Tate Murder Trial Gets Ground Rules

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Hippie guru Charles Manson and three young women-cultists go to trial today for the murders of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons. The judge was expected to order the defendants strapped to chairs if necessary to preserve courtroom order.

Superior Court Judge Harold Older admonished prosecution and defense lawyers to his chambers to discuss ground rules for a trial expected to last months and perhaps more than a year.

Despite delaying tactics by both sides, Older was determined to start jury selection today.

The state had anything but a sure case against Manson, 35, and the three female members of his "family."

The confession of key witness Susan Atkins to the slayings at the home of Miss Tate and wealthy grocer Leno LaBianca has been recanted and the prosecution was faced with relying principally on circumstantial evidence.

Manson, Miss Atkins and the two other defendants—Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Houten—have disrupted pretrial hearings by turning their backs on the court. Friday they assumed the position of the Crucifixion and had to be dragged from the courtroom.

Older, a tough magistrate determined to have decorum—had them placed in anterooms where they could hear the proceedings via loudspeaker.

He was expected, however, to take steps to see they are physically present in the courtroom during the trial.

The beautiful Miss Tate, who was expected to be a prominent movie, "Valley of the Dolls," was stabbed to death Aug. 9 in her home in Benedict Canyon. Also killed that night were her friend of the caretaker.

Security Fight During Rio Prisoner Transfer

By DANIEL A. DROSDOFF
RIO-DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Police today clamped tight security precautions on a gathering at Galeao International Airport of 40 leftwing prisoners who will be flown to exile in Algeria in exchange for kidnapped West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben.

Von Holleben was kidnapped Thursday night in an ambush in which one policeman was shot to death and two injured.

Prisoners, jailed for terrorism and subversive activity, were brought here from the states of Sao Paulo, Minas Gerais, the capitol at Brasilia and Ilha Grande Prison.

Photographers and newsmen, who the kidnappers said must verify the presence of the prisoners, assembled at the airport.

The prisoners will be presented at a news conference "at the opportune time," the air force announced.

Boeing 707 at the disposition of the government. It will fly the prisoners directly to Algeria.

All 40 designated prisoners have been found, but departure for exile was delayed because the airport at town of Juiz de Fora in Minas Gerais state, where they were jailed, is closed at night.

An announcement on Radio Nacional said the prisoners will depart later today. The announcement was accompanied by a message from Von Holleben that said "I can affirm again that I am in good health."

Viet Cong Troops Mine Temple Area

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The Viet Cong have mined the approach to the main temple of the 9th century ruins of Angkor Wat and set up hospitals and observation posts inside the complex of pagodas, a Cambodian military spokesman said today.

The spokesman reported Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops recaptured Kompong Speu on the highway linking Phnom Penh with the nation's only deepwater port. But the Viet Cong cut another highway, leaving the capital with only one road to the outside world.

The Viet Cong had cut Highway 5, 25 miles northeast of the capital. The road connects Phnom Penh with Bangkok, Thailand. Highway 4, between Phnom Penh and Kompong Som, the port formerly known as Sihanoukville, was already closed by the fighting around Kompong Speu.

South Vietnamese paratroopers, supported by tanks and planes and Cambodian troops drove the Viet Cong from the center of Kompong Speu, where they had been entrenched for two days. There were no casualty reports on the fighting.

The last road out of Phnom Penh was Highway 2 to the town of Takeo, south of the capital. Even it was all but impassable due to the destruction of a bridge. Military sources said the bridge soon would be back in operation.

Civilian sources said Phnom Penh had at least two weeks worth of petroleum on hand with emergency supplies available from Saigon if the road to Kompong Som on the coast remained cut.

Military spokesmen said there had been fighting Sunday near Kompong Thom, Tonle Sap and Siem Reap, outside the Angkor Wat ruins.

Twenty Viet Cong were killed and one was taken prisoner in a village nine miles east of Phnom Penh, 25 miles east of Phnom Penh, in a weekend battle. Five Cambodians were killed and nine wounded in the fighting, the communique said.

Riots Get Blame For Slowup

By GENE BERNHARDT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Campus riots, reaching new highs in numbers and intensity this spring, have delayed and may even have killed chances Congress will act on any higher education legislation this year.

CARL D. PERKINS, D-Ky., told UPI today the House Education and Labor Committee hearings will not act on pending college aid proposals unless Congress is still in session late this year and the disorders and public indignation over them have lessened.

A spokesman for Sen. Clairborne Pell's education subcommittee, which is also considering changes in the current Higher Education Act, said "The senators are very conscious of reaction to campus violence but no decision has been made to delay such legislation for that reason."

The spokesman for the Rhode Island Democrat acknowledged, however, the panel has shown no urgency to move the bill to the Senate floor.

This is partly because congressional authorization for the act, which provides aid to colleges and students through grants and loans, will not expire until July 1, 1972.

People Place Different Meanings On Old Glory

By United Press International
Sunday was Flag Day across the nation. Two events in Chicago summarized what different people see when they look at Old Glory.

Mayor Richard J. Daley had issued a proclamation ordering the American flag to be flown from all Chicago public buildings and schools, and calling on private home owners to do the same.

"It is well for us all to proudly rally behind our flag, the emblem of justice, freedom and democracy," the mayor said.

The other event took place Saturday. Roger Veasly, 17, had gone to Chicago's Belmont Avenue lakefront. So had Army Spec. 4—John Warhaver, 29.

Warhaver didn't like Veasly's attire—a flag around his shoulders.

He told police Veasly had taken the flag off, thrown it on the ground and jumped on it. Veasly admitted wearing the flag.

"In America, you can do whatever you want. It's a free country," he said.

He was arrested on a charge of desecrating the flag.

By proclamation of President Nixon, Flag Day was extended to a full week this year. Across the nation, the flag flew from

Humphrey

WAVERLY, Minn. (UPI)—Hubert H. Humphrey has jumped back into Minnesota politics, announcing as a candidate for the U.S. Senate and conceding he would accept the Democratic presidential nomination if it were offered.

At a news conference at his lake home here Sunday, the former vice president said he was undaunted by reports the Republicans were prepared to spend $1 million to defeat him.

"I know I am the No. 1 target of the Republican National Committee, but I am not worried," he said.

Humphrey made the formal announcement of his candidacy Saturday for the Senate seat held by Eugene J. McCarthy.

Church Is Pondering Changes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Following the election of a moderator generally considered to be a liberal, the delegates to the 110th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. went behind closed doors today for meetings of the 18 standing committees.

During the day, the committees were to consider and form recommendations on every piece of business that will come before the 454 commissioners during the week-long meeting at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Those items expected to arouse debate included proposed liberalization of the church stance on the consumption of alcoholic beverages and abortion, restructuring the church by reducing synods and presbyteries and setting forth the church's position on the Vietnam War and the black manifesto.

