State vote guidelines supported

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Oregon led the states' fight today against the 18-year-old vote by arguing in the Supreme Court that Congress could not deprive a state of the right to set voter qualifications.

Oregon Attorney General Lee Johnson claimed that Congress used "bootstrapping reasoning" when it passed the 1970 Voting Rights Act amendments. The law gives 18-year-olds the vote effective Dec. 31, 1970, bars literacy tests, and limits residency requirements in presidential elections to 30 days effective in 1972.

Arizona attacked only the section of the law that lowers the vote from 21 to 18.

"The issue boils down to one point," Johnson argued, "whether Congress has the power to substitute its legislative preference in selecting that line (the 18-year-old vote line) over the power of the voters of Oregon."

"Implementation of the age qualification inevitably leads to line-drawing and reasonable men can certainly differ over that line," he said.

"No one can seriously argue that a minimum age of 18, 19 or 20 is irrational, irrelevant or invidious.

"We submit that a 21-year-old standard ... is a reasonable classification even if it might not be a desirable qualification."

The nine justices set aside four hours to hear lawsuits involving Oregon, Texas, Arizona and Idaho. The suits were filed directly with the high court and have not been heard elsewhere, although a special federal court in the District of Columbia previously upheld the law in a separate suit brought by five New Yorkers.

Oregon and Texas sued the United States on the grounds that Congress could not under the Constitution act to change voting qualifications imposed by the states. The state constitutions in Oregon and Texas fix the voting age at 21.

The Justice Department sued again at Arizona and Idaho to test the other two disputed sections of the statute. The Nixon Administration opposed lowering the voting age by law—a part of the statute which will become effective Jan. 1 if the court upholds it.

Vote due on design measure

TWIN FALLS — City council members are expected to vote to reject or accept a proposed ordinance tonight on requiring certification of design by a licensed architect or engineer for all new construction or additions to commercial buildings in Twin Falls.

City officials have been urged by City Manager Jean Milar to pass the ordinance as a much needed public safety measure in the city. He said it would insure a sound structure for buildings which will be open to the public.

Firemen make runs

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls city firemen sent one truck to 630 Blue Lakes Boulevard at 9:40 p.m. Sunday.

Firemen said a mattress in the basement of a home occupied by Ann Romo was burning. Fire was confined to the mattress, they said.

At 5 p.m. Saturday one truck was sent to Shoshone Street South and Rock Creek Canyon where a weed fire was out of control near the state fish hatchery.

Sheriff due home shortly?
SHOSHONE — Sheriff Thomas (Wid) Conner of Lincoln County may be back in Shoshone early this week after an absence of more than two weeks.

Mrs. Conner said her husband called her Friday from southern California and said he would be leaving there Sunday night, bound for Shoshone.

The sheriff left Oct. 3 after verbally telling several people he had resigned. The sheriff, however, turned no written resignation in to county commissioners, who have been awaiting his return before taking any action in the matter.

Professor, pusher top arrest list

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—A sociology professor and a drug pusher were the first two persons arrested today under indictments handed down by a special state grand jury which investigated the shooting deaths of four students at Kent State University.

Dr. Thomas S. Lough, 42, and instructor at Kent State, surrendered voluntarily at the Portage County Courthouse in nearby Ravenna. Lough was indicted by the special state grand jury on a charge of inciting to riot.

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine and one to three years in jail.

Richard C. Falber, 21, Akron, Ohio, a Kent State dropout, was served in his cell at the Portage County Jail where he was awaiting transfer to the Mansfield State Reformatory on a drug selling conviction.

Burglars get haul

DALLAS (UPI)—Mrs. Gardner Cowles, the wife of the publisher of Look magazine, told police Sunday someone burglarized her hotel room and took three pieces of jewelry valued at $30,000.

Canada pushes terrorist hunt

MONTREAL (UPI)—Police today discovered the house where they believed Quebec Labor Minister Pierre LaPorte was held for a week before his assassination by the French-Canadian separatists who kidnaped him.

Authorities converged on the now deserted white frame bungalow just south of Montreal early this morning after receiving a tip from an anonymous caller who warned the house was booby trapped. There was no immediate word on whether traps were found.

With the discovery the search for three suspected kidnappers focused on the area despite the chilling knowledge that finding them could cost the life of their second hostage, British diplomat James R. Cross.

But Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who observed his 51st birthday Sunday in a day of national mourning and crisis, indicated no willingness to bargain with the two small bands of terrorists who hold Cross and already have assassinated Quebec Labor Minister Pierre LaPorte.

Denouncing the FLQ as "a small band of twisted men" who offer Canada "no solutions except murder," Trudeau said

Auto upsets, kills T.F. man

JEROME — A 21-year-old Twin Falls automobile salesman, John David Brockman, 1231 Evergreen Drive, died early Sunday in a single car accident on Interstate 80 three miles north of Twin Falls.

State police who investigated said the man was dead at the accident after his sedan left the freeway near the U.S. 93 entrance ramp and rolled over several times.

The victim was driving toward Jerome on the interstate and was reportedly on route to national guard sessions in Jerome. State Patrolman Frank Mogensen said it appeared Brockman had fallen asleep while driving at a high rate of speed as there were no skid marks and the tracks led gradually from the highway into the median.

The vehicle veered off the left hand side of the highway, Mogensen said, travelled 400 feet, was then airborne for 42 feet, hit the ground and traveled another 60 feet in the air before striking a pile of rocks. It rolled over twice, skidded 78 feet on its top and came to rest on its top beside the highway.

The driver was thrown out and was found about 48 feet from the vehicle, Mogensen said.

Officers said the vehicle was demolished, noting the windshield was so shattered it was impossible to find a safety sticker.

Witnesses including a truck driver estimated the speed of the vehicle at more than 100 miles per hour prior to the accident.

Li Gary Kepner, national guard officer, one of the first on the accident scene administered first aid, reporting the driver was alive when he reached him, but he died at the site, officers said.

Brockman was a member of the "F" troop, 118th Armored Cavalry, Idaho National Guard. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Brockman, Twin Falls, he was a graduate of the local high school and had resided here since 1963. He was employed by Brockman Auto Sales.

DETROIT (UPI)—Although General Motors insists it has made its biggest offer in history, the slow pace of negotiations today aroused speculation that the United Auto Workers' strike against the company may stretch into the new year.

Humorist's birthplace dedicated

COLOGAH, Okla. (UPI)—The "White House on the Verdigris," the birthplace of humorist Will Rogers, was dedicated Sunday informally as a place where a boy might learn to spin a rope, and formally as a state historical site.

