

Land Return Asked

LONDON (UPI)—Russia has told the United States that Middle East peace negotiations must proceed on the basis that Israel returns every inch of occupied Arab territory, without exception, Communist diplomats said Thursday.

Any "compromise" must be limited to the terms of the package deal for the United Nations or Big Power guarantees, including approved demilitarized zones in sensitive border areas, the sources said.

It is claimed that no Israeli government could ratify an agreement giving up all occupied Arab territory, it must be understood in turn that no Arab government could approve a pact providing for territorial concessions to Israel, the diplomats said.

The Soviet Union is going firmly along with this line and has left the United States in no doubt about where it stands on the territorial issue in the projected Middle East peace talks, they added.

Yanks Ease B-52 Raids

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has reduced B52 bombing raids in Southeast Asia to an average of 1,000 a month because of improvements in the South Vietnamese air force and a lower level of Communist activity, the Defense Department said Thursday.

By comparison, the U.S. Air Force was flying a monthly average of 1,800 bombing sorties in the war when President Nixon took office in January, 1969.

The Pentagon said Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird cut the raids to 1,600 a month and then in March began cutting back to 1,200 sorties a month. It refused to say when the latest lower level went into effect.

European Reds Endorse Treaty

MOSCOW (UPI)—A summit conference of Eastern Europe's ruling Communist parties began and ended Thursday with the unanimous endorsement of the historic Soviet-West German nonaggression treaty concluded last week, Communist sources said.

It was one of the briefest and least controversial meetings held by the Communist party and government leaders of the seven countries making up the Warsaw Pact treaty organization.

Thursday's meeting was devoted exclusively to relations between the Warsaw Pact countries and West Germany, the sources said.

U.S., Mexico Eye Accord

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (UPI)—President Nixon ends a colorful 28-hour visit to Mexico today by joining President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz in announcing their formula for settling boundary disputes that have plagued relations between the two countries for 122 years.

Nixon, accompanied by his wife, Pat, arrived from Washington Thursday to a gala welcome replete with mariachi bands, Mexican cavalrymen and all the general gaiety of a local fiesta. They leave for their California White House at San Clemente today.

Diaz Ordaz and Nixon discussed the boundary treaty Thursday at a hastily called news conference in this Pacific Coast resort village of 25,000 persons made internationally famous by Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor. Details of the treaty will be made public in a communique today.

The two presidents said the treaty incorporating the agreement will go before their respective senates for approval. Nixon said "the secretary of state assures me that we can get a unanimous vote on this treaty" from the U.S. Senate.

In announcing agreement on the boundary question, Diaz Ordaz said, "We must remember and it is necessary and convenient that we should have no problems arising from the delimitation of our borders."

After a two-and-a-half hour meeting with Diaz Ordaz Thursday night, Nixon also reported progress in discussions on finding a solution to the problem of salinity in the Colorado River. The Mexicans want the United States to control the salt content and stop saline pollution caused by drainage from the American side.

Nixon, who chose Mexico for his first south-of-the-border trip as President since he honeymooned there 30 years ago, received an enthusiastic welcome. Virtually all the 25,000 residents of Puerto Vallarta, plus thousands of Americans and other tourists, turned out in the 95-degree heat.

'Humane' Revolution?

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

TWIN FALLS — Storm warnings are out that change is inevitable, University of Idaho President Ernest Hartung told Twin Falls Kiwanis members here Thursday.

But society has nothing to fear, he said, if it understands the things today's students are trying to do.

In his far-ranging talk, accorded a standing ovation at its conclusion, the educator called for involvement of universities in the "humane revolution" now underway.

No university of today, he said, can play the role of an ivory tower.

He said universities were first founded to do a job for society. "Do we dare to turn around now and say it is wrong to engage in this 'humane revolution'?" he asked.

He said today's students are much further advanced in their education than those of past generations and "they are moving into their destiny."

Today's youth has great potential, he said, and lowering of the voting age to 18 years is inevitable. Men, he said, are in Vietnam at 18 years of age "so why should we expect them to be babes in the wood in college when they are 18?"

He said the most radical students were termed "crazies" by other students but that even these students will find their way and live within the system.

"We must live within the system because we haven't the time left for the changes the crazies want," Dr. Hartung said. "Our efforts now must be directed toward improving the environment. Change must come through the system."

He blended with his listeners to "blend over a little bit backwards" in making the effort to understand the pending changes.

"We must listen and we must not push the panic button," he said. "I urge you to listen to the students, to arrange programs where you can hear their thinking. I don't think you will be disturbed. They are not going to be violently radical unless we force them to it."

Dr. Hartung criticized of "inaccuracy" which "bubbled out" of a recent Regents' meeting at McCall. He was quoted there as anticipating student disturbances, possibly fomented by troublemakers from the nearby Washington State campus at Pullman.

He said he had talked to many student activists from both campuses. "Even the most active student leaders at Washington State were willing to sit down and discuss what they wanted to accomplish."

"We have to conceive of a whole new approach in the teaching of humane subjects," he said.

N. Viet Assault Repelled

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Jubilant Cambodian troops today claimed victory over Communist forces on the approaches to Phnom Penh in a 24-hour battle in which 500 North Vietnamese were reported killed.

