

Senate Okays ABMs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate gave President Nixon a clear-cut victory Wednesday when it voted to add a third and fourth site to the Safeguard defense against attack by enemy nuclear missiles.

Opponents of the ABM took a worse beating on a fallback proposal to keep development going but limit deployment to two original sites than they did on a showdown last week on a tougher measure.

On a 53 to 45 vote, members rejected an amendment by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., reaffirming the Senate's decision not to restrict the growth of the ABM while Soviet and U. S. negotiators try to reach some arms control agreement.

Defeat of the Brooke amendment, the last to be offered by ABM foes, gave the administration what it believes will be an important bargaining wedge in the arms control talks.

If an agreement is reached at the strategic arms control talks, the ABM may never be fully deployed. U.S. negotiators have offered to forgo or limit Safeguard in exchange for a Soviet agreement to stop building huge SS9 super-missiles said to be a threat to the American retaliatory force.

Protective Missile Safeguard is designed to protect U.S. Minuteman missiles and B52 bomber bases from a pre-emptive Soviet strike that would leave Americans helpless to retaliate from their land-based arsenal.

The Brooke amendment would have barred deployment of ABM radars, computers and missile interceptors at new sites proposed for Whiteman AFB, Mo., and Warren AFB, Wyo.

The $322 million earmarked for these installations would have been used to strengthen installations authorized last year for Grand Forks, AFB, N.D. and Malmstrom AFB, Mont.

Last Wednesday, a tougher amendment that would have cut the $322 million for Whiteman and Warren was defeated 52 to 47.

Bruce Boycotts

PARIS (UPI)—Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, President Nixon's newly appointed chief negotiator to the Vietnam peace talks, boycotted today's 80th session. A spokesman said he was "not going to interpret" the action.

Today's meeting with the North and South Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives would have been Bruce's third session.

Ambassador Philip C. Habib, the deputy U.S. negotiator, told newsmen before leaving the American delegation headquarters he would be heading the delegation in Bruce's absence.

T.F. Mall Gets Colored Walks

TWIN FALLS — Chartreuse sidewalks — or would you call them gold or mustard?

Whatever the shade, the new sidewalks now being poured in the 200 block of Main Avenue East and South are drawing the attention of local residents.

The concrete, mixed with special dye, will keep their color when dry as part of the mall in the downtown improvement project.

City Manager Jean Millar said special exposed aggregate will be in two shades of brown and grey in other areas of the project.

Millar said the downtown area work is moving ahead at a good rate in all three blocks. He said in the easterly block all underground installations have been completed and the new colored sidewalks are being poured.

In the second block underground work is underway, while in the third block much of the grading is complete and the installation of underground lines and utilities will begin shortly.

Israel Wants New Talk Rules

By United Press International Israel has formally asked U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring to start the Middle East peace talks at the foreign minister level and at a site other than New York, diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said today.

Joseph Tekoah, Israeli ambassador to the United Nations, put the requests from Foreign Minister Abba Eban before Jarring at a meeting in New York Wednesday night, the sources said.

The presentation of the request had been delayed by controversy over alleged ceasefire violations by Egypt.

The sources said Israel would appoint its representative to the talks as soon as Jarring replies to its views.

Egypt and Jordan, the other parties to the negotiations, favor beginning the talks in

New York at the ambassadorial level.

Israel Ready to Proceed — Israel was pleased with what it considered Washington's "partial corroboration" of the charges and is now ready to proceed, diplomatic sources in Tel Aviv said today.

In Cairo, an official Egyptian spokesman called the U.S. statement the result of a "campaign of Zionist pressure on the American government and the weakness of that government to the pressure."

The U.S. State Department said Wednesday it found "some evidence" of violations but it was not conclusive. Officials in Washington said the United States warned Russia and Egypt, as it had already warned Israel, that strict observance of the ceasefire agreement was vital to the success of the peace initiative.

Mine Won't Fight Park

POCATELLO (UPI) — Norman Kesten, Wallace, a geologist with American Smelting and Refining Co., said Wednesday his company would not oppose making the White Clouds a national park, if they were still allowed their mineral rights in the area.

He told the Pocatello Lions Club that the proposed operation would take a minimum of 20 years and would pay state and local taxes amounting to $900,000 per year. He said the project would employ 300-350 persons adding to the income of nearly 1,500 persons.

He said there were no plans to start mining the area until two studies conducted by the Forest Service and his firm are completed. He said the studies were being conducted to determine the effect on the aesthetic and recreational values of the area.

He said, "A few hundred people in Idaho who are very articulate are those objecting to the mining, but we don't know what all the people think."

He added, "I think that ASARCO will mine the White Clouds area eventually without polluting. If the salmon habitat would be damaged, we won't mine."

He said the United States must export minerals such as phosphate, molybdenum, coal and uranium in order to import other minerals such as nickel. He added no plans have been made for a pond until studies are completed.

Fish-Game Board Hits Park Plan

TWIN FALLS — The Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association directors voiced opposition to a proposed joint Sawtooth area national park and recreation area at a meeting here Wednesday night. The group recommended the Sawtooths remain in a multiple use category in a recreation area.

The board also called for a moratorium to halt further issuance of mining patents.

"We oppose any idea that the area be developed into a park," John Doerr, board president, said today.

"We urge all interested sportsmen to telegram or write to Idaho congressmen and express their own views."

Science Aide Quits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Lee A. Dubridge, decriing cuts in federal spending for scientific research, resigned Wednesday as President Nixon's chief science adviser.

The White House said he would be succeeded by Dr. Edward E. David, Jr., 45, an executive of Bell Laboratories, Summit, N.J.

The White House made public an exchange of letters in which the President accepted Dubridge's resignation "with deep regret."

The departing director of the White House office of science and technology told reporters that for a long time "he had a horror of remaining in a job beyond retirement age." He will be 70 Sept. 21, and said he plans to retire with his wife to his new home in Laguna Hills, Calif.

Dubridge, former president of California Institute of Technology, praised Nixon's keen interest in science and technology but he added "these past 19 months, have of course, been difficult times in many ways." "One result of fiscal problems has been the slowdown of the nation's scientific and technological enterprise has not been reversed."

"Much of this lag in the past year has been the failure of the Congress to appropriate the amount of funds requested in fiscal 1970 for research."

He told reporters Congress had slashed $160 million below the President's request for college research in the current budget.

Racist Schools Lose Tax Dodge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government revoked the tax-exempt status of 11 private Mississippi schools Wednesday in the first use of a new rule aimed at cutting off contributions to schools established to perpetuate segregation.

The Internal Revenue Service announced the action was taken after the schools refused to remove racial discrimination from their admissions policies.

The main effect of the order will be to disallow income tax

Reds Press Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—A North Vietnamese regiment launched the heaviest Communist attack of the Cambodian campaign today against Phnom Penh's outer defenses. A Cambodian military spokesman said troops were battling at close quarters.

Communiques from Saigon said six Americans were killed when a helicopter crashed during a rainstorm and U.S. 101st Airborne Division troops killed 25 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong just west of artillery base Barnett, one of several Allied bases along the Laotian border under Communist pressure.

The Cambodian command said three reinforced North Vietnamese battalions — about 3,000 men — broke the 10-day battle lull in Cambodia in an assault before dawn against Prek Tameak, nine miles north of Phnom Penh.

The spokesman said the defenders were battling the attackers "face to face" several hours after the attack.

"There have been quite a number of troops on both sides killed in the fighting already," the spokesman said. He gave no casualty figures.

The Cambodians called in mortar-equipped gunboats patrolling the Mekong River in support of the defenders.

The spokesman said air strikes already had been flown against the North Vietnamese. "But so far, the air strikes have not turned the enemy back," he said.

It was the second day of fighting around Prek Tameak. Cambodian troops broke up a Viet Cong unit in three hours of fighting near the village Tuesday night.

The crash of a UH1 Huey troops-carrying helicopter during a rainstorm Monday 15 miles southwest of Qui Nhon and 235 miles northeast of Saigon was the second helicopter and the fourth U.S. aircraft lost in three days.

A U.S. Marine helicopter was shot down 16 miles south-southeast of Da Nang Tuesday, killing all four men aboard, and two F4 Phantom Jets were lost to Communist groundfire. Two pilots were killed and two other crewmen were missing.

New Zealand announced today it would withdraw one infantry company of 144 men from its 500-man complement in Vietnam. Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake said no date had been set for the pullout but it would probably be in November.

River Victim Found

HAGERMAN — The body of Blaine Christopherson, 58, Twin Falls, was recovered Wednesday from the Snake River near here.

Twin Falls County Coroner Cloyce Edwards said a post mortem examination performed on the body revealed the death was by drowning.

Family members told Twin Falls County — officers Christopherson was an excellent swimmer and said he might have suffered a heart attack while attempting to swim to shore after his pickup truck plunged into the river.

Coroner Edwards said an autopsy performed Wednesday afternoon at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital showed no evidence of a heart attack.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the body was located at the southeast corner of a boat ramp a short distance from where he disappeared from sight about 11 p. m. Tuesday.

The body was found by divers Harlan Fillmore and Norman Fillmore and Deputy Ivan Kistler about 12:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Christopherson was attempting to load a boat from the ramp when he backed his truck and camper down the ramp and the rig went into the water.

'Kooks' Credited In Kent Deaths

KENT, Ohio (UPI) — The President's Commission on Campus Unrest was told today that a group of outside agitators — "real kooks" — was involved in the demonstration that led to the fatal shooting of four Kent State University students.

Leroy Satron, the mayor of Kent, told the commission that the ill-fated May 4 campus demonstration was preceded by two nights of disturbances in the northeast Ohio community of 18,000 persons.

"My intelligence indicates there were outside groups in town, real kooks," Satron said. "We feel that outside agitators were involved in some of the activities."

"There was a small percentage bent on destruction. They (were) ... probably not Kent State students."

Satron said thousands of youths flocked into the town on the nights of May 1 and 2 and went on a window-breaking rampage, forcing theaters and restaurants in the downtown area to close.

The Commander of Ohio's National Guard said Wednesday he is "certain" his troops fired into students at Kent State University because they felt their lives were endangered.

When asked how guardsmen decide their lives are threatened, Del Corso replied: "This is basically a self-determination. We can't control the mind of the individual. It's conceivable individual soldiers might be assaulted while in troop formation and fire back, and I am certain that's what happened here."

He added: "I can visualize no commander giving an order to fire into a crowd." The commission, opening three days of hearings on the Kent State shootings, was told earlier that the National Guardsmen were not prepared to deal with the student demonstrators.

"The soldiers were absolutely unprepared for the type of situation in which they were involved," said Revis O. Orlique Jr.

Drugs Don't Cut GI Effectiveness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Pentagon report said today a study of drug usage among U.S. troops turned up no evidence of impairment of readiness of units in Vietnam.

The report by a special task force was made public by Defense Department witnesses as they appeared at a Senate hearing to testify on drug abuse in the military.

The task force concluded that "a serious and growing" national drug problem extended into the armed forces. But it said the extent of the problem was no greater in the military than outside.

Drug abuse by men in uniform "is not such that at this point military readiness is considered to be endangered," the report, dated June 30, said.

At another point it said there was "no evidence" that drug usage has had an adverse impact on unit readiness in Vietnam.

