

Youths Assail Deputies

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Angry young persons using hit-and-run tactics showered sheriff's deputies with rocks and other missiles late Sunday after officers dispersed a hostile crowd of up to 1,000 in the Isla Vista community near the University of California.

Deputies said a total of 27 persons had been arrested by early today, including two at a jail facility for interfering with an officer. They said the arrests were mainly for curfew violations with some for resisting arrest and narcotics violations. Three were identified as females and one was a juvenile.

They said that at one point more than 200 officers were in the Isla Vista area before the situation stabilized.

At least three injuries were reported, but none was serious. Deputies said the original crowd had scattered quickly as the scores of officers arrived at the embattled Bank of America branch in Isla Vista, a predominantly student community adjacent to the 14,000-student school.

However, as the officers from Santa Barbara County, the California Highway Patrol and other neighboring agencies began their sweeps through the area, they were met with showers of rocks from small groups of young people darting through the shadows down side streets and in and out of apartment buildings.

Tear gas was used in numerous locations, deputies said, where the officers were met with larger pockets of resistance.

At one point many in the large crowd had showered the bank with rocks breaking most of its windows.

The disorders began Thursday after students became angered at grand jury indictments handed down against 17 persons, including some students and former students, in connection with the burning down of the original Bank of America during riots here last February. The current branch was erected across the street from the original.

Tribunal Delays Assailant 'Fars' Man Near T.F.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court decided today to rule next term on a modified state loyalty oath requiring teachers and employees to swear support of the U.S. Constitution and to disclaim belief in overthrow of the government.

The announcement that a Florida case will be heard next fall or winter came as the court sat for the last time in more than a year as an eight-man bench. Justice Harry G. Blackmun will be sworn in as the ninth member Tuesday.

The court took these other actions:

Governors Open Utah Conference

PARK CITY, Utah (UPI)—Informal gatherings of eight state chief executives got the 1970 Western Governors' Conference under way today at this northern Utah resort town.

Governors and their staffs who Sunday checked into this little mining town, turned ski resort included the following: John A. Burns of Hawaii; John A. Haydon, American Samoa; Daniel J. Evans, Washington; Jack R. Williams, Arizona; Carlos G. Camacho, Guam; Forrest H. Anderson, Montana; Stanley K. Hathaway, Wyoming; and Rampton.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado was touring South Vietnam and reported would not arrive until Tuesday. Idaho's Don W. Samuelson notified his southern state neighbors that the press of business would not allow him to arrive until Tuesday also.

A gondola trip was planned for late afternoon up lush green Treasury Mountain for the governors and their wives.

Cambodians Repel North Viet Troops

Israelis, Syrians Continue Ground War

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian troops have driven North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces out of the outskirts of the city of Slem Reap and its airport near the ruins of the ancient city of Angkor Wat, military spokesmen said today.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese spokesmen said a 5,000-man South Vietnamese task force had finished a drive to clear the east bank of the Mekong River but was remaining inside Cambodia to link up with government marines operating nearby.

The U.S. Command in Saigon reported today that a helicopter mishap of the 1st Air Cavalry Division Sunday accidentally opened fire into allied troops in the Cambodian Fish Hook region and killed two South Vietnamese soldiers and wounded 17, one of them an American adviser.

Israel and Syrian forces battled in ground and air combat today for the second consecutive day in the occupied Golan Heights. There was speculation that Syria was reactivating the long dormant front to relieve Israeli pressures on Egypt.

New strife was reported between Arab guerrillas in Jordan and the Jordanian army. The Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) said 104 persons were killed or wounded in a guerrilla-army battle Sunday in the town of Zarga 20 miles northeast of Amman. Some fighting was reported in Amman itself.

Meanwhile, Israel pressed its air war against Egyptian targets along the Suez Canal and an Arab leader warned that American economic interests in the Middle East would suffer if the United States continues military support of Israel.

A Syrian communique from Damascus said a gun battle started at 11:30 a.m. today in the southern sector of the Golan Heights, an area of high ground which the Israelis seized in the June, 1967 war. The combat spread later to the central sector with the Israelis using artillery and tank cannon. The Syrian report said Israeli commanders threw jet fighters and bombers into the battle at 12:30 p.m. and that the planes were met by heavy anti-aircraft fire. Damascus communique said Syrian gunners opened fire and inflicted heavy damage on Nakhla Gashar, a settlement which the Israelis established after the 1967 war.

Robert Young Wins 'Emmy' Kudo

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—actress Oscar in the same movie, was honored when her Emmy award Sunday night as best actor in a series, repeating a triumph for old-timers on the heels of John Wayne's Movie Oscar this year.

Young, who stars in the title role in the series "Marcus Welby, M.D.," celebrated his comeback to television this season after winning Emmy awards in 1956 and 1958 for "Father Knows Best."

Best actress in a series was Susan Hampshire in "The Forsyte Saga" (NET), an English video treatment of the old English classic.

William Windom won the best actor in a comedy series award for his Thurber-like performance "My World and Welcome To It."

Hope Lange, whose "The Ghost and Mrs. Miller" was canceled this season, won the laurel for best actress in a comedy series.

Most popular show of 1969-70 television season was ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D.," a dramatic story of a family doctor dealing with contemporary problems.

As opposed to regular series performers, the outstanding single performance award by an actress was won by Patty Duke for her performance in the interracial story, "My Sweet Charlie." Miss Duke won a supporting Oscar more than a decade ago in "The Miracle Worker."

Her co-star in that film, Anne Bancroft, who won the best

Task Force Ends Trip, Plots Report

SAIGON (UPI)—A presidential task force concluded a four-day fact-finding trip to Southeast Asia today. They said they were prepared to report to President Nixon "new insights and facts about the Cambodian situation."

The 13-member group of senators, congressmen, governors and White House officials departed from Tan Son Nhut airport for Honolulu aboard a presidential jet.

They planned to return to Washington later in the week with a written report for Nixon and Congress.

Herbert G. Klein, White House communications director and leader of the highest-level delegation to visit Cambodia since U.S. entry there, made a brief statement in Saigon before taking off for Hawaii.

Failure To Yield Line Nets Charge

WALSENBURG, Colo. (UPI)—Charges were to be filed today against one of two women who reportedly refused to yield a telephone party line to a mother whose three children had just fallen into a pond.

The three—all boys—drowned before rescuers could reach the scene.

Huerfano County District Attorney Ernest Sandoval said Sunday he would file formal charges today against one of the two persons involved, a 18-year-old girl whose voice was allegedly identified by the boys' mother. Sandoval said he would file charges against the second woman, an adult, some time later.

Hijackers Team To Flee Czechs

NUERNBERG, Germany (UPI)—Eight hijackers, including two married couples, used guns to force the pilot of a Czechoslovak State Airlines plane to land at Nuernberg today, Bavarian border police said.

The hijackers, who also had a two-year-old child with them, were armed with five pistols, a knife and brass knuckles, police said.

When he was taken to the hospital Sunday his condition was listed as critical; and, because of his condition, officers have been unable to interview him to find out details of the attack he apparently underwent.

Officers said Mr. Lucas, who had been in the Twin Falls area only a few weeks, was clad only in his undershorts and was covered with roofing tar when he was picked up.

Mr. Lucas, whose last known address was Reno, Nev., is being treated for head injuries and numerous abrasions.

Novelist Forster Dies At 91

LONDON (UPI)—E. M. Forster, whose novel "A Passage to India" became a classic in his lifetime, died Sunday, June 7.

Forster said the cause of death was believed to have been a stroke. Forster died in Coventry where he had been staying with friends while recovering from a heart attack.

Forster had little use for orthodox morality. "I do not believe in hell," he once said. "I distrust great men. If I had to choose between betraying my country and betraying my friend, I hope I should have the guts to betray my country."

A shy, slightly built man with an elfish grin, Forster wrote only five novels. The first was "Where Angels Fear to Tread" in 1905. "A Passage to India," published in 1924, was his last fiction work.

Money Sought For Integration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration asked Congress today to provide $1.5 billion over the next two years to help school systems desegregate. A spokesman said the measure would deal for the first time with de facto segregation.

However, administration officials asked that funds for training of students not be included in the special legislation designed to ease the desegregation transition of local school districts.

Thailand Intervention Hinted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A top-secret military "contingency plan" apparently contemplated use of American ground troops to repel Communist aggressions if the government of Thailand appeared in danger, a Senate transcript disclosed Sunday.

The agreement, signed in 1965 and continually updated in recent years, is not an official U.S. commitment to Thailand, U.S. officials testified. There is some question whether it is still in effect because of legislation passed last year.

But Leonard Unger, U.S. ambassador to Bangkok, said the United States has an obligation to the "successful defense" of Thailand if it is threatened by external aggression.

The exact terms of the bilateral contingency plan and its supplementary agreements are classified but members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, after a lengthy struggle with the administration, finally were permitted to see it last year.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., discussed the plan in the heavily censored hearings by the committee's national security agreements subcommittee last November.

"You can and you have done nearly everything outlined in the Thai contingency plan except provide ground troops," he told Unger. The statement went unchallenged.

