HIROSHIMA, Japan (UPI)—Hiroshima recalled its hour of atomic agony today on the 25th anniversary of the first use of nuclear weaponry.

More than 20,000 visitors to Peace Memorial Park bowed their heads in silent prayer at 8:15 a.m. (7:15 p.m. EDT Wednesday), the moment when the American B29 Enola Gay dropped the bomb that bathed the city in fire and death.

Three days later—another American atomic bomb fell on Nagasaki. Japan surrendered Aug. 14, 1945, ending World War II.

The faces of Hiroshima's dead, frozen in thousands of photographs mounted around the peace park, gazed over the memorial service.

The United States estimates the A-bomb toll was 76,000. Japan says it was 200,000.

"We pray together and as individuals for an end of war," an intoned Mayor Satsuo Yamada, in an official prayer read during the rite.

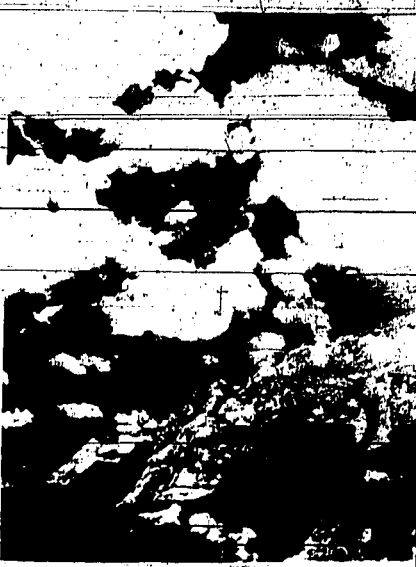

"Japan, as the only nation to suffer from the atomic bomb, aspires for the establishment of peace to protect mankind from nuclear war," said a message from Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

The crowd assembled in 90-degree temperatures in front of the cenotaph memorial for the service. Most were Japanese in shirtsleeves and straw hats, mingling with a sprinkling of foreigners.

Among the foreigners were delegates to the Communist-sponsored 16th World Conference against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs.

The cenotaph base was decked with flowers. The names of 3,606 A-bomb survivors who died during the past year were deposited in the memorial by the mayor.

Added to the list was the name of John Alan Long, 27, identified by city officials as an American war prisoner who died in the A-bomb attack.

HIROSHIMA BECAME a name seared into the consciousness of the world on this date 25 years ago. It was on that day that the first atomic bomb was dropped, turning the heart of this seeming Japanese city into a nuclear wasteland. (UPI)

Color Line Hit In N.Y. Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department today accused the managers of 150 buildings with 21,000 apartments in New York City of violating the Fair Housing Act by discriminating against Negroes.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced the civil rights suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn. He said it was the largest housing case ever brought by the government and the first in New York City.

Named in the suit were Samuel J. Lefrak who manages and controls apartment buildings in Brooklyn and Queens; Life Realty, Inc., which rents only apartments managed by Lefrak; Mrs. Rutha Gelman, vice-president of Life Realty; and assistant Anthony Cuccin.

For the past seven months, the department said, it tried to obtain voluntary compliance with the 1968 Fair Housing Act but reported "this attempt has been unsuccessful" because Lefrak and his associates denied the government access to pertinent documents and records.

"At least with respect to the buildings in Brooklyn managed by the Lefrak organization and rented through Life Realty," the government said, they practiced discrimination "because of race, color, and national origin in the rental of apartments."

The Lefrak organization has offices at 97-77 Queens Blvd., Forest Hills in the Queens section of the city. The government could not list the addresses of all the apartments in its complaints, a spokesman said, because of being denied access to records.

Lefrak and his agents were accused of "deliberately channeling Negro applicants to selected apartment buildings while channelling whites only to other buildings."

They also were accused of making dwellings unavailable to persons because of race, color and national origin, and of representing that apartments were not available when in fact they were.

Israeli Planes Attack

By United Press International—Egypt reported shooting down a U.S.-built Skyhawk today as 30 Israeli warplanes attacked Suez Canal targets for the 77th consecutive day. Arabs squabbling over the U.S. plan for peace triggered a gunbattle in the Jordanian capital of Amman.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli military sources said they expect Arab guerrillas to escalate attacks on Israel from bases in Lebanon and Jordan in a move to undermine a cease-fire being worked out under the U.S. blueprint for peace.

A mortar attack launched from Lebanon today wounded one Israeli soldier; a Tel Aviv communique reported, and Israeli forces fired back into an area in the foothills of Mt. Hermon.

Blades was taken to St. Benedict's Hospital here for treatment, then rushed by emergency vehicle to Boise, but the victim died en route.

Jerome County Sheriff James (Pat) Burns said the victim was apparently heading for work in Twin Falls, where he was employed, about 7 a. m. Wednesday, when the pickup went out of control for an unknown reason.

The hurtling vehicle threw the driver out, then rolled over several times, landing in the median strip between interstate lanes.

Sheriff Burns said the right front tire was flat. He said he could not determine if the tire blew out, causing the wreck.

Moscow, Bonn Reach Accord

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union and West Germany have agreed on a proposed nonaggression treaty and Foreign Ministers Walter Scheel and Andrei A. Gromyko were meeting today to put finishing touches on the accord, diplomatic sources said.

Short of a last minute hitch, these sources said, the new Moscow-Bonn treaty would be initiated Friday or Saturday.

Negotiating teams led by deputy delegation chiefs met this morning for 2 1/2 hours and compared texts of the proposed accord, the sources said.

More Wilderness Celia Profits Assailed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon said Wednesday he will ask Congress for more money to expand the nation's wilderness system.

A 4-am-convicted-thief-in-the-past we have moved too slowly in both the executive and legislative branches, toward the goal of completion of our national wilderness system," the President said in the message to Congress accompanying the sixth annual report on the status of that system.

Nixon said he has asked Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin and Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel to begin immediate studies of possible additions to the system, which now totals some 15 million acres.

Bruce Initiates New Paris Talks

PARIS (UPI)—The United States' new Vietnam peace negotiator, Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, made his debut at the 78th session of the negotiations today armed with broad bargaining powers to attempt to break the 18-month deadlock.

Bruce, 72, went into his first session with the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese referring to his "wider latitude" in dealing with the Communists. He said his opening statement was "not going to contain anything startling."

Hanoi's delegates, minus chief negotiator Xuan Thuy, greeted the veteran diplomat with a cautious statement that the Nixon administration could "modify its policy, putting an end to this costly war," if it wanted to. They held back on hardline attacks.

Celia cut a 250-mile path through south Texas to the Mexican border, killing 10 persons, causing millions of dollars in damages and destroying almost every town in its path. Three other persons died of heart attacks.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami reported 14 persons were killed off the Florida coast during the weekend in the heavy surf kicked up by the hurricane. But the center said it did not know whether the deaths would be attributed to Celia, which got no closer than 700 miles to the Florida coast.

The remains of Celia, still packing as much rain as it did Monday but without the hurricane winds, dumped up to two inches of rain on parts of mountainous southwest Texas, 700 miles from the sea. Flash flood warnings were issued for sparsely populated areas.

Electric power was restored in downtown Corpus Christi for the first time since Celia struck. Bus service started again and downtown store owners asked their employees to return to work to help in the cleanup and distribute needed supplies like medicine and food.

Blackmon said some gasoline stations in town had resumed operations with emergency generators and some were selling gas at 75 cents a gallon.

Huntley Denies Barbs

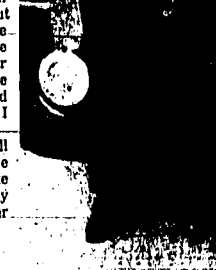

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former newscaster Chet Huntley has told President Nixon he is "terribly embarrassed" about remarks attributed to him in a recent issue of Life magazine.

Huntley wrote a letter to Nixon on July 14, shortly after Life quoted the ex-newscaster as saying of the President: "I've seen him under many conditions. The shallowness of the man overwhelms me; the fact that he is President frightens me."

"The letter, a copy of which was obtained by UPI, said: 'My dear Mr. President; I want you to know that I am terribly embarrassed about some remarks attributed to me in the current issue of Life magazine. How the reporter had the audacity to make me responsible for the alleged statements is something I cannot understand.'

I just hope you know me well enough to appreciate that the statements do not sound like me and that I am more sorry about them than you will ever know.

Sincerely,
Chet Huntley"

Bomb Hauler Survives

JEROME — An Oklahoma truck driver managed to keep his bomb-laden rig from overturning and exploding after a hair-raising half-mile ride off Interstate 80-N.

State Police said a blowout of the right front tire of the westbound large semi-truck and trailer caused the rig to go out of control at 6:55 a. m. about one mile west of the Kasota interchange on Interstate 80-N.

A crew of explosive experts from the U. S. Air Force at Mountain Home was enroute to the scene by helicopter Thursday to take charge of the cargo, listed as "class A" explosives enroute to Washington.

Seattle's Loss Is Twin Falls' Gain—Mexican Troupe Due

Because Seattle is pinched in the economic doldrums of a recession, Twin Falls will get a chance next week to see one of the top cultural attractions in North America.

"El Ballet Nacional de Mexico," found itself canceled out of an 11-day engagement in Seattle a few days ago "because of economic conditions" there.

With heavy expenses that continue whether they are working or not, the group decided to do a series of road shows enroute to its next regularly scheduled engagement in the Minneapolis area.

Twin Falls was picked as one of the stops. Shows will be presented here Monday and Tuesday.

"El Ballet Nacional de Mexico" is a cultural exchange group of 68 dancers and musicians sponsored by the government of Mexico.

In Mexico, "ballet" does not mean the same type of entertainment as elsewhere. Rather, it denotes a musical interpretation of folklore, so Mexican ballet differs radically from the traditional version, according to a spokesman for the group.

The 33 scenes of the performance include a portrayal of the "Sacrifice of a Mayan Princess," an authentic ritual which is one of the most ancient known to man, and the "Wedding in Michoacan," with an unusual "Dance of the Moors" which will make the viewer think he has been transported to the Russia of the Cossacks.

Tickets for the production will be on sale at the Times-News and at a number of downtown merchants, who are sponsoring the group's Twin Falls appearance.

Sections of seats at the CSI Fine Arts Center will be reserved, with tickets selling for $3.50, $4.50, and $5.50. The performance will begin at 8:30 p. m. both days.

DANCE FROM "WEDDING in Michoacan" is one of the colorful bits of Mexican folklore included in the repertoire of "El Ballet Nacional de Mexico" to be presented Monday and Tuesday nights at the CSI Fine Arts Center.

Mostly fair today, tonight and Friday, with some afternoon clouds and a few isolated late afternoon and evening thundershowers over mountains today. Gusty winds near thundershowers. Warmer, with higher today 85 to 88. Friday 85-95; overnight lows in 50s. Ten per cent chance of rain this afternoon. Outlook for Saturday, fair and warm. Camas Prairie and Wood River Valley highs 85-90, lows near 50. Soil temperatures: At T. F. weather bureau, four-inch 70-69, eight-inch 75-72, 20-inch 72-72, 36-inch 72-71; Rupert 78-76; Buhl 80-67; Castelford 84-68; Tuttle 84-68, King Hill 90-74.

Weather Synopsis

Considerable clouds covered most of southern Idaho yesterday with many thundershowers reported almost everywhere. However, measurable rain was mostly confined to mountain areas with the valley areas receiving only traces or none. By yesterday afternoon, which is the latest available information, many mountain areas reported considerable amounts of rain, up to nearly one half inch, especially in Custer and Lemhi Counties. Thundershowers continued well into the night in these areas so that total amounts should be up to one inch at a few stations. This will greatly reduce the fire danger the next several days. Gusty winds accompanied the thundershowers with Mountain Home recording a maximum gust of 59 mph near 10 p.m. The clouds and brisk winds held daytime high temperatures down to 75 to 85 everywhere except the hot southwest valleys, which had sun most of the day and thus reached the 90's to low 100's.

Thundershowers will continue this afternoon and evening mostly over the mountains and will be isolated in the southwest to widely scattered in the southeast. Only isolated thundershowers over the southeast mountains should be left by Friday as drier air slowly replaces the moist air. Skies will be partly cloudy in valley areas of the southeast today and mostly fair in the southwest with mountain areas partly to mostly cloudy. Southeast valleys should be mostly fair by Friday. Temperatures will rise in the southeast from 85 to 95 today and tomorrow and will remain about the same here in the southwest valleys.

He was born Feb. 9, 1920, in Berryville, Ark. He came to the Castleford area in 1922 then moved to Buhl. He moved to Twin Falls in 1945.

He had been employed by Mountain Bell Telephone Co. for the past 13 years as a supply clerk. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army with the military police. He was a member of the BPOE number 1183.

On Aug. 6, 1946, he married Eva Mae Browning in Elko, Nev.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by one son, Dale Ralph Smith, Twin Falls; three brothers, Homer Smith and Bus Smith, both Twin Falls; Gyles Smith Filer, and four sisters, Mrs. Thelma Gates, Gooding, and Mrs. Alma Vickora, Mrs. Agnes King, and Mrs. Ola Casner, all of Twin Falls.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday at Reynolds' funeral chapel. Burial will be at Sunset Memorial Park.

Friends may call Friday and Saturday until time of services.

Mr. Greenslade

TWIN FALLS — Charles Samuel Greenslade, 62, of 287 Madison Ave., died at his home Wednesday morning.

He was born Dec. 14, 1907, at Courtland, Kans., and came to Twin Falls in 1935 from Kansas.

Mr. Greenslade was a veteran of World War 2, serving in the Air Force. He was a member of the Lutheran Church, and was a painter by trade.

Mrs. King

JEROME — Mrs. Maud Irene King, 80, died early today at St. Benedict's Hospital.

Funeral services will be held in the Hove Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Klein

KETCHUM — Rosary for Mrs. Clara A. Klein, who was killed Tuesday in an auto accident on Timmerman Hill, will be recited at 8 p. m. tonight at the Hove Funeral Chapel, Jerome.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Friday at St. Jerome's Catholic church by Rev. William P. Carroll and Rev. Martin Cawley.

Mrs. Klein was born June 21, 1897, in David City, Neb., and was married to Valentine Leo Klein in Nebraska. They moved to Idaho in 1928, farming south of Jerome for eight years. Then they moved into Jerome and operated Klein's Auto Court.

Mrs. Small

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Zella Askew Small, 56, former Twin Falls resident, died Thursday morning in San Juan Mercy Hospital, Carmichael, Calif., of a long illness.

She was born Aug. 19, 1913, in Uteia, Kans., and lived in Twin Falls until 1937, when she moved to California.

Surviving are her husband, James Small, Carmichael, and a daughter, Mrs. Betty Burrone, Roseville, Calif.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Askew, Twin Falls; a brother, Gerald Askew, Twin Falls, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending at Lombardy Chapel, Carmichael.

Robert Blades

JEROME — Robert F. Blades, 25, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Alphonsus Hospital, Boise, Wednesday afternoon from injuries received in an auto accident early Wednesday morning on Interstate 80N.

He was born July 13, 1944, in Twin Falls. The family moved to Kimberly where he attended school until the seventh grade. They later moved to Jerome where he graduated from high school in 1963.

On Dec. 6, 1968, he married Vivlen Ward Hoss in Jerome. Mr. Blades was a draftsman and for the past two years had been employed by K and T Steel, Twin Falls. He belonged to the Nazarene church and was active in the quarter horse association in Jerome.

Survivors include his widow, Jerome; two daughters, Julie Tamara Blades and Tracy Diane Blades, both Jerome; one sister, Mrs. Murla Newhard, Germany; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murrel Blades, Jerome; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horis, Filer.

Funeral services will be announced by Hove Funeral Chapel.

Man Guilty Of Perjury

Delbert Crawford, Jerome, was found guilty of perjury by a Fifth District Court jury Wednesday.

The charge of perjury arose from testimony Crawford gave in an appeal case made on his conviction of displaying a deadly weapon.

The original sentence carried a 30-day jail sentence and the perjury charge will carry a jail sentence of not less than one year and not more than 10 years in the State Penitentiary.

Judge Cunningham has set the time of sentencing the defendant at 9 a. m. Monday.

Eddie Lammers denying that he has any sons... Frank Lara giving ticket to little old lady... Jerry Packer reading paper... Golden Bennett... ailing unhappily... Sue Ellen Lammers planning hiking trip... Marge Filer going water skiing... Dave Gabica planning to be ill soon... Jim Rosenbaum attending Civil Defense meeting... Pat Parrott wearing military uniform... Jean Milar and George Michael discussing city business... "Buck" Wilson going shopping... Larry Loyd entering Courthouse basement... and overheard: "I'll buy the cake; she's my mother!" "Yes, but she's my grandmother!"

It Takes Lots of Material To Build Interstate

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
From a million cubic yards of gravel to 12 1/2 tons of fertilizer, it takes a lot of effort and equipment to build the interstate.
But the Peter Klewit Construction Co. of Idaho Falls is going to try — and it's no new job for them. The firm entered the lower of two bids Tuesday to construct 8.398 miles of Interstate 80-North between Wendell and Jerome. The other firm bidding, when bids were opened Tuesday at the state highway department headquarters in Boise, was the LeGrande Johnson Construction Co. of Logan, Utah. Peter Klewit bid $5,278,850.55 for the project, against $5,348,045 for the Utah firm.

The contractor's list of bid items reveals the wide range of details which must be considered to enter a bid, ranging from "selective removal" of 140 "trees and 42 stumps (there's no indication as to the remaining 98 stumps) to 204,500 cubic yards of excavation along the site of the interstate, 1,107,500 cubic yards of "borrow" (the gravel "borrowed" from the nearby gravel piles and taken to the construction site to prepare the roadbed), and 500,000 gallons of water for dust abatement.

Three legal-sized sheets of bid specifications pinpoint the job of building even a small stretch of the interstate. The contractor must furnish and utilize 95,600 tons of "plant mix" for the road base, 950 tons of hydrated lime filler and a whopping 235,500 tons of three-quarter-inch gravel for the road base. "Plant mix" or asphalt for the paving, will total 131,700 tons, while construction of detours for traffic around the construction will call for 3,150 tons of asphalt.

The Wendell-Jerome stretch of Interstate 80-N represents a rather unusual construction problem. In that most of the area is lava rock, and construction of the road base will require a lot of "rock work" instead of removal of soft dirt, according to Russ Edlefsen, an engineer for the highway department. The 204,500 cubic yards to be excavated is a considerably smaller amount than is usual for an eight-mile stretch of interstate, he said.

This phase of the construction is only for the grading and paving of the actual road bed; another contract will be opened for bidding for construction of overpass and interchange structures, Mr. Edlefsen said.

