Strikes Add To Turmoil In U.S.

Postal Workers Eye New Walkout

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postal union negotiators, faced with a new strike threat by New York letter carriers, today discuss details of the government's double-barreled wage increase offer with AFL-CIO President George Meany before deciding whether to accept it. The morning meeting with Meany was scheduled Wednesday after the government offered another counterproposal that would give all federal workers a 3 1/2 per cent raise retroactive to Jan. 1 and postal workers another 6 per cent tied to some postal reforms.

An across-the-board 6 per cent increase for all government workers would cost an estimated $2.55 billion per year and 6 per cent more for postal workers would cost another $300 million per year. The government was considering a postal rate increase to offset the cost, informed sources said.

Government and union negotiators were to resume talks at 2:30 p.m. EST after meeting Wednesday for more than three hours.

Although the government has reportedly dropped its requirement a postal pay increase be tied to congressional approval of the Nixon administration's

Air Traffic Case Moves Into Court

By United Press International
The air traffic controllers' walkout moved into the courtroom today and the nation's airlines made plans to cope with the continuing "sick-out" by cutting still more scheduled flights.

Attorney F. Lee Bailey and two other top officials of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO) must show cause today why they are not in contempt of a court order barring the slowdown.

At the nation's airports, things were largely unchanged—departure delays of up to three hours or more, many canceled flights and a general pace about half that of normal in some areas. A near blizzard added to travelers' woes in Chicago.

There was some improvement at San Francisco where air controllers called in sick Wednesday night. Arrivals at San Francisco International Airport rose to between 20 and 25 an hour Wednesday compared with 12 per hour the day before. Delays on flights to New York, however, ranged up to three hours.

Bailey, who won his reputation as a trial lawyer, subpoenaed Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, Federal Aviation Administrator John H. Shaffer and more than 100 air traffic controllers to appear at

UP Would End Train Services

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Union Pacific Railroad announced today it would renew efforts to discontinue trains 35 and 36 operating between Salt Lake City, Utah and Butte, Mont.

The railroad said it would post public notices today and will file an application with the Interstate Commerce Commission about April 10 for discontinuance.

A previous effort was made by UP to discontinue the two trains in 1968. At that time, the ICC permitted the road to reduce operations to three round trips weekly and ordered UP to continue running the trains on a trial basis.

Teamsters In Utah Quit Jobs

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Nearly 1,000 Teamsters were off the job today at three trucking firms in the Salt Lake area and the work stoppage threatened to widen.

An estimated 250 truckers at Pacific-International-Express and an additional 50 at Ringby Rocket Services joined the strike Wednesday night.

The bulk of the strikers, numbering 650, walked off their jobs at midnight Tuesday at the national headquarters here of IML Freight, Inc.

Fred W. Hemilton, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 222, said nearly 200 members of Lodge 1020, International Association of Machinists, were honoring picket lines. He said other companies might be affected very soon.

Vern Cameron, president of the local, emphasized that the strike was not authorized by the union.

Farmers Offer $250 Reward

IDAHO FALLS (UPI)—The National Farmers Organization in eastern Idaho is offering a $250 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of those responsible for potato destruction on the Anton-Beink farm.

Vandals dumped diesel fuel down ventilation shafts of a potato cellar on the Brinkman farm west of Roberts earlier this week, destroying an estimated $1,000 worth of potatoes. In offering the reward, the NFO indicated the vandalism was "another move to discredit the NFO and seriously interfere with the bargaining procedures under way."

Idahoans Receive Pay Raise

BOISE (UPI)—Director Edward Sawyer of administrative services is expected to approve a plan today to implement 1970 legislative action to raise the salaries of 3,000 rank and file state employees.

State personnel director George Murphy said a total of 339 classifications are involved in the plan to give a five per cent pay raise July 1 to state employees who have not had an increase for the past two years. To fund the increases, the legislature appropriated $102,000 from the general fund.

ONE OF THE SIX JUVENILE defendants in the drug case in Rousey Wednesday is Roman Garcia, 17, seen here with a girl friend in his leave court in the Blaine County Courthouse. Garcia was sentenced to four years in prison and the five others got similar prison terms. The paper terms were dropped by Miss Judge Robert Thomas. (Garcia was a great help to the defense.) (Garcia was a defendant in the case.) (See page 11) (Garcia and cocaine.) (See page 11)

STRIKING TEAMSTERS picket the truck yard at the IML Freight Lines at Denver. There are some 450,000 truck drivers covered by a contract which expired at midnight March 31. Some drivers in other sections of the nation were going back to work but there was no progress in wage negotiations. (UPI) (telephoto)

Drivers Trying For Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters began returning to work in some sections of the country today, but scores of scattered local strikes continued as bargainers tried to reach a national contract settlement.

Drivers were back in two major areas—Minneapolis-St. Paul and Kansas City—where surprise strikes Wednesday halted most truck traffic. A Teamsters spokesman in Kansas City said the men agreed to return after they were assured by union leaders any contract settlement would be retroactive to April 1, the date the contract expired.

All trucking operations were shut down in St. Louis and 12 companies were closed in Cincinnati. More than half of the members of a 12,000-man Indiana local were out, about 5,000 drivers were idle in San Francisco, and Milwaukee was hit with what the Teamsters local termed an "unauthorized" walkout against seven trucking companies.

Negotiators representing 425,000 drivers and 12,000 trucking firms continued their efforts, in the presence of federal mediators, to draw up a new contract. Bargainers met through Wednesday in a session that lasted until 7:45 a.m. EST today.

Signed Japanese Hijackers Give In, Release Passengers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With neither fanfare nor comment, President Nixon has signed a measure ending all radio- and television cigarette commercials as of Jan. 2. It opened the way for the government to require health warnings on all remaining forms of cigarette advertising.

Southern Senators Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Over Southern protests, the Senate has joined President Nixon in drawing a line between discriminatory school segregation and that resulting from separate white and black neighborhoods.

The House is expected to follow suit when it considers the three-year, $24.6 billion school aid authorization bill the Senate passed 74 to 4 Wednesday. A House vote is tentatively scheduled Tuesday.

Before the final vote the Senate rejected 43 to 2 a motion to return the bill to a House-Senate conference committee for another rewrite of the school desegregation amendment.

The vote locked in the conference committee's version, which largely reversed the original Senate amendment adopted with much fanfare Feb. 10 under sponsorship of Sens. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Stennis' original amendment ordered the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) to enforce school desegregation guidelines equally North and South, disregarding whether a school was segregated by official action (de jure) or as a result of residential patterns (de facto). Since its adoption, however, Nixon released his school policy statement which called for continued federal action against de jure segregation but no backdown on de facto segregation.

The conference committee rewrote the Stennis amendment to conform with Nixon's statement, although Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the resemblance was accidental.

Snows Tie Up Midwest Again

By United Press International
Seemingly never ending snow tied up much of the upper Midwest again today, snarling traffic, closing schools and setting an all-time snowfall record in Chicago.

The Nixon administration so far has been anxious to avoid subscribing to the idea of pressuring the French into a new development in Cambodia. The French are leading to a general Southeast Asian conflict.

300 College Students Are At S.V.

SUN VALLEY—Some 300 members of the Rocky Mountain Collegiate Press Association are expected to converge on Sun Valley today and tomorrow for the annual associational convention which officially gets under way Friday morning and concludes Saturday evening.

In addition to hearing noted journalists speak, delegates will participate in a variety of panel discussions dealing with all aspects of journalism as well as compete in the annual writing contest for which awards will be presented.

Today's agenda includes registration until 8 p.m., with a 7 p.m. Friendship banquet scheduled at the Lodge, Clayton Kirkpatrick, editor of the Chicago Tribune, will be the keynote speaker during the event. Registration will continue until 9 a.m. Friday, with a plenary session starting at 8:30 until 9 a.m. at the Opera House. Delegates will be welcomed by the state chairman and RMCPA president.

