Apollo 13 Could Miss Earth On Flight Back

By AL ROSSITER Jr.
UPI Space Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The stricken Apollo 13 spacecraft is slightly off course and its astronauts will miss the earth by 80 miles and soar off into a distant, fatal orbit if a steering correction is not made tonight or Thursday, controllers reported today.
"If the descent engine does not burn, we cannot bring them back," said retro officer Thomas Weichel.
The big engine, however, already has fired twice to head astronauts James A. Lovell, John L. Swigert and Fred W. Haise back toward earth after a near fatal explosion en route to the moon.
The prayers of millions went to the pilots for a safe splashdown at 1:04 p.m. EST Friday about 600 miles south-east of Papeete in the South Pacific. With a successful landing, they should be home in Houston Saturday.
Cautious Firing
Due to successfully re-enter earth's atmosphere, the astronauts must fire the big engine on their lunar module briefly to put their ship into the narrow, "imaginary" corridor in space leading to a safe splashdown.
"We're not yet in the re-entry corridor and we'll have to make this maneuver to get in," Flight Director Milton Windler said. Weichel said the present path followed by Apollo 13 would miss the earth by 80 miles and carry the pilots thousands of miles off in a great orbit around earth.
The astronauts' meager supply of oxygen would be exhausted in a matter of a few days—long before they would approach earth again.
The engine needed for the course correction fired successfully Tuesday night to accelerate the astronauts' trip back to earth.
Windler said the course correction is scheduled for tonight, but might be delayed until Thursday if weather in the primary landing zone deteriorated and made a change in the splashdown site desirable. He said the weather now appears satisfactory.
Apollo 13 left the dominance of the moon's gravity and felt the earth's influence at 8:38 a.m. EST. It was 200,027 miles from earth and 38,894 miles from the moon at the time.
Ration Supplies
The pilots' supply of water, oxygen and electrical power was rationed, but flight director Windler and Eugene Kranz said there was more than adequate supply to get the astronauts home.

"It looks a lot better now than it did last (Monday) night," Kranz said.
Because of the nation's most severe space problem, President Nixon today postponed until the first of next week his report to the nation on Vietnam, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the speech was postponed because Nixon "doesn't want to pre-empt television time while there is a concentration on the safe return of Apollo 13."
In Moscow, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin called Nixon an offer of Soviet assistance in the rescue of the astronauts after splashdown.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—There will be 150.8 million cars, trucks and buses registered in the United States by 1990, the Keystone Auto Club predicts.

4 Missing In Plane Are Found

HOISE (UPI)—The pilot and three passengers missing since Monday on a flight from Elko to Boise walked out of the woods near the Juniper Mountains this morning.
Early reports indicated the four landed in an open field during a snowstorm in an isolated area. They were reported in good condition.
Aboard were the pilot, Ivan Anderson, 36, Spokane, and his passengers, Robert Balner, 30, Spokane, and two of Anderson's children, Pamela, 17, and Ricky, 15. They had been object of a widespread air and ground search.

Saigon Government Warned On Cambodia Border Fights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has warned the Saigon government against permitting its troops to launch any more attacks in strength against Communist forces across the border in Cambodia, administration officials said today.
U.S. officials believe any South Vietnamese assaults on the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops in Eastern Cambodia could touch off a much wider war—with an adverse effect on the Allied position in all Southeast Asia.
The high-level American view, based on latest intelligence reports from the field, is that military operations by the estimated 40,000 Communist troops in Cambodia are designed primarily to enlarge and secure Communist enclaves along the South Vietnam border.
The assessment here is that Hanoi, while stirring up local peasants to make as much trouble as possible for the Cambodian government, does not want to undertake a major assault of its own against the Cambodian capital, Phnom Penh. While the Communist forces could probably make short work of Cambodia's rather inefficient 30,000-man army, Hanoi is believed anxious to avoid any such operation.

Soviet Skipper Arrested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has stopped a Soviet tanker in the Gulf of Alaska and arrested its skipper for violating the United States exclusive territorial limit. State Department officials disclosed Tuesday night.
The officials said that the Soviet ship was identified as the Moyr. Officials said the tanker spilled oil while refueling Soviet fishing vessels in the lee of Kodiak Island. The resulting oil slick spread 300 yards wide and one mile long.
The slick attracted the attention of the U.S. Coast Guard and they boarded the ship when it was found to be within three miles of the Alaskan coast.
Coast Guard officers were reported to have boarded the Soviet vessel and examined its log book. The Soviet captain apparently acknowledged the territorial violation and voluntarily agreed to fly to Anchorage where he was arraigned.
"It was expected the Soviet skipper would be released after paying a fine of several thousand dollars."

Teenagers Cite Dependability

NEW YORK (UPI)—Teenagers here are proudly displaying their cards inscribed "DEBS," which identify them as "Dependable, educated baby sitters."
The cards are awarded by the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens. The baby-sitting course is under direction of the pediatrica department of St. John's Queens Hospital, one of the five divisions of the Catholic Medical Center.
Mr. Chapin was awarded the First Presbyterian Church here and was past exalted ruler in the Twin Falls Elks lodge. Survivors include his widow, LaJolla; one son, Dr. I. E. Chapin, Fullerton, Calif., and four grandchildren.
Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday at LaJolla Mortuary.

Minnesota Judge Picked For Supreme Court Seat

By MIKE FEINSILBER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Turning as promised to the North for a "strict constructionist," President Nixon has picked U.S. Circuit Court Judge Harry A. Blackmun of Minnesota as his third choice for the Supreme Court seat he has had so much trouble filling.
Blackmun, 61, known here as a civil rights moderate but a stickler on law and order, is a close friend and boyhood companion of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, also a Minnesotan. His selection had been rumored since Friday.
Those senators willing to comment did so tentatively but favorably. None said an unkind word about him.
The White House said Nixon made his choice at 10 a.m. EST Tuesday after having met for 45 minutes Friday with Blackmun and Attorney General John N. Mitchell.
Meeting After Rejection
The meeting came two days after the Senate's rejection of G. Harrold Carswell and one day after Nixon, in a statement that rocked the Senate, said he was convinced the Senate "as presently constituted" would not confirm a "strict constructionist" from the South.
Some senators saw his statement as political, some as simply angry, some as a combination of both.
In White House parlance, a "strict constructionist" describes a judge who is unwilling to impose his own views of how society should behave in determining how the Constitution requires it to behave.
Blackmun himself said he had been called "both a liberal and a conservative."
"I've tried to call them as I've seen them," he said in St. Louis and described himself as "overwhelmed" by his selection.
Stern Believer In Law
In 11 years on the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting in Minneapolis, Blackmun earned a reputation as a moderate on civil rights and a stern believer in law and order—much the same as the reputation Burger brought to the court when Nixon named him last year.
A Republican and a Methodist, the nominee was born in Nashville, Ill., raised in St. Paul, educated at Harvard in mathematics and the law.
He was resident counsel for the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., when President Dwight D. Eisenhower named him to the circuit court in 1959 on the advice of Humphrey, among others. Humphrey was a senator then.

Cautious Line Is Seen With Russia

VIENNA (UPI)—Diplomatic sources said today President Nixon has ordered a flexible but cautious line in the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) with the Soviets opening Thursday.
The President told U.S. negotiators to make a determined effort to reach agreement with the Soviets without endangering American security, the sources said.
Diplomats from both sides have termed the talks among the most important and decisive in modern arms control efforts. They follow encouraging explorations by the two powers in Helsinki last November and December.
Though both the United States and Russia expressed their willingness to talk business, neither left any doubt that the task ahead was difficult and complex.
The chief U.S. negotiator, Gerald C. Smith, said on his arrival Tuesday "The United States will do all it can to assure progress in the talks."
Vladimir S. Semenov, the Soviet delegate, pledged his side would take a "business like and constructive attitude."
Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev announced in a speech Tuesday that Russia would welcome "a reasonable agreement" on limiting strategic arms, but he firmly ruled out any agreement that would allow U.S. military superiority.

Strike In New York Is Fluid

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Newspaper Guild called off its scheduled strike against the Printers Union threatened to extend so-called chapel meetings which are disrupting production at the New York Times.
The Post, the Times, the New York Daily News and the Long Island Press contracts with 10 employes unions expired March 31 but none of the unions has struck.
"If a contract is not reached by the end of the week with the New York Times, chapel meetings will be increased," Bertram Powers, head of the Printers Union, said. "We will continue to accelerate meetings to the zero point if necessary."
Union meetings are now consuming 13 hours spread over three shifts, of the 24 hours of production, at the Times and Publisher Arthur Ochs Sulzberger warned last week the newspaper may stop publishing. The Times said it has lost $702,600 worth of advertising since the slowdown began.
All four newspapers, members of the Publishers Association, offered the unions a 16.5 per cent wage increase the day the old contract expired but it was quickly rejected. The unions represent 13,000 employees at the four newspapers.

Seen With Russia

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Jerome H. Holland, the new U.S. ambassador to Sweden, was heckled with shouts of "nigger go home" Tuesday by anti-American demonstrators as he rode through the streets of Stockholm to present his credentials to King Gustaf VI. He said he resented the term. The 54-year-old Negro educator was also the focus of demonstrations when he arrived here last week.

Ex-Mayor Mr. Chapin Dies At 80

Lee A. Chapin, 80, former Twin Falls mayor, died Monday at LaJolla, Calif., of a short illness. He had lived there since August, 1968, from the loan and finance business which he operated here.
Born Aug. 22, 1889, at Bradshaw, Neb., he came to Twin Falls in August, 1908, from Colorado. He graduated from the Twin Falls High School with the class of 1910 and on Jan. 1, 1916, married Alice Irene Rimby.
Mr. Chapin was finance commissioner of Twin Falls from 1927 to 1937, then served a term as mayor of the city. During World War II he served on the Selective Service Board and for 25 years was on the advisory board of the Twin Falls Salvation Army.

That Day Is Today

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
It's that day again!
While Caesar warned "Beware the Ides of March," today's taxpayers are wary of the "ides of April," that day of final reckoning when Uncle Sam slams the lid on tax collections. In short, it's tax time today; all federal (and state) returns are supposed to be mailed by midnight tonight at the latest.
And the Twin Falls Post Office will cooperate as usual, collecting and postmarking mail from the collection boxes near the Post Office just before midnight, according to Postmaster Fred Sanger.
Many folks have been mailing their tax returns early, however; for the past several weeks, the daily collections of mail have included an increasing number of tax forms, Mr. Sanger said.
For the past week, the Twin Falls Post Office has been filling an entire mail pouch, and sometimes two, with federal returns headed for the regional headquarters in Boise. The pouch is filled in Twin Falls and need not be opened for sorting until it is handed to the tax office in Boise, Mr. Sanger explained.

UNLESS YOU have mailed in your return, you had better run. If it's postmarked by midnight tonight you're safe. After that hour you're a lost soul. Mike Gray, Twin Falls, dashes for the mailbox in a last minute effort which proved successful when he dropped in the envelope—and hoped that it would be postmarked by midnight, like we said. 68 anniversary

THIS ONE SIMPLE step is too often overlooked by Twin Falls residents, resulting in an easy access for the would-be burglar. Mrs. Nancy Trueblood, secretary to the detective division of the Twin Falls Police Department, is pictured here locking her house door, a preventative measure which should become an automatic one for every resident of the city.

Want To Help Burglar?
—Leave Door Unlocked

House burglaries in Twin Falls are on the rise, and a good share of them could be averted if residents would just lock their doors.

Capt. Tini Qualls of the Twin Falls Police Department detective division today released figures on burglaries which occurred during the first three months of 1970, compared to those of the past two years.

During January, February and March of this year there were 85 burglaries within the city limits and 28 of these were resident burglaries. Capt. Qualls said 18 of these homes were entered through unlocked doors or windows and three appeared to have been entered by use of a key. Only in five of the burglaries was any force used — one was entered through a broken window and four through open doors.

Residents leaving their homes unlocked, Lt. Qualls said, not only tends to make things easier for the thief to enter, but when a burglary does occur, makes the officers' job harder. He said when a house is carefully entered, there is always some evidence left behind. When a burglar slips in the easy way, there often is little or no evidence to use in investigating the burglary.

In January, February and March of 1969, there were 11 house burglaries in the city and in the same period of 1969, there were 15, showing a gradual increase which this year has jumped up by 11.

In the first three months this year, the 85 business, auto and house burglaries resulted in a reported loss of $13,817.29, of which about 25 per cent has been recovered. Taken from homes were coin collections, firearms, cameras, liquor, food and other items.

No one is safe from the house burglar, Capt. Qualls said. Those homes entered range from lower class to affluent. Preventative and cooperative measures which can be taken by Twin Falls residents were cited by Capt. Qualls:

1. When leaving your house, even if only for a short period, secure all window and door locks.
2. If leaving your home for any length of time, notify the police department. Patrolmen will make periodic checks on your house.
3. If you discover an item missing from your home, immediately notify the police department. Time is important in solving crimes.
4. After police have been notified, do not handle or move any items in your house. What may look like nothing to the average eye can become an important clue to an experienced investigator.

The Pointed Lessons

Whatever former Ambassador Sargent Shriver decides to do about running for governor of Maryland, he is getting some pertinent instruction in the art of politics.

ANDREW TULLY

It's Politics

WASHINGTON—Politics and only politics is in his mind. In its short-sighted fashion it also is too quick to call defeat victory's name.

him to a whispering campaign of mischievous sneer. Murray Chotiner, President Nixon's expert in the black art of general calamity, put it succinctly to a group of Republicans at a recent strategy session.

Rowdies

The Supreme Court of the United States unanimously has ruled that judges may preserve the dignity of their courts by binding, gagging or removing obstreperous defendants determined to mock the court with outrageous conduct.