The Wendell-Jerome Interstate is scheduled for completion by the fall of 1971. Contractors are given 240 working days after start of construction for completion, but the 240 days does not include the months of December, January and February, since inclement weather often halts work.
Finally, the fertilizer, all 23,500 pounds of it will combine with the 1,410 pounds of grass seed for interstate landscaping.

"THIS MINI-CAR CRAZE is getting ridiculous," muses Tom Nelson, 1242 Alder Drive, as he bends double to put gasoline in the Algerian Astra-8. Actually, the driver in the car is Tom's son, Hal, and while Tom plays at servicing the toy car Hal pours over a road map to check which is the way to San Jose. (Photo by Dan Johnson)

Blaine Educator to Head State Vocational Efforts

TWIN FALLS — Vernon Exner, superintendent of schools, Blaine County School District No. 61, has been named executive director of the Idaho State Advisory Council for Vocational Education, according to Dr. James L. Taylor, chairman of the council.
As executive director, Exner will direct the statewide work of the council from the Boise headquarters. He plans to move to Boise in the near future, after completing his resignation from the Blaine County school position.

The Advisory Council seeks to improve the quality of vocational education throughout the state, expanding classes and widening interests of interested youths, the new director said. The work of the council is funded by appropriations direct from the Congress of the United States, Dr. Taylor said.

About half of the 50 states now have similar councils with full-time executive directors, and the concept of vocational education is growing constantly, the new director explained. There is a growing need to interest young people who are not academically inclined in vocational education to train them for a career.

"We also try to eliminate duplication of equipment and teaching. For example, there might be similar vocational courses in Twin Falls High School and the College of Southern Idaho which could be combined, saving cost of equipment and instruction," Exner said.

Another phase of the council's work might be to determine how former students have utilized vocational education in seeking and following careers.

Some schools, such as Hailey High School, have developed training programs which do not fall under the council's supervision, but provide valuable training, Exner said. In Hailey, students occasionally work in positions during school hours to give them training in career work.

VERNON EXNER, left, superintendent of Blaine County schools, is congratulated by Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho and chairman of the Idaho State Advisory Council for Vocational Education. Exner was named state executive director of the Council, which advises school systems on the need for vocational education and helps develop programs for the help of young people.

Demo Smells Victory

TWIN FALLS — Lloyd Walker of Twin Falls has promised to work with Cecil Andrus in Andrus' campaign to unseat Gov. Don Samuelson in the November general election.
Walker, one of three Democratic candidates who lost out in Tuesday's primary election, said he would meet soon with Andrus to plan campaign strategy.
In a telephone conversation with Andrus, Walker commented that "Idaho is on the verge of becoming a two-party state again. For the first time in years, the Democrats have the Republicans on the defensive and this is going to make the coming campaign one of the most interesting Idaho will ever experience."
Walker added, "The three Democratic candidates raised most of the vital issues being discussed today, and offered the only real solutions to the problems confronting our state."
"We have built a vigor, an excitement and a momentum during the past few weeks which can carry the Democratic party to the governorship in November, and the voters are not only better informed but more involved."
"All of this can only benefit the Democratic party, and I look forward to working with Cecil Andrus for victory in November," Walker concluded.
The first telegraph line in California was opened in San Francisco in 1853.

Traffic Changes Planned For West Five Points

Members of the South Central Idaho Health Board have scheduled a special meeting Tuesday at noon in Twin Falls to discuss appointment of a district medical director.
Haber Loughmiller, Twin Falls County commission chairman, said the board is now comprised of commissioners from the eight counties participating in the district and one from the city of Twin Falls. It will consider action to name a medical director to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Luther Thompson's death last week.

A new health board, to serve beginning July 1, 1971, has been named by the present board, but the vacancy will have to be filled in the near future. Under the new district health regulations, House Bill 412, the director will also serve as secretary to the district health board and administrator of the district office.
One of the problems, Mr. Milar said, is in obtaining equipment that can remove present paint from the street so new striping can be applied. State crews have agreed to provide this equipment, Mr. Milar said, and as soon as present paint is removed new lanes will be designated. He said motorists will find lanes marked for either turning or traveling straight through from Addison Avenue to Main Avenue.

Dr. Thompson had served as medical director since his appointment in 1960.
Jim Ingalls, chief sanitarian for the district, said he had been asked by members of the health board to direct district office matters until a new medical director can be named. Nurses, he said, are continuing immunization clinics and other medical work with Dr. Ben Katz offering his services on a stand-by consultant basis.
Traffic going south on Washington Street should be utilizing both Washington Street Lanes to speed up the traffic flow, the city manager said. Two lanes on Washington Street North of the intersection allow for through traffic, left or right turns or for two lanes of traffic to go through the intersection onto Washington Street South and many motorists are using only one lane when traveling through the intersection.

Board Sets Meet To Discuss Health Director Appointment

Traffic changes for the West Five Points intersection in Twin Falls have been approved by city and Department of Highways officials and may go into effect yet this week, City Manager Jean Milar reported.
Mr. Milar said the change will allow traffic to enter Main Avenue at the intersection when traveling in an easterly direction. At present the last portion of the avenue becomes a one-way west bound route just before the intersection.

One of the problems, Mr. Milar said, is in obtaining equipment that can remove present paint from the street so new striping can be applied. State crews have agreed to provide this equipment, Mr. Milar said, and as soon as present paint is removed new lanes will be designated. He said motorists will find lanes marked for either turning or traveling straight through from Addison Avenue to Main Avenue.

2 Accused of Burglary

SHOSHONE — Mike High, Gallup, N.M., and Ray Donnelly, Chino, Ariz., are being held in the Lincoln county jail in lieu of $100 bonds for their appearance on a burglary charge.
They were specifically charged with stealing tools from a pickup owned by Jay

Amber, Shoshone, and were reportedly seen coming from the Methodist Church. A film strip projector missing from there was found in their possession.
Probate court will appoint an attorney to represent them.

Military Cautious On Volunteer Army

WASHINGTON — While some lawmakers publicly sing its praises, military spokesmen are privately voicing their concerns about President Nixon's plan for an all-volunteer armed force.

Not surprisingly, since the volunteer force is the stated policy of the commander-in-chief, all the armed services are officially endorsing the plan. There are plenty of "buts," however, when Pentagon spokesmen talk to congressional committees behind closed doors.

Some of the service spokesmen are now stressing the need for a "phased" elimination of the military draft. The idea would be to ease away from the selective service system as increased pay and other improved incentives demonstrate that they can attract volunteers in the numbers needed.

Concern is also expressed about the effect of what the Pentagon calls "zero draft" on the military reserve forces. In the absence of a military draft, reserves would still have to provide manpower for emergency mobilization.

Just as the existence of the draft has pushed many volunteers into the regular armed services, military manpower experts say the draft has been instrumental in meeting the manpower needs of the reserve forces.

Fateful Hour

Communist philosophy started with the basic premise that capitalism must be destroyed and while Communist imperialism has abandoned much of the Marxist dogma, it has remained steadfast in its enmity to the United States as the foremost obstacle to its avowed goal of world domination.

As a result, a basic tenet of American foreign policy for years has been to halt the spread of Communism by aggression. That policy is being eroded now by so-called doves who argue Russia policy has changed and profess to see no threat to the security of the United States in letting Russian imperialism and its puppets steadily expand at the expense of freedom.

It was a Democratic President, Woodrow Wilson, who enunciated the philosophy of self-determination. This is the principle of allowing free peoples to decide for themselves the kind of government they want that President Nixon restated as our only objective in South Vietnam.

There are some Americans who would have us retreat behind a wall of isolationism; there are some who actively seek to discredit patriotism and downgrade our servicemen, who are the core of our deterrent efforts to gain lasting peace.

In the name of dissent and flaunting the peace symbol, some Americans have set themselves above the law and denied to others the rights they claim for themselves, for example, in the violent assaults upon campus training of reserve officers, an honored tradition under which volunteers all strive to obtain an education and to serve their country.

Now the Senate of the United States is launched upon a lengthy debate over the $19.2 billion defense bill approved by the Armed Services Committee. Some opponents appear willing to risk the future security of our nation for partisan advantage or from misguided zeal to shift dollars from defense to social causes.

Peace at any price is no peace. If we could build Utopia here, it would not last long without adequate defense.

Winston Churchill recounted that the British went so far to avoid war as to be almost destroyed by it when it came. The sorry figure of Chamberlain should be a constant reminder that appeasement invites the disaster it seeks to avert.

This is no time for defeatism, pessimism, isolationism, or any other "ism" alien to the American tradition and purpose.

It is time, as Admiral Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has said, to stop "calling the Government 'they' as though it was the enemy, and remember that we — the people — are the Government and quit berating the alleged existence of a so-called evil military-industrial complex."

President Eisenhower's term, used in a 1961 speech enjoining the United States to remain strong against a hostile and determined enemy, has been uprooted from context and loaded with warped connotations. Said Admiral Moorer:

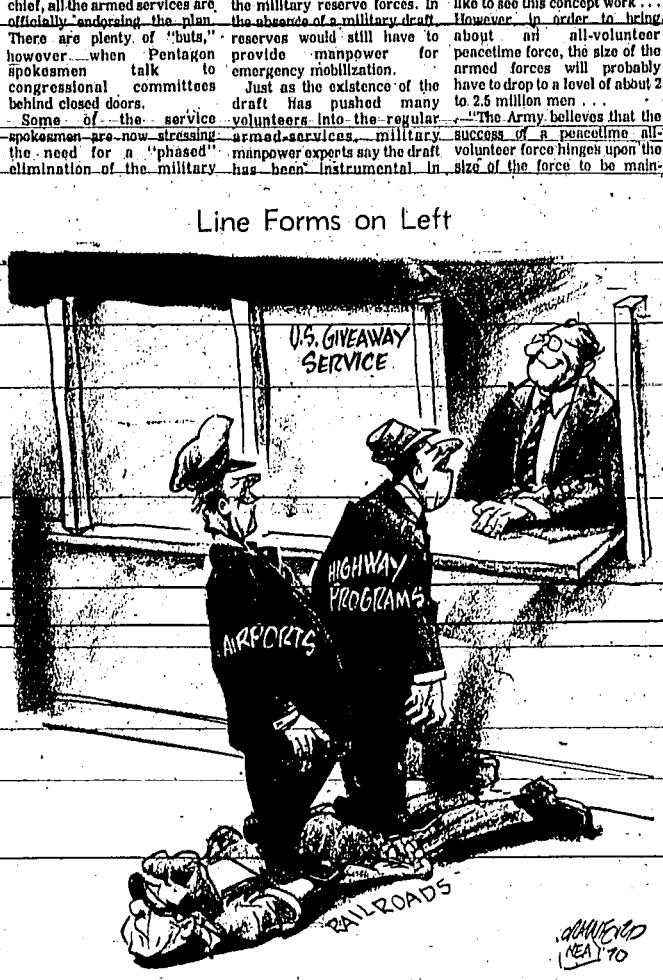

"If we didn't have close cooperation between industry and government, we would not have the capability we now possess to use the advancements of science for the over-all benefit of our country."

Tightening the military belt is in order — and is going forward. By all means, let's cut away the waste and blubber. But let us not slash through the very bone and sinew at a time of peril, unmatched in human history.

Soviet Russia, whatever welcome steps toward peace she may now encourage, nonetheless is bent on surpassing us in military and naval strength and in world influence. To the men in the Kremlin, a sign of weakness or retreat would be an invitation to still further aggression.

The free world may depend upon the Senate's decision.

NAVY — Vice Adm. Charles K. Duncan, chief of naval personnel, "I think an all-volunteer Navy is feasible, but only if certain essential steps are taken. We must be careful that we take no irrevocable step which could cause force levels to fall below those recommended by the National Security Council."

"I am apprehensive concerning our ability to maintain a combat ready reserve force. We believe that achievement of the all-volunteer reserve force will be every bit as difficult as reaching our goal for the active force and will present a separate but related problem. However, our past experience indicates that we will have less problems in recruitment and retention than the other services."

MARINES — Gen. Leonard P. Chapman Jr., commander, "The Marine Corps supports the concept. I do, however, have some grave concerns. My particular concern centers around our ability to procure and retain personnel of the quality, dedication and capacity for growth required to meet the needs of our officer corps and organized reserve units."

Note — An initial test on whether Congress is ready to pay those additional costs, estimated by a presidential commission at $3.2 billion in the first year, is scheduled soon in the Senate. Led by Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., a dozen senators will press for a vote on starting an all-volunteer plan by next July 1, as recommended by the President's Commission.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Asthma

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is 29 and has always had asthma. When he lies down he can't breathe, so he sits in a chair all night. If it is warm or cold, he sweats continually and his clothes get soaking wet.

When he breathes it sounds like his lungs are full of fluid. He goes to a chiropractor and after a treatment he says he seems better for a few hours.

Would you have any idea what is causing his illness, or what could be done about it? We have three children. He is a machinist but because of this asthma he is unable to work from July to December. — Mrs. G. K.

Childhood asthma — and you say he's had it all his life — is virtually always related to allergies. Not one, as a rule, but several.

When these allergies cause congestion and swelling of the breathing passages, that's asthma. The patient has difficulty breathing, and this, of course, puts continued extra strain on his respiratory system and heart. Asthma, when severe, can be disabling, a real crippler, as you know.

Your husband needs some very careful medical studying, and I don't pretend that it will be easy. What things cause these allergic responses? Food? Pollen? Dust? There are many possibilities. The seasonal factor — he is sickest from July to December — indicates that he may be allergic to plants that mature in the summer and fall.

Perhaps he can avoid some of them. Perhaps he can be desensitized to some useful extent.

But clearly his troubles are not there that aspect alone. There are things that bother him the year round. Perhaps, after study, he can benefit by avoiding certain foods.

Some medications can help to a degree by combatting congestion in his airways.

I hesitate to say that severe asthma is likely to be cured, but properly treated, it can be relieved, normal sleep becomes easier, and the patient can work and begin to enjoy life. It will take time and study. And the sooner your husband starts, the sooner some results will be possible. I suggest that he see an internist, perhaps an allergist. In any event, a medical doctor (M.D. or D.O.) the chiropractors work on a theory that manipulation of the spine is the answer to all ills. I think your husband needs help from physicians who recognize more causes of illness and consequently use more sophisticated treatments.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: As a victim of self-inflicted obesity (overeating) I now find I can stay on a diet for months but there comes a time when desire for a certain meal can drive me to desperation.

I find that opposing the taste buds satisfied my craving for food. I wonder therefore if chewing but not swallowing the food has any caloric value or if this would be harmful. — E. T.

I guess you could try it, but it sounds pretty tricky. First, starches and sugars would be liquefied in the mouth and swallowed in spite of yourself. Second, getting food that far sounds like dangerous temptation to me.

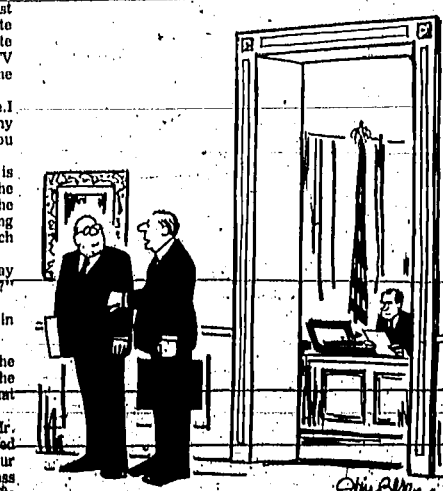

Possibly broths (like bouillon) with flavor but very low-calorie values or tea or coffee might serve you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can grown people have worms? — Mrs. E. B.

Whether you mean pinworms or tapeworms, the answer is yes.

You can lose weight if you really want to. Dr. Thosteson's bogged, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how.

BERRY'S WORLD

Do you realize that we have just spoken with one of the few men in America who doesn't have to take out the garbage?

BRUCE BLOSSAT GOP Eyeing Labor Vote

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon is keenly aware that big chunks of U.S. labor are up for political grabs. Yet neither he nor the Republican party manages to do very much about drawing these people into his still severely limited basic voting constituency.

Quite properly, the political specialists see millions of American workers today as "free-floating voters" who no longer have the kind of firm allegiance to the Democratic party that has been traditional since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Until fairly recently, only a few key Democrats (like National Chairman Lawrence O'Brien) have appeared to grasp what is happening. Now, with the exception of some rather ardent liberal types like the laughable John Kenneth Galbraith, the older party, too, is waking up.

By now, with a host of blue-collar worker studies and reports, everybody knows what's eating at those people. They see the blacks as threatening; they detest students who disrupt colleges; they themselves never got to attend; they are hanging on to the lower rungs of affluence by the weakest of grips.

Nixon, wanting a real majority for himself and his party, never forgets the stark fact that his support was frozen in 1968 at a barely triumphant 43 per cent.

The natural place, the easiest place, for him to turn for enlargement is to disgruntled labor. His own conviction on this score is the reason the sizable delegation of "hard hat" workers made it to the White House for a meeting with him in late spring. Since some hard hats had bloodied some young folk in Wall Street not long before, there was bitter opposition from certain Nixon advisers who argued that he would seem to be endorsing their violence if the meeting came off.

Yet some of the President's own men think gestures like that session don't cut very deep. They say flatly that there just is no real program to draw labor like assemblies of well-heeled country club types. Says one source: "We don't have people who know how to roll up their sleeves, sit down with workers and drink beer with them. Do you ever see a steelworker's daughter at one of our affairs?"

Another party figure agrees strongly. He thinks the GOP, with its deeply etched image as the party of business, has not even begun to convince workers that it can be their next "home."

Some thoughtful Republicans of influence believe their party does not have the faintest idea how to woo working families. Across the nation, they say, far too many party gatherings look

ART BUCHWALD Money And Votes

WASHINGTON — One of the major goals of our American foreign policy is to have countries all over the world hold free elections. As part of this policy, the State Department has been urging politicians to come to the United States and study our political system.

A recent visitor was Ramat Gow of the tiny republic of Nonomura. Ramat-Gow met with officials of both parties and received a marvelous insight into how American politics works.

He was also briefed by Starkley Merriweather, of Starkley, Ramsden and Phipps, a public-relations company specializing in electing public officials.

"How does one get elected?" Ramat Gow asked. "Well, first you need money. You have to have campaign funds to spend on billboards, flyers, radio and television."

"I see. And how does one get this money?" "The best and easiest way," said Merriweather, "is to approach lobbyists representing vested interests in your country who are willing to contribute large sums of money to political candidates."

"Ah, but if we accepted money from people who have vested interests would we not be obligated to protect these people after we were elected?" "Exactly. That's the whole idea. They're not financing you because they like the cut of your job."

"That's very interesting," Ramat Gow said. "So the man with the most money is the one who is likely to win in United States?"

