

Manson Trial Begins

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The state begins presentation of evidence today which it believes will send Charles Manson and three of his "family" to the gas chamber for seven murders whose motive was "as bizarre as the slayings themselves."

The "why" of the massacres at the homes of actress Sharon Tate and grocer Leno LaBianca has been one of the mysteries of the case, since the mutilated bodies were found the weekend of last Aug. 9.

Deputy District Attorney Vincent Bugliosi said he would reveal the prosecution's theory on that question in his opening statement.

"I frankly do not know whether we can convince the jury because the principal motivation was as bizarre as the slaying themselves," Bugliosi told newsmen.

Another mystery is what sort of defense will be offered for the 35-year-old hippie cult leader and the three young women co-defendants—Susan Atkins, Leslie Van Houten and Patricia Krenwinkel.

Paul Fitzgerald, one of the defense attorneys who will direct the courtroom tactics for all four, said that "surprise" was his key strategy.

Utah Awaits Nixon

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—President Nixon has top billing for today's Days of '47 celebration—a state holiday marking the entrance of Mormon pioneers into the Salt Lake Valley in 1847.

The chief executive is to arrive tonight for a visit with leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and to view an indoor rodeo at the new Salt Palace convention center.

Scheduled to accompany him are his wife, Pat, daughter Tricia, Housing Secretary George Romney, a Mormon who spent his boyhood years in Idaho and Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel. Romney and Hickel are to participate with Nixon in a Fargo, N.D., conference with Plains States' governors earlier today.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, also a native Utahn, arrived in Salt Lake City Thursday and will join the President tonight.

It will be Nixon's first visit to Utah as President and the first presidential visit since 1964, when Lyndon B. Johnson stopped at Salt Lake City.

Reps. Laurence J. Burton and Sherman P. Lloyd, both R-Utah, are expected to join Nixon at the Salt Lake International Airport when he arrives about 6 p.m.

FACES OF WAR are not always anguished. Soon she will go back inside her makeshift home for this girl at Duc Co, Vietnam, her doll and of oil drums and snappings and the workaday difficulties of war. (UPI)

Draft Reforms Deferred

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's plan to reform the draft law by ending all future student deferments will not be acted on during the current session of Congress, it appeared today.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has decided to put off any action on the proposed draft revision until after the current election year, it was learned.

He has referred the matter to a subcommittee where it will probably remain unless the Senate exerts some extraordinary pressure—regarded as unlikely.

Rivers revealed his course of action Thursday by telling the House that a subcommittee has started "a review of the entire draft law."

Rivers' action was supported by the House Republican leadership. House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, for one, has said he would favor to be convinced before he would favor an elimination of student deferments.

The immediate result of Rivers' decision, if it prevails, was that young men entering college next fall would be assured of deferments. Nixon's proposal would not have affected deferments already held by students.

"The current draft law does not expire until next June 30 and the Nixon administration has indicated it would seek an extension of the statute beyond that date because it would cost too much money to switch over to an all-volunteer Army that soon.

Government Falls U.S. Begins Withdrawal

ROME (UPI)—The center-left coalition that has ruled Italy on and off for the past seven years lay in ruins today. Chances for its reconstruction were remote.

The death knell for what was always an uneasy alliance was sounded by the announcement of failure by Premier-Designate Giulio Andreotti to form a new government.

The Christian Democrat conceded he could not mend the deep ideological and personal splits among the four parties of the coalition.

For 12 days, Andreotti tried to pull his own Christian Democrats and the Unitarian Socialists, Socialists and Republicans together to form the 32nd government in Italy since the fall of fascism in 1943.

He gave up Thursday and so informed President Giuseppe Saragat.

Leaders of all 10 parties in parliament conferred today before calling Saturday on Saragat to offer their opinions. After talking to them, the president will decide his next move.

SAIGON (UPI)—Lead elements of the U.S. 1st Marine Division have begun leaving Vietnam as part of President Nixon's "Phase Four" withdrawal of 50,000 more American GIs from the war zone, military spokesmen said today.

An official announcement said Leathernecks from two engineer battalions and one bridge company assigned to the division are in the process of leaving Da Nang for Camp Pendleton, Calif. The three units total 1,025 men.

Swath Surveyed

BURLEY — Gov. Don Samuelson inspected crop damages today in the wake of Tuesday's hailstorm and called for a state-federal effort to compensate farmers.

He made no promise of immediate state aid.

Gov. Samuelson arrived Friday morning by helicopter, landing at the Kenyon Farms in the center of the storm belt between Burley and Oakley. He earlier flew over the entire 20-mile belt in Cassia county and looked over some of the Hansen and Hazelton storm damage enroute.

He said he found damage far worse than he had anticipated from earlier verbal reports. After the flight, he went on an automobile tour of nearby farms to inspect corn, grain, bean, sugar beet and potato damage.

Hall pounded crops to the ground in Magic Valley Tuesday afternoon causing damage estimated at $8 million. Earlier the Governor had said he felt there was no need to declare an emergency status as federal agencies have facilities for meeting problems through regular operations.

His comments following the Friday inspection indicated he still favors this course of action and the governor pledged his full support and that of his staff in aiding the farmers to work with federal agencies.

Gov. Samuelson said he would have representation at a Monday night meeting being arranged by State Rep. Jim Martin. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Ponderosa Inn, Burley, and farmers from throughout the four county area are urged to attend.

Farmers Home Administration officials will be on hand to answer questions and offer assistance to farmers in making application for financial assistance to cover crop loss.

An explanation of the program available and qualifications for aid will be offered, he said, as well as information on how and where to make application.

Mr. Martin urged all farmers of the Hansen, Hagerman, Hazelton, Burley, Paul and Buhl areas to attend the meeting. He said any who suffered crop damage should attend.

Fred Johnson, FFA representative from Burley, made the Friday tour with the governor pointing out the boundaries of the damage area and the crops involved.

At one of the farms, he presented a bowl of hail stones collected Tuesday and placed in a freezer as storm evidence. He said they were the largest he had seen.

Mr. Johnson said he has been advised by Don Winder, director of FFA, Boise, that applications are now being accepted from farmers whose crops were hit.

Following his Burley crop inspection tour, Gov. Samuelson left for Hagerman where he planned to attend the Pioneer Day celebration.

Campus Deaths Avoidable

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—An FBI report on the killing of four Kent State University students concludes that the incident could have been avoided and National Guard troops involved could face criminal charges, the Akron Beacon Journal said Thursday.

The Department of Justice in Washington confirmed that the 7,500 word report had been completed and sent to President Nixon, but refused Thursday to divulge its contents.

The Beacon Journal said the report concluded that the shootings were "not necessary and not in order" and the students could have been dispersed by tear gas or arrests. It also said there was no hail of rocks or projectiles before the shooting began and that "guardsmen" were injured.

Ohio Adjutant General S. T. del Corso said "a lot of Guardsmen out there were hurt by rocks and other objects thrown at the time," while his aide, Col. J. E. McCann said, "I take exception to any alleged statement that nobody was throwing rocks. I have seen television films of the situation. It clearly shows people throwing rocks."

The Beacon Journal said the report stated the Guardsmen who fired the fatal shots could be prosecuted if it was determined riot conditions did not exist at the time of the May 4 disturbance.

It said the FBI had the name, rank and serial number of six Guardsmen it alleges fired the fatal shots.

The Justice Department will determine whether charges will be filed under federal law, but will wait and see if charges are filed by local or state authorities, a spokesman said.

No More 'Mafia'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney General John N. Mitchell, with President Nixon's approval, has banned the terms "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra" from the government's vocabulary.

Mitchell said the terms are offensive to many Italian-Americans, and they will not be used in future governmental news releases, speeches or public statements.

Mitchell prefers the term "organized crime."

Hear Students, Nixon Advised

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A special White House adviser on campus problems urged President Nixon Thursday to go out of his way to try to understand students, minority groups and others he said fear the country is entering an era of repression.

Alexander Heard, chancellor of Vanderbilt University who has been working with the White House since the campus disorder erupted in May following the U.S. intervention in Cambodia, made that his No. 1 recommendation.

Heard was assisted by Dr. James E. Cheek, president of predominantly black Howard University in Washington. The White House made public Thursday some of their bluntly phrased memos to the President.

In the memos, they suggested that the administration's best course would be to lower tensions on the campuses and then devote itself to programs which would get at the root causes of the problems which disturb students and others.

First among the recommendations was "that the President increase his exposure to campus representatives including students, faculty, and administrative officers so that he can better take into account their views and the intensity of those views in formulating domestic and foreign policy."

They made parallel suggestions that the President should get to know and understand the views of "the black community and other racial minorities" and "certain groups in our country" who fear repression of political and social dissent will become national policy.

They also called on Nixon to "use the moral influence of his office in new ways designed to reduce racial tensions and develop climate of racial understanding."

They urged steps to improve two-way communications with the campuses and "to increase involvement of blacks in domestic policy formation."

61 Died at Lost Base

SAIGON (UPI)—The 23 days of fire support base Ripcord's existence cost the U.S. units guarding it 61 men killed and 345 wounded, with military spokesmen listing Communist losses today as "very heavy."

Swarms of American helicopters whirled through a fusillade of guerrilla fire Thursday to evacuate the U.S. 101st Airborne Division outpost overlooking the A Shau Valley, a North Vietnamese infiltration route from Laos in South Vietnam's northwest corner.

In a statement announcing the base had been abandoned, the U.S. Command said North Vietnamese forces suffered "very heavy casualties and material losses" around Ripcord. No figures were given.

A North Vietnamese ambush that killed 12 paratroopers and wounded 51 outside the base Wednesday apparently led to the decision to give up the outpost. The ambushers left behind no bodies.

Demolition experts blew up the base's bunkers and destroyed its big guns Thursday during the evacuation.

Commons Gassed

LONDON (UPI)—Police today charged a 28-year-old unemployed laborer in the CS gas attack that sent 300 lawmakers coughing and sputtering Thursday from the House of Commons.

The man, identified as James Anthony Roche, was appearing in court this morning on charges of possessing a prohibited weapon under Section 5 of the 1968 Firearms Act. Roche was expected to enter a plea in court unless police asked a delay to gather more evidence.

Shocked members of Parliament talked of stiffer security arrangements for the commons, but government chief whip Francis Pym warned against too strict precautions, saying "this would be utterly foreign to all our ideas."

Prime Minister Edward Heath and former Prime Minister Harold Wilson had just left the half-filled chamber at 4:34 p.m. when a man in a red T-shirt and jeans got up in the third row of the public gallery and threw the two sputtering canisters 90 feet to the floor below.

Many lawmakers thought the canisters were hand grenades and dived for cover. Then one of them shouted, "It's gas! Get out!" A mad scramble began for the doors. Security men grabbed the suspect, who threw up his hands in a surrender gesture.

The commons speaker, Dr. Horace King, 60, slumped in his chair, overcome by fumes and unable to move. He was rescued by Sir Robert Grant-Ferris, 63, who said later, "I had to go back for him. He was in a bad way."

Firemen later removed the gas canisters in waste baskets and commons recovered at 8:30 p.m.

Smith Cites Samuelson Campaign Duplicity

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

Through his campaign literature Gov. Don Samuelson is taking credit for programs he did not favor or actively support. The program being followed by his administration will inevitably mean higher taxes for the state.

So said Dick Smith, Republican gubernatorial candidate, as he visited Twin Falls and other Magic Valley areas and in an interview with this writer.

Mr. Smith, the Governor's only Republican opponent in the Aug. 4 primary, was extremely critical of the state's present chief executive, his program and campaign statements.

"In the present time a very extensive brochure has been circulated on behalf of the Governor's campaign," Mr. Smith says.

"It claims credit for the increase in monies available for public schools, for public health advances, for college and university progress and many other state services," Mr. Smith said.

The facts are that he voted against the sales tax which made all this possible, and he vigorously opposed the appropriations for these services made in the Legislature. In fact he criticized the Legislature for passing them."

Mr. Smith said he "could not take credit personally for something someone else has done. If all the other senators had voted the way the Governor did when he was a senator, our property tax would be double right now."

Mr. Smith said this also would have meant there would have been no new building program in the state, and no state money available for the College of Southern Idaho.

Many higher educational institutions probably would have been closed and "the public health services of Idaho would be less than half of what they are now," he said.

The program of Gov. Samuelson has been one of negative criticism instead of positive leadership.

During the interview, and at a major address delivered Thursday to members of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club at the Turf Club, Mr. Smith took a direct slap at the State Department of Administrative Services, praised by the Governor. He said the Governor "tries to justify the waste of tax money on complex administrative structures."

"The Governor has said he would run the state like a business," Mr. Smith said. "He has conducted the most unbusinesslike administration in our history."

"He refused to submit an accurate estimate of revenue and he frustrated the efforts of a good Legislature, catching them to work without a sound set of priorities for state spending. Further, he recommended the use of the so-called surplus money."

Just the day before, Mr. Smith asked the State Personnel Commission to investigate "certain unwholesome political activities by persons employed in the Department of Administrative Services."

He referred to a memorandum sent to Building Services Division employes by Administrator Lloyd Cook. The memorandum cautioned that

"regretless of your political party preference, and we don't care what it is because it is your own personal business, you should know the truth about the department under which you work."

The memorandum also said statements made by candidates for governor "on both sides of the political fence" were either issued "from ignorance of the facts or are deliberate falsehoods" attempting to mislead you and me, the voters of Idaho.

Mr. Smith claimed the memorandum, issued on government paper and with the use of government printing machines, "was an undignified political attack on my candidacy for public office, was untrue in most instances and was a clear attempt by Mr. Cook to use his official authority of influence for the purpose of interfering with an election, or a nomination for office."

He asked for Mr. Cook's dismissal or reduction in rank at the Kiwanis meeting in Twin Falls he was introduced by State Rep. Ray Lincoln.

T.F. Teacher Dies

Jaunita Sutcliff, 62, Twin Falls, home economics teacher at Twin Falls High School for 25 years, died early today in the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital of a long illness.

Miss Sutcliff was born Dec. 20, 1887, in Scott County, Kans., and lived in Jewell County, Kans. most of her early life. She received a bachelor of science degree in home economics from Kansas State University.

She continued her education in later years, attending Teachers College, Columbia University, New York; Oregon State College, Corvallis, Ore.; Colorado State College, Ft. Collins, Utah State University, Logan, and Kansas State College.

She taught school one year in a country school and eight years as home economics teacher in Sumner County High School, Wellington, Kan. For one year during World War I she served as home demonstration agent in Cowley County, living in Winfield, Kan.

In Idaho, Miss Sutcliff taught home economics in the Pocatello three years then moved to Twin Falls for 23 years in the same position.

She was a member of the Valley Christian Church and the Christian Women's Fellowship. A member of the PEO Sisterhood, Chapter 2, she was also active in the Retired Teachers Association, Order of Eastern Star, Republican Women's Club, Historical Society and Saintpauls Club.

Surviving are a place, Mrs. Egan (Barbara) Dentler, Twin Falls; two nephews, Dr. Robert J. Sutcliff, California, and Robert M. Sutcliff, Kansas; and was preceded in death by a brother, Dr. Robert A. Sutcliff, former Twin Falls teacher.

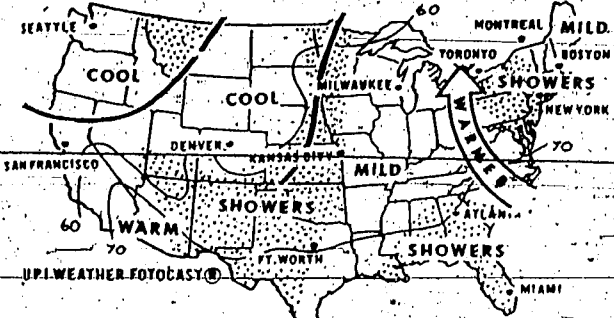

Funeral services for Miss Sutcliff will be conducted Monday at 11 a.m. in the West Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Leslie Brown. Burial will be in the Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery.

Weather Synopsis

With a few exceptions, the fair and mild weather of the past few days will continue. A weak surface front presently located over the eastern areas of Oregon and Washington, will move over Idaho today and into Wyoming by tonight, giving some variable cloudiness and a chance of showers or thundershowers over and near the mountains. The high temperatures will range generally in the low 80's to the low 90's as a result of the short wave associated with the front and of cloudiness. Overnight lows will range from the mid 40's to the mid 50's.

The high temperatures yesterday were in the mid 70's to mid 80's with lows this morning in the low 40's to the low 50's.

