No Place To Walk...

SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE FORCED to walk on the pavement when they go to and from Harrison School along Harrison Street in Twin Falls. There are no sidewalks along the busy street pictured here one block north of the school. Vehicular traffic is heavy, swollen by commuting CSI students and parents driving children to school. The road's shoulders were overgrown with weeds shown here Wednesday afternoon when school was dismissed. (Photo by Dan Johnson)

Nixon Slashes Moon Missions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To the bitter disappointment of scientists and astronauts, the space agency has dropped two more moon landings from its Apollo program because of congressional money cutbacks. Only four landings remain. These will be completed by mid-1972 under a new schedule announced Wednesday, giving the United States six exploratory voyages to the craters and seas of the moon if all are successful.

One result of the latest Apollo cutback, some space officials predicted, would be the possible resignation within a few months of several of the nation's astronauts. The cuts Congress made in this year's space budget also mean an extra 700 civil servants and 2,300 space contractor personnel will lose their jobs before year's end, said Dr. Thomas O. Paine, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

In the days just after Apollo 11's historic first lunar touchdown at Tranquility Base last summer, scientists and astronauts looked forward to nine more lunar landings. One of these was eliminated in January for financial reasons, however, and the explosion aboard Apollo 13 in April interrupted another.

Congress then reduced President Nixon's $3.33 billion space budget request for the current fiscal year by a total of $142.2 million. On this reduction, Paine said, $42.1 million had to come from Apollo. This resulted in the latest Apollo schedule deletions. Paine said the Skylab program to build the nation's first embryonic space station and visit it three times in orbit remains unchanged. The first Skylab mission will come five months after the last Apollo landing in 1972, and the other two Skylab visits are set for 1973.

U.S. Warns Russ, Arabs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has sent word to the Soviet Union and Egypt warning them to avoid any further violations of the fragile cease-fire agreement in the Middle East lest they impair the peace talks that have just begun at the United Nations. Administration sources said instructions were sent Wednesday night to Ambassador Jacob D. Beam in Moscow to seek an early meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to convey the American warning, together with conclusive evidence of a limited number of cease-fire violations the United States has detected. Instructions went to the chief U.S. representative in Cairo, Donald C. Bergus, to seek a conference with Egyptian

Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad, to give the Egyptians a similar message from the Nixon administration. The United States, officials said Wednesday, has firm evidence that Egypt and its Soviet supporters have moved several batteries of SAM2 antiaircraft missiles farther into the 31-mile "standstill" zone on the west bank of the Suez Canal. The information was gathered by high flying U2 reconnaissance planes, earth satellites and electronic eavesdropping in the area. The United States, it was understood, is not urging the Egyptians and Soviets to move the Soviet-built missiles back to their original positions, but is warning them against further cease-fire violations.

VINCE LOMBARDI
Dies of Cancer

Lombardi Dies of Cancer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vince Lombardi, the tough boy from Brooklyn who in his later years achieved fame as professional football's master coach, died today of cancer. He was 57. The tough, shrewd, yet compassionate coach and part owner of the Washington Redskins sank steadily toward death from an extremely deadly form of intestinal cancer after two operations this summer. Death came at 7:12 a.m. EDT at Georgetown University Hospital.

Lombardi had undergone an operation June 27 for removal of a colon tumor and seemingly was on his way to recovery. He dropped in at the Redskins office several times, and even went to New York to participate with National Football League owners in their strategy sessions during July's pro players' strike. ## Unleaded Gas Wins

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Unleaded gasoline came out on top Wednesday night at a awards for the transcontinental clean air car race, beating out steam, electricity, propane, alcohol and turbine, diesel and hybrid engines.

A 1971 Capri entered by Wayne State University, Detroit, was named the overall winner over 32 low pollution vehicles.

Troops Retake Srang

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Three battalions of Cambodian troops including mercenaries trained in South Vietnam today recaptured the village of Srang whose fall on Sunday had opened a new Communist threat toward the capital. "We are great! We are great! We are great!" said Battalion Commander Danh Croch, visibly delighted over the victory.

Srang is 26 miles south of Phnom Penh and was captured Sunday by the Viet Cong who held it during bitter fighting for three days. Croch said the final assault was made by three battalions (about 1,200 men) of Khmer of Kampuchea Krom, Cambodians who were trained and paid by the American forces in South Vietnam.

The victory for the Cambodians came as fairly light fighting was reported in South Vietnam.

N. Viet Envoy 'Listens'

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnam's chief negotiator to the Paris talks returned to the conference table today for the first time in nine months. He pledged to "listen carefully" to see if the Americans offered "anything new."

It was the first meeting between Hanoi's Xuan Thuy and Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, President Nixon's newly named chief negotiator. "They, North Vietnam's gray-haired minister of state said before entering the old Hotel Majestic: 'We came here today to attend this session with the same serious attitude and goodwill. I am ready to listen carefully to what will be said by the new American delegation chief to see whether there is anything new in it.'"

Bruce made no statement as he entered the conference. The meeting was held on the 10th anniversary of the death of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

Agnew Asks T-N Columnist Wins U.S. Honor

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Americans would "choose the policeman's truncheon over the anarchist's bomb," but neither is the answer to real peace, Vice President Spiro Agnew said Wednesday.

True peace "lies in that pattern of mutual respect and mutual forbearance that is the essence of a civilized society," Agnew said in a talk before the American Legion's 52nd National Convention.

While noting that rights in the Constitution's First Amendment must be protected, Agnew declared that "smashing windows, burning off es, assaulting people in the streets are not acts of speech or assembly."

The vice president also said the U.S. venture into Cambodia assured additional withdrawals of American troops from Southeast Asia but added that it will be necessary for the United States to maintain a sizeable peacetime Army "for a long time to come."

As Agnew left the Portland Coliseum after the talk, women members of the Legion's Auxiliary sang "God Bless America" to drown out chants from nearly 200 young persons who carried antiwar and antiadministration placards.

Oregon's Governor Tom McCall, speaking on the convention's next to last day, said he was sending home National Guard troops he had called in to guard against disturbances from youthful demonstrators.

The 300 state policemen brought to Portland for the same purpose have returned to regular duties.

In the past week, only one window has been broken in violence. Probably no other city of Portland's size can say that, he declared.

TWIN FALLS — Frank Schell, Twin Falls coin expert and author of the "Money Box" column for the Times-News, has been awarded third place in a national competition of the Token and Medal Society. The award was made for his book, issued in 1967 "Idaho Merchants' Tokens 1865-1967". Schell, vocational school coordinator at the College of Southern Idaho, worked three and a half years putting the book together, and had forgotten about the 1967 contest for which he won the award. He said the award came as a complete surprise. The catalogue lists 850 tokens.

Schell has written a second catalogue, which will be issued in the near future, entitled "Idaho Merchants' Tokens, 1965-1970," listing an additional 850 tokens.

Astronaut Reports on Viet Prisoners

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — Former astronaut Frank Borman has told President Nixon there has been "major breakthrough in the position of the North Vietnamese government" for an estimated 600 Americans being held prisoner in Southeast Asia. Borman said, however, the Soviet Union and several other countries he visited in his world trip as Nixon's special emissary had agreed to undertake new initiatives with Hanoi on behalf of the prisoners.

"Everywhere we went we had sympathetic reaction and all the countries we contacted indicated they would take new initiatives with Hanoi of this subject," Borman told the President Wednesday. Although Borman was not optimistic about the result of his trip, he said he hoped it had "helped created an atmosphere in which prisoners of war will be treated on a humane basis and separate from the political discussions in Paris."

Backing Vehicle Kills Tot

RUPERT — An 18-month old child was dead on arrival at Minidoka Memorial Hospital Wednesday noon after being accidentally run over in the driveway of his home by a one-half mile south of here.

The victim, Ted J. Mooso, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Edward Mooso, was believed to have been instantly killed when the 1968 van backed out of the Mooso driveway driven by L. Wayne Jones, 55, Paul. Sheriff's officers said Jones had stopped to see the family and as he left he saw several children playing on the lawn, but did not see the little boy who was behind the truck.

Jones and the child's mother rushed the child to the hospital. Coroner Robert Walk said today investigation is continuing. The body is at McCulloch Funeral Home, Burley.

U.S. Fetes Ordaz

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon will host a celebrity studded state dinner tonight honoring Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz to stress California's close ties south of the border. Before flying here for the colorful welcoming ceremonies, Nixon will meet at the Western White House with members of the Senate Finance Committee to urge action on his stalled revolutionary warfare reform program.

Accompanied by Mrs. Nixon and Cabinet members, the President will fly by helicopter at 2:15 p.m. EDT to the Naval Air Station at North Island to welcome Diaz Ordaz who will be arriving from Mexico City. At North Island, the full panoply of a state welcome with a 21-gun salute, the playing of the national anthems and arrival statements will be accorded the visiting head of state. Security will be heavy.

Israelis Eye Talk Walkout

By United Press International Israel may decide today to suspend Middle East peace talks unless Egypt withdraws Soviet-made missiles it moved into the Suez Canal cease-fire zone after the American-backed truce, political sources in Jerusalem reported.

The Israeli cabinet, meeting today as the ministerial committee on security affairs, also will consider possible military action against the SAM2 and SAM3 missiles, the sources said.

