Did Lincoln's Sheriff Leave?

SHOSHONE — Lincoln county commissioners said today they are waiting for the written resignation of Sheriff Thomas Conner who, they say, has left town.

His wife says he will be back. C.F. Chaffield, commission chairman, said the sheriff left town Saturday night, hauling some race horses.

Deputy Sheriff Martin Whitesell, Richfield, the only fulltime deputy in the county, told the Times-News that Conner called him Saturday morning and said, "She's all yours. We're heading south. I've handed (Lincoln County Clerk) Mrs. Luella Kinsey my resignation."

The clerk told the Times-News the sheriff had not given her a written resignation, but said he was going to resign.

Conner had been sheriff of Lincoln County for nearly 20 years. He has two years of his current term remaining.

Chaffield said today books for the sheriff's department were audited over the weekend by Mrs. Helen Dickinson, Rupert, certified public accountant, and found to be in order.

The commission chairman also said Deputy Whitesell has full authority to carry on the law enforcement work in the county and needs no special authorization.

He said the commission could take no action until a written resignation is received.

Mrs. Conner told the Times-News her husband had not resigned, but said he is out of town and will be back next week, but that he does plan to resign.

Harold Burgess, a courthouse employe, was in the sheriff's office when Whitesell received the telephone call from Conner and verified the deputy's report on the conversation regarding the resignation.

Manson Lunges ...

LUNGING TOWARD the judge's bench is Charles Manson, defendant in the Tate-LaBianca murder trial in Los Angeles. Manson charged over a counsel table toward Judge Charles H. Older. He was knocked to the floor by Bailiff William Murray, and was later placed in a cell near the court room. As he was led out,

Manson shouted at the judge, "You think I'm kidding. In the name of Christian justice, I'm going to cut your head off." Manson is being tried for the August, 1969 murders. The sketch was made by Gene Windhoff, NBC-TV news artist. (UPI)

Viet War Proposal Prepared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon said today he would announce Wednesday night a major new U.S. proposal to end the war in Vietnam.

"It will be the most comprehensive statement ever made on this subject since the beginning of this long, difficult war," the President told reporters at the White House.

The report to the nation—two days after he completed a 12,000 mile tour to five European countries—will be made by Nixon at 8 p.m. EDT Wednesday. The speech will be carried on nationwide radio and television.

Nixon visited the White House press center to tell reporters that the new Vietnam peace proposals would be presented at the Paris negotiations Thursday by Ambassador David K. E. Bruce.

He said they had the approval of the South Vietnamese government.

Nixon stressed the sincerity of the new proposals. "We do not consider this to be a propagandist gimmick," he said. "We are not just saying it for the record."

Nixon met with Bruce, his new top negotiator at Paris, and the deputy ambassador to the talks, Philip Habib, in Ireland on Sunday. At that time, it was disclosed by White House officials, Nixon gave new instructions to the negotiators to try to break the impasse in the talks.

The president told newsmen that in his report Wednesday, he would discuss all the major issues involved in the Southeast Asia war.

He said his "statement is one that in his report Wednesday, he would discuss all the major issues involved in the negotiations."

There has been speculation that Nixon not only intends to announce new proposals for presentation to the Paris negotiators but also plans to announce some time this month a new phase of U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

In his surprise appearance at the White House press center, Nixon stressed both U.S. power and its responsibility to defend freedom.

Egyptians Pick Anwar

CAIRO (UPI)—Egypt moved swiftly today to install interim President Anwar Sadat as successor to Gamal Abdel Nasser. Sadat may be sworn in Oct. 17.

Sadat, a 51-year-old Socialist, was approved by the 150-member central committee of the Arab Socialist Union (ASU), Egypt's only political party, Monday night after he was proposed by the union's eight-member executive committee. His nomination now goes to the national assembly, which is expected to discuss it today and then give its approval Wednesday.

The final net provided for by the constitution is approval by a majority of the Egyptian voters. Under the timetable laid down by the ASU leaders, the balloting will take place Oct. 15 and Sadat will be sworn in two days later if he is approved as expected.

The ASU executive committee, which includes Sadat, said in the nomination quick action must be taken because of the three-pronged threat to Egypt. The three dangers, it said, were: (1) Israel's occupation of the Sinai and other parts of the Arab nations; (2) the "forces of world imperialism led by the United States which will do everything possible to break the steadfastness of the Egyptian people," and (3) A handful "of reactionary exploiters" who suffered with the introduction of socialism. "We should expect that this limited clique will attempt to emerge again from oblivion to put the clock backward."

Manson Under Glass?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles Manson may be locked in a glass booth or bound and gagged to prevent a recurrence of his attempt to injure the judge at the Sharon Tate murder trial.

Manson lunged 10 feet from the counsel table toward the bench Monday with a yellow lead pencil clenched in his right hand in an attempt to get at Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older.

The source said the trial will last at least two more months and that Manson may have to be shackled or isolated to allow the trial to proceed.

The same applies to the three young woman defendants, who have followed their idol's lead and imitated his histrionics during the trial. They also were dragged from the courtroom Monday.

The incident began during the morning session when Manson suddenly shouted, "Are you going to use this courtroom to kill me?"

Older told him to keep quiet or he would be removed.

"Mr. Manson, I'm going to have you removed if you don't stop."

Paul Bridge Closure Set

BURLEY — The Paul Bridge linking North and South sides of Highway 27 will be closed next week for resurfacing, Mayor Garis Robertson said Monday night at the city council meeting here.

Robertson said District Highway Engineer Howard Johnson had informed him that the roadwork would begin as soon as a similar resurfacing job at the Heyburn Bridge is completed. He said work should begin next week.

Johnson reportedly said the completion of the Paul Bridge resurfacing has been advanced to permit use of highway materials that could deteriorate if stored through the winter.

The weather poses a problem, Robertson said. Resurfacing work must take place in temperatures of at least 72 degrees.

Mayor Robertson said he had received complaints from city garbage men that many persons are placing garbage in tubs and boxes instead of regulation garbage cans.

Councilmen discussed changing the garbage ordinance to allow use of large plastic bags such as are used in some larger cities. The mayor was authorized to contact a representative of a firm making these bags.

Councilmen approved installation of caution signs on 19th Street near Leona's Kindergarten.

A request by Milton Corless to have the house next to his motel used by youth recreation was referred to the zoning commission.

A request from Pete Atkinson, Blackfoot, for a city sewer hookup for a packing plant was referred to the Chamber of Commerce Industrial committee with the stipulation there would be no city sewer hookup for this type of business.

Enemy Attacks Cambodia Force

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces attacked and attempted to encircle Cambodian troops at Tang-Kauk today in an offensive aimed at blocking the advance of the largest Cambodian task force of the war.

Communiques from Saigon said the Viet Cong had bombed a refugee camp and killed 20 civilians and wounded 40 others. The Communist offensive also included attacks against the outposts of two Cambodian provincial capitals. The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese opened the attacks Monday night.

They struck at Kompong Chhnang, 60 miles northwest of Phnom Penh, and Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of the capital. Fighting was still in progress today at those points and near Tang Kauk, 52 miles north of the capital.

"I can tell you it is quite serious," said Maj. Am Rong, Cambodian military spokesman. "I think they are determined to halt our forces at Tang Kauk. It is a major supply route from Laos through Kompong Thom and Kompong Chhnang."

Brig. Gen. Pharr Moeung, commander of the taskforce, said there were at least four Communist battalions blocking the path of the task force on the north and another working toward the south of Tang Kauk.

Fighting was still going on today at Kompong Chhnang, the Cambodian Command said.

Demo Hopefuls Visit Northside

JEROME — Democratic candidates put on a campaign drive through the Northside Monday, winding up by crossing the river for a dinner scheduled in Twin Falls at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Headed by gubernatorial candidate Cecil Andrus, a covey of state and local candidates toured Hagerman Monday morning, had lunch in Wendell with school personnel, and spent the afternoon here and in the Eden-Hazleton area.

"Idaho is on the brink of tremendous growth," Andrus told a party rally at the Lincoln school Monday night at Shoshone. He challenged the wisdom of the present state administration's construction of "$25,000 worth of tolls along the state highway when the state government does not provide needs of senior citizens."

The candidate also questioned the wisdom of creating new agencies which "prove wasteful and duplicate existing agencies."

Candidates were introduced by Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls, master of ceremonies at the Shoshone rally, sponsored by the Lincoln County central committee. Dinner music was provided by a group of local Oldtime Fiddlers.

W. L. Benson, Blackfoot

probate judge and candidate for the secretary of state post, said Idaho has one of the lowest incomes per capita in the nation, but ranks fifth in taxation.

State Treasurer Marjorie Moon pointed to her record of investment of state money, but decried the way these earnings have been spent by the present administration.

Anthony Park, attorney general candidate, charged an "unhealthy relationship" between the governor and the Smplot corporate influence, and the lack of action by the attorney general's office to correct alleged pollution problems caused by that firm. Joe Williams, incumbent state auditor, cited differences of opinion between himself and the governor, saying one of the governor's "monumental installations" of office equipment is costing taxpayers $100,000 per month.

