DALE STEWART

Stewart Joins Staff

TWIN FALLS — Dale Stewart has joined the staff of the Times-News as city editor, Al Westergren, publisher, said Saturday.

Stewart, 37, returns to Idaho from El Dorado, Kan., where he was a member of the staff of the Times for two periods totalling 11 years. He was news editor of that daily newspaper prior to moving to Twin Falls. From 1962 through 1965, he was a newsmen with the Idaho Statesman in Boise.

A native of Newton, Kan., he graduated from the University of Wichita following military service during the Korean war. He joined the El Dorado Times in 1956 as a reporter and later became sports editor.

During his two hitchhikes on the El Dorado daily, Stewart twice won the Kansas Associated Press Short feature contest. Earlier this year he was elected vice chairman of the Kansas AP Wire Editors Association.

Stewart, his wife Pat and their three children — Kathryn, 9; Ronald, 7; and James, 5, will live in Twin Falls. They attend the United Methodist church.

"We are particularly pleased to welcome Mr. Stewart to the Times-News family," Westergren said. "We look forward to his contributions to our readers."

As city editor, Stewart will assume the responsibilities for direction of staff reporters and correspondents.

POCATELLO (UPI) — The State Board of Education rejected the controversial Student Statement on Rights and Responsibilities Saturday, but promised regularly scheduled agenda time at future board meetings for students.

The statement, modeled after national civil rights laws and worked out over a four-year period by University of Idaho students, faculty and administrators, was rejected because of "inconsistencies" and "lack of back-up materials," which raised a question as to whether it could be adopted under the regents' by-laws, according to Dr. Donald F. Kline, executive director of the office of education.

He said there should be time allotted for discussion of "basic philosophic principles" of importance to the students.

Bill Inley, ISU student body president, said students were frustrated over the "paternalistic attitude" of the board and said they would like to be able to sit down and discuss issues "point-by-point."

Jim McFarland, U of I student body president, said with the promise of time at board meetings "finally the collective student government voice has gained recognition and some authority concerning student problems and issues."

Wayne Mittledor, Boise, Boise State College student body president and president of the Idaho Student Government Association, added "this is a step long overdue, binding together all states of the higher education governmental hierarchy. The means of communication now have been formulated."

But in a statement issued by the Idaho Student Government Association, which represents student governments of Idaho's institutions of higher education, leaders said, "College student governments were given a great boost forward" by the decision to grant students time at future meetings.

U of I President Dr. Ernest

W. Hartung told the board members he felt the student proposal was "a good one for the University of Idaho" and expressed disappointment at the board's refusal to adopt the statement.

Dr. William E. Davis, president of Idaho State University, first suggested students be allowed time during board meetings.

"There is great frustration on the part of students because of their inability to have access to the board to discuss basic issues important to them," David said, adding up to now such meetings had been more or less of a critical nature.

Statement Rejected

Judges Confirm Picks

TWIN FALLS — Nine magistrates selected late last month have been approved by District Judges of the eight Magic Valley counties involved. Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the Twin Falls County board of commissioners and member of the initial selection committee, said Saturday he was notified by Judge Charles Scoggin, Fairfield, senior district judge, that the appointments have been approved with no changes.

Magistrates selected will attend a school in Boise beginning Dec. 6. The officials will take office in January when Idaho's new court reform system goes into effect.

Those selected are Reed P. Maughan and Daniel Mochl, Twin Falls County; Thomas LeRoy Blacker, Minidoka County; Charles C. Shaw, Gooding County; Russell Shaud, Jerome County; C. M. Wilson, Lincoln County; Charles Packham, Camas County; Bill Grant, Blaine County; and Cleason Anderson, Cassia County.

Nixon Under Tight Guard

By EUGENE V. RISHER LIMERICK, Ireland (UPI) — The tightest security in Irish history guarded President Nixon Saturday on his arrival for discussions with his chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks about a possible U.S. cease-fire proposal in Vietnam.

With anti-war groups organizing demonstrations against him in Dublin, Nixon was met at Shannon Airport by a handful of carefully screened spectators waving American flags and hundreds of security men. The crowd cheered, clapped and whistled. A few youths booed and then left when spectators turned on them shouting, "Go on home. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves."

Nixon flew in from Britain, where he spent a scant five hours meeting with Prime Minister Edward Heath and lunching with Queen Elizabeth. He joined Heath in a declaration calling for a 90-day extension of the Middle East cease-fire that is scheduled to expire Nov. 7.

Jerome Holdup Report Probed

JEROME — What might have been an attempted robbery at the First Security Bank in Jerome is being investigated, but officers said Saturday they think it was a false alarm.

They gave no reason for this theory. At 1:22 p. m. Friday G.R.N. Shepherd, manager of the bank, called the Jerome Police Department, reporting the incident.

Edna Darling, a teller at the bank, told Chief C. H. Fumney that a tall, slender young man walked up to her window, laid a white bag on the counter and asked for money.

She said the man didn't say how much money. When she said, "I'm sorry, sir, I can't have any money," he turned and walked calmly from the bank. She said the man was wearing a holster, but she saw no weapon.

Shepherd said, "We considered the man gave sufficient demand that we should follow standard procedures in case of bank robbery. This is what we did."

Investigation into the case is being directed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which ordered roadblocks set up in the vicinity. Traffic was not stopped, but simply observed.

About an hour after the incident in Jerome, an automatic telephone alarm was activated at the First National Bank in Hazelton. It was a false alarm, officers said.

SEARCHED FOOTBALL helmet and cleated shoe lie in the foreground amid wreckage of a twin-engine aircraft which crashed in the Rocky Mountains west of Denver Friday, killing 29 football players and members of a Wichita

State University party bound for Logan, Utah. A game with Utah State University was cancelled following the crash. A Colorado highway patrolman surveys the wreckage. (UPI)

Crash Cause Sought

SILVER PLUME, Colo. (UPI) — A federal disaster crew searched Saturday for the cause of a power loss that forced the crash of an ancient double-prop airplane on a Colorado mountainside, killing 29 persons, including the heart of the Wichita State University football team.

The FBI denied reports that it was investigating possible sabotage and any relation to four bombings in Wichita Friday, the day the plane and the players took their fatal trip across the Rocky Mountains.

"There is absolutely no evidence, no indication, that we should investigate the possibility of sabotage," said John F. Morley, assistant special agent in charge of the Denver FBI office.

Eleven survivors, two listed in critical condition, were in two Denver hospitals.

And on the campuses of Wichita State and Utah State, whose teams would have met on the football field Saturday, there was grief.

The 20-year-old Martin 404 was delayed 30 minutes during a fuel stop at Denver while work was done on its landing gear. The Wichita State team, coaches and fans were traveling to Logan, Utah, in two planes. The companion plane, a smaller Martin 202, landed safely.

The 33 persons aboard that plane returned to Wichita Saturday.

Scout Camp Dedicated

By PAULINE DAV
Twin Falls Correspondent
HAGERMAN — T. E. Roach, chairman of the board of Idaho Power Co., wielded an axe in an unusual "ribbon-cutting" against a rope woven by Boy Scouts Saturday afternoon to dedicate a new Scout camp named for him — Camp T. E. Roach.

The camp, located at the end of the Bob Barton Highway in the Hagerman Valley, was designed as the first year-around Scout camp in the Snake River Area Council, Roach said. The camp can be used in the winter as well as throughout the summer.

"Boypower is our greatest natural resource; we should cultivate it and make use of it throughout our nation, Roach told the group of about 60 in attendance. There were about 40 scouts on hand.

Dr. Paul B. Heuston of Twin Falls, Snake River Area Council president, was master of ceremonies for the occasion. Earl E. Haroldson, also Twin Falls, district manager for Idaho Power Co., also participated.

Following the dedication, the Scouts demonstrated a variety of skills.

Dignitaries present at the ceremonies included Council Vice Presidents John P. Bortle, Garth Eames, Isaac Lee and Jack Rice; Council Commissioner James S. Kinney; Council Treasurer Gordon Beckstead and Scout Executive Carl Osted.

The development committee for Camp Roach includes Earl Haroldson and E. J. Morgan, co-chairmen, and committee members Richard Gooby, Duane Shrenk, Stan Van-Demark, starting Vaughn, Jack Christenson and Dr. Heuston.

Victory Rally Strikes Sparks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Twenty thousand Americans demonstrated with Dr. Carl McIntire Saturday at a March for Victory in Vietnam rally that sparked scattered fights between antiwar youths and self-proclaimed "hard hats."

By late afternoon, police reported 42 arrests resulting from fights and minor skirmishes, mostly on the fringes of the crowd that gathered at the Washington Monument after McIntire led a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

At one point, police fired a smoke cartridge into a crowd of antiwar youths who threw sticks and rubbish at them.

McIntire said the rally hit a low point when a benediction and a light rain began to fall.

counter-marchers. But on the eve of the rally, police arrested more than 300 youths who ran through the fashionable Georgetown business area of Washington breaking windows and damaging cars in a protest against the McIntire rally.

McIntire, a radio evangelist from Collingswood, N.J., told the rally: "We are not a pro-war rally. This is a rally for peace through victory."

He had hoped to have Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam — or at least Ky's pretty wife — as his main speaker. But they didn't come, and McIntire's prediction of a crowd of 50,000 fell far below.

Police had prepared for a crowd no larger than 50,000, estimated that, at its peak, the rally drew 20,000 persons.

McIntire told the rally "President Nixon is to blame for the strategy that kept Ky from coming and for sending the removal of William Sullivan from the State Department."

HARDHAT PINS DOWN a "vippie" during a clash on the grounds of the Washington Monument Saturday during the Rev. Carl McIntire's March for Victory Rally. An estimated 20,000 to 25,000 persons demonstrated during the rally, which sparked occasional scuffles. Nguyen Cao Ky, South Vietnamese vice president, did not attend. Madame Ky, who was also invited, didn't appear either. The march followed Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington Monument. (UPI)

Newspaper Week In United States

TWIN FALLS — This is National Newspaper Week. It starts today and continues through Oct. 10.

Newspapers throughout the United States, in observing the week, will emphasize the "right to know" and the "right to be known."

of newspapers and newsmen in protecting that right.

The week is centered on 200 years of freedom of the press since during the decade of the 1770's the nation will pass the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Hansen Education Stand Attacked

BOISE (UPI) — State Democratic Chairman Joe McCarter described incumbent Second District Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, today as "election year friend of education."
McCarter said Hansen, who is seeking re-election, had supported President Nixon's veto of last year's Health, Education and Welfare appropriation bill, but said Hansen had voted to override Nixon's veto of the education appropriation bill in 1970 when he had to face Idaho voters in a few short months.
At the same time, McCarter noted incumbent First District Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, had voted to sustain the President's veto of education appropriations bills both years.
He said McClure "will find that he has been sadly mistaken in his assessment of the feelings of Idahoans when it comes to providing a quality education for their children."
McCarter said Nixon stressed in his veto message that the federally impacted areas aid program was one of the major reasons he vetoed the education appropriations bill.
"The federally impacted areas aid program is vital to Idaho," McCarter said. "We are two-thirds federally owned and without these aid funds many of our school districts would be hard pressed to provide quality education for Idaho's children."

Non-Idaho Hunt Limit Suggested

SALMON, Idaho (UPI) — Cecil Andrus, Democratic candidate for governor, says Idaho should limit the number of permits issued each year to put-of-state hunters and fishermen.

He said the policy of raising fees for such permits is not working, and in reality the only result was a greater number of rich out-of-state hunters and fishermen.

Andrus said it isn't fair to Idahoans who live in the state 12 months of the year and expect residents to compete with non-residents under the present circumstances.

Boisean Killed

CARLIN, Nev. (UPI) — Vicki Raboin, Boise, Idaho, was killed Friday night when struck by a car as she and a companion tried to flag down help on Interstate 80 five miles west of here.

Search Pushed

COLFAX, Wash. (UPI) — An all-out search is underway for the body of a Lewiston, Idaho, woman believed to have been killed and her body dumped somewhere in the Steptoe Canyon in southeastern Washington.

Officers are looking for the body of Sharon Lawrence, 25, who was last seen Sept. 19. Her bloodstained purse was found on top of the Lewiston Grade a day later.

The search has intensified with the arrest of a suspect in Idaho. He has been held without charge in Lewiston.

Athens Goes Free

ATHENS (UPI) — The dead-line for an appeal against a judicial council's decision to exonerate Stavros Niarchos of his wife's death expired Saturday, and the case was formally closed.

A three-member judicial council for the Piraeus area decided Sept. 18 against pressing charges against the shipping tycoon for the death of his wife, Eugenia, at their island resort.

The judicial council, acting as grand jury, rejected the charges against Niarchos.

Niarchos never doubted that Greek justice, with its reputation for strict impartiality and fairness would finally vindicate him, said a spokesman for the shipping magnate after the verdict.

Hearing Sought In Assault Case

TWIN FALLS — David J. Friel, 27, Twin Falls, requested preliminary hearing Friday afternoon when he was arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon before Police Judge Harry Turner.

Friel, accused of the May 20, 1970, stabbing of D.A. Garlinghouse, Twin Falls, was returned from West Virginia Thursday by Sheriff Paul Corder. Friel was arrested barely this month in West Virginia on the Twin Falls charge. He first refused to waive extradition and authorities were in the process of attempting to extradite him when they were notified Friel had consented to waive extradition.

Gooding Boy Hurt On Tree

GOODING — A Gooding youth who was injured Saturday morning when he was assisting with tree removal on a farm near Gooding is hospitalized at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Gooding County deputies identified the youth as Monte Bohannon, 14, son of Mrs. Dean Bohannon.

Twin Falls officers who escorted the ambulance carrying the injured youth to the hospital said the boy apparently was riding on a tree being slipped by a tractor when a silver of the tree entered his lower back.

He was reported in fairly good condition Saturday after receiving emergency treatment.

The Salmon Tract Community Farm Bureau will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the William Lang residence.

Commissioner Candidates Merle Leonard and Edwin Lertman will attend the constitutional revision will be discussed by William Lanting.

Kimberly Girl Said Improving

KIMBERLY — Alice (Tink) Jones, 13-year-old Kimberly girl, was listed as improving at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday after she was injured in an accident last Tuesday.

Miss Rinehart was injured when the horse she was riding stepped into an area where a gas line had been buried. The ground gave way beneath the horse and it fell, throwing her off, then rolled onto her. She sustained a broken pelvis, and will be in traction for a month, her doctor said.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Vawser, sent to the scene to escort the ambulance, had to be towed away after his car fell into the trench.

Facilities Bids Asked

BUHL — Solicitations for 2,990 square feet of office and warehouse space for the Forest Service in Buhl will be issued Nov. 13 by the General Services Administration, according to Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho.

The administration also will be soliciting for offers of 2,155 usable square feet of office space for the Internal Revenue Service in Pocatello.

GSA is seeking a five year lease in both cities, Hansen said.

Advertisements of the soliciting will appear in the Twin Falls Times-News and the Idaho State Journal on Oct. 13 and the Buhl Herald on Oct. 15.

Cops Swing Clubs In Prison Riot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Helmeted, club-swinging riot police smashed their way into the 10-story Kings County (Brooklyn) jail Saturday in an attempt to wrest control of the building from riotous prisoners.

At least 50 policemen charged into the building, firing tear gas as they went. They hoped to rescue three guards held hostage by the prisoners since violence erupted at the jail at noon.

Eight policemen overcome by tear gas were taken away in ambulances.

The sudden strike at the Brooklyn jail by policemen who had arrived on the scene only moments before was the first attempt the authorities had made to restore order since a wave of rioting in New York jails began Thursday.

Prisoners holding 23 hostages were in at least partial control of four city jails Saturday. The lives of most of the hostages had been threatened.

The riot police, with helmets, handcuffs and simple supplies of lear gas had gathered first at the Tombs jail in downtown Manhattan, where rioters in control of the ninth and 11th floors held 15 hostages. Later, however, the police troops were shifted to Brooklyn.

When it appeared that an attack on the Tombs was imminent, a prisoner on the 11th floor shouted to newsmen on the roof of a building across the street, "If we don't come out alive, the hostages don't come out alive."

At the Brooklyn jail, police quickly seized control of the top three floors but did not immediately attack the fourth, fifth and sixth floors. The hostages were being held somewhere on those three floors.

Prisoners in Brooklyn had smashed tables and chairs, knocked out hundreds of windows and thrown burning bedding out of the jail. At one place, a hole had been knocked through a brick wall and a "black liberation flag" hung over the street.

At the Queens County jail, where the outbreak of violence began Thursday, a special court was holding bail hearing demanded by rioters who had threatened to murder five hostages if their demands were not met.

Circuit Administrator Criminal Court Judge Edward M. Dudley and State Supreme (Superior) Court Justice Andrew E. Tyler set up a makeshift courtroom in the jail to review the cases of some of the 47 inmates whose bail had been challenged by the rioters.

The cases under review were drawn from those of some 330 rioters to support the prisoners' charge that the courts set excessive bail for petty offenses, especially when Negroes or Puerto Ricans are involved.

Tyler, a Negro, was sitting on the case because most of the rioters were men of his race.

Mayor John V. Lindsay summoned acting Police Commissioner John Walsh and acting Chief Inspector Elmore Cone to City Hall to discuss the situation. The mayor conferred later with Corrections Commissioner George McGrath.

Hunter Targets Unusual

BURLEY—Sagehen hunters are seeing their targets in unusual places this fall—cattle-grazing areas and power company substations.

Cassia County sheriff's officers said Friday that two heads of cattle were shot, one at an apparently close range, on the east slope of Middle Mountain, southeast of Oakley along Birch Creek. The cattle, which had not been butchered after being shot, belonged to David Boden of Almo, who estimated their value at $400.

Sheriff's officers said that, based on the condition of the carcasses when found, they were apparently slain about the time the sage hen season opened.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department said a deer carcass was found in the same area, with no meat removed. It was apparently shot by bird hunters.

The power company substation west of Burley lost two yard lights to hunters at the same time, officers said. Since nothing else in the yard was damaged, hunters again were blamed.

CSI and Idaho State University are the schools in the Second District to receive a share of Idaho's $476,476 allocation. ISU will receive $299,700.

Federal funds provide 80 per cent of student payrolls with matching funds from the colleges and universities providing the remaining 20 per cent.

Andrus Sets Talk At Tuesday Meet

TWIN FALLS—Cecl Andrus, Democratic candidate for governor, will speak at a meeting Tuesday sponsored by the Twin Falls Chapter of the American Association of University Women, according to Mrs. Ruth Bondurant, chapter president.

The meeting, open to the public, will be at 4:30 p. m. at the Idaho Power auditorium.

Andrus has been requested to present his views on education, the "academic" community, kindergartens, the White Clouds issue and constitutional revision.

He will be at the auditorium prior to 4:30 p. m. so those who would like to speak to him privately may do so before the meeting, Mrs. Bondurant said.

Toy Drive Planned

FILER—A toy drive to collect toys for needy children, was planned by the Filer Civic Club at a meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. D. Lang.

Mrs. Robert Nelson, Twin Falls, spoke during the meeting on the proposed Constitutional revision for Idaho. The "Spritones," ladies' vocal trio composed of Mrs. Thane Lancaster, Mrs. Bob Triplett and Mrs. Roger Kalbfleisch, sang several numbers.

The group planned a traveling dinner for November. Mrs. William Lewis will host the November meeting.

4-H Week

The collective social conscience of nearly four million boys and girls will be very much in evidence this week.

By pledging their head, heart, hands and health to their club, community and country, these 4-H'ers demonstrate concern for their fellow man.

Through their project work and club activities, they develop into responsible citizens, improve our environment, and build nutrition and health.

We note with pride the educational opportunities, these young people receive through the 4-H program.

Under the leadership of the University of Idaho's Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H meetings and activities are conducted by county extension agents and volunteer local leaders.

These action-oriented boys and girls from nine to 19 years old, and some 27 million men and women who once were 4-H members, know the meaning of involvement.

To them — to the 4-H members and leaders of the Magic Valley — the Times-News extends sincere good wishes for continued success.

They are building a better way of life, for themselves and the world.

It's generally accepted that what the world needs now is not only love but communication to help people toward a better understanding of each other.

It depends, however, on whom you communicate with.

Two psychologists from Hope College in Holland, Mich., conducted an experiment in which some 300 high school seniors were divided into low-prejudice, medium-prejudice and high-prejudice groups on the basis of a pre-experiment questionnaire about their attitudes on racial matters.

As an example: "Some people recently have been saying that 'white racism' is basically responsible for conditions in which Negroes live in American cities. Others disagree. How do you feel?"

Responses were rated from plus-nine ("white racism" is responsible) through zero in the middle to minus-nine ("white racism" is not responsible).

Other items were concerned with two-way school busing, federal vs. local control of desegregation, property rights vs. open housing, patience vs. activism as a strategy, etc.

Each group, apart from the others, then held a discussion on the questions, after which the students marked down their final opinions on a new questionnaire.

It was found that the gap between the low-prejudice and high-prejudice groups was even greater after discussion than before. That is, discussion among people who shared similar attitudes reinforced and sharpened those attitudes.

The trouble with the world is not that we don't communicate with each other but that so much of our communication is with people who already agree with us.

MR. SPECTATOR

Oldsters Take Note

All is not lost for the oldsters! Mr. Spectator, looking over the list of those nominated to the Board of Governors of the brand-new United States Postal Service, found that the average age of those who will serve came to 55 years.

So it really must make you oldsters — and Mr. Spectator, too — feel quite good because, at last, the government has appointed a commission not made up of youngsters fresh out of college with a still wet degree.

The appointment of the Board of Governors is all part of the plan to get the postal department out of politics and into the field of at least a break-even institution so far as operating costs are concerned.

Members of the board will select the Postmaster General and that man will no longer be in the President's cabinet.

The Board will also designate the date the U.S. Postal Service comes into being. At that time the 101-year-old U.S. Postoffice Department will cease to exist.

There may be many Pony Express riders turn over in their graves but we believe that the change will be for the good — especially with a board of "mature" individuals.

A lot of book reviewers around the country popped their reading glasses when the Internal Revenue Service issued a ruling in July stating they would be taxable on the value of the books they received, even though the books were unsolicited.

Record reviewers, movie critics and others who receive free merchandise or benefits in the course of their work wondered if they, too were going to be tapped. The IRS has now issued a new ruling strictly limited to the facts of the actual case on which the first ruling was based.

It seems that the reviewer in question received 2,500 books from various publishers without charge in the hope that he would say a kind word about them. During the same year, he donated the 2,500 books to a charitable organization — but then claimed a deduction on his income tax for the contribution but without including the value of the books in his gross income.

That, as any taxpayer will agree, ought to be a no-no.

WASHINGTON — There is one strikingly significant similarity between that Black Panther "Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention" in Philadelphia and the "Strategy Action Conference" staged earlier by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam on the campus of the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee.

Both affairs were Communist motivated and dominated. Both were featured by endless tirades of the usual torrid Communist ideology and invective-punctured castigations of the war, imperialism, the police, the draft (carefully not mentioning, of course, the universal draft in all Iron Curtain countries), the Nixon Administration, etc., etc.

The Milwaukee gathering and the Chicago Seven defendants, were prominent agitators and wire pullers at both. Also very much on hand were Claude Lightfoot, black Communist Party mogul, and Errol Halstead, Trotskyite-Socialist Worker's Party executive.

Also certain of them are likely to be busy standing trial on charges of murder and other major crimes. Graphically illustrative of the Communist inter-relation between the Panthers "Constitutional Convention" and the New Mobilization "Strategy Conference" was the attendance and participation at both of officials and "delegates" of the following extremist and activist elements:

Obtuse Policy

Some of us know what President Nixon intends our policy to be in Southeast Asia and we know with certainty. Then how is it that Vice President Agnew returned from five Asian nations having left behind so much uncertainty about our nation's policy in that area?

That's the name of the game. Does Macy's tell Gimbels? Do the Auto Workers tell Mr. Ford? Do the Green Bay Packers publish their game plan?

Sen. Harrison Williams says the Vice President in his public utterances "circled certain issues," left our Southeast Asia policy ambiguous. He meant to.

After the Big War, the sun began to set on the bankrupt British Empire. The British recognized the impracticability of an island nation no larger than Illinois continuing to feed, finance, fortify, protect and police the almost limitless expanses of Asia.

As Britain withdrew from this peace-keeping responsibility, as France had been forced to do previously, the United States had a go at it.

We knew that our six per cent of the earth's population could not expect to corral and confine all the world's troublemakers, but we tried.

It was a too-certain statement by our then State Secretary Dean Acheson which invited the enemy to challenge us in Korea. In this regrettable instance, Secretary Acheson said we would not defend South Korea. Subsequently President Truman did defend South Korea.

That fumble was recovered but we're still paying for it. Suppose Vice President Agnew, on a mission for the President, had announced that Cambodia is none of our concern.

The immediate effect would be a full-scale resistance by the Lon Nol government, invite the Communists to move in and take over.

As they say, anyway, "But at least we will not suddenly have pulled the rug out from under the incumbent government there."

Instead, you'll remember Mr. Agnew said, "American forces will not be involved in Cambodia. But then he added, "... unless the security of American troops is threatened."

ART BUCHWALD

John, Martha

Washington has become the setting for several new television programs. The Bold Ones, starring Hal Holbrook, features a U.S. senator dealing with the problems of legislation for the country. Nancy is about a President's daughter who lives in the White House and is in love with a veterinarian.

Another one in the planning stage and written by a Hollywood friend of mine is titled John and Martha, the story of a simple attorney general of the United States named John and his simple fun-loving wife, Martha.

My friend said in John and Martha he hopes to answer the question of whether a man and woman who hate students, professors, educators and Sen. J. William Fulbright can find happiness in Washington.

"We're working on the pilot now," my friend said. "It's really a lot of laughs. We open with the Atty. Gen. John attending his fourth cocktail party of the evening. He's talking to a woman and tells her professors are 'stupid bastards' who are ruining the educational institutions. He calls Henry Kissinger, the President's assistant, an 'egocentric maniac' who likes to have his picture taken with Jill St. John, and he blames the Democrats for all the woes in the country."

"What about John's assistant?" "Well, that John doesn't know if that the woman he's talking to works for Women's Wear Daily and everything he's told her is printed in the paper. John reads it in bed the next morning with an ice bag on his head."

"You can imagine the flap," my friend said, chuckling on the subject. "The first thing John decides to do is deny he spoke to the reporter. But Martha has a better idea. While John is putting more ice in his ice bag, Martha sneaks to the upstairs bathroom of their Watergate apartment duplex and telephones a United Press reporter and tells her the Women's Wear Daily story is ridiculous."

"I started to chuckle myself. 'Now here is where it really gets funny. After denying what John said, Martha makes matters worse by saying the academic society is responsible for all the troubles in the country, and is destroying the United States. She tells the reporter that professors make her sick to her stomach, and they're a bunch of sidewalk diplomats and they don't have any right to say anything.'"

"My friend was roaring with laughter. 'It's pretty funny so far,' I admitted. 'My friend continued. 'In the next scene Martha has the ice bag on her head and she's reading what she told the United Press. John doesn't know what to do, so he sneaks up into the bathroom of Watergate and he calls his office and tells them to deny everything.'"

"But while John is on the telephone in the bathroom, Martha starts calling other reporters confirming what she said. 'The next day John has the ice bag on his head and he reads all the things Martha has added to the story. 'Here's where the thing really takes off,' my friend said. 'Guess who comes to visit John while he's in bed?' 'John Kenneth Galbraith?' I asked. 'No, stupid, Henry Kissinger and Jill St. John; they announce that, thanks to John, they're going to get married. Martha gets so excited when she hears the news that she rushes upstairs to her bathroom and calls the Associated Press. 'That's great,' I said truthfully. 'But what are you going to do for the next episode?' 'I don't know yet,' my friend said. 'But John and Martha will think of something.'"

Living Cost

WASHINGTON — As a campaign issue, inflation lost some of its muscle for the Democrats with the government's announcement that the cost of living in August posted its smallest increase in nearly two years. But it is not a license for smugness within the Nixon administration.

On the Democratic side, despite public attempts to downrate the improvement, a top aide of the Democratic National Committee put it in pragmatic terms.

The aide, who reflects the thinking of Chairman Lawrence O'Brien, was pessimistic. "We need that inflation issue," he said. "It's the best one in our bag. We're not going to get any aid and comfort from headlines saying that Dick Nixon has reduced the cost of living."

