Fistfights Break Out In Kassel

KASSEL, West Germany (UPI)—Fistfights broke out today between pro and anti-Communist, preventing East German Premier Willi Stoph from laying a wreath at the West German city's monument to the victims of Nazism and casting a pall over his visit. Stoph, making the first visit to West Germany, by an East German premier, ran earlier into anti-Communist jeers from a crowd that shouted "murderer" as he drove through the streets with West German Chancellor Willy Brandt. One man threw himself across the hood of his car.

Georgia Marching Continues

JACKSON, Miss., school officials ordered public schools closed today and Friday because of a "tense situation" resulting from the killings of two Negro youths last week at Jackson State College. In Washington, a delegation of Negro college presidents told President Nixon his civil rights policies have helped cause much of the nation's racial turmoil.

Copper Ore Found In Utah

ANACONDA, Montana (UPI)—Anacoda Co. said Wednesday it has encountered high-grade copper mineralization on lands it owns about 20 miles south of Salt Lake City. C. Jay Parkinson, chairman, told shareholders at the annual meeting the mineralized zones occur at depths that would require underground mining. He said the company is conducting further exploration to determine whether a large-scale mining operation is feasible. Test drillings showed ore grades of 1 1/2 to 3 per cent, he said.

Koreans, Soldiers In Fight

SEOUL (UPI)—Rock-hurling South Korean residents clashed with American GIs for about five hours Wednesday night at the frontlines village of Champan, about 25 miles north of Seoul, police said today. Two Negro soldiers assaulted a South Korean farmer, a police spokesman said. The farmer suffered four broken teeth. About 15 South Korean residents surrounded the attacker, the spokesman said. When a policeman tried to arrest the GIs about 80 other U.S. soldiers intervened and helped them escape in a U.S. jeep, according to the spokesman. The second group of hundreds of rock-throwing things, the spokesman added. The spokesman said the Korean and U.S. authorities are investigating the incident.

Dates

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Fish and Game Commission met Wednesday to set big game seasons for 1970 and heard out hunters' and the big game industry's views on the matter. The commission will set dates for the season opening will be set today and Friday, Game officials reported. Dates of deer and antelope seasons are normal and the outlook for the hunt is good.

Nixon Withdrawal Speech Termed Lie

PARIS (UPI)—The Viet Cong delegate to the Paris peace talks accused President Nixon today of lying in his April 20 speech when he announced U.S. troop withdrawals. Instead, he said, Nixon sent 5,000 American reinforcements in Vietnam last April. The Viet Cong and their North Vietnamese allies backed the charge at today's 67th weekly session with a warning they will fight until "total victory" against the United States. Again, the Communist delegates refused to engage in any negotiations. U. S. Ambassador Philip C. Habib urged Hanoi and the Viet Cong to open "meaningful negotiations" on major issues before the conference including mutual troop withdrawal and the handling of the prisoner of war issue as he has done for months.

everywhere else in the world would be cut off without a nickel. While no one in Congress has even remotely suggested that as a tactic to get out of Vietnam or to break a filibuster, it does give the backers of the Cooper-Church amendment a sizable lever to force a showdown vote. If the end of June approached and Congress had not appropriated any money for the war because of a filibuster of the Cooper-Church resolution, then there would be a crisis of incalculable proportions. The Constitution clearly states that not a dime can be withdrawn from the Treasury for guns, butter or anything else unless Congress has appropriated the money.

Filibuster May Delay War Cost Bill Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An apparent Senate majority demanding quick withdrawal of U. S. forces from Cambodia may not get the chance to write their wishes into law. But they have an ace in the hole to counter a threatened filibuster. Opponents of legislation to cut off funds for the Cambodian venture made it clear Wednesday they would hold up a vote on the measure at least until American forces are withdrawn. That would practically nullify the effect of the amendment since its chief purpose is to hold President Nixon to his promise to get out of Cambodia by June 30.

Light Plane Crash Kills 7 In Oregon

LA GRANDE, Ore. (UPI)—The bodies of seven persons were brought here Wednesday from a burned wreckage after a helicopter hovered for the pickup in a nearby rugged mountain area.

Middle Snake Use Is Backed

WEISER (UPI)—The president of the Southwestern Idaho Development Association said Wednesday opponents of multi-pipe development on the middle Snake River want to sacrifice benefits for all Idahoans "on the altar of selfish privilege for a fortunate few." George H. Blinning, Weiser, said everyone in the state stood to gain in one way or another from Idaho's participation in development proposed by certain public and private power companies, including Idaho Power Co. The SIDA has endorsed middle Snake development proposed by the power groups, which propose cooperative construction of Low Mountain Sheep and Pleasant Valley dams and have also outlined a concept for recreational use of the area.

New York Burglars Nabbed

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—Six alleged members of a "king" syndicate of burglarizing 15 post offices in the New York City and Schenectady areas since last August were arrested early Wednesday by Long Island police and U.S. postal inspectors. Those arrested were identified as Mrs. Agnes Lobello, 51-year-old waitress and her two truck-driver sons, Joseph, 26, and Vincent, 24, and Malcolm Austin, 24, a decorator, James Lauria, 19, a barber, all of Valley Stream, N.Y., and John Verrastro, 30, of New York City. During the raids—which resulted in the arrests, Nassau County police and the federal agents seized more than a dozen handguns, rifles and pistols. Postal Inspector George Forster said the loot included several hundred thousand dollars in stamps and cash and an undetermined amount of bank postal money orders. The stamps were sold to "fences," Forster said, with the burglars paid 65 to 70 per cent of their face value.

Exchange Head And Nixon Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon summoned Chairman Bernard Lasker of the New York Stock Exchange to the White House today—less than 24 hours after news that the cost of living rose again last month and the stock market fell to its lowest point in seven years. Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien attacked Nixon's economic policies, which he called "Nixonomics," and made it plain the Democrats will stress the state of the economy in this year's election campaign. "Nixonomics means that all the things that should go up—the stock market, corporate profits, real dependable income, productivity—go down, and all the things that should go down—unemployment, prices, interest rates—go up," O'Brien said in a speech prepared for the Woman's National Democratic Club, which he addressed today. The Labor Department reported the Cost of Living Index rose another 0.6 per cent in April to 104 per cent of the 1967 average. This means it cost $14.40 in April to buy the same goods and services that could have been obtained for $13.32 in March and $12.44 a little more than a decade ago.

Garbage

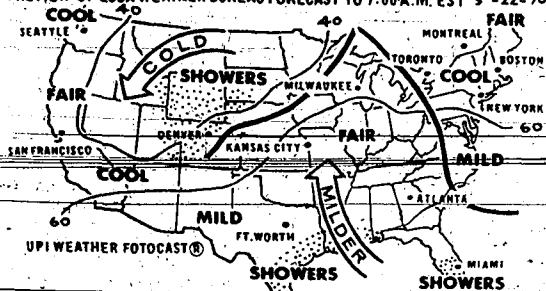

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With garbage piling up on the streets in the fourth day of a strike by sanitation workers, the District of Columbia planned to start handing out 750,000 large plastic bags today so residents will have something in which to stuff their trash. Negotiations between the district government and 1,700 sanitation workers have failed to produce an agreement in the workers' demand for better wages and working conditions, and an end to alleged discrimination in promotion policies.

Weather Synopsis

The low pressure system which has been over the western United States during the past few days has moved to east of the Continental Divide and pressures are rising over the Northern Intermountain Region. Although some shower or thundershower activity will continue over the eastern Idaho today, generally fair weather will be the rule over the remainder of Southern-Idaho and East Central Oregon through Friday.

Farm and other outside activities should be able to make good progress in the Lower Malheur and Southwestern Idaho Valleys through Friday, but some delays may be suffered in Southeastern Idaho due to muddy fields. Although irrigation needs have been reduced in the happy valley area westward through Deer Flats in Southwestern Idaho by showers during the past couple of days, water loss from crops has continued to increase over the remainder of the Lower Malheur, Magic and Southwestern Idaho valleys. Surface winds will continue gusty in Southeastern Idaho today and increase somewhat in the western valleys by this afternoon.

High temperatures today will be mostly in the 60s and low 70s on Friday. Low readings tonight will be in the 30s and low 40s. Some protection of fruit trees may be needed tonight in the colder draws and pockets of Southwestern Idaho.

The extended weather outlook for Saturday through Monday indicates partly cloudy skies with chance of a few showers Saturday afternoon. High temperatures will be in the 70s and low 80s, with minimums in the 40s.

