

Senate Cambodia Curb Has Lost Real Meaning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading administration supporter says Senate backers of legislation to curb President Nixon's role in Cambodia have backed down in five weeks of debate on the point their amendment would permit what originally set out to forbid.

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., said in an interview the long debate has made Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., concede much in their effort to maintain their slim Senate majority.

"I would assume you could do everything under the Cooper-Church Amendment but take up residency in Cambodia if you're in uniform," Dole said.

Cooper and Church have conceded that under their proposal—as amended on the floor—U.S. troops indeed could re-enter Cambodia, but only, they say, to rescue downed Americans, or in hot pursuit of Communist forces or to deal with an imminent threat immediately across the border from South Vietnam.

Nonetheless, and despite their conviction the legislation would not survive a conference with House members in the effort to write a final compromise, the administration supporters are not letting the issue go to a final vote.

The Cambodian debate was set aside momentarily today for a 3 p.m. EDT vote on a proposal to permit the sale to U.S. allies of up to $150 million worth of U.S. arms when they are declared surplus. The bill puts a $35 million limit on surplus arms sales.

Safeguard Missile Plan Gets Setback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Safeguard antiballistic missile system (ABM), keystone of the Nixon administration's nuclear arms strategy, has been dealt its first major setback from an unexpected source—the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The committee voted Wednesday to junk President Nixon's plan to expand Safeguard into a nationwide population-defense system and decided to confine its mission to protecting missile silos and bomber bases.

The 11-to-6 committee decision is almost certain to be upheld by the Senate. And because of backing by powerful senators like Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., the House likely will be forced to accept the restriction.

Last year, after long debate, the ABM got through the Senate on a 50 to 50 vote. Despite Wednesday's restriction, however, the backbone of Nixon's ABM program survived intact.

The committee accepted the President's proposal to add a third site, at Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., to the two Congress authorized last year.

Supreme Court In Ruling

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Supreme Court has upheld a Twin Falls District Court ruling that a man killed while dismantling Titan missile also near Orchard was not covered by negligence statutes.

The high court said the defendant, Titan Equipment Supply Corp., was covered under the Workmen's Compensation Law. Therefore, the tribunal said, Titan was not liable for damages in the negligence action.

The widow and children of Floyd Duane Adam Sr. brought the lawsuit.

Long In Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., has taken a young Republican HEW official to task for complaining publicly about troubles involved in dealing with Congress and "slugging it out with the Eastlands."

Long questioned Howard Cohen at a Senate Finance Committee hearing Wednesday about the statement he made to the liberal Republican Ripon Society.

Cohen replied that the point of the remark was that Ripon members should complain less about the Nixon administration in view of its troubles.

Open House

Residents of Magic Valley are reminded of the open house which is scheduled for the new Times-News plant in Twin Falls on Saturday from noon until 5 p.m.

The Times-News, now the largest offset publication in Idaho, is publishing from a new building, complete with new equipment, at the corner of Second Avenue West and Third St. West across the corner from the United States Postoffice.

Members of all departments are planned during the open house period and members of the Jay-Cee-Elites will serve refreshments, according to Al Westergren, publisher.

"We are justly proud of our new plant and take this opportunity to make it available for inspections by folks from all over the valley," he said.

Editors Told Of Fish Loss

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — The loss of anadromous fish due to nitrogen supersaturation below Little Goose Dam on the Snake River this spring should have been quite small, according to Ray Olliger, chief biologist for the Walla Walla District Army Corps of Engineers.

Olliger, addressing the fifth annual Snake River Editors Conference Wednesday, said, "more than ninety per cent of the spring run passed over Little Goose before the supersaturation period began."

Thousands of bass and catfish died because of the nitrogen supersaturation in the river. The Malady, "gas bubble disease," is similar to the bends in humans, when nitrogen under high pressure is forced into the body.

The Washington State Fish and Game Department has claimed the loss of fish this spring will run around $1 billion.

The Inland Empire Steelheaders Association has threatened a $10 million lawsuit against the Corps.

"In spite of the unfortunate fish kill effecting the bass and catfish on the lower Snake River, we are quite happy with the successful spring chinook passage this year," Olliger said.

Money Man

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Billy Hardwick was the leading money winner in the 1969 Professional Bowlers Association tour, pocketing $64,160 in official PBA-tourney earnings.

Suffrage Measure To Pass

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supporters of the bill giving suffrage to 18-year-olds and extending minority group voting predicted today President Nixon would sign it. Passed finally by the House Wednesday, it both was hailed as a historic advance and assailed as a hoax on youth.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., 82, who steered the Senate-passed bill through the House despite his conviction its 18-year-old vote feature likely would be thrown out by the courts, said there was no doubt in his mind Nixon would sign the bill.

North Viet Officials Disturbed

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnam accused the United States today of downgrading the Vietnam peace talks while pushing for victory in Indochina.

North Vietnam negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy said in the 11th session of the talks that his country has not given up its demand that all American troops be withdrawn and the Saigon regime be replaced by a coalition cabinet.

Slaying Of Pretty Girl Investigated

MARSHALL, N.C. (UPI) — The FBI today was investigating the slaying of a pretty VISTA worker whose nude body was found in her parked car on a remote Appalachian mountain road.

"The death may have occurred on Pisgah National Forest land," said FBI agent Austin Anderson of Asheville.

The body of Nancy Morgan, 24, was tightly bound at the hands and feet with nylon cord. An autopsy was to be performed today, at Mission Memorial Hospital in Asheville.

Nancy, a former dean's list student at Southern Illinois University and a Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) worker in Madison County since October, had been reported missing since early Monday morning.

She left the home of Jim Adgma, a fellow VISTA worker, about 3:30 a.m. and said she was going home.

A local resident, Jimmy Lewis, found Nancy's body in her grey government car in Tanyard Gap, about six miles from Adams' home and about 75 yards off twisting U.S. 25-70. Sheriff Roy Roberts said the girl's body was in the back seat of the car and was nude except for her slacks, which had been draped over her head.

The nylon cord with which she had been tied also was looped around her neck.

"That rope was drawn so tight it was buried in the folds of skin on her neck," said J. B. Reid, 72, a mountain resident, who watched police remove the body from the car.

Her purse, which appeared to have been thrown from the car, was found about 60 feet away.

Nancy lived and worked as a community organizer in the Shelton Laurel community. She was involved in helping to develop a community-owned clothing store, promoting better roads and in youth programs.

Democrats Critical Of Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats today labeled "too little and too late," President Nixon's appeal to business and labor to voluntarily curb price and wage demands as part of a national effort to stop the worst inflation in 20 years.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., and some other Democrats renewed demands for mandatory wage and price controls, a step the President categorically rejected.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert, scheduled to become speaker next year if the Democrats retain control of the House, accused Nixon of playing politics with the cost of living, a charge Nixon indirectly made against the Democrats.

Republicans, joined by a few Democrats, praised Nixon for rejecting drastic measures such as mandatory controls in his economic address broadcast to the nation Wednesday from the White House.

Nixon said the nation faces serious problems of unemployment, inflation, high interest rates, declining profits and a jittery stock market. But he said despite it all, "The American economy is the strongest in the world."

Nixon blamed most of the nation's troubles on the shock of switching from "a wartime economy to a peacetime consumer economy" and on excessive government spending in the 1960s by his Democratic predecessors.

"The momentum of four years of inflation was stronger than had been anticipated," Nixon said. "The effect on unemployment is greater than we foresaw. The pace of our progress toward price stability and high employment has not been quick enough."

He appealed to business and labor to "raise their sights by lowering their demands." But he named no names and offered no suggestions for what would constitute noninflationary behavior.

Explosion

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — One worker was killed today and six others were injured when an explosion destroyed a powder-plant building at the Miller Fireworks Co. complex in nearby Springfield.

The Lucas County sheriff's office identified the victim as Phyllis Sue Stowers, 27, of Toledo. Authorities said she was loading powder onto trays when the explosion occurred.

By United Press International

Violent weather persisted throughout the night and into today from Illinois to the Northeastern reaches of the nation and in the Southwest.

Fynnel clouds were sighted near Akron, Ohio, and a tornado was reported in Northeastern Illinois. A tornado also was spotted at Poland, Ohio, just south of Youngstown.

Niagara, N.Y., had 1.60 inches of rain in six hours. Dubois, Pa., had 1.13 inches.

Severe thunderstorm watches were in effect from East-Central Illinois to the Northwest corner of Ohio.

Three funnels were spotted about 10 miles northwest of Plainview, Tex., as thunderstorms raked the Panhandle area. Winds were clocked at 60 miles an hour at a point near Lubbock.

Showers and thunderstorms were scattered across the Northern Plains early today and in the Northern Rockies. Clear skies covered the South and Far West.

MAKING A RARE appearance as a witness, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield told a joint Economic subcommittee that Congress must be willing to kill the anti-ballistic missile program unless the Pentagon can prove that it will work. (UPI telephoto)

Viet Cong Operations Increase In Cambodia

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Cambodian military spokesmen said today North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops operations had greatly increased around Phnom Penh, leaving Highway 1 to Saigon the only road out of the capital.

There were increasing indications the Communists intend to mount an attack on the capital. There was no panic in the city.

Leaflets appeared in Phnom Penh today warning of a planned attack on the capital. The leaflets said the North Vietnamese army has elements of five divisions in the provinces surrounding the city.

Military sources said there was no firm intelligence to support the report that there were many North Vietnamese troops in the area.

Cambodian National Railways sources said today the Viet Cong attacked at Krang Lovea 40 miles northwest of Phnom Penh Wednesday, cut the Bangkok-Phnom Penh rail line, burned down the depot and looted a trainload of rice.

The Phnom Penh stationmaster said the Viet Cong forced local Cambodians to unload the rice from the train. A second train headed from Phnom Penh to Battambang was not looted, he said.

Military sources said two trainloads of troops that left Phnom Penh for Krang Lovea Wednesday were forced to halt overnight but continued to the trip today.

Convicted Arsonist Ordered To Prison

By LEE TREMAINE

Times-News Writer

Jimmy E. Phillips, 22, Twin Falls, charged with three counts of arson in connection with the burning of two haystacks and an unoccupied dwelling near Castelford last year, was sentenced to 18 years in the state prison on Wednesday by District Judge Theron Ward.