After an opening memorial services Sunday, the commissioners chose Dr. William A. Benfield Jr., 54, to succeed retiring moderator Dr. R. Matthew Lynn of Midland, Tex. Benfield, senior minister at the First Presbyterian Church in Charleston, W. Va., received 217 votes to 212 for the more moderate Dr. Wharry A. Fifield of the First Church in Atlanta.

Brandt's Losses Serious

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Willy Brandt's serious losses in state elections could force revision of his policies toward Communist regimes in Eastern Europe, political sources said today.

Sunday's voting was considered a referendum on the first eight months in office of West Germany's first Social Democratic chancellor in 40 years.

Christian Democratic opponents of Brandt's attempt to negotiate nonaggression pacts with the Soviet Union, Poland and East Germany achieved electoral gains of up to 5 percent in voting for state legislatures in North Rhine-Westphalia, Lower Saxony and Saarland.

Potentially more serious was the failure of Foreign Minister Walter Scheel's Free Democratic Party to win seats in the diets of Lower Saxony and Saarland, and the loss of one third of its voters in North Rhine-Westphalia.

Business Warned By Kennedy

WELLESLEY, Mass. (UPI)—Contending corporate decision-making is "concentrated in too few hands," Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said Sunday corporations must become more responsive to the nation's social problems.

"Corporate America cannot escape from this new social movement," Kennedy told graduating seniors at Babson College. "As we saw at this year's shareholder meetings, corporations must now listen to the public's views on the war, race relations and pollution."

"And before long, corporations will have to provide new channels for public participation in their decision-making process," he said.

The Massachusetts Democrat urged the graduates to go into private business if they chose, but to generate new methods of using corporate power to help the people.

Mayors Of Nation At Confab

DENVER (UPI)—Six hundred mayors and city officials attending the U.S. Conference of Mayors are forming into different camps over American involvement in Southeast Asia. A floor fight on the issue appeared certain before the conference ends.

Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes said Sunday he will attempt to pass a resolution calling on Congress to stop spending money on the war and rechannel these funds to urban areas.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley admitted American cities should receive the priority in federal funding. But Daley said the mayors should do nothing to imply they were not solidly behind the troops fighting in Southeast Asia.

George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development, was scheduled to address the mayors today. Other speakers on the agenda were conference President Jack D. Maltester, the mayor of San Leandro, Calif.; and Colorado Gov. John A. Love.

In a Saturday session of the conference's resolutions committee, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay led a successful fight to block efforts by Memphis Mayor Henry Loeb to introduce a resolution affirming support of Nixon's handling of the war.

In initial sessions, most of the mayors agreed national priorities should be restructured and some form of revenue sharing should be established to fund and expand welfare, urban renewal and low-rent housing projects.

A floor fight over the war issue appeared assured for the conference's final business session Wednesday.

Agree

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Brig. Gen. Robert Marcelo Levingston, Argentina's president-designate, and the military commanders who chose him hope to agree by Thursday on a new cabinet, military sources said today.

Thursday is also the day Levingston officially will take office.

Jordan Leaders Discuss Plans

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Guerrilla and government forces today began the delicate task of patching differences and restoring stability to Jordan after the nation's most serious crisis since its defeat in the 1967 war against Israel.

Guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat said it could be several days before it could be known if the efforts were successful or if the country was again headed toward the civil war it narrowly averted last week.

Found

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (UPI)—Two fishermen discovered the body of Brett Van Horn, 10, near here Sunday afternoon, 10 days after the boy tumbled into the Snake River while playing on a rock.

The body was discovered about 3:30 p.m. three-fourths of a mile from where he fell into the river on June 4, according to the Power County Sheriff's office.

He had been playing with friends on a rock between the two old powerhouse buildings below the American Falls Dam. His mother is Fay Van Horn of American Falls, and his father is Hubert Van Horn of Pocatello.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Police authorities warn that the vacant homes of summer vacationers are tempting to prospective burglars and suggest all unoccupied homes be made to appear lived in. A house that looks occupied will be less tempting to a burglar.

Support Needed For Road Project

Local support in Twin Falls is essential to obtain a re-hearing on the proposed reconstruction of the North Five Points intersection, according to City Manager Jean Millar.

Council members are visiting community leaders and service organizations to secure written support of the project.

"If there is no local support," Mr. Millar said, "the traffic problem will continue to increase in that area and it will become necessary to reroute the traffic."

He said that the chance of a re-hearing will be favorable when the state Highway Department board of directors meets again in July.

The preliminary estimated cost of the project was $320,000. Additional rights-of-way would be obtained from property owners along Blue Lakes North and Addison Avenue East.

The decision given by the highway board would be based on the amount of local support given the project, Mr. Millar said. There are a number of local businessmen preparing their statements, and the presentation for the hearing should be ready within 10 to 20 days.

Construction of the project would begin in 1971, if approved, Mr. Millar said.

Grecian Plain Is Scene Of History

MARATHON, Greece (UPI) — This wide plain alighting in the warm spring sunshine looks an unlikely setting for one of the greatest of all dramas of military valor. Yet it was here, where olive trees break the long slope from sandy beach to the approaches of Mount Penteli, that the Athenians defeated a Persian expeditionary force in 490 B.C.

It was from this plain—so said the mixture of history and legend that surrounds the first major battle on European soil—that a young Athenian started a run of 26 miles, 385 yards to bring the news of the victory to Athens. His exploit is commemorated in the Marathon race over the same distance which is the prestige event of the modern Olympic games.

Now even more of the story of the courageous stand by the Athenians and their allies, the Plataeans, "the noblest volunteers of ancient history," as they have been called, in coming to light with excavations into ancient tombs on and near the area. One of these is considered by Prof. Spyros Marinatos, general inspector of antiquities to be "the greatest archeological discovery of the year."

Marinatos was speaking of a tomb which looks superficially like one of the hundreds found all over Greece. It is situated about one mile north of the traditional burial site of the slain Athenians, known as Tymvos. It is a mound 15 feet high and 100 feet in diameter made of stones covered by dirt and—Marinatos—believed it contains the bones of some 20 Plataeans buried there after the battle 2480 years ago.

A similar tomb thought to contain the bodies of the Athenian slaves who died fighting at the sides of their masters at Marathon was recently located another 100 yards away but that has yet to be excavated. There is speculation that this may even be the tomb of the Athenian warriors themselves.

"I begin to have my doubts about the Athenian Tymvos," Marinatos said.

The tymvos site was discovered in 1884 by Schlieman, the German archaeologist who found Troy, and has never been properly excavated. Marinatos pointed out that Schlieman himself dated the tombs there several centuries before the battle of Marathon—somewhere in the 6th Century B.C.

