TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1970

TEN CENTS

Demos Lose NLRB

Billboard Support . . .

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For nine years Democrats have held the majority on the National Labor Relations Board. That changed today.

The term of Democrat board member Frank W. McCulloch expired at midnight Thursday, and President Nixon is expected shortly to name a Republican to replace him, giving the GOP three members to two for the Democrats.

Nixon's appointment will decide more than just the partisan makeup of the board. Some Republicans and businessmen hope he will name someone more favorable to management. They contend the board has been too partial to labor.

The NLRB and its trial examiners mediate some 30,000 labor-management disputes a year.

Union sources said Nixon probably would choose Ralph Kennedy, regional NLRB director in Los Angeles, an employee of the board for 22 years.

AFL-CIO officials said Kennedy had an antiunion bias, but they probably would not oppose his nomination because they recently suggested Nixon appoint someone from within the ranks of board employees.

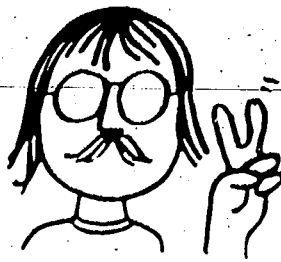

Others reported under consideration are Peter Benedict, minority counsel for the Senate Labor Committee, and Howard Anderson, an editor for the Bureau of National Affairs.

The nomination, for a five-year term, must be approved by the Senate.

Nixon has appointed one other board member — Republican Edward B. Miller, a Chicago attorney who represented management in labor relations cases. That appointment did not give the GOP a majority because Miller replaced another Republican — Sam Zargoria, whose term expired in December.

Nixon also made Miller chairman of the board, replacing McCulloch, but the former Democratic chairman's term on the board did not expire until Thursday.

The two Democrats on the board are John H. Fanning, a Rhode Island attorney serving an unprecedented third term which expires in 1972; and Gerald A. Brown, Palo Alto, Calif., whose second term ends next year. The other Republican is Howard Jenkins Jr., Denver, the only Negro ever to serve on the board.

Smoke Pot, Grow Bald

NEW YORK (UPI) — A leading dermatologist has come up with an argument against pot smoking and drug taking that may carry greater weight with the young than most of the pleas addressed to them by anguished parents and anxious public officials.

Dr. Irwin I. Lubow of New York says it can muddy the complexion and threaten the hair. A girl who develops a bad case of acne or a hippie who finds his cherished locks falling like autumn leaves are much less apt to argue that drugs are beneficial, Dr. Lubow has found.

In a chapter written for a new book, "A Teen-age Guide to Healthy Skin and Hair," Lubow, addressing the young, writes:

"Regardless of what you may have heard, drugs including marijuana, do have specific pharmacological effects on the internal systems of the body as well as on the skin and hair. . . . In our own practice we have seen more than 100 cases of excessive hair loss among both boys and girls. Acne also is caused by drug use, particularly among girls. Why? Our research suggests that drugs affect the function of the sebaceous glands and the physiology of the air structure.

"Recently a young girl visited our office, frantic about her severe loss of hair and excessive dandruff. Her appearance and her clothing were a mess. A college dropout, she was living in a communal pad in New York's East Village. When we questioned her carefully, we found she was a constant user of pot, speed and bennies. A lethal trio. What could be done to save her hair, she begged.

"We told her to stop taking all drugs immediately. We instructed her on proper scalp hygiene, prescribed a biological scalp lotion, an anti-seborrheic shampoo and vitamins taken internally."

Lubow said it took eight weeks to restore the girl's hair to normality.

Agnew Hedges On Aid

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew promised Cambodia continued American aid today but said that the United States "would not become militarily involved."

At the same time, he said that his visit to the beleaguered Indochinese country demonstrated to the Communists that America "would not stand idly by."

An official of the Cambodian high command commented that "the eyes of all the world now know America is our close friend."

Agnew stopped over in Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia, for a state lunch and talks with Premier Lon Nol on route from Saigon to Thailand, the last point on his Far Eastern tour.

"I made no commitments whatsoever," he told newsmen in his plane after leaving Phnom Penh. "I explained that we would not become militarily involved."

He said that he also told the Cambodians the United States will continue to supply military aid, however.

"If my visit gave the Communists the impression that we would not stand idly by . . . that is exactly what we had in mind," he told a questioner who asked whether his visit might be seen as contributing to an escalation of the U.S. involvement, he said.

The visit to Phnom Penh had all the pomp and circumstance of a state occasion.

Sale Ok'd for IS&L Assets

BOISE (UPI) — A district judge gave conditional approval Wednesday to sale of remaining Idaho Savings and Loan Association assets to two Boise firms.

The $3.4 million price will bring total recovery to shareholders to just under 73 percent — just above the 73 percent target return figure Finance Commissioner John Silva said he predicted three years ago "when the passbooks were selling 10 cents on the dollar."

Fourth District Judge J. Ray Durtsch approved sale of the association's assets which closed its doors in June, 1966, to Western National Corp. and Continental Life Insurance Co., both of Boise.

But, he said the Western-Continental group must pay an additional $186,794 on its $3.2 million bid for the assets. That will match the $3,474,431 bid for the assets from Com-Tech, a Salt Lake City firm doing business on a Nevada corporate charter. The Boise firms will have 10 days to decide whether to accept the condition. If it is turned down, Com-Tech will have the chance to purchase the assets — but with the additional condition that it provide a bond for Silva and court-appointed conservator Robert Barbour.

Western and continental had bid for the assets by July 1, the deadline set in the specifications issued from Silva's office. After the deadline, Com-Tech entered its bid — the higher one — and objected in court to selling the assets to Western and Continental.

At an earlier hearing, Judge Durtsch said one of his concerns was whether there was a legal possibility holders of mortgages could hold the stockholders in Idaho Savings and Loan, or Barbour and Silva, responsible in case of deficiency judgments against Com-Tech.

Thursday, J. Dennis Faucher, attorney for Silva and Barbour, told the court in this instance stockholders would not be creditors.

In an earlier hearing, Faucher noted Com-Tech had only $1,000 in cash assets and $8,000 in notes from officers.

Low-Rent Fix-Up

By CAROL BURNHAM
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — After weathering more than a quarter of a century of steady use, 84 housing units for low income and elderly families will be modernized.

Twin Falls Housing Authority Director Larry Harper said today Washington Courts and Pioneer Square units will be given extensive modernization. The improvement will cost about $300,000, Harper said.

The work will be funded by federal funds. No local money will be required, he said.

Each apartment will get new roofing, windows, draperies, folding doors for the now-open bedroom and linen closets, new kitchen cabinets with built-in sinks.

Exhaust hoods will be placed over ranges, tile installed in bedrooms and pantries converted into laundry rooms with facilities for washers and dryers.

A new brick combination coin-op laundry and maintenance building will be built at Pioneer Square so "the elderly people who live there won't have to go far to do their laundry," Harper said.

The modernization period will cause residents only minor hardships, he said.

The changes will have "no bearing on the rent," Harper said.

Those bidding to do the construction must take into consideration that the occupants will not be moving out and they must be caused a "minimum of discomfort."

"If a contractor removes the bedroom furniture to lay tile, he must have the furniture replaced before he leaves that day or he is subject to penalty," Harper stated.

Bids for the work will be opened at 2 p. m. Sept. 17, at the Housing Authority Office, 200 N. Elm St.

T.F. Renewal On Schedule

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

TWIN FALLS — Despite problems that have developed in the downtown Urban Renewal-Local Improvement District project, completion is still expected by Oct. 31.

City Councilman, Winston I. Jones, gave the assurance to Twin Falls Kiwanis Club members Thursday at the Turf Club.

Jones, city renewal coordinator, said the problems are not major ones but that they "must be resolved."

He listed:

(1) — Removal of "dirty poles," overhead wiring and unsightly items in downtown alleys.

(2) — Rehabilitation of some buildings downtown under the "dangerous building code."

"We hope to keep the cost down" for this work, he said.

(3) — Getting downtown merchants to expand, and at the same time, encouraging new businesses to move into the downtown area.

He said "We have a number of feelers" from interested businesses "and I thought I could announce a new business today but I was told just before the meeting that I had to wait."

In explaining the improvement, Jones said three-fourths of the money is coming from the federal government in a HUD grant of $1.4 million. The city of Twin Falls is putting up $250,000 — of which some $35,000 will come out of normal services — plus a two-year budget item of $70,000 and a third year item of $85,000.

Local improvement district costs are carried by property owners with an assessment of $2,658 each year over a period of 15 years for each 25-foot frontage.

Some of this assessment has been pre-paid while the balance is in the form of bonds purchased by the four local banks to be paid off by the merchants in the 15-year period. Another $250,000 will come from the Offstreet Parking Corp., in the form of meter revenue.

The speaker said 26 of 30 buildings scheduled for purchase have been purchased, two will be purchased in the near future and two are still "up in the air."

Of 43 merchants scheduled for relocation, 27 have been relocated to date.

Of the 25 buildings scheduled for demolition, 16 have been torn down, nine are scheduled to be torn down and two may be renovated.

He said there have been some changes in original plans. For instance, because terms were dictated by the highway department, there will be no mall installation at the corner of the Idaho First National Bank.

Rather, Shoshone Street in the area will have four driving lanes, plus a turning lane. There will be no parking permitted along that street section.

Main Avenue will have two-way traffic, slow traffic with emphasis on shade trees, a fountain, benches and beauty.

OUTDATED kitchen fixtures shown here in Twin Falls' low income housing projects will be replaced in the $300,000 modernization project.

United Fund Seeks $95,000

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls United Fund Drive will begin Sept. 28 with a $95,000 goal, fund president Jack Muldoon said today.

The UF board voted to seek the $95,000 which still is more than $8,000 short of needs, Muldoon said.

The UF agency budgets were carefully reviewed by the agency relations committee, and then the anticipated receipt allocated on a "fair-share" basis.

Although the $95,000 represents a big challenge to Twin Falls, he said, the committee hopes that through achieving the goal, the total needs of the agencies will be met in subsequent years.

Agencies supported through the Twin Falls United Fund include the American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, U.S.O.; Mental Health, Y.M.C.A., Arthritis Foundation, Y.W.C.A., Camp Fire Girls and Salvation Army.

The new board of directors includes Royce Abernathy, Mrs. Ruth Ainsworth, Mrs. Armour Anderson, Daryl Andor, Steve Bancroft, Jim Barnhart, Elvis Cain, Mrs. Joe Citek, Ed Cook, Wes Corryell, Jerre Cover, Robert Day, Fred Decker, Earl Faulkner, W.W. Franz, Fred M. Frazier, Mike Gray, and Dr. Mark Grefenson. Dr. Robert Maier, Dr. Marvin

Viet Hero Enlisted At Age 12

FT. CARSON, Colo. (UPI) — A Vietnam veteran with two tours of combat in Southeast Asia and two purple hearts was arrested by FBI agents Thursday after they discovered he was only 18 years old.

Authorities said they still were trying to determine how Walter Lee Martin of Dothan, Ala., pulled the hoax. He first enlisted when he was 12, they said.

Martin, 6-3, 168 pounds and a married man, was in El Paso County Jail today after being charged with fraud. He was serving as a staff sergeant in the military police command at Ft. Carson when arrested.

Terrorist Group Admits Bombing

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — An underground group claiming credit for the bombing at the University of Wisconsin says that if its demands are not met by Oct. 30 it will take "revolutionary measures of an intensity never before seen in this country. . . open warfare, kidnapping of important officials and even assassination."

A statement by the group, which calls itself "The New Year's Gang," appeared Thursday in a special edition of the Madison underground newspaper, Kaleidoscope.

The statement said the bombing of the U. S. Army Mathematics Research Center, which killed a researcher and injured four other persons early Monday, was "part of a worldwide struggle to defeat American imperialism."

The FBI, which is coordinating an investigation of the blast by some 80 agents and officers, declined comment on either the Kaleidoscope report or the investigation.

First Glimpse of Genes at Work

SCIENTISTS HAVE SNAPPED important pictures of an essential life process never fully viewed before. The process, protein synthesis, ultimately determines the nature and behavior of all living cells. A candid camera view of such bacterial genes in action was reported by the National Institute of Health. The electron micrograph shows chromosome (arrow) actively directing protein synthesis. Formation of protein molecules takes place on bead-like strings of granules — called polyribosomes — seen coming off the chromosome. Magnification is 110,000x. (UPI)

Portland Braces

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — With the National Guard called out and the county sheriff given special emergency powers to deal with any possible trouble from antiwar demonstrators, the American Legion's 52nd national convention opened here today.

Camped a few miles away from the convention were 8,000 persons belonging to antiwar groups.

Multnomah County, declaring there was "great danger of civil disorder," gave its sheriff unprecedented power to enter private property in 19 areas without a search warrant.

Oregon Governor Tom McCall called out National Guard units and Mayor Terry Schruink took over personal control of the city government from a board of commissioners.

In Seattle, 125 miles north of Portland, a bomb blast early today shattered the south entrance to the American Legion headquarters. No one was injured.

The legion is in Portland for "only the betterment of our God and our country," National Commander J. Milton Patrick said.

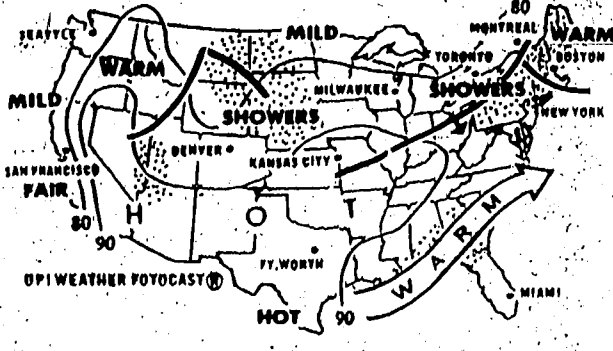

There was no public comment from the People's Army Jamboree, a group of youngsters in antiwar groups, but a UPI photographer said a camp set up for them at nearby Estacada looks "like a swinging thing."

Terry Schmidt, the photographer, said upwards of 5,000 were in the camp for Vortex One, a rock festival, and there was a little drug-selling and "many girls are bare to the waist."

A moist southwesterly flow continues over Southeastern Idaho with a drier southwesterly flow over Southwestern Idaho and East-Central Oregon. This pattern means widely scattered thundershowers will develop over Southeastern Idaho and mostly fair weather over Southwestern Idaho and East-Central Oregon with just a few isolated thundershowers over the mountains. No fronts will move into the area during the next 24 hours and the surface thermal trough will remain nearly stationary from the deserts of Southern California northward into Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington. Winds will not be significant except gusting to near 35 miles per hour near the thundershowers. Rain totals were rather light at reporting stations yesterday but showers were widespread over Central and Southeastern Idaho. Some totals: Idaho Falls—.03 of an inch; Burley a trace; Malad—.04 of an inch; and Pocatello—.05 of an inch. Thursday's highs ranged from 83 at Idaho Falls to 90 at Boise and Salmon and Baker.

Magic Valley, Twin Falls and vicinity, North Side, Burley, Rupert area: Mostly fair today tonight and Saturday with some afternoon cloudiness. Slight chance of a thundershower this afternoon or evening. Light winds except gusting to 35 miles per hour near the thundershowers. Little temperature change. Highs both days in the 80s. Overnight lows: 46 to 57. Chance of rain 20 per cent today and tonight decreasing to less than 10 per cent Saturday. Outlook for Sunday, mostly fair with little temperature change.

Regional Obituaries

Oscar Edholm

GOODING — Oscar V. Edholm, 75, died Wednesday afternoon in a Boise hospital after a short illness.

He was born Sept. 17, 1894, at Verona, Ore., and moved to Gooding with his family in 1909, attending schools there and graduating from Gooding High School.

On April 8, 1917, he joined the U.S. Army and served during World War I overseas. After completing his military service, he worked several years with the FBI. He later took up farming, operating a farm for many years in the Gooding area.

Mr. Edholm was named to the Idaho Land Board Commission for several years until his retirement.

He was a member of the Veterans of World War I, and Lincoln Masonic Lodge No. 59, AF&AM, Gooding.

Survivors include one son, Vernon Edholm, Jerome; one daughter, Sherry Edholm, Jerome; two brothers, Ted and Harry Edholm, both Gooding; three sisters, Mrs. A. C. (Mabel) Sallee, Nyssa, Ore.; Mrs. Ralph (Edith) Faulkner, Gooding, and Mrs. Berle (Ethel) Wilson, Weiser.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at Thompson Chapel, Gooding, by Rev. Edmund Stanton of the Gooding United Methodist Church. Burial and Masonic graveside rites will be conducted by Lincoln Lodge, Gooding.

Friends may call this evening and until time of services Saturday at the Thompson Chapel.

Jeanette Shearing

BUHL — Jeanette Gould Shearing, 88, Bellingham, Wash., a former Buhl area resident, died earlier this week in Bellingham after a lengthy illness.

She was born Aug. 17, 1882, at Carey, Kan., and traveled with her family in a covered wagon to Rocky Ford, Colo. She was married to Ernest George Shearing on Feb. 10, 1900, at Rocky Ford. They came to Buhl in 1909, farming in the Cedar Draw district.

Mrs. Shearing later moved to Bellingham, where she lived until her death.

She was a charter member of the Cedar Draw Women's Club, the Bellingham Methodist Church, the Rebekah Lodge and the Orchard Grange.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Vada Bond, Bellingham, and Mrs. Alma Moody, Granada Hills, Calif.; three sons, Lloyd Shearing, Porterville, Calif.; Wallace Shearing, Escondido, Calif.; and Marvin Shearing, Reseda, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Fern Ravenscroft, Tuttle; a brother, Glenn C. Gould, Buhl, 14 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Monday in Sunset Memorial Park.

Philip Kytle

HAZELTON — Philip P. Kytle, 59, of Hazelton, died at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Wednesday following a lengthy illness.

