Staudaher named to top school job

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — George Roddy Staudaher, 42, was named Twin Falls school superintendent at a brief Monday night meeting of the District 411 school trustees. Staudaher, who had been assistant superintendent for the past three years, was named to fill the position following the announced resignation of Dr. Ernest H. Ragland. Staudaher will assume the post on July 1, when Ragland's resignation takes effect. The trustees took about a minute to nominate Staudaher for the superintendency and cast a unanimous ballot, then adjourned the meeting. The nomination was the culmination of many months of study of 18 applications for the post, according to Elmer Sommer, school board chairman. Dr. Ragland did not attend the meeting, which had the selection of Dr. Ragland's successor as the only item of business. Staudaher, deeply moved by the unanimous vote of the trustees, told the board and a number of Twin Falls residents and newsmen attending the meeting that "it'll be hard to follow in the footsteps of Dr. Ragland, who has served the district well. But I can promise you that you'll get honesty from me in all dealings with the board and with the students." Dr. Ragland served as superintendent for nearly 20 years, seeing the school system grow with the construction of Robert Stuart Junior High, the new high school, and several elementary schools during his tenure.

The new position follows an 11 1/2-year career in Twin Falls schools for Staudaher, who was vice principal of O'Leary Junior High School at that time for one and one-half years, junior high principal for a year and a half, principal of the high school for five years and assistant superintendent for three and a half years.

Previously, Staudaher taught social studies and English at Pocatello for two years, and completed student-teaching assignments at the University of Wyoming in elementary and secondary music and social studies.

Staudaher graduated from Kemmerer High School, Kemmerer, Wyo., in 1946, and graduated from the University of Wyoming, Laramie, in 1952 with a bachelor's degree. He received his master's degree in education from the University of Idaho in 1955, and has graduate credits at Idaho State University, Columbia University in New York City, and San Jose State College, San Jose, Calif.

The new superintendent is enrolled in the ISU graduate school in a program leading toward a doctorate at Utah State University or the University of Oregon.

He served in the Army, the Army Reserve and the Marine Corps Reserve for two years each, and in the Marine Corps for one year, obtaining an honorable discharge from each. (Continued on p. 3)

Uganda said near normal

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI)—Scattered fighting flared outside Kampala today but life began returning to normal following the coup by a new military government that seized power from President Milton Obote. Obote flew to political asylum in neighboring Tanzania. Shops reopened throughout Kampala and buses began running after a 24-hour shutdown during the military's takeover Monday. Bursts of machine gun fire and the sound of mortars could be heard occasionally in this city but soldiers said it was not fighting. "It is just fun and celebration," one soldier said.

Reports told of continued fighting outside the city between the new leaders and factions loyal to Obote.

Bus kills school girl

NAMPA, Idaho (UPI)—A young Nampa girl was killed and two companions were seriously injured Monday when they were hit by a slow-moving school bus. Police say the three were running beside the vehicle as it was approaching its regular unloading zone. The trio reportedly had a hold of the vehicle's window wells.

Venus like pressure cooker

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviets announced today their Venus 7 spacecraft landed in operating condition on Venus last Dec. 15 and relayed scientific information from the surface of another planet for the first time. Venus is hot as believed and the atmosphere is thick as believed.

An announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass said the spacecraft which blasted off from Central Asia on Aug. 17 radioed back word the temperature on Venus was in the neighborhood of 887 degrees

Fahrenheit and that the atmospheric pressure was around 80 times that of earth—or 1,523 pounds per square inch. Because of this dense atmosphere and high temperatures most Western scientists assumed the Soviet spacecraft had been crushed after parachuting into the atmosphere. But the analysis reported today by Tass said it operated for some time afterwards on the actual surface.

The radiating of information from Venus gave the Soviets another first the same day the transmission coincided with a broadcast from a Soviet lunar probe to mark the first time earth has received information simultaneously from two celestial bodies. The Soviet findings confirmed what scientists had suspected—the surface of Venus cannot sustain life as it is known on earth. The temperature would soften glass and the atmospheric pressure would crush almost anything earthly. The Tass announcement of the landing of Venus 7 last December reported only that Skier killed at S.V.

SUN VALLEY — A California skier was killed Monday when he struck a tree while skiing on Mount Baldy. The death was the second in two days at the Sun Valley Ski Resort area. The day before, a woman reportedly died from skiing-related injuries. The victim, Robert Myron York, 38, Belvedere, Calif., died of massive skull injuries Monday, according to Duane Bentz, Blaine County coroner. Bentz said the victim was dead when the ski patrol arrived at the accident scene on Baldy Mountain. He said it is believed York died instantly. The accident occurred at about 1:15 p.m., Bentz said. He said the victim reportedly was traveling at a high rate of speed down the slope when he went out of control and slammed into the tree.

Bird Funeral Home, Halley, said the body of Mr. York was being taken to Boise for cremation Tuesday afternoon. Surviving York is his widow, Sandra H. York, Belvedere, Calif.

The second death, involving a young woman, was believed by Bentz to be due to an apparent heart attack.

The woman, whose name was not available, was reportedly stricken Sunday on the ski slopes and was flown to Salt Lake City where she was pronounced dead on arrival. Bentz said he did not see the woman.

Hospital authorities at Sun Valley said no record of her name or address were made as she was taken immediately to Salt Lake City.

Solons ponder tuition

BOISE (UPI)—The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee discussed today the possibility of charging tuition to both resident and non-resident students at Idaho's institutions of higher education.

A proposal passed out to committee members would allow a tuition charge and defined tuition as "a charge made for the direct cost of instruction."

Committee Chairman John Barker, R-Boise, said, however, the process may be more complicated. He said territorial laws allowed resident students to attend the University of Idaho without paying tuition and said a constitutional amendment may be necessary to charge tuition at the U of I.

Barker, emphasizing the measure was only a proposal, said the legislature may want to put a dollar limit on the amount of tuition to be charged.

"This is kind of the way I feel personally," Barker said. "The schools are going to be short of money and if we don't want the program to go down the drain we've got to give the board of education and the regents some leverage."

The proposal would also define residency.

Cow attacks

RUPERT — Dr. Carl E. Keely, Rupert veterinarian, was listed in satisfactory condition today at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise where he was taken after being injured by a cow at the Valley Livestock Commission Co. here. Mrs. Wayne May, wife of the owner of the sales yard, said Dr. Keely had just completed checking another cow Monday afternoon and was standing in the sales ring writing his report when a cow, owned by Max Drago, Heyburn, charged him. The animal plied him against a loading chute, throwing him upward and striking him in the face, Mrs. May said.

Manson, trio guilty

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charles Manson lily stroked his Van Dyke beard Monday while the jury pronounced him and three of the young women he all but hypnotized into his hippie cult guilty of first-degree murder in all seven of the Tate-LaBianca slayings.

The jury now must decide whether to heed the state's plea the four be executed at the San Quentin gas chamber. There are but two options—death or life in prison.

Beginning Thursday, the penalty phase of the trial begins, with the prosecution expected to call more than 50 witnesses to back its demand for execution.

Manson finally stirred as he was led away from the courtroom packed with armed deputies, and snarled at Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older:

"You'll never live to see that day."

The female codefendants giggled after the verdicts were read and one said "Look at the jury. Don't they look sad?"

The seven-man, five-woman jury found the self-styled "Jesus Christ" guilty of sending his "robots" out to stab and shoot to death five persons at the home of actress Sharon Tate and the next night wealthy supermarket owner Leno LaBianca and his wife Rosemary.

The young women—Susan Atkins, 22, Patricia Krenwinkel, 23, and Leslie Van Houten, 21, also were convicted of first-degree murder. Miss Van Houten, a former high school beauty queen, was charged only with the LaBianca slayings and conspiracy to commit murder.

The four largely were convicted on the testimony of Linda Kasabian, 21, a tiny blonde who joined the weird commune only a month before the August, 1969, slayings. She was given immunity from prosecution in exchange for turning informer. She was last reported with her mother and two children in New Hampshire.

Chief defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald said the defendants expected the guilty verdicts and their lawyers were "disappointed but not surprised."

"We thought we lost the case when we lost the change of venue motion. We had about as much chance of a fair trial in Los Angeles as Sam Steppard had in Cleveland," Fitzgerald said.

The findings were not analyzed and reported for a month. The spacecraft blasted off on Aug. 17 and covered the 192 million miles to Venus, earth's nearest planetary neighbor, in 120 days.

From 1967 through 1969 the Soviets attempted and apparently failed to parachute Venus 4, 5 and 6 on the planet. Venus 3 intentionally crashed into Venus in 1965. In the meantime scientific speculation centered on whether the Soviets had been able to develop a heat-resistant shield for No. 7 and an asbestos parachute.

N. Viets push

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The Communists kept pressure on Phnom Penh today, attacking government positions within 18 miles of the Cambodian capital. The airport, heavily damaged in an attack Friday morning, reopened to international commercial traffic.

In South Vietnam, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong began their unilateral four-day cease-fire this morning marking the Tet lunar new year. The South Vietnamese government and its allies, including the United States, will observe a 24-hour stand-down beginning at sundown today.

According to spokesman in Salgon, the Communists violated their truce four times in the first six hours. They attacked two South Vietnamese militia outposts in the Mekong Delta, killing six men and wounding 22 others. The other two truce violations were minor and did not involve casualties.

Prior to the truce, the Viet Cong blew up a train between the major northern South Vietnamese cities of Da Nang and Hue, killing 10 persons and wounding three others. They also set off a bomb in downtown Hue, wounding 10 civilians.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian High Command said today

Communist units attacked government positions 19 miles southeast, 18 miles south and 23 miles northwest of the capital. Spokesmen said in the "most significant" action an estimated 500 Communists hit a small 200-man outpost northwest of Phnom Penh and aircraft were called in for support. The aircraft were not identified.

At dawn today suburban Pochenton airport, blasted by Communist forces Friday morning, reopened for international commercial flights. Military flights, including U.S. planes bringing in supplies to replace ammunition and other material.

S. Viets to free prisoners

SAIGON (UPI)—The South Vietnamese government said today it will release sick and wounded North Vietnamese prisoners of war as a "humanitarian gesture" to celebrate the Tet lunar new year.

Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam said there were approximately 800 North Vietnamese who would be offered the chance to return home. The new year begins midnight tonight.

The government, in announcing the decision, called on the North Vietnamese government to "release immediately all sick and wounded Vietnamese and Allied prisoners of war." However, no such reciprocal action was expected.

It was the second gesture concerning prisoners to be made by South Vietnam within a week. Last Sunday, 37 disabled North Vietnamese were released across the Ben Hai River at the 17th parallel dividing North and South Vietnam. Three other prisoners scheduled for release chose to remain in the south.

The foreign ministry said it was holding 9,389 North Vietnamese prisoners. Of that number, 8,574 are North Vietnamese who infiltrated into the south and were captured plus 615 southerners who trained in the north, returned to the south and were captured. Additionally, there are 22,256 Viet Cong prisoners from the south, but they are not included in the latest offer.