Walker Stresses Education

CALDWELL (UPI) — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Lloyd Walker said Wednesday the state must put more emphasis on quality of education.

Walker, speaking to the Caldwell Lions Club at a luncheon, said citizens of Idaho and the current administration should look to the future.

The Twin Falls resident said there had been too much concern "with just building classrooms and curricula at the universities and not in building a permanent, high quality university system."

"It is time to quit treating our state supported schools as branches of the various chambers of Commerce," he added.

Walker called for a board, independent from the appointed state board of education, to supervise the universities.

He said it would assure the high quality of education and independence of universities because it would be "lumping from the political struggles that have constantly plagued the state board of education in the past and would insure the high quality of education that we all desire."

State May Drop Count Of Arson

LEWISTON (UPI) — The state charge of third degree arson against Joseph Edwin Schock, 22, Lewiston, will be dropped shortly, according to Roy Mosman, Nez Perce County prosecutor.

Schock was indicted Tuesday by a federal grand jury at Boise on a charge of destruction of government property in connection with the fire at the Army National Guard motor pool here May 6.

Mosman said Wednesday the state charge against the ex-marine and student at the University of Idaho would be dropped in deference to the federal charge but could be reinstated at a later date.

In the kidnapping at the motor pool, 25 national guard trucks valued at $250,000 were destroyed and several others damaged.

The grand jury also indicted Byron Dean Allen, 21, Lapwai, on a charge of murder in the stabbing death of Gilbert Johnson, 67, on the Nespeque Indian Reservation.

Johnson, who was blind, was found stabbed to death in a shed near his home about a week after he died. An autopsy revealed he had been stabbed 68 times.

Allen was arrested by FBI agents several days after the body was discovered and was being held in the Nezperce County Jail without bond.

Gambler's Money Is Returned

NEW YORK (UPI) — To make a five-year-long story short, Emilio Pizzarello got his $100,000 back from the government Wednesday minus $2,000 taken by state and federal tax agents.

"I am very glad it is over," the 33-year-old Mount Vernon luncheonette owner told newsmen. "It was a long fight."

There was $126,882 in Pizzarello's safe when he was arrested in 1965 on charges of bookmaking and gambling to buy a $50 federal gambling tax stamp. The government claimed it all.

But former Assistant U.S. Attorney James Starkey went to bat for Pizzarello — all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court — and when the Justices set the federal gambling tax had been ruled unconstitutional and the government had agreed to accept the odd $26,882 in payment of other tax claims.

That should have left a round $100,000 for Pizzarello, but at the last moment a state tax collector turned up to claim $1,600 in sales taxes and the Internal Revenue Service took about $500 for withholding tax on Pizzarello's employe.

The driver was pinned under the front of the Ford. Mr. Shields was not injured.

Richfield School Has Graduation

RICHFIELD — Lou Babb, state American Legion official, was commencement speaker for Richfield high school Tuesday night at the high school auditorium.

He told the 22 seniors, and a capacity crowd, of the benefits in America which include freedom of religion, the best educational system in the world, chance for personal advancement, and freedom of speech, although now being used by many to promote anarchy and incite riots as well as restrict the freedom of others.

He said the young people of this country would see to the recognition of "present" institutions which are now being victimized by the inflationary price rigging by influential companies which is hurting the image of America.

Norlyn Pope gave the valedictory speech on "Peace, Adornment in Man." John Lezamis, salutatorian, talked on "The Voice of Youth."

Olympus Chorus To Sing Here

Residents of Magic Valley will have an opportunity to hear one of the outstanding male vocal groups of the Intermountain Region Friday and Saturday nights at the LDS Stake Tabernacle, 600 Harrison St.

The Olympus Male Chorus of Salt Lake City will perform here Friday and Saturday at 8:10 p.m. in the tabernacle. The traveling group consists of 40 to 50 voices and members are residents of the Salt Lake City area, engaged in various occupations.

Local church officials said the visit here is the annual spring outing of the group and they will be playing golf and touring the country around Magic Valley while making their two appearances.

Officials noted the opportunity to bring the musical group to Twin Falls is an unusual one, as they are in demand in their local area and must limit their engagements there.

A nominal charge to the public will go to the local LDS Church as the touring vocalists pay their own travel expense. They are sponsored by the Quorum of Seventy.

Magic Valley Gets Jet Age Transport

Jet age transportation comes to Magic Valley today. The new era entered on the wings of an Air West Super DC-9 Twinjet as the airline began the first pure jet service to Magic Valley through the Twin Falls City-County Airport.

Don Cooper, Idaho district sales manager for Air West, said the new schedule calls for north and south bound mid-afternoon departures. The southbound flight includes stops at Salt Lake City, Las Vegas and Los Angeles.

Mr. Cooper said the southbound trip would reach Las Vegas at prime check-in time for major casino hotels and in plenty of time for a full evening of Las Vegas style entertainment.

Continuing to serve the Magic Valley will be four Air West jet prop flights daily. Morning F-27 flights will serve Boise and Salt Lake City while evening trips will stop at Pocatello, Idaho and Los Angeles. The flights arrive at Los Angeles and Seattle in time for excellent connecting flights to Hawaii and the Orient.

Established connections at Salt Lake City area also in time for Air West flight arrivals from Twin Falls.

Prosecutor Candidate Challenged

One of the first challenges of the current political season was issued Thursday when Leon Smith, candidate for the Republican nomination for prosecuting attorney, called on the Democratic hopeful to explain his stand on criminal defense.

Mr. Smith declared, "I challenge the Democratic candidate to tell the public where he stands on one of the main issues of the time. That issue is: Does the criminal have more rights than society?"

The Republican emphasized that Golden Bennett, Democrat, has a practice largely of criminal defense with reference to this, Mr. Smith said, "I think Mr. Bennett has on many occasions overzealously sought to protect the criminals by use of technicalities. I believe a lawyer owes a duty to his client but he also owes a duty to society."

"In my opinion, society's interest must be protected as well as those of the accused. Justice must always be tempered with discretion. If I am elected prosecutor this is the way I will proceed. How will you proceed, Mr. Bennett?"

Smith was usually over the criminal cases because you observe some technical irregularity?" the Republican hopeful asked.

Democrats Certify More Candidates

Two additional Democratic candidates have been certified by the County Democratic Central Committee and will appear on the August primary ballot in Twin Falls County.

Mr. Clough, Statewide Adjustors Inc. filed his petition Tuesday for the office of state representative from District 24. He was a candidate in the general election in 1966 and after receiving write-in votes in the primary, but was defeated by the Republican candidates.

Mr. Clough is also an accountant and works largely as an insurance adjuster, finance officer and insurance inspector. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Shriners and Scottish Rite Masons. He is also active in finance organizations including the American Collectors' and Idaho Collectors' Association, International Police Congress, Allied Finance Conference and Time Finance.

He is also a partner in a farming operation and his home is located near Curry.

Another candidate certified by the committee for the August primary is Herman Jewell, 42 Jefferson St., who is seeking the office of county coroner.

The New Philippine Threat

MANILA — The deepening threat to the Philippines from the revived Communist guerrilla movement stems not from its members (scanty) or exploits (unspectacular) but from the government's inadequate response.

classically ideal situation for guerrilla warfare: low public confidence in the government, exploitation of the poor by an oligarchical class, constant political turmoil.

justification for a 50,000-man army. To defend its budget before Congress, the army has enlarged on truth by putting Huk strength in excess of 2,000 (termed "budgetary Huks") by Manila's political insiders.

The Need Now

In a letter to the Toledo Courier of Kent - Ravenna, Ohio, three assistant professors of English and one professor of library science at Kent State University roundly castigate the newspaper for having attacked student hoodliganism in an editorial.

rally in Wall Street a few days ago. America's students are motivated by "a sense of impotence and rage and frustration," say the professors.

Those who should be denounced, write the professors, "are not the handful of militant radicals who burned down an ROTC timbered but the warriors who have ordered and still order now the burning down of entire countries.

Unfortunately, the attack had all the earmarks of the kind of "putsch" made famous by Adolph Hitler's Brown-shirts.

The four slain students were "murdered by proxy," they declare, not by skittish National Guardsmen "but by a burgeoning fascist regime, preoccupied with self-aggrandizement and profit, that emanates from Washington and is generally infecting the rest of the country."