Injured Man Asks Damages

A damage suit against George Edward Green Jr., Joe Uruguén, doing business as J and U Auto Sales, and Abbie Uruguén Buick-Oldsmobile, has been filed in Fifth District Court by a party injured in a May 27, 1970 traffic accident seven miles east of Twin Falls.

Widow Files Court Action

A damage suit resulting from a June 18, 1970, traffic death in Bingham County has been filed in Fifth District Court, Twin Falls, by the widow of the victim.

Prisoner Put On Probation

George Edward Green Jr., Salt Lake City, was released on probation Thursday from the Twin Falls County Jail, where he had served 65 days for driving while his license was suspended—and driving—while intoxicated.

On the driving while intoxicated charge, Probate Court suspended $75 of his fine and he must pay $75 fine and $5 costs before Oct. 31, 1970. The remainder of his jail time also was suspended.

On the driving while intoxicated charge, for which he was sentenced out of Justice Court, Green was serving out his fine at the time he was put on probation. An accounts receivable system was put into effect for the remainder of the fine, minus good time and days served.

Downtown Project not Going Slowly, Just Seems that Way

If it seems to local shoppers and business owners that things are going slowly in the downtown Twin Falls improvement project, it's not that way at all. So says City Manager Joan Miller, who explained Friday most of the improvements now being installed are going underground and do not show any apparent improvement.

These include such items as signal controls for traffic, irrigation systems, telephone lines and controls and storm drains.

Although it may not appear so, the program actually is moving well within the schedule, the city manager explained.

Turf at Fairground Damaged

FILER — A car circling utility poles on the Twin Falls County Fair Grounds Wednesday evening left impressions in the wet sod, but little if any damage was believed to have been done.

Mrs. Tom Shouse, whose husband is fair secretary, observed the car driving on the lawns about 5 p. m. Wednesday. Some grass was torn up when the car went across a ditch while attempting to leave the scene.

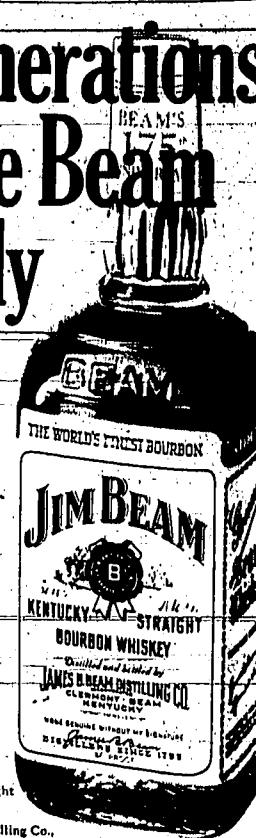

Granted Degrees to Women

Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, Holy Cross, a liberal arts school for women near South Bend, Ind., was the first Catholic college in the United States to grant degrees to women.

Mall type construction requires a number of unique installations, Mr. Miller said. One item required is a root guard for each tree. This will keep the tree roots from spreading and moving toward the surface to crack or otherwise damage concrete and asphalt. Such items will be brought to the improvement area and installed before sidewalks and streets are completed.

Protectionism

Congress apparently is ready to raise a wall of protection around American businesses which are finding it difficult if not impossible to compete in the free market with imports made in modern plants, in many cases built by American aid, by labor willing to work for less than its American counterpart.

Tariff Act might prove salutary. The legislation went far beyond recommendations of the Administration to the highest tariff levels in history. Retaliation was not long in coming as other nations reacted with their own protective measures and world trade went into a decline that continued until the United States changed its policy.

The House Ways and Means Committee has approved mandatory quotas on imports of textiles, apparel and shoes and standby authority for the President to limit imports of any other commodities deemed to injure or to threaten injury to an American industry. This is the initiation of protectionism on a broad scale, and while the committee decisions are subject to review during the legislative process, approval appears to be only a matter of time.

The United States long has prided itself on being a stronghold of free enterprise and the birthplace of mass production, ready, able and willing to take on all comers in the marketplace.

President Nixon, reluctant to discard the nation's free trade policies of the last 37 years, nevertheless has withdrawn opposition to textile quotas, and Congress now appears disposed to build a dike against many imports. A look back to 1930 when Congress passed the Hawley-Smoot

Have we reached the point so soon where we are unable to compete for the world's business? Or, is it because of the muscles free enterprise developed have atrophied in an era of easy affluence?

History does not lend its support to the solution being considered by Congress. Therefore, we believe industry and government should use all their ingenuity and vaunted "know how" to find other means to meet the situation before making an effort to turn the clock back to 1930.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — No one who has been confined in an Asian penitentiary is going to defend any one of them. During World War II, this reporter spent six months in solitary confinement, in an Asian prison. There was one warden who (apparently for the sheer joy of it) would systematically walk from one cell to the next, opening the door, then moving in and beating the prisoner whose screams could be heard through the block of perhaps 120 cells. When he finished in the first cell, the policeman would move to the next one, and the next until he had gone through all the cells 30 or more cells of a morning. This was not because the prisoners were raising a ruckus. Except for the screams from the beatings, all was silent in this block of cells. In another Asian country this reporter once had himself voluntarily locked up with the prisoners (leaving the jailers outside) — so that he could have frank talks with the prisoners without their fearing reprisals. The situation in this prison, too, would make any man weep. The filth was indescribable. The brutality of some jailers was out of some sadist moving picture. These experiences make some of the reports about Con Son believable to me.

Cruel and inhuman treatment must not and cannot be condoned. But that is a far cry from statements such as that made by Congressman Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., who stated publicly: "Con Son is a symbol of how some American officials will co-operate in corruption and torture because they, too, want to see the war continued and the government they put in power protected." Whatever our shortcomings, this reporter submits that statement is untrue. For the past several years the United States in Vietnam has spent a great deal of time and considerable sums of money aimed at improving the lot of prisoners. We have built dispensaries, toilets and better mess facilities. Our people have spent much effort and money, helping the South Vietnamese develop prison work programs in farming, sewing, carpentry and other trades. Take the approximately 10,000 prisoners at Con Son, for example. As a result of these efforts, approximately 1,500 prisoners work daily on farms outside the prison and 1,100 more work at vocations within the penitentiary. (This is in addition to 2,000 trustees who live outside the walls.)

Last year the United States and South Vietnam cooperated in an investigation of prison conditions which resulted in four prison jai-lers being thrown out for brutality and nine fired for extortion of prisoners and other crimes. This isn't much, but it is something. Partly as a result of U.S. efforts, the "tiger cells" at Con Son had been closed about a year and a half ago. They were reopened in December, 1969, because inmates at another prison had set fire to and destroyed their own prison buildings. The hard-core rioters, who had set the fire and some others, were therefore crowded into Con Son — and into the tiger cells. Now these things do not excuse brutality at Con Son. But neither do they indicate the United States is "cooperating" in corruption and torture. One answer to the problem, this reporter believes, is to make it possible to increase the overworked 11-man American staff now working with 41 Vietnamese prisoners. These men now spread so thin and have been working so hard at improving the physical conditions of prisons, they have not had adequate time for thorough inspection.

Choking Spells

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a friend, aged 44, who has been choking spells night or day. You think he is not going to get his breath back. Is there something to do for it? — A.F.

Dear Doctor: The woman going to this district have a yarn going around that tomatoes are full of acid and therefore harmful. The only acid I ever heard of is ascorbic acid (vitamin C). Can you give us men something definite? — S.K.

Yes, there's something to do for it — but the first order of business is to find out what causes these choking fits. That means he'd better go to the doctor for diagnosis. Some causes are relatively harmless ones; others require sophisticated treatment. Some people have such an active gag reflex that they gag and choke when having a throat examination or dental work done and they have to have medication at such times to relax them. Some choke because of a defect in the esophagus or gullet — a tumor or a diverticulum, for example. To find this requires X rays. Sometimes a defect in the larynx or even a neurological problem that interferes with the swallowing mechanism can be responsible. People who frequently choke at mealtimes but not other times usually do so because they eat too fast and don't chew food sufficiently, especially meat. Some so-called fatal "heart attacks" at the table subsequently are found to have been suffocation from choking on food. Finally, a very common cause is irritation from long years of smoking. Membranes become red and irritated, and excessive phlegm (mucus) is produced. This can result in choking spell. When that is the case, there is one answer: give up smoking, after which the irritation subsides. And the choking. Same day your letter arrived, so did the following one.

Tomatoes are classed as a citrus vegetable, just as oranges, lemons, limes, and grapefruit are citrus fruits. The all contain citric acid as well as ascorbic acid which is, as you say, vitamin C. It is a very mild acid. The citric acid may sting a little if you have an open cut on your lip or in your mouth, but it does no harm. The acidity, however, is promptly converted by your digestive processes, leaving an alkaline ash or residue. The acidity of these foods is trifling when compared to the acidity of stomach juices — which have to be able to digest your food. (That's hydrochloric acid in the stomach, and people who because of pernicious anemia or other ailments lack enough of this acid have a lot of digestive trouble.) Neither tomatoes nor oranges and the other citrus fruits are harmful. (Occasionally a person may be sensitive to one or more of them, but that's an individual idiosyncrasy and in no way detracts from the food value of tomatoes.)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send your booklet, "Tips On How To Stop Smoking," for me. — Mrs. F.W.W.

Note to Mrs. F.W.W.: I'm sorry, but I don't know of any "vitamin" or medication that will cure a spouse's crabby disposition.

Three-Day School

A member of Congress from Illinois came up with a proposal the other day for a three-day school week.

Before all the mothers throw up their hands in horror and start organizing marches on Washington, it should be pointed out that Rep. Roman Pucinski didn't mean to turn the moppets loose on the other two days.

It's only that he thinks too much emphasis is put on so-called "academic" education and too little on teaching youngsters how to do skilled jobs below the professional level.

That's what he would use the other two days of the school week for. Junior would study reading, writing and arithmetic, as well as whatever else it is kids study in school these days, for three days. The other two days he would be getting job training.

If this worked out as the congressman envisions it, we might eventually produce a sufficient number of plumbers, paperhangers, auto mechanics, TV repairmen and other artisans.

Travel Is Up

More Americans are traveling overseas this year than any year ever before, a whopping 19.6 per cent more. But fewer are traveling first class. How come? Frances Knight, capable director of the State Department's passport division, says never in her 50 years there has she seen such an avalanche of passport applications. Presently Mrs. Knight's department is processing 14,500 applications per day. Significantly, overseas airline bookings are not keeping pace, but charter flights (economy tours) are up. American Express reports a decline in demand for luxury accommodations, deluxe tours. The larger numbers of international travelers are a different class of tourists than heretofore. Many are college-agers to whom inconvenience is no deterrent. Some will sleep in doorways and wash their clothes in embassy washrooms. First-class travel has been discouraged by several factors: the erratic stock market, worldwide political upheavals and increasing resentment of Americans. Time was when a Yankee dollar would buy a smile, however insincere, almost anywhere. Not any more. Now you'll pay $10 for a half-hour rickshaw ride — and no smile. In congested downtown Calcutta a dozen beggars await every time your car stops. One, seeking a handout, may stick a stump-of-an-arm through your car window while carrying a hunger-bloated baby in the other arm. In Rome, everything you want to see is a bus or cab ride from the hotel and buses and cabs are strikebound. Paris in the spring is fragrant only with uncollected garbage. And almost everywhere hotel accommodations have eroded and services are less. The increasing volume of travelers means a longer wait to clear customs, to exchange money, to use public toilets. My associates, newsmen who necessarily travel almost constantly, protest, "It isn't fun any more."

Europe and the Mediterranean, says, "Never again!" In our own country, the "fun city" of New York is no fun after dark.

More and more, Americans who can afford real luxury are vacationing at their own lake cottages or our own local resorts.

ANDREW TULLY

The Big Coup

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's foreign policy strategists are putting together a grand design for Asia that — if successful — could be the biggest international coup of the administration. Under Nixon's direction, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Henry Kissinger, the President's No. 1 foreign policy adviser, and others are trying to set up a kind of United States of Asia as a barrier to Communist aggression. Governments being consulted are those of South Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Malaysia, the Philippines and Indonesia. Among other aspects, the alliance eventually would have some of the characteristics of the European Common Market, with a common trade policy and a free exchange of currency. But for the immediate future the plan is aimed at providing an "establishment of self defense" against the day when the U. S. military presence will come to an end in Southeast Asia. Washington appears to have made it plain to the nations involved that there is no alternative to the grand design. Secretary Rogers put it in diplomatic language during his recent tour of the area, but his message was plain: The time has come for those nations to defend themselves with their own bodies. Meanwhile, Rogers brought firm assurances that the United States would contribute both military and economic aid, starting with a $1 billion fund, if the governments succeeded in building a viable and operative self-defense mechanism. Administration sources say a modest start already has been made with Thailand's assurances; to Cambodia that she would come to Cambodia's defense if necessary; the Thai regime has agreed to begin training some 10,000 Cambodian soldiers on Thai territory, and has started delivery of uniforms and other equipment, excluding weapons, for 50,000 men. The governments of South Vietnam and Laos are reported to have given their enthusiastic approval to the design. In its precarious position, Cambodia is eager to embrace any scheme that would save its life. Most of the dickering, and gentle persuasion, is aimed at the governments of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines. Malaysia is inclined to stick to its neutrality. Its politicians hesitate to get involved in anything that would draw the attention of Communist China. But Malaysia is a peninsula, not an island. Any successful drive by Peking into Southeast Asia would land Red troops at Malaysia's back door, and Kuala Lumpur doesn't have the financial resources to defend itself. Indonesia and the Philippines also are showing caution. Like Malaysia, they already enjoy the luxuries of peace and they would prefer to avoid a commitment obviously aimed at the Chinese giant. But, again like Malaysia, both have a stake in what happens to South Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia and Thailand. Indeed, after Sukarno's dalliance with Peking, Indonesia has an almost paralytic fear of Communists. And, with the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Southeast Asia, the Philippines' left flank would be unprotected. The strategy is all of course well flavored with wishful thinking. As one White House source remarked, "So far it's mostly talk. There's an awful long way to go. But at least everybody's talking, and showing interest. That shows they acknowledge that there's a problem. Ten years ago, they would have laughed in our face."

MR. SPECTATOR

Our Hero Passeth

Mr. Spectator was really shocked by the revelation in SEEN this week that Paul Ostin, the local school official and city councilman, was sporting a mustache.

Shocked! That would put it mildly. We can remember Paul as the crew cut, clean shaven, hard nosed basketball-football coach at the Twin Falls High School back in 1961-62-63 or so. We can also remember that Paul would look up at the aspirants to the football or basketball team and, walking down the long line, look each athlete in the eye and say one of two things: Either "Get that hair cut" or "Your hair is fine."

And the boys who were told to get the hair cut got it cut or they didn't play. To our knowledge not one boy refused to have the crew cut.

There were no youngsters in Paul's day as local coach who hid their face behind long hair or who, dribbling up and down the floor, resembled a head full of flags fluttering in the wind, or with heads under a helmet showed a ruffe of hair at the sides or back. Ostin athletes were clean-cut!

And now after all these years, Mr. Ostin has busted Mr. Spectator's hero worship bubble. He has a mustache!

Oh, please, someone, tell us that it was all a mistake, that thing we read in SEEN. Please tell us it just ain't so. Tell us that Paul hasn't gone the way of all flesh — today, that is!

A REAL DEAL

"Good news for everybody," announces a press release from Southern Illinois University. The Illinois Nature Preserves Commission "is within a pen's stroke of acquiring for posterity one of the most eerily beautiful pieces of landscape in southern Illinois," the 1,200-acre Heron Pond Swamp near Vienna.

"Great news for the nesting colonies of great blue herons and American egrets," says the release. "Great news, too, for the vultures and cottonmouths there, and for those people who enjoy such things as massive bald cypress trees and the silent, primeval places where they grow."

Not to make fun of the conservationists, it is probably great news also for whoever is unloading the eerie swamp.

Joint Facilities For Law Agencies Studied

Two law enforcement heads from Twin Falls have returned from Logan, Utah, where they inspected a combined city-county law enforcement building similar to that being proposed in Twin Falls County. Sheriff Paul Corder and Chief Frank Bennett made the day-long trip Wednesday to the Cache County Jail at Logan. The facility, constructed in the early 1960's was not originally planned as combined agency housing, Chief Barnett said, and as a result the two departments are extremely short on space. The Utah State Police department also has a small office in the facility.

The sheriff and police chief made the trip at the request of city and county commissioners and a planning commission which has been set up to study the feasibility of combining law enforcement facilities in Twin Falls.

It has been proposed that some services of the two departments, communications, records, laboratory, etc., could be combined.

