TEN CENTS

Death ends DeGaulle vision of 'Grandeur'

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who led France from near civil war in 1958 into an era of pride and prosperity, died of a heart attack Monday night while watching television at his country home in Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises. The French government's announcement said De Gaulle, who would have celebrated his 80th birthday Nov. 22, suffered a heart attack.

There was no indication he suffered any illness before his death. Only last month De Gaulle published the fourth in a planned six-volume set of memoirs and the few persons who had seen him since his forced retirement in April, 1969, said he appeared well and was industriously working on the remaining manuscripts. De Gaulle took power in 1958 when the army was in revolt in Algeria and the country was near civil war. For 11 years he ruled as a strongman, a number of times going to the people in referenda to make certain he had their backing. Each time he won until the spring of 1969, when he lost what he considered a crucial referendum on administrative reform.

Lincoln requests jail aid

SHOSHONE — Lincoln County commissioners Monday applied for matching funds to improve county jail facilities. C. E. Chatfield, chairman, said. Chatfield said the county is seeking $3,000 from the Idaho Law Enforcement Planning Fund to build women's and juvenile detention areas in the jail, required under Idaho court reform measures.

He said the county will match the $3,000 if the state funds are approved.

Facilities for women and juvenile prisoners are now lacking in the Lincoln County Jail.

Sanford Connell, assessor elect, was sworn in Monday, beginning duties immediately. Mrs. Joy McClure, deputy assessor, has been serving as acting assessor in the three months since Mrs. Shirley Tewes resigned that office and moved to Boise. Mrs. McClure will continue as deputy assessor, Chatfield said.

17-hour session halted

DETROIT (UPI) — A 17-hour bargaining session expected to continue until tentative settlement was reached in the 56-day-old United Auto Workers strike against General Motors broke up unexpectedly early today with no explanations from the weary negotiators.

Maintaining the silence which has been in effect at the GM Building here since a news blackout was imposed on the talks Oct. 30, bargainers would only say that the negotiations would resume again today at 9:30 a.m. EST.

The marathon session, which began Monday igniting speculation that a settlement was at hand, had been expected to result in tentative agreement on a new national contract which would cost GM well over $2 billion in wages alone in the next three years.

The negotiators, sullen and bleary-eyed, went home shortly after 2 a.m.

Any agreement in the strike would be subject to ratification by the union's 375,000 members at GM.

Tally underway

TWIN FALLS — Canvass of the Nov. 3 general election vote in Twin Falls County began early this morning by the county commissioners meeting as a board of canvassers. Chairman Heber Loughmiller said the official tabulation will probably take several days. Automatic voting machines do not cut down the canvass time, Clerk Harold Lancaster said, since the same number of precincts must be checked.

Generals released

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Soviet authorities today released two U.S. generals, their pilot, and a Turkish officer to Turkey after holding them since Oct. 21, when their light aircraft crossed the frontier, Turkish officials said. They said U.S. Air Force Maj. James P. Russell landed his Beechcraft U8 aircraft at the north Turkish border town of Kars, hours after the other three officers crossed into Turkey.

Envoy may quit

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Gunnar V. Jarring, special U.N. Middle East envoy, has threatened to quit his peace mission if results are not forthcoming by Jan. 1, diplomatic sources said today.

Jarring, on leave from his job as Sweden's ambassador to Moscow, is scheduled to prepare a report for the Security Council on his mediation efforts in two months.

After spending most of a year shuttling between Israel and the Arab capitals, he suspended his mission for several months and resumed it last summer after the United States negotiated a cease-fire and standstill agreement.

Holiday plans varied

TWIN FALLS — Some will, and some won't. That, in a nutshell, is what merchants and business firms in Twin Falls say about taking a holiday on Wednesday.

All governmental offices including city hall, county offices and those on the federal level will close to observe Veteran's Day. This includes the post office with no window service and no carrier service scheduled. All banks will close. Schools will remain open, with the exception of the Senior High School where classes end at noon to allow attendance at a football game in Rupert.

Most of the downtown merchants indicated they will be open for business as usual and may have some Veteran's Day specials. Most stores in Lynwood and Blue Lakes Shopping centers will also be open.

Members of the Twin Falls Civil Air Patrol Cadets who conducted Memorial Day services in the Twin Falls City Park are planning a similar observance tomorrow.

T.F. school chief to resign position

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Ernest H. Ragland, superintendent of schools for Twin Falls district No. 411 for the past 20 years, submitted his resignation to the board of trustees at the regular meeting Monday evening.

Dr. Ragland asked that the resignation be accepted effective June 30 of next year. "My years in this system and in this community have been very satisfying and I have enjoyed excellent support in countless programs for school improvement," Dr. Ragland told members of the board in the letter of resignation.

"I have appreciated the cooperation of the present board of trustees who served during my administration. In my judgment the school district has been fortunate to have board members who have made decisions in the best interests of the boys and girls of the community. I have also enjoyed my long association with the school faculty and students with whom I was privileged to serve."

Dr. Ragland said that he believed his statement of intent should be made at this time "to give the board ample time to plan for the 1971-72 school term."

He added that his wife, Dortha, who taught at Washington school for a period of 10 years through 1968, joins me in extending thanks and all good wishes to the board and the people of this fine community.

He pledged his continued interest and unqualified support to the school and the community.

School trustees said they accepted the resignation with regret, and although he had hinted he might retire in the near future, the announcement was something of a shock.

Frank DeLuca, board member, said Dr. Ragland will be most difficult to replace.

"Dr. Ragland is greatly respected by educational authorities throughout the state and for that matter, the country. Under his leadership we have obtained a new high school, two new grade schools and a junior high school plus many educational improvements and benefits," DeLuca said.

Probation provision gets use

TWIN FALLS — Fifth Judicial District Judge James M. Cunningham said today he plans to exercise for the first time a new measure provided by the past session of the state legislature.

He said under the new act, a judge sentencing a person to the state penitentiary can retain jurisdiction for 60 days.

Cunningham did so in the case of James B. O'Dell who was sentenced on a perjury conviction about 50 days ago.

Judge Cunningham said the new law gives the courts a chance to determine if the individual would rehabilitate easier by serving 60 days in prison and then placed on probation.

In the case of the Twin Falls man, Judge Cunningham said he has been petitioned by Golden Bennett, attorney for the defendant, to exercise the probation right at the end of 60 days.

Noting this is the first such action against the defendant, Judge Cunningham said he plans to issue an order placing the individual on probation.

DR. ERNEST RAGLAND

Ragland held important posts

TWIN FALLS — Although resigning as superintendent of schools, Dr. Ernest H. Ragland intends to stay in Twin Falls "where my friends are."

He said this was the "same opinion" held by his wife Dortha.

Dr. Ragland, when his resignation becomes effective June 30, 1971, will have been an official in the local system for 20 years.

Looking back over his years as an educator, he told the Times-News Wednesday morning that "I've been in education ever since I started to school when I was six."

He recalled that his first teaching job was in a one-room country school near Deepwater, Mo. He was 17 years old, just out of high school. "I had 20 students in my first class," he recalled. "Looking back I wonder if they really got their money's worth. With only a high school degree, which was perfectly normal for teaching back then, I just couldn't have known very much."

He came to Idaho in 1930 as principal and teacher at the Deep Creek school near Buhl. The grades were 6, 7 and 8. He later moved to Maroa, north of Filer, and then entered the Filer system as an elementary principal in 1942. He left school for 27 months with the U. S. Navy in World War II, but returned in 1946 as superintendent of schools at Murtaugh. It was in 1948 that he enrolled in Teachers College at Columbia University. He received his doctorate in public school administration in 1952.

He became superintendent in Twin Falls in 1951, taking over the post vacated by Al Morgan. The Raglands were married in 1934. They went to college together at Springfield, Mo., where they received their BS degrees. Mrs. Ragland taught in the Twin Falls system for 10 years at Washington School.

Both have been active in community affairs. Asked if he intended to move somewhere else when he retired, Dr. Ragland said:

"No reason to. Our friends are all in this area."

Diamond rush readied

KOSTER, South Africa (UPI) — Busloads of tourists joined tough prospectors in Koster today for the countdown to what probably will be South Africa's last-diamond rush.

Thousands will be on hand at the starting line Wednesday, but only about 150 bona fide prospectors have been granted licenses to stake their claims when minister of mines Dr. Carel de Wet gives the signal for the rush to start at 11 a.m.

This region 75 miles northwest of Johannesburg once was known as the "Land of the diamonds" and those taking part in the rush have come to find out if it still is.

The land officially was proclaimed an alluvial diamond field earlier this year when the only prospector on the site so far, Pieter Swanepoel and his son, Frikkie, discovered a 48.12 carat diamond and several smaller stones.

Swanepoel already has staked out 200 claims and told newsmen "There is nothing here for the average digger. In my opinion, this field is exhausted anyway."

"Scare stories," said one gray-haired digger, a veteran of the diamond sites of the Skeleton Coast, the deadly strip of desert on the west coast of Southwest Africa.

Diamond fever has spiraled in the district. Some oldtimers say they have seen nothing like it since the uproarious boom days of 1927 and 1928 when 150,000 diggers scooped $25 million worth of high quality gems from the Grasfontein and Bakerville diggings 50 miles to the west.

Before hopeful prospectors get to the starting line Wednesday, their names will be put into a hat and only the lucky ones drawn will be permitted to join the rush. Each one is allowed three 45-square yard claims.

Board asks RR pay hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A presidential board in an effort to resurrect collective bargaining in the railroad industry, has recommended a 32.5 per cent wage increase for workers coupled with changes in work rules the industry claims are inefficient and outmoded.

The board also recommended the creation of a joint industry-labor panel, headed by a neutral chairman, to seek long-range reforms and solutions to railroad labor problems which have forced Congress to impose settlements three times since World War II.

There was no immediate comment from either side on the report, but Board Chairman Lewis M. Gill said both railroads and unions had previously expressed willingness to set up such a joint panel, and that the unions had expressed a willingness to negotiate the work rules issue. The board was appointed by President Nixon under provisions of the Railway Labor Act. The law gives the President power to call a 60-day cooling-off period and appoint an emergency board in any rail strike situation.

The board's report was released by Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson at the White House. He said he endorsed the "main thrust" of the report, but would not comment on the specific wage increases until he had a chance to study them.

The board recommended wage increases for 500,000 of the nation's 600,000 rail workers of 13.5 per cent this year, 9 per cent in 1971, and 10 per cent in 1972. This would add $1.32 to the average hourly pay of $3.60 at the end of the three-year period.

