TEN CENTS

WRECKAGE OF a Cessna 210 Skymaster which crashed early Sunday with four people on board is still at the crash site southeast of Jackpot. Two of the occupants are hospitalized in Twin Falls in fairly good condition and the other two were not seriously injured. All are from Salt Lake City. Both wings were ripped from the craft, the body broken in two and landing gear torn out, according to Twin Falls Sheriff's officers who directed the search and rescue operation.

Four Utahns Escape Death In Plane Crash

JACKPOT — A light plane carrying four Salt Lake City residents crashed into a mountain range southeast of Jackpot early Sunday, shortly after takeoff from the Jackpot Airport.

The pilot, Addison Richey, 64, and his wife, Mildred, 53, are both hospitalized at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where they were reported in fairly good condition. The two other passengers, Mark Merrill and Shawnee Phillips, both 21, were not seriously injured.

where an ambulance was waiting. It was not until about 10 a.m. Sunday that the rescue was completed and the crash victims were on their way to the hospital. The search was hampered by low visibility from a snowstorm.

Court Will Rule On Old Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to rule whether a Southern city has the right to close its public swimming pools after being ordered to integrate them.

Composer Released In Athens

ATHENS (UPI)—A telephone call from the former Jacqueline Kennedy to the leader of Greece's military government helped win the release of composer Mikis Theodorakis from prison last week, reliable government sources said today.

Arguments will be held in the court's next term with a written decision to follow. A group of Jackson Negroes won a federal appeals court order that Jackson must open the pools to all. The city council then ordered them closed, claiming that to allow whites and blacks to use the same pools would endanger the maintenance of law and order.

MISS WOOL CANDIDATES at the College of Southern Idaho include, from left, Ann Leonardson, Patsy McIntyre and Vickie Caughey. They are competing in the fourth CSI Miss Wool competition, scheduled tonight at 8 in the Fine Arts Building.

Miss Wool Contest Set Today At CSI

The fourth annual Miss Wool competition at the College of Southern Idaho is tonight at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building. Three coeds, Ann Leonardson, Patsy McIntyre and Vickie Caughey, are competing for the title of Miss Wool of CSI. To be eligible to compete, a girl must be at least five feet six inches in height, wear a size 10 dress and be at least 18 years old. The contest is sponsored locally by the Peppertree. The judges are Mrs. Irene Link, Mrs. Helen Henderson and Mrs. Vonnie Wheeler.

The winning contestant will compete with six other coeds at the state competition in November, and the winner, Miss Wool of Idaho, will be one of 29 contestants in the national competition at San Angelo, Texas, in June, 1971. Miss Wool of America will receive a college scholarship and a wool wardrobe designed by leading fashion designers consisting of 40 ensembles which she will model on a fashion tour across the nation. Nancy Williams of Twin Falls was the national runner-up in 1969.

Yanks Help Czar, Kin Save Life

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP NEW YORK (UPI)—Newfound evidence indicates Czar Nicholas II and his family were spirited from Russia safely with the aid of two American secret agents and the collusion of high Bolshevik officials, according to a book published this month. "The Hunt for the Czar," written by veteran journalist Guy Richards, discloses for the first time the existence of an account of the dramatic escape which was covered by a British revolutionist allied to the Bolsheviks. The escape may have been sponsored by George V of England and Kaiser Wilhelm II, both cousins of the czar and czarina.

The account is contained in an anonymous privately printed volume published in San Francisco in 1929 entitled "Rescuing the Czar." The manuscript was given the printer by the White Russian consultant, Richards contends. It was printed to leak the news of the Czar's survival without divulging many of the factual details.

It took Richards, who was city editor of the defunct New York Journal-American, several years of sleuthing to identify the editor and translator of this book as William Rutledge McGarry III, attorney of San Francisco and New York and economic and financial adviser to many foreign governments before his death in 1962.

The other agent was a friend of McGarry's, Charles James Fox, who apparently wrote the diary account of the rescue contained in "Rescuing the Czar." Fox was the American owner of the North China Star in Peking, China, a friend of ex-Chinese Emperor Henry Puyi who later put up $60,000 for the restoration of the Tomlinsons.

"Rescuing the Czar," which was "sneaked" onto the shelves of several large American libraries in the year 1929, indicates the Tomlinsons were arranged by Fox to flee from via Turkestan and China, where the family boarded a waiting naval vessel. Richards believed Nicholas and his czarina, Alexandra, fled in Poland without surfacing in the 1920s but that all five of their children are still alive.

Challenging the Fox rescue theory, according to Richards, is a letter which McGarry wrote in 1931 to exiled Russian diplomat Boris Brasol, now in the Library of Congress.

Actress Is Weary Of Polish Joke

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — How can you tell a Polish actress from any other? Tell her a Polish joke and watch her explode. Happily, the Polish joke craze is dying out, according to Gail Kobe, an accomplished actress whose name was Gabrynia Kozmowski.

It's not that Gail is ashamed of being Polish. She changed monikers because Kozmowski, though easy to remember, was somewhat more difficult to pronounce than, say, Smith.

Gail was one of the stars of the old-fashioned "Polish" television series and is seen daily on the soap opera "Bright Promise" opposite Dana Andrews.