Sheriff Corder said at this time he is convinced that if the combination did occur, the two departments should have separate offices and continue to operate as they now are — each with its own radio operator, records file and laboratory. He does, however, advocate continuing close cross-access to departmental records — a practice now used by the two local agencies.

From a financial standpoint, Sheriff Corder also is primarily in favor of retaining the old sheriff's office and county jail. He feels a much smaller output can result in expanding jail facilities to provide for the future.

Both officers felt the trip was "well worth the effort." "I can see where they (Cache County) had some real good ideas — and some not-so-good ideas" in the combined facility, Chief Barnett said.

This is the only outside facility which the two law men have plans to visit at this time. The City of Logan and Cache County are about the same size as the City of Twin Falls and the County of Twin Falls as any other in the immediate area. The populations are close, the city has a college and the area's prime industry is farming.

Driver Improvement Needs Outlined By Judge Maughn

Needs for establishing a driver improvement program in Twin Falls County were emphasized Friday by Justice of the Peace Reed P. Maughn, who said such a facility would help many of the accident-causing motorists on the highways today.

Just returned from the National Traffic Conference in Denver, Colo., Judge Maughn also noted the students and other concerned young people who are protesting the Vietnam war would do well to turn their interests toward the alarming rise in traffic casualties.

He said some of the figures presented during the national conference were astounding. For example, he noted the Vietnam war casualty list in 1969 totaled 15,000, but more than 50,000, or more than three times as many persons, died on the nation's highways. All of these deaths, he said, are unnecessary, and far too many are caused by the drunken driver.

Noting the driver improvement training would probably not reach this type of violator, he said there are however, many young, elderly and inexperienced drivers who could be "sentenced" to a driver improvement course and if able to pass the requirements following, the training could retain a drivers license where they are now losing them.

The training would be beneficial, he added, in bringing overall driver ability in the area to a higher level.

Now, only the young driver is exposed to any training, and this through the school programs, Mr. Maughn noted. He said those attending the conference, including judges, prosecutors and law enforcement officials, pledged their efforts to working in their own localities for better highway maintainers and improved driver statistics.

Increases in drunken drivers or "social drinkers" on the highways were also pointed out by Judge Maughn. Nationwide, he said, one out of every 50 drivers you meet on the highway is drunk. In Idaho, this may be somewhat less, but it is on the increase, he warned.

Statistics from the conference, Mr. Maughn added, revealed drunken drivers, through the lives lost and property damage, cost every taxpayer in the country $240. "And if you have a wife or husband, your tax bill, thanks to drunken drivers, increases to $480 for the family," Judge

Maughn added.

As for accidents which occur in the night time, 90 per cent are traced to drunken drivers.

Mr. Maughn, who handles a large percentage of the traffic violation cases of the county, says he has some interesting statistics of his own, and based on these feels some intersections require special attention. The intersection of U.S. 30 with the road leading into Kimberly causes some driver-confusion, he said, and should be marked off U.S. 30 as a "dangerous" corner, as many vehicles pulling onto the highway from the south do not have time to see approaching vehicles from the east.

Another dangerous intersection, he said is where U.S. 93 and U.S. 30 meet, west of Twin Falls. Here, again, a hill blinds drivers until almost to the intersection. Mr. Maughn said the solution should be up to the engineers and traffic experts, but some type of caution is needed as vehicles approach from the west.

As to his recommendation for a driver improvement program, Judge Maughn said he plans to investigate available funds under the Omnibus Crime Bill for possible financing of such a service.

ANOTHER TALENT GUIDE PRODUCTION

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have gone with one man for the past 10 years. He couldn't marry me for the first 5 years because he had to support his mother. Well, his mother died, so he found another reason. He wanted to be clear of all his debts. Next he wanted to buy a boat! [I let him have $1,400.]

Anyway, he says I'm the only one for him and in the meantime he is getting awfully hard to find. Last Friday night he rushed me home the said he had a "headache" and said he wasn't going to go much on the week-end. I didn't hear from him, and his car was gone. He still owes me $1,400 which he never even mentions. I have cried my eyes out, Abby, and I can't eat or sleep. He knows how much I love him. What should I do now?
ONE MAN WOMAN

DEAR ONE: Collar the heel and ask him what land who is new? If it's the end of the romance, it's better to know it now than to kid yourself for another 10 years. Also be prepared to write off the $1,400 as "tuition in the school of experience." And finally, brace yourself for a farewell to arms. Hlls.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and my girl friend is 19. She's a beautiful girl and a very nice one, but her pucker power is zero. In other words, she doesn't know how to kiss. I don't want to hurt her feelings, but maybe if you put this in your column she'll see it...
JACK THE LIPPER

DEAR JACK: Maybe the "power failure" is yours. Check your transmitter. You could have a dead battery.

DEAR ABBY: This is for that nurse who complained because whenever she appeared in her uniform in a supermarket, cafeteria or while waiting for a bus, strangers would ask her for medical advice. To wear the uniform in such places, not only degrades its symbolism, but it also renders the cost of such uniforms ineligible as a tax deduction.
A NURSE IN TUTTLE, IDAHO

DEAR NURSE: You are correct, of course. And I imagine no one jets away with very much in Tuttle, Idaho.

DEAR ABBY: A letter appeared in your column from a bride, asking whether to invite her father and his "new" wife to her wedding. The bride said that since there had been ill feelings about her parents' divorce and her father's remarriage, the "new" wife would probably have the good taste to decline.

You said, "And what if she doesn't? Don't risk inviting anyone anywhere hoping they'll decline. They just may accept."

That's exactly what happened to me. My father remarried shortly after he and my mother were divorced. Not wanting to do anything in poor taste, in planning my wedding my mother and I sent an invitation to my father and his wife. They accepted promptly. Thus, the day that should have been the happiest in my life was ruined. The tension at my wedding could have been cut with a knife. My stomach was so tied in knots that I thought I was going to throw up on the way down the aisle. If I had it to do over again, I wouldn't even have invited my father. I would have asked my brother to give me away. Keep up the good work, Abby.
TOO LATE FOR ME

MR. AND MRS. DAN K. KIMPTON

Loretta Nagel, Kimpton Exchange Nuptial Vows

Loretta Coleen Nagel, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Nagel and the late Mr. Emil J. Nagel, Twin Falls, became the bride of Dan K. Kimpton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kimpton, Twin Falls, in a candlelight ceremony June 27 at the First United Methodist Church, Twin Falls.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Morris before an altar flanked by large colonial baskets of aqua and yellow floral arrangements and brass candelabra holding silver candles. Large lime-green pew markers centered with aqua and yellow floral centers marked the center aisle. The bride chose an aqua, yellow and lime-green color scheme which was used throughout her wedding.

Greeting the guests in the foyer of the church was Mrs. Arnie Kruchensky, Spencer. She was seated at a small table featuring a small floral arrangement along with the guest book and a white feathered ball-point pen set in a brass base.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, John M. Nagel, Shields, N. Dak., wore a gown of silk organza-over-peau-de-soie featuring a lace bodice. Short lace sleeves were fitted over long, full organza sleeves with wide cuffs that were applique with lace roses and re-embroidered with seed pearls. The wide cuffs were lily pointed. Applique lace roses, re-embroidered with seed pearls, were alternately placed on the skirt front and the cathedral train. The hem of the dress was also edged in a re-embroidered lace. Her train was edged with wide lace that matched the lace edging of the mantilla veil of silk illusion. The veil was held in place by a headpiece of white organza bows and lace petals edged with pearls.

The bride's only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings given to her by the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of baby yellow roses and aqua-tipped carnations with Lilies of the Valley. Long aqua velvet streamers accented the bouquet.

Rose Lee Kimpton, Edmonds, Wash., sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Mrs. Gerald Olson, Twin Falls, a college friend of the bride; Judy Lynn Fox, Columbus, Montana, a cousin of the bride, and Barbara Kukal, Jerome, a friend of the bride, were bridesmaids. Aimee Chandler, Pocatello, was flower girl.

David R. Kimpton, Ely, Nev., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Don Yragui, Paul Stone and Jerry Gage, all Twin Falls, were ushers. Mickey Hendricks, Twin Falls, was ringbearer. Sandra and George Fox, Columbus, Mont., cousins of the bride, were the candlelighters.

Kathy Trinkle, Shoshone, was soloist. Mrs. Gibson played the traditional wedding music, including the wedding march. The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church reception hall. The bride's table was centered with a Lady Windermere cake, baked and decorated by Mary Harrell, Burley. A cupid-labra floral arrangement and a silver candelabra, with aqua candles, were placed on a white organza full-skirted and floor-length cloth. The punch table had a matching cloth.

Mrs. Monty Serich, Billings, Mont., aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. David Fox, Columbus, Mont., cousin of the bride, served the groom's cake. Mrs. John M. Nagel, Shields, N. D., aunt of the bride, poured punch, and Mrs. Leonard Vogel, Billings, cousin of the bride, poured coffee. Guests were seated at large tables accented with cupid-labra arrangements featuring small white doves and yellow candles in clear crystal bases.

Attending the gift tables were Mrs. Tony Sabala, Jerome; Mrs. Rodney Kukal, Spencer, and Mrs. Larry Toberer, Twin Falls.

Special out-of-town guests attended from North Dakota, Oregon, Montana, Washington, Nevada, Jerome, Pocatello, Spencer and Idaho Falls.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner and a bride and bridegroom's dinner was hosted by the bride's mother. After a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, the couple will reside in Twin Falls where they are both employed. Mrs. K. E. Otto, Twin Falls, hosted a miscellaneous shower for the bride.

Miss Jacobs, Post Wed In Texas Rites

Christine R. Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith L. Jacobs, Kimberly, became the bride of Spec. 4 Ricky D. Post, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Post, Twin Falls, in a ceremony at Chapel No. 4, Fort Bliss, Tex., Chaplain James H. Hunkin performed the late evening double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Larry Patrick Holton, friend of the bridegroom, wore a white satin floor-length gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Her jewelry was a gold locket that belonged to her grandmother.

Sandra Kimpling served as maid of honor, with Jesus Olivo as best man.

Mrs. Lucretia Fletcher was organist. A reception was held after the ceremony at the couple's home. The tiered cake was decorated with yellow roses and topped with three white wedding bells.

Special guests included Capt. and Mrs. Stephen E. Inman. The couple took a wedding trip to New Mexico, and reside in El Paso, Tex., where the bridegroom is stationed.

Pre-nuptial showers were given for the bride by Mrs. C.O. Kysar, Mrs. Kelly Harmon and Mrs. Rick Coats, and by Mrs. Merrill Glenn, Mrs. Jerry Heath and daughter, Jerri Ann, and Mrs. Jerry Rees.

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY FAIRCHILD

Tokyo, Japan, will be honored at an open house from 2 to 8 p.m. Saturday at the home of Mr. Fairchild's mother, Mrs. Ruth Fairchild, in the Basin, six miles east of Oakley. Mr. Fairchild has spent many years in the Air Force, retiring in 1967. He married Suzu Tanka, Tokyo, Aug. 20, 1966, and they have since resided in Japan. Mr. Fairchild is employed at the University of Japan, tutoring students in English. The couple is in Oakley, visiting his mother, relatives and friends. All friends and relatives of the Fairchilds are welcome to attend the open house.

Arrington Reunion Held

The Arrington family reunion was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Egbert Jr., Sunrise boulevard-North.

Seventh-four family members and guests gathered on the patio for a picnic lunch. Lewis Arrington, family organization president, arranged the affairs of the day, assisted by Mrs. Lewis Arrington, Mr. and Mrs. Egbert, Mrs. Ray Conover and Mrs. Gary Anderson.

Alden Arrington, Ogden, Utah, served as master of ceremonies for the program. He related reminiscences concerning the grandparents of those present. A musical number was given by Lynne, April and Janel Arrington. Don Arrington, Mrs. Gordon Crockett, Mrs. George D. Ward and Mrs. W. O. Fisher all participated with stories and anecdotes. Mrs. Ward showed antique family items, a Bible, a corn shucker, spinning wheel bobbin, etc.

Novelists telling of activities of various family members for the past year were compiled and printed by Mrs. Gene Bolton and were distributed.

4-H Girls Give Demonstrations For Homemakers

FAIRFIELD — Demonstrations by 4-H club girls highlighted the meeting of the Comus Circle Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. William A. Simon.

Sewing demonstrations were given by Tammy Miller, Sandra Lemons and Debbie Tate. Cooking demonstrations were given by Paula Bauscher, quick cake; Debbie Simon, graham cracker crust; Julia Trade, bannana nut loaf; Koree Thomaston, fudgesicles; and Bevvy Keavan who demonstrated a 4-H chuck wagon of chili beans and a honey cake. Roxanne Gaskill led the group in a 4-H song and played the piano.

Plans were made for the 4-H Fair to be held Aug. 6, 7 and 8 with displays in the American Legion Hall. Members of the club were asked to display canning and hand work. Items are to have been made during the calendar year. Mrs. Harshel Lange, Mrs. Glenn Gill and Mrs. Harold Stroud are the fair committee members.

More residents of mobile home parks are involved in leisure time activities on a consistent basis than any other age group, reports a survey by the Hobby Industry Association of America.

Social Events

The Single-Res Club will have a dance Saturday night at the 1000' Hall, Twin Falls. There will be live music for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. All single persons between the ages of 30 and 60 are welcome to attend.

The Patriarchs Militant and Ladies Auxiliary Patriarchs Militant will meet Sunday at the Twin Falls picnic area for their annual picnic. Canton Colfax No. 13 and Ladies Auxiliary will host the event.

Parades, Barbecues and Rodeos Held To Honor Arrival Of LDS Pioneers

Mormons throughout Magic Valley joined in community celebrations today at Hagerman, Oakley and Carey to commemorate the arrival of their pioneer forefathers in the Salt Lake Valley in 1847. Smaller events were staged in Paul and Shoshone and other LDS Wards.

Gov. Don Samuelson attended the Hagerman celebration which began with a breakfast for queen contestants at 6 a. m. and competition in the rodeo arena at Hagerman at 9 a. m. The new queen reigned over the parade at 11 a. m. and rodeo this afternoon.

Crop Damage Survey Sought

WASHINGTON, T.C. — determining eligibility of farmers for emergency assistance to cover their current expenses and for next year's crops.

Head of the ASCS disaster division in Washington is Woodrow Rasmussen, formerly state ASCS director in Boise for many years.

Gov. Samuelson has had his staff in touch with the Farmers Home Administration and the State Department — of Agriculture, as well as the Other attractions at Hagerman were the "Mod Squares," a teenage tap dancing group from Pocatello, which performed tap dance, folk and square dances as a special feature at the afternoon rodeo.

Two members of a sky diving group from Idaho Falls also were scheduled to appear at Hagerman today. The men were to "free fall" before making their pinpoint landing in the rodeo arena during the rodeo.

At Oakley, one of the oldest communities in Magic Valley, having been settled in the early days of the Mormon movement into Utah, the celebration between with a sunrise salute under the direction of the American Legion Post commander, Jack Mullens.

Hundreds attended a chuck-wagon breakfast from 6:30 to 9 a. m. in the Oakley city park under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce. A program was held in the Cassia LDS Stake House with Ivan J. Barrett, Salt Lake City, as speaker. He has made a lifetime study of Western and LDS church history which he teaches.

A beef barbecue, with John Clark as chef, was served in the city park at noon sponsored by the Cassia stake presidency. A gymnastics was held at 1:30 p. m. in the Oakley rodeo grounds with an IGA approved rodeo slated for 9 p. m. tonight and Saturday.

The parade is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. today and will form at the Legion hall at 5 p. m.

A team roping contest is scheduled for 1 p. m. Saturday with some 30 teams expected to participate. The 22-mile Pony Express race of five horses with one or more riders is slated for 7:30 p. m. Saturday at the Oakley rodeo grounds.

The entire race is run on a dirt track and will be started and finished in front of the grandstand.

Filer Park Project Payment Announced

PIHER — Harold T. Brown, state park board chairman, today announced that a check for $2,771.56 was presented to the city of Filer, for the Filer City Park Development Project.

Mr. Brown explained that this recreation needs of the city's residents and visitors.

Concerts Slated At Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY — Two or three concerts will be presented at 4 p. m. Saturday and Sunday at the Sun Valley Opera House.

The Sun Valley Music Camp faculty will present a chamber concert on Saturday.

The numbers to be played are "Fantasia for Oboe and String Trio," "Gaspard de la Nuit," and "Sonata in D Minor." The Festival Orchestra will present its concert on Sunday.

