GOP chiefs ask bail-out

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

SUN VALLEY — The Republican Governors Conference Monday asked the federal government for $10 billion to provide needed state services and stave off possible state bankruptcies.

The governors petitioned President Nixon for a meeting at which this proposal (for revenue sharing) and the crucial nature of this problem can be presented before the President completes his State of the Union message.

Offers branch...

REP. ROGERS C. B. MORTON, soon to become secretary of Interior, listens intently during the first business session of the Republican Governors' Conference at Sun Valley. He told the governors there was "no doubt" that economic issues, as well as the law and order theme espoused by Agnew, played a significant role in this November's election." (UPI)

Morton offers 'olive branch'

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)—Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton offered GOP governors a Nixon administration olive branch Monday and personally assumed blame for some of their re-election defeats.

Addressing the opening session of the Republican National Governors Conference in this Rocky Mountain ski resort, Morton said the 1972 election would be determined by two things:

"How well the people in this room lead and how well the Nixon administration handles the issues."

He said it will take "party leadership" to triumph in 1972 when President Nixon is expected to seek re-election—and "absolutely the most important

Only a short time before the statement of the governors was agreed upon, the amount had been put at $5 billion.

But when Gov. John A. Love, Colo.; Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and the conference chairman Gov. Raymond T. Shafer called a news conference the amount had risen to $10 billion.

All governors contacted backed the statement. The method of receiving the amount asked for—either by lump sum or in a "program status"—has not yet been decided.

Something wrong when at the same time state and local governments are suffering a financial drought, the federal government still enjoys a growing flood of dollars.

He explained the basic reason for this is that the federal tax structure is such that the federal income increases one and one-half per cent for every one per cent increase in personal income.

"This means the federal government gets more tax revenues without the necessity of increasing the tax rate," the governor told the Times-News.

"It also means the tax structure siphons off from the taxpayer an increasing percentage of his ability to pay and there is not a thing we can do about it."

Gov. Peterson said there are two ways to correct this problem. One is for the federal government to change the tax structure so that its income does not automatically grow so rapidly. The other is for the federal government to return some of these funds to the states.

"This is the one we want," he said.

He explained that revenue sharing is not a matter of the states asking the federal government to solve their problems.

"The demand from revenue sharing results from a major built-in deficiency in the federal tax structure. But it is a case too much of our money is going to Washington instead of staying home where the problems are," Gov. Peterson said.

He said that "ultimately" it is our hope to use this mechanism to so strengthen state and local government "that by the end of the coming decade the political landscape of America will be visibly altered and the states and cities will have a far greater share of power and responsibility for solving their own problems."

And he ended by saying "This is not a partisan issue, but as Republican governors we have the responsibility to see that revenue sharing becomes a reality."

Conference officials said everything is in readiness for the arrival here late this afternoon of Vice President Agnew.

Leadership is supplied by the governor's office.

It was an obvious effort by Morton-Nixon's nominee to replace the ousted Walter Hickel as interior secretary—to smooth over ill feelings which had developed by the governors toward the White House since the election.

Republicans lost a net 11 statehouses to Democrats on Nov. 3.

Afterward Nixon was quoted as telling his cabinet "I have yet to see a popular governor pull in a president, sometimes governors can be a drag in a presidential election."

He said it will take "party leadership" to triumph in 1972 when President Nixon is expected to seek re-election—and "absolutely the most important this was a matter of no real concern.

Likewise a method to distribute the amount has not fully been worked out, but this too was said to be easily determined between now and the time such a revenue sharing suggestion could become a reality.

Gov. Russell W. Peterson, Delaware, has been one of those working in the background to establish a revenue sharing plan between the federal government and the states.

He said today that "there's something wrong when at the same time state and local governments are suffering a financial drought, the federal government still enjoys a growing flood of dollars."

Nations near pact on air hijackings

THE HAGUE (UPI)—An international conference on air law today approved a proposal demanding prosecution "without exception" for aircraft hijackers and severe penalties for those convicted.

A 14-day conference of 76 nations adopted the convention for the suppression of illegal seizure of aircraft with only Chile and Algeria abstaining.

The Hague Convention, the agreement will be known, will be signed Wednesday by the nations who agreed on it and will be open to other nations later.

"Each contracting party (nation) undertakes to make the offense (of hijacking) punishable by severe penalties," the agreement said.

Delegates have been meeting since Dec. 1 to formulate an international agreement to make hijacking illegal. Their starting point was a draft prepared by the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO).

Participants included the United States represented by a four-man delegation originally headed by J. R. Stevenson, legal advisor of the State Department. During the conference he left for home and was replaced by J. B. Rhineland, deputy legal advisor of the State Department.

Conference officials view the draft as an important deterrent against "unlawful seizure of aircraft." The convention does not use the word hijacking.

But the convention leaves the extent of the punishment to the nation trying the hijacker.

Calm so far

SUN VALLEY — Security officers including a large number of state police from throughout Idaho have had little to do but make their presence known at the Republican Governors convention here, but there is a possibility that could change today.

Officers late Monday arrested one of two assigned reporters of the Intermountain Observer who had been denied admission to the conference because of lack of sufficient press credentials.

Minefield claims GIs

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. Command said today six American GIs were killed and two wounded when they accidentally walked into an old U.S. minefield a mile south of the demilitarized zone (DMZ) separating the two Vietnams.

Communicates from Phnom Penh said Cambodian troops had killed 2,000 North Vietnamese in weathering three days of Communist assaults on Highway 7 northwest of the capital. The Cambodians claimed victory in the fighting.

Don eyes Senate

SUN VALLEY—Outgoing Idaho Gov. Don Samuelson told the Times-News today he may run for the U.S. Senate in 1972.

He said flatly that he definitely would enter the Republican primary for the Senate nomination in the event that former Gov. Robert E. Smylie should seek the post.

Samuelson defeated Smylie four years ago in the Idaho gubernatorial Republican primary.

But Samuelson said if he were able to obtain a federal post from which he could serve western people and he felt he was doing a good job in the post he might forego the Senate race.

Incumbent Sen. Len B. Jordan is expected to retire after his current term expires in 1972.

Samuelson said in the event Smylie defeated him for the Senate nomination he would support the victor.

"I will support any Republican in the general election who wins in the primary," Samuelson said.

Morton mulls request Idaho reporter arrested

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson, the Idaho Republican who was defeated for re-election, may have a job in the Interior Department when he leaves office.

Rep. Rogers C.B. Morton, President Nixon's choice to succeed former Interior Secretary Walter Hickel, said Monday Samuelson has approached him with a desire to serve in the department.

Morton, who spoke Monday at the National Republican Governors Conference, added, "He (Samuelson) has great knowledge of many problems of the Department of Interior and if he believes he can serve there, perhaps he can."

But Morton said he made no promises to Samuelson, who was defeated Nov. 3 by Cecil Andrus.

Prisoner release suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republicans will support a bill today that would allow the United States and South Vietnam to release 1,500 able-bodied North Vietnamese prisoners, before the Vietnamese year.

Griffin told a news conference the Nixon administration had been informed of his suggestion. "I believe that there will be some sympathetic response within the administration," he added.

T.F. teachers air grievances

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls teachers told school district trustees Monday night that city schools are producing "children who are deficient in the rudiments of reading, computation and language skills."

The charge was made in a petition for a reduced pupil-teacher ratio presented to the trustees by a five-member faculty negotiation committee which is seeking to open avenues of direct communication between the teachers and trustees.

Overcrowded classrooms, the teachers' petition said, often develops such "poor attitudes toward schools and the educational process" among children "that they may never accommodate themselves to the changes they will have to face within their lifetimes."

SUN VALLEY— Idaho (UPI)—A reporter from the Boise-based weekly newspaper, The Intermountain Observer, was arrested Monday while attempting to enter a press relations discussion at the Republican Governors Conference in Sun Valley.

Willis Ludlow, a campus minister at Idaho State University and a reporter for the Observer, was arrested and handcuffed by Idaho State policemen as he attempted to enter a meeting of the governors where a panel discussion on press relations was underway.

According to Samuel H. Day, editor of the Observer, Ludlow was told several times that he couldn't attend the meeting and was asked to leave the Challenger Inn.

When he told officers that he was only attempting to carry out his assignment, he was arrested by James Bays, the state policeman in charge of the ISP detachment at Sun Valley and was charged with disturbing the peace.

A group of directors sent a telegram of protest Monday to Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond Shafer, conference chairman.

The board said the exclusion was a "discriminatory action which smacks of politics and violates the concept of the free press' right and responsibility to keep the public informed."

Officers late Monday arrested one of two assigned reporters of the Intermountain Observer who had been denied admission to the conference because of lack of sufficient press credentials.