One can imagine what the reaction of the professors would have been had President Nixon announced an immediate withdrawal of all U. S. troops from Vietnam and, as a result, misguided but sincere right-wing radicals had protested his "betrayal" of the national honor by burning down the Kent State English department.

Just getting warmed up, the professors go on to induct the "imperialistic racist insanity that is prevailing in America," "the insensate brutality of current American policies" and the "quasi-patriots who are leading the country straight down the road to hell."

They would have been the first to holler: "Police! National Guard! Stop these bums!

Space permits more excerpts from this somewhat less than tightly reasoned document, but stomach does not. It must be noted, however, that the professors did not forget to accuse the newspaper editors of "cant," "inflammatory half truths," "political propaganda" and "pat cliches."

And they would have been right. It is time to cease indulging our various rages and frustrations, before the "handful of militant radicals" becomes a majority — on both sides.

Now, it is intensely exhilarating to be consumed with the burning fire of righteous zeal. The only trouble with that feeling, however, is that it is dangerous fuel on which to try to run a country.

It is time to recognize that no one has a corner on either righteousness or evil, and to concede to others, including our elected leaders, at least a modicum of the same basic decency and humanity we readily accord to ourselves.

Certainly zeal was amply demonstrated by New York construction workers in their bloody disruption of a peaceful antiwar

Those whose profession is the teaching of the proper use of the native tongue and an appreciation of the heights reached in it by great writers and thinkers of the present and past could do much to foster this process.

MR. SPECTATOR

Hate-Engendering

If it is legitimate to call all policemen "pigs" then college students can't complain if they are called "bums," as they were by President Nixon during a visit to workers in the Pentagon.

Free speech means careful and skeptical listening, not taking a rhetorical trip. Free expression includes, especially on the university, the duty to oppose cant, dogma and ideological harangue by reasoned and disciplined counter-argument. The crowd that turns into a mob is an insult to the principles of democratic society, and it is a moral insult to the fundamentals of a university.

But if there is one thing we ought by now to have learned from this country's restless and frustrated youth, it is that hate, of which name calling is both a symptom and a weapon, only generates more hate.

EAR TO OIL: The U. S. Bureau of Mines is working to perfect a method of turning garbage into oil. So far research chemists at the bureau's Coal Research Center in Pittsburgh have been able to make one barrel of crude oil from a ton of urban refuse, after objects such as cans and bottles were removed.

If there is one thing every American, from the President and Vice-President on down, can do to help heal the terrible wounds inflicted on the national soul, it is now and forever to dismiss the temptation to fling these labels against one another.

As for college students, they could do worse than begin by heeding some words spoken recently by Charles Hitch, president of the University of California, a school which has seen its share of trouble. He said: "As the president of the university, I must lay down the warning to the university community that it is wrong to resort to easy rationalizations about the impotence of words. We really do not believe that words are impotent. The foundation of universities is that ideas and the words to express them can be more powerful than any bomb."

In the university, above all other institutions of American society, we have a profound duty to resist the opposite tendency to fling these labels against one another.

If the process can be made commercially feasible, it will enable us to tap a vast "New" resource. There is not, as we all know, any shortage of garbage or carbon monoxide — even way out here in the good old Magic Valley.

It also sounds somewhat like making a silk purse out of a sow's ear. But that is exactly what technology is going to have to do if we are to survive our own effluent abundance — if you know what Mr. Spectator means?

Administration people insist the Cambodia operation will not increase military spending in fiscal 1970 or 1971. This is hogwash: The operation has got to cost more than the minor military activities in Vietnam

"Thanks for the Moral Support and the Life Saver Would Be Helpful Also"

ANDREW TULLY

Not Much Comfort

WASHINGTON — Wherever he looks, President Nixon finds little comfort this year. Now the agent he dispatched to Capitol Hill have reported Congress is almost sure to reject his proposal to raise taxes next year.

during the past several months. One expert estimates the Cambodian bill will be as high as half a billion dollars, regardless of its outcome.

Indeed, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is reported to have told a Nixon emissary that he may press for some of the proposed tax cuts that got lost in the legislative machinery last year. Mills also is said to be in the mood to demand still further reductions in what Defense Secretary Melvin Laird has called a "rockbottom" barebones military budget.

Nixon's position is that Federal spending increases, especially pay boosts for government employees and the mounting interest of the national debt, make tax increases mandatory if an inflationary budget deficit is to be avoided.

This is what he wants: A five-cent increase in the tax on each pack of cigarettes, estimated to yield $1 billion of revenue annually.

He even envisaged the possibility of having to carry the war to the territory of North Vietnam "with a view to negotiating a reasonable settlement."

An excise on gasoline lead additives, to produce $1.8 billion a year. Such a tax, he believes, also would persuade the industry to speed up its anti-pollution conversion to lead-free gasoline.

South East Asia, which will be free and secure from the domination of Communist China and Communist North Vietnam.

Extension of the auto and telephone excise taxes, scheduled to be cut next Jan. 1.

"I refer you to page 41 through 44, in which he discusses Vietnam, pursuing a hard line indistinguishable from that of President Kennedy or President Johnson.

Postponement of plans to allow business to take bigger tax deductions for depreciation.

"He said, 'There are only two realistic options open to us in Vietnam in the immediate future: The expansion of the conflict in one way or another, or a renewed effort to bolster the capacity of the South Vietnamese to prosecute the war successfully on its present scale.'"

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Fearful Girls

(Second of two articles) Dear Dr. Thosteson: Many women fear they have gonorrhea. How can you tell? I have had a discharge but thought it was natural. Does intercourse have to occur to get it? Is the male the carrier? If so, how can you tell? Can you be cured if you have waited for a long time to be treated? — Miss X.

For statistics on gonorrhea—1,500,000 cases a year— see yesterday's column.

Men and boys seldom need have any doubt about it when they have contracted gonorrhea. With girls and women, it is not so certain.

In general, the symptoms are the same: a discharge from the genital organs, and burning sensation during urination, but in about 80 percent of females, the symptoms are not as severe as in males.

But the consequences can be as bad—sterility, infection of kidneys, bladder, bones, heart and elsewhere if the infection is not adequately treated.

There are, in women, other causes of the same symptoms: urinary tract infections and various common vaginal infections. But a woman knows whether she has had recent sexual activity, and if the signs follow a week or two later, she should have a physician or clinic test cultures grown from the vaginal secretions.

Our 1,500,000 cases a year — and the number is rising — are evidence that entirely too many of our "sophisticated" young people aren't being tested and treated. Instead, they are spreading the disease.

Are "males the carriers"? Anybody with the infection is a "carrier"! Perhaps females are the more dangerous, because their symptoms are not quite as obvious. Girls and women, therefore, should be even more suspicious of possible signs.

I have had some questions from people who have tried to treat themselves by taking penicillin. (One school girl said she did so because she was afraid her parents would find out if she went to a doctor.)

Self-treatment is not safe, sometimes not effective, either. Some states recently have passed laws permitting physicians to treat young patients without notification of or permission from parents—the disease has become so widespread as to show the need for this.

So I urge young people to inquire, immediately on any suspicion of the disease, whether they can be so treated. But if they can't—having parents find out is less to be dreaded than the consequences, to self and others, of not getting treatment.

Penicillin is not by any means the only medication used; if not used correctly it can "mask" other diseases, including syphilis, which can then break out long afterward.

There is no way to be certain whether a sex partner is infected. You must be suspicious! And if you have neglected treatment, get it now. Better late than never. Better late than risking heart disease, sterility, infected kidneys. These are not bogeys. These are real dangers.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What foods add bulk to the diet? — E.A.K.

Chiefly raw or cooked fruits or vegetables. Some in such as prunes, raisins, corn, and bran products have more than others.

Not to S. J.: You aren't 60 yet, but I think you will find a book called "Sexual Life After Sixty" helpful to you. It is written by Isadore Rubin, Ph.D., published by Basic Books, Inc., and available through book stores.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Do you think it would look too conservative to change our hiring practice so that people who have never been to college get preference?

Girl, 9, Gets Nixon Answer

— Mind Your Own Business

DIXON, Calif. (UPI)—Pamela Cross, 9, who sent a letter to President Nixon questioning some of his decisions, has been advised by Washington to concentrate on her homework and let the President take care of national and international affairs. Pamela wrote President Nixon more than two months ago as part of a fourth grade assignment. She said: "Why are you spending all that money on war and not on schools, papers and books? Why did you okay the ABM and veto the school bill? Once I went camping and I went for a hike. I could smell the sewage. I think you should do something about the pollution. The hospital needs money, too."

