NEW YORK (UPI)—Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., told a national packaging conference Monday that container manufacturers must share the blame for pollution problems. Rosenthal said the industry had ignored environmental problems when it created "disposable bottles and cans which exploit consumers economically and create solid waste disposal problems."

Youths Collect Trash

By United Press International
Lake Ozark, Mo., school children spent 3½ hours along U.S. 54 Monday. When they left, there were five piles of garbage along the road, each 30 feet around and 14 feet high.
The group was getting an early start on Earth Day—demonstrating just how much garbage Americans live with. In most places, Earth Day is Wednesday.
The Missouri Highway Department said it would take more than a day to haul away the trash—all collected from a short stretch of roadside. Ploqs for Wednesday varied from the colorful to the pragmatic.
YUK (Youth Againsts Krud); a Keene, N.H., State College group, planned to picket local polluters and present a "Poller of the Day" Award for the rest of the week.
Plas Symposium PHUG (People Living Under Garbage), a University of Maine student group, planned a three-hour symposium on pollution, as did a counterpart in the state, "The Efficient Society."
Thousands of persons were expected to join a "survival march" and "festival of death" in Boston, wearing green armbands bearing the Greek letter Theta—astrological symbol for death.
Labor leader Walter P. Reuther told the United Auto Workers' Convention in Atlantic City, N.J., that "we are in trouble because our values are all mixed up in America."
"We have been more concerned by the quantity of our gadgets and the brightness of the chrome of these gadgets than we have about the quality of life."
Reuter said the UAW plans to make pollution control an issue for bargaining with automakers this year.
Sponsors Contest
At Upsala College in East Orange, N.J., students were sponsoring a pollution photography contest with a gas mask as first prize.

tonight will be mostly in the 20s and heating will become necessary after midnight.
The extended outlook for South Idaho and East-Central Oregon Thursday through Saturday . . . fair weather is expected Thursday although clouds will increase Friday with a chance of showers developing by Friday and Saturday.
Dateline temperatures will be mostly in the 50s and 60s Friday, lowering again into the 50s Saturday. The lows at night will be mostly in the 30s.
Yesterday, skies were mostly cloudy throughout the day and scattered showers of snow occurred at times throughout the valleys. Precipitation was mostly light, ranging from traces to amounts generally under one tenth an inch. The greater amounts were .04 of an inch at Idaho Falls and .06 at Pocatello. In the past 24 hours, Pocatello reports 1 inch of snow on the ground this morning.
Temperatures yesterday were about the same to a little cooler in the Upper Snake River valleys. Highs ranged from 38 at both Pocatello and Idaho Falls to the mid 40s in Magic Valley, rising to 53 at Fruitland in the west. The lows this morning under clear skies were mostly in the teens and 20s. The lowest was 17 above at Burley.

partly cloudy skies will prevail elsewhere. Somewhat cooler readings are anticipated for most of the northern half of the nation, with little change in temperatures expected elsewhere.

Arthur Stevens
GLENNIS FERRY—Arthur A. Stevens, 88, a pioneer resident of Elmore County, died April 17 in a Boise nursing home.
Mr. Stevens was sheriff of Elmore County for 28 years, served as Mountain Home Postmaster for four years, worked as a federal guard at Swan Island, near Portland, Ore., during World War II, and retired in 1960 with the rank of captain on the Idaho State Penitentiary staff after 19 years of service.
He was born Sept. 21, 1880, in Williams, Iowa, and came to Idaho in 1906, marrying Emma Storer on Dec. 3, 1912 at Mountain Home.
He was a member of Elmore Lodge No. 30, AF & AM, for more than 50 years, holding a life membership in the lodge. He also belonged to the Scottish Rite Bodies, with a 50-year life membership, and had been a member of the Boise Elks Lodge for many years.
Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Pearl Barber and Mrs. Violet Jagger, both Boise, and Mrs. Mable Reck, Nampa, and two nieces, Mrs. Jacqueline Ritter, London, England, and Mrs. Beth Newell, Chicago. His wife preceded him in death in 1963.
Services were conducted Monday at the Smith Mortuary in Mountain Home by the Rev. Stuart Olbrich of the First Congregational Church. Masonic graveside rites followed at Mountain View Cemetery.

2 Injured When Car Hits Tree
SHOSHONE—A 1965 Buick station wagon belonging to Kenneth Blackburn, Shoshone, was demolished and the driver and two passengers in the car slightly injured when the car hit a tree at 202 North Apple St. Shoshone.
Driver of the vehicle, Denise Blackburn, 15, daughter of Mr. Blackburn, said an unidentified car ran in front of her at an intersection, and to avoid hitting it she then ran into the tree.
Mrs. Eunice Adams, 64, Jerome, was hospitalized for facial injuries. Debbie Pruett, Shoshone, and Miss Blackburn were treated for cuts and bruises and released from the hospital.

Pre-School Signup Continues
Pre-schoolers are to be registered at all five elementary schools in Twin Falls throughout the rest of the week, according to a school district spokesman.
An erroneous report given the Times-News on Monday indicated that registration was conducted only at Washington School. Actually, all elementary schools will register the students who will enter the first grade next fall.
The students must be six years old on or before Oct. 15, 1970, to be eligible to enter school next fall.
Registration may be accomplished either by telephoning the school which the youngster will attend, or by bringing him to the school.

'Dialing' To Begin In 3 Towns
Direct-distance dialing will begin Monday in Castelford, Havenman and Bliss for patrons of the Mountain Bell telephone utility, according to K. G. Mann, district manager of Mountain Bell in Twin Falls.
The updated service, new to customers in those communities, is another step by the telephone company to provide complete communication services to all customers, Mr. Mann said. The new service was also required to allow the Metropac area online service, which begins throughout Magic Valley on May 1.

Idaho-Based Flier Wins Commendation

MOUNTAIN HOME AIR Force Base — Capt. Gerald Dobberful, currently stationed with the 10th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron of the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing at the Mountain Home base, is a quiet, retiring sort of person — but he is the sort who doesn't shrink from duty no matter what danger stands in the way. This devotion to duty has won a nomination as one of three finalists for the coveted Aviators' Valor Award, presented annually to an Air Force man by American Legion Post No. 743 in New York, with the concurrence of the Air Force Chief of Staff, who presents the medal to the winning aviator.

Capt. Dobberful, like most Air Force crewmen, has flown in combat over Vietnam. Some don't come back, and he almost didn't. It was a hot, sticky day near the end of the monsoon season in 1968. Capt. Dobberful was assigned as a navigator to Udorn Air Force Base in Thailand.

He and his pilot, Maj. Richard Benson, were flying an F-4D jet fighter when a reconnaissance target after refueling from an aerial tanker.

"We were flying along a road heading to the target," the aviator recalls, "and turned upside down to get a better look. While inverted, I felt the aircraft lurch and shudder. I heard Rich scream out in pain."

"Pungent fumes filled the cockpit and the plane careened towards the ground. It was only a few seconds but it seemed like agonizing hours. Instinctively, I grabbed the stick and yanked it back and pushed the throttle to the firewall."

The plane responded to his commands. Maj. Benson was still conscious, meaning that he had been hit in the chest. Capt. Dobberful maintained control of the plane and struggled for more altitude.

"All of a sudden, the plane began to drop like a rock. Maj. Benson had, for some reason, pulled the throttle all the way back." Quickly, he slammed the throttle forward again, recalling later that "I still don't know why he cut the power, but it made me aware that I had better keep control of the aircraft."

After gaining the desired altitude, the periled fliers turned back from the target, heading for the nearest friendly base, Nakhom Phanom Air Base in Northern Thailand. The reconnaissance jets carry no weapons or armament, so an F-4D jet fighter was called to give the crippled plane protection.

"All the way back I wondered how Rich was," the captain said. "Every now and then he would moan, but nothing intelligible." Now a new worry presented itself — even though the aircraft is equipped with controls in the back-seat occupied by the navigator, it is almost impossible to land the jet because you can't see in front of you. In landing, the nose points up and with the pilot's seat in the way, forward visibility is nil.

"A few miles out of Nakhom Phanom, Rich began talking about the landing. We decided to make a landing engaging the barrier (an aircraft carrier-like wire barrier designed to help stop damaged planes on landing). I felt the stick move a little so I knew Rich had control of the plane."

The next moments were the worst for Capt. Dobberful, a native of Greenleaf, Wis. "I know Rich could lose consciousness at any time, so I kept my hand on the stick. I kept hoping and praying that he wouldn't black out on the landing and splatter us on the deck."

The aircraft made a good landing, engaging the barrier. "When the medics pulled him out of the cockpit, we could see that one side of his chest had been laid open." It turned out that one anti-aircraft shell had pierced the cockpit while they were flying upside down, had passed through the major's chest and had ended up lodged

CAPT. GERALD DOBBERFUL, pictured beside his plane at the Mountain Home Air Force Base, who brought his plane and severely wounded pilot home from combat in Vietnam, has been commended for valor in combat.

Welfare Ruling Issued

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court Monday barred states from reducing welfare payments to dependent children because of a "man in the house" unless it is shown he made actual contributions to their support.

The court split 6 to 2 on the decision, with Justice William O. Douglas speaking for the majority. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Hugo L. Black dissented.

Douglas relied on a 1968 decision that states may not cut off aid to families with dependent children because of a mother's extra-marital relationships.

After that decision the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) issued a regulation providing that the income of a man not married to the mother may not be treated as available to the children unless there is proof that he actually contributed.

The HEW regulation was found unconstitutional by a special three-judge federal court in San Francisco. The Supreme Court ruling reinstates the federal regulation.

The lower court acted on complaints by two California families which included a man unmarried to a mother but living with her and a stepfather.

At that time, California law provided that payments to needy children living with their mother and a stepfather or "man in the house" should consider the income of the male.

The law automatically presumed that the income would be available to the children.

HEW overruled this assumption and Douglas said it did so properly.

"In the absence of proof of actual contribution, California may not consider the child's resources to include either the income of a non-adopting stepfather who is not legally obligated to support the child as a natural parent."

FIVE QUEENLY CANDIDATES pause for a moment to smile for the camera. The lovely young ladies are competing in selling tickets for the upcoming baseball season. Working with their sponsoring clubs or local merchants, the young ladies will proffer books of 10 tickets to games of the Cowboys for $5, receiving 50 cents per book as commission. The best saleswoman will be named Queen of the club. The candidates include, from left, Debbie Mathis, sponsored by the American Legion, and Marel North, who will work for Safeway stores; back row, Melody Brown, sponsored by the Kimberly Recreation Department; Sandee Trout, working for Buttry's, and Helen Fleener, sponsored by the Flier Kiwanis Club. A total of 26 queen candidates were named for the ticket campaign.

Filing Fees For Election Are Revealed

Filing fees for candidates planning to seek county or legislative offices in the August elections and November general elections were announced Monday by Twin Falls County Clerk and Recorder, Harold Lancaster.

The fees are based on salaries of the offices being sought and salaries were established in a meeting Friday by County Commissioners.

Mr. Lancaster said those seeking county commission posts, of which two will be filled in the fall elections, will receive a salary of $7,870 and the filing fee will be $77.60. The county clerk, auditor and recorder will be paid $9,250 and the fee will be $91.30; county assessor salary, $9,400 and fee $82; treasurer, $8,700, fee $86 and county coroner $1,200 and the fee is $11.

Mr. Lancaster said state legislators will pay only $5 for filing fees. Petitions are now available at the clerk's office and many have been taken out by the officials of the Republicans and Democratic parties. Each petition must have at least five and no more than 10 signatures of electors for those seeking county offices and legislative candidates must have 50 signatures.