He was born April 2, 1911, at Henderson, Ark., and came to Hazelton from Arkansas in 1953.

Mr. Kytle was a member of the Baptist Church in Arkansas, and served in the Navy during World War II.

Survivors include one son, Leon Kytle, Moro, Ore.; two daughters, Mrs. Dan (Alvonia) Sellers, Wasco, Ore., and Mrs. Duane (Wyona) Turner, Hazelton; three brothers, Ezra Kytle and Jack Kytle, in Arkansas, and Earl Kytle, in Missouri; two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Harbor, Viola, Ark., and Mrs. Loys Minge, Derby, Kan., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Reynolds Funeral Chapel by Richard Bloxham of the Hazelton LDS Church. Military burial rites will follow at Hazelton Cemetery by the Eden American Legion post.

Ruby Hardin

BUHL — Mrs. Ruby Hardin, 58, of Buhl, died early this morning at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital following a lingering illness.

She was born Feb. 10, 1912, at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and was married to Kenneth A. Hardin, April 4, 1944, at Winnemucca, Nev.

She had been a Buhl resident for the past 20 years. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include her husband, Buhl; one daughter, Mrs. Robert (Linda) Williams, Twin Falls, and five sisters, Mrs. Mildred King, Pasadena, Calif.; Mrs. Vinnie Beangrand, Payette; Mrs. Ethyl Gray, Orofino; Mrs. Hazel Martin, Pasco, Wash.; and Mrs. Helen Drieback, Portland. She was preceded in death by two brothers, Floyd and Norman Hawkkinson.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Monday at White Mortuary by Rev. David L. Turnmire. Burial will follow at Sunset Memorial Park.

Friends may call at White Mortuary on Sunday and until 9 a.m. Monday.

Educator Seen... Quits Post

By United Press International
The superintendent of the Jackson school district, largest in Mississippi, resigned Thursday because he found that massive desegregation orders made it "impossible to continue."

In Charlotte, N.C., meanwhile, the embattled Charlotte-Mecklenburg school board called a Thursday night meeting to chart a course in light of the Supreme Court's refusal to stay court-ordered integration of elementary schools.

As an alternative, the board could delay opening the district's elementary schools until the Supreme Court rules on an appeal in October. The board says it has neither buses nor money to buy them to carry out the court-ordered plan.

John A. Martin, who headed Jackson's school system for only one year after leaving an assistant superintendent's post in Atlanta, said he resigned because of "a continuous series of litigations involving numerous court orders." He said he had been plagued by "disruptions" which kept him from his goal of establishing a top-flight program.

While Jackson secondary schools have an accepted integration plan for their opening Sept. 8, elementary schools do not. The courts have ordered the city to open its elementary schools under a zoning-pairing system while a new, acceptable plan is worked out.

The Jackson White Citizens Council estimates 5,000 white youngsters will be enrolled in six private schools, compared to about 500 a year ago.

In other integration news around the South, a soon-to-be-integrated South Carolina school was destroyed by what authorities believe was an arsonist's torch, and several more school districts opened without incident.

Fire destroyed the one-story brick Seneca elementary school in South Carolina only four days before it was to have opened under a new desegregation plan. Oconee County Instruction Director R. F. Malley said arson was suspected, but he said he did not believe integration orders had anything to do with it.

Elsewhere in South Carolina, black boycotts continued in Pickens and Jasper counties over closing of Negro elementary schools.

Four of Alabama's largest school systems—Huntsville and Anniston and Madison and Calhoun counties—were among 10 that opened there Thursday—all encouraged trouble.

Longview, Tex., schools opened with all 30 buses which had been bombed July 4 back in overreaction and carrying nearly 10,000 students to school. In Austin, the Justice Department dumped one integration plan and introduced another, but school officials said both were unacceptable.

Negro parents, balking at a busing plan in predominantly black College Station, Ark., will have another chance to enroll their children in the town's elementary school. Watson Chapel, Ark., considered another potential trouble spot, opened while the school board and a federal judge dickered over an integration plan.

About 200 women and children staged a peaceful march through Augusta, Ga., carrying signs that proclaimed "S. O. S. Save Our Schools." Some 15 dissenters followed them urging parents to ignore the marchers and go along with integration orders.

Firefighting Not For Gals, Trio Told

SANDPOINT (UPI) — The equal rights for women movement had some local support this week when three women applied to Herb Johnson, foreman of the Sandpoint Ranger District of the Kaniksu National Forest, for employment as firefighters during the Ball Creek fire.

Johnson, after a bit of head scratching, referred the three applicants to District Ranger Bill O'Brien, who told the women on the facilities on the fire lines for washing, bathing, sleeping and other services were a bit primitive for female employees.

The three women, who were not identified, accepted the answer but claimed the turnout represented prejudice based on sex, according to O'Brien.

A PROPER WELCOME to a special tourist, Hazel Ashbury, center, was extended at Kimberly Thursday by Miss Rodeo Idaho, Carolyn Harvey, left; her sister, Ann Harvey, mounted on horseback, and by Ray Rostrom, Chamber of Commerce manager. Miss Rodeo Idaho and her sister greeted the Australian guest who has traveled 18,000 miles on horseback, and rode with her to their home east of Twin Falls, where she was an overnight guest.

'Aussie' Visitor Welcomed

TWIN FALLS — An unusual welcome was extended to a special tourist in Twin Falls Thursday afternoon.

The special guest is Hazel Ashbury, a native of Australia, who is seeing the world from the back of a horse. Currently, her traveling companion is "Cobber", a 20-year-old palomino who has carried her over 8,000 miles across Canada and the United States.

Altogether the slight young Australian woman has covered 18,000 miles in 10 countries but she did not purchase her present mount until reaching Vancouver, British Columbia, in 1967. She has ridden him through Canada and the United States, leaving last year from New Hampshire and going cross-country to Illinois. This spring she left from Springfield, Ill., and expects to get into Oregon and possibly California before ending her travels for this year.

Miss Ashbury was met in Kimberly by Miss Rodeo Idaho, Carolyn Harvey, her sister Ann Harvey, a contestant for the 1971 title, and by Ray Rostrom and Holland Houfburg, secretary and president respectively of the local Chamber of Commerce. The two young ladies, mounted on horseback, accompanied her to their home east of Twin Falls where she was to be an overnight guest. Rostrom said arrangements were being made to invite Cobber as an overnight guest at Frontier Field.

Using a flat saddle, Miss Ashbury said this is the regular stock saddle of her country. She carries two small bags, one for herself and one for her horse and both travel lightly.

"I'm nothing more than a regular tourist," she said. "I just happen to be traveling by an unorthodox method."

She takes no bedroll, staying overnight in a motel or home of a friend, while the weary Cobber is tired enough to stay just about anywhere she puts him. Sometimes he is staked outside to graze, or he may have the shelter of a barn or corral.

Miss Ashbury says she can afford to travel since her parents, both deceased, left her relatively well off. In the United States on a visitor's visa, she usually returns to her homeland in the winter or visits another country. This year she will go back to Australia when the weather turns cold. As for Cobber, she says this will probably be his last season, as he is getting a bit old for the rigors of the highway.

Usually Miss Ashbury stays on main routes, avoiding the interstate if she can. State troopers, she says, take a dim view of horses on the interstate. "In New York State," she says, "I was held up by an officer who told me I was not meeting the 40-mile-an-hour minimum speed. I told him if I went that fast my horse would fall on his face. They give me quite a bit of trouble, but I usually come out on the good side of them."

Her home is just north of Sydney in the southwest part of the country, where she lives on a stock ranch which may be the reason it seemed natural for her to choose a horse as a means of travel.

Bids Opened For Landfill Equipment

TWIN FALLS — Six heavy-equipment suppliers submitted bids to Twin Falls City for a wheel mounted loader to be used at the new sanitation landfill site Thursday afternoon.

Apparent low bid was that of John Deere Co., bidding on a Model 644 which City Manager Jean Milar says will meet all specifications. The bid was $32,385.

Other firms bidding included Arnold Machinery Co., on a Huff 65-C model, $38,441; Western Equipment Co., on a Caterpillar 950, $38,468.97; Heiner Equipment Co., on an Allis Chalmers Model 645, $39,294.53; Intermountain Equipment Co., bidding on a Terex Model 7231S, $40,500, and Western Road Machines Co., bidding on a Trojan 2000, $42,456.70.

Milar said the city is acquiring the equipment on a lease-purchase arrangement in which the equipment can be leased at the present time and purchased at the end of any year with the least payments applying to the total purchase price. Figures used as the bid amount would be the purchase price to the city as of Jan. 1.

Milar said bids will be reviewed and recommendations presented to the city council in the next meeting Sept. 8.

He said all bids were good and that the equipment dealers cooperated well in working out highly acceptable bids for the city.

The heavy equipment is to be used at the new landfill which is expected to go into use about

Oct. 1 when a new contract for sanitation service becomes effective. Under the new system, the city will operate the landfill rather than the contractor.

County Plea On Taxation Rebuffed

CALDWELL (UPI) — The Idaho State Tax Commission Thursday announced denial of the Canyon County Commissioners' petition to increase the county tax levy this year.

The statement from the commission said the county "did not sustain its burden of proof and did not establish its requirements for ad valorem revenue of funds in excess of the limitation of 63-2220, Idaho Code."

That section of the code limits taxing units to no more than a four per cent increase over the previous year's revenue. The commissioners had asked for a 10.032 per cent increase.

The decision will limit the county to a levy of $907,411 for the year 1970.

A Spending Cut For Election?

WASHINGTON — As the off-year elections approach, some congressional budget experts are predicting that congress will make a small reduction — not an increase — in the total appropriation recommended by President Nixon.

Further, it should be stressed that this prediction applies only to congressional action on money bills. It is not a broad budget appraisal. It does not take into account such deficit-producing factors as the failure of Congress to enact most of Mr. Nixon's $4.8 billion in revenue requests.

With those qualifications, however, it can be said that there is some political significance in the appropriations estimate, no matter how "lffy." It goes to the line of political attack which the President is developing for the congressional campaigns.

Mr. Nixon has been accusing the Democratic-controlled Congress of feeding inflation with unrestrained spending mandates. A net reduction in the President's overall appropriation requests would give campaigning Democrats a ready-made response.

That response was very clear last week when the Senate followed the lead of the House and overwhelmingly over-rode the President's veto of the education appropriation bill.

In the Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said it was a matter of national "priorities."

Not a single Senate Democrat went along with the President (who also lost more than half of the Senate Republicans). Even Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., Va., the conservative son of a conservative father who recently rejected the Democrats to campaign as an independent, voted for schools and ignored the President's anti-inflation plea.

It is certainly fair to ask, under the circumstances, whether the President is trying to use a presidential year campaign issue for off-year congressional campaigning.

Mr. Nixon will have many opportunities to press the anti-inflation argument from the world's best podium. The present economic circumstances — with evidences of inflation and recession — will not help him, however.

House candidates in congressional districts hard hit by unemployment in industries such as Aerospace may be quite happy to have the Republicans warning voters, recently unemployed, about Democratic spending and the dangers of inflation. They may not mind the tar from that brush.

For all Democratic candidates there is also the matter of priorities and, hopefully, the small net reduction in appropriations. The argument will be that congressional Democrats have not irresponsibly fanned inflation, but simply reordered administration priorities toward the nation's human needs.

Incumbent Democrat House members may be able to make a plus, rather than a minus, out of their votes for schools (and local schools, of course) and hospitals (the hospital there, in the voter's home district). It is on the local level that the votes will be counted in November.

"We'll have a net (appropriation) reduction," one budget expert told us, "a small one — nothing like last year."

Last year Congress cut a whopping $5.4 billion from Mr. Nixon's recommended appropriations, but there were special circumstances which will not be repeated this time.

This year Congress has already added more than $2 billion to the President's appropriations request by its actions to date. This is how its future decisions could produce that small net reduction.

Defense Appropriation — With totals still very uncertain, experts believe a reduction of as much as $2 billion can be made in the defense money bill. The procurement authorization, partial basis for the money bill, will be cut more than $1 billion.

Military Construction — The House has cut about $100 million from a $2.1 billion request. The Senate will probably make the cut a couple of hundred million.

Foreign Aid — The House trimmed about $70 million from the President's $2.9 billion request. Some of the cut will be restored by the Senate, but the cut could be $500 million.

Congressional leaders have some flexibility as they seek to keep the total appropriations down for now. With control of the appropriations committees they can always defer money requests for action in supplemental bills after Congress reconvenes in January.

The Vote Test

Now that the stage has been set for a court test of the constitutionality of the Voting Rights Act of 1970, which reduced the voting age to 18, the issue should be decided as quickly as possible.

Seven states have given notice to the Justice Department that they intend to ignore the act's provisions, and 14 others have given less than their assurances of compliance. The department has instituted suit against two of the states, Arizona and Idaho, to get the ball rolling.

A conflict of major importance between the state and federal jurisdictions is involved in the new law, and it must be resolved without delay. The act goes into effect on Jan. 1 unless nullified by the courts before then.

Already some states have begun to make provisions for registering the hundreds of thousands of new voters brought onto the rolls not only by the lower age limit, but also the elimination of literacy requirements and residency requirements of more than 30 days.

Mass confusion would be the result if the constitutionality of the act is not resolved in time for the states to act on its provisions.

Premature

"Active housewives attend the funerals of their idle, retired husbands." This one blunt sentence sums up the argument of an increasing number of physicians that forced retirement is one of the worst threats to good mental and physical health facing man.

Paradoxically, while medical science is prolonging human life and more physicians and psychiatrists are convinced work is a tonic for both mind and body, more employers are adopting rules for mandatory retirement at age 65 or thereabouts.

The illustration of an active housewife outliving a retired husband fits well the pattern of modern society. Inactivity seems to be one of the few reasons medical science can find to explain the variance in life expectancy between male and female. The housewife could not retire if she wanted to, which may be a boon to her health.

Sociologist (if you will pardon the expression) long have been warning that idle hands and a bored mind create nothing but moroseness and a feeling of uselessness. Whatever can remove these conditions is therapeutically desirable.

It need not be work in the formal connotation of a 40-hour week in a factory or an office, but it must be something more than an occasional hobby or parttime interest in many cases.

Somewhere between the needs of the individual and the demands of modern society must be a happy medium. He who finds that elusive plateau will contribute mightily to the happiness of all mankind.

MR. SPECTATOR

Bending The Elbow

Drinking and a lot of things just won't mix but we can think of nothing more criminal than a drunken driver behind the wheel of an automobile.

And the fact that this is a dangerous situation that happens much too often, was brought out by an eye-opening advertisement sponsored by Allstate Insurance and appearing in Look Magazine.

The information revealed through the advertisement came as a real shocker even in this day and age when most things are just taken for granted.

What was the shocker? The advertisement pointed out — in big type, easy to read — that one of the next 50 drivers coming your way is drunk — not drinking — drunk!

And that, said the insurance company's "ad", is the round-the-clock average.

But watch out, the advertisement went on — the percentage shoots up after dark. In the dead of night, almost 90 percent of all crashes involve drinking.

Let's read the advertisement further: Last year the drunk driver was involved in 35,000 deaths, and this may be the year he gets you. The problem comes from the fact that he thinks he's driving better than ever, although his judgment and coordination are poor.

His reaction time has slowed by at least 15 percent. He sees things as dimly as a sober driver who is wearing dark, smoked glasses.

The situation is bad and it's getting worse. But it can be turned around if you're willing to help in a few simple ways. As a beginning, each state needs the tough, effective drunk-driving laws recommended by the National Highway Safety Bureau. The next step is fair, impartial enforcement of the laws.

In Magic Valley some judges are extremely weak when it comes to "Laying down the law" when a drunk driver comes into their court. Some appear afraid that the poor soul shouldn't be deprived of his driving license. He might lose his job.

So what? There's no excuse for driving while drunk. If caught, there should be no mercy.

Don't think so? You might just change your mind if you attend the funeral of a relative or friend who happened to get into the path of a drunk driver.

Next time you take a drink, knowing you are going to drive, why not give it a little thought?

Really, if you are drunk and are driving then it really doesn't matter much if you are the one killed or laid up in a hospital for months.

The person we feel sorry for is the sober person in the other car!

FEELING TIRED?

Are you feeling tired? Why? A New York psychiatrist, who has done 37 years of research on sleep, considers it mainly a background for survival.

The cave man slept during the hours of darkness to make the dread night hours brief — when fierce beasts prowled and spirits were abroad.

With the invention of the electric light this ancestral reason for sleep was lost. Man can play all night — or work or study, for that matter — if he is so inclined.

Sleep is no longer a necessity, if you believe the Gotham doctor, who predicts that by the year 2000 most persons may need only three hours sleep out of 24.

So why buy sleeping pills? And with this lack of needed sleep thought in mind, Mr. Spectator will roll over, close his eyes, and start to snore. This ain't 2000 — not yet!

All This and Democracy, Too?

PAUL HARVEY

Sins In His Name

A year ago I worried in print about whether some high-living professional churchmen might not be inviting an investigation which could discredit themselves and besmirch religion per se.

I meant that admonition to be a helpful warning. Had the critic been a vindictive Ralph Nader, he might have presented evidence which would jeopardize the tax status of church-related organizations and cast an ugly shadow over all.

Some resented the suggestion. At least one church-related foundation apparently made no effort to clean house. Now it is on the carpet confronted with potentially embarrassing questions from the Internal Revenue Service, the Justice Department, the Post Office, the Securities and Exchange Commission and California's attorney general.

The Baptist Foundation of America Inc. has no formal affiliation with any major Baptist group, though its cofounder and president, the Rev. T. Sherron Jackson, is a respected Baptist churchman and five of its nine trustees are ministers.

