VOL. 67, NO. 59 TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1970 TEN CENTS

PRESIDENT NIXON, in an hour-long television interview with Howard K. Smith, ABC, right; Eric Sevareid, CBS, left, and John Chancellor, NBC, answered questions on the foreign policy of the United States and also announced appointment of David K. E. Bruce to be chief of the Paris Peace talks. Also discussed with the President was the "dangerous" mid-east situation. (UPI telephoto)

Foreign Policy Is Detailed By Nixon

SAN-CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon named a new and prestigious Vietnam negotiator Wednesday and offered to withdraw allied forces from Vietnam within a year if Hanoi agrees to do likewise.

Otherwise, the President took a relatively tough stance in his hour-long, nationally televised foreign policy discussion.

He warned Hanoi it faced only prolonged bloodshed if it did not negotiate and said he would bomb its air defenses if it did not stop shooting at American reconnaissance planes.

Nixon warned the Middle East poses a greater danger to the world than does the war in Vietnam because the United States and the Soviet Union could be drawn into a confrontation there neither nation wants.

For the job Henry Cabot Lodge quit last December in disgust over lack of progress, Nixon chose David K. E. Bruce, 72, a veteran diplomat and former undersecretary of state.

"If the enemy is willing to negotiate with our new ambassador, we will get them all out within a year," Nixon said of the troop withdrawals.

Nixon's televised interview with Howard K. Smith of ABC, John Chancellor of NBC and Eric Sevareid of CBS was greeted in Washington with mixed reactions.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., who demanded equal television time to explain the "amendment for ending the war" he is cosponsoring said, "for the President to compare the Cambodian fiasco to the great decisive battles of World War II such as Stalingrad indicates that he is living in Disneyland."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Nixon "handled the questions rightly well. It was very comprehensive."

Bruce, a former ambassador to West Germany, France and Great Britain, will meet with the President at the Western White House July 4 and is expected to take up his new position in Paris about Aug. 1.

Nixon said regardless of the outcome of negotiations in Paris, the United States was embarked on a policy that would get virtually all American ground combat forces out of Vietnam by next spring.

"It will succeed. This I know," Nixon said of his policies.

Seated around a table in the KABC studio in Los Angeles with the three television newsmen, Nixon defended the American sweep through Communist sanctuaries inside Cambodia's borders as "the most decisive action in damaging the enemy's ability to wage effective warfare that has occurred in this war to date."

He conceded the Cambodian government, now under attack by North Vietnamese forces, was in a "fragile situation" but said that because of the U.S. sweep, "Cambodian chances of surviving as a neutral country are infinitely better now than they were on April 30."

Although he would not absolutely rule out American forces returning to Cambodia, he said he had "no intention" of sending them because "I do not believe there will be any necessity to do so."

The only reason for the Americans to return would be to protect the security of U.S. forces in Vietnam, he said, and he believed the success of the operations which he has undertaken, as well as what the South Vietnamese will be able to do, will make it unnecessary.

The hour-long conversation was the President's first such venture, in explaining in detail to the nation the rationale behind his foreign policy decisions.

"I thought we could give the television audience really a chance to get to the depths of our foreign policy thinking," he explained.

He expressed confidence the House of Representatives would take the edge off the Senate resolution barring further actions in Cambodia and limiting funds to other Asian nations helping Cambodia.

The United States, Nixon said, would be glad to accept a coalition government including the Communists in South Vietnam if it resulted from free elections. But America would not impose such a coalition on Saigon, he said.

"There is only one matter that is not subject to negotiations and that is the right of the South Vietnamese to determine their own future," he said.

R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, sponsors of the Senate opposition, "are good men, very dedicated to peace," the President said, but added, "There is one difference between us. I have the responsibility for 430,000 men they don't."

Democratic Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, Ball was quoted to the effect that Russia moved into the Mideast because the United States was "bogged down" in Vietnam.

Middle East Seen As Great Peril To U.S.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—President Nixon said Wednesday night the Middle East posed a greater peril to the United States than did Vietnam because it involved the possibility of nuclear war with Russia.

Nixon, answering a question on television, said the Middle East was potentially a more explosive situation because it could pit the two "nuclear super powers" against one another. This is not the case in Vietnam, he said.

The President said the Middle East was "terribly dangerous." He likened it to the Balkans just before World War I.

Nixon's alarming remarks about the Middle East came when an interviewer asked about a statement by former

Senate Amendment Change Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has faith the House will undo the Senate-originated amendment to forestall further U.S. military operations in Cambodia, but its sponsors were betting he was wrong.

Nixon, addressing the nation from Los Angeles in a televised interview with network newsmen Wednesday night, said the amendment failed to take account of the "Nixon doctrine" which asserts that nations shall be encouraged to defend their own freedom with minimal U.S. help.

But he called its authors, Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., "good men, very dedicated to peace," and said "I don't consider it a rebuke and I am not angry at the Senate."

Nixon indicated a belief the House would modify the amendment, which he said was not "particularly precise," and that it would undergo further refinement in a subsequent House-Senate conference committee.

"Fortunately, our founding fathers had great wisdom," the President said.

Holiday Detailed For Friday

Residents of Twin Falls will be able to do little or nothing in the way of business transactions Friday but from all indications they can go shopping just about anywhere.

With Friday declared a national holiday because of July 4 falling on Saturday, all city and county offices in Twin Falls, except for law enforcement agencies, will be closed. State and federal offices, including the Post Office, as well as banks and other business establishments, have indicated they will be closed for the three days.

Downtown merchants in Twin Falls will keep their doors open on Friday but most plan to close Saturday. Chamber of Commerce reports indicate grocery stores, at least the larger markets, will be open for regular business throughout the three-day holiday.

Law enforcement officers, forest officials and resort areas were keyed for heavy holiday crowds and traffic.

Sawtooth National Forest officials urged persons going into the recreational areas on public lands to use caution with fires. Although vegetation is still green in most cases, two fires have already been reported. A man-owned fire was reported in the Snake Creek area but was brought under control before it could spread over any sizeable area. The second fire occurred Wednesday night in the Shoshone Basin area and was also small.

With continued good weather forecasts, officers say the highways are expected to be crowded for the three-day holiday, and especially on Sunday all state, county and city officers will be on duty to encourage returning motorists to observe regulations and highway courtesy.

Traffic Lights Normal

Traffic light operations are back to normal in downtown Twin Falls. City Manager Jean Miller said today, which should smooth out some of the traffic flow around the downtown redevelopment project.

State Highway Department crews have completed repairs of the light on Second Avenue South and West and Shoshone Street which has been on a blinker basis for several days due to mechanical failure.

Other lights have been installed for better sequence along the Shoshone street.

Work is going ahead on schedule in the demolition of two downtown blocks. Mr. Miller said, and not until one of these is completed and reopened will crews move in into the third block. The three-block area is expected to be completed by the end of September, giving the main business area a complete new look.

The next block to be torn up will be west of the present area. Although a certain amount of congestion is expected throughout the summer because of the reconstruction, Mr. Miller said motorists and getting more accustomed to planning their driving around the closed area. He said for a time there has been a few traffic tie-ups as motorists reach the detour area and are forced to go around a block to reach their destination. Sometimes necessary deliveries at their store in order to keep the alleys unobstructed during heavy shopping periods. Shoppers are asked to use back doors of businesses completed and may then be walking through the demolition area.

Escape

BOISE (UPI)—Law enforcement officers planned to search today for two Idaho State Prison inmates who walked away from minimum security quarters at the main prison compound sometime late Wednesday.

A prison official identified the men as Charles Schlerman, 25, admitted from Nez Perce County, and Martin Oursland, 31, admitted from Kootenai County. Both men were serving terms for first-degree burglary.

Some Youth May Wish For Another Birthdate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Young men whose 19th birthday falls July 9 may wish they had been born two days earlier.

Forty-eight hours was all that separated the top and bottom priorities in the callup order determined by Wednesday's 1970 draft lottery. Youths turning 19 next Tuesday, July 7, drew 365th place in the callup, virtually assuring they will not be called. Those born July 9 got the No. 1 priority, insuring them of a callup after the first of the year, unless they hold protective deferments.

The double-barreled drawing, which doubled on for three and one-half hours, appeared to have produced the true randomness the Selective Service sought. At least one birth date from all 12 months of the year had been pulled by the time 34 capsules were drawn from the drum, and it was not until the 35th drawing that all the dates of any single month had been assigned a number drawn from the second barrel.

But it was still chancy to predict which number the government will reach before it fills its manpower needs from among the pool of 600,000 young men born in 1951, bearing a major national emergency, however, it appeared probable that draft boards will not have to go beyond callup No. 100 to meet 1971 draft quotas.

There was also a good chance the cutoff point might be in the neighborhood of 150.

Such estimates are based on projections from the Defense Department and the Selective Service headquarters on probable requirements and the size of the manpower pool. They are subject to question, however,

Julie And David Visiting Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—David and Julie Eisenhower today called on Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and lunched with Foreign Minister and Mrs. Kikichi Aichi.