In this newest discovery, nine individual graves have already been opened, but Professor Marinatos has decided not to open any more. "Further excavating will destroy the mound.

U.S. 'Big Stick' Lacks Power

LIMA (UPI) —What can the United States government do if foreign governments seize the property of American companies and refuse to pay for it?

In practical Latin American terms, the answer is negotiate, and then negotiate some more. The Latins describe it with their word "paciencia"—patience.

In theory, the United States has a big economic sock in the teeth ready for any nation which doesn't pay for confiscated properties.

It is in the form of the Hickenlooper amendment, language attached to the Foreign Assistance Act which provides for U.S. aid cuts if countries don't take steps which could lead toward compensation within six months after the seizure of an American property.

In balance, it would appear the Hickenlooper amendment should work well since the amount of U.S. aid withheld in some instances could amount to more than the value of expropriated businesses, at least over a period of months or years.

But this discounts the nationalistic fervor sweeping Latin America, and governments are more concerned with national pride and the need to shake off dependence on the United States than they are with economic realities.

A check by United Press International in some of the key Latin American nations reveals strikingly similar attitudes on their part toward the Hickenlooper legislation. Without exception, the governments feel it should be abolished because, they argue, it serves only to strain U.S. relations with Latin American nations, while failing to accomplish its purpose of forcing payment for confiscated American properties.

The U.S. State Department itself has indicated it would like to see the legislation repealed. What it has done has been to use the clause "unless appropriate steps are taken which could lead toward compensation" to postpone application of the law in Peru and Bolivia, where both countries have seized U.S. oil companies but have not paid for them.

The six-month deadline is long passed, particularly in the case of Peru, where a Standard Oil of New Jersey subsidiary was expropriated on Oct. 9, 1968. Peru says it considers the case closed.

The situation as it is sized up in the various countries is this: —Peru has shown it would not back down in the face of possible U.S. aid cuts. Diplomats decided aid cuts would only entrench the two governments in their respective positions to the point where an eventual settlement never could be reached.

—Bolivia, the government is reported to be arranging a way through foreign subsidiaries to pay Gulf Oil Co. for its holdings seized last October, with a settlement in prospect if the United States does not push the military government too hard.

—In Mexico, diplomatic and government sources report that Mexico sympathizes with the plight of Latin American nations which nationalize U.S. properties but face aid cuts. Editorial comment has been unanimous in opposition to the Hickenlooper amendment. In fact, Mexico set the tone for such expropriation actions in Latin America with its 1938 expropriation of U.S. oil fields.

Working For Solution

—In Argentina, diplomatic sources point out that in February of 1969 the Argentine government offered to help arbitrate Peru's dispute with the United States as a sign of "traditional solidarity and friendship" with Peru. Argentine Economy Minister Adalberto Krieger Vasena said in Washington that if Peru and the United States did not find a solution to their problems, it would "prejudice investment in Latin America."

Berlin Route Is Most Expensive

BERLIN (UPI) —Trucking goods from West Germany through East Germany into West Berlin is expensive and an exercise in patience today, but unlike "blockade" days the trucks do get through.

It still isn't the easiest 110-mile drive in the world from the West German border crossing at Helmstedt into East Germany and then on to West Berlin.

There are occasional harassments by the East Germans, plus taxes and tolls seemingly without end. Here's how one truck driver explained it after a trip:

"I pay three different kinds of taxes every time I come to Berlin. First I pay five marks ($1.35) for a visa. Then I pay a toll of 50 marks ($13.50) to use the road. Then I pay a trucking tax of 120 marks ($34.80).

That's a total of 174 marks ($49.75) to travel the 177 kilometers (110 miles). It must be the most expensive ride in the world. They say the toll is for upkeep of the autobahn, but it's the worst road I've ever driven on."

West Berlin depends on this traffic. Trucks haul 4,553,000 tons of goods into the city each year. So that it won't be too expensive for the truckers themselves and for the West Berlin consumer, the West German government reimburses the trucking companies for the extra costs. This subsidy comes to $40.3 million a year.

Naturally the West Germans aren't happy about the situation. Dieter Thomas of the West Berlin Chamber of Commerce said it is hoped the Big Four powers—the United States, Britain, Russia and France will get together "to improve the traffic situation." But he admitted, "We can't expect any lowering of the tolls."

"What we would like," Thomas said, "is some sort of four-power agreement that would simplify paper work and eliminate the occasional harassment of traffic."

Both truckers and industry spokesmen agree that the severe and persistent harassment of earlier years has been much eased, but it still does occur on occasion.

"Usually we'll get through that (the communist) border checkpoints in from 30 minutes to an hour," the truck driver said. "But in January this year when the east objected to the Hunderstag meetings in Berlin, I sat at the border one day for 11 hours. I got paid for my time, but it makes you mad. They didn't even pretend there was any reason for the delays. They just did everything so slowly and let so few trucks through at a time that you had to sit all day."

"Last year, during the week the West German president was elected they would close down the checkpoints for hours at a time. The light would turn red and stayed for hours. It wasn't any form of slowdown inspection. They weren't inspecting at all. I read in the papers that the East German government said the stoppages were—necessary—because maneuvers were taking place. But there weren't any maneuvers."

In spite of it all, the traffic gets through safely. "Not one screw has ever been lost going through East Germany," said Adalbert Rohloff, of the industry chamber. "Shipping contracts are kept. It is not, of course, a happy traffic situation but we can live with it. "And the important thing is there is no blockade situation. We do not expect a repetition of the 1948-49 Russian blockade of Berlin."

Requests Release

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pentagon has announced Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb, son-in-law of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, has requested release from active military duty effective Sept. 1.

Robb, 30, husband of Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird, has been serving as a Marine rifle platoon officer since his return from a year's duty in Vietnam in April, 1969. He is expected to enter the University of Virginia Law School at Charlottesville, Va. this fall.

A SIP OF ZIP

FROM

YOUNG'S DAIRY

WASHINGTON — Would the Air Force be better off buying 10 CSAs for about $2 billion, or getting 81 of the giant cargo planes at a cost upwards of $4 billion?

Such a rescue operation would almost certainly involve additional expenses, however. So the best possibility of materially reducing per plane costs and acquiring the 81 planes needed probably rests with keeping Lockheed in business.

David Packard made that clear on May 27 when he told the Senate Armed Services Committee that he had urged Lockheed's management to seek help from bank loans "and even through merger."

Informed sources report that the proprietary information presented by Packard fully supported the bleak financial prospect outlined in his prepared statement.

Byrd is a member of the Armed Services Committee, who generally supports defense programs. His comments were not a happy omen for Lockheed.

