Shoshone Defeats: Bond Vote

SHOSHONE - Voters defeated a $580,000 revenue bond proposal here Tuesday to provide the city with a sewage system by a mere 16 votes.

Election officials said 499 votes were cast; with one illegally marked, and 316 persons voted yes, with 182 no. The percentage of turnout of registered voters was high with only 100 out of the 599 citizens registered not casting ballots at the city hall. ____ The city now loses the federal grant of $85,000, Mayor Ellwood R. Werry said, and it will be impossible to schedule another election this year as the city has lost its priority on the purchase of the bonds by the

At the final public hearing on the proposal, held Monday night, it was pointed out than an election such as this costs approximately $5,000.

LARK, Utah (UPI) - Hard rock miners at the United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Co. operations here staged a wildcat strike late Tuesday.

Local 4292 President Kimble Kane, Midvale, United Steel Workers of America, declined all comment Tuesday night.

A union member called the strike a protest over safety. conditions at the mine, prompted by the death Monday night of Carlyle Diaz, 30, Riverton,

It was one year ago this month that veteran miner Wilham Vernon (Buck) Jones was träpped for eight days in the lead and zing Lark mine.

Ron Peterson, a union stew ard, said the death of Diaz was "probably the straw that broke the carnel's back." Peterson said that the safety issue, how ever, had disturbed miners for some time

Bert Michael Olsen, American Fork, who was with Diaz when he was killed, said the wildcat strike was called because of the mine's safety conditions

Head Chief Attorney Resigns

BOISE (UPL) Chief Deputy Attorney General Mack A. Redford resigned from the Attorney General's office and the State Commission for Pardons and Parole to enter private law practice with the Boise firm of Webb and Tway

Redford, who had been with the office of the attorney general for three years, said he resigned from the commission since Webb and Tway are the Ada County public defenders and as such represent inmates against the Board of Correction and the Parole Commission.

Attorney General Robert Robson said he accepted the resignation with "a real sense of personal loss" and in his letter added. "I can only say that the law firm obtaining your services will have the services of a most able lawver to the loss of the state of Idaho

Redford also serves on the Police Officers, Standards and Training Council and is liaison officer to the National Associa ion of Attorneys General.

BOSTON (UPI)—An Eastern Airlines pilot, shot through both arms and his copilot dead beside him, safely landed a jetliner with 73 persons aboard at Logan International Airport Tuesday night.

The pilot, Capt. Robert Wilbur Jr., was injured and his copilot, James E. Hartley, slain when they scuffled in the cockpit with a pistol-wielding passenger who said he didn't have enough money to pay his $15.75 ticket on the Newark to Boston shuttle flight.

The passenger, identified as Joh Divivo, West New York, N.J., also was shot during the flight. Police said Divivo, in his 20's, lived with his mother, a teen-age sister and two brothers and worked at Palisades Amusement Park Bleeding profusely from wounds in both arms, Wilbur, 35, of Fair Lawn, N.J., brought the DC9 in safely 'at a high rate of speed." As he taxied towards the terminal he radioed the terse message: "My copilot is shot, where the hell do you want me to put this Airline officials said there was no indication Divivo was trying to hijack the plane.

According to police, Divivo shot Hartley, 31, of Fort Lee, N.J., to death and fired two shots at Wilbur, hitting him in the arms. Wilbur then struggled with Divivo and during the fight Divivo was shot in the chest.

Maddox Is Saddened By Son

ATLANTA (UPI) - Tears streamed down the cheeks of Gov. Lester G. Maddox as he told reporters his eldest son, Lester Jr., had been arrested for stealing tires from a service station.

"I have done everything for him I know," the governor said. 'I just don't know what else to

The governor's son was arrested Tuesday on his 26th birthday. The younger Maddox was still on probation from a previous burglary conviction.

Atlanta police records indicated the younger Maddox was charged with the burglary of a service station only a block from the one at which he was employed.

Lester. Jr. was arrested along with Garry Allen Dean, 23, of Tucker, on warrants issued by the Fulton Superior Court. He was held temporarily in the Eulton County Jail and then released under $1,000 bond.

The younger Maddox has been living with his parents in the governor's mansion, and he and his wife had planned to adopt a baby next week.

