TEN CENTS

SMILING UNION CHIEFTAIN Al Bramlet, left, spearheads picketing at Howard Hughes' Desert Inn Hotel in Las Vegas. It is the first "strip" resort hit by a massive walkout of the culinary and bartender unions. Management said all members of the two unions would be locked out whether or not picket lines are started against 15 other resort hotels stalemated after three months of negotiations. (UPI telephoto)

Air West Plans First Jet Service To Area April 26

Jet service will begin at the Twin Falls City-County Airport, Joslin Field, on Sunday, April 26, it was announced today by Don Cooper, Idaho sales manager for Air West.

Mr. Cooper said the new service will provide the first jet link between Twin Falls, Burley, Rupert and Sun Valley (through the Twin Falls Airport) and Boise, Lewiston, Los Angeles, Las Vegas, Seattle, Spokane and Salt Lake City.

United Plane Is Hijacked By Gunman

ATLANTA (UPI)—A hijacked jetliner carrying 108 persons landed here today and began refueling as a gunman held the crew in the cockpit and police and FBI agents watched from a distance.

Dams

SPOKANE (UPI) — An injunction to stop the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers from further dam construction on the Snake River will be sought in Federal District Court here today.

NFO Farmers Continue Potato Bake

AMERICAN FALLS (UPI) — More Idaho potatoes — ranging from culls to grade A — have been dumped and burned by the National Farmers Organization members as part of a concentrated effort to force up potato prices across the nation.

Negotiate Law Signed By Governor

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson has signed 19 more bills from the Legislature into law, including the controversial measure allowing firemen to negotiate with city commissioners.

The gunman had ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba, then allowed him to land here for fuel before making the trip.

The Steelheaders, supported by other conservation groups such as the Sierra Club and the Federation of Western Outdoor Clubs, feels the dams were planned without regard for the environment.

But it was not up, up and away Tuesday — it was down, down and burn as Idaho members of the NFO got rid of an estimated five million pounds of potatoes. They were hauled to a debris filled ravine near American Falls.

Hughes' Desert Inn Is First Target Of Strike

By MYRAM BORDERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Howard Hughes' Desert Inn Hotel was the first target today of a massive culinary and bartender's strike. Pickets closed down virtually all the resort's operations except the casino.

Picket lines appeared shortly before 2 a.m. PST and then moved toward Caesars Palace and the International Hotel. Union leaders said the pickets would spread to 13 other resorts on the Las Vegas "Strip" by mid day.

Casino operations were not affected by the strike as non-union dealers remained on duty and the green felt tables were as busy as ever.

The powerful Culinary and Bartenders Union, 14,000 members strong, shouted strike approval late Tuesday and voted to reject management's last offer of a 25 per cent wage and fringe benefit increase.

Lee Shaw, attorney for the Nevada Resort Association, said all 16 hotels would lock out the striking union members.

The unofficial vote favoring a walkout by the unions was 11,600 to 317. Union leaders said some 6,000 other "strip" employees would honor picket lines, including showgirls and musicians. Security guards, recently unionized at many hotels, also pledged not to cross picket lines. This left casino owners with the problem of who would guard the money.

Three strip hotels not affected by the strike were the Riviera, Bonanza and Circus Circus. Those gambling spas affected were the Hacienda, Tropicana, Flamingo, Caesars Palace, Sands, Castaways, Desert Inn, Frontier, Silver Slipper, Sahara, Thunderbird, Landmark, International, Aladdin, Dunes and Stardust.

Guardsmen Ring School As Whites, Blacks Disagree

LAMAR, S.C. (UPI) — State troopers, backed by national guardsmen, threw a protective ring today around a school where whites have violently protested classroom desegregation.

The Lamar School was reopened Tuesday for the first time since a mob overturned two school buses carrying Negro children last week. Troopers turned back two small groups of whites Tuesday and one man was arrested for carrying a nightstick.

Elsewhere, police used tear gas for the second straight day Tuesday to disperse Negro youths in Louisiana. The incident occurred at Bayou Goula, where blacks are protesting the reassignment of two Negro principals in a desegregation program. Bayou Goula is about four miles from Plaquemine, where police fired tear gas at rock and bottle throwing blacks Monday.

Whether a demonstration against court-ordered desegregation of the Lamar schools will continue nonviolent remained the big question.

J. P. Strom, director of the State Law Enforcement Division (SLED), called the Tuesday incidents a "form of protest" and said they were relatively minor.

Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon told 2,500 American war veterans Tuesday night that the maintenance of "national character" is more important to the United States in the long run than either wealth or arms.

Nixon spoke during a drop in appearance at the 22nd annual congressional banquet of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). The dinner honored Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and a number of high school students who won scholarships in the VFW's annual "Voice of Democracy" essay competition.

Jackson received the organization's seventh annual congressional award.

Nixon Talks On School Question

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House indicates President Nixon "will have a statement covering this entire area" of school desegregation, possibly by the end of this week or sometime next week.

In response to a question Tuesday, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon had been devising a great deal of his time studying "the area of school desegregation and how it relates to our society today."

Oldest Brick Home In City Up In Flames

Spectators gathered early Wednesday at 120 Seventh Ave. N., to watch a Twin Falls landmark destroyed.

Firemen, under the direction of the city building inspection department and the fire marshal, burned what is reported to be the first brick home ever built in Twin Falls.

The building, dating back to about 1905 has been vacant the past year. It is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hannah, Pocatello, and the owners said it was with more than a little regret they agreed to have it destroyed.

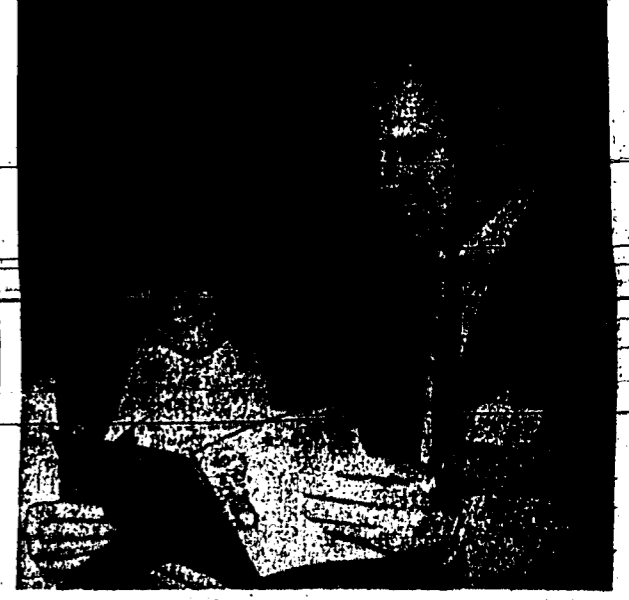

A story on why such homes are being demolished, and some history of the house will be carried in the Times-News Feature Section Sunday.

Young Girl Killed In Explosion

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investigators found the shattered body of a young woman and 60 sticks of dynamite Tuesday in the rubble of a wealthy executive's townhouse which police said New Left revolutionaries had turned into a bomb factory.

The body, which police said was so battered it would be difficult to identify, was found near what appeared to have been a work bench in the basement of a $100,000 home owned by James Platt Wilkerson who was on a Caribbean vacation when explosions wrecked it last Friday.

After finding the dynamite and 100 blasting caps, police continued the search of the ruins until 8:30 p.m. when it was called off because authorities feared the walls of damaged adjoining structures might collapse. The search will continue Wednesday when the walls have been shored up, investigators said. The entire block in Greenwich Village was sealed off after the unexploded dynamite was found.

Occupations Class Girls Guests At Special Banquet

Employers and supervisors of 19 girls enrolled in the occupations class at Twin Falls High School were honored at a dinner Tuesday night at the Rogerson Hotel.

It was the fifth annual banquet since the program started and the theme of the Tuesday meeting was "The link between school and work."

Girls who take part in the course are allowed to leave school early each day and report to their part time jobs in Twin Falls. Evaluation is done on the job by Mrs. Pressey.

Mrs. Pressey said the effort is to give students a realistic experience in "the world of work."

Students who take part in the program not only get school credit, for the long and hard school records, personal qualifications and interest in career occupations.

The Long 'Ribbon' Was Ladies' Stockings And The Scissors Were All Gold-Plated

By LEE TREMAINE Times-News Staff Writer

With a flash of gold-plated scissors on a "ribbon" of brightly colored ladies' stockings, the Kellwood hosiery plant was formally opened and dedicated

Officials of Kellwood and their major customer, Sears Roebuck, wielded the shears at the conclusion of a brief dedicatory ceremony in front of the plant on Airport Road. Chilly temperatures and an icy wind inspired the speakers to make short speeches of appreciation.

Ray Rostron, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, served as master of ceremonies, introducing Robert B. McKinley, corporate vice president of Kellwood and president of the women's and girls' hosiery group within the company.

Mr. Rostron also introduced three Idaho "queens" who were on the platform: Carolyn Harvey, Miss Rodeo Idaho; Becky Sullivan, Miss Twin Falls, and Laura Vincent, Idaho's "Miss Junior Miss."

He presented a banner bearing a large white "I" on a blue background to Robert M. Matthews, Kellwood plant manager. The banner is given firms offering notable contributions to the economy of the state.

John G. Lowe, vice president of the Pacific Coast territory of Sears Roebuck, introduced next, commended Kellwood for producing the "finest hosiery possible — which can be purchased only in Sears stores." He said he is "looking forward to coming back again" to Twin Falls.

Other speakers included S. C. Hanson, divisional vice president of Sears, who brought a chuckle from the chilled audience of about 200 with the wry comment that "the most magic thing about your wonderful Magic Valley is its ability to change temperature 40 degrees in six hours." He also voiced appreciation to the Kellwood firm for its contributions to Sears and to Twin Falls.

Frank Feldtman, mayor of Twin Falls, welcomed the firm to the city and presented a gold "key to the city" to Mr. Mat-

Fred W. Wenzel, chairman of the board and president of the Kellwood Company, commented that "This is the beginning of an era in Idaho — we will need your cooperation from now on."

"The real payoff for Twin Falls will come when the plant payroll is up to $3 million, and that should come within 18 months," Mr. Wenzel said.

Mr. Matthews told the audience that "I had a real long speech all prepared, and I know you want to hear it. . . but I'm going to cut it real short," in commenting on the chilly temperatures.

POISED FOR THE "SNIP," Kellwood and Sears officials aim their shears at the brightly-colored hosiery "ribbon" in front of the Kellwood Company plant in Tuesday's dedication. ## Weather Synopsis

Another very pleasant early March day is expected throughout Southern Idaho and the nearby areas of Oregon. Skies will be mostly sunny, but with some increasing high clouds from the west late in the day. Temperatures will average two to five degrees higher than those of yesterday. Southerly to westerly winds will increase to 10 to 20 miles per hour at times, however.

On the weather maps, the disturbance which was over Nevada yesterday has moved southeastward to New Mexico. Weak high pressure over the Northern Intermountain Region is coming under attack by low pressure disturbances from the Pacific. One of the Pacific disturbances was causing rain on the coast early this morning, but it is not expected to penetrate east of the Cascades or the Sierras today. Another disturbance is following closely, however, and it is likely to move to Central Oregon before dissipating Thursday.

Therefore, considerable high cloudiness is expected to spread over the Malheur and Southwest Idaho valleys by tonight, and high thin cloudiness will spread over the Magic and Eastern Idaho valleys late tonight and Thursday. There is only a slight chance east of the Blue Mountains of Oregon. Temperatures will rise another two to five degrees on Thursday and winds will tend to increase to 15 to 25 miles per hour at times.

The extended outlook for the remainder of the week is that Pacific storm systems will continue to be too weak to penetrate east of the Blue Mountains of Oregon, therefore, continued mild and dry.

Minidoka Memorial Hearing On Boundaries

MINIDOKA — A public meeting is slated for 8 p.m. March 23 at the Minidoka High School auditorium to discuss the division line for students attending the two new junior high schools in the county next fall.

Supt. Camden Meyer said the proposed boundary line will be 250 West to the Baseline road, then east to 200, south to 100 and then west.

Trustees briefly discussed a proposal to close the Pioneer elementary school, located two miles east of Paul, but no decision was reached.

They accepted a bid of $19,414.50 from Visual Sound Co., Boise, for a program and clock system and public address and sound system for the two new junior high schools.

Supt. Meyer reported about 700 more student desks are needed in the new buildings. Some 500 larger desks, adequate for junior high students, have been taken from the Heyburn, Paul and Washington schools.

Trustees also:

- Received a check in excess of $11,000 from the Richfield school district for back payment of tuition on Lincoln county students who attend Minidoka.
- Decided to invest $175,000 in 30-day notes and $125,000 in 60-day notes. This money, taken from the general fund, will be invested in either treasury bills or saving accounts.
- Instructed Bill Hellewell, maintenance supervisor, to get estimates on pumps and sprinkling systems for the football fields at the new junior high schools.
- Took under advisement a request by Jack Taylor, Rupert, of the Office of Economic Opportunity agencies, to begin a Head Start program.

Car Shears Power Pole At Ketchum

KETCHUM — Most of the Ketchum area was without electrical power for several hours early Wednesday as the result of an auto accident, police report.

They said a car driven by a Sun Valley employee, whose name they did not obtain, sheared off a power pole on the Sun Valley road about 12:45 a.m. The driver was treated and released at Sun Valley Hospital.

The pole came to rest on top of the car and hot wires were strung across the road for a time until power company employees could repair them, but no one was injured, police said.

Bob Vernon, Idaho Power Co. manager here, said the power was off at Sun Valley for about half an hour, Baldy was without power for an hour and the southwest corner of town also was out for about an hour. The rest of Ketchum was out for about two and one-half hours.

