Wailing Arabs Disrupt Burial

CAIRO (UPI)—Multitudes of Egyptians, wailing "Nasser! Nasser!" smashed through police barricades today to turn the funeral of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser into chaos. Efforts to club them away with batons by increased security forces failed.

The unprecedented outpouring of sorrow for Egypt's hero, who died of a heart attack Monday at the age of 62, was the biggest mass demonstration in the history of Cairo. Nasser's widow fainted when crowds surged around her car shortly before the Moslem funeral rites began.

As a helicopter bearing his body, in a simple wooden coffin, flew from the Republican Palace rooftops were jammed with people. "Garnal, we will continue the struggle," they screamed. "With our souls and blood, we shall continue the struggle you started."

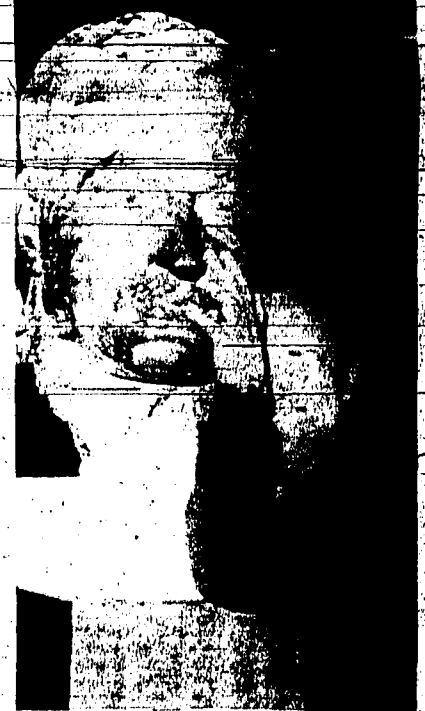

Cairo radio appealed to people in the crowds to restrain themselves. "Self-control and discipline are imperative in the face of this national disaster," it said. But the pleas seemed to have no effect on millions of Egyptians, some of them near hysteria, who thronged the streets.

They flocked wherever possible, on streets, on rooftops, on boats in the Nile. They scrambled up statues and lampposts and bridges and onto the tops of trucks and buses. They wailed their Muslim farewells, tears streaked their faces. Some beat their breasts in anguish. They waved mourning pictures of Nasser attached to tree branches and broomsticks.

Storm Hits Smut Report

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Disavowed in advance by the Nixon Administration and disputed by three of its own members, the Commission on Obscenity and Pornography Wednesday recommended repeal of all laws against distributing explicit sexual materials to consenting adults.

"There is no warrant for continued governmental interference with the full freedom of adults to read, obtain or view whatever such material," the commission said.

The 17-man panel, created by Congress in 1967, said laws against distribution of pornography to young persons should include only pictorial material, because the risk of harm to juveniles from written matter does not justify its prohibition.

HUGE CRATER bores the eastbound lane of Interstate 44 near Burley, Idaho, after truck lacerated with explosives blew up. The explosion reportedly followed a supplier's shot. Four suspects are in custody in connection with the case. (UPI)

Benefits Reduced Gooding Cutters Get 7 1/2%

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Personal hospital costs are going up beginning in January for the 20.4 million elderly persons eligible for Medicare hospital insurance coverage. It was announced Wednesday.

The Social Security Administration said they would have to pay the first $60 of a hospital bill starting with instead of the $52 they must pay now.

The increase is mandatory under the law," said Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball. "It is a result of the long-term upward trend in hospital costs and in part, of course, the general inflation."

Under hospital coverage, in the program for persons 65 and older, they are required to pay the average cost of one day's hospital care. When Medicare started in 1966, the deductible or portion the patient had to pay—was $40.

Red China Reaches 21

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist Chinese Defense Minister Lin Piao told tens of thousands of red flag-waving countrymen celebrating the nation's 21st birthday today the world is seeing a surge in "the struggle against American imperialism."

People's Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung waved to the cheering crowds before Lin began speaking in the New China News Agency said in a broadcast monitored in Hong Kong.

Israel Scolds Soviets

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israel ushered in year 5731 on the Jewish calendar today with a double-barreled blast at the Soviet Union, scolding the Kremlin for its military role in Egypt and deploring its refusal to let Russian Jews emigrate to Israel.

Extra security police were posted throughout Jerusalem in mourning the death of Gamal Abdel Nasser and Jews gathered at the Wailing Wall, focal point of the New Year celebration, for the traditional blowing of the rams horn, a mark of repentance.

Official holiday statements from Prime Minister Golda Meir and President Zalman Shazar assailed the Arab world for what they termed its refusal to enter peace negotiations. The prime minister appealed for the beginning of an "epoch of peace and regional cooperation in the area."

"Peace is, however, still remote," Mrs. Meir said. "The failure of Arab aggression was followed in recent months by an unprecedented escalation on the part of the Soviet Union... the Soviet Union introduced into Egypt SAM3 missiles."

New T.F. Landfill Opened

TWIN FALLS—City officials opened the new Twin Falls sanitary land fill Thursday.

City Manager Jim Millar said the old land fill at the airport was closed to coincide with the new garbage contract with Parks and Sons which went into effect Thursday.

The new site is nine miles south of Washington School on Blue Lakes South.

Freed Hijackers Attend Funeral

By United Press International
Seven Palestinian guerrillas released by Western governments in exchange for the hostages of three hijacked airliners flew to Cairo today in time for the funeral of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The seven included Laila Khaled, a pretty, 24-year-old Palestinian who failed in an attempt to hijack an Israeli El Al jetliner near London Sept. 6. Her companion was killed in the attempt, but Miss Khaled, who had participated in an earlier, successful hijacking, became a hero to the guerrillas and Ramtha, the guerrilla stronghold that was the scene of Arab fighting Wednesday.

BOISE (UPI)—The Permanent Building Fund Council authorized the College of Southern Idaho today to go to contract on the $550,000 vocational technical building.

Dr. James Taylor, president of the Twin Falls school, said the total $685,000 package included $15,000 for additional site development. He said $250,000 of the building cost came from state appropriations; $210,000 from the Office of Education, and said the remaining funds would come from a supplemental grant from the Office of Education and from funds from the junior college district.

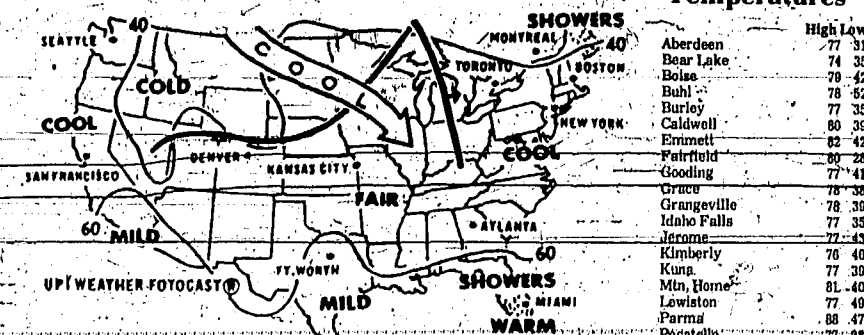

Taylor said the building would house agri-business courses, police officer training, distributive education and home economics.

Sunny Skies This Weekend

Magic Valley, Twin Falls and vicinity, Northside, Burley-Rupert area: Mostly sunny today and Friday. High temperatures in the 70s both days. Lows tonight 33 to 43. Winds 10 to 20 miles-per-hour at times this afternoon. Probability of rainfall near zero through Friday. Outlook for Saturday fair and warmer. Camas Prairie, Halley and lower Wood River Valley: Same as Magic Valley except high temperatures 45 to 75 today and Friday. Lows tonight 22 to 32. Weather synopsis: Very pleasant fall weather will continue today and Friday throughout southern Idaho and eastern Oregon. Skies will be mostly sunny and no rain is in sight. Although temperatures will average a bit cooler than those which occurred early in the week, most readings will still be above the normals for this time of year. Afternoon highs will range generally through the 70s. The overnight lows will range from the mid 20s at the cooler spots in the eastern Idaho agricultural valleys, to the mid 40s at the warmer spots in the West. Hunters in the higher mountain valleys can expect lows in the 20s. Winds will increase to 10 to 20 miles-per-hour at times this afternoon. This will reduce the heavy smoke in areas where stubble burning and slash burning has lowered the visibility. This improvement should last through Friday. Fall harvest activities should make excellent progress in all areas. Soil temperatures will average a little lower at night and may drop below 45 degrees during the early morning hours in the higher valleys of eastern Idaho.

Get-Tough Rights Link Set

Spiro Flaits Porno Report

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has coupled an attack on the just-released pornography commission report with a plan for an election of a Congress that will help President Nixon keep Main Street from turning into "Smut Alley." Agnew capped a nationwide campaign tour for GOP candidates Wednesday night with a broad attack against the report and against the courts and radical liberals who he said were abiding an assault on America's sense of decency. "Decency is under assault in almost every aspect of our lives," he told a 100-a-plate fund-raising dinner. It is most visible in the "posturing and shouting of obscenity by the scurvy, shabby sons of the new left. But it goes even beyond them. This assault now comes from almost every direction, daily and in volume. Among the "shabby hallmarks" of modern America, he said, were "standard fare movies that 'once would have brought a police raid on a man's smoker' and 'nudity' or public display of orgiastic, drug-stepped rock festivals and protest demonstrations flamboyantly staged by social misfits and dropouts." "This intensifying depravity has been encouraged by court decisions, reflecting our earlier wave of permissiveness," he said. "This erosion of decency has been abetted by a political hedonism that permeates the philosophy of the radical liberals. They may not openly condone indecency, but they help create the climate in which it flourishes by their inability to say no and their unwillingness to condemn." He referred to the pornography commission as "the lame-duck commission."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite bitter southern protests and opposition from the Nixon administration, the Senate is ready to approve a missing link in the 1964 Civil Rights Act—tough enforcement powers for the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC). EEOC passage was expected on a bill designed to give the EEOC power to issue "cease and desist" orders against firms and unions which refuse to halt discriminatory hiring and promotion practices. At present the commission only can try to end job discrimination by talking to the parties involved. Although Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., vowed a last-ditch attempt to make changes in the bill, the Senate was expected to turn back easily any weakening of the tough enforcement provisions. The bill also would broaden coverage of the employment provisions of the 1964 Civil Rights Act by including about 9.5 million additional workers in firms or unions with eight or more employees or members. The act now covers only unions and firms with 25 or more employees.

