FILER — This year's 54th annual fair opened with a flag-raising ceremony this morning under the direction of Daryl Wolfe, commander of the Filer American Legion post.

Crisp fall weather greeted the first arrivals, but the weather forecast was for fair and warmer weather.

Highlight of today's events is the first Idaho State Hereford show, which began at 8:30 a.m. and has drawn some of the top herds in the western states.

A cowboy picnic lunch at noon was to include Gov. Don Samuelson among the guests, Hereford futurity claiming event was held after lunch.

Open judging of horses also, held this morning in the horse arena and tractor operator contests, meat identification contest, home economic demonstrations, sheep and swine fitting and showing, and quality all took place in the 4-H club department.

Pre-judging activity in the produce building ended today when flower judging began there. Exhibitors in this department are allowed to enter exhibits until an hour before judging begins to keep flowers at their freshest.

Other activities today include FFA sheep and swine fitting and showing and quality, also 4-H quality beef and dairy and fitting and showing. Judging for quality horsemanship and several riding events for 4-H members were conducted Tuesday.

7 Seek Judicial Positions

TWIN FALLS — Seven applicants are vying for two magistrate positions to be filled in Twin Falls County, Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the Fifth Judicial District Magistrate Committee said Tuesday.

He said the committee will meet Friday night to recommend magistrate appointments from each of the eight counties in the district.

Other than Twin Falls, counties are expected to have only one magistrate each. The magistrate appointments are the result of the court reform program adopted last year in Idaho and scheduled to become effective the first of the year. Final approval of the appointments rests with district judges, but Loughmiller said it is not likely the judges would overrule the committee unless an apparent error had been made.

He said the seven applicants in Twin Falls County include Harry Turner, presently Twin Falls city police judge and justice of the peace; Reed P. Maughan, justice in Twin Falls, and John Pearce, justice in Buhl.

Probate Judge Eugene McCoy, Daniel Meehl, Twin Falls attorney; Gleason Anderson, Buhl attorney, and Robert Galley, presently serving as county prosecuting attorney but defeated in the primary election for renomination on the Republican ticket.

All but Maughan are attorneys.

Under the new system, magistrates will receive direction from district judges and will be assigned various cases now handled by city police courts and justices of the peace, as well as the county probate courts.

Loughmiller said he understands there are about 4,000 cases now handled in lower courts in this county, which will be a sizeable work load for two magistrates. Under the justice of the peace and police court system some officials have served only part-time in the past, he noted.

The magistrate commission is comprised of county commission chairmen for all counties in the district and of the senior judge, Charles Scoggin, Gooding.

Gem Board Backs CSI Money Bid

BOISE — The state board of education Tuesday concurred in a request from the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls and North Idaho Junior College in Coeur d'Alene for 50 per cent funding from the state's general fund.

CSI now is receiving 27 per cent state funding and the additional revenue would provide funds for the college's academic program.

The state board failed to act on a request from CSI and NIJC for $4.3 million from Idaho's permanent building fund, CSI's share of that appropriation would be $2.1 million and would allow for vocational facility construction on campus.

Ensign Swims Salmon River

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

TWIN FALLS — A 21-year-old graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy has completed what may be the first swim of the treacherous 100-mile stretch of Idaho's "River of No Return." He swam it alone.

Navy Ensign Paul Falten described his experience here this week:

"It was a great trip, but the best moment of all was climbing out on the bank where the Middle Fork joins the main Salmon River."

Ensign Falten, an expert swimmer, made the trip in four days. The South Plainfield, N. J. native is stationed in Twin Falls to assist Naval Academy candidates.

Leaving Twin Falls on September 2, he spent that night in his camper at Dagger Falls, the starting point for the many boat and raft trips that are made each year down the river.

"I couldn't sleep that night and in fact almost decided not to go but the next morning thought I'd better continue since I had gone this far," he said.

During the night while sleepless, he used black tape and lettered "Go Navy — Bear Army" on the white motorcycle helmet he used during the swim.

A scuba diving enthusiast and Red Cross swimming instructor, Ensign Falten first decided to swim the Idaho River when he was assigned to the area this summer. Earlier this

Twin Falls Ups Garbage Rates

TWIN FALLS — City residents who for 15 years paid $1.25 per month for sanitation services will begin paying $2.10 on Oct. 1.

The 85-cent increase was voted into effect Tuesday night by Twin Falls City Council members in adopting a new garbage and rubbish collection ordinance. The action was taken in connection with a new collection contractor and opening of a new sanitary landfill.

City Council member Eugene Stacey said the city's collection fees have not been paying the cost of the service and the new rates are designed to do this.

City Manager Jean Milar said a number of factors have contributed to the rate increase, including new state health department regulations making sanitary fill operation more restrictive. He said other factors include higher cost under the new contract which reflects salary increases and operating costs, development of the new landfill and the fact present rates have been unchanged for 15 years.

Most apartment house, motels and trailer courts operate as commercial units and provide their own collection service. Other multiple dwelling units will pay on a basis of $2.10 for the first unit and 85 cents for each additional dwelling.

Council members discussed fees to be charged out-of-town residents hauling trash and debris to the new landfill. They decided to double existing rates. This would place fees at a minimum of 50 cents for small loads up to $2 for larger amounts and would apply to out-of-city residents.

All city residents, with a current water and sanitation billing receipt, and commercial haulers collecting trash from within the city have free use of the fill site.

Other city action included placing two burning regulation ordinances on first reading. One, if adopted after three readings, will prevent all open burning in the city except for weed control, removing of fire hazards and food preparation.

The other would amend present burning regulations to include paper and paper products.

Officials said they would question the intent of the Idaho Pollution Control Commission before taking final action on the ordinances.

In other business, city officials adopted five ordinances to bring the city building code up to date under the Uniform Building Code and adopted an ordinance to bring the city fire prevention code up to date.

An amendment to the city entertainment license ordinance to eliminate fees-on events held at the schools or college was approved.

Other ordinances adopted included one to annex Shoshone Acres No. 5 subdivision immediately north of the city and to approve the subdivision plat for the area lying outside the city boundaries.

A proclamation was announced which proclaimed Sept. 8 as "Bob Matthews Day" in Twin Falls. It honored an official of Kellwood Corp., who is leaving the area.

Guerrillas Nab BOAC Jetliner

By United Press International
Arab guerrillas today hijacked a British BOAC VC10 airliner with 180 persons aboard and said they ordered it to fly to Dawson's field outside Amman to reinforce their demand that seven Arab commandos be released in western Europe.

They also reiterated their threat to destroy a TWA and a Swissair jet already at the desert field, with 184 hostages aboard, if their ransom demands are not met by 10 p.m. EDT today. The Red Cross was trying to arrange a three-day delay in the deadline.

The United States and Britain called for a meeting of the United Nations security council for later today to take up the hijacking of international airliners by Arab guerrillas.

The British government was reported "actively considering" placing armed guards aboard British planes.

Airport sources in Beirut said

Abu Khaled, a leading official of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, told them an El Al Israeli airliner also was hijacked to Dawson's Field today, but El Al in Tel Aviv officially denied this report.

The British plane was seized as it left Bahrain on a flight from Bombay to London. It landed at Beirut for refueling and then took off for an unknown destination which the guerrillas said was Dawson's Field.

Diplomatic sources said the foreign diplomats assured Israeli governments would not agree to any deal with the guerrillas which would not apply to Israeli and Jewish hostages aboard the planes. Many of the passengers were Israelis or Jewish Americans.

The Arab guerrillas indicated meanwhile the passengers it planned to hold until its commandos were free were only the 184 actually aboard the TWA and Swissair planes.

Auto Talks Halted

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock says negotiations have "ground to a halt" at the UAW strike targets, General Motors Corp., and Chrysler Corp.

The UAW president also said Tuesday he didn't expect a new industry offer today to replace one the union called "ridiculous and stingy."

Woodcock said that Thursday would be "awfully late" for another offer, but he said it could forestall a strike at midnight Monday.

Woodcock planned to visit Ford Motor Co., today to find out whether Ford would extend the contract or join a lockout if the union strikes GM or Chrysler.

Negotiators for GM and Chrysler met Tuesday night to compare notes after Woodcock visited both teams earlier in the day. He spent one hour with GM negotiators and more than three hours at Chrysler.

Woodcock said he was informed company negotiators would meet Tuesday night, "but I have not been led to expect a new offer" today.

BOAC Halts Arab Flights

LONDON (UPI) — British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) today suspended all flights to and through Beirut until further notice.

The announcement came in the wake of the hijacking by Arab commandos of a BOAC jetliner landed briefly in Beirut to take on fuel and departed for an undisclosed destination.

At Heathrow Airport today BOAC security agents searched all passengers and their luggage for weapons. Two bomb scares—both false alarms—kept the security staff on the move and tension high.

A meeting of executives of the International Federation of Airline Pilots' Associations today rejected proposals that pilots should be armed or that civil airliners should carry armed guards.

BOAC Jetliner similar to the one pictured here was reported hijacked by Arab guerrillas, deepening the international crisis posed by three earlier successful hijackings in which over 180 persons are still being held hostage today. (UPI)

Red Cross Negotiators Race Time

By United Press International
An International Red Cross team worked against a 10 p.m. EDT deadline today in its efforts to negotiate the exchange of 184 persons and two jetliners for an unspecified number of Arab guerrillas held in Europe and Israel.