For those interested in aspects of yearbook composition, a series of discussions is scheduled from 9 a.m. until noon both days of the convention. Friday's discussions will include "Creating the Graphic Image" with Jerry Van Amerongen, American Yearbook Co., leading the discussion.

Saturday officers will be elected with an awards banquet slated at the lodge at 11:30 p.m. The banquet will be conducted at the final banquet at 8:30 p.m. with Roy Craig, Stevensport, Wash., editor-in-chief, keynote speaker.

Israel Launches Major Attacks Against Syria

By United Press International
Israel launched a major air and land, retaliatory attack against Syria today along the entire length of the 50-mile cease-fire line in the Golan Heights and tank battles and aerial dogfights raged for hours.

Israel said its warplanes shot down three Syrian MIG21s in the heaviest fighting in that area since the 1967 war. A Damascus military spokesman said two Israeli fighters, an F4 Phantom and a Mirage, were shot down. He said Syria lost two planes.

Six hours after the battle started the Damascus spokesman said, "our anti-aircraft batteries are still heroically engaging enemy planes which are attempting to attack our ground forces. The fighting is still going on." Damascus airport was closed.

Dick Smith To Run For Governor

Former State Senator Dick Smith of Rexburg told the Times-News today he will be a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket in the election this fall.

He is the first Republican to formally announce candidacy, although Gov. Don Samuelson has indicated on several occasions he will run for reelection.

In announcing Mr. Smith said Gov. Samuelson has failed to develop "an atmosphere of effective leadership in state government, resulting in wasted time, effort and money."

He said his remarks have also been sent to the governor in the form of a letter.

Mr. Smith said Republicans are entitled to be able to make choice in 1970 "and the party will benefit from a changing, free and open discussion of all the issues."

He pointed out opposition primary elections are rather than the election in Idaho and it was in an election that Gov. Samuelson defeated former Gov. Smiley.

Mr. Smith said he would be better economically than the Democrats. He would like to assure the people of the state that the Republican Party is the only party that can give the people a better government.

Keys To Election In Idaho Outlined

Inflation, law and order, environment and the Vietnam War were listed as the major items that will affect Idaho elections this year by Sam Day, Boise, editor of the International Observer, Idaho political periodical.

Mr. Day, speaking Thursday to the Twin Falls Rotary Club, said he expects inflation to reach its peak in Idaho just before the election this fall, and that it could result in a protest vote against incumbents.

Law and order is a vital issue throughout the nation, he said, and although Idaho has not been committed to the extent that other states have experienced, there are strong feelings in this state in support of law and order and they may make themselves felt at the polling places.

Environment and the fight against pollution also are prime Idaho issues, and Mr. Day said candidates this year will be judged according to their stands and their actions on these issues.

The war in Vietnam still is of major concern to voters of this nation, he said, and frustration over inability to resolve the conflict may result in some backlash vote against incumbents.

In comments on specific politicians, Mr. Day said:

Rep. James McClure, Idaho first district congressman, should win re-election, and if he does, will become the men apparent to Sen. Len B. Jordan.

Rep. Orval Hansen is going to be tough to beat in his bid for a second term as congressman from Idaho's second district.

Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls attorney who has announced his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, has a "new look" and has gained support within the party. Mr. Day cautiously predicted that if Mr. Walker gets the nomination, he will defeat Gov. Samuelson in the general election.

Speech Winner Is Reported

Sharon Walker was winner of the recent Magic Toastmistress Club speech contest. Her subject was "Mother Knows Everything."

"One Step to Bankruptcy" given by Karen Christopherson won second place.

Others participating were Alice Jean Davis and Vera Young.

Judges were Elsa Vaughn, formerly International Toastmistress speech contest winner; Hazel Woodland Burley, council president; Arlene Putter, council vice president; and Charlene Vollmer, past president of the Twin Falls Jay-C-Eltes.

Deann Vollmer was contest chairman and timer. Ethel Martin and Velda Taylor of the Twin Falls Toastmistress Club were tellers.

Table topics winner was Ethel Martin and Alda Suong was toastmistress. Mrs. Christopherson was chairman of table topics. Mary Sharp was general evaluator. Mrs. Maude Bare Burley and Mrs. Glenda McGreer were guests.

MIA Donates To Easter Seal

MIA Girls from Kimberly and Hansen, have contributed $5 to the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center from the sale of Easter Seal Lilies.

Bliss Youngsters Ready To Form New "Pony Express"

BLISS.—The Pony Express didn't ride again during the recent postal carriers' strike, but it was ready to—as close as the tiny town of Bliss in Magic Valley.

The young people of the town, which boasts a total population of 91, were allegedly the first to submit a declaration of loyalty to their president and country during the mail carrier dispute.

A telegram was sent to President Nixon volunteering the young people's service, if needed, to carry the mail via their own reorganized Pony Express—consisting of horses, boats, snowmobiles and jalopies.

Backed by their parents and coordinator, Deputy Sheriff Leroy A. Hess, the young people were, and plan to continue to be, ready to do "whatever is necessary to be good Americans."

As one of the older teen-agers said, "The red man our grandfathers fought was nearly as bad as the red man sneaking around us today. This one pretends he's a friend—makes it tough to spot him."

Deputy Hess, who is a veteran and involved in several recreational youth programs in Gooding County, said the telegram "will take a very clever red man to ambush these Pony Express riders—honor over."

The telegram sent to the President and signed by the "Bliss Pony Express Riders by Deputy Sheriff Leroy A. Hess, coordinator," stated:

"Dear Mr. President: We, the young people of Bliss, Idaho, and surrounding ranches in Gooding County, would like to tell you we reorganized the old West Pony Express during the postal strike so we would be ready to carry the mail if needed. We may be a bunch of people here, but we are long on patriotism. We have available horses, boats, snowmobiles and jalopies—all ready to go. If you ever need us, please call on us through our reorganizer."

The telegram sent last week was footnoted with a "Happy Easter" greeting to the nation's chief executive.

Road Opening Dates In Mountain Areas Listed

Opening schedules for highways in southern Idaho normally closed during winter months were announced Wednesday by the Idaho Department of Highways.

State Highway 75 from Sun Valley to Chilly is expected to be open in May or early June.

The Highway Department maintains about 9 miles on one end and 12 on the other on this road, and the Forest Service takes care of the middle section. Slides, fallen trees and rocks will be removed before the route can be cleared by snowplows.

State Highway 21 from

Lowman to Stanley is expected to be open before Memorial Day to accommodate fishermen.

Additional information on exact dates and on other roads that may be closed by snow at this time is available from the district highway office in Shoshone.

TOASTMISTRESSES MEET.—The Twin Falls Toastmistress Club will meet Friday at 9 a.m. at the Colonial House for a guest day. All persons interested in joining the Toastmistress Club are asked to call Mrs. John Koontz, 733-7116 or Mrs. Les Jones, 733-8458.

TILED IRRIGATION CULVERT is being put into place this week on the west side of Blue Lakes Boulevard North near the north edge of Twin Falls. Here a crew from P and E Concrete of Twin Falls, is shown installing the 20-inch line which will extend for about 1,000 feet and carry water for the Twin Falls Canal Co. This section of Twin Falls has seen much commercial expansion in the past few months, with about half a dozen firms building or in the process of building new facilities there.

Cattlemen Act To Guard Wilderness

Directors of the Wildhorse Cattle Association have voted to permanently close some 5,100 acres to livestock grazing, in favor of recreation and tourism.

The move was taken in a meeting to approve a range management plan and program for the Wildhorse Cattle Allotment in the Challis National Forest.

Directors noted the high environmental quality of the Boulder Creek and Upper Kane Canyon area, where four scenic mountain lakes are located, and agreed the fragile soil conditions and high alpine plant growth could not be expected to support both cattle grazing and grazing of recreational horses.

