TEN CENTS

Franco feels heat

BURGOS, Spain (UPI)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco met with his cabinet in extraordinary session for three hours today but delayed a decision on whether to commute death sentences imposed on six Basque nationalists.

There were growing demands from many European governments including the Vatican that he commute the sentences, but an official announcement said Franco delayed action until Capt.-Gen. Tomas Garcia Rebull, commander of the Burgos military district, considers defense appeals and decides whether to sign the sentences.

The lengthy cabinet meeting forced a delay Franco also called of the Council of the Realm, an 18-member consultative body drawn from Parliament. Although Franco was awaiting Burgos action, he is the only person with power to commute.

Six of the 16 defendants in Burgos were sentenced to die for murder and banditry. Nine others received prison sentences ranging from 12 years to 72. One woman defendant was acquitted.

The sentences and the appeals against them were delivered to Capt.-Gen. Tomas Garcia Rebull, commander of the Burgos military district, who presumably signed them and forwarded them to Madrid.

Nations on both sides of the Iron Curtain joined in protest against the unusually severe sentences and a bomb was hurled at the Spanish diplomatic office in Rome, causing little damage.

Ore-Ida pledges clean-up

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
BURLY — Ore-Ida Foods, Inc. announced today plans to construct a $500,000 potato waste treatment facility at its Burley processing plant.

Lloyd Cox, Boise, firm process engineering manager, announced the new secondary-treatment facility would be constructed by Neilson-Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls.

Cox told a news conference at the Ponderosa Inn that Ore-Ida has budgeted a total of $3.25 million for environmental control projects over the next six years.

This includes a $25,000 air-pollution control facility designed to meet state standards. This will be constructed next year and should be in operation by the time the water treatment unit is complete, Cox said.

Cox said the contract with Neilson-Miller has not yet been signed, but "it is hoped that the contract can be signed within the next two weeks." The contractor has indicated work will start immediately, with completion scheduled for October, 1971.

The new facility combined with existing facilities represents a total investment of more than $1 million in water pollution control facilities at our Burley factories," Cox said.

All waste-treatment control plans include handling the effluent from the adjoining A and P potato processing plant, Cox said. He did not present figures on individual plant costs.

The announcement was made just prior to the year-end session set by the Idaho State Department of Health for completion of construction of the proposed plant.

Ore-Ida officials said earlier that their firm was given an unofficial six-month extension on the deadline. But state department of health Director T. O. Carver said no formal extension of the deadline had been made.

The announcement followed a similar announcement by the J. R. Simplot Co. that the Simplot plant here would develop a similar secondary sewage treatment facility.

Ore-Ida, Simplot and the Twin Falls plant of the Armatagat Sugar Co. are the three largest industrial polluters in Magic Valley.

With construction of the Simplot and Ore-Ida plants in 1971, only the Armatagat plant will be without secondary sewage treatment facilities.

MISS RODEO AMERICA, Lana Brackebury, Jerome, proudly displays silver platter which was presented to her by Gov. Don Samuelson Monday night at a special dinner in her honor. She will make her first official appearance Jan. 10 at a stock show in Denver.

Jerome fete honors Lana

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Correspondent
JEROME — About 200 people including Gov. Don Samuelson gathered Monday night to honor Jerome's Lana Brackebury who begins her reign as Miss Rodeo America on Jan. 10.

The governor presented Miss Brackebury with a copy of a gubernatorial proclamation of "Lana Brackebury Day in Idaho," set Monday.

He presented the girl a silver platter inscribed with the seal of Idaho, and told the recognition dinner audience "We are very proud of Lana. She is a beautiful and gracious young lady."

Tom Prescott, Jerome, served master of ceremonies for the event. He said that Idaho is unique in having had three

Miss Rodeo Americas and one runner-up in the 16 years of national competition.

These were Susan Cox, Lawiston, in 1959; Mrs. Karen Lavens James, Jerome, in 1962; and Miss Brackebury who won the title last month, and Harriet Sharp, Nampa, who was runner-up in 1968.

Harold Howe, Twin Falls, vice president of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., and president of the Twin Falls county fairboard, was guest speaker.

Other presentations made to the honored guest included letters of congratulations from Sen. Frank Church, Rep. James A. McClure and Rep. Orval Hansen. The letters were read and presented by Mrs. James Carl Roseberry presented Miss Brackebury with a hat box on behalf of the Idaho state Sheriff's Posse, the Jerome Mounted Posse, Jerome Fair Board, Lions and Rotary clubs and other civic groups.

Mrs. James also presented Miss Brackebury with a silver tea set on behalf of the Snake River Chariot Racing Association, Jerome High School student body, Jerome Chamber of Commerce, the Gem Dalrymen, Cal-Gas, Idaho Power Co. and the groups which presented the hat box.

53 escape burning wreckage

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands (UPI)—As the Trans-Caribbean Airways 727 jetliner touched down at Harry S. Truman International Airport, the 55 persons aboard heard a crackling noise and the plane broke up and burst into flames.

Fifty-three managed to crawl and scramble to safety. Two died in the wreckage.

The jet was arriving on a flight from New York after a stop at San Juan, P.R., when it crash-landed Monday afternoon.

Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) investigators arrived from Miami Monday night and there was speculation the plane may have been trying to gain altitude for another approach after the pilot misjudged the first approach. FAA officials refused comment.

The two dead were identified as Victor Vanyo, 10, and his father, John Vanyo, of Berkeley Heights, N.J. Vanyo's wife, three daughters and an infant son were among the 20 persons hospitalized.

Aviation authorities said the runway at Truman Airport seemed certain to come under criticism from the FAA. The strip is 4,650 feet long, nearly 4,000 shorter than most airports capable of handling big jets.

The jet bounced as it touched down and one of the wheels flew off as the plane shot down the runway. The jet knocked down a cyclone fence, ripped out power lines and broke into three pieces as it rolled 500 feet up a hill.

David Thomas, 41, of New York City, said there was a crackling sound as the plane touched down.

Weary senators bypass logjam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a sudden burst of speed, the Senate has scuttled welfare and trade legislation, sought a new compromise on the defense appropriations bill, granted aid to Cambodia and Israel, and all but assured 26 million Americans a Social Security increase.

In a session that lasted past midnight, the Senate Monday appeared to be in a serious rush to break its legislative logjam and adjourn before the constitution dictates the 91st Congress must adjourn noon Sunday.

A major hurdle remained, however—a filibuster over whether to appropriate $210 million to continue the super-sonic transport program. No solution was in sight.

Approval of the $8 billion Social Security bill was assured with only a few last minute amendments to be decided before a final vote today.

A Senate-House conference committee must work out a compromise between differing versions of the Social Security

Soviets ready appeals

MOSCOW (UPI)—Defense lawyers have begun summons to Moscow to begin appeal proceedings against death and prison sentences given the 11 defendants in the Leningrad hijack trial last week, dissident sources said today.

The sources, who have contacts among family and friends of the defendants, said the appeal process was scheduled to begin Wednesday morning at the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation. The report could not be officially confirmed.

My Lai vet accused in shotgun slaying

ATLANTA (UPI)—Spec. 4 Robert W. T'Souvas, who faces two murder charges in connection with the alleged My Lai massacre was one of 17 persons charged with a shotgun slaying today in Atlanta's hippie district.

T'Souvas, 21, of San Francisco, and 16 other "hippie types," were charged with the murder of Barney Lei McSherry, 24, a police spokesman said.

Officers said McSherry, a 6-foot-7 bearded motorcycleist nicknamed "Tree," was found dead today in Atlanta's hippie area. He had been struck in the face by a shotgun blast.

Co-op founder dies Monday

TWIN FALLS — Harry Nelson, 80, former Twin Falls resident, died Monday at his home in Cathedral City, Calif., of a heart attack.

Mr. Nelson homesteaded in 1909 near Dietrich and resided in this area 45 years. He organized the Farmers Insurance Co. in 1930 and also was instrumental in organizing the Jerome Cooperative Creamery and other cooperatives. Nelson was active in the Democratic party.

Signature sets rules for industrial safety

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today signed the Occupational Health and Safety Act, the first national guidelines designed to stem the rising number of job-related deaths and injuries.

The new law, a major goal of organized labor in the 1960s, sets nationwide job safety standards for 15 million workers. It is expected to cost an annual $1.2 billion in 1971.

Nixon signed the bill during ceremonies at the Labor Department.

The law provides that the secretary of labor will draft, with advice from labor and business groups, a set of health and safety standards. He also will administer the standards through labor department inspectors.

An independent three-member board appointed by the President and subject to Senate confirmation will set safety standards.

The law represented only half-a-loaf for labor, which wanted standard-setting and enforcement left to the labor secretary while the Administration and business groups wanted joint labor-management standards and the creation of a new board to enforce them.

The law provides 60 days from today for the Secretary of Labor to set 50 health and safety standards. The law also provides for a 100-day period for the Secretary to set 100 more standards.

Eruption due

MANILA (UPI) — The Philippine Volcanology Commission reported Saturday the situation in Taal volcano remains serious and alerted all residents of the 15-square-mile volcano island 40 miles south of Manila for evacuation. The commission warned last Wednesday of an imminent major eruption after noting, a buildup in the volcano's underground activity.

Yearly licenses fall due

TWIN FALLS — Vehicles which will be in use Jan. 1, 1971 including trucks, trailers, motorcycles and other special use vehicles such as ambulances and wreckers and which are licensed on a calendar year basis must obtain licenses by Thursday, Dec. 31, Creigh Wilkinson, deputy county assessor said today.

