Hospital Project Starts Monday

TWIN FALLS — Work on a $204,000 remodeling project will begin Monday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, according to an agreement reached Tuesday afternoon between hospital officials and contractors. Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator, said the project will include air conditioning of patient rooms, a new pathological incinerator and linen chute.

Home Plumbing and Heating of Twin Falls, low bidder on the project, will begin outside work next week, Mrs. Oliver said. Time specified on the contract is 220 working days, but Mrs. Oliver said progress will depend on what rate rooms can be made available to workers. She said it is hoped the project will be complete in time for next summer.

Attending the meeting were Jack Threlkeld of Home Plumbing and Heating; Sid Graves, Twin Falls, hospital board chairman; Allen Quinlery of Cline, Smull, Hamill, Shaw and Associates, Boise architects, and Don Wisdom, consulting mechanical engineer of Engineers, Inc., Boise.

REPLICA of the 60 foot Viking ship Gokstad is boarded by Gordon Jennens, 47, of Kelowna, B. C., and his daughter, Julie. The craft is on display at a shopping center at Olympia, Wash.

Jennens, a shipbuilder, estimates he has invested $103,000 and 23,000 man hours in building the ship. He plans to cross the Atlantic Ocean in it in 1971. (UPI)

Horse Falls, Hurts Girl

KIMBERLY — A 13-year-old Kimberly girl injured Tuesday afternoon when a horse fell on her is reported in good condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Sheriff's officers said Alice Marie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Jones, Kimberly, and a friend were riding horses near Kimberly when the accident occurred.

They said Miss Jones' horse stepped into a wet soft, newly filled trench and threw her off and then fell on top of her. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Shoshone Teachers Presented

SHOSHONE — Teachers in the Shoshone school system were honored at a reception Monday at the Lincoln school cafeteria.

School board members introduced were E. I. Terry, chairman; Herbert Forbes and Waldo Jones. The high school and grade school teaching staff of teachers present was introduced along with PTA board members.

Rev. Wesley Johnson is the first vice president of the PTA with Carl Kinney, second vice president; Mrs. Helen Giles, secretary, and Mrs. Harold Huyser, treasurer.

Mrs. Clarence Magoffin, chairman of the room representatives, was in charge of refreshments.

First Time
The first time the House of Representatives elected a president as a result of a tie in the Electoral College was in 1800. The House, on the 36th ballot, elected Thomas Jefferson president and the second choice, Aaron Burr, became vice-president.

The U.S. Military Academy at West Point opened July 1, 1802.

accident at Blue Lakes Boulevard North and Pole Line Road north of Twin Falls.

Sheriff's officers said James Patrick Ellis, 22, Jerome, was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital by ambulance. He was treated and released.

The accident occurred as Ellis was traveling north on Blue Lakes and a south-bound pickup truck driven by Wiley Monson, Twin Falls, apparently made a left turn in front of him.

Truck Hits Calf, Flips At Burley

BURLEY — A 250-pound calf owned by Wayne Beck of Burley was the only casualty when it was struck by a pickup truck driven by Teresa Jensen, 22, of Burley, Monday afternoon on a county road southwest of Burley.

Cassia County sheriff's deputies said the driver swerved to miss the animal, but struck it and injured it, then lost control. The pickup went off the road, sheared off a power pole, rolled over and came to rest on its top.

Miss Jensen was not injured, but the calf had to be destroyed, deputies said. The vehicle was heavily damaged.

Jobless Increase Forecast

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) —Facing a discontented audience of steelworkers angered by the administration's economic policies, U.S. Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson said Tuesday unemployment may go up before it turns down.

However, he said, "while it may go up a trifle higher before it turns down, it will turn down."

He said it was "traditional for employment pickup to lag when the economy was recovering from a dip."

Hodgson addressed the United Steelworkers of America (USW) convention, at which 3,500 delegates were told for the third consecutive day by other speakers that the administration was to blame for tight money, growing inflation, reduced buying power and resulting unemployment.

Although the delegates were silent through most of Hodgson's speech, some shouted, "No! No!" when he asked, "Has the administration been fair to organized labor?" Some booed when he contended the administration never had "twisted labor's arm in wage negotiations."

Urged To "Cool It" Hodgson sought to "cool it" by telling the workers that "cool it" was what President Nixon has done in the areas of inflation, the Vietnam War, and violence on campuses and in the streets.

He said "the other side of the coin" was a moderate rise in unemployment to 5.1 per cent.

Labor speakers, including Steelworkers President I. W. Abel, attacked the administration, particularly in the areas of inflation and unemployment. Abel contended that present unemployment actually is 5.6 per cent and that 30 per cent of black teenagers are out of work.