MD seeks post

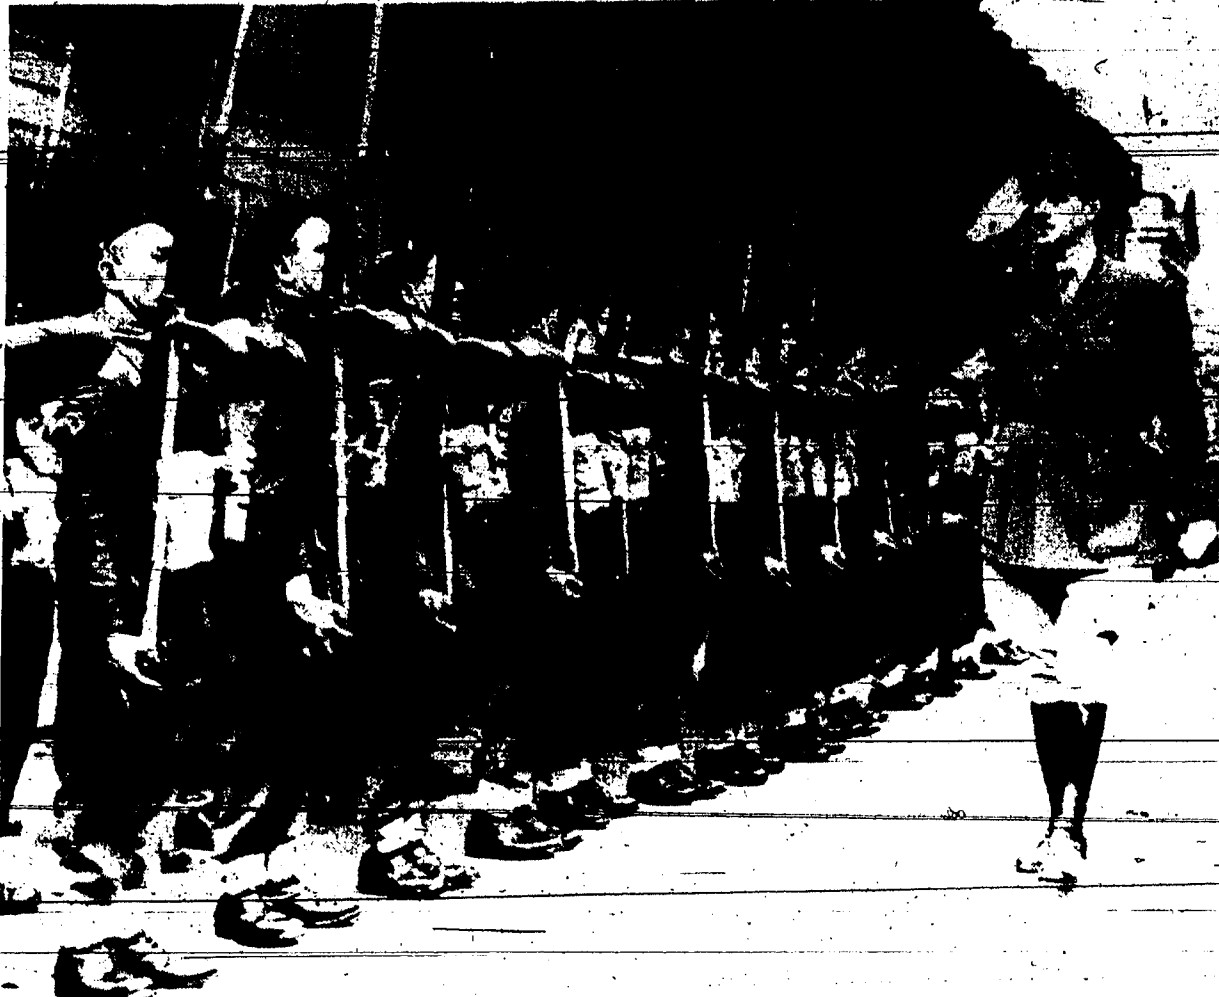

TWIN FALLS — Applications from two qualified persons, one of them a medical doctor, have been received by the South Central Idaho Health Board for the district administrator vacancy, County Commissioner William Chancey said Monday.

Chancey, also chairman of the new district board, said the applications will probably be discussed next week by the state board of health when they meet in Boise. He said no action is expected at that time, however, as applications are still being received.

Since the death of Dr. Luther Thompson, medical director for the local district, last summer, the position has been held on an acting basis by James Ingalls, chief sanitarian for the district.

Medical duties have been performed by area doctors on an alternate basis.

'Grandeur' amidst defeat

FRENCH Gen. Charles de Gaulle, shown inspecting French Commando troops in London, died of a heart attack at his country home near Paris late yesterday. (UPI)

De Gaulle

He would restore French grandeur

By United Press International
Few men burn with the mission to make their country great. Fewer get the chance to carry out the mission. Still fewer fail the first time and get a second chance.

Charles de Gaulle got the second chance, took it and in the mid-1960s succeeded in a great measure in restoring a renovated and strong France to a high place in the world before the French virtually voted him out of power in 1969.

In rebuilding France he wrote his own name indelibly among the greatest statesmen of the 20th century by following with an extraordinary single-mindedness the belief his nation had to be great and that only one man could make her so.

It was the mission that guided his every action from World War I through World War II where he raised the banner of resistance from abroad over a defeated nation to the restoration of France as a stable and powerful nation in the last years of his life.

They say a De Gaulle was on the battlefield when Philippe August defeated the Germans at Bouvines in 1214. There was another De Gaulle at Azincourt who vainly counseled the crown prince to surrender to England's Henry V.

By the time Charles Andre Joseph Marie de Gaulle was born Nov. 22 1890 in Lille his family had turned from military to legal tradition. His father, Henri, had hoped to be a military man but because of family fortunes had turned to teaching.

De Gaulle went from the Jesuit college, where his father taught, to the military school at St. Cyr when he was 21. By this time he was already showing unusually brilliant theories about France and warfare.

As a first lieutenant De Gaulle was wounded three times during World War I and finally captured by the Germans. It was typical of the man that during his captivity he learned German—to help him escape, but also to permit him to discuss the war with his captors and write a book later on the subject.

After the war he was posted to St. Cyr to teach history and became conspicuous for his original and unorthodox ideas. In May, 1940, he was promoted to brigadier-general—the highest military rank he attained—and was given a divisional command. He counter-attacked and in places forced the crack divisions of Nazi Gen. Heinz Guderian to retreat, but there was no stopping the flood of German armor.

His wife, Yvonne, whom he married in May, 1919, now had had three children: Philippe, who was to become an officer in the French navy; Elizabeth and Anne.

De Gaulle sent her a telegram telling her to take the children up to the channel coast, then set out himself for London.

Few people had ever heard of the man who stood before the microphone at the British Broadcasting Corp. London studios June 18 and called on Frenchmen to continue to fight the Germans.

"France has lost a battle. She has not lost the war," he said. The Vichy government of France stripped him of his citizenship and sentenced him to death in his absence, but De Gaulle continued to wave the double-barred cross of Lorraine flag and men began trickling into his army in London.

De Gaulle managed to be in Paris the day after French and American troops entered. He marched down the Champs Elysees to delirious cheers—and the sounds of German troops still sniping nearby.

Only De Gaulle's maneuvering prevented the Communists from seizing control of Paris and possibly the country. The French asked him to assume the premiership in November, 1944.

Fed up with the continual wrangling of political parties and unwilling to remain in a regime which had little real power, De Gaulle walked out Jan. 20, 1946, and went to his country home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises 120 miles east of Paris.

By the end of 1957 the country was in the death throes of the Fourth Republic and the Muslims in Algeria had begun a civil war to win independence from France, which poured men, arms and money into the battle and almost wrecked what was left of its economy in the process. Government after French government fell.

The Algerian revolt spread to Corsica. Four days later Premier Pierre Pflimlin resigned. De Gaulle was asked to form a government.

With unchallenged control of the country, De Gaulle set about putting his dream into reality: A strong France, able to defend herself militarily, a leader of Europe or if possible the world, not to be dictated by any other power.

On Sept. 16, 1959, De Gaulle offered the Algerian people a free choice between secession from France; complete integration with France; or internal self-government within four years of peace being restored.

De Gaulle's honeymoon with the French people was over. In January, 1960, anger over his Algeria policy boiled up into the battle of the barricades in Algiers. It was the first test of strength. De Gaulle won.

But by late 1960 many of his followers had walked out on him.

De Gaulle with an obstinacy pushed aside all opposition to his plan. In a daring maneuver he went to the country January, 1961, with a referendum asking approval of his Algeria plans. He got a resounding "yes" from the electorate.

But France remained divided on Algeria. In April, 1961, the nation awoke one Saturday morning to find four generals headed by Gen. Raoul Salan had seized power in Algeria to keep it French.

De Gaulle immediately assumed special dictatorial powers and warned Frenchmen if they did not support him he would step down and abandon the country to anarchy. In four days the revolt was over.

By mid-1962 the Algerian problem was, to all practical purposes, solved. The Algerian rebels took over legal government. Although France continued to provide massive financial aid, the big drain on French money and manpower was over.

De Gaulle now was free to put France firmly on the road to grandeur, his policy of the "grand design."

He had long been suspicious of the United States and Britain and wanted a "third force" between the United States and Russia. He felt this should be achieved by a united Europe, with France in the forefront.

De Gaulle progressively pulled French ground and naval forces from NATO command and refused to have nuclear warheads stocked on French soil. He also rejected proposals of the late President Kennedy for a mixed-manned multilateral nuclear striking force.

Instead, in line with his basic precept that France must have her own means of defense, De Gaulle embarked on a costly plan to equip France with a force of supersonic Mirage IV bombers carrying nuclear bombs, and a submarine force carrying a French nuclear weapon similar to the American Polaris type.

In 1964, despite hostility from the United States, he opened diplomatic relations with Mao Tse-tung's Communist China on the basis that nothing in the Far East could be achieved without bringing that Communist power into the discussions.

In November 1965 De Gaulle announced his candidacy for election to a second term of seven years. Typically, it was done on St. Charles Day. He was re-elected.

In March, 1966, in a letter to U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson, De Gaulle asked that all American and NATO forces be evacuated from French soil.

NATO decided to follow the soldiers, though it did not have to, and abandoned its $10 million Paris headquarters to move to Brussels.

Courtponders schools

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has at least five major school cases on its hands, with tough questions to answer on church-state separation, social justice and racial integration.

The court added to the load Monday by agreeing to consider two new cases—one from Florida on the way states allow more money to be spent in rich school districts than in poor ones; a second from Rhode Island on state aid for the salaries of teacher in Roman Catholic schools.

Even before those two were added, the current session already was considering these education-related matters:

—The combined Southern states case to decide how far school districts must go to fashion unitary school systems, including the question of busing students, with its implications for schools in the North as well.

—A challenge to the Pennsylvania law which earmarks for church schools a multimillion dollar share of income from horse race tracks. The Pennsylvania Council of Churches and other religious groups have challenged the law.

—A Connecticut case questioning the federal program which, as of June 18, had granted $2m3 billion to church-related colleges. Fifteen Connecticut taxpayers have challenged grants under the program to four church-related colleges.

Shoshone board seeks to hire new custodian

SHOSHONE — Supt. Kenneth Crothers has been instructed to advertise for a custodian-maintenance engineer to replace Frank Lane when he retires in January.

The action took place at the regular meeting of the Shoshone School Board Monday evening. Those seeking application should apply to Crothers.

The board will advertise for bids to sell two pianos at the high school. Trustees granted the Lincolnettes approval to hold an auction to raise funds for the Lincoln Elementary School central library. Dates of the auction and items to be auctioned will be decided by the Lincolnettes.

The library is a new project begun last summer under direction of Principal Jack Bowlin. Assisting with preliminary work now going on are Virginia Larsen and Mrs. Frank Stearns, both College of Southern Idaho students.

Prior to setting up the library each class had its own bookshelf. Bowlin said by putting all the school's books into one central library and building up the supply, it will make more books available to students.

Supt. Crothers said there will be a Veteran's Day program at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the Shoshone High School under direction of Carl Kinney, principal.

Rite planned

DIETRICH — The Dietrich School will observe Veterans Day with a program at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday. It will be held in the school gymnasium and local veterans will be honored. Everyone is invited to attend.

Race team gets $1,400

Some 257 dinners were served with wild game, including duck, elk, deer, goose and pheasant, according to Martha Poitevin, foundation member. Miss Poitevin also said all game was donated and expressed appreciation for the cooperation from area citizens.

Pete Lane donated wine for the event, and Jack Simpson donated the use of the Ranch Inn. His staff also prepared and served the meal.

Hailey payment approved

HAILEY — A bill for nearly $62,000 was approved for the estimate of the first phase of Hailey's water and sewer system when the Hailey City Council met Monday night.

The bill was presented by Drake Plumbing and Heating, a Boise firm, which holds the $147,300 contract for reconstruction of facilities at Indian Springs and installation of five miles of pipeline to the city limits.

Also included in the first estimate was an engineering bill of $3,900 attorney fees of $5,000 for bonding procedures, $550 for printing of bonds, $350 for bonding the city clerk and $650 for rental of the number four pump to be used until the system is in working order.

Plans for the third phase of the project will be opened at 8 p. m. Nov. 19 at city hall. That phase will include the installation of sewer collection and water distribution lines throughout the city.

