Agnew Says Guardsmen Could Be Guilty Of Murder At Kent

Boise Sees Sellout For Agnew

BOISE (UPI) Vice President Spiro Agnew is scheduled to arrive in Boise to speak at a banquet honoring Gov. Don Samuelson tonight.

Air Force Two, carrying the vice president, was scheduled to set down at the Boise airport at 4 p.m. C.E. Gough, Samuelson's press secretary, said large crowds were expected to greet the vice president.

Although Agnew has cancelled several appearances in other places—and sharply limited his appearances in Idaho's capital city—a White House spokesman said Thursday night "there is no way Agnew will fail to honor the commitment he made to Gov. Samuelson."

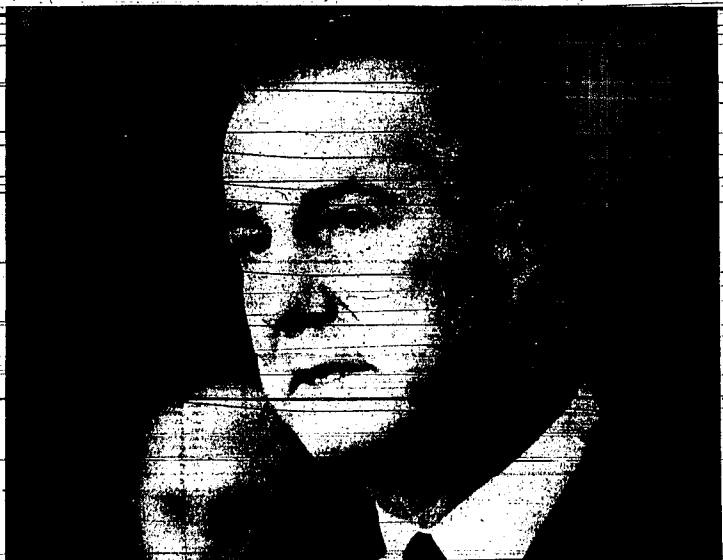

W. Grant Kilbourne, chairman for the event, said the committee organizing the banquet was "extremely pleased and happy the vice president would appear."

"It is most gratifying that he thinks enough of Gov. Samuelson to keep this engagement," Kilbourne said. "It isn't often that Idaho has the honor of being visited by such high-ranking officials and all Idahoans are honored to have him in our state."

Although some college students and local organizations have indicated they may hold peaceful demonstrations during Agnew's visit, Attorney General Robert Robson said his office is not anticipating any trouble.

"On the strength of the discipline of the attitude of Idaho—up to this point we have no reason to believe any trouble will occur."

He said that his office had been in touch with the Secret Service Thursday and "we have planned for every contingency we can reasonably anticipate."

IN THE HEAT OF anger, National Guardsmen apparently "over-reacted" and may, in a sense, have been guilty of murder in the shooting deaths of four Kent University students. Vice-President Spiro Agnew made the announcement in Los Angeles last night during the taping of a TV show. ## Nixon Calls Governors To Discuss Emergency

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—President Nixon called the 50 governors to the White House Monday to discuss "the disruption of peace, violence and potential violence throughout the nation," Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania said Thursday.

White House meeting was expected to deal exclusively with campus unrest.

Shafer said about 25 of the nation's 32 Republican governors originally were expected to attend the Santa Fe conference, but earlier Thursday it was decided that this was not the time for a partisan meeting.

Case Western Reserve University in Ohio.

Altogether, the National Student Strike Information Center at Brandeis University estimated 37 colleges were on strike around the country with faculty or administration approval.

At Wayne State university in Detroit, "where classes have been cancelled, eight students asked and received a court injunction to allow any student or teacher wishing to attend classes to do so."

In making the announcement, Shafer, chairman of the Republican National Governors Conference, also cancelled the group's semiannual meeting scheduled to open here Thursday night.

Shafer said he had conferred with White House officials who authorized him to announce that Nixon would meet with the nation's governors at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

School shutdowns and student strikes mounted today at universities shaken by protests against the American Cambodian expedition and the gunfire deaths of four Kent State University students.

In some cases, campuses were all but deserted, the schools closed down by administrative order or classes abandoned by protesting students. National Guard troops kept the peace in many university communities.

The board of regents of the Georgia University system authorized a two-day suspension of classes at all 27 colleges and universities.

In Ohio, Gov. James A. Rhodes urged all universities facing student unrest to shut down. Ohio State University was promptly closed indefinitely and all 48,000 students were ordered off the campus by noon.

At a news conference, the Pennsylvania governor pleaded for all citizens to avoid violence to "make certain reason wins out over emotion."

At the time of Shafer's announcement, the only governors present were A. Lindwood Holton of Virginia, Deane C. Davis of Vermont, and Cargo.

Among those who stayed home because of "campus violence in their states were Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan, Francis Sargent of Massachusetts and Louis B. Nunn of Kentucky.

"It's a shame all this campus unrest had to happen right now," Cargo said. He said the

"Our present assessment is that the modifications to the oxygen tanks in the service module that have already been identified will require several months and that Apollo 14 cannot be launched before the Dec. 3 launch window," Paine said in Washington.

"We will take whatever time is necessary and will not compromise a specific launch date until the Apollo 14 review board completes its work and makes its findings and recommendations."

In the event a further delay is necessary, Paine said engineers will hold a series of meetings to determine launch opportunities in early 1971.

The review board plans to have its final report ready to president in Paine by June 1.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's unemployment rate soared from 4.4 per cent in March to 4.8 per cent in April, with jobless rolls rising to the highest total in more than six years, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the 0.4 per cent rise in the jobless rate, the second such one-month jump since December, meant that 4.9 million persons in the labor force were unable to find work. That was a 300,000 increase on a seasonal adjusted basis—from March. The 4.8 per cent level was the highest since April, 1955, while the 3.9 million listed as looking for jobs was the highest figure since March, 1964.

The 0.4 per cent rise in the unemployment rate, matched the increase from December to January. Since December, the rate has jumped from 3.4 per cent to 4.8 per cent.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government plans to deport a topless dancer who once earned $750 a week and allegedly paid a U.S. citizen to marry her so she could stay in this country.

The Board of Immigration Appeals cleared the way Thursday for the deportation of Yvonne d'Angers, a topless dancer at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas in 1966, to her native France.

Military spokesmen announced eight Americans killed Thursday in a Phnom Penh battle, the fighting still yet in the Allied-aided Cambodian campaign.

Vice-President Believes Action "Heat Of Anger"

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In the heat of anger, National Guardsmen apparently "over-reacted" and may, in a sense, have been guilty of murder in the shooting deaths of the four Kent State University students, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Thursday night.

Agnew appeared on the taping of a television show with David Frost in a studio of KTTV in Los Angeles only a few hours after President Nixon assured college presidents that administration officials would make hostile comments about college students.

Under questioning by Frost, Agnew said he had great sympathy for the tragedy in Ohio, but added he felt the guardsmen, most of them no older than the students, acted in the heat of anger.

Agnew said during the television program, which will be aired next Wednesday night but parts of which were made known in Washington, he felt there would have been no shooting had not militants hurled rocks and attacked the guardsmen.

Asked about his candid language, Agnew recalled that Sen. J. William Fulbright had called him a "smart arse" and Arthur Goldberg had termed him a "fourth-rate hack politician."

Agnew was asked how would like to be remembered.

"As someone who did something and stood for something," he replied.

Pursues Question

Pursuing the question, Frost asked whether there might not have been any demonstration had not students been upset over the movement of U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Agnew replied that was possible but suggested certain protests were ready to get over almost anything, including the length of hair.

Agnew was asked whether guardsmen might not be held responsible for "murder" if it was established that no shots were fired at them first.

"Yes, but not first degree murder," the vice president replied. "There was no premeditation but apparently an over-reaction in the heat of anger."

Asked to comment on the Cambodian situation, Agnew said that he had great sympathy for the tragedy in Ohio, but added he felt the guardsmen, most of them no older than the students, acted in the heat of anger.

Cambodia Action Continues Spread

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. helicopters Thursday ferried 2,800 more American infantrymen into an area of Cambodian farmlands laced with bunkers described as a supply base for 10,000 Communist troops. One of the helicopters crashed and nine GIs were killed.

The crash brought to 26 the number of Americans killed in five helicopter losses in Cambodia and four in North Vietnam since Monday, and military sources said the Cambodian offensive and Communist counterattacks have raised the U.S. casualty rate to its highest point in a year.

Last week, U.S. headquarters reported Thursday, 123 Americans were killed in Vietnam action—29 more than the previous week and the third highest toll for any seven-day period this year. The week also marked the first stage of the drive into Cambodia, which moved into a second week Thursday.

Allied communiques, claiming great success in the Cambodian thrust, reported more than 3,300 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in the six-front campaign by an estimated 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops. Hundreds of tons of munitions and food for Communist forces were reported destroyed or captured.

The cost to the allies was described as comparatively light. Field reports listed 75 Americans killed and 300 wounded and 100 South Vietnamese killed and 840 wounded.

Cambodian commanders, fighting their own war against the Communists, sent tanks along the Mekong River south of the capital, Phnom Penh.

Thursday and reported recapture of the village of Kold Thom after a four-hour battle.

But other Phnom Penh dispatches said the provincial capitals of Kratie and Senmonrom in east-central Cambodia fell to the Communists.

UPI correspondent Robert E. Sullivan, reporting from a border region 230 miles north-east of Saigon, radioed that at least 500 GIs from the 4th Infantry Division had been flown across the frontier into Cambodia on late afternoon with North Vietnamese bus-casualty rate to its highest point in a year.

A battalion usually numbers about 800 men. The operation also includes elements of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division.

Politics Still In The P.O.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's postal negotiators may have stopped a strike but they certainly didn't take politics out of the post office.

An agreement negotiated with seven postal unions and announced with great fanfare April 16 is from a 100-member committee. The committee chairman, Sen. Gale W. McGee-D-Wyo., and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount are blaming each other for the delay. It's the same kind of impasse that stalled a postal pay raise last year and brought on the nation's first postmen's strike.

As before, the issue is whether postal reform should be tied to an 8 per cent pay raise agreed upon in negotiations. Blount says the reforms were negotiated, but should be "imposed" on the postal unions. McGee says that postal negotiation is Congress' business and had no place in the postal negotiations.

If Nixon and Blount want postal reform, McGee has told them repeatedly, they must swallow his version, which does not include the 100-member board of commissioners upon which the administration's reforms are based.

Guard Is Available For Agnew

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's adjutant-general called up 100 National Guardsmen from Boise, Nampa, and Emmett today to assist in security arrangements for the visit tonight of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Maj. Gen. George B. Bennett said the guardsmen would be on active duty "as long as required" but probably just for one day.

"Basically, we have a responsibility to support the local police authority and in order to provide a minimum reaction time we've ordered this 100-piece active duty."

"Their job will be to assist in security of Gov't Plaza and to support the local police," he said. "As long as we're required to be there, we'll respond as if the police ask for it."

Otherwise, Bennett said, the Guardsmen will remain at home.

He said the Guardsmen will be issued rifles and bayonets. He added that tear gas also was being used.

"We've just tried to organize them into security patrols and squads of 20 people who are organized in a unit's command structure."

When asked if the Guardsmen would be issued live ammunition, he said only "live people's lives are threatened and prepared to react."

Pat Gives Praise To Mothers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A mother's reward is in the happiness and success of her children, Mrs. Richard Nixon said in a statement commemorating Mother's Day Sunday.

"Their greatest reward and satisfaction are those reflected daily in the happiness and success of their children," Mrs. Nixon said.

"The selfless love, care, spiritual and moral guidance not only enriches their lives and inspires their dreams but becomes the foundation for their growth and development."

"The first and most important step in a child's life is the love and support of their mother. It is this love that provides the strength and courage to face the challenges of life."

"I am proud to be a mother and to share in the joys and sorrows of my children. I am grateful for the love and support of my husband and the love and support of my children. I am grateful for the love and support of my friends and the love and support of my community. I am grateful for the love and support of my country and the love and support of my world."

Shot

DETROIT (UPI)—The bodies of four teenagers, one of them a girl who had run away from home Sunday, were found in a West Side apartment today. All had been shot to death and police held the father of the girl.

Detective Lt. John Donn said the girl was identified as Sandra Garland, 17, Detroit, and that her father had given himself up to police a short time after the slayings occurred.

Boats Sail In Mekong Advance

SAIGON (UPI)—An armada of 40 U.S. and 60 South Vietnamese boats set sail up the Mekong River toward the Cambodian capital at Phnom Penh today to break Viet Cong resistance along the international waterway and carry food and medicine to Vietnamese refugees there.

There was no immediate indication the fleet had crossed the border. The boat crews had orders to bring back from Cambodia any Vietnamese refugees who wanted to come.

This unprecedented development, following negotiations in Phnom Penh between officials of both governments on the plight of the estimated 900,000 Vietnamese in Cambodia, came as:

Mother

Since the dawn of time Mother has been celebrated in poetry and song. "God could not be everywhere," according to an old saying, "and therefore he made mothers."

The sentiment is also ancient that children are what their mothers are, that superior men inherit the elements of superiority from their mothers.

Modern trends have built upon these fundamentals. In an environment that is no longer simple Mother is challenged to know the answers to questions of small moment to her ancestors. Principally the challenge is: how to build character into sons and daughters when an increasing leisure breeds mischief and there are breakdowns of moral standards on every hand.

It is to the glory of modern motherhood that most of them are thoroughly aware of their greater responsibility and many of them are forming manhood and womanhood at the highest levels. And that is the main guarantor of our future well being.

New Math

Even moneymakers do not always appreciate the value of money. This is one conclusion to be drawn from a report of shoddy accounting methods at the U. S. Bureau of the Mint.

A 1967 Mint report indicated domestic coinage activity cost $11.9 million, but auditors said a more realistic cost was $137.2 million.

Investigators also took issue with the Mint's estimate that it cost $1.15 per 1,000 to mint quarters in Denver and $1.72 per thousand in Philadelphia

The actual cost was figured at $16.62 per 1,000 in Denver and $15.96 per 1,000 in Philadelphia. Anyway you look at it, this is a lot of loose change.

Intimidations

It was ironic that a dissident faction of the National Association of Letter Carriers should have chosen Law Day as the occasion to announce it would once again break the law by calling a postal strike if Congress fails to enact an 8 per cent pay rise by May 14.

Federal law prohibits federal employees from striking, a fact which did not deter some of them from striking in March. Postmaster General Winton Blount has threatened disciplinary action against those who did violate the law, but thus far no action has been taken.

Gustave Johnson, the same New York letter carriers official who led the walkout there several weeks ago, is the man who now threatens a repeat performance. "There will be no delivery of mail after May 14 unless President Nixon has signed a postal pay bill enacted by Congress," Johnson announced.

after representatives from several states voted 28 in favor of a strike to 24 "present" at an unofficial meeting called by him.

Significantly, the national headquarters of the National Association of Letter Carriers has disavowed the Johnson meeting, adding, "we are not striking and will not call a strike."

The spectacle of a public servant issuing an ultimatum to his government at the risk of an illegal shutdown of a vital service for which he is responsible is repugnant to any fair-minded person. The action threatened by a few dissidents in the postal service must not be permitted.

It would be better if the National Association of Letter Carriers cleansed its own house of irresponsible conduct, but if it cannot do so the postmaster general should.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Silent City

If Orval Hansen, Idaho's Congressman from the Second District, is successful in getting the Oakley City of Rocks area designated as a National Monument, Park, or some such thing he will have done a lot of doing.

Why? Probably long before Rep. Hansen had ever heard of the City of Rocks — in fact about 35 years ago — there was a fellow named Charles Brown who was owner, publisher, editor and writer (plus a few other things) for the old Oakley Herald. His big project was to get the area established as a National Monument. He worked at it for years — right up to his death, as a matter of fact — and yet the designation never seemed to come to life. He had promises from governors, senators, congressmen and the like but they always turned out to be just promises.

Mr. Spectator had a hand in these things at one time when he wrote publicity for a Bathub-Rock Beauty Contest which Mr. Brown dreamed up. Idaho's Governor at that time — it was about 1937 — was there and there were about 3,000 people in assorted cars right in the middle of the City of Rocks — picking the first (and last, so far as we know) City-of-Rocks Beauty Queen. As we remember it the winner was a 16-year-old girl from Oakley and the event was actually staged at Bathub-Rock in the "City" area. Well, after that big event most everyone knew where the City of Rocks were and knew some of the history of the area. Pioneers, of course, drove their wagon trains through the City — and camped there — years before there was anything else in that area. They — many of them — left their names and the dates of their passage written in axle grease in various secluded spots. One of these is known as Signature Rock.

Much of this historic lore has been destroyed by vandals down through the years. It could have been saved if various influential people had kept their word and had listened to the ideas of Charlie Brown.

But they didn't. And so today the City of Rocks is still not the National Monument, Mr. Brown dreamed of and worked for.