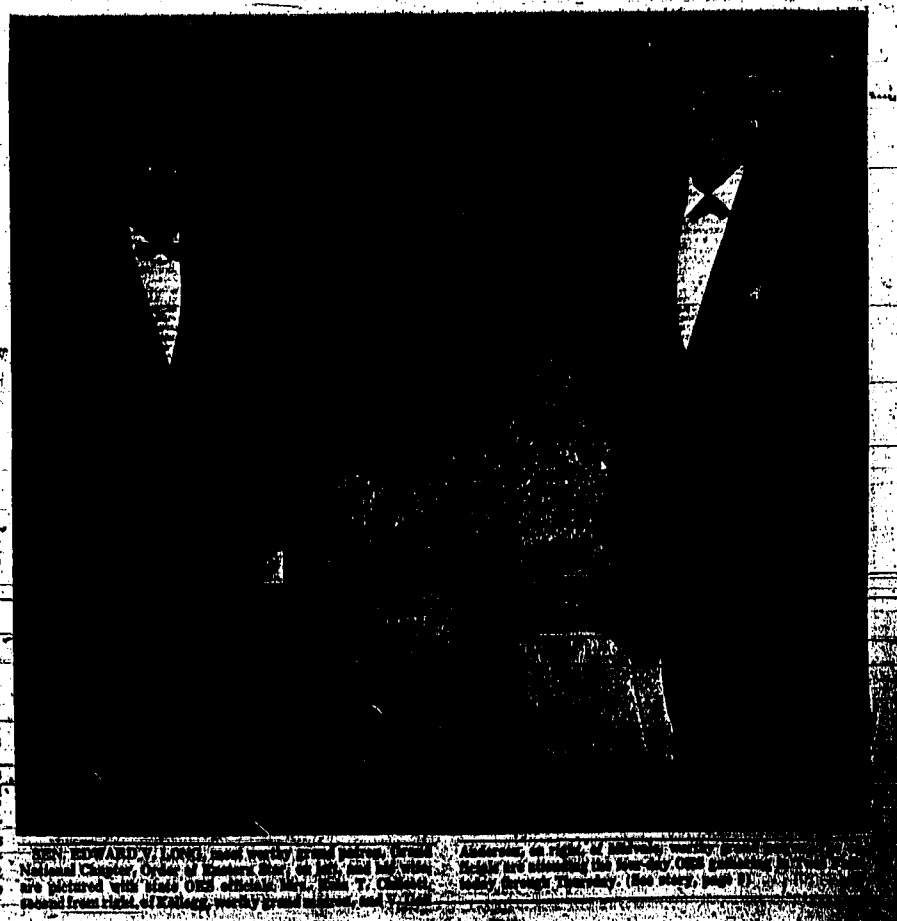

"So far as Thailand is concerned, senator, we have," Unger replied.

The contingency plan was not extensively discussed in the hearings since the committee received a completely secret briefing on its details earlier.

But the transcript did go into considerable detail on another U.S.-Thai agreement, signed Nov. 9, 1967, by Unger and a representative of Thai prime minister Udon Thuan.

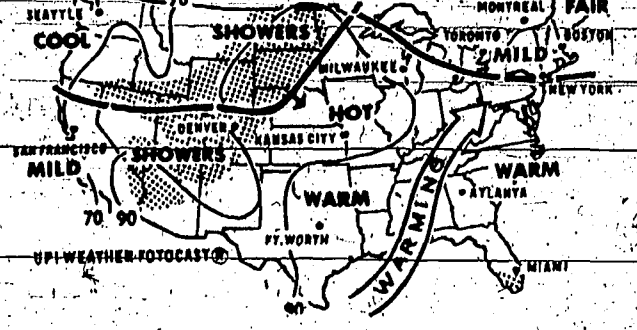

Under that agreement, the United States has equipped fully and provided logistics support for Thai forces going to Vietnam, paid their overseas allowances, paid their muster-out bonuses and even paid their expenses for putting up visitors. The total support since the Thai "volunteers" began serving in Vietnam in 1968 has been $200 million.

Fulbright and other members of the panel said this amounted to supporting a "mercenary" army, but Unger and other administration representatives argued that Thailand's worsening economic situation did not allow that government to support its forces itself.

Run On Panty Hose

EMMEN, Netherlands (UPI) - Panty hose are staying up in popularity among Dutch women, according to Dutch stocking manufacturers. A total of 75 million pairs were sold in the Netherlands in 1969, compared with 57 million pairs of stockings. Even if the mini-skirt craze, the manufacturers say, they expect the trend toward panty hose to continue.

Singer Visits With Trudeau

OTTAWA (UPI) - Singer Barbara Streisand left for home, Sunday after a weekend visit with Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

Miss Streisand, wearing blue bell-bottom trousers and red suede vest and hat, was accompanied to the airport by a Trudeau bodyguard.

Her last known visit to the prime minister was in February when he took her to the Manitoba centennial celebration.

The apparent romance between Miss Streisand and Trudeau, 50, has inspired many jokes in Parliament. A Manitoba wheat farmer even wrote to her to ask her to intercede with Trudeau on the farmers' behalf.

Shortage Of Power Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) - White House adviser Virginia H. Knauer Sunday sent a warning to urban officials and utility companies to review plans for handling a "power crisis" this summer.

Mrs. Knauer, an adviser on consumer affairs, issued the memo to reinforce a May 5 report from the Office of Emergency Preparedness that said some areas face the possibility of critical power shortages.

The areas include most urban centers in the eastern and southeastern states as well as Chicago, St. Louis and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

"I want to impress upon all local authorities and utilities the need to review contingency plans to cope with health, transportation or security problems which may result from power shortages," Mrs. Knauer said.

President Nixon's special assistant also told consumers to keep battery-powered radios, and flashlights on hand in case of blackouts. She said all major appliances such as freezers, refrigerators and stoves should be unplugged during power failures.

"This will prevent voltage irregularities from damaging your appliances," Mrs. Knauer said.

Walker Urges Enforcement Of Pollution Laws

Democratic gubernatorial hopeful, Lloyd J. Walker, Twin Falls, has offered his commitments to the directors of the Idaho Environmental Council for their stand opposing a second term bid by Gov. Don Samuelson, Republican.

Mr. Walker said in a

Homedale address, "I am pleased they have not yet indicated a choice of individual candidates because all of the Democratic nominees should be heard on the environmental issue."

"I do not favor more environmental legislation, at least at this time, but rather, immediate implement of existing laws. For example, a deadline has been set for the enforcement of ambient air standards in Pocatello. This is December of this year. Considering the leniency of air-pollution laws in Idaho there is no reason why they should not be enforced," the Twin Falls attorney declared.

"I would also like to consider possible revision of some of the pollution standards at a later date by calling upon experts in the field rather than permitting those who create the pollution to set the standards and act as their own judges in policing the problem," Mr. Walker added.

Mrs. Zagata Funeral Services

BUHL - Victoria Mary Zagata, 81, died Saturday at the Harrel Nursing Home of a sudden illness.

She was born in Germany on Dec. 10, 1888. She came to the United States as a young lady and settled in Chicago. She was married to Stanley Zagata in Chicago in 1914. They came to Buhl in 1950.

She was a member of the Buhl Catholic Church of Immaculate Conception.

Surviving are three sons, Frank Zagata and Tony Zagata, both Buhl, and Joseph Zagata, Nehalem, Ore.; eight grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Her husband and a son, Albert, preceded her in death.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Hopkins Buhl Funeral Chapel. Requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Catholic Church of Immaculate Conception with Father Malachy McNell as celebrant. Final rites will be at the Buhl Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel all day Tuesday.

Mrs. Buell

Mrs. Baulah May Buell, 88, died 9 p.m. Friday at the home of her daughter, in Pocatello, of a brief illness.

She was born May 20, 1882 in Owasso, Mich., and was married to Ernest C. Buell Jan. 4, 1910 at Elsie, Mich. The family moved to Montana in 1927, then to Gooding in 1934. Mr. Buell preceded her in death, July 18, 1954, at Gooding. She went to Pocatello in March, 1968, and has resided with her daughter Mrs. Mark "Wava" Whitbread.

She enjoyed all outdoor activities and was an expert fisherman. Mrs. Buell was a member of the Methodist Church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Wava Whitbread, Pocatello, and several nieces and nephews in Michigan.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Thompson Funeral Chapel, Gooding, with Rev. Edmund Stanton, of the Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the family plot in the Elmwood Cemetery, Gooding. Friends may call at Henderson Funeral Home, Pocatello, Sunday, and at Thompson Chapel, Gooding, Monday evening, and Tuesday until time of the services.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Henderson Funeral Home.

Annis Smith

Mrs. Annis Kiser Smith, 65, a former resident of Twin Falls, died Sunday morning at her home in Yucca, Ariz., following a long illness.

She was born Oct. 30, 1904, in Illinois and lived in Twin Falls for many years until moving to Arizona about 12 years ago. Her husband, S. E. Smith, was a bricklayer in Twin Falls.

Surviving are her husband, Yucca, Ariz.; two sons, M. Sgt. Wesley L. Surgeon, Ft. Lawton, Wash., and scheduled to leave for Vietnam in the near future; Robert E. Surgeon, Eden, and six step-sons and step-daughters, several nieces and nephews and six grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two daughters as small children, and a son, Dean, who was killed in a traffic accident several years ago in Nevada. Also surviving is a half-brother, Frank Kiser, Hot Springs, Mont.

Funeral services will be in Kinman, Ariz., with burial in the cemetery there beside the grave of her son.

Lewis Conrad

Lewis E. Conrad, 87, formerly of Twin Falls, died Saturday afternoon in a Caldwell Hospital of an illness. He was born Feb. 3, 1883, in Webster County, Neb. He married Mabel C. Current on April 12, 1905, in Blue Hill, Neb. She died in 1966.

Mr. Conrad came to Twin Falls in 1948 from Rupert where he had resided since 1937. He was a retired service station operator and had operated a Phillips 66 station for many years. He was a member of the Twin Falls Lodge 23, IOOF and was past grand master of that lodge. He also was past chief patriarch of Colfax Encampment 20, IOOF, and was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Twin Falls. He had resided in the Odd Fellows home in Caldwell the past several years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Irma Halouska, Boise; two grandchildren, Robert Halouska, Burley, and Nancy Halouska, Boise; and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Twin Falls Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Dr. Harold N. Nye. Burial will be in Sunset Memorial Park with final rites by members of the Twin Falls Lodge 23, IOOF.

Grease Ignites, Starts Fire

A pun of grease caught fire at 7:40 p.m. Sunday at a residence at 229 Madison St., Twin Falls. Firemen reported, and kitchen cupboards, ceiling and door and curtains were damaged.

Two trucks answered the call but by the time they arrived the occupant, Joyce Ford, had extinguished the flames.

Three fires were reported in the city Saturday. At 3:20 p.m. two trucks answered a call to 304 Robbins, owned and occupied by O.W. Daniels. Fire in a trash barrel had spread to a lumber pile and fence. Two trucks answered the call and were back in quarters at 3:50 p.m.

At 5:35 p.m. firemen were called to 303 Seventh Ave. E., occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Harvey. A fire in a shed was believed to have been caused by children, firemen said, and no damage was caused, except to the shed.

On Saturday firemen also extinguished a fire in a car at Sixth and Shoshone Street. The fire, which occurred at 7:04 p.m., was in a 1968 Chevrolet owned by Theodore G. Muth.

