Killer Gas Loaded

SOUTHPORT, N.C. (UPI)—An old Liberty ship took aboard a deadly cargo of nerve gas today and officials said as quickly as the vessel is ready for sea, the port of Wilmington and ship channels in the lower Cape Fear River will be closed. Clearing weather speeded the loading of the vessel, and Rear Adm. E.A. Allen Jr., commander of the Fifth Coast Guard District, issued an order declaring the area a "security zone," closed to shipping Friday through Monday, Aug. 14-17.

NERVE GAS ROCKETS which the army says are beginning to leak are loaded aboard the LeBaron Russell Brigs, a rusting Liberty ship, in Sunny Point, N. C. The army plans to scuttle the ship about 283 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla. despite outbreaks that the pressure could rupture the rockets, poisoning aquatic life and possibly endangering coastal residents. (UPI)

Truce Hides Rocket Move

By United Press International—Israel Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said today Israel has informed the United States it regards the movement of Soviet anti-aircraft missiles closer to the Suez Canal as a violation of the Middle East cease-fire. He demanded removal of the weapons. Dayan addressed a meeting of the Israeli Parliament in Jerusalem a few hours after the Israeli State Radio said Soviet SAM2 and SAM3 missiles had been moved toward the canal a short time after the Suez cease-fire went into effect last Friday.

When we learned of the violation we turned to the United States and informed it of the facts of the violation and demanded the situation be restored and the SAM batteries be returned to their previous positions," Dayan said. "This is the stage we are now in—discussions between us and the United States government on the basis of our demands to return the batteries to their previous sites."

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Israel may review its acceptance of the three-month cease-fire which started last Friday and hold up announcement of its representative to peace talks with Arab officials under U.N. auspices. The Israeli State Radio said Wednesday night Egyptian and Russian forces moved "a number" of SAM2 and SAM3 rockets to points 13 to 10 miles from the Suez Canal only hours after the cease-fire went into effect at 6 p.m. EDT last Friday.

In Washington, the State Department said it was looking into the matter. The cease-fire terms, agreed to by Egypt and Israel, said neither side would strengthen military positions along the Suez Canal for three months. There have been hopes that peace talks could begin at U.N. headquarters in New York early next week.

Anti-ABM Vote Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fearful of undermining the Soviet-American arms control talks, the Senate rejected a move to speed expansion of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system by a 52-47 vote Wednesday. Liberal ABM opponents vowed to try again.

Moments before the crucial vote, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., walked through the aisles holding a slip of paper labeled "top secret" before several of his colleagues. Although Jackson, a Safeguard supporter, refused to identify the document afterwards, it was believed to have been a letter from Gerard C. Smith, chief U.S. negotiator at the arms control talks in Vienna, defending the ABM as a valuable bargaining tool.

Then, by a five-vote margin that surprised ABM foes, the Senate defeated a proposal by Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., to restrict ABM deployment to the two sites in Montana and North Dakota that were authorized last year. Safeguard opponents immediately rallied behind an amendment by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., that, unlike the Cooper-Hart proposal, would grant the President's full $1,350,000,000 ABM money request but would forbid use of the funds to expand to additional sites. Brooke predicted he would retain the 47 votes for the Cooper-Hart amendment when his proposal reaches a vote, probably next week, and pick up three more senators for a majority.

But Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., the Safeguard floor manager, said he believed the anti-ABM bloc had "peaked" with Wednesday's showdown. The White House said President Nixon "welcomes today's constructive actions and feels they were a strong movement for our national security and efforts related to it." The Senate also rejected, 62 to 33, a move by Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, to prevent Safeguard deployment anywhere. Hughes claimed the savings would equal the above budget amounts for housing and education in two bills that Nixon vetoed on Tuesday.

ABM SUPPORTER Sen. John C. Stennis argued Wednesday the proposed extension of the ABM system is the only defense the U.S. has against Soviet nuclear blackmail. His pro-ABM forces bent back a Senate move to cut the program's expansion. (UPI)

Airline Ransom Followed Script

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Western Airlines paid history's first $25,000 ransom for an airborne jet in an extortion plot remarkably similar to the television motion picture "Doomsday Flight." After the plane from Alaska landed without incident, a Western executive said Wednesday the firm had been threatened via telephone by a man who said there was a pressure-sensitive bomb aboard flight 722 from Anchorage to Seattle.

The extortionist declared that in return for the cash in small bills he would reveal the bomb's location and tell means of disarming it, said Roy Silivius, the line's vice president for public relations. Otherwise, the caller warned the bomb would explode when the plane descended to less than 10,000 feet.

In "Doomsday Flight," a make-believe extortionist said a bomb would detonate aboard a plane when it reached less than 4,000 feet. In the picture, the plane landed at Denver Airport, which is 5,000 feet above sea level. The real-life flight, a Boeing 720, put down safely at a deserted part of the Seattle Airport because no bomb could be found and the extortionist failed to telephone again after the cash was delivered by a bank messenger on an Anchorage street. Although the extortionist placed three calls before receiving the $25,000, he did not call again. "When it became apparent to us and the FBI that we weren't going to get another call, we decided we would bring the plane on in," Silivius said.

Guerrillas Eye Exile Regime

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Palestinian guerrilla sources said Wednesday that guerrilla groups may form a government in exile in protest over Egypt and Jordan's acceptance of the American peace plan for the Middle East. The sources said the idea would be discussed at a meeting of the National Council, the highest policy making body representing 2.5 million Palestinians, expected to convene Aug. 27 in either Amman or Baghdad, Iraq.

Doctor Pooh-Poohs School Drug Panic

By LIZ BOLTON
Times-News Correspondent

SUN VALLEY — Idaho educators were told Wednesday there is no reason to panic over rising drug use in schools. Dr. Alan Matzger, medical chief of the Haight-Asbury Medical Clinic in San Francisco, told the school officials. "There is no basis for the fear and hysteria plaguing the nation today about the drug scene." He said the appeal of drugs to today's youth is about the same as that of alcohol. Instead of hysteria, he said, concern is needed. One of the myths, he said, is that drugs are infinitely alluring. "To the contrary," he said, many do not enjoy the drug experience if they have something better to do and are made to feel an important part of society.

"Today the beer bust has become socially accepted," he said. "But when a youngster tries marijuana he is automatically rated psychologically sick and is supposedly setting himself up for a felony conviction, although marijuana has no more effect than alcohol." Another myth surrounding the modern drug scene, he said, is the supposition that "it can't happen here" just because the area is away from major sources of supply. Marijuana is available anywhere, he said. "When a user finds that society has lied about the effects of marijuana, he moves on to LSD or other similar drugs and then to uppers, downers and heroin." He termed drug education virtually worthless. He said there are three types of individuals—those who are "drug naive," for whom the education may tend to quicken an interest in drugs; those who are occasional users, ready to pick up on the smallest untruth in the education, and the compulsive users, for whom no amount of education or consultation will have any effect. A solution to the problem, he said, may be having society listen to and trust young people, providing them with an important role in society.

Murder, Rape Rates Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The FBI says Americans murdered, raped and attacked each other at an increasing rate during the past decade, but Attorney General John N. Mitchell said the rate of increase slowed during President Nixon's first year in office. "In 1969, the number of serious crimes in the United States increased by 12 per cent over 1968, as compared to a 17 per cent increase in 1968 over 1967," Mitchell said in a statement accompanying the FBI's Uniform Crime Report. Mitchell said the FBI report showed the crime increase "slowed down substantially in 1969," Nixon's first year in office.

The FBI report, based on crimes reported to police, showed: Serious crime increased 148 per cent in the decade of the 1960s. Property crimes were up 151 per cent and crimes of violence rose 130 per cent. In 1969, 5 million serious crimes were reported, 655,000 of them violent crimes such as murder, rape, robbery and assault—an increase of 11 per cent. An additional 43 million crimes involved property such as auto theft, burglary and larceny of more than $50.

Serious crimes in big cities increased only 9 per cent in 1969, compared with 18 per cent the year before. But crime in the suburbs increased by 13 per cent. Total property loss was $2 billion in 1969, not counting the 47 per cent of stolen property recovered by police. The police rate of solving crimes fell 4 per cent for a 10-year decrease of 34 per cent. Nearly 17 of every 100 law enforcement officers were assaulted on duty during 1969, and a total of 85 were murdered, most by firearms. During the decade, 581 policemen were murdered on duty. Firearms were used in 59 per cent of murders last year, 63 per cent of armed robberies and 24 per cent of aggravated assaults.

An estimated 14,500 murders were committed in 1969, most of them committed by relatives or acquaintances of the victim. About one-fourth were committed within the family. The report said, "criminal homicide is, to a major extent, a national social problem beyond police prevention."

