UAW gets pact

DETROIT (UPI) —United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock today began selling a hard-won tentative contract agreement with General Motors Corp. to the 375,000 rank-and-file union members who have been manning the picket lines for 59 days.

The first task was to take the agreement, expected to cost the company $2 billion in wages alone over its three-year life and termed inflationary by GM's top bargainer, to the union's GM Council for its approval.

That meeting was scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. EST. The next step is to turn the agreement over to the union members for their vote, a process that is expected to take about 10 days.

The union negotiators, weary after a 24-hour session which finally produced agreement Wednesday morning, had hoped to gain the approval of the 350 members of the GM Council in the afternoon. But the sheer mechanics of putting the agreement on paper so it could be discussed delayed the meeting until today.

That delay held up formal announcement of the terms. But it was known the new contract calls for an average wage increase of 51 cents an hour in the first year and increases of 3 per cent in the second and third years. Under the old contract the average UAW worker earned $4.02 per hour.

The agreement also includes an unlimited cost-of-living increase with changes, now figured annually, to be adjusted quarterly beginning with the third year and a $500-a-month pension for workers with 30 years' service at age 58 in the first year. Workers will be eligible for the same pension at age 57 in the second year and at 56 in the third and final year.

Earl Bramblett, the company's top negotiator, said the agreement's cost was "substantially more than the anticipated increase in productivity" of the workers. Asked if that meant the pact would be inflationary, Bramblett answered, "That is a definition, a general definition, of inflation."

Government spokesmen declined to guess whether the agreement, once ratified, would be inflationary, but said resumption of production at GM would "help a great deal to get the economy back on stream by stimulating other companies supplying and serving General Motors."

Rates stay high

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Reduction by one-quarter of one per cent announced yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board on discount rates paid by Federal Reserve Banks to district banks will have little or no impact on Twin Falls financially.

This was the consensus of views expressed by local banking officials today. Frank Batten, Twin Falls Bank of Idaho manager, said banks such as those in Twin Falls obtain their loans through the Federal Funds Market rather than through the Federal Reserve System and are accustomed to paying up to one per cent higher rates but are willing to do so because the money is more easily available.

He said this is a market made up by the banking institutions themselves and is not comprised of government money. He said it appears the reduction, being of such a small amount, is politically motivated to give the impression of a more relaxed economic situation across the country.

Lyle Frazier, Idaho First National, said he could see no resulting effects on local borrowers whatsoever.

"We do not borrow from the Federal Reserve Bank and I can not see any effect except for some of the big city banking firms," he said.

Curtis Eaton, executive vice president, Twin Falls Bank and Trust, said only time will tell if there is to be any effect on area borrowers from the reduction.

Federal Reserve member banks who obtain funds from the Federal Reserve system, he said the Bank and Trust has never borrowed from this source and it is doubtful the bank will. The bank, as are most other area banks, is a member of the Federal Reserve Bank system.

Key bank reduces interest

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Chase Manhattan Bank today cut its prime interest rate for business loans to 7 1/2 per cent from 7 3/4 per cent.

The reduction by Chase followed the cut in the Federal Reserve discount rate to 5 1/2 per cent from 6 per cent late Tuesday.

The Chase announcement said changing conditions in the money market and easing of loan demand on the banks made lowering the prime rate desirable.

First National Bank in Washington announced a similar cut Wednesday and other major banks are expected to follow suit.

Sun eyed for mall festival

TWIN FALLS — City officials were hoping for improved weather today as the three-day celebration to dedicate the new downtown mall gets underway.

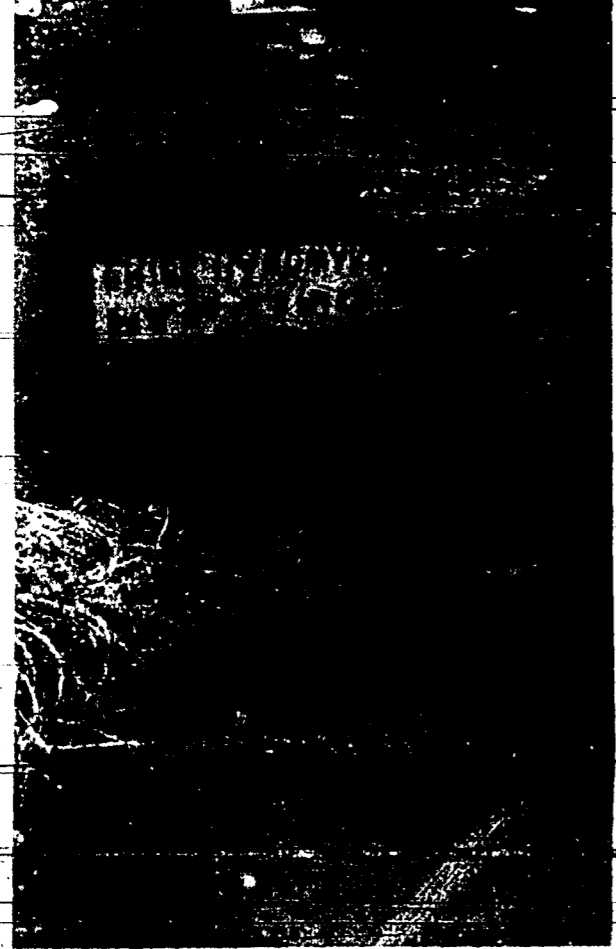

Today's festivities will be highlighted by a unique blend of old-time and ultra-modern music set for this afternoon.

Manny Shaw and his old-time fiddlers serenade downtown shoppers this afternoon in the mall area, honoring old-timers of the Magic Valley. A reception by Miss Twin Falls, Faria McKinney, and student officials from Twin Falls High School and the College of Southern Idaho, is set to welcome old-timers to the Roundup Room of the Rogerson Motor Inn.

Music of a different sort is to be heard from 4 to 6 p. m. by the Bank of Idaho at Shoshone and Main, when the "King Kong," a rock-and-roll band composed of CSI students, serenades the city.

Scouts of the Snake River Area Council will entertain with sales of popcorn and other goodies while the band plays.

The torchlight parade which highlights Friday's activities begins at 7 p. m. at the Sears parking lot, proceeds down Main Avenue to the Imperial 400 Motel parking lot, makes a U-turn and proceeds back up Main Avenue to the Shoshone Street intersection.

Puddle . . . REFLECTING the sign of a business in downtown Twin Falls, this puddle appears a symbol of a major question today — whether or not the weather will turn fair for the rest of the week and for the activities planned for opening the downtown mall.

Blast kills crew

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) —At least eight persons were killed Wednesday night when a crane on a moving truck struck high-voltage power lines, buckled and fell on a dynamite-laden van which exploded.

Police said there may have been more casualties. All the victims were employees of the Pan American Oil Co. There were "bits and pieces of bodies scattered everywhere," one deputy said.

Sparks from the power lines detonated the dynamite, which blew up both trucks and left a crater 50 feet wide and 10 feet deep. Continuing sparks threatened secondary blasts early today and police allowed only authorized personnel within a mile's radius of the scene, in a field just northeast of the Tulsa city limits.

Pan American, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of Indiana, holds a lease on the field which contains one inactive oil well. The employees had been conducting tests to determine if the well could be reactivated.

The crane truck was blown on its side, twisted and bent near the crater. The van was blown against a tree, its passenger compartment ripped from top to bottom.

Hospital lawsuit dismissed

BOISE (UPI) — Fourth District Judge W. E. Smith has dismissed a $150,000 lawsuit against Magic Valley Memorial Hospital at Twin Falls.

Gerald W. Park brought the suit against the hospital, as guardian of John and Shawn Kibbey, two minor children. He contended the hospital failed to treat their mother, Mrs. Linda Kibbey, for a gunshot wound and that she died as a result. He alleged the hospital was guilty of neglect.

But Judge Smith held the plaintiff failed to produce material facts showing the woman died as a result of omission of care by the hospital.

Mrs. Kibbey died early New Year's morning, 1968, in the emergency ward of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. She suffered fatal gunshot wounds at the hands of her estranged husband as she returned to her home from a New Year's Eve outing with friends.

In asking damages on behalf of the two surviving minor children, Park charged the hospital was negligent in not being able to provide the services of a doctor when the woman was brought to the hospital in critical condition.

The plaintiff charged the victim did not receive proper medical attention within a reasonable time following arrival at the emergency ward and that as a result she died.

French soil claims chief

COLOMBEY-LES-DEUX-EGLISES, France (UPI) — Charles de Gaulle was buried today as he had wished, in a village graveyard without fanfare or eulogy. But in Paris a Father Claude Jaugey, the village priest, assisted by Francois de Gaulle, a Dominican friar and nephew of the general.

The services were simple as he had directed but tens of thousands of his countrymen surrounded the cemetery with a final outpouring of emotion that was an expression of grief. Some estimated the crowd at 25,000.

He had asked for silence but today the bells of France's 40,000 churches tolled a requiem for the man who restored the nation's honor in World War II. The last time they had done so was in 1944 when their troops pushed westward from the Rhine to the

He had asked there be no state funeral but the ceremonies in Notre Dame were close to that. President Nixon and Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny were among the more than a hundred kings, prime ministers and others who attended.

De Gaulle's body was borne the 300 yards from his home le Boisserie to the village church in a coffin draped with the tricolor and carried by an armored half track, a symbol of De Gaulle's career in the armored corps.

Jet takeoffs set steeper

TWIN FALLS — Flight patterns of jet planes landing and leaving the Twin Falls City-County Airport are scheduled for change in November, 1971, according to word received by Harry Merrick, airport manager, from officials of the Federal Aviation Administration.

Merrick was informed that on that date jets will be required to make steeper descents and more rapid descents to airports without towers which are serving regularly scheduled airlines. The Twin Falls field falls into this category.

The airport manager said the new rule is for the purpose of separating higher performance turbojets and slower aircraft using the field.

Under the new plans the FAA said that where traffic and operational conditions permit, jets will fly 10,000 feet or higher and until they are within 30 miles will stay above 5,000 feet.

The approach aircraft will descend as rapidly as passenger comfort permits and the take-off aircraft will climb out as rapidly as possible to gain the higher altitude.

One reason for the new rule is that a study showed a high percentage of the near mid-air collisions occur at altitudes below 8,000 feet and within 30 miles of the airport.

The rule will take effect at airports like Boise, which has a tower but not radar, in July, 1971. It will take effect at airports with towers and radar, such as Salt Lake City, in February, 1971.

The Twin Falls airport commission has made application for installation of an FAA tower here because traffic has now reached a point where it is permissible.

More war predicted

By United Press International
Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat told delegates from 70 Afro-Asian nations in Tripoli Wednesday he expects another war soon between Palestinian guerrillas and regular army forces in Jordan.

Arafat said at the ninth council of the Afro-Asian People's Solidarity Organization that the United States was helping "antirevolution" forces in Jordan prepare for war by sending supplies.

Al Kifah said Jordan told Iraq to submit its 12,000 troops in North Jordan to the command of King Hussein or withdraw them.

SAIGON (UPI) — American forces in Vietnam went through their first 48-hour period in five years without a combat fatality, U.S. spokesmen said today.

War action dropped off sharply at both South Vietnam and Cambodia and the spokesmen reported that during the 48-hour period which ended at noon today there were no significant clashes between U.S. and Communist forces and no American combat deaths.

Military sources said some Americans had been killed in action after noon today so the period would not extend beyond the 48 hours.

Malta man found dead

MALTA — An autopsy was being performed today on the body of a 65-year-old Malta ranch-hand found dead Wednesday morning in a borrow pit south of Malta.

George Martin, apparently the victim of a hit and run driver, was last seen about 10 p. m. Saturday, according to Cassia County Sheriff Ray Mitchell.

Mitchell said the body was found about 7:30 a. m. Wednesday by Blaine Wight, Martin's employer, who began searching for the victim when he did not appear for work Wednesday.

New rainstorms moisten valley

TWIN FALLS — A series of storms which has produced .96 of an inch of moisture in the first 12 days of November appears likely to abate in time to produce pleasant weather for the celebration marking the opening of Twin Falls' new downtown mall.

The storm marked the end of harvest for most area farmers.

The weather bureau predicted that clouds will disperse tonight and Friday, with Saturday sunny and warmer.

During the past two days, the storm moving across the Magic Valley area left .70 inch of rain, measured at the weather station at Kimberly. Of that amount, .40 fell in the 24 hours ending this morning.

Weather observers noted that the .96 received so far this month is already .06 above the normal precipitation for all November.

Warm temperatures at higher elevations kept most of the Veteran's Day storm in the form of rain although one to two inches of snow fell during the night in some areas.