Asian Erosion

While President Nixon's explanation of the Laotian situation, insofar as United States troops are concerned, contained little which was not already general knowledge, that fact in itself is reassuring. It means there have been no covert attempts to increase U.S. participation in the defense of Laos, as had been broadly hinted by some of the administration's severest critics.

Compare the 1.040 U.S. personnel military and civilian, now in Laos with the 67,000 North Vietnamese ground troops in that country. It should be obvious to anyone who the intruders are.

The problem is that the Laotian government is powerless to enforce the 1962 Geneva accords which guaranteed the neutrality of Laos, and the 14 signatories to the accords are responding slowly to appeals from Premier Souvanna Phouma for international talks to solve the military crisis.

The Soviet Union, which along with Britain served as a co-chairman of the Geneva Conference, obviously is going to do nothing which would hamper the expansionist aims of its North Vietnamese allies. An apathetic world, the desire of Americans to withdraw fram Southeast Asias and withdraw from Southeast Asia and military boundaries which give the advantage to the invaders, are working against Laos and her neighbors which could be the next

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH Is Douglas At It Again?

WASHINGTON - Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas is again under sharply critical congressional scrutiny, regarding his extra - judicial activities.

Long under fire on this score, the new inquiry involves the ultra-liberal "peacenik" jurist's relations with the Center for the Study of Democratic, Institutions. Located in Santa Barbara, Calif.; the organization is headed by Dr. Robert Hutchins, one-time president of Chicago

University. Recently, the Center announced that as part of an extensive reorganization Douglas had been named chairman of its executive committee. This was done, it was stated, to enable him to take a more active role in the policies and work of the Center, For some years, he had been listed as a director. Now, significant first development in this secret plan took place in Chicago last weekend at the Malcolm X University. It was a so-called 'national emergency conference to defend the rights of the Panthers."

While there was a lot of talk about those "rights" and schemes and measures to safeguard them, that was largely camouflage and window dressing. Real purpose of the unpublicized meeting was to open the way for the communists to set up fronts to enable them to gain control of the Panthers and other black extremists.

Revealingly indicative of what transpired is that the Chicago gathering was dominated by leading communist functionaries, and they smoothly and adroitly put over their front stratagems.

The Nuclear Nonproliferation treaty, first signed by Britain, Russia and the United States, July 1, 1968, was ratified March 5, 1970, with 47 signatory nations.

On both occasions, there were hopeful statements. President Johnson hailed the signing of the treaty as "the most important international agreement since the

So, in the 1968 campaign, Chotiner was back as one of Mitchell's regional, campaign own office at the Republican National Committee during the transition and was clearly destined for a major political role in the Administration. But as it had before, Chotiner's mouth got him in trouble. Chotiner bragged publicly how he would be running the committee and, as the new chairman, Morton refused to have

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: of five of us who took the tuberculosis skin test in a mobile unit, four turned out positive and were told to take chest X rays. My X ray was negative.

The clinic gave me a card which reads, "Tuberculosis prevention appointment card," which states that I am more likely to develop tuberculosis than other people. They gave me pills which I am supposed to take three times a day which they say will greatly reduce my chance of developing TB.

Is it necessary for me to take the pills? I am stumped and puzzled. If the X rays show I don't have TB, why take the pills?-Mrs. H. A.

Why take the pills? to avoid developing TB. Whether it is 'necessary" to take them isn't always easy to decide.

The TB skin test, you see, is a "screening test." Once you are exposed to TB germs, your blood develops antibodies to combat those particular germs

The skin test shows whether you have those antibodies-and consequently shows whether you have come in contact with the germ. Your positive reaction shows that you have come in contact. It does not, however, show whether you madaged to subdue the germ or whether you didn't subdue it and developed active TB. That's why, after the positive test, you were told to have X rays. To find out whether you had developed the disease

The skin test is of greatest use in children and young adults-in the latter category, especially nurses or others dealing with TB patients. As long as their skin tests remain negative, they are safe. If or when a test comes up positive, that indicates tha they have picked up some TB germs, and they should be given medication (isoniazid) to make certain that the exposure will not result in active tuberculosis

In older folks who have not had prior skin tests, a positive test indicates contact with the germ - but it does not indicate whether it happened recently or many years before. That's why I can't say how

"necessary" it is for you to take the medication. Most health departments decide to play safe, and give the medication whenever a positive skin test shows. It is always possible in older persons, that the defense against tuberculosis may weaken and an active case develop. Taking the medication affords protection against this.