Filing of petitions, as set by state law, will be from May 1 through May 7, but because of the weekend, there will actually be only five days. Mr. Lancaster explained. Petitions may be filed with his office from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

The petitions for constable, legislative district chairmen and precinct committeemen require no fees.

Firms Join Clean-Up Campaign

Several organizations and many individuals have joined the April Clean Up Campaign in Twin Falls. City Manager Jean Milor said.

Members of the Snake River Lions Club and several Boy Scout groups are leading in man hours contributed, the city manager said. The Snake River Lions worked during the weekend building fencing around the city land fill to prevent trash and debris from blowing onto adjacent property before it is covered by dirt.

Sovran Boy Scout organizations have been assisting by picking up litter along public roads, streets and right of way.

Individual property owners were working over the weekend despite high winds, and city trash trucks began their special rounds Monday morning to pick up spring clean up debris from alleys and streets. The trucks will continue throughout the week but will stop at each property only once, covering the city from the old town to the outlying areas and will then return to their jobs in regular street department work, Mr. Milor said.

Application Blanks Available For Camp

Application blanks are now available for the Tenth Annual Idaho Youth Conservation Camp to be held June 15 through Aug. 9 in Farragut State Park.

The camp is open to any resident Idaho boy between the ages of 14 and 17 who has not previously participated and who is in good health and of good character.

Requests for applications should be sent by May 1 to the Idaho Department of Parks, Statehouse, Boise, 83707.

Those selected for the camp will work on improving recreation areas and will also serve on conservation projects.

Maj. Benson, however, survived, despite the critical wounds he sustained.

For his courageous action and his valor, Capt. Dobberful was nominated for the Aviator's Valor Award. The winner will be selected by the Air Force Chief of Staff and the American Legion.

16 KILLED

ADELAIDE, Australia (UPI)—Sixteen picnickers were killed and more than 20 injured Sunday when a train struck a bus at a level crossing about 30 miles north of here. Many of the casualties were children. A man awaiting hospital treatment said, "I just remember being on the bus singing. The next thing I knew there was a crash. I was bleeding and my legs were pinned."

He said about 100 people were on the bus returning from a picnic organized by a social club.

Horn Beeps Asked To Control Litter

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The Family Camping Federation has come up a suggestion to point out litterbugs — "Give 'em L."

Mrs. Ann Cunningham of Ward, Colo., proposed at the FCF's annual meeting here motorists beep their car horns in the Morse Code for "L," dit-dah-dit-dit, or, short, long, two shorts — when they spot a litterbug.

NO WAITING FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Attendants in the toilets and washrooms of the busy international airport here have been told they must accept payment and tips in foreign currencies.

Nixon's Secrecy On Laotian Strategy May Stir Congressional Opposition

By STEWART HENSLEY
UPI Diplomatic Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration's reluctant disclosure of the U.S. military role in Laos is expected to have widespread implications for the President's strategy in Southeast Asia and possibly other places.
The official admission of the hitherto semisecret operations is bound to strengthen the position of those senators who have been demanding restoration of their traditional role in approving military operations undertaken by the executive branch.
The fact that for five years the United States was engaged in war operations which it failed to disclose to the American public may lead to an erosion of support for future administration policy. This, of course, depends upon the extent to which the opposition is able to cash in on the Laotian situation.

In a larger sense the affair underlines the question of how capable a freely elected government, dependent on public support for its actions, can deal with conflicts in which it is difficult to draw the line between outright aggression and subversion.
The Nixon administration, to its credit, has not tried to emphasize unduly that it inherited the policy of secret military intervention in Laos from President Lyndon B. Johnson. However, Nixon and his advisers undoubtedly tempered any tendency to blame Johnson when they discovered that U.S. military operations in Laos were part of the struggle against Hanoi and the Viet Cong in neighboring South Vietnam.
Many congressmen and most newsmen covering Southeast

Asia have been aware since the beginning that the United States was engaged in military operations in Laos which it would not admit. The official comment on repeated dispatches concerning these operations was always "no comment."
Thus, neither Johnson nor Nixon can be accused of actually lying to the public.
However, the full extent of U.S. involvement has yet to be told. The Nixon administration has acknowledged U.S. aircraft have continuously bombed the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos. It also has permitted publication of secret testimony that U.S. ambassadors in Vientiane, the capital of Laos, virtually directed the Laotian air attacks on the Communist Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese invaders. And it also has told of U.S. operations in Thailand to train

Laotian pilots.
However, in the public transcript of testimony before a Senate subcommittee, it deleted information on the close support air attacks carried out by U.S. planes to help Laotian forces, particularly on the strategic Plain of Jars. The State and Defense Departments also censored information that many of the U.S. air attacks, as well as more exotic operations, are mounted from Thailand.
Against the background of the clandestine involvement in Laos, it is certain that the Senate is going to keep an extremely close eye on any U.S. gestures towards aiding the new Cambodian government. And it may well want to dig more deeply into some of the details of the U.S. arrangements in neighboring Thailand.

Young Legislators Protest Pollution

BOISE (UPI)—The annual Idaho YMCA Youth Legislature adjourned Saturday after approving a last minute Skyline High School memorial opposing any practice which would cause "permanent ecological destruction."
The measure was one of four environmental measures passed by the group. Others would create a committee to enforce "the federal water pollution control act, asking the State Highway Board to enforce regulations concerning dump sites and make it unlawful to store radioactive materials when water resources could be polluted.
Mike Orme, Idaho Falls, youth governor, vetoed a measure which would have lowered the government service job opportunities age requirements from 18 to 16 on grounds the 16-year-olds would be unable to meet the full-time job requirement.
The Skyline memorial in its original form would have opposed establishment of any mining activities in the White Clouds, but was later amended to oppose only those activities which could not restore the area to its natural state.
The memorial, which the delegates approved "as representatives of the youth of Idaho," came out against all damming projects instigated for immediate profit regardless of the possible ecological disturbances that could have a long-range negative effect on wilderness areas and against any practice "which could cause permanent ecological destruction which would harm the aesthetic riches of our wilderness."
The memorial said once lost the scenic areas could never be restored and "we the representatives of the youth of Idaho are aware that the future of Idaho is our future and our future will depend upon the preservation of these unspoiled natural regions."

The measure also added the natural beauty of unspoiled regions "is going to have a value in the future far exceeding any amount of profit received today through activities resulting in destruction of our wilderness."
Other measures approved by both houses of the youth legislature were ones to allow Sunday sales of liquor at conventions or banquets, require automobile liability insurance, provide American Field Service scholarships and require a driving test when licenses are renewed.
Measures which passed during the session included ones to make possession of marijuana a misdemeanor instead of a felony, make the office of superintendent of public instruction an appointive instead of elective position, provide a new income tax structure for the state, create a unicameral legislature and provide for equitable distribution of public school funds.

CSI To Train 'Fixers'

A training program for knitting machine fixers for the Kellwood Co. will begin about May 1, conducted by the College of Southern Idaho Vocational School.
Neil Cross, vocational counselor, said anyone interested in enrolling in the program should register as soon as possible since enrollment will be limited to 10.
The students will be in classroom type training part of the day and the remainder of the day will attend paid on the job training at the new Kellwood plant. The course will run 16 weeks.
Those interested should contact Mr. Cross at 733-9554. Other programs will be starting in the near future, Mr. Cross said.

Power Hike Sought

BOISE (UPI)— Idaho Power Company must have at least a seven per cent rate of return to meet inflationary costs and the need for expansion, President Albert Carlson told the Public Utilities Commission.

Carlson testified at a PCU hearing on the company's latest request for a rate increase, filed after the previous application was withdrawn.

The company seeks an increase of $8.7 million in annual revenues before taxes. "Our proposed rate schedules on file with produce a return in the neighborhood of seven per cent," Carlson testified.

"I believe this represents the absolute bare minimum in order to run our business and meet our continuing utility obligations, and in fact, it is substantially below the return which would be from 7 1/2 to 8 per cent.

"Unless these proposed rates are granted, I do not believe the company will be able to obtain financing to provide the facilities that will be required to serve the company's customers."

Carlson said that since the inception of the company in 1916 Idaho Power has requested only two upward rate adjustments prior to this one which making many rate decreases over the years.

He said it asked for rate increases because of its inability to meet those types of costs which it cannot control—taxes, cost of money and inflation.

"Since the company's last rate increase in 1962," he said, "the company has strived to offset continually rising costs and inflationary trends by every reasonable means."

He said the employee numbers have been cut to fewer than there were in 1950.

Costs Cut "Our total payroll in 1969 represents 15.23 per cent of revenues as contrasted to 20.29 per cent in 1950," he testified. "All costs have been carefully analyzed and cut down where any and all fills removed from the company's budget."

Buhl Man Hurt In Auto Mishap

BUHL — Archie Dale Bartosousky, 55, Route 4, Buhl, was listed in good condition Monday with injuries he received in a one-car accident over the weekend.

Idaho State Police said Mr. Bartosousky was alone in his 1955 Dodge about 7:30 a.m. Saturday, traveling west on U. S. Highway 20 about two and one-half miles east of Buhl. Officers said Mr. Bartosousky apparently went to sleep while his car was traveling around a curve. When he awakened, the car had started to go off the right side of the road. He overcorrected the vehicle, which then went off the left side of the road and crashed into a railroad embankment.

2 New Men Retained As Policemen

Two new men joined the Twin Falls Police Department Monday, according to Chief Frank Barnett, who said he plans to hire three more men.

The men, who will be assigned as patrolmen in the uniform division, are Jerry D. Cargill, 22, and John H. Barth, 25. Mr. Cargill was born in Twin Falls, but has spent most of his life in California. He just recently was discharged from the U. S. Air Force and moved to Twin Falls from San Bernardino, Calif. Mr. Barth has lived most of his life in the Twin Falls area and currently resides in Filer. He has been working as a mechanic for Magic Valley Motors of Buhl. Chief Barnett said one of the men will replace Willie Davis, who will move from the uniform ranks into the detective division about May 1. The hiring of the two new men also will enable recently announced promotions to take effect physically, the chief said.

Aides Cite Navy Abuse Of Drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—More than 3,800 Navy men have been discharged in the past year for illegally using or pushing drugs, but the problem is not centered in Vietnam as many persons believe, it was disclosed Monday.

"Our experience in drug abuse in Vietnam is not any higher than in other places, such as Norfolk or San Diego," Vice Adm. Charles K. Duncan, the Navy chief of personnel, told members of a House appropriations subcommittee.

Duncan and Vice Adm. G. M. Davis, director of the Navy Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, appeared before the subcommittee March 9 but their testimony was only released Monday.

Duncan said there has been "a rather rapidly rising curve" of drug use in the Navy over the past two or three years.

Religious rites at St. Edward's Catholic Church solemnized the wedding vows exchanged by Kathy Obenchain, daughter of Mrs. Bob Crandall, and Hal Forbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Forbes, in an afternoon ceremony March 21.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edmund Cody performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white baskets, filled with pink chrysanthemums. The pews were marked with pink chrysanthemums and pink satin bows.

The bride, escorted by her father, Dan Obenchain, wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta. The gown was fashioned with an A-line skirt, empire waistline and a cowl collar, covered with lace to the empire waistline.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of pink and red roses. Kris Dumas, Moscow, sorority sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids, sorority sisters, were Priscilla Bryson, Boise; Trudy Morrison, St. Anthony; and Penny Proctor, Moscow.