"I wouldn't go that far. You have to give the candidate charisma."

"How do you do that?" "By spending money. The old days of a candidate going out and pressing the flesh are just about over. It's the candidate who comes on for a minute during a football game on TV that's going to take all the marbles."

"This is most constructive. I wish to run for the senate of my parliament. What do you suggest I do?"

"Well, the first thing you do is hold a big dinner. Invite the heads of the oil companies, the labor unions and the trucking people and make them each cough up $100 a plate."

"What occasion should I say we are holding the dinner for?" "Your birthday."

"Alas, my birthday is in December."

"Who the hell knows the difference? After you get the money, you can make Ramat Gow a household word."

"Thank you very much, Mr. Merriweather. I have learned more from you in half an hour about the democratic process than I have learned from all the other government officials combined. One more thing: How do you make a TV commercial?"

DICK WEST

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) — My friend Rogers, who took a course in elementary psychology about 30 years ago, claims he has discovered a new personality-intelligence evaluation technique that is both simpler and more reliable than existing methods.

He explained it to me the other day as we were driving along Pennsylvania Avenue past the vast excavation from which the new $100 million FBI Building eventually will emerge.

"By their bumper stickers ye shall know them," said Rogers, who tends to speak in proverbs when he discovers something.

"What does that mean?" I said.

"It was just thinking of all the money that the FBI wastes on security checks and similar investigations," he replied. "In many cases, it could find out everything it needed to know about a person just by looking at his car bumper.

Reveal Information "People reveal a tremendous amount of information about themselves on their car windows and bumpers.

Properly analyzed, bumper stickers provide deep insights into political instincts, prejudices, economic status, education, age, religion, ethnic and regional backgrounds and cultural standards." "I said, "How does bumper sticker analysis work?"

"It works like a political poll," Rogers said. "By examining a few key precincts, pollsters can project the vote for an entire state.

"There also are key bumper stickers that an analyst learns to recognize and interpret."

"I said, "Could you give me an example?"

"Car Used as Example "Sure. See that car just ahead of us? It has a Harvard decal on the rear window, an American flag decal on the trunk and an "America—Love It or Leave It" sticker on the bumper.

"The car is owned by a middle aged, second-generation American who makes pretty good money as a construction worker and admires Spiro Agnew. He barely finished high school himself but he has a son in Harvard.

"He was proud of the boy at first. Then a generation gap developed. The kid let his hair grow, became an antiwar militant and got busted for smoking pot. Now his old man is ready to disown him."

"I said, "That's amazing. How could you tell that was what the stickers meant?"

"The guy driving the car lives down the street from me."

Remodeled Cottage Included On Ketchum Benefit Home Tour

SUN VALLEY — From a three room cottage a year ago has emerged a modern luxury home on Bitterroot Road, Sun Valley. The home is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maxwell and will be featured on the Ketchum Sun Valley Community Library Board Tour of Homes from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Now featuring three bedrooms, two baths, a studio and living room, the home borders Trail Creek, which is viewed from any of four sun decks on the two-story structure. Phil Poynter designed the two fireplaces in the home, and both are of light colored flat rock. Mrs. Maxwell claims credit for the interior decorating, and William Mathauer, Ketchum was designer for the addition. Architects for the home were Jay Flood, Sun Valley, who planned the original cottage, and Jim Wood, Hono, who planned the remodeling and addition. Bob Ratio completed the final construction.

A MODERN LUXURY home has been built from a three-room cottage on Bitterroot Road, Sun Valley. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maxwell, it will be one of the places visited during the Ketchum-Sun Valley Community Library Board's tour of homes from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are available at two Twin Falls stores and at Atkinson's Market, Ketchum.

All profinished oak floors have been laid throughout the home, with the masterbath featuring a slate floor covering and rough wood panelling on the back wall. The wood is from an old barn at Fairfield.

The Maxwells believe in putting everything to good use, and have laid the front walk out of left-over lumber painted to match the home, which is paneled on the outside with opaque stained cedar.

Tickets for the tour are available at L. Herisson's, Sally's Gifts, in Twin Falls, and at Atkinson's Market in Ginecobb Square, Ketchum.

The 30th year reunion of the Twin Falls High School class of 1940 was held last weekend with a banquet at the Holiday Inn and a picnic for classmates and their families at Harmon Park. Harry Benoit, Connecticut, served as master of ceremonies during the banquet. He also received the prize for the member traveling the furthest distance to attend.

Herb Larson, Poentello, was awarded the prize for having the most children, and Martha Weddle Mays, Bellingham, Wash., had the most grandchildren.

Mrs. Paul (Nelda Wagner) Poindexter, Twin Falls, and Glenn Boren, Portola Valley, Calif., were honored as the "most modern" girl and boy. Merlin Carroll, Poentello, had the youngest child and Christian Allen Parrott, Twin Falls, was the earliest to retire. Darrell Heider gave the invocation and Mr. Boren and Johnny Lister provided piano music.

Colorful, Exciting—With Mexican Flair

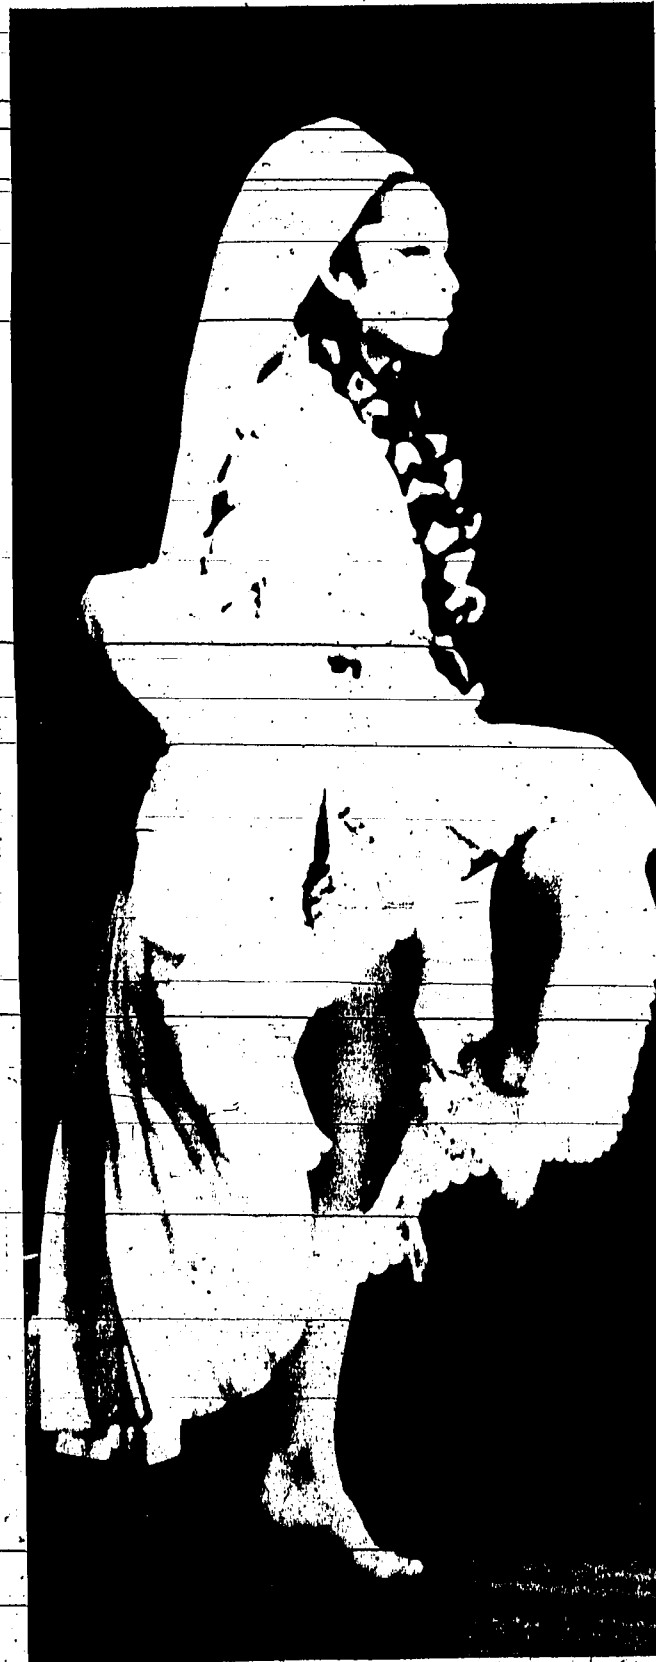

THE "FIESTA IN VERACRUZ" is presented by the dance troupe of the Ballet Nacional de Mexico, in one of a number of portrayals of Mexican culture. The cultural-exchange group of 68 dancers and musicians will present two performances in Twin Falls next Monday and Tuesday nights at the College of Southern Idaho's Fine Arts Center. The "Fiesta in Veracruz" displays the strong Spanish influence of Mexican music and dancing, as well as the joy and merry spirit of the "Jaracho," or Mexican dancer.

Mexican National Ballet Sets 2 T. F. Appearances

TWIN FALLS — Would you believe Russian Cossacks coming from Mexico? Or a "ballet" that includes the portrayal of the sacrifice of a Mayan Princess? And a "ballet" with no ballerinas or flights?

It's all coming to Twin Falls next Monday and Tuesday, when "El Ballet Nacional de Mexico" presents one of the most unusual entertainments ever seen in Magic Valley. Sponsored by the Mexican government as a cultural-exchange effort, "El Ballet Nacional" will depict the wide sweep of Mexican folklore, ranging from the ancient days of the colorful Maya Indians to today's music and comedy.

The Mexican word "ballet" does not mean what it means in other languages; it refers more to music and dancing on the folklore level. Ballet means costumes of feathers and deer heads; it means guitars played as harps and the "Tex Mex Trio" of comedians who are deemed the "Rowan and Martin of Mexico — only not as risqué." The Ballet Nacional de Mexico will visit Twin Falls during a 22-week national tour that will range from coast to coast, and will be followed by a European swing that may include Russia. The Mexican folklore is appreciated throughout the world, though Russians are startled by a portion of one scene, the "Wedding in Michoacan," that includes black-costumed performers performing a dance much like the famed Cossacks of old.

The costumes for the Ballet Nacional give an idea of the spectacular nature of the Ballet Nacional — they require a 14-foot-long van truck all to themselves, and weigh in the neighborhood of 12,000 pounds. Of the 33 separate scenes in the two-hour production, similar costumes are seen in only six.

The 68 performers and musicians, and more than a dozen others, including wardrobe mistresses, custodians, logistics experts and other assistants, travel in a large bus, in private cars and in other means of transportation.

The costumes for the Ballet Nacional originally were provided by the Mexican government at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars.

However, on the road, the Ballet Nacional must pay its own way through admission fees. This can prove a problem, as maintenance of the costumes alone costs nearly $700 per week. The costumes are cleaned regularly throughout the tour and are carefully handled in their continual packing and unpacking. Other expenses, including salaries and travel costs, boost weekly expenses to several thousand dollars.

A year's disaster faced the Ballet troupe recently, when they were notified with less than 24 hours notice that an 11-week series of bookings in the Seattle area had been canceled, due to unexplained "economic problems" in the Seattle area. In filling the 11-week gap in their itinerary, the troupe swung through Idaho, stopping at Boise this week and Twin Falls next Monday and Tuesday.

Their performances in Twin Falls are being sponsored by the Times-News and a number of area businessmen, who will sell tickets for the performances.

The troupe of the Ballet Nacional, all professional performers of Mexico, has been together 10 years. Their average age is only 21, testifying to the youthful nature of the group. Though able to earn considerably more in their own professional fields, they have taken large salary cuts to join the Ballet, a spokesman said. They enjoy the travel, and hope to interest other nations in their own Mexican culture, of which they are understandably quite proud.

As for their conduct while staying in the many cities and towns they visit, the spokesman said they are "remarkably well-behaved." Discipline is strict, especially since they are official representatives of the Mexican people. Any infraction would result in their prompt dismissal from the troupe.

Their daily schedule is rugged. They put on six performances per week, and still travel thousands of miles per month, traveling by day and dancing by night.

Featured performers of the Ballet Nacional include the "Tex Mex Trio," a trio of comedians who have been performing for a quarter of a century. They are ranked as unparalleled throughout Mexico, and have appeared around the world.

In addition, the trio has appeared in more than 30 motion pictures made in Mexico, receiving the highest praise from the press and critics. Their comedy routine, although different from the usual, has been compared to the famed Abbott and Costello of the United States.

One of the most colorful and touching, to the audience, of the dances is the "Dance of the Deer," a portrayal of the struggle of good and evil.

"deer," played by a dancer wearing a deer's head, prances across the stage in deer-like movements until he is brought down by the hunter. In his dying agonies, the deer portrays all of the pathos of mankind. The dance is an authentic centuries-old ritual of the Yaqui Indians of the state of Sonora, Mexico.

A wide variety of music will be presented with a number of groups, including the enjoyable Mariachi Band, a marimba group, two guitars played as a harp, and the "salterio," an instrument unique with the Ballet.

Tickets for the Ballet Nacional will be $3.50, $4.50 and $5.50, with sections of seats at the CSI Fine Arts Center reserved for the various prices. Children under 12 will be admitted for half-price. The tickets will be available before the performances at the Times-News and from a number of Twin Falls merchants.

THE "DANCE OF THE BOTTLE" is performed by the "Bride," Ema Pulido, during the "Wedding in Michoacan" number, one of many to be presented by the Ballet Nacional de Mexico in Twin Falls next week. The "Wedding" presents all of the ceremony that accompanies a wedding in the Mexican state of Michoacan. In the first part, the guests arrive and greet the sweethearts who dance the colorful "Pas de Deux." Later the Dance of the Moors depicts a scene which is relived in every festival throughout the state. Finally, the whole company appears as the bride celebrates her marriage.

THE "NORTHERN SCENE" of the Ballet Nacional is a Mexican interpretation of European music, including the Chotis, a Scotch dance, and the Polka, of Polish origin, which was originally brought to Mexico as a ballroom dance. The European music was introduced in Mexico about 20 years before the French intervention in Mexico, and gradually acquired Mexican characteristics in choreography and musical technique. This music was rooted in the northern part of Mexico and later acquired some of its features from the music of the cowboys of the United States.

TWIN FALLS — Royal Neighbor Lodge will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the IOOF HALL for a brief business meeting.

TWIN FALLS — An oldtime dance will be held from 8 p.m. until midnight Saturday at the Twin Falls Moose Hall. Tom Lancaster's band will play. A lunch will be served.

TWIN FALLS — The Fiddlers Class of the First Baptist Church will hold its annual potluck picnic at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the picnic area at Shoshone Falls. Those attending should bring their own table service. The committee will furnish rolls and coffee.

FILER — The Town and Country Club steak fry will be at 8 p.m. August 15 at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds.

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Affiliate No. 4 will have its annual hair style and fashion show at "The New Dimension" at 8 p.m. August 31 at the Holiday Inn. Tickets can be purchased from any NHCA member.

TWIN FALLS — The Amoma Class of the First Baptist Church will hold a patio picnic at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Forest Leonard, 747 Locust St.

TWIN FALLS — The Single-ladies Club will have a dance Saturday from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the Odd Fellows Hall. There will be live music. Single people ages 20 to 60 are invited.

Society Has Sale

The Magic Valley Iris Society held its annual August picnic and raffle sale in the Twin Falls City Park.

Don Chadd, Twin Falls, president, led the meeting, with Mrs. Glenn Thatcher, Twin Falls, recording secretary, and Mrs. F. D. Dierksen, Buhl, treasurer, reading reports of the last meeting.

Mrs. Floyd Bandy, Mrs. S. W. Smith and Mrs. Victor Nelson, all Twin Falls, were appointed to serve on the nominating committee for the election of officers.

Mrs. Glenn Draper, Burley, and Mrs. C. W. Vallette, Declo, were thanked by the club for co-chairmaning in the Magic Valley Iris Society June show held in Burley.

Mrs. Al Kramer, Castleford, vice president and program chairman, was in charge of a drawing. Prize winners were Mrs. Harley Parker, Buhl; Mrs. Vallette; Hazel Ivie, Jerome, and Mrs. Don Chadd and Mrs. Carl Crooks, Twin Falls.

Guests were Hazel Ivie, Withelmite Moss, Jerome, Mrs. Verne Patterson, Rupert, and Bernah Kaster, Buhl.

The little girl and soft looks will replace tailored styling in sleepwear, loungewear and undergarments — thanks to the 1970 fashion trend toward more femininity. Trendy gowns, mid and maxi gowns will be trimmed with flounces and lace. While the bikini pajama and baby dolls continue to flatter young juniors, the country girl and tunic looks will be paired and fitted over pajama legs or in gowns.

Party Hosted

WENDELL — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson were hosts Sunday night for a card party. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Foster Anderson, Wendell; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Large and children, Sacramento, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Anderson, Hagerman; Harlan Anderson and sons, Wendell; and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Anderson and Greg, Twin Falls.

High score was won by Marlan Anderson and low by Ronald Large.

An Aug. 19 wedding is planned at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

Nancy Gines, Clark Name Wedding Date

HOLLISTER — Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Gines, Hollister, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Nancy Lou, to Darrell Lee Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell P. Clark, Jerome.

Miss Gines is a 1970 graduate of Filer High School. She was active in Student Council, Pep Club, Drill Team and Girls' League.

Mr. Clark was graduated from Filer High School in 1965 and attended the College of Southern Idaho. He served in the Army for three years and is now employed in Winston Salem, N.C.

NANCY GINES

Fifty Pounds Dropped by Wendell Club

WENDELL — A month long contest of members of the Slip Knot Tops Club was ended at a recent meeting with a total loss of 50 pounds for the month of July. Nadine Tracy, chairman of the winning team, said the contest has been slated for August 12 and a program is being planned.

The 13 members weighed in with a weight loss of 29½ pounds and a gain of eight. Nadine Tracy was winner of the week with a loss of five pounds. The white elephant gift was won by Mildred Jasper.

Melissa May Oliver, infant daughter of stork queen Linda Oliver, was introduced to the members.

The meeting was closed by Mrs. Oliver who led the group in the Sorenty Prayer.

DEAR ABBY: We have some young friends (I'll call them John and Mary) who have no children. Last summer they put in for adoption thru welfare. In the meantime their marriage became somewhat rocky. Mary has confided to me that they are not compatible all the way from sex to managing their money affairs. I suggested a marriage counselor and Mary went by herself. Later John went—but reluctantly. They have been fighting a lot ever since. They even made an appointment with a lawyer about a legal separation. Then the adoption agency called to tell them a brand new baby was available. John and Mary took it immediately. Now this couple are like they never had a problem. The final adoption won't take place for 6 months.