Beer License Suspensions Are Reported

BOISE-UPI — The Liquor Law Enforcement Division ordered suspension Tuesday of state beer licenses issued to establishments in Boise and Twin Falls.

S.R. McKenzie, Boise, acting director for the division, said a 30-day suspension was ordered for the license held by B.R. Stevens and Elsie Hobbs for the Cozy Club, Twin Falls, for the alleged sale of beer to a minor.

The license was suspended from March 10 through April 8.

A 21-day suspension was ordered for Don Dress, Boise, license holder for the Fairway Inn, Boise, McKenzie said, for the alleged consumption of beer on the premises at a time other than when beer may be legally sold or consumed.

The license was suspended from March 9 through March 29.

Ribbon

chine was moved into the building to the grand opening.

Idaho Sen. Len B. Jordan amused the listeners by admitting that "I know I'd be mighty unpopular if I engaged in a filibuster just now," and spoke briefly on the contributions of the company to Idaho's economy.

Idaho Rep. Orval Hansen added his praise to the company, and presented a flag of the United States to Mr. Matthews on behalf of the federal government.

Following the speeches, the gaily-colored hosiery ribbon was snipped by gold-plated shears held by Mr. Wenzel and Mr. McKinley. A tour of the hosiery plant followed for all attending, following the nylon yarn from the initial storage room through all knitting, finishing and dyeing processes to the packaging and shipping areas. Plant officials conducted the tour in small groups, explaining the process amid the bustle of the busy plant.

A news conference with officials concluded the morning's events. Mr. Wenzel told newsmen that Kellwood now has 51 plants throughout the United States, manufacturing a wide variety of products, ranging from tents to hosiery.

He admitted in an aside to a reporter that "Kellwood makes heavy outerwear but I brought along one of their lightest coats."

There are only two other Kellwood plants in the Western States — a Utah facility that makes tents and sleeping bags, in St. George, and a lingerie plant in Mesa, Ariz. No other plants are presently planned in the West, he added.

He expects to visit the Twin Falls plant "at least twice a year," Mr. Wenzel said in answer to a question.

Mr. Hanson of Sears admitted that "hemlines are definitely on the way down — but we don't expect the height of hems to affect hosiery sales very much."

Sen. Jordan expressed his personal appreciation for the care taken in the manufacture of hosiery, and the concern for high quality exemplified in the Twin Falls operation.

Mr. Wenzel replied that "We are making the finest hosiery it is possible to make," and commended the training program developed by the College of Southern Idaho, under President James L. Taylor, for turning out highly trained personnel.

Rep. Hanson told the Kellwood officials that "I will renew my pledge that you will find the ability of Idaho employees will find here, and the cooperation of the community and the state will show you that your judgment was sound in placing the plant in Twin Falls."

It was brought out at the conference that the first shipments from the new plant are expected "about the first of May." The Twin Falls plant will supply most Western states, from Salt Lake City west initially, with distribution to expand as production grows.

A public open house Tuesday afternoon threw the doors open for the general public, with tours guided by plant officials again explaining the intricate process of manufacturing hosiery. Traffic around the plant was heavy, as thousands of Magic Valley residents flocked to the area.

County Gets Bids On Weed Chemicals

Two chemical bids were accepted Tuesday afternoon by Twin Falls County Commissioners for the county weed bureau operation in the coming season.

The county accepted the Dow Chemical Co. bid of $24,902.50 for 2.4-D. This bid was low among six received.

The contract for purchase of Amtracol was awarded Wasatch Chemical Co., Salt Lake City for $24,925.65. Commissioners Heber Loughmiller and Morris W. Carlson voted to accept this bid, the low figure received, while Commissioner William Chancey voted against the motion. He said he felt for an additional $2 for the entire contract the county should consider the local bid of J. H. Henry Produce Co., as more reasonable. The two other commissioners said they felt the county is obligated to accept the low figure.

In other action the commissioners took no action on the one bid received for liability insurance for the county. This is the first time insurance has been purchased on a bid basis in a number of years and the bids were called on recommendation of county auditor, Harold Lancaster, and county prosecutor, Robert Galley. Commissioners said present liability insurance expires March 14. Board members are meeting again this week for a final decision.

City To Get Bids On 5 Dwellings

Bids will be opened Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in the Twin Falls City Hall for the purchase and removal of five dwellings owned by the city, and located on Third Avenue East just north of the city hall.

The city council also will open bids at that time for the 1970 street department program gravel.

The five houses are to be removed from the property to make way for parking area and expansion of the city hall complex to include a new fire and police department building in the future.

Two Men Fail In Attempt To Hijack Jet Airliner Of East Germany, Kill Selves

BERLIN (UPI)—Two men attempted to hijack an East German airliner at gunpoint Tuesday and killed themselves when they failed, the East German news service ADN reported.

ADN said the pair tried to force the crew of a government Interflug airliner to change course on an early flight from East Berlin to Leipzig.

Presumably the men wanted the aircraft to fly to West Berlin so they could ask for asylum as refugees.

ADN identified them only as "bandits."

ADN said the hijacking attempt failed because the crew adhered to security regulations, presumably special anti-hijacking safeguards. The men were said to have committed suicide as the crew was landing the aircraft.

It was not clear from the official East German news agency's brief report whether the hijackers had used their guns to threaten the crew or had opened fire.

ADN said because of the crew's presence of mind the aircraft landed safely and no passengers were injured.

"The bandits, whose reprehensible actions seriously endangered air safety and brought the passengers into extreme danger of their lives, committed suicide during the landing maneuver to escape their legal punishment in view of their failure," ADN reported.

'Custer Wore Arrow Shirts' Indians Declare In Seattle

SEATTLE (UPI)—Indians, some in native costumes, marched a picket line to the beat of the tom-tom at the main gate to Ft. Lawton Tuesday, asking that the government land be returned to them.

Grim-faced military policemen watched from inside the fort's boundaries as women wearing buckskin dresses and men with headbands and feathers carried picket signs and shouted slogans.

"Custer had it coming," said one of the signs. An Indian boy about five years old carried a two-sided sign. On one side it said, "I need a cultural center," and on the other it read, "Custer died for your sins." Another sign said, "Custer wore arrow shirts."

The Indians are asking that the post, soon to be declared surplus, be turned over to America's original inhabitants for a huge cultural center, university and ecology center. The city wants it for a park.

'Manson Family' Member May Repudiate Confession

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Susan Atkins, the member of the "Manson Family" who turned informer in the Sharon Tate murder case, will probably repudiate her confession, a lawyer seeking to represent her said Tuesday.

Miss Atkins, 21, asked the court Tuesday for permission to fire the lawyer who originally advised her to tell her story to the grand jury and hire Dave Shinn, who has advised Charles Manson, the leader of the hippie commune.

Shinn said he was "pretty sure" Miss Atkins would deny her earlier testimony which led to the indictments of her and five other persons for the Tate-LaBianca murders. "She should deny everything," he said.

Superior Court Judge William B. Keene set a hearing on the motion for Wednesday afternoon.

The 21-year-old Miss Atkins visited Manson in county jail last week and listened to his views on how the defense should be conducted. She indicated then she was having second thoughts about repeating her accusations before a jury.

Her attorney, Richard Caballero, said then that he and Manson had sharp differences over the tactics of the way Miss Atkins should conduct her defense and that if she could not follow his recommendations, he would have to withdraw as her lawyer.

White Cloud Blast Aimed By Walker

Lloyd J. Walker, Democratic candidate for governor, again called on the governor to stop supporting the immediate destruction of the White Cloud Mountains.

"In view of the new information received from the U. S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife that extensive mining along the headwaters of the East Fork of the Salmon River could eliminate the stream's salmon run and seriously affect other fisheries on parts of the main river, it would be unwise for Governor Samuelson to even consider supporting the granting of such a permit. The uplands of Idaho may most certainly be worth more to the citizens of Idaho in its natural beauty than the immediate economic gains that may be received."

"To grant such a permit in the light of the possibility, without the fullest of research, would be very foolish and inconsiderate of the people of Idaho. I cannot believe that the citizens would want to lose the salmon in the rivers, as well as the mountain lakes, for the sake of a few immediate dollars. This would surely be sacrificing the good of the whole for just the gains of a few," he said.

Goes Home

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Chief Justice Warren E. Burger went home Tuesday from Bethesda Naval Hospital where he has been under treatment since Thursday for the flu.

There was no word on when Burger, 62, would return to the Supreme Court, but the justices are not hearing arguments this week.

California Political Pot Brews

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke announced Tuesday that he would seek election to his first full term and said he welcomed "the challenge of the seventies."

Reinecke, a congressman from 1964 to 1969, joined with Gov. Ronald Reagan in a prepared television statement in announcing their political intentions.

Reagan appointed Reinecke to replace Lt. Gov. Robert Finch who was appointed welfare chief in the Nixon administration.

The lieutenant governor said that the Reagan administration was seeking "to prevent crisis tomorrow by solving problems today."

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, March 11, the 70th day of the year with 295 to follow.

The moon is between the new phase and the first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1888 more than 200 persons died when a four-day snow storm crippled New York City.

In 1930 William Howard Taft became the first president to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

In 1941 President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the lend-lease bill, which gave nations fighting the Axis powers certain military equipment.

In 1959 the Senate approved Hawaii as the 50th state.

A thought for the day: American labor leader Sidney Hillman said, "Politics is the science of who gets what, when and why."

Knitting Classes

Knitting classes are scheduled at the Twin Falls YW-YMCA to begin March 25 at 1:30 p.m., and March 26 at 7:30 p.m., under the instruction of Mrs. Bess Williams. Both beginning and advanced sessions will be taught.

Registration for the knitting classes closes on March 23.

Missile Shot

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—An Air Force Minuteman I intercontinental ballistic missile was launched down the western test range Tuesday in an operational check.

The missile was selected at random from those on alert at missile sites and transported to this aerospace base for a test launch under simulated combat conditions.

A COLD FRONT MOVED into Denver Tuesday and with the cold came snow to the Rocky Mountain area. This picture shows just how cold it got in the Colorado city. The ice flew upward as the car traveled through heavy traffic. Police in the city reported 85 accidents during early morning rush hour. (UPI Telephoto)

22 People Arrested And Five State Drug Ring Is Smashed

OXNARD (UPI)—A narcotics ring operating in five western states that netted more than $5 million in the past two years has been smashed, authorities said Tuesday.

Twenty-two persons were arrested in Ventura County in a night long raid by federal, state, county and city law enforcement agencies. Seventeen of them were men.

A spokesman for the Oxnard city police department, which coordinated in the raid, said the arrests cracked a ring that operated in California, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and Washington.

More than $1 million worth of drugs were confiscated. Also seized were "numerous" rifles and pistols.

Fifteen persons were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Ben Nordman on federal charges. The other seven will be arraigned on state charges.

The Marksville, La., Prehistoric Indian Park includes exhibits of how Indians lived in 4000 B.C.

About Test Ban Safeguards

WASHINGTON — A special Senate subcommittee is quickly trying to determine whether the Pentagon is short-changing its test-ban treaty safeguards at the very time President Nixon's negotiators are preparing for new SALT disarmament talks. On closed-door meeting on the subject was held at the Capitol last month. Top scientists from the Atomic Energy Commission's Los Alamos and Livermore weapons laboratories were called here for questioning by the special subcommittee. The thrust of the questioning was simple enough: How soon could the United States respond with a meaningful program of atmospheric tests, under President Nixon's proposed budget, if the Russians should abrogate the test-ban treaty and begin testing nuclear warheads in the atmosphere?

That is what happened in 1961. While no treaty was then in effect, the Soviet, without warning, broke an informal moratorium on testing with a series of nuclear blasts in the atmosphere. It took eight months before the United States was ready to resume testing on that occasion.

The Giveaway

"Enclosed is your very own number in our zillion-dollar sweepstakes! You may already have won $100 a week for life or one of umpteen new-model cars or . . ."

Usually, all one has to do to find out if his "very own number" is a winner is to paste a "Yes" or "No" sticker in the appropriate place on the return card, depending upon whether or not one wishes to subscribe to a magazine or buy a record album or whatever product is being pushed.

What are the chances of some good fairy merchandiser bestowing undeserved riches upon you and your family? Virtually nonexistent, even if the sweepstakes are legitimate. And there is impressive evidence that exceedingly few of them are.

The editor of Midland Cooperator publication reports that some months ago he received one contest entry — by special delivery yet — which stated unequivocally that he had won an unnamed prize in a sweepstakes. "Just check the 'Yes' or 'No' square . . ."

So he checked the 'No' square and mailed in the entry. He's still waiting for the prize. A subcommittee of the Select Committee on Small Business of the U.S. House of Representatives recently investigated some of these sweepstakes with supposedly pre-selected winners. Among their findings were that:

One soap company offered $3.5 million in prizes but awarded only $98,700. Another soap company offered $3.5 million but awarded only $144,000.

A women's hair products company offered 26 prizes — $25,000 cash and 25 automobiles — but awarded nothing.

"Evidence from a thousand pre-selected winners' promotions indicates deceptive and misleading merchandising promotion," charged Berry C. Williams, who conducted the investigation.

"Our data show that an average of about 10 per cent of the prizes advertised and ostensibly . . . offered are ever actually awarded and, even worse . . . that 90 per cent of the few prizes that are awarded are of the least valuable variety, most being mere trifles worth perhaps a dime or a quarter."

Forget the yachts, the vacations in Europe, the lifetime incomes. You just don't get them, he says.

The subcommittee is considering a trade regulation rule to put some curbs on these sweepstakes. In the meantime, it's caveat emptor — or don't spend your winnings until you get them.

