City taxes to rise

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Projected city salary increases and other rising costs probably will force the city to spend and tax at levels above the 4 per cent increase permitted by state law.

City manager Jean Milar said today that unless the 4 per cent per year maximum tax increase permitted by house bill 304 is abolished by the legislature, the city will have no choice but to appeal to the Idaho State Tax Commission for permission to levy taxes at levels above a 4 per cent increase.

Milar said the major problem is in keeping pace with the rising costs of living which must be met with salary increases for city employees. Milar is currently working out a proposed salary scale to be submitted to the city council, probably at the Jan. 4 or Jan. 18 meeting.

He said cities and other governmental agencies must meet the same cost increases in materials, equipment and vehicles as private industry. City employees face the same living cost increases as other people, Milar said.

Milar said he will probably ask council members to look at the present five-step salary scale of the city and make some changes, especially in regard to assistant department heads.

Most departments have a "number two man," he said, and these persons frequently face the same responsibility as the department head. Milar said he would like to see the salaries for these people placed on a monthly rate and brought up to standards which would serve as an incentive to the worker. This would allow the employe to carry out necessary duties without requiring the city to pay overtime should responsibilities keep the worker on the job a few extra hours per month.

A survey of salaries in private industry and business in the six major areas of the state reveals Twin Falls area is the sixth or lowest paying area of the state, Milar said. At the same time, city salaries are also the lowest except in one or two categories.

An example, he said, shows city mechanics here receive about 80 per cent of the average city mechanics in the six major cities.

39 Die Blast wreaks havoc in 'dangerous' mine

HYDEN, Ky. (UPI)—An underground explosion killed 39 men Wednesday 1,600 feet inside a deep soft coal mine which had been closed by Federal inspectors for three days last summer for "dangerous" violation of safety laws.

By 8 a.m. today, mine rescue crews brought 36 bodies to the surface from two shafts of the Finley Coal Co. mine near this Appalachian community in southeastern Kentucky.

The explosion which ripped through shafts 15 and 16 in the state's second worst mining disaster spewed a pillar of coal dust "like a tornado" high above a bleak snow-covered mountainside.

Grieving relatives waited through the night at the mouths of the mine shafts as soot covered rescue workers brought out the bodies and the victims' names were called out by coroner Dwayne Miller.

Conny Couches waited 12 hours before he heard the name of his son, Alonzo, called.

"I knew he was dead, but I felt like I had to wait to know for sure," Couches said.

"Oh, Lord, be with my boy! Oh, Lord, be with my boy!" a mother of one of the dead men wailed over and over.

One man, H. T. Collins, was just inside the mine, a few feet from the mouth of one of the shafts when he heard the blast. He survived. Had he been any deeper in the shaft he would have died, officials said.

State mining officials charged a faulty dynamite capsule or an electrical failure triggered the explosion, but it was reported the mine was closed three days in June because federal inspectors determined there were safety violations which needed to be corrected.

The state mining officials said the 38 men were killed instantly in the explosion, which sent out heavy concentrations of deadly carbon monoxide gas. The gas accumulations forced rescue crews to halt the body recovery efforts for a few hours during the night.

Ice adds to eve's perils

TWIN FALLS — Some New Year's Eve celebrants in Magic Valley will be mixing a little ice with their drinks this year as areas remain in slick condition.

Law officers ask residents to use caution in driving tonight and to not drink and drive.

The Idaho State Police, Twin Falls County sheriff's department and Twin Falls City Police Department all will be working full staff and full shift.

Capt. Dean Bennett of the Idaho State Police said officers at the ports of entry in Magic Valley will be serving coffee to motorists. He said anyone is welcome to stop in and have a cup of coffee furnished by his department.

Sheriff Paul Corder said motorists should either "stay sober or stay home."

Chief Frank Barnett said his men will be working full staff as on any other holiday. He said several officers will be going to school the first of the year, but through Sunday he will have a "full crew."

School bonds to burn

TWIN FALLS — Burning of $1.4 million bonds which provided money to build the Twin Falls High School will highlight a special trustee meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Supt. Ernest Ragland said today the meeting will be held in the high school faculty room and former school board members as well as school officials, representatives of the news media and interested citizens are welcome.

The 1,400 bonds, each of $1,000 denomination, were all signed individually by Glen E. Trail and Clyde Koontz, school trustees in 1949 when the bond issue was approved.

Atty. T. M. Robertson has advised the board the bonds may now be burned, together with all the interest coupons, Supt. Ragland said. The burning will take place in the high school boiler room.

The 40-acre campus on Piler Avenue East where the high school was built has proved to be a sensible site, the superintendent said. Many additions have been made since the high school opened in 1953. The plant has been well maintained and visitors have shown surprise the building has been in use 17 years. This is a credit to students, faculty and the school's excellent maintenance program, Supt. Ragland said.

Other business at the board meeting will include discussion of proposals made by the "Faculty Committee" on professional development.

Power hike hits valley

By LEETREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
Idaho Power Company's 5.5 per cent rate increase is inflationary in nature, according to area businessmen.

Idaho Power has been granted the across-the-board rate increase by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission, though the specific rate schedule has not yet been approved by the PUC.

Bob Pearson, office manager for the Kollwood Corp., said that "I'd say the rate increase would definitely be inflationary; there's nothing you can do about it, but it contributes to overall rising costs."

Gordon Richards, plant manager for Longview Fibre Co., in South Park, agreed, saying "It's the same old story; everything is going up, and you just have to pay the bill."

Bill Routh, plant manager for Idaho Frozen Foods, agreed on the inflationary aspect, but doubted if the increased costs would force any increase in the costs of his products.

"In our business, supply and demand are more regulatory than the cost structure, though our costs are continually going up. I doubt if we'll have to raise the costs to our customers because of the higher power rates," he said.

In Burley, Vaness Anderson, operator of the Black Mesa farm complex near Glenns Ferry, a major irrigation pumper, said the increase would raise his operational costs somewhat, but he didn't have specific figures on hand.

Anderson added, however, that the power company "hits us hard in two ways: rates and demand." The maximum amount of current consumed during a specified period determines the rate for the power, Anderson said. He said many irrigation pumpers feel the combination of demand and rate forces them to pay an unfairly high price for power.

Under the new electric rates, customers will pay up to $1.50 per month more for a typical household.

The householder was hit twice in the PUC's ruling. First a 5.5 per cent across the board increase was granted. Second, lower rates for all-electric homes or homes with electric water heaters were discontinued.

Thus, most Idahoans will be getting bigger bills — but just what the new rates will be has not yet been determined. Idaho Power must draw up new rate schedules and submit them to the PUC for final approval before the increase can take effect, according to Larry Hall, Twin Falls, rate accountant for Idaho Power.

The new rates will be submitted "as soon as possible," Hall said, and approval is anticipated early in 1971.