I wish no ill toward my friends. My only concern is for the baby. I say if the agency knew how this couple had been getting along they never would have placed that baby in their home. I don't think it's right to use a baby to make a go of a marriage. Should I make the agency aware?

CONCERNED FOR BABY

DEAR CONCERNED: I appreciate your "concern" over the baby, but your "concern" appears to have a bit of a malice-needle in it. If this couple saw a marriage counselor, it indicates that they are making an honest effort to make a go of their marriage. The mutual responsibility of a baby does sometimes "save" a marriage. If I were you, I'd hope for the best, and place your concern elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and there is a kid in our neighborhood who likes me. He let the grass grow in their back yard, and when he mowed the lawn he CUT my initials in the lawn. Everybody in the neighborhood has seen it and they think it's funny. It is very embarrassing to me. How can I get him to quit advertising this crush he has on me?

L. S. A.

DEAR L. S. A.: Hand the kid a pair of shears and ask him to please cut it out.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and her husband had a falling out with my husband and the about 9 years ago. (I wouldn't you know, it was over money?) We didn't speak to each other, and avoided one another whenever possible.

Well, my sister's husband died suddenly about 4 weeks ago. I know you don't have to be "invited" to a funeral, but we weren't sure how my sister would have reacted to seeing us at such a time so we didn't go.

Do you think we should have gone? I say, "Why be hypocrites?"

Others in the family say, "You should have gone." How would you have handled this?

PLEASE WITHHOLD MY NAME AND CITY

DEAR PLEASE: I would have asked someone in the family who was on good terms with this sister how she would feel about seeing you and your husband at the funeral, and acted accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who has a 16-year-old daughter, but has to pay a 15-year-old neighbor girl to come in and sit with her two younger children, ages 9 and 7?

This mother claims that her 16-year-old daughter has "more important" things to do with her time. Meanwhile the daughter goes around evenings at another neighbor's house, playing records and watching television when she's supposed to be over there studying. Please put this in the paper with your answer as some people need to be told off—but good! Thanks, Pat.

"THE SEEING EYE"

DEAR SEEING: This strikes me as something that is none of my business. Now, what's YOUR problem?

Three Area Women Attend Society Meet

Three Magic Valley women are among more than 2,000 from chapters in the United States, Norway, and Canada who are attending the biennial convention of Delta Kappa Gamma, international honor society, in Portland.

Elsie Lindgren, Twin Falls, member of the international committee on the education award and former Northwest Regional director; Mrs. Helen Dietz, Buhl, Idaho State treasurer, and Mrs. Marie Hargrove, Kimberly, former Xi Chapter president, are those from this area who are attending.

The association of women educators, in addition to conducting other business, will award $62,000 in graduate scholarships to 19 members and six foreign educators.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY H. FORBES (Laysan photo)

50th Anniversary Fete Set

JEROME — A reception in honor of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Forbes will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the United Presbyterian Church, 262 East Ave. A., Jerome.

The event will be hosted by their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Forbes, Shoshone, and C. Duane Forbes, Sunny Vale, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes were married on Aug. 6, 1920 at the Methodist Church parsonage in Jerome by Rev. H.G. McCallister. Mr. Forbes is a retired grocer.

The couple has six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren who will attend the reception. Relatives and friends of the couple are invited to attend and the couple requests no gifts.

Queen Is Crowned At Hansen

HANSEN — Mrs. Lewis Morris was named the monthly queen at the Slim and Trim TOPS Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelman.

She received a gift and wore a crown which she designed. Queens will receive these crowns as they win. Mrs. Paul Bowman was best loser of the week and also received a crown and a gift which she may keep if she loses for the next three weeks.

A troop led with bows, flowers and nametags made of the leaves were placed on a tree to indicate those participating in a tea towel contest. Each is to bring a large embroidered tea towel which the winners will divide among them if they continue to lose and keep their names on the tree.

Telephone calls were given out last week and this week and will continue for a month.

Mrs. Bowman was responsible for the penalties and stated she wanted each member to count calories and bring the daily counts to her next week.

Mrs. Fred Howard was hostess and program chairman. She introduced Mr. and Mrs. John Qualls, Twin Falls. Mr. Qualls spoke on AA and how it works with Alcoholics, the methods used that seem to be effective, and the similarity of group therapy for obesity.

Club Meets

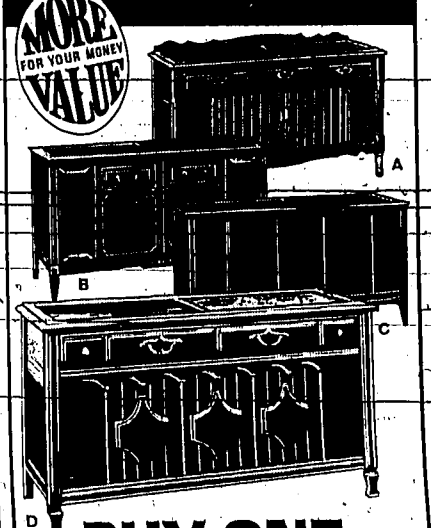

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Manuel King was hostess to the Morlettes Bridge Club with prizes won by Mrs. Charles Maestas, Mrs. S. J. Pipor, Mrs. Lyle Pipor, and Mrs. Bruce Sorensen, a club guest.

To change the water in a flower bowl without disturbing flower arrangements, use your bulb meat plater.

West End Couple Recites Nuptials

CASTLEFORD — The afternoon wedding of Diane Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reese, Castleford, and Leonard Crisnor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Crisnor, Buhl, was held on July 11 at the United Methodist Church at Castleford.

Rev. Glen Waltman, Methodist minister, performed the double ring ceremony before a background of pink and white flowers and white lighted candles in the wall candelabra.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor length gown of bridal satin, fashioned with an empire waist, scoop neckline, elbow length lace bell-shaped sleeves with a lace bodice and train. Her veil was ballerina style of bridal illusion that fell from a head-piece of white roses. Her bridal bouquet was of white and pink-throated orchids with white satin bows.

The wedding gown was made by Mrs. John Blick, the bride's aunt.

Pat Light, Twin Falls, a college roommate of the bride, was the maid of honor.

Jim Hudson, Buhl, was the best man. Lynn Reese and Larry Reese, brothers of the bride, wore taper lighters and ushers.

Soloist was Gale Connor, accompanied by his daughter, Kathy Connor, who also played the wedding marches.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered white wedding cake, decorated with pink roses and topped with two white doves. Pink candles in crystal holders flanked the cake. A crystal punch bowl, silver coffee service, pink and white mints and packets of pink rice completed the table setting.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. John Blick, and Mrs.

Ralph Nelson, cousin of the bridegroom. Mrs. Stanley Moore, cousin of the bridegroom, poured coffee and Mrs. Earl Dierck, aunt of the bride, presided at the punchbowl.

Shirley Nowberry was in charge of the guest book. Susan and Tammi Connor, cousins of the bride, arranged the gifts.

Reception assistants were Mrs. John Thomson, Mrs. Earl Hudson, Mrs. Ray Puschel, and Mrs. Loren Herzinger.

Flowers for the wedding were a gift of Mrs. Gilbert Kindje, of Thorsted Floral Co. Mrs. Kindje is the cousin of the groom's mother, and she resides in Oakland, Calif.

For a wedding trip to the north mountains, the bride chose a white shift with a sailor collar and tie and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Castleford High School with the class of 1968 and has attended the University of Idaho at Moscow, majoring in elementary education. The bridegroom was graduated from Buhl high school in 1963, served in the Air National Guard and is now farming east of Buhl.

The bride was honored at two showers, one at Twin Falls with Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Lyle Ebbers, Boise, cousins of the bridegroom, as hostesses, and one at the Castleford United Methodist Church fellowship hall with Mrs. Helen Conrad, Mrs. Fred Ringert, Mrs. John Blick, Mrs. Gale Connor, Mrs. Art Reese, Mrs. Ella Kudlic and Mrs. Joe Wisecaver as hostesses.

Guests attended the wedding from California, Minnesota, Idaho Falls, Boise, Caldwell, Twin Falls, Kimberly, Buhl, Pocatello, Jerome, Mountain Home and Castleford.

Barbara Bartlow, Sharp Wed

FILER — A double ring ceremony June 12 at the Pomeroy Church, of the Nazarene, united in marriage Barbara Dawn Bartlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bartlow, Pomeroy, and Steven Gary Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sharp, Filer. The evening rites were performed by Rev. Norman Stuckie, Wenatchee, before a lighted cross flanked by lighted tapers and baskets of pink, orange and yellow roses and gladioli.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie, fashioned with an empire waistline and long sleeves. The train, attached to the empire back, was enhanced with lace. Her chapel-length veil of illusion was held by a pearlized headpiece.

She carried a cascade of daisies, a white rose which was given to her from her mother, and three Phalaenopsis orchids. She carried a lace-edged handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother, Maurine Bartlow.

Kandi Fulcher was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mary Ogden, Estes Park, Colo., and Linda Sharp and Trisha Sharp, sisters of the bridegroom. Wendy Freeby and Lana Sharp, cousin of the bridegroom, were flower girls and carried white baskets of yellow rose petals.

Murray Bartlow, brother of the bride, was candlelighter. Russel Schroeder, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and groomsmen were Loyd Sanger, Howard Bartlow, brother of the bride, and John Kaufman.

Jerry Sanford was soloist and was accompanied by Mrs. Wendell Bartlow, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Layton Kellberg provided and arranged the flower baskets. Church hostess was Mrs. A. W. Sparks and Mrs. Mike Field was in charge of the guest book.

A reception followed in the church parlors, with Mrs. Ellsworth Bartlow as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Coby Freeby. The bride's table was covered with a lace tablecloth made by the bridegroom's mother. The wedding cake was made by Mrs. Virgil Bowles and served by her and Mrs. Gary Bartlow, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Amos Bartlow served coffee and Marlene Stonaker presided at the punch bowl.

Assisting at the reception were Jeanine Bartlow, cousin of the bride and Jamie Freeby.

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN G. SHARP

Rice packets were distributed by Gary and Lori Bowles and Rae Ellen Keller and Nickie Bartlow, cousin of the bride, were in charge of the gifts.

After a short trip to Lake Louise and Banff in Canada, the couple now reside in Nampa. Both are attending Northwest Nazarene College for the summer and the bridegroom will teach at West Nampa Junior High this fall.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a reception June 27 in the Nazarene Fellowship Hall, Twin Falls. Judi Weller registered the guests and Mrs. Garth Kirkman opened and displayed the gifts.

A four-tiered cake was decorated with yellow roses and bells and surrounded by yellow and white flowers. It was flanked by spiral candelabra enhanced with flowers. Mrs. Mary Sharp, aunt of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake, and Mrs. Gordon Schroeder, aunt of the bridegroom, served the punch. Mrs. Roger Kalbfleisch played background music during the reception.

Miss Coggburn Reveals Date

Jack Coggburn, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Ruth Coggburn, Spokane, Wash., announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Laura Suzanne, to Kenneth Dewey, son of Rev. and Mrs. John R. Dewey, Dinuba, Calif.

Miss Coggburn is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and attended two years at Northwest Christian College. Mr. Dewey attended Northwest Christian College.

An Aug. 29 wedding is planned and the couple will reside in Dinuba.

LAURA COGGBURN

97th Birthday Feted

WENDELL — Mrs. Inez Stevenson, Wendell resident since the early 30's, recently celebrated her 97th birthday at her home.

Guests came and brought three birthday cakes. Cakes were brought by Mrs. Nadine Stevenson, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Cook, and Mrs. Gladys Lusk.

Guests attending were Mrs. Louise Houfberg and Doug, Mrs. Lorena Bishop, Mrs. Jim Freeman, Mrs. Ruth Wahlner, Mrs. Bessie Bitterli, Mrs. Ethel Peterson, Mrs. Pearl Cook, Mrs. Anna Rhulmer, Mrs. Hazel Lawton, Mrs. Berniece Lee and Mrs. Gladys Lusk.

Mrs. Stevenson was born in 1873 in Iowa and married Thaddeus D. Stevenson on March 17, 1898. He died in June of 1938. Mrs. Stevenson has six sons, Grant Stevenson, Kansas; Chester Stevenson, Missouri; Leslie Stevenson, Kansas; Richard Stevenson, Wendell; Elwin Stevenson, Caldwell, and Vra Stevenson, California.

Her sister Mrs. Adda Lawton recently celebrated her 95th birthday and is living at the Magic Valley Manor. She also has two brothers Frank and Del Armstrong both in Washington State who are over 80.

Mrs. Stevenson still lives by herself at her home on Third Avenue.

Gathering Is Held for Area Family

RICHFIELD — A reunion of the family of Mrs. Jennie Thomas was celebrated at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hanks, Burley.

Relatives attended from California, Utah and Idaho. The group had attended the wedding of Carol Hanks and Wesley Wilson at Idaho Falls earlier in the week. Mr. and Mrs. Vern R. Thomas and family and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thomas and son returned to Richfield and painted and did some interior decorating for Mrs. Thomas.

Hansen Club Elects

'HANSEN' — Mrs. Wayne Smith was elected president at the Rock Creek Worthwhile Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Elsie Henry. Because of inclement weather the meeting was not held in the park as originally scheduled.

Mrs. Dail Kirkpatrick was elected vice president; Mrs. Birch Brown, secretary; Mrs. Ray McKingler, assistant secretary; Mrs. Elsie Henry, treasurer, and Mrs. Glenn Gott, assistant treasurer.

The appointed committees were announced by the president as Mrs. Nina Bradshaw, card; Mrs. Kirkpatrick, flowers; Mrs. Vernon Ball, gifts, and Mrs. Capt. Larsen and Mrs. Brown, welfare.

The Lord's Prayer was given as the opening; Shawn Ryan, Diane Tilley and Janet Tilley were guests. Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Brown reported on meeting dates of the new books to determine if dates and places were agreeable with members.

At contest games Mrs. Joseph C. Ryan, Mrs. Burton Hill, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Earl Baker and Mrs. McKingler were prize winners.

Heyburn Reunion Honors Former School Principal

HEYBURN — A special tribute was paid to J.B. Fridley, 86, former school principal of Heyburn, by more than 300 members of the Heyburn High School Alumni Association.

The tribute was a highlight during the association's first homecoming in 18 years, held in the newly constructed multipurpose room. Mr. Fridley, resident at the Blakely Nursing Home at Caldwell, was unable to attend and accept a plaque containing his photograph and an inscription.

The presentation was made by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Handy and accepted for the school by Leo Moore, school board trustee. Mr. Fridley reportedly was a school official who "really put Heyburn School on the right road, and was an outstanding educator, teacher and a friend to each student."

Besides serving the Heyburn school between 1916 and 1925, he also was principal at Paul, Albion and Kimberly schools. Others honored were Frank Watson and Walter Bassinger, both former principals and currently residents of California and Olaf Moller, local artist, who has assisted the school in many ways.

During an afternoon business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Everett Savage, outgoing president, new officers were elected and former classmates recognized. Harlow Cheney was elected president, with Gladys Wilcox, vice president. Mrs. Verla McClaws was named secretary, with Mrs. Louis Stimpson and Mrs. Molly Wolf named corresponding secretaries. Co-historians are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Handy, and co-chairmen for next year's event is Don Holmes and Mrs. Ruth Heiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hellewell were co-chairmen for this year's event, assisted by Mrs. Olive Struss, Mrs. Leta Jackson, Mrs. Maurine Thaxton, Mrs. Lucille Brown, Mrs. June Dredge, Lund Christensen, Reed Jensen and Mrs. Savage. Harlow Cheney was master of ceremonies for the evening program.

Entertainment included vocal selections by Alfred Thaxton, Loretta Merrill, Reed Jensen, Gladys Wilcox and Ruth Heiner. Stevens Heiner presented a reading and a magic act was by Alonzo Hutchinson. Remarks were given by Amos Jordani, alumni and official at West Point.

Those attending represented graduating classes between 1919 and 1955.

Leo Moore, right, school board trustee for the Heyburn district, accepts a plaque paying tribute to J.B. Fridley, former school official, from Leo Handy. Mr. Fridley, resident at a Caldwell nursing home, was unable to attend the event. The homecoming was attended by over 300 former classmates of Heyburn ranging between young parents and great grandparents.

School Meet Slated

SUN VALLEY — "The New Needs for Education" will highlight the topics for discussion during the annual conference for School Administrators and Trustees Aug. 12 through 14 at Sun Valley.

The conference will deal in topics which are pertinent and relevant to today's school system and about 350 superintendents, trustees and top school officials from throughout Idaho are expected to attend.

The four main topics of discussion during the three-day conclave are "Drug Abuse Education," by Dr. Alan Matzger, chief, Medical Section, Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic, San Francisco; "Student Unrest," by Don Oliver, NBC News Correspondent for the Huntley-Brinkley program, Los Angeles; "Teacher Militancy" by Gerald Handy, Board of Trustees, Utah Education Association, Salt Lake City; and "Interested School Patrons (Hostile)," by Mrs. Janet Hay, member of the League of Women Voters, Caldwell.

Dr. Amy Hostler, chairman, United States National Committee for Early Childhood Education, Washington, D.C., who is recognized as one of the country's foremost authorities on kindergarten and pre-school education, will also address the group Friday morning. Her topic will deal with early childhood education.

Also on the agenda for the concluding session are Wayne Phillips, Idaho State Department of Education, whose topic will be "Planning and Evaluation"; T. Russell Mager, ACSW, whose topic will be "Opportunities for Individualizing the Pupil's Program through Special Service's Team Follow-up"; and Mrs. Lella Lewis, chairman of the Professional Practices Commission.

Mrs. Louise Jones, president, Idaho Education Association, will also speak on "Pygmalion in the Profession" and Dr. Sidney Duncombe, University of Idaho, will discuss "State and Local Government."

Ex-Police Officer Pushes Recall Plan

BURLEY — Petitions seeking a recall election to remove Burley Mayor Garis Robertson from office were being circulated here Thursday by a former police officer.

Donald L. Nielson, chairman of the recall movement, said a total of 453 signatures is needed on petitions in order to call the election. He said Thursday about half of the signatures required have been obtained.

Mr. Nielson owns and operates a Burley taxi service and was dismissed from the police force by the present city administration. He said his committee is asking for the recall because of campaign promises of the mayor and council which have been flagrantly ignored since they took office.

He said the mayor campaigned on a platform of economy but as soon as he took office, all city utility fees except electricity, were raised. The city's mill levy, he said, increased from 26 to 46 and the city petitioned the state to exceed the tax revenue limits set by state law.