Other candidates speaking briefly included Marden E. Wells, candidate for U.S. representative; Oscar Arstein, state senator; Floyd Kisting, state representative; D. F. Engelking, state superintendent of schools; Sanford Connell, Lincoln county assessor; Luella Kinsey, Lincoln county clerk; and Howard E. Adkins, Lincoln prosecuting attorney.

T.F. Seeks Dierke's Lake Grant

TWIN FALLS — Application for $18,750 in federal funds for development of Dierke's Lake recreation area was authorized Monday night by Twin Falls city council members.

The city approved a resolution authorizing the application which has been in the preparation stages for some time. During preparation and studies regulations have changed several times, necessitating new procedure by the city.

Application is through the Housing and Urban Development Agency and comes under the open spaces program.

City officials have completed an extensive long-range plan for full development of the area around the lakes, to include camping, picnic areas, swimming, boating and many hiking trails. Several areas are planned for planting and development of campgrounds including an area for small trailers and campers.

City Manager Jean Miller said under HUD regulations two appraisals were needed and one valued the city's property there at $80,000 and another at $112,000.

Bolivia Chief Quits Office

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—President Alfredo Ovando resigned today to avert a civil war. Unofficial military sources said he was replaced by a military junta headed by Gen. Rogelio Miranda, his bitterest political rival who tried to oust him on Sunday.

Burn Ban Tabled

TWIN FALLS—Following advice from the Idaho Department of Health, Twin Falls City Council members decided Monday night not to change open burning regulations here for the present time.

City Manager Jean Miller said he had been advised by the health department that work is underway by the Association of Idaho Cities and the health department to draft an open burning ordinance to be uniform among all major cities.

Under state law, Sept. 21 was the deadline for any open burning in Idaho. But Twin Falls councilmen postponed adoption of a compliance or-inance until further word could be received from the state on certain factors.

Miller recommended the city operate under ordinances until a suitable new regulation can be proposed by the Association of Idaho Cities. He said this does not mean residents can burn anything at any time.

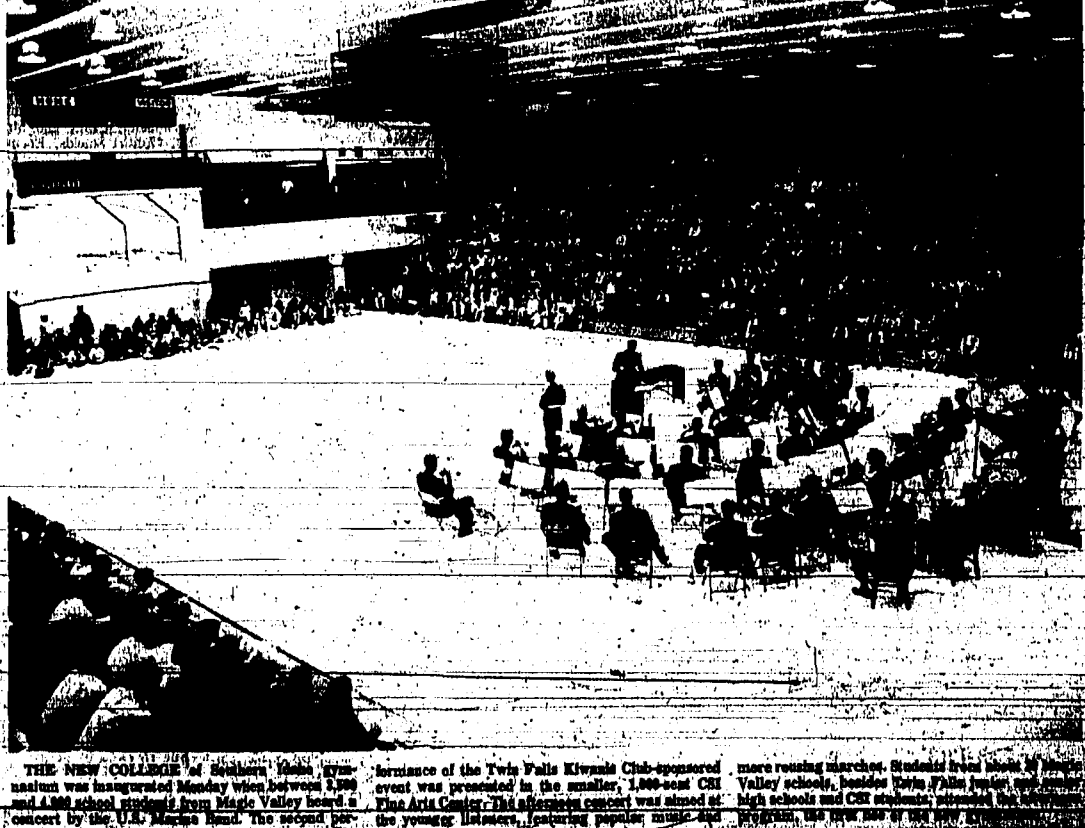

"We have a strict burning ordinance in force," he said.

"Only paper items can be burned legally in Twin Falls at the present time, and this must be from 5 a.m. to 7 p.m. during weekdays and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. There is no burning of rubbish or garbage permitted," he said.

Tornado Hits

By United Press International
A tornado beat Shawnee, Okla., officials to the siren warning button Monday evening. By the time the button was pushed, the storm had knocked it out of service and three persons died.

The tornado also caused at least 80 injuries and cut a swath three miles long through the city's business district. It then skipped 15 miles to the northeast where it killed another person in Prague, Okla.

THE NEW COLLEGE of Shoshone, Idaho, assembly was inaugurated Monday when 1,200 students and 400 school employees from Magic Valley Area High School and CSI students attended a concert by the U.S. Marine Band. The second part of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club-sponsored event was presented in the smaller, 1,000-seat CSI High School auditorium. The assembly was aimed at the young listeners, featuring popular music and more rousing marches. Students from Shoshone Valley schools, besides Twin Falls, were present. The assembly was held at the CSI High School auditorium.

DURING TUESDAY night, shower activity is expected from Louisiana to the Great Lakes and over parts of the northern Rockies where the precipitation may change to snow. Fair to partly cloudy skies should prevail elsewhere. (UPI)

Cooler With Showers, Some Wind

Magic Valley, Twin Falls and vicinity, Northside, Burley, Rupert area: Increasing cloudiness, colder and chance of a few showers and snow flurries today and tonight, windy at times. Partial clearing and continued cold Wednesday. High temperatures in the 50s both days. Lows tonight 25 to 35. Probability of measurable precipitation 20 per cent today, 40 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Wednesday.

Further outlook fair and cold Wednesday night with lows in the 20s. Sunny with rising temperatures Thursday. Comes Prairie, Hailey and lower Wood River Valley. Partly cloudy with a few snow flurries today and tonight. Partial clearing Wednesday. Colder, highs both days in the 40s. Lows tonight 18 to 28.

The cold air mass which spread rapidly over this region yesterday will remain with us for at least 2 or 3 days. High temperatures will be only in the 40s and 50s today and Wednesday over all of southern Idaho and most of eastern Oregon. Low temperatures tonight will be generally in the 20s and lower 30s and will cool further into the 20s and upper teens Wednesday night in the agricultural valleys of southern Idaho and in the Malheur Valley of Oregon.

Hunters in the mountains should be prepared for lows in the teens both tonight and Wednesday night.

A weak low pressure disturbance is expected to develop over Nevada today and to move to Utah and Wyoming by Wednesday. This sets up the possibility of an accumulation of snow on the high elevations of extreme southern and eastern Idaho.

Pilot Hurt In Hailey Air Crash

HAILEY — A light plane crashed Monday night at the Hailey airport, demolishing the plane and injuring the pilot, its only occupant.

Blaine County Sheriff's officers said the Cessna 180, owned by Intermountain Helicopters, Boise, and piloted by Larry Fisher, 46, Boise, was attempting to land on the darkened runway when the accident occurred about 8:30 p.m.

Officers said Fisher apparently miscalculated the length of the runway and the plane brushed a tree and was thrown into an adjacent hay field on the Gage Ranch.

Fisher was able to crawl from the wreckage but is hospitalized at Blaine County Hospital in fair condition with a broken back and lacerations.

Feds Probe Plane Crash

DENVER (UPI) — Federal investigators probing the Rocky Mountain crash of a plane carrying the Wichita State University football team hoped to learn today how much mountain flying experience the crew of the aircraft had.

A federal spokesman said Monday the pilot of the plane, Dan Croker, 27, of Oklahoma City, was flying along a so-called "scenic route" when the plane crashed in the Colorado Rockies. Croker was among the 30 killed.

Russell J. Abbott, air safety investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB), said the surviving copilot had revealed the reason for the plane's route during a brief interview.

The twin-engine Martin 404 crashed in flames Friday near Loveland Pass, 55 miles west of Denver. Twenty-nine persons died at the scene and a 30th victim, football trainer Thomas Reeves, died Monday. There are 10 survivors.

Abbott said an investigating team had spoken briefly with Ronald Skinner, 34, a co-pilot with the Golden Eagle Aviation of Oklahoma City.