Hodgson sought to paint a brighter picture. He said less than three per cent of heads of households were out of work, real earnings were up for the fourth straight month, the consumer price index rise has been cut by two-thirds, and the wholesale price index has declined.

American mint growers farm 76,600 acres of peppermint and 27,000 of spearmint, says the National Geographic.

GOV. CLAUDE KIRK talks on telephone after he rolled up a run-off primary victory over opponent Jack Eckert to win the Republican nomination for governor of Florida. (UPI)

Mother Decries Therapy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sitting less than 15 feet from two child psychiatrists who use drugs on school children for "behavior modification," a tearful mother told how she fought three years to keep her children from the treatment.

Mrs. Daniel H. Youngs, Indianapolis, Ind., spoke slowly, dabbing at her eyes and nose from time to time, as she told a congressional committee Tuesday of alleged harassment in Little Rock, Ark.

She told of the shock when the principal of the Hardin Bales school took a look at her daughter's report card and announced she had minimal brain dysfunction and needed the help of drugs prescribed by the University of Arkansas Medical Center for Child Study.

She said there was three years of pressure to put both of her children in such a program and "the final blow" when her son came home hysterical after being confined in a cardboard box to prevent him from being so easily distracted in class.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., chairman of a special House subcommittee on the right to privacy, said Mrs. Youngs' experience was indicative of many other families in many other communities. We have stacks of letters that tell of similar problems.

U.S. Hostages Freed

By United Press International The International Red Cross announced Tuesday night that Arab guerrillas have freed the six remaining air hijack hostages and all are now safe in Red Cross hands. The turnover came amid new Middle East tension following the death of Egyptian President Abdel Tamal Nasser.

In Washington, the House of Representatives, reflecting its "grave concern" with Russia's growing involvement in the Arab world, approved blank check authority for President Nixon to supply Israel whatever arms it may need short of nuclear weapons.

The House members endorsed a finding that the Soviet role in the Middle East presented a "clear and present danger to world peace" and approved sales to Israel of planes, missile tanks howitzers armored carriers or other ground weapons.

A Red Cross statement said news of the freeing of the six hostages—all Americans—was sent to its headquarters in Geneva by the International Red Cross delegation in the Jordanian capital of Amman.

Red Cross officials said all six hostages were safe and being cared for by the delegation in Amman. They said arrangements would be made for them to leave Jordan as soon as possible.

The last six hostages were identified by a TWA spokesman as Gerald Berkowitz, a college professor from New York City, Abraham and Yael Harari-Rafou, both rabbis of Brooklyn, N.Y.; John Hollingsworth, a member of the U.S. embassy staff in Algiers, and R. N. Schwartz and J. L. Woods, both U.S. military personnel who had been in Bangkok, Thailand.

All had been passengers on a TWA Boeing 707 jetliner hijacked Sept. 6 while enroute from Tel Aviv to New York.

A group of 32 other Americans, held hostage for nearly three weeks by Arab guerrillas who hijacked three airliners and flew them to Jordan; were freed earlier and returned to New York by air Monday night.

The guerrillas had demanded the freeing and return of seven Arab commands jailed in West Germany, Switzerland and Britain in exchange for the airline hostages.

The Red Cross said it had no information concerning the release of the seven guerrillas.

Manson's Lawyer Called 'Catfish'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The state witness, a bit part cowboy movie actor, called Charles Manson's lawyer a "big catfish."

The lawyer called the witness a publicity-seeking fabricator.

The district attorney called the lawyer a liar.

The judge told them to shut up.

It was Perry Mason day Tuesday at the Sharon Tate murder trial with much histrionics, sound and fury signifying very little.

Juan Flynn, a 6-foot-5 ranch hand from Panama, said he became afraid of five-foot Manson after he realized the hippie cult leader was telling the truth when he allegedly boasted that he was behind the seven Tate-LaBianca murders.

Manson, 35, and three young women codefendants are on trial for the August, 1969 killings of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons.

Under cross-examination by Manson's attorney, Irving Kanarek, Flynn said he carried a shotgun or a "long stick" around a ranch hideout in Death Valley because he was afraid the Manson "family" would do him in with their knives.

Flynn described one occasion when Manson held a knife at his throat at the Spahn ranch and told him "I'm the one who is doing all those Tate-LaBianca killings."

"What did you say?" asked Kanarek.

"I didn't say anything. I sort of croaked like a rooster. Mostly I listened."

Kanarek asked Flynn why he didn't tell police about the admission by Manson.

"I didn't want to believe him," Flynn said.

"I suggest you fabricated the whole story, that no such incident ever occurred," said Kanarek.