Cambodian commanders rushed reinforcements into the area just north of the capital to set up a new defensive ring protecting the city against an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong believed in the region.

Although the threat to Phnom Penh eased after heavy fighting Thursday around the village of Prek Tameak nine miles northeast of the capital, Communist gunners fired rockets and mortars into Cambodian positions directly across the Mekong River from the royal palace. This was the closest bombardment of the city's cultural center to date.

Field commanders said the battered North Vietnamese force on the east bank of the river appeared to be regrouping. The city is on the west bank. U.S. Air Force F4D reconnaissance jets swooped low over the battlefield to keep tabs on Communist movements as skies cleared after five days of monsoon rains.

"We have blocked what seemed to be the Communists' original plan of driving down the east bank of the Mekong River," a Cambodian officer said. "They must now regroup; we have reinforced our defense to meet any attack. The next move is up to the Communists."

Nixon, who chose Mexico for his first south-of-the-border trip as President since he honeymooned there 30 years ago, received an enthusiastic welcome. Virtually all the 25,000 residents of Puerto Vallarta, plus thousands of Americans and other tourists, turned out in the 95-degree heat.

Divorce Racketeers Indicted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—A federal grand jury Thursday indicted nine persons, including two circuit court judges, and charged them with conspiracy and mail fraud in a "quicker divorce" racket which allegedly affects at least 5,639 couples in seven states.

Outgrowth of a weekend investigation by members of the Alabama Bar Association and U.S. postal inspectors, the indictment also named the sister of one judge, a registrar in St. Clair County; three disbarred Birmingham lawyers and their secretaries.

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—A staff member of President's Commission on Campus Unrest said today an FBI report shows there was no evidence of sniper fire at Kent State University before four students were shot and killed by Ohio National Guard troops.

George V. Warren told the commission that the FBI report indicated the only shots fired were by National Guard troops called to the campus following a series of disturbances.

TWIN FALLS — Only five of 18 board members attended the South Central Community Action Agency board meeting Thursday night, despite a fairly large audience turnout.

Commissioner Bill Chancey said today "Absenteeism of the board members is beginning to be a habit."

He termed the decisionless meeting "wasted effort."

GI Potheads Get Amnesty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has approved a recommendation that servicemen on drugs be granted legal amnesty if they volunteer for treatment to overcome their addiction, a Senate subcommittee was told Thursday.

The recommendation was contained in a Pentagon study report which found an "alarming increase" in drug-abuse problems in the military, particularly among soldiers in Vietnam, but said they had not reached the point where military readiness was affected.

Mack said Laird had approved the report and its recommendations Tuesday morning. A Pentagon spokesman said the new drug policy would go into effect as soon as directives are prepared and sent to commanders around the world.

Vice Adm. William P. Mack, a deputy assistant defense secretary who headed the task force that compiled the report, disclosed its findings in testimony before Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

Mack said the task force "deliberated long and hard" before recommending the amnesty provision "because there must be a balancing of seeking to rehabilitate an individual with the equally important and necessary precept of military life which is discipline."

He said the pilot amnesty programs now being tried in Vietnam indicated they may help "some of the less mature members of the department of defense who experiment and become trapped through the abuse of some of those dangerous drugs."

Hijack Toll High

KYOTO, Japan (UPI)—Ninety-six air travelers died and 57 others were injured as the result of plane sabotage and hijackings in the 18-month period ending July 1, according to a report Thursday by the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO).

The report submitted to a panel of U.N. legal experts also said the lives of more than 7,000 passengers and crew members were endangered by hijackers between the start of 1969 and last July 1. Besides the dead and injured, the report said "many" air travelers were treated for mental illness and shock as the result of their experience.

ICAO figures showed that only 72 of more than 500 hijackers have been brought to justice thus far.

'No Snipers at Kent State' possibility of the existence of a sniper," Warren said, "including an investigation around the firing line for non-military bullets."

"The evidence indicates that there was no person other than a Guardsman who discharged a firearm on May 4, 1970."

The Ohio National Guard contended shortly after the shootings that guardsmen fired a volley after being fired upon by a sniper.

Brig. Gen. Robert Canterbury testified Thursday that the Ohio Guard, in its own investigation, had been unable to prove that a sniper had actually fired.

Warren said the bodies of the dead and wounded were found from 20 to 250 yards from the Guardsman who fired the shot.

Warren also said the report showed 34 members of Troop G, 107th Armored Cavalry, of Ravenna, Ohio, the troops that confronted the demonstrators, were injured by rocks and other missiles.

Canterbury told the commission Thursday he had canvassed all the officers at the scene "to determine who, if anyone, gave an order to fire. The answer was negative."

Canterbury, the assistant Ohio adjutant general, gave his first public testimony on the Kent shootings Thursday at hearings by the President's Commission on Campus Unrest. He was asked if it ever was proven that a sniper fired the first shot.

"No," Canterbury replied. "There was a shot fired but we have never been able to locate exactly where it came from or who fired it."

He said the guardsmen started firing when "a mob began closing in" and throwing rocks.

The first shot, Canterbury said, apparently came at a "great distance" from the main body of troops and from the rear. It was closely followed by a volley from the troops, he said.

Canterbury said he then took a count of the guardsmen's ammunition and obtained the names of those who had fired weapons. The troops were ordered not to fire again unless touched by an officer and directed to fire at a specific target.

S. T. Del Corso, the state adjutant general, said in his testimony Wednesday a National Guard investigation into the shootings came to no conclusion on the possibility of a sniper.

He declined to elaborate on the advice of counsel that his testimony might prejudice a coming grand jury investigation

Manson 'Unstrung' in Court

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles Manson finally got on the witness stand and he was hesitant, unstrung and far from the pixie playboy of the Tate murder trial.

The 35-year-old hippie cult leader waited as much as 45 seconds before he could get out an answer on questions about his treatment in jail which he said petulantly was "humiliating" and "like kicking a dead man."

The jury was not in the courtroom when Manson testified Thursday in support of a motion demanding that the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department "cease and desist" harassing him.

Patrolman Jerry De Rosa told the jury of finding the word "pig" daubed in blood on the white front door of the luxurious Tate home after discovering bodies strewn about the estate.

De Rosa looked at grisly color photographs of five victims including actress Sharon Tate, and identified them as the "bodies I observed" in the living room, on the lawn and in a car parked in the driveway.

Miss Tate's maid, Winifred Chapman, 55, who was the first person to discover the massacre, said it was "too much for me to bear" to describe the mutilated corpses of the beautiful actress, Polish writer Voltyck Frykowsky, heiress Abigail Folger, hair stylist Jay Sebring and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the carotaker.

Patrolman William Whitehurst told the jury that he discovered a window open with a screen which had been silt lying on the ground nearby. It apparently was the means of entrance for the first intruder.

Another officer, Robert E. Durbridge, testified that he found two pieces of wood on the floor of the living room. The prosecution contends the pieces broke free from the handle of a gun when Frykowsky was struck over the head.

The prosecution backed up the testimony of previous witness Linda Kasabian, who turned state's evidence, by calling John H. Swartz Jr., a former ranch hand at the Spahn Ranch where the "Manson Family" lived.

Swartz testified that one night in August, 1969, some members of the cult drove away in his white 1959 Ford which bore the license plate GYV-435.

Mrs. Kasabian had told the jury she and other members of the hippie band drove to the Tate home in Swartz' car.

Chicago Riot Assailant Free

CHICAGO (UPI) — Brian Flanagan had just been found innocent of attacking a city official during last October's "days of wrath" by the SDS Weatherman, and he had a few words to say about his trial.

"There is no such thing as a fair trial," the 23-year-old Southampton, N.Y., radical told newsmen. "What's a fair trial in Chicago? Law and order is a farce."

"I sat in that courtroom for a month and I watched black men herded in and out. . . and I saw the court officials licking their chops."

"I want to get back in the streets where I can fight. I want to live the way I did."

Flanagan had been charged with aggravated battery, battery, mob action and resisting arrest in connection with his collision last Oct. 11 with Richard Elrod, assistant corporation counsel and state representative, during violence in the Loop by the Weatherman, then said to be a faction of the Students For a Democratic Society. For a time, Elrod was paralyzed with a broken neck.

The jury of eight men and four women announced its verdict after five hours of deliberation and just before it was to be sequestered for the night by Criminal Court Judge Saul A. Epton. The verdict also found Flanagan innocent of allegedly kicking an off-duty Maywood policeman who was a film courier in the Loop as Weathermen rampaged through the Loop.

Prague Quiet On Revolution Anniversary

PRAGUE (UPI) — Life was normal in Prague today on the second anniversary of the Soviet-led invasion that crushed the liberal movement of former Communist party leader Alexander Dubcek.

Fewer people were in the streets than on normal working days. Streetcars, usually packed to capacity, were less crowded.

Illegal leaflets circulated earlier this month urged Czechoslovaks to boycott shops, movies and newspapers as a "silent demonstration" against the invasion.

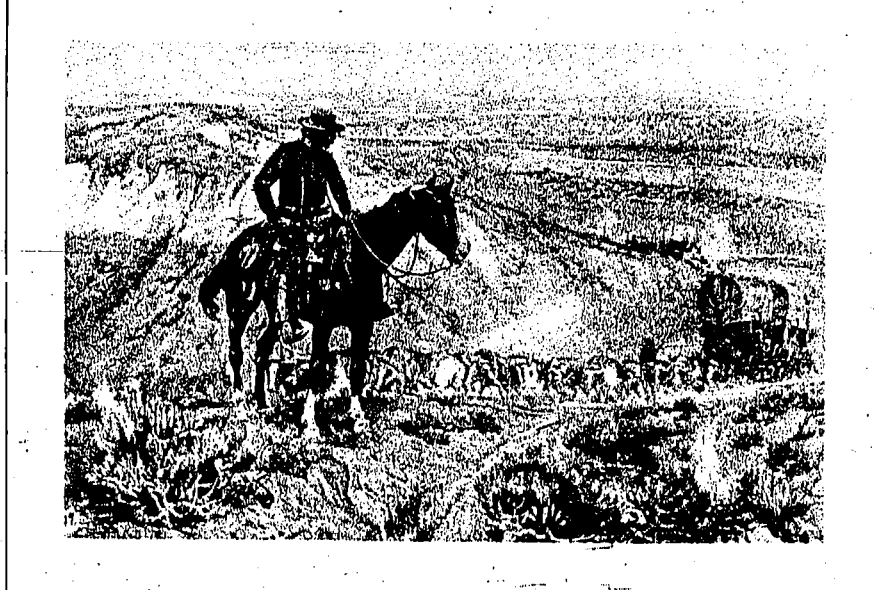

But downtown department stores recorded good business. Tight security measures were adopted for the anniversary to avert recurrences of last August's three days of rioting in which at least five persons were killed.