Now Mr. Hansen has taken up the banner. We hope he is successful because Charlie Brown is watching!

But like we said, Rep. Hansen has his job cut out for him.

A Free Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON — The 5 per cent increase in Social Security payments is possible without raising either taxes or the wage base.

This non-taxed increase can be accomplished by making three changes in the key "assumptions" underlying the actuarial cost estimates of the Social Security system.

That's the claim of Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., member of the Finance Committee that handles Social Security legislation.

His views are important. While enactment of another Social Security increase is sure in both the House and Senate, the vital question of how to finance it is still very much up in the air.

Administration experts are known to contend that a further hike will require raising the taxable wage base to $9,000 from the current $7,800. Similar views are held by members of both the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee.

That's why Hartke's theory and claims are significant. Vigorously pressed by him in US House demonstrations of the Finance Committee, they could materially affect the kind of legislation laid before the Senate.

Crux of Hartke's argument is that taxpayers have been paying too much for what they have been getting in Social Security. Says the Indiana: "American workers are paying more than is necessary for the benefits of the present Social Security program. In other words, the taxes collected are unacceptably high for the benefits achieved. American workers are being overtaxed because the assumptions underlying the actual cost estimates for the Social Security system are unduly conservative." According to Sen. Hartke, this situation can be remedied by changing three key assumptions, as follows: (1) "Changing the wage base from 1969 to 1970." (2) "Reducing the present 75-year assumption to 50 years." (3) "Assuming interest payments of 5 per cent."

On the first change — Hartke points out that cost estimates for the Social Security system have been based, from the beginning, on what is known as the "level wage assumption."

"Later this year," he said, "there will be new cost estimates based on the assumption of the 1970 wage levels rather than the 1969 levels. When the estimates are available, they will undoubtedly indicate that Social Security is being financed with much more certainty than will happen to the mortality and fertility rates, employment, earnings, average age at retirement, etc., over any period of years. To base long-range cost estimates for Social Security on the present 75-year assumption as against a 50-year assumption results in higher cost estimates.

changes are enacted to go into effect a few months before 1971."

On the second key assumption change (reducing the present 75-year assumption to 50 years), Hartke notes that before 1960, long-range cost estimates for Social Security were made on a "perpetuity basis." That is, the estimates were made on the basis of assumptions as to what would happen to the various factors involved in the estimates over not only a long period of years but on into perpetuity.

In Hartke's opinion, that is both unrealistic and unsound. "Our society and economy are changing so rapidly," he argues, "that no one can predict with much certainty what will happen to the mortality and fertility rates, employment, earnings, average age at retirement, etc., over any period of years. To base long-range cost estimates for Social Security on the present 75-year assumption as against a 50-year assumption results in higher cost estimates.

Your Headache Is Catching!

18-Year-Old Vote

WASHINGTON — There probably are other things wrong with giving the 18-year-old vote by Congressional fiat, but the material point is that such action would be illegal, and if taken — almost surely would leave the country's young people even more "frustrated" than they are today.

Proponents of action by statute talk a lot of drivel about the 14th Amendment's guarantee of equal protection. This was the basis on which the Justice Department under then Atty. Gen. Nicholas deB Katzenbach successfully argued its case-barring literacy tests given in English to Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans in New York. But the pros conveniently ignore another section of the Constitution.

Section 2 of the 14th Amendment specifically mentions 21 as the legal voting age. Thus giving the vote to 18-year-olds by Congressional legislation, while supporting the Constitution's ban on discrimination, outlaws what the 14th Amendment's next section explicitly approves. Pretty slick, but hardly kosher.

Besides, while the Supreme Court's decision against any case-barring literacy tests given in foreign language could be described as a blow against discrimination, there is no such discrimination against 18-year-olds. Not certain 18-year-olds — not 18-year-olds with long hair or dirty necks or with black skin or acne — are barred from voting, but 14th Amendment is not the Constitution, not by whom.

This may be unfair, but it is no excuse for unseemly and illicit haste on Capitol Hill. The fact that some members of Congress, not all of them Democrats, need the perhaps impressive 18-year-old vote to make a better showing in 1972 is politically interesting, but judiciously irrelevant.

are the amendments now franchising blacks, giving women the vote, and permitting District of Columbia residents to vote in Presidential elections. Personally, I would not wish to be around if the 18's get the vote by law instead of Congressional amendment. Nixon is understating the case when he says that simple Congressional

RAY CROMLEY

Inflation Lid

WASHINGTON (MEA) — The way it looks now, President Nixon's program to halt inflation is going to boomerang. Major price increases may be slowed temporarily (though even that is not certain at this writing).

But some of the measures Nixon's men are using to slow things down are setting up the economy for hefty inflation pressures in the future.

The tight money market has cut sharply into funds men and women are putting into the building and loan associations. Instead, depositors are investing their money where it will bring larger returns. This means less money for mortgages. As a result, fewer homes are being built than are needed. This inflates the price of homes, old and new. Even after controls are loosened, this increasing home shortage will take years to whittle down. An artificial bulge in building will be necessary to catch up and bring the home inventory up to a reasonable level. This also will be inflationary.

The tight money market is making it much more difficult for small firms to secure the working capital they require to stay in business. Take one example, a small Washington firm with an AA rating. This company has increased its business and profits every year for the past decade and a half. It does a unique business requiring considerable skill and ingenuity. It has $2.4 million in firm contracts with sound companies. But to carry those contracts until the work is done, delivered and paid for, the firm requires a drawing account of $400,000 in working capital. This is, of course, normally business practice. Usually action would throw a heavy Constitutional cloud over any elections held after its effective date. If enacted by Congress, the legislation would become effective next Jan. 1, and it could not be tested in the courts until a "person" was "it" was denied the right to register to vote or there was an election with 18-year-olds voting.

available as a matter of course to small firms with such high credit ratings. But not this time. The company in question found the banks had no money available. The head of the firm traveled over much of the United States looking for money.

Finally, he gave up, sold his company to a large firm at book value — which is far below its worth. In return, he received stock in the large firm. He now runs his business as a subsidiary.

Now this does several things. It keeps the cost of making product. The big company, minus now add a percentage for its own overhead. It cuts back competition; there are now fewer independent, competing companies in the field. It reduces new developments and pioneering in new methods, because most big companies are less able to take risks that might cut profits. They're interested primarily in the money their subsidiaries make. A small businessman, with his own company, is better able to take these risks — which mean progress — because he's so close to operations he can attempt novel approaches yet catch mistakes or bumps before the mistakes become ruinous. He also has less red tape to go through.

New firms with advanced products in many cases are finding it impossible to go into business. They can't find the money they require, even when they have contracts guaranteeing sales and profits large enough to pay the loans and interest with no difficulty. This made 1969 a field day for big firms with capital to absorb small firms unable to get bank loans because of the tight

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

About The Eye

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss macular degeneration eye disease? Is there a cure? Does it lead to blindness? If so, how long does it take? Does it affect older people? — Mrs. D. T.

The macula is a small area in the back of the eye, in the retina. The macula is the point of most acute vision. Macular degeneration is a breakdown of fibrous tissue in this area.

Depending on the extent and exact location of the trouble, vision can be disturbed in different ways. For example, central vision may be lost but peripheral vision — this is, vision "at the sides of the eyes" — may remain intact. Or the damage may be more extensive.

Cause of such degeneration is not clearly understood except that it is a part of the aging process, thus something that affects older folk. There is no treatment for it, but progress of the condition may be very slow. As to blindness — central vision may be so seriously impaired that the patient may be "legally blind," yet with sufficient peripheral vision remaining so he can see objects, particularly if he looks "out of the corner of his eye," rather than trying to see what is directly in front of him.

Visual aids, by which I mainly mean magnifying glasses of one sort or another, are helpful in making the most use of the remaining vision.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible to have gall bladder trouble and X rays not show anything wrong? — Mrs. V. C.

Yes, and that is what confuses many patients. A gall bladder can be diseased and contain stones to the extent that bile no longer flows into the gall bladder. Therefore, a dye that is used along with X rays of this type does not flow into the gall bladder, either. The dye is required to make the shape of the gall bladder visible. Thus when X rays do not show the gall bladder, it is pretty likely to be a sign that the gall bladder is diseased. You'll find this and other problems discussed in my booklet, "You and Your Gall Bladder." Send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of Times News, for a copy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My trouble, I think, is tea; I can drink six or seven cups a day, but when I do it seems to affect my kidneys. When I go without tea, the trouble seems to go away. Can it be something more serious affecting my kidneys? C. B.

Tea, like coffee, is a diuretic, meaning that it stimulates the flow of urine. Some people find that a single cup promptly has this effect; others can drink more than that without appreciable difficulty.

It could be that you will have to limit the amount you drink, or put up with the consequences. The amount of fluid itself has some effect, of course — six or seven cups is getting up in the region of a quart from this source alone.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is using a preparation to restore color to his hair. It works well, but we are concerned because it contains sugar of lead. Is it absorbed through the skin? Can damage result? — Mrs. M. J. D.

Not many hair preparations contain lead. The lead can be absorbed, particularly if there is a break in the scalp skin. Prolonged use could cause lead poisoning, so I would suggest looking for some other preparation.

Intestines do not bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. However, questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Truman: "Feeling As Good As Ever"

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Harry S. Truman said with a tip of his dark gray fedora Thursday on the eve of his 88th birthday, "I'm feeling as good as ever."

And the 33rd U.S. President meant it. "I'm feeling very fine," he said, leaning jauntily on his shiny oak cane.

Hamppered by arthritis but still able to take an occasional stroll, Truman is seldom seen these days. But Thursday was one of those days.

It was a sunny, warm spring day in Independence and the former President and his wife, Bess, went shopping. When they returned to their big, white frame house at 219 South Delaware, Truman posed for a chat with UPI photographer Dale Monaghan.

"You've got to make a living just like I do," Truman said and posed for a rare photograph. He was accompanied by his bodyguard.

Truman looked thin. He walked slowly but surely with the aid of his cane. It apparently was one of his better days.

After his stroll, Truman returned to his house, where his life now is shared almost exclusively by Mrs. Truman, who was 85 last February. There will be a birthday party Friday for the former President in nearby Kansas City, an event Truman last attended in 1966. He is expected to celebrate quietly at home with his wife.

Senators Against War Move

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The number of congressional opponents to American involvement in Southeast Asia has now risen to the highest level since the massive U.S. military expedition began seven years ago, a UPI survey showed Thursday.

For the first time, according to the survey, at least half the Senate has openly challenged a decision to expand the conflict.

President Nixon's move to send American troops across Vietnam borders into Cambodia.

And in the normally docile House, the antiwar ranks have swelled to perhaps one-third of the membership, judging from recent votes Wednesday.

In both houses, however, opposition to expansion of the war does not appear to be sufficient to pass legislation to limit or stop the conflict. The prevailing sentiment, for the time being, is that cutting off funds for the war or imposing a timetable for American disengagement would lead to constitutional crises and endanger American lives.

Enemy Complex Found

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House confirmed Thursday that U.S. troops moving into the "Fishhook" area of Cambodia had uncovered a "major sophisticated enemy base complex."

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said the complex was larger than any discovered so far in the area where Communist forces operating in South Vietnam had set up their top military headquarters. The top headquarters is known as the Central Office of South Vietnam (COSVN).

Ziegler said the complex, uncovered by U.S. troops ordered into the area last Thursday by President Nixon, could be one of the base areas used by COSVN.

Ruth Moon Against System

BOISE (UPI)—State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon rejected today a preliminary design for a financial management information reporting system as applied to her office.

Miss Moon went to John Cherry, project manager for Touche Ross & Co., that she cannot approve the preliminary design "without a showing on your part that you have the constitutional authority to design or activate such a system."

Touche Ross & Co. is perfecting a design for the Committee on Accounting Systems and Data Processing.

"For your information," Miss Moon wrote Cherry, "the portion of the report dealing with the present operation of the state treasurer's office is inaccurate in many respects and your conclusions as to proposed changes in these areas are invalid."

"As far as the treasurer's office is concerned, the system you are proposing would be a duplication of work already done and thus a waste of the taxpayers' money."

"No changes will be made in the state's accounting system as maintained by this office, except with the specific direction of the state auditor, who constitutionally is the superintendent of the fiscal affairs of the state and has been given final authority to prescribe forms, fund designations and numbers, and other accounting procedures for state government."

Kent To Remain Closed

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—Kent State University will remain closed indefinitely amid a seething controversy over responsibility for the deaths of four students who may have died because curiosity drew them to a campus anti-war demonstration.

Robert I. White, the Kent president, said Thursday there was "no possibility" the university would reopen Monday as he had planned. He called a meeting of the school's 1,200 faculty members Friday to discuss the situation.

Funeral services were held Thursday for William K. Schroeder, 19, of Leain, Ohio, and Jeffrey Miller, 19, of Glendau, N.Y. They were killed Monday with Sandra Schuer, 20, Youngtown, Ohio, and Allison Kpaleu, 19, Pittsburgh, when National Guardsmen fired about 35 rounds of .30 caliber bullets into a crowd of rioting students on the Kent State campus.

Nixon Says Agnew Will Curtail Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With student protests over U.S. intervention in Cambodia intensifying nationwide, President Nixon assured visiting university presidents Thursday that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and others in the administration would stop attacks on campus demonstrators.

As the White House disclosed his promise that the administration would lower its voice on student dissenters, the President flew alone to Camp David, Md., for the night to prepare for a nationally broadcast news conference at 10 p.m. EDT Friday.

The news conference, that will surely dwell on Cambodia and the wave of student anger that has engulfed and, in many instances, immobilized campuses from coast to coast, will come on the eve of a planned mass antiwar rally near the White House.

Nixon also summoned the governors of all 50 states to a White House meeting on Monday to discuss the violence and threats of violence that have swept the nation following his decision a week ago to send U.S. ground combat troops into Cambodia.

Over

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The five-year marriage of Dennis Wilson, a member of "The Beach Boys," and his wife was dissolved Thursday while the singer was on tour in Australia.

The couple's $45,000 home was ordered sold with the proceeds to be divided between Wilson, 25, and his wife, Carole, 24.

Mrs. Wilson was granted custody of the couple's daughter, Jennifer, 3, and $150 monthly child support. She waived alimony in favor of a property settlement of more than $100,000.

Guard Blocks Traffic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Guard was authorized Thursday to provide Guardsmen to serve as watchmen without loaded weapons during weekend antiwar demonstrations.

The National Guard Bureau sent a message to the adjutants general of all states. It said the reason for the action was that "arson, attempted arson, other damage of threat and indications of possible damage against National Guard, Army reserve and Reserve Officer Training Corps facilities have occurred in considerable numbers in 20 states by individual saboteurs or mob action."

Demonstration Blocks Traffic

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reinforced police details and more than a thousand high school and college demonstrators clashed Thursday at Union Square Park.

Eight demonstrators were injured and at least nine were arrested in the melee that followed a 75-minute demonstration that blocked traffic on 14th Street.

History Sides With Old Jesse

UNION, Mo. (UPI)—A Franklin County Court jury ruled with history and legend Thursday that the famous Jesse James died in 1882 and did not live to the age of 103, as contended by Rudy Turilli, who lost $10,000 in the decision.

Turilli, who said he would appeal, was ordered to pay the money to Mrs. Jesse James Jr., of Los Angeles. She sued after Turilli offered the money to anyone who could disprove his contention.

The jury returned the verdict after nearly two hours of debate.

Murphy's Campaign Aides Set

BOISE (UPI) — Lieutenant Governor Jack Murphy announced Wednesday that William S. Campbell and George W. Knowles Jr., both Boise, as co-chairmen of his campaign committee.

Murphy, a Republican, is seeking re-election to the position of lieutenant governor which he has held for the past four years.

"In view of the fact that the legislature is now in annual session, the position of lieutenant governor has vastly increased importance and requires both legislative experience and knowledge of the state's various departments to promote the state's resources for the betterment of all Idaho," Murphy said.

Murphy, a lawyer and cattleman, served for 12 years in the Idaho Legislature and held the legislative positions of minority leader, majority leader and president pro tem of the Senate.

As lieutenant governor he has served as presiding officer of the Senate and occupied the governor's office in his absence from the state.

Campbell, accepting the appointment, said he felt confident "the people of Idaho will recognize the merit of Murphy as a hard working lieutenant governor and will express their satisfaction at the polls in November."

Ex-President Truman Is 86-Years-Old Today

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) — Harry S. Truman, hampered by arthritis but still able to take an occasional morning stroll, will be 86 Friday.

He'll celebrate in the almost total seclusion that has confined his life in recent years.

There'll be a birthday party as usual in nearby Kansas City, an event he last attended in 1966.

Seldom, these days, is Truman seen. His quiet life is shared almost exclusively by Mrs. Truman—who was 85 last February—in their big white frame house at 219 S. Delaware St., only a few blocks from the town square. Most of his days focus on reading newspapers and accounts of history, friends say. There are few visitors to the Truman home, surrounded by a six-foot high, black wrought-iron fence.