The program will include "Brandenburg Concerto No. 3," "Piano Concerto in C Minor," "Adagio for Strings," and "Symphony No. 5 in B Flat."

This project was first submitted to the Idaho Department of Parks, state administrator of the program for review and technical assistance. Then to the Idaho Parks Board for approval, and finally to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation for final approval.

Mr. Brown complimented the city officials of Filer for their foresight in developing an excellent park to satisfy the

Mr. Taylor, a brother of Mrs. Bernardi, was born on a farm near Almo and learned his love of nature from his schoolteacher mother. He and his wife are visiting for several weeks at the Bernardi home and plan to spend some time fishing and relaxing in the Idaho mountains before they return to California where the artist has an order of 350 small paintings on which to begin work.

In September he will present an art show at the University of Idaho, Moscow.

Art Clinic Slated at Filer

FILER — Darwin Taylor, Idaho-born artist, will hold his annual art show and clinic at the Bernardi Art Gallery one-half mile north of the fairgrounds beginning July 31 and continuing through Aug. 2.

People are invited to attend from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. the three days of the show. A painting demonstration will be featured at 2 p. m. Sunday, and a four-hour art clinic will be held on Monday. The clinic will be limited to a class of six students, and interested people are asked to contact Mrs. Emil Bernardi, Filer, for details and reservations.

Mr. Taylor, a rising dramatic realist, specializes in desert scenes and sea-scapes which he paints on the California desert and beaches. He has studied with noted instructors in Palm Springs, Calif., where he lives. In 1969 he received the Grand Sweepstakes prize among other awards at the Idaho, California National Date Festival, and this year the artist again received the coveted prize which is based on a popularity vote of spectators attending the festival.

Parade to Open Fair At Gooding

GOODING — The 1970 edition of the Gooding County Fair will begin with a Kid's parade at 1:30 p. m. Aug. 10, with the adult parade scheduled immediately following.

The fair concludes Wednesday evening, Aug. 12. The Kid's parade is open to anyone in the Gooding area under 14 years of age. Three cash prizes will be offered in each of the following categories — tricycles and doll buggies, floats, bicycles, pets, cowboys, cowgirls, and Indians, historical and modern day characters and comedy.

There will be five categories in the adult parade which is expected to begin at 2:30 p. m. They include western, historical, commercial, comedy and organizational.

The rodeo, which will be held Aug. 11 and 12 at the fairgrounds will again be produced by D.A. Kerby, Salt Lake City.

Purse money being offered at the rodeo is $1,500, the same as last year.

Rockhounds Hold Picnic At Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — Members of the Northside Gem and Hobby Club were guests of the Soldier Mountain Rock Wranglers for a picnic in the Firegaule park with more than 40 people attending.

The Northside Club presented a program under the direction of Robert Grubbs, president. Jim Henry, Gooding, displayed polished specimens from Idaho and told where he had found the rock and the work involved in making them. John Hurlanek, Jerome, had some modernistic creations of cubes, columns and rectangular polished rocks.

Mrs. Fred Bragg, Gooding, had stalactites and other rocks. Golda Watkins, Gooding, had a variety of rocks and minerals. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kramer had a display of various specimens of polished rocks. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patrick, Boulder City, Nevada, had a display case of cabachons and novelty gems.

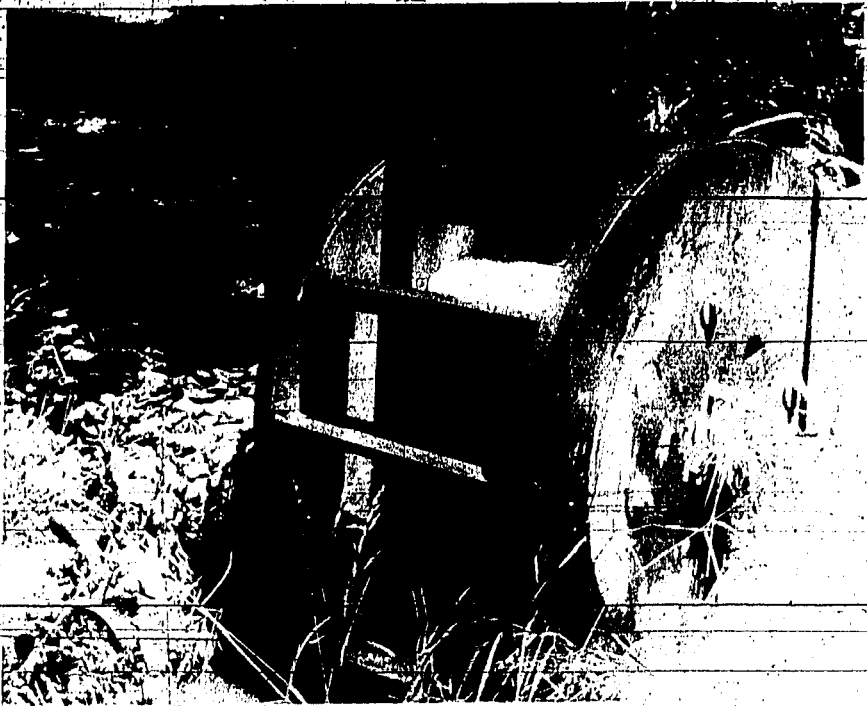

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Daniel acted as hosts for the picnic. Food was provided by members of the Soldier Mountain Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patrick, Boulder City, Nevada, now vacationing in Halley, will present the program for the next meeting of the local club on Aug. 18 in the Camas County courtroom.

Tour Made

RICHFIELD — Bob Hamilton, State Reclamation Department representative, Boise, spent three days this week making inspection tours of water districts 11 AB and 7 AB. He looked over the 16 arroyos wells in the area west of Picabo.

Five of the wells are on the Harvey Bleckett ranch southwest of Gannett. The area toured at one of the Big Wood River water, Little Wood, and Silver Creek.

WATER WHEELS were useful objects on most Idaho farms years ago when they helped supply water for irrigation purposes. Most of them now are merely decorative, such as this rustic one on the Reuben Lierman farm southwest of Filer. Mr.

Lierman and his son, Don Lierman, made the wheel from an old spool which held telephone wire. Paddles were added and the wheel placed in a small creek which runs through the Lierman back yard.

11 Youths To Attend State FHA Aides Study Needs Of Blaine County

Eleven Magic Valley youths qualified for the National High School Rodeo to be held in Fargo, N.D., Sunday through Aug. 24.

A total of 24 states will send competitors to the national finals this year, the largest representation in the history of high school rodeo.

Nearly 6,000 young people in the 24 states began their eliminations competition early this year and only 400 of these will be competing in the finals.

Representing Idaho from the Magic Valley area will be Bill Patterson, Richfield, and Bruce Seal, Rupert, in the saddle bronc event; Butch Edwards, who previously won the all-around cowboy title, and Cas Masters, both of Richfield, in the bareback riding event; Joe Sakers, counting and trick Webb, Wendell, in the calf roping event; Dan Rogers, Rupert, and Bryce Hall, Filer, in the steer wrestling event; Rick Giesler, Fairfield, in bull riding event; Deamo Ricketts, Jerome, in the barrel racing event; and Jan Jolley, Twin Falls, in the girls cutting event.

Drawing Set Tuesday At Gooding

GOODING — High school graduates or any person over 18 years of age are urged to "Give and Save a Life" by participating in Gooding's Red Cross Blood Drawing Tuesday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the War Memorial Hall.

The quota for this drive is again 100 pints. As Gooding has failed in the past to reach this goal, the volunteer donations given by students and young people might give the extra boost needed to fill the quota.

Blood donated in Gooding will help to meet the requirements of 48 hospitals in Idaho, Oregon and Washington; a total of approximately 20,000 per year, or an average of 400 pints used per week. Summer accidents and injuries bring an even higher demand for blood.

To be eligible to donate, a person must meet certain medical criteria. Among those are an 18 to 65 year age limit, eight-week interval between donations, and a minimum weight requirement of 110 pounds.

HAILEY — Representatives of the Idaho state level of the Farmers Home Administration Thursday charged Blaine county officials and municipal representatives with the responsibility of determining the need for a sub-FHA office in the county.

The state representatives met with representatives of Ketchum and Halley city, and the county commission Thursday afternoon to explain the various housing funding programs available to help elevate the county's housing shortage. Conducting the meeting was Donald Winder, state director of the FHA, who asked those present to explain the programs to the other members of the city councils and county commission.

Should the elected officials determine there is a need for a sub-office in the county, letters requesting it will be honored by the state office, Mr. Winder said. The office would be set up twice a week at a designated location. The nearest FHA office now is in Shoshone, under the supervision of Frank Dalles. Accompanying Mr. Winder was Robert Harrison, chief of the housing loan division of the Administration, Boise.

During the brief meeting, Mr. Winder explained that if the administration gets involved in community problems, it will only be because the community asks for assistance. According to Mr. Harrison, FHA has the authority to loan for housing in communities with a population of 5,000 or less. Some $35,000,000 in housing loans is presently out in Idaho, he said, with the total loaned since the program began in the state at about $50,000,000.

He noted the association has experienced a low-loss factor because of the rising value of real estate and the strict supervision of all loans.

Programs now in effect which would aid the county include the individual home ownership for the low-to-moderate income family, the rural housing tract site loan, and the rural housing loans. Three programs are authorized for the individual home program, with the interest credit bearing the lowest interest rate. Individuals qualifying must have an average adjusted income of $5,000 or less, depending on the family size, the cost of living in the area, and approval from the state director. Homes under the program must be moderate and interest rates vary from 7 1/2 percent to one per cent, reviewed every two years.

Magic Valley Shoshone Reports Sewer Vote Signup

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone City Sewer Revenue Bond election set for Aug. 11 must carry by a two-thirds majority vote, reports the city clerk, Mrs. Claude Chess.

There are now 638 persons registered, 40 more than had registered at the former election this year, in which the issue was defeated by about 17 votes.

Registration for the election closes at 9 p. m. Aug. 8. To accommodate those who wish to register, Mrs. Chess will have the city hall open additional hours, from 7 to 9 p. m. Aug. 6 and 7, and 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and 7-9 p. m. on Saturday, Aug. 8. The office usually closes at 5 p. m. and is not open Saturdays.

The election on Aug. 11 will be from noon to 8 p. m. at the city hall.

The election is for a $580,000 revenue bond approval which would be retired over a 30 year period at about six per cent interest. Repayment would be done on a monthly fee basis of users.

7 Awaiting Appearance In Jerome

JEROME — Seven persons, three of them juveniles, were awaiting court appearances Friday after city police here arrested the group and filed charges against the four adults for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

City police said investigations are continuing. The arrests were made in the 200 block of Fifth Avenue East on a vacant lot. Released on $50 bond each and charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors are Calvin Walters, 20; Charles Thomas, 19; Ron C. Blake, 20, and Frank H. Perme, 22, all Jerome.

Officers said they are scheduled to appear in Probate Court July 31. Petitions will be filed to bring two 17 year old girls and one 15 year old girl into court under the Youth Rehabilitation Act, officers said.

Utah Car Sideswipes Area Truck

SHOSHONE — Extensive damage, resulted to a 1969 Volkswagen driven and owned by Dr. Robert S. Felt, Salt Lake City, when it sideswiped a Mack gravel truck 10 miles north of Shoshone on U.S. 93 at 11 a. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Verla Felt, wife of the driver, was treated by a local physician for a cut lip and bruised chin. Their 4 year old son, Eddie, was not injured, nor was Dr. Felt.

The truck, owned by Holmes Construction Co., Heyburn, received damage on the battery carrier and fuel tank. Driver LaMar Severson, Rupert, was not injured.

Camas Prairie Pioneer Group Elects

FAIRFIELD — Charles Packham, Fairfield, is the new president of the Camas Prairie Pioneer Association. He succeeds Harold Bown, Wendell. Other officers were re-elected and include Lanzo Baldwin, first vice president; Mrs. Nellie Abbott, second vice president; Mrs. Carol Vankko, secretary and Loyd Bundy, treasurer. About 130 people attended the potluck picnic held in the Pioneer Campground on Soldier Creek. Charles Packham gave the welcoming address, Group singing was led by Lanzo Baldwin and Olan Paul. Walter Pearson whistled a number; Lanzo Baldwin and Clark Beal sang solos. Mrs. Charlotte Spencer, Twin Falls, read a poem written by her mother, the late Mrs. Frank (Lucy) Nelson, a pioneer of Camas Prairie. Mrs. Eva Moore, Gooding, read a poem: "Tall tales were told by Stanley Babington; Bubi; K.T. Butler, Gooding; Hugh Nelson, Boise, and Mrs. Spencer, Twin Falls. Prizes were presented to Henry Bausher, 92, Gooding, for being the oldest pioneer present. Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Heacock (Mae Naser) Hawaii, for traveling the farthest and to Mrs. Ida Baldwin for having 11 members of her family present including four generations. William McCarter, Hagerman, was noted to be the oldest prairie born pioneer present.

Mrs. Walter Pearson conducted the memorial service for those residents and former residents who had died since the last annual meeting of the association. Those honored included Freeman Love, Leo Cox, Jesse Boli, Charles Waterbury, Mary Rowland, Clysta Moon, Patti Wylder, Beatrice Durall, Olive Marie Morrison, Duane Rowe, Arthur Dallin, Mable Weaver, Robert Morrell, Hershel Vandiver, Jared Peck, Rocco Mink, Anna Sauter, Ernest Walts, Jack Edwards, Hilma Kelso, George Cook, Margaret Gesler, Martha Trillhart, Wozniak, Julia Callendar, Neesley, Gertrude Hobday, Karri Cluer, Walter Sole, Frank Owens and Mable Martin.

Goods Wait on Docks

LONDON (UPI)—Longshoremen at Liverpool rejected today a government appeal to unload perishable foods. Their refusal brought nearer the use of troops in Britain's strike-bound ports.

As urgent warnings reached the government that thousands of tons of imported meat will rot unless they are unloaded, more than 3,000 longshoremen in a mass meeting at Liverpool approved a resolution by their shop stewards telling them not to unload perishable goods.

Earlier this week striking dockers at Southampton also voted against moving perishable foods, but they will meet again Monday to reconsider. National union leaders asked the strikers Wednesday to unload the perishables in compliance with the government request.

At present 34 ships are strikebound in Liverpool and other Merseyside docks, but officials said only about 10 tons of imported fruit and vegetables are held up in them.

They said large quantities of other food, including meat, are stored in refrigerated ships and warehouses where the risk of rotting is less great.

Jack Lyden, chairman of the Transport and General Workers Union Committee at Liverpool, said the resolution against unloading perishable foods was adopted "overwhelmingly." He said the striking dockers were not worried about the possibility the government would send in troops to move the food.

Union officials said however, Liverpool dockers would arrange for loading of essential supplies for the Isle of Man next week. The island, located in the middle of the Irish Sea, is almost entirely dependent on ships for food and all supplies.

Welfare Income: $7,000

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's welfare reform bill ran into new trouble Thursday when senators discovered that in some cases it would make a family with no wages better off than one earning $7,000 a year.

Charts presented to the Senate Finance Committee by Secretary Elliot L. Richardson of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) for example, showed that in New York City a mother of three in a fatherless family who earned nothing would receive $5,210 in family assistance payments, food stamps, potential Medicaid payments to her doctor and public housing benefits.

If the same woman took a $7,000-a-year job and paid taxes she would lose most of those public benefits and would end the year $1 poorer — with an income of $6,209.

For nearly three hours, Richardson argued the situation was only remotely possible under the bill.

He said only 6 per cent of New York's welfare families live in public housing and $1,100 worth of Medicaid benefits should not be considered income since the payments go to doctors and hospitals, not to welfare recipients.

Panther Says He Shot Victim

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—Black Panther Warren Kimbro, who has pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the torture slaying of Alex Rackley, testified Thursday he fired the first bullet into the head of the alleged police informer.

Kimbro said two national officers of the Black Panther party—Rory B. Hittie and Landon Williams—ordered Kimbro, George Sams and Lonnie McCluskey to do the killing.

McCluskey, the defendant, is charged with kidnaping and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Rackley, whose body was found in a Middlefield swamp May 21, 1969. Seven other Panthers, including National Chairman Bobby G. Seale, also are charged in the case but they will be tried later.

Kimbro, on the stand in Superior Court for the second day, Thursday, described how he, McCluskey and Sams walked single-file behind Rackley through the woods, stopping at a swampy area.

"George Sams said 'now!' after we walked on a little ways," Kimbro testified.

"George handed me the .45 and I took the safety off. He said 'This is for national.'"

