Nighttime fire rousts Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon was roused from his bedroom in his pajamas Thursday night by a minor fire which spread smoke throughout the Western White House.

White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler said Nixon moved from the Spanish style villa to a quest house on the five-acre estate for the rest of the night. "Also time was the President in any danger," Ziegler said. The press secretary said the fire, which he described as very minor, was started by an overheated fireplace which ignited a wooden portion of the thick dining room wall.

Ziegler said the fire broke out at 11:25 p.m. PST, shortly after the President had gone to bed. Ziegler said damage was minor, charring only a small portion of the dining room ceiling and wall. But, he added, "There was extensive smoke throughout the President's residence."

Samuelson hedges on Constitution

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Gov. Don Samuelson said today that proposed constitutional revision "takes away a good deal of power from the executive branch of government," while giving the legislature "too much power."

But he again refused either to support or oppose the update, which he called "the most important vote the people of Idaho have ever had."

Gov. Samuelson arrived this morning at the Twin Falls City-County Airport for a day of campaigning in Magic Valley. Samuelson's opponent, Cecil Andrus, earlier also refused to take a stand on the constitution,

CAA board hits proposed program

By ROBERT VANAUDELN
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — The future of the South Central Community Action Agency and its director is in doubt today after action taken by the board Thursday night in a four-hour meeting here.

The board, representing the three counties served by the CAA — Twin Falls, Jerome and Cassia — rejected the proposed 1971 work program for the agency and proposed budget for the Head Start and day care programs made by Larry Mack, agency director.

The board met in a closed session for 50 minutes to discuss Mack's position as agency director. R. J. Reichard, Jerome, chairman of the tri-county board, said he has no comment to make at this time about what was said in the closed session on a question raised by Roy Slotten, Twin Falls, an alternate board member and president of the Twin Falls County agency, on Mack's job.

will be made public regarding the issue. Mack's work program for 1971 calls for reshuffling of personnel and creating a new position or two to "best utilize the present staff." Slotten questioned the proposed program and asked that the program be reworked to show that it is working with the poor people as it was originally intended. Slotten made the motion to reject the proposed plan and seven of the 12 board members at the meeting, okayed the motion. There are currently 17 members on the board. On the Head Start and day care program, Mack proposed that the Murtaugh-Hansen Head Start program be cut in half because one half of the youngsters are from over-income families. He said this will mean participating a savings of about $11,500. He then proposed that $2,300 of the $11,500 go to the overall Head Start program's administration budget, which was cut seven and one-half per cent of $2,300; $7,200 to the current existing day care centers in

Agnew due in Idaho

By United Press International
The big talk in Idaho-politics today is what will Vice President Spiro Agnew say when he speaks in Boise Saturday night in a last-ditch effort to insure a Republican sweep at the polls Nov. 3.

Gov. Don Samuelson said late Thursday the vice president had accepted the state's invitation to return and would speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Capital High School auditorium. The public is invited.

Political analysts see the visit by the vice president as a move aimed primarily to help put his long-time friend, Samuelson, over the top. Samuelson is facing stiff opposition from Democratic gubernatorial candidate Cecil Andrus.

Andrus told a group of Democrats in Idaho Falls the state must have strong leadership to protect its environment and said the state is unique in that it has something here for everyone.

Democratic candidate for attorney general, Tony Park, said Idaho must embark on a program of enacting laws which are aimed at drug pushers in the state.

Redraft charges 'false'

TWIN FALLS — Sen. Richard S. High, R-Twin Falls, Thursday branded as "absolutely false" charges that the proposed constitution would reduce individual liberties.

He told members of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club here that "Rather, the proposed constitution will strengthen the liberties the people have in the present document."

Speaking in favor of the changes which will be passed on by the voters next Tuesday, he said there are three areas of controversy advanced by those against adoption but that in each instance the charges are false.

In the matter of individual liberties, he said, there is no truth that the right to bear arms will be curtailed or that religious freedom will be curtailed.

In the matter of the election of county officials, the members (voters) of a county will still elect their officials and these officials will still appoint their deputies.

In the matter of water rights, the new constitution would merely recognize underground water rights which were not important when the original constitution was adopted. The "public use" phrase which is questioned is, according to Senator High, "nothing new and nothing to be afraid of."

In urging support for the proposal, High told Kiwanis members not to take his word for it. "You do not have to believe what I say or what the opponents say," he declared. "Read it yourself and make up your own mind."

Also speaking during the session held at the Turf Club was Charles Blake, Jerome, a biologist with the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Support redraft

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Fifth District Bar Association have voted to again endorse the proposed constitutional revision, despite opposition by some attorneys in the association. Meeting here Wednesday night, attorneys discussed the revision in regard to water rights, criminal law and other phases. One attorney said today the revised Constitution was endorsed in January under the revisions as they stood at that time but there have been some changes since January. He said the lack of action Thursday night left the bar association in a position of still in support of the revision to rescind the January resolution. Others felt strongly a second resolution should be passed again endorsing the revision.

Gives OK Rep. Roberts backs redraft

BUHL — State Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, said today he supports the proposed Idaho constitutional revision because it gives Idaho citizens stronger guarantees of all rights than does the present constitution. The legislator said voters of Idaho are not choosing a new constitution but simply voting to improve and strengthen the existing one, as well as update and clarify many sections. "All present rights of the public are protected," he said, "and when the two sections dealing with county boundaries and elections are placed together, it seems to me there is strong assurance the counties cannot be altered or their officials eliminated without a vote of the people," the official said.

On the issue of ground water rights, Roberts said he feels in reading the revised form the users of ground water for irrigation would have protection through filing on the water rights. Under the old constitution no provision is made for groundwater protection as this was not considered an irrigation source when the original document was drawn. He said he sees little difference between the phrases "beneficial use" and "public use," which seem to alarm some opponents. "I am not trying to do a selling job, but rather am urging voters to study the revision form and make up their own minds as to how they will vote Nov. 3," Roberts said.

Nixon targeted

By The United Press
President Nixon faced a fusillade of rocks, bottles and eggs in California Thursday night while 12 persons were arrested — including a Democratic candidate for sheriff — during a peaceful demonstration against Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in Kansas.

But it was the economy, not demonstrators, that proved to be the major theme of campaign appearances by Nixon.

Sugar action 'illegal'

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Fifth District Judge Theron Ward dismissed the pollution suit against Amalgamated Sugar Company today, criticizing Attorney General Robert Robson for initiating the action and declaring that the Board of Health had, in effect, violated the state law.

administrative relief" in cases of dispute over pollution control. State law specifically gives the Board of Health administrative control authority with the Administrative Process Act, Littman said. He charged that the Board of Health ignored this act in seeking a court injunction to halt the alleged pollution in Twin Falls.

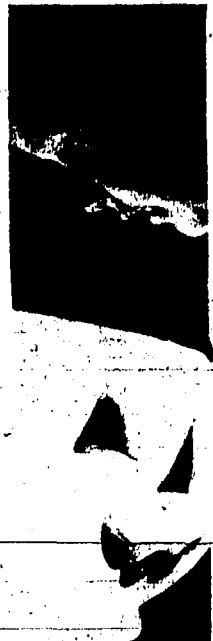

The suit, first in the state's history, had been brought by Robson as an individual and also on behalf of the Board of Health. The suit demanded that Amalgamated take steps to control alleged pollution of Rock Creek from the plant's beet processing.

The firm has since constructed a massive "clarithickener" to process liquid waste from its processing, and plans construction of a secondary treatment plant to recirculate the effluent from the clarithickener. This will be in operation by late in 1971, according to Amalgamated spokesmen.

Judge Ward heard arguments from Edward L. Benoit, Twin Falls, attorney for Amalgamated, and Alvin L. Littman of the Utah State Bar, representing the company's home offices in Utah. Dwight General, assistant Idaho attorney general, represented the State of Idaho.

Littman argued that the state Board of Health had given no warning that a lawsuit was pending, and had not told the sugar-processing firm that they were, in effect, violating state law. Amalgamated has been working with the Idaho Board of Health for 20 years in an effort to "be a good corporate citizen," Littman said, and had informed the board of their plans to construct waste-processing facilities.

Littman reviewed Idaho statutes on controlling pollution and insuring environmental quality, noting that the Board of Health is empowered to "seek

Andrus airs optimism

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — Predicting things look good for a Democratic victory on Tuesday, Cecil Andrus, Democratic candidate for governor said in a campaign wrap-up visit here today there has been no single issue in this campaign, but a series of matters of deep concern to Idahoans.

He said education, the continued spiral in property tax costs resulting from poor management of sales tax revenue at the state level, and pollution of air, water and land concern the Idaho voter.

"People of Idaho want a change because they are deeply concerned in many issues facing the state today," Andrus said in a brief stop to meet Twin Falls county voters at the city-county airport this morning.

He said his original stand on the constitution revision stands. He is personally in favor but feels it is a ballot issue for the people to decide rather than a campaign issue and he hopes people will be informed on the important matter before going to the polls.

Another matter concerning Idahoans is gun control legislation, the Democratic candidate said. "I oppose control of the sportsman's firearms in Idaho and I do not feel by making these people register their guns will we gain any more control over the criminal than we now have," he declared.

Andrus said a law to fit the citizens and way of life in the big cities won't adapt to the outdoor life of Idaho.

Commenting on the visit of Vice President Agnew to Idaho, Andrus said, "Idaho is indeed favored to have two visits from the vice president of the United States in a six months' period. I hope residents of the state will afford him a warm and cordial welcome and that he will return to visit Idaho again on a non-partisan basis sometime."

In his wrap-up around the state today, he visited Idaho Falls and Pocatello before landing at the Twin Falls airport. From here he headed Boise, Lawiston and Coeur d'Alene.

Times-News endorsement

The Times-News today endorses Don Samuelson for governor.

In an editorial the newspaper calls for voter support which will see Governor Samuelson returned to the office he now holds.

The endorsement is made "without reservation." The editorial of endorsement appears today on Page 1.

Hopeful ...

YOUTH VOLUNTEERS were among enthusiastic Democratic party members of Magic Valley who turned out to welcome Cecil Andrus, gubernatorial candidate, in a wrap-up campaign stop in Twin Falls this morning. Andrus said the climate in Idaho is "Democratic" this November.

3 bombs explode in N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three homemade pipebombs exploded within 10 minutes of each other early today, damaging two armories and a police station. There were no injuries in the explosions, which occurred shortly after one of the armories received a warning telephone call.

Police spokesmen said the blasts were "very closely associated" and it was "highly unlikely" that three bombing attacks could be planted coincidentally by different groups of unassociated persons in such a brief time. The FBI was called in almost immediately.

One guard, a Vietnam veteran who escaped just before one of the armory blasts, said the explosion sounded "like an 81mm mortar."

The first bomb went off at 3:12 a.m. EST at the U.S. Naval Reserve Center in Whitestone, Queens. Three minutes later, a second explosion went off in a motorcycle precinct headquarters in the Bronx. At 3:22 a.m., the third blast went off at the U.S. Army Reserve Center in the Jamaica section Queens.

GI drug ails said on rise

LONG BINH, Vietnam (UPI)—Hospital admissions of U.S. soldiers in Vietnam because of drug abuse were nearly 42 per cent greater during the first nine months of this year than all of last year, the U.S. Army reported today.

The Army also reported 25 deaths due to drug abuse between Jan. 1 and Oct. 18 of this year, five more than all of last year. In addition, another 64 soldiers are thought to have died of drug abuse, although not confirmed by autopsy.

Last year 527 soldiers were admitted to hospitals because of drug abuse, the Army said. Through September of this year, the total was 746 and some 241, or one-third, of this year's total were admitted in August and September.

The Army said that until Aug. 1 of this year, hospital admissions or deaths were classified under the primary medical problems involved, such as pneumonia, hepatitis or personality disorder. Medical records before that date may not indicate drug abuse if it was not the primary medical factor.

Man stabbed in Caldwell

BOISE (UPI)—A Caldwell man found in a telephone booth was reported recovering at a local hospital today from stab wounds in the upper abdomen and with a partial lung collapse.

However, the Army said the increase in drug related hospitalization and death also is due to an increase in the use of "hard" drugs, such as heroin.

Police found Rogello Salinas, 26, Caldwell, in the phone booth on a downtown street after being alerted by a telephone call.

Brewers say education key phase of anti-litter drive

TWIN FALLS — Public education is one of the major phases of a litter control campaign being conducted by the U.S. Brewers Assn., Inc., Magic Valley and Wood River Valley brewery representatives were told here Thursday night.

Meeting at the Holiday Inn, beer distributors and other representatives of the industry were brought up to date on the U.S. Brewers litter control campaign which starts with films being shown in schools throughout the country. Ralph Ermatinger, field representative, Boise, said the purpose of the films is to educate the youngsters to the importance of litter control and the danger to natural resources through litter and debris.

Each major brewing concern then maintains an individual program for control of beer cans. An example is the Adolph Coors Co.'s "cash for cans" area chairman for the litter prevention program, said the back the discarded beer cans and recycle them, to again make use of the aluminum which will not deteriorate by natural means.

The U.S. Brewers Assn. Inc. began an anti-litter campaign as far back as 1953, Ermatinger told the brewers.

Tom Walker Jr., Twin Falls area legislator, county and city officials also met with the industry representatives to learn what is being done by beer distributors to control litter.

Holland Houfburg, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce president, spoke briefly. Roy Frizzelle, executive secretary of the Idaho Beer Distributors Assn., also participated in the program.

Plans were announced for area wide displays of anti-litter posters and material to encourage the public's cooperation with the industry in controlling all types of litter.

WHY LARSEN?

IN THE NEXT FOUR YEARS THE PEOPLE OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY ARE ENTITLED TO BETTER REPRESENTATION IN THE OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONER THAN THEY HAVE HAD IN THE PAST FOUR YEARS.