Many pack-trip and horseback rides are taken into the scenic area each year and such recreational use is increasing rapidly, Forest Service officials noted.

The range management plan and program approved by directors in the special meeting, culminates more than three years of study and work by Forest Service and Cattle Association members, beginning in 1967 with an environmental analysis.

In addition to the action on behalf of recreation, the cattle association members authorized a two-unit rest and four-unit deferred rotation grazing system, an increase of 5 per cent cattle use beginning with the 1971 grazing season; construction of 3.5 miles of fence; 700 water developments and control of some 5,000 acres of sagebrush.

Forest Ranger Phil Moffett said much of the range improvement work, such as water development, also will benefit wildlife and improve fish habitat.

Metropac Service Set To Start Here May 1

Metropac service for Mountain Bell subscribers is only a little less than month away— it's all set to go into effect automatically on May 1, according to K. R. Mann, district manager for Mountain Bell.

Under the extra-fee Metropac plan, subscribers to the service will be able to call without extra charge anywhere within a 31-mile radius. The 31 miles, however, is calculated rather tentatively; subscribers in Twin Falls, for example, will be able to call as far north as the Shoshone exchange without charge, even though some areas of the Shoshone district are more than 31 miles.

Twin Falls Metropac customers can call any and all of the following communities without extra charge: Murtaugh, MINIDINKUS, Eden, Hazelton, Jerome, Dirlrich, Shoshone, Gooding, Wendell, Buhl, Hagerman and Castleford. Filer, however, is not included, as the Filer Mutual Telephone Co. is an independent concern, not affiliated with Mountain Bell or the parent Bell System.

Present private line rates, which differ in the various communities at present according to the area served, will nearly all be the same with the addition of the Metropac fee, which will range from $3.75 to $9.50, Mr. Mann said. Thus, with Metropac, nearly all Magic Valley communities will be able to call the same number of people.

Another benefit is that some communities, including Bliss, which at present do not have the direct-distance dialing privilege, will have that equipment put into effect along with the Metropac service.

Subscribers are advised to call only with directly dialed calls; if an operator is needed, the usual long distance charge will be made.

Mountain Bell's billing department will handle all Metropac plans, Mr. Mann said, having no need for connections or alterations in the individual telephone.

Scholarship Is Offered At CSI By CowBelles

The College of Southern Idaho has received an annual scholarship award from the Desert Gold CowBelles Association of $200. It is offered by a CSI student from the Magic Valley area who is majoring in agriculture.

Applications for the scholarship can be obtained at the college from the Student Personnel Office on campus. The scholarship is open to prospective students as well as those now enrolled.

Subscribers are advised to call only with directly dialed calls; if an operator is needed, the usual long distance charge will be made.

Mountain Bell's billing department will handle all Metropac plans, Mr. Mann said, having no need for connections or alterations in the individual telephone.

Fighting Drugs

President Nixon has pledged the energies of his administration and a six-fold increase in federal spending to help combat the growing use of drugs in the nation's schools.

Mr. Nixon proposes to combat this with a massive educational attempt that will channel material on drugs and their abuse to parents and their children through a variety of media, including television.

No Pennies

Agents of the Internal Revenue Service have confirmed what most consumers discovered years ago: pennies aren't worth bothering with any more, not even 73,489 of them.

As usual, the IRS was able to cite chapter and verse to back its action. Specifically, Title 31, Section 460 of the U.S. Code, which says more than 25 pennies do not constitute legal tender.

City Plans "Clean-Up Month" Contest

THERE WILL BE 72 more dwelling units in Duvall Courts by this fall and the senior citizens housing development will be named after U.N. Terry, left, former member of the Twin Falls Housing Authority board of directors. Mr. Terry, who served on the board 30 years, retiring this January, and Larry Harper, right, local housing authority, inspected the development site Wednesday after federal funding was announced.

Some 27 organizations in Twin Falls will be asked to lend their support and manpower in an all-out effort to beautify the city of Twin Falls during April. Mayor Frank Feldtman has proclaimed April as Clean-Up Month in Twin Falls and the city is asking help from organizations to devote labor and time to the campaign and also to help publicize, promote and stimulate individual activity for the success of the drive.

Mr. Milar said this might provide an opportunity for organizations to gain recognition for community service in helping a neighbor by volunteering to clean the yards and property of elderly or handicapped neighbors who are unable to handle rakes, wheel barrows and other cleaning equipment.

Mayor Feldtman, who issued the Clean-Up Month proclamation last Monday night, said the city will be setting an example by not only cleaning up city parks and property, but will make its fleet of heavily used streets and sanitation department trucks available to collect trash from home owners during the month of April.

New Addition To Senior Citizens' Housing Named For U.N. Terry

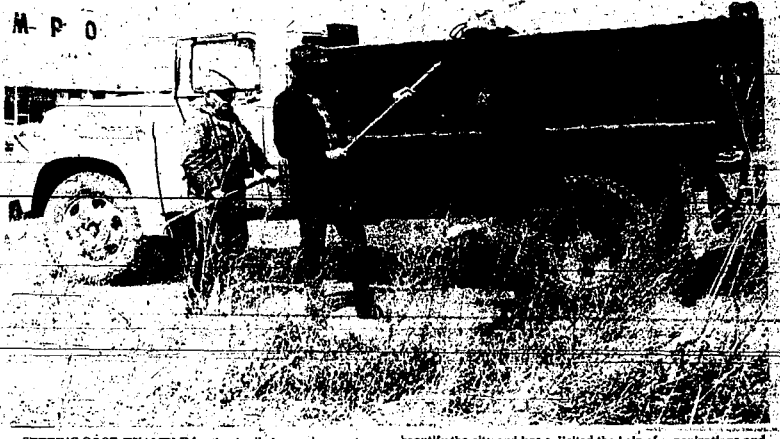

A new housing development in Twin Falls for low income senior citizens will be named after U. N. Terry, former member of the Twin Falls Housing Authority board of directors.

Mr. Terry, a local insurance agent, was a member of the board for 30 years, retiring this January. A 32-unit addition to Duvall Courts on Main Street, will be named the Terry Addition in honor of the Twin Falls businessman.

Announcement of federal funding for the addition was announced Wednesday by Sen. L. B. Jordan. Bids will be let later this month, according to Larry Harper, director of the housing authority, and the project should be completed by September or October. Contract amount is $417,074.

"Meanest Trick" Is Bike Theft

Theft of an old and slightly beat up bicycle with slightly crooked handle bars could qualify for the meanest trick of the week in Twin Falls. The bicycle, which disappeared from Young's Dairy Wednesday, belongs to a 17-year-old handicapped Twin Falls boy and it is his only means of transportation. The youth has obtained a much-needed job with the dairy firm and has been riding the bicycle from his home, near the hospital, to Young's Dairy and also to his classes in the Special Education program at the Twin Falls High School.

SETTING GOOD EXAMPLE for the April clean-up campaign in Twin Falls are Muri Stark, street department, Mayor Frank Feldtman and Lloyd Nelson, city sanitation inspector, from left. Mayor Feldtman has proclaimed April as the time to clean and beautify the city and has solicited the help of organizations and individuals to make it a citywide program. Here the three men provide manpower to clear a city street right of way as a kickoff for the month long program.

New Zealand Termed Garden Of Eden

RICHFIELD — "God smiled when he created New Zealand," writes Max (Mick) Ollieu, Richfield, and his wife, Marla, after several months of employment with the New Zealand Forest Service.

They have found New Zealand somewhat of a Garden of Eden with flowers blooming everywhere, the air fresh and clean, and the sun seeming to shine brighter, yet it's heat in summer tempered by cool breezes. The country side remains green year round, and there is sufficient rainfall so that irrigation is not necessary.

