Bombers Continue Dawn Raid

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. B-52 bombers flying above thick monsoon clouds dropped 500 tons of bombs today onto a North Vietnamese road building project two miles from where Allied troops suffered their heaviest losses in six months in a guerrilla attack Tuesday.

Military spokesmen said the predawn strikes triggered at least 50 secondary explosions, indicating the bombs scored direct hits on ammunition stores or fuel supplies.

The target area three miles from the Laotian border in South Vietnam's northernmost province was described by the U.S. Command as an area of "enemy activity, bunkers, base camps, weapons positions, storage and staging areas."

American military officials said the North Vietnamese had moved into the region during the current monsoon season and were trying to build a supply road in from Laos to join with east-west Route 9 just below the Demilitarized Zone.

Children Killed In School

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Two barrages of long-range rockets slammed into Beisan on the Jordan frontier today, scoring direct hits on a school and killing two children. Ten other youngsters and six adults were wounded.

It was the second attack of its kind against the settlement this week. A 9-year-old girl was killed and eight persons—five children and three adults—were hurt Monday in a 10-round salvo that hit the town of 12,000 in a one-minute span beginning at 8 a.m.

Military spokesmen said the first barrage this morning at 7:30 killed a 9-year-old girl while wounding three other girls and a woman.

Rampton Angered By Ruling

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—"This proposal puts us right back where we were five years ago," said Utah Gov. Calvin L. Rampton to the Department of Interior's latest proposal for the development of western oil shale resources Tuesday afternoon.

The governor and other Utah state officials met Tuesday morning with staff members from the Interior Department, where a proposal was made which would allow private industry to bid on leases in Utah, Wyoming and Colorado after a two-year planning period.

John B. Rigg of the office of the Assistant Secretary of Interior for Mineral Resources, said Interior Secretary Hickel's concern for environmental factors was the main reason for his sudden decision not to accept this or leases at this time.

After hearing the proposal, which called for development of a commercially viable oil shale industry in ten years, Gov. Rampton told the Interior staffers, "I have never been more bitterly disappointed. We have been over all this before."

Mansfield Successful, Murphy An Easy Winner

By United Press International Alabama Democrats voted Tuesday to return George G. Wallace to the governorship of that state and thus kept him alive as a national figure and a threat to two-party politics in the 1972 presidential election.

Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico was defeated by a conservative former Democrat, Anderson Carter, in his try for the Republican senatorial nomination in that state.

Former Lt. Gov. Robert Fulton won the Democratic nomination from William Gannon, a state legislator.

With 99 per cent of the precincts counted, Wallace held a 51.5 per cent margin over Gov. Albert P. Brewer in Tuesday's runoff. He told a victory celebration that the result meant "Alabama keeps her place in the sun and will be heard all over the country."

Alabama was one of eight states voting Tuesday in the biggest round of primary elections held so far in this national election year.

Argentine Leaders Adopt Death Laws

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The Argentine military government responded to the reported slaying of kidnaped former President Pedro Eugenio Aramburu with a presidential decree today ordering death by firing squad for kidnapers who seriously hurt or kill their victims.

Rep. John V. Tunney held a narrow lead over Rep. George E. Brown Jr., for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Sen. George Murphy was far ahead of Industrialist Norton Simon in his quest for renomination in the GOP primary.

President Juan Carlos Onganía went on national radio and television promising "to guarantee peace and order whatever the price" amid fears of civil strife following a terrorist group's claim Tuesday that it had executed the former president.

Human Error In Apollo 13

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Mounting evidences indicate human error resulted in undetected damage to an Apollo 13 oxygen tank more than two weeks before launch, causing it to explode near the Moon.

In New Jersey, Democratic voters renominated Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., and the Republicans nominated Nelson G. Rockefeller for U.S. GOP chairmanship in opposition to U.S. Sen. Frank Lautenberg.

Onganía said the nation received "with stupor" the announcement from the Juan Jose Valle command group, an organization that supports exiled former dictator Juan D. Peron. He accused the group of carrying out "an inhumane sentence that outrages the Argentine people."

Edgar M. Cortright, chairman of the review board studying the explosion, said Tuesday it appears technicians applied too much voltage to a pair of heater thermocouple switches in the tank—rushing them in trying to overcome problems draining the tanks after a practice countdown at Cape Kennedy.

In Court

BOISE (UPI)—The question of whether a revised state constitution can be put before the people for a vote without going through a constitutional convention is headed for the State Supreme Court next week.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield easily won renomination in Montana over two minor opponents, Harold Wallace, Missoula sporting goods dealer, was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

He said technicians thought the switches could stand 65 volts of direct current, when actually they were designed for a maximum of 30 volts. "I think it's clear a mistake was made," Cortright said.

Tumor

ATLANTA (UPI)—Surgeons at Piedmont Hospital disclosed they have removed a 100-pound tumor from a 55-year-old woman.

The operation sent doctors searching through medical books to see if it was the largest ever removed.

Failure of the switches caused immediate damage to insulation on wires in the oxygen tank, Cortright said. The damaged wires finally sparked, he said, touching off a fire that either caused the tank to burst or—more likely—burned a two-inch hole in its top.

Snaggletooth Bites The Dust

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (UPI)—Snaggletooth, the huge grizzly bear who reigned as monarch in the Yellowstone Park area, is dead.

The well-known grizzly, along with other bears who frequented dumps looking for an easy meal, were featured in an article in the February, 1965, issue of Outdoor Life.

He refused to say pending further investigation why technicians mistakenly believed the switches could withstand the higher voltage. He also refused comment on why the damage dressed in army uniforms, kidnaped Aramburu, 67, from his home Friday. The Juan Jose Valle group claimed credit for severe draining operations.

Deaths In Peru Quake May Hit 30,000 Souls

LIMA (UPI)—The Public Health Ministry said floods triggered by Peru's devastating earthquake may have killed more than 17,000 persons in the Andes city of Yungay, where survivors huddled today in a corperatory awaiting rescue.

The population practically has disappeared, said Ministry spokesman Jose Garaychuchua. "There are only 2,500 survivors in a population estimated at 20,000 in Yungay."

The presidential press office has estimated as many as 30,000 persons may have been killed in the quake Sunday and subsequent floods that ravaged northern Peru from the desert coast to the Amazon jungle.

Paratroopers worked to clear an airstrip at Huaraz so supplies could be flown in to the stricken inhabitants of Yungay and other cities in the Callejon de Huaylas Valley.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the crewmen made a course correction on their 17th orbit, relayed the medical data to earth and then retired for a rest.

Tass said after 22 orbits that both men "feel well and retain fully their capacity for work."

Landslides and yawning cracks opened by the quake blocked road. Bad weather limited air drops Tuesday. Some cities were invisible from the air, masked by an 18,000-foot thick cloud of dust.

One of the first persons to fly over the area, Don Mathis of the U.S. Information Service in Lima, said there were few signs of life in the valley.

Mathis was aboard a U.S. Air Force C130 Hercules cargo plane that made reconnaissance flight over the area Tuesday afternoon to give 24 Air Force rescue experts a chance to survey the damage.

Destruction of homes in small towns and villages in the interior was described as total. In Huaraz it was estimated 99 per cent of the homes were damaged.

Missing Newsmen Alive?

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Five of eight missing television newsmen were reported today to have been captured alive by the Viet Cong but the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York said that CBS correspondent George Sylvester was believed dead.

Colleagues of Sylvester reported to CBS in New York that a body believed to be that of the 38-year-old correspondent was found in a grave beside his burned-out jeep. Two other CBS newsmen missing since Sunday—producer-reporter Gerald Miller, an American, and Indian cameraman Ramnik Lakht—were unaccounted for.

