TEN CENTS

THE HULK of the SS Lebaron Russell Briggs is taken under tow with its cargo of deadly nerve-gas rockets headed for a watery grave off the East Coast. The vessel will be scuttled along with its deadly load — unless opponents of the plan have their way. (UPI)

Nerve Gas Ship Heads to Sea

ABOARD THE USS HARTLEY (UPI)—The condemned SS Lebaron Russell Briggs, its belly lined with 418 vaults of poison gas, silently followed a tug today towing the old war veteran to a burial site 282 miles off Cape Kennedy.

A specially trained crew will scuttle the faded gray World War II liberty ship and its lethal cargo of 67 tons of nerve gas in 16,000 feet of water Tuesday, unless a storm interferes.

At 6:30 a.m. EDT, the flotilla carrying the nerve gas to the dumping grounds was 250 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla., more than one-third of the way to the graveyard. At this rate, the ships will reach their destination Tuesday morning.

The voyage got underway after a series of legal maneuvers, including a Saturday midnight order by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger temporarily halting it. An appellate court conducted an unusual Sunday morning hearing, and gave the Navy the go-ahead for the burial.

The hulk was pulled from its berth in Cape Fear River into the Atlantic Ocean seven miles downstream Sunday through a curtain of rain showers. Navy spokesmen, however, predicted good weather for most of the 300 mile voyage and at the scuttle site.

No one has been aboard the vessel since a river detail left the ship after it passed through the channel out into the Atlantic about 6 p.m. Sunday. The hulk will be hoarded again at the disposal site by a scuttling crew that will open the seven flood valves to let in seawater and sink the vessel.

Capt. Arthur G. Hamilton, commander of the task group carrying out the disposal, observed the towing operation carefully from the Coast Guard cutter Mendota. Hamilton said he hoped to have the hulk at the scuttle-site by first light Tuesday.

The scuttle crew, headed by Lt. Anthony Schiveone of Lyncroft, N.J., was to board the vessel immediately after arrival at the site. He and seven others should complete their part of the operation in less than an hour, a Navy spokesman said.

Israelis Prove Arms Moved

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israeli military sources today claimed absolute proof that Egyptian forces are moving Soviet missiles toward the Suez Canal in violation of the Middle East cease-fire. Foreign Minister Abba S. Eban said he expected the United States to back up Israel and verify the moves.

"The most urgent thing right now is the question of Israel's sincerity," Eban said at news conference. "We must reach a common understanding with the United States that these violations took place."

Eban was commenting on a statement Sunday in Washington by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird that it was "difficult to prove or disprove" the anti-aircraft missile movements which Israel began reporting shortly after the Suez Canal cease-fire went into effect on Aug. 7.

Israel holds the United States responsible for overseeing the terms of the cease-fire which is designed to pave the way for peace talks under U.N. auspices.

Eban spoke against the backdrop of a warning Sunday by Premier Golda Meir that she would not be surprised to see a resumption of fighting across the canal before the three-month cease-fire expires.

The Israeli military sources claiming proof positive of the Egyptian anti-aircraft missile movements did not disclose the nature of the documentation. But the evidence was described as other than aerial reconnaissance photographs.

Saigon Bombs Omaha Hurt 35

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong terrorists injured at least 35 persons in bombings in Saigon Sunday night and today. The U.S. Command said American forces accidentally fired on South Vietnamese troops, killing eight men and wounding seven others.

Saigon police officials said the bombings appeared to be the opening of a terror campaign in the capital to coincide with the 25th anniversary of the Communist takeover of North Vietnam.

U.S. spokesmen disclosed that American artillerymen mistakenly fired four 160mm shells into an outpost 88 miles north of Saigon occupied by South Vietnamese civilian irregular defense group mercenaries. Eight men died and seven were wounded in the accidental bombardment on Saturday.

Last Thursday, 11 South Vietnamese militiamen were killed and 26 were wounded, including two American advisers when U.S. mortar shells exploded in their position near Tay Ninh City, 66 miles northwest of Saigon.

A unit of the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry division operating southeast of embattled fire base O'Reilly, 12 miles east of Laos, was hit by 300 rounds of 61mm and 82mm mortar fire early today. Two soldiers were killed and two others wounded.

Fighting involving American troops was reported light and scattered although one American was killed and three wounded when their truck hit a mine in Binh Duong Province northwest of Saigon, military spokesmen said.

Angela Nearly Caught Soviets Launch Unmanned Rocket Ship Toward Venus

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union launched its seventh unmanned rocket ship toward Venus today on a four-month voyage to explore the hot and hostile atmosphere of earth's closest planetary neighbor.

The official Tass news agency said the probe, named Venus 7, began its journey at 8:38 a.m. Moscow time (1:38 a.m. EDT), broke free of earth's gravity and began the long coast to intercept Venus as it makes a close approach to earth later this year.

It was the first major Soviet space exploration attempt since June, when cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Vitaly Sevast'yanov spent more than 18 days in space, longer than any other men on a single flight.

The last Soviet probe of another planet was in May, 1969, when Venus 5 and Venus 6 penetrated the dense atmosphere of Venus a day apart and radioed back information during "smooth descents" of nearly an hour. The Soviets did not say if those two ships made soft landings.

The Venus 7 ship was launched today to "continue the exploration of the planet Venus," Tass said. The announcement contained nothing to indicate whether Venus 7 will attempt a soft landing.

The Tass announcement did say, however, that "Venus 7 is an improved version of the previous stations of this type."

Russia's initial Venus exploration probes were ships which looped the planet and sent back data glimpsed during the brief pass.

With Venus 4 in October, 1967, however, the Soviets began attempts at soft landings. After an erroneous initial report that Venus 4 had successfully touched down, Soviet scientists issued a report indicating it was destroyed by extremely high atmospheric pressure near the Venusian surface.

The information radioed to earth by probes 5 and 6 gave evidence of an environment far more hostile than scientists had believed.

Aerial 'Disaster' Only A Mere Meteor

HONOLULU (UPI)—A mysterious green flash in the sky touched off an alert that involved the Coast Guard, airline pilots and even space officials Sunday, but it was later determined the commotion was probably caused by a meteor.

At 1:33 a.m. the Coast Guard began receiving reports from Hawaii residents of a "brilliant green flash" southwest of Honolulu.

"It looked like a possible aviation disaster," the Coast Guard said. "Our rescue ships and aircraft were immediately alerted and other Government agencies were notified."

Airline pilots started sending in reports fixing the position of the flash about 100 miles offshore.

It was quickly determined that no planes were missing in the area. National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said the flash couldn't have been caused by the re-entry of any American space hardware.

"By 3 a.m. it was clear that no disaster had occurred and rescue forces were de-alerted," the Coast Guard said.

"We figure it probably was some sort of natural occurrence, such as a meteor entering the earth's atmosphere and exploding."

Robson 'Moonlights'

BOISE, Idaho (UPI)—Idaho's Attorney General was moonlighting again Sunday as he picked up garbage and assorted trash from the parking lot of a neighborhood drive-in restaurant.

Robert M. Robson has been filling in for his 13-year-old son, Bob, who is visiting grandparents in Coeur D'Alene.

Young Bob left by plane last Wednesday evening and his father has been performing the "pickup" chores for him since then. The elder Robson will be on the job through next Thursday, he told newsmen.

Because the lot must be cleaned up before noon, the Attorney General has found it necessary to clean up trash and empty garbage cans in his business clothes.

While started motorists drive by, the Attorney General bends over in a sport coat, slacks, dress shirt and tie, picking up napkins, bits of hamburger, ketchup bottles and other trash.

"People look and look at me and wonder what's going on," Robson said.

Entertainers Talk of Strike

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—The American Guild of Variety Artists said Sunday they may expand picket activities in their strike against Disneyland to the company's headquarters in Burbank, Calif.

Penny Singleton, Executive President of AGVA, announced the action was being considered because management had adopted a "bankers hours negotiation" policy.

'Rip' Tide Drowns 3 In Atlantic

By United Press International Sunny and dry weather prevailed over much of the nation today. Scattered thunderstorms and showers moved across portions of the South and Southeast.

Scattered thunderstorms produced rain along portions of the mid-Atlantic coastline Sunday night as a small low pressure system drifted northeastward.

Showers were falling along portions of Southeast Florida and along the Central Gulf Coast.

Rip tides fueled by eight-foot waves were blamed for at least three drownings Sunday along a 300-mile coast line from North Carolina to Maryland. Two drownings were reported in Virginia and one in North Carolina.

Agnew Rakes Solons

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew charged today that a Senate proposal to cut off funds for Vietnam War is a "tragically blunder" that would bring "chaos" and ruin chances for peace in Southeast Asia for the rest of the century.

Agnew, who characterized his charges as "among the strongest since I took office as vice president," was interrupted by applause 10 times during his half-hour address before the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Miami Beach.

Agnew leveled his attack at a so-called end-of-war proposal sponsored by Sens. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D. It is an amendment to the long-pending Military Procurement Bill now being debated in the Senate.

A vote on the amendment isn't likely until late August or early September, since the Senate is currently involved in a debate on moves to limit antiballistic missile deployment, also proposed as an amendment to the bill.

The McGovern-Hatfield amendment would shut off financing of Southeast Asia operations by the end of this year and pull out all troops by mid-1971.

Agnew himself characterized his charges as "among the strongest since I took office as vice president" but declared:

"No more dangerous proposal has been presented to the American Congress in those 19 months—or in 19 years for that matter"—than an amendment to shut off financing of Southeast Asia operations by the end of this year and to pull out all troops by mid-1971.

The amendment is sponsored by Sens. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., to the long-pending military procurement bill now being debated in the Senate.

The Senate currently is involved in debate on moves to limit antiballistic missile deployment, also proposed as amendments to the bill.

Auto Wreck Ends Plans For Fishing

TWIN FALLS — One woman was hospitalized and three other persons were treated and released at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital at 6:30 a.m. today as a result of a single-car accident two miles west of Twin Falls on the Pole Line Road.

Hospitalized with injuries to both arms was Matilda Leahy, 112 North Broadway, Buhl. Treated and released were Joseph B. Greufe, 83 Buhl, and his wife Mary Greufe, 80, and another passenger in the car, Carl Conner, 83, Buhl.

The group was enroute to Magic Reservoir for a fishing excursion when Greufe apparently failed to negotiate a curve while traveling east on the Pole Line Road.

State Police officers who investigated said the vehicle traveled straight ahead from the curve, left the road and crashed into a small wooden bridge over an irrigation ditch.

The vehicle was demolished and the crash collapsed the small bridge.

Speedy Vessels Planned

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—Construction is under way here on a prototype of an "ultra-speed" ship which could revolutionize the U.S. shipping industry.

The 100-ton ocean-going vessel will ride on a cushion of air at speeds up to 100 knots—approximately four times those of conventional ships.

Two large rocket-engine pumps will propel the 82-foot craft. The air cushion will be supplied by axial flow fans.

The only snag which could cause the project to go aground is federal squabbling over funding.

The House and Senate Armed Services Conference Committee is considering the appropriation, which the Defense Department has threatened to reduce on grounds that the Commerce Department should share the tab on an equal basis. Although the two departments have split the bill during the past three years, the Defense Department has been asked to spend $20 million this year while the Commerce Department has proposed only $500,000.

Sen trials of the craft are expected to begin in mid-1971, said William C. House, general manager of Aerojet-General Corp.'s Surface Effect Ships Division at El Monte, Calif.

Aerojet is building the shallow draft prototype at the Tacoma Boatbuilding Co. The vessel's catamaran-like sidewall hulls will be submerged only a few inches as it moves over the sea.

If testing proves successful, the concept could be applied by the Navy for many ships—from patrol boat to anti-submarine warfare aircraft carrier.

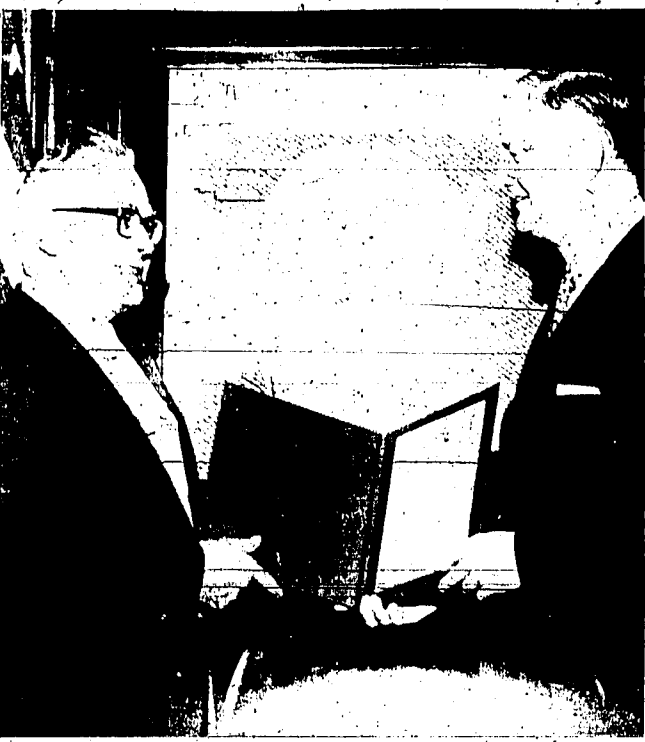

The "ultra-speed" crafts also could be used by the U.S. merchant fleet.

Bell Laboratories is constructing a conventional propeller-driven prototype under the same combined federal grant.

BEING PRESENTED WITH a medallion from the Social and Rehabilitation Service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, in recognition of his support of vocational rehabilitation programs, is Sen. Frank Church, center. With Sen. Church are Thomas J. Fleming, left, assistant to Commissioner Edward Newman of the Rehabilitation Services Administration, and Norman Subotnik, right, chief of the public information office of the Administration.

CONGRESSMAN ORVAL HANSEN, left, accepts an album containing a sheet of the new six-cent stamp honoring former President Dwight D. Eisenhower from Postmaster General Winton M. Blount. The new stamp augments the Eisenhower commemorative stamp issued last October, and while there was a "limited" printing of 145 million commemorative, the new "work horse" stamp will be printed by the billions for everyday use of the mailing public. The congressman said, "It is appropriate that we should honor his memory in this way."

Nixons to Combine 'Second Honeymoon,' Official Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President and Mrs. Nixon's "second honeymoon" trip to Mexico Thursday will also be an official visit—the 20th between presidents of the two countries that will touch on such problems as water supplies and illicit drug traffic.

The Nixons will fly to Puerto Vallarta on the west coast of Mexico not far from Guadalajara for a 24-hour visit marking their Mexican honeymoon 30 years ago. From there they will travel to San Clemente, Calif., to stay until after Labor Day.

It will be Nixon's second meeting with Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz in less than a year. The two first met at the opening of the Amistad Dam on the U.S.-Mexican border last September.

Although Diaz Ordaz leaves office in December, there are no plans for Nixon to meet his successor, President-elect Luis Eschevarria, on this trip. But Eschevarria is scheduled to come to Washington in the fall.

Among the matters expected to occupy Nixon and Diaz Ordaz was the U.S. effort to stem the flow of marijuana and hard drugs from Mexico into the United States. Operation Intercept, a strict border surveillance operation last year, resulted in loss of tourist and commercial trade on both sides of the border and ill-feeling between the two capitals.

Another matter was a five-year agreement, expiring in November, which provides for joint use of the waters of the Colorado River, a major source of fresh water for Mexico as well as the U.S. Southwest.

Nixon and Diaz Ordaz also may discuss trade, border difficulties posed by shifting of the Rio Grande River bed, and the continuing problem of Braceros or Mexican agricultural workers who skip across the border illegally.

Abortions Backed By Campaigners

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—California Democrats will run for office this fall on a platform calling for removal of all restrictions on abortions and urging withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam by mid-1971. The platform, adopted during a weekend convention, also urged an end to campus violence and favored the 18-year-old vote, equal treatment for both sexes, more concern of the environment by State agencies, lead-free gasoline, and smogless cars by 1975.

Spec. 4 Rickey Post, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Post, Twin Falls, participated in a mass parachute drop and activation ceremony which highlighted the formal activation of the 7th Battalion (Airborne) (Vulcan) 60th Artillery, the only active airborne air defense artillery unit in the U.S. Army, at Ft. Potato Marketing Bill

Introduced by Hansen

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Legislation which may help Idaho potato growers and those elsewhere in the nation expand markets and improve their competitive position has been introduced in the House by Congressman Orval Hansen, (R-Idaho).

Congressman Hansen said the bill would enable potato growers to finance a nationally coordinated research and promotional program. Such a program, the Idaho congressman said, would increase consumer acceptance of potatoes and potato products by improving their quality. The bill stipulates the plan have a two-thirds majority support from potato producers in a referendum. Producers with less than five acres would be exempt.

"Maintaining and expanding existing potato markets and developing new or improved markets are vital to the welfare of the potato grower and those concerned with marketing, using and processing potatoes as well as the general economic welfare of the nation," Congressman Hansen said.

"GEE, I WISH I'D SAID THAT"

COMMENT

There's A Word For It

INTERMOUNTAIN OBSERVER — SPEAKING IN JEROME earlier this month, Gov. Don Samuelson told a campaign crowd that Sen. Frank Church may have jeopardized the location of a manufacturing plant in Idaho because of the image he created in a national television appearance criticizing President Nixon's invasion of Cambodia.

The governor didn't say whether the firm manufactured napalm, or howitzers or some other product dependent for its demand on continuation of the war in Indochina, or whether this was just a case of a company accustomed to operating in a climate of political subservience.

THERE'S A WORD which describes that kind of solicitation. It's called prostitution.

Let's Know Risks

LEWISTON TRIBUNE — Individual scientists have for some time been expressing fears for the health of the environment if several hundred supersonic jet transports are turned loose in the upper air. Now a prestigious study group of American and European scientists has said those fears may be well founded.

The Russians have a prototype SST already built, and the English and French have jointly produced one of their own. The European transports are likely to be in service before long and the Nixon administration is seeking to meet the competition with an American SST now on the drawing boards at Boeing.

ART BUCHWALD Spy's Life Ideal In Tahiti

TAHITI — If I had my life to live all over again, I'd live it as the CIA man stationed in Tahiti. You get up in the morning and see if there are any ships in the lagoon. If there are, you write down their names on a piece of paper in code, stick it in an envelope addressed to an old lady in Salt Lake City (who forwards it on to Washington), and you have the rest of the day to snorkel, spear fish, water ski, sail and drink slow rum punches with lovely school teachers, airline stewardesses and the daughters of French planters who were born during World War II.

TAHITIAN wife. Nelly at first was horrified, as it was against everything she stood for. But finally she became so enraptured with the children that she quit her job with Pan American and promised Emile she would look after them until he came back. "What an idea for a musical," I said. "But why the shampoo?" "That's the sad part of the story. Nelly didn't know Emile would be gone this long, and she went bonkers three months ago when the two kids drove her up the wall."

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Measles Shots

I met one of these chaps at the bar in the Hotel Tahara, which is set in a mountain overlooking the Lagoon of Papeete. I immediately knew he was a CIA man because at exactly 9 o'clock he faced the sea and started striking his Zippo lighter on and off, despite the fact he had no cigarette in his mouth.

This is a reminder, in case you've read about measles and German measles vaccines but have put off doing anything about them. With school starting pretty soon now, there isn't much time left to have youngsters vaccinated.

Some individuals occasionally experience hair loss as a result — the reasons not well understood — of the anesthesia, but the surgery itself would not have this result.

Why Assume Risk?

Advocates of the "multiple-use" concept for areas such as the White Clouds have proposed that mining companies post a bond to guarantee restoration of the area once mining operations are complete.

ASARCO, but another, smaller concern goes broke? What then? Most of the ecological damage would come initially. If a company pulled out prematurely, and with little or no profit, the damage would still be there, but the money for restoration would not.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We live on a farm and have a septic tank. It is time for it to be emptied and I want to call the proper service people to do it. My husband insists he will do it himself and wants to empty it onto our garden spot. He thinks it will be fine fertilizer.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read your booklet, "How To Control Arthritis," from cover to cover but do not find any mention of the one my doctor says I have. He called it acute arthritis. — P. T.

Rotation Grazing Aids Raft River Rangeland

By JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish-Game Department
 When a pioneer rancher and his son and grandson and their families stay on the land for three generations, their stake is more deeply rooted than other interests, even in these days of multiple use.
 John R. (Jack) Pierce now owns the 640-acre desert homestead four miles southeast of Malta, running his beef cattle on the Black Pine Mountains and the Meadow Creek area to the east, just as his grandfather, James M. Pierce, did when he first homesteaded there in 1871. In other words, the present ranch has been owned and operated by grandfather, father and son for about 100 years. Along with other Raft River Valley ranchers, the Pierce family cattle foraged on the Black Pine Mountains and adjoining areas prior to the establishment of the Minidoka National Forest in 1906 (now Southern Division of the Sawtooth National Forest), and the passage of the Taylor Grazing Act of 1934.
 He says in the early years there was enough wild grass for year-long grazing, rather than just summer feed. Winter feeding was not practiced. Ranching operations of most cattle outfits consisted of putting up only enough winter feed for saddle stock. Cattle drifted almost freely between river bottoms and lower hills and mountains in spring and back again in the fall.
 Hard times came to the range during the dry years from 1888-91, when springs and streams dried up and feed burned and blew away. Thousands of cattle died and entire operations were wiped out during the bad winter of 1889. Changes came in ranch management during the decade of the "gray nineties," particularly the curing and storing of hay for winter feeding. Sheep began offering much competition for forage.

 His present operation is a commercial cow-calf enterprise of about 500 brood cows. Two-thirds or more of the cow herd stays on the range all year, while others stay out from early May until about mid-November. In other words, about a third of these animals are brought down out of the hills and fed alfalfa hay during the lean months. Range cows are winter fed, beginning in December, a mix of protein and minerals and salt. When snow is down, alfalfa is fed to supplement range forage, especially at the time calving begins in February, whether the ground is snow-covered or not. About mid-October calves are weaned, brought to the valley headquarters ranch and fed alfalfa silage mixed with grain.
 Jack Pierce says "what's good for the range is good watershed management," adding "what's good management for cows is good management for wildlife. There's no conflict when it's done right."
 These ideas are shared by Dble Turnipseed, Jerome, regional game manager of the Idaho Fish and Game Department; Lew Martindale, Burley, area manager, Bureau of Land Management; and Bill Price, Malta, district ranger, Sawtooth National Forest (Southern Division). These men and Jack Pierce recently went with this writer on a range tour of the Point Springs Allotment of 40,474 acres.

 These lands, under a cooperative management plan, include 10,840 acres of deeded land, 960 acres of state land leased by Pierce, 19,899 acres of public domain, and 8,775 acres of forest lands. Some 780 acres on the headquarters ranch are irrigated.
 An over-all management program has been cooperatively developed to benefit domestic livestock, big game animals and upland game birds. All lands are managed as a unit, regardless of ownership. The cooperative plan, a written agreement signed by all parties concerned, has a goal of preservation and improvement of rangeland as a usable national resource. This includes both private and public lands for the benefits to everybody.
 Listing four general objectives, the plan points up landholder-sportsman relations as a vital part. It stresses the development of mutual respect between users of the public lands, adding "private lands will be made available for hunting if hunters in turn will refrain from cutting fences, leaving gates open, etc."
 Other general objectives point out the compatibility of watershed, wildlife, livestock and recreation; the economic benefits to users other than the permittee, such as the federal government, state and local economy; and providing optimum forage for domestic livestock and wildlife, while maintaining esthetic values.
 Except for one pasture, growing conditions are really pretty good in Jack Pierce's allotment, although annual rainfall records indicate the Raft River drainage generally lies within one of the harshest growing zones in the state.
 Annual rainfall at Burley, Hazelton, Twin Falls and Jerome last year was six inches or less.
 On the valley floor rainfall was approximately 11 to 12 inches, ranging upward to 20 to 25 inches at higher elevations in the Black Pine Mountains. Depending on elevation and soils, vegetation included wheat grass, June grass, bitterbrush, serviceberry, snow berry and mountain myrtle. Aspen and fir can be found at upper elevations.

 Sagebrush grass combinations dominate areas where soil is deep with moderate saline conditions. Farmers plowed some of these areas under and subsequently abandoned them in the 1930's. Juniper grows on the southern and western slopes along with sagebrush and grass.
 Until 1958 there were only five water locations on the Black Pine Mountains and adjacent areas. This limited big game, upland birds, other forms of wildlife and domestic animals.
 Under the allotment program for range rehabilitation there are now 46 new water developments on private and public lands. Twenty-five miles of pipeline and several new roads have been added. Other improvements include seeding on 9,169 acres of poor rangeland, spraying 780 acres of brush and another eight water developments are planned.
 All developments operate when domestic livestock are rotated to new pastures for grazing. This provides continued water supplies for wildlife.
 Cooperation of Pierce, the Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management and Fish and Game Department was necessary to achieve these improvements. The same cooperation provides for the modifications for the management plan as needed so long as modifications are approved by all parties concerned and fit into grazing regulations. Periodic inspections are made by all concerned parties to make certain objectives of the plan are being met. Mr. Pierce says he and his family camped on Black Pine Mountain during the development of No. 10, highest well on the allotment project.

 "We enjoy the wildlife resources as much as anybody, hunting elk in the fall in Bear Valley every year and deer on our own place," he says.
 From 1911 to 1946 the area was closed to deer hunting, but has provided excellent hunting in recent years. Special hunts took 100 to 200 deer from the Black pine annually from 1948 to 1953 increasing to 300 to 500 from 1954 through 1959 when heavy harvests were called for to give the range a chance for come back. Lighter harvests followed until 1960 with the hunting now back to an average of about 200 animals per year.

 Pierce attended a special training program several years ago at Berkeley, Calif. Here he learned techniques in restoring range for both livestock and wildlife. He reasoned Black Pine could be made to provide ample forage for stock and game animals even though some of it had been over grazed for nearly 100 years.
 The stockman adopted a system of rest rotation giving nature a chance to restore the range. "One of the original organizers of the Idaho Range Use Coordination Commission, Pierce served as the first chairman and has worked with that group to change the public estate of the livestock industry from "applier" to one of multiple users and benefactors of resources.

Cactus Pete's and the HORSE SHU CLUB

IN THE GALA ROOM

MARLANE'S SWINGIN' DOLLS

This is a diverting quintet of attractive singing musicians who specialize in parodies of country-styled combos, unusually done with witty spontaneity. Marlane, who doesn't use her surname, plays an electronic organ expertly while leading her bevy of mini-skirted dolls. Their vocal close harmony and novelties are as appetizing as the buffet dinners served in the Gala Room at Cactus Pete's. Also this is one time you will really enjoy singing along with the girls to such songs as "Bill Bailey," "Release Me" and other old ballads.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The August lull appears to be serving investors well from a basabuilding standpoint, Goodbody & Co. says.

Forecasting can be dangerous at this time of year, the month's record for nonsignificant and misleading stock market trends is proverbial.

Present government plans call for installation of air bags by 1973 to protect all passengers.

After Jack and Lee had lived in the house for five years, they decided that what the place needed was a screened porch.

When the Martins finally sold the house in 1969 for $34,000, they paid a real estate broker a $2,000 commission to arrange the sale.

The apparent gain here is obviously $17,000, but that's not the amount on which the Martins paid the tax.

For one thing, the Martins incurred several major expenses in the purchase and improvement of their home.

By subtracting this $22,000 cost from the $34,000 they received for the house, the Martins were left with a capital gain of $12,000.

Still a good-sized chunk, of course, but a far cry from the $17,000 on which they first expected to pay.

Testis by doctors on hundreds of patients showed this to be true in many cases.

Softening Tax Bite

On Sale of House

By RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

Owning your own home is supposed to be one of the best investments for those with limited means.

These are glad tidings, indeed, if you are one of the lucky ones now in a position to cash in your investment.

He is quietly waiting for you to turn a neat profit on the sale, because he is in line for a big chunk of it.

If you buy another house costing as much or more than the one you've sold, you can escape the tax for the time being.

Broadly speaking, your profit on the sale of a house is the difference between what you paid for it and what you sell it for.

Let's take Jack and Lee Martin as an example. In 1960, the Martins bought their first house for $17,000.

The apparent gain here is obviously $17,000, but that's not the amount on which the Martins paid the tax.

For one thing, the Martins incurred several major expenses in the purchase and improvement of their home.

Cowboys Cop Second Victory From Ogden

Four Double Plays Back Hurling Of Bogacki And Hagen For 4-1 Decision

A double steal, two pretty hit-and-run plays and four double plays backed the combined pitching of Dave Bogacki and Gary Hagen Sunday night when the Magic Valley Cowboys moved a full game ahead of the Ogden Dodgers with a 4-1 decision.

The two teams meet again at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday nights, after which the Billings Mustangs come to Jaycee Park for a four-night stand.

The game was one of the few in Jaycee Park this year that lent itself to the managers and both Magic Valley's Paul Snyder and Ogden's Bud Hallowell went to the subtleties rather than the usual swing away.

Magic Valley's first chance came with two away in the fourth when Tom Cox drew a walk. Cox started for second base and Babe Hartline grounded a single through the vacated spot to put him on third. Cox scored on a wild pitch before Howard Duckworth singled Hartline to third. Those two executed the double steal with Hartline sliding in safely—a bobble just before the return throw helping.

Ogden got its lone run in the fifth when Mike Kimbrell walked and was picked off cleanly at first base. Kimbrell lit out for second and rolled into third when the throw to second was into the dirt. He scored on John Snider's single.

The Cowboys added their insurance runs in the sixth on hits by Marc Meno, Hartline (another hit and run shot), Duckworth, and pinch hitting Joe Brookins.

The game also was marked by good defensive play, Ogden third baseman Kimbrell making two fine plays and Jim Rich delivering a perfect strike from well out in centerfield to turn what appeared to be a routine sacrifice fly play into a rutin-killing. The Cowboys infield turned in four double plays with Hartline and Ernie Pedersen each starting two.

Thomsen Continues Meet Play

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—A flight of 21 top name professional golfers, headed by new PGA champion Dave Stockton, will compete with 63 teen-agers Monday and Tuesday in the American pro-youth classic.

The youth portion of the card was determined by two-day qualifications Friday and Saturday. The top teen-aged golfer was Charles Gibson of Rio Bell, Calif., who fired a one-over-par 73 Saturday to go with a Friday score of 75 for a 148 total.

Gibson will play with Mike Hall Monday and his team was paired with pro Bert Greene for Tuesday's round round.

Teaming off with Stockton will be Dennis Stuf-Dillenburg, Paul George Graefe, Sherwood Forest, Md., and Dick Shafer, Corvallis, Ore.

The pros will be shooting for a first place payoff of $10,000 in the $40,000 event, while the younger golfers compete for individual and team trophies.

The tournament is being played at the Twin Hills Golf and Country Club, a 6,700-yard, par-72 course in Oklahoma City.

Twin Falls' Jeff Thomsen, who Saturday made the cut with a 157, will play Monday's round with Hale Irwin before finishing up the tournament Tuesday with George Archer.

Jurgensen's Pinpoint Passing Gives 'Skins 45-21 Romp Over Boston Pats

BOSTON (UPI)—Deadly Sonny Jurgensen passed to rangling tight end Jerry Smith for three touchdowns and added another TD pass to running back Larry Brown Sunday to lead the Washington Redskins to a 45-21 exhibition victory over the Boston Patriots.

The game was interrupted for 22 minutes in the second quarter when a fire—with flames leaping 20 feet high—broke out in an upper section of the stands at Boston College's Alumni Stadium. About 8,000 fans were forced onto the playing field. There were no injuries.

Frank Ryan flipped two yards to end Mack Aliston for one touchdown and running back Bob Brunet, Washington's leading ground-gainer with 62 yards in nine carries, added the final Redskins TD on a one-yard burst. Carl Knight kicked a 42-yard field goal and added the extra points after all six Washington touchdowns.

Carl Garrett, on weekend leave from the Army, scored Boston's first touchdown on a spiraling one-yard plunge, and reserve quarterback Kim Hammond passed six yards to wide receiver Tom Richardson for the second six-pointer.

With 1:17 remaining, former Yale star Brian Dowling, Boston's third-string quarterback tossed 13 yards to rookie fullback Eddie Ray of LSU for the Pats' final tally. Henry Brown kicked two of Boston's extra points and veteran Gino Cappellotti kicked the third.

Jurgensen pierced the Boston defenses for 14 completions in 16 passes, good for 175 yards and the four TDs as the Skins evened their preseason record at 1-1. The Patriots are 0-1.

Proceeds of the game, which attracted a capacity crowd of 25,584, went to Cardinal Richard Cushing's charities for the seventh straight season.

Stockton Has PGA Title By 2 Shots

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Dave Stockton, playing a charmed round of brilliant and bizarre golf, snubbed the pressure of scaring bent and the whoops of "Arlie's Army" Sunday to win the 52nd PGA championship by two strokes.

125-yard eagle and a double bogey on consecutive holes, a spectacular, round-saving shot from the rough on the ninth, and a crucial chip on the 13th, and a series of pressurized putts.

In a second-place tie came Bob Murphy and a disappointed Arnold Palmer, falling once again to win the only major title that has eluded him.

Palmer, hitting the greens with consistency, failed time and again to hole a birdie putt that could have broken the scrambling Stockton. Palmer finished with a 70 for his 281.

including Lee Trevino, who tied the course record of 65. Gene Littler and Larry Hinson tied for fourth place at 72, two-over-par. Littler had a final round of 70 and Hinson had a 68.

Stockton's round was a thing of beauty in spots; a thing of horror in others. He scrambled for two pars and then, with the cries of "Go get him, Arlie," surrounding him, he three-putted the third for a bogey. Stockton got pars on the next two holes, and then entered a sort of twilight zone that brought him at the age of 28 the most important victory of his career.

At the par-three sixth Stockton ran in a 25-foot putt for a birdie. He hit the center of the fairway at the seventh, and, from 120 yards out used a wedge. The ball carried eight inches past the pin, then spun back into the cup for an eagle.

Lakers Take State Slowpitch Title

Coeur d'Alene Squad Defeats Bombers 9-6

The power-hitting Lakers of Coeur d'Alene, forced into an extra game by defending champion Post Falls, turned back the Bombers 9-6 Sunday night to take the Idaho State Men's Slowpitch Softball Championship.

The Coeur d'Alene team took the lion's share of the most awards as firstbaseman Dave Chapman was named the leading hitter with a .727 average (17 for 25) and slugging catcher Greg Hart was named the most valuable player.

BRIAN ENGLE of the Coeur d'Alene Lakers slams into Post Falls firstbaseman Wes Fuller in the Idaho State men's slowpitch title game Sunday night as Fuller stretches for a relay throw from second base. The defending champion Bombers forced the tournament into an extra game but fell to Coeur d'Alene 9-6 in the decider.

Rawls Has Buckeye Golf Win

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Betsy Rawls, a 20-year veteran of the LPGA golf tour, won her 52nd career tournament and received $3,000 for winning the sixth annual $20,000 Buckeye Invitational Tournament Sunday.

Both Post Falls and the Lakers will represent Idaho in the regionals at Spokane which begin Friday. The Bombers drew the defending regional champ — Billings.

Miss Rawls put together rounds of 69-69-72 to finish at 210 over the Royal Oak Country Club, to finish one stroke ahead of Pam Barnett.

The Bombers got 22 hits in dropping the Lakers 15-7 to force the extra game, but Coeur d'Alene, getting homers in the fifth from Hart and Chapman, pulled into a 9-1 lead in the title contest and was never in trouble until the seventh.

She had put one three-putt green in the three-day tourney here and closed with five birdies and 10 one-putt greens. She had four bogeys, including No. 16 hole where she knew all she had to do was two-putt to win.

Turf Club of Twin Falls, the last remaining local team after Sherwoods was eliminated by the Merchants Sunday morning, fell 11-4 to Grasmick Produce of Boise — seeing a last-ditch rally in the seventh just fall short.

The surprise of the tournament was Carol Mann, last year's leading money winner and third this year. She finished out of the money with a 232 total, including Sunday's 77. She won this tournament in 1967 and 1968 and was affiliated with Royal Oak until two months ago.

Grasmick Produce — from Boise — was the only team making the top four that wasn't from the North, taking fourth.

Miss Rawls said she felt she had clinched at the 17th hole when she got down in two putts in 50 feet. She said "artistically while I only hit nine greens in regulation, I was consistent with my chipping and my putter. I haven't putted this well in many years."

Grasmick Produce — from Boise — was the only team making the top four that wasn't from the North, taking fourth.

Salmon's Homer Lets Orioles Tip-A's 2-1

OAKLAND — Chico Salmon hit a towering homer in the fifth inning and Dave McNally won his 15th game with a six-hitter Sunday as the Baltimore Orioles cooled off Oakland 2-1, dropping the A's 4th game behind Minnesota in the American League's Western Division.

Yankees hitless for eight innings the last time he faced them, didn't fare as well in the 91-degree heat this time and was knocked out in the fourth inning after having allowed four runs and seven hits.

Trans-Am Crown Not Clinched

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI) — Vic Elford of England got some help from the rain Sunday to win the two hour Trans-American championship in a Camaro.

Elford's victory kept Mustang from clinching the 1970 Trans-Am championship. Mustang driver, George Follmer of Arcadia, Calif., could do no better than third after a wheel-to-wheel duel with Mark Donohue of Newtown Square, Pa., who finished second in a Javelin.

Stockton to Team With Lee Trevino

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Dave Stockton, winner of the PGA championship, was named Sunday to team with Lee Trevino as the United States representatives in the World Cup golf competition at Buenos Aires, Argentina, Nov. 12-16.

Donohue and Parnelli Jones, in a Mustang, were dueling for first place when a heavy rain hit the course forcing the drivers to make a pit stop to change tires.

Under selection terms set up by the Professional Golfers Association, the U. S. Open champion and PGA champion are named as U. S. representatives for the World Cup, if both are native-born U. S. citizens.

Elford finished 0.8 seconds ahead of Donohue. Despite the rain, the Englishman averaged 103.80 mph during the two-hour event.

Solons 2, Sox 1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Punch-hitter Del Unser's single up the middle in the 8th-inning drove home Ed Brinkman with the winning run as the Washington Senators picked up their sixth straight win, 2-1 Sunday over the Chicago White Sox, who lost their fourth in a row.

Twins 9, Boston 6

BOSTON (UPI)—Bruno Altea, Harmon Killebrew, George Mitterwald and Cesar Tony each belted a home run Sunday to help the Minnesota Twins snap a nine-game losing streak with a 9-4 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Jones, who posted the fastest lap of the race at 110.01 mph, finished fourth just ahead of Peter Revson of New York City in the second team Javelin.

In the Trans-Am point standings, Mustang still leads with 61 followed by Javelin with 49 and Camaro with 39.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stan Bahnsen, coasting behind a three-run New York outburst in the second inning, limited Kansas City to six hits Sunday as the Yankees beat the Royals 5-1.

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Utilityman Ike Brown hit a two-run homer to spark a four-run Detroit first inning Sunday as the Tigers went on to defeat the California Angels 7-1 behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Las Cain.

Pocatello Claims State Title In AAU Diving Meet

RUPERT — Pocatello took the Idaho State AAU diving title at Rupert's Neptune Park Sunday, totaling 111 points to runner-up Idaho Falls 71 and Twin Falls 67.

June Pratt, competing in the senior girls division; and Brady Barbour, 14 and under boys, both of Twin Falls, were double-winners. Brenda Flansh of Pocatello — formerly of Twin Falls, paced the champions with a pair of firsts, along with Margot Briggs. Miss Flansh was in the 8 and under girls division and Miss Briggs in the 15-17 girls.

Glotzbach Captures Yank 400

CAMBRIDGE JUNCTION, Mich. (UPI)—Charlie Glotzbach profited from Cale Yarborough's misfortune Sunday to win the Yankee 400-mile stock car race at Michigan International Speedway, his first major NASCAR victory in two years.

Steve McCain of Rupert led the local team, winning both the one-meter and three-meter senior men's events.

Glotzbach, Georgetown, Ind., led most of the way from the pole position, but had to give up his lead on a pit stop at the 162nd lap. Yarborough, who led briefly earlier, took only three pit stops and was leading Glotzbach by five seconds when the engine of his Mercury blew on the 188th lap.

150 teams participated in the two-day event — 10 teams from around the state. Saturday the divers competed at one meter and Sunday went up to three meters.

Yarborough, from Timmons-ville, S.C., coasted into the infield and saw the rest of the race run under a caution light to avoid oil blown from his wrecked engine.

Glotzbach finished at an average speed of 148.284 miles an hour; a track record despite a new NASCAR rule changing carburetors to cut speed. Officials credited the speed to an absence of accidents. Only the final nine laps were under a caution flag.

Walton tied the game in the eighth inning and Gus Gil delivered a single to score Roberto Pena with the winning run in the ninth Sunday as the Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Cleveland Indians, 4-3, for their fourth straight one-run victory.

Bobby Allison, Hueytown, Ala., was second in his Dodge, as Chrysler Corp. products swept the first six places. Allison had the only car on the same lap as Glotzbach at the end of the race.

Rupert Team Cops Title

RUPERT — Rupert's Raiders defeated the life of Twin Falls 2-2 Saturday night to take the Championship of the Rupert Invitational girls' softball tournament.

The Raiders, sponsored by the Rupert Recreation Department and coached by Ross Husnaker and Wayne Wilko, got two homers in the title game. Bartlett's of Twin Falls was the consolation champion.

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Utilityman Ike Brown hit a two-run homer to spark a four-run Detroit first inning Sunday as the Tigers went on to defeat the California Angels 7-1 behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Las Cain.

Participants were between the ages of 13 and 16 and represented Buhl, Castleford, Jerome, Twin Falls and Rupert in the two-day tourney.

Tigers 7, Angels 1

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Utilityman Ike Brown hit a two-run homer to spark a four-run Detroit first inning Sunday as the Tigers went on to defeat the California Angels 7-1 behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Las Cain.

West Germans Within Ace

DUESSELDORF, Germany (UPI)—West Germany stood within an ace of winning the international Davis Cup final against Spain Sunday after rain forced a second postponement of the third singles match with Christian Kuhne comfortably ahead.