President Nixon's daughter and her husband, grandson of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, arrived Wednesday night during a seasonal downpour to represent the White House at American Day at the Expo '70 World's Fair.

During a 30-minute chat, Sato expressed regret for Japanese weather conditions and Eisenhower told him the weather in Washington also has been wet.

Sato said the Washington rains may have been caused by the breakdown in U.S.-Japanese textile negotiations. He referred

Abortion Shots Are Fired In Ireland

NEW YORK (UPI)—Approximately 100 abortions were performed in city hospitals Wednesday, the first day of the state's new liberal abortion law.

Another 2,000 women in the city were registered for the operation, which can now legally be performed on married and unmarried women within the first 24 weeks of pregnancy.

Ruling Made In Driving Charge

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Supreme Court upheld a decision of the Twin Falls fifth District court Wednesday in reference to a case involving suspension of a driver's license.

Marie Bridges, Halley, was arrested in 1967 for driving under the influence of alcohol, but refused to take a blood analysis test until she contacted her attorney. The arresting officer said the test would show nothing by that time, and the commissioner of law enforcement suspended her license.

She appealed to the high court, contending she was denied her constitutional right to counsel. The court ruled the proceeding for a driver's license suspension is not a criminal matter and no constitutional right is involved.

The opinion written by Justice Henry McQuade, stated the officer should give the test if the arrested person requests it, even if it comes after the one-hour decision time.

Tax Load Questioned

Four members of the Twin Falls County Tax Equality Committee met Wednesday with Twin Falls County Commissioners and Auditor Harold Lancaster to question their petition to the state tax commission for relief under House Bill 304.

Herman Jewell, committee secretary, said the group is not a protest group, but rather is interested in holding public spending at all levels.

"We are not here just to oppose the county action, but rather to inquire into the needs for the additional funds and to express concern over growing taxes," he said.

Delegates were advised the county is seeking $7,134,033 beyond the 104 per cent of the total county revenue for the previous year. Of this $50,000 was necessary because of the fire which destroyed the county fair grandstand.

Mr. Lancaster and County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller explained much of the remainder of the increase is because of the direct result of new and revised legislation requiring counties to meet certain costly obligations but giving them no alternative for raising funds.

Mr. Lancaster noted the legislature took the inheritance tax from the counties at a time budgets had already been made up based on anticipated revenue from this source. Then approval of the court reform, for example, brought about mandatory increases in county spending. At the same time the legislature approved continuation of the limitations of House Bill 304, making it impossible for the counties to increase their income.

Mr. Loughmiller said the committee should start with the legislature if they hope to cut down tax costs and noted something has to be done at the state level to coordinate new programs with sound budgeting.

Tate Trial Continues On Coast

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The California Supreme Court Wednesday refused to order the trial judge in the Sharon Tate slaying case to hold a hearing into the competency of Charles Manson's lawyer.

The court meeting in San Francisco, turned down the request from District Attorney Evelio J. Younger, whose deputies prosecuting Manson charge that his attorney has a record of obstructing trials.

Prospective jurors were questioned during the day about whether they had been influenced by the feud between Manson's lawyer and Younger.

Irving A. Kanarek, attorney for the hippie cult leader charged with plotting the slayings of seven persons, asked a lawyer for one of Manson's three female codefendants to put the questions.

The jurors claimed they were not prejudiced against Kanarek, and if anything, they thought he was competent.

Younger told a news conference Tuesday he was asking the State Supreme Court to order a hearing into Kanarek's competency to handle a capital case.

Kanarek asserted that Younger was using Manson's "cadaver" to further his political aims.

Younger is running for state attorney general.

The prosecution has charged that Kanarek has a record of "deliberate obstruction" by prolonging trials for unreasonable lengths of time.

The trial judge, Charles H. Older, has refused to hold a hearing, saying it is a matter for the State Bar Association.

Younger wants the high state court to order Older to conduct an inquiry.

FTC Accuses Coca Cola Of Trickery In Game

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) accused the Coca Cola Co. Wednesday of tricking its customers with a $100 prize in a "Big Name Bingo" promotional game last year.

The agency said Coca Cola, the nation's largest soft drink company with 1968 sales of about $1.2 billion, used "false, misleading and deceptive methods and practices" in the bingo promotion.

It said "a vast segment of the general public" was "beguiled and induced" to buy Coke and Tab, a diet cola, so they could enter the game, which ran from March 9 to May 31, 1968.

"Many, if not all contestants, who got the answers right were misled out of winning by a secret and tricky rule," the FTC charged.

The FTC's action, its first charging deception in a promotional game, also covered Glendinning Companies, Inc., of Westport, Conn., a big sales promotion firm which dreamed up "Big Name Bingo" for Coca Cola.

In Atlanta, Coca-Cola USA President Fred W. Dickson said that "at no time was there any desire or intent to mislead or deceive the public, a course which would surely be against the company's interest in maintaining consumer goodwill."

Dickson said Coca-Cola "relied upon Glendinning... to develop and execute the contests" and did not accept the promotion "until after it had been cleared by Glendinning's decisions of the U.S. Post Office Department."

Coca-Cola felt it had taken "all reasonable efforts" to insure a "fair and equitable" contest, Dickson said.

Glendinning had no immediate comment.

The FTC procedures, the firms could sign the consent order without acknowledging guilt and the matter would be ended.

In "Big Name Bingo" contestants got 10 circles, each printed with the achievement of some famous person. Coke and Tab bottle caps each contained the name and picture of a famous person—20 altogether.

"Contestants were told they would win $100 if they pasted the right names over the circles—for example Abraham Lincoln on the circle marked "freed slaves."

But contestants were not told that two names had to be pasted on some circles, the FTC said. It said this was "contrary to the clear import of... directions, explanations, rules, deceptions and other statements" to Coke customers.

Airline Is Accused Of Exalty

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sen. Ralph T. Smith, R-Ill., said Wednesday one of his aides carried a plastic bag filled with gasoline-colored liquid in an open leather portfolio on board a jetliner without being challenged.

The aide, Joseph Fisher, walked past a police officer and several airline personnel at the gate when he boarded the Chicago-bound flight in Washington, Smith's office said.

It was reported that the hijacker of a Phoenix to Washington flight June 4 had a container of gasoline on board the flight, which he forced to land at Washington, demanding $100 million in ransom, and then took off again for an undisclosed destination. The plane later landed again at Washington and the hijacker was captured.

About Glenda Mitchell

Remember the story on Page One of the Times-News last Sunday which told of one of the big engines of a TWA huge 747 jet bursting into flame just as the plane landed at John F. Kennedy Field...

Education reports that the first women to be admitted to Yale bested the men academically. A breakdown of the grades for the first semester of co-education showed 27.5 per cent of the women rated "honors," only 23.1 per cent of the men.

WOMEN MORE EQUAL

Several colleges and universities have been under attack from feminist organizations for alleged discrimination against women.

The thing about it, though, was not the trumpet player or the orchestra but what they were playing. Remember that hit of the 1930's "Put a Million Dollar Baby in the Five and Ten Cent Store"?

BRUCE BLOSSAT

The Distrust Of Government

Nothing so stresses the mood of distrust which afflicts this disheveled nation than the rumor, long since scotched, that President Nixon was studying the idea of cancelling the 1972 election to avoid foreseeable radical disruptions.

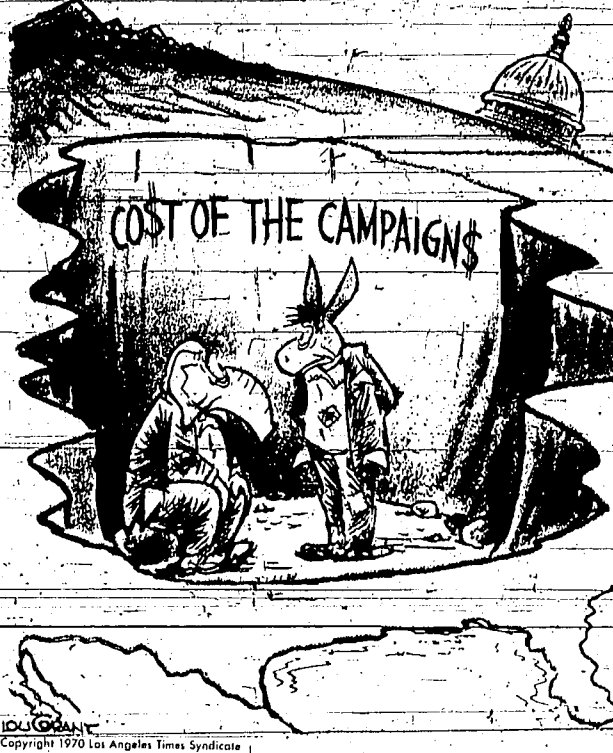

From there the yarn, rooted in the notion Nixon had asked the "think-tank" Rand Corporation to study the matter, spread to campuses where radical dissidents prefer the ease of rumor and slogan to the hard quest for reality.

