TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1970

Torn nation weighs fear, want at polls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Voters in the 50 states made their ballot box choices today in an election testing whether they are worried more about freedom from fear or freedom from want.

This election day in the middle of the term to which President Nixon was elected in 1968 came after a bitter campaign in which leaders of each party said their rivals lied.

Local turnout 'good'

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — Early voting interest was reported good today after polls opened in 48 Twin Falls County precincts. County officials say they expect another surge of activity about 5 p. m.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said his office had only minor problems during the first few hours, the biggest getting heat in one of the precincts where it had not been turned on. As for the automatic voting machine equipment, he said, everything seemed to be running smoothly.

Polls will remain open until 8 p. m. A total of 810 absentee ballots had been cast by 5 p. m. deadline Monday, and county officials said this is about average for a non-presidential election year but well below presidential year election figures.

County clerk's office personnel said in spite of efforts to advertise precinct polling places and precinct boundaries a large percentage of voters called the clerk's office for a final check before going to the polls.

Lancaster said there would be between 25,000 and 26,000 names on the registration books as of the Saturday night registration deadline. Some of these would have moved or may have died, and their names have not yet been removed from the lists. He said Twin Falls County maintains around 19,000 to 20,000 persons who are eligible to vote in each general election.

Most of the pre-election interest concerned the constitution revision. On the county level the race for prosecuting attorney, with the incumbent eliminated in the primary election, and the county commission races appeared to be holding the most voter interest.

Leon Smith, Republican, and Golden Bennett, Democrat, are seeking the prosecutor's position and both are practicing attorneys who have come to Twin Falls in recent years. Incumbent Commission Chairman, Heber Loughmiller, Republican, is seeking reelection against Russel C. (Bud) Larsen in the third district. The Democratic challenger is a former county commission chairman. In the first district, Ed Lierman, Democrat, opposes Republican Merle Leonard for the seat being vacated by another Republican, Morris W. Carlson.

Viet flood toll rises

DA-NANG, Vietnam (UPI) — Last week's floods, the worst in six years, left at least 100 persons dead and more than 204,000 homeless in the five northernmost provinces, South Vietnamese military authorities reported today. Another ten persons are missing and 11 injured. Some 5,759 homes were destroyed or damaged, military spokesmen said, and crop damage in the already rice short area ranged up to 80 per cent.

About 57 million people were expected to vote to elect all 435 representatives, 35 of the 100 senators, 35 of the 50 governors and thousands of state and local officials.

Rain was forecast for much of the East and Midwest and for Northern California and Western Oregon.

Although the Democrats were jittery, pre-election surveys indicated they would retain and possibly increase their majority in the House, where the GOP needs a net gain of 29 seats to win control. The Democrats also were expected to gain possibly five governorships.

The Democrats had more cause for worry about the big prize at stake in today's balloting — control of the Senate, which the Republicans could win with a net gain of seven seats. But the GOP needed a sweep of the close races.

The Republican National Committee bought time for a replay of Nixon's Phoenix, Ariz., speech Saturday — on violence in America. It was in that speech Nixon blamed violence on "appeasement" and a "permissive" attitude toward thugs and hoodlums.

Although the President said violence was not a partisan issue, his party's candidates clearly have tried to link it to liberal Democrats.

Speaking for the Democrats Monday night was Sen. Ed S. Muskie of Maine, 1968 nominee for vice president. In contrast with the Nixon speech at a partisan airport rally, the soft-speaking Muskie gave a first-side chat from a den overlooking the crashing waves of a Maine seashore.

Muskie said Democrats had been victims of name-calling, deception, slander and questions about their patriotism in attacks inspired and guided "from the highest offices in the land."

Idaho ponders new document

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) —

Idahoans went to the polls in crisp but sunny autumn weather today to pick a governor, two congressmen and a host of other public officials and say yes or no to a new constitution. Idahoans cast their first major ballots of the space exploration age, ending the general election campaign still harnessed to the political buggies of the past.

Only on the issue of environmental controls did the candidates for national, state and local office take up problems tied chronologically to the present and the future.

Their debates and pronouncements on the issues of taxes, education and governmental reorganization bore a distinct resemblance to past elections.

Man has landed on the moon since the last Idaho general election and the world watched via television when he did.

Yet, except for some commercials on television and radio by the major candidates, hand-to-hand combat with the voters still remained the most popular form of campaigning in Idaho.

Polls opened at 8 a. m. in the state's 891 precincts and they close at 8 p. m. Skies were fair and afternoon temperatures climbed into the 30's.

Despite the good weather and closeness of a hard fought race for governor, veteran observers predicted a light to average turnout at the polls — between 240,000 and 262,000. According to the secretary of state, who is chief elections officer, approximately 368,000 were eligible to vote. Exact figures were unavailable because registration books did not close until last Saturday.

Four years ago, 252,591 cast ballots in the race for governor. Ten years ago, Idahoans voted a record 300,450 ballots the year when Richard Nixon ran against John F. Kennedy for president.

Principal interest this year has centered on the re-match between incumbent Republican Don Samuelson and Democrat Cecil Andrus for governor. Samuelson beat Andrus in a four-man race by 10,842 in 1966.

Both congressmen — Republicans James A. McClure and Orval Hansen — also were up for re-election today. McClure faced Democrat William J. Brauner in the First District while Hansen faced Democrat Marden Wells, American Party's Joeld Anderson and independent write-in Marianne Condon in the Second.

On the non-partisan ballot, Clay V. Spear, an incumbent serving by appointment, and Will S. Defenbach, chairman of the Industrial Accident Board, vied for a seat on the Supreme Court. They led a four-man race Aug. 4, but since nobody got a majority this runoff was required.

Besides six other statehouse posts on the partisan political ballot, voters also picked 105 legislators from 35 districts in addition to county officials. They balloted separately for constitutional proposals to lengthen the terms of county assessors and treasurers to four years from two, to cut legislative compensation and to ratify or reject a revised state constitution.

In the legislative races Democrats made a strong bid to capture control of the Senate, raising the possibility of a split legislature when the 41st convenes for its organizational session in December. Republicans seemed virtually assured of keeping control of the House.

Other major races on the statewide ballot and the candidates were: Lieutenant governor — Republican incumbent Jack M. Murphy; Democrat Paul Boyd; American Party's Wallace Hitt; Secretary of state — Republican incumbent appointee Pete T. Cenarrusa and Democrat Winstan-Benson.

Ada watches T.F. machines

TWIN FALLS — A delegation from Ada County was scheduled to arrive here to observe the operation of the county's automatic voting machines.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said Twin Falls County is one of two in the state using the voting machines. In addition, Latah County is using a computer-card system.

Lancaster said the Twin Falls County primary election was one of the most efficient and quickest in the state, which prompted other counties to express interest in the machines.

City misses big fire insurance cut

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Survey and Rating Bureau has denied Twin Falls a Class 4 fire insurance rating despite a new $2.5 million water system.

The city will remain in more costly Class 5, the present rating.

However, the bureau's report, presented to the city council Monday evening, states that there will be a reduction of 5.6 per cent in insurance premiums on masonry buildings downtown and a cut of 2.1 per cent in premiums on frame buildings in the downtown business area.

Councilman Eugene Stacey said it had been anticipated the new water system, not completed at the time of the previous Survey and Rating Bureau review here, would result in an entire class step for Twin Falls.

The 1970 study and recommendation report from the bureau, released during the Monday night city council meeting shows the city has 2,132 deficiency points. The bureau recommends these be reduced to 2,000 to put the city in Class 4. Recommendations for major improvements included the bringing of additional power lines into all pumps which lift the water from the Snake River Canyon so no single break in a power line would put the pumps out of service. City Manager

Jean Milar said the survey and rating personnel were especially critical of the use of only one single power source here.

Another critical point, the report states, is the low number of fire department personnel. The bureau recommended the city increase the present one-shift staff from 11 to 26 so at all times 26 men would be on duty. There are now three shifts of 11 men each plus the fire chief and assistant fire chief.

Because the 11 men are generally assigned some duty at all times there is not sufficient training. The bureau said the department needs to intensify its training program.

Other recommendations included installation of additional fire hydrants, all with six-inch pipe and that records and plans of all structures and the water operation system be kept up to date.

The bureau recommended long-range replacement of the city's two oldest pumper trucks, made in 1946 and 1948.

City Manager Jean Milar said he had discussed establishment of a fireman training course at the College of Southern Idaho to assist meeting the training requirements.

Other recommendations included an improved alarm system to summon firemen from their homes. At present the department relies on phone contact. The rating bureau suggested that a 150 point improvement could lead to premium reductions of up to 10 per cent.

Milar urged the city to negotiate with Idaho Power Co. to improve the power service to the water pumping system.

Milar also asked implementation of the bureau's suggestion that a fire-training advisory commission be established, comprised of firemen and city officials, to work with the college to develop a permanent training system.

Bomb 'factory' raided

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six persons were arrested in raids on three apartments that produced tools and supplies for assembling bombs, a small library on demolition techniques and maps showing the layout of more than 50 buildings in New York and Chicago, authorities said Monday.

The six including four said to be members of the revolutionary Weatherman group, were arrested on charges of conspiracy to commit murder and arson and conspiracy to make bombs.

Bronx District Attorney Burton B. Roberts, who announced the raids, said the apartments had been under surveillance in connection with a series of recent bombings in this area. However, none of the six was charged with an actual bombing "at this time," he said.

Among the articles seized in the three apartments — two in the Bronx and one in Manhattan — were 400 blank draft cards printed by a metal plane, which was recovered, Roberts said. The alleged bomb supplies, included batteries, watches for timing devices, bullets, railroad flares, ball bearings and tools for cutting pipes.

Gooding ups rates on garbage

GOODING — Some businesses will soon be paying more per month for having their trash picked up on a daily basis.

The Gooding City Council voted Monday night to increase the trash collection rates for businesses using a daily pickup. The firms will pay a graduated scale according to the amount of trash collected, ranging from $2 to $6 per month.

The Gooding businesses are currently paying a rate of $1.25 to $1.65 per month. The new rates are effective immediately.

The council approved a recommendation from the Library Board that Mrs. Don Kelly be accepted as a new library board member to replace Mrs. John Wiswell, who has resigned.

A scheduled opening of bids for a new well was delayed when no bids were received before the deadline.

City shares jail study

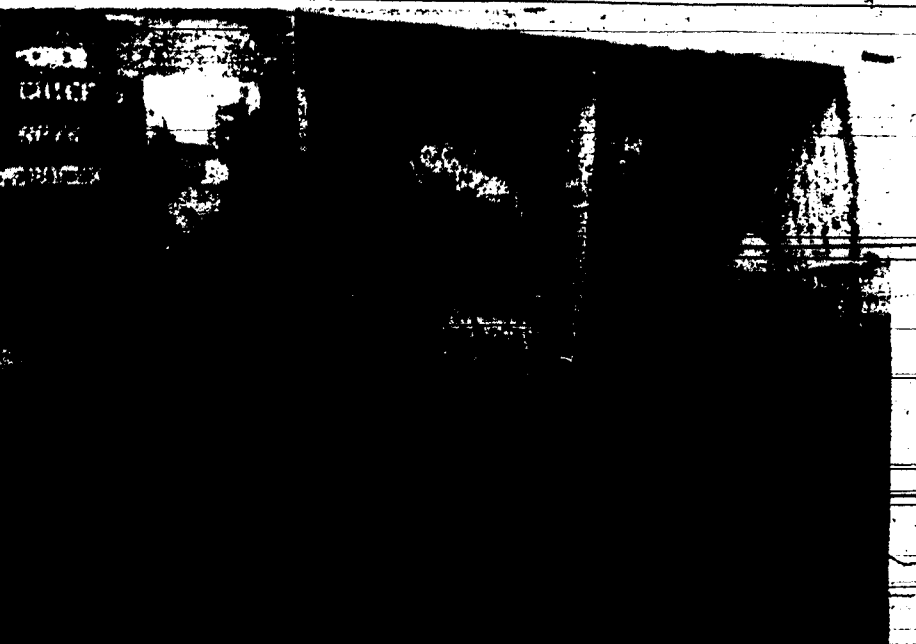

TWIN FALLS — City council members here Monday night voted to approve a $350 expenditure as the city's share of matching funds on a study of joint city and county jail facilities.

