Talks set with Russ

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Nixon will meet Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Washington Thursday for discussions aimed at easing the current tensions in Soviet-American relations.

Lincoln sheriff returns

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News Correspondent
SHOSHONE — Lincoln County Sheriff Thomas W. Conner returned home Monday night after two weeks' absence, apparently with second thoughts about his verbal resignation.

"I took two race horses to Fresno, Calif., in hopes of selling them," Conner said, "but I had to take them further south where I left them with the understanding they will be sold."

The sheriff did not dispute the claim that he had told Deputy Martin Whitesell he intended to resign, but when now asked if he intends to resign, replied, "I have contemplated resigning, but if I do, it will be in the proper manner with a written resignation to county commissioners."

The sheriff, who has served for more than 20 years, has two years left in his present term. Mrs. Lucella Kinsey, county clerk, said Conner has been popular in the county. Conner said he developed car trouble on his way home which delayed him several days.

like any meeting, we hope will play a part in better understanding," Rogers said.

Nixon had considered the possibility of meeting Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at the United Nations. But Kosygin canceled his projected visit to the United Nations, reportedly because of a deterioration of Soviet-American relations.

Although Rogers and Gromyko still were at a stand-off over the missile violations and prospects of resuming Arab-Israeli peace contacts were dim, they apparently laid to rest the incipient crisis over Soviet Naval construction at Cienfuegos Harbor in Cuba.

U.S. delegation officials gave this account of Rogers' second meeting with Gromyko at which, they said, the atmosphere was better than at the first encounter Friday night.

The Middle East — Rogers and Gromyko remained at loggerheads over the reported Soviet-Egyptian missile violations. No compromise solution emerged for "rectifying" that situation. But it seemed increasingly likely that the Middle East cease-fire would be extended on a day-to-day basis. The Soviet Union indicated that it would like Arab-Israeli talks under the auspices of U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring to resume, although how this might take place remains unclear.

The Four-Power talks on Berlin — the two foreign ministers cleared up a misunderstanding over the Soviet position at these talks, scheduled to meet again in November. While the nature of the misunderstanding was not specified, U.S. officials told newsmen they looked forward with new hope to the discussions on improving the Berlin situation.

'G.I. emptied clips'

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI) — Two government witnesses testified Monday they saw S. Sgt. David Mitchell empty two clips of ammunition from his automatic rifle into a group of 30 unarmed Vietnamese old men, women and children herded into a ditch, five to six feet in front of him.

The first public account of the My Lai massacre in which American combat soldiers allegedly killed more than 100 Vietnamese civilians came as the government opened its testimony in an attempt to show Mitchell assaulted with the intent to murder 30 Vietnamese civilians.

Prosecuting attorney, Capt. Michael Swan, speaking slowly in his opening statement, said the government will prove Mitchell's platoon moved "deliberately, but quickly through the village, cleared the hooches, and gathered the people into groups."

The amendment lists as junk "any used material which has become unfit for the use for which it was intended and includes, but is not limited to old autos, any unsightly garbage, stagnant water, refuse and decayed vegetables."

Council rejects architect need

TWIN FALLS — City councilmen rejected 5-1 a proposal to require an architect or engineer to approve plans for commercial construction in the city. Councilman Eugene Stacey cast the only support for the proposal made earlier by City Manager Jean Miller that the strict ordinance be adopted in the interest of public safety.

Councilman Tom Nelson was absent. The ordinance was rejected on the third reading Monday night, following criticism from representatives of building trades and draftsmen who opposed the measure. With the proposal's rejection, current regulations remain in effect. The city building inspector now has the option of deciding whether an architect or engineer plan is required for new commercial construction.

Premier ... MAHMOUD FAWZI, 70, has been chosen Egypt's first civilian premier in 18 years. Government sources said he was apparently selected to try to negotiate a peaceful settlement in the Middle East. (UPI)

Fawzi named premier

By United Press International
Government sources said today President Anwar Sadat has chosen Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi as Egypt's first civilian premier in 18 years. Fawzi, a 70-year-old diplomat, apparently was selected to try to negotiate a peaceful settlement in the Middle East.

Sadat, sworn in only Saturday to replace Gamal Abdel Nasser, proposed Fawzi to the central committee of the Arab Socialist Union today. It was expected to give quick approval.

No official announcement has been made as to Sadat's choice.

Gooding defines 'junk'

GOODING — Gooding city councilmen passed an amendment to the "junk" ordinance Monday.

The amendment defines what is considered junk more specifically than the original ordinance. Mayor Harley Crippen said the council is trying to get residents to clean lots of debris and wrecked autos and haul them to the dump.

Ed Peterson, Twin Falls, architect for the new high school, and school board members met with the council about extending water and sewer lines to the new school which will soon be under construction. The new facility is located on the west edge of town.

The amendment lists as junk "any used material which has become unfit for the use for which it was intended and includes, but is not limited to old autos, any unsightly garbage, stagnant water, refuse and decayed vegetables."

Canadians bury slain Quebec aide

MONTREAL (UPI) — Canada today buries its martyr in the cause of Canadian unity, Pierre LaPorte, while the search intensified for his killers and the kidnapers of British diplomat James L. Cross.

Canadian politicians, including Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and opposition leaders from Ottawa, were joining LaPorte's family in paying final respects to the Quebec labor minister murdered Saturday, one week after his abduction by the Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ).

At the request of LaPorte's wife, Francoise, the simple funeral at 4 p.m. EDT at Notre Dame cathedral in Montreal was to be private. Extraordinary security, including the 4,000 federal troops mobilized Thursday by Trudeau, were poised for possible FLQ trouble.

Meanwhile, 9,000 police from throughout Quebec pressed their search for three men wanted as suspects in the kidnappings of Cross and LaPorte. Since Trudeau Friday decreed emergency war powers broadening police powers and suspending some Canadian civil rights, authorities have seized without charges 341 suspected FLQ leaders and sympathizers in 1,827 raids throughout Quebec.

They have failed to find the kidnapers or Cross, who was abducted from his suburban Montreal home Oct. 5 by armed members of the FLQ. Apparently he still is alive, for he sent a communique to police Sunday begging them to call off their search and accede to FLQ demands.

The Canadian government waited for word from the FLQ to its standing offer for safe passage to Cuba for the kidnapers. If the abductors agree, they would bring Cross to the Concordia Bridge over the St. Lawrence River at the site of Expo '67, Montreal's World's Fair grounds.

There the kidnapers would turn Cross over to the Cuban Consul, hop into a waiting helicopter for the short ride to Montreal International Airport, then aboard a one-way flight to Havana. Cross would be released when the kidnapers arrived in Cuba.

But the FLQ has ignored the offer made Saturday night by Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa at about the same time police discovered the bloody body of LaPorte stashed in the trunk of the auto in which he had been kidnapped. The FLQ has demanded release of 23 political prisoners and $500,000 gold in ransom for Cross.

Trudeau and Bourassa were men deeply grievous on the day of LaPorte's funeral. Both leaders were close personal friends of LaPorte, as well as being his political colleague.

Parliament Monday gave overwhelming endorsement to Trudeau's assumption of war powers. By a vote of 190-16, the House of Commons approved a resolution supporting Trudeau's decision to outlaw the FLQ and to continue his extraordinary powers until April 30, 1971, unless revoked earlier by Parliament.

Enrollment jumps 300

TWIN FALLS — Final enrollment figures for the first semester at the College of Southern Idaho show an increase of about 300 students over last year.

Jerry Meyerhoffer, director of admissions and records, said enrollment this year is 2,532, while the fall semester of the 1969-70 school year showed 2,245 students enrolled.