"A very brief interview with him indicated that the scenic route was being flown for the purpose of providing an aerial view of the ski resorts for the college football players aboard," Abbott said.

Abbott said he did not know how much experience the pilots had in flying over the Rocky Mountains, where wind drafts make flying tricky even for the most experienced pilots.

Listening Art Termed Neglected

SUN VALLEY — The fact that listening is a neglected art was discussed today by Michael Rourke, advertising and public relations manager, Boise Cascade Corp., in front of about 125 members of the Council on Hospital Auxiliaries.

The council met Monday and today in conjunction with the 37th annual meeting of the Idaho Hospital Association.

Rourke noted most people exert much time and talent in sending messages but little into the art of receiving them.

"About 98 per cent of what is learned is learned through the eyes and ears," he said.

Rourke also addressed the opening meeting of the auxiliary Monday. During his initial presentation, he illustrated what can happen when a person is preconditioned to think about something in a certain way. He noted that the preconditioning often causes misunderstandings because two people have differing points of view.

Nora Samuel

BUHL — Mrs. Nora Samuel, 76, a pioneer Buhl resident, died Monday morning at a local nursing home following an extended illness.

She was born Feb. 23, 1894, at Huntsville, Wash., and was married to Gail Samuel at Dayton, Wash., on Sept. 21, 1914. They moved to Buhl in 1919, and had farmed southeast of town since that time.

Survivors include her husband, Buhl; three daughters, Mrs. Ludwig (Josephine) Litch, Pueblo, Colo.; Mrs. John (Bobbie) Miracle, Buhl, and Mrs. James (Shirley) Clayton, Boise; one sister, Mrs. Estella Sewell, Seattle, Wash., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Buhl First United Methodist Church by Rev. Glenn Waldman. Burial will follow at the Buhl Cemetery.

Friends may call at Albertson-Dickard Funeral Home on Wednesday until 8 p.m. and Thursday until noon.

Walter Ross

HAZELTON — Walter Ross, 98, died of a short illness Monday morning at Bannock Memorial Hospital, Pocatello.

He was born Feb. 19, 1882, in Rich Hill, Mo. He married Sadie Makinson who died in 1924. He married Maud Miller Dec. 9, 1945.

Mr. Ross was a member of the Assembly of God Church in Hazelton. He was a retired farmer and had lived in Hazelton since 1917.

Surviving, besides his widow, are a son, V.C. Ross, Shoshone; three daughters, Mrs. Frank (Ruby) McKinnon, Pocatello; Mrs. Earl (Edna) Carroll, Sacramento, Calif.; and Mrs. Earl (Edith) Shields, Encino, Calif., and 18 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

A son, a daughter, two brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Thursday at White Mortuary Chapel, Twin Falls, by Rev. Russell King. Friends may call at the mortuary Tuesday, Wednesday and until noon Thursday. Final rites will be in Twin Falls Cemetery.

Search for Diplomat Suspended

MONTREAL (UPI) — Montreal police said late Monday they had called off their search for British diplomat James R. Cross in order to keep his kidnapers from getting nervous and endangering the victim.

"A man's life is at stake," said a police spokesman, "we don't want to make the terrorists jittery."

The legislatures of all but Hawaii and Montana already have enacted the compact into law. The compact also provides for a regional plan for coping with nuclear accidents and for member states to request assistance from other states in connection with any nuclear accident.

A similar compact, already agreed to by Congress, has been signed by Southern states.

Western N-Accord Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Monday approved a Senate-passed bill giving congressional consent to an agreement by 13 Western states to work together in the exploration and use of atomic energy.

The legislation approving the Western Interstate Nuclear Compact now goes to the White House for President Nixon's signature.

The compact provides for cooperation in the peaceful use of nuclear energy by the states of Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

The legislatures of all but Hawaii and Montana already have enacted the compact into law. The compact also provides for a regional plan for coping with nuclear accidents and for member states to request assistance from other states in connection with any nuclear accident.

ELECT Williamson to the Legislature

Williamson to the Legislature

DEMOCRAT 23rd District

I believe that:

1. We need legislation that will give ways and means to local officials to clean up car junk and solid waste. There are no laws at present granting them this power.
2. We should keep our parks, peaks and recreation areas for Idaho.
3. Our Constitution, with its 79 amendments may need revising, however, our people probably will not be satisfied with a commission revised constitution and will probably demand that it be revised in a convention and then be voted.
4. We should enforce deadlines set for cleaning up our water and air pollution.
5. Funds now being siphoned from the sales tax funds and used for government cost should be left in the education fund and used for education costs and new ideas like the kindergartens, desired by many communities.
6. The soaring cost of government needs to be curbed.
7. Surpluses and slush funds should be returned to the people in the form of tax relief.

Code Action Delayed

TWIN FALLS — Adoption of an updated fire prevention code was postponed by the Twin Falls City Council Monday night in order to give Fire Chief L. Z. Bartlett two more weeks to study the code.

He will then advise council members on the changes to be made.

Second reading was heard on an ordinance introduced two weeks ago to require the stamp of a licensed architect or engineer on any addition or new building plans of a commercial structure in the city. Several council members indicated they do not especially like the ordinance but felt it should be read at three meetings before it is voted on because of pro and con forces involved.

An ordinance to change the street name of Quilici Avenue to Robbins Avenue was placed on first reading and city officials authorized an agreement with the Oregon Short Line for installation of a pipe line under the railroad tracks.

City Manager Jean Milar was authorized to prepare specifications and call for bids for a new compressor for the Fire Department. The unit is needed to fill oxygen tanks and masks for firemen.

In other business the council appointed Richard G. High to the Public Library board to succeed Richard Turner and named four men to the city's accident review board. These are — Clifton Sharp, police Cadet Gerald K. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Keith Robinson, Twin Falls, is among 821 cadets who have entered their junior year at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

He will serve during the fall term as an element sergeant. During the summer he was a survival training instructor for sophomore cadets in the rugged Rampart Range area near the academy. He also completed training which qualifies him as a certified glider pilot.

Fire Crews Return

TWIN FALLS — Fire crews returned to Twin Falls Monday from Southern California where they were called more than a week ago to assist in control of forest fires.

Darrel Smith, Sawtooth National Forest fire control officer, said newly 70 men were returning Monday including the Pan-Am crew of 25, the Blue Jay crew of 24 and the 15 members the Inter-regional group from the Sawtooth.

In addition a special team of five specialists including Phil Cloward, John Hepworth, Clair Baldwin, Al Schulte and Keith Tweedy have been assisting on the San Bernardino National Forest the past seven days. They were to return about midnight Monday.

Smith said two small fires were reported on the Sawtooth over the week end, both man caused and both controlled shortly after they broke out.

One was located in the Malta district and the other in the Snake Creek district. He said the fire danger is still extremely high and officials are keeping a close watch on heavily used areas as forecasts are for above-normal temperatures and below-normal precipitation for the coming 30 days. He said some light showers occurred Monday and light snow was forecast for the 5000 foot elevations.

Exemplary T.F. Citizen Can't Avoid Trash Charge

TWIN FALLS — In this day of ecology-conscious governments, Twin Falls city council members have discovered they have at least one perfect citizen.

James Gasser, 940 Madrona St. N., met with the council members Monday night and announced he has no garbage or trash. He asked the commission to waive his requirement to pay sanitation charges of $2.10 per month.

City Manager Jean Milar told the council Gasser has one of the most attractive homes and yards in the city but he questioned how he could keep it that way without benefit of trash and garbage collection.

Gasser said he is a bachelor, eats all of his meals out and has a garbage disposal unit for the occasional apple core he has to discard.

As for lawn clippings, he feeds them to a neighbor's horse and he never has any bottles or cans to discard. Once or twice a year, he admitted, he drives to the Kimberly city dump and leaves a small package of trash.

City officials complimented Gasser on his neat existence and said they wished there were more citizens like him, but he too must pay the monthly sanitation fees.

On the average, 42,167,539 students attend classes daily in U.S. public schools.

Volleyball Schedules Announced

YMCA Volleyball programs get underway this week. Mixed volleyball will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church.

Teams are now entering the men's Volleyball league and beginning practice on Thursday evenings. There is still room for additional teams and those interested may call Chet Bartlett, Executive director, at the Y for information and entry forms.

Men interested in playing on a team may call the Y office 733-4384 and sign up.

The men's noon fitness class is now meeting at the Presbyterian gym Monday through Friday and the Joggers are out on the high school track at 7 a.m. each morning, Bartlett reported.

Auction Scheduled

SHOSHONE — A variety of equipment will be sold at auction by the State Highway Department at 1 p.m. Oct. 21, at the highway yards here, reports Howard Johnson, highway engineer.

Equipment may be inspected at the yards prior to the sale.

Items include two sedans, six pickups, two town wagons, three carryalls, nine trucks, one loader, two sanders, six snowplow blades, two tampers, one shovel and one trailer, and other items of road equipment, obsolete parts and supplies, junk batteries, tires, and scrap iron.

Burley Board Installs

BURLEY — The names of six new members of the board of directors of the Burley Chamber of Commerce were announced when the organization met Monday noon at Bryan's Cafe.