A federal allocation under the Law Enforcement Planning Commission Act of $6,000 is available providing the city and county can come up with about $700, city councilman Tom Nelson said.

This would be for preliminary studies only. Architect estimates will be obtained, the council said in a resolution approving the $350 expenditure in the 1971 city budget.

Millions mourn Cardinal Cushing

BOSTON (UPI)—The powerful, the rich and ordinary citizens who revered him in life paid homage today to Cardinal Richard Cushing, the blacksmith's son who died a prince of the Roman Catholic Church. Cushing, 75, died of cancer Monday, which was All Souls Day, when Catholics honor their dead. His body lay in state today at Holy Cross Cathedral, where his Requiem Mass will be offered Saturday morning. He will be buried at St. Coletta's Home for Retarded Children, an institution, he founded in 1947 and which was one of his favorite concerns. The cardinal, a priest for 49 years had been in ill health frequently since 1954. It was obvious in recent months that his health had failed still further. He lost weight and his strong voice weakened to a raspy whisper. Last month Cushing retired as archbishop of Boston after 26 years' service. Two years before, when he was assailed by some critics for defending the right of President Kennedy's widow to marry Aristotle Onassis, his offer to retire had been rejected by the Vatican. The ceremonies Oct. 7 in which Archbishop Humberto S. Medeiros was elevated to Boston escopate were an ecclesiastical rarity in that Cushing attended.

Polish driver charged

KARACHI (UPI)—The man who drove a baggage truck into a reception line for President Marian Spychalski of Poland, knocking Spychalski to the ground and killing four other persons, was charged with murder Monday.

Police identified the man as Mohammad Feroz, a ground crewman at the airport and a member of the right-wing Pakistan International Airlines Corporation Union. Coworkers said Feroz was in his mid-40s. Witnesses to the incident said Feroz twice shouted "Death to Communists"—once just before the iron-plated truck rammed the reception line and again as police dragged him from the controls after the van came to a stop against an airport fence. The Polish president and his wife were not hit by the truck but were toppled to the ground in the confusion. Neither was hurt.

Question ...

My son is a career serviceman. His wife is terminally ill in a government hospital and if something should happen he would want her brought back to Twin Falls. His financial condition is very poor. Are any benefits available to assist him?

Answer ...

The Federal government for several years has paid the transportation costs involved in returning home for burial any dependent of a serviceman who passes away while residing with the serviceman stationed in a foreign country. Recently Congress extended this transportation coverage to include dependents of servicemen stationed in the Continental U. S., Alaska and Hawaii. The actual cost of returning your daughter-in-law to Twin Falls by airplane, train or in your car would therefore be paid by the government.

In addition to defraying the transportation expense the government will also furnish without any charge a grave space and a grave marker in a National Cemetery.

If your daughter-in-law is currently or fully insured by Social Security a lump sum death benefit would be payable.

Bombings

One of the comforts of history is that no matter how bad things may seem, they usually have been worse at some other time.

What could be worse than the terrorist-anarchist bombings that have taken place in courthouses, office buildings, police stations and elsewhere in the past year or two, culminating in the death of one person in a laboratory at the University of Wisconsin?

The answer is the wave of bombings that swept the country in the early part of this century, damaging or demolishing courthouses, police stations, post offices and homes, killing dozens of people and injuring scores of others.

There were hundreds of bombings. Robert E. Dallos, writer for the Los Angeles Times, has compiled a list of the worst examples:

July 2, 1915 - The Capitol itself in Washington was heavily damaged by a bomb.

July 5, 1915 - Police headquarters in New York City damaged by a bomb.

March 8, 1917 - Two persons killed in a bomb explosion in a Boston court.

Feb. 10, 1918 - Lower floor of the Passaic County (N.J.) courthouse demolished by a bomb.

Sept. 1, 1918 - Four persons killed, 50 injured in a Chicago post office bomb explosion.

Dec. 31, 1918 - Bombs exploded at the homes of a judge and police superintendent in Philadelphia.

April 30, 1919 - Discovery of 16 bombs in the mails addressed to prominent citizens.

But by far the worst act of terrorism occurred at one minute past noon on Sept. 16, 1920, when a massive explosion shattered Wall Street outside the offices of J.P. Morgan & Co. The ghastly toll was 40 dead and more than 200 injured. And one horse, believed to have been pulling a wagon in which the bomb was placed.

The explosion sent shock waves through the financial centers of the world. The New York, Pittsburgh and Detroit stock exchanges were closed. Guards were placed at the Montreal exchange and Scotland Yard posted guards at public buildings in London.

Newspaper editorial comment of the time reads as if it were written this morning.

"The anarchists have declared open warfare," said one paper. "It is a situation that will have to be met with all the force the government may have at its command... the whole anarchist element will have to be rooted out and treated not with the leniency of toleration that has characterized the government's attitude thus far..."

Said the New York Tribune:

"The explosion that shook the financial district yesterday did not come by accident. Candidates for office, even for the highest, spread the doctrine that when there is discontent it is the government's fault and that a corrupt conspiracy exists... to oppress the masses... that the law has become the shelter of injustice and that it is time to smash through the restraints..."

This crime was never solved, nor were most of the others.

One of the discomforts of history is that so many people refuse to learn from it. "History is irrelevant," say the youthful activists.

But those who, while condemning violence, try to find excuses for it by pointing to the flaws in society and fret about a fascistic reaction, are just as bad.

There was a "Red scare" after World War I, and many innocent Russian aliens were unjustly jailed or deported (though most of the known bombers were home-grown American). But the nation eventually got back its balance.

We are still a free people, still an imperfect nation, still trying to enlarge our freedoms and correct our imperfections. The bombs neither helped nor stopped that process then and won't now.

Fortunately, the terrorism practiced by our modern anarchists seems like pretty small potatoes compared to that of 50 years ago.

Let us hope it remains small potatoes.

Really Green Cheese?

Lunar modules that have been deliberately crashed on the moon's surface to set off artificial earthquakes have given scientists more puzzling information about that puzzling body.

On earth, compressional waves from earthquakes travel through surface rocks at four miles a second or faster. Seismometers left by astronauts on the moon recorded a wave speed of only about one mile a second.

Two geophysicists at Columbia University's Lamont-Doherty Geological Observatory decided to experiment with compressional waves on two samples of moon rock and a variety of terrestrial substances.

The search was aided, they said, "by considerations of much earlier speculations concerning the nature of the moon."

One moon rock sample gave a reading of 0.78 and the other 1.4 miles a second. The terrestrial materials gave readings from 0.97 to 1.21. They were Sapsago and Emmentaler from Switzerland, Gjetost from Norway, Provolone from Italy, Cheddar from Vermont and Muenster from Wisconsin. All are cheeses.

NEWS ITEM

"Forty Negro guards, all but five unarmed, are making it safe for firemen to battle blazes in the predominantly black Hunters Point area of San Francisco. Physical and verbal harassment of firemen has almost ceased since establishment of the uniformed Hunters Point Security Guard."

News Item:

"A group of 25 men dressed in black nationalist garb kept crowds away last night as firemen for the second night battled a blaze in a vacant apartment on Cleveland's east side. None of the 60 firemen was harassed at the scene, where gangs of youths had pelted firemen with rocks, bottles and concrete chunks the previous night."

Is this good news or bad?

Good, of course, in that black militants seem to be putting aside, at least for a time, their vicious rhetoric against "white pigs" and are beginning to use their immense influence to help preserve decency and order in the black community.

Bad, very bad, that it should be necessary at all.

AUSTIN, Tex. - The deepening trouble of the Texas Democratic party is signalled by the fact that Lyndon B. Johnson has quietly turned down private requests to campaign for Lloyd Bentsen, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, in Dallas and San Antonio over the weekend. In truth, the former President tells associates he has dark forebodings about the Senate race between Bentsen and Rep. George Bush, the hard-charging Republican candidate. Notoriously skittish about being associated in losing efforts, Johnson has no desire to lock arms with Bentsen. But beyond this, Johnson feels his advice has been spurned. He personally urged Bentsen, a wealthy scion of south Texas, to move leftward once he had purged liberal Sen. Ralph Yarborough - LBJ's blood enemy - in last spring's Democratic primary and, specifically, demonstrate solidarity with blacks, chicanos, and organized labor. His failure to do so is the main reason why politicians expect Bush to nose out Bentsen in a close election. The implications reverberate on the national level. A win by Bush would underline the difficulty of any Democrat carrying Texas against President Nixon in 1972, and a winning Democratic Presidential candidate without Texas is hard to imagine. Moreover, a Bush win would show that Democrats have been unable to master the new political realities in this key state posed by the end of one-party monopoly.

Bentsen's problem is that, while Bush has eroded support from oilmen who once automatically backed tory Democrats, he has also lost labor-liberal forces. Bentsen's post-primary commitments for higher Federal minimum wage benefits and against a "labor court" to prevent strikes (proposed by Republican Sen. John Tower of Texas) have not been enough for liberals. Old associates of Yarborough, whose vindictiveness is Texas legend, spread the word that the defeated Senator hungers for Bentsen's defeat. A group called the "Democratic Rebuilding Committee," which supports Republican candidates in the interest of an eventual two-party Texas, dispatches teams of blacks around the state to tell Negro voters that Bentsen is a "racist" and sends out literature quoting a 1952 speech by then Congressman Bentsen suggesting the use of nuclear weapons in Korea. Vastly more damaging, however, are defections by less extreme liberals. The Teamsters have openly endorsed Bush, and the United Auto Workers have refused to support Bentsen. "I look on Bush and Bentsen as Siamese twins," a top official in the state AFL-CIO told us. "Only those few unions long allied with tory Democrats, such as the Iron Workers, are energetically supporting Bentsen. Negroes will stay away from the polls by the thousands rather than vote

POLL WATCHER

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Fearful Foursome

WASHINGTON - Rep. Joel T. Broyhill has a unique distinction in this year's congressional elections.

More Democratic big-wigs have invaded his 10th District to campaign against the nine-term Virginia Republican than against any other GOP member of the House. The Democrats have literally swarmed over the booming area in an effort to drum up votes against the tall congressional veteran.

One reason for this massive big-name intrusion is the close proximity of the 10th District to the capital. It is directly across the Potomac with numerous bridges and highways giving ready access to it. Some of the Democratic leaders actually live in Broyhill's district.

Another reason is his rugged Republicanism and forceful support of the Nixon Administration. As a ranking member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, which originates all revenue and welfare legislation, he exerts much influence on key measures.

For Broyhill, a World War II veteran (he commanded an infantry company in the Battle of the Bulge), the large-scale Democratic attack is an old story. It has repeatedly happened in the 18 years he has represented his teeming northern Virginia district.

And as in the past, all the indications are it will have the same ending - Broyhill will win hands-down.