The PUC ruling turned down a utility request to increase rates to electric pump irrigators by a bulky 31.15 percent, ordering the 5.5 per cent boost applied to irrigators as well as homeowners.

Homeowners will not have to pay more than $1.50 per month additional, however, according to J. C. Cummock, Boise, a rate analyst for Idaho Power. Cummock said the tentative rates which will be submitted to the PUC show that the monthly increase "could range from almost nothing to a maximum of $1.50."

Cummock stressed that the new rates have not yet been approved by the PUC, so slight changes are possible. However, the general increase has been approved, giving Idaho Power an annual revenue increase of $2.0 million.

Idaho Power President Albert

Carlson has voiced disappointment with the new rates, however, saying that it is insufficient, in that the increase "will not return our average revenue per kilowatt hour to the level of eight years ago."

Carlson said Idaho Power had asked for an increase of 16 per cent, which would have returned $5.45 million more per year.

Basques given clemency

BURGOS, Spain (UPI)—A year-end act of clemency has averted both a domestic explosion and a crisis in Spain's international relations. But six Basque nationalists saved from execution vowed today to continue seeking "revolution or death."

Generalissimo Francisco Franco Wednesday commuted to 30 years in prison the death sentences ordered by a court-martial against the six Basques in what he described as an action demonstrating the strength of his 31-year-old regime.

The new sentences are not subject to amnesty.

Expressions of relief and gratification at the last-minute decision came from the Vatican and most of the European and Latin American governments that had criticized the death sentences and urged Franco to commute them. Workers in the Basque provinces of northern Spain who had been on strike a few hours earlier danced in the streets to celebrate the commutations.

Spellbound . . .

SON OF Illinois State Sen. Edward McBroom, Harvey Victor McBroom, 26, is under the spell of a witch, according to a suit filed by his father in San Jose Calif., asking for custody of the boy. The father said his son is under the influence of Mrs. Patricia Schneider, 66, Kankakee, Ill., who he described as a witch. (UPI)

Action agency funded

TWIN FALLS — The South Central Community Action Agency has been awarded a $95,000 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity to finance programs for the next six months.

The grant was announced by Rep. Gerald B. Hanna of Washington, D. C. office.

The funds will finance program planning, senior citizen opportunities and services for low income residents of Twin Falls, Cassia and Jerome counties for the next six months.

Dennis Pratt, acting director of the SCCAA, said the allocation is about half the agency's yearly allocation from OEO. He said because of internal problems within the SCCAA, including the resignation of director Larry Mack under pressure from the board, the program has gone into another planning stage.

Russians lift death

MOSCOW (UPI)—An appeal court today committed to 15 years in prison the death sentences against two Leningrad Jews convicted of plotting to hijack a Soviet plane and fly to the west.

Relatives of the defendants, who had been allowed inside the Moscow courtroom of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation, came outside and announced the commutation to a group of Soviet Jews gathered outside, who cheered and danced in the streets.

The sentences of three of the other nine defendants involved in the trial were reduced. Sentences for the six others, including a woman, were confirmed.

Car exhaust clean-up set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon signed today into law far-reaching antipollution legislation which orders the auto industry to produce a virtually emission free car by 1978.

The new law states that the industry comply with an engine by Jan. 1, 1978, that will reduce emissions of carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons by 90 per cent from the maximum 1970 permissible levels.

The administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency in Washington said that he would be pleased to see that the law is implemented.

standards unless Congress extended the deadline.

The industry may apply for the one-year extension by Jan. 1, 1972. There is no doubt that the industry will ask for the extra time. Even that is not enough, its spokesmen have contended.

The year's deadline would provide a 20-month lead time for engineers to develop new cars into the market.

The Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency in Washington said that he would be pleased to see that the law is implemented.

Fish, milk tainted

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—New York conservation officials said Wednesday fish in Lake George are contaminated with mercury and warned against their consumption. Sport fishing in the popular resort lake was not banned, however.
A state Department of Environmental Conservation spokesman said samplings of lake trout, rainbow trout and smallmouth bass from the 32-mile-long lake indicated mercury levels exceeding the safety level established by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. The spokesman said the contamination was from an unknown source and added there were no known sources of industrial discharge into the lake. The department previously recommended against eating fish taken from Lakes Erie, Ontario, Oneida and Champlain and the Oswego, Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers.

Southwest Radiological Laboratory said the levels were not dangerous and dissipated quickly several days after the December incident.
The traces, all below minimums set by Federal Radiation Commission guidelines, were found in milk sampled in California, Nevada, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Federal authorities have seized some 8,000 pounds of kingfish from Los Angeles harbor because of contamination from DDT. It was the first federal action involving salt water fish, a spokesman for the Federal Food and Drug Administration said Wednesday.

Reports highlight Farm Bureau meet

TWIN FALLS—Reports highlighted the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau meeting Tuesday evening at the organization's office.
Reports on the national convention in Houston earlier this month were given by Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Vanausdoin. They noted Mrs. Albert Wilson, Emmett, was re-elected to the women's board for the western region at the convention. It was announced the membership drive has begun. A report of field crops were made by Hugo Moyer.
A letter from Dean Fulmer was read concerning the leadership conference for young farmers and ranchers to be held in February at Burley.

Rupert woman injured

RUPERT — Mrs. Winifred Clevenger, 43, Accquia, was dismissed from Minidoka Memorial Hospital Wednesday after treatment for injuries received when her car went out of control on icy Highway 24 Tuesday night.
Minidoka County sheriff's officers said she was driving on Reed Avenue, which is Highway 24, just outside the Rupert city limits when the car went into the borrow pit.
Two other accidents were reported by Rupert police Tuesday resulting from icy roads.

Taxing committee report rejected

BOISE (UPI) — The legislative council Tuesday approved study reports from seven special committees who had investigated means of updating Idaho's laws in several areas.
The committee, however, rejected the report from the committee on taxation and some members said they weren't pleased over its report.

the existing law without relaxing it.
Also included in that committee's report was the code to cover drug abuse which calls for clearer definitions on drug abuse offenses and increased penalties for some crimes.
The committee postponed any action on the taxation committee report until further discussions are held.
The reports, as approved by the council, will be transmitted to the 41st session of the legislature for consideration.

Arts funds cleared

BOISE (UPI) — In a day-long meeting Wednesday the Idaho Commission on Arts and Humanities approved $14,702 in federal matching funds for arts to Idaho organizations.
The federal funds were allotted through the National Endowment for the Arts and were the balance of funds the commission had available for fiscal 1970-71.

amount of funds granted through the commission to Idaho organizations during this fiscal year to $75,377.
The largest award went to the Lapwai Nez-Perce Dancers for a total of $5,509 while the Highland High Drama Department received $2,500 to bring a touring children's theatre to young people in the state.