We do not feel that Bud Larsen has the answers to all of the problems facing Twin Falls County, but we feel strongly that he is the better choice for the following reasons:

1. SINCE JULY 1, 1970, THE OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONER FOR TWIN FALLS COUNTY HAS BEEN A FULL TIME POSITION AS REQUIRED BY LAW, AT A SALARY IN EXCESS OF $600.00 PER MONTH. LARSEN'S OPPONENT HAS NOT BEEN IN FULL TIME ATTENDANCE AT HIS COUNTY OFFICE AS SHOWN BY THE MINUTES OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

BUD LARSEN has retired from active farming and will be a full time county commissioner.

2. THE TAXPAYERS MONEY WILL NOT BE USED TO PAY ANY PERSONAL EXPENSES.

3. AS A WATCHDOG OF COUNTY FUNDS, BUD LARSEN WILL BUDGET THE MONEY WE NEED, WITHOUT FURTHER LEVIES AND ASSESSMENTS.

4. From his previous record as Chairman of the County Commissioners, WE KNOW THAT BUD LARSEN WILL BE A CONSCIENTIOUS AND IMPARTIAL COUNTY COMMISSIONER, RESPONSIVE TO THE PEOPLE OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY.

Republican voters, Democratic voters and independent voters are entitled to better leadership, THEREFORE WE URGE YOU TO VOTE FOR RUSSELL C. 'BUD' LARSEN, DISTRICT THREE COUNTY COMMISSIONER, EAST END, TWIN FALLS COUNTY.

CITIZENS FOR RUSSELL C. 'BUD' LARSEN COMMITTEE, VON NEBEKER, CHAIRMAN

Tragic Situation In Canada

WASHINGTON — Because it is never pleasant to seem to take satisfaction at the plight of a neighbor, comment heretofore has been withheld on Canada's tragic situation. Besides, we're on the same side. But 10 days after Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau invoked the War Emergency Act permitting the suspension of civil liberties, I find irresistible the temptation to waggle a finger at our friends to the north: To waggle a finger and to remind them of the trulgn that it all depends on whose ox is gored.

For years a considerable bulk of Canadians — frequently speaking through young Trudeau — has sneered at the United States for its preoccupation with the terrorists of the Crazy Left. Our friends have mouthed glibly such phrases as "police state" to describe official crackdowns on our vicious nuts, and have gleefully given sanctuary to American draft dodgers, bomb-throwers and junkies with a penchant for calculated malignance. We have been accused of losing our cool.

At the same time, American dissenters have hailed Trudeau and Co. as heroes — civilized libertarians with whom a body could live, and misbehave, comfortably. Canada was free; America was in chains. Thus I view with delight the consternation of our far-outs over the circumstance that in the crunch it was the liberal, swinging Trudeau — not Richard Nixon — who decreed what amounts to martial law. Americans still enjoy their constitutional rights after years of terrorism. A few months of unrest and a couple of kidnappings and — boom! — Pierre Trudeau puts his countrymen under military law and order. Never mind, at this time, whether Trudeau's drastic action was, or should have been, unnecessary. He took that action, and now we can only hope that it has taught Canada a lesson, to wit, that it is living dangerously officially to commend and give refuge to foreign fugitives merely to show off a country's "liberalism." The terrorist-Front-for-the-Liberation-of-Quebec took Trudeau and Co. seriously, figured they could get away with murder, and did so.

And so now we have Pierre Trudeau issuing statements that might have been written by George Wallace, such as "It is more important to keep law and order in the society than to be worried about weak-kneed people." Despite the similarity with Wallace's mouthings, Trudeau is right of course. But I am cad enough to recall that only a few short months ago Canada's leader found American use of the "law and order" phrase personally obnoxious. I trust it goes without saying that my heart goes out to our northern neighbor in its tragic hour. Canadians are a brave, kindly and industrious people who deserve better. For one thing, they deserve better than Pierre Trudeau, an opportunist and adventurer in the image of some of our own bleeding-heart politicians, whose "style" and public utterances clearly encouraged the militant Marxist-Maoist Left.

Don Samuelson The Man For The Job

The man for the job is Don Samuelson. The Times-News is convinced that Governor Samuelson should continue in office for another four years. This can be accomplished through your vote next Tuesday. We commend him to you without reservation. We endorse him for governor.

Why do we back Don Samuelson? A candidate is sometimes backed because he has favored certain legislation, because he has been against certain legislation, because he is against something you are for or because he is for something you are against. Most issues are just that cut and dried. It becomes such a personal thing that it is hard to see beyond the immediate action.

Looking back on the administration of Don Samuelson for the past four years there have been the ups and downs, the rough and the smooth, the right and the wrong. Opponents would have you believe that his administration has been just one big mistake after another. Nothing could be further from the truth. Who cleaned up the mess at the State Penitentiary? Who brought more meaningful operation of the Insurance and Finance Departments? Who faced the winds of hateful criticism when he spoke out against a lockup of Idaho's vital resources and opposed a national park in the Sawtooth area?

—Don Samuelson stands on his record. We could overflow this page by listing things he has backed or opposed which, in the light of a close and fair study, show such decisions by him have been for benefit of the people and of the state. If you are concerned about this election, as the Times-News knows you are, then we see little reason to list here the accomplishments you already know about.

We believe that it is far more important at this particular time to talk about Don Samuelson the man. We think it is more important to talk about what this man believes in. We believe that it is more important to tell about the character of this man who wants to remain in office another four years.

Those opposing his continuing as Governor will never admit it but if Don Samuelson has a major fault it just has to be that he is no politician. He is no orator. But after all, it's the thought that counts, not the clothe in words.

A politician promises one thing out of one side of his mouth and another out of the other side. All the time he's smiling through the middle. But when Don Samuelson speaks he has the habit of saying just what he thinks. You know where he stands. You know why he stands there.

It's a case of putting principal above popularity. This is the mark of Don Samuelson, but it isn't the mark of a politician. That's why there are some who hate him. They find it hard to stomach an honest leader who says what he thinks and lets the chips fall where they may.

But we don't find it hard to believe in that kind of a man. So what's wrong with being honest? Surely the rank and file voters are not joined with the hard-core politicians who have slipped to the level where they think honesty is no longer a basic requirement for an elected official.

We know they haven't and that is why we are sure they will follow our suggestion that they join with us in support of Don Samuelson.

This man has been the victim of slanted stories, untruths and half-truths during this campaign. It is to his credit that he has not walked in the mud that has been thrown at him. He is a giant in honesty and integrity.

He has strong convictions and he has strong prejudices. This in itself is of benefit to Idaho's citizens. They can remain assured that he will not be moved by every little breeze that blows.

The governor cannot be all things to all people. Contrary to what some politicians would have you believe, he is not all powerful. He is usually blamed for everything that goes wrong. But there are many things over which he has no control at all. No man can hold such an important office and at any given time know what every member of the administration is doing. More often than not, when there is a mistake then Don Samuelson gets the blame: When there has been a triumph, someone else receives the plaudits.

Yet through it all he continues to do his job as he sees it because he is sincere in the belief that what happens to Don Samuelson is not important. It's what happens to Idaho and the Nation that really counts.

Don Samuelson's opponent in this election has made so many promises he has practically resorted to re-promising promises as election day approaches. He is conducting a frantic campaign. He has so over rated himself that he has reached the point of diminishing returns.

Don Samuelson's opponent continues to ignore the facts of this election and to stick with the double talk. He says what he likes to hear. But elections are won because the voters go to the polls and make their preference official. Make no mistake about it, the people are the ones who put the candidate into office.

We feel that Don Samuelson has the support of the people. We feel they will return him to the Statehouse for another term and we feel that Idaho will be much better off because they will do just that.

We know that Don Samuelson is honest. That is to his credit. We know that he is not a real politician. This is to his credit. We know that he says what he thinks and that you know what he has in mind. This, too, is to his credit.

We also know that Don Samuelson is a first class All-American. And in these troubled times we can find nothing wrong with Americanism.

We endorse Don Samuelson. We commend him to the voters of Idaho.

"NO, SON, THAT'S NOT MARTHA MITCHELL"

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH A Sub Base?

WASHINGTON — The sinister menace of the possible construction of a Russian submarine base at Cienfuegos still remains acute.

This dire threat continues despite the Kremlin's strident denial, and the seeming departure of a large Soviet crane-equipped tug and submarine tender from the deep-water port on Cuba's west coast.

Behind the heated disavowal and nebulous ship movements, Russia's capability to speedily build the ominous submarine pens stays virtually unchanged. In view of the Soviet's long record of duplicity and treachery — latest instance the empling of SAM-2 and SAM-3 anti-aircraft missiles in the Suez Canal truce zone in direct violation of the cease-fire agreement — the grim Cienfuegos affair is far from concluded.

Abundant reasons for doubts and the danger of another Communist double-cross are tangibly evident at Cienfuegos and other Cuban anchorages, as follows:

Two big barges, equipped with submarine repair facilities, still remain at Cienfuegos. The barges were towed across the Atlantic by a Russian freighter and have been at the Cuban port since early September. U. S. naval and intelligence authorities consider these barges a key element in the build-up of Soviet submarine strength in the Caribbean.

The submarine tender and ocean-going tug, with cranes capable of handling subs, are still in Cuba. After leaving Cienfuegos, with a flourish of publicity, and sailing north ostensibly for the open Atlantic, the vessels quietly put in at Mariel, a small harbor some 25 miles west of Havana. At this writing, they are still there with no indication of when and where they will go next.

On the hillside overlooking Cienfuegos are large quantities of construction equipment, material and other supplies imported by the Russians in the past six months. The expensive machinery and stores are carefully protected by heavy tarpaulins and other covering with sentries or guard around the clock. There is no sign of anything being done about it. U. S. Navy, Air and Intelligence are maintaining a close scrutiny of these and other tell-tale matters. Developments the next few weeks should make clear the Kremlin's real intentions — whether its Cienfuegos denial was spurious or a genuine backdown.

RAY CROMLEY "High Price"

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The fate of U.S. prisoners in North Vietnam may depend significantly on how Canada, the United States and other Western countries react to terrorist kidnappers and their bargaining offers.

It is quite clear by now that Hanoi has been watching closely the Middle East plane hijackings and ransom negotiations, the series of kidnappings in various Latin American countries and what deals were made and under what circumstances governments have refused to deal. In recent days, reports indicate Ho Chi Minh's successors are closely observing Premier Trudeau's moves in Canada in response to the killing of one hostage, Quebec's labor minister.

It is known further that Peking and North Korea directly encouraged the Palestinian commando group in the Middle East hijackings. It is no secret that Hanoi, from the start of the war, has regarded U.S. prisoners as particularly valuable bargaining chips in talks with the United States.

As long ago as 1964 in South Vietnam, this reporter saw captured documents and talked with former officers of the Viet Cong who told of Hanoi directives that detailed the efforts which should be made to capture Americans and the importance laid on the U.S. prisoners being shipped to Hanoi. These orders made all too clear the major bargaining importance Hanoi placed on these men.

These facts in mind, it must be assumed that if kidnaper-terrorists can, by threatening the lives of their victims, extort major concessions from Western governments, it is likely that Hanoi will hold out for a very high price indeed for the lives of the Americans it now holds.

If Hanoi learns that the kidnappers are able to up their ante successfully by killing some of their victims, this result is not likely to be forgotten either by Ho's pupils. Hanoi has already employed American prisoners as pawns. On several occasions, in North and South, a few men have been released. In each case, the prisoners have been turned over to groups which the leaders of North Vietnam consider (in their literature and in their broadcasts) as co-operating groups on their side in the war. In private conversations in front of prisoners they have called these groups allies and co-operators and as the American arm of their war effort.

When Hanoi has released "lists" of prisoners, again it has been to these favored groups. When in Paris, the representatives of Hanoi have been approached by wives of prisoners, Hanoi spokesmen have referred them to these same groups as their avenue for information. It is, of course, clear to any observer that these moves have constituted an attempt by Hanoi to use the prisoners in order to build up the prestige of what Hanoi calls its friends and coworkers in the United States and to build up some emotional sympathy for these groups as being interested in and concerned for the prisoners.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. On Stuttering

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 2 1/2 years old, started to stutter about six weeks ago. When he started talking he didn't stutter, and everyone commented on how plainly he could speak.

But now he stutters. Not all the time, though. He will repeat the word "I" four or five times, then continue with the sentence. When he sings, he doesn't stutter.

When he gets overanxious he tends to stutter, but not always. Will he outgrow this? Could it be inherited? If so, would speech therapy help, and if so where, could we find a speech therapist? — Mrs. J. R. G.

Stuttering at the age of 30 months isn't unusual. His thought processes are working faster than he can express them. He starts with "I" but can't remember or follow through with what he had in mind.

Maybe that will help explain to you why he doesn't stutter when he sings. Don't make an issue of his stuttering, because nervous tension isn't going to help matters. Quite the reverse.

You should watch the situation, though, and if the trouble persists by the time he is 4 or 5, treatment would be advisable.

Your doctor may be able to refer you directly to a speech therapist. They also can be reached through school systems or through university medical centers.

No, stuttering isn't inherited, but both an active mind and a rather tense temperament may be.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When my husband becomes tired and hungry, he seems to become unsteady in his walk. His thinking processes seem to slow down, and at times his sentences are spoken backward. Are those symptoms of a for-coming illness or am I worrying needlessly? — B. T. Those backward sentences raise in my mind a question of whether some neurological disturbance is developing, and I would suggest examination by a neurologist.

The other symptoms all could represent hypoglycemia, or episodes of low blood sugar — a neurologist would have that in mind, too.

For background on what hypoglycemia is and how to control it, send 25 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for the booklet, "Help for Hypoglycemia (Low Blood Sugar)." — R.R.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for two brown-eyed parents to have a blue-eyed baby? One of the prospective grandparents has blue eyes. We have quite a discussion going and don't want it turning into an argument with some of us getting black eyes. — R.R. Getting started swirling yell! Blue is from a recessive gene, brown is dominant, but the recessive can break through — as witness one-of-the-grandparents-with blue eyes. Shades of hazel or green also are possible.