Wilson Is 3rd Term Favorite

LONDON (UPI) - Harold Wilson will campaign in 55 key voting districts before election day June 18 in his bid to become Britain's first prime minister to serve three consecutive terms, aides said Sunday.

Buoyed by unanimous predictions of victory from opinion polls, Wilson spent through another town of industrial northeast England.

At several stopovers on Sunday's campaign swing, Wilson was noisily heckled by Conservative and left-wing demonstrators shouting "Wilson out." But Wilson took the interruptions with apparent good humor.

Conservative challenger Edward Heath and members of his "shadow" cabinet took time out from electioneering to review strategy in a war council at the opposition leader's London apartment.

Conservative officials said there was no atmosphere of gloom, although opinion polls gave labor a 45 per cent lead that could add up to a 50-seat majority in the next Parliament.

They said their own reports indicated the Conservatives are doing well. They said it was agreed to launch an all-out push to recapture lost ground as the campaign entered its second week, with skyrocketing prices the main weapon of attack against the labor government.

But British newspapers said nothing apparently could stop another Wilson victory.

"It will now take a near miracle, or heavy abstentions, to stop Labor winning," the Sunday Observer said.

Nonviolent Revolution Advocated

WATERVILLE, Maine (UPI) - Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., called Sunday for a nonviolent second American revolution to make a reality of the ideals of the first one.

Addressing 300 graduating seniors at Colby College, McGovern said Americans must "come home from the killing and destruction in Asia to the healing of our own land."

"I think we urgently need a second American revolution - not a revolution of violence, but a determination to square the nation's policies with the ideals of our founding documents," he said.

"Our hope lies with an affirmation of the nation's historic ideals and more intelligent and thoughtful effort to make the system serve those ideals," he said.

McGovern received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Question . . .

What death benefits are available to dependents of veterans who died in service, or as a result of a service-connected disability?

Answer . . .

Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) is payable through the Veterans Administration to a widow, children and dependent parents of a veteran dying after January 1, 1957 as the result of a service-connected cause or a compensable disability.

DIC payments to a widow are based on the pay grade of her deceased husband. Commencing at $167 monthly the payments range to a maximum of $426. Widows with children under age 18 receive an additional $20 per month for each child.

House To Tackle Post Office Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House is set to grapple with a week with President Nixon's independent postal reorganization plan, the potential battle over farm subsidies and a proposal to send a delegation to report on the Southeast Asian war.

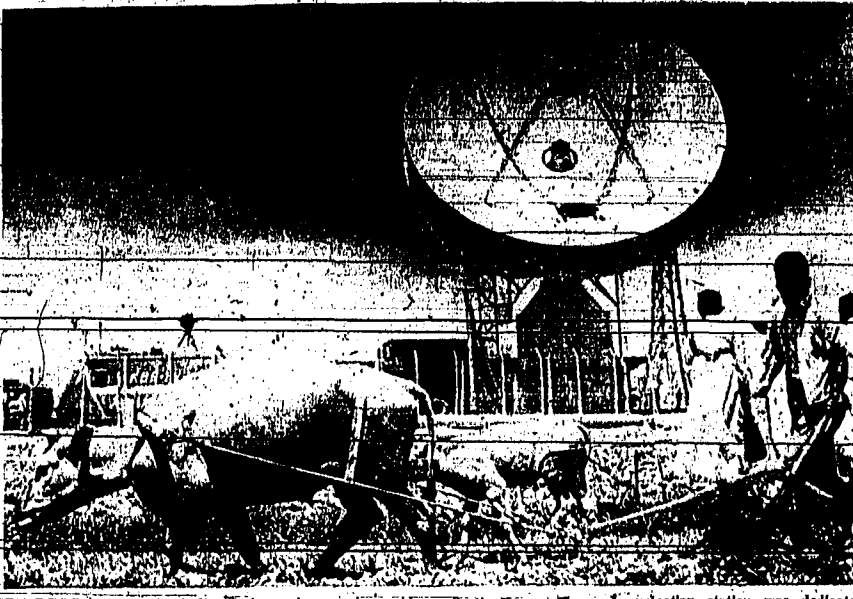

In the Senate, a key test vote is scheduled Thursday on administration efforts to soften proposed curbs on the President's powers to conduct ground military operations in Cambodia after June 30 without congressional consent.

The House was to begin its week with a noncontroversial bill to extend the 1965 Economic Development Act for depressed areas. It will then consider a resolution that would establish a bipartisan 12-member committee to investigate "all aspects of the United States military involvement" in Southeast Asia.

A report would be expected in 45 days.

New Agency Plans Credit Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new federal agency named to scrutinize consumer credit will undertake this month to find out why among other things, debtors are still going to jail in some parts of America.

The National Commission on Consumer Finance, citing "widespread abuses" in the financing field, announced Sunday it has summoned a star-studded group of witnesses to testify on methods now used to collect consumer debts.

The hearings by the commission, authorized by the 1968 "truth in lending law," will be held here June 22-23.

According to the commission staff, of particular interest are such currently legal and "all too frequent" situations where: A housewife can be sued if she refuses to make payments on a washing machine that doesn't work. If the store where she bought it has turned the loan over to a finance company and the company sues, she has no defense.

A driver whose car has been repossessed can be sued for the difference between what the car brought at public auction and the full amount of his auto loan.

Families who believe their debts have been wiped out by court bankruptcy action can later be sued by finance companies charging fraud in their loan application.

Debtors can be ordered by a court to pay the full amount sought by a lender without a hearing.

New Board Game Studies Policy

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Today I am introducing another new board game. You had better start playing right away because this game has a time limit. It is called "Cambodia" and it must be finished by the end of June.

The rules:

Each player selects a marker shaped like a construction worker's "hard hat." The markers are then placed on a large board shaped like the map of Cambodia.

The board is divided into squares. Half of the squares are blank. They represent the places where enemy headquarters were located.

The other squares are colored red and are labeled "sanctuaries." Each time a player's marker lands on a "sanctuary," he receives a "rice card" representing 5,280 tons of captured enemy rice.

Players should place their "rice cards" face down on the table for use at appropriate times, which will be explained later.

Before each move, a player spins an arrow to determine whether it is a "good move" or a "bad move." It's the same move either way. Whether it is good or bad depends on the point of view.

To determine the point of view, the players draw a "viewpoint" card. If the arrow points to "good move," he draws a card labeled "Nixon's Viewpoint."

If the arrow points to "bad move," he draws a card labeled "Fulbright's Viewpoint."

When a "bad move" is indicated, the player must follow the instructions on the "Fulbright's Viewpoint" card, unless he has one or more "rice cards," which give him an option.

For example, the instructions might read: "Incursion into Cambodia is viewed as militarily unsound. Go back 10 spaces." The player, if he chooses, may now turn up one of his "rice cards" and use it to cover the "Viewpoint" card.

Indians Plot New Land Drive

HAT CREEK, Calif. (UPI) — Friday, removed some employees from the facilities. PG&E announced Sunday it would not press charges against the Indians since it just wanted them out of the camp so employees could take their vacations. However, the sheriff's office said any decision to drop charges would have to wait until the courts opened Monday.

None of the Indians resisted although Greg Thorpe, daughter of famed Indian athlete Jim Thorpe, went limp and had to be hauled to a police van by four officers.

Most of those inlaid said they welcomed a court test of their claims to 5,000 square miles of northern California—an area the size of Connecticut.

The Indians said the land was taken from them illegally in 1853—a claim upheld by the Indian Claims Commission in 1959. However, the government said the Pit River tribe agreed to relinquish its rights in return for part of $29 million offered to all California Indians. None of the money has been paid out yet.

MANILA (UPI) — The mayor of the town of San Fernando in Pampanga province has set up a huge billboard in front of the municipal building with this message to would-be demonstrators:

"My dear students: This is the wrong place to demonstrate. We are doing our job to the best of our ability in serving public interest and welfare. Please make good use of your concern for the nation elsewhere."

"Thank you, Mayor Virgilio Sanchez."

Test May Come In '71

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The big test for President Nixon's Vietnam combat troop withdrawal timetable is likely to come with the Vietnamese Tet holiday period in February, 1971.

By that time, if the President has kept the pullout pace at the present level of about 12,000 men a month, our combat forces will be down to about 38,000 above the 284,000 man total ground force — including predominantly support elements — which Nixon has fixed for May, 1971.

The quick-shot North Vietnamese assaults of recent times, though obviously coordinated and capable of lifting our casualty rates, are not seen in official circles as militarily significant, yet they are of course, nearly impossible to prevent.

This government, in fact, expects still stronger 1970 drives by Hanoi in both the southern Delta and eastward from the A-hau Valley in northern South Vietnam, but insists that, in combination with Saigon's uptrained forces, it can contain those anticipated moves. It does not see them interfering with the withdrawal pace.

that only 105,000 men came down the Ho Chi Minh Trail last year as compared with 250,000 in 1968.

COMMENT A Nuisance

Washington (D.C.) Post The Senate Judiciary Committee has given unanimous approval to Sen. Sam Ervin's bill designed to protect the constitutional rights and privacy of executive branch employees.

Well, you might think this was just a generalized expression of senatorial preference for virtue over vice. But not at all. When a closely similar measure came to the Senate floor in September, 1967, it passed that chamber overwhelmingly.

that exempting them is the price that has to be paid for covering State, Treasury and all the rest of the executive branch.

But what about all the rest of us outside the government? Senator Ervin's ardent objections notwithstanding, the U.S. Army is still taking it upon itself to collect data about all manner of citizens recording among other things their participation in protests, their attendance at political meetings, their enrollment on petitions.

These data, computerized by the brilliant resourcefulness of modern technology, lie waiting like buried bullets to shoot down a blossoming career. There is not much use in protecting government employees from snooping if the citizens who might otherwise become employees are under Big Brother's surveillance.

Wallowa

The Portland Oregonian Some of the residents of what has been called "the Switzerland of America" — Wallowa County, in Oregon's northeast corner — have signed petitions proposing secession.

The specific complaints of Wallowa's petitioners are the closure of Boise-Cascade mill and the proposal of a moratorium on hydroelectric development of the stretch of the Snake River that forms the county's boundary with Idaho to the East.

was the ecological expedition to the Snake by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel and entertainers Arthur Godfrey and Burl Ives.

