Weather Synopsis

Considerable cloudiness and a slight change of precipitation will continue today over Southern Idaho, but a major change in the general weather pattern is beginning. There is a promise of clearing and warmer weather for the last half of the week.

A weak disturbance was causing rain over Northern Nevada early this morning, and a low southern may split over into Southern Idaho as the disturbance moves on eastward today. Most of the Idaho precipitation should be confined to the mountains with a light rain. Partial clearing will begin from the west by late afternoon, and will spread to Eastern Idaho by morning.

A large high pressure system is beginning to build in the Eastern Pacific, and this should return mostly sunny and warmer weather to all the intermountain region Thursday and Friday.

Temperatures will begin to rise today in the western and central valleys, with afternoon highs in the 50s and low 70s. Eastern Idaho valleys will have a high from the upper 40s to the upper 50s today. About three to eight degrees additional warming can be expected in all areas Thursday. Tonight again will be on the cool side, with lows ranging from the upper 20s to the upper 30s. There is a chance that showers will develop a little heading shortly before sunrise Thursday morning.

The extended outlook for the weekend is for mostly fair skies and for temperatures to rise to near the seasonal normals by Sunday.

Russ Ships Allowed To Visit Cuba

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet naval squadron will dock in Cuba Thursday to mark the first time Russian warships will visit the island on the United States' doorstep for refueling and resupply.

Western observers saw the move, announced by the news agency Tass, as a demonstration of Soviet readiness to use Cuba as a key naval supply point in the Western Hemisphere.

Tass said anti-submarine ships, submarines and auxiliary ships that took part in the Soviet Union's "ice-toson" naval exercises in the Atlantic last week would dock at Cienfuegos, 250 miles south of Miami.

"The ships will arrive . . . on Thursday, May 14, on a courtesy visit and for a short rest of personnel, as well as to refuel and replenish water supplies and stores and for repairs," Tass said.

A squadron of Soviet ships led by a cruiser visited Havana last year in the first visit of Russian warships to a Cuban port, but it was strictly a courtesy call.

"This time Tass made it clear the main reason for the visit was to take on fuel and supplies and conduct maintenance."

“Friends” Allowed To Enter Suit

BOISE (UPI) — District Judge Marion Callister granted two motions Tuesday allowing two groups, as "friends of the court," to enter a suit over Idaho's proposed constitutional revisions.

Barth Schuman, representing a group called "Citizens for the Protection of the Idaho Constitution," and Raymond Olvera, former supreme court justice and chairman of the Constitution Revision Commission, agreed to draw up orders to admit the two groups to the case.

The suit, filed by Raymond Smith, seeks to prohibit Secretary of State Pat T. Conners from placing the single-question revision on the ballot this November.

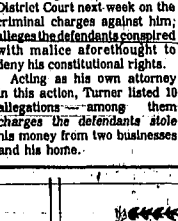

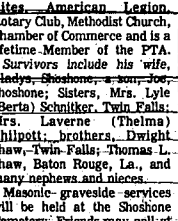

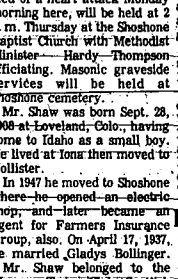

The suit alleges the method of submitting the question contravenes the Constitution of Idaho, which provides for separate placement of constitutional amendments and for a constitutional convention.

Kaufman had asked to be entered as an intervenor. But Deputy Attorney General Thomas Frost said Kaufman's request alleged nothing that could not be settled by the original parties.

"We have no more than two months in which to reach a decision, Frost said, agreeing to the "amicus curiae" designation (friends of the court) rather than the intervenor designation, which would have allowed Kaufman all the rights of the original parties.

5 Points Traffic Meet Set

City council members, Twin Falls City Highway Commission members and representatives of the Idaho Department of Highways will meet at noon Friday in Twin Falls to discuss traffic control at the Five Points North intersection here.

State Highway Board members recently announced plans to leave the situation as it now stands because of overwhelming opposition during a public hearing here. At that time, property owners and business firms in the vicinity of the intersection objected to any change on the grounds of personal property and business loss.

City Manager Jean Miller said the city will be requesting warrants further study and consideration. The city council asked the meeting be scheduled in order to take a look at the entire design and possibly to call another public hearing.

In addition to redesign of the intersection, the plan involves changing of U. S. 83 traffic through the city via State Highway 74 along Shoshone Street.

Student Dress Code Relaxed

The student dress code in Twin Falls schools has been relaxed, on a trial basis between now and the end of the year, according to a decision reached this week at the regular trustee meeting.

The dress code, being boosted by the student body at the high school, is being put into effect throughout the system.

Dr. Ernest Ragland, superintendent, informed the students at the high school of the granting of their proposal in a letter to student body president Steve Blays.

The proposal made by the students was "student dress and appearance shall be in no way unsanitary, obscene or disruptive of class."

Dr. Ragland reminded the students in his letter that school officials will always have to make decisions as to what is disrupting the orderly operation of classes.

"The principal," he said, "still will be authorized to suspend pupils who may disregard these rules of cleanliness and decency, or cases of extreme appearance which, in his judgment, will detract from the orderly operation of the schools."

"The board of trustees," Dr. Ragland continued, "expects the student body to use their good offices to make this plan successful in operation. The above action is a clear-cut expansion of privilege."

$76,000 Given To Settle Suit

An out-of-court settlement Tuesday brought an end to a damage suit that had been expected to take one to two weeks in Fifth Judicial District Court in Twin Falls.

Attorneys in the case of Betty Baldwin and her children against William Francis Bir, Fred Frazier, Idaho Investment Co., Sierra Life Insurance Co.,

Southwest Skyways and Carl Ellinger reached an agreement Tuesday in the second day of the trial before District Judge Theron W. Ward.

Attorneys reported the settlement was in the amount of $76,000, which is one of the largest death settlements on record here. The plaintiffs had asked $500,000 in the death of their husband and father, Robert Baldwin.

Mr. Baldwin was one of four persons aboard a light plane that crashed Sept. 14, 1966, 10 miles southwest of Stanley, killing all aboard but the pilot.

In their complaint, the plaintiffs charged Mr. Bir was the pilot and part owner of the aircraft. The other named defendants were associated with Mr. Bir, either as having part interest in the aircraft or being business associates.

The complaint charged carelessness and negligence on the part of the pilot in connection with the crash.

Also aboard the plane was Charles Herndon, Democratic candidate for governor. A settlement of $30,000 was reached in a case brought in connection with his death, those associated with the Baldwin vs. Bir case reported.

Uneasy Thailand And Soviets

BANGKOK, Thailand—Until President Nixon's "daring military move into Cambodia, the crisis of confidence toward the U.S. by our Asian allies had become so serious that staunchly anti-Communist Thailand was making serious overtures toward the Soviet Union.

It now seems the war is in the majority. Thus, whatever its final military outcome, President Nixon's Cambodian move will have—temporarily at least—a reassuring effect on nervous Asian allies such as Thailand.

Reconciliation

"Plain, outright murder," was how a respected Cleveland television commentator labeled the shootings at Kent State University. The violence was a direct result of Governor Rhodes' sending in the Ohio National Guard.

Responsible leaders and molders of opinion must not join the chorus of unreason. The word "unfortunate," meaning an unlucky chance, is the proper word. What happened at Kent was an accident or aberration, unplanned and unexpected.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Difficult as the decision may be, President Nixon will almost certainly be forced into one additional daring step if his Cambodian gamble is to succeed.

will take the edge off a major build-up from that direction until this fall. That is, the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam, through which the Communists brought considerable tonnage at one time. This route must be kept closed also if the Cambodian strikes are to achieve the cutoff in supplies Nixon wants. The crucial necessity of keeping the DMZ closed as noted above is the grim reality behind Defense Secretary Laird's warning to Hanoi that he would recommend bombing the north if the zone was used for major infiltrations.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Drinking Driver

You don't have to really be drunk to get crossed up while driving your car. All you need to get the job done is a drink or two. Mr. Spectator is writing this column to let you know that he really doesn't care what you do with your life— if you drink and smash yourself against a wall or a pole or something while driving an automobile—but he does care about what you do with his.

estimate that 44 percent of the drivers killed were "innocent victims of other drivers who were driving after drinking." The drunken driver is the most deadly killer on the highway. At any given time it is estimated that only four or five per cent of the drivers on the road are drunk. However, this five per cent is responsible for half the accidents which occur every year.