Then, back to New York, where quivering emotion is felt by radicals and some doctrinaire liberals to be man's highest attainment. Writer Jack Newfield, never a man to miss a chance to exult irrationally, picked up the tale.

When those worlds tumbled from the lips of that seemingly gentle-spirited liberal New Yorker, I saw his never before the chasm that has opened up in this country. The shopworn, unilluminating phrase "generation gap" (when in history was there not one?) does not begin to get at it.

government any strong points on credibility, especially in recent years as it has grown ever larger and more self-protective in the face of baffling problems. In fact there is another side.

DEEPER AND DEEPER

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH

Digging In Heels

WASHINGTON — Politics are intensely watching a fascinating waiting game in high official circles. At stake is a seat in the Cabinet — head of the Interior Department.

It's rather baffling. On one hand, President Nixon earnestly assured me it would be a cold day in July when Hickel would be replaced. Yet, on the other hand, we all know Secretary Hickel comes from Alaska.

commented wowed them. It's highly unlikely the Vice President would take such a poke at a member of the Cabinet unless he felt he was on sure ground. Sources close to Hickel say he was "not amused" when he heard about the incident. But he's still holding on.

There are four or five principal kinds of mold found on foods. Eating a "speck" would not as a rule cause any trouble. If a person just happened to be unduly sensitive to the mold, it might cause an allergic reaction.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How dangerous is mold on food? What would happen, for example, if a member of my family ate a speck of mold on a piece of bread? Or is there more mold there than meets the eye?

SHORT-WAVE

While writing today's column, Mr. Spectator was also listening on his short wave radio to a newscast direct from London. You get a different perspective that way, you know. But the interesting thing was that after the newscast came an on-air chat with a very good trumpet player.

THIS IS CLEAN AIR

On a clear day you may be able to see forever, but appearances can be deceiving. Writing in the publication, "Analytical Chemistry," two chemists from the University of Maryland describe what they found in the air on a clear day in Boston.

ANDREW TULLY

It's A Failure

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's non-plan to halt inflation already is a failure, a tragic fact that should come as no surprise even to the White House. Not only are prices still rising, but Big Labor is going ahead with the formulation of demands for new wage increases which will send prices soaring even higher in the next several months.

doing about inflation for the simple reason he isn't doing anything. Nixon has said he will not take this nation down the road to wage and price controls, nor use wage-and-price guidelines, which he calls "controls in disguise."

Whether it is plain, or flavored, or distilled, doesn't matter. Distilled would be the only "pure water." Ordinary tap water contains minerals in varying amounts.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a model but may lose my job. I can't get used to being in front of people, and I ruin my presentation. I get physically ill from nervousness. Another model told me she takes two or more calcium pills before appearing and it works perfectly. I tried it but my teeth felt strange for three days. Can this be harmful? — H. L.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About six years ago I got syphilis from my husband. He drinks! I took treatment but my blood tests never went back to "negative." This year it was still "weak positive." Will it ever be negative again? — E. W.

Firefighters Gird For Battle

Forest Service firefighters in the Intermountain region are busy preparing for the annual challenge of the fire season as warm, dry summer weather turns forest vegetation into dry fuel.

Among those training and working as firefighters each summer are professional foresters, college students, teachers, and Indians (who make up exceptionally fine firefighting teams). Some are veterans of many seasons, while for others it will be their first experience.

Knowledge and skill are necessary for firefighters, in their various individual and team responsibilities. Training is designed to meet the needs of each man, using a minimum of classroom lectures with a maximum of actual practice. Each firefighter must learn to work quickly and safely.

Smokejumpers learn to parachute to fires and put them out while they are still small. They undergo rigorous physical conditioning followed by practice parachute jumps and fire suppression training.

Lookouts are stationed on high mountain peaks where they can spot smoke when the fire is starting. They sharpen their skills by practicing map reading and fire reporting.

Special 25-man crews fight the larger fires, while the more experienced men are assigned to firemanagement teams that plan and supervise firefighting.

Firefighters of all types practice chopping, sawing, and shoveling firelines, and some learn to mix and load the fire-stopping chemicals that are dropped from low-flying air tankers. Some will learn to sling loads of supplies under helicopters so that the supplies can be delivered to fires in roadless areas. There is also training in use of special firefighting tools and equipment.

One of the most effective training devices is the fire simulator developed by the Forest Service to help fire managers learn the best tactics for stopping wildfires. Through the use of projectors, sound effects, and communications equipment, actual fire conditions are realistically simulated. The trainee responds to the flames and smoke he sees moving through the forest by ordering equipment and men and giving instructions for attack. Sounds of airplanes, helicopters, and bulldozers add to the realism.

When the trainee makes the right decisions, the fire on the screen will stop spreading and smoke and flames will decrease. Wrong decisions result in a brighter flame and more rapid spread. The simulator gives the trainee a chance to experiment with different tactics while risking

Hansen To Encourage Ecology

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A bipartisan bill co-sponsored by Congressman Orval Hansen to encourage environmental studies in elementary and secondary schools and community conferences on the environment has been reported by a House subcommittee.

The bill, the Environmental Quality Education Act, was introduced last November by Hansen and Reps. John Brademas (D-Indiana), James Scheuer (D-New York), and Ogden Reid (R-New York).

Brademas, Chairman of the House Select Education Committee, which considered the legislation, hailed the subcommittee's action. Hansen is on a two-week fact finding mission in Vietnam for the House and was not available for comment.

The Environmental Education Act will help us teach Americans, especially school children, about the entire range of problems that determine the kind of environment we have in the future," Brademas said.

The bill approved this week would authorize $45 million over a three-year period for: (1) developing materials for teaching environmental studies; (2) grants to elementary and secondary schools to teach about ecology and about natural resources, conservation and pollution control; (3) training teachers in environmental education; (4) funds for community conferences on the environment for civic and industrial leaders and state and government officials; (5) preparation of materials on the environment for use by the mass media.

Reappointed

BOISE (UPI) — Former Cassia County Assessor Alma C. Clark was reappointed Tuesday to the new state board of tax appeals.

The appointment was announced by Gov. Don Samuelson. The board was created by the 1969 legislature. The new appointee had been named a year ago to a one-year term.

Britain Renews Market Bid

LUXEMBOURG (UPI) — Britain and the Common Market got set today for 18 months to two years of tough bargaining on what the British predicted probably would be their last chance to join the prosperous six-nation community.

Britain made its third formal membership bid in a decade at a two-hour meeting with Common Market foreign ministers Tuesday. The Common Market countries are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Britain's Commonwealth and European Free Trade Association (EFTA) partners. Actual negotiations with Britain begin in Brussels July 21 and with the other three candidates in September. But real bargaining was not expected to start until fall.

Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Harmel, president of the Common Market Council of Ministers, predicted agreement could be reached in a year.

New Breed Of Dog Has Wolf Strain

The development of the Timberdobe, a cross of Doberman Pinscher and Canadian Timberwolf, has been announced by a Kimberling, Pa. breeder as the answer to guard dog work in all types of climate. In an intensive breeding program, Robert Yarnall, a nationally known breeder of Doberman Pinschers, sought to find a dog that would meet the demanding requirements of guard work yet be a gentle and affectionate home dog. The one drawback for the Doberman, who is without peer in a thin coat, is his experimental breeding program he attempted to improve the coat. He found what he considers "the right combination" with the Timberdobe, three-quarters Doberman and one-quarter wolf.

Explaining his selection of the wolf, Yarnall said he was attracted by the animal's stamina, intelligence, ruggedness and keen senses. As for the appearance of the Timberdobe, it is distinctly Doberman, with the same familiar rust-colored markings and black and white, although longer and heavier than the Doberman's. Yarnall feels that its undercut will enable the Timberdobe to work in cold climates and unsheltered environments where the Doberman cannot. The market for this type of dog will be mainly in police work and other security work, and where genuine protection is needed, says Yarnall. However, the dog is still a good family dog—lovable, affectionate and loyal.

WENDELL — Tom Charles Frith, Wendell, has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour. The honorary degree highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite. Mr. Frith is one of about 400 Freemasons to qualify this year. He served as Master of the Wendell Lodge of Masons in 1964; High Priest of King Solomon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1964; Master of Twin Falls Council; Royal and Select Master in 1970. Frith is commander of the Twin Falls Commandery, Knight Templar, in 1968.

ISU Offers Therapy Service

POCATELLO — The Department of Psychology at Idaho State University is offering a new clinical service to the community that will include psychological diagnosis and therapy. For the first time, three full-time clinical psychologists will be available, said Dr. Alan Hartman, chairman of ISU's Department of Psychology. Staff for the service will be Hartman; Dr. Shanna McGee, associate professor of psychology, and a new faculty member, Dr. Elinora Bransford, formerly clinical director of the Cour d'Alene Mental Health Center, Idaho Department of Health. Patients are expected to mainly be referred to the department by physicians, school counselors, church leaders, school teachers and parents, Hartman said.

Education today
By FREDERICK H. TREBUSH
United Press International
One major by-product of the rising consumer movement in the United States has been a groundswell of interest among educators in offering consumer education courses.