In a decision not involving the trial of the Chicago Seven, the high court placed its stamp of approval upon actions taken by Judge Hoffman to control the behavior of the defendants.

future defendants remains to be seen, but it is probable that attorneys will be guided by their understanding of the principle that the courts have the right as well as the duty of taking adequate steps to prevent deliberate defiance of the judicial system.

Controversy over the years-long contempt sentences will continue regardless of the eventual outcome. Severe punishment in this instance might well prove a deterrent to future deliberate efforts to upset the composure of the courts.

If such efforts are allowed to persist without severe restraints and punishment, the treason against the judicial process would be complete. Therefore, the Supreme Court stated:

"The flagrant disregard in the courtroom of elementary standards of proper conduct should not and cannot be tolerated. We believe trial judges confronted with disruptive, contumacious, stubbornly defiant defendants, must be given sufficient discretion to meet the circumstances in each case."

That the decision will solve the whole problem is too much to hope for, as bombings of police stations and courthouses show.

Joint Lakes Study

The most ambitious program to control pollution in the Great Lakes will get underway next year when 200 scientists from Canada and the United States pool their collective talents to study the effects of pollution on the lakes and such related topics as the ability of the lakes to spawn snowstorms.

Lake Superior will be the prime target of the study, which will take five years and be financed by $10 million contributed equally by the United States and Canada. In itself, the International Field Year for Great Lakes studies will do little to stem the flow of polluted materials into the lakes.

The study is planned to learn as much about the effects of pollution as possible, and the ability of the lakes to absorb foreign material.

After that knowledge has been gained, an intelligent assault on the causes of pollution will be possible.

This is a reasonable approach, if the study is not so prolonged that what the scientists are hoping to save will already have been destroyed.

MR. SPECTATOR

Salt Of The Earth

Experts inform us that some seven or eight million tons of sodium chloride — which is just plain, old common rock salt — and calcium chloride are sprinkled on streets and highways in the United States every winter.

But while salt is one of the cheapest and most effective means of removing snow, it also removes trees, shrubs and grass where it is splashed onto the roadside by passing vehicles.

In addition to harming vegetation, it also corrodes automobiles, helps create potholes and eats into concrete, marble and granite.

So when your grass starts to grow this year and you see a sort of head ridge along the edge of the walk, just remember back to the days when you sprinkled salt on that sidewalk.

CATALOG

F. C. Sheneberger had an interesting experience the other day. He opened his postoffice box and in it, among other items, was a Sears catalog which had been mailed from Seattle.

Now here's where the experience comes in. The catalog — from Seattle — had been mailed to a guy by the name of J. C. Seidensticker of Twin Bridges, Mont., 59764.

'Twin Falls' Zip, as you know, is 83301.

But in talking to Mr. Spectator, Mr. Sheneberger came to the conclusion that he received the catalogue for one specific reason.

Remember, now, that the names are different, the towns are different and the Zip Codes are different.

Only item that matched was the P.O. Box Number. Both men have Box No. 293.

Which all proves that if you look long enough you'll find a good reason for your mail going astray!

"There must be some mistake, Mr. Ambassador. It was nice of you to invite me, but I never saw you before."

Shriver was a bit taken aback by this blunt candor, but smoothly passed it off, offering Mixner a drink and expressing an earnest desire to have a talk with him.

To Help Burns

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Information on cold water treatment for minor burns would be appreciated. I find it very successful but have some questions.

- 1-How soon should the cold information be used to be effective?
2-For how many minutes must it be applied?
3-Is tap water effective or must it be icy cold?
4-Does it actually reduce severity of a burn?

The first time I tried it I had burned my arm on an iron boiler. I expected a huge blister, but none appeared and the injury healed rapidly and left no mark at all.—Mrs. T.W.

I've recommended the "water treatment" for burns before, having been told by some surgeons who specialize in treating burns that it was the most effective first aid known.

1-The sooner you use it after a burn, the better; after blistering has developed, you may still get some relief but not as much.

2-Use until pain stops. Sometimes for an hour or so.

3-The experts tell me that they consider ordinary tap water best, that ice water isn't any better and may not even be as good. Just plain cool water.

4-I don't know if there's proof that the "water treatment" actually reduces the severity of the burn but am inclined to believe it does. At least it stops the pain.

At a very minimum, it prevents further damage to the skin. Burned skin is damaged skin. It should be handled as gently as possible. Keeping the burn in water does just that.

And it keeps people from smearing the burn with butter, grease, or other such stuff which does no good — and the process of spreading it on (and later taking it off) further damages the skin.

The treatment is of utter simplicity. Just put the burned hand, arm, or whatever, in a container of water (pan, tub, etc.) just as it comes from the tap.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend says oranges are acid and grapefruit aren't, meaning I suppose that one gives a person an acid condition and the other doesn't.

I have always thought that both give an alkaline condition. Which is correct?—D.F.P.

You are far closer to the right answer than your friend is. Both oranges and grapefruit, of course, are acidulous to begin with. After being digested, both have an alkaline ash or residue.

But neither has any bearing on an "acid condition," which is a rather meaningless term used to mean whatever the person using it wants it to mean. A true "acid condition," as so much acidity in the blood, is a serious condition, not controlled by what you eat.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the book "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Times-News, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and mailing.

"He's playing Indian. THAT'S what he's doing in there!"

Clean-Up Campaign Is Slated

HEYBURN—Plans for the annual cleanup campaign in the City of Heyburn are announced by Mayor Harold Hurst. Earl Rose was named chairman at the last council meeting and a date will be announced later. George Plew, Scoutmaster of the troop sponsored by the Elks Lodge, asked to participate during the campaign by donating 10 hours physical labor.

The underground irrigation project for this year is near completion. Two new pumps for low pressure will be installed with one in the Stone Addition and the other on 6 and 21 Street.

Jerry Haxby, of the Zoning Committee, and Ellery McClung, city building inspector, discussed zoning plans.

The city is adopting a new building code and all building permits must be approved by Mr. McClung 24-hours prior to construction start.

Because of vandalism at the city park, councilmen voted to place a clock on the large center light, which now will go off at curfew. Twenty pine trees were planted at the park last month.

A portion of a street on the North of Oscar Egbert's house will be closed.

The city will sponsor a Heyburn city team this year on the American Legion Baseball league.

Mayor Harold Hurst announced the city is drawing up a new city beer ordinance concerning license fees to comply with the State.

Science Center Is Big Drawing Card

Students from Parma High School in Western Idaho will visit the Herrett Arts and Science Center Thursday and take a three-hour tour of the museum and observatory facilities.

Although there is nothing unusual about the tour, Norman Herrett, founder of the center, reported, the distance the 30 to 40 students have to travel "makes the event interesting."

He said groups come from throughout the Northwest to tour the center, with each group hearing lectures from Magic Valley students, many of them younger than the students they are talking to.

where the students are given a short but detailed outline of the science of astronomy.

There are no school tours through the summer months. This gives Mr. Herrett and his student lecturers time to train more students. But during a tour year as many as 10,000 students will visit the center.

"It's all for education," Mr. Herrett said. "The lecturers learn how to teach and how to speak in public, and the students who visit the center learn about civilizations other than our own."

Henry Ford Visits Russian Factory

MOSCOW (UPI)—Henry Ford II conferred with two Soviet ministers Tuesday and visited an automobile factory as the guest of the Soviet Committee on Science and Technology.

It was not immediately disclosed whether Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai V. Patolchev or Auto Industry Minister Alexander Tarasov made any proposals for buying U.S. vehicles or automotive knowhow.

Officials traveling with Ford said they expected some Soviet proposal along that line during Ford's visit.

County Planning Board members also are working with Twin Falls City officials in the selection of a new land-fill site somewhere south of Twin Falls, which can become a joint county and city project.

City Manager Jean Millar met with the group to explain county approval is needed if the city's request for land is to be approved by the Bureau of Land Management. A site at McMasters Flat had been selected by the city, but under lengthy discussion it was suggested the Hub Butte area might be a better location. Both sites will be toured by city and county officials before a decision is reached. Both proposals are BLM lands.

1950 Boom In Births Noted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Numbers of parents are of the rise, reflecting the birth boom of the 1950s.

The National Industrial Conference Board estimates that between now and 1980, the parent population will increase by 23 per cent. The pace is faster than during any comparable period since World War II. By 1980, nearly three out of every five families, totalling 35.5 million, will have a child living at home.

State To Finance 'Stomps, Dances'

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—The Oklahoma Senate passed and sent to the House the annual "stomp, dance and festival" bill Tuesday.

The bill allocates $63,200 for 60 stomps, dances and celebrations around the state, including such appropriations as $500 for the "Hoosier Day" celebration at Broken Arrow and $250 for a "Dime Dugger" celebration at Little Sahara Park.

Passage of the measure usually indicates the legislature has about run out of work, and is ready to adjourn.

New Federal Program Aimed At Getting Veterans Out Of Ghettos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is about to start a new program aimed at breaking a chain of ignorance which returns poorly educated veterans to ghettos they left for service in Vietnam. Studies find that unless the veterans from hard-core ghettos go back to school, they will end up just about where they started, with little or no prospects for better jobs than before their military service. Studies by the Senate Labor Committee also turned up what was described as disappointing—ly low use of educational provisions of the GI Bill of Rights. A much lower proportion of Vietnam veterans has been applying for college benefits than veterans of the Korean War or World War II. One reason was presumed to be the level of educational benefits paid by the government during a time of soaring college costs. A single veteran going to college got an allowance of only $130 a month to pay for tuition, books and living costs. President Nixon proposed increasing the monthly allowance—from the basic $130 a month to $147 a month. The House figured that wasn't enough and boosted it to $165, later to $170.

The Senate, however, felt the same level of help should be given to Vietnam veterans that Korean and World War II veterans received and voted for a basic allowance of $190. The ensuing stalemate was finally broken in a House-Senate conference committee, which compromised on a $175 figure. Caught up in the stalemate—and part of it—was the program aimed at school dropouts.

The Senate adopted three amendments, sponsored by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., which

Lessons Of History Lurking In Wings At Soviet-U. S. Talks

VIENNA (UPI)—The ironies and lessons of history will be lurking in tiny shadows when Soviet and American negotiators open the strategic arms limitation (SALT) talks here Thursday.

For one thing, the talks will open almost 25 years to the day since Soviet troops liberated Austria from the Nazis—and began 10 years of occupation still remembered vividly by every Austrian. Moscow has revived those memories by housing its SALT delegation in a hotel in Baden, a resort south of Vienna where its occupation headquarters were located.

The ironies are hardly less poignant for the American team. The United States has chosen as its headquarters the Strudlhof Palais, a yellow and white stucco palace around the corner from the American embassy. It was in this palace that its then resident, Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister Count Leopold Berchtold, signed the ultimatum for Serbia that started World War I.

Good Omens, Too That war led both to America's emergence as a world power and to the Bolshevik revolution in Russia. The end result of those two seminal events of the 20th century will top the agenda when America and Russia sit down April 16 to discuss whether—and how—to curb weapons of destructive power undreamed of in Count Berchtold's day.

Vienna also can provide good omens for the talks. The Congress of Vienna, in 1814-15, established a European order after the Napoleonic wars that preserved the continent's peace for a half century. Exactly 140 years later, the United States and Russia signed the Austrian-Soviet Treaty of 1956 that ended the four-power occupation here—to the continuing amazement of the Austrians—and established Austrian independence. The 15th anniversary of the document will be celebrated May 15, while the SALT talks are still going on.

Delegations List Prerequisites Preparations for the talks are going forward. The Soviet and American embassies will be the scene of the talks—as they were for the preliminary SALT negotiations in Helsinki—and security officials from both sides have been here to check arrangements. Interior ministry sources said both sides presented a "long list of detailed requests" on protection of the two embassies, to preserve secrecy for the talks. In addition, he said, the Americans have laid down strict instructions—including the "distance desks must be from walls—to prevent tapping. The Strudlhof, which was chosen for its proximity to the embassy, is owned now by Bawag, the Austrian trade union bank, and is used by the Intellectual Club of the Austrian Socialist Party.

The major condition set by the Russians was—that their hotel should have a Turkish bath and that they have the hotel to themselves. They finally found it in Baden, about 15 miles from Vienna. The American delegation in Helsinki claimed it was cramped in the small embassy there. The U.S. embassy here is larger—but so is the delegation, which has swollen from 35 to about 70 persons. Hence the decision to expand into the Strudlhof.

Continuing Until July The talks here are expected to last three months, until about July 10, then take a summer break and resume in the autumn in Helsinki. Austrian officials, who lobbied long and hard to get the SALT talks here, have reserved hotel rooms and working space for 400 to 600 foreign newsmen expected to flock here for the opening of the talks. Soviet and American officials already have indicated that the news policy which prevailed in Helsinki—in effect, no news—will be adhered to here. So few of the newsmen are expected to stay in Vienna after the first week.

This is just as well from the

Truckers Magazine Is Being Published In Glens Ferry

GLENS FERRY — The 5TH WHEEL, a truckers' and truck stop operator's magazine, has moved into Glens Ferry this week. Foster Young, publisher, announces the publication has grown in circulation to 15,000 from its beginnings in September of last year.

For the time being, the publication is sharing the offices of the Glens Ferry Gazette. Printed in Boise, the office of the 5TH WHEEL had been in Bliss until the move to Glens Ferry. The Young family will soon be moving here, too.

The first eight-page newspaper-styled publication of the 5TH WHEEL appeared nationally last October, but by the end of the year grown to exceed 5,000 in circulation and been converted to a glossy full-color magazine by January.

Space Program Future Now Appears Clouded

By EDWARD K. DELONG
UPI Space Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston—The explosion of a high pressure oxygen tank aboard Apollo 13 on the way to the moon Monday left the future of the Apollo program up in the air. The questions start with what happened—what triggered the most tense night in the history of U.S. men in space.