Weather Synopsis
 Weakening warm high pressure will continue to dominate the intermountain region weather for the next few days. The southerly winds flow over our area has weakened, resulting in the slightly lower maximum temperatures yesterday and today than previously expected. However, a weak, rather dry frontal system approaching the West Coast this afternoon will move slowly inland, increasing the southerly winds, flow and raising temperatures further on Thursday. This front is expected to produce little weather after moving east of the coastal mountains, but may produce some cooling in our area late in the week.
 Generally clear skies and continued quite warm temperatures are expected, with highs today in the western valleys in the 80s and generally in the 80s in Eastern Idaho and Magic Valley. Thursday will warm a few more degrees. Tonight's lows will be mostly in the 40s and 50s. Winds will be generally light today and tonight, increasing from the South on Thursday.

Downtown Project Bids Due

Magic Valley Obituaries

Bids are expected from four to five general contractors Thursday on the Main Avenue reconstruction project, part of the Twin Falls downtown improvement program.
 City Manager Jean Miller said Wednesday considerable interest has been shown in the program and work will begin as soon as the contract is let. Estimated run below the half-million dollar figure on this phase of the work, but it will involve the central downtown area in which Main Avenue will be excavated and rebuilt with irrigation system, soil and some of the plantings for the mall type construction.
 Bids are to be opened Thursday at 4 p.m. and whatever contractor is selected to do the work, Mr. Miller said, assurance will be given the work will be done with as little disturbance as possible.
 However, the city manager said, it is not possible to tear up a street without creating dust, traffic problems and other inconveniences to the downtown merchants and shoppers.
 He urged the citizens and business operators and owners to be patient as the end result will be well worth the summer of inconvenience.
 With the start of reconstruction, traffic will be using the two one-way second avenue streets for all-through traffic and Main Avenue, at least during most of the time, will be closed. Stores in some cases will be relying largely on rear entrances for shopper use.

MEMBER ASSOCIATION OF NATIONAL SELECTED MORTICIAN

Idaho Retired Teachers Have Annual Meet Here

By the year 2011, there will be 45 million persons over the age 65, a speaker told the Idaho Retired Teachers Association, Tuesday evening at the Hogerson Hotel.

Mr. Utzinger, the regional representative for the National Retired Teachers Association and American Association of Retired Persons, spoke to the group on the topic "Gerontology, the Science of Aging."

There are 20 million retired persons in the United States, and this figure is growing at a rate of 1,000 persons per day, said Mr. Utzinger.

A population of 400 million people in 2011 will present a large employment problem. In order to give all people meaningful work to do, Mr. Utzinger suggested four alternatives. First, all work days could be reduced to 20 hours a week; second, all people could work six months of the year and vacation six months; third, all people could retire at age 41; or fourth, all people could go to school for 17 more years.

"In order for any of these ideas to work, the population must be re-educated to accept new roles, where leisure time is as important as working time."

The association is seeking $200 monthly benefits for Idaho's retired teachers. In 1968, Idaho teachers began receiving social security, but 50 per cent of all retired teachers still receive only $70 to $100 in monthly benefits.

Mr. Utzinger works with retired people in five states, educating them to care for themselves and to serve others. He advises all retired persons not to move or make any other important decisions until one year after retirement. Too many retired people are disappointed when they move away from the community where they lived most of their lives, he said.

At the conclusion of the I.R.T.A. meeting, new officers were elected. They are W. D. Wagner, president, Blackfoot; Grace Pritchey, vice president, Idaho Falls; Beas Duncel, treasurer, Post Falls; Helen Dietz, recording secretary, Buhl; and Bryan Bundy, president elect, Lewiston.

Man Who Escaped Jail Sentence For Drunk Driving Appeals Conviction

James Ervin, 40, of Twin Falls, convicted by jury Monday in Twin Falls Probate Court of drunk driving, has appealed the decision to district court.

Judge Eugene McCoy did not mete out the 10-day jail sentence to Dillon, a penalty now mandatory under Idaho law. At that time he said he will not impose the mandatory sentence to first offenders until the hassle over the new law has been cleared up. Rather, he fined Dillon $175 and $5 costs and imposed a 30-day jail sentence, which was suspended. Dillon also was placed on six months probation.

Prosecutor Robert Galley, who has until June 11 to file a writ of mandate, said Wednesday morning the appeal changes the situation considerably. At this time he said he has not decided whether to file the writ or let the appeal be heard in district court, and see how things turn out there.

Many judges in Idaho have opposed the new law, feeling it takes away too much judicial discretion, but this is the first case in Twin Falls.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Spurred by statistics which for some time have shown a persistent increase in crime nationwide, this reporter has made attempts to learn of studies showing what kind of men, women and youth the offenders are...

"Sorry, It's Beautifully Written—Sheer Poetry on Every Page... It Brought Tears to My Eyes... but No Four-Letter Words!"

Thus far, the information found has been scanty and inconclusive... But this reporter has come across one research paper covering convicted youth in a major Midwestern state... Two-thirds of the boys had been committed for breaking and entering, stealing or auto theft... This data suggests that possibly there has been an over-emphasis on the broken home as a major cause of crime and delinquency...

Pap Test

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am soon to have an examination including a Pap test. I do not have anyone close to talk to, and I wonder if you could tell me what to expect... The doctor collects a sample of the secretions from that region, but he does not get an immediate answer...

But a Pap test isn't of any value unless it is used. If you don't have the test for several years, and in the meantime a cancer has been forming, it may have reached a stage at which it is no longer predictably curable... For safety, it is regarded as a must-for women who have reached 40, and advisable in the 30s...

Squalid Variety

WASHINGTON—News of the more squalid variety almost never is a local story anymore... But that apparently is the way our official rabbits want it... Another burm named Thomas Porcade, "coordinator" of the alseazy Underground Press Syndicate, gave the Federal Commission on Obscenity and Pornography a taste of filthy language, then hurled a whipped cream pie into the face of one of the commission members...

The Treachery

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Possibly the doves would have had a great deal more impact on the Vietnam war if they had chosen to view Hanoi through the same sharp lens they turned on us and on various Saigon governments... One of the doves' favorite themes is that, as practiced by the late Ho Chi Minh and his successors, communism is nothing but Vietnamese nationalism...

New Farm Bill In Confusion

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Agriculture Committee unexpectedly rebelled Tuesday against an administration-backed price support program, throwing plans for action on a new farm bill into temporary confusion.

The panel, by a 17-14 vote, tossed out a previously approved compromise on support plans for wheat and feed grains, and substituted a plan offering a 100 percent support guarantee tied to the farm parity standard.

The vote upset plans by committee leaders of both parties to complete action on most details of a pending new omnibus farm bill which had been cleared as acceptable by the Nixon administration.

Chairman W.R. Pongro, D-Tex., adjourned the panel's closed meetings indefinitely.

Pongro told newsmen later he wasn't opposed to the substance of the substitute support plan, but didn't think it could be passed.

"Any time the proponents of the amendment can come back with assurance of the necessary support from the administration and the floor of the House to give a reasonable chance of passing the measure, I will call the committee and help them pass it," Pongro said.

"But I don't think it is fair to agriculture to present a bill to the floor simply to have it defeated," Pongro added.

Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., sponsor of the substitute, said he had no indication yet on whether the administration would relent or whether backers of his amendment would soften their stand.

Another source said, "The dust will probably have to settle for a couple of days before anything happens."

The Foley amendment would guarantee, beginning in 1971, continued price support for the domestic market wheat, tied to 100 percent of the "fair earning power" parity price, plus a simultaneous guarantee of a blended average support on all wheat of $1.84 a bushel. The blend guarantee would cover an acreage equal to the 1970 planting allotment.

For feed grains, the amendment would guarantee supports at a minimum of 65 per cent of the parity price on 80 per cent of each farmer's production allotment.

Rowdy Incidents Marring British General Election Set For June 18

LONDON (UPI)—Shouting, letting students Tuesday jostled candidates and threw groceries in the first rowdy incidents of the British general election campaign.