They are William A. Parsons, Dean Draper, Johnnie Cline, Noel Bowcutt, Bill Watzstein and Bill MacKnight, who will serve three-year terms. They will be installed at a dinner meeting in November.

Rev. Earl Hunter, Burley, narrated a show of slides he took while serving as a missionary in Nigeria. He and his wife, who is a registered nurse, and Jimmy, built a mission home and hospital in the African nation.

Robert Saxvik, who filed after the primary election, announced his candidacy on the Democrat ticket for Cassia County senator. It also was announced a Democrat fund raising dinner will be held Friday night at the Ponderosa Inn. The automotive wholesalers meeting will be this weekend at the Ponderosa Inn, it was announced.

Wells Attacks Farm Policies

JEROME — Marden Wells, candidate for U.S. Congress, Second district, on the Democrat ticket, today accused the Nixon administration of "trying to force another million farmers out of business and throwing them into the ranks of the unemployed."

"Mr. Nixon," said Wells, "had a golden opportunity to save the family sized farmer but instead he seems bent on following in the footsteps of the late President Eisenhower."

"As you know, Eisenhower's thinking was that farming could best be carried on by an agricultural aristocracy — by a small group of plutocrats, each owning thousands of acres of land, doing most of their work with machinery, and hiring only a few men who would work only part of the year and live off the taxpayers the rest of the time."

"Businessmen here in Magic Valley and elsewhere living and trying to make a living in towns like Jerome and Twin Falls should realize their existence is dependent upon a strong and healthy farm program. The national government should see to it that legislation is enacted which will guarantee the small farmer 100 per cent of parity and give him credit at a nominal rate of interest."

"Then the farmer would be in a position to pay his employees a reasonable wage and keep them employed on a year around basis."

"I admit," added Wells, "Democrats in other states are in part responsible for the condition of the country, because they have elected to Congress too many people who have gone along with the Eisenhower-Nixon program."

He addressed a group of area Democratic party members late Monday at Woods Cafe in Jerome.

Anti-Fire Week Fixed By Mayor

TWIN FALLS — Residents of Twin Falls were asked today by Mayor Frank Feldtman to observe Fire Prevention week this week and to take advantage of the local fire department's home inspection program to make certain their homes are as safe from fire as possible.

The week of Oct. 4 through Oct. 10 has been proclaimed as Fire Prevention Week nationally and in joining the campaign with a Twin Falls proclamation, Mayor Feldtman said more than half of all persons killed in fires each year die in home fires. He said families should work out periodic fire drills to make sure adults and children can quickly evacuate a home should fire occur.

Further, he urged families use Fire Prevention Week as a time to make such plans and to properly encourage children to be careful of fires and combustible materials. He noted clothing fires cause many deaths and serious burns and disfiguring injuries each year.

Idaho BPW Head Leads Meeting

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Lois Brock, Orofino, president of the Idaho Business and Professional Women, addressed the South Central Idaho District BPW meeting Sunday at the Turf Club.

She reported on the national convention in July in Hawaii. A total 101 delegates from clubs in Buhl, Burley, Gooding, Jerome, Rupert, Sun Valley and Twin Falls attended the district meeting with Vera Raueh, district president in charge.

Theme of the meeting was "All women are gems" and decorations consisted of unusual gems and other gems.

Mrs. Margaret Loomis, president of the Buhl club, extended an invitation to members to attend the spring district meeting there.

Special tribute was paid past district directors who have served on the South Central Idaho board. Jane Adamson gave the devotionals and De Etta Campbell, local president, welcomed delegates.

Special guests included members of the Smoothrace Club, a CSI group sponsored by the BPW organization in Twin Falls.

Prospects After Nasser

WASHINGTON (NEA) — These things should be considered as Gamal Abdel Nasser is gone and new men take over in Egypt: Whatever else he was, Nasser was a man who closely sensed the mood of his people...

group such as the "young officers," Egypt in the period ahead will follow the path that Nasser has set up in recent weeks. For the pressures on Nasser, as he personally saw them, were pressures for peace.

senior military, political, business, agricultural and academic circles. It is shared by many young intellectuals. The farmers want more money in their pockets, not war.

Sadat shares Nasser's views on peace with Israel. Sadat has, at least temporarily, assumed the role of president of Egypt. At the same time, it is quite possible that Egypt's leadership of the Arab bloc will slide.

Syrians basically looked only to their own defenses. So it would seem logical that whatever leadership appears in the Arab countries, if it is to be realistic, must come from Egypt.

Peace Hopes

Three years ago, Gamal Abdel Nasser, by fanatical threats and dangerous actions, provoked Israel into launching the Six-Day War which humiliated Egypt and nearly cost Nasser his presidency.

Today his sudden death is called a serious blow to hopes for peace in the Mideast.

Nasser, it is now appreciated, was the most important, if not the only, force for moderation in the Arab world, the only leader commanding enough influence to make peace with the hated Israelis and have it accepted by the Arab masses.

Bloodied and beaten at every turn by the Israelis since 1948, Nasser seemed since the costly Six-Day War to be coming to a belated realization that some kind of permanent accommodation with Israel would have to be reached, despite his continued building up of Egypt's military strength with Soviet-supplied equipment.

The old word "charisma" has to be trotted out to describe Nasser, for there had to be something charismatic about a man who won and kept the near-adoration of the people even while his every scheme for the conquest of Israel and pan-Arab unity ended in failure.

The United Arab Republic, a union of Egypt and Syria launched by Nasser in 1948, fell apart when Syria seceded in 1961. Nasser's military expedition against the royalist regime in Yemen was a fiasco.

His only success was the nationalization of the Suez Canal in 1956, but even that would have brought another humiliating defeat to Egypt had not the United States intervened to force Britain, France and Israel to halt their invasion.

In Egypt, itself, however, Nasser has left a legacy that will be somewhat more lasting. After leading the army overthrow of the dissolute King Farouk in 1952, he began instituting sweeping domestic reforms, in particular a redistribution of land to the peasants.

In the form of the Aswan High Dam, Nasser has, in fact, left a monument to himself that will be as enduring as the works of the ancient pharaohs.

But Nasser never solved or even really attacked Egypt's basic problem of too many people multiplying too fast. How much more could he have accomplished if he had not devoted so much of Egypt's scant resources and so much of its people's energy to military adventures?

As Shelley wrote of the mythical Ozymandias, king of kings, whose shattered statue lay forgotten in the desert:

"Nothing beside remains. Round the decay Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare

The lone and level sands stretch far away."

Call The Bluff

Diplomatic sparring by the communists in the East is not limited to the Vietnamese peace talks in Paris. The North Koreans also have a penchant for confusing statements in response to attempts by the South Korean government of President Chung Hee Park to begin a movement toward reunification of that divided country.

Less than a month after Park proposed a plan for reunification — rejected by the North as a "falsehood and swindle" — the North Koreans have made their own proposal. The substance is a confederation of the North and South which would "be established as a transitional step while retaining the existing differing social systems of the North and South as they are."

The North Koreans may have any number of ulterior motives for presenting their proposal, including a lessening of tensions to facilitate the movement of U. S. troops from South Korea. But in the poker game of Asian diplomacy, the time may be at hand for Seoul to call the bluff.

It could do this by accepting the North's proposal, as far as it goes, to see what happens next. If there are any "falsehoods and swindles" involved in this one, the bonus is on the North.

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH

Harrying Marines

WASHINGTON — Chairman George Mahon, D-Tex., and his House Appropriations Committee, are opposing component production, in the United States, of the British-designed fighter plane, Harrier, and have directed the Marine Corps to buy the planes in Britain.

That puts Mahon and his colleagues at odds with Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., and his House Armed Services Committee. The Armed Services Committee directed the "continental limits" procurement when it first authorized purchase of a few Harriers last year.

The Marines are in an awkward position. They want more Harriers, a V-stol aircraft which takes off almost vertically by rotating its powerful jet engines. The plane is well equipped for providing close air support to Marine ground units.

Despite its valorous battlefield history, however, the Marine Corps does not want to be in the middle between congressional powers Mahon and Rivers and their two committees — each of them important to the operations of the Corps.

The Mahon committee is in the picture somewhat unexpectedly at present. Because the defense money bill is still pending, the Appropriations Committee was asked to clear a $9 million sum in advance to keep British production lines at work on the Harriers.

Mahon has responded by insisting that the planes be procured in England rather than through a U.S. licensee of the British producer — Hawker Siddeley.

As we reported in early spring, the U. S. licensing arrangement adds about a quarter — 25 percent — more to the cost of Harrier production. The Pentagon says $24 million of a $96 million total, earmarked for purchase of 18 Harriers this year, could be saved by buying in Britain.

There has always been opposition, however, to the purchase of weapon systems abroad.

When it approved an initial purchase of a dozen Harriers, the House Armed Services Committee served formal notice that it would authorize no further purchases of the AV-19B Harrier — unless it is produced within the United States.

As a result of that edict, Hawkers Siddeley reached an agreement with McDonnell Douglas for production here of virtually the entire plane except States.