$10,000 Fee 'Too High'

TWIN FALLS — District Judge Theron W. Ward today shrugged off criticism by Idaho Attorney General Robert M. Robson that defense attorney fees by authorized in Fifth Judicial District Court were too high in a Jerome County case. Judge Ward said to his knowledge, neither side in the issue had called on the attorney general to testify as an expert on what would be a reasonable fee. Robson Wednesday said he felt the Idaho Supreme Court should set uniform fees to be paid court-appointed defense attorneys throughout the state. He said there is a wide divergence in what district judges allow attorneys, ranging from nothing to several thousand dollars. Robson said the Twin Falls judge allowed $10,000 to the defense firm of May, May and Bennett, Twin Falls, for their work in defending Michael Dillon of Jerome on a murder charge. The court authorized the firm another $10,000, he said, to appeal the case to the state supreme court. Jerome County Commissioners consider this excessive and so do I," Robson said. The attorney general said he thought perhaps the district judge authorized the payment in belief the state, not the Jerome County officials, would have to pick up the tab. Judge Ward said he had no idea where the attorney general picked up this idea. County Commissioners in Jerome agreed to pay the $10,000 claim after the court ordered the payment.

Dangling Thieves Nabbed

NEW YORK (UPI)—A gang of acrobatic burglars who swung on ropes from building to building during a $1 million series of jewel thefts was stopped in the act Wednesday night by police using an electronic device developed for night fighting in Vietnam. Police captured one man and recovered $240,000 worth of rings stolen from the offices of the Botell Ring Co., Inc., on Lower Broadway. They cordoned off a square block around the building in an unsuccessful attempt to trap four other men who fled. "They were fantastic, real professionals, like something out of the movies," said Sgt. Thomas Connolly of the Police Safe and Loft Squad. Police blamed the gang for about 40 burglary attempts on New York City jewelry dealers. James L. White, executive secretary of the Jewelers Security Alliance, estimated they had taken "in excess of $1 million" in jewels this year. Connolly said the gang always followed the same pattern. "They pick top floor offices," he said. "They either hide in the building or break in and chain the doors shut behind them. After they take an elevator to the floor they want, they throw off all power. They know all the alarms are going but they figure they can beat them. After they get into the vault, they don't try to go back down inside," he said. "They head for the roof and use ropes to get to other buildings. Usually while we are running up the inside they are passing us going outside." Wednesday night was different, however, because police were patrolling the area of darkened office buildings where a number of jewelers have offices. And they were equipped with the owl eye night viewing system which, developed for use in Vietnam, magnifies available light more than 10 times.

Negro Deaths

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The percentage of black war deaths in Vietnam declined the first three months of this year even though the percentage serving there remained about steady, according to latest Pentagon figures. It was the first time in nine years the percentage of Negro deaths dropped below the percentage of black war in Vietnam, and the lowest since the U.S. involvement started. During the same three-month period in 1970, the Defense Department said, the number of black servicemen stationed throughout the world in the U.S. armed forces dropped 1 per cent.

THIS SNOW GOOSE at Johnson's Memorial Park was a little coy when the photographer tried to take its picture. The birdman tried a strategy, returning but leaving a camera there awaiting the goose's curiosity. The goose soon approached, either to have its picture taken or to see the photographer in the lens. Weather Synopsis

A cold front passed through the Boise area Thursday morning and was scheduled to move to the Magic Valley area by mid-afternoon and pass through extreme southeastern Idaho Friday morning. The air is rather dry along the front and the only expected effect over Southwestern Idaho and Eastern Oregon will be a definite cooling trend and gusty surface winds. High temperatures this afternoon will be about 10 degrees below Wednesday's reading. This means highs in the low 90s, rather than the near or slightly above 100 degree marks which were reached yesterday.

As the front moves eastward it will pick up a little moisture from the south—and a few showers or thundershowers are expected to develop late this afternoon and evening over Southeastern Idaho. Southeastern Idaho also will continue on the warm side today, with highs generally in the 90s to 100 range in the valleys. A cooling trend will set in Friday.

Lows this morning are in the 50s.

No rainfall was recorded at reporting stations during the last 24 hours.

Westerly winds at speeds of 15 to 25 miles per hour behind this cold front today will make spraying and dusting not advisable. It will be a sunny day over Southwestern Idaho and East Central Oregon and mostly sunny this morning over Southeastern Idaho, with some afternoon—and evening cloudiness and a few thundershowers.

Fund OK'd To Rescue Antiquities

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Orval Hansen said today that the National Park Service has agreed to provide funds for the rescue of antiquities from the Dworshak Reservoir.

In making the announcement, the Idaho Congressman paid tribute to Idaho State University Museum Director Earl Swanson for being "the first to call public attention to the existence of the valuable antiquities and the urgent need to preserve them."

"Swanson's strong and persistent efforts to save these important relics, and his leadership in other preservation efforts in Idaho are deserving of sincere gratitude," Hansen said.

Hansen said that the National Park Service will release $20,000 for the Dworshak project this year out of a total of $41,000 needed to complete the job before the Army Corps of Engineers fills the reservoir late in the summer of 1971.

T.F. Landlubbers Take Navy Cruise

A summer sea cruise is a lot of fun, especially aboard a Navy supply ship, according to Joe Hackney of Twin Falls.

Hackney and Bill Hoops recently took a cruise aboard the U.S.S. Vega, a refrigerated supply ship, from Seattle to San Francisco, with three other businessmen, including two from Ontario, Ore., and one from Seattle.

The Navy is sponsoring the trips for businessmen as a public-relations gesture; Hackney said. Others from Twin Falls who enjoyed a cruise included Bill Herrett, Warren Barry and L. James Koutnik, who traveled from Portland to San Diego in June aboard a submarine tender.

The Vega cruise took only three days, Hackney said, but it was "a lot of fun. We had the run of the ship and the Navy men were glad to welcome us aboard."

Other than a spot or two of fog off the coast, the weather was perfect for the voyage, and no rough water was encountered, Hackney said.

The Vega carries about 250 Navy men, supplying Navy vessels with refrigerated foods. The vessel will head for Vietnam in the near future.

Research Reported On Erotica

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A steady diet of such erotic material as stag films soon bored healthy college males but increased sexual activity by married couples, researchers reported Tuesday.

Their findings, resulting from separate experiments conducted for the President's Commission on Obscenity and Pornography, were relayed to a House Post Office subcommittee.

The President's commission was created two-and-a-half years ago by Congress to study the effects of pornography and recommend what if any changes in the law were necessary.

Scouts Cancel Plans

TWIN FALLS — The first summer camp for Boy Scouts afflicted with deafness or severe visual handicaps has been cancelled by the Snake River Area Council, according to Darl Glead, Scout executive.

Glead said that late planning and budgetary problems of institutions planning to send Scouts trimmed scheduled attendance to just two area troops. Scout officials felt that not enough Scouts would benefit from the special camp.

The camp had been planned for the last week of August at Camp Bradley in the Stanley Basin.

Glead said plans will be made farther in advance next summer, and it is hoped the deaf camp can be held on schedule.

VISITING AMERICA THROUGH a student exchange program is Stephen Thompson, right, of Penrith, New South Wales, Australia. Stephen is living with the James A. Sinclair family and is the same age as son, Walt, left.

Quartet Will Sing At Concert

The famed "Magichords," a barbershop quartet directed by Burt Huish, will entertain during the intermission of the band concert which begins at 8:15 p. m. today in the Twin Falls City Park.

The band program includes "Brighton Beach Concert March," by Latham; "Little Norwegian Suite," by Erik Hansen; a selection from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata"; "Variation Overture" by Clifton Williams; "American Folk Rhapsody" by Grundman, and, before the intermission, "America the Glorious March" by Kleffman.

Following the interlude, the band will present an arrangement of "Dixie" by Jimmy Carroll; "Port-au-Prince" by Bernib Wayne; a selection from "The Sound of Music" and the "Imperial March" by Karl L. King.

"The Star Spangled Banner" will conclude the program. Del Slaughter will direct.

Australian Exchange Student Set for Year in Twin Falls

Stephen Thompson, of Australia, accustomed to seeing uniformed students, will be shocked as he watches Twin Falls High School girls in pants suits and boys wearing long hair and mustaches, parade into his classes this fall.

Stephen is from Penrith, New South Wales, and is one of 100 Australian students attending the 1970-71 school year in American schools, as part of the American Field Service Program for exchange students.

Among his first impressions of America, the "big cars" the "hospitable" people and the "greenery" in Idaho amazed him. Stephen said he would like to learn more about Idaho's irrigation system, since a majority of Australian land is barren.

According to Stephen, in Australia "if anything moves, shoot it, and if it doesn't move, you chop it down."

Stephen said Australians have recently been bitten by many outdoorsmen have turned in their picnic baskets and guns for a remote control unit.

Residing at 262 Lincoln St. with the James A. Sinclair family, Stephen will be learning to adapt himself to the American culture.

Until October, he will keep himself busy studying for pre-college exams, since he does plan to attend the University of Australia after graduation and major in economics and law.