Her reply came eight weeks later from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It was signed by Thomas J. Burns, acting associate commissioner for elementary and secondary education, who said: "Dear Pam: President Nixon has asked me to reply to your letter of Feb. 28. Dixon is a good town, with good schools, and it receives money from several federal education programs. You will be able to learn there very well indeed, if you listen very carefully in class, cooperate with your teachers and do your homework as it is assigned. Getting an education is no easy matter. It requires concentrated study, extra reading of books from the library, and review, every now and then, of all you have been taught in the classroom. Pay attention to your own learning activities and let the President take care of decisions on national and international affairs. He is equipped to do this. Good luck in your studies."

Pamela wasn't sure what the answer meant, so she asked her mother, Lois Cross. "It means mind your own business," her mother replied. Burns said his office writes dozens of answers every day to White House letters and most are drafted by a former California school teacher who he said "does a wonderful job" in researching the answers. He said Mrs. Cross' interpretation of the letter was "unfortunate."

"Thunderbolts" Of Pope Now Rare

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The censures and punishments which popes and bishops once hurled like thunderbolts at dissidents are becoming rarer in the Roman Catholic Church. Pope Paul VI did away with some censures in his recent ruling on mixed marriages. He said Catholics married before non-Catholic ministers and Catholics who allowed their children to be brought up in a different faith no longer would be excommunicated. An excommunicated person is not allowed to confess his sins or receive communion and he is not permitted Catholic burial if he dies without being pardoned. Offender Is Cursed. In earlier times, persons could be publicly excommunicated at ceremonies in which the offender was cursed "by bell, book and candle." The faithful were forbidden to talk to him and no church services could be held if he were present. Such severity has virtually disappeared in modern times. Excommunications and interdicts—by which an entire region or church could be put in limbo—were powerful weapons of the popes in times when they exercised wide temporal as well as spiritual power.

As absolute monarch over a large part of central Italy, the pontiff could turn any of his subjects into a non-person with a punishing papal bull. Other monarchs who incurred papal censures were on dangerous ground. It was exactly 600 years ago that Pope Sixtus V issued a bull of excommunication and "deposition" against Queen Elizabeth I of England. Some Catholics took the bull as license to assassinate the queen.

Stirred Up Trouble. The measure stirred up religious troubles in England in which many Catholics died. Some of them will be declared saints at a canonization ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica for 40 English martyrs Oct. 25. Although the church uses its censures less frequently than of old, it is not likely to drop them altogether. Pope Paul said earlier this year that excommunications and "depositions" had not been ruled out in certain circumstances. He apparently meant this as a warning to the church in Holland where there is dissent against many forms of ecclesiastical discipline, and particularly against the rule of obligatory celibacy for priests.

Cambodia Drive Raises Russ Ire Against Nixon

MOSCOW (UPI)—Please refrain from insulting heads of foreign governments. The words were those of Col. Gen. Vasilii Ulrich, the presiding justice at the Soviet Union's notorious treason trial of 1937, to a defendant who made an insulting remark about Adolf Hitler. Although it was the worst period of Soviet-Nazi relations, the grim judge, who had sentenced more famous Russians to the gallows than anyone else in history was enforcing a rule of Soviet protocol. Two Violations. The rule has been violated twice within a decade with regard to a President of the United States. Former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, enraged by Dwight D. Eisenhower's public acceptance of responsibility for the U.S. espionage case over the Soviet Union in 1950, canceled the President's invitation to visit Moscow. "If he comes here," Khrushchev said, "we can give him a job to run a children's home—the only thing he can do." A week ago Khrushchev's successor, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, branded President Nixon's sense of honor a "mockery." It was a bitter denunciation of U.S. policy which is always a target of abuse here, but of the President personally. Nixon was accused of misleading the American people with false promises, flouting international agreements and ordering the murder of Indochinese women and children. It was the most vehement language used by a Soviet leader within recent years against a chief of state and government of a major power with whom Moscow has been engaged in a joint effort to improve relations. Nixon Smudged. Soviet hostility to Nixon dates back to the President's early anti-Communist activities in Congress. The anomaly was enhanced by the Nixon-Khrushchev kitchen debate in Moscow in 1959. It was dramatized in 1968, when Nixon, visiting here as a private citizen, was snubbed by all officials.

Indians Win Over Cowboys

HOSPAH, N.M. (UPI)—The Indians have won their latest battle with the cowboys. This time the law was on the Navajo's side. The cattlemen tried to drive 600 head across the Navajo's reservation en route to Pagosa Springs, Colo., from Grants, N.M. The Indians said a similar drive last year went across the reservation and the cattle ate too much grass. This year the Indians wanted the cattle trucked across their land. But the cowboys tried Tuesday to drive the 600 Frenchbred charolais through the barred wire fence and into the reservation. The Indians, backed by County Sheriff Wendel Merrill, stopped them. Neither side was armed. The cowboys planned to truck the cattle across the reservation today.

But a moratorium of anti-Nixon pronouncements in the Soviet propaganda media was declared after Nixon was nominated in 1968 and continued for several months after the elections. The Kremlin appeared to be willing to do business with the new President, although it ignored his overtures for an exchange of high level visits. The honeymoon did not last long. Before Nixon had completed his first year in the White House, criticism, at first muted, began to be levelled at the President and gained swift momentum. BUT THE intervention in Cambodia to insure the normalcy of re-elected Kosygin launched a bitter tirade against the President personally.

IEA To Consider Sanction Of School District At Idaho City

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Education Association will consider imposing a sanction alert against the Basin Elementary School District in Idaho City at their June 12-13 meeting. "The education of boys and girls in this city has been brought to a standstill," Wayne York, IEA secretary said. According to York, four teachers were given salary raises and new contracts. Each teacher returned the contract within the specified time—but at a late meeting of the board of education the contracts were not renewed. York noted that one of the school board members "who does not apparently honor the sanctity of a contract" has since then been voted off the board—but the new member does not take office until June 15. "Meanwhile the four teachers are subjected to daily harassment at school, in the community and even in their homes and the education of boys and girls is at a standstill," he said. The Arab League was formed March 22, 1945.

Lonely

LONDON (UPI)—Some people are so desperately lonely that they kiss the faces on the television screen, Norman Ingram-Smith, director of a local social service unit said Tuesday. Kuwait's proven oil reserves are estimated at 62 billion barrels. "Meanwhile the four teachers are subjected to daily harassment at school, in the community and even in their homes and the education of boys and girls is at a standstill," he said. The Arab League was formed March 22, 1945.

Largest Rally In History For Nixon

NEW YORK (UPI)—Backers of President Nixon jammed City Hall Park Wednesday in a noisy but peaceful rally—the largest ever held supporting the administration's Indochina policies.

Estimates of the huge crowd, which included construction workers, longshoremen, dockers, steamfitters and other industrial and office employees, ranged up to 150,000.

Thousands of policemen, 2,700 of them on overtime, patrolled the area but had little trouble with the demonstrators who heeded requests by their leaders to "recognize the right to protest whether we agree or not."

The remark, by Peter J. Brennan, president of the Construction Trades Council, appeared to be an admission to the hardhats who on May 8 demonstrated at City Hall and later assailed the financial leader of the anti-war movement, ISG, and a number of college students.

No Arrests Made
There were no arrests Wednesday and only a few reports of minor scuffling. In the only other hard hat demonstration Wednesday, 1,000 flag-waving construction workers paraded at City Hall in Buffalo, N.Y.

The workers carried signs saying "Stop the Reds—Win in Vietnam" and "America—Love it or Leave it" and handed out bumper stickers reading "Support our President" and "I'm Proud to be an American."

The main themes of the demonstration here appeared to be peace and patriotism. Under a sea of American flags the hardhats and their comrades shouted pro-Nixon and patriotic slogans while a band on the speakers platform played "God Bless America," "The Bombardier" and a number of World War II fighting songs and a medley of George M. Cohan airs as a finale.

Directed Against Mayor
The rally was directed almost as much against Mayor John V. Lindsay as it was for the President.

Many demonstrators carried placards saying "Impeach the Red Mayor," "Impeach Red John Lindsay," "Dump Ann

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (UPI)—A 65-mile-an-hour wind ripped through a circus tent crowded with children Wednesday and dropped the heavy big top on the air-crowded crowd of 700 minutes before the performance was to end.

Seventy-seven persons were injured, five of them seriously, doctors said.