That one may never be answered. Engineers must depend on data radioed to earth by instruments aboard the spaceship, because astronauts James A. Lovell, Fred Haise and John L. Swigert will jettison the service section where the blast took place so they can safely re-enter earth's atmosphere. But an intensive review already has started. And until the Space Agency reaches some conclusions on what took place, future moonflight schedules remain in doubt.

The next landing flight, Apollo 14, might be delayed past its scheduled October launch date. Apollo 13's $375 million landing flight—the most difficult yet planned, and the first aimed toward the foothills of the lunar highlands where scientists had hoped to get the most material ever seen by man—must be called a failure because none of its prime goals will be achieved.

That leaves six more scheduled landings. The Space Agency must now sit down with scientists and go through the painful process of discarding some lunar targets and revising plans that run through 1974. The scientists are bound to be unhappy about it. There are two bright spots, of a sort, however. —The explosion could have come at a worse time—on the way back from the moon next week, if the landing had taken place. Then it would have spelled certain death for Lovell, Haise and Swigert, who would have been without the landing craft Aquarius which now is serving as a "lifeboat" source of oxygen and electricity. And the emergency should prove to those scientists who

Medina To Testify At Hearing Snowmobile Registration Fee Brings In $19,242

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House armed services investigating subcommittee has subpoenaed Capt. Ernest L. Medina and five other men to testify today on the alleged My Lai massacre. The subcommittee, headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., reportedly issued the subpoenas over Army objections. It planned to question the three officers and three enlisted men about the alleged massacre of Vietnamese civilians in 1968. Five to seven days of hearings were scheduled.

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's snowmobile registration law, which became effective last November, has garnered $19,242 for county snowmobile funds. The Department of Law Enforcement said Tuesday the law provides that half the annual $5 fee for each machine will be given to the treasurer of the county where the snowmobile was registered for development of local snowmobile activities. Jack F. Farley, Boise, Director of the Motor Vehicle Division, said the search and rescue fund receives $2 of the fee and his division receives 50 cents from each registration. Funds collected between last October and February came from 7,697 registered snowmobiles, with Fremont County leading in registrations with 962. Farley said search and rescue funds are used to reimburse State and local units which carry out rescue operations. Reimbursement is limited to $1,000 for any single mission and the claim must be filed through the county commissioners or state agency with the law enforcement commissioner for approval.

Hebert, promising not to prejudice any court-martial stemming from the case, clamped a tight lid on the proceedings to prevent any unauthorized leaks. He distributed a brief announcement that merely listed the names of the witnesses.

Mutual Funds Are Growing In Number NEW YORK (UPI)—Ninety-six mutual funds began operation during 1969, despite declining stock market prices, lifting the total number from 392 to 488, according to Wiesenberg Financial Services, reporter on the mutual fund and financial services industries. At the end of 1969, the 488 mutual funds listed in "Mutual Funds Panorama," a semi-annual Wiesenberg publication, had total net assets of $52.6 billion. The 392 mutual funds listed as of December 31, 1968, however, had total net assets of $36.9 billion.

Hebert said during the weekend the witnesses would be subpoenaed. Subcommittee sources claimed Tuesday that subpoenas were necessary because the Army refused to supply the men. Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor contended that their appearance before the subcommittee might prejudice the courts-martial.

Teachers To Face Charges

Los Angeles (UPI)—Officials of the nation's second largest school system said they would seek contempt of court citations today against striking teachers who did not return to their classrooms. Jerry F. Halverson, school board attorney, said the district would move to bring a show cause order against leaders and members of the United Teachers of Los Angeles which represents 22,000 of the district's 25,000 teachers. UTLA President Robert Ransom Mas maintained teachers are not as concerned about their wage demands as they are about forcing the state legislature to allocate more funds to improve classroom conditions. The UTLA earlier rejected a five per cent wage increase. However, state lawmakers said they felt if the state met the teachers' demands other strikes would follow.

Inquest Secrets Continue

BOSTON (UPI)—Secret documents from the Mary Jo Kopechne inquest, which were to be released to the public today, may be censured in months of legal maneuvering, authoritative sources said today. The latest roadblock to airing the testimony of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, in whose car Miss Kopechne died last summer, and others at the inquest involves a dispute over who has the right to reproduce and sell the inquest documents, which have been impounded.

Air West Asks For Routes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Air West announced Tuesday it has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to re-open three route cases—the Pacific Northwest, California, Phoenix-Seattle and Portland non-stop and service to Salt Lake City. "Previous CAB examiner decisions in these cases generally rejected Air West's applications for these routes on grounds of poor financial condition and lack of untended management," the firm said in filing to re-open the cases Monday in Washington, D.C.

Law Proposed To Curb Stock Action

MANILA (UPI)—The Securities and Exchange Commission has proposed a law limiting the number of stock exchanges in the country to protect investors. "The proliferation of stock exchanges will bring about cut-throat and ruinous competition resulting in disparity of prices of the same issues in different exchanges," the commission said. At present there are two stock exchanges in Manila. Several groups are planning to set up stock markets in suburban cities.

Dies

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Joseph O. Hixon, who spent 34 years studying solar phenomena at Mt. Wilson Observatory and was credited with gathering much of the data now available on sunspots, died Tuesday at Queen of Angels Hospital. He was 74.

Florida Busing Starts

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—Court-ordered desegregation went off smoothly Tuesday in the Manatee County school system temporarily taken over last week by Gov. Claude Kirk in a fight against busing. Kirk took over the system for nearly a week in an effort to thwart desegregation which involved busing of 2,600 students. He ended up in a tangle with the federal courts and withdrew in the face of a contempt fine of $10,000 a day. The school buses rolled Tuesday. In fact some of them arrived at their destinations ahead of schedule. "Everything went smoothly," said Supt. Jack Davidson. "It was really smooth. A couple of buses were too early and those schedules will have to be adjusted."

Call For Draftees Is Down

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department announced Tuesday a draft call for 15,000 men in May—4,000 less than the calls for the three preceding months. But Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said he would not "read any significance into this drop." He noted that draft calls fluctuate in order to match the number of men leaving the service. All men called up in May will be inducted into the Army, the announcement said. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said recently he expected draft calls this year would total "210,000 or below" or almost 18,000 men per month. Last year, the armed services inducted 290,000 men.

Blackmun Is Seen As Liberal, Conservative

By United Press International
Federal Appeals Court Judge Harry A. Blackmun, president Nixon's newest nominee to the U.S. Supreme Court, has a reputation as a strict constructionist who is moderate on civil rights and strict on crime. He says he's been called both a liberal and a conservative and doesn't know which he is. "I've tried to call them as I've seen them," he told reporters a few minutes after the White House announced he is being nominated to the high court. In a recent case, Blackmun joined other judges of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in an unanimous decision that building trades unions in St. Louis, Mo., were keeping out black workers and had to take steps to integrate. In 1967 he rejected a Negro couple's complaint against a subdivision for refusing to sell them a house but was reversed by the Supreme Court which held in a landmark ruling that an 1866 civil rights law provided for "open housing."

Odd Law Forbids Eating In Church

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's against the law to eat peanuts in church in Massachusetts. And in Houston, Tex., it's illegal to sell rye bread, goose liver or humberger cheese on Sunday. It goes to show that an innocent snack may be illegal, according to American Grocers News. Some good manners are built into a law or two. In Hammond, Ind., for example, it's against the law to drop watermelon seeds on the street.

Velma Guyer Slates Soprano Solo Recital Sunday In Twin Falls

Velma Kay Guyer, Twin Falls, a senior music major at the College of Idaho, will be presented in a public recital Sunday at 3 p.m. in the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Auditorium.

The soprano solo recital is being co-sponsored by the Twin Falls Music Club and the College of Southern Idaho and is dedicated to National Music Week, according to Mrs. David R. Mead, Twin Falls, who has made arrangements for the program.

Miss Guyer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Guyer, 2118 Sherry Drive. She has studied voice for the last eight years with such noted instructors as Marian Marsh, San Francisco College for Women; Mrs. Mead and Charles O. Rose, professor of voice at the College of Idaho, her current instructor. She has attended the Sun Valley Music Camp.

Last year, Miss Guyer was selected to sing in the Central City Opera, Central City, Colo. There she performed in Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" and Puccini's "Tosca."

Miss Guyer is a former student at the College of Southern Idaho.

The program will include "Care Selva" and "Alleluja" by Handel; three Mozart arias, "In Uomini", from the opera "Così fan tutti" and "Vedrai Carino" and "Non Mi Dir," both from the opera, "Don Giovanni."

"Apres Un Reve" by G. Faure; "O Ted Wie Bitter" by Brahms; "Corpus Christi Carol" by Benjamin Britten; "Peace" by Bennie Beach; "Under the Willow Tree" from Samuel Barber's opera "Vanessa"; and "Three Mystical Songs" by Alec Rowley, "Three Jolly Shepherds," "The Prophecy" and "The Birthday."

Frank R. Smith, Boise, program accompanist, will perform a section of the program.

Literary Arts Society Has Guest Night Program

The LeLivre et La Plume Literary Arts Society recently held its Guest Night program at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Webb. Mrs. Del Timpon reviewed the book, "Brigham Young at Home," by Clarissa Young Spencer, a daughter of Brigham Young. In this entertaining book, one sees the affection of a strong man for his large family and the action and interaction of the personalities of his 16 wives and 56 children. The author's sketch was given by Mrs. Lynn Peeling. The guided thought by Mrs. Webb. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Larry Anderson, Mrs. Gordon Beckstead, Mrs. Mel VanNoy, Mrs. Allen Bastow, Mrs. Nolan Victor and Mrs. Ben Call. Special guests were Mrs. Gary Allen, Mrs. Steve Lund, Mrs. Lynn Kerr, Mrs. Keith Stocking, Judith Nash, Mrs. Clint Evans, Mrs. Lawrence Hunter and Mrs. James E. Ebert.

Go-To-Church

Sunday Stated
Go-to-church Sunday is April 26. It was announced during the recent meeting of Bethel No. 43, International Order of Job's Daughters, at the Masonic Temple.

There will be a mother-daughter breakfast before the church service. All special guests were introduced and welcomed.

Debbie Fuller gave the librarian's report, two poems, "The Life Tree" and "Only Inches Away." The next meeting is April 30.

Panel Featured For Fairfield Extension Club

FAIRFIELD—A panel on "Teen-agers" presented the program for the April meeting of the Prairie Homemakers Extension Club.
Mrs. LaMar Duffin, Mrs. Dan Gillette and Mrs. Burton Thorne, all Shoshone, gave some of the problems, responsibilities and rules for parents of teen-agers and some suggestions on how to cope with them. Mrs. Duffin brought out the fact that one-half of the mothers today had their first child before they were twenty. Mrs. Thorne stated that teen-agers should have definite rules of conduct to make them good citizens of the future. Mrs. Jay Fowles, home demonstration agent, introduced the women at their topics.
Plans were made for a recipe booklet to be made of favorite and prize winning recipes.
The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Kelly Thomason, Hill City, with Mrs. Keith Strom as co-hostesses.

Nellie Robbins Bolster Plan July Wedding

Miss Robbins is a 1968 graduate of Twin Falls High School and is attending the College of Southern Idaho. Mr. Bolster is a 1966 graduate of Twin Falls High School and is attending Boise State College. A July 17 wedding is planned at the First Presbyterian Church.

Books Shown At Preceptor Chapter Meet

BUHL—Mrs. Paul Kalbfleisch showed books written by Joan Walsh Anglund, well-known author of children's books, when member of Preceptor Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Mrs. Jack Joslin.
Mrs. Anglund, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Kalbfleisch, also illustrates her books. Mrs. Kalbfleisch displayed dolls which illustrated the books.

Plans were discussed for Founder's Day. The group made plans for a benefit dance to be held April 25 in the Buhl National Guard Armory. Music will be furnished by the Allan DeVries orchestra, sponsored by the Sun Valley Musician's association. Proceeds from the dance will go toward buying uniforms for the legion baseball team. Boys from the Buhl, Filer and Castleford communities will be eligible for the teams and $700 is needed for uniforms and equipment.

Literary Guild Hears Review

By Mrs. Kiesig

Aurion Kiesig, dressed in an authentic black silk Chinese robe, reviewed the book, "Fifth Chinese Daughter," during the recent meeting of the Literary Art Guild at the home of Lucille Harner.
Mary Salisbury and Mrs. Harner were responsible for creating an interesting and ancient Chinese setting for the evening with their displays and decorations from China.

Lois Grieve Is Bride Of John Mitchell

GOODING—The Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Portland, was the setting for the recent wedding of Lois Janet Grieve, formerly of Gooding, and John Harvey Mitchell, Portland, Ore.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Grieve, Gooding, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie O. Nelson, Portland.
Pastor Theodore Kriefall officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Solists were Brenda Reah, accompanied by Dennis Gano. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white peau de sole satin wedding gown with a full train attached at the empire waistline. The fitted waistline was accented with an applique of floral lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins centering the flowers.

The re-embroidered lace was repeated on the bodice, the front panel of the skirt and sleeves. The entire hem of the skirt and train was bordered with lace re-embroidered.

Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a headpiece fashioned from illusion leaves embroidered with pearls and rhinestones and topped with a flower of pearls.
The bride carried a bouquet of white Phalaenopsis orchids with satin streamers trimmed with sequins.
The bride wore a diamond and pearl-avalanche-bridal-loom gift from her grandmother.

Maid of honor was Ann Westendorf, Maryhurst, Ore. formerly of Gooding.
Bridesmaids were Mrs. Devey Newman, Eugene, Ore. and Gayle Rodgers, cousin of the bride, Gresham, Ore.

Ushers were Jim Casper, Tacoma, Wash.; Ed McCulloch, Forest Grove, Ore.; and John Grieve, brother of the bride, Moscow and Gooding.
The ring bearer was Mitchell John Cooper, namesake of the bridegroom.

A reception at the church was held after the wedding ceremony and was catered by the women of the church.
Cindy Weher, Gladstone, Ore., was in charge of the guest book.