Trustees Ask House Bill 1304 Amendment

By LEE TREMAYNE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — School trustees from South, central Idaho re-elected Frank DeLuca of Twin Falls president of the fourth district of the Idaho Trustees Association and adopted a resolution calling for an increase in property valuation assessments.

The meeting was at Robert Stuart Junior High School Wednesday evening. Lawrence Knigge was elected vice president of the district. The trustees adopted several resolutions, including a petition to the legislature that House Bill 304, which set a four per cent increase limit on tax levies, be amended "increasing the percentage of new assessed valuation that can be levied to increase the general operational funds for cities, counties and school districts within the state of Idaho." The resolution was offered by the Blaine County board of trustees. Another resolution, offered by Joint District No. 331, Rupert, was, in effect, a reply to the Idaho Education Association's occasional threat of a sanction against a district in a wage dispute. A sanction by the IEA advises teachers against seeking employment in the district. The Rupert resolution, adopted with six dissenting votes after a discussion on its ultimate effect, said that trustees of the fourth district should seek employment of a teacher who has been regularly employed for the past school year in any state that is under sanction by the National Education Association or any of its affiliates. The resolution, which is being considered by the National Association of School Board

Trustees for national adoption, was described as a "neighborly thing to do" by Dr. Ernest Ragland, Twin Falls superintendent of schools. The agreement means that states not under sanction will not "raid" neighboring school districts which are having labor disputes. Another resolution offered by the Blaine County school district reaffirms the need of the state department of education financial distribution formula for determining school aid funds. The resolution asked that "the . . . formula, as now enacted remain as now written to protect the financial needs of the state's schools." Two resolutions offered by the board of trustees of Twin Falls School District No. 411 also were adopted. One asks that the public employe retirement law be changed to permit participation in the system by all regularly employed personnel on their first pay date. The system now requires public employes be employed 12 months before permitting them to participate in the system. The other asks that the Idaho Legislature memorialize the U. S. Congress to distribute substantial financial assistance to the public schools of the state of Idaho and other states for general rather than special educational purposes. It asks that Idaho funds be distributed to the department of education which shall have the authority to determine the needs of the various school districts and the funds which shall be made available to them from federal sources. Twin Falls trustees at their last meeting pointed out that federal educational aid is distributed for specific purposes and that the funds might be used for more urgent needs than for what it is specified.

'Paint-Out' Set At County Museum

TWIN FALLS — There's going to be a "paint-out" at the Twin Falls County Historical Museum Saturday. Earl Peck, association president, said Thursday dealers have donated 20 gallons of paint and painting contractors have promised to have spray painting equipment on the grounds. "What we need now is donated labor able to furnish hammers and wire brushes for the preliminary job," Peck said. He added that the project

772 Given Shots At Blaine Clinic

HAILEY — Seven hundred twenty-two Blaine County youngsters between the ages of 1 and 12 years were immunized against Rubella Tuesday when the clinic reached three schools in the county. At the Bellevue school, which also handled Hailey youngsters, some 349 children were immunized under the supervision of Dr. Alden Packer, RN Jan. Seal was in charge of that clinic, assisted by RNs Theresa Richards, Polly Triplett, Martya Schmidt, and Brook Finley. Volunteers on duty were Phyllis Overfield, Annette Young, Sharon Smith, Janice McStay and Donna Rose Railway. Future nurses assisting were Marcia Williams, Lynn Meyer, Terry Holmers, Mary Miller and Rosaloe Nelson. Some 245 youngsters were "shot" at Ketchum under the direction of Dr. B. K. Kreilkamp. RN Sue Peterson was in charge of that clinic, assisted by Carol Leo and Barbara Hart, registered nurses, and Olivia Arthur. Volunteers there were Carol Selgal, Mary Luhl, Jean Levy, Pat Parris, Beverly Asher and Diana Meyers. An average of 93 per cent of the Carey area youngsters in that age bracket were immunized during Tuesday's clinic. Dr. William Elling, public health department, Olympia, Wash., who is traveling throughout the state with the clinic, was on duty as was a jet gun technician traveling with him. Gertrude Twombly, Blaine county public health nurse was in charge of that clinic, assisted by RN Joyce Arrison. Volunteers, all members of the Carey PTA were Mrs. Ellis Bame, Sandra Turner, Virde O'Crowley, Arlene Patterson, Mary Hoffstetter, Mary Hunt and Beth Standford. Many of the supplies used for the clinics were donated by the Blaine county and Sun Valley Hospitals.

CSI Elections Start Today

TWIN FALLS — College of Southern Idaho students will be electing new student officers today and Friday, using the latest in automatic voting equipment. One of the new Twin Falls County voting machines has been programmed for the school election and ballots for the machine printed and installed. County Clerk Harold Lancaster is programmed for the equipment for the college voting Wednesday. Another two of the automatic voting machines have been

In The Act

At this critical moment in history when civilization itself may hang by a frazzled thread, there is the greatest need for calm expertise in international relations and for the most sophisticated diplomacy to guide nations around the pitfalls in the path toward peace.

Instead, we have a wild clamor, both from the far left and the far right, in the most ill-advised efforts to affect the course of history.

In one of his mad, hilarious routines, Jimmy Durante used to scream: "Everybody wants to get into da act!" It was funny on the stage. It is tragic when misguided amateurs without portfolio seek to "get into da act" of this country's relations with others, whether they be friend or foe. And these people are far from diplomatic; they foment anarchy even when they profess to oppose it.

We have endured the spectacle of Black Panthers playing footsie with the Communists in North Korea, North Vietnam, Egypt, Cuba and Russia.

Another shameless current example is the Rev. Carl McIntire, a fundamentalist radio preacher, who has gone to a lot of trouble to persuade Vice President Ky of South Vietnam to speak at a "march for victory" rally in Washington, despite official disapproval.

Ky should know better, even if McIntire could be excused on grounds of ignorance. This unwanted, far right demonstration already has drawn the attention of the militant Yippies who plan to make the most of the opportunity for trouble-making. Senator Charles Percy summed up the reaction of many Senators when he said Ky's appearance would be a disservice to his government and could backfire on him.

Even officialdom has acted in similar thoughtless fashion. The State of Massachusetts got into the act by questioning the constitutionality of U.S. participation in the Vietnam fighting.

The Administration responded by warning the court that it had declared the war is unconstitutional because it is undeclared, the court should then be prepared to set up its own military office and supervise the removal of American troops. Such a move would have been unthinkable in the past. It is intolerable now.

The right of free speech, the constitutional shield behind which so many of today's reckless voices hide in their extra-legal cries, has responsibilities and it's about time the misguided revolutionists and amateurs who would interfere with the orderly processes of government were taught some of them.

Those who would derail this country at home or abroad have no right in law or conscience to interfere in this country's relations with other nations, which is the legal responsibility of the President of the United States.

The President has been doing a good job under appalling circumstances and could do a better one with less help from irresponsible and unwanted volunteers.

After Tito

President Tito of Yugoslavia — at 78 Europe's oldest head of state — has set forth the format for his country's future leadership. Of course there will be no elections. Not surprisingly, he has decided upon a collective presidency, rather than a single successor, as the means of guaranteeing that the transition of power will be orderly.

In recent years, several putative heirs to Tito have emerged, but none has been permitted to acquire the stature that would make him a clear-cut choice for the succession. Through the plan for a presidium including representatives from each of the country's six republics, Tito evidently hopes to avoid strains that could jeopardize the uneasy Yugoslav federation. Deep rivalries and jealousies exist among the republics, and these almost certainly would be aggravated by a power struggle.

Certainly the Soviet Union, which has been identified with past efforts to topple the Tito government and substitute a more orthodox communist regime, could be expected to attempt to capitalize upon such a struggle.

MR. SPECTATOR

It's Too Much

There was a day when some male college students were criticized for spending too much time thinking about girls. Today they could claim it as homework.

The number of American colleges and universities that now offer a wide range of courses on female studies is growing.

From San Diego State, one of the first with a woman's study program, to small Midwest colleges that offer one course in women's history, the subject of women has become a part of the curriculum.

The new trend makes sense in medical colleges, but elsewhere? Why not a study of dog lovers? Or how about a degree program for the study of people born on Thursday? It turns out well, another program could be worked out for Tuesday people.

Why not a children's study program for kids who don't want to grow up?

NEXT SUNDAY

Are you a nature lover? Do you like the colors of Autumn? If you do, then next Sunday should be the day you have been waiting for. Mr. and Mrs. Spectator drove up into the Stanley Basin, Sawtooth Valley, Big Wood River, Valley last Sunday to see the colors. But were just a few days too early.