"Polish Jokes Die Out" — "It's my fondest hope that Polish jokes are dying out," Gail said at a Brown Derby luncheon.

Japanese Kobe, a nice name for a Japanese city—does not strike the ear as Polish, Gail has heard more than her share of Polish jokes. Whereas had she not changed her name she might have been spared them.

"When somebody begins to tell me a Polish joke I quickly tell them 'I'm Polish and don't want to hear it,' the blonde actress said. "But that doesn't stop them. They go right ahead.

A native of Hutantrach, Mich., Gail said she has fond memories of Polish weddings she attended at which neither bride nor groom were having sheets.

Telephone Poles 'Danced Hula'

By RICHARD M. HARNETT SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sixty-four years ago on April 18 a great earthquake left 250,000 persons—homeless—in San Francisco.

Some of them are still around to tell about it. The experience of the earth's violent convulsion and the disastrous fire that followed etched itself on their minds in such vivid detail that to them it seems to have happened yesterday.

At 5:13 a.m. on that Wednesday morning, the earth heaved in the most violent tremor ever recorded in the United States.

Tommy Maloney, 17, was sleeping in a bedroom over his father's "Cuckoo's Nest" at Second and Brannan Streets.

"I jumped out of bed and ran to the window. The telephone poles were all doing the hula hula dance," recalls Maloney.

"To be honest with you, we went to our knees to pray." Maloney's formal school ended at the seventh grade because of the quake. But he went on to become a state legislator, representing San Francisco at the Capitol for 24 years. He is now an insurance man.

T. K. Peters, 22, was an adventurer and pioneer motion picture cameraman. He had a room on the 11th floor of the Hamilton Hotel, then dubbed "The Toothpick" because it stood 12 stories high—one of the tallest buildings in the city.

"I was also an amateur Egyptologist and had five volumes of the ancient Egyptian "Book of the Dead" on a shelf above my bed. The quake dropped them on my head and knocked me out of bed," says Peters. "I stepped over to the window. The hotel was swaying and I looked straight down at the roof of the Press Club building.

"That morning I stood there on the 11th floor of the Hamilton and watched that great area south of Market burn, taking pictures as the fires progressed through the city."

Peters later became a distinguished inventor, motion picture creator and college professor. He now lives at Westport, Calif.

Among others in the Palace

Hotel that morning was the great singer, Enrico Caruso. The hotel came through the quake with little damage, but was destroyed later the same day by the fire, an inferno that devoured 28,000 buildings. The Palace later was rebuilt on the same spot.

When the shaking stopped, there was a lull in the city. A few fires had been started by wood stoves that toppled. Water main had split, leaving no means to quench the fires.

Guests in the Palace, who hid in the lobby and street in their nightclothes, returned to their rooms. Many began sweeping up broken glass. Some people went to the roof to look over the city. They saw a few small fires. No one fully realized the peril San Francisco was in.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Teething Baby

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son-in-law and I have a teething youngster 7 or 8 months old. I was horrified to see her give her youngster about a half-ounce of whisky in 4 ounces of water to ease his fretfulness.

I think he is trying to get some rest out of me. I haven't lived 84 years for nothing, so I don't trust people too much. Am I a skeptic? — Mrs. G. S.

I am 49 years old. It took me many years and considerable anguish to get where I am - and I'm not much of a success except exorbitant. I was nurtured in depression; I lost four years to war; I am invested with sweat; I have had one coronary; I am a "liberal," square and I am a professor. I am sick of the "younger generation," hippies, Yippies, mutants and nonsense.

I am a professor of history at the University of Montana, and I am supposed to have "liaison" with the young. Worse still, I am father of seven children. They range in age from 7 to 23 - and I am fed up with nonsense.

Youth has always been characterized by impatient idealism. If it were not, there would be no change. But impatient idealism does not extend to guns, fire bombs, riots, vicious arrogance, and instill gratification. That is not idealism; it is childish tyranny.

In my day, we hated all women who injected their femininity into a boy's movie. They represented what we called "mush." Besides, they were always in the way.

Expulsion is a dreaded word. The administration merely needs to make a clear, quite dispassionately, that expulsion is the inevitable consequence of violation of the rules.

Suppose the students refuse to recognize expulsions - suppose they march, riot, strike, the police? No. The matter, by prearrangement, publicly stated, should then pass to the courts.

As an alternate, whisky sometimes is rubbed on the gums, but that involves just a trace of it.

Dr. Thosteson: How long is a patient in the hospital for teething varicose veins? Is it dangerous for a man 56? After the operation how long does a man have to stay home from work? — E. T.

Every generation - makes mistakes, always has and always will. My generation made a mistake, America, the most affluent country on earth. It has flunked, head-on, a racial problem which no nation on earth in the history of mankind had dared to do. It has publicly declared war on poverty and it has gone to the moon; it has segregated schools and abandoned policy; it has presided over the beginning of what is probably the greatest social and economic revolution in man's history.

Today's young people do not invent it; they do not own it. And what they seek to attain, all mankind has sought to attain throughout the ages. Shall we, therefore, approve the presumed attainment of it through heroin, speed, LSD and other drugs? And shall we, permissively, let them poison themselves, simply because, as in most other respects, we feel vaguely guilty because we brought them into this world?