If you have, by now, taken the pills, you can feel pretty safe. If you have not, then have a chest X ray every year.

These chest X rays are a good thing They not only discose TB, but give warning of lung cancer, advanced emphysema, or change in size of the heart or certain large arteries.

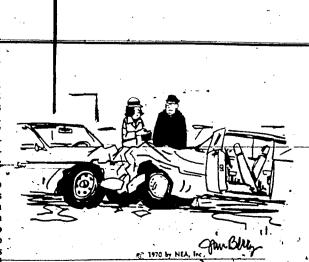

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Mý mother has a low blood count and is ready to give up and says there is nothing that can be done, for it. Is this true" Mrs. D.M.

No, it's not true. It's another way of saying that she is anemic Sometimes diet corrects it, sometimes medication is required; sometimes some subtle blood loss is the reason. Usually something can be done to raise a low blood count.

Note to Mrs. S. G.: Anemia doesn't "turn into leukernfa," but that's no reason for not treating anemia. Anemia may accompany leukenna leukemia.

Much heart trouble is by preventable Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing handling.

Ketchum To Appeal Tax Plan

KETCHUM - The city of Ketchum plans to appeal to the State Tax Commission at the earliest possible date for approval of the 1970 budget which is some $48,000 more than last ear's figure.

Councilmen have adopted a tentative budget of $170,091, compared to $121,247:65 last year. The budget includes one item of $25,000 which will be repaid with revenue from the sewer project, councilmen noted, obtained from monthly fees to customers.

Officials noted a $10,000 item in the budget will be earmarked for capital improvement and eventually used to replace the Warm Springs Bridge. Other items include $16,000 for administration, compared to $16,269.55 last year; $24,800 for the police department, compared to $16,834 last year: $6,556, fire department, compared to $9,116; $47,250, streets: compared to $44,796.31; $800, sanitation, compared to $793.43, and $5,000 for recreation. compared to $40.96.

Officials noted the recreation item will finance development of a new park near the Ketchum grade school

Wall Street Chatter .

NEW YORK (UPI) - Restraint in new buying in the market is advocated by Standard & Poor's. The firm believes the market's January-February base has not yet been not yet ready to adopt a less cautious investment approach, it adds.

Historically speaking, growth stocks have been selling too high in relation to current earnings, Reynolds & Co. says. Now the spread between cyclical stocks, whose earnings fluctuate with the general economy, and growth stocks, whose profits are supposed to increase in any business weather, is narrowing, and investors are becoming convinced current earnings now are worth more in relation to the promise of future earnings than they were six months ago the firm says.

This 'normal speculative adjustment" suggests that 1970 capital gains will be found in stocks selling at low priceearnings multiples, reasonably valued and paying worthwhile dividends.

The high-multiple glamor stocks have recently seen 'more yo-yo action' than usual, Alexander Hamilton Institute observes. The group is likely to come under considerable selling pressure in the weeks ahead, which will be a good thing for the market as a whole. the firms says. "Traditionalists hold the view that a bear market's demise is signaled by strong selling of the high flying issues," it adds.

The next few weeks will be exceedingly important because of the upcoming test of the 1966 market low, according to the Dines Letter. Investors should examine every stock they hold and decide whether to continue to hold it, or whether to protect themselves with stoploss orders, it suggests.

Scouting Chief To Be Speaker Here

Alden G. Barber, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, will address the 45th annual banquet of the Shake River Area Scout Council Friday at the Elks Club. The banquet will start at 7 p.m.

Also scheduled for the banquet are ceremonies honoring Scout leaders of the council for service to youth. Bob Day is chairman of the banquet.

Mr. Barber, a native of Chico, Calif., became the chief Scout executive on Oct. 1, 1967, succeeding Joseph A. Brunton. As chief executive, he is the top professional scouter, directing more than 4,500 other professionals from the national headquarters at New Brun-swick, N.J.

The Boy Scouts of America is the nation's largest youth organization, with more than 4.5 million youth and 1.5 million adult leaders enrolled

Mr. Barber is the principal architect of a new long-range Scouting plan known as "Boypower '76," adopted Jan. 1, 1969, which seeks to make Scouting more relevant to recently asked me if it was true that Indians never lost their hair. Since I do not recall ever having seen a bald-headed Indian I appealed to my readers, and asked them to please send me a picture of a bald-headed Indian - if indeed one existed. Needless to say, I received pictures of enough bald and balding Indians to fill a reservation. However, many readers still have vations" about that.