On the other hand, some top Republicans refuse to dance in the streets — yet. What the Consumer Price Index shows is merely a trend toward a much lower rate of inflation, spelled off in the statistic which says that seasonally adjusted rate of price increases over the past three months was only 3.5 per cent, compared to 6.0 per cent in the three months ending in May and 7.3 per cent in the three months before that.

The Republican problem is getting these figures over to the housewife prowling the supermarket. Shopping for hamburger, the housewife may find it difficult to go into restaurants over the fact that a pound of that staple has increased by only one cent instead of one and a half cents. After long years of high prices, she has a right to expect a bit more in the price-cutting department.

In other words, while Republicans salute the trend, the objective observer has to wonder whether it is significant enough and came soon enough to do GOP candidates some real good in November. Moreover, the Democrats have continued their sniping at Nixon's campaign against inflation. It is too little and too late, they charge.

And, as the three chief economic advisers under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson put it, "There is no basis of confidence that price increases in the closing months of 1970 will be less rapid than they were at the start of the Nixon administration."

The argument can be mounted that this is both sour grapes and professional gloom-peddling. At this point, the inflation's gallop definitely has been slowed. But the Democratic economists — Walter Heller, Gardner Ackley and Arthur Okun — do make some points.

One is that Nixon's failure to continue the Kennedy-Johnson policy for wage and price restraint resulted in an unnecessary boost in the cost of living. Another is that the economy continues sluggish and slack as a result of Nixon's tight money policy. They also noted that the full cost of this slack may reach $10 billion or more in lost production and incomes.

Obviously, what GOP candidates need is a continuance of the present downward trend.

Idaho Road Aid Seen In Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jordan, R-Idaho, said Friday the Senate had unanimously approved a bill that would provide highway aid to states with populations of interest to Idaho.

For the first time, Jordan said, the Senate authorized use of highway trust funds as a source of financing for forest highways and public land highways. He also said there is a provision for a minimum interstate system apportionment of one-half of one per cent to Idaho and other low population states. He said without the minimum, Idaho would have received only .378 per cent of the interstate funds for fiscal 1972-73.

Jordan said a $150 million per year program will be established to replace old, unsafe highway bridges such as the Perrine Memorial Bridge across the Snake River north of Twin Falls.

He said the Senate approved creation of a new urban highway system to improve traffic flow and implement urban transportation planning in metropolitan areas of 50,000 and larger.

He said there also is authority for financing highway safety and highway beautification programs from the highway trust funds, along with provisions tightening controls over the economic, social and environmental impact of highway construction.

"I am especially happy about the trust fund financing for the forest and public lands highway program, which are so important to Idaho," Jordan said.

"In many parts of the state, these highways are the only means of access to communities, schools, and industries including forest resources."

Jordan said the programs are largely regional in nature and said their funds had been the first to be cut in economy programs. He said trust financing would make the systems more stable and permit longer-range planning and development.

The bill provides $33 million for forest highways in each fiscal year 1972 and 1973 and $12 million for public land highways in each of those years. It also authorized appropriation of $170 million for forest development roads and trails in 1972 and 1973; $8 million for public lands development roads and trails in 1972 and $10 million in 1973; and $30 million for Indian reservation roads and bridges in 1973.

Red Leaders To Study Tito Successor Plan

BELGRADE (UPI) — Top Communist officials will meet Sunday to discuss President Tito's plan to keep multinational Yugoslavia united and independent after he dies.

Tito's idea is to form a committee of state and party officials to run the country once Yugoslavia's 78-year-old undisputed leader is gone.

Tito, still in good health and looking at least 10 years younger than his age, wants to see this state presidium in operation in a way that would safeguard his life-long striving to create a state of firmly united southern Slav nations.

Political observers in Belgrade said it was highly unlikely Tito would step down following the formation of the state presidium. This body would be headed by a chairman, elected each year from one or another of Yugoslavia's six constituent republics.

A report issued Thursday by top Communist theoretician Edvard Kardelj was the basis for discussion Sunday at a session of the 52-member Communist party presidium.

Tito announced Sept. 21 he would form a state presidium to govern Yugoslavia. Kardelj, one of Tito's closest aides and No. 2 man in the party, prepared his report of Tito's ideas.

Tito has led the Yugoslav Communist party since 1937. After leading Yugoslav underground through World War II, he became prime minister in 1945.

Under a new constitution in 1953, Tito was elected president. Today he is leader of both the party and the state of Yugoslavia.

Soldier Faces Trial Tuesday

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI) — Sgt. David Mitchell, charged with intent to murder 30 Vietnamese civilians in the alleged My Lai massacre, goes on trial Tuesday in a newly remodeled military courtroom. He will be the first soldier court-martialed on charges arising from the 1968 incident.

His attorneys — Ossie B. Brown of Baton Rouge, La., and Capt. James Bowditch and Thomas Parachini of Ft. Hood — have challenged virtually every phase of the military justice system from selection of courts to the constitutionality of military laws.

They have succeeded in getting a new court-martial panel to hear the Mitchell case, and perhaps in getting the government to be more specific in saying in advance exactly what they hope to prove Mitchell did at My Lai.

Brown, the freshly-dressed civilian who heads the defense team, says Col. George R. Robinson's decision to recommend a new court-martial panel was "unprecedented in military history."

The military judge in effect dismissed the court-martial panel selected by the commanding general of the 1st Armored Division, Maj. Gen. William Desobry, and asked Desobry to pick new men for the job.

The judge didn't order a new panel — which in Army circles would have been considered an affront to Desobry — but his aides indicated he might change the venue of the court martial unless he was assured Mitchell could get a fair trial at Ft. Hood.

Brown had alleged in a pretrial motion that lieutenants were systematically excluded from the original court martial panel.

Mitchell is the son of a minister from St. Francisville, La.

VISTA Nominee's Rejection Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Iowa congressman has asked the Senate to reject President Nixon's nomination of Carol Scherle to head VISTA.

The congressman said many other House members share his feelings that she has been arrogant and uncooperative.

"She has alienated many in the house by her arrogance and doctrinaire approach," Rep. William J. Scherle, R-Iowa, said in a letter to all 100 senators. "On several occasions she refused to cooperate with members of congressional staffs, even to the extent of denying them access to basic public information."

Later Scherle told a reporter: "Although I'm the only one who made his feelings known publicly, I know for a fact there are many other members of the house who feel as I do. I've talked to them and they've told me so."

A Senate source predicted that Mrs. Khorozy will be confirmed. He said there was no real opposition except for general feeling that she may have been unwise on occasion in her dealings with Congress.

Extraordinary Life Depicted By Pablo Casals

BY ELAINE NESBITT

With those magnificent thoughts Pablo Casals sets the extraordinary life of his own, extraordinary life in "Joys and Sorrows, Reflections," as told to Albert E. Kahn. It is a story set in an era of massive turbulence and change. It is a story of human compassion, reverence for beauty and faith in man.

Jerome Hopefuls Set Meet

JEROME — Democratic candidates will meet with residents of the Jerome area from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday at Wood's Cafe, according to Mrs. Charles Parker, publicity chairman for the Jerome County Democratic Central Committee.

The party will also visit the Eden-Hazelton area and will be at Shoshone for a dinner meeting.

A guest at the committee meeting Wednesday was Sen. Don Fredericksen of Gooding County.

The committee also discussed the fund-raising auction to be held at the Harold Klanson auction center south of Jerome on Oct. 13 and 20. Anyone wishing to donate items for the auction is invited to do so. If the donated items are taken to the auction center, the proprietor should be told they are for the Democratic auction.

School Spending Studied

POCATELLO (UPI) — The State Board of Education took under advisement today recommendations for "top priority" spending of $15.8 million from state general funds for public school programs in 1971-72.

In addition, the Public Schools Legislative Planning Committee asked for consideration of another $6 million for "necessary programs" and $4.8 million for desirable programs.

The top priority category included a $3.1 million request for a statewide kindergarten program and $250,000 for a date processing study.

Dr. J.P. Munson, Sandpoint, chairman of the educational task force committee, submitted seven subcommittee reports to the board for study and later action.

Munson said the committee is prepared to draw up the legislative proposals and will also conduct a public information program on a community level as well as working with members of the legislature.

Volunteer Guards Riding Airliners

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Pentagon announced Friday it is providing 800 volunteers from the four armed services to ride shotgun on commercial airliners in the campaign against hijackings.

Spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said the men will come from the enlisted ranks and will be trained by the Transportation Department at facilities provided by the Defense Department at Ft. Dix, N.J. They will receive $55 a month in flight pay in addition to their regular military salaries.

They will join a growing group of civilian air marshals drawn from various federal agencies since President Nixon

GOP Split Broadened By Scott

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican ranks split wider Friday when Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott criticized Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for attacking his party's senatorial nominee in New York, Sen. Charles E. Goodell.

"I think when the President is away, those who are not the President seem disposed to play," said Scott. "I will be glad when the President gets back." He appealed for party unity.

Agnew charged Wednesday that Goodell had abandoned the party and joined Nixon's ideological opponents. This was denounced by the New York senator today. "His (Agnew's) rhetoric suggests that people who question the administration's views are somehow dangerous and irresponsible, have no place in public life and should be discredited in the public eye," Goodell said.

Nixon's lack of endorsement of Goodell—and Agnew's outright attack—suggested to many political observers that the President prefers James L. Buckley, the Conservative Party nominee, to Goodell.

Senate Slates New Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic leader Mike Mansfield Friday scheduled a third attempt to force a Senate vote on a proposed constitutional amendment for direct popular election of the President.

Although members have twice refused to halt Southern-led debate against the proposition, Mansfield filed another cloture petition, a parliamentary device that calls for a vote an hour after the Senate convenes today.

It takes a two-thirds vote of members present and voting to halt debate. The first cloture vote failed by six votes (54 to 36) and the second by five (53 to 34).

Uriguen Seeks Alumni Post

POCATELLO — Two Idaho State University alumni, one from Boise and one from Twin Falls, are running for the office of president-elect of the ISU Alumni Association.

They are Abbie Uriguen, Twin Falls businessman and Gale Chambers, Boise newsman, and former Times-News farm editor. The winner will be installed as the new president-elect in ceremonies during ISU homecoming Oct. 17.

He will serve as president during the 1971-72 school year. Originally from Rupert, Uriguen taught school at Burley for two years after serving in the Army as a member of the special services. He joined Theisen Motor Co., Twin Falls in 1969 and worked as sales manager until 1968 when he purchased the Buick Oldsmobile dealership in Twin Falls.

Chambers who came to ISU from Burley, worked for the Union Pacific Railroad after serving in the Armed Forces, and later worked on papers in Burley, Twin Falls and Pocatello. He is now the state editor of the Idaho Farmer magazine, with headquarters in Boise.

Welding Classes Slated

TWIN FALLS — Registration is scheduled Tuesday evening at the College of Southern Idaho vocational school for a night class in basic arc and acetylene welding, according to Frank Schell, T and L coordinator.

The course will begin after registration and run from 7 to 10 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday nights for a total of 60 hours.

Students will be taught the fundamentals of arc and acetylene welding, Schell said. Cost of the course is $30 plus $5 registration fee. Classes will be limited to persons working in trades which require welding skills for advancement in that particular trade.

Anyone wishing further information may call Schell at the vocational school, 733-3554.

Buhl High Evaluation Visit Set

BUHL — A 20-member team will evaluate the Buhl High School Monday through Wednesday, Supt. Rex Engelking reports.

The school belongs to the Northwest Accrediting Association and under a new ruling, every school in the organization must be evaluated every 10 years, he said.

Magie Valley area school officials who will assist in the rating include Supt. Bill Barnard, Hanson; Supt. Lawrence LaRue, Wendell; John Lawrence, Twin Falls High School principal and Supt. Ernest Ragland, Twin Falls.

Uterine Cancer Is Curable In Almost 100 Percent Of Cases If Diagnosed Early

The American Cancer Society urges every woman to have a Pap test as part of a regular health checkup.

Uterine cancer is curable in almost 100 percent of cases if diagnosed early. The Pap test makes early detection possible.

BARBARA CRAWFORD, on left, and Donna Hether, directors of the mailing campaign for the annual fund-raising effort of the National Foundation — March of Dimes, prepare envelopes for prospects as the annual campaign takes shape. The formal fund drive will be conducted next January. Volunteers to mail the envelopes are asked to call 734-2048 or 423-5489 to volunteer their services.

March of Dimes Mail Campaign Plans Set

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Donna Hether of Kimberly, assisted by Mrs. Barbara Crawford of Twin Falls, will direct the mailers' campaign in the annual January fund-raising appeal for the National Foundation — March of Dimes. Rev. Delbert P. Romaley, Twin Falls County chairman, said the appointments mark the opening of campaign preparations for the drive.

In discussing the goals of the campaign, Romaley emphasized that "When the March of Dimes turned its energies and resources toward the prevention of birth defects in 1958, following its significant victory over polio, the challenge was electrifying. It was the first major attack on diseases that afflict a quarter of a million of our newborns annually — about 900 in Idaho alone."

Romaley added that "During the intervening years, we have concentrated top-flight research, outstanding medical talent and the most modern equipment and rehabilitation techniques into a nationwide network of 111 birth-defect centers."

Agents State Meet

TWIN FALLS — Life Underwriters Assn. members of Twin Falls will meet Monday night at the Rogerson Hotel to hear an address by state association president, Harlon Baker.

The state president has advised local members the Idaho Association of Life Underwriters has received the Louis I. Dublin award, given as a national recognition for promotion of the Medic-Avert program.

This annual award is sponsored jointly by the Institute of Life Insurance and the National Association of Life Underwriters and presented the state and its communities judged "most outstanding in community service."

"Broad-based patient service and research programs must be planned and administered nationally, not fragmented," Romaley concluded.

Heavy Trading Brings Market Modest Gains

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market, shipping off-its-pace in the nation's unemployment rate and the death of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, scored a modest gain in heavy turnover this week.

Analysts generally believed that easier money conditions and the recent surge in volume probably had offset the generally negative news background. But they cautioned that the next major test for the list will come in about two weeks, when third quarter corporate earnings results start flowing in.

The NYSE common stock index rose 0.69 to 46.64. Standard & Poor's 500 stock average gained 1.19 to 85.16, and the Dow Jones industrial average, "barometer" of blue-chips, rose 4.39 to 766.18.

Of the record 3,783 issues crossing the tape, advances outnumbered declines, 1,659 to 580, and new highs exceeded lows, 100 to 15.

Turnover for the five days aggregated 72,245,039 shares, down from the record 83,422,450 shares a week earlier, but considerably above the 52,246,070 shares which changed hands during the year ago period.

Theodore Bukowski, analyst for E. F. Hutton & Co., said he looked for a "quiet, drifting market" over the near term as investors wait to see how quarterly earnings will shape up.

He noted they are expected to provide a clue whether the Administration's game plan for economic recovery is on schedule.

Saul Smierling of Standard & Poor's said market sentiment is being "dominated by an easier money policy" which should tend to spark a business recovery in early 1971.

The government reported unemployment in September jumped to 5.5 per cent of the labor force, the highest level in nearly seven years. But an administration official suggested the figure was misleading, adding the statistics of the previous months might have been too low.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said joblessness might go even a bit higher before it begins to fall.

But he said President Nixon shares his belief the latest data "does not indicate the economy is moving off to some sort of disappointing dogleg" and does not change the administration expectation the economy would continue its moderate growth.

The government also reported the composite index of leading economic indicators, regarded as a barometer of future economic activity, dropped 0.09 per cent in August after a 1.3 per cent gain in July.

Administration economists had halted the rise in July, but at least a figure touched off concern the comeback would be less vigorous than the Nixon administration had hoped.

However, Harold C. Passer, assistant Commerce Secretary for economic affairs, insists the August dip "does not negate the basic pattern of upswing in the leading indicators that has developed over the last several months."

As for Vietnam, Wall Street seemed to draw some optimism from predictions of a speedup in U.S. troop withdrawals.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said an end to the Vietnam War is in sight. He said the last of American combat troops in Vietnam would be leaving by next summer as part of an accelerated withdrawal program he predicted Nixon would announce soon.

Rails and airlines were the week's strongest features, although a number of electronics and oils also showed marked strength. The better tone in the oils was said to reflect predictions of fuel shortages for the winter.

Motors, chemicals, steels and aircrafts generally traded in narrowly irregular fashion.

Telex Corp., which headed the most active list, eased 1/4 to 20 1/2 on 1,272,500 shares.

British Petroleum, in second position on the strength of a large block transaction, edged up 1/2 to 9 1/2, ex-dividend, on 1,129,800 shares. On Friday, BP traded a block of 552,000 shares at 9, the sixth largest block in the Exchange's history, and the third largest of the year.

Low priced Plessey Co. was the third most active stock. It fell 1/2 to 3 1/4 on 1,003,800 shares.

Less active but sharply higher were Kerr-McGee up 14, IBM 10 1/4, Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad 9 1/4, Norfolk & Western Railway 8 1/4, Burroughs 6, Atlantic Richfield 5 1/4, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines 8, and Louisville & Nashville Railroad 10 1/4.

By Frank Schell

From P. Burley, Idaho: I have a nickel, Liberty 1907. It is much thicker on one side than the other. It is all so off-off, with the Liberty and 1907 real close to the edge. Does it have any value?

Answer: Since the United States Mint has started using their high speed coining presses, errors have become common. Our coinage now is apt to be struck any way except the right way. Mint errors such as yours command a premium, and sell generally for $1.00 to $1.50, depending on whether you find the collector who is interested.

From Mrs. G. M. Rupert, Idaho: Can you please tell me about some Spanish coins and their values? Following are the descriptions: 1. "Carolus III, Dei Gratia 1788." 2. "Ferdin. VII Dei Gratia 1810." 3. "Ferdin. VII Dei Gratia 1824." 2L.

Answer: Your description, while good, is in this case too scanty for me to identify the coins, since such coins were issued both in Spain and Mexico. The Spanish varieties differ from the Mexican varieties in that the Mexican varieties have a "mintmark" on the reverse. This mintmark is found at the bottom of the reverse, denoting the mint and mintmark close together. "8R-Mo" (with the "o" above the M) signifying 8 Reales (denomination) and Mexico City, (mint). The mints in Mexico were as follows: Coahuila; Durango; Guanajuato; Mexico City; Zacatecas.

Your first coin, then, is an 8-real piece of Charles IV, either of Spanish mint or of Mexican (under Spain). The value is from $2.00 to $3.00, depending upon condition. If Mexican mintage, the value, depending upon condition, if Spanish, Number 2, is an 8-real piece of Ferdinand VII. The same conditions apply here, except if Mexican, from $5.00 to $7.50; if Spanish, $9.00 to $12.00.

Number 3 is a 3 real piece of Ferdinand VI. Again, the same conditions apply, and it is worth from .50c to $1.50, if Mexican; $1.50 to $2.25, if Spanish.

I am sorry I cannot help you more accurately. If you will send me exact tracings of the coins, I will be able to identify them; or if you will send them to the column, insured, with return postage I can give you an exact value. There are a number of collectors of Spanish and Mexican coins in the area and I can put you in touch with one of them, if you care to dispose of the coins.

Dr. D. N. Twin Falls, Idaho: I am sorry I am unable to identify accurately the Chinese coins you list. There are thousands of these coins (called "Cash") in existence, and to catalogue them one must be an expert in Chinese characters of the alphabet. For the most part they have very little value, and are found in large quantities here in the west, since there were large settlements of Chinese people here in the 1800's. They are made from bronze and cast, rather than struck.

In the 1920's a lot of these "cash" came into the United States as decorations on Chinese opium. Many of them are still around. If you found these coins where you say you did, they would have some historical interest, but they are so much like all the other Chinese "cash" that you would have to have definite authentication, and then they would have very little actual value. (Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301).

Constitution Believed Greatest Ever Written

Editor, Times-News: Shakespeare wrote "How far that little candle throws its light into a dark and angry world." I believe that candle is the Constitution of the United States.

It is one of the greatest documents ever written. In just a few plain words it gives us a definite goal. The preamble states the objectives we are striving to achieve.

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution of the United States of America."

The rest of the Constitution is the machinery used to accomplish these six objectives. Much of our government is directly or indirectly based on Roman law. Roman law was just and sure and many small

Farmers Urged To Clean Weeds From Roadside

Editor, Times-News: This summer as we were traveling in other states we noticed and remarked about the well-kept roadways, and the fact was brought home to us that Idaho has very poorly kept roadways in many instances. It seems to me that Idaho could well adopt the law that some states have. Nebraska is one of them; namely, that if the farmer himself does not take enough pride in keeping his roadside clean, the county then does it and this expense is added onto the farmer's taxes.

Come on, Idaho farmers; let's cut those unsightly weeds and keep our beautiful state green and clean. MRS. MARTIN KNIEP (Buhl).

T.F. Republican Gives Cecil Andrus His Vote

Editor, Times-News: Republicans for Andrus exist and they are not all members of an organized group. For the first time since I reached voting age, 22 years ago, I am going to vote for a Democrat for governor.

I remain a Republican in all other respects, but I sincerely feel that Cecil Andrus is the best man of the two choices we have. This is not a snap decision. It is the result of months of study and a very lengthy conversation with Mr. Andrus. While other states not nearly as rich in potential are gaining in population, Idaho shows a growth decline of 55,000 in 10 years. Our taxes range among the top ten in the nation while our personal income ranges in the bottom six. Prices range 10 to 25 per cent higher than states where wages are from 50 to 100 per cent over ours for identical jobs.

The White Clouds issue was also a great factor in my decision to endorse Mr. Andrus. Gov. Samuelson claims that laws may be passed to force the mining interests to put the land back in the original state or nearly so. This is like passing laws making rape legal, providing the rapist put the women back in her original condition or nearly so. We all know that both are impossible.

Cecil Andrus not only recognizes the problems but also has a very logical approach to the solutions. Mr. Andrus and I have both seen the results of strip mining in Arkansas and Tennessee. It is devastating and has remained so for over 150 years. Land and streams have been destroyed. I am convinced that Mr. Andrus will fight to prevent this from happening here. Pit mining destroys completely what it took nature millions of years to produce.

Another factor taken into consideration is the seeming attitude of Gov. Samuelson that he can hold the office simply because he is a Republican. No matter whom he chooses to try to dominate, the Fish and Game Department for example, I think it is time to dethrone the king and replace him with a man who loves Idaho first and himself second.

I am a Republican for Andrus. RAY T. CRANDAL (Twin Falls)

Gratitude Voiced For Cooperation On Rubella Effort

Editor, Times-News: We wish to express our appreciation to the many citizens of Twin Falls County, the doctors, pharmacists, the nursing profession, including the Future Nurses Association, T.A.P.S., March of Dimes, Jay-C-Ettes, school superintendents and principals, parents, teachers, bus drivers, the news media and all those who set up and maintained the clinics for volunteering their time to assist in making the "Rub-Out Rubella" clinics a success.

Some 5,648 children, ages one through 12 received the vaccine at Rubella clinics held Sept. 28 and 29. These Rub-Out Rubella clinics were held in an effort to avert a rubella epidemic in Idaho expected between now and 1972. Epidemics occur every six to nine years, and the last epidemic in Idaho was in 1964.

Shooting of Dog By 'Mean' Youth Saddens Family

Editor, Times-News: Peanut was a member of the Floyd Canaper family of North Shoshone. He was a lovable poodle dog, loved by four little girls and one little boy, who shared everything with him. He ate, slept, and played with them. Peanut also liked to ride in the car.

Last Sunday, Peanut took his final ride. He was conked into a car and taken to the canal bank and shot to death by a mean, despicable teenager, just for spite. He couldn't stand to see these children have something they loved.

Sure, he has to pay for the dog, but what some people can't understand is the fact you can't buy love, and we all loved Peanut and he will never be replaced.

By all means this teenage boy 16 years old, should be taken for a mental test. If the test proved O.K., then he is by far the most cruel person alive.

And I hope God punishes him for the terrible thing he has done to my grandchildren and all the rest of us.

The children keep asking us and we in return are asking "Why?" "Why did you kill our Peanut baby? We have received no answers: ELLEN M. BRUESCH (Bellevue)

State Law Advocated To Remove Junk Cars

Editor, Times-News: Our commissioners have done well trying to clean out car junk. However, they have been working under a handicap. They have no legal ways or means to handle the problem.

Let us hope the government of the past, I proposed a dollar fee be attached to the car license fee for funds to aid in the caring for the junk. After conferring with Mr. Boarder of the state attorney general's office, I found that any money collected on cars goes to the highway fund. Car junk disposal evidently hasn't been considered or no one knew what to do or else didn't care. There is no law dealing with the disposal of car junk. Thousands of tons of good steel is being permitted to rust away into loss when it could be recycled back into usefulness. I believe that a state law should be passed giving county commissioners the ways and means of solving this problem. It will not take the responsibility away from any one but will empower them to act. This is a state as well as county problem. No matter who is elected to the Legislature, let's keep after them until this law is passed. It is the only way we can handle this solid waste pollution problem. Let's clean up Idaho! LES WILLIAMSON (Twin Falls)

Rural Sewer Problems Eyed By Zone Board

TWIN FALLS What to do about sewage problems as housing density increases in the county is being studied by members of the Twin Falls County Planning and Zoning board.

County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller said today he and other commissioners are concerned about the problem and have asked the zoning board to take a look at the situation and come up with some recommendations to head off what could be a critical problem.

He said a number of developers are already working on subdivisions in the county but in close proximity to cities. Towns and cities with sewer systems cannot be expected to provide sewage facilities to such subdivisions until they are annexed and some are springing up a considerable distance from the cities, and annexation is a long way off.

Commissioner Moffis Carlson said there are also such things as mobile home parks in the county area, public recreation facilities where

Prospecting Roadbuilders Under Attack

POCATELLO (UPI) Indiscriminate building of roads in the Hole Canyon area for mineral prospecting came under scrutiny of the legislative council subcommittee on surface mining Friday.

Sen. David Bivans, R-Payette, told members of the subcommittee that weekend prospectors are bulldozing new access roads in a five to 10-mile area of buck waters of Brownlee Reservoir along the Snake River breaks.

Bivans said the area is steep, forested land and is private, state and federal land. He said he was joined by Forest Service representatives, ranchers and residents of the area last Wednesday in an inspection tour.

He asked the committee to consider regulatory recommendations for the legislature to control such road building.

Other many cases the prospectors are ignoring existing roads, building new ones for the apparent fun of it," he said.

He said area ranchers and residents are concerned about the deterioration of drainage systems and the injury of the affected lands' livestock and timber-producing ability.

Subcommittee Chairman J. Vard Chatburn, R-Albion, reminded the members that it was time to begin finalizing the committee's research and studies for recommendations to the legislature on regulations concerning surface mining in the state.

Other covotes do not allow their votes to enter the law to see their offspring until the pays are about two months old.

Vote Rockers Conference Could Mean New Voice of Idaho's "Weaker Sex"

By NORMA HERZINGER
Women's Editor

TWIN FALLS — A new voice of Idaho's women could just awing the vote this year.

This voice is represented in a cross section of interested and active women, who are steadily getting more women interested in becoming active and taking effective action legislatively and politically.

The hand that rocks the cradle — is a potential vote rocker — a woman interested in perhaps education, environment, health, women's rights, drug abuse, welfare, housing, militarism, consumer protection, election laws, youth protest, law enforcement, racism and constitutional revision.

Women in Idaho have a voice to be heard in lawmaking chambers and in elections and many feel it's time for it — loud and clear. These women, representing a new group known as the Vote Rockers, are definitely a non-partisan group and includes members from other organizations already identified with public issues, as well as women interested in the same problems who do not have a base from which to work.

This group should not be confused with the Women's Liberation Movement. It is, as stated, a non-partisan group and encourages all women to become involved in the party of their choice.

The Vote Rockers was organized earlier this year in Boise and now Magic Valley women have the opportunity. A conference is scheduled Oct. 22 at the Twin Falls First Presbyterian Church. More than 1,000 letters will be mailed this week to potential Magic Valley Vote Rockers inviting them to participate in the conference.

Would you like to be more informed on how to take effective action legislatively and politically? When legislation is discussed, do you feel you do not have to feel that way any more," according to Mrs. Gail Diamond, Twin Falls conference chairman. "The objective of Vote Rockers is to organize woman power for social progress through education and orientation in the legislative and political processes and to inspire women to become involved in these activities," she noted.

A coffee hour and registration is set for 9 a.m., with an introduction of district chairmen of the region and the temporary state chairman, Pat Ehrlich, Boise.