That was in September just after their arrival by boat from Honolulu. They found a 133 percent tariff on new American cars and all cars are imported. A $3,000 Ford would cost $7,000, and it is not uncommon to pay more for a year old car than a brand new one. Also, only a certain number of new vehicles are allowed into the country by the import quota. Their 1966 Morris Mini Mark II, with two-thirds the engine power of a VW

The bridge was snow covered and very slick, officers said. The vehicle struck the cement railing at the east end of the bridge. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $700. Passengers were Gregory Cleveland, 24, and Noel Albuquerque, 29, both Albuquerque, N.M.

Bernadine Dohrn Is Seen In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (UPI)—Federal investigators said Wednesday that Bernadine Dohrn, a fugitive leader of the revolutionary Weathermen, was seen as recently as a few days ago in the area of a Chicago apartment containing enough explosives to blow up a city block. Chicago police sources at first identified Miss Dohrn as "Judy White" who rented the apartment at 5453 Kenilworth Avenue on Chicago's North Side. Later they said the identification was based on photographs shown to residents of the apartment house, but that witnesses had also picked out the pictures of two other dark-haired, attractive young women — both of them also believed to be Weatherman militants — as the elusive lady.

Growers Sign Grape Contracts

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Two small growers of California table grapes signed a three-year labor contract with the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee Wednesday which provided for a closed shop union and a wage increase of 8 per cent. Clear Chavez, founder of the UFWOC, said a strike will begin shortly against other growers in the Coachella Valley of Southern California who have not agreed to a contract. The two farms, Davis Freeman Co. of Thermal and Indo and the Wonder Palms Ranch owned partly by Freeman, represent 700-800 acres, or only one-seventh of the table grapes grown in the valley and less than one per cent of the table grapes in the state. Lionel Steinberg, who signed for the growers, said the contract was an "historic breakthrough" in the labor dispute which began in 1968 and resulted in an attempt to boycott California table grapes nationwide.

Goldberg Decides To Go Alone

LIBERTY, N.Y. (UPI)—Former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg won the Democratic state convention's endorsement for governor Wednesday but turned it down three hours later, saying he wanted to run in the primary on an "equal footing" with other contenders. Before the nomination, black and Puerto Rican delegates walked out to protest Goldberg's failure to name Negro state Sen. Basil A. Paterson as his running mate for lieutenant governor. But they returned in time for the balloting when it was indicated Goldberg would pick Paterson. In making his surprise announcement, turning down the formal endorsement, Goldberg said Paterson would be his running mate. "I think it is time for the Democratic party and the state of New York to have a black candidate," Goldberg said. The winner of the June 23 primary will run against three-term Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has never sought elective office, also revealed that former U.S. Gen. Ramsey Clark would serve as chairman of his campaign.

Kidnaped Official Sends Note

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI)—Kidnaped West German Ambassador Count Karl Von Sprell assured his embassy and the government Wednesday that he is well and hopes to be released by his terrorist captors soon. Embassy sources said the message to the embassy, written in German on one of his calling cards, was addressed to his son, Alessandro, 12, and dropped into the mailbox of the embassy residence. The text of the message was not disclosed, but it relieved widespread concern over the health of the 52-year-old diplomat, said to be suffering from a heart condition. Names of the medicines required by Von Sprell were broadcast periodically through the night and day by Guatemalan radio and television stations following his abduction Tuesday. Government sources said they still had no contact with the six tommygun-armed terrorists who kidnaped Von Sprell, and who were identified as members of the leftist terrorist Rebel Armed Forces (FAR). But there were unconfirmed reports that negotiations for the diplomat's release were underway through a suspected Dominican Catholic church.

General, 170 Troops Killed In Viet Action

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Judge Leo Veltrout, facing continual shouts of "go to hell" from a defendant, silenced him Wednesday by ordering him gagged. The judge acted 2 1/2 hours after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled such action permissible to save the decorum of the courts. Two deputy sheriffs wrapped bandages about the mouth of George Kenney 21, charged in the fatal shooting of a state liquor store clerk during a $200 holdup last May.

Sirhan Back In Death Row Cell

SAN QUENTIN (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan, condemned assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was put back to San Quentin prison Death Row Wednesday after spending a day and a half in the prison hospital for observation. "Sirhan went back to his cell in good condition but the doctors haven't reached any conclusions for his recent dizzy spell," said James Smith, officer of the department at the prison. Criticism Of Private Pilots Termed Unfair

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government told the National Broadcasting Co. Tuesday it violated the fairness doctrine with news reports critical of the nation's private pilots. It asked the network to take "appropriate steps to achieve fairness." The Federal Communications Commission said in three reports on the Huntley-Brandley news program during November, 1969, "the ability of private pilots was put in an unfavorable light... without the contrasting (pro-private pilots) view being presented."

NBC was requested "in the reasonably near future," to achieve fairness in its coverage.

Infantry Assaults on Allied Positions Also Scored These Major Successes

SAIGON (UPI)—An American general and more than 170 Allied troops have been killed as Communist troops pushed their strongest offensive in almost eight months into the second day Thursday by pounding 35 new targets with shells. Allied military spokesmen said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese death toll stood at more than 500. Communiqués showed that fighting in South Vietnam since Tuesday night had killed at least 57 Americans and wounded about 250. South Vietnamese losses were estimated at about 114 dead and 600 injured. One of the U.S. battle casualties was Brig. Gen. William R. Bond, 51, commander of the U.S. Army's 199th Light Infantry Brigade. He was shot in the chest by small arms fire Wednesday as his command helicopter flew 70 miles northeast of Saigon. He was the fifth American general to die in the Vietnam War. # General Howa Likes Queen Contests—She's Now In 2

You could call General Howa the fearless type. Who else do you know who has attended three colleges in three years with three majors, has a respectable grade point average, is running in two queen contests at the same time, and spends several hours a week marching in a drill team. She won't run out of things to do?

When General left Twin Falls High School three years ago, she went to the University of Nottingham in England to study English literature. "I just loved it," she reports. She examined the huge statue of the Sheriff of Nottingham, and regretted that in all of Sherwood Forest now there remains but one tree, hardly enough to shelter a few Merry Men, let alone the King's deer.

With this object lesson in law and order behind her, Miss Howa departed England and resumed her studies at Utah State, where she studied toward becoming a legal secretary. But then, right between a habeas corpus and a res judicata, she accepted a job in a fraternity dean at Idaho State, and it became necessary to transfer to Idaho State and resume her English studies as an English Secondary Education major.

Trouble was, she had to leave her sorority behind. It was too big to move, and Idaho State didn't have a chapter. Ever on guard against ennui, General looked around for another activity that would be "worthwhile and time-consuming." She picked Scotch Guard. She had seen the ISU women's drill team in action when she attended an Idaho State basketball game, and she was impressed. She tried out and was accepted.

"We practice three mornings a week. Stand at attention, don't talk—we're very disciplined. It's hard to march in heels, but it makes you feel more like a girl."

Still, time hung heavy on her hands, and anyway, she had always wanted to compete in a beauty pageant. So she signed up to compete for the Miss ISU title. Next Saturday night she resumed her other co-eds will vie for that title.

"My parents are really excited, and that's something, to get your parents excited. I'm too short and I'm not at all talented, but I'm going to try. She's five-three and a half, and her talent number will be dramatic." "Watch"—she devoured from some of Rod McKuen's poetry.

The pageant begins at 8 p.m. Saturday in the ISU Fine Arts Building. General Howa, back at the Military Science Department, the Army and cadet leaders surveyed the ranks of the Scotch Guard and picked General and four other girls as candidates for the title of Military Ball Queen. That winner will be named two weeks later.

After that, General Howa will have to seek new ways to fill her time.