I don't know why there's so much preoccupation with this topic, but there is. One correspondent once sent a long letter and a chart to "prove" that two blue-eyed parents couldn't have a brown-eyed child — but the chart, when you studied it, disproved her point. It is possible.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 17, wants some prescription sunglasses — he is very near-sighted and wears glasses now. We would like your opinion whether the sunglasses would be harmful to his eyes. — Mrs. T. P. No, they won't harm him.

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Congressional delegation urged Thursday that the Corps of Engineers allocate more than $500,000 in funds for emergency programs to preserve fishery resources on the lower Snake and Columbia Rivers.

The delegation, Sens. Frank Church, a Democrat, and Len B. Jordan, a Republican, and congressmen James A. McCure and Orval Hansen, both Republicans, said federal and state fishery experts are convinced that unless emergency measures are taken now, the salmon and steelhead resource could be lost for ever.

They said it is estimated that only 10 per cent of the chinook and salmon fingerlings survived the last migration from spawning grounds to the Pacific.

Redraft effect on water aired

BOISE (UPI) — The issue of whether the revised constitution would allow the legislature to appropriate water rights from owners drew response both positive and negative.

Judge Raymond L. Givens, chairman of the Constitutional Revision Commission and former Supreme Court Justice, said "Suggestions by some that the proposed constitution tampers with existing water rights is not true. The fact is the revised constitution recognizes all existing water rights and brings our water laws up to date by incorporating a reference to subterranean waters consistent with past decisions of the Supreme Court and Idaho Statutes.

"In our opinion there is no change as far as Idaho's water law is concerned. Both the farmer and the public are protected by the revised constitution as they were by the constitution of 1889."

Eugen H. Anderson, Boise, legal counsel for the Idaho Water Committee, a recently formed group, said presently only natural streams are subject to appropriation by the legislature. He said the subsurface water is controlled by the State Water Department under the underground-water code to prevent its depletion.

Anderson said "If the courts place the same construction on this new provision as they have on the old, the new proposed constitution — if adopted — will repeat by implication, the underground water code of Idaho and can result in the depletion of the ground water in many areas of the state."

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's director of administrative services asked the attorney general Thursday for an opinion on whether a state employee legally can collect "double" travel pay for one trip.

Director Edward W. Sawyer said he can find nothing in the new travel regulations which relates to this question — raised when one of his employees made one trip to perform duties for both state and federal governments.

State house records show that Delbert E. (Bert) Colwell, administrator of the communications division of administrative services, went to Washington, D.C., June 4 and returned to Boise June 30.

Colwell, a captain in the Navy Reserve, was on active duty for two weeks while in the nation's capital. He also performed work for the state of Idaho while there and then took some annual leave to visit relatives in the East before returning to Boise June 30.

On July 6, Colwell filed a travel expense voucher with the state auditor's office seeking reimbursement of $320.00 in expenses incurred on behalf of the state to, from and in Washington, D.C. Later, he also received expenses from the Navy for the same trip.

This week, he reimbursed the state $301 of the expenses he paid him, stating on his transmittal voucher it was "reimbursement for travel subsequently paid by the federal government." Colwell made the trip before the new travel regulations went into effect. In a recent court case, a judge ruled that there were no official travel regulations on record to govern trips by state employees at that time.

Sawyer signed an out-of-state travel request as department head, authorizing Colwell's trip. He said he approved the state portion of the trip first and told Colwell, who wanted to travel by personal car, he could charge the state only what the airline fare would be since this was cheaper than automobile mileage.

He said Colwell also mentioned his two weeks' Navy duty to him and that he authorized Colwell to take military leave for that purpose. But he indicated the possibility of Colwell being reimbursed by the Navy for the trip didn't dawn on him at the time.

"I was primarily concerned with the state aspects of the trip," he said.

But he added, "subconsciously I knew it." Sawyer is a retired Army major general.

In-my-day, reservists called to active duty were entitled to reimbursement for travel when not furnished transportation in kind. He said the Armed Forces — when they order a reservist to active duty — are concerned solely with the question of whether he has competent orders requiring travel and whether he performs the travel for which he asks to be paid.

'Double travel pay' eyed by Gem officials

To doublecheck this he telephoned the Pentagon in the presence of UPI and confirmed this is the military outlook on such travel. He said the Army and Navy do not concern themselves with the possibility that somebody else also may be paying for the trip.

Militant got Red thank you

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators have been told that Bernardine Dohrn, now on the FBI's most-wanted list, allegedly received a letter from a Viet Cong woman congratulating her for antiwar activities.

Charles Siragusa, chief investigator of the Illinois Crime Investigating Commission, submitted a letter written by Pham Than Van, a woman on the Viet Cong delegation to the Paris talks, to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

The letter, dated Jan. 9, 1969, recalled a meeting with Miss Dohrn in Budapest and said: "I do hope you'll always keep high-spirited and continue your work as we are continuing ours until no GI is left in our land. I am looking for the day we can meet again, not in Saigon yet but in another country. Franco, for example."

Siragusa told the subcommittee, which was studying the administration of internal security laws, that the letter was recovered from Miss Dohrn's landlord after she left her Chicago apartment in October, 1969.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., drew no conclusions about the letter in a report published Thursday of its hearing June 10.

"It is our belief that the recent bombings across the country are the first manifestations of the new Weatherman doctrine of anarchy."

Legislative pay question on ballot

EDITOR'S: This is the second portion of a two-part series dealing with statutory decisions Idaho voters will be confronted with at the polls Nov. 3. Today "The Legislative pay initiative."

By RONALD B. SCOTT
BOISE (UPI)—How much are Idahoans willing to pay for their legislators?

That question, come Nov. 3, will be voted upon by the state's electorate. Like most financial questions, this one has stirred considerable controversy. The legislative pay initiative, as it is called, bridges democracy at its grass roots level to play in general election politics.

The last time the voters exercised their initiative and placed a question on the ballot was back in 1958 when the "right to work" question was decided by the electorate. Backers of the pay initiative first had to obtain the signatures of petitions of 10 per cent (25,000) of the total vote cast in the last presidential election.

Secondly, backers of the initiative and opponents paid the cost of printing a voters information pamphlet outlining the pros and cons of the issue. The pamphlet was distributed to 100,000 voters in Idaho, Secretary of State Peter T. Cenarrusa said.

The question as it will appear on the ballot reads:

"An act to amend Chapter 4, Title 67, Idaho Code, by amending Section 67-412, Idaho code, relating to expense allowance of members of the legislature and the lieutenant governor, by reducing the daily amount and limiting the time period allowed for receipt of expense allowance during the legislative session and limiting interim legislative allowances to actual cash expense which is substantiated by paid voucher or receipt; and by repealing Section 67-412A, Idaho code, relating to payment of legislative expenses for maintaining an office."

W.C. Burns, Idaho Falls, in arguing in favor of passage of the initiative, said "The legislators chose to ignore the mandate of the voters and increased their check by calling it expense allowances."

Burns refers to Senate Joint Resolution 9, which was placed before the electorate in 1968 and was defeated by a vote of 114,079 to 83,735.

That measure would have authorized the legislature to increase its own salaries — then fixed by the Idaho Constitution. Burns said despite the voters' decision, the legislature "increased pay by 60 per cent while in session ($200 per month) allowances plus $35 per day in expenses, and the regular constitutional salary of $10 per day including Sundays) and approximately 95 per cent increase between sessions ($200 per month)."

He said the initiative provides that legislators shall receive $25 per day for expenses for the first 60 days only of the first session and for 30 days of the second session, plus the regular constitutional salary of $10 per day.

"In addition," he said, "The $200 per month expense allowance shall be withdrawn and the legislators will be allowed actual expenses which can be verified by paid receipt or voucher."

He said, in effect the initiative would return the salaries to the level they were when the legislature asked voters in 1968 to give them authority to "set their own expenses and salaries (without limit)."

Does U.S. have insurrection act?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Could it happen here? "If U.S. terrorists were to kidnap the Spanish ambassador and the lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, and threaten to kill them unless Angola Davis were freed, could the President declare that a state of insurrection existed and suspend civil liberties—as Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau and his cabinet is much that a President could do in such an emergency which would restrict the daily life and assumed rights of American citizens. But the White House does not believe it could employ the sweeping powers that Trudeau invoked to meet the crisis raised by the kidnapping of the British trade commissioner and the kidnapping and murder of the labor minister of the province of Quebec.

Mitchell says he sees no possibility of the U.S. government using the same type of emergency powers that Trudeau employed if faced with the same sort of crisis. And White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler notes that the Constitution limits to Congress the power to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress insurrections and rebel invasions.

laws, impose censorship and reinstate the death penalty. In this country, Congress has given the President power to declare an "internal security emergency" during which the attorney general can be empowered to "apprehend and detain any person, if there is reasonable ground to believe that he will engage in, or probably will conspire to engage in, acts of espionage or sabotage."

The answer is cloudy. There

Attorney General John N.

In an emergency, a President could of course act—or could not be stopped from acting—in an extra-legal manner. The challenge of the constitutionality of his behavior would not reach the courts until months later.

The president of the party which controls the lower house of the Diet (parliament) automatically serves as prime minister. Sato's conservatives held 303 of the 486 lower house seats.

Sato wins again

TOKYO (UPI)—Conservative Prime Minister Eisaku Sato won an unprecedented fourth term today to continue his policies of friendship with the West and opposition to Communist Chinese membership in the United Nations.

one brief socialist government. Sato won an easy victory, as expected, over his only opponent, Takeo Miki, 63, who was foreign minister in an earlier Sato cabinet. The vote in the party election was Sato 353, Miki 111.

The United States has no law exactly comparable to the war measures act invoked by Trudeau's cabinet on the request of Quebec provincial authorities. It suspended many of Canada's civil liberties. The cabinet and police and troops could search without warrants, hold suspects without charge for seven days, delay arraignments for 90 days and suspend the right to bail. If fully employed, the law permits the Canadian cabinet to decre

Sato, 60, won another two-year term as president of the Liberal Democratic Party (LDP), a grouping of 14 conservative factions which have ruled Japan continuously since World War II except for

The party victory means Sato, a lifetime government bureaucrat and politician, can continue as prime minister until 1972. It will give him eight years in office, longest since Japan established parliamentary government in 1888.

Rewards described for congressional winners

EDITOR'S NOTE: Everyone knows that the average candidate is driven by a desire to combat evil and redress inequity. But for some success will bring further rewards—as a UPI congressional reporter explains in the following story.

By RAY MOSELEY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wanted: 435 congressmen and 35 senators. Salary: $42,500 a year. Fringe benefits: fabulous. All positions will be filled Tuesday by voters in 50 states. And, here's what the lucky winners will get:

Free trips home! One for every month that Congress is in sessions! Winners have the choice of receiving actual expenses or 12 cents a mile. As a bonus, one roundtrip a year at 20 cents a mile, or $760 cash (of special interest to applicants from Maryland, Virginia and other states near Washington, D.C.).

Tax writeoffs! $3,000 a year off income taxes to cover costs of maintaining a residence at home while living in Washington.

Free stationery! $3,000 a year to buy stationery at cut-rate Capitol prices! Those not wishing to buy $3,000 worth of stationery may collect the cash and spend it as they like. If they resign, they may pocket any unspent balance. If they die in office, their spouses may collect it.

Free mail privileges! Good for all official correspondence. Plus $700 or more a year for air mail and special delivery stamps.

Free telegram and phone service! Also limited to official business. Good for 70,000 words of telegrams or cable and almost 300 hours of long-distance phoning, with any unused balance added to the allowance for the following year or the next term of Congress.

Plus unlimited free long-distance service on leased government lines during certain weekday hours and all day Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Staff allowances! Congressmen get up to 13 aides, senators more. Top pay, good for only one employe in each office, $25,705 a year.

Office expenses! In addition to Capitol office allowances, free office space or $2,400 in rental allowances for two offices back home for house members and $3,600 for operating expenses. Sums vary for senators.

Insurance coverage! Health and disability coverage, and life insurance up to $32,000. Participants contribute to costs of programs.

Free haircuts! Good for senators only. House members pay 75 cents.

ELECT MARDEN E. WELLS TO CONGRESS (DEMOCRAT)

Fold for by: Elect Wells Committee, Roger Cox, Chmn.

Rallies precede Nicky Cruz talks

TWIN FALLS — A former teen-age gang leader and dope addict who attributes his reformator to finding God will be in Magic Valley Nov. 6-8 for a series of meetings.

Training sessions will be at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Jerome First Baptist Church; 7:30 p.m. Monday, Buhl, Buhl First Presbyterian Church; 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Kimberly First Christian Church; and 7:30 p.m. Thursday, First Baptist Church, Burley.

Cruz is cited by Billy Graham as being a "modern Christian miracle." The youthful minister was sent from Puerto Rico to New York City at the age of 15 and immediately joined the teen-age underworld, quickly rising to the rank of leader of the mau mau, the most feared gang in the area.

His best selling book, "Run, Baby, Run," currently is being produced into a movie by Art Linkletter. This story discloses Cruz' hopeless life as a delinquent, dropout and dope addict until finding Jesus Christ.

Cruz will arrive in Twin Falls Nov. 6 to begin his three-day campaign which includes services at 8 p.m. Nov. 6 and 7 at the Twin Falls High School gymnasium; 3 p.m. Nov. 8 at the Ponderosa convention hall in Burley, and 8 p.m. Nov. 8 at the College of Southern Idaho gymnasium in Twin Falls.

More than 200 churches have been contacted to invite members to attend, campaign officials say. It is expected large crowds will be on hand at all meetings, including a large number of Magic Valley youth who identify with Cruz. Those planning to attend any of the campaign sessions are requested to arrive early so seating can be arranged.

Anyone interested in further information can call 734-2367 in Twin Falls.