Israelis wound Arab saboteurs

By United Press International. Israeli troops shot and wounded two young Arabs who blew up a labor-exchange office in the heart of the Gaza Strip today, military sources said. The explosion destroyed most of the building in Gaza City and the Arabs were shot trying to flee from the scene of the blast, the sources said. Radio Damascus today quoted Arab guerrilla spokesmen as saying now fighting had broken out in Amman between government forces and the commandos. The broadcast gave no details. The reports of new fighting in Amman coincided with a search for disaffected Palestinian guerrillas accused of trying to disrupt Jordan's new truce between the government and the guerrillas. The guerrillas were accused of killing 10 soldiers and policemen and wounding two others in a series of raids around Amman Sunday. These involved ambushes on four separate army trucks and an assault on a hospital and killing of four policemen stationed there. The two sides sought in a meeting Monday to defuse the situation by coming up with a peace initiative by the Arab truce team. Under the new agreement, the guerrillas pledged to disarm their militiamen, on part-time guerrillas, while the government vowed to withdraw an elite police unit out of the capital. The new agreement also calls for the government to cease search within the capital and abolish its military checkpoints. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban arrived in London today to preside at a conference Wednesday of Israeli ambassadors in Europe. As he left Tel Aviv Monday night, Eban hinted Israel might soon take a favorable decision on rejoining the stalled Middle East peace talks under United Nations Envoy Gunnar V. Jarving. "The stage of deliberations (in the Israeli cabinet) is over," Eban said. "The time for decisions has come."

Public faith wanes

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)—Publisher Katharine Graham of the Washington Post warned the Republican Governors Conference Monday that both the press and the politicians are losing the confidence of the reading, listening, the viewing and the voting public.

During a panel discussion on the news media at the governors semi-annual meeting in this winter resort, Mrs. Graham said public distrust of both stems from, similar causes: power and arrogance.

To correct this, she said, will require both to admit their mistakes and both to increase the public's access to their thoughts.

"There is nothing that breeds more distrust, I believe, than a sense that no one is listening, and that no one cares to listen," Mrs. Graham said.

Follow panelists Henry Luce, II, of Time Magazine and William Sheehan, vice president-director of Television News for ABC, addressed the problems of the news media from their own vantage points.

Sheehan called for government control of political advertising on television to remove from that medium commercials designed simply to "build an image" without revealing anything really substantial about a candidate.

"Television should do more than make a name a household word," Sheehan said. "It should be better than just an image maker. A candidate should not be allowed to sell himself like an underarm deodorant spray...."

Welfare package opposed

BURLEY — The Burley Chamber of Commerce voted Monday to inform Idaho's senators it is opposed to the package welfare bill being debated by the United States Senate.

The action was taken after Ernest Blauer, president, presented a report from the chamber of the commerce of the United States opposing the measure. He also gave highlights of the measure, which would increase welfare payments and also social security deductions.

Ken Rosecrans, Oakley, are manager of the Idaho Power Co. told of plans for a public hearing at 1 p. m. Dec. 17 in Boise at the Idaho Highway Department auditorium regarding proposed changes in the water flow in the Snake River below Hells Canyon Dam. Residents of the Lewiston area have asked that releases from the dam be increased from 5,000 feet per second to 10,000 feet per second.

The Burley chamber approved a resolution asking that the releases be left as they are. The resolution will be presented at the hearing by Mark Moorman, a member of the chamber.

Moorman told the chamber the Idaho Irrigation Pumpers Association, of which he is president, will present a bill to the Idaho Legislature in January seeking establishment of an irrigation commission. He said five members would be elected by the association and two would be appointed.

Muskie's Lead

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. Edmund Muskie's prospects for the 1978 Democratic presidential nomination obviously are being advanced right now by the fact that he clearly defined adversary is making significant strides against him.

By this time four years ago, a Romney-Nixon fight, seen by voters and labeled by the political appraisers as progressive vs. conservative, was already well launched.

In pre-election 1950, the highly visible John F. Kennedy was moving toward 1960 primary collisions with Hubert Humphrey. By late 1950, potent forces were getting aligned for the bitter Eisenhower-Taft struggle.

It seems curiously different this time. Most of Muskie's potential opponents say they'd be happy with him in the White House, though some of their supporters do not feel the same.

Unless some of this anti-Muskie steam soon starts to come out of the ears of one or more of his adversaries, they will find it increasingly difficult to arrest his progress toward the nomination.

Another oddity in the developing contest is the way the prospectives talk about their rivals as if each was equally acceptable to all the others and to the party.

Most recently, two among them — Sens. Harold Hughes of Iowa and Birch Bayh of Indiana — rattled off a laundry list from Muskie through Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, approving all.

This makes it sound as they are without exception bunched fairly closely in the political spectrum and possessed of equal attraction for the nation's voters.

Muskie's adversaries underscore this by insisting they are not as liberal as painted. McGovern and Hughes have been at particular pains to make this point.

Yet this all looks a bit foolish and unrealistic in the light of the voting public's perceptions and judgments.

Not only does Muskie hold a good lead in the opinion polls, but self-proclaimed noncandidate Sen. Edward Kennedy is the sole major challenger.

Furthermore, the way voters perceive candidates on the political spectrum from left to right — not the way the men perceive themselves — weighs importantly in the nomination decision.

And it is a fact that McGovern is seen both by the public and by many in his party on the leadership level as well to the left. So is Hughes. Bayh's image is probably positioned by others as to the left of Muskie.

Again, Muskie can be the only gainer if his rivals persist in smudging over these differences and keep saying they wouldn't mind his getting the White House. It's as if the Washington Redskins said they'd be glad to have the New York Giants reach the Super Bowl.

Muskie has big chips today — poll strength, party support, visibility and identity, the makings of good personal organization, head start in moving about the country (since early 1969). Daily endorsements from his prospective rivals are just so much gravy.

Maybe they will soon stop this rather boyish nonsense. They own hot-eyed advocates, who want them placed leftward of Muskie, may well push at least one or two of them (McGovern and Hughes) in that direction. These men would approach public perceptions of them.

If this doesn't happen by early 1971, Muskie will be in the Super Bowl before the others even find the big dollars to challenge him.

No GI Pullback

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The White House is currently engaged in important talks on U.S. military force levels, but the prospect is running strongly against major cuts in the 310,000 men stationed now in Western Europe.

The bind on the administration is tremendous. President Nixon is looking hard for ways to cut the huge defense budget, and that U.S. contingent attached to NATO is an attractive target. Furthermore, he has promised, under his "doctrine" to lower America's profile around the world — and there also could be pressure, next year on Capitol Hill from liberal lawmakers who want large sums diverted to home needs.

On the surface the signs might seem good. The newly initiated Bonn-Warsaw pact recognizing the post-World War II Oder-Neisse river line as the Polish-German border and the Bonn-Moscow renunciation-of-force treaty agreed to in August appear to lessen East-West tensions.

But the Soviet Union is offering no reductions in its large forces committed to the "defense" of eastern Europe yet seen always as a threat to the West. In October, at Limerick, Ireland, on his quick European swing, Nixon stoutly reaffirmed a heavy U.S. commitment to NATO.

The matter has another major facet. It is not at all clear that bringing home even a sizable part of our force in Europe would really produce substantial savings.

The present U.S. cost in Europe of maintaining those 310,000 men is around $3.2 billion a year. Critics' figures up to $14 billion are absurd on their face involving calculations with regard to the Atlantic fleet, backup ground forces stationed elsewhere. These elements would stand as continuing cost factor no matter what pullback we made.

The more critical point is that the same statement would apply to any ground forces brought home from Europe. Unless they were disbanded, the outlook is they would cost as much or more to maintain here as overseas.

Costs associated with the present heavy two-way flow of men and materials naturally would go down if the overseas forces were cut. But experts say the savings would be offset by new housing and other operating and maintenance costs necessary to keeping the returned force in being at home.

With 200,000 U.S. military men stationed in West Germany alone, the Bonn government estimates it contributes some $500 million a year to our on-station costs. The Euro-Group, comprised of Western Europe's defense ministers, is laboring at the problem of easing the U.S. overseas burden still further.

Still, as indicated, big savings could come only from disbanding large returned forces. The President's foreign policy advisers are looking at that one, even though the chance of such action seems remote.

First, Nixon has only recently restated our commitment. To pull out and disband large forces would be to rip away the underpinnings of that commitment and leave Western Europe in a very shaky state.

Our credibility as an on-the-ground partner and ally would be gravely harmed.

Short of some presently unforeseen agreement for a mutual East-West reduction of forces, a U.S. pullback is thus very unlikely. Most of the 310,000 in Europe will stay.

The "lowered American profile" of the Nixon doctrine translates, of course, into reduced U.S. presence virtually everywhere. The outlook today is that vital exceptions will be made, with jutting peaks of American force showing above a perhaps generally lower line.

"Color the Mediterranean red and color Western Europe red," said one U.S. expert, meaning we still see big military-naval commitments there as no less important to security than defense of our own mainland and our Alaska-Hawaii outposts.

The Innkeepers

WASHINGTON — Some of my best friends are innkeepers, even including the mustachioed doll in Belgrade who furnishes free albinoz as a remedy for bedbug bites. Thus I can't help feeling a twinge of sympathy for the boniface who didn't have any more room on that first Christmas Eve.

Folks almost universally despise this nameless wretch who turned away Joseph Mary because there was no room at the inn. Over the centuries, he has become a symbol of selfish worldliness and materialism, a man scorned for refusing refuge to the unborn Babe Who came to save mankind.