Information about how to find value in buying food or consumer goods, how to deal with a salesman and such matters as contracts and frauds traditionally has been included in vocational or social studies curriculum—in bits and pieces. But rarely has complete, well-rounded consumer program been taught.

Where there was such a course, teachers sampled materials from a variety of sources. Comprehensive curriculum materials have not existed until now.

But sensing a need and a ready market, Greater Educational Corp. of New York has developed a 30-unit, multi-media course in consumer education that includes the basics on food and clothing, purchases, renting or buying a home, selecting cars, furniture or appliances, the economics of health care, common legal problems, borrowing money or buying on credit, and such consumer matters as advertising claims and labeling practices.

Groller's "modern consumer education" covers "how to determine whether the 'large economy size' is actually cheaper and how to cope with fast-talking salesman. But its scope is broader than just retail trade. It also alerts—

The consumer education course of junior and senior high schools is a refinement of materials Groller developed for the office of economic opportunity to use in Job Corps training. It is therefore tailor-made for students from low-income and urban backgrounds.

Perhaps the best testimony still with the materials his firm is marketing.
Theodore Groller, President of Groller Educational Corp., offers on the value of consumer education from his father's experience in familiarizing blind

Job Slump Hitting In Valley

By CAROL BURNAM
Times-News Staff Writer

Mechanical devices may not be taking over man-powered jobs at a rapid pace, but a sudden employment slump has hit Twin Falls County, Mary Jo Cahill, placement consultant for the Twin-Falls Employment Security office, said Wednesday.

During May, 880 more people were employed than in May of 1969, Larry Drexler, area labor market analyst, stated. An increase of employment of 605 persons, mainly in manufactured products has helped this rise. "Now industry is a factor, but employee increases have also occurred in other industries," Mr. Drexler said.

Although this May increase does show a possible continued rise, a sudden slump has hit employment and there were 40 less people employed in June than there were in May, Mrs. Cahill said.

"Idaho feels an economic slump six months after the rest of the nation," said Mr. Drexler. "We are now feeling the slump that New York felt last winter."

The migrant farmers have had many problems since the beginning of June. At least 10 days have been non-workable days. Rain has kept the workers in their homes and away from the fields, said Larry Loyd, labor camp manager.

An excess of transient workers have crowded into the county from Oregon and California to compete for jobs. "Too many migrant workers who were not recruited to work in the fields have come in and tried to under bid those who have been recruited," said Mr. Loyd. "They're cutting each other's throats, and big families have suffered quite a loss when the entire family couldn't work."

The new beet thimble that the farmers are using this year have cut out many jobs for the workers, he said.

Many of the migrant workers have been unable to meet payments on loans supplied them by sugar factories and other companies. This money was loaned to the workers to pay for their transportation to Idaho so that they could work in the sugar and hay fields.

There has been an agricultural slump due to the rainy weather, said Osmer Lowe, agricultural consultant for the employment office.

Farmers have had a late start in cutting hay and some hay that has all ready been cut has been ruined by the continual rain. Those farmers who need good farm hands have been unable to find them. The employment office cannot fill all orders for capable farm hands, Mr. Lowe said.

Although the agricultural placement department has turned away people because they were unqualified, many other placement people cannot find jobs for qualified people.

"There are no job orders coming in," said Mrs. Cahill. "The usual orders for motel maids, car-hops and service station workers have not been coming in."

Certain food producing companies have closed down during their off-season. Many women who worked for these companies will not be looking for work since they will return to work at the end of the summer, but they will make the unemployment rate rise when they apply for unemployment checks, Mrs. Cahill said.

Many jobs are being taken by walk-in employment seekers, said Mrs. Cahill. Some companies search for employees through their local employment office while others obtain their own personal managers to hire employees.

The Kallwood Corporation does both, Royce Williams, personnel manager for the Kallwood Corp. gave several qualifications his company looked for when hiring employees.

"Neatness and cleanliness are qualities we look for. If a man does not take pride in

Air Crash Cause Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two pilots flying straight and level on the Bradley Airport control zone near Boise collided on the morning of July 30 last year because they simply failed to see each other, the National Transportation Safety Board believes.

In a report on the accident that killed six persons, the board's investigators listed the probable cause as the failure of both pilots "to see and avoid other aircraft."

One of the planes was a single-engine Beech carrying a private pilot headed for a Boise landing. In the other, a twin-engine Cessna, was a commercial flight instructor with a total of 7,677 flying hours. The experience of the beech's pilot was undetermined, the report said.

The report also said it could not determine whether the beech's pilot took any evasive action. It said the Cessna's pilot definitely did not.

Four persons aboard the Beech and two aboard the Cessna died with the planes plummeting to the ground after the collision which occurred between 1,000 and 1,500 feet, according to investigator's estimates.

Both planes were returning from a Boise Chamber of Commerce fly-in breakfast at over a residential area.

Mrs. Bever Quits Race

The name of Mrs. Betty Bever, Twin Falls, has been officially withdrawn from the Representative race in District No. 23.

Mrs. Bever filed an affidavit with county clerk Harold Lancaster, stipulating her name be withdrawn. A Republican, she was running against incumbents Ray Lincoln and Jack Clifton. Two candidates from each party can be nominated during the primary, and Mrs. Bever's withdrawal leaves the two incumbents unopposed.

"I am sorry I can't run. I really am, because I was very enthused about it," Mrs. Bever said. She said only that personal reasons, which she can't disclose at this time, made it necessary to withdraw her candidacy.

She said, however, that if situations in the future permit, she would like to run for office again. "I feel there is definitely a place for the woman's viewpoint."

South Viet Forces In Battle

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese infantrymen engaged North Vietnamese troops near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) Wednesday and reported killing 51 of the Communists in the second large-scale battle within five days around the border which separates the two Vietnams.

To the south, guerrillas fired about 10 Chinese Communist 107mm rockets into the big American installation at Cam Ranh Bay, 185 miles northeast of Saigon, military spokesmen said. The attack caused light casualties with no fatalities.

In the ground battle, an infantry battalion of the South Vietnamese 1st Division supported by tanks and armored personnel carriers clashed with Communist troops about three miles east of Quang Tri City, South Vietnam's northernmost province capital.

The government units picked up 20 Communist weapons on the battlefield. Military spokesmen said South Vietnamese casualties were six killed and 24 wounded.

In Cambodia, South Vietnamese units moved Wednesday to protect the capital of Phnom Penh and keep open its vital communications with the rest of the country and the outside world.

Cedar Draw Club Observes 50th Year Combining Celebration With Reunion

BY MARJORIE LEBMAN
Times-News Correspondent
TWIN FALLS — "These people were my first friends and still are," fondly declared a member of the Cedar Draw Club who moved to Idaho from California and has been a member of the club for a number of years.

This sentiment was expressed over and over by members and former members at a celebration meeting observing the 50th Anniversary of the club. As each member told former member-introducer herself, she told which year she had joined the group and some highlights she remembered of the club activities.

Former members remembered the club for the "friendliest people and the best food." A teacher who had taught in the Cedar Draw School for a number of years, recalled those years as the "happiest of my life." Again and again, the friendliness of the club members and of the neighborhood was mentioned as members stated how they had joined the club to become acquainted with people and find friends, and had not been disappointed.

The Cedar Draw Club was organized in September, 1920 when ten women of the Bull and Filer districts which compose the Cedar Draw area, met at the schoolhouse. Mrs. E. D. Brackenbury was elected first president; Mrs. William Vogel, first vice president, and Mrs. Robert Gay, secretary-treasurer.

The group decided to meet every Wednesday of the month. At one time membership was confined to those living in the district, however, now that has been changed and others may belong. Meetings are now held the first and third Wednesdays of the month.

The first dues were set at 25 cents a month, in 1926 they were raised to 50 cents. The first bylaws were formed by Mrs. H. G. Cobb, Mrs. Gay and Mrs. Nettie Shearing. As a memento-making project during the first year, a play, "Rebecca's Triumph," was presented with two performances netting the then large sum of $50 which was used to buy stage scenery and articles for the school.

The club did a great deal of charity and community work in the early days. A silk quilt was made and sold for $74 which seemed a very good amount at the time. During the Second World War, members met at the school weekly to fold bandages for the Red Cross.

Club activities were always closely entwined with those of the school which was held in the upstairs rooms while the basement was set aside for club meetings. Most of the members had children who attended the school. Children under the school age were brought along to the meetings. For the school children, it was almost a status symbol to be able to say their mothers attended the club, and women who didn't, often heard the question, "All the other mothers go to the club, why don't you?"

As the members reminisced at the meeting, events of the past became alive. One recalled a meeting when the members made velvet hats — another remembered a mock wedding held for a program. Several recollected the time when a large banquet had been planned for the evening and calamity struck in the form of a flood which covered the coulee bridge. Not to be defeated, one member's husband pitched up a team and wagon and drove around the countryside picking up all the people and bringing them to the banquet in the wagon.