Wallowa's protesters realize that secession is constitutionally impossible. But they are making their point: The goals of wilderness promoters are not always harmonious with the welfare of those who must make their living in the "wilderness."

To Serve?

Boise Statesman Should service in the Idaho Legislature be limited to people who are wealthy, or retired? That is the basic issue in the initiative campaign to limit legislative pay.

The proposed initiative would return pay to the level set by the constitution framers of 1890, $10 a day. There would be a $25 daily expense allowance.

This is a prescription for a second-rate legislature, dominated by people who can afford financial sacrifices to serve, compelled to act in haste because of unrealistic deadlines.

After the 1970 session of the legislature adjourned its performance was sharply criticized in these columns. This initiative is not likely to improve the caliber of the legislature. It is likely to reduce it.

The money savings in legislative pay would be more than offset by the enactment of bad legislation, or the non-enactment of good legislation.

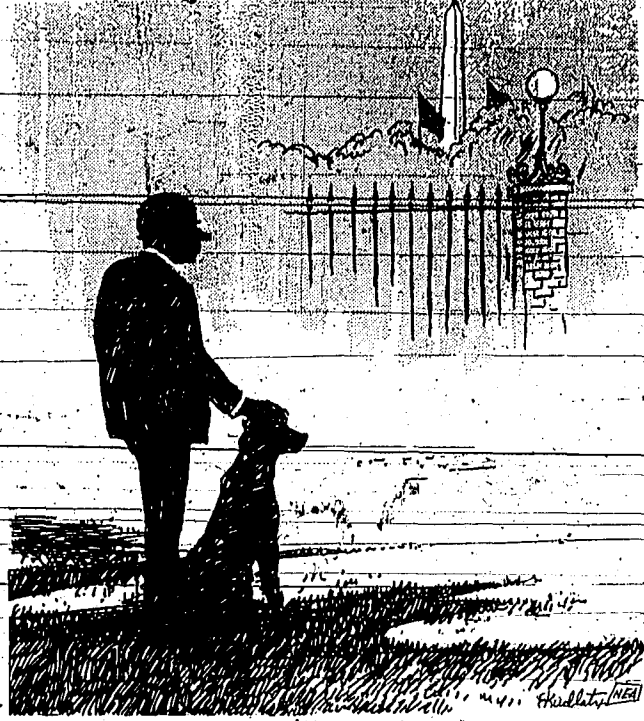

One of the greatest handicaps of the Idaho Legislature is the high rate of turnover. Most of its results not from the defeat of incumbent legislators at the polls, but their decisions not to run again.

For most members a legislative session means maintaining a second home in Boise. Rental rates are high. Many must neglect their business or profession, or take a leave of absence from their job.

The legislature could and should improve its performance with changes in procedure. Interim committees ought to be more aggressive in keeping up with current problems and issues.

The proper place to express dissatisfaction with legislators and their conduct is in the voting booth, not by trying to impose pay levels that have been outdated for 30 years.

Vietnamization

WASHINGTON — The splendid combat performance by South Vietnamese troops in Cambodia not only strengthens the Vietnamization program but casts dark clouds over the U.S. military advice going to President Nixon.

The way ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) outfits have handled North-Vietnamese regulars in Cambodia's Parrot's Bank has evoked raves from the very U.S. generals who insisted they could not do the job.

The implications of this are staggering. It means Mr. Nixon could have enjoyed the military fruits of entering Cambodia without the calamitous political and economic consequences his now endures and without reactivating the dormant peace movement.

This Cambodian dispute between Laird and the Joint Chiefs is the culmination of sharp backstage disagreement over Vietnamization between civilian and military at all levels which we observed during our recent reporting trip to Vietnam.

Yet one high-ranking civilian official told us in Vietnam: "Abe just doesn't understand Vietnamization." He and other civilians feel Abrams and the uniformed military are missing an essential point of Vietnamization — that South Vietnamese troops must take over from the Americans not when they are ready, but ready or not.

only American ground troops in the delta, pulled out last August amid nervous prostration by the U.S. high command. The generals feared the 7th ARVN Division simply could not handle the job in troublesome Kien Hoa and Dinh Tuong provinces.

Superficially, their fears have been realized. Communist military activity in these two provinces has increased, and nobody claims the 7th ARVN performs nearly as well as the Americans.

Frontier Days

WASHINGTON — Even in John Kennedy's New Frontier days, when it was dangerous to question the social garb-playing of the White House court, I took a dim view of such determined adolescent nihilists as dunking fully-dressed party guests in swimming pools.

Nevertheless, I was underwhelmed by the news that White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler, in new blue suit, had been pushed into a convenient pool by a Democrat named Len Blekwith, who works for the Senate Commerce Subcommittee on Environment.

Perhaps, it was inevitable. In cowardly retreat before Cambodia-inflation and gamey student protesters, I have lately been exposing my delicate psyche to the society pages of Washington's daily newspapers and have reached a sad conclusion, to wit, that the Nixon administration's society folks take themselves too seriously.

In the frantic scramble for a place near the Nixon throne, government officials and their wives have turned Washington's salons into lecture halls in which each tries to outdo the other in long-winded speeches in praise of the boss's policies.

She may never sit with Met-ternich, but she is fun. She says what she pleases without fear of or favor to either hubby or the U.S. Senate, and she dares to wear items like high-heeled shoes that mark her as unmistakably a girl. Besides, it was time someone jolted the posy and instant expertise of Sen. Bill Fulbright.

But the speech makers cause me to yearn for the good old days when a body could go to a party, lap up some booze, punch a side of beef and blow the joint without hearing a politician say anything more significant than "Pass them there fish eggs, Monsewer."

The charge can be brought, that the unconscious culprit responsible for this situation is Richard Nixon. Because he works at least 25 hours a day and won't so much as say "Good Morning" without adding a plug for his Vietnam policy, his hirelings apparently feel duty bound to mount their own portable soap boxes whenever they appear socially in public.

Thus, I yearn also for the resurrection of the late Luke Barnett of Pittsburgh, who earned a living as a professional, for-pay pest.

Hostess Irene Barnett at up to $500 a night to keep their guests loose up at the plate, and his art held strong men in terror. Poising as a waiter, Luke's technique was simple — and horrible.

The time of Tet in 1971 may be something else. It is then, or soon thereafter, that U.S. officials think Hanoi may decide to commit forces of multidivisional strength against our severely diminished combat units and Saigon's largely untested armies presumably toughened under the "Vietnamization" program.

Optimists in the Pentagon think such a Viet intrusion probably directed straight at Saigon and using North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units mostly quartered in Cambodia can also be blunted.

Further, knowledgeable critics of U.S. policy think our optimism wholly unwarranted, that Hanoi can mount a big assault, damaging to Saigon almost as it wishes. They rate our forces about as strong as ever.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

On Swimming

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How long should a child of 8 be permitted to remain in a swimming pool? Last summer my granddaughter was in a pool for two hours. Two days later she had an earache and lost a lot of sleep.

I don't feel that a child that age should be allowed to go with another, aged 10, and decide for themselves when to come home. This has been a bone of contention with my daughter-in-law ever since the children were born. — S.G.

This is not an easy question to answer with any rigid rule except for one thing: some supervision is essential. I trust there was a guard or some supervising adult present at the pool.

How long to let them stay in? Well, that caracal may or may not have had anything to do with the two hours in the pool. As a doctor I'm suspicious of any caracal in a child; hearing may be impaired or even lost if a serious infection is present.

I would be cautious of letting any child with ear trouble go in the water, unless a physician gave assurance that it would not be dangerous.

Otherwise — there's a great deal of difference in a suitable length of time in the pool. How rugged is the child? A slightly-built child cannot tolerate the amount of chilling that another child, with a chubbier build (and a thicker layer of fat) can stand.

Temperature of the water obviously is important: So is the air temperature. And so is the amount of activity. Just standing around or splashing around will get a child colder than active swimming.

Some children (and adults, too) may be more sensitive to chlorine in the water, and such factors.

When a child starts to shiver, is slightly blue, has goose pimples, that child should get out of the water and warm up. On a warm, sunny day, just getting out of the water will do it. On a dull, cool, or windy day, the youngster should have a robe to put on or should go inside, dry off, and warm up.

I don't know why they do it. I have a vague recollection of having done it myself many years ago. (But I don't even know why I did it.)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain the difference between a ruptured blood vessel and an aneurysm? — W.B.S.

An aneurysm is a weakened, and usually bulging, place in a blood vessel. It is, therefore, a point at which a rupture or actual leaking of the vessel may occur.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 7 1/2, has had asthma most of his life and had allergy shots since 3. He has had pneumonia several times, and when he has an attack of asthma he has severe coughing but without bringing anything up. Can you suggest any medication to loosen the phlegm? — S.M.

Your doctor — his doctor — is the one to answer this. Commonly-used agents are small quantities of iodides, ammonium chloride, or a preparation containing guaicol.

Note to I.K.: Keep in mind that it sometimes takes time to adjust the dosage of thyroid medication to just the right amount. Instead of your all-or-nothing attitude, wait a bit to get the dosage just right.

"Miracle Rice" Now Has Flavor

MANILA (UPI)—The miracle makers who produced high-yield rice to fill Asia's empty bellies but in the process lost the flavor, now have put it back in again with the help of deadly gamma rays.

Dubbed "atomic rice," the new, better-tasting grain—the staple diet of Asia's teeming millions—is undergoing advanced field trials and agricultural scientists say it should be on dinner tables within a year.

Developers of the new rice, report higher grain quality, earlier maturing and greater resistance to disease than the original miracle rice developed by the Philippine-based International Rice Research Institute (IRRI).

The miracle rice which hit the world in 1966 helped spark the so-called "green revolution" making many previously hungry countries self-sufficient in food. But there had been reports of farmers switching back to the traditional low-yield varieties in the face of widespread complaints over the taste of miracle rice, called IR8.

The greatest impact in Asia of atomic rice is expected to lie in its grain quality, what makes

T.F. Library Readers Follow Western Trails

Theme of the summer reading program at the Twin Falls Public Library this year is "Western Rivers and Western Trails," and youngsters are continuing to sign up for participation.

Sally Carpenter, children's librarian, said there are 100 youngsters already signed up for the summer program and registration is continuing. Miss it taste better.

Dr. Iluminado G. Valencia, 49-year-old chief of the Agricultural Sciences Department of the Philippine Atomic Reactor Center (PARC) that made the breakthrough, said three new varieties of the indica rice preferred throughout most of Asia, are not plump and chalky like miracle rice.

The new grains, narrow and with "very little" of the chalky belly, are better tasting, he said.

But atomic rice retains the same high-yield qualities of miracle rice, about 11,520 pounds per 2.4 acres for atomic rice against 12,240 pounds for IR8. Instead of the 120 days from planting to harvesting for IR8, atomic rice matures in about 95 days.

Carpenter said last summer total registration was about 175 and it now appears at least 200 will be taking part this year.

A large western map has been displayed in the library hall outside of the children's department. Each child who completes five books is given a covered wagon sticker or a canoe sticker to paste on the western trail or river he is following across the United States. Special recognition including certificates will go to each child completing the trails or rivers.

Books are generally selected by the young readers as to their own choice although a list of suggested reading is available at the library desk. In addition to grade school level books, there are also many suitable to the junior high school readers.

Unleaded Fuel Stirs Debate

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Unleaded fuel is the answer to air pollution problems caused by motor vehicles. True or false? That is a question attracting widespread attention lately. The answer? It depends on who you ask.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. says: "The ultimate solution to obtaining an essentially pollution-free automobile now appears to include advanced emission control devices that will require unleaded gasoline."

Pennzoil United Inc. says: "Reduction of lead in gasoline is not the best solution to the nation's problem of reducing exhaust emissions."

Neither proponents nor opponents of unleaded gasoline can be accused of stalling over combatting air pollution. The controversy is, what is the best answer and how can it best be solved. The only unanimous agreement has been there is a need for solutions.

The auto industry has pledged to come up with whatever type engine it may take to provide cleaner exhaust fumes. The oil industry has pledged to make the type fuel necessary for efficient performance of those engines, and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has become the coordinating government agency.

"All of us are most anxious to as soon as possible improve the emissions from automotive exhaust," says Chairman Charles S. Mitchell of Cities Service Co. "to arrive at the quickest solution for the public benefit; in our view, will require a full exchange of ideas

J. Hugh Liedtke, Pennzoil chairman, calls lead in gasoline "a very attractive and easily identified villain." He disagrees that removing it is the answer.

"The optimum solution," he says, "lies in some sort of thermal converter or after-burner upon which the industry is now doing a great deal of research."

Lead used in gasoline is poison, of that there is no dispute. But Liedtke says there are other substances equally as significant.

Summing it up, the only thing anyone can say with certainty about the controversy would be to quote John E. Swearingen, chairman of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana:

"The automobile's contribution to air pollution cannot be corrected overnight."

Texans paid $18.9 million in taxes on liquor during fiscal 1969.

TWO MEMORIAL GIFTS to the Twin Falls Public Library are admired here by Robert Bruce, librarian. One is a gardening and flower book given in memory of MARK HILL, long-time custodian of the library and another tells of southern California in brilliant color photographs and stories. It was given in memory of Mrs. Lois Warner.

Book Memorials Are Adding To Shelves Of Public Library Here

Many inquiries have been received at the Twin Falls Public Library in recent months regarding book memorials, and a number of outstanding memorials have been received, Robert Bruce, librarian said.

Mr. Bruce said a beautiful, well illustrated book makes an outstanding memorial to a deceased friend or relative and each carries a special memorial inscription to the person to be remembered.

One of the recent contributions is a large color illustrated book on gardening given by friends and library staff members in memory of Mark Hill, who served as library custodian many years. Another is "Baja California," given in memory of Mrs. Lois Warner.

Mr. Bruce said both books are of extremely fine quality and are beautiful enough for enjoyment by every one.

"These are the caliber of books the library cannot afford to purchase with public funds," Mr. Bruce said of the latest memorials.

Those wishing to establish such a memorial may call the library and make arrangements, he explained. In the children's department, four illustrated National Geographic books were contributed by friends of the late Annette Franz, a local school teacher. Many persons wish to donate children's books in memory of children and adults, Mr. Bruce added.

Solution To Hijackings Is Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If Arthur G. Barkley did nothing else, he dramatized in harrowing fashion the need for a solution to the hijacking problem, airline observers said today.

Despite electronic detection systems, threats of stiff jail terms, posted rewards, and hopes of a world-wide extradition treaty, hijacking still is a problem without a full solution. Last year 33 American planes were hijacked. So far this year, the total is six.

President Nixon was expected soon to appoint a special commission composed of top-level federal officials, airline executives and pilots to underscore the urgency of the problem, authoritative government sources said Friday.

Although the White House declined to confirm the report, the sources said the commission plan "is under active consideration at—the White House, and a decision is expected soon."

The panel would be given the task of coming up "with something definite that would help the government stop hijacking," they said.

'Nashville' Song Gets Criticism

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—For the second time in just more than a month a record with the Nashville sound is being subjected to a hall of criticism.

But this time it's not a song about a Cadillac-driving welfare recipient but about a man driving a "worn out car," hailing "a home-made trailer with everything we own."

"Color Me Country" tells of a poor, uneducated farmer who uproots his family to move on and "go looking for a new life for my kid and my wife."

In his song, Eddie Burns of Abilene, Tex., tells the story of a poverty-stricken dirt farmer who "couldn't make it on that worked out farm no more." The farm is near the central Texas town of Breckenridge.

Folks in Breckenridge, county seat of Stephens County, heard the tune and immediately fired off a barrage of sharply worded letters to the record company requesting "immediate withdrawal" of the recording.

A bulletin from the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce termed "Color Me Country" an "affront to Stephens County, Breckenridge, and every rural Texas community."

Lloyd Mayberry, program director of radio station KSTP in Breckenridge said, "Many of our listeners are Eddie Burns fans, particularly in the Abilene area. We will continue to play his other records, but not 'Color Me Country'."

Burns' manager, Lee Singleton, said "Color Me Country" is "just a story of a poor boy that could have happened anywhere."

The Chamber of Commerce letter pledged that "because of our 'country' training, we won't picket your building, throw a brick through your windows, or even smash your records; however, we strongly protest the inference that we are underprivileged."

The letter went on to note that the Breckenridge-Stephens County area has an educational level "10 per cent above the state average."

Jerry L. Seabolt, national promotion director of country and Western products for the recording company, said:

"While we can understand and admire the civic pride involved, in re-evaluating the record, we feel that it is in no way derogatory, nor was it intended to be."

Simplot Employees Get Raise

HEYBURN—Employees of the J. R. Simplot Co. food processing plant in Heyburn and Caldwell will receive additional compensation effective as of June 1, for swing and grave yard shifts.

Company officials announced Saturday a differential agreement has been reached with Local 291, and Local 296, American Federation of Grain Millers. Workers on the swing shift will receive 5 cents per hour more in wages and grave yard shift workers an additional 5 cents.

A large majority vote of members of the two locals ratified the shift differentials in the wage scale.

PUFFING AWAY BONN (UPI)—Cigarette consumption in West Germany increased an average 5.6 per cent annually in each of the last six years, the Ministry of Finance reports.

Court May Rule Carpet Tests Unconstitutional

By DICK WEST. WASHINGTON (UPI)—My naturally sunny disposition balks at making bad news worse. But there is no way to avoid it.

Here's the bad news: According to a report released this week by the National Commission on Product Safety, three major federal consumer protection programs are largely ineffective.

And here's what makes it worse: In at least one program even such protection as we are getting apparently is unconstitutional.

The Constitution, by dint of the 14th Amendment, entitles all citizens to "equal protection of the laws," right? Okay, now let us examine a situation recently encountered by Glyn V. Harris of Dalton, Ga.

Seems that Harris made inquiry at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare regarding federal standards for flammable fabrics, which was one of the safety programs included in the aforementioned report.

Specifically, he wanted to know about proposed standards for carpeting in institutions participating in the Medicare program. Here is what he learned.

1. Under the flammable fabric act, the Commerce Department has adopted the so-called "tablet" or "pill" test as a national flammability standard for carpets used in homes, offices, theaters, etc.

2. Under the Hill-Burton Act, HEW has adopted the "Steiner Tunnel Test" as a standard for carpets installed in health care facilities built with federal funds.

3. Both of these tests, plus "any other appropriate testing procedures," will be considered in setting standards for Medicare facilities.

Harris contends, and I agree, that the dual test standards amounts to unequal protection of the laws.

Should it develop that the Commerce Department has the safer test, citizens under its carpet jurisdiction "would necessarily receive the greatest amount of protection," Harris points out.

But should it develop that HEW has the safer test, citizens under its carpet jurisdiction would be better protected.

Either way, we obviously have large groups of Americans who are second class citizens, rug test-wise.

Harris did not indicate whether he plans to make a test case out of this. But if he does, I feel certain the Supreme Court will rule in favor of constitutional carpets.

Tax Exemption

Students working on part-time summer jobs and retired persons with part-time employment have been advised by the Internal Revenue Service they may be entitled to income tax withholding exemption under the Tax Reform Act of 1968.

An employee who had no income tax liability last year and anticipates none for this year should use withholding exemption certificates, Form W-4E, to claim exemption.

In 1970, a single person who makes less than $1,750 owes no tax. An employee over 65 can earn wages up to $3,850 without being required to pay income tax.

Barrier Between Man And Beast Is Broken

BY PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—Many things distinguish the woman behind the first international conference on oceanic development, Paocem in Maribus, opening in Malta, June 23.

Her father was Thomas Mann, the German novelist. She puts an "g" where there's usually a "s" in her first name, signing herself Elisabeth Mann Borgese.

She maintains that the language barrier between man and beast can be broken. Practicing what she preaches on the subject, Mrs. Borgese taught her English setter, Aril, to use an electric typewriter.

"You can teach any animal to do anything," Mrs. Borgese said.

Once Mrs. Borgese taught a chimp many things and "he became a person in the process." At cocktail parties, he always clapped when a person spoke emphatically.

Mrs. Borgese, the only female senior fellow at the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, lives in a beach house overlooking the leaky oil wells off Santa Barbara, Calif.

As senior fellow for the last several years she has been setting up the "Peace in the Oceans" conference. At the six-day meeting, 200 conferees from 60 nations will consider how to develop oceans for the common good.