The two-story white ranch-house, built in 1874 by Clem Rogers, Will Rogers' father, and restored over the last 18 months will be the focal point of the Will Rogers State Park.

The Verdigris River winds nearby.

The house was given to the state by the Rogers family in 1959 with the condition that it be restored and maintained as the Will Rogers State Park.

Restoration of the house was supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black of Tulsa and the Oklahoma Industrial Development and Park Department.

End poverty, Church asks

BOISE (UPI)— Sen. Frank Church said Sunday that lingering poverty in America "is one of our most conspicuous failures" and must be corrected.

In remarks prepared for delivery before a social welfare conference, the senator noted that "welfare programs conceived of 30 years ago as stepping-stones to self-sufficiency have become wayside camping places for millions of Americans, many of whom are second and even third generation welfare recipients."

Church said poverty touched 26 million Americans, of which two-thirds are children under 18; two-thirds are white; one-third

Nixon enters GOP campaign

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon, with the full force of his office, opened a campaign across the American midland today in a light to retire prominent Democratic doves from the Senate.

Nixon left on a two-day political tour that will take him to the doorsteps of Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., Stuart Symington, D-Mo., Vance Hartke, D-Ind., and other Democrats who have stood up against administration foreign policy and defense programs, and who must answer to the voters Nov. 3.

The President planned to stop first in Columbus, Ohio, for a noon rally to support Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., in his bid for a Senate seat. He planned to go on to North Dakota and Missouri today, and Tennessee, North Carolina and Indiana Tuesday.

Taft is in a nip-and-tuck race with wealthy Clevelander Howard Metzenbaum, a critic of Nixon's Vietnam policies.

It was the President's third political outing of the season, as he intervened personally in close races with hopes of reversing the traditional trend of congressional off-year election losses by the party in the White House.

From Vermont to Wisconsin, Nixon has called for the election of Republicans who will back his Vietnam policies, Democratic leaders have criticized their candidates to be silent on the question while American negotiators pursue Nixon's new five-point peace offer at the Paris talks.

Nixon's message has been that a quick precipitate withdrawal from Vietnam would only lead to other Vietnams. What he is seeking, he claims, is a settlement that will produce something the United States has not known in this century—a generation free from war.

Before he set out today, Nixon had not explained precisely when that generation would begin.

Andrus visit planned

TWIN FALLS — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Cecil Andrus and several other candidates for state office on the Democratic ticket will be in Twin Falls Wednesday to meet with voters.

Vincent Smazal, Twin Falls County Democratic chairman, said this will be the last visit to Twin Falls by Andrus prior to the Nov. 3 general election and he urged all who have not met him to call at the Democratic headquarters from noon to 2 p.m. Wednesday and meet the candidate.

He said other state candidates including Ruth Moon, candidate for reelection as state treasurer and D. F. Engalking, candidate for reelection as state superintendent of schools are among those indicating they will be here Wednesday. Local candidates will also be on hand to meet the voters, he said.

While here, Andrus has also scheduled a meeting with CBI students and will be meeting with several other individual groups.

Testimony expected

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actress Doris Day's son, Terry Melcher, who reportedly rejected a proposition of recordings of Charles Manson, was expected to testify today about his meetings with the hippie cult leader.

Melcher, who lived at Sharon Tate's canyon estate prior to her occupancy and the slayings of the actress and four others which Manson is accused of, said he heard defendant twice at the Span Ranch, a prosecution witness testified last week.

The prosecution has suggested that one of the motives for the Tate killings was Manson's desire for revenge of Melcher for rejecting him.

Diplomacy key

NEW YORK (UPI)—Quiet diplomacy rather than public debate is the course that will produce successful negotiations for peace in the Middle East, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said Sunday.

Meir, who was arriving here on a two-week U.S. trip to address the United Nations General Assembly 25th anniversary session, contrasted her hopes for harmony in the Middle East with the forecast voiced Friday by Egypt's Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad that a special U.N. debate on the Mideast conflict should begin after the anniversary session ends Oct. 24.

"All Mr. Riad and his government have to do is recreate the situation according to the cease-fire agreement and talking can begin immediately."
Mrs. Meir will address the General Assembly Wednesday, Saturday she is to attend a state dinner in Washington. Her schedule includes meetings with President Nixon, visit with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau and British Prime Minister Edward Heath during and after the two weeks in the United States.

Another shuffle of top government leaders also was due in Syria, the most left wing of the Arab nations. Nouredin Atassi resigned as president and the Baath party was expected to call a congress within a few days to name his successor.
In Beirut, Arab political sources said a top contender was Lt. Gen. Mustafa Tlas, the Syrian chief of staff. Tlas is the

THERE GOES THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Question...

All of his life my father has maintained that at the time of his death we were to use an oak casket for him. Do you know whether you can get one for us when the need arises?

Answer...

Oak and hardwood caskets set the standards of funeral quality in America and throughout the world until 50 years ago. About that time America broke with tradition and metallic caskets of steel, copper and bronze, became acceptable in our country but nowhere else.
Because of the recent widespread use in America of hardwood paneling, kitchen cabinetry and home furnishings there has been a renewed interest in hardwood caskets. As a result, we now have available a very complete selection of solid oak, walnut, mahogany, willow, maple and cherry caskets.
For those who must at some time or other make a casket selection these hardwoods, in addition to our cloth covered redwoods and our traditional metallic caskets, comprise a complete selection.

Cholera outbreak arrested

ISTANBUL (UPI)—Authorities said Sunday a cholera outbreak that killed at least 27 persons in the working class areas of Istanbul appeared under control. But doctors said there might only be a lull in the spread of the disease.
Dr. Vedat Ali Ozkan, the minister of health, said "the disease is under control now and there have been no sharp increases in the number of persons hospitalized with cholera."
Ozkan and his senior staff moved from the capital of Ankara to Istanbul to personally supervise efforts to control the spread of the disease.
The official death toll rose to 27, with 717 more persons hospitalized. But hospital sources said the death toll was more than 50 and the number of infected persons around 2,000.
A spokesman for one of the major university hospitals in Istanbul said "during the first three days of the epidemic the number of persons infected with the disease were increasing by 20 to 25 per cent. This figure fell below five per cent today."