The bride was given a miscellaneous shower in Boise by her aunt, Mrs. Phil Obenchain and Mrs. W. W. Roberts. Sorority sisters, Priscilla Bryson and Kris Dumas, hosted a lingerie shower for the bride.

The wedding party was feted at a rehearsal dinner at Kay's Rice Bowl by the bridegroom's parents.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Parish Hall decorated in the bride's colors, pink and red.

Reception hostess was Mrs. John K. Baisch. Guests were registered by Kathy Pierce, Long Beach, Calif., and given traditional wedding candy from the bride and bridegroom.

The bride's table, covered with a two-tiered organza cloth, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake arranged on pillars. Pink roses and tiny icing white leaves decorated the cake edges. Topping the cake were pink roses, a cupid and two white doves. Flanking the cake were two candelabras with pink candles, silver punch bowl and silver coffee service completed the table appointment. Serving the cake was Mrs. Terry Wood, Boise, sister of bridegroom and Mrs. Bruce Pappas, Caldwell.

Swing With Printed Pants

If you want to swing with the crowd this season, pick yourself a printed pair of pants. Fashion is still focusing on the male of the species, and the once drab sex has come into his own.

The ubiquitous jean leads the list. Still a top choice with the kids, it shows up in bold geometrics, Indian motifs, and awning stripes. Casual slacks demand more than casual attention. They come out in tapestry florals as well as all the other patterns.

The fabric under the prints definitely makes the difference in pants today. Crisp canvas, denim (ticking stripes), soft corduroy, fine twills; all these and many others are being developed by fabric houses such as Cone Mills, in order to meet the demand for versatility and individuality made by today's young man. Finishes also vary from the pliable hold of uncut corduroys to the sturdy effects produced by durable press processings, depending upon the type of fabric desired by the customer.

In styling, attention has been turned up from the cuff to the waistline. Kids want flares and straight lines in their jeans and pants, but at the waist, they want more variety.

To meet this need pants now come with broad, side buttoned waistbands, wide belt loops, pocket treatments, and even pleats.

What do you wear with all this pattern? More pattern, of course! Many manufacturers are offering coordinated knit or woven shirts to top these colorful pants. Combine a pencil line stripe with a denim ticking or a geometric, or monochromatic stripe shirt with a monochromatic floral jean.

The Twin Falls Altrusa Club has received a call to the 15th annual conference for Altrusans in District Twelve to be held in Portland, Ore., May 15, 16 and 17 from Roberta Schumann, district governor, Seattle.

In keeping with their international organization's emphasis on "Fresh Approach to Service," the 45 clubs' representatives will hear and consider programs on communications, having as a speaker and conference guest a leader in that field, Dr. Dominic A. LaRusso of the University of Oregon. Sessions will be held at the Sheraton Motor Inn.

Another highlight of activities will be the organization of a Presidents' Council for present and incoming leaders. The Past Presidents' organization, VIPPS, formed two years ago, will have charge of the annual Governor's Banquet, May 16. Principal speakers will be Muriel Mayer, Seattle, Altrusa International first vice president, and the Mamie L. Bass award will be made for the most outstanding community service project.

The conference, to be preceded by an all-day board meeting May 14, will close with an annual awards brunch on Sunday.

Music Week Activities Announced

WENDELL — Mrs. Joan Bertus, local representative of the National Federation of Music Clubs, announced the local chapter will observe National Music Week May 3 through 10 by sponsoring a poster contest.

All Wendell students are invited to participate by submitting a poster on or before May 1. The theme or title should be "Music Brings Understanding." The information should be on a 12 by 18-inch poster, colored or black and white.

Three divisions will include elementary grades 4 through 6, junior high, and high school. Three cash prizes will be awarded in each division.

Posters will be displayed in downtown Wendell during music week.

Each poster should have students age, grade and teacher written lightly in the upper right hand corner on the back of the poster, and also on a card attached over the writing with a paperclip.

The posters will be judged by a group of local artists, and prize ribbons awarded.

Couple Weds In Temple

MURTAUGH — The Salt Lake City LDS Temple was the setting for the March 20 marriage of Janice Nebeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nebeker, Murtaugh, and Randolph Calkins Nieffenegger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Nieffenegger, Marysville, Calif., former Wendell residents.

The ceremony was performed by Elder Spencer W. Kimbell, acting president of the Council of the Twelve Apostles.

Parents of the bride and close friends of the bridegroom attended the rites.

A reception was held in honor of the newlyweds at the Murtaugh LDS Cultural Hall March 21.

The receiving line formed before a backdrop of shirred yellow Austrian silk with avocado valances and was flanked with tall beauty baskets of yellow gladioli and white carnations with greenery tied with green ribbons.

The bride was gowned in a Bridal Original of imported French organza fashioned in an empire A-line silhouette. It was trimmed with Venise lace motifs on the bodice and sleeves and the skirt had a removable chapel train.

Tiny dots of Venise outlined the oval neckline and long pointed sleeves.

Her bouffant shoulder-length veil of nylon illusion was held by an arrangement of flowers and lace leaves outlined with seed pearls. These were made by Mrs. Ivan Moyes.

The bride's bouquet, made of yellow roses backed with yellow netting and tied with yellow satin streamers.

The bride's attendants were Evann Willard, Boron, Calif., and Linda Johnston, Wendell, both school friends of the bride, and Yvonda Mary Nieffenegger, sister of the bridegroom.

Giftbearers were Mark Nebeker, brother of the bride and Maude Mechem, Wendell. The bride's table and the punch table were covered with heavy rose-patterned lace over a yellow liner.

The four-tiered wedding cake was iced in white with yellow roses, white sugar wedding bells and white sugar rosette trim. Greenery encircled the top and bottom layers.

A miniature bride and bridegroom graced one of the heart-shaped cakes supporting the three top tiers. A golden stairway wound its way to the top of the cake which was centered with a miniature replica of the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

The cake was made and decorated by the mother of the bridegroom. It was served by Mrs. Reed C. Johnson and Mrs. Asael Dilworth, Hansen; Mrs. Garth Morrill, Kimberly; Mrs. Jess Nebeker, Twin Falls, and Mrs. A. K. Nebeker, all aunts of the bride.

Guests were seated at round quartet tables which were covered with lace over yellow. Janey Goodman, Kathy Turner, Janet Andersen, Janet Moyes and Barbara Watts assisted in serving the tables.

Jessie Gifford served as the master of ceremonies for the program and gave the closing prayer.

Special guest was Mrs. Hannah Calkins, Hagerman, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Out-of-town guests attended from California, Rexburg, Wendell, Buhl, Kimberly, Hansen and Hagerman.

The newlyweds reside at 419 E. St., Apartment 6, Marysville, Calif.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Except for one thing, I have a perfect relationship with an older man in my neighborhood. He loves to go to nice dinner spots, good theater, etc., but he doesn't drive, so I do the driving. [I am a divorcee.]

He knows I am not interested in marriage, and he admits he is too old for me, but he keeps telling me what a charming "dating companion" I am, and how much he enjoys this arrangement. Well, I enjoy it, too, until he starts begging me for a "good night kiss." He knows how disgusting I find it, but he continues to beg me anyway.

I would hate to dump him, as I find this arrangement very convenient and even enjoyable, until we say good night. Abby, tell me, why would a grown man beg for a kiss from someone he knows hates it? KISSLESS DIVORCEE

DEAR KISSLESS: Because he's still trying to build a little romance into the relationship. If he is all that disgusting to you, remind him that a kiss on the hand is more continental, and that if he attempts to go beyond the continental limits, he'll lose his chauffeur and charming dining companion.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I have a big mouth. It's not a big mouth, exactly, but a loud voice. It's not high and shrill. It's just loud in volume. I have been embarrassed many times while speaking in what I consider to be a normal tone, and someone will say, "Please, don't talk so loud!"

Maybe you can give me a few pointers on how I can keep my voice toned down. BIG MOUTH IN BOSTON

DEAR BIG MOUTH: First, have your hearing tested. Many people talk loud because their hearing is defective. If your hearing is all right, find a speech therapist who will teach you to control your voice. And may I say in this connection that the number of otherwise attractive, charming, and intelligent people who desperately need voice and speech lessons is amazing. This could be one of the best investments you'll ever make.

DEAR ABBY: My parents died when I was an infant. I know what cemetery they are buried in, but there are no markers or headstones on their graves. I went to the people in charge of the cemetery and told them that I wanted to buy a headstone or marker with my parents' names on it, and I was told it wasn't possible because my parents were buried in a pair of plots paid for by a church organization, and only a member of that organization could give permission to mark those graves.

I went to that church and spoke to the priest, and he said the organization had long been dissolved and none of the members were living, and he could not give me permission.

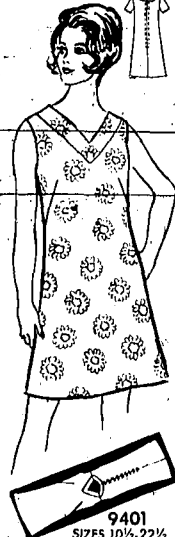

I have talked to many people and no one can tell me what to do. Can you? MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: Talk to a lawyer. If there is a legitimate reason why your parents' graves cannot be marked, someone should be able to tell you what it is. If there is no existing reason why you can't put up a headstone, then your lawyer will protect your right to do so.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69704, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

3 Drivers Cited In 2 Mishaps

RUPERT — Three drivers were cited by Rupert police after two separate accidents this past weekend in Rupert. The first accident happened at 3:05 p.m. Saturday and Debra K. Cook, 20, Rupert, was cited for improper right-hand turn after the auto she was driving collided with a truck driven by Glen T. Heib, 18, Rupert. The accident occurred at Sixth Street and Highway 24. Damage to the auto was estimated at $100 and $72 to the truck, owned by Wasatch Chemical Co. The other accident occurred at 4:05 p.m. Sunday on First Street. Mrs. Elvia R. Garcia, 24, Rupert, was cited for backing without reasonable safety, after the auto she was driving backed into a car driven by Carmen F. Alejandro, 19, Declo. Alejandro was cited for no driver's license. Damage to the Garcia auto is estimated at $150 and $80 to the Alejandro auto.

Students To Select Teen Titles

HAGERMAN — Mr. and Miss Teen will be selected by popular vote by the members of the student body from candidates selected as Boy and Girl of the Month during the school year at the Sadie Hawkins dance scheduled for May 1. Candidates are Jeff Tupper and Cheryl Sandy, September; Diane Timney and Kelly Behrens, October; Ann Gibson and Pete Slinnates, November; Susan Waite and Steven Bennett, December; Russell LeMoine and Susan Brooks, January; Glenda Lapp and Larry Smith, February; John Boyer and Kallie Strawser, March; and Steven Missetline and Vicki Gilmore, April.

Slides Shown

FAIRFIELD — Anton (Tony) Horn, Boise landscape specialist, showed slides and explained landscaping of yards to frame the buildings. He was special guest of the Camas Club. He gave out list of trees and shrubs that would grow in this high altitude and survive the cold winters. Plans were continued for a cleanup day in May. More will be decided on this at a later date. The Future Furrig of America under Olani Beal are planning on helping on the cleanup.

Distribution Set

SHOSHONE — Rock chuk pool will be distributed at Mason Grange hall at 9 a.m. Friday, George Horn, master, said the pool will be available from 9 a.m. on.