He said a slight increase is anticipated for second semester this year, but he feels the student population will begin to show a "lulling off" from high increases shown in the several years the college has been in existence.

He said new buildings being opened next year undoubtedly will increase enrollment, but he does not anticipate the rise to be more than 8 to 10 per cent.

CSI selects dorm mother

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Pearl Utter, Jerome, currently "house mother" and cook for the College of Southern Idaho athletic dormitory on Poplar Street, will become CSI's first dormitory house mother.

The CSI board of trustees approved a recommendation from CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor that Mrs. Utter be retained as house mother for the new dormitory now under construction on the CSI campus. Mrs. Utter has been working for the athletic "dormitory" for the past two years, Dr. Taylor said, and is well qualified for the position.

Mrs. Utter will assume her duties when the dormitory is completed. An open house for the new health-physical education building was tentatively set for Nov. 15, after the trustees suggested that Dr. Taylor make the final decision on the date when it is determined that the building will be fully ready for occupancy.

Bent ... RESULT of activity of vandals in Cascade Park in Twin Falls is shown by this telephone company installation. One unit has been bent and the other has been battered. Several trees at the park were destroyed by vandals.

City hits park acts

TWIN FALLS — City officials appealed to residents living near city parks to help stop park vandalism.

The appeal by City Manager Jean Miller and Parks Superintendent Howard Johnson followed weekend destruction of about $300 in trees at Cascade Park.

The officials asked parents to control their children and to teach them to respect public property.

Miller said taxpayers pay for parks for the general enjoyment and benefit of the public and losses such as that at Cascade Park mean more tax money must be collected from the parents of the vandals as well as other taxpayers of the city.

City police said one or more automobiles drove over the curb and into Cascade Park Saturday night or early Sunday. They drove over eight trees, breaking them off just above the ground. They also struck and broke a stop sign at the intersection of Granada Drive and Alturas Street.

City officials said parks can be fenced and locked, but this destroys their purpose as public facilities.

Mayor Lindsay drops Rocky to back Democrat Goldberg

New York pals...

NEW YORK MAYOR John Lindsay (left) endorsed Democrat Arthur J. Goldberg (right) for Governor of New York, forsaking fellow Republican Nelson Rockefeller. The move increased speculation that the mayor may switch to the Democratic Party. (UPI)

NEW YORK (UPI) — Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay endorsed Democratic candidate Arthur Goldberg for governor Monday, ignoring Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's plea that he remain neutral.

The move revived rumors that the 48-year-old mayor would switch his allegiance to the Democratic Party with an eye to the presidential nomination in 1972, but Lindsay denied this at a press conference at the mayor's residence.

"I am a Republican and I intend to remain a Republican," he said.

He gave as his reason for endorsing the former associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court and ambassador to the United Nations his evaluation of the "dominant forces" in Albany, which he said were "rooted in the past." He did not mention Rockefeller, who is running for an unprecedented fourth term on the Republican ticket, by name.

Rockefeller, in Rochester, said he would have no comment on Lindsay's announcement until he read a transcript.

Goldberg stood solemn-faced beside the mayor along with Democratic lieutenant governor candidate Basil Paterson, whom Lindsay also endorsed, but refused to answer any questions beyond a statement praising Lindsay for "performing an act of political courage."

Lindsay said he based his endorsement on the Goldberg-Paterson ticket's program for "urban survival."

Goldberg appeared angered by a suggestion from a reporter that Lindsay was repaying Goldberg for his endorsement in the 1969 mayoralty election when Lindsay lost the Republican primary and ran as a Liberal. The white-haired gubernatorial candidate said that was "emphatically" not the truth.

"I made it clear from the outset I did not expect any consideration from the mayor," he said.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who has endorsed Rockefeller, said he regretted Lindsay's decision.

Councilman Frank Cook listening intently to explanation of insurance coverage ... and overheard: "I haven't been able to park in front of my house since last year when my neighbors bought two more cars for their children."

Agnew hits 'political poultice'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew Monday night said radical politicians are using him as a "political poultice" to soothe their consciences after "flip-flopping ... on law and order."

"One must sympathize with the distress of a politician as he deserts his conscience, abandons his principles and surrenders to what he privately believes is a benighted public, poisoned with hatred and racism," Agnew told a fund-raising dinner for Sen. Ralph T. Smith, R-Ill.

So what do these conscience-stricken people do? No wonder they charge hate-peddling. No wonder a Dr. Benjamin Spock tries to spook the people by charging racism.

Knights win over Shriners

TWIN FALLS — Tabulation of results of a ticket selling contest between members of the Twin Falls Shrine Club and Knights of Columbus of St. Edward's Catholic Church was completed Monday, revealing the Knights came out on top.

Paul Reynolds, president of the Knights, said his group sold $325.25 worth of tickets to the Shrine Game, while the Shriners sold $285.50 worth of tickets. Reynolds said after paying expenses to the Twin Falls High School, this leaves in excess of $300 to use for Shrine charities.

He said other inter-organizational activities are being planned by the Knights and the Shriners.

FUNDAMENTALS are over and a new Beta Sigma Phi Chapter, Beta Rho, will have a regular meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Gary Wall to elect officers. Among those present for the pledge ritual at the Ponderosa Inn were, from left, Mrs. John Bridges, a transferee to Alpha Zeta Chapter from New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; Mrs. Dennis Critchfield, new pledge into Alpha Zeta, and Mrs. Jim Martin, president of Alpha Zeta, the sponsoring chapter.

By United Press International
Idaho politicians were on the campaign trail Monday, and Gov. Don Samuelson said in Payette the finance and insurance agencies in state government have been improved during his term in office.

Samuelson addressed the Idaho Social Welfare Conference in Boise Monday, a student convocation at Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa and other functions in Payette.

Democratic gubernatorial nominee Cecil Andrus addressed Blackfoot residents and called for new clean industry to bolster the economy. If elected, he said he would accelerate the development of Idaho's industries, helping with problems and assisting pollution abatement efforts.

Tony Park, Democratic candidate for attorney general, campaigned in Bonners Ferry and urged strict enforcement of existing dredge mining control legislation. If elected, he said, "There will be no catering to any certain interest groups or persons because he is politically or economically important."

Republican candidate for state auditor Jack Holley said in Weiser Monday that incumbent Joe

Williams never reviewed accounting procedures used by the State Highway Department, "and thus created the atmosphere for the embezzlement of nearly half a million dollars over an eight-year period."

Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor Paul Boyd said in Priest River Monday, "Our first priority has got to be to realize that everything in Idaho is not as rosy as the governor would like to have us believe."

If elected, Boyd said he would see that "non-polluting, year-round industries are made aware of the advantages of locating in Idaho."

Marden Wells, Democratic candidate for Second District congressman, said the layoff situation at the National Reactor Testing Station (NRTS) was "intolerable," and said both the Atomic Energy Commission and the Idaho Nuclear Corp. must share the responsibility for the employment crisis.

State Sen. John Evans, D-Malad, said Monday since Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon had aided passage of 1970 bills to make Idaho bank interest provisions more workable. He counteracted charges made by Wallace Connolly, Republican candidate for the treasurer's position, and said Connolly had not checked the situation of Miss Moon's role in the legislation passage.

The state treasurer had words of her own Monday, and she called upon Gov. Samuelson to explain if any school endowment fund principal was most when Idaho's Investment Board cashed in funds before the 1969 maturation date.

T.F. airport operations reach 47,632 annual rate

TWIN FALLS — Airplane operations at the Twin Falls City-County Airport, Joslin Field, have reached an annual rate of 47,632, it was announced today by Harry Merrick, airport manager.