He considers himself a "diplomat" to the United States and quotes the AFS motto when explaining his mission: "Walk together, talk together, all ye peoples of the world, then and only then shall ye have peace."

Boy Hurt When Car Hits Car

HANSEN — Thomas P. Holmes, 4, was thrown from a car driven by his mother, Mary Lou Holmes, 29, Hansen, when it rolled over Wednesday 3.7 miles south of Hansen on a county road, state police report.

Thomas was taken to Dr. Vaughn Pond's office in Twin Falls and was treated for minor injuries.

The vehicle was westbound on a gravel road when Mrs. Holmes applied her brakes and went into a skid. The car skidded off the road and up the side of a canal embankment, then rolled over back into the road on its top.

Hit by Car

TWIN FALLS — Clarence Edward Hood, 47, Twin Falls, was treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Tuesday after being struck by a car as he crossed Addison Avenue West, police report.

Police said Michael Ray Stokeberry, 18, Piler, the driver of the vehicle, apparently had not noticed Hood crossing as he made a turn from Blake Street into the westbound lane of traffic on Addison West.

Jury Finds Man Guilty Of Perjury

James B. O'Dell, Filer, was found guilty of perjury Wednesday after a three-day trial in Fifth District Court.

The charge arose from testimony given in an appeal on the conviction of Delbert Crawford, Jerome, for displaying a deadly weapon.

Crawford also was found guilty for perjury and was found guilty by another jury last Wednesday.

Judge Cunningham will sentence the defendant Monday afternoon.

Stolen Goods Count Dropped

A charge of receiving stolen goods, made against Kenneth Wills, Twin Falls, was dismissed Wednesday by Fifth District Judge Theron Ward.

A motion to drop charges based on a lack of evidence was made by Prosecuting Attorney Robert Gailey.

Wills was arrested Dec. 15 for knowingly receiving a stolen 1958 Ford Panel Truck.

Finish Course

POCATELLO — Manuel C. Solis of Twin Falls, one of three area youths who recently completed the first cement-finishing skills class in Idaho at Idaho State University, achieved a final grade of "A" and will receive an honorary trowel as an award.

Also attending the class were Paul W. Felix and Martin P. Martinez, also of Twin Falls.

TWIN FALLS — A transistor radio, valued at $30, by the owner, was taken from the entryway in a local cafe, police report.

The radio was in a plastic over-night case and had been left on a shelf over coat hangers.

Politics, As Usual, In Douglas Probe

WASHINGTON — As a taxpayer citizen who clings to the present due process...

coming up in November, the untidy maneuvering probably was inevitable...

The subcommittee's report was not made available until after voters have gone to the polls...

Force Against Smoking

A three-year study of 28,724 pupils in 62 Illinois junior and senior high schools indicates that the percentage of students who smoke has probably increased in the last 10 years.

Yet the director of the research project, Prof. William H. Creswell of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, believes that public opinion against smoking will grow and eventually influence more youngsters to quit.

Creswell, a member of the College of Physical Education at the university, conducted his research in public and parochial schools of Winnebago County, Ill., an area that includes farm communities and Rockford, Illinois' second-largest city.

Creswell began his project in 1966, using 13 graduate college students to help him. By keeping track of pupils who were often absent from school, he determined that they tend to smoke more than regular-attendance pupils.

Compared to other surveys in the last 10 years, Creswell also determined that more girls than ever before are smoking and are starting earlier. Seven per cent of seventh-grade girls admitted they smoked regularly.

There is a connection between the fact that absentee pupils smoke more and the fact that they are often not as socially or academically successful, Creswell found.

The professor also found that student-led discussion groups were more effective in influencing students to quit smoking than were mass media slogans.

It is disturbing to learn from his study that 29.2 per cent of senior class boys and 27.9 per cent of senior girls smoke regularly.

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH

Just as naturally, Waggoner and other House critics of Douglas are conducting independent investigations of the justice's background.

Both Waggoner and Ford also led the demand that the subcommittee hold public hearings, examine witnesses under oath and make public all pertinent documents.

Under the circumstances, perhaps it's just as well that Ford and Waggoner have employed personal stoops to give the subcommittee a hand in its gingersly chore.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Gout And Beer

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband had a kidney removed five years ago. He asked the doctor if beer would be harmful and the doctor said no.

However, my husband also has gout and I asked for a diet. One of the no-nos was alcoholic beverages.

My husband drinks six to seven bottles of beer a day plus the same number of brandies. He is having problems off and on with kidney stones moving or passing from his one remaining kidney.

A combination of ailments can force a compromise in the treatment, and this is an example of it. He needs plenty of fluid to keep the urine dilute and retard stone formation in his kidney.

True, beer provides a lot of fluid to "flush out" the kidney, but the flushing can be done just as effectively with non-alcoholic fluids.

Since he has gout, which involves excess uric acid, it is probable that his kidney stones are of the urate type. Stones often bother gout patients.

It is clear that he should take care of it — it's a more important consideration than his kidney.

My suggestions, therefore, would be:

Keep on putting plenty of fluid into the kidneys — but while I would see no harm in an occasional beer and an occasional brandy, it seems to me that he is very much overdoing it now.

Second — but perhaps his doctor already has considered this — would a change in gout medication reduce the number of kidney stones? I have reference to the drug allopurinol.

Large quantities of alcohol can trigger gout attacks even though they are not the basic cause of that disease. So cutting down his alcohol would help him in that regard, too.

I am reluctant to go so far as to say that he is "committing slow suicide," but it does seem to me that he is consuming quite a lot of alcohol, and his liver may begin to give way before his kidney does.

Dear Sir: My 15-year-old daughter has asked several times if I will permit her to wear tampons during the latter part of the menstrual period.

I said I would ask for professional information as there may be some reason for an unmarried girl to avoid using them. — Mrs. E.H.S.

I see no objection; one of the smaller-size ones is usually better.

'Disturbed Partner'

It would be good for all concerned if those senators and other public figures who at times extend their criticism of American foreign policy to world arenas thought a bit about the remarks made by Thailand's foreign minister Thanat Khoman in Bangkok at a dinner attended by a number of U.S. officials.

Thanat spoke of the confusing image Americans frequently project overseas, and said it was "difficult for those working closely and loyally with the United States to expect a well-reasoned and balanced reaction from their disturbed partner."

Thailand has been and remains one of this nation's staunchest allies in Asia and one of the few to provide troops for the Vietnam war. As a former ambassador to the U.S., Thanat's words came from a friend.

He is confused by men who first criticized the lack of Asia's responsiveness to its own defenses, but now criticize the Thais for sending troops to help defend South Vietnam on the grounds the U.S. is paying most of the bill.

Criticism of U.S. foreign policy within the free institutions of this nation is good, but those who engage in it have the responsibility for making it clear to friend and foe alike that the conduct of that policy rests with the President and the State Department.

Who Really Owns Railroad?

WASHINGTON — It will take at least a year, and possibly longer, to ferret out the real owners of the insolvent Penn Central Railroad.

That's what George Stafford, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has told the Senate Subcommittee on Surface Transportation that is investigating the huge bankruptcy.

The ICC has no idea who the "actual owners" of Penn Central are, and so far has been unable to produce the information.

A commission examination of the giant railroad's list of registered stockholders owning at least one per cent of the outstanding stock revealed 11 names — not one of them an individual. All are concerns of various kinds.

Of the 11 names, five are brokerage and other financial firms, two Swiss banks, and the others trustees of several railroads and other companies.

Stafford disclosed this in response to a series of questions from the Senate probers regarding Penn Central ownership. The ICC is in the process of uncovering that information, he reported, but it is proving a complicated and time-consuming job.

In a letter to Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., subcommittee chairman, Stafford wrote:

"We are now determining whether Penn Central has any additional information concerning the ownership of its stock. Once all the information obtainable from the company's records has been reviewed, we propose to correspond directly with brokerage houses and others in order to obtain the actual ownership of the stock."

"It should be pointed out that this is no simple undertaking and will require considerable time. If each of the brokerage houses or banks that hold stock for others should not be cooperative, it is possible that their records might have to be subpoenaed in order to obtain the information. At this time we cannot estimate how long it will take to finish this task. It will be carried out with dispatch, and we will keep you advised as to progress."

Committees characterize the 11 banks, brokerage houses and other concerns registered as owning at least one per cent of Penn Central stock as "front names" for the purpose of screening the real owners. Opinion was voiced these "hidden" owners may run into the hundreds.

The Swiss banks on the list are Credit Suisse and Societe de Banque Suisse, both with branches in New York.

PAUL HARVEY

Good News Today

Recently we talked about how pessimism begets pessimism and can cause physical illness and economic recession. A smile is contagious, also. Optimism begets optimism.

President Nixon has asked us of the news media to give more attention to what's right about our nation and its prospects. I'll send that notion.