This does not apply to passenger vehicle plates sold on a staggered system, she said. Information received from the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement lists vehicles included in the Dec. 31 expiration as trucks and trailers, motorcycles, mobile homes, radio amateur licensed vehicles, city cabs, national guard vehicles, buses, hearses, ambulances, wreckers and all utility trailers and commercial vehicles not on proration.

THIS BATTERED STRONGBOX, found Sunday in Rock Creek Canyon has been identified as one taken about a year ago in a burglary at the Twin Falls Public Library. When found it was empty except for a bank bag. When it was taken it held about $25 in cash. Capt. Tim Qualls of the Twin Falls Police department said from evidence gathered at the burglary scene last January it was determined the burglar was riding a bicycle. He said the strongbox lock was opened Monday with a key which the library had in its possession. Numbers on the key and the box also matched. The strongbox was entered by removing hinge pins after an attempt to break the lock failed.

Medical experts ignore Pauling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Linus Pauling says in a book that Vitamin C is a sure-fire preventive for man's most intractable disease, the common cold. His book is selling, but medical experts aren't buying his claim.

Pauling, a two-time Nobel Prize-winner, said in his book, "Vitamin C and the Common Cold," that the cold can "be controlled almost entirely in the United States and some other countries within a few years through improvement of the nutrition of the people by an adequate intake of ascorbic acid" — Vitamin C.

The medical community, including the National Institute of Health, the American Medical Association, the Food and Drug Administration and apparently even pharmaceutical companies, disagree.

Dr. Charles C. Edwards, FDA commissioner, was emphatic. The run on drug stores for Vitamin C since publication of the noted chemist's book was ridiculous, Edwards said.

"There is no scientific evidence and never have been any meaningful studies indicating Vitamin C is capable of preventing or curing colds," he said. Pauling will meet with FDA officials — at their request — the week of Jan. 11 to discuss his claims.

A spokesman for the American Medical Association said, "The AMA has seen no scientific evidence that Vitamin C will prevent or cure the common cold."

Enthusiasm for a preventive is fanned by statistics which show Americans spend $55 million a year for cold cures, lose 32 million days of work and 36 million school days because of colds, and suffer cold-induced financial losses of $738 million to $15 billion a year.

Center assisted

TWIN FALLS — The Community Action Day-Care Center in Twin Falls found that many folks carry the spirit of Christmas in their hearts, according to Mrs. Mary Helwich, director.

The 20 children being cared for at the center, which is operated by a grant from the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare administered by the Community Action Agency, were given numerous presents and donations of money for their Christmas.

A volunteer at the center who was appointed to buy presents for the youngsters said an unidentified woman approached him as he was purchasing the presents and said she wanted to contribute to their Christmas, Mrs. Helwich said. She gave him an unspecified amount of money, insuring that she did not want any credit for the gift.

"We want to voice our deep appreciation to everybody who helped us have a Merry Christmas," the director said.

Death Of An Old Man

WASHINGTON — In their handling of the death of an old man whose son is a self-exiled leader of the anti-junta resistance movement, the Greek military dictatorship has now demonstrated an arrogant attitude toward the U. S. Senate that has cost it dearly here.

That attitude casts doubt on the wisdom of the Greek Colonels and the wisdom of the U. S. in recently restoring full military aid to Athens. What's more, the event casts shadows on the U. S. ambassador to Athens, career diplomat Henry Tasca.

The incident was triggered by the fatal illness of the 81-year-old father of Elias Demetracopoulos, a prominent Greek journalist who fled to the U. S. in 1967. On Dec. 11, three liberal Democratic Senators signed an extraordinary request to Col. George Papadopoulos, Greek prime minister, asking that Demetracopoulos be given a 48-hour safe passage to visit his dying father. The message went through the State Department to Tasca.

For nine days there was no answer to the Senators. Finally, on Dec. 20, four days after Demetracopoulos's father died, alone and unattended, the three Senators — Mike Gravel of Alaska, Frank Moss of Utah, and Quentin Burdick of North Dakota — received a telegram from the Greek embassy here. That response — incredibly enough, said Demetracopoulos should have routinely applied to his embassy for his safe conduct pass. Had he done so, say those familiar with his role as a major anti-junta resistance leader, he might have been held in the embassy on trumped-up charges, a Greek citizen with no recourse to U. S. assistance.

Five days earlier, on Dec. 15, Tasca cabled the State Department asking the Greek embassy's message to the three Senators — that the Greek embassy had been instructed to handle Demetracopoulos's appeal. But when high State Department officials asked the embassy to elaborate on Tasca's bland cable, they were informed no message had been received from Athens.

Accordingly, on the evening of Dec. 15, the department wired Tasca again, this time instructing him to see Prime Minister Papadopoulos and to cable back yes or no on the safe-conduct request. To that message, there apparently was no answer at all.

Thus, on Dec. 15, the day the old man died, the three Senators wrote President Nixon asking his personal investigation. They wanted to know whether Tasca and the Greek government deliberately stalled until the case had become moot with the death of the father. As we write this there has been no reply from the White House.

In the background of this miserable affair, circumstances bear deeper scrutiny.

Demetracopoulos personally prevailed on many anti-junta Senators to postpone the confirmation of Tasca in 1969. His argument: filling that post, vacant since the Colonels seized power in 1967, would place the U. S. fully behind the junta despite its grossly anti-democratic practices. That might have influenced the Council of Europe not to expel Greece.

Whatever the reason, the squalid handling of the affair is raising new questions in the Senate about the junta and its full backing by the U. S. government.

Amazing Record

A fascinating piece of news that may have escaped your attention, pending its inclusion in the Guinness record book, is the amazing record of Ballad, a Maryland Holstein cow, who produced more milk than any other bovine in history.

The five-year-old cow yielded 40,981 pounds of milk in 385 days. To put it another way, Ballad gave 4,785 gallons, or an average of 49 quarts a day! Enough to pay for her keep and to provide milk sufficient for a nursery school.

This remarkable animal started her record run Dec. 7, 1969, under strict supervision of University of Maryland experts, who checked her production for the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

"The green revolution" was the name given to development of more productive strains of wheat and rice in the effort to feed the hungry millions of the world's overpopulated and under-developed countries.

Ballad, the brown-eyed, black and white cow, may have launched a "white revolution" of our own, to earn her blue ribbons and to provide something to go with the cereals.

She belongs to Glen Morrow, a Washington business consultant, who grew up on his father's Wisconsin dairy farm and never lost his taste for milk. He maintains Ballad and 131 other Holsteins, including Rendezvous, a 3,000-pound bull, on his 140-acre farm at Frederick, Md.

Anyone who ever milked a two gallons a day cow by hand can thank goodness he didn't have to milk Ballad before the advent of mechanized milking.

The record surpassed the previous mark by 807 pounds, a high rate of improvement without inflation.

Ballad surely must be contented but will continue to do what she does so superlatively — give tons of milk.

Welfare Growth

Symptomatic of the welfare problem in the United States is the record of the last year. Two million more persons were added to the welfare rolls, a 20 percent increase in one year.

The record is worse in some states, where caseloads have grown by 30 percent over the year and "are more than doubling every five years," in the words of HEW Secretary Richardson.

Costs of course increase with the number of new cases. Although a record $8.7 billion was budgeted for welfare this year at the federal level, the outlay is expected to exceed $10 billion.

Unemployment growth accounts for some of the welfare increase, but the growth continues whether the economic climate is cloudy or bright.

Guantanamo

Persistent reports that Russia is building a nuclear submarine base in Cuba call attention to a United States base on that island, which would be directly involved in any action precipitated by the Kremlin.

The Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba was established by mutual agreement between Washington and Havana. It is the oldest American base on foreign soil.

It was one of four bases ceded by Cuba to the U. S. in 1901. The U. S. has spent more than $100 million on shore installations at Guantanamo. There were 1,500 buildings and two airfields on the 28,000-acre base before Castro.

The harbor is protected from rough seas and as the waters outside were not regular shipping lanes they were frequently used by the U. S. fleet for target practice.

Even in these days of intercontinental missiles the base has great strategic value for the U. S. The government has declared many times in the past that it would fight rather than relinquish Guantanamo.

In this stand it is echoing the determination of the American people.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Days Grow Longer

Winter is here — the first day was Dec. 22 — and so now the days grow longer.

Just a minute or two or three each day but it means that the old sun is hanging around longer every 24 hours and soon it will be spring and the snow will melt and the flowers will sprout and the trees will branch and it will be nice and warm once more.

To give you something to look forward to, the first day of spring will arrive on March 22 and the first day of summer on June 22. After that date all should be peaches and cream.

Meanwhile, why not enjoy the ski trails?

NO NEW YEAR

WASHINGTON — It is with regret that I must inform everyone that there will not be a New Year, at least not on the first of January as originally planned.

The reason for this is that the bill to authorize 1971 is now bottled up in the Senate and is finding tough sledding.

In other years the passing of a New Year's resolution was nothing more than a formality. The House and Senate approved it on voice votes, and the President automatically signed the bill declaring the New Year would start on the first day of the month of January.

But this year because of bitter feelings, vested interests and some very tricky parliamentary procedures, the New Year's bill has been in trouble from the start.

This is what happened: On Sept. 15, President Nixon sent up to Congress a message asking it to give him authorization to declare a New Year, which would be designated 1971. (By law, the Number of the New Year is always raised one digit from the previous year.)

The Senate Subcommittee on Calendar Affairs held lengthy hearings on the bill and heard testimony from Administration officials, labor leaders and 1970 lobbyists, as well as conservatives who were opposed to going in to 1971 without a constitutional amendment.

The bill was finally cleared in committee on Nov. 20 by a vote of 8 to 7.