The reception table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with the fourtered white wedding cake which was topped with a cluster of satin wedding bells rimmed with seed pearls and accented with tulle and Lilies-of-the-Valley. Pastel mint green roses and silver-leaves decorated the cake.

A garland of turquoise and white pompon mums and greenery circled the cake at the base.

Mrs. Ethel Landfare, grandmother of the bridegroom, served coffee from the silver coffee service.
The bridegroom's cakes—baked by the bridegroom's mother, were wrapped in moss green net, and tied with turquoise yarn and Lilies of the Valley. The table was lighted with turquoise and green tapers held in silver candelabra.

A large crystal punch bowl at a separate round table covered with white lace held the green wedding punch. It was served by Mrs. Vere Grieve, grandmother of the bride, and Linda Fleegeer, Portland.
The cake was served by Mrs. Marvin Anderson-Jerome, and Mrs. Will Critchell, Mountain Home, cousins of the bride. Also helping serve were Mrs. Galen Rodgers, Grisham, Ore., and Mrs. Harold Sisson, Nyssa, Ore., cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Thomas Is President Of Area Auxiliary

GLENN'S FERRY—At the recent meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to F.W. Post No. 3616, Mrs. Elsie Thomas was elected president, with Mrs. Jocelyn Grow, senior vice president, and Mrs. Dorothy Ickes, junior vice president.

Mrs. Lucille Mitchell was elected treasurer, and Mrs. Zoe Hull, secretary. Both held these positions this year. Mrs. Phyllis Young was chosen chaplain; Mrs. Sadie Wheeler, guard; Mrs. Liska Owings, conductress, and Mrs. Maxine Robertson, trustee.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gladys Watkins, assisted by co-hostess, Mrs. Mae Burgess.

DUP Lesson Is Presented

MAITA—Mrs. Myrtle Hutchison was hostess to members of the Margaret-Martha Camp of Daughters of the Utah Pioneers at her home recently. Mrs. Harvey Light presented the lesson, "The Mormons from Scotland and Wales."
Mrs. Glen Parke, captain, was in charge of the business meeting and Mrs. Grant Gummell gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. David Hutchison read a history of Levi Wheeler, great-grandfather of her husband. Members of the group discussed a project to mark unmarked graves in the area.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I think the world has gone mad with fashions for men. It's bad enough that men are now sporting velvet and ruffles and crazy color combinations in shirts and ties. But how about those skin-tight pants, Abby? The pants are so tight that they're made without pockets.
Where is a man supposed to carry his wallet, keys, handkerchief and pocket comb?
WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: In his purse, Abby!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our early 60's and have had a very happy marriage, but now my doctor tells me that I have an incurable disease and will soon be a helpless invalid, and I'll probably linger on for years as a "vegetable," no good to my husband, or anyone else.

My husband is healthy, handsome, and virile, and I haven't had the heart to tell him the awful news that he is tied to a doomed wife who will bring him nothing but misery and anguish for the next few years.

I love my husband too much to ruin his life this way, and am seriously considering getting a divorce and setting him free to seek new happiness with someone who can be a real wife to him.

What should I do, Abby? I would also welcome suggestions from your readers—especially the men. Thank you all.
I'M DOOMED

DEAR I.M.: Ask your doctor to tell your husband, in your presence, what he has told you about your condition. Then don't try to second guess your husband's reactions, or blueprint his future, however well-intentioned. You won't "ruin" your husband's life—you may enrich it, because, after a long and happy marriage, he may want to put more into that marriage now than he ever has before.
Now, ask yourself this: "If your husband were dying, would you permit him to divorce you in order that you could seek happiness with another man?" I doubt it.

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago, when we were married, we decided to have four children. Three the years we were blessed with three healthy sons, and on sharing in the happiness of four friends who had adopted an infant, an idea grew in my mind.

Since it is true that no many babies are born out of wedlock, and the world population is increasing so rapidly, why should we bring still another child into the world when there are so many children who desperately need the love and care of a family—truly the right of ALL children?

We made an appointment with a licensed adoption agency in our state. All we needed was a medical checkup, showing us to be physically fit, three character references and a letter stating our religion. In this state, the adoptive parents must be the same religion as the baby's natural mother!

We were interviewed both at home and at the agency and within two months we had a beautiful, healthy, alert 8 months old daughter!

Please pass this on to others, Abby. I think "natural motherhood" is vastly overrated. HAPPY MOTHER!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FRANKLY FRANK": Keep your lip zipped. No one wants an honest opinion of a horse after he's already bought it!

POLLY'S POINTERS Clean Tapestry Picture With Cellulose Sponge

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY:—Do tell Mrs. D. M. that I have an antique tapestry picture which I clean by dry-rubbing—very carefully, with a soft cellulose sponge. Change the sponge as it gets dirty. Meticulous perfectly even around the edges.
—DOHIS

DEAR GIRLS:—Be careful to use a short hitting mallet to avoid rubbing the dirt in instead of off.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY:—The three-foot framed tapestry that has been hanging on my wall for 40 years is kept clean with ordinary wallpaper cleaner.—MRS. A. B.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY:—How does one open her home to visiting grandchildren without them tearing it apart? I have a very contented, then when they leave my helper impatiently restores the house to order. I figure how my budget will stretch to replace the broken and spilled things. Children of my children, warm and sweet, I do want them near me but how do I manage?
—GRANDMOTHER

DEAR POLLY:—Having just read about a fire that was started by children playing with matches, I thought some mothers might be interested in the way I cured my son of this 23 years ago. When he was 3, I found him playing with matches for the third time and spanking, talking and sitting on a chair had no effect. I did the following which worked so well he would never touch a match to the trash until he was a Boy Scout and had to light a fire.

Buy three or four big boxes of old-fashioned wooden matches. Go outside. If possible, but if not turn on the kitchen fan, fill a bucket with water and next to it place a metal wastebasket. Give the child one box and tell him he is to light all of the matches. You sit nearby and watch all the time, thinking him light one match at a time, put it in the water, and then put the used match in the wastebasket. The first box will be fun, the second not so much fun and by the third the child will be begging to sit down or quit. Stick by your guns and make him stand and light all the matches, one by one. This takes time and patience for mother but is a sure cure and maybe a lifesaver.—MARY LOU are displaying their work in the south hallway. Among artistic endeavors on display are from left: A basic geometric design project by freshman Sherrie Rieger of Twin Falls. The magenta and black three dimensional figures are arranged on two equal black cubes; a triptych or three canvas oil painting by Pat Heinemann, Twin Falls. The colorful, odd shaped painting is one of many modernistic paintings included in the display; a long abstract painting by Phil Marley of Jerome, who has many and varied abstract canvases in the show; and a clay sculpture by Diana Hong of San Francisco. The self-portrait is the only clay sculpture included in the showing. The display will be up through April 10 and is open for public viewing during normal class hours and when special events are scheduled at the Fine Arts Center. Mike Green and LaVar Steel are instructors in the college art department. Many of the paintings, prints, pottery and other items being displayed also are on sale for nominal prices.

Grandmothers Club Meets At Buhl Lincoln Courts

CASTLEFORD — The Castleford Grandmothers Club met recently at the Lincoln Courts, Buhl, with Mrs. Hazel Conrad and Mrs. Frances Langford as hostesses. Mrs. Fred Koch, club president, read a poem, "Grumble Family," followed by the opening prayer given by Mrs. Hazel Brabb. The flag salute was given by the group. Mrs. Koch welcomed the guests, Mrs. Sam Roberts, Mrs. Mamie Swanson, Mrs. Cliff Harris, Wendell, and Mrs. Ernest Fritchard, Twin Falls. Mrs. H. R. Senten, courtesy committee chairman, reported two get-well cards have been sent to Skip Carden and Mrs. Henry Graybeal. One sympathy card and four birthday greetings have been mailed. The club historian, Laura Heller, reported she added clippings and pictures of Fred Koch and his son-in-law, John VanDerwalker, to the club scrapbook. Mrs. One Sample read an article from the Grandmothers Club magazine, "Autumn Leaves." The group voted to contact the Governor to ask him to proclaim the second Sunday in October as National Grandmothers Day in Idaho. Mrs. John Thomas and Mrs. Hazel Brabb reported they have new great-grandsons, and Mrs. Senten announced she has a

Golden Anniversary Observed

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horejs honored them with an open house at the DAV Hall on their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Horejs were married April 5, 1920, in Twin Falls by Judge Duvall in his chambers. They resided at the Buhl until 1935 when they moved to Twin Falls. In 1935 they moved to a farm south of Filer, where they still reside. Their children are Mrs. Murrel (Della Mae) Blades, Jerome, and Francis Horejs, Gerald Horejs and Larry Wayne Horejs, all Twin Falls. Their youngest son, John J. Horejs, died in a plane crash July 1, 1960. The DAV Hall was decorated with gold and white streamers. The refreshment table was covered with white and centered with an anniversary cake decorated in yellow and white roses. Crystal candelabra flanked a white chrysanthemum arrangement presented to the couple by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blades, Filer. Mrs. Gerald Blades poured coffee from a silver service. Mrs. Larry Horejs was in charge of the punch bowl. Cake was served by Mrs. Francis Horejs and two daughters, Valerie and Paula. The gold guest book was signed by 175 guests from Twin Falls, Buhl, Jerome, Shoshone, Mountain Home, Filer, Burley and Utah. A family tree picture was presented to the couple from the families. The picture was painted by Valerie Horejs. Background music was furnished by Gerald Horejs. Mr. Horejs is a veteran of World War I. He served in France, taking part in the skirmishes at St. Mihiel, Meuse Argonne and Chateau Thierry. He was a patient at the base hospital in France for several weeks. He was in Germany for some time after the war and returned to the U. S. as a casualty and received the Purple Heart. He is a member of the Disabled American Veterans, Stradley Chapter No. 5, and the Golden Age Club. Mrs. Horejs is the former Nellie Kacalek of Buhl. She served as a telephone operator during World War I at Richfield. She is a life member of the DAV Auxiliary and a past state commander of the Women of the Moose at the home of Mrs. Virgil Malone. Mrs. Paul McCollum and Mrs. J. T. Craven were hostesses. Mrs. May Meader, friendship chairman, was in charge of the business meeting, with Mrs. Gene Tyner leading the prayer. Mrs. Paul Carlson led the flag salute. Mrs. George McGinnis, secretary, gave the highlights of the previous meeting. Plans were made for the annual spring luncheon to be held May 4, at the home of Mrs. Carlson. A social hour was held and the hostess gifts were presented to Mrs. Gene Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Williams. A large birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Jane Nelson, was served for the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Paul Carlson, Mrs. McCollum, Mrs. Boyd Smith, Mrs. Paul Welch and Mrs. Louis Hoffman.

Woman Electronics Major Attends Idaho State

POCATELLO (ISU) — Attracted to the field of electronics because it is her husband's profession, a 20-year-old brunette from Howe is now the only woman student in the three-year electronics course offered by the Idaho State University School of Vocational-Technical Education. "I'd like to encourage more girls to take electronics; it's not that bad," said Connie Hawley, whose husband, Vance Laren Hawley, is a transmitter engineer for KID-TV. Mr. Hawley, 23, is also from Howe and is a graduate of the ISU electronics course. "I'm just anxious to be working with my husband when I finish school," said the 5 feet 5 inch tall, hazel-eyed Mrs. Hawley. "I got interested in electronics when I got married," she said. "My husband told me I could try one semester and if I didn't like it, I could quit." She is now completing the second year of the three-year course and is the only woman in a class of 25. Graduates receive a certificate.

Social Events

Emanuel Club will meet with Mrs. Harry Sharp at 2 p.m. Friday, with Mrs. Glenn Dosssett as co-hostess. Mrs. John Gilson is in charge of the program. Roll call will be answered with yard or garden ideas. Ascension Guild of the Episcopal Church will meet at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the church for election of officers. A coffee hour will follow. BURLEY — The Burley United Methodist Church WSCS have made plans to hold their semi-annual rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday in the church basement. Anyone wanting to donate items for the sale may leave the items at the church any weekday morning or Thursday anytime during the day.

Annual Plant Sale Slated

CASTLEFORD — Members of the Castleford Petal Pals met at the home of Mrs. David Kinyon and voted to hold their annual plant sale May 9 at the Red Barrel in Castleford. Plants from their gardens, as well as those from greenhouses, will be offered for sale at this time. The hours are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Mrs. Ralph Peterson presented the program, "Planting Seeds In-Doors," and explained how this can be accomplished successfully. She stressed the need for soil sterilization, the use of unused containers for planting. She also explained the use of a top covering of vermiculite to enable the tender plant to come up, and the use of saran wrap covering to conserve the moisture in the initial step in seed planting. Following her tips on seed planting, she conducted a workshop in which the members planted seed they brought to the meeting. Because of the plant sale, there will be no meeting in May.

munds the ace and queen of king and queen and six clubs anything less.

When diamonds is the agreed suit, the response is seven with ace and king, six diamonds with queen or king-queen and six clubs with less, while if clubs is the agreed suit, you just stick with the simple response of seven with two of the top three and six with less.

All this is most complicated and only a few of our readers will be interested. Thus, we are writing this article just for those few.

Playing the simple grand-slam force North cannot afford to bid five no-trump since he only wants to bid seven if his partner holds both ace and king. Playing the advanced form he does bid five no-trump; South responds six spades to show the ace and king and since North has assumed that South holds an eight-card suit he goes right to the grand slam.

"ZAT EES ZE... WHEN DOZARS SWAM... HELIUM... SPORTS ZE FBI GET... SURE THINGS FOR YOU TOO!"

If you start using the grand-slam force with your regular partners you should use it to ask partner to bid seven with two of the three top honors in the agreed suit. Later on you can extend it to derive more information. That is, you can derive more information if the agreed suit is anything but clubs.