The steering committee includes Jacques Piccard, Switzerland; Eare Boothe Luce, United States; Chief S. O. Adebisi, United Nations; Shigeru Oda, Japan, W. A. Inozemtsy, Russia.

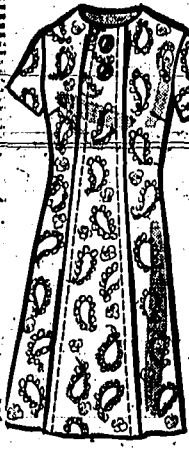

Mrs. Borgese said representatives of China may attend. "There is some hope," she said, "but it depends on circumstances beyond our control."

The native of Munich believes peaceful settlements of the oceans problems are possible—more so than those on land. "We feel solutions will have firmer applications than imagined," she said.

Disarmament of the oceans is one agenda item. That would mean rules about submarines and control over installation of rocket launchers in concrete pillars on the ocean floor. The latter technically is possible now.

Laurene Sill Places First In Contest

CASTLEFORD — Laurene Sill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sill, Castleford, was announced as the state winner of the B division of the annual Grange All-Cotton Sewing contest and her entry was judged as the best of the show at the tea held in the Middleton Grange Hall.

Her entry was sponsored by Mrs. Parley Harmon, Castleford, and by the Castleford Grange No. 424.

Mrs. Ed Schwaepler, Burley, director of women's activities for the State Grange, made the announcement and presented Laurene the blue ribbon rosette, an overnight case of Samsonite luggage, and a pair of Dritz electric scissors at the tea, sponsored by the Idaho State Grange.

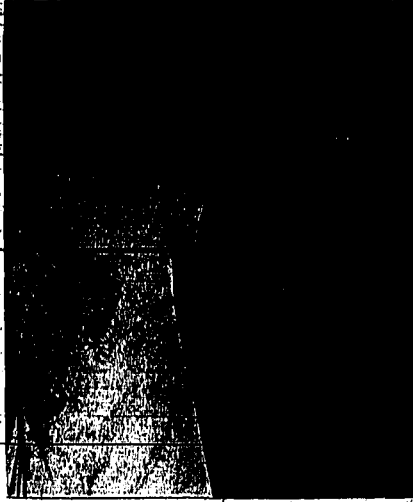

Mrs. Schwaepler noted the increased interest in the contest this year with 427 entries at the subordinate grange level, 71 named first place winners at the various Pamona Granges with 63 granges represented from 20 counties in Idaho. The contest included three divisions — A, for women sewing for self; B, for girls up to 15, and C, for women sewing for children, as well as best of the show, she explained.

Miss Sill's entry was a short formal of white cotton lace over blue glo-weave, designed with bell sleeves, fitted at the waistline with an inset belt, and featuring self-scalloping at the hem-line and sleeve edges.

After the announcement of the awards, the contestants present modeled their dresses. As the state winner, Miss Sill's dress will be entered in the National Grange All-Cotton Sewing contest to be held on June 23 in New York City.

Laurene will be a senior at Castleford High School this fall. She has taken home economics during her high school years and holds a junior degree in the Future Homemakers of America. She is a member of band and pep band and received the musician first class award. She is a member of the Castleford School Pop Club, the C Club and of the Wolveite Drill Team. She was named the 70-71 editor of the Castleford Annual yearbook.

Laurene has completed seven years of 4-H work with 30 projects to her credit, receiving county awards for outstanding achievement in sewing, modeling, food preservation, breadmaking, home improvement, citizenship, junior leadership and sheep production. She received the Idaho State Award in 1969 for her Suffolk sheep project. She was chosen the Twin Falls County outstanding 4-H girl of 1968 and was the recipient of the Kiwanis State Key Award in 1969.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN M. CHEEL

Miss Monkman, Cheel Wed

JEROME — Shirley Diane Monkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Grannis Monkman, San Marino, Calif., became the bride of John Michael Cheel, son of Mrs. Beverly Allen Wyllie, Jerome, and the late Mr. William Cheel Jr., in rites at the San Marino Community Church, San Marino, Calif.

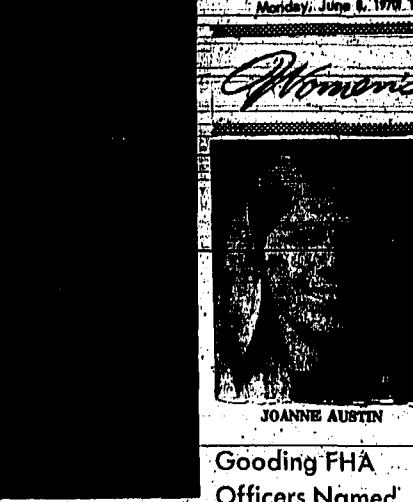

The bride wore a peau de sole gown styled with long sleeves, Alonzo lace bodice encrusted with seed pearls, a wedding ring neckline and chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was held by a lace and pearl bandeau and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and Lilies of the Valley.

Jon Guider was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marion Turner and Laurie Monkman, a cousin, and Mrs. Edward Segura and J. Cheel Jones, sister of the bridegroom. Beverly Allen Wyllie, the bridegroom's stepfather, was best man. Ushers were John Grannis Monkman Jr., the bride's brother; George Harris, Charles Stoll, Jay Gordell, Horton, Steven Danna and Edward Segura.

A reception for 350 guests was held at the San Gabriel Country Club after the late afternoon wedding.

Among the wedding guests were Mrs. D. Warren Gearheart, Boljo, and Mrs. William C. Colbeck, Azusa, Calif., grandmothers of the bridegroom; Mrs. E. Jarmin Fitzpatrick, Los Angeles, the bride's grandmother, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Walter Bowman, Denver, the bride's uncle and aunt.

The bride, a San Marino High School graduate, attended Marlborough School for girls for her early education and was

DEAR ABBY: This is for "PAMELA'S MOTHER" who couldn't sleep nights because she was afraid that her normal children would find out they had a retarded sister living in an institution.

Nineteen years ago I had a child born with many complications, including severe brain damage. At that time I had five other children who were all young, but old enough to know that their baby brother was not normal. From the start, they called him the "angel of the family," and continued to do so until the day he died. They never felt they had anything to hide or be ashamed of. The love and respect they gave this child was beautiful.

Since his death, I never miss an opportunity to talk to other mothers who have this cross to bear. Oftentimes one who has lived thru the experience can do more to help and comfort other mothers who have yet to learn the "acceptance" and understanding a retarded child needs.

I am willing to correspond with any mother who needs my help.

MRS. ROSE MCCLINTOCK
59 RIVER DRIVE
EARL LAKE, OHIO 44094

DEAR ABBY: Tell Pamela's mother she did the right thing. My parents kept my retarded sister at home. It was a painful, depressing, never-ending chore. We never had a vacation without our "Pamela." The expense of her therapy and medical care kept us broke. Teeth straightening and prom-dresses for the other girls were out of course. Also, there was no college for me or my sisters.

My father died 25 years ago, and my mother became more and more neurotic every day. Our "Pamela" is now 20 and Mom still refuses to put her in a home. There she hangs like a millstone around all our necks. Frankly, I have no love for my retarded sister. She is just a responsibility.

"Normal" people have minds and hearts, too, and they have a right to happiness and freedom from unreasonable responsibilities.

It sometimes takes more guts to put a child in an institution than to wallow in self-righteousness and deprive an entire family of normalcy. Thank you. ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old who wants to answer "Pamela's Mother."

My brother is also mentally retarded, but he is not as bad off as Pamela because he has a family who really cares for him.

If Pamela's mother thinks she is protecting her kids by not telling them about their retarded sister who is hidden away and forgotten in an institution somewhere, well, she needs more help than Pamela. If they ever find out about Pamela they will despise their mother. I know if I had a sister who needed my love I would want to be told about her. It would help me to understand and help other retarded children.

Please print this. It may open the eyes of these people who are blinded by selfishness. And please sign my name and town because I am very proud of my retarded brother.

KATHI SPAIN
STREAMWOOD, ILLINOIS

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in response to the lady who stayed awake nights worrying that her children would find out about their retarded sister.

This lady is missing the opportunity of a lifetime, as well as depriving her "normal" children of one of the most rewarding experiences they could ever have.

Retarded children thrive on love, and they are "hopeless" only when they are deprived of that love.

I am a 16-year-old girl and I do volunteer work in an institution for retarded children, and when a retarded child learns how to button a button, the twinkle in his eye is as bright as a normal child's when he has just learned his multiplication tables.

This has been the most wonderful experience of my life, and I am sorry that Pamela's mother and others like her cannot experience the rewards I have. J. (SMITH)

DEAR ABBY: Please tell PAMELA'S MOTHER that if two such great ladies as MURIEL HUMPHREY and PEARL BUCK didn't see fit to "hide" a retarded child in their families, perhaps there is nothing to hide. I would say that Pamela's mother is in pretty good company, wouldn't you?

FROM BOSTON

DEAR BOSTON: Yes. And don't forget another great lady, MRS. KENNEDY!

WWI Veterans End Meet: Elect Aides

BURLEY - The 15th annual Veterans of World War I State Convention ended Saturday at Ponderosa Inn with election of officers. New officers are Bill Robison, Boise, Commander; George McCourth, Coeur d'Alene, senior vice commander; Charles Shaddock, Burley, junior vice commander, and Art Williams, Twin Falls, quartermaster. Next year's convention will be hosted by Lewiston Barracks No. 241. Tommy Miyaaka, Sugar City, was featured speaker during the evening banquet. The main concern during the business meeting was pensions. Presently a married man cannot make over $3,000 and a single man over $2,000; if any income over the allotted amount is made, the veterans automatically lose their pension. Harold Chelline, commander of the Department of Idaho, stated, "we want to get these figures raised, because the way it is presently set up we are literally forced to live in poverty as we are limited in the amount of money we can make or forfeit our pensions, which is not right. Also there is currently a 90-day minimum service time allowed in order to be eligible for a pension. The Veterans are also working to get this time reduced. Originally there were 4.8 million Veterans of World War I, now there are 1.4 million with an average age of 75.8. According to Chelline the veterans are working for legislation for a pension "across the board where all veterans, regardless of length of service, accompanied with an honorable discharge will be eligible for a pension. "If we could get what the Spanish-American Veterans get, which is a flat $100 per month, we would be satisfied," stated Chelline.