It then went to the floor, where it ran into some very serious difficulties.

Proponents of the SST lacked an amendment onto the New Year's resolution, which provided $210 million to start building the first supersonic airliner in Seattle.

Several senators, who were having trouble with a trade bill, added an amendment providing that no New Year's bill could be passed unless all imports on shoes and flashlights were halted from abroad.

Doves in the Senate tacked on another amendment saying that the President could not officially declare 1971 until all our troops were out of Vietnam.

Opponents of new welfare legislation added an amendment saying that there could not be a New Year unless all welfare mothers took birth control instruction.

Another amendment, added

CHILLING THOUGHT

ART BUCHWALD

No New Year

by Southern senators, said there could not be a 1971 until all school busing was eliminated in the South.

A liberal Senate bloc then added an amendment saying no funds could be provided for 1971 until the President gave a complete plan for curbing Spiro Agnew.

A group of senators added their own amendment which called for $200 million to bail out the Penn-Central Railroad.

By the time the New Year's bill was ready for a vote, there were 234 amendments attached to it.

Twenty filibusters were started at the same time.

A few days ago the President warned Congress that the United States had to have a New Year and that he would keep them in session until he got one.

While everyone seemed to agree with him, no senator was willing to give an inch on his favorite amendment.

Despite the President's plea, both Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott have said privately they don't see how there can possibly be a 1971 before the 15th of July.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Bath Oils

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I noted in your column about itching of the skin, which sometimes plagues older people, the suggestion of using bath oils.

Someone once gave me a sample (not for itching, just to try) and I used it in the bath water only once because it made the tub so slippery that I felt it was risky.

It may be that I misunderstood your recommendation, and you intended the oil to be rubbed on the skin after bathing. Tub baths can be dangerous for older people, especially if they are getting in and out unattended. — Mrs. S. W.

You are quite right — and there are plenty of young risks that have been cracked, as well as old ones, from slipping in the tub.

The skin absorbs water while you are in the bath — but it also loses some of the limited natural oils. Therefore, the thing to do is apply the bath oil to the skin after the bath. The purpose is to soften the skin, and also to provide a very thin coating which, however, will help retain the moisture in the skin.

Itching from drying skin may not bother all older folks, but it is still a common enough complaint so people should be aware that simple skin care can help.

Of course, some health conditions also can be responsible for itching; dryness isn't the only cause.

It's perhaps even more important to remind people that a bathtub can be slippery even though nothing has been added to the water. Rubber or similar safety mats in the bottom of tubs are a good thing. So are sturdy grab bars. So is the habit of being careful, and remembering that a slip in the tub can break bones.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My aunt has had Parkinson's disease for about eight years. She has been reading about this new drug, L-dopa, for this disease. Could you give us any information, such as if there has anything to do with it? She is 77, has an angina heart condition and osteoarthritis. Other than that she is doing pretty well.

When we asked her doctor, a general practitioner, he said it was so new that he couldn't advise us. Should we go to a specialist in internal medicine? We know one. — Mrs. H. R.

It's one thing merely to know about a new medication, and quite another to learn the ins and outs of using it. By now your aunt's general practitioner may or may not have had time to find out more.

It is more likely that the internist you mentioned would be able to help you, so I'd check with him. Chances of helping you are probably not pretty good — that is, L-dopa can be used despite her age, and so far it is effective with something like 70 percent of patients.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband drinks so much coffee that I am afraid he is addicted — two to three quarts a day. Often he just drinks coffee rather than taking time for lunch. Could he be addicted? — Mrs. B. G.

Not addicted in the sense that he would have severe withdrawal symptoms if he stopped. But he obviously has acquired a habit; just as some folks get the "coffee habit" and drink quarts of it.

The caffeine in the cola in such quantity can make him jittery and nervous — and drinking it instead of having lunch deprives him of other foods he needs, not to mention vitamins and minerals. He'd do well to start cutting down to a reasonable amount.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Economy may rise in 1971

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A majority of businessmen share the view of the Nixon administration that the nation's sagging economy will improve during the first six months of next year, a poll conducted by a U.S. Chamber of Commerce publication showed Sunday.

In the survey, conducted by Nation's Business, a magazine published by the chamber, 280 of 531 corporate chairmen, presidents and vice presidents predicted an upturn. Another 187 predicted that business will hold level and 58 foresaw a decline.

U.S. News & World Report said its survey indicates that business in 1971 will break away from the sluggish pace and regain much of its zip.

The magazine said incomes are rising, consumers are becoming more confident and the "urge to spend" will pick up steam. It also said unemployment will edge downward, retail trade will move to record levels in terms of dollar sales, home building and construction will exceed 1970 levels and corporate profits will increase markedly.

The magazine said, however, that some questions linger. It said many experts in business and unions see 1971 as a year of big strikes and crisis bargaining, with contracts expiring in steel, can manufacturing, aluminum and copper.

In the nation's business poll, almost all of the businessmen predicted the profits of their own firm next year would be at least as good as this year. Only 83 look for a decline. Of those expecting their business to be more profitable next year, most foresaw a rise of between 5 and 10 per cent.

The magazine said 88 of the 531 businessmen predicted that interest rates, which have been dropping steadily since last spring, would increase next year. Although the number expecting an increase was less than 10 per cent of the total, the magazine said the number was surprising because economists are almost unanimous in predicting that interest rates will continue to decline.

Nixon flays movie

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon disapproved Sunday showing American prisoners of war in North Vietnam movies as a propaganda move that demonstrates Hanoi's "total disregard" for the Geneva Convention on treatment of POWs.

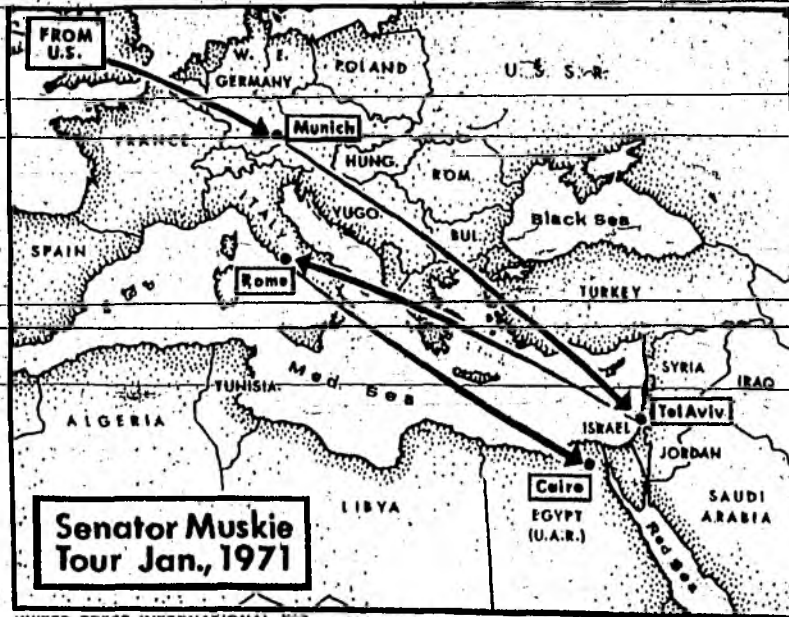

In the film, shown on American television Sunday night, two U.S. prisoners told a Canadian Broadcasting Co. correspondent the United States should withdraw its troops from Vietnam and end the war now.

Nixon's reaction was reported to newsmen by White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

"The President feels using prisoners of war for propaganda purposes such as the film is evidence of the enemy's total disregard of the terms and intentions of the spirit and letter of the Geneva Convention," Ziegler said.

"We continue to be concerned for the missing men, not just those in North Vietnam, but in South Vietnam," he said. Only last Saturday, in a letter to prisoners' families, Nixon accused Hanoi of a "barbaric and inhuman attitude" on the prisoner issue.

Classes are now forming for handball at the Y. M. C. A. Health Club.

Khrushchev memoirs said 'significant'

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF WASHINGTON (UPI) — The reminiscences of former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev constitute a significant, captivating and mysterious memoir.

The 630-page book called "Khrushchev Remembers" — published by Little Brown and Co., of Boston — is fascinating reading, even for those who might have read all installments of a series in Life magazine that included the main portions of the work.

In the book, Khrushchev offers new insights into collectivization and famine in the Ukraine, Stalin's dealings with Hitler-Germany, and Stalin's last years, including intimate details of the deathbed scene.

Also affectionate recollections of Stalin's daughter Svetlana, Khrushchev's rise to power, his voyage abroad, his relations with the West as well as with several independent Communist leaders of China's Mao Tse-tung, North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh and Cuba's Fidel Castro.

There are some curious omissions, however, in this broad course of history — notably the failure to mention the 1957 "anti-party group affair" in which a number of Soviet political leaders including former Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov and former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov tried to unseat Khrushchev from power.

Similarly the memoirs give no explanation of the political maneuverings in October, 1964, which resulted in Khrushchev's ouster, although he admits that after the U2 spy plane incident of 1960, he had been gradually losing power.

A mysterious element in these memoirs involves the motives and personalities behind their transfer from Russia to the West.

Some explanations offered no coherent explanation of the memoirs and if anything, have appeared baffled by their appearance. But experts in Soviet history report that the memoirs ring true and are unlikely to be a complete fabrication.

As preparations were going forward to publish the work, the Soviet government-pulled Khrushchev fleetingly from his current status of "unperson" to deny in his name that he had ever transferred the material for publication abroad, while suggesting that what was about to be published was "fabricated."

Various explanations of events have been put forward by Soviet experts. One which seems somewhat plausible is that several members of Khrushchev's family — possibly his dynamic son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzubei — have been disturbed over the oblivion to which Khrushchev has been relegated and were determined, despite the risks, to try to justify the former premier and his policies.