Library Is Near By

Less than a mile away is the Truman Library, which contains more than 3.5 million of the former President's letters, documents and records of his administration.

Occasionally when weather permits, Truman strolls Delaware and the streets nearby. A dark suit and dark hat hang loosely on his now thin frame. The brisk pace has been slowed by age, and the walking stick he once swung jauntily at his side is now a cane.

Police Lt. Paul "Mike" Westwood, a long-time friend, is always at his side. A conspicuous, sleek black car driven by a "Secret Service agent" is no more than a few feet away.

Except for those rare walks, Truman's only other known trips away from the family home are to the barber shop a block away, to the doctor or dentist and for an occasional ride with Mrs. Truman in the family car, chauffeured by Westwood.

"Play Dramatizes Years

The premiere presentation of "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!" opened Thursday night, highlighting "Salute to Harry S. Truman Week" in Kansas City. The two-act documentary play dramatizes Truman's White House years.

Even a group of Pennsylvania Republicans are honoring Truman.

In Southampton Township near Teves, Pa., the Republican club's theme Friday for its annual spring dinner is "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!" The club even invited Truman to attend.

"He had a lot of guts, to use a modern term," said Tom Welsh, club president. "He really told it like it was."

Mary Brooks Attends London 'Trial Of Pyx'

Mary Brooks, director of the U.S. Mint, is attending a unique "Trial of the Pyx" in London this week, in which coins issued by the British mint are assayed to check whether they are made in accordance with the law.

The Honorable John H. James, deputy master and Treasurer of the Royal Mint in London, issued a personal invitation to Mrs. Brooks, who is concluding a personal European tour sponsored by the National Association for Mental Health.

The British "Trial of the Pyx" is similar to the annual U.S. Assay Commission's ceremony over which she presided last February in Philadelphia.

The testing of coins is one of the oldest functions of government, dating from the ancient Greeks and Roman and through the Crusades. The actual Trial of the Pyx is believed to have originated under Henry III of England in 1248.

Fire Season

Despite recent wintry weather, the closed fire season begins Sunday on lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management.

Officials of the Boise District said today that anyone wishing to burn on or near lands administered by the BLM must first obtain a burning permit. The permits are available from the Boise district office, 230 Collin Road, telephone 342-2641.

The closed fire season runs from May 10 to October 20, inclusive, each year.

Lunches End

The last day for serving school lunches in Twin Falls District No. 411 will be May 27, according to Mrs. Bertha Glick, school lunch supervisor.

She said there will be the smallest number of serving days in 1969-70 as there has been in the past.

Corridor Walled Off At Filer High School

FILER — Pranksters at Filer High School forced a deluge of student traffic between the high school and adjacent junior high school buildings Thursday with a barricade of cinder blocks erected in the corridor between the two.

Tom Turner, Filer superintendent of schools, said that only two or three boys "were responsible, and that they readily admitted the prank. They removed the barricade, early Thursday, before school consisting of 49 cinder blocks hours.

across the corridor, during the lunch hour Thursday.

"They were very careful with the blocks so they didn't cause any damage," Mr. Turner emphasized. The boys even boasted of their care in bringing the blocks into the school.

Apparently, Mr. Turner said, one of the boys arranged to leave a back door of the school open, and the boys entered the school before school hours.

Volunteers To Work At Airports

Volunteer workers planning construction at Arco and Dubois airports have rescheduled their work days to May 16 and 17.

Pilots and aircraft owners from Southeastern Idaho will work to complete the state's first permanent residential-administration buildings on unattended airports.

Chet Moulton, state aeronautics director, said that under the program sponsored by the Department of Aeronautics, semi-retired couples would be encouraged to live at the airports as "mom-and-pop caretakers."

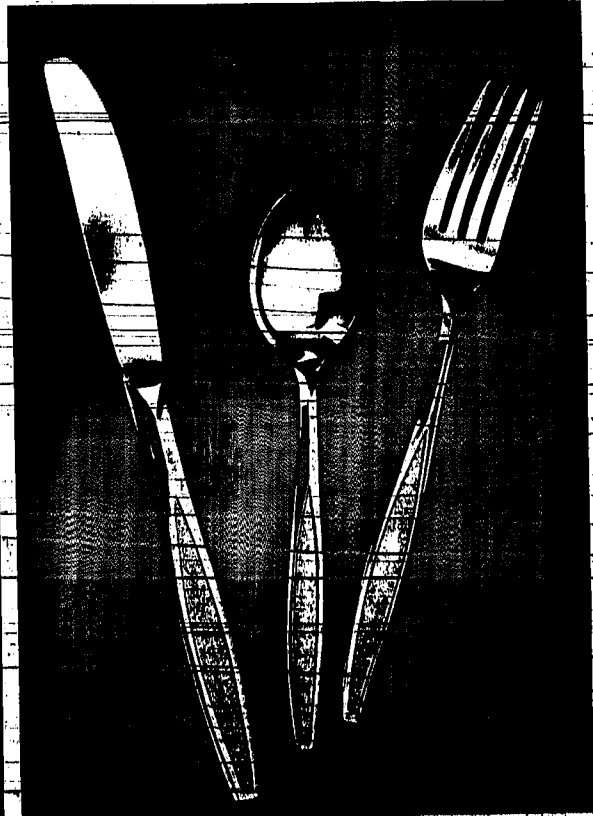

In lieu of rent, they would provide minor maintenance and services, including mowing runways and adjacent grassy areas with airport equipment, looking after runway lights, when installed, providing fuel for aircraft, and greeting arriving planes.

In addition, the caretakers would maintain and provide ground services for pilots, including telephones, courtesy cars, radio facilities, and public rooms, and would strive to deter vandalism to parked aircraft.

Arco and Dubois are the first towns to participate in the new state program which would do more to encourage growth of aviation at unattended airports than any other, according to Mr. Moulton.

Family Life Seminar Planned

A family life seminar is being planned at the Memorial Lutheran School next week. Rev. Harold Iben, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, Twin Falls, the seminar will be led by area pastors and will cover all phases of family life for all age groups. The seminar starts Monday and concludes Friday, May 15. All sessions will begin at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served nightly. One ticket will cover admission to all sessions and may be obtained from any area Lutheran Church.

Church Plans To Give Property To Community

By LOUIS CASSELL
UPI Religion Writer
An Episcopal church in Washington, D.C., has decided to apply to itself the advice Jesus once gave to a rich young man: "Sell all you have and give the money to the poor." In an action that may be without precedent, the congregation of St. Stephen and the Incarnation Church has voted to give its property to the community it serves. The property is valued at $300,000. The gesture takes on added significance because St. Stephen is historically a white church, while the community it serves is now overwhelmingly occupied by black people. St. Stephen has long had a genuinely integrated congregation. The racial mix is now about 50-50, and concern for the welfare of the people of its neighborhood is no new thing. The plan calls for creation of a non-profit corporation, of whose board of directors the church will have a minority representation, but which will be composed mainly of representatives of community groups. The welcome was given by Kim Hansen, president, who introduced his officers, guest speaker, Bishop Arlo Stevens, Gooding; Bishop W. C. Choules, D. H. Gold, Mrs. Gold, Farren Chandler, Wendell, Floyd Marsh and Ed Larson. Leon Sant has been the teacher this year. Music was directed by Maria Waite with Katie Choules, accompanist. Steven Missetine, a four-year student, spoke on the Book of Mormon, next year's course of study. Scripture was read by Debbie Larson. The breakfast was prepared by Mrs. Arlene Hansen, Mrs. Bob Butler, Mrs. Evelyn Clark and Mrs. Bernus Waite.

Seminary Students Graduate

RICHFIELD—LDS Institute directors were special guest speakers at the Blaine Stake Seminary graduation exercises for the five wards in the Stake. Dr. Richard V. Anderson, institute director at Boise State College was guest speaker, and Gary Beckstead, institute director at Twin Falls, gave the welcome at the ceremony held at the Richfield Stakehouse. Orlo Stevens, area seminary co-ordinator, Gooding, conducted the exercises. Layne Hadlock, Shoshone, presented the theme. Student talks were given by Patti-Ellsworth, Halley, and Mark Dixon, Richfield. Edward Thatcher, Carey, played a trombone solo, and a Halley girls quartet sang. They were Peggy Bartlome, Debra Craig, Emily Packer, and Lorna Woodland. Debra Neyman was accompanist. Oral Stewart, Blaine Stake president, Carey, presented diplomas.

Richfield graduates are Dale Crowther, Susan Davis, Mark Dixon, Chris King, Peggy Ralls, Deborah Swainston, and Joyce Ward. Brian Cooper, Kay Sorenson, and Barbara Stoddard graduated from Dietrich seminary; Edward Thatcher, LaDean Stocking, Bart Murdoch, Gary Parke, and Jeff Toome, Carey; Brian Stimpson and Frank Garrett, Shoshone; Patsy Bartlome, James Bille, Carolyn Bradshaw, Debra Craig, Kay Shirts, Susan Robert, James Patterson, Emily Packer, Deborah Neyman, Anthony Hall, and Patricia Ellsworth, Halley.

PUTTING NEW PEWS together are three members of the First United Brethren Church of Twin Falls. The church is undergoing extensive remodeling and new upholstered pews are being installed. Helping with the work of installing the pews are, from left, Bill Sommer, Floyd Maddocks and Joe Treas. The pews are scheduled to be finished and installed by Sunday morning services.

Walther League Elects

FILER—Keith Thaele was elected president of the Peace Lutheran Walther League at the May meeting in the church. May Caroline Orbel was elected vice president. Linda Nelson was elected treasurer and Doreen Daniels, recreation chairman. Brent Thaele and Danny Daniels were welcomed as new members. The group voted to play baseball at the summer meetings which will begin at 7 p. m.

25 Attend Seminary Breakfast

HAGERMAN—Twenty-five students attended the recent seminary breakfast. A breakfast is served each year honoring the graduating seminary students and prospective students. The welcome was given by Kim Hansen, president, who introduced his officers, guest speaker, Bishop Arlo Stevens, Gooding; Bishop W. C. Choules, D. H. Gold, Mrs. Gold, Farren Chandler, Wendell, Floyd Marsh and Ed Larson. Leon Sant has been the teacher this year.

Writer Says Church Is Political Institution

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
Although few clerics or professional churchmen will admit it publicly, the church is very much a political institution. From the smallest congregations to the largest ecumenical institutions, that essential political ingredient—the struggle for power—is alive and kicking. But most clergy and laity still regard the fine art of wheeling and dealing out of place in the church. In an effort to clear away this religious mystique, a theology professor within the American Lutheran Church has taken the unprecedented step of declaring his candidacy for national presidency of his denomination. But as candidates and caucus-ers emerge and as efforts to make the church responsive to the issues in the world increase, the demands on the established leadership to make their politics open will increase as well. It is, as Bridston maintains, an effort to "make the priesthood of all believers a political reality."

Special Day

How Good Are Your Excuses, Pastor Asks

By PASTOR ROBERT J. SEAMAN
Grace Baptist Church
Twin Falls
How easy and how human it is to blame everyone and everything except ourselves for our sins and shortcomings. We are so prone, when we yield to temptation, to blame sin upon any circumstances except ourselves. Adam, having sinned, made an excuse which all too many of his children have echoed, when he said, "The woman who thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat" (Gen. 3:12). Instead of simply confessing his sin and saying, "I am guilty; I disobeyed," he, if we may be excused the use of the modern expression of slang, "passed the buck" to his wife. The tendency of human nature is always to blame sin upon something outside ourselves; "It got upon an individual, upon circumstances. We excuse ourselves for certain sins which are wrong by saying, "Well, I am just weak on that point. You see, I have inherited temptations along that line." Or again, "My environment and surroundings were all against me. After all, if I had been in different circumstances or had not had to associate with certain people, I

Mrs. Prince Gives Lesson

WENDELL—Mrs. Cleo Prince presented the social relations lesson at the recent meeting of the Wendell Ward Relief Society. The lesson was entitled, "Home is to the family what the sun is to the solar system." Mrs. Alden Johnson sang a solo. LaNae Johnson presented, "I Am a Child of God." Other participants in the program were Mrs. W. A. Gold, Mrs. Walter Stockman Jr., and Mrs. Johnson. The spring social-branch is tentatively set for June 2.

Bible Schools Planned

GOODING—Many of the churches in Gooding are planning Vacation Bible School this summer. Bible school at the First Baptist Church is scheduled for June 1-5 from 9 to 11:30 a. m. for children from 3 years old through the sixth grade. Bible school at the Christian Church also is scheduled for June 1-5 with afternoon sessions 1 to 3 p. m. for children from ages 3 through the sixth grade. The United Methodist Church will have a day camp for children who have finished the fifth and sixth grades beginning June 1-5. Church school will be held Wednesday evenings beginning on June 3 for nursery through junior high.

The Mother-Daughter banquet at the Twin Falls First Baptist Church will be held at 6:30 p. m. May 19 in the fellowship hall. Tickets will be available on Sundays in the church parlor or in adult church school classes until May 17. No tickets at the door.

Certificates of achievement for less than three years seminary attendance went to Daryl James, Marla Anderson and Loa Carter, Halley, and Bill Hunt, Carey. Post Graduate certificates of leadership and special achievement went to Robert Crowther, Ann King and Julie Haws, Richfield; Carla Sorenson, Dietrich; Rob Peck, Milla Mecham, Karl Bame, Dana Crowley, Carey; Lorinda Dilla, Julie Cope, Lynn Stimpson and Layne Hadlock, Shoshone and Lorin Bartlome, Dennis Craig, Rictle Sims and Lorna Woodland, Halley.

Julie Haws, Richfield; played prelude music, and Debbie Neyman was accompanist for seminary song numbers. Cooper offered the invocation and Brian Stimpson the benediction. Seminary faculty members are Mrs. Ken Dixon, Richfield; Mrs. Aileen Packer, Halley; Mrs. Glen Sorenson, Dietrich; Ronald Jenkins, Shoshone, and Darwin Parke, Carey.

make God himself responsible. We are doing that which we are told in the 13th verse of the first chapter of James we should not do, "We are tempted by God." We are tempted when we are drawn away from our own just and entitled. (James 1:14). Our prayer should be, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." (Psalm 51:10). And when the heart is right, the outward life will indicate that fact. A heart is cleansed at the blood fountain of Calvary.

What Bridston's candidacy means for the 2.5 million member American Lutheran Church or for other church national presidency of his denomination. But as candidates and caucus-ers emerge and as efforts to make the church responsive to the issues in the world increase, the demands on the established leadership to make their politics open will increase as well. # Religion Today

By Rev. Lester Kinsolving

COLUMBIA — This planned city of 150,000, presently under construction between Baltimore and Washington, includes planned cooperation — and joint building use — by 13 leading religious denominations.

There have been other instances of interdenominational cooperation in new cities such as in 1944 in the atomic energy city of Richland, Washington. But Columbia could be the first planned city in which religious cooperatives bring about "planned" understanding.

A Funeral Practices Task Group was established by the Columbia Cooperative Ministry, which includes both Southern and American Baptist, Roman Catholic, three Lutheran (American, Missouri Synod and Lutheran Church of America), Society of Friends, Church of the Brethren, Third Church of Christ, Episcopal, both Northern and Southern Presbyterians and Disciples of Christ. After a year-long study, the task group recommended incorporation of a non-profit Interfaith Foundation.

Major proposed functions of this foundation are: — Establishment of a crematorium — as well as "the encouragement of the churches and other religious groups to develop more clearly regarding the theological issues involving cremation and burial." — Significance of "contact with a mortician who is understanding of the approach of the Interfaith Foundation... who would agree to abide by the general policies set by the Corporation."

— Emphasizing that "remembering the whole life of a person is more helpful than looking at a dead body for two days... psychologists whom we have consulted tell us that the body is not that important in grief work... If the family wishes to view the body there should be a private viewing as soon after death as possible, after the example of John F. Kennedy." (One Columbia clergyman, Southern Baptist Jim Hamblen, recalls one mortuary innovation: The displaying of an inclined open casket in a funeral home show window — allowing (drive-in viewing of the remains).)

Meeting Set
GOODING — The annual church meeting of the Gooding United Methodist Church will be held at 8 p.m. May 20 in the church.

New officers will be elected.

Attend Meer
KETCHUM — A Ketchum member of the Presbytery of Kendall will be among more than 800 commissioners to the 182nd general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., which meets in Chicago May 20-27.

Attending will be William M. Kelly, Ketchum, clerk of the presbytery.

Special Program
WENDELL — William Kelley, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of Sun Valley-Ketchum will provide a special program of religious folk music at the May meeting of the Couples Club of the United Presbyterian Church. The meeting will be held May 10 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Holmes, 540 1st Ave. E.

ATTENDED MEET
FILER — Mrs. Ina Moloe represented the Filer Missionary Church as a delegate to the Missionary Church Conference held in Roy, Wash.