The spade suit gives you the greatest possible leeway since your partner can respond with six in any other suit. Thus if spades happens to be the agreed suit your partner will bid seven spades with all three of the top honors, six spades with just two and five hearts with either a ace-queen or king-queen, six diamonds with ace or king and six clubs without either ace or king.

With hearts the agreed suit, seven hearts again shows all three, six hearts the ace and king, six dia-

Makes  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sauce. Pour over hot cooked vegetables (green beans, peas, asparagus, broccoli, green cabbage, cauliflower) or serve with artichokes.

Shrimp-Rice Parisien

Cook  $1\frac{1}{2}$  pounds frozen ready-to-cook shrimp according to package directions. In a large skillet melt  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup (1 stick) butter; stir in 1 crushed clove garlic, 3 tablespoons packaged bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped chives, 2 tablespoons cooking sherry, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley and  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon paprika. Add cooked shrimp; heat over low heat 10-15 minutes. Serve over hot buttered cooked rice.

Spread the Butter Way

Take bread—store bought; homemade, rolls, muffins—any kind. Now spread the butter on thick. It's the extraordinary goodness, the extra flavor of real butter that makes bread very special.

Chicken Magnifique

In clean bag combine  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup regular flour, 1 tsp. salt,  $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. paprika,  $\frac{1}{8}$  tsp. pepper. Add chicken ( $2\frac{1}{2}$ -3 lbs. cut-up); shake to coat. Melt  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter; brown chicken lightly. Place in single layer in shallow baking pan. To butter add  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup lemon juice, 1 Tbsp. instant minced onion,  $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. leaf thyme. Heat 1 minute. Spoon some butter sauce over chicken. Bake at  $350^{\circ}$  F. 45-60 minutes or until tender, basting frequently with sauce.

Continental Butter Cookies

Cream  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter and  $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups sifted confectioner's sugar. Beat in 1 egg and 1 tsp. vanilla. Sift together  $2\frac{1}{2}$  cups sifted regular flour, 1 tsp. each baking soda and cream of tartar and  $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. salt; add to creamed mixture. Chill dough. On floured surface roll dough to  $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch; cut into desired shapes. Bake in preheated  $400^{\circ}$  F. oven 6-8 minutes. Remove to wire rack. Decorate before or after baking. Yield: about 6 dozen.

Chef's Special Sauce

Melt  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup ( $\frac{1}{2}$  stick) butter in a saucepan; add 1 tablespoon each chopped parsley and lemon juice,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon each tarragon leaves, rosemary leaves and dill weed. Makes  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sauce. Pour over hot cooked vegetables (green beans, peas, asparagus, broccoli, green cabbage, cauliflower) or serve with artichokes.

Can a woman from Idaho really cook like a French Chef?

She can if she uses real butter.

One big difference between good cooking and great cooking is butter. Any French Chef will tell you that.

That special flavor of sweet dairy cream is the reason, of course. That's what gives butter its fresh country-morning taste, its delicate fragrance and melting richness. That's why margarine and cooking oils are merely substitutes for butter.

The flavor of butter is one of the secrets that has earned French Chefs their reputation. And it can make you famous too...with your family.

Jerome office; Ozzie H. Jenkins, vice president and manager, Twin Falls office; Mr. Bianco; Vern H. Nelson, manager, Gooding office; Michael J. Malo, assistant vice president and manager, Sun Valley-Ketchum office; and Dale C. Ellis, manager, Richfield office. Mr. Bianco told the officials indications are developing which may forestall a slight easing of the current tight money situation after midyear at the earliest. He predicted a slow reverse in process, however, and said that undersupply of available money remains critical in the nation.

Statewide Clean-Up Is Urged

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson told the first state conference of the Idaho Beautification Council, Inc., today its organizations will be the "front-line troops" in a war on ugliness, litter and trash. "But to support you, I ask that every citizen of the state of Idaho accept active and interested membership on the beautification council. "I never saw a problem yet that 700,000 Idahoans working together couldn't solve," he said. "So I earnestly ask this challenge and responsibility to clean up and maintain a lovely environment."

Driving a Car Is High Adventure in Peru

ONLY A DEDICATED CAR BUFF could identify this well-known automobile which is spending the waning days of its long life as a communal taxi in Lima. It has plenty of company.

By BOB COCHRAN NEA Automotive Editor — LIMA, Peru.—(NEA)—For students of national driving habits, Peru is an incredible laboratory. Motorists here are probably among the most independent people in the hemisphere. Consider first the basic attitude. Says a Peruvian friend, "We drivers are especially alert because we rarely have any idea from which direction an automobile is likely to come. We look left, front and back continuously and still the number of ridiculous accidents is incredible. "I don't know," my friend went on, a battle-weary smile playing lightly on his face, "maybe it's the Latin temperament that makes driving a real adventure."

right front and back continuously and still the number of ridiculous accidents is incredible. "I don't know," my friend went on, a battle-weary smile playing lightly on his face, "maybe it's the Latin temperament that makes driving a real adventure." To perhaps make his point, he took us for an adventure through the Lima suburbs of San Isidro and Miraflores and, sure enough, other cars pressed on both the left and right, stopped abruptly for roadside shopping or perhaps to purchase a newspaper or a banana from legions of vendors clustered at traffic lights. Still, outside the metropolitan area and especially on the roads which slice into the interior jungles and mountains, driving in Peru can be pleasurable because—it is such a fascinating country. The type of vehicle one spots on Peruvian roads can also be fascinating. Opel, Renault, Volkswagens and small Fords are, of course, popular, but so are 1941 Hud-

Time For Living

By Rogers Franklin I'm sure you were as glad as I was to get those social security raises this April. We got a double-header — two checks, one covering the full payment for March; the other for the increases for January and February. But did you — as I did — sort of wonder anew about how they figured out your benefit? This especially hit home when a friend said: "Heck, I've been earning over the maximum benefit shown on those social security tables, but I'm not getting anywhere near the maximum benefit they show!" I took my benefit for granted — but was I entitled to more money? I wasn't sure I could answer that, so I called the folks at the social security office downtown. They sent me a copy of their booklet, "Your Social Security," which has a lot of helpful information, including how you can figure benefits. Here's how it works: Assuming you were born before 1930 (I was wasn't, in our age group), start with the year 1950 and count each year up to (but not including) the year you reach 65 (or a woman). Let's say you're a man who will be 65 this year, so that would be 14 years from 1956 to 1969. The book says the second step is to list the amount of your earnings for all years beginning with 1951. However, you don't count more than the amount on which you paid social security taxes for any given year. This means you don't count more than $3,600 for each year 1951 through 1954; $4,200 for each year 1955 through 1959; $4,800 for each year 1960 through 1965; $6,000 for 1966 and 1967; $7,800 for 1968 and thereafter. Let's say you earned the maximum amounts for each of those years. This would add up to $93,600 for the nineteen-year period. Now, the book says to cross off your list the years of lowest (even no) earnings until the number of years remaining is the same as your answer in step one: the fourteen years, 1956 to 1969. In the example above, you'd cross off the five lowest years (1954 through 1959) which add up to $18,000. That subtracted from $93,600 leaves $75,600. To get your average earnings in this case, divide this by the number of years in step 1 (fourteen). This gives you $5,397.14 as your average earnings for those years.

Tom Tiede reports on the snail's pace of the peace talks in Paris

PARIS (NEA) — It happens every Thursday here. At 10 a.m. tall, beery Stephen Ledogar, 41, of the Foreign Service, joins a dozen colleagues of the United States Embassy, gets into a black limousine and rides up the Champs Elysees to the one-time hotel ballroom where the peace talks are held. Ledogar is late from previous sessions. He has attended almost every session since the Jan. 25, 1969, beginning the missed once when his wife had a baby. For all the good, though, he could have missed many more. And he knows it. Even his taciturn expression and diplomatic manner can't hide his opinion that the peace talks have been futile, stuffy, dull, circuitous and unimpassioned. "Generally," he puts it, "things are just very boring." The U.S. delegation arrives at the talks without incident. When the conference first opened, demonstrators protested the Yank arrival, and hundreds of newsmen engulfed each other in such photographs and quotes. Now the protesters have been banned, and only a few reporters view the comings and goings. Ledogar and the others file into a hotel ballroom, again without incident. The French police, who are on hand to roughhouse any gate crashers, also see to it that opposing delegates are kept at arm's length and out of each other's hair. Cop co-ordinators never arrive at the conference at the same time, and the hotel floor plan, which provides opponents different entrances to the meeting room, insures against hallway confrontations. "We all share a common loathing," Ledogar says "but otherwise, the only time there is any contact between delegations is at the conference table." Such table contact begins promptly at 10:30, inside a large, high-ceilinged, glass-chandellered and ornately draped room. There is little talk as delegates take their seats, which are French-made, modern, chrome and fabric. The "friendly" representatives sit right to a side of an oval table, delegates from the other side sit opposite, their leaders carefully separated to indicate a sovereignty of views and policies. Everyone is dressed in dark suits, white shirts, dark ties. Now and then a delegate will wear a powder blue shirt but it is the only variance. After all, says Ledogar, "diplomats have only just gotten out of the striped pants stage. You can't expect red shirts and bell-bottoms overnight, you know." The mood at the table is hardly bell-bottom. It's somber. There are few smiles, and then only ironic or wry ones. The atmosphere is

"We Must Continue," American Envoy Says—With Clenched-Teeth Courtesy

Televised Sex Education Stirs Storm In England

By TOM CULLEN

LONDON, N. E. A.—Sex education films have found favor with a significant number of school principals and teachers. Over 3,000 primary schools have already bought the radiovision film strips and are using them as part of their curricula. A majority of junior schools are expected to tune in when the TV sex series is shown early this summer.

The lessons consist of three television programs and two radiovision programs (film strips plus tape recordings) to be used in Britain's 21,000 primary schools as supplements to classroom instruction.

They show naked men and women, call attention to anatomical differences, discuss the words in describing conception, gestation and birth. Whatever the outcome of the present controversy the films have aroused, the stork has taken an unmerciful beating. The myths about babies being found under cabbage leaves or gooseberry bushes will never sound the same again.

The TV programs, two of which have been shown to the BBC's regular viewing audiences, have been branded by some as pornographic. The BBC itself has been accused of "rubbing the bloom from the cheek of childish innocence."

A Catholic bishop has banned the TV film in his diocese. Dr. Louise Elckhoff, a Birmingham psychiatrist, has described it as "wicked." Dillon McCarthy, chairman of Christian Political Union, an anti-abortion group of laymen likewise has damned it.

There is no need whatsoever for films of naked men and women, or even of naked children. To be shown to eight-year-olds," says McCarthie. On the other hand, the sex education films have found favor with a significant number of school principals and teachers. Over 3,000 primary schools have already bought the radiovision film strips and are using them as part of their curricula. A majority of junior schools are expected to tune in when the TV sex series is shown early this summer.

Young parents, too, approve. A Gallup Poll last year showed that three in five people aged between 16 and 44 were in favor of sex lessons for under-10s. Older people and those whose children were grown up were less enthusiastic.

"We are not putting out a do-it-yourself sex kit," explains John Holborn, secretary of the School Broadcasting Council, which commissioned the films from BBC. "In spite of what our critics say, these are simple lessons in physiology, and not in how to have sex."

Robson maintains and he claims the backing of child psychologists. The disturbed children will experiment with sex anyway and that they are not likely to be influenced one way or another by films of the type the BBC has prepared.

The School Broadcasting Council is an independent body composed of school principals, teachers and representatives of local educational authorities, as well as members of the Ministry of Education. It advises the BBC on matters of educational policy.

The BBC sex programs have been criticized because the word love is never once mentioned, and sex is presented outside the marriage context. Mrs. Mary Whitehouse, a self-appointed TV watchdog, objects to one picture showing a couple making love because the woman was not wearing a wedding ring.

"Eight-year-olds are simply not emotionally involved, nor are they interested in morality," Robson replies. "Our experience shows us that they are far more interested in pictures of the baby when it arrives in the world than in what went before."

Robson points out that the sex education material prepared for 15- and 16-year-olds deals squarely with the moral problems raised by sex and marriage.

"As I recently told a group of women editors, the sex films for eight-year-olds must be viewed through the eyes of today's eight-year-olds. And not through the eyes of adults who were brought up in a different era."

Having seen the two TV sex films previewed recently, I can find nothing objectionable in them. The first film deals largely with newly-born animals, including a chick, kittens, puppies, a human baby and a young elephant, while the second brought up the actual birth of a baby.

The radiovision programs, on the other hand, are much more explicit, both in the anatomical detail of the paintings and in the tape-recorded commentary which accompanies them. "Where do babies come from?" asks the commentator. "From inside their mother's tummy." The film strip then shows a naked lady with an X-ray view of the baby curled-up inside her womb.

Are they ready for TV sex education?

The advantage of the tape-recording, plus film strip, over the TV film is that the teacher can become thoroughly familiar with its content before presenting it to the children, and can stop the tape in mid-broadcast to answer questions.

Objections to the film range from the sex-related principal who thinks that animals and not people should have been shown, to Mrs. Whitehouse, who tears that the sex program for under-10s will increase illegitimacy and venereal disease.

A principal in North Shields claims that the sex films raise questions which have not yet occurred to many 8-year-olds. "Sex lessons are like geography," he adds. "The minute you start teaching geography, you arouse the desire to travel."

The chief objection, however, is that the BBC's sex lessons will lead to a premature loss of innocence, to which the BBC replies that innocence should not be equated with ignorance. From living in a carefree world of innocence, young children, often worry about sex, a result of parents ducking their responsibility, a BBC spokesman points out.

Another strong objection is that the lessons try to teach too much, and that primary school children are not ready for this kind of information.

Critics recall the cautionary tale of the child who asked his mother where he came from. The mother thereupon launched into a long, technical explanation of sex, only to be told, "Well, I just thought I would ask. Jack comes from Liverpool."