Migrant Classes Set In Rupert

RUPERT - Registration for summer kindergarten and migrant school programs will be held between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. June 15. The migrant studies will be held at the Peraling School and kindergarten will take place at Memorial School. School buses will pick up youngsters providing arrangements are made. School will run only 17. Youngsters attending school must be at least six years of age before Oct. 15. Sherman Peck will principal kindergarten at Memorial School, and teachers will include Judy Coffman, Elleen Pagesbakke, Dorothy House, Lucy Jensen, Ida Mayes, Nelda Montgomery, Afton Patrijek, Sybil Saunders, Dorothy Schenk, Altha Seamons and Esther Whiting. Teacher aides will include Pam Abo, Susan Ballard, Patricia Bates, Sandra Bowden, Annette Erickson, Janet Griffin, JoAnn Nielsen, Sue Paeley, Phyllis Ryan, Beverly Saunders and Lois Whitaker. Ex-Area Policeman Thanked GLENN'S FERRY - Eugene Belligants, former Glenns Ferry policeman, was thanked by Glenns Ferry City councilmen and Mayor Dayle Messerly for assisting the city police department in the absence of two police officers recently. One of the local policemen was attending a law enforcement school in Pocatello and the other was injured while serving on the volunteer fire department crew. The council approved Karl Carnahan's building permit application for remodeling his home at a cost of $5,000. Frank Lee was told he could start a trash hauling business. Councilman Karl Carnahan reported on the wood problem in Glenns Ferry.

Slide Show

BURLEY - Mr. and Mrs. Max Ebyce will present their slide presentation of Cassia County Pioneer Trails at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Burley High School Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the free presentation. The couple have researched the five trails which cross Cassia County and have prepared their own slide presentation. A great emphasis is given to the Pioneer Trails. The event is being held in connection with the "100 Years of Progress" in Cassia County.

Firearms Expert To Appear At Meet

BURLEY - A nationally known firearms expert will present a demonstration during the annual seminar of the Idaho Peace Officers Association scheduled for the Ponderosa Convention Center in Burley, June 22-25. Larry Platt, Pocatello, IPOA president, said Lt. Dan Combs of the Oklahoma Highway Patrol will demonstrate firearms proficiency at 1:15 p. m. June 24 during a break in the day-long pistol competition. Lt. Combs is recognized as a firearms expert throughout the nation and that his demonstration will include safety, marksmanship, fast draw and back-bowling. Registration for the seminar starts June 22 with the board of directors holding a breakfast June 23, prior to welcoming addresses by Burley Mayor Garis Robertson and Police Chief Ken Berry. Gov. Don Samuelson will address the group at 1:30 p. m. June 25. Atty. Gen. Robert Robson, Boise; Raymond May, Boise, director of the Board of Corrections; Tommy Terrell, Boise, director of the Public Employees Retirement System; and Robert Arneson, Boise, director of the Idaho Law Enforcement Training Commission, are scheduled for appearances during the first day. Richard Jensen, Pocatello, will demonstrate the use of video-tape equipment in training. Officers working during the afternoon session will be followed by a banquet which will discuss operational procedures. Panel members include Sgt. Dick Burns, Boise, State Police; Criminal Identification Division; Kent Greenwell, Boise, communications division; Duane Sorenson, Boise, chief investigator for the investigation section, Department of Law Enforcement; and Sheriff Kenneth Whartog, Malad, president of the Idaho Sheriffs Association. June 24 will be devoted to pistol, golf and bowling competition to be followed with a barbeque and dance. The officer of the year banquet, honoring representatives from city, county and state departments, will be held June 25. The trophy banquet is set for June 26.

Judging National Park Service To Take Look At City Of Rocks

WENDELL - The South Central Idaho Holstein Club's practice judging contest will be held Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at Westpoint Holsteins, four miles west and 3/4 miles south of Wendell on the Clear Lakes Road or 11 miles north of Buhl. Gary Custer, Twin Falls, president of the group, said this practice judging is designed especially for "4-H and dairy judging teams. Hansen said in response to his request the National Park Service, a division of the Department of the Interior, has scheduled a reconnaissance of the area to assure its consideration within a current study of the nation's natural and historic sites to determine their national significance. "Following recommendations by the park service on which sites are nationally significant, ways will be suggested to protect their values through inclusion in the National Park System, the Registry of National Landmarks, or other public or private programs," Hansen said. In a recent letter to Interior Secretary Walter Hickey, Cong. Hansen called attention to the City of Rocks, and urged steps be taken to preserve "this priceless treasure" and prevent "the deterioration and loss of the features that have great historical and geological significance." He suggested the area be considered for national status.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (special) - Cong. Orval Hansen said today that the National Park Service has notified him that it will conduct a study of the Silent City of Rocks near Oakley. Hansen said in response to his request the National Park Service, a division of the Department of the Interior, has scheduled a reconnaissance of the area to assure its consideration within a current study of the nation's natural and historic sites to determine their national significance. "Following recommendations by the park service on which sites are nationally significant, ways will be suggested to protect their values through inclusion in the National Park System, the Registry of National Landmarks, or other public or private programs," Hansen said. Magic Valley State OES Confab Under Way In T.F.

The sixty-eighth annual "Small Trinity Session" of the Grand Chapter of Idaho, Order of Eastern Star, will get under way officially today with the informal opening of the Grand Chapter at 7 p. m. in the Twin Falls High School auditorium. Featured guest of the statewide convention is former Sen. Edward V. Long and Mrs. Long of Missouri. Sen. Long is the Order's Most Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand National Chapter - the highest office held by a patron of the order on a national scale. Sen. Long will address the chapter during tonight's ceremonies. Sen. and Mrs. Long drove to Twin Falls from Salt Lake City Sunday afternoon, escaping most of the rainstorm that pelted the area during the day. They said they were glad to be back in the West, having visited the area, including Idaho, previously. Sen. Long completed 10 years of service in the U.S. Senate with the expiration of his term in 1968. He served in other public offices, including that of city attorney, prosecuting attorney, a term in the state senate and lieutenant governor of Missouri, all on the Democratic ticket. He said he is giving considerable thought to seeking the office of governor in 1972. Today's session of the Eastern Star convention will begin with an organ prelude by Geraldine Vance, followed at 7:30 p. m. by the opening solo by Roger Vincent of the Filer OES chapter. Grace M. Johnson, Twin Falls, past grand matron, and John A. Roubke, Wallace, past grand patron, will call the session to order. The grand emcee bearers will enter, escorted by the three young group leaders: Louise Chaffee, Twin Falls, will present a Bible to the grand matron; other officials will enter: Ed Altes and Rex Reed of Filer will present a duet, "Whispering Hope." The entrance of the 1969-70 grand officers will officially open the session, as Sidney B. Chaffee, Kellogg, narrates, Mabel T. Cash, Bonners Ferry, past grand matron, will dedicate the session, and Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Roubke will offer the opening addresses, followed by welcoming addresses by the present worthy grand matron, Eula T. Chilcote, and worthy grand patron, V. Gail Anderson. Features of today's session will be the presentation of flags, directed by William Grange, associate grand patron, and an address by Sen. Long. Tuesday's activities will begin with the formal opening of the chapter at 8:00 a. m. at the high school auditorium. Highlight of the Sunday activities was a formal church service Sunday evening at the First Methodist Church, featuring entrances of the grand officers and dignitaries led by Worthy Grand Matron Eula T. Chilcote and Worthy Grand Patron V. Gail Anderson. Dr. Harold Nye, Methodist minister, delivered the sermon on "Small Trinity." Hostess chapters held a reception following services with 550 persons attending in the Methodist Fellowship hall. Lucille Kelley was general chairman.

Auto Crash Puts 2 In Hospital

BURLEY - Two persons were hospitalized and two were treated and released following a two-car accident at 11:40 p. m. Friday at the corner of Almo Avenue and 18th Street. Gilbert James, 27, Carey, and Benny Joe, Burley, were hospitalized. Dennis Hayden, 17, and Dennis Holmes, Burley, were both treated and released from Cassia Memorial. Hayden was driving a 1967 Chevrolet west on 18th Street and James was driving a 1963 Buick north on Almo Avenue, and the vehicles collided at the intersection. James and Joe were thrown from their vehicles. Joe was a passenger in the Buick and Holmes was a passenger in the Chevrolet. The accident is still under investigation by Burley City Police.

Jerome Opens Pool On Tuesday

JEROME - The Jerome swimming pool will open Tuesday and swimming lessons will begin on June 16, S. N. (Shorty) Weeks, city councilman, reported this week. Weeks said this year's prices are the same as last years. A season family ticket will be $10, an individual season tickets are $5. The cost per day is 25 cents for children 5-12, 35 cents for children 13-18, and 50 cents over 18 years of age. Enrollment for swimming lessons will begin this week. Red Cross approved lessons are $2. Weeks said adult night will be Thursdays and the pool will be closed on Mondays. Willard Brown is manager and lifeguards are Jeannie Burkhalter, Danny Carroll and Ronda Felder. Weeks noted that the pool has been painted as have the shower rooms and the concession stand.

Wendell Man Given Fellowship

WENDELL - Timothy D. Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fuller, Wendell, has been awarded a three-year fellowship for graduate study in Biology at the Loma Linda University in California. His studies begin with the fall term of 1970. He will be working for his Ph. D. degree in zoology. Mr. Fuller is a graduate of the Wendell High School, received his B. Silver Creek, Little Wood Water Rights Cut

RICHFIELD - Irrigation and fishing have both been affected by the low level of water in Silver Creek and Little Wood River. River rights in district 11 A.B. have been cut down to the 1988 rights, reports Leslie Buehly deputy watermaster for the Silver Creek area and district 11 A.B. This affects at least 60 farmers, he said, from the headwaters of Silver Creek to Little Wood River as far as Gooding. At this time of year irrigation water for the Bonanza Plains and Bannock valleys originally comes from Big Wood River. This same water eventually flows in sub water to Silver Creek. A large underground storage reservoir is formed by gravel beds under the Bonanza and Bannock Plains. The hills of Pico or Resurrection Hill, cut off the gravel bed to 67m the sub water for Silver Creek. Silver Creek sub storage is the opposite of a watershed. Ranchers must use irrigation water over the underground storage for at least 30 days before there is any discernable rise in Silver Creek from the sub water. Mr. Buehly said streams and rivers such as Little Wood mainly peak in May, but Silver Creek's peak is not reached until the early part of August. Only rain storms and spalls of cooler weather bring relief for farmers who have rights later than the headwaters. Finding the sub storage in Silver Creek has been opened. The sub water is caused by low water in the

Hickman Stays Hot As Cubs Dump S.F. 8-5

CHICAGO (UPI) — Jim Hickman maintained his red-hot pace Sunday by slamming a two-run homer in the seventh inning to help break a 4-4 tie and carry the Chicago Cubs to an 8-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Hickman's homer, his 12th of the year and 98th of his career, came off reliever Don McMahon, who had relieved rookie Mike Davison. Davison, making his first appearance since being recalled from Phoenix, walked relief pitcher Phil Regan, who pitched to second on a sacrifice.