Merrick said the figure was announced by officials of the Federal Aviation Administration following an official survey made in connection with plans which would see a control tower established at the field.

Broken down, the survey shows air carrier itinerant operations have now reached 80 a week with civil itinerant operations at 4310 a week. In addition civil local operations have reached an average of 405 a week.

"This means," Merrick said, "that air carrier and civil itinerant operations here are now at a 26,572 yearly level and local civil operations now stand at 21,060 for like period."

Twin Falls is one of 16 airports in the western United States now eligible for control tower facilities when money is available. Only fields in Idaho at the present time having control towers are Boise, Pocatello and Idaho Falls.

In a letter to Merrick, Vaughn M. Clayton, area FAA manager, said that under present standards an airport qualifies as a candidate for tower service when scheduled air service reaches and maintains 24,000 or more annual operations, including civil itinerant operations.

"When an airport qualifies for such a facility," Clayton wrote, "it receives budgetary consideration along with other qualified locations on a national basis."

Bored Youth

S. I. Hayakawa, the embattled proxy of San Francisco State, was the first to broach the idea. Now another college president has spoken in favor of some kind of mandatory public service by America's youth.

"Bored and frustrated, they line our city parks, experiment in drugs, shun responsible adult behavior, adopt new and weird life styles, and generally rebel against what they perceive to be the inherent deficiencies in the system.

While it will take some time for the full impact on world politics of the decision of Canada and Communist China to do diplomatic business with each other to be felt, one point is immediately clear. Peking is again openly acknowledging the existence of the rest of the world.

carry Peking into the United Nations. Quite a change for the sullen, insult-snarling, isolated China of only a few years back. But while the Chinese may not have been on diplomatic speaking terms with the outside during Mao's chaotic revolution from the top, they were far from oblivious to the rest of the world.

WASHINGTON — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, whose credibility has come under serious question in recent months, could redeem himself if the Soviet Union makes a really serious attempt to re-ally President Nixon's peace plan to the North Vietnamese.

Implicit in Rogers' attitude was a United States disillusionment with the Russian performance during the Arab-Israeli cease-fire. It is the official Washington view that Moscow connived with Egypt in violating the truce agreement. The State Department also has been unhappy with what it calls Dobrynin's failure accurately to present the U.S. position on other issues to his Kremlin bosses.

Out Of Style

War is going out of style. The Institute for Strategic Studies has issued its report on the right-now military balance among the nations of the world and the Russians have overtaken us (spelled U.S.) in land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles.

WASHINGTON — Whatever its image for Democrats, Sargent Shriver's congressional campaign effort looks like a Kennedy holding operation to some of President Nixon's top political advisers. Their appraisal, discreetly circulated in the White House, is that Shriver's organization, "Congressional Leadership of the Future," is designed to keep the political options open for the Kennedy family and for those Democratic leaders who have backed Jack, Bob and Ted.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I think I'll live dangerously and try the fllet of mercury!"

DEAR ABBY: MARYLOO wrote to you saying pregnant women have no business working in an office. She says they come late to work due to morning sickness, have to leave early for a doctor's appointment, can't reach the high files and can't bend down to get into the low files. Also that sympathetic co-workers do their work for them.

I happen to agree with her. The employee with integrity (man or woman) will give his employer a full day's work for a full day's pay. You, Dear Abby, defended the pregnant working girl, saying, "I'm sure she'd rather be home, but she continues to work because she has to."

Sorry, Abby, but in this day and age, no girl has to get pregnant unless she wants to. And if she is so stupid or careless as to find herself in that condition before she is financially able to quit her job, I have no sympathy for her.

MARRIED, CHILDLESS AND SMART

DEAR ABBY: In your valiant effort to defend the pregnant working girl, you said, "There is only one reason why a pregnant girl would go to an office and that's because she has to, so how about a little compassion sister?"

Well, I must be the exception because I worked right up to the bitter end—not because I "had" to, but because my doctor said it would be "good" for me. He said pregnancy is not an "illness," it is a normal condition, and the woman who sits around and treats herself as an invalid is apt to have all sorts of aches and pains.

I worked well into my ninth month. I gained only 14 pounds and never felt better in my life. One morning while taking dictation I thought someone had suddenly kicked me in the kidney! That was my first labor pain. Four hours later I was the mother of a healthy six pound baby boy.

So, please tell pregnant women that "work" is the best medicine. I recommend it. BARBARA IN MARYLAND

DEAR ABBY: There is another reason why a pregnant woman might stay on the job in an office when she would rather be home. Her boss "needs" her.

My boss kept begging me to stay on "another week" and "another week" until I almost delivered my baby between the reception room and the switchboard. This is no lie. I had nearly 40 witnesses.

JULIA IN MISSOULA

DEAR ABBY: I have been in charge of office personnel for almost 30 years—and I have some news for MARYLOO.

In every office you will find the "complainers" (men as well as women) who always have a headache, an upset stomach, a backache or a hangover. But when it comes to pregnant women, I have found them to be every bit as efficient during pregnancy as before and after.

MALE PERSONNEL MGR.

DEAR ABBY: I am 38, single and have done office work for many years. I sincerely hope your readers won't think MARYLOO's attitude toward pregnant women who work is typical. It's not.

I have worked with many pregnant women and not one of them has ever expected—or asked for any special concessions because of her condition. Also, it has been my observation that all their co-workers (including me) always offered to assist them in every way possible without being asked.

Club counselors needed

TWIN FALLS—Junior Music Club counselors are needed throughout Magic Valley according to Mrs. Paul B. Houston, District No. 5 president.

"This year we began way short of counselors and we have been unable to replace them, so we are making a special public appeal for volunteers to help head the schools' Junior Music Clubs of the area," she noted.

A counselor serves as an adviser to young people from first through 12th grade level, for one hour each month. Meetings are generally held at the school from 4 to 5 p.m. However... if membership majority and the counselor are unable to meet at this time, it is permissible to hold the meeting in a home during an evening hour. This hour must meet with the approval of the counselor and the parents.

The programs are completely outlined for the counselors by the National Federation of Music Clubs with which all Junior Music Clubs are affiliated. Each year the Twin Falls Music Club and the Junior Music Clubs bring many high caliber music programs to our area and many have profited from the scholarships that have been made available at both the local and national levels. Some of the more recent affiliated members now in professional fields of music or colleges and universities include Laura Vincent, Diana Hopperstad, Beck Sullivan, Paula Annis, Velma Guyer and Joyce Guyer, according to Mrs. Houston.

Under the attendance bylaws handed down for all Junior Music Club members, if any student of music has not attended two consecutive meetings or has two unexcused absences, the student is disqualified for entrance in the Junior Music Festival and also for consideration of any scholarship allocation. "If you do not have an active Junior Music Club in your school then you will be held personally responsible to see to it that you attend another school's Junior Music Club meeting to be put on attendance rolls for qualification, until a counselor is found for your school, Mrs. Houston noted.

You cannot qualify for any Music Club Scholarships or Festival participation if you are not a member in good standing, this means attending club meetings as well.

If you are interested in music and helping youth of the area contact Mrs. Paul B. Houston, District No. 5 chairman of Junior Music Clubs, at 733-6664 or write her at 2065 Elizabeth Blvd., Twin Falls. "A formal musical background or education is not necessary. We need leaders that are primarily interested in working with the young. Our principles are as strict as our goals are high. We have more and more available to our youth in the fields of scholarships through music and dance than ever before," Mrs. Houston stated.

A club is not limited to just music students, it is available to any child who is interested in music. The main purposes are to bring together young people who are interested in music to further themselves culturally as well as to stimulate interest in creative music; to provide incentive for high standards of performance through Festival events and workshops; and to encourage service through music; to broaden the vision and the ability of the Junior Music Club members as well as promotion of community culture.