U. S. Forest Service officials here said they received a report this morning from their Hailey office of about an inch of snow on the ground after the storm turned to snow in the night.

The forest service also reported about two inches of new snow in the South Hills area, beginning about midnight. Total snow depths there at the top of Magic Mountain ski runs range between one foot and 14 inches.

Cigarette firms reduce regulation

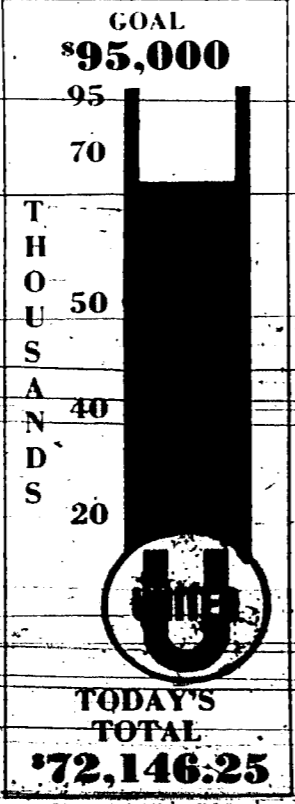

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) was told today the cigarette industry has quietly dropped its self-regulation of advertising and is pushing more and more themes linking smoking to health, fresh air, fashions, sports and sex.

The complaint came from Warren Brarer of New York, who urged the FTC to impose strict guidelines for cigarette ads before Jan. 2 when a ban on broadcast cigarette commercials goes into effect.

Tire racket probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Highway Safety Bureau is trying to break a thriving racket set up by some tire dealers who deliberately sell tires that fail to meet the government's safety standards. Some of the defective tires are rejects from the major tire manufacturers, but this year 185,000 others were labeled for "farm use only," or "no highway use," and then sold. Safety officials said the restricted-use tires have begun to show up in some tire retail stores. The labels have been buffed off and the tires sold to the customer as a tire fit for high-speed highway driving. Other government sources said some of the tires have been funneled into used car lots.

Women hold meet

TWIN FALLS — The Loyal Order of Moose and the Women of the Moose held a joint meeting Tuesday evening at the Moose Home for an entertainment program. The drill, which was presented at the Idaho State Moose conference in Pocatello, was the library committee's Chapter Night program presented for the local group. Members of the Loyal Order of Moose and Women of the Moose who participated in the drill were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCollum, Mrs. Gene Tyner, Ruby Murphy, Mrs. Clyde Greenup, John Craven and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dixon. The Women of the Moose held their regular formal meeting, with Ruby Murphy, senior regent, conducting. Pro-tem officers were Mrs. Gene Hamilton, guide, and Mrs. Malone, assistant guide. Mrs. Richard MacArthur and Mrs. Gary Craven were enrolled as new members of the chapter and presented the by-laws by Mrs. Roy Fenton. Mrs. Tyner was presented a gift in honor of receiving a green cap in the green caping ceremony at the state convention in Pocatello. Mrs. Malone, who was crowned "Queen of Sponsors" during the Coronation Pageant at the annual Idaho Moose Conference in Pocatello, reviewed highlights of the event. A cake walk was presented and refreshments were served by the members of the library committee.

Welfare State

Great Britain, first of the capitalistic states to move toward socialism, has become disillusioned with the welfare state, its high taxes, and welfare payments to those who don't need them.

This is the natural result of giving government through taxes an ever-growing control over the people and the careless waste of available money by bureaucracy.

Tail jam causes crash

News Of Servicemen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A jammed tail control may have caused the Sept. 8 crash of a jetliner at Kennedy International Airport, safety investigators indicated today.

The National Transportation Safety Board said its investigation of the wreckage of a Trans International Airlines DC8 jetliner showed it was possible for a stone or a "foreign object" to have jammed the elevator controls.

The plane crashed while attempting a takeoff from Kennedy. Eleven crew members were killed in the plane which was being ferried to Dulles International Airport, near Washington, D.C., to pick up passengers for a flight to Europe.

In a recommendation to the Federal Aviation Administration, the board said that it was possible for a stone to become lodged in the elevator and not be detected by the pilot in the cockpit while the plane was on the ground. But the board still has not released its final report on the crash.

TWIN FALLS — Ensign Jim Mottern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mottern, currently is stationed aboard the USS Agerholm, DD-826 as gunnery officer.

The Agerholm presently is providing gunfire support to U.S. and ARVN troops in the Republic of South Vietnam. Ensign Mottern was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1970 with a BS in general business.

U.S. aid to Arabs seen peace factor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Middle East scholars, in newly published studies, say the United States should resume sending economic aid to the Arab countries, to help bring about a Mideast peace.

The recommendation came from Prof. Howard S. Ellis of the University of California, and Lee E. Preston of the state University of New York. Their studies were published Tuesday by the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, a nonprofit, nonpartisan research and educational organization.

Neither Ellis nor Preston deals with the question of how aid to the Arab states can be resumed in the absence of diplomatic relations. But Ellis says:

"American economic aid need not await complete pacification in the Middle East; indeed, economic aid might contribute something toward that end . . . the granting of aid to nations professedly hostile to the United States would be a conciliatory gesture; it could lead to a slowly improving relationship."

Preston said U.S. aid should be resumed because it made possible a period of relative stability from 1958 to 1966. "There seems little doubt that the withdrawal of Western support from the United Arab Republic . . . contributed to the deterioration of economic and political relationships that led up to the 1967 blockade and war," he says.

Commitment maintained

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird says the United States continues to stand by its commitment not to develop a "strategic first strike" nuclear weapon system.

Laird said in a letter to Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., that Air Force Chief of Staff John Ryan did not mean to imply in a recent speech that the United States was pushing toward development of missile systems that could destroy all Soviet missiles on the first strike.

Brooke had complained in a letter to Laird that Ryan had implied the United States "might be moving toward a significant increase in its capability to threaten Soviet strategic forces."

Laird conceded Ryan's remarks "could be misconstrued." But he added, "We have not developed, and we are not seeking to develop, a weapons system having, or which could be reasonably construed as having, a first strike potential."

"Discussions have taken place with the airlines concerning the JT8D engine which is considered to be the main cause of air pollution by aircraft," Gerard Loiselle, of the Transport Ministry, said in answer to a question in parliament.

Less smoke from jets

OTTAWA (UPI) — Modified airplane engines which will give off less smoke than present jets will be installed on commercial planes in Canada in about two years, the Department of Transportation reports.

Today's FUNNY

It's one thing to make a smooth whiskey.

A soft whiskey is something else.

Soft Whiskey is always smooth. But smooth whiskey is not necessarily soft. Only Soft Whiskey blends the smoothness and mildness found in the best imported Scotch and Canadian whiskeys with the full flavor of fine light American whiskey. With a full 86 proof. So far, no one has come close to duplicating Soft Whiskey. And that's okay with us. We kind of like being the only brand of Soft Whiskey in the world.

Shoshone high booster group to buy jackets

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Booster Club will purchase jackets needed for the school athletic program, according to Russell Scott, president. Samples of the jackets were shown at a Monday night meeting at the high school recreation room. Coaches William Closson and Edward Sandy reported on basketball and wrestling program schedules for the school. There are 13 basketball players, according to Closson. Sandy said he lacks four weight divisions in his wrestling program — all under the 120 pound weight. He said he hopes to fill the vacancies or the team will start each match with a 20-point loss.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 23.

Named to a calling committee were Mrs. Melba Gray and Mrs. Russell Scott. Billfold size schedule cards for games are provided by local businessmen. Clarence Magoffin from the American Service Station is providing the wrestling schedule; Joe Berriochoa of Farmer's Market, the basketball schedule, and John Urrutia, Johnny's Country Store, the football schedule.

The club's share of over $800 for purchase of a universal gym, an exercise apparatus, has been paid, it was reported. The school district paid two thirds of the amount. The gym is available for use by the public.

Memorial book due at school

SHOSHONE — A check for $10 was received by Lincoln elementary principal Jack Bowlin Monday to be used to purchase a book for the new central library project at the school.

The donation, made in a memorial for a former student at the school, Mildred Ann Moore, was made by Mrs. Alberta Shaw, Roseburg, Ore.

In her letter Mrs. Shaw said that Mildred Ann Moore's sister, Violet, attended school here. Mildred Ann died in 1946, Mrs. Shaw reported. Her first grade teacher was Lucile Huston.

Mrs. Shaw was a school teacher, recently retiring after 34 years.

Tuesday Bowlin said the memorial donation has prompted the establishment of a memorial table in the new library with special provisions to give distinction to this and any other such memorials.

Jackpot services planned

JACKPOT — Evangelist Barry C. Cox, Boise, will conduct services today through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. daily at Diamond Jim's Casino, Jackpot.

Cox is minister at large for the Congregational Church serving churches in Idaho and western Wyoming. He has been listed in Who's Who in the West, the Royal Blue Book, Two Thousand Men of Achievement, National Register of Prominent Americans and Outstanding Personalities of the West and Midwest.

He also is a baritone soloist and also plays the piano and violin. He is a chaplain in the Civil Air Patrol and a major in the U.S. Air Force Reserve. The public is invited to these services.

Mind your money

By PETER WEAVER

Q — What about stores that wrap fresh-looking chickens in cellophane and when you open them later on they smell terrible, ready to be embalmed? They give you a refund but it's most inconvenient. — I. H. B., Kansas City, Mo.

A — Many supermarkets have their cellophane-wrapped chickens marked for the day they should be withdrawn. In our market, for example, the stamped number "22" means the chicken should be withdrawn by Nov. 22.

If you have any doubts, you should ask the meat manager to unwrap the chicken so you can smell it. Insist that he tell you the withdrawal date if you can't find it on the package.

Q — I purchased a Carrier reverse-cycle unit for the purpose of cooling my small home in the summer and heating it in the winter. Nowhere in the literature was it stated that if the temperature outside reached 45 degrees the unit would not work. There were many days when my house was without heat last winter.

Don't you think the manufacturer should warn the buyer of the results when temperatures reach 45 degrees? — E. T. T., Miami, Fla.

A — Carrier now warns the buyer. You must have an early model. Later models have electric-coil strip heaters that act as boosters when the temperature dips too low. You can have a strip heater added to yours.

These reverse-cycle or "heat-pump" machines are primarily for temperate climates. They can also be used as a heat and air-conditioning booster for an addition to your home. They operate on the theory of extracting heat from the air. In summer they remove heat from inside and in winter they take it from outside air for heating the inside.

At lower temperatures they are very slow in heating up. That's why an electric strip heater is a must.

Q — I have an idea that I would like to have patented. What procedures do I follow? What's the address of the patent office? — W. H. C., Elizabeth City, N. C.

A — Any field office of the U. S. Department of Commerce can supply booklets on how to apply for a patent. Or you can write for these booklets, "General Information Concerning Patents" (30 cents) and "Patents and Inventions, Information Aid for Inventors" (15 cents), care of: Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Q — I assumed an existing mortgage when I bought my home, but I have to pay 8 per cent interest while the former owner paid only 6 per cent. Is this legal? — Mrs. S. D., South Plainfield, N. J.

A — It's legal. You did not "assume" the mortgage. To take advantage of today's high interest rates, many lending institutions refinance loans at a higher rate when a home is sold. This is what happened to you.

Another device money lenders use to get higher interest rates is the "escalator clause." The rate keeps moving up with inflation. This is why you should always read the fine print of the loan. Better yet, have a lawyer read it.

Q — We bought two crypts in a mausoleum that was to be built in a cemetery. We have written to the builder, Mausoleums, Inc., but have had no answer. What can we do to get our money back? — Mrs. and Mr. W. G. Frostproof, Fla.

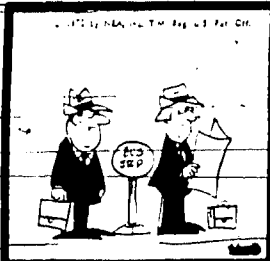

A — Your mausoleum builder is not listed in the National Association of Cemeteries directory. Although the directory is a good place to check before buying, this does not mean the company isn't legitimate. Being listed is voluntary.

Companies working in the funeral business are regulated by the various states. You should write to your state attorney general's office, giving details of your purchase contract.

War front quiet

Tough ...

VIRGINIA KNAUER, consumer affairs adviser to President Nixon, said Wednesday the administration has proceeded with its programs while Congress has wrangled over bill versions. (UPI)

LDS aide buried

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Members of the hierarchy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints gathered here Wednesday for the funeral of Elder Thorpe B. Isaacson, praised as a man who worked for "peace and joy in this life."

Services were held at noon in the Assembly Hall on Temple Square for the 72-year-old assistant to the Council of the Twelve Apostles, who died Monday following a lingering illness.