He has defeated stronger, more aggressive and better known candidates than his current rival, and a late private poll shows Broyhill with a decisive lead despite the big array of Democratic notables electioneering against him. The extraordinary list includes the following: Sen. Edmund Muskie, Me., who is conducting an unusual campaign himself this year. He is running both for a third term and for his party's 1972 presidential nomination. Muskie took time out from this heavy program to go into Broyhill's district to harangue against him.

Former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who coyly also harbors presidential ambitions, claims to have raised $15,000 for Broyhill's opponent with a series of cocktail parties. Clark lives in the district and is very active against Broyhill.

Former Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, who gave a rousing speech for Broyhill's rival at a picnic. Former Ambassador Sargent Shriver, who also gave a talk against Broyhill - that boomeranged. The mod Kennedy in-law referred disparagingly to Vice President Agnew as "the Greek from Baltimore." Outraged reaction from Greek-Americans forced Shriver to hastily apologize - to the discomfiture of Broyhill's opponent.

John Lindsay

WASHINGTON - An awful inevitability looms on this election day. It is that, whatever the result of the gubernatorial race between Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Arthur Goldberg, the Presidential prospects of New York's Mayor John Lindsay could be enhanced.

Lindsay, who still insists he is a Republican, has endorsed Democrat Goldberg - after taking several months to sort out his principles. Since the indications are that Rockefeller will beat Goldberg, some observers are inclined to predict that it will also be a defeat for Lindsay.

But only in an unimportant sense. Lindsay is aiming for higher things and the way it looks now he'll have it both ways. To wit, if Goldberg loses, New York Democrats will have nowhere to go for a Presidential candidate but to John Lindsay. On the other hand, if Goldberg wins Lindsay automatically will become the New York Republican occupying the state's highest office.

Obviously, Lindsay planned it that way. The only wonder is that it took him so long to let us all in on it. He has arranged the situation so that he has a choice of remaining a Republican or joining the Democrats. That is to say, he almost surely will switch to the Democratic Party if Goldberg loses, and he almost surely will remain a Republican if No. 1 Republican Nelson Rockefeller is returned to private life.

Either way, it would be an uphill task for John Lindsay. The Democrats have their own lifelong candidates. As now constituted outside of New York state, the Republican Party would be unlikely to welcome a Lindsay Presidential candidacy with arms even half open.

But Lindsay is a gambler. He showed that last November when, defeated for the GOP nomination for mayor, he put together a coalition of independents and the city's

Finger Lumps

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can surgery be performed on Heberden's nodes? The first joints on all my fingers (except thumbs) are so enlarged and painful that it's very difficult for me to do my work. Two of my fingers are so crooked and unsightly that I'm ashamed for anyone to see them.

I soak my hands in warm water and take aspirin to relieve the pain and stiffness, but my fingers continue to get more crooked. - L.K. Heberden's nodes are an enlargement of the last joints of the fingers (or the first, if you prefer, the joint nearest the tip of the finger). These nodes are an overgrowth of the bone, which occurs fairly often as part of osteoarthritis (nine times as often in women as in men).

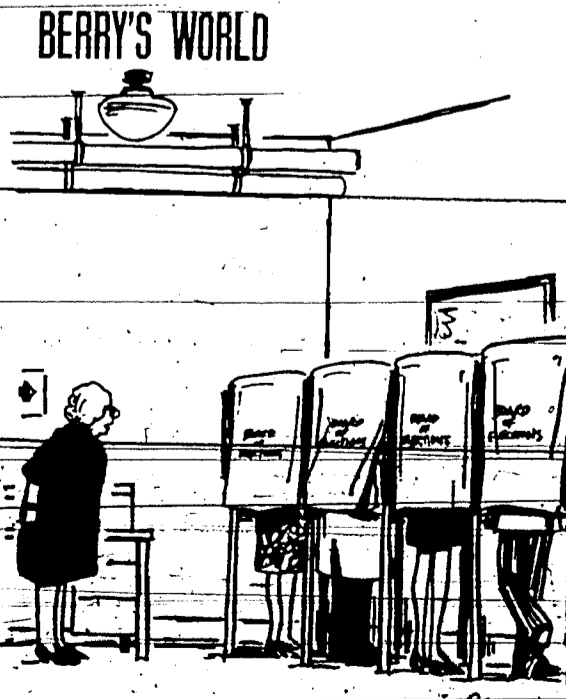

As a matter of fact, surgery has been tried to remove this bony enlargement, but it has not been successful. The knobs recur.

These nodes are unsightly, to be sure, but fortunately in a good many cases they do not interfere with use of the hands. When they do, as in your case, the treatment you are now using is best: heat (or soaking in warm water) and aspirin for relief of pain. It is wise to use your hands as much as you can, especially after soaking, to help prevent stiffness of the fingers. The painfulness of Heberden's nodes varies considerably. Sometimes they are quite tender; sometimes there is little, if any pain. And sometimes the pain later subsides even though the nodes do not.

For reasons which are not clear, this bony enlargement affects the first joints but not the other joints in the fingers. There are some other joints which may develop similar enlargement, as hips, spine, shoulders, yet very rarely the wrists, elbows, feet.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as outlining effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters.

All right, people! We can do without the grumbling, snickering, snorts and sighs!

Linda Bristow, Flores plan December wedding

GOODING — Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Bristow announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Rose, to Alberto Flores, Motrico, Spain.

LINDA BRISTOW

A Dec. 19 wedding is planned at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church.

District sewing competition set

BURLEY — District No. 3 of Minidoka, Lincoln, Twin Falls, Cassia, Jerome, Elmore, Blaine, Camas and Gooding counties will present the annual Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Fashion Show Nov. 7 at the Ramada Inn at 2 p.m. to select two winners to compete in the state contest.

These girls selected the fabrics, which must be made of 100 per cent wool loomed in America, patterns and accessories and constructed their own garments which they will model.

Fabric, pattern, styles, accessories and construction will be judged both on and off the girls by Mrs. Richard Reed and Mrs. Ben Eldredge, both Twin Falls, and Mrs. James Martin, Burley.

One winner from the junior division, age 14-16, and one from the senior division, 17-21, will be selected to represent District No. 3 in the state competition which will be held Nov. 16 at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.

Winners in the state competition will represent their state in the national event at Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 19. The national junior and senior winners will be selected at the national fashion show to be held in conjunction with the annual convention of the National Wool Growers Association.

Prizes for the District No. 3 competition winners are contributed by Bonnie Bell Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, and the Butterick Co., Coats and Clark Inc., John Dritz and Sons, Inc., and Modes Royale, all New York.

Hand that rules kitchen can help family's heart

BOISE — About a century ago, William Ross Wallace wrote that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. Today, many scientists feel that alone in her kitchen the housewife can take positive steps against heart attack hitting her family.

Idaho Heart Association points out that the typical American diet, rich in animal (saturated) fats and cholesterol, is linked to the development of hardening of the arteries, the main cause in heart attack, which now claims 600,000 lives a year.

To lower her family's risk, the housewife can serve more meals of fish, chicken, veal and turkey and less beef, lamb, pork and ham. She can replace whole milk with skim milk, and hard cheese with cheese products made from skim milk or low-fat milk. She also can cut down on the use of eggs, which are very high in cholesterol.

Instead of using butter for a spread, the housewife can serve the soft margarines that are rich in polyunsaturated fats.

Similarly, rather than use lard and other solid cooking fats, she can substitute the polyunsaturated vegetable oils. The latter can be used, for example, to brown lean meats, or to fry fish and poultry; in cream sauces and soups made with skim milk; for making hot breads, pie crust and cakes; for making cocktail snacks and in cooking dehydrated potatoes and other prepared foods which call for addition of fats.

To round out her daily selection of foods for a balanced diet, the housewife also should include vegetables, fruits, breads, and cereals.

In this way she can maintain good nutrition for her family, and at the same time help them to adopt new eating habits that are designed to protect their hearts.

Idaho Heart Association points out that low-fat diet alone does not eliminate the risk of heart attack. It also recommends:

- No. 1 Keep weight at normal levels.
No. 2 Give up cigarettes.
No. 3 Have your blood pressure checked periodically.
No. 4 Exercise regularly, but first ask your doctor to tell you what exercises are beneficial for you.

Halloween party, installation held by Ketchum Papoose Club

KETCHUM — A festive Halloween party was mixed with the business of installing new officers when members of the Papoose Club and their husbands met at the Warm Springs Ranch Inn.

Installed for the ensuing year were Mrs. Bob (Judy) Glenn, president; Mrs. Rene (Diana) Meyer, vice president; Mrs. Edna Pierson, recording secretary; Mrs. Kent (Charlene) Ambrose, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jim (JoAnn) Hopkins, treasurer; and Mrs. Carl (Kellie) Welsch, publicity and historian.

Honorary member, Lorraine Curtis, was in charge of the ceremonies, handing each new officer a part of a plastic head to signify her duties. Mrs. Glenn was given large glasses and a nose, and exhorted to keep her eyes on all the club's affairs and her nose to the grindstone; Mrs. Meyer received large teeth, and told to sink her teeth into the job; Mrs. Pierson, handed a large ear, was exhorted to be all ears so her records would be correct; Mrs. Ambrose was given an extra eye with the advice to do her job well so as not to give the club a black eye; Mrs. Hopkins received a large finger so it would not fit in the till, and Mrs. Welsch received a large nose, for news.

Joyce Loomis, outgoing president, was in charge of the event. Approximately 50 persons attended the steak dinner party.

Mrs. Glenn received the initial title of "Papoose Woman of the Year" for her activity in the club during the past year. Initiated this year by Mrs. Loomis, the award will be an annual presentation.

OES has special meeting

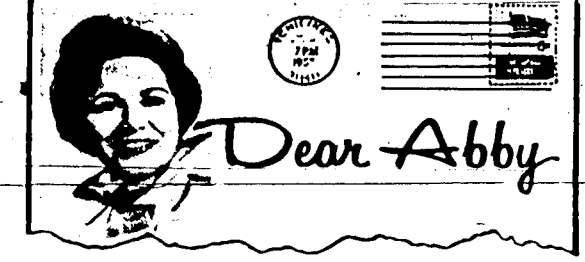

TWIN FALLS — Magic Chapter No. 82, Order of Eastern Star, held a special meeting Saturday evening at the Masonic Temple for the visitation of Roberta Showalter, worthy grand matron, and William Grange, worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter of Idaho, Order of Eastern Star. Initiation was held.

There were 39 chapters represented in the total attendance of 209. Present were four past grand matrons, five past grand patrons, 12 grand officers, two grand officers emeritus, 11 grand representatives, 23 grand committee members and appointees, 14 worthy matrons, seven worthy patrons and 50 traveling stars.

The worthy grand matron was given an honorary membership in Magic Chapter No. 82, home chapter of the worthy grand patron.

Refreshments were served by the past matrons and past patrons.

A luncheon was held prior to the school of instruction at noon at the temple. Guests were greeted by the past matrons of Magic Chapter No. 82. The luncheon and school of instruction were well attended.

DEAR ABBY: You are the only person who can help me because in an indirect way, you are the cause of my problem. I have the same name as you.

To make matters worse, I work for a newspaper and I am bombarded with letters from people who think I am you. Also, whenever I am introduced as "Abby Van Buren," people start pouring out their tales of woe. I have a hard time convincing them that I am not you.

To top it all off, I am constantly bothered by nuts who telephone me in the middle of the night and want to tell me their life history. I have had my telephone number changed twice this year, and even tho I now have an unlisted number, they still find me.

I have even considered changing my name, but I will do this only as a last resort. Thanks for any help you can give me. ABBY VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Until some nice young man comes along and changes your name, I guess you'll just have to be a surrogate Abby. You'll be surprised what you hear.