Recreation Program Closes

TWIN FALLS — The city recreation program in Twin Falls has come to a close with this summer one of the busiest and best on record, Howard Johnson, parks and recreation superintendent said today.

Pools in the city including Harmon and Harry Barry closed Sunday evening, and while the pools have been crowded throughout the past two months use had dropped to a minimum the past week end, Johnson said.

Supervised programs and the swimming pools closed a week early this year because schools open a week earlier, but Johnson said a number of youngsters are still using the playgrounds and picnic facilities at the parks, including Shoshone Falls are in use and reservations have been made through September.

This year Dierke's Lake area opened under city operation and swimming is still permitted there. Johnson said the area was heavily used for picnics, swimming and hiking. The swimming area there will close for the season Sunday night, Aug. 30, the superintendent reported. Picnic and park facilities will be open to continued use as is Shoshone Falls.

This was one of the best years the city has experienced at Shoshone Falls, the superintendent added. With a large amount of water going over the falls in the spring, many persons were attracted to the area and tourists including campers and picnic groups have kept facilities in use throughout the summer. Vandalsism was extremely light; and at both Dierke's and Shoshone Falls almost no police problems were encountered.

New Tropical Storm Heads Toward Caribbean Islands

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Tropical Storm Dorothy bore down on the French Caribbean island of Martinique Thursday with winds up to 70 miles an hour.

Dorothy, fourth tropical storm of the year, was expected to pass over Martinique at about noon, slamming the island and nearby Dominica, Desirade and Guadeloupe with full force.

At midnight EDT, the storm was centered about 200 miles east of the island of St. Lucia, near latitude 14.0 north and longitude 67.6 west. It was moving on a course between west and west-northwest at about 17 m.p.h.

Storm warnings and a hurricane watch were posted for the Windward Islands from St. Lucia northward and for all the Leeward Islands.

Residents of the islands in the path of the storm were warned to rush precautions for heavy rains, rough seas, flooding of coastal areas and strong gusty winds.

At the National Hurricane Center in Miami, forecaster

Paul Hobert warned that the storm could become a hurricane quickly. It's in an area that this time of year usually produces rapid intensification. The pressure patterns that normally prevail usually intensify a storm fairly rapidly.

Dorothy blew up in the Atlantic Wednesday, and immediately loomed as a threat to the small islands of the Windward and Leeward chains.

An oak takes 20 years to mature its seed and its average life is 200 to 300 years.

Cereal Tempest

In wintry New England a generation ago, breakfast was a hearty meal and often included hot cereal, ham or pork chops, potatoes and eggs, and perhaps a piece of pie to top it all off properly. Not even Mr. Kellogg would argue that corn flakes compares with THAT in nutrition.

Amateur nutritionists, however, learned that bacon has fat, saturated fat at that, and eggs are rich in cholesterol, which may be bad for the circulatory system.

So, when cereal industry defenders maintain that a nourishing breakfast of Wheaties, combined with milk, sugar, fresh fruit, accompanied by toast, provides as much protein and calories as bacon and eggs, who's going to argue?

As we have felt in our bones all along, there admittedly isn't much to a bowl of dry cereal without milk, sugar, etc. But who eats dry cereal by itself?

Of course, dentists warn against refined sugar as a menace to healthy tooth enamel.

Some say breakfast is the most important meal of the day. We can see why it is so important, there are so many peril-fraught decisions to make, and at a time of day when few of us claim to be at our best, at least until after the first cup of coffee.

Whether the cereal makers or their critics are right is perhaps not too relevant.

More than one generation of Americans has relied largely upon those dry cereals as an essential part of breakfast.

And it is a fact that today's youngsters are taller and sturdier than their parents, who in turn excelled their parents in these criteria of health. So, something must be right with what we have been eating.

The only trouble, most Americans complain, is that too many calories, whether "empty" as charged in whiskey and s-hredded wheat, cause overweight and that is a national problem of excessive dimensions.

It's almost enough to excuse the rare bird who chooses an eye-opener in the morning.

Most of us will go right on eating as we've been doing.

Cats And Dogs

Sociologists and psychologists have their hands full attempting to digest all the forces at work on their subjects. The metamorphosis of human behavior does take some interesting turns.

Dogs, for instance, may be losing their title of man's best friend. One million more cats are now owned by Americans than dogs. Is this an indication man is becoming more docile, or is it nothing more reflective than a trend toward compactness in everything, including animals?

House pets continue to be favorite possessions of Americans. More than 50 million cats and dogs have become dependent upon the American household.

Not only is this a lot of tail wagging, but it proves vividly that Americans, underneath that thin layer of aloof sophistry, are really a bunch of softies.

MR. SPECTATOR

Cost Of Travel

The hardest thing about ending a vacation is having to come back to work. We are more thoroughly convinced than ever that working is a thing apart, and vacations are a thing apart, and that most everyone likes one "apart" more than the other.

But vacations do leave memories. For instance, the one we just ended is the first one taken in a truck with a camper on it. And we — Mr. and Mrs. Spectator, that is — found that it is really an economical way to see what you go to see on the vacation trip.

The drive, from Twin Falls to the Oregon coast west of Portland and then down to Eureka, Calif., and back up the coast to Portland and home, added up to a total of 2,340 miles and we burned a total of 207.8 gallons of gasoline at a cost (including three quarts of oil) of $78.77. Groceries came to $54.10 and camping (parking) areas in either forest preserves or privately owned camping areas, came to $33.50. Laundry cost came to $2.00. This all adds up to $168.77 or an average of $14.06 for each of the 12 nights we were on the road. Looking at it another way, that makes a total cost of $7.03 each per day of travel. Which isn't bad!

And we can prove that, too. We spent one night in a first class motel in California at $21. Dinner cost us $4.25 and breakfast $2.75 in a cafe. That totaled $28 for an overnight stay. And that $21 for a motel room compared to the $2.70 a night average for parking space for the camper. And this included a sewer outlet, electricity and a water connection. Also a view of the outdoors — not four walls!

Then camper traveling is interesting. For instance, our first trip (this one) disclosed lots of different things. We paid from 24 cents to 36 cents for a quart of skim milk, depending on the part of the country we were in. We paid $1 for three grapefruit in Oregon and they are 2 for 49 cents here in Twin. We paid a high of 41.9 cents and a low of 34.9 cents for regular gasoline.

But probably the most interesting are the people you meet, like Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dale of Petaluma, Calif. We parked beside their trailer for a couple of days. They had been at it for three years. You see, they are both retired. He's a former member of the U. S. Navy and she's a former Air Corps Nurse.

Then the shocking things. A Volks Van drove up beside us. Out climbed a man and woman, four children, two cats and a dog. After the dog and the cats were "watered" on a nearby grass, they were brought back to the Van and locked inside it so the "humans" could eat — but not before a baby was taken from the Van: All that mob in one little car!

But we did prove that vacations need not be expensive. We had 13 days of doing what we wanted to do and going where we wanted to go and the total cost came to $168.77.

And that's not burning much

RAY CROMLEY

How Like Their Elders

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Over the past several years, this reporter has had the interesting experience of helping put quite young people in positions of responsibility normally reserved for older men and women.

This has been in a fairly wide variety of civic activities. The young people were chosen, incidentally, because they were needed, because they showed considerable ability and eagerness and because they were in many cases highly critical of the effectiveness of the way things were being run. It is to be noted that, after these young people had held their posts long enough to acquire experience and a feel for what they were doing:

Most did technically highly credible jobs. Some had brilliant and highly original ideas. There was some overconfidence in the delegation of work and somewhat less persistence in follow-through as compared with the older people who had preceded them in the jobs. There was some tendency to discouragement when things didn't work out fairly quickly. There was also a tendency as time went by to shy away from the tedious tasks which form the base for most activities. But these are characteristics not limited to youth.

Most dissatisfactions noted by these very capable young people were concerned with the difficulties inherent in persuading other people to go along with ideas they were convinced should be adopted. They were impatient with people who disagreed with them. But their troubles, primarily, were not with the establishment, but with older and younger people among their "peers." (Remember that in their posts they were on a par with, or over, many older people.)

Most importantly, this reporter found that, among the older people involved, there was a general approval (with some strong-minded exceptions) of the work these young committee chairmen were attempting. This approval, interestingly enough, came through very strongly from members of the group who were themselves very conservative. There seemed to be great rapport between the quite old and the quite young, regardless of political attitudes.

Most of these young people turned out to be quite conservative in their management and in the regulations they issued, however, "radically" they may have talked when they had neither authority nor responsibility.

For example, youth leaders of two teen clubs, with which this reporter was involved, adopted rules of decorum and dress which were as "conservative" as those which the most particular parents would approve. Some rules were, in fact, more stringent than those voted for personal conduct within the conservative church this reporter attends.

In politics, on local issues with which these young people had first-hand experience, they tended to be somewhat on the conservative side, as compared with their elders. (Note that this was after they were close to and directly involved in the local problems for some time.) Before taking their posts and the responsibility, they had been, in their talk at least, considerably more radical.

On issues with which they had no personal experience, they tended on the whole to have the same wide variety of opinions as their elders.

In summary, these young people turned out to be remarkably like the "oldsters" in the range of their beliefs, their strengths and weaknesses.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Gamma Globulin

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son, 22 months old, has low gamma globulin and the doctor said he would have to have four injections four to six weeks apart. Could you explain gamma globulin?

Is this treatment effective for life or will he require more injections in the future? He is subject to frequent high fevers, sore throats, and convulsions. — Mrs. G. R. L.

Our blood — including a baby's — is a complex substance, and contains, among other things, some proteins called globulins.

These are labelled with Greek-letter prefixes, alpha, beta, and gamma, and have a great deal to do with resistance to infection and the establishment of immunity to many things.

Before birth, the infant creates his own alpha and beta globulins but is dependent on the mother for his gamma globulin. After birth, he begins to make his own, but sometimes a baby does not get enough from the mother, and thus is born with a shortage. Or some do not produce enough.

This condition is called agammaglobulinemia (absence of g. g.) or hypogammaglobulinemia (reduced amount).

Thus these youngsters lack full ability to fight off infections, accounting for the fevers, sore throats, and convulsions in your baby's case.

Giving gamma globulin by injection raises the amount in the blood and substantially increases resistance to infection.

Eventually many of these youngsters start producing more gamma globulin of their own. The length of time over which injections are given depends on how soon and how effectively this self-production develops.

Gamma globulin is effective in resistance to most of the bothersome infections caused by viruses as well as some caused by bacteria. In some instances, later in life, gamma globulin is given when one is known to have been exposed to certain diseases — measles, hepatitis, and others — to prevent the disease from being as severe as otherwise it would be.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If there is a mentally retarded child in a family, is it hereditary? Our son goes with a girl whose twin sister is retarded. So is it or isn't it? — Mrs. H. T.