The general premise seems to be that only a bounder would have shown the Holy Couple the door, even if his last broom closet had been let. There is agreement that he should have found space somewhere so the Babe could have been born in a house instead of a stable. If he had a name, it would be mentioned in the same breath with Judas and the guy who sold you your last car.

This has always seemed to me to smack of the kind of intolerance Jesus deplored. The innkeeper was running his caravansary at a most difficult time. Caesar, just for kicks, or something, had issued a decree ordering everybody in the Roman Empire to register in the city of his birth. (Like all dictators, he enjoyed inconveniencing his subjects.) Bethlehem was a whistle stop, probably with the one hotel. It was bound to be crowded to the rafters at such a time.

Suddenly, then, this innkeeper was confronted in the middle of the night by a man and wife looking for a room. He didn't have a thing left; chances are he'd already vented his own suite and sent his wife to bunk in with momma. What else could he say but that he was sorry?

The Gospel is not explicit on how the innkeeper phrased his regrets to Joseph. But it seems to have been a legend that he was unpleasant about it, that he showed them the door curly, much in the surly manner of the present-day Parisian concierge dealing with an American tourist.

And yet, what right have we to assume that his manner was cavalier? Most innkeepers by nature are courteous folk, except in Paris and Moscow, partly by instinct and partly because they know their well always be a tomorrow when the house will be empty and the cash register silent. Is it not possible that this libeled landlord did, indeed, treat Joseph and Mary kindly and that he even suggested a boarding house down the street? I prefer to believe, from personal experience ranging from Chevy Chase to Saigon, that this innkeeper did his best. I can picture him thumbing through the register and checking on possible cot space in the scullery. I like to think of him wishing someone had invented a foldaway bed, and pleading unsuccessfully with a bachelorette to vacate his quarters to accommodate an expectant Mother.

But, says the Gospel, he turned away the Babe who was our Savior. He did indeed. But what troubles me is that the hotel chap didn't know it at the time. His critics have assumed a self-righteous attitude toward him because they are in possession of the facts. Unfortunately, the innkeeper was not awarded the privilege of the second guess — or dear to mankind everywhere.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Up At Night

Dear Dr. Thosteson: From reading your column, it seems to me that you get more mail from older people. Here is what I have, and from what my friends tell me it is also theirs. We call it "night rising," as it seems we have to get up three or four times at night to empty the bladder. Have you any solution as to how we can overcome this? It would be a great service to older people. — P.J.E.

I got letters from all ages from about 10-years old-up — and occasionally a question from ones younger than 10. But since we gradually acquire more ailments as the years go by, yes, I think age has to be a factor in the number of letters I get.

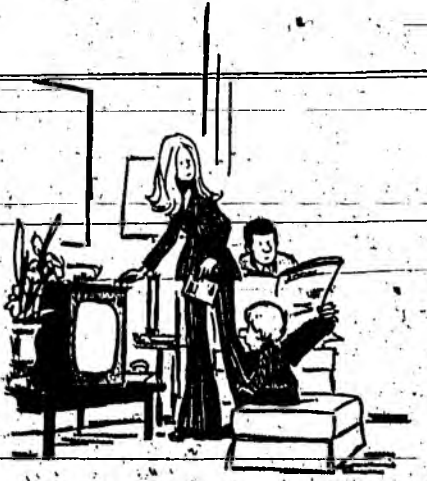

A good deal of this "night rising" can be alleviated, but not by any single form of treatment. Among men, prostate enlargement is a very common cause of this. Among the symptoms, besides frequency of urination, is a reduction in size of the stream, which is a helpful clue in prostate trouble.

Anyway, that's a prevalent trouble, and for further information I refer you to my booklet, "The Pesky Prostate." Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of Times-News for a copy.

There are other causes of "night rising," of course. Chronic infection may be present in the bladder, more prevalent in women than men. There may be a kidney disorder. In women, a sagging of the bladder as a result of childbirth or other cause may have created a condition known as cystocele. Relatively simple surgery is the usual answer for that. Other causes: too many fluids before retiring or the use of diuretic drugs. These are beat down early in the day so that water release occurs during the day.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Gee! How come I can't watch my cartoons, 'cause of violence? You an' dad always watch the news!"

MR. SPECTATOR

Yes, Virginia!

Back in 1897 a little girl by the name of Virginia O'Hanlon wrote a letter to the New York Sun newspaper. She wanted to know if there was a Santa Claus.

Francis Pharcellus Church, an editorial writer, answered her note and became as close to being immortal as one could possibly be.

"I am eight years old," Virginia wrote in her note. "Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says 'if you see it in the Sun it's so.'"

Mr. Church's answer to Virginia in the editorial he wrote, will live forever — or at least as long as there are little children. Mr. Spectator prints that answer today. Reading it will do you good!

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of our man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies. You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if you did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart.

Only faith, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supersubstantial beauty and glory beyond it. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Hughes aide witnessed signature

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A personal aide of Howard Hughes, who claims he has seen the mystery billionaire almost daily for the past five years, says he saw the industrialist sign a document bringing the head of his Nevada operations.

However, a handwriting expert and former associate of Robert Maheu, Hughes' Nevada chief, claims the signature on the letter of dismissal is a forgery.

Both men testified Monday in the Nevada District Court hearing stemming from the attempted ousting of Maheu by executives of Hughes Tool Co., the Houston-based parent firm of the billionaire's giant business empire.

Today's session was to continue with the question of alleged forgery of the letter. Ralph Bradford, a handwriting expert who testified for Hughes Tool last week, was to be cross-examined.

Levar B. Myler, who identified himself as a "special assistant" to Hughes, said Hughes signed a proxy Nov. 14 firing Maheu, who has been the billionaire's No. 1 man in Nevada for the past four years. Myler said the signing took place in the ninth-floor penthouse maintained by Hughes in the Desert Inn Hotel in Las Vegas. The witness also testified Hughes subsequently went to the Britannia Beach Hotel in Nassau, the Bahamas, and from there issued instructions the proxy be released.

Earlier in the day, handwriting expert Charles Appel Jr., a former FBI agent with Maheu, testified on behalf of Maheu that Hughes' purported signature on the document presented by the Hughes Tool Co. was a "simulation or imitation."

"It's a very good representation," he said. "It would pass any bank teller and other business associates would accept it, but it's deficient. It's extremely skillful but it's a forgery."

When asked if it was a forgery, Appel replied, "It is a forgery." The tool company, represented by chief counsel Chester W. Davis, called Myler as its first witness to refute Appel's allegations.

Myler, a heavyset, gray-haired man in his 60s, was one of few persons ever to admit they had so much as seen Hughes in recent years. Myler said he was in "face to face" contact with him almost daily in the past five years.

Maheu has conceded on the witness stand he never met Hughes, although he ran his $300 million Nevada interests.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Millions of children spend most days alone home because working mothers lack proper day care facilities, according to a child welfare expert.

The solution, Therese Langburgh told delegates to the White House Conference on Children, is to make day-care centers as common in the United States as public schools.

Her proposal was one of several ideas advanced Monday on the first full day of the conference, a meeting held every 10 years since 1909. About 4,000 delegates are attending and several hundred of them are unhappy about the way the conference is organized.

President Nixon received an enthusiastic welcome when he launched the conference Sunday but by Monday night, groups of blacks, Mexican-Americans, young people and other delegates had met in separate protest meetings. The principal complaint was that no meeting of the entire conference had been scheduled—where all delegates could vote.

Glimpse and S.Sgt. Martin Fagan, 24, now at Ft. Hood, were the last two witnesses Monday. Fagan was a mortar platoon sergeant at My Lai.

Killing said My Lai task

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — Five witnesses in a row have told the Calley court-martial their impression was that the American war mission at My Lai was to slaughter everything in the village, including women and children.

All said in testimony Monday that they came away from a briefing given by Capt. Ernest Medina the day before the sweep with the idea that anybody found in My Lai was an enemy and should be killed—even though he did not specifically mention women and children. Medina was the company commander of L. William Calley Jr., charged with murder in the alleged My Lai massacre.

None of the five testified to killing anybody, although each saw five civilians, they said. One, Steven R. Glimpse, 22, of Portland, Ore., said he saw a dead baby "and I remember it so well because I saw no reason why this child should be killed." Calley commanded a platoon in Medina's Charlie Company. The Monday witnesses were the last five of 10 called so far by the defense in its attempt to win its acquittal of charges that he murdered 102 civilians that day, with his own fire or that of his men at his order.

Medina is accused by the Army with overall responsibility for "at least 175" civilian murders in the mission, which was designed to flush out and destroy the Cong 48th Viet Cong Battalion. The division was one by Shey Patterson of Jerome, who was helped by his wife B. H. Hatcher, with a total "error time" of 20.04 minutes. The drivers were given a specified time to complete the course, which began at the Ponderosa Inn and covered back roads in Cassia and Minidoka counties.

The winners of the road rally are calculated on the basis of least error in completing the route. Patterson actually was slower despite his experience than Terry Bowden of Burley, who captured first place in the novice division with an error of 22.34 minutes.