In Washington, administration sources said the United States has firm evidence Egypt moved several batteries of the missiles farther in the 31-mile standstill zone on the west bank of the Suez Canal. They said the United States Wednesday night sent word to the Soviet Union and Egypt warning them to avoid further violations of the cease-fire agreement, but did not demand they move the missiles back to their original positions.

Israel has taken the attitude the movement of the missiles has upset the balance of power in the Middle East and a full-scale battle in the cabinet developed on what action to take. Defense Minister Moshe Dayan has been leading the hawk, demanding the missiles be withdrawn before Israel will return to the negotiating table at the United Nations in New York. He apparently is backed by a majority of the cabinet, including Premier Golda Meir, but Mrs. Meir had been seeking some form of compromise so as not to split the government.

In the meantime, U.N. Ambassador Yosef Tekoah, Israeli's representative to the talks, remained in Jerusalem pending a final decision.

Explosion Kills Embassy Bombers

ATHENS (UPI) — The government said today a premature bomb explosion which killed two foreigners outside the U.S. Embassy Wednesday was evidence of "foreign" attempts to begin a resistance movement in Greece against the ruling junta.

"The tragic fate of the perpetrators of yesterday's explosion proves that there is divine justice and also that there is no resistance (movement) in Greece," an official statement said. "The introduction from abroad is being tried, and persons of foreign nationality serving foreign interests and richly financed are being used. The use of such methods equals an admission of weakness and specifies the quality of the revolution's opponents." A police spokesman said, "The explosive was intended to go off inside or around the embassy and cause impressions of resistance." An official in the office of Premier George Papadopoulos told UPI that police suspect the bombing was the start of a terrorism campaign backed by the Panhellenic Liberation Front. He said papers found in the victims' possession included instructions on how to use explosives.

2 Nabbed for Air Extortion

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two men face arraignment today on federal charges of threatening to blow up two separate airliners.

One, an unemployed car salesman, was charged with threatening to blow up a Trans World Airlines jet in a $20,000 extortion plot. The man, identified as Lowell Francis McDonald, 41, Hollywood, was arrested at Hollywood High School Wednesday as he opened a TWA flight bag supposedly filled with the ransom money.

The other, Robert Mason Owens, 40, San Pedro, Calif., was arrested Wednesday night as he stepped from a Western Air Lines 707 which he allegedly had threatened to blow up about an hour earlier.

Authorities said Owens, one of 77 persons aboard Flight 520 from Hawaii, told a stewardess he had a hand grenade and planned to blow up the airplane. They said he used a lot of foul language.

The plane landed on schedule and Owens, the first off, was taken into custody by police and FBI agents. No grenade was found.

The FBI said the extortionist telephoned TWA offices three times earlier in the day giving elaborate instructions for depositing the money at the school. TWA and the FBI would not disclose the details of the arrest nor would they say whether the money in the bag was real. TWA would not reveal which flight was threatened but said service was not disrupted.

Similar extortion attempts have occurred in Seattle and San Francisco in recent weeks. The Seattle extortion plot for $25,000 was successful.

McDonald faces a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine and five years in prison if convicted. He was to be arraigned today.

Firefighters Continue Long Battle

TWIN FALLS — One fire crew has returned to Twin Falls, and three others are still in region six, assisting with large and numerous fires in the Washington and Oregon areas, Wayne Cloward, local fire control officer reported today. He said at last report about 8,000 men from throughout the West were assisting in the sixth region. Two forests there have reported more than 100,000 acres of forest covered in the past two weeks. Cloward said storms earlier this week started about 200 fires in the south-central and south-western Idaho forests but only one reached "project" proportions. Others were put out by immediate action. He said moisture following most of the local lightning storms has also helped in the local region.

Area Health Board Schedules Meeting

TWIN FALLS — Budgeting for the first year of operation of the newly established South Central Idaho Health Board and possibly organization of that board will be undertaken in a meeting Oct. 27, in Gooding.

William Chancey, Twin Falls county member of the present board, who was named to a four-year term on the new board which takes office in 1971, said that the meeting will be an important one for Magic Valley area counties.

The Gooding meeting will be held at 2 p. m. in the county courthouse. In addition to plans for the coming year's budgeting and board election, local district health board members are seeking services of a new medical director and a request has been made through the Idaho Personnel Commission for assistance in locating a doctor who would qualify and be acceptable to the state and district.

Counties included in the local district are Camas, Blaine, Gooding, Lincoln, Jerome, Minidoka, Twin Falls and Cassia.

There are seven members, serving terms of one to four years, on the newly appointed Fifth District Health Board.

Legislation creating health districts throughout the state provides the district board shall submit a budget to the budget committee, consisting of chairmen of the boards of county commissioners from each county in the district, by the first Monday in November of each year.

Candles Light Meeting

RICHFIELD — Richfield Lions met by candlelight Tuesday evening for a dinner meeting at the Methodist recreation rooms.

Albert Pelley, president, presided, and presented pins for perfect attendance for the past year to Norman Albrethsen, John Lemmon, Charles Buttane, Melvin Pope, Lyle Piper, and himself. Wives of the members were guests.

A work night was planned to weed and cultivate trees being grown for the Richfield beautification project.

A Sept. 16 county meeting at the Shoshone courthouse was announced by Charles Buttane with organizations to send letters concerning controls desired for public lands and pollution.

A letter was read from California campers expressing gratitude for use of the public park where facilities are free.

Residents Of Block Widen Street

TWIN FALLS — Residents of the 300 block of Second Avenue West, and along the south side of the street have undertaken a widening project to allow a parking lane in front of their homes.

City Engineer George Michael said the city began excavation work on the one-block project Wednesday and will contract for the new curb and parking area surfacing. He said property owners are paying the cost and as all-out up cash for their share of the work. It is not necessary to form a local improvement district. Work is expected to be completed within a week.

Tricia, Escort Visit

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—Tricia Nixon and New York socialite Edward Finch Cox, a frequent escort of the President's daughter, slipped away from the Western White House Wednesday on a secret vacation.

Miss Nixon, 24, was escorted by Cox, 23, a Harvard law student, to pay a farewell call on the President before they left.

Miss Nixon has spent most of her free vacation time with Cox this summer in New York and on Long Island. In line with her wishes for privacy, the White House declined to say that she had a houseguest—Cox—during her recent stay here.

The White House said Miss Nixon was "out of the state" and was to return in a couple of days. She announced earlier she would not attend the state dinner tonight honoring President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico.

Bomb Blast Kills Two

ATHENS (UPI) — A Cypriot man and an Italian woman were killed Wednesday when a bomb they apparently were preparing to set off in or near the U.S. Embassy exploded prematurely, Athens police said today.

There were no injuries to embassy personnel.

Police identified the couple as George Tsekouris, 35, a Cypriot studying in Italy, and Maria Angeloni, 31, an Italian secretary. They were suspected in an earlier bombing of the Athens-Piraeus subway Aug. 21, police said.

The bomb exploded in their auto in the embassy parking lot, decapitating Tsekouris and badly burning Miss Angeloni. Both apparently died instantaneously.

A police spokesman said "the explosive was intended to go off inside or around the embassy."

The two arrived in Athens Aug. 11 with an unidentified Swedish woman. They were in the Swedish girl's auto when the bomb exploded, but there was no indication she was involved.

The explosion occurred at 4 p. m., shortly before the embassy was due to close for the day. An embassy spokesman said "given the force of the explosion and the time of the day, the loss of life might have been greater."

The blast destroyed two other autos parked in the lot, damaged the embassy building and shattered glass panels and windows. American property in Greece has been the target of previous bombings by leftists who accused the United States of supporting the Greek military regime of Premier George Papadopoulos.

Police said they believed Tsekouris and Miss Angeloni were responsible for the attempt on the Athens-Piraeus subway. A bomb went off on the railway track Aug. 21 after a subway employe threw away the package he had found on the track.

Police said the couple had airplane tickets to return to Rome Wednesday night.

Agnew, LBJ Confer on Asia Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew returned to Washington today from a 30,000-mile tour, convinced he made his point with Asian allies: Expect more material aid but fewer American troops.

Agnew told former President Lyndon B. Johnson he felt Asian leaders were reconciled to American troop withdrawals if they could get more military and economic aid.

The vice president briefed Johnson for 2½ hours Wednesday at the LBJ Ranch near Austin, Tex. The Johnson visit was the last event on a tour that carried Agnew to five Asian countries.

Johnson and Agnew toured the LBJ Ranch alone, with Johnson at the wheel of a convertible.

Agnew said he "found the visit very profitable, pleasant and enjoyable." He said Johnson had always been cooperative and "we appreciate the opportunity of being able to share our views with him."

Gals Lose?

"Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

Such is the tersely worded but sweeping text of the equal sexual rights amendment passed by the House of Representatives after 47 years of male-chauvinist dillydallying.

While the amendment has yet to be seconded by the Senate (though easy passage is expected there) and by the legislatures of 38 states before it becomes the law of the land as the 26th Amendment to the Constitution, legal experts are already worried about the possible ramifications of the act.

"It will open a Pandora's box of legal complications," warns eminent Harvard law professor Paul Freund. "The amendment expresses noble sentiments, but I'm afraid it will work much mischief in actual application."

What kind of mischief? "Every provision in the law which has a sexual basis, every statute dealing with the manifold relations of men and women in society, would be transformed into a constitutional issue that would ultimately have to be resolved by the Supreme Court," says Freund.

Such laws include those designed to protect women from heavy or hazardous work and limiting their working hours; an immense and varied body of laws governing divorce, child support and inheritance, laws setting the age of consent, which is lower for women than for men in 30 states.