Campaigning extends president's coattail

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presidential coattails traditionally are short in off-year elections. But President Nixon is testing the theory in the most intensive campaign schedule ever undertaken by a chief executive when the White House was not at stake.
Nixon is scheduled to visit 18 to 20 states before the Nov. 3 elections. Most of his appearances will be in states crucial to the struggle for the Senate or in holding or winning governorships, considered political power bases.
Nixon's recent predecessors have not been very successful in mid-term campaigns to elect congressmen and governors who agree with the man in the White House. So why all this year's activity?
"If he sits in the White House above the battle, he will be criticized anyway," was the explanation of one Republican

Architectural terms part of new T.F. downtown scene

BY BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — There's a new language going the rounds in downtown Twin Falls these days and the well informed "in" people are now speaking "architecture."

If you want to keep up with it all, there are some words you should add to your vocabulary. Before long local residents will be meeting at the "gazebo" or maybe at the first "kiosk" (pronounced kee-ask) in the 100 block of Main Avenue. It is all part of the modernization of things in the downtown area. Architect Ed Peterson said the whole idea of new downtown Twin Falls is to attract people and this calls for a gay and fun-type decor.

The kiosk is the tubular object with a small roof overhead, several of which will house telephones for public use. The gazebo, which means summer home, is the combination of two or three of these. Then there are the "bollards," various sized concrete "stumps" which will delight small children as a place to play. These also provide a resting spot for the tired shopper or for friends who meet on the street and wish to visit briefly.

Peterson said plans are to introduce lots of color in the gazebos and kiosks with roofs of various colors. The gazebos could provide a shelter for ticket sales and information booths on Main Avenue or for a man-on-the-street interview or even a place for Santa Claus on his annual visits. Peterson said the concrete pillars in the stone surrounded intersection areas will provide background for a fountain which will play water over the smaller concrete cubes. Lava rock, he said, was selected for the wall structures at the intersections in order to fit the decor with the area.

Lava is a native stone, he said, and much a part of the area natural surroundings and beauty.

Peterson said there is a possibility wintertime could add some ice sculptures to downtown Twin Falls by utilizing the fountain and some local art talent.

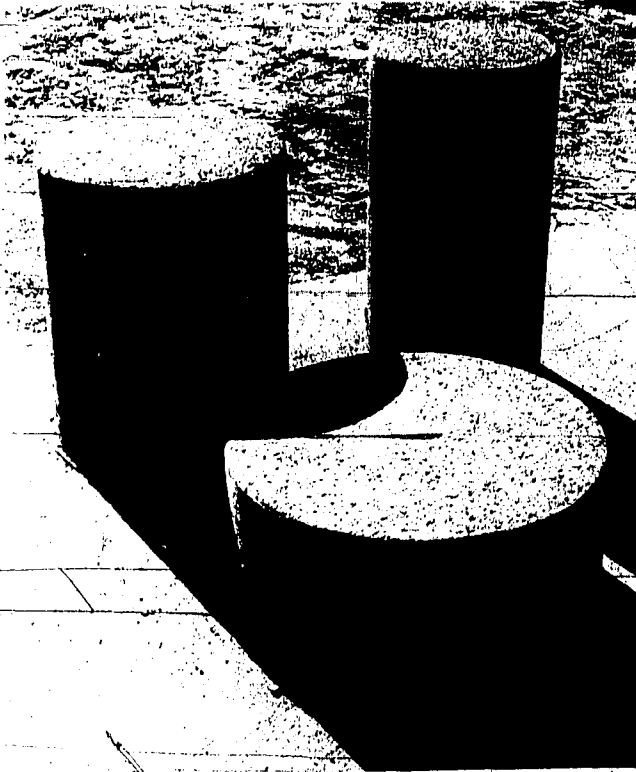

GAZEBOS ARE COMBINATIONS OF kiosks. These, now under construction, will provide small shelter areas and will add color to downtown Twin Falls with bright colored supports and roofs.

Unusual structures abound...

HERE IS A KIOSK. If you speak architect language, you pronounce it "ke-ask" and it means billboard. It will house telephones for the public in some areas of new downtown Twin Falls and otherwise decorate the area. The roofs will be brightly colored.

IF YOU PLANT IT OR FEED IT
GLOBE SEED & FEED
TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

THESE ARE BOLLARDS. They are part of the new downtown Twin Falls scene and will probably be enjoyed by playful youngsters and as seats for tired shoppers or those who wish to stop and visit with friends.

The Almanac

Today is Monday, Oct. 19, the 292nd day of 1970.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

Those born today are under the sign of Libra.

On this day in history:

In 1781 the Commander of the British Army, Lord Cornwallis, surrendered his troops at Yorktown, Va.

In 1814 the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung in Baltimore for the first time.

In 1936 an around-the-world airplane race by three newspaper reporters ended at Lakehurst, N.J. H. H. R. Elkins won over Dorothy Kilgallen and Leo Klerman with a time of 18 days, 11 hours, 14 minutes, 33 seconds.

In 1967 the American space vehicle Mariner V swept past Venus.

A thought for today: Thomas Kempis said, "Be not angry that you cannot make others as you wish them to be, since you cannot make yourself as you wish."

COMMENT

The Peace Plan

Christian Science Monitor

Given the fantastic complexity of the Vietnamese situation, we believe that President Nixon's five-point peace program is both hard-headed and just, flexible but principled.

Of course, President Nixon could not let the Communists dictate the composition of the South Vietnamese government.

A larger stumbling block in Hanoi and with the Viet Cong might be the fact that a cease-fire stands still along present lines would tend to freeze the present and quite considerable successes already attained by the Vietnamization program.

We also urge Moscow to respond to the President's invitation to become involved (expressed in his statement that the Geneva agreement remained valid).

The American offer to withdraw all American troops on reportedly a month-by-month schedule is a marked step forward and should reasonably be a powerful inducement of the Communists to reach a definitive agreement.

An FAA Study?

Lewiston Tribune

As is too often the case, it has taken a death-dealing tragedy to light a dark corner of the federal bureaucracy: The death of 30 people in the crash of a charter plane carrying college football players to a game has raised serious questions about the way the Federal Aviation Administration is safeguarding the lives of air travelers.

It will take a full-scale investigation to piece together all the elements of the tragedy, but the facts that have come to light so far suggest that the FAA has been derelict in its duty.

Viet forces press attack

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces launched a two-battalion attack in Battambang Province northwest of Phnom Penh today in their heaviest assault in Cambodia's rice bowl in the seven months of the war, Cambodian field reports said. The reports said the Communists lost 42 killed in the attack in Samrong, 162 miles north-west of Phnom Penh. Cambodian troops also captured three Communist troops, two machine guns, one Bro rocket launcher, 30 bags of plastic explosives and large quantities of ammunition and medical supplies, the reports said.

Cambodian High Command sources said the attack lasted two hours and was the largest in Battambang Province since the fighting began in Cambodia after the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk March 18. The area stretches by Thailand's eastern border. Cambodian casualties were not released because of security reasons pertinent to the defense of the town, officials' sources said.