Bankrupt RR Gets Trustees

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The four trustees appointed to reorganize the Penn Central Transportation Co. under federal bankruptcy laws, met Monday Thursday considering "top railroad man" candidates to run the line.

The trustees, named Wednesday by U.S. District Judge John P. Fullam, who is overseeing the reorganization, said they will meet again "sometime next week" and would be in telephone contact when necessary.

Judge Fullam told the trustees the "key" to a speedy and successful reorganization was to hire a "top railroad man" as chief executive to run the day-to-day operations, while the trustees concentrate on broad policy decisions.

Judge Fullam met twice with the trustees Thursday, once in the morning in advance of a court hearing for nine banks, and again over lunch.

At the hearing, the trust took under advisement a Penn Central request that the banks located in seven states be held in contempt of the original reorganization order of June 21 barring banks from freezing $4.5 million in railroad deposits as collateral on loans outstanding.

BODY of Rick Dowdell is carried from church services Thursday. He was shot and killed by police a week ago, causing unrest in Lawrence, Kan. The shooting occurred at a "Street People" confrontation with police near the University of Kansas. (UPI)

Empty Life Raft Discovered

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Coast Guard recovered an empty life raft off the southern tip of Greenland Thursday, but said it did not come from a Soviet plane which disappeared over the Atlantic last Saturday with 28 aboard.

The yellow inflatable rubber raft "has been in the water for some time," a Coast Guard spokesman said. "Marine life is growing on it and the color has faded."

Soviet spokesmen at air control in Keflavik, Iceland, have confirmed that the raft is not Russian, the Coast Guard said.

A single word, "Barakuda" is written on the raft. "There is a small Polish fishing vessel with that name," the Coast Guard said, but added that vessel has not reported any trouble.

The missing and presumed downed Soviet plane, an Antonov-22, was carrying doctors, interns and medical supplies to aid Peruvian earthquake victims.

3 Wounded in Racial Turmoil

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Three persons were wounded by gunfire in a clash between police and young Negroes in two neighborhoods Thursday night.

Mayor E. Michael O'Brien declared a state of emergency and ordered a curfew for all persons under 21. At least 26 persons were arrested.

The violence began after Peoria County deputies served eviction notices on two women at a black housing project and arrested one of them. Blacks moved furniture back into apartments and rock and bottle-throwing began.

Later, young blacks fired at police cars and into bars. A fire, attributed to arson destroyed the offices of the housing project early today.

State police moved into Peoria Thursday night and the situation quieted early today. Besides the curfew for young people, O'Brien also closed taverns and stopped the sale of gasoline in containers.

There were few incidents until about 7 p.m. when members of the "Black Rangers" drove around the near South Side and allegedly opened fire at police cars. Police said they did not return the fire, later shots were fired into several taverns, including the Mickey-Mouse Tavern and the 901 Club.

ABM Test Heats in Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., opened the Nixon administration's 1970 campaign for the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) system today, urging members to remember "the grim fact of rapidly increasing Russian strategic forces."

Stennis, in his second year as chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, brought an "amateur" $10.2 billion military procurement bill to the floor, terming it the "lowest possible authorization consistent with our national security requirements."

He said his committee sliced $1.3 billion from the bill, cut its "lowest level" since 1946, chopped the Air Force to its lowest number of planes since 1935 and saved the taxpayers a potential $4.2 billion by limiting the role of the controversial ABM.

But critics of military spending, gaining strength in recent years, planned a frontal assault on the measure. They contended it could be trimmed to around $16 billion to free funds for vital domestic needs, to combat inflation and to answer President Nixon's criticism of a "spendthrift" Congress.

Their major target, like last year, will be the ABM. A UPI poll showed they lack two votes of rejecting Nixon's request to expand the ABM beyond the two sites authorized last year.

Stennis said the committee had already "effected a fundamental policy change" in the ABM by limiting its role to protecting missile silos and bomber bases from a paralyzing Soviet strike. The committee denied Nixon funds to begin building a nationwide ABM defense against a Chinese attack on the general population.

Stennis also issued a strong plea for the administration's $200 million "contingency fund" for Lockheed Airframe Corp. Unless Lockheed gets the money, the Air Force will receive only 17 completed C5 aircraft at a cost of $200 million each, he said. If it is approved, however, the government would receive at least 42 planes for $64 million each.

Companies Hit By Pollution Suits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department announced plans today for federal suits against 10 companies to stop pollution of lakes and rivers in seven states.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said U.S. attorneys were being notified to file civil suits on the basis of information submitted by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel. They will be the first suits ever filed under an 1899 act prohibiting discharge of mercury into navigable waters.

"Because mercury pollution is a very serious matter, civil injunction proceedings are being authorized instead of the usual criminal action under the refuse act, where the penalty is relatively light," the chief of the Justice Department's lands division, Assistant Attorney General Silvio Kusshwa, said.

The Justice Department authorized suits against: Georgia-Pacific Corp., Birmingham, Wash., for discharge of mercury into Puget Sound. Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Niagara Falls, N.Y., for discharges into the Niagara River. Oxford Paper Co., Rumford, Maine, for discharge into the Androscoggin River. Weyerhaeuser Co., Longview, Wash., for discharges into the Columbia River. Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Augusta, Ga., for discharges into the Savannah River.

Private Satellite Orbiting

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The eighth and last in a series of commercial communications satellites soared into space Thursday night from a spot near where a captured German V2 rocket inaugurated launchings here 20 years ago Friday.

The $8 million satellite, an Intelsat 3 owned by 76 nations, will serve primarily as an orbiting spare for automated stations now relaying telephone and television communications above the Pacific, Indian and Atlantic Oceans.

It was launched on schedule at 7:23 p.m. EDT by a Delta rocket for which the space agency will be reimbursed $5 million. The slender booster rode a bright white plume of flame into the partly cloudy sky and streaked into a preliminary orbit expected to carry it 22,700 miles high.

"All our data indicates that we've had a good flight," reported a spokesman from the launch control center.

After looping earth twice in that cigar-shaped path, a small rocket motor aboard the satellite will kick it into a circular, 22,300 mile high orbit. That maneuver is scheduled for Friday night and the spacecraft's speed should then match earth's rotation, keeping the Intelsat 3 virtually stationary over the western Pacific.

The Intelsat 3 series of spacecraft is owned by America's Comsat Corp., and the 76 other nations that make up the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium (Intelsat).

Andrus Eyes Gem Youth

REXBURG, Idaho (UPI)—Democratic gubernatorial candidate Cecil Andrus said Thursday Idaho youth should take an active part in state politics.

During a campaign swing through three southeastern Idaho counties, he said, "Young adults can effectively influence state government if they work within the political structure."

He added today's young people are better prepared to cope with environmental, social and economic problems facing every segment of our society.

"We cannot exclude the young," he said. "They are knowledgeable, ambitious, eager to take part in the political progress and valuable to our common cause — better government."

Andrus said he accepted the campaign assistance of young men and women who seek a stronger voice in state government. He said he supported a measure to give 19-year-olds the vote during the last session of the Idaho Legislature.

Reds Tallied

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian soldiers supported by air strikes killed 47 Communist troops in retaking the town of Srang, a government spokesman said today.

Srang, 20 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, was occupied by the Communists Saturday and retaken by the Cambodians earlier this week. The spokesman said seven Communist soldiers were killed and 25 wounded in the action.

Field reports said Communist troops were still in the area Thursday afternoon, making roads unsafe. Mortar fire was reported on the road to Tram Kinnar, six miles east of Srang.

The spokesman said a North Vietnamese prisoner was captured at Srang and 13 Chinese Communist-made AK77 rifles and eight other weapons were seized.

Truck traffic from the port of Kompong Som to the capital was still cut off because of a sabotaged bridge on Highway 4 less than a mile from the Kiriroam Road junction, the spokesman said.

He said efforts were being made to repair the vital supply line as soon as possible. Small cars were able to negotiate the bridge despite the damage but trucks could not get across.

Gem Clean Air Standards Set

POCATELLO (UPI)—The Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission formally adopted open burning regulations Thursday which will go into effect in 60 days.

The commission also set Aug. 28 for hearings on proposed new regulations to tighten standards for industrial emissions and increase restrictions for the amount of particulate matter in the air.

Administrative Director Al Elguren, Boise, indicated plans were to hold a series of informational meetings around the state prior to the Aug. 28 hearing.

The regulations approved cover all types of burning, including backyard burning, burning of old cars and orchard heating. The regulations set varying dates for compliance.

Commission member Dr. Melbourne Jackson, Moscow, said the new regulations will "for the first time make the individual citizen aware of the cost and trouble involved in abating air pollution."

"They are going to find out, in a small way, what industry is having to go through," he added.

Chairman Robert Montgo-

mercy, Pocatello also outlined a policy statement noting, "The commission has never and will never accept lip service from any air polluter when it comes to abating air pollution."

"The commission has a policy of approaching problems in a reasonable manner and of working with everyone who has a good program of abatement," Elguren said. The state would have to depend primarily on local enforcement agencies to curb open burning.

'Tiger Cages' Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Phillip M. Crane, R-Ill., says he visited the "tiger cages" in South Vietnam a Con Son prison and found them anything but the torture cells described by two Democratic colleagues three weeks ago.

One of those colleagues promptly accused Crane of being naive.

Crane said he visited the prison Tuesday and the tiger cages were clean and well lighted, with the 500 prisoners hold there looking well treated and well fed. What's more, he said, Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., one of two congressmen who disclosed existence of the tiger cages, was either blind or deliberately misrepresented what he found.

Crane made the statements at a news conference Thursday. Hawkins retorted that Crane's trip was "conveniently arranged and the whole thing staged." He said he would make a formal answer to Crane in the House next week and offer more evidence of mistreatment of prisoners at Con Son.

Manager Candidate Eyes Support

POCATELLO (UPI)—Mayor Lu Vern Johnson announced Thursday selection of Charles W. Moss, 40, as Pocatello city manager.

Moss, now city manager for Arkansas City, Kan., will assume his new duties about Sept. 1. He fills the position left vacant by the resignation of Ted Walinski almost a year ago.

He said during a tour in northern Idaho voters expressed concern whether the other candidates could really be free to work for the electorate, whether the other candidates could attack water pollution caused by Pollack forest mills or Simplot potato plants.

The Twin Falls attorney said Idaho can no longer afford "secret fund politics."

Burial Customs Are Described At Paul

PAUL — Robert Walk, Blaine County coroner and operator of Walk Mortuary, Rupert, told of customs concerning funerals, both past and present, when he addressed the WSCS of the Paul United Methodist Church.

He traced the history of the growth of funerals from the Egyptians, who mummified remains, to today. He said the Indians of early America, were looking for a better hereafter and buried personal effects with their loved ones, adding that Christians all think of a spiritual hereafter. He said that in India and many non-Christian countries, cremation is common but he felt the trend in Christian America isn't to change to cremation.

"In pioneer America and until about 1915, the local cabinet maker was called on to make the individual coffin as needed. To save lumber, it was made to measure for the individual. It was from this beginning, that many early funeral homes were in the local furniture store. In about 1930, the separate funeral home came into being."

"Because of transportation limits, the funeral was often held at 1 p.m. in the church and burial was in the grave yard adjoining the church. About Civil War times, doctors experimented with preservatives so that bodies of the soldiers might be sent home to their families for burial."

He said that embalming and the practice of strict sanitation with disinfectant and sterilization, has greatly cut the spread of communicable and contagious diseases. He noted that Christians of the Western Hemisphere looking for a life hereafter, bury their dead in graves from west to east and with the wife on the left of the husband.

Witnesses From T.F. Go To Meet

Nearly 100 members of Jehovah's Witnesses in Twin Falls are attending a four day district convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Butte, Mont., this week, according to R.V. Shaw, local presiding minister.

"The four state area served by the convention was expected to draw some 4500 delegates, and is one of 36 to be held in the United States this summer under the direction of the Watchtower Bible Society of Brooklyn, New York.

"The convention program is designed to stimulate faith and Christian action," Shaw said.

Youth Walking to Witness For "Spiritual Revolution"

BURLEY — Today there is no mention of total commitment to Christ. The disciples of Jesus were all fulltime Christians and witnesses, not just once a week or three times a week, but seven days each week and they paid for it," declared a young Christian here enroute from Ft. Collins, Colo. to Seattle.

Harold G. Smith, carrying a sign which reads "Spiritual revolution is the only solution. Join the revolution for Jesus", left Fort Collins July 1 and intends to walk to Seattle to "spread and show need" of spiritual awakening from materialism.

He is self-supported and averages about 30 miles per day walking. When bad weather or darkness come he accepts rides from passing motorists. He stays in private homes which are open to him by invitation or in motels.

He will hold meetings in churches upon request, and aims his talk to the youth.

"People don't have to non-church members or irreligious to be servants of the world. Many Christians are serving the devil today and don't realize it. Modern day term of Christian means a person who does his own thing six days a week, then goes to church Sunday and is considered a good and righteous man," the young man said.

"We are to reach this generation of young people we must have a revolutionary attraction. The approach which Jesus used 2,000 years ago was love and peace which he gave to all men who would accept it, he said.

New Pastor Revealed

Pastor Joseph E. Chastain, former Civil Air Patrol chaplain, will be serving as the pastor of the Twin Falls Church of the Nazarene, beginning August 1.

Pastor Chastain has served as chaplain with the Civil Air Patrol for the past 14 years and for the past year he has been Assistant Wing Chaplain for the California Wing, in Alameda, Calif.

He has served as pastor in Columbia, Miss., Greenville, Tenn., Marietta, Okla. and Kaneohe, Hawaii.

His daughter Joline is residing in Kameohe and his son Jay is now residing with his parents, although he is attending college and will return in the fall to Pasadena College in California.

Pastor Chastain, and his wife, Pauline, are especially interested in working with the youth of the community. Pastor Chastain has served as the chaplain in many boys and girls camps.

During his career in the Civil Air Patrol, he also held several revivals in California.

Arkansas Dedication Slated Pastor to Lead Meet At Ketchum Church

Rev. Dean Smith, Rock Spring, Ark., will conduct evangelistic services at the Trinity Southern Baptist church, 302 THIRD AVE., N., Twin Falls at 7:45 p.m. nightly beginning Sunday.

Rev. Smith has spent four years in the Air Force during the Korean conflict. He was converted in a Baptist mission at Rudd, Ark., and three years later was called to the ministry at which time he accepted a call to the Rudd Baptist mission as pastor.

In 1964 he was called to the Rock Springs Baptist church where he is now serving as pastor.

Rev. Ray Myers, Gooding, is directing music for the local evangelistic campaign, reports the Rev. C.W. Hood, pastor.

Lesson On Youth Is Presented

KIMBERLY — Mrs. Henry Sievers led the devotions and Mr. Bryan Harris, the lesson topic, "Being Honest with Youth", at the Lutheran Women's Missionary League meeting at the Redeemer Lutheran Church fellowship hall.

Mrs. Clarence Degner conducted the meeting in the absence of the president. The skirts for reception tables have been finished and the Altar Committee reported that new linens have also been purchased.

Flowers were sent to Mrs. Lewis Eilers and a card to Tom High.

It was voted to change the meetings for the next three months from Tuesday evenings to 2 p. m. the first Tuesday of each month, on a trial basis. If proven satisfactory, the group may continue to meet in the afternoons.

Mrs. Leonard Hendricks was the hostess. The Aug. 4 meeting will be at 2 p. m. at the church.

Event Set

SHOSHONE — The Lahoma holiday is planned for Tuesday by the LDS Church Primary with Mrs. Duane Jacobson, Mrs. Edward L. Coombs, Mrs. Ferrell Clark and Mrs. Dana Sturgeon in charge.

The three oldest classes of girls will graduate from the Merrihams, Firelights and Gny Notes groups. Mothers are invited.

KETCHUM — The building committee and church advisory board of Our Lady of the Snows Catholic Church have scheduled the dedication of the new church building for Aug. 16.

The ceremony will include laying and blessing of the dedication stone, blessing of the church by the bishop; Mass to be celebrated by the pastor and former pastors of Our Lady of the Snows Church, and a dinner to follow the 5:30 p.m. mass. Members of the Boise Cathedral choir will provide the music, and Knights of Columbus, Fourth degree, Twin Falls, will form an honor guard to grace the occasion.

Invitations will be sent to all benefactors to attend the ceremonies.

Meeting this week, the church's Altar Society also proceeded with plans for the dedication. Committee members include Collette Farrar, chairman, assisted by Donna Wallace and Donna LaPrise; food; Carol Lee, chairman, assisted by Agnes Stronk and Mary. Jane Atkinson, decorations and tables.