Britons vote June 18 on whether to keep the Labor party or bring back the Conservatives to form the next government.

London bookies continued to give Labor a slight edge in the betting odds.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson, splattered by an egg Monday, was the target of another egg as he climbed into his car Tuesday after a visit to a Labor supporter's home in the farming districts of Norfolk.

This time the egg only hit the car roof.

Conservative leader Edward Heath launched a barnstorming tour by plane and car with a campaign speech at Cardiff, in Wales.

At Colchester, former Foreign Secretary George Brown was shoved and shouted down by Essex University students.

A gray-haired woman supporter of the deputy Labor party leader leaped up and carried a long-haired youth while Brown bawled at hecklers. "There's nothing easier than breaking up a meeting."

Students shouted "liar" and "long live the NLF"—a reference to the National Liberation Front, political arms of the Viet Cong. Police ejected one youth with blond tresses.

Brighton students of Sussex University pelted former Conservative Minister Julian Amery with eggs, flour, tomatoes and water glasses. He departed quickly through jostling hecklers.

Farm Income Gaining

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin said Tuesday that his department produced gains in both farm income and efforts to eliminate hunger during the first year of the Nixon administration.

In his first annual report, Hardin said the Agriculture Department "reacted positively" to racial discrimination complaints by strengthening antidiscrimination regulations and ordering specific corrections in some instances.

Hardin's "Report of the Secretary of Agriculture—1969," is part of a series which goes to the President annually.

Hardin told President Nixon the first year of his administration saw a $1.2 billion upswing in farm income, an increase in farm exports, expansion of consumer protection programs and "major progress" toward expanding and improving food programs for the needy.

But farm income continues to lag behind the earnings of city dwellers, Hardin said.

Farmers, who earn only 75.7 per cent as much per capita as city people, are also hard hit by inflation because they cannot pass on price increases to their customers, Hardin said.

Charge In Rioting Is Reduced

TUCSON, Ariz.—(UPI)—Four of six students who faced felony rioting charges stemming from a melee at the University of Arizona pleaded guilty to reduced charges Tuesday.

Each was placed on two months probation by Superior Court Judge Richard Roylston, who took the opportunity to say a few words about such incidents at the university.

Former student body president Mark Ginsberg, Black Student Union leaders John L. Heard and Gale Dean, and another student, Nelson T. Barr, were allowed to plead guilty to misdemeanor charges of disorderly conduct. Felony charges against the other two students were dismissed.

Roylston said he believed the students should not be the ones facing sentencing.

"We should be sentencing the older persons; the ones we find constantly at the scene of such activities, who agitate the youth on campus to the point where disorder has got to be the only thing left," he said.

"Those older persons, clergy and professionals, as soon as the disorder is over, conveniently disappear and we hear loud statements the next day about how they abhor disorder," he said.

Samuelson Speaks At Dedication Ceremony

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson paid official and personal tribute Tuesday to contractor Harry W. Morrison at ceremonies dedicating new world headquarters of Morrison-Knudsen Construction Co.

Referring to the 1912 co-founder of M-K, Samuelson said the new building is an "enduring monument of distinction" to him and to the thousands of M-K employees, past, present and future who literally have helped build the world.

"The building reflects the confidence of Morrison-Knudsen in Boise and Idaho," Samuelson said. "All of us share in deep pride that M-K has planted its world flag in the capital city of the greatest state of all."

Samuelson said the state was honored to share in "such a deeply impressive occasion" as the dedication of M-K's new world headquarters.

"Around the world is the muscle; the know-how, the skill, the drive, the men and women of M-K in action as builders," he said. "You name it — and M-K can build it."

"In fact, you name it, and M-K probably has built it, because the world itself has been M-K's arena for the past 58 years of the company's vigorous and far-flung operations," Samuelson said.

New Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A new law aimed at protecting wild life species in danger of becoming extinct goes into effect Wednesday and the government named 247 animals to be covered by it.

These include a number of varieties of monkeys, tigers, antelopes, pheasants, parakeets and parrots, as well as the Mexican grizzly bear, the Argentine armadillo, the cheetah, the orangutan, the rhinoceros, the American peregrine falcon and the Philippine monkey-eating eagle.

Senators Rally Round Hatfield In Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fellow members—Republicans and Democrats—Tuesday rallied around Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., in a rare display of Senate unity.

They absolved him of all guilt and completely in the use of $2,175 in free mail privileges.

In fact, Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said "his heart is as far from fraud as heaven from earth."

Hatfield's troubles started when he became a major sponsor of an amendment to withdraw all U.S. troops from Southeast Asia by June 30, 1971.

He, and co-sponsors were flooded with mail. They decided to write a form reply and use Hatfield's franking privilege.

To help with the mailing, Hatfield's office used volunteers, described as "zealous, committed, idealistic."

The volunteers, however, also stuffed the envelope with a plea for money to back the antiwar amendment. It was signed by leaders Sam Brown and David Hawk.

When Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Meb., brought the mailing to public attention, Hatfield asked the Rules Committee to make a ruling. The committee held it was an illegal use of the frank, and Hatfield forked over $2,175.

Tuesday, Goodell came to the floor in Hatfield's defense. He said the plea for money was included without Hatfield's knowledge and "as soon as it came to his attention, he stopped it."

Goodell added that Hatfield felt "it might be legal but questioned the propriety of using the franking privilege."

JOAN EDWARDS
T. F. Student Graduates With Straight 'A's'

Joan Elizabeth Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moeck, Route 2, Twin Falls, was graduated Sunday from the University of Idaho with a B.S. degree from the College of Education, summa cum laude with a straight "A" standing for four years of college.

Mrs. Edwards attended two years at the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls, and the past two years at the University. She is married to Melvin Edwards who is continuing his education at the University of Idaho. She plans to teach next year in special education in the Moscow school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards have two children, Macheal and Angelina.

RECEIVES DEGREE
John Christopher Jensen, 435 Fillmore St., received a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Columbia College Tuesday.

Y To Start Day-Care Camping

The YMCA Day Care Camping program (Camp Adventure) will start Monday, launching the summer program. This program, for boys and girls 6 to 12 years of age, provides a variety of interesting programs for the children and acts as a day-care service for working mothers.

Children may be brought to the Y at 7:30 a. m. although the day's schedule will not begin until 9 a. m. All outings will be completed and children returned to the Y by 4 p. m.

Each day's activities will be different. Wednesday will be trip day, with visits to interesting points. Several overnight camps will be held throughout the summer and parents will be invited.

Other activities will include archery, arts and crafts, athletics, fishing, hiking, outdoor cooking, music and drama, swimming, tumbling, table tennis and softball.

Parents who wish their children to attend next week should have them registered by noon Friday. Copies of the folder are available at the office.

In making the award, University president Ernest W. Hartung stated:

"While the idiosyncrasy of Senate usage and the seniority system designate you as Idaho's Junior Senator, in spite of your long and distinguished career the vigor you bring to the discharge of your responsibilities on such Senate Committees as Interior and Affairs, Finance, Joint Economic, Select Committee on Standards and Conduct, and the Public Land Law Review Commission suggest that the seemingly youthful implication of the Senate's usage is not entirely out of place in your case."

"As a Senator, your constant concern for the affairs of your state and of this, its land-grant university, have placed you high in the esteem of its people and its university communities. In recognition of this esteem the University of Idaho is proud to welcome you to its honorary fellowship of alumni."

In addition to Jordán, the university presented an honorary Doctor of Laws degree to Atty. A. J. G. Priest, graduate of the university and scholar in residence at the University of Virginia, and honorary Doctor of Science degrees to George Brunzell, Spokane, University of Idaho graduate and president of Washington Water Power Co., and Arthur W. Fahrenwald, Moscow, dean emeritus of the university's College of Mines.

Appointments Are Reported

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson has announced appointment of Robert L. Mercer, Idaho Falls, to a three-year term on the Idaho Potato Commission.