At 10 a.m., "Vote Rockers: A New Dimension in Woman Power," a discussion on how Vote Rockers started and what it's all about will be presented, with a panel discussion on techniques for getting things done, "What Can Women Do?" at 10:30 a.m.

A luncheon is set at 12:15 p.m. at the Rogerson Hotel. Background information on issues on the ballot, constitution revision and legislative pay proposals will be featured at 2 p.m. A discussion will also be held on things affecting the Magic Valley legislative districts.

A bright future is in the making for the Vote Rockers and women affiliated with the group feel with more and more women getting involved in politics and in expressing their opinions they can not help but improve the political climate in Idaho, in the political parties, in the type of legislation passed and in the action of boards and commissions.

"We feel with positive action, such as Vote Rockers can inspire, we will no longer face frustration in our dealings with elected officials," the chairman noted.

Further information concerning the various districts and the forthcoming conference can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Roger Ling, Rupert, District No. 21; Mrs. Forest Hymas, Jerome, District No. 22; Mrs. Fred Decker and Mrs. Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls, Districts No. 23 and 24; and Mrs. James Martin, Burley, District No. 25. Conference registration forms can be obtained by contacting the local YWCA.

"THE HAND THAT rocks the cradle" is a Vote Rocker, and a Vote Rocker is a member of a newly organized group of Idaho women including members from other organizations already identified with public issues, as well as women interested in the same problems who do not have a base from which to work. It is a non-partisan group.

First State Arts Conference Set

BOISE — Magic Valley's own Antique Festival Theatre players along with other valley people interested in the arts will participate in the first statewide Idaho Arts Conference scheduled Oct. 8, 9 and 10 at the WELL KNOWN NEW YORK choreographer for ballet, Broadway musicals and television, Agnes DeMille, will be featured banquet speaker at the first statewide Idaho Arts Conference Oct. 9 in Boise. The three-day conference is set for Oct. 8, 9 and 10 at the Rodeway Inn.

Rodeway Inn, Boise. Sponsored by the Idaho Arts and Humanities Commission, the three-day conference will present workshops and symposiums related to all aspects of the arts on Idaho. Arts and Humanities Commission Director Jo Ann Bensinger, Boise, said the conference will begin Oct. 8 at the Rodeway Inn and all sessions are open to the public.

Several out-of-state speakers will be featured along with workshops and demonstrations on the various arts to be presented by the many organizations throughout Idaho who are gathering in Boise.

Gov. Don Samuelson will present the first annual Governor's Award at a special luncheon Oct. 8. "The Marriage Proposal" will be performed by the Buhl Antique Festival Theatre at 7:45 p.m. Oct. 8. Agnes DeMille, well-known New York choreographer for ballet, Broadway musicals and television, will discuss the continuing cultural explosion in the Arts and Humanities as featured banquet guest.

Miss DeMille, a long-time crusader for the arts and a source of inspiration to all those interested in American dance, has established many innovations in the world of musical theatre. In 1943, she won wide acclaim with her revolutionary efforts in introducing the dance as a major aspect of the now famous musical "Oklahoma."

Following that success she was applauded for her work in "Carousel," "Brigadoon," "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "Paint Your Wagon" and "110 in the Shade."

Born in New York and educated at the University of California, Miss DeMille has been deeply involved in the arts and in American dance from an early age. She has appeared in dance concerts in England, France and Denmark, as well as the U. S. Since its beginning, she has played an active role with the Ballet Theatre, both in choreography and as a performer in many of the leading roles.

In addition, she has been a member of the National Advisory Council on the Arts and is a well known writer and lecturer.

According to Mrs. Bensinger, Miss DeMille is considered to be one of the foremost dancers and choreographers in the United States and the commission is very pleased that she will attend the conference.

Tickets for the Oct. 9 banquet at which Miss DeMille will appear must be purchased in advance and are on sale now at the Allard Arts Ticket Booth in Boise or through the commission office, she said.

Among those participating in the conference will be persons affiliated with the Idaho Art Association, Idaho Writers' League and Idaho Music Educators.

PREPARING THE MORE than 1,000 letters to be mailed inviting Magic Valley women to a local Vote Rockers Conference are, from left, Mrs. Fred Decker, Mrs. Gail Diamond and Mrs. Marvyn Molyneux. Mrs. Diamond is chairman for the conference set Oct. 22 at the Twin Falls Presbyterian Church Fireside Room. Pat Ehrlich, Boise, temporary state chairman, will attend the meeting to assist in explaining the newly organized Vote Rockers.

Local High School Play Slated in October

"East Lynne" Selected

TWIN FALLS — A special feature of the forthcoming Twin Falls High School Drama Department's production of "East Lynne" by Ned Albert will be the use of authentic music during the show, played on the honky-tonk piano by Sue Johnson.

The piano is now being refinished to fit the style and setting.

The play is scheduled to be presented at 8 p.m. Oct. 22, 23 and 24 at O'Leary Junior High School auditorium, with Colleen Arrington playing the part of Lady Isabel Vane, the heroine; Larry Hodge, Archibald Carlyle, the hero, and Michael Gullen, Sir Francis Levison, the villain.

Bradford T. Hickerion will direct the play with John Bailey as student director.

The play deals with the plight of Lady Isabel Vane who is left orphaned when in her late teens. The home that she spent her childhood in, East Lynne, has been sold to Archibald Carlyle, several months before REFINISHING a piano is no easy job, but members of the Twin Falls High School Drama Department are being just that with the capable assistance of Brooks Gully, head of the art and set painting crew. The piano will be completely refinished to be used in the play.

"THE MARRIAGE PROPOSAL" will be performed by the Antique Festival Theatre at 7:45 p.m. Oct. 8 during the Idaho Arts Conference in Boise. The conference is sponsored by the Idaho Arts and Humanities Commission with Jo Ann Bensinger, Boise, as Arts and Humanities Commission director. All sessions are open to the public.

Local DeMolay Plans Rush Party

TWIN FALLS — Who are DeMolay members? "Our sons," say members of the Mothers Club who are the women behind the scenes for the forthcoming DeMolay Rush party.

The work, planning and execution of the event is all done by the follows, but the mothers are on hand to give moral support and prepare the goodies for the party itself. (They also prepare the goodies after every meeting.)

Scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Masonic Temple, local young men between the ages of 14 and 21 have been invited by members to attend this open meeting and party to acquaint them with the DeMolay program and purposes.

Bruce Turner is master counselor for the group this year, with his mother, Mrs. Richard (Sallie) Turner as president of the Mothers Club.

"The Order of DeMolay is an international youth organization dedicated to the principles of building better citizens out of our teen-age boys," Mrs. Turner noted. "We feel it is a great organization spread over a three-way program designed to benefit the individual member, the chapter and the community," she stated.

Although DeMolay chapters are sponsored only by Masonic bodies or individual Masons, it is not necessary that a boy be a son or a relative of a Mason in order to belong.

It is a non-profit corporation with the international office located in its own four-story building in Kansas City, Mo. Under the guidance of the grand secretary, a small, but highly efficient, office staff acts as the clerical and administrative group to maintain a central office of record and promote the growth and development of the organization.

Various awards are given to individuals for achievement. Merit bars are awarded for distinction in civic service, athletics, music, dramatics, religion and other fields. Special keys are given for obtaining so many new members. The Degree of Chevalier is the highest honor an active DeMolay can receive. It is earned by outstanding service to a chapter and to fellow DeMolays.

DeMolays boast 2,500 active chapters throughout the nation and several foreign countries, and nearly three million members.

Wool Competition in Progress

TWIN FALLS — The 25th annual Make It Yourself With Wool competition is now in progress.

The competition is sponsored annually by the American Wool Council, the National Woolgrowers Auxiliary and the Idaho Woolgrowers Auxiliary to promote the use of 100 per cent American wool with young girls enjoying sewing and smart fashions.

All persons between the ages of 10 and 21 can enter one of three divisions: junior, through 13, must enter jumper, skirts or just pants; junior, 14 through 16, and senior, 17 through 21, may enter dresses, coats, suits, pant-suits, pant dresses, or pajamas or caps which must be worn with a dress, skirt or pants and entered as a suit.

Girls must select the pattern, use 100 per cent or 95 per cent American wool and do their own sewing.

The wool may be knitted or felted. Any girl entering and becoming a winner will receive prizes such as 100 per cent American wool length, sewing aids, saving bonds, Singer sewing machine, college scholarships and expense-paid trips to the state and national competition which is available to the junior and senior winners.

Each girl entering will model her own garment which she has sewn. She will be judged on selection of fabric, style, color and construction. The judging and fashion show will be held Nov. 7 at the new HAYWARD Inn, Burley.

Entry forms are available from county home agents, local home economics teachers, fabric stores that sell 100 per cent American wool or from the District No. 3 directors, Mrs. Domingo Equillar, Route 1 Box 35, Paul, or Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, Route 1 Box 81, Paul.

Counties in District No. 3 include Blaine, Camas, Cassia, Elmore, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls.

Luncheon Scheduled Tuesday

TWIN FALLS — The Welcome Wagon luncheon meeting is set for 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at Kay's Supper Club, with Bob Hoag from the forest service as featured speaker, pointing out some of the recreation facilities available in the area.

A fashion show will be presented by the Pepper Tree, with Margie Morris as narrator. Models will be Tammy Mike, Vickie Legacy and Norma Neu.

Among the activities sponsored by the Welcome Wagon are bridge and pinocle at 8 p.m. Oct. 8 at Sunny View Courts with Jo Louze and Alyne Gibbs and couples bridge Oct. 17, with the hostesses to be announced.

Women's bowling is every Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Bowladrome and couples bowling Sunday night. Interested persons can contact Judy Porter, 733-9506.

Knitting classes will be held at 1 p.m. Oct. 13 at the home of Margaret Buckley, 329 Alturas Drive.

PRACTICING FOR THE forthcoming DeMolay open meeting in honor of rushees are, from left, Fred Ihler, Elwood Cheney and Scott Talkington. The Rush meeting and party are set for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Masonic Temple.

"Edsel of Fashion Industry" Is Opinion of Midi Skirts

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 1970 midi skirt apparently is laying an egg. Television newscaster David Brinkley calls it "the Edsel of the fashion industry."

That being the case, it probably won't be long until you will be seeing a news story somewhat along these lines: Washington—Consumer advocate Ralph Nader demanded today that the fashion industry recall the 1970 midi skirt for correction of a serious design defect.

He told a Senate subcommittee investigating the garment disasters that a basic flaw in the midi skirt design creates a visibility problem by obscuring the knee.

"The only way the knee can be seen is by peering under the skirt," Nader testified. "This leads to situations that are both awkward and hazardous and in polite society are considered bad form."

He charged that the fashion industry was aware of this defect before the midi skirt was introduced, yet did nothing either to change the design or to caution customers about it.

He also accused the industry of withholding test data that disclosed the visual impairment.

Nader rejected suggestions by subcommittee members that the visibility problem could be solved by lowering the female kneecap.

of the skirt rather than the height of the knee.

Spokesmen for the fashion industry who attended the hearing denied most of Nader's allegations and dismissed others as inconsequential.

"The 1970 midi skirt was extensively test worn before it was placed on the market," they told newsmen. "In every case the performance charts showed that any loss of visibility in shifting from mini skirts was more than offset by a gain in dignity and grace."

Furthermore, they pointed out, many models of the midi skirt had undergone modifications, such as elastic up the sides to improve visibility.

Nader, however, insisted that the fashion industry had sacrificed visibility solely for the sake of wardrobe obsolescence.

He said all of the 29 midi skirts that have been sold thus far should be recalled to the factory and shortened by at least two feet.

Valley Couple Marries

BURLEY — Debra Kay Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bailey, Burley, and Isidro Martinez, son of Mrs. Minerva Martinez, Rupert, were united in marriage Sept. 17 at Burley LDS Fifth Ward Chapel. Bishop William Matthews conducted the double-ring evening ceremony before a background of tall beauty baskets of pink gladioli and large white chrysanthemums accented with large pink bows and streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, repeated wedding vows wearing a floor-length gown of white satin, fashioned with an empire waistline, and long full sleeves of Chantilly lace with white satin cuffs trimmed in lace. Her chapel-length veil of Chantilly lace was held by a pearl crown accented with seed pearls.

She carried a colonial bridal bouquet of baby pink roses and white chrysanthemums. Alice Fleck, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and Margaret Rodriguez, was bridesmaid. Lorrie Larsen, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Delfino Martinez, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mark Lujar was ringbearer. Ushers were Wayne Fleck, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Reed Larsen and Carl Larsen, both cousins of the bride.

The traditional organ music was played by Wayne Blauer. A reception was held immediately after the wedding ceremony in the church cultural hall.

The newlyweds greeted guests before a white wrought iron arch entwined with ivy, delicate maidenhair fern, holly and lilies of the Valley, tied with large pink bows and centering the arch top were three white wedding bells. Flanking the arch were tall beauty baskets of pink gladioli and white chrysanthemums tied with large pink bows.

The bride's table was covered with lace over pink and centered with a three-tiered white wedding cake decorated in pink roses. The layers were separated by white Grecian columns and white swans. Surrounding the base of the cake was an arrangement of green fern, pink and white carnations. Topping the wedding cake were white doves holding a bride's ring and a bridegroom's ring accented with not.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Lynn Larsen, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Jesse Esquivel, aunt of the bridegroom, served punch from a crystal punch bowl.

Others who assisted with the serving included Jonn Larsen, Cheri Larsen and Mrs. Keith Larsen, all cousins of the bride. Mrs. Clarence Bishop, Mrs. LePage Layton, Mrs. Rodney Murphy and Mrs. Dan Ralls.

Guests were served at quart tables covered with lace over various pastel colors and each centered with a brandy snifter holding a floating pink carnation.

Mrs. Jerry Bailey, aunt of the bride, registered the guests at an oval table covered with a floor-length white lace cloth.

Gifts were arranged for display by Mrs. Gale Bailey, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Larsen, cousin of the bride. Gift carriers were Terry McGregor, Chuck McGregor, Scott Larsen, Kenny Larsen and Gerald Larsen, all cousins of the bride.

Special out of town guests were Mrs. Ruth Donham, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. McCabe, all Oxnard, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bailey, Wendell Mr. and Mrs. Jay Moyle and daughter, Filor.

A pre-nuptial shower was held for the bride by Mrs. Manuel Gutierrez and Mrs. Robert Larsen at the Gutierrez home. The newlyweds reside at Romney Apartments, Burley.

No Meeting
RUPERT — Mrs. Maurice Murphy, program chairman of the Creatiview 40ers Home Demonstration Club, announced today there will be no business meeting or lesson during October.

Mrs. Dean Legault, president, noted the nominating committee will present the slate of candidates for club officers for 1971 at the next regular meeting. Committee members include Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Merrill Maxfield and Mrs. Art McCellan.

Christmas Decorating Booklet Offered Free

Christmas may seem quite a way off, but it's not too early to begin thinking about this year's decorations. To help you with ideas for decorating your mirrors, mantels, doorways and front yards, the General Electric Miniature Lamp Department is offering free a new booklet called "22 Ideas to Help You Light Up for Christmas."

Will you need a new way to display your Christmas cards? Glue yardsticks together to form a tree shape. Glue on a sheet of cardboard and cover with burlap. Attach the cards then cut holes for GE Satin Bright bulbs. The bulbs add color by day, sparkle by night.

How about an unusual centerpiece for holiday entertaining? Make a festive Christmas cake with cardboard, construction paper, foil tinsel garland and GE Candle Bright. It's simple and easy to make. And sure to be an attention-getter in your home, on the table or buffet.

The booklet also offers solid suggestions to improve the Christmas lighting you do every year. How many lights should you have on your tree? Three times the height times the width (in feet) gives the maximum. Half that's the minimum. How about colors? Suggestions

The booklet is free. Send a postcard or letter to "22 Ideas," c/o General Electric Co., Nela Park, Cleveland, Ohio 44112. Give us your name and address with full ZIP code, please.

Clear Lunch Box Hurdle With Popcorn Cups

We wouldn't want to make any bets, but we'd be willing to hazard an educated guess that the peace that's always predicted for Mom when the youngsters get back to school in the fall is largely illusion. From what we hear, it takes just about a week for the lady to feel like she's part of a wildly-paced (please) with never enough time available to clear all the hurdles she has ahead of her.

One of the big ones, of course is the lunch box hurdle. "It certainly doesn't take more than a week, we know, for all the school-agers to start asking for "something different" to take to school to perk up the lunch hour. Here we have something different for them that combines some of their favorite snacks and flavors into a brand new treat — Nutty Popcorn Cups.

Combining popcorn, peanuts, raisins and peanut butter, these are ideal lunch-box surprises — half snack, half dessert, and really quite nutritious. Transferred into paper cupcake liners from the muffin-pan cups in which they're formed, the popcorn treats can be given a plastic overwrap and easily packed into any lunch box or bag.

Why not make up a batch and send them along some day this week with cream-cheese-and-jelly-on-brown-bread sandwiches, celery and carrot nibbling sticks, and bananas or rosy red apples? After being a surprise the first time, the Nutty Popcorn Cups will probably be a "please make some for tomorrow" request quite often.

Of course, you don't have to fix them just for the lunch-toters. They'd be great little snacks for teen-age parties. The ladies' bridge club just might enjoy them next time you're the hostess, and Dad could well nibble one or two during the late show or one of those upcoming television football Saturdays. You might be the first, too, to bring them to the church bake sale, or pack a box as a gift for a new neighbor.

Popcorn, peanuts, raisins and peanut butter — ummm! The Nutty Popcorn Cup sounds good enough to make right away just for fun!

NUTTY POPCORN CUPS
 4 quarts unsalted popped popcorn
 1 cup salted peanuts
 1 cup seedless raisins
 1/2 cup light corn syrup
 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

In a large mixing bowl, combine popcorn, peanuts and raisins. In a heavy, medium saucepan, combine sugar and corn syrup; bring to a rolling boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in peanut butter and vanilla. Pour syrup over popcorn mixture and toss lightly to coat evenly. Press into well-buttered muffin-pan cups, 2 1/2 x 1 1/4 inches. Let stand till firm. Remove and serve in paper cupcake liners, if desired. Makes 12 to 16 cups.

Transplant Insurance Available

CHICAGO (UPI)—Insurance for organ transplants and the use of artificial kidneys is now available from a major insurance subsidiary of a finance corporation.

"Transplanting organs of the body has become a recognized medical technique, and one for which insurance is needed because of the high cost," said George McDonnell, executive vice president of CNA subsidiary Continental Casualty Co. The company is making the coverage available as a rider to basic hospital or major medical group insurance policies.

Obscene Language Is Weapon For Some Young People Today

Woman to woman
 By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—College girls from nice, straight backgrounds call police an obscene name.

Nice, straight people within earshot are shocked. They always are, especially if over 30, when they hear such expressions. What they don't know, according to Bergan Evans, is this:

"The use of this kind of language among some young people is a weapon."
 The girls were pulling rank on the officers, according to Evans, Professor of English at Northwestern University, and author of several books dealing with language.

Language Usage Changes
 "In effect, they were telling the police that they were not tied to the same social system where such words are not used by women," he said.

Language is just a social custom. It changes like any other custom.

 Evans said many dirty words have been overdone and don't have the emotional impact they once did.

He yelled "Bulls S—" into the mike. Not one student in the class was shocked. Many never even looked up.

Ethnic Words Taboo
 "Now, he said, 'If you want to use a word to achieve what a four-letter obscenity would have had 20 years ago, you're best bet is to use an ethnic word. These are today's taboos, according to Evans."

"Experts at the Merriam-Webster dictionaries report 20,000 new words that have come into our language since 1901," said Dr. Evans. "Of these, 6,000 to 7,000 might last." One trend Evans has noticed: An increased separation in language between the person and the action. He said a couple of generations ago, people would say "I go to the door." Today they say: "I am going to the door."

This increased use of the passive tense, separating the action from the actor, is a reflection of the insecurity of the times.

Prefer Richer Words
 "We are much more uncertain today about how complex things are," he said. "We realize how little we know and yet we have to make our decisions based on this."

Evans also believes there is a strong tendency in the lower economic and social strata to use richer words.

If you're a cockney, or an Irish peasant or a Negro, you probably have had to be subservient to a boss.

At the same time you're a human being and you want revenge. So you become witty; you say two things. On the surface, it's acceptable; underneath, you dig in.

Peace Trail Begins

NEW YORK (UPI)—As you a dove, hawk or "mixed bird," it's a good bet you'll face a confrontation with college students out on the peace trail this fall — if you stay home evenings.

They will tap the front doors of single-family homes and apartments.

Thousands of them, campaigning for peace candidates or seeking signatures on peace petitions intend to invade the hometown in a systematic way.

Many expect to know something about the family inside before knocking. They expect to learn it either from neighbors or from a stroll through the area before calling on you. They will know from this intelligence work whether to talk to you plain or fancy.

The modus operandi designed to convince you to join the peace campaign is in a new manual, "Canvassing for Peace." It is meant to maximize the peace crusade.

Authors Robert F. Abelson and Phillip G. Zimbardo are psychology professors at Yale and Stanford Universities, respectively.

Published by the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues (Robert L. Kahn, University of Michigan, president), the booklet helps orient peace lobbyists to:

—The psychological situations they will encounter while canvassing; specific peace issues and arguments; detailed, alternative canvassing strategies which can be effective in vote getting.

The students are reminded to dress neatly and comfortably; that the best times to call are between 7 and 9 in the evening. The worst: after nine at night, during the dinner hour or Sunday-morning, Saturday and Sunday afternoons are good, too.

The students are urged to learn about the people and the neighborhood by talking to barbers, cleaners, cab drivers, grocery store employees, bartenders, and by reading letters to the newspaper. Also, they are supposed to look around.

POLLY'S POINTERS Uses Candles to Enhance Her Table Centerpiece

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY and Mrs. W. H., who wanted to know how to put a candle on the no-illike prong of a wooden holder without breaking the candle—Every time I place a candle on a prong, I heat an ice pick over the stove burner or flame of a candle stub. While it is very hot, I GENTLY, but firmly, push the HOT pick into the bottom of the candle and the wax melts where the pick touches. Immediately place the candle on the prong. The wax dries very fast and holds securely on the prong without a wobble. I always place the candle in the kitchen near the stove to do the job more easily. If one is fastened to the wall, a candle stub must be used nearby for heating the ice pick.

I also use this method to anchor very heavy wire (a coat hanger can be cut into desired lengths) into candles for a very large table centerpiece that is to have candles incorporated into the arrangement. After the candles are "fixed" on the wire, I insert the three or four inches of wire clay on the base and insert the three or four inches of wire below the candle into the foam or oasis. I have wired 10 candles to enclose the top of a very large pumpkin, arranged chrysanthemums and sprays of ivy in the center of the pumpkin and had a handsome Halloween centerpiece.

When using this "hot ice pick" method, I have never cracked a candle.—Mrs. G. J. M. Jr.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—I would like to know how to whiten baby clothes that have yellowed.—MRS. H. S.

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for any man who carries his wallet in a rear trouser pocket. Just sitting and driving wears a hole in the seat. Cut a piece of cloth similar to the pants material and about 1 1/2 x 2 inches in size, and another somewhat larger, from a soft iron-on cloth. With the trousers on and the wallet in its normal position, mark the area where the seat of the pants rubs on a chair or cushion while sitting down. Dry soap will make such a mark. Remove trousers and stick pins through the marked lines on the outside to tell where to apply the patches on the inside. I have done this for five years and find it saves trousers if put on when they are new or still in good condition. I was a paid driver for years and used to get such a hole in six months. Since starting to do as described, that area lasts as long as the rest of the pants.—GENE

One Chin Is Much Better Than Two

Can there be anything more aging than a double chin? Even the suspicion of two chins adds years to a woman's age. Drill your chin into shape, train it to keep its place, educate it into conforming to good habits... only then will you be able to ensure that you retain a smooth, youthful chin line.

Practice these two easy chin exercises whenever you think about them during the day:

Sit in a back-supporting chair and drop your head backwards as far as possible. Now place the palm of your right hand on your forehead, pushing down firmly at the same time as you endeavor to raise your head forward into upright position. Give your neck muscles enough resistance to get them working — and in so doing you strengthen the muscles beneath the chin as well. Repeat ten times.

down on your head and raise the upper part of your body by leaning the weight on your elbows. Allow your head to drop loosely backwards. Now try to raise the head slowly, but keep your chin pointed towards the ceiling all the time. Relax the head and repeat the exercise ten times.

Sleep without pillows and if you find this impossible, try to make do with one small, very flat pillow instead.

Treat a sagging chin by massaging it every night with an isotonic vitalizing night cream. Snap the chin briskly with the backs of your hands all along the jawline as you use your Olay Night-Cream.

Apply blusher high on your cheeks and slightly in towards the nose if you want to effectively camouflage a double chin. Another trick for concealment is to place just a touch of blusher beneath the chin itself.

Sewing Classes Under Way

TWIN FALLS — Three sewing classes will be sponsored by College of Southern Idaho for interested women, providing 12 students are registered for each group.

The first intermediate sewing class began Sept. 30 from 1 to 4 p.m. for 15 weeks. Cost of $18.50 is payable immediately, according to Mrs. H. W. Ronk, instructor.

The classes will be held in the former Ralph Harris moving and storage building, 715 Shoshone St. S., which has been painted, carpeted and paneled on the inside.

The two other sewing classes are basic sewing, to be offered from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays for 10 weeks and a tailoring class from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday for 15 weeks. Cost of each class is $18.50, but the instructor-stressed 12 students have to be committed before a class can be held.

Interested persons may contact call 733-9554, Ext. 73, and their names added to the list.

MRS. H. W. RONK prepares for the adult sewing classes to be sponsored by the College of Southern Idaho which began this past week. The classes are held in the former Ralph Harris Moving and Storage building, 715 Shoshone St.

Study Slated

TWIN FALLS — The First United Brethren Church of Twin Falls, 302 Third Ave. E., will offer a youth-slanted study of the book of Revelation, reports Rev. Del Storey, pastor.

The discussion group will be geared to questions today's youths are asking concerning the last day events described in the Bible. The text will be the "Living New Testament" version of the book of Revelation.

Another growing outreach of the church is an inter-faith prayer group which meets at 8 p.m. Tuesdays at the church.

Former Burley Resident Weds in Utah Ceremony

BURLEY — The Carillon Reception Center, Bountiful, Utah, was the setting for the Sept. 19 wedding uniting in marriage Deborah Lou Jones and Thomas James Lewis. Parents of the newlyweds are Ross O. Jones, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Charles Fenstermaker, North Salt Lake City, former Burley residents.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Leo Gibbs, justice of the peace and a high priest in the LDS Church, in the presence of relatives and friends before a background setting of three arches decorated with greenery, yellow gladioli and white chrysanthemums accented with white wedding bells.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father-in-law, repeated vows wearing a floor-length white wedding gown of silk organza, fashioned with a lace bodice, lily point sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The full skirt was designed with four layers of net with a lace overskirt tapering to a short peak in front and flowing gracefully into a long train.

Her two-tiered elbow-length veil of tulle net was secured by a small lace butterfly adorned with tiny pearls. Her bouquet featured a cascade arrangement of yellow carnations surrounding a white orchid and accented with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Michael Jones, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Teresa Jones, sister of the bride, Sherry Howard and Debbie Kay. Flower girl was Karla Jones, sister of the bride. The bridegroom was attended by Mark Lund, Michael Jones, brother of the bride, Steve Lewis and Brian Lewis, brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers. Clayton Fenstermaker, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Carillon Wedding Reception Center. Guests were registered by Kathy Steglich. Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Leo Gibbs, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Sherry Scott and Mrs. Sherry Halpin, cousins of the bride. The reception hall was decorated in the bride's colors of yellow and green. A small tree standing near the entrance was trimmed with tiny lights and tiny rice bags accented with large yellow satin bows. It was flanked by candles trimmed in yellow and green.

The bride's round table was covered with a floor-length white lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake on a rotating pedestal. It was iced in white and decorated with yellow roses, white lilies and white doves. Small white wedding bells trimmed with silver and tiny white flowers hanging from the center of the bells centered the bottom layers and hung around the edges. The top layer was edged with white lilies and yellow roses and topped with the traditional miniature bride and bridegroom on a crocheted pedestal encased in a crocheted heart.