Shopping bus set Tuesday

TWIN FALLS—A free shopping bus for senior citizens will run Jan. 5, sponsored by the Blue Lakes Shopping Center, bringing residents of housing developments to the center to shop as desired, according to Ray Pruet, director of the Senior Citizens Agency.
The bus will stop at Canyonville Apartments at 9:20 a.m. on Jan. 5, followed by a stop at Pioneer Courts at 9:30; Just-A-More Inn, 9:40; Reed Apartments, 9:50; Sunnyview Courts, at the recreation hall, 9:55; Duvall Courts, at Maurice Circle, 10:05, and Washington Courts, at the housing office, at 10:15 a.m.
All persons wishing to join the shopping tour should be at the pickup points on time. If any need a ride to the pickup points, they can call the Senior Citizens Agency at 734-3032.

Buhl man promoted

BUHL — Clifford Franklin, Buhl, has been promoted to district manager for Field Enterprises Educational Corp., publishers of World Book Encyclopedia and Childcraft at Twin Falls.
He replaces Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Whitehead who were transferred to Idaho Falls as district managers.
Franklin and his wife, Jean, presently live at Buhl with their family. He will be responsible for sales in several counties around Twin Falls.

Equipment operators, of which the city has a number, are getting $60 per month less than the average salary of mechanics employed by the six major cities, or about 9 to 10 per cent less than average. Twin Falls equipment operators are paid $502 per month and the six city average is $564.
Milar said most of the employees have been with the city for a number of years and by holding the experienced workers taxpayers are getting more for their salary dollars.
This year the city will be giving employees a better retirement program and will also be paying firemen on a new salary schedule. What other salary benefits can be provided will depend on final review of city income, the city manager said. The pay schedule which gives firemen about $45 per month more will, over a period of several years, bring this department in line with others in the state, Milar said.
He added it is hoped the same can be done for other employees over the next few years. Each department head has presented the manager with a salary analysis and Milar said he is now working with these and with the state wide salary study of the Idaho Association of Cities to come up with recommendations for 1971.
Last year employees received a flat 5 per cent salary increase but it did not become effective until March. That made it more of a 4 per cent increase for the year.
Milar said he feels the only hope for the taxpayer is for taxing units to streamline, consolidate and improve working techniques and facilities to make each tax dollar go as far as possible in buying power.

Happy New Year!

ANDREW TULLY

The Tendency To Gloat

WASHINGTON — If there is one respect in which the Nixon administration resembles that of the late John Kennedy, it is the tendency of its palace guard to gloat, often prematurely.

college students feel colleges have been too lax in handling student protests. It is plain, from talk within the administration, that the White House feels it is over the hump on these issues.

Based on replies to questionnaires by 180,000 freshmen, the Council has concluded that more than half of them are critical of softness shown by colleges in dealing with demonstrations and protests.

Even a non-member of the Nixon administration consequently is tempted to see this change in campus atmosphere as a nod to the President's policies. Withdrawal of troops from Vietnam is ahead of schedule.

It would be wrong to hold back a New Year's greeting merely because the idea has been used before. Everything about this holiday, when you come to think of it, is shiny at the seams.

Booklore members convene

DECLO — The Daclon Booklore held its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Clifford Darrington, it was announced today.

The Darrington home was decorated for the Christmas season.

Mrs. Mamie Darrington was a guest. The Christmas stories told by Mrs. Darrington were "Where Love Is, There God Is Also," by Leo Tolstoy, and "The Wayfarer's Candle" by Eva L. Hughes.

The first story was about a Russian bootmaker and after the death of his wife and children, the bootmaker became bitter against God. He lived without hope until he found peace by actively living God's words. "When you have done it unto the least of those my children, you have done it unto me."

The second story was about Richard who made plans to walk away with his boss's money. A lighted candle brought memories of his red-haired sister, Dorothy, adopted away from him and the orphanage. While working in an apartment house Richard learned of a mother and her son who would have no Christmas. He listened unseeingly, while the mother told her son the story of the old man who lighted the candle for the wayfarers to find their way in the dark. The candle, the light of the world, performed its miracle with Richard.

NEW YORK (NAPS) — While you may raise a drink and sing "Auld Lang Syne" when the clock strikes 12 on New Year's Eve, your Japanese counterpart may sip cola from America while singing "Otan Jobi Om ede to Gozaimasu" ("Happy Birthday to You") — for the stroke of midnight means it's everyone's birthday!

Celebrating the first day of a new year is an age-old custom. Nearly all peoples have marked the coming of the year. However, the time selected as New Year's Day has varied widely. The First Day has been celebrated as early as the autumnal equinox, about Sept. 21, and as late as the summer solstice, about June 21.

In most European countries during the Middle Ages, March 25 was the beginning of the New Year. And legend has it that El Cid, the great hero of Spanish liberation from the Moors, once won a great battle on New Year's day by giving his tired horses generous gulps of sherry the night before.

The Russian people, long ago, gave the New Year a roaring welcome with a hundred cannon shots at midnight.

In ancient China, people took a different approach to the First Day. They cleaned house, paid debts and closed their shops. Then they shot off their firecrackers... and who can ever forget a New Year's in Chinatown of a big American city, with its colorful procession and fiery paper dragons breathing good cheer to everyone!

Near China, in old Japan, New Year's was a time for everybody to don new clothes, take three days off from work and visit their friends. Each gatepost would be adorned with green pines and bamboo. And over each door would hang red lobsters, crabs and scarlet tangerines, standing for long life and happiness.

Gypsies in Spain used to marry on New Year's Eve. The 18th century writer George Borrow tells us that a main feature of the bridal ceremony was the feasting associated with it. Once the Gypsy couple took their vows, guests ate and sang and danced throughout the night and day.

Not to be outdone, Italians just consider January 1st as part of their Yuletide festival, and so revel until Twelfth Night, 12 days after Christmas.

In Vive-La France, New Year's Day is so singular that adults let Christmas pass by and exchange presents on January 1st.

In America today, New Year's festivities range from gala gatherings to cozy conviviality. Regardless of the size of the party, men and women look their best on the occasion and radiate scintillating fragrances such as Shulton's Burley after shave and cologne for men and Desert Flower for women. Both help make a splash all over the country.

John Ruskin, noted 19th century English critic, once toasted the New Year in by saying: "I consider just and tolerable the drinking of sherry from dawn to dusk... Happy New Year!"

Tradition has it that in Scotland the first one in a house on New Year's Day gets a big, big bear hug. Why? Because he has brought the most good luck. Midnight Scot celebrators carry cakes and spiced ale to wish their host a good year. And the same to you!

Writers League has luncheon

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Writers League observed its Christmas party meeting with a luncheon at the Rogerson Coffee Shop honoring the birthday of Mrs. May Burkhart, Buhl.