School Records Called Invasion Of Privacy

By FREDERICK H. TRICESH

What kind of information about a child goes a school system keep in its records? Who besides school authorities has access to it? What becomes of the dossiers once a child leaves the school system?

These are questions few parents think about. However, a group of educators, lawyers and school scientists convened by the Russell Sage Foundation studied the issue and concluded deficiencies in record-keeping policies of most public schools constitute a serious threat to individual privacy.

In a report made public in March, the panel said it hoped school authorities would revise such policies "to strike a balance between the need for educationally relevant information about children and the protection of individual rights to privacy."

Collect information. According to the foundation report, schools often collect information without the informed consent of parents or pupils or, when consent is obtained for one purpose, the information is used for other purposes. Parents and pupils have little knowledge of the contents of school records and their limited access makes it impossible to challenge the information. Few districts have procedures for destroying outdated information. "Seldom are there formal policies governing access by law enforcement officials, the courts, potential employers, colleges, researchers and others, and in many cases police and others from outside have complete access to records without a subpoena," the report said.

It added that sensitive and intimate information collected in the course of teacher-pupil or counselor-pupil contacts is not protected from subpoena in most states.

The report said the "extensive pupil records" maintained by virtually all school systems contain, in addition to attendance and achievement records, such information as standardized test scores, personality data, information on family background and current status, health data, teacher and counselor observations and anecdotal records.

GENERAL HOWA of Twin Falls will compete with eight other co-eds Saturday night in Pocatello for the title of Miss ISU.

Russians Don't Like Threat Of Prohibition

MOSCOW (UPI)—The unquenched Russian underground has struck back against the threat of prohibition.

"The Russian people always have, do now, and always will drink," an underground voice proclaimed in defiance of the nationwide vodka campaign. The man whose published letter started it all, Viktor Loginov of Krasnodar, reappeared in print to complain he had been the target of anonymous letters—"mean, dirty ones"—since he suggested a dry law.

One letter, from distant Novomoskovsk said "I am also writing, my friends in Krasnodar to get you down a dark alley and work you over."

Called For Control Loginov was presumably picked by the Communist party youth organization, Komsomol, to represent the "voice of the citizens" in calling for stronger control of drinking. His letter appeared in the youth newspaper, Mommomol'skaya Pravda on Jan. 6, a few weeks after the official economic figures and reports for 1969 said the Soviet economy was lagging.

Since labor productivity, the figures said, constituted a major reason or failure to reach planned production goals, and since poor productivity in turn could be traced to absenteeism and drunkenness, the campaign against vodka was uncorked.

Pie In Sky
NEW YORK (UPI)—There's a lot of pie in the sky, plus a lot of other victuals. Consider what one airline reports it served last year.

A total of 22.2 million meals was the count. Of the number, 18 million were prepared in their airport flight kitchens, using eight million tea bags, one million pounds of coffee, more than eight million half-pints of milk, more than three million cuts of steak, 11 million eggs and 26 million assorted rolls.

MALDEN HONORED
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Karl Malden was made an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts by Oregon's Pacific University.

Hagerman Honor Roll Is Listed

HAGERMAN — The honor roll for the third quarter for the high school and junior high has been released by Supt. Roy Strawser.

VFW Head Resigns Post Here
Ray Crandal, commander of the Twin Falls Veterans of Foreign Wars post for the past year, has resigned his position and dropped all affiliation in the national veterans organization.

He said this action was taken because of the government's attitude toward Vietnam veterans and a decision by the national VFW commander to call off efforts in the defense of military personnel accused of war crimes.

He said many members of the armed forces were being prosecuted for war crimes because of political influences.

Mr. Crandal, a veteran of the Marine Corps and the holder of several Purple Hearts and other combat decorations, said the VFW has failed to go to bat for veterans.

He said, "Government officials, while voting pay raises for themselves, continue to cut back on veteran hospital facilities and throw crumbs in the way of ming educational benefits. They also contempt, instead of pride in our fighting men."

The former local VFW commander said the neglect of veterans of Vietnam is a well-organized attempt to discredit the armed force.

"A letter from Sen. Len Jordan informs me that there have been 47 convictions in Vietnam for murder since 1961. Men are trained to kill and then are killed for doing it. Somehow this does not seem right."

Those achieving no lower than B grades were Adele Arterburn, Jerri Omohundro, Diane Jones, Sharon Lapp, Lee-Gon, Bridges, Shell Larson, Kim Lemmon and Michele Talbot

Now! Pepsi-Cola in One-Way No-Deposit Bottles!

Taste that beats the others cold! Bottled by Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Twin Falls under appointment from Pepsico, Inc., N. Y.

THIS MAN-MADE LAKE was created by the Idaho Power Company's Hells Canyon Dam, 210 feet deep. Water reaches only four per cent the way up the rugged mountain walls of the mile-deep gorge, preserving the canyon's beauty and making a new mountain lake. Winding along the side at the right is a surfaced road the company built to provide safe access into the heart of the deepest gorge in North America.

Heavy Use Reported At Hells Canyon Facilities

At least 250,000 persons annually use the three man-made lakes Idaho Power Company's T. E. Roach Hells Canyon development creates and the number enjoying their varied recreational facilities will steadily increase without overcrowding, the utility reported Wednesday.

Company President Albert Carlsen said the "extremely high" reservoir-usage count was revealed by a recently completed study based on records of Idaho and Oregon's highway departments and fish agencies.

While the study shows that at least 250,000 persons are taking advantage of reservoir-created outdoor recreation in our development every year, it also indicates that perhaps the total is more nearly 300,000, he said.

The 100-mile Hells Canyon reach developed by Idaho Power's hydroelectric complex, Mr. Carlsen declared, "clearly is an outstanding tourist attraction known throughout the nation and is adding substantially to the economics of both Idaho and Oregon."

Pointing out that the reach once was only accessible to a "fortunate few" by horseback or boats threading their way through dangerous rapids, the utility president asserted:

"The some 140 miles of new and improved ponds built at a cost of more than $16-million in connection with our development have made a world of difference in the area, opening it up for many more sportsmen and tourists to enjoy than before."

Mr. Carlsen said the company's development not only has preserved the scenic and recreational values of the Hells Canyon reach, sometimes described as "one of nature's greatest legacies to man for his wise use and enjoyment."

"In addition," he said, "our development has smoothed the river, improved fishing and provided four major recreation areas — Hells Canyon, Woodhead, McCormick and Coppertfield parks — where facilities range from trailer parking and electricity for cooking to showers and boat ramps."

At least half the visitors to Idaho Power's parks, according to Mr. Carlsen, spend their time fishing for bass, crappie and catfish — whose natural production is supplemented by annual releases of catchable-size rainbow trout the company makes in cooperation with the Idaho and Oregon agencies.

River fishing still can be experienced in the development by means of a road Idaho Power built for a mile or two downstream from Hells Canyon Dam, the utility president noted.

Criticism Of Pilots Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) told NBC Tuesday its Huntley-Brinkley news program violated the fairness doctrine in November 1968 in criticism of the nation's private pilots.

"The ability of private pilots was put in an unfavorable light," the FCC said, "the contrasting view being presented." NBC was asked "in the reasonably near future" to achieve fairness in its coverage of air safety and private pilots.

Today's Market And Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks look on a mixed appearance after three hours of trading Thursday. Volume was moderate.

Around 1 p.m. the UPI marketwide indicator was up 0.07 per cent with 1,503 issues traded. Of these, advances outnumbered declines, 631 to 572. The Dow Jones industrial average was up a small fraction. Turnover totaled more than 7.2 billion shares, higher than at the same time in the previous session.

Analysts said profit taking was beginning to make its presence felt on the heels of gains Wednesday and this morning. Notably hit were coppers, with strength about at the vanishing point.

Copper issues were up several points Wednesday, with some of the muscle carrying over through this morning. But Asconda, Copper Range and Inspiration were off fractional at the session's midpoint.