Samuelson also has reappointed Ronald Ball, Lewisville, and Bill Webster, Rexburg, to second terms on the commission.

Mercer, field manager for the R.T. French Company of Shelby, succeeds Don Robertson, Boise, who has served two terms on the commission.

Eye Bank Project Ready At Jerome

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Correspondent

JEROME — Leon C. Felder, administrator of St. Benedict's hospital, announced that the hospital has approved a request by Jerome Lions to help implement a program, which involves removal of eyes from deceased donors for use in eye surgery and medical research, making it possible for others to see.

Ron Rogers, president-elect of the Jerome Lions and head of the group's eight-member committee, explained that the mechanics of the Eye Bank project involves more than having a donor and recipient.

"He said a procedure must be set up so that eyes can be removed and transferred as quickly as possible and considered as cooperation by various agencies and individuals is necessary to make sure donor-recipient lists are up to date; necessary equipment is available; the various doctors involved can coordinate activities and that transportation of eyes can be made quickly and safely.

Mr. Rogers said that one of the important first steps in setting up this project is the cooperation of St. Benedict's hospital and the hospital's medical staff.

The Jerome Lions club will furnish, at no cost to the hospital, the necessary surgical instruments for eye removal as well as specially made shipping containers.

The surgical instruments will be maintained in a state of constant readiness by the hospital so that they can be used on a moment's notice.

Dr. Harold F. Holsinger will be the coordinator for the physicians taking part in the project.

Mr. Leon Felder said that the hospital staff has volunteered its services and that the hospital has approved all aspects of the Lions program.

"The new program will be done without charge. We are happy to take part in programs which broaden health services," he added.

St. Alphonsus hospital in Boise has established a clearing house for the eye transplant which is run on a 24-hour basis. When a donor's hospital dies, St. Benedict's hospital will call St. Alphonsus in Boise who will then call the Lions Sight Conservation Foundation who in turn, will check an up to date list of recipients and then contact the ophthalmologist who will perform the operation.

After the hospital here has called Boise they will then call the physician or physicians who will do the removal surgery. As soon as the eyes have been removed, the local Lions club will have transportation arranged to take the eyes of the donor to the physician who will perform the transplant, according to Rogers.

City Revamps Its Drunk Driver Law

Approval of an ordinance to bring city regulations in line with state law in regard to motor vehicles being operated by persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs, was voted Monday night by Twin Falls City council members.

The council, however, postponed action after the third reading of another ordinance. This covered insurance requirements for taxi cabs operated in the city.

Lloyd Cox, owner of the local cab company, protested the ordinance as he has on previous readings. He said he plans to carry as much liability insurance as possible, but if put in a position where he is forced to have a specific amount, and one of the few companies that will write taxi insurance decides to drop him, the city would, in effect, be forcing him out of business.

Legislators Pay Cut Is Still Sought

BOISE (UPI)—A drive to cut legislators' expense allowances gained momentum today when proponents filed another 4,600 signatures with the secretary of state.

With representation now from all but Lewis and Boise Counties, the petitioners have filed 20,125 signatures with the secretary of state.

To put the proposal on the next election ballot requires filing of 25,280 by July 3.

Wally Burns, Idaho Falls, said he believes his drive will go over the top within three weeks if county clerks are able to process the remaining signatures in time. He said there are 1,500 signatures in courthouses awaiting processing right now.

"If we don't make it it's because they've sat on them," Burns said, adding that while some clerks are most cooperative others appear to be "bureaucrats."

"It's going to take more work," Burns said. "I don't say that we're done."

But he said he was optimistic the goal would be reached.

Kootenai County still leads the other 14 counties from which voter signatures have been received on petitions, Burns said.

Mrs. George Cook of Coeur d'Alene had collected 4,766 for filing to date and added that she has 13 petitions she hasn't sent in.

"Bonnevill County is trying to catch up with her at 4,500," Burns said.

Idaho's most populous county, Ada, has turned in only 1,507 signatures, Burns said, while neighboring Canyon County has filed 883.

The proposal would put on the next general election ballot an initiative cutting legislators' expense allowance back to $25 per day from $35 and limiting payment to 60 days of the first regular session and 30 days of the second session. It also would knock out the lawmakers' $200 per month office allowance.

Lewiston wasn't the only city in northern Idaho with problems concerning the census. Both Moscow and Coeur d'Alene have complained they were shortchanged during the nose count in April.

Moscow was credited with 13,731 residents but city officials feel the count should be closer to 15,500.

Coeur d'Alene, where the complaints brigaded, had an unofficial 15,765 persons within its limits during the April count. Officials there feel the number should have been between 17,000 and 17,500.

Census officials have said the cities could request a recount but would have to stand the cost themselves.

WOULD EXTEND TAX

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., planned today to introduce a bill that would extend for corporations the 5 per cent tax surcharge until 30 days after President Nixon officially declares that U.S. forces have ended combat operations in Cambodia.

The surcharge, currently levied on personal and corporate income, is scheduled by law to expire June 30.

The Almanac Happy Day School Students Given Trophies For Bowling Competition

By United Press International Today is Friday, June 5, the 156th day of 1970 with 209 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars, Venus, and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1917 more than nine and one-half million American men between the ages of 21 and 30 registered for the World War I draft.

In 1968 Senator Robert Kennedy was shot in Los Angeles by a 24-year-old Arab national later identified as Sirhan Sirhan.

Approximately a dozen students of the Happy Day School have completed their second year of bowling and this year their improvement reached a point where trophies were awarded those completing the competition.

The youngsters are assisted in the program by teachers at the school and the facilities are donated by the Bowlsdrome. First day instructors are also donated by the staff at the Bowlsdrome.

Bowling helps the retarded and handicapped youngsters gain balance and hand and eye coordination, instructors say. It also aids in their understanding of numbers and encourages their reading ability.

First place winner in the program was Nick Balles, and his brother Simon Balles placed third.

Lewiston Says Area Uncounted

LEWISTON (UPI)—Census takers missed one area in the Lewiston Orchards containing 2,800 people, according to Howard Jenson, chairman of the Orchard's Community Project.

Jenson said he had been attempting to contact state census officials but apparently they have missed their office in Boise. He said the telephone for the office had been discontinued.

Unofficial census figures showed the city area within the annexation of Lewiston Orchards had grown to 25,457 and had moved from seventh to fourth place in the state. In 1960 Lewiston and 12,601 residents.

Lewiston wasn't the only city in northern Idaho with problems concerning the census. Both Moscow and Coeur d'Alene have complained they were shortchanged during the nose count in April.

Moscow was credited with 13,731 residents but city officials feel the count should be closer to 15,500.

Coeur d'Alene, where the complaints brigaded, had an unofficial 15,765 persons within its limits during the April count. Officials there feel the number should have been between 17,000 and 17,500.

Census officials have said the cities could request a recount but would have to stand the cost themselves.

WOULD EXTEND TAX

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., planned today to introduce a bill that would extend for corporations the 5 per cent tax surcharge until 30 days after President Nixon officially declares that U.S. forces have ended combat operations in Cambodia.

The surcharge, currently levied on personal and corporate income, is scheduled by law to expire June 30.

UI Duo Testing Effect Of Pollutants On Lake

MOSCOW — Two University of Idaho graduate students are using muscle and computers to determine the effects of mineral wastes on fish food production in the Coeur d'Alene River and adjacent parts of Lake Coeur d'Alene.

Robert Wismar and Robert Minter, both of Moscow, are researching the production of plankton in and about the Coeur d'Alene Delta as part of a study sponsored by the Water Resources Research Institute at the university. Wismar and Minter, with assistance from Dr. Fred W. Rabe, assistant professor of zoology, are attempting to determine the effects of pollutants on the production of plankton — the principal foods of Kokanee and other game fish.