Speakers included President Joseph Fielding Smith, his first counselor, President Harold B. Lee and Elder LeGrand Richards of the Council of the Twelve. Other leaders participating in the services were President N. Eldon Tanner, who conducted the services; Elder Boyd K. Packer, Elder Delbert L. Stapley, Elder Gordon B. Hinckley and Elder Ezra Taft Benson.

Elder Isaacson had been a member of the General Authorities of the Church since 1947, when he was called to be counselor in the Presiding Bishopric.

President Joseph Fielding Smith described Elder Isaacson as a man "true to the faith, valiant in the cause of righteousness, and devoted to the principles by which men gain peace and joy in this life and prepare themselves for the glory of the life to come."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The First National Bank of Washington reduced its prime lending rate Wednesday from the prevailing level of 7½ per cent to 7¼ per cent.

The Washington Post said it was the first bank in the nation to make the reduction since the Federal Reserve Board cut its discount rate on Tuesday from 6 per cent to 5¾ per cent.

SAIGON (UPI) — The Indochina war came to a virtual standstill for the past 48 hours, a military spokesman said today.

They said the only incident was the shooting down of a U.S. helicopter Wednesday morning near Sa Dec city, but there were no casualties. For two days running there have been no Communist attacks against American bases and no significant ground contacts between U.S. and guerrilla forces, the spokesmen said.

However, the spokesmen declined to read any significance into the lack of action.

South Vietnamese spokesmen reported three brief contacts with guerrilla forces Wednesday. They said 21 communists were killed while government forces suffered no casualties.

South Vietnamese spokesmen also said Communist gunners lobbed two rounds of 82mm mortar fire into Mo Cay district town 46 miles southwest of Saigon and wounded two civilians.

In Phnom Penh, a government spokesman said Communist units harassed government troops at the airfield of Kompong Cham Wednesday night with mortars and automatic weapons, wounding one Cambodian soldier.

Lesbians ask for 'rights'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Two lesbians say constitutional rights of expression, association, religion and equal protection under law are involved in their court fight for a marriage license.

Tracey Knight, 25, a former go-go dancer, and Mrs. Marjorie Ruth Jones, a twice-married divorcee and mother of three children, filed an appeal Wednesday with Jefferson County Circuit Court. The County denied them a marriage license in August.

Jefferson County Attorney J. Bruce Miller told Judge Landon Schmid he rejected the women's application because it represented "the pure pursuit of hedonistic and sexual pleasure" on the part of the applicants.

The women's attorneys argued their religion—the beliefs of the Gay Liberation Movement—sanctioned the marriage. Denial of a marriage license deprived the two women of such privileges as tax exemption allowed to partners in conventional marriages, the lawyers said.

Urges impeachment ...

ACTRESS Jane Fonda called for impeachment of President Nixon and freedom for "political prisoners" at a rally at the University of Delaware, Newark, Del., Wednesday night. More than 1,300 persons turned out. (UPI)

Secretary commends unrest probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson says the report of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest will serve as a guideline for new federal involvement in higher education. It was the first favorable comment on the report from the Nixon administration.

Richardson, the administration's highest education official, called the report "fair on balance ... valuable and useful."

Other administration-connected officials, including Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, have criticized the report, and President Nixon has said nothing about it.

The report blamed both students and peace-keep authorities for violence on college campuses, and called for a national campus cease-fire. Its most controversial recommendation was that Nixon should take the lead in restoring peace to the campus.

But Richardson concentrated his remarks Wednesday on the less noticed sections of the report dealing with educational reforms.

"The decline of teaching, the growth of the multiversity and the loss of mission (in higher education) which the Scranton Commission describes are outstanding examples of the unintended consequences of federal involvement," said the secretary of health, education and welfare.

"When we consider the issues of new forms of federal support in the months ahead, we must study these lessons very carefully," he said.

Hijack draws 7 years

ROME (UPI) — Raffaele Minichiello, pictured by his lawyers as a modern day Don Quixote and called a "good boy" even by the prosecution, was sentenced Wednesday to seven and a half years in prison on charges arising from the world's longest airline hijacking.

He could, however, be free in little more than two years.

A three-man Italian court sentenced Minichiello for six offenses, ranging from kidnapping to illegal possession of arms, that he committed after landing in Rome a year ago in the Trans World Airways airliner he had hijacked from Los Angeles.

The Italian-born, former Seattle resident took an Italian police official hostage in an attempt to escape after landing. He was not tried for the actual hijacking.

The court's sentence was a year and one month longer than that requested by the prosecution, but he was given credit for the year already spent in prison and two more years were subtracted for "extenuating circumstances."

The prosecution put in a plea for leniency, calling the 21-year-old former U.S. Marine "a good boy, a timid boy."

He could be freed in two years and three months if given time off for good behavior.

Defense lawyer Giuseppe Sotgiu said Minichiello was "a rustic and uneducated Don Quixote."

Sotgiu said Minichiello "wanted only to return to the land of his birth in order to flee from the injustice of great America, the country for which he had fought and in which he had believed."

Minichiello had testified he hijacked the plane because the Marines had cheated him out of $200 and because he wanted to see his aging father, who lived in southern Italy.

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The death of Charles de Gaulle saddened 23-year-old Joe de Jesus Gonzalez Lopez to such an extent that he shot himself to death Wednesday.

Mrs. Carmen Alvarez de Lopez, the youth's aunt, told police her nephew was a great admirer of de Gaulle and that his death had seriously upset him.

Vietnam war said "difficult"

BOISE (UPI)—A Marine general told members of the National Grange meeting in Boise today the Vietnam War is a more difficult war than any previously fought by American soldiers.

Brig. Gen. H. L. Oppenheimer, U.S. Marine Corps, said, "We are fighting for survival in a complicated and sophisticated world. We cannot afford to have all of Asia and Latin America come under communist domination."

He said the silent majority, silent before this time, has been harassed by such blatant, broad, irresponsible statements from the minority that we have to think before we can answer."

"He said, "Some months ago, Dr. Spock said on television that 60 per cent of the American public wanted immediate unilateral pull-out. Where did he get that figure? What responsible poll? Nothing like that has been published, even by magazines hostile to the war."

Oppenheimer said when free elections were conducted in Vietnam, "90 per cent of the populace supported the anti-communist position. The election was witnessed by both Democrats and Republicans; some of them opposed to our participation in the war."

He told the group dissent should come in the form of ballots cast in secret at the polls.

"From thousands of voting booths in this country comes a significant phenomenon — the decision of the majority."

"At this point, if our system is to survive, the minority, whether large or small, must go along with the majority. If the elected president cannot speak for all of the country...our system has failed."

He lashed out at dissenters who choose to oppose the will of the majority by armed rebellion. "Those who object to national policy have every right to oppose the government—in the voting booth. Presumably they might also have the right to oppose the will of the majority by armed rebellion. However, if they choose the latter course they should be prepared

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI)—The state of Washington has moved quickly to provide an effectively organized state Department of Ecology which could serve as a prototype model for other states.

Tuesday a private research institute presented state officials with recommendations for the organizational structure of the new agency, which integrates functions of the former

Department of Water Resources, Water Pollution Control Commission, Solid Waste Management Unit and Department of Health.

The recommendations were received by Department of Ecology Director John A. Biggs from the Independent Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park, Calif., whose three-month study was funded by the Ford Foundation.

State heads to meet

SUN VALLEY — What is the role of the news media in the 1970s?

That question sets the stage for what promises to be a provocative and meaningful look into the news business at the Republican governors conference set here for Dec. 12 through Dec. 15.

Word received today from Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, points out that several top-level management representatives from the news media will serve on a panel during the conference afternoon business session Dec. 14.

Panelists will include Mrs. Katharine Graham, president of the Washington Post Co.; Henry Luce, publisher of Time Magazine, and William Sheehan, vice-president and director of television news for ABC.

"We think this panel discussion will be lively and informative," Gov. Shafer said in a letter received by C. E. Gough, administrative assistant to Gov. Samuelson, host official. Gough is heading up the committee on arrangements. Gov. Shafer wrote that the management-level panelists will "give us an insight into the periodical and daily newspaper fields and electronic journalism."

Several hundred officials and newsmen are expected at the conference and because most will arrive by plane, Twin Falls has been designated as the prime airport. Arrangements are now underway for security provisions at the field. Officials of Air West have announced some 300 participants are expected to reach Sun Valley through Twin Falls on regular scheduled jets.

Take over of rails suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says the government should take over the nation's railroads if railroad workers are not allowed to strike.

Meany's comment came shortly after railroad unions set a strike deadline of Dec. 11 demanding higher wages.

Meany said that if railroads "cannot be subjected to the normal stresses of labor-management relations," then the government should operate them.

He said if unions representing 500,000 of the 600,000 railroad workers are not allowed to strike for higher wages at the end of a 60-day cooling-off period, "I would advocate that the government take over the railroads."

International role for Britain defined

LONDON — Britain's six-months old Conservative government has published the results of its first attempt to define Britain's international role: the result reads like a political, rather than a strategic, assessment of that role.

As is usually the case with British defense statements, the interests Britain seeks to defend are not defined more precisely than "a proper share of responsibility for the preservation of peace and stability in the world." The government's statement must, therefore, be read with some care in order to see what attaining this objective of peace and stability might mean in practice.

The statement said that the government will make "a military contribution to five-power defense arrangements in Southeast Asia" and "will continue discussions with leaders in the Gulf and other interested countries on how Britain can best contribute to the maintenance of peace and stability in the area."

The labor government, which preceded the present one, said in January, 1969, that British military forces would be withdrawn from the Far East and Gulf some time in 1971.

On the face of it, therefore, the new statement reverses the policy of withdrawing forces from these areas. Yet the statement also declared that "the maintenance and improvement of our military contribution to NATO remains the first priority of defense policy. This NATO commitment was also the Labor government's priority objective but, as its Defense Minister, Denis Healey, frequently stressed, it was one which was contingent on ending the Gulf and Far East commitments, at least to the extent of actually stationing British forces there."

Lord Carrington, Healey's successor, claims in the new statement, however, that not only can the NATO and East of Suez commitments be retained, but that it will be possible to do so without increasing defense spending.

By the use of some rather unconvincing arithmetic — where the distinction between actual and possible spending is not made clear — the statement even suggests that, over the next three or four years, spending can actually decline.

For all practical purposes, however, Lord Carrington is claiming that more responsibilities can be put upon the British armed forces without increasing costs, and with no loss to their operational capacity.

N.Y. subways' rush hour hit by chaos

NEW YORK (UPI) — Confusion turned the rush hour into chaos on a substantial portion of the city's subway lines Tuesday. Twenty-five persons were treated at hospitals in the most serious incident.

The Transit Authority said about 250,000 commuters were delayed for varying periods between 4 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Ten subway lines were involved in the delays.

The worst situation occurred aboard two trains stranded in a tunnel in Queens. Overloaded with passengers the first train in line stalled, unable to keep moving up an incline. The second train tried to push the cars into the next station, but failed.

That left the passengers — estimated varied between 2,000 and 3,000 people — packed in the cars, which rapidly became uncomfortable due to the overcrowding and lack of ventilation. They were trapped for about an hour, authorities said, when some of the passengers smashed windows in the cars and jumped down to the tracks, heedless of the electrified third rail. The passengers groped in the darkness until they found emergency stairways and climbed up to the street level.

One report said the exodus was sparked by a man who shouted: "Let's get the hell out of here! Nobody's here to help us. Let's help ourselves."

When the riders' exodus was discovered by the authorities, power was cut off in the tunnel. That shut-down operations on other subway lines — seriously delaying other commuters.

Rumors flew about among the people underground and in some cars panic set in. "We almost died," said one distraught woman.

Judge rules on testimony

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — A military judge has ruled witnesses who may have given secret information to a congressional subcommittee about the alleged My Lai massacre could testify at the court-martial of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. The witnesses had been barred from another court-martial.

The trial judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, ruled Tuesday he would allow testimony during Calley's upcoming murder trial from witnesses who may already have given secret testimony before a House subcommittee headed by U.S. Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., which investigated the alleged massacre.

Court, which is in recess today in observance of Veterans' Day, resumes Thursday with the beginning of a jury selection process. The trial for Calley, 27, on charges he murdered 102 civilians at My Lai, South Vietnam, is scheduled to begin Monday.

Veterans of CBI area set reunion

SEATTLE, Wash. — The China-Burma-India Veterans Association is seeking veterans of the China-Burma-India area during World War II for a reunion in Seattle.