Building Entrance Delayed

TWIN FALLS — A few minor items which remain to be completed on the College of Southern Idaho's physical education building has delayed occupancy of the structure, Dr. James L. Taylor said Tuesday.
 It had been expected classes would begin in the building on Monday, Taylor said, but next Monday is the new occupancy date set by the college.
 The substantial completion date was reset for today, Taylor said. He said classes probably could have begun in the building on schedule this week, but it was determined the contractors could operate more effectively if the building remained empty.
 Taylor said sufficient instructional equipment will be in the building by Monday so that classes can begin then.

 He said completion of the park is about two weeks away. Construction began May 19.
 The park features all underground utilities as well as country living for mobile home dwellers.

Church Planning Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the subcommittee on western hemisphere affairs, said Monday he would hold hearings on reported construction of a Soviet submarine base in Cuba.

Church told colleagues in the Senate the briefing, which would be scheduled as soon as arrangements are made, would be to "obtain all available facts concerning the reported construction of the possible Soviet submarine base at Cienfuegos Bay on Cuba's southern coast." Church recalled the Cuban missile crisis of 1962, which he said "brought the world closer than it has ever been, before or since, to a nuclear holocaust." He said because of that incident he would ask the State Department, the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency to testify in executive session with the request that a full disclosure be made of all intelligence information in possession of the government.

"If necessary, we must act in timely fashion."

Shoshone Cleanup Boosted

SHOSHONE — National Cleanup week got a real boost this week when the Bureau of Land Management took the lead in directing cleanup at the Shoshone city dump, at an area near Magic Reservoir another at Timmerman Hill and the last set for the Carey area.

Eldon Beus, chief of divisions operations, who headed the project for the BLM said the work at Shoshone dump yard Monday morning was going extremely well, with even the wind cooperating and blowing the smoke away from the highway area.

The county highway department, with George Depew commissioner in charge, provided two trucks and men, the bureau had two fire tankers and crews, three cats and trucks and the city of Shoshone had men and equipment there, a total of 12 men working.

From Shoshone dump yards, they will go to Magic where they will dig a new camp site dump and cover up one now existing, and with the assistance from the Fish and Game department there, hope to make that area more desirable, Beus said.

The pile of debris on the east side of Highway 93 at Timmerman hill area, between Shoshone and Bellevue, will be buried and a trenched out area made. The cleanup at Carey will be mostly in the dump area also.

In each area local assistance is expected. Beus said, with commissioners of Blaine county, John Fox, at Timmerman Hill area and Roy Sweet, Carey, in charge of securing the help needed to go with the government agencies.

Work is expected to consume the entire week, Beus said Monday.

Panel Probing Grade School Drug Programs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators opened a campaign Tuesday to determine how deeply the government is involved in controversial programs where grammar school children have been treated with drugs to overcome learning disabilities.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., chairman of a four-month "privacy inquiry," scheduled public hearings beginning Tues. on the use of amphetamines for elementary school children.

Amphetamines, called "speed" by drug abusers because they pack such a kick, are used medically to treat hyperactive children and to some extent for weight reduction.

Gallagher has expressed deep concern over possible implications of the school drug programs, specifically their impact on the credibility of the national fight against narcotics abuse "and the potential for inducing conformity, rather than creativity, in the classroom."

The subcommittee wants to know under what guidelines drugs are prescribed for young children and if there are followups to determine the long-range effect, he said.

It also is concerned, he added, about possible "harassment of parents by school officials to induce them to permit their children to have the recommended drugs."

Record Reviews

Five Bridges: The Nice (Mercury SR 61295)

The Nice, an English rock group with unlimited enthusiasm for exploring unknown recesses of music, have done it again in their latest album:

This time, they're into classical rock. The last album by the group explored a fusion of jazz and rock.

There are a lot of very good moments, in this new album, but there are some extremely tasteless ones as well.

Three quarters of the way into a brilliant exploration of Sibelius' "Karelia Suite," the group engages in some utterly senseless feedback nonsense which ruins the piece. It would have been a brilliant tour de force otherwise.

The album is remarkable:

most of it was recorded live with the Sinfonia of London orchestra, conducted by Joseph Eger, who helped arrange the pieces for orchestra and rock group.

Keith Emerson of The Nice is featured on keyboards, and as coarranger with Eger. He is an excellently talented musician. The program features "The Five Bridges Suite" by Emerson, a neo-classical composition which alternates from brilliant to boorish.

Also on the bill is Sibelius' "Karelia Suite" Intermezzo; Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 3 third movement, a couplet of Dylan's "Country Pie" and Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 8, and "One of the People," another Emerson tune. Four stars.

Most Taxpayers Beat Deadline

TWIN FALLS — Collections of 1969 real property taxes in Twin Falls County reached 98.71 per cent of the total amount due by the deadline, and the local county treasurer's office is now open to receive delinquent payments.

Ruth K. Jones, Twin Falls county treasurer, said this per cent is an excellent record for the local taxpayers and compares with 97.90 at deadline last year.