But there is little doubt that next Sunday will be the day to go if you want to drink in the colors. So how about it? Roads are good all the way from anywhere in Magic Valley. You can get your lunch at Hailey, Ketchum or Sun Valley or at Smiley Creek, Redfish Lake Lodge or in Stanley. So what's keeping you?

Make it a mountain trip next Sunday.

OCTOBER DATES

This is a day for the U.S. Navy to remember — the birthday of James Lawrence in 1841. He's the American naval officer whose dying command, "Don't Give Up The Ship," is revered.

One hundred years later, also on Oct. 1, the first one of the men who rank high among those who did a lot to get us off the ground was born. William Boeing, airplane manufacturer.

Today it is also notable in history for getting Americans on the road. On this date in 1948 Henry Ford's first Model T came off the assembly line. It took only 90 minutes to put it together. The "Tin Lizzie" lasted until 1927 when it was replaced by the "Model A."

WASHINGTON (NEA) — a great many Americans in public life and beyond think they are saying a stunning thing when they tell us the millions of Young are the best informed, most intelligent people we have ever had. It is indeed important. But character is more vital, and there we are in exactly short supply.

Luckily, some Americans recognize it. They pay so much attention to the untimely death this summer of a famed football coach, Vincent Lombardi. His profession was incidental. He was properly seen as a leader and a mover of men.

In his mind, character was a higher quality than the intellect. He defined character as mental toughness, "the perfectly disciplined will," employed in a spirit of sacrifice, self-denial, and "humility to achieve or strive for high goals." The really pertinent tributes to him were all from men who said not that he had taught them how to play a game well but that he had taught them how to live confidently as men in any walk of life.

The character required to do that is one of the great missing elements in America today, as it has been for a very long time. Americans came into nationhood in a convulsive rebellion against authority. The Constitution framed in 1787 created a basis for real free government but still bore a heavy tinge of antigovernment.

For all its worst brilliance, the document's effectiveness as an instrument was made possible by the fortunate though irregular appearance of men of character.

Most Americans today (as through history) are essentially undisciplined people. They resent order, authority and law except as it is applied to others. They tossily confuse liberty with license. They take freedom as a gift (with no bow to the givers), and assume it carries maximum privilege and little or no obligation.

The worst enemies of freedom today (because they masquerade as its friends) are those who suggest that order, discipline and law are "unnatural" to man and a society aimed at liberty. But, as author Robert Ardrey recently observed in Life magazine, order is the very heart of all human and organized "societies" exist throughout the animal world, not just human civilizations.

Man's indispensable organizing principle he calls the "social contract." Its key problem, he says, is to construct sufficient order so that the group may act as one. In behalf of the individual yet preserve sufficient order — what man would call freedom — so that diverse social partners may each fulfill their varying potentials.

Man is inherently aggressive and competitive. Those qualities, properly disciplined, are the engine of progress, the means of solving personal and larger problems, of "winning" in Lombardi's world.

Yet aggressiveness uncontained by rules of order and augmented by force of any degree is violence, destructive of the delicate mechanism Ardrey calls the social contract. "The problem of man," he writes, "is not that we are aggressive but that we break our own rules." Add so we do, as we have for two centuries. We are incredibly lawless in behavior, form major offense down to the trivia of parking violation. We condone trespass and other invasions of privacy, disregarding not only law but good manners and well-founded customs.

With the willfulness of spoiled children, we answer legitimate challenge with profane insult, degrade debate into a shouting match, litter, despoil and pollute the earth, deface man's proud buildings, and destroy some altogether, scream that all this ugliness, disorder and indignity to others is "true liberty."

Almost no American can escape some blame for the loose way we perform on our "social contract." But the heavy condemnation goes to the grossest violators and the sympathizers who today celebrate this despicable carnival of licentiousness as the final triumph of freedom. GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Heel Spurs

Dear Dr. Thosteson: World you advise cutting out a heel spur? Or what treatment? What causes it? I do a lot of walking. —L.W.

Dear Doctor: I would like to know why my heels hurt so bad I can hardly walk on them. I have tried soaking with a foot soap but nothing seems to help. Mrs. K.M.O.

A "heel spur" is an accumulation of calcium in the tendon on the bottom of the heel, a result either of some injury or an infection — more likely the former.

This little lump of calcium, like a small pebble in your shoe, is painful when you put your weight on it.

Incidentally, I am not saying that Mrs. K.M.O.'s trouble is a spur. It may be something else, and she'll do best by having her doctor diagnose the trouble. Spurs aren't the only cause of pain.

However, heel spurs are a rather frequent problem. In most cases it is the location of the calcium "spur" that makes it so annoying. A comparable calcium deposit, or even a large one, might give little or no trouble when located in a spot where it is not subjected to pressure as it is on the heel. But on the heel, it has to take your whole weight.

Generally speaking, the best treatment is to use some sort of pad or lining in the shoe to relieve the painful spot from pressure. Soaking one's feet can't be expected to solve the trouble.

In some instances, an injection of cortisone subdues inflammation and pain and brings relief, but if the heel is subsequently bruised again, the trouble can return.

In some severe cases, surgery to remove the calcium deposit may be the only satisfactory answer — but such cases, in my experience, are the exception rather than the rule. Why go through the surgery and be forced to stay off your feet until the heel (or heels) has healed?

The better way, in the great majority of cases, is to accept the fact that pressure on that small calcium deposit is the cause of the pain. Then a proper padding to take the pressure off the spot is the simplest procedure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About a year ago when I was 16 I had my ears pierced. About two months later I noticed a pink growth on both ears. My doctor said the piercing caused those keloids. Friends have told me all sorts of things such as I should have used ice, I didn't use enough alcohol, etc. Could you tell me the reason — and could I have them removed.

Keloids are an excessive growth of scar tissue, which can happen after an operation or a wound of any sort. Some people get them; others don't. Camouflage among people with darker complexions.

If removed surgically, they are very likely to grow again; sometimes injections of a steroid called Kenalog help. But the best thing to do usually is to forget them because they aren't harmful. Nothing you did or didn't do at the time of piercing caused them — except the piercing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a man to catch a sex disease by kissing a woman, mouth to mouth? —B.W.

Possible, if conditions are just right — if the woman has an active infection (usually syphilis) and particularly if there is any open break or cut in the tissues of your mouth.

However, this is a possibility rather than a probability. Most venereal disease is transmitted by sexual intercourse.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

ROWLAND EVANS

Small College

CLEARMONT, Calif. — Throughout the sleepy summer on the idyllic campus of the Claremont Colleges, administrators looked the other way amid continuing politicization which threatens to consume the nation's private liberal arts colleges.

A student-faculty group called the Movement Against War was busy on many fronts: preparing to support anti-Vietnam candidates in the fall campaign, distributing partisan political literature, conducting "anti-war classed," counselling disaffected members of the Armed Services, agitating in local high schools. What gave all this a semi-official status was the location of its headquarters in an office in the Claremont Graduate School supplied by college officials.

Such mixing of the academy and partisan politics, unheard of a few years ago, is commonplace today. What makes it noteworthy here is that Claremont was one of the rare educational institutions where, despite last spring's Cambodian-Kent State hysteria, a temporary victory against politicization was scored.

Indeed, the Claremont Colleges — a collection of five small undergraduate colleges and a graduate school, all with the highest academic reputation — provides a case study of the crisis in private higher education. Although pressure from taxpayers and politicians is beginning to inhibit politicization in the great state universities, the small liberal arts school is isolated from such pressure and therefore exceedingly vulnerable.

Thus, while the scandalous breakdown of academic procedures at the University of California's campuses last spring was revealed in newspaper headlines, similar indignation at Claremont went unexpressed beyond the limits of this campus. Classes were arbitrarily suspended after the Kent State killings. Calling it a "renewance" program, many professors substituted political activity for regular classes. The most flagrant venture into politics was a decision by the graduate school to help finance the Movement Against War's activities with a $1,500 from mandatory student fees.

This, more than any other factor, mobilized a handful of outraged graduate students into forming the Committee for Academic Freedom.

Threatening legal action, this committee persuaded college officials to reverse themselves.

ART BUCHWALD

Naked Man

WASHINGTON — A new book will soon appear on the market which will cause a sensation in scientific circles. It is titled "The Naked Man" and it was written by Frederick the III, a chimpanzee attached to the Rockefeller Institute. Frederick III was involved in some enzyme experiments at the institute which took up only a few hours of his day. Because he was restless, the directors gave him a typewriter to play with. You can imagine their surprise when instead of just messing around, Frederick wrote a book.

Frederick's book, and this is the shocker, claims that all chimpanzees, monkeys and apes evolved from man. He says that man was the first primate before there were apes of any kind. Frederick is not certain when man first appeared on earth, though he suspects it was at least 30 million years ago. As time went on and man went through many stages, he started to develop many apelike qualities until today it is easy for apes to identify with man and realize how much they have in common.

Many apes and chimpanzees are horrified to think they resemble man in any way and a chimpanzee named Treotop, with the National Institute of Mental Health, has written a paper denouncing Frederick III's thesis. Treotop maintains that although in some respects men are looking more and more like apes, they are not really evolved from man. Frederick says in his book that although in some respects that the similarities between apes and man are greater than one might think. Man today is behaving like apes used to behave before they were civilized. Man puts great emphasis on territory and seems to be willing to kill to protect his turf. As a lower form of ape, a man is unable to deal with any situation without screaming and shouting.