Assisting with serving were Nancy Culley, Danice Culley and Pamela Halpin, cousins of the bride, and Sandy Lehman. Guests were served at quartet tables covered with yellow lace and centered with yellow candles in black wrought iron dishes surrounded with white daisies.

Mrs. Gibbs was mistress of ceremonies for the program. Guests attended from Idaho, California and Southern Utah. A special guest was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Jones, Rupert.

After a wedding trip to Jackson Hole, Wyo., the bride

ACTRESS SOPHIA Loren arrived in New York recently in a black and white midi with black stockings. In the midst of the midi-mini controversy in New York, Sophia has chosen the midi. (UPI)

Producer Signs Feldman

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — As a child, Marty Feldman constantly won awards for being a good loser. As an adult in England, he has won awards for comedy. He could also win one for and bridegroom reside in Ogden, where the bridegroom is attending Weber State College.

The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial shower given by the bridesmaids and a aunt of the bridegroom hosted a miscellaneous shower. The Heidelberg, Bountiful, was the setting for the wedding breakfast given by the bridegroom's parents.

Dental Problems

NEW YORK (UPI) — A dental disease that results in the loss of teeth for millions of adults may be caused by bad nutrition rather than a buildup of dental plaque that cuts off the blood supply to the gums. Joint research studies with animals at Cornell University Medical College and the University of Göteborg in Sweden, found that the cause of periodontal disease could be either too little calcium in the diet or too much phosphate.

Nakedness Is No Longer News

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Not as many women are going to take off their clothes in public next summer. Although Catalina was showing more girl and less suit in its designs for spring 1970, most of the beachwear manufacturers were keeping the customer covered up.

Cole of California told fashion editors attending the California Fashion Creators annual press week here that nakedness was no longer news, and it was returning to a more down to earth, realistic approach to swimwear.

After all, if women really drop their hems to mid-thigh this winter they may feel somewhat shy about baring their bodies on the beach next summer. Suits came with coordinated caftans, ankle length beach coats, tunics, fringed ponchos which doubled as skirts, and ankle length sarongs.

Many of the "wraps" were fancy enough to use as hostess costumes. There were some new fabrics for swim gear—pamé velvet, an acetate combination which looks like suede, and cloth-backed vinyl for a leather effect.

Luis Estevez, designing a new collection for Sea Darling, showed a leather look bikini topped with a motorcycle jacket trimmed with gold studs.

Sea Fashion of California had a three-piece suede vest, set with a bikini worn under the cowboy style vest. Catalina had a sleek cotton backed vinyl wet-look bikini with a short slicker to wear over it. Sandcastle showed a group of nautically inspired suits topped with floor length see-through violé maxi-coats.

Bill Blass Swimwear, for those with better than average figures, featured a long sleeve maillot suit buttoned up the front with silver buttons, topped with a long wrap skirt in polyester jersey. Cole of California showed body sculpture suits—sleek and simple body hugging suits in soft knit and supple jerseys. Elizabeth Stewart had a sexy water velvet with boucle terry jersey, one piece draped and snatched suits, with laces crossing up the very bare back.

Fall TOPS Rally Scheduled Oct. 16

PAUL — The TOPS Pamper Club, Paul, will be hosting the Fall Rally for TOPS Clubs in Magic Valley Oct. 16 at Minico High School, announced Ollimae Armstrong, Twin Falls area captain.

Mrs. Jane Roberts, Pamper Club president, reported the Paul club will be assisted by other local clubs in arrangements. Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. and total fee will be $2.75 which includes registration and dinner.

Special honors are planned for those who have attained KOPS status (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) and for KIWA (KOPS in Waiting). Both groups must reach the weight goal set by their doctors, and KIWA must maintain the ideal weight (within a 10-pound leeway) for a three-month period before she is recognized as a KOPS. Mrs. Armstrong has asked that each club bring a suggestion for a theme for the State Recognition Day to be hosted in 1972 in this area. A prize will be given the club suggesting the winning theme, announced Mrs. Armstrong.

The rally theme will be "TOPS to KOPS," according to Mrs. Armstrong. Advance registration is required and the pre-registration deadline is Oct. 5. Reservations are to be mailed to Penny Fontaine, 600 8th Ave. N., Buhl, 83316. All TOPS Club members in Magic Valley are urged to attend.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed to write this letter, but I won't have any peace of mind until I have somebody's opinion.

Last Sunday I went to the train station to meet a friend. I was early so I started walking around. I noticed a middle-aged man between 45 and 55 following me. I really wasn't frightened because there were a lot of people around, but I thought if I went into a telephone booth and pretended to make a call he would go away.

When I came out of the phone booth he was waiting for me. Then he asked if he could buy me a soft drink. I snarled, "Beat it, Buddy or I'll call a cop."

He took off without a word, but Abby, he had such a hurt look on his face. Now I'm sorry I was so mean to him. I'm usually not like that. How should I have handled this? I got to thinking that maybe he was just a poor lonely old man trying to be friendly to another human being.

GUILTY IN CHICAGO

DEAR GUILTY: And maybe he was just trying to pick you up. Don't feel guilty. Perhaps you were a bit gruff, but I think you were wise for discouraging him.

DEAR ABBY: My wife wears a blond wig when she goes to business which makes her look 20 years younger. I think she looks real neat in that wig, however, when she comes home, the first thing she does is take her wig off!

What I want to know is—don't I count? Why should a woman not care how she looks in front of her husband, but she tries to look very special in front of other people?

Don't you think she should wear her blond wig at home, too?

HER HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: It's obvious that you have never worn a wig. (It's a little like a giraffe. It feels so good when you take it off.) Cheer up. It's what's underneath that counts.

DEAR ABBY: Many young people write and ask if they should "go all the way" to prove their love, and the various other things applied to enjoying the privileges of marriage without accepting any of the responsibilities. May I tell my story?

On Easter Sunday evening, back in 1942, I, then a young Naval officer, sat in my car on Rock Creek Parkway, directly behind the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C. With me was a young government stenographer whom I had been dating seriously for several months. Even the today's young people will think this was back in the Dark Ages, the desires of men and women haven't changed much since Adam and Eve. As the evening progressed with much hugging and passionate kissing, we both grew increasingly excited, when she suddenly drew away from me and said, "I am deeply in love with you, and I hope you feel the same about me, but if we don't stop right now I will hate you for what you will have done to me and you will abandon me because there will be nothing left. Whether I marry you or someone else, I will have broken a promise I made to myself that I would present my body to my husband in the same condition in which God brought me into this world. Now, please take me home."

All that night I thought about what she had said. Then I realized that she was not just another coquette. We were married in June, the following year. She kept her promise to herself, and I helped her.

Now, 28 years later, we have four wonderful children, and we still find each other mutually thrilling—and thrilling.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

DEAR CHARLOTTE: Thanks for sharing your experience with me and my readers. (Girls, commit that stenographer's speech to memory. It's beautiful. And practical, too.)

BETTY CANARY

Ah, New Thoughts For a New Season

By BETTY CANARY

We've been talking about how fall housecleaning is obsolete but how most women do a little something about it before starting their Christmas shopping. I am no exception and today I got to my desk. I know it was there somewhere!

On the desk were some leftover questions—some of my own and some asked by readers. Which brings us to our first question.

1—Why do we make such an issue over fall housecleaning when what we should do is a little thought-cleaning? (I might be wrong, but I believe that we have a big get rid of worn-out theories, out-of-date worries and furnish our minds with some newer, better ones?)

2—Who was the ringmaster on Super Circus?

3—You'd think if Congress could enact legislation on preserving alligators they could pass laws making it mandatory to kill rats. What happened to all the editorials on rats, the disease and the terror they spread? Was that issue only a passing fad?

4—Will Howdy Doody ever return?

5—Americans cheerfully give billions to aid people in foreign countries yet seemingly have little compassion for poor Americans. Why is it more important to have friendly foreigners than friendly natives?

6—Why doesn't every state have a school law similar to the one passed in Michigan this year? (Michigan school children now get books and supplies furnished, thus making true for the first time the old statement, "In this country we have free, public education.")

7—Can anybody really do anything about crime? (Somebody is trying. The National Council on Crime and Delinquency is a nonprofit private agency making an effort to control crime and delinquency by using the know-how of both private citizens and professional information—made possible by writing to The National Council, 44 E. 23rd St., New York, N.Y. 10010.)

8—Should I ask an astrologer if an Aquarius and a Taurus should plan an October wedding? (I doubt that any astrologer will help you choose a happy wedding date. However, I might say that you were born in November and we Scorpios are natural doubters.)

9—Will the minister in Colorado ever stop writing me letters asking why women think they know anything about politics, religion, business and education?

10—Is it possible to have a child who doesn't know everything? (I don't know. I'll ask my children.)

TMA Million Dollar Baby

TWIN FALLS — Idaho's only major and regularly scheduled intra-state airline is 19 months old — but it's a million dollar baby.

Trans Magic Airline's home field and operation base is at the Twin Falls City-County Airport, Joahn Field, and this week has completed the move into the most plush "executive terminal" building in the state.

Ross C. Lee, airline president, said Saturday the 133 by 100 foot hangar building is all steel construction and the only one of its kind in Idaho. All business operations of the airline, including repairs and maintenance, will now center in Twin Falls and planes covering the airline route which stretches from Salt Lake City, Utah, to Pullman, Wash., and touching most major Idaho communities will be hangared in Twin Falls each night.

"We are at the Twin Falls field because that puts us right in the middle of our operation," Lee said Saturday. "We will run everything right from here."

At the present time the twin-engined all-weather planes used by the airline are flown by a team of five pilots headed by Fred Gano, chief pilot, and James R. Lee, operations chief. Others are Nile Moon, Lee Culver and James Rowbottom. Overnight housing facilities are maintained for the flight crew members at the terminal building. A night kitchen is also established in the structure.

Special rooms include those for study, office space, accounting, lounge, lobby and ticketing.

The line works in close cooperation with Hughes Air West and United in maintaining connecting schedules. It serves Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Burley, Sun Valley, Twin Falls, Boise, Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene and other communities within the state.

This is Lee's initial venture into airline operation, which is under complete government control and which must meet exacting safety standards for equipment and crew members.

"We hope it will grow with Idaho," he said. "We've been in it only 19 months and already have over $1 million invested."

Before entering airline operations he was a Jerome businessman and still has business interests in that community.

the OMBUDSMAN* of the PEOPLE

Where does the average citizen turn when his frustrations with the modern world threaten to engulf him?

Why.—the local newspaper of course.

When you want to air your views on the local school board's budget and policy decisions, you turn for a forum to your newspaper.

When the blindfold of justice slips badly and some crony or powerful individual gets special favor at the bar of justice, where does the citizen find a forum for his protests?

In the local newspaper.

When legislators and government officials forget the fact that they are elected representatives of the people, where can the citizen remind them of this fact?

In the local newspaper.

As long as the American press is free and independent its role as the American ombudsman is apparent in every issue:

Here is the forum where opposing views can meet, where government business can be studied in the white light of public attention, where the right of the people to know is safeguarded. Here the electorate is provided the information, the facts and the truth (it needs) to make judgments in the conduct of public affairs and the performance of its elected representatives.

Strength, vigor and independence are vital in a newspaper because in these qualities we find our first line of defense in protecting the American way of life and the strength and flexibility of its form of government.

As long as America's newspapers remain strong, and vigorous, the people of America have an ombudsman who works diligently in their behalf, helping to protect them against tyranny and injustice.

*OMBUDSMAN — a government official appointed to receive and report grievances against the government.

Dunne, Harris Spark Second Straight Win

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

Well, it's happened. A fan has struck an official during a high school football game. It was an adult, naturally.

The incident occurred Friday afternoon during the Camas County-Carey game at Carey which is a pretty good rivalry to be sure, but surely not that good. And it came about at the time it was obvious that Camas County wasn't going home with its undefeated record intact.

Typical of most rivalries where emotions run wild and finesse is forgotten, it wasn't a great game or a spectacular or a participant standpoint. It was marked by dozens of penalties.

Leading up to the incident was the Camas County had the ball fourth and 24 at about its 35. It punted and a roughing the kicker penalty ensued. On the next play, Camas County threw a pass to back and one of its ends was called for clipping in clearing out the last chance Carey had of stopping the touchdown. Camas County, which was far from a festive mood at this point since it was trailing 14-0, could hardly be disappointed in seeing the score called back.

But as official Bill Last bent over to pick up the ball, a Camas County fan, in kind of an underhand scoop-type blow, slapped him in the face with an open hand. Last reacted well to it by not physically reacting at all because the tinder point was there. By controlling himself he controlled the situation and Carey school authorities and a deputy sheriff further calmed it down.

You know something else? After that no one really enjoyed the game on the Camas County side. They just kinda stood there and watched. A couple of men who had been on the officials pretty heavy sank back into the crowd and just watched.

It was, for that side, probably bad enough that the Musers had sustained their first loss but it was even more unbearable to some to see the whole county compromised.

It is exactly in this way that many schools in the nation today are forced to play their intercholastic immediately after school with no one but student body admitted. It can happen here. What also can happen is the Idaho Intercholastic Activities Association can suspend a school from competition for a year or two for incidents like these. In the meantime, the idea of sportsmanship, particularly in the eyes of the youngsters, isn't exactly furthered by such irrational displays.

Camas County has always derived a great source of pleasure from its athletic representation by the county high school and it has, perhaps, a little more history than most. Unfortunately, it also has one of the blacker eyes now, too.

POCATELLO — Jerry Dunne worked his usual rollout magic and Carlis Harris turned in two sparkling night returns Saturday night as the Idaho State University Bengals won their second straight game from rival University of Idaho 35-14 before a sellout in the Bengals' new Mini-Dome of 12,000.

Harris turned in punt returns of 68 and 83 yards. Dunne passed to Harris for another score, rolled out for a fourth, and the fifth came on a 129-yard run with an interception by Harrison McCallop. Speedster Fred Riley got both Idaho scores, one on a three-yard dash just before the half ended, and one on a nifty 80-yard across the grid, scamper in the third period to momentarily tie the score 14-14.

	ISU	IDAHO
First Downs	17	24
Rushing Yards	173	258
Passing Yards	221	24
Passing TDs	2	0
Punts	10	21
Fumbles Lost	0	2
Yards Penalized	74	85

Idaho had slightly the best offense with 408-348 for the Bengals, but in return yardage, Idaho State piled up 245. The Bengal pass defense, which had allowed 902 yards in the first three games, sparked with four interceptions and the pass-conscious Vandals got only 24 yards—most of them meaningless.

In addition, Idaho State lineman batted down nine Idaho aerials before they crossed the line of scrimmage. The game was only seven minutes old when Harris took an Idaho punt on his 17-yard line. ISU was building a blocking wall on the left side, and all the Vandals in that direction. So Harris came up the right side and was never touched.

Four minutes later, following an interception by Ras Catolico, Dunne hit Harris with a touchdown pass of 20 yards. The second quarter was quiet until Idaho started marching in the closing 2:13. Junior Tom Ponciano completed two third-down passes to Jim Willard and another to Riley to keep the drive alive. With 51 seconds left Riley squirted into the end zone on a quick pitch.

Idaho, after averting one ISU drive as the second half began, tied it on Riley's long punt. Riley made a spectacular spin to escape one tackler on the right sideline, then cut against the flow to reach three friendly white jerseys—the last 50 yards was a romp.

Idaho State reacted immediately with Dunne gaining 42 yards on a third-down rollout, and scoring two plays later on another rollout from the 18.

The Bengals threatened again when Dunne led them to the five-yard line, but on first down an option pitch went off and Idaho's Jesse Gray recovered. But three plays later, McCallop lying back and playing it well,

Arizona Rallies To Whip Iowa

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Arizona's tight defense intercepted three passes and recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter enabling Arizona to hold onto a 17-10 win over Iowa Saturday night.

The Hawkeyes mounted three serious drives in the last quarter but the Wildcats proved insurmountable.

Offensive star for Arizona was halfback Caesar Pittman, whose running punctured holes in Iowa's defense. The super-running sophomore returned an Iowa kickoff 80 yards in the first quarter for the first Arizona touchdown.

Pittman also set up a third quarter Arizona touchdown with two consecutive runs netting 40 yards. Junior quarterback Brian Linstrom then passed 12 yards to flanker Chagie McKee for the TD.

Iowa's scoring came in the first and third quarters with field specialist Marcos Mendez booting a 21-yarder late in the opening period. Sophomore Hawkeye quarterback Kyle Skogman, playing his first varsity game, hit Dave Triplett with a 16-yard pass in the third quarter, capping a 64-yard drive.

Newly activated kicker Doug Klusen hit a 31-yard field goal in the first quarter to put Arizona ahead 3-0. Klusen, who also converted Arizona's two touchdowns, took over kicking chores from ace placekicker Steve Furely who was dismissed from the Wildcat squad earlier in the week for missing practice.

Arkansas Thrashes TCU Squad

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Bruising Bill Burnett who has scored more touchdowns than any other player in Southwest Conference history, ran for four more Saturday night—ending 11th ranked Arkansas to a 42-14 thrashing of crippled and demoralized Texas Christian.

It was the 12th straight year Arkansas defeated Texas Christian in this traditional conference opener for both teams.

Burnett boosted his career touchdown total to 44 against TCU with scoring runs of 13, 2, 2, and 3 yards. On three short touchdown runs he dragged Horned Frog tacklers across the goal line.

All four of Burnett's scores were set up by the pin-point passing of quarterback Bill Montgomery who completed 13 of 20 for 265 yards. Montgomery counted for one Arkansas touchdown by throwing a two-yard scoring pass to tight end Pat Morrison.

Immediately after the on-10, stepping in front of an Idaho punting receiver. He raced into the end zone untouched.

UTEP Defeats Aggies

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Juan Borrego's diving catch of a 46-yard pass from Billy Craig with just 10 seconds left carried the Texas of El Paso Miners to a 21-14 victory over New Mexico State Saturday night.

Many of the crowd of 15,364 had drifted out of the Sun Bowl stadium, resigned to a 14-14 deadlock, when the Miners got the ball with 19 seconds left on a fair catch of an Aggie punt. The winning pass came on the first play after the punt.

Texas-El Paso had forged a 7-0 halftime lead on Phil Hatch's one-yard plunge and built it to 14-0 when Paul Adamlan slashed in from the three.

New Mexico State bounced back on a 69-yard pass from Rhett Putman to flanker George Crosby and a four-yard flip to tight end Phil Corley to tie it up.

The Miners' Jeff White missed two short field goal attempts in the final five minutes before the Craig-Borrego heroics.

The Miners drove 65 yards for their first touchdown with a 17-yard third down run by Hatch the key play. A pass interference call against the Aggies set up the second one.

Paul James, New Mexico State's heralded running back, carried the ball 20 times but netted only 79 yards.

N.C. Tips Vanderbilt By 10-7

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A 18-yard field goal by Ken Craven with 5:30 left in the game boosted North Carolina to a come-from-behind 10-7 victory over the Vanderbilt Commodores Saturday night.

Vanderbilt held on to a 7-0 lead into the final quarter but Tar Heel quarterback John Swafford marched his team 98 yards in 15 plays, capping the touchdown drive with a 16-yard pass play to Lewis Jolley to tie the score.

The victory was the fourth in a row for the Atlantic Coast Conference Tar Heels while Vanderbilt now stands 2-2.

Buhl Wins, Jerome Is Defeated

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI) — Chuck Hixson, Southern Methodist's passing specialist, pulled a switch Saturday when he ran eight yards for a touchdown and two more yards for the conversion to give the Mustangs a 21-20 victory over Northwestern.

The eight-point spurge put the Mustangs seven points ahead at the time. But Northwestern almost pulled out a tip when Al Robinson punched through the middle of the SMU line for a touchdown. SMU's lead held up only because Bill Planteck's extra point attempt was wild.

The win was the first for the Mustangs on a Big Ten gridiron in 19 years. The Mustangs jumped to a 13-0 lead but they were trailing 20-12 when they started the march from the Northwestern 38 late in the third quarter.

Jones Stars as USC Buries Beavers 45-13

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jimmy Jones had his greatest game as a Trojan Saturday night as the junior quarterback passed for three touchdowns and ran over a fourth in leading the University of Southern California to a 45-13 Pacific-8 football victory over Oregon State.

Jones got off touchdown passes of 8-11 and 42 yards and kept the ball on a three-yard scoring run, all in the first half. He left the game in the third period after having completed 15 of 21 passes for 304 yards.

The fourth-ranked Trojans ran up a 21-0 lead before Oregon State was able to tally its first touchdown. The Beavers, using Ralph Keck and Jim Kilmartin in their first appearances of the year, threw a touchdown to the injury of Steve Edmott last week.

Keck engineered a Beavers' touchdown in the second period and Kilmartin passed for a touchdown in the fourth period.

But the Trojans were never threatened as sophomore quarterback Mike Rae guided them to two touchdowns in the final quarter.

Midway through the first period, the Trojans drove 92 yards in 15 plays highlighted by Jones' passes of 30 yards to Bob Chandler and 26 yards to Sam Dickinson before Jones threw an 8-yard scoring pass to Sam Cunningham.

Just before the first period ended, Charlie Weaver recovered an Oregon State fumble on the Beavers' 13 and on the second play Jones passed 11 yards to Chandler in the end zone.

Following a Ron Ayala pass interception on the one-yard line in the second period, USC marched 99 yards culminating in the 42-yard pass to Dickinson.

The Beavers moved 32 yards in six plays for their first score with Dave Schilling plunging over from the three. But after an onside kick attempt was recovered by USC, the Trojans drove 49 yards with Jones scoring from three yards out.

Grambling Rolls to 57-6 Nod

CHICAGO (UPI) — Eddie Robinson's Grambling Tigers overwhipped Prairie View's Panthers 57-6 before an estimated 23,000 fans at Sox Park Saturday night.

Grambling took the lead 14 minutes into the game as halfback Frank Lewis scored the first of eight touchdowns by the Tigers, who gave Chicago grid fans their first look at football in the confines of Comiskey Park in 12 years.

In pushing their SWAC record to 2-1, the Tigers completed half of their 20 passes for 281 yards. Lewis, carried the ball nine times for 64 yards.

Prairie View's defense was unable to thwart the Tigers' offense as Grambling gained 229 yards.

The lone Prairie View touchdown came in the third quarter as Rich Gonzalez ran for 38 yards to the Panther 8-yard line.

North Texas Raps Drake

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Joe Milton turned from defensive back to quarterback Saturday night and pitched and ran North Texas State to its first victory of the season, a 37-13 triumph over previously undefeated Drake.

Milton came in on the third play of the game when starting quarterback Danny Collins broke his ankle and proceeded to hit 14 of 30 passes for 282 yards, including two touchdowns, and ran for two other six-pointers.

Phipps, Browns Win 15-7

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Rookie Mike Phipps came off the bench to throw a 54-yard scoring pass in the third period and Erich Barnes stole a Terry Bradshaw pass and faced 33 yards for a touchdown 43 seconds late Saturday night to give the Cleveland Browns a 15-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Statistics of the Cleveland-Pittsburgh game:

	Phipps	Civ.
First Downs	17	10
Rushing Yards	138	114
Passing Yards	107	126
Passing TDs	1	1
Punts	13:27	14:43
Yards Penalized	43	48

Phipps, who made his pro debut with 10:28 left in the third period and Browns behind 7-3, hit on two third-down passes for first downs before putting the Browns ahead to stay 9-7 with the scoring bomb to Jesse Morrison that capped a nine-play, 61-yard drive with 6:11 left in the third quarter.

Phipps, a rookie from Purdue, took over for Don Gault after Gault completed only one of 16 passes and finished the game with three for five for 86 yards. Gault was replacing the injured Bill Nelson.

Alemdor and Bucks Win

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Lew Alemdor scored 27 points to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to a 103-95 National Basketball Association exhibition victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers Saturday night.

The win was the sixth in a row for Milwaukee and the fifth time in the preseason that the Bucks have held opponents to less than 100 points.

Bobby Smith with 22 points was high for the Cavaliers, who never came closer than six points to the Bucks.

Bob Dandridge was second in line for Milwaukee with 19 points. Milwaukee led 62-39 at the half and went on to win despite 21 turnovers to Cleveland's nine.

Michigan Edges by A&M 14-10

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Quarterback Don Moorhead plunged over from the six-yard line with three minutes left Saturday as ninth-ranked Michigan edged upset-minded Texas A&M, 14-10.

The stubborn Aggies limited the offensively inept Wolverines to only four first downs through the first three quarters and held a 10-7 lead on a 10-yard touchdown run by Steve Burke in the first quarter and Pat McDermott's 21-yard field goal in the second.

Fullback Billy Taylor scored Michigan's first touchdown with 11:06 to play in the first half after Preston Henry recovered Dave Edmendorf's fumble of a fair catch on the A&M eight-yard line. The touchdown came on a fourth-and-inches play as Michigan won its third game without defeat.

Texas Nips UCLA 20-17

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Blond and deceptive Colton Speyer snagged a 45-yard touchdown pass from Texas quarterback Eddie Phillips with 12 seconds left Saturday to pull the Longhorns to a 20-17 victory over UCLA.

Theismann, Irish Shutout Michigan State by 29-0

EAST LANSING, (UPI)—Quarterback Joe Theismann sent four teammates in for touchdowns Saturday as he sparked third-ranked Notre Dame to a 29-0 victory over Michigan State.

His team in rushing with 107 yards on 13 carries while completing 12 of 17 pass attempts for 147 yards.

ended a jinx which had denied an Irish victory in East Lansing in their nine appearances here.

UCLA, riding the rifle arm of quarterback Dennis Dummitt, appeared to have an upset clinched as Dummitt passed for 340 yards and two third period touchdowns to put the Bruins ahead 17-13.

Utags Hold Memorial

LOGAN, Utah (UPI)—The Utah State University football team held a memorial service on the 50-yard line of Romney Stadium Saturday for the Wichita State University players and officials killed in a plane crash Friday.

Utahags held a memorial service on the 50-yard line of Romney Stadium Saturday for the Wichita State University players and officials killed in a plane crash Friday.

The Aggie players were joined by members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at USU who presented a wreath of gold and black colors — Wichita State's colors — in respect for the fraternity's brothers who were killed.

UCLA had thwarted Texas' famed triple option offense all afternoon, Dummitt riddled the Texas defense in the second half with 15 of 17 completions including a pair of 11 yard touchdown throws to Jerry Verdery and Bob Christiansen.

A-State Crushes Wyoming

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI)—Italian-born "Spagetti" Joe Spagnola tossed four touchdown passes and fullback Bob Thomas tore gaping holes in Wyoming's line as the Arizona State Sun Devils crushed the winless Cowboys 52-0 Saturday in a Western Athletic Conference game.

Allen Lawry intercepted a Dummitt pass with eight seconds remaining to erase the Bruin's last possible chance for an upset.

Spagnola, born in a suburb of Naples and WAC co-player of the year, in 1969, hit running back J.D. Hill with touchdown passes of 19 and 15 yards and connected with split end Ed Beverly on 19 yards scoring all in the opening period.

But the determined Bruins roared back, driving 89 yards after the second half kickoff to come within striking distance, then driving 93 yards for a go-ahead touchdown after Craig Campbell recovered a Texas fumble at the UCLA seven-yard line.

Rice Owls Pin Upset On Bears

HOUSTON (UPI)—Quarterback Phillip Wood who completed only five passes all night, connected on two touchdown passes to split end Tom Clanton in less than two minutes Saturday night to lead Rice to a 28-0 upset over the University of California.

UCLA quickly converted the recovery into a 19-yard field goal by Bruce Barnes.

Wood threw 20 yards to Clanton with five minutes to go in the half for the first touchdown and then hit him with a seven-yard scoring pass 1:42 minutes later.

The win gave the Longhorns the longest winning streak in Southwest Conference history.

U.S. Women Whip France

MADRID (UPI)—Martha Wilkinson fired a one-over-par 74 Saturday that enabled the United States to edge France by a single stroke as the American won the women's world amateur golf championship Saturday with an aggregate score of 89.

California, a seven-point favorite, suffered its second humiliation in Texas in three weeks. The Bears, 1-3, lost to the University of Texas 56-15 Sept. 19.

The closest California came to scoring was in the first quarter when the Bears drove to the Rice 1, but quarterback Dave Penhall was stopped six inches short on a fourth-down sneak.

Two California fumbles and short punt gave Rice three easy touchdown chances. Fullback Tim Todd fumbled on the first play from scrimmage and Rice defensive end Roger Collins recovered on the California 12.