The total tax charge in the county for 1969 was $5,043,639.84 of which $65,125.79 was outstanding as of the Aug. 1 payment deadline. Books have been balanced and disbursements of tax money collected have been made to all taxing units of the county. In addition to outstanding tax bills for 1969, the county treasurer's office is also accepting delinquent payments for previous years. The 1967 outstanding taxes still amount to $7,619.74 and the 1968 bills total $19,267.00.

After three years of delinquency, the county treasurer is required by law to take tax deeds in the name of the county for those taxes still due.

Mrs. Jones said warnings have been issued on the delinquent 1967 taxes and were in the mail Aug. 29. Tax books are now open and will remain open at the treasurer's office

Crews Help on Coast

TWIN FALLS — Three special fire fighting crews from the Twin Falls area are in southern California assisting on late summer fires which are raging out of control there.

Darrell Smith, fire dispatcher for the Sawtooth National Forest, said a total of 65 men left Twin Falls Saturday for California.

They include the Sawtooth Interregional fire crew and the Pan-Am crew and Blue Jay Crew, both of Twin Falls.

Smith said only about 15 men are left attached to the Interregional crew, but that force was brought up to 20 with men from the Boise and Payette National Forests.

Sabry Key to UAR Power Reshuffle

LONDON (UPI)—Aly Sabry, the mystery man of Egyptian politics, could well be the man to watch in the power struggle to follow the death of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The 50-year-old one-time wing commander, prime minister and vice president, was for years Nasser's confidant and a power behind the scenes. But only recently did he reappear in a new role of influence in Egyptian politics.

Sabry accompanied Nasser on his last trip to Moscow early this summer. It was at this conference the Soviets offered Cairo new sophisticated weapons in return for Egyptian acceptance of America's Middle East peace plan.

Diplomatic sources said it was Sabry the Kremlin quietly has been cultivating for some time past. He may be the man Moscow would like to deal with in the trying months to come, and there was little doubt the Soviets—with all their military and economic aid to Egypt—would have something to say in the delicate question of who will replace Nasser.

Sabry was at his side when Nasser took power in Egypt nearly two decades ago; Sabry participated in many international conferences in his capacity as minister for presidential affairs.

Some observers believed Egyptian policies for a long time after the seizure of power by Nasser have been influenced by Sabry's shadowy figure, acting as the guiding force behind the president.

There was a substantial list of hopefuls but such was the charisma and overpowering prestige of President Gamal Abdel Nasser that no potential successor ever has been able to stake a secure claim to the crown.

Only one thing appears certain: the Egyptian army will have a say in who replaces Nasser, who died of a heart attack Monday at 52. In fact, some observers believe it will be the deciding factor.

While there was no lack of claimants for the vacant crown, an examination of possible heirs might categorize them as executives rather than leaders.

Neither pro-soviet ex-premier Aly Sabry and his Arab Socialist Union (ASU) supporters on the left, nor such "moderate" rightwingers as Al-thram editor Mohamed Hassanin, Heikal or philosopher-politician Zakariah Mohieuddin is thought to have the popular appeal to make an imprint such as Nasser.

AL FATEH MOSQUE near the home of United Arab Republic President Nasser's home, where he will be buried Thursday, will be renamed "Gamal Abdel Nasser" in honor of the late Egyptian chief executive. (UPI)

Death Hits Peace Hope

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's death came as a major blow to the Nixon administration, which considered him the top stabilizing influence in an Arab world torn by fractious dissension and preoccupied by the conflict with Israel.

Prospects for resumption of the Israeli-Arab peace negotiations at the United Nations appear dim indeed. Nasser was the only Arab leader regarded here as strong enough to make the compromises necessary for a peace settlement without being destroyed by militant Arab elements who opposed any negotiations with Israel.

The first concern of all Mideast experts here was over the possibility of increased turmoil within an Arab world already split by feuding factions and growing radical splinter groups.

The second greatest fear concerned the possibility that Egypt, under new leadership, might abandon the relatively cautious course Nasser had been pursuing, despite the sometimes inflammatory rhetoric he apparently found necessary to placate elements of the Arab community.

The third great question concerned the fate of the Israeli-Arab negotiations which had barely begun at the United Nations when they were interrupted by Israel's charges that Egypt, with the backing of Moscow repeatedly had violated the Aug. 7 cease-fire agreement by moving missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

There was considerable speculation here as to what effect Nasser's death would have on the Soviet program of Middle East penetration. Nasser, dependent on the Soviet Union for his military equipment, had permitted some 12,000 Russians to enter the country to man the advance SAM3 anti-aircraft missiles and to fly 100 of the MiG jet fighters in his air force.

Speculation concerning who might eventually emerge as Egypt's leader was considered to be somewhat fruitless at this point, since there was no solid indication of the various factors at work in the situation which might eventually produce new authority.