The two students must venture out on the river and lake waters several times a month, summer and winter, to collect their samples. A small boat, provided by the institute, fitted with a winch, is used to lift several hundred pounds of water samples per day out of the lake from depths often exceeding 50 feet.

"We are attempting to identify the 'normal' growth characteristics of plankton and then determine the effect of pollutants in retarding such growth," Wismar states. A 28-year-old doctoral degree candidate, Wismar is a native of Salt Lake City. "One of the principal elements we are looking at is the concentration of zinc in the waters," comments Wismar. "Zinc, along with lead, copper, iron, cadmium, and other elements in the waters of both the river and lake are being studied and their relationship to the growth of plankton will be interpreted with the aid of the university's Computer Center."

"A knowledge of the ecological requirements of populations which compose plankton communities is of growing importance when dealing with polluted lakes and estuaries," Wismar declared. "Such an analysis has never been performed on Lake Coeur d'Alene."

Minter, a 31-year-old native of Grand Coulee, Wash., is a masters degree candidate. He commented, "We are using a variety of methods to determine the effects of the dissolved and suspended elements on the plankton population. One such method is to inject radioactive carbon into sealed bottles of delta water, place the bottles at measured depths for predetermined periods of time, and measure the amount of radioactive substance absorbed by the plankton with a liquid scintillation spectro-photometer available in the university's Department of Dairy Science. Such testing reveals the amount of photosynthesis taking place at each depth — the basis for all life."

The students are also using the atomic absorption photometer in the university's College of Mines to determine the amounts of "foreign" elements present in the sampled waters. "We combine our data with that gathered by students in the College of Mines to give a broader sampling background to our survey," Wismar said. "Small amounts of almost all elements are normal in river and lake waters. A problem arises, however, when the concentrations of elements such as zinc and copper are increased by nearby mining operations. The toxicity of the water may then increase," Wismar explains, "reducing the amount of photosynthesis taking place in the plankton community."

Other results can be more direct," Minter notes. "If the concentrations of these pollutants become high enough, the plankton, as well as many species of fish, will die outright."

INJECTING RADIOACTIVE CARBON 14 into sealed bottles of Coeur d'Alene lake water is Robert Wismar, Moscow. Bottles will be suspended in lake four hours, then the plankton in the water will be analyzed to determine the amount of radioactive substance absorbed — a measure of the plankton's life processes.

Nixon Assures Lad His Brother Is In Heaven

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has assured a 10-year-old boy that his half-brother, a decorated soldier killed in Vietnam, is in heaven. Ron, Clarence D. Long, D-Md., made public an exchange of letters between the President and Gordon Danese of Essex, Md., brother of the late S.Sgt. Richard L. Hill, 24, winner of 13 medals, including the Distinguished Service Cross.

"I called you on the phone," the boy wrote Nixon, "but I got afraid and hung up."

"My brother liked the Army. A general gave us—Ricks medals—I cried but I was proud."

"So you think my brother is in heaven now?" The President replied: "Dear Gordon: ... When you lose a brother, it can be very, very hard to be brave. Yet since your brother was a hero, I know you will want to act the way he did, and by showing your bravery, remind others what a wonderful young man he was. ... You asked me if Ricks is in heaven. I'm sure he is. He is also in another important place in your heart and your spirit. Don't ever forget that your best brother was a hero not because he liked to be in a war, but because he wanted to save you and millions of others from ever fighting in a war. ..."

CSI Panel Gets New State Post

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson appointed a new state youth council, a new position created in the governor's office in cooperation with the federal government.

Samuelson said the program initially is funded for one year.

He said a governing board on youth opportunity will be established to provide a source of employment, education and training. He said it will consist of poor youth — especially representatives from minority groups. Council membership will include persons from state and federal government, representing employment, health, public assistance, services of economic opportunity and public health.

To complete the council's membership, leaders from private industry and civic groups also will be asked to serve, Samuelson said.

Samuelson said the goal of the council will be to set a platform from which to launch new programs to serve as a planning agency for youth aid as an advisory group to the governor and legislature.

He said the principal area of the project will be in the joint county areas of Pocatello and Canyon counties, with a population of 167,000.

Technical assistance also will be provided to the 12 largest cities in Idaho, especially the Pocatello area where the largest Indian population resides, he said.

He said the plan is to establish youth advisory councils on a broad scale to plan and work for improvement of youth needs in health, education, training and employment.

Adams, a 1953 graduate of Borah High School in Boise received his bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Arizona in 1957. He has a number of education degrees in counseling and guidance from the University of Arizona.

He comes to his new position from the College of Southern Idaho where he was in charge of the counseling center for the academic division.

He was appointed director of counseling with the rank of assistant professor in 1968.

GOP Meet Chairmen Are Named

BOISE (UPI) — State Sen. Phil Batt, R-Willard, and Billie the platform committee for the GOP State Convention scheduled for June 10-12 at the Idaho Falls Sheraton Hotel.

Sen. Batt, R-Willard, is the platform chairman and Billie is the resolutions chairman.

Lewiston Cancels Rock Music Concert In Park

LEWISTON (UPI) — A rock music concert scheduled June 7 in a local park will not be held because of action by the Lewiston City Council Monday night. The council, on the advice of City Manager William Staffe, voted against allowing the concert in conjunction with the Lewiston Fine Arts Festival.

Staffe said he and Police Chief James Williams felt the park was too small to handle the concert held in a park here.

Today's Market And Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Advances piling in front of declines as trading rounded the halfway point on Wall Street Wednesday.

Analysts noted that some early backing and filling encouraged traders because it indicated "the market didn't want to give ground" despite recent sharp gains.

One analyst said the market's action could mean there's a good chance "we've seen a significant bottom of the averages."

The DJI market indicator measuring all stocks traded, was ahead 0.78 per cent near 1:30 p.m. on 1,467 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 765 advanced and 451 declined.

The Dow Jones Industrial average of 30 selected blue chips showed a rise of 2.81 to 712.42 after being off more than 2 1/2 points around noon.

A three-hour turnover of 8,570,000 shares compared with 8,360,000 shares at a comparable period Tuesday.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—We are just one year from retirement and my husband continues his search for ideal investments to supplement our income at that time. He now is interested in McCrory 7 1/2 of 1964. These debentures sell below 70 to yield over 10 percent and have a capital gain possibility of 45 percent. How likely this is a sure thing. What is your opinion?

A—No B-rated bond can be assumed to be a sure thing. They are considered speculative since under severe economic reverses interest payments might not be met. However, a second uncertainty exists here—the 57-percent ownership by Rapid American Co. McCrory has earned its interest (on all three outstanding debt issues) 24 times; an adequate but not outstanding record.

At your age I would hesitate investing any large amount in a bond with maturity 24 years away. I like California Electric Power 4 1/2 of 1988 which are selling at around 65 to yield 14 percent to maturity. This utility is now a subsidiary of Southern California Edison and the bond is rated A-1.

Q—May I ask your opinion of Ideal Cement? I hold shares of 12 1/2 and anticipate a dividend reduction.—H.B.

A—After the 1967 merger with Potash Company of America, Ideal Cement became Ideal Basic Industries. The company has failed to cover its 25-cent quarterly dividend in 9 of the last 10 quarters. Until the higher rate on the basis of Ideal's strong working capital position.

Sales this year will probably be little changed from 1969, although limited improvement could be seen in earnings. Higher cement prices should help counteract reduced shipments to the construction industry. A weakened price structure resulting from overcapacity in the potash industry should be bolstered by restrictions imposed by the Premier of Saskatchewan effective Jan. 1, 1970.

Given an improved economic climate, higher construction levels could lift sales and earnings meaningfully. Your shares should be held for this eventuality.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—An important aspect of the latest rally that should be mentioned was that the primary change was in "investor psychology rather than market fundamentals," Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. says. Until there is a change in the fundamentals Zinder believes, "one must assume that the current rally is primarily technical in nature." He notes that no base pattern has been formed and last week's lows not tested, adding that not until one of these conditions occurs "can we look upon the current rally as the beginning of a new bull market."