The large table was decorated with an appropriate centerpiece and candles. Members sang "Happy Birthday" and presented Mrs. Burkhart cards. After the luncheon, a gift exchange was held at the home of Mrs. Jewel Von Ita, vice president. Mrs. Sudie Hagar, Kimberly, was in charge of the program. The January meeting is at the Idaho Power Co. Auditorium.

Breakthrough

There's a breakthrough in permanent press processing. American Laundry Machinery Industries says the new process adds permanent press qualities to apparel, increases resistance to wrinkles, and adds substantively to garment life. The new process produces softer, easier-to-sew garments that are more durable, more resistant to staining and retain their shape longer," said the firm.

Apollo 11 rescue top tale

NEW YORK (UPI)—The flight of Apollo 11 in which three U.S. astronauts brought their crippled moonship safely home after an explosion deep in space, was the top news story of 1970.

For the second year in a row the U.S. moon exploration program was ranked No. 1 by American editors participating in the annual poll by United Press International to select the news stories with the most headline impact. This time, it was the abortive flight last April which kept the world in suspense for four days until the three astronauts landed safely in the Pacific Ocean. A year ago, the top story was the successful first moon landing by the men of Apollo 11.

The results of the voting by 115 editors in the two categories:

Top 10—Headline Value

1. Astronauts return safely in crippled Apollo 11 moonship.
2. Four Kent State students killed by National Guardsmen.
3. U.S., South Vietnam invade Cambodia.
4. Mass airline hijacks by Arab nationalists.
5. Charles de Gaulle dies.
6. Gama! Abdel Nasser dies.
7. U.S. economy in trouble.
8. Crashes of charter planes carrying Wichita State and Marshall University football teams.
9. Cyclone and floods devastate East Pakistan.
10. U.S. midterm elections.

Racial violence in the United States, including police clashes with the Black Panthers and the shooting of two black students at Jackson State College in Mississippi, was a close runnerup to the top, as were developments in the Middle East and a wave of bombings in the United States.

UPI asked the editors to mark a second ballot to select the stories they felt had the most long-range significance. This list was headed by the sluggish U.S. economy which covered the declining stock market, inflation, unemployment and numerous other business developments including a strike against General Motors.

Under the listing for "headline value" the editors ranked the deaths of four Kent State University students, killed by National Guardsmen during a confrontation on the campus in Ohio, as the No. 2 story.

The invasion of Cambodia by U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in May, which provoked a wave of student protests in the United States, including the one at Kent State, was ranked as the No. 3 story in the headline category. It was No. 2 in the most significant category.

Top 10—Significance

1. U.S. economy in trouble.
2. U.S., South Vietnam invade Cambodia.
3. Kent State students killed.
4. Indochina, including continued U.S. troop withdrawals and the stalled Paris peace talks.
5. The Middle East, including the cease-fire in August.
6. U.S. racial violence.
7. U.S. midterm elections.
8. Bombings in the United States.
9. Flight of Apollo 11.
10. Death of Nasser.

Political kidnappings in Latin America and Canada were ranked just outside the top ten in this category.

Andrus taps aides

BOISE (UPI) — Kootenai County Sheriff John Bandar was named Idaho's commissioner of law enforcement Tuesday by Governor-elect Cecil D. Andrus who also named new directors of nine other agencies.

Bandar replaces Warner G. Mills who has accepted a job as assistant executive director of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators in Washington, D.C.

Andrus also appointed Barlett R. (Bart) Brown, Pocatello, commissioner of labor; Carl Griner, Cataldo, mines inspector; Mrs. Kay Fell, Lewiston, special services director; Fred Charlton, liquor dispensary administrator; Robert Longhen, Pocatello, acting director of the Department of Administrative Services; Tom D. McEldowney, Department of Finance acting director; Harold Coles, Nampa, director of the Surplus Property Agency; and John Blaine, insurance commissioner.

Andrus said he appointed acting directors in administrative services and finance because of changes in both departments which he will propose to the next session of the legislature.

Longhen is the father of three children and was the executive officer of the Retail Clerks Union and the Pocatello Central Labor Union. He is also a former state legislator and has been a member of the advisory council to the Department of Employment since 1953.

Charlton, one of three carryovers from the Samuelson administration, will serve as liquor dispensary commissioner until he reaches his 75th birthday on Feb. 8, 1971.

Mrs. Fell was the community action program director in Lewiston. Her husband is a teacher at Washington State University in Pullman.

Bennett, another carryover from the Samuelson administration, will continue to serve as the state's adjutant general of the National Guard, a position he has held for several years.

Presently the deputy commissioner of the department of finance, McEldowney will serve as the commissioner of that department until Andrus suggests changes in the department to the legislature.

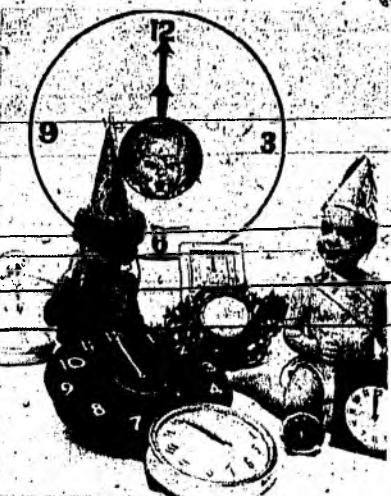

Coles, the father of four children, has been a vocational instructor at the Marsing Job Corps Center for five years. He is also a major in the U.S. Army Reserve Corps in Boise.

Brown, the new commissioner of labor, was the legislative advisor for the United Transportation Union and was a city councilman in Pocatello.

The new mines inspector, Carl Griner, was a candidate for mines inspector when the director was chosen by the electorate rather than by the governor.

The third holdover from the Samuelson administration, Blaine has served as insurance commissioner for the past four years. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho and Boise Junior College and attended George Washington University.

He is also president of zone six of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

TIME ON THEIR HANDS. Looks like Phelan Marshall, left, and Mimi Cull are saving time, but actually they're getting set to wish the first Happy New Year to approximately 3.5 million of their peers who also were born in the United States since last New Year's Day. Both youngsters live in the Chicago area.

Gem Basques hail action

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's secretary of state said Tuesday he was elated death sentences for six Basque nationalists had been commuted, but said he hoped for an open re-trial for the men.

Pete Cenarrusa, who is of Basque descent, said "all witnesses, including those for the suspects, should be heard" in a new trial.

The six would have faced a firing squad at dawn Thursday, but their sentences were commuted by Spain's General Franco after the military governor of the district declined to change the sentences handed down by a military tribunal.

Tuesday evening the Boise Basque community, the largest in the world outside of Spain, sent telegrams to Franco, the U.S. General Secretary, Secretary of State and the U.S. General Secretary, Secretary of State and the U.S. General Secretary.