Sales of beer or whisky are illegal in 107 of Texas 254 counties.

Scott Hopes For Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today a peace settlement in Vietnam was "in sight."

He predicted that President Nixon may announce a speed-up of U.S. troop withdrawals in a mid-October address to the nation.

Scott made public excerpts of a speech he plans to make tonight in Harrisburg, Pa. The excerpts did not contain a specific forecast of an end to the war, but Scott's office, in releasing portions of the speech, said "Scott predicted an honorable and final end to the conflict in Vietnam was 'in sight.'"

The press release said Scott also would predict that Nixon "could very possibly be announcing a further accelerated schedule of troop withdrawals."

Scott said he had not consulted with the White House about the speech and was basing it on a "personal hunch—a personal opinion."

Hair Berets

Are Dangerous

WASHINGTON D.C.—Following tests that in several cases have shown women's and girls' chenille berets to be dangerously flammable, the Federal Trade Commission today issued a general warning about the potential hazards of this type product.

The flammable berets have generally been composed of varying percentages of acrylic, rayon, and cotton, although, in one instance, the fiber content was labeled acrylic, rayon, and nylon, and in another, rayon and cotton. The label on one beret stated its contents as wool, rayon, and cotton, but the fiber content tests indicated acrylic, rayon, and cotton. The berets come in a wide variety of colors; some have a pompon and are designed in such a manner that they can either be worn on the top of the head or pulled down in such a manner that they may cover parts of the ears, forehead and neck as well as the hair.

DEAR ABBY: You frequently recommend psychiatric help, but you never say how to get a person to see a psychiatrist, and that's our problem.

A member of our family needs psychiatric help, our family physician told us so! but if we just mention the word "psychiatrist" she tears the place apart, saying she isn't "crazy." Do you think we could prevail upon a psychiatrist to come to the house and pretend to be just a "friend"—or a regular doctor? That way he could observe the patient, and maybe win her confidence, and then later on treat her? If she knew he was a psychiatrist, she wouldn't even stay in the same room with him.

She likes and trusts the family physician, but HE says he can't do any more for her, she needs a psychiatrist. She refuses to go. Any suggestions?

MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

DEAR MEMBER: No reputable psychiatrist would permit himself to be introduced to a patient as a "friend" or even a "regular doctor." When the patient learns that the psychiatrist was part of a plan to trick her, she will lose all confidence in him and I wouldn't blame her. Ask the family physician, whom she likes and trusts, to try to persuade her to see a psychiatrist. Honesty is still the best policy.

DEAR ABBY: Can you please tell me where the custom of kissing a lady's hand originated? And why? S C

DEAR S. C.: It originated in France. A person has to start somewhere, and I suppose that's as good a place as any.

DEAR ABBY: People have written to say they were offended because they had received gifts which were obviously "used," and they accused the giver of trying to save money.

Whenever I have occasion to give a gift to a cherished friend, I first try to find something among my possessions that I have owned and loved (a small piece of jewelry, a rare old book, a piece of antique silver or china). I am not trying to save money. I merely want to give something of "mine" which I hope will be considered more precious than a newly purchased item.

Many of the recipients have told me they were deeply touched by such a gift. And I sincerely hope that no one thought me "cheap" or shabby.

YOUR HIGGANUM CORRESPONDENT

DEAR CORRESPONDENT: I agree. A cherished item from one's own personal collection of treasures makes a far more precious gift than a newly purchased item. But there are those materialistic dolts around who regard an antique as a white elephant—whose giver is trying to get off for "peanuts."

DEAR ABBY: A widower wrote in to say that he had arranged for a little pleasure with a female companion at a local hotel, and was very much surprised when the daughter of a friend knocked on his door. I would like to ask the gentleman, "Whose daughter did you expect?" D. D.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Beauty Hint

If dark circles, shadows and facial imperfections are marring your total look of fashion, Max Factor suggests the following few instant beauty tricks — all accomplished with the remarkably versatile cover-up and highlighter, Erace White.

Cover shadows and brighten the eyes by stroking Erace White lightly under the eye area and blending it in to subtle radiance. Lightly stroke Erace White directly beneath the eyebrows to highlight the bone structure and bring out deeply recessed eyes. To lighten shadows elsewhere on the face, stroke it very lightly into deep creases.

To make a small chin more prominent, apply the contourer to the front of the chin. Create the appearance of a narrower nose by running a strip of Erace White down the center of the nose and blend evenly.