Sunken Vessel Exploded

CAPE MAY, N.J. (UPI) — An explosion occurred Thursday when an old liberty ship carrying 5,000 tons of obsolete ammunition hit the Atlantic Ocean floor. The Navy originally had planned to sink it near a mustard gas burial ground.

Navy officials said escort vessels five miles away felt the blast from the explosives aboard the liberty ship David Hughes, but none of the vessels was damaged. The site was 118 miles east of Cape May.

At first, Navy officials said there was little chance of an explosion. But when protests were registered, both Navy and Coast Guard officials admitted an explosion was possible.

Slip Of Tongue

President Nixon's embarrassment at having said Charles Manson was guilty of murder was heightened by the fact that he is also a lawyer and knew better.

Prosecution attorneys in opening statements promise to prove the accused guilty, something the jury must not believe until the proof is accomplished to its satisfaction.

Drunken Driving

One of the most common occurrences in America today is the fatal accident involving a drinking driver, drunk perhaps, or at least with his judgment so badly impaired that he makes a driving error that kills him or someone else.

And even if a driver is stopped and seems to be drunk, present methods of determining with legal certainty that he is too intoxicated to drive are inadequate.

MR. SPECTATOR

Mr. Hove's Coat

If we had a hat (it's one thing we do not own) we would have to take it off — tip it, that is — to Harold Hove, the newspaper publisher who turned banker some years ago and who now is one of the big noises down at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co.

Hove received a few comments on his coat choice — all in good fun, of course. But behind the comments there was the realization that Twin Falls is a conservative town.

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro Agnew, fearful of smudging his image as the Nixon administration's star attraction in the South, has completely removed himself and his name from all involvement with the Agnew Cabinet Committee on school desegregation.

— joined by Republican politicians in the South who want to preserve Agnew's political standing there — ridicule that explanation. To sign his name to letters setting up the state advisory committee, they note, would scarcely be time-consuming.

— sessions of the state bi-racial advisory groups (on whom Mr. Nixon himself has been making an excellent impression) and by keeping his name off all committee business, Agnew preserves his political purity in the South.

— comprehensive about the leftward drift of major Democratic Presidential possibilities. They view Justice White's moderate court record and non-political image as ideal for a campaign against Mr. Nixon.

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH A Shift Of Views

WASHINGTON — As off-the-record background for assessing the arms limitation talks and voting on military procurements questions, some congressional leaders have taken the opportunity to talk informally with one of Moscow's policy planners.

discussions. He is reported to have told one congressional leader, for example, that the Safeguard ABM system poses no particular problem for Soviet policy planners.

And from what we hear, Mr.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Fertility Lack

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been troubled by irregularity of menstrual cycle and inability to have children. Six months ago my doctor told me I have Stein-Levinthal Syndrome.

that "an understanding husband is a blessing" for a woman experiencing menopause. I suggest that you read the booklet, because it contains the same information that I'd offer if I wrote one just for husbands.

I am 28 and have one adopted child, and am trying to decide whether to try the operation or to adopt another baby.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have several moles, one brown and raised. What type of doctor should I go to to have them removed? — Mrs. C. M.

As I've remarked before, there is no single cause of infertility. Stein-Levinthal Syndrome is one. It is an endocrine (glandular) disorder involving menstrual irregularity, excessive hair growth, infertility, and cysts of the ovaries.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I know a boy 14 who smokes pretty heavily. Could this stunt his growth? He is still growing, and is a very good athlete. — B. C.

The operation used for this condition is called a wedge resection, meaning removal of a wedge of ovarian tissue. This often corrects the problem — resumption of ovulation, normal menstrual periods, lessening of hair growth, and a return of fertility.

It's so much easier to stop early. After years of smoking, when the consequences begin to appear, the habit can be very hard to whip.

I say it "often corrects" these difficulties — there is no guarantee that it will. In some cases the use of steroids (cortisone-type hormones) is also necessary.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have a booklet on menopause which is designed for husbands to read so they can better understand the problems that this phase of the life cycle poses for our wives? — C. P.

RAY CROMLEY Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is known to exert a very strong personal influence on President Nixon's economic thinking.

toward economic authoritarianism. Its government has exercised far-reaching controls over production, trade and finance with the result that both production and distribution have been hampered.

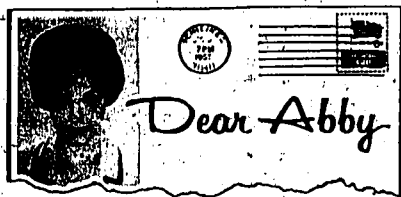

Lawmakers — with widely varying views have had a talk with Kullish. In the Senate, for example, he has talked with Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Edmund S. Muskie, D-Me., Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and John G. Tower, R-Tox., among others. According to our reports, his views have shifted somewhat in those over their economic. If the free world can, over the long pull, far-outdistance the Communist world economically, what tremendous implications does this have for foreign policy? It raises the question of how far economic policy (as in Europe under the Marshall Plan) can substitute for military intervention to save a country from Communist or other totalitarian take-over.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Do you think I'd be runnin' from that stripper who runs out on the field and kisses guys — this is an EX-WIFE!"

DEAR ABBY: Why do men and women at so many parties insist on segregating themselves?

My husband and I recently left such a party rather early because of sheer boredom. The women sat on one side of the room and talked about their children, clothes and other women. While the men sat on the other side rehashing every baseball, basketball and football game played during the last five years. They also complained about their jobs. These couples are college graduates in their mid thirties.

The men seem to resent any attempt to change the subject of their conversation, and the women couldn't care less about anything other than their homes and families.

The purpose of a party is to meet new people, discuss different ideas and viewpoints and to get away from the household routine and daily grind of the office.

There must be something a guest can do to break up the hen sessions and the locker room boys.

BORED IN ATLANTA

DEAR BORED: Not in that crowd. You and your husband should find other friends. There are plenty of young people in Atlanta who can offer more stimulating conversation than you describe. If you aren't involved in civic and political things you ought to be. That is where the action is. Dullards deserve each other.

DEAR ABBY: Last night my husband and I were dining out and we received the shock of our lives. The husband of one of my best friends was also dining out with another woman! I am sure it wasn't innocent. You can tell the way people act around each other.

Should I tell my friend about her husband's rendezvous? Or should I keep my mouth shut? I am hesitant because there are children involved, and I wouldn't want to be responsible for breaking up a home.

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: In that case, the answer is obvious. Keep your mouth shut.

DEAR ABBY: I am 57 years old and a grandmother, and I've always acted my age and dressed my age. My daughter, who is 23 is after me to wear shorts, especially to picnics and outings where there are folks of all ages present. Abby, I am quite slim and I don't suppose I would look too bad in shorts, but I just don't think it's becoming for a woman my age to wear them. I feel much more comfortable in a dress or slacks.

Do you think I'm an old stick-in-the-mud, Abby? I want to please my daughter but I must please myself, too. What do you think?

"GRANNY GOOSE"

DEAR GRANNY: If you feel uncomfortable in shorts, don't wear them. I'm sure your daughter means well, but don't let her talk you into anything. Especially shorts.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please print, for all to read, your thoughts regarding whether or not a widow must (should) be asked over for dinner two times for every single time that she entertains the couple at her home.

Many widows feel that they are entitled to two dinners for every dinner they give for couples.

We are a couple who always invite our widowed friends—but not two for one.

ONE FOR ONE; NOT TWO FOR ONE

DEAR ONE: This "two for one" idea is new to me. So many widows are overlooked entirely, I can't imagine any [much less "many"] widows expecting it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 49700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Student Group Touring Magic Valley Churches

BY MARJORIE LIERMAN Times-News Correspondent

FILER — "Lutheran Youth Alive" is a very-much-alive group of young people who have been touring churches and homes in Magic Valley as well as other parts of the state, to profess their Christian faith in words and song, but in a totally unique way which appeals to young people their ages as well as to their parents.

Speaking in the vernacular of today's youth and dressed in the extremely casual fashion favored by many young people, they nevertheless present a very realistic view of deep and abiding faith and the wish to attest to this faith to all people.

The group presented a program of songs and messages at Peace Lutheran Church in Filer, but also had appeared in Lutheran churches in Twin Falls, Buhl, Clover, Jerome, Eden, Rupert and Ashton, and in Yellowstone Park. They are ending their tour in Camp Perkins, Lutheran Camp in the Sawtooth Mountains.

The "Lutheran Youth Alive" program originated in Minnesota under the sponsorship of David Anderson, who after arrival at a church in Van Nuys, Calif., interested his own group of Walther Leaguers in publicly testifying for Christ. The idea became further rooted in a youth congress last spring in Portland, Ore., and resulted in 72 young volunteers being selected for teams of four or six to tour Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia.

The teams met in Seattle for a week's training and then were sent out on tour. Some of the teams travel by cars but the group which spent three weeks in Magic Valley does not have a car and travels by winter means presents itself.

As their group captain, Charles Smith, stated, "We travel by faith", which in their case has provided rides ranging from private plates to private cars and public buses. They never worry from one day to the next about their transportation, meals or lodging, and all three seem to be miraculously supplied.

Another youth congress is to be held this fall in San Francisco, and already more than 2000 young people have applied to attend. The "Sunlight," a singing group which recently appeared in Magic Valley, and "The Promise of the Father," another singing group, are members of the organization.

Although only in its first year, the new program is proving so successful that further plans include a follow-up program beginning in September during which time more groups will be formed to work with churches in each area, promoting rallies, holding Bible studies, talking on drug addiction help, and other vital concerns to youth all over the United States. Future plans include extending to foreign missions.

Applicants for the teams are required to be at least 16 years of age, and to have a personal relation with Jesus which they wish to share with others.

The group stays in private homes in the area while on tours. They have their own newspaper "Speak Out," which is sponsored by free-will offerings.

Charles Smith, team captain from Ephrata, Wash., said he grew his beard while attending college when he was to play the part of Peter, one of the disciples. He has left it because, as he says, "I learned to like it and it makes a wonderful conversation opener."