What we need is a reexamination of our own middle-class values, our world, and our hard-won progress. We need to use discipline, not Mace; we need to reassess a weapon we chip by the hard way, by travel and labor; firm authority as parents, teachers, businessmen, workers and politicians.

Dr. Thosteson: How long is a patient in the hospital for teething varicose veins? Is it dangerous for a man 56? After the operation how long does a man have to stay home from work? — E. T.

Since when have children ruled this country? By virtue of what right, by what accomplishment should thousands of teen-agers, wet behind the ears and utterly without the benefit of having lived long enough to have either judgment or wisdom, become the sages of our time?

What we need is a reexamination of our own middle-class values, our world, and our hard-won progress. We need to use discipline, not Mace; we need to reassess a weapon we chip by the hard way, by travel and labor; firm authority as parents, teachers, businessmen, workers and politicians.

What we need is a reexamination of our own middle-class values, our world, and our hard-won progress. We need to use discipline, not Mace; we need to reassess a weapon we chip by the hard way, by travel and labor; firm authority as parents, teachers, businessmen, workers and politicians.

The first obligation of the administration is to lay down the rules early, clearly and positively, and to attach to this statement the penalty for violation. It is profane to stammer - and the failure to state in advance is the surest failure of university administration in this age.

This is a country full of decent, worried people like myself. It is also a country full of people fed up with nonsense. We need - those of us over 30; tax-ridden, harried, confused, weary and beat-up - to reassert our hard-won prerogatives.

Reports Given
For Burley
Beta Sigma Phi

BURLEY — Members of Xi Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, heard reports and viewed a quilt during their meeting at home of Mrs. Ransom Brown.

The quilt, which has been embroidered and donated by Mrs. Raymond Hansen for the "Mrs. Jackie Adams Fund", was viewed. The quilt has now been placed in the cedar chest which is being used by the chapter as a fund raising project to help with hospital and doctor bills for Mrs. Adams, a chapter member.

A special fund has been set up at First Security Bank, Burley, in the name of "Mrs. Jackie Adams Special Fund". A letter and a check has arrived at the bank from Carol J. Nelson, Des Plaines, Ill., a few days later a check and letter arrived at the bank from Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nelson, Kula, N.D. Chapter members are still checking to see how news of the project—sponsored by the chapter—reached Illinois and North Dakota.

Members were reminded of the annual Founder's Day banquet Saturday at Rupert Elks Lodge. Members of Xi Omega, Beta Eta and Alpha Zeta chapters and their husbands will be attending the semi-formal event. Each chapter will announce "Gift of the Year" and "Pledge of the Year".

It was announced the annual Mother's Day Breakfast will be at 9 a.m. May 3, at Price's Cafe.

It was reported that new Burley-Rupert Beta Sigma Phi City Council officers were elected recently during a meeting at home of Mrs. Larry Garro. New officers include Mrs. Gary Newton, Beta Eta, Rupert, president; Mrs. Lloyd Ramsey, Xi Omega, Burley, vice president; Mrs. Gary Anderson, Alpha Zeta, Rupert, secretary; and Mrs. LePage Layton, Xi Omega, Burley, Treasurer.

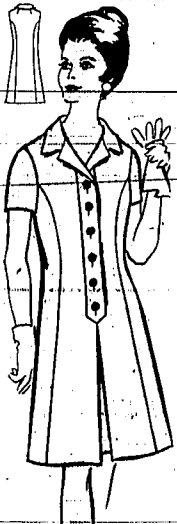

Program covers for the Mother's Day Breakfast will be made

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago, my husband and I received the final word that we can never have a child of our own because my husband is sterile. (We've been married for 9 years and have wanted a family right from the start.)

I heard about artificial insemination, and it interested me. That way I will be the baby's natural mother, which I think is preferable to adopting a child.

My husband is against the idea in principle. He says there is something immoral about it. (He can't explain it logically. He just says that he doesn't want me to carry another man's child.)

I think he's wrong. I will never see the man, and I can't see anything immoral about it. I would appreciate your views.

THINKING IT OVER
DEAR THINKING: I agree with you. Perhaps your husband feels inadequate because he cannot produce a child, and he resents any other man who can. Tell him that it's easy to be a father. It's far more difficult to be a man.

DEAR ABBY: What would you say if your boyfriend called you up and said, "Hey, if I asked you to marry me last night, I must have been drunk."
SUE

DEAR SUE: I'd have said, "And if I said 'yes', I must have been crazy."

DEAR ABBY: Recently I received an invitation to a baby shower given for my daughter-in-law. At the bottom of every invitation the hostess wrote, "No children, please."

Some of the invited guests later said they thought her "no children please" request was the rudest thing they had ever seen. I would like your opinion.
EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: I have more admiration for the hostess who prefers that children be left at home, and plainly says so, than the one who doesn't want them, lacks the courage to say so, and later complains to everyone who will listen about the "nervous" of those who drag their children along to adult parties. (This goes double for people who don't care for their friends' pets.)

DEAR ABBY: You recently printed a letter from a mother whose college son was living with a girl, and insisted that he didn't need a "piece of paper" to live with his girl friend. He said, "What's a piece of paper?"

Very likely he is old enough to have bought a car. He certainly didn't take it out of the car lot without a "piece of paper" called a title. And he will never buy a house without a "piece of paper."