Steve Lawrason, Hagerman, was second in the novice division with a 56.21-minute time completing the route, and Bruce Krolje, Twin Falls, came in second among experienced drivers with a time lag of 28.56 minutes.

Buhl displays depict Christmas around world

By PAULINE DAY Times-News Correspondent

BUHL — Have you ever wondered how Christmas was celebrated in Holland, Japan or perhaps the Philippines? If so, a tour through the "Christmas Around the World" display in the Penney building might answer a lot of your questions. The display, which opened Thursday evening, is open to the public from 1 to 9 p.m. daily except Sunday when it will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. There is no admission charge.

The unique display is sponsored by the Buhl Chamber of Commerce with Mrs. Loren Johnson and Robert E. Balley, co-chairmen. Other chamber members assisting include Kon Jones, Danny Lowm and Howard Hopkins.

The center display window in front of the building features Christmas in Mexico and is courtesy of the Buhl Art Guild. The window display, furnished by the Buhl Public Library, illustrates the "Christmas Around the World" theme through books.

Scenes inside the building include "Christmas in the Philippines by the First Christian Church. The display features a thatched hut made of corn husks and a large illuminated star. A three-paneled scene depicting Christmas in Alaska was furnished by the Kiwanis Club.

The history of the Christmas card is explained in the Rotary Club exhibit, and cathedral windows form the background for the Bible display by the Buhl Ministerial Association.

Christmas in the United States features a snow scene in miniature showing Christmas Eve with a church, carolers and nativity scene, courtesy of Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. The Methodist Church has constructed a German house with a typical inside view through the open window and door. A visit from St. Nicholas accompanied by his helper is shown in the Czechoslovakian display by the Lucerne Grange. The life-size figures are dressed in authentic Czech dress. The display also features a Czechoslovakian "Christmas tree."

The three wise men on their journey across the sands of Egypt is shown in the display by the Order of Eastern Star. The window features the night sky illuminated by blue lights. Angels and the northern lights are featured in the Yukon display by the Fairview Grange, and Christmas in South Central America is the exhibit shown by the young people of the LDS Church.

A windmill, ice akates and wooden shoes accent the Christmas in Holland exhibit by the Lucerne Social Club. The interior of the house features an authentic Dutch calendar and typical Christmas decorations. A pastoral scene in Japan backed by a painting of Mt. Fujiyama is furnished by the Buhl Lions Club. The scene shows a winter Japanese garden.

Carrying out the main theme of "Christmas Around the World" is the display by the United Presbyterian Church which features a madonna and child before a Christmas tree decorated with doves.

In keeping with the spirit of Christmas the Jay-C-ettes have a booth at the display for donation of toys, food or cash to be used in the annual Christmas welfare projects. Names of families needing assistance this Christmas may also be left at the booth.

Used dolls which have been dressed by Senior Citizen ladies under the direction of Mrs. Bennah Kaster are on display at the Jay-C-ette booth. The dolls along with toys repaired and painted by the Buhl firemen will be given, to underprivileged children on Christmas. Food baskets also will be delivered to needy families.

The use of the Penney building was donated by Cecil Harkins, owner, and the Jaycees erected the standards and greenery roping for the aisles. Stereo Christmas music is courtesy of Joslin's Appliance, props from Bonnie's Flowers and individual identification cards for the display were made by Mrs. Vic Crismor of the Art Guild.

High school girls are guides for the display and special music is furnished by the high school music department with Bob Swanson, director. Brent Blackburn, high school drama teacher assisted with the lighting and special effects.

Nez Perce funds set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Monday signed a bill authorizing distribution of $1,110,071 to two Indian tribes. The funds were awarded initially by the Indian Claims Commission. The formula provided in the bill earmarks 87 per cent of the money for the Nez Perce Tribe of Idaho and 13 per cent for the Confederated Tribes of the Colville Reservation in the state of Washington.

Both tribes have approved the formula, the White House said. The Nez Perce Tribe plans to use the money for land acquisition, revolving credit, scholarships and per capita payments, the White House said. The Colville tribes plan per capita payments.

Successful Investing
By ROGER E. SPEAR
Q. We bought Murphy Oil at 35. Should we stay with the stock for future gains? How is the company holding up in these difficult times?—M.L.

A. Very well. With Murphy Oil's ninth month report came some gratifying earnings news. Led by a 114 per cent spurt in 3rd quarter earnings, Murphy turned in a remarkable 50 per cent gain for the full period.

There are several reasons for such a robust performance, not the least of which was the company's ability, as a result of shipping contracts signed last year, to avoid the excessive costs resulting from run-away spot tanker rates. This, combined with firming product prices in Eastern Canada and Western Europe, has provided Murphy with exceptionally healthy profit margins.

Rich in assets, endowed with excellent oil finding potential and showing extraordinary earnings power, Murphy represents an above-average combination of safety and capital gains potential. Hold Q. What is the condition of Federated Department Stores? What is the future outlook, and should I hold or sell?—C.C.

A. Federated Department Stores is one of the largest and most geographically diversified firms in its field. Sales have been in a healthy upturn for the past ten years, with earnings, in all but one year, moving ahead also.

Despite a 5 per cent gain in sales for the first 9 months of fiscal 1970-1971, profits slid 16 per cent under the pressures of inflated costs, heavy merchandising markdowns, and increased inventory shrinkage. The GM strike also affected profitability. Given a strong Christmas season, full year earnings are expected to only approximate last year's levels.

However, indications of a revival in consumer confidence, coupled with rising personal disposable income and an unusually high savings rate, point to a stronger pace for retail sales during 1971. Moreover, long-pull prospects are greatly enhanced by

Morton backs Connally appointment

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)—President Nixon's nomination of John Connally for secretary of the treasury should help Nixon to "great things" with both the Congress and the voters, National GOP Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton said Monday.

But Morton, who is Nixon's interior secretary-designate, look the Republican governors dropping his bombshell. "I think with Mr. Connally as announced, Nixon's choice to succeed resigning Secretary David Kennedy. Reaction varied from Oregon Gov. Tom McCall who said he felt some GOP governors particularly lame-ducks, would find it "disturbing" to see a Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond Shafer who said he felt most were "friendly" with Connally. Shafer is the outgoing chairman of the Republican governors' association. Connally, a Democrat, served briefly as secretary of the Navy in President John F. Kennedy's administration, later resigned to win the governorship of Texas and was wounded when Kennedy was killed in Dallas.

"I think the President can do some great things with this," Morton told newsmen after dropping his bombshell. "I think with Mr. Connally as announced, Nixon's choice to succeed resigning Secretary David Kennedy. Reaction varied from Oregon Gov. Tom McCall who said he felt some GOP governors particularly lame-ducks, would find it "disturbing" to see a Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond Shafer who said he felt most were "friendly" with Connally. Shafer is the outgoing chairman of the Republican governors' association. Connally, a Democrat, served briefly as secretary of the Navy in President John F. Kennedy's administration, later resigned to win the governorship of Texas and was wounded when Kennedy was killed in Dallas.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York took a more charitable view of the Connally appointment, noting the President has the right to pick whomsoever he wishes. "I think that the President has the responsibility of picking his own cabinet," Rockefeller said. "Certainly, he has his reasons. I wouldn't necessarily say it was for the 1972 elections."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: When my brother and I were young, our parents bought us a set of books called The Book of Knowledge. There were 20 volumes in all, and it was understood that when my brother and I got married we would split the set up and each get half. Well, my brother got married first, and he took volumes one thru 10. He and his wife seemed perfectly satisfied. Then I got married and I took volumes 11 thru 20. Well, volume 20 just happened to be the index. All of a sudden, my brother's wife writes to me saying their half isn't as good as our half because we got the index which is the most important book in the whole set, and it wasn't "fair."

I wrote back and told her that my brother got first pick and he took the first 10 volumes, and I couldn't help it if we got the index. I don't want a family fight, but I don't think I should send her the index, do you? How can this be settled?
GOT THE INDEX

DEAR GOT: Since the index happens to be in your half, and your brother chose his half first, your sister-in-law can't yell "foul." If a loaf may be better than none, but a little learning is still a dangerous thing, so if I were you, I'd start saving up for a complete set, and tell your brother to do the same.

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a woman who is a few years older than I am. She has a teen-aged daughter by a previous marriage whom I will call "Little Miss Sexpot" for obvious reasons. Little Miss Sexpot had been making her home with her father by prior agreement. Around Thanksgiving Little Miss Sexpot came to visit us during which time I became aware that she was flirting with me. I tried my best to discourage her without being rude, and thought I had made my position clear when this little girl became unbelievably bold and aggressive. I finally had to sit her down and tell her what was what. Suddenly she announced that she wanted to live with us? Her mother was delighted. I was not and made no secret of it. When the girl realized I was absolutely against it, she told me if I didn't change my mind she would tell her mother that I had made improper advances toward her. Knowing the true story, Abby, what would you do in my place?
---PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: I would tell the girl that I refused to be blackmailed, and if she carried out her threat, I would tell my side of the story. (P. S. Don't worry, she won't.) And if she does, I am betting that her mother knows her little girl better than you do.