Father William Carroll announced that an organ has been purchased for the church. Also shown to the group was a statue of the Madonna and child which is 150 years old and was brought here from Italy. The statue was given to the church by Mrs. Donald Ubbhoff, niece of the late Agnes Barry, who was a pioneer parishioner and a lifelong member of the Altar Society.

Mrs. Ubbhoff has also given other relics of the past used in the first Catholic Church in Ketchum, for which the society hopes to have a case soon for display. Previously given in memory of her aunt was a new gold chalice which has been in use on the altar.

GUEST SPEAKERS Sunday at the Twin Falls First Christian Church will be Rick Deighton, who with his wife, Della, is serving as camp missionary at Camp Ivydale, Boise. They are raising funds to help with missionary work in the German speaking countries of Europe.

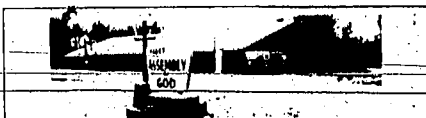

Jerome Pastor To Talk At Richfield, Shoshone

RICHFIELD — Rev. John Sears, Jerome, will be guest minister at the Richfield and Shoshone Methodist churches Sunday.

The interdenominational pastor will speak at 9:30 a.m. at Richfield and at 11 a.m. in Shoshone this Sunday and also Aug. 2. Rev. Hardy Thompson, pastor, is attending a month's seminar in Kansas City.

A new Sunday School quarter has started in the Richfield church school with classes at 10:30 a.m. after the worship services. New teachers include Mrs. James Newberry, Junior

Action Assured At Salmon Dam Water Show

ADVENTURES HAVE no place in this maneuver as Mark Roske and Tim Cooley practice salmon skiing while holding the end of the rope in their mouth. It was all part of the preparation for the Third Annual Thousand Springs Water Sports Show which is scheduled to get underway Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at Salmon Dam, south of Twin Falls.

TRAFFIC IS just a little thick on the waterway as Marvin Knercher and Tim Cooley execute a cross-over maneuver. They were preparing for the annual water sports show at Salmon Dam Sunday afternoon.

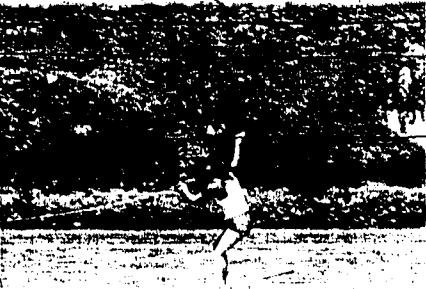

A 20-FOOT wall of water reaches skyward as John Loraln, Jr., guides himself through the intricate Giant Salmon ski maneuver.

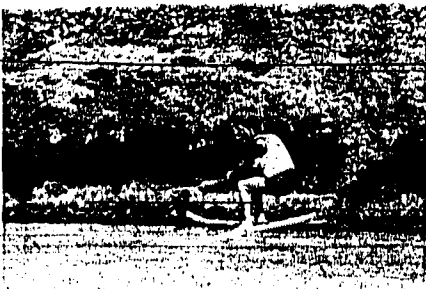

John, who didn't start skiing until past 40, is a "skiing Grandfather."

SIX GIRLS WILL participate in a water ballet number at Salmon Dam Sunday and two of them are shown here getting a maneuver down pat. The two are Jeanette Taylor and Julie Roske. The show Sunday will be free to the public. A free clinic for those wishing water ski instruction will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m., also at Salmon Dam.

WHEN YOU lose your balance on water skis you look like Julie Roske heading for a soaking.

TIM COOLEY is successful in soaring off — or over — the four-foot ramp in a practice session.

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO (UPI)—Diminutive Dick Lange, 5-foot-6 Angel hurler, picked up his fifth win against no defeats as he hurled the Angels to a 12-6 victory over Billings here Thursday night.

year here in limiting Great Falls to an unimpressive run in the top of the fourth inning. He became the pitcher of record when the Cowboys rebounded into a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the frame and Ford got a save when he shutout Great Falls over the last three innings.

But the Cowboys couldn't count the victory until the eighth inning when a passed ball and an error plus three hits opened the gates for three unearned runs.

Great Falls picked up its run when Lee Berge drew an opening walk and came around on a hit by Dave Prest and two Cowboy errors.

Minutes later, Luis Galendez opened the bottom of the fourth with a walk and moved to third while Gilbreath singled his second hit around two outs.

From the fifth inning on, Great Falls had only three base runners, one being caught stealing and another erased on the front end of a double play.

NFL Talks Slated For Philadelphia, All-Star Game Possibility Dims

WASHINGTON (UPI)—National Football League players and the owners agreed Thursday to meet with federal mediators in Philadelphia Friday in an effort to settle the multimillion dollar contract dispute that has disrupted pre-season training.

At the same time, the NFL Players Association announced it was voting an invitation by the Kansas City Chiefs report immediately to training camp in an effort to insure the college All-Star game could be played in Chicago a week from Friday.

A spokesman for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service announced both sides had agreed to get together in Philadelphia Friday at 10 a.m. EDT after a series of on again, off again efforts for a bargaining table session in Washington and Baltimore failed.

Federal Mediators Gilbert J. Seldin and Ralph C. Patterson will sit in for the government in an effort to settle the mushrooming labor dispute centered mainly over contributions to the player pension fund.

However, John Mackey, president of the Players Association, announced that the Executive Committee of his group decided Thursday the Kansas City veterans would not report to training camp even though the owners had agreed to lift a lockout for the Chiefs to get ready for the game against the college all-stars in Chicago on July 31.

Nicklaus, Palmer Team Up for 10 Birdies and Lead in Four-Ball Meet

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, elating his hometown fans with an old-fashioned charge, teamed with Jack Nicklaus for a ten-under par 61 Thursday to take a three-stroke first-round lead in the $200,000 National Four-Ball championship.

The game's two most dynamic stars combined for ten birdies—Palmer 6 and Nicklaus 4—as they missed the tournament scoring record by just one stroke.

In the four-ball, only team event on the PGA tour, only a team's better ball score counts on each hole and Palmer and Nicklaus finished with 32-29-61 scorecard—that included 11 threes and seven fours.

The teams of Jim Colbert-Denn Reftam and Dave Eichelberger-J. C. Goslee were tied for second with identical 32-32-64s, seven under par over the 7,045-yard Laurel Valley Golf Club. There were four other teams at 65.

Palmer, who grew up and still lives just ten miles away in Latrobe, began the round with an 18-foot birdie putt and Nicklaus finished it with an 18-inch birdie putt.

A morning-long drizzle bothered most of the early starters but the skies cleared and the sun broke through just as Palmer and Nicklaus began their round with most of the gallery of 9,140 following them.

The 61 was two strokes better than the best score Palmer and Nicklaus previously had posted as a team. "We both had the ball in close quite a lot," Palmer said. "We teamed very well."

Cubs Become First To Shutout Redlegs

CHICAGO (UPI)—Don Kessinger scored the only run of the game on Woody Woodward's eight inning throwing error Thursday to give the Chicago Cubs and Mil Pappas a 1-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds their first shutout of the season.

Kessinger, the first batter to face relief pitcher Clay Carroll drew a walk to open the eighth and went to second when Glen Beckert also walked. Billy Williams, after fouling off five pitches grounded to second base man Tommy Helms whose throw to Woodward at second forced Beckert. But Beckert barreled into the Reds' shortstop and his throw was wide of first, going into the Cincinnati dugout as Kessinger scored.

Pappas pitched his third complete game in five starts since joining the Cubs, allowing four hits for his first shutout of the season. Pappas walked three and struck out seven to boost his season record to 6-3.

Astros 3, Cards 2

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Johnny Edwards hit a tie-breaking homer in the fifth inning Thursday night to back the six-hit pitching of Jack Billingham and give the Houston Astros a 3-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Edwards' homer down the leftfield line pinned the loss on Bob Gibson, whose record is now 12-5. Gibson allowed six hits as he pitched his 12th complete game in 21 starts.

Cesar Cedeno singled home the first two Houston runs in the second. His safety drove in Denis Menke, the Astros' leading batter, who had singled, and Doug Rader who had doubled.

Besides the first hole, Palmer had five other birdie putts ranging from five feet to 22 feet on holes three, six, eleven, twelve and fifteen. Nicklaus birdied nine, ten, sixteen and eighteen.

"We probably really only lost one hole where we should have birdied," Nicklaus said. "I missed about an eight-footer on four."

The 65 shooters included the teams of Bob Charles-Bruce Devlin, Pete Brown-George Johnson, Chris Blocker-Harry Johnson, and Joel Goldstrand-Harry Toscano.

The team of Miller Barber and Don January headed the group at 66, which also included Bob Smith-Bob Stanton, Mason Rudolph-Dan Sikes, Mack McLendon-Randy Wolff and Jim Grant-Hugh Royer.

Thirteen teams were at 67, including two pairs of brothers, Dave and Mike Hill and Dick and John Lotz.

Billy Casper, the tour's only three-time winner this year, and his partner, Bert Greene, were ten strokes behind with an even par 71. Greene again was hampered by an ailing left shoulder which has plagued him for two months and at one point Casper urged him to withdraw, but Greene insisted on playing.

After his round, Greene went to the Pittsburgh Steelers pro football training camp at Latrobe for treatment.

Tumble Ends Back Misery For Pappas

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mil Pappas took a tumble Thursday and it might be the best fall the Chicago Cubs have taken all year.

Tripped over the bag marking a play on (Bernie) Carbo, Pappas said, "and don't know what happened. Maybe something popped. But I've had a problem with my sacroiliac for three years, and it quit bothering me after that. Just like that."

Without his aching sacroiliac, Pappas stayed in the game and pitched his 3rd complete game in five starts since he joined the Cubs, beating the Cincinnati Reds on four hits, 1-0, the first time this year the Reds have been shut out.

"The back was hurting me in Houston Sunday," Pappas said, "and it was hurting me in the first inning when I pitched to (Pete) Rose. I couldn't get my fast ball inside, and he got a single. But after I tripped over the bag, I felt great."

Pirates 6, Braves 5

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A sacrifice fly by Dave Cash snapped a 5-5 tie in the eighth inning Thursday night and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Cash's fly to deep center capped a three-run rally and gave rookie reliever Dick Colpaert his first major league win.

The inning opened when Richie Hebner singled, took second on an error by Hank Aaron in right and scored on Al Oliver's single. Reliever Mike McCQueen gave up a double to pinch-hitter Roberto Clemente.

Don Cardwell came in and walked Manny Sanguillen intentionally to fill the bases before hitting Bob Robertson with a pitch forcing in the tying run. Cash then fled to center, Clemente scoring after the catch.

S. Englehorn Cops Women's Pro-Am Title

OSTERVILLE, Mass. (UPI)—Ladies Professional Golf Association champion Shirley Englehorn toured the Oyster Harbor Golf Course in a record-breaking one-under-par 71 Thursday to win the final day of the two-day Cape Hospital pro-am golf classic.

Miss Englehorn, who at her only other appearance in Massachusetts this year upset Kathy Whitworth for the LPGA championship at Plensant Valley, went out in 36 and came the last 9 holes in a one-under 35.

Miss Englehorn's 71 cut one stroke off the former-club record set by Joanne Gunderson on July 4, 1963.

Mariene Hagge finished second at 73.

There was a three-way tie for 3rd at 75 between Sharon Moran, Jane Billock and Dede Owens.

None of the 32 participating lady pros had a chance to practice on the Oyster Harbor course for Thursday's round.

Charlie Metro Has New Assignment

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Charlie Metro, fired earlier this season as manager, has been named special assignment scout for the Kansas City Royals for the remainder of 1970 and 1971, General Manager Cedric Tallis announced Thursday.

Metro, who managed the Royals from the start of the season through June 8, will scout primarily in the major league and high minor leagues, Tallis said.

Russians Cop Lead Over U.S. in Dual Track Meet

LENINGRAD (UPI)—The Soviet Union's men's track and field team surged from behind with victories in the triple jump, hammer throw and 20 kilometer walk after taking a surprise triumph in the 100 meter sprint Thursday to gain a 65-52 edge over the U.S. squad at the midway point of the two-day international track and field meet.

While the Soviet men were gaining a slight edge, the Russian women's squad won all but one event in taking a commanding 48-26 advantage in the women's competition. The combined scores gave the USSR a 103-78 advantage.

The Soviet men have beaten the Americans only once in the nine previous dual meets, a once-a-year prestige event followed by track buffs as a kind of between-years Olympics. The previous Soviet win came in 1965.

The Soviet women, however, traditionally have dominated and have beaten the U.S. women every year except 1969.

Competing in intermittent rain showers over a ragged asphalt track in Lenin Stadium, the Russians were criticized from the U.S. team, the Soviet men closed out with a rush, taking 1-2 in the triple jump, hammer throw and 20 kilometer walk. They also scored upset wins in the 800 and 100 meter runs, the first time the Soviets have ever won the short sprint event against the Americans.

"I think we had some bad moments tonight and paid for it," said Larry Walker, the 62-year-old U.S. team coach from North Carolina Central University.

"The 800 meter was a big disappointment and I had hoped we could split the Russians in the walk and triple jump."

The U.S. men, who also trailed the French national team at the halfway mark of a warmup meet in Paris but went on to win it, made 1-2 sweeps in the 110 meter hurdles and the 10,000 meter run. They also won the 400 meter relay and the 400 meter dash.

The biggest moment of glory on the windy and rainy day belonged to U.S. 10,000 meter runner Frank Shorter, and team captain Ken Moore. They scored the first double victories in the 10-year history of the meet for the 10,000 meter event.

Shorter a 22-year-old Florida Ivy league runner from Florida, sprinted away from the pack after only 4,500 meters and survived bouts of stomach cramps on his way to a 28:28 victory.

Women's 400-Meter Record Is Set in Commonwealth Games

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)—On a day of high drama and heartbreak, Marilyn Neufville stole the spotlight at the ninth British Commonwealth Games by setting a world record in the women's 400 meters.

Miss Neufville, a 17-year-old London schoolgirl who left Jamaica 10 years ago, ran with the grace and strength of a gazelle to win by nearly 15 meters in 51.6 seconds to cross the old record of 51.7 seconds achieved by Nicole Duclos and Colette Besson of France in last September's European championships in Athens.

Sandra Brown of Australia was second and Uganda's Judith Ayaal was third.

England had a field day at the Meadowbank Arena and went into the medal lead for the first time in the games with a total 23 gold, 17 silver and 23 bronze.

However, with four swimming finals to come plus a final in fencing and cycling, the Australian squad was expected to be back on top when competition ended.

There was drama and heartbreak in the 3,000 meter steeplechase and the women's 1,500 meters where the leaders fell with the old medal in their grasp.

In the steeplechase world record holder Kerri O'Brien was away with team-mate Tony Manning of Australia when they approached the water jump for the second last time. Suddenly O'Brien was down and Manning had a 20 meter lead over Kenya's Ben Alphon and Olympic champion Amos Biwott. He maintained it to the end to win in a new games record of 8:20.2.

In the 1,500 meters New Zealand's Sylvia Potts, having inched her way past England's Rita Ridley and Joan Page in the final 20 meters, fell one meter from the tape. "My legs just went. I could see the tape but my hands could not reach it as I went down," she said. Miss Ridley won in 4:18.8 with Canada's Theima Flynn third.

Ron Hill, a 31-year-old research chemist who won the European title last year, and this year's Boston Classic, scored a runaway victory in the marathon in two hours, nine minutes, 28 seconds to hold the fastest time ever in a major race. Defending champion Jim Ainder of Scotland was second with England's Don Faircloth third.

Independent Uses Power to Drop K and T

Independent Meat turned loose some power hitting by Mike Florence and Nelmeier Thursday night to drop K and T Steel 15-11 in city league play.

Florence and Nelmeier each had a trip and homerun.

Culligan kept the second-half miseries on Olympian-10-4 as Ingram went three-for-four to offset a homer by the losers: Mike Pope.

Larry Malone went four-for-four to help Varsity Barbershop down Shirley and Wyatt 13-5. Bill Parenteau was three-for-three for the losers.

Peterson cracked out four straight hits, including a homer, to lead Blitz Beer past OK Tire Stores 14-5.

In women's action, Sandy Breium and Debbie Thompson hit a homer each and pacesetter First Security needed both to nip Kim-Lanes 8-7 in eight innings.