DEAR ABBY: I feel very guilty and indebted because I have no strong feelings toward an 18-year-old boy who says he is in love with me. He is always so kind and gentle and he spends all his hard-earned money on me. He is always looking out for my safety and well-being.

I really enjoy his company and am grateful for his gifts, but I am unable to return his affection.

I would like to date others, but I feel so guilty because I know he has no other girl. I hate to hurt him. Can you advise me what to do? FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING GUILTY: A little of that guilt is probably earned. Don't accept his gifts, and you will not feel so indebted to him. Date others, and insist that he do, too. By trying not to hurt him now you could be building him up for a more serious "hurt" later on.

DEAR ABBY: I have a thought which I hope you will find worthy of passing on to your readers.

I wish parents of married children would quit competing with the other set of parents for their children's company on holidays such as Thanksgiving and Christmas. Altho our policy was to alternate between his parents and mine, no matter who asked us first, my parents would sulk for months after we spent the holidays with my in-laws.

Both sets of parents are gone now, but those holidays which could have held such pleasant memories cause my heart to ache a little. SAD MEMORIES

DEAR SAD: Yes, it is worth passing on—especially with the holiday season approaching. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps your reader, "HATES WASTE," would be interested in knowing that the "silly rule of etiquette" that one should always leave "something" on his plate was begun as an act of charity.

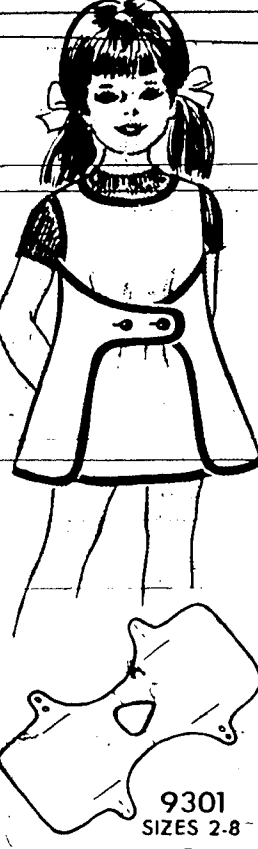

During the Middle Ages, the affluent always left some food on their dinner plates for a good reason. A huge bowl was passed to each diner, who wiped his plate clean with a hunk of bread which he also deposited in the bowl. The bowl was then taken out into the streets to feed the poor.

If the diner "forgot" to leave something on his plate, he was fined? [The fine would be used to feed the needy.]

Today leaving food on one's plate is wasteful, but it originated as a charitable custom. I. W. I. (HISTORY BUFF)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 63700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90063. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Streetwear fashion hair goes to powder snow in a skiwear fun that says goodbye to traditional, stretched, dark and common. White Stag makes it with bold patterns, bright color, new textures and new fabrics that project a new look - young, aware and outgoing. For women, there are suits in one piece belted and not bill-front Western fringe and wild prints.

One of the unique ideas on the holiday horizons is the combining of brightly tinted hair with matching eyelashes in fake shades. Such eye-catching go-togethers as "blue mood" hair with deep blue lashes, "lucky copper" hair with copper lashes, "green envy" hair with green lashes and "red hot" hair with burgundy lashes are just a few of the many possibilities. The bright ideas stemmed jointly from Roux Laboratories Inc. and Francis Denny Cosmetics.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks continued to advance sharply as trading rounded the halfway mark Tuesday. Turnover was moderate.

Analysts observed there was no special reason for the gain, although they noted some buying interest might have been aroused by the market's holding action in recent sessions in the face of generally depressing economic news.

Some analysts believed the upswing stemmed partly from renewed speculation that the Federal Reserve Board may soon cut the discount rate — the borrowing rate charged member commercial banks.

After more than three hours, the Dow Jones industrial average was ahead more than 8 points at 766.36, while advances piled up an 869 to 317 margin over declines.

Volume at 1 p.m. amounted to 6,940,000 shares, up from 5,430,000 shares traded at a comparable period Monday.

Race mix said trouble key

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federally financed study of trouble in big city high schools concludes that racially mixed schools are more likely to have student disruptions than are largely black or white schools.

"This is an unsettling story of an unsettling reality," the 130-page study began. Among other things it concluded that high school disruptions are likely to continue.

The study by the Policy Institute of the Syracuse University Research Corporation was done for the U.S. Office of Education, which released it to UPI with a disclaimer that the federal agency does not necessarily endorse the conclusions.

James E. Allen Jr. requested the study last spring when he was U.S. education commissioner. Allen later was fired by the Nixon administration after opposing its civil rights and Southeast Asian policies.

—These are among the study's major conclusions:

—"Disruption is positively related to integration. Schools which are almost all white or all black are less likely to be disrupted. This might suggest a policy of apartheid (legally enforced racial separation) as a solution to disruption, but this option is unavailable."

—Schools with high rates of absenteeism have more trouble than schools with good attendance records.

—"It is absurd to lay all the blame for disruption on the schools" but equally absurd to say a school is "merely a receptacle for problems it does not create and cannot be responsible for."

—"Short of a total moral conversion, the American society will continue to behave in such a way as to insure some degree of pathological unrest in our urban high schools for some time to come."

—The larger the school, the more problems it has.

The study said causes of high school unrest that lie outside the classroom include violence, success of the "civil rights movement in the 1960s, the effect of college protests, new expressions of racial pride, a stress on greater participation in the democratic processes, the squalor of slums and a phenomenon called black revenge.

"We found it sad but psychologically understandable when numbers of black high school students told us one way or another that 'It's Whitey's turn to take some heat,'" it said.

Causes of trouble that come from within the schools include restrictions on behavior and dress; failure to involve students in policy making; overcrowding and staff and faculty insensitivity.

Although the study suggested many "strategies for response," it offered no panacea.

"We wish that out of our investigations some kind of fool proof gadgetry had emerged," the report said. "It has not."

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 3, the 307th day of 1970.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Scorpio.

On this day in history:

In 1783 Congress ordered the Continental Army demobilized.

In 1917 Americans at home learned of the deaths of U.S. soldiers fighting at Nancy, France, the first American fatalities of World War I.

In 1936 Franklin Roosevelt was re-elected president for a second term.

In 1964 a record 67 million American voters went to the polls and Lyndon Johnson was elected president by the biggest majority in history.

A thought for today: American novelist Dorothy Canfield Fisher said, "A mother is not a person to lean on but a person to make leaning unnecessary."

New business

TOKYO (UPI) — Mitsubishi Trading Company signed an agreement with the Tokyo metropolitan police department for the removal of automobiles abandoned in the street. Police will no longer haul away abandoned cars. Mitsubishi workers will answer police calls and tow autos to scrap yards.

Meters purchase delayed

TWIN FALLS — Purchase of a compressor for the fire department, to be used in filling breathing equipment for fire fighters was authorized Monday night by city council members but action was again delayed on the purchase of downtown parking meters.

The compressor will be purchased from L. M. Curtis and Sons Co., for $2,890. This was the low of two bids received.

Debate over whether or not the downtown parking meters should give the shopper an hour for five cents or an hour for ten cents, put the council in a deadlock vote.

John Christoffersen's absence left the board with six votes, including the tie-breaking vote of the mayor and a motion to purchase meters set for ten cents per hour ended in a tie vote as did the motion for a five cent an hour fee.

It was suggested the council meet with downtown merchants to discuss their views before final action is taken.

Two parking meter bids were received and the council indicated they would accept the low bid of M. H. Rhodes in the amount of $3,655 for the 40 meters. Several council members favored the dime meters pointing out the spaces on Main Avenue are for short stops and shoppers who plan to stay for longer periods will use the off-street parking lots.

It was felt the 10 cent meter would keep the Main Avenue parker moving hourly rather than encourage the vehicles to remain two to three hours in one parking place.

Councilmen also postponed until the next meeting, action on an appointment to the Parks and Recreation Commission.

In a meeting with local members of the International Fire Fighters' Assn., council members were presented a written report and asked to review it and then call another meeting with a special negotiating committee. The union has been voted as the body to officially negotiate with the city on salary and other matters.

Mayor Feldtman appointed Paul Ostyn, Eugene Stacey and Tom Nelson as council members to carry on further discussion meetings with firemen. Paul McCollum, fireman, presented a list of 21 items he felt the city and fire fighters should discuss after the council has had an opportunity to review these.

Attorney Leon Smith met with the city on behalf of the Cathedral Heights Subdivision owners to ask for water stock transfer to owners of the property. The city took the matter under advisement for later action.

In other business the council signed an agreement with the Twin Falls Highway District for reconstruction and widening of the section of Harrison Street which is outside the city limits and runs from Falls Avenue to the Harrison School. Work can be largely completed yet this fall, the city manager said.

Acceptance of the Twin Falls City-County Airport runway which is now complete was reported by the city manager and a request for final payment of $32,588.25 was approved for the contractor. The city will withhold one per cent of this pending receipt of the final federal government payment. The city manager said this is normal practice.

A call for insurance including liability coverage for all city property was postponed one week. Bids will be opened Nov. 27 to allow the city to make a new stipulation in specifications.

Land proof sessions opened in T.F. by bureau officials

TWIN FALLS — Final proof sessions under the direction of the Bureau of Land Management opened here Monday and will continue through the week.

Orval G. Hadley, land officer, BLM, Boise, who is conducting the sessions, said 16 land owners are making final proof on their desert land entries.

Hadley said they are given four years to make final proof but the 16 being heard here this week are completing theirs in one year. They are in the Bell Rapids Project area across Snake River from Bliss.

Each of the 16 individuals has 320 acres, he said, and all of the land is being watered by the Bell Rapids Mutual Irrigation Co., by means of pumps from the Snake River to the mesa area where the land is located. Most of the farmers are raising potatoes and are now harvesting or have harvested their first crop.

Hadley said at the time the entry is made the farmers pay 25 cents per acre on the land and if final proof is accepted they pay another $1.00 per acre. Each land owner brings two witnesses to testify as to his proof of completion of entry requirements. Those completing final proof will be issued patent or title, Hadley said, and the BLM will no longer have any claim to the lands.

Only one complaint had been filed with the BLM panel Monday and since it applies to a case not yet heard, its nature was not known.

Yale Ave. opening requested by Burley hospital officials

By GEORGIA LAYTON Times-News Correspondent

BURLEY — The city council Monday was asked to open a street near the Cassia Memorial Hospital, change its fire code and heard a petition objecting to a housing project.

Robert Barton, hospital administrator, asked the city council to open Yale Ave. so it would give access to a future building area. This street is on the east side of the present hospital building.

The current access street is on the west side of the hospital, Barton said. He said with the opening of Yale Avenue, people could use the back entrance and proposed wing that will be constructed soon.

Barton also discussed with council members the fire code pertaining to automatic sprinklers. He said the code should be changed so automatic sprinklers would not have to be put in the new proposed wing because the hospital is manned 24 hours a day and a small fire did break out, the sprinklers in the whole wing would turn on automatically and drench all the patients.

The council members took this suggestion under consideration.

Residents on East 16th St. presented a petition to the council with 77 signatures, objecting to the proposed low-cost housing project which is seeking to locate on 16th and Highland Avenue.

Gordon Geiger, spokesman for the group, said residents did not want the project there because houses in the area are largely brick homes in the $20,000 - $30,000 bracket and this project would lower the value of the other homes.

He said also there is an electrical sub-station on the corner and it is not good to build homes close to substations. Also this area is one of the approaches of the interstate to Burley.