In other business the council agreed to schedule a meeting with assistant school superintendent Ray Jefferson to discuss vandalism at the junior high and high school buildings in Hailey.

In a letter to the council Jefferson requested financing for outside lighting for the school grounds because of the destruction. Police Chief Bill Reed reported, however, that he has apprehended eight individuals on suspicion of vandalism at the sites. He said he has been unable to get anyone to prosecute.

The council also authorized Neal Nyblad to poll the owners of the business for two blocks on the east side of Main Street to determine whether nine or 12 foot sidewalks will replace existing ones.

It also granted a zoning variance to John Hepworth allowing him to construct a non-conforming porch on his home at Hailey.

Ballet company impresses

TWIN FALLS — Ballet America performed at the College of Southern Idaho Sunday for members of the Magic Valley Community Concert Association.

Ballet America has a unique style of ballet-narrative. It is like "Oklahoma," "Showboat" and "Gone With the Wind" all rolled into one experience for everyone. The company is made up of 20 young people that seem to stay in the air more than anything else. It seemed to me that two or three different things, being done well, were going on at all times, which made sheer fun for everyone.

The program was divided into such sophisticated titles as "Unfenced Land," "The Foot Peddler" and "Party Over at Grandpa Whorton's," and captured the true spirit that made this country great. It is pointed out in the program notes that the early settlers were rebels and non-conformists, living in times as explosive with change as our own.

The audience loudly and obviously appreciated the vitality and enthusiasm of this young and vibrant company.

The next community concert is Raymond Mickalski, appearing at 8:15 p. m. Jan. 13 at the CSI Fine Arts Center.

WASHINGTON — A private telephone conversation this week between Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes of Texas symbolized the sudden transformation of the Southern Democratic wasteland into a potentially fertile source of 1972 votes.

Muskie, front-running Democratic Presidential prospect, and the youthful, dynamic Barnes, reelected with nearly a 70 per cent vote, did not discuss the 1972 national ticket. What they did talk about was the need to reestablish the Democratic party's historic alliance between North and South, whose steady disintegration was hastened by the 1968 election.

In truth, that alliance may have been reborn Tuesday. Defying the Nixon-Agnew jaw-and-order campaign throughout the South, the Democrats have placed non-racist moderates in the governor's mansions in Arkansas (after two terms by Republican Winthrop Rockefeller), Florida (replacing Republican Claude Kirk), Georgia (replacing racist Lester Maddox), and South Carolina (continuing the moderate Democratic regime of Gov. Robert McNair).

In Texas, moderate Democrats turned back a powerful Republican challenge in a possibly decisive election. Already holding North Carolina, this new breed of Southern Democratic moderate now controls six of eleven Dixie states — a bitter harvest reaped by President Nixon's Southern strategy.

The only Republican holdouts are Tennessee, now a bona fide Republican state, and Virginia, whose moderate Republican party headed by Gov. Linwood Holton was humiliated when the White House refused to help it against the Senate campaign of newly independent conservative Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Jr.

That leaves the Deep South — Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana, which George Wallace can have for the asking in 1972.

Moreover, only one Southern Democratic House seat went Republican Tuesday, and that district (in Virginia's conservative Shenandoah Valley — vacated by a Byrd Democrat) has been destined for the Republicans for years.

There were, of course, special circumstances in each of these Democratic triumphs. In Florida, a long-standing feud between Kirk and anti-Kirk Republicans was further inflamed when an overly cute White House backed Kirk's decision to run ex-Judge Harold Carswell against Kirk's enemy, Rep. William Cramer, in the Republican primary. Cramer walloped Carswell, but both Cramer and Kirk were damaged for the fall campaign.

Furthermore, Cramer blundered horribly when he personally held up three Federal judgeships cleared by retiring Democratic Sen. Spessard Holland, galvanizing Holland to take the galvanized state Sen. Lawton Chiles against Cramer. Holland's campaign assured victory for the statewide Democratic ticket headed by Chiles and Gov.-elect Reubin Askew.

Beyond such peculiarities, the Chiles-Askew team fairly reflects the new Southern democracy: untouched by bitter racial battles of the 1960s and unconnected with the party's Northern power base of big labor, Eastern intellectuals, and New York money.

The other new Southern governors — Jimmie Carter in Georgia, John West in South Carolina, Dale Bumpers in Arkansas — also are non-racist moderates. In store, then, is the strong prospect of vigorous party rebuilding in these states, untroubled by the bitter legacy of the '60s. In store, as well, is an alliance with Northern moderates of the Muskie stripe.

The Democratic National Committee, for example, has started removing rough edges from liberal party-structure reforms for the 1972 convention. This is quiet backpedaling, intended to prevent the fratricide that prevailed in 1968-69.

In addition, a move is underfoot to give the Southern moderates a higher place in party councils and keep them in frequent contact with Northern party leaders. Though stepping down as governor of South Carolina, McNair will continue as a vice-chairman of the national party. His goal: regularized North-South contacts.

A formidable obstacle to this could come from the party's liberal wing, led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and including Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota and Harold Hughes of Iowa as Presidential hopefuls. If, in their concentration on the poor, the black, and the young, they reject a Southern alliance, the result could be more fratricide — a windfall for Mr. Nixon.

But one prospect extremely threatening to Mr. Nixon is clear: the South is getting in strong position to demand its once-traditional second spot on the ticket, and the Northern moderates — including Ed Muskie — may not be reluctant about complying.

Why The Change?

Every change has a reason. So there is a reason why the voters rejected Don Samuelson and selected Cecil Andrus.

Back in 1966 when Samuelson beat Andrus by a wide margin although there were four in the race, the political writers of the state said it was a matter of personality. Samuelson, fresh from a startling win over super-politician Bob Smylie, was described in a Times-News editorial of Nov. 10, 1966 as being a "big, bumbling, good-natured-looking guy who wasn't any great shakes as a speaker but, roughly, had the same effect as the happy, friendly, romping puppy." On the other hand the editorial continued by defining Andrus as "rather slick."

Well, in 1966 the "big, bumbling, good-natured-looking guy" roared to a win. A week ago today the voters dropped Samuelson for the "rather slick" Andrus. Why? We have a feeling that personalities no longer entered into the race to any real degree. Samuelson hadn't changed his personality in four years and neither had Andrus. But there is the strong suspicion that Samuelson still identified with the average voter — the common, ordinary citizen.

Why, then, did Andrus romp home a somewhat easy winner? It had to be because of the issues. And you remember that practically everyone said the day before election that there were really no issues at all. How wrong they were!

There were three. Although they might not have leveled off in this order they were education, the environment and tax inequities. Samuelson was against public school kindergartens because of high financing. Andrus was for kindergartens. Samuelson was for mining in the White Clouds because of the economic outlook. Andrus wants a National Park. Samuelson said his administration had brought on no new taxes. Andrus said, in effect, that the taxes were there.

So the people went to the polls. Samuelson lost because he failed to get the "city" vote in such places as Boise, Twin Falls, Caldwell, Lewiston and Nampa. He would never have received the nod in some of the communities named but, of all places, he should have taken Twin Falls and Boise. He should have taken Ada and Twin Falls counties by easy margins. Rather he lost in Ada county (which startled everyone) and just slid by in Twin Falls county. The same margin of winning over Andrus in 1966, carried into 1970 in these two instances, would have put Samuelson back on the job.

Why didn't he do better in Boise and Twin Falls? There was an anti-Samuelson sentiment. The Republicans, in many instances, were not really behind him. And a tabulation of the votes in 1966 and 1970 proves many Republicans didn't even vote last Tuesday. This year Samuelson won in all Magic Valley counties with the exception of Minidoka and Lincoln. But in every county he won in, the margin was slight. It was just under 600 in Twin Falls County and that was highest. In all the other counties his margin averaged about 222 votes.

There were 3,815 less voters in Magic Valley last Tuesday than in 1966. In Twin Falls county alone the drop in voters over the 1966 total was 2,281. Unofficially in the eight Magic Valley counties Andrus came in with 16,595 against 17,339 for Samuelson.

So, what does this mean? There are many ways to look at it but Republicans cannot now ignore the importance of the city vote. They must listen to what the city dwellers want.

The farm vote in Idaho is still important, of course, but it is in retreat. Even the farmers are becoming "urbanized" in their thinking.

So now Andrus will enter the Statehouse on a platform of promises. Some of them will cost money but a promise was given to not raise taxes. So he must convince the Legislature to dump some "money" programs and substitute the ones he has backed.

And he is looking at Republican controlled units. Will the Republicans go along with his programs? Even those who make a "life" of politics are not sure how Andrus and the Legislature will get along.

We mentioned that farmers are becoming "urbanized" in their thinking. We did not mean that the economy of great sections of Idaho — including Magic Valley — doesn't still depend on the economy of the farmer.

But farm property taxpayers and city property taxpayers are together in believing they carry too much of the tax load. Many of the programs backed by Andrus during the campaign will require money. Without it they cannot get off the ground.

This brings us back to a week ago today. When the votes were counted there really hadn't been much change. Samuelson was voted out and Andrus was voted in. The attorney general, the only official in the Statehouse who enthusiastically supported Samuelson, was also out.

Now the success of the Andrus program rests on the shoulders of the Legislature. Many of the Republican members didn't support Samuelson or just gave a sort of "lip service" support.

Will these Republicans now support the Andrus program? Some politicians say the programs will be backed, some say they will not.

Only time — and the Republican members of the Legislature — will have that answer.

REWRITE MAN

ANDREW TULLY

Reagan's The Boy

WASHINGTON — Forget for a moment the significance in other areas of last Tuesday's elections. The big story, as transmitted to this column, by one of California Gov. Ronald Reagan's top aides, is that the former movie-star-turned-vote-getter "absolutely" will challenge Richard Nixon for the 1972 Republican nomination for President.

As reported by this aide, Reagan never accepted the thesis that Nixon was a shoo-in for the '72 nomination. The grounds for the governor's position was that Nixon barely won a squeaker over Hubert Humphrey in 1968 and thus lacked a "personality base." At any rate, the word is that even before the Tuesday voting Reagan had decided to make the White House race two years hence.

Reagan's entry in the presidential sweepstakes makes for an interesting situation. With Nixon and Reagan vying for the relatively conservative delegates, it is a good bet that New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who easily won an unprecedented fourth term, will be in there wooing the liberals and moderates among the GOP.

Into such a three-man contest, Reagan and Rockefeller would bring the Republican support of the biggest and second-biggest state in the country. Each could reasonably feel that this would give him a head start. If it matters, Nixon would be the youngest candidate. He'll be 59 in January, 1972. Reagan will be 61, and Rockefeller will be 64. It probably doesn't matter in this age of the vigorous over-sixties.

What all this means for Richard Nixon is that during the next two years he must deliver on two national issues — inflation and the Viet Nam war. He must deliver yesterday, as it were, on inflation. On the war issue, he must have all but a token number of American troops out of Indochina by Convention time, 1972.

It is true, of course, that the election results produced a victory of sorts for the Nixon administration. That is to say, the Republicans avoided the heavy losses that have been the traditional lot of the party in power in off-year voting. Nixon gained some GOP seats in the Senate, plus Conservative

James Buckley in New York and Independent Harry Byrd, Jr., in Virginia, both of whom will vote Republican on major issues.

But this "victory" was tarnished by the fact that Nixon and Vice President Agnew staged such a massive campaign in behalf of their candidates. The President would look much better if he hadn't tried so hard.

Moreover, besides holding control of Congress, the Democrats took control from the Republicans of a majority of the governorships. Considering that before last Tuesday, the GOP held 32 State houses to 18 for the Democrats, this was a crushing Republican defeat.

Drug Abuse

You can't dignify a hoophead by pretending he or she is representative of a new "drug culture."

When all the highfalutin' semantics have been sifted, anybody hooked on any dope is a piteous creature. And since most such habits have to be financed by crime, each is a menace to the rest of us.