NICKY CRUZ

Film showings also will be held at the Teen Rallies and prayer sessions to follow. Rallies will be at 8:45 p.m. Saturday, Burley First Baptist Church; 7:30 p.m. Monday, Jerome Assembly of God Church; 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Buhl, Assembly of God Church, and 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Twin Falls United Methodist Church.

UNICEF drive okayed

FILER — Support of UNICEF in the annual Magic Valley doorbell ringing drive this Halloween season was voiced today by Elam J. Anderson, pastor of the local United Methodist Church.

years ago which was accorded UNICEF in the Nobel prize for its contribution to world peace. "Of course some monies are directed to children in Communist countries," Rev. Anderson said, "because in our world such nations share equal rights with non-Communist countries in all United Nations programs. As Americans believing all men ought to have the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, we can bear a positive and compassionate witness in our divided world when we contribute generously, to the assistance of children whose parents and nations may be poles apart from us in political ideology."

He added that it is "interesting to note" that communities with well organized canvasses for UNICEF on Halloween night have "noticeably lower incidences of petty and serious mischief."

Night prayer meet slated Halloween

TWIN FALLS — Members of the First Church of the Nazarene, under the leadership of Rev. Joe Chastain have announced plans for an unusual all night prayer meeting on Halloween.

discuss their special needs. The all-night prayer meeting will begin at 9 p. m. and continue until 6 a. m. Oct. 31.

Wendell drive slated

WENDELL — Rev. John Steppert of the United Presbyterian Church announced the youth of the Wendell Methodist and Presbyterian Churches are planning a door-to-door canvass for UNICEF on Sunday evening, Nov. 1.

The Magic Valley Zone Halloween party for all teens will be held in Buhl at the Hills barn, 744 Fair Street, on Friday.

Other special events include the men's fellowship breakfast Saturday at 7:30 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

REV. WADE JERNIGAN

Baptists set meet

JEROME — Speakers for the Idaho State Association of Free Will Baptist Churches Nov. 6 and 7 will be Rev. Bill Johnson, Jerome, and Rev. Wade Jernigan, Fresno, Calif., according to Rev. Millar Ruble, pastor of the Twin Falls church.

The two-day meeting will be at the Free Will Baptist Church, 820 S. Cleveland, Jerome.

Rev. Jernigan, who will speak at 11 a.m. Nov. 7, is president of California Christian College in Fresno. He will be speaking at the Jerome, Twin Falls, Rupert and Buhl Free Will Baptist churches during his visit to Idaho.

Speaker set in T.F.

TWIN FALLS — Rev. Warren Bruton, who is associated with the Evangelical Alliance Mission Group, will speak at the First United Brethren church, Sunday.

Rev. Bruton is home on furlough from the mission field in Rhodesia. He will show slides of his work. Services will be held at 11 a.m. and at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

REV. GERALD DERSTINE

Writer to speak Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Rev. Gerald Derstine, Bradenton, Fla., Mennonite evangelist, missionary, and writer, will speak Saturday at 8 p.m. at the United Brethren Church.

Rev. Derstine gained national prominence in 1955 following an outpouring of the Holy Spirit in a Mennonite church in Minnesota. Rev. De Storey, local church pastor, reports. Since that time he has been in demand as a speaker at various denominations and church gatherings.

Rev. Derstine also founded a missionary evangelism organization to carry his religious message through several foreign countries. His organization now supports missionaries in Haiti, Mexico, the Philippines, Indonesia and other areas of the Caribbean and Central and South America.

Interim pastor named

BURLEY — Rev. J. S. (Jerry) Nelson has returned on an interim basis until the services of a permanent minister can be obtained for the First Christian Church.

Rev. Nelson served the Burley church from Oct. 1, 1934, until March 1, 1939. He then went to Miles City, Mont., Sheridan, Wyo., Kelso, Spokane and Cagnas, Wash.

On April 1, 1970, he retired from the ministry and made his home in Salem, Ore. He answered a call to Boise where he served for four months; then to Sunnyside, Wash. for six weeks, and now he is in Burley.

The length of time the interim pastor and his wife stay in Burley depends upon when the local congregation is able to obtain a permanent minister, he said. They are residing in the church parsonage, 1962 Occidental Ave.

During Rev. Nelson's ministry here some 30 years ago he was appointed by the governor as a member of the welfare committee when the welfare program was first established.

The couple's only son, Sheldon, was born here and he is now a professional soldier, and their three daughters live in Spokane, and Everett, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

The chewing gum industry buys 60 per cent of this country's mint oil.

Youth to organize at Paul

PAUL — The senior high class of United Methodist Youth of the Paul United Methodist Church will sponsor an organizational meeting at 9:45 a.m. Sunday at the church.

Mrs. Rueben Kraus, Paul, has been selected as organizer for the group.

Junior-high school age students have organized their group in a meeting Tuesday, electing officers and planning their winter program. The group will meet each Sunday at 7 p.m. in the church multipurpose room. Counselors will be Mrs. Gale Bailey and Mrs. Everett Dorsey, both of Paul.

Officers include Paul McClellan, president; Derry Dorsey, vice president, and Joyce Abo, secretary.

Mission festival slated

TWIN FALLS — Mission festival will be celebrated Sunday at the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Special worship services will be held at 8 and 11 a.m. with Rev. Thomas Burton, Jerome, speaking. He will talk on "Andrew, the man who introduced people to Jesus."

LWML Sunday also will be observed. Ladies of the LWML and senior choir will provide special music at both services.

Election dinner set at Wendell

WENDELL — The Interpretation and Stewardship Committee of the United Presbyterian Church of Wendell is making plans for an all-church Stewardship Dinner, Nov. 4.

The program will include a meal, group singing, explanation of Stewardship Week activities, and presentation of the "minimum percentage need goal" adopted by the officers of the church. The committee will also show slides which interpret the mission work of the United Presbyterian Church.

Hagerman sets Nov. 3 dinner

HAGERMAN — The WSCS of the Hagerman, United Methodist Church will hold an election day turkey dinner, bazaar and country store.

The events will be held at the church Nov. 3 at 5:30 p.m. All pre-school children will be admitted free.

RELIGION Open house set at LDS chapels

TWIN FALLS — Open house programs have been scheduled at area LDS chapels next week.

The public is invited to the Kimberly ward Thursday, from 7 to 9 p.m. and at the Twin Falls Stake House, Maurice street north, Friday, Nov. 6, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Allan Humphreys, Twin Falls stake mission president, stated that these open house functions are planned in the spirit of better understanding for those interested in knowing more about the church.

The film "In This Holy Place," will be featured. Concerning this film, one Midwest professional man and church official said: "This film is truly one of the most touching and inspirational films I have ever seen. It shows the way to achieve family unity and the way of attaining a happier homelife. It shows that family ties can and ought to last beyond the grave."

Questions will be answered on the church organization, the Book of Mormon, the major purpose of life, family unity, youth programs, welfare and food storage, genealogy and other topics that may be of interest.

Revival services planned

JEROME — Revival services beginning Nov. 2 at the Church of the Nazarene here will feature Rev. Charles E. Higgins, Pomona, Calif., now a full time evangelist.

Rev. Higgins began his work in 1946 as a minister of music in the Church of the Nazarene, Columbus, Ohio. He later moved to California and served as minister of music in Pasadena First Church. In 1951, Rev. Higgins accepted a pastorate in Lindsay, Calif., and in 1963 became pastor of the church in Honolulu, Hawaii.

He is a baritone soloist, plays piano and organ in addition to speaking during his revival campaigns.

Local services continue nightly through Nov. 8 with programs beginning at 8 p.m. in the Church of the Nazarene, South Lincoln St. and D Street. Rev. Lyle J. Higgins, pastor, is host for the evangelistic series.

Topic given

TWIN FALLS — Keynoting subject of the lesson-sermon at the First Church of Christ this Sunday will be "Everlasting Punishment."

A passage to be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will stress the importance of nations as well as individuals being just and right. The public is invited to attend the First Church of Christ, 160 9th Ave. E., Sunday.

About 10 per cent of the world's population is left-handed.

Workshop held at Burley

BURLEY — The Kendall Presbyterian Fall Workshop was held at the Presbyterian Church using the theme "Take Time"

The session was conducted by Mrs. Irene Turnure, Buhl, South District chairman of the Kendall Presbyterian. The workshop service was led by Mrs. Nola McClain, Valley and Mrs. Lois Matheny led the group in reading the Litany of confession.

Skills were presented by Mrs. Victoria Rainey, Pocatello, president of Presbyterian and Mrs. Michael Shaw, Rexburg, Mary Constant reported on her trip to the Orient.

A panel discussion was conducted by Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Rainey, Helen Shouse, Hazelton; Florence Kingma, Pocatello; Audrey Shaffler, Wendell; and Frances Datan, Salmon. All were delegates to the convention held recently in Purdue.

Members of the United Presbyterian Women's Union hosted the social hour and the noon luncheon. Making the arrangements were Mrs. Roger Brown, Mrs. Earl Clayville, Mrs. Ida Anderson, Mrs. Loren Joslyn, Mrs. Richard Kerbs, and Mrs. Max Larson.

Beet growers receive checks

Sheepmen set meet Nov. 15

OGDEN — South central Idaho is getting a $24 million boost to its farm economy this week. Sugar beet growers in the Twin Falls and Burley areas are receiving that amount in checks mailed from the Amalgamated Sugar Company, for final payment on the 1,200,000 ton 1969 beet crop grown in the Magic Valley.

Growers received an average of $17.21 per ton for their sugar beets in the Magic Valley. This is only one cent per ton less than last year's record high payment, senior vice President E. R. Niehaus reported, despite the lower sugar content for the '69 crop. Niehaus credited the high crop payment to an improving sugar market during the past five months. Under a participating contract with Amalgamated, growers share in sales revenue from refined sugar. Under the unique feature of the participating contract, which guarantees the beet grower automatic price increases as the price of sugar increases, Magic Valley growers received the second highest return for their beets in the company's history.

BURLEY — The annual convention of the Idaho Wool Growers Association will be held Nov. 15-17 at the Ponderosa Inn.

Lou Williams, Boise, executive secretary, said the program will start as usual Sunday evening, Nov. 15, with a banquet and the Miss Wool contest.

Monday, Nov. 16, general sessions will begin. Both the ladies and men will have separate meetings and events. There also will be combined activities, Williams noted. All aspects of the sheep industry, both here and abroad, will be discussed thoroughly during the three-day convention.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices were mixed and turnover moderate as the stock market passed the halfway mark Friday.

The Dow Jones Industrial average of 30 selected blue chips was 0.07 higher at 753.63 and declines outpaced advances 713 to 428 among the 1,465 issues traded.

Three-hour volume of 6,100,000 shares slowed from the comparable period Thursday.

The lackluster trading has been characteristic of recent sessions and observers generally attributed it to the murky economic picture, concern over poor third quarter results and the General Motors strike.

Students cast votes

TWIN FALLS — Voting machines, programmed for the general election Tuesday, have been placed in junior high schools in Buhl and Twin Falls and in Kimberly high school for a student vote.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said he finds the public gains more information about the voting machines through the student voting than through the public machine displays held prior to the August primary election.

For some reason, he said, the students seem to do a better job of informing the parents and other adults in their families than these adults obtained on their own by inspecting the machines in banks and supermarkets.

In the schools, he said, regular election procedure is followed as closely as possible. Student enrollment rosters are used as registration lists and as each student votes he is checked off by the student election boards.

Lancaster said in the Buhl schools, students were voting during lunch hours or immediately after school. Officials advised the students that since their parents had to go to some inconvenience to get to the polls on their own time and the same would hold true in the school election and no classes would be dismissed for voting.

Lancaster said he may also take a machine to the Buhl High school for voting if the school makes the request. A vote was held earlier in the Twin Falls high school.

Wood River group slates brochure

BY MELBA THORNE
Times-News Correspondent
SHOSHONE — The four counties participating in the Wood River Resource Area

Association will be asked to assist with funds for publication of a brochure outlining environmental developments. It was decided at a meeting at the courthouse here Thursday night. Gooding county agent Ed Koester said the proposed brochure would be published yearly and it is hoped to put out 2,000 copies. Lincoln, Gooding, Blaine and Camas counties are included in the Wood River resource group which includes representatives from all governmental agencies dealing with natural resources. Vernon Ravenscroft, Tuttle, reported on plans for the 800-acre Mad Gorge Park which will accommodate overnight trailers and Niagara Springs picnic area which is being developed as a family picnic area. Both are being developed with Idaho Park Department funding, he said. Charles Case, Soil Conservation Service, soil scientist, reported on formation of an arts and crafts marketing group. Don Savaria, Shoshone, BLM official, discussed big game management and stressed the importance of rotation grazing.

Cassia aides oppose plan

BY GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Correspondent
BURLEY — Five candidates for the Idaho Legislature from Cassia County have expressed opposition to the proposed revised constitution which will be on the general election ballot Tuesday.

Joe Preston, Republican state senator seeking re-election, said he would vote against the proposed revised constitution. "If changes are needed in the constitution, they should be made by members of a constitutional convention. Provision for this is made in the present constitution. The proposed revised constitution as written leaves serious problems in the areas of water, special sessions and passing of bond elections," Preston said.

Extra duty day looms

TWIN FALLS — Law enforcement officers will be working a few extra hours Saturday to discourage serious Halloween damage and to maintain control in the city and county.

City police say they anticipate most of the Halloween activities in Twin Falls, if they follow previous patterns, will be confined to pranks, with some egg and tomato throwing. Parents should make certain, Chief of Police Frank Barnett said, that youngsters are not blinded by Halloween masks or costumes and are reminded to watch for traffic while on their trick-or-treat rounds.

Eastern firm low on meters

TWIN FALLS — Two bids were received Thursday afternoon by city officials for the purchase of new parking meters for Main Avenue.