Chunk Of Coal Kills Miner

CASTLE GATE, Carbon County (UPI)—A 63-year-old miner was killed Tuesday when a 100-pound piece of coal broke loose from the wall of the North American Coal Co. mine and struck him.

Killed in the mishap about 3:45 a.m. was Sam Vigil, of Hesper.

A mine spokesman said Vigil was sitting in the cockpit of a shuttle car he was operating inside the mine when the chunk of coal fell on him.

Warden Irritated By Criticism Of Prisons

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI)—With the nation as crime conscious as it is these days, Fred T. Wilkinson wishes people who take public stands on its causes and cures would be more careful to get their facts straight.

Wilkinson, last warden of Alcatraz, a former U.S. deputy director of prisons and now director of the Missouri Department of Corrections, makes no effort to hide his irritation with what he regards as loose, uninformed criticism of American prisons, especially in the area of rehabilitation.

Not long ago Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a leading spokesman in Congress for prison reform, expressed sharp criticism of prison administrators and policies on a nationwide television program. Wilkinson took angry exception in a letter to the senator, writing him: "I was shocked at the statements you made on corrections and prison management. You seemed to be carried away by compulsive criticism of corrections."

"For example, you stated that 90 per cent of corrections budgets were for custodial purposes such as whips, clubs, etc. I suggest you give some thought to how so-called criminals are developed. Your general statements that they are developed in prison confinement leads one to wonder how much thought you have really given to this whole matter of the offender..."

"We know that every resource in society has failed, when the individual as a last resort is confined. The prison population is made up for an absolute 100 per cent of failures—failure on the part of the school, church, parents, the courts, the community and society in general."

Since 1950 the number of public employees in the United States has grown 3 to 4 per cent annually.

"College Of Jungle Knowledge" Men Have Saved 1,000 Airmen

By KENNETH J. BRADDICK
CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (UPI)—Instructors at the U.S. Pacific Air Force's "college of jungle knowledge" are a proud group—and they have reason to be. Over the past six years of war in Asia, they have saved the lives of more than 1,000 American airmen.

The school—whose slogan is "learn and return"—also has saved the nation an estimated $1.5 billion in retrieved or salvaged military equipment.

Formally, the "college of jungle knowledge" is called the U.S. Pacific Air Force Jung Survival School, established in April, 1964, for an investment of less than $1 million.

The school comprises three white-painted, single-story buildings set in green lawns dotted with tropical bushes and with a miniature zoo out back. Its 58 instructors and other personnel give mandatory survival training for all pilots and aircrews who come to serve in southeast Asia.

School Commandant Lt. Col. Fred B. Ewing, of Long Beach, Calif., said that since January, 1968, alone, more than 400 pilots and airmen shot down over Vietnam or other Asian theaters have attributed their recovery directly to the techniques learned here. Since April, 1964, the recovery figure is officially estimated at more than 1,000 men.

Ewing said that cost-analysis studies showed the average downed pilot or crewman was a captain with eight-and-a-half years service.

"All the costs of training, paying and maintaining this man have been worked out at $733,000," he told UPI. "And this doesn't include the cost of pensions and other payments that will be made to his wife and children if he's married."

"To arrive at what the loss is in monetary terms, double the $733,000 because that's how much it's going to cost to train someone else to replace him."

Ewing said that the amount of money saved by plucking just one man out of the jungle is enough to operate the survival school for 18 years and 7 months.

The colonel took over the school two years ago after running a survival school at Langley Air Base, Va., for seven years. Before that he set up the first Air Force sea survival school at Namazu, Japan.

Since the school opened in 1964, almost 36,000 servicemen have taken the five-day survival course. The techniques taught to students are classified information, Ewing said, but the course starts with 10 hours of academic orientation.

"The first thing we have to do," he said, "is to get rid of that big neon sign that flashes 'fear, fear' at the mention of jungle."

"Most people we have through here—were born and raised in the cities and have never had to fend for themselves. The only thing they know about the jungle in most cases is what Edgar Rice Burroughs has written about the adventures of Tarzan. If we can eliminate fear we have 98 per cent of the problem licked."

The academic course emphasizes hygiene and first aid and impresses on the student that the jungle in nature's own drug store. This is where the school's tropical plants come in as practical aids to what is dangerous to touch or catch and what can be used for medicinal or eating purposes. This also applies to the zoo with its pythons, monkeys, birds and beasts.

After class study the students are lifted out by helicopter to a dense jungle training area for 36 hours in which they acquire more survival techniques and try to dodge the pygmy Negro tribesmen the Air Force uses as the "enemy" in simulated exercises.

Col. Ewing points to the record of the school to demonstrate its usefulness and adds the simple statistic that from every class going through the school, three students will be shot down somewhere in Southeast Asia.

One airman has been shot down 11 times during two years in Vietnam, he said, and recovered every time. Another 16 men have been shot down twice, all recovered.

HIS HEAD will be in the clouds as director of the Supersonic Transport Development Program. He's William M. Magruder, appointed by Secretary of Transportation Volpe, who announced transfer of program from Federal Aviation Administration to Transportation Department.

Smoke Kills Two In Nampa

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI)—Two Nampa men were found dead Tuesday in their home, apparently the victims of smoke inhalation.

Police Chief Buster Baker identified the two men as Wendell R. Shank, 27, and Rodney Allan Parrish, 23, both of Nampa.

The deaths were discovered when a friend of Shank's went to the house to investigate after Shank failed to report for work. Baker said the stoker on the furnace had not been properly attended. He said when he arrived the house was filled with smoke.

Britons Are Given Tax Bonus

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government Tuesday gave Britons a lower paid workers a $480 million election year tax bonus.

Unveiling the nation's annual budget to Parliament, Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins—Britain's equivalent of secretary of treasury in the United States—announced nearly two million Britons will be freed from paying income taxes altogether.

With national parliamentary elections set some time within the next year—possibly much earlier—such a tax handout could be popular with the voters.

Jenkins left income tax at its present basic rate of eight shillings three pence in the pound, equivalent to 41.25 per cent. But he increased personal allowances and raised the ceiling below which income taxes are not paid at all.

He left indirect taxes virtually untouched. In fact, he announced he was making almost all his giveaways on direct taxes.

Jenkins said Britain's long ailing economy has staged a "dramatic" recovery. He said her international balance of payments, once one of the weakest, now is one of the strongest in the world.

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (UPI)—Boys on bicycles are helping practitioners keep track of police movements, Councilman George Howles said. He said the prostitutes arrived by the truckload in Wolverhampton streets and urged stiffer law enforcement.

Work To Begin On 2 Bridges On Poverty Flat At Bellevue

HAILEY — Work is expected to begin immediately on construction of new bridges to replace the Glendale and Bypass bridges on Poverty flat on the Glendale road south of Bellevue.

Blaine county commissioners reported Tuesday they have accepted the offer of Ready to Pour Concrete, Twin Falls, to supply the pre-stressed concrete beams for the projects at a cost of $1,576 for the Bypass and $1,586 for the Glendale bridges.

Since the projects are under $2,500, no bids need be called for. The county will then finance the construction of a three-inch deck on top and the necessary abutments and railings. The bridges will be 24 feet wide.

Jack Friesz, representing the Twin Falls firm, said it would probably take his firm a day to put the beams in place once the county gave the go-ahead for the project. Traffic will need to be rerouted during construction and all details have not yet been worked out, however.

In other action this week, commissioners' opened and reviewed bids submitted for a diesel dump truck for the county. Three bids were submitted but none accepted until further study can be made.

Apparent low bidder on the project was Magic Valley International, with a bid of $17,450. Other bids were submitted by Sawtooth Motor, for a Ford, at $19,499.95; and by United Oil, Twin Falls; and a White, $22,979. Commissioners indicated they would make a decision within the next few days.

A full-scale clean-up drive has also been slated for the county. The county agreed, to donate equipment for four clean-up days, each Saturdays, one day per area of the county.

On April 25, the campaign will begin in Carey and encompasses Pico: May 2 will take in Gannett-Bellevue and to the Gage Ranch; May 9 from Gage Ranch to East Fork; and May 16, Ketchum-Sun Valley-area.

In addition to the city area, the campaign will include clean-up of the surrounding rural areas, and it is anticipated volunteer help will be available at each step.

The commission is also accepting applications for a full-time sanitary land fill operator for the fill at Ohio Gulch between Hailey and Ketchum. It was noted there is a problem at the area with burning, which is not permitted.

Beginning next January, however, the county will be able to levy for the operation of a land fill.

Other dump areas surving the county are below Timmerman Hill and in Carey. It was noted the Carey site has become a problem with an increase in the illegal dumping of dead animals. Ray Sweet, commissioner from the area, said he believed the area would soon need to become a land fill to take care of the problem, as no other solution is presently available.

No action was taken by the commission, however. The Carey dump consumes about five acres of ground.

A 41-YEAR-OLD BELLEVUE rancher, Dan Norton, is congratulated and welcomed to the Blaine county sheriff's department by Sheriff Orville Drexler after being officially sworn into office Monday—as a full-time deputy. He replaces Terry Quinn who resigned earlier this year to join the Twin Falls police department.

Hailey Chamber To Donate Memorial

HAILEY — Members of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce have voted to donate $200 of the group's funds for a memorial fund at the Blaine County Hospital in honor of Bob Rigen, who died recently in a traffic accident near Jerome.

Interstate Rest Area Damaged

SHOSHONE — Vandals damaged the westbound rest area on Interstate 80 south of Jerome. State Highway assistant district engineer Dale Harding reported.

The damage was discovered Saturday morning by highway officials and the rest area had to be closed for about 4 hours while repairs were made.

Legs were torn off the sink on the women's side, and the sink damaged to where it was leaking. The stainless steel mirrors were destroyed, the toilet dispenser door kicked in.

Such incidents of vandalism seem to take place on a Friday night, Mr. Harding stated, which might indicate that young people are doing it after school activity or night out. Adults and parents of youths are asked to cooperate in an alert to try to cut down on such incidents.

Burley Jaycee Groups Are Installed At Joint Banquet

BURLEY — A joint installation and awards banquet was held by the Burley Jaycees and Jay-Cettes at Ramada Inn.

Jaycees officers installed were Larry Stephenson, president; Mrs. Margaret, first vice president; Mike Feller, second vice president; Robert Hansen, treasurer; Earl Howard, secretary; and Jerry Lawson, state director.

Installed for the Jay-Cettes were Mrs. Dale Nobaker, president; Mrs. Feller, vice president; Mrs. R. F. McCune, secretary; Mrs. Stephenson, treasurer; and Mrs. Lawson, state director.

Installing officers were Ed John, Payette, a Junior Chamber International Senator for Idaho, and Mrs. Dixie Mowbray, Bliss, Fifth District Jay-Cette president.

Dinner Is Slated For Candidate

BURLEY — A kick-off dinner will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday for Vernon Ravenscroft, Democrat candidate for Governor, at the Ponderosa Inn. The public is invited.

Dan Valentine, well-known donor for the fund in Mr. Rigen's name. The fund contained $683 prior to the death.

In the past, Mr. Stavros explained, the money was used to purchase a projector for in-hospital training of nurses and nurses aides. The fund was established about ten years ago to help finance items for the benefit of hospital patients.

In other business during the recent Rotary meeting, the group agreed to host a delegation of six Australians May 14 who will be visiting Southern Idaho and Utah for two months. The group will be accompanied by an Australian Rotarian guide.

Last year, six Rotarians from the area visited Australia in an exchange program whereby each learns of the other's way of life.

Dave Le showed a movie, "Breaking the Barrier" presented by Bell Telephone. The movie illustrated the forms of communication in the world.

Such incidents of vandalism seem to take place on a Friday night, Mr. Harding stated, which might indicate that young people are doing it after school activity or night out. Adults and parents of youths are asked to cooperate in an alert to try to cut down on such incidents.

Fair Slated At Wendell

WENDELL — The annual Science and History Fair is slated for April 24 in the high school gym. Mrs. Gay Petersen, district and history teacher, and Doug Green, history, are in charge of arrangements.

All sophomore and junior students who are enrolled in these classes are required to enter a project in the fair.

Trophies will be awarded for the top three projects in each division and a Grand Prize Trophy for the best project entered.

Mr. Stephenson for "Key Man," "Joyce of the Year"; Mr. Howard was recognized for local and district winner of the Speak-Up award; madonnas and certificates for participation in local Speak-Up contest were presented to Jaycees Kellar, Howard, Karl Kipping, Jerry Lassiter, Lawson, Steve Forch, Richard Polvaen and Stephenson.

Sparkplug awards were presented to Lawrence Gardner, Lawson, Dale Nobaker, Porch and Feller. Mr. Feller was named "Spark of the Year."

Gray Is Named To Board

Resignation of Warren Barry from the Twin Falls County Fair Board, and the appointment of Mike Gray to succeed him has been announced Monday afternoon by the Twin Falls County Commissioners.

Mr. Barry has served the past 10 years as a member of the board and for five years served as president. He was appointed by the county commissioners in 1960 and in 1962 was named president by other members. He continued in that capacity until 1967 when Harold Howe was named president.

Mr. Gray is a local businessman, serving as owner and manager of the Twin Falls Title and Trust Co.

He is a native of Twin Falls and a member of the Democratic Party as is Mr. Barry. Mr. Gray has been active in Junior Achievement, YMCA, and United Fund having served on all of these boards and is presently chairman of the Twin Falls City Parks and Recreation Board. He is interested in all youth activities and said he is looking forward to serving with members of the fair board in youth and other phases of the program.

Mr. Carlsson was born in Twin Falls and graduated from Murtaugh High School. He graduated from Albion State Normal in 1935 and received his BA degree at Colorado State College in 1939. In 1951 he received his Master's Degree in school administration at the University of Idaho.