Treotop says that man's behavior is more similar to cats than to apes, and while man behaves irrationally in almost any situation and may resort to extreme measures when encephalitis, it does not follow that just because men beat their chests and growl that they belong to the ape family.

Frederick thinks that the primitive personality traits of man have been adapted by apes. Having studied man under laboratory conditions, Frederick has discovered that the eating habits and sex life of homo sapiens follow a pattern similar to those practiced by modern apes.

Treotop disagrees. He maintains that man has gone as far as he'll ever go, and hasn't changed from the day he was born. The instinct in men to destroy is so strong that it is slender to class them in any way with apes.

Frederick's response to that is to cite King Kong's destruction of the Empire State Building as something men might do. Treotop says King Kong was an exception to the rule, and it's unfair to use one gorilla's behavior as a sample.

Court Leaves Candidate on Ballot

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court Wednesday denied a petition seeking to remove one of the candidates for the Supreme Court from the general election ballot.

The petition, filed by an unsuccessful candidate in the primary election for the office, Robert T. Felton, sought to have the name of VIII S. Defenbach removed from the Nov. 3 ballot on the grounds he is ineligible to seek office because of his position on the State Industrial Accident Board.

The court also cited the delay in filing the petition. The court said declarations of candidacy had to be filed by May 7, and the present action was not instituted until Sept. 28. The court wrote such delays made it impossible for Conarrusa to present any defense and still allow time for the printing of the ballots.

The court further pointed out that the right for Felton to bring the suit was not a "clear legal right" because of a "serious question as to the effect of a 1969 legislative enactment upon Defenbach's status."

Teacher Strife To Return

BOISE (UPI) — A spokesman for the Idaho Education Association warned Wednesday that "the teacher strike of a few years back" will return to Idaho unless there is a reordering of financial priorities at the state level next year.

Wayne York, IEA executive secretary, said that generally speaking Idaho's local school districts have made commendable efforts and have extended the use of their property tax base to meet the challenge of financing education.

Employees Seek Pay Increases

BOISE (UPI) — A spokesman for the Idaho State Employees Association Wednesday announced plans to ask for $5.2 million worth of general salary increases from the Personnel Commission at a Boise meeting Friday.

Executive Director Robert Stelling said $3.35 million of the sum would be sought from general fund appropriations. He said all estimates would be based upon September payroll and employment statistics.

Friday, Lewiston, said the figures were the association's application of State Personnel Director George Murphy's recommendations that state salaries be brought to the prevailing rate as required by law plus some additional increase for several classes above those to be recommended by Murphy.

Frady said the group also would recommend an additional factor be inserted and added to Murphy's recommendations to cover the projected cost of living increases for the one-year period from the date of the data compiled and the budgetary period when the increases become effective.

At the present rate, he said, a five per cent loss in purchasing power would occur from the time of the survey until its initiation. He said it is entirely possible that if inflation continues an additional five per cent loss will occur during the time the recommendations are in force.

The increased appropriation of the 1969 legislature was impressive, York said. "However, the brutal facts are that these gains have barely covered the increased costs of inflation."

"Unless there is a reordering of priorities at the state level, the teacher strike of a few years back will be a reoccurring phenomena (sic)."

The IEA is asking for an additional $24 million for the public schools in 1971-72, $16 million of it from state appropriations.

Status Change Backed

WASHINGTON — Cong. Orval Hansen said today that a recent poll of his district showed support for a change in the status of the Snake River-Clearfork area and opposition to mining in the White Clouds.

The Idaho Congressman said that of those who responded to the questionnaire, 55 per cent favored one of the alternative plans for a change in present status, 33 per cent wanted no change and 12 per cent expressed no opinion.

Of those who expressed preference for one of the proposals for change, the great majority, 55 per cent, support a combination — national recreation area — national park. Twenty per cent want national recreation area only and 12.5 per cent want a national park only. An additional 12.5 per cent expressed preference for other plans.

Mining in the White Clouds was opposed by 48 per cent of those who responded to the poll. Thirty-five per cent said they favored mining in the area, while 17 per cent expressed no opinion.

Hansen said that many of those who favored mining added qualifications such as "with proper safeguards" when needed by the nation, but not for export.

Many of the comments written on the questionnaire emphasized the need to protect the unique "scenic" and recreational values in the area, he said.

Stays Trip Detector At Airport

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The metal stays in a brassiere worn by Kraen Longo of Chicago caused her nothing but trouble.

Miss Longo was boarding an airplane bound for Chicago here Tuesday when a metal detector meter used primarily to detect firearms hidden on passengers sounded off.

The FBI asked her to submit to a search. After being cleared, she boarded the plane.

But officials at Port Columbus airport said Miss Longo, who then was angry and mentioned that for all the trouble she had gone through, she should hijack the plane.

Again the lady was whisked off the jet and detained by the FBI. After talking with her, the authorities allowed her to continue her trip.

Wholesale Prices Rise Another 0.4 Per Cent

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wholesale prices especially for things that will ultimately end up on supermarket shelves, went up again in September, stranding August's decline as a single island in a sea of inflation.

The Labor Department reported Wednesday that the wholesale price index increased 0.4 per cent in September, wiping out the widely-heralded 0.3 per cent dip recorded last month.

Wholesale prices of farm products increased 3.2 per cent, the largest jump in 17 months. The government said prices were sharply higher for corn and other grains and also increased for eggs, fresh and dried vegetables, fresh fruits and live poultry.

The relationship between wholesale prices and consumer prices is not fixed, but the September increase in the wholesale price index does not bode well for consumer prices, especially for food.

Nixon administration spokesmen had pointed to August's decline as solid evidence that efforts to control inflation are succeeding.

Hendrik S. Houthakker, a member of President Nixon's three-man Council of Economic Advisers, said in a speech last week that even if the wholesale price index rose in September, the longrange trend would continue to be toward less inflation.

The wholesale price index in September was 117.7 per cent of the 1957-59 base period, up from 117.2 in August and 116.8

a year ago.

That meant it cost $117.70 in September to buy the same goods at wholesale that could have been purchased for $117.20 in August, $113.60 in September of 1969 and $100 a little more than a decade ago. The index was 3.6 per cent higher in September than it was at the same time last year.

The wholesale prices of industrial commodities rose 0.2 per cent in September, the same as in July and August. Most economists consider that figure to be a better gauge of the economy because it is not subject to the seasonal and weather-produced fluctuations that affect the prices of farm products.

FBI Head-Hits Police Killers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover Wednesday condemned a spreading wave of murders of policemen which he said threatens the nation's entire law enforcement system.

"Only an aroused citizenry and swift and certain punishment by the courts can reduce felonious acts against police," Hoover said. "When a law enforcement officer dies at the hands of a killer, part of our system of law dies with him."

In a statement contained in the FBI's monthly Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover blamed a growing "lack of respect for the law" for causing the rising trend of murders of policemen.

"The role of the policeman becomes increasingly dangerous," he said.

"In 1969, a record high of 86 law enforcement officers were murdered—a 34 per cent increase over 1968," Hoover said. "For the years 1960 through 1969, 561 law enforcement officers were killed by criminals."

He said all but three of the police killed last year were shot 67 of them with handguns. Thirteen were killed by their own weapons, seized and used against them.

Russians To Roll Out Red Carpet for French

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russians have a very special red carpet for the French, and they will roll it out again next week when President Georges Pompidou arrives for a week-long state visit to the Soviet Union.

Pompidou's trip will be a carbon copy of the one by his former boss, Charles de Gaulle, who received a grand tour of out of the way places in 1966. Like de Gaulle, Pompidou will visit the vast Baikonur Cosmodrome, where all the major Soviet space missions originate.

Pompidou will be taken to far-off Uzbekistan to become the first non-Communist head of state to be guest in that central Asia Soviet republic.

The special treatment is an indication of the high regard the Soviets have for the French. They want to have that regard reciprocated.

In the four years since de

Gaulle's trip, Soviet-French trade has more than tripled. French-foreign policy followed a course that the Kremlin has welcomed, too.

Only a few weeks ago the automaking firm of Renault tentatively agreed to help the Soviets build the world's largest truck plant. Trade between the two countries, running a modest $150 million a year before de Gaulle's trip, surpassed $500 million last year.

In television, the French and Soviets have adopted the same color system, called SECAM, making them partners in competition against the American-West German PAL system.

In a still more critical area, France is exchanging aid and information with the Soviets in space and nuclear technology. A joint space project has already put a French satellite atop a Soviet rocket and French physicists have helped in the development of a giant nuclear accelerator in the Soviet Union.

There are problems in Franco-Soviet relations, however, and a main reason for Pompidou's visit is to seek their solution.

Despite great increases in trade the French have had cause for complaint in doing business with the tight-fisted Russians, and political relations have chilled slightly from the high point following de Gaulle's 1966 visit.

Monument to a Bird Salt Lake City, Utah, has a monument to a bird. It was designed to commemorate the sea gulls which attacked a horde of grasshoppers which was devouring the wheat fields of the settlers in 1848.

Ceremony Conducted

WENDELL — Members of Future Homemakers of Tomorrow, Wendell Chapter, hosted an initiation ceremony and Mothers Tea Monday, in Elementary All-purpose Room. New members initiated were Cheryl Tracy, Mary Petaris, Joy Askew, Penny Archibald, Brenda Harley, Janet Lee and Jane Johnson.

The devotional service was carried out by two officers, Leslie Sullivan and Vickie Lynch. The members presented the emblem service and the officers went through the opening ritual. Chapter mothers introduced were Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Doug Huff and Mrs. Bill Parr. Dorothy Bernt is adviser for the group.