Snowmobiles ordered out

KEYTCHUM — The Sawtooth National Forest has banned unauthorized snowmobiles and other motor vehicles from the Bald Mountain area near here, but still permits foot and horseback travel into the mountain area, Forest Supervisor E. A. Fournier said today.

Fournier said administrative travel and authorized travel for development and operation of the Sun Valley ski area will be continued.

Unauthorized vehicle travel has been a serious problem on the ski area, Fournier said, and damage to the national forest resources and Sun Valley Company improvements has resulted.

He said there is a growing threat of damage to roads, ski runs, buildings, ski lifts, vegetation and watersheds as a result of indiscriminate public travel.

Fournier said present roads are steep and narrow and are unsafe for general public travel. The closure, Fournier said, also has been put into effect to protect snowmobilers from avalanches. Avalanche danger exists at various times on portions of the area and it is nearly impossible to make these areas safe for snowmobiling, he said.

Signs will be placed notifying the public of the closure-order and those who violate the closure will be subject to prosecution or punishment under federal law.

In the Challis National Forest, Maurice Hardman, forestry technician of the Mackay Ranger District, said the use of snowmobiles is increasing in that area, but there are areas which snowmobilers should not travel because of avalanche danger.

He said the Summit Creek trail is not marked, but there are two large play areas en route to Trail Creek Summit. He said under no circumstances should snowmobilers continue past the summit and down Trail Creek toward Sun Valley. Hardman said the area is heavy with avalanche hazards.

Another especially hazardous area in the Challis National Forest is between Copper Basin and Antelope Creek. Copper Basin, however, is open to snowmobiling and is a 35-mile round trip expense.

At Copper Basin and the Summit Creek area there is a paved parking area at the forest boundary on the Big Lost River. Antelope Creek, Copper Basin and Summit Creek are all in the Mackay Ranger District.

Hardman said there are now 125 snow machines registered in the Big Lost River Valley, and since 1964 there has been a continued increase of machine ownership and usage in the area.

Oil spill kills birds

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 1,200 birds coated by oil from a spill last week in San Francisco Bay have died at a bird holding and treatment station at the San Francisco Zoo.

The director of the zoo, who heads the operation set up immediately after the spill, said Monday he expects only 2 or 3 per cent survival of birds affected by the oil.

Satellite moved to new position

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A soaring $13.5 million commercial communications satellite that kicked off this week's three-shot U.S. space spectacular was maneuvered today to align it for a boost into a permanent outpost Wednesday.

Initial indications were that the Intelsat 4 spacecraft, the world's largest and most powerful commercial communications satellite, was given a perfect boost into orbit by the 13-story Atlas-Centaur rocket. The $29.5 million launch—including cost of the $16 million booster, rocket—was delayed three days by high-altitude weather conditions, and 35 minutes by technical problems. But the space agency reported, a little more than four minutes after the fiery takeoff, the successful splitting away of a protective nose cone blamed for the failure of an $85 million observatory satellite on a similar booster in November.

Arabs say U.S. asking talks

By United Press International Arab diplomatic sources in Cairo said today the United States has suggested U.N. Secretary General Thant or the Security Council take the initiative in arranging another extension of the Middle East cease-fire beyond Feb. 5.

The sources said Secretary of State William P. Rogers advanced the proposal in a letter to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad earlier this month. Rogers based his suggestion on the premise U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring has made some progress since resuming his mission nearly three weeks ago and an extension of the cease-fire was necessary to enable him to continue, the sources said.

recommendation of the U.N. General Assembly. The sources said the United States contends should the Security Council be decided on as the medium for arranging the third cease-fire, it would merely take note of what Jarring has done so far and recommend the truce extension without going into the substance of the crisis.

Morton backing expected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Interior Committee was expected to brush aside strong conservationist criticism of Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, R-Mo., today and recommend the Senate confirm him as interior secretary.

Forest use problems studied

TWIN FALLS—How to meet the problems of sewage disposal, parking facilities and water supply created by increased recreational use of forest lands was of prime concern during annual winter recreation training program for Sawtooth National Forest personnel.

About 25 district rangers, staff members and assistant district rangers attended the two-day program at Magic Mountain and Pomerelle Ski Resorts.

Robert Hoag, staff recreation officer for the Sawtooth National Forest, said emphasis was also placed on avalanche control, search and rescue and the consideration of potential avalanche areas in planning recreation developments such as snowmobile, ski and sledding areas.

At the Magic Mountain resort, a complex plan in which skiing has been established for some time with later developments for snow play areas and snowmobiling were inspected. Keeping the various winter recreation interests separate was one of the phases of the plan discussed.

In both areas ski lift equipment was also inspected and snow rangers given information on inspection work.

Sessions at Magic Mountain and Pomerelle Ski Resorts included study of snow layers to determine avalanche potential.

Zoning meet quiet

TWIN FALLS—No protests were heard and only one request was presented during a public hearing Monday by the Twin Falls Planning and Zoning Commission to establish zones for annexation areas south of the city.

Planning and Zoning Commission members listed seven separate parcels of land in the proposed annexation area and discussed these parcels by parcel.

One resident asked that the parcel in which he owns property be considered for residential, low density zoning. He resides in the Clinton Earl subdivision.

Own plans trap city manager

TWIN FALLS—City Manager Jean Millar was a victim of his own maneuvering Monday.

A few minutes after he completed arrangements to close the Twin Falls City-County Airport for three days for extensive runway patching, he decided to make a reservation for a flight to Portland.

He called the reservation number which brought a reply from a polite young woman in the Seattle reservations center of Air West.

When he asked for a reservation for today from Boise to Portland, he was advised he should make the flight from Twin Falls to Portland.

"I'm sorry, sir," she told him, "but you are wrong. Our information shows your Twin Falls airport is definitely open and will be receiving flights tomorrow."

At a loss as to how to explain to the young woman he had just closed the field but she hadn't received word yet, Millar told her to "trust me and just make a reservation from Boise to Portland."

New CSI center opens Wednesday

TWIN FALLS—The College of Southern Idaho Learning Resources Center, encompassing the new college library, will open for business on a limited basis Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Dr. Bruce Harrison, professor of sociology and director of the Learning Resources Center, said some reference materials will not be available until shelving and other furniture now on order arrives and is installed.

Dr. Harrison said the thousands of volumes in the library, formerly filling several classrooms in the Shields academic building and in storage in the library annex, known to students as the "Green House," were moved in record time with the combined efforts of the library staff, library science students, members of the CSI Veterans' Club "and their friends."

Dr. Harrison said he wished to extend his gratitude to those who helped throughout the Christmas holidays and on weekends as well as during regular school hours to get the job done. "Never before have so many books been moved and put in place in such a short time by so few people," Dr. Harrison said.

The CSI Learning Resources Center will be open to students from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday of each week, and on Saturdays from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

City Manager Jean Millar said proposals of the planning and zoning group will be presented to the city council at its meeting next week.

Property involved is largely along State Highway 64 south of the city. Proposals include residential zoning with some in low density and some in medium density areas. Commercial general zones are proposed for property now being used for residential purposes.

Public hearings on an annexation will be called by the zoning group and city council at later dates.

Staudaher new superintendent

TWIN FALLS—Staudaher holds membership in a number of professional organizations, including the American Association of School Administrators, the Idaho State Superintendents Association, the Idaho Fourth District Superintendents Association, National Education Association, Idaho Education Association, Twin Falls Education Association, and has been president of the Fourth District Activities Association, for five years.

In his earlier years, he was a member of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the Idaho Council of English Teachers, the Council of Student Teacher Training, and served as state chairman of the National Honor Society in Idaho, and as president of the Fourth District Principals Association for two years. Staudaher is currently a consultant to the ISU Laboratory School, the Southeast Idaho EPDA teacher training program, the Governor's Committee on Drug Abuse and the Task Force for the Eight-State project.

In the community, Staudaher is a member of the boards of directors of the United Fund, Rotary Club, and Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

His first task, he said in answer to a question, will be to work with Dr. Ragland on the school budget for the 1971-72 school year. The budget work cannot be completed until the Idaho Legislature determines the level of school support, he said.

On motion of Deputy Prosecutor Robert Galley, the complaint against Leslie M. Belt was reduced from first to second degree burglary by amending the information in the complaint.

Belt, represented by the public defender, requested 48 hours' delay in which to decide whether to request a pre-sentence investigation.

Their election came at the annual depositors' meeting.

Sinclair said that during 1970 assets of the association grew to an all-time high of $47.3 million, while savings increased over $3 million, and loans to borrowers totaled $6.7 million, also a record. Interest payments exceeded $1.9 million, he said. He said that during 1970, William Warner was promoted to vice president in charge of the savings department and Gary Lee and Rick Allen joined the staff of the association.

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC LIVING FOR A NEATER, CLEANER WORLD

Official City and County Newspaper Member of Audit Bureau of Circulation and UPI Pursuant to Section 40106 Idaho Code, Thursday is hereby designated as the day of the week on which legal notices will be published. Published daily and Sunday, except Saturday, at 121 Third Street West, Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301, by Magic Valley Newspapers, Inc. Entered as second class mail matter April 8, 1916, at the post office in Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301, under the act of March 8, 1917.

Your Right

Every newspaper in the free world, large or small, has a philosophy of its own as well as its own individuality. The one thing, perhaps, that all agree on is that its freedom to print the truth is essential to all freedom. Unless a free citizen has the right to access to pertinent information, he cannot make informed decisions. This is the keystone of democratic freedom and self-government.

There is an indication to take for granted this precious and hard-won right. Many great editors and publishers have sought to express their dedication to the fundamental right of the people to all the pertinent facts. One of them, J.W. Gitt, on June 9, 1935, wrote in his York Gazette:

"A newspaper to be worthy of its existence must be in a large sense a trustee for its readers. Its duty is to conserve their interests. To publish all the news as accurately and objectively as possible, without fear or favor. To keep its column open to the discussion of public problems. To refuse to permit any interest or class or group to use its columns to advance their selfish interests. To do its best to keep its columns free of secret propaganda on behalf of any special interest. To stand for the right as it sees it. To fight corruption. To advocate and press for every intelligent effort to make its community and its nation better places for all to live in. To fight all those who would oppress or deny the lowest of us his rights and privileges as an American. To refuse to prostitute its influence however little to those who would use it to their selfish advantage unbeknownst to the public."

This is an eloquent platform to which the vast majority of newspapers in America, including the Times-News, subscribe.

The newspaper is the only activity that publishes its own errors and likewise their corrections, day in and day out. Being a human endeavor, it is fallible but welcomes correction and divergent views and strives to be the most disinterested defender of the rights of all free citizens. It exists for your use.

Bronco Billy

Bronco Billy Anderson and "the Great Train Robbery" date back to 1903, and therefore not many people will remember the first movie with a continuous plot. But the man who was born Max Aronson in Arkansas and drifted into the movies through the vaudeville route was an innovator. In addition to acting in what was the first successful series of Westerns, Anderson also formed a studio and gave impetus to the careers of such stars as Charlie Chaplin, Gloria Swanson and Wallace Beery.