ANDREW TULLY

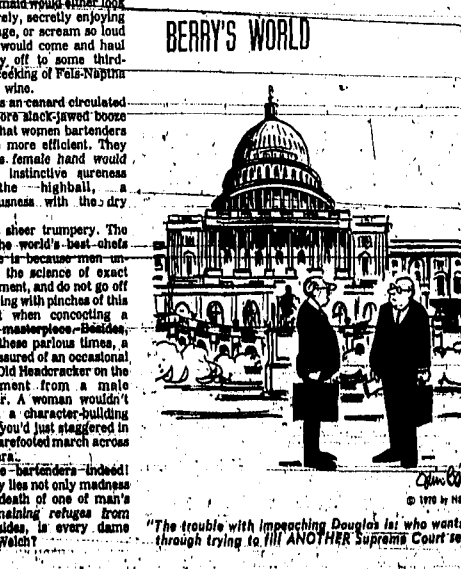

Bartending

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Maybe bartending should be automated, with drinker served up by machines in white aprons. At least robots can't talk back, which is more than can be said for those human females who are being hired in increasing numbers to work behind the mahogany.

saucer on the grounds you were squandering money needed for "little Adelbert's" sister's lessons. No barmaid in her right mind would go along with the verity that women tend to be cankerous, suspicious, and unappreciative of life's finer things like corned beef and cabbage.

Don't take chances with "hidden trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read "De Throsten's booklet, 'Your Kidneys—Facts You Need to Know About Them.'" Write to Dr. Throsten in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Alcohol, according to the National Safety Council, is also a factor in at least half of the 56,400 traffic deaths that took place during 1969. The Department of Transportation's 1969 report to Congress on "Alcohol and Highway Safety" concluded that "alcohol has been the largest single factor leading to fatal crashes."

Truancy Problem Discussed

The problem of truancy in the local school system was discussed during a regular meeting of the trustees of Twin Falls School District No. 411, and it was pointed out cases of extreme truancy can be taken directly to court without first being expelled from school by the board of trustees.

The board approved this policy to be enacted as provided by law, and such action is being considered in about four cases. Extreme truancy was described by trustees as being a "community problem." It also was brought to light that parents of students also can be taken into court for permitting or contributing to their child's delinquency by truancy.

Trustees also decided school in the system will remain in session May 29, a day proclaimed as a holiday by Gov. Don Samuelson. The school needs to remain in session on that day to complete the required number of school days in the term.

Teachers employed during the trustee session were Dianne K. Bashara, speech, Senior High School; Fred E. Carlson, industrial arts, Robert Stuart Junior High School; Keith D. Cheney, physical education, O'Leary Junior High School; Lorana Jane Nelson, third grade, Lincoln Elementary; Sally K. Phillips, third grade, Washington Elementary; Trena Vandenberg, third grade, Lincoln Elementary; Valerie Churchman, sixth grade, Bickel Elementary; and Virginia Kay Johnston, English, Senior High School, and Martha Jean Vintz, orchestra, junior-high schools.

Teachers employed to instruct in the summer school session beginning June 8 are Keith Turner, fifth and sixth grade; Robert Tickner, fifth and sixth grade; Mildred MacChristian, third and fourth grade; Mary Ann Sweet, third and fourth grade; Hughte Winegar, first and second grade, and Gladys Gugelman, librarian. Summer school will be at Lincoln Elementary School and will be four weeks in length.

Trustees also accepted bids for ceramic tile floors and wainscoting at O'Leary Junior High School in the amount of $8,745, low bid from Capri Tile Co., Twin Falls, and carpet for O'Leary Junior High School library and home making rooms for $2,724.20, low bid from Willis, Inc., of Twin Falls. Bids for new linoleum at O'Leary were rejected.

Appointments by the Idaho Board of Health to the Magic Valley residents has increased the state's advisory committee on Child Development to 15 members.

The five area residents were selected and announced in a meeting of the state Board of Health in McCall.

Those selected include Dr. John Head Rupert, an optometrist who practices in Verame, and William L. Barrett, Jerome, pastor of the Jerome Presbyterian Church, to three-year terms; Rex Engelking, Buhl school superintendent; and Don Frank, Twin Falls, district supervisor for the Idaho Department of Public Assistance to two-year terms, and Eugene Gibbons, Gooding School principal, one year.

Until the additional five appointments, the advisory board, which serves voluntarily without salary, consisted of 10 members. Because of the new development center in Twin Falls, a local advisory board was named in March and became the newest unit in the state.

Purpose of the state committee is to work with the Idaho Board of Health in shaping policy and directing community efforts and services for the child development centers in the state.

BOISE (UPI)—The permanent building fund council approved preliminary plans today for eight cottage-style family living units for the Idaho State School and Hospital at Nampa.

Preliminary plans called for using a $20,000 appropriation to build eight units at $10,000 apiece. Each cottage is located on the outskirts of the institution's existing buildings—would contain living and sleeping quarters for eight residents and one cottage parent.

Dr. John Marks, director of mental retardation and child development for the Department of Health, told the council the cottages were a "new approach to the ward construction for the mentally retarded."

He said the small housing units would be the "droad" that is going to be required for federal funding and for accreditation in the future, so they're actually ahead of other states."

BONNIE ALLEE

Winner Of Award Is Announced

Bonnie Jean Allee, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Allee, 1303 Addison Ave. E., has been named winner of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust annual scholarship, according to Curtis Eaton, executive vice president of the bank.

Miss Allee plans to use the scholarship this fall at the College of Southern Idaho, majoring in music education and library science.

The award is presented annually to a Twin Falls high school senior on the basis of scholastic standing, character, leadership and citizenship. She is a Student Council alternate, Music Club president and business manager of the annual staff.

Miss Allee is also concert choir chairman, vice president of the Future Teachers of America and an assistant in the school library. She is a member of the Cub Chorale and Madrigal Singers, National Honor Society, the Pep Club, French Club, Quill and Scroll and Girls' League.

She ranks 20th in the graduating class, with a grade-point average of 3.85.

Miss Allee is also active in church and community work, serving as a Red Cross lifeguard during the summer swimming season.

Those selected include Dr. John Head Rupert, an optometrist who practices in Verame, and William L. ASHTON (UPI)—The Idaho State Police reported late Monday Loren Palmer, 35, of Newell, S.D., was killed about 4 p.m. on U.S. Highway 101.

Police reported Palmer was driving a semi-trailer truck loaded with grain when he encountered a herd of cattle on the highway coming off Ashton Hill.

His truck struck the cattle, caused off this road and plunged through a guard rail into the North Fork of the Snake River.

Blood Drawing Is Successful Again

Another successful blood drawing was recorded Monday in Twin Falls with area donors giving 175 pints of blood, 122 of which were replacements for persons requiring blood during surgery or accidents.

David Nelson, chairman of the local American Red Cross blood program, said the replacement donors set a new record this time and it shows good concern in the local community.

This is the 10th consecutive drawing, he said, that has exceeded the quota, this one with 25 pints beyond the 150 pint quota.

It was something of a festive occasion for Harry Gibson who reached his 10-gallon mark Monday. Mr. Gibson has been donating regularly at local drawings since 1952 and, with his 10-gallon goal reached Monday, he said he will start working on the next 10 gallons.

He was presented a cake by Mildred Nelson, a 10-gallon pin and the thanks of those in charge of the drawing.