While parents everywhere sit around chewing their fingernails up past the second knuckle worrying about "junior surrounded by junkies," parents and officials in one city have closed ranks and counterattacked. You can, too.

In Phoenix, Ariz., the usual narcotics problems are compounded by the presence of a large university, a large Latin population and the comparative nearness of the Mexican border.

So in 1969, after narcotics arrests had doubled in one year, they formed a civic organization called the Community Organization for Drug Abuse Control, known as CODAC. Sponsored by the county medical society, CODAC has become a competent coordinating agency for half a hundred local organizations eager to do something but needing expert guidance.

It includes the local mental health people and the Salvation Army, the newspapers and the Junior League, the "Y," and the hospitals; even a group called Fathers Anonymous, businessmen whose children have already stumbled into the nightmare world of narcotics.

Collectively, all these concerned citizens, through CODAC, have been able to pick the best brains available on what can and should be done and then mobilize those who can do it.

Thus, in less than two years, CODAC has brought together facilities, funds, manpower and knowhow for the massive countywide counterattack.

First, education and prevention.

Second, treatment and rehabilitation.

Third, training and research. Perhaps never have the resources of an entire county been mobilized with more unanimity of purpose.

Volunteer counselors from high schools visit grade school classrooms to discuss glue sniffing and marijuana.

The subtle side effect of these once-a-month visits is to show grade schoolers that not all high schoolers are smoking pot — and why not.

Strategically located "referral centers" are manned by former drug users, there to "talk down" some drug abuser who's on a "bad trip" or to arrange emergency medical treatment.

Halfway houses are established near hospitals where a drug addict can recoup in a protected environment. Psychological counseling and group therapy are available.

And one subcommittee of CODAC encourages and assists improved law enforcement aimed at putting the pushers away.

Older Relative

(First in a series of three articles)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My mother is 74 and suffering from cerebral arteriosclerosis. I would like to know just what the future holds for someone suffering with this disease in duration, effect of diet and rest, etc.

My mother is under a doctor's care and on anti-depressant's and tranquilizers, as well as a sleeping capsule. The doctor has so many patients, and since her dismissal from a state hospital he has no contact with her. As an out-patient, she sees whatever doctor is in charge when she goes back.

My mother was stricken with this condition about seven months ago. At least that was the first time we were aware of it. — Mrs. E. F. D.

Taking care of the elderly parent or other relative whose mind has started to slip or is becoming "senile" is one of the "newer" problems that we have to contend with.

I warn you now: I'm not going to give any quick, simple answer today. It isn't that kind of a problem: I'm going to go on writing about this situation tomorrow — and will take it up again in future columns, because it isn't a simple, easy-to-answer matter, and I don't pretend to have all the answers. I may have a few, but like pollution, over-population, and the cost of living, this problem isn't one that is easy to solve. Solve it we will. But not in a hurry.

There are old folks of 80 who are as sharp as they were at 18 (although maybe a bit "sot in their ways").

There are others, a few even at 50 or 60, who forget, won't eat, are perpetually gloomy, don't make sense, can't sleep (or else sleep too much), don't hear well, change disposition, go wandering off and don't know how to get home. All sorts of things.

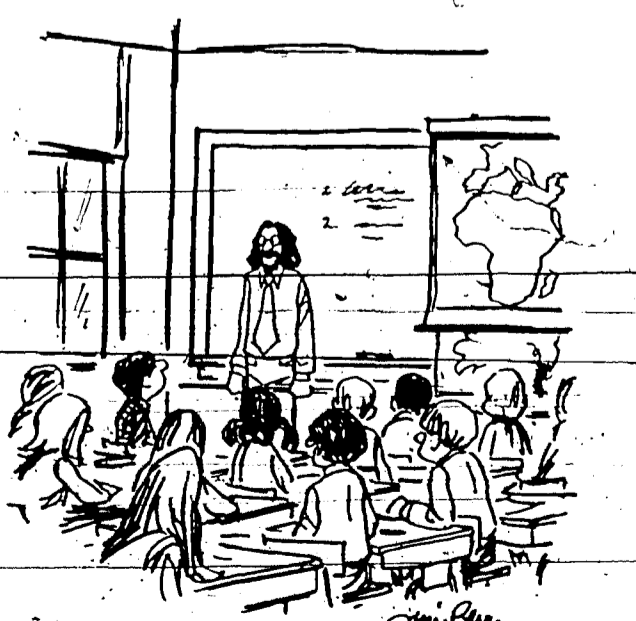

We can dismiss all of these as a result of "becoming senile." We can hope that somebody will give us a pill or a potion that will cure everything.

Or we can be a little smarter, and recognize that not all of these failings of "getting old" are from the same causes. For they are not.

We can also say they are "behavioral disorders." They are, of course. Some of our oldesters don't behave the way we would wish them to. But that's just dumping the whole problem into the same grab-bag. And all of the "behavioral problems" of the old folks don't fall into the same category any more than the various "behavioral problems" of our youngsters do.

More on this tomorrow.

BERRY'S WORLD

1974 Is Next

Idaho voters will elect a Governor again in 1974. The Republicans will be trying to get back into the Statehouse. There is a good possibility that the candidate on the Republican ticket in that year will be from Magic Valley. Could be he might even be from Twin Falls, Cecil Andrus, of course, will be the Democratic standard bearer. So the Republicans? We believe the GOP candidate will either be Ray Lincoln or Richard S. High from Twin Falls, or Pete Cenarrusa from Carey. All have experience, personality and talent. It's been a long time since we have had a "local" citizen in the Governor's chair. We think 1974 will be the year and that Mr. Lincoln, Mr. High or Mr. Cenarrusa will be Idaho's man.

SGT. AND MRS. DEE W. JENSEN (Shig Morita photo)

KIMBERLY — Cynthia Mae Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garth Morrill, became the bride of Sgt. Dee W. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Jensen, Idaho Falls, in rites Oct. 23 at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple. President Roy Wood of Idaho Falls performed the ceremony. The bridegroom's parents were hosts at a buffet luncheon at their home for all friends and relatives of the wedding party. That evening, a reception was held honoring the couple at the Kimberly LDS Cultural Hall. The bride wore a Bridal Original gown, fashioned with scalloped Chantilly lace forming a coat effect over a full-sleeved empire "A" line satapeau gown. The dress had a high bonded neckline. A venise lace bandeau and lace flowers held her elbow-length nylon illusion veil. Attending the bride were Mrs. Roger Dohse, Mrs. Morgan Powell, Susan Jensen and Donna Morrill. Sgt. Larry McClean, San Antonio, Tex., served as best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Doyle, Brent and Terry Morrill. Robyn Morrill and Lori Ann Jensen served as gift bearers. Mrs. Jack Mortenson, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book and gifts were displayed by Mrs. Doyle Morrill, Mrs. Brent Morrill and Mrs. Paul Harems. Cake and punch were served by aunts of the bride, Mrs. Evera Morgan, Mrs. Asael Dilworth and Mrs. Reed Johnson, and aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Russell Jensen and Mrs. John Morgan. They were assisted by Mrs. Floyd Stanger, Mrs. Joe Urie, Mrs. Kimber Glenn, Necia Jensen and Emma Ashmead. The four-tiered wedding cake carried out the bride's color scheme, decorated with fresh roses, white chrysanthemums and baby's breath. Special guests were grandparents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Sessions, Heyburn, and grandfather of the bride, Rupert Morrill, Kimberly. The couple took a honeymoon trip to Salt Lake City, and reside in San Antonio where the bridegroom is serving with the Air Force. Pre-nuptial showers honoring the bride were given by Fawn Dilworth, Cynthia Johnson and Betty Ann Morrill, and a bridal shower breakfast in the Rogerson Colonial Room, with friends of the bride who are employed at Kellwood Co. as hosts.

Valley iris group announces officers

TWIN FALLS — Officers were installed when members of the Magic Valley Iris Society met for a luncheon meeting Saturday at the Depot Grill Caboose Room. Mrs. Floyd Bandy was installing officer. Officers installed include Mrs. Al Kramer, Castleford, president; Mrs. Glen Thietten, Twin Falls, vice president; Mrs. Al Toberer, Buhl, secretary; Mrs. T.D. Dierksen, Buhl, treasurer; and Mrs. Al Hankins, Twin-Falls, reporter. Members of the board of directors include Mrs. Bandy, Twin Falls; Mrs. Glenn Draper, Burley; Mrs. P.T. Tomlinson, Jerome; and Mrs. B. Leth Buhl. Mrs. Kramer was in charge of the business meeting and read a poem, "A Gardener's Thanksgiving Prayer." She also showed slides from various iris growers from the Kulu Gardens in England. The society chose "Chinese Coral" for the 1973 iris and members answered roll call with their favorite iris. Mrs. Ed Conrad was a guest. A discussion was held regarding a tour of iris gardens in Salt Lake City or Wenatchee, Wash., instead of a flower show in the spring. Buhl will host the society for the March meeting, with the location to be announced.

RALPH OLMSTEAD, Twin Falls, right, secretary-treasurer of the Idaho Beef Council, hands a $3,260 check to Dr. Auttis Mullins, head of University of Idaho's animal industries department, for the new program that will assist all segments of the livestock and meat industry in Idaho.

New livestock program begun

MOSCOW — The University of Idaho and Idaho livestock industries are cooperating in a program that will provide assistance to all segments of the livestock and meat industry, reports Dr. Auttis Mullins, head of the university's department of animal industries and John McBoyle, Grangeville, chairman of the Idaho Beef Council. Part of the university's cooperation involved establishing a new position for an extension meats specialist, who is located at the Caldwell Branch Experiment Station. The specialist, Dr. John Miller, has begun working. He is responsible for an educational and research program that will give livestockmen information on production and carcass evaluation; industry representatives information on processing and merchandising, and consumers information on meat and meat products. As part of their research activities, Ralph Olmstead, Twin Falls, secretary-treasurer of the Idaho Beef Council, presented the university with a check for $3,260.00 from the council, to help finance the research phase of this program.

Dairy disease meeting set

JEROME — Ida Gem Dairyman, Inc., will have a dairy herd health meeting at 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday for all interested Jerome County dairyman, according to Bill Priest, Jerome County extension agent. The meeting is sponsored by the Idaho Dairy Products Commission, the extension service of the University of Idaho and the Idaho Veterinary Association. Dr. Samuel Guss, extension veterinarian, will speak on several Idaho dairy health problems. Joe Hall, secretary of the Idaho Dairy Products Commission, will review operations of the commission for the past year. Dr. Richard Hall, Idaho extension veterinarian, will speak on several Idaho dairy health problems. Dr. Guss is considered a leading authority on dairy health, Priest said. For many years he has been involved in

Grangers will bus to Boise

TWIN FALLS — Area Grangers wishing to ride a chartered bus to Boise to the National Grange Convention on Friday should call Bob Rowe or Glenn Dossett, Twin Falls. The bus will leave about 5:15 p.m. Friday and return about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. A community pinocle party will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 20 at the Knoll Community Hall. Visitors and Grangers are welcome. Grangers are asked to bring a pie and a wrapped white elephant.

Other livestock groups have agreed to contribute to this program also. In addition, a small service charge will be made to producers utilizing some specialized equipment such as the ultrasonic device for estimating carcass characteristics in the live animal.

T.F. and Hazelton girls top district wool contest

BURLEY — District No. 3 Make-It-Yourself-With-Wood contest was held Saturday at the Ramada Inn. Counties in District No. 3 are Cassia, Camas, Blaine, Elmore, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls.

Janice Louise Cook, senior at Twin Falls High School, was selected senior division winner and Melva Goodwin, a junior at Minico High School and Hazelton resident, was the junior division winner.

Alternates selected were Connie Glauner, Gooding, senior division, and Robin H. Carle, Twin Falls, junior division.

Miss Cook and Miss Goodwin will represent District No. 3 in the state competition Nov. 15 through at the Ponderosa Inn. Winners in the state competition will represent Idaho in the national event Jan. 19 in Las Vegas, Nev.