Apparent low bid was from the M.H. Rhodes Inc., Hartford, Conn., in the amount of $3,655 for the 85 machines that will be needed to control parking on the redesigned downtown Main Avenue area.

Another bid was from Starline Equipment Co., Boise, in the amount of $4,930.

This is the second bid opening for meters with the first about a month ago attracting only a bid from Starline Equipment Co., in the same amount as its Thursday bid. Because only one firm submitted a figure and because downtown designers decided on some minor changes, a second call for bids was issued.

City Manager Jenn Mjlar said the bids will be reviewed and presented to the city council Monday night with a recommendation.

Rupert park aided

RUPERT — Minidoka County has received the 10th payment from the Idaho Parks Board for development of the Emerald Lake project, four miles southwest of Rupert, Wayne Hollenbeck, county commissioner, said today.

He said the recreation area which includes 80 acres, was begun four years ago and is nearing completion. Grass has been planted, a deep well dug and water lines installed for the picnic areas. An underground sprinkling system also is installed and a caretaker's dwelling and public restrooms completed.

The check for $3,990.69 from Federal Land and Water Conservation funds, administered by the state parks board is the 10th payment Minidoka County has received, Hollenbeck said.

Mercury vapor lights are currently being installed now at the site and the recreation area will be completed next spring with the planting of some 100 trees and addition of fireplaces, camp stoves and picnic tables.

Three sides of the lake have been planted to grass with the north side left open for parking, boat launching and fishing. The county receives the federal money on a matching basis, Hollenbeck said.

Blast leads lacking

HAILEY — Blaine County Sheriff Orville Drexler said today he has no leads in connection with an explosion at the Liberty Gem Mine Sunday evening.

The blast damaged buildings and dug a crater in the side of a hill across a gully from the mine.

The sheriff said he knows of no apparent motive for the blast. He also said he does not know if there is any connection between the blast and periodic dynamite thefts in the area. The most recent theft of explosives occurred over two weeks ago.

Drexler also disclosed that about an hour and a half before the blast at the mine, two sticks of dynamite destroyed an unlocked pasture gate across the Democrat Mine road.

Attacks refuted by Webb

TWIN FALLS — Recent attacks on the proposed new Idaho Constitution were termed blatant distortion of the truth today by Lloyd J. Webb, Twin Falls attorney and member of the Revision Commission.

In response to charges that the revision grants to anyone unlimited power to confiscate private property, Webb said the only change in the proposed revision is the addition of the words "or enhancement" to the phrase "preservation of health" and the addition of the phrase "and general welfare" to the things which may be preserved by the state through the use of eminent domain within the strict controls of both the new and old constitutions.

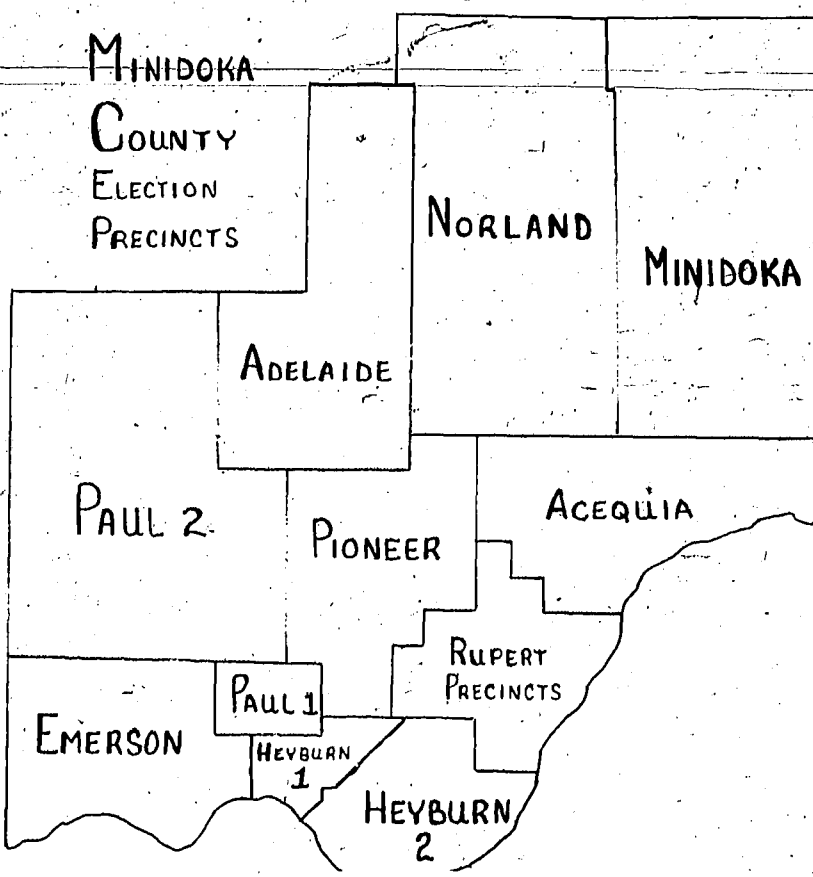

Additionally, the new constitution provides for elimination of the state's immunity from suit so that an individual can strike back at the state.

The suggestion that the revision deletes the means of the citizen to use initiative and referendum is, again, a blatant untruth, Webb said. He noted the present constitution provides for initiative and referendum but leaves it up to the legislature to determine how it may be exercised. This means the Legislature could simply under the present constitution require such a large number of signatures so that these tools would be impossible to use.

The new constitution strengthens the language allowing initiative and referendum and sets the number of signatures at 10 percent of the total vote cast for governor, so that the legislature could never undermine the rights of citizens to use the initiative and referendum.

The new constitution adds the phrase "to keep" to the right "to bear" on the section dealing with the right of citizen to firearms. This is legally important because courts have ruled that "to bear" arms means the right to participate in militias, and the revision removes the restriction that one can bear arms for security and defense, meaning one can keep them for whatever purpose reasonably within the law.

Gem PTA shuns stand on new constitution

BURLEY — The Idaho State PTA is not taking a stand on the proposed revision of the Idaho Constitution, Mrs. Maxine Smith, Boise, state PTA secretary, told the Times-News Thursday evening.

Mrs. Smith said the state PTA, meeting here for its annual conference, is a non-partisan group and does not have or has not taken part in political issues or endorse political candidates.

During Thursday's session of the three-day conference, Mrs. Grace Balsinger, Washington, D.C., National PTA, spoke on the change and concern for children.

Panel set to field revision question

BUHL — Questions about the proposed revised Idaho constitution will be answered by telephone on Sunday and Monday, announced Sen. John Barker, Buhl, chairman of the Magic Valley Citizens Committee on Constitutional Revision.

Many people seem to have one or two questions after studying the proposed updating of Idaho's basic document. Therefore, members of the citizens committee decided to make a telephone service for last minute questions. We will use the secretary of state's comparison of the existing and proposed constitutions to answer any questions posed by the voters," Sen. Barker said.

The answering service will follow the KMYT-TV presentation on "Seventy" of a constitutional discussion moderated by Phil Wenstrand. The show features Wallace Hill, Douglas Kramer and Barker.

Sunday's answering service will be staffed from 3 to 6 p. m. following the 2:30 p. m. television show. The Sunday number to call is 733-1781. On Monday calls will be taken at 733-2601 from 8 to 10 p. m., following the "Seventy" show at 7:30 p. m.

Sen. Barker said, "It has been gratifying to see the increased interest and awareness in the revision and our committee is willing to answer any questions on the subject. Due to lack of funds we regret we will not be able to accept collect phone calls."

She encouraged Idaho members to become involved in the new R.I.S.E. project in their individual communities. She said she is particularly concerned with communications between parent-teacher-child.

Dr. Hervon Snider moderated a symposium Thursday afternoon. Panel members included Mrs. Ronald Koch, who spoke on kindergartens and the need for early childhood education; Dr. Gail Feen, on special clinics for helping children with their special needs, and Mrs. Harvey Abel, on food and nutrition for children.

Review report studied

TWIN FALLS — Provisions of the 1970 report of the Land Law Review Commission were discussed Thursday in the annual fall ranger and staff meeting of the Sawtooth National Forest.

Forest Supervisor Ed Fournier said the employees were reviewing the 137 provisions of the report. They are still in report form only as no congressional or administrative action has been taken, he said.

Among recommendations in the report is one which would create a new National Resources Department under which both the U.S. Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management would be placed. Presently the forest service is administered under the Department of Agriculture and the BLM under the Department of Interior.

Balleisen spoke at the initiation ceremonies for new members of the honor society, the Omicron Xi chapter of Pi Theta Kappa, Pi Theta is the junior-college-level honor society which is the equivalent of Pi Beta Kappa for senior colleges.

House aspirants speak

(Editor's note: This is the last of six releases providing information on contested political races in Twin Falls County. The material was gathered in response to questionnaires from the League of Women Voters. The candidates' own words are used. Today — state representative candidates from District 24 (western half of Twin Falls County).

The two incumbent Republican representatives in Legislative District 24 are challenged in the coming general election by Jack L. Clough, Democrat, Twin Falls. The League regrets that no reply was received from Clough.

William J. Laning, Rt. 1 and William Roberts, Rt. 4, Buhl, are incumbent representatives. In response to the question, "What should be the responsibility of the legislative branch of the state government for insuring environmental quality?" Laning said, "Generally setting the guidelines and standards and providing the funds for administrative enforcement of rules and regulations necessary to achieve the purpose of the legislative intent."

In reply to the environmental question Roberts said, "Set reasonable ground rules for pollution control, compatible with federal rules, fixing the responsibility of industry, agriculture and citizens in maintaining good quality of environment. Provide methods of policing by the state so that overlapping with federal policing would be eliminated. Enforcement of regulations be kept in the hands of the state."

The second question asked was "What do you consider to be the most pressing governmental problem in Idaho and what solutions do you propose?" Roberts answered the problem question, "Provision of adequate and proper services in elementary, secondary and higher education, mental retardation and mental health. Greater role of state support and establishing more up-to-date fund distribution formulas to eliminate increased impact on the property taxpayer. Priorities must be placed on adequately funding programs in existence."

JACK CLOUGH

WILLIAM LANING

WILLIAM ROBERTS

"Property tax relief, adequate funding for education, utilization and preservation of our water."

The third question posed was, "What changes, if any, would you make in Idaho's educational system?" Laning said, "One combined appropriation of funds to all of our institutions of higher learning, and these funds to be distributed by the state board of education. Also continuation of efforts to improve the school equalization formula."

Answering the education question Roberts stated, "To distribute more of the educational dollars into vocational training areas. We have a definite shortage of trained people in the mechanical, computer, appliance electrical and other service areas that make up 70 percent of our work force, but in the past we have placed the least emphasis on them."

Laning, 52, is a graduate of Hollister High School and is a farmer and livestock man on the Salmon Tract. He is currently speaker of the House, vice president of the National Council of State Governments and serves as co-chairman of the Legislative Council.

Roberts, 50, a graduate of Buhl High School is a farm equipment and motor truck dealer. He lists experience in business management for 30 years as a qualification for office.

City progress claimed in T.F.

TWIN FALLS — The city has made as much progress in the past 25 years as all mankind made in the last 5,000 years — progress in thinking, progress in economy and progress in growth, Twin Falls attorney Robert Balleisen told members of Pi Theta Kappa Thursday night.

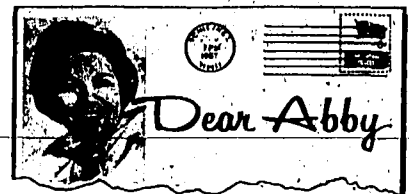

"In the past 10,000 years — the change from nomadic living to city-building 'about 5,000 years ago,' and the second, which occurred only recently — the development of computers in the early 1950s, Balleisen said.

Balleisen spoke at the initiation ceremonies for new members of the honor society, the Omicron Xi chapter of Pi Theta Kappa. Pi Theta is the junior-college-level honor society which is the equivalent of Pi Beta Kappa for senior colleges.

Balleisen challenged the students to accept the inevitability of progress; to be able to accept radical change in thought and action "almost overnight." Mankind has undergone two major

DEAR ABBY: I went with a married man for 10 years. He said he was married in name only and he promised to leave his wife when their children were on their own.

Well, instead of leaving HER, he left ME. Toward the end I had the feeling that he was a louse so I taped some conversations we had. He said a lot of terrible things about his wife and other men. I have it all on tape.

I would like to get even with him by sending each member of his family a copy of these tapes with his voice saying these things. (He is also a grandfather.) He still doesn't know I have him on tape.

Please answer soon as I promise to follow your advice. I feel like a fool for having spent 10 years underground.

A FOOL

DEAR FOOL: Destroy the tapes. If you were to send them to his family, a lot of innocent people would be hurt. Accept your share of the blame for the 10 years you spent underground. Forget the louse and turn over a new leaf.

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write this letter for a long time, so here goes.

I feel so hurt when my husband dances cheek-to-cheek with all the tall girls in our crowd because I am barely 5 foot and he is 6 foot 4, and he can't dance cheek to cheek with me.

SHORTY

DEAR SHORTY: Find a short man in your crowd and dance cheek-to-cheek with HIM. He has the same problem.

DEAR ABBY: I painted a landscape in oils about two years ago. I considered it very good and so did others who saw it. My sister admired it, so I gave it to her for a Christmas present and she very proudly hung it on the wall in her living room.

Well, she and her husband recently bought a new home, and they took this landscape painting of mine and put it down in their bar in the cellar among a lot of cartoons and other junky pictures.

When I went to their home and saw it there I was heartbroken but said nothing.

Can you think of a way I could get my painting back?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: The painting is theirs, regardless of where they hang it, but if you want it, offer to paint them a more "appropriate" picture for their bar in exchange for the landscape. I'll bet you get your landscape back.

DEAR ABBY: What should a guy do when he thinks he is in love with a girl who will date him only during the week—but never on the weekend? Every weekend she says she is busy with her girl friends, or her family.