McDonald's Corp. rose more than 2 after a company executive said the company expects a big jump in the first quarter net. American Telephone eased. Polaroid and Itak also were lower.

Steels, auto and chemicals were mixed, with most gains limited to fractions. Oil also had a lack of direction. Motorola and IBM led the electronics lower, each giving up 3 or more points.

Successful Investing

Q—What is causing the weakness in Beverly Enterprises? I would appreciate knowing whether to hold or take my loss. —C. D.

A—These shares have recently been among the most actively traded on the American Exchange, dropping about 20 points. In addition to general market weakness, BEV has been subject to pressure from fears that the government's proposed changes in Medicare and Medicaid will hurt nursing-home operators.

There has been some fundamental weakness in company operations. Beverly has maintained an aggressive expansion policy, and in fact announced in January that it was planning five acquisitions involving 16 additional extended-care facilities.

For the nine months ended September, 1969, revenues advanced 68 per cent year-over-year, while income jumped 127 per cent on wider margins.

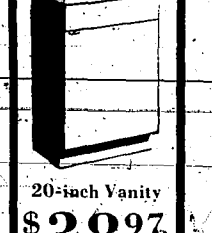

Actively traded on the open market, notes are available in maturities of one month to 7 years. Yields of maturity range at present from 6.1 per cent to 7.3 per cent.

Mr. Spear welcomes questions for use in his column but cannot answer all mail personally.

New Tours To Follow Lewis And Clark Route

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the most dramatic chapters in the history of the United States can come alive this year for 250 adventure-seeking Americans as the opening of the Northwest by the Lewis-Clark expedition.

A new series of tours are being offered which will closely parallel the route of the "Corps of Discovery" headed by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark through the uncharted wilderness more than 165 years ago.

It took that intrepid band of explorers about 1 1/2 years to make the arduous trek across sprawling prairies, virgin forests, towering mountain ranges and rampaging rivers from the small fur-trading post of St. Louis on the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean. They did it in 1804-5 by foot, horse and small boat.

The 1970 tours also will strike out from St. Louis, but will take only 23 days by plane, train, motorcoach and river flatboat to cover the 4,000-mile route to Portland, Ore.

The tours were developed by Four Winds Travel Inc. of New York in connection with the "Discover America" campaign, designed to remind Americans of their own rich heritage and of the countless natural and man-made attractions available in their homeland.

The first tour is slated to depart from St. Louis on June 20 with the others scheduled for each successive Saturday until Aug. 22.

Each tour will follow the same itinerary and each will be accompanied by "a distinguished Lewis and Clark scholar to help bring history alive along the way" in addition to the tour escort, a spokesman said.

Tour groups will be restricted to 25 members for comfort and convenience. They will travel through eight states: Missouri, Iowa, South and North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

One feature will be a three-day trip on specially-built pontoon-platform flatboats along the spectacular Wilderness Waterway of the upper Missouri River with its soaring white cliffs and other still virtually unchanged natural wonders.

Official Report

The official report on the area in the journals of the Lewis-Clark expedition reads almost like a modern-day travel brochure:

"The bluffs of the river rise to the height (sic) of from 2 to 300 feet and in most places nearly perpendicular...it seemed as if those seems (sic) of visionary enchantment (sic) would never have end; for here it is too that nature presents to the view of the traveler vast ranges of walls of tolerable workmanship, having the appearance of the walls of ancient houses or gardens."

On the down-river trip, tour members will camp on shore at night and eat meals cooked over open fires. All necessary camping equipment will be furnished by the tour operator.

Other transportation, accommodations and meals will be more orthodox. Travel will include, Vistadome train, motorcoach and other vehicles and plane. Accommodations will be provided in deluxe or first-class hotels, motels and "the best lodgings, depending on the area," according to the brochure.

The route will follow the trail blazed by Lewis and Clark to the source of the mighty Missouri, and to Lemhi Pass on the ridge of the Continental Divide, paralleling the Lolo Trail through the Bitterroot Mountains of Northern Idaho.

The tour is climaxed at Chitook Point in Washington. It was here that Lewis and Clark and their men stood atop the high bluff and saw the goal for which they had risked—and gained—so much: the Pacific Ocean.

After visits to Ft. Clatsop, Cannon Beach, Tillamook Head and other spots along the coast where the Lewis-Clark expedition spent the winter of 1806, the tour parties proceed to Portland, Ore., the final stop on the

Bridge Winners Anti-War Student Will Go And See For Self

The Twin Falls Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening in regular play at Sunnyview Courts.

Winners were Mrs. H. E. Burgess and Mrs. B. B. Benson, first; William Cook and Mrs. W.P. Haney and Mrs. M. D. Hartruff and Mrs. Doris Ranson, tied for second; and third and Mrs. H. M. Proctor and Mrs. A. J. Lindemer, fourth.

Almost half of all water used in the United States is for cooling and condensing by industries.

NANUET, N.Y. (UPI)—Alan M. Mendelson, a 17-year-old honors high school student from suburban New York City, wants very much to go to Vietnam.

For the past five months, he has been trying—without success—to get there.

But last week he learned that the South Vietnamese Embassy in Washington is planning to finance a trip to Vietnam for a delegation of American students and "definitely" wants students who are against the war.

Mendelson is antiwar, and the embassy has told him he is one of these under consideration.

"I want to see the war for myself," he says, "and find out just what really is going on."

Attempts begin in October his attempts to do so began last Oct. 15, the first anti-Vietnam War moratorium day.

Mendelson, the son of a Nanuet, N.Y., attorney, had not participated in the protest; instead, he had attended a meeting of the

New York State Association of Student Councils, of which he is an elected executive committee member.

"I was listening to the radio while driving home," he said, "and when the news came on, they said President (Nguyen Van) Thieu had made an offer to dissenting students in America to come to visit the Republic of South Vietnam and see that the people were behind him there."

Mendelson, who hopes to become a newsmen and already works evenings as a news broadcaster on a suburban radio station, gave the news item little thought until two months later when he made up his mind, approached his parents and announced: "I think I'm going to do it. I'll take them up on it."

On Oct. 20, in a "blind call," Mendelson telephoned the White House seeking to learn just how he could "take President Thieu up on his offer."

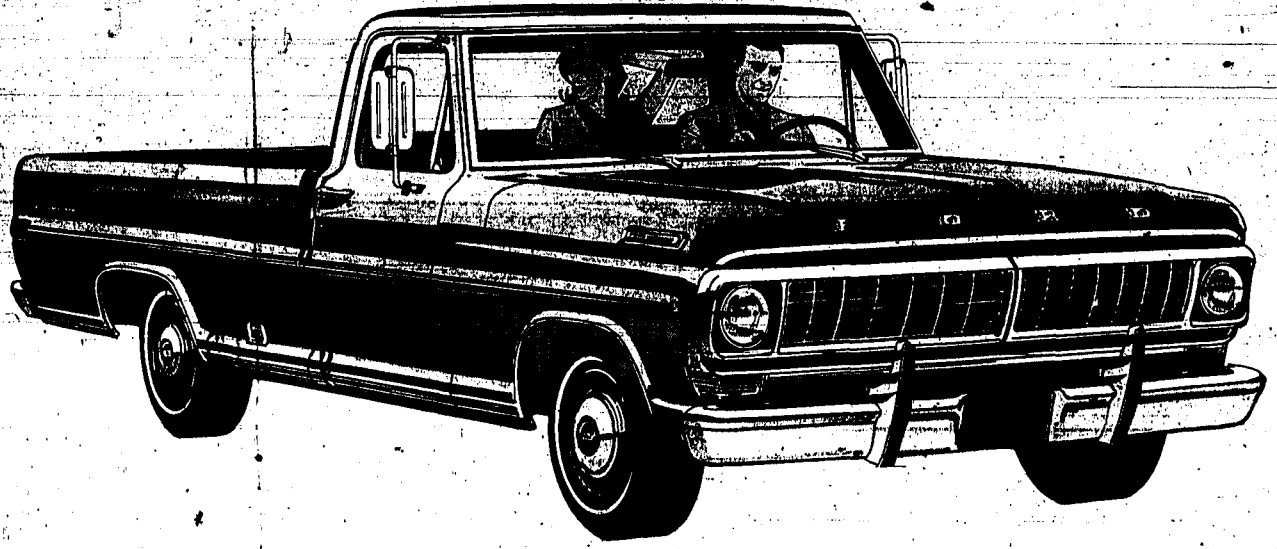

A press spokesman suggested he call the State Department which, in turn, said Mendelson's best bet would be to contact the South Vietnamese Embassy. He did, and within a day, he had the South Vietnamese ambassador on the phone, beginning five months of communication between him and the embassy.