It was an exciting era of movie making, but one which found Bronco Billy losing ground to such Western stars as Bill Hart. Since 1926, Anderson had been largely inactive. The Motion Picture Academy gave him an honorary Oscar in 1958 for his early work in the industry.

Bronco Billy is dead at age 90, but the innovative spirit he demonstrated in an earlier era lives on. It may even be due for a revival, as movie studios learn once again the value of entertainment with a plot.

Confucius Said

Remember that magazine "Free China Weekly" that we mention every once in awhile? Well, we received another copy of it the other day and, as usual, the articles are interesting.

This time, though, one of the featured articles was one on Confucius. You remember Confucius, of course, although he was a little before your time. He was born 2,500 years ago and was a Sage who said a lot of things.

For instance, he said: "While I am in a party of three I am sure to have teachers. What is good in them I should follow, and what is not good in them I should correct."

"When you see a man of worth, think of attaining his excellence. When you see an unworthy one, look within and examine yourself. One who is strict with himself seldom errs."

"Grieve not that men do not know you; grieve that you do not know men."

"The gentleman is not a utensil. He first practices what he preaches and then preaches what he practices. The gentleman is broad-minded, not biased. The inferior man is biased and not broad-minded."

"Nowadays filial piety means the support of one's parents. But even dogs and horses are cared for by men. Without feelings of respect, what is there to distinguish men from beasts?"

"The one who never changes is either the wisest of the wise or the dullest of the dull."

"In education there is no class distinction. By nature men are pretty much alike. It is learning and practice that set them apart."

"Clever words confuse virtue. Lack of forbearance in small matters makes a mess of greater schemes."

"The young men are to be respected. Who knows but that the future generation will surpass the present? But to those who have made no name for themselves by the ripe age of 40 or 50, no respect is due."

"One who governs by virtue is comparable to the polar star, which remains in its place while all the stars turn toward it."

"Let the ruler be the ruler, the minister the minister, the father the father and the son the son."

"Extravagance begets arrogance; frugality begets niggardliness. It is better to be niggardly than arrogant."

"I shall tell you what knowledge is. Say that you know when you really know and concede your ignorance when you do not know."

The Action Is To Help

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The military services by now have, perhaps more experience on a large scale with men affected by drug abuse — including marijuana — than any other institution in this country.

So what they have discovered about enforcement, the effects of marijuana use and the handling of users bears serious consideration, regardless of an individual's personal attitude toward the military.

Far too little notice has been given the changing attitude of the Defense Department toward marijuana users.

Whatever the regulations and whatever is said in policy statements, months of interviews convince that it is now U.S. Army policy at the highest levels to regard the use of marijuana (and other drugs) as a medical rather than a legal problem.

In Vietnam, Europe and the United States, American GIs physically or emotionally "hooked" on drugs are being encouraged to report themselves in for treatment with no penalty.

In a change in Army regulations last year, the use of and possession of marijuana were separated from other drug violations, and it was made mandatory to counsel and "rehabilitate" marijuana users or processors prior to taking administrative action. The effect of this change is to give a soldier a second chance and an opportunity to obtain an honorable discharge if he is sufficiently motivated to accept the challenge.

Field commanders are being given the widest latitude to deal with specific drug problems in their own commands. But Defense Secretary Melvin Laird's advisers on this subject (headed by a vice-admiral with considerable command experience) recommend that before any field commander take action he be aided by

"medical, legal and moral advice."

"These advisers also recommend that as a policy matter, in determining appropriate disciplinary actions, consideration always be given to whether a military person experimenting with marijuana... was or was not incapacitated for duty, or was a drug user, addict or supplier."

The new programs, at least as laid down at the Pentagon level, stress education. And that education stresses that "all personnel should have the opportunity to develop a positive self-concept, a respect for his physical being and an insight into the importance of his health to his full self-realization. Every effort should be made to create an atmosphere of knowledge, confidence and trust that will encourage personnel to seek help in overcoming problems."

This new program is being put into effect despite the firm belief, by top men responsible for advising Laird on drugs, that marijuana is very dangerous indeed, as are, of course, heroin, LSD and a number of other drugs.

These advisers have in fact reported to Laird that, though marijuana has not yet been definitively researched, "To date, research has indicated that the short-term effects include an impairment of the full use of physical and mental facilities in varying degrees for periods from 12 to 35 hours to as long as 11 days and, by reason of experiment with animals, the long-range effects may include either permanent or semipermanent physiological and genetic damage."

"These same advisers have told Laird that "as a precautionary measure it is recommended that in general for administrative purposes persons may be considered voluntarily incapacitated for duty up to 12 to 36 hours after the use of marijuana, unless otherwise determined by medical or other appropriate authorities that a different time frame should be used in a particular case."

The Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines have never been known as institutions soft on those who break laws or regulations. Therefore, the new military approach deserves the most careful study by those dealing with drug offenders in civilian life.

Cambodian Plot

WASHINGTON — Behind President Nixon's decision to increase the use of U.S. helicopters and gunships in the intensifying Cambodian war lies a critical Presidential formula to keep the Communist invaders off balance until the spring of 1973.

Mr. Nixon's advisers are gambling on a timetable to slow down North Vietnamese regulars, now infiltrating down the Ho Chi Minh Trail at precisely double the rate of one year ago. The hope is to keep them from consolidating a new grip on Cambodian sanctuaries along the South Vietnam border until the end of the 1972 dry season.

The Nixon formula also counts on denying the Communists control of deep-water ports in southern Cambodia and supply lines from the sea to the South Vietnamese border — essential for any major enemy attack against the vital delta region in southern South Vietnam. Again, by delaying Communist control of ports and supply routes until the dry season ends in late spring, 1973, Mr. Nixon would postpone the expected assault against South Vietnam until the 1973 dry season starts two years from now.

By then, the million-man South Vietnamese army, with its own rapidly growing air support, should be in better shape to handle the predictable Communist invasion across the Cambodian border. And by then, with rapid U.S. troop withdrawals in the intervening two years, virtually the entire defense of South Vietnam will be in Saigon's hands — to "sink or swim," as one top official told us, with minimal U.S. logistics support.

That explains Mr. Nixon's willingness to risk political screams at home from Senate doves claiming he is violating the spirit of the Cooper-Church amendment, which bans U.S. ground troops in Cambodia. Mr. Nixon knows full well that the use of close-support gunships and drop-supply helicopters (for South Vietnamese troops) invites just such a political cry of "foul."

But the hopeful prospect of buying two more years of experience for President Nguyen Van Thieu's army is seen as fully worth the political outcry. More important, those two years are absolutely essential to permit U.S. troop withdrawals without new major assaults, from enemy bases in Cambodia, against the largely pacified delta region.

PAUL HARVEY

Volunteers?

President Nixon is working on a message to Congress proposing a mobilization of American youth power on the home front.

Will they volunteer for this any more readily than they volunteered — for that?

In essence, what President Nixon is going to propose to Congress is a merger, an alliance, a pulling in and pulling together of the dozen different government efforts to involve young people in constructive social work — The Peace Corps, VISTA, all those assorted outfits — into one Center For Voluntary Action.

The primary objective would be to clean up the home front: blight, pollution, illiteracy, malnutrition; to make our America the Beautiful more beautiful.

The President test-hopped the idea during a speech at the University of Nebraska. It did not bring his audience to its feet cheering. It's not that inspired or inspiring a project.

But the much-vaunted idealism of this incoming generation is about to be tested. Students are less restive, comparatively quiet this year. Several factors have contributed to the calmer campus climate.

But if school-agers are less volatile, most remain uninspired.

The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education in a recent survey of 180,000 college teachers and students confirms that most now oppose campus violence and disruptive demonstrations. Many are turning away from drugs.

But there remains wide agreement among students and faculty that "there is a need for reform in American Society" with many — as many as one-half — doubting that it can be accomplished through the traditional American political system.

So here we have a generation of students demanding change, preferring peaceable change, but fearful that "the system" will not allow it.

President Nixon is "calling their bluff," so to speak. He acknowledges that our republic is in need of some clean-up, paint-up, "fix-up, renovation. Maybe some tearing down and rebuilding.

And he is willing to give the government's blessing and assistance to these humanitarian ambitions.

The National Teacher Corps and the Revised Senior Volunteer program, Foster Grandparents and the National Health Service Volunteer Corps — all these and others would submerge their individuality in the interests of unity.

The Office of Voluntary Action and the National Teacher Corps and the National Student Volunteer program would dissolve into this new agency.

And in addition to giving school-agers a full or part-time opportunity to help determine and participate in improvement efforts, it would afford the homescoming GI with a chance to make the transition from service abroad to service at home with minimal difficulty.

All right, you stronger, healthier, handsomer, smarter, more capable young 'uns — you've got a big heart — Now we're going to find out if you've got any sand in your craw!

Calorie Need

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss proper diet and number of calories per day for a normal nine-pound baby at birth, for the first year? — D.R.

Part of your question is easy enough to answer. Part isn't. The caloric requirement for the average infant starts at about 1,000 calories a day, then increases by about 100 calories a year.

The exact diet of a new baby is best prescribed by the doctor, because of certain variables.

The doctor can readily give you the proportions for a formula if the baby is to be bottle-fed — and modifications in the formula, if required later, would depend on the baby's weight and how its digestive tract acts. Other: there is no problem whatever, but changes may be needed if the baby develops certain food allergies or has a diarrhea problem. In such cases, you need your doctor's advice.

The baby's disposition also has something to do with adding other foods as the months pass. As a general rule, I favor getting a baby started on baby foods quite early, say at the age of a couple of months.

One important trick is to start getting the baby used to such foods by gentle stages. A taste of one of these "strange" new foods — strange to the baby — mixed with milk or formula usually will be accepted readily. Keep thin enough, the mixture will have a consistency not too much different from what the baby is used to.

But if you try to switch abruptly to baby food without thinning it with formula, a baby may spit it out and acquire an instant aversion to new foods. And then you have troubles.

Board abolition endorsed

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate State Affairs Committee voted today to give a "do pass" recommendation to proposed constitutional amendment which would abolish the present State Land Board.

At the same time, the committee heard a proposal from Sen. Vern Brassay, R-Blaine, which would abolish the Department of Administrative Services and spread its divisions among other agencies.

The constitutional amendment would replace the present land board — made up with elected state officials — with a board of land commissioners to be chosen according to statute.

Sen. Art Manley, D-Coeur d'Alene, said he had examined the make-up of other boards in the state and said he felt there should be five members to the new Board of Land Commissioners.

When Sen. John Mix, D-Moscow, asked Manley about creating another new board, Manley said the board would actually be "replacing an existing one with another board."

State Land Commissioner Gordon Trombley said the present State Land Board is divided in its feelings about a professional board and said he had been instructed to have an "absolutely neutral attitude" on the constitutional amendment.

Sen. David Rivenes, R-Payette, said one of the problems was a similar proposal was presented in 1970 was that there was no provision for appointment of another board.

Manley suggested another bill be presented to the legislature along with the constitutional amendment which would outline the method of choosing the professional board which would go into effect if the voters approve the constitutional amendment.

Swedes condemn U.S.