After questioning the weapons experts, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., says he's still concerned that proposed budget cuts in staff by test preparations would once again preclude a prompt and meaningful response to any surprise Russian tests.

MR. SPECTATOR

When Was It?

Sorry about that, but we are running today's Mr. Spectator picture up and down so we can get it all in.

Why get it in at all? Well, we are attempting to find out just when the Shoshone Grocery, whose old sign is noted here, was open in Twin Falls.

This sign came to light when the Idaho Theater building was torn down just a few days ago. The sign is on the building next door to the now-departed theater and, at the present time, is occupied by a beauty shop. So it may mean that the grocery store was in the now-occupied beauty establishment.

Now, Mr. Spectator came here in 1835 and the Idaho Theater went up a long time before that.

What we would like to know is who opened the Shoshone Grocery, when it operated, who worked in it, etc., etc., etc.

So, if you remember anything about it then drop Mr. Spectator a line and fill him in. He, in turn, will fill in his readers.

And we will go a step more into the situation. If any of you folks ever worked in the store, or owned it, we will put your picture in Mr. Spectator's column. So let's go, folks!

ANDREW TULLY

Our Unease In Laos

WASHINGTON — Those who harbor the uneasy surmise that human life has a certain rudimentary importance in the American scheme of things should view the Nixon administration's position on our undeclared war in Laos with considerable unease.

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird and other cockalorums of the current regime flatly refuse to discuss the messy business in detail. At the Pentagon and the State Department, reporters are reminded of President Nixon's policy edict of last Dec. 8 that "I don't think the public interest would be served by any further discussion."

Surely, it is time someone rejected to the Nixon ukase with the blunt rejoinder, "Izzatso?" Unless our ruling masters have changed the rules in the middle of the game, the public interest touches on two matters with which Main Street should be grimly concerned. One is whether we are headed into another Vietnam in Laos. The other is the fate of some of the Americans engaged in fighting what I suppose the administration would call, in the spirit of unthink, a nonwar.

While most of us were watching Laugh-In or bickering with the income tax man, the Pentagon finally came clean about American casualties in Laos. The brass announced that 193 U.S. military personnel — all aircraft crewmen — are listed as missing or captured as a result of their involvement in Laotian affairs.

This figure came as a surprise. Only three weeks earlier, the State Department had reported only 150 missing. A Defense Department spokesman said oh, State had given an old figure. Ho, I suppose, hum.

If no one minds — and even if they do — I suggest that these 193 "missing" Americans also represent what President Nixon loftily calls the "public interest." At the very least, they are of interest to that segment of the public consisting of their families. In a broader sense, they are the victims of an official U.S. policy which seems determined to lead us into a second Asian war.

There really is nothing new about reports of the Laotian affair before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It was reported months ago, in this space and elsewhere, that members of the elite Green Beret Special Forces were fighting in Laos disguised as civilians. U. S. Army officers not only draw up battle plans, but accompany royal Laotian units into action against the Communist Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese troops. U. S. Air Force planes fly more than 300 sorties a day. Central Intelligence Agency and Defense Intelligence Agency spooks lead Laotian forces on terrorist raids.

Yet, Secretary Laird tells senators "No ground forces of the U.S. military are involved in Laos." In practically the same breath, Laird refuses to comment on reports that our Green Beret have joined the fun and that U.S. aircraft are being used in support of Laotian forces. Laird has not explained how those 193 Americans turned up missing. Caught in a traffic jam, Mr. Secretary? Joined the circus?

As if such flimflammy were not enough to send strong men to the exits, Laird then proceeds to tell newsmen that the U.S. is using air power in Laos only to protect its position in Vietnam. How such air power could be used without supporting royal Laotian forces in their civil war is left costly unclarified. It is all too preposterous. Unfortunately, it is also pretty ruddy tragic in its familiarity. Anyone old enough to remember when President Kennedy dispatched "military advisers" to Vietnam must feel a chill in the vicinity of his marrow. In our latest nonwar, those nonsoldiers of ours are walking on the graves of the Vietnam dead.

ART BUCHWALD

Trusting?

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro Agnew and Atty. Gen. John Mitchell may be on a collision course without even knowing it. As everyone who has a television set knows, the thrust of Agnew's fund-raising speeches for the Republican Party is that you can't trust the press or the television commentators — because they're biased and unreliable.

At the very moment that Agnew is challenging the credibility of the communications media, Atty. Gen. Mitchell is going ahead with his plans to subpoena the notebooks and films of the very reporters Agnew says lack credibility.

The question that the Eastern liberal establishment press is asking is: "Does the attorney general of the United States plan to use reporters' notebooks and film as evidence, when the Vice President of the United States says they are all a pack of lies?"

It's going to be tough for a jury to decide a case when two leaders of the country are on opposite sides of the case.

"Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, the government submits in evidence the notebooks of Hiram Spindletroff who interviewed Raff Lubin. In one of these notebooks Lubin told Spindletroff, and I quote, 'If I had a birthday candle, I'd set me to the Washington Monument.'"

"The defense objects, your honor. Vice President Agnew has said repeatedly you can't believe a word Hiram Spindletroff says. So how can the jury believe anything written in his notebooks?"

"Your honor, the government has been assured that everything Spindletroff has written in his notebook is true."

"Your honor, the attorney general is calling the Vice President of the United States a liar and the defense will not stand for it."

"The attorney general is not calling the Vice President a liar. The attorney general has great respect for the Vice President. Then how can the attorney general say that Spindletroff has written the truth about Lubin when the Vice President says that Spindletroff can't write the truth about anything?"

"Objection sustained. The prosecution will continue."

"Your honor, we will now show a film made by Mike Solace. The CBS television commentator, at the time he interviewed Raff Lubin about Lubin's plans to organize a demonstration in Florida to stop the spring training of baseball."

"Objection, your honor. The defense would like to say that the Vice President has pointed out that of all the commentators on the airwaves, Mike Solace has raised his eyebrows the most. He cannot be trusted to give a fair accounting of the news."

"Your honor, the government strongly objects to the objection. Mike Solace is considered one of the most important news commentators in television. This film we have subpoenaed will show that Lubin . . ."

"Objection. The attorney general is doubting the word of the Vice President of the United States again. The defense is shocked and horrified."

"Mr. Attorney General, are you or are you not casting aspersions on the Vice President of the United States?"

"I am not, your honor. But I can't proceed with my case unless I am permitted to use the notebooks and film I had subpoenaed, to prove that Raff Lubin intended to burn down the Washington Monument and stop spring training of baseball at the same time."

"Mr. Attorney General, as judge I cannot accept the evidence unless I am assured by the Vice President of the United States that Hiram Spindletroff and Mike Solace tell the truth."

"But how can I get the Vice President to say that?"

"That's your problem, Mr. Attorney General. But if you call the Vice President a liar once more, I'm going to have to hold you in contempt."

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Mother-To-Be

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am in my sixth month of pregnancy and this will be our first child, and probably our last. It took us a long time for this to happen, and losing this baby would be our lives. Could you give me some special do's and don'ts for the safety of the child? — Mrs. C. B.

Taking good care of yourself is the surest way to protect the baby. Anyway, a woman is usually at her best, physiologically, during pregnancy.

SOME DO'S: Be cheerful and be confident. You may have had trouble getting pregnant, but it means this is a truly wanted baby.

Diet: Eat regularly, get adequate protein, a mineral-vitamin supplement if your doctor thinks you need it. Avoid overweight. A total gain of 20 to 25 pounds is average. About 15 of this is the infant, water, and increased weight of the uterus. The rest, then, would be in your own tissues.

Exercise: Activity is necessary: routine housework, walking, probably some calisthenics or sports early in pregnancy. Later in pregnancy your size will limit vigorous exercise, but walking is ideal.

Sexual relations: Usually allowed up to the eighth month. Breasts: They will enlarge in varying degrees; a bra helps maintain shape and lessens discomfort.

Medications: Only when necessary and on your doctor's instructions. (First two months are the most critical.) Smoking: Preferable that you don't smoke, but most doctors permit occasional smoking. Smoking has been associated with smallsize babies.

Alcohol: Keep it moderate — an occasional drink is allowable.

Report any spotting or unusual vaginal symptoms. Learn in advance the signs of impending labor.

SOME DON'TS: Don't overeat. If swelling occurs (as in feet and ankles) salt may have to be restricted. Don't travel except with doctor's permission.

Don't neglect seeing your doctor regularly, especially for urine and blood pressure checks. But don't neglect to report any unusual symptom.

Don't fret yourself to pieces; pregnancy is a wonderful natural process, and when you've followed the few precautions listed, you've done what needs to be done.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Times-News for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Samuelson Tells Plans In Far-Ranging News Confab

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson told a news conference today he plans to appoint a citizens committee in the near future to look into the problems of financing local government and the burden on property owners.

Samuelson said that he was pleased with the overall efforts of the second regular session of the 40th Idaho Legislature. But he said one of his disappointments was its failure to modify the effects of a law limiting ad valorem revenue increases to four per cent a year.

"I think they should have amended it and allowed new property to go on the tax rolls and to have increased the percentage from four per cent to five per cent," he said. "I hope that now all of us can work together and come up with a solution by the next legislative session."

He said he hoped the cities and counties would work on the problem and possibly come up with a solution but he admitted that "we need an inventory first to find out where there are problems."

At first, he said the only leadership he could provide would be to urge the cities and counties to do something. But later he said he was considering appointment of a citizens' group within the next 30 days to look into the problem.

He said he would limit the size of the group to 10 or 12. "The property taxpayer is carrying a terrific load in Idaho," Samuelson said. "I think it's wrong to pile more on the property owner."

Samuelson said he hoped the citizens group would look into previous studies of the problem by the legislature and its interim committees in its efforts to find a solution to the problem.

Meantime, Samuelson told reporters it was "a deliberate lie" that intervention by his office had blocked from acting those state agencies charged with environmental control.

"That's some more of this wild-eyed misinformation," Samuelson said, later denying he had used those words. "It's geared to emotionalism."

"There's been no intervention by state agencies to stop pollution of any kind," he said, apparently referring to allegations the state had prevented pollution control.

Then he criticized the federal government for passage of and regulations under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act. He said that by putting such rivers as Idaho's Salmon into the Wild Act the federal government had prevented sanitation efforts.

Hundreds and hundreds of people are going down the Salmon River in a narrow canyon," he said, adding that the state cannot require pollution control and asking who then was contributing to pollution.

He apparently referred to summer boat trips on the middle fork of the Salmon through Idaho's primitive area.

Samuelson also said:

He will not sign the executive pay increase bill approved by the legislature but allow it to become law without his signature because setting of such pay is a constitutionally directed legislative responsibility.

— He will urge all communities in the state to set up groups to study the proposed new constitution so they will know what is on the ballot at the next election but will take no stand, at least at this time, himself.

— The legislature accomplished a number of good things, including financing of a Southwestern Idaho Water Project feasibility study, water pollution control, and creation of public health districts.

— He was disappointed the legislature did not give him money to hire more than 10 additional state policemen because the money was available although he said he gave no specific directives in this regard.

— He has appointed Milford E. Kenney, a certified public accountant, as managing auditor of the Bureau of Public Accounts.

Closure Of Consulate Is Discussed

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — The Rhodesian cabinet met today to discuss the unexpected closure of the U.S. consulate.

Political sources said the American decision caught the government by surprise. Britain greeted it with delight.

The cabinet meets each week on Tuesday and, sources said, the United States move would top today's agenda.

Robin James, leader of the rightwing Republican Alliance Party, said the only effect of the consulate's closing "is that what is widely believed to be a spying agency will be removed."

Announcement of the closure, ordered by U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, was hailed by British newspapers as a victory for British diplomacy.

Thirty Labor Party Members of Parliament submitted a bill congratulating the United States for its decision.

The regime headed by Premier Ian Smith proclaimed its independence from Britain in 1965 but the United States retained its consulate in Salisbury on grounds the Smith regime was accredited to Queen Elizabeth's government and the presence of the U.S. diplomatic recognition.

The U.S. Counsel General in Salisbury, Paul O'Neill, said Monday he would close the consulate, occupying the top three floors of a Salisbury office building, at the end of the business day next Tuesday.

He said his staff of three diplomatic and consulate representatives and four secretaries would remain in Salisbury a few days longer to clean up personal business.

A spokesman for the British Foreign Office said, "We welcome this move to close down the consulate."

British newspapers said the decision came after the U.S. Ambassador to Britain, Walter Annenberg, was summoned to the Foreign Office last month and handed a stern diplomatic note on the matter.

In an editorial titled "America Does Her Duty," the Guardian said, "Decency has overcome expediency in the decision by the United States to close its consulate in Salisbury."

"Or to put it more personally, Mr. William Rogers has overcome the chrome lobby and other commercial interests and the conservatives of the southern states."

The Daily Telegraph said it is now almost certain most remaining diplomatic representatives in Salisbury except the two South Africans, Portuguese and Swiss will soon be withdrawn.

Heavy Loss Shows Up In War Areas

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops inflicted heavy losses on two companies of South Vietnamese militiamen in fighting reported today from South Vietnam's central coast.

Military sources said the two regional force units, the kind U.S. commanders say will make or break the Vietnamization program, lost 27 men dead, 28 wounded and three men missing Tuesday in battles 235 and 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

A general upswing in fighting across the war zone saw U.S. troops kill at least 112 guerrillas in a series of battles Tuesday near the Cambodian border and outside Hue at a cost of 14 Americans dead and 40 wounded.

U.S. spokesmen said in a delayed report that five Americans were killed Monday when a CH-47 helicopter crashed on takeoff from Quan Lo, 63 miles north of Saigon. Cause of the crash was not known.