In addition, Mr. Nielson said the administration, under the direction of Mayor Robertson, dismissed many police officers and other veteran city employees who had years of valuable experience and were serving the city as loyal employees.

Mr. Nielson also charged the mayor with having sold much of the riot equipment obtained by the city police department.

His committee, Mr. Nielson said, is concerned about the high cost of living in Burley in view of higher utility fees and taxes and especially where it involves the older citizens living on fixed incomes and limited pensions.

Petitions, when completed, will be filed with the city clerk's office, he said. The names will be checked to make certain the signers are all registered voters and the legal number of proper signatures are on file.

The petitions will then be presented to the Council and if in order it will be necessary for a recall election to be scheduled, he said.

Two Members of American Party Went to Polls in Cassia County Tuesday and Both Voted in the Seventh Burley Precinct

Election officials there said two votes were cast in their precinct for Joel A. Anderson, seeking office as second district congressman, and A. Lane Blanchard, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Open House Slated for Gooding Nursing Home

GOODING — Green Acres Terrace, new nursing home located at 1220 Montana St. in Gooding will hold an open house Sunday. The ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be at 2 p.m. and open house will follow until 7 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend and tour the 80-bed facility.

Officials say this is the newest, most modern nursing home in Magic Valley and will feature a whirlpool bath, therapy room, beauty parlor, church services, transportation to town, library, and laundry, along with many other special services. There will be 24 hour nursing care and also a staff physician, Dr. James Molehan.

The nursing home has three different wings and one wing of the structure will serve as a retirement wing, where the people may come and go as they please.

Rev. Robert Slagel, administrator of the home, has stated that half of the beds already are committed.

Construction of the $400,000 structure began the first part of January by the C. and C. Construction Co., of the Nampa-Caldwell area. The nursing home is built on land leased from the state by Green Acres Terrace, Inc., and is privately owned.

Civil Defense Meet Under Way Richfield

TWIN FALLS — Heads of public agencies met throughout Wednesday with Russell Cook, University of Idaho Extension Civil Defense Director to receive training as to their part should a nuclear attack occur.

Agencies such as fire, police, state health, law enforcement and others directly involved in all emergencies were represented in the Wednesday afternoon sessions. Messengers were provided by the local Civil Air Patrol and National Guard officials also participated.

The session was part of a week-long Civil Defense program which will climax Friday in a simulated emergency exercise.

During practice sessions simulated messages were received at various intervals, directing civil defense crews into various phases of the emergency plan and reporting various degrees of fallout.

Other emergencies which might occur outside during such conditions were also reviewed on a simulated basis and instructions given on handling such connected emergency conditions—accidents, fires and highway and water maintenance matters.

Mr. Cook said in the event of actual nuclear attack the state would operate through the six highway district offices rather than through one state headquarters. At a certain point in the training, the district office in Shoshone, under Howard Johnson, engineer, was declared headquarters although the district did not participate in the local training program.

Gooding 4-H Style Revue Set Friday

GOODING — The Gooding 4-H Style Revue will be held Friday in the Frahm Junior High School gym beginning at 8 p.m.

The style revue theme this year will be "Your Fashion Horoscope" with Mrs. Sandy Koenig narrator and eighty girls ranging in age from 9 to 18 years participating.

Classes include "Machine Magic," first year girls modeling aprons or ponchos; "Junior Ditties" which include a blouse or a skirt; "Cotton Chairmen" which a dress or jumper will be modeled; "Bedtime Outfits" which can include a pair of pajamas or a nightgown and a housecoat, dressing robe or brunch coat; "Funtime Favorites" which is a complete coordinated play outfit; "Stylish Separates" which is a coordinated outfit with at least four garments that can be worn in a "mix and match" style; "Wearable Wonders" which includes a tailored wool or part wool dress; "Fall Flattery" which is a one piece dress with a jacket or coat; "Evening Elegance" which is evening gowns, or a special occasion frock; and "Trims Tailored" which is coat, suit or ensemble. There are also about 50 knitted articles entered.

Skits carrying out the theme of the style show will be given between the different groups of clothing being modeled. Mrs. Gwen Medford will play the style revue's theme song "Aquarius".

Style revue committee includes: Mrs. Muncie Mink, Mrs. William LeFurgey, Mrs. LaVar Peterson, Mrs. Bob Tupper, Mrs. Clyde Medford, Mrs. Jim Faulkner, Connie Wood, Karla Miller, Cheryl Clifford, Marilyn Bickford, Toni Lierman, Penny Archibald, Valance Peterson, Marlene Varin, Vicki Peterson, Jeri Ohmndro, LoyAnn Casper, and Donita Kuhn.

Judges will be Sharon LaGray, Jerome Home Economic Agent; Mrs. Valorie Quensell, Home Economist; and Mrs. Nelda-Ronk, Twin Falls Home Economist.

The style revue is under the direction of Dorothy Grievie, Gooding Home Economic agent.

A special feature at this year's style revue will be some bachelor sewing done by some 4-H boys.

2 Face Drug Charges

TWIN FALLS — A high-speed chase through the residential areas of Twin Falls early Thursday morning ended with two local men being charged with possessing illegal drugs.

Police arrested Thomas Joseph Roy and Alan D. Brauer, both 20, on the charges. They said the illegal drug involved was marijuana. Roy also was charged with reckless driving.

Police began the chase when Roy's car turned on to Filler Avenue East from Blue Lakes Boulevard North with a squeal of tires. The chase continued for several blocks, then Roy and Brauer abandoned the car and ran.

Police waited at the car for the men to return and when they did, arrested them. They said laboratory reports identified a substance discovered during the arrest was marijuana.

Junk Law

RICHFIELD — Ordinance No. 121 was adopted following the third reading at the August City board meeting in Richfield. It relates to the accumulation of junk, debris, and wrecked autos.

Mayor Clifford Ward reported on attendance at a Boise meeting concerning rules for treatment of municipal sewage treatment in Idaho. The problems of a small community were discussed where approximately one-third of the population is retired and living on a limited income.

The mayor stated that federal aid could be secured through the FHA at the local level.

An obsolete jail building was sold to the mayor for $5.

Tax dollars requested from the county commissioners amount to $6,214.38, or the approximate amount of last year. Last year the request was in the form of a levy by mills, it was explained.

The board approved contacting a tree service for core drilling to determine if a hazard exists before more trees are removed on city property.

Relief On Taxes Welcome

County officials in Twin Falls Thursday said they welcomed the decision of the Idaho Tax Commission ruling in favor of the county request for relief under House Bill 304 limitations.

The county's request for raising an additional $77,134.03 in tax revenue for 1970 beyond the 104 per cent of 1969 tax revenue stipulated by the bill was granted in full in a decision received from the tax commission Wednesday.

Luther Passmore, chairman, advised the county commission has been granted to raise the 104 per cent of the 1969 figure plus 7.70 per cent to meet emergency needs. The emergency condition arose because of the loss of wooden grand stands at the county fairgrounds last November in a fire and a $50,000 shortage between insurance coverage and minimum replacement costs.

Fairfield Auction Set Saturday

FAIRFIELD — The Camas County 4-H Livestock auction will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Firehouse Park, instead of Thursday as previously stated.

Messersmith Auction Service is donating the auctioneer services. Dwight Osburn, Allen Bauscher and Doran Clener are on the sale committee.

The auction is part of the Camas County 4-H fair which opened today with judging under way in the American Legion hall. The fair is sponsored jointly by Camas county and the extension service.

In addition to the 4-H entries, this year there is a display of handmade articles and items of interest entered by members of the Camas-Prairie Homemakers Extension Club, and seat only.

These events will be jockepped.

A new event this year will be team roping with trophies going to the champion header and heeler.

Entries will be taken two hours prior to the horse show at the grandstand. All children wishing to enter should pick up entry blanks and release forms at the grandstand of from Leona Patterson or Lillian Esterbrook.

Uvon Maggard will be judge with Chitt Abernethie as announcer. Leona Patterson, Ann Lou Stevens, and Frances Hurd will be taking the entries.

Marshals Named at Murtaugh

MURTAUGH — Glen Briggs and Edgar Moorman, senior citizens of Murtaugh and Milner, will be parade marshals at Western Hospitality Day in Murtaugh, Saturday.

The parade starts at 1 p.m. and will be preceded by a roast beef lunch at 11 a.m. in the high school lunchroom.

Reunion Held

MURTAUGH — A 10-year reunion was held by members of the Murtaugh High School graduating class of 1960 at the Yuff Club. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Utterback were special guests.

A family picnic was served Sunday in Harmon Park. Gays Lynn Goodman, Salt Lake City, received the prize for traveling the farthest distance; Andrew Ward, for changing the least, and Gary Nobecker, for having the most children.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Richard (Kaye Anne Webb) Edwards, Filer, and Mrs. Richard (Betty Jean Young) Carrier, Hansen.

Horse Show Planned at Gooding's County Fair

GOODING — The Gooding Roping Club will again sponsor the horse show this year at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the rodeo arena as part of the county fair.

This year's show will start with an exhibition drill by the Little Mustangs under the direction of Lillian Esterbrook.

There will be trophies given in the three children events which include Pony class, hands and seat only; Children 11 years and under, hands and seat only; and Children 12, 13, and 14, hands and seat only.

Other events being offered include Western pleasure, girls 15 years and over; Team roping; western pleasure; men 15 years and over; stallions recognized as a pleasure horse for men only; Seven Barrels, 20 feet apart; clover leaf barrel race 15 years and under; clover leaf barrel race, over 15 years; and flag race. Fashion Show Held

SUN VALLEY — An hour-long antique fashion show with the theme "Were They Really the Good Old Days?" entertained wives of participants in the Western National Motor Car Club at Sun Valley on Wednesday.

Narrated by Lois Crook, Salt Lake City, the fashion show was sponsored by the Antique Couturiere Club of Salt Lake City, and featured 27 fashions ranging from the late 1800s to the 1940s. The clothes came from the collection of Pat von Krum, Salt Lake City.

Models for the event were Debbie Heath and Janet Sargent, both of Idaho Falls; Helen Derbidge, Pocatello, and Louise Curry and Mrs. von Krum, both of Salt Lake.

Other events of the car show included a barbecue Wednesday at Trall Creek Cabin, with entertainment by the Roaring 20s vaudeville group from Idaho Falls, and a tour in the ancient motor vehicles by 40 owners to Redfish Lake and the Craters of the Moon. The event will conclude this evening with an awards banquet.

A 1920 GOWN known aptly as the "Rag" is modeled by Helen Derbidge, Pocatello, at a fashion show at the Veterans Car Club meet at Sun Valley. The original lace is still held together through many years and appears, and the heavy silver underdrift is straight and in good condition. Rhinestone buckles adorn each shoulder, and gray drapes surround the low waist and fall from the shoulder. The outfit is complete with the long hands and headband.

BLM Reclassification Of Cassia Lands Noted

BURLEY. — The Bureau of Land Management is proposing to classify about 440,000 acres of public land in Cassia county for multiple use management, Burley Chamber of Commerce members were told at their weekly luncheon meeting at Bryan's Cafe.

Del Waddoups, Burley district BLM, explained the purpose of the Classification and Multiple Use Act, passed by congress in 1964, is to identify public lands with agricultural potential which should be privately owned and land which can produce needed resources best under continued public ownership and public use management.

The proposed classification in Cassia county includes 10 outdoor recreation sites and wildlife habitat areas, comprising some 700 acres.

Under the classification livestock would be grazed under a coordinated program of range, wildlife habitat and watershed management and there would be protection and development of recreation sites for camping and picnicking as well as management under the general mining laws.

Only one objection was received from the Water Resource Board at a public hearing on the proposal and BLM officials are now in the 60-day waiting period.

It was reported invitations have been mailed for the Irrigation Fair to be held in September at the Cassia County Fairgrounds.

Man Held 2 Youths Attend Conclave

RUPERT. — Jesse Salinas, 23, Rupert, is being held in county jail in lieu of $1,500 bond on a felony charge of lewd conduct with a minor under 16 years of age.

He was arraigned Monday morning before Probate Judge LeRoy Blacker and requested time to talk with an attorney. He was arrested Sunday morning by Minidoka County Sheriff's officers on a felony warrant.

Two Twin Falls students, Jerry Sturgill, 567 Polk St., and Patty Stephan, Route 3, attended the recent convention of Teen-Age Republicans at the University of the Pacific, Stockton, Calif., last week.

The "TARS" participating in the program discussed ways to improve the effectiveness of young people in campaigns as well as ways to increase their own organizations. They put their political knowledge to work during the convention by canvassing several precincts in Stockton.

The first suspension bridge was built across the Ohio River from Covington, Ky., to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1867.

Out-of-Doors Good School Laboratory

SHOSHONE. — That the out-of-doors is considered one of the best learning laboratories was amply demonstrated at the University of Montana and the United States Forest Service Family Camping and Outdoor Recreation workshop last week.

Attending from Idaho were the James Hoyle and William Berg families, Meridian formerly of Hildreth and Hildreth areas, and Mrs. L.M. Hattnaker and Mrs. Ernie Eldredge, Shoshone elementary teachers. Mr. Hoyle is junior high principal in Meridian and Mrs. Berg is high school athletic director.

The teachers who attended, and received college credits, feel they not only had a wonderful summer outing, but were following the educational trend that many schools are following, putting much emphasis on outdoor education in the intermediate grade level. Some schools are having overnight or longer camping trips. The campsite was located at the Clearwater crossing, West of Fish Creek, on Highway 10 approximately 37 miles from Missoula, Mont., then 16 miles south off the paved highway to the end of the gravel, dirt road, an area not commercialized, where bear, elk and moose and deer are seen daily. The location was closed to all other campers while the workshop was in progress.

Dr. Walter C. Schwank, chairman of the Department of Health, physical education and recreation and the 1969 summer program at the University of Montana, was director. He was assisted by his wife, Helen.

There were 50 people registered for credit at the camp, approximately 150 attending in all. This included children, ranging in age from one year to teenagers. At least one member from each family had to register in order for them to gain admittance.

Training was given in methods of setting up, supervising, and directing family and group camps. Attention was focused on equipment, procedures and techniques in such activities as outdoor cooking, color photography, horseback riding, fly fishing, crafts, survival, first aid, hikes, ecology, Indian lore and beaded work, safety procedures and demonstrations of camping and fishing equipment.

The caravan assembled to leave for the camp at the Field House at the University where Indians danced, performed by the famous Salish and Kootenai Indian dance demonstration team. They have traveled all over the United States.

Two Indians, a man and woman, about 80 years old, and two young Indians of the Salish (flat head) tribe, native of the area, accompanied the caravan to the Fish Creek. They set up their tepee of pole pins and lived with the group, telling Indian lore and history at every opportunity.

There was no generation gap, Shoshone teachers report, as is evidenced by them when they and another "grandmother" accepted the invitation from a young man, who had just received his degree from the University of Montana and accepted a position in Billings as assistant director of city recreation. He invited them to learn to fish. The grandmothers rolled up their trouser legs and waded into the stream with the young man and "had the time of their lives", catching their first fish, rainbow trout.

Among the group were people who had traveled all over the world, a former U.S. representative to Jordan, a New York City High School English teacher, a director of athletics from the University of Illinois, a sample who had spent 10 years in Honduras, art and music majors and the elementary principal of a 700 student school in Leavenworth, Kansas.

This was the 5th such workshop conducted by the Schwanks. The demand for this type workshop, Dr. Schwank said, is getting so great that next year they plan to conduct two. This year 40 checks were returned to people wishing to attend, after they had already accepted 40 families when 25 is the ideal number.

The Shoshone teachers sum up their experience: "Those interested in learning more about this spreading adventure in education, would find a good place to learn at the Montana workshop, conducted in a relaxing, fun-loving wholesome, enriching environment."

Other speakers included Jerry Martin of California Gov. Ronald Reagan's office speaking on the news media, and Gary Hunt, also of the governor's office, who discussed campus disorders.

A mock legislative session allowed the youths to participate in politics on the campaign level, assuming party names and electing party leaders. Their legislation covered pollution, retirement for Congressmen, and coinage, the latter advocating changing the Kennedy half-dollar to a coin honoring Vice President Spiro Agnew.

A humorous bill passed by the Republican-minded youths offered a proposal to launch the President of the United States "into space for one orbit around the earth at dawn on July 4, 1970."

Citations Given in Minidoka

RUPERT. — Recent accidents here have resulted in citations issued to two drivers involving separate accidents.

Sheryl Anderson, 17, Declo, was cited by State Police Gordon Mills, for violating the basic rule following a one-vehicle roll over 20 miles West of American Falls on U.S. 30 N. Sunday afternoon.

She was driving a 1965 Chevrolet owned by Monte Loveland, 17, Burley, who was a passenger, along with Troy Anderson, 3, Albion, nephew of the driver. The driver reported that she applied the brakes and the car skidded 354 feet, went into the south borrowpit and turned onto its top. It was totaled. All three occupants were slightly injured but apparently never required treatment, according to the officer.

Theron Koepnick, 32, Rupert, was cited by Deputy Ray Jarvis Sunday afternoon after he backed his 1962 Cadillac into the path of an oncoming 1964 Mercury operated by Gene A. Price, 17, Heyburn. The accident, which occurred on 600 South, resulted in $150 damage to the Mercury and $300 to the Cadillac.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) I have held mutual funds for many years but recently realized that the yield amounts to about 2 per cent with the rest from capital gains. This buying and selling to my mind is speculation, so I have cashed in my funds. Stocks yield around 4 per cent; any that pay 8 per cent or better are risky. Yet I can get 9 per cent on high-grade bonds. Supposedly inflation and growth in stocks will make up the difference; well I haven't seen much growth materialize. Can you enlighten me as to the advantages of common stocks versus bonds? - S.C.

A) While much of the buying and selling in recent years by some funds could be called speculative, certainly not all transactions would fall into that category. Any investor who retains an issue in lieu of a prolonged deterioration in earnings or other adverse developments is not making the best use of his capital. You obviously are conservative and would be uncomfortable holding anything but the highest-quality income issues. Your conclusion that bonds yielding a guaranteed 9 per cent are preferable to stocks at 4 per cent is shared by a surprising number of investors. The upsurge in public participation in the bond market - bond holdings by individuals more than tripled between 1968 and 1969 - is a phenomenon unique in recent securities market history. While recent record bond yields more than offset the annual rate of increase in inflation, this has not always been the case. A dozen years ago prime corporate bonds were returning 3.6 per cent, common stocks 4.5 per cent. During those 12 years the Standard & Poor's 500 stock average increased 250 per cent, while the purchasing power of the dollar decreased by 25 per cent. In other words, common stocks outpaced inflation by ten times. The prudent policy would be to follow a middle course.