Murtaugh Gets Grant On New Sewer System

MURTAUGH — Construction of a lagoon type sewer system for the town of Murtaugh and some surrounding rural area moves a step closer Tuesday with the announcement from U. S. Sen. Len B. Jordan (R-Idaho) of a grant and loan from the Farmers Home Administration for the project. Sen. Jordan advised the FHA has approved a $2,000 loan and a $15,000 grant for the Murtaugh Water and Sewer Association. Orville Knighton, member of the Murtaugh City Council, said the announcement is good news for the sewer project and added the $17,000 will cover the bulk of the financing for the proposed project. In addition, he said, the city has applied for grants under the Federal Water Pollution Control Agency and the state program provided for in the past legislative session. Total cost of the Murtaugh sewer system and treatment plant is estimated at about $130,000, Mr. Knighton said.

The proposed lagoon system, he said, will be somewhat like most other completed and in use in Hansen. It will be completely contained with no open air lagoon ponds. At the present time the project does not involve any water system expansion, the city official said. There will be no bond issue, providing grants are forthcoming and the entire project will be constructed through loans and grants with monthly fees charged sewer users designed to pay back the loans. Murtaugh has been working toward the sewer treatment plant for some time and like most Idaho cities is under pressure of the pollution control program to eliminate septic tanks and untreated sewage going into streams and rivers. Murtaugh now has septic tank facilities only and in addition to the immediate townsite water system, many residents have domestic wells for their water supplies. Threats to the wells is one of the major reasons for the new sewer treatment facilities, Mr. Knighton said.

The proposed system at this time is expected to serve 30 homes, eight business establishments, two schools and one church. Fees from these users would cover annual payments on the project loan. City officials and officers of the Murtaugh Water and Sewer Association hope to have the project under construction by early summer.

WOULD CUT HOLIDAYS MANILA (UPI)—A bill which would cut down Philippine holidays from nine to five has been filed in the Philippine Senate.

500 Attend Dinner For Demo Hopeful At Burley

BURLEY — Dan Valentine, Salt Lake City newspaper columnist, was the entertainer during a kick-off dinner for State Rep. Vern Havenscroft, Tuttle, Democrat candidate for governor, Saturday at the Ponderosa Inn. About 500 persons from throughout Magic Valley attended the dinner. Oscar Arstede, Paul, introduced the various senators, representatives and county chairman. Rev. Blaine Russell, Burley, gave the invocation. Rep. Havenscroft said, "We need to look at pollution and environment which we are living with and find a sensible, sane and sound solution. Pollution in our state needs attention." On the subject of education he stated, "We are educating our children and then sending them to other places for employment. The opportunity for development is here. He spoke of the water resources which need to be developed and maintained for use within the state. Constructive research is needed in various agencies of the state, he said, and tax laws need to be improved. Questions were asked from the floor on higher education, agricultural collective

Bids Awarded By Gooding City Council For Gas, Oil

GOODING — City officials in Gooding Monday night awarded bids for supplying the city with gasoline, diesel and fuel oil for the coming year, giving the bids to Atlantic Richfield and American Oil. The purchase of regular gasoline for city vehicles will be from Atlantic Richfield on a bid of 15.6 cents per gallon and premium gasoline, also from Atlantic Richfield, will be 18.6 cents per gallon. Fuel oil will be purchased from American Oil. One other bid, from Standard Oil, was also received.

In other business the city entered an agreement with Gooding County to provide a bulldozer for use at the county and city dump grounds. Under the agreement Gooding City will construct a building and furnish the equipment while the county will employ an equipment operator and manager for the joint facility. Mr. and Mrs. Rawlin Stanley met with the county to request they be allowed to exchange their deed for an easement on a strip of their property at the north edge of Gooding to allow the Gooding Highway District to build and maintain a road to their property. City officials agreed to have the city attorney's office check into the matter, and determine what steps should be taken to meet the requirements of the roadway.

Building permits were granted by E. Esten for a garage; Glen Glauser for a carport and Roger Maxwell for remodeling.

Scouts Safe After Delay

BURLEY — Two DeLoe boy Scouts arrived home safely although county officers and Civil Air Patrol planes were called out Saturday when they failed to meet their parents at Mindoko Dam at the appointed time. The two, Danny Phillips and Roger Greener, both 13, had gone on an overnight hike from Raft River to Mindoko Dam where they were to spend the night and to meet their parents Saturday.

The two found it took longer to make the hike than they planned and they turned away from the river to the Greener Home north of DeLoe and missed the appointed rendezvous with the parents at the dam. They arrived at the Greener home at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

All Done

RICHFIELD — Richfield census is practically completed. It is announced by Mrs. Howard DeWitt, census enumerator for three districts. They include the town of Richfield, farming area to the Blaine County line, and Center and Owinza grazing areas to the Mindoko County line and Blaine line. Mrs. DeWitt also was the census enumerator 10 years ago.

RUPERT — Mindoko County Commissioners have rejected a proposed Community Action Agency Program, Alex Roemer, chairman, said Tuesday. He said the decision was made in a special meeting Friday based on a public meeting April 13 in the county courthouse. The meeting was attended by more than 100 persons opposing formation of the agency under the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Mrs. Johnson also reported that the District 4 PTA conference would be held at the Idaho State School for the Deaf and Blind, Gooding, Saturday beginning with the registration and coffee hour at 8:30 a.m. Theme of the conference will be "Healthy Minds for Healthy Children." Dr. Merrill Eggen, from the University of Utah Medical Center, will address the conference on "Prevention of Mental Illness in Children."

Concern Expressed About Pollution In Little Wood River At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Concern has been expressed here over debris and contamination in the Little Wood River, since this is a popular swimming area for Shoshone youth. With this in mind, there were more than 120 high school students who signed a petition and presented it to the City Council recently asking for a municipal swimming pool. Note has been made that sewer outflows and detergents have been seen in the river along with other obvious debris,

CSI Budget Higher Than Last Year's

The proposed budget for the College of Southern Idaho for 1970-71 was presented Monday night at a regular board meeting, but trustees will not act on the financial document until next month. The proposed maintenance and operating budget reflects an increase of about $148,000 over last year's budget, but business manager H. W. VanSlyke said he is certain the mill levy will not be as high as last year's. The levy for the 1969-70 budget was about eight mills, but the levy for 1970-71 should fall below eight mills because of increase assessed valuation in the two-county junior college district. The proposed budget is about $1,608,000, which does not include $215,338 for bond interest and redemption. Only about $25,000, or the maximum four per cent extra, will be raised through tax money, with the remainder of the additional budget funds to come from college revenue. The higher budget is based on the operation of one and one-half new buildings and a student increase of about 10 per cent. The health-PE building and part of the commons will be operated from the college's M and O fund, while a portion of the commons and the dormitory will be operated by the housing commission through a separate budget. The proposed budget will be acted upon at the regular meeting May 18.

important factor in a clean environment is the ability of an organic material to be broken down by biological action into harmless components, or what is known as biodegradability of waste material. In the late 1940's and early 1950's, a question arose concerning a possible relationship between detergent surfactant residues with some foaming incidents in sewage treatment plants and, occasionally, in natural waters. A voluntary commitment by the industry was made to develop, manufacture and market biodegradable detergents which would largely eliminate these problems. After a decade of research and the expenditure of over $100 million, much of this for the construction of new plants, the detergents developed were highly biodegradable. Called LAS (linear alkylate sulfonate) this new "soft" material was a substitute for the old HAR (alkyl benzene sulfonate).

Trustees At Jerome Ponder Collection

JEROME — Jerome school trustees decided at the Monday night board meeting to wait for legal advice from Atty. Frank Rettig before deciding what should be done about specimens owned by Warren Van Camp, biology teacher at the high school. Mr. Van Camp has been collecting these for the past 10 years, and the collection is now estimated at $12,000. Supt. John Campbell had asked him to inventory and set a price on the collection which includes skeletons of many different types of animals and fish. Value of the specimens, collected over the period of 10 years, was determined from catalogue prices. Mr. Van Camp told trustees. He said there are some items he will not sell, amounting to $2,000, but he is willing to sell the rest for one-third of its value. Trustees decided to hold the budget hearing at the May 6 meeting and accepted resignation of Mike Danelson, principal at the junior high school. It was decided to definitely wait six months before asking voters to approve another mill levy election. After the March 30 defeat of a five mill plan facilities levy, it was proposed by Supt. Campbell to hold a maintenance and operation levy election; but trustees decided to wait.

FHA Aide Speaks To Rotarians

BURLEY — Fred Johnson, administrator of Farm Home Administration office of Burley, was speaker at a luncheon meeting of Burley Rotary Club. Loan policies were explained and procedure for applicants to secure loans were outlined. The loans through this federal agency are designed to aid rural non-city financial needs. Loans will not be made to any applicants who can qualify for conventional funds through regular channels, Mr. Johnson said. He said the agency which was funded by the federal government is now directed toward more housing loans than any other form of financing. From 1966-78 it is anticipated that 26 million units in the nation will be financed through the agency on a remodeling or total construction basis. In 1969 the agency loaned $7,738,000 to Idahoans for the construction or rebuilding of 618 units. Interest rates vary from six and one-half per cent given to low income applicants for approved projects up to nine per cent for those more qualified to pay prevailing rates. Only two foreclosures have been made in Idaho since 1949, delinquencies and losses are minimal. Plans for the Burley Rotary Club's representation at annual Assembly in Boise were announced by Wayne Konrad. Ed Elliott arranged for the program and introduced Mr. Johnson.

Today's Market, And Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market turned mixed as trading rounded the halfway point Tuesday.

After holding firm early in the session, the market gave way to a moderate decline as investors expressed disappointment with some quarterly earnings reports and concern over the general slowing in the economy.

Initial strength stemmed from President Nixon's pledge to withdraw an additional 150,000 troops from South Vietnam by next spring.

Shortly before 1:15 p.m. the UPI marketwide indicator showed a loss of 0.13 per cent on 1,457 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 592 declined and 549 advanced.

The Dow Jones industrial average, the blue chip barometer of the market, fell 0.97 to 774.88.

A three-hour turnover of about 6,000,000 shares was running a million shares ahead of Monday's slow pace.

Among the day's most active issues were Parke, Davis down 3/4 on 150,400 shares, Transcontinental Financial unchanged on 117,200 shares, American Telephone up 1/8 on 75,400 shares, and Xerox down 1/8 on 64,000 shares.

Council Endorses 'Training' Law On One-Way Street Grid

Second Avenue East and North is officially a one-way grid now and in the near future — when the training period is over — Main Avenue will once again become a two-way street.

The action came at Monday's City Council meeting, with City Councilman Tom Nelson calling the new ordinance "A training ordinance for changing the flow of traffic in downtown Twin Falls."

The change to one-way traffic on Second Avenue East and North will come in the near future, but a date has not been picked.

Mayor Frank Feldman said, "This ordinance was needed to accommodate the urban renewal project in downtown Twin Falls. This will allow local traffic on Main Avenue and it will build up our core area."

Although Second Avenue East and North is officially a one-way grid now, it will remain two-way for the present.

That is why Councilman Nelson referred to the ordinance as a "training ordinance."

In other Council business Monday, the Council voted to accept the low bid of $11,109.16

Nuns Would Like Their Old Island

By ROGER DOUGHTY

MONTREAL (AP) — The tiny tree rooted in the soil of Nuns' Island with the same solidarity that brings firming to the tallroad tracks so many serbals into prepared to meet its maker as the bulldozer bore down relentlessly.

Suddenly the driver, a burly French-Canadian, slumped on the brakes, leaped from his machine and strained to read the words on both French and English painted on the small sign that hung from the sapling.

"NEXT to you" the sign informed the startled driver, "this is the most important thing here."

The tree was sacred, Zeké Ziner, the phantom of Nuns' Island, had struck again.