When children discover a playmate wets the bed—the result can be merciless teasing. And serious psychological problems. Even the entire family can be affected. The cost and work of taking care of a bed-wetting child can cause friction and irritability among parents. Walter C. Alvarez, M.D., Prof. Emeritus, Mayo Clinic, says: "Bedwetting... is hard on the unhappy child and on the mother... even if his parents do not scold him, he cannot help feeling that he is a terrible nuisance and a disgrace to the family." But now bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Safely. Permanently. Pacific International has ended bedwetting for tens of thousands of children and adults from ages 4 to 57 in the past two decades. For full free information without obligation, mail coupon. A 36-24-36 FIGURE, wrapped in a bra-less knit top, was the winning combination recently for Debbie Corwith, 20, Lake Forest, Ill., who was named Butler University's "Miss Watermelon Bust" of 1970. The 'beauty' contest is the traditional highlight of a day of campus tomfoolery centered around watermelons. Miss Corwith, a sophomore psychology major, chose to go bra-less "so I could compete on my own talents. Some of the other girls used padding."

Homecoming Scheduled By Wendell Student Council

WENDELL — The rules for the homecoming game which is scheduled Friday with Gooding was announced today by the 12 member student council, under the direction of Willard Spalding, adviser and high school principal.

There will be the usual class floats, skits and yell competition between classes. All contests will be judged by persons nominated by the student council and be classified in four divisions, floats, skits, yells and hall decorations.

All competition will be judged separately on originality, workmanship, colorfulness, neatness, organization and adherence to theme.

The student council will sponsor the homecoming dance. All football players from the graduating classes from 1950-60 will be sent free passes to the game.

Student council members will act as escorts and all guests will be introduced during the halftime program.

The evening festivities will begin with a bonfire and pep assembly, sponsored by the freshman class.

Pat Nixon Includes Pants in Wardrobe

ROME (UPI)—First Lady Pat Nixon brought a new wardrobe of 25 outfits — including a pants suit — on her five-nation tour Sunday, but started out wearing a muted violet belted tweed shirt by Christian Dior.

Although Mrs. Nixon has never been seen in public in a pants suit, her traveling wardrobe included navy blue slacks with a white jacket.

Adele Simpson edged out all other designers by creating 10 of Mrs. Nixon's new costumes, but the First Lady somewhat abandoned her preference for U.S. designers by selecting two of Dior's creations for her trip with the President.

Mrs. Nixon had both the French designer's midi length skirts shortened to just below the knee, before she left Washington. One of her last chores in Washington was a trip to Elizabeth Arden's to get her hair done so she would look her best.

One of the costumes Mrs. Nixon packed Saturday night was an all black ensemble she planned to wear Monday when she accompanies the President to an audience with Pope Paul VI. It will be Mrs. Nixon's first audience with Pope Paul. Nixon met him in February, 1969.

Mrs. Nixon planned to hold two news conferences during the trip, one in Rome and one in Belgrade. In Rome — Mrs. Nixon will stay there while the President spends two days viewing 6th Fleet maneuvers — she plans to visit a boys' town for orphans and tour a literacy center.

In Belgrade, where the Nixons will host their only state dinner of the trip, for President Tito and his wife Jovanka, Mrs. Nixon also scheduled a tour of a youth center. On the menu for that dinner is the American favorite, roast beef.

Mrs. Nixon has indicated the most sentimental part of the trip will be in Ireland. In addition to being entertained by President Eamon de Valera in a 13th century Dublin castle, Mrs. Nixon will look up members of the Ryan clan.

That is her father's side of the family and many members still live in County Mayo.

Ancient Drug Has Revival

CHEVY CHASE Md. (UPI) —Lithium, an ancient drug that may have been used as long ago as the 5th century, shows promise of being an effective treatment for certain kinds of mental illness.

"The drug is the most specific agent available for treating the manic phase of manic-depressive psychosis," said Dr. Bertram Brown, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, "and maintenance lithium therapy may protect some patients from recurring attacks of both mania and depression."

A TREAT THAT can be reshaped and redecorated to suit many different occasions is this Jolly Time Pop Corn Cake. It is such a simple recipe, it encourages the busy homemaker to try it. Here's all you do: Melt one stick butter or margarine and one 10-ounce package small marshmallows in double boiler. Add vanilla and food coloring if desired. Thoroughly mix this syrup with five quarts popped Jolly Time Pop Corn. Press into greased angel food cake pan and refrigerate overnight. Holiday decorating is easy. Most decorations will stick on with toothpicks. Other shaped cakes may be made with cupcake pans, animal shape pans and layer cake pans.

GOP for Andrus Would 'Redirect' Republicans

BOISE (UPI)—The coordinator for the "Republicans for Andrus" committee said today the group was formed not to reject the Republican party but to "get the grand old party back on course."

James W. Tompkins, Boise, told a news conference the loosely-knit organization supporting Democratic gubernatorial candidate Cecil Andrus believed "the well-being of the state supercedes all party loyalty. The issues at stake are too momentous to be ignored and too urgent to be postponed in deference to political expediency."