The sentencing followed the granting of a motion by Twin Falls County Prosecutor William Galley that probation granted last December be revoked. Judge Ward granted the motion on the evidence of reports from the Nampa State School and Hospital, where Mr. Phillips had been sent for treatment and evaluation.

Judge Ward told the court that the 18-year sentence, including 10 years on one charge of second-degree arson and three years each on two charges of third-degree arson was suspended when originally levied last Dec. 19, on the condition that Mr. Phillips agree to treatment in the Nampa institution. Periodic reports on his condition were ordered by the judge.

The initial reports from the institution had been "good," Judge Ward said, but recent condition statements indicated trouble, in that Mr. Phillips had refused to obey the rules, had

Turnout Large In Election

LONDON (UPI) — Britons voted in a big turnout today in what appeared to be a photo finish general election.

Opinion polls and pundits generally predicted a win for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor party.

But Edward Heath's Conservatives appeared to have made an eleventh hour comeback from a seemingly hopeless underdog position. One opinion poll said a Conservative win by a hair's breadth margin no longer could be ruled out.

The election would decide whether Wilson's Labor party or Heath's Conservatives govern for the next five years.

Voting started quietly throughout the country at 7 a.m. (2 a.m. EDT.) but by midday long lines of voters were reported at polling stations in many districts.

The heaviest vote was expected in the evening after factories and offices close. Polls stay open until 10 p.m. (5 p.m. EDT), one hour later than in previous elections.

As Britons voted, the government announced unemployment in mid-June was the highest for the month in 20 years, at 2.4 or 2.4 per cent of the workforce.

The jobs, however, came too late to do much to help voters.

Wilson's Labor party had a 30 per cent lead over Heath's Conservatives in a poll taken by the BBC.

Living Cost Continues To Climb

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of living continued its steady climb last month but at a slightly diminished rate, the government reported today.
Prices for food, housing, clothing, transportation and health care showed the most significant increases in the cost of living index for May issued a day after President Nixon spoke to the nation on the problems of halting inflation.
The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported consumer costs went up 0.4 percent in May compared to 0.6 percent in April. The monthly increases since a year ago have ranged between 0.4 percent and 0.6 percent.
In his economic speech Wednesday, Nixon acknowledged that "the momentum of four years of inflation was stronger than had been anticipated." "The pace of our progress toward price stability and high employment has not been quick enough," the President said.
The Labor Department said consumer prices rose less in May than in April because of smaller increases in the cost of most services and non-food commodities.
The May increase pushed the consumer price index up to 134.8, which meant that goods and services which cost $10 in 1967-68 now cost $134.80 last week. That was 0.2 percent above a year ago.
After seasonal adjustment, officials said, the index rose 0.6 percent last month, same as in April.
Food prices, which usually decline in May, rose instead 0.3 percent despite a decline in prices for meat, poultry and fish. The largest increase in the food category was a 1.6 percent advance for fruits and vegetables.

Anti-Crime Funds' Use Is Studied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most of the federal money channeled to states through the Safe Streets Act has gone to bolster police equipment, training and communications, with topsted portions going to smaller states, a study showed today.
A small portion of the funds went to prison projects and the courts, the study said.
Federal outlays ranged from 7.2 cents per resident in California and New York to 30.8 cents in Vermont and 43.2 cents in Alaska. New York and California received 8.1 cents each per capita in 1970.
The figures came from a study prepared by the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations established by Congress in 1969. It surveyed spending of funds distributed to the states during the first 18 months of the Safe Streets Act, passed by Congress in 1968, and highly-lauded by both the Johnson and Nixon administrations as a major tool to fight street crime.
The act created the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) within the Justice Department to provide the first direct federal aid to fight local crime.
At the time, Republicans insisted that 85 percent of the money be awarded in block grants to the states and there have been complaints since that the high-crime areas of the big cities were not getting the funds they need.
The report said "those states falling below the national average (of expenditures) included most of the so-called urban ones—California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and others which have the highest crime rate."

IT DOESN'T LOOK particularly jammed up here, but Main Avenue at West Five Points has become a rush hour problem since the traffic pattern was changed. The main east-west city arterial streets now are the Second Avenues and Main Avenue has been changed to a two-way shopping street. In conjunction with this change, the time sequences on the West Five Points traffic signals have been changed, lengthening the Addison Avenue sequence and shortening the one for Main Avenue. The majority of city residents still haven't shaken the habit of using Main Avenue as a travel route, however, and at rush hours the traffic sometimes backs up three blocks on Main.

Problems Caused By Traffic Change

Since two-way traffic has returned to Main Avenue in Twin Falls after several years of westbound traffic only, confusion and problems have been troubling Twin Falls motorists. An added change in the West Five-Points signal lights has disturbed local drivers. The Highway Department has reset the light sequence, lengthening the Addison Avenue sequence, and shortening the Main Avenue sequence, according to City Engineer George Michael. The Second Avenues are now primary parts of the state highway system and, therefore, the city feels that traffic should move more swiftly on these streets, Mr. Michael added. Motorists may have found that traffic on Main Avenue was backed up for three blocks at 5 p.m. Tuesday evening. If traffic is not diverted, this problem is sure to increase, Mr. Michael said. Motorists will find themselves sitting through several light changes before being able to cross the West Five Point intersection.

Dr. Salk To Marry Again

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the first polio vaccine, will marry Françoise Gullot, former mistress of Pablo Picasso, in Paris, July 9. A spokesman at the Salk Institute for Biological Studies here said they would divide their time between La Jolla and Paris following their marriage. It will be the second marriage for Salk, whose divorce from his wife of 30 years was final in 1969. Salk is founder and director of the Salk Institute, formed here in 1962. Miss Gullot is the author of the book, "My Life With Picasso."

City Band Concert Is Tonight

Music ranging from the lilting rhythms of a waltz to the stirring strains of martial music will be presented by the Twin Falls Municipal Band at the weekly band concert at 8:15 p.m. today in the city park. The program includes "Nutmeggers' March," by Osterling; "Luftspiel Overture," by Kolor-Bolaj; "American Legion Forever," by Morton Gould; "Belle of the Ball Waltz" by Leroy Anderson, and "Manhattan Beach March" by Soups. After an intermission, the band will present "Shenandoah," a march by E. F. Goldman; "London Symphony," the first movement of the work, by Haydn; "Meadowlands Patrol" by Knipper; selections from "Gigi" by Lerner and Lowe; "Golden Bear," a march by J. J. Richards, and the Star Spangled Banner to close the program. Charles Radcliffe, assistant director, will conduct.

Assistant City Housing Projects To Be Remodeled

Jerome Morse, from Oregon, has been hired as Twin Falls assistant engineer, George Michael, city engineer, announced Thursday. Mr. Morse was born in Washington, D.C., and moved to Portland, Ore. at the age of five. He attended high school at Beaverton, Ore., and Oregon State University at Corvallis, Ore. He worked as a surveyor during summer vacations in his college years. After receiving his degree in civil engineering, Mr. Morse and his wife, Pat, decided to make their home in Twin Falls.

Funds granted to the Twin Falls Housing Authority will allow for remodeling and renovation of 84 units administered in Twin Falls by the authority. Larry Harper, executive director of the local agency, said the Department of Housing and Urban Development will let a bid this August for work at Pioneer Square and Washington Courts.

Construction improvements in the two areas have taken place through the years, he said. Pioneer Square contains 20 one-bedroom and eight two-bedroom units for the elderly. Washington Courts contains 58 two, three and four-bedroom units for low income families. Plans for the "livability" project at the two projects are being drafted by Harold Gerber, architect, and should be ready to begin advertisement somewhere around the first of August, with bidding later that month. The total updating project will be carried out over a two-year period.

City Gravel Contract Filled

Contract to supply 7,835 cubic yards of gravel for the Twin Falls Highway Department and 21,350 cubic yards for the city of Twin Falls has been completed by the Twin Falls Construction Co., City Engineer George Michael said Thursday. The gravel will be used for seal-coating the streets, as oiling material, as asphalt, as base gravel on roads and as patch material. Excess crushed gravel will be used at the airport in paving the cross-wind runway and the taxiways for private hangers, said Mr. Michael.

Candidate Hits Crime Increase

Work will include replacement of kitchen cabinets, plumbing for laundry rooms, doors on bedroom closets and linen cabinets, new windows and new roofs. Mr. Harper said the two housing developments were constructed in 1940 on 60-year bonds. He said since the bonds are only half-way through the retirement period, it is essential the projects be kept up to date and livable. At time of the construction, just three years after congress approved such projects, many essential items were not included in con-

Strange Romance

WASHINGTON — Politics, which fosters the strangest romances, has come up with another pair of seemingly incompatible bedfellows named Richard Nixon and Birch Bayh. A good thing, too. The President has let the Democratic Senator from Indiana know, through Senate Majority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, that he will do everything in his power to cooperate in securing enactment of Bayh's bill to abolish the sickly Electoral College...

1968. Even if he did no better in '72, a close race could throw the election into the House, where each state delegation would have only one vote. And that, as Bayh has noted, would put "the crucial chips in the hands of George Wallace."

In this cozying up to Bayh, Nixon is not endorsing a Senator who might run against him in 1972, but acting in self-defense. George Wallace's victory in Alabama made passage of the bill imperative from the President's point of view. He has always favored the direct election approach, but until now he has not applied much pressure in its behalf. There was always a chance, of course, that Wallace would lose the Democratic primary in his home state...

Surprisingly to some, the poll showed that nationally 82 per cent of those interviewed opposed student strikes. Only 16 per cent expressed support, while 3 per cent gave no opinion. Perhaps of more significance, 73 per cent of those between the ages of 21 and 29 came out against student strikes. This finding seemed to support the contention of another survey of the 1968 election, which reflected massive support for Wallace from among the under-30 group.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Childbirth

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Several years ago I experienced "natural childbirth." I was given no anesthetic, no saddle block, absolutely nothing. It was a rewarding experience. Several women have had babies in the last few months. They talk about what a "great experience" their "natural childbirth" was. Are both ways considered natural childbirth? — B. L. H. her pelvic measurements, estimated size of the baby, position of the baby (whether head first or in breech position), and so on. Not the least of the considerations is the mother's psychological and emotional state. Natural childbirth is not painless, and the woman with a low pain threshold may not tolerate it well. (I know of some women who tried it once but not again.)