Thus, the theory goes, they began smuggling abroad — possible without Khrushchev's initial knowledge — bits and pieces of memoirs which he had written down or taped.

Food industry neglects needs of older people

LONDON (UPI) — A medical nutritionist has called attention to what he calls the surprising fact that the food industry has created a large market in baby foods and yet has not realized there is an even bigger outlet for special foods for old people.

Dr. Arnold Bender of Queen Elizabeth College told the Royal Society of Health that although the elderly make up about 12 per cent of the population of Britain they use nearly 30 per cent of the expenditure on the National Health Services.

Defining anyone over 60 as elderly, Bender said 12 per cent were permanently or temporarily housebound and it was obviously of great economic and social importance to improve their health to the point where they could be independent.

In this connection he said proper nutrition was one of the important factors. Retirement or death of a lifelong partner, both often produced an apathy toward shopping, preparing food or even eating.

Some of the symptoms of which the elderly complained such as headache, insomnia, irritability, loss of appetite and headache could be traced to poor diet. He mentioned cases where old people were found to be living on tea-and-biscuits and suffering from deficiency conditions as a result.

Bender suggested that the time had come to make food especially for the elderly containing a high percentage of nutrients in proportion to bulk so that even small quantities would help maintain bodily strength. He said they could be supplied as welfare foods or through ordinary shops or both.

The number of customers for these foods outnumber baby customer's seven to one, he said. And the elderly eat more than babies.

Although no one can now predict the exact terms of the social security legislation that will emerge from Congress, the Senate, the House and the administration all have embraced the basic principle that both benefits and taxes henceforth should escalate automatically.

Benefits would go up — along the cost of living rises. Taxes would go up when the average

Gov. Andrus made news

BOISE (UPI)—The election of Cecil D. Andrus as Idaho's first Democratic governor in a quarter-century was picked by Idaho UPI editors as the top story of the year in 1970.

Andrus defeated Republican Gov. Don Samuelson in the Nov. 3 general election by almost the same margin Samuelson had when he defeated Andrus for the chief executive post in 1966.

Andrus finished second in a four-man field in 1966, waited two years, then won election to the Idaho State Senate. He finished second in balloting at the Democratic State Assembly in Twin Falls in June, but went on to win the primary and eventually the chief executive's spot.

As the second top story of 1970, editors chose the controversy over an Idaho congressional delegation-backed proposal for a park-recreation area in the Sawtooth Mountains.

A house interior subcommittee held hearings on the proposal in Sun Valley during August, a meeting made memorable when State Commerce and Development Secretary Al Minton, representing Samuelson, was gavelled down after he refused to cut short his testimony.

The National Farmers Organization's spring "potatobake" was picked for the third spot in the year's top 10 stories. Members of the NFO put millions of pounds of the famous Idaho spuds to the torch in an attempt to dramatize the low prices received by growers.

The fourth choice was the Lewiston recall election — an election which saw Orchard Community Project representatives take all but one of the seven City Council seats.

Lewiston annexed the Orchard area last year and the OCP organized to battle the annexation through the Court. The OCP also petitioned for a recall election and the court decision which held the annexation legal also ordered the election.

Three stories were picked for the fifth spot: Idaho's bonding problems, constitutional revision, and the sentencing of six Rupert-area teenagers to the Idaho State Penitentiary on drug charges.

Bonding attorneys for over a year have been reluctant to testify because of pending elections in Idaho because of the state's requirement voters be property owners. Although Idaho's Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of the state's laws, the attorney general's office has asked for an amendment in judgment in view of a recent U. S. court decision striking down the property requirement.

The method of submitting the revised constitution to the voters without a constitutional convention — was found invalid in Fourth District Court, but the Idaho Supreme Court reversed the lower court decision. On Nov. 3, Idaho voters turned the proposal down, ending five years of work by a 15-member commission.

Judge Sherman Bellwood sentenced six teenagers to the Idaho State Penitentiary with a decision which gained national attention. Judge Bellwood noted the lack of proper facilities for the youthful defendants and picked the prison as the only alter-nalive.

Vice President Spiro Agnew visited Idaho three times in 1970, and his visits were picked as the sixth story of the year. Agnew spoke at the May $100 plate "tribute to our governor" banquet, returned Halloween night to campaign for Samuelson, and visited again in December at the Republican Governors Conference in Sun Valley.

The results of the 1970 census were picked as the seventh story of the year and the cash of fines in Lewiston — including the quarter-million dollar National Guard Armory fire — was chosen for eighth place.

The ninth spot went to the second session of the 46th legislature, where $5.3 million in surplus funds was appropriated to state agencies.

A travel voucher submitted by Director of Administrative Services Edward Sawyer was picked as the tenth story of the year. Sawyer asked for reimbursement for $61.40 for a trip to Blaine, where he made a highly partisan speech to Republicans.

Cambodians strike in highway battle

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The Cambodian Command said today government troops had killed 50 Viet Cong and 100 Vietnamese and wounded 100 others in a battle for control of Highway 4, the nation's only land link with its major port of Kompong Som.

The heaviest fighting still raged today at Sre Khlong and Taint around 50 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. Spokesmen said four Cambodian troops were killed and 17 wounded in the fighting.

The battle broke out Monday night after Communist forces launched two coordinated attacks against government troops trying to reopen the roadway in West-Cong and North Vietnamese hands for six weeks.

The shutdown of the 121-mile highway to the sea has left Phnom Penh with a gasoline, beer and rice shortage and has aggravated inflation in the capital.

Civilians returning from Kompong Cham reported sporadic rocket and mortar attacks have been launched against the city almost nightly.

Li Col. Am Rong, the official Cambodian military spokesman, announced a new Cambodian government offensive aimed at protecting the December-January rice harvest.

Christmas rockfest scattered

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Bling—"Here Comes Santa Claus," police Monday broke up Laguna Beach's Christmas rock festival that drew 20,000 young people at its peak.

Only two arrests were made as 400 officers swept through the festival area at sunrise and herded the remaining 2,000 participants onto buses where they were taken downtown.

"What they do when they get to the city limits is their business," one officer said.

The police were armed with shotguns and dressed in riot gear, and moved through the area after declaring the festival an illegal assembly.

They prodded young people out of sleeping bags and tents into near-freezing temperatures.

Andrus said man of year

BOISE (UPI)—UPI editors have chosen Democratic Governor-elect Cecil Andrus as Idaho's man of the year for 1970, but picked three women to share billing as Idaho's woman of the year.

Ruby Samuelson, wife of Idaho Gov. Don Samuelson, Director of the U. S. Mint Mary Brooks, and State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon were given equal votes in the balloting.

George C. Scott pegged top actor

NEW YORK (UPI)—George C. Scott was selected the best actor of 1970, Glenda Jackson the best actress and "Five Easy Pieces" the best film by the New York Film Critics Monday.

Scott was chosen for his leading role in "Patton," and Miss Jackson for her performance in "Women in Love."

Chief Dan George won the award for best supporting actor for his role in "Little Big Man" and Karen Black best supporting actress in "Five Easy Pieces." The film "My Night at Maud's" won the best screen-

Other movies cited by the critics were "Au Hazard de Balharzar," "M.A.S.H.," "Ryan's Daughter," "Tristram," "Little Big Man," "The Confession," "Passion of Anna," "Patton," "Husbands," "The Rise of Louis XIV," "Women in Love," "Catch 22," "Fallin's Satyricon," "Living," "My Night at Maud's," "Brewster McCord," "Goin' Down the Road," "I Never Sang for My Father" and "Gimme Shelter."

Melvyn Douglas, with 20 votes, was runnerup to Scott, with 31, for best actor.

Volunteer army pends

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird says achievement of the Nixon administration's goal of an all-volunteer Army by 1973 will depend on giving servicemen better pay and other benefits.

In a year-end news conference Monday, Laird said he was confident increased recruiting would allow cuts in draft calls during 1971. He did not predict how big the reduction would be. The military conscripted 163,500 men this year.

"I am confident that our efforts in this regard will be that we will have a lower draft call next year than we had this year," he said.

The administration earlier this year, as a first step in making military service more attractive, asked for a 20 percent pay increase for armed forces personnel in lower grades. Congress took no action.

Laird said between 53 and 54 per cent of the 1971-72 defense budget that President Nixon will submit to Congress next year will be for salaries. He said 49 per cent of the current budget is for salaries.

Similar increases in manpower costs may be expected for several more years, Laird said.

Canadian liberties pondered

MONTREAL (UPI)—Its 85-day kidnap crisis finally ended, the Canadian government gave no immediate indication today when it would restore the civil liberties suspended more than two months ago.

And it was not immediately clear how seriously the government's unprecedented crackdown against the Quebec Liberation Front had damaged the terrorist-separatist group. The confrontation between the federal government and the Quebec separatists — both peaceful and violent — appeared certain to continue.

Police Monday raided a snowbound isolated farmhouse in St. Luc, 25 miles south of Montreal, and captured brothers Jacques and Paul Rose and Francis Simard, charged with abducting and murdering Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte.

Psychiatric exam refused hijacker

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A government motion for a psychiatric examination for Alvin Glatowski, who is accused of hijacking the American ammunition ship Columbia Eagle to Cambodia, has been turned down.

Glatowski, 21, of Long Beach, Calif., pleaded innocent to 23 counts Monday after U.S. District Court Judge David Williams denied the government motion "without prejudice." That means the government can renew the motion in future proceedings.

Williams ordered Glatowski to appear in court again Monday for setting of a date for the trial.