One gallon donors included Martin D. King, Richard Barber, Mrs. Willie Boesiger, Mrs. Dale L. Collins, John Ehlers, Craig Hopkins, John L. Shultz, two-gallon donors; Russell Smedley, three-gallon donors, Francis L. Truer; four-gallon donors, Richard Chittre and Grant Gillette.

DF. G. W. Warner assisted in the drawing and licensed practical nurses assisting included Mrs. Riley Hite, Mrs. Paul Hueston, Mrs. Evelyn Atwood and Mrs. William Baker. Volunteers were Mrs. Dale Kunkel, Mrs. Emma Bothwell, Mrs. Leo Campeau, Mrs. Elson Basom, Mrs. A. E. Justice of the Peace Reed P. Mangrum reports activities in his court in Twin Falls during the first four months of 1970 show considerable gain over the same period last year.

Fish and game violations were down from 22 a year ago to 9 this year, and small claims rose to 265 as compared to 228 last year or an increase of about 16 per cent. In other court work, there were 54 ex parte citations this year and 55 a year ago; justice citations were down to 23 this year from 54 a year ago.

Radioactive Borgnine Considering Discharge New Television Series Found Low

BY VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Ernie Borgnine, exhausted from movie globe trotting, is mulling over three television series in order to stay in Hollywood.

"I want to be around to watch my children grow up," he said. "I've done nine pictures in the past two and a half years. At one time I was working in two pictures simultaneously: 'The Legend of Lillie Claire' and 'Ice Station Zebra.'"

"When I wasn't working in Europe or South America, we were filming on location somewhere out of Southern California."

The pictures included "The Wild Bunch," "The Split," "The Adventurers," "Miguel Pro" and "Suppose They Gave a War and Nobody Came."

Borgnine spent 30 weeks in foreign countries last year.

"People have the impression actors really live it up on location," the Oscar-winner (for "Marty") said. "Maybe some of the swingers live a ball, but I'm tired of living in hotel rooms."

"You work six days a week on location. A guy's always stuck with his laundry. And when you go to restaurants people stare at you."

"So I end up eating in my room, visiting flea markets and memorizing my lines. Big deal."

Before settling down to a television series, Borgnine has his heart set on playing the title role in "The Godfather," the fast-selling novel of a Mafia family.

"It would be nice to work in that picture here in Hollywood," he said.

"Producers don't save as much working abroad as they think. Sure, they got the Coleman salary for the adventures for $2 per man a day. But by the time the crew gets a shot and photography gets under way, everyone is behind schedule."

"We're lucky if we get four minutes of film a day in Europe."

Discrimination Claim Studied

Fliers In Crash Are Named

MOUNTAIN HOME AFB, Idaho (UPI)—Two airmen were killed Tuesday when their plane crashed south of here while on a training mission.

The pilot, Capt. Samuel David Miller, 30, Mountain Home, and senior navigator Maj. John Dudley Olsen, 38, San Diego, were killed when their F4D Phantom plane crashed south of Twin Falls.

Officials from the Air Force base said the plane was on a routine training mission and was part of the 417th Tactical Fighter Squadron.

Witnesses said the aircraft was one of three planes in the area. Twin Falls County Sheriff's Deputy Harold Hansen was watching the three planes when he saw an explosion. Hansen radioed the Hollister port of entry to advise witnesses.

Wreckage was scattered for one mile. The bodies, one partially burned and the other still strapped in a parachute, were found in the wreckage.

The plane crashed a half mile east of Amsterdam between Hollister and Rogerson. Follage around the crash site is badly burned, Hansen said.

Martin is survived by his wife, Jane, and three children. Olsen is survived by his wife, Laura, and two children.

Funeral services are being planned at the base, but no time has been set.

IN AN UNPRECEDENTED move, five senators went on nationwide television Tuesday night and appealed for support of an amendment that would cut off money for all U.S. military operations in Southeast Asia after Dec. 31. From the left the

Simplot Sees "Utopia" With Cash For Everyone

By LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho industrialist J. R. Simplot painted a future "utopia" run by automation for the Idaho Press Club Tuesday.

The outspoken president of the J. R. Simplot Company told the club he believed in a system of tax-supported free enterprise "where you can get enough to eat from the hook for the individual so he can make some money."

He traced the World War II beginnings of his potato processing industry, adding, "We think we're in an exciting business. I am sure if I had $1 million today, I would invest it in Idaho in the frozen food market; that's what I think of it."

Simplot said his newest Caldwell plant will process 90,000 tons of potatoes per hour and will be the "finest food processing plant in the world."

He said it has every automatic device possible and added, "Automation today, folks, is going to take over. We've got the brains and machinery and the know-how to do it."

At the same time, however, he said labor is the scarcest he has ever known it to be.

He said the Caldwell plant could eventually process vegetables, fruit, beef, hens and turkeys and said he could foresee a time when it would be the center of the restaurant market "where we put a week's or a day's menu on one of the trucks, portion controlled, prepared by the best chefs can hire."

more than we can pay. Unfortunatly we grew more potatoes last year than we need for. Instead of finding out where they're growing, they expect someone to find a market for them."

Simplot said the growers were friends and customers, but "they've stayed their hands. These people, I think, have made a mistake. Instead of selling their potatoes when there was a good market, they held them."

He said the price is regulated by supply and demand and claimed the big problem facing agriculture today is the need for markets and the fact that more food is grown than can be used.

Guns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Kent city police confiscated four weapons from Kent State University students following the May 4 campus confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen in which four students were killed.

Del Corso also said Kent city police, acting on a tip, later recovered a .32 caliber revolver from the Cuyahoga River just north of the Kent bridge. The pistol had two spent shell casings and three live bullets.

Labor Leaders Say Recession Started

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor leaders, meeting with President Nixon Tuesday, charged his fight to end inflation had led the nation into recession. They urged that Congress take over the battle by imposing controls on credit, interest rates and business mergers.

Nixon attended a meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, held two blocks from the White House to explain his Inflation Control Act.

But Meany and the other union leaders bitterly attacked Nixon's efforts to eliminate inflation as "a complete failure."

Prices have gone up, unemployment has grown and the nation has crossed the threshold of recession. In a statement, the council said, "The time has obviously come for the administration to abandon its bankrupt economic policies before the already grave damage to American living standards snowballs."

Hijacker Killed On Ferry

HIROSHIMA, Japan (UPI)—Police Wednesday morning shot and captured a fugitive who hijacked a ferryboat and forced its captain to sail through Japan's inland sea for 17 hours while he held the crew at bay with two rifles, a shotgun, a pistol and a BB gun.

The hijacker, 29-year-old Nobuhiko Kawafuji, was hit in the stomach by a police sharpshooter shortly after the 17:00 Prince Maru sailed back into Hiroshima harbor after a night of wandering through Japan's scenic inland sea.

Kawafuji, a carpenter wanted in the slaying of a policeman and robbery of a gunshop, seized the pleasure craft at 5 p.m. Tuesday with 33 passengers and 11 crewmen aboard and ordered it to sail on a wandering course. After 10 hours he freed 36 of the hostages but kept seven crewmen captive.

The policeman's bullet struck Kawafuji while he stood on the top deck of the ship. Other police swarmed onto the boat and captured the youth. He was immediately taken to a hospital.

The youth, described as a sharpshooter, had wounded three policemen during a two-day crime spree that was climaxed by the hijacking. After he took over the ferry, he fired on a low-flying plane carrying news photographers and hit it in the gas tank, but the aircraft managed to land safely.

Apollo Capsule Set For Boise

BOISE (UPI)—Arrangements have been completed for the Boise appearance of the Apollo 11 space capsule Friday through Monday at the Western Idaho Coliseum. The capsule, along with moon rocks, will be on display at the coliseum from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday.

$12,000 In Cash Donated

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)—More than $12,000 in cash and funeral expenses have been donated to the Krank Family fund started following the death of eight members of the James L. Krank family last Wednesday in a car-train accident east of here.