Faculty Code

Portland Oregonian

A new crisis is about to engulf higher education in Oregon and some other states; and the campuses, packing for summer vacation, seem largely unaware of it.

alleged, stormed into a classroom and shouted obscenities in support of a "strike" call during May.

An examination of the record supports the dreary conclusion that Oregon university faculties have been vastly successful in keeping their employment secure and in obtaining control of hiring and firing, but miserably inept in maintaining professional discipline.

Faculty discipline at Harvard and Yale and other private institutions is a matter for individual administrations and boards of regents.

The professors are going to have to update their principles. The gentle standards of the past cannot be effective under the deliberate, savage attacks of today's disrupters.

In California, a confrontation is brewing between university regents and faculty members on the question of the employment of a teacher at the University of California at Los Angeles, Miss Angela Davis, an avowed Communist.

But in practice AAUP members appear to behave as do the members of any mutually protective association. If they have taken any action against faculty members engaged in violent acts, it has not come to public attention.

There has been similar complaint in Oregon about the provocative public statements of Dr. John Froines, on leave as a member of the chemistry faculty at the University of Oregon and one of the two of the Chicago Seven defendants acquitted of charges of conspiracy to riot in Chicago during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

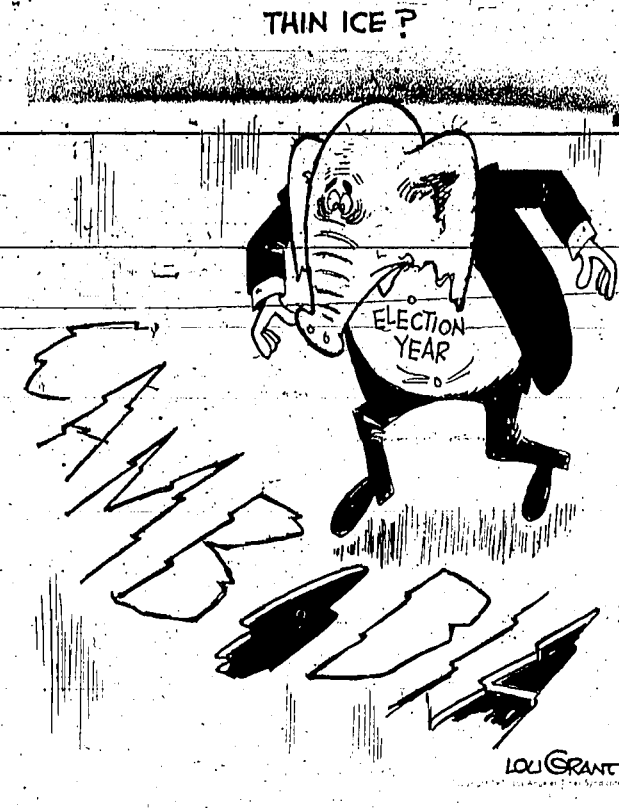

Faculty members appear to be flagrantly permissive in judging conduct standards these days. We doubt if Gov. Tom McCall, the members of the Board of Higher Education and others who will meet on June 18 to discuss the plight of campus discipline will be so permissive in mood.

The difficulty in resolving this question is illustrated in the action of a faculty committee at the University of Oregon in recommending dismissal of disruption charges against a faculty member on the grounds the conduct code was unenforceable.

DEAR ABBY: My biggest problem was JEALOUSY, but I solved it myself. Bill and I have been married for 14 years and have five children, and when I look around and see what some women have to put up with, I consider myself lucky. Bill works steady, supports me and the kids, doesn't drink, but he does, like a little change once in a while which used to drive me up a wall. But no more! I just tell myself there is nothing I can do about it and I should concentrate on his good points.

All I ask is that he tell me "who." Right now I am sharing him with two ladies who work with him. (A mother and daughter team.)

He doesn't neglect me altogether, and as long as I get as much of Bill as I want, what's my beef? Please pass this on to your women readers. It's good insurance against divorce.

SHARING IN ST. LOUIS

DEAR SHARING: To each her own. But I think any wife who goes in for this kind of "group insurance," should use the rocks in HER head to fill in the holes in her husband's.

DEAR ABBY: I have just spent 9 days in a hospital. My private room cost me $88 a day. This included room charges, drugs, and tests. The doctor's bill was separate.

Abby, I didn't see a nurse for hours at a time and there were times when I desperately needed one.

The nurses I did see were wonderful, but they were few and far between, and all worked to death.

When I was well enough to walk up and down the halls, I visited with other patients and they all had the same complaint. This hospital is supposed to be one of the finest. WHY should there be a shortage of nurses, Abby? G.E.

DEAR G. E.: Because many young women who are considering a career are still under the impression that nurses work a 12-hour shift, are underpaid, and only dummies go into nursing.

NOT TRUE! Today a typical nurse starts at a base pay of $611 per month; 5 years ago it would have been $381—that's a 60 per cent increase in only 5 years! (And I am not talking about "specialists"—I mean a green graduate, fresh out of nursing school.)

Also, most nurses get free health care, hospitalization, liability coverage and life insurance and the opportunity for quick advancement. Almost every hospital gives its freshman nurses a three-weeks' paid vacation. And who else but a nurse can get a job on one-day's notice?

Anyone interested in nursing should write to a hospital nursing school or colleges that offer a nursing program. It's still one of the most exciting and rewarding professions around. Besides, I have yet to see a girl who doesn't look like an angel in white!

Tale About Clarence Darrow Enlivens Graduation Rites

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Odds and ends from the nation's capital—mostly odd:
The National Committee for an Effective Congress, a private group, sent a representative to testify before the House Commerce Committee's communications subcommittee.

His audience: just the chairman, Rep. Torbert H. MacDonal, D-Mass.
In his commencement address to a high school graduating class in Washington, Peace Corps Director Joseph H. Blatchford hewed pretty much to the line of pretty phrases.

Good Lovers Believed Often 'Lousy' Fathers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Good lovers often are lousy fathers. That, according to a news item from Georgetown University, seems to be one of the lessons to be derived from a chapter in a new book, "Parenthood."

The young husband with a romantic orientation, the item says, "probably has a casual approach to parenthood. Since his wife's pregnancy is a reminder that he is no longer a carefree adolescent, his transition to fatherhood can be quite difficult."

The travails of impending fatherhood were outlined in a chapter on the development of parental attitudes during pregnancy" by psychiatrists Lucie Jessner and James L. Foy of Georgetown and Edith Weigert of the Washington School of Psychiatry, all doctors.

The three authors cited a study performed at the University of North Carolina by Dr. R. James McCorkel, a sociologist, Darrow, the great old trial lawyer best remembered for his part in the 1925 scopes evolution case in Dayton, Tenn. Darrow accepted an invitation to speak at a high school graduation in Chicago, and was given a very long and very flattering introduction, laced with some flattering references to the youngsters themselves.