At one time the club joined with the Federated Clubs for an International Tea, with Cedar Draw representing the country of Czechoslovakia. Members were hand-made authentic costumes — served food from recipes of that country, and one member read in paper telling of customs and life in Czechoslovakia.

The club picnics, the Mother's Day luncheons, the banquets for the husbands, all brought smiles to the faces of those present as they were remembered. One woman recalled the year the club decided to enter canned goods at the Twin Falls County Fair and came away with sweepstakes awards. Another year they entered a "spur-of-the-moment" flower display and, much to their surprise, placed third.

HONORED
during the recent 50th Anniversary observance of the Cedar Draw Club was Mrs. Emma Bienz, top picture, center, who recently celebrated her 90th birthday. Mrs. Tom Fleming, right, is the youngest member of the club and Mrs. William Zink, club president, presented the cake to Mrs. Bienz. Among those reminiscing about former days and club activities during the observance were bottom picture; from left, Mrs. Baztha Carter, Mrs. E. B. Madearis and Mrs. Amanda Rutherford. Mrs. Madearis, former teacher at the school, has taught many of the member's children.

was a letter from Mrs. Frank Ravenscroft noting she remembered "joining the club when her son, Vernon, was a year old."

Mrs. E. B. Madearis, Mountain Home, who with her husband taught in the school for many years, affectionately recalled the many times when she would come downstairs after school had dismissed to enjoy refreshments with the club ladies.

Whole-school consolidation took place and the building was no longer needed as a school, the people of the community very wisely decided to keep it for a Grange Hall and community meeting place. It has been well-maintained with members assisting in cleaning walls and scrubbing floors for special occasions. New curtains and furniture have been purchased when the need arose, and a new furnace was recently installed.

The walls of the meeting room in the basement are hung with trophies and plaques received by the Grange at fairs. For the reunion meeting, large flower arrangements adorned the room, where the refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations, flanked by four gold tapers.

For many years, the club colors were pink and green, but are now red and white. Carrying out the club colors, red and white mints and red punch were served, with napkins and name cards accented with gold.

Mrs. Tom Fleming, youngest member of the club who remembers coming to meetings with her grandmother and her mother, played a medley of old-time favorites on the piano. Connie Hieks sang several vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fleming. Mrs. William Zink, club president, read a poem dedicated to the honorary members.

Mrs. Effie Bjorn, oldest member of the club who celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary this month, was presented a birthday cake decorated by Mrs. Effie Dahlquist.

Mrs. Zink and Mrs. Viola Hieks, secretary, presided at the coffee and punch services.

JEROME — Linda Frances Shawver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Shawver, Jerome, became the bride of Carl H. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Montgomery, Eden, in an evening ceremony June 15 at the Presbyterian Church in Jerome.

Rev. William Hiler, Hazelton, performed the ceremony. Cheryl Frise was the organist and Carson Wong the soloist for the church setting of floral arrangements and cannelabra. The altar was graced by two large bouquets of lavender chrysanthemums and white gladioli framed by an archway of lighted candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal Original scalloped, riantilly lace forming a plastron redingote effect on her imported rayon organza gown with a crescent waistline. The oval neckline was encircled with seed pearls and the dress featured long lily point sleeves. An alencon lace bandeau with crystal sprays held her three-tiered elbow-length veil of English nylon tulle. She carried a cascade of lilies of the valley surrounding a gathering of sterling silver roses.

Terry Krohn, Eden, a close friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ellen and Sue Montgomery, Eden; both sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Kathy Anthony, Elko, Nev., a close friend of the bride. Sonja Shawver, Las Vegas, Nev., niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Don Montgomery, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Douglas Shawver, Las Vegas, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Ushers were Tom Bruke, Hazelton, and Don Ross, Pocatello, both friends of the bridegroom, and Richard Shawver, Las Vegas, brother of the bride.

Cheryl Frise and Penne Main provided the music at the reception at the church after the ceremony — in charge of the guest book was Edith Shawver, sister-in-law of the bride. The gift table was handled by Mrs. Clara Denn Lewis, Butte, Mont., aunt of the bride; Cheryl Lewis, Townsend, Mont., cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Helen Swainston, Eden, aunt of the bride.

The bride's table was covered with white chiton eyelet and was topped with a three-tiered wedding cake that portrayed the entire wedding party and was decorated in lavender roses. This was surrounded by a crystal punch bowl and a silver coffee service.

Serving the cake were Mrs. Margaret Krohn, Eden, friend of the bride; Mary Larrondo, Boise, aunt of the bridegroom; and Carol Stephens, Carey, and

BANANA LUNCHEON BREAD
Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 60 to 70 minutes. Cool thoroughly before slicing. Stays fresh for days.

Blend in two eggs, one at a time. Beat well. Add one cup mashed bananas. Mix well. Blend in dry ingredients. Fold in one-half cup nuts, chopped.

Pour into a greased 9 by 5 by 3-inch pan. Push batter up into corners of pan, leaving center slightly hollowed. For well rounded loaf, allow to stand 15 to 20 minutes before baking.

MATRONS ELECT FILER — Mrs. Don Albin was elected president of the Past Matrons Club at the home of Mrs. Roy Grubb. Mrs. Bill Hawkins was named vice president, and Mrs. Clinton Dougherty, secretary-treasurer.

Dinner Held
RICHFIELD — A lodge dinner preceded the final Order of Eastern Star meeting before summer recess. Guests were Mrs. Joe McGill, Alameda, Calif., and Guy Simons, Jerome.

R. J. Lemmon, a patient at the Wood River Convalescent Center, accompanied his daughter, Mrs. McGill, to the special event.

Mrs. McGill assisted at the meeting taking the station of Esther. The chapter will reconvene Sept. 10.

Herb Gardens Were Drugstores For Housewives In Middle Ages

Since there were no corner drugstores in Medieval times, home-grown herb gardens provided the wonder drugs of the day. And since physicians were few and far between, it was, if necessary, an era of "do-it-yourself" medicine.

The most popular books of that time were herbals, for example, a prized herbal was that written by Dioscorides in the first century which listed 500 medicinal plants and what they cured. These medieval best-sellers, according to the Bayer Co., told how man might "be helped with green herbs of the garden and weeds of the field."

With book in hand, the medieval housewife planted a garden of herbs that hopefully would help her cope with anything from aguebite to influenza. Many of the plants are familiar to us since we use them in cooking: sage, marjoram, fennel, caraway, bay leaves and rosemary. Then there were others, quaintly named: sweet woodruff, cowslip, rue, periwinkle and wild flax.

Ingenuously, housewives in those ancient days found many other uses for herbs besides healing. For instance, sweet woodruff when dried has the scent of now-mown hay. Therefore, it was used for strewn on floors, perfuming linen chests, and making garlands for churches' on feast days.

Marjoram was a must in the medieval garden. It was used to flavor soups, meat dishes and salads. This same herb "bound on the head would cure a cold; drunk with wine, it warmed the stomach, comforting digestion. Camomile or rosemary was used to make a "sweet washing water." And mint "rubbed on the teeth will give a sweet smelling mouth."

One highly respected herbalist recommended the distilled water from the leaves and flowers of cowslip as "good against the pain in the head that comes of a cold," a task we would assign today to aspirin.

Caraway was not only for coughs, it was also "good for the frenzy and for biting of venomous beasts; also it restores hair which hath fallen away."

Although many of these old recipes as they are called sound odd to us, they have since

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I read your column and respect your advice. Now solve this for me. I am a widow. What do you do with a guy who says he loves you, and wants to marry you? He seldom spends any money on me (and he has plenty!) and when we're out with people he hardly looks at me, but flirts openly with all the young, gorgeous-looking women, and afterwards he tells me how "gorgeous" they are, but never a word about me.

I have gotten mad at him and even told him to get lost several times, but I always forgive him and take him back. I need compliments, too. If I marry him I'm afraid I'll be miserable. He's a good catch, but I think he is a "shmo." What do you think? M. J. W.

DEAR M. J. W.: I think he's a "shmo," too. But if you think that after you marry him he will spend money on you, and quit flirting with other women, and give you the compliments you hunger for, then you're a bigger "shmo" than he is.

DEAR ABBY: Our unmarried daughter is sharing an apartment with an older professional woman of dominating disposition. My husband has a responsible executive position with a large firm and we are both very well educated and have traveled all over the world.

We were invited to meet our daughter at her office, and tour the building. My husband wore an expensive suit and I wore my best looking slacks, suit with my prettiest accessories. We wanted our daughter to be proud of us. And we thought she was.

A few days later, my daughter's roommate told me in no uncertain terms that I had "humiliated" my daughter beyond words because I had worn slacks while visiting her office. This was said to me in the presence of my relatives at a luncheon. My daughter just sat there agreeing with the woman. Please tell me if I am wrong to be upset?

BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED: Your daughter's failure to come to your defense probably bothered you more than the rudeness of her roommate. Leave them to each other and forget it. Slacks are now acceptable for afternoon wear almost everywhere and if that's the worst "humiliation" your daughter ever suffers, she'll be lucky.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your answer to EARLY BIRD. (The gal whose husband said she was "nuts" because she got up at 4:30 a. m. to do her housework. She said she couldn't sleep.)