The South Vietnamese militiamen pulled out of their positions during the first guerrilla attack on the coast, spokesmen said. The two hours of fighting left 18 militiamen dead, 20 wounded and two missing. Four guerrillas were killed.

Contract Is Awarded For School Buses At Shoshone

SHOSHONE—The bid of Martin and Peugh for a five-year contract to operate school buses was accepted by Shoshone School trustees Monday night at the high school. The firm has had the bus contract for the past five years also.

April 13 was set for the trustee election for a trustee representing Zone 5. Waldo Jones, current chairman of the Board, is trustee representing this zone now. Holdover members are Elmer I. Terry, Herbert Forbes, Dr. E. D. Saras and Wayne Sorensen.

Date of the annual budget hearing was set for April 27.

The recommendations will be studied and acted upon at the April board meeting.

Earlier in the afternoon, the trustees met with a team representing the State Department of Education, regarding the evaluation of the situation at the Lincoln elementary school. The three board members will be interviewing teachers and interested persons during the early part of this week.

School Budget Hearing Set At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — The budget hearing for school district No. 233 was scheduled for April 30 at the board meeting Monday night.

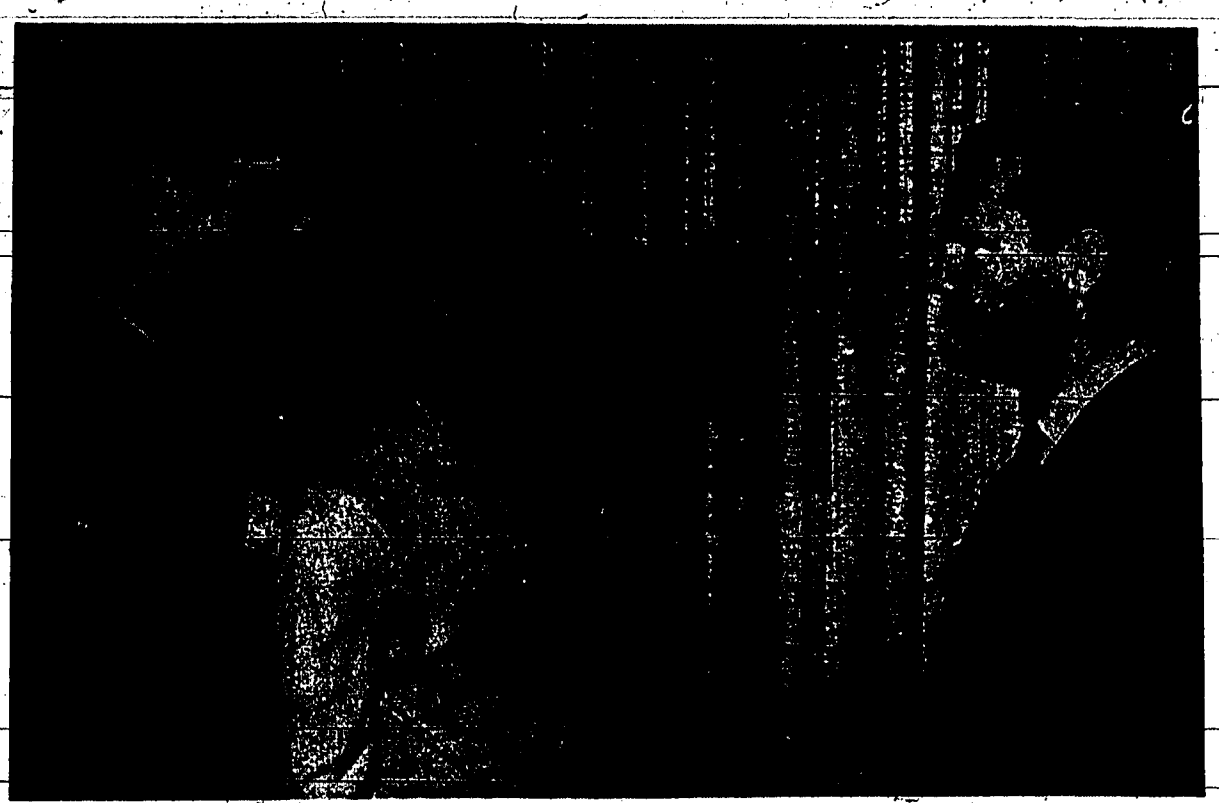

Trustee election for zones 1 and 3 presently held by Dean Williams and Alfred Sandy, respectively, will be held May 11.

The annual Science Fair will be held March 23. Projects will be judged at the school during the afternoon this year with the evening open to the public from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Presentation of awards will be made during the evening.

Board members will meet at the school's hot lunch room March 17 for lunch, after which they will inspect the buildings to ascertain any needed repairs or remodeling that can be done during the summer months.

The board agreed to allow Wayne Ills, FFA advisor, and Mrs. Richard Hagerman, FFA advisor, to attend their respective leadership conferences, April 2-4. The FFA conference will be held in Shelley, while the FFA conference will be held at Boise.

Although there has been only the minimum number of children signed up for kindergarten the board approved having the kindergarten as scheduled. Classes will be held from 8:30 a.m. to noon each school day beginning March 31 and will run through May 8. Mrs. Sandra Warman, Bliss, will be the teacher.

ALLEN SMITH AND MARK FISHER, from left and both from Kimberly, talk with Rodney Clark, director of high school relations at Utah State University. The two students took examinations recently on campus. Winners of the examinations will be given $5,000 university scholarships. Five winners will be named, and students from 10 states were on campus to take the tests. Both students are national merit finalists and leaders in their senior class at Kimberly.

New Bill Appropriates 90 Per Cent Of Inheritance Taxes For Pollution Control

BOISE — Landmark legislation for funding of a permanently dedicated revenue program to supply money for federal aid in pollution control was passed in the closing days of the Senate, says President Pro Tom James Ellsworth.

Approval of HB 552 was effected by a 25 to 10 Senate vote, to put 90 per cent of inheritance tax receipts in a special Water Pollution Control Fund in the State Tax Commission. A year ago the legislature had given the cities half of the fund, as a local tax relief measure, but the new law program is of such importance that action was rescinded. The counties will still get to keep 10 per cent of the inheritance tax for their efforts in making collections.

Only three Republican senators, all from Ada County, Bagley, Klein and Summers, joined seven Democrats in opposing the measure. These were Billeu, Crutcher, Evans, Mix, Murphy, Stolchff, and Webster.

Phil Batt, majority leader, emphasized the fairness of the new bill to all counties, pointing out that the larger counties are often the beneficiaries of many estates, since they are the focal point for gravitation to five per cent," he said. "I hope that now all of us can normally from the influx of retired people, although not all those moving to these areas are wealthy.

These towns along rivers however, are the main beneficiaries of pollution control programs which make their environment more attractive and hospitable, Senator Batt said.

River towns such as Lewiston, Weiser, Payette, Burley, Twin Falls and Idaho Falls, will also gain from the combined upstream pollution efforts, far in excess of their individual effort, Senator Fisher Ellsworth, Idaho Falls, said in support of the bill. This is especially true of industrial waste cleanup.

Estimated inheritance tax revenues of $1.1 to $1.2 million a year will be dedicated to the fund. Unused state bonding capacity can provide an initial sum of about $1.5 million, the Senate Majority Leaders said.

Under Department of Health projections, made by Vaughn Anderson, chief sanitation division, direct costs to communities for the program will run about $1.4 million a year for the next five years. A 11¢ amount would come from the state and both would be matched by federal HEW funds.

Tentative priority projects are planned for 1970 for these cities: Paris, Paul, Kimberly, Wilder, Heyburn, Boise (partial), Craigmont and Idaho Falls.

In the 1971 program are South Fork Coeur d'Alene River, Lewiston, Sandpoint, Priest River and Coeur d'Alene.

In the 1972 planning are listed Montpelier, Soda Springs, Blackfoot, Orofino, Burley and Twin Falls. The 1973 program now is looking at Pocatello, Payette, Weiser, Caldwell, Boise Metro (half). In 1974 completion of Boise Metro, and Nampa. Total cost of these projects is now estimated at over $26 million.

San Francisco Crowd Dispersed By Policemen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mounted police peacefully dispersed a crowd of 1,200 persons Tuesday in the first large-scale demonstration on the San Francisco State College campus since last year's violent student and faculty strikes.

A homemade Molotov cocktail which failed to ignite was thrown earlier through the office window of college President S. I. Hayakawa, the hard-lining semantician who put down the 1969 disorders.

said we have air and water pollution problems in Idaho, only 12 per cent felt the extent was intolerable. Fully 74 per cent found the situation "not bad." Apparently Idaho is now on its way to financing a vital program, and should be able to stay well on top of the situation, Senate President Pro-Tem Ellsworth concluded.

Charades Problem Makes Mate Swapping Unlikely

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The popularity of the movie "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" has spawned a spate of articles, columns, commentaries, sermons, etc., on the subject of mate-swapping.

Because this topic has been so widely discussed, many people probably have gotten the impression that the practice of mate-swapping is itself becoming widespread.

I am here to testify that such is not the case.

I base that statement not upon any survey or study of the "Kinsey Report" type, but upon my own experience at trying to organize charade games.

If you have even as few as three couples at a party, it is almost impossible to get a unanimous agreement as to who is going to be on which side for charades.

Furthermore, there will always be at least one guest who doesn't feel like playing. His or her recalcitrance throws the whole team lineup out of kilter and puts everybody else in a bad mood.

The difficulty of getting a few couples to pair off for a simple game of charades convinces me that getting them to pair off for anything as entangled as inter-marital hanky-panky would be utterly impossible.

Let us say that someone decides to form a mate-swapping ring and invites Claude & Maude & Bertie & Gerlie & Ronny & Bonny & Lester & Hester & Billy & Millie & Ricky & Vicky & Ray & Faye to join.

I suspect it would work out something like this:

Claude would be attracted by Millie who would be turned on by Lester who would have his eyes on Bonny. Meanwhile, Ronny would try to swap Bonny to Ray for Faye, but Faye is trying to arrange with Vicky to swap Ray for Ricky.

Bertie would cheerfully swap Gerlie for Faye or Millie or Hester or Bonny or Maude or Vicky, but Ray & Ricky & Billy & Lester & Ronny & Claude refuse to get involved with Gerlie.

After lengthy negotiations, Bertie agrees to keep Gerlie, who by this time has become furious with Bertie and goes home to her mother. Everything then hinges on Hester.

If Hester will agree to pair off with Billy, instead of holding out for Bertie, this will free Millie to pair off with Ronny, who otherwise declines to swap Bonny to Ricky.

But Hester at this point develops a migraine headache, takes two aspirin and goes off to lie down alone.

Whereupon the voters agree to drop the whole thing and play charades instead—the men against the women.

NEW OFFICERS OF the Minidoka County Historical Society stand outside the old Rupert city jail which they use as a museum. The city has given them the use of the old building rent-free. From left are Harvey Hollinger, Paul; Bill Whittom, Rupert; Mrs. Allen Bryngelson, Minidoka; Tom Greenwood, Rupert city recreation director; Bob Nelson and Martin O'Donald, both Rupert.

Mindoka Historical Group Gets City Jail For Museum

RUPERT — The groundwork was outlined for a historical museum in Minidoka county during the first meeting of the Minidoka Historical Society at the city hall.

A board of directors was selected and officers were elected. Directors selected were Bill Whitton, Martin O'Donald, and Bob Nelson, all Rupert, Mrs. Allen Bryngelson, Minidoka, and Harvey Hollinger, Paul. Whitton and Hollinger were elected for two year terms; O'Donald and Nelson will serve three year terms and Mrs. Bryngelson a one year term.

"Our county has the largest homestead area development in the world and this part of our history will be included too," stated the directors.

The 12 by 20 jail building is a good starting place and the group has the cooperation of the city council and the city recreation director.

From the 25 persons attending the meeting the history of the county was traced back to 1894 when P. D. Sears moved from Albion to Minidoka County. There were over 700 years of history available from those attending the historical society's first meeting.

Officers elected were Mrs. O'Donald, president; Mr. Nelson, vice president; and Mrs. Bryngelson, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Whitton was appointed by the officers as publicity chairman.

Bylaws were read and following discussion they were approved by the 25 persons attending. It was reported that the Minidoka Historical Society filed articles of incorporation as a non-profit organization in February.

The first Rupert city jail built in 1905 located under the city water tower has been loaned to the historical society to use rent-free as a museum. The jail was used by the city from 1905 until one year ago when the new jail was put into service.

Fees were set as $1 per student; $5 active member (a single person) and $10 per family. The fees will be used to finance the historical society along with donations from private individuals and organizations.

Persons joining the historical society within the next 30 days will become charter members.

Meeting dates were set as the fourth Friday of each month and the board of directors will meet the second Friday of each month. The group is now in the process of finding a permanent meeting place.

The officers pointed out that "all items will be screened and they must be donated to the museum. No items will be accepted on a loan basis. We want the historical items to help tell the story of the growth and development of Minidoka County," explained the officers.

Hailey Negotiating Over Engineers Project Plans

HAILEY — Hailey City Atty. Stephen Bolter will go to Boise to discuss with Carville Britton, engineer, obtaining the preliminary plans and specifications he has made for the Hailey water and sewage project.

Mr. Briggs, who was relieved of his position with the city, has asked to be reinstated, but councilmen Monday night voted against this and officially hired another engineer, William W. Briggs, with the J.W.R. Engineers, Inc., Boise.

Councilmen heard the second reading of an ordinance regulating operation of snowmobiles on the Hailey city streets. The proposed law provides that vehicles can be run on all north-south streets except Highway 93, and a few selected east-west avenues.