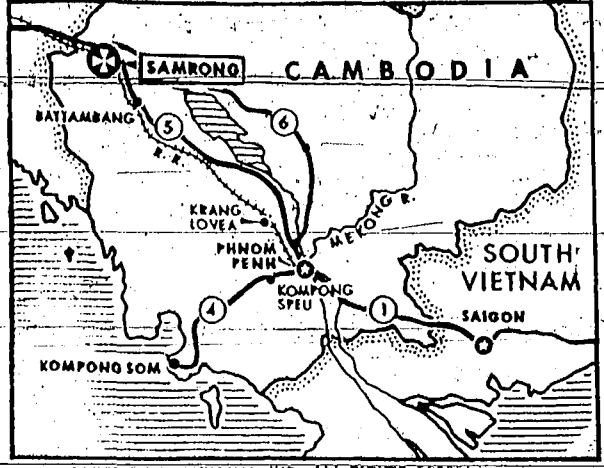

Field reports from Saigon said South Vietnamese mercenaries killed 20 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in fighting 24 miles southwest of Da Nang on South Vietnam's northern coast Sunday.

Battlefield communiques said Viet Cong and North Vietnamese activity increased over the weekend with six rocket attacks against Allied bases across Vietnam. The U.S. Command said the bombardments killed six Americans and wounded 27 others.

American spokesmen also reported the first U.S. helicopter shot down by Communist gunfire since Oct. 10, an Army UH1 Huey downed Saturday 241 miles northeast of Saigon. Two Americans were killed and two wounded.

Business backs Nixon policy, aide reports

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Representatives of private business, worried that higher wages will force more price increases, discussed the nation's economy with President Nixon Sunday, and the White House said they expressed strong support for the administration's economic policy. The discussion with executives of the Business Council, created as a liaison between the President and the business community, lasted nearly two hours. It was an outgrowth of the council's semiannual meeting in Hot Springs, Va., which ended Saturday with an expression of concern over the effects

Minority role said stand key

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has always been controversial in politics and believes this is due to being in a minority party, Time magazine quotes him as saying. "I was controversial in Baltimore County; I was a controversial governor. A lot of it comes from being in a minority party. You have to be aggressive. It is high-risk politics. I have always played high-risk politics. I guess I always will, and it is a lot more fun and a lot more effective," Agnew said in an interview in the current issue of Time.

Russians demanding hijackers

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union fought with propaganda and diplomacy today in demanding the right to punish a father and son who carried out the first successful hijacking of a Soviet plane. Soviet newspapers published eulogies for Nadezhda Kurchenko, 19, the stewardess slain by the hijackers Thursday, and Tass carried letters and cables from citizens demanding Turkish extradition of "crook, thief and speculator" Brazinskis Korejevo. In Turkey, Soviet diplomats made representations to the government seeking the return of the 46-year-old Korejevo and his 18-year-old son. The Korejevos' takeover of an Aeroflot AN24 was the first time the Soviet Union has been the victim of a successful hijack. Other attempts have been foiled either on the ground or in the air. The appearance of a letter-writing campaign in the official press was an indication of concern at the top levels of the Soviet regime. Such letter campaigns normally are reserved for major foreign policy developments.

Demos advised to invest $14 to assure even break

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic party is advising its candidates to invest $14 apiece in stop watches to make sure they get an even break in news broadcasts on radio and television stations.

If they cannot afford to match their opponents in buying time, they are told they should at least insist on the free time they deserve in coverage of newsworthy election campaigns.

This advice has gone out from the party's national headquarters in a memorandum written by Mary Lou Burg, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee and a former radio station manager.

She wrote that reports from around the country indicated Democratic candidates were not taking advantage of free time available under the fairness doctrine of the Federal Communications Commission. That policy, calling for balanced news coverage, receives attention in FCC decisions on renewal of station licenses.

Miss Burg told Democratic candidates to monitor regularly the news broadcasts of major radio and television stations.

There should be a breakout of minutes devoted to candidates of each party and specific issues upon which the candidate commented, she said. "If the coverage has been unfavorable for a specific candidate, he should challenge the manager of the station as to how the news department has been operating under the fairness doctrine.

"It is essential to achieve a high degree of accuracy in logging this time. A good stop watch can be purchased for about $14. Someone should be assigned this important task on a daily basis. Pay them if necessary because the expenditure will harvest good results and give you exposure you don't have the money to buy."

The memo said the stations could give all the coverage they wished to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's campaign speeches as long as they gave Democrats a chance to answer.

Candidates challenging incumbents need to use television or other devices just to get themselves known in large constituencies.

Members of Congress have developed their own gimmicks to keep their names before the voters. One is the newsletter sent in a franked envelope carrying notations that it is a "public document" and "official business"—meaning it is financed by the taxpayers.

Congressional and senatorial campaign committees of both parties also allot funds to incumbents, long before they announce for reelection, for travel expenses and other projects to keep the incumbents in touch with the voters. These committees are theoretically neutral until party nominees are chosen.

Riots, crime aired

BOISE (UPI) — The Director of the Idaho Law Enforcement Training Commission, Robert C. Arneson, told student leaders Saturday if colleges fail to preserve order in case of campus riots that law enforcement officers will do the job.

He addressed delegates to the Idaho Student Government Association said the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 made it possible for Idaho to financially assist cities and counties in their attack against crime.

Arneson said he wished to challenge the state's criminal justice system to devote more time and energy to develop a "peripheral shopping center of information, instead of focusing upon piecemeal treatment of its crime problem."

He announced that a "civil disorders specialist" would be hired by the end of the month to develop a uniform, comprehensive state riot control and civil disorders plan.

Arneson said he felt student leaders should assume responsibility of "doing what you can to maintain peace." He said he was confident the improvement of the state's student body will stay involved and have a moderating impact on their individual campuses.

A "Minorities on Campus" seminar conducted by Boise State College Negro students included an announcement plans are under way for a Black Student Union at BSC.

BSCASB Vice President Leonard Mercy said, "Our purpose should be to become aware of the very natural gaps that separate minorities from the whole."

SIGNING REVENUE BONDS for the closing settlement of the Eden sewer system are P. J. Eisenschmier, Eden city treasurer, and Mrs. Opal Newbury, city clerk. Total cost of the project is estimated at $155,000. The city received $137,100 for the Farmers Home Administration.