I would say that "Early Bird" is basically selfish. I wonder if perhaps her reasoning is only an excuse.

In our marriage, some of our most meaningful experiences have occurred in the early hours of the morning. I value the closeness my husband and I have too much to deny him (and miss out myself) on such close communication.

Maybe the problem would be solved if "Early Bird" would climb back into bed about half an hour or so before she knew her husband had to get up.

I can't imagine any happily married man or woman enjoying waking up to an empty bed.

Gloria Thomas, Kunzler Wed At Temple

The Temple LDS Temple was the setting for the June 12 wedding of Gloria Jean Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton C. Thomas Jr., Thomasville, Ga., and Arnold Lawrence Kunzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kunzler, View.

Accompanying the couple to the temple were their parents, nine brothers and three sisters of the bridegroom and other friends and relatives of the couple. After the ceremony, members of the wedding party and close friends were entertained at a patio picnic dinner at the Kunzler home in View.

A reception honoring the young couple was held that same evening in the View LDS Cultural Hall. Guests were greeted before a white arch, entwined with wisteria, enhanced with white wedding bells and pink satin bows. Seated were beauty baskets of multi-colored flowers with pink satin streamers.

The bride designed and made her empire-styled gown of silk peau de soie. The floor-length skirt was enhanced with wide lace accenting the seams. The lace was embroidered with seed pearls, as were the long sleeves and rounded neckline.

The detachable chapel train fastened to the empire bodice. Her cascading shoulder-length veil fell from a headpiece made of a white chiffon orange blossom embroidered with seed pearls and tulle. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations centered with a yellow rose detachable corsage with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Myrtle Thomas, sister of the bride from Thomasville, Ga. Bridesmaids were Marsha Pahlman and Anne White, friends of the bride, and Dana Kunzler, niece of the bridegroom.

Attending the bridegroom were his two brothers, Lewis Kunzler and Spencer Kunzler, Mrs. Cecil L. Smith, sister of the bridegroom, attended the guest book. Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Boyd Barker, Mrs. Richard Randall and Mrs. Mark Kunzler, sisters and sisters-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride's table, covered with white lace over yellow, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with sugar bells, yellow roses and leaves, topped with white wedding bells nested in tulle. The cake was made, cut and served by a friend of the family, Mrs. Leslie Dana.

Refreshments were served at quartet tables, roped off with pink-satin streamers, and covered with white lace over yellow, centered with pairs of yellow and pastel-colored miniature flowers. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. William J. Kunzler, Mrs. Glen Kunzler, Mrs. John Koyle and Mrs. James Nowland. Assisting with the serving were Lanette Kunzler, Marie Kunzler and Kathleen Kunzler.

Boyd Barker, Los Angeles, Calif., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, decorated the reception hall.

Raymond Searle, friend of the bridegroom, was master of ceremonies for the reception program of music, songs and readings. Prayers were given by the fathers of the couple.

After a honeymoon trip to Georgia and Florida, the couple reside in Salt Lake City.

Diana Timney, King Disclose Wedding Date

Richfield — The engagement of Diana Timney and Alan King is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan, Hagerman, uncle and aunt of Miss Timney. Mr. King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell King, Richfield.

Miss Timney, who came to Richfield from California with the Morgan family, attended high school at Richfield and Hagerman, where she was graduated this year. She served as a cheer leader for both schools and was a member of the Hagerman National Honor Society. She is employed this summer at the Richfield Cheese Plant.

Al. C. King is a 1968 graduate of Richfield High School and attended Ricks College and the College of Southern Idaho before enlisting in the Air Force in May, 1969. After training in Texas and Mississippi, he is stationed at Mountain Home Air Force base with the Air Traffic Control Division.

An August wedding at Richfield is planned.

Donation Noted

HANSEN — Members of Friendship Club voted at a recent meeting to give $5 to the Salvation Army to help give a child a vacation when they convened at the home of Mrs. Oyle Wall.

Mrs. Wall's daughter, Mrs. George Silver, Jr., and two daughters, Jerome, were guests.

Mrs. Gordon Hill received a special gift, Mrs. Noble Arment was program chairman. The July 16 meeting is at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

Green Cap Program Held

The Women of the Moose held a meeting at the Moose Home for a special Green Cap program conducted by Mrs. Virgil Malone.

A program of piano selections was presented by Ardith Crumbliss.

Officers of the meeting were Mrs. Virgil Malone, senior regent; Mrs. Claude Severt, junior graduate regent; Ruby Murphy, junior regent; Mrs. Paul McCollum, guide; Mrs. Louis Hoffman, assistant guide, and Mrs. Gene Byner, sentinel.

Mrs. Melvin Dixon was elected as a new member and presented the by-laws of the chapter and a pin by her sponsor, Mrs. Tyner.

GROWN IN IDAHO FOR PEOPLE OF IDAHO

AVAILABLE AT YOUR FAVORITE GROCERY

New in town?
No, not really — just grown some.

This recent growth does make a difference.

In case you haven't heard, The Fidelity National Bank and The Idaho First National Bank have just merged.

So now we're one bank — Idaho's oldest.

As a matter of fact, Idaho First holds the second-oldest national charter issued west of the Rockies, way back in March of 1867. Even tho that early start may have been a factor, we like to think that the growth to Idaho's largest bank (54 offices) was more a result of customer-oriented services.

Progressiveness.

Professionalism.

There's no need to rush in to order new checks and other bank forms. We will continue to honor them under the Fidelity name as a convenience to our customers.

That's what banking is all about.

Customers — You.

Nice to know you.

FUTURE OF THESE attractive grounds at the Idaho Tuberculosis Hospital, in Gooding, is in question as the state institution officially closed July 1. Moving vans were at the facility today and remaining employees reported all was confusion as equipment was being moved. The last of the six patients had been transferred to a Spokane hospital. The hospital employed about 70 local employees and some of them will work in the new Gooding Nursing home.

SHOSHONE — Lookout stations within the Bureau of Land Management district here are now open for the summer season, reports Wallace Nilsson, fire control officer.

all, were transferred Wednesday to Edgecliffe Hospital, Spokane, following a decision by the State Board of Health earlier this year to close the institution July 1.

The patient load has dwindled over the years with the improvement in treatment of disease. At one time there were 120 patients, but the majority now are of the "in and out" variety.

Laboratory equipment from the hospital is being moved to Boise where it will be utilized in the Health Department TB central office where X-rays will be read. Other hospital equipment, such as beds, will be distributed to other medical centers for state use, or sold, but there will be no public sale hospital authorities said.

Zoo Medic Time For Living

Has Unique Jobs To Do

PORTLAND, ORE. (UPI) — Dr. B. Marlowe Dittbrandt has performed an autopsy on a hummingbird, taken blood samples from elephants and prided a bone from the mouth of a Bengal tiger.

She is not a veterinarian. She is a doctor of medicine and a clinical pathologist. Her job as laboratory supervisor for the Portland Zoo, however, covers a multitude of chores. "There isn't any information about normal blood sugar or tissue composition for animals," said Dr. Dittbrandt. "The only time you can get samples from an animal easily is when it's sick. We need samples of normal tissues so we know how they vary when the animal is sick."

She has found, for example, that a hummingbird is "all heart and liver" and birds in general "have a high blood sugar." She added, "That shouldn't be surprising. They have a higher metabolism rate than humans and would need more sugar."

Portland Zoo is famous for its elephant herd, one of the rarest places where elephants have been born in captivity and survived. It boasts 10 births since 1962. Dr. Dittbrandt's studies have included a sperm count on Thonglaw, the father of the growing younger generation, and vaginal smears from the cows along with efforts to determine the gestation period of elephants.

"It's sort of a joke around here," said Dr. Dittbrandt. "I haven't been very successful in my predictions." De Dittbrandt didn't set out to be a microbe hunter in a zoo. A native of La Grande, in eastern Oregon, she graduated from Washington State University with majors in pre-medicine and pharmacy.

After getting her M.D. from the University of Oregon Medical School, she set up practice in Portland in 1939. She also served as a hotel doctor and after five years of "drunks, drug addicts and neurotic women" she opened a clinical laboratory. She operated the laboratory until July of 1967, when she was asked to join the zoo staff in caring for 800 creatures.

She quickly found that "when animals are sick they aren't as difficult to take care of as humans." She cited the Bengal tiger. When Dr. Dittbrandt was called to the tiger cage one of the giant cats had a bone stuck in his mouth. The huge fangs had clamped into a soft portion of the bone and were stuck.

BY ROGERS FRANKLIN, Retirement Counselor. As I've remarked before, the decade gives us all an incentive to take a long look ahead. Our angle of vision gives us a perspective of 10 years instead of the usual one. We've already been deluged with predictions for the 1970's. The prophets have told us what to expect in every field from health to travel.