Snow machines can not travel more than 10 miles per hour and have to be driven after 8 a.m. and before 10 p.m. They have to yield the right of way and must travel single file, the ordinance provides.

Councilmen discussed the eyesore created by the old Odd Fellows lodge building which was partially destroyed when snow caved in the roof more than a year ago. Remodeling work is finally starting on the structure and councilmen feel a construction front should be built to protect passersby while the work is under way.

The tentative budget will be set next Monday with the public hearing set for March 31.

2 New School Buses Bought At Kimberly

KIMBERLY — Two 66-passenger school buses have been ordered by the Kimberly school board from Superior Sales Co., McCall.

The firm entered the low bid, it was reported when trustees opened the bids Monday night. Bill Powers, sales representative of the firm, who was school superintendent here 15 years ago, attended the board meeting Monday night.

Trustees decided to dismiss school at 2:15 p.m. March 26 and resume classes March 31.

The school board approved: — Gail Serr, agricultural instructor, taking several PFA students to the state meeting in Shelley April 2-4.

— Career club members taking a bus to Pocatello March 24 to review job situations there.

— James Cutler, music instructor, accompanying Allan Smith to All-State Band in Boise March 19-20.

Supt. Robert Sherman reported any contributions will be welcome to assist with payment for the football scoreboard which has been ordered for the field.

Two teachers, Gary Ayers and Mr. Seer, have submitted their resignations effective at the end of the year.

PRINCE TAKES TRIP

Cub Scout Pack Is Formed Again In Camas County

FAIRFIELD — A Cub Scout pack has been formed in Camas County, with four dens, Gary Smithy, cubmaster, reports.

This is the first time in many years that any Scout unit has been active in the community. Other committee members for Pack No. 34 include LeRoy Paekham, Institutional representative; Jack Exon, secretary-treasurer, and Harold Choate, Webelos leader.

Den mothers include Mrs. Joe McCarter, Mrs. Dave Lemons, Mrs. Robert Newhouse and Mrs. Smithy, with Mrs. Harold Choate, Mrs. Jack Exon and Mrs. Richard Dalin as assistants.

A blue and gold banquet was held at Soldier Mountain Ski lodge with each den contributing to the program. Don Exon received the bear badge and was advanced to Webelos, while Tony Dalin and Danny Exon received wolf badges. Bart Koonce became a bobcat.

A display of "genius kits" is now on exhibit at the old Cook grocery building and includes all types of objects made by the boys. Theme for the month was "genius" with members creating all types of things from identical material.

A pinewood derby is the next project planned by the pack.

Registration Urged In Shoshone Vote

SHOSHONE—Members of the Shoshone Civic Club plan on conducting a telephone calling project to get voters registered for the sewer revenue bond election March 17.

The revenue bond, for $580,000 will be augmented by an $35,380 federal grant and there is possibility of additional funds from the state which would mean either a lower monthly fee or installation fee. Repayment of the revenue bonds is planned over a 30-year period.

Mayor Ellwood R. Werry has pointed out that if the election falls, inflation likely will use up all that we could gain in any future assistance. While citizens will face the cost of installation, plus monthly fee, the problems facing the city without the sewer could be even greater, the mayor warns.

There are now two types of sewage disposal setups in Shoshone, septic tanks and the leach system, which must be approved by the Public Health department. In some areas of the city a satisfactory leaching system cannot be installed, and since the Legislature passed a law in 1964 prohibiting drilling of drain holes for sewer purposes, once those drain holes are filled up or fail to work, people simply will have to abandon their homes or businesses.

Controls on means of sewer disposal of human waste are outlined in the 1964 law when well drillers were prohibited from drilling holes for sewer purposes.

Since then, no well driller will drill such holes, the mayor said, for it they do they will lose their license.

Most of the drilled holes are about 30 feet in depth, though crevices may be hit sooner, others much deeper. The well driller who did this work usually charges a fee of about $100 to set up his rig and drill the first 50 feet, then a per foot fee was charged for anything beyond that.

The drilled hole was tested by running water from a hose through the space for a given time, perhaps overnight, and if the hole did not fill up, it was considered adequate to carry the septic tank waste. Where the waste goes from the crevice is anybody's guess.

When the discharge going through the leach system cannot go down, the ground having become saturated, then it goes up, rising to the ground surfaces, running onto lawns, sidewalks and streets in some cases.

According to City & Water Street Superintendent L. M. Hatmaker, there are some families in the city with this exact problem at this time. This discharge has a foul odor.

Superintendent Hatmaker said a leach system has to be extremely good to handle the sewer for more than five years even at the best.

When these fail, the septic tanks and leach systems must be cleaned out, and in some cases the leach system cannot be cleaned out, as the ground is too saturated. The cost of cleaning the septic tanks varies from $350 to $500.

A number of people in the city have their septic tanks cleaned out at least once a year, some by precaution, others absolutely necessary. There are others who have used their present system for as many as 30 years without having done anything to it.

Ducted air fans remove grease-laden moisture from the air.

QUAKES RECORDED
CATANIA, Sicily (UPI)—Nine light earthquakes were recorded in the Catania area near Mt. Etna during a three-hour period Monday night, the University of Catania reported Tuesday. Vulcanologists said the tremors had no connection with the recent resumption of activity by the Etna volcano which has belched up red-hot rocks.

Attempted Assassination Taken Calmly

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Had the attempted assassination of Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, come 10 years ago the immediate result would have been a bloody upsurge in the warfare between Greek and Turk Cypriots.

As it was, Cypriot police, the Greek majority and the Turkish minority assumed at once it was a case of Greek shooting upon Greek on this Mediterranean island which seems destined to know no peace.

Its source goes back 100 years with the end of Turkish rule but more immediately to a year ago.

On May 7, 1969, a new Cypriot underground group favoring enosis (union with Greece) distributed leaflets in the capital of Nicosia rejecting "hybrid solutions" for the Cyprus problem and declaring it would "not hesitate to strike the government itself."

Even before this direct threat against the government, violence already had erupted in the bitterly divided, Greek against Greek, sentiment between Cypriot independence and union with Greece.

In March 1969, gunmen wounded the Nicosia police chief.

In July, unidentified assailants shot and killed the deputy commander of police force reservists. In that same month a time bomb exploded in the house of representatives.

Anonymous telephone calls and leaflets threatened government ministers.

Makarios denounced the terrorists as traitors.

Behind Makarios himself there was a record of violence, first in his campaign for independence from Britain and then against the island's Turkish minority who not only opposed union with Greece but also demanded partition of the island between some 465,000 Greeks and 103,000 Turks.

Mrs. Glick will retire July 1, after 10 years of planning menus for Twin Falls school children, and Mrs. Halladay, her secretary and helper for a number of years, will take over.

Teen-Age Appetites Harass School Hot Lunch People

Harried mothers harassed by voracious appetites of the school-age set have the sympathy of Mrs. Bertha Glick, hot-lunch supervisor for Twin Falls schools. She has much the same problem but in a whopping big measure. Mrs. Glick and her staff plan the menus for school lunches two or three weeks at a time, in order to keep sufficient supplies on hand, and to order new supplies far enough ahead. Federal surplus-food stocks supplement the supplies purchased by the school district, but not always in the quantities desired, Mrs. Glick said. For instance, how do you serve dried canned sweet potatoes in a form the youngsters will enjoy? The government, apparently also plagued by an overstock in sweet potatoes — and a lack of appetite — forwarded a good many cases of the stuff to the school districts.

Duplicate Bridge Results Reported

Shelby, third. The name Okinawa stems from a Japanese term meaning "rope in the ocean," says the National Geographic.

Q—Could you give me information on United Utilities? I inherited these shares and wonder if it has growth possibilities. — K. M.

A—United Utilities, the second-largest in dependent (non-Bell) telephone company, is trading at the lower end of its four-year price range. Price action is similar to that of other telephone and utility issues and reflects money conditions rather than an internal weakness.

The Dow Jones industrial average, the blue chip barometer, was up 1.78 at 781.48.

A three-hour turnover of around 6-million shares was about in line with Tuesday's slow pace.

Among the day's most active issues were Columbia Jersey casting 3/8 higher, Jersey Standard up 3/4, S. S. Kresge 2 1/4 higher, Scott Paper 1/4 higher, Gulf Oil, unchanged, Lubrizol Corp., down 2, and Great Western Financial unchanged.

Pocatellans Ask Rehearing By Idaho Supreme Court Of Ruling That Two-Thirds Bond Vote Is Constitutional

BOISE (UPI) — Citing five instances of "error," two Pocatello residents have petitioned the Idaho Supreme Court for a rehearing of the case in which it ruled constitutional the two-thirds approval requirement to pass general obligation bond issues.

E.A. Dee Bogert and Ruth Marian Rogers asked the high court to rehear the case in which it reversed on Feb. 17 a District Court ruling that only a simple majority approval of the voters was necessary to pass bond issues.

The petitioners cited five instances in which they contended the high court erred:

- In its application and analysis of the "fencing out and exclusion" cases decided by the U.S. Supreme Court and their relationship to the cases decided by the U.S. Supreme Court involving the debasement or dilution of votes.
- By refusing to apply the one-man, one-vote rule to decisional processes of voters by limiting the rule to individual rights in voting for representative government.
- Misapplied the concept of one-man, one-vote under the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution.
- Applied an erroneous analogy between the federal constitutional and the constitution of the individual states.
- In applying political science concepts to a legally projected right under the 14th Amendment.

On Feb. 17, the high court upheld Idaho constitutional and statutory provisions which require the assent of two-thirds of the voters prior to issuance of

Neither question received the necessary two-thirds assent of the voters and the plaintiffs brought action against the city clerk and commissioners contending that a 50 per cent majority assent was sufficient and that the bond issues should be certified as passed.

The District Court agreed with the plaintiffs' contention but the State Supreme Court in a majority opinion written by Justice Allan Shepard disagreed and reversed the lower court. Justice Charles Donaldson filed a dissenting opinion.

RENE BUTLER and STEVEN JOHNSON will play the leads in the College of Southern Idaho's forthcoming musical production of "Camelot." Johnson will play "King Arthur" and Miss Butler will play "Guenevere." The musical, the first for CSI, will be March 28 and 29 at the Fine Arts Center.

"Camelot," First Musical At CSI, Now In Rehearsal

"Camelot," the first musical to be presented by the College of Southern Idaho, is in full rehearsal now in preparation for opening later this month.

The production, under the direction of Eugene C. Mildon, assistant professor of music, is being staged in experimental theatre style with modern dress and impressionistic accessories with impressionistic sets.

The production is scheduled for two performances, at 8 p.m. March 28 and 29, at the CSI Fine Arts Center. This is Mr. Mildon's first year at CSI. He comes here from Pittsburgh, Pa., where he was involved in musical theatre and opera.

Among lead players in "Camelot" will be Steven Marshall Johnson, Twin Falls, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Johnson, as "King Arthur." He is a freshman liberal arts major. Last semester when the Madrigal Singers were on tour he was featured as the baritone soloist and also was soloist for the annual college Christmas Choral Concert.

He has recently appeared as soloist at several social and fraternal organizations. He also is a member of the concert choir, the college bowling league, the Twin Falls Rifle Club and the Immanuel Lutheran Church. He is employed part time at Gen. The Paper Co.

The female lead, "Guenevere," will be played by Rene Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Butler, Hansen. At CSI she has been German Club secretary, treasurer, member of concert band, stage band, concert choir and Madrigal Singers. She attended her freshman year at CSI on a music scholarship.

A sophomore, Miss Butler also has been a member of the Dilettante orchestra and Twin Falls Civic Symphony orchestra. In high school she was active in musical organizations, newspaper and athletic functions. She plans to attend Arizona

Goodbye To Marlboro Country

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Tuesday passed a bill that would outlaw cigarette commercials on radio and television, effective Jan. 2, and strengthening the health warning on cigarette packages.

"Thanks to this bill, Marlboro country will fade into television history, as of next January," said Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, sponsor of the measure.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., hailed the action as "landmark legislation in the health field." He said "great economic forces were aligned against" it, a reference to lobbying by broadcasters and the tobacco industry.

The House still must act on the bill, but passage is considered virtually certain since the final version of the bill was worked out last week in a House-Senate conference committee.

The Senate vote was 78 to 9. Six months after President Nixon signs the bill, it would require this warning on all cigarette packages: "Warning: The surgeon general has determined that cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health."

The present package warning, required since 1965, reads: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

State University next year to continue her education as a music major.

"Lancelot" will be portrayed by Ronald G. Braun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Braun, Twin Falls. He is a sophomore at CSI, where he is majoring in music education. He is a member of the concert choir and Madrigal Singers and has participated in "Sound of Music," "Finian's Rainbow" and "My Fair Lady," all for the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley. He also worked with Antique Festival Theatre in 1967.

Other players in "Camelot" will be: Cody Huft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huft, Twin Falls, as "King Pellinore." He is in the CSI intramural basketball program, the newspaper staff and German Club and also belongs to the LDS Institute and participates in the church basketball program.

Stephen Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Tucker, Twin Falls, as "Mordred." A sophomore mathematics major, he is active in the CSI concert choir and Madrigal Singers, is president of German Club and plans to attend Washington State University next year.

Richard Shobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Shobe, Twin Falls, as "Merlyn." He also is acting as head of props for the production. A sophomore chemistry major, he is active in Madrigal Singers and is a member of the First United Methodist Church, where he is in the choir and is radio monitor. He also is district representative for the Order of DeMolay.