District No. 5 Junior Music Club officers are Mrs. Paul B. Houston, president; Mrs. Gordon Beckstead, secretary; Mrs. Marvin Molyneux, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Youtz, scholarship chairman and national advisor to Junior Music Clubs in Idaho; Mrs. John Birrell, rating sheets and achievement book chairman; Mr. Louis Harrison, Junior Music Festival chairman; Mrs. S. W. Smith, president Twin Falls Music Club and Junior Music Club advisory Parliamentarian; Mrs. John Coleman Jr., Keynotes newsgatherer, and Nick Bond, program co-ordinator and adviser.

District No. 5 includes eight counties which include parochial schools as well as public schools. Counties include Blaine, Cassia, Camas Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls.

TWIN FALLS — A work program for next year's operation of the South Central Community Action Agency will be reviewed when the Twin Falls County board meets at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Episcopal Church.

Larry Mack, CAA director, said the work program has evolved from a planning cycle, which ended in August and from priorities which were established at 14 meetings in the tri-county after the cycle.

He said he will present a preview of staff modification and revision during the meeting. The board also will discuss the seven and one-half per cent reduction in Head Start funds. Mack said he did not know what the local implications of the cutback would be, but hoped to have a plan ready for presentation to the board Wednesday.

Roy Slotton, board member, Mack said, will review the OEO evaluation of the CAA and present a report on it.

Hansen to sign lease

HANSEN — Bill Wiseman, chairman of the Hansen Sewer and Water Improvement Association, was given authority at a meeting of the group Monday night to draw up a lease agreement with the city of Hansen for installation of a pump on the newly dug well.

The well has been completed as part of the city's sewage and water project, financed by a $169,000 FHA loan. Wiseman said the installation of the pump will be paid for from funds left from installation of the sewage system.

Association directors also decided to charge a minimum fee of $10 for the sewer cleaning equipment which has been received. In addition to the initial $10 fee, $5 will be charged per hour after the first two hours.

Demos address chamber

BURLEY — Burley Chamber of Commerce members heard two Democratic candidates voice their views at a luncheon Monday noon.

Candidates were Clarence Parr, who is seeking the post of Cassia County representative on the Democratic ticket; and Robert Saxvik, Democratic candidate for state senator.

Both candidates filed nominating petitions following the primary election in August.

They were introduced by Charles Hendricks, of the chamber, who also announced that the Democratic headquarters would remain open each evening until the Nov. 3 election. The office is located across the street from the city hall.

Ernest Blauer, chamber president, announced that a board meeting will be conducted at 7 a.m. Oct. 29 at Bryan's Cafe.

Lawyers concur on point

(Editors note: This is the eighth of several dispatches outlining the views of the various candidates for state and congressional office in the Nov. 3 general election. They are based on exclusive interviews with each of the candidates. Today — attorney general.)

By RICHARD CHARNOCK BOISE (UPI) — Republican incumbent Robert M. Robson and his opponent, Democrat W. Anthony Park, agree that the post of attorney general often is a political stepping stone.

But they do not necessarily agree it should be removed from the partisan political arena and put on a non-partisan ticket similar to those for the supreme or district courts.

"Yes, the analogy with the judges is very similar," Robson said. "I have had a policy here of not asking people I recruit what political faith they hold. And, as you know, I have Democrats as well as Republicans on my staff."

"I'm interested in their professional ability. Because this is a professional office I don't think their politics makes a

Lack of funds terminates chamber post at Ketchum

KETCHUM — Ketchum Chamber of Commerce officials said today the full-time manager's position, held for the past year by John Nelson, has been terminated for the remainder of the year due to lack of sufficient funds.

Although Nelson is no longer affiliated with the chamber office, Helen Dupuis will be in the office from 1 to 3 p. m. weekdays to handle phone calls.

Nelson, who has maintained a home in Halley for the past two years, said he regrets the necessity of the change and has enjoyed working with the members of the Ketchum community. He said because only half of the merchants in Ketchum, including the utilities, contributed membership support this year, not enough funds were available to provide a payroll for 12 months.

"Any chamber of commerce is only as good as the membership behind it, both in financial support and participation in the meetings and programs," he said.

Chamber directors have not yet made a decision as to what will be done about the position after membership contributions are again submitted after the first of the year.

Nelson, who said he has no immediate plans for the future except to remain in the area, advocated a single chamber organization for the entire Wood River Valley instead of the smaller organizations for the individual communities.

"A concentrated effort would be better for the county," he said.

T.F. man wounded

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man who was injured early today in a shooting in Twin Falls was released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital following treatment.

City police said George Baltes was shot through the left leg above the knee and through the left foot about 2:10 a. m. as he and two other men sat in a car on Fourth Avenue West.

Officers said the men explained the shooting was an accident and no charges have been filed.

Firemen said an oil stove in the frame home overheated, but there was no fire.

Ketchum council approves project

KETCHUM — Plans for a five-unit model condominium at Warm Springs were approved and the building permit issued by the Ketchum City Council Monday.

The International Village at Warm Springs Condominiums, planned by Warm Springs Properties Corp., will include 30 units, the initial five of which will be built this year. The total units will cover 92,800 square feet.

Each of the units will enclose 400 square feet and will be one-bedroom studios. Estimated cost of construction for the five units will be $85,000, according to Jim Russett, architect for the firm.

The building permit and three others approved Monday night brought the total new construction costs in Ketchum so far this year to $2,724,688. The total for 1969 was $1,809,000.

Mrs. Jack Allred, parttime Ketchum resident, requested the council to investigate vandalism on property on Sixth Street near Wood River. She said because of the severe, repeated destruction her insurance has been canceled, as well as policies for several surrounding property owners.

Mayor Kenneth Richey said he will instruct the chief of police, Dennis Haynes, to conduct a thorough investigation of the matter.

Councilmen also placed on first reading Ordinance 156, changing the zoning of about two acres of land owned by Mary Pichon in the western part of town from limited residential to mobile homes.

In other business, councilmen tentatively scheduled a joint meeting with the Sun Valley Water and Sewer District Board for Nov. 10 to determine proportionate shares of the sewer plant cost.

Advisory council to meet

TWIN FALLS — Organization of the newly appointed Twin Falls Youth Advisory Council is scheduled Wednesday morning, Paul Ostyn, city council member, announced today.

He said the youth selected from all interest groups at local junior and senior high schools will meet at 7 a. m. Wednesday at the Rogerson coffee shop for a breakfast session. A chairman will be named and committee assignments made.

Appointed two weeks ago, the group will serve as an advisory unit to the city council on youth and government as a whole.

Ostyn said James Adams, state youth coordinator, met with him last week to discuss youth council activities.

"When we complete organization, we will have one of the first if not the first such councils functioning in Idaho," Ostyn said.

Burley okays rates

BURLEY — Burley city councilmen Monday night instructed city attorney William Parsons to amend the city's sewer and water rate charges to include increases overlooked in two categories.

These are an increase in the sewer flat rate for apartments and the water rate for motels.

Howard Schell was appointed deputy sanitation officer.

Under suspension of the rules, councilmen voted to change the zoning of the area where the Dairy Queen is located from commercial to industrial. This area also includes the house on Miller Avenue which is to become Frederickson Hobby and Crafts business.

Councilmen also set Nov. 2 as the date to hire a golf pro, and told John Hilling the city is unable to provide any services to areas outside the city limits. He was inquiring about the possibility of putting a 100-unit trailer court on South Overland near Farmers Corner.