What about hobbies? To begin with, more people will be indulging in them. And most of us will have opportunities that never came our way before. Better health, for instance, means more spare time. Better incomes should provide the wherewithal to use that time in pleasant activities. Secondly, there will be more hobbies to indulge in. Take the retired executive who wants to be an amateur scientist. He'll find an increasing number of gadgets on the market to help him take the plunge into physics or chemistry or whatever his interest happens to be.

There's one hobby I haven't seen discussed yet. It could be the most relevant of all. I mean, "the American Revolution." We're coming up to the bicentenary of our War for Independence. A Presidential Commission is already at work preparing appropriate celebrations in 1976. The historians are turning out books on the subject.

This hobby is topical right now. The year 1970 marks exactly two centuries since the Boston Massacre. That's an appropriate starting point. Read up on the Massacre, and you'll find how the Boston mob got involved in a scuffle with British soldiers. You'll learn why the soldiers opened fire.

Israelis Prepare 'Water From Rock'

TEL AVIV (UPI) — In the Sinai Desert Israeli hydrologists and Bedouin laborers are today digging the hard way what the Bible says Moses did the easy way — producing water from rock in the wilderness.

According to the Book of Exodus (Chap. 17, Verse 6) God commanded Moses to strike with his rod the rock in horob. He did, and sweet water poured forth to slake the thirst of the Israelites as they wandered the Sinai wilderness after their flight from bondage in Egypt. Today, in the same area, the Israelis and their Bedouin helpers are doing the same thing. But their rods are drills and the going is tougher. It took them days, drilling and tacking-down at the rate of 10 inches a day, to reach water at 158 feet in solid granite.

The modern day Moses is a team of technocrats, headed by hydrologist Dr. Avraham Melamed, head of the Tel Aviv consultant-engineering firm of Tishin. (resourcefulness in English). In an interview Melamed said the first well sunk through the granite near the ancient monastery of St. Catherine, yields 3,200 cubic feet of fresh water a day and another being completed nearby promises to be six times as productive. Melamed is now in charge of 35 similar strikes for fresh water in the southern part of the Sinai Desert.

Government-inspired The Israeli government sponsored the surveys and the drilling in the barren and hostile land — which Israel captured from Egypt in the 1967 Middle East War. Only Bedouin, the Arab nomad tribes, used to roam this huge wasteland which stretches from the sand dunes along the Mediterranean, across the sandy plateau known as El Thi, to the barren mass of crystalline rocks known as Jebel Katherina, which rises 6,052 feet into the sunlight.

Cowboys Return To T.F. Thursday Night

Magic Valley To Host Second-Place Billings; Fireworks On Saturday

The undefeated Magic Valley Cowboys take on their closest competition tonight when they meet Billings in the first game of a six-day stand. The home series will be highlighted by the special Fourth of July fireworks display Saturday night.

The Cowboys, after two rare rainouts, came home with a 14-0 record, all of them posted against the Caldwell Cubs. With that being the case, it becomes conjecture on how the Cowboys stand with the rest of the league in caliber of talent. Billings, which won four of five from what the Giants believed was a good Great Falls club at the outset, may give a better clue as to what Manager Paul Snyder is working with.

Manager Snyder said so far he has been satisfied with his team's showing. They're still young boys, just out of high school. The thing I like best about them is their hustle and enthusiasm. We've had a couple of times when we went down late in the ball game and it didn't look like we had much of a chance. But the boys never let down and came back to pull out the wins. I've managed other teams in the Class A and rookie level and I've never seen one that didn't have a few players on it that would let down in situations like that.

Cubs End 12-Tilt Loss Skein, Blanking Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs scored four runs on two consecutive errors and three singles in the seventh inning and Ferguson Jenkins bludgeoned a four-hit shutout as the Chicago Cubs beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-0 Wednesday night and snapped a 12-game losing streak.

McLain's Return Is Less Than Wonderful, But Tigers Nip Yanks

DETROIT (UPI)—Mickey Stanley bounced a single up the middle to drive home Don Wert from third base with two out in the 11th inning Wednesday night to give the Detroit Tigers a 5-3 win over the New York Yankees and make a partial success of Denny McLain's first start since he was suspended from baseball three months ago.

A nearly 100 per cent pro-McLain crowd of 35,000—the largest number of fans in Tiger Stadium since 1961—swung their here pitch 5-1 innings and loved every rocky moment of it.

Wert struck out to open the 11th off losing Ron Klimkowski, 6-3, but reached first when catcher Thurman Munson could not handle the pitch which bounced in front of the plate. Horace Clarke committed his third error of the game to allow Ron Szatkewicz to reach first.

Like Brown then, batted for winning reliever Tom Timmerman—who picked up his second win in three decisions—and bunted both runners along. Steve Hamilton came on and got Dick McAuliffe, who had four straight hits, on a grounder to first—but Stanley followed with his winning single up the middle.

The "wild high" McLain was bombed out in the sixth inning when Bobby Murcer broke a 3-2 tie by lofting his 15th homer of the season onto the roof of the third deck. One out later, Danny Cater doubled and secretary Curt Heffley's second RBI single of the game to knock out McLain.

But Detroit got McLain off the hook by tying the game 5-5 in the seventh when pinch-hitter Rags Nagelson and McAuliffe singled off Jack Alker. Reliever Lindy McDaniel wild-pitched them up a base and they scored, successively on Stanley's grounder to Jerry Kenney at third and Al-Kalery's second sacrifice fly.

Twins 2, Royals 1

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Pitcher Rich Reese hit a sacrifice fly with the bases loaded in the 10th inning Wednesday night to give the Minnesota Twins a 2-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

McLain got a standing ovation from the estimated 50,000 enthusiastic fans at Tiger Stadium the first time he stepped out of the dugout. The ovation was repeated before and after he threw the first pitch, and at the end of the first three New York Yankees batters out in order.

But while the fans were all glad to see him, McLain's gammaters were slightly irked by all the fuss made by the 31 newsmen who had come to see what affect the three-month layoff would have on the two-time Cy Young Award winner's performance.

"This is the silliest thing I ever saw," said one member of the Tigers.

Catcher Bill Freehan, whose recently published book, "Behind the Mask," takes a few digs at McLain, joked with his battermate before the game.

Orioles 3, Indians 0

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Dave Johnson, Frank Robinson and Andy Etchebarren hit run-scoring singles to back the eight-hit pitching of Jim Palmer Wednesday night as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Cleveland Indians for the eighth consecutive time, 3-0.

Wart struck out to open the 11th off losing Ron Klimkowski, 6-3, but reached first when catcher Thurman Munson could not handle the pitch which bounced in front of the plate. Horace Clarke committed his third error of the game to allow Ron Szatkewicz to reach first.

Like Brown then, batted for winning reliever Tom Timmerman—who picked up his second win in three decisions—and bunted both runners along. Steve Hamilton came on and got Dick McAuliffe, who had four straight hits, on a grounder to first—but Stanley followed with his winning single up the middle.

Detroit Fans Happily Greet McLain's First Hurling Stint

DETROIT (UPI)—If they were any less than Donny McLain took the mound for the Detroit Tigers in his 1970 pitching debut Wednesday night they could not be heard—the cheers drowned them out.

McLain got a standing ovation from the estimated 50,000 enthusiastic fans at Tiger Stadium the first time he stepped out of the dugout. The ovation was repeated before and after he threw the first pitch, and at the end of the first three New York Yankees batters out in order.

Two Suggests Clay To Fight With Merritt

NEW YORK (UPI)—A familiar face will be in the ring July 4 at Charleston, S.C. for a charity exhibition fight.

Former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will don his fighter's garb for the first time since June 15, 1967, when he fought an exhibition against Al "Bulls" Lewis and Orville "Big Boy" Gault, and an early exhibition against Jeff Merritt from Miami, Fla.

Clay, 28, who had his title taken away from him when he refused to register for induction in the U.S. Army, is expected to utilize the fight as a launching pad for a possible title fight against Joe Frazier in Detroit in September.

Promoter Reggie Barrett has announced that the fighters will wear heavily padded gloves and headgear and that, even though the fight is a charity affair, Clay will be paid his traveling expenses.

Clay, who is currently free on bail until his case is decided, last fought a title bout March 22, 1967, when he knocked out veteran Zora Foley.

The exhibition, which will be staged in a 4,000-seat arena for $10, $6, and $4, will be telecast by the American Broadcasting Company on a delayed basis for its "Wide World of Sports" program.

Montreal Signs No. 1 Draft Pick

MONTREAL (UPI)—Barry Foote, of Smithfield, N.C., the Montreal Expos' No. 1 first agent-draft choice, signed with the team Wednesday.

The 18-year-old catcher was assigned to the Bradenton rookie club in the Gulf Coast League.

Before joining Bradenton, he is to come to Montreal for a workout with the Expos Sunday. The 6-foot-3, 265-pound Foote graduated this spring from Smithfield High School. He also played American Legion baseball there.