A three-piece pant suit was made and modeled by Miss Cook. The navy blue sleeveless jacket was accented with silver buttons and a small silver chain, with matching navy blue pants. A long sleeved lavender blouse completed her suit.

Miss Goodwin made and modeled a dress featuring a cream-tan bodice with long full sleeves, wide pleated skirt of brown tweed and matching tweed neck scarf.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Cook, Twin Falls, are the parents of Miss Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Goodwin, Hazelton, are the parents of Miss Goodwin.

The two top winners will receive expense-paid trip to the state competition.

Kelli Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, Paul, was the winner in the sub-deb division. Other contestants in the sub-deb division were Sarah Elaine Wright, Hailey, and Hannah Perkins, Buhl.

Contestants in the junior division included MarJean Marie Brown, Rolinda Jo Wright and Terry Davies, all Hailey; Beth Ferlic and Debbie Spann, both Burley; Norma Jean Ralls, Richfield, and Shery Morris, Tuttle.

Senior division contestants included Vickie Peterson and Valaune Peterson, both Wendell; Jane Butler, Bliss; Sheila Wynne Bessire, Murtaugh; Donna Dianne Ashcraft, and Kristi Beazer, both Rupert; Barbara Jo Vernon, Hailey, and Sheryl A. Johnson, Jerome.

Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, Paul, welcomed the group and introduced Mrs. Glenn McBride, Rupert, who served as narrator for the fashion show.

Mrs. Domingo Egullior, Paul, presented the awards.

Judges were Mrs. James Martin, Burley, and Mrs. Ben Eldredge and Mrs. Mike Quesnell, both Twin Falls.

Committees included Mrs. Robert Schrenk, Paul, and Mrs. Roger Ling, Rupert, chaperones for contestants; Mrs. John Garro, Rupert; and Mrs. W. D. Taylor, tea table and centerpiece, and Mrs. Roger Oxarango, Rupert, registration.

Make-It-Yourself-With-Wood is presented by the American Wool Council, the Idaho Woolgrowers' Association and Idaho Woolgrowers Auxiliary.

Mrs. Egullior and Mrs. Patterson are the district directors.

Donors pass quota set blood record

TWIN FALLS — Community residents here made it a happy second anniversary yesterday for the local American Red Cross blood committee by setting a new record in blood donations. The day marked two full years of exceeding the blood quota.

Dave Nelson, chairman, said 240 pints of blood were donated, the highest since the area began reaching its quota two years ago this month. The quota is 150 pints. Ironically, Nelson said, the second highest amount was 233 pints received just two years ago, November, 1968. Earl Haroldson was honorary drive chairman.

There were 153 pints of replacement blood, which the chairman said indicates people are concerned and appreciate the blood service enough to request their friends and relatives to replace what they have received.

Another factor, the chairman said, was the large number of young people, many of them CSI students, who donated. Plans are being made to hold a separate drawing at the college in the near future.

Volunteers who worked at the center said the community cooperation was outstanding and workers were able to handle the large number of donors with ease as they came in steady numbers throughout the day rather than filling the American Legion Hall at peak periods.

Numerous organizations participated in the drawing and there were two donors reaching the five gallon mark. These were George Nye and Kenneth Hulbert. Four gallon donor was Curtis Smith, with one gallon donors including Joseph Marshall, Gerald Williamson, Dale Molesworth, Frank Braman, Mrs. Virginia Butler, Fred Schaefer and Jay W. Eubanks.

Organization donors included Elks Club, 22 pints; LDS Church, 24; LDS Institute, 9; Methodist Church, 5; Sears, 3; Valley Christian Church, 1; Masons, Kiwanis, Penn-Wise

Drug, Lutheran Church and Granges, 3 pints each; Quality Roofers, Presbyterian Church, St. Edwards Church, 4 pints each; Idaho Power, 7, and Salvation Army, 3.

Volunteers working included Mrs. Max Crothers, Mrs. Ed Harper, Mrs. Leslie Jones, Mrs. Craig Rousseau, Mrs. Howard Miits, Mrs. Leo Campeau, Mrs. Elson Basom, Mrs. Dale Kunkel, Mrs. Emma Bothwell, Mrs. Gary Nelson, Mrs. Eldred Taylor, Mrs. W. J. Lanting, Mrs. Glenn Nelson, Mrs. Pat Stradley, Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. Roni Kloefer, Elizabeth Riley, Mrs. C. M. Lanting, Pat Stradley and Mrs. Elmer Hagerty.

Licensed practical nurses helping included Mrs. Esther Moore, Mrs. Wendell Gloystein, Mrs. Evelyn Atwood and Mrs. William Baker. Registered nurses were Mrs. Luther Thompson, Mrs. Cliff Malone, Mrs. Kenneth Given, Mrs. Charles Schabacker, Mrs. Russell Peitz, Mrs. Lucretia McVey, Mrs. T. Phillips, Mrs. Fred Byrne, Mrs. Lucy Boughton and Mrs. Harley Hammond.

Orange juice and milk was furnished by the Jaycettes and the hall was donated by Jaycees. Haus Fraus Club furnished cheese and crackers and cookies were furnished by Omicron and Beta Sigma Phi sororities. Gem State Paper contributed cream and sugar and DeMolay members who helped with loading and unloading equipment included Eddie Heitz, Fred Ihler, Byran Hawkins, and Bruce Turner.

LT. COL. HUTCHINSON

Veterans day rites at school

TWIN FALLS — Mountain Home Air Force Base's vice commander will speak Wednesday morning at the Twin Falls High School during Veterans Day ceremonies.

Lt. Col. Douglas W. Hutchinson, vice commander of the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Group, will appear at the school assembly at 10:30 a.m. and will be introduced by Lt. Col. L. James Koutnik, Twin Falls, representing the 9430th Air Force Reserve.

Col. Hutchinson, a native of Seattle, has been stationed at Mountain Home since November, 1968. He has been in the Air Force since 1953 and has been stationed in Japan and Korea.

A 1952 graduate of the University of Washington, he completed Air Force training in 1956 at Ellington Air Force Base, Tex., and was a crew member on the B-52s before checking out as a navigator in the RF-4C aircraft.

In addition to overseas assignments, Col. Hutchinson has spent a one-year tour of duty at Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Vietnam. During his stay there he compiled an impressive record and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and 12 Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal.

Landfill payment approved

TWIN FALLS — Approval of final payment to the former city sanitation contractor, Elden Corp., was reported Monday by City Manager Jean Milar, following a Monday inspection of the old city landfill.

Milar said the contract with the former hauler was completed Oct. 1, but final payment was held back pending complete clean up of the landfill site near the airport.

He said an inspection indicated the trenches have been filled, the final trash covered and land leveled, permitting the city to release the firm from further obligation.

Milar said the city's airport staff will do some further leveling and preparing the ground for planting of crested wheat grass, to remove any evidence of the landfill use. The area is now completely used and has been vacated for any further landfill use with the new landfill eight miles south of the city now serving area residents.

Missing youths return

GOODING — Two local youths who spent Sunday night in their pickup truck stranded between Gooding and Bliss, returned to Gooding about noon Monday.

The boys, Clay Collins, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins, and Steve Davis, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Davis, left Sunday to go duck and pheasant hunting. When they failed to appear, a search was launched by sheriff's officers.

Richfield sets rites Wednesday

RICHFIELD — The Veteran's Day observance at Richfield will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Richfield High School auditorium.

Herbert Love, Shoshone World War I veteran, will be the speaker. Delmar Hardy, commander of the Richfield American Legion, announced readings will be given by two Richfield speech class students.

Blaine board approves record microfilm plans

By LIZ BOLTON Times-News Correspondent
HAILEY — Blaine County commissioners have decided to join 32 other counties in the state by installing a microfilming program for the county's filing system.

The decision was made Monday during the regular meeting of the board. Bids for the equipment will be opened Dec. 14.

Representatives of the 3-M Co. explained their program to the county, and estimated the total cost of the installation at about $10,000 plus supplies.

George McCoy, county clerk, said the new system will not require any additional help and could be purchased on a lease-sale agreement over a period of years.

The commissioners agreed to pay a third down and the remainder over two years, with the system to be operational by Jan. 1, 1971.

Also during the December meeting, the board will review bids for the county's ambulance service. The county is presently serviced by Keith Bird, who recently requested a county subsidy of $500 a month to defray cost of the system.

The service will be effective as of the first of the year. Members of the local mental health clinic met with the board Monday to review the clinic's services and stipulations of the contract which is expiring. The representatives told the board that the clinic is handling a case load of nearly 300 a year and that about half of the referrals are from the school system.

Brooke Finley, local mental health nurse on duty at the clinic, said she is arranging for various speakers in the county on the drug problem with an eye toward prevention rather than cure.

Final plans for the Bullion Street Bridge in Hailey were approved with bidding to be done the middle of next year, according to Commissioner John Fox. The bridge will cost an estimated $30,000, and will be financed 60 per cent through the federal aid secondary road fund.

A notice was received from the Law Enforcement Planning Commission that the county's request for $2,634 in federal funds and $439 in state liquor funds for a base station and a mobile radio and $501 in federal funds and $83 in state liquor funds for two walkie talkies for the sheriff's department has been approved.

The funds will not be available, however, until the purchases are to be made. The radios are to replace the existing ones to comply with the new state frequencies.

The commissioners also heard a report that 31 households consisting of 71 individuals used the county's food stamp program during the past month.

Approved a subdivision plat plan for the Deer Creek subdivision presented by Bill Butler pending improvement of the roads.

BURLEY — Members of the Burley Chamber of Commerce, meeting Monday noon at Bryan's Cafe, viewed a film, "Union Pacific — Heartline of Idaho."

The film, shown by Bill Hendricks, and Samuel Gracen, Union Pacific representatives, related the story of the Union Pacific Railroad from its beginning to present day operation in Idaho.

Chamber president Ernest Blauer announced there will be no meeting next Monday because of the annual Farmer-Business night banquet Nov. 19. The banquet will be at the Ponderosa Inn convention center. An outstanding farmer and an outstanding businessman will be named.

Tickets for the banquet are available at the chamber office.

He said the parking area, located above the Magic Mountain Ski area, was built this summer but has not been gravelled.

Fees paid by snowmobile owners as registration costs are accumulated much as boat license fees, and returned to the counties for use in developments to serve snowmobile owners.

merchandise prizes will be given during the month.

Merchants committee members reported plans for this year's Christmas promotion. A drawing will again be held on four Saturdays beginning at 2 p. m. the Saturday following Thanksgiving.

Santa Claus will be on hand to turn on the lights in the city. Prizes will also be given again for individual lighting around the community. Idaho Power Co. will contribute an electrical appliance for first place, the chamber $15 for second, and the Wood River Journal, $10 for third.

Also during the chamber meeting, Leo Stavros moved the chamber ask the city council to encourage the group to clean up Main Street. He noted the street had not been swept in several months and felt the situation should be remedied.

Martindale reported that the Sawtooth Snowmobile Club's plans for the development of about 600 acres west of Hailey for a race track are well under way, with a survey recently completed. A lease agreement is being worked out with the BLM, owners of the land.

Members were also reminded of the installation dinner tonight for the new officers. The dinner will begin at 7 p. m. with a no-host social hour at the Hawatha.

Valley rites planned

EDEN-HAZELTON — Valley High School will present a Veterans' Day program at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Students will participate in group singing of patriotic numbers and the high school band under the direction of David Follingstad, will play several numbers.

The main speaker will be Dean Pennington, a CSI student and former Boys' State citizen. Other boys' and girls' state citizens also will participate.

The invocation will be given by Rev. Bill Hiser of Hazelton. The honor guard will be composed of veterans from the Navy, Army, Air Force, Marines and a Boy Scout.

At 11 a.m., taps will be sounded in memory of the dead and the signing of the Armistice which ended the war in 1918. The public is invited. Hot lunch to be served following the program will have a patriotic touch.

Roads wet in valley

SHOSHONE — Roads throughout the Magic Valley are generally wet, the state highway department district office at Shoshone reports.

It rained most of Monday and throughout the night. Roads are mostly dry in the Burley-Rupert area and to the Utah state line on Interstate 80N, the office reports.

Icy spots are reported at Galena, Challis, Willow Creek and Craters of the Moon, with some fog in the craters area.

Youth fined

BURLEY — Marlow D. Jones, 18, entered a plea of guilty Monday to tampering with a motor vehicle. He was fined $50 by acting Police Judge Afton Buckley. Police said the youth let the air out of tires on a patrol vehicle when it was on an emergency call Halloween night.

Head Start cut studied

TWIN FALLS — The Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) for Head Start in the Jerome, Cassia and Twin Falls counties will meet Monday to determine how a seven and one-half per cent fund cut should be stripped from area Head Start programs.

Jake Reichhard, Jerome, president of the South Central Community Action Agency board of directors, said the PAC must meet before the board meets in regular session Nov. 19. The PAC had requested that each Head Start program in the tri-county area receive a straight seven and one-half per cent cut, but the South Central board did not set budgets up that way, Reichhard said. The federal budget for Head Start has been trimmed by seven and one-half percent.

An agreement between the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Office of Economic Opportunity stipulates that the PAC has the final say on the Head Start program unless the tri-county board wants to kill the program, according to Larry Mack, SCCAA director.

This information, Mack said, became known after the two boards acted on the Head Start programs.

Mack said the community action work program, which has been under fire by some members of the tri-county board, probably will be discussed at the meeting of the 19th. Mack has been requested by the tri-county board to resign his position, but to date has not done so.

Crash in rain injures pair

HOLLISTER — One man was hospitalized with fractured ribs and other multiple injuries and another was treated for severe head lacerations and released following a two car collision Monday night during heavy fog and rain. The accident occurred at 5:05 p.m. one mile west and one and one-half south of the Berger store.

Deputy Sheriff Eddis Lammers said Walter D. Smith, 67, Twin Falls, was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital with fractured ribs and other injuries. He was reported in fairly good condition Tuesday. His vehicle was traveling north on a county road when it collided at an unmarked intersection with one driven by LeMar Andreason, Route 1, Twin Falls. The officer said the accident occurred about a half mile from the Andreason home. He said, heavy fog and rain and a rise in the roadway near the intersection probably prevented either driver from having a clear view.

The Smith vehicle was demolished and damage to the Andreason auto was also extensive. Officer Lammers said Andreason was thrown from his vehicle and was unconscious until just before officers arrived. Several stitches were taken to close a gash in his forehead and he was released to his home.

T.F. officials join workshop

TWIN FALLS — Workshop sessions covering provisions of the court reform legislation in Idaho attracted a large number of Twin Falls officials, clerks and legal stenographers to Boise, Harold Lancaster, county clerk said today.

The conference was held Saturday in the Rodeway Inn, Boise, with Lancaster as one of the conference instructors, covering the duties of court clerks and county clerk staffs under the new system. He also presented the new schedule of court fees and the accounting system for these which was developed in Twin Falls County by Lancaster. District Judge Theron Ward and Probate Judge Eugene McCoy. This was adopted by the Idaho Supreme Court for statewide uniform accounting under the new court system.

Members of Lancaster's staff, court reporters and clerks, attorneys and their legal stenographers from the local area attended. About 400 persons from throughout the state participated. Lancaster said two other conferences with the same staff of instructors are planned in Moscow and Pocatello later this month.

Youth said improved

KETCHUM — Steve Potter, 17, was listed in improved condition today at Sun Valley Hospital from what was believed to be a reaction to an unspecified medication.

Ketchum police said the youth has been in a coma since Sunday morning. When he failed to awaken at his home, he was taken to the hospital. Police said they questioned the youth Saturday night on suspicion of liquor consumption, but no charges were filed and he was released.

Ketchum police are investigating.

Manning may be throwing again within 10 days

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The doctor who operated Monday on Archie Manning said the Ole Miss quarterback could be throwing a football again in 10 days and possibly playing again in time for the Rebels' crucial game against LSU on Dec. 5.

Asking that his name not be used, the physician said he used a new type compression plate on the broken bone in Manning's left forearm, raising the possibility of new life for Manning's collegiate football career. Manning passes right-handed.

Earlier, the same doctor had said recovery from such fractures usually took three months, meaning Manning would be unavailable for the remainder of the regular season and the bowl season.

Many observers believe the Southeastern Conference championship will be decided in the game between Mississippi and LSU and most had shifted the favorite's role to the Louisiana school following the fracture of Manning's arm in Saturday's game against Houston.

The doctor said the flame-haired quarterback from tiny Drew, Miss., was resting comfortably in his hospital bed on the eighth floor of the Baptist Hospital here with his arm encased in plastic.

He said the break was in the large bone in the left forearm, about three or four inches above the wrist. He said Manning would be able to return to classes at Oxford in a week or 10 days.

Manning, who checked into the hospital Sunday, was wheeled from his room to the operating theater at 7:45 a.m. CST and returned to his room three hours later.

"It couldn't be my neck or something," said Manning, his spirit obviously still intact.

In his three seasons as the starting quarterback for Ole Miss, Manning has managed to avoid serious injury as he fashioned winning seasons and surpassed the records of other Rebel stars such as Charley Conerly and Jake Gibbs.

The break occurred early in the third period—Saturday as Mississippi battled a gritty Houston Cougar defense. Manning had passed for two touchdowns late in the first period—enough to give Ole Miss the momentum it needed for the 24-13 victory over the World Cup tourney Thursday

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Two of golfdom's young lions—Tony Jacklin and Lee Trevino—flew into town Monday as an army of attendants manuevered the Jockey Club course into shape for the 1970 World Cup tournament starting Thursday. Jacklin, winner of the British and U.S. Opens this year, is teamed with Peter Butler for England in the prestigious event and Trevino will represent the United States with PGA champion Dave Stockton, who arrived on Sunday. Stockton predicted "we should win it." The outspoken long ball hitter said that the course was made for him and Trevino, "especially with the way Lee has been playing lately." Trevino teamed with Orville Moody to win the tourney in Singapore last year.

Among other favored teams are Australia (Bruce Devlin-David Graham), South Africa (Allan Henning-Harold Henning), Canada (Al Balding-Bob Cox Jr.), Japan (Takaaki Kono-Haruo Yasuda) and Nationalist China (Hsieh, Yung-Yo—Hsieh Min-Nam).

Wilund tabbed by Vandals

MOSCOW (UPI)—Jim Wilund, senior tight end from Coeur d'Alene, was named today as the Idaho Vandal offensive player of the week for his work in last Saturday's 27-17 win over the Weber State Wildcats at Pullman, Wash.

Wilund pulled down five passes for 70 yards and one touchdown during the afternoon. That touchdown, on a 13-yard pass over the middle from quarterback Steve Olson, proved the winner for the Vandals.

Defensive honors for the game went to middle linebacker Ron Linehan who made 14 unassisted tackles and put constant pressure on both Wildcat quarterbacks.

Fred Riley, who only played in the second half, received the Vandal award for general excellence. Riley, who spent all last week in the infirmary with an abscessed tooth, slipped between Wildcat defenders for 124 yards in 16 carries. He also caught five passes for 32 yards in sparring the Vandals to their third consecutive win of the season.

Aleindor retains NBA lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lew Alcindor, the Milwaukee Bucks' 7-foot, 2-inch scoring machine, just keeps getting better and better and that's bad news for anybody else seeking the National Basketball Association's individual scoring crown.

The latest statistics compiled by the Elias Sports Bureau revealed today that Alcindor is piling up the same sort of scoring lead that Wilt Chamberlain used to enjoy in his younger days.

Acindor now leads the NBA scoring with 273 points in eight games for a 34.1 average, far ahead of the 29.6 average compiled by John Havlicek of the Boston Celtics in 13 games. Elvin Hayes of San Diego ranks third with a 28.5 average and Jerry West of Los Angeles is fourth with a 28.2 average.

Acindor also leads the circuit in field goal percentage with a .621 mark on 105 field goals on 169 attempts. Terry Dischinger of Detroit is second with a .583 percentage on 56 connections on 96 attempts.

without success in the third period and had just released his second—also incomplete—when he was hit and fell to the ground.

Foster, the light-heavyweight king, and heavyweight title holder Frazier meet in Cobo Arena Nov. 18 for boxing's biggest crown. Frazier is a heavy favorite.

"I'll pick Foster to win," the trim-looking Louis said. "He is a good puncher and I gotta go with the puncher. Frazier is too easy to hit."

Louis, who held the heavyweight crown longer than anyone else has, fought light-heavyweight champion Billy Conn for the big prize June 18, 1941 at the Polo Grounds in New York.

Louis, behind on points, knocked Conn out in the 13th round. In a rematch five years later at Yankee Stadium, Conn was stopped in eight rounds.

The "Brown Bomber" said he "felt fine" except for a cold. He was to return Monday to his home in Denver, where he recently underwent treatment for an emotional setback. He last visited Detroit in October 1969.

Foster confidently predicted victory for himself within seven rounds.

"A lotta people have been selling this fight short," he said, "there's some long odds that aren't right. I came to Detroit for one reason—to win. There's only one fighter around who can take a man out with a good right hand—me. There's no way it can go seven rounds."

"It's gotta end in a knockout," Louis said. "With those guys, it can't go the distance."

Simpson injury 'sprain'

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Buffalo Bills running back O.J. Simpson, who suffered a "moderate sprain" of the left knee in Sunday's National Football League game against the Cincinnati Bengals, was released Monday afternoon from Buffalo General Hospital.

Simpson spent the night in the hospital after he underwent a multiple X-ray examination under anaesthetic which revealed the injury.

Dr. Joseph Godfrey, the team physician, had originally feared the injury to the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner might have required surgery, but the examination proved the injury was not as serious as first anticipated.

It was not known as to when Simpson will be able to rejoin the club.

Simpson suffered the injury on the final play of the first half in the Bills' 43-14 loss to the Bengals.

Cassius predicts victory

JERSEY CITY (UPI)—Heavyweight boxer Muhammad Ali predicted Monday he will defeat Oscar Bonavena when they fight Dec. 7, but added that Bonavena is no pushover. "I'll run Bonavena back to Argentina," Ali told a questioner after giving a light-hearted speech to an overflow crowd of about 1,600 at Jersey City State College.

Ali, who won the heavyweight championship under the name of Cassius Clay and was stripped of the title when he refused to accept military induction, said also he does not believe in violence, but he understands the frustrations of those who take up arms.

The boxer, accompanied by his wife, Belinda, said he expects to go into training for the Madison Square Garden fight later this week in Miami, after speaking Wednesday at Paterson State College.

Answering questions with verbal agility that more than matched his fancy footwork in the ring, Ali said he wants to retire as the "first champion to get out unmarked."

Irish, Texas share top

NEW YORK (UPI)—Notre Dame and Texas, perennial powerhouses in college football, shared the nation's No. 1 ranking Monday when the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches balloting ended in a tie.

Both teams received 13 first place votes and finished with 310 points each. The Fighting Irish and the Longhorns, who met in the Cotton Bowl after last season, have identical 7-0 records.

Ohio State, also unbeaten in seven games, finished third in the balloting with seven first place votes and 281 points and Nebraska, unbeaten but outced in nine games, was fourth with two first place ballots and 243 points.

Michigan moved past Stanford into fifth place and Auburn jumped up to seventh. Arkansas, Louisiana State and Tennessee completed the top 10.

Arizona State was 11th, followed by Air Force, Mississippi and Dartmouth. Alabama and Southern California were tied for 15th while San Diego State and UCLA were deadlocked for 17th. Toledo was 19th and last.

The tie between Notre Dame and Texas marked the third change in the No. 1 team in the past three weeks without any of the top three losing a game. Ohio State held the top ranking two weeks ago and was displaced by Texas last week after a pair of lackluster performances. Notre Dame moved into the top ranking for the first time this season after Texas had trouble beating Baylor, 21-14, and the Fighting Irish ripped Pittsburgh, 46-14.