Purdue Upsets Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Purdue's defensive troops, led by Randy Cooper and Arnold Carter, helped convert Stanford mistakes into three touchdowns, a field goal and a safety Saturday as the underdog Bolleymakers routed the fifth ranked Indians 24-14.

Bolleymakers, 10-point underdogs before the game, turned Stanford mistakes into a 28-14 upset win. (UPI)

Cooper's second interception of Plunkett set up another Purdue score, and six plays later Brown went nine yards around right end to boost the Purdue lead to 16-0 at the half. The Indians finally tallied at 8:26 of the third period as Plunkett went one yard for the score.

Brown got that one back for the Bolleymakers seven minutes later after Cooper intercepted Plunkett for the third time. The three interceptions by Cooper enabled him to tie a Purdue record for a single game.

Jennings Leads Air Force Past Colorado St. 37-22

AIRFORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—The 10th-ranked Air Force Academy Falcons fought off a 22-point fourth-quarter surge by underdog Colorado State University Saturday to win their fourth straight game, 37-22.

Bream scored running touchdowns of two and one yards. The game opened with a minute of silence in memory of the Wichita State University air disaster Friday.

CSU, unable to get its spurt-offense going until the final period, scored on an eight-yard touchdown pass from Wayne Smith to Tim Latus, an 88-yard kickoff return by Jake Green, a CSU school record, and a 30-yard toss from Smith to Charles Jackson with only one second showing on the clock.

Gamecocks Roll Over Tech 24-7

Jayhawks Demolish NM 49-23

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—The dazzling running of John Riggins and the pinpoint passing of Dan Heck led Kansas to a crushing 49-23 inter-sectional win over New Mexico Saturday.

Gamecocks Roll Over Tech 24-7

The Jayhawks were as brilliant as the sunny, clear day as Steve Conley raced off left tackle for 31 yards on Kansas' fourth play of the game to put the Jayhawks ahead to stay.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—Sophomore quarterback Jackie Young came off the bench to direct three second half scoring drives Saturday night and spark South Carolina to a 24-7 victory over winless Virginia Tech.

Following a 48-yard field goal by New Mexico's Joe Hartshorne, it was the power running of Riggins and Heck's accurate throwing that built a 21-3 halftime lead.

Young, filling in for injured Tommy Suggs, completed 11 passes for 130 yards as the Gamecocks broke open a tight first half battle by scoring 17 points in the third quarter.

With 11:37 left in the second quarter, Heck hit flanker Ron Jesse with a quick pass to the flats where Jesse left a Lobo cornerback grasping air as he yanked to the inside and roared 66 yards down the sideline with the Jayhawks' second score.

Young directed touchdown drives of 77 and 50 yards and his passing set up a 38-yard field goal by Billy DuPre. Fullback Tommy Simmons scored on a two-yard plunge and second unit fullback Chuck Mimms tallied the other touchdown on a six-yard dash.

Heck took the air again with only 50 seconds left and connected with Riggins at the Lobo eight and the 230-pound halfback ran over three Lobos to make it 21-3 at the half.

Simmons also scored the first South Carolina touchdown with a one-yard blast in the second quarter.

Stanford Wasn't Prepared

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—"Our kids played one helluva ballgame," said Purdue coach Bob DeMoss Saturday after the Bolleymakers upset Stanford 24-14.

The Gobblers, who spent the second half bottled-up in their own territory, collected their score in the second quarter on a 50-yard gallop by sophomore tailback John Dobbins. An 87-yard kickoff return for a touchdown in the third quarter by Tech's Rich Matijevich was nullified by a clipping penalty.

Sayers Could Miss Contest

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gale Sayers pulled up in pain when he tried to run at full speed in practice Saturday and the Chicago Bears said it appeared very doubtful their star running back would play against Detroit Monday.

The win boosted South Carolina's record to 2-1-1, while Virginia Tech dropped to 0-4.

"We had no special defense for him," said DeMoss. "We just didn't show him too much of anything. We tried to change up on him a lot because if you sit on one defense too long, he'll just pick you apart."

Reds Whip Pirates 3-0, Cop 1-0 Lead in Series

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pinch hitter Ty Cline's triple and Pete Rose's single shattered the scoreless tie in the 10th inning and the Cincinnati Reds scored two more runs on Lee May's double to beat Pittsburgh 3-0 Saturday in the first game of the National League playoffs.

Retread Ty Cline's Triple Keyed 10th-Inning Rally

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Ty Cline, the Cincinnati Reds' 31-year-old rethead who triggered them to their opening playoff victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday, belongs to a rather select group.

Big Hits Came Off Curveball

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh grabbed a sandwich and then pumped down in a rocking chair off the main Pirate locker room and said "what a play that Helms made."

Murtaugh referred to the third inning when the Pirates had runners on second and third with two away. Second baseman Dave Cash smacked the ball hard and it took a bounce. But Tommy Helms made a tremendous one-handed stop and threw him out to end the inning.

Murtaugh said he did not lift Dock Ellis, the losing pitcher in the ninth inning for a pinchhitter "because we needed him to pitch."

"I never notice umpires that much," he said. Murtaugh said that in a pre-game conference with National League President Chub Feeney they discussed the emotionality usually present in World Series games.

"This was my first playoff," Danny said. "Feeney just wanted me to guard against the players getting emotional as they can under pressure. But to me this was just another ball game. Now we gotta go out and win. We've been here before, you know. Both teams played well. I can't say anybody made mistakes."

Ellis accepted the defeat with a mixture of disappointment and graciousness. "I got away with murder," he said. "The wind was carrying the balls toward the fences all through the game."

The Reds peaked off their runs in the 10th inning, spurred by extra-base power which eluded them most of the game.

Cline and May got a hold of my curves," he said referring to Ty Cline's pinch triple and Lee May's double sandwiched around an intentional walk to Johnny Bench.

Ellis was asked if he thought this would be a hitters' playoff. "How can I say that," Ellis said with a shrug. "I can't predict anything after the first game."

Catcher Manny Sanguillen said Ellis's fast ball worked perfectly throughout the game. "He was just as strong at the end as he was in the beginning," Sanguillen said. "But I think his slider was beginning to hand a little bit in the late innings."

rightlander who never has achieved much success against the Pirates, succeeded eight hits but worked out of trouble time after time through the first nine innings to pick up the victory.

The best-of-5 series opened under the cloud of the first-umpire strike in major league history, but four hand-picked umpires from the minor leagues worked the game without difficulty. There were no arguments.

Cincinnati which was shut out only once during the regular season, got only one runner as far as third base through the first nine innings against losing pitcher Dock Ellis before Cline, batting for Nolan, to start the 10th, lined a triple to Roberto Clemente's right fielder center field.

With the infield drawn in, Rose lined a hit past first baseman Al Oliver into right to score Cline. Ellis retired the next two hitters, then intentionally walked Johnny Bench before May's double down the leftfield line scored Rose and Bench.

Clyde Carroll pitched the bottom of the 10th and got the Pirates out in order, striking out Clemente and John Jeter. The Pirates advanced only one runner to third base in the game. That was in the third inning, but second baseman Tommy Helms killed the rally with a brilliant backhand stab of Dave Cash's bounce, then threw Cash out for the third out.

It was the first extra-inning game in the National League in the two-year history of playoffs although two of Baltimore's victories in its three-game sweep of Minnesota in the American League playoffs last year required extra innings.

Ellis, 13-10 during the season, had been in serious trouble only in the sixth inning until the Reds broke through in the 10th.

Missouri Defeats Cowboys

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI)—Missouri turned two Oklahoma State fumbles into two touchdowns in less than two minutes Saturday and went on to defeat the Cowboys 40-20 in the Big Eight Conference opener for both teams.

The Tigers took possession on Oklahoma State's 13-yard line when Cowboy fullback James Williams fumbled the game-opening kickoff and tailback Joe Moore swept into the end zone on the second play.

Missouri got the ball back on the Oklahoma State 14 on the first play after the second kickoff when quarterback Tony Pounds fumbled.

Moore scored his second touchdown on a one-yard dive in the second quarter to cap a 68-yard push in 10 plays and the final Tiger touchdown came on a 51-yard dash by fullback James Harrison early in the fourth period.

Bastable kicked his first field goal of 33 yards midway in the opening period, following with three-pointers of 32 yards in the second quarter, 23 yards in the third and 42 yards in the fourth to tie a Big Eight Conference record of four field goals in a single game.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Fullback Wallace Clark's touchdown on a 84-yard kickoff return and his 187 yards rushing sparked Auburn to 24 second-half points Saturday and the 11th-ranked Tigers came from behind to defeat Kentucky 33-10 and spoil the Wildcats' homecoming.

Clark's dramatic return, which gave Auburn the lead at 10-0, came with 8:53 left in the third quarter after Kentucky's Bobby Jones had kicked this third field goal of the game, a school record 44-yarder.

Bobby Mitchell Leading

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)—Hot-shooting Bobby Mitchell fired a three-under-par 68 Saturday to increase his lead to four strokes after 54 holes of the Azalea Open.

Mitchell, who led by two shots, going into Saturday's play, had a 15-under-par 108 with 18 holes to go. Cesar Sainudo moved into second place with his second straight 68, staying four shots back as the other challengers began to wilt.

Defending champion Dale Douglass, who trailed Mitchell by two strokes at the halfway point, stumbled in with a one-over-par 72 to fall six shots off the pace.

In at 203, five strokes back of Mitchell, were Mason Rudolph, Rives McBee and Howell Frasier. Tied at 204 with Douglass were Hugh Boyer and Ralph Deming, who had the day's low round, a 65, marked by four straight birdies at the finish.

Mitchell shot his third straight subpar round over the 6,575-yard, par 36-35 T. Cape Fear Country Club course to tie the best 54-hole mark of the year.

He had a birdie of 12 feet at two, one from 30 feet at No. four and a 25-footer for an eagle at the 549-yard, sixth hole where he hit the green with a four-wood in his second shot.

At the eighth, Mitchell had to make a 16-footer for a par after missing the green to the left and chipping poorly. Then at 15, another par 5, he put his second shot in a bunker, left it there on the first try, and then came out to within three feet to get his five.

Sanudo, a product of the San Diego County, Calif. golf breeding grounds, had been more or less lost in the barrage of birdies in the first two rounds that included at first a 68 by Deane Beman, who skidded to 72 to fall to 206, and Douglass in the second round.

At the point in the afternoon, Sanudo had pulled within three strokes of the lead but he drew a bogey at 16, one of the holes that was affected by the rising wind in the late afternoon. He missed the greens to the left.

"My iron weren't too good today," Mitchell said. "I was still putting good and I drove it as good as I did the first two days. Maybe I can hang onto it if I shoot 64 tomorrow."

Wind-Blown Grand Slam Big Blow

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (UPI)—The big plays in Baltimore's 10-6 victory over Minnesota in the opening American League championship game, according to Baltimore captain Brooks Robinson, were Mike Cuellar's grand-slam home run—and a catch by Paul Blair.

Cuellar's homer, a 330-foot windblown fly ball that barely carried over the fence, was the highlight of the Orioles' seven-run fourth inning that exploded a 2-2 tie into a "laugher."

Then, with the Twins trailing 10-6 in the seventh, Tony Oliva reached base with his third straight hit and Brant Aleya hammered a drive more than 400 feet to dead centerfield.

Blair broke back to his right, looked over his shoulder and saw the 23-mile-per-hour winds had moved the ball back to his left, veered as he came to the warning track and threw up his glove.

"The ball bounced straight up off the heel of my glove and came back down in it," Blair said. "I finally got control of it one stride before I hit the fence."

Pickup Ump Crew Praised

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—A half-veteran, half-rookie pickup crew of umpires worked the opening game of the American League playoffs Saturday because of the regular umpires' strike and were praised by both team managers.

"They must have called a good game, because I didn't even notice they were out there," commented manager Bill Rigney of the losing Minnesota Twins.

"I thought they did a satisfactory job," said manager Earl Weaver of the victorious Baltimore Orioles.

With the regular umpires on strike to support their demands for higher fees at the playoffs and the World Series, the American League rounded up a substitute four-man crew that included:

Behind the plate—John Stevens, semi-retired A.L. umpire who worked some games this year because of an umpire shortage; at first base, Bill Deegan of the Southern League, at second base, Darold Satzell of the International League; and at third base, Charlie Berry, retired A.L. umpire.

There were no disputes and no rhabarbs. "It means we've only got two wins to go and especially being in their park, we've definitely got the advantage," said Hall.

Boog Powell, who hit a 407-foot homer in that seven-run inning and drove in another run with a single, was more cautious about the impact of a first-game victory.

"In a series like this, a guy will stay up and not get down on himself because it's just one loss. Now, if we win Sunday, that's a different story. We may start thinking about three straight like last year."

Earl Weaver, Baltimore's feisty manager, said the erratic winds were "definitely a factor in the game—it was a tough day to pitch, a tough day for outfielders."

He said Blair's catch was "amazing," but that he had seen the centerfielder make better ones.

Twins 10-6, in the first game of their best-of-five series for the American League championship.

Cuellar, a 33-year-old Puerto Rican left-hander with a sharp curve, couldn't hold his seven-run lead which he and his mates amassed, though, and had to be replaced by husky Dick Hall in the fifth inning when the Twins put together their only solid threat of the day, scoring three times.

Hall went on to earn the victory. "It was a sea-saw game, until Baltimore broke it open in the fourth. Then Frank Robinson and Elrod Hendricks singled and Robinson scored on Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly for a 3-2 lead. Dave Johnson singled to center and Mark Belanger beat out a single-off-pitcher Jim Perry's glove to fill the bases. Cuellar, who had hit home runs twice previously this season, looked at a ball, took a strike, and then flashed a high fly to right field.

The ball dropped in the first row of the right field grandstand seats, barely three feet inside the foul pole. It was measured as a 330-foot grand slam.

Twins 10-6, in the first game of their best-of-five series for the American League championship.

Unser Takes Trenton 300

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—Al Unser, who already owns the 1970 Indianapolis 500 title and the USAC driving championship, won the rain-shortened Trenton 300 at Trenton Speedway Saturday.

The 31-year-old Unser had a multi-lap lead over the field when a downpour during the 176th lap forced officials to call the race. His time for the distance—284 miles on the 1.12-mile track—was one hour 55 minutes and 46 seconds for an average speed of 137.5 miles per hour.

Florida Subdues Wolfpack

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Tailback Tommy Durranne rambled 30 yards for an early touchdown and passed for four yards to All-America receiver Carlos Alvarez for a late score Saturday as Florida downed winless North Carolina State 14-6.

The Durranne-to-Alvarez scoring toss gave the Gators a 14-0 lead and made meaningless a 14-yard scoring pass from North Carolina State reserve quarterback Dennis Britt to end George Botsko with 45 seconds left.

Durranne, a 204-pound junior, broke several tackles on his scoring dash which came off a draw play with 7:47 in the first quarter. His run came after the Gators marched from their own 48 with a 13-yard pass from quarterback John Reeves to Alvarez a key play in the drive.

Personality Cops Race

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ethel D. Jacobs, Personality Saturday, avenged a defeat suffered at the hands of Hydrologist two weeks ago when he led from wire to wire to capture the 17th running of the $110,000 Woodward Stakes at Belmont Park.

Undefeated Boise State has 17-10 Win over Bobcats

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UPI) — Boise State College scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and successfully opened the Broncos Big Sky Conference debut with a 17-10 victory over Montana State Saturday afternoon.

There were a total of eight fumbles lost in the game, five of which were given up by the Bobcats.

Two came in the final minutes of play when the Bobcats were threatening deep in Bronco territory.

Iowa State Nips WAC Utes 16-13

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Defense-minded Iowa State converted two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery into 13 second-half points to remain undefeated with a 16-13 inter-sectional victory over Utah Saturday.

Montana Outlasts Wildcats

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — Halfback Arnie Blancas scored four touchdowns to give defending Big Sky champion and fifth-ranked Montana an important 38-29 conference victory over Weber State before 12,000 fans Saturday at Dornblaser Field.

Toege Shoemaker lifted a 41-yard fourth period field goal—his third of the game—to clinch the Cyclone victory before 23,771 fans in Ute Stadium.

The victory was the third in a row for the Big-Eight Conference representative over a Western Athletic Conference school. The Cyclones opened the season with wins over New Mexico and Colorado State.

Shoemaker's game-winning field goal came after a Utah drive collapsed on the ISU 43, when fullback Jay Hardman's fumble was recovered by linebacker Ken Caratelli.

The Cyclones trailed until opening minutes of the final period when tailback Willie Harris cranked over from the seven to tie the contest 13-13 and cap a 42-yard drive.

Steve Wardlaw intercepted a Gordon Longmire pass and returned it to the Ute 42. The Cyclones scored the touchdown nine plays later after moving from the 17 to the six on a pass from Dean Carlson to Tom Lorenz.

A pass interception — this time by Tony Washington — set up Shoemaker's second field goal of the game, which covered 31 yards.

The Utes, capitalizing on early ISU mistakes, scored twice in the opening period, including the first of two field goals by Mary Bateman.

Bateman kicked a 31-yard field goal five minutes into the opening period. His kick came after the Utes were unable to penetrate deeper following the recovery of a Cyclone fumble on ISU's 17.

Aided by two penalties, the Utes moved 59 yards moments later with Longmire slanting over from the end. Halfback Billy Hunter dashed 17 yards to ISU's 16 following a 15-yard penalty which gave Utah a first down on the 33.

Illini Blank Syracuse

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Resurgent Illinois seized on Syracuse errors Saturday to roll over the Orangemen, 27-0, for the Illini's first shutout victory since 1968.

Sophomore quarterback Mike Wells led Illinois, which failed to score a victory all last season, to their second win in three starts of this season. Syracuse, whose team has been plagued by racial troubles, has yet to win in as many starts.

Coey Windy put the game for out of reach in the fourth quarter when he grabbed a 49-yard punt by Gary Jakowenko and raced back 69 yards for a touchdown.

Ickx Has Pole Spot For Race

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI) — Belgium's Jacky Ickx, who set a new lap record at 131.28 m.p.h. to grab the pole position, was a strong favorite to win the United States Grand Prix Sunday.

If Ickx wins the 200-mile championship, it will be the fourth Grand Prix victory in a row this year for the Italian Ferrari.

Ickx has won two of the last three races while teammate Clay Regazzoni of Sweden took the third.

"The car is running well, we won't have to do much work on it before the race and it should be quite a race," Ickx said after accepting the $2,500 award for the fastest lap in qualifications. "If we don't run into mechanical troubles, we'll be right up there."

Ickx set the record during practice Friday. It was not topped during Saturday's session as a brief rain shower wet down the 2.3 miles course and kept times slower throughout the afternoon.

For Ickx, the Glen race and the Mexican Grand Prix in two weeks are "musts. If he does not win both races, the world championship will be awarded posthumously to Austria's Jochen Rindt, who was killed in the Italian Grand Prix.

The race will not be a runaway for Ferrari, however. World Champion Jackie Stewart of Scotland is considered the strongest challenger. He will be right next to Ickx on the starting grid in a Tyrrell-Ford after posting the second fastest time at 130:19 m.p.h.

Blancas scored what turned out to be the game's clinching touchdown midway in the fourth quarter when he went 23 yards off tackle to give the Grizzlies a 38-21 lead.

Montana had earlier threatened to make the game a runaway, leading 31-14 at halftime.

However, Weber sophomore quarterback Bob Bramlett began firing aerial bombs in the second half which kept the Grizzly defense wobbly.

Two Grizzly fumbles in the second half, one which set up a Weber drive at the Montana 27 early in the third period. Weber fullback Jack Brown boomed in from the three for his second touchdown of the day with three minutes gone in the second half to cut the score to 31-21.

After Blancas' fourth touchdown late in the game, Weber stormed back with an aerial blitz which saw Bramlett hit wingback Mark Loughery with an 81-yard scoring pass less than a minute later.

Tennessee Routes Army

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Reserve quarterback Dennis Chadwick threw two touchdown passes Saturday as Tennessee ran roughshod over a stunned Army team with 652 yards in total offense for a 48-3 rout.

Army made it 7-2 in the first period on Arden Jensen's 23-yard field goal. But that was as close as the Cadets could get as the Vols exploded for 21 points in the second quarter.

Dennis, Trojans Whip Gooding Skyline's Air Game Sinks T.F. by 42-15

WENDELL — Explosive Kirk Dennis rambled 60 yards to set up a TD on a fake punt and later broke loose for a 90-yard touchdown run Friday night as the Wendell Trojans rolled up an easy 24-8 Homecoming victory over arch-rival Gooding. Dennis, wearing pads Friday night for the first time since Monday because of a leg injury sustained in practice, rushed for 228 yards — 158 of those coming in the second half on his long run on a fourth-and-six situation at midfield that set up Wendell's second touchdown in turning the game completely in the Trojans favor — and the 90-yard romp. The victory kept Wendell undefeated in the Big Six, Gooding getting pinned with its first loss. The Senators put together three good drives in the game, but a clipping call put the skids on a drive that carried to the Wendell nine-yard line in the first period with the Senators trailing 8-0 and Gooding ran out of downs at the Wendell five early in the final frame. A last-ditch drive finally found the end zone with 62 seconds left but the game was long gone.

Dennis, probably the best bronkway back in this area since Twin Falls' Dick Johnson several years ago, did it all for Wendell. He picked up the key yardage in the Trojans' first drive that started on their own 20 midway through the opening period, slithering through the Senator defense for 51 yards in the series. Rod Adams got the TD with 0:30 left in the second frame, Trojan quarterback Kirk Webb hitting Pat Bennett with a two-point pass.

With about 10 minutes left in the third quarter, and Wendell leading by that 8-0 margin, Dennis pulled his surprise on the kicking situation — letting four Senators come within a foot before darting away and down the left sideline to move the ball all the way to the Gooding five. Adams bulled up the middle on the first play from there, and Dennis passed to Fred Blackburn on the option for the two-point and a 10-0 lead.

Just as the fourth period began Gooding was driving — mainly on the passing of Gary Gorrell and receiving of Joe Sagers — but the Trojan five-yard-line was where it stopped as Ken Kobor intercepted on fourth down — Sagers just missing a TD pass on a third-down situation.

After an offside penalty, Dennis took a handoff from the Wendell 10, started to move to the outside, then cut in and beat safety Jeff LaCroix easily for the 90-yard score that put the game on ice.

Taking their cue from past performances, the Skyline Grizzlies, behind the duo of Ross Goddard and Kelly Diest, exploited the Twin Falls pass defense for an easy 42-15 victory Friday night.

Skyline took advantage of shoddy Twin Falls play to score in the first four minutes of the game and then breezed away with 21 points in the second period. The Bruins placed together a grinding, grinding 21-play march to pull to within 13 points with 50 seconds left in the third period but Skyline came back with a ground attack for one score and a pass for another to turn it into a rout.

Goddard, living up to his advance billing as one of the league's best passers, had a little trouble adjusting his Twin Falls' next possession.

once he did, the victimized Twin Falls secondary was in desperate trouble. He completed only five passes but they added up to 128 yards and two touchdowns.

Twin Falls was pinned back on its 11-yard line on the opening kickoff and got into trouble immediately when Tom Eames returned the punt 17 yards to the Bruin 20. Three plays later Mark Nickum went in from the five.

After a punt exchange Twin Falls showed its best spark. It rolled 82 yards in 11 plays with Alan Scherbinske and Robert Warner getting most of the score on a 17-yard reverse run and Kich Borah's kick tied it.

that carried 45 yards to a first down at the Skyline 23, ended in a fumble and that was the high water mark.

Skyline went 68 yards for 10 plays with the big one being a 30-yard pass to Diest. Mark Mason scored on an eight-yard play. Diest's 60-yard punt return set up another three minutes later; Goddard keeping for the last seven yards. Late in the half, Doug Fredrickson intercepted a Twin Falls pass, and with 29 seconds remaining, Goddard hit Diest on a 42-yard scoring play.

Twin Falls used all but three plays and 50 seconds of the third quarter in marching to its second touchdown. It came on fourth down on a three-yard run by Scherbinske on a counter. Jerry Barbour threw to Joe Swape for the two-point conversion.

But Skyline came right back with a ground march of its own — excepting one 14-yard pass play, and Goddard rolled in from the 13 with 8:10 remaining. He then threw a 22-yard scoring strike to Tom Eames for the final points.

KIP DENNIS (40) tries to turn the corner but is swarmed under by Gooding's right side in the first quarter. Bill Elinger (82) of the Senators makes the tackle, with Ted Madsen (42) coming up from the rear, Kirk Dennis (43) leading interference on this play, gained 228 yards and had a 90-yard TD, run as Wendell took the Homecoming battle 24-8.

SKYLINE HALFBACK Brad Paul intercepts a Twin Falls' pass early in the fourth quarter to set up the Grizzlies' last touchdown in a 42-15 rout of the Bruins. Paul picked off the Kevin Nelson pass at the Bruin 47 and ran it back to the 39, Skyline scoring six plays later.

Punt Return, Blocked Kick Lets Carey Nip Camas 14-0

CAREY — A long punt return and a blocked punt provided all the scoring Friday afternoon when the Carey Panthers topped the Camas County Musers with a 14-0 decision.

The game was marked by frequent penalties. Carey won't with its defense which grew stronger as the game progressed. Camas County's defense didn't allow a lot more than Carey's but the Panthers, particularly in the second half, controlled the ball more.

Young Marty Peterson, playing his second game this year, got Carey going on the second punt of the game. He took it about on his own 30 yard line and with some good individual moves and blocking moved to the Camas County 21-yard line before being downs.

Dennis Rush picked up a first down at the 10 on a draw play and Camas County contributed a five-yard offside penalty. Simpson then took over, hitting for four yards to the one, and then bursting in for the touchdown. A pass from Bart Murdoch to Hefstetter got the two-point conversion.

After that both offensive units were pretty well stymied although Carey missed a good chance late in the half when it recovered a fumble at the Musher 15-yard line but couldn't convert on it.

Carey, which has only a tie against its record and takes the inside track for the Snake River eight-man conference championship, pulled out of reach late in the third period. Camas County, losing 13 yards in two would-be passing plays, tried to punt from its end zone. But Rusty Baldr, who had a fine defensive day with tackles and three blocked passes, broke through to block the punt. The ball rebounded slightly over head and to the right where Carey's Simpson grabbed it in midair for the score. The try for point strayed left. Camas County mounted only one serious threat in the second half when it moved to a first-down at the Carey 20-yard line but the Musers ran out of downs before reaching the 10.

In their best offensive show of the season, the Wolverines matched the highly-regarded Pilots in scoring until a flip pass exploded into a 68-yard scoring bomb early in the fourth period.

Glenns Ferry drew first blood, blocking a Wolverine punt to set up shop on the six-yard line. A couple plays later Rick Brown cracked in from the three. But before the first period ended, Wood River mounted a 60-yard drive that ended on a six-yard scoring strike from Ken Uhrig to Mark Jensen. The Wolverines took the lead in the second period with another drive. Greg Exner going in from the three.

Glenns Ferry regained the lead in the third period when Paul Shrum capped an opening drive by going 21 yards on a roll out. Brown got the two-point for the M-12 margin. But it lasted only long enough for Wood River to place another drive together and that was culminated on Kim Crofts' two-yard plunge. Jeff Isom booted the point after.

The fourth period was only a couple of plays old when Shrum threw a short pass over the middle to Rick Harder. Harder broke through the secondary and sprinted 68 yards for the Pilots' go and stay-ahead point. On its next possession Glenns Ferry got a 17-yard scoring sprint from Brown and late in the game the Pilots ended it with a two-yard drive by Shrum.

DIETRICH — Rolly Woolsey led an explosive Rimrock offense with 235 yards rushing in nine carries Friday afternoon as the Raiders used four big plays in the first period to whip Dietrich 39-8.

Woolsey — scoring three times on long breakaway runs — got almost 27 yards a crack for the game. Freshman guard Mike Quinn made an offense for the Raiders with 12 unassisted tackles and he did everything Woolsey had 12 himself.

On the third play of the game Woolsey broke loose for 42 yards and the first Rimrock TD. Bob Majors ran 46 yards for the second touchdown and added the extra point for a 13-0 lead early in the first period, before Woolsey scampered 33 yards for another score and Terry Black romped in from 41 yards out to make it 27-0 after the opening eight minutes.

Dietrich scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter on a pass from Russ McCrea to Ken Meservy. McCrea ran over the two-point conversion and it was 27-8 at half.