DEAR ABBY: Well, you can stop your search for bald Indians. There aren't any. Where I was raised there were more Indians than whites, and I can't recall ever seeing a bald Indian. It's just characteristic of their race. Nobody ever saw an Indian with hair on his chest, either.

A WHITE FROM WATERLOO, IA.

DEAR ABBY: I have no picture to send you, but I give you my word that I have seen a bald-headed Indian. He was a full-blooded Choctaw from Oklahoma. We met at Alcatraz many years ago when he was doing life plus 99 years. At that time he was only 27 years old, and he was bald!

CHARLIE IN JACKSONVILLE

DEAR ABBY: I am a Cherokee, and as you can see from my picture, I am completely bald.

I have met many Indians from various tribes and have seen a few bald-headed Indians, but they are rare.

WASHINGTON (UPI) -Nix-, on administration economic strategists are cheered by government reports industrial production delined for the seventh comfecutive month in February but home building rallied after a year-long slump. But House Democratic Leader Carl Albert said the industrial production report "is further stark evidence of a rapidly deteriorating economy. ' The reports, issued Monday, indicated the administration's "game plan" for controlling inflation is on schedule" with a general slowing of the economy but without placing more of the burden on the already strained housing industry."

Maurice Mann, assistant director of the budger, said today. It would seem that we can make significant progress on the price front in the months ahead.

In a speech prepared for the American Paper Institute, Mann said the slump in industrial production and some other economic indicators "should not be cause for dispair or overreaction.

There is considerable underlying strength in the economy, which is both ready and willing to be unleashed," Mann said. "It would seem premature, however, to encourage or permit an unleashing of economic forces until such time as we see more evidence that inflation is truly under control."

The Federal Reserve Board said industrial production dropped 0.5 per cent last month to 169.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average, the lowest point in months and 3 per cent below the record 174.6 per cent established in July

The Commerce Department said housing starts last month were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,321,000 units, up about 10 per cent from January but still only half the pace needed to meet the decade's goal set by Congress.

U.S. Asks For Ban Of Weapons

GENEVA (UPI) - The United States appealed to the Soviet Union and other countries today to erase the threat of global epidemics by banning the development or acquisition of biological weapons

"Let us seize the opportunity we have at this time by once and for all ending the specter of Dillogical warfare," the American delegate, James F. Leonard, told the Geneva disarmament conference

Leonard said it is not feasible now to ban both biological and chemical weapons together as demanded by the Soviet Union and other Communist nations at the conference 4 c

He said many countries including the United States already possess chemical weapons and would be unwilling to give them up unless there were verification procedures to ensure others did the same

"We feel that to insist on a single agreement covering both chemical and biological weapons is, in effect, to resign ourselves to no concrete advance for a considerable period of time. Leonard said Infectious microbes can be one million times more destructive than modern nerve gases he said, and their use could produce global epidemics and impair the health of future generations Biological weapons also are of little use in retaliation

A CABLE FROM A TOW TRUCK provides a unique helper for a crew of the Northwest Crane Rigging and Transport, in demolishing a building on Second Avenue West, as part of the urban renewal program. Bill Sligar lifts a large plank from the flooring of the building with the help of the cable, which is an chored to the rear of the structure. With the cable anchored between the truck, parked in the street, and the building, a hook lifts the large boards as the cable is tightened.

Kellwood Industry Hikes Job Queries

The recent construction of the Kellwood hosiery plant at Twin Falls has apparently stirred rumors of an industrial "boom" in Southern Idaho, according to Department of Employment.

The volume of out-of-state mail inquiring about employment opprotunities in Twin Falls is running at the highest rate in recent memory, Mr. Leinen said.

Many writers apparently believe that there is considerable industry in the Twin Falls area, and inquire about wage levels and living con- On Birth adjoining the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds on the south, for expansion and relocation of the grandstands and for additional parking, was announced Wednesday by Tom Shouse,

Fair Board Acquires Space For Race Track

The land was purchased from -Mrs. Zaña Penny and Mrs. Violet Hannebaum and includes the area from the fairgrounds south to Highway 30, with the exception of five acres which now accommodates several small businesses adjacent to the

With the additional land, which the fairboard has been wanting to acquire for the past 18 years, the new grandstands will be shifted slightly to the south to make room for additional horse and cattle barns on the north. The additional area will also allow for improvement of the track and Mr. Shouse said it is hoped within the next year or two the county will have an approved horse racing track.