Once upon a time Nuns' Island was just that — an order of nuns owned the island about as far back as anybody can remember. Today it's a "new town," 300 acres' just five minutes' drive from downtown Montreal with room for 50,000 residents when it's completed around 1969.

The plan is to make the island a model of what can be done to eliminate urban sprawl, suburban sprawl and several other nasty things. As complicated as that would be anywhere, it's even tougher in Montreal, where cultures clash with a resounding thud. Zeké Ziner knows. He helps run the island for Bernard Weissbald, a Chicago builder.

"When we first moved here," Ziner recalled, "we picked out a nice neighborhood and moved in. It was nice, all right, but it was all French. My French isn't much, so I brushed up a bit, but it didn't help. My neighbors wouldn't talk to me. I got to the point where I was leaving for the office at 3 a. m. so I wouldn't run my day by trying to say good morning to somebody.

"Things are a lot looser on Nuns' Island.

"The first thing we did was build a community center to show we were serious," says Ziner, "and everything is bilingual, but you have to be careful every step of the way. I took some visitors into the center the other day and we walked in on the bilingual nursery school while a painting class was in session. The teacher threw us all out because we were disturbing the class. That's a very French attitude.

"Nuns' Island has all the things a new town should have — a pathway system that can keep you from getting run over, plenty of playgrounds, shops, restaurants, entertainment and other amenities.

"We're proving that people of different religions and languages can live together and get along well," Ziner says happily. "It's the little things that count. For example, maybe the smartest thing I did here was invite the nuns to come back for a picnic one day. Quite a few of them showed up and everybody had a great time.

"That picnic made us good guys. Practically every important guy around here has an aunt or sister or something who belongs to that order."

Forest Ponders Bidding

Two bids for development of the Butterfield Creek Winter Sports area north of Ketchum, both from locally based firms, were received Monday by the Sawtooth National Forest.

Although no decision has been made, pending a complete study of the bids, Sawtooth Supervisor Edwin Fournier said the forest service is pleased to receive two bids on this size development and it appears both firms are seriously interested in going ahead with the development.

The bids were from Springer Land Investment Inc., Sun Valley, and F. R. Insinger Sun Valley and Lajolla, Calif. Two other partners joined Mr. Insinger in the bid including R. L. Wilkie and V. C. Hayes.

The Springer firm is already involved in a development program on land at the north edge of Ketchum.

Robert Hoag, staff recreation officer for the Sawtooth Forest, said the forest service has 30 days in which to review details of the bids and to check financial responsibility of the bidders before awarding the development permit.

Bids will be awarded on a basis of qualifications of the bidder, including the plan in the judgment of the forest service which would provide the best facilities and service; financial ability to fulfill the minimum development schedule; business ability and reputation and the percentage surcharge offered for the permits.

The entire site is on U. S. Forest Service administered lands, all within the Sawtooth Egeest. It is located on U. S. Highway 93 about 16 miles north of Ketchum. Initial requirements for the area as stipulated in the Forest Service prospectus include a lodge at the base of the area, food service, ski shop, these chairlifts or comparable facilities.

Beginner slope tow facilities are also recommended.

All Bids Rejected By County

Twin Falls County Commissioners Monday rejected all bids for reconstruction of the county fairground and issued a new call for bids on a revised plan.

Chairman Heber Loughmiller said the bids were all much too high for county financing limitations. He said among revisions will be the trimming of 1,600 seats from the grandstand size at the present time. Roofing is also expected to be eliminated at this time.

New bids will be opened May 8 at 4 p. m. in the Twin Falls County Commissioners office.

Six firms submitted bids last week for reconstruction of the 5,000 seat stands including roofing. Construction is to be of concrete to assure a fireproof structure.

State Eyes Programs On Health

BOISE (UPI) — The executive committee of the Governor's Advisory Council on Comprehensive Health Planning met Monday to pave the way for two new health programs.

The committee decided to ask the State Department of Health, together with other agencies, to develop a state-wide comprehensive health data processing center.

The recommendation, based on a suggestion by the council subcommittee on data processing, will be presented before the State Board of Health at its April 30 meeting in McCall.

Their story first came to light when the couple was charged with abandoning another of their children on a freeway. (UPI telephoto)

Soup Firm Strives To Curb Pollution

NEW YORK (UPI) — At a time when the nation is fighting growing pollution of its waters, it is gratifying to note that a number of firms in industry, on their own initiative, are taking studied steps to prevent this menace.

One of these, the Campbell Soup Company, recently received the annual Gold Medal Award of The Sports Foundation, Inc. for corporate achievement in the control of water pollution at its Paris, Tex., plant.

The award was accepted for the company by W. B. Murphy, president, and Louis C. Gilde, director of Environmental Engineering, and was the climax of a program that began in 1950 when Campbell decided to build a soup processing plant in Paris.

Gilde explained that a key factor in the plant site selection was its suitability for installation of an industrial waste disposal system.

Erosion gullies on the site finally selected, a former cotton field, were often deep enough to hide a tractor. Gilde says. After extensive grading and terracing, a special grass necessary for the treatment of waste material was sown and the plant, containing 22,000 square feet, began operation in October, 1954.

"We spent several years preparing the site for a spray irrigation system and we estimate that careful preplanning has resulted in conservation of almost 500 acres of land, together with the release of high quality water in a semi-arid area," Gilde says.

The system designed for the Paris plant is known as overlaid flow spray irrigation and is unusual, Gilde says, in that it features surface filtration rather than infiltration or percolation of all water into the ground.

It has the capacity to treat 3 million gallons per day of food company waste water.

Gilde says the system is 99 per cent efficient in removing bio-chemical oxygen demand (BOD) while bringing about a 99 per cent reduction in nitrogen and phosphorous.

The BOD index is used by sanitation engineers to describe the amount of oxygen that bacteria require to decompose organic material in waste water. A low BOD level is most desirable, because the less

Loan Firm Occupies New Office

Equitable Savings and Loan has moved into newly remodeled facilities at 100 Main Ave. N., from its old location at 220 Shoshone St. E.

The firm began business in its new location on Monday morning, according to Mrs. Maurice Fuller, branch supervisor. An open house will be held May 7, with door prizes, special gifts for new or expanded accounts and a coffee hour to be featured, Mrs. Fuller said.

The firm will offer the same services as before, Mrs. Fuller said. The firm has been in Twin Falls since October, 1967.

Fried Reed Construction Co. of Twin Falls was contractor for the remodeling of the Main Avenue location, which formerly was occupied by Havenor's Cycle Shop, but has been vacant for about a year.

'Changed' Man Loses His Wife

WALTHAMSTOW, England (UPI) — Ted Yeardon grew a beard, let his hair grow long and became a pop singer. And Susan Ayton fell in love with him.

Then he changed his name to August Eason, shaved off the beard and had his hair clipped to a neat trim when he joined another pop outfit. And Susan called it all off.

"It might seem silly," she said, "but I realized he just wouldn't be the same person."

Alcindor—"Knicks Are A Better Team"

NEW YORK (UPI)—Willis Reed and Larry Costello were of the same opinion Monday night. Reed, who had just finished helping the New York Knicks into the National Basketball Association's championship playoff with a devastating 132-96 victory over Milwaukee, summed it up best when he said: "Tonight, we put it together better than at any time in the series. We played good defense and our offense was tremendous, especially in the first quarter."

Costello, the coach of the Bucks, referring to the Knicks' series clinching victory, said: "No team ever played any better against us. The Knicks shot fantastically. They got off

- Dec. 7—Cleveland Browns at Houston Oilers.
- Dec. 14—Detroit Lions at Los Angeles Rams.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knickerbockers, playing close to perfection and sparked by veteran Dick Barnett's 16 first-quarter points, embarrassed the Milwaukee Bucks, 132-96, Monday night and advanced to the National Basketball Association playoff finals for the first time in 17 years.

The Knicks' victory, never in doubt after the first quarter, gave them the Eastern-Division-playoff title, four games to one over Milwaukee, and earned them the right to meet the Los Angeles Lakers in the championship. New York will face the Western Division champion Lakers in the opener of the best-of-seven series Friday night in New York.

Barnett, the 34-year-old veteran, couldn't miss in the opening minutes, hitting on three straight 20-foot jumpers for New York's first six points and tallied 11 points in the first four minutes of play as the Knicks jumped out to a 16-4 lead. Barnett was more than ably assisted by captain Willis Reed, who again outplayed Rookie of the Year Lew Alcindor. Reed, the NBA's Most Valuable Player, finished with 32 points and virtually forced Alcindor to the bench in the third quarter when the game was lost for the Bucks.

Milwaukee coach Larry Costello also had taken out Alcindor with 1:30 left in the first half as his team trailing, 62-38, in an effort to shake up the lethargic Bucks, but to no avail.

New York's fifth starter, Walt Frazier, was held to only two points, but devoted most of his energies to playmaking. The Bucks, held to 11 points in the last eight minutes of the first quarter as New York jumped out to a 35-13 lead, were completely harassed by the Knicks' defense. Milwaukee was guilty of numerous ball-handling errors and wound up with 16 turnovers in the first half compared to only five for New York.

Alcindor and Milwaukee with 27 points but was obviously embarrassed in the fourth quarter when he sat on the bench listening to the taunts of "Good-bye, Lewie" from the sellout crowd of 19,500 at Madison Square Garden. Alcindor grew up in New York and first gained stardom as the city's best high school player before going to UCLA, where he led the Bruins to three consecutive national championships.

Jon McGlocklin was second high scorer for Milwaukee, with 20 points and Freddie Crawford tallied 12.

Baltimore Trims Tigers In 6 Innings

BOSTON (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles moved into first place in the American League's Eastern Division Monday afternoon with a rain-abridged 2-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The win, which came in a six-inning encounter, moved the Orioles on top of idle Detroit with a 6-4 record. The Tigers are 7-3.

"I played Lew as tough as I could, I couldn't have played him any better and since we win four games to one, I must have done my job."

Alcindor averaged 34 points in the five games against the Knicks and afterwards, refused to express disappointment because of the Bucks' elimination.

"I'm not disappointed because the Knicks are a better team and you can't be disappointed when a better team beats you. I believe I did my job. We don't have anything to feel ashamed about. We shouldn't even be here. We're a young team, it was just our second year in the league."

Barnett, the 34-year-old veteran who broke the Bucks' backs early with a 16-point first quarter and finished with 27, said the "opportunities kept presenting themselves so I kept shooting." And, added Barnett, "I was lucky enough to be hitting."

8 Teams Reach Final Match Of Best-Ball

Eight teams have moved into the finals of the Blue Lakes spring best-ball championships and the second round of play which was completed over the weekend.

Four squads moved into the semi-finals in the championship flight, which is played on a scratch basis. The team of Peters and Kneeland will meet the team of Purves and Purves for one berth in the finals and Schlangenau and Harper face Sinclair and Carpenter for the other spot.

Peters and Kneeland defeated McNeese and Allison 4-3 and the Purves topped Weht and Serpa 1-up.

Fischenbrenner and Unander moved into the finals of the first flight with a 2-1 decision over Grey and Alexander and the team of Robertson and Henry defeated G. D. Anderson and DeLuca 2-1 for the other finals berth.

Cutler and Vaughn defeated Cook and Soden 4-3 and Scherberger and Rayborn took a 3-2 decision over Berg and Dettweiler to move into the final flight.

Phil paced Boston's 6-4 victory over Chicago by beating his brother Tony, the Black Hawks' ace rookie goalie, and the elder Esposito now has nine goals and 13 points in seven playoff games.

Bruin teammate Bobby Orr, the scoring champion during the regular season, is second scoring with 12 points on seven goals and five assists.