True natural childbirth means that no anesthetic or painkilling measures are used. It is the type of childbirth encountered in police cars, taxicabs, and airplanes. You experienced it by choice. But in the other cases, Egbert decides. When Egbert decides to move, he moves!

Anyway, natural childbirth is not something to decide on at the last minute. Discuss it with the doctor long in advance.

For the most part, women who elect natural childbirth are given prenatal training in proper exercise, breathing and muscle control. This training and the exercises make the birth much easier. When anesthetics (paracervical, caudal, saddle block) are given, this is not true natural childbirth. These subdue the pain of labor. The mother, however, is fully aware of what is going on otherwise.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is 27, has always been healthy, rarely caught colds, and had no history of hay fever. In the last two years he catches one cold after another, has developed hay fever in spring and summer so bad that he is miserable with sneezing and eyes that itch day after day. He teaches school and I wonder if there are so many cold germs around that he is always subject to something. Could he take any vitamins to build up his resistance? — Mrs. A. L.

I'm not — in case you wondered — taking up the cudgels for or against natural childbirth. It depends on the mother and her wishes to some extent, but also the judgment of her doctor. Natural childbirth isn't for everyone. You may argue — correctly — that years ago, before anesthetics, natural childbirth was the only kind we had. Well, true. But generations ago women worked in the fields and didn't need the exercises that now are part of the preparation for natural childbirth.

If I were you I'd begin to wonder whether these "colds" are really colds — or allergies. His "hay fever" indicates that he has developed allergic problems. My advice is to consult an allergist.

Besides that, giving birth was a far more hazardous experience to both mother and child than it now is. Today, the obstetrician takes into consideration the type of anesthetic to be used (that is strictly his choice), the number of children the mother has had,

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individuals letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Have you noticed how everybody's taking us more seriously these days?"

Highlights Of President's Speech On Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Highlights of President Nixon's speech on the economy:

Over-All Picture
"The American economy is the strongest in the world. This year, the number of Americans who have jobs is the highest in our history."

Even allowing for taxes and inflation, the average real income of Americans is higher than ever before; in part because of the increase in social security benefits, and the reduction of the tax surcharge, which will end entirely this month.

"Defense spending is on the way down. For the first time in 20 years, the federal government is spending more on human resource programs than on national defense."

Tanker Stuck
HONG KONG (UPI)—The British tanker "British Architect" burst into flames today after lightning struck the vessel 400-miles southeast of Hong Kong, the Marine Department said.

The British tanker "Arditi" reported the "British Architect" was listing badly.

"Our scheduled withdrawal of forces from Cambodia by June 30 will be kept. Our scheduled transition from a wartime economy to a peacetime economy will be kept as well."

"Because we are concerned with both prices and jobs, we have put the brakes on inflation carefully and realistically. This did not mean that inflation could end without some slowdown in the economy. But we were willing to make a trade to sacrifice speed in ending inflation in order to keep the economic slowdown moderate."

It is a little like bringing a boat into a dock. You turn down the power well before you get to the dock and wait until you reached the dock to turn down the power, you'd soon have to build yourself a new dock or a new boat.

"In the same way, we're heading for the dock of price stability. We have to ease up on the power of our restraint and let our momentum carry us safely into port."

Progress
"We must face up to some difficult problems. The momen-

turn of four years of inflation was stronger than had been anticipated. The effect on unemployment is greater than we foresaw. The pace of our progress toward price stability and high employment has not been quick enough.

"This does not mean we now should abandon our strategy. It does mean that we must pay heed to economic developments as we move along and adjust our tactics accordingly."

Controls
"I will not take this nation down the road of wage and price controls, however politically expedient they may seem. Wage and price controls only postpone a day of reckoning, and in so doing they rob every American of an important part of his freedom."

Politics
"The American people will see through any attempt by anyone to play politics with their cost of living. Whenever a member of Congress displays the imagination to introduce a bill that calls for more spending, let him display the courage to introduce a bill raising the taxes to pay for that program."

Polish Weather Pills Cure Barometric Ills

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The best medical news of the decade, if not the century, is the report that Polish scientists have developed a pill to lift the spirits of people who are depressed by the weather.

If it works out okay, this truly will be a giant step toward enabling man to cope with his environment.

According to the account I read, the "weather pills" are now being tested and will go on sale in September if no bad side effects are discovered.

I don't know what possible side effects they have in mind, but it could be that the pills will cause frost to form on your dewlaps, or something of that sort.

The pills are an outgrowth of an astonishing 20-year study of the Cracow School of Medicine, which concluded that weather conditions strongly affect human health and attitudes.

The astonishing part is not the conclusion but the fact that they took 20 years to reach it. Almost any American song writer could have told them that.

I assume the reason the study took so long is because not everybody is depressed by the same kind of weather. Some people, for example, get the blues when it rains while others can be found singing in the rain, but a foggy day in London town gets them down, etc.

Which probably means that a wide variety of pills had to be developed. Presumably, it will be necessary for drug stores to carry wind, fog and rain pills, etc. People who lived in the "dust bowl" during the great drought of the 1930's even found bright, sunny days depressing. Another long dry spell may be in the offing, so let us hope the Polish scientists have a pill to cover that contingency.

I personally am depressed by almost any kind of moderation. Consequently, the type of weather that always makes me melancholy is partly cloudy and mild with chance of afternoon thunder showers.

If the Polish scientists can get all of that into one pill, it will be a remarkable feat of pharmacology.

The answer to the problem may be to adopt the approach taken by the makers of headache remedies and bring out a weather pill with a combination of ingredients, including something to cure smog depression.

Which brings up another question: When you need a prescription, should you consult a physician or a meteorologist? What you'll do, I guess, is see a doctor and he will diagnose your malaise with a barometer.

Burley Chamber To Tell School Story

BURLEY — The Burley Chamber of Commerce will spearhead an information drive to inform the public of the plight of Cassia county's educational system.

Robert Hilliard, chamber director, told the membership luncheon meeting this week that at a special board meeting, directors decided a civic organization is needed to acquaint county residents with the problems of the school district.

He said directors also have discussed three possible plans for the school trustees to follow — de-consolidation, re-zoning of trustee boundaries, or more efficient consolidation. The county now has one school district, but the present school district is not as consolidated as the name implies, Mr. Hilliard noted.

Trustees Monday night voted against re-zoning the trustee districts within the county. Any plan to de-consolidate would require approval by citizens, the school board and state Board of Education, William Parson, chamber director and attorney, reported.

Mr. Hilliard suggested the chamber ask service clubs to provide representatives to a special committee to discuss the school problems.

Jack Keen reported on the city recreation program now under way and John Cline of Cable View noted the final stages of rebuilding the cable in Burley will be completed soon.

Grant Fillmore reported the barbecue planned at the City of Rocks last week had to be moved to Rainbow hall, Oakley, because of the rain.

T. F. Woman To Speak In Blaine

SUN VALLEY — Mrs. Sterling Vaughn, Twin Falls, will be guest speaker during a special membership luncheon sponsored by the Sun Valley Hospital auxiliary June 24.

The event will get underway at the Sun Valley Lodge dining room at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday, according to co-chairmen Mrs. Winton Gray and Mrs. Clarice Blechman. Mrs. Joseph Deming is assisting with arrangements.

Mrs. Vaughn has been speaking in the intermountain area for the past 10 years, and in 1965 was selected winner of an international speech award sponsored by the Toastmasters International. Topic of her humorous speech has not been announced.

The public is invited to the luncheon, and reservations may be made by calling Franlie Clifford who has volunteered her services. Her number is 728-5211.

Patriotic Tea Held

Patriotism is an intelligent devotion to the interests of the United States above every other consideration, Maj. Charles W. Bradley, Mountain Home Air Force Base, told guests at the Patriotic Organization Women's Flag Day tea at the DAV hall in Twin Falls.

"We Americans cannot wait for our shores to be invaded to be patriotic," he stated. The major, who has completed 120 missions over Vietnam, discussed honor, courage, fear, loyalty, and discipline.

Class Has Reunion At Richfield

RICHFIELD — Edward Reese, Boise, was master of ceremonies when the Richfield high school class of 1960 held its reunion at the Legion Hall.

Margaret Sturton Swenson, Mountain Home, former class president, presented prizes to Faye Spencer-Rasmussen, Oakley; Alden Monroe, Ogden; Helene Mischler Welles, Tolson, Ariz.; Tracy Hansen, Twin Falls; Reese, and Duane Sturton, Richfield.

Christine Cardin, Boise, brought mementoes of the class to display. Other class members present were Leo Faddis, Richland, Wash.; Donna Striegel-Pence, Boise; Mary Moates Parkes, Twin Falls; and Patricia Johnson Cope Jerome.

Plans were made to hold the next reunion in five years with the classes of 1950 and 1961. Only two of the graduating class members were not present for this year's reunion.

Is Suspended

BOISE (UPI) — The Liquor Law Enforcement Division said Tuesday it had ordered a 25-day suspension of the state liquor license issued to Dick Thompson for Dick's Silver Dollar bar in Bliss.

Richard L. Cade, Boise, division director, said the license had been suspended from June 7 through July 1 for the alleged sale of liquor to a minor.

Livestock Dealer Is Suspended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Tuesday it had suspended Ferrell Wayne Bell, Jerome, as a registered livestock dealer for violation of bonding regulations of the Packers and Stockyards Act.

The suspension order was issued in default when Bell, who buys livestock in southern and eastern Idaho, northern Utah and northern Nevada, did not answer the administrative complaint issued by the USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration.

USDA judicial officer Thomas J. Flavin suspended Bell's registration until he provides adequate bond. Bell may not operate as a livestock dealer during that time.

President's Decision On Controls Applauded

NEW YORK (UPI)—Banking, business, industry and Wall Street leaders Wednesday applauded President Nixon's economic message, particularly his decision against formal price and wage controls, guidelines and "lawboning" tactics.

Most of the initial criticism came from political sources and labor leaders who felt the call for restraint was directed mainly at upcoming wage bargaining and had come too late for prices and interest rates.

David Rockefeller, chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank, said he particularly applauded Nixon's "firm resistance to more drastic measures as wage and price controls."

John P. Gillis, senior vice president of Monsanto Co., said the company "applauds the President for shunning wage and price controls which the chemical industry never found effective."

Bethlehem Steel Corp. chairman Edmund F. March sent a telegram to Nixon which backed the President's emphasis on "productivity as the key to economic growth with stable prices," he said the administration could count on the company's continued cooperation.

Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the RCA Corp., said he was "pleased by the President's decision not to seek mandatory wage and price controls."

William C. Freund, vice president and chief economist for the New York Stock Exchange, said Nixon was on the right track because he is concentrating on long-run solutions instead of the short run.

Freund said an incomes policy of "lawboning" would have been inadequate or, at best, stop-gap measures.

A dissenting view was offered by economist John Kenneth Galbraith.

"If oratory or requests for union and labor restraint would end inflation, then we would have had static prices for the past 50 years," he said.

More dissent came from the International Union of Electrical Radio and Machine Workers, which called the President's speech "weighted against the American worker."

Paul Jennings, president, said the program "includes nothing that goes to the heart of our current problem—nothing to bring down interest rates, nothing to correct the imbalance between high prices and inadequate wages, and nothing to put a brake on excess profits."

Manson Trial Gets Surprise

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution separated its star witness from other defendants in the Tate-LaBlanca murder trial Wednesday as Charles Manson and three of his female followers sought in vain to catch her eye.

In a surprise move, 26-year-old Linda Kasabian was brought into the courtroom to have her own trial set back to Aug. 17, by which time she presumably will have given an eyewitness account of what she knows about seven killings charged to the "Manson Family."

Over the heated objections of defense counsel and with Manson and the three young women co-defendants waving and trying to attract Mrs. Kasabian's attention Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older agreed to a postponement of her case.

According to testimony before a grand jury, Mrs. Kasabian stood as a lookout during bloody forages at the homes of actress Sharon Tate and grocery store chain owner Leno LaBlanca.

Mrs. Kasabian has been shielded from exposure to Manson and his codefendants since she reportedly told the district attorney's office her stories of the slayings. She is expected to be granted immunity after she appears on the witness stand.

Dressed in a white and yellow jumper, her hair in pigtails, Mrs. Kasabian was unexpectedly brought into the courtroom at the outset of selection of the jury Wednesday afternoon.

Defendant Susan Atkins tried repeatedly to wave at her and to catch her attention. The other girls signaled and Manson stared at her from a seat at the counsel table, but Mrs. Kasabian with a fixed smile ignored them.

Defense lawyer Irving Kanarek protested to the judge that Manson and his codefendants did not know whether Mrs. Kasabian was "fish or fowl"—a prosecution witness or a defendant.

Older ruled that Mrs. Kasabian's trial be delayed until August and she was ushered from the courtroom.

As she left, Manson turned to the three young women and said: "She's high." He referred to Kanarek's charge that Mrs. Kasabian was an LSD addict.

Older earlier had warned Kanarek to quit interrupting or he would have him silenced.

Prospective jurors had been asked in open court whether they had unalterable objections to the death penalty no matter what the evidence.

Warplanes Hit Egypt Sections

By United Press International
Forty eight Israeli warplanes struck Egyptian defenses along the Suez Canal Wednesday killing 15 Egyptian soldiers and wounding seven, an Egyptian spokesman said. It was the highest one-day casualty toll announced by Cairo in three months.

Wednesday's action marked the 11th straight day of fighting along the waterway.

The Egyptian spokesman said Arab gunners hit one of the American-built Phantom or Skyhawk jet fighter-bombers when they attacked Egyptian positions on the canal's southern sector. He did not indicate, however, whether the plane was shot down or just damaged.

"As a result of all these operations, 15 soldiers were killed and seven others injured," the Cairo spokesman said. He also said that artillery duels raged in the canal's southern and central sections where the fighting assumed a fierce form.

In Syria, a military spokesman also claimed that one Israeli plane had been hit during a commando raid into the country during the night.

Overhaul Of Law Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A 12-member legal commission established by Congress made public Wednesday its preliminary suggestions for a complete overhaul of federal criminal law, including changes in sentencing and parole procedures.

Former California Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, head of the National Commission on Reform of Federal Criminal Laws, told a news conference: "The time has come to create, for the first time in our history, a systematic, consistent, comprehensive federal criminal code to replace the hodgepodge that now exists."

Copies of the so-called study draft now will be distributed for comment to members of Congress, federal and state officials, criminologists and other interested parties. The finished product is to go to the President and Congress by Nov. 8.

The draft does not deal with criminal procedures, on which many recent Supreme Court decisions have focused, and is restricted to definition of crimes, the defenses that may be raised and the penalties that may be imposed for conviction. But commission members said it is designed to serve prosecutors and defense attorneys alike because of its precision and broad scope.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Author George Plimpton "Paper Lion" will play a gunslinger in "Rio Lobo" with John Wayne and portray himself in a television documentary, "George Plimpton at the Movies."

Hoods

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI)—West German Ambassador Ehrenfried Von Holleben said Wednesday night he was abducted by persons wearing Ku Klux Klan-type hoods, chloroformed and stuffed into a wooden box while being driven to the kidnapers' hideaway.

Speaking at a news conference at his residence, the 61-year-old career diplomat said "I never saw my kidnapers because they were always masked."

"They looked like the masks of the Ku Klux Klan so you could not see anything," he said. At least a half-dozen

Snipers, Looters In Miami Disturbances

MIAMI (UPI)—Snipers, looters and firebombers stalked the city's northwest section Wednesday night in Miami's third straight night of racial violence.

City officials clamped a curfew on nearly half of the city Wednesday but police were unable to stop the sporadically scattered incidents.

A sniper who had pinned down two patrolmen was shot and taken to Jacksonville Memorial Hospital. His condition was unknown.

A woman was shot in the arm as she watched a fire at a convenience store. It was not known who fired the shot.

Heavily-traveled U.S. 1 about six miles south of the main trouble area was closed because of youths throwing missiles at passing motorists.

"Curfew areas are not completely evacuated," said a police spokesman. "There still are a few people milling around and a few small gangs here and there."

"There's been a few incidents of sniper fire here and there," he said. At least a half-dozen police units were pinned down by snipers during the night.

Firemen at two locations were pelted with rocks and bottles and police were called to disperse the crowds.

"We don't know how many arrests have been made," the spokesman said.

Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actor Robert Crane, star of the "Hogan's Heroes" television series, was divorced Wednesday by his wife of 21 years, Anne Crane.

A settlement gave Mrs. Crane, 39, the family home in suburban Tarzana, and provided that Crane, 41, must pay her $1,700 a month alimony for 12 months.

Crane also agreed to pay $600 a month support for three children.

Warrants Issued In Killing

LEWISTON Idaho (UPI)—Arrest warrants were issued Wednesday for two men suspected of slaying a Lewiston police officer early Monday.

The suspects in the shooting death of Ralph Russell, 31, were identified as Charles E. Cox, 26, and Jessie L. Jones, 22, both of whom are wanted for armed robbery in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Police said the two also are wanted for questioning in connection with an armed robbery and slaying in Portland, Ore., last month.

Photographs of the suspects were received from Tennessee through the Federal Bureau of Investigation and distributed to law enforcement agencies and news services.

Meanwhile, funeral services were held for Russell in Pullman, Wash., Wednesday afternoon.

Russell, a seven-year veteran of the Lewiston police force, was the first Lewiston Police officer killed in the line of duty in 46 years.

Officials said he was gunned down while he questioned two men in a downtown alley.

Forrest Williams, Lewiston, who apparently was with the suspects when the slaying occurred, was held in Nez Perce County Jail as a witness.

Police said positive identification of the suspects was made when officers showed photos to a Lewiston hotel clerk who said the two had stayed there for several days prior to the slaying.

TIME-ZONE CLOCK

NEW YORK (UPI)—The world's first 24-zone clock, programmed like a computer, features a miniature keyboard to control time-of-day readouts by an electronic display that reports time to the second for any of the 24 time zones around the world.

The clock in effect serves as a worldwide time reference system, says its developer, the Bulova Watch Co. The shift from one time-zone readout to another time-zone readout takes place instantly (indicating a.m. or p.m.), the moment the appropriate time-zone key is depressed. The clock has no moving parts, except for 24 keys on a miniature keyboard and a three-button setting system.

Trio Shares Music With Friends

BY MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent
"Enjoy an evening of music with friends," the invitation read. And that's just what it turned out to be — a delightful evening of classical music presented by the Bellini Trio, followed by a social hour with time for good "music talk" to be exchanged among fellow music lovers.

The trio, composed of Mrs. Teala Bellini, pianist; Mrs. Henry Colner, cellist; and Mrs. Del Slaughter, violinist, meets every Thursday for practices, and each year hosts a musicale for friends and music students. The gracious custom began a number of years ago when some 40 friends were invited to attend an informal music hour in the large house on Second Avenue West where the Bellinis formerly lived. So well received was the first performance that the trio decided to make it an annual event. When the attendance at the programs became too large for a house to accommodate, the locale was moved to the Maurice Street LDS Chapel.

This year, the first notes of the trio fell upon a church completely filled with people eagerly anticipating the performance. The trio's repertoire included familiar works of Haydn and Schumann. Mrs. Slaughter dedicated one of the numbers to "The three most faithful members of our audience who have never missed a performance — our wonderful husbands."

Mrs. Bellini, at the Baldwin grand, presented several Chopin Etudes as solos. The delicate strains of "The Swan" were followed by a spirited Tarentula by Liszt, completion of which brought the audience to its feet in a spontaneous ovation of tribute. As an encore, she presented the beloved "Music Box," favorite of piano students everywhere.

Piano teachers in the area assisted with the social hour held at the recital's close.

PINOCHLE PLAYED
WENDELL — Mrs. Mary Gill hosted a potluck dinner and pinochle party at her home recently. High prize went to Mrs. Perry Ray Smith; low to Mrs. Crow and Jim Kendrick,

EACH YEAR FAVORED music lovers in the area are invited to a musicale presented by the Bellini Trio, Mrs. Henry Colner, cellist; Mrs. Teala Bellini, center, piano, and Mrs. Del Slaughter, violinist. A capacity crowd filled the Maurice Street LDS Chapel this year, where Mrs. Bellini received a spontaneous standing ovation at the performance's close.

Women Are Born Liars According To Psychologist

NEW YORK (UPI)—Women are born liars. A clinical psychologist says so.

The good doctor, who happens to be a man, says that telling falsehoods is a universal trait but women tell more lies than men.