He taught at Burley Junior High School between 1939 and 1942 and then served as principal of the junior high until 1947 when he was appointed principal of Burley High School.

He is a former LDS Bishop and currently served on the Church High Council in Burley LDS Stake. He is past president of the Burley Lions Club, and past president of the State Inter-scholastic Activity Board, which regulates high school interscholastic activities. He has served on the Sawtooth National Forest board.

He taught at Burley Junior High School between 1939 and 1942 and then served as principal of the junior high until 1947 when he was appointed principal of Burley High School.

Hunt Fossils

FAIRFIELD — Ten rockhounds from Fairfield were among those that made a trip to the Brunson desert in search of fossils and petrified wood. The field trip was sponsored by the Northside Gem club of Wendell with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kramer, conducting as guides.

Blaine Will Start Food Stamp Plan

HAILEY — Low income families in Blaine County may begin buying food stamps June 1, according to a contract signed Monday between the county commissioners and the Department of Agriculture.

The plan was presented to the three-man commission this week by representative of the Idaho Department of Public Assistance, who will administer the program at the local level.

Cleanup Is Postponed By Wind

RICHFIELD — Final cleanup day at Richfield had to be postponed Saturday due to high winds. Tree planting had been scheduled for the morning hours and hauling of trash in the afternoon.

Richfield residents are asked to continue with clean-up in the town for the next week with hauling off of trash to be done April 18.

Some parts of Richfield are already taking on a new look after removal of all trees deemed hazardous to the public safety. Sluider Construction company has been removing the trees.

Magic Valley Amidoka School Principal Named

PAUL — Earl Carlsson, 57, Burley, has been appointed principal of the new West Junior High School, which is currently under construction south of Paul on Highway 27.

Mr. Carlsson recently resigned from the position of principal of Burley High School, which he has held the past 23 years. He said he resigned this capacity because of increasing demands on the position concerning the higher level and, would look forward to working with junior high students.

Mr. Carlsson was born in Twin Falls and graduated from Murtaugh High School. He graduated from Albion State Normal in 1935 and received his BA degree at Colorado State College in 1939. In 1951 he received his Master's Degree in school administration at the University of Idaho.

Eden Okays Sewer Bond

EDEN — Voters here passed by a large majority Tuesday a $170,000 sewer bond election.

There were 115 yes votes cast, against 30 no votes. A two-thirds majority was needed for approval of the issue.

It was the second such election to be held here in the past six months. The first was held invalid by city officials because federal grant money was not enough to complete the project.

The full amount of this project is expected to be $170,000 with $35,000 anticipated from federal and state sources. This leaves a balance of $124,000 to be paid by Eden sewer users.

There are no sewer facilities in Eden at this time. The cost to users once the facility is built will be $7.15 a month during a 30 year period.

Nominating Meet Set By Growers

Two nomination meetings of the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Control Committee are scheduled this week in Rupert and Twin Falls.

This committee administers the federal marketing order and agreements which control the interstate shipments of potatoes to fresh market from the production area and are charged with the responsibility of determining the size-grade-maturity and cleanliness regulations under which the crop will move to market for the crop year.

The terms of the committee members are for one year and current members of the committee are:

Grower members are Melvin J. West, Paul, state vice chairman, and T. C. Mason, Kimberly. Alternates are Joe Houska Jr., Hazelton, and Clarence Hollifield, Hansen.

Handler - member - 1 - Max Herbolt, Rupert, and alternate is Bruce Brewer, Burley.

The two nominations meetings will be held Friday, one at noon in the Fred Elks Club cafe, and the other at 8 p.m. in the Idaho Power Auditorium, Twin Falls.

Film Shown

GLENN'S FERRY — The Glenn's Ferry Chamber of Commerce viewed a film, "The Railroad Man," furnished by Ken Starkey at the Monday meeting at Hansen's Cafe.

A representative of the Boise-Cascade Corp. is to be invited to the April 20 meeting, with Eddie Bostic in charge of arrangements reports Kent Giles, president.

Takes Off

GLENN'S FERRY — Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Jones' residence at 1110 E. Cleveland was damaged by the strong east wind at 8 a.m. Monday when the gale tore loose the eight by 40 foot patio cover, a wooden structure, and flung it up onto the house roof.

There it tore off the fireplace chimney and damaged the roof, then went on the other side of the house, landing on the front lawn, just missing a car parked in the driveway.

Mrs. Jones was looking out the window and saw the patio roof take off in the windstorm.

Japan And Africa Eye Trade Ties

TOKYO—Japan's trade relations with Africa, hitherto relatively unimportant, are coming under close scrutiny as more and more Japanese industrialists take a keener interest in the natural resources of the African continent.

Japan sees Africa as rich in underground resources, including iron ore, oil, and metals of all kinds. Japan needs these minerals to keep going her rapid economic development.

A symptom of Japan's increasing interest in Africa was a recent high-level mission to the continent. It was headed by Fumihiko Kono, president of Mitsubishi Heavy Industries. The mission's itinerary included Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanzania, Zambia, The Congo (Kinshasa), Nigeria, Ghana, Ivory Coast, and Senegal.

These countries were selected because they have shown interest in expanding economic ties with Tokyo. Relations between Japan and these countries, however, are not strong, perhaps because of the distance between Africa and Japan. African countries are thought here to be more "attached" to their former colonizers. Japan's total trade with Africa is less than 10 percent of Japan's total volume of trade.

According to the latest statistics available in 1968 Japan imported $140 million worth of raw materials from Africa including $108 million worth of iron ore, $48 million worth of copper ore and $10 million worth of manganese ore.

Japan's exports to Africa totalled in the same year $940 million, up by 10.2 per cent over 1967.

But of late Japan's financial and industrial leaders are increasingly showing interest in doing business with Africa. Japanese trading firms are in the forefront of what is now referred to as the "African boom". Nishio-Iwai recently reinforced his representative's office in Johannesburg by making it a branch office. It was the first full-fledged offshoot of a Japanese trading house in Africa.

The Japanese Ministry of International Trade and Industry views these developments with approval. The ministry considers that African nations are "welcoming Japanese advances" because they want to reduce their ties with respective former sovereign countries.

LOOKING AT A SPECTROPHOTOMETER at the Blaine county hospital, Halley, are board members, from left Joe Bergin, Bellevue; Bob Adamson, Carey, and Bud Purdy, chairman, Picaob, rear, and Lee Stavres, Halley, Dwayne Bentz, Right, lab technician for the hospital, explains the equipment. He has a master's degree in medical technology from Idaho State University, Pocatello, and joined the staff eight years ago.

Blaine Hospital Celebrating 10th Anniversary This Year

BY LIZ BOLTON
Times-News Correspondent
HAILEY — Celebrating its tenth anniversary of operation this year, the Blaine county hospital reflects the growth of the surrounding area.
When constructed with Hill-Burton funds in 1960, the hospital offered 11 beds, and replaced the Halley Clinical hospital, operated privately by Dr. Grant Hawkes. No doctors' offices were included with the original institution, which was served by one doctor; Dr. Hawkes. Presently, two doctors serve the institution on a full-time basis, with offices within the building, and a lab technician is also on duty most of the time.
The hospital is also served by a third staff doctor, with offices in Ketchum, a dentist, who also maintains an office in town, and a Seattle eye surgeon who is on duty in Halley as needed.
Dr. Alden Packer and Dr. Robert Gwinn have offices in the hospital building, which now has a 15-bed capacity. Average use is eight beds a day, with that figure increasing during the winter months. Also included in the present hospital services is emergency facilities, a registered nurse each of the three working shifts, licensed practical nurses for the day shifts, nurses-aides, who undergo training each winter and candy-strippers.
A complete lab is also offered to patients, with Dwayne Bentz on duty full-time there. Mr. Bentz holds a master of science degree in medical technology from Idaho State University, where he was registered for several years. He joined the local hospital staff about eight years ago and now boasts 27 years experience.

In improvements during the past decade at the hospital, the original solarium was remodeled to include two two-bed rooms, and offices for the doctors. An emergency entrance canopy has also been added, as have several thousands of dollars in advanced equipment.
New equipment includes much physical therapy equipment involving the whirlpool, ultrasonic, intermittent traction and diathermy. Although no physio-therapist is on duty at the hospital presently, staff members have received in-service education from staff members at the Magic Valley Memorial and Sun Valley hospitals so that the equipment is put to use when needed.
Plans for the future of the hospital include the construction of a nursing home, the first in the county, to be operated in conjunction with the hospital.
The nursing home project was begun about two years ago, at which time no Hill-Burton funds were available for the county. When the funds did become available, the hospital board were stymied because of the bond-issue-problems presented by the county. Until a decision reached on the bond problem, board members indicated patients will continue to be sent outside the county, many times at the county's expense. At one time, the county taxpayers were supporting 17 geriatric patients.
Plans also call for the expansion of kitchen and storage facilities, which are now overflowing with the increased usage of the hospital. Monitoring and heart shock equipment are also on the agenda for future expansion.

Board members noted that the total cost of the hospital and equipment, not including operating costs, to date is $225,000 for the original building and fixed equipment, and $170,000 for additional major moveable equipment. All improvements and additions, it was noted, have been financed by the hospital's operating funds, with revenue derived from taxes and hospital income.
The institution will be operating on an unbalanced budget this year, however, because of a $5,000 tax cutback enforced by county commissioners earlier this year.
This year's expenses are estimated at $225,000 with the income estimated at about $217,000. It was noted the income may be higher this year than anticipated, however, because this will be the first full year when two doctors will be operating out of the hospital full time.
Rates at the hospital are among the lowest in the state, with only four reported to be lower. Rooms rent for $29 and $31 a day. Televisions are being installed in each room at present at the expense of the hospital. Many of the pieces of equipment added to the hospital for the benefit of the patients are financed by the memorial fund, which was established nearly 10 years ago. Many of the original rooms and furnishings in the building were also donated by individuals.
Responsible for the smooth operation of the hospital is Mrs. Jessie Reynolds, assisted by Mrs. Chris Menin. Board members include chairman Bud Purdy, Picaob; Leo Stavres, Halley; Joe Bergin, Bellevue; E. V. Melton and Joe Palkewin, Ketchum; and Joyce Arrien and Bob Adamson, both Carey.

Another Halley representative will be appointed to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of Bob Huggen.
The average salary of a migrant farm worker is less than $1,000 a year.

Shoshone Library Has Films

SHOSHONE — Some 350 films on various topics are now available through the city library, reports Mrs. Marx Nielsen, obtained from the state library at no cost.
Program chairmen are invited to visit the library and select the type of film they wish, on such subjects as stream pollution, sermons, human relationships, humor, travel and sports.
Mrs. Nielsen also reminds persons afflicted with varying degrees of loss of sight of two new pieces of equipment at the library. One is an electrically-operated light attached to a magnifier which can be moved along a page to enlarge and brighten normal print.
The other is a new type of talking book on the order of cassette players. The latter is easier for handicapped and aged people to use.
It is also possible to obtain large-print books from the state library now.
Library hours are from 2 to 5:30 p.m. and on Thursday evening 7 to 9 p.m.

Mutual Funds Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—I wish to invest a small amount in a laser stock. Would you please give me information on some companies in the laser field? I have heard favorable things about Spacera's, S.K. A—There is little doubt that the laser industry has tremendous future growth potential. According to trade sources, 1970 volume may rise 18 per cent and move ahead at a 20 per cent annual rate, through 1972. Thus over 400 companies in an attempt to cash in on this growth—are now in some way involved with lasers. Perkin-Elmer has captured 80 to 10 per cent of the total laser market. Sales of lasers and related equipment represents a small but growing part of the firm's $200 million volume. Company has expanded its markets by shifting emphasis from laser production to laser-based equipment, such as its "Lasergage."

In the six months ended January, 1970, per-share net rose to 53 cents from 47 cents. Shares offered participation in the "emerging laser business without the high risk factor." Spacera's, a younger company, has been aggressively developing—and implementing industrial applications for the laser. It has established a job shop, using the equipment at its disposal, which has brought in contracts and equipment sales. Backlog is at an all-time high and sales in 1970 should double the 1969. $1 million estimated for 1969. Speculative shares have long-term appreciation potential.

Q—Can you give me any information on Leasco Data Processing? I have shares at $55 and $60 and it is now below 20. Has something gone wrong?—R.A. A—Accounting procedures used by Computer leasing and other firms have been sharply criticized by some analysts. The argument boils down to what should or should not be included as earnings. Earnings have included capital gains plus income from an insurance subsidiary as well as profit from its computer leasing and consulting operations.

Business Today

By LEROY POPE
UPL Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—In less than five years, a bowler-batted, umbrella-toting Englishman from the seaside town of Skegness has induced Americans to increase their consumption of codfish by one million pounds a week. Furthermore, Haddon Salt (that's really his name) sells that cod himself. He brings it in from Iceland. "It's all line caught from dorries and frozen the same day." Salt sells it in his chain of H. Salt, Esq., fish and chips restaurants, which now number 300 and is growing at the rate of 20 a month.

The bustling, smiling Englishman, who also plays the saxophone, sails a racing catamaran and flies his own plane, made $12 million within four years after leaving his native England and launching his fish 'n' chips chain from Sausalito, Calif. Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp. paid him that amount for control of the business and his agreement to continue to manage it.

H. Salt, Esq., is one of several seafood restaurant chains that are growing fast. Another is the seafoam chain controlled by Y.F. Chin, the Chinese-American industrialist.