Once at the lectern, Darrow made it bitter-sweetly short. "That was as fine a lot of bunk as I ever heard in my life and I know darned well you youngsters didn't believe a word of it."

"You're no more fit to go forth and serve than the man in the moon. You're just a bunch of ignorant kids, full of the devil and you've learned practically nothing to show for the years you spent here. "You can't fool me, for I once spent four years in such a place."

Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., was given the floor and, in this wise, defended President Nixon's credibility:

"I think the President of the United States has, the majority of the time, a track record for candor and honesty in—his representations with respect to Southeast Asia that is so good that he richly under serves to be disbelieved in these representations."

And Labor Secretary George P. Schultz, just before being named to a big new budget post, unburdened himself of:

"The peaceful strike is probably one of the least worst forms of protest we have."

For the fifth time in less than eight months, the Supreme Court has had to correct a public announcement—because notes taken at weekly closed sessions proved all but un decipherable.

On discovering he is about to become a father, "the romantic may experience marital crisis and conflict with relatives."

What upsets the romantic is the fact that "becoming a father means maturing." He must face among other things the painful necessity of laboring for a living.

"Having been supported previously by parents or his wife, the student father-to-be in this classification is now overwhelmed by the responsibility of supporting a wife and child alone."

"But adjustment to fatherhood also is tough for the career-oriented student who sees it "as a burden which will interfere with his professional responsibilities."

Corps Needs Workers

The Army Corps of Engineers has an immediate need for skilled construction personnel, according to Sergeant Hal Kreps, the Army recruiter in Twin Falls.

Accelerated promotions are available to men who have training in masonry, plumbing, refrigeration, mechanics, tractor, operating, crane operating, drafting, carpentry, electricity, drilling and experience as construction foreman.

Those who qualify for the course must complete eight weeks of basic training before beginning engineer schooling. Men with sufficient construction experience are promoted to the rank of specialist five and assigned to the construction foreman course at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, after basic training.

Engineer personnel, who show initiative and leadership, are eligible for promotion to staff sergeant after two years of service.

Sergeant Kreps will provide additional information upon request.

'Mission' Crew Adds

Leslie Warren To Cast

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The cast and crew of "Mission: Impossible" returned to work for the fifth season happily, enamored of an addition to the super-spy group.

Leslie Warren has become a regular, joining Peter Graves, Greg Morris, Leonard Nimoy and Peter Lupus.

In its first four years the show co-starred Barbara Bain, who won Emmys right and left as the best actress in a continuing role in a dramatic series.

Since her departure last year "Mission: Impossible" hasn't been quite the same.

"We needed an appealing feminine presence," Graves aid as shooting began for the coming season, "and Leslie is just right. There is an aura about her that will enhance the show."

Graves has the demeanor of an all-American spy. His features are those of a college football star as envisioned by the movies. He is unmistakably an American type.

Suspension In Draft Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Pentagon's latest induction estimates indicate the draft may be suspended one or two months later this year, as was done in November and December of 1969.

The Pentagon estimates the total 1970 draft will be 150,000 to 180,000. That means the number of men drafted during the last five months of the year could be as low as 35,500, since a total of 114,500 will have been drafted by Aug. 1.

The Pentagon could cut the draft to about half the current level of 15,000 men a month, or suspend it for one or two months.

The reduction in the draft, from a level of nearly 300,000 in 1969, is due primarily to a cutback in armed services strength.

Deep Snow Blocks Peak Trails

Access trails into the White Cloud Mountain area remain blocked with snow. Clayton District Forest Ranger Dan Pence reports that people planning to visit the area are advised to wait until after July 1 to allow more snow to melt.

Ranger Pence and Perry Johnson, Dale Baird, and Bill Davidson of the Idaho Fish and Game Department inspected the Frog Lake and Little Boulder Creek areas June 5. The group rode horses up the Little Boulder Trail and had to cut cross country on numerous occasions to get through snow banks. They were unable to reach Frog Lake with horses, and so they hiked in over the snow. Frog Lake remains frozen over; although, ice was starting to break up near the inlet.

President And Finch Confer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI)—President Nixon "worked and relaxed" Sunday in the Bahamas with Robert H. Finch, removed as Health, Education and Welfare secretary to become a White House counselor.

Nixon was accompanied only by Finch and the president's friend, C. G. (Boo) Rebozo on an overnight stay at Grand Cay, H. R. Haldeman, Nixon's chief of staff, remained in Florida. Finch has been a close friend and advisor to Nixon for more than 20 years but his new duties have not yet been fully defined.

There has been speculation that Finch will concentrate on political tactics, initially for the 1970 congressional election and ultimately for Nixon's expected bid for re-election in 1972.

But Finch, who was campaign manager for Nixon's unsuccessful race for the presidency in 1960, has been displaced as the President's key adviser by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Nixon's manager in the winning 1968 campaign.

Finch and Mitchell were frequent opponents in policy debates within the administration. The President announced a little more than a week ago that Finch would be replaced in the cabinet by Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson.

The traveling White House said the President spent Sunday morning "working and relaxing" on Grand Cay.

White House aides denied a report published in the London Sunday Times that Nixon has decided to grant Israel's request to buy additional Phantom and Skyhawk jet fighters.

They said the President has not changed his decision to reject the request although he is continuing to keep a close watch on the military situation in the troubled Middle East.

The President has been coming under increasing pressure from members of Congress to sell additional jets to Israel.

South Vietnamese, Cambodians In Major Assault On Communist Unit

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—South Vietnamese units joined Cambodian forces Sunday in an artillery and aerial assault on the town of Kompong Speu, from where Communist troops are threatening Phnom Penh's vital highway link with Cambodia's biggest seaport and only oil refinery.

A Cambodian military spokesman said Communists had blocked the highway again Sunday and damaged one of its bridges while holding their own positions in Kompong Speu, a provincial capital through which the highway passes 25 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

Almost all of Cambodia's oil comes through the port and refinery of Kompong Som, as do its other goods that are imported. The port was known as Sihanoukville prior to the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the chief of state, three months ago.

In other developments in the Indochina War Sunday, U.S. military sources in Saigon said 2,200 American troops had been withdrawn from Cambodia during the past several days.

A government military spokesman said South Vietnamese troops have discovered in Cambodia what is thought to be a section of the Communist Central Office for South Vietnam (COSVN), the primary objective of the allies' Cambodian operation.

Photographer with the South Vietnamese units, said their artillery batteries moved to within one mile south of the town Sunday morning and opened a barrage against it.

Cambodian T28 planes later bombed and strafed it, while three battalions of government infantrymen took positions to the north of the town.