Glatowski is charged with mutiny and piracy with a companion, Clyde McKay, in forcing the Thailand-bound Columbia Eagle to Cambodia March 15.

When Glatowski and McKay arrived in Cambodia, they were interned. Glatowski escaped but surrendered to the U.S. Embassy in Phnom Penh Dec. 18.

McKay escaped with an Army deserter, Cpl. Larry Humphrey, and has not been seen since.

The arrests of the Rose brothers and Simard appeared to account for the last of the chief suspects in the kidnappings of Laporte and British diplomat James R. Cross, who was released unharmed earlier this month.

In Ottawa, federal officials said the government had no immediate intention of lifting the emergency antiterrorist legislation.

Nixon admits slight hope for arms pact

By STEWART HENSLEY, UPI Diplomatic Reporter WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration's high hopes for rapid progress toward agreement with Russia on limitation of strategic nuclear weapons have diminished considerably in recent months. As recently as last May, President Nixon flatly predicted that an agreement of some sort would be reached. He indicated that he did not think it would be too long in coming.

last week that the SALT talks have "not proceeded as fast as we hoped they would." He added, however, that he still thought there was still "some prospects for progress in the future."

At the same time, a high White House official said the administration was "not disheartened that progress has not been spectacularly rapid." This was the same official who as recently as August was "confidently optimistic" that things were moving toward an agreement.

The administration position now appears to be best summed up by Rogers' statement that he was "neither optimistic nor pessimistic."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have a young son with a slight speech problem about which the other kids tease him unmercifully. These are the same kids who tease other kids who happen to have a funny nose or something else that God put there and is beyond their control...

Now I ask you, who is the one with the problem? Kids can be the cruelest lot in the world. Abby, please print this letter and if just one person will quit teasing handicapped children, it will be worth it.

DEAR MOTHER: I'll print your letter, and with it some advice for mothers of children with "slight" speech problems, funny noses and something else that God put there and is beyond their control.

A child may be born with (or develop) a handicap, which may not be "beyond control." There are speech therapists who can help children (and adults) to overcome speech problems. And people with "funny noses" and birth blemishes need not go thru life hating their handicaps and suffering ridicule because of them. Don't assume that all handicaps must be accepted and lived with. We are living in an age of medical miracles! Your family doctor can make helpful recommendations.

DEAR ABBY: I am in a dilemma and need an outside opinion. My husband and I received an invitation to a high society wedding. We have two married daughters, Judy and Rosalie. Judy, who made a much better marriage than her sister, received an invitation to this wedding, but Rosalie did not.

My husband and I would really like to go, but I don't think we should when one of our daughters was slighted in this manner. Judy says that accepting or declining an invitation should have nothing to do with who else was invited and who wasn't, but as a mother, I see it differently.

My husband agrees with Judy. I think we should all stay home. What do you think? A MOTHER'S HEART

DEAR HEART: I agree with Judy, too. In any case, you and your husband may accept or decline only for yourselves. And your married daughter has the same privilege.

DEAR ABBY: The company my husband works for put on a big sales contest, and my husband was one of those who won a 10-day trip to Europe. I could have gone along but he didn't tell me wives could go. When I heard that some of the men were taking their wives, I asked him about it and he said, "Well, what would you have done with the kids?" I told him if he had told me in time I would have been able to make some arrangements.

Abby, if I were a person to be ashamed of, I could see why he wouldn't want to take me, but I am neat and dress nice and some people even think I'm pretty.

When I saw him off on the special plane they had for the trip, there were nearly as many wives as husbands. I was so hurt I wanted to die.

I hope this letter helps other husbands to remember the girl who loves him and takes care of him seven days a week.

DEAR LEFT: So do I.

NEW YORK, N.Y. — As sure as the traditional Christmas card, hundreds of thousands of households and executive offices are this month receiving one indispensable item they will use throughout the year — a calendar.

The bulk of the 300 million calendars produced each year are destined for the desk or wall, but there are many surprises in the 1971 model line. What date will fall on what day of the week during a given month, is about all men can predict about the future, and the calendar he uses many years hence may not even resemble traditional calendars today or so a few indicators this year seem to show.

Calendars already have been introduced in wrist watches, cuff links, bracelets, and other items of apparel. Paper still leads the material list, but calendars are also offered in plastic, felt, cork, etched foil and metal.

Brown and Bigelow, the world's leading calendar manufacturer is offering a perpetual calendar that looks more like a game than a calendar. Colorful plastic flags for day, date and month are inserted into slots in a brass and walnut arm, delicately balanced on a needlepoint base. Changing the date is an act of manual dexterity.

Another novelty calendar from Brown and Bigelow features a small horn and a coded signal list. Appropriately called a "Secretary caller," two short beeps are guaranteed to bring coffee, three shorts and one long mean aspirin.

Novelty aside, one major market for calendars continues to be the homemaker. She wants a calendar that is not only practical, but decorative. This emphasis on design is keeping calendar art directors on a schedule that closely rivals Detroit auto manufacturers. While the 1971 models are being distributed, firms like Brown and Bigelow have many of the 1973 models already on the drawing boards.

The choice of subject (to say nothing of material or basic design) more than rivals the auto market. B and B's art director, for example, reviews more than 50,000 transparencies from photographers throughout the world. He must boil this down to fewer than 500 subjects.

The St. Paul firm also maintains a house art staff of 40 and works with more than 100 artists, including Norman Rockwell, who has painted

Indispensable item

CALENDARS THAT don't look like calendars—including a modern sculpture design with interchangeable flags for day, date and month and a decorative knock-knack shelf wall hanger, done photographically, but difficult to tell from the real thing. Brown and Bigelow, leading calendar manufacturer, finds that differing tastes and markets dictate a number of designs that depart from familiar wall or desk models.

seasonal and Boy Scout subjects for Brown and Bigelow since 1924.

B and B also has reproduction rights to the works of Charles Russell, Frederick Remington, Lionel Barrymore and former president Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The rapidly changing face of U.S. history has dictated many calendar subjects, says Ken Templin, B and B general manager. Patriotic subjects such as the flag and U.S. presidents have surged in popularity. Pollution, conservation and safety are other calendar themes which will appear in greater numbers in the 1971 line. For years, B and B has offered Boy Scout, 4-H and Fire Prevention calendars; public spirit themes accepted by household and business alike.

Beyond 1973, Brown and Bigelow remains tight-lipped.

The only insight into the calendars of the future they can provide at this time is the fact that the dates of the 1971 calendar will be the same as models in 1982, 1993, and 1999.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The problems plaguing the 1970 stock market are close to being solved, the Alexander Hamilton Institute says. The company predicts 1971 will be a "healthy year for the stock market" and adds "the Dow Jones industrial average could reach the 850 level by Jan. 31, and approach the 1000 mark before year-end."

During 1971 the market probably will view inflation "not as a beneficial force, like the early '60s, nor as an evil force, like the late '60s," according to Drexel Harriman Ripley, Inc. The company says the market will see inflation as "a more neutral factor." The firm foresees monthly inflation fluctuations but believes "they will be around lower levels than

Q — Would you please comment on Husky Oil? — A. B.

A — Husky Oil has attracted some attention lately due largely to three rather encouraging developments. First, company reported an earnings turnaround in the third quarter which brought profits ahead to a record 41 cents a share — a 25 per cent advance. The gain, which largely offset unfavorable first-half comparisons, may be attributed to improved profitability in the refining-marketing end of the business and to the soaring demand for Husky's blended Lloydminster crude. If all of this is brought down to net, the increase could boost cash flow by as much as 40 cents per share. Although trading in the issue has been moderate, these bullish news items could stir up renewed interest and activity in Husky shares.

Q — I purchased $100 of Treasury 7 1/2 per cent Notes due 1977 on original issue in August. They are currently being quoted at over 108, which means I can get at least $1,080 per $1,000 face value note. Who would buy a note at this price when it yields only 8.1 per cent held to maturity? — L. M.

A — If a potential buyer is convinced that interest rates are going to decline further, then your note, carrying a 7 1/2 per cent coupon, for a 7.2 per cent current yield, is not an unwise investment. Additional income received during the 8 1/2 years remaining prior to maturity will offset the capital loss incurred at that time. Since August, two factors, the Government's policy of increasing the money supply and a slight easing in demand, have combined to reduce interest rates dramatically. Existing debt issues bearing higher coupon rates are consequently bid up to the point where return is consistent with the going rate. It is a simple matter of balance by supply and demand.

Q — We have 300 shares of Bond Industries, 200 of which were bought at 31 and 100 received through a stock split. Should we buy more at this low price, hold or sell? We can afford either. C.W.

A — Engaged in the apparel and clothing manufacturing field, Bond Industries has been affected by the same pressures affecting its entire industry. However, the current economic and industry slowdown is not responsible for Bond's past earnings performance which has been quite erratic. For the past 10 years, company's earnings have vacillated as a result of limited sales growth and rising costs.

For the fiscal year ended July, 1970, sales declined 1.8 per cent from the previous year.

Eight named to East squad for all-star game

NEW YORK (UPI)—Willie Reed of the champion New York Knicks was the only unanimous choice to represent the East squad in the National Basketball Association's 21st annual All-Star Game Jan. 12 in San Diego, Calif. It was announced Monday by commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Reed, the captain and center of the Knicks and winner of the NBA's Most Valuable Player Award last season, was named by all 17 sportswriters and sportscasters from the league cities who participated in the balloting.

Joining Reed were forwards John Havlicek of the Boston

Celtics and Billy Cunningham of the Philadelphia 76ers and guards Walt Frazier of the Knicks and Earl Monroe of the Baltimore Bullets.