Business Today

By LEROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI)—The day may come when American businessmen will spend a lot more time watching television-like tubes than working their way through stacks of paper.

There already are about 76,000 cathode ray tube (CRT) terminals in business use and there may be 10 times that many by 1975. In 1965, there were only 4,000.

It is estimated that the average American spends 30,000 hours in front of a TV receiver before his twenty-first birthday. As cathode tube display systems on closed-circuit TV take over paper documents in business, institutional and professional life, it's possible many men and women will rack up 100,000 hours of viewing time in their lives.

Most everyone is familiar by now with the use of CRT terminals by airlines, railroads, stockbrokers and hospitals. An Ohio corporate executive also keeps track of a $380 million inventory by means of a computerized CRT system with typewriter keyboards for tapping out information.

United Press International is developing a system by which its major bureaus will use cathode tubes to select and edit dispatches for clients instead of editing paper copy.

A traffic clerk in San Diego checks the records of violators by a cathode tube system before accepting payment for fines.

Desk top CRT terminals are made by scores of companies about 10 of whom are substantial producers, according to Tom Harrison of Conrac Corp., New York, one of the bigger makers. Senders Associates and Harris-Intertype also are producers.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—We are in a recession-temo and it is because of this that European and U.S. professional investors are avoiding the U.S. stock market, says Hoppin Bros. & Co.

The firm disagrees with the current bear argument that "bureaucracy is in complete control" and is stifling private initiative. The basic assumptions of the 1960s are still valid and will be reevaluated despite recent shaking of faith, along with a retrenching of the country's international commitments, the firm believes. The bull market to come will rest on a base far more solid than the last bull market, he adds.

When everybody thinks alike, everybody is likely to be wrong, says Indicator Digest. The firm says the fact that so many market analysts have turned bullish, so many economists have embraced the idea that the economy is looking up and so many members of the administration have pooh-poohed the existence of a recession is noteworthy and a cause of some concern.

The importance of the rate of monetary expansion in relation to the stock market cannot be stressed enough, says Argus Research Corp. A step-up in money growth, now being urged by the Administration, would benefit not only housing-related companies, but also the consumer durable goods sectors of the economy, including appliances, autos and tires, it adds.

Bachs & Co. says the nature of the general news background is not strong enough to change the direction of the market which is essentially downward. "A clear set of developments that you've ended the downward tendency in the economy would put the market out of its aimless drift," the firm believes.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were narrowly lower as trading rounded the half way point Thursday. Turnover was light.

The Dow Jones Industrial average of 30 selected blue chips was up 1.65 at 722.96.

Of the 1,388 issues traded, 628 declined and 418 advanced.

A three hour volume of 4,800,000 was slightly up 4,500,000 in a comparable period Wednesday.

Analyst generally do not expect a pickup in volume over the near term because of the traditionally slow August vacation period and the relatively quiet news front.

Youths Promote Patriotism

Dramatic Results Shown By Voting Rights Act

By TOM GREENE
ATLANTA (UPI)—Five years ago today President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into law the Voting Rights Act of 1965, described by his attorney general, Ramsey Clark, as a "bold experiment in democracy."

The experiment has produced dramatic results. The number of blacks registered to vote in the six southern states fully covered by the act has nearly doubled. Five years ago 72 Negroes held elective positions in the South. The figure today is 540.

White politicians who defended segregation in the 1950s headed into the 1970s voicing concern about poverty. Many who failed to change with the times learned that the Negro electorate, while usually not big enough to elect black candidates, often produced victories for more moderate whites.

Charles Evers, the black man elected a year ago as mayor of Fayette, Miss., termed the act "the greatest deterrent to racial discrimination we have ever had."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mauldin of Selma, Ala., the first persons to register under the act, are convinced black people are far better off now than five years ago.

"People have got more rights, more privileges, than they have ever had before," said Mauldin. "They look more like citizens now."

There now are 10,000 black voters in the Selma area, and maintain figures this is why the once dusty streets in Selma's Negro neighborhoods are being paved. "If it keeps up, we're going to have all these streets blacktopped."

George Andrews, 69, a conservative Democrat who has represented a south Alabama district in Congress since 1942, doesn't share the Mauldins' liking for the act.

"This has been the most punitive, vindictive piece of legislation ever passed in this country," Andrews said. "I've actually seen people voting who couldn't read. We have to permit morons to vote, and that diminishes the intelligence of the electorate."

DISPLAYING THE FLAG are Susan Arlington, Ron Ellsworth and Cynthia Jensen, in "Project Patriotism" to be presented Wednesday by the Twin Falls LDS Institute of Religion.

"Project Patriotism," a program of music and dance, will be presented by the Twin Falls LDS Institute of Religion at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the LDS Chapel on Harrison Street.

Purpose of the program, in which about 15 young people are participating, is to promote loyalty to our country and our heritage.

The event is being directed by Ron Ellsworth and Dale Babbitt, and Susan Arrington is the chair and program director. "Zion's Singers," a group of 30 young people, will present such numbers as "No Man Is an Island" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." There also will be various special numbers, songs, readings and dancing. The entire program is being done by young people who are proud to be Americans. The public is invited free of charge to enjoy a worthwhile evening of music.

Student Unrest Commission Member Keeps Probe Honest

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—The youngest member of the Presidential Commission on Student Unrest has a commission of his own to keep the investigation honest.

Joseph Rhodes Jr., a junior fellow at Harvard University, has gathered around him a team of young investigators to go to campus trouble spots and do his homework.

Shortly after President Nixon named the commission, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew suggested Rhodes be removed for making statements Agnew said showed he might not be an impartial investigator.

Rhodes, 22, who is black and the only student on the commission, said in an exclusive UPI interview: "I regard my position as unique. A lot of people are counting on me to make sure this commission is honest, not a whitewash."

"It's not as though I had a choice—it's stay on and regard it this way, or get off the commission."

"I raise the issues, they pick the one they want to work on, they do the investigation, we argue about the conclusions of the report and then I submit it to the commission as my position. I take full responsibility," he said.

He said four members of his team compiled a 30-page report on Lawrence, Kan., where two students were shot last month, in six days. Rhodes submitted it July 29 and as a result the full commission decided to go to Lawrence.

Rhodes' team, which jokingly calls itself "the Rhodes seminar," has submitted reports on Kent State University, Ohio; Jackson State College, Miss.; University of New Mexico; Iowa State, Calif.; and Lawrence. It also has provided him with a position paper on "repression" and with background on 12 witnesses who testified before the commission.

"We have to be absolutely honest in telling the President what anything he does will cost him in terms of public response," Rhodes said. "And he has to listen; it's a political reality. The student unrest, we're finding, is much broader than anyone begins to suspect. And students are the nation, the future."

"I'm not here to defend all students though," Rhodes said. "The vandals that smashed up Harvard Square were clearly wrong. I'm just trying to communicate their point of view."

Vienna Visits

NEW YORK (UPI)—A record total of 140,658 tourists visited Vienna in May, reports the Vienna Press and Information Service. This compared with 131,920 in May, 1969. The majority of visitors came from Germany, 35,503, compared with 30,022 in May last year—and the United States, 22,069, compared with 19,373.

America's 23 million black people are slowly but steadily closing the education gap that has been one of their most serious disadvantages in competing for advancement in a predominantly white society.

Their progress is documented in a Census Bureau study which compares the present situation with that of 1940.

Thirty years ago, only 12 per cent of the Negroes 25 to 29 years old had completed high school.

Today the proportion of high school graduates is 56 per cent. In 1940, only 2 per cent of young black adults had completed 4 or more years of college.

The proportion today is 7 per cent—an improvement of better than 300 per cent in three decades.

The most dramatic evidence of the steadily growing educational level of the black community, however, is found at the other end of the scale. The proportion of young adult Negroes with less than five years of school declined from 28 per cent in 1940 to only 2 per cent at present.

The increasing number of Negroes completing high school and the decreasing number who drop out of school in the early grades together have produced a striking jump in the median educational attainment of American blacks.

In 1940, the median years of school completed by young Negro adults was 7 years.

Today, it's 12.1 years. Translated into everyday terms, that means the average black reached adulthood, a generation ago, with less than a grammar school education. Today he emerges from the formal educational process with at least four years of high school.

The degree to which blacks have narrowed the racial gap in educational attainment is revealed by another table of the census analysis.

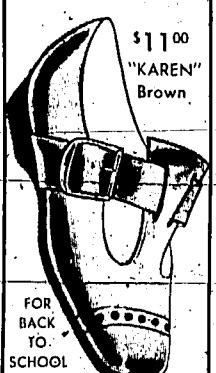

In 1940, young white adults had, on the average, four more years of education than blacks of the same age.

Today, the median difference is less than half a year.

These are not just statistics for the curious. They reflect a reality of enormous importance to all Americans. The black man needs education to take his rightful place in American system.

He knows it. And he's getting it.

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY, Times-News Sports Editor. To the surprise of no one, the state Class A-1 basketball tournament for next season has been placed in the Idaho State mini-dome.

That raises some interesting things to speculate over. Offering something like 12,500 seats, the mini-dome will be larger than needed for crowds and that is a circumstance one hardly expects to find anymore.

But we have some reservations about how well the thing will be received by spectators because it doesn't seem to us that watching a game in the mini-dome will be comfortable or compatible with the scene Idahoans are accustomed to seeing.

Idaho State has purchased a college regulation basketball floor which can be installed in the mini-dome relatively easily—or in a day's time. However, the thing is built for football, meaning it must be 60 yards from bleacher to bleacher.

A basketball floor is 50 feet wide so there will be a minimum of about 65 feet from the court out-of-bound sidelines to the bleachers. There is about a four or five-foot walkway to the first row of seats and so you find the closest chair to sidelines about 70 feet.

Of course, those in the top row are going to be a lot farther back than that. It is something that isn't unusual in big places where people are used to sitting in the third balcony and way back, but in Idaho no one has had the opportunity to become familiar with it.

You sit far enough away and it becomes difficult to catch in detail what is happening on the floor. The classic case came in that memorable UCLA-Houston game while some of the 50,000 people were so far away it became impossible for them to tell whether the ball went through the basket or just clipped the net on a short shot.

We didn't ask but there also is a matter of money. We understand that ISU will be getting $1,000 per game from Highland and Pocatello high schools for use of the dome during the prep season. If the Bengals have a daily rent of $1,000 per day on the state tournament, the total gates will have to greatly increase.

There can be other plus things in use of the dome for basketball from a player standpoint. The first, of course, will be becoming used to playing on the floor without any usual frame of reference. This will take adaptation because basketball requires a lot of instinct and the proximity of the crowd, ceiling, walls, etc., are sub-consciously part of positioning ones self on the floor without actually paying attention. It will become a different game for officials, too, since the boos and junk generally dealt out by crowds will be more like a distant and unconnected rumble in the black background.

The A-2 tournament will go to Boise, the A-3 to Ricks in Rexburg and the A-4 probably to Coeur d'Alene, although that isn't a certainty as yet.

In the meantime, we submit it is time for the A-1 tournament to visit the fourth district again, something it hasn't done since 1927, as close as we can discover.

The new College of Southern Idaho gymnasium is rapidly rounding into shape and it's a beauty. The bleachers have twice the leg-room width of any currently in use.

The interior has been covered with some kind of foam stuff that takes away the unfinished look of cement. The CSI gym has gone a step further than any so far we've seen in interior completion. The architects tell us it will seat 4,500, but putting the rule of thumb on the space we figure the permanent seating capacity at 3,028. (Give or take three).

Third Spot, Nip Billings

BILLINGS, MONT (UPI) — The Magic Valley Cowboys moved solidly into third place in the "Pioneer League" standings by edging the Billings Mustangs, 7-6, Thursday night.

Adderley Keeps Oath And Retires

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Herb Adderley, three-time all-pro defensive back who since last December has vowed never to play for the Green Bay Packers again, made it official Wednesday by retiring.

Adderley, the Packers' top draft choice for 1961, called Head Coach and General Manager Phil Bengtson to tell him of his decision.

"Herb has decided to retire. So that question is finally answered," Bengtson said. "He's retired to go into business. What the business is, I'm not sure."

Adderley, 31, called member of the news media after the Packers' final game last December to express his anger at being left off the Pro Bowl squad. He charged that the Green Bay coaches had not recommended him for the Pro Bowl squad, and also accused Wayne Robinson, then the defensive backfield coach, of being too critical of the players under his jurisdiction.

Rams' Vet Can't Pass Physical

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI) — Ten-year veteran corner back Willie Daniel did not pass the Rams' physical Wednesday and left the camp.

Daniel, who had knee surgery during the off season, was rejected because of that knee. Daniel, 32, came to the Rams in 1967 for a draft choice. Previously he played with the Pittsburgh Steelers for three years after being graduated from Mississippi State.

Husky Stuns Keebler In City Finale

John's Husky Service, winning by less than a spectacular victory, turned spoiler Wednesday night to surprise Keebler Cookie 16-15 and present the "B" league title to Varsity Berserbers. In other city slowpitch action, Hiltz Bear ended a long domination by Turf Club by dropping the "A" league champions 10-6. In one of the tightest games of the year, Sherwood's Sport Castles edged Olympia-Ford 2-1.

Spencer Bats Angels Past Minnesota 7-5

ST. PAUL, MINN. (UPI) — Jim Spencer hit two-run homers in the sixth and eighth innings Wednesday night to pace the California Angels to a 7-5 come-from-behind victory over the Minnesota Twins.

A's 4, Royals 1

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Don Mincher collected three hits, including two doubles, to drive the four-run Angels to a 4-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Both homers by the lefthanded first baseman came off lefthanded pitchers and both came with two out following singles by Tommie Reynolds.

The second homer climaxed a three-run eighth which started when Ray Oyler singled and Ken McMullen walked to knock out Tom Hall.

Sox 9, Brewers 3

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ed Herrmann's first grand slam homer of his career and the first for the Chicago White Sox this season sparked a 9-3 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Wednesday night and gave Jim Magnuson his first major league win.

Tigers 3, Solons 1

DETROIT (UPI) — Pitching his first complete game since July 8, Mickey Lolich gained his 10th victory in 22 decisions Wednesday night as the Detroit Tigers downed the Washington Senators, 3-1, to snap a four-game losing streak.

N.Y. 7, Indians 3

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Two-run homers by Thurman Munson and Bobby Murcer in the fifth inning Wednesday night helped Sam McDowell's bid to win his 17th game of the season as the New York Yankees beat the Cleveland Indians, 7-3.

Crampton Hopes to Carry Win Touch To American Open

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Bruce Crampton, who says he is still excited, tired but not so greedy after winning the Westchester Golf Classic, said Wednesday he hopes to have enough spark left to win the American Golf Classic over the Firestone Country club course here.

Classic here which opens Thursday. Crampton, who edged Jack Nicklaus and young Larry Hinson by one stroke to pick up the $50,000 first prize at Westchester, failed to make the cut in last year's American Golf Classic over the Firestone Country club course here.

But one hot spoken Australian feels things may be different this time. "I'm playing well," he said, "but it takes a lot of hard work to win a four-day tournament. I'm still excited over the last one and not getting a good night's rest yet. I'd like to win it but I don't want to be greedy."

Lee Elder, who lost the 1968 Classic to Nicklaus in a five-hole sudden death playoff after shooting an even par 280, believes this year's scores will be about the same.

"I'd like to be in the clubhouse with a 20 and let them shoot at it," Elder said. "Ray Floyd won the tournament last year with a 12-under par 288, but Elder said the scores won't come close to that this year."

"The courses won't be near that because of the rough," Elder said. "When you get off the fairway, you are going to have trouble getting the ball out."

The prize list for the tournament played on the par 70, 7,180 yard Firestone south course has been increased by $25,000 this year to $150,000. First place money is $30,000, second place $17,100 and third $10,650.

Arnold Palmer, who had played all the previous eight American Golf Classics and in two PGA championships here since 1960, is not entered this year.

Palmer won the Classic in 1962 and 1967. Among the missing is Lee Trevino, the tour's leading money winner, who was disqualified at Westchester when he missed his tee time. He is reportedly vacationing in Mexico.

Travino told host pro Bobby Nichols that he started a new practice of taking a week off before any major tournament and pointed out the PGA is next week.

Billy Casper, the fifth leading money winner on the tour, also passed up the Classic.

Also entered in the tournament are U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin, getting a lot of attention since his fine showing in the Westchester. Doug Sanders, runner-up to Nicklaus in the British Open, and Gary Player.

Dove Hunt Will Begin On Sept. 1

BOISE—As usual, the hours for shooting mourning doves will be from a half hour before sunrise to sunset on all days of the season including opening day. The Idaho Fish and Game Department pointed out that this conforms with federal regulations set for all migratory game birds by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Director John R. Woodworth stated that the bag limit will be 10 birds daily and 20 in possession after the first day. This year the mourning dove season starts September 1 and ends September 20. The federal "duck stamp" is not required for dove hunting. However, other federal regulations such as the one requiring that a shotgun be "plugged" so it is capable of holding no more than three shells in the magazine and chamber combined will be enforced.

Schiller Honored By Coaches

SUN VALLEY—Lloyd "Buck" Schiller, long time coach and athletic figure at Mountain Home High School, was cited for long and outstanding contribution and work in Idaho high school athletics by the state coaches association Wednesday.

Schiller, who now has left coaching and serves as an administrator in the Mountain Home school system, was retained by the coaches as their representative on the Idaho Interscholastic Activities Association's board of control. Rod Hohnhorst, coach at Buhl High School, was voted vice president of the association.

President Ron McNeley, basketball coach at Boise High School, reported to the group that there seems to be better reception for a special eleventh football game now than ever before. The 11th game would fall into the realm of inter-district or inter-conference playoffs. However, it was pointed out that the board of control could not act on that recommendation with any authority, the approval requiring a revision of the association by-laws and requiring a two-thirds majority vote by the superintendents of all Idaho districts.

Schiller told the coaches that their recommendations will be heard of the proposals are presented through proper channels. The meeting was held in conjunction with the coaches association's annual clinic.

2 Prep Stars Gain Spots On U.S. Cage Club

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States Olympic basketball training squad will leave Thursday for a 12-day game tour of Europe.

The 12-man squad is headed by 6-10 schoolboy phenom Tom McMillen of Mansfield, Pa. and recently signed by the University of North Carolina. The team will play a four-team tournament in Moscow, Aug. 14-19, then against the Soviet Union and Ukrainian teams in Kiev, Aug. 19-22, and conclude the tour with an engagement in Tallin against teams of Estonia and Latvia.

Other members of the team besides McMillen include Julius Erving of Massachusetts, James Broxon of Dartmouth, Bob Nash of Hawaii, Charles Terry of Long Beach State, Donna Wuyckik of North Carolina, Paul Westphal of Southern California, Joby Wright of Indiana and Art Williams of the U.S. Army.