Geiger said residents felt a low-cost housing project was needed in Burley, but this was not the location for it. Councilmen took the petition under advisement.

Lamar Larson, representing several area truckers, met with the councilmen in regard to trucks parking in residential areas. He said many truckers are receiving citations for this.

Council members gave him a copy of the ordinance prohibiting parking of trucks in residential areas.

Several merchants and businessmen were at the meeting in regards to Halloween damage in Burley. Again councilmen took the views under advisement.

The councilmen approved the Fire burns auto seat

TWIN FALLS — One truck was sent at 7:50 p. m. Monday to the scene of a car fire, city firemen report.

The fire was under the seat of a 1959 Ford owned by R. P. Howard. Firemen spent about 15 minutes at the scene in the 400 block of Shoshone Street West.

Street problem studied

By LIZ BOLTON Times-News Correspondent

KETCHUM — Street conditions here were a major concern when the Ketchum city council met Monday night.

The councilmen heard an ordinance which prohibits any individual or firm from digging in the streets without written permission from the city.

Mayor Kenneth Richey said there have been many instances recently where holes had been made in the streets and left for city crews to repair.

He said the ordinance provides that written permission be obtained from the street foreman with final approval from the council and that no permission be granted from Oct. 15 through May 1 each year, because of frozen ground.

Those receiving permission to dig in the streets would be required, he said, to restore the surface to its original condition.

The ordinance will be placed on second reading Nov. 16.

Councilmen also granted a 30-day time extension to the contract with Tony Russell Construction Co. The firm holds the contract for the sewer line installation in the city. It asked for the extension due to extra lines added to the system not included in the original contract.

The council also: — Denied a request to change the zoning district map for Lots 5-8 in Block 42 in the southern portion of the city from general residential to business.

— Tabled an ordinance which would have changed the zoning of about three acres in the western portion of the city from limited residential to mobile home until the exact location of the road can be determined.

— Approved the hiring of Art Ship to replace Roy Berg on the road crew.

— Allocated $500 for Christmas lighting.

Windows in T.F. broken

TWIN FALLS — Several hundred dollars' worth of damage has resulted from a rash of broken windows here, city police report.

Reported Tuesday morning was the breakage of seven windows at St. Edward's Catholic School. Officers said the windows, all broken by rocks, are valued at about $14.

They also said a stained glass window at the church which was broken in an earlier incident is valued at over $100.

Merchants at the Lynwood Shopping Center reported to police late Monday morning that windows there had been broken. Plate glass windows which were broken at the Mode-O-Day and Sallie's Gifts and Books are valued at $200 each. A plate glass window broken at the M. H. King Co. is valued at $280, officers said.

Also reported Monday was the breakage of a sliding glass door at the Lynwood Chapel on Filer Avenue. Value was listed at $40.

Boise firm purchases Breez-way

TWIN FALLS — Breez-Way stores in Twin Falls, Pocatello and Idaho Falls have been sold to Warehouse Markets of Boise.

Management personnel from that firm are in Twin Falls this week organizing the local operation.

Out-of-town personnel of Warehouse Markets said the sale was effective Sunday. The store on Kimberly Road is remaining open during minor remodeling which is taking place to handle an expanded line of stock.

They said the store, which will operate on a competitive discount policy, will carry complete lines of meat, produce, drugs, variety items and groceries.

Warehouse Markets, in its three years of existence, has expanded to a chain of 13 stores.

FREE SERVICE ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — University of Michigan engineering students were offering free car tune-ups and safety checks today in the cause of a cleaner environment.

They said they would adjust the carburetors of any automobile, be it domestic or foreign, so they would create the least possible amount of air pollutants.

Employment situation reviewed

Buhl — The employment situation on the local, state and national levels, was discussed during the regular Buhl Chamber of Commerce Monday noon luncheon at the R and R Cafe, according to Mrs. Ell Boring, secretary.

Larry Drexler and Richard Robertson, Twin Falls Employment Office, told chamber members some of the employment problems today's businessmen are facing in all areas of the employment fields.

proposal to build a new National Guard armory in Burley. This has been in the planning stages for several months and will be constructed near the Burley airport.

The council also approved cutting the curb at the Burley Elks Lodge for its new parking lot.

Douglas R. Brown, sales representative for Zellerbach Paper Co., Twin Falls, explained the plastic garbage bags which are being used in other areas and offered to set up a trial area of about 200 homes in Burley. The council took this proposal under advisement.

Harold McCarty was hired as utility meter reader. Two building permits for building new homes were approved.

Soviets issue demand

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Defense Ministry today demanded the United States stop its "piratical flights" over Soviet territory.

The ministry's newspaper, Red Star, seeking to aggravate the international situation continue their "extensive military and intelligence activities directly near the borders of our country."

The editorial said there were more than 10 violations of Soviet air space by U.S. aircraft in the past three years.

The editorial coincided with a visit by American diplomats of three U.S. Army officers held captive since their U8 plane strayed from Turkey into Soviet Armenia 12 days ago.

Second Secretaries Peter B. Swiers and Richard B. Combs Jr., flew to Armenia Monday, for the visit, only the second permitted since the two generals and a major landed in Leninakan.

Embassy officials said they expected a report from Swiers and Combs after they return from Leninakan to Yerevan, the Armenian capital. For the first visit Oct. 26 the two envoys were driven to Leninakan at night.

Utah ballot range wide

By United Press International Utah voters, generally considered conservative in their political leanings, went to the polls today to choose between a wide spate of candidates ranging from the far right to the moderate left.

And, the outcome was expected to fall somewhere in between as forecasters predicted one of the closest senatorial races in the state's history.

The senatorial challenger, Rep. Laurence J. Burton, R-Utah, is appealing to a conservative streak that has dominated the state for years and which is expected to show up in force due to the revival of the left across the nation.

But, Burton is competing against incumbent Sen. Frank

E. Moss who is relying upon his appeal to the young and his record of remaining close to his constituents during his 12-year tenure in the nation's Senate.

The two candidates had been engaged in a heated campaign of a magnitude unusual to Utah politics. They tossed charges and countercharges back and forth on alleged distortions of their respective voting records and philosophies as the hair-thin closeness of their campaigns drew to an even narrower margin this weekend.

The polls showed the two men neck-and-neck throughout the campaign, but one taken just prior to President Richard Nixon's visit to Utah last week gave Democrat Moss a slight edge over the congressman.

The results today will show how much influence and prestige the nation's chief executive exerted on Utah voters.

Also in the senatorial race was American Party candidate Clyde L. Freeman who maintained the position that there was no difference between Burton and Moss, and voters should elect him to add a new dimension to the political complexion.

Freeman, who supports the idea of less governmental involvement and more states rights, appeared in debates with both Burton and Moss, but the two major party candidates gathered in most of the spotlight.

Burton's congressional seat was also up for grabs in this off-year election, and two Weber County men went right down to the wire in their own battle.

Richard Richards, an Ogden attorney and top GOP official held the strongest edge as voters went to the polls and his opponent, K. Gunn McKay of Huntsville capitalized upon his alignment with the average northern Utah citizen to garner voters.

McKay was Gov. Calvin L. Rampton's administrative assistant going into the election.

In addition to the major races for the U.S. House and Senate, voters in Utah also picked legislators, judges, county officers and school board members.

Also on the ballot were three propositions, including the Gateway Amendment, which would permit amending the state constitution on an article-by-article basis.

Proposition No. 2 would cut the residency requirement for voting in state and presidential elections, and Proposition No. 3 would permit adoption by reference of federal income tax provisions to provide for parallel state and federal regulations in figuring taxable income.

A not-so-heated campaign in Utah's Second Congressional District between incumbent Republican Sherman P. Lloyd and challenger A. H. "Bob" Nance spiced the political menu.

On a state level, Democrats tried to make inroads into the Republican-dominated legislature which has leaned towards the GOP since a full sweep in 1968.

Wreck's aftermath . . .

TWO PEOPLE WERE admitted to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital early Tuesday after a two-vehicle collision on Interstate 84 just west of the 89-83 junction. The driver of this 1966 sedan, Lennie Hobson, 24, Jerome, is in critical condition. Driver of the other car, L.R. White, 35, Mountain Home, is in fair condition. Kenneth White and three children who were passengers in Mrs. White's 1967 sedan were not injured. Idaho State Police said the accident apparently occurred when Hobson's vehicle was obstructed by the rear of his vehicle struck the rear of the slow-moving White vehicle.

Texas now top team as Buckeyes fall to third

NEW YORK (UPI)—Swiftly and suddenly, the tables have been turned in college football. Texas, the defending national champion, and Notre Dame, both unbeaten in six games, surged past Ohio State, ranked No. 1 for the last month, to rank 1-2 in the United Press International weekly ratings.

Texas captured 18 of the 34 first-place votes cast by members of the 35-coach UPI board and amassed 321 points to easily dislodge Ohio State.

Notre Dame, with seven first place votes, had 309 points, 20 more than the Buckeyes, whose seven first-place votes helped gain them 289 points.

Nebraska retained its No. 1 ranking while Stanford edged past Michigan to take fifth. Air Force was seventh, followed by Arkansas, Auburn and Tennessee to complete the top 10. Arizona State was ranked 11th, followed by Louisiana State, Mississippi, San Diego State, Dartmouth and UCLA. Alabama, Houston and Toledo were tied for 17th and last.

Both Texas and Notre Dame piled up impressive totals in winning last Saturday while Ohio State turned in its second consecutive come-from-behind victory. Texas walloped Southern Methodist, 42-15, and Notre Dame trounced Navy, 56-7, while Ohio State, which rallied to beat Illinois the week before, downed Northwestern, 24-10.

Nebraska beat Colorado, 29-13, in a Big Eight match and Stanford moved up with a 48-10 rout of Oregon State. Michigan won its seventh without a loss, beating Wisconsin, 29-15, and Air Force scored its eighth victory without defeat, edging Arizona, 23-20.

Arkansas clobbered Texas A&M 45-4 and Auburn moved back into the top 10 after a week's absence with a 63-14 rout of Florida. Tennessee whipped Wake Forest, 41-7, while Arizona State and Louisiana State were idle.

San Diego State registered its seventh victory without a loss, humbling Fresno State, 56-14, and Dartmouth took a big step toward the Ivy League title with a 10-0 victory over Yale, its sixth without a loss.

UCLA moved back into the top 20 with a 54-9 romp past Washington State and Toledo clinched a Tangenean Bowl berth with a 14-13 victory over Miami of Ohio. The Rockets' eighth without a defeat.

The three front-runners all have crucial contests coming up. Top-ranked Texas meets Arkansas (No. 8) on Dec. 5, Notre Dame plays Louisiana State (No. 12) and traditional rival Southern California, and Ohio State tangles with Michigan (No. 6) for the Big Ten title on Nov. 21.

Dartmouth gets vote

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dartmouth, which ran its unbeaten streak to six games this season with a 10-0 victory over Ivy League rival Yale Saturday, was unanimously chosen as the No. 1 team in this week's voting for the Lambert Trophy, awarded each year to the best major college (Division I) football team in the East.

Syracuse, easy winners over Pittsburg, 43-13, moved into second place but trails Dartmouth in points, 80-57.

Villanova and Yale are tied for the third spot with 52 points apiece, while Penn State holds Fifth place with 49 points. The remainder of the top 10 includes Princeton, Pittsburg, Boston College, West Virginia, and Temple.

Alcindor leading scorer Quarry says bout proved nothing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lewis Alcindor, star center of the Milwaukee Bucks, remains both the most accurate marksman and the most prolific scorer in the National Basketball Association today in latest statistics compiled by the Elias Sports Bureau.