NEW YORK (UPI)—An important aspect of the latest rally that should be mentioned was that the primary change was in "investor psychology rather than market fundamentals," Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. says. Until there is a change in the fundamentals Zinder believes, "one must assume that the current rally is primarily technical in nature." He notes that no base pattern has been formed and last week's lows not tested, adding that not until one of these conditions occurs "can we look upon the current rally as the beginning of a new bull market."

Area Club Observes 22 Years

MILNER — The Friendship Circle Club of Milner observed its 22nd year of existence May 12.

The only charter members left in the club at the present time are Mrs. Lorean Sears, Twin Falls, and Mrs. J. E. Neumann and Mrs. Parnum Warr, Milner.

The club was originally started as a social club but before too much time elapsed it was decided there were too many worthwhile projects that needed attention, so members devoted their time and talents to this achievement. Besides the regular collection of toys, the club sells all occasion and Christmas cards to finance their expenditures.

For the ninth year they have had the same needy family in the Burley area for Christmas. Due to continuing misfortune the family is still in need of material aid. The club donates to this family throughout the year and sent clothes and gifts to a child member of the family during her confinement at the State Tuberculosis Hospital in Gooding.

They helped clothe two boys so they could continue their education in high school. Other past projects have included making puppets for the Cassin Memorial Hospital, canning and sewing for the Boise Children's Home, canning for the Idaho Youth Ranch at Rupert, and for a number of years sponsored the Milnerettes 4-H Club and held a Christmas program for neighborhood children.

Another project they undertook was to clean up and fence the Milner Cemetery, an old pioneer cemetery. After the initial work was done, members of the Milnerettes and Better Feeders and Fitters 4-H Clubs continued to keep up the grounds. This is a yearly service project for the 4-H Club and the Friendship Circle is still responsible for any funds needed for its maintenance.

Members strive to help and support the 4-H Club as most of the members have either children or grandchildren in the club.

They have donated to Red Cross, Cancer, Polio and Heart Fund drives and for individuals and various organizations in other areas where help is needed.

At the present time Mrs. J.E. Neumann is president of the organization and Mrs. Jess Jackson secretary.

Members also consider the social side of things and have an annual picnic and ice cream supper, an outing and dinner each fall to some destination in Magic Valley, and a Christmas dinner and party for the husbands.

AWARD NOTED
GOODING — Kerry Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schmidt, was awarded the 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award at Gooding High School. Miss Schmidt is a member of the Drama Club, Choir and Future Teachers of America.

LILLIAN SORENSEN, left, secretary of the Burmah Improvement Club, gives a check for $300 to Mrs. Frank Stearns, right, Lincoln County trustee for the Easter Seal Society, while Pam Freeman, center, 13, a student at the center in Twin Falls, looks on. All are of Shoshone. The Burmah Improvement Club made two quilts and quilted them off to raise the $300 for the center.

DEAR ABBY: I go with this guy who says he loves me, but listen to this. Every time he shows up, he has garlic or onions on his breath and he knows how much I hate it because I have told him so. No amount of chewing gum, breath freshener, or mouthwash helps. A breath like that really turns me off, Abby. What do you think I should do about it? Don't tell me to find another boyfriend because he is perfect for me in every way but this.

DEBBIE IN THE BRONX

DEAR DEBBIE: Beware of a guy who says he "loves" you but can't resist food that leaves his breath less than lovely. He is obviously more concerned with his own pleasure than yours. Now if you are willing to settle for a "perfect guy" with just one "fault," you have him.

DEAR ABBY: After going steady with Melvin for three years, we announced our engagement officially, and I started making plans for my wedding.

I thought Melvin's mother would make a perfect mother-in-law because she was always so nice to my face, but listen to this: She called up my mother and said, "I hope Cindy (that's me) won't wear false eyelashes on her wedding day, and please tell her in a nice way that those false hair pieces she should please leave in the drawer, too."

(Abby, I have some very nice hair pieces which Melvin likes on me.) Not knowing what else to say, my mother said, "I will give Cindy the message."

What right has Melvin's mother to tell me how to look on my wedding day? I don't want trouble with her because I love Melvin, but what is your opinion of such a lady?

MELVIN'S BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: I think Melvin's mother is treating you like a "daughter" already.

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with your answers, but I disagree with your reply to "THINKING IT OVER." Her husband is sterile and opposed to artificial insemination, but she wants to be the baby's "natural" mother in preference to adopting a child. You said, "Tell him that it's easy to be a father, it's more difficult to be a man."

Since "THINKING'S" husband is against the idea of artificial insemination (and Phappan to agree with him) then why, for pity's sake, can't this woman bring herself to open her heart to a homeless child who is already on this overpopulated earth?

WAUKEGAN MOTHER

CONFIDENTIAL TO EVERYBODY: The man who says he doesn't want to become involved in politics is like a drowning man who says he doesn't want to become involved with water. Vote as you please, but PLEASE VOTE. Add the time to make sure you are properly registered for that privilege is NOW!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90049. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Famed Driver-Builder Of Auto Racers Dies

In Test-Run Accident

GOODWOOD, England (UPI)—Bruce McLaren, a successful driver who turned to building race cars, died in the flaming wreckage of an auto he designed and was testing for this year's Canadian-American Challenge Cup series.

Allen Has 7 RBIs As Cards Rip S.F. 12-1

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Riche Allen drove in seven runs with two homers and a single Tuesday night to back the fourth pitching of Steve Carlton and give the St. Louis Cardinals a 12-1 win over the San Francisco Giants.

Allen, the National League's second leading home run hitter, smashed a towering homer over the right field wall in the fifth-inning and belted a grand slam-homer in the eighth. The first blast drove home Carlton, who singled three times in four trips to the plate. The grand slammer drove in Julian Javier, who had singled, Lou Brock, who was intentionally walked, and Jose Cardenal, who walked. Cardenal's walk drove in Ted Simmons, who singled to lead off the eighth.

Box score for Cardinals vs. San Francisco Giants. Includes batting and pitching statistics for both teams.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The San Diego Padres routed Bob Veale with a six-run first inning enroute to a 14-8 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday night.

Grand Jury Will Probe England Wins 1-0 In World Soccer Opener

Sawchuk

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—Nassau County District Attorney William Cahn announced Tuesday that testimony in the death of New York Ranger goalie Terry Sawchuk will be heard by a grand jury which could hand up a manslaughter indictment. The 40-year-old hockey player died last Sunday in New York Hospital of internal injuries, reportedly stemming from a fight with 37-year-old Ranger right winger Ron Stewart. Cahn said the police investigation of the case is continuing but added, "I think the interests of justice would best be served if the matter is presented to the grand jury as soon as possible."

Mexico City (UPI)—Eight teams have made their way in the 1970 world soccer championships and the other eight come into action for the first time today with two of the games rated no contests and two expected to be thrillers.

Today's action pits Belgium against underdog El Salvador in Mexico City, Sweden against Italy at Toluca, Brazil and Czechoslovakia at Guadalupe and West Germany against Morocco at Leon. The Brazilians suffering from injuries and psychological problems, expect a battle royal from the tough, confident Czechoslovaks. The Italians expect the same treatment from the Swedes who have threatened to demolish the opposition one way or the other. Belgium and West Germany should rack up huge scores. The El Salvador 11 should give Paul Vann Himst and company only token resistance in the vast Aztec Stadium. In Tuesday's matches, defending champion England dominated Romania for most of the play at Guadalajara. But it took a single goal by Geoff Hurst in the 68th minute to give England a 1-0 victory. Peru produced a magnificent comeback from a two-goal deficit to edge Bulgaria 3-2 at Leon. The Peruvian heroes were Alberto Gallardo, Hector Chumpitaz, and Teofilo Cubilla after Dinko Dermendjiev and Khristo Bonev had given Bulgaria what looked like an insurmountable lead. The Peruvians played under a cloud of sadness following news of last weekend's earthquake disaster at home. But they promised to play their hearts out in homage to the dead, their coach said. And they did just that. Uruguay beat Israel 2-0 on goals by Aldo Mareiro and Juan Mujica. All games were virtually free of incident as coaches and players were apparently fearful of warnings that offenders would be severely dealt with. Only one serious case of injury emerged—Uruguayan star Pedro Rocha, bothered by a knee injury, was taken off in the ninth minute when his leg was kicked in a scramble.