Gus Johnson and Wes Unseld of the Bullets were also chosen along with Jo Jo White of the Celtics.

Six more players will be selected to the team by the Eastern Conference coaches, who will have to choose representatives from the Atlanta Hawks, the Cincinnati Royals, the Buffalo Braves and the Cleveland Cavaliers. A league rule stipulates that each team must be represented by at least one player at the All Star Game.

St. Bonaventure edges Bradley

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Unbeaten St. Bonaventure battled through two overtimes Monday night to edge Bradley 86-77 and join Georgia Tech in the finals of the Gator Bowl basketball tournament.

Tech, also with a perfect record, rallied from a nine-point deficit midway through the first half to down stubborn Florida—69-58—in the opening game of the tournament.

Little Frank Sylvester hit two free throws with 1:20 left to give Bradley a 61-61 tie at the end of regulation play. Sylvester, only 5-4, missed from the foul line with nine seconds remaining in the first overtime to send the game into another extra period tied 71-71.

St. Bonaventure, now 7-0, scored eight quick points at the start of the second overtime and Bradley (6-2) was unable to get any closer than six points after that.

Tech, 6-0, took the lead 36-34 on Rich Yunkus' jumper early in the second half after trailing the Gators 34-30 at intermission.

The Jackets, led by the 6-9 Yunkus—with 10 points, kept a narrow margin until the final five minutes, when they took advantage of Florida mistakes to pull away.

Sophomore guard Tony Miller kept Florida (2-5) in the game with his long distance shooting and was the game's leading scorer with 20 points. Jim Thorne and Poanui Murphy added 10 each for the Yellow Jackets.

Stanford defeats Ohio State in overtime

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Upstart Stanford, down by seven points at halftime, rallied in the second half and came on to defeat Ohio State 78-74 in overtime in Monday night's first round game of the Far West Classic.

The Indians play the winter of the second game between Oregon State and Harvard in Tuesday night's semi-final.

The Indians, down 36-29 at halftime, came back at the start of the second half, outscoring the Buckeyes 12-4 in a four-minute period to grab a 46-43 lead. The lead then changed numerous times with Stanford going ahead 70-68 on a layin by Claude Terry with 1:42 left.

Ohio State's seven-foot center, Luther Witte, led the score 70-70 with 1:11 left.

Stanford then held onto the ball to try for a last shot but lost the ball on a turnover and time ran out on regular play before the Buckeyes could score.

With the score 78-74 in overtime, Allen Hornyak sank what appeared to be the tying shot with 1:11 left.

Jim Clemons of Ohio State led all scorers with 30, while Willie and Roosevelt had 28 each.

Terry led Stanford with 29. Stanford is now 3-4 for the season and OHSU 3-3.

Kentucky 5th

NEW YORK (UPI)—Western Kentucky today parlayed its stunning victory over Jacksonville last week into the No. 5 ranking in the nation.

The hilltoppers, led by seven-point star McDaniels' 48-point performance, stunned previous unbeaten Jacksonville, 78-74, to move into the top 10 in balloting by United Press International's Board of Coaches.

Western Kentucky, 7-0 through games played through Sunday, Dec. 27, received 160 points from the 35-man UPI board who participated in the fourth weekly balloting.

UCLA ran its record to 8-0 with victories over Missouri and St. Louis and easily retained the No. 1 ranking for the fourth straight week. The Bruins received 20 of the 32 first-place votes cast and 317 points.

South Carolina took second, followed by Marquette, Southern California, Western Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Jacksonville, Drake and Villanova.

Kansas slipped to 11th, followed by Tennessee and St. Louis.

Arizona, Texas Tech, Colorado State and New Mexico tied for 15th and Oregon was ranked 17th. These teams were ranked 17th through 20th in the last balloting.

Indiana, Louisiana State and Utah State tied for 18th and last.

South Carolina beat Cornell in last week's balloting and Marquette downed North Texas State. Southern California routed Alabama, Penn. beat Syracuse and Kentucky defeated Oregon State.

Colorado, Nebraska top Big 8 tourney

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Cliff Meely scored 29 points and clinched a narrow 59-58 victory for Colorado over Kansas State Monday night after Nebraska had squashed Oklahoma State, 71-58, in the Big Eight Basketball Tournament.

Colorado will meet Nebraska and Kansas will play Iowa State Tuesday night in the semifinals.

Colorado nearly squandered a 7-point lead in the last two minutes after posting a 56-49 margin with 2:06 to go. Kansas State pulled within two at 54-54 and missed two chances to tie the game before Meely sealed away the verdict with a free throw 16 seconds from the end.

Ron Maulsby added two free throws for Colorado with eight seconds left and Dennis Lull connected for the Wildcats at the gun.

Colorado pulled away from a 45-45 tie with seven straight points in a two-minute stretch late in the second half before Kansas State began its comeback bid.

High for the Wildcats was sophomore Ernie Kusnyer with 19 points.

Nebraska reeled off nine straight points, five by Marvin Stewart, at the start of the second half to subdue a stubborn Oklahoma State team.

Nebraska led by as many as 13 points in the first half, but the Cowboys closed the gap to 38-33 at the half, principally on the play of reserve Steve Uthoff, who scored 10 first-half points.

The Cornhuskers, who won their ninth game in 10 starts, got off to a blazing start in the second half, however, and dealt Oklahoma State its fifth loss against four victories.

Stewart paced the winners with 22 points, while Chuck Jura had 17. High for the Cowboys was Uthoff with 14

VCU hands defeat to stunned Gophers

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Virginia Commonwealth University held Minnesota to just one field goal in overtime Monday night and handed the stunned Big Ten invaders a 63-56 defeat.

What made the victory all the more remarkable was that VCU, in its first year of big time basketball, made only nine of 24 foul shots and still managed to lead most of the game.

The Rams were paced by the 17 points and 13 rebounds of 6-foot-7 center Charlie Booker and 6-foot-7 forward Greg McDougald's 13 points and 10 rebounds. McDougald missed nine out of 10 free throws.

Minnesota was led by guard Eric Hill's 20 points and 14 by center Jim Brewer.

Brewer and Hill paced a Minnesota drive that saw the Gophers come from 13 points back with 8:36 left to play and knot the score at 44-all with 1:11 remaining. Each team then missed two floor shots and the game went into overtime.

Raggle Cain paced VCU's overtime struggle with a pair of jump shots, while Minnesota got only a field goal by Brewer.

Niagara upsets Drake

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI)—Marshall Wingate scored 32 points and drew key fouls on two Drake starters Monday night as thrice-beaten Niagara upset the previously unbeaten and ninth ranked Bulldogs, 87-77 in the championship round of the Queen City Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Host Canisius topped Morehead State, 83-74, in the consolation game.

Wingate converted a three-point play and Paul Thornton scored on a pair of foul shots as Niagara moved from a 73-72 edge to an 81-72 advantage with four minutes left in the game.

Wingate, the tournament's Most Valuable Player, also drew the fifth personal fouls on Drake starters Jeff Halliburton and Leon Huff. Halliburton, who topped the Bulldogs with 20 points, left the game with 10:15 remaining and Huff fouled out 40 seconds later.

It was Niagara's first title in the 17-year history of the tournament and the first loss for four-time champion Drake in ten tourney games.

The win left Niagara with a 5-3 season mark. Drake is now 6-1.

Bucks down Royals 137-114

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Bucks, led by Lew Alcindor's 29 points and five other players in double figures, defeated the Cincinnati Royals, 137-114, in a National Basketball Association game at the Dane County Coliseum Monday night.

The Bucks, who led 74-58 at the half, outrebounded the Royals 65-51 and outshot them 56 per cent to 41.

Cincinnati rallied midway through the fourth quarter to cut Milwaukee's lead to 117-101, but the Bucks kept the lead as Alcindor was helped in the scoring column by Greg Smith with 26 points, Bob Dandridge with 23 and Oscar Robinson with 22.

Flynn Robinson, a former Milwaukee player, led the Royals with 23 points and Nate Archibald, Charlie Paulk and Tom Van Arsdale each added 14.

Warriors drop Hawks 115-104

ATLANTA (UPI)—San Francisco broke from a 33-23 deadlock at the end of the first quarter to a 21-point halftime lead Monday night and then hung on to defeat Atlanta 115-104 in a National Basketball Association game.

Reserve forward Clyde Lee led the San Francisco burst in which the Warriors outscored Atlanta 43-31 in the second period. He saw nearly all his playing time in that span and scored all 13 of his points.

But San Francisco had to hang on in the second half as Atlanta rallied, played

Wrecked company jet located near Boise

BOISE (UPI)—The wreckage of a Morrison-Knudsen Co. aircraft missing since early Monday evening was located this morning about seven miles east of Boise, three miles southwest of the Mora's Creek bridge in the Lucky Peak area.

There were no survivors. On board the plane were Emmett E. Schille, 66, Boise, chief pilot, and Stephen W. Sandmeier, 51, Boise, first officer and a qualified first pilot.

Chet Moulton, director of aeronautics, said the airplane was on the far side of the Boise Ridge Mountains. The wreckage was spotted by a helicopter from intermountain helicopter Boise, one of several which left earlier in the morning to search for the missing De Havilland 125 twin prop jet.

The plane was returning from a flight to Billings, Mont., where it had left four passengers. It was last heard from when the pilot reported he was 10 miles away from the tower at the Boise Municipal Airport and received permission for an instrument landing.

Moulton, who said there would be an investigation, said there was "no call or no radio message or anything" after the last radio contact. He said the plane was lost to radar below 8,700 feet.

Early Monday evening Moulton asked persons living in the Engle-Star area northwest of Boise to notify him of any unusual noises or any sight of the plane.