Many civilians were reported still in Kompong Speu, Savada said, although most of its population fled when North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops moved into it last Friday.

The military spokesman said Communists occupy the center and southern sections of the town. Since fighting began there two days ago, he said, seven civilians and at least seven Cambodian soldiers have been killed and another 30 troops wounded.

The Communists blocked the highway between Phnom Penh and the port of Kompong Som briefly Friday, but the government reported it reopened again Saturday. It was blocked again Sunday, however, the spokesman said, and saboteurs also damaged one of its bridges on the northern outskirts of Kompong Speu.

Cosmonauts Complete Routine Flight Tasks

By DUSKO P. DODER MOSCOW (UPI)—Cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Vitaly Sevast'yanov today completed a routine work shift and snoozed through the last lap of their bid to beat the United States' space endurance record.

Thus, the Soviet news agency said the two Soyuz 9 crewmen worked, as usual, until the early hours of this morning. Then they began an eight-hour rest period that will last until about 3 p.m. Moscow time (8 a.m. EDT.)

More than one hour later, at 4:35 p.m. (9:35 a.m. EDT), the flight of Nikolayev and Sevast'yanov will become the longest in history, surpassing the 13 days and 18 hours flown in 1965 by Frank Borman and James Lovell in Gemini 7.

Nikolayev and Sevast'yanov, hurtled into orbit at 10 p.m. local time June 1, were scheduled to continue their mission for about another week, Soviet sources said.

Soyuz 9's primary goal was to test man's ability to live and work for long periods under conditions of weightlessness, a vital part of the Soviet program to set up permanently manned orbital platforms.

A report from the Baikonur Space Center Sunday said thorough physical checks showed both men were in fine health.

Nikolayev and Sevast'yanov, as they logged their five millionth mile Sunday, did their 10th duty by voting in the parliamentary elections. They voted by radio.

The cosmonauts also radioed a get-out-to-vote message saying, "On this remarkable day, we, like all Soviet people, vote for the further flourishing of our socialist homeland, for our own Communist party, for communism."

Girl Dead By Gang Shooting

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Antoinette Williams sat on her front steps Saturday night, drawing in her coloring book. Suddenly a bullet ripped into her skull, between the eyes, just above the bridge of the nose.

Antoinette died three hours later in St. Christopher Hospital.

The child was struck when gunfire erupted during a gang fight between the Oxford Streeters and the Diamond Streeters. Witnesses said two or three shots were fired, there was a short lull, then four shots followed.

Antoinette stood up after the first shots to go back into her house. Police said she was hit by one of the shots that followed.

Detectives charged John Maddox, 18, with murder; Benjamin Baker, 16, accessory after the fact of murder; and Alfred Curtis, 16, assault with intent to kill and violation of the Uniform Firearms Act.

Police said they were members of a teen-age gang. There had been 16 deaths this year in gang-connected incidents.

Antoinette was No. 17. Detective Edward Funk said neighbors admitted seeing the gang members carry the weapons to the street where the girl was shot.

Why didn't anyone notify police? "Because there's gangs involved," he said. "The people are afraid for their lives."

Taxi Driver In Vienna Honest VIENNA (UPI)—An American woman tourist lost $73,000 and a gold bracelet in a taxi Sunday. The cab driver returned both to the woman three hours later.

Officer Shot In Lewiston

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI)—A Lewiston policeman was shot to death early today while he was investigating a report of three suspicious men in an alley behind a store.

Officials said two subjects, both reportedly from the deep South, were being sought in connection with the slaying.

The name of the dead officer was withheld, pending notification of relatives.

A merchant policeman said he heard about four or five shots from his position about three blocks away. When he arrived at the scene, he found the policeman on the ground near his squad car. The car lights were still on the motor was running.

The dead officer was clutching an identification card in his hand.

Police took into custody a man who said he was a witness to the shooting. He said the two men believed to have shot the officer fled toward the Clearwater River.

Koyichi Sawada, a UPI photographer with the South Vietnamese units, said their artillery batteries moved to within one mile south of the town Sunday morning and opened a barrage against it.

Cambodian T28 planes later bombed and strafed it, while three battalions of government infantrymen took positions to the north of the town.

Park Chief Sees City

Of Rocks

BURLEY — George Hartzog, head of the National Park Service, and accompanied by Rep. Orval Hansen, flew over the City of Rocks site near Oakley Sunday.

The City of Rocks has been proposed for a national monument and Mr. Hartzog flew over the area to view the possibilities.

Rep. Hansen, a chief backer of the proposal, said Mr. Hartzog was impressed by the rock formations he saw while flying over the area. He said Hartzog was favorable to the proposal, but Hansen said it would take at least two years to have the City of Rocks designated a national monument.

Hartzog was in Idaho only long enough to fly over the site. He was to have had a longer stay, taking part in Cassia County's centennial celebration Saturday, but his visit was delayed by bad weather.

Confused?

Two-way traffic returned to Main Avenue in Twin Falls amid scenes of anger and confusion today.

The change to two-way traffic came after Twip Falls motorists had had 10 years to get used to one-way traffic, it's all part of the revamping of the state highway routes through downtown Twin Falls, but it brought nothing but trouble this morning.

City street crows striped Main Avenue with a single white stripe down the middle last week, to indicate the two opposing lanes of traffic, but many motorists apparently didn't notice or didn't understand.

The city is in the process of changing directional signs, and it is hoped that the confusion will end in the near future, City Manager Jean Millar said.

Richfield Outlaw Day Successful Despite Rain

RICHFIELD — The Richfield Outlaw Day activities Saturday drew the usual large crowd despite occasional rain.

SLICING SOME of the 1,000 pounds of beef for the barbecue at Oakley Saturday for over 900 people, mostly Republicans who were in the area and attended the state assembly meeting in Burley, is Don Clark. Overlooking his son's work is John Clark, right, chairman of the Cassia County Commissioners and chief cook for the barbecue. The event, sponsored by the 100 years of Progress in Cassia County Committee, was held in the Rainbow Hall, instead of the City of Rocks as planned because of adverse weather conditions. The beef, however, was cooked in a pit at the City of Rocks.

Over 900 Attend Oakley Barbecue

OAKLEY — Idaho's Republicans gathered in this small Idaho town this weekend after the state assembly meeting in Burley Saturday for the barbecue that was planned for the City of Rocks.

However, because of the heavy rain storm that left everything wet and muddy, the barbecue was moved to the Rainbow Hall in Oakley. Because of the rain, another problem confronted the committee planning the barbecue.

John Clark, Oakley, chief cook, and Cassia County commissioner, but 1,000 pounds of beef in two pits Friday at the City of Rocks. The meat cooked in the covered pits Friday and was ready to be taken out Saturday for the barbecue.