The figures, which include games played through Nov. 1, show that Alcindor has scored 194 points in six games for a 32.3 average and has connected on 77 of 123 field goal attempts for a 62.6 percentage.

Low Hudson of Atlanta ranks second in scoring with a 29.4 average in seven games, followed by John Havlicek of Boston with 28.1, Jerry West of Los Angeles with 27.4 and Elvin Hayes of San Diego with 26.8.

Wes Unseld of Baltimore is the No. 2 field goal marksman with a .567 percentage and Terry Dischinger of Detroit is third at .562.

Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles leads in rebounding with a 22.1 average per game while player-coach Len Wilkens of Seattle leads in assists with a 10.8 average.

Florida suspends 2 players

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The Florida Gators, stunned by a 63-14 whipping by Auburn Saturday, face the prospect of going against Georgia this week without their top linebacker and place kicker.

Coach Doug Dickey announced Monday he has suspended junior linebacker Richard Buchanan and kicker Richard Franco for violating training regulations. "I regret their loss to the team," Dickey said in a brief statement.

Dickey had praised Buchanan on his television show Sunday. "Buchanan has consistently played better than any of our linebacksers," said Dickey. "One solid tackle he made against Auburn was the only hard blow any of our players hit in the game."

Dickey said 192-pound senior Brad Powell will replace Buchanan, a 206-pounder from Pensacola.

Franco ranked as the Gators' second leading scorer with 29 points. He had hit 20 of 21 extra point attempts and three of five field goal tries, Dickey said. Defensive end Jack Youngblood and defensive back George Wester would assume the place-kicking chores.

Dickey made three other changes Monday. He moved Carlos Alvarez, bothered last week by a leg injury, and Terry Ash to first team receivers ahead of Andy Cheney and Willie Jackson, and promoted Mike Rich, who has been out with a broken rib, ahead of Garry Walker at fullback.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Heavyweight Jerry Quarry, knocked out last Monday at Atlanta by Cassius Clay, announced Monday he would put himself back in good standing in California by paying $1,000 fine while awaiting a possible rematch.

Confident Foster ready for Frazier

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Bob Foster doesn't think about his light-heavyweight title much these days. His mind is on only one thing, his heavyweight championship fight against Joe Frazier in Detroit on Nov. 18. "I'm 192 pounds," he explained after a workout Tuesday. "I'm not even thinking about how I'm going to have to get down the 175-pound light heavyweight limit again. After

I beat Frazier, I'll be a permanent heavyweight." Foster's last fight was in June when he knocked out Mark Tesson in 10 rounds to successfully defend his title, and for that one he weighed 174 pounds. Foster's last loss was on Dec. 6, 1965 against Zora Folley, and since then he has 19 consecutive victories including 18 kayoes.

"I never felt stronger than I do right now," Foster said. "Ever since I came to camp I've been in this special body building program with James Lunetto. He told me he could add one pound to my weight each day, and when I reached 192 I said I would like to stop there because I was comfortable."

Esposito setting new pace

NEW YORK (UPI)—Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins is running well ahead of the pace he set when he established a National Hockey League single season scoring record in 1968-69.

The talented center picked up three assists in Boston's 6-0 shutout of the New York Rangers last Saturday night and now has 19 points in just nine games for an early lead in the NHL scoring race. Two years ago when he set the record with 126 points he had only eight points in his first nine games.

The Bruins, who are 7-1-1 and in first place in the East Division, boast the league's top three scorers. John McKenzie of the Bruins is second with 16 points and teammate Ken Hodge is third with 14 points. Esposito is tops in assists with 12 and Montreal's Yvan Cournoyer, currently on the injured list with a broken foot, leads in goals with 10.

through with a Los Angeles match against Mac Foster whom he fought in New York instead.

Quarry and attorney Paul Caruso both said they still planned to appeal the fine and suspension but would pay the $1,000 in order that Quarry might be able to work in the corner of his younger brother, Mike Quarry, a newcomer to the ring.

"Many thought I called this press conference in order to announce my retirement," Quarry said. "I'm not going to retire. I feel I can beat Clay. I felt in the fight I could beat him. Aside from the cut over my left eye, he didn't hurt me and I'm going to work for a rematch."

Caruso reported he had talked to Clay about the possibility of a rematch and the Black Muslim boxer expressed interest but is trying for a match first with Joe Frazier, the recognized heavyweight champion.

Quarry said the three rounds the fight lasted in Atlanta "didn't prove anything. I hurt him in that fight. He knows it and I know it."

Stars stay undefeated

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Riding the crest of a 30-point performance from center Zelmo Beatty, the Utah Stars downed the Memphis Pros Monday night 119-100.

The victory by the Stars kept their perfect record unblemished, now 7-0, best of any team in pro basketball. Guard Don Freeman hit for 28 points to help pace the Stars' attack.

Craig Raymond, who was traded by the Stars to the Pros in September, led Memphis' scoring attack with 21 points.

Stram cautious in talking about controversial tie

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Hank Stram was cautious Monday in statements relating to Sunday's controversial 17-17 tie between his Kansas City Chiefs and the Oakland Raiders.

The play that caused the uproar came with one minute to play when Chiefs' quarterback Len Dawson scrambled 19 yards to an apparent first down at the Oakland 29. It was then that defensive end Ben Davidson speared him after he was down.

A central question would seem to be whether a whistle was blown after Dawson went down. And no video-tape replay can answer that question.

Stram said Dawson "fell down over his own blocker." He said he wasn't sure if a whistle was blown or not, but that the film revealed, "The only thing that was visible was that two flags were dropped simultaneously when Davidson speared Lenny."

That would seem to indicate the officials thought the play was dead. Otherwise, it would have been legal for Davidson to hit Dawson. Davidson later said he "was just touching him down."

Stram said he knew of no recourse, but he had talked to the National Football League office in New York Monday. "They felt the call was correct," said Stram. "The mechanics were bad, but the call was correct."

When asked if he felt the same way, Stram said he didn't want to discuss his feelings.

Stram did give Blanda his due for delivering the clutch. "I have to give credit for Blanda's making that kind of a pressure kick," he said. "I can't remember seeing more of a pressure kick than that one for a long time." Although Taylor was kicked out of the game, Davidson wasn't. After Blanda's field goal, Chiefs' defensive end captain Jerry Mays also was thrown out.

"That's the first time in my pro career I've been kicked out of a game," Mays said. "I made a harsh statement to the officials."

Taylor explained his action this way: "Lenny deserves all the protection we can give him. Davidson didn't have to do that; the official had blown the ball dead. He could have hurt Lenny. I jumped him, I grabbed him, I was holding him. Things happened so fast, though. All hell broke loose."

Referee Bob Finley later said the play was a "continuing action" foul.

Stram followed Finley and the other officials to their dressing quarters. One official was tackled by a fan leaving the field, but he was quickly arrested by police.

While Stram was with the officials, shouting could be heard behind the closed door. When Stram emerged, Finley said, "Don't you call me a (blank) crook!" Another official restrained Finley, saying, "He didn't call you that."

As Stram made his way down the passageway, he hurled a few choice remarks over his shoulder and Finley shouted, "get out of here."

Stram later said he "went there for the expressed purpose of finding out what really happened, but I never got any answers."

That emotions were running high in Kansas City was indicated by the column written in Monday's Kansas City Star by sports editor Joe McGuff, a usually serene observer.

In part, McGuff wrote: "The referee for yesterday's game between the Chiefs and the Raiders was Bob Finley, although a series of events that transpired late in the fourth quarter led the spectators to suspect that in reality it might be Charles O. "In the first half Finley and his crew did their best to destroy the tempo of the game by calling 11 fouls good for 125 yards."

McKay apologizes after outburst

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Coach John McKay reversed his field Monday and apologized for criticizing the officiating in the California-Southern California game, declaring it was poor play that cost the Trojans the game.

Ralston still worrying

OAKLAND (UPI)—Stanford's blemished record in the Pacific-8 Conference doesn't faze coach John Ralston. He still worries.

Ralston's Indians, led by NCAA career total offense record holder Jim Plunkett, are on top of the Pac-8 with a 5-0 record. But losses to Washington and California could drop Stanford into a season ending tie for first place with any of four darkhorse aspirants to the title.

However, a win over Washington next Saturday would give the Indians their first Rose Bowl trip in 18 years.

"The Huskies are the toughest team on the coast right now," Ralston told Northern California sportswriters at their weekly meeting Monday. "They have a lot of momentum. Their offensive line is the biggest in the conference and they have an excellent defensive secondary."

Stanford's Plunkett will be firing into a secondary which is statistically the best in the league. The Huskies have allowed five touchdowns all season and an average of 166 passing yards per game. Plunkett has fired 12 scoring passes and has averaged 248 yards through the air each game.

Now 2-2, the Huskies came from behind last weekend to upset Oregon 25-23. As improbable as it may seem, the victory has coach Jim Owens smelling a chance at the Rose Bowl. He spoke to the football writers by phone from Seattle.

"Stanford is the biggest game for us right now," Owens said. "We're still mathematically in it. We felt the same way before we played Oregon. Our club is playing well."

Collins has Pac-8 nod for Huskies

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sophomore Greg Collins, a reserve quarterback who kept Washington's faint Rose Bowl hopes stirring, has been chosen Pacific-8 offensive player of the week by conference officials.

Collins guided an 18-point final quarter last Saturday for a 25-23 comeback win over Oregon. The victory kept the Huskies mathematically alive in the Pac-8 title race.

The 6-foot, 190-pounder from Torrance, Calif., relieved starter Sonny Sixkiller late in the third quarter and completed seven of 10 passes. He directed a last-minute drive which resulted in the winning field goal by Steve Wiezbowski.

In addition to Collins, conference officials said Monday they considered three other players for the offensive player of the week award: Stanford quarterback Jim Plunkett, UCLA fullback Gary Campbell and California receiver Steve Sweeney all were nominated.

play that cost the Trojans the game.

McKay's apology before the Southern California Football Writers Association followed the statements he made on a Sunday television program that poor officiating had cost the Trojans two touchdowns. California won 13-10.

"I'd like to apologize for popping off about the officials," McKay said. "My talking about the officiating in my opinion makes me less of a man."

The plays that drew McKay's ire were Bobby Chandler's apparent end zone catch in the first quarter on which the officials ruled he did not have possession when he went out of bounds and Clarence Davis' dive to the end zone when the Bears held the Trojans on the one in the same period.

"We got beat because we are not playing good football," he said. "We lost because we didn't block and tackle. The offensive line is our greatest problem. We block well when we are in the middle of the field but we don't get the play over at the goal."

McKay said the Trojans were a better team at the start of the season than they are now and he said he believed the defense catches up with the opposing offense as the season progresses.

The teams that beat us apparently wanted to stop us more than we wanted to score," he said.

Coach Tommy Prothro of UCLA joined in the discussion of officiating by saying he did not want to be put in the position of defending the officials.

"I don't think it's any worse than it has been in the past, just very consistent," he said. "As long as human beings do the officiating there are going to be mistakes. I think over a 20-year period the breaks even up."

He said the reason coaches sometimes lose their composure over an official's call is because they are thinking of the effect it has on the players.

"These are judgment decisions and not questionable," said Prothro, who was involved in several disputed calls in UCLA's game with California, which his team won on a touchdown the Bears protested was illegal.

76ers blast Cleveland

by 148-87

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Archie Clark scored 21 points and Jim Washington had 19 to pace a balanced scoring attack as the Philadelphia 76ers trounced the winless Cleveland Cavaliers 148-87 Monday night in an National Basketball Association game at the Spectrum.