The reunion, sponsored by the Washington state "Dhobi Wallah Basha" of the association, is scheduled sometime during May or June, 1971. Any veterans who served in the CBI area are asked to contact Lee Bakker, vice commander for the northwest, at 621 12th Av. E., Seattle, 98102. Wives, children and relatives of the veterans are also invited for the reunion, which will be scheduled over a weekend.

The Seattle Basha is one of more than 20 branches of the association who meet yearly in a national reunion which is scheduled this year for Dallas, Texas, Aug. 4-7.

North African federation appears 'natural'

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Oil riches from Libya, manpower and professional skills from Egypt, agricultural produce from Sudan... on paper the proposed federation of the three North African nations appears to be a natural. Whether it ever gets beyond the talking stage is something else.

The late President Gamal Abdel Nasser dreamed of a Pan-Arab "unity of purpose" almost from the moment of seizing power in 1952, and his would be the guiding spirit in the new federation which began taking shape last December after failure of the Arab summit to agree upon a common strategy against Israel.

That it is being approached with caution is the result of past disappointments. Egypt and Syria entered a constitutional union in February, 1958, and became known as the United Arab Republic, a name which Nasser retained even though the partnership with Syria broke down in September, 1961.

A proposal which would have linked Syria, Egypt, Iraq and Yemen never got beyond the paper stage.

In the 1950s and even into the 1960s there was talk of political union among the Arab Magreb countries of northwestern Africa—Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria and Libya. They did achieve some economic cooperation but the idea of closer ties appears to have evaporated, particularly as Libya has turned to the east.

Despite past failures, the proposed new federation presents interesting possibilities. Union among the three would create an African nation of more than two million square miles and 48 million people.

It would be the seventh in size in the world and 14th in population.

Libya has more oil wealth than it can use properly, the Egyptians have a seemingly incurable unemployment problem and the Sudan undeveloped lands.

The three countries about each other.

Under the alliance created last December a number of steps already have been taken. Egyptians have been taking over professional jobs vacated by Europeans in Libya after the overthrow of King Idris in September, 1969, engineers, teachers, doctors and others.

A military coup in Syria ended it in 1961.

There is another important point. The men discussing the new merger are virtual dictators over their people who have not yet been offered a choice. In the Sudan there are serious political differences between the Moslem north and the black tribesmen of the south.

Psychologist sought for Hailey clinic

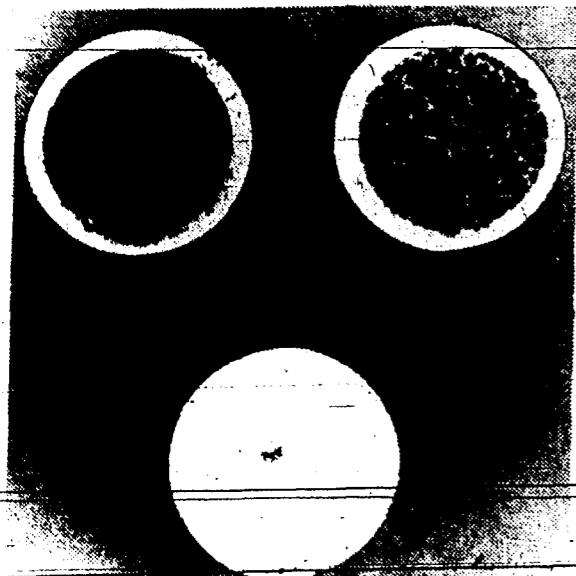

HAILEY — Applications are now being accepted for a fulltime psychologist for the Wood River Mental Health Clinic, according to advisory board members.

When hired, the doctor will join Brooke Finley, the clinic's other fulltime employee. Miss Finley is a mental health nurse and presently is conducting most of the clinic's business.

She is assisted by Larry Burman, Idaho supervisor of psychology; Dr. Myrick Pullen, head of the Idaho Mental Health Agency; Jack Steneck, assistant to Dr. Pullen, and Warren Spangenberg, fiscal officer for the state agency. Bess Stanford serves as secretary for the local clinic. A special meeting of the advisory board will be called later this month to adopt new bylaws.

Bill Grant, probate judge is a new member of the advisory board.

Volunteers are being sought to assist with the geriatrics program which will begin soon by clinic workers. Those interested in assisting should contact Mrs. Rita Hogg. The program will involve patients at both hospitals in the county.

U.S. troop withdrawals in Vietnam and a general removal of Americans from the front lines is reflected in a decline in the combat death rate as shown in this chart for years 1968-69. Statistics from Servicemen's Group Life Insurance indicate this year should show a further drop.

The death rate for Marines in Vietnam has been about double that for soldiers, nearly five times that for sailors and almost 10 times that for Air Force men, according to statistics compiled from Servicemen's Group Life Insurance. Part of the reason could be that a larger portion of Marines in Vietnam were in combat roles compared to the other services.

Nicky Cruz crusade draws 7,000

TWIN FALLS — More than 7,000 persons attended the Nicky Cruz crusade this past weekend in Twin Falls and Burley and Rev. Del Storey, pastor of the United Brethren Church, Twin Falls, said the series of meetings was "highly successful."

Cruz is a former New York gang leader who is now an evangelistic speaker. Rev. Storey said there were decisions for Christ by a person from New York, another from Wisconsin and one man from Helsinki, Finland, requested that he be put on the Nicky Cruz mailing list.

The large gatherings were conducted at the Twin Falls High School gymnasium, College of Southern Idaho gymnasium and the Ponderosa Inn convention hall.

Early estimates by the counseling committee indicate that between 450 and 500 youth sought counseling. One point of interest, Rev. Storey said, was that the age group that responded the most in inquiring about counseling was from 11-16 years.

The crusade was sponsored by 50 area churches and all counseling cards filled out by the youth will be forwarded to churches listed on church preference shown on the card and where none designated, given to the sponsoring church nearest to his or her home.

Rev. Storey said if there is no followup by the pastor of the church to which the card was sent, then someone who is interested will call on that person.

While visiting the area, Nicky Cruz thought the people were friendly and enjoyed his stay here, Rev. Storey said. Nicky Cruz will be in the Boise area Dec. 7-9 for a similar crusade.

Total proceeds from the free-will offerings will go to the outreach for youth drug rehabilitation programs that Cruz' staff have set up in six centers across the nation. There was one expense offering taken for local expenses.

The executive committee for the crusade expressed their thanks to the Magic Valley residents for their cooperation in making the crusade a success.

Rev. Storey said the cooperation by the local school officials, CSI officials and news media was outstanding.

Birth of sea otter expected

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — When Ethyl has her baby it will be a first. But the question is: When, oh when, will Ethyl have her baby?

Ethyl is a pregnant sea otter who lives in the Point Defiance Aquarium. When her offspring arrives it will be first sea otter ever born in captivity.

But aquarium officials do not know how long the gestation period is for sea otters. So far, it's been more than a year and Ethyl just keeps growing.

"Ethyl has been looking very expectant for some time," said Cecil Brosseau, aquarium director. "However, apparently the gestation period for a sea otter is more than 12 months."

Ethyl is expected to have one baby when the blessed event finally occurs. She was mated to a sea otter named Gus, but after a while fickle Ethyl grew tired of his attentions and Gus had to be moved to another cage.

Brosseau said Sunday. Ethyl should give birth "any day now." But he's been saying that for weeks.

Nixon, Mexican to meet

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — President-elect Luis Echeverria will meet President Nixon Thursday at Key Biscayne, Fla., before the ominous backdrop of another attempt by U.S. Congressmen to slap import restrictions on Mexican products.

Echeverria, who won't assume the presidency from Gustavo Diaz Ordaz until Dec. 1, is not expected to press Nixon the perennial protectionist proposal, sponsored this time by Rep. Wilbur Mills. Nixon already has voiced opposition to it.

But he may very well take advantage of his first meeting with the U.S. Chief Executive to remind him that Mexico and the rest of Latin America look with disfavor on any move by the United States to close its markets to Latin American products.

Editorial reaction to the Mills proposal in Mexico City, a probable reflection of the thinking of at least some of Echeverria's own foreign trade advisers, has been unanimously critical.

"In the last 20 years the participation of Latin America in the U.S. market dropped from 28 per cent to 12 per cent and there are no indications that this trend will change," pointed out the newspaper Excelsior.

"The U.S. legislators cannot act in this field with the illusion that they are only thinking about the interests of their country, because in making their neighbors poor, they, too, will be affected, particularly in the weakening of their buying power."

Most of the newspapers did not rule out retaliation against U.S. products and investments in their countries from the nations most seriously affected, if the Mills bill should become law, as Mills himself predicted it would last week.

In the past five years, Mexico's exports to the United States have declined while those of other nations have increased.

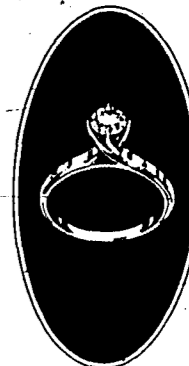

At the insistence of Florida growers, restrictions have been put on the import of Mexican tomatoes. Quotas have been imposed on textiles and the U.S. cutback from one gallon of duty-free liquor per tourist to one quart has had repercussions in Mexico's liquor industry.

It's amazing what one family can accumulate in a few short years.

If you don't think the above scene is typical of your household, think for a minute of the many items you possess which have ceased to be needed or used in your daily life.

What was once a necessity or a source of leisure-time activity suddenly becomes stored away in that "out of sight -- out of mind" recess of your life.

Yet you have good money invested in these items and they possess many years of usefulness for some other family.

Time for Living

BY ROGERS FRANKLIN
Retirement Counselor

It irks me to know, in this day of high prices, labor shortages, and the crying need of homeowners and businesses for help of every kind, that there's an immense reservoir of skilled labor still not being used.

On all sides you hear complaints that skilled workmanship is disappearing. Dad grumbles about the hit-and-run repair job on the furnace. Mom can't find a good upholsterer, and the local garage can't find honest auto mechanics.

This is true also in the business world. That's why the temporary help organizations have been so successful in so many cities. They're meeting a recognized and urgent need.

We don't all live in cities. Yet temporary part-time help is needed everywhere.

What's a better source of such help than us retirees? We're backed by a lifetime of skilled labor. We could be teaching our skills to other people. We could be usefully filling a gap temporarily. We could be helping out part-time. Practically any arrangement can be made to the benefit of all concerned.

We retired people in general don't compete with younger workers. But we have skills, we have knowledge, we have dependability, above all. It's a waste not to put them to use.

Of course there are some problems connected with the social security benefits, hours and rates of pay and so on. But most of us feel these problems can be solved with a little goodwill.

This, I'm pleased to see, is exactly what's now happening across the country, both with government support and on an independent basis. In some cases, retired citizens themselves have set up their own temp-help agencies.

One good illustration of this action is Retirement Jobs Incorporated, a private, non-profit agency that started in San Jose, Calif. as an off-shoot of a retirement club. Now it has offices in several other cities and is "growing, growing, growing," as reported by one enthusiastic supporter, Harry A. Thornburg of Menlo Park.

Retirement Jobs Inc., under its president Jules Eshner, a former Cleveland lawyer, feels it certainly has a good thing going and would like to spread its philosophy nationwide.

It has three main objectives. First is to keep retired people active and involved in their communities — off the shelf, as they say. Second, it wants to help retired people cope with inflation and balance their budgets, through parttime or odd jobs. Third, it aims to help the community by supplying employees to large and small businesses when they most need them.

"We hope," says President Eshner, "we can eventually mobilize older people to be a force in themselves to solve their own problems and help solve the problems of the community. We think we have the beginning of a national movement which can really tap the responsibility, the talent and the experience of our growing number of people aged sixty, sixty-two, sixty-five and up. We can use that tremendous potential to solve many problems of the community and of the nation."

Men and women of all types of background are already members of this organization. They pay $5 a year to join and, since RJJ is purely a referral service, there's no charge for job placement. Terms of work and pay are arranged between employer and employee.

The only paid employees of the agency are the office managers, whose salaries can't exceed the social security ceiling for extra earnings.

I'm telling you about this because anyone who feels like setting up a similar organization in his community can get in touch with Harry A. Thornburg, 218 McKendry Drive, Menlo Park, Calif. 94025. He tells me he'll be glad to send you copies of their articles of incorporation and all information on how to get started.

Sew what's new? NEW YORK (UPI) — In this era of a new model every year it's hard to believe that a product could remain basically unchanged for nearly 20 centuries.

Yet, according to Dritz-Seovill, there had been no real change in thimbles since 79 A.D., the first recorded date of their use, until the debut of adjustable thimble. The 1970 A.D. model can be custom-fitted permanently to any size finger.