THIS OUTDOOR memorial fireplace was dedicated recently at the King Hill First United Presbyterian Church in memory of Rev. R. Imbrie Barnes and his son, Jonathan L. Barnes. Jonathan's high school class began the memorial project in 1966 shortly after his death. Terry Parish, left, presented the

Filer Church Sets Special Program

FILER — Favorite hymns of a number of prominent women will be presented in a special program at 8 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church.

The program, dedicated to Mother's Day, will be in charge of the young people of the church and directed by Steve Nelson.

Susan Johnson will read a letter from Mrs. Orval Hansen, wife of the Idaho Representative, Hattie, which is her favorite hymn and why, after which the song will be sung by the entire audience.

The same procedure will be followed by Phyllis Peterson's reading of "Ladybird" — Johnson's letter, Pam Miller, letter from Dale Evans, wife of Roy Rogers, Leona Wright, Mrs. James McClure, wife of Representative McClure, and Lynn Peterson, a letter from Mrs. Pat Nixon, wife of the president.

The hymns all will be sung except in the case of the hymn chosen by Mrs. Billy Graham which will be sung as a solo by Diane Ransom. Larry Andrews will announce the favorite hymn of Mrs. Roy Watson, wife of Rev. Watson, host pastor.

A special offering taken will go into the scholarship fund which is to be presented to the outstanding youth worker of the church. The public is invited to attend this unusual program.

Lessons

Listed For LDS Unit

SHOSHONE — Final weekly lessons of the season will be held by the Relief Society of the LDS Church during the Month of May.

The spiritual living lesson will be on the subject "Zion and Its Future" with an objective for women of the Church to understand the guidance provided through knowledge that the Church is the "gathering and temple building" is a sub-topic of interest.

For the visiting teacher message the topic is "Men Are, That They Might Have Joy" and Book of Mormon stories are used for illustration.

The homemaking lesson deals with the subject "She Strengthened Our Hand to the Plow," with an objective for women to show compassionate service.

For the social science lesson a re-emphasis will be given the writings of President J. Reuben Clark Jr., which may influence for good behavior, patterns of the lives of members of the Church.

The cultural refinement lesson will be on the subject of participation, with an objective "To show that no view from without can match the insight, growth and accomplishment of involvement."

To be studied are literary works, including "The Oven Bird," by Robert Frost; George Herbert's "Life"; "Great Possessions," by David Grayson and his writings on Woodrow Wilson.

Dinner Slated

The Twin Falls First Christian Church's annual Mother-Daughter potluck dinner will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the church basement.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and my husband is 23. We've been married for a year and a half, and have a six-month-old son, which is the only reason I don't just pack up and leave.

My husband is worse than an old man. When he comes home from work, he kisses me, then goes in to look at the baby, then he buries his face in the newspaper until dinner. After dinner he can't get into bed fast enough—because that's where the television set is.

Our sex life is, like—forget it. He says he had so much sex before marriage he doesn't even think about it anymore. (That doesn't happen to be true in MY case, but it doesn't bother him.)

When I want a little affection he makes me feel like a dirty old lady. I don't want to raise only one child; but if I ever get pregnant again it will be a miracle.

He is a hard-working man and a good person, really, but he is a lousy lover. Please tell me what to do.

HUNGRY FOR LOVE

DEAR HUNGRY: Something is wrong with your husband. It's either physical, mental, or emotional. First, not all sexual appetites are the same, but your husband's is sadly below par. Keep nagging him until he gets help. If he is a "good person," he will realize that you are not a "flower-born" to bluish unseen, and waste your sweetness on the desert air.

DEAR ABBY: I am simply amazed at the response I continue to receive since my letter appeared in your column. It concerned the cruel tradition of denying brides the privilege of wearing white unless they were "pure."

Of some 150 letters I received only ten were negative. They suggested that it was encouraging promiscuity, which I did not, nor would I approve.

The pathetic tragedies of human suffering that have scarred the lives of so many persons needlessly is unbelievable.

When I offered you the use of my name, I had no idea you would include my church and its location. But I am now grateful to you for the gifts of kindness I have been able to receive because of it. I wish I were as good as some people perceive me to be.

My only regret was when I read my letter in your column, I saw that I had committed an error by referring to "black" as a symbol of evil or wrong. This is another cruel tradition carried on by our white racist culture unconsciously. One person wrote to me, critically because of it, and I sent her my apology. PAUL WHIPPLE, (Minister)

DEAR REVEREND WHIPPLE: You sound like a man I'd like to know.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago our son died. Friends and relatives kept us company up until the day of the funeral. Then we were left all alone.

I know they probably felt that the family wanted to be alone, which is so untrue, Abby. That was the time when we needed friends the most.

Many would call and ask us to come over. But we didn't really feel like going out. We aren't the type who would sit and cry and cry in front of people. We needed our minds taken off of grief. Maybe we're different. Would you please ask your readers who lost someone close if they felt like we did. Or did they want to be left alone?

ALONE IN ANAHEIM

DEAR ALONE: Offhand I'd say you are not different. Perhaps it will help to let people know that people DO need people. We share our happiness with our friends. Why not our sorrow?

CONFIDENTIAL TO WILLIE MAE: Tell him that it's easy to become a father. It's harder to become a man.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69790, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Queens Named For Area TOPS

WENDELL — Quarterly and monthly queens were crowned at a recent meeting of the Slipknot Tops Club at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Thelma Bailey.

Mrs. Mildred Jasper was in winner in Division No. 2; Mrs. Grace Rast, Division No. 3; Mrs. Rose Mencl, Division No. 4, and Mrs. Linda Oliver, stork queen.

Helen Kleivon was queen for the month of March and Mrs. Bailey for April. Mrs. Jasper was named as the best loser of all divisions. All winners received a corsage.

The net loss for the past week was 10 pounds, with Mrs. Olive Hartley best of the week.

150 Persons Attend Local Violet Show, Plant Sale

Approximately 150 persons visited the African violet club and Mrs. Fike is president of the club and Mrs. Prescott was chairman of the show planning committee. Judges were Mrs. S. Recreation Hall, sponsored by W. Smith and Mrs. Victor the Magic Valley Saintpaulia Nelson Club.

The Saintpaulia Club was organized in 1951 by Miss In-Gooding, Jerome, and many surrounding communities. More than 100 plants and arrangements were exhibited by members, with many new varieties on display.

Receiving high points were Mrs. Alice Prescott, first; Mrs. Paul Prochnow, second, and Mrs. Ray Fike, third.

Theme of the show was "May Time," with a May pole depicting the theme, made by Mrs. Sam Porter.

Guest Night Scheduled By Rebekah Lodge

WENDELL — Plans were made for a Guest Night at the recent meeting of the Idaho Rebekah Lodge No. 98 during a regular meeting at the IOOF Hall recently.

Mrs. Dale Bitterli, noble grand, stated everyone is to dress in "Krazy" costumes and each member is to bring one dozen sandwiches.

Mrs. Lynda Knight was received into the lodge by transfer from Snow Drop Lodge of Ketchum. She was introduced and welcomed.

Lodge members made a donation to the World Eye Bank which is sponsored by the Odd-Fellow Lodges.

The program included musical selections by Brenda McDowell and Pam Klimes, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Bright. Mrs. Bob Simerly read an article on Mother's Day and Mrs. Roy Bishop read a poem pertaining to Mother's Day.

Mrs. A. F. Brown received the special prize.

Kathy Laragan, Perron Plan May Wedding

KETCHUM — Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Laragan announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kathy, to Vernon G. Perron, Ketchum, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Perron, Shoshone.

Miss Laragan is a 1968 graduate of Wood River High School and attended Idaho State University. She recently returned from Washington, D. C., where she was a secretary-receptionist for Sen. Frank Church.

Mr. Perron is a 1964 graduate of Shoshone High School. He attended Ricks College and the College of Southern Idaho.

Both are employed in the Ketchum-Sun Valley area.

The couple plans to be married in early May.

Workshops Are Scheduled By Home Agent

SHOSHONE — A "Sewing With Knits" workshop has been scheduled by the home demonstration agent, Mrs. Jay-Fowler.

The three-course study will be conducted over a three-week period, with classes at Shoshone, Dietrich and Richfield.

Mrs. Fowler announces the Shoshone workshops will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesdays at the courtroom of the courthouse and 8 p.m. Tuesdays, also at the courthouse. At Dietrich, the workshops will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and at Richfield at 4 p.m. on Wednesdays.

First workshops will be on May 12 and 13 respectively. At the first workshop, patterns and fabrics will be discussed. Those wanting to attend are asked to mail until after this meeting to purchase them.

A pair of good-fitting pants and a T-shirt, either for the seamstress or someone else, will be made.

New Member Is Enrolled

BUHL — Mrs. Garland Metcalf was enrolled as a co-worker during the regular session of the Buhl Women of the Moose. All officers were present, with Mrs. Bill Wonenberg, senior regent, in charge of the meeting.

Plans were made for a salad bar honoring mothers. Mrs. Floyd Dalas, reported on the state spring conference held at Idaho Falls.

A report was given on a surprise drill party in honor of Mrs. Clifford Brown. In appreciation for her work in originating and conducting the regular and junior drill teams, Mrs. Brown was presented a gift of appreciation.

A pot luck dinner was served and the remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and games. Vivian Harmon, Mrs. Lee Monroe and Marcella Povalawski were in charge of the party.

Women's Section District Deputy Makes Official Visit To Lodge

SHOSHONE — Secret work was exemplified by Mrs. Lorayne McCloud, Wendell, district deputy president of Rebekah Lodges, when she made her official visit to Opal Rebekah Lodge here.

She also gave information on lodge work, and brought the traveling Blue Bird to the group along with messages from the president.

A gift of appreciation from members was presented to her by Mrs. Floyd Silva.

Several of the Wendell lodge members were here in company with Mrs. McCloud.

Success of the polluck supper given by the Odd Fellows was reported. This was in honor of the 100th anniversary.

Plans were made for entertaining the Assembly president, Mabel Frazier, Pierce, on May 15 with a dinner at 7 p.m. at the Manhattan Cafe. Others members of the lodge in the district are invited to this also.

Committees include Mrs. Corwin Silva and Mrs. Lester Johansen, introduction; Mrs. Bennie Ray Webb, Mrs. Dale Chatterton and Mrs. Marjory Eldredge, program; Mrs. A. G. Biswell, Mrs. Omer Shook and Mrs. Leonard Kenaston, reception; Mrs. Chatterton, Mrs. Arthur Martin and Mrs. Webb, table decorations; and Mrs. Omer Shook and Mrs. Margaret Boulware, refreshment committee.

Gooding's New Hospital, Nursing Home Nearing Completion

Brick work is progressing on the new nursing home, left, being built next to the Gooding Memorial Hospital, at right. The nursing home is expected to be ready for use sometime in June. The 25-bed facility is built on land leased from the state and will be leased by Green Acres Terrace, Incorp. It is being built by the C and C Construction Co., Nampa-Caldwell. One wing will be used for retired people who are able to come and go as they wish.

Patient applications now are being taken. The hospital, located on the 1200 block of Montana Street in Gooding, is now in the final stages of construction, with the outside work completed. The 25-bed hospital is being built by H. Dyke Walton Construction

Co., Salt Lake City, and will serve as the only hospital between Mountain Home and Jerome. Gooding county voters approved more than $500,000 worth of bonds for the hospital on March 15, 1967.

Jefferson Named Blaine School Aide

HAILEY — Ray Jefferson, principal of the Ernest Hemingway School, Ketchum, has been hired, as assistant superintendent for the Blaine County School District 61. The action was taken during a special meeting of the school board this week.

The board also appointed Richard Jones, presently principal of Wood River High School, as guidance counselor for the district, and Phillip Homer, Wood River basketball coach, as Hailey Junior High principal. Mr. Homer fills the position to be vacated by Gerrit Anderson, who recently resigned, seeking reappointment within the district. Mr. Wunderlich has been reassigned to a teaching and coaching position as requested.

The assistant superintendent position is new for the area, and Supt. Vernon Exner stated that "The board has been trying for some time to convince Mr.

4-Wheel Rodeo Set At Ketchum

KETCHUM — Committees have been named for the 1970 4-Wheel Drive rodeo to be sponsored by the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce Sept. 5 through 7.

The rodeo has been scheduled to take the place of the cancelled wagon days and several reservations for entries have already been made.

Committee appointments include Rusty Kendricks, Elde-Away-Motel, official registrar; Dick Snyder, First Security Bank, finance; Max Potter, Sun Valley Motors and John Sabala, Sabala Cleaners, co-chairman of the "combined rodeo"; Ken Brown, KOSB Chairman, and Kent Prandsen and George Fritz, publicity. Mr. Sabala and Mr. Potter will lay out the cross country run.

Last School Events Told At Richfield

RICHFIELD — Closing activities for the Richfield school system are announced by Supt. Neil Anderson.

Baccalaureate will be at 2 p. m. May 17, with Vern Nelson, Gooding, giving the sermon. He is former Richfield LDS Bishop and manager of the Bank of Idaho, Richfield Branch.

High school commencement will be at 8 p. m. May 19. The speaker will be Louis Babb, adjutant general of the American Legion, Boise.

Eighth grade graduation exercises will be at 8 p. m. May 18 at the high school auditorium. The program will be presented by the class under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. W. T. Flavel.

Graduation parties will be held at 5 p. m. on school May 21, and report cards will be given out May 22. Final day of school. High school students will celebrate the final day with a picnic and swimming party at Banbury.

Richfield schools are expected to open for the Fall term on Aug. 4.

Shoshone Sets School Budget

SHOSHONE — The school budget for 1970-71 school year will be approved at the School Board meeting to be held at 8 p. m. Monday at the high school building.

Proposed at $290,027, the budget if approved, will be $172 more than last year.

Revenues for the budget include $118,150 from the district's taxes received for maintenance and operation; $7,500 from inventory; $90,000 from county apportionment under foundation program; $120,818 from the state apportionment under foundation program; $3,700 from state apportionment emergency fee program; and

Drawing Set

FAIRFIELD — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Fairfield at the high school gymnasium from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. May 13.

Mrs. Lee Barron states that the quota will be 75 units and that 25 units of blood need to be replaced. This blood has been used for local residents since the last drawing. All residents are urged to donate blood.

Road Work Resumes In Camas

FAIRFIELD — Construction resumed this week on the portion of Highway 68 between Fairfield and Corral. Western Construction Co., Boise, has the contract to complete the road.

Last fall nine new bridges and many culverts were installed on the road by Neilson-Miller, Twin Falls. Western Construction filled the borrow pits. New trucks are hauling more fill to bring the road up to specifications and the old pavement is being broken up. The new road will be higher than the old one.

The construction and completion of the road is expected to take all summer. The new road will be a welcome addition to the many people who use Highway 68 as a cut-off from Boise Valley to the east.

Plant Sale

CASTLEFORD — The Peal Plant Garden will hold their annual plant sale Saturday from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. at the Red Barrel in Castleford. They will have geraniums, annuals, and perennials as well as choice plants from their own gardens.

Graduation Rites Set For Murtaugh

MURTAUGH — Murtaugh High School baccalaureate services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the new gym with E. J. Morgan, Twin Falls, as the speaker.

Commencement exercises are scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday in the new gym. State Sen. Richard High, Twin Falls, will speak. Earl Wright, J. member of the school board of trustees, will be the speaker at graduation services for the eighth grade. This event will be held at 8 p. m. Monday, also in the high school auditorium.

Mothers of the graduating students will prepare and serve the senior breakfast Wednesday morning in the lunchroom. The 17 members of the class of 1970 will board a school bus at noon Wednesday for a trip which will take them on a planned tour of San Francisco. They will be accompanied by Supt. and Mrs. Florin Hulse and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hunter. Mr. Hunter is the Vocational Agriculture instructor at Murtaugh High School.

The students who have worked long and hard at various fund-raising projects to make enough money for this trip are expected to return home on May 17.

The last day of school will be May 20 when a variety of activities are planned.

The first four grades will have a picnic at the High School. This will be on the lawn or in the lunchroom as the weather dictates.

Attend Meet, Skip Lunch

The Twin Falls County Mental Health Association will hold a meeting today that anybody wishing to hear the speakers and panel discussion on youth Saturday noon at the Rogerson Hotel need not attend the luncheon, which starts at noon.

Admission is free for the panel discussion and speaker, which starts at 12:30 in the Roundup Room. The luncheon will cost $2.50, but anyone is free to come at 12:45 without charge, according to Larry Mack, association president.

Banquet Set

BLISS — The Junior-Senior class banquet will be held at 7 p. m. May 10 at the Oxbow Cafe, Bliss.

Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho, Thursday, May 7, 1970

T.F. County To Have Four Primary Contests

Candidate filing deadline Thursday night left Twin Falls County voters with only four contests to settle in the Aug. 4 Primary election.