Northwest Crane and Transport nipped Stutzman Construction 4-1 in a defensive duel but Stutzman came back to rip Haney Seed 3-2 as Bell hit two triples and two doubles. Kim-Lanes, with Post homering, left Stutzman 1-2 for the week with a 19-11 verdict.

Modell Feels NFL Will Have Season

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell said National Football League veterans may be asked to report to training camps if the current dispute between the NFL Players Association and clubs is not soon resolved.

"The possibility of opening training camps on an individual basis has been discussed," Modell said Thursday.

Modell said Thursday, "I can tell you that we will play football this year."

"When I don't really know," he added, "but we will play."

SPORT FANS! BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By BILL WORKMAN

What was the shortest home run ever hit? ... In a minor league game some years ago, a batter hit the ball a few inches in front of the plate ... the umpire called a strike ... the pitcher and catcher thought the ball hit off the batter's feet before rolling in front of the plate, which would have made it foul. They tossed and argued with the umpire, the ball eating six inches from home, while the batter raced around the bases and crossed the plate with what turned out to be the shortest home run of all-time!

Has there ever been anybody in big league baseball history who played in over 100 games in a season and NEVER struck out? ... It's never happened ... The closest anyone ever came to that was infielder Joe Sewell, who in 1925, played in 153 games, had 408 at bats and struck out only four times all year.

How fast could you drive a car in the old days? ... Well, the first auto race in the United States was held in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day, 1895. ... It was a 30-mile race, and the winning car, built by Barney Stearns, went from New Haven, Conn. to Chicago at an average speed of ... believe it or not ... 17 1/2 miles per hour!

Did you know that the first woman to win under par on the new 18-hole Blue Lakes Golf Course was located on Blue Lakes Boulevard North just west from Newton Street Center.

Successful Investing

Q-I plan to retire in six months with various pensions amounting to $45 a month. We have $12,500 in savings and $10,000 face value 4 per cent Treasury Bonds due August 1971, yielding 7.4 per cent on cost. Holdings in two mutual funds are worth $7,000 and investments in 10 stocks have a current value of $4,700. What steps can I take to improve my income? E.F.

A-Your holdings are, for the most part, entirely appropriate for your situation. I would, however, recommend sale of GAF on any return. Earnings were depressed last year and further deterioration was reported in net for the first quarter of 1970.

Your limited investment in liquidated since earnings prospects are uncertain and recovery will undoubtedly be protracted. Funds from your 4 1/2 per cent and 5 per cent savings accounts could then be used to make up the balance needed to purchase four $1,000 face value RCA Corp. 9 per cent notes due in 1975. These A-rated notes are selling at a premium to yield over 8 per cent. Income on this portion of your capital will be increased 88 per cent by these changes. Although I will not go so far as to predict the future course of interest rates, you may be able to upgrade your income when your Government bonds mature in 1971. Q-I am interested in investing $25 monthly in Windsor Fund for retirement. I am married and have six children. Can I invest periodically without obligation to continue if I can't afford to? What is your opinion of this fund? C.J.

A-Windsor Fund features a voluntary accumulation plan which requires investments in $50 minimum amounts. The only change needed in your plan would be to make purchases every other month instead of monthly. This plan would fit your desire to invest, without being tied to a contract. Windsor has an excellent record of growth, a low portfolio turnover rate and a portfolio that emphasizes blue chip issues. This conservative common stock fund is well suited to a man with above-average family responsibilities.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market was drifting lower on light trading after three hours decline. Declines edged advances, 592 to 513. The UPI marketwide indicator was down 0.10 per cent.

The Dow-Jones Industrial average of 30 top blue chips was down about 1/4 point at 730.08. Analysts attributed the decline to profit taking following Thursday's late advance on news that Egyptian President Nasser had agreed to U.S. peace proposals. Many analysts felt the market would find it difficult to retain its gains in the absence of further significant news from the Middle East or Indochina.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—As long as interest rates remain high, a sort of "mental price ceiling" exists for blue chip stocks, according to Hopkin Bros. & Co. It says stock prices have become more intimately tied to long-term interest rates and assumptions—that inflation—ending are incorrect. Thus, the market may be entering a "trendless phase that is neither bullish nor bearish because the public and the financial community are conditioned to thinking in terms of bull and bear markets measured in terms of the blue chip stocks the company adds.

Distributor Named in T.F.

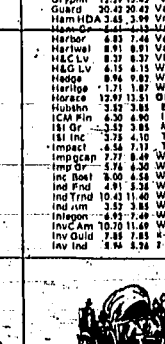

Western Bearings, Inc. Twin Falls, was recently appointed by Siginaw Steering Gear Division of General Motors Corp. to handle their nationally known line of rolled thread ball bearing screws and splines and acme thread screws, announced Claude Middleton, president of Western Bearings.

With offices in Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, and Wyoming, Western Bearings will provide a warehouse stock of these units. Over the past 30 years, ball screws have gained wider and wider use throughout industry as the basis of mechanical actuation. Approximately 90 per cent of hospital beds, lift tables, and industrial jacks and numerous places where hydraulic cylinders were once used.

Opening lead—♠ 2

Nothing sensational, just a quiet six-spot.

West cashed his queen of clubs and East made the quiet false-discard of the eight of diamonds. West led the deuce of diamonds and East continued his campaign of deception by dropping the 10.

South led dummy's deuce of trumps and false-card No. 4 hit the table. East played the nine! South finessed the queen.

As you can all see, South can get to dummy by ruffing his last diamond to take a second trump finesse, but what would you do, after East's plays? This South thought awhile and finally decided that East was surely out of diamonds, so that he would be able to overruff dummy. Therefore, South decided that East's original distribution had been 6-2-3-2 and that the play of the ace of trumps would drop East's king.

Field Day Program Slated At Kimberly

BURLEY — Several residents of Cassia County are making plans to attend the 20th anniversary Field Day Program beginning at 8:30 a. m. July 30 at the Kimberly Experiment Station.

Tours will be held from 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and followed by welcome and introduction of participating staff and guests by Marshall LeBaron, superintendent.

F. W. (Bill) Bergeson, chairman of the consulting council, will speak on the topic of "Agricultural Consulting Council and Its Function." He will also discuss the need and value of research and extension programs for Idaho Agriculture.

Final remarks will be made about 11 a. m. by Dr. James E. Kraus, dean of College of Agriculture, University of Idaho, Moscow.

Plots of experiments at the station will be visited including Root Rot, breeding beans; Jereal Nursey; Irrigation-Nitrogen Nugaines wheat and Luther Barby; Foundation Dry Bean Seed program; old varieties of dry beans; Snap beans, breeding lines; alfalfa seed production; sugar beets; root disease in wheat; potato variety trials; turnip varieties; weed control plots of beans; soil test correlation; forage plots; evergreen tree planting and automated irrigation demonstration.

TURBO RAINMAKER, mounted on a four wheeled unit, sprays water 150 feet in a half circle. The system, one of two such units operating in Idaho, according to Ames Irrigation Co., officials, Twin Falls, owned by Read L. Bryant, southwest of Burley. Mr. Bryant says this type of sprinkler system is cheaper to own and operate than any other form of sprinkler irrigation now in use.

Sprinkler System on Burley Farm One of Two in Idaho

BURLEY — A new form of sprinkler irrigation system, owned by Read L. Bryant, southwest of Burley, is one of two such units operating in the state, according to officials from the Ames Irrigation Co., Twin Falls.

The other operating unit is at Preston, but in Florida the "rainmakers" operate by the hundreds.

This unit is a four-wheeled rubber tread, similar to a four wheeled trailer in use on many of the local farms. This irrigation vehicle is about 10 feet long, three and one half feet wide with a tongue for moving by a tractor from set to set.

On this wheeled frame is mounted a stand pipe six foot high. At the top of the stand pipe is mounted a large "Trobo Rain-maker" which sprays the water.

Also on this frame is a water turbine which runs a cable winch that handles one-fourth mile of steel cable which propels the unit forward through the field moving one-fourth mile in 1 to 12 hours. The movement across the field can be speeded up or slowed as more or less water is desired on the crops. The cable is securely pegged down at end of field until released so the unit can be towed to other end of the field or set for another run through the field.

The water source could be a canal or sump where an electric motor runs a pump capable of building up water pressure to 100 to 125 pounds pressure in the feed line which can be buried under ground. The feed lines may be one-half mile apart in large fields as this new type of irrigation unit could go both ways from the line for one-fourth mile.

A stretch four inch hose is attached to the feed line and the irrigation unit. This hose is rolled on a large reel mounted on a steel framed trailer with a power take off from a tractor to roll the hose back up when the end of field is reached.

With 100 pounds water pressure it will run the cable winch and spray water 150 feet out from the unit through the rainmaker in a half circle using 450 gallons per minute. This way all water is behind the irrigation unit so it moves on dry ground at all times.

This type of sprinkler is still in an experimental stage and many changes have been made and other changes will be made, officials say.

One 50 horse electric motor will run two of the rainmaker units.

Considering installation, water supply, irrigation units and labor saved, this new type of sprinkler will be many, many times cheaper to own and operate than any form of sprinkler irrigation now in use, says Mr. Bryant.

Achievement Day Planned At Buhl

BUHL—Plans are under way for the West End Achievement day, sponsored by the Buhl Chamber of Commerce, according to Mrs. Henry Thiemann, president of the West End 4-H council.

Murtaugh Grangers Set Picnic

MURTAUGH—Annual Murtaugh Grange potluck picnic will be held at 7 p. m. Sunday at the hall.

A resolution pertaining to the agricultural extension service was approved by members at the last meeting. Earl Young read several resolutions from other subordinate granges.

Correspondence was read from the national grange lecturer, county committee on Johnny Horizon day and the national grange master.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester McGregor and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Roberts, Hollister Grange members, auctioned the traveling duck, being used by the state Women's Activity committee, to raise funds for use of the National Grange sessions in Boise this fall.

Mrs. Wesley Fowler received the duck and $24.16 was raised. She must now take the duck to some other grange to be auctioned.

Mrs. Bryce Biggerstaff, lecturer, presented the program on patriotism. Participating were Mrs. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Harold Monsen and Ralph Broeding.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Breeding and Mr. and Mrs. Kay Biggers. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carrier and Mr. and Mrs. Biggerstaff will be hosts for the Aug. 7 meeting.

CLUB PICNICS

KING HILL—The annual family picnic of the Pasadena Valley livestock club was held on the lawn of the Lee Trail home on Sunday with around 50 people present. Potluck was enjoyed by all, and the young people enjoyed a swim in the "Ole Swimm'n' Hole" above the ranch. Guests were Mrs. Marilyn Jordan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ross of Mountain Home.

Achievement day will be held July 29 with the style show and talent night to be held Aug. 12.

Committees assigned include Mrs. Thiemann, general chairman; Mrs. Lawrence Sill, home economics judging chairman, assisted by Mrs. Jay Welch and Mrs. David Kinyon; Mrs. Ted Quigley, Mrs. Okelberry and Cindy Wagner, home economics demonstrations; Susan Southwick, Nancy Reese, Linda Ripa and Patti Quigley, style dress revue practice; Mrs. Wayne Iverson, home economics chairman assisted by Mrs. Dave Monson.

Dennis Conrad, Jack Southwick and George Wagner, tractor driving contest; Dick Howard, livestock committee chairman; Ken Cramer, livestock judging chairman, assisted by Dan Moldenhauer, Jackie Cramer and Kathy Huff; Mona Freeman, David and Barbara Hart, Kay Freeman and Arlene Garrison of the Northview Livestock 4-H club, beef judging committee; Cramers of the Buhl Livestock 4-H club, dairy judging committee; Connie Wetzstein of the Sunnyside 4-H club, sheep judging committee; Billy Pater of the Sunset Livestock 4-H club, swine judging committee, and Mrs. Shirley Barron and Mrs. Earl Hudson, miscellaneous agricultural projects.

Chairmen for the pop stand on Achievement day will be Barbara and Dennis Conrad, assisted by Shirley Gibson, Lynn Cothern, Linda Kaster, Kay Freeman, Barbara Hart, Marshall Schroeder, Jackie Cramer, Kathy Huff and Connie Wetzstein. Lambert Lauda's club, of which Lynn Cothern is junior leader, will be responsible for setting up tables for the potluck. Jane Horne, assisted by Lori Sill and Caroline Barron will be in charge of the style talent show.

Council officers in addition to Mrs. Thiemann are Dick Howard, vice president, and Mrs. Jim Horne, secretary.

STORE TOURED

RICHFIELD—Richfield's Mix and Make and Phyllis' Fits 4-H clubs toured the Triple S grocery store in Halley last week in company with other 4-H clubs from Lincoln County. The Richfield girls were accompanied by leaders, Mrs. Ronald Ralls and Mrs. Gary Swainston.

200 Blaine 4-H'ers Have Projects

Friday, July 24, 1970 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 3

CAREY—Some 200 Blaine County 4-H'ers are enrolled in about 425 projects for this year's fair slated for Aug. 19-22 at the fairgrounds at Carey.

"This year's figures of participation are running about two to one to the 1969 participation," Jim Eakin, county agent said, "making this year's event the biggest in the history of the county's program."

Home economics and agricultural projects enrolled to date include about 150 clothing; over 60 foods; about 20 beef, five dairy, over 40 horses, about 20 sheep, six swine; 15 public speaking, over 30 arts, and over 20 leadership.

Twenty-three county clubs under the direction of 32 leaders will be participating. This is the fourth year the event has been held at the existing fairgrounds at Carey. Mr. Eakin said, and each year has surpassed the previous year.

In addition to the 4-H exhibits, the public is invited to enter projects by Aug. 19.

A 4-H horse show is also scheduled Aug. 19 in conjunction with the event, and about 60 entrants are expected to participate. An evening rodeo sponsored annually by the Carey Rodeo association, and a public dance, are also on the agenda.

More details will be released as they are available, Mr. Eakin noted.

DONATED

BUHL—Members of the Buhl Livestock 4-H club recently donated several barrels to the Buhl Rodeo Association to be used at the rodeo arena. The barrels were painted by the members and the presentation was made to Virgil Marritt president of the Buhl Rodeo Association. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cramer are leaders of the group.

Frostenson Is 1970 Winner Of Camas Grassman Contest

FAIRFIELD — Ston Frostenson, manure and farmer and cattelman, is the 1970 winner in the Camas County Grassman-of-the-Year contest.

Frostenson is operating a farm of 2,300 acres on Camas Prairie. 1200 acres are leased and 1100 acres are deeded land. He is running a herd of 250 Angus cows along with hay and wheat farming.

He exhibited 640 acres of pasture that he had split into five pastures for rotation. He has facilities to irrigate this land. He has removed brush and reseeded other pastures to increase their capacity. Much of the land is along Camas creek and is wet much of the year.

He found that Reeds Canary grass grow well in such areas and it has covered much of this area with a lush growth of palatable forage where before there was nothing or a poor quality of water grasses. These improvements along with his herd management, handling facilities, land management and community participation were used to pick Frostenson as the Grassman of the Year. Credit is also due Mrs. Frostenson for her help on the farm. Frostenson has one full time hired man and others when needed.

Other contestants were William H. Wilson who showed excellent results in seeding grass in established alfalfa stands to thicken the existing stand. He farms many acres on the prairie. The last contestant was the Hidden Paradise Grazing Association who have a spread at the foot of Soldier Mountain.

This group is made up of six ranchers from the Jerome area with Clarence Miller, President, and Jim Ritchie, secretary. They showed a dug pond used to collect water, a spring development, watering troughs, suspension fencing, brush spraying, deferred grazing, new seedings and fertilizer trials.

ASC Head Tells Of Petitions

Nominations for candidates for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee posts in Twin Falls County will be accepted July 28 through Aug. 17, Carl Boyd county chairman, announced.

"This year we hope farmers in the county will nominate by filing petitions for a full slate for all seven committees within the county. A full slate means a minimum of six candidates to choose from in electing a community committee of three members and two alternates," Mr. Boyd explained.

All ASC community committees are elected each year with newly elected committeemen to convene shortly after their September election to name a new county committee member and two alternates from among their group.

County members serve three year terms while community members are elected each year as are alternates.

The ASC committee administrators agricultural problems involving marketing quotas, acreage allotments, price support loans, conservation cost sharing and other agricultural matters.

Chairman Boyd said nominations may be made by simply sending in the name of the candidate with the signatures of six or more eligible voters on a piece of paper submitted to the ASC office, 582 Blue Lakes Blvd., N., Twin Falls.

Minidoka Tour Set On July 31

RUPERT — Annual Grassman of the Year tour will be held July 31 in Minidoka County and will include a tour of farms of six candidates and a no-host luncheon at Paul.