ANDREW TULLY

A Settlement?

WASHINGTON — It is not quite time to break out the champagne, but U. S. Ambassador David Bruce reported to President Nixon in Ireland Sunday that he was encouraged by his private talks with North Vietnam's Xuan Thuy on a possible settlement of the Vietnam War.

The report by Bruce and his chief deputy, Philip Habib, was clothed in cautious language, designed to suggest to the President that it would be worthwhile to continue the secret conversations with Thuy. The result could be an authorization from Nixon to offer counterproposals flavored with a pinch of compromise to the Communist side.

Diplomatic sources here say Thuy has taken an unwonted moderate tone in his discussions with Bruce. He has not backed down on the Reds' long-standing position that the present Saigon government of President Thieu and Vice President Ky be ousted, but rather has refused to listen to Bruce's defense of the U. S. stand against "imposing" any government on the people of Vietnam.

Among the more optimistic diplomats at the State Department the suggestion has been voiced that Thuy could be persuaded to compromise on this issue. For example, it has been pointed out that Bruce — while rejecting Thuy's demand that the Thier-Ky regime be deposed — has made it clear that the United States will not permit political groups on either side to sabotage a bonafide peace formula.

On the issue of free, all-Vietnamese elections, this somewhat vague American position could result in Thuy accepting a formula whereby Hanoi would be permitted to hand-pick members of a provisional government to share powers with Thieu and Ky.

for the power plant. Industry sources say the British firm shopped around for a licensee and that the agreement with McDonnell Douglas was a coincidence.

Second, in the process of digestion, all our foods, are broken down into forms that we can absorb — so if anything curdles, who cares?

Another answer: hasn't he ever eaten ice cream, which in any number of cases is a mixture of milk and fruit or fruit juices?

Sill! another: what about sourmilk biscuits or other dishes made with milk that has gone more than just curdle.

Yet one more: how does he explain the fact that so many millions of people come to no harm from mixing fruit and milk?

Obviously he hasn't thought things through. Whether you can convince him, however, is something I won't try to answer.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Stomach X rays show that I have two diverticula in the colon. Please explain what they are, and the treatment, and whether they can be cured without surgery?

D.G. A diverticulum is a bulge or pouch, and a great many people develop them. You make no mention of whether they bother you; therefore I can't even say

If he does alter his position, he should certainly would do so before the Nov. 3 Congressional elections. This would simply be good politics, given the present uncertain mood of the electorate. Nixon also might announce an increase in troop withdrawals to emphasize his willingness to compromise.

Meanwhile, there is the possibility that Hanoi this time is really interested in getting the talks off the ground; Thuy and Co., under pressure from the Soviet Union — acting, of course, to challenge Red Chinese influence — may have decided that a peace settlement is inevitable. If so, Hanoi would want credit for what Thuy has called its "important new peace initiative."

MR. SPECTATOR.

Gal Athletes?

So what's wrong with gals being on athletic teams at the Twin Falls High School?

What with the women wanting equal rights right down the line, Mr. Spectator can see no trouble with it. Might be a locker-room problem but that can be settled when it arrives. In fact partition might do the trick.

But now back to the matter of the gals being permitted to play on the varsity teams.

We can see gals being on the local basketball team, the golf team or the track team. They might even make the baseball team.

Football and wrestling might not be so good for the gals, so we will not advocate participation in those sports. Although in football what would be wrong for a gal to hold the ball for conversions after touchdowns or the try at field goals?

Mr. Spectator can remember when schools hereabouts had a number of real good basketball teams and district and state tournaments and the teams were composed of gals!

So why not, gals? Stand up for your rights. March right into Mr. Lawrence's office and tell him you want to participate. If you are good enough you ought to be able to play on the team. If you think you are good enough you should be permitted to try out.

So let's make the attempt — then let Mr. Spectator know how you came out!

JERRY RIDE ON RAILS

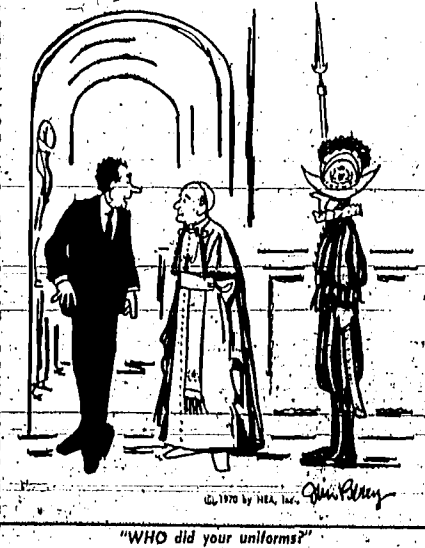

The on-again, off-again nationwide railroad strike certainly is preferable to the definitely on auto strike, but it is still a heck of a way to run a railroad — or any other major industry.

Something is lacking at this stage of industrial evolution when the only means of settling a management-labor dispute in a vital industry is a strike of indeterminate duration. Not only the industry and its employees suffer from such disputes, but the public as well.

Railroads provide the distribution link between thousands of manufacturers and their customers. The cost of such a strike outside the industry in terms of lost business, lost man hours and wages, shortages and — frequently — higher costs, may be more severe than within the industry.

Alternate means of transportation are available, but these are not always as satisfactory for large shippers as the rails. The decline of passenger patronage on the rails should be a warning of what can happen when an industry's customer finds an alternate solution to his needs more accommodating.

House Panel Slices Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Appropriations Committee sliced $2 billion from the proposed Pentagon budget today and served notice Congress wants "more defense for the dollar, not necessarily more dollars for defense."

The committee reported a $66.7 billion defense appropriations bill to the House for the business year ending next June 30. The Nixon administration had asked for $68.7 billion in new spending authority.

"Unlimited resources do not overcome inefficiency and mismanagement," the committee said. "Instead, excessive funding produces more inefficiency and mismanagement. What this country needs is more defense for the dollar, not necessarily more dollars for defense."

The cutback would have been greater had not the committee added $417.5 million in funding for new ships the administration had not requested.

But even with the addition, the total was $6 billion less than Congress appropriated for military functions last year. Heavy pressure from a growing coalition of defense critics, coupled with diminished Vietnam War spending, have led to the continuing series of funding cutbacks.

Finch Says Shun 1-Issue Politics

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Robert H. Finch, special adviser to President Nixon, told University of Utah students Monday that "change is an incremental process," and is not brought about by "single-issue politics."

Finch addressed nearly 1,000 students at noon as the politician in residence of the Hinckley Institute of Politics, a group which encourages political activity.

The main thrust of his remarks was on the problem of understanding between the generations. He emphasized that each generation faced different problems in its own time, and both "bore scars of their own battles."

"The older generation must have a better understanding of the young," he said. "Adversity wears many faces other than economic. The draft, pressure for educational credentials and the demand for conformity are problems which offend young people."

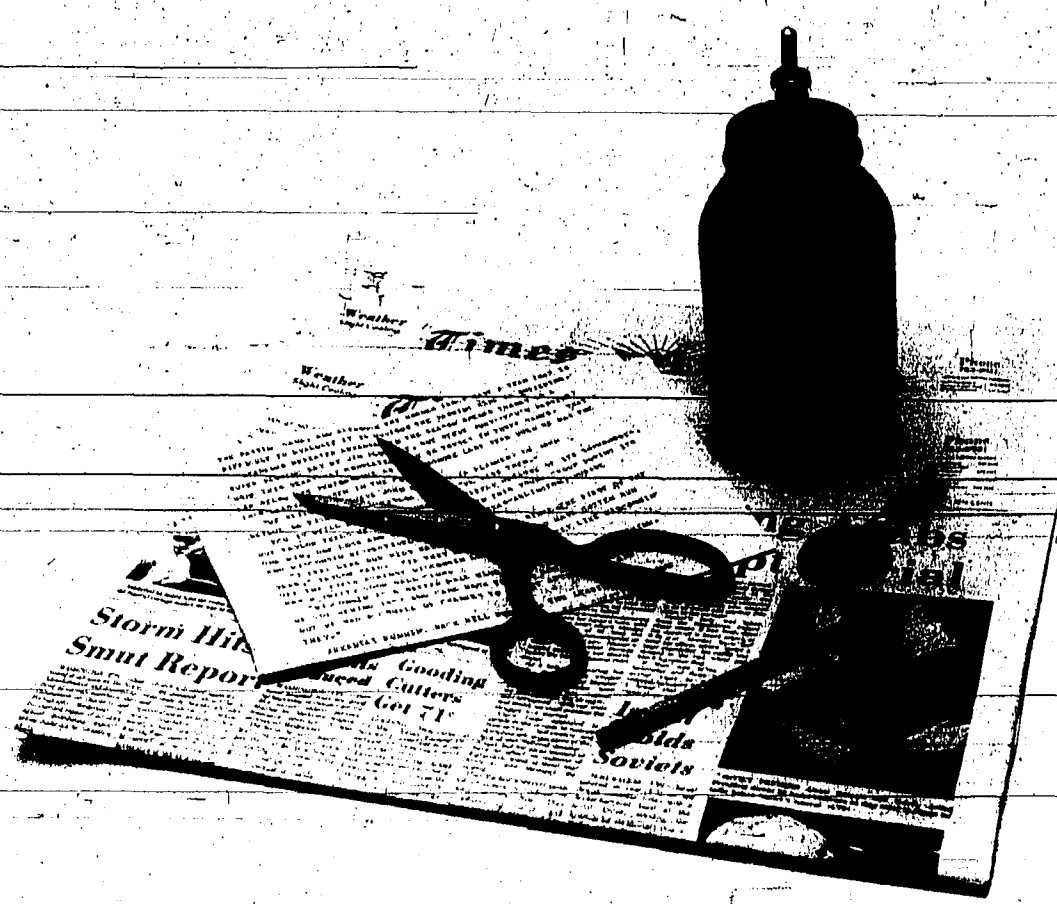

"But the young must resist moral arrogance," he added. "Single issue politics and so-called 'instant issues' solve nothing."

The former Health, Education and Welfare secretary had strong criticism for those who blame disorder on the universities.

"The university has the burden of serving many masters," he said, "but must maintain its own integrity. The backlash against higher learning centers is senseless and contradictory."

Finch expressed optimism that students and administrators have a sincere desire to work together and avoid confrontations like that at Kent State University, which led to the death of four students last May.

He also emphasized that a federal code of student conduct would be undesirable, and said bills designed to withhold funds from schools where disorders occur would create unjustifiable pressure.

Gem Politicians Run On Poverty Plan

BOISE (UPI) — In comparison with past years, Idaho politicians seem to be running for public office this year on the poverty plan.

From top to bottom, both major parties seem to have money problems on the campaign trail. And members of the American Party — which is fielding two statewide candidates and a congressional hopeful — don't appear to be overburdened with the ready either. In most cases it is every man for himself with some of the principal contenders getting the bulk of the money — what there is of it — and some of the lesser candidates reduced to using home-made signs on cars.

To run for a major office statewide — such as governor or United States senator — a candidate generally should have an estimated $125,000 to $150,000 to spend in Idaho.

Some insiders doubt if Republican Gov. Don Samuelson and his opponent, Democrat Cecil Andrus, will spend the top figure between them.

Usually reliable sources say Samuelson's campaign netted approximately $55,000 from the "salute to our governor" dinner that featured Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, as speaker last May.

They say money collected in the primary was spent in the primary and that — barring a couple of small contributions — the Agnew dinner money may have to suffice for the general election.

Andrus' followers are close-mouthed about his finances at this point but most observers doubt if he has as much to spend even as Samuelson does. They are basing their guesses on advertising seen to date with the general election just four weeks away.

Small, fund-raising dinners have been held recently for congressional candidates. But over they are not expected to spend any big bundles of cash on the campaign this year.

Gubernatorial and congressional candidates plan some television advertising but most of the other hopefuls at the state level say this is beyond their means.

Democrats running for the lesser state offices are trying to cut expenses with a "team" approach to the campaign. They go on the road in teams of three each for a week and then trade territories. This enables them to cover a lot of ground for less money and present a coordinated picture to the voter.

Republicans — while they occasionally appear on the same platforms as party rallies and carry around each other's literature — generally set up their own individual schedules. Two — Attorney General Robert M. Robson and Secretary of State Pete T. Camarusa — fly their own planes.

Doctor Lack May Become Worse

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The doctor shortage, already acute, will get far worse unless something is done soon to relieve the financial plight of medical schools.

That warning comes from high officials of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the American Association of Medical Schools.

In separate interviews with UPI, they said many medical schools are in such a serious financial bind they may have to close down — at the very time that strenuous efforts are being made to increase the number of physicians in training.

The Medical Association agreed that medical schools are having money troubles but suggested that it's partly their own fault for overemphasizing research at the expense of teaching.

Dr. Robert H. Felix, dean of St. Louis University Medical School, said about 60 of the country's 107 medical schools are in "real trouble" and at least 25, including his own, are in "immediate jeopardy."

"We've been covering current deficits by eating up our endowments," Felix said. "If we don't get help within two or three years, we'll have to close down."

"We face a crisis," said Dr. Robert Q. Minson, director of the NIH. "No one who has watched these problems get worse in recent years could fail to be alarmed."

Dr. John Cooper, president of the Association of American Medical Colleges, said physician-training institutions are caught between sharply rising costs on one hand and declining income on the other.

Paradoxically, one reason costs are going up is that medical schools have been trying to expand their enrollments to overcome the national shortage of physicians, now estimated at 50,000.

Ten years ago U.S. medical schools graduated a total of 7,336 doctors. This year, they graduated 10,350, and next year, they will graduate about 11,250. The increase has been made possible in part by expansion of existing medical schools and in part by starting new schools. Fifteen new medical schools have been opened since 1963.

Since the tuition paid by medical students usually covers only 20 to 25 per cent of the actual cost of their training, each additional student puts a further strain on a school's resources.

Also, because of general inflationary pressures, faculty salaries, building maintenance and other overhead costs have been rising in recent years at a rate of 6 per cent a year or more. The Marquette University Medical School said its costs have risen 50 per cent since 1965.

Meanwhile, on the income side of the ledger, medical schools have been hit by a decline in private support, and a cut back in federal research grants.

Egypt Accused In Pilot Death

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Israel accused Egypt today of murdering an Israeli pilot captured west of the Suez Canal four days before the Aug. 7 Middle East cease-fire, then trying to cover it up.

The government released the text of a complaint filed Sept. 28 with the International Red Cross protesting the "shameful and inhumane" treatment accorded Lt. Moshe Goldwasser as a prisoner in Egypt.

Goldwasser and another Israeli pilot bailed out of their two-seat plane over Egyptian territory Aug. 3, the Israelis said, and were reported by Cairo to have been captured in good condition with only slight injuries. Their pictures were carried in the Egyptian press.

The Red Cross relayed word from Cairo Aug. 5 that Goldwasser had died the day before due to what the Egyptians described as heart failure, the result of a nervous breakdown.

"If death did occur as a result of cardiac arrest preceded by nervous breakdown, there is no doubt that the nervous breakdown which caused the death was brought about by cruel and inhuman acts of the UAR (United Arab Republic) authorities," the Israeli complaint said.

"The Egyptians inflicted bodily injuries as a result of which his death was brought about," the advocate general of the Israeli army, Col. Zvi Hadar, told a news conference.

Goldwasser's body, he said, was not returned to Israel until four weeks after his death and was badly decomposed, not having been kept refrigerated. All internal organs had been removed, the body mutilated and strips of skin had been removed from around the wrists.

"The Egyptians inflicted injuries on the body and afterward tried to erase the signs," Hadar said.

Republican hopefuls in next month's congressional and gubernatorial elections have made it clear that they need some strong presidential statement to bolster their arguments, that the Nixon administration is on the right track in the realm of international affairs.

Nixon's critics, on the other hand, can be expected to question the consistency of a policy calling for withdrawing American power in Southeast Asia while contending that the 6th Fleet is vital to convince the warring factions in the Middle East that the United States is sincere in wanting an end to conflict there.

Political implications aside, the President had been wrestling for some time with the question of how to put into specific form the "flexibility" which he said on July 1 that his new negotiator, Bruce, would demonstrate in Paris when he got his bearings.

Indications are that Bruce has been instructed to present a revised version of previous American peace proposals, which can be advertised as a new peace plan, possibly containing a suggestion for a cease-fire.

Peace Efforts Given Top Spot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In reporting to the nation on his European trip, President Nixon is expected to emphasize renewed administration efforts to negotiate peace in Vietnam and help stabilize the turbulent Middle East.

Toward the end of his nine-day tour, Nixon met in Ireland with his chief delegate to the Paris peace talks, Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, and officials disclosed that the negotiator had been given new instructions designed to try to break the deadlock with Hanoi and the Viet Cong in Paris.

Recalling his visit to the Mediterranean earlier in the trip, the President told newsmen the United States would do everything in its power to keep its powerful 6th Fleet there as a deterrent to "irresponsible elements."

At the time he visited the fleet, Nixon said the presence of American force, even though it had not been used, had a

Wheat Market Vote Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said Saturday the Department of Agriculture will conduct a mail referendum Oct. 12-15 on 1971 crop wheat marketing quotas.

Hansen said current law requires the referendum be held in the absence of new legislation for the 1971 wheat crop. He said it was possible a second congressional resolution similar to one introduced July 23 could result in a further postponement of the referendum.

Women's Section

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, Jane, has fallen in love with the son of friends of ours. Steve is a fine young man and we are very fond of him.

Jane has another year of school and we want her to graduate first. In fact, her father insists upon it. Jane says if we give her our blessings to marry now, she promises to finish school after she's married.

So far I am on my husband's side. Steve's parents are with the kids and so are many of our friends. They say we are being unreasonable. What do you think?

JANE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You don't say how old "the kids" are. If the "school" Steve has finished is college, and Jane has one more year before she, too, is a college graduate, I think you're being unreasonable.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle something? If a person wants to visit you, and she knows that her dog doesn't get along with your dog, shouldn't she leave her dog home?