The largest contributions was the approximately $4,800 in funeral expenses donated by The First and Jasper Funeral Homes, Inc., which handled the funeral and burial last Saturday of Mrs. Krank and seven of her children. Church Endall, spokesman for the fund, said through Tuesday morning about 600 individuals and groups had contributed $7,554 in cash toward the fund.

He said the money would probably be used to defray the hospital expenses of Carla Krank, 9, the sole surviving child, and help Krank pay other bills. The youngster, seriously injured in the accident, was steadily improving at Valley General Hospital and officials said Tuesday she was sitting up in bed and coloring and that the sutures were removed from her head injuries. Endall said contributions had come 14 from all over eastern Washington and northern Idaho.

Reduction Of Bail Is Denied

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI)—A motion to reduce the bail for Joseph Edwin Shock, 22, Lewiston, from $50,000 was denied Monday by Justice of the Peace Dan J. Quintan.

Shock is charged with third degree arson in the fire May 5 that destroyed 26 vehicles and damaged three others at the Army National Guard motor pool here.

Attorneys for Shock, an earnings and student at the University of Idaho, had claimed the bond set by Quintan after Shock's arrest last Tuesday was excessive for someone his age with no previous record.

In addition to the state arson charge, federal charges of destruction of government property are pending against the youth. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $250,000.

Investigators the day of the fire said an arsonist cut through a chain link fence on the government compound to gain access to the vehicles, including 15 moving trucks. The fuel tanks on every other vehicle was drained. The investigators said the arsonist then made his way back through the hole in the fence and touched off the blaze.

Smith Is For More Party Aid

CALDWELL (UPI)—"Political hogwash" is the course the Republican administration is taking toward Dick Smith, GOP gubernatorial candidate, said Tuesday.

Reason Sought In Jet Crash

DETROIT (UPI)—The chartered jet in which United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, his wife, and four other persons were killed first brushed some tree tops then plunged steeply into woods half a mile away, a federal investigator said Tuesday.

Russell Abbott of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) who is conducting the investigation into the crash said in a telephone interview that, "We don't have precise measurements, but when the twin-engine Lear jet crashed, the descent angle was greater than we would normally expect of a plane coming in for a landing."

Reuther, 62, his wife May, 50, a bodyguard, a UAW architect, the pilot, and co-pilot were killed Saturday night when the plane crashed and burst into flames near Pellston at the northern tip of lower Michigan.

Tank-Led Force In Lebanon

By United Press International
A tanked Israeli armored force, supported by planes and artillery, swept into southeast Lebanon early Tuesday on a hunt-and-destroy mission for Arab guerrillas. Israel claimed its forces were beginning to pull back late Tuesday night, but Lebanon said it was not true.

Arabs called the 14-hour foray into Lebanon the biggest battle in the Middle East since the 1967 war.

While the fighting raged around the foothills of Mt. Hermon, the U.N. Security Council met in emergency session in New York and unanimously demanded immediate Israeli withdrawal from Lebanese territory.

Lebanon accused Israel of invading its territory while Israel complained that the action was necessary because Lebanon had failed to stop Arab guerrilla attacks across the border.

Blackmun Thoughts Are Told

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Judge Harry A. Blackmun could weigh the voting balance in the Supreme Court. In much the way Arthur J. Goldberg did in 1962, but in the opposite direction.

Goldberg, who resigned to become ambassador to the United Nations and is now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York, swung the "Warren Court" away from a conservative trend in the late 1950s into a new era of judicial activism.

When Chief Justice Warren E. Burger succeeded Earl Warren last October, another trend toward more conservative decisions was set in motion. Observers will be watching to see whether Blackmun, an old personal friend of Burger, will side with him in individual liberties cases such as Goldberg, appointed by President John F. Kennedy, did with Warren.

President Nixon factors what he calls "strict constructionists" of the Constitution in his Supreme Court nominations. He has explained that life means justices who would give Congress greater leeway to write the laws and who would be "very conservative in over-throwing a law passed by the elected representatives at the state or federal level."

Plaster Mole Holes

NORTH WITTEBY, ENGLAND (UPI)—The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has criticized the Rev. Eric Judd for blasting 200 round holes in his lawn. Judd said he had tried everything else. He has 1,000 round holes in his lawn.

For instance, critics may have things more their own way in areas like civility and some phases of criminal law.

Only Justice William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall of the Warren voting block are left. Black has been drawing away from it for several terms.

He has 1,000 round holes in his lawn. Judd said he had tried everything else. He has 1,000 round holes in his lawn. He has 1,000 round holes in his lawn.

Nixon Regime Reported Reluctant To Use NATO As Sounding Board

By DAVID OESTREICHER, United Press International
Window on the World
Nixon and NATO

U.S. sources at Brussels headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), say the Nixon administration has been reluctant to use the alliance machinery as a sounding board for American policies in Southeast Asia. These sources say there was no consultation in NATO councils before the U.S. military push into Cambodia. President Nixon's reluctance may stem in part from the bad reaction Lyndon B. Johnson met when he tried to get support for the Vietnam War through the Atlantic Council, NATO's governing body.

British and Indochina British Prime Minister Harold Wilson can be expected to press on with his proposal for an Indochina peace conference despite the ice-cold reaction from the Communists. The Soviet Union has had to go along with North Vietnam and Red China in turning down Wilson's proposals as "untimely." And British officials concede privately that a conference is unlikely in the foreseeable future. But Wilson and many Britons as well sincerely want the fighting to stop. This is an election year in England.

Irish Arms Smuggling
The British government is deeply concerned by smuggling of guns and other weapons into Northern Ireland both by sea, and across the border with the Irish Republic. British troops and police in Northern Ireland are conducting periodic drives against the gun runners with little success so far. British officials say they are aware of

War Crime Trial Of Nazi Leader Starts Today

DUESSELDORF, West Germany (UPI)—They called him "the greatest camp leader who played the foremost role in the action."

That was the eulogy bestowed on Franz Paul Stangl by Nazi authorities when they recommended him for promotion to Hauptsturmfuehrer in the SS regiments.

Today, Stangl, 62, captured in his Brazilian hideaway in February 1967 through the efforts of Jewish-Nazi hunter Simon Wiesenthal, goes on trial for the World War II crimes which earned him the Nazi executioner's name.

The trial is expected to last through September and probably will be the last of the major German concentration camp legal spectacles.

The prosecution charges Stangl with responsibility for the deaths of "at least 400,000 Jews while he was boss of the concentration camps at Sobbor and Treblinka in Poland. Estimates put the number of Jews "shot, hanged, beaten or whipped to death" in the two camps at high as 550,000.

Stangl, born in the Austrian city of Altmunster, took over command of the Sobbor death camps in April, 1942. He later moved to Treblinka where he ruled until August, 1943, when an uprising of the terror-ridden Jewish inmates against his horror regime caused the Nazis to send him to Yugoslavia.

In the two camps, Nazi witnesses testified in later trials, Jewish men, women and children were systematically murdered at the rate of 18,000 a day. In most instances they were herded into sealed huts into which a Diesel truck pumped exhaust fumes. The dying process took about 20 minutes. The execution teams worked day and night.

Adolf Eichmann, during his war crimes trial on similar charges by the Israelis, described a visit he paid to the Treblinka camp as "the most horrifying thing I ever saw in my life."

Like Eichmann, Stangl escaped to South America shortly after the war and started a new life with his wife and three daughters, working under an alias with the Volkswagen auto plant in Sao Paulo.

Like Eichmann, his nemesis was Simon Wiesenthal, the self-appointed Austrian Nazi hunter who tracked him down relentlessly for 19 years.

This April Is Coolest On Record

BOISE (UPI)—April temperatures were the coolest on record in Idaho, a spokesman for the Environmental Science Services Administration of the Weather Bureau reported today.

State Climatologist Stanley G. Holbrook said recurring snowstorms during the passage of seven major storms this past month created the record low April temperatures.