Palestinian guerrillas hijacked the TWA and Swissair jets Sunday and brought them to a dusty, hot airfield in the desert 78 miles rth of Amman. Of those aboard, 116 women and children were freed Monday night and allowed to go to Amman, where they were awaiting transportation to Beirut.

But about 184 other persons still were in the planes awaiting the outcome of the negotiations. The three-man Swiss team headed by Andre Rochat was meeting the guerrilla leaders to determine their exact demands, over which there has been some confusion.

A guerrilla spokesman said they want freedom for all guerrillas kept in European jails, return of the body of a would-be hijacker in London and the release of a selection of persons as yet to be announced from Israeli prisons.

He said there had been no demand to release Sirhan B. Sirhan, the convicted assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who is awaiting execution in San Quentin, Calif., Prison. Nor had the guerrillas asked for the release of all 3,000 Arab prisoners in the Israeli jails, the spokesman said.

U.S. Sells Israel Jets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has agreed to sell 16 to 18 additional supersonic F4 Phantom fighter-bombers to Israel, defense sources said today.

Administration sources said the sales would be made under previously stated U.S. policy of preventing any significant shift in the middle East power balance against Israel.

The Washington Post, in first reporting the new agreement, said deliveries would begin later this month.

Some Pentagon officials and members of Congress made it clear on numerous occasions in recent weeks that Israel would be provided additional sophisticated weapons, including more Phantoms, if there were any strategic alterations in the Arab-Israeli military balance.

Meet Called on Strike at Buhl

BY PAULINE DAY
Times-News Correspondent
BUHL — A mediation meeting is planned Thursday between striking employees of Carter Packing Co. and owners of the Buhl meat packing plant.

Dan Ackley, representative of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO, and Paul Mals, secretary of local No. 368, both Caldwell, have been here since last Thursday when 22 of the firm's 25 employees went on strike over wages and the checkoff system by which the company bookkeeper collected union dues and pension funds.

Gordon Carter, vice president of the meat packing firm, said the company had proposed a 15-cent hourly wage increase each year for three years and wants to eliminate the checkoff system.

Employees refused the proposal, saying they want to keep the system, and asked for 32-cent hourly wage increase the first year and 25 cents the next two years. The employees began picketing the plant, located a mile west of Buhl, Thursday immediately after the current contract expired and the union refused the proposed new contract.

Carter said the firm has withdrawn its proposal, but the plant is still in operation by office personnel and non-union laborers.

The firm is hiring men for permanent positions if they will cross the picket line. He also noted some of the employees returned to work this morning.

but declined to indicate how many. The strike seemingly has made little impact on the community and few persons seemed aware of it today.

Union members were picketing but as one resident put it, "No one goes out there unless he's going to the plant."

Charges Filed in Tot Death

TWIN FALLS — A man accused of causing the death of his 22-month-old step-son was arrested by police early Wednesday as he was leaving Twin Falls.

Gerry Lewellyn, 30, was charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Shawn Stone, who died a week ago at a Boise hospital.

Prosecutor Robert Galley said an autopsy showed death was caused by brain damage from head wounds. Galley said there were other wounds on the child's body.

Tim Qualls, city chief of detectives, said Lewellyn and his wife, the child's mother and another child, were preparing to return to Phoenix, Ariz., when they were picked up. The couple and the two children had been living at a motel on Kimberly Road.

UN Asked To Ponder Hijacks

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States and Britain today requested an immediate meeting of the Security Council to take up the hijacking of international airliners by Arab guerrillas.

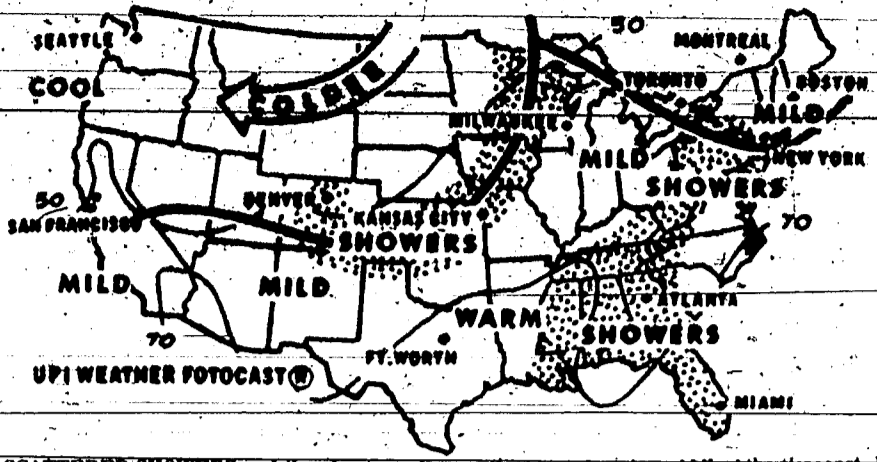

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost called on Ambassador Davidson S. H. W. Nicol of Sierra Leone, the September president of the 15-national council, early this morning to file the request. The Americans and British hoped a council meeting could be arranged for later today, a U.S. delegation spokesman said.

Bond Vote

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court is considering a request from Attorney General Robert M. Robson to review its decision upholding property ownership requirements for voters participating in bond elections. Robson, who filed a petition with the high court Tuesday, asked in light of a U. S. Supreme Court evoking a similar law in Arizona, that the high court review its decision and come into conformance with federal rulings. Robson noted the U. S. Supreme Court ruling is not binding on Idaho because the state was not a party to the nation. However, he noted attorney will not certify Idaho's bond elections if they are approved under present statutes. Current statutes limit voters in bonding elections to be real property owners.

Junked Car Ordinance Into Effect

TWIN FALLS — An ordinance on the city books for several years making it illegal to store unlicensed and junked automobiles on personal property within the city is going to be enforced. City council members voted Tuesday night to enforce the highly restrictive ordinance in the light of new developments. A city-wide study was made several months ago, revealing more than 500 such automobiles on personal property and about 40 on city right of way in the city. Because of the high cost of removal and the hardship it would create for some residents, enforcement of the ordinance was held in abeyance.

City Manager Jean Milar has been negotiating for several weeks and announced Monday a local wrecker service, Northwest Wrecker, will haul the old cars for $7.50 each from anywhere in the city limits to a storage lot where they can be crushed or baled. He said new "smasher" equipment has been brought to Twin Falls and will be in operation in two to three weeks. A baler is also located adjacent to the city limits and space has been obtained at the Barger-Mattson wrecking lot for collection of the old car bodies.

A call was received at 1:10 p.m. by lunchroom workers at the school. The sheriff's office was immediately notified and officers searched for a bomb until about 1:30 p.m. The caller was a young male, school personnel said, who told them "there is a bomb in the grade school." Kimberly schools were the targets of several bomb and fire threats last year. A Kimberly youth was charged with making at least one of the calls after investigation by the sheriff's department.

N. Viets Attack Under Disguise

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops disguised as Cambodian paratroopers attacked Siem Reap near the ruins of Angkor Wat, the Cambodian command said today. The defenders and attackers each lost 13 killed in the ensuing battle. A 4,000-man Cambodian force pushing toward the encircled city of Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh, was reported halfway to its objective after two days of Communist harassment attacks along Highway 6. Cambodian spokesmen said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese who attacked Siem Reap Tuesday wore camouflage uniforms and red scarves like those of Cambodian paratroopers. Thirteen of the defenders, themselves airborne forces, were killed and 20 wounded. The Communists left 13 bodies on the battlefield and Cambodian spokesmen said it appeared many others were killed and the bodies carried away. The Cambodian command said the forward elements of six battalions of Cambodian troops had reached a point, six miles north of Skoun today in the push toward Kompong Thom. That would put them nearly halfway to the city, under siege by the Communists for 58 days. The command acknowledged use of American air strikes around Kompong Thom with the explanation that the city is "on a main infiltration route from Laos." The command said Viet Cong carried out light harassment attacks against the outer defensive perimeter of Phnom Penh Tuesday night.

OUTSTANDING New Hampshire pullet is examined by Wayne Ills, Hagerman, poultry judge at the Twin Falls County Fair. He gave this pullet a blue ribbon in judging Tuesday.