The Boston duo is followed by Chicago's Bobby Hull with three goals and eight assists with 11 points, and three players with two goals and five assists.

The second team consists of Roger Brown and Bob Netelicky, both of Indiana, at forwards, Red Robbins of New Orleans at center and Louie Dampier of Kentucky and Don Freeman of Miami at guards.

The all-star squads were picked by sportscasters and sportsweekers covering the ABA.

While the state Senate passed the measure on 22-21 vote the assembly later rejected the off-track betting proposal, 65-60, the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, an organization that represents 98 per cent of the horse owners and trainers actively engaged in thoroughbred racing in New York State, claimed that they have been passed over and ignored on the issue.

Chairman Larry Bennett pointed out the HBPA's immediate problem: "Here is this tremendously important legislation pending and we haven't even been consulted," Bennett said.

Tournament Of Champions Will Start Thursday

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI)—The 18th annual Tournament of Champions that starts Thursday at the La Costa Country Club will have a record field of 21 players.

Miller Barber Monday earned the right to play in the $100,000 tournament by scoring sudden-death playoff win in the New Orleans Open.

Vandals' Ace Hendren Inks Lucrative Pact With Denver Broncos

MOSCOW (UPI)—University of Idaho split end Jerry Hendren signed a "good, lucrative contract" Monday to play with the Denver Broncos of the National Football League.

The Vandal star refused to comment further on financial details of the four-year contract but said he retained the option to renegotiate if he has a good year or if the Broncos earn a

49ers, Raiders Set NFL League Meeting

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland Raiders and San Francisco 49ers, who already have plans for a fourth annual exhibition game, will meet each other in a climax to the 1970 pro football regular season.

The Bay Area rivals will clash Dec. 20 in the Oakland Coliseum according to the newly released schedule that the Raiders complained will be "the toughest we've ever had."

Raider coach John Madden and managing general partner Al Davis said Monday they are dissatisfied with the frequency of non-Sunday games given the Raiders for 1970.

The board of directors of the USSA voted in Denver last week to require all members of the American ski team to use a single brand of boots, poles and bindings. Two brands of skis will be used, one for downhill and the other for slalom.

The purpose of this is to regain and retain the amateurism and eligibility of our racers," Walters said. "We simply want to eliminate the payola business from manufacturers."

On Sunday night the executive committee of the Ski Industries America voted to draft a resolution opposing this equipment endorsement program. The resolution will be presented for consideration to SIA members Wednesday night during their annual meeting.

However, Walters said that some of the opposition was due to the erroneous belief that contracts would be offered on the sole basis of monetary considerations. Walters said that "money definitely is not the big issue" in awarding the contracts.

Dodgers' Owner Given Surgery

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI)—Los Angeles Dodgers' owner Walter O'Malley is listed in good condition at the Mayo Clinic after undergoing abdominal surgery Monday.

O'Malley, 60, is expected to leave the hospital in about two weeks.

The chairman of the board of directors of the National League baseball club entered the hospital Friday.

Mike Hedlund Is Activated By Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Kansas City Royals put one right-handed pitcher on the disabled list and took another off in Monday roster changes. Mike Hedlund was taken off the 21-day list and Roger Nelson was placed on after a doctor in California diagnosed his arm ailment as tendonitis in the right shoulder.

Hedlund, who manager Chuck McMeo was counting on as the Royals' fourth starter, contracted a virus in the Venezuelan winter league and has just recuperated.

playoff spot. Hendren, the top pass receiver in the nation last year who broke every school receiving record in the book during three years at Idaho, was the only wide receiver recruited by Denver this year, according to Stan Jones, defensive coach and chief recruiter.

Jones said Denver's receivers suffered numerous knee injuries last year and that Hendren's durability is expected to add strength to the Broncos' passing game.

Hendren started in 63 straight games since he began playing football as a sophomore in high school in Spokane.

During his college career, Hendren caught 230 passes for 3,435 yards and 27 touchdowns. He finished his senior year with 95 receptions for 1,457 yards and 12 touchdowns.

He played in three post-season games and was selected top lineman in the All-America Bowl and the Senior Bowl. His record for the three all-star games was 24 passes caught (70-51 yards and four touchdowns).

Jones said the Broncos were pleased and surprised that Hendren had lasted until the fourth round of the college draft last January when Denver grabbed him. "We never expected him to last that long," Jones said.

Hendren said he was pleased to be going to Denver and was impressed by their coaching staff. "Besides that, they like the passing game," he said.

Hawks Hope To Improve Poor Showing

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Black Hawks try to even their Stanley Cup playoff series with the Boston Bruins at one win apiece tonight and the Hawks hoped their second game in three days would show more skills than they displayed in the opener.

"We played our best hockey in the first period, and wound up losing 2-0," Hawk Coach Billy Reid said after his team took a 6-3 lacing from the Bruins in the first game Sunday.

Reid admitted his disappointment, particularly in the Hawks' defensive showing and said "We played our loudest game defensively since the start of the season."

Obviously he needed a changed performance from his club, champions of the National Hockey League's eastern division, to get the Hawks back into contention against the Bruins in their chase for hockey's most valued prize.

Barber Sinks Putt On Second Sudden-Death Hole To Win Tourney

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Portly Miller Barber, who confessed he was nervous, despite his reputation for steadiness, sank one of the biggest putts of his long career Monday to win the $25,000 sudden death playoff in the Greater New Orleans Open.

Barber, known as "Mr. X" for his anonymity, curved in a 12-foot birdie putt on the 560-yard second hole of the 7,680 yard, par 36-36-72 Lakewood Country Club Course to beat Bob Charles and Howie Johnson.

The playoff was set up Sunday after Charles fired a 67, Barber 70 and Johnson 71 in the tense final round to post identical 10-under-par 272.

"Yesterday I missed that same putt," the Sherman, Tex., veteran said after winning the playoff. "I got on the green outside the hole. It was exactly the same line of putt I had yesterday. It broke from right to left. Knowing how it broke yesterday enabled me to correct it today." As soon as the birdie putt dropped Monday, someone yelled "let's go home."

"That was my caddy," Barber said.

Barber left immediately to compete in the Tournament of Champions at Rancho La Costa, Calif.

He sank his birdie putt after Charles missed a 40-foot desperation shot and Johnson, seeking his first victory since 1959, was wide on his 17-foot birdie try.

Since the playoff was only to decide the winner of the $25,000 first prize, Charles and Johnson split up the second and third place money, taking $11,575 each.

The victory gave Barber, who says he is "39 years old and holding," winnings of $65,341 in 1970. It jumped him from eighth to third on the money list. Lee Trevino, who won only $200 here, continues to lead.

Stargell, Pirates Tip Astros

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Willie Stargell ended a 1-for-28 batting slump with a two-run tape-measure homer in the sixth inning Monday night and paced Pittsburgh to a 3-1 victory over Houston which extended the Pirates' Forbes' Field hex over the Astros.

Stargell, who also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first, was a titanic smash over the right field roof, a feat which has been accomplished only 17 times since the park opened in 1969. The homer broke a 1-1 tie and came after Richie Hebner had drawn a one-out walk and was forced at second by Roberto Clemente.

"The victory went to Dock Ellis, who was forced to lead the game after the sixth inning after being hit on the right hand by a line drive run-scoring single off the bat of Denis Menke which tied the score in the sixth. Dave Giusti blanked the Astros over the last three innings.

Houston manager Harry Walker protested the game in the first inning, claiming Ellis was pausing illegally in his pitching motion.

The Pirates, who got only three hits in the game, scored in the first when Matty Alou singled to right, took second on an error by losing pitcher Jim Bouton, went to third on Clemente's sacrifice and scored on Stargell's fly to center.

Houston tied it in the sixth when Tommy Davis singled, took third on Wynne's single and scored when Menke lined his single off Ellis.

Yanks Rap Solons In 11-2 Tilt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The New York Yankees, sparked by Danny Carter's three-run homer, built a 5-0 lead in the first inning before a man was out Monday night and coasted to an 11-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Horne Clark singled to open the game and Gene Michael promptly scored him with a double off the left-field fence. Bobby Murcer was safe on pitcher George Brunet's error and Carter slammed his second homer of the season.

The Yankees built their lead to 7-0 in the third on singles by Carter and Ron Woods, a double by Thurman Munson and a sacrifice fly by Jerry Kenney. A run-scoring single by Munson got the Yankees another run in the fifth and a three-run homer by Woods capped their scoring in the seventh.

CHEERY HILL, N.J. (UPI)—Royal Signal, a 9-2 outsider, and Office Queen, the even-money favorite, won the split runnings of the Betsy Ross Handicap Monday on Garden State Park opened by the New Jersey thoroughbred racing season with a 36-day truce.

Royal Signal, winning the first division of the Betsy Ross, drew away in the stretch to post a two-length victory over Goddess Special.

Cards Meet Rams In Loop Opener

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals will open their second pro football decade just as they did the first one—against the Los Angeles Rams on Friday, Sept. 11 in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The Cardinals will then return to St. Louis for three weeks, meeting the Washington Redskins on Sept. 27, the Dallas Cowboys on Oct. 4 and the New Orleans Saints on Oct. 11.

Reds Top Atlanta Squad 6-2

ATLANTA (UPI)—Johnny Bench, Hal McRae and Tony Perez homered Monday night to power the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-2 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Bench's homer, his fourth of the season, came in the second inning after Perez led off with a double. McRae followed an out later with his second homer of the year.

McRae added the Reds' lead to 4-0 in the fourth when he tripled and scored on a single by Dave Concepcion.

Perez, who now has seven homers and 20 RBIs to lead the league in both departments, wound up the Reds' scoring in the seventh when he homered an out after Tommy Helms had led off with a single.

Left-hander Jim Merritt, picking up his third victory in four decisions, had a four-hit shutout going into the ninth when Tony Gonzalez doubled with one out and scored ahead of Rico Carty's two-out homer.

The loss went to George Stone, who is now 2-1.

K.C. Tips Oakland In 11th

OAKLAND (UPI)—Ed Kirkpatrick tripled and scored on a throwing error by catcher Dave Duncan and Bob Oliver to hit his second homer of the game in the 11th inning Monday night to give the Kansas City Royals a 4-2 victory over the Oakland A's.

Kirkpatrick tripled off the left-centerfield fence with one out off Diego Segul and Amos Otis walked.

Otis promptly stole second and when Duncan threw the ball wildly into centerfield, Kirkpatrick scored the winning run. Then Oliver hit his homer for an insurance margin.

The victory went to Mike Hedlund, who earlier in the day came off the disabled list. Hedlund pitched the 10th and 11th innings to gain his first decision of the year.

Segul, who took over at the start of the 10th, suffered the loss, his first of the season.

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Roger Repoz singled with one out in the 10th inning Monday night to drive home Alex Johnson for a 3-4 California Angels victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Johnson led off the 10th with a single, was sacrificed to second and then Billy Cowens was walked intentionally. Aurelio Rodriguez singled to lead the bases before Repoz, on his third straight single of the game, drove in the winning tally.

The victory went to Paul Doyle, the third Angels' pitcher who worked one inning, while the loss was charged to Lew Krausse, who came into the game in the ninth when California loaded the bases for the second time without scoring.

Young Dan Walton singled in the eighth inning for the Brewers to drive in his third run and tie the game 4-4. Russ Snyder got aboard on a pinch single and reached second on a passed ball before Walton added his single to a double and leadoff homer.

MIAMI (UPI)—The Miami Marlins, who were 1-1 in their first two games, won their third straight game Monday night to take a 3-1 lead in the National League East.