Saturday as more rain fell, the next problem was how to get to the City of Rocks to get the barbecued beef. Dave Lake and Robert Bodke came to the rescue. With a four-wheel drive power-wagon they left Oakley headed for the City of Rocks. After slipping and sliding over the dirt road they arrived at the two cooking pits.

The 1,000 pounds of beef was uncovered, placed in the power-wagon and the two men returned to Oakley with the much needed barbecued meat.

Arrangements for serving was set up in Rainbow Hall in Oakley. Rain didn't stop the pioneers from settling Cassia County and some of that same spirit still remains for over 900 persons were on hand in Oakley for the barbecue dinner.

The barbecue was sponsored by the "100 Years of Progress in Cassia County" committee with Ted Kelsey, general chairman.

Max Bruce, Al Dawson and Leo Henschel, all Burley, were on hand to greet the pioneers of today as they arrived at Rainbow Hall. The three men each were wearing con-tailed fur caps.

Carolyn Zollinger, Declo, reigning "Frontier Girl" also was on hand greeting politicians and local residents.

Mrs. Pearl Zollinger, Sublett, 85, was the oldest person attending the barbecue. Members of the Old Time Fiddlers under the direction of Mannie Shaw, Corral, played oldtime tunes all afternoon and evening. The fiddlers played and sang "Here We Have Idaho" as Gov. and Mrs. Don Samuelson arrived at the hall.

Larry Stephenson, president of the Burley Jaycees, presented Jim McClure and Orval Hansen, both U.S. representatives, with a "100 Years of Progress" Key Chain.

Most of the people who attended the barbecue also toured the Oakley Historical Museum (just west and across the street from Rainbow Hall.) The main attraction at the museum was the pipe organ which was brought to Oakley by freight wagons from Salt Lake City in 1901.

The organ was dedicated which the LDS Church built of native rock in 1902. Elizabeth Corey came from Salt Lake City and presented an organ recital and demonstrated the organ.

Lena Nelson Taylor and May Martindale Johnson both young women in 1902 were the first two to learn to play the organ. One of the song books on the organ is titled "New Methods for Reed Organs" which is one of the first books purchased for use by the ones who learned to play this organ. The books pages are now turning yellow with age and no date could be found in the book. However "Wise Music Store, 911 Main Street, Boise, Idaho" was stamped in the front of the book.

Another attraction of historical value was the "Oakley's First Fire Wagon" which is on display in the Oakley City Park.

With the events of the day coming to a close, the travelers headed by bus and car back to Burley and on to their own homes.

GOV. DON SAMUELSON visits with Newell Dayley, longtime Oakley resident, and Max Bruce, Burley, during the barbecue served in Oakley Saturday evening by the 100 Years of Progress in Cassia County Committee. Gov. Samuelson attended the barbecue as did 900 others after the state Republican Assembly in Burley Saturday.

Englehorn To Playoff For LPGA Crown

SUTTON, Miss. (UPI)—Shirley Englehorn, a one-stroke loser to Kathy Whitworth for the 1967 title, forced an 18-hole playoff by tying Miss Whitworth Sunday on the 72nd hole of the 1970 Ladies Professional Golf Association Championship.

Miss Englehorn, trailing by a stroke over four of the last five holes, scored the final hole tying birdie by calmly knocking in a one-foot putt after a spectacular 80-yard approach shot. The pair will play off Monday.

Miss Englehorn, who trailed by as much as three strokes in the late stages of the fourth round, closed the gap to one with a birdie on the 15th and the two tour veterans played even par until Miss Englehorn moved into a top tie with her final hole birdie.

Miss Englehorn, seeking her fourth straight tournament, finished with a three under 70 for a 72-hole score of 70-70-75-70-285, seven strokes under par for the tournament at Pleasant Valley Country Club, while Miss Whitworth was shooting 69-71-73-72-285.

In third place and winner of $2,700 was Muri Linstrom, while Sandra Hayala took fourth place and the $2,295 prize.

When they clash in the playoff, the Misses Englehorn and Whitworth will be aiming for the top prize of $4,500. There will be $3,410 worth of consolation for the loser.

Local favorite and former amateur star Joanne Gunderson Carner finished tied for fifth with a total to split $3,500.

Miss Whitworth narrowly missed a chance to win the match on the 18th hole when her 17-foot birdie putt bid was a foot away from the hole and she had to settle for a par.

Miss Whitworth, a Texan playing out of Ocean Shores, Wn., was trying to break a slump of seven straight losses.

TRAPSHOOT WINNERS during the Twin Falls Gun Club's annual shoot pose at the completion of competition. Expos Purchase John O'Donoghue

MONTREAL (UPI)—The Montreal Expos of the National League Sunday announced the purchase of left hand reliever John O'Donoghue, from the Milwaukee Brewers of the American League.

The 30-year-old southpaw will join the Expos Tuesday night when they begin a three-game series with the Atlanta Braves.

Boyd, Gee And Woodland Nab Awards For T.F. Trapshoot

A. E. "Sonny" Boyd of Boise won the Twin Falls Gun Club's annual trapshoot with an overall aggregate of 462 out of a possible 600 targets during the two-day program.

A total of 76 participated in the meet, fighting poor weather Saturday and hit and miss rainstorms Sunday. But at the completion of the program, a total of 27,000 rounds had been fired competitively and another 3,000 were estimated shot in shoot-offs and practice rounds.

Boyd won the A Class championship with his 462 while Gary Gee of Filer posted a 460 to win B honors. Chuck Woodland of Twin Falls hit 456 to lead the C class.

Boyd defeated Spence Miller of Boise in a shoot-off to win the 200 16-yard target program after they had tied with 197 over the regulation course. Gee took the B division with 195x200 while Glenn Pickett of Idaho Falls was second with 194, beating Ohio Hampson of Utah in a shoot-off. The C award went to Dennis Ayers of Twin Falls at 194 with Woodland second at 192.

Jim Stewart, a 16-year-old Twin Falls lad, won the Cactus Pete's handicap with 96 of 100.

Seminoles To Meet Texas

In NCAA Title
By WILLIAM A. STEPHENS
OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Ron Cash drilled in four runs for Florida State Sunday night to head a 6-0 NCAA College World Series victory over Dartmouth and end a 21 game winning streak by the Indians.

Ed Osburn struck out 14 while pitching the shutout.

Earlier in the day, a hard-hitting Texas club rolled past Ohio University, 7-2, and the Iowa State Cyclones gave the Arizona Wildcats their second loss, 7-1, in the double elimination tourney.

The win gave the Seminoles a match with Texas Monday night. Earlier Monday, Iowa State plays Ohio and Southern California takes on Dartmouth.

Florida State scored once in the second inning, three times in the third and twice in the fourth.

In the big third inning, Dick Nichols walked, stole second and third, and came home on an error. Cash later that inning singled in Greg Schutte and John Grub.

Florida State is now 47-7 on the year, while Dartmouth dropped to 24-0.

In the earlier game, Texas built up a 5-2 lead over Ohio after three innings, and added two more to pad the margin.

Gurney, McLaren Team Cops Can-Am Racing Meet Opener

MOSPORT, Ont. (UPI)—The team after the death of Denny. I was just waiting for him to say I could pass him."

Oliver "diddled" for several laps with Lohr Molschenbacher, of Beverly Hills, Calif., who was driving a McLaren-Chvrolet and was running fourth while Oliver, who had lapped him, was running second and trying to catch Gurney.

In second place was London's Jackie Oliver in an Autocast Chevrolet.

In third place was Gurney's team-mate, Denis Hulme of New Zealand, in the other team McLaren-Chvrolet.

Gurney covered the 200-mile course in 1:47:05, at an average speed of 117.24 miles per hour. On the 51st lap, he set a record for the track, in any kind of race, of 1:18.0, an average speed of 113.49 miles per hour.

Oliver's time in second place was 1:47:21.5 (109.942 mph), and Hulme in third place had a time of 1:48:24 (106.162 mph).

Gurney, perspiration running down his face, was obviously well-pleased with his first victory in the series, and by winning it as a member of the series' most prestigious team.

"I hope to run with the McLaren team the rest of the season," Gurney said after the race.

He said that he was "driving as fast as the car would go."

"That was it, that was all it had to give," Gurney said.

"I think Denny's hands are extremely painful," Gurney said. "When I passed him, he just waved me ahead."

Oliver said, "I felt sorry for RicCluskey suffered a broken nose and cheekbone, and Koehler was described in fair condition with multiple injuries at the Intensive Care Unit at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Petty Bests Allison In Falstaff 400

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI)—Stock car king Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., shot ahead of pole sitter Bobby Allison before the first turn and led for all but two laps Sunday to capture the Falstaff 400 at the Riverside International Raceway.

Adding victory No. 105 to his all-time NASCAR Grand National win total, Petty averaged 90.242 miles per hour in his blue 1970 Plymouth Superbird over Riverside's 2.68-mile road course.

Allison, of Hueytown, Ala., and driving a 1969 Dodge Daytona, was runner-up more than a lap behind Petty despite brake problems near the end of the race.

Only 16 of the 40 stock cars that started the race crossed the finish line.

Petty, who earned $107,265, made five pit stops. On two of them, on laps No. 65 and 127, Allison took the lead briefly.

Third was James Hylton of Inman, S.C., in a 1969 Ford.

Average cost per pupil in the nation's public school system for 1969-70 is estimated a $717.

USAC Stock King McCluskey Hurt In N.Y. Event

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—Roger McCluskey, the point leader on the USAC stock car circuit, and Bill Koehler were recovering Sunday from injuries suffered in a seven-car pileup in the 100-mile Intimidator race at the New York State Fairgrounds Saturday.

The race was immediately halted when the crash occurred on the 67th lap, and Rutch Hartman, who was leading at the time, was declared the winner. McCluskey was second.

McCluskey suffered a broken nose and cheekbone, and Koehler was described in fair condition with multiple injuries at the Intensive Care Unit at St. Joseph's Hospital.

South Creamed In-Duck Soup

The defense wound up with four hearts and a diamond. Jim: "If South takes the first heart it will require careful defense to beat him. He will cash his ace of spades and five clubs, and West will discard his remaining spades on the last club. East can make any two diamonds he wants to as long as he hangs on to his heart. Now if South plays a diamond West must win and lay down his king of hearts to drop his partner's queen. If South leads a heart, East must be allowed to win so as to be able to lead a diamond to his partner's king." Oswald: "We haven't discussed the bidding but feel that North and South did very well to get to three no-trump, which is the only game contract that makes against good defense."

Jim: "Too many cooks spoil the broth. Here is a hand where too many ducks spoil the contract." Oswald: "It is up to South to let East hold the first heart. No duck at all will be as bad as too many. Then he wins the second heart, runs off his five clubs, cashes his ace of spades and throws West in with a heart." Jim: "West can take the rest of his hearts but will finally have to give declarer the rest of the tricks." Oswald: "When the hand was played South ducked the hearts twice. West overlooked his partner's queen of hearts and knocked out South's ace with a third heart. Eventually, South had to play diamonds himself and EXACTLY 76 PER CENT of all Americans are asleep by 11 p.m. every night... YOU NEVER SEE a sheep lying on its side. Why? A sheep has four stomachs. They won't work right when tipped alaunchwise... AN EXPERT WHO ought to know couldn't about one in every 15 persons hereabouts has inherited money she or she doesn't know about. Is that possible?

LOVE AND WAR — Take those men who sign up with matrimonial agencies to find romances. Most of them are neurotic. Yet the women who join such agencies mostly are normal. And oftentimes highly attractive. Repeated studies by experts indicate the foregoing to be factual, but they do not explain why. Incidentally, officials of that organization called Paronty Without Partners claim it definitely is not a mate-finding association; but I've known at least 10 married couples who met while members of it.

THAT NATIONAL, who drinks the most milk is the Finn, the least the Filipino... A LOS ANGELES BELLEBOY with lengthy experience claims the poorest tippers are politicians and dentists... AMONG BUY-LOVERS, it's said, introverts buy birds, extroverts buy fish.

CUSTOMER SERVICE — Q "Is it true Admiral Peary left an Eskimo son at the North Pole?" A. Published reports contend an Eskimo, named Call Peary is the admiral's son... Q "Can a stork utter some sort of bird call?" A. No, but it makes a noise by snapping its bill. Sounds a little like that lone clapper at the end of "Laugh-In."

WENT TO LUNCH yesterday with a couple of retired gentlemen. One said, "My wife has taken to calling me 'Honeydew.' It's 'Honeydew this' and 'Honeydew that.'" The other said, "You're lucky. My wife still thinks my name is 'Listen.'" ... THE SUPERMARKET MANAGERS estimate a woman spends an extra 50 cents during every minute she stays in the premises after she finishes her regular shopping. Remember that, mister. If she's half an hour late, that's $15.

THE POLLSTERS — Just what won't the people tell to the surveytakers, anyhow? Two things, it's said. 1. The number of their premarital affairs. 2. How often they take a bath. When the pollsters spring either of these two queries on the average citizen, said citizen just clams up. Understandable.

RAPID REPLY — No, sir, the Indians called it firewater, that hard liquor of old, because it burst into a blue flame when they spit it onto hot coals.