In the news media we necessarily preoccupy ourselves with what's wrong. As the coach looking at the films of last week's game concentrates on mistakes, we hope to help our contemporaries recover their fumbles.

But constant preoccupation with what's wrong distorts the whole picture of our country and its prospects, tends to discourage young people. Little wonder some of them start looking around for some other land which is not always apologizing for itself.

So today we're going to examine the credit side of the ledger. Acknowledging the existence of a dead-end war, malignant inflation, increasing crime and erosion of our environment — Acknowledging that much is wrong and must be made right —

Let's count our blessings: We're not out of Indochina, but we are getting out. And in the infinitely more sensitive situation in the Middle East, prospects for peace are improved and improving.

Our economy is in recession but — it's upturning: Construction spending, after three months of decline, increased last month. Planned construction hit a two-year low this spring, but was up 9 per cent last month. Bankruptcy of the Penn

Central sobered speculators; they needed sobering. The stock market is a long way from its highs of recent years, but you and I know those bull market prices were maracollar than beer. The consolidation how under way is building a foundation for a responsible rally.

Profits have increased every month since April. Average family income in the United States now tops $9,450. Correspondingly, our nation's percentage of admittedly "poor" people continues to decline.

The hot summer most cities feared, most cities were spared: Lower draft calls will help ease student uncertainties this fall. Also there is an increasing awareness among responsible students that they've been "used" by some irresponsible mercenaries.

There may well be a strike by auto workers in September but a shutdown of car makers does not stagger our total economy as it did two decades ago. Last month there were fewer layoffs in industry and, a measurably increased demand for factory labor.

And frequently overlooked in the total outlook is the fact that Russia and Red China are less acutely menacing to our nation's security than any time in 25 years.

There is a real prospect of a meaningful and enforceable agreement with Russia on a strategic weapons standoff and mutual back-stopping.

Let's stop selling US — spooled US — short. Surely this has to be the only land in the world where people get together to complain about how bad things are over a $7 steak.

Postal Reform

Postal reform is on its way, but celebration of the occasion may be premature. The whole purpose behind the postal reform concept, it should be recalled, was to modernize management of the sprawling system so it could work its way out of the inefficiencies which have caused rising deficits and deteriorating service.

The compromise reform measure makes a start in that direction. The pseudo-independent corporate structure is a dramatic departure from the old, patronage-riddled system. Whether it works will depend largely upon the 11-man board of governors.

But not entirely. That is the rub. Congress also has provided for a five-man rates commission, empowered to act independently of the board. The commissioners, to be appointed by the President and not requiring congressional approval, will decide how much rates should be increased when increases are ordered by the board.

Only a unanimous vote by the board — a practical impossibility — can overturn the commission's rate schedules, except that the board can order "temporary" increases — not to exceed rates in effect by one-third — if the commission fails to respond in 90 days.

No corporate-oriented mind ever dreamed up such a pricing system. It has to be right-out-of-the-rule book on bureaucracy. Still, until it is tried no one can predict with certainty how it will work.

Which is one of the kinder sentiments being expressed about it at the moment.

Red Ink Blues

Things are so bad at the financially distraught Penn Central Railroad that it can't even pay for the red ink it's using so liberally on its ledgers.

According to the Wall Street

Journal, an office supply firm claims that Penn Central owes it $210 for supplies, including "a quantity of red-ink ballpoint pens purchased last December."

That's what's called bankruptcy.

Activities Limited for U.S. Tourist in Siberia

In a Russian hotel the "house detective" is the lady who sits at a desk by the elevator shaft on your floor and keeps the keys.

Key in hand, obtained via sign language, from the lady who guards the second or third floor, the American couple approach their first Siberian hotel room. What awaits the typical traveler on a Siberian tour? A room furnished like a ship's cabin, tiny, twin-bedded, with built-in furniture. Small oriental rugs are under each bed. Clean, comfortable, not fancy. Every room has a bath, but when the new tenant opens the door he is back 50 years! Intourist people have been so sensitized by American comments and complaints that nobody seems willing to solve the mystery of who designs and manufactures the Victorian plumbing—which is installed even in the Tourist Hotel in Bratsk opened in 1970.

Tourists must pay for souvenirs in Russian hotels, as Americans found out in a hurry. At Bratsk, the bus was already loaded when the front door opened. "Will the person who

TO SEE A COLLECTIVE FARM: Not on the schedule this trip.

TO VISIT A CHURCH OR SYNAGOGUE: In Bratsk, a special visit to a working Synagogue was arranged for the Jacob Browns of Cincinnati, and Martin Song of Seattle went along. Brown was able to converse in Yiddish with Russian members of the congregation.

SPECIAL INTERESTS: The Pulp and Paper Institute: Ron Richardson of Seattle, who carried introductions to English speaking scientists at the institute in Irkutsk which plans mills and installations throughout (except in Bratsk) and an interesting museum there. It took some doing, though.

TO SEE CHINA OR THE

GREAT WALL: Not a chance! Vindivostok and Komsomolok are also closed to Western tourists. Americans who tried to take a taxi from Khabarovsk to the Chinese border saw a few kilometers of country roads. You can't see the Great Wall from a jet plane.

TO VISIT A BEAUTY OR BARBER SHOP: From necessity after a trip through the aluminum plant, Mrs. Delbert Hoskins of Miami entered the four-operator shop in the Irkutsk hotel for a hair-do. Her report: "I was cooked!" Metal curlers and no heat control on the drier meant she was out in half an hour, after observing Russian girls getting elaborate hair jobs with hair pieces, braidings, and manicurists at a long table where four additional operators were employed. Mrs. Hoskins had to pay her $1.55 and get a receipt before the chief operator assigned her, moving her ahead of five waiting Russians. Her operator held out the scissors, but Josephine Hoskins knew how to say "Nyet". The Russian seemed friendlier after a present of a new (eas-comb) from Miami and the trade of an American hair clip for an old-fashioned bobby-pin.

FOR MEN ONLY: Barbers are usually women and give a snappy razor cut for about 50 cents.

TO BUY POSTCARDS AND STAMPS: Russian postcards and stamps are beautiful. They aren't cheap, but what else can you spend money for?

TO WALK AND WATCH AND TAKE PICTURES: The weather encouraged this kind of activity, and why else do tourists go to Russia anyway?

Danger Seen in Misused Drugs

Ever take inventory of the mess of drugs and medications that clutter up your medicine cabinet?

If you do, you might find some dangerous combinations in there. According to Dr. Leighton E. Cluff, chairman of the University of Florida's department of medicine: "Adverse effects of non-prescription drugs, as well as prescription drugs, are responsible for hospitalization and death of a significant number of patients."

When making your inventory, don't forget those seemingly innocent, non-prescription items, such as laxatives, aspirins and antihistamines. These over-the-counter remedies can cause all kinds of havoc if used excessively or in combination with certain prescribed drugs.

By making a drug inventory and by continuing to ask a lot of questions about the drugs you are taking, you will probably be able to reduce the amounts you and your family are consuming. In so doing, says Dr. Cluff, "you will reduce the danger of adverse effects and reduce total drug costs."

You have to dig out information on what compounds are in the drugs and the bad combinations you should look for. Did you know, for example, that drinking wine or eating cheese while taking an MAO-inhibitor (prescribed for depression) can give you soaring blood pressure and a possible brain hemorrhage.

Did you know that taking too many candy-flavored antacid tablets along with other antacid medicines can put you into a coma caused by a change in blood chemistry? Here are some of the ways you can dig out this kind of information:

YOUR DOCTOR: When you are handed a prescription, ask your doctor what it does and what side effects you should watch out for. You might even ask him if you really need it. Are there any alternatives? Ask him to write the prescription in generic (chemical) terms rather than by brand name. It's easier to identify in case of an emergency.

YOUR PHARMACIST: Many doctors these days cannot keep up with the technical warnings printed about each of the thousands of drugs in use. For more background information, ask your pharmacist to look up the "package insert" for each new drug prescription.

Report Hits Audit Slack

By RONALD B. SCOTT
BOISE (UPI) — A 1969 fiscal year-ending report of the state auditor's office released Wednesday said reasons submitted for level around the state could have been solved by telephone or letter.

The report, originally rejected by the Idaho Legislature's Fiscal Budget Committee last month because the submission time had political overtones, was released Wednesday by the Bureau of Public Accounts.

The account was submitted to the Legislative Auditor James Dofenbach, but was submitted today by former director of the Bureau of Public Accounts Milford Keeney, who apparently acted under the direction of Gov. Don Samuelson.

The report charged that many of the reasons and problems the state auditor used on expense forms could have been easily solved by telephone or by letter.

The report suggested that each travel application be reviewed carefully before it is approved, and concluded that many of the visits to other cities in the state could have been prevented if this procedure had been practiced.

The report also claimed that equipment lists in the auditor's office were incomplete and did not include all the items owned. The report said the travel vouchers were incomplete, and often times did not include the names of those traveling, the purpose of the travel and the destination city.

The Social Security tax fund was found to be in conformity with procedures adopted by the state of Idaho. The report said, "It is our opinion, however, that this fund had a cash balance at June 30, 1969, which greatly exceeded the current needs of the fund, and that transfers to the fund from other state funds should be made only when needed."

The report showed a $4.1 million transfer to the fund from the general and special fund and a $4.8 million transfer from the sales tax fund which was used for payment of employer taxes for state employed teachers.

The report continued, "We recommend that transfers from the sales tax fund to the Social Security fund be made for the exact amount needed rather than for an estimated amount."

The report also said the balance in the Social Security fund should be adjusted annually and the excess funds be distributed to other departments. The report charged "excess monies tied up in this fund deprives other agencies of its use."

Moving on to the accounting procedures of the office, the report noted that the system used in the office "has not been materially changed or updated since it was originally installed, except that a computer is now being used to prepare listings and transaction registers that were originally handwritten."

The report listed three reasons why change should be made:

- Terrific growth in size and complexity of state government;
- Changes in accounting concepts and procedures as well as in certain requirements relating to governmental accounting and financial reporting; and
- The advances in computer technology related to the processing of financial information.

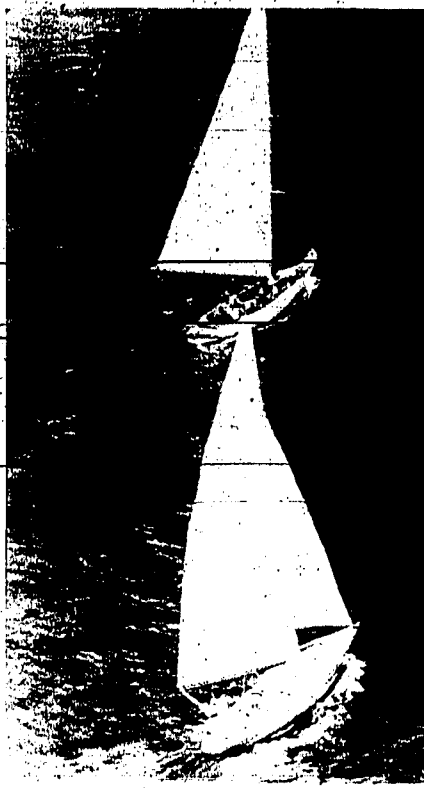

The report said the accounting system in the state auditor's office falls to meet the accounting needs of state government by still using a single-entry system. The report contends a double-entry system is one of the first requisites of any modern system. It said double-entry provides for accuracy.

The report noted several other areas where the auditor's office has failed to adopt modern accounting techniques, among which were the inadequate defining of encumbrances or the setting of guidelines for their use. The report said payroll procedures fail to provide many of the conveniences of a centrally operated payroll system.

The report also charged the department doesn't provide usable reports and management information. The information that should be provided by the auditor is used by legislative bodies, the public, department heads and executive officers and important decisions are made based upon data from the auditors office.

The report said since the present system does not provide reports which are readily usable, employees within the individual agencies must accumulate figures and prepare financial statements which could be prepared by a centralized system.

The report also charged that the office is not making the fullest use of the computers owned by the state. It noted that the auditors office is in some cases using hand-posted and machine - posted ledger cards in some of its payroll records.

Governors Fear GOP Setbacks

LAKE OF THE OZARKS, Mo. (UPI)—Republican campaign strategists believe they will lose some governorships in the November election but are hoping to make up enough ground in the South to offset the losses.

Republican governors currently outnumber Democrats 32 to 18. But of the 35 governors up for election Nov. 3, 24 are Republicans and 11 Democrats.

GOP governors attending the National Governors' Conference met at the conclusion of the conference Wednesday with the strategists to discuss the possibilities of the November campaign.

Ohio and New Mexico are the two states Republicans fear they have the greatest chance of losing. Republican governors of both states tried and failed to win U.S. Senate nominations so neither has an incumbent running for office.

Republicans also listed Pennsylvania, Alaska, Arkansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and New York as other "doubtful" states that could go to the Democrats. New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller produced a poll at the governors' conference which showed him trailing his democratic opponent, former U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

But the Republicans pledged to make up for any losses they could foresee by waging more than "token" campaigns in such Southern states as Texas, Tennessee, South Carolina and Georgia. The strategists claimed these four Southern states, along with Kansas, Hawaii, Connecticut and Maine, were the most vulnerable for a Republican takeover.

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien met Tuesday with Democratic governors and predicted a big increase in Democratic controlled statehouses in the November elections. He said the Democrats should win governorships in the highly industrial states.

White House communications director Herbert G. Klein said President Nixon has not decided how he will participate in the fall campaign. Klein said Nixon feels the best help he can give Republican nominees is to be a good president.

In an address to the session of the governors conference, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger told governors to quit being "Sunday Christians" and make prison reform "one of the highest priorities in your states."

2 Retarded Girls Beaten to Death

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—The severely beaten bodies of two mentally retarded girls were found Wednesday night in a New Haven park.

The victims were identified as Donna Schlichter, 15, and Sandra Hedlar, 23, both residents of the New Haven Regional Center.

Police said the bodies were found at about 11 p.m. face down in pools of blood in West Rock Park. Both girls had been beaten about the face and head, police said.

They had been the object of an intensive search since late Wednesday afternoon when a third resident of the center, William White, 20, was found badly beaten in another section of the park. White was reported in serious condition at St. Raphael's Hospital with head injuries.

Police said the search began when they notified center officials about White and learned the two girls had gone with him to a nearby shopping area and had failed to return to the institution.

MR. AND MRS. CARL V. BOWDEN

Miss Pruett Weds in July 11 Church Rites

SHOSHONE — Phyllis Diane Pruett, Salt Lake City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Pruett, Shoshone, became the bride of Carl Virgil Bowden, Salt Lake City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowden, Dolores, Colo., at 2 p.m. July 11 at the Shoshone First Baptist Church.

Altar flowers were dark and light pink carnations. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a silk organza gown with four lace panels over satin skirt, empire waist with satin bow accent, which featured a Queen Ann collar. The bodice of lace also had lace over satin and the full length sleeve matched the lace. Her chapel train, also of silk organza over net, was edged with lace to match the dress, attached at the shoulder. Her bouquet, a cascade of light and dark pink rosebuds, was accented with pink streamers and greenery.

Her shoulder-length veil was caught at the crown, adorned in crystal and beads, coming to a fairy-like lily point at the forehead.

Debra Pruett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Colleen Hatfield, Dove Creek, Colorado, was bride's maid.

Joe Bowden, the bridegroom's brother, was best man and groomsman was Greg Thompson, Salt Lake City.

A reception was held at the church immediately after the ceremony. Betty Bowden registered the guests.

Reception assistants were Gayla Johnson, Rhonda Onelda and Debra Harris with Carmen Haddock and Mrs. Spencer Bateman in charge of the gift room. They are all former classmates of the bride.

The bride's table was decorated with silver candleholders, set with pink candles and covered with white net with pink bows. The three-tiered wedding cake centering the table was topped by wedding bells, and had light and dark pink rosebuds with silver bells along the layers for other decorations.

Guests were seated at quartet tables, covered with lace over pink and centered with miniature baskets containing fresh roses.

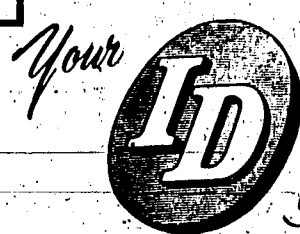

After a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe and San Francisco, the couple will be living at 3453 South 2300 East, Salt Lake City. He is associated as part-owner with Data Processing Service, Inc., Salt Lake City.

The bride is a graduate of Shoshone high school and attended Stevens Honagar Business College, Salt Lake City.

The bride was honored at a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O.J. Harris, Shoshone, hosted by Debra Harris and assisted by Gayla Johnson.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Golden R Room, Rogerson Hotel, Twin Falls, the night before the wedding.

Society Elects.
SHOSHONE — New officers have been named for the LDS Relief Society. They include Mrs. M. J. Dille, president; and Mrs. D.H. Hansen and Mrs. LaMar Duffin, counselors.
Mrs. Perry Haddock and Mrs. Lawrence Rands are retiring executives.
Regular weekly Relief Society meetings will not begin until later this fall. The monthly work meeting was held Tuesday, where handwork was done and visiting teachers reports given.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Thiemert, Filer, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Thompson, Bellingham, Wash.

Light pink candelabra entwined with spider mums, carnations and greenery decorated the front of the church. A large matching arrangement accented the altar. Light pink satin bows marked pews.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor length dress of white linen with Venice lace accenting the high neck and short sleeves. Venice lace patterns were repeated on the princess like skirt. Her train length mantilla of silk illusion was edged with matching Venice lace. She carried a white cascade bouquet of spider mums, stephanotis, baby breath and greenery.

Woman's View By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—One evening at a party, Jane Forth on a whim went into a guest bathroom and shaved off her eyebrows.

It made the teen-age model an instant curiosity. The denuded face also scared off a lot of magazine people who possibly would have put her high fashion face and string-bean figure before the cameras had it helped to spur her career for Miss Forth, now 17, and a beauty even without what once were heavy dark brows above large blue eyes. The movie career was what she really wanted because "by the time you're 28 you're through as a model anyway."

Her first role came from meeting Andy Warhol. "We need you for a movie," said a Warhol associate, taking a look at the offbeat looking Miss Forth who seemed a natural for Warhol's offbeat films.

Warhol cast her in "Trash," starring Joe Dallesandro. They shot the movie in three days, she said in an interview at Warhol's studios in Manhattan.

It was without script and actors' lines developed as the story developed. The plot depicts Miss Forth as the wife of a well-to-do architect, with the couple trying to reform a junkie, who's played by Dallesandro. It's scheduled to open in August in New York and then around the country.

"I think I got the role because the original lead didn't want to do a movie with that name," said Miss Forth, who is disarmingly candid.

Next, there'll be another Warhol movie with a Civil War setting, in which she will star with Dallesandro. They may design clothes, updating motifs from the 1930's and 1940's. She already has the label—"Plain Jane."

Jane Forth's career began in the 10th grade when the family moved from St. Clair Shores, Mich. (a Detroit suburb) to New York. Her father, Leon, is national merchandising manager for an automobile manufacturer, and her mother, Rhea, works for a data processing firm. Others of the family are Beverly, 14, Diane, 23, and Robert, 22, who's a Vietnam veteran.

When Jane met the illustrator Antonio Lopez, whose works have appeared in the New York Times and Vogue Patterns among other publications, he asked her to pose for him. She jumped at the chance "because I was bored with school."

The New York Times photographed her, she appeared on the Dick Cavett Show, and Life Magazine grabbed her for a fashion layout.

No one else she knows of has copied the browless look, said the girl who also paints her lips a harsh red oldtime movie style, uses egg whites and milk to cleanse her skin, and sleeks back her curly hair with Wesson Oil.

JANE FORTH, the co-star of two Andy Warhol movies, has a fashion style all her own. Most noticeably, she has shaved most of her eyebrows off. But the 17-year-old model-turned-actress has been wearing the mid-skirt before it became fashionable, paints her lips a harsh red old-time movie style, uses egg whites and milk to cleanse her skin and sleeks back her curly hair with Wesson Oil. Women's Equality Moves Step Ahead

Woman's View
By MARGUERITE DAVIS
WASHINGTON (UPI)—

Women moved a long step forward this week toward equality with men.

With Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., acting as chief strategist, the House voted 348-15 in favor of a proposed constitutional amendment, dusty from years of neglect, which holds that neither state nor federal law may abridge equal rights on account of sex.

No one thought at first that congressional approval would be easily come by. The amendment was proposed in 1947, and reviewed by the House Judiciary Committee the following year. Since then it lay dormant.

Then Mrs. Griffiths decided to try again. She had compiled a list of indignities she said the Supreme Court imposed on her sex. The court has been asked for the last 98 years, to no avail, to extend the 14th Amendment to women, she said—the amendment which prohibits states from enacting discriminatory laws.

Mrs. Griffiths said the high court successively held that the constitutional amendment did not change the ban against women voting, and ruled that women were too weak to cope with the equal opportunity they sought. The Supreme Court protected Chinese laundrymen from a California law intended to put them out of business, she said, but continued to hold that the states legally might discriminate against women if they were treated as a class.

The congresswoman, the only member of her sex who serves on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, compiled her evidence of what she maintained was rank injustice, and appealed to her colleagues for help in wroasting the legislation from the Judiciary Committee and submitting it to the House for a vote.

was a surprise to many—including Mrs. Griffiths.

"It was great, absolutely marvelous," she said. But she believed Celler's strategy was faulty. He moved too quickly in seeking a vote, she said, and she suspected he neglected his homework by failing to familiarize himself with the proposed amendment.

She had plenty of important help. Speaker John W. McCormack let it be known early in the game that he supported the amendment, as did Democratic leader Carl Albert, and Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and Larry O'Brien of the Republican and Democratic National Committees, along with their top aides.

Not often in recent years has a bill which was not intended to raise government pay or enforce civil rights brought so large a crowd to the House galleries. Some well-dressed women sat in the aisles and twice they broke into spontaneous applause.

"As of this night, I'm working on the Senate," she said, soon after the House completed action. "And I think it's going to feel the heat from the public, primarily women's organizations."

The little girl and soft looks will replace tailored styling in sleepwear, loungewear and undergarments — thanks to the 1970 fashion trend toward more femininity. Gamy gowns, midi and maxi gowns will be trimmed with flanges and lace. While the bikini pajama and baby dolls continue to flatter young juniors, the country girl and tunic looks will be puffed and fitted over pajama legs or in gowns. In foundation garments, women will have soft contoured lines with some support, wearing bras that look like they're not wearing one and girdles that look like they don't need one.

The person who exceeds his standard weight by 10 to 20 per cent is considered overweight. More than 20 per cent is obese.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend (I'll call him "Seymour") is a pre-med student. We plan to get married in 3 or 4 years.

Last night Seymour was over to the house and I complained of a pain-in-my-back. (I had been bowing the night before.) Well, Seymour had me lie face down on the sofa so he could work on my back. (Naturally I took off my shirt and unhooked my bra.)

All of a sudden my mother walks in, and boy, was she ever mad! You could have heard her in Jersey. Seymour left shortly after that and my mother yelled some more, saying how terrible I was and so forth. Abby, Seymour is studying to be a doctor, which I think gives him more of a right to be working on my back than if he were a law student, right? I think my mother has an evil mind and I would like your opinion. Believe me, we weren't doing anything wrong.

ACHING BACK
DEAR ACHING: Since Seymour is not yet a doctor, he shouldn't have been working on you professionally. And since he's not yet your husband, he shouldn't have been working on you, PERIOD.

DEAR ABBY: This may not seem like a big problem to you, but if you can publish a letter from someone asking you if you ever saw a bald-headed Indian, you can publish this.

"Have you ever seen a man carrying a small change purse in his pocket? My fiancée has a fit every time I take it out of my pocket to pay for something. She claims it looks sissy, and she's ashamed to be seen with me in public because of it. It's not a fancy one. It's just a plain, ordinary black change purse. My grandpa carried one all his life, and I have carried one for 10 years and she is the only one to ever object to it. I think it is a very convenient way to carry my change and I am not about to give it up because she says it embarrasses her. What is your opinion?"

DAHLONEGRA, GA.
DEAR DAHLONEGRA: "Change purses" for gentlemen are not the most up-to-date accessory; but many men still carry them, so if that's your preference, suit yourself. And tell your fiancée if she's too "ashamed" to be seen with you in public because you carry a change purse, the next change you make could be HER.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a letter in your column with no answer, I don't even bother to read it. It's usually some long drawn out and tale of woe from a cry baby who wants to have her say. Or it's a letter from some nut which is so ridiculous, I can't imagine why you would want to print it.

I like your column best when you run somebody's problem and give them your answer—especially when you tell them off.

You're getting paid to answer people's problems, Abby, so get busy and don't goof off.

ABILENE, TEXAS
DEAR ABILENE: Please read on:

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years and have found it to be both entertaining and educational. I like the way you will print letters from readers who just want to give others the benefit of their experience. It's good to read points of view other than the one we have always held. Some of them make a lot of sense. Thank you. Keep up the good work.

HANSEN — "My Concern May Be Someone's Only Bridge of Hope," was an opening thought given by the president, Mrs. W. C. Klutz, at the Hansen Woman's Society of Christian Service Circle meeting at the home of Mrs. Austin Moore. Mrs. Klutz gave the devotional message.

A thank you note was read from Julie Hove and Renee Hamby, who were youth delegates to the School of Missions.

There are still some notes and stationary belonging to the circle to be sold.

It was reported the Day Care Center needs articles, so $5 was contributed to the center. It was decided this fall to make throw covers for the center.

Mrs. Klutz gave the lesson study from various Response magazines on "Education for children, day care centers, shut-ins, modern day living, and also gave some personal goals for members to become better persons.

Reserve Clause Wins First Battle, But War Continues

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Curt Flood anti-trust case against major league baseball which reached its first denouement with Judge Irving R. Kaufman's decision Wednesday is far from being over.

Cooper's decision, which upheld baseball's reserve clause, will be appealed according to Flood's attorneys, Arthur Goldberg and Allen Zerman. "Obviously this decision is not the last stage," said Goldberg. "The normal course of these cases is to appeal to the Court of Appeals, Second Circuit, which is in New York City."

Flood, who filed his suit when he was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies from the St. Louis Cardinals in October, believed to be in Denmark. Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was extremely pleased with Cooper's decision and expressed hope that Flood would resume his career as a player.

"I am pleased that Judge Cooper has upheld the position of baseball in the Flood litigation and I am particularly pleased that the court has recognized the need for a reserve system," Kuhn said. "I share Judge Cooper's decision that any changes necessary in the reserve system can be achieved by bargaining," Kuhn continued. "I hope that Curt Flood is prepared to resume his outstanding career as a player. I know the Phillies would welcome his return."

Jack Ogden later relieved Carpenter in the ninth. Rafael Amiana homered with none aboard for the Giants first tally and Dave Prost added two more when he blasted a circuit clout in the fifth.

Course record for the Southern Hills layout, the only course in the country which has hosted the top five U. S. Golf Association championships; is a 67 by Gene Littler in 1958, and even after Nicklaus' round, Palmer predicted, "Nobody is going to shoot a 65 here in an actual tournament."

Carly-haired Ray Floyd of Dallas, who captured the crown last year in Dayton, Ohio, is the defending champion and he's among those given a good chance on a course which places great emphasis on tee accuracy. Among the other favorites are former U. S. Open champion Lee Trevino, current U. S. Open champion Tony Jacklin of England, Masters champion Billy Casper, and Palmer.

Post Falls Favored To Retain Title In State Tourney This Weekend

TWIN FALLS—The top three teams from last year plus 13 hopefuls will participate in the annual "Post Falls" tournament, a whirlwind of action that runs from 8 p. m. Friday through Sunday evening at the two Harrison Park fields.

Off its impressive showing of the past couple of years, defending champion, The Falls of Post Falls, has been installed as the favorite for the 1970 crown, the first to ever be decided in Twin Falls. Lucky Lager of Lewiston was runner-up at year ago at Coeur d'Alene and the Turf Club of Twin Falls, which won the city "A" league and the district title, finished third at state.

A's Rip Indians, Cut Loop Deficit To Five

OAKLAND (UPI)—Frank Fernandez' three-run homer capped a five-run third inning Wednesday night and Bert Campaneris added three singles, a triple, three runs scored and a run batted in as the Oakland A's moved to within five games of first place with an 11-4 rout of Cleveland.

Putting on one of their best hitting shows of the season, the A's pounded five Cleveland pitchers for 13 hits en route to their fifth consecutive victory and their 18th in the last 24 games.

Down 4-1 in the third, the A's chased Indians starter Steve Hargan and kept right on rolling against Rick Austin and Vince Colbert with Fernandez hitting his 14th homer and it gave him seven RBIs in the last two games.

Marcel Lachemann, who took over for starter Rollie Fingers in the second when the Indians scored three runs for a 4-1 lead, gained credit for the victory, although he pitched only two innings. It was his third triumph in three decisions.

Detroit Salutes Ex-Champion Louis

DETROIT (UPI)—They held a "salute to the champ" for Joe Louis in his home town of Detroit, Wednesday. But the billing "Brown Bomber" couldn't come to the celebration.

And while Joe couldn't make it to Detroit, he was to be presented with a great sign bearing the name "Joe Louis Boulevard." For one day, the fashionable Washington Boulevard in downtown Detroit was renamed in honor of one of the city's most famous stars.

Although Louis could not attend the salute, his fans and friends were invited to Detroit's Cobo Arena, where they were to be entertained by an all-star cast of entertainers, dignitaries from the sports world and other celebrities in a 2 1/2-hour variety show.

SUN VALLEY — Individuals and organizations wishing to present testimony here Aug. 26 in a public hearing on the proposed National Recreational Area for the Sawtooth Mountain range have a deadline of Aug. 18 at 5 p. m. for notifying the committee. Newly proposed park and recreational status of the area will also be aired.

Those planning to testify orally must be able to present 25 copies of their prepared statement to the committee staff when they are called to testify. Oral testimony will be limited to no more than five minutes for each witness.

Written testimony, acceptable from those not wishing to present oral testimony, may be submitted for inclusion in the record or file. To qualify for the record, written testimony must present some new and useful information not already presented for the record. Statements for the record must be typewritten and submitted in triplicate no later than Sept. 1, 1970.

Shoshone Council Scout Cabaret First in To Have Fashion Show Points

BURLEY — The annual Scout International Cabaret, scheduled Saturday at the Ponderosa Inn, will include an unusual feature — a fashion show.

Darl Gled, Scout executive of the Snake River Area Council, said the fashion show, including modeling of high-fashion garments, had been scheduled for the afternoon, but the models were unavailable during the day. The fashion show will be included as a part of the evening's entertainment, with a discussion of the fashions and a review of recent fashion trends accompanying the models.

The Cabaret this year includes a number of activities, ranging from the official registration of guests at 3:30 p. m. Saturday to a golf tournament following registration and the banquet in the evening. Tickets are $100 each, and may be obtained from Scout officials throughout the Magic Valley.

Among the featured guests at the Cabaret will be Danny O'Neill, famed raconteur and master of ceremonies, who will conduct the evening's festivities; Earl Nightingale, philosopher and lecturer, and "Sheriff Higgins," the portly law officer of the automotive commercials who comes on strong with his drawled "Y'all tryin' to get away with somethin'?"

Proceeds of the Cabaret go toward paying the expenses of the entertainers and pay costs of operation of the Snake River Council. Ticket sales are going well, Gled said, but there's plenty of room for all who wish to enjoy the evening.

Magic Valley Safety Program Launched in Area

RUPERT — Plans for a safety recognition program designed to encourage better driving practices in Minidoka and Cassia counties were announced Thursday following a meeting instigated by Rupert and Burley Jaycees.

Bill Whitton, Rupert Jaycee who spearheaded the program, said the idea involves selection of a safe driver of the month award beginning in September. In a meeting Wednesday night in Burley, the idea received the endorsement of community officers including Police Chiefs Ken Barry and Ed Culver of Burley and Rupert and members of the Rupert Traffic Safety Committee.

Mr. Whitton said traffic fatalities are consistently higher in the Burley-Rupert area than any other part of the state and something must be done to make drivers aware of the situation.

Mr. Whitton, also a Rupert city council member, said the award program will consist of selecting a safe driver from somewhere in the Minidoka and Cassia Counties area each month with the first presentation to be made Oct. 15.

State and local law enforcement officers will nominate the candidates and a final decision will be made from a special committee to be named later. The award will consist of a certificate signed by the state Jaycee president and the state Commissioner of Law Enforcement. Mr. Whitton said he believes such a program will also promote better relations between law enforcement officers and the driving public.

4-H Girls Entertain BPW Club Meet Set At Stanley Over Park

STANLEY — The Sawtooth Valley Association, formed some years ago to fight proposals to for a Sawtooth National park, will meet at 8 p. m. today in the schoolhouse in Upper Stanley, reports J.G. Nicholson, Obsidian, president.

He said his group favors a recreation area administered by the Forest Service and opposes formation of a national park.

The Sawtooth Valley Association is a different group from the Sawtooth National Park Association which was organized some 10 years ago to work for a national park in the Sawtooth region, headed by Glenn Brewer, Stanley, with Grace Patrick, Twin Falls, secretary.

The group is reactivating since the introduction of legislation in Congress this week proposing joint administration by the Forest Service and National Parks Service.

T.F. Girl Selected As Queen

GOODING — Sue Billington, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.T. Billington, Twin Falls, captured the 1971 rodeo queen crown in Gooding County Wednesday night during the closing performance of the county rodeo.

Miss Billington was crowned by Joyce Novak, 1970 Gooding County Rodeo queen, who reigned during the past three days of fair and rodeo activities here. Selected by the judges as runner up was Kay Pence, Mackay. In the Junior Miss competition, Melody Brown, 17, Kimberly, won top honors and runner up was Debbie Scheer, 17, Wendell.

Rodeo fans had an additional bit of excitement during the final event when rodeo clown, Tim Oyer, Pocatello, was stomped by a bull during the bull riding competition. Four cowboys worked to distract the bull while the clown was pulled from the arena. Officials said his injuries were apparently not serious.

Shoshone Chamber Protesting Sunday Closure of Postoffice

SHOSHONE — Members of the local Chamber of Commerce will solicit the Postal Department to keep the Shoshone post office open Sundays in order for people to pick up their mail in mail boxes inside.

They do not expect the check book to be open, but have found the closure of the door to the box area is inconvenient to many. The matter was discussed at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday noon, and a letter will be written to urge the opening Report on various aspects of the Chamber activity at the county fair were given. County extension agent, Ivan Hopkins stated there were double the number of exhibits this year in the women's and hobby divisions. However, the merchant displays were down somewhat.

Francis Bergin reported on the parade and Mrs. Robert Gaskill reported on the street sports, stating she felt more variety is desired in this.

Harrell Thorne reported that the postal officials here had stated Shoshone does not have letter delivery which is required to order for postal boxes to be located at various points in town.

It was reported incidents have taken place in the city park, when the youths have called out to passing motorists.

The group also voiced objection to the late hour activity of many young people in town, the disturbances with automobiles or just plain prowling.

Wilson Churchman, a member of the City Council, was delegated to take up these matters with the City and ask for proper control of them.

Myron D. Johnson, vice-president, conducted the meeting in the absence of Dennie Everett.

Search Ends for Youth Hear Speakers School Aides

SUN VALLEY — The annual meeting of Idaho school administrators and trustees is scheduled to conclude Friday following three days of discussions of problems facing the school system today.

Today's agenda included group discussion of drug abuse, education, student unrest, teacher militancy and interested school patrons. Discussion groups were led by Rex Enixking, superintendent at Buhl on drug abuse education; James Todd, superintendent at St. Maries, student unrest; James Brantford, business manager, Pocatello school district, teacher militancy; and Roger Reynolds, Parma school superintendent, interested school patrons.

A summary of today's discussions will begin Friday's session which will include more discussion by selected speakers. The topics include "Planning and Evaluation" by Wayne Phillips, Idaho state Department of Education; "Current Legal Development in Education," by James Hargis, assistant attorney general; "Early Childhood Education," by Dr. Amy Hostler, chairman, U.S. National Committee for Early Childhood Education; "Opportunities for Individualizing the Pupil Program Through Special Service's Team Followup," Russell Magor, ACSW; "Professional Practices Commission," Lella Lewis, chairman, Professional Practices Commission; "Pygmalion in the Profession," Louise Jones, president of the Idaho Education Association, and State and Local Government, a high school package on social studies, by Dr. Sidney Duncombe, University of Idaho.

Opening the Wednesday meeting were speeches of drug abuse by Dr. Alvin Matzger, chief of the Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic medical section; Student Unrest by Don Oliver, NBC news correspondent; Teacher Militancy by Gerald Handy, Board of trustees, Utah Education Association, and Interested School Patrons, by Janet Hay, Caldwell League of Women Voters.

Mr. Oliver said he believes the country now has the makings of a civil war. By 1980, he said, half the nation population will be under 30.

And even now, violence and protesting are moving down the age ladder, with incidents reported in high school and junior high as well as colleges. "Our biggest problem concerning student unrest is to keep the young people working in the system to help solve the problems. Let them be a part of the process, or the problem will reach the Mountain West eventually," he warned.

Mr. Oliver also said he believed if there was more talk between both sides there would not be the problems there are today in the nation's campuses. "There is something wrong with a society which wants to kill its young," he said.

Minidoka School Case Slated Soon

RUPERT — Senior Fifth District Judge Charles Scoggin, Cassia county, has approved a request of Roger Ling, Rupert attorney, representing members of the Minidoka County School Board, and Supt. Camden Meyer to have another judge hear the case brought against them by six Minidoka County residents.

Trial has been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday in Fifth District Court in Rupert with Judge Scoggin presiding. Mr. Ling filed an affidavit of prejudice against Judge Sherman Bellwood last week.

The trial stems from a civil suit filed this spring by Dan Cowell, Bill Cowell, Dale Donner, Ritchie Donner, Dale Loveland and John Wiggins, charging school board members with setting a junior high school boundary line which they allege will provide enrollment causing unequal educational opportunity to students.

They also asked that trustee zoning districts be reappointed. The boundary line set by trustees Dale Garner, Leo Moore, Leonard Martin, Sherrill Stallings and Dave Sperrill would reportedly result in more students attending the East Junior High in Rupert than the West Junior High south of Paul.

Trustees maintain current construction of homes in the Heyburn Paul area will bring enrollment to an equal basis.

A pre-trial conference was held Thursday morning in Shoshone according to Don Chisholm, attorney for the plaintiffs. A recent request of Roger Ling for a motion of dismissal was denied by Judge Bellwood.

12 Youths At Large From School

ST. ANTHONY, Idaho (UPI) — St. Anthony Youth Training Center Supt. Robert Parrish said Wednesday night 12 of 17 escaped youths were still at large in eastern Idaho.

He said the boys left one of the dormitories early Wednesday morning, when they stuffed their beds and slipped out with a pass key. He said five of the youths were apprehended in Pocatello and St. Anthony.

He indicated the escape was partially caused by human error, and the boys should have been held in more secure facilities.

AMONG THE 12 Magic Valley students completing their practical nursing course at College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls, and receiving certificates Wednesday night was Maxine Burkhardt, Gooding, displaying the certificate to Orval Bradley, director of CSI's vocational school. The LPN's completed 1,200 hours of clinical experience and 600 hours of theory at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Other graduates included Estelle Aston, Sam Austin, Beverly Helts, May Marchello, Florence Banks and Betty Snuffer, all Twin Falls; Sharon Fischer, Wilma Miller, Jen Wathen and Florence Wasko, all Buhl; Ethel Thastet, Filer, and Hazel McCartney, Wendell.

Contracts Awarded At Hailey

HAILEY — Blaine county school District 61, board of trustees have awarded contracts to low bidders for the district's gasoline and fuel oil requirements. Low bidders were Lees Service for Hailey; Adamson's Texaco for Ketchum and Garay, and Berghin's Garage for Bellevue.

In other business, the board agreed to raise the present hot lunch price of 30 cents until the January meeting of the time the matter will be reconsidered.

Inesse West took big king and saw no hurry about playing his ace of spades. Instead, he returned the nine of diamonds with some idea that the play might confuse declarer.

East played the Jack and South was in with the ace. He cashed his two high clubs and proceeded to run off all his trumps. On the last trump, West was down to the 10 of diamonds and ace of spades.

East had thrown a club and four spades and was down to two cards. We can see that they were both spades but West couldn't. Could they be one spade and the six of diamonds?

West should have known because, if East had held the six of diamonds, he would have thrown it away a long time back to give his partner a count. As we said, West should have known but didn't. He chucked his 10 of diamonds and presented South with a slam.

UNHOLY COW - A cow that produces 200 gallons of milk a day - that's what the science boys have come up with now. I refer to a mechanical cow invented by one Dr. Hugh Franklin of Great Britain. He says he feeds into one end of this piece of machinery a ton of cabbage and gets 200 gallons of milk out the other. That's plant milk. Reportedly, it tastes exactly like the real thing and is just about as nutritious. Our Chief Prognosticator believes it will find its first great market in India.

Halley Police Blotter
Leo Stavros, manager of the Triple S supermarket, Halley, reported his store had been burglarized sometime Saturday or Sunday, with an un-determined amount of beer and cigarettes taken. The thieves entered the store through the second story window which they broke out, then pried two metal bars. The window faces the alley. Mr. Stavros reported the break-in Monday morning when he opened the store and said there appeared to be nothing else disturbed. Halley Chief Bill Reid is investigating but said no suspects have been arrested as yet.

IT'S GARLAND TIME . . .

AT EDSON'S . . . A GREAT ASSORTMENT IN ALL JR. SIZES . . .

Don't neglect to see all the other great lines as well . . .

OUR GREAT GREAT SWITCHABLES.

Take our cable knit, our striped turtle, our beautifully tailored pin-tuck skirt. Buy them for switching and joining them up with other things you own! The colors are smashing, and since everything's made by Garland, it's great. The vest, pure wool, the turtle, Dupont Orlon. The skirt, wool flannel.

IT COSTS SO LITTLE TO LOOK SO GREAT!

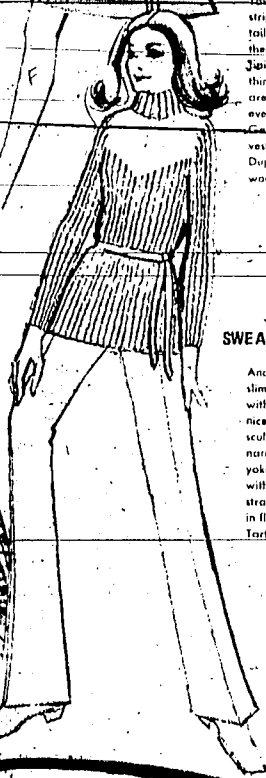

Our can't-live-without-it Fisherman sweater, made of Washable acrylic. It's a perfect go to gather with our pretty and swaggy self fringed Tartan Kilt. We have both styles for you in smashing new Garland colors for fall.

COME IN AND SHOP TODAY.

YOUR PET TURTLE!

Because the ribs are the right kind of skinny look. Because the center panel is a touch of genius. Because it's the sweater that goes with everything - and especially with this year's flattering flare-leg pants. Everything's by Garland, and that makes everything right.

SWEATER OF THE YEAR!

And no wonder! It makes a slim and slinky silhouette, with pants, to give you that nice long look you love. It sculpts your shape, with narrow ribs that begin at the yoke. We have it for you with all the right pants, straight leg and flare leg, in flannels, plaids and Tartans.