JEROME — Alma Louise Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cheney, Spokane, was married to George William Silver III, son of Mr. and Mrs. George William Silver Jr., Jerome, in rites Sept. 15 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Jerome.

Rev. Willard Pultz performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of cathedral baskets containing chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Mrs. James Keefe was organist, with Mrs. Ogle Wall as soloist.

by her father, wore a Bridal Original gown of organza, fashioned in an empire silhouette with a Venise lace bodice, camelot sleeves and lace-trimmed detachable wattleau chapel-length train. Her elbow-length net veil illusion was held by a seed pearl crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of orange roses and white carnations.

Lynnda Dale Trammel served as honor attendant, with Stefanie Keven and Susan Silver as bridesmaids.

Kathi Silver was flower girl and scattered yellow chrysanthemum petals in a path for the bride. Brett Silver was ringbearer.

David Hessler was best man and Kendall Warr and Caci Bartholomew were ushers.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the church, with members of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church Missionary League as hostesses.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Condie Olmstead, with Mrs. Betty Newby and Susan Parkhurst presiding at the gift table. The bride's table was covered with a dotted Swiss cloth accented with the bride's colors and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with orange and gold roses. The cake was flanked by silver candelabra.

Cake was cut and served by Mrs. Ralph Story, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Thurman Jackson. Punch was served by Mrs. Eugene Cheney, sister-in-law of the bride, and coffee poured by Mrs. Robert Parkhurst.

Special out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Merril Olmstead, Grace; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Silver, Ketchum; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Koopkes, Caldwell; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terrell, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Mike DeBoard, Pocatello.

The couple took a wedding trip to Sun Valley and will reside in Jerome.

Hospital Has Auxiliary.

HAILEY — Blaine County Hospital patients will now have the services of the long-awaited hospital auxiliary, following the organization meeting here Tuesday.

Mrs. Jack Alford, Murlaugh, president of the state auxiliary organization, was on hand to help in the organization. She led the gathering of about 30 interested women that the auxiliary member should know the size of the hospital, services offered, long range goals and financial support, as well as be acquainted with the auxiliary functions.

The group elected Barbra Cisco, Hailey, president; Johaza Patterson, Carey, vice president; Norma Fica, Hailey, secretary; Dottie Thomas, Ketchum, treasurer, and Theresa Bergin, Bellevue, member at large.

The initial projects or services to be offered by the group will be handling telephone calls from 5 to 9 p.m. each day as well as all day Sunday, doing sewing for the hospital and operating the service cart.

Mrs. Alford then instructed the prospective members to be sure, convinced of the value of the service, loyal, accept rules, be willing to learn and to keep learning.

The group decided to meet monthly except during June, July, August and December. Monthly meetings are scheduled for 2 p.m. each third Tuesday.

LEADING THE WAY into the Blaine County Hospital is the newly elected president of the newly organized Blaine County Hospital Auxiliary Barbra Cisco, Hailey. Her officers, following, are Norma Fica, Hailey, secretary; Dottie Thomas, Ketchum, treasurer, and Theresa Bergin, Bellevue, member at large. Not pictured is Johaza Patterson, Carey, vice president.

HAILEY — The counsel for the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association rested his case Wednesday during the second day of trial on a complaint filed by the association seeking court permission to use Silver Creek for fishing purposes.

The complaint was filed against the Picabo Livestock Co. which claims title to about 98.71 acres of creekbed there.

Testifying for the association Wednesday were: Stacy Gobhardt, Boise, former regional fisheries biologist for the Idaho Fish and Game Department with jurisdiction over Silver Creek; Robert Dell, existing regional fisheries management biologist for the fish and game department; Glenn Taylor, Twin Falls, a fisherman; W. D. Martindale, Blaine county assessor; Eugene Sowersby, Ketchum, and Dr. Charles Manners, Twin Falls. Ed Hoop, Ketchum, attorney, is representing the association and was given permission to open his case if need be before the end of the trial.

Ed Bonolt, Twin Falls, representing the livestock company, called E. E. Williams, Bellevue, who has lived in the Silver Creek area about 80 years; Frank McGlochin, Picabo rancher; Bud Purdy, president of the livestock company; Morris Ellsworth, Hailey, who also owns about 600 acres along Silver Creek; Paul Kriley, who manages a ranch along Lobing Creek; Ralph Buck, rancher along Silver Creek, and Warren Nisson, who also ranches along Silver Creek.

Each told of experiences with fishermen and hunters and Ellsworth told of even catching some individuals entering his home near the creek. He said the sportsmen litter and leave gates open while fishing on the private property, despite no trespassing signs posted there. Most individuals have cattle operations and some told of instances where the livestock had been let run on the road from the gates being left open. Some burning of wood had also been reported on the private property.

OLD CAR BODY; soon to be crushed and shipped out as scrap metal, is used here to add weight to equipment packing down new dirt over the culvert installed in Rock Creek Canyon just west of the hospital. The crossing was completed Wednesday and will allow crusher equipment to move into the canyon and begin clearing away junk cars now littering the Rock Creek site. Fred Radcliffe, left, directs the operation.

Junk Car Cleanup Start Set Soon

TWIN FALLS — Clean up of one of the major eyesores on U.S. Highway 30 at the west edge of Twin Falls is about to begin, county commissioners announced today.

Purchased for park development, about six acres of land on Rock Creek west of the hospital will soon be cleared of old car bodies which have been piling up there for several years.

County Commissioner William Chancey said the county has been encouraging the Radcliffe Brothers Co., to move into the area and begin clean up as soon as possible.

Fred Radcliffe said he expects to have his crusher equipment in the canyon within the next few days.

In preparation for taking the equipment down the east side of the canyon where an adequate roadway leads to Colonial Concrete Co. facilities, a large culvert was installed this week. This will carry Rock Creek water under the existing crossing and allow the equipment to set up on the west side of the creek where it will operate until the more than 1,000 old car bodies are stored across the area.

When the county purchased the site they gave salvage rights to the previous owner and the remaining skeletons of the old cars will now be crushed and shipped out, clearing the way for park development when funds are available.

Radcliffe said Colonial Concrete donated equipment and manpower to help construct the crossing as removal of the old vehicles will enhance their property. To pack down newly moved dirt on the crossing, loader equipment carrying one to two of the old car bodies at a time worked back and forth across the area.

CSI Signs Pact For Management

TWIN FALLS — A management agreement for operation of the College of Southern Idaho dormitory and the student union portion of the commons building was signed Wednesday noon by members of the CSI board of trustees and the housing commission.

A warranty deed turning over the two facilities to the housing commission was executed after the meeting. The commission is obligated to supervise operation of the structures and to pay off bond indebtedness from two revenue derived from the two structures, Mike Gray, commission chairman said.

The two bodies also adopted a resolution providing for the selling of $1.3 million worth of bonds to finance the facilities. Gray, Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, and Robert Alexander, CSI legal counsel, will go to Portland, probably on October 7, to sell the bonds to the federal government.

The bonds are being provided by a loan from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Patriots, Perhaps?

TWIN FALLS — Two American flags were taken from classrooms at Twin Falls High School during a break-in between Wednesday evening and Thursday morning.

Twin Falls Police said two 22 by 41 inch windows were broken to allow entry.

Written on a blackboard in one of the rooms were the words "We defy the law."

NEW NINE HOLE golf course is under construction in the Sprenger Land Development area north of Ketchum along Highway 93. Crews have been working for about a month on the 3,400 yard course. The course is expected to be ready for use next year with landscaping and seeding to be done in the spring.

KETCHUM — Golfers in the Ketchum-Sun Valley area are anticipating the completion of a third golf course in the county this one to be located north of Ketchum on Highway 93 in the Sprenger Land Development.

Ralph Thomas, general contractor for the Bigwood Golf Course, said work began last month on the original nine holes which may be ready for use next year. The initial nine holes will involve 3,400 yards of ground, with another nine holes to be added later. Total area covered by the course will then be 6,700 yards.

Seeding and landscaping will be done in the spring, Thomas said. In addition to Thomas, contractors on the project include Jack Meyers, Fought grazer contractor, and Kenney Brown, Evergreen, Inc., finish grading.

A club house, pro shop and golf carts will be available when the course is open for use, although a pro for the course has not yet been selected.

Also under construction in the Sprenger development are new office facilities for George Kneeland and Stratton Laggis, attorneys, and for Sprenger. It is anticipated the facilities will be completed by December.

Crews broke ground Monday for the original six condominium units to be constructed on the development site. The original six units will be used as models this winter for future development of the Bigwood Condominiums. Approximately 40 units are planned for the total development, depending on the demand. They will range from one to four bedroom living units ranging in price from $30,000 to $65,000 each. Neilson and Miller Construction, Twin Falls, are contractors for the condominiums, as well as the office buildings now under construction.

Several lots in the Parkwood subdivision, also in the Sprenger development north of Ketchum, have also been sold and two new homes are presently under construction here. The 15 acre subdivision contains 23 lots.

The Sprenger development covers 700 acres of ground.

Kindergarten To Cost $3.2 Million in Idaho

TWIN FALLS — Costs of having kindergarten classes as part of the Idaho public school system were outlined at a public meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Twin Falls Wednesday night in the Idaho Power Auditorium.

Mrs. Ronald Koch, chairman of the sub-committee on kindergarten studies of the Public Education Task Force for Legislative Planning, said the cost estimate is about $3.2 million and funding is being requested for the 1971-72 year.