Bill Cullen, Chehalis, Wash., is studying for the ministry. Christy Lee, Santa Barbara, Calif., is a senior in high school, and Kay Tweten, Los Angeles, plans to be an African missionary.

and started to run some more trumps.

This ace of clubs play was a surprise to West. There was South opening four hearts with a solid suit and a side ace. Why was he going out of his way to show that ace so early in the play? Perhaps he was crazy or, more likely, the ace was a singleton.

West decided to make that assumption, so he proceeded to throw his three remaining clubs as quickly as possible. Then, when South got around to leading a spade, West was ready with a low one. South could have made an over-trick by going up with the king but he chose to play the jack and was set one trick.

We don't think much of South's ace of clubs play. We feel certain that, if he had held back that ace and led a spade early, West would have gone up with the ace on the theory that his partner would be sitting with the ace of clubs.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market was strong as trading rounded the half way mark Friday. Advances topped declines by a 3 to 1 margin. The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips spiked 10 points to 736.80, and 838 issues advanced and 286 declined.

A three-hour volume of 7,990,000 shares was well above the 5,810,000 in a comparable period Thursday.

The market, moving higher most of the week on favorable economic news, continued to attract support from the same type of news Friday.

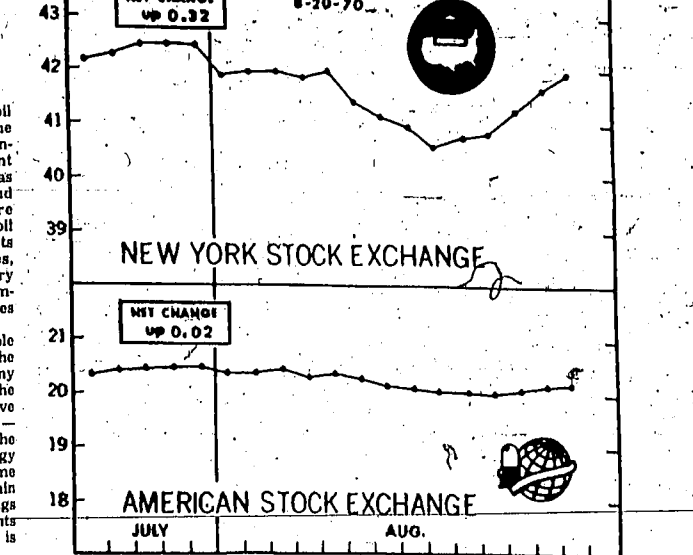

The Labor Department announced that the consumer price index, a key economic indicator, rose at the same rate in July as it did in May and June. A spokesman said prices showed a general acceleration until about the first of the year and a slowing down since then that has become more pronounced in June and July.

Successful Investing

Q) I bought 100 shares of Gray Drug Stores some time ago at 31 1/4. Do you think I should sell or retain this issue—F.G. A) A liberal yield — 6.3 percent — and history of successful growth make these shares worth retaining for future improvement. Formerly a drug chain operator, Gray Drug has expanded and diversified into a general merchandiser. In addition, the company has strengthened its position in the mushrooming discount department store field. From 1964 to 1968, net income advanced consistently year-to-year, and more than quadrupled from $0.65 million to $4.10 million. In 1969, however, net fell below the previous year's figure due largely to the surtax which amounted to about 10 cents per share. For the first nine months of 1970, sales increased 11 percent, while higher operating costs reduced per share profits 5 percent year-to-year.

Cholera Strikes Asian Nations

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL Twenty-seven nations, mostly in Asia and the Western Pacific, have been stricken by cholera, the World Health Organization reported Wednesday. Reports from Guinea raised fears that it may have spread to Africa. Guinea reported that 230 persons had been struck by an illness resembling cholera. WHO said the Guinean government reported 27 persons dead from the illness. While a WHO expert medical team was dispatched to the city of Conakry in the West African nation to determine if the illness was cholera, the Russians denied that dozens of vegetable-bargers were burned to control the disease in the southern resort area of the Soviet Union. In Moscow, Vladimir F. Popov, called "nonsense" reports that the vegetables were destroyed and post offices closed in some areas to control cholera. Its germ attacks the intestines and rapidly drains body fluids and causes poisoning. Cholera causes acute diarrhea and death if not treated quickly with a vaccine. The health organization said there was little or no chance of cholera spreading to North America or Europe but that poor health conditions, made Africa and Latin America prime targets.

'Bott Gang' Die in Gunfight; Burley Parade Winners Noted

BURLEY — A gunfight to the death was staged in downtown Burley Thursday morning with Dean "Boot Hill" Bott and his gang riding into town on horses from the south. The lawmen were waiting for them.

The shoot-out was staged by the Burley Jaycees in connection with the Cassia County Fair and included "Hair Trigger Jake" Pickering, Karl "Mud Dog" Kipping, "Dandy Dave" Nelson, LaMont "Derby" Dudley, "Apache Joe" Lopez, "Honest Jim" Lawson, Jay "Jovial Jacques" Morgan, Jerry "Crack Shot" Krieger, Vern "Pow Wow" Peugh and Jim "Muskrat" Mabey.

Last, but not least was Don "The Digger" Whittle, with his black wagon to take the casualties on their last ride.

After the Bott gang rode into town the shooting soon began, and the lawmen won the fight even though some of them were wounded.

After the street was cleared from the gunfight, the parade moved onto Overland Avenue for its journey to the fairgrounds. There were over 60 entries in the parade with Newell Dayley an Oakley pioneer, serving as parade marshal.

'Boot Hill' Bites Dust

BURLEY — Dean (Boot Hill), Bott, 28, Paducah, Tex., son of Bell Bottneczech, (father unknown), was gunned down on the streets of Burley Thursday morning in a confrontation with the Jaycees vigilantes.

He was born at an early age and attended the first grade in Attending the meeting in Hailey Thursday evening were members from Gooding, Camas, Lincoln and Blaine Counties as well as SCS officials and county commissioners.

Furniture, Trailer Damaged

RUPERT — About $3,500 damage was estimated to furniture and a U-Haul trailer being pulled by a 1967 Ford pickup truck which lost control on rain-slickened highway Thursday night 16 miles north of Snowville, Utah on Interstate 80.

Driver of the pickup was Danny Fred Parkes, 29, Seattle. He said he was headed south on the Interstate about 50 miles per hour in the outside lane. He said the trailer started to whip around, so he tried to move into the inside lane where road conditions were better.

Dilettantes Plan 'Oliver' Showing

The musical comedy will be a real family affair for the amateur theatrical group. It is a show of many parts and ages of the players range from young to old.

The musical, with book, music and lyrics adapted by Lionel Bart from Dickens' "Oliver Twist," captured other laurels by vote of the motion picture academy. It also has played on theater stages around the world.

Bradford Hickerson of Twin Falls will direct the Dilettantes newest effort in bringing musical comedy to the residents of Magic Valley. He is a long-time member of the Dilettante Group and has been active on and off stage. He teaches drama at Twin Falls High School.

Dates chosen for the show are March 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, and 13. It will be played before audiences at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center.

Dates for tryouts will be chosen and announced when other directors for the show are selected. Tryouts will probably be sometime in the early fall.

'Revolution' Denied

By LOUIS CASSELS WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "sexual revolution" on college campuses is largely a myth.

So says a leading social scientist, Dr. Charles Winick, professor of sociology at the City University of New York. Writing in a doctors' magazine called Medical Opinion and Review, Winick says a number of studies have been conducted in recent years to determine the actual incidence of non-marital sexual relations among college students.

"The studies' findings have followed a somewhat consistent pattern: they suggest that the great increase in non-marital sex that has been reported in the mass media has not occurred."

Sex research conducted by Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey and his collaborators during the 1940s indicated that about one-fourth of the college age females and one-half of the college age males had engaged in non-marital coitus.

More recent studies suggest that "these proportions are still accurate," Winick says.

In other words, it's no more true today than it ever was that "everybody's doing it." Three out of four college girls apparently are retaining their virginity, however much they may delight in shocking their elders by expressing laissez-faire attitudes toward sexual behavior.

Winick also dismisses as myth the widely propagated notion that the availability of contraceptive pills and intra-uterine loops has weakened traditional restraints on sexual activity by unmarried girls. Available studies suggest that new birth control methods "do not necessarily lead to an increase in women's sexual activity, but do make such activity less anxiety-provoking."

As for young men of college age, their totemic instincts appear to be neither greater nor less than their fathers. The only discernible change is clearly a moral improvement: today's young men are "less likely to seek out prostitutes or casual contacts." This, Winick believes, is "part of the honesty and nonexploitative interest that increasingly characterize boy-girl relationships in contemporary society."

Oliver Cromwell, strange man of England in the 1600s, was called the "uncrowned king of England."

IT'S BEEN DECIDED! For its spring 1971 production the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley will present "Oliver." Here board members, from left, Kip Wood, vice president, and Mrs. John Breckenridge, president, discuss plans for the musical comedy with Bradford Hickerson who will direct "Oliver" next March.

Sprinkler Irrigation Tour Set

GOODING — A Sprinkler Irrigation Tour will be held on Wednesday, announced county agent, Ed Koester.

The tour will feature four major stops to observe various types of sprinklers in operation and to hear the pros and cons of the various types of sprinklers.

The tour will leave from the Wendell Bank corner at 1 p. m. The first stop will be at the Gunning farm east of Wendell. Types of sprinklers to be observed will include hand moved lines, side roll, circular (water and electricity moved), and solid set.

Dorrell Larsen, Extension Irrigation Specialist, will participate on the program. The sprinklers to be observed will all be operating on potatoes.

Everyone interested is invited to attend.

HANDING $282,570 CHECK to G. T. Newcomb, Twin Falls, center, in payment of hail losses on potatoes grown south of Hagerman on the Bell Rapids project, is Paul Taber Jr., Taber Insurance Agency, Twin Falls. Looking on is Emerson Tuckerman, St. Paul, Minn., crop-hail supervisor for St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. Mr. Newcomb accepted the check in behalf of the several desert entrymen involved in the potato loss. This is reportedly the first check issued in Magic Valley for hail damaged crops as a result of the July hailstorms.

Richfield Club Takes Jamboree

RICHFIELD — Richfield Outlaw Riding Club took first place for the second time in the Wood River Association when they competed at the Jamboree held at Richfield recently.

Richfield made 25 points by taking first in the water race, rescue race, jumping or scurry race, and calf roping. Other points came from second in the relay race and third in the baton race.

Shoshone retained first place in the association with 120 points. Valley is second with 105, and Richfield third with 104.

After the Jamboree, jackpot competition was held in both men and women's cloverleaf races, and calf roping. Roy Couch, Shoshone, took first in both events for the men, and Jan Seals, Hailey, won in the ladies competition.

A final event for the Richfield contestants was a no-hoist supper at the arena food booth for members who had rode in the full season competition. This included four families, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Golcoschea and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Wolverson and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Pugh and family, and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Parker.

Grangers Discuss Pollution

RICHFIELD — Pollution control in regards to dumpgrounds and rules and regulations affecting Richfield town and area residents were discussed at the Richfield Grange meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Balls.

County commissioner C. F. Chaffield and John Lemmon, member of the Richfield Civic Board, were speakers. It was stated any type of burning could be prohibited by fall. Burning has not been allowed at the city dumpgrounds for some time.

The Grange members voted to donate the $20 fair prize money to John Dupper, Richfield apiarist, who assisted with setting up the Grange booth at the County Fair which took second prize. The booth proclaimed honey as a farm product and Mr. Dupper exhibited a colony of bees at work. The booth was a good drawing attraction at the fair. Also displayed were types of honey offered to the public — comb, strained, buttered and whipped.

The first September meeting will be at the home of Grange Master and Mrs. Glen Ross.

Farm output per man-hour is now 60 per cent higher than at the start of the '60s, according to New Holland, the farm equipment division of Sperry Rand.

Agricultural Research

Sprinkler Spray Temperature

KIMBERLY — Irrigation water temperature may vary from near freezing if coming from mountain streams, to near boiling if coming from hot wells or hot springs.

Water of these extreme temperatures is frequently used in sprinkler irrigation. What is the temperature of the water as it contacts the crop? If the temperatures are extreme, crop production may be affected.

Research scientists, C. H. Palr, J. L. Wright, and M. E. Jensen at the USDA, Snake River Conservation Research Center, Kimberly, determined the sprinkler spray temperatures using water varying from 35 degrees to 195 degrees F.

The results indicate the temperature of the sprinkler applied water when it reaches the crop or soil is essentially that of wet bulb temperature regardless of the initial water temperature.

The wet bulb temperature is determined by evaporating water from a wet sock placed on the mercury bulb of the thermometer. The wet sock must be exposed to a good breeze. Water will evaporate faster from the sock as the relative humidity of the air is decreased. This evaporation cools the thermometer just like evaporation from a canvas water bag cools the water inside the bag.

These studies demonstrated that hot water can be used for sprinkler irrigation of crops without much concern for the effects of high water temperatures.

However, water from natural hot springs may contain soluble salts that are harmful to plants and soil. Also, when natural hot waters are cooled, some salts may precipitate causing encrustations on sprinkler equipment.

4-H'ers Hear About Diseases

CURRY — A report of cattle diseases was given by Rob Schutte when the Curry Cattle Club met recently.

The club members discussed getting county fair stalls for their steers.

Local 4-H Clubbers Give Talks

TWIN FALLS — Demonstrations were given at a recent meeting of the Dozen Dudes 4-H Club at the home of Karen Jones, leader.

Demonstrations included Cathy Cummins, parts of a saddle; Linda Gentry, proper grooming of a horse for show; Phillinda Gose, proper way to mount and dismount and Kristine Rhodes, proper way to saddle a horse.

Members worked on record-books and discussed fair decorations.

Big Business

Agriculture is a $50-billion customer in the American economy, according to New Holland, the farm equipment division of Sperry Rand. The company reports that farmers annually buy tractors, machinery and equipment containing 6.5 million tons of steel more petroleum than any other single industry; and more electricity than all the people and industries in Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Baltimore and Washington, D. C., combined.

Exhibitors are requested to read over the rules and regulations in the premium book as they will be familiar with the health requirements of the fair. All swine entering the fair must be accompanied by an official health certificate.

There will be six classes of swine with premiums paid to third places and in some classes, to sixth place in the 13 divisions. The classes are Duroc Jersey, Poland China, Berkshire, Yorkshire, Hampshire and Landrace.

Grand champion boar and sow will receive rosettes and reserve champion boar, senior champion boar, junior champion boar, reserve champion sow, senior champion sow and junior-champion sow, all will receive purple ribbons.

T.F. Couple's Son Receives Doctorate

TWIN FALLS — Gale E. Kleinkopf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Kleinkopf, of Twin Falls, has graduated from the University of California at Davis with the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in plant physiology.

He was a 1958 graduate of Twin Falls High School where he won a number of honors, including scholarships from Union Pacific, Standard Oil Co. of California, the State FFA award in farm mechanics and other honors. He was a member of the National Honor Society.

After graduating from the University of Idaho in 1962 with a B.S. degree in agriculture, he was employed as a chemist by Aerojet, working with liquid fuels, until he entered graduate school at Davis in 1965. His research work at the U. of C. at Davis was considered especially important in that it developed ways by which food production can be increased through environmental mechanisms, thereby making better use of the available farm land for maximum food production.

He is presently employed as a research associate in the