Revenue bonds signed For Eden sewer system

JEROME — Final arrangements for the Eden sewerage system were completed Friday in Jerome, at the Farmers Home Administration office when officials signed revenue bonds and Eden Mayor James E. Lulow received a check for $137,100 from Joe Aitken, assistant county supervisor of the FHA.

The project includes installation of primary lines, service lines to homes and a sanitation lagoon.

S. A. Kolman, city attorney, said Eden is still to obtain grant money from both state and the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration. He said the city also is seeking additional grant money from the Economic Development Administration office in Boise.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $155,000.

The legal firm of Dawson, Magel, Sherman and Howard, Denver, is bonding counsel for the project.

Runner-up

BOISE (UPI) — Deborah Moorehouse, 16, Boise, Idaho's Miss 16, 1970, was announced second runner up in the national competition Saturday night in Hollywood, Calif.

Terry Walker, KFXD radio announcer, said the Capital High School junior was sponsored by KFXD in the national competition, and won the spot out of 4,000 other entries.

Diplomas conferred on agents

BURLEY — Eight Idaho insurance agents received CLU diplomas Friday evening during a meeting of the Idaho Chapter of Charter Life Underwriters in the Ponderosa Inn.

Tom Klein, Bryn Mawr, Pa., director of chapter relations of the American Society of CLU, presented the diplomas — the "master's degree" — in the insurance profession.

The eight receiving this diploma are H. Gene Barrus, and James W. Hawley, both Twin Falls; Robert Froelich, Eldon D. Harker, and D. Nyle Kinghorn, all Idaho Falls; Richard Cooke, and Paul Kohout, both Boise, and Russell Campbell, Emmett.

Featured speaker during the meeting was Klein, who spoke on "Challenge of Performance." He told those attending that as a new profession — the insurance profession — as compared to medicine or law, there is a challenge to individual practitioners to perform in an extraordinary fashion to become known as a professional.

THOUGHTFULNESS ALBUMS ONE OR FIVE YEAR DIARY

Yost's Hallmark CARD & PARTY SHOP 135 MAINE E. 734-3842

DEAR ABBY: I have two questions to ask you, both about plastic surgery.

How old must a girl be before she can have plastic surgery on her nose? My daughter is 17, and fully developed and mature for her age. She needs to have her nose made smaller and can hardly wait, but I was told that no reputable plastic surgeon would do that operation on a girl until she was 18. Is that true?

Also, my mother is interested in having a face-lift, but she was told by a friend that after a woman reaches 60, she is too old for a face-lift, as it takes too long to heal. My mother is 62, and recently widowed. She is a good looking woman but her skin is wrinkled. Would a reputable doctor perform a face-lift on a woman her age?

If you think my questions are of sufficient interest to use in your column, you may do so, but please keep me anonymous. "A BEVERLY HILLSER"

DEAR BEV: Dr. Eugene Worton, also a "Beverly Hillser" and a top-notch plastic surgeon says that no reputable plastic surgeon would operate on a girl's nose unless he saw the girl and felt that in his opinion she was fully developed and mature enough for such surgery. (Some 17-year-olds are some are not.) And as for your mother: Sixty-two is not too old. It depends upon the general health and mental attitude of the woman. (Dr. Worton recently did a face lift on a 71-year-old woman, who bounced back like a teenager!)

DEAR ABBY: In response to the letter from "ERNIE'S GIRL"—the one whose fiance wanted her to wear a chastity belt. I sympathize deeply with her because I am 15 years old and my parents make me wear one. I feel like I live in a gas station because I have to ask for the key every time I want to go to the bathroom. And you should see the stares I get from the girls in the locker room in gym class!

Abby, I have tried my best to behave in a way that would show my parents that they can trust me, but they make me wear this thing anyway. I don't think it is fair to be punished for something I haven't even done. What should I do? L. N.

DEAR L. N.: When you are of age you can leave home. In the meantime don't trust a YALE man (a locksmith, I mean). And to earn a little money in preparation for leaving home, try your hand at some creative writing. You're doing fine!

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a couple were considering adopting a child to be a companion for their 7-year-old daughter, and I was shocked at your suggestion that they take a foster child for a while to see how it works out.

Abby, a foster child is not a guinea pig to be used as an experiment to see how it "works out."

I cannot for the life of me understand how you, a supposedly intelligent and compassionate person could ever give such advice. PHILA. READER

DEAR READER: I suggested a "foster" child instead of an adopted child, because foster children are placed in homes on a temporary basis, while adopted children are another matter.

DEAR ABBY: A word to that silly girl who signed herself "LOVES HAIR IN HOOVERVILLE," and can't think of anything more romantic than running her toes thru the hair on a man's chest!

Just wait until she has spent two or three months running her toes thru the hair in the bathtub!

One Main Part! "Patch" program started

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Patch the Pony" aims to help your child protect himself from pedophiles—sex criminals who prey on children.

The national toll of molestation-murders was 20 in 1968, the latest year for which figures are available. The victims ranged or abducted to their deaths were between the ages of three and 15, boys and girls.

Authorities estimate as many as one million children in the United States are subjected to some sort of molestation each year. Most susceptible is the child who walks to and from school alone, or who lingers alone in deserted parks or playgrounds. But the molester can strike suddenly, almost any time and at any place, including home when a child's alone.

The Patch the Pony program, originated by Mrs. Margaret H. Liles, of Orangeburg, S.C., is a wholesome, loving approach to this serious social problem.

Mrs. Liles, mother of four school children, became concerned when she attended a PTA meeting and heard an FBI agent tell what molesters can do to children. Her Patch the Pony program was developed soon after.

The Society for Visual Education in Chicago picked up the program and for 25 cents will send a Patch sampler including a story featuring Patch as the hero who kicks molesters and their cars, a Patch button for youngsters, and a guide for parents and teachers.

(The Patch kit address is 1345 Diversey Parkway, Chicago, Ill.)

"A stranger can hurt boys and girls," Patch says in the leaflet. "I wonder if the boys and girls know my safety rule: 'Nay, nay, from strangers stay away.'"

Eventually, it is hoped, Patch and his safety message will become as familiar to children as Smokey the Bear.

POLLY'S POINTERS Draw Lots for TV Programs to Watch

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—When everyone wants to watch a different television program, give each a piece of paper (including yourself) and have them write on it the shows they want to see that night. Each folds his slip and they are put in a pile or in a dish. Then one person picks out a slip and reads it out loud. The shows that are on the piece of paper will be the ones that everyone watches that evening, with no arguments.—KIM

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—When I took a wool suit and its matching belt to be cleaned, the cleaner said they could not wash it as the belt is backed with vinyl. Help! Do any of the girls know how to clean a vinyl-backed belt?—MRS. R. M. K.