"It (the tent) just filled like a balloon, lifted straight up and then came down pulling the poles with it," said 11-year-old Jose Rodriguez, one of the spectators.

Ambulances, sheriff's cars, police vehicles, state patrol squad cars and private autos were used to rush the injured to nearby hospitals.

The circus was in its final 15 minutes when the wind struck unexpectedly, lifting the 17,000-pound canvas and its mowings into the air.

Spokenmen at St. Mary's Hospital said 24 of the 46 injured persons taken there were admitted overnight, including five seriously injured children. Two of the five, who all suffered head injuries, were described as critical.

Heat Continues
NEW DELHI (UPI)—A heat wave with temperatures up to 100 degrees entered its third week today in North India where newspapers estimated more than 1,000 persons have died from its effects.

The heat also took a heavy toll of birds and animals. With game migrating from the drought areas, dozens of deer and panthers were on the prowl around villages, threatening livestock.

Weather forecasters said no lasting relief can be expected until monsoon rains move into North India late next month.

HOUSE SPEAKER Carl Albert, with a foot propped on a desk, announced he will call it quits after 42 years in the House. Mr. McCormack said that he was "tired, 75 and his wife was ailing." Carl Albert Expected To Succeed McCormack

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Carl Albert, 62, a member of the House leadership for 16 years, appeared certain today to succeed Rep. John W. McCormack as speaker of the House—if the Democrats keep control of it in November.

McCormack, 78, a member of the House for 42 years and eight days away from being speaker longer than anyone in the nation's history except Sam Rayburn, announced Wednesday he will retire at the end of this term from the $72,500-a-year job.

McCormack, who worked his way up from the tenement wards of South Boston to the nation's second most powerful office, said he was retiring so he and his ailing wife could have a period of rest and relaxation.

Quits Amid Criticism
But he quit amid increasing criticism—of his age and unresponsiveness to congressional reform and a scandal that, though not touching him personally, had reached into his office. In January his top aide, Martin Swartz, and a friend, Nathan Voloshen were indicted on charges of perjury and conspiracy to exert pressure on federal agencies.

To many of the junior members of the House, McCormack symbolized their contention that Congress is controlled by old men.

Albert picked up the personal endorsement of McCormack and the man many observers had thought was a likely prospect, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., powerful chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Albert was named party whip, the No. 3 position in the Democratic leadership, in 1954, and majority leader succeeding HARDEVILLE, S.C. (UPI)—A young black militant held as a suspect in a series of slayings and robberies from New York to Florida has identified himself as a brother of one of three civil rights workers killed six years ago at Philadelphia, Miss., authorities said Wednesday.

The suspect, Ben Chaney, 17, was captured along with Martin Ruetrol, 15, last Friday after a firecracker stand holdup in which the owner and one of three gunmen were killed. Police said the two youths later admitted the slaying of three persons in Florida.

End For Isolation Sought

KASSEL, West Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Willy Brandt led Prime Minister Willi Stoph of East Germany today he would help end East Germany's political isolation if its Communist rulers would ease the barriers between the rival states.

Stoph was the subject of jeers from large sections of the crowd when he arrived on a special train on his first visit to West Germany. Some waved banners demanding he tear down the Berlin Wall and a few threw firecrackers.

Honolulu Students To Protest BYU Playing

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Black Students Union (BSU) at the University of Hawaii said Wednesday it will go to court to prevent Brigham Young University from participating in the 1970 Rainbow Basketball Classic scheduled for December.

English Bradshaw, the university's ethnic studies coordinator, said the BSU will seek a restraining order and a declaratory judgment on the legality of the contract between BYU and the University of Hawaii.

According to Bradshaw, the contract was signed by athletics director Paul Durham, but under board of regents' regulations, Durham is not authorized to sign university contracts.

Bradshaw said the BSU opposed BYU's participation because of the Mormon Church policy of denying priesthood to Negro members of the church. Should the legal efforts to block BYU's participation fail, he said, "we will ask all the black athletes in the institutions that have been invited to stay home and not participate in the tournament."

Newark Mayor Facing Job In Primary Runoff

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio hopes to duplicate Mayor Sam Yorty's performance in Los Angeles by beating a black candidate who outpolled him in the initial election.

Incumbent Yorty was accused by his opponent of running a corrupt administration but Addonizio faces more than campaign rhetoric when it comes to corruption. The federal government hopes to bring him to trial on extortion charges two weeks before his June 16 runoff with Negro engineer Kenneth A. Gibson.

Gibson topped a six-man field in the May 12 Newark election but failed to get the needed majority and must face Addonizio in the runoff. Los Angeles Councilman Thomas Bradley beat Yorty in the primary but lost the runoff.

Gibson polled 43 per cent of the vote and Addonizio 20 per cent while in Los Angeles, Bradley got 42 per cent in the primary and Yorty had 28 per cent.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The otter is a carnivorous mammal that differs from its weasel family relatives chiefly because it has webbed feet and leads an aquatic life. Otters make playful sport of sliding down sloping banks into rivers and lakes, or sliding down snow banks.

The World Almanac says they have been domesticated in India and Great Britain, and have been tamed by fishermen to catch and retrieve fish.

Addonizio Makes Friends

Newark is more than 50 per cent black and in Los Angeles, blacks make up only 20 per cent of the population but Addonizio has made friends among black residents, handing out many City Hall jobs, and more whites than blacks are registered to vote in Newark.

Gibson says the decision in the runoff is between "honesty and corruption" and the case entitled, "The United States of America versus Hugh J. Addonizio et al" may hold the answer.

The "et al" includes as defendants a reputed-Mafia lieutenant, three incumbent city councilmen and several former or present city officials, all charged with demanding a quarter million dollars in kickbacks at the price for awarding city contracts.

All three city councilmen ran for re-election Tuesday; all made it into a runoff battle.

Trials Start June 2

The trials for extortion, conspiracy and tax evasion are expected to start June 2 but legal maneuvers in jury selection and filing of motions could delay the start of testimony after the runoff.

A runoff that may be won by a margin of only 3,000 votes, Gibson must tally an estimated minimum of 10 per cent of the vote in the city, where the political climate is strong and polarization is evident.

Democrats Have Two Major Shortages To Cry About — Money And Nixon's 1972 Opponent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democrats cry a lot these days about two major shortages: Cash to pay their bills and a "natural" opponent for President Nixon in 1972.

There is something else they don't have, and it could be just as serious for the future—1978 as well as 1972. It is the absence of an opposition platform, a program of at least general alternatives to the growing list of plans Nixon is offering as the Republican agenda for the 1970's.

There is a theory that an important advantage of the "out" party is the fact that it does not have to take firm positions on specific issues, and indeed can do better by simply criticizing the people in power.

The argument goes that Nixon won that way in 1968 and that Barry Goldwater lost in 1964 because he gave the Democrats a list of issues "targets" to snipe at.

Two Flaws

The trouble with that theory as applied to the Democrats is that it assumes they are now in the same position as the Republicans were in 1960-68. There are two immediately apparent flaws in this reasoning.

First, the Democrats are not totally without power and the responsibility that goes with it as the GOP was during the Kennedy-Johnson years. As long as the Democrats control Congress, they cannot sit back and blame the Republicans for everything that goes wrong.

A second difference is the advocacy role that the Democratic party filled during the political era that began with Franklin D. Roosevelt. Perhaps FDR did not have a specific program to deal with the depression when he came to office, but he and his party quickly did become associated with both a detailed set of proposals and an activist philosophy of government to deal with national problems.

Harry S. Truman won in 1948 by promising to carry on the war-interrupted New Deal. John F. Kennedy did it in 1960 with some additions to the old programs, but with essentially the same "make things move" concept of national leadership.

New Problems

Out of power, the Democrats have an opportunity now to search out programs to deal with the nation's new problems and to offer them as competition in the administration's proposals. Although denied the White House, they have the congressional forum to command public attention, and even if their offerings are vetoed, the process of building a new issue-oriented party following will be underway.

If they are going to embark on this course, the Democrats will have to start soon. Nixon has begun to lead the Republicans into a program commitment that could preempt many Democratic alternatives.

The President may already have seized the fields of Work Planned On Route To Stanley

BOISE (UPI) — The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads is giving 6 1/2 miles of the 12-mile unpaved central portion of State Highway 21 between Lowman and Stanley a new "face." The Highway Department said today.

This consists of an asphalt surface and two new bridges over the South Fork of the Payette River.