Late filings Thursday included the petition of Wendell C. Cannon, Blaine, seeking nomination on the Democratic ticket for the office of first district county commissioner. This office is being vacated by Morris W. Carlson, Filer. Heber Loughmiller, incumbent third district commissioner also filed late Thursday.

Mr. Cannon will oppose Ed Liernan for the Democratic nomination while the same office is contested on the Republican ticket by Merle Leonard, Filer, and Marion Ambrose, Buhl.

Incumbents, County Clerk Harold Lancaster and Treasurer Ruth K. Jones, Democrats to port have a slate of candidates for the legislative offices with the exception of R. Les Williamson, seeking nomination as Representative in District 23.

Improvement Project Begins On Ketchum Telephone Cables

KETCHUM — With June 1 set as project completion date, an $85,000 improvement program began this week for Ketchum by the Mountain State Telephone Co. The improvement is part of an overall $200,000 modernization plan for the local telephone plant.

W. U. House, manager, said the project was planned last October, when the Ketchum City Council passed a resolution to help in any way possible when the work began.

Lee Barron, Camas, Seeks State Post

FAIRFIELD — Lee Barron has announced that he has filed for the office of state senator from District 23 on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Barron, 32, is presently serving as Vice Chairman of the National Young Republican Federation. He is past state chairman of the Idaho Young Republican League and the past president of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce. He was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1960 with a degree in geological engineering. He is a 32nd Degree Mason.

Barron stated the people of District 23 are being denied an efficient voice in decisions affecting the quality of their wildlife management and water resources, as well as their tax rates, schools and roads. He feels that we need new solutions to problems that are growing critical through neglect.

"As a businessman-rancher, avid sportsman, primitive area enthusiast and proven conservative, I will bring a fresh, unbiased point of view to the office of State Senator. I refuse to believe that the problems of this district cannot be solved; it is time that District 23 was properly represented."

Barron stated that "As a working conservative in the mainstream of Idaho politics, I would actively co-ordinate the efforts of the people in District 23 in their striving for a stronger, better life. The determination of our own destiny, it would be my ambition to enlist the active participation of these organizations and individuals promoting agriculture, business growth, church, youth and civic interests in the district."

Quota Is Exceeded In Camas

FAIRFIELD — Camas County has again exceeded the quota in the 1970 Crusade of the American Cancer Society, according to an official tally report made by Mrs. William Stewart, Crusade Chairman.

The goal for the county was $400 and contributions amounted to $468.10.

Camas County had the highest per capita contribution in the nation in 1969 with .88 per capita. The county has also led in prior years. Mrs. Glenn Gill, county commander, and Mrs. Stewart stated that the residents of Camas County are to be commended for their generous contributions.

Meet Slated

KING HILL — The King Hill Grange will host the spring meeting of the Elmore county Pomona Grange Tuesday.

The men of the Grange will be in charge of the dinner in honor of Mother's Day. They ask the women to bring a salad and dessert. The fifth degree team will put on the degree for candidates from both King Hill and Marionville Granges.

Tourism Seminar Set At Sun Valley June 1

SUN VALLEY — Langhorne Washburn, director of the United States Travel Service, has accepted the invitation of Idaho's Sen. Les B. Jordan and Cong. Orval Hansen to keynote the tourism seminar here June 1.

This is the first annual Congressional Tourism Seminar and is being conducted by Idaho legislators to assist Idaho in the tourist and travel industries in promotion of Idaho as a tourist area and in providing maximum service to the traveler.

The Idaho Congressional delegates hailed the acceptance of their invitation by Mr. Washburn as a strong indication the U.S. Travel Service is aware of and interested in Idaho's potential in the travel and tourism industry.

Already, Sen. Jordan said Tourism ranks among the three major industries of Idaho.

The one-day seminar will include a discussion on promoting Idaho as a national and international base with emphasis on the state's singular characteristics and attractions. Growth of the state and the City of Boise will be items discussed.

Tour Held

The second in a series of five weekly tours was held Thursday evening for Twin Falls City Council members at which time the Oregon Invention Show City water system.

Pumping equipment which brings the water from Snake River Canyon and then it is piped into the distribution system was inspected and discussed.

Also on the agenda was a visit to the Snake River Canyon and then it is piped into the distribution system was inspected and discussed.

Knicks Would Happily Trade Home Court Edge For One Healthy Reed

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knickerbockers have the home court advantage for the final game of the National Basketball Association's championship series Friday night, but they'd gladly surrender it for a healthy Willis Reed.

Weird Passed Ball Helps Pirates Win

HOUSTON (UPI)—Al Oliver singled home the go-ahead run in the eighth inning and two more runs scored on a passed ball when reserve catcher Meety Martinez was hit by a bat in the weird inning, giving the Pittsburgh Pirates a 9-5 victory over the Houston Astros Thursday night.

The victory broke the Pirates' seven-game losing streak. Oliver's single snapped a 5-1 tie and scored John Jeter, pinch-runner for Jose Pagan. Pagan walked off loser Jim Bouton to lead off the eighth and moved to second on a sacrifice by Fred Pate.

After Oliver's hit, southpaw Jack Di Lauro replaced Bouton and walked Willie Stargell, who had hit a three-run homer in the first inning. Then Fred Gladding relieved and manager Harry Walker brought in Martinez to replace catcher John Edwards.

Gladding pitched the runners to second and third and walked Bob Robertson to load the bases. Then he threw another wild pitch past Martinez, normally a shortstop, and Oliver scored.

Richie Helmer swung on the next pitch and hit Martinez on the left wrist with his bat. The ball bounced toward the Astro dugout and two runs scored before Gladding could retrieve it.

Box score for Pirates vs. Astros. Includes batting averages, runs, hits, errors, and fielding percentages for both teams.

Reds 5, Cubs 2
CHICAGO (UPI)—Rookie Bernie Carbo's seventh-inning homer with Lee May on base sparked the Cincinnati Reds to a three-run inning Thursday and ran their winning streak to eight games with a 5-2 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Carbo's drive, his fifth homer of the season, came after May's single and started pitcher Joe Decker on his way out of the game.

Box score for Reds vs. Cubs. Includes batting averages, runs, hits, errors, and fielding percentages for both teams.

Pure limestone water. Part of the Beam family art for 175 years.

Baker Beam and Booker are out on Beam's own fresh-water lake, collecting a water sample. Sweet, soft, and iron-free, it's as much a part of the Beam formula as the measure of choice grains. Together, Booker and Baker represent the sixth generation of the only Kentucky family that's made the same Bourbon since 1795.

So when you sip Jim Beam, savor its quality and its light taste, that's what we mean when we say it's a 175-year-old family art.

Reed, the NBA's most valuable player, sat out the Knicks' 135-113 loss to the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night with a severely bruised right hip and white bruise on his forehead. He is expected to return to action for the finale, it is doubtful if he can perform up to par.

The odds-makers, perhaps influenced by the Knicks' amazing comeback victory in the fifth game after Reed was injured or maybe swayed by the "power" of the diehard Knickerbockers who fill Madison Square Garden, have established the game as a toss-up in the early betting line. However, if the Knicks are forced to play without Reed or if he cannot perform up to his capabilities, common sense dictates the Lakers is the favorite.

The reason is mainly the awesome presence of Wilt Chamberlain, whose giant 7-foot-1, 280-pound frame made the Knicks look like high school boys Wednesday night. Without Reed around to muscle him, Chamberlain completely dominated the sixth game with 45 points and 27 rebounds. I was Wilt's greatest effort in some time, and it must have conjured up visions among the spectators at the Los Angeles Forum and those watching the game on nationwide television of just how "tough" things must have been for Chamberlain during his high school and college days.

Chamberlain, of course, is not the only member of the Lakers who he is the key figure, Jerry West, after all, will likely get his 30 points anyway. He has bettered 30 in every game but one so far.

"We need a strong guy like Willis who can stop Chamberlain from going to the basket," says Dave DeBusschere of the Knicks. "We are an ordinary team without Willis." "There's no doubt both teams will be emotionally ready for Friday night's contest. It means a lot to both teams. The Lakers have reached the finals in seven of the last nine years but have come away champions every time.

The Knicks have never won a championship and are in the finals for the first time since 1953. "I think we should win one," says West, who has played on all seven near-misses. "I don't think it's owed us, but it has been frustrating for us. I've sniffled a lot of times, but it's always jerked away. Still, as much as the Lakers want it, they admit it would take some of the enjoyment away if they won it while Reed was sitting on the bench."

Expos 15, Giants 8

Pure limestone water. Part of the Beam family art for 175 years.

Baker Beam and Booker are out on Beam's own fresh-water lake, collecting a water sample. Sweet, soft, and iron-free, it's as much a part of the Beam formula as the measure of choice grains. Together, Booker and Baker represent the sixth generation of the only Kentucky family that's made the same Bourbon since 1795.

So when you sip Jim Beam, savor its quality and its light taste, that's what we mean when we say it's a 175-year-old family art.

Beman Fires 68 Despite Wind Storm For Lead In Houston Tournament

HOUSTON (UPI) — Former Amateur Champion Deane Beman fought gusty winds and tight pin placements Thursday for a three-under-par 68 to take the first round lead in the Houston Champions International that featured a return bid for glory by 37-year-old Ben Hogan.

Beman, who at 32 has won one of the four major professional tournaments, held a one-stroke lead over Bert Green and Bruce Crampton. Two strokes back at 70 were Lee Trevino, Gene Littler, Tommy Aaron, Johnny Pott, Dale Douglass and Dave Hill.

Hogan, making his first tournament appearance in three years, was even par at 71 over the 7,183-yard, par 35-71 Cypress Creek course at the Champions Golf Club. Hogan so cool in his heyday that the Scots called him the "Wee Wee" — admitted he was nervous in his comeback.

With the winds gusting to 25 miles an hour through the fairways, Beman guided his iron shots to hit 17 of 18 greens in regulation. He sank 12-foot birdie putts on the first and fifth holes, a four-footer on No. 8 and a 30-footer on No. 11.

His only bogey was on the treacherous 14th hole, where he three-putted from "about 100 feet."

While Beman was keeping his game together over the rugged back nine, his challengers were falling by the wayside one by one. First it was Greene, who was three under through 16, but bogeyed.

Then Pott came to 18 three under, socked his tee shot into the wind and wound up behind a tree with an unplayable lie and took a double bogey. Next Crampton came charging into No. 14 three under par but he hit his second shot into the water and he took a bogey.

Crampton never made up that stroke. It was the same for Hill, Douglass, Littler, Trevino, Julius Boros, Gary Player, Miller Barber and Homero Blancas.

Boros, two under until he reached 14, finished at even par with Hogan, Art Wall, Don Bies and amateur Bruce Ashworth. Player, one of the favorites, faded from two under par at 14 to a one-over 72. So did Blancas and Barber.

"Fourteen was playing long and tough," Crampton said. "I hit a good shot, but it carried left to the water."

"The wind was strong," Crampton said. "On 18, I was trying to wait for the strong gusts to die down. I waited and waited and waited. By the time I hit my second shot, it died down. If it hadn't, I couldn't have reached the green."

"The flag was lighter than in the Open last year," he said, referring to the U.S. Open held at Champions in 1969. "The flag on 12 was on the left rear of the green. You have to carry the water in a down wind and it's hard to judge the wind blocked by the trees."

While the back nine was taking its toll, the aging Hogan refused to give an inch. With the biggest gallery among the 10,000 fans following him, he had slipped to a two-over 38 on the front side and was determined to make it up.

He did. He ran in five-foot birdie putts on both the 16th and the par-3 16th holes and managed pars on the others.

On the front side, he topped two shots and hit a tree on No. 6 for a bogey. He three-putted No. 8 from 35 feet and No. 9 from 25 feet, but had a little room for error because of a four-foot birdie putt on No. 5.

Bruins Move To Within One Win For Title

BOSTON (UPI) — Unsung winger Wayne Cashman scored two goals Thursday night while leading the Boston Bruins to within one game of their first Stanley Cup championship in 29 years in a record ninth straight victory, a 4-1 decision over the St. Louis Blues.

Veteran linemate John Bucyk and John McKenzie joined Cashman in the scoring column as the Bruins raced to a 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven finals and set up a chance for their second successive series sweep when the playoffs resume at Boston Garden on Sunday afternoon.

Not even aging Glenn Hall, a veteran of over 100 playoff games, could cool off the streaking Bruins as Boston trailed the eight-seeded Blues in the game before jumping on top with two goals, exactly five minutes apart.

Hall and record setting Bruin goalie Gerry Cheevers both managed second period shut-outs and Cashman put the game away with his fourth and fifth-playoff goals in the final round.

The triumph was Boston's ninth in succession in the current playoffs and broke a record of eight straight playoff victories which six teams had shared.

Warren Again Injured In Indy Mishap

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Rookie Bentley Warren escaped harm Thursday when his car lost a wheel at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Warren later passed his "500" rookie drivers test in the same machine but with a new wheel.

Warren, from West Gloucester, Mass., sustained burns Tuesday when his car spun and the radiator cap popped off.

Mack Donohue, Media, Pa., turned the fastest lap of the month 168.9 miles per hour, and Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., was close behind with 168.5 in his first appearance this year at the Speedway.

Dan Gurney, Santa Ana, Calif., clipped off a 168.5 lap, and three-time "500" king A.J. Foyt was clocked at 168.2.

It was the first time this month that anyone had exceeded 168 m.p.h.

Sam Posey, Sharon, Conn., also passed the final phase of his rookie test, bringing to 11 the total of newcomers okayed for time trials and the Memorial Day race itself.

Rookie Tony Adamowicz, Torrance, Calif., passed the 145 m.p.h. phase of his test.

Workouts Aren't Hurting Shannon

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Mike Shannon, St. Louis Cardinal third baseman, has not suffered any adverse effects from workouts following his bout with a kidney ailment, his doctor, Stan London, reported Thursday.

London said, "He will continue to have daily workouts and will be examined periodically."

Shannon was hospitalized during spring training and the early part of the season and has been working out for little more than a week.

Frazier-Urtain Match Suggested

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Gainford, former manager of Sugar Ray Robinson and now the U.S. representative of Spanish heavyweight Manuel "Bar" Urtain, said Thursday he has suggested a Joe Frazier-Urtain world heavyweight title match to Madison Square Garden and the Garden was interested.

"I'll speak to the Garden about this fight and they are ready," Gainford said. "Now I will go to Spain and get Urtain and his manager and bring them to New York to work out the details of the match. Of course, nothing has been signed yet."

Track Meet

The Class A-1 and A-2 regional track and field championships will be run at 6 p.m. Friday at Bruin Stadium in Twin Falls.

The top two in each event will qualify to compete in the state championships, slated in Twin Falls next Friday and Saturday.

Al Kaline Is Omitted On All-Star List

DETROIT (UPI) — The first flaw has appeared in the balloting for the 1970 All-Star teams.

Al Kaline, leading hitter of the Detroit Tiger with a .344 average, was omitted from the list of those nominated for consideration by the fans who will be voting for the first time in years.

"Something is wrong," agreed Mayo-Smith, manager of the Tigers. "He should be on there. Somebody goofed up somewhere."

Texas Sweeps A-M To Win Loop Title

AUSTIN, Texn (UPI) — Burt Hooton held Texas A&M to four hits Thursday in the second game of a doubleheader to give third-round Texas an 8-0 win and its third straight Southwest Conference baseball championship.

The Aggies blasted Texas ace James Street, the starting quarterback on the Longhorns' national championship football team, in the first game 7-5 to keep A&M alive briefly in the SWC race.

Burt Hooton stopped the Aggies in the nightcap, allowing only two hits until he gave up two straight singles in the ninth. He then got Billy Hodges to hit into a double play to get out of trouble.

The Aggies needed a sweep of the three game series to win the SWC championship.

Webb Is First Pro Black Grid Coach

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former New York Giants back Allan Webb became the first Negro coach in professional football history Thursday when he was elevated to that position from his assistant coaching job with the Long Island Bulls of the Atlantic Coast Football League.

Webb, who played both offensive and defensive back for the National Football League — Giants — from 1961 through 1969, has been in charge of the Bulls' offensive backfield for the past three years.

He succeeds Ed Kolman and Harry Wright, who served as co-head coaches of the Bulls for three seasons.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices were in retreat on the New York Stock Exchange Friday, but activity slowed to a walk as traders and investors apparently were paying more attention to antiwar demonstrations on Wall Street than to gloomy developments inside.

As trading passed the halfway mark, the S&P 500 marketwide indicator showed a loss of 0.70 per cent on 1,446 issues on the tape. Of these, 797 declined and 371 advanced.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips was at 879.23.

A three-hour turnover of 4,280,000 shares, compared with 6,090,000 shares at a comparable period Thursday.

Issues on most active lists included McDonald Corp. down 1 1/2 to $17.75, Teller Corp. off to an 85.00 share price, 10 percent lower on $70 shares, General Telephone unchanged on 50.90 shares, and American Telephone 1/2 lower on 50.60 shares.