When asked how he could be identified as a Republican, Tompkins said he had held no position in the Republican Party.

But John Squires, Pocatello, said he served as a Republican legislator in the House of Representatives in the 1966 session and had been campaign manager in eastern Idaho for Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, during the senator's first campaign.

Norm Bishop, Boise, treasurer of the committee, said prior to moving to Idaho five years ago he had been a registered Republican in Oregon and said he could not "think of one democrat that I've voted for in the past 20 years."

"It's a little difficult in this state because you don't register," Bishop said, when asked about charges those on the committee were not really Republicans. "I think the people interested in this would definitely vote Republican under normal circumstances."

H. Fred Garrett, Boise, field representative for the committee, said he was head of a state department—the Department of Employment) for many years and was "prominently identified as a Republican." He said he held membership in the national Republican party and had worked on campaigns for Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, and for President Nixon.

Tompkins' statement said when the idea of "Republicans for Andrus" was first formed some supporting the organization received "certain harassing phone calls and it seemed to us it was indicative of the fact there was some fear on the part of those who had reason to suppress our efforts."

Nixon Sees Fuel Shortages

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration said today that a serious fuel shortage may occur in parts of the nation during the coming winter, and said no area was immune from the threat.

A government study of the expected fuel needs in the winter months showed "a potential shortage in the supplies of natural gas, residual fuel oil and bituminous coal," officials said in a statement.

The administration said it was taking several steps toward alleviating the shortage, including relaxation of quotas to allow doubling of home heating oil imports from Canada and other hemisphere neighbors during the first quarter of next year, to a rate of 80,000 barrels a day.

The statement was issued by Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and George A. Lincoln, director of the federal Office of Emergency Preparedness.

The officials urged the petroleum industry and the railroads to increase supplies of fuels "in the light of the national need."

Mendel Rivers Urges Cuba Sub Base Action

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. L. Mendel Rivers says he has no doubt the Soviets are building a nuclear submarine base in Cuba, and President Nixon should take prompt action—military if need be—to stop it.

Rivers' comment on the base, which the government only has said it believes the Soviets may be constructing, came as two congressional subcommittees announced plans to hold hearings on the matter.

The South Carolina Democrat, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, told the House Monday:

"The time is now to do something about this. I have no doubt that the Soviets are now building a missile-launching nuclear submarine base in Cuba. We as a nation and a free people can not ignore or accept this latest military action of the Soviet Union.

"We cannot live with this new Soviet threat at our very doorstep," he added. "We cannot permit the cities of the eastern seaboard to become hostages of the Soviet Union. We must take every diplomatic, and if necessary military, step to excise this cancer from the body of the Western Hemisphere."

Rivers told newsmen any specific action in the case was up to the President.

Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., chairman of the House subcommittee on inter-American affairs, said "I have called my subcommittee to meet in an urgent executive (secret) session." He said no date had been set for the meeting.

"I urge the President to strengthen our military capability in the Caribbean," Fascell added. "We must respond immediately to this new Soviet threat from Cuba."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said he was arranging a closed hearing of his subcommittee on Western Hemisphere affairs "because of mounting concern that shipping and construction work in this area may have a military purpose involving the Russians."

Lewiston Council OKs Recall Vote

LEWISTON (UPI)—The Lewiston City Council Monday night voted to hold a recall election that could lose its members their positions.

The date for the election was set at Dec. 1, the last day the council could hold the election under a ruling handed down by Judge James G. Towles Sept. 16. The council had been ordered by Towles to set the election date by Oct. 1.

The election was ordered by Towles as a result of a suit filed last spring by the Orchards Community Projects, a group which fought for two years to keep the Lewiston Orchards area from being annexed by the city.

The city annexed the largely residential area with its population of about 10,000 last December and the OCP filed suit contesting the annexation and began collecting petition signatures calling for the recall election. The petitions were filed with the council in March.

The council delayed any action on the petitions contending if the annexation of the Orchards area was thrown out then the Orchards residents would not be city residents and therefore the petitions would be invalid.

However, in July Towles, a visiting judge from Wallace, gave a memorandum decision upholding the annexation and the recall. He formalized the decision Sept. 16.

At the council meeting Monday night Mayor Paul Wise termed the recall election as "somewhat of a crime since three members offered to resign."

'Sesame Street' Day Camps Flourish in New York City

NEW YORK (UPI)—An experiment in the early education of preschool children by teenagers took the form of Sesame Street Day Camps in New York City.

The experiment set out to prepare youngsters for public schools and to improve attitudes and academic skills of teachers.

Some 1,500 pre-schoolers of all races and 240 teenage instructors participated. The teachers, all members of the Neighborhood Youth Corps, were trained by the Children's Television Workshop, producer of "Sesame Street."