Divisional temperatures average five to nine degrees below normal with mildest departure of three degrees below noted in the Panhandle.

April precipitation averaged mostly above normal.

Generally cool conditions of, prevailed during April when only five or six days between the fourth and ninth rose above normal.

New Observatory
SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California and the University of Wisconsin are seeking $5.1 million for a new observatory near Big Sur on the central California coast.

The joint venture would involve a 90-inch telescope on an 80-acre summit, Junipero Serra Peak in Monterey County. Dr. Robert P. Kraft, acting director of UC's Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton near San Jose, said the new observatory would provide a clearer view of the sky.

Bureau Has New List Of Windy Girlfriends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The weather bureau has just issued the list of girls' names — 21 from Alma to Wilma — for the hurricanes of the approaching 1970 season. The practice of naming hurricanes for girls goes back to World War II in the Pacific. More than one storm often was whirling at the same time. To avoid dangerous errors of identification, Air Force and Navy weathermen adopted the practice of giving each storm a separate tag easily understood over the background crackling of radio transmission. Says the weather bureau in a romantic footnote to the history of hurricane naming: "Nothing more majestic than the list of girls' names is more natural for lonely servicemen, thousands of miles from home, than to select the names of their sweethearts, wives, or favorite pin-up girls."

In 1953, the weather bureau adopted the military custom for its own use. In 1960, having concluded the system was sound, the bureau set up a semi-permanent list of four sets of alphabetized names to be repeated at four-year intervals. For 1970 the names are: Alma, Becky, Celis, Dorothy, Ella, Felice, Greta, Hallie, Isabel, Judith, Kendra, Lois, Marsha, Noreen, Orpha, Patty, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Vicky, and Wilma.

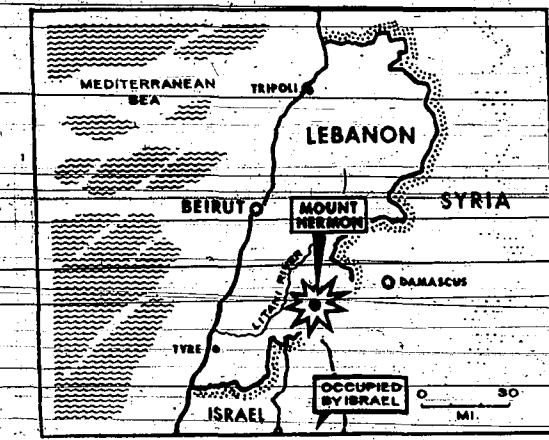

The hurricane season runs approximately from June 1 through Nov. 30. But there is no way of knowing how many storms there will be. No individual in mind. If you are a girl and your name is on the list, don't feel honored or, as the case may be, outraged. The weather bureau tries to get across every year the fact that it does not respect does not pick names with any individual in mind.

GENERAL DISMISSED MADRID (UPI) — The government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco announced formally Saturday the dismissal of the chief of the Military General Staff school, who had spoken publicly of social injustice in Spain.

Wholesale Prices Halt Climb WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wholesale prices halted their steady climb in April for the first time in 18 months, the government announced Monday. Wholesale prices had risen 2.6 per cent in April, but a sharp drop in prices paid to farmers, but Labor Department officials noted that farm prices always fluctuate according to harvest.

The billing point was that industrial prices, a much more reliable economic indicator, edged up by 0.3 per cent for the fourth month in a row. Assistant Commissioner Joel Popkin of the Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the picture was not as encouraging as it looked on the surface.

Industrial prices represent an area in which the fiscal and monetary policies are less affected by changes in supply," he said. "A good harvest can mean a lot to farm prices; but the industrial 'harvest' is more steady. The government two weeks ago was predicting a decline in the wholesale price index for the first time since August, 1968. But final figures issued Monday showed that farm prices did not drop as much as expected. Still prices fell for live poultry, train and dried fruits and vegetables, livestock.

Disability Payments Liberalized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Monday signed a bill liberalizing disability compensation for veterans in certain hardship cases. The existing law was found to work a hardship in a few cases in which the veteran's disability became worse after his discharge and payments were blocked during a waiting period. The new law permits a veteran to begin receiving the larger payments immediately. In other legislative action Monday: —The Senate passed and sent to the House a permanent extension of the special-milk program for children with an authorization of $120 million a year. —The Senate passed by voice vote and sent to the House a bill to require special packaging of products containing substances harmful to children who might handle or swallow them. —The House approved $12 to $ and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing $527.6 million for the National Science Foundation, $47 million more than the administration asked. The House rejected 18 to 137 an amendment to cut out the extra funds.

Basketball May Save Small Nation Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Through foreign aid and various other programs, the United States has tried to stimulate economic growth in underdeveloped countries of the world. Not all of the results have been notable, but there is one project that now looks extremely promising. It is part of the educational and cultural exchange program and it involves sending American coaches to emerging nations to conduct basketball clinics. Last year, according to records recently submitted to a House appropriations subcommittee, the State Department underwrote basketball clinics in Guinea, Niger, Togo and Mali.

If this keeps up, it shouldn't be long before these countries will be able to lift themselves by their own sweatshops. Potential is Obvious. The potential of basketball as an economic stimulant should be obvious to everyone; examples abound. Earlier this spring to mention a couple, Pete Maravich, a college player, signed a five-year professional contract expected to bring him $1.5 million, and Spencer Haywood, a pro player, signed a new six-year contract for an estimated $1.0 million. Either contract probably exceeds the combined national budgets of Guinea, Niger, Togo and Mali.

So why waste time trying to stimulate industrial or agricultural production in the emerging nations? What they should be producing is basketball players. Once a country has stimulated its economy with a few basketball stars, industrial and agricultural production will take care of itself. Only the First Step. Teaching the emerging nations how to play basketball should only be the first step in the development program, however. Along with the coaches, the State Department should hire genetic experts to teach the natives how to become 7 feet

When the economy of a country is based on basketball,

The ceremony was performed by Hampton Hutton, judge of Superior Court of State of California, a life long friend of the Sapiro family.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white crepe accented at the high neckline and the cuffs of the full sleeves with pearls. It featured an amplexa sashline accented with seed pearls that were carried out to the hem of the dress in the back to give the illusion of a train. Her elbow-length view was held by a lace flower accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of Cymbidium orchids.

Deby Dorrell served as maid of honor, Marilyn Dork, Ellen Bubbick and Nancy Lane were bridesmaids.

Robert Bliss, a classmate of the bridegroom from Occidental College, served as best man. Tom Gardner, also a classmate, Harvey P. Weber and Alan Brittingham served as ushers.

Custom Notes

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American custom of frequent bathing was started around 1778 by Benjamin Franklin, who defied public opposition by bathing twice a week. So reports Houbigant, a perfume firm that has made a study of America's washing habits.

"Our colonial forefathers weren't too keen on bathing, especially in cold weather," the study said. "Some even thought it was harmful to bathe in cold water and passed laws prohibiting people from bathing and installing tubs in their houses."

In Philadelphia, for example, one bath a month was permitted, but anyone who indulged in more work to jail. The method of enforcing this law remains a mystery.

Official Visit Made To Canton, Auxiliary

Brig. Gen. Robert P. Bryan, department commander, Gooding, made his official visit to the Canton Colfax No. 13 of the Patriarch Militant of Twin Falls recently at the Twin Falls Odd Fellows Temple.

A dinner was served by members of the Colfax No. 13 Auxiliary. Tables were decorated in the canton colors, purple and gold, and the emblem of the Department Council.

The Ladies Auxiliary meeting was conducted by Mrs. Dale Bowman, vice president. Among the distinguished guests introduced were Gen. Bryan and his wife, Mildred. Other guests attended from Burley, Hupert, Buhl, Twin Falls and Filer.

The thought for the day was given by Mrs. Myrtle Ball. Reports were made of visits to the sick and shut-ins, cards sent and donations made to community projects. Mrs. Bryan reported on the Northwest Old Fellows meeting at Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Tempa Ellenwood received the surprise gift. In commemoration of the 23rd Anniversary of the auxiliary, Mrs. Anna Letz gave highlights of auxiliary activities.

Gen. Bryan addressed both the canton and auxiliary. A social hour was held after the meetings. The anniversary cake, baked by Mrs. Irene Childers, was served.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 10-year-old brother. He treats our mother terribly. Just today he pushed her into a wall and made her cry. He curses her, and even hits her with his fist. It's the same with the rest of the family. He is always hitting me and my younger sister. Dad knows my brother is mean, but he doesn't know how mean he really is. Dad has an awful temper and we're afraid of what he'll do. Last night my mom told my brother not to go out (my dad wasn't home), but he told her to shut up, and he went out anyway. Please don't condemn a doctor because he wouldn't go. I really feel sorry for my mom. WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your brother is out of control and it will take more than a letter from Dear Abby to straighten him out. I'm sorry for your mother, but no parent loses entirely all at once. Your brother must have been allowed to get away with his bullying tactics some time ago, until finally he has the whole family terrorized. This matters to me far more for the women in your family to handle. Tell Dad and let him handle it!

DEAR ABBY: On a couple of those late (television shows where guests come on and talk, I've seen some transvestites. Transvestites, I understand, are people who dress up in the clothes of the opposite sex, right? Now I have a question to ask you. When a transvestite is dressed up in clothes of the opposite sex, which restroom does he use? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If he's dressed up like a lady, he uses the ladies' room. If she's dressed like a man, she uses the men's room. (But they're very careful.)

DEAR ABBY: Loved your advice to the lady whose problem was noisy-bodies who blurted out her age. Pointed, personal questions are always embarrassing, and create resentment. Recently, I underwent an operation on my tongue, which left me with a slight lisp. Thoughtless people often ask me about this impediment, implying that I am "putting them on."

Q.—"Where did you get that lisp?"

A.—"It is medically known as a partial laryngectomy, an operation of the tongue."

Q.—"Really? Gee, you're lucky it wasn't cancer!"

A.—"It was."

One friend of mine who went thru this routine was so embarrassed he said, "If I had my teeth in, I'd bite off my own tongue."

Your advice to people, often peppy, is a delight to me. I love to listen to your radio program, and I "read you" in more ways than one.

CORDIALLY, JULIET

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DREAMER": Dreams are nothing to be ashamed of. "The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven." [Thank you, John Milton.]

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby, 250 N. LaSalle, Chicago, Ill. 60610. For a personal reply enclose self-addressed envelope.

Banks Hits 500th Homer As Cubs Edge By Atlanta 4-3

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ron Santo bounced a single off shortstop Sonny Jockopp with the bases full and none out in the 11th inning Tuesday to score Don Kessinger and give the Chicago Cubs a 4-3 triumph over the Atlanta Braves.

Santo's hit shared honors with Ernie Banks, who hit his 500th home run and a sacrifice fly to boost his career runs batted in total to 1,691. Banks' performance appeared to be in a losing cause until Billy Williams opened the ninth inning with his 12th homer of the season off Braves reliever Hoyt Wilhelm to tie the game and send it into extra innings.

Rico Carty extended his batting streak to 30 straight games with three singles and Hank Aaron went third and his career hit total remained at 2,955.

Mets 8, Expos 4

NEW YORK (UPI)—Utility outfielder Dave Marshall, playing for the slumping Cleon Jones, collected three doubles, including a two-run, bases-loaded shot in the sixth inning to power the New York Mets to an 8-4 victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday.

Marshall, who has batted only 17 times this season but has collected 11 hits and driven in 10 runs, got his second double in the fifth inning and then scored on Art Shamsky's treaking homer that put the Mets ahead 4-2.

Reds 5, Pirates 3

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Leo May's tie-breaking homer in the seventh inning and Johnny Bench's two-run homer in the ninth propelled the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday night and gave Jim Merritt his seventh win of the season.

Merritt, who has a 5-0 lifetime mark against the Pirates, gave up four hits.

May's homer — a 300-foot liner into the lower deck in right — was the third hit off loser Steve Blass, who was taken out for a pinchhitter after seven innings. It was May's ninth homer and snapped a 2-2 tie. Bench's ninth-inning homer added two runs.

500th Was 18 Years In Coming

CHICAGO (UPI)—It took 18 years, and Ernie Banks remembered something about almost all of them when he hit his 500th major-league home run and reached 1,600 major-league runs batted in.

He became the 500th player ever to reach the 500 home run figure Tuesday and the 12th to hit in 1,000 runs. But when the figures were attained, at the age of 38, Banks cavorted in the outfield long after the game was over, shouting "I feel like I'm 12 years old!" and leaping and clicking his heels.

Banks almost performed heroics in a losing cause. His homer came in the second inning against Pat Jarvis, and Banks explained the fact that his blow came "against an established pitcher."

Astros 8, L.A. 3

Rader's homer, his seventh of the season, came in the seventh inning and put the Astros in front 4-3; breaking a tie. Houston batted around in the eighth, adding four more runs and driving Dodger starter Alan Foster from the mound. Foster took his third loss against two victories.

Don Wilson made a shaky start for the Astros, walking five men and hitting a batter in the first four innings, but grew stronger as the game wore on. He got the victory for his first decision of the season, with ninth inning help from Fred Gladding.

Cards 9, Phils 5

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Joe Hague and Richie Allen drove in four runs each Tuesday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals an 9-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Hague cleared the bases with a pinch-hit double in the third and drove home an insurance run with a sacrifice fly in the fifth. Allen drove in runs with a double in the first, a two-run homer in the fifth and a ground out in the sixth.

Partners File Suit Against Eagles' Owner
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Three partners of Philadelphia Eagles owner Leonard H. Tose filed suit Tuesday charging he is violating an ownership agreement they made when they invested money to buy the club.

S.D. 6, Giants 5

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The San Diego Padres scored four times in the fourth-inning Tuesday night to build up a 6-1 lead and then hung on with stout late-inning relief help from right-hander Tom Duker to trim the San Francisco Giants 6-5.

Duker took over for starter Mike Corkins in the seventh after Willie McCovey had hit his 10th home run with the bases empty for the fifth Giant run.

San Francisco's home run was scored by Willie McCovey in the seventh. The win, the extra innings, the threat of rain which made it appear that the game wouldn't be played, disappeared before Banks' enthusiasm and pleasure.

Resignation Of McNease Asked By Idaho Board

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—The facts presented to him should be stated before McNease.

Ed Knecht, director of Athletics, said he "concurred" with the recommendation of the Board and said he was seeking administrative approval to act accordingly.

"I will be prepared to take action regarding the decision whatever it may be," Knecht said. Hartung, in New York Tuesday, said deliberation may be delayed by the recent death of president emeritus Donald R. Theophilus.

"It may be Friday before I'll have an opportunity to review the matter with coach McNease," Hartung said. McNease, 33, has guided the Vandals the past two seasons, running up a 5-5 record in 1968 and a 2-5 mark in 1969. He came to Idaho highly recommended from the University of Michigan where he was an assistant to "Bump" Elliott. He also coached at Wichita State and the University of Texas at El Paso.

Class A-1 Field Event Finals Will Highlight Opening Of State Meet

A classy class A-1 pole vaulting field that includes five men that have been over 14 feet will headline the first Idaho state track and field championships held in Twin Falls Friday evening.

The two-day affair will bring together the top athletes of all three divisions with four Class A-1 champions to be crowned Friday night. While the A-1 finals in the pole vault, high jump, broad jump and shotput are being run off starting at 7 p.m., the sprinters and hurdlers from the three classifications will run through preliminaries. The prelims will include 100, 200, and 400-yard dashes and both hurdles. The finalists will go for state honors Saturday.

Saturday will be a day-long carnival with the mile, two mile and medley relay finals all being run in the morning while the A-1 and A-2 field events are being completed.