River Swimmer

answer me when I yelled a greeting until I had repeated it several times and I know they thought I was out of my mind when I told them I was just swimming," he said. There were a number of narrow escapes as many more rocks, protrude from the river during low water season and Ensign Falten says he still sits down with care after bouncing over one sharp rock. He originally thought he might walk around some of the more notorious rapids but decided as he reached each to go ahead and swim. The "boils" which occur at the base of the rapids often trap boats making it necessary to pull them out. For a lone swimmer they offered added danger but he managed to swim out of them. Ensign Falten had arranged to send radio messages at four points along the river to let Boy Scout officials, including his roommate, Darrell Fitzsimmonds, know he was still alive. On the third day he encountered a snow storm. Although too busy making good time to take many photographs, he did take one of the September snow storm which he said was one of the major events of the trip. At Pistol Creek, Loon Creek and the Flying Branches, he sent out radio messages to a radio service center in Boise and the word was telephoned to friends in Twin Falls. The final message was to have his roommate meet him Sunday afternoon but with bad weather he wasn't sure the message got through. Ensign Falten said the few people he did see along the way were wonderful, especially the Gordon DeVries at Pistol Creek and the residents at Loon Creek. All told him they had seen many unusual boats and crafts on the river but no other swimmers. When the trip ended, Ensign Falten said, there was no one to meet him so he began walking in his wet suit and was soon picked up by a somewhat startled hunter. "He didn't ask too many questions and I guess he just thought I was some kind of harmless nut," Ensign Falten said. The New Jersey resident said he would like to make the swim again sometime, but never alone. It would be a great trip, he feels, for about five young men, if made a bit earlier in the season to avoid low water and cold weather. "Just to be alive is a great reward after four days alone in that river," he says of his undertaking. He didn't tell his parents he was going to make the trip but called them when he returned. They agreed it was just as well they didn't know where he had been the past four days. Blue Lakes Speed Limit Cut Sought

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Twin Falls City Highway safety committee have submitted recommendations to the city council asking that they take whatever action necessary to lower the speed limit on North Blue Lakes Boulevard to 35 miles per hour. In a letter to City Manager Jean Milar and presented

Tuesday night to council members, the committee noted they have studied highway use on U. S. 93 and Blue Lakes Boulevard as the route enters Twin Falls. Merchants on the route have asked for a speed reduction because of increased commercial development and residential growth to the north. Highway committee members said their study shows the lower speed would be more realistic in view of these factors. In their letter they also asked the city to urge city work with proper authorities in an effort to increase the state highway board of directors from three to five members for better representation of all areas of the state. City officials were advised by Jean Milar the speed limits are set by the Department of Highways.

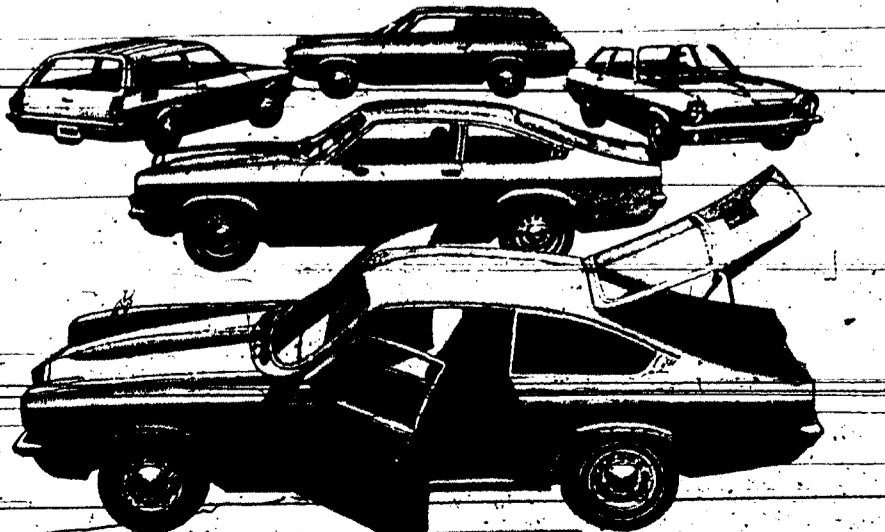

Processing Start Due In 10 Days

TWIN FALLS — Processing of potatoes with new equipment at the Idaho Frozen Foods, Inc. plant here will begin in about 10 days, Vern Roath, president, said Tuesday. Use of new equipment valued at $1.5 million was scheduled to start Tuesday. Roath said the new equipment is in the plant but installation and correction of minor operating problems will not be finished until about the end of next week. Modernizing and expanding of the plant will enable the firm to double its output of frozen potato products, according to Roath.

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega. We also call it "the little car that does everything well." Because it does. Everything? Everything. Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car. In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imparts, which isn't a bad neighborhood. Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas. The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare. Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck. How we doing so far? Numbers speak louder than words. The wheelbase is 97 inches. Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet. Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import. Width: a nice stable 54 1/2 feet. Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan. Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches. Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests. Horsepower: 90. You can order 110. (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net.) Seating capacity: 4 adults. What it all adds up to is a lot of little car. Three cars and a truck. Vega turned out so well that we couldn't turn out just one. So we're turning out four; the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kamback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear. Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on. September 10th is Opening Day. All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one. Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.

Helping Hand

War creates all kinds of casualties — the dead, the missing, the wounded, the emotionally scarred and the families of all these. And war, whether it be a "hot" war or a "cold" war, creates refugees.

A New York-based group established in 1933, the International Rescue Committee, is America's leading nonsectarian voluntary agency aiding refugees from oppression.

In its annual report just released, the IRC notes that more than 110,000 refugees were helped during 1969 in Europe, Southeast Asia, Africa, North and Latin America. In 1970, the rate of assistance has increased.

An exodus of 100,000 Czechoslovaks since the Soviet occupation in 1968 and persecution of Polish Jews resulted in an increase of 25 per cent over 1968 in Western Europe alone, IRC reported. A large number of Greeks fleeing the military junta rule, plus Hungarians, Romanians, Yugoslavs, Albanians, Bulgarians and several thousand Cubans who came to Spain were also aided.

Cubans have become one of IRC's major recipients of aid. In the last decade 600,000 Cubans — about 10 per cent of the population — have become refugees, the agency said. Of these, 500,000 have gone to the United States, unable to bear the Communist rule of Fidel Castro. Several hundred Haitian refugees, equally unable to endure the dictatorship of 'Papa Doc' Duvalier on that island, were also helped by IRC last year.

Aiding refugees involved providing food, clothing, shelter, medical assistance, child care, rehabilitation, language help, occupational guidance — in other words, it is a complex task requiring patience, skill and persistence.

The refugee problem in South Vietnam is further complicated by the need to provide hospital care and surgery for adults and children who have suffered war wounds. Twenty-two doctors, surgeons, nurses, public health officers and hospital administrators — representing 14 countries — staff IRC's program in Vietnam. IRC provided a 120-bed hospital and a day-care center which is being augmented by a new center at another refugee camp.

Refugees from mainland China into Hong Kong and Former Biafran refugees in Nigeria also came under IRC's care.

To accomplish all this, the International Rescue Committee depended upon support from American foundations, corporations, labor unions, community, civic and student groups and individual citizens who gave both time and money.

Perhaps the day will come when refugees no longer number in the hundreds of thousands. Until that day, such groups as IRC deserve thanks and support.

WASHINGTON — The clearest and most dramatic evidence of the transformed mood of Democratic headquarters is an attempt by Robert Strauss, the party's national treasurer, to strip Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard of all official Democratic sanction.

Strauss wants Galbraith to resign from the Democratic Policy Council, which is supposed to set national party policy. If he does not resign, Strauss wants to see him kicked off. In any event, Strauss wants to erase any connection in the public mind between Democratic party leadership and Galbraith's radicalism.

Whether or not Galbraith stays on the generally inert policy council, could scarcely matter less, as Strauss understands perfectly well.

Rather, Strauss is making a symbolic gesture against what he terms "kamikaze Democrats" who want to purify the party in the flames of defeat. And that attitude, in turn, symbolizes the new mood at the Democratic National Committee.

It has taken the party hierarchy fully two years to shake off the trauma of the Chicago convention. In the aftermath of the 1968 Presidential defeat, Democratic leaders assumed that they had lost because of insufficient appeal to the black, the young, and the poor. Subsequently these elements were doggedly appeased through the post-election tenure of Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma as National Chairman.

When Harris was replaced by Lawrence F. O'Brien as National Chairman and Strauss was elected treasurer six months ago, a reassessment began. Since then, Democratic leaders have been approaching the view that the 1968 loss was caused essentially by defections from the party's traditional power source: the working man. Leftward steps under Harris only further alienated that blue-collar vote.

Strauss, a Dallas lawyer-businessman and Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, typifies the changed atmosphere at national headquarters. Moderate ideologically, close to the Texas conservatives personally, and a staunch party loyalist over the years, Strauss has conducted himself cautiously rather than stir up enemies on the left.

But now he is ready to move, beginning with a call to divest Prof. Galbraith of party credentials. Galbraith, to Strauss, is "nothing but a spoiler" because of his campaign — overwhelmingly unsuccessful — to purge Democratic incumbents and his call for Democratic Congressmen to "break the seniority system by voting for a Republican speaker."

"I blame people like me," says Strauss, "who have let Galbraith and his type use the party as a podium." As chief Democratic fund-raiser, Strauss has found such use has alienated potential contributors, large and small alike. To repudiate the Galbraith Democrats might turn the money spigot back on.

But the new mood at the National Committee transcends money-raising. Rather, O'Brien shares with Strauss his disapproval of Galbraith's leftward thrust and a determination to get the party back to the popular center, where elections are won.

The catalyst that has strengthened that determination in recent weeks is a new book — "The Real Majority" by Richard M. Scammon and Ben J. Wattenberg.

Accordingly, Democratic politicians are now repeating the Scammon-Wattenberg formulations: the key to winning elections is not the black-young-poor minority but the wife of the machinist in Dayton.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Being Both

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a widower and have to act as both father and mother to my daughters, aged 9 and 12. It would be most helpful if you would give some information on adolescent breast development.