In addition, Steve Erickson, a 6-foot-11 center, is the only other high school player besides McMillen to make the squad. Both Erickson and McMillen are 18 years of age and the youngest members of the team.

Marine Has National Pistol Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (UPI)—Marine W.O. Francis Higginson of Placerville, Calif., withstood late challenge by defending champion Navy P. O. Donald Hamilton, Wallaston, Mass., Wednesday to capture the National Pistol Championship ship with a three-day total of 2650 points.

Higginson fired an 881 out of 900 with the .45 caliber pistol to wrap up the championship and become the first Marine to get it since 1967 when Lt. Col. William McMillan of Turtle Creek, Pa., turned the crook. Hamilton, who got off to a bad start Monday with the .22 caliber pistol, closed strongly with an 884 Wednesday to finish second with 2640 points. Army M-Sgt. Enrl Hougatter, Rosebud, Tex., was third with 2643 and Air Force Maj. Franklin Green, Rantoul, Ill., was fourth at 2642.

William Blankenship, Columbus, Ga., who took the .45 caliber sub-championship with 886 points and who has been national champion six times won his first title in the civilian category with 2636 points. He retired from the Army in April. Army Maj. Sallie Carroll, Spokane, Wash., walked off with her fourth ladies title with 2578 points and Allen Arrington, a highway patrol officer from Charlotte, N.C., pulled an upset by winning the police title with 2607 points. He unsented Elwin Burnett, a state trooper from East Lansing, Mich., who had won the crown three consecutive years.

Cook, Reid On Bengals' Injured List

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Sore arm problems which plagued Cincinnati Bengal's quarterback Greg Cook as a rookie last season were still with him but head Coach Paul Brown said Cook will play in Saturday night's pre-season opener against the Washington Redskins.

Team physicians examined Cook Wednesday and said he had a "muscular soreness" in his right arm. They advised him to resume throwing and gradually work the arm into condition.

Cook received an injury to the arm in a game against the Kansas City Chiefs last season and operated at less than full strength for the remainder of the year.

The Bengals received another blow Wednesday with the news that No. 1 draft choice Mike Reid, the All-American defensive tackle from Penn State, would not be able to play Saturday.

Reid strained his right knee during a morning workout at Springy Field and was on crutches when he was taken to Christ Hospital. Doctors said he probably would remain at the hospital overnight.

Mini-Dome Is Ideal Grid Classroom And Saving Angel For Sagging Box Office

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI)—It's a perfect classroom for teaching football.

It's the saving angel for a sagging box office.

It's the new Mindome at Idaho State, a $2.8 million indoor sports arena financed entirely by student fees.

When the football season opens Sept. 20 with a game against the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, the plush interior of the Mindome will have room for 12,000 spectators each in a comfortable, offset-type chair anchored in "con-crypt."

Basketball and track and field teams will share the stadium in their seasons. Non-athletic events, including graduation exercises, also will be scheduled for the Mindome.

Respected Mike King, the youthful ticket manager, considers it a "saving angel" for football at Idaho State where cold weather and a rotting outdoor stadium irreverently known as the "Spud Bowl" took a heavy toll of football interest in recent years.

Idaho State officials say the sale of season tickets has doubled over last year. They are pointing for four home game sellouts during the 1970 season.

The 7,900 fans who turned out to witness the spring game May represented the largest crowd ever to see an athletic event at Idaho State—that's the basis for the optimism.

King says the Mindome is proving particularly attractive to women, who now comprise nearly 40 per cent of the new ticket purchasers. This is a far cry from past experience.

The young administrator feels that other schools in the Big Sky Conference, of which ISU is a member, eventually will turn to indoor stadiums as a key to sagging football attendance.

"It is a big asset when you can scratch off the weather as a factor in your ticket sales," King says.

Porty Ed Cavanaugh, resourceful head football coach, also stresses the weather but has discovered other advantages.

"My first impression, definitely, was that it reminded me of a gigantic classroom," he says. "The atmosphere is very conducive to learning. When I'm explaining a point, my voice carries very easily and all the players are able to hear me."

"Of course, there is no threat of weather interrupting our workouts. We can stick to our sequence of preparation, which is something new."

The Mindome's playing surface is a multi-layered "Poly-turf" manufactured by American Billie Rubber Co., of Boston, which installed a similar field at the University of Wichita. Part of the Mindome was damaged recently when a water main ruptured but repairs are underway.

At first glance, the football field, which is 35 feet below the ground, appears much longer than regulation distance. The goal posts, as seen from the opposite end zone, look almost miniature.

Statistically, the Mindome measures 140 feet from the end zone to the ceiling, 40 feet from one side to another including the seating area and 400 feet parallel to the field. There are 35 feet of turf beyond the sidelines on either side.

Cavanaugh feels the artificial turf will make for a faster movement by the linemen alike. He says he has noticed improved lateral quickness by many players.

"It's the same feeling as being on a basketball court with sneakers," he notes. "You would be surprised how much harder the players hit with a quicker start."

Cavanaugh believes the visiting teams will be at a psychological disadvantage for awhile—and indicated Idaho State fans may see a more wide-open attack in the opening periods of play. "We may decide to hit quick and early before the other team gets acclimated," he adds. "Let's face it, playing football under a roof is a new sensation."

More important, from the box-office standpoint, is that the Mindome is a new sensation for the fans, too.

Offspring Nabbed for Drugs

By United Press International
As drug usage grows among American youth, so too does the list of names of the sons or daughters of prominent parents who have run afoul of the law. Marijuana charges disclosed Wednesday against Robert F.

Kennedy Jr., 16, son of the assassinated New York senator, and his cousin, Robert Sargent Shriver III, also 16, followed these other cases:
—Teresa Jane McGovern, 19, arrested on possession of marijuana in a Rapid City,

S.D., motel in July, 1968; case never brought to trial.
—Bradley Unruh, 19, son of Jess Unruh, California's Democratic nominee for governor, arrested for possession and transportation of marijuana; charges dismissed after a closed hearing in Beverly Hills, Calif., April 8, 1968.

—Randal Brook Unruh, 18, another son of Jess Unruh, freed of possession of marijuana charges last June because of insufficient evidence.

airport in New York.
—John Charles Farrow, 22, son of actress Maureen O'Sullivan and brother of Mia, arrested Malibu, Calif., May 9, 1969, for possession of marijuana.
—Patrick Joseph Farrow, the then 20-year-old brother of John, placed on probation in August 1963, for possession of narcotics for the second time in four months.

of dangerous drugs. They joined the growing list of sons and daughters of prominent persons who have been arrested for possession of marijuana. (UPI)

—Elijah Muhammad, 21, grandson of Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, and Charles McQuade, son of Mrs. Joseph McQuade, a Republican politician from West Virginia, arrested July 4, 1970, in Arizona near the Mexican border on charges of transporting 750 pounds of marijuana; Muhammad sentenced to indefinite jail term after guilty plea; McQuade awaiting trial.

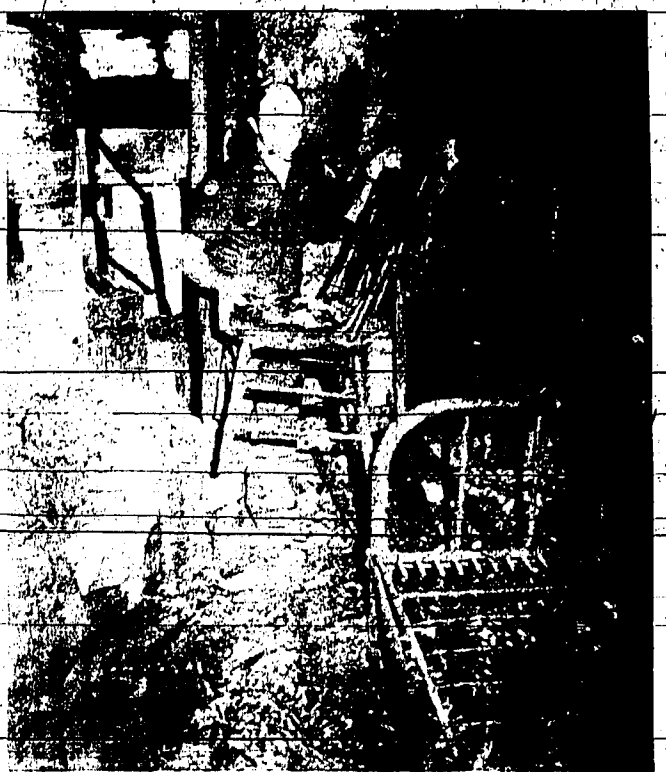

—Howard C. Samuels, 17, son of Howard Samuels, President Lyndon B. Johnson's small business administrator and a New York state industrialist, arrested in New York City, Nov. 1, 1969, on marijuana possession charges, charges dropped after youth-attended weekly counseling sessions for a number of months.

—Manuel Thiess, stepdaughter of the late Robert Taylor, ruled a narcotic addict by Los Angeles superior court, 1964.
—Jack Robinson Jr., 21, son of former baseball great Jackie Robinson, charged with possession of heroin in Stamford, Conn., March 4, 1968.
—Sam McCall, son of Oregon Gov. Tom McCall, although not arrested on drug charges, went on network television with his father recently to tell of Sam's long addiction to drugs.

—John P. Cahill, 19, son of New Jersey Gov. John T. Cahill, arrested twice on marijuana possession charges this year, ordered to undergo psychiatric tests at Holmesburg prison, Philadelphia prior to disposition of case.
—Jeffrey S. Gifford, then 17, son of former New York Giants football player and sportscaster Frank Gifford, arrested for allegedly picking marijuana growing wild in New Jersey on July 6, 1969.

—Jeffrey Ford, son of Tennessee Ernie Ford, and young Ford's wife, the former Holly Scudder, daughter of the editor-publisher of the Newark News, arrested in Berkeley, Calif., March 8, 1970, on marijuana possession charge. Jeffrey pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charge of use of marijuana; Mrs. Ford's case was deferred.

—J. K. Manchester, 18, son of author William Manchester, arrested during August, 1969, on drug charges in Middletown, Conn.
—John Drew Barrymore, 37, son of actor John Barrymore, sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Skyscraper Fire Rages

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two persons were killed and 33 others injured Wednesday night in a smoky fire which erupted high in a new 50-story glass and aluminum skyscraper in Manhattan's financial district.

The intense heat and billowing smoke generated by the stubborn blaze, confined by the building's modern "fire-resistant" construction materials, led a firefighter to brand the 5-month-old structure and others like it "firemen killers."

More than 150 firemen using 25 pieces of equipment fought for more than six hours to extinguish the flames, which broke out about 6 p.m. in a 33rd-floor room housing elevator motors. The Atlas-McGrath skyscraper at 1 New York Plaza is occupied to the 20th floor by the Chase Manhattan Bank.

Guardsmen Patrol Firebombing Area

LIMA, Ohio (UPI)—National Guardsmen and deputies from 12 surrounding counties joined police early today in patrolling the Near Southside, where the killing of a Negro woman Wednesday by a white policeman touched off sniping and firebombings.

About 350 Guardsmen were ordered into this northwestern Ohio city of 55,000 by Gov. James A. Rhodes at the request of Mayor Christian Morris.

Morris declared a state of emergency, imposed a 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and banned the sale of gasoline and the carrying of weapons.

A mob of about 150 persons tried to march to the downtown area Wednesday night after Christine Ricks was shot and killed by Patrolman Ted Boop. Police dispersed them with tear gas.

Smaller groups threw firebombs at buildings in the mostly black southside. Snipers fired at officers, wounding at least one, from hiding places along the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad and buildings along Fourth Street.

Miss Ricks, according to police, had tried to interfere with Patrolman Boop and his partner while they were arrested a black youngster who refused to move his bicycle from the street. Miss Ricks grabbed Patrolman Glenn Ricks' revolver from his holster and fired at him. Boop returned fire, killing the woman. Pierce was treated for a wound of the ear.

Congressional TV?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Is television coming to the ornate carpets and brass spittoons of Congress?

Republican leaders of both houses, offering their colleagues a chance for fame and national recognition, introduced legislation Wednesday to require at least eight televised night congressional sessions each year.

The measure, introduced simultaneously by Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., would force all television licenses to broadcast at least four sessions a year for each house beginning at 7 p.m. Normally neither house meets late, but Scott said special two-hour night sessions could be arranged, featuring five-minute speeches by members.

"I don't know whether this can pass," Scott said. "But there are a lot of goodies in it. It offers everybody a chance for fame."

Television currently is barred from both chambers by longstanding tradition. Even still pictures may not be taken in the House or Senate and tourists must check their cameras at the door.

The Scott-Ford measure was introduced as an alternative to Sen. J. William Fulbright's proposal to require the networks to give Congress at least four opportunities a year to answer presidential speeches at length in their studios. The Arkansas Democrat's approach, however, has been opposed by the networks and some members have said it would be difficult—if not impossible—to determine who would speak for Congress on any given occasion.

'Pep Pill' Curbs Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration took steps Wednesday to try to limit the production, sale and medical uses of amphetamines or "pep pills" as a major source of drug abuse in the country.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards said 3.5 billion doses of amphetamines—more than 15 for every American man, woman and child—were manufactured last year and that the Justice Department could account for the sale of only 62 per cent of them.

Edwards said this "prodigious production makes easy the diversion of large supplies into improper channels of trade."

Agnew Says JFK Secret Betrayed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew Wednesday accused former White House aide Kenneth P. O'Donnell of betraying the trust of President Kennedy by asserting Kennedy had planned a complete U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam after the 1964 election.

Describing the assertion as an attempt to discredit President Nixon, Agnew said O'Donnell's report was impossible to believe.

"It is no credit to anybody to demean one President by ascribing to his predecessor views which were never articulated when they could still have made a difference," Agnew said in a statement.

The vice president said he found the newly published comments of Kennedy's former political adviser to be "either feeble, inaccurate, ignorant or proposterous."

O'Donnell is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts against Republican incumbent Francis W. Sargent.

"I cannot believe these so-called revelations, even though I find it easy to comprehend the desire of the liberal wing of the national Democratic party to fly the white flag of peacetime-price advocacy instead of the dirty grey banner of vacillation," Agnew said.

'God' May Get Attorney

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)—A judge who ruled last month that God does not own northern California's Morningstar Ranch has agreed to hear arguments that the Almighty is entitled to a lawyer like anyone else.

At the request of attorney Frank Solomon, Sonoma County Superior Court Judge Kenneth Eymann stayed his July 2 ruling that God does not fit the definition of a "grantee" under California law.

Solomon said he would present briefs contending the ruling should be reconsidered because God was not represented by counsel.

The Morningstar Ranch, a 30-acre hippie commune owned by former talk-show host Gottlieb, was "dedicated" to God last year after a long feud with county officials over its squalid living conditions.

Solomon said he was volunteering his services as a "friend-of-the-court." He said he did not consider himself God's lawyer because "that would be blasphemous," but Eymann should certainly appoint one.

Gottlieb had been in trouble with county authorities for two years because of the shacks improvised on the ranch. On May 7, 1969, he took to the county courthouse a deed transferring title to God and got a bewildered official to record it.

About 20 hippies live on the ranch in old buildings that the court has ordered torn down. Under a 2-year-old injunction, residents at the ranch are supposed to be limited to Gottlieb and an assistant.

Lenore Romney Wins Test by Slim Margin

By United Press International
Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of President Nixon's housing secretary, emerged the winner Wednesday of Michigan's GOP senatorial nomination. But it was by such a narrow margin that incumbent Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart promptly was rated the favorite in the general election.

With 87 per cent of the precincts counted, unofficial returns showed Mrs. Romney with a 29,000 vote lead over conservative state Sen. Robert Huber. The win put the family name back on the Republican ticket in Michigan, where her husband George served three terms as governor before joining the Nixon Cabinet.

But even her running mate, Gov. William G. Milliken, acknowledged that the unexpectedly strong challenge mounted by Huber made Mrs. Romney's chances of beating Hart next November "tougher than anticipated."

Hart was unopposed for the Democratic nomination and Milliken—an easy winner over publisher James Turgr—will face state Sen. Sander M. Levin, who won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination over three challengers. All incumbent Michigan congressmen won renomination.

The Michigan primary elections, especially the Romney-Huber race, drew the most national attention among party contests Tuesday in three other states—Missouri, Kansas and Idaho—which generally saw incumbent senators, governors and congressmen win renomination.

Late Wednesday, Huber sent Mrs. Romney a concession note saying he intends to use the votes he received to influence party politics.

"I wish to assure the Republican party of my support in the coming election campaign upon adoption of a party platform incorporating the essential elements of a conservative program," he said.

On Thursday, Tennessee voters are expected to go to the polls in record numbers for primary elections, with the most important being the race for the state's Democratic senatorial nomination. Incumbent Sen. Albert Gore was favored against four challengers and John J. Hooker Jr., a millionaire Nashville businessman, leads a field of seven candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Incumbent Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., the only other big name in Tuesday's primaries, easily won renomination and will be opposed by Missouri Attorney General John C. Danforth, who won the GOP nomination.

Youth Corps Ok'd

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday sent President Nixon a bill establishing a pilot Youth Conservation Corps program patterned on the new patterned on the new deal's Civilian Conservation Corps.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., handling the bill on the Senate floor, said the program was "designed to achieve the dual purpose of assisting in conservation and maintenance of the country's public lands and of offering an opportunity to the youth of the nation to expand their appreciation of America's magnificent natural heritage."

The bill setting up the program, to be administered by the secretaries of Interior and Agriculture, authorized appropriations of $3.5 million a year for each of the next three years.

Unlike the old CCC program, however, the Youth Conservation Corps would be open to all—not just the underprivileged.

...lowing that, he discarded his last two diamonds on the ace and king of hearts and was faced with the problem of getting back to his own hand in a trump.

He bought a long time, because B had dropped the queen and jack of hearts under the ace and king. B had also led the five of spades and continued with the deuce. Could he have started with doubletons in both major suits? Not likely! Then he was probably false-carding in hearts.

South led another heart from dummy. A sitting East, ruffed with the king and B still had to make his two trumps.

Z, who had been watching, said, "B, old friend, you are still the top. Of course, A would probably have used his king-queen trump on the third heart anyway."

B said, "Not as sharp as I used to be. I could have led a trump and saved all problems."

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Old man Z, who filled in the club duplicate game a couple of weeks back, appeared again with two friends of about the same age. None of them wanted to play but, when an extra pair was needed, Z's two friends agreed to fill in as long as they could play East and West.

Their names were A and B and they explained that they had appeared regularly in bridge columns until some 40 years back, when they had retired and East and West had taken their places.