Midway through the third period, Rimrock apparently scored again on an 89-yard pass play, but that was erased with a clip call. But on the next play, Woolsey went 65 yards for a touchdown to make it 33-8. Bob Majors threw a 25-yard scoring pass to Keith Bybee to end the scoring.

Murtaugh Topples Castleford

MURTAUGH — Stewart Tolman unleashed a fine second-half running display to point the Murtaugh Red Devils to three touchdowns and a 28-14 decision over the Castleford Wolves Friday night.

Tolman, although he never scored, proved the difference as the Devils erased an 8-6 deficit for the victory. Murtaugh struck first on a 35-yard pass from Doug Stanger to Wayne DeGeorgio. But Castleford erased that in the second period when Larry Reed threw to Lynn Reese on an 81-yard touchdown play. Stahlacker got the two-point to establish the lead.

But Murtaugh took control in the second half as Tolman led a drive that ended on an 18-yard rollout by Stanger. On the next possession, Murtaugh, with Tolman getting two big runs up the middle, drove for another score. John Flynn went 15 yards around end for the touchdown.

Castleford kept its hopes alive with a drive and scored on short plunges by Kaecher. Lynn Reese keyed the drive with two good runs. But Murtaugh led it in the fourth period on a 37-yard pass from Stanger to DeGeorgio.

Huskies Tip Declo By 34-0

HANSEN — An alert Hansen defense, led by Walt Freestone and Greg Moore, picked off five passes Friday afternoon — running back two in the first half for scores — the Huskies rolled past Declo 34-0.

The Hornets went to the air 42 times against the bigger Hansen squad — their ground game eaten up for just 50 yards in 22 attempts. Hansen, meanwhile, piling up 355 yards for the afternoon, jumped ahead 12-0 without any offensive effort.

Declo held on the first series, but seconds later Kevin Stanger picked off a pass and ran 40 yards for the first Huskie touchdown. The Hornets put together a march to the 12-yard-line in the second period, but Moore intercepted and went 88 yards for another TD.

Hansen upped its margin to 20-0 after Freestone's 20-yard TD pitch to Moore midway through the second period. The Huskies capped a long drive in the third period when Freestone plunged over from the one.

Moore ran over the two-point conversion. Another interception by Moore — who ran the ball back 21 yards — set up the Huskies in the fourth quarter and Lynn Pearson ran an end-around for the final TD.

For Hansen — in addition to an air-tight second half defensively — Stanger, Perkins, and Dave Lockwood all picked off passes.

MOUNTAIN HOME — Mountain Home used a stingy defense and the running of big fullback Mike Taylor Friday night to shutout the Piler Wildcats 26-0 in an SCIG game.

The Tigers only led 8-0 at the half on the strength of Rick Singleton's 16-yard TD pass to Mike Grossman, but punched three more touchdowns across in the second half to clinch it.

Filer couldn't generate any offense punch, getting only four first downs and 27 yards rushing. Mountain Home scored its second TD in the third period on Taylor's 21-yard scamper, and Bormenoso tallied for the Tigers on the next Mountain Home series for a commanding 20-0 lead.

MILTON, Mass. (UPI) — Joe Kapp, the flamboyant quarterback who prided himself out of a job with the Minnesota Vikings, ended several weeks of frustration Friday by signing, with the lowly Boston Patriots.

Kapp, a holdout with the Vikings because they refused to meet his demands for a five-year contract estimated at $1.2 million, said he was ready to help the Patriots become a winner.

T.F. Runners Claim Meet

JEROME — Twin Falls' cross-country team won the Jerome Invitational meet from the host squad Friday afternoon, placing Jack Cooper second behind Randy Suter's record-breaking effort for the Trojans.

Suter, in finishing first, smashed the old record on the Jerome course by a good 30 seconds. Suter clocked off a 1:53 time to beat off Cooper. Wise of Mountain Home was third; Dater of Twin Falls fourth; Parker of Idaho Falls fifth; Warz of Wood River sixth; Swiger of Wood River seventh; Beyer of Leadore eighth; Van Hooser of Jerome ninth; and Don Dunnington of Twin Falls was 10th.

Baker scored on runs of 40 and 40 yards, both on counter plays in the first and early second periods. He added another on a short run late in the first half.

The Hornets turned to the air in the second half to pull easily out of reach. Adams threw a 35-yard scoring pass to Ray Severo and Severo hit Randy Robinson for the two-point conversion.

A few minutes later Adams hooked up with Mike Goringe on a 40-yard scoring play and Ray Severo wrapped up scoring with a 16-yard strike to Lynn Simmons.

Martin Will Pilot Tigers

DETROIT (UPI) — Battling Billy Martin accepted a two-year challenge Friday to correct a deteriorating situation in Detroit and try to manage the Tigers back into American League pennant contention.

Shoshone Bounces Valley by 20-12

EDEN — Shoshone ran up a 20-0 lead at halftime on three big plays and withstood Valley's repeated threats Friday night in whipping the Vikings 20-12.

The Vikings totaled 16 first downs to the Indians' five, but Shoshone held on its own 2-yard line with just a couple seconds left in the first half and saw Valley fumble the ball away twice in scoring territory in the second half.

Shoshone got its first touchdown midway through the opening quarter when Swaininger broke loose for 36 yards on a counter play. Jack Solonga made it 14-0 in the second frame when he broke a sweep open for 55 yards. Solonga bulled over for the two-point conversion.

Urrutia intercepted if Larry Richman pass later in the period from the 31 and went in for the third Shoshone TD to make it 20-0. The Vikings meanwhile, moved the ball well most of the half but couldn't score. The Indians held on their two just as the buzzer sounded.

Valley took the second half kickoff and took it in on a sustained drive, Ritchie scoring from the two. In the third period, Robie, English intercepted a Shoshone pass and scored from the 40. Both tries for two-point conversions failed.

Although Valley moved the ball, the fumbles killed two drives and Shoshone's defense did the rest in holding on for the win. For the Indians — who dress down less than 20 players a game — it was their third win against one loss and a tie.

Killen Among Trio Tied For Idaho Open Lead

Veteran Blue Lakes Country Club professional Dave Killen, tracking on a three-under 65 to his first day 65 — was among a group of three tied for the second-round lead in a light Idaho Open Golf championship Saturday at Municipal in Twin Falls.

Tom Williams of Brigham City and Las Vegas pro Tony Laroetti — the first day leader after a torrid 63 — were tied with Killen for the lead. No less than 13 golfers have a shot at the championship in Sunday's final round as three men are bunched two shots back of the leader and 10 more are within striking distance — no more than five shots back.

After the first round Laroetti enjoyed a one-shot lead over Pocatello's Mike Renshaw and Williams. Killen was another shot back at 65. But in Saturday's round Williams put together a two-under 66 — included in that a sizzling 31 on the front nine. He eagled the first hole Saturday.

Laroetti shot a 67 Saturday, four shots behind his early pace.

Bunched two shots behind the leaders were Bill Downs of Morgan, Utah, at 132; defending champ Jon Mauss of Ogden, and amateur Jack Hild.

At 133 were Twin Falls' Phil McRoberts, and Bob Droz of Price, Utah. Veteran Boise pro Ray Honsberger led four men at 134, included in that group Terry Malan of Sandy, Utah, Paul Lanagan, and Arnold.

Haneke of Boise.

Don Lowman, Jim Baker, and Dick Kramer all at 137. Blackfoot's Dave Berrett, Clyde Thomsen of Twin Falls, Pat Bauman, and Jim Blandford of Twin Falls were in at 138.

Ernie Schmitter Jr. of Ogden and Al Jones were at 140, with Joe Blinsigro, Bill Butterfield, Val Toolson of Rupert, and Joe Tomes all with 141.

With 142 were Earl Okkerstrom of Boise; Jeff Perkins, Ken Sparks of Nampa; John Evans, Mike Cerello; Jeff Thomsen of Twin Falls, and Paul Davids.

Kansas State Stuns Buffs 21-20 on 2-Point Pass

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — Kansas State made a daring two-point pass conversion stand up for a 21-20 upset victory over seventh-ranked Colorado Saturday when Buffalo kicker Dave Haney missed an extra point, his first after 32 successful tries.

First-string back Henry Hawthorne scored what proved to be the winning touchdown with 17 seconds remaining in the third quarter, taking a short pass from Lynn Dickey over the middle and scampering 75 yards for a 19-14 Kansas State lead.

Going for two points, Dickey twice called time out before flipping a pass to Mike Montgomery for the winning points.

Colorado, a team which stopped Penn State's 31-game unbeaten streak a week ago, took advantage of a fumble by Terry Draper and a recovery by John Staveley at the Kansas State 23. From there, Colorado needed only four running plays. John Terver scoring his third touchdown of the game from the eight.

Haney's kick, however, sailed wide to the left with 7:10 to play, his first miss since early in the 1969 season.

Ole Miss Batters Alabama by 48-23

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Archie Manning hurled three touchdown passes and ran for two more scores and Vernon Studdard dashed 100 yards with a kickoff Saturday night to lead eighth-ranked Mississippi to a 48-23 victory over Alabama in a nationally televised Southeastern Conference game.

Manning passed seven and 14 yards to tailback Randy Reed and eight yards to Studdard for touchdowns, then raced for scores himself on runs of one and 14 yards.

Alabama quarterback Neb Hayden, substituting for injured Scott Hunter, pitched three touchdown passes in a losing cause and gained more yardage passing than Manning in their personal duel—193 to 157 yards. Manning also picked up 46 yards rushing.

Wisconsin Has Upset Of Lions

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Noll Graff fired two touchdown passes — 52 yards to Larry Mialik and 27 yards to Terry Whitaker — to break a fourth-quarter tie and give Wisconsin a 29-18 upset victory over Penn State Saturday.

It was the first victory of the season for the Badgers, who had lost one and tied one. The loss was the second in a row for the 17th ranked Nittany Lions, who had a 23-game winning streak broken by Colorado a week earlier.

Graff, who spent much of the day on his back as Penn State's defense spilled him time after time, threw three touchdown strikes and set up a fourth with a 16-yard run in the first period.

The Badgers broke a 16-16 tie with 8:21 left in the game when Graff connected with Whitaker. The touchdown was set up by an interception of a Mike Cooper pass by Wisconsin's Danny Crooks.

Franco Harris of the Lions fumbled on the next series and Wisconsin's Mike Mayer recovered in on the Badger 40. Two plays later Graff hit Mialik with a 4:33 left to ice the victory.

Oregon Topples WSU 28-14

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon, which gained a net of four inches per try on the ground in its last two games, sprung junior quarterback Bobby Moore loose for two touchdowns and 83 yards rushing Saturday to beat Washington State 28-14 in a Pacific 8 football game.

Moore, fully recovered from a sore toe, scored from nine and one yards out and added two runs for two point conversions.

Sophomore quarterback Don Fouts passed to end Bobby Newland for another touchdown and scored one himself on a one-yard keeper as Oregon ran its conference record to 2-1.

Three long aerial bombs, of 52, 50 and 48 yards from Fouts, set up three of Oregon's touchdowns.

Washington State scored in the first and final periods. The first time on a one-yard run by quarterback Ty Paine when the Cougars went ahead 7-0.

Fullback Bob Ewen got the final Washington State score with 8:48 left on a six-yard run after a 54-yard pass from Paine to Ed Armstrong.

Huskies Rip Navy By 56-7

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Washington scored almost at will Saturday as the Huskies rolled over Navy 56-7, equaling the most points ever scored against the Midshipmen.

It also was the highest score rolled up by Washington since 1951 when the Huskies tallied 60 against Montana.

Husky quarterback Sonny Sixkiller left the game after he opened the second quarter by passing 33 yards to Ralph Bayard to give the Huskies a 21-0 lead.

Sixkiller appeared only briefly in the second half. Substitute quarterbacks Greg Collins and Steve Hanzlik guided the Huskies most of the remainder of the game.

Washington scored on the second play of the contest when defensive back Bob Burmeister intercepted Ade Dillon's pass on the Navy 28 and ran it into the end zone.

Washington got a gift touchdown in the third period when Navy was called for pass interference on the three-yard line and Washington scored of the next play.

Halfback Darrell Downey made it 49-0 when he took a screen pass from Collins and scampered 43 yards for another Washington six-pointer.

Navy finally got on the scoreboard when Washington safety Ron Volbrecht fumbled a punt on his own 25. Halfback Cal Durst singlehandedly took it in from there.

Miami Has Win Over Oakland

MIAMI (UPI) — Quarterback Bob Griese threw touchdown passes of 49 and 17 yards to speedy Paul Warfield during a tropical downpour Saturday night to power the Miami Dolphins to a 20-13 win over the Oakland Raiders.

Griese threw the 49-yard scoring pass to Warfield on the first play of the second quarter just before a torrential rain turned the Poly-turfed Orange Bowl into a huge lake. Griese again hit the shifty Warfield with a 17-yard touchdown pass with 12:20 left in the final period.

Garo Yepremian, Miami's Cyroplot soccer-style kicker, booted field goals of 47 and 40 yards.

Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica threw a 38-yard touchdown pass to Warren Wells with 1:01 left in the game to account for the Raiders' only touchdown. Wells made a one-handed grab against a "prevent defense" and sped into the end zone.

George Blanda, Oakland's ageless kicker and reserve quarterback, booted field goals of 12 yards with 27 seconds left in the first half and with 4:18 left in the third period to account for six of Oakland's points.

Oakland, now 0-2-1 and suffering its first loss to the Dolphins, had a 60-yard scoring run by Charlie Smith called back by a holding penalty against tackle Art Shell.

The 49-yard Griese-to-Warfield touchdown pass was set up by rookie Curtis Johnson, who intercepted a Lamonica pass on Miami's 49-yard line. Three plays later, Griese threw to Warfield, who spun away from two tacklers and scampered into the end zone with 14:47 left in the second quarter.

Jackson, Bobcats Top Rigby

BURLEY — Bob Jackson ran the opening kickoff back 65 yards and Burley led 20-0 over putnamned Rigby after the first quarter Friday night as the Bobcats took an easy 44-6 homecoming victory.

Jackson's TD — run — his second of the year on a kickoff — was followed minutes later in the opening frame by a long run by Stanfield after a Rigby punt.

Stanfield's 40-yard return set up Carson's four-yard TD run off tackle. Carson broke loose on the next. Burley series but fumbled near the goal line, a Burley lineman recovering for another TD and the 20-0 lead.

Jackson got his second touchdown of the night on a 20-yard run in the second quarter and the Bobcats led 26-6 at the half.

Coach Bob Mathews emptied the bench in the second half against Rigby. Kerry Carlson getting a TD in the third period on a 15-yard run.

Buckeyes Top Stubborn Duke

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Rex Kern, Leo Hayden and John Brockington rushed for 397 yards and two touchdowns and defensive end Ken Luttrier ran 45 yards for another score with a blocked punt as top ranked Ohio State defeated tenacious Duke 34-10 here Saturday.

Kern scored on a three-yard run and passed 11 yards to Larry Zelina for another touchdown and Brockington scored on a three-yard run as the Buckeyes scored 21 points in the third period to break open what had been a close game.

Duke took a 3-0 lead in the first period over the sluggish Buckeyes on a 36-yard field goal by Dave Pugh. Ohio State managed to move out to a 6-3 halftime advantage when tackle Ralph Holloway blocked a Duke punt and Luttrier picked it out of the air and rambled 45 yards for the touchdown with 16 seconds remaining in the period.

The final Ohio State score came in the fourth period on a three-yard run by sophomore tailback Rick Galbos. Duke picked up its only touchdown with 1:23 remaining in the game on a two-yard run by Steve Jones.

Hayden, whose half brother Gene Robinson, was killed less than 24 hours earlier in the crash of a plane carrying the Wichita State football team, gained 167 yards on 26 carries. Kern, who carried the ball 13 times for 113 yards, gained 100 yards in the third period, including runs of 38 and 50 yards on broken pass plays, to set up touchdowns.

Brockington, who succeeded all-American Jim Ols this year, gained 117 yards on 28 carries going into Saturday's game.

LSU Routs SWC Bears

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Tailback Tommy Casanova ran for two touchdowns and Andy Hamilton added two more as Louisiana State defeated Baylor 31-10 Saturday night.

Casanova scored on runs of two and three yards in the first half and Bert Jones passed five yards to Hamilton for three of the Tiger touchdowns.

Hamilton sneaked around Baylor's right side on a seven-yard run in the final seconds of the game for the last LSU score.

Mark Lumpkin added seven points with a 21-yard field goal and four conversions.

MacArthur's Aircraft Takes New 'War' Job

THE COMPLEX instrument panel of the Lockheed Constellation which once carried Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his staff testified to the job of the flight crew. This panel was used by the flight engineer, who monitored all instruments for the pilot and co-pilot.

BY BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — The personal aircraft of the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, hero of Bataan and the Philippines, during the Second World War, will "go to war" again in a most unexpected way — dropping insecticide on ants.

The aircraft is currently stationed at the Twin Falls Municipal Airport for conversion into a spray plane, according to Haber Lazaros, president of AVI, Inc. The plane was unknowingly purchased by the Chrysler Aviation Co., of Thermopolis, Wyo., as part of a group of six aircraft for spray-plane conversion.

Lazaros happened to check with Lockheed for information on the plane's construction to help with the conversion. Lockheed checked on the plane's history and found that it was the "Bataan," which was used by Gen. MacArthur during the Korean War and the post-World-War-II period. The plane was one of nine Lockheed Constellations to leave the Lockheed assembly line, and was delivered in January, 1949.

The plane is listed on Lockheed records as "delivered to the U.S. government for use by high-ranking government officials." It was not the original MacArthur aircraft, according to its delivery date, but was used by him for transportation during his final years as a U.S. Army general in the South Pacific command.

The plane is in "like new" condition, according to its records, Lazaros said. Every 1,000 hours of flight the entire plane was returned to Lockheed for servicing, and it had flown only 9,000 hours when it was purchased by Chrysler Aviation. Photographs of the interior show that it was designed to transport 66 passengers, and was lavishly furnished.

The aircraft contained a conference room, staterooms, fine berths, two divans and a gallery of modern stainless-steel equipment.

One of the Chrysler Aviation employees, who is in Twin Falls to assist with the conversion, said the firm purchased five planes on bid as government surplus for $35,000. All but one had most of the interior sections removed.

The aircraft flew from 1949 until it went into storage in 1968, but when it was flown to Twin Falls last week it had only four minor defects and is in "excellent condition," Lazaros said.

It is powered by four Curtiss-Wright motors of 2,500 to 3,000 horsepower.

In its new role, the plane will carry 25,000 pounds of insecticide which will be dropped at an elevation of 700 feet in an ant-control program in Mississippi. Lazaros said the firm which now owns the craft has a contract covering 700,000 acres.

He said the firm will probably convert its other government surplus planes to this type of work in the future.

Large planes of this type are becoming popular for spray and dusting use, Lazaros said, because of their large carrying capacity and the wide area they can cover. The Constellation will be able to cover 600 acres per minute by spraying the insect ball from the storage bins inside the plane via spray outlets under the large wings.

Other information given Lazaros by Lockheed indicates that a sister ship of the plane in Twin Falls, Number 616, was the personal plane of Emperor Haile Selassie. It crashed and burned while still owned by the emperor.

Gen. MacArthur named his plane the "Bataan" after the Philippines peninsula where the general made his famous vow "I shall return," when he was forced to leave the island.

Lazaros, who specializes in plane conversions and reconstruction, recently completed the first transplant of propellers from a Viscount to a World War II B-17 plane to be used in fire control and spray work. He said the plane, although highly successful in service, was "created" killing the pilot and crew, and being in danger of crashing.

Marine Band To Play In T. F.

TWIN FALLS — The United States Marine Band, celebrating its 172nd year this year, will play two concerts tomorrow at the CSI physical education building and Fine Arts Center.

The band is the oldest military musical organization in the country. President John Adams approved the bill for the band's establishment in 1798 and it continues today as the official White House Band — the "president's own."

The group is being sponsored locally by the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club. A concert will be played at 11:15 a.m. at the P.E. building and at 8 p.m. at the Fine Arts Center. Tickets will be available at the door, from CSI or at Helen's Record Shop.

The band is the only musical group which plays regularly for White House Functions. It has supplied music for every White House wedding from Nellie Grant to Lynda Bird Johnson. Its dignified and solemn tones have escorted the nation's stricken leaders, from Abraham Lincoln to John F. Kennedy, to their final resting places.

The band has been under the leadership of some of the nation's finest musicians in its more than 170 years. Its nationwide tours began in 1891 under the leadership of John Philip Sousa, whose composition "Semper Parvula" became the official march of the Marine Corps.

In its long history only 40 men have conducted the band. The present director, Lt. Col. Albert Schoepfer, became a member of the band in 1934 and was immediately featured "as a violin soloist." He became director in 1955 and in 1967 received the Navy Commendation Medal, marking the first time it was presented while the recipient was serving as a director.

Members of the band are selected on the basis of musical ability alone. The annual tour is made at no expense to the taxpayer and is completely self-supporting.

The band tours only from mid-September to mid-November. Featured performers with the group are Michael Ryan, vocalist; Terrance Dotwell, cornet soloist; Charles Erwin, trombone soloist; James Erdman, trombone soloist; Fredrick Erdman, cornet soloist, and Ted Small, marimba soloist.

Probation Revoked

TWIN FALLS — Fifth District Judge James M. Cunningham Friday revoked probation for Larry Bingham, Buhl, who was sentenced to two years on no account check charges.

The sentence was reduced to six months in the county jail and the defendant was ordered held to serve the sentence. Prosecuting Attorney Robert Galley explained the probation was cancelled, not because of further crimes by the defendant, but because he failed to report to his probation officer. He had made no report since June, although terms of the probation required monthly reports and accounts of the no account checks. He originally entered a guilty plea to the check charge.

Hansen Man Quells Fire In Cafe

HANSEN — Fast action by Hank Moore of Hansen prevented serious damage when an oil furnace exploded at the Hansen Cafe Friday evening. Firemen said Moore saw black smoke pouring from the building. He broke in and worked to control the fire until the volunteer fire department arrived. The firemen were notified by Mrs. Charles Steinhart, who lives near the cafe.

Moore used a garden hose to control the fire, and by the time the firemen arrived it was extinguished.

Damage was unknown Saturday, pending an investigation.

Elks Auxiliary Convenes Gathering at Burley Lodge

BURLEY — Maurine Poulous, Sarasota, Fla., supreme grand lodge president, was the featured speaker at the opening session of the district convention of the DOES the Elks Lodge auxiliary, Friday at the Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Poulous, speaking in a public meeting, told the members that they should become concerned over the problems of the nation and take an active part in "the problems that we could assist in solving." She stressed drugs and alcohol as two areas where local people could work to solve the problems by studying the situation, and taking part in panel discussions.

Other problems, including the Vietnam War and Far East, appear "so far from us that we can only express opinions on them," she said. She urged the lodge members to take an active part in all patriotic ceremonies in the community, "for this is one of our major concerns."

The session was opened by the Burley Drove No. 206, with Mrs. Retta Payne, Burley, giving the invocation. The women devotee No. 27 demonstrated the "Elks Rest" ceremony and the Blackfoot Drove No. 100, presented the Flag Day ceremony drill. Jay Scotland, vice president of the Burley

Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the convention delegates to Burley. The morning meeting was directed by Millie Mathews, Logan, Utah, district president.

The opening session was closed by the Burley Drove. Prior to the evening session Saturday a buffet dinner was served, with the theme "Welcome to the Wonderful West." Entertainment was provided by the "Sweet Adelines" of Burley.

New district officers were to be elected and installed Saturday afternoon. A banquet Saturday night followed by a dance, closed the convention. Two honored guests at the convention were past grand lodge supreme presidents, Iola Bernard, Idaho Falls, and Olive Tillotson, Ogden, Utah.

Hospital Personnel Gather For Sun Valley Convention

HAILEY — Nearly 800 Idaho hospital workers gathered at the Sun Valley resort this weekend for the 37th annual convention of the Idaho Hospital Association which will conclude Wednesday.

Meetings of 10 affiliated organizations are also scheduled in conjunction with the hospital convention which officially gets under way on Monday.

Meeting Saturday and today are the Nurse Anesthetist and Physical Therapy associations. Today's meetings will include hospital pharmacists, the Idaho Conference of the Catholic Hospital and in-service education directors.

The opening speaker for the nurse anesthetists, Dr. D. M. Dickson, of McKay Hospital, Ogden, Utah, told the group of problems involved with infant anesthesia. "Contrary to common belief," he said, "infants are not small adults. They are built differently and have different metabolic rates; thus anesthesia affects them in different ways."

New officers for the group will be installed this afternoon. Dr. Harold Brown, Nampa, speaking to Saturday's meeting of the therapists, discussed the new drug L-Dopa which can reverse the biochemical trend in a patient with Parkinson's Disease, returning him to nearly normal activity. The therapists viewed an educational movie presented by William Hull, Pocatello, this morning. Hull represents Physical Therapy Services, Inc., of Pocatello.

Featured speaker for the Catholic hospital meeting today will be Sister Maurita, RSM, executive director of the Catholic Hospital Association, St. Louis, Mo., who will discuss Catholic hospitals and the delivery of health services in the '70s.

A panel discussion on sterilization procedures is scheduled for this afternoon. New officers will also be installed.

Groups meeting Monday will include, in addition to the Idaho Hospital Association, the trustees and advisory boards, the Council on Hospital Auxiliaries, the Idaho chapter of the Hospital Financial World War II B-17 plane to be used in fire control and spray work. He said the plane, although highly successful in service, was "created" killing the pilot and crew, and being in danger of crashing.

Higher Salaries Asked

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho Personnel Director George Murphy presented a request for salary increases for selected state employe classes Friday which he said would cost $2.1 million to implement.

Murphy told the State Personnel Commission his recommendations were based on a month-long study of prevailing wages paid by private industry and surrounding states with the exception of California. He said California's salaries were too high for comparison and said because of the size of the state it dominated any survey.

Murphy said it was impossible to survey all jobs, but said instead he met with agency heads to determine the best class in a series of positions which must move together.

He noted the law requires the state to pay prevailing salaries—the going rate on the market.

But Bob Stelling, executive director, Idaho State Employees Association, differed on some specific classifications and also asked for a general, five per cent pay increase for state employes to help them meet cost of living increases.

Stelling complimented Murphy and his staff on the survey, adding, "If we could reach the prevailing rate it would be quite a milestone, I think, for state employes."

Murphy's recommendations ranged from no increase at all to a 15 per cent increase for selected classes. He and Stelling differed in three areas:

— Murphy asked a 10 per cent for state troopers and related law enforcement classes, but Stelling requested 15 per cent. Murphy said the 10 per cent increase would put the troopers at $820 per month, "right on the button" with wages paid in other states.

He also said in-state comparisons showed sheriffs and chiefs of police were often making far less, but Stelling questioned whether the in-state comparison was valid.

Stelling said the turnover factor for state troopers was too high and the job too demanding for the "highly trained people who need a little more security in their jobs." He said the survey showed a 26 per cent gap for state troopers and similar other classes showing that much differential had a 15 per cent increase recommended.

Murphy recommended a 10 per cent increase for nurses on grounds there was a five per cent differential for salaries paid in state and a 21 per cent differential for out-of-state salaries. He said Idaho would be competing internally.

Stelling, however, asked a 15 per cent increase, noting, "We are looking at a $100 per day hospital room in a short time. The private hospital can respond very quickly to a demand for higher salaries."

— And for hospital aids, Murphy recommended a 10 per cent increase while Stelling asked a 20 per cent increase on grounds hospital aids are paid 46 per cent below the prevailing rate. Stelling said hospital aids usually had a $280 per month starting base, and said it was in that group "we most often find state employes on the food stamp program."

— Like all presidents, he delights in handing out the elegantly wrapped little gifts.

Kennedy and Johnson also used to keep a supply of candles and sour balls around for youngsters, their children and grandchildren, and even themselves.

On their trips around the country, the Nixons often pass out little White House cards with their signatures for autograph hunters.

The cards are usually carried by their aides who whip them out at the President's signal. Sartorially and patriotically speaking, Nixon is never without a little American flag in his lapel these days. His top-level assistants have picked up the cue and also wear flags.

White House Tries Out Television Telephones

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: Picture telephones are being tried out at the White House, and seven of the tele-visions, phones already have been installed on an experimental basis.

But there is none in President Nixon's office yet, nor in that of his press secretary, Ronald E. Ziegler.