The Marlins, who were 1-1 in their first two games, won their third straight game Monday night to take a 3-1 lead in the National League East.

European Champion Ron Hill Takes Boston Marathon With Record Time

BOSTON (UPI)—European champion Ron Hill, a 31-year-old English research chemist who came to settle a score, set a blistering pace in a steady downpour Monday to win the 74th annual Boston Athletic Association Marathon in a record 2 hours, 10 minutes, 30 seconds.

Drayton, the man Hill was off to beat, grabbed a quick lead at Framingham, 6.7 miles into the course, but Hill pulled even at Natick, the second check point, and easily pulled away as Drayton dropped out in Wellesley after 13.4 miles.

When Hill passed through Wellesley, with the cheers of dozens of rain-soaked college girls ringing in his ears, he was timed at 1:04.29, two minutes, 26 seconds ahead of Unetani's record a year ago.

"I feel very excited, very excited indeed," Hill said following a shower at the finish. "Almost as good as I did last year when I won the European championship."

There were 1,011 of the official 1,174 starters who set off from the Hopkinton Green last year's time of 2:13.49 set by Yoshiaki Unetani of Japan, by 3:19.0.

Second was Eamon O'Reilly of the Athens Athletic Club, Oakland, Calif., the top American finisher, with a time of 2:11.12, and third was local favorite Patrick McMahon of Lowell, running for the sponsoring BAA in 2:14.53.

Hill, the first Englishman to win the BAA, set a record at each of the seven check points in the 26-mile, 385-yard race from Hopkinton to the Presidential Center in Boston. Hill broke last year's time of 2:13.49 set by Yoshiaki Unetani of Japan, by 3:19.0.

Dallas Tops Stars, Takes Series Lead

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Dallas Chaparrals' corps of polished veterans corralled a Los Angeles Stars' late game rally Monday night for a 115-104 victory to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven ABA Western Division semifinal playoffs.

Little Mack Calvin scored nine points in the fourth period igniting a rally as Los Angeles closed a 97-71 deficit to within six at 96-86 but Charley Besley and Ron Boone combined for eight points to pull Dallas out of danger.

Foster Has Injury To Left Fist

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Light heavyweight champion Bob Foster had his left fist placed in a cast Monday, forcing indefinite postponement of his May 4 title fight in Baltimore with Houston's Mark Texan.

A spokesman said Foster suffered painful contusions of two knuckles of his left hand while training in Florida and consulted Dr. P.M. (Pat) Columbo of nearby Arlington, Va., who put on the cast and ordered the defending champion to keep it immobilized in a cast for at least three weeks.

The title bout between Foster and Texan had been scheduled in Baltimore's Civic Auditorium.

N.Y. Lakers To Play On Friday

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knicks and Los Angeles Lakers will open their best-of-seven playoff for the National Basketball Association championship Friday night in New York.

The second game also will be played at New York on Monday, April 27 before the two teams travel to Los Angeles for games three and four on Wednesday, April 29 and Friday, May 1. A fifth game, if necessary, will be held in New York on May 4 with the sixth game in Los Angeles, May 6 and the seventh contest in New York, May 8.

South's opening lead of the four of spades. Fourth best of your longest suit is a lead handed down from our whist playing grandfathers and it rises with the ace. Just as automatic a play as there is and makes his proper return of the seven spot. South goes up with the queen. He hopes that this will take the trick but if West is any sort of bridge player he simply gives the trick to South. The only two spades he can't account for at this time are the jack and three. If East led both he would not have led the seven. If East held just the jack he would have led it.

So declarer gets this trick but he can't make his contract without the clubs. He takes the club finesse. East wins and leads his last spade to give West three tricks for the one he let go early.

Eskimo babies, probably. Understand they don't even cry. Not much, anyway. And they stop promptly when their mothers just look at them without saying a word.

CUSTOMER SERVICE -- Q. "Any idea how many rodeos we get annually, I mean here in Canada?" A. Maybe 425. Incidentally they are getting more popular every year. ... Q. "What would you say is the most despised animal in the world?" A. How about the rat? ... Q. "What's the coldest weather ever recorded on earth?" A. That was minus 127 degrees F. at Vostok Station about 10 years ago.

LOVE AND WAR-- When a man assigns a detective to track down his missing wife, it's likely because he loves her. But when a woman assigns a detective to track down her missing husband, it's more apt to be a matter of vanity. A woman scorned, and all that. And of course a matter of money. Or so says a busy tracer of missing matrimonial mates.

LAW -- A wife could formally request that the bartender serve her husband no more intoxicating drinks. Then if the bartender served her husband anyway, she could take said bartender to court, where he might be expected to suffer a $1,000 fine and a jail term of both. Such used to be the local law in five counties in Maryland.

PLEASE NOTE -- Maybe you've been wondering why you've never seen an alligator's tongue. I mean in those Tennessee Williams-type pictures where hungry alligators romp around the swamp. When an alligator opens his mouth, his tongue draws back into his throat to serve as a valve against the incoming water. That's why. It is a rare fellow who has ever seen an alligator's tongue. Very rare.

MAJOR HOOPLE

IT'S FROM JAKE HOOPLE, ALL RIGHT? HE SAYS HE'S HEADED THE WAY ON BUSINESS AND WILL BE DROPPING IN.

WHAT? BUSINESS? I ASKED HIM TO GET OUTA TOWN FOR SELLIN' HONOLULU DEGREES DOWN TO EARTH.

PERSONALLY, I'M NOT SCORNIN' IT AS ANOTHER HE SAID SOMETHIN' BAWL WOULD HAVE ON NEVER INDICATED A DWAZER!

IF all we learn from history is that we don't learn anything from history--what's the point of studying it?!

OUT OUR WAY

WHEN A MINUTE, WALTER, I'LL BE RIGHT BACK. I THINK THERE'S SOMEBODY AT THE DOOR!

HEI! I'VE TAKE THIS BUT DON'T SAY ANYTHING! I'VE BEEN HIRING A BROTHER OF MINE IN THE MOUNTAINS. HE'S GOT A LOT OF MONEY AND I'VE GOT TO PROVE IT TO YOU. I'VE GOT TO GO TO THE CITY TO GET A CHECK FOR $100,000.

Queen Mary Was 'A Terrific Ship'

By DONALD E. MULLEN
NEW YORK (UPI)—"The days when I went to sea it was the only way to see the world: Now you can hop on a dinner plane and go anywhere..."

The last captain of the liner Queen Mary gave his coffee a stir and thought back on 47 years as a blue water sailor, capped with the command of one of the world's most luxurious ships.

"She was a terrific ship, the Queen Mary—there'll never be another like her, but those days are gone. The social status is different—the elite-fines nowadays, but if they would suddenly decide to go back to ships it would start all over again..."

Capt. John Treasure Jones thought he had said goodbye to the huge, 1,019-foot liner when he docked her at her last berth in Long Beach, Calif., in December, 1967, and headed back to England and retirement.

Now he has been coaxed back to California where the old ship has been turned into a hotel, convention center—and a "museum of the sea." He will act as host and chief VIP greeter.

Jones really looks like an old sea dog. He is a ruddy-faced man with silver grey hair, a quick smile and more than a trace of the Welsh accent of his homeland.

"I thought I had packed up the sea for good," he said. "I didn't think anything could have tempted me, but when I got this offer to be the voice of the Queen Mary, I thought I'd give it a try. It's a fantastic set-up. We'll be there for at least two years. We'll see how my wife likes Long Beach."

"My family either were farmers or went to sea. I shipped out at 15 in 1921 as an apprentice on an old Cardiff tramp steamer. Those were God-awful ships. You were lucky if you got one egg a week and you were crammed into quarters. The only reason I lasted out the first three-four weeks is I didn't want to go home and have them saying, 'Here's Mama's little boy come home.'"

The Counterange.

This is Counterspace Cooking A Corning Invention

No burners, coils, grease traps. At last! Smooth, tough Pyrostream glass-ceramic top. Beautiful invisible electric heating elements. Thermatically controlled. Very precise self-cleaning oven. Naturally. The Corning Counterange is the range of tomorrow BUT YOU CAN GET IT TODAY.

Four electric heating elements hidden beneath the surface provide precise, thermostatically controlled heat. Individual sunbursts glow yellow to show which cooking area is turned on — the rest of the surface stays cool.

- Automatic oven timing controls turn the oven off and on even if you're away. And the handy minute minder may be set up to 60 minutes at a time.
- Because the unit is completely flat, there is no place for spills to hide. With no joints to remove, just imagine how easy it is to keep clean.

The Counterange Unit or the Counter That Cooks comes with a full set of Corning Cookmates, flat bottomed cookware, specially designed to mate perfectly with the cooking surface, assuring even, consistent cooking heat. Cookmates go from freezer to range to table beautifully.

what a beautiful

Miss Lynda Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sharp, Filer is a graduate of Filer High School and Link's School of Business in Boise. She is presently employed at Kramer, Plankey and Meehl as legal secretary. Dan Edwards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Edwards and graduated from Twin Falls High School. He attended Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho, majoring in psychology. Dan is presently employed at KMVT.

The wedding date is set for August 1. After a honeymoon which will hopefully be kept a secret, the couple will reside in Twin Falls, and now . . .

let us turn to the tour of Twin Falls stores, where Lynda and Dan met many friendly salespeople, and found innumerable items and ideas for their new life together. The Times-News and a host of Twin Falls friends and businessmen wish Lynda and Dan a long happy married life.

A Stitch In Time . . . Is Easy On Newly Weds Budgets

Lynda just had to make a visit to see the Bernina . . . Mr. Pettingill told Lynda of all the features that makes Bernina the simplest sewing machine on the market . . . the fact that it is made by Swiss craftsmen that it sews easily on the new stretch materials, that the automatic tensions needs no adjusting for different materials, that the Bernina hemstitches, has a limitless number of patterns without using discs or numbers, and that it has clip-on feet and twin or triple needles as optional features.

Mr. Pettingill has sold and serviced Bernina for 14 years and is now the distributor for Twin Falls county and the Northside.

Lynda was particularly attracted by the open arm feature of Bernina . . . it was a real pleasure when compared with the old-fashioned type machine.

Mohawk Should Be Underfoot

There is more Mohawk carpeting under American feet than any other kind . . . as Dan and Lynda discovered when they visited Cain's in their shopping. Mr. Mel Jensen who has been with Cain's almost since their founding pointed out to the young couple the many features that go into the great variety of patterns, weaves and colors that are offered by merchants who carry the Mohawk line of carpeting.

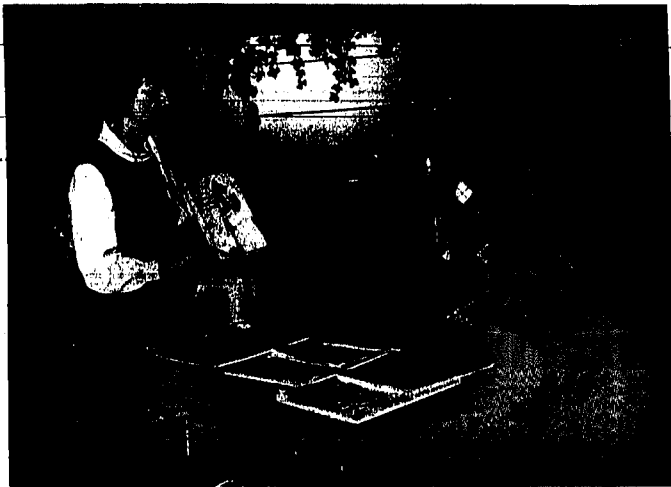

Cain's is in the enviable position of being able to offer such variety and quality because it is the largest furniture store in Idaho and can save folks money due to their carload purchases in carpeting and all other lines.