Hanneman has Pac-8 honor

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Tackle Craig Hanneman, whose rugged play in the trenches helped Oregon State come from behind to nail California, was chosen Monday as the outstanding defensive performer of the week in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Hanneman executed 12 tackles and led a steady pass rush which hampered the play of Cal quarterback Dave Penhall. The Beavers overcame a 10-0 Cal lead and went on to win 16-10 in last Saturday's game at Corvallis, Ore.

The Oregon State defense limited the Bears to merely 82 net yards on the ground and 99 through the air.

Colts allow score but whip Green Bay 13-10

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Baltimore finally allowed a touchdown Monday night after holding opponents without one for 12 quarters, but the Green Bay effort was too little and too late as the Colts, behind interceptions by Rick Volk and field goals by Jim O'Brien, beat the Packers 13-10.

With Volk leading the way the Colts had stopped Green Bay's aerial game cold until that final drive. To that point, Horn had completed just five of 18 passes for 38 yards. He hit five in a row in the touchdown drive.

Johnny Unitas hit on nine of 17 passes for 125 yards of Baltimore.

T.F.-Minico, Buhl-Jerome games set for Wednesday

The victory ran Baltimore's leading record in the American Conference Eastern Division to 7-1. Green Bay slipped to a 4-4 mark and is in third place in the National Conference Central Division.

The Colts intercepted four of Don Horn's passes with Volk coming up with two of the grabs. Horn played in place of Bart Starr, who was sidelined with a sore arm.

O'Brien hit field goals of 42 and 29 yards in the third quarter to account for the winning margin.

The Colts had driven 80 yards in the second quarter for their only touchdown, which was scored by Jerry Hill on a 15-yard sweep with a pitchout.

Dale Livingston booted a 20-yard first quarter field goal for Green Bay and the Packers drove 70 yards in the closing minutes with Jim Grabowski going the final yard with just 76 seconds to go.

It was the first touchdown scored against the Colts since Oct. 18 when the Jets pushed one across in the third quarter.

Twin Falls and Minico square off for pride and the South Central-Idaho Conference title is at stake for Buhl and Jerome Wednesday afternoon as the four schools play in Veteran's Day clashes in Rupert and Buhl at 1:30 p.m.

The Bruins (3-5-1) come off a last-second 20-17 loss to the second-ranked (AP) Highland Rams and Minico was upset by Idaho Falls 25-20 in Idaho Falls two weeks ago. The Spartans are 3-6 — five of the losses by a total of 16 points.

Buhl must beat the Tigers to claim a share of the SCIC title, while Jerome needs to win to claim sole possession of the crown.

At Rupert it could be a high-scoring affair as both teams have shown rather leaky defenses. Twin Falls is most vulnerable against the pass — but Minico can't throw it that well — and the Spartans have also shown weakness against a good air game.

Statistic-wise, Minico has quarterback Arlen Woodward among the SIC's total-offense leaders with nearly 620 yards on the season. Both Rich Borah of Twin Falls and John Fennell of the Spartans are listed in the top punters — Fennell with a 38.4 average and Borah with 38.0.

Pros take 105-91 win

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Guards Skeeter Swift and Steve Jones scored 20 points each Monday night to lead the Memphis Pros to their fifth consecutive American Basketball Association victory, a 105-91 win over the Texas Chaparrals.

It was the first game back at home in the Mid-South Coliseum for the new Pros who returned from a victorious road trip which elevated them to second place in the ABA's Western Division.

Borah ran extremely well in the Highland game — although he wasn't used all that much — and the Bruins will be helped if ace return man Rocky Reece can field some of Fennell's punts — which have been a big plus for the Spartan defense by putting the opposing offense in the hole.

Minico for the most part will stay with the ground game — giving the ball to backs Reed Nelson and Terry Hayden. But the Spartans' breakthrough threat and game breaker is DeLynn Seamons, who has ran back two kickoffs for touchdowns and is second in the SIC in returns.

Traditional rivals Buhl and the Tigers both come into their game with 5-4 records. From comparative scores Jerome would have the edge but Buhl comes off a big 34-0 Homecoming rout of Filer while the Tigers lost a big one to Wendell 20-12 last week.

Hayes blasts OSU critics

By GENE CADES
UPI Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes, irked by the recent loss of prestige of his third-ranked football team, rose to its defense Monday at his weekly press luncheon.

Speaking to the assembled newsmen, Hayes exclaimed, "If you want to write us off you can, but you can be damn sure the coach won't."

Hayes gave most of his attention to the Buckeye offense and to the running attack — in particular, which totaled only 141 yards in Saturday's 24-7 victory over Wisconsin.

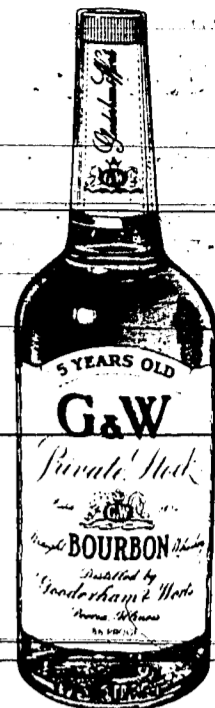

"Out of the 600 teams in the country playing college football," Hayes said, "about 598 of them would be glad to have our running attack, and about 599 would like to have our record."

"Sure we had a bad day rushing Saturday and we had to put the ball in the air too damned much but we'll bounce back."

"Two weeks ago, when the defense had a bad day against Illinois, I went to them and told them to keep their chins up," Hayes continued, "and I'll do the same thing to the offense any damned thing you want, but don't talk down my football players."

ISU meet cancelled

There will be no ISU Booster Club meeting tonight because of a non-arrival of the game film, announced president Bob McElfresh Monday. McElfresh said the films of the Bengals' victory over Portland State had to be sent to Tampa.

Next Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Holiday Inn films of both the Portland State and Tampa games will be shown.

UOP's Read out for year

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI)—John Read of the University of Pacific, the No. 2 college passer in last week's national rankings, rested comfortably Monday after undergoing surgery for torn knee ligaments.

Read, a senior from Berkeley, Calif., will be lost to the Tigers for the remainder of the season. He underwent surgery Sunday after being hurt last weekend in a narrow 14-13 loss to nationally ranked San Diego State.

"We've lost a great quarterback," UOP coach Homer Smith said Monday. "Read was injured on the first series of plays against San Diego State. He was scrambling toward the line, someone grabbed him and twisted him sideways."

Angels eyeing Salt Lake

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI)—An official of the California Angels and two men interested in keeping professional baseball in Salt Lake City discussed the situation Monday but made no firm commitments.

"It may be two weeks, three weeks before we come to a decision, but I suppose it would be at least a week," said Dick Walsh, Angels' general manager.

Walsh met here for about an hour with Art Trece and Herman Franks, former manager of the San Francisco Giants.

"The way it's left, we will talk some more," said Walsh. "We did not make a deal. We simply discussed the Angels' operation, and possibly coming into Salt Lake."

Walsh said no new meetings were scheduled, but said Franks and Trece had returned to Utah and added, "The decision has got to be made from Salt Lake."

Titan squad Returns

DETROIT (UPI)—All 25 of the University of Detroit's basketball players returned to the squad Monday, ending a week of boycotting because they didn't want to play under Coach Jim Harding.

The 16 varsity and nine freshman players emerged from a 45-minute meeting with Harding to begin with first practice since walking out a week ago. The suspension of two players the previous Saturday triggered the boycott.

"We have our opening game three weeks from Tuesday," was all Harding said after the meeting with his players. "We have to get down to work."

The Titans host Hillsdale Dec. 1 to open their 26-game schedule.

"But, it does!" was the immediate reply. "Ifida simply discarded a spade instead of ruffing South's king of diamonds. I'd set the declarer."

"Let the club analyst speak," ordered the president.

The analyst rose slowly, paused for a moment of study and finally delivered his verdict. "A real gem of an Ifida. Ifida been surprised at that unusual play and would have tried to make my contract, but I would have wound up one trick short. Suppose, I led a third diamond. West would ruff and lead a trump. I would win and lead my fourth diamond. West would ruff that also and shift to a club. I would still have a trump in dummy, but there would be no way to use it as an entry and eventually I would lose a club to be one down. All other lines of play would be equally unfortunate."

"I sat West and opened the nine of diamonds. My partner won with the ace and returned the suit. I ruffed South's king and led back the seven-of-trumps."

"South won and led another diamond. I ruffed for our third trick and led the three of clubs. My partner's jack forced South's ace and South led his last diamond and was able to ruff in dummy since all my trumps were gone. Then he led dummy's king of spades and my partner played the ace. Now, all South had to do to make his contract was to draw my partner's last trump; go over to dummy with the king of clubs and discard his losing club on the queen of spades."

"A very nicely played hand," remarked the club president. "I don't quite see how it qualifies for discus-

ARE LAWYERS in general honest? Are they truly dedicated to their professions? When pollsters sampled the public with the foregoing questions, only 35 out of 100 people said yes on both counts. The others just smiled or something... UNDERSTAND the shortage of obstetricians is getting pretty severe. So severe, in fact, the prognosticators figure two out of every five of this country's new mothers within the next six years will give birth unattended by physicians.

SOME FOODS are masculine, some foods are feminine. That's the claim of one expert. Sounds reasonable. Sauerkraut is male, is it not? Avocado salad is female. Macaroni and cheese is male. Creamed chicken is female. Salmon steak is male. Crab Louie is female. Mince and pumpkin pies both are male, lemon meringue and banana cream pies both are female. You try it. What's the gender of corned beef and cabbage? Tomato soup? Roast beef? Artichokes? Polish sausage? Lamb chops?

AM ACQUAINTED with a man who only buys those little hotel-type bars of soap because he can't bear to use a piece of soap more than once. Odd quirk, what? A CLIENT contends his doctor put him on the world's simplest diet, prescribed as follows: "If it tastes good, spit it out."

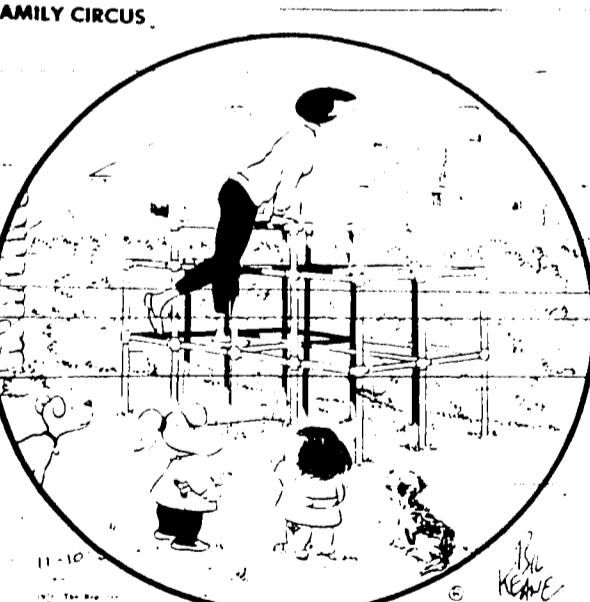

"DID YOU SAY the only natural enemy of the moose is man?" inquires a customer. "Sir, consider the mosquito. At Walker's Fork on the Fortymile River in Alaska, I've seen moose stand for hours antler-deep in the water, dipping their snouts occasionally to wash away the mosquitoes."

THE RETIRED MAN and his ladyfriend have more time to watch television, right? More time, that is, than the young couple newly married. Would think so. But the network researchers say it doesn't work that way. Matrimonial mates over the age of 60 are said to spend considerably fewer hours very week in front of their TV sets than do the husbands and wives who are in their twenties.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q "How many American women now are entirely self-supporting?" A About one in four... Q "How much do the breakfast companies spend on their ads?" A In the neighborhood of 10 per cent of the gross... Q "How much life insurance does the average man carry?" A $18,600, I'm told. That's average among men who carry any at all.