What is the oldest age at which parents should be concerned if a young daughter is completely flat-chested? My older daughter has asked several times when she will develop and start wearing a bra. She still has a flat chest with tiny nipples, and is very slim but a healthy girl. She has not had her first menstruation yet.

I thought exercise might help (push-ups, sit-ups). Well, her posture is now very good and I think her entire rib cage lifted. However, the nipples have not risen a fraction of an inch. This was a bit of a disappointment to her. — T. C.

Countless girls (and women) are "plagued with breast-consciousness." It is true that a well-formed bust adds to the figure and lets clothes hang better, but unless this comes naturally, there isn't a great deal to do about it. On the average, the first sign of breast development becomes noticeable at about the age of 10 or 11, but it takes the next four or five years (again, an average) to reach full development.

But remember — and remind your daughter — that maturing varies considerably in both boys and girls. Some are late-bloomers. They just have to wait somewhat longer.

The amount of fat is a factor. Lean girls will be smaller than plump ones, which may disappoint them in the early teens but will be a blessing to them later in life when some of the early-bloomers already are struggling with reducing diets to keep their figures.

Posture is extremely important. While exercise will not directly affect the breast tissue itself, a girl with small breasts and good posture will appear to be bigger than a girl with larger breasts and a slouch. The exercises you mentioned are excellent for developing chest muscles.

Incidentally having small breasts does not detract from ability to nurse babies when the time comes.

Your daughter needs reassurance. I guess you do, too. But there is no way to accelerate breast development. Tell your daughter to bide her time, and you stop worrying about it. Some girls, in fact, reach 20 or so and are still developing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Isn't a drier climate healthier for sinus sufferers? Mrs. R. T.

You can't generalize about that. Sometimes it is; but some patients in a dry climate discover that they are better off in a place with somewhat higher humidity.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, he regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Mayflower

On Sept. 16 it will be 350 years since the Mayflower sailed from Plymouth, England, with 101 Pilgrims and 48 crew members aboard. They landed 63 days later in Massachusetts to establish the first permanent colony in New England.

It is no secret how proud are present-day U. S. citizens if they can truthfully say that their forefathers came over on the Mayflower. There is a "General Society of Mayflower Descendants," with chapters in many states.

A complicating feature, though, is that a second ship, the Speedwell, was to accompany the Mayflower on the historic journey. But after two trials, this ship was pronounced unseaworthy. Some of her passengers were transferred to the Mayflower, while others abandoned the journey.

So a proud but baffling comment for a modern Englishman might be: "My ancestors almost went over on the Speedwell." But probably only an American whose ancestor's came over on the Mayflower would have any idea what he was talking about.

PAUL HARVEY

Student Ballots

Students, distressed about the war or whatever, disrupted campuses last year, focused some attention on their grievances but more on themselves.

So when the tear gas clouds were wafted away the status remained quo.

This next fall students aim to do battle with ballots and this next effort is organized.

Within days after President Nixon ordered American troops into Cambodia, angry students met in the Princeton University gym. They voted to strike to protest the escalating war. And they voted 3,800 to 200.

But at that meeting they decided to do more: to go to work within the system to elect peace candidates to Congress this next fall.

Their effort became known as the movement for a New Congress. The rapidly with which it spread to 400 campuses holds hope that students who were becoming disillusioned about our political system now recognize that whether it works for them or against them is up to them.

Now 28 regional centers report to Princeton headquarters that they have 20,000 students prepared to campaign and they expect to have 300,000 thus involved by October.

In Santa Clara County, California students, themselves ineligible to vote, recruited new voters; helped 1,000 register the first week.

The youth movement has its roots in opposition to the Indochina war. As that war phases out, enthusiasm may wane. But at present count the Movement has adopted 60 peace candidates for the House and six or seven for the Senate, intending to mobilize bipartisan support for these.

Since other antiwar student organizations have participated in spring primaries it is difficult to assess the effects of any or all.

And the students have no illusions about being able to convert conservative constituencies. But where there were less than 15 per cent points separating the winners from the losers in 1960 elections — wherever there is a reasonable hope of affecting the outcome of an election — the Movement will concentrate its efforts.

Canvassers are urged not to be argumentative, snobbish,

RAY CROMLEY

ABM Pellets

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Men close to the problem say privately that within the next three to five years the United States should be in a position to begin the development of a radically new type of antiballistic missile.

It could be another five to eight years after that, however, before the new system would be ready for operation, even with full congressional support and financial backing.

As now envisioned, the 1980 ABM will be nonatomic. Therefore, there will not be the danger, as now, of blocking out our own defense radar and making our own ABMs ineffective.

The defense missiles may fire swarms of pellets, about the size, perhaps, of pellets in ordinary shotgun shells. Theoretically, at the tremendous speeds possible, even such tiny pellets should be able to destroy intercontinental missiles in flight.

To make such a nonatomic ABM system practical, the defense missiles must be very accurate. They probably will carry some sort of homing device, likely a heat-seeker. The incoming missiles presumably would be the hottest things around.

Though such heat-seekers have proved highly effective on Sidewinder air-to-air missiles (they enabled the Nationalist government on Formosa to knock Red Chinese planes out of the skies over the Taiwan Straits some years back), it's another thing to apply these same principles to the longer distances and different conditions in the upper atmosphere.

Again, if this new-type ABM is to be practical, it will be necessary to develop much better methods of distinguishing between incoming warheads and decoys. Nuclear ABMs, because they can "kill" enemy missiles at greater distances, need not be so discriminating. They can "take on" a small cluster and reasonably be expected to knock out everything in the cluster — decoys and armed warheads alike.

A more effective ability to discriminate will likely be accomplished through a combination of sensing devices — including optical, infra-red and ultra violet — to penetrate whatever gimmicks the Russians or Red Chinese think up.

The pellet ABM presumably would be able to use a considerable amount of the equipment of the Safeguard system as modified and improved by the late 1970s and early 1980s.

Now this pellet concept isn't nearly so dramatic as the "laser ABM" — which would use laser beams to destroy enemy intercontinental missiles in flight.

Though a laser ABM is under study, the way things look now, a practical laser ABM is a long way down the pike.

The problem is that a laser beam of the "strength" necessary to destroy an enemy missile in space or in the upper atmosphere would require tremendous amounts of power and installations of such size as to be impractical in the foreseeable future.

The but classified work on the pellet concept over the past few years has brought results which research men believe can lead to a workable system when the problems outlined above are solved. It will be noted that, on paper at least, these problems can be solved.

MR. SPECTATOR

It's A Tomatodog!

Remember awhile back when Mr. Spectator wrote that the Tomatodog — one between a tomato and nothing else — came out-looking like something it wasn't?

Well, what we are getting at is that the new strain is long and little around rather than round and plump like the ordinary tomato. Hence the new name.

We thought it just couldn't be so, but the day after we wrote about it we got a call from Mrs. Earl E. Davis, 512 Sixth Avenue East, Jerome, and she said she had raised a few.

And she proved it by sending one to Mr. Spectator. Whereupon, we immediately caused her picture to be taken with the new type fruit — or vegetable!

So here's the picture. Mrs. Davis admiring something real new — a genuine Magic Valley raised Tomatodog!

Jetliner, 11 Crewmen Plunge Near New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kennedy International Airport was preparing for its crunch of late afternoon flights. Kevin Jennings glanced into the sky at a routine sight—an airplane taking off. Suddenly he saw "shots," sparks and the DC8 banked and "disappeared into the ground."

Eleven crew members including seven stewardesses, were killed Tuesday when the Trans International Airlines (TIA) charter, being ferried to Washington to pick up 250 young European passengers, crashed near Jamaica Bay and exploded into flames. There were no survivors.

The airport was closed for more than two hours while firemen doused the flames.

Extra foam used in fighting aircraft fires was rushed from LaGuardia Airport. More than a dozen incoming flights were diverted to Boston while outgoing flights had to wait at Kennedy terminals.

George A. Van Epps, chief of the National Transportation Board's Bureau of Safety, said the voice and flight recordings aboard the jet had been recovered. "This should bring significant evidence," Van Epps said. "As soon as we get the answers to the very steep roll—and what witnesses described, federal investigators should have more concrete evidence as to what caused the crash." Van Epps said a report should be made in about two weeks.

Faubus Loses Primary

By United Press International

"We've beaten the old pro," a weary campaign worker shouted in Little Rock, Ark., today after more votes were counted for Dale Bumpers than for former six-term Gov. Orval E. Faubus, trying for his seventh.

Faubus' first statewide defeat—he retired as governor in 1967—was the only big surprise Tuesday as eight states held primary elections.

Judge G. Harrold Carswell was turned back in an attempt to become a peer of the men who rejected him five months ago as a nominee to the U.S. Supreme Court. Eight-term Rep. William C. Cramer, who campaigned for law and order, won Florida's Republican nomination for the Senate by nearly a 2-1 margin over Carswell.

In an obvious reference to his rejection earlier by the Senate, Carswell said: "This time the people have decided."

Also in Florida, fiery Gov. Claude Kirk was forced into a runoff with Jack Eckerd, a drugstore magnate, in his bid for another term as Republican governor.