Conversion completed

TWIN FALLS — State highway officials have converted the traffic light on Second Avenue South at intersection with Second Street to a flasher light, city manager Jean Miller announced today.

He said under the reconstruction plan for Twin Falls, Second Street will no longer have through traffic and because of this the highway department has decided U. S. 30 east bound traffic should not be required to stop for the full traffic cycle.

whole lot of difference providing they don't use the office for political purposes."

Park disagreed with the idea of making it non-partisan.

"Even though the attorney general is the legal adviser for all constitutional officers and departments, he is still responsible to the people ultimately," Park said.

"We've seen examples where politics has entered into the advice which has been given by the incumbent attorney general to opposing political office holders," he said, mentioning the battle between Auditor Joe Williams, a Democrat, and the Republican Board of Examiners.

He said if an office is run as a professional agency and professional standards are maintained the "political" problem will not exist.

"I think that if you make the office into a non-partisan position much of the inherent responsiveness to the electorate could be lost," Park said.

Robson, 48, was appointed attorney general in January, 1969, to succeed Allan G. Shepard who resigned to step up to the Supreme Court. Before his appointment, Robson practiced law at Kellogg and, prior to that, at Grangeville. He is a former prosecuting attorney and during the Eisenhower administration was district attorney for the Pacific Trust Territories.

Park, 35, was born in southeastern Idaho and reared in the Boise area. He was graduated from Boise Junior College and from the University of Idaho. He has degrees both in law and political science. He practices law in Boise.

They indicated they have many areas of disagreement about the office when they answered these questions:

Q: "Is there anything not being done now which you would do if elected attorney general — that is, legal actions specifically for which this office is responsible?"

Robson: "There are some things I would like to do in the area of consumer protection and anti-trust. But I'm not able to because I don't have the people. There are some things in the area of pollution control I would like to do, but I don't

TWIN FALLS — Trustees of the College of Southern Idaho Monday evening approved a fee schedule for use of the new physical education building and heard a report on other campus construction.

The board's action came after considering a proposal outlining estimated costs of use of the building which would equal about $435.50 for one session by a group.

The cost breakdown includes $15 for an electrician; $10.50 for sound or lighting technician; $7.50, custodial costs; $32.50, three security officers in the building during its use by a public group; $4 for support personnel in the maintenance building; $24, four security personnel for parking; $71.50, "heat demand"; $120 for lighting, and $80 for 40 man-hours of cleaning.

Other estimated costs for use of the gymnasium include $15 for water, $15.50, restroom supplies, $7, depreciation of lighting equipment, $15, use and depreciation of air filters and $16 for arrangement of seating risers and chairs.

The fee schedule allows a variation if admission is charged by a group using the building. When admission is charged, the fees are $400 for each usage, day or evening; $150 per afternoon or evening for rehearsals or setting up; and $250 per day for building use.

The maximum time to be allowed any group will be 15 days.

When no admission is to be charged, the fees will be $200 for each performance, $100 per day for rehearsals and $100 per day for technical work, with a maximum of three days allowed for such usage.

Commercial organizations will pay $75 per hour with a $200 minimum, and a maximum of 72 hours allowed. Conventions will pay $50 per hour if no admission is charged, with a $200 minimum; if admission is charged, the first fee schedule is put into effect, as with any public group charging admission.

Dr. Taylor said there has been a problem with groups wishing to rent the Fine Arts Auditorium, then expecting to use the hall at no charge in advance of the performance for "testing the sound" or "trying it on for size."

Such use in the physical education building will require a charge, Dr. Taylor said.

The trustees approved a request from Dr. Taylor that the Lyceum Committee act as the board's agent in handling public rentals and use of the physical education building. The committee has approved the fee schedule, Dr. Taylor said.

The health-physical education building is essentially complete, Dr. Taylor reported to the board. A representative of the federal office of education, Dee Moore, toured the building on Monday to determine the state of the construction. There are a few items yet to be delivered and installed, including an interior railing around a stairway, Dr. Taylor said. In addition, there may be a few items to be brought up to our standards" by the bonding company which insured the performance of the contractor, he said.

All furniture for the building has been shipped and should be in place within a week, the CSI president added.

The student union and multi-purpose buildings are approximately 80 per cent complete. "We could have a bond sale within a couple of weeks," Dr. Taylor said. However, getting the proper documents approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has been a problem since the HUD agency has moved its offices to Portland and "the people in Portland don't know about us and our problems yet."

Magic Valley South Park sewer eyed

TWIN FALLS — City Engineer George Michaels advised city council members Monday night it will cost the city $4,500 for its share of a new sewer service for a group of South Park homes where no sewer facilities are now available.

Outlining costs of the South Locust project under a local improvement district plan, he said the city's $4,500 would build the short main trunk line while property owners would pay for their share of the improvement, including lateral lines over 10 to 20 years.

He said his department has worked this out on a basis of $6.35 per lineal foot of property if paid for in 10 years, and $8.69 per foot if extended the full 20 years because of higher interest charges. Total cost of the lateral sewers would be $6,500 and if the property owners choose to pay cash the cost will be $4.60 per foot, he said.

He said law requires 60 per cent of the property owners to sign the petition for the facilities and rough surveys indicate 62.5 per cent are now in favor. The proposed line would serve a section of South Locust running into Rock Creek Canyon with city providing the line into the canyon to meet existing sewer lines.

City officials took no action on forming the district, pending further visits with owners of rental property in the area. There are 12 homes to be served and four of these are owned by non-residents and are rented. No commitment has been received from these property owners.

A new call for bids for the purchase of parking meters in the downtown area was approved. City Manager Millar said only one bid was received in the first opening and parking studies have now indicated a change in specifications would be desirable for the new downtown parking spaces.

New meter bids will be opened Oct. 20. The city council also authorized a call for bids on Nov. 12 for liability insurance on a three year period.

Bids will be opened Nov. 5 at 4 p. m. for five new city vehicles which have been provided for in the current budget. These include three new police cars and five pickups for various city departments.

Chief of Police Frank Barnett was authorized to set a date for sale of unclaimed cars and bicycles the police department now has in storage. He suggested Nov. 20 at 10 a. m. at the city lot on Washington Street and 4th Ave. W., as time and place for sale.

Auditor receives blue books

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls County auditor's office on the second floor of the courthouse has received the "blue book" on the proposed revision of the Idaho Constitution.

The 74-page booklet, issued by Secretary of State Pete Conrassua, compares the present Idaho Constitution with the revised version and comments on the changes. The booklet takes no stand either for or against adoption of the revision, but was printed as an explanation and clarification of the changes.

All Idaho voters will decide whether to adopt the revised constitution in the general election Nov. 3.

Hewritt Dixon, Raiders blister 'Skins 34-20

OAKLAND (UPI)—A revived Hewritt Dixon shattered the Washington defense for 164 yards rushing and quarterback Daryle Lamonica fired three scoring passes Monday night as the Oakland Raiders blistered the Redskins 34-20.

Troubled by knee and shoulder miseries last season, Dixon punished the Redskins with a masterful 99-yard scoring dash the first time Oakland got the ball. He compiled his most productive rushing performance since 1968 in helping set up Lamonica's touchdown passes of 28 and 24 yards to Warren Wells and 16 yards to Charlie Smith.

Longhorns edge closer to Ohio State in poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Woody Hayes of Ohio State and Durrell Royal of Texas must feel as if they're reliving the 1969 season. A year ago, Ohio State held the No. 1 ranking through most of the season, trailed closely by Texas. The Buckeyes were upset in their season finale by Michigan and Texas pulled off one of its miracle finishes to beat Arkansas in its last game and take the national title. The scene is the same this season, with only some characters changed. Ohio State was rated the nation's No. 1 team today in balloting by the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches and Texas ranked second, a scant eight points behind. Both teams received 14 first place votes. Ohio State, 4-0, has four relatively easy games before ending against Michigan, unbeaten in five games and ranked seventh in the nation.

Texas again concludes its season on Dec. 6 with its traditional battle against Arkansas and at this stage, it looks as if these two will decide the national title. Notre Dame maintained a close third, 20 points behind Texas. Nebraska was fourth, followed by Auburn, Air Force, Michigan, Stanford, Arkansas and Arizona State to complete the top 10. Southern California was 11th, followed by Tennessee, Mississippi, Houston, San Diego State and UCLA. Louisiana State and Toledo, the only other teams receiving votes, tied for 17th and last place. Ohio State beat Minnesota Saturday, 22-8, to remain unbeaten while Texas drew a bye. Notre Dame rallied to beat Missouri, 24-7, and Nebraska, 24-10, Saturday. Auburn ran its record to 5-0 with a 31-7 rout of Georgia Tech, ranked 15th last week, and surprising Air Force continued to roll, boosting its record to 6-0 with a 28-3 romp over Navy.

Maloney, a junior, was a halfback on the regular Atwater varsity squad but was sent to play in the JV game because the junior squad was one player short.

Films show Dummit didn't score winning touchdown
OAKLAND (UPI)—Coach Ray Wilsey of the California Bears charged Monday that quarterback Dennis Dummit never scored a touchdown with four seconds left in the game. "Facts are facts, his knee hit the ground before he dove into the end zone," Wilsey told Northern California football writers at their regular weekly meeting. Wilsey said he arrived at his conclusion only after reviewing films of Dummit's run which gave the Bruins a 24-21 victory Saturday at Bears Stadium. "I noted three things for sure after viewing the films," said Wilsey. "Dummit did not score, he was not out of bounds and UCLA had no timeouts remaining with four seconds left."

at then physical problems at the moment," noted Wilsey, who added that defensive back Dave Lawson suffered a broken arm against UCLA and may be lost for the season. Coach John Ralston of Stanford, whose Indians play at UCLA Saturday night, said the Bruins would be on "cloud nine" after the Cal win. "But we're going to be high too," noted Ralston, "because we haven't won at the Los Angeles Coliseum since 1962. "I'm sure the ball will be sailing around quite a bit with two great quarterbacks toying them up." One of those quarterbacks is Stanford's Jim Plunkett who shared offensive player of the week honors with University of Pacific quarterback John Head, a Berkeley native. Plunkett became the alltime NCAA yardage gainer in leading the Indians to a 63-16 rout of Washington State. He completed 10 of 14 passes for 224 yards and two touchdowns in addition to scoring on a 39-yard run. "Donting Washington State was a big thing," continued Ralston.

Foreman, Frazier will be in unique ring twin bill

NEW YORK (UPI)—The George Foreman-Boone Kirkman heavyweight fight, originally scheduled for Oct. 15, has been re-scheduled for Madison Square Garden on Nov. 18 as part of a unique doubleheader, it was announced Monday by the Garden and TNT Communications, Inc. The Foreman-Kirkman 10-round fight is scheduled for the same night as the Joe Frazier-Bobby Foster 15-round heavyweight title fight at Cobo Hall in Detroit, and TNT Communications plans to televise both events live to hundreds of theaters and arenas throughout the United States, Canada and abroad.

Nathan L. Halpern, president of TNT, said this unique electronics doubleheader is the first of its kind. Fans attending the Foreman-Kirkman fight at Madison Square Garden will get to see the Frazier-Foster match on four giant tv screens upon conclusion of the Foreman-Kirkman event. Fans going to the Frazier-Foster match will have to come early to see the Foreman-Kirkman bout via the same setup. Madison Square Garden will have the exclusive rights to the doubleheader in New York City, but there will be bookings in other parts of the Metropolitan area. The doubleheader also will be shown to countries in Central America, South America, Europe and Asia.

Tickets for the Garden event are scaled from $25 to $55. The Foreman-Kirkman bout features two of the nation's leading heavyweight contenders. Foreman, the 1968 Olympic champion, is undefeated after 22 professional fights and has knocked out 19 opponents. Only 21, he is regarded by many as the prime title contender for 1972. He is currently the third ranked heavyweight.

Chiefs put out fire in Bengals

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown said Monday "we were on fire then somebody threw a bucket of water on it" in reference to the Bengals 27-10 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs on Sunday. Brown didn't say so but that "water" could have been a call by Back Judge Stan Javie who called interference on the Bengals Fletcher Smith late in the game with the Chiefs leading only 24-10. "It was a helluva call," said Smith. "I don't think I was guilty of interference. But it was a judgement deal. "I did make contact but we were both in the air," said Smith. "It would be different if we were both on the ground."

The penalty set up a 24 yard field goal by Jan Stenerud and iced the game for the Chiefs. "We were really up in the bit," said Brown. "We gave it a good try but we gave away too many things early in the game." "We made mistakes in the first half, then began to clean it up," said Brown. "Those last three points were the killer," said Brown. "They took away all the chance we had."

One of the highlights of the game was a 59 yard touchdown run by Kansas City's Ed Podolak who lent straight down the sidelines after taking a short pass from Chiefs' quarterback Lenny Dawson. "We missed a tackle on that touchdown," said Brown. The Bengals are now 1-4 and Kansas City is 3-2, over the 500 mark for the first time this season.

Baynham will get surgery

CHICAGO (UPI)—Fullback Baynham of the Chicago Bears will undergo surgery Wednesday to repair a dislocated tendon in his injured leg, Dr. Theodore Fox, the team's physician, said Monday. Fox is scheduled for a doubleheader surgical performance on that day at Illinois Masonic Hospital. He is also slated to operate on Bear-halfback Gale Sayers on Wednesday. Sayers is lost for the season, but Fox said it was likely Baynham's leg could be sufficiently mended for action in the team's last four games.

Forcing Two-Club Halts Bid at Four

there might be a heart slam but he did not need to do any more than bid the heart game. The two-spade bid had shown 7-9 high-card points. The heart raise showed four hearts. It was up to South to bid.

South thought about his partner. Then he realized that his partner knew all about his hand and had not invited a slam. Hence, it was most unlikely that North would hold the nine-point maximum for his two-spade response. South settled for game.

When South saw the dummy, he realized there was a fair play for the slam but he needed the diamond finesse and good breaks in the other suits.

Pass 1♣ Pass 2♣
Pass 4♠ Pass 3♠

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?
A—Bid four no-trump. Your partner would have bid four spades if he weren't interested in slam. He undoubtedly has only one club and all your points except the club jack are working.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner bids five hearts to show two aces. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow
Championship techniques are easy-to-understand in Jacoby Modern in new 128-page, illustrated book. For your copy, send name, address, zip and $1 c/o this newspaper.

In JACOBY MODERN, the only forcing opening bid is two clubs. It is a regular standard American two-bid in any suit or with certain very strong no-trump hands. The first response is based entirely on high-card points in accordance with the 1-1-1 table: two diamonds 0-3; two hearts 4-6; two spades 7-9; two no-trump 10-12 and three clubs 13 points or more. The first rebid identifies the opening hand. Thus, South's two no-trump rebid showed a 23- or 24-point no-trump hand. North's three clubs was Stayman to ask South if he held a four-card major and North raised to four.

NINTH MOST POPULAR name among 18-year-old girls nationwide is said to be Barbara. Among 18-year-old boys, the ninth-most popular name is George. THE SAN FRANCISCO CHAPTER of a collegiate sorority requires each of its pledges to get at least 50 signatures on the shell of a raw egg. . . . THAT MAN WHO puts the most mileage on his car is the 26-year-old studies show. The woman who drives the most is the 32-year-old.

LOVE AND WAR - A divorced woman is not as eager to remarry as is a divorced man, evidently. A statistical study of the averages shows a typical divorcee does not get married again until four and a half years after the breakup of her first marriage. The typical divorced man, however, marries again two and a half years afterwards.

VERSE - A poetic horseplayer named Dave Elrod, known heretofore as the Arkansas Traveler, composed the following: "In this great land autonomous. . . These things we hold synonymous. . . Age and Sage. . . Adolescence and Effervescence. . . But not Youth and Couth." Pulitzer committee, please note.

OPEN QUESTION - What trees ordinarily shed their leaves first in the fall?

LOOKING BACKWARD - There are two people I never see anymore. As a youngster I saw them all the time. They're composite characters. One is an old man stretched out on his back to take a nap with a newspaper over his face. The other is an old woman with an apron full of pea pods on a porch rocker. Where did they go? Did they die?

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "How often does an ostrich lay an egg?" A. Every two maybe three days. Until she has laid about 30. Then she knocks off for the season. . . Q. "Those movie stars who go to Switzerland still have to pay some taxes, don't they?" A. That's right. About a tenth as much as they'd pay if they lived in the United States. . . Q. "How big is one of my tear glands?" A. About the size of an almond, probably.

THE RECORD SHOWS a Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler named their little boy Ferris. What do you think of that? . . . A MARRIAGE LICENSE CLERK of lengthy experience contends the prettiest women in the country marry engineers. . . DON'T FORGET NOW, if you want everything on your hamburger when down south, you tell the waitress, "Drag it through the garden."

OSCAR - Why was the Academy Award statuette named after Oscar Pierce of Texas? That's what I asked. A client says one Margaret Herrick, a librarian, so named it in 1931. When Miss Herrick, saw it, she reportedly said, "Why, it looks just like my Uncle Oscar!" A newspaperman overheard. And the tag took hold.

RAPID REPLY - No, sir, nobody in the world knows exactly how many research laboratories the Federal Government now operates.

'Grey Fox' enjoying his political fight

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Democratic Sen. Albert Gore, "the Grey Fox" of Tennessee politics, is fighting for his political life and seemingly loving every minute of it.

A veteran of 32 years in Congress, Gore revels in his "Grey Fox" title and recently delighted supporters by claiming the fox is cunning and chased, but never caught by fat cats.

The liberal senator is up against a 39-year-old conservative who typifies the new breed of young Republicans.

Brock exudes Republican confidence of one handpicked by the nation's Chief Executive to carry the banner. He is heir to a Chattanooga candy manufacturing fortune, and a low-key voice for "fiscal responsibility," administration foreign policies and a war of crime.

Gore Adds Spark
Gore has added spark to a campaign already heavy with fireworks.

When Vice President Spiro T. Agnew visited Memphis on a mission to raise funds for Brock and Republican gubernatorial hopeful Winfield Dunn, Gore met the plane and bid him welcome.

A week later, the senator partially upstaged a $50 a plate Republican "fox hunters" dinner by hosting his own "one gullus" luncheon in the same city just hours before the GOP affair.

Brock hits hardest at Gore's dovish position on the Vietnam War and his no vote on two Supreme Court nominees.

Brock calls the two issues "insults" to many Tennesseans. Gore stresses what he has done for the public and rattles off the rail call on Medicare, tax reform, roads and other broad and butter legislation.

Democrats Hard to Find
It's generally accepted that Gore can write off East Tennessee, where in some sections it's hard to find a Democrat. But he should poll well in his own area, Middle Tennessee.

It's in the West section of the state that the outcome should be settled.

Primary voting in rural West Tennessee showed disappointment in the senator's last six years in office. In populous Shelby County (Memphis) where 40 per cent of the registered voters are black, there was a poor turnout in the precincts that could do Gore the most good.

However, Democratic gubernatorial nominee John Jay Hooker Jr. may prove a boon to Gore in Memphis. Hooker forces are counting on a heavy black vote, and extensive work has been done on the Democratic candidate of the precinct level.

China's population explosion slows up

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China's 15-year effort to curb its population explosion may be paying off.

That's the cautious guess of population experts from the United Nations. They say that by the end of the century, China could have a stable population with a slow growth rate, like present-day Japan.

New studies of China by the U.N. came to light this month in Tokyo at the regional conference of the International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF).

In the studies, the U.N. Population Bureau estimated that Mainland China now has just under 700 million inhabitants—more than three times the population of the United States.

Most significant, however, was the guess that between 1963 and 1968 China's population grew at a rate of only 1.4 per cent a year. That would be one of the lowest growth rates in Asia, and comparable to Japan and the advanced countries of the West.

Japan's yearly population gain in the same period was 1.1 per cent. The American figure was 1.2 per cent.

"All of this is guessing," said Dr. Irene B. Taeuber, senior research demographer at Princeton University. "We will have to go on guessing until the Chinese choose to tell us what the situation really is."

The Chinese stopped publishing meaningful statistics about their country in 1959, during the economic setbacks of Chairman Mao Tse-tung's "Great Leap Forward."

"All the reports we are getting out of China suggest much lower fertility in the urban areas," Dr. Taeuber said. "If you assume that 85 per cent of China is rural, the real question is what is happening in the rural area."

"We know that in 1954-56 period, contraception, sterilization and induced abortion were all put into the Chinese public health service, and we know they've stayed there."

Unlike many South Asian countries, the Chinese have a long tradition of population control by infanticide, Dr. Taeuber said. This makes it easier for them to accept the idea of birth control, than for people in Moslem and Catholic cultures.

Indians meeting in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — Representatives of 120 major American Indian tribes and government officials involved in Indian affairs convene this week for the 27th annual convention of the National Congress of American Indians.

The delegates are expected to take a stand on legislation President Nixon intends to present to Congress. Interior Secretary Walter Hickel will keynote the week-long convention and present the administration's views.

One of the Nixon administration bills would create an assistant secretary of interior in charge of Indian affairs.

Another bill which the Indians will consider would create an independent Indian legal counsel authority. It would be empowered to defend Indian water and land claims against directly conflicting claims of the federal government.

Thirty years ago, fewer than one-in-five was being saved from cancer; today the American Cancer Society reports, it is one-in-three. It could be one-in-two with early detection and prompt treatment.

Taking aim . . .
AN AMERICAN SOLDIER with a half-eaten candy bar in his mouth takes aim with a M-79 grenade launcher at Trung Leung, South Vietnam, which is less than a mile south of the DMZ. He wears a hat on which he has written the ironic anti-war slogan, "Bill for peace." (UPI)

Foreign policy Nixon's strongest talking point

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon obviously believes that foreign policy is one of his administration's strongest talking points in a campaign where Republicans are meeting difficulties on other fronts.

The President is campaigning in behalf of Republicans hopefuls with a flat promise that "the Vietnam war is coming to an end."

And he says that with adequate congressional support he has a chance of giving the electorate "not just peace for the next election but peace for the next generation."

These might appear to be overly optimistic predictions in view of the facts that Hanoi has rejected Nixon's peace plan as a fraud and the American peace initiative in the Middle East has bogged down with no breakthrough in sight.

However, the President's promises on Vietnam acquire a certain credibility because of the fact that he has withdrawn 165,000 U.S. troops from the conflict there since July 1969, and plans to pull out an additional 100,000 by next May 1.

This will leave just half of the approximately 550,000 American servicemen in the war theater that he found there when he assumed office.