Work begins at Warm Springs Creek and extends southward with only minor traffic interference, the department said. This new paved stretch is expected to be finished by this fall.

The department said reconstruction of the remaining unpaved portion of Highway 21 is anticipated in the near future.

At present, Highway 21 is open from Boise to the Grandjean Cutoff and closed from that point to Stanley.

Highway crews now are clearing rock, snow, and mudslides from the roadway and hope to have the highway open by Memorial Day or the beginning of the fishing season.

State Highway 68 which runs from Mountain Home and joins U.S. 93 south of Halley also is receiving attention this year.

Crews are reconstructing 7 1/2 miles of road and bridges from Corral to Fairfield.

From the State Highway 68 and U.S. 93 junction westward for 21 miles, crews will apply a seal coat in the near future.

T.F. Group Attends Funeral

Mr. Milton was a son-in-law of Mrs. Bolton and he and his wife, Shirley, former Twin Falls resident, had visited in Twin Falls many times. Mrs. Milton is a former resident, graduating from the local high school and resided here until her marriage to Leonard Milton in 1950.

Mr. Milton, a Greyhound bus driver, died of a heart attack.

Hagerman Woman Honored For 44 Years Of Teaching

HAGERMAN — Mrs. Stanley Penfold, retiring first grade teacher, was honored by fellow faculty members and school board trustees at a potluck dinner at the school.

A "This is Your Life" program was presented by Mrs. Laura McAnulty, school clerk, and Stanley Penfold. It was noted Mrs. Penfold began her teaching career at Hagerman in 1926.

Larry Hobson was master of ceremonies, the high school girls' chorus sang two selections and Glenda Lapp presented a vocal solo, "Trees." Accompanist was Peggy Hendrickson. The music was under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Snapp.

Frank Hensale, chairman of the board, spoke briefly in appreciation of the years of service and devotion rendered by Mrs. Penfold.

Other teachers and personnel leaving the school system this year were also honored and presented a memento in the form of a small trophy made by Mr. Ills. These were presented to Leon Sant, math and science instructor; Mrs. Roy Strawser, sixth grade teacher; Mrs. Richard Hagerman, home economic instructor; Stanley Penfold and Hallie Konklin, school bus owner and operators for many years. at $3.5 million to $9 million. The Democrats are concerned, Califano said, with a recent rejection by the Columbia Broadcasting System of the committee's request to buy half an hour of prime time to present an "issue-oriented program" including an appeal for funds.

Califano said CBS took the position that it would sell time for political purposes only during "election campaigns."

Demo Chief Makes FCC Request

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien has asked the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to forbid broadcasters from refusing to sell the party air time to appeal for contributions.

O'Brien filed a brief Tuesday asking for a declaratory ruling that such a refusal is unconstitutional and contrary to the Communications Act.

The general counsel for the Democratic National Committee, Joseph A. Califano, said there was an urgent need for the ruling before the Democrats begin an expensive nationwide campaign to solicit funds. The party's current debt is estimated

Rhodesia May Become South African Satellite

EDITOR'S NOTE: In April Rhodesia held elections which returned Premier Ian Smith and his White Rhodesian Front party to power with all 50 white seats in a parliament of 87. In this dispatch the foreign editor of the London Financial Times seeks an answer to the question: Where does sanctions-beset Rhodesia go from here?

By J. D. F. JONES
London Financial Times/UPI
SALISBURY, Rhodesia—Even if the white Rhodesians were not constantly warned against betraying secrets in the economic "war" they have been waging, it is obvious beyond question that the nation's campaign has failed in its aim, which was to persuade the Rhodesians to reverse their 1965 unilateral Declaration of Independence (UDI).

Farmers Savagely Punished
The Rhodesian farmers have been savagely punished by the world embargo on tobacco, which was "one" of the most important Rhodesian industry. It is now clear that most of the farmers' efforts to diversify to switch to other crops like maize or cotton—have been only a very limited success, partly because there has been a bad run of droughts. The result is that another 600 farmers will probably be driven off the land this year.

The farmers are the only white community in Rhodesia which is deeply disillusioned with Ian Smith's government, and they showed their displeasure by voting for independent opponents of the Rhodesian Front at the April election. The iron is that the Rhodesian Front, once thought to be a group of farmers, has become a town-based party.

The true cost is that the development of the Rhodesian economy has been set back by anything up to ten years, and

Town Puts Bounty On Drug Pushers

BELFAST, Maine (UPI)—This scenic community perched halfway up the Maine coast has a common urban problem—drugs—but a decidedly uncommon approach to combatting it: A bounty for pushers.

Spurred by a deputy shift and a businessman, the town of 6,100 has raised nearly $1,000 in the past few weeks to reward police informers who would buy drugs under official scrutiny and testify in court against the seller.

They would get the bounty if the suspect was convicted of selling dope to a minor. There have been no takers so far, but confidence is high that the very existence of the bounty may deter "big-city" pushers from invading the area.

Sheriff Launches Drive
The drive was launched by Deputy Sheriff Harold Higgins in a much-publicized letter to the editor of the local weekly, the Belfast Republican Journal, in which he offered a $25 bounty and asked his fellow citizens to enrich the pot.

"If this drug problem were a plague sweeping across the land, people would be quick to immunize their children," he wrote.

"Well, this can be just as deadly, only this is a creeping sickness that silently envelops a community before the people realize it is happening.

The response was immediate and enthusiastic. Former Police Chief Donald Webber, now an oil distributor, began passing the hat in the business community, and unsolicited pledges poured in from the townspeople. Police began receiving tips on drug activities around town.

But no one volunteered to act as decoy, a problem anticipated by Higgins in his published appeal.

"Apparently the biggest fear of the young people is to be called a squealer or rat-tink," he wrote.

Some officials are skeptical of the project. "The whole thing conjures up vigilantes to me," commented a member of the state attorney general's office, who declined to be identified because he said he did not know enough about the venture to fully evaluate it.

Waldo County Attorney Stanley F. Brown said he hadn't been consulted either, but that he would want to advise police on the potential legal difficulties involved before they sent a prospective buyer-informant into the streets in search of drug pushers.

Pleased by Response
Despite the controversy, Higgins is pleased with the community response and shrugs off complaints of "vigilante" tactics.

"We're all in this together, the police and the community," said Higgins, "a real estate salesman when not on police duty. "It's just that the citizens are putting up the money. The police would handle it if it ever came to making an arrest."

The project is already reaping dividends, he reported, as information pours in on the activities of drug pushers in the region.

"I know who they are, how they travel," Higgins said. "But without the informer, we haven't got a case against anybody."

Fish Pond For Patients Is Studied

JEROME — Possibilities of constructing a fishing pond behind St. Benedict's Hospital in Jerome for elderly persons living in the Longterm care unit are being explored.

Don Anderson, business manager at the hospital, first suggested the idea of trying to get some kind of fishing for the patients. The idea was then taken over by Mrs. Jack Russell, employe of the Longterm care unit. She contacted the Idaho Fish and Game Department, requesting them to screen off the irrigation ditch which runs behind the hospital and plant fish in it.

Robert Bell, regional fisheries biologist for the department, stationed in Jerome, advised Mrs. Russell after checking over the area it would not be feasible to screen the area as the water velocity is too great and the canal company treats the canal twice a year.

Mrs. Russell then contacted Ted Dief, Northside Canal Co., who said that the canal company will construct a pond behind the hospital, if at all possible, and screen off the intake and outtake water. He will check into the matter immediately, he said.

The Fish and Game Department will furnish the fish for the pond, if it is constructed.

A meeting is scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday at the longterm care unit at the hospital to discuss the matter. Mrs. Russell said she hopes the project can be realized. The patients have nothing to do but watch television and no outdoor recreation, she noted.

Rupert Promises Improved Matinees

RUPERT — Youngsters in the Rupert area are being promised better movies for Saturday matinees by I. G. Harris, owner of the Wilson Theatre here.

Mr. Harris met with Rupert city councilmen, parents and representatives of the ministerial association this week after petitions were circulated by mothers calling for higher standards in movies being shown on Saturday afternoons.

About 20 petitions containing 45 names were handed to the council by Mrs. Ilene Benwart, mother of four children, who spearheaded the campaign.

She contacted Bill Whitton, city councilman, earlier this month, objecting to "Mated Movies" being shown to youngsters Saturday afternoon.

She has since received support of county PTA's and members of the ministerial association. Mr. Harris said it was his opinion youngsters were mature type movies as he tried recreation type movies several years ago and theater attendance decreased. He said he would provide a better caliber type films Saturday afternoons if attendance warranted the change. He expressed appreciation to the public for their views on the type of movies they enjoy and wish their children to see. He said Walt Disney movies go over well in western states but are not well attended by eastern audiences.

Parents expressed opposition to movie advertising.

Mr. Whitton quoted the May show bill, reading, "A few years ago in Dunwidd, a half white girl bore illegitimate twins. One of them was almost human. People seldom visit Dunwidd. The town is ruined, decadent and its axis rock of overt viciousness."

This was the advertising for a Saturday afternoon movie here last week, he said.

Family Planning Program Effective In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A blind, mentally retarded teenager lies in a ward bed in a charity hospital. She has just given birth to her third blind, mentally defective child. Should all four live, they will cost taxpayers about $800,000 before they die.

At another hospital bed, a nurse takes a doll from a 12-year-old girl and puts in its place the child's illegitimate baby. More money. The two cases are isolated, but not unique. Dr. Joseph D. Beasley, director of the Louisiana Family Planning Program, Inc., has seen a lot of them.

In card play, bridge prizes were won by John Shrum and Mrs. Florence Greer; Don Dunsand and Mrs. L. Crane; Mrs. Karl Carman and Mrs. W. Hoast.

Official Visit

Made To Unit — Mrs. Lillian Osterhout, Rupert, District Six president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, made her official visit to the Auxiliary of VFW Post 3846 in the Glenns Ferry Veterans Memorial Hall.

Happy Hour Club Officers Are Re-Elected

MURTAUGH — All present officers were re-elected at the recent afternoon meeting of the Happy Hour Club at the home of Mrs. O. E. Wright.

Those returned to office include Mrs. Jack Gentry, president; Mrs. O. W. Daniels, vice president; and Mrs. Veeta Mills, secretary-treasurer.

World Bank officials and representatives of 48 nations in Asia, Africa and Latin America have come to Louisiana to see how it was done.

In 1964, not a single clinic disturbed birth control information in Louisiana. There was a law against it.

Attempts to get legislation merely to authorize publicly supported family planning information activities were quashed in committee without a single dissenting vote.

Turns Up Statistics — Then Beasley, working with his newly established Tulane University Population and Family Studies unit, surveyed a cross section of the population in New Orleans and turned up some appalling statistics.

Only 24 per cent of the fertile female population of the city was poor, but this segment accounted for 56 per cent of live births, 88 per cent of illegitimate births, 68 per cent of births to women under 19, 72 per cent of still births, 80 per cent of maternal deaths and 88 per cent of infant deaths.

Joyce Schenk, Kofaed Say Nuptial Vows

PAUL — Joyce Colleen Schenk, Pocatello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schenk, Paul, became the bride of Kenneth Rex Kofaed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Kofaed, Minidoka, at the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Rev. L. G. Mietzer performed the double ring ceremony before lighted candles and a white satin kneeling bench flanked by beauty baskets of blue and white chrysanthemums. Palm leaves draped the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length empire gown of Chantilly lace over satin, styled with a rounded neckline, long scalloped angel-wing sleeves and a white satin front panel caught at the waist.

The gown was made by the bride. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was caught to a seed pearl and crystal crown of white satin and lace with bells of self material. She carried a cascading bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

She was accompanied by JoAnn Docter, cousin of the bride, who also served as organist. Church bells rang as the couple walked down the aisle.

DEAR ABBY: I have an 11-year-old daughter I'll call Susie. My problem is what to do about her constant playmate, I'll call Mary. Mary lives around the corner and she and Susie are like Siamese twins.

Mary is a nice child, but her mother is a divorced woman who entertains gentlemen friends every night. (You know the kind?) Apparently she has no shame before her daughter from what Mary tells Susie. I've told Susie the facts of life, but it's nothing compared to what Mary has told her!

I hate to forbid Susie to play with Mary, but I can't have my daughter associating with a child who sees her mother carrying on with men and is probably taught to believe there is nothing wrong with it. Please tell me what to do.

SUSIE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Why punish an innocent child (Mary) for the "sins" of her mother? You could do Mary a tremendous favor by making her especially welcome in your home, where wholesome attitudes and decency prevail. Don't worry, Mary won't "corrupt" your daughter. In the meantime, the little neighbor girl needs kindness and understanding, not punishment for a situation for which she is blameless.

DEAR ABBY: Someone said she read in your column that when a light-skinned black and a white person marry it is not possible for them to produce a coal black baby. I can't believe you said that because everyone knows a baby can be a throwback to several generations. Please put your answer in the paper. I want PROOF! TOLEDO

DEAR TOLEDO: A child born of a black-white couple will not be darker than the darker parent. If two individuals marry, BOTH of whom have some black ancestry, it is possible for their children to be one or two shades darker than the darker parent, but no "coal black baby" suddenly pops up. One parent or the other would have to have been "coal black."

DEAR ABBY: Would you please pass on these tips for girls who want to know if a man is married or single?

1. Beware of the man who removes his white shirt and necks in his underwear because it's "too hot." (His wife checks his shirts.)
2. The man who always washes his face before he leaves your apartment.
3. The man with the dirty license plate on his car if the rest of his car is clean. (It's a sign of a hidden life.)
4. The man who always leaves before midnight because he "has to get up early in the morning."
5. The man who visits his "mother" on holidays and every week-end, and he can't make dates with you very far in advance. (He never knows when his wife will let him out.)
6. The man who'd rather bring a bottle to your apartment than take you out because he wants to "relax" in peace and quiet.

Thanks, Abby, for all the advice I've received from you thru the years. You probably wonder why I'm still married. So do I. I can't sign my name because I'm still putting on a happy marriage act for the neighbors.

2 Minneapolis Men Want To Get Married — To Each Other

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Two 28-year-old Minneapolis men say they will go to court if they are refused a license to wed each other.

Jack Baker, a law student at the University of Minnesota, and Jim McConnell, 28, a librarian from Kansas City, Mo., applied for a license in Hennepin County Monday.

Robert Anderson, senior deputy clerk of District Court, said they filled out the form and paid $10 and will be able to pick up the license Friday "unless there is a legal impediment."

Anderson asked Hennepin County Attorney George Scott to rule on whether a license could be issued.

Baker said Minnesota law does not forbid the marriage, but the state's law does forbid homosexual relations.

Baker said he and McConnell met three years ago

Being Guest Of Rich Friend Can Be Tricky

By RICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Your chances of getting rich yourself are pretty remote, and if you aren't rich your chances of being invited to hobnob with rich people are practically nil.

Nevertheless, there is always a slim risk that some rich friend will ask you out to his place for dinner or a weekend, so it is a good idea to prepare yourself for that eventuality.

done in rich homes, apparently. Despite its extensive instructions on guest-servant relations, however, the book curiously omits one type of incident that is likely to arise.

It warns against mistaking the butler for a fellow guest, but says nothing about mistaking a fellow guest for the butler.

DeSpain Is Speech Winner

Otherwise, you will just make yourself ask worrying about it. Fortunately, the information you need is readily available. A "Guide to Modern Etiquette" book, written by the editors of Esquire magazine, includes a chapter on being a "Guest of the Rich."

Wayne DeSpain won the blue pencil award for the best speech at the weekly meeting of the I. B. Perrine Toastmaster Club No. 793 Monday night at Kay's Supper-Club. Dr. Douglas Saterland and Bob Day were co-winners of the table topics award.

Club members planned a summer picnic, scheduling it for Aug. 8 at Clear Lakes. Bob Day was toastmaster for the evening; Larry Pennington served as table topics chairman; Kent Kirk was timer and Ed Barker was general evaluator. Speakers included Ron Finner, Charles Green, and Frank Robinson in addition to the award winners.

In case you can't afford to spend $75 for a copy, I'll give you a free briefing on the key points.

Most Difficult Part
Judging from the amount of attention the Esquire editors give it, the most difficult part of the problem is getting adjusted to the servants.

"The guy standing in the front hall is the butler, not to be hailed as host or fellow guest," they tell us in one place. In another place they caution that "if you shake hands with the butler you will embarrass him, his 'master' and, presumably, yourself."

They also admonish that "you must not give orders to your host's servants . . . If you're stranded without a drink . . . you must just go dry unless a servant comes to you and asks what to may bring you. Correctly, the only thing a guest can ask for is water . . ."