She said 100 per cent financing is requested through regular school funding programs and costs would not be excessive. For a 22-member class on a half-day basis, the yearly cost would be $4,600, she said. Costs released today by the task force members in Twin Falls are to be made public later this week in a committee report to the legislature, she said.

Another speaker, Mitty Smith, who made a kindergarten study to determine need for such programs, said in almost every community there is a need and desire by residents for public kindergarten services.

Dr. Roy Truby, assistant to the superintendent of public education, told the group the 1971-72 school budget request in Idaho will be up $15.8 million and will include the $3.2 million for a 100 per cent financed kindergarten program. He said the school leaders of Idaho are looking for a kindergarten through 12 grade program for public education rather than a first grade through 12th grade system. This would require a revision of the entire program in both curriculum and financing, he said, but will likely someday be the accepted system.

Dr. Truby said like the driver training program, kindergarten programs would be offered the communities and districts on a local option basis but once the funding is provided, classes would probably become uniform throughout the state, he said.

All area incumbent legislators attended the Wednesday night meeting, Mrs. Ward Pack, chairman of the local league's education committee reported.

She said the league has not taken a stand for or against kindergartens but in studying the situation is attempting to bring information on all phases of the question to the public.

Erkins Named GOP Fund Chief

BUHL — Robert A. Erkins, Buhl, was named today by Idaho Republican Chairman Roland Wilder to the post of state finance chairman for the Republican party.

Nowserving as vice president of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, Erkins has served on the advisory board of the Small Business Administration for Idaho and on the finance committee of the Republican party in South central Idaho.

As state finance chairman, he replaces W. Grant Kilbourne, Pocatello, who has accepted the position of finance chairman for Gov. Don Samuelson.

The Buhl businessman, who took over operation of the Snake River-Trout Farm in 1954 and guided it to the world's largest rainbow trout producer-packer firm, said he is confident of a Republican victory this fall.

"However, the campaign does require money to get our message to the voters," he said. The Republican party is working for broad based financial support from concerned voters in Idaho and realistic goals have been set for obtaining sustaining members throughout the state," he said.

In addition to his business interests, Erkins has served as a board member for Region 11, Boy Scouts of America and has been active in all phases of local scouting, having been president of the Snake River Area Council and vice chairman of Region 11. He was the 1968 recipient of the BSA Silver Beaver Award and is a member-at-large of the national council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Erkins have 10 children and have been active in community affairs. He has been active in service clubs and has served as president of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and chairman of the American Red Cross Chapter.

ROBERT A. ERKINS... Buhl resident since 1954, has been appointed finance chairman for the Idaho Republican Party.

Activity Limited On Kickoff Date

TWIN FALLS — D-Day activities to launch the state-wide fund raising program for the Democratic party in Idaho were confined in Magic Valley areas today to a limited activity with the big push scheduled Oct. 6.

On Oct. 6, all major Democratic candidates will be in Twin Falls for opening of the local party headquarters in the old Sterling Jewelry building and a banquet in the Turf Club.

Cecil Andrus, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, will speak and all leading party contestants of the state will be present for the event, Twin Falls County Democratic Chairman Vincent Smazal announced.

Candidates will be on hand during the day to meet with voters at the headquarters building and will remain in the valley area for several days, he said.

Today marked activities throughout the state for the opening of a coordinated fund raising effort to back Democratic candidates in the November election.

141 Shot In Camas Hospital Work Contract Let

FAIRFIELD — The "Stamp Out Rubella" clinic was successful in Camas County with 141 youngsters taking advantage of the vaccination program, Mrs. Lloyd Barron and Dr. Marion J. Kerns reported Wednesday.

The clinic was held Tuesday in the high school library. Other registered nurses besides Mrs. Barron included Mrs. Willard Wilson, Mrs. Ben Krahn and Mrs. Wesley Fields. Mrs. Pauline Merrill and Mrs. Robert Newhouse did clerical work. Drug sundries were donated by the Camas Club.

HAILEY — A $29,800 contract for an 1,150 square foot addition to the Blaine County Hospital was awarded to the L. J. Ellsworth Construction Co., Blackfoot, Wednesday afternoon by the Blaine county commissioners.

The Ellsworth bid for the work was the only one submitted and met with the requirements of the hospital board's specifications. Work will begin next week on the addition which will include needed storage space as well as housing for a walk-in cooler and freezer unit for the hospital. The firm has been given 120 days to complete the work.

The company's bid also included figures for alternate additions, one for an overhead door for the addition at $150 extra, and for an exhaust fan for $200 extra. Because of lack of funds, however, the alternate bids were rejected.

Also opened Wednesday were bids for the 8 by 12 foot ceiling and the 6 by 12 foot freezer units. Because of the lack of available funds, however, commissioners agreed to hold the bid figures for 30 days before taking action.

The apparent low bid was submitted by Scott's Refrigeration, Twin Falls, for $4,578.55, with 60 days to complete the job. Pool's Electric, Twin Falls, would subcontract the electrical work.

Other bids were submitted by Evans Refrigeration, Boise, for $5,070, and Restaurant and Store Equipment Co., Salt Lake City, for $5,498.

In addition to serving the existing hospital facilities, the added space will be used to service an anticipated 26 bed nursing home planned for the south end of the hospital property, according to Chris Meanea, hospital administrator.

Rulings - Barnett Attacked By Park

TWIN FALLS — Connecting legal opinions issued by the present attorney general's office have confused the public and bewildered state officials, W. Anthony (Tony) Park told Twin Falls Rotary Club members Wednesday.

Park, Democratic candidate for the attorney general's office on the November ballot, told Rotarians the present attorney general first issued an opinion on paying state employees who have terminated their employment saying they should be paid over regular pay periods for accumulated vacation time. A second opinion then came from the same office saying all money owed former employees should be paid in a lump sum.

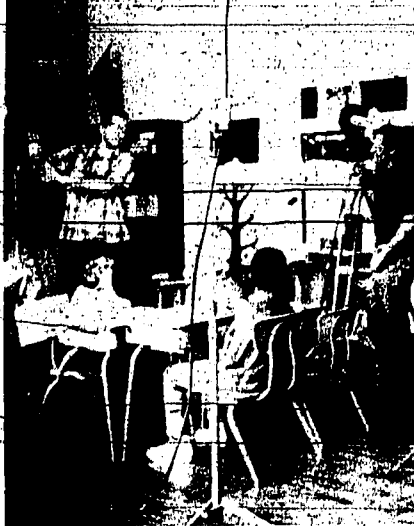

"This sort of inconsistent approach to legal issues has characterized the office's performance since my opponent was appointed by Gov. Samuelson," Park said.

Park further charged that delaying state progress in that many opinions needed from his office by other state officials must be requested two and often three times.

If elected, Park said he would return the operations of the attorney general's office to a professional legal basis to serve the people of the state.

DEBRIE WAS RECOVERED after a 1964 Buick Wildcat was crushed when this pickup, loaded with lumber and other material, was driven off Interstate 84 near the highway interchange in Jerome County. Driver of the vehicle, Eugene J. Dugan, 32, and his husband, Clyde R. Dugan, 41, of Idaho Falls, both are listed on the north side of Interstate 84. The pickup overturned and rolled into the canyon below. The Buick was crushed and the driver was killed. The husband was injured. The scene is shown in this photo.

SHOSHONE FIFTH GRADERS were filmed by U. S. Department of Agriculture information specialists Tuesday in their conservation study. More footage was taken today as the students participated in a tour where soil, water and other facets of conservation were studied.

Shoshone Pupils Filmed on Tour

SHOSHONE — Lincoln county fifth graders were being filmed today by television technicians from the U.S. Department of Agriculture as they participated in a conservation tour.

Students of Mrs. L.M. Hatmaker also "starred" in footage filmed by USDA information specialists Stephen G. Wade and Nelson Robinson, Washington, D.C., Tuesday in their classroom.

Wade said the film will relate what is being taught in the local school curriculum about improving environment by reaching students early about conservation.

Noting that environment is not a city problem only, Wade said the conservation studies initiated about 15 years ago by Mrs. Hatmaker under the leadership of the late Cecil Cope, local soil conservationist, "might show what can be done to benefit the entire population and illustrate the cooperative efforts of all government agencies and the school system."

During Tuesday's filming, students gave prepared information on the subject and the room featured decorations on the conservation theme. Today's tour included five stations south of Dietrich designated as soil, forestry, range, wildlife and recreation and archaeology.

Farms included on the tour were those of Jack Edwards, Monte Sorensen, John Anderson and Boyd-Anderson.

A weather program was given this morning at the Dietrich school by Lloyd Graybill, Weather Bureau official.

Participating personnel and the agencies involved were William Mabbutt, Arthur Gerity, Edward Savaria and

Gooding Grange To Meet

TUTTLE — Newly elected officers of the Gooding County Pomona Grange will be installed at the Gooding Grange hall Saturday night. Leaders of the county subordinate Granges also will be seated in the joint ceremony.

Pomona officers include Elmer Hansen, master; Ben Glauner, overseer; Mrs. Opal Miller, lecturer; Omar Schmitt, steward; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ewing, assistant stewards; Mrs. Mae Copsy, chaplain; Vernon Bumgarner, treasurer; Mrs. Agnes Byce, secretary; Raynard Wright, gatekeeper; Mrs. Dorothy White, Ceres; Mrs. Bertha Stickle, Pomona; and Mrs. Ed Davis, Flora.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoskovec were named alternates to the state Grange convention. Mrs. Ewing said 22 entries had been judged in the needlework contest and 14 sent on for judging at the state convention.