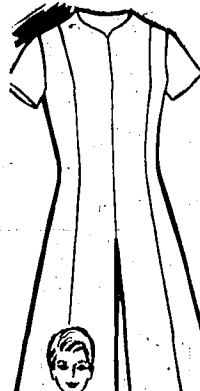

Also when I take her to a movie or to dinner during the week she always brings her mother or a girl friend. I don't mind this once in a while, but not all the time. Can you advise me?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: How old are you? And how old is she? If she is old enough to date without a chaperone, there is no need for her to bring her mother or a girl friend along on a date. If I were you, I would look for another girl. I think you are being kid.

99th Birthday

GOODING — The 99th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Lulu Severn, Twin Falls, was observed at a gathering this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Locke, Gooding.

Mrs. Severn is the aunt of Mrs. Locke, Sid Byram and the late Jack Byram, all Gooding. Other special guests were Elsie Lindgren, Twin Falls, and the honored guest's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Byram, Edwall, Wash.

The refreshment table was centered with a large white cake trimmed with yellow and topped with the numerals, "99". Other guests attended from Boise, Wendell, Twin Falls, Pocatello and Gooding.

Holiday fair set in Burley

BURLEY — The Cassia County Extension Homemakers group will hold its Holiday Fair at 2 p.m. Nov. 10 at Burley Elks Lodge Hall. The public is invited.

The event will include a combination of fashions and foods for the holiday season.

The garments which will be modeled will be furnished by the Simplicity Pattern Co. The fashions are designed for both adults and children and will depict various lengths which are currently in style, including the midl, mini and maxi.

Information will be given on pattern and fabric selection and garment care as well as sewing techniques.

The holiday foods for tasting will include desserts, breads and candies.

Special invitations have been sent to the LDS Relief Societies in Cassia County to take part in modeling and making of the various foods for the event.

A small fee will be charged for admission, according to the extension homemakers officials.

Diet failure can provide key to weight control

HANOVER, N.J. — "Eighty-five per cent of all diets fail, but each failure provides a valuable key to successful weight control," Morton B. Glenn, MD, told a physician audience here in the Sandoz Auditorium recently.

Dr. Glenn spoke on "Obesity — The Family Physician's Role" as part of the 1970-71 Sandoz postgraduate medical lecture series.

The lecturer is chief of the obesity clinic, Knickerbocker Hospital; chief, Morrisania Nutrition Clinic, New York City Department of Health; assistant professor of clinical medicine, New York College of Medicine; visiting professor of preventive medicine, Albert Einstein College of Medicine. Formerly, he served as president, Food and Nutrition Council of Greater New York; president of the American College of Nutrition, and consultant to the United Nations.

According to the weight control authority, a study of diet failures produces valuable information for determining why obesity occurs. Physically, how obesity happens has a simple explanation — "The law of thermodynamics dictates that body fat will accrue if caloric intake exceeds caloric expenditure," he stated. "Obesity has multiple causes. Psychological desires, a lack of education, cultural eating habits or attitudes towards body proportion standards are all reasons why weight control fails and obesity occurs," the doctor explained.

"In order to cope with weight control," Dr. Glenn said, "the obese individual needs a triad consisting of self-control, self-discipline, and food education. The only prevention for obesity," he asserted, "is a regimen of proper food habits and exercise."

"Caloric intake should be kept at just the level necessary to sustain caloric expenditure, and meals should be nutritionally balanced. Labor saving devices," he emphasized, "and our non-physical culture have made habitual exercise a must."

Gad-Abouts view season's favorites

KETCHUM — Bikinis are not some people's idea of ski wear, either before or after, but such was the feature of a special style preview hosted by the Gad-About Club at the Calico Wednesday.

Approximately 150 women from Southern Idaho gathered for the informal showing by Rowena's Sports Chalet, Ketchum, and had to look several times when one of the models appeared in a gold bikini, guaranteed to be water- but not man-proof. Modeling the unusual outfit was Barbara Browning, who assured all present she would not be seen on the slopes in her at-home wear.

Models for the show, in addition to Barbara, were Roberta Mallone, Linda Davis, Twin Falls, Rita Haney, Sandi Shipley, Donna Parrish, Kelli Welsh, wife of Calico's chef, Danny Hart and Rick Denton, a professional model. Approximately 60 of the latest styles in ski wear were shown, most drawing the approval of the audience.

Mrs. Welsh and Rowena Mallon narrated the show while Charles Macak, one of the original members of the Sun Valley Trio, provided the background music.

Before and after ski wear, furs and leathers were shown and the show remained entirely non-mid, much to the delight of those present. Among the garments shown were Anba from Austria, Morland's Sheepskins and coats from England, and Alaska Arctic Furs.

Betty Chalfonte, president of the Gad-Abouts, said the group is strictly a social group and meet once a month for lunch. The show is an annual event.

Rushees welcomed

TWIN FALLS — Two rushees, Mrs. Dave Ward and JoAnn Ainsworth, were welcomed at the Idaho Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Darrell Burnett.

It was announced the city-wide bazaar will be held Nov. 7 at the American Legion Hall; cookies will be furnished for the Red Cross Bloodmobile Nov. 9, and a cooked food sale is scheduled for Nov. 21 at Penney's. For the cooked food sale, each member is asked to bring three food items.

It was also announced that Omicron Chapter will cooperate with the Community Action Agency and assist with Head Start tots in the near future.

U.S. Men's amateur cooking event set

CLEVELAND, Ohio — If a man's home is his castle, the kitchen need not be a dungeon. Millions of American males have discovered this fact as evidenced by the growing number of men who practice the culinary art as a hobby.

For the 11th straight year, those men who are serious about their cooking skills have a chance to prove how really good they are.

The Potato Chip Institute International, trade association for the billion-dollar-a-year chip industry, is again sponsoring the U.S. Men's Amateur Cooking Championship, a competition which produces thousands of original recipes from amateur male cooks.

Over the past decade, winners have ranged from a stock clerk to a pathologist. Rules for the competition are simple: Any male amateur cook may enter the championship by sending in original recipes of one or more main dishes using potato chips as an ingredient. No box tops, labels or coupons are needed in submitting recipes. Professional chefs may not enter.

Cash prizes range from $1,000 for first place to $200 for fourth place. Four regional winners will be selected to participate in the annual cook-off for the championship. This year's regional winners will be awarded all-expense-paid trips for two persons at the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach, where the final cook-off will be held on Jan. 26.

Contest deadline is Dec. 1, 1970.

Aaron grabs early Sahara meet lead with 7-under 64

AFC running behind in series with NFC

By BOB DI PIETRO
UPI Sports Writer
The score is 11-3, their favor. What do you do? Get discouraged? Quit? Or fight back?

The American Football Conference has too much pride, prestige and money at stake to quit in discouragement, so its teams will be fighting mad this Sunday.

The AFC is on the short end of that 11-3 score in its first year of regular-season competition with the older National Football Conference.

Last week, the AFC drew a blank in the three scheduled inter-conference games.

On Sunday, the Houston Oilers, New York Jets and Denver Broncos will be seeking a measure of revenge and added respectability as they meet inter-conference foes.

The Oilers face the St. Louis Cardinals, the Jets, host the New York Giants and the Broncos challenge the Washington Redskins.

Ten intra-conference games will close out the seventh week of the regular season.

In the AFC, Buffalo is at Boston, Miami at Baltimore, Oakland at Kansas City and San Diego at Cleveland in Sunday games, while Cincinnati is at Pittsburgh in the nationally televised (ABC 9pm EST) Monday night contest.

NFC action has Chicago at Atlanta, Green Bay at San Francisco, Los Angeles at New Orleans, Minnesota at Detroit and Philadelphia at Dallas.

If one had said seven weeks ago that the Giants had any chance of beating the Jets, people would have scoffed at the notion. Their scoffs today would accompany the reverse contention.

The Jets, dizzied by injuries to super quarterback Joe Namath and running back Matt Snell, are 1-5 and tied with the Patriots in last place in the AFC Eastern Division. Only the Eagles, 0-6, have a more dismal record.

The Giants, suddenly contenders in the NFC East following three straight victories, are nine-point choices over their neighbors.

Fran Tarkenton, the Giant quarterback, comes off a 35-17 victory over the Cardinals in which he threw a career-high five touchdown passes and completed an amazing 15 of 19 tosses. Ron Johnson, acquired

It just wasn't Jack's day

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus broke a shoe lace twice when he was putting on his golf shoes.

That was the start of a bad day Thursday for the defending champion in the $100,000 Sahara Invitational tournament.

When he went out to the first tee he couldn't find his caddy, Angelo Argen.

"Angelo is very dependable," said Nicklaus later. "He's worked for me since January of 1963. This was the first time I ever let him take my clubs home with him."

Nicklaus let Argen take the clubs because he didn't want to lug them up to his hotel room. The caddy failed to show on time and Nicklaus had to borrow a set.

"I didn't even notice they had aluminum shafts," said Nicklaus.

He ended up shooting a 37-30—70, five over par for the Paradise Valley Country Club course.

He had a new caddy too and will have the same one for the rest of the tournament. Argen showed up with the clubs after Nicklaus was on the course. Under PGA regulations he was not permitted to change but may play with his own clubs in subsequent rounds.

The caddy would not comment on his tardiness and Nicklaus would not explain, saying, "I don't want to get in to his personal problems."

May in the Atlanta Classic, shot 32-32—64 on the par 36-35-71 Paradise Valley Country Club course, one of two in use for the 13th annual Sahara.

Don January, the former PGA champ, and New Englander Joe Carr, who now plays out of Honolulu, were low at the other course, the Sahara-Nevada, with 66s, five under. January had nines of 33-33 while Carr shot 32-34.

Defending champion Jack Nicklaus, shooting for his fifth Sahara title, was forced to use borrowed clubs because his caddy failed to show up with his bag. Nicklaus took a five over par 76 on nines of 37-30 with only one birdie and five bogeys.

Weather conditions were nearly ideal for golf. There was little wind and the sun bathed the courses with the mercury in the high 60s.

Almost half the starting field of 160 golfers broke or matched par 71, par is 36-35 on both courses.

Young Larry Hinson of Douglas, Ga., shot 35-32—67 at Paradise and Roy Pace, Longview, Tex., did the same at Sahara-Nevada.

There was a flock of 68 shooters. Among them were the 1968 Sahara champion, Chi Chi Rodriguez, who carded 35-33-68 at Paradise. Other 68 shooters included Terry Dill, Pete Brown, Tom Shaw, John Miller, Dick Crawford, Larry Ziegler, Kermit Zarley and Bert Greene.

Ken Still, winner of last week's Kaiser Open, could do no better than 38-34—72. Doug Sanders, the 1959 Sahara champ, took 39-35—74.

Aaron, rated by his fellow pros as one of the smoothest strikers on the tour, was all smiles after his 64. He had nine birdies and two bogeys. His longest birdie putt was a 22-footer. He also sank a 17-foot par and a couple of 15-footers. "I hit a lot of good irons," he said.

All-loop gridded quits team

By United Press International
Defensive end Judge Mattocks, who made all-Atlantic Coast Conference as a sophomore last season, has quit the North Carolina football team.

A friend said Mattocks apparently feels football is "not his bag anymore."

Mattocks failed to report for practice Wednesday and Coach Bill Dooley said "When a player doesn't come to practice, we can only assume he is giving up the sport."

Fellow students said Mattocks, a black, had become increasingly outspoken on black militancy recently. Mattocks could not be reached for comment, but a close friend, split end Ricky Lanier, said, "As far as I'm concerned, Mattocks is just tired of football. It's not his bag anymore."

Dooley said sophomore Gene Brown would start in Mattock's place against Virginia Saturday.

Cotton Bowl planning another offense show

DALLAS (UPI) — Sparkling offenses overpowering top defensive units was the mark of the Texas-Notre Dame Cotton Bowl thriller last January and though the teams in the 1971 classic may not be the same, there is little doubt that the offense will be back.

Knicks slip past San Diego

NEW YORK (UPI)—Willis Reed's field goal and foul shot in a 24-second span during the last minute of the game pushed the New York Knicks to a 114-107 victory over San Diego and offset a tremendous fourth-quarter effort by Calvin Murphy that almost pulled out the game for the Rockets.

With the Knicks leading, 109-107, Reed's hook shot gave New York a four-point spread and his subsequent free throw with six seconds left clinched the game for the Atlantic Division leaders.

Breaks Record

BOISE (UPI) — Capital high school's Ron Emry turned in the greatest one-man rushing show in Idaho prep football annals Thursday night as he rushed for 435 yards and led Capital to a 35-6 win over Meridian.

The 170 pound junior halfback recorded five touchdowns for his second consecutive game as he picked up all of the yardage in 27 carries.

Flood might sign, but Kuhn adamant on reserve clause

NEW YORK (UPI)—Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said Thursday that he will refuse to approve a contract signed by Curt Flood if it doesn't include the reserve clause.

Flood, whose court suit to overthrow the reserve clause is currently at the appeal stage, has said he won't sign a baseball contract that includes the reserve clause.

Flood is currently negotiating with Washington Senator owner Bob Short, who got the consent of the Philadelphia Phillies to talk to him. Flood refused to play last year and went to court when he was traded from St. Louis to Philadelphia.

The centerfielder flew from his current home in Copenhagen to New York last weekend to talk to Short. "Short offered me more money ($100,000) to play with the Senators next year than I got ($90,000) for playing with the Cardinals in 1969. Maybe I'll start a trend of players taking a year off."

Alex scores 400th goal

DETROIT (UPI)—Alex Delvecchio became the sixth player in National Hockey League history to score 400 career goals when he notched his fourth of the season 30 seconds into a Detroit Red Wings game Thursday night against the Boston Bruins.

Bruin defenseman Bobby Orr and Dallas Smith fell down with the puck just across the Boston blue line. Delvecchio picked it up and went in uncontested against goalie Gerry Cheevers.