DEAR ABBY: I told my friend that next time she wants to visit me, she should leave Gertrude home. My friend says that since she is the guest and I am the hostess, I should defer to her wishes.

DEAR ABBY: I grow up with the notion that a man who carried a change purse looked like a penny-pinching miser. But after 15 years of mending torn pockets in my husband's otherwise good trousers, I decided that maybe a coin purse wouldn't be such a bad idea, so I bought one, and he carries it.

DEAR ABBY: I admit I am still slightly hung up on my original notion, and I'm always a little uncomfortable when he uses his change purse in public. Then I say to myself, "What do I care what a stranger I'll never see again thinks about our habits as long as they're not illegal or inconsiderate?"

DEAR ABBY: I'm perfectly honest, one of my husband's biggest faults is that he's too extravagant.

TWIN FALLS — Mary Kathleen Puccio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Puccio, Minneapolis, Minn., and Neal Brian Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Custer, Twin Falls, were united in marriage in a high-noon ceremony Sept. 10.

The double-ring rites were performed at St. Francis Cabrini, Minneapolis, by Father Anthony Wilhelm, Berkeley, Calif.

The bride wore a white crepe jumpsuit, fashioned with an empire waistline and full sheer overskirt. It featured a high ruffled-edged mandarin collar and long full, sheer sleeves ending in deep ruffe-edged-crepe cuffs fastened with tiny pearl buttons.

The gown was designed by the bride and fashioned by the bridegroom's mother.

The bride's bouquet was an old fashioned nosegay of white baby chrysanthemums, white roses and stephanotis.

Jeri Ann Ketter, Minneapolis, was maid of honor and Elizabeth Puccio, Chicago, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Gerald Armstrong, Walla Walla, Wash., served as best man. Ushers were Robert Puccio, Louisville, Ky., brother of the bride; Dwight Erickson, Osseo, Minn., and Robert Smith, St. Charles, Mo.

A reception dinner, hosted by the bride's parents, was held at the Edgewater Inn after the ceremony. The bridegroom's parents honored the bridal party with a rehearsal pizza dinner at Nino's in Minneapolis and later held an open house for the couple at their home in Twin Falls.

The bride is a graduate of St. Anthony of Paul, Minneapolis, attended the University of Minnesota and is now enrolled at Merritt College, Oakland, Calif.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Twin Falls High School, attended colleges in San Jose and San Diego and is now enrolled as a senior at the University of California at Berkeley. He served three years in the Marine Corps and is a veteran of Vietnam.

After a honeymoon trip to California via Yellowstone National Park and Twin Falls, the couple will reside in Oakland.

Area Couple Will Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

BURLEY — Mr. and Mrs. Louie Bodensteiner will observe their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 11, with an open house at the social hall of the Zion Lutheran Church, 24th and Miller Avenue in Burley, from 3 to 6:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodensteiner were married in Vienna, Austria, on Oct. 14, 1920. Mr. Bodensteiner came to the Burley area in December, 1922. Because of immigration laws at that time, Mrs. Bodensteiner was not permitted entrance into the United States until 1927. She was accompanied by their eldest daughter, Gertrude, who died in 1942. Another daughter, Hilda, died in 1964.

The couple farmed in the Emerson district for several years and in 1942 they moved to their present address in Burley where they have lived ever since. For over 20 years Mr. Bodensteiner was employed at the Burley Processing Co. At present he is in semi-retirement. They are active members of Zion Lutheran Church.

The open house is being hosted by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Margaret) Shell, Burley; Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Mary) Schwarz, Eden, and George Bodensteiner, Rupert. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to the reception. The couple requests no gifts.

Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Above-the-knee skirts are still the overwhelming favorite among women participating in the New York Daily News' skirt-length poll while below-the-knee lengths have lost appeal during the past eight months.

Of the 22,494 women who participated in the latest poll, released Sunday, 83 per cent favored the above-the-knee length. Only 6 per cent favored the lower style, a 2 per cent drop since a poll in February. Seven per cent of the women said they were wearing pants, 3 per cent said they wore skirts of all lengths and one per cent said they wore them just at the knee.

Sweat Shirts

Sport Message

By United Press International The plain sweat shirt's going the way of all those things you used to be able to buy for five cents. What's in? The sweat shirt with a message or a decoration. The "peanut" shirts might have started the trend. However it started, it's here. Sweat shirts with peace symbols, with caricatures of personalities political and entertaining, with huge numerals abound. Maybe the sweat shirt's taking the place of the protest sign?

Humdrum Breakfasts Should Be Banned

Humdrum breakfasts are out, exciting breakfasts are in! The dull meal is the "skipped" meal. And a breakfast missed can mean mid-morning hunger pains, energy lags, loss of work efficiency, and possible overeating at the next meal. Important for all the figure conscious.

Here's an idea sure to please even those who don't usually eat breakfast. Mushroomed Eggs Supreme. They're quick and easy to prepare with double-rich condensed cream of mushroom soup. These light, fluffy eggs, made creamy smooth with condensed soup, are laced with robust sausage and a hint of green pepper.

Spoon them over hot, crispy English muffins for a taste-tempting dish long on flavor and energy! There's no special mixing or extra equipment needed to prepare this delicious breakfast. # Reds, Orioles Roll to World Series Showdown CINCINNATI (UPI)—Bobby Tolan slashed a two-strike, two-out single in the eighth inning to score Ty Cline with the winning run Monday and give the Cincinnati Reds the National League pennant on a 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Tolan, a lefthanded hitter who usually hits well against lefthanded pitchers, crossed up Pittsburgh manager Danny Murtaugh's strategy with the decisive hit against lefty reliever Joe Gibbon.

The victory gave the Reds a three-game sweep of the playoff and sent them into the World Series against the Baltimore Orioles, beginning here Saturday. Baltimore eliminated Minnesota Monday, also in three straight games.

Prep Games Shifted, T.F. Hosts Nampa on Saturday

Football fans will have three nights for watching high school action this week as the annual teachers institute and a contractor's need have moved five games to Wednesday night, four remain on Friday and another to Saturday.

Coach Bill Bowman says his charges are capable of winning anytime now and Wood River fans would love to win this one since they recall it was Buhl which ended the Wolverines' long winning streak two years ago.

scoring, Shoshone has been riding its defense most of the time so Filer will have to pick up its offensive power for this one.

The institute also has curtailed all action in the eight-man conference and Minico takes its first night off since August.

Wendell, running undefeated and in contention for both the Big Six and Big Five titles, takes its strong defense to Valley for a Big Five game.

Nampa, which has lost its two best running backs and is back in the pack along with Twin Falls, will present what should be one of the few hastily running teams the Bruins face this year.

The Wednesday games include Gooding at Jerome, Kimberly at Glenns Ferry, Hagerman at Castledorf, Murtaugh at Raft River and Oakley and Declo at Burley.

Shoshone, now 3-1-1, will be at Filer where the Wildcats have been having a lot of trouble scoring. Shoshone has been riding its defense most of the time so Filer will have to pick up its offensive power for this one.

Glenns Ferry, its Big Six hopes dimmed a little by a loss to Gooding, is still running undefeated in the Little Five and must defeat Kimberly to stay there.

For the first time in his Oregon football career, Bobby Moore went through a full game without catching a pass.

Moore's performance against Washington State has earned him offensive player of the week honors in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Burley also has hopes for the Cross State Conference crown and will have to beat Mountain Home to keep them. The Bobcats will be facing an inconsistent team as Mountain Home has won some games handily and been bombed out in others.

Moore, always a breakaway running threat, was used exclusively in the backfield last Saturday for the first time in his collegiate career.

Moore's performance against Washington State has earned him offensive player of the week honors in the Pacific-8 Conference.

NBA Season Starts Soon

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Basketball Association will open its 25th season Oct. 13th and as part of a Silver Anniversary celebration, a panel of 10 basketball greats will choose an all-time All-Star team, it was announced Monday by commissioner Walter Kennedy.

STANDINGS

BAITIMORE (UPI)—Jim Palmer, surviving a line shot off his instep and three different jams, pitched a seven-hitter and doubled in a run Monday to hand Baltimore a 6-1 victory over the jittery Minnesota Twins that gave the Orioles their second straight American League pennant.

Baltimore, taking advantage of two critical Minnesota errors and manager Bill Ripken's gamble on Jim Knafl that backfired, completed a second straight three-game sweep of the American League playoffs over the Twins and advanced to the World Series for the third time in the last five years.

The Orioles are the first American League team besides the Yankees in 35 years to make the World Series for two straight years. The Detroit Tigers were the last non-Yankee team to do it in 1934-35.

Table with columns for player names (Tovar, Bar, Rivera) and statistics (R, H, R, etc.)

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., the beaten finalist in the Pacific Coast International championship Sunday, has regained the lead in the $200,000 Pepsi Grand Prix of Tennis.

Second place was worth six points to Richey, boosting his total to 45 for the year. The young Texan had led the standings for five consecutive weeks before Australia's Ken Rosewall overtook him by winning the U.S. Open at Forest Hills.

Rosewall, who has not competed since winning the U.S. Open last month, dropped to second with his 42 points.

Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., winner of the Pacific Coast International, earned eight points for beating Richey and he jumped from fifth place to a tie for third with Rod Laver of Australia, each with 40 points.

Bill Mathis Activated. NEW YORK (UPI)—Fullback Billy Mathis, who retired last summer after 10 years as a professional player, was invited Monday by coach Walt Erkank to return to the New York Jets and fill the gap caused by the loss of Matt Snell.

Mathis was told to take a physical examination and then report to practice Tuesday, if he rejoins the club, Mathis isn't expected to play in Saturday night's game against Miami but should be ready for the home game against Baltimore, Col. 15.

Mountaineers Top Ballot. NEW YORK (UPI)—West Virginia continued to earn respect as the powerhouse of the East Monday as the Mountaineers led the balloting for the Lambert Trophy for the second year in a row.

West Virginia had to struggle against Indiana Saturday to gain its fourth straight victory this season, 16-10, but the eight members of the Lambert selection committee all awarded their first place ballots to the Mountaineers, giving them 80 points.

Detroit Defeats Chicago

DETROIT (UPI)—Mel Farr ignited a three-touchdown first period comeback with the first of his "usual" scores—a 3-yard run following a roughing-the-place kicker call—as the Detroit Lions fired into first place in the Central Division of the National Football Conference with a 28-14 victory over the Chicago Bears Monday night.

The Bears surprised the Lions with the first touchdown of the Detroit defense has given up in five games, a 20-yard scoring reception by Dick Gordon as Chicago seized a 7-0 halftime lead.

But the Lions' quarterback Bill Munson, smarting from a first-half boobying his offense had received from some of the 58,210 fans who saw the nationally televised game in person, clicked on four straight passes to open the second half.

Errol Mann converted a 17-yard field goal when the Detroit offense bogged down, but was clubbed by the Bears' Ron Smith to give Detroit a first-down and goal to go on the five-yard line. Following an offside by Chicago, Farr scooted around right end for three yards to tie the game.

Alta-Taylor notched his first professional touchdown on a seven-yard run just 3:26 later, and only 6:03 after that wide receiver Larry Walton crossed the goal line as a professional with a 13-yard pass from Munson.

Gordon beat Lem Barney for the second time on a 61-yard scoring pass from Bears' quarterback Jack Cannan on 10 seconds into the fourth quarter, but Farr retaliated with a 29-yard scoring run after Dick LeBeau had intercepted the first of his two passes.

Devine Awed by Huskers. KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Missouri coach Dan Devine has a colorful description of what it will be like to take his team to Lincoln, Neb., this weekend to face the unbeaten Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Devine likened his situation to sitting across the poker table looking at three aces showing in another hand. "There's a lot of showing," he says, "and you don't ever know what's in the hole."

Nebraska likely has plenty "in the hole" if its 3-0-1 non-conference record is any indication. The Cornhuskers' tie was in Los Angeles to mighty Southern California.

"Nebraska has a heckuva football team," says Devine. "After looking at the Nebraska-USC film, it's amazing to me that Southern Cal got a tie out of it."

Devine is looking, and hoping, for a low-scoring game Saturday.

"I hope our defense can keep us in the game so our offense can win it," he says. "Our offense will have to win it. I would hope it's a low-scoring game. I don't think we can outscore them in any kind of four or five-touchdown game."

Nebraska's seniors have never beaten Missouri and Saturday will be their last chance.

"I certainly hope our seniors go into the game with the attitude that they don't want to finish their careers here without beating Missouri," Nebraska's Bob Devaney says. "We're pointing for this game; I'll tell you that."

Speed Trials To Continue. BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (UPI)—World land speed record attempts by the Blue Flame rocket car are expected to begin about the middle of this week.

Dean Dietrich, project manager for the vehicle and spokesman for the Blue Flame industry, said the Blue Flame could resume runs Wednesday "at the earliest." However, he said, it was "more likely" the rocket car would be running on the salt Thursday.

The Blue Flame postponed attempts at the 600.801 miles per hour record in September after 15' days on the flats.

Irish Pressuring Texas in Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ohio State has solidified its position as the nation's No. 1 collegiate football team.

The Buckeyes' coach Woody Hayes, who a week ago were being pressured strongly by Texas for the No. 1 berth in the weekly United Press International Board of Coaches ratings, have gained additional support this week and have opened up a substantial lead over the second-ranked Longhorns.

Ohio State, which routed Duke, 34-10, last Saturday for its second straight victory, received 18 first place votes from the 35-member coaches' board this week to only nine for Texas and as a result the Buckeyes are 35 points ahead in the ratings.

Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

Texas, which received 17 first place votes last week, was narrowly upset by UCLA on Saturday. The Longhorns needed a touchdown in the final 12 seconds to salvage a 20-17 triumph.

The Longhorns hung on to the No. 2 spot. In the ratings, but they are now under heavy pressure for that position from Notre Dame. The Irish blanked Michigan State, 29-0, to run their record to 3-0 and four coaches sought fit to name them the top team in the country. Notre Dame, with 277 points, trails Texas by just 14 points in the ratings.

Southern California also bettered its point standing, even though the Trojans remain fixed in the No. 4 spot. The Trojans got three first place votes after routing Oregon State, 45-17, and have 245 points, 30 more than they had a week ago.

There were two major upsets last Saturday among the top 10 teams and that has caused a reshuffling of this week's list. Stanford, No. 5 a week ago, was upset by Purdue, 20-14, and has been dropped in the ratings to No. 12, and Colorado, No. 7 last week, lost to Kansas State, 21-20, and has fallen to No. 18.

Stinson, who will be 25 on Oct. 11, is a switch hitter. The 28-year-old Allen missed all but one game in the last seven weeks of the season due to a leg injury, but wound up with 34 homers and 101 runs batted in. He batted .279 for the Cardinals in 122 games.

Allen came to the Cardinals from the Philadelphia Phillies a year ago along with infielder Cookie Rojas and pitcher Jerry Johnson in exchange for outfielders Curt Flood and Byron Browne, pitcher Joe Hoerner and Catcher Tim McCarver.

Allen was a controversial figure with the Phillies, but had little trouble fitting in with the Cardinals. He became an instant celebrity with the St. Louis fans and was partially responsible for a good attendance figure despite the poor Cardinal showing this year.

None of the top 10 played in last weekend's Azalea Open. Billy Casper continues to lead the money winners with $144,468 and Bruce Crampton leads in points with 1,275.6.

Clark, 76ers Top Celtics. LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI)—Archie Clark scored 14 points in the third quarter Monday night to spark the Philadelphia 76ers to a 130-119 victory over the Boston Celtics in a National Basketball Association exhibition game.

Clark's flurry helped the 76ers overcome a two-point half time deficit. Boston led the lead at 63-62 early in the second half and never regained command.

Cards Swap Allen To Los Angeles

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Richey Allen, the subject of trading rumors for several weeks, was added to the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday, Bing Devine, St. Louis Cardinal General Manager announced.

The player deal will bring infielder Ted Sizemore and two-acquired-in-a-trade from Montreal. He hit .271 and drove in 41 runs in 1969 and was selected by the Baseball Writers of America as the National League's rookie of the year.

Stinson, who can play the outfield and catch, batted .298 and drove in 53 runs for Spokane in the Pacific Coast League this year. He was an outstanding catcher for Miami Dade Junior College and will be counted on to provide depth behind the plate—allowing Joe Torre to remain at third base as well as the outfield.

Stinson, who will be 25 on Oct. 11, is a switch hitter. The 28-year-old Allen missed all but one game in the last seven weeks of the season due to a leg injury, but wound up with 34 homers and 101 runs batted in. He batted .279 for the Cardinals in 122 games.

Prosecution Possible in Chicano Death
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A coroner's inquest ruling that the death of newsmen Ruben Salazar during rioting Aug. 29 was not accidental opens the way for possible criminal prosecution of those responsible.

District Attorney Evelio J. Wagner said the killing constitutes any crime it would be involuntary manslaughter, but added, "I still have to determine if there will be criminal prosecution."

Salazar, 42, news director of television station KMEZ and a columnist for the Los Angeles Times, was killed by a high velocity tear gas projectile fired by a deputy sheriff into the Silver Dollar Cafe at the peak of the disturbance in the East Los Angeles Barrio.

Final NY Jail Holdouts Quit

NEW YORK (UPI)—Forty-one prisoners, the last holdouts among rebellious inmates who rioted in five city jails starting last Thursday, were removed by fire ladders from the Long Island City House of Detention in Queens early today.

Observers, including Dr. Howard Levy, accompanied them to another prison at Riker's Island to insure that they were not mishandled. Levy was an Army doctor who was court-martialed and convicted for refusing to train Special Forces troops.

The prisoners were brought down from the sixth floor of the building in groups of three on a 75-foot "cherry picker," a move to keep them in full view of newsmen and spectators to prevent beatings that guards inflicted on several prisoners who surrendered early Monday.

Police records in St. Petersburg also indicated Ashley was picked up on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon Sept. 30 and released on $500 bond. He appeared in court the following day, but the trial was postponed until Oct. 15.