Timothy Driscoll, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Driscoll, Twin Falls, as "Tom of Warwick." He is in the sixth grade at Washington School and had one of the children's parts in the just completed "Mame," presented by the Dilettantes. He is a voice student and traveled with the Antique Festival Theatre in "Rip Van Winkle."

Thomas Schiermeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schiermeier, Twin Falls, as "Sir Sagamore." He is a freshman science major and is involved in the taxidermy business. He is a member of the CSI concert choir and Madrigal Singers.

Debbie Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Wright, Twin Falls, as "Lady Anne." A freshman education major, she is a member of the bowling club, the concert band and concert choir.

Andrea Parenteau Hilton as "Morgan LeRey." She has been active in drama at CSI and also appeared in "Mame."

Donald Graybill as "Sir Lancelot." He took dancing instruction from Beverly Hackney and also has been active in CSI drama productions, including "Crime on Goat Island" and "Tom Paine."

Other students featured in minor speaking or singing parts are Carolyn Briggs, Douglas Warner, Wesley Fry, Farla McKinney, Terry Klimes and Randy Eaton.

Mrs. Hackney is doing choreography for the production. She began dancing at age of 13 while living in Boise. During the summers she studied with Peter Christensen in Salt Lake City and after completing high school went to San Francisco to study and dance with the San Francisco Ballet. She also worked in musical comedy and the theatre. She also spent a year studying and working in New York City.

While in the East, Mrs. Hackney studied with the American School of Ballet and the Washington School of Ballet, Washington, D.C. She returned to Idaho and while attending ISU, she did choreography for their "Days." She also taught dancing while in Pocatello. She auditioned for and was accepted by the Ballet Co. of the San Carlos Opera Ballet.

Since her marriage she has taught ballet in Burley and Twin Falls. She was a member of the original production cast of the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley, and was choreographer for "Carousel," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Brigadoon," and "Kiss Me Kate."

For three years Mrs. Hackney was dean of girls for the Sun Valley Music Camp, working with Gordon Paxman, head of the Department of Ballet and Modern Dance, University of Utah. She presently is continuing her education at ISU, where she is majoring in English and psychology.

Five Magic Valley Teams Open Competition In 4 State Tournaments Thursday

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

Five Magic Valley teams open their quest for state tournament honors Thursday in four cities and the area could turn up with a couple of champions by Saturday night.

Numerically, the best shot will come in the A-4 tournament at Burley with Oakley, Murtaugh and Hagerman winning three of the eight spots available. Oakley would appear to be the one to beat as its 23-1 record includes one class A-1 team and the Hornets haven't been pressed since early December. Their lone loss came when Grace in early December when Coach Gary Swan reports. Grace used a full court press "and we weren't ready for that yet." Since then the Hornets have gone on to register 22 wins in a row and average 75 points per game, a figure held down by Coach Swan who used a lot of men in the second half of most ball games. That experience has helped him build a bench that probably can't be matched.

Murtaugh and Hagerman face two tough competitors before they get to the finals. Murtaugh should defeat Clark County Thursday afternoon in a battle of underclassmen teams, would in all probability have to go against undefeated Clark Fork in Friday's semi-finals. Hagerman will open against Troy, a perennially strong A-4 team Thursday night and then, should things go according to Hoyle, have to meet Oakley Friday night.

Minico, which went to second place last year, could have a shot at the A-1 title but the Spartans must be wary of two things. Minico, with a good height advantage, is favored over Sandpoint in the opening round Thursday night.

That win should put the Spartans against Borah Friday night and it should be the game of the tournament since those two have most of the individual talent that will be aligned at Boise. But if the Spartans are successful there, they have to watch out for a letdown Saturday because the whole thing could very well focus on that Friday night game. The team out of the upper bracket, in practically a breeze, should be Highland and the Rams have a split with Minico so far.

Wendell, the A-3 champion, runs into a tall quintet right off the start. The Trojans will play Genesee at 9 p.m. Thursday with the northern team making its first appearance in the higher classifications. It starts 6-6, 6-5 and 6-3 men underneath while Wendell's tallest is 6-3 Ralph King. Genesee likes to hold the ball and work it inside to the big men for the shot.

The Trojans are in a tough bracket as New Plymouth, reputed to have a great bench, and Grace, the only team to beat Oakley, playing in the other half.

The road also appears tough for Wood River since it is bracketed with defending champion Preston at 1:30 p.m. Thursday and then must take on the winner of the Shelley-Post Falls game. Shelley has topped most of the A-1 schools in the eastern portion of the state.

The pairings for the first rounds Thursday include:

A-1, at Boise, Moscow vs. Boise, 1:30 p.m.; Meridian vs. Highland, 3 p.m.; Sandpoint vs. Minico, 7:30 p.m.; and Borah vs. Idaho Falls, 9 p.m.

A-2, at Pocatello — Preston vs. Wood River, 1:30 p.m.; Shelley vs. Post Falls, 3 p.m.; Orofino vs. Aberdeen, 7:30 p.m.; and Salmon vs. Bishop Kelly, 9 p.m.

A-3 at Lewiston — Homedale vs. IHM, 1:30 p.m.; Sugar-Salem vs. St. Gertrude's, 3 p.m.; New Plymouth vs. Grace, 7:30 p.m.; and Genesee vs. Wendell, 9 p.m.

A-4, at Burley — Clark County vs. Murtaugh, 1:30 p.m.; Clark Fork vs. Notus, 3 p.m.; Hagerman vs. Troy, 7:30 p.m.; and Oakley vs. Midvale, 9 p.m.

Sportsmen Seek Revision In Ousting Commissioners

A defined system of steps required for removing a duly appointed member of the Idaho Fish and Game Commission from that post was adopted in resolution form by the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association Tuesday night and will be forwarded through district and state assemblies for statewide approval.

The resolution seeks to supplant the current provision that allows commissioners to serve at the pleasure of the governor. The governor currently appoints commissioners to six year terms but may terminate them without cause.

The association, pointing out the 1938 initiative passed by the people of the state called for dismissal only for cause, seeks a return to that status. It was changed by the 1953 Idaho legislature to the governor's pleasure as result of some squabbling during which the commission was split three to two on dismissal of the then department director.

Under the guidelines established by the resolution, dismissal procedure would require written charges be lodged against the commissioner involved. He would then have 10 days to prepare a reply to the charges and the matter would be settled in a public hearing. After that, a statement by the governor plus all proceedings of the public hearing would be filed in the state archive.

Although the resolution obviously supports the commission now in the face of stern opposition from Gov. Don Samuelson, members pointed out it would establish avenues through which succeeding governors could escape becoming embroiled in heavy controversy and charges of political or personal whim. This could be brought about if a commission was packed one way or the other from what the previous governor had believed in or done for other reasons.

The resolution made no mention of procedures for renewing appointments or making new ones. It concerned itself only with mid-term dismissal.

Robert Bell, regional biologist, said ice fishing on Fish Creek and Little Wood reservoirs had held up well through the January and February season. Fish Creek enjoyed an overall 2.9 trout per hour with an early season four per hour while Little Wood held quite static at 2.6 per hour.

The group also selected delegates to the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen's Clubs in Challis Saturday and the state convention in McCall in early April.

Carlton In Camp, But Not Happy

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Steve Carlton, reporting to camp 18 days late, worked out Tuesday with the St. Louis Cardinals, but the pitcher expressed continued displeasure with the contract he has not signed.

Although aware the team had invoked the renewal clause, which in effect would serve as a contract even without his approval, the 25-year-old left-hander said he still hopes to get more money.

"The Cardinals say negotiations are still open and I'm going to sit down with Bing Devine," said Carlton, who pitched 10 minutes of batting practice after having worked out for the better part of two weeks at Dade Junior College in Miami.

"I wouldn't be happy to have to play for what I've been offered," he said, "but I try not to let it affect me."

"I'm in complete disagreement with the club, but they know that already."

Carlton, reportedly paid $24,000 last year when he won 17 and lost 7, struck out 19 for a major league single game record last September and just missed the National League's efficiency title with a 2.17 earned run average.

He was offered about $30,000, but is seeking $50,000.

Since then, he has scaled down his salary figure to about $40,000 but the club has not increased it off yet, he said.

"I just had a feeling on my part I guess, I had a good year when things were turning around for the club. I'm not even fairly close with the club but I'd have been here long ago if they had invited me," Carlton said.

Rinka Heads Small College All-America

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Rinka of Kenyon College and Fred Davis of Howard Payne, both holdovers from last season, head the 1969-70 Small College All-America basketball team.

Joining Rinka, a 5-foot-9 guard who led the nation's small college scorers with a 41.0 average, and Davis, who poured in 31.5 points per game, are Jake Ford of Maryland State and Greg Hill of American International, both seniors, and sophomore Travis Grant of Kentucky State.

Named to the second team in balloting by sports writers and sportscasters throughout the nation were seven-foot Elmore Smith, another Kentucky State soph; Kevin Wilson of Ashland; Gene Mumford of Seranton; Curtis Perry of South west Missouri and Earnest Killum of Stetson.

Third team selections were James Silas and Surry Oliver of S.F. Austin, the UPI small college champion, Wayne Sokolowski of Ashland, Isaiah Wilson of Baltimore and Carl Poole of Philadelphia Textile.

UCLA Puts 3 Men On All-Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The powerhouse UCLA Bruin basketball team, which this week starts the quest for its fourth consecutive national title, landed three players on the all-Coast 1969-70 basketball team chosen for UPI by sportswriters and broadcasters.

Bruin forward Sidney Wicks, who was also a third team UPI All America selection, was the heaviest voter getter in a year when few players drew near-unanimous support and dozens had some votes. Wicks, a 6-8 junior, was named on the first or second team by all but four pickers.

His Bruin teammates Curtis Rowe, a 6-6 senior forward, and Henry Bibby, a 6-1 soph who quarterbacked the Bruin attack, also landed on the all-star quintet.

The three Bruins were joined by two centers—Dennis Awtry of NCAA tourney-bound Santa Clara and Stan Love of Oregon. Awtry is a 6-10 senior and Love a 6-9 junior.

The difficulty of the selectors in trying to figure out the best of the West's big men was shown by the fact that seven of the Pacific Eight's starting centers and four from the West Coast Athletic Conference were named on at least two ballots.

This year's second team: George Irvine, Washington; Jackie Ridgle, California; Vic Bartolome, Oregon State; John Vallely, UCLA; Rick Erickson, Washington State.

Third team: Bill Stricker, UOP; George Trapp, Long Beach State; Pete Cross, USF; Mo Layton and Paul Westphal, USC.

Midwinter Elk Censusing In Nearby Magic Valley Key Areas Shows Decline But Breed Base Remains

Midwinter censusing of elk in the Soldier Mountain and Big and Little Wood areas show an expected decline in overall numbers and also a change in winter range uses. But the overall figures indicate that the promise of there being "no elk" in these areas from over hunting and winter kill is a little exaggerated. However, there is reason for some concern in unit 44, the South Soldier mountain area, which will be given extensive study over the next few months.

Dale Turnipseed, regional biologist for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, said he believed the composition of the herds in sex and age indicated there is every reason to expect a return to normalcy, perhaps within this reproduction year. He bases part of this belief and hope on the mild winter.

The south Soldier turned up only 29 animals compared with 130 two years ago when last surveyed. Turnipseed said the counting conditions were poor, however, plus a lack of new snow that precluded the usual practice of following tracks into the timber area.

"I know there are more animals there because we saw things like four cows and five calves," said Turnipseed. "But it also looks like we are well down on that herd even considering the poor counting conditions. I feel that with what we saw the biggest loss last winter was in the over mature bulls and about half of the reproduction but we still have enough animals there for a comeback." Turnipseed said the department will follow up on this winter count by making several studies including a "green up" aerial survey with the hope of catching the animals out on the slope. He added one of the bigger problems with the herd is the relatively recent road that has been pushed up Willow Creek, which now is used extensively for snow mobilizing. Willow Creek was the primary winter range and the encroachment of civilization has pushed the animals into less desirable side canyons and tributaries where winter feed is not as plentiful.

Unit 49, the Little Wood River drainage, also had poor conditions, so poor in fact the department curtailed the aerial survey. The range already has open slopes and the elk are largely out of the stream bottoms. Still a total of 64 animals were counted against 88 two years ago.

In Unit 48, the Big Wood River, a total of 243 elk were seen against 297 two years ago with the animals largely confined to the creek bottoms. The closeness of the numbers indicate a relatively stable situation. However, Turnipseed said there has been considerable shifting of the herds in the areas being used, this again being blamed on the encroachment of houses and ski usage.

The North Soldier Mountain area, Unit 43, turned up 396 animals against 636 for 1967. The counters were able to determine a composition of 140 cows, 69 calves, 64 mature bulls and 12 spike bulls, the other 111 going unclassified. Turnipseed said he was pleased with the 50 per cent production of the cows the composition study turned up.

"The yearlings and the over mature bulls appear to have borne the brunt of last year's winter kill," he pointed out. "In 1967 the composition was 293 cows with 118 calves, 43 spikes and 71 bulls." He noted this general trend of nature was ideal for management since it left the basic reproductive part of the herd still alive. The yearlings seldom breed in their first year and the decline of numbers in that group should be offset somewhat by the production of the healthy, young adult basis that did survive.

Turnipseed said the department also could be sure there are more animals on the South Fork of the Boise. "During the trapping season at Lightfoot and Big Smokey we counted 105 elk. Since then we retrapped seven elk first collared in 1969 and this year added 24 new ones for a total of 33. From the air we saw only one 1970 collar and only 11 tagged animals, so we know there are 22 more that weren't seen during the helicopter censusing."

Trans-Am Grid League Is Created

CHICAGO (UPI)—Organization of a new professional football league, the Trans-American Football League, Inc., was announced Tuesday by Arthur Arkush, publisher of a weekly sports newspaper.