Early today, the search switched to the area northeast of Boise, the Lucky Peak area.

IT'S MOVING DAY at long last for College of Southern Idaho administration offices, moving this week into their new quarters in the recently completed Commons building on the CSI campus. Sharon Stahlecker, on left, and Miss Willie Patterson busy themselves with packing a multitude of offices in the former CSI offices at 149 3rd Ave. E.

Retirement plan OK'd

TWIN FALLS—Nearly all of the 135 Twin Falls city employees who attended a hearing Monday afternoon on the proposed new retirement program gave their approval to the new system.

Champ Lake, Boise, field representative for the Public Employee Retirement System met with city workers to discuss and explain the state system which has been adopted effective Jan. 11 in Twin Falls city.

Employees were asked to designate their support or opposition to the system at the end of the meeting with nearly complete support voiced, City Manager Jean Millar said.

Another 35 city employees, all in the fire department, are not involved in the new program as the department maintains its own separate retirement system. Employees under the former program purchased through Aetna Insurance Co., may retain their investment there and receive regular benefits at retirement age.

Three employees will be retiring this year and will retire under the previous system.

They include—City Clerk Constance Lessor who has been a city employee the past 25 years, all of the time as city clerk; Leo Spence, foreman with the water supply department and an employee since 1930, and Lloyd Nelson, city sanitation inspector, who joined the city in 1952.

Kimberly Collision woman suit trial injured proceeds

TWIN FALLS — A young Kimberly woman who was injured about midnight Tuesday in a two-vehicle collision on Eastland Drive was released after treatment at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Twin Falls Police said vehicles driven by Martha Anne Heldeman, 18, Kimberly, and Boyd Harrison, 53, Hill City, collided when Harrison's car pulled from the parking lot of the Bowldrome into the path of Miss Heldeman's northbound vehicle.

Miss Heldeman was taken by ambulance to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and later released. Riding in her car was Janet Murphy, 17, Kimberly. Passengers in the Harrison vehicle were Gloria Sutton, 26, and Perry Sutton, 31, both Emmett. Miss Heldeman was the only one requiring treatment.

The trial began Monday afternoon after a lengthy jury selection. The 12-member jury was empaneled late Monday and plaintiff's attorney Lloyd Webb called three witnesses before court recessed.

Those called were Everett Waddell, Idaho State Police officer who investigated the Sept. 4, 1968, accident; Cloyce Edwards, operator of Magic Valley Ambulance Service, and Loyal Rountree, Buhl.

Rountree is employed by Green Giant Co. of Buhl, which also employed Mr. Von Lindern at the time of his death. The victim was field man for Green Giant and was operating a private crossing near a corn field at the time the accident occurred, testimony revealed.

Called to the stand Tuesday morning were Clarence Dudley, who photographed the accident scene for the plaintiff's law firm, and Phil Buaman, foreman of the corn picking crew which was working near the accident scene.

The trial is scheduled to end this afternoon. Judge Theron Ward is presiding over the case in Twin Falls Fifth District Court.

She will drop out of school for a year to give full time to her duties as Miss Rodeo America, but she said she hopes to finish college later. Miss Brackenbury expressed appreciation to all who have helped her, and described the competition at the Miss Rodeo America meet in Las Vegas.

She said her dream of winning the title began when she was 5 years old, but she never thought she would make it. The Jerome girl also won the Miss Personality and Miss Appearance titles and barely missed winning the horsemanship award.

Miss Brackenbury, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Brackenbury, Jerome, will make her first official appearance Jan. 10 at a stock show in Denver. Her father is principal of Jefferson grade school and her mother teaches second grade at Washington grade school.

MRS. EDNA ROBERTS of the College of Southern Idaho is seen in the new quarters to box the thousands of books prepared to be moved into the second floor Commons library. Library personnel is working along with office staff members and college bookstore people to get the massive moving job done by the end of the second semester. Dr. Bruce Harrison, head of the library, is out of town this week. Final moving plans for the library are still in the works.

Films planned

TWIN FALLS — Film programs, tailored to the interests of junior high school age students, will be shown on Monday nights at the Twin Falls Public Library, Sally Carpenter, staff member announced today.

The new program, designed to encourage the junior high school age students to visit the library will start Jan. 4 with a ski film, "Ski The Outer Limits," filmed by Dick Barrymore.

Programs, offered at no charge to the students, will continue on each Monday night at 7:30 p. m. and will offer a variety of programs covering everything from art, ballet and singing to a show on pig raising.

Applicants scrutinized

TWIN FALLS—Dale Patterson, chairman of the board of directors of the Magic Valley YMCA of Twin Falls, said today it is hoped an announcement of a new director can be made at the annual meeting in January.

Patterson said the board still is interviewing applicants for the position which has been vacant since Chet Bartlett resigned effective Nov. 1.

There have been about 16 applications received for the directorship, Patterson said, but some of the applicants have been eliminated.

The date of the annual meeting has not been set, Patterson said.

Public aid reviewed

BUHL — State Sen. John Barker, R-Twin Falls, discussed the recent Republican Governors' Conference at Sun Valley and the public assistance program for members of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon.

Barker talked briefly about the security measures that were taken at the governors' conference in Sun Valley. He said he thought the security measures were probably necessary because "if disturbances had occurred, it would have been a reflection on both Sun Valley and the state of Idaho. And we understood threats had been made on some of the public officials, whether the threats were in jest or true. Nobody knows."

Regarding the public assistance program, which is currently before Congress, Barker said, "I have serious doubts about the plan as it is now drafted. I think it is a type of negative income tax plan and the amounts allowed under the proposal appear to be too high."

Barker also discussed the abuses in the present public assistance program. He said for example, "In California a woman is claiming public assistance under the aid to dependent children program and is drawing $11,000 a year on a federal government job. He said this type of abuse has to be stopped."

He also discussed briefly the state sharing of federal revenues.

Leonard leaves Filer Highway Board post

TWIN FALLS — Merlo Leonard, Filer, newly elected Twin Falls County Commissioner for the first district, has resigned from the Filer Highway District board of directors to prevent a conflict of county positions.

Leonard, elected on the Republican ticket succeeding Morris W. Carlson, said he is resigning because of his duties as a county commissioner after six years on the Filer Highway board. The past four years he has served as chairman.

Highway board members will make the appointment to fill the vacancy for one year with a successor to be elected by district voters at the next election late in 1971. Leonard said he is currently serving a four year term with two years yet to be completed.

He said William Olson, Route 1, Filer, a farmer and resident of the area for many years has been selected to fill the post for the coming year under appointment.

Snowfall blankets Valley

SHOSHONE — Up to a foot of new snow in the Magic Valley area today put a snow floor on most highways, but no routes were closed, state highway department officials in the district office here said.

District spokesmen said 12 inches of new snow had fallen in the Halley area with 9 inches at Fairfield. At Shoshone, Gooding, Burley, Jerome and Twin Falls, 3 inches of new snow was reported.

Snow was continuing between Twin Falls and the Nevada line this morning.

Richfield residents reported a foot of snow north of town with several inches of new snow in town.

Sparks fly in hospital

TWIN FALLS — Two trucks from the Twin Falls City Fire Department answered a call at 4:25 p. m. Monday from the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital.

Firemen said there was no damage. They said a safety light apparently blew out and caused electrical sparking.

Applications studied

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls school trustees have received "three or four" applications for the district superintendent's position, states J. T. Anderson, school business manager.

Anderson said Dr. Ernest Ragland, the current superintendent, has announced his resignation effective June 30, 1971. Deadline for the applications is Tuesday, Anderson noted.

The school board will meet Jan. 13.

The late George Kaufman was one of America's greatest playwrights. He was also an avid bridge player. He added many touches of humor to the game—not by his play—but by his remarks. When speaking of today's South, George remarked, "There are two ways to tell when he has a good hand. First, his face lights up. Second, he does something wrong with it."

There was nothing wrong with South's bidding, although his partner was nervous when he saw that South was thinking about slam. His play to trick one was also correct. He won the diamond lead with his ace. Trick two was a different story. He led a spade to dummy's king. At this point the contract had gone to this land from whence no traveler returns. The combination of the sure trump loser and four hearts to the king-queen in the West hand was too much for him.

JACOBY HOPKINS, Editor, 128-page book, is available through this newspaper. Send name, address and zip code, plus $1 for each book, to: "Win at Bridge," c/o (Name Newspaper) P.O. Box 489, Dept. 1078, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

at-trick two. Then he should follow up by playing ace and 10 of hearts. West would be in with the queen and would play the jack of diamonds. South would now lead the jack of hearts from dummy. West would discard his last diamond. South would ruff that, enter dummy with the king of trumps which had been preserved for that very purpose and discard his six of clubs on dummy's nine of hearts.

Suppose trumps and hearts broke some other way. Just check the possibilities. As long as trumps don't break 4-0 the hand is home.

It's amazing what one family can accumulate in a few short years.

If you don't think the above scene is typical of your household, think for a minute of the many items you possess which have ceased to be needed or used in your daily life.