Democratic voters in Georgia had 10 candidates for governor to choose from today when they vote in their primary. Lester Maddox is forbidden by law to succeed himself, so he's seeking the lieutenant governor's post. He has opposition Republicans fielded two candidates for governor in the state's first two-party primary.

Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, 74, first elected in 1948 from the state's huge, rural and mountainous 4th District, won easily over the first Democratic primary opponent he has faced since then.

But Rep. Byron G. Rogers, 70, seeking his 11th term as a Democrat from urban Denver, faced opposition so stiff from

Southern Schools Comply

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—One of the school districts that will be a test case in the Supreme Court's hearings on forced busing makes a piecemeal effort today to comply with a desegregation plan requiring busing of almost one-fourth of its 83,000 students.

Only the first, sixth, ninth and 12th grades of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg District were to meet in staggered 90-minute orientation sessions, as school officials devised makeshift plans to get the maximum use of a limited number of buses.

The other classes will open briefly on similar schedules Thursday and Friday.

The school board estimated it would need 536 buses to carry out the desegregation order, but was about 300 short on opening day.

BISHOP Humberto S. Medeiros was named by Pope Paul VI to succeed Cardinal Richard J. Cushing as Archbishop of Boston. The Pope accepted Cushing's resignation for reasons of health and age. (UPI)

Scientists Ponder Moon Composition

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Enticed by a preview of new ideas, some of the world's foremost lunar scientists meet today to discuss the make-up and origin of the moon.

They are attending a three-day conference at the Lunar Science Institute to summarize what is known to date from last year's two Apollo moon landings. At the conclusion of the meetings Friday, the scientists will attempt to place priorities on the half-dozen landing sites proposed for the three Apollo missions left after the Jan. 31 launch of Apollo 14.

A Tuesday symposium on geophysics of the moon preceded the conference. It prompted the discussion of new thoughts on the origin of the moon and of volcanic rock making up arid lunar seas. The symposium also renewed old scientific arguments.

Committee Ends Probe On Douglas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Judiciary subcommittee has completed the second round of an inquiry into impeachment charges against Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. No decision was yet in sight.

The subcommittee, in a report to be presented to the full committee next week, is expected to state that its work has been hobbled by failure of the Justice Department and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to provide requested information.

"We have not been very successful in getting the information," Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said today. "We have been very unsuccessful."

Celler said last month the preliminary stage of the subcommittee inquiry could not be completed without the information.

The subcommittee report is expected to stir new charges of footdragging and whitewash by Douglas critics, and new demands for an "independent" investigation by another special House committee.

Thus controversy over the 71-year-old justice may go on for months, both in the House and in the upcoming congressional election campaigns.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford raised the issue against Douglas in a lengthy speech in April.

filed a friend-of-the-court brief in the case Tuesday in Washington. He called for a "rule of reason" and the rejection of the concepts of racial balance and busing.

Solid-Waste Study Charted

TWIN FALLS — Preliminary work has already begun on a $20,000 project which will serve as a pilot county-wide solid-waste study for Idaho.

Twin Falls County Zoning Administrator, Ed Woods, in a meeting with county commissioners and a professional planner, Dr. R. P. Fasolino, Pocatello.

A survey of present county and city dumping stations and landfills and photographs of problem areas. Major phases of the study will probably not begin for another two weeks.

dumping stations with methods of collection and enforcement also covered.

When completed, 75 copies of results and recommendations will be printed for local use.

Highway Program Sought

TWIN FALLS — Unless some local effort is made for a major highway improvement into Twin Falls County from the south, generally along existing U. S. 93 routing, officials will be missing a major opportunity for future growth.

Dr. R. P. Fasolino, Pocatello planning expert, told Twin Falls county commissioners in a meeting Tuesday they should give this matter some immediate thought. Dr. Fasolino directed preparation of the county's general plan which was completed last year. One of the plan's proposals was for carrying a major four-lane highway from Nevada through Twin Falls county from the south, swinging east of the city of Twin Falls to connect with I-80 North.

Dr. Fasolino said the exact routing of the highway, through Twin Falls, west or east of it is not the big question, but rather a good, high speed highway to carry traffic from Los Angeles, San Francisco and Las Vegas into Idaho recreation areas and on to Yellowstone National Park.

This route, he said, would bring much major traffic into Idaho via Twin Falls County. It would take much of what is now going through Utah and entering by Pocatello, because of the natural advantages of a shorter route and the open spaces of Nevada, he added.

He said present U. S. 93 in Idaho is in sad shape and discourages travel from the south. This, plus a regional airport somewhere in this locality could make this one of the fastest growing areas of Idaho, the planning expert said.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Queen Elizabeth, which goes up for auction this week in Port au Prince, Fla., has been used as a "pawn" in a fight over property, Life Magazine reported Sunday.

An article published in this week's Life says ownership and control of what was once one of the most luxurious vessels afloat has been relegated to second spot in a battle over control for 135 acres of waterfront at Port Everglades, near Fort Lauderdale.

The article, by reporter Greg Walter, claims the Queen's troubles began in 1967 when the Cunard line put the ship up for sale due to declining revenues.

In April of 1968 the ship was sold to three Philadelphia businessmen for $7.75 million. The trio — millionaire contractor Charles F. Willard, and Stanton and Robert Miller — originally intended to berth the vessel in Philadelphia as a tourist attraction, but according to the article, ran into road blocks when City and State officials showed only fleeting enthusiasm for the project.

The promoters then turned to Florida's Gov. Claude Kirk Jr., who according to the article, "just happened to offer them 100 acres of choice public land near Fort Lauderdale if they could bring the Elizabeth to his state."

The article also claims the Miller brothers put the Governor's father, Claude Kirk Sr., on their payroll in an $18,000 a year job and retained a Kirk political ally as their legal counsel.

Thus, according to Life, the ship, once dubbed "Britain's Masterpiece" goes up for auction this week.

Dr. Fasolino, who headed the county's comprehensive study a year ago, while associated with Idaho State University, now heads Associated Planners and Developers of Pocatello.

He assured county commissioners Tuesday that their only cost should not exceed $3,000. The remainder of the county's matching funds of $10,000 for the complete program will come through labor, equipment, mileage and other contributions which will overlap regular operations of the county planning and zoning program.

Application has been made to the federal government for their $10,000 contribution. Dr. Fasolino said the Twin Falls study will be one the entire state will be watching, which could well benefit the entire state because of widespread solid-waste problems.

Not only will the study present an inventory of solid-waste problems and needs, but as County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller said, it should bring forth a "magical answer" to the growing miseries of county officials who must cope with old car bodies, trash and debris from rural and urban residents.

Woods said preliminary work now being handled on a routine basis through his office involves

One of the problems ahead, county officials say, is getting taxpayer approval of the project and being able to work it out in the budget. It will be necessary, Loughmiller said, to budget the entire $20,000 project, or at least the federal grant and the $3,000 which will not be covered in overlapping or existing budget items, and then reimburse the county when federal funds are furnished.

Dr. Fasolino told the county the course they are taking is a good one in that federal agencies are encouraging this type of study in which local services, talent and personnel are utilized at a great saving to the local agencies. There is no need of bringing in costly outside experts to do the actual study and provide information that is already known to and available from local experts, he said.

Woods explained that the study will encompass such things as cost of handling solid wastes, combining county and city facilities to cut corners, financially and the establishment of key manned refuse and

Pocatello Gets U.S. Housing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, said Tuesday the Department of Housing and Urban Development had approved a $1,279,712 low-rent public housing project for Pocatello.

Jordan said the project will consist of 75 multiple-family high rise units, all designed for the elderly.

The famous children's book, "Hans Brinker" or "The Silver Skates," was written by an American author, Mary Mapes Dodge, who had never seen Holland.

'Pilot Error' Brings Sudden End to Record Flight Try

TWIN FALLS — An attempt to fly a radio-controlled model plane over the never-before-attempted distance of 461 miles — from Twin Falls to Reno, Nev. — ended in failure today, due to an admitted "pilot error."

Ron Schumaker, Twin Falls, had planned to fly the plane from the back of a station wagon, keeping it in sight throughout the estimated eight-hour trip. He had rigged a safety belt to allow him to stand in the rear, looking out over the top of the vehicle, with a windshield attached to the top to protect his vision.

Two drivers, Phil Weststrand and Larry Troxell, were to drive in relays for the trip, which would have to be made without stopping.

The Nugget night club in Reno was to clear its parking lot for a landing field, and would provide full coverage of the flight by news media.

The longest official distance on record for a non-stop radio-controlled plane, according to the Academy of Model Aeronautics, Washington, D. C., is 216 miles. Schumaker's flight would have no official standing, however, as he was unable to arrange for an official observer from the academy to be on hand.

Schumaker's radio-controlled plane, a large craft with a five-foot wingspan, was fitted with a high-powered battery to allow continuous operation, and a husky steel gas tank containing more than a gallon of model-plane fuel strapped over the wings, extended the usually limited range of flight.

The flight took careful planning, but it all came to naught.

Schumaker and his crew assembled at the intersection of Highways 93 and 30 west of Twin Falls early today. With perfect flying weather forecast conditions looked favorable for the flight.