"I have to make too many calls," says Ziegler.

But among those willing to try the new phones are John D. Ehrlichman, director of the White House executive council, and Henry A. Kissinger, national security adviser.

With picture phones, persons on each end of the line see the image of the other party on a small television screen during the conversation. Except for calls within the White House, the sets installed there now would have limited usefulness since only a few sets are as yet in general use elsewhere — mostly by large businesses.

Despite their $200,000-a-year salaries, presidents rarely carry any money with them.

President Nixon, like his predecessors — especially John F. Kennedy, is always putting the bite on the nearest aide or Secret Service agent when he needs a buck or two to make a contribution.

On one occasion, Nixon borrowed $5 from evangelist Billy Graham to put in the collection plate at Graham's crusade at Knoxville, Tenn. last year.

Kennedy and President Lyndon B. Johnson often experienced collection plate embarassment. After they fumbled for a moment, an agent would hand over a Bill.

Nixon rarely goes to church services outside the White House so he rarely has that problem. The plate is not passed at White House worship services.

In the oval office, the presidential desk drawers are crammed, not with top secret papers but with golf balls, the clasps and key rings. These are souvenirs to give to guests.

memories they will treasure as a personal remembrance. Nixon keeps a supply of the autographed golf balls and the clasps with his signature and the presidential seal for male guests. Key rings and charms bearing the seal are kept for the ladies.

Kids' Treehouse Readied for Ax

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Charley Kidder and his wife have 12 children, four of them adopted when orphaned by the death of a brother, and a treehouse. It is the latter item that gives him trouble.

The kids climb a rope and pull it up after them into the four-by-six foot structure when they want privacy.

Now, the Omaha City Council has condemned the treehouse as "deteriorated and structurally unsound," a ruling which Kidder disputes.

If the house comes down, Kidder said, it creates a problem at home.

"There's really not anywhere a person can go with such a number for absolute privacy, except the treehouse," he said. "They climb up there and pull the rope up behind them. It's strictly understood that if the rope is up, you leave them alone."

Kidder was employed as a master electrician until a recent heart attack. He said that if he thought the house would "in any way harm a child, I'd be up there, heart attack or not, tearing that thing down."

E. P. Lee, the city's chief field inspector, said a neighbor's complaints brought on inspection trip several months ago, and a structural report indicated the treehouse was unsafe.

Lee said that usually "mothers and fathers just need some type of excuse" to remove such a building if there are complaints about it, and this was the first treehouse that ever had to be condemned to bring about removal.

Kidder, he said, could go to court to fight the order.

"It seems such a piffling type thing," Kidder said. "It's a tragedy there's so much housing in town that needs tearing down and they go into small matters like this."

might well be in the cards. The five-not-rump call asked for kings but it did more at the same time. It told South that North was interested in getting to seven; South might have shown his own king but came to the conclusion that the king of clubs and queen of spades were what was needed for seven, so South bid the grand slam.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been: West North East South. Pass 1 Pass 1. You, South, hold: A A Q 10 4 K C 10 5 4 3 2 A Q 10 8. What do you do now? A- Pass. In Jacoby Modern and most other modern systems this raise is nonforcing and shows 10-12 points in support of hearts. Your minimum hand is not enough for game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three hearts your partner has bid one spade. What do you do now? Answer Monday.

INVENTORS - Consider the late Albert Armour. All he did was design the folding door now used worldwide on telephone booths. Nothing much, but still, no inventor, so far disconcerted with unsuccess, should forget the fact that Mr. Armour sold his patent rights for $1 Million, no, he, that not inspirational? Would think so.

ALL RIGHT, WHAT'S the largest state east of the Mississippi? Spring that one at the dinner table. He who says Georgia gets desert... AN UNMARRIED WOMAN in search of a husband might bear in mind there are twice as many eligible 40-year-old men as eligible 30-year-old men... RIGHT UP TILL 123 years ago, the gorilla was regarded by civilized men as a mythical beast. Of the same kidney as the Abominable Snowman.

LOVE AND WAR - That most wives outlive their husbands is something else women tend to take for granted now. The insurance boys don't object. But only Love and War man would like to point out such was not the case 100 years ago. Widowers outnumbered widows considerably then. It wasn't uncommon for a man to marry two women, one to bear children, another to bring them up. And that relatively rare lady who did outlive her husband had little trouble finding another gentleman friend.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q: Even though I know horoscopes are bunk, I'm still amazed at the accuracy of your Planet man's remarks. How does he manage to hit the bull's eye every time? A: Nothing to it, he says. He shoots first, then draws a ring around the hole. Q: How much material does it take to make a Scottish kilts? A: About eight yards.

TURNS OUT Sweden's infant mortality rate is not really lower than that of the United States. But just looks that way. Because Sweden doesn't reckon from birth, but from one or two or three days afterwards. Stillborns aren't counted... AMONG MEN AND WOMEN in their late twenties and early thirties, more than 99 out of 100 in Japan can read and write, and more than 98 out of 100 in Africa's Sudan can't. In literacy, these nations are highest and lowest.

CONSIDER THIS - Am now advised it was not the prizefighter Jack Roper who originated the line in the 1930s, "I zipped when I should have zugged." A New Jersey gentleman claims said quip was current years earlier. But who started it? That's what our Language man wants to know. Ask Them Yourself

underwater diver,
Edgartown (Mass.)
Volunteer Fire Department

Right after the tragedy near Dyke Bridge in Chappaquiddick in the summer of 1969, I read that after you removed the body of Mary Jo Kopechne from the sunken car, you said you thought that she might have been saved had an alarm been sounded immediately. But recently, I read that two windows of the car were knocked completely out when the car landed in the water. How then could there have been an air lock?—Mrs. W. D., Quincy, Mass.

● The car landed in the water upside down with the windows close to the bottom of the pond. An effective air lock was created between the part of the window nearest the water's surface and the floor of the car. The length of time that the air would last would depend strictly upon the airtight integrity of the car and would have nothing to do with the windows being open. Ten hours after the accident occurred, when the car was removed from the water, there was enough air still in the trunk so that it was virtually dry.

FOR CURTIS TARR,

Director,
Selective Service System

If Person X lived in California, was 1-A, and had military draft lottery number 150, and another person, Person Y, lived in Connecticut, was also 1-A, and had lottery number 300, could Person Y still get drafted before Person X?—R. Clonni, Norwich, Conn.

● Each month, Selective Service announces the "ceiling number" to be used the following month. If the number is 190 (as it was one recent month), no local board would be able to induct a registrant with a higher sequence number. Consequently, while Person Y with lottery number 300 would not be eligible for induction, Person X with lottery number 150 would be.

FOR ROSS ALLEN,

Ross Allen Reptile
Institute, Atlanta

Is the diamondback rattlesnake nocturnal, and does it hunt at night, or is it more or less quiet?—W. E. Dougherty, Osage, Fla.

● The diamondback rattlesnake feeds both day and night. It waits for prey (rabbits, mice, rats) beside a trail, strikes accurately, whether it can see its prey or not, then follows the trail of the poisoned animal.

FOR BETTY F. MINTZ,

astrologer, Astrology and Astrophysics Division,
U.S. Navy

How and when was Bennett's Comet discovered? When will it next become visible in North America?—John K. Bennett, Sacramento, Calif.

● Comet Bennett was discovered on the evening of December 28, 1969, in Pretoria, South Africa, by J. C. Bennett. It is still visible as a telescopic object (9th magnitude) in northern skies but is not expected to return to view for thousands of years after it finally fades away late this year.

FOR JAKE GAITHER,

Athletic Director,
Florida A & M University

Is it true that you can teach more "character" to a winning team than to a losing team?—Larry Lester, Detroit, Mich.

● Yes, you can actually point out character-building traits to a winner just by showing him why he was a winner. That saying about it being more important how you play and not whether you win or lose is a lot of baloney in my book. You just can't coach or participate with out trying to win.

FOR DR. HERBERT SPIEGEL,

Associate Professor of Psychiatry, Columbia University

Of what value is hypnosis in the medical field?—Mrs. H. N., Atlantic City, N.J.

● Habits and symptoms that are self-defeating, annoying, or physically harmful can be removed or revised with hypnosis, in my opinion. For example, hypnosis makes it possible for some people to stop smoking entirely by, experiencing a new respect for the body.

FOR RICHIE ALLEN,

St. Louis Cardinals

Why do you wear a batting helmet when you play in the field?—Rick Bonanno, Racine, Wis.

● I got used to wearing the helmet in Philadelphia, to protect myself from things thrown from the stands.

FOR JEANE DIXON, sec

In your book, "My Life and Prophecies," you spoke of a new profession for the late Bishop James Pike. Did you ever have a premonition of his death?—Ines Norton, Princeton, Ill.

● No. I just saw him changing and leaving the Church and a bright light enveloping him, which I interpreted to mean that he would be finding a new life.

FOR DAVID KENNEDY,

Secretary of the Treasury

How much did the interest on the national debt amount to in fiscal 1969?—R. A. McPhail, Bunnlevel, N.C.

● The interest amounted to $16,500,236,606.

Want to ask a famous person a question? You can through this column, and we'll get the answer from the prominent person you designate. What in the World!

Consumers, March! If you're getting so fed up with daily problems of prices and pollution that you're ready for action—here's your chance. We asked the consumer's best friend, crusading Washington attorney Ralph Nader, for his advice to the average American on getting involved in decisions of Government and industry which affect their own lives.

Ralph Nader:
Crusader for consumers

He offered two specifics for our "crisis of citizenship." 1.)—Residents can organize task forces to review tax rolls, which are on record in every county courthouse. Object: to determine whether large companies and other large property owners are paying their fair share of the local property tax. One of the newest Nader investigations is into the "discriminatory and inequitable property tax assessments that soak the small-home owners and let the large industrial property owners pay little." 2.)—Every one can use legalized antipollution procedures: Manufacturers planning to introduce materials that might have a polluting effect into navigable waterways are supposed to obtain a permit from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Washington, D. C. But very few actually do. You can report them to the Corps. Furthermore, under the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899, persons who give such valid information may be entitled to share in the fines imposed!

You Can Bank On It Want to greatly increase the interest on your savings account—all fully Government-guaranteed and totally legal? Here's one way, according to a new book, "Don't Bank on It," by Martin J. Meyer and Dr. Joseph McDaniel, Jr. Make your bank credit card work for you. Use it for all possible purchases, while depositing that amount of cash in your savings bank. Since you needn't pay the credit-card bill for 45 days and you have deposited that money in your savings account, you are getting 45 days' interest—if you have an account that pays daily interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal. You are; in effect, getting 45 days' use of money at the bank's full interest rate, every month.

Little Fire Fighters As a special project for National Fire Prevention Week beginning this weekend, several youth groups—Camp Fire Girls, 4-H, Junior Fire Marshals, Cub Scouts, and Girl

Youth give pound of fire prevention.

Scouts—are cooperating with their local fire departments to assemble and distribute fire pails for neighborhood kitchens. These are empty one-pound coffee cans, painted over with red FIRE labels, and filled with ordinary baking soda—which happens to be an excellent fire extinguisher (and it won't poison the burning steak!). The Santa Ana, Calif., Fire Department credits its Camp Fire Girl-produced pails with putting out 33 kitchen fires last year.

How to Make the Boss Love You....

(... Without making your fellow employees hate you)

By ALLAN FRANK

Is your boss satisfied with your performance? Would you hesitate to ask him for a raise? Does he openly praise you? If he does, do your fellow workers resent you?

Good relations with the boss is the surest way to job security, promotion, raise, recommendation, or preferred assignment. An ill-disposed supervisor can jeopardize your career progress—or your job itself. The esteem of your coworkers also is an essential ingredient of success.

But first, let's talk about you and the boss.

FAMILY WEEKLY interviewed personnel directors, switchboard operators, company presidents, mailmen, psychologists, building maintenance engineers, business school professors, foremen, secretaries, and dozens of other workers to compile guidelines to help you deal effectively with him.

In addition to the usual standards of good work, such as dependability, initiative, and co-operation, there are many more ways to please your supervisor. Here are some important ones:

1.) Remember that your boss is human, just as frail and insecure as you are. And usually he has a boss, too. Nearly everyone, even the presidents of the country's 1.5 million businesses, has someone to answer to—be it the chairman of the board or the stockholders.

2.) Try better to understand what your overseer needs and wants from your work. Sharpen your anticipation of his needs by finding out what his job entails. Lefty Pogrebin, author of the recent book, "How to Make It in a Man's World," advises, "There's nothing wrong with asking questions—dozens of them or hundreds of them—until you have a full grasp of the business operation in your company."

3.) Be an intelligent listener. According to Harry Levinson, a top industrial psychology consultant, your mentor may want to use you as a confidential sounding board for an idea he is uncertain about. If he feels he can voice his thoughts and feelings with you freely, chances are communication, learning, and problem-solving will be easier between you and him.

4.) Keep the boss informed. Often you may know more about what is happening on certain levels of the company than he does. Your informal communications system, "the grapevine," may be more informative to him than the "channels" established by company policy.

5.) Be honest. The boss does not, as a rule, want to hear a lot of flattery about himself or always be told that everything you're responsible for is in fine shape. He knows better than you that he's not always right and that business isn't always rosy. Tell it to him like it is.

6.) Expand your functions. Be responsible for routine tasks that can be done without his supervision. Make decisions and expedite action when possible without consulting him. Many bosses prefer the employee who is willing to act and take a chance that he may be wrong to the one who makes no decisions at all. And every boss interviewed said he appreciates his employees more if they can save him time.

7.) Be firm in your self-respect. Psychologist Levinson says, "Failure to respect oneself leads the boss unconsciously to form an alliance with you in victimizing yourself."

8.) If the boss asks your advice, or you have a new idea for the company, couch your recommendations in modest, polite language. As the appointments secretary for one of New York City's deputy-mayors says, "Then your boss can accept your ideas with a casual 'Say, you may have something here' and you won't have damaged his ego."

9.) Try to determine how close a relationship your boss can tolerate and accept. Don't pass opportunities to strengthen the relationship. At the same time, don't be pushy. Back off if the boss seems uncomfortable.

10.) And if you are a boss, don't spend all of your time giving orders and being a stern leader. Remember that you, too, are an employee with a boss of your own to please.

Not everyone has an easy time with the person who gives the orders. A boss is just as subject to moods as anyone else, and can have days when he's more irritable than others. And let's face it, some bosses just aren't nice guys.

Most bosses appreciate politely given advice, new ideas from employees.

Methods for dealing with your superior vary according to the amount of personal contact you have with him. In an office, you may be in constant touch. You'll soon know what he wants done and how to please him. Blue-collar workers interviewed say their jobs are more standardized; that the man in charge, a shop steward or foreman, is more involved with production schedules and time sheets than with personnel relations.

Telephone installer Gonzalo Garcia says the smartest way to handle the supervisor is to learn his moods. "It's just like the Army. If the sergeant's feeling right, everything is O.K. If he's just been chewed out by his boss, I stay away."

Elevator operator George Schilling says he and his boss have never had a problem during the years he has been working. "I get along with him because I'm on time, neat, and courteous."

Everyone interviewed agrees that it makes no difference whether your boss is a junior foreman or the chairman of the board; he is the one person you can't afford to have as an enemy. Here are some hints on what not to do:

1.) Don't stay on the job if the conflict between you and your boss is too great. If your work styles aren't compatible, get another job. You'll both be happier.

2.) Don't let the boss make your decisions. He doesn't have time to do your work and his, too. Excepting major policy decisions, of course, you should decide what you ought to be doing, and do it.

3.) Don't criticize your boss in front of coworkers.

4.) Don't count the mistakes your boss makes. Just consider how well he does or doesn't learn from them.

5.) Don't assume that the boss does not need your help. Because of the boss's higher status, it may be difficult for him comfortably to initiate a request for assistance, says Charlton Price, Columbia University Business School lecturer on Organizational Behavior.

Listen for "hidden messages" in your conversations with the boss, Price suggests. "For instance, if the boss yells, 'Don't bother me, I'm busy now,' it may seem like a rebuff. In fact, he may be saying 'I wish you could help me because I'm swamped.' He may be afraid to ask for assistance because it might make him seem inadequate in his job. Be ready to offer your aid tactfully."

6.) If you are angry because the boss has hauled you in on the carpet about some mistake or omission, pause to examine the matter objectively. If you're still angry, ask him whether he will discuss the matter with you. Calm discussion usually clarifies the facts and brightens the atmosphere.

Now, while you're busily ingratiating yourself with the boss, what feelings are your fellow workers developing about you?

Are you giving the impression of being a "company idiot"? Do you show up your colleagues with a "gung-ho" performance—designed to impress the boss? Do you tell him gossip about them?

Without at least the acceptance of your coworkers, your job environment will not be very pleasant. And if you do get that promotion, you will not be a popular boss for whom workers give their best.

Several workers offered suggestions about getting along with coworkers:

- Help your fellows when they need a hand. Building-maintenance engineers George Bruno and Tom Jones have been working together for more than 10 years and say they get along well because they cover for each other. "If George isn't feeling well or something, I help him out. I might take care of the boiler for him and make sure his job is done," Tom said.

- Trust your coworkers. George and Tom respect one another because they trust each other. They say it helps in relations with the boss, too. According to George, "He (the supervisor) knows we can be trusted to get our work done, so he leaves us alone."

- Back up your fellow workers. As Marie Peretti, a public-relations firm secretary says, "If you work with someone everyday, sooner or later you have to give up all the petty excuses—like my typewriter's broken—to avoid helping him. Lend a hand when you can."

- Don't pull rank. That is sure to be resented. One assembly-line worker said, "The older guys usually help us out. They never pull seniority, except when there is talk in the company about layoffs."

Most of us have to hold jobs. These guidelines will help you to be loved by your boss and by your fellow workers as well. ♦

Coworkers get along best when they trust each other, lend helping hand when needed.

The 1971 Cars: 'A Vintage

The 1971 cars make up a true vintage collection. The coming year will, without doubt, go down in automotive annals as one of truly important change—characterized by a happy combination of bold new approaches to size and price, significant advances in design, and many noteworthy developments in engineering as well.

The usually smaller foreign cars are responsible for much of this. American makers have felt the heat of the scaled-down imports' sales gains and have produced new entries to contest with them in the marketplace: Ford's Pinto and Chevrolet's Vega 2300 joining American Motors' Gremlin in this sweepstakes category, where close to 15 percent of today's cars are being sold

Washington—and public outcry—have had a hand in another sweeping change that has involved every American manufacturer (and all the foreign producers as well). The new antipollution requirements have resulted in an about-face in engine technology—away from the higher compression ratios of the past, down to lower levels, to accommodate the new low-leaded and unleaded gasolines. Yet power is down only slightly, so skillfully have the engineers designed them.

The current economic downturn has influenced new car prices. The new, smaller models carry lower price tags. For those makes whose sizes have been enlarged, slick tricks in manufacturing technology have reduced prices.

These developments are found both in the model series you have known in the past and in a blossoming of new ones—Buick's Centurion, the Dodge Demon, the reborn Mercury Comet, a Pontiac Grand Ville, and the Matador, out of American Motors.

But it's not only the new entries that are entirely new. The past contenders have also been broadly changed. For example, the width between wheels has been extended all across the industry. This creates better stability on the road, just as an individual stands more firmly with his feet wider apart. Suspension systems, too, have been revamped, further increasing stability.

Appearances have been made sleeker practically everywhere by the use of more curved glass, much of it more flush to the body surfaces than before (which also cuts down wind whistle). Thinner corner pillars are a feature of many new bodies—they add to the look of grace and fleetness.

Power steering in almost all cases has been revised to provide variable ratios—the farther you turn, the faster the wheels respond.

Paint, particularly on station wagons, has undergone improvement. Opaques simulate wood grain trim, yet let the basic body color show through. And, on some coupes and sedans, aluminum-flecked coatings lend translucence previously achieved by custom paint jobs.

Tires? Technological advances here have been king-size; some of the new tires serve for 45,000 to 50,000 miles. Others, extra-wide, add to sure-footedness on the highways. All provide more resistance to cuts than ever before.

And the individual innovations! Consider the side terminal battery in General Motors' cars; it reduces corrosion to near-invisible proportions. And one such battery goes a step beyond that; it's permanently sealed—you never need to add water.

Consider also the dependability of Ford-made instrument panels, with their printed circuits (or those of Oldsmobile with snap-in, pull-out switches, and easily detachable instruments).

The Dodge Charger has a washer for its concealed headlamps—no matter which company designs those recesses, they seem to be dust-catchers.

For unadorned personalizing, think about the Chrysler cassette-with-tape-recorder; you can record incoming radio reports or music as you travel, or whatever else you want—and instantly play it back.

The Hornet "Sportabout" from American Motors combines station-wagon utility with sedan appearance—the slantback configuration includes a rear liftgate that gives easy access to a roomy luggage area.

That brings to mind the variety of conveniences being built into station wagon rear ends. The two-way gate is now commonplace—you open it from the side like a door, or drop it from the top, in orthodox manner. And now, you see tailgates whose glass glides up into the roof while the bottom gate itself retreats into the body or floor, leaving unobstructed space for loading. Wagons have grown bigger, on average, for 1971—apparently Mr. American Traveler wants it that way.

Buick has a miniature computer linked to its wheels, so if they begin to slide (as on ice) the torque, or turning impetus, going into them—from the driveshaft—is reduced, and the wheels slow down.

More and more cars have plastic foam inerts in bumpers, such as Pontiac pioneered, so the little bumps which left permanent dents in bright metal parts simply don't happen any more.

Our new domestic subcompacts are close to the foreign competitors in their general dimensions. And, say their sponsors, they will go just about as far on a gallon of gas and cost just about the same to service. Finally—and this is the big sales point—they are put together with more of an eye to American standards of design and comfort.

Ford's Pinto, a two-door fastback, has a long hood and a short deck. The Ford people claim 26 miles per gallon, and 30 on sustained turnpike runs.

Vega 2300 also has a low and wide look. Two four-cylinder engines are BUICK: An entirely new lineup, from LeSabre through Riviera, with different chassis, smoothed styling; and a new series, the Centurion, which includes relocated shock absorbers, ahead of the axle, to reduce road shock. The Skylark Series, the intermediate line, is modestly changed; it has new rear-end treatment. LeSabre's side glass is increased and set flush to metal surfaces—a plus for aerodynamics. Eldeva 225 is completely new—thinner windshield pillars and new roofline. The Limited line has roomier trunk. Riviera bodies are truly daring—rear window extends back into a deck with a cone-like section which tapers to a point at the rear.

CHEVROLET: Aside from the Vega, there are five lines, ranging from the compact Nova to the specialty Corvette. Wagons are longer, roomier; rear windows retract into the roof; gates, into the body. Monte Carlo, the luxury coupe, has been refined; there is an optional 365-hp. engine. Chevelle is restyled front and rear; six engines and four transmissions to choose from. Camaro offers six engine choices and four available, producing 90 or 110 hp., with an advanced overhead cam valve system and new combustion chamber.

Gremlin, with either two or four doors, has been refined and given modest engineering changes. Windshield is raked; side windows are ventless.

Now to some thumbnail summaries of what else is offered.

AMERICAN MOTORS: Five nameplates, including Gremlin and a new intermediate, the Matador, built on 118-in. wheelbase. The two-door Javelin is restyled—slightly longer, wider. Hornet, the compact line, includes the Sportabout, and a new performance model, the SC/360. Ambassador, a seven-model Droughum series, is largest in the standard car class.

transmissions, but not all in all series. Nova includes high-output Power-Beam headlamps and larger, more powerful 6-cylinder engine. Corvette engines, like the others, operate on the new fuels; they range from 270 to 425 hp.

CHRYSLER has styling, engineering and comfort improvements all through its groupings, which include Newports, which come also as Newport Custom and Town & Country models; New Yorkers; and four-door, two- or three seat station wagons.

DODGE offers five basic lines, with one entirely new model, the Demon coupe, part of the restyled Dart compact series. Coronets and Chargers, both intermediates, differ in many respects from their predecessors. Both are wider; both carry ventless side glass. Challenger, a specialty compact entry, seeks budget buyers. Polara-Monacos are redeveloped—different front ends, ventless side glass, quieter.

FORD: Cars are completely restyled, with flowing lines, a more formal look. A new LTD sedan hardtop has thinner pillars, frameless window glass, and a new 400-cu. in. engine. Torino, the intermediate line, is available with choice of six engines and three transmissions. Maverick, in the economy class, shows a new four-door sedan as well as the coupe. Thunderbird, the luxury personal car, carries a new landau roofline. Mustang, the sporty compact, is longer and wider.

MERCURY: Smart, new Comet compact, with short deck, offers power choices from 105 to 220 hp. Montego, the intermediate line, has new front-end design. Cougar, a personal car line, has a new longer, lower silhouette.

OLDSMOBILE: Full-size models have entirely new design; there are five station wagons. The Olds 88 and 98 models have glass with more curve.

CHEVROLET VEGA

Roofs are cantilever-angled and strengthened. F-85 lines are smartly redesigned; suspensions are improved. Toronado is distinctive, with raised rectangular panels on hood and deck. Wheelbase is three inches longer.

PLYMOUTH is offered in an extremely wide range—four groups, with Fury alone available in 21 models, including a two-door hardtop; convertibles are dropped. Valiant, and the Duster compacts (three models here), have modest design changes; four powerplants are available. Satellites, the intermediates, are in two all-new shapes, one for two-doors, one for four-doors. Barracudas, the compact specialty cars, have new treatment at both ends, and a choice of eight engines.

PONTIAC provides a happy new styling and a new luxury car, the Grand Ville. Four of seven engines are new, all operate on low-lead gasoline. The Bonneville and Catalina lines have power disc brakes up front, and variable steering ratio is provided. Grand Prix, the top-of-the-line Pontiac, has high intensity single headlamps, "boat tail" rear styling. Intermediate Pontiacs—the T-37, LeMans and GTO—are all restyled. There's lots of minor impact protection—a fiber-glass header panel surrounding the front end assembly, and an Endura bumper. Firebird, a personalized sports car, has new high-back bucket seats with integral headrests. And a Formula 350 for performance buffs includes a fiber-glass hood with dual aircoops.

All in all, a good year's work is evident in the cars for '71. ♦

The House That Drops In

The building-industry gears up to ease the housing crisis with "instant homes" assembled from Residents of Upper Clark Street in Waverly, N.Y., were startled recently to find a new two-story house perched on a knoll of land that only a few days earlier had been part of an apple orchard. The house had almost literally dropped in on the neighbors—it had been delivered by trailer truck in self-contained sections, which a derrick had lifted and lowered into place, like a giant hand playing with blocks.

Never the sound of hammer or saw to disturb the quiet of the neighborhood. No bite of bulldozer.

The sections needed only to be bolted together (no nails) to form a commodious, attractively arranged four-bedroom house that anyone should be pleased to call home. The plumbing, wiring, heating had all been built in; kitchen equipment preinstalled; appliances were all in place. There was even wall-to-wall carpeting. Everything had been made ready for immediate occupancy by furniture and contented family.

But no one moved in. For what the neighbors saw was actually a prototype of a so-called modular house, fresh from an assembly line that would soon be turning out thousands of individual modules, to be shuffled, arranged, and joined together to form—in various shapes, sizes, and styles—homes of the future.

It was a creation of the General Shelters Corporation, of nearby Sayre, Pa.—formerly the Electro-Mechanical Corporation, which formerly had been manufacturing portable Army installations (to be dropped by helicopter) and was now converting to peacetime uses.

General Shelters is one of scores of companies—including such giants of industry as General Electric, Westinghouse, IBEC (in Puerto Rico), and Holiday Inns, Inc.—either experimenting with or engaged in the production of modular homes.

These firms see in the modular home an answer to the present critical housing shortage—perhaps the only practical answer because of the speed and economy of its assembly-line production and, above all, because of the astonishing adaptability of the sections or modules that comprise it.

The House on Clark Street can sell for $18,000—four bedrooms, 12- by 24-foot duplex-style living room, sundeck, porch, steel-frame construction, red cedar siding—in a choice of three designs.

Modular homes can come from an assembly line at the rate of one every 45 minutes. The Behring-Corporation of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., has built a modular-home plant capable, it is claimed, of turning out 20 to 30 "instant houses" a day, in a variety of styles. It boasts that you can sign a contract for one of its homes on a Monday and have it set up on site, ready for occupancy, on Thursday of the same week.