The day camp curriculum consisted of daily viewing of Sesame Street, follow-up lessons to reinforce the material learned from the show, field trips and food periods. The classes met five days a week from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., with recesses.

The project was funded by New York City's Youth Services Agency through a $68,000 federal grant.

Both the city agency and the Workshop now are studying the results of the day camp experiment. And reported that it appears to have been beneficial and rewarding for the young children and others involved.

Although about 17 public school buildings and makeshift sites were used for the camps, the largest, with an enrollment of 150, was at Andrew Jackson High School in Queens.

Paul Rooks, the 19-year-old director of the camp there, felt the experiment was successful.

"This was what we needed for our young children, especially in the black community," he said. Andrew Jackson High School is located in a predominantly black and Puerto Rican neighborhood.

Miss Rooks, a sophomore at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., admitted that in the beginning she really didn't think she would be able to work with such small children. "But I found out I could, and I loved it," she said. "I really learned a lot from the kids."

She said the major problem was a lack of proper facilities. "We really needed more room and equipment," she said. "We had the children and the teachers."

One of the teenage teachers, Mireille Christophe, 16, agreed on the success of the camp. "Some of the kids really didn't know anything," she said, "not even their names. But when camp was over they knew that and a lot more."

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Advances outnumbered declines by more than 200 issues at the halfway mark on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday.

A three-hour turnover of 9,630,000 shares compared with 10,300,000 shares traded at a comparable period Tuesday.

Analysts said optimism generally was prompted by easier money conditions and a comment by Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott that the last of American combat troops in Vietnam would be leaving by next summer.

The Pennsylvania Senator predicted Tuesday that President Nixon would soon announce an accelerated troop withdrawal program. He made the remark in a re-election campaign speech at Harrisburg, Pa.

Striking workers in American and Canadian plants will receive weekly checks of $30 to $40 from now until the strike is settled—or until the union's $120 million strike fund is depleted—whichever comes first.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Dow Jones group might easily scale the 800-850 level before the year ends, according to Hardy & Co. The company expects "strong stock and bond market" but it does not expect "business profits to improve significantly." Therefore the company cautions investors to act "cautiously," especially if prices appear to be "running away" because "corrections could come swiftly and sharply."

Despite the recovery of the last four months, "most issues are still near their lows," Harris, Upham & Co. believes. The company also feels that most issues "need a great deal of base building" before they can embark on "sustainable" advances. The firm notes that the end of the year is approaching and "selling for tax purposes will be foremost in many investors' minds."

"The impending Fed pullback from its wide-open running of the credit engines will mark the top of the present trading rally in the stock market," the Janeway Letter predicts. The letter says the bond market rally is "already falling off of unassorbable demand pressures."

a balanced hand. West would open the seven of hearts and barring some really frightful plays by East and West, South would make only eight tricks.

Playing Stayman the response is two clubs. North intends to bid three no-trump if South's rebid is two hearts or two diamonds but South rebids two spades. A 4-4 spade fit has been found and North jumps to the spade game.

West opens the same seven of hearts. Dummy's ace wins. Three leads pull the defender's trumps. Then South knocks out the ace of diamonds. Since the club finesse works and one club can be discarded on dummy's fourth diamond, South collects 11 tricks and scores game and rubber. A lot better than going down one at three no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of raising to two clubs your partner has bid one diamond. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Jacoby explains their tournament-winning techniques with Jacoby Modern in their new book, "Win at Bridge." Available through this newspaper. Send name, address, zip and $1.50 for each copy.

If you don't use Stayman, don't intend to use Stayman and in general aren't interested in improving your bidding at all, we are afraid that this article will be wasted on you.

If not, read this, study it a few minutes and see how easy it is to play Stayman according to JACOBY MODERN.

Our two-club response to an opening no-trump is artificial and forcing and demands that partner rebid two diamonds with no four-card or longer major. Otherwise opener rebids two of his four-card major. With both majors opener rebids two of the better one.

Today's hand shows Stayman at its best. South has a very normal no-trump opening. Without the Stayman convention, North would raise to three no-trump. He has 11 high-card points and

THE WHY OF IT is a mystery, but an extraordinarily high proportion of men who stutter possess unusually fine singing voices... CONSIDER THIS - Why numerous disconsolate wives seem to get cavities in their teeth after they divorce their husbands is now explained. By a Santa Monica, Calif., dentist. "They don't really get more cavities," this professional fellow reports. "But they frequently get medical expense allowances in the divorce settlements which permit them to go for treatment they've long needed. For instance, one Southern California woman received a court-ordered medical stipend from her ex-husband of $4,000 per month!"

RULE NO 415A in our Love and War man's manual to wives on how to keep their husbands happy reads: "Never agree with him wholeheartedly when he criticizes his own relatives."