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — After a long period of silence Sweden's Social Democratic government has renewed — and escalated — its condemnation of the American involvement in the Indochina War.

Foreign Minister Torsten Nilsson went a step further than any other Western leader on Jan. 20 when he accused the United States of waging a war which violates international law.

He charged the United States with committing "war crimes" in Vietnam and said "the world's most powerful nation" ought to respect the international laws on war, particularly since it had been among those who helped create them on the basis of the Nuremberg Trials of the German Nazi leaders.

Indochina "in the sense of the 1948 Convention (on genocide)." "We have not been able to find that the United States government has the intention to destroy the Vietnamese people," Nilsson said.

But he said, "The American warfare — in many respects violates the principles and rules of international law."

He said Sweden would work actively for new international war laws at an International Red Cross conference in Geneva later this year, hinting that the Swedish proposals, if adopted, would in effect outlaw what the United States has been doing in Vietnam.

Nilsson mentioned three fitbits in which he said the U.S. military had violated international law: —The air war, "where all strategic targets must have been destroyed."

—The chemical-biological warfare, which he said had destroyed — large areas — of Vietnam and indirectly hurt the Vietnamese people.

Red attacks worry Nixon administration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Communist attacks on Phnom Penh are causing considerable worry in the Nixon administration.

State Department officials do not minimize the deep psychological shock which the fall of the Cambodian capital would have on morale among the South Vietnamese and native forces operating in that country — if the Communists chose seriously to try to capture the city.

At the same time, officials left little doubt that U.S. supported military missions would continue energetically throughout Cambodia even if the capital fell.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has outlined quite specifically the administration intention to use extensive air power in Cambodia while holding back on introduction of any American ground troops there.

Other high administration officials acknowledged that they were disturbed at the wide attention given Laird's remarks, plus charges by critics of the administrations recent Cambodia actions that the executive branch had changed American policy in Indochina by exceeding the intent of Congress which wrote a ban on ground combat activity by U.S. troops in Cambodia.

President Nixon in June created a widespread impression that the use of air power in Cambodia would be directed primarily against infiltration of men and supplies from North Vietnam southwards.

Administration officials now are concerned over the possibility of new restrictive legislation being passed by Congress.

The administration contends that the greatly expanded American aerial operations in Cambodia are vital to the "Vietnamization" program in South Vietnam, and continuing American troop withdrawals.

Worker health care plan set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., said today he would propose a bill under which employers would be required to provide health care to their workers just as they are now required to pay them the minimum wage.

which would provide health care on a prepaid basis. An annual fee, paid by a worker's employer, would guarantee him a year's health care, no matter how much medical attention he required in the course of that year.

For poor people out of the work force, the government would pay the fee, Pell said. Even with this, he said, the government would wind up spending less for health care than it does now.

"I am proposing making a minimum level of health care services a direct cost of doing business," the senator said.

The health care corporations also would provide medical education to meet the manpower shortage, would operate neighborhood health centers and would provide care to Medicaid and Medicare beneficiaries. They would be able to borrow money from the government to start operations.

Pell's plan foresees creation of federally chartered corporations, able to float government-backed — tax-exempt — bonds.

Officials speculated that any pilots captured in Cambodia likely would be transferred to prison camps in North Vietnam.

Slide terror told

WENATCHEE, Wash. (UPI) The terror of being trapped under tons of snow from an avalanche for 13 hours was surpassed only by the grief he felt when Debbie Edgars found out her parents had died in the killer snow slide.

Only minutes after the 19-year-old University of Washington sophomore learned of the death of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Edgars of Seattle, Debbie wiped away the tears and told of her experience.

"I woke up and I felt around that it was cold. It (the snow) was clear down on top of us. We were enclosed in this space."

"At the beginning we could move. And she was on the other side of the bed. It was a 'big double bed we were in and it fell over. I could move a little bit. She could move, except one of her legs was pinned."

The avalanche killed at least four persons, including the Edgars, Kenneth Lewis, 10, Lynnwood, Wash., and Peggy Dean, 12, of Seattle.

Debbie said the first she knew of the pre-dawn avalanche Sunday was when her sister started screaming.

"Then I (the snow) started settling a bit so we were kind of confined more and more. But it was comfortable and it was warm, too," she related.

Debbie said the first she knew of the pre-dawn avalanche Sunday was when her sister started screaming.

Puzzle answer sought

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 14 astronauts hope to help understand the mysterious flashes of light inside the eyeballs reported by other spacemen who have flown to the moon.

Dr. Richard E. Benson, a radiobiologist at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, said astronauts Alan B. Shepard, Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell have been instructed to be more precise than past crews about observing and reporting the flashes, which many believe are caused by cosmic rays.

Apollo 14's crewmen learned a special vocabulary to describe what happens to them.

"They've been asked to look for these (flashes) and to be a little more careful in their observations with an effort toward better defining the shapes," Benson said.

"Are these little pinpoint lights? Are they streaks of light? Are they like Roman candles?" he asked. Astronauts on Apollo 11, 12 and 13 reported experiencing all three types.

Benson said the astronauts and scientists also had agreed on terms to define the colors of the flashes, which are most often observed during periods of inactivity and darkness or dim light.

"We will use pre-arranged words," Mitchell said. "We already agree that such-and-such a flash looks like such-and-such so that when we come back we can tell the researchers in that area what we saw, how many we saw, how many minutes after we began dark adaptation we saw these things."

Mitchell said the astronauts spent a session with scientists who flashed different colored lights through a black board riddled with various shaped holes to decide on the special terms.

He said the pre-arranged shapes went from "pinpoints to blobs to something like lightning flashes in a cloud to a general haze or like a little tail with a point."

Benson said scientists still don't agree on what causes the flashes in space and what causes some astronauts to see them and others not to observe them. But, he said, scientists agree the flashes pose no danger for flights as short as Apollo.

"Up to now there has been no evidence that the light flashes have produced any injury, nothing detectable," he said. "Therefore, for short missions we don't expect there will be any harm. Our only concern at present would be with long missions."

He will become the first Indian and the first Canadian to do so.

For both country and people, Chief George fervently hopes the Great Spirit smiles kindly on him.

George, 72, gives a compelling performance in "Little Big Man," winning the plaudits of the New York film critics and the National Society of Film Critics. Both of their awards went to him this year.

Almost every Indian of prominence is called "Chief." Dan George comes by his title honestly. For 12 years he was chief of the Tol-Lai-Wait tribe of the Conastash Nation in the British Columbia area.

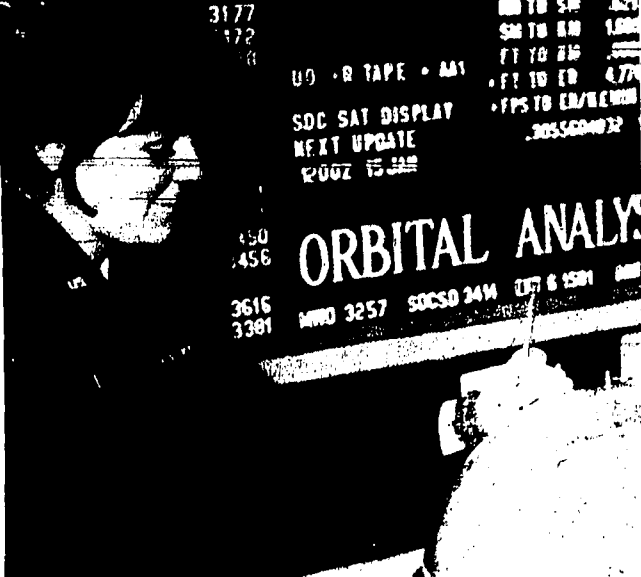

Noble Redskin would not be a misnomer applied to Dan George.

He is an imposing man of high intelligence, character and dignity. Those characteristics impress the stranger at once.

"I am in show business to help my fellow Indians," the chief, veteran of a dozen years as an actor, said.

"We are the natives of America and I am working to depict the Indian as accurately as possible. In movies and television he is shown as a villain or a comic figure.

"Historically the Indian is shown at massacre, taking

Flight plot

Landing site 'snowy'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Astronaut Edgar D. Mitchell, Apollo 14's landing site in a valley on the moon looks like one would expect gently rolling terrain on earth to appear after it had been covered with three feet of snow.

The site is between two low, elongated ridges in what is generally considered the foothills of the more rugged highlands.

The 7,000-foot long, 9,000-foot wide landing site itself is relatively smooth, but the overall area is considerably rougher and harder to reach than the broad flatlands visited by the crews of Apollo 11 and 12 in 1969.

The landing area is called

Fra Mauro after a crater 50 miles to the south that was named for a 15th century Italian monk who mapped the Mediterranean world with surprising accuracy. The Apollo 14 target is 107 miles east of Apollo 12's landing area and 580 miles west of Apollo 11's Tranquility base.

The key to the Fra Mauro landing area is its ridges. Geologists believe they are great streaks of rock debris blasted from the moon's early crust 300 miles to the north by the collision of a huge meteoroid more than three billion years ago.

This impact created a 700-mile wide basin which later was filled with lava to become Mare Imbrium—the Sea of Rains.

The collision may have excavated ancient material from as deep as 60 to 70 miles and the debris at Fra Mauro is believed to have come from a depth of at least several miles.

The Fra Mauro ridges are covered with a thin layer of dust and pieces of rock sprayed about by the constant bombardment of meteoroids on the moon. To get to the original debris from the Imbrium basin, Alan B. Shepard and Mitchell will hike to a crater on top of one of the ridges.

The crater, called Cone Crater because it caps the 400-foot high hill, is about 250 feet deep and apparently drilled through the overlying dust layer into the Imbrium material. Blocks of rock as big as automobiles line the crater rim and the astronauts' prime objective is to reach those blocks.

"We believe that the blocks have a good chance of being the ejecta from the Imbrium basin," said geologist Gordon Swann. "What we'd like them to do is either sample the blocks directly or find small fragments in the immediate vicinity that appear to be the same material and representative of the big blocks."

Laboratory study of the returned samples should show when the Imbrium basin was formed and, more importantly, tell man something about the making and age of the moon's primitive crust. It is hoped the samples will date back to the birth of the moon.

Hill, star picked for crafts' names

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Apollo 14's astronauts went from North Carolina to a distant constellation to find the names of their two spacecraft for man's fourth moon-landing attempt.

Stuart A. Roosa, who will pilot the cone-shaped command ship christened "the craft 'Kitty Hawk'" in honor of the place where Orville Wright flew the world's first powered aircraft 67 years ago.

"One of the hardest things so far in this year and a full of training has been trying to decide on a good name for the command module," Roosa said. "So I finally went back to something I'm real familiar with and that's aviation. I thought I'd just go back to where it all started, back to Kitty Hawk."

In 1903 Wright took off from Kill Devil Hill, four miles south of Kitty Hawk, N.C., and flew 120 feet in 12 seconds—18 feet less than the length of the first stage of Apollo-14's Saturn-5 rocket.

Edgard D. Mitchell, pilot of the spidery lunar landing craft, picked the name "Antares" for it after the giant red star that forms the heart of the constellation Scorpio.