The first hand found them defending just as they used to do in the old days. B opened the five of spades. South ruffed in his own hand and led a diamond to dummy's ace. Then he ruffed a second spade in his hand and a diamond in dummy. Followed our way.

What do you do now?

A—Double. Pass is a close second choice, but your two diamonds and singleton club make a substantial penalty possible.

Q—What's the question?

A—Instead of bidding four spades your partner has bid five diamonds. What do you do now?

Answer: Tomorrow

LOVE AND WAR - Men of Irish extraction are more romantic than men of English extraction. That claim has been made, so often by experts it's now common knowledge. Our Love and War man concurs. He says this does not necessarily mean the girl who marries an Irishman can expect to be happier than an Englishman's wife. Far more than the English husband, the Irish husband is apt to stray, he says.

GET IT RIGHT - Did I say the Alsatian was the most popular dog in the Kennel Club? That's in England. Contrary to previous report, coldest recorded temperature ever in Honolulu was 52 degrees F. in January of 1969.

IN GOOD LIGHT - It's reported, a falcon can spot a pigeon from two-thirds of a mile away. Interesting. It will make a blackbird dealer - if you'll forgive the flippancy - who claims to do, likewise. OF ALL THE DUMB allergies to come down with! Lately, a glass of beer tends to make me sneeze. Every time. It's sad. Very sad. IT HAS BEEN DETERMINED by the pollsters that 42 per cent of the husbands in the country help their wives clean house. That, too, is sad.

OPEN QUESTION - Why is it men get sunstroke so much more readily than do women?

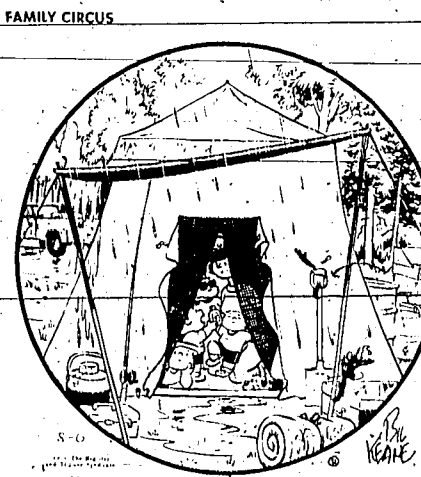

CUSTOM TAILORS - Around this country years ago used to practice a trade secret. Every time one of same made a man's suit, he'd stitch a white thread into a relatively hidden spot in the lining to indicate the suit was not yet paid for. And when the customer settled his bill, the tailor would take back the suit - the pretext of doing some minor repair to remove the white thread. The system worked like a national credit bureau among the tailors. First, think each did when a prospect showed up for a fitting was examine said prospect's old coat. If it still showed the white thread, the tailor accepted cash and nothing but.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "What's the food 'crop that covers the most earth surface?" A. Wheat, no doubt about it.

IF YOUR DOG turns up with a paw full of porcupine quills, stick said paw into a glass of vinegar. It will make those quills as soft as Chinese bean sprouts. Or so advises a customer. ... AS TO THAT QUESTION of whether all white horses are born black. Just heard from a Fairbanks, Alaska, expert who says no, most white horses are born black, but some arrive chestnut and others start off white.

RAPID REPLY - Yes, madam, if you wore a cross between a White Holland and an American Wild and a Broad-Breasted Bronze, you would be a Beltsville turkey, which is the very best kind.

CIVILIAN BUSES carry Cambodian army troops into action near Kirirom, Cambodia. Use of the buses has posed problems for the troops on occasion, such as last week's abortive drive against enemy forces which was stalled for a day when the bus leading the convoy became mired in a mudhole. (UPI)

Enemy Attacks Airstrip

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops today opened fire with mortars on a U.S. airstrip supplying an Allied offensive along the Laotian border, forcing a temporary shutdown in air traffic.

Mortar rounds arched from nearby jungles into the airstrip at Kham Duc, 52 miles southwest of Da Nang and 13 miles from Laos, and small arms fire struck one C-123 cargo plane as it landed. There were no reports of casualties.

Air Force officers halted flights to the forward base for several hours.

Kham Duc is a former U.S. Green Beret base overrun by North Vietnamese troops in 1968 and reopened July 12 as a base camp for a 10,000-man Allied campaign against Communist base camps in the mountains along the Laotian border.

North Vietnamese commandos assaulted the base Wednesday, killing two Americans and wounding 14. Communist ground fire shot down a U.S. Army helicopter in the same area. There were no casualties in the crash.

The bombardment of the field at Kham Duc began as the C-123 ferocious transports were landing to unload ammunition.

American B-52 bombers joined the Laotian border operation, flying three missions along the frontier southwest of the demilitarized zone (DMZ) and dropping up to 270 tons of bombs.

Military sources in Saigon said today any new round of major Communist attacks in South Vietnam may come the first week in September to coincide with the North Vietnamese independence day and the first anniversary of the death of President Ho Chi Minh.

The U.S. command in Saigon reported today American troops suffered their heaviest casualties last week since ending their two-month Cambodian campaign June 30-70. GIs killed and 650 wounded.

Field reports from Phnom Penh told of the capture of the Cambodian district center of Prey Pating near Skoun, where government troops backed by U.S. planes battled Communist forces for the sixth day.

CBS PRESIDENT Frank Stanton says he will not grant the Republican National Committee a time to respond to a Democratic program unless ordered by the government to do so. Stanton made the statement before the Senate Communications Committee. (UPI)

Safe Streets Funds 'Wasted'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department agency which administers the 1968 Safe Streets Act has squandered its money in low crime areas with undue emphasis on police hardware, the National Urban Coalition charged today.

It was the second straight year that the independent organization had examined and found deficient the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA).

Heavy emphasis on police expenditures such as communications equipment, anti-riot gas masks and sheriff's uniforms "could cause a serious dislocation in the entire system of criminal justice," the coalition said.

Its findings were based on a survey of 12 states. It blamed public apathy, the Justice Department and the states for the lack of success so far in the program.

LEAA was created in 1968 and originally funded at $63 million. Its budget went to $268 million in the current year and is set at $480 million to $1 billion in fiscal 1971.

The coalition objected to the "unnecessary additional layer of bureaucracy" created by state and regional planning agencies to administer the federal aid.

The coalition complained that in Florida, New York, New Jersey, Texas and Illinois too much money was allocated to police functions at the expense of corrections and the courts.

In Pennsylvania, it said the state divided into eight regions, each with an executive director earning from $12,675 to $16,978 in federal funds.

In one rural area of Ohio near Marietta, the coalition said there were plans to spend $20,000 for patrol cars, guns, sheriff's uniforms, gas masks and other riot control equipment.

Troops Gas Mobs

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—British troops, reporting they were fired on, struck back early today with barrages of noxious gas and quelled rioting demonstrations by Roman Catholics in Londonderry.

Explosions shook parts of Belfast and Armagh in the seventh successive night of violence in Northern Ireland. An army spokesman said nine persons were arrested in Londonderry.

A Roman Catholic civil rights organization accused the commander of British troops in Northern Ireland of panicking and said he was unfit for the job.

The Rev. Ian Paisley, a Protestant militant, said he would stage a march today to demand that the provincial Parliament make an effort to stop the Belfast riots. The Northern Ireland government has banned parades.

The army said Londonderry demonstrators threw three gasoline bombs at the soldiers. In Belfast, an explosive device was flung at a joint army and police patrol but caused no casualties.

Spokesmen said the army fired 73 noxious gas grenades at the crowd in Londonderry.

Hardin Urges Quick Passage Of $55,000 Top Farm Checks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin called today for quick Senate approval of a House-passed farm bill that includes a $55,000 per crop lid on government payments to big producers of cotton, wheat and feed grains. Some such producers now get $1 million and more annually.

In the House, which passed the bill Wednesday night by a surprisingly wide 212 to 171 margin after beating back attempts to set the payment ceiling at $20,000 per crop, there were promises of new campaigns later for a $20,000 limit.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., sponsor of the $20,000 limit amendment which lost by a nonrecord vote, predicted the Senate would adopt the administration-backed $50,000 figure and called it "a gain."

At present, there is no limit on farm payments. Five big farms in 1969 got payments of $1 million or more, and one California farm collected over $4 million.

Mercury Suit Succeeds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government won its first victory against mercury pollution Wednesday when the Oxford Paper Co. division of Ethyl Corp. agreed to close a plant on the Androscoggin River at Rumford, Maine.

Oxford was one of 10 plants owned by eight companies that the Interior Department asked the Justice Department to sue for discharging poisonous mercury into public waters in seven states. The suits were authorized July 24.

The Justice Department Wednesday distributed a copy of a federal court order in which Ethyl agreed to permanently cease operations at a chlorine-producing plant at Rumford by Aug. 15.

The plant is one of several operated by Oxford at Rumford. It had been listed as the third greatest mercury polluter of the 10 plants cited in individual civil suits brought by the government. Others were located in the states of Washington, New York, Georgia, Delaware, Alabama, and Kentucky.

ABC Slates Youth Programs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Broadcasting Co. (ABC) announced major changes in programming and structure of its seven wholly owned FM radio stations Wednesday to appeal to the booming youth market.

Harold L. Neal Jr., president of ABC network-owned radio stations, said at a news conference the stations would be run by a new corporate division headed by a 27-year-old former disc jockey.

New programming to make the stations more "relevant" to the young will include two-hour locally produced morning talk shows on which listeners can air their comments by telephone and commentary, news and public affairs broadcasts and interviews by entertainers and interviewers.

The stations also will greatly expand their "progressive rock" magic fare and seek new radio personalities, Neal said.

Senate Leaders Urge Shorter Court Vacation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate leaders Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott Wednesday urged the Supreme Court to abandon its annual three-month vacation.

Mansfield said there was no justification for such a long recess. Scott agreed that the court has "fallen on lackadaisical ways."

The remarks by the Senate leaders were prompted by Sen. John C. Stennis' plea that the court reconvene before school starts to handle desegregation decisions.

Stennis said: "In the interest of fairness to the South and the entire country, the Department of Justice should select a mature and appropriate case or cases to be heard by the court, and make a strong plea for the Supreme Court to reconvene before October and before the next school session begins and decide the issues."

The Mississippi senator said if the court does not reconvene until October—after schools reopen—the school people in the South will again be left holding the bag.

Mansfield said he has long wondered "why the Supreme Court has to 'flake off' three months of the year." He said the executive and legislative branches do not enjoy such long holidays.

Guerrillas May Stir Peace Pot

By United Press International Israeli officials said today they expect Arab guerrillas to increase their attacks from Lebanon and Jordan in an attempt to undermine the cease-fire being arranged under the U.S. plan for bringing peace to the Middle East.

Military sources in Tel Aviv pointed to a mounting number of guerrilla patrols into Israel and the heavy shelling of Metulla on the Lebanese frontier Tuesday night as evidence of the increasing guerrilla threat to a truce. Five were wounded at Metulla.

The guerrillas and their supporters, Iraq and Syria, have refused to go along with Egypt's and Jordan's acceptance of the U.S. plan for stopping the shooting and starting talks.

"If they act," Israeli Maj. Gen. Yeshayahu Givish told newsmen recently, "the Israeli army will go into action beyond the borders, thus rendering the cease-fire ineffective."

Fighting was reported Wednesday in Jordan between members of two Arab guerrilla organizations—the Action organization and the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine—over the U.S. peace plan. Sources said each suffered casualties.

Nixon administration officials in Washington were reporting progress in efforts to work out a "self-enforcing" Arab-Israeli truce whereby both sides would police the standstill in good faith without having to involve U.N. forces.

Focal Point

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 44-story white marble building in New York City's Columbus Circle serves as one of the most famous markers for measuring distances to places around the world.

The new Gulf & Western Building stands on the spot on Manhattan known as "Ground Zero"—the point from which distances to and from New York City are officially measured.

U. S. Grand Jury Slates Kent Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said Wednesday he had learned that a federal grand jury will investigate the killing of four Kent State University students, and he predicted that several Ohio National Guard troops would be indicted for murder.

Young, in a news conference, said the grand jury would be convened, "probably during the first week of October." He said a team of top Justice Department lawyers would join U.S. Attorney Robert B. Krupansky in the inquiry.

The senior senator from Ohio told newsmen an unidentified federal official had read "extracts" of the FBI report on the killings May 4 to him on the telephone. He said the report confirmed his earlier received reports that guardsmen acted illegally.

"There is probable cause that some officers of the National Guard and National Guardsmen will be indicted for murder in the second degree," he said.

Young said that contrary to reports of injuries to guardsmen during the confrontations with anti-war demonstrators on the Kent campus, "not one U.S., Spain Reach Accord On Air Bases"

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and Spain signed an agreement today extending American aid and military base rights on Spanish territory.

The agreement was signed by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Spanish Foreign Minister Gregorio Lopez Bravo, despite the protests of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had said the executive agreement was being signed with too much haste. He said there had been insufficient time for public discussion, "if not specific senate approval in terms of a treaty."

The agreement renews U.S. rights to use the Torrejon and Zaragoza air bases and a Polish submarine base at Rota for five years in return for large-scale American military and economic aid that has been reported to amount to about $400 million.

Douglas Reveals Income

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has voluntarily filed a financial statement showing he made $20,508.19 for outside writing and lecturing during the first six months of 1970, court records showed Wednesday.

Douglas, whose activities are under investigation by the House Judiciary Committee, was the seventh member of the court to file a statement on his finances although the Supreme Court justices are not required to do so.

Douglas reported he is still a director, without pay, of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions located at Santa Barbara, Calif.

His role in this organization was the basis of one of the charges made against him by House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford when he raised the impeachment issue last April.

Sex Ed Ok'd for Schools

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—New Jersey school districts, prohibited for the past year from conducting sex education classes, have been given the green light to resume them this fall.

The year-long moratorium on the programs was lifted by the state education department, it was announced Wednesday.

The ban had been in effect while a legislative committee studied the subject. Its report was issued last April. Carl L. Marburger, New Jersey education commissioner, told the local districts by letter that he still opposed excusing pupils from sex education classes on the request of their parents.

This practice was a key recommendation of the joint education committee when it issued its report.

Marburger said letting pupils leave these classes could "establish a precedent which could have a far-reaching impact on the efficiency of such a precedent. . . could open the door for demands for exclusion, on grounds of conscience, from such courses as health and physical education, biology, history and even English literature."

The thrust of the committee's report was to excuse individuals from attending sex education classes, while saying that sex education classes should not be conducted below the junior high school level.

Prices Up

DETROIT (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday that tentative prices of its 1971 models are being set 5 per cent above 1970 cars and its compact Maverick will get a 6-per-cent price boost.

The increases, which would total more than $125 a car when models go on sale this fall, was announced in a letter to dealers. The company also said it no longer will offer an optional five-year, 50,000-mile power train warranty in 1971. The warranty had been available for $15 extra on 1970 cars.

It was the second indication this week that substantial price increases may be expected in 1971 models.

9 Awarded Posthumous U.S. Medals of Honor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nine U.S. servicemen killed in Vietnam have been cited to receive posthumously today the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military award.

Five of the recipients throw themselves on enemy grenades or satchel charges to protect comrades.

President Nixon arranged to present the awards to relatives of the servicemen in White House ceremonies at 3 p. m. EDT.

Four of the medal winners were killed when they threw themselves on enemy grenades. The were Army 1st Lt. Gary L. Miller, 23, Covington, Va.; Army 1st Lt. John E. Warren Jr., 23, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Army

Spec. 4 Robert D. Law, 25, Ft. Worth, Tex., and Army Sgt. William D. Port, 28, Petersburg, Pa.

Army S. Sgt. Robert W. Hartsock, 25, Cumberland, Md., was cited for throwing himself on a satchel charge dropped by a wounded Communist soldier.

Army Spec. 4 Thomas J. McMahon, 22, Lewiston, Maine, was named for running through hostile fire to rescue two wounded Americans. He was mortally wounded as he ran back to get a third.

Air Force Lt. Col. William A. Jones III, 40, Charlottesville, Va., exposed his plane to ground fire to search for a fellow pilot whose plane had been downed by the same ground fire. Jones' plane was badly shot up and while mortally wounded, flew the craft back to his base and gave information on the location of the other pilot while he was on the operating table. He died later.

Marine Cpl. William D. Morgan, 23, Mount Lebanon, Pa., was cited for diverting rifle fire to himself while fellow Marines rescued two others lying wounded and exposed to fire.

Lance Cpl. Jose P. Jimenez, 24, Elley, Ariz., was killed after he destroyed several Communist troops and silenced an anti-aircraft weapon.

Hickel Assures Solon on Western Oil Shale Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., said Wednesday Interior Secretary Walter Hickel has assured him momentum has built back up for an oil shale development policy before long.

The work that is now in progress by the states of Wyoming, Utah and Colorado will provide the basis for a comprehensive environmental statement that should satisfy all rational critics of this program," Hickel told Hansen in a letter.

The Interior Department was on the verge of establishing a policy to allow some leasing of oil shale lands, but held it back because of fears the environmental aspects were not protected adequately.

The three states having the overwhelming bulk of oil shale potential—estimated in the trillions of barrels of oil—are Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming. They have been working on the environmental questions, Hickel said.

"Our analysis of the future indicates that shale oil may well be required in the 1980s to help satisfy part of this nation's enormous appetite for liquid fuels. For these reasons, we are moving forward to develop the crucial environmental information," Hickel said.

Wyoming has already made an informal analysis of the geologic look of the potential sites in Wyoming, Hickel said. A Wyoming task force is headed by John Goodler.

A research program at the Bureau of Mines energy research center in Laramie will bring data applicable to all three states, he said.

The interior secretary said one promising technique for "retorting" or processing oil shale to draw out the oil is to heat the oil shale right in its location in the ground.

Work to perfect that system is underway, Hickel said.

Conversation?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Maximo G. Jones was jailed six months ago for a drug violation on the basis of testimony from a policeman who said he held a conversation with him.

Jones was released from jail Wednesday when it was pointed out he was a deaf mute and could make only unintelligible guttural sounds. Brooklyn District Attorney Eugene Gold pledged to open a grand jury investigation into the matter.

Supreme Court Justice Thomas R. Jones dismissed the charge against Julia on a motion by Gold, who called the mute's indictment and conviction March 2 a "miscarriage of justice."

The district attorney said an unidentified undercover policeman told a grand jury that he had talked to Julia while haggling over the price of two bags of heroin. The policeman said he bought for $12.

Gold said the policeman had to be lying because Julia was "unable to engage in conversation except for single guttural sounding words which are unintelligible to anyone but a trained therapist." Gold said the grand jury was unaware at the time that Julia was a deaf mute.