Mud Creek Project at Buhl Toured by Group

BUHL — Members of the Mud Creek Water Users, Inc., the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and the Farmers Home Administration toured the Mud Creek Water project Tuesday afternoon.

The project, located approximately 3 miles northwest of Buhl in an area known as Melon Valley, diverts water which was being wasted down Mud Creek, on the farms of five producers. The Melon Valley area is comprised mainly of small farms and the supplemental water will increase crop production and farm income for these producers, and generally improve the economy of the area.

Members of the Mud Creek Water Users, Inc., are Guy Kinyon, president; Harvey Hassip, Clarence Young, Dewey Nipper and Robert Palmer.

The project will provide 417 inches of supplemental water for five farms with the completed installation capable of delivering 500 inches. The project consists of 2658 feet of 20" concrete ditch lining, 3062 feet of earth ditch, 410 feet pipeline, six structures and a diversion dam. The total cost of the project was $20,739.40.

The Agricultural Conservation practice of cost sharing paid $10,019.70 of the total project cost. Those assisting the ASCS in the project were the Soil Conservation Service who furnished the engineering service and construction plans; the Twin Falls Technical Action Panel assisted in the development of the project, and the Farmers Home Administration approved a long-term loan for the farmers share of the project.

The Mud Creek Water Users, Inc., made a request from the Balance Rock Soil Conservation District for technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service to provide preliminary investigation and feasibility study.

Those on the tour in addition to the Mud Creek Water Users members were Kent Kirk, County executive director of the ASCS; Jack Allen and Rulon Sparks of the Farmers Home Administration; Doug Bishop, Soil Conservation Service; Don Kramer, chairman of the Nipper and Robert Palmer.

Balance Rock Soil Conservation District; Bill Brake, ASCS field representative; Harlan Blackburn, ASCS district director and Glendora Wubker of the ASCS office, Austin Moore and Guy Kinyon, county ASCS committeemen and George Black, State ASCS committeeman.

Milk Price Bill Held up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said Tuesday that it had decided tentatively to pigeon-hole a proposed new formula for setting minimum prices paid to farmers for bottling milk.

A department statement said the agency was recommending that no action be taken on a plan to gear prices to a series of economic indicators such as consumer prices and incomes.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A substantial increase in soybean planting will be needed next year if U.S. growers are to keep pace with expected domestic and export demand, the Agriculture Department says.

The comment came in a summary of a "Fats and Oils Situation" report prepared by department economists.

The report said today domestic and export sales of soybeans in the 1970-71 marketing season — the sales season for the 1970 crop — will exceed production by a wide margin for the second consecutive year. As a result, reserve stocks which stood at 324 million bushels on Sept. 1, 1969, will be pulled down to an estimated 56 million bushels by September 1971.

With reserves down to the projected low level — the equivalent of only two weeks supply at current use rates — economists said soybean users in the 1971-72 marketing season will be almost totally dependent on the 1971 crop.

Looking ahead to the 1971-72 season, the prospective tight demand and supply balance and higher prices will result in a substantially increased acreage requirement to meet an anticipated 4.65 billion bushels of (domestic) and exports, the report said.

Economists said this year's reduced supply level and a continuing strong demand would combine to hold farmers' prices for 1970 crop averages above last season's average of $2.35 per bushel.

Total supplies for the 1970-71 marketing season — the 1970 crop of 1.1 billion bushels plus the Sept. 1 reserve carryover of 220 million bushels — were 6 percent smaller than a year ago.

Total demand during the season, experts added, was expected to rise to about 1.3 billion bushels, up 100 million bushels from last year.

The predicted gain in total demand was small in comparison with the 30 percent gain registered during the 1969-70 marketing season. But it would be enough to exceed the 1970 crop and whittle reserves down to the lowest level since 1966.

For the new 1970-71 marketing season, experts predicted a "moderate" increase in domestic use over last season's record total of 737 million bushels. Soybean exports were also expected to rise moderately from last season's record 489 million bushels.

On the domestic side, economists said soybean demand could be spurred by the fact that corn blight has reduced prospective corn supplies, but they said higher corn and soybean prices could backfire by persuading some livestock feeders to trim their production plans.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were lower in routine trading at the halfway mark Thursday. A three-hour turnover of 6,010,000 shares was down from 6,800,000 shares in the corresponding period Wednesday. Analysts attributed the slower volume to the absence of traders observing the Jewish Holy Day of Rosh Hashanah. The Dow Jones industrial average was off 2.05 at 758.63 near 1:15 p.m. Of the 1,461 issues crossing the tape, declines topped advances, 676 to 480. Among the day's most active issues were Sony Corp. up 4 on 174,800 shares, Minnesota Mining down on 100,100 shares, Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. 1/4 on 78,400 shares, and General Computing up 1/4 on 73,700 shares.

Wall Street Successful Investing Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—As a result of disinflation-measures, the bond market has been enormously strengthened. Arthur Research Corp. says the huge volume of long-term borrowing anticipated for this year "will go a long way toward improving the liquidity position of non-financial corporations, it adds. Over the long run interest rates should continue to drop, the firm says, but "the heavy volume of new issues may lead to occasional traffic jams and temporary increases in bond yields."

The market is in a recovery phase, bolstered by improved fundamentals, such as the July surge in business activity, rising consumer purchasing power, rising new orders for durable goods and easing of monetary policy by the Federal Reserve Board, Spear & Staff says. Many stocks, however, are still selling at incredibly low levels, in terms of past and potential growth, management, and market value, the firm adds.

High Scoring Air Show Seen When ISU, Idaho Collide Saturday Night

It's called a 'civil war' but more specifically it is the annual football meeting between University of Idaho Vandals and the host Idaho State Bengals Saturday night in the ISU mid-dome. An Idaho State all-time record crowd is assured since for the first time the Bengals can seat 12,000 and all the tickets are gone. Basically, what it will boil down to is a battle of defensive secondaries and so far both teams have died right there. Idaho brings up 9-3 mark into it while ISU dropped lightly regarded Nevada of Las Vegas last week after running into two midwest toughies—Drake and Tulsa—and losing. The last time these two got together—when ISU won for the first time in history—it was a total offensive show. ISU managed to stay the Vandal offense in the first half and built up a three-touchdown edge but in the final quarter, the teams were throwing the ball up and down the field and making the scoreboard change digits about as fast as a super market cash register. Something like that can be expected Saturday night. Idaho State still hasn't found a consistent ground game—and has been looking for one for several seasons now. Idaho's basic claim to rushing fame is junior halfback Fred Riley who is a fine break-away threat. But he's done that only once this year.

Minnesota Seeks Backup Quarterback

(UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings have been talking to former Philadelphia quarterback George Mira about playing with the Vikings, General Manager Jim Finks said Wednesday. Finks said Mira cannot join the Vikings until a contract with the Eagles is settled. He reportedly had a two-year, no-cut contract for $50,000. "A team picking him up would not have to honor the contract, but the Eagles would have to pay the difference between whatever salary he received from Philadelphia and the new salary." Finks said the Vikings had been in contact with Mira for about two weeks.

"He has indicated he'd like to come, but he has to settle his contractual obligations," he said. Finks said the Vikings have talked with Mira and his attorney over the telephone, but they have not talked to him in person. Mira, 28, was released prior to the regular season by the Eagles. The Eagles had acquired him from San Francisco. The 5-11, 190-pounder has been in the NFL for six years. During that time, he completed 137 to 316 passes for 1,951 yards. Finks said the Vikings coaches "think he is a fine prospect. He's young and, and really hasn't played a lot."

Musher-Carey and W.R.-Pilot Games Highlight Loop Slate

The undefeated Camas County Mushers and unbeaten although Hod, Carey Panthers battle for what could be the Snake River eight-man conference title while Gooding invades Wendell for a showdown between undefeated Big Six Conference teams Friday.

Three area teams will leave the district, Minico going to Highland, Buhl to Emmett and Jerome to Blackfoot. Filer is out of the district but in the South Central Idaho Conference at Mountain Home and two non-district teams, Skyline and Rigby move in. Rigby will be at Burley for an Eastern Idaho Conference battle while Skyline lost the Bruins at Twin Falls.

Skyline Invades T.F., Minico to Test Rams

The Minico Spartans draw the honor of being the first Magic Valley football team to play indoors—participating in a rare doubleheader in the ISU mid-dome against Highland Friday night while the Twin Falls Bruins return to Bruin stadium to play the Skyline Grizzlies.

On the basis of comparative scores, the Camas County Carey thing should be about a toss-up. Camas County just nipped Rimrock 26-18, a team Carey throttled 52-18. But earlier, Carey was tied by Richfield, a team Camas County beat 40-8.

Grid Coach For Miami Resigns

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (UPI)—Charlie Tate, in the final year of a seven-year contract, resigned Wednesday as head football coach and athletic director of the University of Miami.

Gooding has to contend with the break-away threat of Kirk Dennis plus a strong Trojan defense and Wendell. Burley, riding a 2-2 record, draws an unknown quantity in Rigby but the sixth-district crew hasn't won much. Burley had last week off.

In other action, Jerome draws a tough one in Blackfoot, the Broncos having only an opening season loss to Minico against them. Jerome has a 3-1 mark and is showing a good balance between running and passing. In addition, the Tigers have intercepted 13 passes in their first four games.

Tate's resignation was announced by university President Henry King Stanford who said it came "as a complete shock and surprise to me." Stanford gave no reason for the sudden decision of Tate, saying only that Tate told him he was resigning "in the best interests of the university, the coaches, the recruiting program and everyone concerned."