"I chose it because the constellation Scorpius is the constellation Al (Shepard, Apollo 14 commander) and I am looking at when we start down to the lunar surface," Mitchell explained. "And Antares is the brightest star in Scorpius and happens to be right along our line of sight when we start down to the lunar surface."

By coincidence, Mitchell and Shepard insist, Scorpio also happens to be the astrological sign under which Shepard was born.

Jealousy

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI)—Police took 80-year-old Andrea Quiroga into custody Friday after he gave his wife Anallidia, 80, a beating for "flirting" with a 16-year-old. She said it was a case of "unjustified jealousy."

By way of preserving the Indian as a species, chief George said, "I'm starting a tribe of my own. I have six children, 34 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren."

The dental office of the future will have automatically moving lights above the patient's head and supplemental lighting sources, it was reported at the annual meeting of the American Dental Association.

House committee refuses Sawtooth recommendation

BOISE (UPI) — After a 32-minute debate, the House Resources and Conservation Committee reported to the floor without recommendation today a controversial memorial endorsing a Sawtooth recreation area.

In doing so, the committee beat down an effort by its minority members to hold the proposal for study two more weeks. They also forestalled — by reporting it out without recommendation — reading of a minority report across the House desk.

Rep. Aden Hyde, R-Idaho Falls, at first asked for a favorable recommendation on the memorial but later changed his mind, saying it would be "unwise" considering the sharp division on the question within the committee.

House Minority Leader Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, a member of the committee preparing the minority report, said he agreed with the concept of a national recreation area in the Sawtooth Mountains.

Saying he cannot quarrel with the concept, that this would be a "first step toward protection of the area, he said, 'I can quarrel that we're not going far enough.' Williams asked the committee to shuck the "covered wagon" approach to management of the wilderness area and vote as well for endorsement of a national park for the mountain top area.

Utah legislators mull tax on beer

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Taxation of beer and optional plans for county governments are among the top legislative chores to be taken up this week by the Utah Legislature.

The House voted down a proposal to raise the tax on beer from $1.10 per barrel of 31-gallons to $4.00 during afternoon sessions Monday. But proponents of the bill said they hoped to recall the measure during late afternoon work today or sometime Wednesday.

In rejecting the beer tax increase, HB 55, the Representatives threw a wrench of sorts into Utah's fiscal plan. The increased tax would have meant an additional $1,078,000 for the state coffers, according to Rep. Stanford P. Darger, R-Salt Lake, one of the co-sponsors.

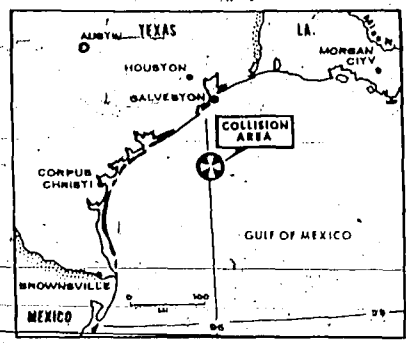

Last week the House voted a repeal of the oleomargarine tax, Darger explained. If the Senate approves the repeal, Utah will lose $1,070,000 annually, and the beer tax was to have balanced off the difference.

Rep. Lorin N. Pace, R-Utah, indicated the beer tax should be brought back on the floor and then shelved until the solons have a better "picture" of the state's financial need.

Chief sponsor of the beer tax, Rep. C. DeMont Judd, D-Ogden, said he would attempt to bring the bill out for further consideration and possibly work out a compromise in the tax increase.

Travel claim mullied

BOISE (UPI) — The acting director of the Department of Administrative Services said Monday he had not decided what to do with a travel claim submitted by the former director of the Division of Communications.

Robert Lennagen said he had received a travel claim of $74.19 from D.E. "Bert" Colwell, who was fired from his post last week. The "travel voucher included travel and board and room for the Republican Governors Convention in San Valley, Dec. 12-16.

The voucher included $21.15 for meals, $12.88 for hotel room, $39.30 for mileage, and 85 cents for a compass and protractor. The voucher also included a trip to Mountain Home Air Force Base Jan. 13, which Lennagen said was "legitimate."

When asked whether he felt the voucher claimed pay for partisan political activities, Lennagen laughed and said, "A Republican Governors Conference? Didn't they talk about doing in the Democrats while they were up there?"

Lennagen, an appointee of Democratic Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, dismissed Colwell, who was appointed by former Republican Gov. Don Samuelson. On an attached explanation, Colwell said the activities for Dec. 12 included taking a state car to Sun Valley "to meet with the FBI, Secret Service and Idaho State Police, sheriff and city police to coordinate communications with the Idaho State Police and other agencies."

Changes of law delayed

BOISE (UPI) — Members of the House Ways and Means Committee discussed Monday the possibility of holding back on constitutional proposals until the second regular session of the 41st Legislature.

Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Hollister, told fellow members of the House leadership who comprise the committee this or at least a holdback until later this session might be advisable.

He pointed out the legislature cannot put any constitutional proposals to a vote of the people until the November 1972 general election.

Some members of the committee said they felt perhaps the proposal to extend the voting franchise in state and local elections to persons as young as 18 ought to be approved at this session.

They noted it already is being printed and this, as well as other amendments dealing with matters tied to recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions, should be acted upon now so the people would have a good, long look at them before voting.

Varying philosophies on whether the House Printing Committee should refuse to print proposed amendments at this time or whether they should print all reasonable measures put before them were expressed.

It was noted that Rep. Paul Worthen, R-Boise, has worked up more than two dozen proposed amendments to the constitution and that he should not be denied having them printed.

Senate Republicans ask action on revenue plea

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Republican leadership indicated Monday the legislature will have to act on revenue suggestions made by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus before the fiscal year 1972 appropriations can be finalized.

Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, Republican caucus chairman who also is a member of the Senate Finance Committee, said the "limiting factor is the budgeting procedure because all state agencies have to be budgeted."

Yarbrough said although no definite decisions had been made in the Republican caucus, he said the majority is "hoping that we could get these settled as soon as possible."

"While we are going ahead and holding hearings and analyzing department needs, we cannot finalize the budget until we know how much revenue is available, which in turn is dependent on legislative action on the governor's proposals of shifting or adding revenue measures."

In his executive budget address, Andrus proposed several ways to increase revenue for fiscal year 1972, which included downward revision of allotments for agencies during the last six months of the biennium, holding sales tax refunds to counties to replace inventory tax revenues to 15 per cent instead of 20 per cent as scheduled, withdrawing $1 million from an idle trust fund, changing the reporting system for state income tax, reducing the amount in the sales tax refund account, and disallowing the 50 per cent capital gains tax deduction in corporate income tax.

Yarbrough said although no definite decisions had been made in the Republican caucus, he said the majority is "hoping that we could get these settled as soon as possible."

Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, majority leader, added he too could see no way to finalize the budget until a decision is made on each of Andrus' proposals.

Sen. David Bivens, R-Fayetteville, assistant majority leader, said "until we make a decision as to how much revenue we have to spend, it's pretty darned difficult to decide who is going to get what."

Yarbrough added that the legislators had to know exactly how much money to appropriate and pointed out that if appropriations are made on the basis of Andrus' suggestions and then the proposals are rejected by the legislature "we'd have to go back through the whole process again."

Bivens indicated it was a "foregone conclusion" that the majority would accept two of the proposals — using the $1 million surplus in the idle trust fund and removing some $200,000 from the sales tax refund account.

Astronauts unhappy

By EDMUND GLEN JOHNSON
United Press International
The Apollo 14 astronauts aren't happy their ride to the moon will be one of the last ones — possibly this generation — and they think it's a mistake.

Capt. Alan B. Shepard, mission commander; Cmdr. Edgar D. Mitchell, lunar module pilot, and Maj. Stuart A. Roosa, command module pilot, are optimistic about their mission, but they are disappointed with the future of the U.S. space program.

"I'm disappointed that we still don't have the same kind of momentum that we had. Why? I don't know," Shepard, who has been with the program since 1959, and was the first American in space, says.

Roosa is concerned that Americans have committed $24 billion to Apollo and are ready to abandon the mission, after the heavy development costs are behind the program.

"Now, to me it's almost like you're getting something for nothing and you turn back on it," Roosa says. "The major cost of the Apollo program is gone."

Roosa says he doesn't blame taxpayers for the cutbacks that cancelled Apollos 18, 19 and 20 in the past two years. He isn't sure who or what is responsible.

But Mitchell, who like Roosa has been with the space program for only the past five years, admits he is bitter about the outlook and thinks a major portion of the blame falls on the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

"I think we, NASA, have done a very bad job of salesmanship over the last five years," he observes in slow, deliberate tones.

Demo aide says party backs GOP

BOISE (UPI) — Senate Democratic caucus chairman William Crutcher, D-Orofino, said Monday he felt the minority will "support the administration's proposals without too many problems."

Crutcher said the caucus had discussed Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' state of the state message "at length" and added, "at this point we feel in general that there are no problems whatsoever."

Most of the Democratic senators, Crutcher said, will give "full support" to Andrus' voluntary kindergarten program. "He has shown how this program can be instituted without additional increase in taxes," Crutcher said. "I think it is something the people of the state have needed for some time and I will support him wholeheartedly."

He said he anticipated some of the administration's bills would be in legislative committees before the week ends.

Solons cross wires

BOISE (UPI) — Somebody got his wires crossed in the Idaho Legislature Monday.

At least, that's the way it sounded when Chief Clerk Beth Fitzwater tried to read a minority report on the controversial memorial endorsing a proposed Sawtooth National Recreation Area.

While Mrs. Fitzwater tried to make herself heard to the House members the clear, crisp tones of Sen. W. Fisher Ellsworth, R-Idaho Falls, came through the public address system.

There was only one trouble — Ellsworth was speaking on the floor of the Senate and Mrs. Fitzwater was speaking from the rostrum of the House.

A look of wonder crossed the faces of many House members, to be replaced moments later by grins of amusement.

At one point, Rep. Ernest Allen, R-Nampa, rose to recall problems with hot water in the men's room and then observed:

"It's not only hot water we have a problem with — At times, it's hot air, too."

Sergeant-at-Arms Bud Lewis called in sound technicians to correct the problem but could shed little light on the matter personally, other than to note:

"I think there's a wire wrong somewhere in the Senate."

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, confided that wasn't the only crossed wire, however.

Trip noted

SHOSHONE — Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Gomes, former Shoshone residents now living in Laguna Hills, Calif., left this week for a trip to Europe. Their first stop will be the Azores.

Gomes left the Azores with his parents for the U.S. when he was about six years old. From there they will go to Portugal and Spain. They will be accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kinkade, Kelchum.

Mr. and Mrs. Gomes owned and operated the Gateway Toggery, Shoshone, for many years.

DEAR ABBY: I am a Stanford graduate. My wife graduated from the University of California at Berkeley. Life is beautiful until the football season, and then the fur flies. When "The Big Game" is played, my wife wants to sit on the Cal. side, and I want to sit on the Stanford side.

Last time I gave in and sat on the Cal. side and I nearly got killed. Every time Cal. scored I groaned. When Stanford scored, I cheered. This made me very unpopular with my neighbors in the Cal. section.

Don't suggest that I sit on the Stanford side and my wife sit on the Cal. side because we want to watch the game together. My wife insists that it's the husband's place to defer to his wife's wishes. I take the opposite point of view. What do you say?

—STANFORD

DEAR STANFORD: Your wife should sit on the Stanford side. A lady is less apt to get stugged in enemy territory rooting for the competition.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please do thousands of secretaries a favor and print this? Whenever my boss and his wife receive a personal gift, or have been entertained or if there is any other matter which requires a personal "thank-you" note, my boss asks me to write it. Of course, he signs it. I always thought the wife was supposed to write those notes.

I have a heavier workload than I can carry without all this extra stuff. I have been worked overtime, for which I am not paid, to get their Christmas cards out. I really wouldn't mind so much if either he or his wife ever thanked me for it, but it's never mentioned.

His wife has even called and asked ME to remind HIM to send so-and-so a thank you note. Who does she think does it? The good fairy? Tell him for me, will you?

—NO GUTS

DEAR NO: After this hits print I may not have to.

DEAR ABBY: So you think it is "beautiful" if two married men phone each other three and four times a day, and run to meet for coffee or lunch daily?

If you were married to one of those men you wouldn't think it was so beautiful. I had that situation for six years, and refused to face it until I found out everybody in town knew about the "beautiful" relationship but me.

All the beauty faded when my husband lost his job because of all the talk. I am no longer puzzled. Sign me.

—NAUSEATED IN HUNTSVILLE

DEAR ABBY: I can't tell you how happy I was to read your answer to "PUZZLED," the woman who couldn't get over the affection her husband had for his buddy.

People who suspect sex has to enter into everything are to be pitied. I have a buddy I would give my life for. And he would give his life for me. This isn't just talk, he proved it when we were in Viet Nam together. He is black, and I am white. (Maybe someone would like to make something of that, too!) Anyway, I want to assure PUZZLED that two men can really love each other without being lovers.

Salt helps

Irons will sometimes stick to clothing. This is particularly true if too much starch has been used. A small amount of salt in the starch will help to keep the iron from sticking. The iron may stick to rayon or synthetic fabrics because the iron is too hot.

Malone named to race panel

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Ken Malone, Gooding rancher and real estate agent, has been named to a six-year term on the Idaho Racing Commission, Gov. Cecil Andrus told the Times-News today.

Malone, who raises racing quarter horses said he has been associated with horse racing in Idaho for a number of years and active in supporting pari-mutuel racing for the state. He replaces Clarence (Tuff) Matthews, Oakley, whose term expired Jan. 11.

Malone serves on a three-man commission with Les Brown, Sandpoint and Carl Kaldur, Payette, as other members. The commission meets each month and administers matters pertaining to pari-mutuel horse racing events in Idaho, including assignment of horse racing dates throughout the state.

Races are currently held in Jerome, Glenns Ferry, Rupert and Burley in the south central Idaho area.

Malone, a U. S. Navy pilot in World War II, was recalled into the service during the Korean War. He returned to Gooding in 1960 after his discharge.

He was born and reared in the Castleford area. In addition to breeding horses, he is affiliated with Muffley Realty and Insurance Co., Gooding.

One of the colts he sold to Robert Ienaghien, Pocatello, Now Master, was judged top three-year-old gelding of the year in the Intermountain association last year.

Gov. Andrus appointed the Gooding man to the commission and it does not require approval of the legislature, Malone said.

Patch job

SMOOTHING ASPHALT patches at the Twin Falls City-County Airport Monday afternoon was this roller. City crews have begun a repair project and the airport will be closed to jet traffic until 6 p.m. Friday, according to Harry Merrick, airport manager, and Jean Mahar, city manager. Areas of pavement break-up will be worked on during the three-day closure.

Quad help asked

KIMBERLY — The "quad fund" to help Mr. and Mrs. William Springer of Twin Falls has received about $800 to date, but more donations are badly needed, according to J. H. Henry, Kimberly, for whom Springer works as a truck driver.

Mrs. Springer gave birth to quadruplets on Jan. 8, but hyaline membrane disease claimed the two-months-premature infants within three days. Though the attending physician, Dr. James E. Sloan of Jerome, and Hove Funeral Chapel, also of Jerome, donated their services, the Springers were still left with medical and hospital bills of more than $1,000.

Springer said Monday that he has not yet received the bill from the Salt Lake City, Utah, hospital, which treated tiny JoAnne Springer in her vain fight for life. She was flown to Salt Lake from Jerome shortly after her birth in St. Benedict's Hospital.

"I don't know how we're going to pay all our bills," Springer said. He expressed thanks for the donations, but said more bills remain.

Donations may be sent to the "Quad Fund," in care of the J. H. Henry Produce Co., Kimberly.

Club cited for cleanup

BUHL — Efforts of a Twin Falls County 4-H Club, the 4-H Builders, have brought national

2 Valley men picked

BOISE — Two Magic Valley broadcasters were elected as officers of the Idaho State Broadcasters Association Monday during a statewide convention.

Allen Lee of radio station KART, Jerome, was named secretary-treasurer of the state organization, and Walt Ross of KJEP, Twin Falls, was named to the board of directors.

Other officers included Robert Davis, Pocatello, named president, succeeding Robert E. Kruger of Boise; Wayne Corliss, Nampa, vice president; and James Brady and Melvin Richardson, both Idaho Falls; Dale Peterson, Caldwell, and Tom Neal, Moscow, named to the board of directors. Kruger, the retiring president, was also elected to the board.

recognition from Keep America Beautiful Inc., a national litter prevention organization.

A citation recognizing the efforts of the club has been received by Vice President George Wagner from Allen H. Seed, Jr., executive vice president of KAB. The national group praised the club for its efforts in contributing to a cleaner and more beautiful community.

Seed said all citizen groups are front-line forces in the country's campaign to improve the quality of the environment. Members of the 4-H Builders Club participated in the county wide cleanup campaign last spring and have conducted a number of projects to clean up litter and seek cooperation of the public. The club also established a nature trail near the 4-H summer camp in the Sawtooth mountains.

Roger Baertsch, Boise, representing Seed and KAB in Idaho, said this is the second successive year an Idaho youth group has attained recognition from the KAB in competition projects.

Sister escapes revolt

BUHL — Sister Mary Denardis, Order of the Holy Cross, a former Magic Valley resident, apparently escaped harm in Monday's coup in Kampala, Uganda, when heavy fighting broke out in the African capital, according to her mother, Mrs. Alice Denardis of Buhl.

Sister Mary is nursing in a hospital operated by the Order of the Holy Cross, where she has been stationed for three years, her mother said.

The hospital, according to reports, was not damaged when a brief war broke out after Uganda President Milton Obote left the country en route to the British Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference in Singapore.

Spartans win

VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL — The Spartans defeated the Trojans, by a score of 30 to 4, at the Powder Puff basketball game. The Girls' Athletic Association and V Club sponsored the event, with boys taking the feminine role as drill team and cheerleaders.

Burley chamber hears sub-district proposal

BURLEY — Legislation allowing formation of sub-districts within school districts for purposes of construction was outlined for Burley Chamber of Commerce Members Monday by Norval Wildman, Cassia County school trustee.

He said the Cassia board proposed the bill, which is now in committee in the legislature, because of past failures to pass a bond issue for new school facilities, throughout the district.

The proposed bill would allow a school district to divide into sub-districts formed from attendance areas at the separate schools. If trustees decided to propose a building project in one sub-district, the plan would have to be approved only by voters in that sub-district and they would pay for the construction, he said.

Wildman said this legislation would not prohibit district-wide school bond issues, but would allow a smaller area inside the district to improve its facilities.

If the voters approved, he said there are 3,300 students in Burley, 395 at Oakley, 333 at Malta and 486 at Declo. Cassia County School District is the only one in the state to maintain four separate high schools, he said. Some districts have as many as three high schools.

In other business, Bob Mavity asked all chamber members to vote for establishment of a kindergarten system in the Idaho public schools.

$20 million to Idaho under share proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Idaho would receive $20 million under the revenue sharing plan advanced by President Nixon if the proposal is approved by Congress.

The Gem State would receive that much of the $5 billion in revenue to be distributed by the federal government to state and local governments on a population basis.

Amounts would range from $500 million for California to $8.5 million for Alaska.

The breakdown was released by the White House Monday as the sharing proposal picked up renewed opposition from Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the man who has the most to say about tax matters on Capitol Hill.

After meeting with Nixon, Mills said he told the President he would hold hearings on the proposal "not for the purpose of promoting it, but for the purpose of killing it."

Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. The panel's top Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, backed him up.

The White House figures released Monday cover only $5 billion of Nixon's $16 billion revenue-sharing proposal. The $5 billion represents general revenue which Nixon referred to as part of $6 billion in "new money" in the proposal. The other $10 million would be from funds now being used for existing programs.

The $5 billion would be turned over to the states with no strings attached, starting Oct. 1, if the plan goes through.

Murray Woldenbaum, an assistant treasury secretary, said the dollar amounts in the breakdown were based on the latest census figures, with a slight bonus for states which improve their own revenue producing capacity. Fifty-two per cent would be kept by the state government and 48 per cent would be passed on to city governments.

A state-by-state breakdown of the $5 billion (in millions):

- Alabama, $22; Alaska, $8.5;

RUPERT — A cardiovascular review program will be offered all physicians and nurses at the Mindoka Memorial Hospital Feb. 2 and 3.

Ed Richardson, hospital administrator, said all medical personnel is invited, even if they are not active. The program has been planned by local physicians and nurses in cooperation with the Intermountain Regional Medical program.

Juker-Ward team wins cutter run

BLISS — A team owned by Bob Juker, Buhl, and B. L. (Sonny) Ward, Twin Falls, was named champion of the two-year-old division of the Snake River Cutter Racing Association Sunday during races at Bliss.

The second place team is owned by Ernie Stevens, Gooding, and Bob A. Robinson, Tuttle, and third place team by Jerry Loveland of Hagerman.

During races at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the race track at the Jerome County Fairgrounds winners in older divisions will be determined.

There is now a six-way tie for first, second, third and fourth places among teams owned by Ray Chugg, Jerome, Ike Muir and Clyde Hansen, Rosecrance Farms, Tom Webb, the Rainbow Ranch and Don Clark.

Immediate start due on Ore-Ida facility

BURLEY — Construction of secondary waste treatment facilities at the factory of Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., by Nelsens-Miller of Twin Falls is scheduled to start immediately.

Completion of the work is scheduled for October this year. The project will cost about $500,000, bringing Ore-Ida's total construction budget for treatment facilities to more than $1 million, company officials said.

The construction plans and initial engineering were completed by the Boise engineering firm of Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield, in cooperation with the Ore-Ida engineering department.

Ore-Ida's manager of process engineering, Lloyd Cox, Ontario, Ore., said that currently, waste-treatment facilities at the Burley plant remove about 81 per cent of the solid waste resulting from the firm's potato processing. The new facility will boost the total takeout to more than 90 per cent, Cox said, exceeding Idaho Health Department standards.