Candidates and sponsors include Jack Hiltterbrand, Norland, Minidoka Holstein Club; H.A. Harrison, Heyburn, Soil Conservation Service; Gerald Schneider, Paul, Paul Grange; Clyde Prouss, Norland, Rupert Rotary Club; Glen Hawkes, Paul, Rupert Lion's Club; and Tad Abo, Heyburn, Rupert Kiwanis Club.

Ken Roth, general chairman, said the tour will begin at 9:15 a.m. at the Hiltterbrand farm and interested persons are invited. Final announcement of the contest winner will be made during the annual Former Businessman Banquet held this fall.

Club Members Report Work On Projects

RICHFIELD — "Project progress" was the West End 4-H Club roll call at the home of Sabrina Pugh and Kim Lynch. The two girls gave demonstrations on preparing wool for market and curing sheep foot rot.

Aug. 1 was the date set for clipping calves under the direction of junior leaders David Ross, Gary Freeman, and Roger Golcochea. This will be an achievement day at the Richfield Park. A pot-luck picnic will be featured.

Mrs. Rupert Golcochea, club leader, announced the July 26 Grange picnic at Clarendon Hot Springs with all 4-H Club families invited.

Picnic Planned

RICHFIELD — A social get together marked the second July Richfield Grange meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Proctor.

Plans were made to have the annual Grange picnic at noon July 26 at Clarendon Hot Springs. Members of the Richfield 4-H Clubs and their families are invited to the no-host event.

Plans for the Lincoln County Fair exhibit Aug. 7-9 were discussed.

The Aug. 12 meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rajala.

Animal Showing Studied

SHOSHONE — Joana Swainston conducted the Daisy Dairy 4-H club meeting where a demonstration on how to show an animal at the fair was given by Roger Golcochea, Mrs. Morris Swainston, leader, discussed record books with students.

Heather Reynolds conducted the Handy Homemakers meeting at the Waldo Jones home; Robin

Young lead the 4-H pledge and motto. Crystal Thomason took roll call. Visitors were Shawn Jones and Allen Garner. Hostesses were Carley Jones and Crystal Thomason.

The group planned a dance as a money-raising project. Diane Palmer and Charlene Jones were appointed to a committee on arrangements.

Most T.F. Area Farmers Get Payment

About 90 per cent of the 1970 farm program payments earned by producers in Twin Falls County have been made, according to Carl Boyd, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"Thanks to the fine cooperation of participating farmers, we are well on the way to completing payments in the feed grain and wheat programs," he said. "The U. S. Department of Agriculture this year made a commitment to make farm payments earlier than ever before, and we are keeping that commitment."

Mr. Boyd said that in previous years, partial payments had been made in advance to feed grain participants. Budget restraints this year made it impossible to make any farm payments before July 1, the beginning of the federal fiscal year.

"We expect to complete payments within the next two weeks in Twin Falls County, which will be the earliest date we have ever completed farm program payments," Mr. Boyd said.

He commented that producers participating in the farm programs have earned payments by helping stabilize markets and by giving up the use of producing productive cropland that would otherwise have been put into cash crops or other income-producing uses. Instead, they maintain the land in conserving uses which help prevent soil erosion and air and water pollution.

Couple Is Given Pin By Grange

BURLEY — Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schwagler, received 25-year Silver Star pins during a recent Claremont Grange meeting. Russell Shockey, master, made the presentation.

Mr. Schwagler has served two terms as master of the Claremont Grange; held several other offices and is presently serving as steward, as well as serving as master of the Cassia County Pomona Grange.

Mrs. Jeanette Schwagler has served as lecturer and pianist throughout the years. Presently she is serving as secretary of the Claremont Grange. Also she is director for women's activities for the Idaho State Grange and is serving on the National Women's Activities committee.

The couple has been very active in Grange work the past 25 years they have been members.

Russell Acock, Rupert, Grange Mutual Fire Insurance Co. representative, presented a resume of insurance available to Grange members.

Plans were made to entertain the Cassia County Pomona Grange, and Mrs. Marjorie Shockey will serve as chairman of the arrangements.

Can be used up to and including day of harvest!

Cygon* 267 Systemic Insecticide is more effective than other compounds because it kills by both contact and systemic action. It gives high initial kill, then continues as a systemic protector—working from within the plant to resist "weathering" that often shortens the effective life of other materials.

Cygon is economical, too. Because it has long-lasting activity and is used at low rates, a little goes a long way. Cygon is also a low-hazard material—and when used according to directions, there are no residue problems.

For further information, contact your local insecticide supplier. Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label.

A JOHNNY HORIZON district award was given to Bud Phillips, news director for KEEP radio, right, by Bob Broch, regional director for the Bureau of Land Management, left. As publicity chairman of the Twin Falls County clean-up campaign, Mr. Phillips received his award for the many hours spent in preparing and giving public service announcements in support of the campaign.

Along Fences And Canals

Haying at the Eugene Alexander ranch in Marley gave Alan Paulson a chance to get a snake with nine rattles and a one button small rattlesnake. The larger snake was skinned and refrigerated for smoking. The youth uses a smoker belonging to his uncle, Raymond Paulson, to make the delicacy which is a present attraction for some residents. Alan is one of the first to wear a snakeskin hatband this summer. He was told by Leslie Bushby, Richfield's chief rattlesnake hunter, to leave the rattles on snakeskins for hat bands.

A mother raccoon and four baby raccoons have been seen north of Richfield. Two Richfield youths saw the family group and the mother ran away, but all four babies climbed the same tree.

John Noble, Tuttle, spent two days at Juniper Mountain in Owyhee County to check on his cattle on the range there.

Burt Akhis, Richfield, has moved his haying equipment to Hill City. Clifford Dayley is operating the baler and Charles (Chuck) Jensen is stacking the hay.

Members of the Bliss Grazing Association held a cattle drive recently west of Bliss to round up cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Blawell, who ranches southeast of Shoshone, have had a room added to their home and repainted the entire house.

Frank Cliff, Richfield, had four pieces of steel removed from his eyes after being injured while grinding a tractor bolt at the C.F. Chaffield ranch where he is employed.

Haying is in full swing on Camas Prairie with a bumper crop of alfalfa. Some farmers have reported that their hay is cut, baled and hauled already while others still have some standing hay to be cut. The extra moisture from the rains have started a good second growth and farmers who cut early will be able to have a second cutting this year. Normal is one cutting of hay. Winter grain is already in the head and rains have helped the spring grain.

Gooding, Camas Areas FHA Payments Listed

GOODING — Farmers and other rural residents in Gooding and Camas Counties paid $732,022.55 to the Farmers Home Administration during the last fiscal year which ended June 30.

During this same period 72 loans were made totaling $787,360.00. This was the smallest amount loaned in any fiscal year since the opening of the office in Gooding. Maximum credit from other sources was utilized through increased subordination authorities to help make up for the shortage of loan funds.

Of the 72 loans made, 43 were for operating loan purposes such as purchase of livestock, machinery and other farm operating expenses. Fourteen Farm Ownership loans were made to purchase farms, reaffirm existing purchase contracts or for other real estate development. The two Soil and Water loans were approved to provide improved irrigation systems.

Eleven individual rural housing loans were made to build new homes, purchase existing dwellings and for remodeling purposes. One rural rental housing loan was approved to construct eight apartments for senior citizens, and one Economic opportunity loan was made for a non-farm enterprise.

Besides the loan making and servicing activities to individuals, the Farmers Home Administration assists in development of rural communities through resource planning, grazing associations, water and sewer projects, sanitary landfills, domestic water systems, small watershed development and self-help housing projects.

The Farmers Home Administration has been given additional authorities to finance the purchase of land for on-site construction for modest housing along with additional funds to eligible families with low to moderate income to acquire adequate housing in the rural areas.

Modeling Tips Given To 4-H'ers

SHOSHONE — Carley Jones presented an illustrated talk "A Well Balanced Meal," Christy Jones showed how to set a table properly and Charlene Jones gave modeling tips at recent meetings of the Handy Homemakers 4-H club held at the home of Mrs. Waldo Jones, leader. Project requirements were assigned and seven members of the club plan to attend 4-H camp.

Heather Tews, president, conducted the third meeting of the year with Charly Jones, leader of the 4-H pledge and Patricia and Robin Bass, Boise, guests. Refreshments were served by Charlene Jones.

In the absence of the president, Charlene Jones, vice president, was in charge of the following two meetings. Carley Jones led the pledge of allegiance, Crystal Thomason led the 4-H pledge and Christy Jones led the 4-H motto at the first of the two meetings and Christy Jones served refreshments. Recreation for the occasion was swimming.

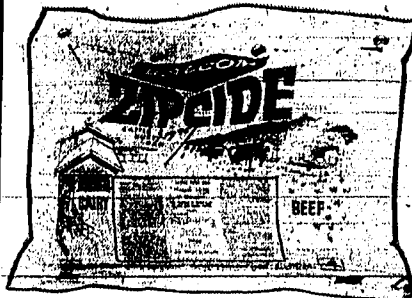

At the July 10 meeting of the group, Colleen Jones led the pledge of allegiance, Crystal Thomason led the club pledge and Diane Palmer led the motto. A cooking term was used to answer roll call. Heather Jones was a guest. Colleen Jones served lunch.

WHY MAPLE BRANCHES

WILT: Why does a perfectly healthy maple tree produce a branch or two with dried up, parched leaves? There are several possible reasons for Norway maple branches to suddenly wilt, turn brown and die while the rest of the tree is in good health. One reason is a branch infection caused by a fungus known as sparcopsis. There's another fungus associated with this type of disease known as Eutypella. Don't let these jaw-breaking names throw you. The important thing is that you cut out these dead branches flush with the tree, and then burn them. Keeping the trees watered in dry spells helps ward off the diseases, and feeding them each fall will build vigor. As far as chemical control is concerned, there is no spray I know that will check the diseases.

KEEPING ANIMALS FROM

CORN: If you've been having trouble with birds, coons and other animals molesting your corn, try this trick a reader sent us: "I crisscrossed twine string from row to row here and there. Then I tied newspapers loosely onto the cords or string. The movement of the papers and the sound from them blowing in the wind did the trick. Nothing to bother the corn ears! I also put aluminum-foil cut-in strips, tin cans and TV dishes in our cherry trees. By shining in the sun they kept the pests out."

WILD MORNING GLORY

KILLED: Home gardeners will tell you that the toughest weed they have is the wild morning glory. Here's how one reader got rid of this weed: "Every time I found one of my flowers entwined with the vine, I unwound the vine, spread it along the ground and held it down with a stone. I took a sponge and wet it with a weedkiller, then dabbed the leaves. This is safer than spraying. By the end of the summer, there are no vines left. The next spring I had to repeat the treatment on what few vines that reappeared. Haven't seen one now in two years."

WHY SEED IS SCARIFIED:

Don't let that word scare you! All it means is to make little scars or cuts on seeds with hard seed coats. This hastens germination by letting moisture get through the tough coat of armor some seeds (such as morning glory, crown vetch, cypress, etc) have. One student of forestry tells us he used to feed such hard seeds to chickens then took the droppings and placed them in a large barrel of water. The seeds would float on the water and he'd sieve them out and plant them. They'd germinate fast because the chickens' digestive system had "scarified" the seed coat. You can get the same effect by taking a file and notching each seed coat until you see white meat. Some commercial growers use a weak solution of sulfuric acid to eat away the tough seed coat. Fortunately, not all seeds need to be scarified. If you have some that do, forget the chickens and use a file on them.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

D.E. of Twin Falls. "We have two silver-leaf maples in our front lawn. They're beautiful and healthy, but we find little silver maple leaves coming up in the lawn all over. These leaves are connected to roots and we're afraid they'll do damage to water pipes. Do we have to destroy these trees?"

Some maples are shallow rooted and send up suckers or sprouts and they're tough to pull up. Your best bet is to mow them off. Roots will grow bigger and bigger each year. Some of the soil between them erodes, making the roots protrude even more. It's worse where soils have a hardpan or clay. There's no permanent cure, other than removal of the trees, which I hate to see you contemplate. As for water pipes, the roots won't bother if the pipes are in good shape. If they leak, then roots will multiply and are apt to gain entrance. I wouldn't worry about this part. Protruding roots can be chopped out without injury to tree. You can also scatter on some Topsoil (one or two inches thick and replant to a lawnseed blend containing fescue varieties such as Chewings, Alliance, Pennlawn, etc (since these are

Calf Fund Discussed At Milner

MILNER—Ricky George led the pledge of allegiance and Paul Warr the 4-H pledge at a meeting of the Better Feeders and Fitters 4-H Club Sunday afternoon at the home of Brenda and Jim Brill.

Farmum Warr, leader, led a discussion on the county 4-H fund raising calf which is being kept at the home of Jim Rogers at Declo.

Mr. Warr reported that Raymond, Carol and Steven Sargent, Allen Kloor; Paul and Andrew Kloor, Ricky George, Brett and Brian Jackson, and Cory Webb attended the 4-H Camp above the Russian John Ranger Station.

Members made arrangements to paint wash barrels for the Cassia County fairgrounds July 22 at the Warr home. Brenda Brill served the refreshments.

Among the more drought and shade tolerant of the fine turfgrasses, Tear up any surface roots that are available. No doubt tree roots will start growing up through the new soil with a couple of years.

Cutworm

The western bean cutworm adult population is increasing, but as of July 23 it was only a fourth as large as in 1969 on the same date. The adult moths began emerging July 4, 1970, which was a week later than in 1969.

Since emergence started, the population remained low until July 20. Since then, it has been increasing but still remains relatively low compared with 1969.

The Entomology Research Division will prepare weekly reports on the cutworm infestation during the remainder of the growing season as a guide to area growers. It is announced by Walter E. Peay, Entomology Research Division, USDA.

4-H'ers Plan Gymkhana On Aug. 2

The Dozen Dudes 4-H Club will sponsor a gymkhana Aug. 2 at 10 a. m. at Frontier Field. There will be a $1 charge for the entry fee, half of which will go towards a jackpot. Trophies will be awarded to the high point horses and to the high point junior exhibitor.

Events will include showmanship for 13 and under and 14 and older, horsemanship for 18 and under, baroback dollar, quadrangle race, key hole race, goat tying for girls, clover leaf barrels, jumping and a trial class.

Apple Harvest Reported

A bumper apple crop of 134 million pounds was harvested in 1969, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, marking an increase from the 1968 crop of 26 million pounds.

The production represents 3,190,000 42-pound bushels, nearly five times the 1968 crop of 667,000 bushels.

No major economic losses were recorded during the 1969 growing season, the summary indicates. Of the total, 300,000 pounds were retained for farm or home use, and the remainder was sold for commercial distribution.

The price per pound, equivalent to returns at the packinghouse door for Washington and Oregon points, was down markedly, to 5.34 cents per pound for 1969, as against 7.90 cents for 1968. This is the second lowest level since 1961, exceeded only by a price of 4.38 cents per pound, reached in 1963.

However, because of the heavy production, the total value was higher than at any time in the past nine years — $4,888,000.

HIGH INDIVIDUAL JUNIOR Judge at the Idaho Junlor Herford Association field day was Randy Kidd, of Declo, shown above at the halter of the registered Herford heifer he won for his award. Flanking Randy are A.D. Clark, on left, owner of the host ranch, and Randy Pantz, on right, the ranch manager. The field day was held at the Clark Herford Ranch near Buhl. Mr. Clark donated the heifer in the hopes that a new breeder would get a good start with a good animal in the business. Already the owner of five herford cows with calves, Randy assured Mr. Clark that the heifer would have a good home and would become a part of his registered herd for future production.

Saddle Club Studies Knots

The Twin Falls Valley Saddle 4-H Horse Club held a meeting at the Glenn Ward residence.

Rusty Jessor demonstrated tying knots and gave a talk on the uses of knots. Susan Bizer demonstrated the building of a horse stall and Susan Jessor gave special showing hints. Glenn Ward gave a talk on fitting and showing swine.

A cooked food sale, used as a fund raising project, was planned for August 7.

Mrs. Roy Jessor, leader of the group, announced that there will be a Horse Achievement Day, July 31.

Grange at Kimberly Has Report

KIMBERLY Reports highlighted the recent Kimberly Grange meeting.

Mrs. Deann Britt, youth committee chairman, told of several 4-H'ers going to camp; Leslie Lowe, agricultural committee, talked on seed grain acreages. He also spoke on the proposed Idaho Constitution revisions.

Mrs. Burton Harmon, lecturer, read a poem, "Daddy's Tracks," by Mrs. Glen Miller.