Some stocks down a point or more were Walt Disney 4/8, Memorex 1/8, Polaroid 2/8, Keesee 3/8, American Research 1/8, Burroughs 2 1/8, IBM 2/8, Motorola 1/8, National Cash Register 2/8, Du Pont 1/8, and Eastman Kodak 1/8.

Motors and steels were fractionally mixed.

let outrageous fortune work its will or to try to conquer with another suit, will soon be known. I'll try a spade.

After this brief soliloquy, Hamlet placed the queen of spades on the table.

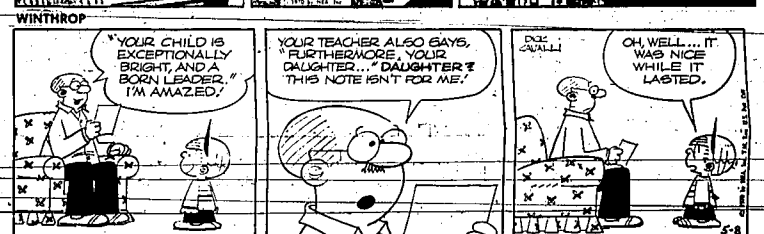

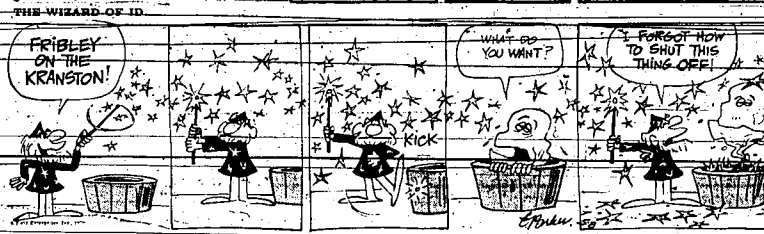

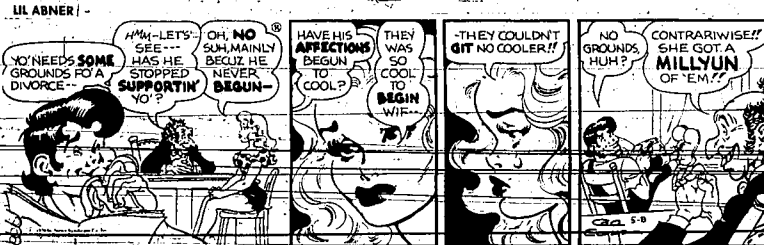

Polonius played dummy's king, Horatio, sitting North, smiled happily when the king held but the smile was wasted on Polonius. He could see game and rubber going to the place from which there is no return.

He drew trumps, left the 10 of clubs and let it ride. Yorick won with the king and, for want of anything better to do, led back a spade.

Polonius could play either of his spades but Hamlet took his ace and 10.

The rubber was still going on and Hamlet decided that maybe nothing was rotten in the State of Denmark after all.

The bridge game at Elsinore was in full swing. Hamlet—the melancholy Dane—was playing well and holding bed-wards as usual.

His 10-point hand in the West seat looked mighty good to him and he put in a spade overall, only to find his opponents in another game.

He opened the jack of diamonds. Polonius played a dummy's king and poor Yorick, sitting East, signaled come-on-by-playing the six.

Polonius led the queen of hearts for a finesse and Hamlet was on lead with the king.

"To shift or not to shift, that is the question. For whether 'tis better in the mind to sit back safely and

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market cannot be expected to rally until there is some improvement in the bond market, Argus Research Corp. observes. Many top quality stocks are available now at what later will seem bargain prices. However, while the Cambodian operation has not yet significantly changed the economic outlook, investors should proceed with the same caution until it can be determined whether the United States "Company" is a legitimate business or a front for the CIA.

Even for high-tax-bracket accounts in which long-term gains are a main objective, some familiarity with short-term trading techniques is advisable, Gould's Poston says. Since no one can keep accumulating every bargain that is flushed into the market while a base is forming, "Some selling into preliminary rallies is necessary to provide cash for employment wherever there are secondary setbacks.

Sometimes It's Worth While Feeling Guilty

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—I woke up one morning this week and discovered that I wasn't guilty about anything. So I began to feel guilty about not feeling guilty.

I picked up the telephone and dialed the local "Dial-A-Guilt" number, a recording sponsored by the Greater Guilt Foundation.

"Anytime you run low on individual guilt feelings, you can dial this number and our recording will suggest a group guilt that you can share in."

The group guilt special for that day was misstatement of the Indians. For my purposes, it didn't mean a thing.

Feels Unbrazed Not Guilt
I happen to have a few Indian blood myself. (One of my great-grandfathers was rumored to have been the illegitimate son of Running Buck, a Navajo rug salesman.) Ergo, the misstatement of the Indians, as I feel unbrazed rather than guilt.

Thus wroth, I walked out into the springtime. The sun was shining. Birds were tweeting and tweets were being heard. Brambles were overrunning the lawn.

I loaded my sprayer with 10-2-7 and began spraying the feckless weeds. When my wife appeared on the back porch,

3 Demos File For Governor

BOISE (UPI)—Three petitions of candidacy were filed in the Idaho secretary of state's office Wednesday for Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Lloyd Anderson, Boise, and Vernon Ravenscroft, Tullie, filed petitions and paid the $24 fee for filing.

Incumbent Attorney General Robert T. Felton, Moscow, filed a petition for a seat on the state supreme court. Incumbent superintendent of public instruction D.F. Engokling, a Democrat.

Robert T. Felton, Moscow, filed a petition for a seat on the state supreme court. Incumbent superintendent of public instruction D.F. Engokling, a Democrat.

On this day in history:

In 1841 Spanish explorer Hernandez de Soto discovered the Mississippi River.

In 1867 George Selden of Rochester, N.Y., was granted the first patent for an automobile.

In 1946 President Truman officially announced VE Day in honor of the end of World War II in Europe.

In 1964 President Truman became the first former chief executive to deliver a regular session of the Senate.

A thought for the day—President Truman, before the atomic bomb was dropped on Japan, said "The force from which the sun draws its power has been loosed and that those who brought war to the Far East."

Think Tank Official Advises 'Economic Turf' For Negroes

by ARNOLD H. SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A fund Corp. official says American Negroes badly need an "economic turf" of their own. He suggests that the government spend $1 billion to set up 100,000 black jobs into the auto service station business.

Anthony H. Pascual, a senior staff analyst of the West Coast "think tank" company, made the proposal in the spring issue of the "Public Interest," a quarterly magazine devoted to scholarly examination of social problems.

Pascual explains the term "turf" as "a niche dominance of certain industries," such as "Italians" in construction and produce, Jews in clothing and entertainment, the "Irish" in government and public service.

He does not suggest that members of these groups be limited to their "turf," but contends that minority groups on the way up have concentrated in particular types of business before moving into the larger economy.

Pascual says there are a number of advantages to the formation of an economic turf for Negroes besides the promotion of black capitalism.

Dominance of an industry by a minority eases entry into the job by its youth and provides work at large as income of the group as the principal supplier of a service or commodity needed by society, he says.

Pascual's proposal is not only a simple, quick solution to the nation's racial problems. Rather, it is aimed at seeking the best way to solve one of the problems—the low level of Negro participation in ownership and management of American business and the current notion that the nation will be better off if blacks have "a piece of the action" in the economy.

Pascual examines a number of industries and fields in which Negroes might concentrate such as athletics, entertainment, restaurants, government services and others. He rejects them as too limited, already occupied by other ethnic groups or lacking enough status to command public respect.

But the gasoline-service-station industry, he says, fills the need for size (220,000 stations employing 600,000 persons—two cost for entry on average investment of 6,000 by independent operators), relatively little training required and a firm place in the public consciousness as a needed service.

He says the natural economic progression of such a program would lead blacks into other automotive lines—parts dealers, new car sales, rental agencies and car washes.

JANQUIGLEY JOY BARINAGA LISA KINYON

3 Girls Will Be Speakers At Castleford Commencement

CASTLEFORD — Jan Quigley, Joy Barinaga and Lisa Kinyon have been named as the three student speakers at the Castleford High School class of 1970 commencement at 8 p.m. May 18, reports Supt. Floyd Bowers.

Miss Quigley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Quigley, Castleford, has held class offices, been FHA reporter and treasurer, student body secretary, drill team co-captain and cheerleader.

She received the Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow Award, belongs to the band, Pep band, girls chorus and sextet, G Club and Pep Club. Besides working on the annual and school paper staffs, she participated in track, All-School play and was voted "Miss Manners" by the faculty in her junior year.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barinaga, Miss Barinaga was district FHA president and vice president of the local chapter. She was class secretary her sophomore and junior years, belonged to the drill team, Pep Club and G Club. In addition to the annual and paper staffs, she served in the Student Council. She was runner-up in the Make It Yourself With Wool contest.

News Of Record

BLAINE COUNTY State Police Blotter
Two juveniles from Blaine county were issued traffic citations following a one-car smashup on Highway 93, Saturday about two miles south of Bellevue.

Officer Gene Bolton, who answered the call about 3 a.m. said a 1970 Ford, owned by the Ford Motor Co., Dearborn, Mich., and driven by Martin Novak, 13, Sun Valley, went out of control while northbound, struck a delineator post, traveled across the highway and tore out 100 feet of fence before flipping over. The fence was owned by Melvin Swanson, Bellevue.

Novak and his passenger, R. Kim Werry, 16, Ketchum, suffered minor injuries but did not require hospitalization. The car was demolished. Novak was cited for driving without a drivers license and Werry for permitting a minor to drive.

Rattler Rodeo

CLAIREMONT, Tex. (UPI) — Hundreds of Texas lawofficers, pistols in hand, fanned out across the Texas caprock foothills Thursday in a competitive, rattlesnake shoot. Final score: Lawmen 178, Rattlers 0. It was the 22nd annual Caprock Peace officers Rattlesnake Rodeo. Ten points were awarded for plugging a live rattler in the head or within two inches of the tip of its nose. A hit anywhere else earned five points.

Winners Told

Magic Valley Duplicate Bridge clubs met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. M. Wycoff.

Winners were Mrs. Roy Hill and Mrs. Nicholas Bradie, first; Mrs. Gene Carpenter and Mrs. J. S. Faldhusen, second; Mrs. I. M. Hull and Mrs. R. M. Peterson and Mrs. G. R. Tuokko, third; and Mrs. J. B. Hied for Best, secretary. Hurst is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hurst, Declo.

TERRILL HURST

Will serve as president of the Declo High School student body for 1970-71. He will be assisted by Steve Matthews, vice president, and Roxanne Behn, secretary. Hurst is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hurst, Declo.

Ideal Stingerette Is Named

Declo — Carolyn Zollinger was selected as the Ideal Stingerette at the Spring Review presented by the Declo High School Drill team. Miss Zollinger, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gayne Zollinger, Declo, was selected by the girls. New captain for the coming year will be Anita Engstrom, who received the whistle from Carolyn Zollinger, retiring captain.

GRADUATES
ALBION — Mr. and Mrs. Keith Amende and daughters attended graduation exercises at Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, where their daughter, Sharon, was graduated.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's capital should begin planning for a fourth airport, according to Federal Aviation Administrator John H. Shaffer. Nations, Exiles and Friendship airports, which serve the metropolitan area, will not be enough to handle the demands of the next decade, he told the Aviation Space Writers Association Thursday.

"Bits and Pieces" was the theme of the review which featured a special drill number by the senior girls, Jana Taylor, Wendy Jacobs, Karen Meade, Carolyn Zollinger and Jackie Ray. Mrs. Dale Swan, advisor, sang and participated in the number with the girls.

ATTENDANCE REPORT
OSAKA, Japan (UPI) — Attendance at the Expo '70 world fair passed 15 million Thursday, its 54th day, exhibition officials announced. Total attendance during the fair's six-month run is expected to exceed 50 million.

4-H Horse Gymkhana Set For Sunday

Young riders of Twin Falls County 4-H Horse Clubs will hold a county-wide Gymkhana beginning at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at Frontier Field.

All young people and adults interested in taking part in the various competitive events, or who wish to attend as spectators, are invited.

A dozen classes will be held with entry fees of $1 per event. There will be three classes in youth showmanship for horses at halter. Other classes include western riding and western pleasure, all ages. There will be a trail class for all ages, western horsemanship for riders 14 years of age and under, riding class of all ages, western horsemanship for those 15 years and over, English pleasure, all ages, jumping, all ages and pole bending, all ages.

Ted Uhrig of the Sun Valley Stables will be judge with Bobby Jones, Ellar, as ring steward and Bill Groves, arena director.

Andy Anderson is county 4-H Horse Committee chairman and has arranged for the event. Entries will be received up to time of the various events.

First place trophies will be given in each event. Mr. Anderson said, and merchandise prizes will go to second and third place winners.

Lunch will be available at the grounds and all proceeds from the lunch concession will go to the South Central 4-H summer camp building fund.

In charge of entries are Mrs. Lee Sharp, Mrs. Andy Anderson and Mrs. Rex Reed. Timers for competitive events will be Ken Kramer and Mrs. Lee Reinstein.

Buhl Youth State's Top FFA Member

BUHL — Armand Eckert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Eckert, Buhl, is Idaho's Star Farmer, the highest honor a FFA member can receive on the state level.

Armand received the award last month at the state FFA conference in Shelley. Only one FFA member each year can receive the honor.

Armand, a graduate of the Buhl High School, is a student at College of Southern Idaho, but still an active member of the Buhl FFA Chapter.

He received as the top state FFA member, a $200 cash award, a wrist watch, State Star Farmer plaque and a trophy that will be on display in the Buhl High School.

Armand's farming program, supervised by Russell Hawks, Buhl vo-ag instructor, consists of beef, corn, beans and wheat in partnership with his father on 2,500 acres of land.

Cover

This week's color photo shows Armand Eckert, Buhl, and his trophies and awards he received for being Idaho's top FFA member.

Asparagus Hunters Warned

These warm spring days bring out the asparagus hunters. They are those you see along roadways in barrow pits along fence lines or ditch banks carrying paper sacks.

Asparagus can be found most everywhere in this area, but those planning on picking the green shoots this weekend are reminded that precaution is needed.

Most farmers have their ditch banks and fencelines sprayed with herbicides to kill the weeds. However, some of the herbicides, especially 2,4-D, which is commonly used by most farmers, do no harm to the asparagus.

Don Youtz, Twin Falls County agent, says in other areas asparagus growers use 2,4-D in their asparagus patches all the time, so it is not harmful. However, the asparagus must be washed thoroughly before consumed.

Some farmers use insecticides to control some insects in this area, so it is a good idea to check with the farmer first before picking the asparagus on his farm.

He adds that if the grass, crops, weeds, etc., look healthy, there is a possibility that no harmful herbicides were used.

But to be on the safe side, ask permission and always wash the green shoots.

Postponed Livestock Clinics Continuing

HAZELTON — The FFA livestock judging event at the Brooks Angus Ranch, Hazelton, has been postponed until Tuesday afternoon, contest officials state.

The event was scheduled for this week, but because of the bad weather, the area-wide contest has been rescheduled for Tuesday, beginning at 2 p.m.

The FFA members from most all Magic Valley chapters will judge beef, sheep and swine at the Brooks ranch.

The livestock clinics for local 4-H leaders, junior leaders and parents as well as 4-H'ers are progressing well, according to officials.

Coordinating the clinics, which go into details on beef, sheep, swine and dairy, are Prof. Herschel Boydston, head of agricultural department,

College of Southern Idaho, and Olan (Ole) Genn, Twin Falls County 4-H agent.

The two officials state the enthusiasm for the schools by leaders and parents has been great and such items as selection, care of the animal, feeding of the animal, what size of animal is best what equipment is needed, etc., are discussed in detail by well-qualified instructors.

The next beef clinic will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the CSI vocational building, Kimberly Road, and the instructor will be Mr. Boydston.

Training Meets Held On 4-H

SHOSHONE — Up-to-date facts of 4-H were emphasized to the Lincoln, Carnas and Blaine County 4-H leaders at special training meetings in the three counties the past week, reports Mrs. Jay Fowles, tri-county extension home agent.

Purpose of the meetings was to acquaint new leaders with the program and bring experiences valuable to all to their attention. Major emphasis was placed on philosophy of 4-H work, organization problems, demonstrations, project requirements, and methods of teaching subject matter.

Assisting Mrs. Fowles in Lincoln county were V. C. Ross, who discussed with the leaders ways of involving club members in demonstrations and hints on giving good demonstrations. Gene Kising gave a sample demonstration. Leaders were guests of Sears Roebuck Foundation at a luncheon at the Manhattan cafe.

In Carnas county, Mr. Olant Beal assisted with the demonstration section, with sample demonstrations given by Luelda Osborn and Roxanne Gaskill. Luncheon was served at the Hot Lunch Room, courtesy of Sears Roebuck Foundation.