The first takeoff, down the center of the highway, was assisted by state police officer Everett Waddell, who cleared traffic from the "runway." But the plane failed to gain altitude and the eight pounds of gas on its back destroyed lift.

The plane flipped over on the edge of the road, shattering the propeller and damaging the tail surfaces.

After repairs were completed, Schumaker tried an aerial takeoff. A third member of his crew, Danny Owings, held the plane above the station wagon as the driver gained speed. Again, it crashed! Only the propeller was damaged that time.

Finally, with a new "prop," the last attempt was made. Schumaker admitted later he made a minor correction in the plane's flight configuration, but the extra weight of the gas brought disaster. The craft crashed again — but this time it was too badly damaged to continue.

Schumaker's future plans are indefinite, he said.

"I don't think I'll try it again with this particular plane; it seems almost like it's jinxed."

RON SCHUMAKER of Twin Falls splits the long distance attempt. The plane crashed at the beginning of the long trip and was badly damaged.

Equipment Stolen at Jerome

JEROME — A piece of speed radar equipment valued at more than $1,000 was stolen Tuesday, Police Chief C.H. Puntney said today.

The chief explained the equipment had been sent to Boise for repair and was shipped back to Jerome by bus. Irving Altman, city policeman, picked up the box containing the equipment Tuesday afternoon and took it to the station, placing it on a desk in the back room.

Altman said he was not sure the box was sealed, but it did not show that it had been opened. When Police Dispatcher Betty McMurdie went to open the box later in the afternoon she found it was already opened, and part of the equipment missing. The remaining piece is unusable.

The chief said he did not know whether the equipment was stolen before it arrived in Jerome, or if the box was broken into at the station.

Bids Called on Blaine Project

HAILEY — Bids for a 1,100 square foot addition to the Blaine county hospital will be reviewed by the hospital board at 2 p.m. Sept. 30 in the county clerk's office.

Meeting with architect Robert Hamill of Boise on Tuesday night, board members approved final plans and specifications for the work which will include needed storage space as well as an 8 by 12-foot cooler and a 6 by 12-foot freezer unit.

In addition to serving the hospital facilities the added space will be used to service an anticipated 26-bed nursing home planned for the south end of the hospital property, according to Chris Meany, hospital administrator.

County commissioners last month approved $27,000 for the addition. Specifications will be available at the county clerk's office or from the architects in Boise.

Hamill also presented preliminary plans for the nursing home complex and was given permission to proceed with further planning.

The board anticipates traveling to Coeur d'Alene later this month to meet with the state advisory council to apply for matching Hill-Burton funds for the project.

Cook Hired At School

FILER — Mrs. Barbara Crieder has been hired as cook at Clover Lutheran School. Those wishing to donate food, should notify Ann Middleton or Mrs. Leo Gihring.

Substitutes to work for mothers who take their turns helping the cook also are needed and those wishing to be hired in this capacity should call or see Mrs. E.M. Graesch.

The Clover School will be dismissed Friday for West End Day at the Twin Falls County Fair.

Clover Kindergarten will begin October 5. Mrs. Orville Graesch will be the teacher.

T. F. Tables Action on Property

TWIN FALLS — Action has been tabled by Twin Falls City Council members on a proposal to call for bids for the sale of the old filter plant property.

The property includes the brick filter plant building now abandoned under the new city water system and some 15 acres of land surrounding it. Wells which are still supplying water to the city would be retained.

City Manager Jean Milar said the property has been appraised at $22,500.

Strike Looms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Railroad and four unions agreed to go through the motions of a negotiating session today, but there was little hope an agreement would be reached before a midnight strike deadline.

Barring a voluntary agreement to extend the deadline, it appeared President Nixon would be forced to intervene in a major railroad labor dispute for the third time since he took office.

A session was scheduled for 11 a.m. EDT today with Assistant Labor Secretary W. J. Usery Jr. sitting in as the government's chief negotiator in the year-old dispute.

Usery said Tuesday, "We could still very likely have a strike tomorrow night, but we could have a postponement if there is meaningful progress." A union leader said, "We are farther apart than when we started."

The two sides met for the first time in more than a month Tuesday after Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson personally intervened.

The four unions in the current dispute represent 600,000 employees involved in train operation and track maintenance as well as clerks and dining car employees.

Candidates To Attend GOP Event

WENDELL — The Gooding County Republican Central Committee will sponsor a "meet your candidate" coffee hour, on Thursday, Sept. 17, at 8 p.m. at the Orchard Valley Grange hall south of Wendell.

All Republican candidates from Gooding County are planning to be present. Others include Lee Barron, Corral, candidate for the Senate from District 22; Ken Bradshaw, Wendell, candidate for House of Representatives in District 22A, and Earl Greenawald, Jerome County, representative for the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Terry Spencer, committee woman, said all voters from these areas are invited to attend. She says, "This is your opportunity to meet and talk with your candidate."

Stage Band Planned At College

TWIN FALLS — Stage band or jazz band will be offered each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 121 of the Fine Arts Center, reports Lawrence Curtis, new band director at College of Southern Idaho.

Curtis said there is need for more trumpet, trombone and saxophone players, especially those with jazz experience. Sessions are open to CSI students, adults of the area and advanced high school students.

The director said several concerts are planned for this year, and new arrangements of jazz selections are being prepared. Additional information is available from the CSI Music Department, 733-9554, extension 59.

New Meter Bids Asked By Council

TWIN FALLS — Bids will be opened in Twin Falls Oct. 1, for the purchase of 85 new parking meters to serve additional off-street parking lots in the downtown area.

City Manager Jean Milar was authorized by city council members Tuesday night to call for the bids. He said 40 old meters will be traded in and the new meters will be installed for the formal opening of the downtown mall later this fall.

Council members suggested the manager investigate costs of meters which might return a slug which could be redeemed by downtown merchants wishing to pay the customer's parking meter costs.

Milar and several other council members agreed they could accomplish the same purpose by buying a few rolls of nickels and giving these with each purchase.

Gen. Brooks said he could foresee no major effect on Idaho National Guard or Reserve units, unless a national emergency forced a major mobilization of the units.

"We must remember that in World War II and the Korean conflict the guard was mobilized," he added.

Meeting Set

SHOSHONE — The first fall meeting of the North Side Board of Realtors will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at Woods Cafe, Jerome. Ed Pettit will be host for the meeting.

The presentation is sponsored by the Twin Falls Area Joint Apprenticeship Council in cooperation with the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training department of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Here Ed Koester, Gooding County agent, one of the judges, looks over a large selection of top tomatoes that have been entered. Judging of produce was completed Tuesday evening.

Housing Project Slated at Burley

BY GEORGIA LAYTON, Times-News Correspondent

BURLEY — Burley city councilmen today are studying a request by two-Ogden men to relax the city's electrical code which, they claimed, would decrease by some $7,000 the cost of a proposed low income housing project estimated at $600,000.

Alma Clark, former Cassia county assessor here, and Norman Thompson, both Ogden, presented partial plans for three apartment houses to be built on the Ed Elliott property on 13th and Park Avenue, across from the school garage.

The three separate buildings would each include 48 apartments under the Federal 2-36 program, with rental subsidies for low income persons. The men told councilmen the project would cost approximately $13 per square foot to construct. They said the city wiring code would raise the construction costs.

They said six firewalls are planned in the proposed buildings and under government provisions would require installation of curbs and sidewalk.

Councilmen said they would review the wiring code with Russell Hollenbeck, wiring inspector, and asked Bill Parsons, City attorney, to also go over the code.

Verl Summer presented a petition containing about 20 signatures, asking the city to open 17th Avenue over a canal onto Highland Avenue. Parsons advised councilmen to check with the Burley Irrigation district which owns the canal.

Councilmen also took under advisement requests by Thurman Kidd and Mrs. Iva Olson for permission to keep livestock in the city, in variance with the city ordinance.

The council also took no action on a proposal from Jack Garrett, of the Idaho Gas Company to convert three police cars to propane fuel at a cost of $400 per unit for a one-year trial basis. He said the fuel would cost 13.4 cents per gallon.

Fair Board Meets With Filer Club

FILER — Members of the Twin Falls County Fair board and county commissioners were special guests of the Filer Kiwanis Club at the Tuesday luncheon meeting in the Methodist Church.

Tom Shouse, secretary-manager of the fair board and program chairman, introduced Harold Hove, president of the board, who presented T.W. Richmond, Buhl; Ben Mottern and Mike Grey, all Twin Falls, and commissioners Morris Carlson, Heber Loughmiller and William Chaney.

Hove outlined the schedule of events for the Twin Falls Fair which is in progress this week.

The Filer Kiwanis Club is in charge of the Kern Thurman Memorial fund. Thurman had been Kiwanis Club secretary for a number of years.

Guests included Stanley Melton, John Rasmussen, Andy Anderson, and Ed Marshall, and Bob Durham of the Key Club.

Idaho Guard Leaders Back Laird Order

BOISE — An order from U.S. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to "upgrade" the resources of the National Guard and Army Reserve has received enthusiastic approval by national guard officials in Boise.

The defense department said Tuesday that the order represents a major U.S. policy change. Laird ordered the secretaries of all branches of the armed forces to include in all future budgets, starting with fiscal 1972, "necessary resources" to upgrade the national guard and the reserves.