"Women have fewer ways to assert their femininity than men do their masculinity, so they revert to lying," says Dr. Robert L. Wolk, co-author of a new book, "The Right to Lie." "It's more socially acceptable for women to lie; at times it's even polite."

Wolk said in an interview that women are prone to falsify to one another, but at the same time less likely to believe one another. They tend to lie to their peers more because that's where the competition lies, he said.

"They know they're playing the same game, but it keeps the relationship honest," Wolk maintains a private practice in New York and is a consulting psychologist to New York City courts. His book, written with Arthur Honley, is subtitled "A Psychological Guide to the Uses of Deceit in Everyday Life."

The importance that women place on physical beauty, he said, often makes them blind to the lies they use to fool themselves and other women.

There's the weight lie for example: "A housewife, who has been on a crash diet for a week, has lost eight pounds. She says to her neighbor, 'I've lost 12 pounds. Does it show?' The neighbor replies 'Is that all? You must have lost at least 16.'"

"It's what she wants to hear, and she really believes it."

He said that the so-called liberated woman, who regards herself more or less equal to men, is not as active a liar as the woman who depends on men for her economic and social existence.

However, the feminist still has an old set of values that at times conflict with her new ones, Wolk said. "To deal with the conflict she lies to herself and others. She may really want a man to open the door or pay for a meal, but instead she says, without much conviction, 'We're equal and must pay our own way.'"

Wolk emphasized that lies discussed in his book should not be confused with criminal lies, or the untruths told by the pathological liar who compulsively builds one falsehood on another.

CLUB CONVENES

MILNER — Mrs. Lorean Sears was in charge of the entertainment when the Friendship Circle Club met recently at the home of Mrs. James Sargent. Mrs. William McCoy and Mrs. Richard George won high prizes for the games played.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Uses Ice Cube Tray To Hold Her Earrings

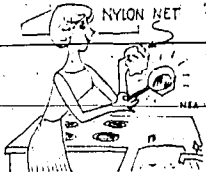

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—As pierced ears have been the "in" thing for the past several years, my earrings filled three "trays" on my dressing table. They were cluttered-looking and getting dusty, so I bought a miniature ice-cube-tray. This fits nicely in a drawer and has cubicles for 90 pairs of earrings. An old pair of tweezers is kept nearby for getting them out of their neat compartments. Now my earrings are clean, easy to see and out of the way. —SILVIAN

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Panty hose in the size that fits me in the feet, legs and thighs are about 1 1/2 to two inches too tight through the waist. I have tried snipping the elastic at intervals but this does not work. I would really appreciate knowing what I could do to make them more comfortable. —I. P.

DEAR POLLY—I always have a cup of warm milk before going to bed and the milk always sticks to the little pan in which I heat it. A quick scrub with a piece of that old reliable nylon net cleans it up in a jiffy. This net also works well for cleaning a pan in which cream sauce is cooked. —MRS. D. K.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who, when reading, finds something he thinks is interesting or amusing, and so he starts reading it out loud? It doesn't matter if I am reading something else, or writing a letter. I haven't been able to break him of this habit.

Right now he is reading away out loud while I am writing this letter. Any suggestions? AGGRAVATED

DEAR AGGRAVATED: Name some of his other "bad habits" and I'll tell you whether this one is worth the "aggravation." Personally, he sounds like a dear sweet man who wants to share his pleasure with you. (P. S. I've been doing this to my husband for nearly 31 years, and he hasn't belted me yet!)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is thinking about buying a "hot" color television set and also a "hot" movie projector. The man who wants to sell them to him got them from someone who steals to support his drug habit.

I told my husband I thought it would be wrong for us to buy these items even though we can get them way below cost, but my husband says if we don't buy them someone else will. Abby, I don't want any part of a deal like this, but how can I convince my husband that it's wrong?

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLS.

DEAR NO: He KNOWS it's wrong. Just tell him that anyone who knowingly buys "hot" merchandise stands to share in the guilt of the theft—if caught.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office which deals with the public. Several girls have been told to dress "properly" or look for another job. The union contends, however, that "anything that is acceptable to wear in the street is acceptable in the office." Boy, does this cover a lot of territory. In other words, if you won't get arrested on the street for your apparel, you're okay for the office.

Some of our girls show up in anything from faded, cut off dungarees to skintight bell bottom pants to sheer peek-a-boo blouses with no bras, to mini mini skirts plus hip high boots that look like they're going to work in the sewer. Add that to the wigs, false eye lashes, love beads and a ring on each finger.

Dee-liver me! Oh, yes, I am a woman. NOT MOD

DEAR NOT: Dee-liver both of us. I'm with you, lady.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor across the way keeps standing in his window stark naked! I do not catch accidental glimpses of him in this state. He actually parades around that way hoping to be noticed. I have reported him to the police, and they have even SEEN it themselves, but they say he is in his own home and there is nothing they can do about it. I think he needs some medical attention. He has a wife and children, but he does this while they are not there.

Do you think I should tell his wife? Or should I speak to him myself? I don't know the wife very well, but I will speak to her if you think it might do some good.

NEW TO CANADA

DEAR NEW: The man appears to need medical attention. Give his wife the bare facts!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69766, Los Angeles, Cal. 90066. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

SIX DIVERS WERE lifted from the Undersea Laboratory Aegir last Sunday, two weeks after they entered the vessel to conduct tests on the ocean floor. Election Results Put Damper On German Overtures To Communists

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
As West German Chancellor Willy Brandt toured Lower Saxony in the windup phase of a state election campaign he drew his loudest cheers at mention of his efforts to improve relations with the Communist East.
And it was in this atmosphere of euphoria that on June 8 Brandt and his foreign minister, Walter Scheel, welcomed to Bonn the Polish representative with whom they were to complete exploratory talks leading to a new era in West German-Polish relations.
The "go slow" sign erected not only by the voters of Lower Saxony but also those of North Rhine-Westphalia and Saarland less than a week later came therefore as an unpleasant surprise.
And to Brandt's coalition partners, the Free Democrats, it came as an especially unpleasant surprise because for them it could be the beginning of the end of their party.
The Free Democrats failed to win the required five per cent of the total vote in Lower Saxony and the Saarland and were eliminated from the parliaments of those two states. They just squeaked by in North Rhine-Westphalia with 5.5 per cent of the vote.

Profiting by the government's misfortune were the rival Christian Democrats who achieved gains of up to five per cent.
The results called into question both the future course of Brandt's negotiations with the Poles and the Soviet Union and of his own Socialist-Free Democratic coalition which has an operating margin of only 12 votes in the Bundestag, the German government's lower house.
The Moscow and Warsaw talks have progressed even faster than Brandt could have hoped.

The new employees are Byron Weiss, Dietrich; Kent Waddoups, and Clark Waddoups, both Moore; Tom Anderson, Arco, and Jack Conner, Arco.

Jean Jensen, Arco, is serving as information-receptionist for the Craters of the Moon Natural History Association. Clerk-typist Beverly Farmer, Arco, and student assistant (interpretation) Marilyn Tibbitts of Moore, complete the administrative office ranks.
Craters of the Moon National Monument hires about 15 seasonal employees each year to take care of the influx of tourists and visitors to this popular geological area.
At present there is no entrance fee or charge for camping at Craters' 50-unit campground. The visitor center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nature walks are conducted at 9 a.m. and campfire talks at 9:30 p.m. every day of the week.

Rightwinger Spices Campaign In Britain

LONDON (UPI)—The man who breathed fire into an otherwise lethargic British election campaign and who grabbed the biggest headlines was neither Prime Minister Harold Wilson nor his principal rival, Conservative leader Edward Heath.

It was Enoch Powell, 56, a dour, grim, former Conservative cabinet minister whose name has become irrevocably linked with the explosive issues of race and non-white immigration.

which party leaders had hoped to keep out of the election altogether, Powell not only brought them out into the open but also appeared to have staked a claim for leadership of the Conservative party if it suffers a third consecutive defeat in the elections Thursday.

Until two years ago, Powell was hardly known to most Britons. Coming from a working class background, he had a brilliant career as a Greek scholar at Cambridge University, rose from private to lieutenant colonel in World War II and served as junior minister and then minister of housing in successive conservative governments. But in a speech at Birmingham two years ago, predicting Britain will be drowned in "rivers of blood" if the tide of non-white commonwealth immigration continues, Powell erupted suddenly as one of Britain's most controversial political figures.

In other speeches, he attacked plans to take Britain into the European Common Market, rapped campus militants and teachers who support them, took strong stands on law and order and opposed economy cutbacks in Britain's defenses.

Research Center Has World Tone With African Students

KIMBERLY—Activities at the Snake River Conservation Research Center are taking on an international tone this summer. Many representatives of other countries have visited the Center, but this is the first time that any have been stationed here.

Three young men, Messrs. Tom Okello, Andreas Sukati, and Raphael Seldu will be working with center personnel during the summer. Their objective is to become familiar with agronomic and engineering research techniques on irrigated lands.

The three are here as part of the training and development program of the African-American Institute.

The practical experience gained during their summer work in Magic Valley will help to round out their college training. All three have just completed their freshman year and will return to college this fall.

Tom Okello is from Uganda and spent his freshman year at State University of New York in Cobleskill. He is interested in Soil Science and is presently working under Dr. D. T. Westermann of the center.

Andreas Sukati is training as an agricultural engineer. He has completed one year of study at Washington State University, Pullman. Andreas is from Swaziland and wants to learn more about soil and water conservation and irrigation methods. He will be working with Jim Bondurant, a center engineer.

Returning to Magic Valley for a second summer is Raphael Seldu of Ghana. Raphael stayed with the Alvin Smutny family, southeast of Twin Falls last summer. He then entered the University of California, Davis, where he has been in agricultural engineering. This summer he will be gaining experience in irrigation and drainage research under the direction of Research Center engineers Claude Pair and Bob Worstell.

Spraying Program Is Tabled

RUPERT—The proposed plan of the City of Rupert to have aerial spraying has been tabled by members of the City Council.

Councilmen had requested a poll from the people, which resulted in 147 voting no and 27 yes. The plan had been introduced by Councilman Bill Whitton, who reported this to be successfully used in other cities throughout the state.

Persons misled by a census taker are asked to contact the city office and fill out a form to help officials determine the exact population of the city.

Councilmen agreed to check into improving H Street, which passes the new East Junior High. They were met with Oliver Hanzel, civic relations director for the chamber; and Ed Harman and Ruben Kraus, of the Minidoka Highway District. It was noted that the street was in need of widening, resurfacing and also widening of a canal bridge in that area.