HERE'S TO THE LATE Giovanni Papis, onetime innkeeper at Mendrisio, Switzerland - clink! Years ago as a young fellow, he put on a brown derby hat, and never again took it off. In fact, he was buried in it. And travelers from all over Europe visited Giovanni's Inn. To see such a man. When it comes to public relations, some have the flair, some don't. Giovanni's low-budget campaign was a classic.

PIONEER WOMAN Flyer Amelia Earhart is shown inspecting a map of her famous attempt to fly across the Pacific Ocean. A newly published book, "Amelia Earhart Lives," by Joe Klaas, claims the pilot is alive and living in New Jersey under an assumed name. (UPI)

Amelia lives?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two former Air Force officers published a book Monday claiming Amelia Earhart was captured 33 years ago by the Japanese on a spy mission, survived eight years of captivity and may be living today under the name of Irene Bolam.

Mrs. Irene Bolam of Monroe, N.J., who said she had been a close friend of Miss Earhart, had "no comment" on the book "Amelia Earhart Lives." But she said she would hold a news conference at 3 p.m. EST today after she and her lawyer had a chance to read the book.

Mrs. Bolam moved into the fashionable "Leisure World" apartment complex three years ago and neighbors said she had kept to herself. Mrs. Bolam said her husband, Guy Bolam, died "last spring."

World War II pilot Joe Klaas and retired Air Force Major Joseph Gervais, authors of the book, told a news conference Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, were captured by the Japanese near Huih Island while on a spy mission for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

They said Miss Earhart, who would be 73 today, spent eight years a captive in the imperial palace in Tokyo. The authors said she was released secretly by Emperor Hirohito in 1945 on condition he not be named as a war criminal and that he be allowed to remain in power. They showed a picture slide of a woman bearing a resemblance to Miss Earhart wearing a kimono and said the picture was taken at the imperial palace.

Public relations executive Fred Wittner, who said he had been closely associated with Miss Earhart for two years, called the book a "tremendous fiction" and asked why the authors had not compared Miss Earhart's handwriting with that of Mrs. Bolam with whom they had exchanged written communications. The authors claimed handwriting could change over a period of 33 years. Wittner also said the flier's friend called her "AE," not "Amelia" as written in the book.

Gervais said he met Mrs. Bolam at a flying club gathering on Long Island in 1965 and she bore a striking resemblance to Miss Earhart. At the time, Gervais said Mrs. Bolam was wearing a miniature Distinguished Flying Cross and a major's Oak Leaf Cluster insignia which the famed aviatix was entitled to wear.

Gervais said Mrs. Bolam, who claimed to be an aviation pioneer, did not receive a pilot's license until June 1, 1937 the day Miss Earhart embarked on an around-the-world flight. Gervais said Mrs. Bolam had evaded his attempts to interview her at homes in Jamesburg, N.J., Bedford Village, N.Y., and at an estate belonging to Mr. and Mrs. George J. Salter near Sanford, N.C.

Mrs. Peggy Salter, contacted Monday, had "no comment" to the report she was a friend of Mrs. Bolam's.

The book was published by McGraw-Hill. Klaas is an account executive with ABC Radio in San Francisco and Gervais is liaison officer for the Clark County School District in Los Angeles.

Budget 'tight'

BOISE (UPI) — State Sen. John Mix, D-Moscow, warned Monday Idaho's financial situation "will not allow" increases in the budgets for the state's higher educational institutions equal to those made in recent years.

Mix was a panel member at the 44th All-Idaho congress and said, "The economy is slowing down. New income and any surplus will be hard to come by."

He said the state will increase its aid to local governments to give property tax relief. This will not allow the state higher educational institutions the same percentage increases they have received since the sales tax was enacted in 1965.

During the panel discussion of "Idaho Goals for Higher Education," he praised efforts of the state board of education to obtain a lump sum appropriation within a formula agreed upon by all state colleges and universities.

National Grange master John W. Scott spoke at the luncheon and said preoccupation with "new antipollution efforts could be detrimental to older successful conservation programs by American farmers."

He said the great cry is toward saving the environment. Farmers "do not have the ballot box appeal" anymore to keep the programs in operation.

Air patrol set for Gem

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho State Police plan to follow an Idaho Traffic Safety Commission recommendation an institute an aircraft patrol on a stretch of highway in southern Idaho.

State Police Superintendent L. Clark Hand, Boise, said the patrols, which will begin around the middle of the month, will be operated for a two-month period along Interstate and state highways between Boise and Burley, a distance of about 175 miles.

Hand said the aircraft will fly at various hours throughout the week and will coordinate activities with patrol cars on the highway. He said violators spotted by the aircraft will be cited by troopers on the ground.

Hand said a comparison of arrests and accidents will be made for the pilot program and for the same period in 1969.

Funds for the program will be furnished by the Department of Law Enforcement and the Department of Highways will post signs along the roadway stating an aircraft patrol is in operation.

Traffic Safety Commission members said at their last meeting some "drastic measures" must be taken to reduce highway traffic accidents and resulting deaths and injuries. They recommended aircraft be used to track down violators.

Two legislators on the commission, State Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, and Rep. John Sessions, R-Driggs, chairman of their respective transportation and defense committees, said the pilot program "had merit" and said if results indicate effectiveness the legislature should consider funding a permanent aircraft control.

REPRESENTATIVE William L. Dawson, D-Ill., 84, died of pneumonia in Chicago. He was one of the most powerful Negro politicians in the nation. (UPI)

Black solon dies

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rep. William L. Dawson, the first Negro to hold the chairmanship of a regular major congressional committee, died in Veterans' Research Hospital Monday of pneumonia.

Dawson, at 84 the oldest member of Congress, had represented the First District of Illinois since 1942. Because of illness, he declined to run for renomination in 1970.

A hospital spokesman said Dawson died in his sleep. He had been admitted to the hospital Oct. 24.

"It was a tragic loss of a great American," Democratic Alderman Ralph H. Metcalf, who won election last week to Dawson's seat, said. "His monument was the way he conducted himself in an unselfish manner and the deeds he performed for the benefit of those he served."

Dawson was chairman of the House Committee on Government Operations. The 13-term representative was often referred to as the most powerful black political leader in the country.

A native of Albany, Ga., Dawson graduated from Fisk University and the Northwestern University College of Law. Dawson entered politics as a Republican on the precinct captain level. He was elected a Chicago alderman from 1933 to 1939.

He was defeated in his first bid for Congress on an anti-New Deal platform. Shortly thereafter, Dawson broke with the GOP and switched to the Democratic camp.

In 1942, Dawson made his first successful congressional attempt, this time as a Democrat.

Tate star witness admits lie

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A chief state witness at the Tate murder trial admitted Monday that she lied under oath about her whereabouts during the time of the seven slayings in August, 1969.

Dianne Lake, 17, was confronted on the witness stand with the testimony which she gave before a grand jury in December 1969 saying that she was in the Inyo County area several hundred miles north of Los Angeles at the time of the slayings.

Miss Lake had testified last week that she was at the Spahn ranch in August 1969 and that one of the defendants, Leslie Van Houten, came home on the night of the killing of grocer Leno LaBianca and his wife after staying out all night. She said Miss Van Houten later admitted stabbing bodies after they were dead.

Defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald produced the grand jury transcript and read from it Miss Lake's sworn testimony that she was in Inyo County during that time.

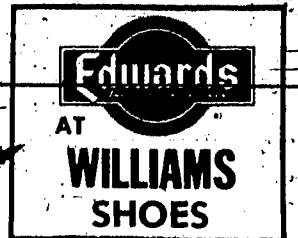

"Was that the truth or was it a lie?" Fitzgerald asked.

"It was a lie," the tiny Miss Lake said quietly.

"You lied under oath to the grand jury, is that correct?"

"Yes."

At the beginning of the session Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older refused to issue an order to permit codefendant Charles Manson to sing in his jail cell. The jurist said he found no regulation prohibiting Manson from singing except after lights were turned out and inmates were sleeping.

LDS leader dies

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Elder Thorpe B. Isaacson, a former member of the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, died early today of a lingering illness. He was 72.

Isaacson, an assistant to the Council of the Twelve and a member of the presiding bishopric, died at 3:45 a.m. in the LDS Hospital. He had been ill for several years after suffering a stroke early in February, 1966. He entered the hospital for the final time two weeks ago Sunday, a spokesman said.

He is survived by his widow, Lula Maughan Jones Isaacson, two children and nine grandchildren.

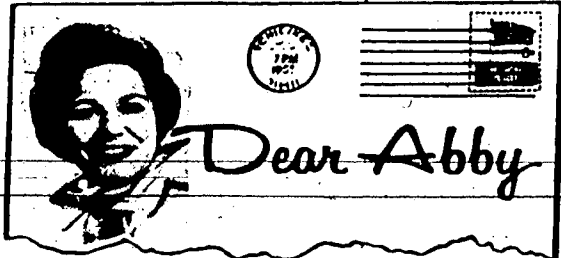

On Oct. 25, 1965, Elder Isaacson was set apart as a counselor in the First Presidency to the late church president, David O. McKay.

He served as an assistant to the Council of the Twelve from September, 1961, until 1965 and resumed the office at the death of President McKay last January.

Isaacson was called as a second counselor to Elder La Grand Richards in the Presiding Bishopric of the church on Dec. 13, 1946. He held that position until April 6, 1952, when he was sustained as first counselor to Presiding Bishop Joseph L. Wirthlin.

He was a member of the Presiding Bishopric until his calling as an assistant to the Council of the Twelve in 1961.

DEAR ABBY: I have a small cottage at the rear of my home which we are renting [at very low rent] to my newly married nephew and his wife. They are both teen-agers. We let them live in it for free for over a month.

The problem is that the second night they were married they invited over another teen-age couple who are not married, and they let them spend the night there.

I told them that I would not object to their having overnight guests providing they were married, but I was not going to stand for their having unmarried kids staying with them all night.

I have children of my own and I do not think it sets a good example for them to see unmarried teens "living" together back there. I realize that if my nephew and his wife approve of that sort of thing, they could invite their friends over and let them do whatever they want—and it wouldn't take all night, but I still think I am right to forbid them to let their unmarried friends stay together all night. Am I wrong?

WILLING TO LISTEN

DEAR WILLING: Not in my book.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend I'll call Mary, whom I have known for years. Mary's two biggest problems are her health and a husband who has abused her in every way possible.

She has seen many specialists, and they all tell her it's "nerves," about which little can be done.

Mary's husband squanders his money off drinking companions and other women, and there have been times when I have had to lend Mary money to feed her family.

Mary calls me and cries every day. She keeps asking, "Should I leave him?" I always give her the same answer, "That's for you to decide." She left him a few months ago, but he talked her into taking him back. Now he treats her worse than ever.

I am ashamed of myself for becoming so unsympathetic, but her phone calls spread a cloud of gloom over my every day. Would it be selfish of me to break off my friendship with Mary entirely? I am very fond of her and need your advice.

SOFT TOUCH

DEAR SOFT TOUCH: By providing your friend with a convenient walling wall, you could be hurting her more than helping her. Mary needs to tell her troubles to an impartial party who is trained in counseling and who is qualified to guide her. (As a friend, you are disqualified.) Help is as near to Mary as her Mental Health Clinic. If you are "fond" of her, insist that she see them. Until she has professional help, her miserable lot will never change.

Vote abstracts filed

BOISE (UPI) — Five of Idaho's 44 counties have filed abstracts of votes cast in the Nov. 3 general election, Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa reported today.

Cenarrusa said Gem was the first of the counties to complete its official canvass and send the results to his office. Others filing abstracts with the secretary include Adams, Elmore, Jerome and Boundary.

The counties were required by law to begin their official canvasses of the election results within three days after the general election. They must be filed with the secretary of state prior to the next meeting of the State Board of Canvassers, scheduled by law for 10 a.m. Nov. 23.