Using this one example, the Wall Street Journal asks: To make things equal, should these states lower the age for men or raise it for women?

Others, with tongues not entirely in cheek, suggest that under the amendment, expectant fathers could demand maternity leave.

women would be liable for the draft and divorcees' incomes would be subject to alimony deductions to support ex-husbands.

The more militant women liberationist, like those who recently sexually integrated a former-only bar in New York, will say that's fine. In fact, they are eager to assume such liabilities and responsibilities. The sillier objections they dismiss as typical male-persiflage.

Not all women are liberationists, however, and not all of them feel oppressed because there are such things as men-only clubs and bars. (It can also be guessed that even the most ardent female equalitarian would not graciously welcome the male who demanded the right to take a shower in the ladies' locker room of the YWCA.)

Which is to say that there are certain fundamental, inescapable differences between men and women and that to label them all as "inequalities" and to attempt to legislate them away is like passing a law giving women resonant voices, thus making them equally eligible for jobs as radio announcers.

Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., one of 10 female members of the House, deliberately abstained from voting on the amendment because she fears it will strip women of too many protections she considers necessary and valuable.

It remains to be seen whether she represents a "silent feminine majority" which will rise up and make itself heard when the issue comes before the several state legislatures.

As Freund says, the amendment expresses noble sentiments. Its basic justice cannot be denied.

But neither can its mischief-making potential be blinked away.

We could be in for an interesting time.

PAUL HARVEY

Two Men-No Sons

Only God will ever know how many decisions of worldwide public portent were influenced by very private personal considerations.

No historian can deduce with certainty which if any of Woodrow Wilson's decisions resulted from the fact that his feet hurt.

President Harry Truman was willing to jeopardize his public image and political support in a rage over a remark somebody had made about his daughter.

I never attend a Washington, D.C., cocktail party without a twinge of anxiety over how many legislative or diplomatic chess moves are being made through an alcoholic haze.

Our American governmental system of checks and balances provides a pretty good defense against the sometimes irascible irresponsibility of individuals, but it is not total protection.

Did Rasputin seduce and empress, destroy an empire? Did Collidge's shyness offend a queen? Did F.D.R. have a debilitating headache at Yalta? Did social life ashore motivate an admiral to bring our previously deployed ships into Pearl Harbor?

Personal influence on public decisions can be constructive. Did President Nixon become hyperconscious about pollution only after he, personally, bought a home downwind from Los Angeles? Congress has been harassed where it lives.

Congress, like the Court, in recent sessions, has been preoccupied with the rights of wrongdoers; less that determined to reinforce the police.

But here we see the Congress passing a new bill which will allow all judges in the District of Columbia to detain dangerous criminals—keep them in jail pending trial.

The House passed the measure by an overwhelming 332 to 64, the Senate by a lopsided 54-33.

And this anticrime measure will be a model for state legislatures, will materially change the laws of the land and hopefully, help counteract epidemic criminality nationwide.

But it had to begin with the revelation of individuals who saw crime in their own neighborhoods jump 36 per cent in one year.

When most criminals arrested for a crime proved to be out on bond awaiting trial for an earlier crime.

When one bank, held up three times in 55 days, gave up and closed down.

When women workers from the office of senators and congressmen were raped in the Capitol parking lot, murdered in their apartments.

Only God will ever know... How different contemporary war policy might be had Johnson and Nixon had sons.

ANDREW TULLY

Tax-Taxation

Editor's Note: Mr. Tully is on vacation. Today's guest writer is Randolph W. Thorer, U.S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

WASHINGTON — Since taxation and tax exemption touch so many important areas of American life, the Internal Revenue Service not infrequently finds itself in controversy in discharging its responsibilities for administering the Internal Revenue laws enacted by the Congress. We are currently undergoing criticism from well-intentioned persons representing various shades of opinion as a result of our decision last month affecting private schools.

In brief, we declared that the Internal Revenue Service had concluded it could no longer legally allow tax exempt status to private schools practicing racial discrimination in admitting students. As part of this, we said we could no longer consider gifts to these schools as charitable deductions for income tax purposes.

Viewing the development of the law over a number of years, as applied in light of today's knowledge and understanding, it became clear to us that the law no longer justified the Federal government in providing the benefits of tax exemption, and more importantly deductibility of contributions, to a private school which denied admission to a qualified student solely because of his race.

The Internal Revenue Service makes no claim of infallibility in interpreting the law and we realize that there are those who hold an honest difference of opinion. Indeed, our position will permit this issue to be fully tested in the courts. Similarly, there are those who feel that this action should have been taken long years ago and who entertain misconceptions about our ability to implement the decision. I think it is important, therefore, in the face of this misunderstanding, to make clear exactly what the role of the Internal Revenue Service is and always has been in matters of this kind.

We have a self-assessment tax system in the United States under which, essentially, the Internal Revenue Service accepts the taxpayer's representations subject to possible verification at a later point in time.

In a very real sense this is the basis on which we receive the millions of returns filed each year. We issue some 25,000 tax rulings a year on precisely this basis. In keeping with this approach, every private school in the country will have an equal opportunity to obtain an IRS ruling on its federal tax exempt status under the new standards. This means that we will accept in good faith formal assurance from responsible officials that a school has adopted and will administer in good faith a racially non-discriminatory admissions policy.

We will make examinations in the field as circumstances warrant, to assure that representations made reflect the actual situation. But we are not disposed, nor do we have the right, to apply subjective criteria as to what constitutes "acceptable" attendance ratios. We will expect good faith compliance but we have no way of knowing the extent of attendance by members of minority groups this should produce in any particular school or in any particular year. There is a strong private school tradition in the United States and the Internal Revenue Service is in no way raising any question about the right of these schools to exist. We are simply saying that the federal government cannot allow the financial benefits of tax exemption to go to a school that excludes qualified students solely on the basis of race. The racial barrier and the federal tax benefits are no longer reconcilable, and thus a private school can no longer have both.

equivalent, from the United States. Manufactured by Control Data Corporation, the CDC is a high-speed computer which is used in U.S. weapons programs. IBM makes a somewhat similar computer facility.

The Soviet demand for a scientific quid-pro-quo was apparently nothing new. French scientists who wanted access to the big, 76 billion electron volt accelerator, had been told that the price would be supply of a bubble-chamber there.

Panofsky's return to the United States with the Russian computer demand apparently precipitated an argument in the government's scientific community over whether the sophisticated computer should be supplied.

In the late summer of 1969, the Atomic Energy Commission made a survey of the pros and cons of sending a CDC 6600 computer to Serpukhov. Some government scientists who saw the AEC survey thought it underestimated the risks involved in granting an export license for the computer.

That was Rickover's view. Asked to comment on the AEC study in September 1969, Rickover concluded that the Soviet purchase of such a sophisticated computer would not be in the public interest, even if the United States were to retain some controls over the computer's use.

Shortly thereafter, the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee became interested in the proposed sale. Committee members expressed concern about supplying the computer and, in the words of Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Cal., "We stopped it."

More Allergies

Continuing where we left off yesterday, desensitization is useful for many kinds of allergies, but not for others—foods, primarily.

When your allergy balance is easily upset (which means having attacks) the first step is to find out exactly what bothers you. It isn't always easy, which is why I suggest going to a trained allergist.

A series of skin tests (not painful, except for a slight pricking sensation) may help, but there can be false responses, another reason why I urge that this be done by experts who know the pitfalls. Items that give a positive reaction may not actually bother you.

When one or more important materials have been identified, then very small amounts of the substance are given to help your system build up a tolerance to them.

Right now, with the hay fever season on us, it's a bit late to start such desensitization for that. Better to start late in fall or winter to build a tolerance for next year.

Sometimes a tolerance can be built so the treatments can be stopped. More likely, continued but less frequent shots (perhaps once a month) will be useful in keeping the tolerance high.

But even then, by all means avoid overexposure to the pollen or whatever your problem is. And it is best to keep in mind that no two patients will be just alike. The frequency of treatment, and the length it is continued, must be fitted to the patient's needs.

Now for cortisone, benadryl, and other such drugs. Their purpose is to relieve symptoms, not to "cure." Methylprednisolone, mentioned yesterday, is one of the cortisone family, and it is effective in various types of allergy.

Stop the treatment and the effect wears off, so the cortisone-type drugs are only used for temporary relief, in certain seasons of the year, or when a patient is suffering a particularly hard siege of trouble. If side effects develop, there is no choice but to stop the drug. The aim, of course, is to try to arrive at a dosage small enough to do the job but not cause side effects.

Among the big problems of treating allergy are the twin ones of the patient's becoming discouraged too soon, or the contrary, thinking that, because his allergies are relieved, he doesn't have to bother about staying away from pollens, certain foods, soaps, or other things that bother him.

Successful treatment of allergy consists of raising the patient's tolerance to offending materials, and then convincing him that he still has to see to it that he doesn't expose himself to these materials so that his allergy balance is upset again and the whole process largely wasted.

MR. SPECTATOR

It Was All Legal

Helicopter landings in the Sawtooth primitive area were all legal and approved.

Mr. Spectator, in a column last week, had voiced the concern of several individuals at the Congressional hearing at Sun Valley as to why helicopters had been permitted to land there (with the Congressman) when even motor bikes were excluded.