DEAR ABBY: Wives who think their husbands go on hunting trips to chase other women ought to have their heads examined. I have gone hunting and fishing with sportsmen for 40 years, and I have never known a man to get mixed up with a chick on one of those trips. First, there are no available women out in the briar patches. And second, a man who is looking for action of that type doesn't have to drive a thousand miles, and then go out in the woods looking for broads when Chicago is full of them?

Continue desert entry, Valley residents ask

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

SUN VALLEY—A delegation of Magic Valley residents including—Charlie—Marshall, Jerome, chairman of the Idaho Water Resources Board, met here Monday afternoon, with newly appointed Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton, to urge continuation of the desert entry land program for future development in Idaho.

Vernon Ravenscroft, Gooding County legislator, said he felt the new official, who will not take office until January, was sympathetic with the Idaho problem.

"He was a good listener and asked some searching questions and I believe we were able to get our point across," Ravenscroft said.

Others attending the special and brief meeting with Morton, now national Republican chairman and delegate to the Republican Governors' Conference here, included Dr. Robert Lee, Boise, executive director, Idaho Water Resources Board; David Little, Emmett, and Allen Irwin, Hagerman.

Ravenscroft said Lee presented information on the total land development program of Idaho in the past 25 years. Lee said about 50,000 acres per year of new land is being put under cultivation through the desert entry program, all of it coming from Bureau of Land Management domain. He also presented information on what land classifications the water board has made for future development in Idaho.

"Our main purpose," said Ravenscroft, "was to solicit the future secretary of the Interior's interest in our land development program. Idaho along with Nevada and Arizona are the only states using the desert entry program, but it is important in our states."

Marshall, who headed the delegation, explained Idaho's only hope for future land development lies with the desert entry program as all private lands have been developed. This system, although it takes several years to complete, allows capital from private individuals to bring about sound agricultural development.

Morton served as a member of the Land-Law-Review Commission which has now completed a report on all land administration and management of federal agencies. In the report one of the recommendations calls for discontinuing the desert entry program.

Mutual interest...

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS of interest to both states are discussed by Wyoming Gov. Stanley K. Hathaway, left, and Harold Hove, Twin Falls, member of the Idaho Commerce and Development Board and president of Twin Falls Bank and Trust. They visited during the Republican Governors' Conference at Sun Valley.

Morton stresses conservation

SUN VALLEY—Rogers C. B. Morton, who has been tapped by President Nixon to be the next secretary of the interior, told governors here for the Republican Governors' Conference that conservation should be the watchword in the United States.

Morton, who is congressman from Maryland and who was keynote speaker at this conference which ends Wednesday morning as the governors breakfast with Vice-President Agnew, was singled out by Gov. David F. Cargo, New Mexico, and a whole series of interconnected policy statements asked of him.

Gov. Cargo asked his views on the Indian situation, public lands, the handling of oil pollution and the continued leasing of offshore area for well drilling.

With humor, Morton retorted with "now that was a simple and concise question. I don't know whether to answer yes or no."

Then he said that he was in "complete support" of President Nixon's program designed to benefit the Indian people including $850 million for this work which, he said, "will be by far the biggest program ever taken."

He continued and said that many of the interior problems were "complicated and difficult" but that "if we have to err in our times let's err on the side of conservation."

The remarks brought sustained applause from the governors and others attending the session.

Then Governor Cargo said that the Indians feel more kindly toward the Republican party right now "than they have in any of the past 30 years."

Panel discussion featured the views of Leon F. Hickman, Pennsylvania, currently a director of Alcoa and chairman of the governor's commission to revise the Public Employee's Law of Pennsylvania in 1968, and Jerry Wurf, Washington D. C., president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO. He has held the post since 1964.

Wurf told of labor's view and said that grievances represent 90 per cent of the problems in public and private employment. He said it was "very hard" for public officials to give up power to a union, especially those public officials with political power. But, he said, it is "terribly important" that labor doesn't want to go to a civil service commission or a city council or the legislature.

At this point Gov. John Love, Colorado, said wages can be negotiated but a budget, once adopted, cannot. Therefore if union members want something which will cost more money they must go to these agencies.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, California, broke in to say that "in the final analysis" the governors cannot give away that right to make the final decision. He said he recognized the right of a worker to quit but not to strike.

"I believe you cannot strike against the public," the California governor said. He added that if the budget could be changed, say, by a referendum of the people then he would go along with it.

Hickman discussed the new Pennsylvania law in detail. He said collective bargaining should be "mandatory in all applications and that in the matter of policy the employer 'must meet and discuss' but the decision should be in his hand."

Hickman told the governors "a private employer can close up shop, but you cannot, so you have the problem and you face the toughest job in public life today."

Business session...

Regional institutes supported

TWIN FALLS—Twin Falls School District No. 411 may "bolt" the state teachers' institutes in future years and sponsor a local Magic Valley-wide in-service training session, General agreement of the concept of a local "institute," instead of the massive regional sessions such as those held in Boise, Sun Valley and Pocatello last October, was voiced by the board of trustees, representatives of the teaching staff and Dr. Ernest H. Ragland, superintendent of schools, at a board meeting Monday night.

negotiation between the faculty and the trustees. Among the suggestions was a request for "more effective in-service training programs than the teacher institutes held each fall."

Milton Barus, spokesman for the faculty representatives, said many teachers have expressed dissatisfaction with the regional institutes, saying that they personally gained little in career training. In Boise, for example, thousands of teachers thronged into "popular" sessions of the institute, few attended the "unpopular," and few teachers felt their individual problems were studied.

Death report said incorrect

BURLEY—A wire service report carried in Monday's Times-News regarding the hunting death of a Burley man is erroneous according to Sheriff Mac Monson of Bear Lake County.

The report said Allen Tolman, 29, Burley, was killed by an accidental shot from the gun of his hunting companion, David Hill, 31, Heyburn, while the two were hunting near the Bear Lake-Caribou county line.

Monson said an investigation revealed it would have been impossible for Hill's gun to have caused the fatal wound, but that Tolman's own .270 caliber rifle discharged through a coverall pocket and into the victim's body.

Hansen plans lighting

HANSEN—Installation of lights is planned at the Hansen football field, trustees reported today.

It was decided at the board meeting Monday night to proceed with the installation even though only about half the necessary funds have been raised. An auction netted $1,806.84 and trustees say other fund raising projects are expected in the future.

Trustees approved use of funds under Title III for purchasing library books for all ages.

Bus repairs were discussed and Cecil Stanger, Trustee, and Mrs. Jennie Bennett, clerk of the board, reported on a workshop attended at Idaho State University, Pocatello.

A meeting will be called Jan. 6 for students who have been absent more than 10 days since school started. Their parents also will be asked to attend.

Party chairman speaks...

DELIVERING KEYNOTE address at Republican Governors Conference is Rogers C. B. Morton, national GOP chairman who will become secretary of interior in President Nixon's cabinet. At his right is Idaho Gov. Don Samuelson, host for the meeting at Sun Valley.

Briefing meet opens

TWIN FALLS—The general meeting of a legislative briefing session was scheduled to open at 1:30 p. m. today in Twin Falls under sponsorship of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the SICC, said barring last minute cancellations, all Magic Valley legislators will be at the meeting.

SICC standing committees have been working for several months preparing resolutions and recommendations to present to the legislators for consideration prior to opening of the 41st Idaho Legislature in January.

Education and agriculture are expected to be prime topics of discussion. Other standing committees of the valley-wide chamber include: tourism, transportation, recreation and industry.

The executive board of the SICC will meet with the legislators at 11 a. m. and the two groups will lunch together prior to the general session. All meetings are at the Holiday Inn.

Youth raps Jerome dress code

JEROME—Jerome school trustees heard criticism of the high school dress code at their board meeting Monday night from the student body president. Twenty-four other students also attended the meeting.

Ron Reese, student body president, made two proposals about the existing dress code which the board adopted last August and has been in effect since school started last fall.

The students want to give the responsibility for the students' dress back to the parents, Reese said. He suggested a board composed of three students and three teachers who would control the standards. If any youths dress was considered obscene, unsanitary or immoral, he would come before this board.

Reese also proposed organization of a forum for exchange of ideas on the subject between three or four students selected by the student body; trustees and three teachers, selected by the faculty; Supt. John Campbell and principal Jerry Diehl.

This group could work out compromise on the current dress code, the student leader suggested.

Trustees told him to put his suggestions in writing and present it to the board as soon as possible so they can act on it at the January meeting. The current code allows boys to wear sideburns, but no beards; hair cannot be over the collar or cover ears or eyebrows and no one can be barefoot. Girls may wear pant dresses and suits, but no shorts.

In other business, trustees:

— Hired Mrs. Jack Hyder as new fourth grade teacher.

— Learned that Harry Murphy has been hired to handle traffic during bus loadings at the school morning and evening.

— Approved a proposal by Supt. Campbell to remodel the junior high school auditorium, provided the project meets state approval.