It seems clear from these passages that at least one of the editors of the Esquire must have had a truly searing experience with a butler the first time he was a guest of the rich.

Mistook Him For Host
Most likely the editor encountered the butler in the front hall, mistook him for the host, "clipped him on the back and said, 'Hi, Charlie, how's about a 'll drinkin'?"

way. West was some sort of expert and when South led that low club West started to think. His thoughts went something like this: "Either South or my partner holds the queen of clubs. If South holds it he is going to finesse and my king is doomed. Suppose East holds that queen of clubs plus two small ones. If I play low South will put in dummy's jack. My partner will take his queen and later on South will be able to run the rest of the club suit. On the other hand if I play the king, South will have to take his suit right away and the club suit will stand."

After all that thought West produced the king of clubs. The ace was played from dummy and when East dropped the queen, South had five club tricks and the rubber.

West had thought long, hard and very unfortunately. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your four hearts was some sort of slam try. Your partner has only bid five clubs and may well have two little diamonds or some other holding that makes for a poor slam contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding four clubs your partner has jumped to five clubs over your three no-trump. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

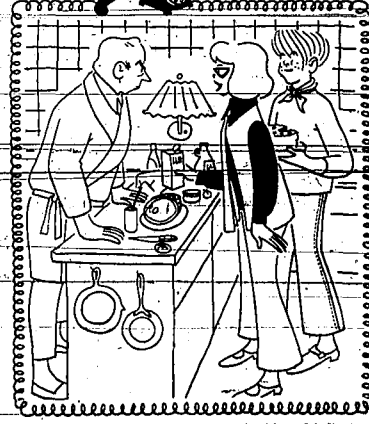

North's raise to two no-trump was doubtful. He did have a remarkable five-card club suit, but three of his seven high-card points were represented by jacks. Maybe his three nines were what encouraged him to bid.

South had no problem about going on to five clubs. 17 high-card points were gut-gutted. West opened the queen of spades. The suit was continued and South had

He continued with a low-club and against normal defense would have probably gone down two tricks. He would let East win the first club with his queen. East would shift to a heart and South would try the heart finesse and wind up losing four spades, one heart and one club. We say probably, because South might have gone up with the ace of hearts and settled for a sure down one.

Things didn't go quite that

Carty Wonders What's Needed To Be All-Star

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rico Carty three times "hit" what Rico keeps right on plugging sliders and that's exactly high along with that magic bat of his Rico hit for his game winning and wondering all the time home.

There's little doubt fans in the various National League parks know he's around. Carty has taken care of that little chore by batting away at a fantastic .422 clip; tops at a .500 level in 10 homers and 35 runs batted in and yet his name doesn't appear on all those ballots the National League is distributing around for fans to vote for players to the All-Star game.

Wednesday afternoon in San Francisco the Giants walked Hank Aaron in the ninth when a base hit could have hurt to pitch to Carty, who earlier had tripled.

Carty hit a slider on the fists toward short which Felix Millan ran into to prevent an inning ending double play. Since Millan was automatically out Rico was credited with a hit.

"You have to be lucky to hit as well as I am," Rico confessed later. "No one is going to hit 400 without a little luck."

"There was nothing lucky about a homer he drilled into the center of the field two weeks later after a single and walk to Aaron which helped the Braves to a 6-1, 11-inning victory over the Giants. And yet, Carty was hurtful about that blow, too.

"Well, how about bunting, especially 'faster than me' infielders are playing him well back."

"For me to bunt is ridiculous," he said. "I've never bunted and I don't really bunt well. Now, it would be just a waste of time at bat."

Furthermore, Carty said he would like to take his chances "just swinging the way I usually do."

"I honestly don't know how good I can hit," he said. "Maybe I can hit 400, but as I said earlier I'll have to stay lucky. I'd rather be lucky than my life."

Carty deserves some of that. He's had his share of the other kind.

At the time of the injury, doctors said surgery was not needed as an injury was explained as "the sprain of the medial collateral ligament of the semi-tendinous muscle of the knee."

A cast was removed from the left leg last week. Further examination revealed that a limitation of motion "and a finding" indicated an orthopedic injury, a team spokesman said.

The Cub catcher was under-what he thought would be his return to the lineup on Friday night against the New York Mets.

Green Bay Must Give Up Adderly

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Star defensive back Herb Adderly is still so bitter against the Green Bay Packers coaching staff that he would quit pro football rather than return, the Milwaukee Journal reported Wednesday.

"They can trade me or I can retire," the newspaper quoted Adderly.

The Journal said Adderly said he was sufficiently well fixed financially that he could afford to retire. "I've been making a few investments right along, and there's a small movie part I could have," he said.

Adderly, in a telephone interview from his Philadelphia home with Phil Bledsoe of the Journal, reiterated that in any case he was "through with Green Bay."

He became angry last December when he threatened the coaching staff had not recommended him for the Pro Bowl squad. He also accused assistant coach Wayne Robinson of being too critical of the players under his domain. Adderly took his complaints to the press, which failed to censor him, and he had coach and general manager Phil Bengtson.

"The last thing I said to Phil Bengtson in Green Bay last month was that it would be mentally impossible for me to play there again," Adderly was quoted.

"And Phil said, 'Okay, Herb, I'll continue to try to make a trade for you,' and that's how we ended our little visit."

"Everything I did would be in vain if I came back. I couldn't play my heart out under these conditions, and that wouldn't be fair to my teammates."

Adderly ruled out the possibility of playing out his option so he could become a free agent a year hence. For one thing, he noted, he would take a mandatory 10 per cent pay cut by playing in 1970 without a contract.

Hockey Players Remains In Coma

MONTREAL (UPI) — Injured hockey player Michel Briere remains in a coma but in satisfactory condition through Wednesday, a spokesman said.

Briere showed "very slight improvement" said the hospital spokesman, who previously reported that doctors thought Briere might remain unconscious for as long as two weeks.

The 20-year-old Pittsburgh Penguin rookie was injured in a Friday night car accident in northern Quebec. He underwent a four-hour operation for a fractured skull and a blood clot on the brain. He has been in a coma since.

Pacers Call Brown 'Man In Clutch'

ANAHEIM (UPI)—"When we need a basket," says Indiana Pacers coach Bob Leonard, "we go to Roger Brown. He's our money player."

Brown had the Pacers within one victory of their first league title Wednesday. He fired in 53 points—an ABA playoff record—to give the Pacers a 142-120 triumph over the Los Angeles Stars.

The Pacers took a 3-1 lead in the final playoff series and if they win in Indianapolis Saturday night, that "basketball mad state" will be theirs.

Coach Bill Sharman of the Stars thinks his club can come back "It will be tough to win three straight from Dallas and four in a row from Denver," he said.

If the Stars can win at Indianapolis Saturday, the sixth game will be played at the Los Angeles Sports Arena Monday night.

"When Brown is hitting from outside," Sharman said, "he's about as tough as anybody in basketball. They call him the Elgin Baylor of the ABA. But he actually goes out further to shoot."

Leonard: "He's fantastic." The signing was announced by Vikings President Max Winter.

Winter said Grant had two years to go on his previous contract, but we tore it up and agreed on a new one for the remaining two years and an additional three years.

Terms of the new contract were not revealed. It was estimated that Grant was getting about $36,000 a year under his original contract.

The 42-year-old Superior, Wis., native became the Vikings' head coach after Norm Van Brocklin resigned in early 1967.

"Needless to say, we are delighted our coaching future is built around Bud Grant," Winter said. "We think the record says it clearly: Bud has done a tremendous job here. He has built a fine staff and a fine football team."

Winter said Grant has demonstrated his ability to win and to live with winning. Grant said he was pleased with the new contract.

"We feel the Vikings still have their future ahead of them," he said. "We have experienced some success but all of us are aware of the challenges ahead."

Which one really tastes better? Scotch? Canadian? or 7 Crown?

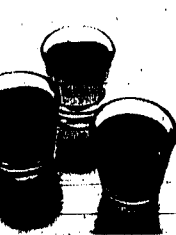

In whiskey, taste is a matter of preference. We can't tell you one whiskey tastes better than another. Nobody can. You have to decide for yourself.

But we can tell you this: The taste of Seagram's 7 Crown is unique. It has a flavor no other whiskey can match. Be it straight. On the rocks. Or any way you like it. And more people prefer this unique taste of 7 Crown than any Scotch or Canadian.

In fact, 7 Crown continually outsells the leading Scotch and Canadian combined. That leads us to only one conclusion.