Mendelson turns 18 next month and must register for the draft. "I will register," he said. "I'll go along with the law and if I'm drafted, I'll go—even to Vietnam."

Nevertheless, he is firmly against the Vietnam War. "Number one, I'm against all wars. Number two, I'm against any kind of American involvement in a war of that nature. My main question is just why should we have to fight it."

"If it's proven to me that I'm going to lose my home and my life and my family because of a fight going on in Southeast Asia, that's when I'll turn around and support the war."

Turn Fatties Into Thinnies With Ten Minutes Each Day

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ten minutes. A tiny segment of the 140 minutes in a day. But those 10, used properly, can turn fatties into thinnies, trim inches off the entire body, and give you a whole new mental look to go with the physical.

The promise of what 10 minutes of exercise can do, if done just as regularly each day as you brush your teeth or put on your face, comes from Toni Beck, whose clientele pays $800 per week plus gratuities for such advice.

Many of these trim one and one-half inches off the entire body measurements in two weeks under expert tutelage and their own will power at diet and exercise.

Hipped On Posture
There is another factor to be added to the daily 10— "carrying yourself well," said Miss Beck, a dancer and dance instructor. She is hipped on what posture can do for appearance that she's been known to tie a string to a famous client's ears and pull upward to show correct stance.

One way to improve posture is to imagine that a slender pole runs from the top of your head through the center of the body and to the feet. And the weight should be carried on the balls of the feet. Or, imagine that a string is attached to the top of your head and is pulling the whole body upward. Or, use the time-honored dance class method of walking around with a book balanced on top of your head.

"Posture does not stop when you move," Miss Beck continues. "You learn, from standing correctly, how things are supposed to feel, and you should go right on feeling that way whether you are walking, sitting or lying down. Think of yourself as a whip, a wand, a switch or a tree, but visualize something straight and secure and flexible."

Moved To Dallas
Miss Beck, a slim suburban housewife who looks like she practices what she preaches, danced professionally and choreographed on Broadway and in stock before she married and moved to Dallas.

BETTY CANARY

We all have our personal aspirations in life. After my family's latest bout with the flu, I would willingly forego any goals I've had. Right now I'd be quick to turn and vomit on the floor.

My eldest daughter is an accuser. "Why did I get sick today," she hurls at me, "when you know I was supposed to go to Mary's birthday party?"

Then there's my youngest son, the hypochondriac. "Feel my forehead — it's hotter, isn't it?" "The reason I called you THIS time is, I have this little red spot on the back of my knee."

My youngest daughter is only eight but she could spot Sarah Bernhard three points when it comes to ailing dramatically. "Mother?" She whippers so softly I must kneel beside the bed. "Mother? Is that you?" She coughs in despair. "I think my blanket is wrinkled. I'll fix it for her. It would (cough) have fixed it myself but (sniff) I'm so dizzy." She then waves a slender white hand toward the door. "Obviously, she wants to be alone. So do I. What with first one of them and then the other, I've been trapped in this pesthouse for three weeks."

But my reprieve doesn't come when my fifth child returns to school. Because their Brave Father now has the flu!

Listing ailments to one side, he wanders through the house telling of how he is fighting Back. He tells how he fought the chills last night all alone because he didn't want to awaken anybody and ask for the heating pad.

IDAHO STATE SUPERVISOR of Royal Neighbors of America, Mrs. Louise M. Bowne, Nampa, will head the list of honored guests during the quadrennial Idaho-Nevada state convention of Royal Neighbors of America in Twin Falls. The convalesce is set April 10 and 11, with headquarters at the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Bowne will be accompanied to Twin Falls by various district deputies who serve counties within Idaho and Nevada.

Here Come The Brides!

May and June lead the wedding march with 12.5% of all marriages taking place during these months.

And the marriage rate is increasing steadily. In 1965 there were approximately 1,900,000 marriages; 1970 will see 2,250,000 marriages and in '75 there'll be a healthy 2,450,000.

The market is busting with unlimited sales potential. In fact, most young women 18 to 24 years of age acquire 97 major home furnishings and household appliances in a surprisingly brief span of time — from the time of engagement through the first six months of marriage.

Within this short time, the bride makes her first brand buying decisions (which will influence her buying for many years to come).

So, if you want a big slice of this wedding business and an increase in your share of the market, call your Times-News advertising department right now (733-0931) and plan on being represented in this unique pictorial presentation:

with the king of diamonds, discarded all dummy's spades on his clubs and made the last tricks with the high red cards."

The second oldest member took time out to disagree with the Count of a 3,340-point loss. He asked, "How did you arrive at that figure?"

"Easy," replied the old man. "It was back in 1934. I would have been plus 100 had I passed. Instead, I lost 2,250 for the slam bonus. I was both vulnerable, 440 below the line and 50 for making a doubled contract. It would not have been that expensive a couple of years later, since the grand slam bonus was cut back to 1,500."

The youngest member had a question. "You made this hand up, didn't you?"

The answer was, "I refuse to answer but you might not that today is the first of April."

(Newspaper Enterprises Assn.)

The talk at the club was about expensive errors and the oldest member gained the floor.

He started out with: "All your stories leave me cold. I once lost 3,340 points by a slam double and my double was a good one, although I must admit that, if I had my life to live over, again, I wouldn't make it."

He then diagrammed the hand and continued, "My double sure looked safe. They couldn't run to another suit. It never occurred to me that they could make seven no-trumps. So when South ran there, I doubled. I wasn't even worried about my partner's failure to lead a spade, but declarer took just a few seconds to prove that my thinking had been muzzy. ### EQUALITY

What's your stand on equal pay for women? Pollsters put this query to a sizable sampling of Americans. Exactly 87 per cent said, in effect, "No doubt about it, the ladies should get paid as much as the men." But 13 per cent said, in effect, "Certainly not. The girls ought not get as much money. They're not worth it."

Why is a mystery, but the female's liver ages somewhat earlier than the male's. This fact shows up among alcoholics, particularly. # Huntley Has Busy Schedule

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Chel Huntley, who will retire from NBC-TV in midsummer, achieved a recreation record by making his final months on the job.

In addition to his regular chores on the Huntley-Brinkley broadcasts, the newsman, as previously noted, will be the reporter for a documentary on the virtually unchanged plight of migrant workers—a follow-up to Edward R. Murrow's famous expose of a decade ago, "Harvest of Shame."

Furthermore, Huntley last week delivered an address in New York at the 22nd annual George Polk Memorial Awards luncheon, and in view of some current opinions concerning television news coverage, his uncompromising and provocative remarks are of particular interest. Here are some:

"We don't buy for a minute the frivolous argument that demonstrations, riots, sit-ins and marches are mere rallies by someone wanting his name or picture circulated. That assertion is not going to disguise the genuine social unrest which is at work."

"Journalists were never intended to be the cheerleaders of a society, the conductors of applause, the acrophants. Tragically, that is their assigned role in authoritarian societies, but not here."