The BFA was founded in 1966 as a tax-exempt, nonprofit organization intending to build hospitals for children, retirement centers for the aged and other such facilities. It was to be no less than "a monument to faith in God and to freedom and courage of the human spirit."

It has built no hospitals, no retirement centers and — according to the Wall Street Journal — figures in two bizarre stock deals, has been dealing with men with criminal records and apparently is responsible for substantial losses for individuals and institutions throughout the United States.

The Baptist Foundation of America, Inc., shortly after its founding, had assets totaling more than $20 million, is presently headquartered in an impressive suite of offices in Los Angeles and turns to the public a benevolent face.

But it has issued countless millions of dollars worth of promissory notes in exchange for property and services, most of which notes are now in default.

The Journal's researchers were unable to determine whether the BFA was more victimizer or victimized, whether the foundation commuted good deals with bad dealers.

But the foundation has among its assets thousands of acres of land in Tennessee, and tax assessors down that way can't find any of it. In the ranks of our nation's major denominations are thousands of selfless, conscientious church officials and clergy who need no defense for themselves and their activities. They do deserve to be defended against some professional churchmen, usually not clergy, whose high-living is not what the widow's mite was meant to pay for.

Church-owned property in the United States has been valued at $44.5 billion for the Catholic Church, $28 billion for Protestants, $7 billion for Jewish congregations.

Each year $5.5 billion goes into the collection plates. You can't funnel such sums through human hands without some margin for hanky-panky.

But religion is not so sacrosanct as it once was and church administrative expenses and church-related foundations are presently extremely vulnerable to the possibility of an expose which could drastically curtail the effectiveness of religion with an already suspicious generation.

RAY CROMLEY

Heat Is On

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Very encouraging reports are now coming in from men whose job it is to keep in touch with high Egyptian government army, business and intellectual circles — both pro- and anti-Nasser.

These reports are couched in the most careful language. But what they add up to is this: President Abdel Nasser is under the strongest pressure from powerful elements among his friends and enemies alike to find some way out of the confrontation with Israel which has come to dominate and warp the national life.

The confrontation, and the heavy indebtedness to Russia for arms and other aid resulting from this confrontation, is being blamed for inflation, tight censorship and other strong-handed government measures, for the difficulty educated young men are having to finding appropriate jobs at living wages.

Nasser is under increasing pressure to free himself from the Israeli confrontation in order to devote himself to domestic problems.

The confrontation is holding back economic growth. It forces Egypt into a pan-Arab policy and prevents Cairo from developing alliances and arrangements best suited to Egypt's own needs and objectives. Strong forces within Egypt reportedly are for arranging stronger ties with Western Europe as well as with the United States.

Nasser is under great pressure, these reports say, to balance off the Soviet influence. Growing numbers of highly placed Egyptians view the Russians with increasing suspicion.

Reportedly, they are asking questions like this: "While the Soviet Union may find it in its own interest to help Egypt now, what will happen when Egyptians and Soviet interests do not coincide?

Uneasiness is growing about Moscow's obvious interest in the Suez Canal. It suits Egyptian purposes to have Soviet warships prominently parading in the eastern Mediterranean today. But numbers of high Egyptian government and military officials and intelligentsia worry what this Soviet naval presence augurs for the period five to 10 years ahead.

Egypt's financial indebtedness to Moscow is growing and much of her agricultural production is pledged to pay those debts.

Friction with Soviet advisers is on the increase.

Despite Soviet military aid, strong friction is reported between Russian and Egyptian officers. Quarrels are frequent. Few Russians bother to learn Egyptian or go out of their way to make friends.

In some Egyptian circles a growing tendency is to refer to the Russians as neocolonialists. The longer the Israeli confrontation continues with no settlement, the greater tendency to blame the Russian for what goes wrong.

These reports say the United States is more and more talked of among influential Egyptians as the only effective "balance" to offset the growing strength of the Soviet Union in Egypt and the only way to end the confrontation bottleneck. This thinking is known to be strong among some very powerful men close to Nasser. It led to Nasser's approach to the United States. It is a strong influence on the Egyptian government to seek a peace that will bring the United States into a closer relationship with Cairo in the years ahead.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Headaches

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 58, in good health apparently.

But frequently, in fact almost every night, I suffer what I call "night headaches." They awaken me from sleep and often are severe. Often I awaken in the morning with a pounding headache which leaves with aspirin and breakfast.

I must have fresh air and open my bedroom window wide, cold or not. Has this night air any bearing, or what in the world would cause these headaches? — D. C.

While you say you are in good health, there are a couple of matters that would bear investigating. The night (outside) air would have no bearing.

Night headaches can occur with high blood pressure, so I would have that checked. Another possibility to consider is low blood sugar — suggested by the fact that the headaches disappear with breakfast. If that is indeed the factor which bothers you, a high-protein snack at bedtime (to give a fairly long-lasting boost to your blood sugar) might relieve the headaches.

Since you have your bedroom window open wide, that would seem to eliminate a couple of other possibilities which, however, others with similar trouble might consider.

Bedroom air that's too warm or is contaminated by traces of carbon monoxide, as from a heating unit, can contribute to night headaches.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor tells me I have a hiatal hernia. I am 27, and five-feet-three; and weigh 156 pounds. I have had indigestion very badly since my last child was born five years ago. I also get palpitations and my heart seems to turn somersaults, but I had an EKG and it showed nothing wrong with my heart.

Any suggestions you can give me would be appreciated, and I enclose 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It." — Mrs. P. E.

A hiatal hernia can cause "indigestion" just as an ulcer can. It, and the conditions that accompany it, also can cause heart flip-flops which can be scary even though not really significant. Nerves can add to the trouble.

For reasons which the booklet will explain, overweight also is important, and losing some excess weight is one of the eight ways to subdue the misery. At 156 pounds and only five-feet-three, you should keep that aspect in mind as well as the others in the booklet.

Israelis Suspect Attack

TEL AVIV (UPI) — High Israeli government sources said today they are convinced Egypt agreed to the Middle East cease-fire only to prepare for an attack across the Suez Canal. The Israeli government sources said that since the Aug. 7 cease-fire began the Egyptians have moved in to within 20 miles of the west bank of the Suez Canal 12 batteries of SAM2 missiles. Each battery consists of six missiles operated by 150 troops.

Behind the SAM2 batteries the Soviets have moved up SAM 3 missiles which overlap and give covering fire against any aircraft attacking the SAM2s. The Israeli sources also estimated the number of Soviet troops now serving in Egypt was between 10,000 and 13,000. In Cairo, Egyptian Information Minister Mohammed Hassanoh Helkal said the Middle East peace talks that started in New York this week will fail and Israel will be to blame.

Helkal, writing in the semi-official newspaper Al Ahran today, said, "The issue of withdrawal from occupied Arab territory will force Israel into an impasse. It will not be able to say yes and it will not be able to say no."

He added that "Israel, the only state in the world established by a United Nations resolution, does not want the U.N. to play a part in solving the crisis."

In New York, the peace talks marked time with only one of its negotiators, the Egyptian representative, still in town. The Israeli representative went to Jerusalem for consultations and the Jordanian representative was in Washington.

Egypt also complained of a second Israeli cease-fire violation to the United States Thursday, Al Ahran said. The newspaper did not go into detail.

After two days with no fighting reported on the Arab-Israeli borders, the Fatah newspaper in Amman, Jordan, said Arab guerrillas fought two battles with Israeli forces Thursday night.

Canyon Mexican-American Strike Leader Arraigned

PAYETTE (UPI) — The first Mexican-American farm worker to be arrested since a Canyon County labor strike began two weeks ago was arraigned in Payette County Justice Court Thursday on two charges.

Jorge Ochoa, 24, Caldwell labor camp, was released after posting $300 on each count: one of obstructing traffic on a county highway and another of carrying a concealed weapon.

Ochoa was arrested Wednesday morning at the Kay Inouye farm near Wilder where 100 Mexican-American farm workers were picketing in an effort to persuade workers to leave the fields.

Ochoa's arrest stemmed from an incident Monday in Payette when 150 to 200 strikers picketed a farm along Highway 85. Richard Hayes, Payette County sheriff, said Ochoa identified himself as a "leader" and refused to help when he was asked to cooperate in clearing the highway of strikers.

Hayes said Ochoa was not arrested at that time because "I didn't want to cause any more activity there than I had to. I also thought it would be easier to get a warrant for his arrest than to take him there."

Hayes said Ochoa attempted to conceal a knife under the seat of a patrol car while he was being transported to jail. He said he did not know the measurements of the knife, but said Ochoa had been carrying it in his pocket and "the charge was made because of the way he was trying to hide it."

Nick Jones, a representative of the California-based United Farm Workers Union, said the knife in question was a "small pocket knife."

Jones said Manuel Chavez, a brother of union president Cesar Chavez and a union official, is expected to be in Canyon County by Monday. He also said workers had scheduled a meeting at the Caldwell camp Thursday night to decide on the direction of the strike.

He said 3,000 workers had signed UFWU cards, and added he expected 6,000 to be signed by Monday.

"We've heard rumblings that the growers would consider negotiating with the union," Jones said. "This could be settled in two days if growers should respond."

Suit Would Halt Strike Recruiting

2 More Copters Downed

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. Command today reported the loss of two more helicopters and an F100 Supercobra jet fighter to Viet Cong and North Vietnamese groundfire. It brought to four the number of helicopters shot down in two days.

The command said in a delayed report the jet was downed last Friday a mile south of Dak To, 280 miles north-northeast of Saigon. The pilot was killed.

U.S. spokesmen said an Army UH1 Huey helicopter was shot down near the Gulf of Thailand near the southern tip of South Vietnam Thursday. The crew escaped injury. Another Huey copter 87 miles southwest of Saigon, both on Wednesday.

Communications issued today showed no overnight B52 raids in South Vietnam for the first time since Aug. 5. Military sources said it was possible most of the Stratofortresses were busy hitting Communist supply routes in Eastern Laos.

incidents during the week-long farm workers strike in the Treasure Valley, originated Monday when workers on strike picketed at the farm of Fred Aral, Nyssa, Ore., who also operates a farm in Payette County.

The suit, filed against the Treasure Valley Farm Workers Cooperative Association by several individuals from the M.K.S. Inc. of which Aral is also the general manager.

The suit contends picketers induced all 120 of the workers on Aral's farm in Payette County to leave their jobs Monday. He claims the workers were harassed by strikers, and alleges the defendants acted in a conspiracy against him.

The complaint alleges if the incidents continue, they will do "irreparable damage" to the plaintiff.

The suit shows the charter of the farm workers group expired last December and apparently has not been renewed. However, the suit named as co-defendants several of the original members, among whom are Jorge Ochoa, Raymon Ochoa, Oscar Guerrero and Nicholas Jones. Some of the co-defendants are believed not to be involved in the recent strikes.

Family's 'Prints Eyed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fingerprints placing two "Manson Family" members at the home of actress Sharon Tate were expected to be introduced today at the murder trial of the hippie cult members.

Testimony by Linda Kasabian so far has been the only prosecution evidence charging definitely that Charles Manson's followers on the murder scene and — without corroboration — probably would not bring conviction.

Deputy District Attorney Aaron Stovitz said the state would call experts to testify they found the prints of Patricia Krenwinkel and Charles "Tex" Watson on objects in the Tate home.

Miss Krenwinkel is one of the three female codefendants at the trial. Watson, still resisting extradition from Texas, has his prints matched with those made when he was arrested on a minor traffic charge before the killings in August, 1969.

Stovitz conceded the state did not have any fingerprints from the home of grocer Leno LaBlanca, murdered with his wife the next night.

A police homicide sergeant testified at the trial Thursday that pillow cases had been pulled over the heads of the LaBlancas and electric lamp cords knotted around the necks of the living room. The words "Rise" and "Helter Skelter" were written in blood on the doors of a refrigerator.

Susan Atkins, one of the three female codefendants, told a grand jury previously that Manson went into the home and tied up the LaBlancas, then told Watson not to let them know they were going to die.

Homicide Sgt. Danny Galindo told the jury that the wealthy grocer's hands were tied behind his back with a leather thong and the heads of the victims had been encased in the blood-soaked white cases like "pillows."

Another policeman, Sgt. Edward Cline, said the words "Death to Pigs" had been scrawled in blood on the wall of the living room. The words "Rise" and "Helter Skelter" were written in blood on the doors of a refrigerator.

Landfill Leased By City

TWIN FALLS — The new Twin Falls sanitary landfill site will be put into use Oct. 1, when the city's new sanitation contract becomes effective.

City Manager Jean Millar said site mapping is being completed for approval by the Idaho Department of Health.

Bids were opened Thursday afternoon for a large combination loader-earth mover to be used at the site.

Millar said the 180-acre site, leased for the operation eight miles south of the city, probably will meet needs for 10 years. About 10 acres per year will be fenced and served by roads; then will be covered and planted with grass as another 10-acre section is opened.

Precautions against trash blowing, regulations on burning and other operations are subject to Health Department control.

Millar said plans of the city call for the city sanitation director to operate the facility, employing a caretaker and a heavy-equipment operator, both full time. A building will be erected for a caretaker's quarters and heavy-equipment storage. The area will be closed at night and when not in use. Fencing will keep unauthorized dumping under control.

The city is leasing the land from Ellis Fuller with no cash involved. Instead, he will be given 401 water shares of the Salmon River Canal Co. owned by the city, and will be permitted to use the landfill site for grazing on unused areas. When the lease expires, the site will revert to the owner with new dry-land grass seeded over the covered trenching.

Pet Dog Saves Life Of Soldier

WENDELL — Ralph may never get a medal but to a group of servicemen in Vietnam and especially to Sgt. Jerry L. Jones, Wendell, he is a true war hero.

Ralph, a dog adopted by Sgt. Jones as a personal pet, probably saved the life of his master and a number of other servicemen. As Sgt. Jones told of the incident in a recent letter to friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Wendell, the dog was responsible for digging up a time bomb before it discharged near the squad's quarters.

The Wendell serviceman said he had just gotten to bed about 6 a. m. when his dog was with some of the servicemen on police duty, detected something wrong about 25 feet from the building and began digging. It turned out to be a time bomb which was turned over to the demolition squad for disarmament. It contained 1 1/2 pounds of explosives with a detonator from a hand grenade.

"Since he's a privately owned pet and not a member of the canine corps, the servicemen wrote, 'it doesn't look as though he will get a medal, but the guys of my outfit are trying to get something for him. Anyway, it's nice to know your dog is a hero.'"

The serviceman, who will be returning from Vietnam in November, said he hopes to bring his "doggie" along but it will probably cost too much and he will have to remain behind as the pet of some other serviceman.

Sgt. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones, Wendell, graduated from high school there in 1967 and enlisted in the service in October, 1968. He has been in Vietnam since November, 1969.

ISU Charts 16 Classes In T.F. Area

Sixteen university courses are to be offered during the fall semester at the College of Southern Idaho by Idaho State University and the Division of Continuing Education.

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse and work in a small hospital. Our director of nurses is a young divorcee. Recently, while on duty, I observed this girl "sign out" a narcotic in the name of a patient and disappear into the ladies room with it. Moments later she returned to the nurses' station where she charted the medication on the patient's chart and continued making rounds.

Abby, I know this girl took the drugs herself, but I have no proof. The patient on whose chart she charted the medication is elderly and very disoriented most of the time, so questioning him would prove nothing. I have noticed, more recently, that narcotics have been signed out by this same nurse and charted on the charts of other patients in the same mental condition as the elderly gentleman.

I haven't reported this to anyone as I have no proof, but perhaps I should. Or should I mind my own business, hoping someone else will discover the same thing? "ELWOOD"

DEAR ELWOOD: Report your suspicions to the hospital director, or senior administrator. Independently of what he says or does, also notify the director of the State Board of Nursing. A confidential investigation will be made and the situation will be handled from that point on. You will then have discharged your obligation properly, and perhaps the young woman with the alleged drug problem can be helped.

DEAR ABBY: How do you get rid of a guy you don't care for?
LORI

DEAR LORI: Introduce him to a GIRL you don't care for.

DEAR ABBY: What does a woman do when she discovers that her husband whom she has dearly loved for 20 years has been unfaithful.

He has admitted it. [He had no choice.] Now he says that the affair is finished and he wants only me.

I do love him and want so desperately to believe him, but how can I be sure he won't resume the affair? The other woman is younger than I, attractive, and unhappily married. She is easily accessible, too.

We have two teen-aged children who would be affected by a separation or divorce, but I must think of my future when they are grown and gone. If I am to make another life for myself my chances are better before I get much older.

Abby, is it possible to eventually get over this terrible nightmare, or does it go on forever?

NEEDS HELP IN B. H.
DEAR NEEDS: Yes, it is possible to get over the "nightmare." Women have told me that it sometimes takes such a crisis to "test" a marriage, and theirs have emerged stronger and better for the test. Believe your husband, and don't torture yourself with thoughts of what "might be." Nothing that's worth having comes easily.

DEAR ABBY: This is the second marriage for both of us, and it would be perfect except for one thing. My husband wants to go visit his daughter on our vacation and I don't want to go because the last time we went my whole vacation was spoiled by something which upset me.

In the bedroom where his daughter put us there was a large picture of her mother. It was sitting on the bureau facing the bed. It could have been placed in another room while we were there. Being a mother myself I thought it would be wrong of me to ask her to remove it, so I didn't say a word.

I can't understand why she would want to hurt me that way. She knows I have been a good wife to her father. Her mother died an alcoholic and gave her father a lot of trouble.

Am I wrong to feel the way I do? Would you go again if you were in my place?
SECOND WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes. But first I would tell my husband what upset me on the last visit there, thus precluding a repeat performance. It could have been an oversight on the part of the daughter. I think you were wrong to have suffered in silence.

Queen Named

TWIN FALLS — "Queen of the Week" was Toni Federico, with a 13-pound loss, when members of the TOPS Measure-Ups met recently.