Shoshone agency elects Johnson

SHOSHONE—Myron D. Johnson was elected president of the Shoshone Chamber of Commerce at the annual election meeting Monday night at the Manhattan Cafe.

Roy Hubert was named vice president. Mrs. Robert Gaskill was retained as secretary-treasurer. Directors include Wilson Churchman, Roger Maxwell, Dennis Everett, Hansen and Gilbert Pierson. Everert is the retiring president.

William Grange, Boise, director of industrial and commercial relations for Idaho Power Co., spoke on the growth and development in Idaho. He pointed out there are problems which accompany industrial development, such as pollution, housing and increased the same period. He pointed to ideal weather and people as the greatest assets for the Magic Valley area, as well as adequate water and clean air.

The Gen'l Statesman quartet, Twin Falls, composed of Don Hebert, Bert Hulsh, Bill Erickson and Joe Hutchison, sang. Arrangements committee was composed of Kenneth Blackburn, Hansen, Herb Love,

Highway plan

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California's Highway Master Plan calls for landscaped safety lanes along the state's major highway system.

Pant suits proper

WENDELL—Women employees of the Wendell School District, including teachers, may wear pant suits to work if they wish.

This was one of the actions approved Monday night in a meeting of the Wendell school board trustees. Board members said the slacks should be long and in good taste but will be acceptable in the classroom, school offices and any other department.

Board members also discussed several student tuitions due by Jan. 1, and said if they are not paid by then attendance must be denied the students. Buildings of the school require full approval of the Idaho Department of Health, with the exception of a stairway railing which they said should be lowered for more safety provisions.

Inspection of the school followed a report of four hepatitis cases in Wendell and the health officials said they all appear to have come from one child who contracted the illness and spread it to three of his close friends. It was reported the situation is well under control.

A fire inspection by assistant fire chief Charles Irwin indicated larger entrance and exit doors should be provided at the high school gymnasium.

In other action members approved a continuing program of teacher-parent conferences each year following the first grading period. Grade school principal Arlin Dennis reported 277 or nearly 80 per cent of the parents participated in this year's conference.

Possible commencement followed a report of four speakers for 1971 were presented by members of the senior class and will be conducted by Supt. Lawrence Larpe and a choice named.

Board members also approved a new insurance program at a cost of 96 cents per month for life insurance and $10 per month for health and accident, to be paid by the district for all employees previously covered under an expiring policy.

Jacoby Modern Finds 3 N-T Bid

over from the old days, when the two-over-one response might be made with just seven or eight points. Standard American has followed expert procedure, and here this response shows the same minimum values as it does in JACOBY MODERN. However, it has failed to change all subsequent bids. So, in standard American, South would rebid two spades, play the hand there and either make his contract or go down one, depending on how the play went.

How does North find his rebid? In three-trump, in JACOBY MODERN, it is common sense. We play an rebid after two-over-one except two of our own suit in a one-round force. North had to rebid. His hand is suitable for no-trump play and he rebids three no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 You do bid four clubs and he bids five clubs. What do you do now?
 Answer Tomorrow

There is nothing complicated about the play of today's hand. North and South can make three no-trump. If South gets a club lead, he probably will run off the first 10 tricks.

There is also nothing complicated about the bidding if you play JACOBY MODERN. It is shown in the box. South has a sound one-spike opening. Fourteen high-card-points and a five-card suit. It isn't anything to rave about, but it is one point more than a minimum.

So far, the bidding has gone exactly as it would in standard American. JACOBY MODERN and standard American are basically the same system.

When it comes to South's rebid, the systems diverge. In standard American, you still need more than 14 high-card points for the two-trump rebid. This is a hang-

JUST ABOUT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS HER BEST MEASUREMENT. But the man who knows his chest measurement is a rarity. Most any woman knows her hip measurement, also. But hardly a man knows his. Tell a woman her hips outpace her bustline by two inches and she will not regard it as news. Such is average in the feminine figure. But tell a man his hips are two inches bigger than his chest and he'll probably contradict you, although such too is average in the male body build.

WAS UP ON the river this morning. Digging a hole. Fellow comes along, sits down on stump, rolls a cigarette and says, "Outhouse?" I say, "Yeah," and kept at it. The soil was sandy enough to make the digging easy, but the roots kept getting in the way. Another old-boy comes along, hunches down, and says, "You're going to have to go deeper than that." I said, "Looks that way." Couple more men showed up pretty soon. One says, "You'd be better off putting in a septic tank." I agreed. The other says, "Know a guy with a backhoe who'd come in cheap." It was about waist-deep by then. First fellow with the roll-over says, "Believe the phone company might do that for you free with their post-hole-suger." I hoisted myself out of the hole and said, "Guess I'll take a break." I headed up the river, thinking, "These guys don't get it. A man can dig a hole just because he wants to dig a hole, but they don't savvy." When I got back a couple of hours later, the hole was three feet deeper than I'd left it, the walls smooth and true, the foundation rocks perfectly in place. And nobody was around.

Detroit Lions take 28-23 win over Los Angeles Rams

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Steve Owens, rubbing for injured Mel Farr, ran for two touchdowns and quarterback Greg Landry passed for another Monday night in a 28-23 win by the Detroit Lions over the Los Angeles Rams.

The victory gave the Lions a 14-1 record and kept alive their hopes of getting into the National Football Conference playoffs as the best second-place team.

They play their final game against Green Bay this weekend.

Farr, the Lions' running ace, suffered a dislocated shoulder on the sixth scrimmage play of the game but Owens filled in ably for him.

Owens, winner of the Helmsman Trophy at Oklahoma last year, flashed over right tackle from six yards out at 12:04 in the second quarter for his first touchdown. He made his second on a four-yard smash with just 1:45 left in the game.

This second score gave the Lions what proved to be their deciding points. After Errol Mann's fourth conversation of the night, they led 28-16.

Roman Gabriel, who was bottled up most of the game by the tough Detroit defense, threw a five-yard touchdown pass to Billy Truax with six seconds to play.

The final score showing a difference of only five points between the teams was deceptive. The Lions were far superior especially on the ground.

Stan Smith leads in Masters Tennis event

TOKYO (UPI)—Stan Smith, celebrating his 24th birthday and playing in his last tournament before induction into the U.S. Armed Forces, beat Ken Rosewall of Australia Monday to take a clear lead in the $50,000 Masters tennis tournament.

Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., beat Rosewall 6-4, 7-5 and advanced into the final round against countryman Arthur Ashe with a 4-0 record in the round-robin tournament.

In other games Monday, Rod Laver of Australia beat Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 and Ashe, of Gum Spring, Va., beat Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

With one round to play, Laver and Rosewall are tied with 3-1 records, Ashe stands at 2-2 while Kodes and Franulovic are both 0-4.

The final round to decide the distribution of prize money with $16,000 going to the winner, will be—Rosewall versus Laver, Franulovic versus Kodes and Ashe versus Smith. The winner will be decided on the basis of sets lost in the case of a three-2 tie and the win-loss records for a two-way tie.

Smith, who is scheduled to fly back to the U.S. Tuesday night in time to make his scheduled induction, mixed powerful serves with skillful net play to inflict the first loss on Rosewall.

French wins slalom

SESTRIERE, Italy (UPI)—Patrick Russel, a French gambler with nerves as big as the slopes of this alpine resort, raced to victory Monday in the first major slalom of the new season. His win confirmed pre-season warnings that France is the toughest team on the ski circuit.

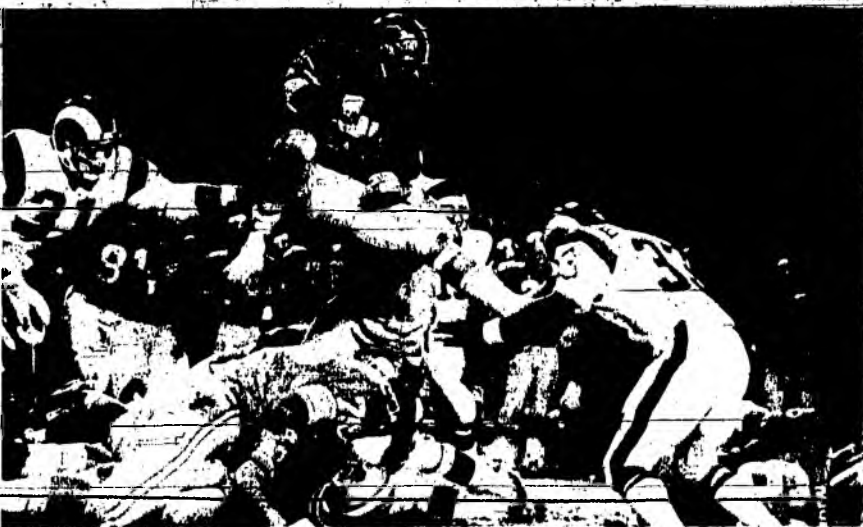

The 24-year-old Russel, the slalom silver medalist at the world championships earlier this year, outduelled Italian idol Gustav Thoeni in two heats to win by 81-100ths of a second.

It was the fourth win by France, which also got away to a flying start in World Cup standings over the weekend by taking both the men's and women's downhill races.