The contract was signed by Ray Nelsen of the contracting firm and Robert K. Pedersen, president of Ore-Ida Foods, Inc.

The huge new treatment facility will handle four million gallons of liquid effluent daily, running the effluent through a large aeration pond, settling ponds and other treatment facilities. The aeration pond will include nine 75-horsepower aerators which agitate the effluent to maintain a high oxygen content, which is required by bacteria in decomposing the waste products.

After aeration, the effluent will be pumped to an "activated sludge" basin, where the solids are allowed to settle out by gravitation. A secondary clarifier then treats the waste matter further, before it is pumped into the river for disposal.

Solids removed from the effluent are collected and will be disposed of in a field near the plant.

Merger set by churches

BURLEY — The Churches of Christ at Burley and Rupert will merge, with new facilities planned in a central location, James Daubenspeck, Burley evangelist, said today.

"Our objective is to provide for a more adequate teaching, worship, benevolent and evangelistic program in the Mini-Cassia area," the evangelist said. "In no way are we quitting operations."

Leonard (Pete) Hanold, who has been evangelist at Rupert will move to Clarkston, Wash., in February with his family to work with the Church of Christ there.

Daubenspeck will continue working with the merged congregation, he said.

Simplot site job advances

BURLEY — Preliminary site preparation for the new waste-treatment facility of the J.R. Simplot Co. at Burley and Heyburn is nearly complete, according to Melvin D. Atsager, environmental control coordinator for Simplot.

Two pieces of equipment for the secondary clarifier were ordered from the manufacturer, the Dorr-Oliver Company, in December, and the 12 aerators, each 75-horsepower, were ordered this week.

Finland visit looms

GOODING — Mike Anderson, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson of Gooding, will go to Finland this summer as part of the Youth for Understanding Program.

While in Finland, he will be staying with a host family, attending summer classes if available and learning the customs of Finland. The Youth for Understanding Program is not a travel program, but Mike will get a chance to tour Finland with his host family as part of their planned vacation. The host family, which speaks little or no English has already been chosen.

Mike will be expected to speak to various clubs about

Gooding and life in America. In order to be accepted for Youth for Understanding, a student must have good grades, but not necessarily straight A's, and be involved in school, community and church activities. Students usually make the two month trip between their junior and senior years.

Anderson has received scholarship money from the Jaycees, Lions Club and the Youth for Understanding to help finance his trip, which will cost $850. Before leaving for Finland, he will go to Ann Arbor, Mich., for orientation.

Youth for Understanding, a non-profit organization is underwritten by the United States

State Department. Its headquarters in Ann Arbor under the direction of Mrs. Rachel Anderson.

More than 20 nations participate in this program, and students accepted are able to choose the country they would like to visit. Youth for Understanding also sponsors the exchange student plan under which students from other countries attend school in the United States. Mike decided to apply for the program after talking to last year's exchange students who attended Gooding High School.

Anderson is the only student in Magic Valley who has been accepted for the Youth for Understanding Program so far.

Three elected PCA directors

BURLEY — Everett A. Campbell, Bellevue; L.A. Gillette, Paul, and Raymond Butler, Hansen, are new directors of the Southern Idaho Production Credit Association. There were elected the 37th annual stockholder's meeting at the Ponderosa Inn Friday.

Over 650 members attended the meeting at which Curtis L. Wilkins, Burley branch manager, served as master of ceremonies. Earl R. Stansell, Twin Falls, manager, gave the invocation. Jack Hyder, Twin Falls, field representative, presented vocal numbers.

Milk output rises

BOISE (UPI) — Total milk production in Idaho during November was estimated today at 107 million pounds, an increase of three million pounds from the previous year.

But while the federal-state market report said the production was higher than during the same month of 1969, it was one million below that for November of 1968.

From October to November in 1970, production dropped nine per cent. Creamery butter was above last year's output and so was ice cream.

Idaho dairymen received an average of $1.34 per pound of milkfat in milk used for American cheese during November, an increase of 11 cents from the previous year. For November milk going into butter, Idaho dairy farmers received $1.28 per pound of milk fat, an increase of 13 cents from the previous year.

A report from the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said there were 141,000 sheep and lambs on feed the first of the year in Idaho. This represented an eight per cent decline from the same time a year earlier.

Stocks of sound onions on hand in Idaho and eastern Oregon as of Jan. 1 were estimated at 1,230,000 hundredweight. This is four per cent below the total a year earlier and 18 per cent below the holdings on Jan. 1, 1969.

Fertilizer potato crop aid

TWIN FALLS — To get the best crop of potatoes, give a thought to fertilizer. It makes a difference.

Idaho yields and quality are already tops in the country, but Wayne Thilessen, Twin Falls, extension soils specialist for the University of Idaho, has evidence that they can be improved by following proven practices.

His suggestions are given in brief guidelines just off the press. He wrote them in collaboration with Franklin Parks, Preston Jones and Charles Painter, all of the soils research staff. Because of different conditions in various parts of the potato-growing area there are separate guidelines for Magic Valley, Treasure Valley, and Eastern Idaho.

Nitrogen rates depend on such factors as carry-over from the preceding crop, plant population, planting and harvest dates, crop residues plowed down, soil type, and leaching losses from too much irrigation. So a soil test is essential. A test for nitrogen can tell several things, such as carry-over from row crops, the nitrogen in the top two feet of soil, and the amount that should be applied for most efficient production. Tests also give information about need for phosphorus and potassium.

Tables are provided. They tell how much and when fertilizer should be used in specified areas and conditions.

Here are some general hints: Fertilizer applied at the time the plant needs it is most efficient. However, time of application and placement is largely a matter of personal preference and convenience.

SHADES OF THE wild west. In Wisconsin, land of the docile dairy cow, farm manager Gay Johnson of Monroe has begun branding his cattle because, he says, "There's rustlers around." Johnson's "CS" brand (for Cold Springs Farm) is applied with a hot electric iron.

Grange backs airport

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Knoll Grange adopted a resolution Saturday night favoring the present Twin Falls City-County Airport location instead of a regional airport.

The members also adopted a resolution recommending everything over the posted speed limit be considered speeding.

It was announced the scout troop, sponsored by the grange, will have a pancake supper from 5-9 p.m. Feb. 13. This annual event is the troop's only fund-raising project.

Meet set

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Grange will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday. All members asked to attend.

Killsbom is a member of the Farm Bureau, extension service, and served as representative to the general assembly of the Iowa House of Representatives. He operates a 120-acre poultry farm in Iowa.

He was impressed by Idaho's agriculture and said he had never seen a large band of sheep until shown those at the Patterson ranch.

Killsbom told of ways the Communists seek to corrupt nations. He spoke of his admiration for several great Americans including George Washington Carver and Booker T. Washington, both blacks, and Susan B. Anthony, responsible for women's suffrage.

He described the three great American characteristics as being those of character, self-respect and the willingness to work, and noted that Christian faith is a very necessary attribute as "nations, like families, that pray together, will stay together."

Spring in the air?

Mostly fair, warmer in the area

Magic Valley, Twin Falls, and vicinity, Northside, Burley, Rupert area: Mostly fair through Wednesday. Warmer days and cooler nights. Highs 45 to 55 Wednesday. Overnight lows 23 to 33. Gentle winds west to gusty at times east this evening. Probability of measurable precipitation near zero through Wednesday.

Outlook for Thursday, little change.

Camas Prairie, Bailey and the lower Wood River Valley: Partly cloudy with slight chance of light rain or snow showers. Decreasing clouds late tonight and Wednesday. Warmer days and cooler nights. Highs 35 to 45. Overnight lows teens. Probability of measurable precipitation 10 per cent tonight and Wednesday. Outlook for Thursday, little change.

Partly sunny skies and warmer weather is in store for most of the Magic Valley. Other areas of southern Idaho are expected to become mostly fair tonight and Wednesday.

The light rain or snow developed as a warm front pushed northward through Oregon and Washington with some of the relatively warm moist air flowing eastward and being lifted by the central Idaho mountains and again further east up the gentle slope of the upper-Snake-River-Valley, and the southeast highlands. The light rain continued well into the evening at some stations with a few light showers or drizzle squalls as late as 4 a.m.

This rain promises to be the last for awhile for southern Idaho as the jetstream is edging slowly further north into southern Canada over Idaho and taking the migratory storm systems with it. The trailing end of one such storm will brush the central mountains today, probably with a few light rain or snow showers over the extreme north mountains.

The extended outlook indicates continued fair to partly cloudy weather Thursday through Saturday with mild temperatures.

Q—In March, 1960, we bought 100 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur at 30 1/2. Did we make a mistake? What are the stock's prospects? Should we hold or sell? I.I.M.V.

A—Texas Gulf Sulphur has experienced some rough sailing during the past two years. Sales and earnings have been in a downward as the demand for sulphur slackened and prices weakened.

For the 6 months ended September, 1970, company posted an 8.9 per cent decline in sales, while net income fell 24 per cent. Per share profits amounted to $1.24 - down from 1969's $1.83. Besides the continued overcapacity situation in sulphur, price discounting of by-product sulphur by Canadian natural gas producers and price cutting by the Polish government contributed to the reduced sales pace. With such unimpressive profitability performance, it is not surprising that TG shares have been selling at depressed levels.

However, if renewed earnings and sales growth is effected (and this appears possible for 1971) TG shares should move accordingly. Hold.

Q—I am interested in your opinion of the airline industry and in particular Pacific Southwest Airlines - D.C.

A—If the economy can stage at least a moderate recovery in 1971, most carriers should experience significant revenue improvement. Whether this can be carried down to net is another story. Current estimates place the 1970 deficit for the 12 major carriers at about $120 million compared with a profit in 1969 of $147 million. If the downturn of the last three years continues unabated, this deficit would exceed $200 million in 1971.

Further additions of the 747 aircraft to fleets may result in a 10 per cent capacity gain in 1971, and if passenger traffic regains some of its former lustre, this gain can be converted into a sharp profit improvement. And December figures indicate that traffic may be picking up. The industry has already instituted several economy measures. At least 2000 workers had been dropped from the carriers' payrolls, scheduled flights had been reduced by 5 per cent and a 30 per cent reduction in spending for aircraft and facilities has been budgeted for 1971. Other sources of aid include mergers and possible assistance from an administration anxious to avert an airborne Penn Central with elections in offing.

The proposed easing in depreciation rulings would also prove beneficial.

Pacific Southwest is in a somewhat unique position, operating solely in California and thereby avoiding CAB regulation. This fares have been scaled to optimum levels, emphasis placed on frequently scheduled flights and the reservation system simplified. Revenues for the 6 months ended September, advanced 30 per cent year-to-year, while net income gained 44 per cent to $1.11 a share. A labor cost

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some may think the bull market is over. "But we fell it has barely begun," Pilon, Bullard & Smyth says. The company says many of its indicators are "still much nearer their lows than their highs" and a wide variety of stocks are "still at depressed levels." Speculation is dormant because the small investor "still in shock" is selling during the rising market, the company says.