Gen. James S. Brooks, chief of staff of the Idaho Army Guard, told the Times-News today he has received a letter from Laird outlining the new policy. Gen. Brooks questioned a wire service report that the defense department had ordered the armed forces to "draw manpower from the national guard and the reserves in any future rapid military buildup," saying that this was not specified in the letter from Laird.

"However, the national guard and the reserves have always been the first line of reserve support for the military forces throughout our history. That's what our training program is all about," Gen. Brooks said.

Laird's order indicates that the guard and the reserves will be able to draw more up-to-date equipment from the armed forces for their own training, Gen. Brooks said. "We look forward to an increased degree of support, and to having more modern equipment. We hope to have quantities of equipment that we haven't had in past years."

Gen. Brooks said he could foresee no major effect on Idaho National Guard or Reserve units, unless a national emergency forced a major mobilization of the units.

"We must remember that in World War II and the Korean conflict the guard was mobilized," he added.

The Culbertson method was complicated and suffered from the inability of a weak hand to bid four no-trump, but it did fit some hands perfectly.

Josephine Culbertson's five-diamond reply to Ely's four no-trump showed the ace of diamonds, not just any one ace and Ely went to the spade slam.

He ruffed the club opening played his ace of spades and continued with ace, king and a small heart. This play couldn't hurt him if hearts broke 4-3 and allowed him to make his slam against the 4-2 break since East could not overruff dummy's eight spot.

The late Ely Culbertson was a great showman. He also was a great bridge player and a great inventor of new bidding gimmicks.

In 1932 the contract laws were amended to make the grand slam bonuses 2,250 vulnerable and 1,500 not vulnerable. Ely immediately decided that some method of ace-asking was necessary and decided to put the lazy bid of four no-trump to work. The Culbertson four no-trump was both an asking and a telling bid. It announced that the four trump bidder held two aces and the king of a bid suit and three aces. Responder would bid five no-trump with two

THAT MONTH WHEN the fewest couples get married is March... "GOD HIMSELF has ordained that the young should be stupid," wrote that peer of the Soviets, Mr. Lenin... THE LONGEST WORD in this sentence is written on one row only of the typewriter... "AREN'T MORE MEN than women apt to have curly hair?" inquires a client. No, sir, it's a toss-up... THE FIRST THREE DIGITS of your social security number designate the state wherein the number was issued.

LOVE AND WAR - That it is the woman rather than the man who generally engineers the matrimonial proposal is widely known. But how many of these women actually say the words, "Will you marry me?" Not many, not many. Only three out of 100, in fact. Or so the studies show.

CONSIDER THIS - Do you regard yourself as a diplomat? Neither am I. But here's a way to check yourself out on this matter. A diplomat ought not state anything but diplomatic remarks, true? And a diplomatic remark needs three qualities; It should be pleasant, necessary and truthful. Or if not all three, at least two. But never one. It's not enough just to be pleasant. Not enough merely to say what's necessary. Not enough only to be truthful. That's what a foreign-service told me once. Go thou now and negotiate.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q—"How many Quakers are there?" A. Maybe 196,000. There are more people in say, Jacksonville, Fla., than there are Quakers in all the world... Q. "What do the Siberians usually eat for breakfast?" A. Toast, tea and fried eggs sunny side up. Incidentally, they call those eggs the Russian word for "eyes".

WHICH CALLS to mind, the following conversation reportedly occurred in a restaurant at breakfast time between a Swedish lumberjack and a Norwegian waitress: "FUNEM." "SVFM." "FUNEX?" "SVFX." "OKMNX."... AS TO THOSE NAMES that spell the same way backwards as forwards, believe I forgot to mention Eve, Ava, Anna, Ada, Bab, Asa, Gig, Sis and Hannah.

SHORT STORY - "Four out of five interns are married, you say. But how many get divorced? I was the wife of a medical student. In my husband's medical school class of 100 men, 75 were married. Shortly after graduation, 20 were divorced. A woman may sacrifice motherhood, health, youth, all, to help her husband through school, only to have some conniving immoral nurse take him away from her. My former husband and his nurse wife live in a mansion with a heated pool and drive two enormous new cars. I leave my children with babysitters so I can work to support them." Broken Jaw Sidelines

Josephson

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Lester Josephson, starting running back for the Los Angeles Rams, suffered a broken jaw in practice Tuesday at Long Beach and will be lost for an indefinite period.

Josephson was going after a pass when defensive back Eddie Meador's shoulder pad caught him on the jaw. Josephson will undergo surgery at St. Joseph's hospital in Orange, Calif., by Dr. Thomas Biray.

Dr. Jules Rasinski said Josephson will face the problem of maintaining his weight because he will be unable to eat solid food until the fracture heals. The injury was described as very painful.

"This hurts us where we're hurt the most," coach George Allen said, recalling the rams were short of running backs.

Reshaped food

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — A consumer specialist predicts food changes, which will include oblong tomatoes, straight bananas and square pineapples.

Harold E. Neigh, an economic expert at The Pennsylvania State University, said the foods will be reshaped through improved breeding programs. Oblong tomatoes, he said, will yield more uniform slices. Straight bananas and square pineapples will make them easier to pack and ship, he said.

Japanese Eye Viet Business

TOKYO (UPI) Odd as it may seem, Japanese businessmen see a bright economic future for South Vietnam. Not only that, they are studying methods of rehabilitating the country to cut themselves in for a piece of the postwar action.

Tetsuya Senga, executive director of Keidanren, a powerful organization of Japan's industrialists, bankers and businessmen told UPI "the time to start on South Vietnam's development is now."

Early this year Senga visited South Vietnam as leader of a study group. He and his colleagues recently issued an interim report which is more specific than the report prepared by David E. Lillenthal, former director of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. In fact, Senga criticized the American report as impractical.

The Japanese feel that "American liberalism and rationalism" running through the Lillenthal report would not solve postwar problems in South Vietnam. They say the country needs firm economic and governmental guidance and supervision, backed by national consensus.

Senga indicated Japan would be happy to help South Vietnam build its economic strength if Saigon agreed to two conditions:

Stabilize the piaster and draw up a law to protect foreign investment. Such a law is being considered by the Thieu government, and re-evaluation of the piaster is being pressed by the United States.

Once those two conditions were met, the Senga group would recommend that South Vietnam be divided into six sections, each specializing in one phase of redevelopment. They are:

The Da Nang area which would be the center of agriculture, forestry and fisheries.

The Qui Nhon area, hydroelectric power.

Cam Ranh Bay, a free port to attract foreign trade.

Saligon, continuing as the capital and headquarters of industry.

The Mekong Delta, a "super" rice bowl.

And the Central Highlands, an area for extensive development.

The Japanese estimated it would take two years to repair war damage and to build up resources, four to six years to develop the country and two more before South Vietnam could participate in the development of all of Southeast Asia.

The total Japanese investment, according to Senga, would be about $2 billion. Should the Vietnamese opt for international help, rather than a Japanese-dominated plan, Senga suggested the Asian Development Bank and the World Bank.

But Senga report hinted strongly that Japan would like to be part of what develops in postwar South Vietnam.

British Ponder Arms Sales

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's Conservative party government is having second thoughts about resuming arms sales to South Africa.

Faced with threats of a mass walkout by black commonwealth countries and possible economic reprisals by many African states, it is playing for time.

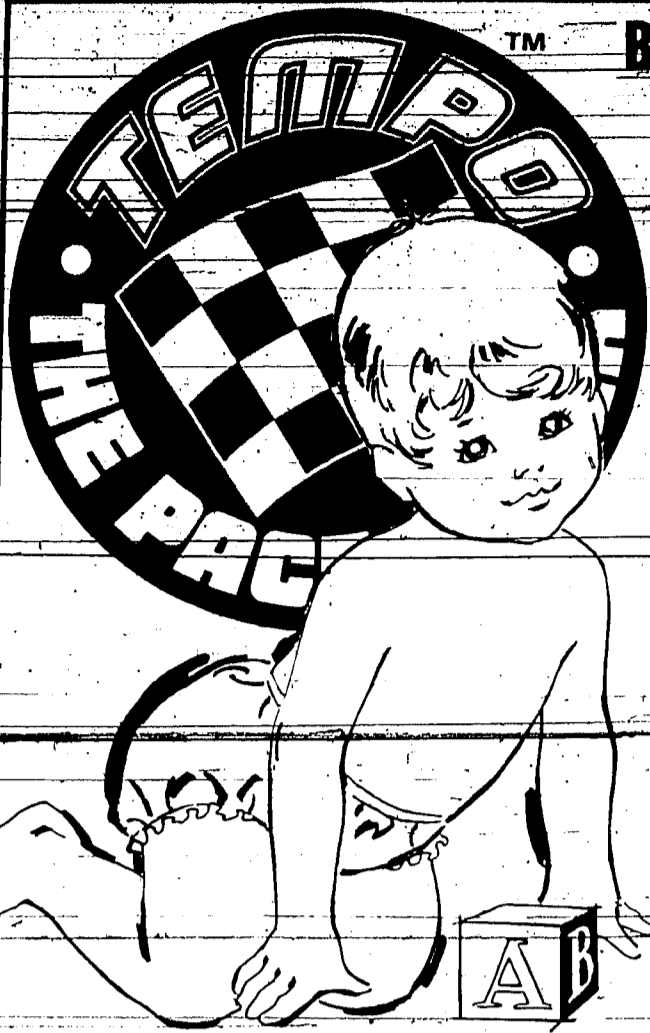

Instead of rushing into a new South African arms deal, it is postponing a decision. Officially now say none is likely before the end of the year and probably not before the commonwealth prime ministers' conference at Singapore next January.

All indications are that Prime Minister Edward Heath and Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas — Home were taken aback by the worldwide furor sparked by their South African arms plans.

Now they are playing it cool rather than risk an early showdown.

Enemy action in Oregon

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) Oregon is the only state ever fired upon by a foreign enemy during a war. This occurred early in World War II when a Japanese submarine llopped a few shells at a beach in northwest Oregon.

Women's Section

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 50 and I am 66. Leonard looks his age, but thanks to good health, exercise and proper diet, I look younger than Leonard. We are still happy together after 30 years of marriage, and nobody knows my real age. (They assume I'm about Leonard's age.) Now my husband wants to reveal my real age in order to help his beloved nephew, who is 20 and wants to marry a 30-year-old woman. The family is strongly opposed to this marriage because of the woman's age, and they're telling him the marriage is doomed to failure. Leonard wants to point to our successful marriage to show them how wrong they can be. I do not wish to disclose my real age after 30 years. I would feel embarrassed and humiliated, especially before my 68-year-old mother in law who would suddenly learn that this devoted daughter in law is practically her own age.

I love our nephew and respect his lady friend who is a fine person, but I feel the cost to me for such a revelation would be too high. What do you think? DAZED

DEAR DAZED: Feeling as you do, stick to your guns. To reveal your true age at this stage of the game probably wouldn't help your nephew's cause anyway. The family would probably say, "Yours is the exception to the rule"—which it very well could be.

DEAR ABBY: My two sisters and one sister in law have eight kids among them, which is fine. I haven't any, which is also fine, since that's the way my husband and I want it.

I've got a great marriage and do lots of things the other girls can't do because of their kids, such as volunteer work in a hospital.

The problem is, they keep trying to stick me with their kids. I've told them that in case of an emergency (I don't consider an appointment at the beauty shop an emergency) I would baby-sit for them gladly. Today one of the girls dragged her two youngest over here, knowing I was home, and she asked me to watch them for an "hour." (Her hours have turned into whole afternoons.) It so happened I had plans of my own that day, and she was plenty put out when I turned her and her kids away.

I've suggested that the girls put their kids together, and take turns sitting for each other, but my suggestion fell on deaf ears. Their excuse, "Our kids don't get along with each other."

Abby, the girls read your column faithfully. Will you please inform them that some couples choose a childless lifestyle because they don't want to be tied down with children, and certainly not with somebody else's.

HARD HEARTED HANNAH

DEAR HANNAH: You've put it very well. Now all you need is the continued toughness to stick with your lifestyle.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "NEAT," the man who shaved his chest and legs because he was tired of all those hairy ape jokes.

Tell him to keep his hairy chest and legs because that is what most women look for in men. I am a young lady and speak from experience. When a group of us girls get together and discuss men, one of the first things we mention is whether he's hairy or not. Just look around at the beach and you will notice that the most popular boys and men are the hairiest. I personally can't think of anything more romantic than running my toes thru the hair on a man's chest!

LOVES HAIR IN HOOVERVILLE

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WRONG SIDE OF THE TRACKS": From your letter I would say you are fighting a losing battle. Her family would never accept you. It would be easier to move the tracks.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

THEY REMEMBER . . .

When the bottom picture was taken, Dec. 31, 1920, after their marriage in Price, Utah, Mr. and Mrs. George Osmer Ward, Connor, observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary Friday night with a program and dance at the Elba LDS Cultural Hall.

Two-Day Meet Set By T. F. Methodists

TWIN FALLS—The Wesleyan Service Guild of the United Methodist Church will host a two-day meeting of the Snake River District Saturday and Sunday in Twin Falls.

Members from Boise, Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Rupert and Jerome will attend.

There will be a salad bar luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday following registration and a coffee hour. Roma Ricks will give a program on "Psalms."

State Lodge Supervisor Is Honored at T. F. Meet

TWIN FALLS—Mrs. Louise Bowne, Nampa, state supervisor of the Royal Neighbor Lodges, was an honored guest of the local camp at the Friday evening meeting at the IOOF temple.

Mrs. Bowne was presented to Oracle Josephine Wurst by Lillian Armga, marshal pro tem. Mrs. Wurst introduced her to the camp and she was given the grand honors and seated.

Mrs. Bowne presented diamond-studded pins to two members, Mrs. Wurst and Mildred Shobe, recorder, for obtaining new members for the lodge. A third pin will be given to Mrs. Joe Wurst, Bellevue, who became a member of the Hailey Camp.

Mrs. Vera Shobe was accepted as a new member of the local camp and will receive a pin. She will be initiated at a future meeting.

Serving as pro tem officers were Mrs. Armga, Mrs. Sue Pratt and Mrs. Dena Walker. Mrs. Armga served refreshments.

Program, Dance Mark Golden Year

CONNOR—Mr. and Mrs. George Osmer Ward, Connor, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Friday evening with a dance and general store business before the program at the Elba LDS Cultural Hall.

Music was furnished by the Idaho Old Time Fiddlers and the program was presented by the couple's children and grandchildren.

Their children are Mrs. Nelson (Eloise) Moon, Riverside, Calif.; Mrs. Richard (Ona Dell) Lines, Los Angeles, Calif.; George Osmer Ward Jr., Connell, Wash.; Mrs. Isabel Matthews, Salt Lake City; Gale R. Ward, Pocatello, and Terry

Dennis Ward, Clearfield, Utah. They have 25 grandchildren, and two great-granddaughters. Mr. Ward began in the general store business before he left for three years duty during World War I. He has been in similar businesses since that time, operating seven general merchandise stores in Malta, Sublett and Connor.

According to his friends, the country storekeeper has been the salvation of many people over the past 50 years. Whenever customers didn't have the means to buy food, Mr. Ward was always there to lend a helping hand. He has taken everything from fence posts to chickens in exchange for groceries.

Mrs. Ward, the former Florence Winder, Desert Lake, Utah, taught school at Desert Lake in 1919 and at Hutton, Utah, in 1920. They were married Dec. 31, 1920, at Price, Utah, and had the marriage solemnized at the Logan LDS Temple June 1, 1960. All six of their children have been married in the temple.

Mrs. Ward served 11 years as a 4-H leader and represented Cassia County as a leader at Moscow and Logan. Mr. and Mrs. Ward have served in the church, Mr. Ward as a ward and home teacher and Mrs. Ward eight years as a member of the Raft River Stake Relief Society board.

She has taught Primary and Sunday School.

Mrs. Ward has not only led 4-H youngsters to many blue ribbons at the fairs, she has taken home blue ribbon awards for her canning entries many times. She has assisted her husband at the store, racking up 50 years of clerking and pumping gas.

Return To States Scheduled

SHOSHONE—Mr. and Mrs. John Adkins have notified their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Adkins, Shoshone, and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Schaffler, Twin Falls, that they will be back in the states soon, to resume his work at Ann Arbor, University of Michigan. He will be completing his dissertation in qualifying for a Ph.D. in political science.

They are presently touring cities in Indonesia and visiting universities there, having left Manila and the Philippines. They will arrive in Rome Oct. 5.

Lesson Given

FILER—Mrs. Ardean Lang presented a lesson on good grooming to Filer Civic Club and Home Extension members Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Don Lieberman.

Mrs. Russell Sheridan Jr. gave a report on the welfare program in Twin Falls County. Mrs. Dee Hepworth presented sketches on the work and life of Joan Walsh Anglund, writer and illustrator of children's books.

Mrs. Noel Ruhter was welcomed as a guest and later joined the club. Mrs. Stanley Melton received a prize.

Mrs. Lang is hostess for the Oct. 1 meeting.

Faculty Wives Host Social

TWIN FALLS—Wives of new teachers in the Twin Falls school district were guests of the Faculty Wives at a get-acquainted coffee hour Saturday. Mrs. Ernest Ragland hosted the event in her home, assisted by Mrs. George Walton and Mrs. Carl Snow.

Miniature banner name tags helped to identify the school each wife represented. New faculty wives present included Mrs. Tony Jensen, whose husband is a teacher and coach at O'Leary Junior High School; Mrs. Bradford Hickerson, whose husband teaches drama at Twin Falls High School, and Mrs. Steven Sans, whose husband teaches math at the high school.

Officers selected to serve include Mrs. Walton, president; Mrs. Norman Wiseman, general social chairman; Mrs. Paul Austin, secretary; Mrs. Snow, historian and reporter. Committees were named to work with Mrs. Wiseman for future meetings and socials.

It's a year for embroidery, in everything from clothes to home furnishings. You'll see it trimming hems, waists, collars, hosiery, sleeves, or forming the over-all pattern on fabric. For the home, watch for embroidered wallpaper, vinyl, leather, and upholstery fabrics.