And if he ever graduates from college, he will no doubt want that "piece of paper" called a diploma.

He will live his life with "pieces of paper," beginning with his birth certificate, and ending with another piece of paper—his death certificate. And one of the most important "pieces of paper" he will ever have will be his marriage license.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

"Know Your Shrubs" Topic Given For Garden Club

Mrs. John Flatt was speaker for the Twin Falls Garden Club's April meeting, presenting the program, "Know Your Shrubs."

She noted there are three main types of shrubs suitable for growing in this area, deciduous, coniferous and broadleaf. Each kind should be considered when planning a border or landscaped area, as all contribute to the overall picture.

Shrubs are the basics or backbone materials of a border so should be planted first, she noted. They should also be well planned, taking into consideration their mature size, shape and soil and moisture requirements. By careful planning, they can be planted and left to mature to full beauty. Height, rate of growth and the mature or ultimate shape, as well as leaf pattern and coloring, are all important things to be considered, she explained.

Mrs. Paul Detweiler gave the Garden Club report which also pertained to garden design. She gave examples of different types of plantings such as the French style, which is similar to rooms with corridors running through, rather monotonous and formal. Another example was the colonial, or less rigid plantings of the Williamsburg type, still formal, but more relaxed than French.

Plans were made for the flower show to be held May 2 and 3 at the Twin Falls YM-YWCA. A report was given by Mrs. T. W. Hicks on the civic beautification meeting she attended in Boise. Projects were discussed as possibilities for this year's projects and several given for consideration after the show.

Mrs. Floyd Handy read the collect and guests were welcomed.

The tea table was decorated with an arrangement of spring flowers, with parasols intermingled, depicting the theme, "April Showers Bring May Flowers." Hostesses were Mrs. Carl Porter, Mrs. Leo Gerner and Mrs. Ray Fike. The next meeting is May 6 at the YM-YWCA. All interested persons were welcome to attend.

Beachcomber Costumes Are Modeled For Saintpaulia

Members of the Magic Valley Saintpaulia Club dressed as beachcombers when they met recently at the home of Mrs. Leo Gerner, with costume prizes going to Mrs. Carroll Utley, first, and Mrs. Ray Fike, second.

Members received favors made of driftwood, cork and net, made by the hostess.

Driftwood was displayed by Mrs. Utley, before and after it was polished and arrangements made from driftwood were displayed by Mrs. Gerner.

Plans for the spring violet show were made and scheduled from 2 to 8 p.m. May 2 at the YM-YWCA Sunrise Room. Admission is free and the public is invited.

"The Life of Lindbergh" was reviewed by Mrs. Alma Requa. A birthday anniversary gift was received by Mrs. Elvis Utley from her secret pal.

The May 11 meeting is at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Paulsen.

Women Elect

BUHL — Mrs. Jim Hopkins was elected president of the Buhl Lady Lions during the election meeting at the home of Mrs. Bob Lapray.

Other officers include Mrs. Harry Eslinger, vice president; Mrs. Bobbie Johnson, secretary, and Mrs. Al Iverson, treasurer.

The installation meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hopkins and will feature a salad bar.

Miscellaneous Shower Held

MURTAUGH — Mrs. Earl Watts, Mrs. DeVon Andersen and Mrs. Donald Coon were co-hostesses for a miscellaneous wedding shower recently honoring Kay Jeanne Wright.

The event was held in the LDS cultural Hall. Spring colors were used in the decorations, with small umbrellas centering the quartet tables and a large umbrella on the gift table.

Games were played and Mrs. Roy Christensen received a game prize. Mrs. Lawrence Tolman assisted the honoree at the gift table and Melaine Watts, Sharla Coon and Patsy Okelberry assisted with the gifts. Mrs. Earl Wright, Jr. assisted her daughter at the gift table.

Women's Section

Scribblers Program Given

Mrs. Ruth Vandenberg, program chairman, presented the "Drama of Pageantry" during the Scribblers Club's April meeting at the home of Mrs. Goldie W. Camp Fire Girls activities, beginning with the watchword, "Wahelo," meaning work, health and love. She explained the various projects and awards. Each group, she noted, has its own activities, such as bead work, designing, behaviors, how to work in groups, care of clothing, etc.

Mrs. Vandenberg also gave the literary aspect from "Writers Digest," dealing chiefly with the art of story writing. She stated listening to conversations, observations and note-keeping, always sharpen the senses and imagination.

Mississippi Tornado Kills 2, Damage High

CORINTH, MISS. (UPI)—A tornado ripped into a populous residential section of this northeast Mississippi city Sunday afternoon, killing at least two persons, causing heavy damage and injuries.

The black twister snaked out of a line of thunderstorms and dipped first into Hiptop, a small town southwest of here before striking Corinth.

"It looks like it's going to be hell," said Gerald McLain, a local newspaperman. "I pulled two dead people out myself a while ago."

McLain said he was one of the first persons on the scene and heard the tornado when it roared over his father's house. "All of a sudden it just got pitch black and then came the damndest roar you ever saw."

McLain said the twister touched down on U.S. 72 east of Corinth and moved along the ground for about two miles through a largely Negro residential section. "It was just completely demolished—[for] about a mile of the strip. Rubble was everywhere."

"I saw one house trailer that was demolished with parts of it hanging on wires. Another place was completely destroyed and only one big trailer was setting up there on the debris crown."

McLain said dozens apparently were injured and hospitals were quickly filling. He said rescue crews were digging in the rubble for other victims.

Police department officials said tops were blown from houses, trailers were overturned and several businesses were destroyed.

Russia Reports On Cuba

MOSCOW (UPI)—A group of "counter-revolutionary" hirelings from the United States landed in Cuba Friday and clashed with Cuban military units, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Sunday.

The figures also showed a large excess of women over men—mainly because of World War II deaths—and they confirmed that fewer and fewer people are staying down on the farm.

The pursuit of the surviving interventionists continues, Tass said.

The agency said the landing took place about 15 miles east in Baracoa, in Cuba's Oriente Province.

According to the communique transmitted by the official Prensa Latina news agency, clashes took place on Friday and Saturday, Tass said.

Wood River Jaycees Install Officers At Joint Ceremony

KETCHUM — New officers of the Wood River Jaycees and Jay-C-ettes were installed at a joint ceremony in Ketchum. Dixie Mosker, district 8 vice president, Gooding, was installing officer for the Jay-C-ettes while Ross York, Nampa, district 7 president, assisted with the Jaycee installation. JoAnn Simms, outgoing Jay-C-ette president, has accepted the position of state director. New local officers are Lynn Beyer, president; Ann Van Every, vice president; Jackie Ferrenburg, secretary; Lois McDonald, treasurer and Linda Plummer, reporter. Jerry Beyer is new Jaycee president; John McDonald, vice president; Jim McShane, secretary-treasurer; Gary Ferrenburg, internal director; Pat Murphy, external director, and Gary Simms, state director. Mr. Simms is retiring president. Receiving Jay-C-ette awards were JoAnn Brannon, Lynn Beyer, JoAnn Sims and Linda Plummer. Sparkettes, Mrs. Brannon was honored as key woman of the year. Jaycee awards were presented to Ken Worthington, Rick Short, John McDonald, Ivan Swaner, Jerry Beyer and Gary Simms. Speak-up contest winners: John McDonald, Jerry Beyer, Jim McShane and Gary Ferrenburg. Spoke awards: Mr. Short, Mr. Swaner and Mr. Sims, spoke plugs; Mr. Worthington, Mr. Swaner and Mr. Beyer, Jaycee of the month awards. Mr. Worthington was honored as chairman of the outstanding single project for the year. Mr. Beyer, outstanding Spoke; Mr. McDonald, outstanding Jaycee of the year and Mr. Swaner, outstanding Jaycee. Key man of the Year. Mr. Short was named the most improved Jaycee of the year. Honored by the chapter for assisting with the 1969 Junior Miss pageant were Jay-C-ettes June Worthington, wife of the chairman, Beverly Stone, coach, and Pauline Thomas. Highlights of the dinner meeting was a pre-in-the-face for incoming president Beyer. Honored with throwing the pies were Mr. Short and Mr. Ferrenburg, who had won a challenge to complete the spoke and Spark Plug certificates. Speaking were Mr. York and Robert Conder, state Jaycee vice president. Both are candidates for the state presidency. Mr. York said the "Jaycee was one of the biggest squares in the world, and therefore, doesn't seem to fit into the modern community. He is a square because he believes in and practices the old fashioned ideas of honesty, loyalty, courage and thrift. "Who but a square would give up his life for the country?" he asked, saying the opposite of a square is a ball from which problems of society roll off.

Accidents Reported In Cassia

BURLEY — Four minor accidents are reported by Cassia county sheriff's officers and Burley police with citations given in three of the mishaps. Marilyn J. Preston, 15, Route 1, Declo, was cited for failure to yield the right of way following a two-car accident at 4:45 p.m. Thursday at the intersection of 17th Street and Burton Avenue, Burley. Do you put a higher price on an Olds than we do?

Olds own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Olds costs a lot more than it really does. Here's why. Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money. It's so unnecessary, too. Because Oldsmobile has many models that are put right down with so-called low-priced cars. See your Olds dealer. He'll prove that you're closer to Olds than you think.

George Denman, Ex-Educator, Dies

BURLEY — George E. Denman, 77, former Burley resident, died Saturday in a Weiser nursing home of a long illness. He was born April 8, 1893, in Benson, Ill. He graduated from the Kansas State College in 1916. In 1917, he moved to Twin Falls and taught agriculture in the high school. He served two years in the military service and returned to Idaho in 1919 and was agriculture supervisor for the state of Idaho in Boise. On July 24, 1919, he married Ethel Duffendacker, in Milwaukie, Ore. She died in 1967.

Art Items Purchased By Students

FILER — The student council of the Filer Elementary School has purchased several art additions to place in the library of the school. One object is a large sausage dome in sunset colors, and the other is a sculptured conquistador. The two objects will be attractive additions to the library and also will serve as incentives to art appreciation among the students.

Petition Filed

RICHFIELD — A second petition for a Richfield school board candidate, zone 6, was filed with district clerk, Mrs. Harold Pribmore. The petition is for Ralph Riley Jr., present board member who has announced his intention not to run.

Teachers Rehired For Bliss

BLISS — All present teachers in the Bliss school system have been rehired, with the exception of one. Mrs. Patricia Hafen has resigned as she has accepted employment closer to her home. It was announced the trustee election for zone 3 presently held by Sterling Gray and a mill levy election will be held from 2 to 8 p.m. May 11 at the school. The annual budget hearing will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. the same day. The present mill levy at Bliss is 35 mills and voters will be asked to raise this by a .75 mill increase.

Insurance Agents Slate Burley Meet

BURLEY — The Idaho Association of Mutual Insurance Agents will hold a two day convention Thursday and Friday at the Ponderosa Inn. Ken Robinson, of the Boise Statesman, will discuss the stand he took in a recent editorial favoring the "No Fault Auto Plan" of New York's Governor Rockefeller. Joe Preston will serve as moderator for a panel discussion on "Insurance and the Farm Market."

Historical Unit Meets At Rupert

RUPERT — Max Bruce, district manager for the Bureau of Land Management at Burley, will be featured speaker at a meeting of the Historical Society in the district courtroom. Entrance will be by the back door and the general public is invited. Mr. Bruce will speak on the subject of "Travel of Immigrants in Southern Idaho."

Hailey To Rent Dog Kennels

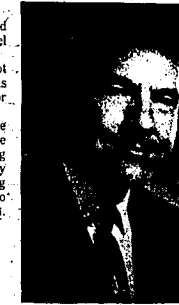

HAILEY — In accordance to an earlier announcement that the Hailey city law enforcement officers would be cracking down on dog lease law violators, city councilmen have agreed to use facilities at the Dutch Gunderson kennels. Mr. Gunderson offered to rent the kennels to the city for $2 a day for one dog in one pen, or $4 a day for two dogs in one pen. The kennels are located in the Deer Creek area. The council felt the proposal was more economically feasible than construction of a pound within the city limits.

Registration

Pre-school registration is being conducted today and Tuesday at Washington School for youngsters entering the first grade this fall. Registration may be carried out either by a personal visit to the school or through a telephone call. An erroneous story in Sunday's Times-News said registration was conducted last week.

Scientist Will Speak At Confab

A well-known Idaho scientist who is chairman of the department of science and health at Boise State College will speak mid-day Wednesday at the Environmental Teach-In at the College of Southern Idaho, one of hundreds of colleges and universities participating in the special day set aside to discuss man's environment.

Basque Dinner Is Planned Here On Saturday

Not only is the food prepared from genuine Basque recipes, but there will be plenty of Basque music and dancing by children in native costumes Saturday during the annual Knights of Columbus sponsored Basque dinner.

The dinner will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday in the St. Edward's Parish Hall and the public is invited to attend.

On the menu will be roast beef, with sauce, Lamb, macaloo (cod fish) Spanish rice, green beans, green salad, garbanzoes, garlic bread, reinesa, tea coffee or milk and plenty of wine. There will be sheet cake, with chocolate sauce for dessert.

Special entertainment will include a children's dance, group dressed in native costume and performing the favorite native dances of the colorful Basque people. The young dancers, ranging in age from 7 to 12 years of age, are directed by Marian Onelda, Shoshone.

Others assisting on the committee include Paul Reynolds and Mrs. Joe Mendola and Mrs. Bengoechea. Tickets are on sale at the door, or by members of the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Bengoechea said many persons of Basque nationality and more who are not, attend the annual event. The Basque people, known in this country for their work with sheep herds are actually a sea-faring people in their own land. Because they love animals, many became shepherders when they came to America and have become best known for this line of work. Many Basque persons, like Mr. Bengoechea speak several Basque languages.

PRACTICE OF NATIVE Basque dances to be performed Saturday in connection with the annual Basque Dinner sponsored by the local Knights of Columbus requires long hours. Here some of the young dancers perform for Joe Bengoechea, event chairman. From left are Doug Onelda, 10; Carlene Onelda, 9; Carl Onelda, 4, who plays tambourine and Debbie Mendola. The youngsters, in native costume, perform the favorite old Basque dances under training of Mrs. Marian Onelda, Shoshone.

PTA TO MEET GOODING — The Gooding PTA will meet at 8 p.m. today in the grade school lunchroom.

Lakers Dump Hawks Again, Sweep Series

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers, behind by a point, outscored Atlanta 17-2 in a three-and-a-half minute stretch of the fourth quarter Sunday night to defeat the Hawks 133-114 and sweep the NBA Western Division championship series four games to none.

Stewart Wins Spanish Race, Iekx Injured

MADRID (UPI)—World champion Jackie Stewart of Scotland paced his new Formula One Mach 701 to an easy victory Sunday in the Spanish Grand Prix—an event marred by injury to veteran Belgian driver Jackie Iekx.

The lead-footed Scot, who won five of last year's 11 world championship Grand Prix races to insure him the No. 1 spot, gunned the British-built car into the lead in the early stages of the race and stayed there all the way.

Phil Bombs Kid Brother For Boston

Chicago (UPI)—Boston's veteran center, Phil Esposito beat his little brother, Tony, for the hot trick Sunday to lead the Bruins to a 6-3 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks in the opener of their Stanley Cup semi-final playoff series.

It was the second win for the Bruins in four playoff road games this year, as they wound up their quarter-final series with a decision to New York to win the series in six games.

The victory, was especially important since it gave Boston a chance to win this series by taking all of 16 games at home and put the Black Hawks in a position where they must win at least one in Boston to take the series.

Caps Defeat Haywood And Denver Squad

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rick Barry and Spencer Haywood scored 35 points each Sunday night but Barry had more support as the Washington Caps defeated the Denver Rockets 125-120 in the American Basketball Association Western Division semi-final playoff.

St. Louis Takes 1-0 Cup Lead

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Gary Sabourin, Phil Goyette and Red Berenson scored St. Louis goals within six minutes of the start of the second period Sunday night to give the Blues a 3-1 win over the Pittsburgh Penguins in the first game of their Stanley Cup semifinals.

The Penguins, who secured only two goals in four games at St. Louis, were shut out by Glenn Hall until Ken Schinkel caught Hall out of position in the third period and scored at 2:10. HALL, who stopped 24 shots, was playing in his 100th Stanley Cup game to extend his own playoff record.

The clean-sweep ran the Lakers victory string to seven straight—an NBA playoffs record.

In the Western Division semifinals the Lakers were behind three games to one against Phoenix but came back for three straight wins and then took four from the Hawks.

Instrumental in the winning rally against the Hawks was 35-year-old Elgin Baylor, who netted 24 of his 31 points in the second half.

Los Angeles trailed 89-88 going into the final quarter but outscored the Hawks 45-25 in the last period.

Nets Topple Colonels For Series Edge

WEST HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI)—The New York Nets, leading by as many as 22 points late in the second quarter, had to withstand a fourth quarter rally by Kentucky Quarter to take a 107-99 victory. The decision gave New York a 2-1 lead over the Colonels in their American Basketball Association Eastern Division playoff series.

The Nets jumped to a 31-18 first quarter lead and led at the end of the first half, 60-42. Sonny Dove got 17 points in the first half, 12 in the second quarter.

At the end of the third quarter the Nets led 83-67.

Torrid Alyea Sparks Twins Past Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI)—Brant Alyea, picked up from Washington on a spring training deal, drove in four runs with his fourth homer and a double Sunday as the Minnesota Twins rolled over the Oakland A's 6-3.

The four runs batted in gave Alyea a total of 16 in the seven games in which he has played this year.

The victory, Minnesota's sixth in eight games, went to starter Jim Perry, who ran his record to 3-0. Perry gave up six hits and all three Oakland runs in the seven-plus innings he worked.

Ron Perranoski shutout the A's over the last two frames to gain his second straight save.

Chuck Dobson, touched for 10 hits and all six Minnesota runs in five-plus innings, took the loss, his third without a victory this year.

Singles by Perry and Hold Carey, sandwiched around a walk to Cesar Tovar and Tony Oliva's sacrifice fly, netted the Twins their first two runs in the third.

A simple by Rich Hoels and Alyea's homer made it 4-0 in the fourth.

Knicks Top Bucks In Milwaukee For 3-1 Series Lead

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Cazzie Russell broke the back of a Milwaukee Bucks comeback and sparked the New York Knicks to a 117-105 victory for 3-1 lead in the National Association Eastern Division finals.

3-Point Play Was Clincher, Says Coach

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—"I like to get into a clutch situation so I can loosen the team up," Cazzie Russell said after he sparked the New York Knicks in the third quarter of Sunday's National Basketball Association playoff game.

"I can't afford to be tight. Red (Coach Red Holzman) counts on me to spark the team when it's tight," said Russell.

Russell did just that as he made three key baskets to stave off a strong Milwaukee comeback bid during the third quarter. The former Michigan star had six field goals in the second half and finished with 18 points in a reserve role.

Milwaukee down by 20 at the half, came to within two points at 67-71 during the torrid third period, but Russell extended New York's lead to 74-69 with a basket from the baseline.

Dick Barnett added another bucket after a Milwaukee time out and Walt Frazier followed with a three-point play.

"That's the play that decided the game," said Bucks' Coach Larry Costello.

"We were beaten by a good team, but don't forget we've only been around two years, and we haven't quit yet," Costello added.

"Every team has its clutch players during any given game, and Russell and Dave Stallworth were our sparkplugs today," said Holzman.

Yankees Rally To 4-5 In Split With Baltimore

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Pete Ward's two-run triple keyed in the top four innings and led the New York Yankees to an 8-5 victory Sunday after the Baltimore Orioles won the first game of the doubleheader 4-3 as Dave Johnson drove in three runs and Mike Cuellar pitched a four-hitter.

The second game loss dropped the Orioles' luck to seven straight one-half games behind idle Detroit, which was rained out, in the American League's Eastern Division. The Orioles had led for first by winning the opener.

With the Yanks trailing 2-1 in the fourth, Roy White and Curt Blefary singled. Ward then drove in two runs with a looping triple to left and scored himself on Jack Gibbs' sacrifice fly to put the Yanks ahead 4-2.

Miss Haynie Cops Raleigh Golf Meet

HALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—Blonde Sandra Haynie used consistent shotmaking Sunday to win the Raleigh Ladies Invitational Golf tournament by three strokes with a 213.

Miss Haynie broke out of a 30-hole, three-way tie with Gloria Ehret and Jo Ann Prentice with a par 72 final round and 212 total. She collected first prize money of $2,475.