Thoeni started fifth and whizzed down the 1,070 foot course, which dropped 604 feet through 58 gates, in 55.95 seconds. Then Russel, starting 10th in the 92-man field, passed him with a time of 55.89 seconds.

On the second run, which was the same distance but included 61 gates, the pressure was on Thoeni. Russel went first, clocking 57.82 seconds—an overall time of 112.71 seconds—on a course getting rutted and squishy in the bright sun. Thoeni could do no better than 58.27 and an overall 114.52.

"As long as I don't become the first French skier to let us down," said Russel, "I'll be happy. We've got a good team."

Coin flip may decide playoff spot

NEW YORK (UPI)—A coin flip to decide one of the playoff berths in the National Football League's complicated system became a very real possibility Monday night because of Detroit's victory over Los Angeles.

If Detroit, Dallas and the New York Giants all win their final games this Sunday, Detroit and Dallas will be tied for the best second-place records in the National Football Conference at 10-4 and will have to flip a coin to decide a playoff spot.

When the NFL designed the playoff system, the coin flip was put in only as a last resort to decide a playoff berth.

because no team is going to be very happy about being eliminated from the playoffs by a coin flip.

However, in a Detroit-Dallas tie, the last resort comes up very quickly because Detroit and Dallas didn't meet during the regular season and the teams would have the same record within the National Conference.

An NFL spokesman said Monday that the league hasn't yet decided where the coin flip would be held if one is necessary or when it would take place.

Both Detroit and Dallas are at home for their last games and both are favored to win. Detroit hosts Green Bay, which is 6-7, while Dallas hosts Houston, which has a 3-9-1 mark.

If those clubs both win, the possibility of a coin flip will depend on how the Giants fare against Los Angeles. A Giant win gives the club the Eastern Conference championship and drops Dallas into the second place tie with Detroit.

However, if the Giants lose while Dallas and Detroit are winning, Dallas and Detroit will both make the playoffs and no coin flip will be necessary.

After the loss to Detroit Monday night, the Rams only shot at the playoffs is if they beat the Giants and San Francisco loses to Oakland.

Michigan State drops Butler

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Team captain Rudy Benjamin scored a career-high 41 points—28 of them in the second half—to help Michigan State recover from a 21-10 deficit midway through the first half and come back to trounce Butler, 69-75, Monday night.

The senior guard's scoring output was the third best individual effort in MSU history and it helped the Spartans better their season record to 3-1.

Butler, of Indianapolis, slipped to 2-5.

The Hawkeyes, now 2-3, outscored the Falcons 18-6 late in the first half to build a 49-39 intermission lead.

A spirited second half effort by Bowling Green's forward Rich Walker, who scored 20 of his 29 points after the intermission, led the Falcons, now 3-2, to a 64-64 tie.

Brown then connected two field goals to start Iowa toward the victory margin.

two-point lead with 9:01 left in the half, before State pulled away by scoring eight straight baskets on its way to grabbing a 46-33 halftime edge. MSU held its biggest lead, 69-66, with 3:30 left in the game.

Only Paul Brown, with a 6-2 record, has won more Senior Bowl games than Ewbank.

Lutheran Christmas program set Sunday

FILER — This year, as in years past, most Christmas programs will include playing or singing of the favorite carol "Silent Night." It will be sung as solo, and by choirs large or small. It will be played by orchestras, bands, as well as on organs, pianos and many instruments.

Yet, this beautiful hymn written in 1818 by Josef Mohr, a young parish priest, was sung for the very first time to a simple guitar accompaniment.

The simplicity of this arrangement will be repeated in the Peace Lutheran Christmas program to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday when the Walther League of the church will sing it, accompanied by two young men playing guitars.

Themes of the Christmas program to be presented by all members of the Sunday School classes is "God Loves Me Deeply." The public is invited, according to Rev. T.D. Johnston, pastor. A social hour will be held after the program.

Josef Mohr's beautiful "Stille Nacht" was later copied by an organ builder and found its way into a Leipzig concert in 1833. It immediately became popular and has remained so year after year.

Masons slate special meet

Scribblers elect

TWIN FALLS — Officers were elected for the Scribblers Club, with Mrs. Anna Hayes named president. It was announced today.

Mrs. Norma Walker is vice president and Mrs. Robert Stansell is secretary-treasurer.

The group elected officers during its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Olive Kelley. Mrs. Ethelyn Walkington showed slides of the Holy Land and Rome. The much traveled photographer informed the group of special features of specific cities. She compared Jerusalem's elevation of 2,600 feet to the tropical city of Jericho, 600 feet below sea level. She noted both Moslems and Jews worshipped in the Mosque of Omar and that the Church of the Nativity remains in much the same condition as in the 8th century.

Couple recites VOWS

TWIN FALLS — Theresa Ann Byrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Byrne, Twin Falls, and Michael Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lloyd, South San Francisco, Calif., were united in marriage Nov. 28.

The ceremony was performed at St. Bonedict's Priory by Father Simon. The background was a setting of candelabra and fell colored chrysanthemums. Mrs. Joan Elliot was organist and Linda Tulley was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white satin and French lace and carried a bouquet of green Spider chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Bill Giltner, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Kim Byrne was junior bridesmaid. Bridesmaids were Kathy McDonald, Bayton, Tex.; Carol Schreck, San Mateo, Calif.; Sharon LeGault, Pocatello, and Susan DeLuca, Jerome.

Best man was Doug Schreck and ushers were Ron Mazzonini, Leonard Garcia, Larry Allisterland and F. Del Rio Lovasquez, all of South San Francisco, and Darroll Brown, Pocatello.

Flower girl and ringbearer were Amy and Jimmy Morrison, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morrison.

Altar boys were Shawn and T.J. Byrne, cousins of the bride. A reception at St. Edward's Parish Hall was held after the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with candelabra and centered with a three-tiered cake made by Mrs. Elleen Day. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Bob Whitney, aunt of the bride, and Colleen Bluemer, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Jackie Molale was in charge of the guest book. Gifts were arranged by Sandi Johnson and Debbie Clark. Coffee was served by Mrs. Tom Byrne and Debbie Whitney and Mrs. Wayne Bluemer, aunt of the bride, and Shannon Bluemer, cousin of the bride, poured punch.

A pre-nuptial shower was given by Kathy McDonald. The couple will reside in Pocatello, where both are attending Idaho State University. Special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gray, Meridian, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. L. Curry, San Francisco.

Guests attended from Boise, McCall, Meridian, Richfield and San Francisco.

Sheryl Hance, Olsen say nuptial vows

TWIN FALLS — Sheryl Hance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hance, and Jerry Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Olsen, were united in marriage in a candlelight setting Dec. 5 at the Carillon, Twin Falls.

Bishop Ted Crockett performed the double ring ceremony before a white-velvet-flocked, background-accented with lavender bells and bows. A cathedral basket of lavender and white Spider chrysanthemums, pompons and cupid flanked the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of silk organza. The bodice of alencon lace featured a Victorian neckline edged with pearls and Juliet sleeves. Medallions of lace bordered the skirt and mantilla train. She carried a formal cascade bouquet centered with an orchid surrounded by lavender and white carnations.

Maid of honor was Barbara Herrett. Bridesmaids were Penny Dockstader, Sheri Sweat and Kathy Lang. Flower girl was Glenda Hance, sister of the bride.

Kent Watson served as best man, with Bob White, Steve Olsen and Robert Olson, brothers of the bridegroom, serving as ushers. Ringbearer was Rick Hance, brother of the bride. Steve and Robert Olson also served as candlelighters.

Mrs. Alvin Boyd, aunt of the bride, registered guests at a round table skirted in ruffled lace, accented with a plumed pin and an arrangement of lavender and white pompons and carnations.

Gift bearer was Darla Boyd, cousin of the bride. Gifts were displayed by Donna Brownfield and Vickie Olson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, in the balcony on tables draped with taffeta and edged with gold.

The bride's table was skirted in lace with a garland of boxwood and lavender chrysanthemums. The table was centered with a three-tiered square wedding cake-decorated with white lace work and lavender flowers, flanked by cherub candelabra holding arrangements of white and lavender carnations, chrysanthemums and ivy.

The bride's memory candle was decorated with lavender and white Lilies of the Valley, carnations and pearl hearts.

The cake was cut and served by Pam Stewart and Debi Hance, sister of the bride. Sandi Bennett and Darla Boyd poured punch and coffee. Guests were served at quartet tables covered with lavender-over lace and centered with candles surrounded by silk illusion and ribbon.

After a honeymoon trip to Salt Lake City, the couple will reside at Town-Crest Manor, 415 2nd Ave. E.

Magic Valley servicemen's wives convene for dinner

TWIN FALLS — Twenty-two wives of Magic Valley servicemen met Saturday evening at the Holiday Inn for dinner and a Christmas gift exchange. As each member opened her gift, she introduced herself and told where her husband is stationed and when he will return.

visited their husbands in Hawaii during their R and R leaves.

A highlight of the evening was the appearance of Sgt. Mike Ruff and his wife, Jenn. Sgt. Ruff returned this month from Chu Lai, Vietnam. The Ruffs will be stationed in Tacoma, Wash.