Alex drew Cheevers out and neatly slipped in the puck from the right side of the net. He thus joined teammate Gordie Howe, Maurice Richard, Bobby Hull, Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion as the only ones to put the puck in the net 400 times.

Flood is still hoping to get a higher offer but he makes it obvious he's closer to signing. "I still think the reserve clause stinks but, frankly, like everybody else, I've had some business reverses and I need the money."

Flood said he'd been under tremendous pressure for the past year while sitting out and fighting the suit. "Things are going so bad for me now," he chuckled, "that it would be just my luck to jump out of a window and live."

Flood said Copenhagen will continue to be his home. "I shipped everything I own over there. I didn't expect you to be back and I certainly didn't even think I'd play baseball again. Most of my hangup was mental and that gave me a chance to

Frazier ready to box Foster

EAST STROUDSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—With his broken right foot completely healed, heavyweight champion Joe Frazier "will be as quick and relentless as ever" when he defends his title against lightweight champion Bob Foster in Detroit Nov. 18, according to Frazier's manager Yank Durham.

"Joe's tested the leg and there is no slowdown," Durham said from Frazier's training headquarters. "If the injury wasn't completely healed, I'd be an idiot to schedule a fight with Foster. Foster is a schooled, well-rounded boxer against whom you don't send a one-legged man."

Frazier broke his foot during a Las Vegas singing engagement last March. The cast was removed in April and he has had a full six months to develop muscle tone in the damaged area.

get away from it. That's why I'm more inclined to play. That and the fact I need the money."

Kuhn said that "Flood could continue to play and still sue because the district judge had said it wouldn't affect the case. But when he was asked if the appeal court might rule that the case was no longer relevant if Flood plays, Kuhn said, "I hesitate to put myself in the position of speculating what the appeal court might say."

But Kuhn said he would not approve a contract signed by Flood or any other player without the standard reserve clause.

Kuhn also said that if Short doesn't sign with the Senators, they don't have to send any player or players to Philadelphia. At the World Series, Short had indicated he would send the Phils a player just for the rights to negotiate with Flood. But it was later decided that Short would have to send the Phils players only if he does sign him.

When he was asked if Ted Williams would have trouble managing Flood and Denny McLain on the same team, Kuhn smiled, "I think Ted is a man for all seasons."

Hawaiians vote BYU into meet

HONOLULU (UPI) — University of Hawaii undergraduates have voted to permit Brigham Young University to participate in the seventh annual Rainbow Basketball Classic.

the Boise State Broncos. Coming off a 12-0 non-conference win last Saturday over Eastern Washington, the Broncos travel to Pocatello, Idaho and Idaho State's Mindomo Saturday to meet the Bengals of ISU.

The students decided in the plebiscite Wednesday to maintain the present invitation to BYU to participate in this year's classic, starting Dec. 26 at the Honolulu International Center.

However, the students said they did not want the university to make any further athletic agreements with BYU.

with the offensive play at all. "We missed too many scoring opportunities in the first half and had to fight for our lives in the second half," Robbins added.

The senate of the Associated Students of the University of Hawaii (ASUH) voted to hold the plebiscite on BYU's participation after complaints from black students. BYU is owned and operated by the Mormon church, which denies priesthood to its black members.

The Vandals came out of their game with Portland State in fairly good physical condition. Randy Peterson suffered a bruised shoulder and Kelly Courage has a bruised knee, for the only major injuries. Both are expected back for this week's game.

Should the university withdraw its invitation to Brigham Young University to participate in the Rainbow classic?

T.F. sophs surprise Boise 13-12

Should the university refrain from scheduling BYU in future athletic events?

BOISE — The Twin Falls sophomores posted their biggest win of the season Thursday afternoon by upsetting the Boise high sophs 13-12.

Should the university refrain from scheduling BYU in future athletic events? The results of the plebiscite revealed that 724 students felt that the University of Hawaii should not withdraw its present invitation while 593 voted to exclude BYU from the classic. And 748 students said the university should not make any future agreements with the Mormon University while 521 felt contracts should be continued.

The decisive point came on a point-after conversion by Brent Fenstermaker.

Utags told to hire own umps

DENVER (UPI) — Wiles Hallock, commissioner of the Western Athletic Conference, suggested Thursday that Utah State should "look elsewhere" for officials for its football games if the school doesn't think WAC officials are competent.

Twin Falls scored first on a two-yard drive by Bill Woodson after a 35-yard pass from Rex Shaffer to Mike Beck. But Boise rallied back into a halftime tie, picking up a key first down and most of the yardage on a pass out of a fourth down punt formation.

Hallock said there is the element of human error in athletic events, but felt the WAC had one of the best officiating programs in the country.

The Bruins got the clinching points in the third quarter after Ross Deahl blocked a Boise punt at the Brave 25-yard line. Five plays later Gary Scott went in from the two and Fenstermaker tacked on the crucial extra point.

Utah State is not a conference member, but meets many WAC schools in athletic events.

Boise pulled to within one when it blocked a Twin Falls punt, picked up the loose ball and ran it into the end zone. But Twin Falls, for the second time, stopped the two-point run.

Utah State Athletic Director Frank "Buss" Williams charged this week that several calls by WAC officials in last Saturday's Utah State-Brigham Young football game were in error and cost Utah State the match.

Linebackers Dick Walker, Jerry Sturgill and Mark McKain drew praise from their coaches for their defensive play. Twin Falls will carry a 5-2-1 mark into the season finale at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Minico.

BYU, a conference member, scored a 27-20 upset over Utah State.

O'Leary eighth grade nips Stuart in last seconds

Hallock defended the officials Thursday, saying he rejected "as completely untrue the charge and any innuendo that our officials are in any way biased for our conference members or against Utah State."

Fred Mathews, best known for his defensive play, turned a short pass into a 57-yard touchdown bomb with 1:10 left in the game Thursday night to lift the O'Leary eighth grade past Robert Stuart 20-14.

The commissioner said he could not comment on specific charges by Williams, because films of the game had not been received.

Quarterback Joe Nunnally flipped the ball about 20 yards in the air before Mathews made the catch. He pulled away from the grasp of one defender who was getting a Nantucket sleigh ride by holding with one hand to Mathews' jersey. But when he fell off, Mathews stepped around the last man and went in.

"It is Utah State which seeks WAC officiating services, not the other way around," Hallock said. "I am sorry that Utah State feels as it does, but if its present state of mind continues, perhaps it should look elsewhere for its officiating assignments."

O'Leary scored on a 29-yard romp by Tucker Woodson but Stuart came back in the final 40 seconds of the half to tie it on a 19-yard spring by Bruce Bird. Stuart took the lead with 2:40 left in the third period when Corky Bjornn plunged in from the one and Gary Miller threw to Dennis Molyneux for the two-point conversion.

Hallock said there "are elements of human error, by players, coaches and officials" in all athletic events and that if the officials' calls referred to by Williams were wrong, "I regret it very much."

O'Leary tied it with a quick return march after the kickoff, Craig Day going in from the four and Woodson tying it on a two-point run.

'Lean and hungry' Idaho State aims for first victory against Broncos

POCATELLO — Idaho State has never beaten Boise State in a football game, a situation which 47 lean and hungry Bengal gridders will hope to rectify Saturday in the Mindomo. Game time is 8 p. m. and reserved seats have been sold out for two weeks.

In their only 1970 tilt with a BSC foe, their conference record is 1-1 because their game with Long Beach State, which they lost, was counted as a conference game to give them a chance to qualify for the championship. Boise is 8-1 for the season. Most of the wins weren't close.

do the job on a given week. Running backs are steady Mike Haley and Ross Wright. Dennis Baird has always managed to give ISU flits. In 1968 it was with his 45-yd.-average punting and last year he caught six passes for 140 yards. Al Marshall and Dennis Pooley are also fine pass receivers.

Tony Knap of the Broncos has a 2-0 edge over Ed Cavanaugh with a 27-20 decision in 1968 and a 35-27 verdict last year. The past three years Knap has been the West's wingingest coach with a 23-4 record. Disaster was predicted for Boise when it was admitted to the Big Sky Conference but the Broncos beat Montana State 17-10 in Bozeman ISU is 4-3, and 3-1 in conference play after a wildly emotional 30-14 win over Weber State. It was ISU's first win over Weber since 1964 and ISU's first-ever win over Coach Sark Aralanian and a rally from a 14-0 deficit was necessary to win.

4 indicted for sports gambling

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — A federal grand jury Thursday indicted four Bigod, Miss., men on seven charges of gambling and conspiring to gamble in interstate commerce on sports events.

Boise has had its trouble moving the ball but no trouble at all in stopping its opponents from moving it. Boise is second in BSC defensive stats. Two outstanding safeties, Steve Forrey and Ken Johnson keep opposing passers honest. Forrey was a teammate of ISU's All-American quarterback Jerry Dunne at Boise High and picked off three of his passes two years ago. He's grabbed 22 in his college career.

Named as co-conspirators but not defendants were Hall of Fame baseball pitcher Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, his nephew, Paul Dean Jr., and Lansing, Mich., businessman Howard Sober.

Quarterback has been a Boise problem with Eric Guthrie, Ron Aulete and Pat Ehrlich being alternated. Knap has always been able to find one who could

Stuart hits early, drops Cubs

The Robert Stuart frosh struck for two touchdowns in a 56-second span of the first quarter Thursday night and pushed their margin to 20-0 later before conating into a 26-6 decision over cross-town rival O'Leary.

It was only the second time in the rivalry's history that Stuart came out the winner but Curtis Ward, Mike Olson and Dwayne Tucker provided the early fireworks that settled it. Tucker and Ward did most of the carrying as Stuart took the opening kickoff and went driving. Olson rolled out for the touchdown, with 6:25 remaining in the first period, and then hit Ward for the two-points. Two plays later Stuart's Ken Bird picked off an O'Leary jump pass and on the next play Ward burst up the middle and went 46 yards to score.

Early in the second quarter Monty Kramer set Stuart up with a fumble recovery on the O'Leary 43 and seconds later Olson threw a 31-yard scoring bomb to Terry Hillman.

O'Leary got its first score two minutes left in the half when, running out of a shotgun formation, Mel Harder, the up man, got the ball, burst through the middle and went 65 yards. It stayed like that until 4:21. remained in the game when Ward plunged in from the two.

PGA selects new president

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Warren Orlick, pro at the Tam O'Shanter Country Club, Orchard Lane, Mich., was elected by acclamation Thursday president of the Professional Golfers Association, succeeding Leo Fraser of Atlantic City.

Orlick, 38, was unopposed on the ballot at the windup of the PGA's annual meeting. He moves up from secretary, a post he held for two years.

Orlick has been chairman of the last two PGA championship tournaments, heads the rules committee for the Ryder Cup matches in this country and is on the rules committee for the U.S. Open and Masters tournaments.

Fraser leaves the presidency after serving two terms, the limit under PGA regulations.

Indicted were Peter J. Martino, 47; his brother, Warren, 45; Salvatore Sicuro, 65, and Frank Davie, 45. According to the indictment, Dean and Sober allegedly placed bets by telephone from Lansing with the four men in Mississippi.

Mallnowski said Dean and Sober cooperated in the investigation and made no profit from the alleged gambling.

In a separate case in which Sober was named as a co-conspirator but not a defendant, two Lansing men were indicted on 11 charges of gambling and conspiring to gamble in interstate commerce involving bets allegedly placed in Phoenix, Ariz. Named in the indictment was Isaac Johns, 58, and his son-in-law, David Godby, 26.

Canadian Black Velvet sales increased 72.2% last year. Sure our expensive blend of Canadian whiskies costs a few pennies more but the lighter color, lighter taste and lighter aroma are worth it. We asked Idaho to compare a sniff of Black Velvet with Idaho's largest selling whiskies and Idaho smells a winner.

Buckeyes, Irish, Texas battle for eye of bowl scouts

By STEVE SMILANICH
UPI Sports Writer

Ohio State, Texas and Notre Dame try to impress the bowl game scouts Saturday while Dartmouth and Yale, with no place to go after the regular season ends, attempt to show college football fans they belong in the national rankings.

UCLA should regroup at expense of WSU

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

UCLA, its season shattered by Stanford last Saturday, shoots for respectability against poor Washington State tonight while kicking off the weekend that could just about decide the 1970 Pacific 8 Conference football race.

The Bruins, 2-2 in the league race and 4-3 overall, lost to the front-running Indians, 0-7, last week in what coach Tommy Prothro called "our best game of the year."

Against the Cougars, 0-3 and 1-6, they are meeting the league's poorest team. Prothro and the Bruins haven't exactly given up all hope for the Pac-8 title because they figure Stanford has three tough customers left in Oregon State, Washington and improving California.

"Our chances are almost but not quite non-existent," Prothro said after the Stanford loss. "But you never know about this game. Strange things happen."

Stanford, at 4-0, is the odds-on favorite to make it all the way, unless it meets a stumbling block in Oregon State this Saturday.

The men who make the odds don't think any such thing is possible. They are so sure they refuse to quote any odds on the game.

The Benavers, though, are a lot better than that. They are 0-3 in the league and 3-4 overall, but three of their losses came by the merest of margins, like 9-14 to UCLA, 16-9 to Houston and 20-29 to Washington, and without their No. 1 quarterback.

Coach John Ralston of Stanford says he is concerned about Oregon State, but not worried.

"One thing you can bank on," said Ralston, "is that they will come at us. Any team coached by Doc Anderson does. He has an excellent fullback, a tough defense and an opportunity to knock off the top team before a big crowd."

Upwards of 75,000 are expected for the game at Stanford Stadium.

The Indians are in relatively good shape and about the only man who will not get into action is split end Demco Washington.

effort to regain their confidence and remain unbeaten in Big 10 Conference.

But the Buckeyes can't be blamed for being wary. Northwestern is 3-3 this season and has a strong defense.