Washington Window

By EUGENE V. RISHER
WASHINGTON (UPI) —
Backstairs at the White House: The recent changes in the Cabinet, the first since President Nixon took office, have brought two liberal voices into the White House. How loudly they will speak remains to be seen.

Coming on the heels of his most serious domestic crisis, the shuffle apparently stems, at least in part, from the President's conviction that he needs a broader representation of the political spectrum among his top advisers.

Both Robert H. Finch, leaving the Health, Education and Welfare Department to become counselor to the President, and George P. Shultz, leaving the Labor Department to head the newly created Office of Management and Budget, are widely considered to be more in tune with the disaffected segments of society—students, blacks and the poor—than any other Cabinet members.

Finch, whose association with Nixon goes back over more than 20 years, had not fared well at HEW and his leaving did not come as a surprise.

Disension among lower level HEW officials who felt Finch had not sufficiently used his influence to press for domestic priorities flared embarrassingly into the open recently.

As counselor to the President, Finch will have no staff working for him and his influence will be measured by how well he can get the President's ear and press his views. His areas of concern will be education, youth and politics.

Shultz, on the other hand, has emerged in the past 17 months as one of the more influential men in the Cabinet. A soft-spoken, tough-minded economist, he played a key role in putting together the family assistance plan that the President looks on as the landmark proposal in his domestic legislative program. As head of the Office of Management and Budget, a sort of super budget bureau, Shultz will have extraordinary powers to help shape federal programs and establish the administration's priorities and also will be charged with continually evaluating the efficiency of the various federal departments.

The changes appear to indicate two things: That the President is hoping to get better control of the vast federal apparatus through his domestic reorganization; and that he is attempting to answer his liberal critics who claim that his generally conservative White House staff have isolated him from the more liberal segments of his own party.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S APRIL 30 announcement that American troops had crossed the Vietnam border has concerned college students to Washington last month to discuss the situation with their senators, congressmen and other high government officials. A number of Massons attending eastern universities met with Congressman Orval Hansen in his Capitol Hill office. Pictured here with the Congressman are Carolyn and Monte Sellers (left) of Dietrich, who attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology, along with four Columbia University students from Boise.

Hansen said he was impressed by the attitude of the students in that they were courteous, respectful, genuinely concerned and willing to carry on a dialogue and listen to his ideas in addition to giving him their views.

Auto Tag Ends In 6? Deadline Near

June 30 marks the deadline for renewal of license plates ending in six — the first renewal of plates under the state's new staggered licensing system. Deputy Assessor Creath Wilkinson said several hundred plates have been renewed, but urged county residents to renew before the last week in June. She said prior to the Memorial Day holiday, her office was extremely busy because of last minute boat, trailer and motorcycle license sticker purchasers, and the same situation could arise later this month because of the July Fourth holiday.

The county has sold about 36,000 passenger vehicle plates. These are 1968 plates which will be used until 1972. On this basis, there probably is in excess of 3,000 plates ending in six to be renewed.

Vehicle owners whose license plates end in seven, eight, nine and zero, also can purchase new 12-month stickers now. These plates expire the end of July, August, September and October, respectively.

By LEE MUELLER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Throughout most of the country, every day is looking like the Fourth of July. Plastered on windshields of taxis and buses and private automobiles; painted on sidewalks and draped over board fences around construction sites; hanging from broomstick flagpoles in lawns and on front porches, Betty Ross' famous patchwork is selling like air conditioners in Texas.

Flies the Flag

science major at Columbia.

Berkley-Small, Inc., a newspaper circulation supply company, reports more than 40,000 large, cloth American flags sold in one month; The New York Daily News sold more than three million sticker flags last year; consumers can buy T-shirts and scarfs and, in some places, underwear with the flag printed on them.

Old Glory would seem to have found some new glory of this kind.

"I fell through a hole in the flag . . . I'm falling through a hole in the flag . . . I'm falling through a hole in the flag . . . From the Broadway musical, 'Hair.'"

The national flag of the United States has 13 horizontal stripes, seven red and six white, with a red stripe in the top and bottom. It contains 50 five-pointed white stars in a canton of blue in the upper left quarter which extends down to the fourth red stripe.

This is the American flag. In the opinion of millions of citizens, there is no hole in it. The hole, they say, is only in the heads of the people who see it.

The earliest flags were used primarily for identification in battle—serving as one source puts it, "to enable soldiers to tell friends from foes." There is serious conjecture concerning this same aspect of the flag today.

The guessing, of course, is being done by persons who are not displaying flags. Some, in fact, suggest that flag decals on taxis and buses indicate membership in a secret organization sworn to protect the American buffalo. Other opinions are of a more serious nature.

"A lot of people are flying flags as a reaction to protest against the Vietnam war," said Thomas W. Preger, a 21-year-old political science major at Columbia. "Flying the flag no longer indicates a love for the American ideal. It's a political act now, a sign of support for Nixon and Agnew and a reaction against student militants, blacks and liberalism in general."

"The flag gives these people something to rally around while all this uproar is going on around them. It now means much the same thing to them as the peace sign does to the antiwar demonstrators and the clenched fist does to the Black Panthers."

Preger is, however, only a student and a liberal to boot. He is not qualified to speak for flag flies. If you want to know exactly what the flags mean to people who paste them on their windshields, go to the source.

New York cab drivers are always a great source for newsmen, mainly because they generally are opinionated, talkative and available.

"What does that flag on your windshield mean?" someone asked. "Rally 'T, Zimmerman," a bald fellow of about 50. Mr. Zimmerman, wearing an open-collared green shirt, glanced back over his shoulder at his passenger.

"What do you think it means?" he asked.

"I asked you," said the passenger.

"It means that I like the flag," he said. "Nice colors. Red. White. Blue. Pretty, eh? It means I'm not ashamed of it or I wouldn't have it up there, now would it?"

"Then it isn't some kind of symbol for counter-protest?" the passenger asked.

Mr. Zimmerman smiled slyly. "Look," he said, eyeing the passenger through his rear-view mirror. "It means I'm an American and proud of it. What does it mean to you? Tell me that."

The passenger paused. "Visions of Francis Scott Key and Nathan Hale and Sergeant York and his mother danced through his head. Emotion swelled. He sat on the edge of his seat. Then he breathed deeply and relaxed.

"I can't tell you that," he said, "but it's got something to do with the American buffalo."

How Do You Eat Kentucky Fried Chicken With Chopsticks

TOKYO (UPI) — The people who made the Mitsubishi Zero fighter plane in World War II are bringing Kentucky fried chicken to Japan.

The unlikely combination was announced recently by Kentucky fried chicken corporation, the American Food Chain, and Mitsubishi Shoji Kaisha, one of the world's largest trading firms.

Mitsubishi, handling a line of goods from lead pencils to dynamo and super tankers, and the Louisville, Ky., firm signed a contract under which as many as 400 Kentucky fried chicken shops will be built in the land of sushi and sake (raw fish and white rice wine).

Mitsubishi Shoji Kaisha (Shoji Kaisha means trading firm) is a branch of the huge Mitsubishi Zaiatsu house which manufactured the Zero, one of the fastest, lightest and most maneuverable fighter planes to tangle with the Americans over the Pacific Islands in World War II.

Mitsubishi is moving into the Kentucky fried chicken business in Japan as a result of Japan's gradual removal of restrictions against foreign investments in Nippon.

The restaurant business is one of the latest to be opened to foreign money — by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's Conservative Government.

"While most of the leading restaurant chains have applied for approval since the restaurant industry was liberalized by the Japanese government, Kentucky fried chicken is the first American company actually to gain approval," Roy S. Weston, managing director of the WEAK IN MIND ONLY DORDRECHT, Netherlands (UPI) — Mentally deficient persons live longer than normal people because of regular living and eating habits and better medical care, according to a survey by the Dutch Association for Treatment of Handicapped Persons.

Japanese operation, said.

The senior vice president of Mitsubishi Trading Company, Mototaka Nakamura, has been selected as president of Kentucky Fried Chicken Japan.

The new firm plans to open 100 to 200 company owned fried chicken shops throughout Japan under the company's trademark of the Kentucky Colonel.

If these shops are successful, an equal number of franchised outlets will be established, the company said.

Food capital is flowing both ways across the Pacific. One of Japan's largest Chinese restaurant chains announced a few weeks ago that it will build a million-dollar Chinese restaurant in Dayton, Ohio, as the base for further expansion in the United States.

But the U.S. automobile industry, which considers Japan as one of its biggest market potentials outside the United States, still is negotiating for a chance to buy into Japan's booming car market.

Although Japanese like their fish raw and their rice boiled, they are turning more and more to European and American foods. Corn flakes and a score of other breakfast foods are manufactured in Japan along with hot chocolate, apple pie, hot dogs, hamburgers and milk shakes.

Kentucky fried chicken operates a booth at Japan's Expo '70 in Osaka and claims daily sales equivalent to $3,000. The Expo shop is only one-third as large as a chicken shop in the United States, the Kentucky boys say.

Overtricks Come At No-Extra-Risk

one overtrick; but South was not going anywhere in a hurry and thought he might as well score two overtricks instead of one.

He started operation overtrick by ruffing a club in his own hand. Then he threw West in with the king of trumps and waited developments.

They weren't long in coming. West could see that a club lead would allow South to set up two of dummy's clubs for diamond discards and since West's count of the hand marked South with exactly three diamonds, two diamond discards would be all he needed.

Therefore West led a low diamond in the hope that East would hold the queen. South let it ride to his queen and claimed the rest of the tricks.

EXTRA TRICKS don't mean much in rubber bridge. Nevertheless a couple of hundred extra tricks taken during the course of a year amount to several thousand points and if you can get an extra trick without any risk why not go after it. Of course, in duplicate bridge these extra tricks are just as necessary as bread and butter.

South might well have made some effort to reach a slam with his two aces and seven-card spade suit but South was in a lazy frame of mind and decided to just bid game.

West opened the nine of hearts. South won with the ace, played his ace of trumps and then cashed dummy's king and queen of hearts in order to get rid of his losing club.

At this point South might well have conceded a trump and a diamond and scored MOTHERS - If a man's mother were strong, healthy and intelligent, chances are he can lay claim to those traits, too. Regardless of his father's characteristics. So believed Col. E. R. Bradley, a breeder of thoroughbred horses. He said he arrived at the foregoing conclusion after witnessing hundreds of horses override the faults of their sires to inherit the qualities of their mother mares.

HERE ARE TWO good reasons why you ought to paint your car yellow: 1. You can see it better than any other color from a distance. 2. It's the most corrosive-resistant paint of all... IF ADMIRAL LORD NELSON wasn't the most famous combat sailor of all time, why was? Odd thing about him, though. He got seasick. Every trip out. Never got over it.

LOVE AND WAR - Mid-Manhattan and Hollywood still are where you're most apt to see young girls in miniskirts on the arms of middle-aged men with muttonchop sideburns. What in the world do they have to talk about together? Our Love and War man says, "It's always the same. The little girls talk about despicable employers who make passes at them. The old men talk about their famous acquaintances." Dirty old underwear! Can they be that predictable?

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "Who invented the electric razor?" A. Jacob Schick. He was out prospecting for gold. It was 40 degrees below zero. There's got to be a better way to shave in weather like this, he thought. So he invented one... Q. "What's the difference between a snowstorm and a blizzard?" A. It's not a blizzard unless the temperature falls below 20 degrees F. and the wind picks up to 35 miles an hour.

DOUBLES - Nobody else in the world looks like Richard M. Nixon, evidently. At least no photo of some President Nixon double has turned up in the papers yet. Every other U. S. President in history has brought out of the population at least one man who claimed to look enough like the President to be his twin. That chief of state with the most doubles of all was Abe Lincoln. With the next most, Harry Truman.

CONSIDER THIS - Don't mean to depress you, but it's a statistical fact that odds you'll have a heart attack before you're 65 are just about 50-50. If such be the sad case, chances run four-out-of-five you'll survive it.

RAPID-REPLY - Yes, Miss T., that actor-fellow you recognize as Walter Matthau started out as Walter Matuschankasyasoy.

Hazeltine Course Stymies Golfers, Prognosticators

CHASKA, Minn. (UPI)—The most difficult of all courses, with no logical favorite, no accepted pattern to beat the course, and no real score to shoot at, gets under way Thursday over Hazeltine golf club's rugged 7,151 yard layout.

Everybody was concerned about the weather, and there was a strong possibility that the first round might be played on a soggy course.

Recent heavy rains left casual water on numerous fairways and made the greens soft and holding for practice rounds on Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday a steady wind dried out the course exceptionally well.

But the weather forecast included the possibility of showers and thunderstorms late Wednesday night, and if they happened to hit the area of the course, the contestants could be faced with the problem of hitting muddy golf balls from the fairway on many of the holes. Should it come up dry, there was uncertainty how well the greens would hold.

There was no unanimity among the contestants on what score would be needed over the 72 hole test ending Sunday in order to win the $30,000 top prize in the $200,000 event.

Billy Casper, the Masters' champion who has missed the last three tournaments due to a hand injury, predicted that 284, four under par, could do it. Jack Nicklaus anticipated something in that neighborhood would be good enough to win too.

But Chi Chi Rodriguez thought "10 or 12 under"—276 or 278—might do it, and there was some sentiment that four rounds of par, or 288, would win.

Compounding the problem of picking the score was the weather. "If the course is dry," Nicklaus said, "it might be harder to play than it is when it's wet. When it's wet you can hit down these doglegs and the ball stops in the fairway. When it's dry, it might roll all the way across into the opposite rough."

Ten of the 18 holes are doglegs, a couple of them requiring almost a 90 degree change in direction, and there was little chance many of the field, even the big hitters, would try to belt the ball across the angle. First, the usual tough rough of the Open covers the areas inside the angle, and second, numerous 40 foot trees have been planted inside the angles and along the tees to prevent such tactics.

Further, while some of the big hitters might try to cut across with a following wind, or no wind, any breeze blowing against them could be cause of trouble.

Most of the field has practiced the course using short woods or long irons off some tees, particularly on the 344 yard 17th hole where there is a narrow driving area short of the green and between trees. Thus accuracy could be far more important than the long drive off the tee.

The best bet was that nobody would set a course record, but some of the pros even had a few reservations about that. The present record is 67, five under par, by Bob Verwey, regarded as a short hitter, in the 1967 Minnesota golf classic.

"That's got to be the 10th wonder of the world," Hugh Royer, recent winner of the Western Open, said. "Nobody's going to touch that. But then if the course is dry with a little luck, maybe somebody will."

Orville Moody, the defending champion, declared earlier that he could shoot a 67 during the event, and Lee Trevino, winner of the Open two years ago, said that if Moody does, "the rest of us might as well go home, because we'll be playing for second place."

Last Barrier Erased For Sale Of Seals

OAKLAND (UPI)—The last legal barrier impeding sale of the financially ailing Oakland Seals hockey team was removed Wednesday by bankruptcy referee Sheridan Downey Jr.

He dissolved a temporary order restraining sale of the club to Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics baseball team, in order to allow a partnership headed by Roller Derby promoter Jerry Seltzer and auto dealer John Buono of Oakland to submit a higher bid.

Seltzer has offered to buy the club for $4.5 million from Barry Van Gerbig's Seals Limited. Finley has bid $4.1 million and his offer expires June 30.

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said NHL governors would hold a special meeting in New York June 29 to determine the new buyer and approve the sale.

"Our major concern is that whoever the transferee be, he will be the person with the most to offer, not necessarily in dollars, but in long-range benefits for the league through the successful operation of the franchise in Oakland," said Campbell.

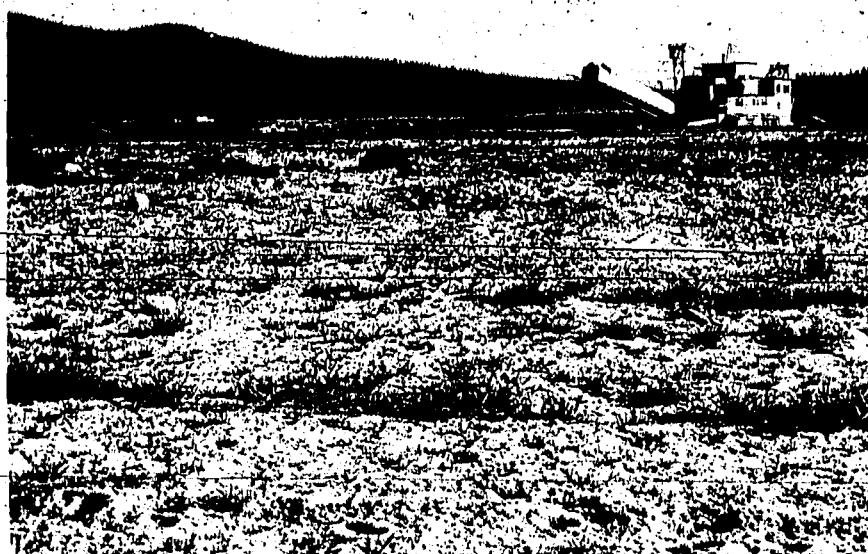

Turnaround

BOSTON (UPI)—The USS Constitution, the Navy's oldest, commissioned ship, makes its annual turnaround tour today in Boston Harbor.

"Old Ironsides," was commissioned in 1797.

A SHINING EXAMPLE of mining's ability to restore land? That's what those attending the Western State Governors convention in Salt Lake City were told last week concerning the Bear Valley of Idaho. Those attending were told by the Idaho delegation that mining had returned dredge tailings into lush mountain grasses for domestic cattle. The upper photo shows a natural meadow while the lower shows a "restored" area. The photos were taken in 1968.

NBA Plans To Ask Congress To Okay Merger With ABA

ATLANTA (UPI)—NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said Wednesday any merger between the National and American basketball associations would have to include an agreement against raiding college teams.

Kennedy's stand came on the heels of the announcement that Denver of the ABA had signed Michigan State star Ralph Simpson even though Simpson still had two years of college eligibility.

"The NBA has had a rule for the past 25 years that no member club can sign a college player until his class graduates," Kennedy said.

"The NBA has long had good relations with the colleges because they know they have a 'reasonable expectancy' of keeping a scholarship player for the period of his eligibility 'without someone coming in and luring him away.'"

Denver president Donald Ringby said the ABA had signed Simpson, who got a long-term contract for a reported $1 million, despite his remaining college-eligibility because he was "a hardship case" who needed to turn to pro basketball to support his family.

"The NBA didn't even sign Witt Chamberlain when he dropped out of Kansas until he was eligible," said Kennedy.

"This is a point about which we have very, very strong feelings," Kennedy is in Atlanta attending a two-day meeting of the NBA board of governors. He reported at a mid-day news conference that the first day of the meeting was being devoted "mainly to housekeeping chores."

Only news to come out of the meeting itself was a report that the NBA last season drew more than 5 million spectators for the first time in its history. The total attendance for the 14 member teams was 5,146,858—an 11.6 per cent increase over the 1968-69 season.

Kennedy said no official action has been taken on a proposed merger with the ABA "in about two and a half months" because of a federal injunction obtained by the NBA Players Association which opposes a merger because of the effect it would have on salaries.

"Thursday, we plan to discuss our going to Congress and seeking merger legislation," Kennedy said. "However, I want to make it clear, that there has not yet been any action to bring this matter before Congress."

Kennedy insisted that the NBA and ABA have reached no agreements on terms of the proposed merger.

He pointed out that although the injunction blocks merger discussions between the two leagues, "we are permitted to discuss this among ourselves, and we are permitted to discuss seeking congressional approval."

Five "no" votes from among the 17 NBA teams could block any merger and Kennedy said he does not know how such a vote might go.

Denver To Honor Pact With Simpson

DENVER (UPI)—The owner of the Denver Rockets said Wednesday he will honor the reported $1 million contract with Ralph Simpson even if the American Basketball Association bars him from playing.

Donald W. Ringby, who gave Simpson $50 to buy milk for his family, said the Rockets had not violated any rules by signing the Michigan State University sophomore to a long-term contract as a "hardship case."

"I'm sorry some of our colleagues don't agree," Ringby said, "but I'm hopeful we can get this straightened out."

USC's NCAA
Tennis Hopes
Dealt Blow

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Defending champion Southern California was dealt two blows Wednesday which dimmed Trojan hopes to repeat as NCAA tennis champions.

Third-seeded Erik Van Dillen of USC was upset by Steve Faulk of Louisiana State in straight 6-4 sets and Van Dillen's teammate, Tom Leonard, literally wilted before seeded Haroon Rahim of UCLA.

Leonard was overcome by heat exhaustion and forfeited his fifth-round match to Rahim after a 3-1-2 hour struggle. Leonard was treated at a hospital and released.

Rahim won the first set 7-5 and Leonard came back to take the second 11-9. Rahim was leading 11-10 in the third set when Leonard's legs wobbled and he became dizzy. He was helped from the court.

Faulk utilized a booming serve to near perfection in disposing of Van Dillen to advance to Thursday's quarter-finals.

In another upset, Dick Stockton of Trinity breezed past sixth-seeded Luis Garcia of Miami of Florida 6-1, 6-1.

Hawks Swap Gregor For Ex-Ute Star

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Atlanta Hawks, seeking to add more spot scoring punch to their attack, Wednesday obtained former Utah star Jerry Chambers from the new Portland Trailblazers in exchange for husky Gary Gregor.

"In Chambers, we are getting a player who can come off the bench and put some points on the board," said Hawks coach Richie Guerin. "He did a good job for Phoenix last year, filling in a both forward positions and some at guard."

College Coach Accuses ABA Of Conniving

THOMPSONVILLE, Mich. (UPI)—Gus Ganakas, head basketball coach at Michigan State University, said Wednesday he was "sure there was something connived" in the American Basketball Association's signing of his sophomore star, Ralph Simpson. "He told me last Friday that he'd signed," Ganakas said in a telephone interview from his Crystal Mountain basketball camp. "We talked over everything that could happen and Ralph seemed satisfied that everything was covered." Commissioner (Jack) Dolph has said earlier that the ABA wouldn't be signing any more players with eligibility left, the Spartans' coach said, because of the merger.

"I'm sure there was something connived. The Spence-Haywood case sets a precedent. He'll play for them. Now or two years from now," Ganakas said.

"I don't think there's any hope (he'll play) for us," he added. "I don't hold anything against Ralph—how could he turn the offer down?"

"Especially in his situation, I just hope everything turns out all right for him," Ganakas said.

Dolph announced earlier Wednesday the ABA would invalidate the reported million-dollar contract Simpson signed with the Denver Rockets, who also signed Haywood, a high school teammate of Simpson's at Detroit Parshing.

Huskies Will Not Compete In Henley

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—The University of Washington crew, Intercollegiate Rowing Association champion, announced Wednesday it won't compete in the Henley Regatta in England this year.

Rowing coach Dick Erickson said he had been advised that the entry deadline had passed and it was impossible to accept Washington's entry.

"We will continue with previously formulated plans to row with the men who have indicated their desire to try for the national and world championships to be held in August and September," Erickson said.

"This will not include all the varsity oarsmen. The efforts will be directed toward the small boats."

Quarry Returns To Rankings, Stops Foster In Sixth

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jerry Quarry dumped Mac Foster into a helpless heap outside the ropes at 2:05 of the sixth round Wednesday night to return to the ranks of heavyweight contenders in convincing style.

Foster, who went as the favorite after 24 consecutive knockouts, managed to hurt Quarry only once—with a left hook into the first round—but after that the 27-year-old Quarry, from Bellflower, Calif., took complete control.

Midway through the sixth round Quarry, 190 pounds, trapped Foster, 210, along the ropes and slashed away with both hands. The 27-year-old Foster tried to hold on but Quarry moved him away and pounded him across the ring.

It looked like Foster was going to go down as he staggered backward, but he managed to grab the turnbuckle to remain on his feet. The reprieve was brief, however, as Quarry opened up again and sent him spinning through the ropes. Referee Tony Lobianco moved between the two fighters and stopped the bout.

It was Quarry's 30th victory and 22nd knockout against four losses and four draws.

Foster, from Fresno, Calif., suffered his first defeat in 25 professional bouts.

Early in the third round Foster landed one of his few punches of the evening to raise a swelling under Quarry's left eye. But Quarry came back in that round to win it with a combination attack.

In the fifth Foster asked Quarry to keep his punches up while they were in a clinch, but later in the round Foster himself landed a low blow on Quarry's left thigh and was warned by Lobianco.

Near the end of the fifth Quarry staggered Foster in the corner to set him up for the sixth round kayo. During the sixth round barrage Foster's right eye was badly cut and doctors said it would need stitches.

In Quarry's last fight in Madison Square Garden he held a big lead before being knocked out in the seventh round by George Chuvalo. Since then, however, he had scored two victories. The bettors made Quarry a 7-5 underdog and he had said he would retire if he lost.

East German Sets Pole Vault Mark

BERLIN (UPI)—Wolfgang Nordwig of East Germany broke the world pole-vaulting record Wednesday with a vault of 17 feet, 10 1/2 inches, the news agency ADN reported.

Nordwig, 1968 Olympic bronze medal winner, topped by one-quarter of an inch the record previously held by American John Pennel of 17 10 1/4.

It was Nordwig's second vault at the East Berlin track and field meet. In his first vault of 17 9 inches he set a new European record, bettering by one-quarter of an inch the mark set by Claus Schiprowski of West Germany.

In another event Joerg Dreihorn of East Germany set a record for 1970 in the triple jump of 55 1 1/2.

Florida State Ousts Texas, Meets USC For NCAA Baseball Crown

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—The Florida State Seminoles eliminated the Texas Longhorns from the NCAA College World Series Wednesday night, 11-2, to earn the right to play Southern California's Trojans in the championship contest Thursday night.

The Seminoles, third-ranked nationally going into the annual NCAA playoffs, will be meeting the nation's top-rated team in the Trojans, who drew away into the finals after defeating the Longhorns 8-1 in 14 innings Tuesday.

Florida State took a 5-0 lead after three innings against the Trojans and sent 11 men to the plate in the bottom of the seventh when they rammed home six runs on a combination of five hits, three walks and three errors.

That big lead allowed pitcher Gene Ammann to breeze to his 15th win of the year without defeat.

The Seminoles got three runs in the second and one in the third before their big seventh-inning explosion.

The victory over the second-ranked Longhorns was Florida State's 40th of the year against 10 losses.

The Longhorns were in fifth place in the second round of the playoffs, including the last three. They ended with a 39-27 record.

Gibson knocked in Julian Javier in the second with a single and again in the eighth with a single.

The Cardinals scored four unearned runs in the eighth inning after a two-base throwing error by shortstop Tommy Dean.

Gibson didn't allow a ball out of the infield until the fourth when Clarence Gaston filed out to right. Nate Colbert walked in the fifth to become the Padres' first baserunner but was erased when Murrell hit into a double play.

Gibson had pitched to the minimum number 23 batters when Murrell hit his two-out single to center. Gibson then walked Bob Barton before he struck out pinch-hitter Al Ferrara to end the inning. It was the second one-hitter of Gibson's career.

Janeski, White Sox Cool Torrid Yankees

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rookie pitcher Jerry Janeski drove in three runs with a bases-loaded single and a perfectly placed squeeze bunt Wednesday night to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 6-3 victory over New York and end a six-game Yankee winning streak.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rookie pitcher Jerry Janeski drove in three runs with a bases-loaded single and a perfectly placed squeeze bunt Wednesday night to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 6-3 victory over New York and end a six-game Yankee winning streak.

Solons 3, Twins 1

MINNEAPOLIS—St. Paul (UPI)—Frank Howard lumbered home all the way from second base on Aurelio Rodriguez's pop fly forecourt with the tie-breaking run in the sixth inning Wednesday night and the Washington Senators went on to beat the Minnesota Twins, 3-1.

First-Round Draw Favors Rod Laver

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—The draw for the 1970 Wimbledon tennis championship first round which gets underway Monday sends top American player Arthur Ashe against British David Copper Graham-Stillwell, but gives defending champion and No. 1 seed Rod Laver a less-known first-round opponent.

Ashe, from Gum Springs, Va., is seeded No. 3 in the tournament.

Laver, the left-handed Australian who won his second Grand Slam last year, will open against George Swegen of Bayside, N.Y., while No. 2 seed John Newcombe will face Roy Barth of San Diego.

The most interesting first-day match could develop between Australian Fred Stolle, three-time runner-up in the men's singles though he is unseeded this year, and South Africa's Cliff Drysdale, the No. 12 seed.

Brewers 5, Orioles 1

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Mike Hegan ripped a three-run homer in the seventh inning Wednesday to lead the Milwaukee Brewers to a 5-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and give Gene Brabender his third win of the season.

Gardner Says ABA 'Hitting Below Belt'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—University of Utah basketball coach Jack Gardner Wednesday accused the Denver Rockets of "hitting below the belt" in signing state basketball star Ralph Simpson to a contract before expiration of his college eligibility.

Simpson, the Spartans' leading scorer last season as a sophomore, was signed to a contract Tuesday by the Rockets, members of the American Basketball Association.

"It's just like stealing from your father," Gardner said in a sharp blast against the Rockets and the ABA.

The veteran Utah coach said, "It's action like this that has turned many college coaches against the ABA. You don't find this happening in the NBA (National Basketball Assn.) or in professional football."

Gardner added, "We supply them (ABA) with a free team system. Then they go out and raid our ranks and don't pay the schools a cent. This certainly is a blow below the belt."

He charged that the Rockets would probably attempt to justify the signing "under the cloak of hardship." But then he asked, "What is a hardship?"

"It is spending time in college getting a free education where is this going to stop?"

Boston 3, Royals 1

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Rico Petrocelli's side body block broke up a possible double play and forced Cookie Rojas into a two-run throwing error Wednesday night as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Kansas City Royals, 3-1, behind Ken Brett's three-hit pitching.

Idaho Inks Tackle

MOSCOW (UPI)—Tim Charbonneau, a 6-2, 230-pound tackle from Lewis and Clark High School, Spokane, has signed a letter of intent to attend the University of Idaho this fall.

Don Roberts, head football coach, said Wednesday Charbonneau is an outstanding high school prospect and will figure prominently in the fresh football program.

Gibson Loses No-Hitter In Eighth, But Stops Padres 8-0

65 triumph over the Montreal Expos.

Garrido opened the eighth inning with a triple off loser Claude Raymond. Rusty Staub dove in an attempt to catch the ball but it bounced past him and Garrido went all the way to third. Carly's scorching single broke the 6-5 deadlock.