Jean Mizer assisted Mrs. Fowles in Blaine county, and sample demonstrations were presented by Julie Doerr. Idaho Power hosted the luncheon at the Hiawatha Hotel.

Water For Irrigation Excellent

Water users, in general, in Southern Idaho can expect above normal flow during the months of May and June because of the recent heavy snow, according to Morlan Nelson, Boise, SCS state snow survey leader.

Mr. Nelson said in a revised water forecast for this area that several snow courses on the streams south of Twin Falls now have the maximum snow cover than has ever been reported for any month of the year.

Storms during the latter part of April deposited heavy snow on the headwaters of the Owyhee and Salmon Falls Creek drainages. Snow melt has been delayed, Mr. Nelson said.

Practically all high elevation courses report more water content than was measured on April 1. This has resulted in very slow stream flow for the month of April.

The combination of increased snow pack and delayed melt means more water will have to come down. Less time and the percentage of stream flow have taken a significant jump, varying from nine to over 20 per cent.

Soil moisture stations still indicate below normal in higher elevations. However, the heavy snow fall during April has more than made up for this deficiency.

Mr. Nelson said the forecast for the April through September season has been raised slightly, but the amount of water to flow from May through September period has increased sharply.

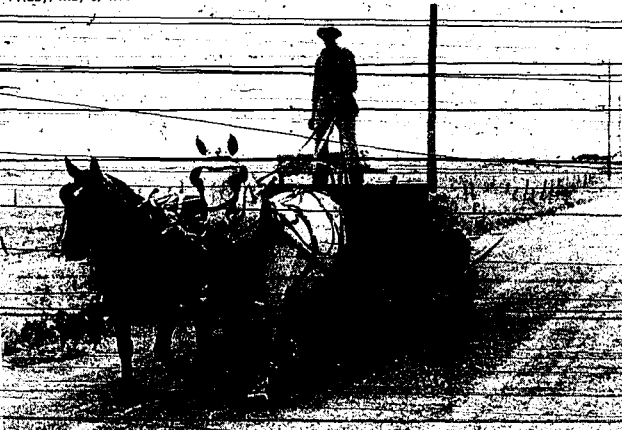

Salmon Falls Creek is forecast to flow 80,000 acre feet for the May through September period. This is 173 per cent of normal. The inflow to the Oakley reservoir is forecast to be 28,000 acre feet, or 178 per cent of normal for the May through September period.

Magic Reservoir inflow on the Big Wood River is for 230,000 acre feet, or 125 per cent of normal. The Little Wood River above High Five Creek is forecast to flow 70,000 acre feet during the same period.

8th Grade Seniors Honored

WENDELL — Members of the senior and eighth grade graduating classes of the Wendell schools were honored at a recent meeting of the Orchard Valley Grange.

Mrs. Frank Orth served as mistress of ceremonies and introduced exchange students Bill Faris, Brazil, and Fatima Aquirre, Chile. Faris and Miss Aquirre sang folk songs and presented native dances and showed slides of the countries. Mrs. Twila Hawks, Gooding, assisted them.

Glenns Ferry To Host Show

GLENN'S FERRY — Fair Acres Race Track at Glenns Ferry will be the site for the 12th annual Idaho-Oregon-Nevada-Appaloosa Horse Show to be held Aug. 21-23.

Northwest approved this year's show will include a Youth Show on the first day, followed by a full slate of halter, performance and race events on the final two days of the meet.

Appaloosa breeders and trainers in the three-state area have been invited to attend.

NAMED TO BOARD IDAHO FALLS — Stanton W. Frederick Sr., has been named to the Rogers Brothers Co. board of directors.

FAMILIAR SIGHT south of Wendell is this team and wagon used daily by Ray Ruby in hauling hay to his livestock. Ray has been using a team and wagon for many years in working his farm.

Levy Is Lowered

Directors of the American Falls Reservoir District No. 4 have reduced the levy for this fiscal year by 20 per cent.

John Barber, Buhl, president, said after a close study of all expenses, it was determined that expenses for this year in connection with the possible replacement of the American Falls dam would not be as high for the district. This means a reduction of $6,313 will be made in the levy for the 1970 fiscal year.

The area served by District one includes the areas served by the Twin Falls Canal Co., Northside Canal Co., Aberdeen-Springfield Canal Co., and a few smaller areas.

The board mentioned that if an emergency arose, the levy might be increased in some future year.

WORKSHOP HELD Members of the Dozen Duties 4-H Club held a workshop recently at Frontier Field.

They practiced for the 4-H Horse Show, slated for Sunday at Frontier Field.

Plant Only Inspected Bean Seed

BOISE — Planting of any bean seed not inspected and found free of hole bight diseases by Idaho Department of Agriculture inspectors is still prohibited, according to Agriculture Commissioner Stanley I. Trenhale.

Trenhale reminded all bean growers that the rules and regulations concerning bacterial diseases of beans continue to be in effect, having been readopted for four more years in 1969.

"These regulations apply to all areas of the state and to all bean seed, including those produced by the grower for his own use," Trenhale said. "These regulations require that all Idaho bean farmers plant only bean seed which carries a tag, issued by the state agriculture department or the Idaho Crop Improvement Association, certifying that the seed has met the qualifications for in-state planting."

These tags are of three types; the white tag, indicating that the bean seed has satisfactorily passed field and windrow inspection for bacterial diseases; the yellow tag, indicating that the seed has been tested by serology and/or greenhouse test and that the seed is apparently free of bacterial diseases and eligible for in-state planting; the blue tag, issued by the Idaho Crop Improvement Association and signifying that the seed is certified and has met the in-state seed planting requirements.

Lima, commercial pinto, commercial great northern, commercial red Mexican and commercial California pink varieties to be planted in Idaho which have been grown west of the Continental Divide and which have not been shipped east of the Divide may be exempt from field and windrow inspection requirements, provided they pass serology and/or greenhouse tests made from officially drawn samples.

Trenhale noted that a minimum of incidence of hole bight was found in inspected bean fields in 1969, indicating the effectiveness of the control program. He urged continued cooperation with the program in hopes that the state will be completely free from any infestation in 1970 and in future years.

Irrigation Research Workshop Set At Research Center For Water Engineers

KIMBERLY — USDA Irrigation engineers from throughout the U.S. will be at the Snake River Conservation Research Center, Kimberly, on Tuesday through Thursday. They will be attending a workshop sponsored by the Agricultural Research Service and the Soil Conservation Service.

The workshop will review the latest research and techniques being used in the design and operation of irrigation systems. The irrigation workshop will consist of five sessions. The first session covers border and furrow irrigation and pump back systems.

Another session will include discussions on automation of gated pipe surface and sprinkler irrigation systems. C. H. Pair, research center engineer will discuss trends in sprinkler irrigation. Tests on center pivot sprinkler systems in Imperial Valley and Colorado will be presented by other ARS engineers. Dr. R. A. Kohl, research center soil scientist, will discuss the influence of sprinkler irrigation on the environment inside the crop. Discussions on irrigation problems, water requirements and water management will be included in two other sessions. Water control, measurement and quality will be the last topic of discussion.

Research center agricultural engineer R. V. Worstell and Dr. D. L. Carter, soil scientist, will present some of their research findings from the Idaho area. The experiences gained from the workshop will provide these irrigation engineers with the most recent findings in irrigation research.

This workshop is one of several that have been conducted during the past few years. The workshop will bring together specialists from the ARS and ARS scientists and engineers conducting soil and water research. The ARS specialists develop technical guides that are used to provide technical services to soil conservation districts.

The workshop will conclude Thursday afternoon with a tour of the research center facilities and irrigation systems in southern Idaho.

Leaf Roll May Be Problem

BURLEY — Leaf roll may be of major concern this year to potato growers, states Gene Rinebold, Burley, area potato specialist.

He said periodically, Idaho has experienced a high intensity of leaf roll and 1970 is shaping up to be such a year. He said there are several indications to support his thought.

First, in 1969, green peach aphids were at all-time high in Idaho potato fields. This means there could have been extreme leaf roll spread last year.

Commercial one-year-out seed is probably very highly infected, he said. An indication of this comes from the federal-state inspection service which reports leaf roll net necrosis is more severe this year and is definite grade factor for fresh potatoes at both sending and receiving points.

Mr. Rinebold said the 1969-70 mild-winter favors the possibility for the green peach aphid to overwinter in the adult stage. Likewise, volunteer potatoes could be a bother. Thus the stage is set for both virus and possible high-aphid population this summer.

Potato growers can minimize possible losses due to leaf roll by planting only certified seed, use systemic insecticide such as dylanon in all commercial and seed potato fields and control all volunteer potatoes.

NFO Met

WENDELL — Gooding County NFO members and wives attended a dinner meeting recently at the Coffee Cup Cafe in Wendell.

Joe Doramus, NFO president, served as master of ceremonies. A short business meeting was held.

Another dinner meeting is being planned for May 22.

Demonstrations Highlight Meet

Demonstrations highlighted the recent meeting of the Twin Valley Saddle 4-H Club at the home of Mrs. Roy Jesser, leader.

Terry Bixler gave one on how to give a demonstration and Rusty Jesser talked on conservation.

The next meeting will be May 19 at the home of Linda Dancer.

Wattley, Meridian; Marilyn Hood, Meridian, and Maurice E. Johnson, Moscow, acting state 4-H leader. Miss Hood, Brown and Wattley are students at the University of Idaho and Miss Baird is a student at Idaho State University.

Carey Girl Comments On National 4-H Meet

CAREY — Barbara Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baird, Carey, returned recently from Washington, D.C., where she was one of four Idaho delegates to the 40th annual National 4-H Convention.

In discussing the conference, Miss Baird said the highlight was a ground-breaking ceremonies for expanding the National 4-H Center at the High of Washington. Sylvia Nixon, the president's daughter, led the official ceremony, marking the beginning of a $2 million construction project. Sharing the occasion with her was Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin, as well as other notables. Art and Jack Lambetter were masters of ceremony.

Miss Baird noted that another conference highlight was visiting Idaho Senator Len Jordan and Congressmen Orval Hansen and James McGuire. Delegates also were given a specially-conducted tour of the White House and other places of interest in the area.

Miss Baird participated in a discussion group concerning "Communicating as Humans." The group met daily during the week to review the facts, analyze situations and trends, consider implications for 4-H and then made specific recommendations to 4-H officials on how 4-H could further meet the needs of today's youth.

Some 350 4-H'ers representing the 50 states, Washington, D. C., Puerto Rico and Canada participated. The Idaho group was accompanied to Washington by Maurice Johnson, acting state 4-H Club leader, Moscow.

Hagerman FFA Unit Has Fete

HAGERMAN — Opportunities for personal growth and advancement are knocking every day," Monty Rupp, Meridian, state FFA vice president told members of the Hagerman FFA Chapter at their awards banquet.

The outstanding senior FFA member award presented by Sterling Jewelry, Twin Falls, went to Steven Bennett, chapter president and district president. The DeKalb Foundation Award for leadership, scholarship and improvement went to Jeff Tupper. Kim Reed received the outstanding chapter farmer award and the crop trophy. The award for having the most outstanding project went to Dick Bennett.

Other awards were outstanding greenhand, Tom Bennett; dairy trophy, John Mavencamp; best trophy, Gilbert Hafert; swine trophy, Carl Jackson; occupational FFA pin, Mike Brown and Tom Bennett; second year pin, Gene Taylor; third year pin, Dick Bennett, and fourth-year pin, Steve Bennett and Jeff Tupper.

Honorary chapter farmers selected this year for their assistance to the local FFA program were Supt. Roy Strawser and Arnie (Jim) Bennett.

Officers for the coming year were installed. They are Ron Grigley, vice president; Greg Nicholas, secretary; Kim Reed, treasurer; Craig Laughlin, reporter, and Gene Taylor, sentinel.

HOLDING THE blue and white premium factory pennant earned by the Twin Falls factory, Amalgamated Sugar Co., for its outstanding performance last year in the firm's inter-factory competition are John G. Bishop, Ogden, left, assistant general superintendent, and K. J. (Jack) Steward, Twin Falls factory superintendent. An estimated 900 company personnel and spouses attended the banquet held recently in Twin Falls.

T.F. Sugar Factory Wins Honors

Nearly 300 employees and wives of the Twin Falls factory, Amalgamated Sugar Co., turned out for a banquet awarded to the company's Twin Falls employees for premium performance.

Factory superintendent K. J. (Jack) Steward and ranking officials from the firm's headquarters, Ogden, attended the award presentation, an annual event recognizing the winner of inter-factory competition in the company during each fall and winter sugar-making campaign.

Mr. Steward accepted the eight-foot pennant and a cast bronze plaque for the factory. This year's was the third in a row in which the Twin Falls factory had earned Amalgamated's premium award. It brings the total number of such wins for Twin Falls to nine, a new company record. In competing against each other, each of Amalgamated's five factories seeks to attain a 100 or better rating for performance, as measured against the evaluated capabilities of that particular factory. A 100-point rating means the plant is operating exactly at evaluated capacity.

Lamb Is Sold For $7 Pound

RENO — When the staccato call of the auctioneer ended with "sold for $7.00," a new high had been established for the sale of the grand champion lamb at the Nevada Junior Livestock show.

For the third straight year, the Sparks Nugget purchased the grand champion lamb for the record $7.00 per pound. Nugget owner, John Ascuaga, personally did the bidding for the 93-pound Hampshire owned and exhibited by Callean Capuro, Washoe County.

During the auction, 180 lambs, 76 beef and 69 hogs were sold. Average on the lambs was at $1.76 per pound, with beef at $4.40 and hogs going at an average of $.84 for the pound. Total show sales amounted to $76,374.00, the highest overall registered in the show's history.

The First National Bank of Nevada bid high for the grand champion steer, a Hereford owned and shown by Annette Cerfoglio, Washoe County. The 1,000-pound animal went for $1.80 per pound. The reserve beef champion, also a Hereford exhibited by Robin Copley, Perching County, brought a best bid of $4.65 per pound from Barker Construction Company.

The grand champion hog, a 215 pound Hampshire shown by David Landolt, Lyon County, was also purchased by the First National Bank for $2.20 per pound. The reserve champion went for $1.40 to Harrah's Club.

U.S. Meat Imports Higher Than Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More meat imports are entering the United States than the government had estimated and may test the Nixon Administration's determination to hold shipments to agreed levels.

March imports of meats subject to the U. S. Import Control Program — mainly fresh and frozen beef — brought total imports for the first quarter of 1970 to 337.2 million pounds. The total was up 47.6 per cent from the same period a year ago.

If there is no slackening in the import rate, total 1970 imports could go to 1.348 billion pounds. This would be 27 per cent above Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin's estimate of 1.062 billion pounds expected to come in under a system of "voluntary restraint" agreements between the U. S. and major meat exporting countries.

The government has authority to install mandatory quotas if 1970 imports appear likely to top 1.099 billion pounds. American cattlemen and livestock feeders have urged the administration to hold the import line. Importers and consumers have pressed for lower import barriers.

The agriculture department has favored a hold-the-line policy on imports. Other administration forces have been advocating a looser policy in order to give consumers a break at the retail beef counter. More imports would give consumers bigger supplies at lower prices. New York Mayor John V. Lindsay pointed out in a recent appeal that brought hot counter attacks from cattlemen.

March imports of quota meats, according to census bureau data, totaled 112 million pounds compared with 136.1 million a year ago, when shipments were rebounding from a shipping-strike slump.

But total first quarter shipments from most exporting countries, including the biggest supplier — Australia — were running at potentially quota-busting levels.

Australia, which recently ordered its exporters to divert more shipments to non-U. S. markets, delivered an estimated 162 million pounds to the United States in the first quarter — well above a fourth of its total 1970 "voluntary restraint" quota of 527 million pounds.

Shipments from New Zealand for the first quarter were 51.3 million pounds, up from last year but below a fourth of that country's quota.

But many other countries, including Honduras and Canada, were shipping above expected levels. Honduras, with a total annual "voluntary restraint" allotment of 14.7 million pounds, delivered 10.3 million in the first quarter alone.

At the first quarter import rate, it appeared Honduras which exceeded its quota last year — could do so again by May.

Winners Listed

Magic Valley winners of the recent "Off the Farm Business Survey" contest for 4-Hers are announced by Robert Holloway, Idaho Cooperative Council sponsor of the event.

These winners will receive a scholarship to the Idaho 4-H Club Congress.

The winners are Valaine Peterson, Gooding County; Roger Golcochea, Lincoln County; Paul Watt, Cassia County; and Ann Holloway, Twin Falls County.

Grangers Hear About Constitution

FILER — John Barker, state senator, Buhl, discussed the revision of the state constitution at the May meeting of the Filer Grange.

Mr. Barker also explained bill 404 which deals with probating of community property. The bill was read by Claude Oliver, legislation chairman.

Mrs. Clyde Vanausdein reported on the alarming number of automobile accidents in the United States last year. Clifford Thomas, agriculture chairman, spoke on water rights of the state, stating that Arizona, Colorado and California are all pushing for water from the Snake River.