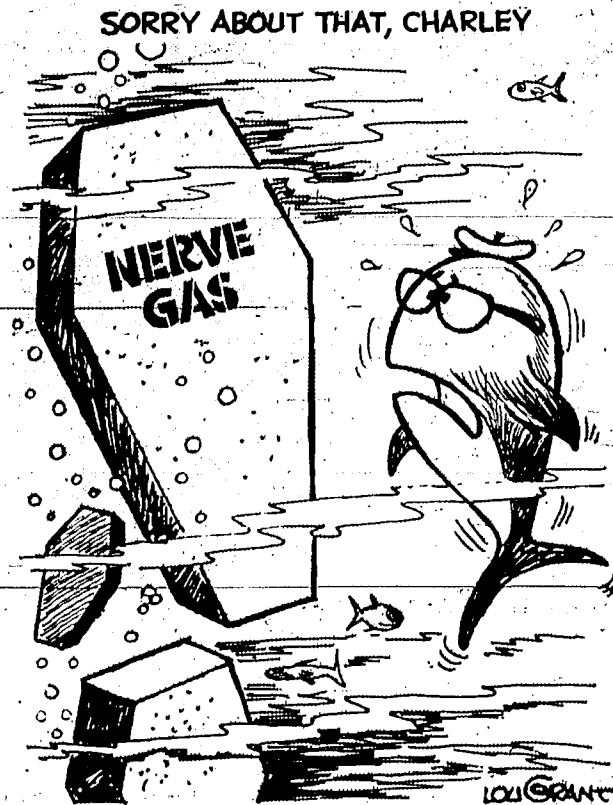

Some retardation is hereditary; much of it is not but is caused by infection, injury, or some influence that occurred before birth — the so-called "birth defects" which result from illness of the mother, or some other factor, while the fetus is developing. (Birth defects from German measles are an example.)

In the case of twins, one retarded and one not, I would venture the opinion that the cause is not hereditary. To cite a well-known case, President Kennedy had a retarded sister, and the Kennedy family was very much interested in research to find causes and preventives of retardation.

Note to L. P.: There is no cure for cataracts, even in early stages, other than surgery. In some instances medication to dilate the pupil can postpone the time when surgery will be necessary and give wider vision temporarily.

"Bad Breath Can Be Corrected" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's booklet explaining the causes and cure of bad breath. For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

PAUL HARVEY

Bittersweet Victory

It's going to be up to your state legislature now, whether women should have equal rights.

Congress—despite the reservations of many congressmen—did not dare vote no to this proposed constitutional amendment in an election year.

But as your state's legislature convenes to consider and finally to decide, maybe it should not be so hasty.

I have protested discrimination against women for a third of a century—but "equality" for them is something else again.

The proposed amendment to our Constitution which your state's lawmakers will have to vote for or against says "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

The "Equal Rights Amendment" is called. And perhaps our country is ready for this. Perhaps those of us who do not want to see "American women" drafted into the Army or required to work in coal mines or denied alimony or protection against rape—perhaps we are old-fashioned.

You remember when Congress passed earlier "civil rights" legislation during another election year, guaranteeing no discrimination in employment; the courts went on to interpret that law as meaning not only that qualified blacks could not be turned away but that industry must in fact employ a percentage of blacks proportionate to their population—qualified or not.

Absurd as it sounds, will we next face similar court orders that coal mines must employ a percentage of women miners? Or that a proportion of women parallel to their proportion of the population must be employed in every occupation?

Next season's Green Bay Packers would be more than half girls. This is not intended to be facetious. You and I know that women have been discriminated against more than has any other segment of our population. Rarely if ever do they get equal pay for equal work.

In some courts in some states in some ways they have lesser rights.

But some laws protect certain rights which are—and I think should be—reserved for women.

One congresswoman did not vote for this amendment. Rep. Leonor Sullivan (D-Mo.) said it would strip women of too many protections which the law now provides.

Maybe Mrs. Sullivan and Paul Harvey are, as accused by some, trying to hold back the dawn. Are we, really?

Gradually—perhaps too gradually—the law has been recognizing and implementing the emancipation of historically discriminated-against Americans.

But when we confused "equal rights" with "equality" the law decreed—male and female—there is no difference any more.

And if that's true, it's no sunrise; it's a sunset.

ANDREW TULLY

Facing It

WASHINGTON — "Let's face it," said the general. "Of course we've got to consider the possibility that our men may have to fight their way out of Vietnam."

It was weirdly frightening. The general was not referring to any last-ditch battles with the Communist enemy, but to the unthinkable — the ugly chance that American troops may find their way home impeded by the South Vietnamese ally. What made it scarier was that the general is one of those officially charged with thinking this unthinkable thought and, shockingly, drawing up plans to meet it eventually.

In short, the American military at the top level has now been forced to take cognizance of worsening relations between Americans in Vietnam and their native hosts. Good will between the allies has always been superficial, but tension has increased since President Nixon began a phased withdrawal of U. S. troops, and in recent weeks there have been attacks on Americans, not only by Vietnamese civilians but by members of the Vietnamese military forces.

Incidents of violence, according to the Pentagon, have increased 600 per cent since January of this year. Most disturbing is the involvement of Vietnamese GI's in such incidents and the tendency of their superiors and of civilian authorities to ignore them. Indeed, the American Embassy last month officially warned Americans not to travel alone in Saigon.

As a result, the Pentagon has felt duty-bound to come up with a secret plan to protect both U. S. Troops bound for home and those remaining behind. "We can't believe there'll be trouble," says the general. "But we have to be ready if there is."

President Nixon, it is said, is confident that phased withdrawal can be accomplished without serious clashes between host and guest. But he is disturbed by the increasing irritability and intransigence of Vietnam's President Thieu and Vice President Ky on the troop-withdrawal issue.

Both have publicly suggested the United States is "deserting" the South Vietnamese after promising to win the war for them. Although his utterances on the subject have been less vigorous than those of General Ky, President Thieu is reported to have encouraged Vietnamese newsmen to criticize the withdrawal. Thieu told one gathering of Viet journalists, "The American troop withdrawal is all wrong. You have the right and duty to say so."

On the other side of the picture, President Nixon has told official intimates he has no intention of "backing down" on troop withdrawal. He will not, he says, "permit a foreign government to formulate United States policy."

Nixon, of course anticipated the problem. In respect, he has reflected the viewpoint of President Kennedy as long ago as 1963.

At that time, the U. S. had only 18,000 "military advisers" in Vietnam. But the record shows that when Kennedy was under pressure to recall them, he replied with some irritation, "How do we get them out? People don't realize it takes time and careful planning to do something like that." Richard Nixon inherited an American force of 450,000 men, fighting a full-scale war, in Vietnam.

Samuelson Opposes Sawtooth Park Plan

By LINDY HIGH
BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson said Wednesday he wanted "no part" of a national park in Idaho and said members of Idaho's congressional delegation had known his feelings "for a long, long time."
"I'm interested in the state of Idaho," Samuelson said during a news conference when asked about a joint proposal from the four members of Idaho's congressional delegation for a combination park-recreation area in the Sawtooths.
The governor said he had always supported a proposal for a Sawtooth National Recreation area but said the economic impact of a park "is too great on our state."
"No hunting, no grazing, there's no management. It's just to lock up a piece of land and see it die," Samuelson said. On other matters, Samuelson said:

intervene in the Canyon County dispute between farm operators and Mexican-American farm workers "If it would get to the point where there would be damage to the state or life or property."
The governor said he was following the Canyon County situation through the Office of Economic Opportunity. He said he had heard "two sides to a story that legal services people" were involved in the workers' demands for higher wages, and said another story he had heard — but had not confirmed — was that "people were brought here from California, for instance, who were here only half a day and then went home."
Samuelson, referring to use of lands in the Sawtooth area, said before any additional land is set aside for any purpose it should be studied for its economic impact "on the county, the state and on the nation." He said such a study could be done by the Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management or the Department of Commerce.

He said he would accept results of a "factual study," but added "I don't want it done emotionally."
He said the study should examine "whatever resources are there. The recreational people should have a chance to show what it will do. We should put some dollar figures on it."
"Idaho doesn't make much of an impact," Samuelson said. "We don't have too much muscle," adding the governor's confidence was valuable because states with common problems worked out solutions which Congress and the administration would use."

When asked about a proposal by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, to abolish the Interstate Commerce Commission, Samuelson said, "sometimes I really believe that would be a good move."

"I've never felt that some of our freight rates were really fair," he said, adding "maybe we ought to throw the whole thing out and start with a whole new concept."

Latin Laborers Protest Wages

CALDWELL (UPI) — A group of picketing Mexican-American farm workers all but halted the harvest on one Canyon County farm Tuesday, appeared at three others, then met to agree on a demand for a minimum $2 per hour wage.
Oscar Guerrero, a spokesman for the striking workers, warned Tuesday's activities could be "a prelude to a general county-wide strike" and said crew leaders were getting support from workers.
More than 300 persons reportedly gathered at the Caldwell labor camp following the visits to the farms to decide on wages. Guerrero said the demand would be for $2 an hour, or $20 an acre minimum, for beet thinning. He said workers now receive $16 to $18.30 for each acre.

The workers also visited the farm of Max Takasugi southeast of Caldwell, where onion operation stopped when 50 to 60 workers left the job to join picketers.
The strikers also stopped at the Paul Yasuda farm southwest of Caldwell and the Ernest Fren fruit farm on Sunny Slope.

Zsa Zsa Robbed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two gunmen robbed actress Zsa Zsa Gabor of jewelry estimated to worth $700,000 in an elevator of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel early today, police said.
Miss Gabor is starring in the Broadway show "Forty Gats."
She was returning to her suite in the Waldorf Towers shortly before 1 a.m. when the robbery took place. Police said the robbers took two 48-carat rings and a set of diamond earrings.
Miss Gabor was not harmed and went with police to a stationhouse to give them an account of the incident.
At the stationhouse a policeman said it was their understanding the jewelry was not insured.

Evaluate Prisons

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho has been chosen as one of the states to take part in a "self evaluation pilot project" designed to offer accreditation to state penitentiaries, according to Lt. Dale Fahy, prison officer.
Fahy said C. Winston Tanksley, Washington, D.C., project director, would lead a three-man team at the Idaho Institution Aug. 25 to brief penitentiary staff members on the program.

Fahy said the pilot program would "not actually offer accreditation" but would see whether such a program could be worked out. He said accreditation for penal institutions would mean "all of them are working on the same level and they will have the same standards."
Fahy said Tanksley would offer a press briefing on the project Aug. 25 between 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

Gem Budget

Deadlines Reported

BOISE (UPI) — Director of the Budget Charles (Jack) Holey told Idaho department heads Sept. 15 is the "absolute deadline" for filing budget requests.
He urged the department leaders to file budget requests, if "you haven't already done so, as soon as possible." He explained Idaho's budget book would be printed a month earlier this year, noting it will be in the first annual budget for Idaho.

Reports Relate Tension

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As the United States and the Soviet Union moved with an accord rare in their history toward a relaxation of world tensions, the headlines reflect the hopes and fears their efforts arouse.

"Moscow-Bonn Treaty—Key to New Europe?" that was one. "French Hall Bonn-Moscow Treaty, But..." was another. Of the Mideast, they declared: "SALT: Some Ground Has Been Broken," declared The New York Times. Said the Christian Science Monitor: "Arms Talks Fall Short of Hopes."

But as one perused these headlines running the gamut, Moscow-to-Bonn, Moscow-to-Peking, Washington-to-Jerusalem, Washington-to-Paris-to-Saigon, it seemed permissible to entertain for at least a moment a small hope that perhaps the world would become a better place in which to live. At least people were talking.

Yet as American forces continue their phased withdrawal from Vietnam and as hopes mount for a new era of peace in Europe, it is well to take a look at history lest euphoria overcome reality.

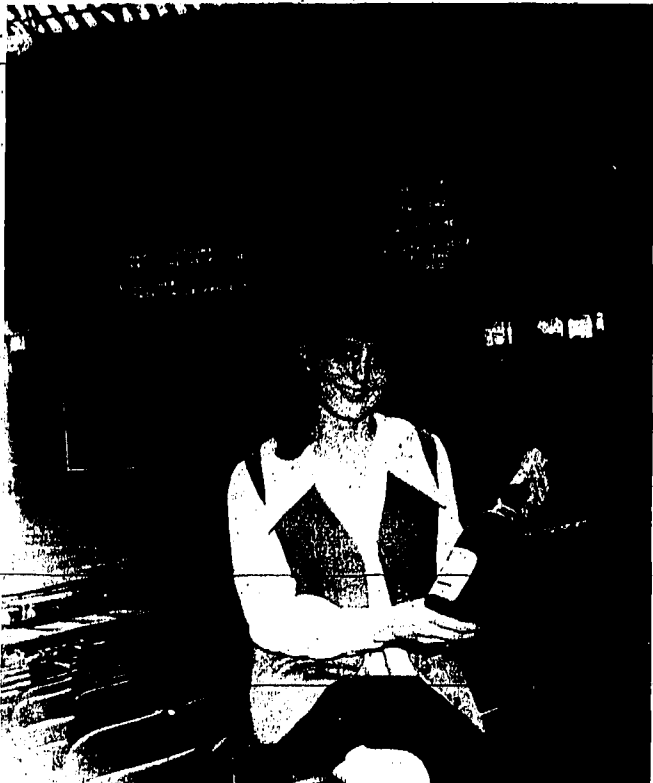

In 1955, the Soviets suddenly agreed to sign a peace treaty with Austria after blocking it for years. It was only part of a peace offensive which had several objectives.

First, the Soviets sought to establish a line of neutral states protecting their western flank from Sweden to Yugoslavia. By various means, including holding out the plum of German reunification, they sought to prevent the rearming of West Germany and to oust the United States from Europe.

The new Moscow-Bonn treaty could indeed be the beginning of a new and peaceful era for Europe.

It also could be a means to woo West Germany away from its close western ties with promises of huge economic gains through trade with eastern Europe and to weaken the West European economic community before it can be joined by Britain.

Soviet Decoration
The Soviet Union's highest military decoration is the Order of the Patriotic War, awarded to high officers of the army for successful campaigns. In 1945, the Russian government awarded this military decoration to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

THE HOUSTON ASTRODOME is one of many major attractions that will play host to this bottle of champagne, displayed by Elsie Parsfor, the AstroDome publicity director. The champagne bottle will ultimately be used by the City of Twin Falls to christen the completed downtown urban renewal project. The AstroDome, which is 208 feet high and large enough to contain an 18-story hotel inside, is considered to be the Eighth Wonder of the World by many sports fans.

German Poison Gas Proves Still Deadly 25 Years Later

KIEL, Germany (UPI)—Poison gas dumped in the Baltic Sea at the end of World War II still distresses, 25 years later, fishermen, tourists and West German authorities.

Prompted by a series of mishaps involving the deadly gas, the government recently ordered an investigation of disposal areas to prevent further accidents.

Danish and West German fishermen have been advised to carry special medicines aboard their boats. Some resorts on the popular north German coast have reported a drop in summer bookings.

Experts say 200,000 tons of chemical weapons manufactured for Hitler's armies were thrown into the Baltic Sea in 1945.

The largest dumping site was southeast of a Danish island called Bornholm, where Russian soldiers sank 100,000 canisters filled with German mustard gas in 300 feet of water.

Of greater concern were three disposal areas off the Danish-German border where German freighters unloaded more than 11,000 tons of gas-filled canisters into water only 90 to 100 feet deep.

Years in the salty sea water corroded canister bindings and set some containers free to bob to the surface—often with serious results.

In April, fisherman Max Matzelt was blinded for three days after he hauled up a mustard gas bomb while fishing.

Bonn announced the defense ministry would send divers to inspect the undersea dumps and a government-owned research ship to test the water nearby. A Kiel scientist has predicted that gas canisters from areas near the Danish border—given the right combination of tides and weather—could be swept southward toward resorts and cities.

In June five children playing on the coast not far from Kiel were burned by a mysterious substance. Authorities were still investigating, but it appears the burns came from mustard gas.

'Monster' Aids Riot Control

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Snipers fired on Broward County Sheriff Ed Stack Wednesday night, and he called in "the monster"—a giant riot control vehicle—to help quell the sixth night of racial violence in the county.

"When they start firing at me, things are getting out of hand," said Stack, who also is running for Congress. "Our men will be armed with loaded rifles tonight and they will respond to force with appropriate force."

Stack said the sniper bullets missed him by six feet.

"If they continue shooting, we're going in there tonight," Stack said. "We won't stand by patiently and let police be fired on without reacting. It's no longer fun and games. We've got to break the back of this thing."

Two black men suffered gunshot wounds and were listed in fair condition in a hospital here today. Neither were shot by police. One of the shooting incidents stemmed from an argument in a grocery store and another involved a man who was shot by a customer as he tried to hold up a tavern, police said.

There was little property damage Wednesday night despite sporadic firebombing, but three patrol cars were hit by sniper fire and two others had smashed windshields from rocks thrown by angry young blacks.

Student Backlash Foreseen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney General John N. Mitchell, President Nixon's chief campaign strategist in 1968, said Wednesday mass participation by students in this fall's election could create a backlash that would hurt the candidates they support.

"If all those kids come off the campuses and campaign for candidate X, it might urge people to vote for the other candidate," Mitchell said during a luncheon with a group of reporters in his office.

Mitchell said most Americans are fed up with demonstrations and picketing and that this would be reflected in the Nov. 3 general election.

A reporter told Mitchell he doubted that students working for candidates in the election would resort to demonstrations or picket lines.

Mitchell answered that there did not need to be a strategy of demonstrating or picketing for the possible backlash to come into play—"just an identification" with students who had participated in such activities.

Noting that such a backlash could hurt either Republican or Democratic candidates, Mitchell said, "There will be a lot more crossover voting than ever before."

"Hardhats in the construction industry who have been sold in the Democratic camp are certainly taking new looks, for example," Mitchell said.

Nixon Flies to Mexican Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon left today for a 28-hour visit to the Mexican resort of Puerto Vallarta and talks with President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz on such problems as a wandering border and illegal drug traffic.

The trip afforded the President and Mrs. Nixon an opportunity to visit the country where they honeymooned 30 years ago. They will stay in a pastel villa overlooking the Pacific and picturesque Vallarta Bay which normally is occupied by a furniture dealer from Santa Barbara, Calif.

Several Cabinet officers accompanied the President, including Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who coordinates the American part of the joint efforts to stem the flow of heroin and marijuana from Mexico.

The White House said the talks would be a continuation of those begun when Nixon and Diaz Ordaz met Sept. 8 at the Amistad Dam on the border.

Two working sessions between the American and Mexican delegations were expected to focus on the territorial differences caused by the shifting Rio Grande, and on Operation

Cooperation, the joint effort to halt drug smuggling.

Trade and immigration and a new agreement on dividing the waters of the Colorado River also were expected to figure in the talks.

The shifting Rio Grande has been a continuing source of territorial disputes between the United States and Mexico and the two leaders were expected to seek a method for more permanently demarcating the border.

Mexico formerly was credited with being the source for approximately 80 per cent of all marijuana smoked in the United States and the route for about 20 per cent of the 2.5 to 3 tons of heroin annually smuggled into the United States.

Operation Cooperation, a joint effort at border surveillance, is credited with choking off much of this traffic and the discussions will center on expanding and improving the procedures.

The Nixons will fly to the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., Friday afternoon for a 15-day working visit which will end Labor Day weekend.

Air Fare Cut Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A reduction of up to 50 per cent in airline fares for elderly passengers traveling in the middle of the week would be authorized under legislation introduced Wednesday by Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah.

Moss, joined by 18 cosponsors, urged that legislation be passed to give airlines the same authority to grant reductions to persons aged 65 or over that they now have for selling half-price tickets to ministers.

Airlines currently grant 50 per cent reductions to youths and military personnel traveling on a stand-by basis but the low rates are not specifically authorized by law.

The Utah Democrat said he had written to the airlines urging lower fares for "senior citizens" but they had told him action by congress would be necessary.

The reduced fares for persons under the age of 22 have been challenged in the courts as being discriminatory against people in other age groups.

Costly Toilets Reported

BOISE (UPI)—According to an Idaho Statesman newspaper report Wednesday two rest room structures being built on opposite sides of Interstate 80 North at Black's Creek east of the city are costing $132,477.

District Highway Engineer William Sacht said the cost includes $24,000 for a clinderblock restroom facility off the eastbound lane and $25,400 for another structure off the westbound lane.

He said the high costs do not include sewer systems and added the charges are no more from bids similar facilities along the interstate throughout Idaho and in the nation. He said the bids did not include ready been acquired by the Highway Department.

He said one of the items that makes construction so high is, "we have to construct the buildings so they cannot easily be vandalized."

According to a Boise building contractor the same amount would construct a four-bedroom house with a family room, fireplace, fully carpeted rooms and a kitchen with all the modern appliances. He said there would still be enough money left over for recent brick.

Sacht said the cost for the shaded picnic tables are too high at $1,000 per unit. The federal government pays 92 per cent of the cost.

The eastbound facility is designed to be obsolete in 10 years and another will be constructed nearby.

Park Shut To Rout Hippies

FARMINGTON, Utah (UPI)—In an effort to route "undesirable characters" from the Davis County Park, county commissioners Wednesday ordered it shut down.

The commissioners told Sheriff Ken Hammon to lock the park's gates and put up "no trespassing" signs until they can pass ordinances to cover law violators in the heavily wooded area.

Sheriff Hammon asked for the closure, saying one girl was raped in the park a week ago and another youth was assaulted by "one of our local longhairs."

Five persons reportedly have been arrested in connection with the rape, but charges have not been filed against the "longhair."

Mother Doubts Mary Jo Affair

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Joseph Kopchne said Wednesday talk of romance between her daughter and Sen. Edward Kennedy was "just plain silly" and the senator did his best to save Mary Jo from drowning in Chappaquiddick Pond.

Mrs. Kopchne, in a copy-righted story in the current issue of McCall's magazine, also was critical of two Kennedy aides for not immediately reporting the accident and of the Inquest judge for implying Kennedy had not told the whole truth about the tragic affair.

She said she was writing the McCall's story to end speculation and "the ugly rumors that have been torturing us," since Mary Jo, then 28, drowned July 1, 1969, when a car driven by Kennedy plunged off a bridge on Chappaquiddick Island, Mass.

"Among Mary Jo's boy friends," Mrs. Kopchne said, "there was not one named Sen. Edward Kennedy. All those stories about a romance between the two of them are just plain silly. She got to know him only after Robert Kennedy's death; and even then, she rarely saw him."

In fact, Mrs. Kopchne said, Mary Jo was in love with a foreign service officer she wanted to marry.