Both Salt and Chin say the U.S. government and U.S. Fisheries industry can't compete with other nations in their fisheries management policies. For example, Salt says the Icelanders have discovered it is possible to propagate codfish in a tank and farm them on an sustained yield basis. Moreover, he says the U.S. method of harvesting codfish by trawlers that stir up the seabed scum instead of quick freezing the fish a few hours after it is caught impairs the flavor of the fish. He believes the U.S. codfish industry, which long has depended on exports and the sale of codliver from vitamin "D," which now is made synthetically, could be revived by adopting methods designed to sell quick frozen fish which have a fresh flavor.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—There is no logical reason for believing that new equity financing versus institutional demand should provide a reliable indication of market direction, according to Francis J. DuPont & Co. The historical relationship between institutional purchases and the new supply of stock coming to the market each year does not in itself provide a reliable clue to the future direction of stock prices it says. The economic and political forces at work are the real determinants, the firm adds.

THERE'S NO SENSE buying a new pair of uniform boots when you won't be needing them any longer. Willy Davis, who is one of eight Twin Falls City policemen to receive promotions, won't be wearing a uniform much longer. He will be stepping into plain clothes and a position in the detective division. He also will be stepping out of these black boots and into more conventional shoes, and hopes the well-worn boots will hold out until promotions are put into effect later this month. Assignment changes which have not taken effect physically are awaiting the hiring of a replacement for Officer Davis.

Promotions Of 8 Men Announced By Twin Falls Police Department

Eight members of the Twin Falls Police Department have been promoted and are now receiving pay in line with their new ranks. Chief of Police Frank Barnett said today: "The chief said a few of the promotions have actually taken effect physically and the rest will become effective in the near future. Major promotions are Tim Qualls, from lieutenant of the detective division to captain of the detective division, and Kenneth Johnston, from lieutenant of the uniformed officers to captain of the uniformed officers. Roy Lindell, who has been the only captain on the force, will retain his title of assistant chief and become senior captain, with another step in pay. Garry Corder has been promoted from sergeant to lieutenant of the detective division and Collins Helms has been promoted to sergeant from senior patrolman. Sgt. Victor Cummins has been promoted to lieutenant of the uniformed division and Bill Stonemetts has been renamed identification officer from patrolman.

Draft Is Suggested To Fill Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Because his two most recent Supreme Court nominees were Southerners, some people are saying that President Nixon is discriminating against the South.

All students entering law school would be required to register and would be assigned numbers which would be placed on capsules at Selective Justice headquarters.

A White House aide with whom I discussed this matter assured me, however, that the President has no regional bias of any kind. "He's a great humanitarian, the President naturally is distressed when he has to put someone through the ordeal of a Supreme Court nomination," the aide said.

The students then would be classified IS and would be given deferments until their graduation. Upon passing the bar exam, they would be reclassified and would become liable for Supreme Court nomination should their number be drawn. "That definitely would be the most equitable method of obtaining nominees. But even it would be far from perfect.

"But this is one of those unpleasant duties that is imposed upon him by the Constitution, so he has no choice in the matter. Furthermore, he is not asking the nominees to do something he wouldn't be willing to do himself.

Although the danger of his actually being nominated would be small, a lawyer would have that threat hanging over his head and the uncertainty could interfere with his plans for marriage and a career.

"The President would gladly spare others the rigors of a nomination and appoint himself to the post. If that were constitutionally possible."

The ideal arrangement, of course, would be to have an all-volunteer Supreme Court. But as long as the nominees come under fire in the U.S. Senate, there is no chance of getting an adequate number of volunteers.

The aide went on to say that "somebody's gotta do it" (he nominated to the Supreme Court) and that Nixon was striving to be as even-handed as possible in choosing the nominees.

Since, the South was called upon to provide the two most recent nominees, the blow will fall upon another region next time, the aide said.

I'm sure that Nixon does try to be fair in making these agonizing decisions. But it seems to me too much for him to have to carry the responsibility alone.

I think that we should have a national Selective Justice System. It would work something like this:

Listed For Teach-In

The "Meteoritic Hazard of Interplanetary Travel" will be the topic of a speech by Peter M. Millman during the Environmental Teach-In April 22 at the College of Southern Idaho.

The talk by the Sigma Xi lecturer will be one of several at the local college during its participation in the special day set aside at most of the nation's campuses for discussion of ecology.

His lecture will be at 8 p.m. in room 117-118 of Shields Academic Building.

Dr. Millman is a member of the National Research Council of Canada. He received his doctorate in astronomy from Harvard in 1932 and has been active in upper atmosphere research for the past 15 years.

The public is invited to this and other lectures scheduled during the teach-in.

Banks Buy Notes Worth $1,120,000

The Idaho First National Bank and Fidelity National Bank, bidding together, were awarded the low bid of 4.15 per cent for the sale of $1,120,000 in project notes by the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency.

The notes are tax free and are fully guaranteed by the government.

Last year the agency got a loan of $1,510,000 to run the urban renewal program, and the bids awarded Tuesday were to renew the note of last year.

In addition to getting the $1,120,000—the agency had $300,000 in grant money earned to date; enough to pay off last year's note and allow the agency to borrow to run the urban renewal program to May of 1971.

James Kelsch, director of the agency, said, "Bids are asked locally for this money because this puts the financing on the private market and it also allows the agency to get the lowest interest rate possible."

Bridge Meeting Is Held Here

The Monday Afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club met at the Episcopal church with nine tables in play.

North and south winners were Mrs. R. M. Peterson and Mrs. M. Hogg, first; Mrs. H. G. Holmes and Mrs. H. D. Filzpatrick, second; Mrs. George Rosenhof and Mrs. Roy Hill, third, and Mrs. L. M. Hall and Mrs. C. R. Tucker, fourth.

East-West winners were Mrs. E. A. Peterman and Mrs. Nick Bradie, first; Mrs. John Hahn and Mrs. J. M. Kingsbury, second; Mrs. Jack Stevens and Mrs. M. B. Higbee, third, and Mrs. K. E. Kail and Mrs. A. C. Victor, fourth.

The chief said officers will serve six-month probationary periods in their new ranks.

Idaho's Land Board Takes First Step Toward Solving Site Use At McCall

By RICHARD CHARNOCK BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Land Board took a tentative step today toward eventual solution of the land survey, lease and sale problem involving cottage sites at Payette Lakes near McCall.

Board members voted to ask the next legislature for $400,000 to finance an engineering program which will include among its objectives a survey of the cottage sites at the lakes. At present there are 80 waterfront and 168 non-waterfront lots under lease at Payette Lakes. There also are 81 waterfront and 10 non-waterfront lots which have been sold but which are not necessarily contiguous.

Public Instruction Supt. D.R. Engelsing said the problem at Payette Lakes simply is that the land never has been surveyed properly.

"Somebody's going to have to straighten it out some time," Engelsing said, urging fellow board members to take some action to resolve the problem once and for all.

Gov. Don Samuelson pointed out it will take money to re-survey the property and Land Commissioner Gordon Trombley pointed out the department wanted $10,000 from the next legislature for this purpose.

With a team score of 310; the Bruins were 12 shots ahead of the nearest team over the par 73 layout. Highland, with medalist Jeff Jerman—who shot a 74—leading the way, took second with 322. Pocatello had 331; Minico 343; Idaho Falls 356, and Skyline 371.

Larry Melroe—shot a 79—and Dave Warner had an 81 for the other Twin Falls scores. Minico was led by Tom Toevs 81, Charles Cresson had an 85, Chris Goode, 87, and Larry Amen 90 for the Spartans.

Lee Hansen led Pocatello with an 81; Dave McDonald led Idaho Falls with 82, and Tom McGinnis was Skyline's best with an 83.

Twin Falls plays on its home course for the first time this season Friday afternoon in a match against the same Eastern Division schools at Muni.

Jerome's Girls Cop Track Win

GOODING—Getting two first places from three different girls, the Jerome Tiger track squad took a three-way meet Tuesday afternoon in Gooding. The Tigers had 68 points, Buhl 44, and Gooding 33. Misses Ellis, Capps, and Humphries are accounting for most of the Jerome scoring with their double victories.

Miss Ellis took the shot and high jump, Capps the 80-meter hurdles and 440-dash, and Humphries the 100 and 200-yard dashes.

The host Senators were strongest in the hurdle event, with Misses Barton, Mays, and LeFurgey going two-three-four.

Lakers Move Away In Third Period, Defeat Atlanta For 2-0 Lead

ATLANTA (UPI)—Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West combined for 18 points in the third quarter Tuesday night, leading Los Angeles to a 105-94 victory over the Atlanta Hawks and a two-game lead in the NBA Western division championship.

The Lakers lead the best-of-seven series 2-0 and return home for the next two games. Chamberlain and Dick Garret led the Los Angeles scoring with 24 points apiece and West added 22.

Chamberlain scored 10 of his points in the third quarter after the Lakers trailed 48-46 at halftime. West, hitting on long jump shots from the corners, added nine during the spurt and the Lakers outscored the Hawks 32-18. They held a 78-66 lead going into the fourth quarter.

A FLYING BILL BRIDGES (32) scrambles for a rebound with Wilt Chamberlain of the Lakers, but Wilt already has the ball in Tuesday night NBA playoff action at Atlanta. The Hawks, despite coach Richie Guerin's promise of blood, lost for the second straight time at home to Los Angeles. The series shifts to the coast for the third game Friday night. (UPI telephoto)

Atlanta, which led 26-25 after one quarter, came no closer than nine points in the final period.

Joe Caldwell, who sparked Atlanta's first half, was held to just three points in the second half and finished with 18 for the night. Walt Bellamy led the Hawks with 20 points, 11 of them in the first half.

Twice during the game referees had to halt play while debris and ice was removed from the court when Atlanta fans showered paper cups and popcorn onto the court. At halftime, as he was walking off the court, 7-2 Chamberlain stopped Atlanta forward Bill Bridges and the two exchanged heated words, but Bellamy stepped between them.

But the "blood" threatened by Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin after Sunday's loss to the Lakers never materialized. Each side had 24 fouls.

Dallas Dumps L. A. Stars By 129-113

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Chaparrals, running up as much as a 24-point lead late in the game, clinched second place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division Tuesday by beating the Los Angeles Stars 129-113.

Dallas will open its ABA playoffs Friday night at home against either Los Angeles or Washington.

Glen Combs with 25 points and Manny Leaks with 23 paced the Chap attack. Rich Jones of Memphis State, who just signed a contract with the Chaps Monday, scored 15 points and grabbed 12 rebounds in his first ABA game.

GO-GO CRAZY LEGS
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—All-time All-Star Elmer "Goetz" Lewis Hirsch caught 143 forward passes for 6,290 yards and 63 touchdowns as a member of the Los Angeles Rams. Hirsch's pro career (1946-1957) also included service with the Chicago Rockets.

SCORES BIG
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers has scored more than 10,000 points in his 10-year National Basketball Association career.

Blues Top Stars For 3-2 Lead

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Terry Gray, Jim Roberts and Red Berenson scored St. Louis goals in the third period Tuesday night to give the Blues a 3-2 win over the Minnesota North Stars and a 3-2 edge in games in the Stanley Cup quarterfinals.

The Blues and the North Stars, competing for the right to meet the Pittsburgh Penguins in the semifinals, will play the sixth game in Minnesota Thursday night. The Blues have made the semifinals and finals the two previous years they have been in the National Hockey League.

The three St. Louis goals within slightly more than seven minutes of the final period broke the North Stars, who had checked the Blues tightly earlier in the game. Minnesota had taken a 2-1 lead in the first period on two goals by Jean-Paul Parise against Tim Ecclestone's 65-foot goal. Larry Keenan tied the score for the Blues in the second period and Gary Sabourin put St. Louis ahead.

Mieuli Wants No Part Of NBA-ABA Merger—Trying For Decisive Vote

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Franklin Mieuli, president of the beleaguered San Francisco Warriors, angrily denounced a proposed merger Tuesday of the two professional basketball leagues and said he needs one more vote to send the deal down the drain.

"I've got three votes to block this merger and I hope to have a fourth, which would guarantee defeat," said Mieuli. "Mieuli is coming out against a merger despite present terms which would bring superstar forward Rick Barry back to the National Basketball Association Warriors and give Mieuli sole control of the team."

Barry has played in the American Basketball Association the past three seasons. His contract with the ABA Washington Caps runs through 1970-71.

Mieuli obtained the rights to Barry from the NBA Atlanta Hawks, but the ABA Los Angeles Stars got to him first. Whether or not Warrior center Nate Thurmond comes out of retirement, Mieuli still wants Barry.

Under the current merger terms, which were discussed by executives of the two leagues last week in Palm Springs, the NBA would accept all ABA clubs including such unstable franchises as Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Miami and New York.

Mieuli said these clubs and a few others "are being kept alive by the hope of being taken in by the NBA."

Mieuli was angered by conditions of the present merger setup which he said would bring the older league "to its knees."

He said each ABA club would have to pay only $1 million to become part of the combine, and this would bring "no new money into the league." The $1 million fee would go only toward an expanded pro basketball television contract. NBA clubs also would have no assurance of regaining top players who have signed contracts with the younger circuit. This means Philadelphia would have to fight to keep Billy Cunningham away from Carolina, Detroit would have to battle Washington in order to keep Dave Bing, and the Warriors and Los Angeles would joust for Beatty.

The one exception to this provision, of course, is Barry. Under the present agreement, he would come back to the Warriors. But that doesn't satisfy Mieuli.

The Warrior president wants Barry, Beatty and $1 million for the gate revenue he says was lost during the two-year stay of the ABA Oakland Oaks (since moved to Washington).

He also wants the shaky ABA franchises left out of the merger. This would leave Indiana, Kentucky, Carolina, Denver and two other teams selected by the ABA. These clubs, under Mieuli's plan, each would have to pay the same $3.7 million assessed to new NBA franchises in Cleveland, Portland and Buffalo. In addition to the return of Barry and Beatty, Mieuli wants the 76ers and Pistons to keep Cunningham and Bing.

"Anything less than that would constitute an ABA victory," said Mieuli. ABA owners agreed in last week's talks to knock out competition for the NBA Los Angeles and Baltimore clubs by moving the ABA Los Angeles team to Albuquerque and converting the Washington club into a regional franchise in Virginia.