It is against this background that Nixon's new peace plan has been a domestic political success even in the face of Communist assertions that they will never consider it as a basis for negotiations.

The President's top advisers prepared the American public for this rejection by saying when he unveiled the plan Oct. 7 that they expected Hanoi and the Viet Cong to turn it down at first but to decide eventually to negotiate on it.

Many administration officials privately acknowledge that the peace plan may never get anywhere. However, they claim that Nixon's political promises are wild because peace for the Americans, at least, eventually will be achieved by "Vietnamization" of the war, turning it all over to South Vietnam.

Television antennae rise over Israel

JERUSALEM (UPI) — One of the first things you notice in Israel are the television antennae rising like forests over the flats of Tel Aviv and among the minarets of Jerusalem.

In biblical Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee, the streets empty at 9 Tuesday night when "Mission Impossible" comes on. The same happens for Tom Jones on Wednesday. His songs echo through the town.

Television provides one of the signs of a growing Israeli affluence despite the constant state of war readiness and the high taxes that go with financing it.

One of the great debates raging in Israel concerns not the Soviet buildup along the Suez Canal but whether the government's television station should begin accepting commercials to take the burden of its operation off the taxpayers. Parliament will decide.

Israelis who have up-to-half their wages withheld for taxes fork out upwards of 1,800 Israeli pounds (about $600) for a television set because of the steep import tax.

And the set is worthless without an antenna, a 300-pound (about $100) outlay.

The antenna, depending on the atmosphere, will fetch the cartons from Cyprus, the old English movies from Beirut, the news in English from Jordan and the Arab and French films from Cairo. Plus a good dose of Arab rhetoric.

A good portion of the Israeli population speaks or understands Arabic and English in addition to Hebrew.

Israel didn't get into the television business with its own channel until May, 1969, far behind its Arab neighbors. You had to have a good antenna before that time if you wanted to pick up anything from next door.

Israeli television broadcasts only four hours a day—one of them in Arabic—leaving a gap for the programming and propaganda of the Arab world.

As late as this spring, Israeli sports fans turned into Beirut for live coverage of their team in the World Cup soccer playoffs in Mexico City.

Grocery strikers confident

BOISE (UPI) — Both sides appeared confident Monday as members of Retail Clerks Union Local 1014 continued picketing Buttreys' stores in Boise and Nampa.

Wayne Larsen, secretary of the retail union, said "I believe we're hurting them. You always hear a lot of rumors and I wouldn't want to speculate, but I believe we're hurting them." At the same time Tom Hazzard, representing the Idaho Employers Council, said stores had replaced their major work force and "things are running smoothly" and "we're very pleased."

Both sides seemed pessimistic about chances for further negotiations. Larsen said possibly the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service might move to bring the two sides together, although no negotiations were planned. Hazzard said employers felt there was "no motivation" for a meeting.

The strike affected some 600 union members as workers picketed Buttreys stores and grocery stores locked union members out of 25 stores in Boise, Nampa, Mountain Home and Puyette.

Larsen said he understood members of the Teamsters Union were making deliveries to picketed stores, but said he also heard supervisors had to leave the stores to take the deliveries inside.

Elgie Farris, secretary-treasurer, Teamsters Union Local 483, said teamsters had to "use their own judgment" when deciding whether to cross picket lines to deliver.

"It's illegal for me to tell them not to cross that picket line because it's not ours," Farris said. "That would be a secondary boycott. One labor organization can't help another anymore, according to law."

The strike climaxed eight weeks of negotiations. The union rejected the first offer from the stores, then union leadership recommended members accept a second offer.

Mrs. Dobler said the so-called "model" and the proposed revised constitutions were "highly dissimilar" and added "there is considerably more similarity to the federal constitution as revised, and two-thirds of the revision comes directly from the present constitution."

She urged Idaho voters to carefully examine the comparison between the present and revised constitutions, adding Idahoans "should not be swayed by side issues and distortions, but base their decision on the facts. These facts clearly demonstrate that the revised constitution is better for Idaho."

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — The granting of licenses to sell alcoholic beverages based on the business location in Kootenai County is unconstitutional.

At least that was the decision handed down last week by First District Judge Walt E. Prather.

County Prosecutor Gary Haman said Monday the decision will be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Haman said should the decision be affirmed by the state high court, he envisions a complete change in the liquor laws in Idaho concerning licensing.

Prather's decision was made in connection with suits brought by the state against James and Jane Cantrell, operators of the Lumberjack Cave at Rose Lake, and Charles Miller, operator of Charlie's Acres on State Highway 63 three miles west of Raubdrum. Both defendants were accused of selling liquor without a license.

Prather said it appeared both defendants seemed to possess the personal qualifications to obtain a license to sell alcoholic beverages and that both had licenses to sell beer for consumption on the premises.

What, if any, is the relationship between viruses and human cancer? Research scientists are trying to find out. Help them by giving to the American Cancer Society. The answer could save lives.

Smelly pile-up...

WOMAN CAREFULLY places her bag of garbage along a fence lined with refuse in London. Government troops were rendered to move into strikebound sewage works to clear mountains of garbage that had accumulated during the four-week strike by garbagemen, sewage workers and other municipal employees. Andrus supported

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — Endorsement of Cecil Andrus for governor was made Monday by six Idaho winners of a national conservation award.

In a statement released here Monday they called "for a return to effective conservation leadership" and said they supported Andrus.

The six recipients of the American Motors Corp. award for "exceptional service in the cause of conservation," are Scott W. Reed, State Sen. Art Manley and Frank Cullen of Coeur d'Alene; Ernest E. Day and Bruce Fowler of Boise and Kenneth B. Reynolds ofocatelo.

Governor asked to explain lost state endowment fund

ARCO, Idaho (UPI) — State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon Aug. 14 of this year at least, called on Gov. Don Samuelson has been signing orders for Monday to explain whether any warrants pertaining to the investment of endowment funds, I pat was lost when Idaho's investment board cashed in endowment funds before maturity in 1969.

Miss Moon, the Democratic incumbent seeking re-election to the position, told a political dinner the investment board has said. She said an outside accounting firm's audit of the investment board showed all but half a million dollars of the loss was hidden under terms of the law which allows the "writing down" of the value of the government bonds originally held by the endowment funds to show them on the books at the market value when the law went into effect on March 25, 1969.

In addition to the loss they are hiding by juggling the book value, they admit a net loss of $595,553 as a result of selling bonds after March 25, 1969, that had gone down even further in market value from the book value on that date," she said.

Dead...

LAZARO Gardenas, former President of Mexico, died Monday at his Mexico City home at 75. He nationalized foreign oil interests in his country in 1938. (UPI)

League supports redraft

BOISE (UPI) — The president of the League of Women Voters in Idaho said Monday while the revised constitution does not include all of the league's recommendations "we do support its adoption."

Mrs. Clifford Dobler told a Boise news conference the revised constitution "is much more in keeping with the needs and desires of Idaho citizens."

Mrs. Dobler said members of the league began to study the state's constitution in 1961 and "over a period of nearly 10 years we arrived at a membership agreement upon many of the improvements that should be made in our state's most basic law."

She said both the National Municipal League's "model constitution", the U.S. Constitution and the constitutions of all 50 states were studied by the league, but said the recommendations "were based on our study of the Idaho Constitution, not on any standard constitution, not on any standard constitution. Our concerns were those of Idaho people, not any other group organized in Idaho or elsewhere."

Mrs. Dobler said the so-called "model" and the proposed revised constitutions were "highly dissimilar" and added "there is considerably more similarity to the federal constitution as revised, and two-thirds of the revision comes directly from the present constitution."