The modular home is not to be confused with its forerunners, the mobile or prefab, many manufacturers of which are, like Behring, converting to modules. The difference lies first in the building processes and second in the materials used. Because the modules are transported in their entirety (have house, will travel), they are built to withstand the jolting of truck and derrick: All parts are grooved, welded, or bolted in place, very much as an airplane is assembled. The principal difference, however, is in the versatility of the module. Walls, ceilings, and floors come in solid and interchangeable panels. So by merely removing a panel, rooms can be enlarged or additions made.

This flexibility has made it possible to apply the modules to the needs of communal housing of every conceivable type—Federal projects, condominiums, garden communities, retirement villages, vacation centers, town houses, and even high-rise apartments. It is in this direction more than toward detached single-unit dwellings, that the building industry is turning. The pressing need is for a large-scale assault on the housing problem, and, consequently, the individual home builder may have to wait his turn.

Westinghouse, through a subsidiary, C. W. Blakeslee & Sons, Inc., is building a $5-million plant near Bradford, Conn., and this will be devoted entirely to the factory production of modules for high-rise apartments.

General Electric engineers have come up with an ingenious plan for mobile factories, to be delivered to the building site by truck and assembled there, with versatile, factory-built modular units

By LOUIS BERG

a capacity for turning out five houses a day. This presupposes, naturally, a multi-unit project. One doesn't move a factory in order to build one house.

The Florida-based Behring Corporation will build only on land that it owns and develops. Its specialty, influenced by its location, is the retirement village, and, according to one officer of the company, it has been turning away youthful applicants:

Although its House on Clark Street was designed as a single-unit, detached dwelling, even General Shelters is too busy filling orders for urban housing projects and college dormitories to devote much attention to private inquiries. The estimate of its officers is that it will be two or three years before one can pick up the phone, order a house, and have it delivered.

There are exceptions. Arbor Modules, Inc., of Waterbury, Conn., recently delivered a two-bedroom vacation house to Adolph Green and his actress-wife, Phyllis Newman, to replace temporarily their 22-bedroom mansion in East Hampton, Long Island, which was destroyed by fire. The company is prepared to accommodate the ordinary citizen, but it will take five weeks or more before he can expect delivery. There are others, depending on location, that will accept individual orders, but mostly the business is on a wholesale basis.

Multi-unit or detached, the factory-built home, most authorities agree, will be the home of the future. Building-code restrictions are tumbling in the face of improved assembly-belt systems and the urgent need for instant housing. Labor unions are modifying their objections on the principle of "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

Last year, according to Business Week, 90 percent of all homes under $15,000 were mobile homes, no longer mobile but firmly anchored in pretentious versions of the old-time trailer-camps. Whole villages of prefabricated houses are now popping up.

The modular home meets most, if not all, of the objections to the factory-built dwelling. Its versatile components give wide latitude to individual preferences in shape and size. The assembly belt will spew forth, with utter impartiality, modules for ranch house or split level, traditional or modern. Gone is the shiny, aluminum surface of the mobile that many found objectionable. Gone is the deadly uniformity of communities fresh from the factory. Gone is the rasp and whine of the bulldozer, with its destruction of trees and landscapes. For the modular home can be planted on any type of terrain—on pillings, or on conventional footing with or without cellar; can conform to the configuration of the land, and can even be built, on piles, over water.

While conventionally built houses will still be the choice of many, modular homes are expected to be increasingly popular in the future. "Instant" neighborhoods can be created with the modular components. Such nearby facilities as lakes, swimming pools, parking lots, shopping centers, playgrounds, and tennis courts can be especially developed to enhance the new communities. Can it be that private homes have now joined the growing list of "prepackaged," ready-to-use merchandise such as frozen foods and imitation lawns?

Taking off in his own plane, pilot leaves earthly province behind.

The Private Pilot's Joyous World

By RICHARD BACH

I'm a private pilot. That is, I can disappear this moment from where I stand and appear again come afternoon 200 or 500 or a 1,000 miles away.

I can travel through time so perfectly that it is impossible to prove that any such thing as "1970 exists. With one hand I can control gravity, can cross the highest wall and the fiercest barrier over built. I can look down on the clouds, I can turn the planet to set sky at my feet and to spin green fields rolling over my head, I can climb higher and fly faster than any bird has flown.

I'm nobody special at all. I'm one of hundreds of thousands of people who drive light airplanes instead of motorboats (boats being far too expensive for our budget) or sports cars (cars being far too dangerous, with their narrow little bodies).

Private flying can be a bewildering kingdom. There are antique-airplane pilots there, for instance, who fly stick-and-wire biplanes in search of times lost. From the open cockpits of their flying machines, they find a simple, straightforward era before control towers and mile-long runways, when airports were hayfields.

They have their problems, all right—where does one find parts for a 1930 aero engine; how can one fly long distances without modern instruments and radios? But it's a rare problem that cannot be solved.

There are sailplane pilots in the kingdom, too, the glider buffs, who use the powers and currents of the sky to keep them aloft with only a faint swish of moving air for company. It's a charmed, enchanted life the gliders have, every month more widely discovered, and today the sport of taking these smooth white sailboats into the ocean of air is the fastest-growing in all private aviation.

The kingdom has a corner for home-builts, for airplanes constructed in basements and living rooms by men and women who delight in taking pains that aircraft factories can't always afford to take. "Look at this wing I've made," they like to say, "and now come over and let's have a look at this new plane. See? See those little ripples in the wing-skin? Look. Right here." And they like to say, "Well, what can you expect from a factory-built?"

More than the proud home builders, though, or the glider crews or the old-timers in the sky, are the average private-pilots—the ones who own a small postwar factory-built light plane instead of a second automobile. Our planes are the Cessnas and Pipers and Aeronaucs and Taylorcrafts built from 1946 to 1960, just as airworthy now as then, inspected every year, with prices ranging from $1,500 to $4,500. These are airplanes that fly on three dollars of gas and oil per hour and cruise across country at something less than 100 miles per hour on their way from one of the country's 10,000 quiet, small airports to another. It is true, though, that the price of a brand-new light plane can amount to $30,000, and more.

The Bonanzas and the business jets are there, too, with their cloud-flying instruments and expensive radios, but far and away the majority of the machines that move through the world of the private pilot are those uncomplained-light-little-nercraft-of-a-decade-or-two ago.

The one important thing to remember, next time you hear the distant sound of a small airplane engine is that machines are not the world of the men and women who fly. The sky is that world. Old or new, simple or complex, airplanes are merely the means one uses to discover the sky. The real sport of flight is to be alone with the sun and the clouds a mile above that earth that has held us in chains for so many thousands of years.

We're free now, you and I, we're chained no longer. To feel that freedom with his own hands, to touch the sky himself, to hold control of space and time instead of being slaves to them is the private pilot's idea of an interesting sport. And who's to say? Once you've made your first flight at the wheel of a light airplane, you may well agree. ♦

Here I am, a bulging 190 pounds, feeding a bear before I learned how dangerous this is. It's a wonder I wasn't stuffing myself.

This is the pants outfit my husband bought me, after I had lost 50 pounds. It sure made a hit at home, and by that I mean both in Celina, Tennessee, and New York City.

My husband shamed me into losing 50 pounds

By Rita O'Dwyer— as told to Ruth L. McCarthy

It was a movie book in a beauty salon that finally got me to reduce. I'd gone for my weekly up-sweep, though I knew I'd come home to my usual letdown. A mirror that wouldn't hide my 190 pounds and a husband disgusted with my shape. But this trip, I'd read one of those "before and after" stories of a woman who'd struggled to reduce and won. And I made up my mind to be a loser, too.

My weight problem actually started after my husband and I moved from New York to the south. Jim had enrolled in dental school at Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tennessee, and we went down with the intention of staying just until he finished school. We knew money would be tight, so I got a job — two, in fact. And on top of that, I became a mother. You wouldn't think that I'd had time to get fat, but I always found a minute to munch. Especially late in the evening, watching television.

Sure, I had tried to reduce. I went on this diet and that, but never for long. I'd always go back to peanuts, potato chips and the like show.

Surprisingly enough, after my husband's graduation, we decided to stay in the south. I found I liked the pace of it and the people very much. Jim heard that Celina hadn't had a dentist in eight years. So, while I was home on a visit, he went for a look. When I got back, my new home was a small town in Clay County, 100 miles from Nashville.

We were both "outsiders." And, believe me, nobody was beating the door down for treatment. It got so tough, in fact, that my husband had to go back to Nashville and teach a few days a week. Meanwhile, I did nothing but complain, cry and eat. Bread, spaghetti, fried chicken, pork chops, mashed potatoes and chocolate layer cake.

My husband didn't say much for a long time. But finally, my figure got to him. Then came the remarks. "Do you have to wear those tight pants? You can't tell the back from the front." Or when I'd try another diet: "Here we go again." And another horrible moment when I couldn't get out of the tub. If I call him, I thought, I'll never hear the end of it. But I couldn't do anything else. That's when he said: "Don't you think this is the last straw?" And I knew it was.

I also knew that reducing pills weren't the answer. I'd tried them time and again and I always seemed to be nervous, so I threw them out.

All I can say is, thank goodness I went to the beauty parlor and read about the reducing-plan candy. Ayds: I went straight to the drugstore for a box of the plain chocolate fudge-type. I made sure, of course, that Ayds contained no harmful drugs and no cyclamates. When my husband saw the box on the kitchen counter, he grunted: "How long will this last, four weeks?" But I had decided to show him.

I began taking one or two Ayds candies before each meal as directed, and it really helped curb my appetite. I found that I could give up bread and fried foods, yet I was able to have meat, vegetables, sometimes a baked potato, green salads, and I even had some light desserts.

I later learned that Ayds Candy comes in a minty chocolate fudge and a chewy vanilla caramel. I used to take a couple of the caramel kind about nine o'clock in the evening with hot coffee and that stopped me from nibbling.

I started in November on the Ayds Plan and by the middle of December I'd lost 10 pounds. My husband was sure I'd gain them back during Christmas, but I didn't. I just kept going down. At one point, I did hit a plateau. You know, stayed at the same weight for quite a while. But I stuck to the plan and at the end of six months, I had lost 50 pounds.

I'll tell you, after that, my whole life changed. Even my husband's practice picked up. Wow! Did I go on a clothes spree. And frankly, Jim loved every cent of it. As a matter of fact, he bought me a stunning pants outfit himself. That's when I decided to let my hair down. We flew back to New York City and had a celebration on the town. You see, until Ayds, I had almost forgotten that I was a city girl.

See Wrinkles* Actually Reduced

With Medically Proven
Hormone Application

Now you can see your skin become clearer and younger-looking as "dry-skin wrinkles" diminish in only 10 to 12 days. A laboratory test conducted by skin specialists proves conclusively that estrogenic hormones, applied to the skin, actually reduce dry-skin lines and wrinkles to a marked—visibly—degree.

A preparation containing female hormones was applied to one side of the face and neck of 50 middle-aged women. A similar formula—but without hormones—was applied to the other side.

The results of this "half-woman" test showed that skin lines on the hormone side were clearly, visibly reduced. Many fine lines had disappeared altogether, while even deep wrinkles showed dramatic improvement.

How? Why? Doctors say the hormones cause skin cells to increase their natural moisture. As millions of cells become plumper, they smooth out lines such as you pump up a pillow. Results are often visible in 10 to 12 days.

This anti-wrinkle formula is produced by the trustworthy 50-year-old Milium Laboratories under the name HOIRMONEX Beauty Serum. It acts so rapidly because pure hormones are quickly carried into the skin in a penetrating liquid formula.

Note this: Only 7 drops a day of HOIRMONEX Beauty Serum are the full recommended treatment for face and neck. Just seven drops a day!

The regular 100-day supply comes in a convenient dropper bottle at $3.50—less than 4 cents a day. Look younger quickly. See those dry-skin wrinkles visibly reduced.

You may obtain HOIRMONEX Beauty Serum at your favorite drug or toiletry counter.

Does Music Have Power Over You?

By JOHN E. GIBSON

Does music have, as adage has it, "charms to soothe the savage breast"? Recent psychological studies reveal that music does, indeed, affect the functioning of humans. Try this true-false quiz to see how much you know about what music can do for you—and to you.

1. Music can step up a person's mental "horsepower," actually increase his ability to think, reason, and remember.
2. People buy more when the music in supermarkets is turned on louder.
3. When you feel so anxious and worried, that you're just about to climb the walls, calm and tranquil music is highly effective.
4. Music is not effective when a person is depressed.
5. Music from your car radio can reduce your chances of having an accident.
6. Music increases a nursing mother's flow of milk.
7. Music can give you an ulcer.
8. When a melody haunts you, it's psychologically significant and provides a clue to your innermost feelings.

ANSWERS

1. True. In studies at New York University, the playing of certain types of music was found to inspire many persons to score better on various mental tests than they did without the influence of music. In studies at Louisiana State University, investigators compared the performance of students on mental tests while classical music was being played; when jazz was substituted; when rock-n-roll was played; and with no music. Students made the lowest scores—on—the tests—when—rock-n-roll—was played.

2. False. Tests were conducted by Cornell University investigators in various large supermarkets. The volume of the music ranged from loud to soft. Sales per minute were greater with loud music, but there was no significant increase in total sales. The louder music simply caused the customers to move more briskly, shop more quickly.

3. False. In a study conducted by a team of psychiatrists, tests were made on men and women in extremely worried and anxious states, to determine what kind of music had the most calming effect. It was found that a stimulating type of popular music alleviated fear and anxiety much more than calm music or silence.

4. False. Psychological studies show that it is characteristic of a depressed person to resist strenuously verbal efforts to cheer him up. Since music is much more subtle than words and affects a person on a feeling rather than a thinking level, investigators at a leading university found that depressed subjects responded favorably to lively, exciting music.

5. True. This is particularly the case during the congestion of rush-hour traffic periods, when music can do a great deal to offset the effect of nerve-sapping tensions and aggressive driver reactions, which often tend to build up during these times. Institutional studies have shown that music played at peak accident periods has resulted in a lower accident rate.

6. True. In maternity hospital studies in Tokyo, recorded music of various types was played for a cross-section of more than 100 mothers. Some music (mood, instrumental, choir, and semiclassical) increased the production of mother's milk by 50 percent to 150 percent.

7. True. If circumstances force you to listen to music that gets on your nerves, which you find disturbing or irritating, it can definitely give you an ulcer. On the other hand, studies at the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg in Germany have shown that listening to music you like can help prevent ulcers.

8. True. Psychiatrist Frances Hannett has evaluated the results of leading studies on this subject. The findings indicate that it is not by chance that a tune occurs so persistently in your mind that it becomes a haunting melody. Like a significant dream, it has been found to be symbolic of your innermost feelings or subconscious drives. And also like dreams, the "haunting melody syndrome" is sometimes difficult to interpret and so cloaked in symbols that it takes a little going to decipher the meaning. But take it from the experts, songs that haunt you can provide illuminating insights into your personality.

NOW THERE IS A FANTASTICALLY FAST AND SURE HIP, THIGH & WAISTLINE REDUCER!

SAUNA SHORTS

GUARANTEED TO TAKE 3 TO 6 INCHES OFF YOUR HIPS, THIGHS & WAISTLINE IN JUST ONE WEEK OR YOUR MONEY REFUNDED.

Here it is: The Brand New "Inches-off" discovery which is proving beyond doubt that you can take inches off your hips, thighs and waistline in just days—without dieting. Men and women alike are experiencing amazingly fast results with this new Inches-removing method. Read what they say:

B. W.: Montreal, Canada

"I lost 6½" in just 7 days with my fabulous new Sauna Shorts. Two inches from my waist, two inches from my thighs, and 2½ inches from my hips! I didn't believe it was possible, but the tape measure doesn't lie!"

Mr. R. G.: Burbank, California

"I wore my Sauna Shorts one day to mow the lawn, and after I was done, I found I had lost 2 inches the very first day! No more pleated pants for me. I look great in the new styles, if I do say so myself!"

Mrs. L. J. S.: Miami, Florida

"You should see me doing the housework in my floral print Sauna Shorts. I've had such great results, it almost makes cleaning house worthwhile. Three inches gone in a week—three more to go!"

J. L.: Paris, Texas

"I'm down to a size 9 pants from a size 11 and I owe it all to Sauna Shorts! All my clothes look much better on me now, and I feel great. I just wear my Sauna Shorts every two weeks or so now to keep in good shape (literally!). Thanks for developing such an easy way to slim down."

HOW DO SAUNA SHORTS WORK?

These incredible new Sauna Shorts are made of a veritable "bee hive" of air pockets that combine the benefits of your own personal Swedish Sauna with an amazingly simple exercise plan—all designed to work away your unwanted inches. Just slip into your Sauna Shorts as you would any shorts, and inflate them with the convenient, detachable air pump we provide you with (at no extra charge). Immediately, you'll feel a gentle massaging action, a comforting warmth and unique support. You'll feel these hundreds of tiny air pockets—each with its own individual pressure point—snuggling up to you, tighter and tighter. When you feel the resistance is appropriate put aside the air pump and feel the comforting sauna-like warmth and support these tiny air pockets bring. How can something that's working off inches feel so good? It's almost cheating!

We'll also send along instructions for three simple exercises you will perform in order to pinpoint inches-removal from your hips, thighs or waist—or all three at once. The exercises take just a few minutes. Then, you'll keep your Sauna Shorts on while you relax or go about your regular routine. They're not heavy like many so-called reducing devices. Sauna Shorts work on the principle of creating resistance to natural movement—somewhat like isometric exercises—except that you don't have to do the work! Sauna Shorts are designed to make your every movement (even breathing) an exercise for dissolving inches. After you remove your Sauna Shorts, you'll feel slimmer, firmer—even after just one wearing. Many people report a loss of inches the very first day!

WEAR YOUR SAUNA SHORTS FOR 1 WEEK!

Provided you actually have excess inches which you can afford to lose, we recommend your wearing Sauna Shorts for about half an hour or so every day. Many persons have lost as much as 4 inches from just one session with the Sauna Shorts. And you may use your Sauna Shorts with the single exercise plan on a regular basis. You'll be able to maintain a firm, trim and youthful figure. The results obtained, this first week, will differ among individuals depending upon physical factors. But from the amazingly effective results users are now experiencing, we're prepared to make you this outstanding money-back guarantee: Wear your Sauna Shorts for 1 week. If you are not completely satisfied and/or if you have not lost from 3 to 6 inches, you may return them for a 100% prompt refund.

TWO DIFFERENT TYPES TO CHOOSE FROM... BOTH INCREDIBLE BARGAINS!

Choose the regular Sauna Shorts for reducing hips and thighs—just $9.95. For hips, thighs and waistline reduction, select the long-line Sauna Shorts... only $14.95. And remember, these Sauna Shorts are not sold in any store. They are not available elsewhere—at any price! They are available exclusively from SAUNA SHORTS, INC. in an attractive floral print pattern for ladies and in handsome navy blue for men.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

So thoroughly convinced are we that you will consider Sauna Shorts the most convenient, rapid and amazingly attractive reducer for the hips, thighs (and waistline), we are offering you this unconditional money back guarantee:

Man or woman, if your total inches-loss does not equal or exceed 3 to 6 inches in just one week, you may return your Sauna Shorts for a prompt, total refund—no questions asked. So, if you want a slimmer, trimmer, more youthfully sleek look now, order your amazing new Sauna Shorts today! You have nothing to lose but inches! There is nothing like Sauna Shorts anywhere!

During the first three days of a bitterly contested divorce trial, the judge sat grim and taciturn on the bench, just listening.

On the third day, the husband was on the stand, and the wife's attorney was chopping him into little pieces over the amount of money he was alleged to have wasted.

Battered by the verbal assault, the man finally retorted defensively: "But the only thing I've bought in months was a new spinning reel, for

This newest movie idol got 30 rave reviews for his first film but hasn't gotten rich yet. He has some strong opinions on love, marriage, parents, and work

"beautiful actress."

As life turned out, the brother went into the family business. The sister, still beautiful, got married. "She just had her first baby, and I'm the godfather."

"When my mother came to New York to see "Diary," she didn't let me know, but went alone and bought her own ticket. Then she couldn't resist telling the usher, "I'm his mother." She goes around saying, "My son is a movie star." I tell her, "No. Mom, it takes at least six pictures."

Langella doesn't have much hope for present-day marriages: "Too many cockeyed values. Guilt. If we Americans were more free-thinking, then we'd have fewer divorces. I don't know any happy marriages. No... I do know two."

"I believe that the more you love, the wider your arms should be"—he flung his arms expansively—"not tighter. If I am seeing someone, I never ask her where she's been, or with whom. And I expect the same from her. Understand, I'm not trying to make a case for promiscuity—I'm faithful but against guilt and fear."

As for deep friendships, he does not tend to make friends with actors: "I am too competitive. Hell for me would be five actors locked up in a room."

Frank Langella and Carrie Snodgrass in romantic scene from "Diary of a Mad Housewife."

"There I was, poised on the edge of the roof, a beach towel flung around my shoulders like a cape, playing Superman. I was positive Superman could fly... and I could, too. I jumped off with the greatest of confidence. That just goes to prove the power of actors: people believe in them so."

Frank Langella jumped—and broke his leg. He was five years old, "acting" his first role. "Unless you think of yourself as someone special," he says with assurance, "you shouldn't be an actor."

Actor Frank Langella does seem to be someone special, by the most critical standards. After his recent screen debut in "Diary of a Mad Housewife," he got no less than 30 rave reviews. Even from the few reviewers who found a fault or two with the film itself, there was nothing but praise for Frank Langella. ("Delightfully free of the clichés"—Richard Schickel, Life; "Striking"—Hollis Alpert, Saturday Review; "Excellent," Variety.)

The film is the sixth production of the famed husband-and-wife team, Frank (producer/director) and Eleanor (script writer) Perry, who were also responsible for the well-received "David and Lian" and "Last Summer." Their latest, "Diary," is a biting satire of "an unattractive, upper-middle-class marriage." The Langella role is the very physical Other Man—(George Prager), interested in "sex only, no emotional involvements."

Before the movie, Langella already was known and respected in the theatrical world. He has played the top summer stock theaters and enacted some 40 roles on and off-Broadway and won several acting awards. Now important offers are pouring in.

Langella has just turned 30. He doesn't drink, and he eats judiciously. His enormous brown eyes can portray changes of mood in an instant—joyous, loving, sexy—or sadistic, conning, bored. Those expressive eyes, however, are hopelessly—nearsighted. He won't resort to contacts but uses glasses "to read, drive and see."

Langella, who hasn't had a pay-check since "Diary" was completed in March, philosophizes that "a period of unemployment can be very constructive for an actor. I read a lot and absorb whatever I can toward the next role. I used to create a character out of the air. Now I create from the elements inside me that are almost like the character. I did that to play George Prager—but I'm not that kind of person, really."

"Films are tougher, I discovered, than the stage in one respect: You can not lie for even a second in front of a camera. You can lie on stage, if you have the technique. On camera, your face looms large. There are two schools of thought about screen acting: Ignore the camera. Or make love to it, that's my technique now; after I do six films, I may change. I saw "Diary" for the first time the other night. I learned a lot to improve for the next time."

What might be the next time? "Well, the next film the public will see is actually the first film I made. It's called "The 12 Chairs," a comedy with a good musical score, produced by Mel Brooks." Brooks can be credited with discovering Langella for the screen. "We did it in Yugoslavia—five months of grueling work. Life there was hard, depressing, but the people were spirited, full of life. And they do have some beautiful nudist beaches where many Danes and Swedes vacation. I play a totally different character—an adventurous Russian rogue in the late 1920s—not exactly a nice guy, but not as bad as Prager, and the entire family could see it. It should get a G rating. I think."

Very little has changed for Langella—his standard of living, his friends, his possessions. He isn't even making much money, this man on the way to becoming a superstar. "Nineteen-seventy is my poorest year, financially."

Now he thoroughly enjoys the recognition that goes with suddenly having acquired fans. "I take a walk and everyone knows who I am," he confides, delight and surprise written all over him. "My famous friends tell me I'll change soon enough. I don't know. My family gets such a kick out of this. Not only his parents, but his older brother and younger sister as well."

As a middle child, skinny, too tall, with thick glasses, and no observable career assets, young Frank did occasionally feel somewhat unspecial. The brother was an admired basketball star, his sister seemed destined to become a

SUPPLEMENT TO THE
TWIN FALLS TIMES-NEWS

This week, your Dodge Dealer proudly invites you to see the new 1971 CHARGER · CHALLENGER ·
DEMON · DART · CORONET · POLARA · MONACO

Dodge's new Demon brings out the devil in you.

Here comes Dodge's all-new spunky little savior that will really turn you on. It works like a demon... plays like a demon... and is devilish fun to drive. It's five-people big on the inside. Yet it's compact enough to tool around town and park in just about any parking place you can get into with any other car. And Demon works magic, too, the way both its Six and standard V8 make the miles disappear on regular gas... the way it surrounds you with comfort. So, if you'd like to add a little spice to your life, drop down to your nearby Dodge Dealer's and ask to take a Demon-stration drive. New Dodge Demon for 1971. That's the spirit.

"Wow! That's some groovy, stupid middle-class value!"

That's some groovy, affordable new price, too. Challenger.

Almost anybody can save you money on a car you don't want—now Dodge sets out to save you money on one you do. Challenger. Any kid can spot one a hundred yards away. The clean shape is a dead giveaway. Challenger. It's actually comfortable inside . . . and the back seat is more than a conversation piece. Challenger. The one that gives you the wide stance and those nice extras like torsion-bar suspension and unitized construction. Challenger. Only now it's not a car . . . It's a whole line of cars. One of them is called a Coupe. It has a thrifty Six that runs on regular, cleanly styled vinyl bucket seats, carpets, floor-mounted shift lever, and a price sticker that will have you doing more than just dreaming.

You've never seen a shape like this or a car like this before.

1971 Charger.

Reach for your title, mister. Dodge has priced Charger right down with intermediate two-door hardtops. No kidding. For about the same price as those plain old everyday two-door intermediates everybody's running around in, a new 1971 Charger. The once-in-a-lifetime shape . . . now at everyday prices. That's it above. Who'd ever think a money saver would look like that? Charger, now on a taut new wheelbase with the big choice in engines, accessories, interiors. Charger, with or without hidden headlights.

Charger, with or without bucket seats. Family-sized room, standard. Charger, the one-of-a-kind personal car that's just been priced where you personally want it. The shape is back, and looking better than ever. With ventless glass, concealed wipers, tor-sion-bar suspension, full instrumentation, and six great models to choose from. 1971 Dodge Charger. A great personal car, a great family car, a great economy car. Just what did you have in mind? YOU CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO BE DODGE MATERIAL.

"Hold it, sir! That's only the suggested price!"

Even the suggested price on Dart is easy to take. America's best-selling compact hardtop.

Imagine the nerve of Dart: Setting new sales records every year on the same old proposition. What's that? Just this. A little more room. A little more style. And a price that means you can move up to a hardtop and still save money. If that's not enough reason for giving one a try, here are a few added attractions for 1971. A deluxe interior with full carpeting, a touch of simulated wood-grained trim on dash and door panels. Not bad for an economy car that has one of the highest resale values in the business. You have a nice choice of Six and V8 engines to choose from and accessories that include power brakes, power steering and air conditioning. Before you settle for something less, make sure it doesn't cost you more. Try a Dart . . . America's best-selling compact hardtop.

"No buckets, no sticks, no wire wheels."

For people who put quiet, comfort, and quality first. The Dodge Polara.

Polara people come from many walks of life. But they have one thing in common. The desire for peace and quiet, with a touch of luxury to go along with it. They look for it in the car they drive. And the Dodge Polara for 1971 comes through. Luxury-car roominess and comfort. Torsion-Quiet Ride that reduces road and engine noise in the passenger compartment by means of strategically placed rubber isolators and a front "stub frame" that insulates against noise. Distinctive styling without being ostentatious. And what never ceases to amaze these Polara people is the modest price. Polara competes with the traditional low-priced field. If Polara people sound as if they're your kind of people, join 'em.

Coronet Station Wagon.

The mid-size wagon with all the luxury features of big wagons. For less money.

The Coronet wagon has a subtle allure. It doesn't look like, handle like, or cost like the average wagon. Inside, it looks and feels like a fine car.

Yet, nestled on that maneuverable 118-inch wheelbase is room for a four-by-eight-foot sheet of plywood in back. On three-seat wagons, a special new electronic safety device for the rear tailgate automatically keeps the kids in without locking them in.