ON YOUR WAY HOME FROM DAZZLING DOWNTOWN VISIT SWENSEN'S GHETTO MARKETS

According to Webster, a ghetto is a place where minority groups are forced to live because of social, economic or legal pressure. The Swensen Markets are probably one of the least known, littlest appreciated minority groups in the entire country, consisting of exactly two small stores, struggling against thousands of chain store supremacist groups and are happily residing in the ghetto because of economic reasons.

Swensen's Markets have all the advantages of the ghetto (principally low rent + low overhead) coupled with all the disadvantages (principally low profit). So you're probably wondering, if prices at Swensen's Markets are low like everything else... and the answer is unequivocally probably YES! Why not take time to venture a few blocks from the city center this week-end and visit a Swensen's Market... Please read over motivating prices listed below.

Gooding numbers decline

GOODING — The population of Gooding County declined almost 10 per cent between 1960 and 1970, according to figures released by the United States Department of Commerce.

Statistics gathered by the Census Bureau show the county's population was 9,544 in 1960 and 8,645 in 1970, down 9.4 per cent.

The census shows that 69.9 per cent of Gooding county's population is rural and that 8,575 — 99.2 per cent — of the population is white.

Living in the county are 646 children under five years of age; 2,398 aged 5 through 17; 4,429 between 18 and 64, and 1,172 who are 65 or older. Of the population 14 years and older there are 4,431 married people; 493 widowed, 170 divorced and 1,343 who were never married.

In the county there are 2,818 households occupied by 8,451 people, including 497 one-person households. There also are 194 people living in group living quarters.

The census shows there are 3,127 housing units in Gooding County, 2,087 of them occupied by their owners and 731 occupied by tenants. There are 309 vacant units, but these include vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 is 66.7 per cent, compared to 61.7 per cent in 1960.

Among year-round dwelling units are 2,852 single family houses, 158 housing units in multi-unit buildings and 97 mobile homes. The percentage of dwelling units occupied by more than one person per room was 8.8, compared with 11.5 in 1960.

Of all occupied housing units, 2,271 had piped water, toilet and bath, while 97 lacked some or all plumbing.

The average value of owner occupied houses in the county is $9,600, compared with $7,400 in 1960. Average rents paid by tenants in 1970 is $52 per month, compared with $58 in 1960.

These figures are based on preliminary reports by the Census Bureau which reports more extensive statistics on characteristics of the population and housing will be released in future months.

Citizenship...

A SPEECH ABOUT becoming an American citizen was given Wednesday at a Veteran's Day program at the Filer High School by Al

Westergren, publisher of the Times-News, center. Others pictured are Mrs. Paul Brown, American Legion Auxiliary president, and Rockne Lammers, student body president.

Meyer rites Friday

GOODING — Funeral services for longtime Gooding civic leader Herbert Meyer, 97, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Gooding.

Mr. Meyer established Meyer Brothers Hardware Store in 1908 with his brother, and was active in the business until his death.

He served on the Gooding City Council for many years and was a charter member of the Gooding Fire Department which he also served as chief for many years.

Mr. Meyer's complete obituary appears on page 2 of today's Times-News. A memorial fund to the Gooding High School has been established in his honor.

Aides at Ft. Hall...

BACK IN 1902, Lucy Abbott Nelson, upper left, and her husband, Frank, lower right, were active in working with Indian residents of Ft. Hall. Lucy was a teacher and her husband worked as Indian agency director. Charlotte Spencer, Twin Falls, daughter of the pioneer couple will tell of their adventures Tuesday at a Twin Falls Historical Society meeting.

Camas Prairie pioneer life to be recounted

TWIN FALLS — Pioneer life on the Camas Prairie as far back as 1882 will be the subject of a talk before the Twin Falls Historical Society Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Idaho Power Auditorium.

Charlotte Spencer, Twin Falls, daughter of Frank and Lucy Abbott Nelson will be featured speaker. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott came to the Camas Prairie area in 1882 for the first time. Her mother, Lucy Abbott grew up as a teacher and writer, teaching Indian children in 1902-03 at Ft. Hall.

Mrs. Spencer will display Indian beadwork, baskets, pictures and other antique handiwork. She will also show some of her family heirlooms, pictures and books. There will also be a slide show of Historical Society tours conducted this summer.

All members are asked to attend and memberships are available for new members at the meeting.

Grange endorses research efforts

BOISE (UPI) — Delegates to the National Grange convention Wednesday endorsed research that would lead to legislation in such areas as pesticide controls and marketing of farm products.

Marshal to check reports

RICHFIELD — Town Marshal Lester Johanson was asked to check on reports that pigs are being kept within the Richfield city limits during a special meeting of the city board Wednesday.

Councilman Howard DeWitt reported that the Sluder Construction Co. will start tree-removal along Main Street this month.

James Brown, board chairman, presided in the absence of Mayor Clifford Ward, who was called out of town due to an illness in the family.

The board also issued a reminder to residents that dog tags will be due in January and that no unlicensed dogs are to be kept within the city limits.

In resolutions adopted at Wednesday's sessions, the Grange recognized that agriculture contributes to pollution and that laws are needed to correct or control the problems, but they called for laws to be tempered with research that has developed means and methods to comply with them.

The Grange strongly urged the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to make complete investigations into concentration, dosage, usage — effects and benefits — of pesticides before banning their use on crops.

In another resolution adopted Wednesday, the group urged federal, state, and local governments to take steps to strengthen the family farm unit.

Another resolution called for establishing a National Labor Relations Board for farmers to define the rights and responsibilities of labor and employers. Prohibition of secondary boycotts was also asked by a Grange resolution.

In another policy statement, the Grange urged expansion of the Farmers Home Administration's loan power. The Grange said, in still another policy statement, that it deplored recent actions of Congress and the Office of the Budget to cut or completely curtail appropriations to soil and water conservation.

The delegates also offered support to the federal food stamp program, the school lunch program and surplus commodities.

Rites mark Vets day at Valley

EDEN-HAZELTON — Valley High School presented a Veteran's Day program Wednesday.

Following the invocation by Rev. Bill Hiser, the principal speaker, Dean Pennington, spoke of the history of Veteran's Day.

The high school band directed by David Follingstad played and the students sang patriotic numbers.

Prisoner measures reported

EDEN — Post Commander Neil Cross welcomed guests and introduced special program speakers at the American Legion Post 82, Tuesday during the Veteran's Day dinner.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. Lois Lutow, chaplain, gave a special prayer for the prisoners of war. Austin Matheny spoke of what is being done for the release of the prisoners in Southeast Asia. Jim Lulow, mayor of Eden, read the proclamation by Gov. Don Samuelson designating November as "Prisoner of War" month.

Mrs. Deanie Cross and Nita McClain led the group in singing World War I and II songs. It was announced a lamb feed will be served Nov. 24 to legion members and guests.

Preston queried

BURLEY — Stanley J. Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Preston, is among six outstanding Idaho students being interviewed this week as semifinalist in the 1971 Senate Youth program, according to Idaho Superintendent of Public Instruction D. F. Engelking.

Two of the students will be chosen to represent Idaho in Washington, D.C. in January along with representatives of the 49 other states. They also will receive $1,000 college scholarships.

Winners will observe the workings of government and will attend a briefing with President Richard M. Nixon and Vice President Spiro Agnew. They also will meet with senators, military officers and Supreme Court Justices.

'Re-entry day' set for drive

TWIN FALLS — Wrap-up activities for the 1970 United Fund Campaign are scheduled to follow a "Re-Entry Day" slated for Nov. 17 in the local United Fund office.

Ken Newman, drive chairman, and all U. F. workers and volunteer committees, as well as those who "were drafted" are asked to meet at 9 a. m. in the U. F. office in the Boy Scout Service Center. At that time all cards not completed will be picked up with one or two assigned each worker.

Volunteers will be asked to work their cards during that one day and return them by 4:30 p.

m. to the office. "We have been in orbit for more than a month and a half," Newman said, "and now it's time to get down to earth and complete our campaign."

Coffee and donuts will be available to workers throughout the day at the center and 20 "Bertie" turkeys have been donated as awards to the top 20 raisers.

Newman said about 100 workers are needed to complete the contacts and urged workers to make one final effort to put the campaign over the goal of $95,000.

The Veteran's Day program began Wednesday morning with a flag-raising program by Boy Scout members of Troop 74, Rockne Lammers, Bob Elliott, Jim Steelsmith and Richard Melton. Lloyd Garey led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance, and patriotic songs were presented by all grades of the school.

The colors were advanced and retired by four members of the armed forces who have served in Vietnam or other foreign countries. They were Richard Webster, Army; Dan Aslett, Marines; Gary Dietrick, Navy, and Jim Herrett, Air Force. Mrs. Henry Westendorf read the special American Legion prayer which was adopted for this year's observance, and Lammers, student body president, explained the meaning of the prayer.

New plan explored by team

TWIN FALLS — A new approach to land management studies is being explored this week by a group of U. S. Forest Service specialists in the regional office at Ogden, officials of the Sawtooth National Forest Headquarters, Twin Falls, said today.

The men are part of the study team for the White Cloud-Boulder-Pioneer Mountains in central Idaho. Their specialties are in a variety of environmental sciences including hydrology, landscape architecture, outdoor recreation, ecology and wildlife biology.

Don Nebeker, study team coordinator, informed local forest service officers that the team is making an ecological report with data accumulated during intensive field work in the study area this past summer. The team was formed last spring and spent the months of July, August, September and October in the field.

The report, when completed, will not be separated into various functions or resource uses. Rather it will be aimed at the entire system.

A value rating scale is being devised that will allow the team to assign ecological and economic values to certain areas.

Members of the study steering committee include E. A. Pournier, Twin Falls, supervisor of the Sawtooth National Forest; Wes Carling, Challis, supervisor of the Challis National Forest, and Max Rees, former Sawtooth supervisor and now regional planner-coordinator with headquarters in Ogden.

The report is expected to be released early in 1971.

Hailey agency installs

HAILEY — A local radio station manager, Kent Frandsen, has officially taken office as president of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce.

Frandsen and other new officers were installed during special ceremonies at the Hiawatha Hotel Tuesday night.

Other officers are: Jerry Osborn, vice president; Roberta McKercher, secretary-treasurer, and W. D. Martindale, Bill House, Ann Dunn, G. T. Fritz and Bob Vernon, directors. Fritz is outgoing president.

one of the hot spots of the northwest," Frandsen said, "whose destiny is determined by the effectiveness of the chamber of commerce."

He said workers are needed and explained no one has time — the time has to be created. The most important committee of the chamber, he said, is the merchants' committee, whose activities determine the effectiveness of the chamber.

Sawtooth Forest Ranger, Ralph Cisco keynoted the evening with a discussion of the White Clouds area. During a slide presentation Cisco warned he believes the federal legislature will act on proposals for managing the area during the coming 91st session without waiting for a study to be completed.

The three proposals presently considered are to make the valley floor and mountains to the west into a recreation area; to make the valley floor from Ketchum to Stanley into a recreation area under management of the U.S. Forest Service and the high mountains into a park under management of the U. S. Parks Service, or enact a five-year moratorium on mining in the area.

"The decision is a critical one," he said, "and there is no doubt strong efforts are needed to guarantee the right action is taken."

Vernon, "master of ceremonies for the event, also recognized the efforts of chamber member Leo Stavros, manager of the Triple S Food Store, in creating something different in the community. Stavros regularly posts an unusual phrase on his marquee on Main Street.

Installed...

installation banquet. New officers are, from left, Kent Frandsen, president; Roberta McKercher, secretary-treasurer, and Jerry Osborn, vice president.

Martin Waldseemüller, German geographer, first used the name America to honor Amerigo Vesputi in a book published in 1497.

Record Reviews

 EXCELLENT  VERY GOOD
 GOOD  FAIR * POOR

This is Harry Belafonte (RCA VSP 6024)

Harry Belafonte, who rose from an obscure calypso singer to one of the foremost singers in the U.S. has given America much beautiful music during the past 15 years.

Most of it is contained in this special two-record release by RCA, which presents a very accurate picture of the man's work, and which condenses his very best into one album.

Here are 20 of Belafonte's best, from his very first days to the present.

It goes back to the songs that made him famous: "Matilda, Matilda" and "Day-O" to the songs he has made famous: "A Hole in the Bucket" (with Odette) and "Jump Down, Spin Around."

The album is a fascinating collection of songs from a singer whose incomparable talent and perfection is without question one of the most admirable in music. Five stars.

Beaucoups of Blues: Ringo Starr (Apple-SMAS 3388)

This album could hardly go wrong, despite the limited talents of Ringo Starr.

What it is Country Ringo. He went to Nashville, got about two dozen of the best musicians around, put together a dozen good country tunes, and sang in a typically untuned voice whilst everyone played.

