform system, Mr. Lancaster said, and the machine will be built to record each and the amount and date paid.

Buhl Kiwanis Club Plans Drug-Abuse Educational Program In Community

BUHL — The Buhl Kiwanis Club will begin a program of drug-abuse education, according to Lew Mouldenhauer, Buhl president.

The program, which is directed to the community in general, but ultimately to those in the upper elementary and junior high schools who have not yet been confronted with an option of voluntary drug use, is called "Operation Drug Alert."

The club has appointed a coordinating committee for the Operation Drug Alert program. Frank Charlton, Buhl high school principal, will serve as committee chairman. He and the members of the committee Dr. F. A. Kallusky, Jerry L. Wray, Avery Kirkham, Rev. Harrie Young, Morris Saltgast, Harry Wilson, Marion Ambrose, Wendell Gannon and Bob Sept will undertake a self-education program on the extent and seriousness of drug abuse in general and in the community in particular.

Then an action program will be set up to provide a system of drug abuse education for the community itself. The Operation Drug Alert program is a flexible one and in communities where a problem of drug abuse is not a serious one, will be used as a preventive-educational measure. Kiwanis clubs across the continent will operate in much the same way with variations in its action program depending on the community need.

"Kiwanis International is well aware that campaigns aimed at stifling drug abuse are already under way in many communities. However, it feels that because of the diversity of occupations, professions, contacts and talents within each club, that in such communities Kiwanis is in a good position to unite various vice and counsel have been drug education campaigns with in each community," reported the Kiwanis president.

The Operation Drug Alert program is being carried out by Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada and constitutes Kiwanis' "major emphasis" program in community service for the current year. The major emphasis program asks that each club committee devote at least some of its efforts to Operation Drug Alert. It aims at enlisting the strength and abilities of each club member in the drug education program.

The program is the result of a survey undertaken late last year by Kiwanis which posed this question to 500 leaders in all walks of life in Canada and the United States: "In your judgment what do you identify on our national scene as the greatest single need or opportunity for service to which a men's service club organization can apply itself in the next two years?"

On the basis of recommendations received from this group of leaders, Kiwanis identified the need for a program of drug abuse education as providing the most significant challenge to its member clubs. Operation Drug Alert was set up as Kiwanis' major emphasis for the next year or two years though there is no real terminal date for the program.

The Operation Drug Alert plan has been reviewed by the American Medical Association, the American Pharmaceutical Association, the National Association of Retail Druggists, and the National Coordinating Council on Drug Abuse Education and In-sought from these and other related organizations as well as from other associations whose members are interested in the problem.

In the local community the Kiwanis club has distributed a thousand booklets entitled "Deciding About Drugs" to the Buhl public library, places of business and public and parochial schools in addition to furnishing materials to serve as a guide in the drug program at the local high school.

The Kiwanis members are working with other groups interested in the drug problem including the Ministerial Association. A public educational program on drug abuse is planned for the near future consisting of films and lectures.

Parking Lot Enlarged As Part Of Hospital Project

BURLEY — The building project at Cassia Memorial Hospital has begun with the enlarging of the parking area.

Cassia County is paying the bill for the $10,835 parking lot project. Inspecting over the project as it gets under way were John Clark, chairman of the county commissioners, J. Weldon Beck, Orvil Beecher, both county commissioners; Keith W. Wilcox, architect; John Wood, job captain, both Ogden, Utah and Robert Barton, administrator of Cassia Memorial Hospital.

The expansion at the hospital is following the master plan developed over a year ago by the hospital planning committee under the chairmanship of Ted Keisay.

Contracts for the parking lot expansion were awarded to Gordon Paving Co. for black-topping; Gem Construction, concrete, and Ramsey Heating and Electric, lighting.

A curb will also be added along Parke Avenue, and stop signs installed at the entrance of the hospital onto Parke Avenue. The parking lot which is now being enlarged is located to the north and east of the hospital.

Drug Case

Motion Is Heard Here

A motion to quash a charge of illegal possession of an enunmerated drug against Richard Spor was heard in Fifth District Court Monday.

Spor is accused of possessing the drug desbutal illegally and is being held in the Twin Falls County jail at the present time.

His attorney, Rudy Barchas, the public defender, argued Spor was originally charged with illegal sale of the drug, but bound over on illegal possession.

Judge James Cunningham heard arguments in the case, then took the matter under advisement, noting that a hearing of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus has been set for 2 p.m. today.

In other court action Monday, Wesley F. Keeton, Boise, was sentenced to three years on each of three counts of illegal procurement of drugs. He will be transported to the Idaho State Prison this week.

Del Crawford appeared and entered a plea of innocent to a charge of perjury. He is accused of perjury in a court trial recently in which he was convicted of exhibiting a deadly weapon.

Death Of Woman Is Investigated

The death last week in Santa Ana, Calif., of Mrs. Anna Hopper, 40, is still under investigation, according to relatives in the Twin Falls area.

Mrs. Hopper, wife of Frederick Hopper, was found dead in the bathtub of her home at 1210 Sharon Road in Santa Ana. Preliminary reports indicate she may have slipped in the tub and struck her head.

Funeral services will be Wednesday in Santa Ana.

Relatives in Idaho include an aunt of Mr. Hoppers, Mrs. Velma Donnelly, Twin Falls, and three of his cousins, Mrs. Sandra Trussell, Twin Falls, Mrs. Claudette Rosser, Jerome, and Mrs. Martha Humphreys, Boise.

Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Filer and Clover Community Farm Bureaus will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Filer Grange Hall.

Ralph Cisco, district ranger at Sawtooth Valley, will show slides of the White Clouds area. A possible merger of the two farm bureaus also will be discussed.

Rogers Talks About Role With Blacks

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

At a conference of American ambassadors to African countries last Feb. 18, Secretary of State William P. Rogers declared the United States is and would continue to be identified with the freedom aspirations of black Africans living under white minority rule.

He declared it to be the "unfinished business" of the emergence of Africa.

At midnight on March 1, the all-white minority government of Rhodesia severed the last of its 80-year-old ties with Britain and declared itself a republic under a constitution frankly designed to perpetuate the rule of 228,000 whites over nearly five million blacks.

And, less than two weeks after Rogers' apparently straight-forward declaration of policy, the United States found itself faced abruptly with a problem it had known was coming but on which it had not yet reached a decision.

The United States and most other nations of the world supported a United Nations ban on trade with Rhodesia, imposed after its breakaway from Britain in 1965.

The United States continued to maintain a consulate with a staff of seven Americans at Salisbury, the Rhodesian capital.

The black African states and Britain want it closed, a move said to have the support of the State Department.

Others in official Washington believe it is essential that it be maintained to protect the interests of 1,100 Americans there and as a listening post in southern Africa.

Administration sources say no decision will be made until completion of an over-all review of African policy.

Among those favoring maintenance of the status quo are some congressmen and business interests with investments in Rhodesia.

Britain has asked the U.N. Security Council to instruct all members not to recognize the new, self-declared republic.

GLENN'S FERRY — Seniors and sophomores divided high honors for the fourth six week honor roll in Glenns Ferry High School, scoring two students in each with a perfect four point average. Juniors and freshmen each had one each.

Phyllis Russell and Ginger Seese were the seniors rating high honors, and on the honor roll also were Kathy Bellegrante, Bonnie Messerly, Sandra Ericson, Verlene Walker, Mike Shenk, Dale McCleary, Rocky Trail, Tim Landis, Tom Little, Celia Black and Wes Farris.

Patty Pasborg was the junior with a four point rating, and others rating honors were Bob Shrum, Joanne Brangan, Reilly Clark, Tony Ickes, Joyce Heidenreich, Laura Parish, Debby Houffburg, Lynn Giles, Kris Shrum.

Paul Shrum and Rebbly Messerly both scored a perfect average among sophomores. On the honor roll were Julie Carnahan, Karen Thompson, Jane Bern, Chris Anderson, Donna Hooley, Debbie King, Kath Wicher, Barbie Wertz, Ellen Donahue, John Lawson, Mike Siron, Dianne Sillonis.

Jody Allen had straight A's for the freshmen, and others on the roll included Karla Ruberry, Wendy Webb, Debbie Johnson, Sarah McCleary.

The junior high honor roll showed Stephen Anderson and Jan Belliston for the seventh grade.

Q—Harvey Aluminum, purchased two years ago at 39, has done nothing but go down. Do you believe I should hold or take my loss?—T.M.

A—A tender offer, completed in December, gives Martin Marietta 82.7 per cent of the common shares of Harvey Aluminum and leaves just over 1 million shares in public hands. You would have been better off financially had you accepted the exchange offer of 1.4 shares of Martin for each Harvey share held.

The major expansion program now under way at Harvey should eventually improve its profit picture. Earnings, which suffered in fiscal 1969 from strikes at two plants and higher costs, declined 32 per cent to $1.48 per share in the December period, first quarter of fiscal 1970, a 31 per cent gain in earnings which increased only nominally to 45 cents from 43 cents. Almost half of company output goes to the government.

Q—Last year we bought Jones & Laughlin 6.75 per cent bonds due 1994 for 62. In a few months these dropped to 42. We understood that the interest was guaranteed but now find the dividend on the common and preferred can be passed. Are we in danger of losing the bond interest?—P.M.

A—Judging from the prices you quote you own the Subordinated Debentures of Jones & Laughlin Industries, a subsidiary of Ling-Temco-Vought and holder of 81 per cent of the stock of Jones & Laughlin Steel. LTV guarantees payment of interest on this debenture.

The drop in the price of the issue reflected fears that the Justice Department would force divestiture of Jones & Laughlin Steel shares which was felt would leave the J&L Industries' debenture in a precarious position.

GIANTS BLAST OAKLAND 14-4

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Hal Lanier hit an inside-the-park home run for the San Francisco Giants—in a 14-4 triumph over the Oakland A's Monday.

The Giants stretched their exhibition baseball record to 4-0 while the A's took their third loss in four starts.

The giants collected 15 hits, eight of them off Oakland starter Al Downing in the first two innings. One of the eight hits off Downing was a two-run blast by Dick Dietz, who also collected one of the Giants' two grand slammers Sunday.

Scholarship Offered By Music Club

Members of the Twin Falls Music Club are offering a vocal scholarship in memory of Lucille Lippincott, a former member of the federation and for many years the owner of a vocal studio in Twin Falls.

The winner of the award, music club officials said, must be a graduating senior from a high school who wants to continue the study of voice at the college of his or her choice.

The scholarship program is open to students throughout Magic Valley, who belong to the federation.

Entrants must be prepared to sing an aria from an opera, an aria from an oratorio and a contemporary song.

The winner will be named at the state scholarship auditions April 5 at O'Leary Junior High School.

Entrants may contact Mrs. Donald Youtz, 795 Walnut St. N., and applications must be filed before Sunday.

The memorial has been established by students and friends of Miss Lippincott. The club hopes to continue the scholarship fund each year, it was reported.

Information On Income Taxes Is Told By Official

All income tax refunds are paid subject to later auditing or investigations of the returns, according to Internal Revenue Service information officer John C. Anzueta.

Therefore, taxpayers receiving refunds are advised to save their records to prove the returns are correct when called upon to do so.

The returns are checked by electronic accounting machinery before refunding. However, full verification with the taxpayer would delay payments so they are completely audited later, he said.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: John and I have been married for 17 years. We have 3 children. Three years ago John became involved with Lynn, my best friend, but I didn't find out about it until 2 months ago when Lynn's husband caught them. He left her and filed for divorce so she may get my husband yet.

This isn't John's first affair, but I have always forgiven him and taken him back. He has moved in with Lynn, and now he tells me he is too involved to break up. He says he never dreamed she would give up her husband and children for him.

(What "give up?" Her husband caught her, moved out and took their 3 children to his mother's.) Now John says he will have to do what will bother his conscience less. He says Lynn threatens to do away with herself if he leaves her because now she has nothing to live for. John says I am a stronger woman and wouldn't do anything foolish, but Lynn might. In the meantime John is living with her, Lynn has MY husband, and I am trying to raise 2 teen-aged children without a father. Am I nuts to go along with this?

WONDERING: Nuts? No. Gullible, yes.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, a lady complained because at the home of her gentleman friend, toothpicks were passed around the table after dinner.

Believe it or not, this is a very old European custom. I remember that in my parents' home, after a formal dinner, the maid would pass a tray containing finger bowls and toothpicks. However, the proper way to use a toothpick was to pick the teeth with one hand, using the other to "shield" the mouth so that the actual act of teeth-picking was not exposed to view.

BORN IN GERMANY

DEAR BORN: Thank you for your informative letter. The finger bowls may stay. But the toothpicks have GOT to go!

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a young woman who has worn eyeglasses ever since I've known her. I never thought they detracted from her appearance.

In fact, I thought her glasses were rather handsome. Suddenly, my girl appeared without her glasses! I was shocked, but not particularly pleased, as I had become accustomed to seeing her in glasses, and she didn't look like herself without them.

She told me she had been fitted for contact lenses, and she seemed so thrilled about it. I told her quite frankly that if she had discussed it with me first I would have told her to stay with her glasses.

Now I am wondering, for whom is she wearing contact lenses? Surely not for me! Should I put her to the test, and ask her to choose between me and the contact lenses?

PREFERS SPECS

DEAR PREFERS: Perhaps she is pleasing only herself, which is her privilege. Having told her that you prefer eyeglasses to contact lenses, drop it. If you insist that she make a choice between you and the contact lenses, she will need neither contact lenses nor glasses to see the handwriting on the wall.

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with a girl calling a boy on the telephone? My mother says it's wrong, but she can't give me a good reason. If you want to know about a homework assignment or something like that, what is wrong with it?

NANCI

DEAR NANCI: Girls shouldn't call boys because the boy might get the idea that she is chasing him, which is the last thing a girl wants a boy to think—especially if she is. If a girl wants to know about a homework assignment or something like that, she'd be wise to call another girl.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 63700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Word of its success has spread like wildfire. Because this is the diet that really works. We have testimonials in our files reporting on the success of this diet. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 3 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pang. New revised and enlarged this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden," such as big steaks trimmed with fat, roast or fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon fat, soups and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still lose 10 pounds in the first ten days plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger") to start the fat burning process.

permitted food listed in the diet plan, and will lose weight fast and excess body fluids. When the fat and blood are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain constant. A copy of this new and startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to GRAPFRUIT DIET Dept., 7046 Hollywood Blvd., Suite 609, Hollywood, Calif. 90028. Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message on a reminder. Order now and we will rush your diet plan via first class mail. Decide now to regain the slim, attractive figure of your youth, while enjoying hearty breakfast, lunches and dinners.

Oakley And Clark Fork Appear Headed For Title Clash In State A-4 Meet

The Clark Fork Wampus' Cats, owning a 23-0 record, and the homesteading Oakley Hornets, 22-1, are favored to gain the finals in the state A-4 basketball tournament opening Thursday afternoon in the Burley high school gymnasium. But once in the finals the favorite seems to be divided between north and south. Fans and coaches up north believe the Wampus Cats can win it and in the south,

Santa Clara Spills Pacific In Playoff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dick Garibaldi's unperturbed Santa Clara Broncos muscled their way to a 65-56 victory over the University of Pacific Monday night for their second straight West Coast Athletic Conference title. The Broncos now move on to the NCAA Western Regionals Thursday night against Utah State in Seattle. Santa Clara and UOP came into Monday night's playoff game tied for first place after the Tigers won 71-60 last weekend amid a raucous mob scene by the fans, players and even the coaches at UOP's home floor. With fans from both teams hanging from the railings in Monday night's rematch at the University of San Francisco, the Broncos fashioned their victory on center Dennis

Roche Named Year's Top Loop Player

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI)—John Roche, South Carolina's multi-talented floor leader, is the Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year for the second consecutive season. The 6-3 junior guard from New York City won the Elucie Stewart Award of the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association in a tight race with Charlie Scott of North Carolina. Roche got 51 of the 118 votes cast in the association's poll, four more than Scott who was runner-up last year when Roche won as a sophomore. Both Roche and Scott won all-conference honors by a unanimous vote. Vann Williford, who led N. C. State to the conference championship and who was the unanimous choice for a place on the all-tournament team, received 18 votes. Charlie Davis of Wake Forest got four. Roche averaged 22.3 points a game and was credited with 105 assists. He was the league's second most accurate free throw shooter. Roche sprained an ankle in the tournament semifinal game against Wake Forest, but played all but three minutes of the championship match against N. C. State the next night. Scott led the conference in scoring and is regarded as one of the best professional prospects among college seniors.

Wooden Says Bruins Match Up Similarly With Long Beach

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John Wooden, the coach of defending national champion UCLA, told the Southern California basketball writers Monday that the Bruins and their opponent in the opening round of the Western Regionals "match up somewhat similarly."

UCLA and Long Beach State clash at Seattle Thursday night.

"There's not much difference between us in the front line and our back lines are similar," Wooden told the writers at their weekly luncheon. "They are quicker but we're stronger physically."

"They present certain problems to us. They break well and have a good set offense. They also have a fine zone defense."

Jerry Tarkanjan, the second-year coach of long beach state whose team won the right to play UCLA at Provo, Utah, in an at-large game Saturday night, praised Wooden and the Bruins.

"Our kids will have to play their best game of the year to be in it against UCLA," the 49ers' mentor declared.

"UCLA has great rebounding, great outside shooting and a great inside game. We're going to have to score a lot of points to win."

"I think one of the most remarkable things this year has been the way John Wooden has kept winning. Everyone has been pointing for Jim."

"I'd like to remind Sid Wicks (the Bruins' 6-foot-8 junior forward) and his friends that we're their friendly neighbors in Southern California."

UCLA closed out its regular season Saturday night by beating University of Southern California 91-78 at the Sports Arena here. It followed an 87-86 USC win at Pauley Pavilion, the Bruins' home, Friday night.

"I was pleased with the way we came back after the loss," Wooden said. "If we had lost both nights, we would have been in bad shape mentally. I guess if we had to lose, it was better we did it Friday night."

Tarkanjan called his club's victory over Weber State "our finest game of the year."

UCLA, the Pacific-8 champion, will enter the NCAA playoffs with a 24-2 record. The Bruins' two losses came in their final five regular season games—two USC and Oregon.

Long Beach won its last 19 regular season games in a row and is 24-3. University of Nevada at Las Vegas, Texas Tech and Houston beat the 49ers.

BYU Censures Decision By Washington

PROVO, Utah (UPI)—A decision by the University of Washington to sever athletic relations with the Mormon church-owned Brigham Young University was condemned today by Ernest L. Wilkinson, BYU president, as based on "incorrect" assumptions.

Student groups at Washington had branded policies of the Mormon Church racist because the church denies the priesthood to Negroes.

Officials at the Seattle school announced last Sunday plans to drop BYU from the Husky athletic schedule after its last home-and-home basketball series with the Utah school in 1972.

"As early as Feb. 5 we wrote to the president of the University of Washington and requested a hearing before any decision was reached," Wilkinson said. "As recently as last Friday, we were assured that no action would be taken until University of Washington officials conferred with BYU."

"Contrary to these agreements the University of Washington has made a statement without conferring with BYU. And as far as we can judge, the actual basis for their decision on BYU is incorrect."

A spokesman for BYU said that by noon today, the school had not received an official statement from the University of Washington.

Dolph Says Merger Plan Now Closer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack Dolph, commissioner of the American Basketball Association, said Monday that merger with the National Basketball Association "is that much closer" because of the signing of Rick Mount by the Indiana Pacers.

Dolph added, "with every star we sign, merger will be that much closer. It is now inevitable. He also claimed, 'the ABA will sign more stars.'

J. Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, said at his Stamford, Conn., home, "I have no feeling one way or the other about the signing of Mount." He added, "the merger committees are still meeting and neither Dolph nor I are members of those committees."

Dolph said that in the ABA's secret first round draft late last summer, Carolina got the rights to Pete Maravich of LSU and the New York Nets picked Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure.

All-American Mount Is Signed By ABA Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The American Basketball Association Monday night claimed one of its most important victories over the rival National Basketball Association in their player war by signing Purdue All-American Rick Mount to a contract with the Indiana Pacers.

The announcement was made at a local television news conference by Mike Storen, vice president and general manager of the Pacers, who led the league's Eastern Division by 15 1-2 games.

Terms of the contract were not released, but unofficially Mount supposedly inked a three-year pact worth between $500,000-$750,000.

Mount, who Saturday night concluded his collegiate career, was the nation's third leading scorer with a 34.4 average. He held every Purdue and Big Ten school scoring record for a

LOSING FINESSE IS WINNING PLAY

One of the common methods of betting at the horse races is to combine the horse you think will win the first race in the daily double with every horse in the second race. If your first race horse loses, you tear up your tickets and charge your loss to experience, but if it wins you can sit back for the second race and cry "Come on, anybody." You are sure to win.

South found himself in that pleasant position today. He drew the second heart and drew trumps with two leads. Then he cashed dummy's king of diamonds and led a diamond toward his own hand. East produced the 10-spot and South played his jack for the finesse without caring in the slightest whether or not the finesse would work.

It did. West gathered in the trick and started to think about what to lead, whereupon South said, "Don't tire yourself out. Just look at my hand." West looked and conceded the game to South. It didn't matter what he did. If he led a club South would make his king; if he led a heart, South would ruff in dummy and discard a club. Either way, the dealer would get just one club trick.

It will be noted that South would also have made the game by playing his ace of diamonds but that, if East held the diamond queen, the ace play would have allowed East to get in with the diamond queen. Then East would lead a club and South's game would have gone to that place of no return.

Distributive Ed Students Get On-Job Training

A new look. A new approach. That's what's in store for the Distributive Education program at the College of Southern Idaho this fall.

Now, after the successful completion of one year of preparatory classroom instruction, the student will engage in full-time employment as an enrollee in the mid-management intern program. This will consist of on-the-job experience and evaluation at a local sponsoring firm.

Students will progress through a training plan developed by the co-operating employer and the college.

Following the internship, the student will return to school for an additional 90-hour seminar period.

During the first year, students study such topics as introduction to business, business math, practices of distribution, salesmanship, business English, written and oral communication and bookkeeping.

The real success of the distributive education program rests with the co-operating firms of the local area. CSI D. E. instructors say. Without their help in the training phase, and later in the internship and eventual employment phases, the course could not have the content and continuity upon which a program of this nature is based, they conclude.

Census Crew Plans Study For Surveys

Three Twin Falls County crew chiefs for the coming 1970 census have been named and training sessions are scheduled in Twin Falls and Boise to prepare workers for their tasks, William Chancey, county commissioner, said Monday.

Heading the program will be Jean Carl, and Betty Sharp, Twin Falls, and Joyce Monroe, Buhl.

Mr. Chancey said about 30 workers will be employed in the census which is scheduled to begin March 30. A training program and selection session for workers was announced for Tuesday afternoon in the Twin Falls County Judicial Building.

Census cards or forms will be sent by mail to each home in the area. As of April 1, Mr. Chancey said, census takers will begin calling at homes to pick up the completed forms and collect information from homes that may have been missed by the mail coverage.

Mr. Chancey said about every fifth home will be selected for more detailed information. The last census was taken in 1960 and the 1970 count is expected to show some major changes. In the 1960 census, Idaho was found to have 667,191 inhabitants and it then ranked 43rd in the United States as to population.

Mr. Chancey said such questions as number of school years per person, income and housing will also be covered in the coming census. He said the three crew chiefs of Twin Falls County will go to Boise next week for a two-day training program there and will then return to assist in training those who will actually be taking the census in the county.

In 1960, the Twin Falls County count was 41,842, an increase of about 1,000 persons over the 1950 census report. The first census in Twin Falls county was taken in 1910 when there were 13,543 persons residing in the area.

Named alternates are Lisa Berriochoa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carols Berriochoa, and Dorothy Hubbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hubbs.

Quarter Million Voices May Someday Go By Wire

A buried pipe about the size of a person's wrist will someday carry a quarter of a million telephone conversations simultaneously, or enough capacity to transmit, letter by letter, a full 24-volume set of encyclopedias in one-tenth of a second.

The hollow pipe, known as a waveguide, is part of a new economical system scheduled for a field trial, according to K. G. Mann, Twin Falls manager for Mountain Bell.

The waveguide system is part of the telephone company's program for meeting expected growth in long distance calling, data communications and picturephone service during the next decade. The band of frequencies to be used for the waveguide system — extending from 40 to 110 billion cycles per second — will have greater capacity than all the lower radio frequencies combined, Mr. Mann said.

Millimeter waves, carrying information coded in pulse form, will travel through a two-inch circular waveguide — basically, copper-lined steel pipe. A technique called pulse code modulation will convert all types of signals — voice, TV, picturephone and data to similar streams of easily transmitted pulses. Methods must be developed for burying the pipe four feet underground and for installing it along gradual route bends. Because the waveguide is sensitive to localized earth movements, the pipe will be encased in a protective conduit.

These tests nationally can have significance to Idaho as Mountain Bell has over 4,000 statute miles of underground cable and much more will be added in the future, Mr. Mann concluded.

Girl Listed

BUHL—Lucille Mouldenhauer is among 35 students at Ricks college, Rexburg, who have been named to "Who's Who in American Junior Colleges," on the basis of scholarship, future leadership, and contribution to school and community.

Miss Mouldenhauer, a sophomore, majoring in elementary education, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Mouldenhauer of Buhl. She will be listed in a national publication as well as the Ricks college annual.

Americans Are The Gabbiest

Americans are now officially the "gabbiest" people in the world. Statistics for 1968 indicate that American telephone users averaged 701 conversations per person for the year. Canada came in second with 692 conversations per person, followed by Iceland with 632 and Sweden with 624.

K. G. Mann, district manager for Mountain Bell, said that the U. S. also leads with number of telephones — 109 million. Japan has more than 20 million telephones, and the United Kingdom 13 million.

Telephones throughout the world continue to increase at an annual rate of just over 6 per cent per year, Mr. Mann said.

The data on telephones throughout the world take a full year to compile, so 1968 is the latest available, he explained.

ABM INFLATION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard said Monday the estimated cost of the Safeguard Antibalistic Missile System (ABM) rose last year from $9.1 billion to $10.7 billion—an overrun of 17 per cent.

Club At Buhl Gets Suspension

BUHL — The A111 Club of Buhl has received a 20-day suspension of its state liquor and beer licenses by order of the Liquor Law Enforcement Division, Department of Law Enforcement.

S. R. McKenzie, Boise, acting division director, said the suspensions were ordered for the alleged sale of beer and liquor to minors. The suspension runs through March 21.

Holder of the licenses is identified as Luella McCandless, Buhl.

Suspended

SHOSHONE — Stowell's Service Station, Shoshone, has received a 60-day suspension of the vehicle inspection certificate according to an order issued by the Vehicle Inspection Section, Idaho Department of Law Enforcement.

Harold Davis, Boise, section supervisor, said the certificate issued to F. H. Stowell was suspended last month for the alleged passing of a vehicle which did not meet inspection standards.

He said the station will be eligible for reinstatement on April 21.

DEPENDENT GIVES BIRTH

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Linda Louise Kasabian, 22, one of six defendants in the seven Tate-LaBianca murders, gave birth to a 5-pound, 12-ounce son Monday in the prison ward of Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center. It was her second child.

John and Oscar, came to Shoshone in 1936 from South Dakota. The 180 acre farm was purchased. John moved to Shoshone and was joined by his brother, Bill, and sister, Mrs. ToIn Lowman Sr., Gooding, and Mrs. Jack Jewell, S.D.

Later the four children were joined by the rest of the family. There were 12 children at home besides Oscar and one sister, Mrs. Theodore Braun, now of Cambridge, who were married.

Oscar Kerner and his family moved here in 1939. The old house was made of rock and later had a living room and kitchen of wood structure added.

Designs are being drawn for machines that will pick, wash and can tomatoes right in the fields.