The pole vault should be the Friday night crowd pleaser if for no other reason than the standards are immediately in front of the stands.

Twin Falls junior Billy Miller, who soared 15 feet, 3 inches two weeks ago and held the nation's prep best at that time, heads the list. He is joined by 14-footers in teammate Jack Robertson, two Nampans in Larren Bailey and Brad Weidenbach and Lewiston's Gary Corder. The state mark is 14.1, set by Howerton of Highland last year.

Sports Hunters Told To Withhold Applications

By LARRY HOVEY Times-News Sports Editor
The threat of mercury poisoning from eating Idaho pheasants and other upland birds seems to be a hazard that's not quite as real as first believed and rather short lived.

The Department of Agriculture, in a letter received by the Idaho Fish and Game Department Tuesday, indicates the use of mercury solutions as fungus retardants will be banned. Agriculture, it seems, is capable of finding an adequate replacement without much trouble.

The use of mercury solution soaking is a rather old practice but the possible hazard to human life wasn't happened upon until last year when Alberta found mercury residue in game birds. That province ended its season right there and western states began investigating their upland birds.

Several found pheasants with mercury residue and it seems entirely probable that partridges, mourning doves and quail were in the same shape. Idaho picked up several birds out of freezers around the state and found some had mercury in them. This led to the initial announcement, which was a precaution. But the department continued with its probe and turned up six birds from the Boise area and a few from the eastern part of the state that were mercury free.

At the same time the department found some "super pheasant eaters" around the state who volunteered to undergo examination—Urino and blood samples compared to a control group that had eaten no upland meat, proved the pheasant chombers to be free of residue.

The probability of getting a high mercury-loaded bird always was rather remote. The optimum life expectancy of a pheasant is faced at about 18 months. The mercury threat was real only at time of planting, meaning that with the exception of some possible winter wheat, the young birds chances of picking up many soaked kernels was small. Also, with the short life span, it would be rare if any bird got to really build up a mercury supply.

From that standpoint, perhaps ducks, and we haven't heard of any real study being made on them, pose a greater hazard as mallards like to eat seed grain. And they have a much longer life span.

Larry Drexler, Twin Falls, read the bill of the thing at Tuesday's Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association meeting. Summarized it goes like this: The bill prohibits introduction of any waste or pollutant in a navigable stream. Should any individual discover such abuse, he can go immediately to a U.S. attorney who is required to take immediate and "vigorous" corrective action. The bill calls for a $5,000 per day fine against the offender with all fine money going to the informant.

Should the U.S. attorney fail to bring action against the offender, the bill allows the informant to bring such action in the name of the U.S. government and the fines again revert to him.

This thing is being checked out now by lawyers and if it is true, private and public interests are being better served by environmental management to slow down and keep control. There are a lot of people around who'd blow the whistle simply for the money — let alone the number of conservation groups that would be it just for the sheer joy of it.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. Paul (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings Tuesday announced the signing of running back Jim Lindsay to his 1970 contract.

Draw Hunts For South Hills Deer Suggested By Wildlife Biologist

A proposal to return the entire South Hills-Brown's Bench area to permit hunting was sound-boarded off the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association Tuesday night by Idaho Fish and Game Biologist Dale Turnpseed.

Turnpseed, regional biologist, outlined several big game season proposals for Magic Valley units, all aimed at improving game management. Turnpseed emphasized the ideas were only recommendations that would be forwarded to the fish and game commission for review and acceptance or rejection.

Turnpseed said the idea of returning to permits on the southern tier of Idaho hills was intended to increase the deer herd in Unit 54 (Cassia). The Spartans added single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings to pin the loss on Frank Sprague.

Turnpseed said his recommendations would be 2,500 permits on the Cassia with 1,300 on Unit 55, 2,000 on Unit 56 and 400 on Unit 57. The season would run over three weekends.

The Brown's Bench area will be a compromise with landowner complaints that hunting pressure had increased of late to the point that private land "in areas where you have similar adjoining lands, you the deer herd was being over-harvested." He said checking making some changes in the station at Rogerson last year.

Turnpseed said his recommendations would be 2,500 permits on the Cassia with 1,300 on Unit 55, 2,000 on Unit 56 and 400 on Unit 57. The season would run over three weekends.

Coors To Build $1.5 Million Warehouse West Of Burley

BURLEY — Construction of a huge barley storage facility near Burley by the Adolph Coors Co. of Golden, Colo., and signing of contracts with 127 growers in the Magic Valley marks the beginning of a new era in grain growing for the valley which may ultimately result in $15 million additional income.

The Coors Company is looking to Idaho growers to produce malting barley in large quantities, supplementing the nearly saturated growing acreage in Colorado which produced barley worth $10 million in 1969. The $1.5 million storage facility near Burley is their first step, according to a company spokesman.

The storage facility, 900 feet long, 110 feet wide and built on a 95-acre site three miles west of Burley, with construction to begin immediately. The warehouse will have a capacity of three million bushels of barley.

The building will be divided into two 450-foot compartments with a 60-foot machinery bay between containing equipment to air-condition the storage facilities and to clean the barley as it is brought in. The first compartment, capable of storing 1.5 million bushels, will be ready for use by late 1971, with completion of the entire unit slated by November, 1972.

Both railroad and trucking facilities will be used, with a spur planned to nearby Union Pacific tracks. Weighing facilities will be available for both rail and truck shipments.

Wood River Group Pushing To Make White Clouds Area National Park

KETCHUM — Russ Brown and John Merriam, representing the Idaho Falls chapter of the Greater Sawtooth Preservation Council, addressed a well-attended public information meeting of the newly organized Wood River chapter in Ketchum recently.

The speakers noted that the council is presently supporting a bill to make the high Alpine regions in the White Clouds area into a national park, with the lower regions becoming a National Recreation Area. The proposal is the seventh such for the White Clouds area since 1911.

Mr. Brown said that the advantage to the park proposal is that it would not wipe out mining claims although the park proposal would establish stringent requirements for roads to the area and for reparation of damage done. A permit also has automatic condemnation authorities whereby park officials may condemn a mine site and buy the owner out without the owner's consent. Under the existing forest condition, the Forest Service must have the owner's consent. During the controversy concerning the White Clouds area, Mr. Brown said, one of the main arguments of the mining industry is that only wealthy people are able to visit the scenic areas there anyway. He refuted the statement by showing slides of people hiking to the area.

A fact sheet was presented which compared the mining industry's side of the issue to that of those favoring the park proposal. The park proponents noted that the long term value of the park and recreational use of the area is greater than that of mining, while mining-related minerals must be mined where it is economical.

Mr. Brown concluded by noting that areas such as White Clouds are in short supply nationally, covering only two percent of the country, and that the demand will be far greater than the supply in the immediate future.

Fast Train Service Is Successful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — During the past 15 months, more than one million passengers have traveled between New York and Washington aboard new, high-speed trains called Metroliners.

The stainless steel trains, operated by the Penn Central Railroad, make six round trips a day. Hitting speeds up to 120 miles an hour, they make the trip in just under three hours with intermediate stops at Baltimore, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Trenton and Newark. If you're lucky enough to get a club car seat (which has to be reserved well in advance, because the demand is so great) — you can have an excellent meal served at your seat, just as on airlines. Coach passengers can get drinks and sandwiches — remarkably good and reasonable in price — from conveniently located snack bars.

Amazing Discoveries

The most amazing discoveries in any passenger old enough to remember what conventional passenger trains are like is that Metroliners are spotlessly clean, the seats are comfortable, the service is courteous and — miracle of miracles — the chances are 9 out of 10 that you'll leave and arrive on time.

The enthusiastic public response would seem to refute, once and for all, the cherished contention of some railroad executives that there's no demand for rail passenger service in America.

Railroads have been using that argument for years to justify abandoning passenger services. They've never been willing to acknowledge that the lack of demand might reflect the abominably poor service inflicted on the traveling public by most conventional passenger trains.