It will provide room for the quarter-mile straightaway required for Quarter Horse racing. For a number of years the property has been leased for parking at fair time:

Cost of the land was comparable with other good quality farm land in the Filer area at $2,000 per acre, bringing the total expenditure to $70,000 Mr. Shouse said.

The manager also reported architect plans for the granstands, to replace the structure burned last November, are now nearing completion.

A call for bids for the buildings will be issued March 25 and bids will be opened after the required three weeks of advertising. Mr. Shouse said there has still been no satisfactory settlement on the old stands with insurance agents but negotiations are still

African Athlete Runs With Joy And Faith

By LEONARD E. LeSOURD The whisper of a god in a boy's life can stir him on to greatness. Take Kip Keino, the runner from Kenya whose per-formance in the last Olympic Games thrilled a world-wide TV audience.

Who is Kip Keino? He was born nearly 30 years ago in the primitive farm village of Kapchemoiywo, 240 t that is set before us. miles northwest of Nairobi in Kenya East Africa. He was taught English in a Protestant missionary school. A thin boy with attentive eyes, he would sit with chin cupped in his hands while stories of God's power at work inside His children were read to him

'Can an African boy become a great athlete like Samson or David?" Kip asked.

Perhaps, he was told, "if you develop your body and learn to love God. And If you become His joyful disciple.

Kip developed strong agile legs as a herd boy joyously chasing cattle in the fields outside of his village -At 18 he entered police school at Kiganio on the slopes of Mount Kenya after graduation he became recreation instructor

While coaching others in volleyball, basketball soecer, and cross-country he trained himself to do some competitive running in long-distance races

In 1964 Kip Keina was invited. to participate in European track meets. Dressed in white shorts, green jersey and a longbilled cap of brilliant orange he appeared for his first race- the 000-meter run-with the cheerful effervescence of a man out to-have a good time.

Keino started fast, his long legs striding rhythmically, his white teeth flashing. Then, 300 yards from the finish, he reached up and flung off his orange cap in an irrepressible gesture that seemed to say that the real fun was about to begin

With a final burst of speed Kip won by 30 yards. That summer Keino established himself as one of the world's most exciting and promising runners

Kip meanwhile set himself a goal. He wanted to represent Kenya in the 1968 Olympics and bring home a gold medal to his country. It was not impossible he had been told. The promise was it his Bible. "I can do all things through Christ Who stengtheneth me-

In 1967 he came to too Angeles to run his first more race on an indoor track - You II find running on boards much harder on your legs, he was Keino gave his flashing smile "I would like to run both the mile and two-mile races?

"It's crazy," was the com-ment of track officials, and their judgment seemed to be born out when Keino started too fast in the mile run. The boards of the indoor track put more stress on his leas than he had figured. Keino finished second to miler Jun Grelle Everyone assumed be would withdraw from the two-mile run

Not so Keino found his refreshment in meditation and prayer. An hour and a half later he settled into a raceful and supple stride to win the two mile race hændriv toward the Olympic Games is be held in Mexico City it Oc tober, 1968. He had trained hard, decided to enter three events the 10,000-meter cur nearly seven mules, the book meter race, and the 1500-meter event, or metric mile, which some consider the most per Kemo was stronger when he ran the Olympic 5000-ineter race a week later and finished second. Then came the big event the 1500-meter race. leaturing famous runners from all over the world Jim Ryon from Kansas was the favorite, since he held the world record in the event. Ryun had beaten Remo every time he had run against him in the mile

At the starter's gun everyone expected Keino to break forth with his usual fast pace. But it was his Kenyan teammate, Ben Jipcho, who lead ahead

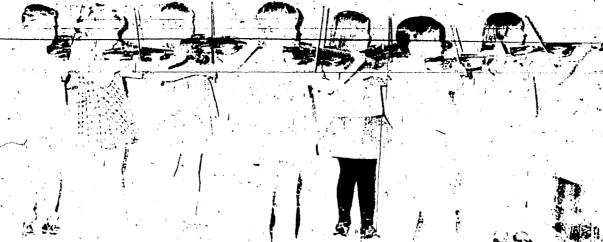

At the end of the second lap Kip Keino opened up with his seven-foot stride, a blur of red shirt and white teeth gleaming. One by one he passed the 10 runners, including teammate Jipcho, who because of his sacrificial role- was to finish next to last. The famed Jim Ryun never could catch Keine, who streaked across the finish line 15 yards ahead in the record Olympic time of 3/34.9