Most of the tunes were written by the musicians who backed Ringo, and most of them are probably very recent, since none are well known.

The result is not what you would expect. Although it is far from being a gold record for Ringo, it cannot be panned entirely. Ringo seems very much at ease in the relaxed musical framework country music permits.

He is obviously more at home here than the disastrous trip he took in this first solo album, "Sentimental Journey."

If you expect an album of good country music, forget it. If you expect an album of blues, forget it. If you expect a Beatlesish album forget it. It's Ringo singing country. Two stars.

Altrusa governor visits in T.F.

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Roberta Schumann, Port Orchard, Wash., governor of District No. 12 of Altrusa International, and Mrs. Frank Depew, Twin Falls, treasurer of District No. 12, were special honored guests at the local Altrusa Club dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Colonial House.

Mrs. Schumann, featured speaker, told the group of activities concerning all phases of Altrusa and noted this was the first time she had been in the Twin Falls area. Corsages were presented to the honored guests by the president, Mrs. Floyd Sanders, Jerome.

Ola Cannon, program coordinator, used a radio commentary, assisted by committee heads, Con Peterson, Terry Waegelin, Mrs. Depew and Jane Peterson, to explain the function of the various Altrusa committees in Twin Falls.

It was announced the local group will meet for a workshop with the Boise Altrusa Club from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday at the Chuckwagon in Boise.

The next meeting is Nov. 19 at the home of Mary Helen Perry.

Guest speaker . . .

ARRIVING IN TWIN FALLS with a brief case full of information for local Altrusa Club members is Mrs. Roberta Schumann, Port Orchard, Wash., center, governor of the District No. 12 of Altrusa International, who was welcomed by Mrs. Miriam Depew; left, District No. 12 treasurer, and Mrs. Marie Sanders, Jerome, president of the Twin Falls Altrusa Club.

Parents attend festivities

SEATTLE, Wash. — Mr. and Mrs. George Nussbaum, Twin Falls, attended Parents' Weekend at Seattle Pacific College.

The annual student-sponsored event included open house of the residence halls, departmental displays, seminars on educational costs, curriculum and the student community and a buffet-banquet.

Approximately 700 parents from throughout the Northwest attended the festivities.

Seattle Pacific College is a four-year Christian liberal arts college of 2,030 students. It was founded in 1891 by the Free Methodist Church and offers majors in 30 areas.

AMONG THE ARTICLES displayed at the Holiday Fair held in Burley Tuesday were this church, piano and house made of sugar shown by Mrs. Jean Adams, left, and Mrs. Lovel Blacker. The items were made by Mrs. Blacker. More than 200 women attended the event sponsored by Home Demonstration Clubs in Cassia County and LDS Relief Society groups.

Club leader announced

FILER — Mrs. Richard Tucker was elected president of the Town and Country Home Extension Club at the Tuesday evening meeting at the home of Mrs. Norma Andrews.

Mrs. Andrews was elected vice president and Mrs. Garth Kirkman, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Tucker presented a lesson on fondue cooking. Members discussed Christmas plans and wishes.

The annual club Christmas party will be at 8 p.m. Dec. 12 at the Turf Club, Twin Falls, with Mrs. Raymond Reichert and Mrs. Tucker in charge of arrangements.

Open house set Sunday

JEROME — Open house will be held at the J. R. (Jack) Webster home, 315 N. Cleveland, from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in observance of Mr. and Mrs. Webster's 40th Wedding Anniversary.

The event will be hosted by the couple's five children and their families. The couple requests no gifts.

Capacity crowd views fashions

TWIN FALLS — A capacity crowd attended the Twentieth Century Club fashion show and luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the Turf Club.

All fashions shown were from the Mayfair Shop, with shoes from Hudson's Shoe Store and Williams Shoes.

"Anything Goes" was the theme, reflected by the great variety of styles shown which included mini, midi and maxi hem lengths and a choice of costumes featuring sporty pant suits, casual street ensembles, long flowing chiffon pant dresses and a full-length mink coat.

Proceeds from the event will go towards the president's project which is a community improvement project and will be used for the new Rock Creek Park.

Mrs. D. A. Jackson, president, was in charge of the meeting and models for the show included Mrs. Earl Neilsen, Mrs. Hugh Phillips, Mrs. J. T. Tugaw, Mrs. Leonard Albee, Mrs. David McCusky, Mrs. Peter Link, Mrs. Earl O'Harrow, Mrs. Aldrich Konecny, Janice Nielsen, Mary Kinney and Pat Stephen.

Music for the show was provided by Mildred Helvey, with narration by Mrs. Robert Stephan.

Special vocal solos were presented by Steven Johnson, accompanied by Terry Becker, both students at the College of Southern Idaho.

Special prizes were donated by Yost's Hallmark Card and Party Shop, the Mayfair Shop and Blue Lakes Figure Salon. The next meeting is set for Dec. 1.

Coffee day

TWIN FALLS — Jay-C-Ettes have chosen the Idaho Association for Retarded Children as recipient of Coffee Day again this year.

On Nov. 18, according to Mrs. Robert Buchanan, chairman, restaurants in Twin Falls will be asked to serve free coffee to their customers and the patrons will be urged to make a contribution to the retarded children's program.

Restaurant owners are now being contacted by the Jay-C-Ettes.

All of the funds received will be used in Idaho to develop such programs as the Idaho Special Olympics, Teens Organization for Retarded Children and Camping.

Social Events

TWIN FALLS — The Singles Club will have a dance Saturday night at the IOOF Hall. There will be live music for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. All single persons between the ages of 30 and 60 are welcome to attend.

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley Military Wives will meet Nov. 21 in Jerome. Any member needing transportation is asked to call 733-9234, or meet at 2008 Falls Ave. A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. Reservations can be obtained by calling Mary Ann Dixon, 536-2217.

Valley couple recites vows

JEROME — Janet Lynn McCrone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. McMillan, was married to John W. Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Connell, Shoshone, in rites Oct. 31 at the home of the bride's parents.

Bishop Doug Hansen performed the ceremony before a setting of a white wrought iron archway entwined with blue and white flowers flanked by arrangements of white pompons and blue carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a street-length lace dress, fashioned with a swan collar and accented with a blue velvet belt. Tiny white buttons accented the dress bodice. Her illusion veil was held by a flowered headpiece of tiny white pompons and blue feathered carnations.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons centered with a blue carnation corsage placed on her mother's white Bible.

Gayla Ann Atwood, classmate of the bride, Jerome, was maid of honor and Dave Ritter, Shoshone, served as best man.

A reception was held that same evening at the Shoshone LDS Church, with Cindy Trammel registering the guests. Presiding at the gift table were Mrs. Laray Trammel, Mrs. Mabel Johnson and Mrs. Virginia Depew. Assisting with gifts were Debbie Connell and Shelley Connell, sisters of the bridegroom.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over blue and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with a cascade of blue roses and sweet peas accented with silver leaves. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing before a filigree trellis accented with white rosebuds. The cake was flanked by heart-shaped cakes with matching flowers bearing the names of the bridal couple.

Two arrangements of white pompons and blue carnations accented with blue bows enhanced the decor.

Linda Connell and Kathy Heath cut and served the cake.

Guests were served at quartet tables decorated by Mrs. Lester Chess and daughter, Suzy. Mrs. Ruth Bille was organist for the reception and Myron Johnson served as master of ceremonies. Soloist was Cindy Trammel.

Special out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Connell and family, Mrs. William Trammel and daughter, Mrs. Clarence Heath and Kathy, Mrs. Lytle Gaskill, Mrs. Randy Adams, Dick Hitt, Dave Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bille and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hansen, all Shoshone; Stanley McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Connell and son, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Glen Palmer, all Twin Falls, and Janel Smalley, Buhl.

The couple will reside at Gateway Apartments, Jerome.

The bride was honored with a pre-nuptial shower by her cousin, Mrs. Wendell Owens, at her home in Jerome, and at a shower by Evonne Roberts, classmate of the bride, at her home in Jerome.

CARAMEL NUT BROWNIES

1/4 vanilla caramels
1/3 cup butter
3 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup nuts

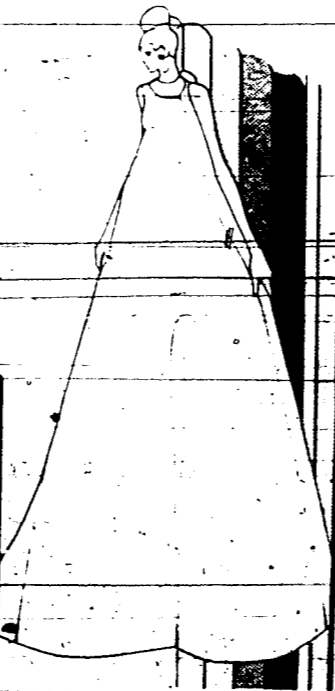

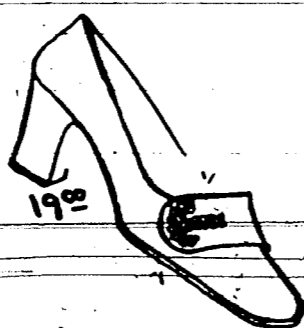

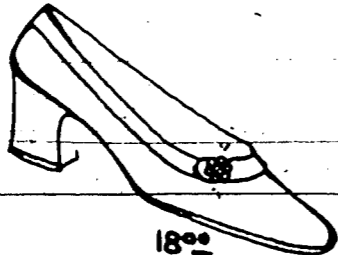

In a heavy saucepan, melt caramels with butter and milk, stirring constantly. When thoroughly blended, add sugar. Mix well, then add well beaten eggs after first mixture is cooled slightly. Blend in flour, baking powder and remaining ingredients. Pour into well greased pan. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes at 350 degrees.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Profit taking and disappointment over the size of a prime rate cut announced by many of the nation's largest banks kept the stock market in retreat at the halfway mark Thursday. Turnover was moderate.

The banks reduced the key lending rate by 1/4 point to 7 1/2 per cent. But as many Wall Street analysts observed "traders had been hoping for a cut of 1/2 point."

After more than three hours of trading, the Dow Jones industrial average was off more than 6 points at 773.34, while declines were leading advances by almost 400 issues, 790 to 403.

A three-hour turnover of 7,760,000 shares compared with 9,280,000 shares traded at a comparable period on Wednesday.

Among the most active issues were Scott Paper down 1/4 on 399,300 shares, Telex Corp. 1/2 lower on 230,100 shares, and Parke, Davis up 1/4 on 195,600 shares.

Less active but lower were Burroughs off 2 1/4, General Motors 1/4, Chrysler 1/4, Du Pont 1/4, Honeywell 2 1/4, American Research 2, Memorex 1 1/4, Polaroid 1, and Walt Disney 1 1/4.

Steels were pushed to slightly lower, while Jersey Standard and Occidental held unchanged in the oil group. Natomas backed off 1/4.

Continuing gains gained a point, while American Telephone lacked on 1/2.

Successful Investing

A Unicare Health Services, traded over-the-counter, is slow to release operating results, making it impossible to assess current operations accurately. At the close of its 9-month period ended last February, revenues were up sharply to $12.8 million and net income after special credit, was equal to $0.16 a share. Dilution from warrants, debentures and acquisitions will probably impede earnings growth, which has to date failed to keep pace with revenue expansion. I would not add to this issue.

Bruins build early lead and outlast Minico 49-36

RUPERT—The Twin Falls Bruins, completely dominating the first half and running up a 35-6 halftime lead, withstood a rallying band of determined Minico Spartans for a 49-36 decision Friday afternoon.

The wild offensive game was a matter of long hitting with Twin Falls scoring once on a two-yard run but the remainder going from 12 to 68 yards. Mixed in were touchdowns on the old statue of liberty (by Twin Falls) two halfback option passes (one each) and a tackle eligible (by Minico). The Spartans also showed up with several double reverses and something called a swinging gate. And scoring was the total thing. Between them the two teams racked up 685 yards in total offense (380 for Twin Falls and 305 for Minico) and 309 of those yards came on touchdown plays.

The win gave Twin Falls an 8-1 edge in the series and eight in a row. The last one came amid rumors that Spartan Coach Corky Hill was considering resigning his post and perhaps leaving coaching.

Twin Falls failed to score only on two possessions in the first half, punting the second time it had the ball and seeing the halftime clock run out at the Minico 19 on the eighth.

RUNNING THE OPTION, Twin Falls quarterback Jerry Barbour prepares for a final confrontation with Minico safety Jeff Bubel.