"Northwestern's defense is extremely sticky," Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes said.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Even as World Champions, the Baltimore Orioles earn a bit in the shadow of the New York Mets. Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced Thursday that each Oriole received $18,215.78 for winning the world series—which was $122.40 less than the $18,338.18 the Mets got for beating the Orioles last year.

The Cincinnati Reds, who lost to the Orioles in five games, received $13,087.50—which was $1,216.82 less than the $14,004.21 the Orioles got for losing to the Mets.

The main reason for the decrease was that attendance was slightly off at both the playoffs and the World Series. The players got 60 per cent of the playoffs' receipts instead of the 50 per cent they got last year, but the second and third place clubs shared in those receipts and they didn't last year. As usual, the players received 60 per cent of the receipts of the first four games of the Series.

The world champion is guaranteed $15,000 and the series loser $10,000. The two playoff losers are guaranteed $5,000. But the figures were all higher than the guarantees as Pittsburgh received $5,913.49 a player and each Minnesota Sox $267.86; San Francisco Giants $267.84.

The Orioles handed out 31 full shares and $10,200 in cash awards while the Reds gave 32 shares plus $7,550 in cash awards. The Pirates had 31 full shares with $8,400 in cash awards and the Twins gave 32 full shares with $4,050 in cash awards.

The shares for the second place teams were: New York Yankees $1,179.11; Oakland A's $1,272.34; Chicago $1,064.64; Los Angeles $1,108.75.

The third place teams received: California $293.55; New York Mets $276.68; Boston Red Sox $267.86; San Francisco Giants $267.84.

The Orioles gave 24 full shares to players, the manager and four coaches and the clubhouse man and the trainer. Moa Drubowsky, who was obtained in a trade, and rookie

Bobby Grich received a two-thirds share at $13,661. While the grounds crew received a half a share to split and traveling secretary Philip Itzoe received $8,000.

The Reds gave a full share to Ty Cline, who was obtained in a June trade and played a key role in the playoff victory over Pittsburgh. Cline was one of 25 players (including the manager) who was injured much of the year) to receive a full share. The manager, four coaches, the trainer and equipment man also got a full share.

SPORT FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By BILL WORKMAN

Here's a football fact that's hard to believe, but it's true... Remember that famous pre championship game in 1940 when the Chicago Bears beat the Washington Redskins 73-0? Well, although the Redskins lost by 73 points, they actually made MORE POINTS than the Bears did that day!

It seems impossible—but here are the official totals: The Bears had 17 first downs in that game, and the Redskins 18!

What was the longest field goal ever kicked in a football game? The record was set by Jim Huxall of Princeton in a game in 1882 when he kicked a 63-yard field goal... You'd think in all the years since then somebody would have broken that record, but no one ever has.

How well do you know your football rules? Here's a little puzzle for you... Suppose a forward pass is tried and a player from each the offensive and defensive team collide and both catch the ball together... They fall to the ground, each holding the ball and each having equal possession... What's the ruling?... The official rules say in a situation like this, the ball belongs to the offensive team at the spot of the catch, and is considered a completed pass.

Do you know that we're completing the brand new Bill Workman Ford Building on North Blue Lakes Boulevard. You're invited to come and see.

Lee Hazen's Play Deceives Expert

the deadly shift to the club suit. One heart, one diamond and three clubs will leave him one trick short.

Now, see if you can figure how Lee made the hand. It wasn't done with mirrors. Lee nonchalantly played his jack of hearts under West's king.

Put yourself in West's place. West knew that Lee was perfectly capable of dropping the jack from ace-jack-small. If East had also been an expert, or had been one of those players who automatically plays next to top when partner leads a king against no-trump, West would have shifted to a club anyway. West thought but finally lead a second heart.

Lee won that trick and lost the diamond finesse. Since East had started with just two hearts, he did not have one to lead to his partner but that didn't matter. If East held another heart, West would only be able to take two heart tricks and a total of four tricks won't beat three no-trump.

North America will have two teams playing in 1971 World's championship. The defending champion Dallas Aces with Oswald Jacoby as nonplaying captain, will be one. The other has yet to be determined, but the captain will be Lee Hazen of New York.

Lee is a practicing lawyer who has found time to win four Vanderbilt and three Spingolds among other tournament successes. He has not been active in tournament play lately but still plays very good rubber bridge.

In today's hand, we find Lee at three no-trump. West, a well-known expert, opened the king of hearts. East played the deuce and it was up to Lee to proceed.

As you can see, if Lee takes his ace, he will lose the diamond finesse and four heart tricks will cook his goose. If he ducks, it is a cinch for expert West to find

IT'S A BIRD, IT'S A PLANE, THANK GOD IT'S THE PRESIDENT

Nixon says 'help me'

CHICAGO (UPI)—President Nixon, launching a vigorous day of campaigning for a Republican Congress, pleaded today to the voters: "Give me some help! His schedule apparently was not altered by a hunt for two men reported seen with a rifle near the president's hotel.

Nixon began the day's politicking at a high school auditorium in Mt. Prospect, a suburb northwest of Chicago. "People want action," he told the audience in asking for Republican votes in next Tuesday's elections. "That's why I won the election in 1968."

Security measures at the high school, already tight, were stiffened after village police and federal agents issued a report that two men had been seen carrying a high-powered rifle about a mile from the Marriott Motor Hotel, where Nixon spent the night.

The men were reported seen in a black or blue 1966 or 1967 Oldsmobile hardtop.

Presidential aides said they had been informed of the report. They said the Nixon schedule—calling for a cross-country foray to change the political complexion of the Senate—would not be changed.

The day's political chores required Nixon to try to turn the voters away from two of the most prestigious names in the Democratic Party—Adlai E. Stevenson and Hubert H. Humphrey.

He set a firm tone of political combat in his first speech. He told the Arlington Heights audience to defeat Stevenson, who is running against Sen. Ralph T. Smith, the Republican appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Everett M. Dirksen.

"I need Ralph Smith in the Senate to help me keep my promises," Nixon said.

The President then repeated his pledge to end the war in Viet Nam so that anyone would be discouraged from starting other similar wars. But, he said, there is more to the problem than ending the war.

"The question is not ending the war," he said, "The question is how we will bring it to an end. That is the difference—that is the difference between the two candidates."

The Mt. Prospect audience apparently was without hecklers. Hundreds of high school students were among the 3,000 persons who packed the auditorium. Pom-pom girls surged forward to greet him when the President arrived and, at least for awhile, the place took on the characteristics of a football rally.

World's Barley Crop More than 10 per cent of the world barley crop at three billion bushels is used for beer making, with one-fourth of the U.S. crop being used for this purpose.

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—The fight to save Capt. Susan R. Struck's Air Force career moved here Thursday after a federal judge in nearby Tacoma granted the pregnant, unmarried nurse an additional 24 hours to seek a restraining order stopping her discharge.

Discharge proceedings against Capt. Struck, 26, began Wednesday after Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr. upheld the recommendation of a three-officer administrative board at McChord Air Force Base that she be discharged honorably before she gives birth.

Capt. Struck, attorney David McGoldrick and the American Civil Liberties Union then gained a 24-hour stay on their request from U.S. District Court Judge William Boldt, who said his work load prevented him from ruling on the case.

Boldt's action gave Capt. Struck another day to obtain a restraining order to block the discharge action until she can get a hearing in federal court.

The action has moved to Seattle, because Boldt is the only federal judge in Tacoma.

An ACLU spokesman said if efforts to obtain a restraining order failed in U.S. district court today, notice of appeal would be given and a preliminary injunction would be sought from Judge Eugene Wright of Seattle, a member of the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Capt. Struck, a native of Louisville, Ky., arrived at McChord AFB Sept. 20 from South Vietnam where she had served since Jan. 7.

She said tests taken by an Air Force doctor at Cam Ranh Bay on Sept. 14 showed she was about seven months pregnant at that time.

The nurse said she planned to give up the child for adoption because she wanted to remain in the Air Force where she has served for three and one-half years.

Meeting on Arctic medicine O.I.L. Finland (I.P.) The second International Arctic Medicine Symposium will be held in Oulu in June, 1971 city officials said. About 100 participants from the Scandinavian countries, the United States and the Soviet Union are expected to attend.

The symposium will study the effects of natural surroundings on man and medical problems in northern areas.

Lt. Calley may fly over My Lai village

CHU LAI, Vietnam (UPI)—Lt. William Calley may fly over the alleged massacre village of My Lai, where he is charged with killing 102 Vietnamese civilians March 16, 1968, but he probably will not visit the ruined, deserted hamlet, military sources said today.

Calley, his travel schedule disrupted by tropical storm Louise, left Da Nang, 370 miles northeast of Saigon, this afternoon in a four-vehicle convoy to make the 35-mile southward journey to Chu Lai, on Friday to take depositions from Vietnamese witnesses.

Military sources said Calley may fly by helicopter over My Lai but doubted the helicopter would land there. The My Lai area, a mile from the South China Sea coast, is considered very dangerous. There are Communist guerrillas in the area and it is heavily booby trapped, military sources said.

Holdup hearing delayed

TWIN FALLS—A request for continuance of a preliminary hearing set for next Thursday morning for two men charged in connection with the Aug. 21, 1970, robbery of a local supermarket was granted by Judge Harry Turner.

Douglas Kramer, attorney for Terry Hartley, 23, and James May, attorney for Lawrence Lang, 30, joined in the move for continuance.

Judge Turner granted the motion, with the stipulation that two state witnesses, one from Pocatello and one from Jackpot, Nev., be allowed to testify Thursday if they would not need to refer to Twin Falls.

Defense attorneys also requested that witnesses, spectators and members of the news media be excluded from the courtroom during testimony of the two witnesses. A date for continuance has not been set.

Grounds for the motion to continue included that defense attorneys are involved in campaigns for next Tuesday's election and that material which the court previously stipulated be provided to Kramer was not delivered to him until Wednesday.

During arguments earlier this month in police court, Judge Turner ordered the state to present a list of witnesses and copies of statements made by witnesses for the state to Hartley's attorney.

Prosecutor Robert Galley requested an alternative writ of mandate be issued directing Judge Turner to amend the order issued in his court. Judge James Cunningham, Fifth Judicial District Judge, refused this week to issue the writ, saying he had no choice but to refuse the issue because the police judge has the power to rule on such matters in his court.

Church sets dedication

RUPERT — Rev. L. G. Metzner, pastor of the Rupert Trinity Lutheran Church, announced Thursday the rite of dedication services for the newly constructed chapel will be held Sunday at 10 a. m.

Rev. Erhart Bauer, Grace Lutheran Church, Pocatello, will be guest speaker.

The adult choir will sing at the morning services. Following the morning service, a potluck dinner will be held in the parish hall.

Rev. Metzner said there will be a service of thanksgiving and prayer in the chapel with Rev. Harold Iben, Twin Falls Immanuel Lutheran Church, speaking. The Sunday school children will sing at this service.

Elder to speak at LDS confab

OAKLEY — Elder Howard Hunter, a member of the Council of Twelve of the LDS Church, will speak at the Cassia Stake (diocese) conference Nov. 14 and 15 in Oakley.

Prior to his appointment to the Council of Twelve in 1959 Elder Hunter was a Southern California corporation lawyer and businessman. He supervises the church's missions in Australia, New Zealand and the South Pacific.

He also is president of the church's genealogical society. He recently was named church historian and recorder, succeeding President Joseph Fielding Smith.

The conference session will be held at 10 a. m. Nov. 15 in the stake center. Stake president Wade Baker of Burley said visitors are welcome at the session.

KBAR radio station has grand opening

BURLEY — KBAR Radio Station held its grand opening Wednesday with officials from Cassia and Mindoka Counties and local residents attending.

The station has been remodeled and enlarged this summer. The building is done in dark wood paneling and is completely carpeted in either green or gold shag and the reception room kitchenette and sales offices are red and black floral carpeting.

The outside has a brown mansard roof, cedar siding, painted gray-brown and several yellow stained glass windows.

The ribbon cutting ceremony was held with Garis Robertson, mayor of Burley; John Clark, Oakley, Cassia County commissioner; Harold Hurst, mayor of Heyburn; George Schrenk, mayor of Declo and Jack Page, Salt Lake City, Intermountain Broadcasters Association, each speaking briefly.

Guided tours of the station were conducted by employees including, Richard Huzinga, sales representative; Dean Bott, news coverage; Jack Hodge, chief engineer; Marc Hayes, sales manager; Gerald Thaxton, announcer; Janell K. Martin, receptionist; Dusty Anderson, announcer; Mrs. Saxvik, office manager and copy writer, and Robert Saxvik.

Richfield youth on mission

RICHFIELD — Charles Jensen left for Salt Lake City to enter the LDS mission home in preparation for a mission to Peru. He will attend the mission language school at BYU.

The youth was honored at a testimonial at the Richfield LDS church with Bishop Ken Dixon presiding. Speakers included the youth's mother, Mrs. Glen Jensen; his sisters, Cheryl and Yvonne Jensen, and brother, Eric Jensen. An uncle Jeffre Jensen, Murtaugh, was another speaker.

Song numbers included a duet by Cheryl Jensen and Peggy Ralls.

Prayers were offered by Roger Fiala, Jerome, and Mark Jaynes.

Relatives attending included the missionary's grandfather, Lawrence Jensen, Eden, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Cummins and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cummins, Murtaugh.

Two local students get stipends

Mata, 50, Burley, forfeited $50 bond, disturbing the peace; Fred Cadman, 26, Oakley, $50, intoxication and $40, disturbing the peace; Parrilino Sanchez, Burley, $25, damage to private property, and Nova Craig, 54, Burley, $50 forfeited, disturbing the peace.

TWIN FALLS — Two sophomore business administration students have been selected as the 1970-71 recipients of the First Security Foundation's scholarship awards at the College of Southern Idaho.

Dennis Kirk, Twin Falls, and John Parkison, Castelford, each have received $200, according to David Parkins, dean of students.

The presentations were made by Kenneth Newman of the First Security Bank in Twin Falls.