Miss Prentice, Carol Mann and Marilyn Smith were tied at 215 and second place and received $1,578 each.

Miss Whitworth, last year's leading money winner, secured out of contention Saturday with a 78 but rebounded with a one-under-71 Sunday to finish with a 218.

Pacers Edge Past Cougars In Playoffs

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The Indiana Pacers outlasted Carolina 103-98 Sunday to take a two-game lead in their American Basketball Association Eastern Division semi-final playoffs.

The Pacers, who led by 18 points early in the third period, saw this seemingly comfortable margin melt away in the final minutes on the shooting of Bob Verga and Doug McLean. Verga, late in the final period, Carolina narrowed the gap to within one point before clutch baskets by Oliver Darden, Bill Keller, and Roger Brown gave the Pacers a seven-point lead.

Verga led the scoring with 36 points, including 14 fielders, while Freddie Lewis topped Indiana with 28 and Mel Daniels added 23.

Other Pacers in double figures were: Bob Nettolucky with 21, Roger Brown 13, and Keller with 12.

The scene now shifts to Charlotte, N. C. for Wednesday's third game in the best-of-seven series.

Newsman Describes Death Of Pope John XXIII

EDITOR'S NOTE: UPI's Ray Mosley is back in the United States after eight years of covering some of the biggest stories in Europe and the Middle East. In the following article, he describes the death of Pope John XXIII. Mosley currently is assigned to Washington.

BY RAY MOSELEY
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The death of a pope is one of the most dramatic events in journalism, comparable perhaps only to the death of an American president.

An elderly man lies down in his bed for the last time, and almost immediately millions throughout the world are transfixed by the event. A single human life flickering out engages mankind.

Even the Romans, traditionally indifferent to the great and powerful, abandon for the moment their air of disdain and stream into the piazza in front of St. Peter's Basilica. All eyes are fixed on a single window. For a newsman, especially a news service correspondent, few stories are so grueling to cover or arouse such competitive pressures. Each dies a thousand times, contemplating the possibility of being behind the opposition when the final moment comes.

Pope John Dies
Pope John XXIII died 12 months after I joined United Press International in Rome, and his death agony went on for days and three nights. At such a time, a special machinery goes into operation at the Vatican to keep the world informed of each development.

Vatican Radio begins around-the-clock broadcasts with periodic reports on the Pope's condition. Each news broadcast is preceded by chimes, and each one brings a hush in news offices because it could be the announcement of the Pope's death. Even today, seven years after the event, I cannot hear the Vatican Radio chimes without feeling that announcement is imminent.

My job during the vigil for Pope John is to open a phone line to a colleague in the Vatican press room and relay the official announcements as he receives them. For four days, he and I cannot leave the phone. We eat while holding the phone to our ears. Occasionally, I scream into the phone to awaken him when he falls asleep with the phone cradled against his ear.

Remembers Headsets
On the third day, someone remembers the office has headsets, and it is not necessary to hold the phone any longer. But by the 6, my arm has developed a muscle cramp that lasts for a week, and my colleague has to see a doctor about his arm.

Pope John comes out of his coma on the first night. "My bags are packed and I am ready, very ready, to go," he says, scoring to the last the high-flow and rather archaic language that Popes sometimes assume when they first put on their tiaras.

By the third day, bets are being taken as to which newsman will die of exhaustion before the Pope goes. Pope John's words convey the measure of his suffering.

"I am suffering for the church. I have been able to observe my death step by step, and now I am moving gently toward the end." But the end does not come yet, and the world continues to wait.

On the evening of the fourth day, a mass in St. Peter's Square is drawing to a close. I have gone home to bed for my first sleep in four days. Two hours after I lie down, I am awakened by the mournful pealing of Roman church bells and I know I have chosen the wrong moment to sleep. It is the traditional signal that the Pope is dead.

At ordinary times, I am alternately fascinated and maddened by the Vatican. It has an irrational obsession with secrecy that often seems little different from the secretiveness of the most totalitarian governments in the world.

The institution has been there nearly 2,000 years, and partly it may have survived because of its slowness to accept change. The sense of continuity and the deep awareness of history and tradition that pervade the everyday life of the Vatican are among the things that make it unique in the world.

Coronation Follows Funeral
The coronation of Paul VI follows John's funeral by nine days. He wears a bullet-shaped, silver tiara, which makes him look somewhat Buck Rogers. (The crown, a gift from the city of Milan, is donated to charity afterward. No loss to ecclesiastical art should it be melted down.) He speaks for the first time as Pope, and the voice is rasping. It is one part of his misfortune as a public figure.

The personality that emerges over the years is that of a retiring man, cautious and frequently indecisive, given to bouts of severe depression, seldom appearing to be optimistic. He is well read, and one supposes he innately is more comfortable with books than people.

I observe him in his study, speaking in his halting English to astronaut Frank Borman, in a Roman suburb sitting stiffly before a group of crippled children, in the jungles of Uganda, surrounded by Africans under the banana trees, and I am always struck by the contrast with the personality of Pope John.

He is not a Pope John, of course, and it is sometimes difficult to say just what he is. But above all he seems to me to be one of history's tragic men, ensnared in developments in his church that he would never have willed and unable either to change them or to bring himself to live with them.