Hostesses were the members from the Wendell area, Mary Ann Dixon, Martina Koch and Connie Buker.

Any and all military wives in the Magic Valley area are invited to join this group for its meeting twice monthly. Two meetings are planned for January. The group will go out for dinner Jan. 9, with Kathy Wilkins as hostess, and Jan. 23, Maxine MacDonald will entertain at her home.

Any service families interested in an hour of Christmas caroling Dec. 23 are invited to meet at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Betty Murphy, 450 Tyler St.

Favorable review given for "The Odd Couple"

TWIN FALLS — Wit and wonder were the order of the weekend at the YWCA where the Magic Valley Little Theatre presented Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple."

The wit was the author's, and the wonder was, and is, that so much sustained humor could come from a society that is as disrupted as the news-media would have us believe. Neil Simon is an author with what appears to be an inexhaustible supply of comic enterprise. He affords both performer and audience the rich experience of laughter and delight.

The local production, under the direction of Dianna Hickerson, took full advantage of the author's opportunities. The play was fast paced, and proceeded without effort to amuse audiences in the comfortable surroundings accommodating it at the "Y". Produced in arena-style with spectators on three sides of the play area, the setting was simple, open, and allowed the players plenty of physical room to take advantage of the frustrations within the story line.

The story itself is an satire in the broadest fashion of the popular soap-opera, divorcee style, from the point of view of the male. Without resorting to sex themes, or maudlin romanticism, "The Odd Couple" uses the device of the poker game to agitate the wits and schemes of six men "on their night out."

The principal burden of the play is carried by the divorced heat of the game, and the frigid he takes in as house guest who is on the immediate verge of separation. The efforts of these two to readjust to new freedoms leads to frustration, argument and general chaos of the very funniest kind.

This type of theater puts demands on the comic abilities of the players of very special sorts. It insists on an acute awareness of situation, and a very close association between the actor and his role as a human creature, as well as his ability to sustain the thought-inwit without giving away the possibility that these characters don't really deserve the "good" fortune they have themselves maneuvered into.

As the host of the game, Dewey Shandy was most effective when he used his responsibly funny lines as gags he knew were written to be punch lines. Other times when he seemed not so much to enjoy his own sense of humor gave the impression that he was playing a different character from the one we laughed at, and with, when he did. This spectator was not always sure that he knew how funny his role was all the way through. This might not have been so evident had not Brad Hickerson, as the house guest, been so consistently in a state of self-enjoyment, both through how and what he had to say, as well as in the complete identity with his character as a living stage personality. From mood to mood, and impossibility to impossibility, Hickerson was plausible and enormously funny.

Others adding to the general merriment were Buzz Langdon as a caustic but determined poker enthusiast; Arthur Evans; doggedly determined to enervate his night out; Jim Latham; noticeably awkward in his cop duty; and Carol Dowd, clock watching his way from loss to loss.

The scenes involving the two female participants, Esther Nicholson and Jean Hovey, as nearby neighbors, were the most cleverly staged in the production and made the most of a very good thing given them by the author.

The Magic Valley Little Theatre has given the community a fine Christmas present, and we can but only heartily applaud our thanks and our encouragement.

H. Paul Kliss

Dances

TWIN FALLS — Cynthia Marvik, 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marvik and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max McNabb, Twin Falls, will dance in "The Nutcracker," the world's most popular Christmas time ballet.

The ballet is presented by the Sacramento Civic Ballet and the Sacramento Symphony in Memorial Auditorium Dec. 20 and 21. Miss Marvik won the scholarship from the American Ballet of New York last year and also performed in "The King and I" with Ann Sterline in Sacramento last year. She is the great-granddaughter of Myrtle Mercer, Buhl.

Beauty hint

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — There is nothing like a touch of cheek color to elicit flattering compliments on your "blush of youth" or "glow of health," according to famed makeup authority Max Factor.

To acquire the most attractive, natural-looking blush, he suggests the following procedure: After you've applied your makeup foundation, eye and lip accents, smile at your mirror image. This rounds your cheeks and determines their highest point. If you choose the creamy type, blusher, such as Ultra-Lucent Blusher-Slick, apply the color to the high point of each cheek and use your fingertips to blend it upward and outward across the cheekbone toward the hairline. Blend well to eliminate any well-defined line of demarcation. If you prefer brush-on pressed blusher, such as Ultra-Lucent Blusher, simply stroke the color on in a pattern similar to that described above and blend. For an added touch of glamour, try either blusher formula in a frosted tone to impart a shimmering iridescent glow.

TWIN FALLS — The Christmas party for 90 children of members of the Loyal Order of Moose and Women of the Moose was conducted Sunday evening at the Twin Falls Moose Home. After the potluck dinner, children presented Christmas songs and several piano solos were played. Gifts were presented to the children at the close of the program.

Use cards

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cards can be used to decorate your home. Joannette Loe, art director for Hallmark, suggests: —Tape or staple Christmas cards to lengths of ribbon and hang them on doors or walls or place cards under glass on a coffee table. —Use cards as tree ornaments for a "friendship tree" or make a Christmas wreath by attaching appropriate card designs to a circular piece of cardboard. —Hang cards on certain rods, or decorate screens with them. Some cards, especially of religious subjects, are worth permanent framing, Miss Loe said.

Power suppliers urge 'balance'

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Two major Pacific Northwest power suppliers Monday urged the Federal Power Commission to "strike a balance" in deciding the heartily-disputed proposed Mountain Sheep Dam on the Snake River.

Final legal briefs were filed with FPC trial examiner William C. Levy by Pacific Northwest Power Co. and the Washington Public Power Supply System on building the dam on the Oregon-Idaho border below Hells Canyon.

"There is an inherent necessity for the nation wisely to develop its resources," particularly its energy resources," the brief said. "Rejection of development of hydro energy is a serious and profound decision that must be made for serious and profound reasons based upon a balance of all the considerations involved."

"A Snake River project is an economically sound investment and will have minimal impact on the environment."

PNP and WPPSS joined in 1967 to build the dam following rejection by the U. S. Supreme Court on a split decision of a license to PNP by examiner Levy in 1962 and the commission in 1964. PNP had been seeking to build on the Snake since 1934.

Justice William O. Douglas, in writing the majority decision, said the FPC should review the case on whether or not the federal government should authorize the project.

In the opinion of the applicant, neither the legal staff of the FPC nor the Sierra Club, a conservation group opposing the project, appear to realize that the commission's duty under the federal power act is to "strike a balance" on resource development.

The power companies said alternative forms of generation to a Snake River project will not only be more costly, but non-development of the river will bring about losses in flood control, navigation, recreation and irrigation benefits, plus denying the opportunity to improve fishery resources.

They also said it would mean more sightseers could come to the Middle Snake to see the "grandeur of Hells Canyon."

Now, they said, the area's vision is limited because access by water is hazardous and roads primitive.

"Common sense should inform staff counsel that applicants would immediately cease to have any interest in a license if the project were not the most economical source of generation available," they said.

'Gunsmoke' achieves true classic status

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — They called it the first adult Western when "Gunsmoke" made its television debut 16 years ago.

It was. Until then "Hopalong Cassidy," Roy Rogers and the like rode the plains and occasionally broke into song.

But in 1955 "Gunsmoke" depicted Miss Kitty as a saloon girl hooker, Matt Dillon her favorite client, Doc was an old drunk and Chester something of a moron.

One is compelled to ask producer John Mantley how and why the series has enjoyed such phenomenal success.

"Chester and now Festus, are lovable vagabonds."

Polish government hikes food prices

WARSAW (UPI) — The Polish government raised food prices an average of 20 per cent Sunday in an attempt to persuade Poles to buy less food and more consumer goods.

Prices of television sets, washing machines, refrigerators and food mixers were cut by 16 per cent.

Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka presided at a meeting today of the central party committee's news agency said. It also said the West German-Polish goodwill treaty signed recently in Warsaw was added to the agenda.

Consorship has made the characters more respectable. But the indestructible Western has become a classic. Chester has departed in favor of Festus Haggin. Kitty is a respectable saloon owner. Doc is always sober. And Matt isn't seen in Kitty's room anymore.

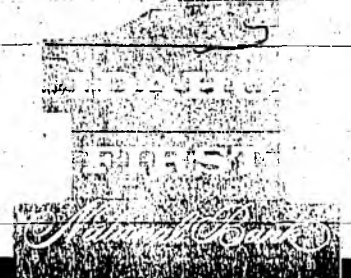

"The answer is relatively simple," said Mantley, a bright, energetic man who began as story editor on the show. "The characters as originally reformed were outstanding because they represented a cross section of America."

"But I suspect the show's longevity is due mainly to the deep respect and admiration the characters have for each other. That's where it's at."

The Yule Log

To celebrate the passing of the long winter night, the ancient Scandinavians burned a large log to commemorate the return of the sun... the source of light, heat and life... at the winter solstice, known as Yule. Usually the log was only half-burned, the other half then stored to be used to restart the fire for next year's celebration.