Announces Agreement

On Tuesday, the Justice Department announced it has signed an agreement with Hollywood's motion picture and television industries to stop alleged discrimination in non-acting jobs.

Most of the major organizations have been moving steadily for some time to eliminate inequities. But the official step is expected to have a hurry-up effect on some of the more recalcitrant producers and executives.

The announcement suddenly reminded me of a memorable story told to me many years ago by a Negro publicist man for CBS-TV in New York. The publicity man was in his office one night when his telephone rang and a man on the other end began objecting about a CBS-TV program, in progress, concerning race relations.

"How would you like it if your daughters married a Negro?" the caller asked, not knowing the publicity man was black.

"But I am a Negro," came the reply from the publicity man.

"Well, then," said the caller, without missing a beat, "how would you like it if your daughter married a white man?"

"Phased Withdrawal" Said Danger To GIs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., a leading proponent of U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, charged today President Nixon was needlessly endangering the lives of American troops by his phased withdrawal plan.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, McGovern said the gradual withdrawal, make troops left behind vulnerable to concentrated attacks by the enemy because U.S. forces must hold widely dispersed military positions.

McGovern urged the administration, instead, to "stop our far-flung military operations in South Vietnam and consolidate our forces temporarily, in preparation for disengagement, in well-defended areas near the sea."

There have been reports that

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the Army chief of staff and former commander in Vietnam, and other top military officials had asked Nixon for a six-month pause in withdrawal.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., urged Nixon to ignore such advice, because it comes from military advisers to former President Lyndon B. Johnson who "will probably spend the rest of their lives trying to prove their advice would have been right if it had been followed."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.), and Sen. Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.)—the Philippines Golf Association reports there are 80,000 golfers in the Philippines and more than 70,000 persons who rely on golf for their livelihood.

GOV. DON SAMUELSON is one of thousands of Americans with hidden illnesses or dangerous allergies who can benefit by wearing Vedic Alert bracelets. Because of this and what the program can mean to the people of the State of Idaho, the governor has designated the week of April 6 as Medic Alert.

Week. The program is being promoted by the Life Underwriters Association. From left are Ray Dean, president of the Idaho Association of Life Underwriters, Gov. Samuelson, and Harlon Baker, president-elect of the Idaho Association, and Wayne Barney, public relations chairman of the association, both of Twin Falls.

Good Buys Due For Shoppers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Consumer and Marketing Service reports food shoppers will find a variety of meat and fresh produce featured at food stores and supermarkets this weekend.

Ground beef, roasts and steaks are top beef values again this week while smoked picnic, chops and bacon are good pork selections. In poultry, look for broiler-fryers. Fish buys include fish sticks and portions, Maine sardines and canned tuna.

In the vegetable department there are green beans, carrots, onions, and potatoes. Top fresh fruit values are apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges—and strawberries. Items on plentiful foods list for April are honey, canned peaches and tomato products, canned or frozen corn, peanuts and peanut products, dry beans and eggs.

GREETING THE CHIEF executive of Idaho during his courthouse tour to Halley Tuesday afternoon are Charles Atkinson, chairman of the Blaine county commission, and Dale Peterson, Halley city council chairman. The White Clouds mining operations occupied much of the discussion during Gov. Don Samuelson's visit to Halley.

Nixon Pledges Jobs To Youths

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Noting that this is the beginning of a new decade, President Nixon has told federal departments and agency heads to get more young people involved in government jobs.

Nixon said Tuesday he has asked Robert Hampton, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, to provide leadership in attracting youth to federal positions.

Medic Alert Week Starts Monday

Idaho's governor will soon be wearing a new bracelet—an executive model of the Medic Alert bracelet.

Gov. Samuelson has proclaimed the week of April 6 as Medic Alert Week in Idaho, and has gone on record endorsing the Medic Alert program, being boosted in the state by the Idaho Association of Life Underwriters and in Magic Valley by the Southern Idaho Association of Life Underwriters.

Gov. Samuelson soon will join more than 200,000 people in the nation who wear the Medic Alert bracelet. He is one of thousands who have a hidden illness or dangerous allergy and could benefit by wearing the informative bracelets.

The governor told three members of the association who met with him in Boise recently that he was administered so much penicillin while in the armed services that his system no longer can tolerate the medicine, and just one shot could produce a violent reaction. Because of this, the governor will be provided with one of the bracelets by members of the association.

During Medic Alert Week, canisters will be placed in all banks in Magic Valley. The program will be a continuing one, however, and canisters will remain in other establishments and offices throughout the year.

Also, during the specially designated week, canisters will be in all law enforcement agency offices in the valley and each member of the Southern Idaho Life Underwriters Association will carry application blanks, according to Jack Snow, Burley, president.

Drug stores, doctors' offices, dentists' offices and hospitals also will display the canisters throughout the year.

There are many known reasons for wearing the bracelets. Anyone with hidden illnesses, such as diabetes, epilepsy, or who has medicine reactions such as the governor's, can avail themselves of the service. Application and payment must be made to the Medic Alert center at Turlock, Calif.

The bracelets are inscribed with the particular medical problem of the wearer, decreasing the danger of a dosage of improper medicine or improper treatment in case of accident or illness.

Preference Ball Scheduled

The Preference Ball, which will be the highlight of this year's social activities sponsored by the LDS Institute of Religion, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Cultural Hall of the LDS Stake House on Maurice Street.

All LDS youth, ages 16 to 26, are invited to attend, according to Ron Ellsworth, institute president. Cindy Smith, social committee chairman, said her committee has done a great deal of work in preparation for the dance. There will be a floorshow and decorations and the theme will be "April Come Ste Will."

The dance is a formal girl-ask-boy event. Anyone wishing to know more about the dance may call the institute at 733-9118, or stop by the building at 326 Falls Avenue across from the CSI campus.

1,000-Year Sentences May Be Setting Trend

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There is a substantial but by no means unanimous body of opinion which holds that crime rates are increasing because many courts have been too lenient in their treatment of felons.

Anyone taking that view undoubtedly has been heartened by recent exhibitions of firmness on the part of the courts in Texas.

Within the past two months, a convicted rapist has been sentenced to 1,001 years in prison, a convicted robber drew a 1,000-year sentence and a third defendant got 800 years for rape.

It is, of course, too early to tell whether this represents a trend toward increased severity in the judiciary system. There is no doubt, however, that these sentences stand out in sharp contrast to the prison terms being meted out by more tolerant judges or juries.

Lighter Sentences Common
It is nothing uncommon these days to find cases in which the defendants are sentenced to only 150 or maybe 200 years for major offenses.

Indeed, there have been numerous sentences of less than a century in duration. I'm not a criminologist and therefore cannot offer an expert evaluation as to the impact that widespread imposition of 1,000-year sentences would have on lawbreakers.

To a layman, however, it would appear that the prospect of spending the next millennium behind bars would be considerably more inhibiting than a mere 300 years or so in the clinic.

If that is a valid observation, then it might be prudent to provide even greater maximum penalties. I have in mind prison terms that might run 4,000 or 5,000 years for major felonies and up to 10,000 years for certain crimes that are particularly heinous, such as playing bagpipes without a license.

Two Good Points
It may be argued that increasing a multiplier for 10,000 years would constitute cruel and inhuman punishment, inhuman punishment, and would make rehabilitation difficult. Both are good points. Let me emphasize, however, that the maximum penalty would be written into the law primarily as a deterrent. Realization that he might be confined until the year 11970 A.D. is bound to cause a would-be transgressor to think twice before doing something nefarious.

The harshness of the penalty could be tempered with various parole schedules. For example, a miserant receiving a 1,000-year sentence might become eligible for parole after 2,000 years. With 3,000 years off for good behavior. And 5,000 years on probation.