DEAR POLLY—Clara can remove the adhesive-tape marks from her sofa cushion with a spot-removing cleaning fluid available in department and 5-and-10-cent stores. I find it also is great for grease spots, oil, tar, wax and chewing gum.—ALICE

DEAR CLARA—Read the labels carefully, as the brand Alice used states clearly that it removes adhesive-tape marks.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I wrap a folded paper towel around the middle of my bottle of oil and secure it with a rubber band to keep the oil from running down the bottle. When the towel becomes soiled, I just throw it away and replace with a fresh one. This also keeps the shelf from getting oily and stained.—MRS. M.

BLM, Forest Service battle weekend fires

SHOSHONE Forest Service and BLM crews battled several blazes over the weekend in Magic Valley and a specialized fire fighting crew left the forest service district headquarters in Twin Falls this morning to assist on a fire in the Challis National Forest.

Several hundred acres of rangeland north of Eden were burned Saturday, according to Wallace Fixsen, fire control officer for the Shoshone BLM office. He said crews were on the fire until 8 p.m. Saturday. The fire, Fixsen said, was a "misunderstanding." Landowners in the area "thought they had a permit to burn in the area proposed for improvement."

Three hurt in Jerome auto crash

JEROME — Donald Mathis and Dennis Veeder, both 15, were treated and released from St. Benedict's Hospital following a one-car accident five miles northeast of Jerome about 5:20 p.m. Sunday. Mathis, driver of the late model sedan, told officers he came over a hill on a county road and applied his brakes. The car skidded, went into the borrow pit and overturned. Another passenger in the car, Lester Durham, 15, also of Jerome, was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital in Twin Falls. He was reported in good condition today.

The child was listed in critical condition following the accident Saturday. Officers said the girl's father had left a loaded .22 caliber magnum pistol in a pickup and the girl and her brother were examining the gun when it discharged, wounding the girl in the chest. She was treated at the Gooding hospital and brought to Twin Falls later Saturday afternoon.

Grocery clerks striking

BOISE (UPI) — Retail Clerks Local 1614 members began picketing Saturday afternoon after they rejected a negotiated contract offer from Buttreys Chain Stores in Boise and Nampa. The strike precipitated an industry-wide lockout of union members from area grocery stores. The vote Friday night was 3-1 to reject the proposal, Local President Jim Kerns reported. The new contract offer came after eight weeks of negotiating between grocery chain employer representatives and union officials. Union leadership accepted the offer including a 65-cent wage raise over a three-year period. The retail clerks had asked for an immediate 37 1/2 cents per hour increase and another increase up to 75 cents per hour over a two-year period. The total cost of the employers' proposal was $3.44 cents per-hour including benefits; Tom Hazard of the Idaho Employers Council said Saturday. He said the strike would not be just a "matter of a few days." He added no further negotiations were scheduled at the present time. Grocery clerks in Twin Falls are under basically the same contract as picketing members in Boise, according to LeRoy Geist of Buttreys. However, union clerks in Twin Falls belong to a different local and are under a contract which does not expire until February, he said.

Circle K Store opens Oct. 22

JEROME — The Circle K grocery store in Jerome is scheduled to open Oct. 22, according to Bill Boyer, Boise, Idaho division manager. Boyer said construction is now completed and all that remains is to stock the shelves.

"We plan to construct more stores in Idaho and are now looking for more sites in the Magic Valley area," Boyer said. A grand opening is planned later. Ken Hargraves, Jerome, has been named manager and most of the employees have been hired. The Circle K Store is part of a chain with headquarters in El Paso, Texas.

The contract is $260,000 and no roadway work is anticipated until next spring, Johnson said. HANSEN — The Hansen Cafe, scene of a fire several weeks ago, reopened today under new management. State secretary faces another major job

(EDITORS Note: This is the seventh of several dispatches outlining the views of the various candidates for state-wide and congressional office in the Nov. 3 general election. They are based on exclusive interviews with each of the candidates. Today—secretary of state.) By RICHARD CHARNOCK BOISE (UPI) — Although the office primarily is ministerial in nature, Idaho's secretary of state serves on two important boards and soon will perform another important job for the public. Under Idaho's proposed new constitution both of those boards—land and examiners—would be abolished as they now are constituted. The Land Board would be re-created by the legislature. Pete T. Cenarrusa, the Republican incumbent who is serving by appointment in the post, believes the secretary of state should remain on both boards. His opponent, Democrat Winston Benson, feels strongly the secretary of state should stay on the board of examiners. "Yes, I think the secretary of state should remain on both boards," Cenarrusa said, noting the possible change should the people ratify the revised constitution. "Inasmuch as the secretary of state is housed in the State Capitol and available to the public and is exposed to Idaho problems insofar as lands are concerned I think it would be well to have the secretary of state on the Land Board." Benson directed his remarks to the Board of Examiners, noting that "someone has to do it and an elected official probably is the most qualified to sit on that board." "He should be more responsible to the people because he's an elected official," Benson said. "He's elected to take care of the money of the state and that should be his responsibility. That's part of our problem, I think, and that's the officials being more responsible to the people." Cenarrusa, 52, served nine terms in the state legislature—his last three as a speaker of the House. He was appointed secretary of state in 1967, succeeding the late Edson Deal. In private life he operates a sheep ranch at Carey. Benson, 60, is a probate judge at Blackfoot, a post he has held since 1952. He was a junior high school principal for 12 years in Bingham and Teton counties and has an insurance life underwriter for 19 years. "One of the things I want to accomplish," Cenarrusa said, "(is)...modernizing that office." "We're in the process of microfilming all of the records of that office," he said. "We also are writing up new job descriptions of each employee and we are also attempting to streamline the work and reduce the duplication and paper work and red tapes...with respect to annual statements of corporations."

Benson said he hopes "to be more responsive to the people...be a watchdog of the tax dollar." He said he would make a "minute study of claims made against the state treasury." "As a member of the Board of Examiners I think these claims should be scrutinized very thoroughly before any tax money is spent," Benson said. "I think these officials should be better conscious." Beginning the first of next year the secretary of state—who is responsible for keeping track of Idaho's corporations and for keeping records of the state—also will take on duties as chief elections officer. Because of this UPI asked both candidates if they are satisfied with the newly-revised election laws and, if not, what changes they would recommend. These are their answers: Cenarrusa: "The election laws passed in the last session need a good analysis, a thorough analysis of that act passed. What we want to do is to fall, as soon as the elections are over and we have the time, is to completely through this act and reconstitute it with the county clerks and other interested people to make it as workable as possible." "Now there are some features in these that the county clerks are opposed to. The legislature passed this act realizing that it was not a perfect election law with the thinking next session of the legislature it could be amended." "I'm not familiar with all that so I couldn't give you a logical answer on that. I think we should have a commission before it could give you a reasonable answer. It takes time to get to give an answer on something like that."