He said all but three of the Basque nationalists who went on trial said they were members of the Euzkadi Ta Askatasuna (Basque Land and Liberty), a nationalist group Cenarrusa described as an "extremist organization indoctrinated by an outside influence."

But, he said, the Basque country of Spain "for centuries has been a democracy."

Radicals disrupt scientists

CHICAGO (UPI) — Young scientists and radicals, promoting "science for the people," Wednesday forced cancellation of a speech by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, disrupted another panel discussion and said they would be present at all future scientific meetings.

The protesters have disrupted meetings for four days of the five-day convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Seaborg, newly elected president of the AAAS, was not present Wednesday as the demonstrators read an indictment charging him with "the crime of science against the people." There were reports he had been warned of the protest.

Demonstrators had told the press of their plans and Seaborg apparently also had heard of them. He did not subsequently appear to deliver his speech.

His prepared text, distributed in advance of the symposium, was titled "New Frontiers of the Mind" and laid heavy stress on a "partnership between science and government."

Earlier in the day, four protesters disrupted a panel discussion of "police and violence" but were shouted down by members of the audience.

Samuelson asks accrued leave pay

BOISE (UPI) — In a precedent setting move, Idaho Gov. Don Samuelson Wednesday asked the state auditor to approve payment for 30 days of accrued leave time beginning Jan. 4, the day Samuelson leaves office.

On his notice of separation, signed by himself, the governor stated his termination was Feb. 16, 1971 — nearly a month and one-half after the legal termination of his office.

Along with his separation papers, Samuelson also approved a lump-sum payment for accrued vacation time for all of his office employees — all of whom are in appointive positions not covered by the state merit system.

Attorney General Robert M. Robson said the act was legal in light of a recent state board of examiners' decision to pay for accrued leave time up to 30 days for employees leaving the state service.

Robson said, however, he didn't recall any cases where elected officials had asked for vacation time during their terms of office, but noted the new lump-sum payment provision came into effect last summer.

State Auditor Joe Williams, a Democrat, said he never, in his 12 years in state government, had seen instances where the governor or other elected officials had taken vacation time coming to them.

"It's an extremely unique move. I've always considered elected state officials to be on a 24 hour call. State officials have never been paid for leave time. If they don't take it during the calendar year, annual leave is a fringe benefit and shouldn't be built up," Williams said.

Samuelson claims the termination papers ended up in the auditors' office without his approval. He said he had signed the papers for the department of administrative services to save time, but said he had requested final approval before taking any withdrawal action.

He denied sending his secretary to Williams' office to attempt to withdraw the form or make any correction.

However, prior to the Samuelson interview, UPI had talked with Robson who said Samuelson's secretary, Hazel Keeler, telephoned the state auditor's office in an attempt to withdraw the notice of separation but had been told an amended version must be completed.

Samuelson said he too was filling a lump-sum payment request for two of his staff members who will not be serving under the new Democratic administration and said he will participate in a court fight over the matter, if it comes to that.

Filer's center opened

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent
FILER — The biggest change in Filer during 1970 was the construction of the Fairways Shopping Center on Highway 30 at the southeast edge of town. Three major local firms moved into the center.

Groundbreaking for the new shopping center took place in May, and in the first week of September, the Clover Farm Store, operated by Max Henry, became the first building to be completed and ready for business.

The following week the Ralph Eaton Barber Shop and Bristol Real Estate Agency opened for business in the new location. In October a car wash was added to the shopping center which boasts plenty of parking space and attractive and well-landscaped grounds. Future plans include more new businesses to move into the center.

Several blocks west of the shopping center, two businesses moved backward, but only in feet, to make room for the new Highway 30 west of town. The Paul Turnipseed Conoco station was enlarged and renovated while its pumps were moved back and the Standard Station on Jordan's corner was renovated after its "backward" move.

The city council this year adopted hospital and retirement plans for city employees. One of its police officers attended a police academy at Pocatello. Mrs. Frances Wells replaced Kohn Thurman as city clerk upon Mr. Thurman's death. He had served in the office for 30 years.

The city office was renovated and new furniture installed. The lines in the main city water system were improved to give more pressure in some areas of the city.

Filer moved ahead in civic and community affairs. It was the first area to issue a proclamation ushering in National Music Week last year. It also sponsored the proclamation naming the 1870 Veterans' Day as a special "Prisoner of War Day" with Idaho people urged to write letters to Hanol demanding information on and release of prisoners of war.

Filer's new city park was the scene of much action all year as workmen labored to complete its tennis courts, basketball and baseball grounds, as well as picnic areas, all of which were put to good use by the town's young people. Originally begun on a five-year plan, the park was nearly finished ahead of schedule.

The Kiwanis Club received a plaque for outstanding club achievement through the year, and several of Filer's prominent citizens moved to the city to become persons in their own right. Lawrence Knigge was named Outstanding Young Man of the Year, and Mrs. Gurnie Iverson was named Outstanding Young Woman of the Year. Thane Lancaster, well-known horse breeder, was named to the Livestock Hall of Fame.

A Christmas gift to the entire community was a control unit which broadcast the joyous sounds of carillon bells over the city each noon and evening. Favorite hymns of the town people are played from tapes stored in the United Methodist Church.

A move which affected not only the people of Filer but of the entire state as well was finishing the new concrete grandstand at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds in time for the September fair.

In keeping with their policy of a "Bigger and Better Fair" each year, the fair board also added many new features to the five day schedule, including additions in the livestock barns, new premiums in most departments, and the highly successful Idaho Hereford Show as well as fat steer and steer carcass shows.

The new grandstand was erected south of the former one, which was completely destroyed by fire in November, 1962. The fair board acquired additional 1963 lot space and to improve facilities and ready the grounds for the National High School Rodeo finals to be held in August.

The fairgrounds will feature a number of state and national shows beginning in February with the Spring Bull Sale followed by the Range Bull Sale in March, the National AKC Dog Show in May, the Arabian International Horse Show in July and the fair in September, which will include the prized national "Register of Merit" Hereford Show, a first for the county and state.

Cox appreciates aid, prayers during trek

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man who spent about 24 hours on snowy Mount Harrison near Albion expressed appreciation today for "all the help in searching" for him and "all the prayers that were offered."

Jim Cox, 30, who works with his father in the Auto-Phone Corp. of Twin Falls, was forced to abandon his snowmobile Tuesday when a blinding snowstorm struck Mount Harrison.

Cox had set out on his trip to a radio relay station at the mountain's top about 9 a.m. Tuesday and it was just after 10 a.m. Wednesday when he walked to a farmhouse near Elba.

Cox said the night was warm, but he was not comfortable enough in his snow bank shelter under a brush outcropping to do anything but "catnap."

"All I could see when the blizzard struck was white," Cox said. "With snowshoes I could walk and feel my way."