Here's Where The Beautiful Wedding Belles Come From!

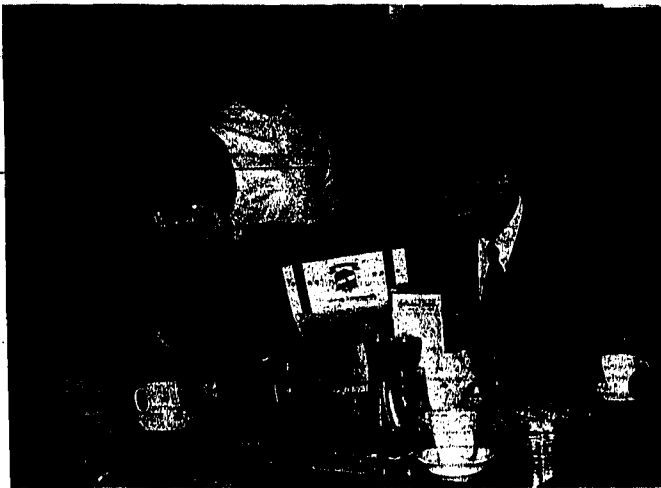

Lynda knows now, as she looks dreamily at one of the "Bridal Original" designer Wedding gowns in the Mayfair Bridal Salon Collection. An exquisite collection that is a dream-come-true confection of satin and lace as seen in such magazines as Bride, Bride & Home, and Modern Bride. Bridal consultant, Mrs. Joyce Wells, who has dressed the most beautiful brides for the past 9 years, gives every bride-to-be a free booklet of facts and fashions to answer most questions. But at the Mayfair they can help her with even more, such as bride-groom fashion balance, shoes, Bridesmaids dresses, mother-of-the-bride fashions, and trousseau for milady. The Mayfair consultants can even help her with answering questions on all aspects of the Wedding in the quiet of the off-the-main-floor salon.

Where You Save Does Make A Difference

It was only natural that one of the first stops Lynda and Dan made on their wedding tour would be the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. Here, they are greeted by Janet Dotbs who explains that the best years of their lives are coming! They can be such fun, too . . . so full and rich and satisfying if they plan for them. Whether its travel, retirement, a place in the country, where they save for their future does make a cash difference. There's no better place to save than at First Federal. Returns are excellent. Savings grow faster . . . and savings are insured to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. What's more, your money can't lose a penny of its dollar value . . . and there's no charge to put it in or take it out. Even What You Walk On Can Be Lovely!

On their visit to Claude Brown's, Lynda and Dan tried to visualize which color of carpeting would add to the decor of their living room. They know they especially like the luxurious extra long 3" shag carpet by Evans and Black shown by Mr. Doug Brown.

Lynda and Dan are also interested in the modern indoor outdoor carpet that is so popular as a sensible floor covering. Besides its wearability, indoor outdoor carpeting is virtually accident proof and designed to replace vinyl floorcovering.

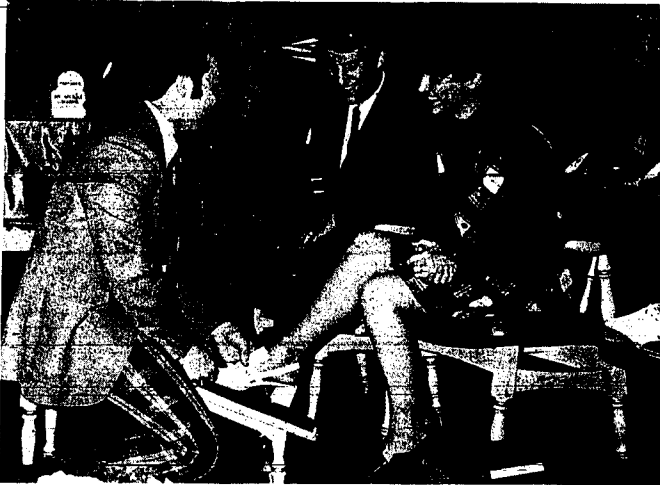

For the past 50 years, Claude Brown has had a reputation for their fine carpeting because of the very large selections of all types of the finest carpeting . . . the largest selections in South Central Idaho.

Linda And Dan Visit Sierra Life Home Office

Recognizing the fact that Life Insurance will provide them — and the children they hope to have — with a solid foundation for their financial security in later years, Linda and Dan planned to seek advice and counsel from an insurance expert. Here, they are greeted as they visit the Home office of Sierra Life Insurance Company by Lyle Uscola, representative for Sierra Life.

Lyle explains that the reason Life Insurance plays such an intricate part in the planning of financial matters is that it guarantees a solid financial future. This is because of the unique ability that Life insurance offers through an Old line legal reserve company such as Sierra. Through a systematic savings program they will build emergency funds plus guarantees against the contingencies of premature death or disability. A guaranteed savings plan should cover all possible contingencies regardless of whether you live, die or quit. Life insurance, as Lyle explains, will do this for you.

Sound Sets The Mood For The Newlyweds

Elegant Sterling Admired At Jensen Jewelers

The first sight of this magnificent Motorola Console Stereo caught Lynda and Dan's attention. The Mediterranean design with Villa Pucan finish is sure to add richness in decor for any home.

It's magnified as Mr. Vado Walker explained how true dimension in music is achieved from the deepest base note to the most fragile treble sounds of the audible scale. To develop the sound system the Motorola engineers have translated advanced technology of space age electronics into a dynamic design concept for home entertainment console. This 350 watt system for reproducing music and voice is crafted with all solid state components and engineered with the same know-how that created the Quasar Color TV for optimum performance dependability and reliability.

Lynda and Dan are delighted with the elegant silver! Jerry Murphy is showing them in the sterling silver of Jensen Jewelers. This beautiful tea set is one of the many pieces from collections by Towle, Wallace, Gorham and International.

One of the highlights of the day was seeing the marvelous array of patterns and stylings in the table settings they were shown. Selections are remarkable in their variety and price and the friendly, qualified and experienced people at Jensen's will be happy to assist you in your selections.

Checking Account Discussion At Fidelity National Bank

William E. Babcock, Assistant Cashier at the Twin Falls Fidelity National Bank, shows Lynda and Dan the advantages of a checking account.

Beginning marriage on a sound financial basis is a wise step for all newlyweds. Depositing the family's paycheck in a checking account allows the newly married couple to know exactly where every penny goes. It saves the expensive habit of impulsive buying when cash is in the pocket and gives the couple a ready receipt for the money they spend and the bills they pay.

Systematic keeping of money can be one of the key successes to any marriage and Fidelity National Bank, with four branches, is ready and willing to help.

Be a Beautiful Bride!

Serene and gently smiling, you'll be the most beautiful bride in the world. It's your day, the enchanted day when you say, "I do." Warm sunshine, something old and something blue, The something new — your perfected beauty. Vividne Woodward has worked out this easy-to-follow, mistake proof plan. Start today to experiment with these make-up ideas. Then visit the church at the same time of day as the wedding to check how you'll look under the same light conditions. Does your skin look clear and radiant? Are your eyes big and bright? If you've followed the plan, we're sure the answer is, "Yes." You'll look exactly the way you want to — and the look will be enchanted!

1. Choose a gentle foundation that's both light in texture and light in shade. Your complexion will stay clear and fresh-looking and you'll escape naughty looking smudges of built-up make-up.
2. Learn to "set" your make-up so it will survive excitement and kisses. After blending your foundation, apply face powder generously, then brush off the excess with the reverse side of your powder puff. Pat gently with cotton dampened in cool water for a soft, satiny finish that will last for hours. For that special day, try the new translucent powder shimmering with pearl.
3. Pay special attention to your eyebrows — they can say so much. Add a little extra color or fullness with one of the easiest-to-use beautifiers, a brush 'n color. It's a soft powdered coloring with specially slanted brush for perfect control. Your brows will look soft and full with no theatrical line.
4. And, of course, your eyes are your most important feature. Add sparkle with a delicate, frosted rare glow, brushed on at your temples and right under your brows. Then choose a pastel brush-on shadow and for a final touch, a set of luscious lashes. Extra lashes will add depth and sparkle to your eyes and will stay securely in place until you want to take them off. Brush lightly with mascara to blend your own with the extra set.
5. Lipstick must survive the wedding kisses. Choose an enchanted coral or pink, apply generously, blot with a tissue and then powder. Re-apply the color, wait a minute and blot again. Just before you leave for the church, try a frosty lame top coating to complete that enchanted look.
6. Your hairdo must frame your lovely face, never overpower. Keep the style simple and smooth. Test Your shampoo-set schedule ahead of time. Does your hair look best right after taking out the rollers? Or the next day? Then be sure to plan your wedding hair appointment to suit your schedule.

Sport Coat And Complete Men's Wear For The Groom

Dan has tried on one of the Cape Cod double breasted light weight summer sport coats as Gary Stimpson shows him one of the Cricketeer coats from Shirley & Wyatt's fine selection. Long known as the quality headquarters for men's wear in Twin Falls, Shirley & Wyatt features Kuppenheimer suits exclusively in the area and a well-stocked complete men's store. For many years men of all ages, throughout Magic Valley have come to rely on the personal attention to detail and correct fashion smartness advise given by Gene Shirley and Wayne Wyatt, Co-owners, of Shirley and Wyatt and their experienced staff.

Selecting Living Room Furniture At Blacker's

Unique Expressive Gifts At Sallie's Gifts - Books.

Lynda and Dan are delighted with thoughts of furnishing their own living room with this loveseat setting from Casa Villa collection of B. P. John. The luxurious velvet adds that "just right" touch to the open armed exposed wood trim, in fruit wood finish, loveseat. Hardwood kiln-dried frame, reversible 100 per cent latex-foam rubber seat cushions make the set practical for wear as well as pleasant for sight.

Blackers also furnish the finest line of General Electric appliances along with distinctive styles of furniture priced for the average income home. Other items include elegant carpet by Alexander Smith, bedroom sets by American Drew, living room groupings by Bailey Schmitt and B. P. John and recliners by Strato-lounger.

Lynda and Dan found that Blacker's specialize in furniture for young people with a budget plan to fit their pocketbook.

Dan and Lynda admire the beautiful display of Noritake Progression China at Sallie's in Lynwood as Evelyn Barth shows them a folder on all the patterns available and explains the Bridal Gift Registry program. The happy couple was fascinated by the unusual and expressive gift items Sallie's offer to the people of Southern Idaho. Featured items for giving and for the home include unique imported gifts, greeting cards, party supplies, artificial flowers and arrangements, glassware and business customer gifts.

Sallie's complete book store offers all of the finest in fiction and non-fiction as well as a great variety of religious books.

Sallie invites you to come in and let the friendly and courteous salespeople assist you in selecting just the right gifts which express your feelings...

Dan Is Pleased With Roper's Smart Styles

Groom's have their moments too! At Roper's, Dan enjoys the attention of Claude Mendjola as he tries on a sportcoat by Louis Goldsmith. The 95 per cent polyester and 15 per cent rayon combination make it an ideal summerweight for travel. This is one of the many Spring and Summer models now on display at Roper's in Twin Falls -- featuring fine clothes for men from such famous manufacturers as Hart, Schaffner & Marx, Manchester, Joseph H. Cohen & Sons ... plus many, many others. Roper's offer complete selections of men's furnishings, from ties and socks and other accessories right up to and including the latest styles in formal wear.

Even though she is not in the picture, Lynda enjoys the fine selection of ladies sportswear in the Roper's Ladies Department.