THESE YOUNG MUSICIANS, all students of Mrs. Del-Slaughter of Twin Falls, will demonstrate the unique "Suzuki" method of teaching the art of playing the violin for the Idaho Music Educators Association conference in Boise Thursday through Saturday. They will serve as a demonstration group for a clime session to be conducted by Professor Harold Mealy of Idaho State University on the Japanese Suzuki method which is designed to teach music to very young students. Professor

"Unconstructed" Is Word For 1970 Spring Fashions

YORK Unconstructed is the word for fashion in Spring '70. There's not a harsh texture, welt or seam in sight in the New York fashion showings.

The shape is the body, with new emphasis on the natural bosom. The construction is in the fabric.

There's more choice than in past seasons. The real suit is back. But the costume stays with us, too. And there's a look for every mood-garden party crepes, classic T-shirt dresses midi-coats with pants, the trend. Styles range from the romantic parasol and art deco designed to the space-age, seethrough styles patterned with iridescent air-borne stripes.

After all it's not so much what you wear today as how you wear it, what you wear it with. Accessories are no longer the extras but the fashion essentials that can make or break a costume—that dress it up or dress it down.

Change Your Personality

If you browse around the justout collections by Bobbie Brooks, you can slip yourself in and out of two completely different personalities. "Gypsy Romance" is a tribe—of separates costumed up with beautiful details—crewel embroidery, tatted lace-work edging, lines of chalk-red looped buttons. The skirts are printed in black with flowers colored wild and running free. flounced maxi and shorty dirndl are tied with deep-fringed scarlet sashes. A shamelessly flirty pants-skirt has attached bloomers with peek-and-see tatting. They dance with sheer blouses of whisper voile-pretty things that have peasant necklines and shirred sleeves. A for-real gypsy shawl and cunning bolero turn them on.

There are lots of days left over to be a '30's darling. 'a second important grouping from Bobbie Brooks dresses you up and sends you out in crashyprint cotton knits to hobnob with friends about Garbo and Gable. The prints are jazz-patterned Jacquards, up-and-down zigzag's, all-over flowers and busy birds-strictly thirties thinking. Two-piece styles have gone-long tops that pull over flippy skirts. Single things are shifty skims. All are pinch-penny priced, so you can treat yourself extra nice with more than one.

Multi-Faceted Fashion-Scene Set For 1970

A great deal of confusion has een caused by reportage on the European openings reportage that dealt in words strung together to sell newspapers. The confusion rests, however, among the buyers and retailers . . . not the American woman.

The American woman is too individualistic to give up her diversified wardrobe. The 1970's ushers in a multi-faceted fashion picture . . . not one look that becomes a uniform. The midi (mid-calf) will be seen on Main Street, USA, but, make no mistake, the above-the-knee look is not out!

There was a time when the American woman conformed right down the line. She hid behind a door to puff on a cigarette . . . patted her face with flour to remove a shiny look . . . didn't yote . . . didn't drink . . . didn't work. Ever since Irene Castle cut her hair, the emancipation began. The American woman has set a standard for women around the world as a free thinking soul.

Today, in 1970, she is the most emulated, envied woman in the world. She has achieved this by having a mind of her own. She's . . a doer, becoming involved in our complex, mobile society. The time has long since passed when she will blindly follow the dictates of her European counterpart. She has no intention of covering her legs considered to be the longest and loveliest — by forsaking the more youthful looking short

Rings Make 1970 Scene

In Big Way

PARIS (UPI) - Back in the days when diamonds were still a girl's best friend, a jewelry showing was described in terms of millions of dollars worth of sparkling diamonds, rubies and sapphires.