Arkush, interested in the Chicago franchise, said the league with headquarters in Chicago, would include eight teams for the 1970 season. In addition to Chicago franchises with fees paid have been assigned to San Antonio, Hershey, Pa., and Southern California.

Other cities expected to enter the league upon compliance with stadium requirements were Fort Worth and Memphis.

The league will be capitalized for $1 million and will assist each franchise holder in management, public relations and promotions. The corporation will share TV and radio revenue and receive an annual franchise fee based on a percentage of receipts.

UCLA Puts 3 Men On All-Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The powerhouse UCLA Bruin basketball team, which this week starts the quest for its fourth consecutive national title, landed three players on the all-Coast 1969-70 basketball team chosen for UPI by sportswriters and broadcasters.

Bruin forward Sidney Wicks, who was also a third team UPI All America selection, was the heaviest voter getter in a year when few players drew near-unanimous support and dozens had some votes. Wicks, a 6-8 junior, was named on the first or second team by all but four pickers.

His Bruin teammates Curtis Rowe, a 6-6 senior forward, and Henry Bibby, a 6-1 soph who quarterbacked the Bruin attack, also landed on the all-star quintet.

The three Bruins were joined by two centers—Dennis Awtry of NCAA tourney-bound Santa Clara and Stan Love of Oregon. Awtry is a 6-10 senior and Love a 6-9 junior.

The difficulty of the selectors in trying to figure out the best of the West's big men was shown by the fact that seven of the Pacific Eight's starting centers and four from the West Coast Athletic Conference were named on at least two ballots.

This year's second team: George Irvine, Washington; Jackie Ridgle, California; Vic Bartolome, Oregon State; John Vallely, UCLA; Rick Erickson, Washington State.

Third team: Bill Stricker, UOP; George Trapp, Long Beach State; Pete Cross, USF; Mo Layton and Paul Westphal, USC.

Last-Second West Basket Nips S.F.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Terry West's 25-foot basket with two seconds to go followed by a free throw on a technical foul capped a 42-point performance for the Los Angeles guard Tuesday night and provided the Lakers with a thrilling 106-104 triumph over the San Francisco Warriors.

With the Warriors ahead 104-103, following Clyde Lee's three-point play, Los Angeles inbounded the ball to the NBA's leading scorer for the winning shot. West then completed an unusual three-point play by adding the free throw after the Warriors were charged with the technical.

Lee went from hero to goat in a quick step. The Warriors' center had converted on his three-point play with 39 seconds remaining after which Los Angeles missed two shots at the rim.

Indians Shade Oakland 3-2

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Rookie Ron Allen singled in Graig Nettles in the seventh for what turned out to be the deciding run, as the Cleveland Indians edged the Oakland Athletics 3-2 in a Cactus League baseball contest Tuesday.

Allen led the Indians' attack with two hits in two trips, including the game-deciding single off Oakland pitcher Bob Talbot. Allen played at Reno, Nev., of the California League last season.

The A's came back to load the bases in the ninth but the fourth Cleveland doubleplay of the day choked off the rally, as Oakland only managed a single run. Rick Monday and Sal Bando led the Oakland attack with a double and a single each.

American League Meeting On Seattle Fate Called Off, Owner In Hospital

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—An American League meeting which might have resulted in the transfer of the Seattle Pilots to Milwaukee was cancelled Tuesday because of the absence of the Pilots' chief owner, who is hospitalized.

But in Cleveland, Ohio, the owner, William Daley, denied he was too sick to attend the meeting.

"I don't see any reason for calling off the meeting. I am not in the hospital because I'm sick but for a checkup. I don't know why they called off the meeting," Daley said.

Daley made the statement when contacted in the Cleveland Clinic by telephone, although earlier in the day when the cancellation was announced, a league spokesman had said Daley was "unable to use the telephone."

Daley said he was informed of the cancellation "by my associates in Seattle, not by anybody in the American League."

Cancellation of the meeting followed by one day a statement by U.S. Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington that he would introduce legislation making baseball subject to the anti-trust laws if the Seattle franchise were moved after only one year, because "That would show baseball is only a business," he said.

When the meeting cancellation was announced, the league spokesman said it was because of the absence of Daley. He said another meeting "will certainly have to be held soon" but that the date and site would depend on Daley's health. He said it would certainly not be in "the next few days."

It would be absolutely illogical and senseless to hold a meeting concerning the Seattle franchise in the absence of Mr. Daley, because he is the sole voting trust of the club," said league spokesman Bob Holbrook.

The cancellation came at virtually the last minute, with owners of the 14 other AL teams already on hand at a hotel here.

Three or four of the owners left immediately for Sarasota, Fla., for a private confab with baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn and American League President Joe Cronin. Holbrook said the private meeting would be concerned partly with the Seattle situation, but would also touch on other things.

"The commissioner has been interested and involved in this situation all along," said Holbrook. "He asked Cronin and the others to meet with him to discuss this and also to discuss other things that he has in mind. There will be no announcement after this meeting."

Technically, the meeting here was scheduled in order to hear a report from Roy Hamey, the on-leave New York Yankees executive appointed by the league last month to oversee the use of $550,000 loan made by the league to the Pilots in February in order to enable them to get going in spring training.

The matter of moving the franchise was not actually on the agenda, and Cronin has publicly denied that a transfer of the franchise is "imminent."

However, there was every indication Hamey's report would not be a rosy one, and would be followed immediately by a proposal to move the club to Milwaukee interests, headed by Bud Selig and Judge Robert Cannon, were in the hotel sensing this would be Milwaukee's big day and they were openly disappointed by the cancellation.

"We've been close before, but this time it didn't seem we could miss," Cannon said.

Writer Says Pilot Owner Wants Move

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Baseball writer Lou Chapman of the Milwaukee Sentinel quoted a "highly placed source" with the Seattle Pilots Tuesday as saying Pilots' owner William Daley had asked the American League to move the club to Milwaukee.

The source said Daley made the request last week, according to Chapman, who was in Tampa, Fla., Tuesday to cover the scheduled meeting of American League club owners.

The meeting, called to discuss the fate of the financially troubled Pilots, was cancelled when it was learned Daley is hospitalized in Cleveland.

Daley, reached by Chapman in Cleveland, said the report he had asked that the franchise be moved "was not accurate."

"We wanted to be ready to go anywhere that we should," Daley said. "I didn't talk to anybody at Milwaukee, but some of our people did."

The source also said the Pilots' radio contract had been cut from $850,000 to $212,000 and that season ticket sales were down 4 per cent from last year. He also said parts of Sicks Stadium, the Pilots' home field, "were rotting."

O.J. Defends Rawlings' Grid Helmet

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—Football star O. J. Simpson Tuesday testified for the defense in a $3.6 million injury suit involving a football helmet made by the Rawlings Sporting Goods Co.

Simpson, who plays pro football for the Buffalo Bills, said the Rawlings helmet is "the best helmet I've ever worn...the best helmet made."

The suit against Rawlings was filed by attorneys for Daniel J. Pelton Sr., of Elverta, Calif., whose son was left paralyzed after suffering a football injury in November, 1967. Pelton contends the helmet worn by his son did not provide adequate protection.

Shown the helmet worn by the injured youth, Simpson said he used the same model during his two seasons at Southern Cal and most of last year at Buffalo.

Simpson was asked to read aloud a warning sign on Pelton's helmet, part of which stated: "Avoid all purposeful contact whether blocking, tackling or carrying the ball."

"Do you do that?" a defense attorney asked the running back.

"I try," Simpson replied with a grin, "but haven't succeeded."

Seven-Up, Noah Oliver Leading TFMBA Events

KIMBERLY — Seven Up took over the team lead and Noah Oliver held his margin in the singles after the second weekend of the Twin Falls Men's Bowling Association tournament.

Seven-Up's 3113 total is just ahead of Independent Meat's 3042 and Acme Machine Works' 3012.

Boston, which has won the world championship 11 of the last 13 seasons, came back within two points in the final period before Detroit outscored them 11-2 in the finishing minutes.

Erwin Mueller scored 20 points and Jimmy Walker added 19 for the winners; Chaney closed with 25 white balls.

Boston last missed the playoffs in the 1948-50 season. The first of their 11 NBA championships coincided with the arrival of the fabulous Bill Russell in the 1956-57 campaign. Russell retired following the Celtics' most recent triumph, with Tom Hainsohn replacing the bearded 6-foot-11 defensive ace as coach and Henry Finkel, and eventually Rich Johnson, taking over No. 6's center spot.

Colonels Edge Miami 126-120

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Kentucky's 6-7 guard Lou Dampier blasted in five three-pointers to build up a total of 43 and lead the Colonels to a 126-120 victory over the Miami Hurricanes in an American Basketball Association game Tuesday night.

Miami, trailing all the way in their first "home" game outside Miami, closed the game to within one point with just a little over seven minutes to play, but they couldn't overcome the third shooting of Dampier and Tim Lincecum.

Mayor Wants Revival Of Injunction

SEATTLE (UPI)—The mayor of Seattle Tuesday requested revival of a temporary injunction seeking to enjoin the Pilots' principal owners from making any move of the franchise prior to the beginning of the baseball season.

Mayor Wes Uhlman, dictating a letter from Washington, D.C., where he is testifying before a congressional hearing, asked the city's corporation counsel to obtain the action in King County Superior Court.

He asked the counsel to seek an order for Pacific Northwest Sports, Inc., including William Daley, Max Soriano and Ruth Soriano, to show cause why they should not be enjoined from moving the franchise.

The show cause hearing had been granted prior to the announcement to let Seattle keep the team, but was dismissed temporarily. Tuesday's action will merely revive the old order.

"There have been recent indications, not withstanding the American League decision of Feb. 11 (to keep the club in Seattle), that an attempt will be made to move the franchise prior to the opening date," wrote Uhlman.

The board also decided that the cowboy queen contest will begin April 15. Girls, sponsored by various clubs and organizations, will compete by selling ticket books to the 1970 games. This year's book contains 10 tickets and sells for six dollars. The single game admission price for adults has been set at 85 cents.

Members also decided to invite each stockholder to be the guest of the club at the opening game in late June.

Promotions discussed centered mainly on the thought of a new car giveaway. It was suggested that at each home game several numbers would be drawn, put together and one final drawing would be held at the last home contest of the year. That drawing would give the winner a new car.

T.F. Seventh Has Second Win In All-Church Meet

Twin Falls Seventh Ward won their second game in the Ensign division of the All-Church Church smashing past Granada Hills, Calif., 85-60.

It was the second win for the Twin Falls club, which is making its third straight appearance in the tournament. They defeated Roosevelt, Utah, 81-49 in their first outing and were slated to play powerful Holiday 18th of Salt Lake City Wednesday night in the quarterfinals.

Larry Malone, held scoreless in the first half, potted 30 in the last half to lead Tuesday's victory while Tom Toolson had 23, Ron Bird 19 and Terry Miller 10. In the first game, Toolson had 22, Bird and Miller 19 each and Malone 18.

The team would need two more wins to gain the finals.

Celtics Are Rapped Out Of Playoffs

DETROIT (UPI)—Dave Bin's inside maneuvering and outside shooting led the Detroit Pistons to a 117-112 victory over the Boston Celtics Tuesday night and eliminated last year's world champions from an NBA playoff spot for the first time in 20 years.

Bing scored 26 points, pushing Detroit to a 20-point advantage in the third quarter before the Celtics raced back on the shooting of Don Chaney and John Havlicek.

Erwin Mueller scored 20 points and Jimmy Walker added 19 for the winners; Chaney closed with 25 white balls.

Boston last missed the playoffs in the 1948-50 season. The first of their 11 NBA championships coincided with the arrival of the fabulous Bill Russell in the 1956-57 campaign. ## Jackson Is Ordered To Begin Play

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Oakland Athletics' owner Charles O. Finley Tuesday sent holdout slugger Reggie Jackson a letter invoking the controversial reserve clause — notifying him that the A's have automatically renewed his contract and ordering him to report immediately to camp.

A club spokesman said Finley, who returned to his home in Laporte, Ind., earlier this week after a weekend meeting with Jackson, waited until the last possible day he could before sending the letter.

The letter informed Jackson he would be paid $45,000 under the renewed pact — up $25,000 from his 1969 salary — and ordered him to report to camp Wednesday.

Jackson, who lives in nearby Phoenix, started negotiating for $75,000 on the basis of his performance last season, which included 47 home runs. Recently, he has come down to $60,000 in bargaining, but Finley said the two had reached an impasse after the weekend confrontation.

IDAHO WEIGHTS AND MEASURES Inspector Kenneth Magee, Boise, keeps tally while fellow inspector Henry Kozmeyer, right, checks the marked weight on a packaged meat item. The inspectors are being assisted by meat department manager Ray Thompson, center, Safeways Stores, Inc., Burley. Weights are checked by placing wrapped package on one side of "equal arm balance" and the tare materials and precision weights on the other side.

Idaho Weights, Measures Division Keeps Tabs To See Consumers Get Fair Shake

Ever wonder when you buy prepackaged meat at your favorite grocery store whether or not you are getting as much weight as you are being charged for?

Have you ever picked up a package of meat and found only the total price for that package stamped on it and no indication as to its weight or price per pound?

Or perhaps you have wondered whether or not you were getting full measure or weight when buying a quart bottle of some liquid or a ten-pound sack of flour — or a 50-foot length of garden hose — or even a package of notebook paper, supposedly containing 1,000 sheets. Even when in doubt, only a few people take the time to check weights on their trusted bathroom scales (which are not to be trusted for weighing small packages) or count out the number of sheets in a package of notebook paper. Most of us have had to rely on the accuracy and honesty of the packager.

Probably very few consumers are aware of a program of package checking is now being carried out in retail grocery stores throughout the state. Special attention is given to the meat department since most meat items are packaged and weighed in the store.

Teams of inspectors from Idaho's Weights and Measures Division of the state department of agriculture have been visiting supermarkets and grocery stores in recent months, checking packaged meats as well as sacks of flour and sugar.

Following procedures established in a handbook published by the National Bureau of Weights and Measures, the teams collect several samples of meat packages for testing. Using an "equal arm balance" type scale, the inspectors begin weighing each package to within one-sixteenth of an ounce. Tares are established for container and wrapping materials.

The inspectors are not actually looking for overages or shortages as such, but rather for a "weighing pattern." Ten packages of one certain item are weighed and an average is determined. This average provides the inspector with the weighing pattern of that store's meat department.

If the average is found to be markedly over or under, the inspectors then check other packages of that same item and of other items and should the pattern be consistent, the manager of the meat department is advised and all of the packages are removed from display to be re-marked with the correct weights and total prices.

While doing this work, inspectors also check all items to be sure that they are clearly marked with the weight, price per pound and the total price of the package.

Weights and Measures inspectors recently checked stores throughout Idaho and reported that all stores were anxious to cooperate and that most were doing an excellent job of properly weighing and marking packages. The inspectors found that weight variations were generally caused by inaccurate determinations of tares (not allowing the proper amount for con-

Sectional furniture upholstered in bright emerald green provides brilliant contrast to the vivid gold-orange tones in the rug, walls and accessories in this setting by Andre La Porte. signer Collection, is tufted entirely of Allied Chemical Corporation's Caprolan nylon fiber. An Elenhanks design, "Suddenly," has a subtly striated tone-on-tone background, the strong linear pattern carried out in a raised texture. Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Altho I am not quite 16, I am very mature for my age. (I have been mistaken for 21 many times.) I am in love with a 25-year-old guy, but I have to see him behind my parents' back because they hate him without even knowing him. You see, he was married to a no good tramp and had two children with her, and his divorce is not yet final, and my folks don't want me going with a guy who has that kind of background. Abby, you've got to believe me. He is really a wonderful guy. That messed-up marriage was HER fault, not his.

Please tell me how I can get my parents to just MEET him and judge him for what he is.

your "job" offers more excitement than your role as a mother.

One day you may become bored with the "business world," and decide to return home and raise your own children. And if you do, I hope it won't be too late."

"SUBSTITUTE MOTHER"

CONFIDENTIAL TO SOLVENT IN SAVANNAH: Money isn't everything. Sometimes it's not even enough.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

DEAR IN LOVE: Assuming the man is blameless, I am wondering what kind of "wonderful" 25-year-old, not yet divorced, would knowingly see a "not quite 16-year-old girl" behind her parents' back. I would have to say that he must be something less than wonderful. Listen to your parents.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I became friendly with some new neighbors about our age and we like them a lot. We have children the ages of their children.

The only problem is that they will call us and say, "Why don't you feed your kids early and we'll do the same with ours, and then come on over and have supper with us." We have four kids and they have three. They always manage to get rid of theirs, but we don't like to get rid of ours. We prefer being invited out as a family. Our children are not monsters, Abby, and we enjoy family type parties — kids and all.

Do you think it is right of this couple to want only US and not our kids? When we invite them, we always include their children, but they say "We've had enough of kids all day. Let's make this an ADULT party." What is your opinion?
LIKE KIDS

DEAR LIKES: My opinion is that you had better find friends who share your enthusiasm for "family-type parties—kids and all." Your new neighbors do not. It doesn't necessarily mean that they are "wrong." Or that you are. To each his own.

DEAR ABBY: I wish I had the courage to send the following to my "boss." Perhaps if you print it, she'll see it and "Dear Mrs. —

While you work outside your home I have been caring for your two small children. They are sweet, but rather trying at times, displaying the same jealousies and hostilities found in most siblings.

I am well paid, but this is just a job with me and I cannot give your children the same affection. I gave my own children when they were small. I am hired help — not their mother.

Your children resent the fact that you leave them all day. They seem to sense that you are gone from them because you WANT to be, not because you HAVE to be.

It is obvious that your husband has provided you with all the material things your heart desires, but you prefer to "work" because

SQUEEZE PLAY SIMPLE TO WORK

The squeeze is undoubtedly the most spectacular of all advanced plays. It is also the most common in that any time a player has a definite number of top tricks in front of him and holds potential extra now-card tricks in two or more suits a squeeze may develop.

Some players work a squeeze entirely by accident. Experts plan squeezes from the start of the play.

South's seven no-trump call is a slight overbid but, whether or not the bid is seven, South should make all the tricks.

He does so by the simply expedient of just taking them. He starts with four tricks each in spades and hearts, plus three diamonds and one club. The 13th trick is there if he can pick up the jack of diamonds or drop a singleton king of clubs. If you look at the East and West cards, you will note that East holds four diamonds to the jack-nine and the guarded king of clubs so that the 13th trick won't be produced unless a squeeze can be developed against East.

Now let's see what happens if South doesn't know anything about squeezes, but simply starts his play by cashing four spades and four hearts. He should discard two clubs from dummy to leave it with four diamonds and the singleton ace of clubs and one club from his own hand to leave him with queen-eight of clubs and three diamonds.

East will be left with five cards also. If he holds all four diamonds, he will have been squeezed out of protection for his king of clubs; if he throws a diamond, all North's diamond will be good. Either way, South takes all the tricks.

What do you do now?

A—Bid five diamonds. You want your partner to bid a slam if he can take care of the second heart.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three diamonds your partner has bid three clubs. What do you do now?

"Africanization" Policy Is Causing Woe For Britain

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI)—When diminutive Ranjan Vaid, 19, finally made it through British immigration, she had earned the unenviable nickname of "the flying shuttlecock."

For more than a week Miss Vaid, an Asian from Kenya, had shuffled back and forth by plane between Nairobi, London, Frankfurt and Johannesburg, clocking more than 17,000 miles in the air, without finding a country that would let her in.

The day after Britain reluctantly opened its gates to Miss Vaid, three young Asian men from Kenya landed at the Zurich airport from Nairobi and settled down to two weeks of waiting in transit lounges and aliens' hotels before British immigration finally relented and agreed to let them in for three months while they sorted out their situation. Most Britons assume they will not be tossed back again into a life in airport transit lounges when their three months are up.

British officials estimate there still are something like 50 homeless East African Asians staring glumly through windows of airport transit lounges or cheap hotels in various European cities—hoping Britain will relent and let them in.

Miss Vaid and the other homeless Asians have one thing in common—British passports. There are an estimated 130,000 such Asians from East and Central Africa—Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Malawi and Zambia.

When Britain granted independence to her African colonies in the 1960s, she promised British citizenship and British passports to all their residents who did not decide to take up citizenship of the new nations. It was a gesture Britain has lived to regret, for the governments of the new states have adopted "Africanization" policies designed gradually to squeeze out of business and employment any residents who did not take up their citizenship.

The problem first became critical two years ago and in March, 1968, the British Parliament, afraid this country was about to be swamped by a tidal wave of 1.5 to 2 million holders of British nationality in Africa and Asia, slammed the doors to further general immigration.

It rushed through legislation providing that only 1,500 heads of families and their dependents—probably not more than 7,000 all told—would be permitted to enter Britain each year in the future.

A recent new speedup of "Africanization," particularly in Kenya and Uganda, has made the problem of Asian holders of British passports acute again. British officials estimate that within the next six months at least 50,000 Asians from Africa will be clamoring to get into Britain.

Some Asians have talked of chartering airliners and landing in Britain in a mass "invasion." It would be impossible for this country to repel.

Although most African Asians or their parents came originally from India and Pakistan, neither of these countries wants them. It's a desperate human problem because Britain doesn't want them either, at least not en masse.

ITALY BUYS PLANES
ROME (UPI)—The Ministry of Defense announced Tuesday it will purchase 14 C130 Hercules airplanes for transport use from the U.S. Lockheed Aircraft Corp. The planes will be the largest ever used by the Italian Air Force.

Airline Captain Finds Faith To Avert Hijacking Attempt

By CAPTAIN HARRY DAVIS

We were less than an hour out of New York on a nonstop flight to Miami. Our Boeing 727 jet was cruising almost six miles up in perfect weather. I was feeling relaxed and cheerful, the way I always feel when I'm in command of an airliner. We were about 100 miles north of Wilmington, N.C., when the cockpit door opened and one of our stewardesses came in, an attractive, tall, dark-haired, gray-eyed Texan named Margaret Roe.

Right behind Margaret came one of our passengers. In one hand he was holding a knife. In the other he was clutching a metal object that looked something like an oxygen flask, the kind that contains gas under pressure.

The three of us in the cockpit—First Officer Walter Duke, Flight Engineer Harry Hendrickson and myself—stared in amazement at the intruder. He was a youngster in his late teens with long, unkempt hair and a straggly beard. I remembered seeing him come aboard at Kennedy Airport with a girl about the same age.

"I want to go to Havana!" he said. "Take me to Havana!" I was proud of my crew. No one hit the panic button. Even Margaret, with a knife at her back, looked steady and composed. I said, trying to keep my voice as calm as Margaret looked, "Come on, in, son. Tell us what's wrong."

He moved forward a step. As he did, Margaret eased past him, stepped back through the door and closed it. I felt a flash of relief that she was momentarily safe. And I felt something else too—a curious conviction that we were going to be able to handle this problem although at the moment I didn't know how.

Where did that conviction come from? Well, let me go back to August 16, 1967, and try to describe something that happened that day when I was driving to the airport at Miami just before a test flight.

I had a lot of problems weighing on my mind. Nothing too serious, just ordinary day-to-day pressures and problems. Certainly, I was not conscious of any religious thought, and cry for help on my part.

But suddenly as I drove along (the time was exactly 36 minutes past noon), the car was filled with the presence of God. I can't explain it or even describe it. He was just there, so vividly, so unmistakably, that tears came to my eyes and an unbelievable feeling of love and joy surged through my heart.

The boy told us his name— he came from a small town in New York state, that he was fed up with everything and everybody. He was a failure in school, he felt his parents didn't care about him, he hated the thought of being drafted to fight in a war he considered unjust.

For the next hour he stood with his knife, rejecting every argument we offered him. Life in the U.S.A. was just too tough, too unfair, he said. He wouldn't go on with it.

Suddenly I heard myself say to him, "What about Jesus Christ?" He had more trouble than anybody. He was hounded, persecuted, nailed to a cross. How do you think your troubles compare to His?"

For once the boy had no answer. I was praying that I would find the right key to control this troubled youngster. Finally I said, "I'm coming back there to say a prayer with you."

"No," he said. "Don't."

I said, "I give you my word that I won't try to disarm you. But I'm coming back to pray with you." I stood up, took a couple of steps toward him, reached for his hand. He snatched it away, but I persisted until I caught it. I could feel him trembling as I said a short prayer. Then he broke into tears.

"I said to the boy, 'Do you remember those bumps awhile back? To avoid turbulence we left that level and climbed up here where the air is smoother. But up here we also have strong head winds. You can insist on going to Havana if you like. But I'm going to insist on landing in Miami to refuel.'"

He nodded slowly. "All right," he said, "but I'm going to hold the passengers as hostages while we get fuel!"

"Why hold them?" I said. "You can hold the three of us here in the cockpit and let the passengers go."

Once our wheels touched the runway at Miami International Airport, the crisis was really over.

The stewardesses alerted the airport police. The passengers, who had no idea that anything was wrong, filed out of the plane, the girl among them. When he saw her leaving the boy became hysterical. But now the police were coming toward the plane.

"It's all over, son," I said to him. "You might as well hand over your weapons." And he did.

My chief feeling toward the boy was one of compassion. What he did was extremely foolish and extremely dangerous, a criminal act. But I don't think he really would have used that knife. The metal flask contained an insecticide, that was all. He was just a kid, confused and upset.

I went to the hearing when the two youngsters were arraigned on a lesser charge than piracy, interfering with a flight crew, and they pleaded guilty.

They were sentenced under the new federal youth correction program, designed to rehabilitate youngsters without leaving a blot on their records. Both received indeterminate sentences at federal correctional institutions.

I feel the boy is going to be okay, and I am going to keep in touch with him and his parents.

For me personally the experience has great significance.

A Matter Of Arithmetic Proves...

You Can Drive A
Mini-Brute
FOR ONLY...

$22.72 per month

PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING VERY CAREFULLY

- Suppose you are driving an old ordinary car and it gives you 12 miles per gallon - and you drive 2,000 miles per month. So your gasoline bill will be (2,000 miles at 12 M.P.G. = 166.6 gal. x 39.9c per gallon = $66.03) - that is your monthly gasoline bill.
- Now lets carry this arithmetic to the operation of an Opel, the Mini-Brute, (2,000 miles at 32 M.P.G. = 62.5 gal. x 35.9c per gal. = $22.44). That's your gas bill when you drive an Opel. The difference ($66.03 = $22.44) - $43.59.
- New Opel sells for $1895. + $56.85 sales tax = $1951.85, so you finance the entire cost, junk that old gas eater or we will accept it in trade. The payments on $1951.85 will be $66.31 per month for 36 months including finance charge at 11.08 annual percentage rate - $43.59. (That's your gas saving, remember? = $22.72 and that is all it costs you to own and drive a new Opel, the Mini-Brute that runs on peanuts.
- Grab your hat, your wife, car title, come on down and test drive the 1970 Mini-Brute, the car that runs on peanuts, and see how logical this lesson in simple arithmetic is.