Filer will be looking for its first win of the season at Mountain Home. The Wildcats tied with Wood River last week after three straight losses. Mountain Home's problem is similar to that of the Wildcats—not being able to score. Both have respectable defensive records.

With the defense improving, Twin Falls made its best offensive showing last week with senior halfbacks Robert Wagner (160 yards) and Alan Scherbinski (104 yards) leading the way. Kevin Nelson took over the quarterback duties and threw for 133 yards.

A good one is on tap for 1 p. m. Friday at Halley where the Glenns Ferry Pilots, 4-1, will be testing the Wood River Wolverines in a Big Six league game. A good Big Five game will bring Shoshone to Valley where the Vikings will give Shoshone its toughest passing test so far.

Minico's defense, which has been good thus far, runs into a severe test as the Rams have mounted a powerful offensive machine. The Rams had 1876 total yards thus far with 1080 coming on the ground. Bill Green, quarterback, ranks as the man to watch as he has passed for 683 yards and run for another 200. The Spartans have another threat in the field goal kicking of Ted Tomlinson, who has drilled a couple from 30 yards through the air. Jerry Bull draws an imaginative-type team which always has something special for each opponent. Emmett will be a little bigger than the Indians who are trying to improve on a 1-3 record.

Table with columns: Season, play yds, avg, touchdowns. Lists stats for various teams like Simmonds, Highland, Greenback, etc.

Onkley's victory over Raft River last week rather stabilized the Magic Valley Conference race. The Hornets will entertain Wilkes Hagerman while Castleford, riding its best start in a long time at 3-1, will be at Murtaugh. The Red Devils are 1-2 in the league and 1-4 overall. Hansen, fighting to stay within a game of the Hornets in anticipation of their season finale meeting, will be home to Declo.

New York Okays Buchanan's Title

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York State Athletic Commission said Wednesday it will recognize Ken Buchanan as world lightweight champion although the title has been declared vacant by the World Boxing Council and the Californian commission.

Keegan Paces O'Leary Win

Pat Keegan shook loose on touchdown runs of 42 and 78 yards and Mal Harder laced on a 62-yard scorching sprint Wednesday night to lift the O'Leary frosh past Burley 24-9. Harder started the scoring with his 62-yard dash and Dave Galvan got the extra points. Keegan's first run came four plays after the kickoff—and following a Burley fumble. Harder got the two pointers.

Both Vulnerable
West: North East South
1 NT Pass 2 ♠
Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead—♠ J

One no-trump would be down one or two tricks, provided West didn't take the first spade trick. So, the major suit sign-off proved very successful.

The Jacoby Transfer Bid may be added to JACOBY MODERN, it is a bid and will be discussed in a few weeks. Playing the Jacoby Transfer, South would have responded two hearts and North would proceed to two spades.

North would be unhappy when South passed at two spades, but he would have been very happy when he saw the dummy. No defense would beat two spades played by North and a diamond of club opening by East would give declarer an overtrick.

Overtricks don't mean much in rubber bridge. However, once in a while the trick gained by letting the no-trump hand play the suit will be the contract trick.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

In all forms of Slayman, the response of two in any suit but clubs is a weakness bid. It says, "Partner, we don't have a game and my hand is unsuitable for no-trump. If you have a maximum no-trump and like my suit, you may try raising me to three, but in all other instances I want you to pass."

South has one of those hands. He has no interest in game and he doesn't like the idea of letting his partner struggle with one no-trump. Playing JACOBY MODERN, or almost anything else that is modern, he responds two spades. South has 17 points for his no-trump but he doesn't like spades and 10 of his points are in queens and jacks. He passes, just as he should.

There isn't much to the play at two spades. West makes his normal opening lead of the jack of clubs and the defense winds up taking one spade, two hearts, a diamond and a club, which isn't quite enough to beat two spades.

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been:

What do you do now?

—Bid one heart: You prefer this to one spade because with four hearts your partner can raise hearts; with four spades he can bid one spade.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid one heart and your partner raises you to two hearts. What do you do now?
Answer: Tomorrow

PASS IT ON

by L.M. Boyd

COURTS in about 15 states disqualify the testimony of an admitted atheist. ONE IN SEVEN unmarried divorces at some time winds up, expecting... THE RECORD now lists only 214 people who claim to own the original pistol that killed Abe Lincoln... THAT PROFESSIONAL WOMAN last up to get divorced is the schoolteacher, statistics show... PLEASE NOTE also approximately 100 lightning bolts strike down somewhere on earth every second.

CONSIDER THIS -

What with Thanksgiving on the way, and really good turkey stuffing so hard to come by, here's a remarkable recipe. It's recommended by an old friend in Oak Harbor, Wash., as the surprise of the season.

Turkey Stuffing

- 3 eggs
- 1 tsp. salt and pepper
- 1 green pepper, cut up
- 1 cup celery, cut up
- 3/4 cups popcorn, washed
- 3 cups uncooked rice, washed

Mix well, stuff turkey loosely, put in oven at 350 degrees. Bake until popcorn pops and blows the hind end off the turkey.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q

"Ask your Love and War man if Vietnamese girls tend to be promiscuous." A. He reports his informants say no, they don't. Apart from the feminine professionals, who function at fixed stations and rarely go outdoors, there seem to be far fewer yes girls therapeutically than in, say, Germany, England or Japan.

NATURE'S OWN REMEDY -

Say fire hits a forest. The heat bursts the pine cones. That scatters the pine seeds all over. The flames burn the matted ground. So the seedlings take root almost wherever they land on the fertile ash. New pines sprout far faster across a burn than within the virgin woods. See how nature handles that? Rabbits run, and weasels, too, but they survive, most every one. In its own way, it's superior to Urban Renewal, I think.

AS TO THAT QUESTION of which is the oldest hardware store in the United States, am now advised it's John E. Bassett and Company of New Haven, Conn., founded in 1784... A CITIZEN of South Africa says the reason television is banned there is the population believes it would interfere with youngsters' homework... IF YOU CAN'T blow air through your lips at the hurricane velocity of at least 75 mph, you can't play the flute. Sorry.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 99068, Seattle, Wash. 98199.

Ketchum policeman Jerry Engelbert will compete in the National Police Olympics in Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday.

National Events Patrolman's Goal

KETCHUM — A Ketchum police officer, Jerry Engelbert, left Wednesday for Phoenix, Ariz., to compete in the second annual "National" Police Olympics Friday through Sunday.

Engelbert, who has been on the Ketchum police force for a year, has been lifting weights for about 14 years, and has placed three times in the National Olympic competition, in 1962, 1964 and 1966. His first competition was in the light heavyweight division, and all others, including this one, in the middle-heavyweight, at 198 pounds.

Competition at Phoenix will be in 10 events although Engelbert will only compete in the weight lifting section Saturday. Power lifting events will include the dead lift, squat and bench press. Engelbert's record lifts for the events are 620 pounds for the dead lift; 530

Season End Set Monday At Jerome

California is said to be the highest and lowest points in the continental United States are both in that state and only 86 miles apart. Mt. Whitney is 14,495 feet above sea level; Death Valley, the lowest point, is 282 feet below sea level.

The Monitor lizard of Arizona, world's largest, can reach a length of eight feet.

TWIN FALLS — Harbor House, of Magic Valley, has proven itself a needed and well used community facility in its 11 months of operation. Probate Judge Eugene McCoy said today, and the board of directors is now considering a permanent home for the temporary foster care center.

McCoy said since the home opened last November on the corner of 300 feet by about 300 feet located at the end of Fillmore St. N., as a building site for Harbor House.

In addition, cash gifts from organizations such as the Jaycees, Junior League and Country Music Association have given the committee $9,500 with which to obtain matching federal funds for construction. Matching funds have been assured for this year, McCoy added.

McCoy said with continued community support Harbor House can begin looking toward a building. In a meeting Tuesday afternoon, board members authorized a committee headed by Tom Nelson to recommend a building plan and to determine approximate costs.

Decisions the board must

Judge Says Harbor House Use Proves Need

Older homes for rent or permanent basis are difficult to find and many times the floor plans do not adapt well to housing of young boys and girls of all ages. This, McCoy says, is one of the problems with the present building. The two large bedrooms upstairs are both on the same side of the house parents' quarters and it is difficult for the house parents to give adequate supervision.

Construction of a new facility would in the long run undoubtedly exceed present available money and might have to be carried on in stages.

McCoy said the board of Harbor House would welcome community suggestions and hopes organizations and individuals who have supported the facility will voice opinions. "If necessary, we can stay where we are hoping the property will not be sold out from under us and solving that problem when and if we come to it and postponing the wiring, fire escape and other needed improvements as long as possible. We could try to rent another building or we could proceed with permanent building efforts at the present time," McCoy said.

In the Tuesday meeting several items such as road construction at the new land site, ware... listed as acceptable toward matching funds.

McCoy said plans are being made to remove all donated and purchased items from the present home if a move is made. This would include every scrap of carpeting and even the shrubs planted outside of the home.

Carrier Transfer Studied

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. military sources said Wednesday the Nixon administration is considering the removal of an aircraft carrier from Indochina as one of its next moves in the overall Vietnam military cut-back.

Military sources also reported that the U.S. command in Vietnam has begun a tight rationing system on ammunition, food and combat equipment to its nearly 300,000 troops.

In fighting action, Communist troops moved in Wednesday behind a huge Cambodian task force and reoccupied two villages brought under government control last week just south of the newly captured town of Tang Kauk 52 miles north of Phnom Penh.