The Spartans took the opening kickoff and immediately showed a change with sophomore Steve Hedrick at the controls and usual quarterback Arlen Woodward at running back. However, Twin Falls forced a punt immediately and safety Rocky Reece returned it 51 yards for a touchdown that was nullified by a clipping penalty. That set Twin Falls back on its own 38-yard line but in four plays the Bruins had the lead. It came—after three runs for 25 yards by Rich Borah—on a 35-yard option scamper by Alan Scherbinske. The option remained a thorn in Minico's side throughout the half. Borah, after a penalty, ran for the two-point.

A fumble recovery by Dennis Blackwood at the Minico 36 set up the next score, Robert Warner ripping for 23 yards on an option pitch before Jerry Barbour went in from the two. Borah kicked the first of five conversions.

Minico's first double reverse resulted in a 38-yard romp by Woodward that carried a drive to the Twin Falls 25 before being stopped on downs. The Bruins came back with a grinding march that covered 76 yards in 13 plays with Barbour keeping on an option and running the last 23 yards. Minico fumbled the ensuing kickoff with Phil Adamson covering for the Bruins on the Spartan 32. The Spartans seemed to get a break there when an option pitch went awry for a long loss but a halfback pass from Warner to Alan Conner covered 31 yards and got the touchdown.

Minico then broke onto the scoreboard. On first and 10, Hedrick threw a little out pattern to Lamont Hoskins who made the catch as cornerback Bill Miller was falling on the slippery turf. Hoskins sailed 68 yards to score. Twin Falls had it equalled six plays later. A 29-yard pass from Barbour to Warner set up an 11-yard scoring aerial from Barbour to Joe Swope.

Minico started its rally immediately in the second half, forcing Twin Falls to punt and marching 41 yards to score. The touchdown came on the tackle eligible pass from Hedrick to Steve Torix and covered 16 yards. A pass to Hoskins got the two points. Minico held again—Twin Falls getting a little gay and trying to run out of punt formation on fourth and 27. Two plays later Woodward flipped his halfback pass to Terry Hayden for 40 yards and the score.

Twin Falls replied with a drive, twice getting first downs on fourth and inches before Conner took the ball on the statue of liberty and went the final 12 yards—six seconds into the final period. Three 15-yard penalties helped Minico down to the 22 after the ensuing kick and from there Hedrick hung one up in the end zone and Hoskins outleaped about six individuals for the ball and six points.

Midway through the quarter, Pete Turner intercepted a Hedrick pass and returned it 17 yards to the Minico 27. On the first play Barbour hit Borah with a screen pass and the touchdown.

While Twin Falls wandered out of the defensive huddle, Minico had its center at the ball on the near hashmark and the other 10 men kinda milling around near the sideline. Suddenly the center flipped a long lateral to Reed Nelson who set sail behind a nine-man blocking screen and went 49 yards before being downed on the Twin Falls 30. That was the gate play. Two plays later Hedrick faded to pass, found no one open and scampered 22 yards into the end zone.

Minico put the ball in the end zone one more time on a 50-yard pass to Hayden but that was nullified by a penalty.

Injury-riddled Idaho State Takes on top-ranked Tampa

POCATELLO—It seems like every time Idaho State wins a football game it loses three or four players in the process, but last week's 37-6 win over Portland State was sweet at any cost.

Coach Ed Cavanaugh will have to start Dan Halt at quarterback after Jerry Dunne suffered knee and ankle injuries on the same play, and Tom Lee, who led ISU to victory, woke up Sunday morning with an elbow the size of a football helmet.

Halt was ISU's backup quarterback last year and hurled 14 touchdown passes but with injuries and suspensions to wide receivers he was pressed into service there and was a big factor in the win. He grabbed a Lee bomb for a 35-yard touchdown and set another score with a 42-yard reception.

When Dunne was hurt in the first quarter, Lee took over. He took the ball in himself three times and passed to Halt to account for the other score.

With all the heroics by Lee and Halt it was still the defense's game. Defensive Coach Randy Tyson said "We took the ball over for the offense eleven times inside their 50 yard line. Usually you can do it two or three times. We forced three fumbles and five interceptions and only turned the ball over to them twice, both on interceptions."

Cornerback Louis Hurst was selected as Big Sky Conference back of the week. He thus becomes the only back this year to win the honor twice and becomes the only defensive back in the history of the league to win it twice. Hurst had two field goals, two PAT's, ran four punts back 102 yards, intercepted two passes for 64 yards in returns, and made 15 other tackles.

Idaho State will have to go all out to stay in the same ball park with Tampa. The Spartans are ranked first by the wire service.

Broncos expect tough game against Weber

BOISE—The New Bronco Stadium has been very friendly for the Boise State Broncos, but those "friendly grounds" will be sorely challenged this coming Saturday when the Wildcats from Weber State come to Boise.

Both teams are coming off losses. The Wildcats lost to the University of Idaho Vandals last Saturday in Moscow while the Broncos lost to the Scotts of the Hiram Scott College 7-3 in Scottsbluff, Nebr.

The Broncos have a current hold on second place in the Big Sky Conference but a loss to the Wildcats Saturday (in the last conference game for BSC) would drop them into a tie for third place.

Weber State comes into Bronco Stadium with a 4-5 season record and 2-3 in the conference while the Broncos season mark is 7-2 and 2-1 in the Big Sky.

"The Wildcats have big, fast and aggressive players," Bronco head coach Tony Knap said. "But they've had their problems in putting everything together on defense and offense. They are very capable of beating anyone on any given weekend and I'm sure that we'll have to be ready for them," he added.

Weber State has the leading scorer in the conference in Jack Brown. Brown has carried the ball 128 times for 600 yards, a 4.7 average. He has 11 touchdowns. Most probably the starting quarterback for Weber Saturday will be Dale Magers. He is the third leading rusher on the team with 366 yards in 72 carries and has a passing completion average of 418 and has picked up 443 yards via the air. He has passed for six scores.

Phoenix drops Portland

PHOENIX, (UPI) — The Phoenix Suns put seven men in double figures to offset a third-quarter rally by the Portland Trail Blazers and defeat the expansion team 114-100 Wednesday night.

Dick Van Arsdale led the Phoenix attack with 28 points, followed by Clem Haskins with 22. Connie Hawkins had 16, Mel Counts 14, Paul Silas 12 and Neal Walk and John Wetzel 10 each.

The Suns led throughout most of the first half, at times by 12 points, and held a 59-54 advantage at halftime. Portland came out after intermission and made seven of its first eight field goal attempts to tie the score at 69 with 7:25 remaining. The Suns then broke loose to outscore the Blazers 23-12 in the final seven minutes of the quarter to move back into command 92-81.

Nampa upsets Caldwell 13-6

CALDWELL, (UPI) — An 82-yard kickoff return by Steve Baxter lifted Nampa to a 13-6 win over Caldwell High School Wednesday afternoon in Southern Idaho conference play. Baxter took the opening kickoff of the second half and galloped 82 yards down the north sideline untouched to give the bulldogs a 7-0 lead.

LETTING FLY with a touchdown strike, Minico halfback Arlen Woodward combined with Terry Hayden for 40 yards and six points on this play against the Twin Falls Bruins Friday afternoon. Twin Falls won its eighth-straight in the series 49-36 after piling up an early 35-6 lead.

Fort Marcy wins second international

LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—In its dramatic finish reminiscent of America's first triumph 16 years ago, Rokeby Stable's Fort Marcy outgamed the courageous 3-year-old French filly, Miss Dan, to win the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International for the United States.

Fort Marcy thus became the second double winner of the global classic as Bacuco of Italy was third in the field of 10 from eight countries.

Bacuco, nosed out Howard Keck's Fiddle Isle in the one and one-half mile race.

Back in 1954, after England took the inaugural in 1952 and France scored the following year, Fisherman gave America its first victory in the classic, and he, too, had to turn back a driving stretch challenge by Banassa, another 3-year-old filly from France.

Fort Marcy, who was ridden to victory by Manny Ycaza, this time was handled by Jorge Velasquez, who just got to the race track in time to ride.

Velasquez and Ron Turcotte, who rode Panfreluche of Canada, were delayed by bad weather in New York and their flight to Baltimore's Friendship Airport was late. The stewards had decided to give them one more minute to check into the jockeys' quarters when the riders arrived with the aid of a police escort.

blocked on the far turn. "We were in and had to go out and then back in again," he said. "Three horses blocked me, and Bacuco was running real strong at the end."

"He ran a good race. Beautiful!" the Panamanian said. "He is a race horse. We got a good position, and when I called on him he ran beautiful. The going was soft, but he handled it fine."

The course was so soft that it took Fort Marcy 2:42 4-5 to negotiate the mile and one-half. It was the slowest running of the race since the current course was built.

Alfred Gibert rode Miss Dan, but he thought the best horse won. "She (Miss Dan) moved when I asked her to," the French jockey said. "We were coming up in the stretch but Fort Marcy just pulled away again at the end. We had no troubles." However, Carlos Astorga of Chile, who rode Bacuco, complained that his horse was

Pro Bowl reverts to old format

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—It will be the American Conference against the National Conference as the National Football League all-star Pro Bowl reverts to its original format Jan. 24, it was announced Wednesday.

The 21st game played at the Memorial Coliseum will feature players from all 26 teams in the new NFL, who will be eligible for the 40-man squads to be selected by the league's head coaches.

The announcement of the format was made by Glenn Davis and Jerry Hanes, co-directors of the game for the Los Angeles Metropolitan newspapers and George Halas, NFC president, and Lamar Hunt, AFC president.

It will be the first time in 20 years since Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns led the Americans to a 28-27 victory over the Nationals in 1951.

Guidelines for team selections provide that each squad will be selected by the 13 head coaches in each conference, voting only for players in their own conference and not voting for players on their own teams.

Clay honored by ring group

MANILA (UPI) — Cassius Clay was Wednesday named World Boxing Council (WBC) Boxer of the Month for November and installed as the top contender for Joe Frazier's heavyweight crown after 31-2 years absence from the ratings.

Clay, who calls himself Muhammad Ali, was voted the honor for his third-round TKO win over Jerry Quarry in a comeback fight Oct. 26 in Atlanta.

Borah rallies past Capital

BOISE (UPI) — Borah, the state's number one rated football team, rallied for 12 points in the final quarter to whip stubborn Capital 26-16 and finish the season with a 10-0 mark.

The win ran the Lions winning streak to 31 games, the longest in Idaho history and clinched the Southern Idaho Conference crown. Trailing 16-11 as the fourth quarter opened, David Hall recovered the first of two fumbles. Minutes later quarterback Mark Lindgren lofted a pass to Gene Bleymaier for a 25-yard scoring play.

This Thursday finds the famous auction quartet of A, B, Y and Z competing against each other in the weekly duplicate game. As usual Z is South with A and B holding the East-West cards.

The old auction experts put on a pretty good show of contract bidding today with Z winding up as declarer at four spades.

A made the normal opening lead of the king of hearts and B signaled with the nine Z's long experience at dummy play made it easy for him to play the five spot without any indication that he was ducking. But the play didn't fool A in the slightest.

A could tell that Z needed the ace of hearts in order to have an opening bid so that B's nine-spot play almost surely indicated the start of an echo with a doubleton. A also knew that Z had some

After a moment of thought A was able to reconstruct Z's hand in its entirety. He had to hold six spades. With a seven-card suit he would have jumped when he rebid. With a five-card suit he wouldn't have made any immediate rebid. He had to be void of clubs so the ace of clubs would give him a place to park his third heart at some stage or other in the play. This left him with four diamonds.

Therefore, A continued with the queen of hearts. Z won and led his 10 of spades but A hopped up with the ace and led a third heart for B to ruff. A still had to make his king of diamonds and Z was one down.

Note that if A had led a low heart dummy would win the trick with the jack and Z would then discard his ace of hearts on the club ace and make his contract.

Ski area planned

CHEWELAH, Wash. (UPI) — The Inland Empire will have another major ski area by next winter.

The area will be located 10 miles east of here near the site of the old Chewelah Peak area which closed two years ago.

Tuesday, officials of the Chewelah Basin Ski Corp. and the Kaniku National Forest signed the land use permit necessary for construction of the facility which will be located on national forest land.

The new facility, which will cost more than $1 million, will include three chairlifts, a rope tow and 12 miles of ski trails, access road and parking and a day lodge.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: There is this wonderful man, 29 years old, who is begging to marry me. He's in a position to give me just about everything a girl could want and he says he's in love with me. My problem is that I'm not in love with him. You see, I am still in love with my high school algebra teacher. I haven't seen him in 13 years and he never did know I was in love with him. I hear he is happily married now and has three children.

I've talked to several psychologists, but they haven't helped me. This algebra teacher is still the first thing I think of in the morning, and the last thing I think of at night.

Here I am 30 years old, have a swell guy begging to marry me and I keep turning him down. Should I marry him anyway? I'm afraid if I do, I'll be frigid because I'm still in love with somebody else. What is your advice?

CAN'T FORGET

DEAR CAN'T: You should talk to some more psychologists. You are not "in love" with a person, you're in love with an "image." It's all right to build dream castles, but when you try to "live" in them you're in trouble.

To "love" someone who is not available is useless, painful and unrealistic. Don't torture yourself any longer. You are wasting good years.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who, after four years of marriage, still taunts his wife by saying she was too "easy?" Abby, that man chased me, courted me, sent me poetry, flowers and wouldn't give me a moment's rest until I promised to marry him. Now he tells me that a "nice" girl wouldn't have kissed him on the first date, which I did.

He is going to embarrass me into the deep freeze. I can feel it coming. Maybe that's what he wants, then he can get rid of me for being cold. Please help me.

FREEZER-BOUND

DEAR BOUND: If you don't want to get rid of him—tune him out. But first tell him to grow up.

DEAR ABBY: We received an invitation for a wedding and sent a very lovely wedding gift and awaited the event. Four days prior to the wedding date the groom announced he wanted out, so the wedding was hurriedly called off. Later the couple "made up," and since the groom decided that he wanted to be "engaged," but not married, they postponed the wedding for two years.

A card announcing the postponement was sent to 200 guests with a "thank you" for their gifts. [No gifts were returned, and I understand they received nearly 150.]

My question: Is this proper? Don't you think the gifts should have been returned? Two years seems like an awfully long postponement to me. What do you think? "TAKEN"

DEAR "TAKEN": If you feel "taken,"—you probably were. Time will tell.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Negro rights movement incorporated in new book

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Herbers is a good reporter who learned his trade with UPI and now works for the New York Times. He has covered the Negro Rights Movement since way back in the days of freedom rides and lunch counter sit-ins.

His first-hand knowledge of the way that movement developed and his gloomy conclusions about where it stands, today are incorporated in a newly published book entitled "The Lost Priority" (Funk & Wagnalls).

As Herbers sees it, 1965 was the year in which the movement got off the tracks. During the decade-1955 to 1965, it had made great gains for black people, particularly in the South.

Since 1965, there has been relatively little progress and quite a lot of rioting and backlash.

What happened in 1965? Two things, says Herbers.

First, America began to get heavily involved in war in Indochina, and the waging of this war supplanted the achievement of domestic social justice as the Number 1 priority of Lyndon B. Johnson's presidency.

Second, Negroes ran out of patience with the slow but effective methods of nonviolence which Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. had taught them to use. Black frustration vented itself in a series of urban riots beginning in the Watts section of Los Angeles in the summer of 1965.

Such dangers can be averted, Herbers says, only by "a new national commitment" to the cause of racial justice. Such a commitment can be made only through forceful presidential leadership, and Herbers has little hope that will be forthcoming while Richard M. Nixon occupies the White House.

Nor does he find a solution in returning to "Democratic Liberalism" of the Johnson-Humphrey school.

What is needed, he says, is "a breakthrough of the new politics that was so frequently mentioned and analyzed in 1968 but was defeated in both parties by the old politics." Herbers says:

"The new politics would permit a coalition of the poor, the Negro activists, the young, the new liberals, the intellectuals, the urban interests, and minorities of several kinds to prevail without the political bosses and the party machinery to which both Humphrey and Nixon were beholden. Such a coalition would attract, too, much of the 'silent majority' or 'Middle Americans' if creatively led."

"The low and middle-income whites now said to be in revolt against big government, high taxes, and social programs have in the past played an important role in domestic programs. Robert Kennedy and many politicians on the state and local levels demonstrated that blacks and low-income whites can be led to vote together."

Herbers concludes that in 1970 both Black America and White America are waiting for leadership that can "understand and articulate the new issues, and appeal to the latent idealism that abides in many Americans."

Crank call?

PARKSTONE, England (UPI) — Heavy breathing was the only sound the telephone operator could hear on the other end...

The telephone number was quickly traced and six policemen raced to the Edward Long home, finding the door ajar.

After a brief search, they located the mystery caller in the living room — Blue Boy, the Long family's 4-month-old pet boxer dog.

"It was all rather embarrassing," said Mrs. Diana Long, 28, who met the policemen in her nightgown.

"But they were very good about it. It seems Blue Boy must have knocked the phone off the table and when the operator said 'Hello,' he was fascinated."

Solons trek north

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — Idaho's governor-elect and members of the next legislature will learn first hand the problems and desires of northern Idaho during a four-day visit beginning Sunday.

The event is the annual fall meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce. For the past several years all members of the legislature have been invited by the group to be their guests for the chamber's fall meeting to see what is happening in the north end of the state.

Governor-elect Cecil Andrus and the legislators will tour Sandpoint, the Coeur d'Alene Mining District and will conclude their visit next Wednesday with a session with three university and college presidents from the north.

Highlight of Monday's activities will be a speech by Andrus, who was elected Nov. 3 as the first Democratic governor of Idaho in 21 years.

Earlier Monday the legislators will travel to Sandpoint where they will visit Schweitzer Basin ski area and the Hope-Denton curves highway project.

They will also be given a briefing on Boundary and Bonner County affairs and also on the Salmon-Priest controversy.

Tuesday, the legislators will be bussed to the east end of Shoshone County where they will be given a surface tour of the Hecla Mining Co's Lucky Friday mine.

Tuesday night, R.J. Bruning, publisher of the North Idaho Press and president of two mining companies, will discuss mining and Shoshone County with the legislators.

Reports straggle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A week after the election, more than one of every 10 candidates for House seats have failed to submit mandatory pre-election campaign financing reports as required by federal law.

As of late Monday, the House clerk had not received statements from about 132 candidates for the 435 House seats — including seven who won election. The reports were due more than two weeks ago.

In all there were nearly 1,000 candidates for the House who were required under the Federal Corrupt Practices Act to mail pre-election spending and contribution statements postmarked no later than midnight Oct. 24.

The law carries maximum penalties upon conviction of $1,000 and a year in prison for violators, although a Justice Department spokesman acknowledged no recent convictions.

A special House committee has been formed to investigate campaign expenditures and is ordered to report all violators to Attorney General John N. Mitchell. Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., heads the committee.

U.S. airlines lay off 7,000 workers in pinch

NEW YORK (UPI) — The airlines of the United States, suffering from severely reduced traffic and rising costs, have laid off 7,000 workers so far this year.

That doesn't seem enormous out of a working force of 311,000 at the start of the year but, according to the Air Transportation Association in Washington, the employment situation in the industry is much worse than the lay-off figure indicates.

In addition to the layoffs, an unknown number of jobs running into the thousands, simply have been lost by attrition because expansion plans made last year that contemplated many new jobs have been abandoned.

United Air Lines, for example, told United Press International that although it has laid off only 408 workers, its total working force of 51,687 on Nov. 1 was 2,000 below the number budgeted for this time at the start of the year.

Trans World Airlines said it had made seasonal layoffs but did not give the number. However, TWA said it had been cutting its payroll by attrition and had abandoned expansion plans for the present.

Pan American World Airways, the largest U.S. airline in global operations, has laid off more than 2,000 employees. They include 350 pilots and flight engineers.

Briton pledges Yippie ouster

LONDON (UPI) — Home Secretary Reginald Maudling said Wednesday U.S. Yippie leader Jerry Rubin would be out of Britain by Thursday and that the government was investigating how he got into the country.

Harold Soref, Conservative member of Parliament, protested Rubin's admission to Britain.

The ATA said the outlook for early recall of the workers laid off is not bright. Indeed, unless business picks up much faster than at present, it seems likely there could be another wave of layoffs after Christmas.

However, the action of the Civil Aeronautics Board at the end of last week in rejecting the Aug. 28, agreement by American, TWA and United to jointly cut expenses by $50 million by co-operatively reducing flights between 15 pairs of cities, could postpone many layoffs. The CAB ordered the three lines to submit a new economy plan in direct consultation with the board.

CLASSICAL

Schubert: Piano Sonata in D Major; Eugene Istomin (Columbia MS 7443)

The expansive, graciously alive piano sonata in D major by Schubert is given a sensitive yet boisterous performance by virtuoso Eugene Istomin in this new Columbia release.

Seldom recorded (there are only three other versions available) and long (this version is 40 minutes long), the D major sonata is among Schubert's best early works.

Written when he was 28 and still unknown (he had composed much of his work but was not recognized) the sonata is a joyously happy work, filled with daring, spacious melodies and phrases.

While complex and involved, it appears to the ear to be simple and open. There are dozens of obviously happy moments in it, running musical trills of grace and beauty.

It was written in 1825, when Schubert was on a musical tour and visited a spa near Salzburg, and it is apparent the bracing mountain air had a salutary effect on his spirits.

The sonata, despite the relative lack of diversity in musicality, is a delightfully enjoyable work, full of the lovely melodies which mark Schubert's music.

Because Schubert wrote no piano concertos, he is not well known for his piano work, but rather his symphonies. His piano work is extensive, however, hundreds of smaller piano works in the forms of dances, impromptus, fantasies, rondos and sonatas.

He had superb ear for capturing melodies in simple terms, and this sonata is a prime example of those abilities.

Historic Organs of France: E. Power Biggs (Columbia MS 7438)

This album features the incomparable E. Power Biggs and two of the best organs in France, combined in superb performances of 11 offbeat organ works by French composers.

Francios and Louis Couperin, Le Begue, Balbastre, Clerambault, and Dandrieu are the composers, the organs are located at the Abbey Church of Marmoutier and the Abbey Church of Ebermunster.

The Couperins, the best known of the composers, are represented by four chaconnes, a fanfare, a rondo and "Offertoire sur Les Grands Jeux."

The music is a delightfully varied program, presenting music that is rarely, if ever recorded. While most organ programs are bogged down with Bach, this one is refreshingly different.

The quality of the recording varies. The Marmoutier recordings have much better presence and a richer sound than the others, which have a slightly distant sound and less fullness.

The Ebermunster recordings are acceptable, however, but noticeably lower in fidelity.

Bach's Greatest Hits (Columbia MS 7514)

This compilation of some of Bach's best works includes 13 works (or portions of larger works) by seven orchestras or individuals, ranging from the Mormon Tabernacle Choir to the Moog.

The works are wonderfully diverse, some of his tiny, beautiful creations that are seldom heard, like his "Fugue in G Minor" and "Two Part Invention in D Minor" and "Gavotte" from his 4th Lute Suite.

The only large work included in the album (which packs an awful lot of music onto one disc) is Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 in F Major.

The length of the works vary from the 40 seconds necessary for Two Part Invention in F Major to the 10 required for the Brandenburg.

A nice way to get to know Bach, and a fine collection of many of his best works.

Holst: The Planets: Bernard Herrmann conducting The London Philharmonic Orchestra (London SPC 21049)

Gustav Holst (1874-1934) is one of the least known of the modern composers, yet he is relatively famous for one work of the many he composed.

His "The Planets" is a singularly original work, describing his impressions of the planets of the solar system in beautifully descriptive modern musical terms. (He inexplicably omits Pluto and Earth.)

The work calls for a huge orchestra, with heavy woodwinds and percussion, but the music is light and airy, rarely "heavy" and modern only in the strictest musical terms. It is delightful to hear, never offensive or dissonant.

Two of the best of the seven portions of the work are "Mercury, The Winged Messenger" and "Uranus, The Magician." The musical description of Mercury is startlingly effective, and the picture painted of Uranus is a delightful musical work featuring clever use of complex harmonies and instrumentation.

Holst's work will stand forever as one of the most original works ever written, and quite possibly one which will never be equalled.

This recording of "The Planets" is one of sheer brilliance, which certainly will become THE recording of the work.

Mozart: Piano Trio in B Flat, Clarinet Quintet in A Major: (Columbia MS 7447)

These two exquisite Mozart works, one quite popular and the other relatively unknown, are given heavenly performances by two groups of the Marlboro Musical Festival.

The piano trio is composed of Rudolf Serkin, Jaime Laredo (violin) and Madeline Foley (cello), and the clarinet quintet features Harold Wright (clarinet), Alexander Schneider and Isidore Cohen (violins), Samuel Rhodes (viola) and Leslie Parnas (cello).

Both these works are Mozart at his immaculate best, weaving noble patterns of crisp, clear mellow sound into seemingly endlessly sublime chords.

The chamber work is understanding and clearly sympathetic. Both groups of musicians perform with indelible clarity and emotion.

While Mozart's Trio No. 2 is considered his best work in the trio form, his clarinet quintet is a superb work, worthy of far more attention than it normally receives.