The showing of jewelry the other day by Finnish designer Bjorn Weckstrom would have to eviewed in terms more suitable. Weekstrom, 34, works for Lapponia Ltd. of Finland. He makes unpolished silver brooches, bracelets and rings that undulate into soft folds where tiny human figures The most striking examples of the designer's work were two massive hand rings. They fasten around one finger like a normal ring. But the setting covers anywhere from half-to-three-quarters of the hand. The surface of one of the rings appears to have a main fold across the center and another, smaller fold dividing the lower half. Out of the top half protrudes a tiny figure, arms outstretched, as if trying to escape from his environment. They are the kind of jewels to accessorize with the most strikingly simple ensemble possible - a long, stark jersey evening gown or trouser suit.

Instead of buying a dress and then looking for jewelry to adorn it, these rings come first and foremost always.

Weckstrom, who with his dark hair and goatee looks more Latin than Finnish, could not be present for the showing held here under the patronage of Mrs. Richard Seppala, wife of Finland's Ambassador to Paris.

But his ideas about jewelry came across clearly even without him there to describe them. The lack of diamonds and the presence of less glamorous stones such as tourmalines was striking. Pearls are another Weckstrom favorite, nestled among ultra-modern rings that look like molten gold caught in mid-flow or dangled from an abstract gold pendant. Although Weckstrom makes almost all the standard types of jewelry from men's tie clasps to neat little molten-looking gold necklaces that easily replace traditional pearl strands, he

Some Fabrics Need Special Care In Sewing

GLENNS FERRY-Certain fabrics need special care in sewing, reports Mary Lee Wood, clothing specialist of the University of Idaho Extension service. "You may be skillful at matching plaids, checks and stripes, but do you know how to choose the right pattern for a fabric with prominent twill weave?" she asks.

Seams cut on a bias in twill are to be avoided, she cautions. Otherwise, the finished join will look strange. The line will cut across the diagonal lines, and this will result no matter how you place the pattern pieces on fabric that has a right and a wrong side.

Curved-roll collars don't go well with twill weaves. The front edges will not match because the diagonal lines run across the collar on one side and along the length of it on the other. You can approach a balance if the fabric has not noticeable right and wrong sides. Cut half the collar rightside out and half wrong-side out. Join the pieces with a seam at center back.

Touch Of East Adds Glamour To West Trend

NEW YORK - (NEA) East meets West at Design-Thai. From Bangkok, Thailand, comes a fresh approach to the contemporary fashions of America.

Fabrics with a definite Eastern touch are used in designs styled for the Western way of life. And this combination results in a delightful marriage of fashion and fabric.

The collection includes a group of daytime dresses with a dramatic range of stylingshort jumpsuits, shirt dresses, styled shifts, dresses that can convert from board meetings to island hoppings, from matinee lunches to daily sight-seeing. This entire line of dramatic prints has a one-of-a-kind look, sleeves long or short, collars that convert, belts that wander and matching accessories. For the more mature woman the collection includes the coveredup look with an easy subtle silhouette. These are all done in cotton or silk, screen prints.

For the jet-propelled set there is a "week-ender" group all done in one print. Pristinetailored shifts, pants for night and day, ponchos to be worn over long skirts or a two-piece sunsuit. For twilight hours there are long skirts, bare midriffs and harem pant jumpsuits. For late day relaxing, entertaining or bridge at the country club an evening wardrobe includes daring maxi shirts (to be worn with and without pants), marvelous karate tops with matching pants and bare middle scoop neck cholis that dance with pants that move like skirts. There are tunic ensembles and "houseboy" pant suits for cocktail hour and dining out.

Prints taken from Thai ceramics, woodcarvings, temple wall tapestries and china give the freshest, most original look to ever cross the Pacific—all hand-screened on poplin and silk.

Cleopatra and the ladies of her time were undoubtedly extravagant. They used a very precious ointment called spikenard for smoothing their faces and bodies; kohl for enhancing their eyes and henna to dye their fingernails.

How very different is today's beauty scene, how very limited their beauty aids compared to the vast selection of lotions, preparations now on the market.

Regardless of cost, American women no longer consider cosmetics "luxuries". They are 'essentials' than go without their make-up. But good news! Maintaining a fine and flawless complexion no longer requires a myriad of creams and expensive preparations. Scientific research has produced a remarkable tropical moist oil that is not only within the reach (budget-wise) of every woman but which also provides all the vital elements the complexion needs to blossom into loveliness. Smoothed carefully over the face and neck (in the morning as a make-up base) and again at bedtime, Oil of Olay nourishes tissues, prevents wrinkle-dryness, tops up moisture reserves and