Angels 4, Brewers 3

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Jim Fregosi's two-run homer in the seventh inning snipped a 2-2 tie Wednesday night and lifted the California Angels to a 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Patterson Ruled Unfit To Fight

LONDON (UPI)—Swedish-bassed American boxer Ray Patterson, younger brother of former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, was ruled unfit by a British boxing doctor Wednesday night to meet British heavyweight Danny McAlinden in a bout scheduled for July 6.

Patterson arrived in London Monday with his jaw swollen because of an insect bite he got while working on his Swedish Father-in-law's farm. Penicillin injections and tablets failed to reduce the swelling, and a British Boxing Board doctor declared him unfit to fight.

Scullers To Shoot For Henley Record

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (UPI)—Tom McKibbin and John Van Glom, European double sculls champions from Long Beach, Calif., are at the Henley Royal Regatta to break a record.

"It may not be too gentlemanly of us," McKibbin said Wednesday, "but we'll be going all out if the conditions are right we'll try to record."

The Californian pair have next to no opposition in the Double Sculls Challenge Cup. Their first race does not come until Friday when they take on two unknown Britons.

"I guess Henley is unique, only here could you race against one other crew, all a limit and only have two pairs to beat in the whole competition," McKibbin said.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby
Counting Tricks Saves Contract
By Oswald & James Jacoby

If you are too lazy or superstitious to count up to 13, you will never win any major bridge competition but you can still enjoy the game.

North had no superstition about 13 but he did not like to bid either no-trump or a four-card major suit headed by the nine. Hence, his choice of the one-diamond response.

South's two no-trump rebid was eminently correct and North was delighted to raise to game. Not that North was optimistic. He did have two aces but it looked to him as if it would be up to his partner to produce the other seven tricks.

North made a comment to that effect as he put down the dummy, whereupon South assured him that there was a third trick concealed among North's cards.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three clubs, your partner has bid two spades in response to your double. What do you do now?

PASS IT ON
by L.M. Boyd

IF WHEN IN Vegas you bet $10 on every toss of the dice, you can expect to lose $333 an hour. Or so say the statisticians. TO ABOUT FOUR out of five of us, the red lights on cars always appear to be a little farther away than they actually are. THE MALE MOUSE wanders all over the place, but the female mouse rarely goes more than 50 feet away from her nest, and this is how it should be, certainly.

THE THIRTIES - Mozart composed "The Marriage of Figaro" at the age of 30. Thomas Jefferson put together the Declaration of Independence at 32. Albert Einstein came out with the theory of relativity at 37. William Shakespeare wrote "Hamlet" when 38. The foregoing facts are frequently cited by scholars to prove that creative men do their best work in their thirties.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q: "If a mouse could get social security, how old would it be before it could draw same?" A: We seem to be a little long on mice-items today, do we not? No matter. At about one year and a half a mouse would have longevity equivalent to our age 65. Q: "Neither snakes nor frogs close their eyes, right?" A: Snakes don't. They haven't any eyelids. However, frogs not only close their eyes, but do so every time they swallow. So do toads.

IN ANY GIVEN 24 hours, it's said, the average deer will be down in seven different places. Interesting. Am acquainted with a fellow like that. He should have been a deer, I think. His name is Jake, and at last report he was in a motel-at, never mind. "BE SPECIFIC, BOY," an old city editor said to me once. "Don't just tell me you've got backbones. Tell me you've got 26 vertebrae." That was Frank Ferguson of Spokane's "The Spokesman-Review." Fergy.

TEETH - The more money you make, the more dental cavities you get. So concluded researchers who undertook a survey of tooth trouble at government expense. Bunk! What they did was examine records in dentists' offices. All that proved is the more money you make, the more often you can afford to go to the dentist. Incidentally, the same survey concluded more women than men have bad teeth. Bunk again! More women than men have time to go to dentists.

GOING ON a long trip? All right, sir, put another pound of pressure in the tires. WHY - THE WOMEN of Japanese extraction worldwide show the least incidence of breast cancer has never been explained. Curious. REMEMBER, YOUNG FELLOW, if you want to shoot off your slingshot in Moscow, U.S.A., you've got to have a license.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON, wherever possible. Address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 2760, Santa Monica, Calif. 90403.

Fascist Youth Is Vexed

CHICAGO (UPI)—Frank Collins is a slender young man of 26 who often dresses in a khaki shirt with dark brown slacks tucked into high black boots. Every once in a while he will rub his five o'clock shadow or muss his Hitler hairdo.

Collin has been having troubles.

First, his father in April acknowledged himself to be Jewish. This was embarrassing, to Frank Collin, since he was at that time Midwest coordinator of the National Socialist White Peoples' party, formerly known as the American Nazi party.

His father was wrong, Frank Collin said. Even though Max Collin, now a South Side Chicago businessman, said he was born Max Collin in Germany and served time in a Nazi concentration camp, his son insisted it was all a terrible mistake.

Then, last month, the party's Arlington, Va., headquarters announced it had kicked Collin from its ranks because of reports he had received that he had Jewish relatives...we confirmed those reports.

That wasn't the way it was at all, Collin said in an interview this week. In the two-story South Side building which serves as his headquarters.

He wasn't fired, he said. Rather, he quit to take his small band of Chicago followers into a new neo-Nazi organization he chooses to call the National Socialist Party of America.

His old comrades know he is not Jewish, Collin said. But now "they're out to kill me because I know too much."

He said he decided to cut out on his own because of "treasonist elements" within the national party and "incompetent" officials in power since the slaying of its founder, George Lincoln Rockwell.

From now on, Collin said, his National Socialists will follow Rockwell's teachings to the letter and concentrate, among other things, on confrontations with the confrontation-prone Students for a Democratic Society.

As for that other bunch of American Nazis, Collin said, "Let them come. We're ready for them."

EISENHOWER USA

THIS POSTAGE STAMP honoring former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be issued with first-day ceremonies in Washington, D.C., sometime in August. It augments the Eisenhower commemorative stamp issued last October. Only 145 million commemoratives are printed; regular stamps are printed by the billions. The Eisenhower stamp, to be printed in blue, of "like" in civilian garb, is based on a Defense Department photograph. (UPI-telephone)

Hailey Student Will Appear In ISU Play

Judith McFarland, Hailey, will appear in "Patrick Hamilton's 'Angel Street,'" which runs July 1 through 4 in the Frazier Hall Little Theater at Idaho State University, Pocatello.

Presented by ISU Summer Theatre 1970, the play begins at 8:15 each evening. Admission is $1.50 with ISU student activity card holders admitted free. The Frazier hall box office is open from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 8:30 p.m. to curtain time the days plays are scheduled.

"Angel Street," also titled "Gas Light," is a thrilling Victorian melodrama and a demonic spellbinding mystery complete with villain, hero, lost jewels, and false identity in the "grand old manner," according to one reviewer.

Peck and C. Jeff Barlow, both Pocatello.

"Angel Street" will be followed this summer at ISU by "Birthday Party," an ominous drama by Harold Pinter that runs July 8 through 11 and July 17 and 18, and by "A Thousand Clowns," a comedy by Herb Gardner that runs July 15 and 16 and July 22 through 25.

French Fret Over British Elections

France weighs pros and cons of U.K. entry in Common Market.

By PAUL LEWIS

LONDON Financial Times-UPI PARIS—In Paris, as elsewhere, there is now some concern lest the surprise victory of Edward Heath and the Conservative party in the British general election makes it more difficult for Britain to join the Common Market rather than the reverse.

The argument is that the defeat of the Labor party will mean the end of a bipartisan approach to Europe in British politics. Whereas Labor's ex-Prime Minister Harold Wilson could have counted on the support from the Tories during the negotiations, it is considered quite on the cards that Heath will find himself harried by the official opposition as well as "Little Englanders."

Whatever its intrinsic merits, this analysis at least has the virtue of raising another more fundamental question—to what extent do the Common Market countries really want Britain in the community, and their readiness to bail out Heath if he gets into serious trouble at home over the membership terms.

All the signs are that the present French government will find a Conservative Britain far more attractive as a partner in the community than a Labor one. In the first place both parties have the same political complexion and thus a measure of instinctive affinity for each other.

With pressure increasing on the United States administration to reduce its military commitments in Europe, the French approach to defense obviously has been strengthened.

But while the Pompidou government and Conservatives may tend increasingly to speak

Candidate Castigates Samuelson's Policies

CALDWELL (UPI)—"Idaho should be run like a state for the benefit of the people," Republican gubernatorial hopeful Dick Smith said in Caldwell Tuesday.

Smith said incumbent Gov. Don Samuelson, who's slogan says he operates the state like a business, "fails to take into account the substantial differences between business and government."

Smith charged, "In fact, the current administration has displayed a noticeable lack of both government and business."

Speaking at a meeting of Republican supporters in Caldwell, Smith said, "Government is designed to produce dividends solely in human resources. Government is not designed to, and should not be allowed to, produce surplus funds in the state treasury."

Smith said the funds should be spent as investments for Idaho's future, not returning them to the treasury each year. "The dividends from our investment in education will appear in our educated, productive young people who can build a solid future for the state. The dividends from our investment in environmental control will be clean air and water, not dollars and cents."