The Penn Central, not noted for pioneering, was lured into the Metroliner experiment by the promise of a $10 million federal subsidy. The subsidy payments have not yet begun, because Penn Central still hasn't brought the service up to the standards set by the government.

RETIRED TEACHERS MEET

The Retired Teachers of District 1 will meet at the Roundup Room of the Rogerson Hotel at 12:30 p.m. Friday. There will be a program and officers will be installed. Those attending should bring a copy of the state constitution. Dues will be paid at the Friday meeting.

Bulldozed

PALERMO, Sicily (UPI) — Deputy Mayor Beniamino Natoli of Utica was sentenced to six months in jail Monday for misappropriating the town bull. The pedigree bull was given to the town by the Sicilian regional government to help improve island cattle. Utica officials had the bull declared impotent and sold it.

Metropac Service Popular

Response to Metropac, the new service that makes many calls within Magic Valley local calls, has been extremely favorable according to K. G. Mann, district manager for Mountain Bell.

The new service, which became effective May 1, cut in with over 1,600 customers in the Magic Valley area.

Nearly 200 customers in the Buhl area, almost 300 in the Jerome area, over 350 in the Gooding-Shoshone area, and over 400 in Twin Falls subscribed to Metropac by May 1. Murtough, Eden, and Hazelton customers were heavy subscribers, with over 300 users recorded in these areas.

Customers were still calling to subscribe at a heavier than anticipated rate late this week, Mann added. The local office was pointing out that calls must be dialed the same as in the past, but after the call is recorded it will be "dicked out" by the computer and not billed.

Calls must be dialed to apply under Metropac, Mann stated. Any calls requiring operator assistance, personal collection, credit card, etc., will be billed at the regular rate.

We are extremely pleased with the response to this new service, the first of its kind in Idaho, Mann concluded.

Jazz Musician Johnny Hodges Passes In N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alto saxophonist Johnny Hodges, 63, a master of the alto saxophone who traveled the world with Duke Ellington's band, died in New York Monday after collapsing in a dentist's office.

Hodges was a Down Beat poll winner every year from 1940 to 1949 and his smooth tones won critical praise from jazz fans.

Hodges, whose full name was John Cornelius Hodges, was born in Cambridge, Mass., and was a member of the "old school" of New Orleans jazz musicians, who taught himself how to play and rose to the top with the great jazz bands of his day.

Nicknamed "Habbit," Hodges was given the first sax and lessons by Sidney Bechet, a New Orleans musician. He joined the Ellington band in 1928 and was with the Duke for all but five years, playing in most of the nations of the world.

Hodges was a featured soloist at many jazz "festivals" and services which were performed by the Duke in churches around the nation in the 1960s.

Timber Aid Sought By Samuelson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson asked the Nixon administration Monday to formulate new plans to alleviate the "critical" situation facing Idaho and northwest lumber industries.

Samuelson was called to the White House Monday, along with governors of other states, to discuss reaction to the Nixon announcement of the Cambodian war policy.

Samuelson spent a four-hour session with Nixon, Secretary of State William Rogers and military personnel in a briefing on the Cambodian situation.

"I firmly backed the President's decision," Samuelson said.

Samuelson also told Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin and Undersecretary Dr. Thomas Cowden the lumber situation was "tough and critical" and said relief would be "mandatory" in the near future. Samuelson conferred with Hardin and his staff about the governor's proposal to change wheat allotment regulations.

Usury Suit Re-Filed By Silva

BOISE (UPI)—State Finance Commissioner John D. Silva refiled his credit card usury suit against Idaho First National Bank and the "controlling" currency in Federal Court Monday.

This time, Silva charged that a comptroller's ruling that permits national banks to charge interest rates equivalent to small loan companies is an infringement on his right to enforce state banking laws.

Idaho law, he contends, prohibits banks from charging more than 11.5 per cent a year and does not extend to banks the higher rates permitted small loan companies.

Silva's complaint, amended after a federal judge questioned an earlier one filed in U.S. District Court, alleges the bank charges 18 per cent interest annually on its Master Charge credit cards.

It alleges further that such a violation "will impair the soundness of the state banking system" for which he, as commissioner, is responsible.

Silva said that unless he is permitted to enforce Idaho's banking laws, the competitive equality in the area of interest rates for state and national banks intended by Congress will be destroyed or state banks will be forced to follow a national standard, contrary to congressional intent.

He asks the court to declare Idaho First National is exacting a rate of interest contrary to federal and state laws and to prohibit the comptroller of the currency from enforcing a ruling contrary to state and federal laws.

Silva also asks permanent injunctions against both the bank and the comptroller of the currency.

Small Business Subcontractor Of Year Named

The Rocket Research Corp. of Redmond, Wash., won the government's regional Small Business Subcontractor of the Year award, the SBA announced today.

SBA's regional director, Forbes M. Bruce, said the Rocket Research Corp. "won the regional competition for the firm's superior performance in sophisticated space hardware."

This subcontractor has developed new products for advanced space systems which will be considered in present and future space programs.

The competition, initiated by the SBA, involved firms from Washington, Alaska, Idaho and Oregon. All names were submitted by major prime contractors engaged in federal procurement work.

Rocket Research will be honored at special ceremonies Tuesday on Redmond.

Airlines' Rate Hike Is Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Monday turned down a request by three airlines to raise most domestic passenger fare rates on 747 jumbo jets by 5 per cent.

The board told the carriers—American, United and Trans World Airlines—that most costs associated with introducing the huge new planes should be capitalized and written off over an extended period rather than charged directly to passengers.

The CAB also denied a request by the same three airlines, plus Braniff and Continental, to boost their fares by 5 per cent during summer months when passenger loads are heaviest.

Bennett's TWIN FALLS GLASS & PAINT 1863 ADDISON AVE. EAST TWIN FALLS

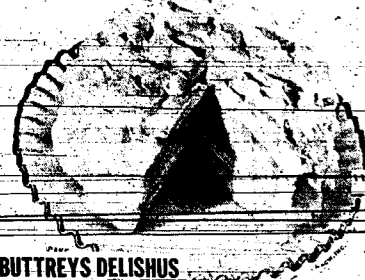

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Supreme Court on Monday rejected a bid by the National Labor Relations Board to open a new round of hearings on the scheduled opening of the steel industry to competition on Friday. Mr. Nixon had announced the opening this week, and had arranged an opening for Monday, but the inclemently wet weather, coupled with an involved parking lot which turned into a sea of mud, forced a delay in the opening. The sporting goods outlet will carry a full line of equipment and clothing associated with sports of all kinds. Mr. Nixon said. It is contemplated that other retail outlets will be in the area, including an all-night grocery store and other shops, forming a "retail strip" shopping center.

Bad Luck Breaks South's Spirit

Bridge score table with columns for NORTH, WEST, SOUTH, EAST and various card counts.

The king and one burdle had been p... South came back to his hand with a second club and led a spade to dummy's 10. West just might hold both the queen and jack and no matter what happened there was a sure spade loser.

South's six no-trump bid shows the disease of no-trump in its most virulent form: He had a book no-trump but with 16 high card points he had an absolute minimum. Furthermore, there was not one 10 or nine in his hand to back up his higher cards. He should have been happy to pass at four no-trump.

East won with the jack and returned the queen. South in dummy, led a diamond to his ace. Finessed dummy's jack of diamonds, cashed the last club and the last heart and finally tried a third diamond and a third spade. If the suit broke 3-3, he would have had 12 tricks. If either East or West had started with four cards in both those suits a squeeze would have developed. As it was he was down one.

North's four no-trump call is a book bid also. With 16 high card points of his own North wants to be in a slam if his partner holds a maximum no-trump and is willing to play at four opposite a minimum.

South knew all this but bid the slam anyway. His own great ability was worth at least one trick and maybe his partner should have bid six anyway.

TODAY'S QUESTION

South gave the hand the old college try. He won the club lead in his own hand and promptly led the queen of hearts. West covered with...