Cox said he was afraid if he remained aboard the snowmobile he might drop over an embankment. He said he had some expensive equipment on board and didn't want to jeopardize its safety.

He said he knew that no matter what direction he went off Mount Harrison he was bound to reach civilization, so he just started walking. He snowshoed until about 8:30 p.m. when darkness fell and then holed up for the night, starting out again at daylight, walking a total of about six miles.

Many volunteers directed by the Cassia County sheriff's office began searching for Cox Tuesday afternoon. He said he did not see any of the snowmobile patrols during his hike.

Cox was wearing a long down-filled parka and had sandwiches left from his lunch to eat.

Back at work Thursday morning, Cox said he had not developed any more of a cold than he "all ready had."

Judgment awarded

TWIN FALLS — A judgment of $51,495 from Union Pacific Railroad Co. to the widow and children of a man killed in a 1968 car-train collision was awarded Wednesday night by a Fifth Judicial District jury.

The 12-member jury returned at 6:17 p.m. with the decision to award Mrs. Warren (Audrey) Von Lindern, Buhl, and her three children about one fourth of what was requested in a suit.

The jury, whose judgment was made by a 10 to 2 decision, retired at 3:25 p.m. Wednesday to deliberate the case. The trial had opened Monday before Judge Theron Ward.

Mr. Von Lindern died Sept. 4, 1968, in the collision at a private crossing between Kimberly and Hansen. The attorney for the railroad and counsel for the Von Lindern family both attempted during the three-day trial to establish negligence by the opposition.

The family's action requested $200,000 general damages and about $1,500 for costs of Mr. Von Lindern's funeral.

Classes Monday Revision vote looms

TWIN FALLS — Classes resume Monday for Twin Falls public school students and on Jan. 11 for College of Southern Idaho students.

J. T. Anderson, Twin Falls School District business manager, said all district schools will begin at 9 a.m. Monday, ending an 11-day holiday vacation.

Dave Perkins, CSI dean of students, said classes will resume Jan. 11. Registration will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Jan. 5-6 in the Shields academic building.

BOISE (UPI) — The speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives, William Lanting, R-Hollister, Wednesday raised the possibility of calling a special general election next November to again consider the revised constitution.

Lanting, speaking at a meeting of the Legislative Council, said problems presented by the 18-year-old vote rule and with the state's bonding laws, could be solved by the revision.

He noted, however, the revision would have to be changed to make it acceptable to voters who soundly defeated it during the most recent general election in Idaho.

Several other council members suggested that in addition to the revised constitution, separate amendments for the 18-year-old vote and clarification of bonding laws be included in the 1971 election.

Lanting noted that a change in the state's election laws would have to be changed to allow for such an election.

Offices to close Friday

TWIN FALLS — Most business and government offices in Twin Falls will be closed Friday for New Year's Day, and some will remain closed on Saturday and Sunday.

All city, county, state and federal offices will be closed through Sunday.

However, mail will be delivered on Saturday, said Lloyd Libert, officer in charge of Twin Falls Post Office. No window service will be provided however.

On Saturday, some local business firms will be closed for inventory. Among the firms to be closed that day are lumber dealers.

Parks and Sons, refuse contractor for Twin Falls, will not make pickups on Friday, but will make the route usually run on Friday on Saturday.

Deputy resigns

RUPERT — Sheriff Theo Johnson said today the position of deputy sheriff in Mindoka County is still vacant, following the resignation of Deputy Wes Woodall.

He has accepted a position as chief of police at Pierce, Idaho, after serving as Mindoka County deputy for the past year and one-half. He previously served as Cassia County deputy sheriff.

Licenses expire

TWIN FALLS — Motorists with license plates expiring on an annual basis rather than the staggered system, which is now used for passenger car plates, will be in violation New Year's Day if still driving on their 1970 tags.

Creath-Wilkinson, deputy assessor, said she has had a number of calls from motorists who think their passenger vehicle plates expire while the

Lincoln deputy resigns

SHOSHONE — Deputy Sheriff Martin Whitwell, Lincoln County deputy since 1962, has resigned due to ill health. The resignation is effective immediately.

Lincoln County commissioners met in special session Wednesday to appoint Bill Anderson, Shoshone chief of police for the past 14 years, as deputy to replace Whitwell. The appointment will become effective Jan. 11. Anderson has agreed to work a double shift with both the sheriff's office and police department until Jan. 10, the commissioners said.

Shoshone City Council will meet on Jan. 5 in regular session to consider several applications on hand for the police chief's position. Jerry Conklin will continue as assistant chief of police.

Whitwell served as city marshal at Richfield before coming to Shoshone. He has made his home at Richfield.

Utah man wounded on hunt

ROGERSON — A Logan, Utah, man was injured Wednesday evening when he was accidentally shot in the foot.

Twin Falls City Police said Jerry Mitchenner was rabbit hunting about three miles west of Rogerson with Gail Weed and Jim Sharkey, both Twin Falls, when the accident occurred. Officers said a bullet from a .22 caliber pistol penetrated Mitchenner's left foot.

He was reported in fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

T.F. pair nominated

TWIN FALLS — Two Twin Falls youths are among the nine Idaho candidates selected Wednesday by Sen. Len Jordan to compete for one vacancy at the U.S. naval academy for the class entering next June.

They are William H. Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Malone, and George W. Merkle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Merkle.

Annual fund march steps off

TWIN FALLS — The annual mailing campaign of the Twin Falls March of Dimes, raising funds for the National March of Dimes campaign against birth defects, began this week.

Volunteers working with the chapter, including members of the Women's Interest Group of the Kimberly United Methodist Church, prepared the self-addressed envelopes which will be sent to all area residents.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a widower for a year. He is in his early sixties. He takes me to nice places and is most considerate of me, but on the very first date, he told me not to get serious with him. He wants to date me steady, but he doesn't want any "involvements." He wants to play house with me but tells me that marriage is not in his plans. He even tells me that he is in love with me, but he isn't husband material. What does all this mean? Should I give him up or just be satisfied to date him and hope he will change his mind? NOT SO GAY DIVORCEE

DEAR NOT: He is trying to tell you that he doesn't want to marry you, but if you waste your time "hoping," you can't say he didn't warn you.

DEAR ABBY: One of my husband's business acquaintances has made it a habit to come here once a week for drinks and a nice thick steak dinner. He is middle-aged, divorced, and a kind of happy-go-lucky fellow. After dinner he and my husband play pool in our rec room. I don't want to be bothered with the man every week. My husband is the kind who can't say "no" to anyone, and I am sick of this man imposing on us. How can I get rid of him without making my husband angry at me? NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: If your husband would be "angry at you" if you got rid of this man, then it's obvious that your husband wants him. It's his house, too, so I advise you to start being a more gracious hostess, or your displeasure will show and your husband will be "angry" at you anyway.