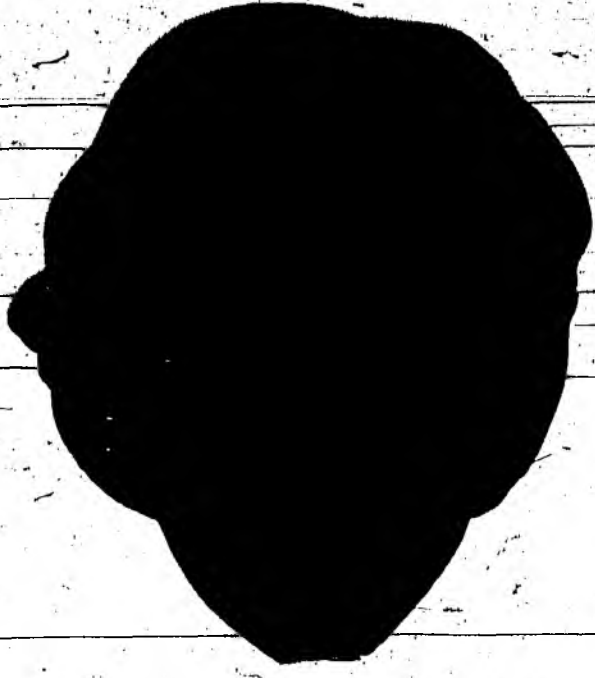

What was once a necessity or a source of leisure-time activity suddenly becomes stored away in that "out of sight - out of mind" recess of your life.

Yet you have good money invested in these items and they possess many years of usefulness for some other family.

Raiders return...

ISRAELI RAIDING party returns from foray across Lebanese border Monday in which Arab guerrilla bases at village of Yaatar were attacked. Reports of raid conflicted, with

Israeli officials saying several terrorists were killed while Lebanese said a child and man were killed and two persons wounded. (UPI)

Tanker crew sought

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (UPI)—The Coast Guard looked Monday for a lifboat carrying 21 members of a Panamanian tanker that began sinking Saturday, and hundreds of miles to the north it searched for six members of the crew of a Finnish oil tanker that split in half Sunday.

only about 60 feet of the bow remaining above water at noon Monday, about 450 miles southeast of here and some 270 miles southwest of Bermuda. A Norwegian ship, the Ross Mountain, picked up 17 survivors, including the captain, about 80 miles from the sinking vessel Monday morning. A Coast Guard search plane spotted an overturned lifboat, and two life jackets, but no signs of life near the Chrystal.

The 17 survivors said all 38 crewmembers aboard the Chrystal had abandoned ship at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, when the ship began "broaking up in heavy seas." The missing 21 had all been on the one lifboat, the survivors said.

The sinking Chrystal was first discovered by the steamship Geneva about 9 a.m. Monday with about 80 feet of the tanker above water at that time. Three hours later, the Ross Mountain reported picking up the 17 survivors in a lifboat about 80 miles away.

Several hundred miles northward, about 600 miles east of Cape May, N.J., the bow of the Finnish oil tanker Ragny stayed afloat, but rescue operations were hampered by high winds and stormy waters.

The 31 crewmembers found aboard the stern of the Ragny were rescued, but six crewmembers unaccounted for were believed to be aboard the ship's bow when it overturned.

The six missing Ragny crewmen included the captain, chief mate and chief engineer.

News Of Servicemen

BURLEY—Bruce D. Stocks, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Preston Stocks, 1310 Normal Ave., has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

He is serving as a staff development engineer in the Air Force plant representatives' office, Ft. Worth, Tex. and has completed a tour of duty at Takhil Royal Thai Air Base, Thailand.

He was commissioned in 1955 through the aviation cadet program and holds the aeronautical rating of senior pilot. A 1950 Burley High School graduate, he attended Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, and received his B.S. degree in 1964 from Texas Technological College. He is married to the former Carol F. Russ and they have four children.

TWIN FALLS — Cadet Michael J. Florence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Florence, has been awarded a two-year U.S. Air Force Reserve Officer's Training Corps college scholarship.

He is attending the University of Idaho, Moscow, and is in his junior year majoring in zoology. The scholarships for one, two or three years, are awarded on a competitive basis to AFROTC enrollees.

Cadet Florence is a 1968 graduate of the Twin Falls High School and will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Air Force on completion of the training.

Benefits boost given priority

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a move to salvage an increase in Social Security benefits for 38 million elderly Americans, the Senate was asked Monday to abandon all welfare and trade legislation until next year.

The Senate returned to work from a brief Christmas holiday still snarled in legislation with only seven days left before the Dist. Congress legally expires at noon Sunday. The House returns Tuesday.

Assessing the situation at the start of the day, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said, "We are in a hopeless mess here."

The only good news for Congress came from the White House.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler indicated President Nixon had abandoned the idea of forcing the 92nd Congress into session at noon, Jan. 3, and probably would sign permission for the new Congress to begin Jan. 21.

But Ziegler said Nixon still has "a very real hope that Congress will move on the urgent legislation between now and Jan. 3."

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, asked his colleagues to forget about trade and welfare reform measures, both blocked by filibusters, and make an effort to approve Social Security benefit raises.

He moved that the Senate return to his committee its huge legislative package containing Social Security, trade, family assistance and a provision for payment of catastrophic illness costs.

Once there, Long said, the committee, under instructions from the Senate, would eliminate all provisions except a 10 per cent increase in Social Security benefits with a $100 a month minimum and a series of reforms in the Medicare and Medicaid programs. Then the bill would be returned to the floor for quick action.

Three downed

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist forces in Laos shot down three U.S. aircraft earlier this month, according to the official news agency of the Pathet Lao.

The news agency, in a broadcast monitored here, identified the aircraft as a B47, and F4H and an F4. They were shot down Dec. 13, 17 and 21.

A total of 1,580 American aircraft have now been shot down over Laos since 1964, the news agency said.

Filer area mail boxes damaged

FILER — Weekend vandalism resulted in a rash of damaged mailboxes southeast of Filer, with those responsible warned by Loren Anderson, postmaster, that there is a severe penalty for destruction of United States government property.

Marvin Lohr ventured the opinion that the vandals had used a one-inch piece of gas pipe for the battering process. Marks of the pipe showed on the mailboxes and the ground underneath the boxes was strewn with bits of yellow enamel from the Times-News boxes.

Two mail boxes at the homes of Marvin Lohr and David Lohr, three miles southeast of town, were badly battered, and two Times-News paper receptacles were smashed so badly that one could not be used to contain the newspaper. The damage was discovered Sunday morning when the Lohrs went out to get their Sunday papers.

Mail boxes belonging to Earl Lohr and Arthur DeVissor, close neighbors, were also damaged to a lesser extent. The vandalism was reported to Harold Huston, rural mail carrier, who in return relayed it to postmaster Anderson. Anderson has reported it to the postal inspector who will investigate.

Prison escape foiled

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (UPI)—Two prisoners at the Utah State Prison tried to escape early Monday. They were caught and returned to maximum security cells.

Deputy Warden G. M. Fitzgerald said Delmont Gentry, 19, of Price, and Dennis Baker, 24, of Ogden, fled from the prison hospital after breaking a window and climbing through a small hole.

Gentry is serving a sentence of one to 10 years for damaging a building with explosives. Baker is serving one to 20 years for burglary and armed robbery. They face disciplinary action.

On Saturday, three prisoners slipped through a fan room and lowered themselves from a window, using a bedsheet as a rope. But guards caught them before they got far.

Prison authorities have tightened security but say they are short on personnel.

The escape attempts followed within a week the slaying of a veteran guard, Don Wagstaff, at the prison dairy farm. Wagstaff had been guarding several prisoners, two of whom were discovered missing after Wagstaff was found dead.

The missing prisoners were picked up in Salt Lake City and charged with first-degree murder in connection with the guard's bludgeoning death.

Security has also been tightened at the dairy farm, the deputy warden said.

COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN IDAHO

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

SPRING TERM
1971

COMMUNITY EDUCATION, AVOCATION and RECREATION

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE:

As President of the College of Southern Idaho, I am pleased with the opportunity provided me in reviewing C. S. I.'s Spring educational and avocational schedule as well as the college's growth and progress over the last five years.

We have attempted and we feel successfully, to provide the people of Magic Valley with a stimulating opportunity to involve themselves with a variety of educational courses. These courses included not only self-educating and job improving areas, but also those designed to enable a person to more fully enjoy his leisure time.

The institutions' physical plant has continued to grow and Phase II of the campus master plan is nearing completion. This phase will add three buildings to those already situated on our 240 acre campus and allow the College to house 150 students on the campus. Additionally, it will provide facilities for the administration of the College, allowing them to move to the campus from rented facilities in downtown Twin Falls.

The gratifying acceptance of the College by the community is evidenced by the continued growth in enrollment. The increase is evident and substantial in both divisions of the College. Curricula are being continually evaluated in an attempt to merit this confidence and continue to meet community needs and desires.

In December, 1968, the College was granted full accreditation by the Northwest Association of secondary and Higher Schools. This action came after only three years of operation and is the shortest possible time span in which a new institution may become accredited. The College staff and members of the Magic Valley community take great pride and satisfaction in this feat.

In the coming years, we anticipate continued growth in enrollment and additions to the physical plant. Bids will be let in January for the first vocational-technical classroom building on the campus. The College will continue to add new programs as needed and improve upon those in existence. We wish to express our appreciation to our various publics and Board of Trustees for their continued interest and support and are proud of our role in the higher education scene of Idaho.

Respectfully submitted,

James L. Taylor

December 2, 1970

237 SHOSHONE ST. N.
TWIN FALLS

We are most fortunate in the Magic Valley to have the College of Southern Idaho located in our area. This fine institution has added so many things to the field of education, as well as to the cultural aspects of Southern Idaho. The College of Southern Idaho provides opportunities for young people and adults to increase their knowledge in many subjects as well as in arts, crafts and vocations.

The expansion and growth of C. S. I. is almost unbelievable and is definite proof of the need for a Comprehensive Community College, in the Magic Valley.

We commend the College Board of Trustees, the President Dr. James Taylor and the entire faculty and staff for a most outstanding job.

Ray Rostron, Manager
Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce