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) Doolines were leading advances by about three-to-one on the New York Stock Exchange at mid-session Monday, but turnover was light.

Analysts said the selling was spurred by disappointment with some third quarter earnings statements, and the impact of the General Motors strike on the economy.

One observed that investors suddenly seem aware that the GM strike is going to last longer than most people had expected. In fact, the slow pace of negotiations raised fear that the strike may carry over into 1971.

As trading rounded the halfway mark, the Dow Jones industrial average was off about 4 points, and declines were leading advances, 88 to 28.

A three-hour turnover of 5,970,000 shares was down from 6,790,000 shares traded at a comparable period on Friday.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) Someone has recommended that I purchase shares of Dr. Pepper. We wish to invest our money in a growth issue for long-term gains. Would this be a good stock to start with? E. G.

A) In the area of growth, this leading soft drink company has compiled quite an impressive record over the past ten years. In fact, earnings have increased at an annual rate of 20 per cent over the past five years. Since 1925, Dr. Pepper has been aggressively expanding its markets which now include roughly 96 per cent of the U.S. population. Aided by the introduction of Dr. Pepper to the New York area (through Coca-Cola bottlers) last May, sales for the 6 months ending June 30 were up to 20 per cent year-to-year. Earnings advanced only 17 per cent.

However, now that a large portion of the promotional costs of Dr. Pepper's New York entry are out of the way, profits should more closely match sales improvement. Although the firm's share of the soft drink market last year was only 4 per cent, Dr. Pepper is fifth in dollar sales and at least fourth in sales (as a single brand-name soft drink) in the U.S. The company has no long-term debt and current assets to liabilities were 4.4:1 in 1969's year end; and 1970's third quarter is expected to show substantial gains, since July sales rose 25 per cent year-to-year; and August volume was up 21 per cent. In short, this issue is an excellent choice for long-term appreciation.

Q) At present I am investing $100 a month in Invest Mutual Fund, owning 361 shares now. What is your opinion of this fund? M.D.H.

A) Invest Fund is a growth performance fund with a good portion of its portfolio invested in speculative, glamor issues. While over the long term, Invest shows a very healthy gain, recent performance has been slowed. Since you have such a sizable commitment here, I would retain, but not add to, shares. Diversification is vital in the investment world.

Interceptions Let Rams Whip Green Bay 31-21

GREEN BAY (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams exploded for 30 points in the final two minutes Sunday to beat the Green Bay Packers 31-21 and put a damper on Green Bay's Hurt Starr day festivities.

Starr came just as the Packers appeared to be driving towards the winning or tying points. Starr had taken the Packers from their own 16 to the Los Angeles 47 in less than a minute and there appeared to be plenty of time left for Green Bay to drive into scoring territory.

But Williams stopped in front of Jack Clancy on the Los Angeles 35 and then sprinted down the sidelines for the clinching points.

Starr had two interceptions, including one on a 35-yard field goal by David Ray with 1:48 left to play and a 65-yard return of an interception by Clarence Williams with 2:54 left to play.

Denver Keeps Lead After Whipping Falcons 24-10

DENVER (UPI)—The Denver Broncos turned mistakes by Atlanta quarterback Bob Berry into 10 fourth quarter points Sunday, including a 51-yard field goal by Bob Howfield for a 24-10 victory. Denver, 4-1, stayed on top of the American Football Conference Western Division ahead of Kansas City. Atlanta dropped to a 2-3 record.

Lions Roll Past Browns by 41-24

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Quarterback Bill Munsun hit on nine of 10 passes for three touchdowns and an alert Detroit defense intercepted five passes

Sunday as the Lions rolled to a 41-24 victory over the Cleveland Browns. The Lions wrapped up the game with three quick touchdowns in the final six minutes of the first half.

After the Browns moved 79 yards in eight plays to cut the Detroit lead to 17-14, Munsun hit Larry Walton with a 29-yard scoring pass to cap an 80-yard drive with 4:09 left in the half.

Bradshaw Hits In 7-3 Win

HOUSTON (UPI)—Terry Bradshaw's first touchdown pass of his pro career, a 67-yard strike to rookie flanker Ron Shanklin in the second quarter, gave the Pittsburgh Steelers a 7-3 victory over Houston Sunday, their second straight triumph after 10 consecutive defeats.

er Nelsen pass on the Browns' 34 and Walton, who finished the day with four catches for 158 yards, grabbed a 34-yard touchdown pass from Munsun with 1:34 left in the half.

Nelsen gave the Browns a quick 7-0 lead with 11:31 left in the first quarter by hitting Gary Collins with a 14-yard scoring pass after the Lions fumbled a punt on their own 20.

just 40 seconds left propelled the Rams to their fourth National Football League victory against a single defeat. The loss was Green Bay's second against three wins.

Starr, who was honored Saturday night by President Nixon and Sunday by the Packers fans, had one of his better games but threw two costly interceptions, including the final one.

The Rams had scored just moments earlier in the first quarter driving 50 yards after Jack Pardee fell on a Donny Anderson fumble. Gabriel threw 25 yards to Jack Snow for that one.

Green Bay came back to make it 14-7 at the half on a 55-yard pass from Starr to Travis Williams and they tied it early in the fourth quarter when Starr hit John Hilton on an 18-yard throw.

The second Packer touchdown set off a scoring show with Los Angeles sparked by Alvin Raymond's 67-yard kickoff return, taking the lead 21-14 on Larry Smith's six-yard run.

Three minutes later Anderson rolled 49 yards to the Rams' one on the next play Williams carried over to tie it again.

But Raymond returned the next kickoff 52 yards and with Gabriel leading the way, the Rams threw to the Green Bay 29 and Ray stepped back to boot the decisive points.

Starr, a 15-year veteran and three-time NFL passing champion, completed 16 of his 29 passes for 208 yards and Gabriel had a somewhat tougher time completing only 10 of 25 for 137 yards.

The second interception off Whitworth Captures Tournney

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Kathy Whitworth fired one eagle and five birdies Sunday to easily win the Quality Check'd Open and take a firm hold on the leading money winner's spot for 1970.

Miss Whitworth, who married her round with one bogey and one double-bogey, shot a 71-67-67-205, three better than second place finisher Jo Anne Carner who carded a 67-71-71-208.