Well, the answer as to just what took place has been furnished Mr. Spectator by Ed Fornier, supervisor of the Sawtooth National Forest. Here is the Supervisor's explanation in full: "Members of the Parks and Recreation Subcommittee of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs were flown by helicopter to an overnight camp at Toxaway Lake in the Sawtooth Primitive Area on August 25 and out on August 26. They were accompanied by some staff and family members.

The subcommittee requested that the Forest Service provide such a camp at Toxaway Lake with helicopter transportation in and out. The Chief of the Forest Service approved the request.

The use of all primitive areas, including the Sawtooth Primitive Area, is governed by a regulation of the Secretary of Agriculture in Title 36 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Section 251.86. This regulation provides that the landing of aircraft within Primitive Areas is prohibited except:

"When already well established landing strips are available—such as the landing fields within the Idaho Primitive Area.

"In emergencies.

"For administrative needs of the forest service.

"As authorized by the Chief of the Forest Service.

The requested helicopter landings in the Sawtooth Primitive Area were approved because the subcommittee members had very limited time to inspect the Sawtooth country, they will be making important decisions regarding the area, and there was no other feasible way for them to visit the high Sawtooths.

So there, as Mr. Spectator points out, you have the answer.

POLLS AS DETERRENTS

In the aftermath of the major upset in the British national elections, one observer after another has been quoted as saying never again will he place such confidence in the pollsters. Don't bet on it.

There is something both mystical and convincing about polls which are able to predict with proven credibility events in the immediate future. While most of the pollsters obviously missed their marks in this one event, chances are good they will survive to recapture the public's confidence.

But it doesn't hurt to learn once in a while that pollsters are human, too. A strong suspicion exists that some people are swayed in advance by what the pollsters say. It is possible that some contests are decided by those who stay home because the polls indicate their votes either are not needed or would be futile.

With the British elections as fresh reminders, the polls at best can only indicate what people are inclined to do if they are not deterred by what the opinion samplers say they will do.

Gem Panel Asks Kindergartens

BOISE (UPI) — The Task Force Subcommittee on Kindergartens presented a report Wednesday calling for implementation of a state-wide kindergarten program for the 1971-72 school year.

The suggestion was made at a meeting of the Public School Committee on Legislative Planning.

Chairman of the kindergarten subcommittee, Mrs. Jan Koch, Boise, wrote in the report it would take more than $2.9 million to fund the program. She said that figure would not include costs for transportation or facilities.

Mrs. Koch said the state should provide 100 per cent of the funding for the program and said individual school districts should not be forced to adopt kindergarten programs, nor should children be required to enroll.

The committee also heard reports from other committees including professional negotiations, school formula, area vocational high schools, data processing and environmental education. The subcommittee on appropriations will present its findings Thursday during the second day of the meetings in Boise.

Area Vocational Subcommittee Chairman Roger Reynolds, Parma, told the committee his report would not be completed for another week.

But reading from notes, he said the subcommittee has been working in establishing minimum standards with regards to geographic locations, size of school districts involved, the ability of districts to combine and density and sparsity factors.

He said the subcommittee has been looking to establish programs with quality, relevance and accountability in the schools not "patch and scratch" programs. The proposals, which will be reshaped and altered somewhat Thursday, will eventually be presented to the State Board of Education for presentation to the upcoming session of the legislature.

Refueling Fighter Explodes

SAIGON (UPI) — A Marine Corps F4 Phantom jet fighter-bomber caught fire and exploded as it was being refueled Wednesday night at Da Nang Air Base, the U.S. Command said today. Three Americans were killed and 14 injured.

On the battlefronts, two U.S. soldiers were killed and nine wounded Wednesday in a clash between a unit of the U.S. 11th Brigade of the Americal Division and Viet Cong near Quang Ngai City on the northern coast.

U.S. military spokesmen said the explosion at Da Nang destroyed the $2 million Phantom jet. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Communiques from Phnom Penh said air and artillery strikes continued against Viet Cong who held Srang, 26 miles south of the capital. Cambodian troops were dug in 1 1/2 miles from the town, which fell to the Viet Cong Sunday after a three-day battle.

A Cambodian high command spokesman said the occupation of Srang by the Communists "could continue for a month without affecting the defense of Phnom Penh." But he said he hoped the fighting would be over shortly.

The spokesman said Cambodian troops were under harassment from what he called a Communist "division command post." Cambodian air and artillery were shelling Viet Cong around the town and in a Buddhist pagoda on a mountain overlooking Srang.

"We have enough troops," the spokesman said. "We have 100,000 now. But, of course, not enough arms."

In other military action, Cambodian troops on clearing operations in Siem Reap Province near the 9th century ruins of Angkor Wat clashed with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese units.

The Cambodians suffered one killed and five wounded in the fighting with Communist casualties unknown.

In Phnom Penh, university students, civil servants and high school students demonstrated on behalf of Cambodian neutrality and independence. Informal sources said the demonstrations would last for days and end with Premier Lon Nol declaring the nation a republic.

FBI Seeks 4 Suspects In Wisconsin Blasts

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Four young men who slipped into the underground after being stopped by police investigating the Aug. 24 explosion at the University of Wisconsin were being sought today on federal charges.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced Wednesday that charges of sabotage, conspiracy and destruction of government property had been filed against the four.

They were identified as Karleton Lewis Armstrong, 22, Madison, a former student at the University of Wisconsin; his 19-year-old brother, Dwight Allen Armstrong, a high school dropout; David Sylva Fine, 18, of Madison and Wilmington, Del., who recently worked for the UW student newspaper, the Cardinal, and a former staff member of a Students For a Democratic Society publication at the University of Delaware; and Leo Frederick Burt, 22, Madison, a summer session student who also wrote for the Cardinal.

"We don't have any idea where they are," U.S. Attorney John Olson said. "We will have a hard, long pull now that we've gotten this far."

The explosion in the early morning hours of Aug. 24 killed Robert Fassnacht, 33, a research physicist who was the father of three, and injured four other persons. The blast, set in a stolen van truck, tore through part of the Army Mathematics Research Center on the campus and caused $8 million damage.

According to an affidavit filed in U.S. District Court, a car containing the four young men was stopped by a Sauk County police officer north of Madison shortly after the bombing. They told the officer they were university students going to an outing at Devil's Lake, Wis., the affidavit said. Later, it said, the car was traced to the Armstrongs' father, Donald.

Investigators said the explosion may have been set with a mixture of fuel oil and nitrogen fertilizer. The FBI charged that Karleton Armstrong bought large quantities of both before Aug. 24.

The affidavit quoted a friend of the Armstrongs, Maxing Sliter, as saying that shortly before the bombing the Armstrongs told him they were responsible for the abortive aerial bombing of the Badger Ordnance Works near Baraboo, Wis., last New Year's Day.

The FBI said the Armstrongs contracted relatives in Madison and asked that money be wired to them in New York. Agents found at a Madison home a letter from Fine, postmarked in New York, saying "We (Dave and Leo) are in N.Y. with good contacts ready to head for Canada."

Tate Murder Trial Goes On Despite Sickness Delay Request

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Despite pleas from defendant Susan Atkins that she was losing her sanity because of severe abdominal pains, the judge in the Tate-LaBianca murder trial Wednesday ordered the young woman to remain in court and the trial to proceed.

"She is an articulate, lucid and apparently perfectly healthy young woman," Judge Charles H. Older said after being given a detailed report on Miss Atkins' physical examination.

With the jury looking on in the morning session, she rose to a crouch at the counsel table, crying aloud and clutching her abdomen.

"Your Honor, if you don't get me out of this courtroom I'm going to start screaming," she said.

"You've got to get me out of here. I can't take it any more. I'm hurting so bad."

Older excused the jury and recessed the trial until afternoon. Earlier, Dr. Margaret McCarran, an internist at the County-USC Medical Center, said an examination had shown Miss Atkins, 22, had been suffering from severe constipation, but that the ailment had been alleviated and there was no symptom whatsoever of any organic illness which could still be causing her discomfort. Dr. McCarran, also said it was possible Miss Atkins was experiencing "anxiety" pains of a psychosomatic nature.

The only witness at the session, M. Joseph Granado, a Police Department scientist, testified hairs found on the clothing allegedly worn by the Tate killers were almost identical to samples of hair taken from Miss Atkins.

Manila Waters Subside

MANILA (UPI) — The worst flood waters to hit the Philippine capital gradually receded today, leaving 34 dead, thousands homeless and the danger a fire could spread.

With 22 inches of rain reported, an area the size of Florida was affected. Manila itself was hardest hit with four or five feet of water in many areas of the city. President Ferdinand E. Marcos declared a "State of calamity and emergency" and mobilized a major relief program.

A fire broke out today in a seven-story building across the street from the U.S. Embassy in the city's "tourist belt" and firemen who brought their trucks through four-foot deep water to fight the blaze warned it could spread to neighboring buildings.

Among the 34 confirmed deaths were two U.S. sailors. They were killed by landslides at the Cubi Point Naval Station about 90 miles northwest of Manila. The Navy said the bodies were recovered but names were withheld until relatives could be notified.

Most of the deaths were reported from drownings, but three persons were electrocuted and at least nine were buried in landslides — including the two Americans. Many other persons were reported missing.

Public Works Secretary Manuel Sygulo said he had no overall estimate of damage but it was expected to run into the millions of dollars. Thousands had fled their homes, but some were beginning to move back to clean out the mess as the flood waters receded.

Although the torrential rains had subsided to an occasional drizzle, the Manila Weather Bureau warned a new tropical depression was located about 171 miles northeast of Northern Luzon, the largest island. It said more heavy rains were predicted.

FORESTRY SCIENTIST APPOINTED

TWIN FALLS A full time archaeologist for the Intermountain Region of the U.S. Forest Service has been appointed and spent several days last week in the Sawtooth National Forest inspecting archaeological sites.

EVAN I. DeBlois is the first to hold such a position in the local region. Regional Forester Vern Hamre said. He will be working with forests in Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and Utah in identification, protection and reforestation of National Forest archaeological areas as they relate to resource planning and use.

A graduate of Brigham Young University in 1965, DeBlois obtained his M. A. degree in 1967 from BYU. He began a Ph.D. program in anthropology at the University of Washington in 1967, completed all requirements for a Ph.D. except for a dissertation and received a second M.A. degree the same month. DeBlois spent three field seasons in Mexico to complete his Ph.D. and served as assistant professor of anthropology at Weber State College this past year.

OWYHEE PETITION REFUSED

BOISE (UPI) — Members of the State Highway Board expressed doubt but offered no immediate assistance to a Marsing delegation who want 80 miles of Owyhee County road put into the state highway system.

RODNEY Hawes and Jesse Wilson asked the board to incorporate the road between Marsing and Hammett in the state system, citing the heavy load the highway must bear when truckloads of cattle are hauled across it. They said the road also is used by bus, elementary and high school students, and crops to markets outside the county, import supplies for farming and stock raising and for military and recreation uses. Board chairman C. E. D. Flindro said the board would like to resolve the problem, adding, "we have similar problems all over the state."

Viewers To Use Boats

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — For thousands of spectators at the America's Cup Challenge Races beginning Sept. 15, home will be boats moored in a "floating city" in Newport Harbor complete with taxi service and the local paper boy skimming by in his motorboat. Newport, usually populated with 35,000 year round residents, expects another 40,000 visitors to the city and surrounding Newport County by the day of the first race. The Newport County Chamber of Commerce is used to summer crowds, filled hotels, and conventions on land but plans for the 2,000 or more private yachts and boats expected for the match have caused special problems.

"If our sources are right we may have a spectacular fleet of 2,000 vessels, we can't estimate how many persons on each, which would be the largest such fleet for any international cup competition," said Francis J. Holbrook, Executive Director of the Newport County Chamber of Commerce.

Holbrook, who has weathered four previous America's Cup competitions, predicted there would be room for all the vessels expected, and in many ways the seagulling tourist may get some bonuses not afforded landlubber spectators.

The chamber, municipal and state officials and the United States Coast Guard and Navy started thinking about plans for the 1970 cup almost as soon as the last one was completed in 1967.

The first concern is for the safety of those on board the private boats. The coast guard has arranged for extra patrols at the mouth of the harbor near Fort Adams with the City of Newport allocating funds for a second harbormaster to aid the one man usually on duty.

When Mr. and Mrs. Spectator approach the harbor in their yacht a launch will direct them to public or private docks, or when these become filled, to anchoring areas in the area.

"It's going to be a floating city with the advantages and responsibilities of municipal government. The city will provide free taxi service to and from shore, perhaps until as late as 1 A.M., and all you have to do is 'root your horn,' Holbrook said.

The chamber's office at 53 Thomas St. will provide answers to mariners' questions by radio, and foreign speaking Rhode Islanders will be on hand to assist the many French-speaking and other visitors to Newport.

Students Protest Lineup

By United Press International
Black students in a Mississippi school district are boycotting classes in a protest against segregation by sex. Negro leaders say the protest is "ill-advised."

Superintendent G. E. Denley estimated about 10 per cent of the 1,100 black students in the Coffeeville, Miss., school system attended classes Monday and Tuesday, although most of the 600 white pupils were present.

The blacks don't like a federally approved plan for separation of students by sex.

Whites largely withdrew from schools in two other Mississippi districts with predominantly black enrollments. Only 14 whites attended Jefferson County schools with 2,400 blacks. And four whites showed up for classes with 2,500 blacks in Wilkinson County. Most of the white children in the counties attended private schools.

There were black boycotts in Jasper and Pickens counties in South Carolina, protesting the closing of previously all-black schools; a white boycott at Stockbridge, Ga., protesting the assignment of students to a black school in "an unsafe neighborhood"; and more than 300 Lumbee Indians at Red Springs, N.C., refused for a second day Tuesday to attend integrated classes. They want all-Indian schools restored.

Robert Davis, chairman of the South Carolina Education Advisory Committee, said Tuesday "students, teachers, parents, our school officials and the people of South Carolina can be extremely proud of the image they have presented to the nation during the time of change and transition."

Georgia schools Superintendent Jack Nix also praised the smoothness of desegregation in his state. "The response to desegregation is proof that the people of Georgia are intelligent and are going to handle any problems we're confronted with from an intellectual standpoint," he said.

About 150 white parents at Winston-Salem, N.C., Tuesday night protested the busing of 1,900 students, and the leader of a group called "No Busing our Children" said a private school would be opened in about 10 days.

Only 11 white students attended Livingston, Ala., High School Tuesday with 499 blacks. One was student body President John Harris, 17, elected last year when the school was predominantly white.

"I will carry out the duties if they want me, but they might want one of their own to be president," he said.

COINCIDING WITH PHILADELPHIA'S salute to Idaho during its Discover America program, two Miss "Welcome to Philadelphia" girls pose with a bottle of champagne sent to Philadelphia from Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. This bottle of champagne is being sent to the major attractions and historic sites around the country, and will be used by Twin Falls to christen the revitalized downtown after the development project has been completed.

Appalachia Classes Slated

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — A classroom on wheels and a rural-styled television program are being used to prepare youngsters from the hollows and coal camps of Appalachia for their first year in school.

The program for preschoolers is aimed at raising the Appalachian child to the school readiness of the urban child. The pilot project in five West Virginia counties goes into its third year this fall under sponsorship of the Appalachian Educational Laboratory in Charleston, W. Va.

The classroom, a specially-equipped 28-foot van, covered 7,500 miles last year on its trips to children participating in the program. Mrs. Shirley Cook, a veteran school teacher, and her assistant drive the van to the children. A group of mothers visits each home during the week to reinforce the television-oriented learning.

The hub of the project is a 30-minute daily television program similar to "Sesame Street" but with a mountain flavor. The program produced by the Educational Laboratory is reviewed during the visits by the mothers and in the van sessions.

"The television program, 'Around the Bend,' reaches some 25,000 preschoolers. But only 150 receive the added experience of the visitors and classroom. The broadcasts abandon the teaching image and Miss Patty Hughes is presented as a friend who invites the children into her home. Miss Hughes, a speech therapist, videotapes the programs for broadcast over a commercial television station near here.

"Kindergartens were never a practical idea, because the population of the area is so small," he said.

"Now communication and mobility do make it possible. The program, if successful, will open the way for youngsters in rural areas to get three years of instruction they never had before.

"Since it was almost impossible to make significant changes in the system, we decided to go about greasing the wheels a little," Carmichael said.

Mrs. Cook is enthusiastic about the program's effect. "I've seen three- and four-year-old youngsters change, really change," she said. "Even some of the most withdrawn cases begin to get a joy from recognizing numbers and writing their first letters."

The program serves as a testing ground for educational practices that could not be tried in the classroom, said Dr. Benjamin E. Carmichael, who resigned his job at superintendent of schools in Chattanooga, Tenn., to head the innovative project.

"Kindergartens were never a practical idea, because the population of the area is so small," he said.

"Now communication and mobility do make it possible. The program, if successful, will open the way for youngsters in rural areas to get three years of instruction they never had before.

"Since it was almost impossible to make significant changes in the system, we decided to go about greasing the wheels a little," Carmichael said.

Shooting Remains Mystery

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI) — Harry Nichols, Rice, 18, was shot and killed July 20 during a confrontation between police and college aged youths a block from the Kansas University campus.

Investigating authorities said they could not determine whether Rice was shot by police or by a sniper. At the time, Rice's father said the bullet wound in his son was too small to have come from a police weapon, but a witness said he saw a policeman fire at Rice.

County Coroner Dr. James Reed instructed a six-man jury to determine when Rice died, how he died, who killed him and if the slaying was committed with criminal intent. The jury listened to 22 witnesses Tuesday and then said unanimously it did not know who killed the Kansas University student.

"There was not sufficient evidence presented to determine whether the death was or was not caused feloniously," the jury said.

Rice's mother, Mrs. Harry D. Rice attended the inquest and said it only explained why the police were present when her son was killed but not who killed him.

"The inquest was supposed to answer the questions of parents as to why the boy was shot," she said. "This inquest spent eight hours determining why the police were aggravated and then the reasons for shooting. Our child has been exonerated by the President's Committee, by the FBI American Bureau of Investigation and by all the law enforcement agencies men could muster."

Nations Link Drug Controls

PARIS (UPI) — The U.S. Narcotics Bureau moved its European Headquarters to Paris last year and now, to further cooperation between American and French narcotics agents, the French Narcotics Police Bureau is establishing an office in New York.

"We will have a Narcotics Police Commissaire in New York by Oct. 1, and his staff will be supplemented as other agents finish present training," said Marcel Carrere, Chief of the Central Bureau for the repression of illegal trafficking in drugs.

Carrere, a stocky, tough-jawed grey-haired policeman in his late 50s, has 35 years of law-enforcement experience under his belt. He is the French counterpart of John Ingersoll, Director of the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

"The main purpose of our cooperation is to break up the gangs in France processing Turkish opium into morphine base and heroin for onward shipment to the United States," Carrere explained.

France already has taken action at home in an effort to curb the trade, increasing tenfold the number of French narcotics agents combating the trafficking of drugs from France to the United States during the past year.

"Over the past 12 months the French Narcotics Police Force has been increased from less than 50 men to a figure approaching 400," Carrere said.

"In Marseilles, the main drug center, our narcotics force on Oct. 1 will total 77 specialists, compared with only a handful one year ago," he added.

Carrere, interviewed in his office overlooking a courtyard of the adjoining Ministry of the Interior, said Marseilles is the main processing area for Turkish opium that eventually finds its way to the United States in the form of heroin. U. S. narcotics officers have estimated 80 per cent of the illicit heroine in the United States is processed in France.

Receive Special Training "In addition to our specialists, we have been 5,000 and 6,000 gendarmes and customs officers in France who have received special narcotics training," Carrere said.

He quoted figures of arrests of addicts and traffickers in France in 1968 and 1969 which showed "drug consumption and peddling in France has increased, but above all our efficiency in catching offenders has increased."

"As an example of Franco-U.S. cooperation, Carrere cited the recent arrest in New York and several French cities of 15 members of an international drug ring following an inquiry launched by French Police.

Rep. Hansen Climbs Peak In Idaho

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Orval Hansen (R-Idaho) has returned to his Washington office following a weekend climb to the top of Borah Peak, the highest mountain in Idaho.

Named for the late U. S. Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Mt. Borah is located in the Lost River Range in Custer County and rises to an elevation of 12,655 feet.

Hansen spent two weeks in Idaho during the recess of the House of Representatives. He toured the Sawtooth Mountains and White Clouds Peak area with members of the House Interior Committee and attended public hearings conducted by the Committee's National Park and Recreation Subcommittee at Sun Valley last week.

The Idaho Congressman also spent several days hiking more than 50 miles in the Sawtooth Primitive Area.

Hansen said that when the House reconvenes after Labor Day, it will likely remain in session until at least mid-October at which time Congress will either adjourn or recess to meet again after the November election.

TWIN FALLS — Seventeen queens of major riding events and western shows and clubs in Idaho will be competing for the Miss Rodeo Idaho title now held by Carolyn Harvey, Twin Falls, during the 1970 Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo.

The 17 who entered prior to the deadline for this year's Miss Rodeo Idaho competition already have won at least one queen contest this year, some of them only last week.

Utility Announces Gooding Manager

GOODING — Idaho Power Co. announced Wednesday that Jess I. Burns, a Gooding area resident during his youth and a veteran of 25 years' service with the utility, has assumed his duties as new manager of the Gooding-Wendell district.

He succeeds William H. Hanes, who has taken over Burns' former position as marketing supervisor for the Boise district.

Southern division manager E. Haroldsen said the change was effective Sept. 1. "Mr. Burns is fully qualified to assume responsibility for the Gooding-Wendell district, both by his broad background in the company's operations and by his familiarity with the area," Haroldsen said.

"I am sure that under Mr. Burns' supervision, the district will continue the record of dependable service and steady expansion that has been a tradition for many years."

Burns was born at Star but moved with his family in 1933 to a farm at Shoestring, three miles east of Tuttle. He lived there for the next 10 years, attending Shoestring elementary school and graduating from Gooding High School in 1937.

In the summer of 1941, after two years as a student at what is now Idaho State University, Burns worked briefly for Idaho Power on a substation construction near Pocatello.

He enlisted in the Army Air Corps and subsequently flew 35 missions over Europe as a bomber pilot. On one mission, he landed his crippled plane on an airfield in France that had been taken from the Germans by American troops only the night before.

Burns returned to Idaho Power after World War II and was assigned to the Spout Falls generating plant as a utilityman. He remained at Swan Falls for four years, advancing to auxiliary equipment operator and then to operator.

Transferring to marketing in 1949, Burns served during the next 14 years as a representative in both the residential and commercial-industrial fields at Boise, Caldwell and Nampa.

He was promoted to Boise district marketing supervisor in 1963. The new Gooding-Wendell district manager and his wife, Lois, have two children. They are Priscilla, 22, a recent graduate of California Institute of the Arts, Los Angeles, and Timothy, 18, who will be a Boise State College freshman this fall.

TWIN FALLS — Directors of the Idaho Department of Highways as a board, and as individual members along with State Engineer Ellis Mathes are named in a $20,000 damage suit filed in Fifth Judicial District Court here by Coggriff Outdoor Advertising Co., Inc.

The advertising firm alleges the Idaho Department of Highways, earlier in 1970, removed an advertising sign owned by the firm and located adjacent to U. S. Highway 30 in Twin Falls County. The sign was on property leased by the firm from a private land owner, the complainant alleges.

The firm charges the state with tearing down and removing the sign without approval from the owning concern. Damages asked include 15,000 punitive and exemplary damages, $5,000 for the loss of sign, and $1,000 for the loss of business as a result of removal of the sign.

Fair Opens In Minidoka

RUPERT — Minidoka county fair officially opened to the public today, although judging was under way Wednesday and the center of activity all week.

A country-western show is slated for 8:30 p. m. today at the rodeo grounds. If weather is inclement the event will be staged in Minico High School auditorium, reports John Chase, general chairman. Participants will include the Walden brothers band, Jim Winkle, Jack Miller, and Carliotta Cox, local singer.

Judging of 4-H and FFA horses, swine, sheep and other exhibits including open class dairy will be held Friday morning.

A pig and calf scramble is slated for 8 p. m. Friday for 4-H or FFA members between 9 and 14 years of age. Chase said the pigs are provided from a litter of last year's scramble winners.

The Minidoka county 4-H Builders club, led by Mrs. H. A. Harrison, has completed painting bleachers in the exhibit area and fat stock sale arena. The project was done entirely by volunteer labor with 18 gallons of paint provided by the fair board.

The Minidoka County fair is comparatively new, officials point out, but each year more improvements are made at the grounds. The program involves about 660 4-H and FFA members and open class participants.

No rodeo is slated with the fair but pari-mutuel horse racing is slated Saturday through Monday. A carnival is operating today through Sunday at the fairgrounds.

Park Plan Rapped by Gem Group

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Commission on Federal Land Laws favors creation of a Sawtooth recreation area in central Idaho but believes creation of a national park there may be "premature."

"While we feel that creation of a national park as proposed by the Idaho congressional delegation might be the final answer to the best management of portions of the area under discussion," said executive director John E. Martin. "The members of the Idaho commission believe that enactment now of national park legislation is premature in light of possible changes in federal land management agency guidelines."

He said studies now under way and others suggested by Gov. Don Samuelson should provide a better basis "for making a lasting decision on the area."

Martin wrote Chairman Roy Taylor, D-N.C., of the House interior subcommittee on parks and recreation that at present there is no unanimity among various state agencies which have programs affected by the congressional proposals for the area.

"However," he said, "there is general agreement on two points. First, this is an area of scenic beauty that should be managed so as to assure that these scenic beauties are not destroyed and are protected for present and future generations. Second, it is possible for other uses to be considered in a management plan for the area with recreation being the dominant use."

George Stevens was appointed to fill the vacancy on the council. He is a mechanic at Fairfield Motor and moved to Fairfield from Gooding about 15 years ago.

Other members of the council are Wesley Fields, William F. Stewart, and Harold Stroud.

SHOSHONE — Motorists traveling U.S. Highway 93 south of Shoshone during the next few days may expect some minor traffic delays because of a resurfacing project now under way.

Vicki Cobb, Storey Say Vows

FILER — Wedding vows recited Aug. 16 in the United Methodist Church in marriage Vicki Jo Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay H. Cobb, and John Thomas Storey, Jerome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Storey, Hill City.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Elam Anderson before background decorations of red and white gladioli and blue bows, candelabra holding white tapers and window arrangements of red, white and blue.

The train of the dress was trimmed with the lace and her cathedral-length veil also was trimmed in alencon lace and held by fresh white chrysanthemums.

She carried a colonial-style bouquet of all white carnations, chrysanthemums, roses and baby's breath. She carried a new lace handkerchief, a gift from her aunts, Mrs. G. E. Williams and Mrs. C. L. Fisher, and wore an Eastern Star ring borrowed from her grandmother, Mrs. H. G. Cobb.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Our 19-year-old daughter, Caroline, has started going with a guy named Angelo. He never takes her any place. He just comes over every night to watch television and wear out our sofa.

When Angelo comes over, the wife and I have to go sit in the kitchen so he and Caroline can have their privacy in the living room. I suppose we could go in our bedroom, but who wants to go to bed at 7 o'clock?

So, every night lately the wife and I sit in the kitchen like a couple of cockroaches trying to watch television on a dinky little portable.

The wife is so happy that Caroline finally has a boy friend she doesn't say a word. I am getting tired of this setup. What should I do?

KITCHEN SITTER

DEAR SITTER: Send me a picture of Caroline and I'll tell you what to do.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have only one child, Ellen, who is now 7. Since we aren't able to have any more we have decided to adopt a child, but here is our problem. We want a little girl. Ellen's age not so much for ourselves but for Ellen. She is a shy child and has never made friends easily. Being an only child, she is inclined to be a little spoiled and, therefore, not easy to get along with. We feel that if Ellen had a sister her age it would relieve her loneliness and give her someone to keep her company.

We've spoken to several adoption agencies and they haven't been very encouraging. They seem to think we should adopt a younger child, and possibly a boy. But Abby, what kind of a companion would that be for our lonely little daughter? Also, isn't it true that when a new baby comes into a home, the older child becomes jealous and resentful?

Can you give us some advice? ELLEN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You appear to be more concerned with the needs of your own child than with the needs of an adopted child. To foster a "twin" on Ellen in order to provide her with a companion and relieve her loneliness could be a sad mistake for all. Why not take a foster child for a while and see how it works out? Or perhaps the Lord in His infinite wisdom intended for you to have only one?

DEAR ABBY: My gripe is my landlady. She had a key to my apartment, saying she needed it in case of an emergency.

I know for a fact that this landlady has gone into my apartment and looked thru my drawers, closets and my desk.

I asked a friend of mine who is a private detective if my landlady had the right to go into my apartment without my permission, and he said absolutely not! He also said if I suspected that mine did, I had the right to change the lock on my door and refuse to give her the key. Well, this is exactly what I did. And I told her that in case of an emergency she could break the door down with an ax and I would pay for a new one. Needless to say, no emergency ever came up and I've been living there for two years. Of course when she sees me, she turns her head, but I like it better that way.

KNOWS MY RIGHTS

DEAR KNOWS: "Rights" differ in different buildings, cities and even states. It's amazing how few landlords know their rights. And even fewer tenants know theirs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WAITING AND HOPING: A man who would cheat on his wife would lie to his girl friend. And if he did divorce her and marry you, what would you have? A husband who cheats on his wife.

Wadkins Eyes Third Title, Grabs U.S. Amateur Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Lanny Wadkins, the Southern and Western champion from Wake Forest, took a lead on the national amateur title as well Wednesday when he shot an opening round three under par 34-33-87 for the lead by a stroke over Gary Sanderson of Southern California.

The 19-year-old Wadkins, a speech junior at Wake Forest with definite plans for a pro career when he has completed his college education, had three birds and a bogey on his card over the short but tight 35-hole, 6,496-yard Waverly Country Club course.

He ran down birdy putts of 15 feet on the fifth, 18 inches on the 13th and 15 feet on the 17th and said he could have done a little better.

"I'm not complaining, though," said the good looking youngster from Richmond, Va. "This was a super round for me. I hit the ball real solid and kept it in play on every hole. You can't do better than that over a course that is a lot tougher than it looks."

Timothy T Wins Hambletonian By Defeating Formal Notice

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—Timothy T., his brown skin sparkling under the setting sun, overcame a sore throat and a speedy trotting rival Wednesday to win the 45th Hambletonian, the classic race of the year for three-year-old trotters.

Timothy T., standout favorite in the field of 15 horses, entered the $143,630 stake with six wins in eight races, and made the handicappers look good when he captured the first heat of the prized race in 2:00 1-5.

But he was out trotted by Formal Notice, who came up with the fastest mile of the year by a three-year-old in the second heat, 1:58 2-5. Formal Notice's victory for driver Jimmy Arthur looked like an omen of defeat for Timothy T., whose father, Ayres, won the 1964 Hambletonian with a record speed, 1:56 4-5, still the best on the books.

That set up the payoff third heat, and Timothy T. and Formal Notice made it a two-horse race. Timothy T. led at the quarter in :29-3-5, Formal Notice at the half in 1:00 1-5, and they were neck and neck at the three quarter mark in 1:31 2-5. But then young John Simpson Jr., who disdains the whip in driving Timothy T., growled at his horse, who went into a drive and was in front by a length at the wire.

Yankees Rally In 7th To Edge Orioles 3-2

NEW YORK (UPI)—Horace Clarke's clutch two-run double capped a three-run seventh inning rally Wednesday to give the New York Yankees a come-from-behind 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Yankees trailed 2-0 going into their half of the seventh as 21-game winner Dave McNally had held New York to three singles. With two out Ron Woods, Ron Hansen and Gene Michael singled for the first New York run. Pinch hitter Bobby Murcer walked to load the bases to set up Clarke's winning hit. The loss left McNally's record at 21-8.

McNally pitched a 2-1 victory over Chicago 1. OAKLAND (UPI)—Bert Campaneris shot a two-out triple to tie the centennial war in the seventh inning Wednesday night to give the Oakland A's a 2-1 victory over Chicago.

Wadkins missed only two greens on his round, the 38-yard seventh and the 170-yard 11th, where he was short with a seven iron. Sanders was extremely pleased with his putting, which bordered on the sensational on a day in which many players couldn't handle the greens. "I just can't putt any better than I did in this round," said Sanders. "This is my very best."

Sox, Tigers Split BOSTON (UPI)—Cal Koonce pitched a three-hitter and drove in a pair of runs with his second hit of the season Wednesday night to give the Boston Red Sox a 10-1 victory after the Detroit Tigers won the day game, 6-4, on a pair of unearned eighth-inning runs.

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Alex Johnson collected three singles to drive in a pair of runs and Clyde Wright recorded his 19th victory with relief help Wednesday night to lead the California Angels to a 3-1 win over the Kansas City Royals.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—Former pro football star Jim Brown said Wednesday he would have urged eight black football players to sign compromise pledges and return to the Syracuse team if he had been here last week.

East Germans Dominate Henley Races ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (UPI)—Powerful and well-conditioned East German crews created all the waves on the Henley rowing course Wednesday, winning six out of their seven heat races on the first day of the world rowing championships.

Pre-meet favorites, the East Germans often left their competition well behind at the start, then relaxed to win. They qualified for Saturday's semifinals in all but the singles scull. In that class, Joche Miermer of Rostock, Germany, was second in his heat behind Iury Mallshev of the Soviet Union.

Winners of Wednesday's heats advanced to the semifinals, with the others getting a second chance in the repechages Thursday. The finals are Sunday.

Solons 4, Indians 1 WASHINGTON (UPI)—Frank Howard, walked intentionally three times in Manager Alvin Dark's "give-up strategy," scored two runs Wednesday night as the Washington Senators downed the Cleveland Indians, 4-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Dick Bosman.

Dark started the game with orders to walk the 6-8, 270-pound Howard intentionally regardless of the situation. He ordered 19-game winner Sam McDowell to purposely pass Howard the first three times the Senator slugger batted.

The dispute involving the blacks began during spring practice, when they walked off the field while Floyd Little, another All-America running back now with the Denver Broncos, was with the Syracuse team as acting coach. Among demands made by the black players was that a black coach be hired.

Carlman Jones, a black former Florida A&M star, was later added to the coaching staff. Seven blacks, excluding Allen, were not invited to join the team this year.

Vince Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Coach Vince Lombardi, a pro football molder of championship teams, died today of cancer at Georgetown University Hospital.

The 57-year-old Lombardi was head coach and executive vice president of the Washington Redskins at the time of his death. Prior to taking charge of the Redskins in 1969, the gruff taskmaster of a coach had risen to fame by building a championship dynasty for the Green Bay Packers in his first head coaching job.

In nine seasons at Green Bay, he won five National Football League championships and two Super Bowl contests against rival American Football League teams.

Lombardi, after bringing Washington its first winning team (7-5-2) in 14 years in the 1969 season, was first hospitalized on June 25 with a stomach ailment.

Two days later, he underwent major surgery in which two feet of his colon was removed when a tumor was discovered. Lombardi left the hospital in early July, intending to take up the head coaching reins again.

But on July 27, he re-entered the hospital and a second operation of an undisclosed nature was performed. Redskin officials, at the request of Lombardi's family, declined to make public either his condition or the nature of his illness.

In Lombardi's absence, Assistant Bill Austin was designated "interim head coach" of the Redskins.

Holcomb said he would announce the Sox' new manager for 1971 at a press conference previously scheduled for Sept. 14.

Gutteridge, a longtime member of the White Sox coaching staff, who returned to the club in Al Lopez' second term as manager, took over as manager last year when Lopez asked to be relieved.

The current White Sox have the worst record in the major leagues, 49 wins and 87 losses.

The nine-point tiebreaker went into effect when the second set reached 6-6, and the two Californians then split the next eight points, for the entire set rest on a single point.

Lutz had the vital serve but he hit a forehand out of bounds to let Smith salvage the set.

Instead of leading by two sets, Lutz found himself even at 1-1 and the disheartened youngster then dropped eight of

Gonzalez Wins In First Round Of U.S. Open Net Tournament

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI)—Pancho Gonzalez, taking advantage of an unadvertised form of "sudden death," routed Ingo Buding of West Germany, 6-2, 7-15, 1-0, Wednesday to win his first round match in the $180,000 U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

Gonzalez, the 42-year-old 14th seed, who can use all the rest he can get in a 12-day tournament such as this, had his work cut short for him when Buding withdrew after the first game of the third set after a bronchial attack.

The "sudden death" tiebreaker, being used here for the first time ever in a major championship, played a vital factor in deciding another match between doubles partners and long-time friends Stan Smith and Bob Lutz.

Smith, the No. 11 seed from Pasadena, Calif., recovered well from first set blues to dump Lutz, of Los Angeles, 1-6, 7-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Nance had been seeking a no-cut contract but the Pats insisted a new club policy prevented them from granting the request. Nance and his attorney, Frederick Swartz, said last month there was no quarrel with the money offered by the Pats—just the refusal on the no-cut clause.

The break in the impasse apparently came Tuesday during a bargaining session.

After his first two sessions at contract bridge old man Z who used to play all the dummies in the auction bridge columns had learned something about contract bidding...

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.) Q-The bidding has been: West North East South 3 A Dble Pass 4 Pass 5 Pass 4 Pass 5 South, hold. A2 VK3 Q984 AQ7652 What do you do now? A-Just bid six clubs. It might be pleasant to bid something fancy like five no-trump but simplicity is better now.

GASOLINE ALLEY

LOVE AND WAR - You know that old question about whether gentlemen prefer blondes? Let's settle it. They don't. Definitely. Our Love and War man says extensive research has proved that men hereabout prefer brunettes two-to-one over blondes, three-to-one over brunettes and six-to-one over redheads. Fascinating, if factual.

LATEST STATISTICS show it takes the average man 17 minutes to get from his house to the job. ONE SMALL FACTORY in China does nothing but mass-produce busts of Mao Tse-tung. AS TO THE meaning in carnival lingo of the word 'yard,' it's $100.

OPEN QUESTION - Who said, "Suppose they gave a war and nobody came?"

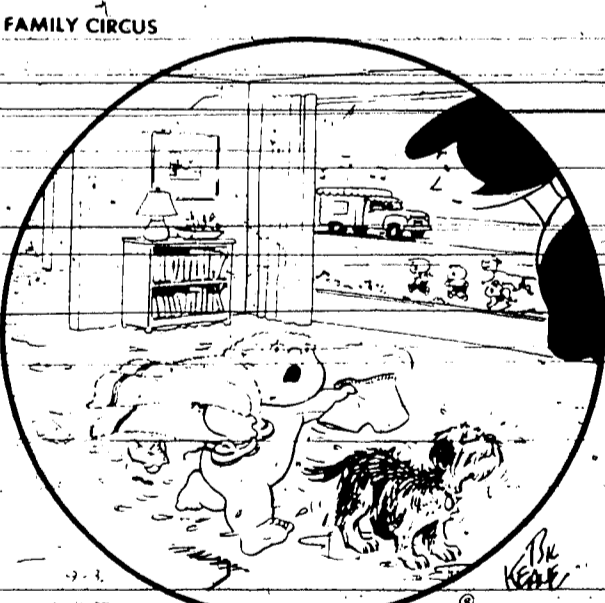

CONFESSIONS - Am asked if I like raw potatoes with salt. Certainly do. Fellow ought not talk about himself overmuch, realize that. But now we're on the subject, might mention I also... am a compulsive light-turner-offer and cupboard-door-closer... enjoy reading the dictionary for pleasure... bite my fingernails... admire cabinetmakers, stonemasons and gardeners in that order... never get headaches... still think Lee Remick, Carroll Baker and Eva Marie Saint are pretty nifty... detest infidelity, high humidity and written contracts... and believe the old novelists who wrote in longhand, like E.M. Forster and Joseph Conrad, are the best. Had enough? All right.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "Who was the youngest man ever to earn a million and I don't mean inherit - $1 Million?" A. Will check on it. Youngest girl ever to do so was Shirley Temple, know that. She put together $1-Million before her tenth birthday... Q. "Do chimpanzees laugh?" A. So it's now said.

A MAN HAS ABOUT 10,000 taste buds. A cow has about 25,000. Considering that, you'd think a man would be the one who's satisfied with a bale of hay while the cow would settle for nothing less than a caesar salad, would you not? A PURITAN named William Gouge wrote a pamphlet to discourage wives from addressing their husbands with terms of endearment. "Intolerable," said he, "are such familiarities as sweet, sweeting, heart, sweetheart, love, joy, deer, duck, chick and pignis?" Pignis?

OBITUARY - So, Frances Farmer has passed on, has she? Who remembers back in 1937 when she played the girl friend in John Garfield's Broadway rendition of "Golden Boy"? If you were around that year but don't recall what went on, maybe this will help. Most popular songs were "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen," "The Dipsy Doodle," "Harbor Lights," "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm," "The Lady is a Tramp," "Rosalee" and "That Old Feeling."

College Officials Hopeful

By LOUIS CARSELS
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At more than 2,000 colleges across the nation, anxious educators are wondering whether the new academic year which begins this month will be as turbulent as the one that staggered to a conclusion last spring.

A survey by the American Council on Education shows that 524 institutions experienced disruptive campus protests during the 1969-70 academic year. They resulted in 14 deaths and more than $9 million in property damage.

Although leery of going on record with flat predictions, some college administrators are hopeful things may be a little quieter this term.

In support of their cautious optimism, they offer such facts or opinions as these:

—Mass outbreaks of violence seem to have an immunizing effect on people directly exposed to their excesses. Students who witnessed destruction and bloodshed on campus last year will be reluctant to repeat the experience—just as many urban Negroes dread a renewal of ghetto rioting.

—A substantial number of students came out of last spring's campus riots with the feeling they had been manipulated by extreme radicals who deliberately set out to provoke clashes with police and National Guardsmen.

—Many colleges have instituted reforms in curriculum, in codes of discipline, and in faculty-student relationships—to meet legitimate student grievances that were factors in last year's campus protests.

—College administrators have learned a lot from their own past mistakes in handling campus protests. Most of them now have a much better understanding of where to draw the line between reasonable concessions and actual surrender, and how to deal firmly but not provocatively with incidents that might lead to violence.

—Some faculty members who were formerly sympathetic toward student protests are having second thoughts.

This hopeful reasoning seems sound as far as it goes. But it overlooks one tremendously important consideration.

When human beings—whether they are students or black people or hard hat construction workers—are genuinely outraged, they are apt to cast prudence to the wind and express their anger in irrational ways.

Mediator Eyes Sugar Walkout

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A federal mediator is in Salt Lake City today to help settle a three-state strike which began Tuesday against five Utah-Idaho Sugar Co. plants.

A spokesman for the sugar company said Eugene B. Roche began meeting with both sides to discuss conditions of a new contract.

"The old contract expired July 1 of this year," the spokesman said, "and was extended for one month by mutual agreement."

He added that neither side chose to extend the contract beyond Aug. 31.

"We have factories in Idaho, Utah and Washington and my understanding is that pickets are around all of them," he added.

He said that of Utah-Idaho Sugar's 873 workers, 597 were members of the striking American Federation of Grain Millers.

The strike is nearly 100 percent effective and supervisory personnel are being called in to help prepare shipments.

The spokesman added however, that actual processing work at the factories does not get underway until late October following the annual sugar harvest.

Ford Eliminated for Strike

DETROIT (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. today was eliminated as a possible strike target by the United Auto Workers this month, leaving the choice of a strike target between General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.

UPI learned that Leonard Woodcock, president of the union, told the UAW's GM Council that the union's ruling body no longer considered Ford a strike target.

Ford was the strike target in 1967 and the UAW struck that company for seven weeks.

GM has about 395,000 UAW members plus several thousand other union members who would be idled by a strike. Chrysler has about 100,000 union members.

The decision not to strike Ford immediately heightened speculation that the nation's second largest union may take on GM—the world's largest manufacturing organization—in a massive labor confrontation Sept. 15, unless the two sides can agree on a new contract by the time the present one expires at midnight Sept. 14.

At the conclusion of the GM meeting, Woodcock said the company's offer, almost identical to the offer of Ford and Chrysler and laid on the bargaining table at the same time Tuesday, was, "the worst they've given us in 20 years." Irving Bluestone, co-director of the union's GM department with Woodcock, said after scanning over the GM offer Tuesday that he would recommend it be made this year's strike target.

He said the union's international executive board was meeting today to consider a strike target.

X-RATED MOVIES STINK!

Swensen's Markets believe that 95% of the people in Magic Valley DO NOT WANT DIRTY, ROTTEN, FILTHY MOVIES in their communities.

Swensen's Markets ARE DISAPPOINTED that civic and religious leaders are "RESIGNED" to X-rated movies. (See Times-News Page one Story August 31, 1970).

TOO MANY PEOPLE IN HIGH PLACES feel their hands are tied or don't want to get involved. SWENSEN'S MARKETS DON'T BUY THAT! If our leaders will not lead... let's start pushing or get some new leaders.

If our communities can make and enforce ordinances against prostitution and places housing such businesses (because they are offensive and insulting to the majority) — SWENSEN'S MARKETS ARE POSITIVE we can make and enforce laws against the explicit portrayal of prostitution and the whole range of pornography—simply because it is insulting and degrading to the majority in the community!

THINGS YOU CAN DO!!!

1. If you have to watch films, stay home and watch TV. Buy Cable Vision if you have to!
2. MOST IMPORTANT: Don't spend your money at theatres which show X-rated films—even when they show worth-while films. Plan to see any decent film that might happen along—in Boise or Salt Lake City—until the local theatres shape up!
3. MAKE A LAW. Start bugging your elected officials about some action. Let's stop worrying about the Supreme Court's past mistakes and assume that, with the new composition, the Supreme Court will finally start making some judgments that are good for the country and our town.

It all comes down to a question of who should set standards: As we love our town and we love Magic Valley, why lower the level of the whole community to coincide with the greedy desires of a few? (Certain heartfelt feelings about X-Rated Trash and those who advocated it, have been deleted from this ad by the Times-News)