McLaren Died Developing Seven-Liter Machine He Hoped Would Give Him the Can-Am Series for the Fourth Straight Year

McLaren died developing the seven-liter machine he hoped would give him the Can-Am series for the fourth straight year. Last week he finished testing his own car, and Tuesday he was driving the car Hulme would have driven in the series. Hulme is still recovering from burns suffered practicing for the Indianapolis 500 two weeks ago.

More than 60 yards of tell-tale black tire marks scarred the straightaway. An unidentified eyewitness said the car "crashed into an old observation post, rather like a huge mound of earth, which sent it spinning off the track." "There was obviously no hope of the driver being alive, for burning fuel had set fire, not only to the remains of the car, but also to a large area of surrounding grass and track." The joint managing director of McLaren's company, Ted Mayer, said the cause of the accident was not yet known.

Astros 6, Expos 4

HOUSTON (UPI)—John Edwards, a 167 hitter, drove in two runs with a single and a triple and scored twice to spark the Houston Astros to a 6-4 victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night, extending the Expos' losing streak to nine straight.

Edwards, a 167 hitter, drove in two runs with a single and a triple and scored twice to spark the Houston Astros to a 6-4 victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night, extending the Expos' losing streak to nine straight. Jim Ray allowed only seven hits and two runs in 6-1/3 innings of relief to earn the victory, equalling his record at 2-2.

'Wild Man' Of Patriots Quits Pro Football

BOSTON (UPI)—Defensive end Larry Eisenhauer, a nine-year veteran of the Boston Patriots who was nicknamed "wild man" for his ability to get at a ball carrier or quarterback, retired Tuesday from professional football. The 30-year-old four time AFL all-star choice said he retired because his off-season business with Data Metal Co. was going extremely well and a knee he injured in 1967 still bothered him. The 8-foot-5, 245-pound Eisenhauer joined the Patriots in 1961.

Hyndman, Morey Score Impressive Victories In British Amateur

NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Ex-Walker Cup golfer Dale Morey naturally wants to keep winning in his bid for his first British Amateur golf championship.

Nettles Hits 3 HRs, Indians Sweep Pair

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Graig Nettles hit three home runs and Duke Sims two and Sam McDowell fired a two-hitter Tuesday night to lead the Cleveland Indians to the double-sweep over the Milwaukee Brewers, 4-1 and 9-0.

Twin Falls Legion Nips Rupert 1-0

A clean sweep hunt by Steve McClain scored Twin Falls over Rupert in the bottom of the fifth inning Tuesday night to lift the Twin Falls Legion team past Rupert 1-0. Twin Falls' "B" team took a 10-0 win in the opener.

The loss went to hardluck loser John Fennell who had stayed out of trouble all night and allowed only two hits. But with one out in the seventh, Ward lofted a high fly to right field where the ball was dropped, Ward winding up on third base. After Kevin Nelson was hit by a pitch, McClain dropped his bunt to decide the game.

Nelson took the victory in relief, the third Twin Falls pitcher. Rupert had two good scoring chances in the first and second innings off starter Wayne Graham. The best was in the first when Darrel Dietz lived on a dropped third strike. Tony Saras' lived when his bunt was error'd and a walk filled the bases. But Ron Blackwood and Rick Semba turned over a 4-3 double play to end that.

Rupert 000 000 0-0 4 1 Twin Falls, 000 000 1-3 2 Fennell (L) and Bair, Graham, Barbour (4), Nelson (W, 5) and Wickham.

Bill Hyndman of Huntington Valley, Pa., who lost to Morey in the semifinals of the North and South tournament recently, looked in the form Tuesday while beating Irishman Greg Young 3 and 2 and advanced to today's second rounder against Scott Martin Lygate.

Second round winners were scored by Boyd O'Donnell, La Jolla, Calif., Hunter McDonald, Southfield, Mich., Francis Whitaker, San Jose, Calif., and Tyler Gray, Athol, Calif.

K And T Outlasts Keelber 22-21

K and T Steel nipped Keelber 22-21 in a free swinging slugfest in the Twin Falls city slownpitch softball league Tuesday night.

B-15 Beer dropped Culligan's 8-5 and Royal Ludwig dropped Ceco-Buttrey's 13-9. The Turf Club, getting homers from Ted Burgess and Bill Marlett, trimmed Olympia-Ford 10-3. Shirley and Wyatt, with Darl Gled hitting a homer, topped John's Husky 17-7 while Coors Beer thumped Kroff Janitorial Supply 14-7. Thurber homered for the winner.

Angels 3, Tigers 2

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Jim Fregosi's sacrifice fly to right field scored Jay Johnstone with one out in the bottom of the tenth to provide the California Angels with a 3-2 win over the Detroit Tigers Tuesday night.

Johnstone had opened the inning with a triple to the right centerfield wall. And after getting one out, Detroit manager Mayo Smith gambled on walking two men intentionally to get to Fregosi. Fregosi then lifted a sacrifice fly to right and Jim Nantz's throw to the plate was too late.

Reliever Paul Doyle, who came in to get the last out in the top of the 10th, picked up his third win without a defeat. The Angels moved a game and a half behind Minnesota in the West. Joe Niekro went all the way for Detroit and yielded seven hits to take his fifth loss in nine outings.

Willie Horton's third hit of the night, a single, had put the Tigers ahead in the sixth.

League President, Others Defend Reserve Clause Use

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two league presidents, a team general manager and a former ballplayer testified in Federal court Tuesday that the reserve clause in a player's contract was necessary for the well-being of organized baseball.

National League president Chub Feeney, American League president John Cronin, St. Louis Cardinal general manager Bing Devine and former catcher Joe Garagiola all supported the contention of baseball that the reserve clause, which binds a player to one team until he decides to dispose of him, is the linchpin of the game.

The $3 million trust action against baseball was instigated by Curt Flood, who is claiming that major league were forcing him to play "in slavery" when the St. Louis Cardinals traded him to the Philadelphia Phillies last October. He contends the forced trade would disrupt his home life and hurt his photography and portrait business.

Feeney, president of the National League, testified his two days of testimony by stating that trading is necessary by teams to equalize the competition on the field. Although major league teams spend millions of dollars to develop their own young players, trading is essential to put the best possible team on the field. Feeney was followed by the stand by Devine, the man who traded Flood to Philadelphia in a seven-player deal that brought Richie Allen to St. Louis. Under examination by Mark Hughes, attorney for the club owners, Devine testified that Flood had told him he was going to quit baseball.

Flood said that he was mentally and physically tired that he was going to quit before he was told to quit and he thought there was something better than playing center field. Devine said, "He then told me he was going to quit and not report to the Phillies."

Devine said he told Flood to get in touch with general manager John Quinn of the Phillies and Flood replied, "I'm going to quit. I'm not going to Philadelphia."

Carter Makes Amends With Bears' Staff

CHICAGO (UPI)—Quarterback Virgil Carter may have removed himself from the Chicago Bears' dressing room Tuesday with an apology for his insulting comments about the team's coaching staff in a post-game blow-off last season.

Carter met with Bears' owner George Halas before leaving for a California vacation and asked that a statement to "clear up the misunderstanding" be published.

"Any grievance on my part is irrelevant now," the statement said. "The main consideration is the manner in which I expressed myself. It was an action unbecoming an athlete or businessman."

"I feel this statement is necessary for my own peace of mind and I wish this clear in my conversation with Mr. Halas," the statement concluded.

Halas said he was happy to see Carter, and that "his statement speaks for itself. I told him his life is too short to bear grudges."

The "Carter incident" took place in a game at Chicago against the Green Bay Packers when he was removed at halftime with score tied at 0-0.

Registration Is Underway

Registration for tennis and golf clinics is being conducted this week and the open play use of the high school gymnasium for basketball will begin June 13, announces Chad Browning, city recreation director.

Browning said persons eight years of age and up should sign up this week at the Harmon Park recreation building. There will be four two-week sessions to choose from.

The youth golf clinic, opening June 9, has registration at the clubhouse. Clinic times will be 8 a.m. for 8 through 11 years; 9 a.m. for 12 through 14 years; and 10 a.m. for 15 years and older.

The gymnasium will be open for basketball from 6:30 p.m. Monday and Thursday, beginning June 13, although the days may be shifted from week to week. Jerry Hale, coach of College of Southern Idaho, will conduct a basketball clinic July 13 through 24.

Laver Throttles Pancho Gonzalez

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rod Laver, near the peak of his game, methodically cut down Pancho Gonzalez 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 in the semi-finals of the $200,000 Tennis Champions Classic Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden before 7,000.

Laver, twice a loser to Gonzalez this year, was in total command throughout as Pancho's service completely deserted him.

Lashed by his victory, won $15,000 and was certain of additional $15,000 by gaining the Classic final to be in July.

Laver went after Gonzalez at the outset and tore through the first set, yielding only two points off his entire service and Gonzalez was fated not to break Laver in the entire match.

Gonzalez had to fight for his life in virtually every game he served with scores going to ducece, double ducece and triple ducece on many occasions. He was broken in the fourth game of the first set and the break came on a double fault.

Jay Topkis, one of Flood's lawyers, asked Devine if the offer to quit was not a "standard gambit" used by other players during salary negotiations. Devine said, he didn't think so.

Priest Pleads Insanity In Draft Office Offense

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Roman Catholic priest stood before the federal judge and claimed insanity. He said anyone who professed his political beliefs must be insane under the law.

Father N.J. Riddell, 40, a Carmelite priest from Milwaukee, Wis., and 10 other persons are on trial for ransacking a South Side Selective Service Office last year and fueling a bonfire with the draft records of thousands of young men.

Father Riddell did not stop with declaring himself mentally ill. Three of the other defendants are as insane as he, he testified.

Chicago draft office May 25, 1969, and destroyed records with no feeling of wrongdoing, and thus were wrongly insane at the time.

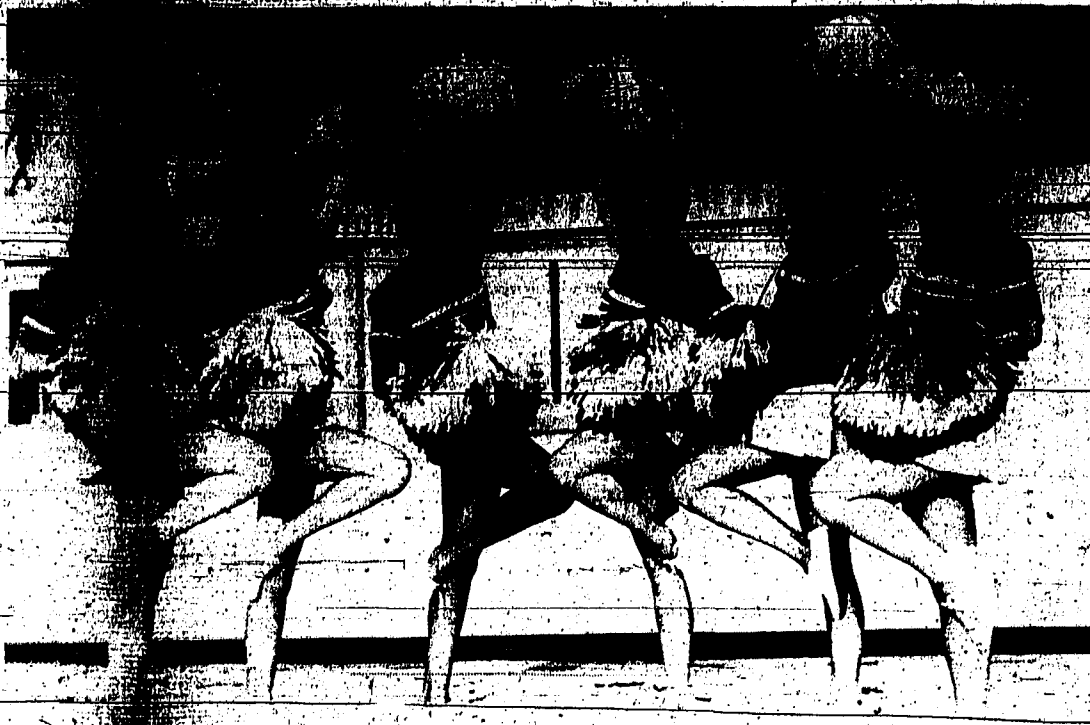

The defense has summoned a string of expert witnesses to testify about what is normal and what is deviant in a society. But prosecution objections have forced most of this testimony to be delivered while the jurors were out of the courtroom.

Minis, Movies Taking Mystery Out Of Sex

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Contrary to the impression most laymen probably have formed, some psychologists believe sexual interest in young people is declining.

If that be true, then President Nixon probably has hit upon the explanation for it.

In comments made to him in a recent magazine article, the President suggested that longer and more interesting than the "to a man, there's a mystery in what's hidden," he said.

If I may elaborate on this theme a bit, man is the only creature on earth that has any illusions about sex. Which is the primary reason why he has been able to put his fancy over the other creatures.

Ants and termites mention a couple of other creatures, regard sex matter-of-factly. As a result, they have underdeveloped imaginations, and lacking imagination, they also lack the power of inventions, which is essential to progress.

(It has been contended since an ant or a termites has invented anything worthwhile.)

Man, by contrast, has always had a vivid imagination where sex is concerned. And as a result has kept his Patent Office busy. The miniskirts, however, are rapidly being shattered by such phenomena as miniskirts and Swedish movies, which take away much of the mystery of sex. Today the average 9-year-old boy knows more about the female body than the average 80-year-old gynecologist knew 30 years ago.

And now, on top of sexual disillusionment, a New York computer service is trying to take the mystery out of car-buying. For a $5 fee, it will provide you with a detailed cost analysis of the make and model you have in mind.

From this, you can calculate how far below the "sticker price" a dealer may be willing to go.

Well, now. If anything over the years has been more mystifying than sex, it is car prices. Thanks to the imagination and power of invention of car salesmen, motorists are filled with illusions.

That computer service I have just mentioned will destroy those illusions just as surely as miniskirts and Swedish movies have demystified sex. And I predict that it will cause man to lose interest in cars. And if man loses interest in cars, both sex and cars, it is only a question of time before the ants and the marmosets take over.

Take Linda Quint, 28, Chicago. She shows "morally deviant behavior," Father Riddell testified, because she wears an old Army shirt, a plain skirt and an old pair of shoes, and thinks the American system is racist.

Or William Durkin, 20, Milwaukee. He is "mentally deviant" because he has no money and sleeps on the floor of an agency where he works with the indigent in a Skid Row area of Milwaukee, the priest said.

His testimony was part of a legal play—believed to be the first of its kind—intended to back up the plea of innocent by reason of insanity for those accused of illegal acts of protest.

Lawyers for Father Riddell, Miss Quint, Durkin and Edward Gargan, 10, Milwaukee—four of the "Chicago 11"—contend their clients ransacked the