The Dines Rest is maintaining a bullish outlook on the current market performance and adding to its optimism is the women's apparel indicator. Graphs have been produced that argue the length of women's apparel tends to anticipate market movements and the letter notes that after the mid came the "extremely" short pants. "Not that you should base any decisions on this, but it is certainly worth keeping an eye on so to speak," Dines says.

The market is being pushed by "presidential jargon" and falling interest rates and a 20-year high in housing starts, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. The market's bullish tone was "underscored" when prices remained unaffected by the announcement GNP fell off sharply in the last quarter of 1970, the firm says. The company predicts the Dow Jones Industrial Average will "approach the 1000 mark before year-end."

Bassett, Behagen lift CSI to 78-72 win over Utah State frosh

LOGAN — Tim Bassett's early scoring and the second half efforts of Ron Behagen proved enough Monday night to lift the embattled and undefeated College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles to a 78-72 decision over the Utah State frosh Ramblers.

It marked the first time CSI ever has won at the Logan school and ruined the Ramblers' unique record of being 10-0 at home and 1-0 on the road. It was the 18th straight win for CSI which stayed on the road to play Eastern Utah and only twice-with 9-16 left to play. After three ties, Utah State took its first lead on a free throw by Dressen and Erickson's long shot and it stayed a point or two difference with a couple of ties over the next four minutes. Then Bassett hit two field goals and Behagen two free throws for a 42-39 halftime edge.

Ralph Palomar and Vic Kelly opened up a five-point lead early in the second half before Hanson, Dressen and Jim Bantwright, ex-Minico star, pulled Utah State into that 51-50 draw. Gene Stroebel and Bassett got four CSI points and after a Utah State free throw Bassett, Steve Hegens, Behagen and Stroebel ripped off points in that order for a 62-52 advantage.

The Ramblers rallied back to within three on four Hansen points at 65-62 with 5:14 remaining. Palomar and Kelly boosted it to seven before Bantwright reduced it to 69-64 with 2:45 left. But the Eagles about led it the next trip down the floor. Behagen drove for a bucket and was fouled. He missed the free throw but

Local baseball club may get pact with San Diego

TWIN FALLS — A $1,093.08 deficit for the 1970 season and the prospects of aligning with a new major league club, possibly the San Diego Padres, was reported at the Magic Valley Baseball, Inc., stockholders' meeting Monday night.

The group named Bud Miller, Edd Bossard, Morry Roth and W.B. Murphy to succeed themselves on the board and Robert Blaser and Les Anderson were named to fill unexpired terms.

Bossard said the withdrawal of the Atlanta Braves' agreement here, could have been replaced prior to Dec. 1 if formal notice had been given. He said this was due to the withdrawal of two communities from the Pacific Northwest League, which will reduce that circuit to four teams. The league still has six agreements committed to it and will make its decision soon. The other two probably will be available to Magic Valley. The board indicated preference of the Padres due to the close personal association Eddie Lelschman has had with this club and the Pioneer league over the years.

Southern California No. 1 basketball team

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's taken 65 years but Southern California has finally made it. The Trojans were named the nation's No. 1 basketball team for the first time in the school's history Monday in balloting by the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches. Taking advantage of UCLA's loss to Notre Dame, Southern Cal (14-0) received 16 of the 35 first place votes cast and put together 318 points to oust the Bruins.

UCLA captured 12 first place votes to edge Marquette for second by a single point. UCLA now 14-1, had 302 points to 301 for Marquette, which had six first place votes after recording its 14th victory without a defeat.

Utah State defeats Long Island 82-74

LOGAN, Utah (UPI) — The eleventh-ranked Utah State Aggies gained their 11th consecutive victory Monday night in an 82-74 victory over the nation's third-best defensive team, Long Island University.

with 22 points and Williams had 14, while Ron Hatch added 11 and Lafayette Love and Ken Thompson each scored 10. For Long Island, Moseley Avishar and Walter Jones each had 16 while Tom Williams had 10.

The Blackbirds dominated the first half, controlling the boards 25-17, and held a 30-28 intermission lead. In the second half Utah State took charge of the boards out-rebounding Long Island by nine, 25-16, which proved to be the deciding factor.

Huskies upset Oregon

SEATTLE (UPI) — The University of Washington, playing its best game of the year, upset 12th ranked Oregon, 82-75, here Monday night before 6,262 fans.

Most of the tickets had been sold by mail order, and several hundred people lined up to buy the tickets held for box office sale. The only tickets left were in the $100 to $40 range. The $150 ringside tickets and cheapest seats at $20 each were all sold by mail.

which owns the ancillary rights for the bout, announced that it had sold rights for the New York-Northern New Jersey area to the Loew and United Artists theater chains. A total of 40 sites are expected to show the bout in the area.

The Huskies never trailed and boasted eight-point leads six times late in the second half. Oregon came within one point with 8:44 left in the game on Stan Love's freethrow to make it 59-58. But the Huskies outscored the Ducks, 10-3, in the following three-and-a-half minutes to take a 69-61 lead and the Ducks never got within five from then on out.

Fight of the Champions said it has received more than $4-million in guarantees from bidders wishing to show the bout around the country.

Each fighter was guaranteed $2.5-million. The Garden put up $500,000 of the guarantee, and the rest was put up by Fight of the Champions.

Kentucky outscores Alabama

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Kentucky's 13th-ranked Wildcats, down six points early in the second half, outscored Alabama 20-7 in the final six minutes Monday night to take an 86-73 Southeastern Conference victory over the Crimson Tide.

DETROIT (UPI) — Million-dollar rookie Bob Lanier, though a disappointment to the Pistons thus far, is not about to be traded, Detroit general manager Ed Coll said Monday.

He has split the center job with Otto Moore, with the third year center playing the first and third quarters mainly and Lanier coming in during the second and fourth.

Alabama scores

Kentucky's 13th-ranked Wildcats, down six points early in the second half, outscored Alabama 20-7 in the final six minutes Monday night to take an 86-73 Southeastern Conference victory over the Crimson Tide. Kent Hollonbeck and Tom Payne hit three fast-break layups each for the Wildcats after they had taken the lead at 68-66 on two free throws by reserve Terry Mills. Alabama roared in front late in the first half with 11 consecutive points for a 41-40 lead at the intermission. The lead changed hands eight times before Kentucky went ahead for good. Hollonbeck led the Wildcats with 21 points while Tom Parker and Mike Casey added 17 each. Kentucky hit 56.6 percent from the floor.

DETROIT (UPI) — Million-dollar rookie Bob Lanier, though a disappointment to the Pistons thus far, is not about to be traded, Detroit general manager Ed Coll said Monday. The 6-foot-10 all-American center from St. Bonaventure has "not lived up to all expectations as yet," Coll admitted, but added, "we don't intend to" talk trade concerning Lanier.

He has split the center job with Otto Moore, with the third year center playing the first and third quarters mainly and Lanier coming in during the second and fourth. Under that system the rookie has 10 points per game average and is second in rebounding with 412, nearly 100 behind the more slender Moore, who is scoring nine points a game.

Top scorer for Alabama, which managed only 36.7 percent accuracy, was Alan Houes with 22. Wendell Garner had 16.

The first sports broadcast was aired Nov. 13, 1920, when the Union College radio station at Schenectady, N.Y. featured the Union-Hobart football game.

One of the knocks on Lanier is his weight, which is about 253 pounds compared to the 260-pound he is playing at. "We're certain that with more experience and with complete recovery from his knee operation," Coll said, "he will play the caliber of basketball expected of him for the Pistons."

For Magic Valley, the world's fastest reporting

We tied up the globe in the Times-News electronic tape to show there's something new in the world of news reporting in your daily Times-News.

For that tape "speaks" an electronic language which we take directly from the United Press International news wire, rather than news in the form of teletyped copy.

We feed this tape into a battery of computer-graphic-computers which "read" the little perforations and change impulses into words and prints them on photo-sensitive paper. All at speeds Buck Rogers never dreamed of.

Result: MORE NEWS in less time and LATER NEWS... giving you a newspaper with more depth and complete world coverage.

These electronic speed demons also enable us to bring you prices quoted on the New York Stock list TODAY.

Just another way of advancing to further your reading enjoyment.

ONLY A FEW DAYS LEFT! SPECIAL LIMITED ENROLLMENT FOR EXTRA CASH BENEFITS! EXPIRES MIDNIGHT, JANUARY 31, 1971

Now-$1 Enrolls You In The Doctors Hospital Plan To Safeguard Your Income and Savings If Sickness Or Accident Puts You In The Hospital

MAXIMUM BENEFIT UP TO $10,000 - TAX-FREE! PLAN PAYS EXTRA CASH DIRECT TO YOU - IN ADDITION TO ANY OTHER INSURANCE - INDIVIDUAL, GROUP OR MEDICARE... TAX-FREE EXTRA CASH TO USE AS YOU PLEASE!

PAYS $100 A WEEK EXTRA PAYS $75 A WEEK EXTRA PAYS $50 A WEEK EXTRA PAYS $350 A WEEK EXTRA

PLUS INCREASED EXTRA CASH FOR CANCER, HEART ATTACK OR STROKE.

If you are hospitalized (See all plans below) If your wife is hospitalized (See All-Family and Husband-Wife plans below) If a covered child is hospitalized (See All-Family and One-Parent Family plans below) If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized (See All-Family and Husband-Wife plans below)

REGARDLESS OF YOUR AGE OR THE SIZE OF YOUR FAMILY, YOU CAN ENROLL FOR ONLY $1.00
Then, after the first month, continue this "extra cash" coverage at Physicians' low rates.

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do - but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, January 31, 1971!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash
In addition to ordinary hospital insurance, anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time. But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home? If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate... they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family

Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month
There's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "bank account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security
For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"
Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1
Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get 50% INCREASE IN YOUR EXTRA CASH BENEFITS... If you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction), coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion, or stroke (apoplexy).
If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:
DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!
Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable!" Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any "qualifications" just by using the Form below.
It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have longer hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly-additional rate applies:
Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan $2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan 3.50
Male on any Plan 3.50

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.
Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.
You are free to go to any lawfully operated hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

19 Important Questions Answered ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

- 1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?
The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.
- 2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?
Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.
- 3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?
Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.
- 4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?
None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.
- 5. Which plan should I choose?
You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!
If you live by yourself, or wish to cover only one family member, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.
If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.
If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.
If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.
- 6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?
On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day of covered hospital confinement, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.
- 7. How much can I be paid?
Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.
For example, under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the

- maximum is $5,000—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized.
Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.
Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.
Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.
- 8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?
Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).
- 9. What are the "double" cash benefits?
If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!
- 10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?
You will be covered in any lawfully operated hospital, except nursing homes, convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals, or Federal hospitals.
- 11. When does my policy go into force?
It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.
- 12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem before?
Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.
- 13. What conditions aren't covered?
Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-

- FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.
- 14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?
We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy or change your rates unless we do so on all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can stop your policy on any renewal date.
- 15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?
When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500 or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account!"
- 16. Will my claims be handled promptly?
Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.
- 17. Why are the premiums so low?
With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesman will call. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.
- 18. How much does my first month cost?
Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)
- 19. Why should I enroll right now?
Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.