Jessie Nelson, who is within six pounds of her goal, and Zinn Mitchell, within seven pounds of her goal, both acquired "Goalie" status.

Wilma Eastman was honored for reaching her KOPS status and was crowned and presented a bouquet of red roses.

A refreshment bar was featured in honor of Sharon Burgess who showed constant weight loss throughout her pregnancy. She was presented gifts and a floral arrangement.

85th Birthday Observed

WENDELL — Mrs. A. E. Dixon, Wendell, was honored on her 85th birthday anniversary at the Wendell City Park by her eight children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Simpson and children, Knoxville, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wilson, Cascade Locks, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Mel Shepard, Stanley; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Edleron, El Sobrante, Calif.; Mrs. Marie Perry, Jerome; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bruner, Jerome; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bruner, Wendell, and Lloyd Bruner, Oakridge, Ore.

Mrs. Dixon has 24 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

The National Handbag Association advises the woman who prefers a more structured handbag and who shudders at the words "far out" that there are more conventional handbags available.

MR. AND MRS. C. E. MCNULTY

Couple Observes Golden Anniversary

KIMBERLY — Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McNulty was honored at a reception recently during a Martha Johnson family reunion in observance of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Approximately 120 guests were greeted by the couple and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elden Rayls, Filer, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett McNulty, Jackpot, Nev.

Their granddaughters served the wedding cake, coffee and punch and presided at the guest book. Their granddaughters included Mrs. Tim Slagel, Mrs. Steve Hyals, Patricia McNulty, Linda McNulty, Mrs. Mike Hannaman and Mrs. Jerry Hennaman. Mrs. David Bates was coordinator. Ten of their 14 grandchildren and four of their seven great-grandchildren were present for the reception. One grandson, Jerry, is serving his second term in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. McNulty were married Dec. 29, 1920, in Boise. Most of their married life has been spent in Emmett, Boise and Nampa. Upon retirement in 1950, they spent several winters in Texas and Arizona. For the past six years they have resided in Kimberly.

Eighty-five persons attended the three-day Martha Johnson family reunion. The family traveling the farthest was Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson and daughter, Catherine, Alice, Tex. Other guests attended from California, Oregon, Washington and Nevada. The oldest family member living is Burnie R. Johnson, Seattle, Wash. 87. He is the eldest child of Martha Johnson. Other children still living who attended include Mrs. Myrtle Hubert, Pittsburg, Calif.; Mrs. Elsie Lamb, Modesto, Calif., and Mrs. Doris McNulty, Kimberly. The youngest family member present was Dawn Rognlie, Boise, 6-weeks old. She is a great-great-granddaughter of Mrs. Johnson.

Activities during the three-day event included an open house "get-acquainted" time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Caselton and a picnic at Julia Davis Park. Golder Hall was the location of the Saturday events which included a reunion dinner, a business meeting, ice cream social, games and square dancing.

Breakfast Held

HANSEN — An 8 a. m. breakfast meeting was held at the Twin Falls Park by members of the Excelsior Social Club. Guests were Mrs. Walter Chastain, Phoenix, Ariz., visiting with her sister, Mrs. George Thompson, Greg Scott and Christy McFarland. The Sept. 17 meeting is at the home of Mrs. Lyle Jones.

Jerome Miss Reveals Date

JEROME — Mr. and Mrs. Gall W. Williams, Jerome, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rita, to Franklin Brent Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Rich, Morgan, Utah.

Miss Williams is a graduate of Jerome High School and Ricks College, and is presently completing her senior year at Brigham Young University. While at Ricks, she was president of Kappa Omicron, a chapter of Lambda Delta Sigma. She has served as vice president of the College Section of the Utah Home Economics Association.

Rich fulfilled an LDS Mission to the Western Canadian Mission. He was graduated from Brigham Young University in 1968 and is presently pursuing studies toward a master of business administration and a law degree at the Harvard Law School.

The couple is planning a Sept. 2 wedding at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

An open house will be held in Morgan, Utah, and a reception in Jerome. The couple will reside in Boston, Mass.

Best Loser Named For Area TOPS

HANSEN — Bonnie Ryan was best loser at the Slim and Tyim TOPS Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelamth. She was also the recipient of the weekly monetary gift because she had lost the weight she pledged.

Several ideas were discussed for headbands to be worn July Day in October at Burley.

Mrs. Merleth Rucker was welcomed as a new member, transferring from another TOPS group since she has moved to this area.

Mrs. Virgil Wilson gave a talk on a recent trip to Hawaii and visiting the various islands.

They also were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Delton, who are former area residents. The Wilsons accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Avis Allen, and others belonging to the Sudweeks family, who held a family reunion in Hawaii.

Women's Section

Crusaders Continue

NEW YORK (UPI) — Is the Women's Liberation movement a flash in the pan? Was the strike Wednesday just a chance to let off steam? The answer to both questions is no.

Women's Liberation crusaders, from the radical bra burners to the quiet ones working for legislative changes, don't expect to go away until they thoroughly have rocked the status quo.

Some proofs: Betty Friedan, organizer of the National Organization for Women (NOW) and founder of the National Women's Strike, sees it as just the beginning. NOW's membership shot up 100 per cent the last six months, from 3,000 to 6,000 in 102 cities. Ten per cent of the membership is male.

Mrs. Bruce Benson, president of the League of Women Voters, told UPI that the women's fight has penetrated American society deeper than the picketing and demonstrations that get headlines. Mrs. Benson feels there is a lot of "silent support"—a silent majority that supports the liberation-equality movement but doesn't sound off.

Though not identified with NOW, the Young Women's Christian Association, in triennial convention this year, pledged to beef up its crusade for a better deal for women, calling for everything from abortion reform to child-care assistance for working mothers.

Robby Lyle, secretary of the Lucy Stone League, an organization crusading for equal rights for women since females got the vote, doesn't approve of radical tactics but admires the speed with which the Women's Liberation movement is moving. Among other things, the Lucy Stoners want women to keep their maiden names when they marry.

"Sleepy" Government Loses Vote

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UPI) — The government was defeated 36 to 35 votes in Parliament Wednesday night because a minister and a government MP were asleep in their offices.

It was the first time any New Zealand government has been defeated on a vote in 42 years. The opposition immediately called on the government to resign but it refused.

The government lost on an opposition amendment to a clause in a trustee savings bank amendment bill.

The deputy prime minister, John Marshall, said later the minister of internal affairs, David Seath, and government backbencher Sir Leslie Munro, a former president of the United National General Assembly, were asleep in their rooms when the bells rang summoning MPs to vote.

Seath said, "I was asleep at my desk. I just cannot believe it. It will never happen again."

"Klute" shooting HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Klute" starring Jane Fonda and Donald Sutherland will begin shooting in August with Alan Pakula directing.

U.S. Keeps Parley Contact

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States is keeping "frequent, continuous and steady" contacts with the parties to the Middle East peace talks as well as with U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring, diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said the contacts have been maintained "quietly, sometimes by phone, sometimes by visit, sometimes by notes."

They stressed the pace of the talks opened here two days ago has not diminished. "The momentum" continues," they said and discounted speculation that the departure of Israeli U.N. Ambassador Yosef Tekonh for consultations in Jerusalem after Tuesday's opening round of the talks would put at least a temporary damper on Jarring's efforts.

The number of negotiators available to Jarring in New York was cut to one today. Jordan's ambassador to Washington, Abdul Hamid Sharaf, left for his post in the U.S. capital after a short meeting with Jarring Wednesday.

The only negotiator in town at the moment is Egypt's U.N. Ambassador Mohammad Hassan el-Zayyat who objected to Israel's reported inclusion in the peace talks of such questions as exchange of prisoners of war.

El-Zayyat implied such questions were outside the mandate under which Jarring has been operating within the framework of the Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967.

Economic Indicators Hint Upturn

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government index billed as a barometer of future economic activity increased sharply last month, indicating the winter and spring business slump is giving way to a fall upturn, the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs, hailed the 1.6 percent advance in the composite index of leading indicators as "solid support for the expectation that business activity is resuming its advance."

Passer said the same index tipped off economists to the latest business slump by starting a decline last October.

"In view of the short lead time often shown by this series when economic growth resumed in the past, the recent upturn in this index is fully consistent with the strength in business activity suggested by other data," Passer said.

The index is a statistical composite of eight business reports that usually point the way to future changes in the economy.

Each of the eight indicators was reported separately earlier but the composite index is closely watched by economists because it is weighted to give a clearer picture of overall activity.

It was the second cheering report for Nixon administration economic strategists in as many days. The Labor Department said Wednesday the index of wholesale prices declined this month for the first time in two years, indicating an increase in some consumer prices would soon follow.

Taken together, the two reports indicate inflation is finally beginning to ease and the near-recession that started last November or December has about run its course.

Giants Rally in 10th for 4-2 Victory Over Cowboys

Hiroshi Suzuki tied a double off the score board in the top of the 10th inning to score the tie-breaking run Thursday night when the Great Falls Giants put a big dent in Magic Valley's Pioneer League pennant hopes with a 4-2 decision.

The Giants, who have been the Cowboys' nemesis all season and have won nearly a third of their total from the locals, added insurance when Stephen Faria followed Suzuki, now out for a pinch runner, with a run-scoring single.

Just the inning earlier, however, the Cowboys managed to get three singles in the bottom of the ninth and go scoreless. That happened when the third one was of the infield variety. The Cowboys were kept well in check, excepting a two-run homer by Rod Gilbreath, by lefty Kyle Hypes. Hypes picked off three Cowboys at first base to nip all thoughts of rallies.

Gilbreath's homer came in the second inning after Jack Pierce led off with a single. But despite five Giant errors, the Cowboys couldn't score again.

Great Falls got one back in the fourth when Dave Preest walked and scored on Ray Lombardo's bloop single. Two innings later, Charles Erickson led it when he doubled, took second on a ground out and scored on a wild pitch.

The Cowboys got out of a tight situation with a double play in the ninth and Great Falls repaid the debt in the bottom of the frame. But in the 10th, Rafael started it with a one-out walk and moved to second on Gunron Veloz' tapped ground out.

Suzuki hit a screaming liner off the scoreboard to decide it. It was Suzuki who hit the towering homer, one of the longest ever seen in Jaycee Park, the last time through.

Coach Says Game Isn't U.S. Owned
MOSCOW (UPI)—The coach of America's touring basketball team praised Soviet players Thursday and said the time was past when the United States could be considered unbeatable in basketball.

James Gudger, of East Texas State University, made the comments in an interview with the Soviet News agency Tass at the end of an eight-game Soviet tour. The youthful "Olympic development team" won five and lost three in the series.

"When I get home I'll be asked why such a strong team lost three games," Gudger said. "I will answer that Soviet teams played excellent basketball. They are stronger than ever before."

He said that "people erroneously believe that the United States, and I don't know why, cannot be defeated in basketball."

Senior Depth And Speed Key Kimberly's Football Outlook

KIMBERLY — A good supply of seniors, veterans and sufficient speed mark the outlook of the Kimberly Bulldogs for the 1970 football season.

Coach Gary Ayers' charges posted a 4-5 record last year and have six of the returning starters back. But the thing that keeps the Bulldogs, and everyone else in the Little Six Conference, from making championship stands is the power in that league.

French Yacht Hopes Fade; Intrepid Wins
NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Intrepid continued its mastery of Valiant Thursday with a 40-second victory, its third straight over its lone remaining rival for selection as the defending yacht in the America's Cup starting Sept. 15.

Intrepid now has won eight of nine races in the U.S. final trials, and Valiant has lost four of nine—all to skipper Bill Flicker and his Intrepid.

Thursday's race was sailed in light winds—so light that the start was delayed two hours because there was no wind at all, and was ended after five of the six legs.

The international rivals, Gretel II of Australia, and Franco, had the day off, but Franco made the news as Baron Marcel Bich, owner of Franco, selected himself as skipper for Friday's fourth—and probably last—race in their best of seven series to choose a challenger.

It was the third different skipper for Franco in four races. Gretel II leads 3-0, having beaten Louis Novrazz twice and Pierre (Popple) Selloff once in their turns as French skipper.

"It may be the last race, and so my father decided he would take the responsibility—he will be skipper, with Eric Tabarly as vice skipper," said Bruno Bich, spokesman for the French syndicate.

Oakland Hills Gets PGA Meet
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI)—The Professional Golfers' Association (PGA) has awarded its 1972 PGA championship to the Oakland Hills Country Club of three previous U.S. open championships.

Dates were not announced. The PGA retains control of its own tournament under the peace plan—worked out two years ago between that group and its tournament players division but dates must be worked into the schedule arranged by the players' organization under commissioner Joe Dav.

Kimberly lost some good men in Steve Emerson, Lanny Johnson, Glenn Harmaning, Mark Feldhusen and Jerry Olsen. But Rod Rudolph is back at quarterback and possesses fine speed. Mike Erickson returns for his third season at halfback, bringing speed and good broken field running talent. The line has good size in nose guard Bruce Gott, 109; Dean Steele, 201-pound defensive end, 185-pound linebacker Dave Higgins and 170-pound guard Dan Dry.

Biggest man in the lineup is 228-pound junior Mac Knight who is looking for his first letter. Also up and looking good from last year's jayvee squad is Mark Feldhusen, 175-pound guard, Rick Sherman, 165-pound halfback, and transfer Scot Suncrd, 180-pound transfer from Oakley.

The Bulldogs were slated to open at Oakley Friday afternoon. The remainder of the schedule includes Sept. 4, Murtough at Kimberly; Sept. 11, Valley at Kimberly; Sept. 18, Hansen at Kimberly; Sept. 25, Kimberly at Shoshone; Oct. 7, Kimberly at Glenns Ferry; Oct. 16, Wendell at Kimberly; Oct. 23, Kimberly at Declo, and Oct. 30, Kimberly at Hagerman.

Chief Makes Decision On Net Squad
CLEVELAND (UPI)—U.S. Davis Cup team captain Edward Turville said Thursday he has decided who will play singles for the United States in the challenge round matches against West Germany this weekend.

The decision amounted to an elimination of one of three strong contenders: Arthur Ashe, Stan Smith and Cliff Richey.

Turville, a St. Petersburg, Fla., attorney, said he made the decision after a five hour meeting with team coach Dennis Ralston. He said he will tell the team at a meeting Friday morning, and make his announcement at the Cup draw Friday afternoon.

Spurred By New Quarterback, Steelers Seek Second In Row

By GREG GALLO, UPI Sports Writer
Blending the flair of their glamor-boy rookie quarterback, Terry Bradshaw, and a new found strength given them by coach Lou Riecke, the revitalized Pittsburgh Steelers meet the New York Giants Friday night at spanning new Three Rivers Stadium before a sellout crowd of 51,000 and a national television audience.

Bradshaw, the passing whiz from Louisiana Tech who was pro football's No. 1 draft pick last spring, led the Steelers to their first victory after 15 straight losses two weeks ago against the Minnesota Vikings.

The Steelers, winner in just one of 14 regular season games last year, have played aggressive, football during the exhibition season and the man most responsible for their new-found spirit is former Olympic weightlifter Lou Riecke. Head coach Chuck Noll appointed Riecke to a new post on the Steelers' staff—a strength coach. Riecke, a physical fitness devotee, puts each Steeler through agonizing weightlifting drills along the sidelines for 15 minutes each day.

"It stands to reason that stronger football players become better football players," Riecke said. "And the better physical shape they're in, the more immune they become to injury. That's my job—to make our athletes stronger."

The Steelers are the third NFL team to use the strength system in conditioning their players. The other two are the San Diego Chargers and the world champion Kansas City Chiefs.

The Giants, who ran up a 28-0 lead on their intra-city rivals, the Jets, last week and then hung on to win 28-24, might have a tough time getting their offense rolling against the Steelers. Scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton has been bothered by a groin injury.

In the only other game Friday night, the Buffalo Bills take on the Washington Redskins.

In Saturday's action, Baltimore plays Miami, Cleveland tangles with Cincinnati, Dallas takes on Houston, Los Angeles plays San Diego, Chicago visits St. Louis, San Francisco plays Denver, Boston and New Orleans meet at Jackson, Miss., and Kansas City bumps heads with Atlanta.

On Sunday the Jets play Minnesota and Green Bay takes on Oakland. Monday's action pits Philadelphia against Detroit.

The Colts take an 11-game exhibition winning streak down to Miami against former Baltimore coach Don Shula. Shula has guided Miami to three straight wins this summer, the biggest winning string by the team at any time during its short history.

Paul Brown, coach of the Bengals, will come face-to-face with the team he guided to three NFL championships—the Browns. This will be the first of three meetings between the two clubs this season.

The Cowboys and the Oilers battle in the Astro dome, Houston has never beaten Dallas in three previous pre-season games.

The Packers-Raiders game and the Jets-Vikings clash comprise a TV doubleheader on Sunday and the Eagles-Lions games at Detroit concludes the long weekend of pro football exhibitions.

Twins Drop Boston 5-2 Behind Jim Perry

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Jim Perry won his 10th game of the season and George Mitterwald bled him with a two-run homer in the fourth inning Thursday as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-2, in the final meeting of the clubs this season.

Mitterwald's 13th homer of the year followed a single by Jim Holt. Perry capped the three-run fourth inning when he doubled and scored on Cesar Tovar's single.

The Twins scored twice in the first inning on a double by Tony Oliva, after Rich Reese's single, and Harmon Killebrew's sacrifice fly.

Boston tied it in the second inning. Rico Petrocelli belted his 21st homer, Billy Conigliaro singled and then stole second before Mike Andrews came through with an RBI single.

Jockey Nears All-Time Mark
DEL MAR, Calif. (UPI)—Two victories by Bill Shoemaker aboard five mounts at Del Mar Thursday moved him within nine wins of John Longden's all-time victory record.

Shoemaker rode Happy Promise to a $5,200 payoff in the fourth and then was aboard Aladancer, returning $8,400 in the sixth as he moved his personal win mark to 8,023.

Shoemaker also moved into the top position in the Del Mar jockey standings with 34 wins, passing Bill Mahorney at 32. Shoemaker has ridden eight winners in his 20 mounts this week.

U.S. Grabs Gold, Marks In Swimming

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—The United States swimming team broke four meet records and picked up another eight medals, five of them gold, Thursday in a dazzling performance at the sixth World University Games.

Among the winners was John Ferris of Sacramento, Calif., who captured his second gold medal when he took the men's 200 meters butterfly in 2:07.8. He won the 100 meters butterfly Wednesday.

The Stanford University student was the only American winner today who did not set a record for these games.

Joining Ferris as a double gold medalist was Galina Stepanova of the Soviet Union, who won the women's 100 meters backstroke in the record time of 1:16.7. It also was her second games record. She broke the mark Wednesday in winning the 200 meters breaststroke.

The first two diving titles were decided with favored Klaus Dibiasi of Italy winning the mens three meters springboard gold medal over Jim Henry of Dallas, Tex., and Galina Kovlenko of the Soviet Union taking the women's 10 meters platform title from Cynthia Potter of Houston, Tex.

The performances Thursday gave the United States a total of 20 medals, doubling the 10-three of them gold—won by Russian swimmers and divers.

Conflict on Stadium Use Intensifies
BALTIMORE (UPI)—The dispute between the Baltimore Colts and the Orioles over use of Memorial Stadium for the Colts' home opener Sept. 28, escalated on two fronts Thursday.

Colt owner Carroll Rosenbloom, in an interview with the Baltimore Evening Sun, said he hates what television has done to football, and charged that the Orioles' refusal to let the football team use the stadium was based on political connections between Oriole owner Jerrold Hoffberger and Mayor Thomas A. D'Alesandro III.

Rosenbloom subsequently apologized for his remarks. The Peoples' Counsel for the Maryland Public Service Commission (PSC) called for a PSC and Federal Communications Commission (FCC) probe into the matter.

The dispute stems from the Colts' rescheduling of their opener against Kansas City from Sunday, Sept. 27, to Monday night to accommodate the ABC television network.

An early season rainout, however, necessitated a twilight doubleheader between the Orioles and the Senators Tuesday, Sept. 29.

Ex-Caddy Shoots 6-Under 66 To Lead Dow-Jones Open

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Mike Resor, a golf school dropout who once caddied for Arnold Palmer, outshot a glittering field with a 6-under-par 66 Thursday for the first round lead in the $300,000 Dow Jones Open, golf's richest event.

Scrambling to salvage four pars, using only 20 putts and playing nearly an error-free round, Resor came within a stroke of the course record Thursday for the first round lead in the $300,000 Dow Jones Open, golf's richest event.

"I hit the ball so well today that it was almost virtually impossible to shoot a bad score," said Resor, whose 32-34 card showed six birdies and no bogeys. "I hit the ball within 'gimme' distance four times, I think," he grinned.

Paul Harney, a veteran who has not won on the tour since 1964, grabbed second place in the race for the $60,000 top prize, shooting a 34-33-67. Palmer, who won the Thunderbird Classic here in 1967, stumbled to a 79 over the 7,000-yard Upper Montclair Country Club course. He blamed his troubles on bad putting and said "that's getting to be an old story."

None of the game's acknowledged stars, all of them in the field, made a run at the lead after Resor, in the second threesome on the course, posted his 66.

Jim Ferrell, George Archer, Bob Lunn, Jim Jamieson, Bruce Crampton and Bobby Nichols all were at 68.

PGA champion Dave Stockton shot a 69, and Billy Casper the leading tour money winner had a 70. U.S. Open king Tony Jacklin shot 71, and Jack Nicklaus joined Palmer at 73. Lee Trevino and Dick Lutz each had even par 72's, Dave Hill, 75, Gary Player and Sam Snead, 76, and Frank Beard, 78. Resor, winner of only $8,000 in 15 months on the tour, earned his tournament players' card by grabbing the next-to-last spot in a six-man sudden death playoff in the spring, 1969 PGA tournament school.

That was his second time through the school, having failed to make it in 1968 and spending a year as an assistant pro at the PGA course in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

In 1966, when Resor still was a 24-year-old student at Brigham Young University, the Open which Palmer led by seven strokes with nine holes to go but few to Casper.

Now, Resor's hero is Casper. "He has helped and advised me a lot, particularly with the mental part of the game," Resor said. "I know when I hit the ball now, what I can do with it. I know when to gamble and when not to gamble. Billy has been a real big help." "Like today, I used my head on the holes where I didn't play very well and managed to escape with pars."

Loss Of Four Veterans Dims Camas County's Grid Hopes

FAIRFIELD — One word "transfer" appears to be the difference for the Camas County Musters this year because the eight-man outfit lost three men to other schools and another to injuries.

Coch Paul Brackenbury, on the basis of returning strength from last year's 4-3-1 mark, figured to be a contender in the Snake River eight-man league. But that was before Mayflower moved into the picture. Mark Lee, a three-year man, move to Bliss; Monte Funkhouser, another three-year veteran, dropped over the ridge to Gooding; Pat Bennett, a starter last year, wound up at Wendell.

and junior Dick Bauscher, another veteran, is out for the season with a knee injury.

Still the Musters will have 10 returning lettermen. Three of them are earning their fourth football monograms. Those include Charles Ashmead, 150-pound, halfback; Randy Bauscher, 160-pound end, and Greg Wokerstein, 165-pound guard. Two-year veterans are Steve Shippy, 165-pound guard; Shane Sweet, 150-pound halfback; Dave Cones, 150-pound quarterback, and Mike Gill, 150-pound running back. Garth Putnam, a 165-pound sophomore, has one year experience at guard.

Coch Brackenbury sees help from two sophomores and two juniors. The juniors are Casey Hobbly, 6-3, 200-pound end, and Mel Olson, 140-pound guard. Sophomores are David Prock, 165-pound end, and Lyndon Osborn, 145-pound halfback.

The Camas County schedule includes Sept. 4, Dietrich at Camas County; Sept. 11, Bliss at Camas County; Sept. 18, Camas County at Rimrock (8 p.m.); Sept. 25, Richfield at Camas County; Oct. 2, Camas County at Carey; Oct. 16, Camas County at Dietrich; Oct. 23, Camas County at Bliss, and Oct. 30, Rimrock at Camas County.

Unearned Runs Help Gibson, Cardinals Drop Giants 4-1

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bob Gibson, staked to three unearned runs, outduelled Gaylord Perry Thursday for his seventh consecutive victory and 19th of the year as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the San Francisco Giants, 4-1.

Perry gave up eight hits and the San Francisco defense committed five errors to hand the Cardinals three of their four runs.

Jose Cardenal's single with two out in the seventh drove in two runs for the margin of victory after Jim Harting gave the Cardinals life by throwing away an easy roller to third by Joe Torre for what should have been the final out of the inning.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Dean Johnson drove in two runs with his 25th home run of the season and Larry Hise contributed a pair of doubles Thursday night to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Johnson's blast, following a first-inning walk to Oscar Gamble, put the Phillies in front, 2-1 and saddled starter Jim McGlothlin with his eighth loss against 11 victories.

Reliever Grant Jackson, who replaced Lowell Palmer in the fourth, blanked the Reds the rest of the way to pick up his fourth victory in 17 decisions.

Mets 5, Braves 1

NEW YORK (UPI)—Donn Clendenon hit a two-run first-inning double and Jim McAndrew limited the Atlanta Braves to five hits Thursday as the New York Mets posted a 5-1 victory to salvage the final game of the three-game series.

Clendenon's double came with two out and followed walks to Tommie Agee and Art Shamsky. It increased Clendenon's team leading RBI total to 69.

The Mets added runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings off Braves loser Phil Niekro, who lost his 16th game in 26 decisions.

New York made it 3-0 in the third when Agee singled, went to second on a ground out and scored on Cleon Jones single. The Mets scored again in the fourth when Bud Harelston walked and came around on singles by Agee and Wayne Garrett. The final run scored after two Braves errors in the fifth.

New Burley Coach Welcomes Back 14 Football Veterans

BURLEY — With 14 seniors returning and some bright prospects coming off the sophomore club, the Burley Bobcats enter a new era this fall under the direction of new Coach Bob Matthews.

Coach Matthews assumes the helm from Ron Budge who guided the Bobcats for 31 years. Playing in both the Cross State and Eastern Idaho conferences, Burley mounted a 4-6 record last year and was hit particularly hard by injury. If those injuries stay away, the Bobcats could improve on the mark although some of the speedy sting in their running attack was lost to graduation.

The major change appearing in the prospective lineup is the return of Doug Manning to the halfback slot. Manning, a speedy, heady runner, was moved to quarterback early last year when injuries wiped out the key position. But Coach Matthews believes that given some time and experience, juniors Kent Sager and Gary Hanks can handle the quarterback chores, freeing Manning to become the break-away threat at halfback.

The Burley senior list includes Dick Randlek, 190, center; Don Johnson, 205 tackle; Joe Crane, 170 guard; Earl Dayley, 160 guard; Wayne Ramsey, 210 tackle; Kent Bedke, 175-pound end; Bill Kershnik, 165-pound tackle; Terry Elquist, 160 end; Clark Beckham, 165 end; Mark Hobson, 180 tackle.

The veterans in the backfield are Manning, 170 halfback; Harley Carson, 175 fullback; Bob Jackson, 170 halfback, and Scott Stanfield, 160 halfback. The juniors that have looked sharpest in practice thus far are Sager, 170; Hanks, 160; Rick Coleman, 170 fullback; Steve Jones, 175 fullback; Dan Knight, 170 end, and Mike Sandman, 165-pound guard.

The Bobcats end an 11-year postponement in the Gooding rivalry by hosting the Senators at Budge field tonight. The remainder of the schedule includes Sept. 4, Burley at Minico; Sept. 11, Buhl at Burley; Sept. 18, Blackfoot at Burley; Oct. 2, Rigby at Burley; Oct. 9, Mountain Home at Burley; Oct. 16, Burley at Bonneville; Oct. 23, Burley at Jerome, and Oct. 29, Burley at Madison (1:30 p. m.).

"I can't remember when I've been so happy to see a football season start," he told newsmen Thursday before he began working his squad for what will be his 17th season at the Michigan State University helm.

"We know where we were weak last year," he said. "The main area he cited as being weak was the defense, specifically the intermediate zone."

School Issues

Ultimatum To Black Players

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—Syracuse University Chancellor John E. Corbally Jr., said Thursday if seven black football players do not sign an agreement to rejoin the team when practice begins Friday morning they will play football in 1970.

Corbally issued the ultimatum after the seven rejected the compromise agreement which involves the right of the university to suspend them from the team.

The black athletes, including the team's leading ground gainer from last season, Al Newton, did not immediately react to Corbally's statement. In a related development the three white tri-captains of the team suspended all pre-practice activity after voting to back the coaching staff in the dispute.

Injury Might Idle Alvarez

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Florida coach Doug Dickey is worried that flanker Carlos Alvarez may not be able to play this fall and even if he does he probably won't be as effective as last year, when he was the only sophomore to make All-America.

Daugherty Eager For New Season

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Duffy Daugherty has analyzed last year's football season thoroughly and after three straight years of falling short of a winning record, he's chomping at the bit to start this year.

"I can't remember when I've been so happy to see a football season start," he told newsmen Thursday before he began working his squad for what will be his 17th season at the Michigan State University helm.

"We know where we were weak last year," he said. "The main area he cited as being weak was the defense, specifically the intermediate zone."

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
By BILL WORKMAN

How's this for a football oddity... Did you know there was once a college football game in which one team did not run or pass the ball at any time during the entire game, and still won it... It happened in Kentucky... In a game in the early 1900's, Kentucky decided to kick an first down every time they got the ball... They did kick the ball... They never ran the ball and never passed... And they won 12-0 by receiving two fumbles by their opponents in the end zone. This oddity is still remembered but it's been verified by the Kentucky Athletic Department.

Did you know a major college football game was once made by the University of Washington... They didn't lose any games in 1908-09-10-11-12-13-14-15-16... During that time they played 63 games... They won 59 and had four... They had to Washington State in 1907 and then didn't lose another game till California beat them in 1912.

How much has football grown since the start of the first pro league in 1920? Well in 1920 you could have bought a franchise for a flat fee of $100... Today, each pro team is worth several million dollars... In the entire history of football there probably never has been a better investment than that.

Did you know that the brand new Bill Workman Field building on Blue Lakes Boulevard North is now well under construction? Dave Workman's right-of-way from the Newton Sports Center.

Adoption 'Makes Sense'

By United Press International

Adoption has long been regarded as a means whereby infertile couples can satisfy their yearning for children.

It still fulfills that role admirably. But there is a growing realization among thoughtful people that adoption also makes sense for couples who already have one or more children of their own.

By adopting a baby instead of having one, a husband and wife can expand their family without any guilt feelings about adding to population pressure.

This is an important consideration to many people who believe that a sharply reduced birth rate is essential to any long-range plan for solving urban problems and curbing the alarming deterioration of the natural environment.

Some argue that every couple has a moral duty to help achieve a zero growth rate in population by limiting themselves to a maximum of two offspring.

But a couple who have two children can adopt another, or several more, without the slightest effect on the birth rate. They're not bringing new lives into a crowded world; they're simply providing homes for children on already born.

Thus, they relieve two urgent social problems at once. They help to curb population growth, and they also provide the nurture of a loving family environment for children who might otherwise wind up in the cold and crippling atmosphere of an institution.

There is a particularly acute shortage of adoptive parents for black and racially mixed children. Of 155,000 black children born out of wedlock last year, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates, about 30,000 have no hope of finding a permanent home.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

New Bible Issued

By LOUIS CASSELS / UPI Religion Writer
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A new modern English translation of the Bible, on which Roman Catholic scholars labored for 25 years, has finally been completed and will be published next month.

It's called "the new American Bible." Produced under official church sponsorship, it will replace the Douay-Rheims-Challoner version used by English-speaking Catholics since 1750.

This is the first English translation by Catholic scholars which was made directly from the original biblical languages—Hebrew, Greek and Arabic. Previous Catholic translations into English, including the Douay version, were based on the Latin text of the so-called Vulgate Bible.

During the 1,565 years that have elapsed since St. Jerome completed work on the Vulgate in 405 A.D., enormous progress has been made by scholars toward a better understanding of the ancient biblical languages.

The discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls and other documents have provided translators with older and more accurate manuscripts than any previously available.

Thus it is possible for modern scholars to produce a translation that is much more reliable, in terms of faithfulness to the original text, than such time-honored and still widely loved translations as the Protestant King James version and the Catholic Douay Bible.

"Another reason why new translations are needed is that the English language itself has undergone a considerable evolution over the centuries, so that many words no longer mean what they meant at the time the King James and Douay were produced.

"The new American Bible is a faithful translation in today's language for today's people," said Fr. William J. Tobin, representing the bishops' committee of the Conferency of Christian Doctrine, which sponsored the project. "The 'thee' and 'thou' of old fashioned 'Bible English' has been replaced by the up-to-date language of contemporary man."

Twelve publishing firms have been licensed by the confederacy to bring out editions of the new American Bible. The first is due from St. Anthony Guild Press Sept. 30.

Protestant-Catholic differences over biblical translation have virtually disappeared with the advances of scholarship achieved in recent years.

Rev. Harvey and Family Leave T.F. for Oregon

TWIN FALLS—Rev. and Mrs. Robert C. Harvey and their three children, left Twin Falls this week for their new home in Bonvorton, Ore., a suburb of Portland where Rev. Harvey will be doing graduate work at Portland State University.

Rev. Harvey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Twin Falls since Oct. 1, 1962, said he has enjoyed the past eight years in Twin Falls but is leaving to go into a new field. On completion of graduate work, Rev. Harvey says he hopes to teach speech on the college level. He will hold an assistantship in the Department of Speech at Portland State University while completing his education there.

He came to Twin Falls from Portland and prior to his assignment in this area was associate pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church there. Rev. Harvey delivered his final sermon here last Sunday and said while a successor has not yet been named, his former assistant pastor, Robert Williams will carry on duties here until a permanent pastor is assigned.

Rev. and Mrs. Harvey and their children, Mark, 13; Jean, 10 and Taylor, 8, will make their home in Bonvorton, Ore. While in Twin Falls he has been active in community matters, having served as a Kiwanis member and director, vice president of the YMCA, member of the Community Concert board, vice president of the Magic Valley Little Theatre Group and having worked in United Fund, the local Mental Health Association and other projects and organizations.

His major work in the local Presbyterian Church program has been along the lines of education.

Nazarenes Set Music Services

TWIN FALLS—Evening services at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday will be in the form of an evening of music, with a full hour of gospel music presented in the spirit of rejoicing.

Duets, solo arrangements and instrumental groups will be performed. A time will be allowed for testimonies from the congregation. The public is invited to attend.

Church members will also observe a night of prayer from 9 p. m. Saturday to 6 a. m. Sunday. Members are asked to bring their prayer requests, or call 733-3079, anytime during the night or anytime Saturday.

Castleford Church To Note Anniversary

CASTLEFORD—The First Baptist Church of Castleford will celebrate its anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of their church Sunday, according to word received from Rev. Kendal S. North, present pastor of the Castleford Church.

At the morning services to be held in the church at 11, Rev. Robert J. Smith, area minister of the Intermountain Baptist Area, will be the speaker. There will be a picnic on the school grounds following this service.

At 2 p. m., a time of fellowship will be held in the church. Rev. Wilbur Reese, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pocatello, will speak.

Church Sets Fall Term Of Classes

WENDELL—According to Rev. John A. Steppert the Church School of the United Presbyterian Church of Wendell will begin normal staffing and programming for the new year starting Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Mrs. Jean Harris will head the church school as superintendent. She will be assisted by Mrs. Lorene Bishop and Mrs. Esther Pierce as ordering secretary and roll call secretary respectively.

Teachers for various departments will be Mrs. Leona Ambrose, Mrs. Dorothy Hagerman, Mrs. Marie Scheel, Russell Carpenter, Dr. Richard Hagerman, Dr. M.E. Scheel and Rev. Steppert.

Douglas Schrank will lead the music with the help of several high school girls for the age groups through grades one and six.

For the first time this year the church school classes for grades 1-6 will be broken into two-year groupings instead of three.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dieperstool will be counselors for the Senior High Youth Group. Mrs. Lois Carpenter and Mrs. Arlis Archibald will again sponsor the Junior High Youth Group.

The original meeting place for the Castleford Baptists was above a store building across the street from their present church. The congregation later purchased a store building that fronted on the sidewalk to use as their meeting place. This location is the site of the present church and this building was used as a part of the Baptist Church building.

The pastor of the group was Rev. Isaac Todd. Rev. Earle D. Sims, a traveling pastor for the Baptist Church, was instrumental in the building of the church building. He guided the project and solicited funds and aided the group at Castleford in their united effort.

The congregation cooperated, razing the building, building a foundation, and the new church was built in the center of the lot. The church building also included a small building on the back, a three-room home for the minister.

Mrs. Earle Sims was an artist and her painting, depicting the scene of the "River Jordan", hangs in the church baptistry. Some of those who attended the laying of the cornerstone ceremonies in 1935 include Roy Haley, Sr., and John Moyer, Castleford, Mrs. Doyle Webb and Mrs. Steve Brabb, both Buhl.

The original church building has been remodeled and additional Sunday school rooms added. A modern parsonage was built by the congregation. Rev. and Mrs. Kendal North reside in this.

The women's group, the American Baptist Women, Castleford, has Mrs. William Fultz as its president. The Sunday School superintendent is James LaGrone. Mrs. LaGrone serves as the pianist for the congregation and Frank Wells is the song leader.

The committee for the anniversary includes Mrs. John Moyer, Mrs. James LaGrone, Willis Owen, and Rev. Kendal S. North. They extend a cordial invitation to friends of the Castleford First Baptist Church to join with the congregation in this anniversary celebration.

Eskaton Profits; Public Benefits

By DAVID POLING

OAKLAND, Cal. (NEA)—Whenever a nonprofit, charitable corporation makes money, the public is surprised and puzzled. The image of a nonprofit organization is usually one of deficit finance, cautious leadership and housing in a past-tense building.

Eskaton, headquartered in Oakland, Calif., is the reverse. This group of ministers and laymen (all brands and denominations) is on the top scale of salaries, plunges into multimillion-dollar housing projects and health-care units, leases airplanes for instant commuting and expects 30 per cent growth annually. Eskaton is eager to serve the needs of humanity and tired of waiting for the church, government or private enterprise to get on board.

Josh Wilson, chief executive officer of Eskaton, insists that the nonprofit tax shelter does not mean that his corporation should run in the red. He believes that nonprofit groups like Eskaton should expect high performance in hospital administration and housing projects—performance that makes a profit which will give the public more and better service. Instead of paying a dividend in cash to investors, the public should receive greater service. In the Eskaton hospitals that this writer visited, the public is enjoying a first-rate bonus in care and services.

While there has been no advertising or national publicity for Eskaton, a constant flow of mail lands at headquarters. Hospitals and health care agencies that are all over the country seek advice or plead for an Eskaton management takeover. Church officials, community leaders, physicians and administrators from Florida, Texas, Missouri and Arizona are in touch with Eskaton.

Josh Wilson is besieged by clergymen who want to be part of his growing empire and see the larger ministry that he has established that is free from bureaucratic budgets and ecclesiastical committees. Businessmen are intrigued by his competent handling of million-dollar budgets and the professional staff that has been assembled to make this Christian service agency hum. Medical people have been impressed with the Eskaton operation of the American River Hospital in Sacramento, the Mt. Shasta Community Hospital and the County Hospital in Colusa, Calif. Government funding officials are eager to consider Eskaton applications since they deliver such a high level of service, maintain rigid internal audits and are free from narrow doctrinal ambitions.

Yet Eskaton is a Christian effort. Josh Wilson wants the Christian community to be saturated with risk for the sake of mankind. He is determined to see Eskaton as a functioning model of ecumenicity and is able to work with conservatives and liberals alike. Presently he is working on a book dealing with bureaucracy and religion. His first publishing effort was a private distribution of material for worship, aimed at the underground church and house study groups. It sold more than 5,000, entirely by word of mouth.

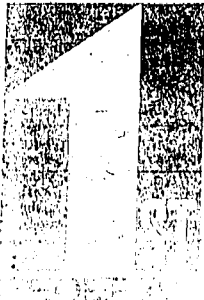

The explosion of energy and vision that has marked the appearance of Eskaton is due to the fierce dedication and loyalty of the Eskaton crowd. Wilson, like Billy Graham and Oral Roberts, is a powerful speaker and a commanding person. But for Wilson, evangelism is found in health, housing and education. The 21st century may prove him to be correct.

Judge Rules in Minidoka School Boundary Case

RUPERT — Judge Charles Scoggin, Gooding, has ruled in favor of the Minidoka School District in a suit brought against them in Fifth Judicial District Court over boundary lines for two new junior high school buildings.

Judge Scoggin advised Roger Ling, attorney for the school district of his decision Thursday afternoon. A suit consisting of two counts was brought against the school board and Supt. Camden Meyer last May by parents and school students who first objected to the division of attendance for the two new schools, arguing it would not afford equal educational opportunity for students. In the second count, the plaintiffs asked for reapportionment of trustee zones of the Minidoka County School District.

On the second count, the Judge ruled the district should reapportion trustee districts and gave them until 90 days before the next regular trustee election to compile this, and to file their proposed plan with the court.

Named as defendants in the suit along with Supt. Meyer were board trustees, Dale Garner, Sherril Stallings, Leonard Martin, David Spoler and Leo Moore.

Plaintiffs in the case were Dan Cowell, Bill Cowell, Dale Loveland, John Wiggins, Dale Donner and Richie Donner, represented by Don Chisholm.

Boundary line between the new East Junior High School and the West Junior High School, now nearing completion, had been set at 300 West. Plaintiffs said this would create unequal educational opportunities for those attending the East school because of population inequities. School officials contended new construction in the Paul and Heyburn areas would bring enrollment in the two schools to an equal balance within the immediate future.

Meyer said he is pleased with the judge's decision and it will enable the district to go ahead with school plans as scheduled. He said the district was making plans for reapportionment of trustee zones before the suit was brought.

Population in both Rupert and Heyburn areas have grown since present trustee zone boundaries were established, following school consolidation in 1948, Meyer said.

Boundary lines for the junior high schools will remain on 300 West from the north extremity to the Minico High School, the superintendent said. A section located south of Minico between 200 and 300 West will be included in the West Junior High School enrollment. Students originally in the Heyburn School District and living south of the interstate will attend West Junior High, but a few living south of the interstate who attended Rupert schools will now go to East Junior High School.

Meyer reminded patrons registration for junior high school will begin Monday and classes in the junior high schools, held up pending completion of the buildings and arrival of equipment, will begin Sept. 8 at 8 a. m. Other schools in the district opened this week.

Lutherans Install Principal, Teacher

TWIN FALLS — A new school principal and director of Christian education for the Immanuel Lutheran Church as well as a new minister of music will be installed at 11 a. m. Sunday in the church.

Lawrence Brose, Bellingham, Wash., will be installed as the new principal of the Memorial Lutheran School and as director of Christian education.

Leland Heubner, Seward, Neb., will be installed as the new minister of music for Immanuel Lutheran Church as well as a seventh and eighth grade teacher at Memorial Lutheran School.

After the installation ceremonies Sunday morning, a potluck dinner and food shower will be held at the school to honor the two men and their families.

Brose attended the University of Colorado for one year and graduated from the Concordia Teachers College at River Forest, Ill., in 1964.

He was teacher-principal at Zion Lutheran School in Cloverdale, British Columbia for five years. The past year he has attended the West

Washington State College at Bellingham, Wash., graduating last week with a master of education degree in the area of school administration.

He and his wife, Mary, will reside at 235 Carney St.

Heubner will be in charge, as minister of music, of the congregation's three choirs, the organ playing for the Sunday morning services and all special occasions, as well as arranging for any special numbers used during the services.

Heubner was born in Nebraska. He graduated from Concordia Teachers College at Seward, Neb., on May 30, 1970, with a B. S. degree in education. He and his wife, Barbara, will reside at 266 Blake St.

Five women teachers at the Twin Falls school also will be installed at Sunday's special services.

They are Mrs. Herbert Diesner, kindergarten; Mrs. Brose, first grade; Mrs. Edwin Holtzen, second grade; Mrs. Heubner, third and fourth grades, and Mrs. C. V. Hovey, fifth and sixth grades.

2 Horses Hurt in Hit, Run

RICHFIELD — A valuable horse was killed and another injured when struck on Highway 93A by an automobile whose driver did not report the accident to authorities.

The horses belonged to Rupert Golcochea and his son, Ronald, whose horse had to be shot because of broken bones.

The accident occurred sometime Wednesday morning six miles east of Richfield. The horses, pastured with eight others on Riverwood Ranchland, had got out after someone had opened the gate.

Mrs. Rupert Golcochea said the accident was investigated by Sheriff Wild Conner and Marshal Bill Anderson of Shoshone. A report was given that the car which hit the animals was seen in Shoshone and the license number taken.

The Appaloosa horse which had to be killed was valued at $300 and was insured.

Shoshone Rotary Eyes Party

SHOSHONE — Final plans for a special dinner and theater party for Lincoln county citizens over 70 were made by the Rotary Club at its Wednesday noon meeting.

The dinner will be at 6 p. m. Sept. 3 at the city park with the movie set for 7 p. m. at the Rex theater.

Committee members include Ferry Hadlock, Edwin Grasse, C. M. Wilson and Kenneth Carothers.

A luncheon will be served on Sept. 30 for the visit of the district governor of Rotary here, with Hadlock, Dennis Everett and Roger Maxwell committee chairmen.

For the program Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Rose showed slides and told of their experiences the past two years in Japan. He was stationed there with the air force.

Other guests were Tony Zlatnik, Bill Oakley and Bob Myer, Gooding.

Lightning Kills 3 Cows, Calf

HAZELTON — Three cows and a calf were struck by lightning and killed early Thursday on the Lester Saunders farm, southeast of Hazelton.

Saunders discovered the animals about 9 a. m. following a storm which moved through the area a short time earlier. He said the beef animals were grazing together in a field. He did not estimate his loss.

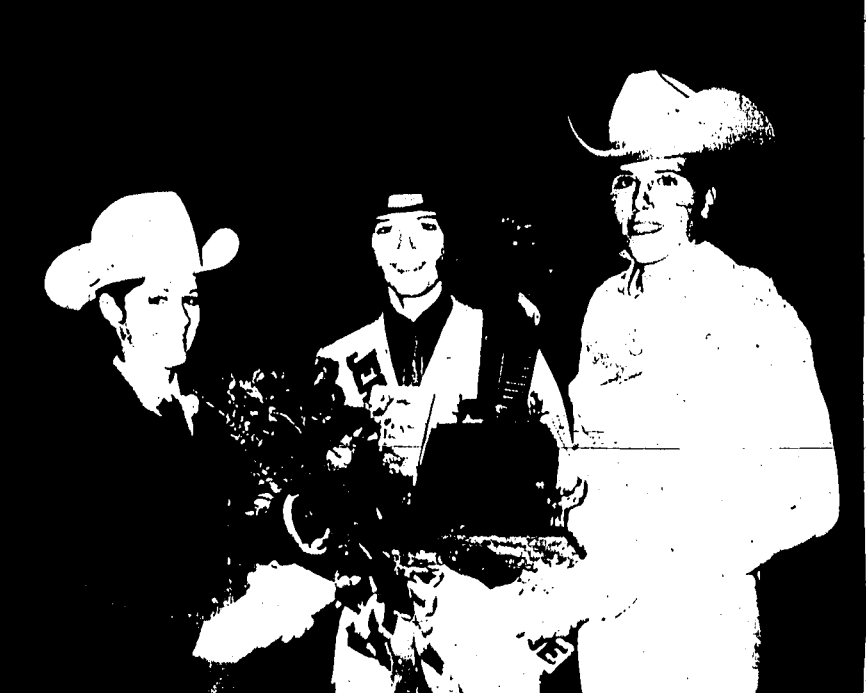

The same storm caused damage to several deep well irrigation pumps. Roy Sexton said the switch box burned out on an irrigation pump on his farm and the motor burned out on another pump on the Tom Dean farm, all in the same general area.

Electricity was out in the farming area southeast of Hazelton for a time Thursday morning.

Home on Leave

RICHFIELD — Jack Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Riley, is spending his 30-day leave in Richfield after serving in Vietnam with the Navy.

Rodeo Queen Named

Shoshone Principal Listed in Publication

SHOSHONE — Jack Dean Bowlin, Shoshone elementary principal, is recipient of a new certificate of honor for his selection to appear in the "Personalities of the West and Midwest" publication for 1970-71 edition.

The certificate states "Personalities of the West and Midwest, honoring America's leaders, distinguished, outstanding and notable, in recognition of past achievements, outstanding ability and service to community and state," and is signed by E.H. Sparks, editor, for the North Carolina publishing firm.

The publication will be out this fall, Bowlin was notified. Rather reluctant to reveal this notice of recognition, Bowlin Thursday was busy preparing for the first teachers' meeting, set for today at the Lincoln school building. He has arranged the entrance bulletin board to read "Welcome Back to School." School begins Monday.

In preparing the publication on Bowlin for the magazine, editors asked for a brochure of his activity over the past 15 years.

In 1955 he had just been released from four-years enlistment in the U.S. Navy, holding a SH-2 rating at the time. He had served the majority of the time in the Far East.

He was reared on a farm near Hazelton, graduated from Hazelton high school and enlisted in the Navy upon graduation. His mother, Mrs. Oscar Bowlin, still lives in Hazelton.

After being released from the Navy, Bowlin attended Boise Junior College for two years, attended Utah State University at Logan for three years where he received his bachelor's degree and began working on his master's degree.

He taught in Kemmerer, Wyo., for one year as fourth grade teacher, taught a combination grade, fourth and fifth, one year and was sixth grade teacher and principal another year. When the bureau of reclamation completed dam construction there, the new school in which he served was closed.

He went to another Kemmerer school, taught remedial reading for two years, serving for one year as a scoutmaster and two years as assistant cub scoutmaster.

Pre-School Classes Sept. 7

SHOSHONE — Kindergarten classes will begin for the school year at 1 p. m. on Sept. 7, reports Mrs. Jessie Dunner, teacher.

Students who are 5 and 4 years old will be accepted for the class, Mrs. Dunner said, though only a few openings remain.

The classes will be held, as usual, from 1 to 3:30 p. m. each school day of the year, with vacations to correspond with the public school in Shoshone.

In addition to learning numbers, the alphabet, beginning sounds and rhymes, they study other countries, stress safety through various study groupings, learn street signs, and other academic projects, the class takes several field trips during the course of the year.

Picnic Set

BURLEY — District No. 5 of Veterans of World War I will hold a picnic at 1 p. m. Sunday, followed by a regular meeting at Salmon Park, Burley.

The Snake River Barracks will furnish meat, rolls and drink. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service.

Four Hurt In Jerome Accident

JEROME — Wayne Pathael, 36, Jerome, and his daughter, Jackie Richard, 14, are reported in fairly good condition at St. Benedict's Hospital after the Volkswagen they were riding in collided with another auto Thursday afternoon.

The Volkswagen, driven by Pathael, was traveling south on Lincoln Street when it collided with a northbound Chevrolet sedan driven by Mrs. Celia Falconburg, 19, Jerome.

Police said Pathael apparently was attempting a left turn onto East H Street, in front of the oncoming auto. The right side of the Volkswagen was damaged.

After impact, the Volkswagen spun around and the other auto went into a power pole.

Mrs. Falconburg and her daughter were taken to the hospital where they were treated and released.

The mishap occurred shortly after 3 p. m. Thursday and investigation is continuing.

2 Escape Accident Injury

BURLEY — There were no injuries reported in a two-vehicle accident at 3:10 p. m. Wednesday at intersection of Overland Avenue and 11th Street.

Danny E. Dirk, 24, Heyburn was driving a 1968 Ford pickup north on Overland Avenue in the outside lane of traffic, when Mildred Simpson, 54, Paul, driving a 1965 Oldsmobile and traveling south on Overland Avenue made a left-hand turn in front of the Dirk vehicle.

Damage was estimated at $500 to the front end of the pickup, and $75 to the right front fender of the Simpson vehicle.

The accident is still under investigation by the Burley City Police Department.

Airport Closed

HAILEY — Friedman Memorial Airport here is closed to all traffic through Sunday due to resurfacing of runways.

Jerome Rodeo Queen Named

JEROME — Deanne Ricketts, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ricketts, Jerome, was crowned the new Jerome County Fair and Rodeo Queen Thursday night at the final rodeo performance.

Miss Ricketts, who has been riding the past eight years, was sponsored by the Jerome County Fair Board.

Sherie Qualls, Twin Falls, was named first runner-up and Pat Light, also Twin Falls, was second runner-up.

Miss Ricketts is a member of the National High School Rodeo Association.

Today during the Jerome County Fair, judging of livestock continues in both 4-H and open classes. Tonight at 8:00 p. m. a free jamboree is planned for members of the Wood River Jamboree Club, with representatives from Jerome, Hailey, Shoshone, Richfield, Carey, Twin Falls and Valley areas.

The Jerome Square Dancers also will ride Saturday and the grand champion fitting and showing competition will be held as will the awards assembly. A 4-H tractor driving contest also is planned on Saturday.

A light horse show has been scheduled for all day Saturday on the fairgrounds with all breeds competing.

Results of the RCA approved rodeo competition, which ended Thursday evening are:

Bareback riding — J. C. Trujillo, Prescott, Ariz., first with 66 points; he won $203.84. Ron Kall, Wendell, was second with 62 points and won $152.88 and third was Nell Arave, Idaho Falls, 59, $101.93.

Calf roping — Jerry Kollie, Phoenix, first, 9.2 seconds, $313.60; Bob Ragdale, California, second, 9.3 seconds, $235.20, and Dean Oliver, Boise, third, 10 seconds, $166.80.

Barrel race — Carla McNeil, Montana, first, 17.5 seconds, $88; Lynette Hadley, Ogden, second, 17.8 seconds, $66 and Mary Aller, Pocatello and Pam Robertson, Mountain Home, tied for third, 17.9, $33.

Bull riding — Gary Hamilton, first, 67 points, $337.12; John Leggiuenechi, second, 63 points, $252.84, and Larry Davis, third, 62 points, $188.56.

Saddle bronc — J. C. Bonnie, first, 67 points, $211.64; Wilson Pate, second, 64 points, $158.75, and Dennis Runers, third, 63 points, $105.84.

Steer wrestling — Wayne Jennings, first, 4.9 seconds, $294; Bill Allen, second, 5.2 seconds, $220.50, and John W. Jones, third, 5.5 seconds, $147.

Antique Popularity Grows at T.F. Fair

BY MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent

FILER — Antiques are becoming more popular each year as more and more people are joining the collector's ranks in search of old and treasured articles.

The antique department of the Twin Falls County Fair has an outstanding display of items each year, and this year's fair, Sept. 9-12, has a total of 315 articles on which first and second place premiums will be awarded. Classes range from various kinds of clocks, musical instruments, Bibles, books and pictures, to clothing and cloth, and collectors' items which are limited to ten articles of one kind, and through many classes of earthenware, and glassware.

Each class this year will have a division for the most unusual item and this should produce many unique displays.

Mrs. Ruth Hanson and Mrs. Marjorie Davis, both Filer, are the superintendents of this department where entries will close at 6 p. m. Sept. 7 and judging will begin the following day. Entries can be made Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 5 and 6 from noon to 5 p. m., as well as all day Monday, Sept. 6.

Whenever possible a history should accompany each exhibit. The exhibits will be judged according to age and condition of original appearance and form. Dishes should be washed and other articles cleaned. Only listed entries will be accepted. Doors will be closed while judging is being done in this department.

Exhibits will be released between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m., Sept. 13 and no exhibitor will be allowed to pick up other exhibitor's exhibits without written authorization. This rule is strictly adhered to in order to protect precious antiques from being taken from the building unless the owner gives his permission.

One of the largest departments is that of earthenware which lists 51 classes eligible for premium competition, and includes many famous names of earthenware, as well as many kinds of plates, vases, tea sets and others. There is a large class for glassware which includes colored glass, art glass and pattern glass.

Those having collections which aren't considered antiques, may enter them in the collectors' items class. Collectors' items are listed as those which are no longer being produced and thus are becoming scarce and worthy of collecting. Depression glass, bottles, Rossville, Nippon china and others are rated as such.

There is a good-sized class for furniture. Jewelry has a special class, as do kitchen articles and metal articles. There are also many kinds of tack, toys and games.

New exhibitors are urged to hunt up their treasures and bring them for display and competition. They will discover a whole new world of fun and interest. Old exhibitors will need no urging as "once a collector, always a collector."

hearts if he held it. East obliged and returned the suit, whereupon Sally was ready to operate.

There were several ways to go after 10 tricks. One would be to try to clear the diamond suit. That would fail because West would overruff the third diamond lead and East would still make two trump tricks. Sally gave just a little thought to that play and proceeded to adopt the line that was most likely to bring the contract home.

She led a low spade. West's 10 held the trick and he led his 10 of diamonds. Sally won in dummy and led a spade to her ace. When both opponents followed, it was all over but the mopping up.

Sally cashed her high cards and started to cross-ruff diamonds and clubs. It didn't matter who held the last trump or when he got to take it. That would be the only trick for the defense.

North American women's pairs finished fourth and ninth also in Stockholm. In fourth place were bridge teacher Sally Johnson of Westport, Conn., and Bea (Mrs. Howard) Schenken of New York. Sally and Bea have ranked among our top women players for many years, although neither can match Mary Jane Farrell's record.

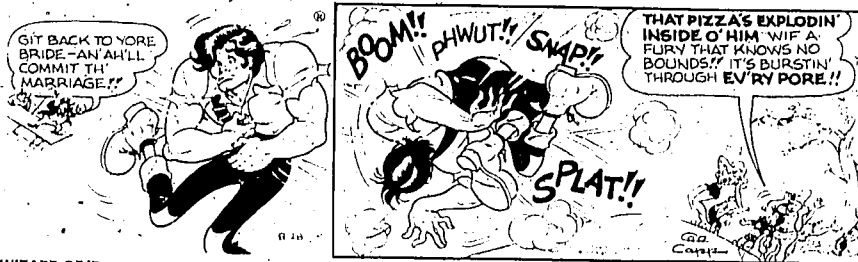

Sally and Bea both like to bid, so that they reached four spades with today's collection of 25 high-card points and no singletons anywhere. Sally might well have dropped the bidding at two spades and Bea could have signed off at three instead of going on but there Sally was in this doubtful game.

She covered the 10 of hearts led with dummy's king because she wanted East to play the ace of

Successful Investing

Q) Should I hold General Telephone for recovery or sell and take a sizable loss? I understand their Sylvania division has been a drag on profits for a good many years. Now I read that the company has not kept up with service on their Southern California telephone network. Would the better off in bonds? -T.L.

A) Expenditures for improvement and expansion of its telephone service reached $846 million last year and are expected to approximate $950 million this year. For the 1970-71 period management believes the company will spend $5.5 billion for this purpose.

Although GT&E has a reputation of providing poor service in this area, it is apparent that the company is making major efforts to reverse this image.

Manufacturing operations, to which SXL contributed 51 percent of sales and 34 percent of profits, were about half as profitable as telephone operations in 1969. In the first near-term growth, however, may be restricted by a heavy schedule of capital expenditures and a 0 per cent increase in common shares later this year. Interest charges on long-term debt increased 40 per cent in the 12 months through June, 1970.

If your investment goal is income, Dayton Power & Light 6 1/2% first mortgage bonds due June, 2000, return a more generous yield. This AA-rated bond sells at a small premium to yield 9 per cent to maturity and is call-protected for 5 years.

Portland Merchants Board Windows For Legion Affair

By CLARENCE ZAITZ
PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Downtown merchants boarded up some storefronts and Oregon National Guardsmen took positions at key city installations Thursday on the eve of an American Legion national convention which is attracting both veterans and antiwar protesters.

The security precautions came after Gov. Tom McCall said state and federal intelligence reports indicated some protesters—planned violence during the week-long convention, which starts Friday.

The governor activated the National Guard for "training duty" in and around the city. The first units were posted at utilities, water supplies and public buildings.

Some downtown businesses, a newspaper and city police boarded up street level windows on their buildings.

The city's legal apparatus prepared for possible mass arrests. Judges from three levels of the judiciary were specially deputized to act as magistrates on an hour's notice, the county bar association named 100 attorneys to act as defense counsel, and 250 inmates were transferred from the county jail to a prison 250 miles away in order to provide more cells locally.

All leaves and vacation for city police and firemen were cancelled and sheriffs from several nearby counties signed an emergency "mutual aid pact" allowing them to send their deputies where needed.

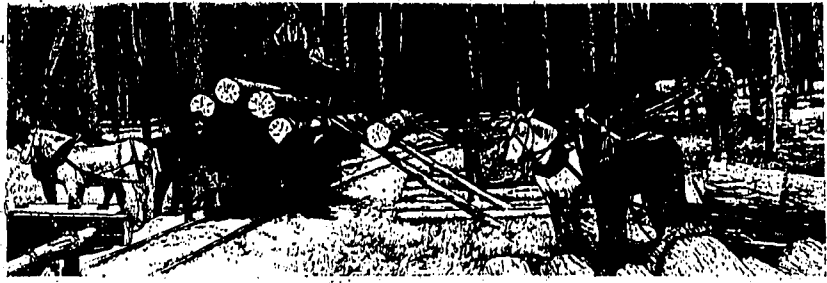

Several hundred young people camped at a city park seven miles south of the downtown area and thousands more gathered at a state park 20 miles away for a free rock concert which will run simultaneously with the Legion convention.

The youths at Delta Park, the only one in the city at which camping is being allowed, agreed to remove a sound amplification system Wednesday night while dozens of police stood by. The equipment was hauled off in city trucks for storage after sponsors of a free pop music festival said they would appeal again for a city permit.

The state has approved a rock concert at MacIver Park 20 miles southeast of the city. Long-haired young people began gathering at the park earlier in the week.

The first of 15,000 Legionnaires and 10,000 guests expected for the convention have already arrived.

McCall activated the Guard and announced he had federal troops at his disposal if necessary in a statewide radio and television talk Tuesday. He said the extraordinary security measures were designed to "dampen the fires of enthusiasm of those who would create chaos in our communities."

Logging Yesterday and Today

Gone are the horses and mules, railcars and hand labor that supplied America with timber in the early 1900s. Today, due to mechanized equipment and advanced logging techniques, forestry operations are faster, safer and considerably more efficient than they were at the turn of the century. Old print, above, depicts logging 70 years ago. At right, a Clark tractor logger loads a truck with timber for modern hauling to the saw mill.

Kennedy Proposes New Health System

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, charging that private programs have failed, proposed Thursday a national health insurance system which would cover almost every American by the middle of 1973.

To generate funds for the system—which would have cost $37 billion had it been in effect last year—Kennedy recommended new individual income and employer taxes.

"The private health insurance industry has failed us," Kennedy said in introducing legislation providing for a national system.

"Despite massive sales of private health insurance, most of the expenditures for personal health services must still be borne out-of-pocket by the patient at the time of illness or as a debt thereafter," the Massachusetts Democrat said.

Kennedy's national health insurance legislation would embrace virtually the entire range of health care services—without cutoff points, deductibles or waiting periods.

The only exceptions would be nursing home, dental and psychiatric care and certain medicines and appliances.

Had the program been in effect in 1969, Kennedy said, the national health insurance system would have paid about 70 per cent or $37 billion of the $53 billion spent that year on total personal health needs.

Kennedy's bill would create a health security trust fund, similar to the Social Security trust fund, which would derive 40 per cent of its money from federal general revenues; 35 per cent from a tax of 3.5 per cent on individual incomes up to $15,000 a year.

With Congress still clinging to the possibility of adjournment before the elections, Kennedy's bill will not get any consideration this session, and will have to be re-introduced again next year.

Britain Confronts Economic Crises

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's Conservative party government, a bare two months in office, has big economic trouble on its hands.

The words "crisis" and "devaluation"—dirty words in any economic vocabulary—are making big headlines.

Prime Minister Edward Heath has summoned vacationing ministers back to London for a Sept. 3 cabinet meeting to discuss what to do about the economic difficulties into which Britain appears to be heading.

British newspapers and members of Parliament, recalling that the Conservatives made a big issue of the country's economic troubles in the recent general election campaign, are beginning to clamor for action.

There has been no lack of warning red lights.

The National Institute for Social and Economic Research, a private but widely respected economic study group, said this week if the government does not act soon to give Britain's economy a lift in the arm, another devaluation of the pound may ultimately be necessary.

The wage-price inflation, about which the Conservatives slammed the former Labor party government in the election campaign, continues unabated.

Official figures showed living costs skyrocketed at an annual rate of eight per cent in the first half of 1970.

Last year wages soared by an average 10.2 per cent and now are rising at a 12 per cent annual rate, according to official figures.

The Conservatives were swept to power two months ago on pledges to slash taxes, halt inflation, trim unemployment and get the economy moving.

"Today's big question," said the left-leaning The Sun, "is: What are the government going to do? It is too late to go on just thinking. They've been talking about it long enough."

Hereford Show to Feature Top Herds

FILER—Top Hereford herds from four states will be here during the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo to take part in the first Idaho State Hereford Show on Sept. 8.

Herschel Boydston, head of the agricultural department, College of Southern Idaho, is show chairman. He said some of the nation's top herds will be here for the show. The four states that will be represented at the show include Idaho, Montana, Utah and Oregon.

The Stone Hereford Ranch at Hermiston, Ore., will have 15 head here and the Lost River Hereford Ranch, Klamath Falls, Ore., will have 19 head.

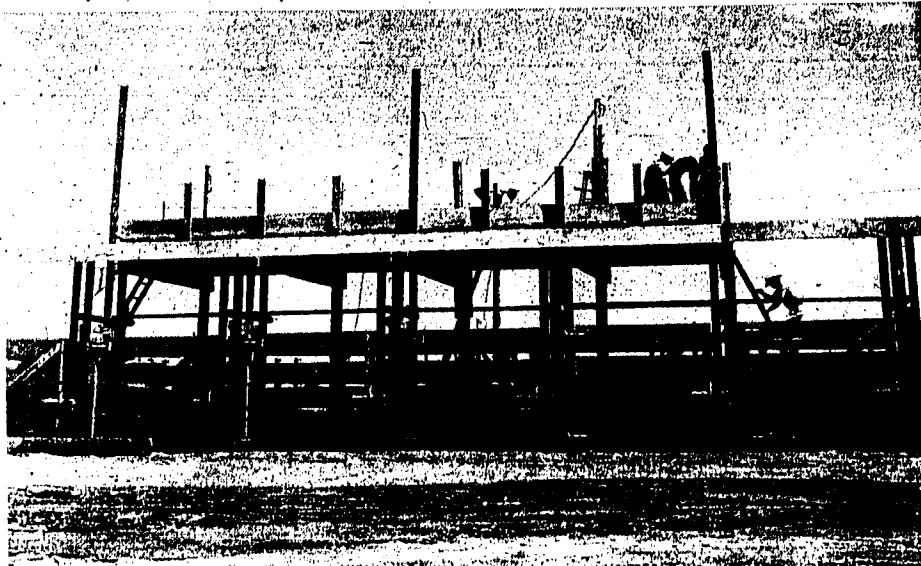

Other top Hereford ranches to have top animals for the show include Kydd Cattle Co., Three Forks, Mont.; Boyers Hereford Ranch, Twin Bridges, Mont.; C. J. Voss, Twin Bridges; Mac's Hereford Ranch, Eureka, Mont.; Peterson Brothers, Ogden; Norgon Hereford Ranch, Plattville, Colo.; and Ernest H. Olson and Sons, Ogden.

Idaho herds to be represented include Harper Brothers, Malta; Thane Thompson, Downey; Rudd Hereford Ranch, St. Anthony; Jay Pearson, Moore; Lynn Lossil; Irving Harrop, Rigby; Hays Hereford Ranch, Rockland; Bob Howard and Sons, Murtaugh; Lou Rothwell, Arco; Naugle Hereford Ranch, Nampa; Tom Techick, Arco, and Lance Gilbert, Bruneau. It is anticipated that after this year's show, it will be an annual event during the county fair and build up to be one of the largest shows in the Northwest.

CREWS ARE WORKING on the new bucking chutes and temporary judge stand at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds in Filer in preparation of the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo Sept. 8-12. The temporary judge's stand will be torn down and replaced next year by permanent type structure.

Irrigation Equipment Show Set

BURLEY—Surface and sprinkler irrigation systems, all size and shapes will be on display next week for Magic Valley farmers and ranchers.

The Idaho Irrigation Equipment Show, sponsored by the University of Idaho show.

Larson said this show had been in the planning stages for many months as a result of Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with SCS, ARS,

Farm Bureau Units to Make Centerpieces

SHOSHONE—Farm Bureau women of the District will make centerpieces for the fall convention, according to Mrs. Ervin Braun, north Shoshone, president.

At the Sept. 23 meeting, to be held at 2 p.m. at Woods Cafe, Jerome, women from each county will take one centerpiece, with an aim to have at least four different types pertaining to holidays or seasons of the year there for samples. A decision will be made at that time on which to use. Each two-county committee will work together in providing the finished items. Sixteen centerpieces, in all, will be needed.

Sprinkler Irrigation Association, Burley Chamber of Commerce and Irrigation Equipment Industry, will be held Wednesday and Thursday on the Cassia County Fairgrounds.

This show is expected to draw nearly 70 irrigation equipment firms from all parts of the nation as well as Idaho, states Dorrell Larson, Boise, University of Idaho's extension irrigationist.

Southern Idaho is one of the fastest and largest developing irrigation territories in the world and this will be one of the few times area residents will be able to see automatic surface and sprinkler systems at one

All farmers and ranchers interested in up-to-date irrigation systems or those planning to install new systems are urged to attend this show next week.

Six-Cent Ewes

SYDNEY — Sheep sold for six cents each recently in south Australia — less than the price of an ice-cream cone.

At sheep sales in the drought-stricken Cleve and Cowell districts, 200 miles northwest of Adelaide, about 10,000 sheep have been sold on skin-value prices over the past month. At the town of Cleve, about sheep, less their wool in poor condition, were sold at six cents each.

Unless good rains fall within the next week or so, farmers in the Murray Valley and on the north and west coasts of south Australia, will face the prospect of slaughtering thousands of sheep or leaving them to die of thirst or starvation.

FFA Entries at T.F. Fair Limited to County Members

FILER — Entries in the Future Farmers of America department of the Twin Falls County Fair, Sept. 9-12, are limited to FFA members in Twin Falls County, according to F. V. Morrison, Murtaugh, superintendent.

The Castleford agriculture teacher will be in charge of FFA judging contests; the Kimbly agriculture teacher, the FFA exhibits; the Twin Falls agriculture teacher, FFA sheep and swine; Buhl agriculture teacher, dairy and beef; Filer agriculture teacher, FFA produce booth, and Murtaugh agriculture teacher, FFA fitting and showing.

According to a special rule, no FFA exhibitor will be allowed to show a fat beef animal that has previously been shown.

All livestock entry applications must be entered before 5 p. m. Sept. 5 and produce and all other livestock and FFA exhibits must be entered before 5 p. m. Sept. 7.

The FFA fitting and showing contest shall be divided into two groups, junior and senior divisions. The junior division will include boys who are enrolled in agriculture two and three for the year of the fair, and the senior division shall include boys who are enrolled in agriculture four or any other active FFA member.

Each school team may consist of three judges and one to three alternate judges to participate in the judging contest. No boy can compete in the contest as a regular team judge more than once without disqualifying his team.

Each FFA member may exhibit as many different crops as he wishes, but these exhibits must be grown on a farm owned or rented by himself and raised as his own project.

Premiums in three places will be awarded threshed grains and legumes, sheaf grains and legumes, and other crop exhibits. The Amalgamated Sugar Company will award 50 pounds of sugar for the best five beets and 25 pounds of sugar for the largest beet.

Each FFA chapter will receive five dollars for showing a display with funds to go to FFA district.

Livestock exhibits include sheep, any breed; swine, any breed; dairy cattle, Holsteins, Guernseys, Milking Shorthorns, Jerseys, Ayrshires and Brown Swiss; beef breeding, any breed and poultry, any breed.

The Idaho Cattlemen's Association will award a belt buckle for the outstanding beef project, and the Magic Valley Cattlemen's Association will give a trophy on a beef breeding project.

General Building Supply will award trophies for livestock team judging and individuals. Farm Service Inc. will give special awards for senior grand champion fitting and showing round robin, junior grand champion fitting and showing round robin.

The Idaho Angus Auxiliary will give a special award of a trophy for highest placing Angus project shown by a FFA member and ball point pens to blue ribbon winners exhibiting Angus projects.

presented at State Grango.

Plans were made to serve at the Clarence Lancaster estate sale Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Schiffler spoke on the history of Harbor House and some of the experiences they have had working with the children there.

Mr. and Mrs. McCauley served refreshments.

Milk production in the United States in 1969 totaled 116.2 billion pounds, about 1 per cent less than in 1968.

Farm Belt Senators Hit Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farm belt senators are mounting an attack on the Nixon Administration's proposal to change wheat, feed grain and cotton support program, a Senate Agriculture Committee source said Wednesday.

Instead, the senators are seeking a simple extension of present subsidy programs for these crops.

The committee currently is hammering out the Senate version of a farm bill, already passed by the House and backed by the administration. A committee source said one section of the House bill, which limits subsidies to individual cotton, wheat and feed grain farmers to $35,000 per crop, probably would be retained.

But there apparently is growing sentiment on the panel for replacing the wheat and feed grain sections of the bill—and possibly the cotton provisions—with an extension of present programs that are based on a 1965 law.

RUPERT — Rolland Jonda, Rupert potato shipper, is the new vice chairman of the Idaho Potato Commission.

Tea Eyed By Local 4-H Club

TWIN FALLS — The Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club made plans for the upcoming mothers' tea and style show at the club's last meeting of the year at the home of Christine Britt.

Committees for the mothers' tea include Christing Britt and Tracy Engelhart, invitations; Eldonna VerWay, Tracie Perkins and Terosa Meyerhoffer, serving, and Mickey Baker, programs.

Jay Klinke will preside at the tea table, serving coffee; and Janet High will serve punch.

During the club meeting, Miss VerWay demonstrated under-stitch under-stitching; Miss Perkins discussed making a hem; Janet High displayed the proper way to mend a tear, and Miss Britt demonstrated making a flat-fold seam.

Beef Judging at T.F. Fair First 3 Days

FILER—Judging in different classes of the beef cattle department of the Twin Falls County Fair Sept. 9-12, will be done each day of the first three days, according to F. V. Morrison, Murtaugh, superintendent of the department.

Hereford judging will take place at 8:30 a. m. Sept. 9; Angus and Shorthorn at 2:30 p. m. and fat steers at 1 p. m. Sept. 10, and Charolais at 8:30 a. m. Sept. 11.

Dr. Harlan Ritchie, Michigan State University, is judge for this department where entries will close at 6 p. m. Sept. 5.

Exhibitors are requested to read over the Rules and regulations in the premium book to become acquainted with health requirements.

The American Angus Association will pay 25 per cent of the total premiums offered by the show for Angus in the open class, breeding cattle division.

There will be 16 classes in the Aberdeen-Angus division with grand champion bull and female to receive rosettes, and reserve grand champion bull and female, purple ribbons.

The Junior Angus Show is sponsored by Idaho Angus Association under the direction of the American Angus Association. The Idaho Angus Association will present a belt buckle to the highest placing Angus shown by a junior exhibitor from Twin Falls County, and the Idaho Angus Auxiliary will present a trophy to the outstanding junior exhibitor of an Angus project.

Shorthorns list 18 classes, including rosettes for grand champion female and bull and purple ribbons for reserve grand champion female and bull.

A recognition bar will be awarded to the exhibitor of the champion Shorthorn heifer.

The American-International Charolais Association will pay 25 per cent of the premiums in the designated classes. There will be 17 classes for bulls, 13 for females, and six for group classes, with rosettes and purple ribbons for champions and reserve champions.

The American-International Charolais Association will supplement the Good Herdsman Awards or caretakers of Charolais cattle with three place awards. The Association also will present seven trophies to the winners of grand champion and reserve champion bull, grand champion and reserve champion female, junior get-of-sire, get-of-sire, and group of five head.

The "Open to the World" fat steer show is scheduled for 1 p. m. Sept. 8. It includes a total class premiums of $405 offered by the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Company, plus a number of special awards from local businessmen.

The "Open to the World" Carcass Show also is set for that day with a grand champion carcass award to be given by Producers Livestock Marketing Association, Jerome, and Salt Lake City, and a reserve grand champion carcass award from the same firms. Other special awards will be presented from local firms.

Nearly three-quarters of the nation's agricultural graduates now come from cities, according to New Holland, the farm equipment division of Sperry Rand.

BELT BUCKLES are being presented to top Cassia County 4-H and FFA members by Jack Pierce, Malta, center, Idaho Cattlemen's Association director. Bob Ferlic, left, received his for the top breeding beef animal and Susan Payton, right, received hers for having the grand champion steer. These awards were presented during the recent Cassia County Fair.

Judging Of Sheep Sept. 8

FILER—Premiums in four places will be awarded four classes of sheep at the Twin Falls County Fair Sept. 9-12, as well as in a fat or market lamb class, according to W.E. McCoy, Buhl, superintendent.

John Hill, Eugene, Ore., will serve as judge in this department. Entries will close at 6 p.m. Sept. 5, but pens should be reserved sooner if possible as the question of accommodations is always serious at the last minute, the superintendent said.

Judging will start at 10 a.m. Sept. 8. Exhibitors should obtain a premium book and carefully read over the rules and regulations listed.

The four classes are Hampshires, Corriedale, Suffolk and Southdown. There are 11 classes in each which will receive premiums. Champion ram any age and champion ewe any age will receive rosettes and reserve champions will receive purple ribbons.

Breeders young flock "Show Down" blue ribbon winner of each breed will compete for champion rosette.

Lambs in the fat or market lamb class may be either purebred, grade or crossbred. Champion market lamb over all breeds will be awarded a rosette.

Olson's Registered Sheep Ranch will award a trophy to the best pen of three fat lambs of any exhibitor. The American Suffolk Sheep Society will make a number of special awards. These are open to exhibitors who are members of the society and whose animals carry the society tags in their ears at time of exhibition. Each exhibitor will be limited to one money bid each class.

Social Security

If you have any questions about your social security, address them to Jim Davis, P. O. Box 1239, Twin Falls, Idaho. 83301.

Q.—I understand that there has been an increase in the premium charged for the Medical Insurance part of Medicare. What is the reason for the increase?

A.—Experience, now shows that the rate should have gone up to about $4.70 in July 1969, but the premium was held at $4.00, and the program has had to draw on its reserves. About half of the increase is needed to finance the Medical Insurance program as it is now working. The rest of the increase is to cover higher costs in the 1970-1971 premium period. The basic premium rate was increased July 1, 1970, to $5.30 per month.

Q.—I know social security helps older people, but what about young workers like me? What's in it for us? I'm 28 and see nothing ahead but contributions until I'm 65.

A.—Social security provides a great deal of valuable protection for you and other young workers long before you reach retirement age. You, and your family, are protected against loss of income resulting from disability or death. If you or your spouse should die, your dependents may receive a lump sum payment and monthly cash benefits.

Gem Hog Producers Warned

BOISE — The Idaho Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Animal Industry warned Gem State farmers today failure to report suspected cases of hog cholera could jeopardize Idaho's status of "Certified Hog Cholera Free" and endanger the nationwide campaign to wipe out the disease.

Idaho has been free of this disease since February, 1967. Dr. A. P. Schneider, director of the state bureau of animal industry and of the USDA animal health division, urged hog producers to watch their animals closely — particularly newly purchased animals — and to contact their veterinarians, county agent or state or federal animal health officials at the first sign of sickness.

"Symptoms vary widely," Schneider pointed out, "so it takes an expert to diagnose the disease." He added that there are trained state and federal hog cholera veterinary diagnosticians available in Idaho as well as in all states.

Farmers have a financial stake in prompt reporting, too, Schneider noted. "Cooperative state-federal indemnity payments are available to reimburse farmers whose hogs must be destroyed because of hog cholera," he said.

"But indemnities cannot be paid for animals that die before the first visit of a regulatory veterinarian. So this emphasizes the importance of reporting at the first sign of sickness."

Dr. Schneider pointed to the current lower incidence of hog cholera across the nation as just one indication of progress being made toward the goal of a hog cholera free nation. "So far during 1970, we've had about half the number of cases as during the same months in 1969 — 430 versus 853. Equally important, about 85 percent of those cases were confined to just four states."

In addition to Idaho, 14 other states are officially declared "hog cholera free."

Ribbon Shown To Grangers

KING HILL — The purple ribbon, denoting champion, was displayed recently at the meeting of the King Hill Grange. The ribbon was awarded the King Hill Grange exhibit booth at the Elmore County Fair.

Reports were given of the displays and ribbons won at the fair, and Mrs. Frank Jones, chairman of the exhibit booth, thanked all those who assisted her with the work of decorating and collecting the displays. A report was also given on the six grain sheaths made for display by the members.

CAREY — Some 33 ribbon winning animals brought $9,094 during the recent annual 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Sale in conjunction with the Blaine County Fair at Carey.

Messersmith Auction Service donated the auctioneering services for the event, and also, in behalf of Dr. Paul Jacobson, Shoshone, added 72 and a half cents or 25 to the two lowest selling lambs. Harris Sale Yard, Shoshone, donated $15 to the young person having the hardest luck during the fair.

Winner of that award was Greg Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gall Hansen, Carey. It seemed young Hansen loaded the pig in the hot afternoon and when he noticed the animal was too hot, gave it water to drink instead of pouring it over it to cool. The pig soon died.

Harris also gives each youngster selling a fat animal, a $5 bill. He has also done this in past years.

The highest price per pound for beef was paid for the grand champion steer, a Charolais cross, owned by Sheila Green. The animal weighed 1,050 pounds and sold for 52 cents a pound, or $540, to Harry Holmes, Sun Valley.

Miss Green also received $100 from the Charolais Association because her animal was a Charolais Cross, and the animal will be entered in the steer show during the Twin Falls County Fair in September. Holmes has given Miss Green permission to show the animal.

Reserve champion, a Hereford, owned by Tammy Strode, sold for 40 cents a pound or $509.80, to Atkinson's Market, Ketchum. The animal weighed 1,040 pounds.

Champion in the lamb division was a three-month, one-week-old animal owned by Karen Stevenson. The 102-pound animal sold for $1.50 a pound or $153.00, to Fred Laidlaw. Carey. Thelma Cloughton owned the reserve champion animal which weighed 103 pounds and was sold for $1.16 a pound or $118.45, also to Laidlaw. Laidlaw purchased all of the lambs, except one.

Only three hogs were sold and the champion, owned by Stanley Dick, weighed 185 pounds and brought 70 cents a pound or $129.50. Rangen's, Inc., Buhl, was the buyer.

Other beef animals sold included a Hereford owned by Jim Baldwin, 1,040 pounds, 47 cents or $488.80, to Golden Rule, Ketchum; a Hereford owned by Kren Mecham, 1,020 pounds, 44 cents or $448.80, Triple S, Halley; Charolais, Laurie Baird, 1,010 pounds, 45 cents or $454.50, L. Gov. Jack Murphy; Charolais, Dennis Baird, 950 pounds, 41 cents or $389.50, Royal Wood River Yacht Club, Ketchum.

Grand champion Angus was owned by John Cenarrusa and weighed 970 pounds. The animal sold for 41 cents a pound or $397.70 to Halley Merc. Other steers sold include an Angus owned by Peggy Simpson, 860 pounds, 48 cents or $412.80, Silver Creek Supply, Picabo;

Angus, Susie Simpson, 1,020 pounds, 47 cents or $479.40. Rangen's, Inc., Buhl; Charolais, Rocky Sherbine, 1,000 pounds, 42 cents or $369.80, Continental Life Insurance and Carey Sport Shop; Angus, Jim Cenarrusa, 930 pounds, 41 cents or $381.30, First Security Bank; Hereford, Toni Barton, 900 pounds, 39 cents or $351, John Peavey, Rupert.

Charolais, Connie Green, 1,030 pounds, 40 cents, or $412. Don's Frozen Food Bank, Carey; Angus, Jerry Cenarrusa, 890 pounds, 40 cents or $356.00, Twin Falls Tractor and Implement Co.; Hereford, Susan Stevenson, 910 pounds, 38 cents or $327.60, Picabo Livestock Co., and Angus, Lonnie Eldredge, 870 pounds, 38 cents or $313.20, Rangen's, Inc., Buhl.

Other lambs sold include Kenneth Dick, 105 pounds, 70 cents or $73.50, Warm Springs Inn, Ketchum; Doug Stocking, 115 pounds, 72 1/2 cents or $83.38;

Debbie Green, 128 pounds, 65 cents or $70.40; Glenda Stocking, 94 pounds, $1.08 or $101.52; Carol Peterson, 105 pounds, $1.17 or $122.85; Kirby Arrien, 93, pounds, $1.08 or $100.44, and Benny Garochana, 138 pounds, 87 1/2 cents or $120.75, all Laidlaw; Dale Stocking, 105 pounds, $1.05 or $110.25, Laidlaw and Frank Church; Randy Drange, 110 pounds, $1.10 or $127.80, Laidlaw and Church, and Ted Carter, 102 pounds,

$1.26 or $128.52, Laidlaw and Church.

The two other swine were sold by Debbie Harden, 225 pounds, 50 cents or $112.50, Harvey Bickert, Halley, and Stevon Dick, 172 pounds, 57 1/2 cents or $98.00, Silver Creek Supply, Picabo.

(FAIRFIELD AT CAMAS PRAIRIE GRAIN GROWERS)

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:
A.W. of Twin Falls: "Our tomato plants are huge, with lots of green leaves. Our neighbor says that we should pick the leaves off to hasten ripening. Is that true?"

Removing some of the leaves may hasten maturity by 3 or 4 days. Keep in mind that ripening and coloring of tomatoes depends upon fruit temperature. Removing some of the foliage allows more direct sunshine to reach the fruit, raises the temperature and thus hastens maturity.

Taking off leaves have some advantages as well as disadvantages. Advantages include easier picking. Fruits and soil under vines may dry off faster in morning or after rain, thus reducing rots and molds. It might reduce the amount of cracked fruit (?).

Disadvantages: Exposed fruits may sunburn if hot spell comes. More fruits will be exposed to damage by early light frosts (fewer leaves to protect against cold). Also defoliation may cause increase of anthracnose on fruits. Exposing the fruit may cause poor shoulder ripening of green-shouldered varieties.

In a nutshell: If your vines are thick and are shutting out light, you can safely snip out some foliage if tomatoes aren't ripening fast.

A.M. of Burley: "I have a rose bush started under glass and the jar is crowded with leaves inside. When can I take the jar off? What protection will they need in winter?"

If your cuttings are rooted, remove the jar and keep them watered regularly. The cutting can be planted in a permanent spot and it can be protected with evergreen boughs over winter. If cuttings have been inserted in the ground and there is no sign of roots, leave the glass jar on until rooting has started. The jar can be left on the roses all winter long. This acts like a small greenhouse and keeps them safely during the winter months.

Incidentally, there's still time to take cuttings from your favorite varieties. It's simple. Just take cuttings three or four inches long, remove bottom leaves and insert them in the ground. Water well, and put glass jars over them. That's all there is to it. You can root just about any other shrub this way.

F.R. of Twin Falls: "Is it true that our road side plants are suffering from lead poisoning. Leaves of our maples are turning brown."

Lead poisoning is on the increase, but may not be the real cause for leaves to turn brown. Exhausts from cars, trucks and buses cause much of the scorching, as does salt.

You brought up a good point, however, as it is not generally known that exhausts from cars, trucks and bushes is polluting our roadside soils with an extra dose of lead. Plants absorb this lead, and concentration is higher in urban than in rural soil and plants.

Plant uptake of lead can be reduced by adding lime to the soil, adding phosphate to tie up the lead into harmless compounds the plants can't absorb, and by adding soil organic matter which also ties up the lead.