It was the biggest winning margin in the history of the 76ers, who defeated San Francisco by 46 points in December 1968. It was strictly no contest the entire game as Philadelphia held Cleveland to its lowest point total of the season.

The 76ers led the Cavaliers 36-14 at the end of the first quarter and Philadelphia was on top 68-36 at halftime. John Johnson's 20 points was high for Cleveland, which suffered its 11 straight defeat of the season.

Hanratty leads Steelers past Cincinnati 21-10

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Terry Hanratty came off the bench to rally the sluggish Pittsburgh Steelers to two fourth-quarter touchdowns and a 21-10 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals Monday night, moving Pittsburgh within a game of the lead in the American Football Conference's Central Division.

Hanratty, taking over for Terry Bradshaw, threw a 72-yard touchdown bomb to rookie tight end Dennis Hughes at 1:08 of the final period and then drove the Steelers 52 yards to score on Warren Bankston's two-yard plunge at 6:11.

It was the first time all season the Steelers had scored two touchdowns in a quarter and the first time they scored more than two touchdowns in a game.

Broyles hopes Burnett can recover in time for Texas

DALLAS (UPI)—Surgeons operated on the separated shoulder of Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett. A hospital spokesman said Burnett's condition was satisfactory, and a normal recovery process could be expected.

Burnett, the highest scorer in the history of the Southwest Conference, injured his shoulder in the second quarter of Arkansas' 45-6 victory over Texas A&M in College Station, Tex., last Saturday.

Although the normal recovery period for such surgery is six weeks, both Burnett and his coach Frank Broyles had held out the hope the Razorback star would be ready for Arkansas' final game—the showdown with the Texas Longhorns in Austin Dec. 5.

"The doctor says the healing time is six weeks," Broyles said before surgery. "The Texas game is five weeks away. That's what I will be shooting for."

They have only slightly limited his running.

His left shoulder was separated in this year's Tulsa game, and the next day Burnett said he did not see any way he could play the next Saturday against Texas Christian.

But by game day Burnett decided the shoulder did not hurt badly enough to sit on the sidelines, so he played and scored four touchdowns.

"You just have to learn to play with pain," he said.

Hughes, who was not drafted but signed as a free agent and is Pittsburgh's leading receiver, also scored the Steelers' first touchdown in the second quarter on a 27-yard pass from halfback Dick Hoak.

Cincinnati, which lost its sixth straight game, scored first in the second period on a two-yard pass from Virgil Carter to Eric Crabtree and added a 43-yard field goal by Horst Muhlmann in the third quarter.

Editor to bail out Joe Louis

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI)—A veteran Jersey City editor and longtime fan of former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis has revived a plan aimed at bailing the legendary fighter out of his million-dollar troubles with the Internal Revenue Service.

In the Monday editions of the Jersey Journal, executive editor Eugene Farrell recalled his idea of sending $1 checks to IRS on Louis' behalf.

Farrell said Louis has made millions and contributed millions more in tax-free services to the American people during World War II, but has been haunted for years by his huge tax debt.

49ers are shaking old habit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The myth about the San Francisco Forty Niners, year after year, was that they were losers. The team was incapable of winning, critics said, because it was permeated with a losing attitude.

Running back Ken Willard agrees there may have been some degree of defeatism in the minds of the Forty Niners of the past. But Willard said following Sunday's 26-10 win over Green Bay that there's no trace of the old mentality in the 1970 Forty Niners.

"There's possibly no one stronger in football than we are," Willard said after the Niners took over first place in the National Conference West.

Phoenix defeats Buffalo

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Connie Hawkins scored 29 points and Dick Van Arsdale paced the Phoenix attack as the Suns led wire-to-wire to defeat the expansion Buffalo Braves 110-102 Monday night.

The Suns scored the first nine points of the game and were never in trouble, holding their biggest margin of 28 points midway in the fourth quarter before coach Cotton Fitzsimmons cleared the bench. The Suns' last field goal of the contest came with 6:18 remaining and gave them a 105-77 lead.

Phoenix had only two more field goals than the Braves but was 42 of 51 from the free throw line while Buffalo was 38 of 48.

Clem Haskins added 19 for the Suns and Neal Walk 14.

Six men scored in double figures for Buffalo, led by Mike Davis with 21. Fred Crawford had 18, George Wilson 13, Emmette Bryant 12, Bob Kauffman 11 and Don May 10.

Hanratty earns back job

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Terry Hanratty has his job back today as quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers—with an unusual concession of defeat from rookie Terry Bradshaw.

"I know one thing, I don't deserve to start any more," Bradshaw said. "I think Terry earned that right. I should be sitting on the bench."

Bradshaw, the Steelers' glamour boy, the No. 1 draft choice who took Pittsburgh by storm during the exhibition games, admitted he was dejected with himself after Hanratty came off the bench in the second half Monday night to lead the Steelers to a 21-10 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals.

"I feel like the Steelers just aren't getting their money's worth from me," Bradshaw said. "I'm very unhappy and I don't mind telling you, I don't like playing bad football."

Pittsburgh's victory in the nationally televised game moved it within a game of the lead in the Central Division of the American Football Conference. But Hanratty refused to concede that he would start next Sunday against the New York Jets.

Frazier, Knicks top S.F.

OAKLAND (UPI)—Walt Frazier led the scoring with 27 points and was the key factor in New York's pressure defense Monday night as the Knicks rolled past San Francisco 111-99 in the National Basketball Association.

The final score was not indicative of the Knicks' dominance of the Warriors. They boosted their Atlantic Division record to 10-2 and dropped the Warriors to 3-6. The Knicks maintained a 2-1-2 game lead over Philadelphia and the Warriors fell two games behind in the Pacific Division.

Turnovers hampered the Warriors throughout the contest. They made 19 in the first half to help the Knicks build a 61-51 lead at intermission. San Francisco stayed close only by shooting 52.5 per cent from the field in the half.

The Knicks salted the game away by going on a 16-4 spree in the first 5:47 of the third period to take a commanding 22-point lead, 77-55. Frazier and Cazzie Russell each scored six of those points.

Russell finished with 22 points, scoring 10 of them in the first period as New York went ahead 28-23 and was never headed. The Warriors were paced by consistent forward Jerry Lucas, who bucketed 20 points and topped the rebounders with 18.

White to be in lineup

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fullback Lee White of the New York Jets, who left Sunday's game with the New York Giants in the second quarter after hurting his left shoulder, suffered only a bruise and is expected to be back in the lineup next Sunday.

X-rays taken Monday on the former Weber State star proved negative and brought a sign of relief to the Jets coaching staff, who had feared that they might have lost another running back for the season.

TV station files suit on Royals

CINCINNATI (UPI)—A Cincinnati television station filed a $1.1 million suit against the Cincinnati Royals Monday for allegedly failing to live up to an agreement involving telecast of the team's out-of-town games.

WXIX-TV, a small commercial station here, said the station and the Cincinnati Basketball Co., owner of the Royals, had agreed Sept. 3, 1969, the team would purchase time for live telecast of at least 19 of its out-of-town games during the 1970-71 season.

Auburn has SEC lead

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—The explosive Auburn Tigers used a 63-14 win over Florida Saturday to move into sole possession of the top spot in the Southeastern Conference scoring race, statistics released by SEC headquarters showed Monday.

The Tigers, who had been tied with Ole Miss for the lead, increased their seven-game scoring average to 35.6 points. Tennessee, 41-7 winner over Wake Forest, narrowly edged into second place with a 31.3 average for seven games.

Few candidates use new tactics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tome Hom, a Republican member of the California general assembly, is emphasizing in his reelection campaign that he is under indictment on charges of accepting a $5,000 bribe.

It is a novel attempt to turn a political liability into an asset by bringing the issue into the open and appealing to voter sympathy.

And it puts Hom among a relative handful of candidates in Tuesday's elections who, because of personality, campaign style, platform or other factors, stand apart in an age of look-alike, sound-alike, computer-programmed politicians.

The unconventional candidates include, among others, Roman Catholic priests, radio and television personalities, former athletes, new left and old right radicals, and one candidate who qualifies as unusual simply because of what he has achieved through his name.

He is Robert A. Zimmermann, 48, a Wisconsin service station operator and political unknown who stands a chance of upsetting incumbent Republican Secretary of State Robert C. Zimmerman because many voters cannot tell a Zimmermann from a Zimmerman.

Zimmermann, a Wallace-style Democrat, won the party primary in an upset attributed to confusion over the name.

The Rev. Robert F. Drinan, Democratic candidate for Congress from Massachusetts, is one of at least two priests seeking national office. He has attracted wide publicity with a Democratic primary victory over long-time Rep. Philip J. Philbin, and he has been favored to win despite objections of some Massachusetts Catholics to priestly involvement in politics.

The Rev. John McLaughlin, a Jesuit like Drinan, is the Republican opponent of Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., but is given little chance to win.

Former athletes are big in New York state politics. They include Jack F. Kemp, a one-time Buffalo Bills quarterback running as a Republican candidate for Congress; Tom Brown, a diabetic and Boston marathon runner campaigning for the state assembly as a Democrat, and Barry Kramer, former All-American and professional basketball star running as a Democrat for the state assembly.

Edison S. "Pinky" Fisk, whose nickname derives from alleged leftist connections, is a veteran picketer and demonstrator who is the Buffalo party's candidate for the U.S. Senate from Washington state. The Buffalo party is known primarily for having sponsored a rock festival last summer that resulted in several narcotics arrests.

Mark Zola, 26, is a former underground newspaper editor running for lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania on the Socialist Workers ticket. He was drafted Oct. 6, reported for induction and passed his final tests. But the Army, without explanation, did not induct him.

Clarissa Cain is the first woman to run for governor of Pennsylvania. She is a black running as a candidate of the Consumer party, which raises funds at "soul food" dinners featuring southern fried chicken, pigs feet and collard greens.

J. Robert Charles, Republican candidate for Nevada's lone congressional seat, may have the most unusual reason for seeking office of any candidate. He says he is opposing Democratic incumbent Walter S. Baring because Baring failed to answer a letter he wrote complaining of his treatment while serving in the Army.

Baring has not only Democratic support but endorsement from top GOP leaders and the Independent American party.

Bary Farber, Republican-Liberal candidate for Congress from Manhattan's 19th district, is one of several radio broadcasters seeking office. He is fluent in 16 languages, a definite advantage in the polyglot district which encompasses "little Italy" and Chinatown, as well as Greenwich Village.

His Democratic opponent is women's lib advocate and veteran peace lobbyist Bella Abzug, a colorful campaigner with booming voice and outspoken views who has the backing of New York Mayor John V. Lindsay and such entertainment stars as Barbra Streisand.

Other radio-TV personalities campaigning this fall include John Hlavacek, a former commentator for station KMTV in Omaha, seeking election to Congress as a Democrat; Cecil Hefel, owner of KGMB AM-FM-TV in Honolulu, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, and Hal Suit, a TV newscaster who is the Republican candidate for governor of Georgia.

Scientists offer path to accord

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federation of American Scientists suggested Sunday that a voluntary halt in U.S. production and deployment of multiple warhead missiles might lead to agreements in the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) to be resumed by delegates from Washington and Moscow in Helsinki Monday.

The federation said the Soviets have not tested and therefore cannot be producing such warheads. It also said that an agreement merely limiting the numbers of strategic weapons, without reference to their power or quality, would be a sham and would provide an incentive for accelerating the arms race into new areas.

The federation lists Dr. Herbert E. York, former Pentagon research director, as its chairman. Former White House science advisers Jerome B. Wiesner and George B. Kistiakowsky are among its sponsors.