The closing round 67, just one back of the course record on the par 36-36-72 Lake Waco Country Club, gave Miss Whitworth the lowest winning score in the tournament's history. The old record of 207 was set by Clifford Ann Creed in 1965.

The winner's prize, $2,250, lifted Miss Whitworth far ahead of second place money winner Sandra Haynie, who tied for third and won $1,250. Miss Whitworth has $29,600.01 in official winnings and Miss Haynie had $24,813.46.

Sandra Palmer took home $1,250 for her third place tie with Miss Haynie.

Miss Whitworth grabbed her eagle three on the par five fifth hole. She hit two woods, then knocked a seven-iron into the hole from 135 feet out.

She sank short putts for birdies on the third, eighth and tenth holes. She dropped birdie putts from 25 feet on No. 12 and from 10 feet on No. 14.

John Brodie had rallied the 10-point favored Forty NINETS to two second half touchdowns and a 20-13 lead when Kilmer and Parks collaborated on New Orleans' final drive.

Sonics, Bucks Get Big Fines

SEATTLE (UPI)—The Seattle SuperSonics and Milwaukee Bucks were fined "a substantial amount" by the National Basketball Association for not following league rules on a trade.

NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy, here for a game between Seattle and Boston Saturday night, revealed that the fines were levied more than a week ago.

"Neither team followed the proper procedure," he said. "The league rule, put in a year ago, stipulates that a conference call must be held between representatives of both teams and the commissioner's office before a trade can be consummated."

The trade in question brought forward Don Smith to Seattle in return for forward Bob Boozer and guard Lucius Allen.

Kennedy said the trade was not completed until several days after it was announced by both teams because of the failure to follow league regulations.

Sonics president Sam Schulman had asked that the trade be rescinded because Milwaukee had not made clear some key points of Smith's contract with the Bucks.

Injury-Hit Bears Lose Bob Wallace

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Bears, who knew they had lost star running back Gale Sayers last week, took another blow from injuries Sunday.

Wide receiver Bob Wallace took a jolt on his knee during the loss to San Diego and was taken immediately to a hospital for an operation by team orthopedic surgeon Theodore Fox.

A Bears spokesman indicated Wallace probably would be out for the season.

The Bears also found out that running back Craig Raynham, who missed Sunday's game, also will have an operation in the coming week, to cure a dislocating tendon in his ankle.

Social Security Question Box

If you have any questions about your social security, address them to Jim Davis, P.O. Box 1230, Twin Falls, Idaho 83401.

Q. I was 62 Sept. 18. I want to apply for my social security. How do I go about it? My husband was 62 in August. Our income is 50-50 as we file a joint tax return for the income from our farm. Can my husband also apply for his social security since he is unable to go on farming until he is 65.

Q. I collect social security widow's benefits. I have never worked outside my home. Will my survivors get a lump-sum payment when I pass away?

Q. I am 62 year old teacher. I will not work during June, July, and August, although I get pay checks for those months. Can I get social security retirement benefits for this period?

Q. Does a part-time employee acting as secretary for a minister have to have social security payments withheld from her check?

Q. I retired last month. If I start working part time, how much can I make and still collect full social security payments each month?

Q. You will get full social security benefits for more than you do not earn more than $140 in wages or do substantial work in self-employment. Or you can get full benefits, regardless of monthly earnings, if your total earnings for the calendar year won't exceed $1680.

Grange raps spud labels

BUHL — The Lucerne Grange, No. 189, has approved a resolution opposing present potato-grading and labeling practices. In that substandard potatoes are allowed the label of U.S. No. 1.

The resolution states, according to James P. Christly, who wrote the document: "The writer has recently learned that there is a different system used in the inspection of potatoes that are shipped out of the State of Idaho and the potatoes that are placed on the market for human consumption within the boundaries of the State of Idaho."

"First, potatoes labeled U.S. No. 1 shipped out of the State of Idaho must be free of all visible blemish such as sunburn, cuts, rots, disease and must not be undersize to meet federal standards."

On the other hand, the resolution said, "potatoes marketed for human consumption within the State of Idaho . . . may contain 11 per cent substandard potatoes."

The term "substandard," Christly said in the resolution, means "that they do not comply with U.S. No. 1 federal standards."

The resolution asks that "the practice be discontinued and that all potatoes labeled U.S. No. 1 and marketed within the State of Idaho for human consumption meet all federal standards for potatoes so labeled."

Gem yields tops

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Friday this year's production of corn, barley, all hay and potatoes is estimated at record high levels.

The 1970 spring wheat crop in Idaho, according to the service, is estimated at 10,500,000 bushels, which is four per cent below 1969 and three per cent below 1968.

But Idaho's corn for grain is forecast at 2,400,000 bushels, down four per cent from last month but four per cent above a year ago. The report said the decline in prospects from Sept. 1 results largely from increased damage from southern corn leaf blight, other diseases and insects.

Hay production in Idaho is estimated at 3,875,000 tons, up three per cent from last year and 14 per cent above the 1968 crop.

HHH again plagues Minnesota GOP

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — It was the day after the 1968 presidential election and two Minnesota Republicans were still savoring the victory in a Minneapolis hotel lobby.

Hubert H. Humphrey, the scourge of the Minnesota GOP for 20 years, had been beaten. "Two years ago we took over the state and now the presidency," one partisan gloated.

His colleague, however, saw a fly in the ointment. "Do you know what this probably means?" he said. "Hubert will be back to plague us here."

Humphrey came back indeed, and he is not only well ahead in his race for the Senate, but the Democratic Farmer Labor (DFL) party has a good chance of toppling Republicans from control of the state.

From all indications, the former vice president and senator will be returned to Washington Nov. 3. His lead in the polls over Rep. Clark MacGregor has been shaved a few points, but Humphrey still has a commanding lead.

Although GOP leaders insist, MacGregor — reputedly President Nixon's personal choice for the race — is closing the gap and may still catch up, most party strategists are working to keep Humphrey's margin down mainly to preserve the offices they now hold.

For Humphrey has put on a campaign to remember, even by Humphrey standards.

MacGregor has conducted a vigorous campaign, too, and has held his own in several face-to-face encounters with Humphrey, including a one-hour television debate.

He has been given maximum exposure through appearances with a parade of Nixon administration officials. Even the President's daughter, Tricia, spent an afternoon campaigning with him in St. Paul.

The most exciting feature of the campaign for the DFL has been the rise of Wendell Anderson, the handsome, young candidate for governor, who now has nearly a 10-point lead according to the Minnesota Poll, conducted by the Minneapolis Tribune.