Mrs. Kopchne took strong exception to the report issued by Edgartown District Judge James A. Boyle who presided at the inquest into the drowning and its related events, calling it "very hurried and inappropriate."

She said she and her husband talked to other girls at that party and said one of them definitely heard Mary Jo ask for a ride to the ferry.

Officer's $19,000 Schooling Dropped

BOISE (UPI)—A $19,140 request to pay for one year of schooling for a state police officer was rejected Wednesday by the State Board of Examiners.

The board, composed of Gov. Don Samuelson, Attorney General Robert Robson and Secretary of State Pete Cenarrusa, returned the application to Law Enforcement Commissioner Warner C. Mills and asked that justification for the large expenditure be clarified.

The request asked for state funds of $7,000 to match $12,050 to send Sgt. Richard Foote, Idaho Falls, to Northwestern University's traffic planning course.

Among itemized expenditures in addition to his full state salary, he would have received $300 for rent for his family of seven; food allotments; $2,100 tuition and $250 for books; and travel expenses totaling $697.

Ship 'Hijackers' Admit Error

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Charles Manson is their hero. Violent revolution is their cause. But Clyde McKay and Alvin Glatowski, the two Americans who hijacked a U.S. munitions ship to Cambodia five months ago, stand little chance of meeting Manson or joining the battle to "overthrow the pigs," they say control the United States.

They are prisoners of the Cambodian Government. During the last three months McKay and Glatowski have been confined to a rusting World War II landing ship moored in the Mekong River beside the Chru Changwar naval base two miles east of Phnom Penh.

American and Cambodian officials have not talked to them in an official capacity since they diverted to Cambodia the U.S. merchant ship Columbin Eagle, which was carrying war materials to U.S. bases in Thailand.

Silence has answered their requests for political asylum. Written pleas to Premier Lon Nol for permission to visit diplomatic missions in Phnom Penh to arrange asylum in "a country that does not have an extradition treaty with the United States" have not been acknowledged.

McKay, 28, of San Diego, Calif., and Glatowski, 20, of Long Beach, Calif., admitted in an interview that they picked the wrong time to hijack the ship. The day after they sailed the vessel into Kompong Som (Sihanoukville), the 15-year-old regime of Prince Norodom Sihanouk was overthrown and war broke out with the Vietnamese Communists. But the two merchant marines, described by a crewman of the ship as "pot-smoking, pill-popping hippies," said they have no regrets over their actions as part of a plan to set up a center here for American military deserters from Vietnam.

Their guards, they said, bring them whatever they can pay for, including marijuana, which is in plentiful supply. "We get marijuana in our ducks' egg soup. Great flavor," Glatowski said.

In reply to one question, McKay said: "I think we have reinforced our views since coming here. We came to a country that was neutral for a long time and it seems that through their meddling, the United States has extended to war to Cambodia.

"It seems that there is nowhere in the world that is safe. We thought that the third world might be a refuge sooner or later. But it's not," Glatowski said. "I am prepared to return to the United States with a gun to participate in guerrilla warfare. Today there are many organizations in the United States having guerrilla warfare.

"The heads (drug addicts) are joining other oppressed minorities. Manson was starting that."

"Manson is a good American revolutionary."

Speaking for both of them, Glatowski said: "We are Marxist revolutionaries... without an American revolution today. But it's building up."

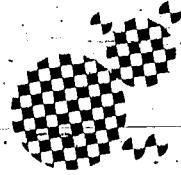

A DELTA ROCKET carrying a British military communications satellite blasts skyward toward space from Cape Kennedy on Wednesday. The spacecraft, dubbed Skynet, was propelled into an accurate preliminary orbit. The British government will pay the U.S. space agency $4.6 million for the launch. (UPI)

No Woodstock

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Gov. Dewey Bartlett said it cost the state $32,500 to close the Turner Falls Rock Festival before it began. The governor says it was a bargain.

"This was far less than it would have been if we had tried to provide services for the 30,000 persons," Bartlett said Tuesday. "But far more important is the fact we maintained respect for law enforcement." He also said it was good field training for National Guard troops who patrolled the area to keep festival goers away from the park.

A NEW SAND BEACH, man-made and paid for with local apportionment of the boat license fees, was among improvements inspected Tuesday by Twin Falls County commissioners on tour with Clark Kleinkopf, far right, member of the county Water Ways Commission. Others from left watching as a boating party prepares to leave from the much-used dock are Heber Longmiller, commission chairman, and William Chancey and Morris W. Carlson, commissioners.

Boat-License Fees Put To Work

TWIN FALLS — Boat license fees, part of which are returned to the local governments, are at work in Twin Falls County. An example of what the county Water Ways Commission members are doing with local portions of the fees can be seen at the Shoshone Falls boat dock where several improvements have been made this season. Clark Kleinkopf, commission secretary, took county officials on an inspection tour of the area on Tuesday where a sandy beach has been constructed on the bank of the river for the benefit of water skiers and youngsters. Mr. Kleinkopf said 45 yards of gravel were hauled in for a base and between 80 and 100 yards of sand were brought in to form the beach. The commission member said Larry Fairbanks hauled the sand for the county at a discount. Boat docks already in the area are maintained under the commission's program. A concrete boat landing was added recently, and a lifeline of galvanized pipe across the river to keep swimmers and water skiers from going over Shoshone Falls was also installed.

To keep the area in good condition, about 45 feet of drain tile have also been installed. Should sand indicate it will wash away, Kleinkopf said a retaining wall will be built next year. He said about $8,000 to $7,000 is received in the county each year from boat licensing. Other recent projects include the new gravel road into the Salmon Falls boat docks and fishing area which required about 1,500 yards of gravel and several weeks of labor. Needed at the Shoshone Falls boat landing and being planned for future projects is development of new parking areas. Kleinkopf said on week ends the area is so crowded that many vehicles and boat trailers are unable to get into the area. Another problem is the litter from heavy use of the facility, and the commission member said trash barrels are being purchased and an agreement has been made with Twin Falls City for picking up trash.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

JEROME — Esther Louise Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. West Stone, and Glen Dwight Ferrel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ferrel, all Jerome, were married July 20 in rites at the Grace Baptist Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Robert Seaman performed the evening ceremony before a background of white gladioli tied with blue ribbons and white tapers in wrought iron candelabra.

Frank McMullin, Twin Falls, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Tom McGinnis, soloist and sister of the bridegroom.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor length gown of white bridal satin and Chantilly lace, fashioned with an empire waist highlighted by a satin bow, round neckline, lace bodice and sleeves scalloped at the wrists. A detachable lace chapel train fell from her shoulders. The gown was made by the bride's mother.

The bride's veil of silk illusion was gathered to a delicate crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gladioli and daisies surrounding an orchid.

Genny Stone, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Ralph Ormer, Twin Falls, and Mary Stone, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Kristi Elliott and Gale Ferrel, brother of the bridegroom, were candlelighters. Peggy Elliott was flower girl and Timmy Elliott was ringbearer.

Dan Baughman served as best man and Dan Stone and Clay Stone, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Cheryl Hine, Twin Falls, presided at the guest book and Joymae Robbins and Bonnie Hine, both Twin Falls, arranged gifts at the reception following the ceremony.

A white cloth covered the bride's table which was centered with a three-tiered heart shaped cake decorated with aqua roses and swans. Topping the cake was a miniature bride couple used on the 30th wedding anniversary cake of the bride's great-grandparents 30 years ago. Heart-shaped cakes flanked the larger cake.

Serving were Ann Gring, Patti Hall, Mrs. McGinnis and Mrs. Don Elliott served.

After a wedding trip to Sawtooth Valley, the couple will reside in Jerome and the bridegroom will attend the College of Southern Idaho this fall.

Special guests were Rev. and Mrs. Robert Gring and children, Republic of Congo, aunt and uncle of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. F.C. Stone, Palo Cedro, Calif., grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Collier, San Jose, Calif., aunt and uncle of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Elliott, Redding, Calif.

Happy Hour Club Meets In Murtaugh

MURTAUGH — Mrs. Henry Petersen was hostess for the recent meeting of the Happy Hour Club, with Mrs. Veeta Wilhite as co-hostess. Advantages and disadvantages of unions were discussed.

Mrs. Robbie Deahl, Twin Falls, received a wedding anniversary gift from her secret pal and also the special game prize.

Mrs. Morris Lattimer reported doing something special for a shutin this month. A family hamburger fry was planned for 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the Twin Falls Idaho Power park.

The group spent the afternoon making yarn and lifesaver dolls.

The next regular meeting will be held at 1 p.m. Sept. 23 at the home of Mrs. Jack Gentry, Twin Falls.

Albion Miss, Osterhout Exchange Nuptial Vows

ALBION — Marcia Brackenbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brackenbury, Albion, and Danny Osterhout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Own Osterhout, Declo, were united in marriage in evening rites at July 31 at the Albion LDS Chapel.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop Ernest Clark of the Albion LDS Ward in a setting of beauty baskets of pink gladioli and white carnations. Background music was played by Mrs. Jay Nielson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length white satin wedding gown accented with lace overlay. The gown featured a high neckline with full lace sleeves cuffed at the wrists.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion, edged with lace, was secured by a scalloped bonnet tiara. She carried a cascading bouquet of baby pink roses with white carnations tied with white satin ribbon.

Valerie Brackenbury, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Genie Hatch and Linda Clark, friends of the bride.

Larry Osterhout served as best man and ushers were Randy Brackenbury, brother of the bride, and Gaylen Osterhout.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds were honored at a reception held in the Albion LDS Church Cultural Hall. Debbie McClelland registered the guests.

A white lace cloth covered the bride's table which was decorated centered with a three-tiered white wedding cake decorated in pink flowers, white doves and bells, carrying out the pink and white color scheme of the wedding decorations. A miniature bride and bridegroom in an arch topped the cake. Mrs. Glen Taylor, grandmother of the bride, made the wedding fruit cake which was cut and served by Mrs. Jay Nielson. She was assisted by Mrs. Glen Clark, Mrs. Taylor, Marijane Jolley, Beth Reed and Mrs. Jackie Hutchison, aunt of the bride.

The guests were served at quarter tables covered with pink cloths edged in white lace and centered with snifters containing floating pink carnations.

Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Kay Harper and Mrs. Denny Whitaker, aunts of the bride; and Dona Jo Osterhout. Leo Bell, master of ceremonies, announced the numbers for the musical program and an original poem dedicated to the bride and bridegroom.

The young couple took a wedding trip to Sun Valley. They are residing at Declo, where Osterhout is employed at the Mobile Service Station. This fall he plans to attend the College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls. Guests attended from Almo, Elba, Malta, Albion, Heyburn, Declo and Salt Lake City. The bride was honored with a pre-nuptial grocery shower and a personal shower.

Rev. Del Storey performed the evening ceremony before an arch of blue and white carnations. Cathedral baskets of white gladioli, blue delphiniums and yellow pompons flanked the arch. Blue topiary trees led to the arch and blue satin bows decorated each pew.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white alencon lace gown which she designed and which was made by Mrs. Norman Olsen.

The gown featured a scalloped neckline and fitted bodice underlaid with white satin. The full skirt had an overlay of lace that opened in the front, with tiers of lace in the back ending in a train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a mantilla headpiece of lace petals and pearls. She carried a formal cascade bouquet of white gladioli centered on a white Bible.

School Authorities Stress Effect of Television

NEW YORK (UPI)—By the time they start school authorities estimate first graders have already watched 4,000 hours of television.

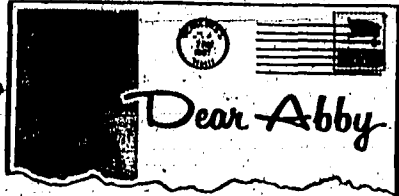

and others that would have struck first graders of yesterday generation as jaw-breakers. The "fascination with television continues through the elementary grades and sometimes beyond, studies have established.

The same can't be said for their attention to spelling and definitions of all the words that hit their ears. By the time the youngsters reach junior high school, there comes the serious business of reading deep books with unfamiliar words. At that point many only have a fuzzy idea what some of the words might mean and, presto, a great guessing game commences. The biggest guessers eventually need help from a corrective reading instructor.

Donald B. Hofer, associate professor of reading, Community College of Baltimore, once was such an instructor at the Middle River Junior High School in that city. In a report in the National Education Association (NEA)

Journal he urges teachers to watch out for words that confuse students in this guessing game. The words sound familiar. So the guesses seem respectable to the students.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, married with a five-year-old son. My husband brings home Playboy magazine, which is not unusual for a man, but yesterday I saw our son sitting quietly, looking at the pictures.

I didn't yank the book away from him, I just told him that the book was "new" and his father hadn't read it yet; so he had better give it to me, which he did, but reluctantly. (He said he liked looking at the pictures.)

Abby, I am not old fashioned. When my son asks a question about sex, I try to answer him the best I can for his age with the truth. This is hard for me to do because I never heard one word from my mother about sex.

I know some women don't like for their husbands to look at Playboy, but I really don't see anything wrong with it. But how about my son? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: I can't see anything wrong with a five-year-old boy looking at Playboy. It could, however, lead to disappointment and frustration when he reaches manhood and discovers all girls are not built like those he has seen in the centerfold.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is shy about disrobing in front of me. He covers up fast if he hears me coming. He sleeps in the altogether, but he never takes all his clothes off until the lights are out. I have never seen all of him, except for an occasional accidental glimpse. We have been married for 19 years, and believe it or not, we have a family.

After so long, I wonder if there is something wrong with him for being that way? Or is there something wrong with me for wondering? CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: The only thing "wrong" with your husband is his attitude about nudity. It's the way he was reared, no doubt. Since it doesn't seem to hamper your relationship, don't let it bother you. Maybe he's saving "all of himself" for your 25th wedding anniversary.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know who started that silly rule of etiquette that one should always leave "something" on his plate. To me, it's wasteful and sinful. If someone is served more than he can eat in a restaurant, it's understandable, but when I see people pile up a plate full of food and then leave half of it, I think it just shows their ignorance and greediness. What do you think? HATES WASTE

DEAR HATES: Agreed. Anyone who helps himself, and then leaves half of it on the plate, may as well tell his hostess that her food wasn't nearly as good as it looked.

DEAR ABBY: Here is one secretary who really saw red when she came across that letter from "THE BOSS' WIFE" who was "jealous" because her husband "honored" his secretary during National Secretary Week.

She said the bosses send their secretaries flowers and take them out for lunch and dinner. Where did this happen? I didn't get any flowers, and as for the lunch and dinner treat—my boss didn't take me, I took him, along with about 30 other secretaries who took their bosses. And by the way it was a luncheon for secretaries who wanted to honor their bosses. And it came out of our pockets, not theirs.

So if you want to be jealous, all I can say is, "Eat your heart out," ... if you have one. SCRANTON, PA., SECRETARY

Sure Winner! Woman Radio Officer Lands Carrier Job

by Marian Martin

LONDON (UPI)—The new radio officer of the iron ore carrier Duncraig is a pert Canadian who promised her boyfriend she won't have a guy in every port.

"He's teased me a lot about that sort of thing," said Dallas Bradshaw, 28, first woman to become an officer of Britain's merchant marine fleet.

The petite brunette from Victoria, British Columbia, began training for the radio officer's post shortly after arriving in Britain six years ago, but all the positions on Scandinavian lines—the only ships which accepted women at that time—were filled when she finished her schooling. Finding other lines that would accept a woman radio officer took time.

"I waited for about two years before I was offered this job," she said. "Then, wouldn't you know, I got hit by a dock strike." She was referring to Britain's nationwide dock strike which closed ports to all ships, including the Duncraig, for two weeks.

It was Aug. 13 before she went on board the 15,000-ton ore carrier for her first cruise.

"A radio officer's not just a key basher, tapping out Morse code all day, you know. I'll be very concerned with safety at sea with a continuous watch on the 500 kilocycle band—that's where distress signals and weather warnings are broadcast," Miss Bradshaw said.

"Of course, I'll deal with any traffic going out of the ship or messages coming in and I have to be able to fix anything that goes wrong with the transmitting and receiving equipment—that's why in training, you have two years of theory before you begin practical," she said.

The Canadian rly, who said she decided to become a radio officer because she "wanted to go to sea," said the Duncraig regularly calls at ports in Russia, Norway, Venezuela, Canada and parts of Africa.

Forest Hazard Soars

TWIN FALLS — Burning conditions continue in the high range on most of the Sawtooth National Forest, local fire control officers said Wednesday, with a few small fires reported this week.

Dee Hansen, dispatcher, said about eight acres were covered Sunday in a fire Sunday south and east of Oakley. Part of the burn was in the forest and part outside. Monday a fire was reported out of control in the dump area at Pett Lake in the northern region of the forest.

Hansen said the local B-28 tanker was sent to South Dakota Tuesday to assist and remain on a standby basis because of fires there which required all available air tankers.

Inter-regional crew members who went to Wyoming last week to assist on the Shoshone National Forest blaze are now in the Red Lodge, Mont., area where a large fire broke out several days ago.

Hansen said two Spanish American crews of 25 members each were sent to the Targee National Forest near Driggs where a serious fire is reported under way.

What They Symbolize

The 36 Doric columns of one of our greatest national shrines—the Lincoln Memorial—symbolize the 36 states of the Union that the Emancipator helped to save.

Anybody can make a hard liquor. A soft whiskey is something else.

The difference between hard liquor and soft whiskey is more than just a matter of taste.

What makes Calvert Extra soft is the way it is distilled and blended.

So while soft whiskey has a unique taste, it is also as smooth and mellow as the best imported Scotch and Canadian. It took us many years and thousands of experiments to develop the unique taste of soft whiskey.

It wasn't easy. But we think you'll agree it was worth it.

Shopping Center Nears Completion

FILER — Work on Filer's new Fair Way shopping center is progressing well ahead of schedule with several of the first business houses to open about the first of September.

The first building to be completed on the site of the shopping center on Highway 30 across from the high school, is the grocery which will be managed by Max Henry, former owner of the Courtesy Market which was destroyed by fire last year.

The second building in the center is now being constructed and should also be completed about the first of the month. It will contain a three-chair barber shop to be operated by Ralph Eaton, who presently maintains a shop on Filer's Main Street.

The building also will have a real estate office of "Tex" Bristol, another office, storage room and rest rooms. The L-shaped building will have laminated beams extending out with cross members, leaving an open space for planters. It will have a pitched roof of colored rock and will feature some rock trimming.

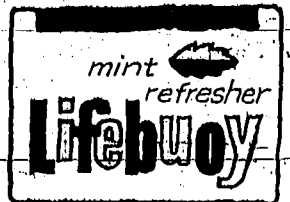

A new Fair Way sign was erected this week at the center, and new laminated posts and chain fences have been installed.

LITTLE DARENA FENSTERMAKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Fenstermaker, Burley, proudly accepts the autograph from Merle Haggard, America's leading country-western selling artist, prior to the Country

Western Jamboree Wednesday night in Burley. The jamboree, featuring the Haggard show which officially opened the Cassia County Fair and Rodeo, was attended by approximately 6,000 persons.

6,000 Country Music Fans Attend Jamboree

By NORMA HERZINGER
Times-News Staff Writer
BURLEY — If it's country-western folks, don't knock it — it's here to stay.
This fact was quite obvious Wednesday night at the Country Western Jamboree when approximately 6,000 persons attended, with an additional 1,000 more turned away for lack of seating space.
The jamboree, sponsored by the Burley Exchange Club, opened the Cassia County Fair and Rodeo and featured the Merle Haggard show, with Magic Valley's own Holly Houtberg as master of ceremonies. Others on the show included Bonnie Owens, Lynn Anderson and Haggard's country-western band, "The Strangers."

Well-known Haggard songs, "Swinging Doors," "The Bottle Let Me Down," "Mama Tried" and "Oke From Muskogee" brought him two standing ovations at the conclusion of the show. "The first such ovations noted for this type of program in our area," Houtberg noted.
Haggard's early background leaves a lot to be desired. He spent nearly 10 years in and out of reform schools, road camps, homes for delinquent boys and finally three years of a 1-15 year term in San Quentin. Merle was released at age 22 and since that time has firmly made his way in the music field, not only as a singer, but as a song writer and guitar player.

His Capitol records, singles and LPs, have sold in excess of 3,000,000. All 15 Haggard singles released have been charted and eight reached the No. 1 position, with all 15 of his LPs being charted, with seven reaching the No. 1 position.
His next record to be released is "Sidewalks of Chicago" and "I Can't Be Myself."
Haggard's group plans to spend a couple of days in the Magic Valley area, resting and doing some fishing before going to their next performance at Valley Music Hall in Salt Lake City.
When asked when his next appearance in the Magic Valley would be, he stated possible next year in the Twin Falls area.
"100 Years of Progress" is this year's Cassia County Fair theme, with events scheduled through Saturday. The rodeo is set at 8 p. m. tonight, Friday and Saturday, with a new rodeo queen crowned the final night.
Members of the Exchange Club have been working feverishly for several months in preparation of the jamboree, building additional benches and chairs, promotion, etc. From the capacity-plus crowd that attended it was obviously a job well done — considering the club membership of the group is only 22.

Gooding Seeks Bids for Senior Citizens Housing

GOODING — The Gooding Senior Housing Association has issued a call for bids on the construction of phase I of the Senior Citizens housing units in Gooding.
Lauren Shaver, president of the group, said phase I would be built on the corner of Fourth and Idaho Streets and would consist of eight living units — two duplex units and one fourplex unit.
The new housing will serve primarily those 62 years and older and will be rented on a monthly basis.
Ivan Stone and Associates,

Twin Falls architectural firm, designed the plans for frame and brick units and will feature electric heat, carpet, some appliances and will be of no-step design.
Farmers Home Administration has granted a loan to the Gooding Senior Housing Association and all work will be done to their specifications.
Plans may be viewed at the Gooding city office or may be obtained from Stone and Associates, Twin Falls.
Bids will be opened at the Gooding city office Friday, Sept. 4, at 8 p. m.

Burley Chamber Hears Report on BLM Plan

BURLEY — Dwayne McAndrews and Bill Crane, both members of the Water Resources Board presented their views on the classifications of lands under the proposed Bureau of Land Management plan during the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting.
The Water Resources Board is opposed to the proposed classifications by the BLM.
The two officials said in Idaho there are several thousands of acres of land that could be put into production under irrigation, and in some areas, there is water for the land and other areas wells would be needed. Presently a desert entry could be filed upon and if the BLM refused the filing, the case could be taken to court.
"If the proposed BLM classification goes into effect and a person or corporation filed on land and it was denied, that would be the end of it for there is no way or law to get the filing into court for a hearing," Crane told chamber members.
Public land should be turned

Blood Drawing Slated

FILER — Filer's annual bloodmobile drawing will take place from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m., Wednesday in the American Legion Hall.
Quota is again set at 75 units, according to Barney Carlson, area chairman.

Since the summer drawing tends to fall short due to many farmers not wishing to donate blood during the heavy work season, a special appeal is being made this year to students and young people in the 18 to 21 year age group.
Due to recent legislation, these young people are no longer required to have written parental consent to donate blood, Carlson pointed out.

Truck Goes Off Highway

BLISS — Arthur C. Bosselman, Boise, a driver for the Blackline Asphalt Co., Tuesday lost control of the semi-truck and trailer he was driving which was loaded, due to brake failure.
The truck went the narrow pit on the right hand side of the road for 1.125 feet before striking a rock wall, causing the tank and trailer to roll one and a half times. He was going east and the accident was six miles east of Bliss.
Jim Burke, Gooding County Sheriff's office, said a crane was brought to the area from Twin Falls and officers directed traffic in the area for five hours.
The truck and trailer were demolished. Bosselman was not injured.

Fish, Game Aide Talks In Filer

FILER — Charles Blake, Idaho Fish and Game Commission, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Filer Kiwanis Club at the United Methodist Church.
Mr. Blake talked of the decline of sage grouse in Idaho and showed slides which showed the decline of the fowls resulted from sparse grass habitation, which in turn stemmed from less-than-usual rainfall some years. The speaker was introduced by Everett Andrews, program chairman.
The Utah-Idaho district convention for Kiwanis will be held Sept. 11-13 at Vernal, Utah. Richard Schweltzer and Bill Heaps were appointed delegates to represent the Filer club.
Guests included Hugh Farmer, "Whit" Murphy, Mike Tucker and Jim Reynolds.

He said it is increasing and a heavy visitor load anticipated in August and September. Most users, he said, are cooperating in keeping the area free of litter. He said litter bags for packing out refuse are available at all registration boxes.

Blaine Group Hears Report On Big Wood Flood Project

HAILEY — The first of two reports by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers on the Big Wood River Flood Conditions was presented to the Blaine County Zoning and Planning Commission Tuesday evening.
The two men explained to the 40 persons who attended the meeting, with the plate, that the area next to the river needs more extensive "flood" work in some areas, but only with Corps of Engineers approval. The "intermediate regional flood area," farther away from the river, will probably need some work, they said, but there is one chance in 100 of being equal or exceeded in one year.

At Eagle Creek the report shows the discharge in the intermediate area is 3,300 cubic feet per second whereas in the area close to the river, the discharge would be 5,000 cubic feet per second. The highest record of discharge on the river occurred in 1967 when it reached 4,800 cubic feet per second.
The second report should be completed this year, the two men said, and then what work needs to be done can be started in flood control.

2 Fires Started By Men

CHALLIS — Two man-caused fires have been reported in the White Cloud Mountain area this month, Clayton District Forest Ranger Dane Pene said Wednesday.

He said the fire danger is increasing rapidly in the forest area and as the "people pressure" increases more of such fires are anticipated. All persons entering the area are urged to use extreme caution with campfires and other burning material.

Pene said miners from the American Smelting and Refining Co. camp located a fire at Noley Lake and were able to bring it under control. The blaze one mile north of their claims apparently started from a campfire built under a tree during stormy weather the previous week. It smoldered in decayed vegetation until surrounding material dried out sufficiently to burn. The miners said numerous wrappers from specially packed hikers' food were scattered about the burn area. Three men, the miners' helicopter and a pump were used to bring the blaze under control.

A second fire was discovered by horseback riders in the upper Warm Springs Creek area. The riders scraped a line around the fire and isolated it from other fuel then watched until it burned out.

T.F. Duo Appointed To Panel

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls residents, Mrs. James S. Kinney and Ted Smith, have been named to the Governor's Committee on Libraries, it was announced today by the office of Gov. Don Samuelson.

Both attended a meeting of the committee in Boise on Monday. Mrs. Kinney is a trustee of the Twin Falls Public Library. Purpose of the committee is to review the results and recommendations of a 1969 Governor's Conference on Libraries prior to a similar conference scheduled in late November of this year.

Other Magic Valley members serving on the committee are Mrs. Elwood Becker, Jerome librarian; and Dean G. Holt, Hagerman city council member.

Committee members will review library needs in the South-Central Idaho area and report to the November conference. State library objectives, needs and plans for future services were discussed in the Boise meeting Monday with Jefferson N. Eastmond, president of Worldwide Education and Research Institute, Salt Lake City as discussion leader and consultant.

'Pioneers' Of Utility Plan Party

BOISE — Idaho Power Company's Pioneers, retired and active employees with a quarter-century or more of service, will hold their 18 annual meeting Aug. 29 and 30 in Boise. About 300 of the utility veterans from throughout Idaho Power's service area are expected to attend the reunion, according to R. E. Antrim, the group's chairman.

Antrim said the meeting will begin at 10 a. m. on Aug. 29 with registration at the Downtown Motel, the reunion headquarters.

Election of officers will be held at a breakfast ending the reunion Aug. 30. Idaho Power president Albert Carlsen will discuss the company's operations and plans for construction of new facilities to supply its growing customer demands.

The first day's events will include golf and bowling tournaments, and a buffet dinner will be provided by the "Choraletics," a singing group composed of company employees.

Billings Drops Cowboys Into Tie For League Lead

While Mike Ballantine kept the Cowboys in check, the Billings Mustangs stung starter Mike Knox for 12 hits and five runs in the first four innings

Wednesday night to defeat Maglo Valley 7-3. The loss pulled the Cowboys back into a tie with Ogden for the Pioneer League lead.

The two clubs meet again at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Billings smacked three hits in each of the first four innings to put the game out of reach. The Mustang infield, however, came up with three errors in the early going that kept Maglo Valley within hailing distance.

In the first inning, a double play helped as Knox limited Billings to one run, that coming on a single by Al Cowens. In the second, Jeff Stout singled home John Hoop and Joseph and Gary Schlagenhaut got the third-inning safeties that plated two runs. Bob Peters hit a solo homer in the fifth and Billings wound up its scoring on three walks and an error in the ninth.

Maglo Valley got one back in the first when Chico Ruiz lived on a fielder's choice and scored on a throwing error. In the second, Rod Gilbreth lived on an error, stole second and came around on an error. The final Cowboy run, in the fourth, was scored by Scott Selph who opened with a double and scored on two ground outs.

Over the final four innings, neither team managed much in the way of an offensive threat. But in the top of the ninth, Richmond Young walked three Mustangs and gave up an unearned run on a miscue before getting the side out.

Seventh-Inning Rally Shoves Indians Past California 2-0

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Pinch-hitter Chuck Hinton broke a scoreless duel by doubling in one run and winning pitcher Rich Hand squeezed in another in the seventh inning Wednesday night as the Cleveland Indians beat the California Angels 2-0.

Hand combined with Dennis Higgins to blank the Angels on five hits with Hand being taken out with one out in the eighth inning after giving up a walk and a single.

The 22-year-old rookie right-hander posted his third win without a loss against the Angels this season. He now is 5-0.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Paul Schaal hit a tie-breaking homer leading off the seventh inning Wednesday night to boost the Kansas City Royals to a 2-1 win over the Washington Senators behind the four-hit pitching of Dick Drago.

Schaal connected for his third homer of the year against Washington's Joe Coleman to snip a 1-1 deadlock. Both teams also scored fourth inning runs.

Sox 13, Boston 5

BOSTON (UPI)—Luis Aparicio's pinchhit double highlighted an 11-run, ninth inning explosion Wednesday and helped carry the Chicago White Sox to a 13-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Ray Culp, the Red Sox' losing pitcher, was sailing along behind a four-hitter until the ninth when Chicago sent 10 men to the plate and ran through five Boston pitchers to erase a 5-3 deficit.

A single, fielder's choice, two more singles and an error made the score 5-4 and brought Aparicio to the plate. He lined a double to left field to knock in the tying and winning runs.

Willbur Wood, the winning pitcher in relief of Tommy John, then batted in two more runs with a single.

Shaw Okays Buffalo Contract

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Dennis Shaw, talented rookie from San Diego State, ended the longest holdout in Buffalo Bills' history Wednesday by signing a three-year contract reportedly worth more than $100,000 in salary and bonuses.

A spokesman for the National Football League club said Shaw, Buffalo's number two draft pick, would report to the Bills Niagara Falls training camp Thursday.

The contract agreement was reached Wednesday by Shaw's agent, John Thomas, and San Diego attorney Don Augustine, who was representing the Bills.

The terms of the pact were not announced but one report placed the salary and bonus package at an excess of $100,000 over the three year period.

O. J. Simpson held the previous record for rookie holdouts on the Bills' squad. He reported to camp on the Tuesday following Buffalo's second pre-season game in 1968. Shaw eclipses that mark by two days. Augustine, former counsel to the American Football League Player's Association, also represented Buffalo in the contract talks with Simpson.

Shaw's arrival in camp will give the Bills five quarterbackbacks with Jim Harris the apparent leader in the battle for a starting assignment. The others are Dan Darragh, Virgil Carter and Tom Sherman.

Technicalities Hit Yacht Races

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Bill McCullough's Vallant beat Heritage for its second straight victory and favored Interpid ran away from Weatherly Wednesday in the second round of America's Cup final trials for U.S. yachts.

However, the major news was made ashore, where the International Protest Committee denied an Australian protest concerning the measurements of its own craft, Gretel II, and the French challenger, The France.

The Australians had questioned several technical points in connection with the measurements of the two 12-meter yachts, and suggested that the winner of their qualification series beginning this Friday might be ineligible to race for the Cup.

Cardinals Sign Young Outfielder

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday signed Steve Burton, a 17-year-old outfielder from Ritenour High School in St. Louis, George Silvey, director of player procurement announced.

Burton, a 6' 4" 175-pounder, batted .340 for Ritenour this past spring and has a .410 average in American Legion summer action. The Cardinals said he was scouted and signed by George Hasser. Burton will report to St. Petersburg for spring training next March.

Oldest Grist Mill The Linchester Mill near Preston, Md., is of historic interest in that it is the oldest grist mill in operation in the United States. It was a major incident of its history to furnish flour to George Washington's army, for it was then over 100 years old, having been established in 1660. It has never been out of operation and functions as a business today.

Few Of World's Nations Seek To Control Pollution

By EMIL SVEILIS United Press International Two cartoon characters plugging an advertisement on television used to hold up a hand-printed poster proclaiming: "Plan ahead." But the letters of "ahead" trailed down the edge of the cardboard because they misjudged the width of the sign.

Like the two pichmen, much of the world misjudged and failed to plan ahead to combat the pollution which has made part of the globe unhealthy for human beings.

A survey of 21 UPI correspondents around the world showed that nine countries have done little or nothing about pollution; seven have plans to do something and only five have existing anti-pollution programs rated average or better.

In Japan the sudden and acute illness of a Tokyo high school class brought home the fact of air pollution. The city instituted a program closing down several sections of the downtown area to vehicular traffic in an effort to reduce smog. But concrete steps to permanently control pollution in Japan have not been taken.

Sweden, on the other hand, considers itself relatively pollution free. It has had laws against pollution in one form or another since 1956, and since July, 1969, has had legislation governing pollution of air and water and noise disturbances.

Other laws restrict sulphur content in fuel oil, restrict lead and other pollutants in motor fuel, and prohibit water pollution by ships and other sea-going vessels.

Israel has no anti-pollution laws. As officials in Tel Aviv put it, they have other more pressing problems at present. Little has been done to fight pollution in Italy. Several bills have been introduced in parliament, but it is unlikely they will be acted upon soon.

London's traditional pen soup fog and serious smog are no longer a problem. Thanks to the clean air acts of 1956 and 1969, local authorities in Britain are empowered to declare whole or part of their districts "smoke control areas" within which emission of any smoke from chimneys of all buildings is prohibited.

Small cities, light industries and the absence of heavy generating plants have left the air of Switzerland relatively clean. But effective control of water pollution is hampered by vast decentralization of authority. Pollution control is left to the canton governments, which there are 25.

In the Soviet Union the pollution problem is considered serious, but it is less critical than in most industrial communities of the West. To improve the quality of air in Moscow, officials have "planted" more than 2 million trees since the end of World War II.

The Soviet Union is one of the few countries that has concrete anti-pollution measures. Buildings are no longer heated individually, but form part of a central heating system. Motorbuses are rapidly being replaced by electrically-driven buses. Discharge of industrial waste into rivers is forbidden. Smoke from factories is being filtered.

Argentina's government agencies have finally acknowledged they are faced with a serious air pollution problem, but efforts to combat it are disorganized.

The problem, so evident as have caused the death of a number of trees on one of Buenos Aires' most important traffic arteries, has only been recognized by the government in recent weeks. The city has launched a study of pollution to be completed in one year. Meanwhile, there has been no definite action.

In France, the government has talked a lot about pollution, but has only set up committees to study it and published a 100-point pamphlet to fight it. French government sources say the main problem in the battle against pollution is money.

Everything from blasting a passage through the mountains surrounding Mexico City to yoga breathing exercises has been suggested to combat Mexico's smog problem. The government, however, has done little so far.

West German officials are setting up rooftop sighting equipment to get fixes on offenders putting too much smoke through their chimneys. But the program is of limited effect because jurisdictional disputes between state and federal governments have made it impossible to set national standards for clean air or uniform punishments for violators.

The jurisdictional row, however, may be settled in favor of the federal government when parliament meets next winter.

South remarked, "It's a tough one, isn't it?" Y said nothing and started to hum a tune. Eventually South won the spade in his own hand, cashed the ace and king of clubs to discard the queen of diamonds from dummy and ran off all the hearts. At the end, he had to fall back on the diamond finesse and was down one. "Could I have made it?" he asked. "Yes," replied Y. "You didn't have to be a better player, merely a better student of music. I was humming 'Tales from the Vienna Woods.'"

Y had soon that a Vienna coup could probably be the winning play. South cashes his ace of diamonds and runs off spades and hearts to come down to ace-king-small of clubs in his hand and the queen of diamonds, jack of clubs and six of spades in dummy while poor West is squeezed in the minor suits.

ASK THE AVERAGE man if he has ever fainted and he'll say no. Ask him if he has ever blacked out and he'll say yes. THIS MORNING in the middle of Seattle's Magnolia Village I saw a parked camper containing a small black puddle together with a large fan-cooler. What did you see, this morning? AN INNKEEPER of lengthy experience says men leave hotel rooms in a far better condition than do women. Think that's right.

PERSONAL NOTE - "Is writing difficult? Do you like to browse in old bookshops? So inquires a friendly Floridian. Used to be, not anymore. Mostly, I like to browse in hardware stores. Particularly around the wrench racks. Next to that, fish canneries are excellent for browsing. There are farmers' markets. Then come sporting goods houses, garden shops and automotive accessory stores. Finally, lumber yards. Actually, lumber yards are almost as good as fish canneries. See, nothing to the writing game. Follow can go on with this kind of drivel almost indefinitely.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - O "What's the world's best-selling Scotch?" A. Johnnie Walker. Q "How long has Sammy Davis, Jr. been blind in one eye?" A. For 16 years. Q "Which came first, the typewriter or the fountain pen?" A. The typewriter.

AVERAGE WEIGHT among the girls in their thirties is 133 pounds. COST OF VENISON to the hunter runs approximately $460 a pound. THE REF'S NO WORD in the Japanese language for "kiss". NATIONWIDE, 3,185 men list themselves with the census as chambermaids. POLLS NOW SHOW only one woman in 10 opposes divorce.

LOVE AND WAR - It was not that her Army officer husband forced her to address him as Major, that's not what bothered her. What shook her was he insisted also the salute him everytime he walked into the room. Upon hearing about this, a Milwaukee judge promptly granted her a divorce, thus setting a legal precedent. Military men might give it some thought. Too much spit and polish around the house now can be regarded as grounds for divorce.

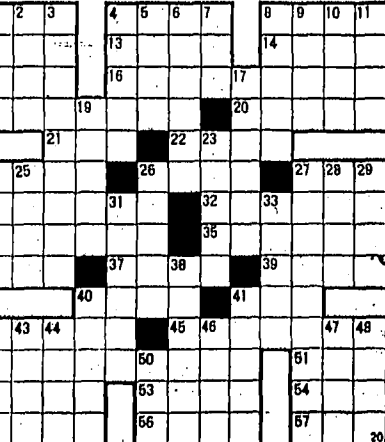

OPEN QUESTION - How tall is a tree 15 feet shorter than a pole three times as high as said tree?

JUST ONE MORE PUN? All right, a Texas mother, whose three boys pooled their resources to buy a beef ranch, named the place "Focus" with the excuse it was where "the sun's rays meet." Unforgivable, what? FEEL A COLD coming on? Better drink a lot of water. That's the advice of a U.S. Public Health Service doctor. He says latest studies show that's the best way to ward off respiratory ailments.

Country Coalition (Huesway HLS 6043).

The first record by this new four man group is a surprise and a delight.

Three young men and a young woman make up the group calling itself "Country Coalition," and they spin out a remarkably mature and sophisticated brand of country rock.

Some of the music they produce bridges the category gap, touching on pop and blues platens. But all of the music is worthy, and much of it very good, particularly "Think About Now" and "Longing To Be Free."

The group specializes in a clever, soaring light harmony, occasionally featuring the light, clear voice of the female member of the group, Peggy Moje. Their music is tight and harmonically interesting, and seldom falls into the traps most young groups tumble into.

Arrangements on the album are by Don McGinnis, and are consistently fine throughout. This is a good introduction for this new group, and if their work continues in this vein, they should strike success.

Four stars.

I'm Back and I'm Proud: Gene Vincent (Dandelion D9-102)

He may be back, but he hasn't got much to be proud about. This new album by the "Be-Bop-A-Lu-Lu" King is terrible.

Vincent came out of Portsmouth, Va., in the 1950's, right on the heels of Elvis Presley. He had a string of successes in the 1956-58 era, but died out after a string of later failures.

This is a collection of his old tunes, including the one that

Record Reviews

 EXCELLENT  VERY GOOD
  GOOD  FAIR * POOR

made him famous, "Be-Bop-A-Lu-Lu," and some new tunes.

But the album is an unmitigated bore. Vincent sounds like he's had his larynx removed, and the group backing him is mediocre. Even the recording is soft.

Sorry, Gene.

One star.

Again: Mind Garage (RCA LSP 4319)

The electronic sounds of Mind Garage will either be instantly liked or disliked.

They are among the best of the highly electrified bands, one that is capable of producing some very excellent sounds. This album is full of those good sounds.

The album includes their highly touted "Electric Liturgy," which is a well done electronic mass.

The Electric Liturgy takes up one whole side of this album, and the other side is devoted to a half dozen new and old tunes, all done in fine style.

The liturgy is a seven part invention of rock, which is very good for what it was intended to be. It will likely offend the ultrareligious, but those of broader frame of mind will be able to appreciate its intent.

Flip side stuff includes several oldies ("Tabacco Road" and "Lucille") and several new tunes, including the outstanding "Creus Farm."

This group is very good, and their work is an excellent example of how electrified music and good taste can co-exist.

Four stars.

Here's Sunshine: Larry Rice (Blackbeat BLP 89)

Larry "Sunshine" Rice sings a rough-smooth version of country folk which goes under your skin and into your head.

His guitar work tends to be a little repetitive; he plays basically the same static riffs and varies the melody more in voice than in guitar.

All the songs in the album are co-authored by him, and they trace a personal pattern of words and moods.

His singing is above average; his voice has a nice Texas twang to it, and he knows how to carry a melody beyond the normal vocal limits. His voice is moderately deep and slightly gruff.

Probably the best thing in the album is "Listen Sister," but there are several others which are good, including "That's Beautiful."

Two stars.

Goliath (ABC ABCS 702)

This excellent new group is very likely to make some definite inroads on the rock music scene in the near future, if this heavy album is any indication.

They play a very polished variety of heavy blues-tinged rock which is gripping in content and effect. They rarely offend, although they produce some very weighty moments.

In addition to making some excellent music, the group has an outstanding lead vocalist, Steve Jason, whose gruff voice qualifies him for singing fame.

Jason's voice has undeniable quality and consistent appeal.

The group's music leans on organ, with drums and guitars working over the practically continuous organ stylings of Ted Barbella, who has a good if unspectacular style.

What makes the group click more than anything else, however, is Jason's singing, which will just about stand your hair on end.

The group does a mixture of new and old tunes, and in the process produces a highly enjoyable album.

Four stars.

Ask Me No Questions: Bridget St. John (Dandelion D9 101)

Songwriter Bridget St. John has created a dozen delightfully beautiful tunes for this album, which if sung by Joan Baez or some other well-equipped singer, would be beautiful.

But at the hands of Miss St. John, the album is second rate. For Miss St. John can't sing very well. She has a flat, unappealing voice, and absolutely no enthusiasm in her voice.

The songs are nice little creations. It's too bad Miss St. John chose to introduce them.

Helping others is an old American tradition. When we see someone hitchhiking along the road — perhaps a young man who could be on his way back to college — it's our natural inclination to stop and offer a lift. Unfortunately, it's a dangerous inclination. Time and again the generous gesture of a motorist has turned to tragedy. With robbery, assault or murder the reward for a lift along the road. N.A.D.A. safety experts estimate it happens nearly 100 times every day.

The message is clear. Don't stop to pick up a stranger. A hitchhiker's appearance is no indication of his character — or intentions. In addition to the risk of robbery or attack, there is danger in stopping suddenly for a hitchhiker when other cars are on the road behind you.

We want you and your family to be safe whenever you travel by car. So next time you see a hitchhiker, leave him be. You'll still be doing someone a kindness. You'll help your family — and yourself!