The warheads to which the statement referred are the type known as MIRV, for "multiple independently guided re-entry vehicles." The Soviets have "shotgun" multiple warheads, but not the independently guided kind where the warheads can be directed to widely separated targets from the same missile.

"The United States has tested first generation MIRVs for Minuteman III ICBMs and for Poseidon submarine missiles for two years, and has begun deployment of these systems," the federation said. "The Soviets have not yet tested a true MIRV system, so a test ban would prevent their developing reliable, accurate MIRVs."

"This U.S. lead may make extremely difficult Soviet acceptance of an agreement freezing MIRVs and present status. However, the United States should make every effort to persuade the Soviets to agree to a ban on MIRV production, testing and deployment."

And the federation added: "One method of demonstrating without security risk the seriousness of U.S. intention would be for the United States to halt further MIRV production, testing and deployment. The production halt might be necessary to satisfy the Soviets that we were not stockpiling already tested MIRVs for later rapid deployment."

In Antiballistic Missile (ABM) weapons, where the Soviets are ahead and already have deployed around Moscow, the federation said the United States could afford to agree to a freeze at the present status because "the Moscow system does not threaten the U.S. deterrence and does not require a parallel Washington system."

It said, however, that a complete ban on ABM systems would be better.

Puzzle ...

Holbrook battling Samuel Clemens

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Hal Holbrook is not Mark Twain, or even Samuel Clemens. Holbrook would like the world to know that.

Having played Twain in a one-man show since 1954, Holbrook became just another face in the crowd when he removed the white wig, mustaches and make-up that transformed him into the sage of Hannibal, Mo.

The cognoscent of Broadway came to know him through a series of successful plays, but their number is limited.

As with most actors, this native of Cleveland, Ohio, appreciates public recognition. He was amused the first year or so when people purposely or stupidly called him Mr. Twain. Today he doesn't even grin.

"That's one of the reasons he accepted his role on 'The Senator' segments of the new 'Bold Ones' television series. Hal's face is unadorned with the trappings that stamped Twain so clearly.

"It allows the mass public to know who I am," Holbrook explained.

"They know me in New York, but I've never worked in Hollywood because everyone wanted me to play a 70-year-old man based on my 'Mark Twain Tonight'.

"One television producer asked me to do a pilot film for "You Can't Take It With You." He had me in mind for the role of Gramps. He was terribly embarrassed when I showed up in his office because he expected to see an old man limp into the room.

"This series has been just great. Politics has become so entertaining lately, plus the fact that the public is shook up about major issues.

"We had a difficult time convincing the public that stories about a United States Senator could be melodramatic. But we're doing one episode, for instance, on aspects of the poverty program. It's the most authentic kind of show, demonstrating how a bill is pushed through Congress and the difficulties it encounters."

Holbrook's role as a lawmaker instead of a lawman surgeon, lawyer, private eye offers welcome relief from television's stock heroes.

He plays a man who doesn't shoot or belt somebody in the mouth to win his point. Holbrook plays a believable human being.

"We deal in conflicts between people creating real situations," Holbrook said.

"It's not true that television can't be made better. We're doing it. We're making this show in about the same amount of time and for about the same money as others. But we take the trouble to find and improve good scripts.

"I think it's a disgrace that there isn't room for minority viewers on television—for those persons who want something other than standard fare."

Holbrook's point of view is well taken. His only concern is whether "The Senator" is renewed for next season. Even a series beamed for a minority audience must make a showing in the rating game.

Record Reviews

Beethoven: The Piano Sonatas: William Backhaus Pianist (London CSP 2) 1970, the year of the commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Beethoven, will be marked by many fine musical releases in his honor, but few as fine as this.

Backhaus, one of the most venerable and revered of all the world's elder statesmen of the piano, was beyond question the greatest interpreter of Beethoven's piano works until his death at 85 last year.

He may in time be recognized as the greatest of all time, an honor now held by Artur Schnabel, whose classic old collection of the 32 will soon be rereleased by Seraphim.

Backhaus' series of the 32 are the most recent complete series recorded, the most brilliantly recorded, and among the best of those collections of the 32 available.

Backhaus, despite his approaching years, was a dynamic interpreter of the intensely personal and deeply emotional Beethoven sonatas, and rendered strong yet delicate versions.

The Backhaus versions of the Beethoven sonatas, most recorded in the 1960s, have been issued in single albums by London for the past several years. The issuance is now almost complete.

London combined the whole massive series into this special ten-record release in recognition of Beethoven's birthday observance. It is a release of remarkable importance.

The piano Sonatas are in themselves a remarkable musical series unequalled before Beethoven or since, and Backhaus' 30 years of intense concentration on the Beethoven sonatas is readily apparent in the familiarity he enjoys with the music.

There is never an uncertain moment in Backhaus' renditions. He is sure and certain of himself and of his Beethoven. The album is one of deep beauty, charm and a formidable display of piano prowess.

hear Beethoven if you're the kind of listener who gets bored sitting through a symphony or a concerto. Most of these compositions are only a few moments long, and the two romances combined are under 17 minutes in length.

The German dances and contretanze are particularly lovely, small gems for orchestra written by Beethoven between 1795 and 1801. The two romances for violin also date from the same era, and are equally lovely and simplistic. The Vienna dances date from 1819.

The Vienna Mozart Ensemble, under the direction of violinist Willi Boskovsky, marvelously perform these works with all the sprightly gaiety and delight with which they were written.

The music lover who has a special love for Beethoven's works and who has the majority of his large music will find these 28 small compositions a beautiful compliment to Beethoven's massive symphonies and concertos.

Top riders enter ring

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — More than a dozen cowboys in the Rocky Mountain Rodeo Association will compete here Nov. 5, 6 and 7 during the 52nd Annual Golden Spike National Livestock Show.

The 15 RMRA cowboys will ride, rope and wrestle steers beginning with each night's performance at 7:30 p.m.

This is the fourth year the RMRA championship will be held in conjunction with the stock show and the third year it will be spread over three nights.

Top prize of the three nights of competition will be the award of all-around cowboy of the RMRA.

For the last two years this honor has been won by Jack Hamm of Morgan, Utah.

Chief denies any anti-Nixon 'riot'

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—The police chief of San Jose says last Thursday's attack on President Nixon's limousine was something less than the "riot" which Nixon and other Republicans have claimed.

California labor leaders went a step further Monday, charging that the President himself provoked the incident for political purposes. The assertion drew a "no comment" from the Western White House.

"The so-called riot has been exaggerated," said Police Chief Ray Blackmore, whose men guarded the auditorium parking lot where demonstrators chanted obscenities and threw an undetermined number of eggs and other missiles at the presidential limousine.

"I did not have any concern that the demonstration would get physical," Blackmore told a group of San Jose State College students. "The 'barrage' on the President was verbal, not physical."

The chief said policemen who gathered debris in the parking lot after the incident only picked up "one bottle and a few rocks."

The police account contrasted sharply with that given by Republican Sen. George Murphy, who, with Gov. Ronald Reagan, accompanied the President during the Thursday night incident.

"This was so militant," Murphy said, "that I believe if that mob had been able to get hold of the President or the governor or myself they would have torn us to pieces."

John F. Henning, executive secretary-treasurer of the 1.6 million member California Labor Council on Political Education, AFL-CIO, claimed President Nixon "personally aggravated and provoked the San Jose students—for political purposes."

Henning and other labor leaders agreed with students who said the President's flashing the peace sign just before riding his limousine through the unfriendly crowd was a provocative act.

The official White House explanation for the President's gesture was that Nixon had some supporters in the crowd and was giving them his traditional greeting.

Gov. Reagan, who was inside the bullet-proof limousine with Nixon, said, "We were most of us giving the peace sign back to them through the window because we know that nothing infuriates them more."

Irrigation canals were used more than 6,000 years ago in Egypt and Babylon.

Land forum plans set

BOISE (UPI)—Final arrangements have been made for the Idaho Statewide Discussion Forum on the Public Land Law Review Commission Report, according to an announcement made Monday.

John E. Martin, executive director of the Idaho Commission on Federal Land Laws, said featured speakers will be Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, a member of the PLLRC and the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, Gov. Don Samuelson, and Charles Conklin, Washington D.C., representing the PLLRC.

CHAIRMAN of the Federal Communications Commission, Dean Burch, says it is now up to Congress to resolve the problem of equity in political campaigning on radio and TV. "I would not be particularly pleased with a system where every candidate in the U. S. for every office got free time, because it's not free. Somebody pays for it. You're taking property away." (UPI)

Frippe dilemma marks year's vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One thing (maybe the only thing) clear in this election is that our voting process no longer is flexible, fluid and sophisticated enough to gratify the body politic.

Jet travel and instant communications have made the Republic far more politically homogeneous than our Founding Fathers could ever have imagined. Yet the voters are still partitioned off, or restricted, by state lines.

A case in point: Wilbur Frippe.

Frippe is a resident of Virginia where Sen. Harry F. Byrd ran for re-election as an independent against the challenges of Raymond Garland, a Republican, and George Hawkins, a Democrat.

Although this was a bigger variety than most states offered, Frippe never managed to work up much enthusiasm for any of the candidates.

Thousands of other voters felt themselves similarly boxed in as they went to the polls.

Many voters in Massachusetts probably were more interested in the Senate race in Michigan. The attention of Michigan voters was attracted to Ohio. And so on.

Well, I wouldn't go so far as to advocate that voters be allowed to cross state lines. Crossing party lines is confusing enough. There is, however, a less drastic means of relieving electoral frustration.

I refer to the system of "pair" voting used in Congress. Under this system a senator who is against a certain bill but who wants to go ice skating on the day it comes to a vote can "pair" with another absentee who favors the measure.

In a negative way, they offset each other, the effect being the same as if both had actually voted.

If adapted to congressional elections, this system would make suffrage more satisfactory by equalizing the options. A Virginia admirer of Senator Gore could, for example, pair his vote with a Tennessee fan of Senator Byrd.

In other words, the Virginian would promise not to vote against Byrd if the Tennesseean would refrain from voting against Gore. Thus striking another blow for democracy.

Mekong crash kills 4 Yanks

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. military spokesmen said today four Americans were killed Monday when their helicopter crashed in the Mekong Delta. Another American was killed in a Communist ambush 35 miles from Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops reported killing 46 Communist troops and capturing 14 in a series of small battles in Northern South Vietnam and Southeastern Cambodia. Their own losses were set at two killed and four wounded.

In Cambodia, troops from a government task force at Tang Kauk 52 miles north of Phnom Penh fought a brief but sharp clash with an estimated 50 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops near their base Monday. A government spokesman said fighting also was reported under way today near the village of Prek Tamek, nine miles north-northeast of Phnom Penh.

A Cambodian military spokesman said three government soldiers were killed and seven wounded in the clash at Tang Kauk. Communist fatalities were estimated at about 10 killed and wounded. Some 20,000 Cambodian soldiers are concentrated at Tang Kauk, where they are stalled on their drive northward to Kompong Thom.

In Saigon, U.S. military spokesmen said there were few details available on the helicopter crash, including its cause. It took place in the Kien Giang Province about 125 miles east-southeast of Saigon.

The ambush, involving the 25th Infantry division, took place Monday in Long Khanh Province. The Americans called in artillery fire and helicopter gunships but the Communists got away without leaving casualties behind.

In addition to the American killed, two GIs were wounded.

American Division G troops killed four guerrillas in Quang Tin Province in a brief engagement in mountains near the Laotian border about 45 miles south of Da Nang. Two Americans were wounded in the skirmish.