DEAR ABBY: My elderly mother, whom I love dearly, made her home with me for many years. Caring for her this past year has been a 24-hour-a-day job. She became senile and sick, lost control of all of her bodily functions, had to be fed and dressed and watched constantly. I am not complaining. She is my mother and I know she would have done the same for me—and gladly. Two months ago, her doctor insisted that she be moved to a sanatorium because the equipment essential for treatment was there, plus other factors which made keeping her at home impossible. Remarks have come back to me that have hurt me deeply. You would think I committed my mother to a lunatic asylum or "put her away" like a criminal.

Abby, the sanatorium is one of the best—and one of the most expensive—which puts a strain on me financially, but if I had to scrub floors to provide my mother with the best of care, I would do it. Please print this. So many are quick to criticize when they don't know the facts.

"HURT" DAUGHTER

CONFIDENTIAL TO MANNY: You are lucky it was only a fur coat. Next time it'll be your hide.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORRIED" IN BRISTOL, CONN.: No one can "build up" an immunity to venereal disease. After treatment he can be reinfected again and again and again. I urge you to see a physician or go to your public health department. You will not be lectured. In your state, a doctor is authorized by law to test and treat minors without the consent of parents. Venereal disease is now the second most common communicable infection in the United States. [The common cold is first!]

I urge you to see a physician at once. What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69768, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

The Almanac

The 16th Amendment to the Constitution, permitting the federal government to levy an income tax, was adopted in 1913.

My United Press International study is Friday, Jan. 1, the first day of 1971.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

The evening star is Saturn.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Capricorn.

On this day in history:

In 1942 the United States and some 25 other nations signed a declaration in Washington forming the nucleus of the United Nations.

In 1954 anti-British riots broke out in the Suez Canal Zone after Egypt decided to abrogate the Anglo-Egyptian treaty of 1936.

In 1959 the Cuban revolution led by Fidel Castro ended. Dictator Fulgencio Batista fled the country.

A thought for today: British writer Walter Lander said, "Children are what mothers are. No fondest father's fondest care can fashion so the infant hears."

The gazelle is a medium or small-sized antelope.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This New Year's Day is the 76th birthday of a man who has become a legend in his own time.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover plans to spend the day quietly, as usual. No special celebration is scheduled. Critics who have expected or hoped that he might use the occasion to announce his retirement will be disappointed.

Hoover has made clear to intimates that he has no intention of abdication any time soon the vast power he has held for 48 years.

In fact, he has indicated that he intends to remain FBI director at least until his 80th birthday, in 1975.

He would by then have completed half a century in office.

Postponing his retirement until 1975 also would enable him to preside, as FBI director, at the dedication of the new FBI Building, a $100 million structure now rising across Pennsylvania Avenue from the Justice Department.

It is a foregone conclusion that the building sooner or later will be named for Hoover and will become a memorial to him after his death.

FBI director is aware of this, and already is thinking ahead to the dedication ceremonies.

Speculation arises in Washington from time to time that President Nixon might try to nudge Hoover into retirement, as he did 78-year-old draft Director Lewis B. Horsahey.

Nixon has said nothing, and done nothing to encourage this speculation. On the contrary, he has indicated both in public and in private that he is keenly aware of Hoover's popularity and is somewhat in awe of the man himself.

Aide nominated . . .

DIRECTOR OF THE Office of Economic Opportunity, Frank C. Carlucci III, named by President Nixon to succeed Donald Rumsfeld, appears before a Senate subcommittee considering his nomination. With him are Carol M. Khosrovi, named as assistant director. (UPI)

A-State erupts in last half to shred N.C. in Peach Bowl

ATLANTA (UPI) — Arizona State, trailing at halftime after North Carolina erupted for four touchdowns in less than six minutes, turned speedy sophomore Monroe Eley loose in the snow Wednesday night to beat the Tar Heels 48-26 in the Peach Bowl. Eley, a 5-8 sprinter from Asheville, N.C., scored on runs of eight and five yards and Steve Holden had a 13-yard touchdown jaunt, all in the third period, to lift the unbeaten Sun Devils from a 21-21 halftime deficit to a 41-28 margin.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Muhammad Ali, claiming he is still the true champion, and Joe Frazier, the recognized titleholder, agreed to a rematch Wednesday afternoon to meet for the heavyweight championship on March 8 at Madison Square Garden in a bout assured of being the richest one-shot sporting event in history.

All who rose to fame as Casius Clay, was his usual talkative self at the midday news conference where the official signing took place. Arriving one hour late, Clay announced, "The showdown is here — all the talk is over."

USC tops Houston to win own tournament

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Chris Schrobilgen scored a career-high 21 points as the fourth-ranked University of Southern California defeated Houston 77-64 Wednesday night to capture the second Trojan Invitational basketball championship.

Michigan State led only twice, both times midway in the first half — at 23-22 and 26-24. Tennessee led at halftime 42-36. The Vols' biggest margin was a 13-point lead, 79-66, with 51 seconds left.

Oklahoma, 7-4, switched from the veer-T offense to the wishbone earlier in the season because the Sooners did not have the passing attack to make the veer-T work.

USC led all the way after Dennis Layton opened the scoring with a 24-foot jump shot with only 28 seconds having been played. The Trojans moved ahead 21-7 after 6:52 of action. Before Houston could slow down the Trojans they roared ahead by 16 points, 27-11, at 9:31.

S.C. nips W. Kentucky in ECAC

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Roche made up for one of his poorer shooting performances of the season by sinking four free throws in the last minutes of play and second-ranked South Carolina then withstood a fantastic rally by fifth-ranked Western Kentucky in the final five seconds Wednesday night to defeat the Hilltoppers, 86-84, and win the Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Mike Keck's four points in the last 17 seconds gave Oregon State a hard fought 68-64 victory over 17th ranked Oregon in the finals of the Far West Classic Wednesday night.

USC was helped by three govtending calls against the Cougars 6-7 forward Dwight Davis. Troy broke the game open in the first 30 seconds of the second half by scoring four successive field goals, one each by Paul Westphal, Joe Mackey, Ron Riley and Schrobilgen. This put USC in front 45-25.

Roghe, who had scored 63 points in the first two games of the tournament, managed only 14 against the Hilltoppers, but he canned four successive free throws on one-and-one situations for what proved to be the winning points.

Washington State whipped Stanford, 65-55 to capture third, leaving the Indians fifth, in an earlier game. Indiana defeated Ohio State, 85-77, to capture fourth place and Harvard beat San Jose State, 89-75, for seventh.

Oregon State shocks Oregon in meet finals

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Mike Keck's four points in the last 17 seconds gave Oregon State a hard fought 68-64 victory over 17th ranked Oregon in the finals of the Far West Classic Wednesday night.

and Ken Strand sparked a Duck comeback, in the next five minutes with the Ducks tying the game, 53-53, with 7:03 to go on a three-point play by Strand. Gary Arbelbide then scored seven points before fouling out to give the Beavers a 60-55 lead.

The Washington State zone defense, which limited the Indians to only four shots in the first eight minutes of the game.

Legal row looms as Sonics sign Hayward

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Seattle Super Sonics of the National Basketball Association announced Wednesday afternoon they have signed former Denver Rockets star Spencer Hayward to a multi-year contract.

Haywood signed a multi-year pact with the Rockets, members of the rival American Basketball Association, last season and went on to win Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player awards.

Marquette keeps title

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Third-ranked Marquette held off a valiant last minute upset bid by Wisconsin Wednesday night to win its third consecutive Milwaukee basketball classic championship 72-60.

Inspired Pitt bows to UCLA

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — All-American candidates Sidney Wicks and Curtis Rowe scored 26 points each but unbeaten UCLA needed a pair of clutch baskets by unheeled Terry Schofield to pull away from Pitt and win the Steel Bowl Championship 77-84 Wednesday night.

Wendell rolls past Fruitland

BOISE — Kirk Dennis and Adams took turns with the offense and the entire team joined in with a strong defensive showing in the second half Wednesday night when the Wendell Trojans dropped Fruitland 61-48.

Ram owner calls from N.Y. to fire coach

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — George Allen was fired as coach of the Los Angeles Rams Wednesday in what he termed a "cold" manner with no expression of appreciation for teams' turned out winning teams for the last five years.

Allen declined to elaborate on those circumstances, saying they had all been "washed out" previously when Reeves first hired him in 1968 and then fired him after a public protest and a threat of a players' strike.

Kansas Kennedy waiting on judgment

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Kansas used its big man to good advantage and employed a sound defense that handicapped Nebraska's hot shooters as the 11th-ranked Jayhawks ran away from the Cornhuskers 79-55 to win the Big Eight Basketball Tournament.

Deacons stun Jacksonville

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — John Oreczka hit a 10-foot jump shot with 25 seconds left to play Wednesday night to give Wake Forest a 78-77 upset victory over Jacksonville in the championship game of the Gold Coast Basketball Tournament.

Fruitland Castleford topples Rimrock to win title

FAIRFIELD — The Castleford Wolverines, catching a fourth-quarter spark from Lynn and Larry Reese, exploded for their biggest point total in two years Wednesday night to drop the Rimrock Raiders 68-63 and claim the championship of the Camas County invitational basketball tournament.

Wendell rolls past Fruitland

BOISE — Kirk Dennis and Adams took turns with the offense and the entire team joined in with a strong defensive showing in the second half Wednesday night when the Wendell Trojans dropped Fruitland 61-48.

Kidd-led Bobcats top Rigby

BURLEY — Junior Cory Kidd scored 10 of 14 points in a late third and early fourth quarter breakout Wednesday night to lead the Burley Bobcats to a 62-53 Eastern Idaho Conference victory over Rigby.

Jaycees set tree bonfires

TWIN FALLS — Trucks and employees of the Twin Falls Parks Department will begin picking up discarded Christmas trees on Monday for the annual Jaycees sponsored Christmas tree bonfires Jan. 9.

Howard Johnson, department superintendent, said all trees must be placed on the curb in front of the homes if they are to be picked up. He said the pick up will continue through Friday, as rapidly as the crews can cover the city.

The trees will be taken to three locations where bonfires will be conducted at 3 p. m. Jan. 9 for children of the city. Youngsters are asked to bring their own roasting sticks, hot dogs, buns or marshmallows for the event.

Jaycees will provide hot chocolate and cookies at all three sites. These will include the lot adjacent to the former Albertson Store on Filer Avenue, a lot in South Park behind Swensen's Market and Harmon Park in the parking lot adjacent to the baseball park.

Firemen will be asked to stand by at each of the fires, Jaycee President Larry Utley reported.

Blasts triggered . . .

JET FIGHTERS on a strike against North Vietnamese convoys on Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos touched off biggest secondary explosions in five years of bombings, U. S. military sources in Saigon said Wednesday. Blasts indicated large fuel or ammunition supplies were hit, causing "well over" 2,000 explosions. (UPI)

Kooskia loses mayor second time

KOOSKIA (UPI)—This small mountain community is having trouble keeping its mayors and will soon lose its second one in a month.

David Poncin, mayor for two weeks, announced today he is resigning because he is being transferred to Montana. Poncin is an employee of the Forest Service.

He succeeded J. J. Schnackenberg, who moved to Oregon two weeks ago.

Poncin said his transfer is effective next month.

Crooked indeed

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The feature movie at the Albee Theater here was "There Was a Crooked Man." While the movie was in progress another crooked man robbed the box office of $70.

Air crash suit ends

BOISE (UPI)—A $90,000 settlement was reported in U.S. District Court Tuesday for the death of Louis Werner, St. Louis, Mo., killed with the brother of Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy in a 1968 Idaho plane crash.

A crash occurred at Shepp ranch in the Salmon River Canyon in Idaho County. Five men on board the plane were killed. Anne D. Werner, who brought the suit on behalf of herself and four minor children, claimed her husband went on the trip at the invitation of George Skakel Jr., a brother of Mrs. Kennedy.

The suit was filed against Rancho Polos Verdos Corp., Rancho, Idaho, Inc., and Great Lakes Carbon Corp. The suit alleged all three firms were operated by Skakel.

Session 97 fruitless

PARIS (UPI)—The United States said Wednesday it negotiated settlement of the Vietnam War was no nearer than when the Paris talks with the Communists began two years ago. The Communists blamed the United States.

The delegates held their 97th session Wednesday, a four-hour meeting which was as fruitless as the others.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong called on President Nixon to agree to formation of a provisional coalition cabinet in Saigon composed of three political factions—an apparent watering down of their previous stand. But the United States and South Vietnam rejected this because it was tied to the demand for complete U.S. troop withdrawal by next June 30.

Dam work to resume

OROPINO (UPI)—Barring extremely cold weather, construction work will resume at Dworshak Dam on the north fork of the Clearwater River near here next Monday.

Work on the dam has been stopped since Dec. 22 when an underground rock crusher broke down, bringing to a halt the pouring of cement at the dam.

Earlier this month a pair of wildcat strikes slowed work on the structure and its adjoining powerhouse.

Admitting their failure to achieve any progress in the estimated 500 hours of talks since the negotiations began in January, 1969, the delegates walked out of the conference room into a heavy snowstorm and wished a happy New Year to shivering newsmen, numbering about a dozen in comparison to nearly 300 on hand for the early session.

But the Allied and Communist delegates did not address good wishes to each other and parted as usual without a handshake.