Jim: "There are certain plays that have been written up in books and articles for many years. When one of them comes up, the experts all know them. Do our readers?"

Oswald: "Some do. There is no reason why everyone shouldn't know some of the more common ones."

Jim: "One type involves leaving one enemy trump out while you play a side suit. Today's hand is a classic example of this type play."

Oswald: "The bidding is rather interesting. North bids one no-trump instead of two spades because of his very balanced distribution. Then, after South jumps in hearts, North revalues his hand and jumps to four spades. He would like his partner to move to a slam with a slightly better hand."

Jim: "The play for four spades is automatic. South has 10 top tricks the moment both opponents follow to the first trump lead. He might as well take the best play for 11. In duplicate, these extra tricks are most important. Even in rubber bridge they mean something."

Oswald: "He will make his 11 tricks if hearts break 3-3, but he has a play for 11 against a bad heart break that won't jeopardize his contract."

Jim: "After both opponents follow to the second trump lead South should start on the heart suit. If the second or third heart is ruffed he will be able to use dummy's last trump to ruff his last heart. If both opponents follow to the third heart, he draws the last trump and has his 11 tricks. As it is, East is long in both hearts and spades so South goes to ruff his fourth heart and make his extra trick."

A MEDICAL FELLOW claims women at the age of 19 have the least difficulty in giving birth. He also insists brunettes do not suffer as much at such a time as do blondes. IF SOMEBODY ASKED you to name the most international game, you'd say soccer, right? But that's wrong, I'm told. It's basketball.

SEAFOOD AND THE MOON - Oysters eat only when the moon shines. More specifically, only when the moon passes over the exact meridian on which said oysters lie. Or on the exact opposite side of the earth. It is at such times the scientific farmers note said oysters open their shells to feed. Fascinating, if factual. Maybe there's something to the anglers' claim that fish only bite when the moon is right.

REX MORGAN

HE SHOULD HAVE TAKEN AN ASSOCIATE A LONG TIME AGO. JUNE'S HE'S ALWAYS WORSE! DO HARRY THERE'S A YOUNG DOCTOR, WELL-TRAINED WHO WAS ON THE LAST MEDIC ASSIGNMENT WITH ME.

THE NEUROLOGURON SAYS IT WILL BE WERKE, PERHAPS MORTAL BEGERS REX WILL BE ABLE TO RETURN TO HIS OFFICE, KEITH!

REACHING JUNE AT THE LOCKER, CAVELL LEAVES THAT REX MORGAN HAS REAGINED COACHING BUT NEITHER TALKS NOR RECOGNIZES ANYONE!

HE'D LIKE TO GO INTO PRIVATE PRACTICE, I'M GOING TO SUGGEST THAT HE SEE YOU WHEN REX RECOVERS. HE MAY OR MAY NOT WANT BRICE TO CONTINUE WITH HIM.

I THINK HE WILL!

Lemming Migration Stirs Fear

NIKKALUKTA, Sweden (UPI)—The furry little arctic rodents called lemmings have been leaving their homeland in droves again this spring and swooping south in a suicidal search for greener pastures that has superseded Laplanders concerns.

The lemming movement this spring, the natives say, is the biggest in more than a decade—seven bigger than the last great rush in 1960.

To the Laplanders, the migration of the lemmings southward is an omen of war or disaster. The natives recall that extremely heavy migrations preceded both world wars in this century.

The rodents normally keep peacefully to themselves far north above the Arctic Circle. But every three or four years they become nervous and set off south until they drop from exhaustion, are killed by predators or drown swimming out to sea in search of food.

JEANNE GUESTS HOLLYWOOD (UPI)

Joanne Morsau will play a guest star role in "Alex in Wonderland" for MGM.

LEGAL NOTICE

A Matter Of Arithmetic Proves You Can Drive A Mini-Brute

FOR ONLY...!

YES $22.72 per month ONLY...

PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING VERY CAREFULLY

- Suppose you are driving an old ordinary car and it gives you 12 miles per gallon — and you drive 2,000 miles per month, so your gasoline bill will be (2,000 miles at 12 M.P.G. equals 166.6 gal. x 39.9¢ per gallon equals $66.03) — that is your monthly gasoline bill.
- Now let's carry this arithmetic to the operation of an Opel, the Mini-Brute, (2,000 miles at 32 M.P.G. equals 62.5 gal. x 35.9¢ per gal. equals $22.44). That's your gas bill when you drive an Opel. The difference ($66.03 equals $22.44) — $43.59.
- New Opel sells for $1895. + $56.85 sales tax equals $1951.85, so you finance the entire cost, junk that old gas eater or we will accept it in-trade. The payments on $1951.85 will be $66.31 per month for 36 months including finance charge at 11.08% annual percentage rate — $43.59. (That's your gas saving, remember? equals $22.72 and that is all it costs you to own and drive a new Opel, the Mini-Brute That runs on peanuts.
- Grab your hat, your wife, come on down and test drive the 1970 Mini-Brute, the car that runs on peanuts, and see how logical this lesson in simple arithmetic is.

Annual Gooding Grassman's Tour Is Slated On Thursday

GOODING — Annual Gooding county grassman tour will be held Thursday, with the group to leave from the Wendell bank corner at 1:30 p.m., reports Ed Koester, county agent.

First stop will be at the Harold Estea ranch, four miles south, one mile east and one-half mile south of Wendell. He has both cattle and sheep on irrigated and dry pasture.

Second stop will be at the Ray Roberts farm, northwest of Wendell. The entire farm is in pasture and hay and Charolais cattle are raised there. Next stop will be the Ronnie Stroud ranch three miles north of Bliss. He was runner up in the 1969 contest and has increased his pasture by 40 acres of new land. He uses sprinkler irrigation on the pasture and runs beef cows and calves.

Final stop will be at the Alvin Correll farm three miles west of Gooding in the Shoe String area. He has 40 acres devoted to pasture production and a well planted rotation system, Mr. Koester said.

The public is invited and urged to attend by Robert Burks, grassman committee chairman.

Opinions Asked Over Two Elmore Men To Run Spray Plan For Office

RUPERT — Rupert City Councilmen are asking residents to express opinions concerning establishment of a city-wide aerial spray program.

Under the direction of Bill Whitton, councilman, the project if accepted, will involve two sprays each summer and won't require extra tax assessment. Mr. Whitton said other cities throughout the state are successfully using the program to rid mosquitoes, flies, earwigs and other insects.

The program would take the place of individual lot spraying and according to the councilman, wouldn't harm animals, persons and can be washed off autos, houses and other items because of its water base.

Councilmen would like a general opinion by their next meeting, June 16.

MOUNTAIN HOME — Two Mountain Home residents have announced their candidacy for nomination to the Idaho Legislature from the 19th Legislative District.

Virgil Kraus will seek nomination on the Republican ticket. He has resided in Mountain Home for 24 years and in Idaho for 36 years.

He said he would work for a long-range ecology plan which could avoid the problems of pollution in the near future.

H. Lee Clark, a retired U.S. Air Force man, will also seek nomination from the 19th District. He said he would strive to serve the citizens of Elmore County "in their search for an equitable solution to the problems facing property owners."

Oakley Girl Gets Top Legion Award

OAKLEY — Karlegene Buckley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Buckley, Oakley, was awarded the $1,500 Americanism award during graduation exercises at Oakley High School.

Miss Buckley received the award from the National American Legion Auxiliary, as an area winner in the Legion sponsored Americanism essay contest. Her entry was selected as the top essay from the 11 Western States.

Mrs. Paul Brown, "Filer," national chairman of Education and Scholarship of the A.L. Auxiliary, and Mrs. Austin Matheney, Edon, department president in Idaho, made the presentation.

As valedictorian of her class, Miss Buckley spoke on "Not to Yield" as one of the student speakers.

Other awards Miss Buckley received were a $500 Brigham Young University scholastic scholarship and a $100 savings bond as the winner of the Burley Elks Lodge No. 1384 "Most Valuable Student" contest.

The senior class motto was "To Strive, To Seek, To Find and Not to Yield." W. B. Whiteley, chairman of Cassia County School Board, praised the class for its motto.

Other student speakers were Robyn Whiteley, salutatorian, using the topic "To-Flind"; Karlene Hale, senior class president, and Marvin Altom, student body president.

Richard Poulton gave the welcome, prayers were by Steven McLaws and Stephen Severo.

The senior class chorus sang "These are the Times," C. W. Haines, principal of Oakley High School, presented the graduating class and Mr.

Trophies Given To Candidates

GLENN'S FERRY — Lynn Ann Giles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Giles, Glenn's Ferry, has been awarded a trophy for having the most enthusiasm in connection with the Elmore county fair-queen pageant.

Dobbie Carnahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Carnahan, sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi, received the Best Responsive trophy. Two Mountain Home girls, Leslie Rivers and Myrna Ross, received trophies for being the most gracious and best model candidate respectively.

The four trophies were awarded after completion this week, but have no bearing on the elimination among the 25 girls seeking the Elmore county fair queen title, officials explained.

Whiteley awarded the diplomas.

MEN FINED SHOSHONE — Otis R. Hughes, Hazelton, was fined $25 for passing over a solid line. Lee Middleton, Shoshone, was fined $10 by Probate Judge C. M. Wilson, for driving night on slow moving emblem.