With three years of the ten-year water moratorium already gone, he urged people in Idaho to get busy on ways to use their water.

Harley Williams said the fair committee had met and were working on plans for the fair booth. Parmana Grange will meet Saturday in Buhl for evaluation of Grange contestants and winners to be announced.

Mrs. Alfred Theener said final plans for the annual dinner for graduates in Grange families will be presented at the next meeting. Mrs. Paul Hash announced she was an entrant in the Grange sewing contest in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Williams presented a gift to Mrs. Dorothy Thomas as the longest-married mother.

A resolution from the Deep Creek Grange making it mandatory for all congressmen to retire at the age of 75 years, was read and discussed at length, and rejected by the Filer Grange members.

Potato Test Plot Planned

ABERDEEN — Test plots to find out more about growing potatoes are being established on a number of Idaho farms in many areas of the production districts, Robert Callihan, University of Idaho potato specialists at Aberdeen, announced today.

Purpose of the tests is to determine practices that will further improve yield and quality of the Idaho potato which is already tops in the country. The 1970 program continues work that has been conducted several years.

The experiments involve fertility, planting dates, irrigation, planting rates, weed control, disease control and harvesting practices.

One of the first points emphasized as plots are started

Callihan said, is to be sure that all equipment entering a grower's field is washed thoroughly before moving to another field. This is a precaution against spreading disease and weeds. Disinfecting with a dilute solution of quarternary ammonia or formaldehyde solution is recommended. County agricultural agents are assisting extension specialists and experiment station scientists in conducting the tests with cooperating farmers.

PRODUCTION UP
BOISE — Idaho's March egg production totaled 17 million eggs, one million more than a year ago, states the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Patoran* takes care with potatoes while it takes care of weeds.

Now you can stop a wide range of grasses and weeds without subjecting your crop to undue risk of herbicide injury. CIBA's Patoran 50 WP Herbicide gives control of annual grasses and broadleaf weeds such as crabgrass, goosegrass, barnyardgrass, pigweeds, lambsquarters, smartweeds, ragweeds, wild mustard, and many others. And, used according to directions, Patoran offers a high margin of safety with no adverse effect on tuber qualities.

Patoran needs no incorporation. Rainfall sufficient to permit weed germination or crop growth will activate Patoran. Just apply it preemergence, broadcast or band, to the soil surface at planting, or preemergence to potatoes at drag-off.

This season, get the kind of weed control you want with the margin of safety you need. See your CIBA dealer for Patoran. The herbicide that takes care with potatoes while it takes care of weeds.

Steers On Test To Be Selected

Steers in the Magic Valley Cattlemen's Association beef evaluation program that are ready for slaughtering, will be selected Monday morning at Olmstead Cattle Co., Twin Falls.

Dick Noh, Rogerson, president of the group, says the steers will be weighed, beginning at 7 a. m., and consignors and directors as well as Otto Florence Jr., Independent Meat Co., and Herschel Boydston, College of Southern Idaho, will select the steers that will be ready for slaughtering.

The steers selected will be slaughtered at Independent Meat.

Play Day

The Idaho Morgan Horse Association is sponsoring an open play day Sunday, May 17, at Bronner Field, Twin Falls.

According to Mrs. Roy Jesser, Twin Falls, the events will begin at 10 a. m. with several horse games and classes. Judging will be Mel Pearson, American Park, Utah.

National Morgan Horse Club director.

4-H'ers Meet

Pancakes and crumb crusts were discussed by members of the Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club recently at the home of Teresa Meyerhoeffer.

Demonstrations were given by Mickey Baker on corn dogs and Miss Meyerhoeffer on old-fashion sour-cream drops.

Jumping Clinic Is Planned

A jumping clinic for Twin Falls County 4-Hers with horses has been scheduled for May 16 at Frontier Field.

Mrs. Ann Lucy Keller, Focattlo, will be the instructor. The clinic, sponsored by the Twin Falls County 4-H Council, will begin at 10 a. m. There will be a small charge.

Mrs. Keller will teach techniques in English riding and jumping. Each person should have an English saddle or a bareback pad with stirrups and a snaffle bridle.

The public is welcome and further information may be obtained by calling LeRoy Anderson, 733-2271, or Mrs. Roy Jesser, 733-1287.

Officers Named

The first meeting of the Sew-In 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. Glenn Dossett recently and new officers were elected.

The new president is Janice Moore; Debbie Edwards was elected vice president; Sharon Jorgensen was named secretary; Diane Fouts is reporter and Karen Fouts is recreation leader.

4-inch Threaded Riser Valve

The Shur-Rane Threaded Riser Valve offers inexpensive removal of water from underground asbestos-cement mainlines—and quick replacement of broken riser valves!

Instead of requiring farmers to dig down to remove a section of the mainline when a steel riser has been damaged by an implement, the Threaded Riser Valve allows farmers to simply unscrew a broken plastic riser from the surface, and replace it with a new riser.

Manufactured of cast aluminum heat-treated—for added strength and durability—the Threaded Riser Valve allows direct connection of 3-inch female IPS plastic riser pipes, rather than connectors presently used to attach steel riser pipes.

New Vegetables For 1970 Are Described

More important than ever are our new advancement Selection Award vegetables.

The best of their kinds and for their purposes, plant seeds of the winners for really fresh vegetables. Pick just in time for meal preparation, young and tender or vine ripened before their fruit sugars turn to tasteless starch.

Just two new winners are announced for 1970. The Silver Medal winner is 'Small Fry.' It is a vigorous, bushy, cherry tomato, loading its 2 1/2 foot plants with brightest scarlet red, high quality clusters of fruit. Usual hands or clusters are of seven or eight one-inch perfect little globes, generous bite size.

They mature a little larger when only half as many are in a small cluster but 'Small Fry' is noted for its uniformity, fruit perfection, quality, taste and heavy production.

The fruiting season is rather concentrated, much earlier than the popular open pollinated cherry and large cherry tomatoes.

Assuring plenty for luscious appetizers and salads, this breeding achievement is resistant to both Fusarium and Verticillium wilt. Every home gardener needs a few plants. A pot or two provide a decorative and useful addition to the patio sunny sunny to be.

The popular small to medium size late or so-called winter squash, left on their plants or vines to fully mature, are easily grown and may be stored for winter use, because they are allowed to mature and develop a rather hard shell to preserve them, the Butternut and Acorn types are common found in the city supermarkets. And, they retain their goodness for baking, making pies and other uses. You may buy them to keep in hand and save garden space and a few seeds can stock your cellar.

The new Waltham Butternut is a vigorous vining squash, without crooked fruits or dimorphic, different formed, plants. It is a little larger in fruit than Butternut, of superior taste with improved uniformity and golden interior color.

Average fruit is 6-11 inches, a little larger at the blossom end but mostly a thick, straight cylindrical shape. Interior is solid, dry and light, of high cooking quality. Waltham Butternut was developed by Professor Robert E. Young, Waltham Field Station, University of Massachusetts.

The finest Pasty Pan type summer bush squash 'St. Pat Scallop' was expected to be introduced for 1969 but a late fall flood in Oregon inundated the land crop. Because of the flood, the entire seed crop was ruined. Introduction was necessarily held over for 1970.

'St. Pat' is a vigorous fruit with improved ball shaped fruit in continuous bearing. Young fruit, all stages, blazes in greenish white color, uniform, putting of excellent quality. Its thickened, semi-globe or ball shape has smoother scallop margins for more tender flesh and less waste. The scallop shape needs less garden space and provides more fruit over a long season, heavier yields if kept picked.

We seem to be having a run on so-called new squashes. The small and unique-Buttercup type winter squash 'Kindred', 1969 winner by Ben Gilbertson of Kindred, N.D., is a short or semi-vining type. Distinctive, of superb quality and appealing appearance, both home and market gardeners appreciate the concentrated yield. Fruit is about 3 1/2 inches thick by 6 to 7 inches wide, 3/4 pounds, some with a small decorative turban at stem end. Flesh is an inch thick and shell is thin.

Leading the 1969 winners were the outstanding new hybrid cole crops. The seldom-mentioned Gold Medal is won by the best of all Broccoli 'Green Comet.' It is extra early with large heads of small tight buds with excellent quality. It is recommended for both early and fall maturity. After central heads are cut, the later side shoots of good size are equally desirable.

'Stonehead' cabbage, silver medalist, is the exciting new extra early hybrid with small, solid heads. Extremely hardy, rich blue-green outer leaves, leafy size with small cores for closer planting, good flavor and a waxy texture. The Torbu cabbage is medium early with large globular heads. It is of uniform size; maturity, shape and dark blue-green outer leaves. It holds well at maturity before bursting. Good flavor quality, solid with compact interior and medium core. Heads weight to over five pounds, 6 to 8 inches diameter and believed yellows resistant. While maybe large for small family use, it is particularly useful for processing, ideal for kraut.

The hybrid turnip 'Tokyo Cross' is unique. Very early and pure white, the smooth semi-globe root is of top quality. Uniformity, vigor, high yielding.

Activities Planned By 4-H Club

Members of the Highliner's 4-H Club made plans for a trail ride in July during a recent meeting at the home of Jean Marshall.

The ride will be held July 11-12. Plans for another ride in August also were discussed. A gymkhana by the club was discussed and will be held on Aug. 2.

The upcoming horse show at Frontier Field for 4-Hers were discussed. The show will be Sunday.

A clean-up day by the club will be held on May 23. A swimming party at Nat-See-Pah.

The next meeting will be held May 21 at the home of Kathy Flinn.

LARGEST TWO-WHEEL drive agricultural tractor ever made by J.I. Case Co. has been introduced. This tractor is an all-new eight-pow tractor with a 451 cubic inch turbocharged diesel engine. The 1170 featured exceptional strength, power, and traction to do a better job for the farmer while giving him the latest in comfort and convenience. All controls are located in a console at the right of the operator's seat, and the roomy 17 1/2 square foot platform floats on air and rubber, insulating it from noise and heat and isolating it from vibration.

Garden Hoses Are Described

Many sometimes seem like terrific drudgery, but it need not be as much of a chore as most people make it. Having the right equipment is the first step in making the job as quick and easy as possible.

Since dragging a garden hose around is probably the thing most people like least about watering, making an informed choice of this equipment is very important.

Too many people buy garden hose strictly on the basis of price. It comes in many different varieties and the lowest cost hose might not be the one that will do the watering job best for you.

This lowest-cost hose is usually the non-reinforced-vinyl variety, with a small 1/2 or 3/4 inch diameter. This type of hose has minimum burst strength and limited service life, so don't expect too much of it.

For example, it's likely to get brittle and difficult to handle in cooler weather, while turning very soft and "mussy" when temperatures soar. Also don't leave it in the sun with the water on and the nozzle off — you're risking a burst hose. And don't be surprised if it lasts only a season or two, if that. Non-reinforced-vinyl just isn't built for long life.

Reinforced-vinyl hose is probably today's most commonly used garden hose. This hose has at least two layers of vinyl, with a woven layer of nylon or rayon reinforcement fiber (same as the cord) between the two. For increased burst strength and life.

But all reinforced-vinyl hoses aren't alike. Check to see how closely the reinforcement is woven — the closer the weave, the better quality.

Resolutions Discussed By Grange

TUTTLE — Resolutions to be drawn up to be submitted to State Grange, to enforce State Grange bylaws and on outlawing the use of some pesticides, were acted upon at a meeting of the Gooding County Pomona Grange at the Bliss Grange Hall.

Reports were given on the Grange's conference in Gooding on the rebuilding of the Perrine-Bridge at its present location and future plans for Bells Rapids project in Hagerman Valley.

A program featuring two Chilen students who showed slides of their home towns and sang and danced several numbers, was given.

The next meeting will be May 25 at the West Point Grange Hall with a white elephant gift table to be featured.

2 Get Awards

SHOSHONE DeLen Steggs and Claude Chess, employees of the Bureau of Land Management here, have been granted special achievement awards.

The awards were presented by district manager, William Mabbutt, at a meeting attended by other district personnel. Recognition of their efforts in designing, building and installing a new radio dispatching console in the Shoshone District fire facilities.

Agent Speaks

MALTA — J. Wayne Cole, Cassia County agent, was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Malta Tail Twisters 4-H Club.

Also speaking briefly was Loren Tracy, leader, on various parts of a calf.

DOG AND CATS AGAIN: One of the best repellents for dogs and cats is still nicotine sulfate, sold as Black Leaf 40. If you mix two teaspoonful of Nicotine sulfate to one gallon of water (without soap) and apply it about once every two weeks in ordinary weather, to shrubs, flowers, etc., it does a good job. Renew after rain as it washes off.

INCIDENTALLY, this material (a tobacco extract) is good for fighting aphids, thrips, leafhoppers and other sucking insects. NOTE: Like all pesticides, nicotine sulfate is poisonous.

CABBAGE PROBLEMS. Home gardeners who raised cabbage last year have written to ask why their cabbage plants turned yellow after making a good start. Chances are this trouble is due to clubroot ("finger and toe disease") and it hits all members of the family: cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, kohlrabi. Clubroot is caused by a fungus that persists for many years in acid soils.

If you look on the roots of sickly or yellowed plants you'll find ugly lumps, hence the "finger-and-toe" name. Live in the soil for at least seven years.

CONTROL: Try to grow cabbage in virgin soil, if possible. Never set out plants having small swellings on roots, and rotate your crops. Chemical control consists of using Terraclor at planting time. Mix six tablespoons of Terraclor to a gallon of water and use 1-3 pint of the solution in each hole you set the plant in. Terraclor also goes under the name of PCNB and in soil in garden areas. Also, add hydrated lime to your soil so that the sweetness (alkalinity) is around pH 7.

Split heads was a problem last year and it was due to a soaking rain following several weeks of late summer drought. Early types split easier than late ones, so plant the later varieties. You can prevent bursting by sizing the stalk of the plant and giving it a slight pull until you feel the roots bearing out of the soil. Checking the growth helps cabbage resist bursting.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: A. E. of Twin Falls: "I have a lot about growing tomatoes inside a wire fence. Please tell us what there is to this."

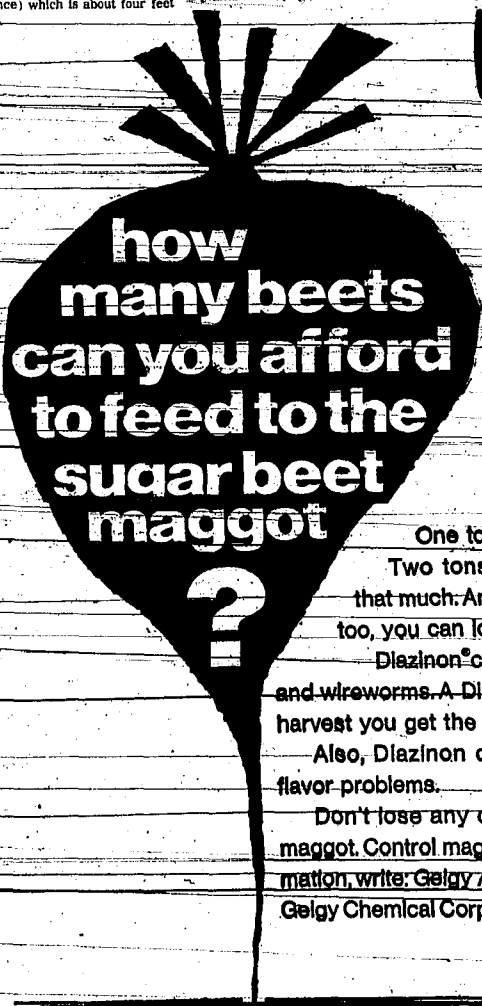

You probably are referring to the so called Japanese or Chinese wire cage method which simply consists of growing about four tomato plants around a circle of wire fencing. The end results: a harvest of 100 pounds or more of tomatoes.

This bonanza crop-producing unit is a simple idea that tomato fans are wild about. The ring includes a length of wire fence five feet high and about 15 feet long. You arrange the fence in a circle (some gardeners prefer in diameter. Some gardeners put a layer of mulch about six inches deep inside the ring, then add a layer of good soil, another layer of mulch and a final layer of soil. If no mulch (compost) is available, you a three- or four-inch layer of peatmoss. After frost, plant four tomatoes around the ring, equally spaced. The roots of the plants will be attracted to the wealth of plant food (and moisture) inside the ring. As the vines grow, tie them to the wire with pieces of rags. Before long, the plants will cover the wire and fill the inside of the ring. When you water, apply it to the outside or inside of the ring, and it's also a good idea to mix a little plant food (such as 23-19-17) to the water. F. H. of Hanley: "Do tomatoes need a special kind of plant food? Ours have not bloomed for two years and we can't understand what's wrong?" Lilacs are one item that do not need much plant food. In fact, too much feeding will cause them to grow tall and flowerless. Every lilac should bloom, but sometimes they are obstinate. FOR FACT-SELLING RESULTS USE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS
