Sisters to leave St. Edward's school

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — The future of St. Edward's School here is in doubt following announcement today that the eight Catholic sisters teaching in the school will be withdrawn. Monsignor Edmund Cody, pastor, St. Edward's Catholic Church, said the planned withdrawal is effective at the end of the present school year.

He said the Twin Falls church has been notified by the Community of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart, Scranton, Pa., that it will be necessary to withdraw the sisters from the local school "due to conditions beyond their control."

Monsignor Cody said the Parish Board met last night to consider the problems but at this time has come up with no solutions. He said he had no further statement to make on the matter at the present time.

Rev. Wassmuth said every effort will be made to continue the school but the withdrawal order is too new to have been fully explored. He said the Catholic Education Office does not wish to alarm any families whose children attend the school by indicating closure.

Minico study asked

RUPERT — A bill has been introduced by Idaho's Congressional delegation authorizing $100,000 to study a project to irrigate 12,000 acres within the A and B Irrigation District, north and west of here. Cleve Corlett, Sen. Frank Church's press secretary, said today the A and B Irrigation District presently irrigates 77,000 acres of land by pumping underground water and diverting Snake River water. Corlett said some preliminary survey work and test drilling has been done at the site of the additional lands considered for the project at the expense of the water users. But $35,000 is required for the first-year cost of a full scale Bureau of Reclamation feasibility study. The total study would be about $100,000.

The Northside Pumping Division is part of the Minico Project which was authorized by Congress in 1950. Corlett said the Congressional Appropriations Committee has ruled this additional development must be separately authorized. Virgil Temple, manager of the A and B Irrigation District, said the proposed reclamation bill includes a drain study on present irrigated lands as well as a feasibility study on undeveloped lands. He said the irrigation district already has some investment in the undeveloped lands, with some wells drilled, and would like the feasibility study made. Temple said this drain study is needed as the district is facing drainage problems, particularly during spring runoff. Temple said appropriations were sought last year, but the bill was introduced too late.

Headquarters for the order in Scranton, Pa., at the Marywood College, have decided to close out western operations because of a critical shortage of funds, and center the teaching sisters in the eastern schools, Rev. Wassmuth said. This will leave the Idaho

George Staudner, who will become superintendent of the Twin Falls School district in June, said he received word of the situation this morning from Msgr. Cody. Should the public schools be forced to assume the additional 310 Twin Falls students, he said, it could pose serious problems.

Days numbered

THE FAMED Perrine Bridge, nearing its "golden anniversary," will be replaced within the next five years by a new four-lane structure planned to take its place. The bridge was opened to traffic on Oct. 3, 1927, dedicated to I.B. Perrine, "the father of the Twin Falls Tract, by whose effort and vision the mighty waters of the Snake were lifted and the desert made to blossom as the rose."

Firm to design new Snake bridge

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Highway Board approved Tuesday a $256,651 contract to design a completely new $7.5 million four-lane bridge to replace the weakened landmark Perrine Memorial Bridge. The contract will be signed with the Seattle engineering firm of Howard, Needles, Tammer and Bergendoff, which completed the original study of the bridge — a study which forced a severe weight limitation on Magic Valley trucking firms and led to plans for the new bridge. Dean Tisdale, Boise, deputy highway engineer with the Idaho Highway Department, said in Boise the firm will perform all necessary engineering studies and will draft the complete design of the new bridge. The design job is expected to take a year and a half, Tisdale said. Drilling at the site will be done under a separate contract, to be awarded in the near future, Tisdale said. A public hearing not yet scheduled, will be conducted by the Idaho Highway Board in Twin Falls on the design and location of the new bridge, which will be constructed directly upstream from the present structure. The new four-lane structure will not utilize any of the present bridge, Tisdale said. The bridge now in use will continue in use until the new one is completed, then will be torn down. A large amount of reconstruction of the approaches to the bridge will be required, particularly on the north end, where the highway will be completely realigned, Tisdale said. This phase of the job is expected to cost an additional $500,000, bringing the overall cost of the bridge project to more than $8 million. The southern approach of the bridge will also be realigned, but less reconstruction will be required, Tisdale said. Construction of the bridge, when funding is arranged, will require another 18 months to two years after the design phase is completed.

DOUBT CLOUDS FUTURE OF St. Edward's Catholic School in Twin Falls after announcement today of withdrawal of the teaching staff of Sisters of the Immaculate Heart Order at the close of the present school year. No decision has been made about the 1971-72 school staff.

Jerome worker drowns

JEROME — A 27-year-old employe of the Snake River Fish Hatchery apparently drowned Tuesday when he fell into a raceway at the hatchery. Jerome County Sheriff James B. (Pat) Burns said Robert Anthony Burch, Jerome, was dead on arrival at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. He said the victim was discovered in three feet of water at about 4:15 p.m. Fellow employes rushed the victim toward the hospital and transferred him to an ambulance north of the Perrine Memorial Bridge. Jerome County Coroner Dr. L.M. Neher said today he has not yet determined whether to order an autopsy. Employees at the hatchery told officers that Burch was last seen cleaning moss from raceway screens. They noticed he was gone and discovered him in the water. Employees told Magic Valley Ambulance Service personnel that Burch had complained of dizzy spells earlier in the day.

Future in doubt

Cambodians hit Reds in thrust

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The Cambodian High Command today announced a large-scale operation to drive Communists away from the capital of Phnom Penh, hit by terrorists for five days in a row. In South Vietnam, both Communist and Allied forces marked the Tet lunar new year — the Allies with a 24-hour cease-fire and the Communists with a four-day stand-down. Military spokesmen in Saigon said the Communists violated their own cease-fire at least 30 times in the first 12 hours and seven of the incidents involved American units. Two GIs were wounded. Cambodian High Command spokesman Lt. Col. Am Rong said more than 20 government battalions were pushing west and northwest of Phnom Penh and had retaken a government radar post and a railway station nine miles from the city, causing "heavy losses to the enemy." He said "the military situation has improved and the enemy is being pushed out."

Strict security precautions were set up around Phnom Penh to keep Communist terrorists from moving into the city where some residents were celebrating the Tet lunar new year. There was no holiday cease-fire in Cambodia. The command said the Americans remained on Cambodian soil for about an hour and had retaken a government radar post and a railway station nine miles from the city, causing "heavy losses to the enemy." He said "the military situation has improved and the enemy is being pushed out."

Gem court kills bond vote laws

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Supreme Court — unanimously threw out state laws allowing only property taxpayers to cast ballots in general obligation bond elections. The decision paves the way for the Idaho Legislature to draft new laws that would allow all registered voters in the state to cast ballots in bond elections. The decision by the state court followed a ruling made by the U. S. Supreme Court that all voters had rights to vote in bond elections. The decision, released Tuesday, was in response to a petition by Atty. Gen. Tony Park requesting that the high court review an earlier decision that upheld the constitutionality of allowing only property taxpayers to cast ballots. Park, in the request, asked that the case, Muech vs. Paine, be reviewed in light of the federal high court ruling. The state court refused to reconsider their previous ruling, but noted if the decision were to be made over again it would have been in compliance with the federal decision. Asst. Atty. Gen. James Hargis appeared before the state house committee to inform them of the ruling. Bonding in Idaho has been held up because its laws were not in compliance with federal regulations. Many bonding projects have been stalled in the interim.

Cambodia called off limits to GIs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird assured Congress today that American ground forces "will not be introduced" in Cambodia and that the Cambodians understood this. Laird made the assertion, in a statement to the Senate Armed Services Committee, despite pictorial evidence that there have been American soldiers on the ground in Cambodia very recently. Laird was making his first appearance on Capitol Hill in the new session of Congress. The committee meeting was held in private, but Laird's written preliminary testimony was released. Laird was accompanied by a small retinue of aides who brought along several maps and charts which were carefully covered as they walked down the corridor to the committee room. Lt. Gen. John Vought, staff director of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, wielded the pointer as Laird referred to the maps in connection with current American activity in Indochina.

Laird defended American military action in Southeast Asia as "an indispensable building block in President Nixon's strategy for peace." "In essence," he said, "the President has said 'repeatedly we are not going to retreat from the responsibilities of leadership in the world.'"

Abortion changes stymied

BOISE (UPI)—An attempt to print a bill liberalizing the state's abortion law miscarried today in the House Judiciary Committee. By a vote of 45 opponents of the measure managed to keep the proposal — drafted by an interim study committee — in committee. Reps. Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, Ralph Litton, D-St. Anthony, Don Brennan, D-Pocatello, Earl Greenawald, R-Jerome, and Melvin Hammond, D-Rexburg, asked to be recorded against the motion to print. "I'm personally satisfied with the law the way it is," Crapo said. Other opponents of the bill indicated they agreed with this contention.

At present, Idaho law prohibits abortions unless they are deemed necessary to preserve the life of the mother. That law also prohibits dissemination of birth control information. Under the bill the committee refused to introduce for printing abortions also would be permitted in cases of proved forcible rape or incest if a three-doctor committee finds them justifiable. This proposal eliminates the ban on disseminating birth control information.

Wholesale prices up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A sharp rise in farm produce prices this month has caused the largest boost in wholesale prices in a year — six-tenths of one per cent, the government said in preliminary estimates released today. Farm product prices went up 1.7 per cent this month after falling sharply in three of the past five months, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said. The more stable industrial commodities price index went up 0.3 per cent in January, about average for the past year, but down from the 0.4 per cent advance in December. The 0.6 per cent unadjusted wholesale price increase this month was the largest since a 0.7 per cent advance last January. After seasonal adjustment, the increase was only 0.4 per cent, matching the seasonally adjusted jump last September.

Truman improves

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman, rapidly recovering from an intestinal disorder which hospitalized him last week, told his doctor today he was ready to go home. The 86-year-old former President was hospitalized last Thursday with colitis, or an inflammation of the large intestine.

"I don't care what you call it. It's not my style."

U.S. irked by assault

MOSCOW (UPI)—The United States today filed an official protest over the roughing up of an American newsmen who was attempting to meet a Russian on a main Moscow boulevard, the third U.S. protest against anti-American harassment in three weeks. A U.S. embassy spokesman said Thompson R. Buchanan, political officer of the embassy, delivered an oral protest at the Foreign Office over an incident in which James R. Peiper of the Associated Press was punched and shoved by strong-arm men early today.

Airport, jail, waste financing explored

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Proposed financing for airport and jail facilities and solid waste programs were discussed Tuesday by members of the Twin Falls League of Women Voters and county commissioners.

The pending 1971 county budget of nearly $5 million which is scheduled for final action Feb. 8.

Mrs. Royal Slotten, league president and head of the delegation, said the meeting was called to give league members an opportunity to become better informed rather than to protest any part of the county budget.

Tentative budget figures include $50,000 for jail and courthouse improvements and $120,000 for the county-city airport. The airport, requiring two mills will mean a tax increase, league members were told.

The league is on record as favoring adequate air transportation facilities for the area and improved detention facilities with some provisions for segregating juvenile inmates.

Commission Chairman William Chancey told the women the $5,000 for jail and courthouse improvements would be used to remodel the fourth floor of the courthouse where present jail facilities are housed and to improve the exterior of the courthouse building. He said by taking the sheriff's apartment adjoining the present jail and closing one of the two stairways adequate and proper space for juvenile, men and women prisoners could be provided.

Commissioner Heber Loughmiller said he believes the proposed city-county law enforcement complex is yet six to seven years away and new developments such as proposed state regional jails rather than one state penitentiary, may bring about major changes in the local situation. He said he felt such an expenditure would be better delayed until the regional concept has been fully explored because of possible state financing.

Commissioners said they question whether the public wants to pay the cost of such a facility at this time as it would probably require a bond issue.

Commissioner Merl E. Leonard said it is questionable if a bond issue can be sold in Idaho at this time.

As for airport costs, commissioners said they feel they have no choice in helping finance the present airport facility. As opposed to a regional airport, commissioners said, the present field is here and represents an investment of several million dollars and is essential in providing air transportation to the entire area until a regional airport is in operation. Commissioner Loughmiller said there is not enough air travel to support two airports and he questions regional financing necessary for a regional facility can be accomplished.

Commissioner Leonard suggested boarding fees of $2 could go a long way toward paying for airport maintenance and at the same time give a more equitable means of support. Commissioners said they believe there is now a regional airport as far as tax is concerned but it is financed entirely by Twin Falls County residents. Projections of the airlines show 40,000 persons will board planes in Twin Falls in 1971 with more than 80,000 persons through the local terminal, Leonard said.

League members also discussed solid waste costs, previously covered under the health department budget and now a separate item providing for operation of county dumpgrounds. Mental health facilities with some local matching funds were discussed but were reported still in a planning stage.

Youth endorse better streets

TWIN FALLS — Youth Advisory Council members of Twin Falls said today they plan to submit recommendations to the city council calling for street improvements and long range emphasis on better street maintenance.

Jane Lewis, secretary, said two motions were passed in the January meeting of the youth advisory group.

One asked that the city increase financing for the street system to bring streets up to higher standards. The second motion endorsed planning for better and continuous care of streets once they are improved.

Allen Howa, council chairman, said in particular the council made note of the break up of surfacing on Falls Avenue East, Shoshone Street, Filer Ave., Martin, Locust streets, and Addison Avenue.

Howa said many of the students drive these streets daily in going to school and home and note there is generally heavy traffic and poor streets.

The Youth Advisory Council was named last year by the city council and is composed of students from junior and senior high school classes.

Revenue bills near final vote

BOISE (UPI) — As the legislature entered its 17th legislative day today, the first of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' revenue proposals began to move in the house toward final consideration.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee gave its blessing Tuesday to a measure which would reduce the sales tax refund fund to $50,000 from $250,000 with the remainder to go to the general fund.

Andrus suggested the shift and several other revenue measures in his executive budget message as part of a move to meet the $126.1 million outlined in his budget.

The committee also planned public hearing on two more of Andrus' proposals — one to divert some $2.3 million of the inventory tax phase-out money to the general fund and another measure to get rid of the limit on local revenue increase.

The Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee continued its hearings on general fund budget requests, with three divisions of the Department of Administrative Services appearing Tuesday.

The communications division requested $61,950 from the general fund, the budget division $89,530 and the division of building services $487,610.

The Senate Agricultural Affairs Committee decided to introduce legislation which would allow any law enforcement officer to inspect a vehicle if he has "reasonable cause to believe the vehicle is used to transport illegally possessed animals or carcasses."

Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa, committee chairman, said currently only fish and game department officers are allowed to inspect in similar situations.

An assistant attorney general advised the legislature Tuesday if cannot put constitutional amendments before the people this fall but it can submit a new constitution.

Richard Greener said the lawmakers may authorize a special election in 1971 for ratification of a revised constitution, but said constitutional amendments may be put before the people only at general elections.

Burglary charge upheld

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man accused of first degree burglary appeared Tuesday before Fifth District Judge Theron Ward to move for reduction of the charge.

Golden Bennett, attorney for Steve Whitehead, 21, presented the motion that the first degree burglary charge be dropped to the lesser included offense of petit larceny. His motion was denied by Judge Ward after Robert Galley, deputy prosecutor, objected to the reduction in the charge.

Whitehead had earlier entered a plea of innocent to the first degree burglary charge which was brought by Twin Falls Police after Whitehead was allegedly involved in a theft at Gateway Trailer Center at Blake Street and Addison Avenue last fall.

The case is set for trial by jury, beginning at 10 a.m. Monday.

Teacher proposal attacked

BOISE (UPI) — A school superintendent from Moscow says a professional teacher negotiations bill proposed by the State Department of Education could force unwanted curriculums on the public.

Marshall Keating told the House Education Committee Tuesday he is opposed to the bill and prefers instead a "meet-and-confer" act proposed by the Idaho School Trustees Association.

He said the Education Department bill contains provisions for collective bargaining.

"In collective bargaining it is inherent that there be two opposing sides that negotiate in good faith, and achieve a compromise," Keating said.

If the trustees of this state are forced to live with collective bargaining, they will have to compromise on every issue."

Burley man given drug count term

TWIN FALLS — John D. Cunningham, 46, Burley, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of unlawful acquisition of drugs, was sentenced to not more than 10 years in the Idaho State Penitentiary by Fifth District Judge Theron Ward.

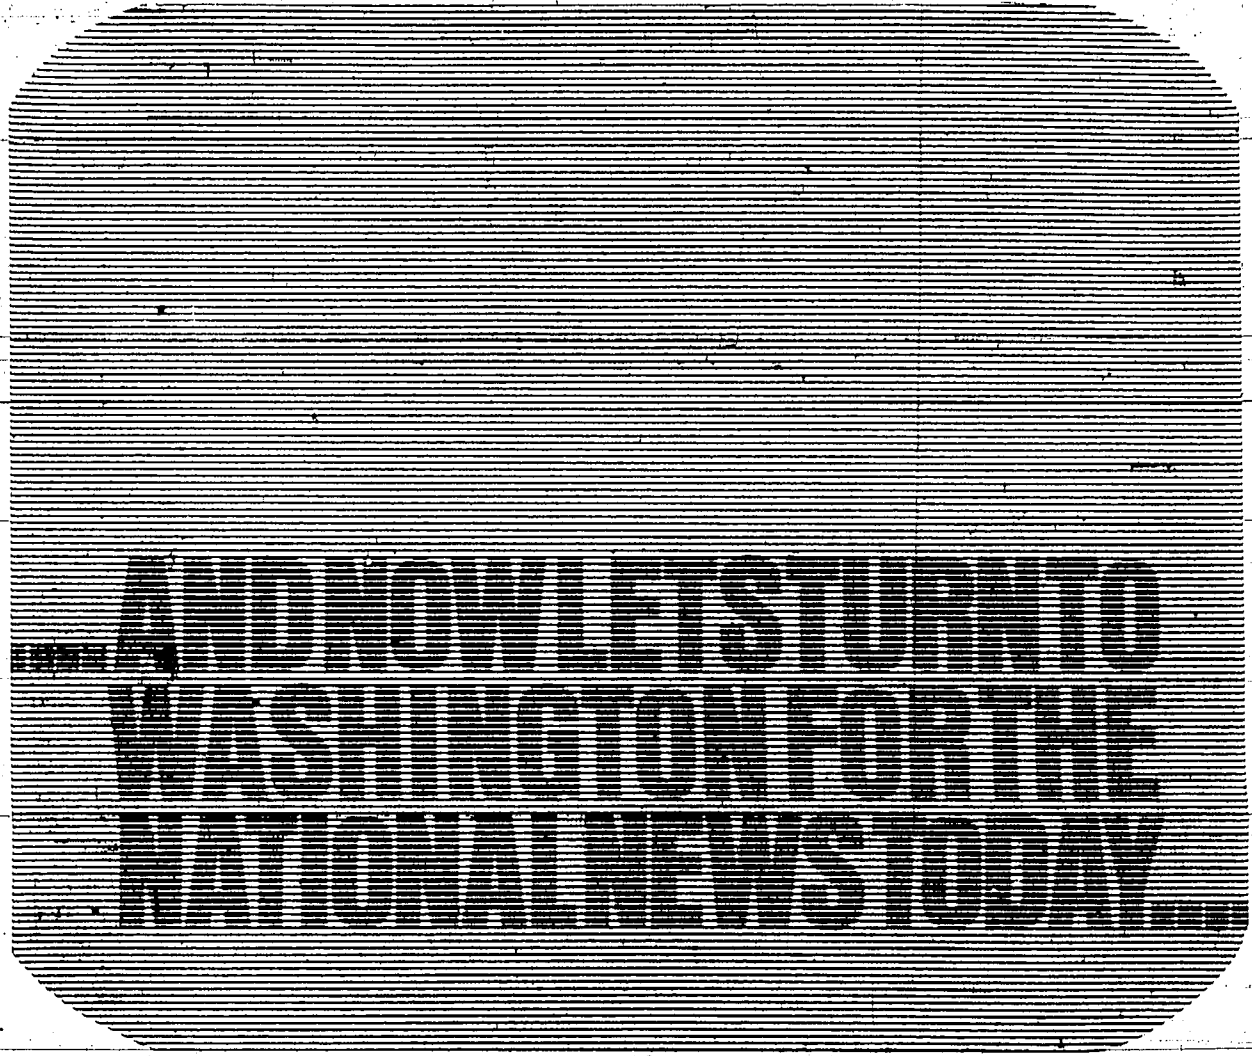

A mitigation hearing had been requested Jan. 22 by Cunningham's attorney, Rudy Barchas of the public defender's office. Barchas withdrew his request for the hearing Tuesday and instead offered pre-sentence arguments, some relating to items contained in a pre-sentence investigation.

Cunningham was arrested in 1970 by Twin Falls Police in a complaint which alleged he changed a prescription to unlawfully obtain narcotics.

Recordings stolen

TWIN FALLS — The theft of about $150 worth of stereo tapes from a vehicle parked on a Twin Falls street was reported to city officers Tuesday evening.

Terry Lacey told officers the burglary occurred between 6 and 8 p.m. Tuesday while his car was parked on Taylor Street. He said his vehicle, which was locked, was entered and about 15 tapes and a carrying case were taken.

A fast five minutes of news might be enough.
If you heard it all.
You could sneeze and miss what the Secretary of Defense said to the President.
The phone would ring and you'd miss tomorrow's weather report.
Of course, it could never happen when you're reading a newspaper.
In a newspaper you get the news at your own pace, in your own time.
And people take their own good time reading a newspaper.
If you're average, you'll spend one week, two days and 10 hours reading your daily newspaper this year.
A startling fact when there's so much to do these days.
Actually, the Times-News is the most efficient way of getting news and information. A few minutes of reading a newspaper give you more information than hours of listening to radio or TV.
Now you can turn the page and tune in some more news.

22 firms charged with file spying

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twenty-two companies and individuals including two international airlines and two private detective agencies were indicted Tuesday on charges of conspiracy in procuring confidential police files on employees and prospective employees.

The airlines cited in the 14 indictments were American Airlines and Trans-Caribbean Airways. All of the companies were private investigatory firms including Pinkertons' Inc. and William J. Burns Agency.

Four of the individuals named were described as present and past New York policemen, and two others were an employee in the state office of motor vehicles and a state supreme court officer.

Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan said the indictments were the result of an investigation which was initiated last June and is still continuing. The indictment accused Vincent Gillen Associates, a private detective agency in Garden City, N.Y., of paying $27,303 to two former policemen, one now deceased.

In addition, Pinkertons' was accused of paying $1,000 to a city patrolman and Burns was charged with paying $600 to a detective. Trans-Caribbean was accused of paying a former detective $700 and American was charged with paying the same detective $878.

Hogan noted that corporations seeking to determine if employees or prospective employees had criminal records can legally obtain this information through the courts.

Thieu hails year of pig

SAIGON (UPI)—President Nguyen Van Thieu, delivering a lunar new year message with political overtones, told the nation Tuesday night that 1971 "The Year of the Pig" will be "a decisive year for peace" in South Vietnam.

The new year under the Chinese lunar calendar began at midnight (11 a.m. EST) Tuesday.

In his speech, broadcast by radio and television, Thieu told the South Vietnamese they have a choice as to what type of peace they will have and that the decision will be theirs in general elections scheduled later this year. It was one of his first public references to the elections, in which he is expected to seek reelection.

"This new year is a decisive year for peace," Thieu said.

Storm hits Midwest

By United Press International

A powerful winter storm lashed the eastern Midwest Tuesday, stranding thousands of motorists in blizzard snows from the upper Great Lakes to the southern Appalachians with roof-wrecking, window-smashing winds.

The Arctic blast reached blizzard intensity in most of Michigan and near-blizzard proportions in northern Indiana. Thousands of school children got the day off from classes.

Winds up to 65 miles an hour heaped snow into road-blocking drifts across much of Michigan. Cars and trucks were abandoned in wholesale lots along expressways and main roads.

8 color telecasts slated from moon

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—There's a world of difference between his pioneering space venture and Sunday's Apollo 14 moon flight, but Alan B. Shepard says he still feels the way he did in his final days before launch 10 years ago.

"You try to think back perhaps of how things were the last few weeks before the flight and try to relate it to how I feel now. I think it's pretty much the same."

Shepard, then 37, piloted the first manned Mercury capsule "Freedom 7" on a 15-minute suborbital hop 302 miles over the Atlantic May 5, 1961. Today, he is preparing to fly Apollo 14 a quarter of a million miles to the moon with rookies Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell.

"One says now, am I ready, am I really familiar with this checklist, and you sit down and read it over again. And you say, now maybe I ought to take a look at the star charts, and maybe I ought to go over the emergency procedures in case of a computer failure, and all these things."

Shepard, Roosa and Mitchell got a small scale preview Monday night of their own blastoff. An Atlas-Centaur rocket packing more than five times the blastoff thrust of Shepard's 70-foot Mercury Redstone launched a large new commercial communications satellite from a pad several miles east of the pilots' viewing area.

The shot kicked off the busiest period of space activity here since May, 1969. A Delta rocket is scheduled to orbit a smaller, military communications satellite Wednesday night.

The countdown on the 363-foot Apollo 14 space machine moved smoothly through its first day Monday with engineers hooking up explosive devices in the Saturn rocket stages before starting a 10-hour rest period today.

Shepard, Roosa and Mitchell passed their final major preflight medical examinations Monday and were pronounced fit and ready for the 3:23 p.m. EST blastoff Sunday.

"They are certified and ready to fly," said Dr. Charles A. Berry. "There are no problems."

The three astronauts have been restricted to their quarters, a training building and a beach house for the past two weeks in the new medical isolation program designed to keep them healthy for flight.

Their contacts have been limited to a select group of 112 people here and Berry said he hoped to reduce that number during the final days before launch to lessen the pilots' chances of falling ill.

Crewmen overpower hijacker

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—The crew of a hijacked Dominican Quisqueyana Airline Lockheed Constellation today overpowered and captured the sky pirate when the plane landed in Cabo Rojo to refuel for the flight to Cuba.

An airline spokesman said none of the 74 persons aboard was injured in the struggle to overpower the hijacker. Identified as a Spaniard, Enrique Jimenez, crew members wrested from him a bottle he was carrying which he said contained nitroglycerine.

Cabo Rojo is at the southern end of the country and 25 miles from the border with Haiti. Troops surrounded the plane when it landed and refused it permission to take off until the hijacker allowed the passengers to disembark.

The plane was hijacked only 15 minutes after leaving Santo Domingo for San Juan earlier today.

Goldie's special due

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—That swoosh you heard last spring was the sound of stardom on the rise when Goldie Hawn streaked by to pick up her Oscar for best supporting actress of the year.

The blonde, flat chested, squeaky voiced graduate of "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" was virtually unknown and scared to death five years ago.

Today she's ecstatic about her good fortune.

So far as is known she is the only girl who has climbed out of the ruck of television to become a full-fledged movie star.

Not only has Goldie won the Academy Award in her first film, "Cactus Flower," she has gone on to star in "There's a Girl in My Soup" and leaves soon for Germany for a

Her co-stars, in order, have been Walter Matthau, Peter Sellers and Warren Beatty.

On Feb. 15 Goldie will star in her own hour-long NBC television special, "Pure Goldie."

And what is her reaction to this cornucopia of fame and riches?

"Disbelief," Goldie said, meaning it. "I really can't believe all this has happened to me in such a short time."

Goldie was a thoroughgoing dinger on the TV series. Her high-pitched giggle and innuendos were fresh and apparently spontaneous.

"There is a part of me who is like that Goldie on the show," the ready ex-dancer said. "Sometimes I could kick myself for saying something silly and not realizing it."

"But there's also a deep emotional part of me. Five years ago the thought of coming to Hollywood, and perhaps becoming famous, frightened me. I didn't know if I could handle it."

She can. Goldie is happy and newly married.

Her husband is director Gus Trikonis. They live in the San Fernando Valley and manage to avoid most parties and night life.

Goldie (her real Christian name) left "Laugh-In" in Feb. 1970, and has matured considerably as a performer in the past year. She no longer relies on her giggle and pixie image.

"She plays several dramatic scenes in 'A Girl in My Soup' and will be called upon to enact even more disciplined comedy under the direction of taskmaster

Richard Brooks in "S."

"The camera is the most sensitive thing to indicate what people really are," Goldie concluded. "It's right on your face and if you're not totally honest people will see it."

Goldie, one feels, is totally honest.

Trip studied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department says Secretary of State William P. Rogers may make an official trip to Latin America this year.

A spokesman said no definite plans had been made, but sources in the department said it was probable he would make the trip prior to the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference, scheduled for April 14 in San Jose, Costa Rica.

VIENNA (UPI)—Any organization that controls 85 per cent of the world's oil exports and 68 per cent of its known oil reserves has power to burn.

The unlikely base of that power is the tree-lined Ringstrasse of Vienna, where the 10 member nations of the Organization of Petroleum Export Countries (OPEC) maintain a marble-walled headquarters. It is this headquarters that is calling the shots in the current struggle between the oil-producing nations and the oil companies.

OPEC was formed only 10 years ago, after the major oil companies decreed a cut in the official price-per-barrel of oil—and hence in the countries share of the oil revenue.

The problem, as explained in an OPEC publication, was that the companies could play each nation off against the other, in a blizzard of metaphors, the publication said the idea behind the organization was "to make hay while the sun shone by closing ranks beneath the umbrella of OPEC."

OPEC currently has 10 members—Venezuela, Iran, Qatar, Kuwait, Algeria, Saudi Arabia, Libya, Iraq, Indonesia and Abu Dhabi. Between them, they produce nearly half the world's oil.

Since such oil-producing nations as Russia and the United States use most of their own product, the impact of the OPEC nations on the export market is enormous. If the OPEC members were to ration their output—or turn off the tap entirely—they could cripple the industry of Western Europe and Japan.

But this cuts both ways. Without the oil revenues, the economies of most OPEC nations would disintegrate.

PEOPLE member nations meet periodically to plan campaigns. During the first decade of OPEC's existence, most of these campaigns were defensive—aimed at preventing further price cuts or other encroachments by the oil companies into their economies.

The change came last month when, at a meeting in Caracas, Venezuela, OPEC demanded a five per cent increase in the taxes on oil companies operating in their territory. The current tax bite is 50 per cent.

OPEC officials here have called the demand "reasonable" and have been hurt by charges that they are "black-mailing" the companies.

"All we're asking for is a share of past price increases," a spokesman said.

Appointees confirmed

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Senate confirmed six appointees of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Tuesday, including Bartlett Brown, Pocatello, as commissioner of labor and L. Clark Hand as superintendent of state police. Others confirmed were Fred Charlton as superintendent of the State Liquor Dispensary, Robert De Shazo as acting commissioner of public works, Ted Cramer as acting state purchasing agent, and Bill Child as acting director of the Department of Public Assistance. Charlton has already announced he will retire Feb. 8 on his

75th birthday and Andrus has already announced appointment of former state Sen. Bill Webster, D-Coeur d'Alene, to replace Charlton. Sen. John Evans, D-Mald, sponsoring Brown, said his appointment as commissioner of labor was "probably one of the finest" made by Andrus. Sen. James Ellsworth, R-Leadore, sponsoring Hand as superintendent of state police — a post hand also held under former Gov. Don Samuelson — said Hand was "very capable, efficient and highly regarded officer of law enforcement."

Sticker deadline nearing

BOISE (UPI) — Motorists who have vehicles registered under the staggered licensing system and whose plates end in the number 1 are reminded they have just three days to get new validation stickers. The Department of Law enforcement says plates ending in "11" expire at midnight Jan. 31, but officials point out most county assessors' offices will be closed Saturday, making Friday the last day for obtaining new stickers. The '72, black on white stickers are to be placed in the lower left hand corner of present plates.

Attorney eyes new redraft

BOISE (UPI) — An assistant attorney general advised the legislature Tuesday that while it cannot put constitutional amendments before the people this fall it can submit a new constitution. In an opinion for Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, Richard Greener said the legislature may authorize a special election in 1971 for ratification of the revised constitution. He said a recent decision of the Idaho Supreme Court provides the basis for concluding that a special election may be scheduled legally by the legislature to allow the electorate to approve or reject a revised constitution.

Solon bars bills

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Neil Miller, D-Blackfoot, successfully carried two measures having to do with recreation districts Tuesday, even though stiff opposition was voiced to the simple majority requirement for bond elections. Miller said the two bills — both companion measures to the 1970 Recreation District Act — would set dates for election of directors of recreation districts and would also allow recreation districts to bond themselves to construct recreation facilities. However, Miller said, only a simple majority of qualified electors would be required to approve a bond measure, and said he decided not to require a two-thirds majority because it gave "a negative vote a weighted value of about 2-1." Sen. John Penroy, R-Rupert, said the Idaho Supreme Court had already upheld the principle of the two-thirds majority and said he was sure the U. S. Supreme Court would also uphold the two-thirds requirement. However, Sen. Ray Rigby, D-Rexburg, said if the two-thirds requirement was included in the recreation district measure and the Supreme Court struck such a requirement down, "Then you can see they (recreation districts) can't go ahead and immediate movement is what they're after." Rigby said the simple majority was an extension of the one-man, one-vote theory, adding that with the two-thirds majority "you are saying a dissenter has twice as much power in his vote as a consentor does."

Utah housing pondered

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Introduction of a state housing development act in the Utah House of Representatives has completed the most extensive legislative package designed to improve living conditions under consideration in the history of Utah. HB 163, essentially a state housing development act, rounded out the housing package late Tuesday afternoon. "In my observation Utah has long needed some guidelines that would bring us in line with the rest of the nation," said Rep. C. DeMont Judd, D-Ogden, chief sponsor of the measures. "In view of the governor's message (State-of-the-State) we have introduced three housing bills which will do more than bring us in line, but which I believe will put us ahead of the nation in our housing concept." If they become law, the bills — HB 134, 135, and 163 — will have established the machinery for a department of community affairs furnishing state financial and technical assistance; a state housing authority, headed by the executive director of the community affairs department; and a state housing development agency, complete with a $75,000 revolving fund with which to "buy into" at least $300,000 in government federal funds for low cost housing development.

Andrus opens door to tax increases

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told the Idaho Press Club Tuesday the "door is open" to a general fund tax increase if the legislature feels it necessary to enact one. Andrus said he has kept faith with his campaign promises by submitting to the first regular session of the 41st Idaho Legislature a "balanced budget" based on existing revenue sources. "If they deviate from that budget and increase services, that will force an increase in revenue," Andrus conceded. "If they choose to decrease services below that figure — below what I recommended — then they are in an area where they will not have to get into the permanent building fund." Andrus put before the legislature a $128.1 million general fund budget for the next biennium, some $14 million more than anticipated revenue. He brought it into balance through proposed holdovers in spending, through fund transfers and other means. Republican leaders in the legislature contend the Democratic governor's budget is borrowing from the future and assuring a tax increase a year hence. Andrus told the press club he did not agree with their contention.

"Any tax increase now or in the future has to come from the legislature," he added. Asked specifically if he would vote a bill increasing general fund taxes if the legislature, which the GOP controls, decides to put one before him, Andrus said: "Let's wait and see what they bring down to my desk." "Does that mean the door is open to a general fund tax increase?" a reporter asked. "It's always been open," Andrus said, laughing. While Andrus does not advocate a general fund tax increase or think one is necessary, he did indicate to newsmen he might go along with a boost in highway user taxes if it is dedicated to local street problems. "They need the relief," he said, when asked about the plight of the cities. He said he did not think he was 'breaking faith with the people on that count, either, because he addressed his campaign rhetoric to "general fund" tax increases — not highway fund. However, he said he will not "pre-judge" what the legislature should or should not do in this area. On other matters, Andrus said: "I'm not convinced two

Panel advances revenue measure

BOISE (UPI) — The House Revenue and Taxation Committee gave its blessing Tuesday to the first of Gov. Cecil C. Andrus' revenue proposals and scheduled hearings on two others. At the same meeting, the committee voted to introduce for printing bills to repeal the store license tax and to put a one-cent per carton tax on cigarettes to finance the office of state fire marshal. Sent to the floor for debate and final consideration of the house was Andrus' proposal to reduce the sales tax refund to $50,000 from $250,000 and put the remainder of the monies in the general fund. This is one of several proposals by which Andrus hopes to balance his proposed $128.1 million general fund budget for the forthcoming fiscal year without a tax increase. There is a gap of some $14 million between total proposed spending and anticipated revenue and Andrus proposes to fill it with holdovers and money transfers. Already approved by the Republican leadership the measure sailed through the committee when it came up for consideration Tuesday. Hearings were scheduled for Feb. 3 on proposals to put one fourth of the inventory tax phase-out replacement monies into the general fund and lift the four per cent ceiling on annual ad valorem revenue increases of local taxing units.

Promotion aids sales, sets trend

PARIS (UPI)—For the men who market Virginia Slims ("You've come a long way, baby") cigarettes, Jan. 2 wasn't as black a day as it might have been.

True, the commercials that helped them reach sales of 5 billion cigarettes a year in little more than two years—and incense Women's Lib—were now banned from U.S. television along with all other cigarette ads. But, indicative of new trends in cigarette promotion, the Virginia Slims people were just winding up a "New Year's Eve in Paris" sweepstakes.

It was part of a promotional effort to compensate for the lost television exposure that includes sponsorship of the Powder Puff Derby for women pilots, an invitational tournament series for women tennis players and an annual American Women's Opinion Poll. All are designed to appeal to women smokers, 40 per cent of the U.S. market.

"I wanted a travel sweepstakes because travel is the most exciting kind of reward. It fits the brand image—chic, sophisticated, upscale, fun," brand manager Steven S. Korson said.

Starting last August, Virginia Slims advertised the sweepstakes. At the end of October the French consul in New York put on a blindfold, reached into a drum and drew the names of winners from among almost 400,000 entries.

The 26 couples who arrived in New York City the day after Christmas to collect their trip came from 15 states. They included an unemployed machinist from Maine with his waitress wife and a California management consultant whose wife wears mink. There was a black heating engineer from New York City and a Puerto Rican nurse from Ohio, a meatcutter, a pipefitter, a tirebuilder, a golf ball packer, an air-traffic controller, a truck driver, a cocktail waitress and a professor of French literature. One winner's husband had been murdered earlier in the year. Another advanced her wedding date so she could make the trip her honeymoon.

After a night on the town in New York they flew to Paris. In the days that followed the group toured Paris, Versailles and Fontainebleau. They ate on the Eiffel Tower. The women visited the salon of Nina Ricci and met designer Gerard Pipart. The men were outfitted with rented tuxedos for New Year's Eve and the women given free hairdos. A fleet of chauffeured limousines drove them to the Ido for a New Year's Eve show.

For income tax purposes all this was valued at $3,000 a couple. Korson said this was "on the low side" but refused to specify total cost because of the "competitive situation" in the cigarette industry. But he put it at 10 to 20 per cent of Virginia Slims' seven-figure promotion budget for 1970. The immediate benefits were the gratitude of the winners.

News Of Servicemen

GOODING — Marine Pfc. Robert B. Locke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Locke, and husband of the former Kathy Strickland, all of Gooding, has graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. He is a 1967 graduate of Gooding High School.

JEROME — Airman Phillip E. Mulconery II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip E. Mulconery, Jerome, left Jan. 25 to report for 18 months duty in Puerto Rico.

Mulconery is a 1970 graduate of Twin Falls High School and worked at Buttrey's in Twin Falls for two years. He joined the Air Force last August. He took basic training at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., where he was graduate top man in his class. He will be an aircraft maintenance specialist while serving in Puerto Rico.

Alaska studies oysters

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Alaska already is famous for its king crabs and silver horde of salmon. Now it is hoping to get into the oyster culture business with a new method of raising the bivalves.

The College of Biological Sciences of the University of Alaska is conducting experiments that call for the use of floats from which oyster shells are wired together and dangle in the flowing tide.

Such a contraption is anchored in Prince William Sound where hopefully the string of shells will ride out the winter and the sprinkling of oyster on the shells will survive and grow and eventually mature into full grown oysters.

"Most commercial oysters are cultured on tide flats," explained Dr. Jack Van Hying, a fishery biologist. "But attaching them to rafts keeps water flowing by and protects the oysters from predators—starfish and certain snails.

"The oysters attached to the raft float about five feet below the surface, in water 30 feet deep so that they are far out of reach of starfish."

Oyster culture is but one of a series of seafood production projects which the college is engaged in.

Dr. Howard Feder, a zoologist specializing in invertebrates, has been studying clams as well as oysters, while Dr. Ted Cooney, a biological oceanographer, is interested primarily in shrimp. Most of the field work of these scientists is concentrated in Prince William Sound, west of Anchorage on the south coast of Alaska. In this region was the epicenter of the Good Friday earthquake of 1964. Tagging to determine crab populations is one project. Dungeness, king and Tanner crabs were caught in pots, tagged and then tossed back into the water. This procedure was followed weekly for several months. After about 1,400 were tagged, the scientists were able to make a pretty good estimate of the crab population in a given area and also to tell how many were male and female.

A similar method is being used to estimate clam resources.

To count Alaska's shrimp, the university used a 54-foot crab boat equipped with an echo integrator developed by the University of Washington for counting echoes hitting a screen.

Tuna fishing war irritant to U.S., Latin neighbors

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Since 1961, Ecuador and Peru have seized something like 100 U.S. fishing boats and fined their owners more than $1 million for violation of "territorial waters" which both claim run 200 miles to sea.
For the boat owners it is not much more than a minor irritant since the United States government ultimately repays them for whatever fines are levied.

In this particular case the issue revolves around the tasty blue fin tuna whose migrating habits take him 20 miles off the Ecuadorian coast and 80 miles off the coast of Peru.
Twice each year, North American fishing boats take off from their California ports in hot pursuit of a catch that annually comes to around 200,000 tons, most of it taken by the California boats.

Since the 1950's, however, the so-called fishing war has been an irritant in the relations between the United States and its Latin American neighbor.
It began taking on proportions of a major irritant this year when Ecuador alone levied fines against U.S. fishing boats

In 1947, Chile proclaimed a 200-mile limit to protect what it regarded as a national resource. It soon was joined by Peru and Ecuador. Today, nine Latin American nations claim the 200-mile limit.
As much as a need to define international fishing limits, the dispute points up the need for international authority over all ocean resources. As of today there is no international agreement except that reached by the United Nations last year banning weapons of mass destruction from the ocean floor.

The United States recognizes a three-mile territorial offshore limit, but has negotiated fishing agreements with the Soviet Union and Japan for up to 12 miles.

The question of a nation's rights to mineral riches on its continental shelf never has been clearly defined.
President Truman in 1945 claimed the natural resources of the "Continental Shelf" off American coasts for exclusive United States "jurisdiction and control." In 1958, the Truman principle was accepted at a Geneva convention.
But a continental shelf may extend from several miles to several hundred miles off the mainland. Some nations have no continental shelf at all. Ecuador and Peru are among them.

Jurists protected

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (UPI)—About $25 worth of gravel will make each judge's bench in Berrien County 5th District Court virtually bullet-proof, officials say.
The "pea-gravel" will be sandwiched between layers of plywood and installed in the benches by the time remodeling of the courthouse is finished, they said.
The 3 1/2 inch thickness of gravel was found capable of stopping a .44 magnum pistol shot.

Burglary headed off

CLEVELAND (UPI)—City patrolman William Tell, 24, was taking a nap in his home Monday night when he heard a noise downstairs. As he came down the steps he saw an arm come through a broken pane on the front door and turn the knob. Tell said he alighted out the back door and walked through the open front door and placed the burglar under arrest.

New Year noted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon, in a statement observing the Chinese New Year which will be celebrated Wednesday, praised Chinese-Americans Tuesday for "the enviable qualities you have brought to our national life."
Wednesday will make the year 4669 on the Chinese calendar—the Year of the Pig.

Mind Your Money

Q—When the mercury-contaminated tuna was recalled, I read that the Food and Drug Administration publishes a "recall list" of all kinds of other dangerous products. How can I get this list?—Mrs. R. W., Los Angeles.
A—The FDA limits its weekly mailing of dangerous and ineffective product recall lists to less than 500. Individual consumers can't get them. The reason, FDA says, is because its staff and funds are limited.
Some food and drug manufacturers get the lists. So do some stores, indirectly through trade publications such as Supermarket News and the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Assn. A friendly pharmacist or supermarket manager might pass on trade publication copies to you.

However, the manufacturers who do not use table salt in their detergents claim it does little, if anything, to aid the cleaning process. The salt's prime function, they say, is to add inexpensive bulk or filler. One washing machine company says salt might damage washers, especially the older ones.

Hereford cattle are named after the English county of that name.

If you ever do get a look at an FDA recall list, it might not do much good unless you know the codes and symbols. For example, a recent FDA list did say that one product, some curd cheese sold in Springfield, Mo., was recalled because of "pesticide contamination."

Further down the list, however, Biomydrin, nasal spray and drops sold over the counter, was recalled on a nationwide basis because: "FR Pub 8-21-70 (10)." What's that, you say?

An FDA official gives this translation: "Biomydrin nasal spray and drops were recalled because the National Academy of Science and the National Research Council have found the product to be ineffective and feel that an antibiotic, such as Biomydrin, sold without prescription can be dangerous if used indiscriminately."

Q—I've been very interested in your articles about phosphates and NTA (nitrilotriacetic acid) in detergents. I have been using Ecolo-G detergent and find it satisfactory. It contains no phosphates or NTA.

Why have the other detergent manufacturers been so slow in catching up?—Mrs. H. P., Opelocka, Fla.

A—It's because they have analyzed Ecolo-G and found that it contains from 35 per cent to 45 per cent table salt, among other things. If it suits you and isn't damaging your washing

Finnish farmer has no fears behind patrols, barbed wire

HELSINKI (UPI)—Farmer Matti Kukkonen never locks his door for he "does not fear burglars. Barbed wire, guard towers and Finnish and Soviet border patrols keep outsiders away."

After the end of World War II Kukkonen and 500 others like him found themselves farming the no man's land between Finland and the Soviet Union near Imlara along Finland's eastern border. Peace cut their properties in two and several odd tales were born.

In Kukkonen's case a barn he built in pre-war days became a piece of history for it cost the Soviet Union a few thousand square feet of the territory Finland was forced to cede.
"That barn was brand new 30 years ago and it was then a sizable investment for a small farmer like me," said Kukkonen, now in his early 70s but still spry.

"When peace came and the border was drawn the barn was left on the Russian side. My mother did not like that and complained to the Finnish head of the border commission who then went to the Russians.
"Next morning a Russian colonel came to see us and agreed over a cup of coffee to move the border a few meters. It's nice to have all your property in one country."

The frontier zone varies from one-half to two miles in width and, despite the apparent inconveniences, some local residents point out jokingly to visitors that their homes are about the most secure places in the world. To the West Finnish border guards behind barbed wire and to the East Russian soldiers and guard towers guarantee no one approaches them without permission.

The Frontier Zone Law and the Finnish-Soviet Frontier Agreement regulate daily activities in the zone. You are not allowed to live, move around or work there without police permission. You are not allowed to use a camera, you must not shout or speak to others over the border and a hundred other details which may sound funny to outsiders.

The permanent dwellers, however, have adjusted well to the inconveniences even if some complain that "you can only head to one direction—west of Finland."

"There are no special difficulties," said farmer Viljo Pitkanen. "Visitors, however, find it a bit troublesome because they have to see police officials to get a permit to visit us."

Pitkanen moved to the frontier zone 12 years ago. Forty yards from his home is the barbed wire on the Finnish side and on a clear day he can see the smoke from the former Finnish Enso factories, now Svetogorsk factories on the Soviet side.

The majority of those living in this "no man's land" are farmers but even their numbers are gradually diminishing because people move to the cities to find work in other industries. Col. Gunnar Ahonen, commander of the Soviet Eastern Border Guards, said "the locals stick to the rules but visitors who come to see the border are most careless."
Last summer Finnish border guards turned back about 40,000 tourists, 5,000 of them foreigners, who were heading for the forbidden zone.

Lunar landing stirs Mitchell anew

By EDMUND GLEN JOHNSON
United Press International
Edgar Dean Mitchell quit flying just for the excitement of it years ago. But the old excitement comes back now when he thinks about landing the Apollo 14 lunar module "Antares" on the moon.

"I was a little worried before that I wasn't excited, but that's all disappearing now," Mitchell, 40, said recently in a slow, deliberate voice.

"We like to be blasé about spaceflight because our profession demands it. However, when you stop and reflect on what we're doing—not we, but the system—on what all of us are doing, the technical accomplishments that have made this possible, it really still staggers the imagination."

Observers close to the Apollo 14 crew of Mitchell, Alan B. Shepard and Stuart A. Roosa say that of the three, Mitchell pays the most attention to detail and is the most exacting.

"Mitchell sees the Saturn 5 rocket that will shoot Apollo 14 to the moon in terms of 'millions of individual parts.' And he refuses to guess at what his thoughts will be when he gets into space for the first time.

"Why don't you wait and ask me that question after I get back, and I won't have to speculate," he chides gently. "I can tell you what they were."

But the challenge of spaceflight with its myriad details is not the only thing that fascinates Mitchell. He also sees a challenge in the realm of extrasensory perception, or "thought transference," as he prefers to call it.

"Yes, I'm very interested in that field—primarily from the scientific point of view," he said.

Mitchell said he spends a lot of time reading about thought transference and talking with experts in the field. But he laughs at the suggestion that extrasensory perception might play any part in the Apollo 14 mission.

Although he has never been in space, in the almost five years he has been an astronaut Mitchell has spent many hundreds of hours in simulators preparing for the piloting job he and Shepard will have to get right on their first real try to land safely on the moon. He sees those two days of the actual moon landing, exploration and liftoff as his greatest challenge in the flight.

"That's what I'm looking forward to," he said.

Born in Hereford, Tex., Mitchell was reared in Artesia,

N.M. He took early 14 airplanes, soloing at 14 and getting his pilot's license at 16.

He says the excitement got him interested, but it was the challenge which kept him working until in 1964 he received one of the first doctorates in astronautics and aeronautics granted by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His dissertation was on guidance and control of space vehicles.

Mitchell has been a Navy flier since 1962 and holds the rank of commander. His progression from fighters to spaceships was motivated, in part, by a belief that the space program would help humanity.

Roosa likes solo flight

By EDMUND GLEN JOHNSON
United Press International
Stuart Allen Roosa likes to fly alone. It's a good thing he does, too, because as command module pilot on Apollo 14 he must spend two days as alone as a man can get—orbiting the moon while his companions walk the lunar surface.

"I always have liked to fly by myself," the 37-year-old major, a former Air Force test pilot, says.

"My whole flying career I always felt like you only needed one seat in the airplane. So, I think I'm ideally suited for the role in that aspect."

Roosa will remain in the Apollo 14 command ship in a 68-mile-high orbit while Alan B. Shepard and Edgar D. Mitchell fly the lunar module to the moon's surface to deploy experiments and gather soil and rock samples.

While the world watches Shepard and Mitchell, Roosa plans to stay busy with photography and observation experiments directed at the lunar surface and into the depths of space.

"I think we've tried to get as much into it (orbital experiment schedule) as we can," Roosa said. "And the number one thing will be the pictures taken with this topographic camera that we're carrying... this will be the first time that we've had a true air-to-ground camera with image-motion compensation and so forth in lunar orbit. And so, that will be the number one contribution that I feel that I'll make."

The wiry, 5-foot-10 redhead's experiments will lay a lot of the groundwork for following missions, but he doesn't really expect to fly one of them. Apollo 14 is his first space mission, and 69 miles may be as close as he ever comes to the lunar surface.

"I would like very much to have another flight where you actually land," Roosa said. "You'd like to turn around as a commander. That's what everybody would like to be—a commander. However, you've got to be practical and realize that not everyone can."

Roosa plans to stick with the space program. He hopes to put his more than 4,000 hours of jet aircraft experience and the tricks he learned flying experimental planes at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., to use on the space shuttle.

The shuttle is the space agency's planned reusable vehicle that would launch like a rocket and land like an airplane after ferrying cargoes and passengers into orbit. It may be flying in the late 1970s if it gets enough funding.

Roosa, who was born in Durango, Colo., and was reared in Claremore, Okla., was delighted with plans by his wife Joan and their four children—Christopher, 11; John, 10; Stuart Jr., 9; and Rosemary, 7—to travel to Cape Kennedy from their home in El Lago near the Houston Space Center to watch the launch.

Roosa graduated with a bachelor of science degree in aeronautics from the University of Colorado and went on active duty with the Air Force in 1963. He was among 19 astronauts—including Mitchell—selected in April of 1966 as part of the fifth astronaut group.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Roosa, reside in Tucson, Ariz.

Theories give way to data

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The wild theories are giving way to intelligent speculation based on facts now that scientists have had more than a year to study 122.8 pounds of lunar rock and dirt gathered at two places on the moon by Apollo astronauts.

But the picture is still far from complete. Both Apollo 11 and Apollo 12 touched down on the relatively flat "seas" that spread across the face of the moon.

Until scientists can get material from the lunar highlands—believed to be far older than the seas—under their instruments they can only guess at the total makeup of the moon. A few strange samples from the first flights give only tantalizing hints that they may be rock ejected from the highlands by meteoroid impacts.

The flight of Apollo 14, aimed at the foothills of the highlands, is a step in the direction of expanding the view.

Nonetheless, scientists feel they have come a long way since the days before they examined lunar material close-up.

"We are starting to do science," says Dr. Gordon G. Gales, a geochemist from the University of Oregon.

New base misleading; inflation continues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When the government issues its cost of living index for January it may look at first glance as if inflation has been finally defeated.

The January index, which will come out late in February, probably will be a little over 118 compared to the 137.8 reported for November.

Don't celebrate. It's a matter of numbers. Prices are still going up.

The government, as it does every 10 years or so, is updating the base for its closely-watched business statistics. Most economic indicators now are based on a 1957-59 average. The new base will be 1967. The November consumer price index meant it cost $13.78 during the month to buy the same variety of goods and services that could have been obtained for $11.63 in 1967 and $10.10 in the period from 1957 to 1959.

When the November index is recomputed to show the 1967 base, the figure is 118.5, meaning it cost $11.85 to buy the same goods that cost $10 in 1967.

Other key government reports will also be revised to show the new base.

The Federal Reserve's industrial production index will switch to the new base in March or April. This index, which measures the output of the nation's factories and mines, was 163.9 in December. If recomputed to show the 1967 base, it would drop to 103.7.

The wholesale price index, 117.8 in December, will be 111.0 on the new scale.

Government statisticians say the change is intended to keep the figures up to date. The base traditionally is revised every 10 years or so. This time, the government is abandoning its previous practice of using a three-year period as the base. The new base will be for a single year.

Previous changes in base periods often were greeted by complaints that they were a cosmetic job intended to mask the effects of inflation. Critics argue that 118.5 seems like less inflation than 137.8.

Most individuals, however, are more concerned with changes in the index than the actual number. A 0.5 per cent monthly increase is a 0.5 per cent monthly increase regardless of the base.

A closer look at the figures tells something about the course of the economy since the mid-1960s.

Consumer prices rose by 16.3 per cent in the more than eight years from the 1957-59 base until 1967. The increase was 18.5 per cent in less than three years from 1967 to November 1970.

Wholesale prices rose 6.1 per cent from 1957-59 to 1967 and by 11 per cent from 1967 through 1970.

The industrial production index—a closely watched barometer of overall economic activity—increased 58.1 per cent from 1957-59 to 1967 and by 3.7 per cent from 1967 to December 1970.

Hangars hold useless ships

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A complete, $95 million Apollo moonship awaits a lunar launch that will never come.

Three command ships worth $185 million and two lunar landing craft that cost $80 million sit nearly completed and useless in their factories.

The stages of two $185 million Saturn 5 rockets and four $45 million Saturn 1B rockets rest in storage with no jobs in sight.

In all, $890 million worth of flightworthy spacecraft and rockets has been "tied" by budget cutbacks that resulted in the cancellation of three Apollo moon landing missions—Apollos 18, 19 and 20.

The two Saturn 5 rockets may be used for earth orbital launchings of space stations or other extra heavy objects, but there are no plans now to even build such payloads and some officials wonder privately if the big Saturns ever will fly.

The Apollo spacecraft and rocket production lines have been shut down and many of the people who built the moon flight hardware have joined the growing ranks of the aerospace unemployed.

Spacecraft Manager James A. McDivitt said he was in one of the Apollo plants a couple of months ago and talked to some women who were working on moonship wire bundles.

"I sat there and talked to them for about 15 or 20 minutes and they were telling me how they liked their job and all that kind of stuff. When I got ready to go, I said 'Keep up the good work.'"

"They said, 'Well, we can't keep up the good work for very long because we're being laid off tomorrow. They don't have any need for us.'"

McDivitt said in an interview in Houston that the women told him they had 11 years of experience—all in the wiring business.

"Now they're just laying those women off," he said. "It's really a shame to see talented people like that leave."

"A wire harness doesn't sound very exotic, but it carries all the signals around the spacecraft. If you don't have a good wire harness you don't have anything."

3 requirements to safety act

BOISE — Provisions of Idaho's Safety Responsibility Act require motorists involved in accidents to comply with three requirements or face suspension of driver licenses, and vehicle registrations, the Department of Law Enforcement said today.

The act provides the driver of every motor vehicle involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to another or damage to the property of any one person in excess of $100 must notify the nearest law enforcement authority immediately and within five days file a written report of the accident with the department.

Financial responsibility also must be furnished and maintained for certain convictions of motor vehicle code violations.

Under the accident provisions of the act, drivers must furnish proof of financial responsibility for damages resulting from an accident within 60 days of receipt of the original report and must maintain this proof for three years if a license or registration is suspended.

A suspension will not follow if a driver can submit evidence of one of the following:

- That he has been released from liability by all persons involved.
- Has executed a legal agreement with other parties providing for payment of claims not exceeding $25,000.
- Has deposited collateral with the commissioner of law enforcement to pay all claims not exceeding $25,000.
- Has filed with the commissioner a certificate of insurance which covers claims arising out of a motor vehicle accident.
- Can show the vehicle was parked legally or being operated without his permission at the time of the accident.
- Has proof of compensation from other owners or their insurance company.

If a license or registration is suspended for failure to comply with one of the above it will not be returned until a requirement is met or a year elapses without a court action being filed. The latter requires filing of a non-suit affidavit and proof of sufficient liability insurance which must be maintained for three years.

And, if a license or registration is suspended or revoked it will not be restored until proof of future ability to meet damage claims from possible future accidents is furnished.

The amount of proof to be maintained for three years from the date a license or registration is reinstated is $25,000. In case of a suspension or revocation for a code violation conviction the proof must be maintained from the suspension expiration date. This proof may be provided through insurance.

The act does not make insurance compulsory, but the proper kind of insurance can be accepted as proof of ability to meet damage claims up to $25,000.

Once proof is established it must be maintained through the specified period or suspension can be invoked.

Establishment of proof after the original accident report is filed means the act will not apply to the owner or operator of the vehicle if the owner had in effect at the time of the accident an automobile liability insurance covering the vehicle involved, and the driver, if not the owner, if there was in effect at the time of the accident a liability policy or bond with respect to his operation of motor vehicles not owned by him.

Such insurance must be written by a company licensed to do business in Idaho.

The act is not applicable if there is no damage, injury or death to others than the operator or owner of the vehicle.

Minimum coverages under the act are $5,000 property damage, $10,000 for death or injury to one person and $20,000 for death or injury to two or more persons in one accident.

The law was enacted in 1947 and amended in 1955, bringing greater responsibility requirements and providing more stringent penalties for motor vehicle owners and drivers who are involved in accidents and fail to furnish proof of their ability to meet damage claims.

Game license bill studied

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday to delay action on a proposal limiting the number of non-resident big game licenses allowed in Idaho.

A thorough study of the matter will be made and possible action taken if a bill is presented to the legislature, Myron Johnson, chamber president, said today.

The matter was brought to the attention of the chamber by the Salmon Chamber of Commerce which asked the Shoshone group to join in calling for curtailment of the number of licenses allowed, plus a petition to reserve the distribution to outlanders.

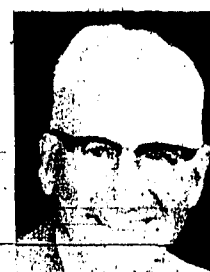

The annual Boy Scout breakfast sponsored by the chamber will be held Feb. 14 and the entire month of February will be observed as Scout month.

Dennis Everett was named membership chairman, with Roy Hubert and Johnson assisting.

The Twin Falls chamber's annual meeting was announced for 7 p.m. Feb. 11 at the Holiday Inn. The second annual farm forum, to be held in Boise Feb. 17, also was announced. Speakers there will include Gov. Cecil Andrus, William Kahfuss, Mackinaw, Ill., American Farm Bureau president; Undersecretary J. Phil Campbell, Department of Agriculture, and Dr. John W. Mamer, Davis, Calif., University of California agricultural economist.

Johnson said the annual Lincoln County budget hearing is set for 10 a.m. Feb. 8 at the courthouse.

Clark award to Rupert judge

JUDGE SHERMAN BELLWOOD

RUPERT — Fifth Judicial District Judge Sherman Bellwood is one of two Idaho officials honored Friday at the mid-winter conference of the State Veterans of Foreign Wars in Boise.

Glenn A. Phillips, state commander from Arco, said Judge Bellwood will receive the first annual Chase Clark Memorial Award. Phillips said a committee meeting to name the recipient voted unanimously for Judge Bellwood.

The Burley judge has a long and distinguished career in the Idaho judiciary and service to Idaho. He recently received nationwide recognition for his handling of a drug case involving several young people from Magic Valley. The committee making the selection; Phillips said, felt Judge Bellwood's history of upholding law and order was the determining factor in his selection.

E.B. Smith, retired chief justice of the Idaho Supreme Court and a long-time friend of Judge Clark, will make the presentation on behalf of the VFW and Sen. Frank Church, son-in-law of the late Judge

Clark, who also served as governor of Idaho.

Also to be honored during the dinner, which will start the state meeting, is Sen. Ray Rigny of Rexburg. He has been selected as the outstanding and hardworking legislator, Phillips said. His selection also was unanimous.

On Jan. 30 the state winner of the Voice of Democracy will be selected from seven regional winners. The state winner will accompany Phillips and his staff to Washington, D.C. on March 5.

The auxiliary of the VFW is also meeting in Boise.

The awards dinner is open to the public and tickets will be available at the door. The event will be at 8 p.m. Jan. 29 at the Rowday Inn.

Ideals need outlined

By JUNE DRAGGE

Times-News Correspondent

RUPERT — "Americans need to keep their ideals, cherish and appreciate the flag and their country," Dr. William E. Davis, Idaho State University president, Pocaticello, told Rupert Chamber of Commerce members Monday night.

Speaking at the annual installation dinner, the university president said times are troubled now, but they have been just as serious in past years, and he outlined some of the problems of the Lincoln era.

Lee Childs, superintendent of the Idaho Youth Ranch, served as master of ceremonies. William G. Strasser was installed as new president, succeeding Ed Hartman.

Other officers include Pete Ford, first vice president; Dwinelle Alfred, second vice president; Ruth DeThomas, secretary-treasurer; Wayne Hanstrom and Don Reed, three-year directors; Gur Loosil, two-year director, and Tim Roth, Jay McBride, George Falkner and Hartman, one year directors.

More than 150 persons attended the event, with representatives from chambers of commerce at Aberdeen, American Falls, Paul, Heyburn, Burley, Jerome and Twin Falls.

Water measure under study

RUPERT — Attorneys for Mindoka County and the Mindoka Irrigation District are drawing up an ordinance to be incorporated in the county zoning laws providing for handling of irrigation water, August Bethke, county clerk, said today.

County commissioners met Monday with directors of the irrigation district to discuss problems posed by residents of sub-divisions throughout the county who use water from the irrigation district.

Vern Montgomery, spokesman for the irrigation district, said the water agency does not have any responsibility in caring for the individual ditches to the owners' property. Owners have to keep their own ditches clean, he said.

The officials decided to ask realtors to make clear to prospective owners when they make land sales that upkeep of the individual ditches is the responsibility of the property owner.

The proposed ordinance will be incorporated in the county zoning laws to provide some type of easement on the irrigation water, Bethke said.

Other irrigation district directors attending the county commission meeting were George Stronjire, William Nichols and Ted Abo.

Board told bill status

BURLEY — The bill proposed by the Cassia County School District to allow school construction by approval of residents in a sub-district is now in the printing committee of the Idaho Legislature. Harold Blauer said today.

A report on the progress of the bill, which was prepared by Cassia district officials, was given at the trustee meeting Monday night.

Principals from each school in the county-wide district met briefly with trustees to make requests for next year's budget which will be prepared in April.

Blauer said better library facilities were mentioned by all the administrators as a primary need, with new desks and lunchroom tables also needed at most of the individual schools.

The music program at Rafft River was termed inadequate. A request was made for improvement, Blauer said.

In other business, trustees approved attendance at the Association for Supervision of Curriculum Development conference March 8-10 in St. Louis, Mo., for Ray Reid, Burley, who is state president of the association.

Burley High School declamation students are attending the invitational declamation meet in Boise this week, Blauer said.

Parents seek one class site

EDEN — Parents at the Eden Grade School believe the seventh and eighth graders should attend the same school, either at Hazelton or at Valley High School.

The proposal to have the eighth grade attend classes at the high school was discussed by Monty Andrus, seventh grade teacher, and Roy Coulson, school board member, at a meeting of the PTA here Monday night. Parents visited their children's classrooms prior to the meeting.

Coulson said the school board will investigate the possibilities of moving the classes and report to the PTA at an open house meeting at Hazelton in March.

Dr. Fred McCuba, with the Child Development Center, Twin Falls, spoke about the problems facing a child in adjusting to school, home and community environment. He said it is hoped that more traveling clinics can be established in the Magic Valley area to assist a child who has trouble functioning in his environment.

It was reported that preschool-age children are encouraged to use the library facilities at the Eden Grade School from 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. and check out books with the help of their parents.

State employes ask better plan

JEROME — Magic Valley chapter of Idaho State Employees Association is working with the state organization in asking Gov. Cecil Andrus to propose more adequate health and medical insurance coverage.

At a meeting of the area group Tuesday night at the Jerome City Hall representatives from both the Blue Cross and Continental Life and Accident Insurance Co., outlined present insurance plans for state employes, which they termed inadequate.

Ted Schiermeyer, Twin Falls, district representative for the Blue Cross, said his firm's proposal is to pay out more in benefits to state employes in Idaho than it receives in premiums, and is using its own resources to do so.

He emphasized that the state employes should work with the group's state committee to urge the new state administration to approve a better health insurance program.

He said the low option plan in the present coverage is completely obsolete with today's cost of hospital and medical care. Under the present plan there is no provision for intensive care costs, but under new benefits now available, he said, intensive care would be provided with an additional 30 days added for confinement. Room rate would be increased to $80 per day for intensive care.

Ivan Mink, chapter president, said the ISEA is asking the state to increase payments to state employes from the present $4 to $10 or $12 per person per month.

Howard King, Twin Falls, Continental Life and Accident Co. representative, said under major medical provisions, his firm pays 80 percent of what Blue Cross does not pay with $100 deductible per person per year.

The 1971 road and bridge fund budget includes construction of the new bridge over the river on Bullion Street in Halley, snow-removal expenditures and maintenance of county equipment.

The Blaine County Airport is listed separately in the budget, with $15,000 allowed for maintenance and operation during 1971. Airport funds will be administered by Fox as chairman of the airport commission.

An added budget calls for $6,000 in wages and an increase of $11,700 for a county re-evaluation program, while the courthouse budget shows a $4,000 increase for purchase of a microfilm unit.

Blaine County Auditor George McCoy said that the county's total assessed valuation now stands at $18,458,241.

Filer boys questioned

FILER — Two Filer boys believed to have been involved in a bomb scare Tuesday at the Filer Elementary School were released to their parents Tuesday evening after questioning by Twin Falls County sheriff's officers.

Deputies said other youths are believed to have been involved in the prank and petitions against five students at the school may be signed.

The call was received about 12:40 p.m. Tuesday by the telephone company, which notified county and Filer City law officers. The telephone company then traced the call, officers said, and found it had been made from the school.

The caller told the operator a series of bombs were set to explode in the school. The school was emptied while school personnel, city, county and state officers searched the building.

No bombs were found and students returned to classes.

Sentence imposed in liquor case

JEROME — A Jerome man who was arrested by Jerome police Saturday night following a raid on a mobile home entered a plea of guilty Tuesday to procuring liquor for minors and was fined $150 and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Robert Robbins, 21, appeared in Magistrate Court before

Judge Russell Shuid. Police Chief C.H. Puntney said eight juveniles, ages 13 to 17, were involved in the raid at the Modern Trailer Court in Jerome. He said two girls were taken to St. Benedict's Hospital for treatment for over-consumption of alcohol.

The chief said charges against the juveniles involved in the party are pending. The raid stemmed from a citizen's complaint.

Chief Puntney said circumstances warranted minimizing the charges lodged against Robbins.

Assisting in the raid and the arrest was Ed Robinson, state liquor law control officer for Magic Valley.

Dance set Saturday

BUIH — The annual Basque Dance will begin at 9 p.m. Saturday at the Jaycee Hall, the former American Legion Hall, in Buih.

Music will be by the Jimmy Jansaro Band, Boise, featuring both American and Basque music. The dance is sponsored by the Immaculate Conception Home and School Organization. Basque hostess for the evening is Mrs. Anita Davis.

Basque women supervising cooking of chorizos which will be served all evening are Mrs. George Enalima, Mrs. Anastacio Larrayan and Mrs. Valentine Barriaga.

General chairman are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hamilton. Others are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kokers, Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, kitchen; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McManayan and Mr. and Mrs. Carmello Zamora, tickets; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erkins, advertising; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Don Nowak, decorations!

Counsel requested

RUPERT — Rexford Leroy Barton, 36, asked for counsel when he was arraigned Tuesday before Mindoka County Magistrate LeRoy Blacker on a charge of auto theft.

Herman Bedke, public defender, was appointed in the case. Barton was returned to Rupert Monday from Garden City, Kan., where Sheriff Theo Johnson went to pick him up.

The sheriff said Lester Garner, Rupert, loaned his 1970 Datsun pickup truck to Barton last Dec. 9, but when Barton did not return it, Garner signed a complaint charging him with theft.

Pair arraigned in holdup case

TWIN FALLS — Two young people accused of robbery in connection with the armed holdup of a Twin Falls grocery store Jan. 13 were arraigned Tuesday before Magistrate Dan Mehl.

Billy Duane Mitchell, 23, Twin Falls, and Marilyn K. Mabey, 20, Burley, both requested preliminary hearings. The public defender firm of Rayburn, Rayburn, Webb and Pike was appointed to represent them.

Mitchell was arrested Monday near Hazelton with the cooperation of the Eden marshal and the Jerome sheriff's office. Mrs. Mabey was arrested Monday afternoon.

Capt. Tim Qualls of the Twin Falls Police Department, said the two are charged in connection with an armed robbery Jan. 13 at the 7-11 store at Filer Avenue and Washington Street North. Qualls said about $180 was taken from the cash register and safe at the store.

Mitchell remains in custody at the Twin Falls County Jail in lieu of posting $2,500 bond. Mrs. Mabey was released on her own recognizance.

Victim 'fair'

GOODING — John P. Williams, 23, Shoshone, was injured in fair condition today at Gooding Memorial Hospital with injuries received in a traffic accident Sunday at a rural intersection a mile west of Tuchfield.

Meet called

SHOSHONE — Northside Communities, Inc., will elect officers at a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Manhattan Cafe, reports Jerry Johnson, Jerome, president.

Medieval and Renaissance craftsmen often painted strong-boxes and storage chests with emblems, religious symbols and stylized designs.

Blaine budget record

HAILEY — A public hearing has been scheduled Feb. 8 by the Blaine County commission on a record $485,295 budget that is the largest on record for the county.

The budget exceeds the state limit of four per cent for civic budgetary increases, as provided in House Bill 304, but it was deemed impossible to stay within the four-per-cent range and still meet county needs, according to John Fox, chairman of the county commission.

Commissioners will discuss the excess with the Idaho Tax Commission before the public hearing on Feb. 8, Fox said.

The 1971 budget, nearly $47,000 larger than the 1970 budget of $438,577, includes three added tax levies; solid waste disposal, $12,000; zoning and planning, $7,500, and county ambulance service, $6,000, totaling $12,500.

Most county departments show no budgetary increases for the new financial lineup with the exception of salary increases of up to $1,200 per year, which were approved last April.

The sheriff's budget, on the other hand, shows a sizable increase, to $18,955, against $8,738 for 1970. The increase includes purchase of a new car for the sheriff, $3,500 in needed supplies, $200 in blankets and $1,200 in radio equipment.

The radio purchase will be assisted by the federal government, under the Safe Streets and Crime Act of 1968, in which federal funds of up to 70 per cent will be provided for some law enforcement equipment.

Another increase in the sheriff's budget, Fox said, is the salary of an additional deputy who is to be hired.

The county prosecutor's salary budget is up $4,200 for 1971, in line with a state minimum for prosecutors of $7,000 as against the present salary of $3,000 in Blaine County.

Substantial changes are shown in the budget for courts, since the Idaho Court Reform Act abolished probate courts and justices of the peace, combining them with the new magistrate's court. In Blaine County, the magistrate's budget totals $11,700, including $10,000 to be used to remodel and redecorate the courthouses. The federal government, however, will also assist to the extent of paying 50 per cent of the total costs, and the State of Idaho will remit four per cent.

The Blaine County road and bridge fund shows the largest increase, up to $300,000 from the 1970 level of $188,322.97, which did not meet the expenses of the

Church women conduct annual meet

TWIN FALLS — The annual meeting of the board of the local Church Women, United met in the First United Presbyterian Church Fireplace Room, Twin Falls, it was announced today by Mrs. Esther Hatcher.

Mrs. W.C. Holman presented the worship and Mrs. Ruth Moore was pianist. Mrs. Moore's theme was "Passing the Buck" and she used the story of Adam and Eve to illustrate how people of all time have used excuses in their relations with others, even in the church. She closed with the story of the coming of Christ, who came to make all things new, and who inspires his followers to love and compassions.

Joyce Kelly, accompanied by Mrs. Sylvia, was soloist. Mrs. Ruth Moore conducted the service of the "Lost Coin," using the subject, "Being a Good Neighbor," and reading the story of the "Good Samaritan," from the Gospel of Luke. The worship was written by a Christian woman from South America. The offering was taken which is joined with others all over the world who use the same service.

Mrs. Hatcher called for annual reports from Roma Ricks, treasurer; Donna M. Larson, secretary; and Elsie Sharkey, celebration chairman for the past year. Mrs. Ricks presented the budget for 1971 and it was accepted by the group.

Mrs. Moore, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the names of Mrs. Roma Ricks for President; Mrs. Emma Steffen, vice president; Mrs. Donna M. Larson, secretary; and Mrs. Elsie Sharkey, treasurer. These officers were unanimously elected and Mrs. Anna Hayes was the installing officer.

Mrs. Dollie Louder read a letter from Corazon M. Torrevillas, a Philippine Islands representative to the

Since Mrs. Torrevillas had visited the Twin Falls group in May, 1970, her letter was of special interest, and very complimentary. After the business meeting and prayer by Mrs. Brenda Graves, the group enjoyed a luncheon prepared by members of Circle No. 7, of the church. Lotus Schmuicker gave a review of her missionary tour to the Far East, which also included attendance at Expo '70. She gave her impression of the Philippine Islands, since the women had heard a native give her impressions of the United States through the letter read by Mrs. Louder. The group was informed that thousands of women will be meeting in Wichita, Kansas, April 22-25, for the Church Women United Ecumenical Assembly. Several will be going from Idaho. 1971 marks the 30th anniversary of this organization.

Valley Briefs

HANSEN — Boys' and Girls' State delegates will report at the Hansen PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the school. Reports also will be given by delegates to the state PTA convention, according to Mrs. Sam Huck, program chairman.

TWIN FALLS — Morningglade Club will hold a family party, and potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the senior Citizens Recreation Hall. Members are asked to bring covered dishes, table service and two game prizes. Coffee will be furnished.

TWIN FALLS — Showing of new trends in hair styles is planned for Sunday at 9 a.m. in Mr. Juann's Beauty College. All cosmetologists and students are invited to attend. Mr. Juann will give demonstrations.

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wynia, Twin Falls, are the parents of a son born Jan. 19 at Emmett. The Wynias are former residents of Emmett, moving to Twin Falls last fall.

TWIN FALLS — Mountain Hock Grange members will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the grange hall. All members are urged to attend.

Engagement revealed

Winners named

TWIN FALLS — The Monday Afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club met at Duplicate Hall for the first game of a six-week series.

North and south winners were Mrs. V.R. Tensley and Mrs. M. Hogg, first; Mrs. Gus Avrett and Mrs. Y.R. Williams, second; Mrs. H.M. Wycoll and Mrs. Jessie Husted, third.

East and west winners were Mrs. Floyd Broadhead and Mrs. J.F. Henry, first; Mrs. W.H. Newcomer and Mrs. R.J. Skoern, second; Mrs. K.E. Kall and Mrs. L.J. Robertson, third. Mrs. Elvin Cain was a guest.

RUPERT — Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lowder, Rupert, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Ranue, to George Randall Allen, Rupert. The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Minico High School and attended Ricks College. Allen is a 1967 graduate of Manila High School, Manila, Utah. He served a mission for the LDS Church in central Germany and is now employed in the Rupert area.

When selecting fabrics, look for those that burn slowly and are inherently flame-retardant or have been treated with a permanent flame retardant finish, suggests Rollin Schneider, Extension safety specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Beauty hint

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — How you apply your eye makeup and the order in which you apply it make a big difference in the end result, according to famed beauty-fashion authority Max Factor.

Follow his simple advice to attain the utmost beauty. After using foundation, blusher and powder, start making up your eyes by blending eye shadow, whether cream or brush-on powder, on clean, dry lids lightly dusted with translucent powder.

Then apply a darker shade of shadow to contour along the concave hollow of the eyelid. If you choose a cream shadow, such as Shadow Creme Creamy Eye Shadow, keep lids semi-closed until it has set. For an especially alluring look, select flattering tones of Shimmer Shadow for glittery highlights. Next, stroke on Cake Eye-Liner.

Tilt head slightly backward and glance down into the mirror to keep eyes from blinking and get a smooth line. Follow with mascara. Tilt the head backward is great for applying this product, too, since it keeps lashes from rubbing against lids as you stroke from base to tips. Finish with eyebrow makeup using light, short strokes that impart the most natural look.

Cancellation announced for several performances

BUHL — The Antique Festival Theatre has canceled performances of "Enemy of the People" in Caldwell, Soda Springs, Pocatello and Boise, scheduled for January through May.

DI Bowler, associate producer, said the cancellation is due to a series of unfortunate circumstances involving a production with six actors and two technical people and the inadequate rehearsal time to work with replacements for the two supporting cast members who left the state last fall.

Plans are now under way to revise the Ibsen play to a produced reading, Mrs. Bowler said. In this way the four resident company members, II Paul Kliss, Madi Brallsford, Aldrich, and DI Bowler, with expanded use of filmed and taped sequences, can continue to bring this important dramatic work, Ibsen's century-old concern for the environment, to Idaho audiences.

"For a theater company which has chalked up 228 performances, under all sorts of conditions, the length and breadth of the state, it is with deep apologies that the present production must be discontinued," Mrs. Bowler said.

Annual LDS ball slated

VIEW — The Vlow LDS Gold and Green Ball will be held at 9 p.m. Friday at the LDS Cultural Hall.

The floor show is set for 10 p.m., with Kathy Waymunt directing the dances with MIA members participating. Arrangements for the annual event are being made by Mrs. Don Wrigley and Reo Bronson, assisted by Don Wrigley, Jerald Anderson, Mrs. Milton Payne and Mrs. Elmer Mangum.

The theme is "Up, Up and Away." The hall decorations will be by the Min Maids, Laurels, Explorers and Adventurers.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are having a mild disagreement over a subject we have never seen discussed in your column. We agree to abide by your suggestions. (If you print this, please, no names.)

We have two children, an adopted daughter, 11, and a son of our own, 9. They have separate bedrooms but they frequently undress in front of each other, take baths together, etc. There is never anything that appears unhealthy; in other words from the standpoint of sex, they ignore it. I think this is perfectly all right. My wife takes the opposite point of view and says we should insist that they not see each other undressed.

What is your feeling? If you agree with my wife, would your answer be different if the daughter were not adopted?

PRO AND CON

DEAR PRO: As long as children are not self-conscious about their bodies, don't make an issue of it. If you suggest that they "hide", they may become unduly curious, or get the idea that nudity is "wrong" or "dirty." As your daughter matures she will acquire modesty without being told. Whether they are "blood relatives" or not makes no difference.

DEAR ABBY: I wanted an engagement ring very much last year and my boy friend wasn't able to get it for me. So I took out a loan for the down payment with the understanding that he would make the payments.

So far he has never been late with the payments, but my problem is that around the time the payment is due, so I have a quarrel, he reminds me that the payment is due so I had better shape up.

Is there some way I can let him know that I love my ring, but I would rather do without it than have him holding it over my head the way he does? Please don't tell me I shouldn't have taken the loan out in the first place. I already know that.

NO MORE LOANS

DEAR NO MORE: Tell him in English, unless you can communicate better in another language.

DEAR ABBY: Now that the holiday season has come and gone I want to tell you about a barbaric custom which is considered very much "in" these days, and to which I am strongly opposed.

I am sick, sick, sick of the communal pot thrust upon holiday guests—both chip 'n' dip and fondue!

I have seen many otherwise well-mannered people dip into the tribal pot with a potato chip, bite off a portion, and redip into the pot again. Is it any wonder that flu and colds are rampant during holiday time? Also, I resent being handed a long fork and asked to cook my own meal at a fondue party. I can do that at home the other 364 days a year.

This custom of everyone slopping around in the same container reminds me of a tribe of natives sitting around a pot of boiled dog eating with their fingers. This is a plan for a more civilized form of entertaining. NO DUNKER!

DEAR NO: Okay, so decline all chip 'n' dips, and if you're invited to a fondue party, stay home. (P. S. And keep your eyes peeled for mistletoe!)

CONFIDENTIAL TO NEW YORK PARENTS: If you are concerned about your children and drugs, or wish to become more informed on drug abuse for your own enlightenment, contact the New York State Narcotics Addiction Control Commission. Any interested group of parents can form their own action group with the Commission's help.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90008. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hawaiian Islands have many faces

Haleakala crater

TWIN FALLS — Minutes away from swinging Walkiki by jet, the tempo and scenes of the Hawaiian Islands change. On Kauai, Maui and Hawaii, roads bisect fields of sugar cane, secluded beaches are relatively unpeopled and there are small Hawaiian-style villages.

Kauai's reports cluster around Nawiliwili Bay, Poipu and Hanalei beaches and the Waialua River where it flows into the sea.

On Maui, the Kaanapali Beach area adjacent to the historic whaling village of Lahaina, has four great hotels, a golf course and condominium homes. Here, on what is Hawaii's roomiest beach, the resort complex includes fine restaurants and local entertainment.

A historic restoration project is underway in nearby Lahaina, once capital of the Hawaiian kingdom and later a winter anchorage of the Pacific whaling fleet. It is only an hour's drive to the breathtaking Haleakala (House of the Sun) dormant volcanic crater. Hawaii's "big island," for which the chain is named, has two principal resort areas. The city of Hilo, site of the only major jet airport other than Honolulu, has a growing hotel complex built around its scenic bay.

Across the island there is a major development along the Kona Coast of the island. From the northeast corner of the island where Lawrence Rockefeller has the distinctive Mauna Kea Beach resort and golf course, there are several major projects underway or planned on the coast.

The picturesque fishing village of Kailua-Kona, with major marlin fishing grounds offshore, has a half dozen hotels. Kailua is also the site of the summer palace of Hawaiian Royalty. This has been restored by the Daughters of Hawaiian Historical Society and is a worthwhile museum to visit.

Some lucky couple is going to win a trip to Hawaii by entering the Twin Falls Times-News "Magic of Hawaii" tour to the Paradise of the Pacific. Enter...

Since not everyone can win, the lucky couple will be joining the many others on the tour, scheduled to leave Twin Falls Feb. 15 and return Feb. 25. Tour members will be leaving Los Angeles via Pan American World Airways famous 747.

A splendid group is signing for the tour and limited space is available. The cost is $45 per person (sharing double rooms) and includes jet fare from and to Twin Falls, and includes transfers, lodging and sight-seeing. Further information concerning the tour can be obtained by contacting Norma Herzinger, tour host, 735-0231, or Magic Carpet Travels, 733-1668.

Extension club elects officers

DECLO — Officers were elected for the Domestic Duchesses Extension Homemakers Club during their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Stevens. It was announced today.

Elected were Mrs. Carleen Clayville, president; Mrs. Sally Taylor, vice president; Mrs. Eloise Osterhout, secretary, and Mrs. Valoy Lewis, historian. Mrs. Itenee Smyer is retiring president.

The lesson on sewing knit fabrics was presented by Mrs. Smyer and Mrs. Stevens. Samples of different fabrics were viewed and buying and caring for the fabrics were discussed. They stressed the importance of washing or even dry cleaning fabrics prior to construction on some types of fabrics.

It was announced the Feb. 4 meeting is at the home of Mrs. Cloone Montbur.

3.5 average

REXBURG — Several students from Magic Valley are among 460 who carry 14 or more hours and maintained 3.5 grade averages or above during the fall semester at Hicks College.

They are Robbio Lije Loveland, Twin Falls; Blaine D. Alphin, Marilyn Pilmore, Vickie Alene Mats and Sterling Whitaker, all Burley; Susan Walte, Hagerman; Jared Noel Sorenson, Hazelton; Marcella Bair and Tamra Sue Harding, both Heyburn; Claudia E. Reynolds, Richfield, and Vicki Lynn Anderson, Suzanne Beinaup, Ellen Christensen, Sandra R. Jensen, Gilbert Koris and Douglas Wayne Parker, all Rupert.

ON MAUI ISLAND, Hawaii, stands the largest dormant volcano in the world, Haleakala. It is 19 square miles in area; 21 miles in circumference and its rim more than 10,000 feet above sea level. ## Series of lessons set on sewing with knit fabrics

JEROME — A series of lessons on sewing with knit fabrics will be given to interested women in Jerome County by Sharon LaFray, extension home economics agent.

Lessons will be conducted on Jan. 28, Feb. 4, and Feb. 11 at 1:30 p.m. at the National Guard Armory. Interested women may register at the county agent's office in Jerome.

A fee of $1 will be charged for the series to cover fabric demonstration expense, payable on registration.

Miss LaFray will provide consumer buying information, pattern types, sewing notions, care of knits, machine adjustments, preshrinking of fabric, and cutting techniques at the first lesson.

The second lesson will include information about basic T-shirts and variations. For the HANSEN — Mrs. James Wright was named best loser when the Slim and Trim TOPS Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

Mrs. George Golay, Mrs. Roy Dopson and Mrs. Emmanuel Will were welcomed as new members.

For gainers, the penalty march was given and they also repeated a TOPS pledge for losing weight, led by the best loser, Mrs. Wright.

New penalties required for gainers include to plan a day's menu without using sugar or any grain product and bring the menus to the next meeting. The gainers from the previous meeting read their seven 25-word articles on various subjects pertaining to weight loss.

A 15-year, community-school program to wipe out streptococcal infections appears to have paid off in fewer cases of rheumatic fever. It was reported at the annual scientific session of the American Heart Association.

Third lesson, Miss LaFray will demonstrate knit pants, including patterns, fitting and construction techniques.

Complete information is available from the county agent's office or call 324-4571.

Lions Club projects announced

RICHFIELD — New Year projects for the Richfield Lions Club have been announced by Charles Buttane, unit secretary. The first one will be promotion of a county-wide clinic to check children for an eye defect called "lazy eye."

The Richfield Lions were informed of the need of early detection of lazy eyes in the club's study of eyesight promotion projects so widely sponsored by Lions Clubs throughout the world. Nine Richfield Lions Club members have been presented donor cards in recognition of cash donations to the eyesight bank.

Continuation of the tree raising project for beautification of Richfield is now being studied. Orders for more trees, for the tree raising plot, must be placed. In the past the Lions have planted seedlings on the IOOF grounds where a plot is maintained. The new plantings are also cared for by the Lions and later planted in the townsite and presented to home owners for beautification.

Date for the Charter Night celebration is set for March 30.

Appointment announced

TWIN FALLS — Raymond S. Peck, Chappaqua, N.Y., a former resident of Twin Falls, has been appointed to the Educational Council of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The council is a nationwide organization of MIT alumni, established to assist schools and counsel men and women in the areas of education offered by the institute.

Peck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Peck, 1410 Poplar Ave. He is employed by IBM. A graduate of Twin Falls High School in 1952, he was graduated from MIT in 1956 with a bachelor of science degree in structural engineering. He attained a master's degree in the same specialty from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1960.

Discrimination, women's lib basis for new book

NEW YORK (UPI)—At the end of a prayer closing a women's strike for equality event in New York last Aug. 26, those assembled didn't say "Amen." Rather, they said "Ah-Women."

At the opening of the prayer, they made the Women's Liberation Sign Of The Cross. "In the Name of the Mother, the Daughter..." Instead of the usual "In the name of the Father, the Son..."

By so doing they made this point: men on the liberation front have discrimination against women by organized religion on their list of wrongs to right.

To help women who want to get involved in that arena, Sarah Bentley Dooley at 25 has put together a new book, "Women's Liberation and the Church" (association press.)

Mrs. Dooley, whose husband, David, is a student at Union Theological Seminary in New York, participates in women's liberation activities. But her forte at the moment is furthering the happening known as consciousness-raising about women in the churches.

program with the national staff of Church Women United, an interfaith and interracial organization with units in some 2,200 communities nationwide.

She is developing materials on starting "consciousness-raising" groups. She hopes that church men and church women will take up the challenge and take a studious, introspective look at what's wrong about the stereotyping of women by churches—and start correcting.

"The clergy's attitude toward women is very anti," she said. "St. Paul, in his first Letter to the Corinthians, usually gets credit for laying the foundation for this attitude."

MRS. MARJ GIFFORD
1982 Poplar Ave., Twin Falls

BLUEBERRY DELIGHT
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup melted butter
1/4 cup milk
1/2 pound marshmallows
1 cup whipping cream (sweetened with the powdered sugar)

marshmallows are melted. Let cool. Whip cream and fold into marshmallow mixture. Pour half of this mix on top of crumbs, then cover with berry mix and rest of marshmallow mix. Sprinkle the three tablespoons of crumbs on top. Chill for several hours.

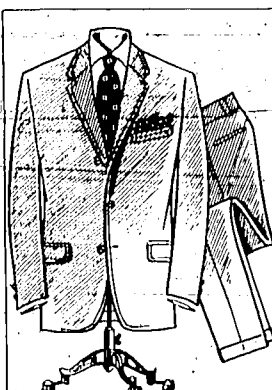

1 can blueberry pie filling. Combine crumbs and butter, reserving three tablespoons for the top. Pack remaining crumbs in an 8 by 8 inch pan and up on the sides. Put milk and marshmallows in top of double boiler until mar-

Mid-winter spring will continue

Magie Valley, Twin Falls and vicinity, Northside, Burley, Rupert area:
 Mostly fair tonight and Thursday. Gentle winds, Highs mostly 50s. Overnight lows 20s to low 30s. Probability of measurable precipitation near zero through Thursday.

Thursday. Gentle winds, Highs mostly 40s. Overnight lows 15 to 25. Probability of measurable precipitation 10 per cent or less through Thursday.
 Outlook for Friday, variable cloudiness with slight chance of showers.

The high temperature in Boise yesterday tied the 1904 record high of 55 for that date. Today's high is expected to tie the 1920 record high of 56. Near record highs are expected in many Valley areas with near 50 readings expected in the upper Snake River Valleys and low to mid 50s across the Magic Valley.
 The warm weather is not without its drawbacks however: In western Washington warm temperatures and generous rain in the past several days has combined to raise several rivers, streams and creeks above flood stage and to soften the heavy snowpack resulting in numerous avalanches and the threat of avalanches. The avalanche problem has become so critical that people have been asked to postpone winter sports activities until the danger has passed.

Successful Investing

By Roger E. Spear
 Q—A few years ago, we purchased shares of General Electric. This investment was made for long-term growth. Was this a wise selection?
 A—Yes. It appears that operating results for the next several quarters should make some fine reading for this investor. Although GE has been diversifying into several new areas, company still depends heavily on its long standing activities (light industrial products, consumer items and capital goods). All of these are expected to maintain their traditionally strong growth pattern and should aid in offsetting any losses incurred in the past 5 years.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Interest rates should continue easier for a while, adding to the relative appeal of common stocks, Standard & Poor's says. Though nine months of "aggressive" case have yet to spur business activity, much progress has been obscured by strikes, it says. With distortions out of the way, the impact of the highly stimulative Federal Reserve monetary policy should soon become more clearly visible. Meantime, investors can add a "greater degree of seasoning" by picking up those issues most likely to respond to a vigorous business upturn, the analyst says.

Early supply

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first public water supply system in the United States is believed to have been installed in Boston where a reservoir was built in 1652, according to Rockwell Manufacturing Company, manufacturer of water control and measurement equipment.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market was sharply lower in heavy trading Wednesday, breaking a string of nine consecutive advances.
 As trading rounded the half-way mark, declines were far ahead of advances, 1,112 to 264. The Dow Jones Industrial average was off almost 9 points at 857.82.
 A three-hour volume of 12,000,000 shares compared with 13,190,000 shares traded at a comparable period Tuesday.
 Analysts attributed the setback to a variety of reasons, including profit taking, depressing corporate earnings news from the steel industry, and a pessimistic report of a rise in wholesale prices in January which contrasted with the administration's claim that it had turned the corner in its fight against inflation and rising prices. Wholesale price increases usually point to higher consumer prices.
 Among the day's most active issues were Madison Square Garden—up 1/4 on 242,000 shares. Eastern Air Lines unchanged on 172,000 shares. Addressograph-Multigraph up 1/4 on 167,000 shares. Cooper Industries unchanged on 151,000 shares. Monsanto off 1/4 on 118,900 shares, and Federal National Mortgage up 1/4 on 110,400 shares.

Birds threatened

NAKURU, Kenya (UPI)—More than half a million flamingos in a world-renowned East African bird sanctuary may be threatened by pollution, experts say.

Scientists in Kenya are expressing increased concern over the use of pesticides, including DDT, and over present industrial practices. Raw human sewage and industrial wastes are poured directly into many of Africa's rivers and streams.

Especially threatened is the bird sanctuary at Nakuru National Park, Kenya, 100 miles north of Nairobi. At Lake Nakuru, a small inland lake with no natural outlets, many species of birds are endangered by the dumping of industrial and municipal wastes and by the local use of DDT for agricultural purposes.

"There's no doubt about it," said a wildlife management expert, "some flamingos are dying off. The unexplained deaths are mounting daily."

Kenyan park officials admit the problem could become "grave," since there are no controls at present. This could result in a great loss to Kenya. Birds and wildlife draw a sizable number of tourists each year.

The bird sanctuary at Lake Nakuru—the second most frequented national park in Kenya—attracts about 37,000 visitors yearly. These visitors flock to see Nakuru's sea of pink—hundreds of thousands of brilliant red-feathered flamingos floating on the lake's blue waters. Lake Nakuru is the home of one-fourth of the world's flamingo population.

Scientists have not yet done extensive tests to determine toxic levels in Lake Nakuru. Preliminary studies are underway, but none of the results are in, a British ecologist said.

"Without a lot more interest and scientific research here, the flamingo and other bird species could be in danger of extinction."

Pollution is a growing threat in all of East Africa.

"It's hard to get people here to look the pollution problem in the face," an American scientist said in Nairobi recently. "African nations are so eager to realize that they're inviting the devil into their Garden of Eden."

Airfield site choice delayed

TWIN FALLS—Selection of a site for a proposed regional airport will be delayed until Gov. Cecil Andrus fills two vacancies on the Interim Regional Airport Board, Neil Weir Burley, board chairman, said today.

"Weir said the governor must appoint replacements" for Blaine Curtis and Warren

Barry, former members who resigned. It is expected he will make these appointments in the near future.

Present board members agreed on the site selection delay as they met Monday evening at the Holiday Inn.

The proposed site would be on the north side of the Snake River in Jerome County. Two possible northside sites are now under consideration on a "hold" basis.

At the Monday night session the board members reaffirmed support of the regional airport concept.

It was also agreed cost of a regional airport to participating counties would be based on the formula as outlined by the state legislature and would be determined on the basis of population, proximity and appraised valuation. This cost, it was pointed out, cannot be determined until the proposed site is selected.

Tax return time nears for Idaho

TWIN FALLS—It's getting close to that time of year again—the April 15 deadline for filing state and federal income tax returns.

Vernon Doshier, manager of the Twin Falls office of the Idaho State Tax Commission, said most returns now being filed are by those who will receive refunds. Those who will have to pay taxes in addition to that already withheld are apparently slower in filling out and returning the forms.

Doshier said his office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. to assist area residents with filling out forms or to answer questions regarding state taxes.

He said for those over 65 the tax process will be speeded up if those who filed Form 24 for the sales tax refund last year use the form which is mailed to them this year.

Pill death suit wins

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A man who contended his wife died of complications caused by birth control pills Monday accepted a $101,500 settlement from three physicians.

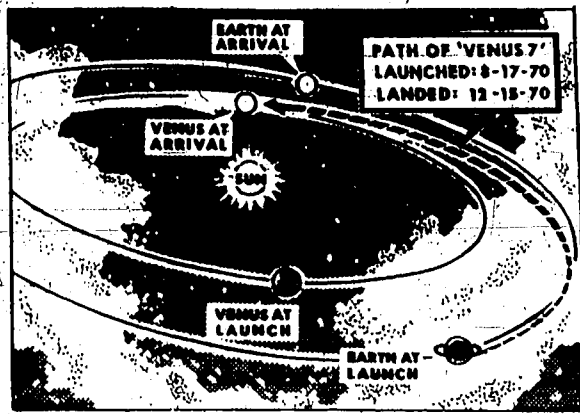

Donald R. Rightsell, 27, a Redondo Beach salesman filed suit on behalf of himself and his son, Donald Jr., 5. He contended his wife, Kathy, 23, died Aug. 19, 1966 after taking Enovid for nearly two years.

Winners listed

TWIN FALLS—Bob Brackett and Frank Robinson won the blue pencil award for their best speeches Monday night at the I.B. Perrine Toastmasters Club meeting.

Also tying for the table topics award were Duane Shrank and Gene Urlo, reports Charles Green, secretary.

Members voted to extend the club's membership drive deadline to March 1, said Green.

Long trip

SOVIET spacecraft Venus 7, launched from Central Asia Aug. 17, followed this flight path to planet, landing Dec. 15, according to Soviet officials. Information relayed to Earth indicated temperature of 887 degrees Fahrenheit and atmospheric pressure 90 times that of Earth. (UPI)

Cowpokes' smoking banned

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Cigarette smoking was banned among cowboys working on cattle drives for Col. C. C. Slaughter in West Texas during the early part of the 20th century.

The no-smoking rule, for the cowboys of the onetime biggest taxpayer in Texas, was strictly economic. The time a poke spent away from his post-borrowing paper, tobacco or a match from a companion—often allowed cattle to drift. Running the cattle back into line caused the loss of a few precious ounces of weight.

There was also the possibility of one spark starting a prairie fire on the Texas High Plains. Records of the old Slaughter cattle drives in the early 1900s were kept in diaries of foreman Hiley T. Boyd. Boyd often mentioned the "no smoking" in his diaries, now on display in the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

"It was a deadly sin to rub the cows and I wanted to fatten them every step of the way on a drive," Boyd recorded. "If any smoking was done it was kept a secret."

Prey fights back

ELVINS, Mo. (UPI)—Delano Walker hollered out four pieces of firewood, filled them with quarter sticks of dynamite, and put them out in the wood he sells to find out "who's been stealing my stuff."

Two of the logs were stolen over the weekend.

"I'm durned tired of people stealing stuff from me," the 33-year-old father of nine said. "They've stole a brand-new chainsaw, a shotgun, $365 worth of tools, a .22 rifle and my wood."

Walker said he was willing to "take all the responsibilities" of what might happen if the wood is burned.

Benefit set at Hagerman

HAGERMAN — Mrs. Gene Titmus, chairman of the Hagerman Marching Mothers For Birth Defects, announces the Hagerman School is sponsoring a Little League Basketball game and an outlaw game between the two local outlaw teams to raise money for the Gooding County March of Dimes, at 7 p.m. Thursday at the gym.

Mrs. Titmus stated there will be no charge for the Little League game, with players made up of fourth, fifth and sixth graders but that an admission of 25 cents is being charged for the outlaw game. The wives of the outlaw teams are baking items which will be sold at the games. All proceeds from admissions and food sales will be donated to the Gooding County Chapter March of Dimes, said Mrs. Titmus.

The Marching Mothers will make an organized march of the Hagerman area on Saturday. Mrs. Alfred Sandy will serve as chairman of the Hagerman rural area.

Mrs. Titmus said each Marching Mother has been asked to take a "Rubella Door Count." She explained that each family would be asked how many children there are in each household between the age of 1-12 and how many have received the Rubella vaccine.

News Of Servicemen

CPL. MCCONNELL

WENDELL — Cpl. Rickie Neal McConnell, United States Marine Corps, is currently serving a tour of duty in Okinawa. This is the third year of a four-year enlistment.

He received basic training at San Diego, Calif., and was assigned to the U.S.S. Teconderog for two years.

At present he is receiving cold weather training in Japan and on completion will serve on a ship in Vietnam waters.

His wife, formerly Twin Falls and 4-month-old son, Rickie Jr., are living in Wendell with McConnell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConnell.

Zip's success

ROME (UPI)—When Italy introduced her first zip code in 1967, skeptical Italians said no one would ever use it. But, to everyone's surprise, the Post Ministry reported 87 per cent of all letter writers used it during 1970.

Mrs. Tracy queen of Wendell club

WENDELL — Mrs. Nadine Tracy was crowned third annual queen of the Slip Knot Tops Club by retiring queen of 1969, Mrs. Irene Cooley.

Other division queens were Mrs. Mildred Jasper, Mrs. Leona Thomas, Mrs. Zee Blackmer, Mrs. Lotema Smith and Mrs. Linda Oliver who was stalk queen.

In addition to being crowned by Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Tracy was presented a tiara and a red carnation corsage. All other winners also received corsages and gifts.

Mrs. Blackmer was acknowledged as queen for the quarter of 1970 and for the month of December.

Mrs. Jasper and Mrs. Smith are leading in competition for the new year. Hostesses for the coronation were Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Oliver.

Awards given

Automotive dealers give CSI stipends

TWIN FALLS — Three colleges of Southern Idaho vocational college students have received scholarships of $120 each from the Automotive Wholesalers of Idaho and the Pacific Automotive Show.

Awarded under the "Educated Hands" program of these associations, the scholarships are designed to create an interest in the automotive industry and "after market."

Recipients are Chris Foarheller, Jr., Dell Dumas and Stephen M. Harper, automotive technology students of the CSI area vocational school. Making the presentation were Reed Gould, United Automotive and Frank Flint, Motor Mercantile, representatives of the Wholesalers Association.

Paul Hoppe and Carl Engelbrecht, instructors at the college, said the awards will assist the students in furthering their education and aid in meeting the shortage of auto mechanics.

French girls wearing shorts

PARIS (UPI)—French girls, having wildly embraced the leg-hiding mini and maxi, now are doing an about face and wearing shorts.

In female costume history, short shorts heretofore have been confined to boats, tennis courts in the blazing sun and California supermarkets.

But these days young swingers at discotheques are showing more leg than even the mini bared in party shorts in satins and velvets. And in the Latin Quarter of the Left Bank, girls are going to classes even in near freezing weather in wool shorts, reinforced by heavy turtle-neck sweaters, heavy stockings and fur maxi coats.

Paris never took to the ultra short mini skirt as did London and New York. The conservative French take that mini-minis were bad taste.

But non-sporty shorts as short as humanly possible are splashed in Paris shop windows and fashion magazines. Designer Jimmy Gibbez speculates that shorts are acceptable to the French while the minimal figures.

was not because you can safely dance or sit down in shorts without showing underwear. Furthermore, shorts are for special occasions and "will not be worn every day as was the mini," he adds.

The avalanche of shorts does not mean the downfall of the mini and maxi, the fashion editor and shop owner says.

Mini-maxis are warmer for winter. Furthermore, the fashion magazine Elle says, short shorts are "only for very young girls with the legs of a gazelle" and with boyish figures.

National office group organized at Wendell

WENDELL — Earl Jones is president of the newly formed chapter of the National Office Education association of the Wendell High School.

Terry Gunning was elected vice president; Kathryn Serr, secretary; Carolyn Simerly, treasurer; Lorna Johnston and Vickie Peterson, historians, and Paul Smith, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Ellen Cox, business instructor and local chapter adviser said the Wendell Chapter was organized to serve business vocational students. The group will be affiliated with the National Office Education Association.

She says OEA is fast becoming one of the largest youth movements in our nation's history. It is a professional organization attempting to build careers in office occupations.

The program is designed to involve youth of America in vocational youth group activities for the development of leadership, self-confidence, dependability, scholarship, good citizenship, poise and initiative. It will thus aid in development of future leaders for office occupations.

Mrs. Cox said students will benefit from participation, competition, and association with others. Also, the course will help to develop vocational competence. The OEA emblem represents ambition, leadership, sociability and poise.

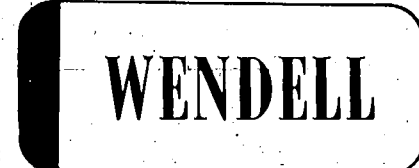

The Idaho State OEA conducts an annual State Leadership Training Conference which, this year, will be held in Moscow, April 1-3. At the convention there will be competitive events in shorthand, production typing, spelling, office procedures, machine transcription, and the 10-key adding machine.

Mrs. Cox stated any student with a declared business vocational objective who is training for employment, either part time in college or full time in industry, is eligible to become a member of the Wendell OEA.

Members are Barbara Hoagland, Pam Parr, Teri Cooper, Teri Hobday, Vickie Koch, Debbie Scott, Barbara Smith, Bob Fattig and Nancy Huston.

Recreation plan gains

EDEN-HAZELTON — Enthusiasm for the adult recreation program at Valley High School is growing, Supt. Thomas Utterback reports.

When the Valley PTA suggested a recreation program for adults to the Valley school board, members "knew there was a need for this type of entertainment in the community, but weren't sure how many adults would participate, he said.

By the fourth volleyball ball practice it was plain that the recreation program had "made it," Dr. Utterback said. The volleyball teams, composed of married couples and some single adults, play two or three games each, and later in the evening the adults may work out on the universal gym or try shooting a few baskets with the basketball.

Bowling also is available and those not wishing to participate in a sport come to cheer or visit.

The superintendent said the new gymnasium floor installed last summer in the high school gymnasium now is benefiting adults as well as students in the community.

Throughout the week, the Eden and Hazellon grade school gymnasiums are used for men's basketball and the fourth, fifth and sixth grade basketball teams, as well as many other school activities.

Adults wishing to participate in the Wednesday night recreation program are still welcome, Dr. Utterback said. There are only three rules, he said; no children, participants must wear tennis shoes on the gym floor and one volleyball team takes turns cleaning up at the conclusion of the evening.

Many adults feel the recreation program is a good way to get acquainted with others in the community, the superintendent said. Another popular aspect is that the recreation helps the participants to lose weight.

Officers revamp system

TWIN FALLS — Law enforcement officials from Magic Valley met today in Twin Falls to revamp the area's road block system.

Capt. Kenneth Johnston of the Twin Falls Police Department, said the roadblock procedure for Magic Valley have not been changed for many years and the present system is not entirely effective because of new roads and highways which now cross the valley. This includes Interstate 80N, the main artery through Magic Valley.

Johnston said he and other members of the workshop committee were appointed during a recent meeting of the Magic Valley Peace Officers Association. Chairman is Deputy Bill Bunn of the Gooding County sheriff's office, Lt. Calvin Bernard of the Idaho State Police and Chief C.H. Funtney of the Jerome Police Department also are members.

Johnston said with an updated system is drafted, officers and heads of departments from throughout the valley will be advised of new procedures.

Kimberly will plan walkathon

FAIRFIELD, N.J. (UPI)—The white wooden steeple on the brownstone Fairfield Reformed Church is there today because Aaron Vanderhoof didn't get the pew he wanted in 1800.

Vanderhoof offered to pay for a steeple when parishioners voted to replace the log church with a bigger one, on condition he receive first choice of the pews.

But after the church was built, the first pew had already been allotted. Angered, Vanderhoof contended a deal was a deal and refused to erect a steeple, leaving instead the note: "Beautiful Fairfield, proud people! Elegant church, no steeple." The white steeple was added later and remains atop the church.

KIMBERLY — A general meeting is set for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Kimberly United Methodist Church to organize a walkathon for Project Concern, said Mrs. James Cutler, Kimberly, chairman.

This is to acquaint area residents with the purpose of Project Concern, a national plan to involve schools, organizations and communities in a fund raising effort for underprivileged people in neglected areas.

The project is not government subsidized, but is financed entirely by private donations under the leadership of Dr. James Turbin, San Diego, Calif., she said.

The walkathon is termed "A Walk for Mankind," Mrs. Cutler said.

Audition slated on Feb. 13

SPOKANE, Wash. — The Metropolitan Opera District Auditions will be held at Whitworth College, Spokane, Wash., on Feb. 13, announced Mrs. Walter V. McElhoney, 10305 Wollen Lane, Spokane, director of the Eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana District.

Serving with her as area directors are Dr. Richard D. Skyrms, College of Idaho, Caldwell, and John L. Lester, Montana State University, Missoula.

The purpose of the Metropolitan Opera Auditions is to help discover new operatic talent and to make it possible for young singers in all parts of the country to be heard and aided in their careers. The program is under the direction of Carroll Harper of New York City, national chairman.

Winners of the district auditions will go to Seattle on Feb. 28 to compete in the regional contest. First place winner in regional finals in addition to the New York trip, will receive the F. K. Weyerhaeuser First Prize award of $300. Second place and third place winners will receive the Anne dePont Memorial Awards of $200 and $100 respectively.

Hansen ends Oakley's win streak after 36 straight

OAKLEY — The inspired Hansen Huskies, getting great scoring balance from four starters, snapped the Oakley Hornets' 36-game winning streak with a 74-72 decision Tuesday night.

Mauled, measured Texas grid stars wait for pro draft

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor
Football playoffs become an integral part of the Magic Valley scene this year and right now the biggest smiles are on the faces of the A-3 and A-4 basketball coaches.

Both classifications will have a "second chance" type situation to get into the state basketball tournaments this year. The A-3 group, handicapped cavalierly over the past few years, will second its second-place team against the champion of the fifth district at American Falls immediately after the conclusion of the district event in Shoshone.

Also, the sixth district A-4, which will have seven teams this year, will be allowed to send its runner-up against the eighth district champions with a state meet berth at stake.

The sixth district A-4 needs a little help, it appears from here. It is composed of Hart River, Murtaugh, Oakley, Hansen and Castleford and Hagerman goes that way for the first time. In addition, Rockland's petition to move into the seventh district was vetoed by the state, leaving that area with seven schools and, for this year, perhaps the strongest balance power. This strength compares to the other playoff district which has only three schools.

The state has okayed that extra 11th game for playoff purposes. Ed Peterson, Jerome coach and president of the Fourth District Coaches Association, reports "the thing went through the state superintendent's meeting with so little trouble we may have made a mistake in not going for the whole ball of wax." "i.e., setting up a state-wide championship playoff system."

However, it will help in the late season as conferences will be allowed to have the playoff game without giving up one of their allotted 10 regular season dates. It may be a year later, however, to debut with a great one. Had that been allowed last fall, Highland and Borah would have played in the midstate to settle the east-west Southern Idaho Conference thing. They didn't play during the regular season. It was a natural and one that may not happen again for a while.

One can't see the end of the 12-year dynasty without giving it mention. Minico's wrestling loss to Jerome Tuesday night was the first in-district defeat for the Spartans in 12 years and 104 dual matches.

Winning Coach Roger Michener told Minico Coach Red Halverson afterward "going 12 years without a loss has got to be a much better performance than being the one who managed to stop it," but he had to add "if it had to stop, I'm just glad it could be us."

"It is probably something the state will never see again," Michener said later. "It will have to stand as one of the greatest achievements in Idaho athletics."

Coach Halverson was unhappy, of course, to see the thing ended, but he took it with a smile. "I knew it would have to happen sooner or later. We knew going into this season that we weren't as strong as we had been, Jerome, Twin Falls and Burley figured to be strong this year. But I can't be disappointed in these boys. They've fought hard."

The victory, which came on late clutch free throw shooting by Lynn Pearson and Crockett, threw the Magic Valley Conference race into a tie between the two clubs.

Oakley, which hadn't lost since the second game of last season and won the state A-4 tournament along the way, got 34 points from lanky Randy Hardy but that wasn't enough to offset the balance of the Huskies. Walt Freestone got 15, since the second game of last season and won the state A-4 tournament along the way, got 34 points from lanky Randy Hardy but that wasn't enough to offset the balance of the Huskies. Walt Freestone got 15, Pearson, Cliff Barnard 20 and Crockett, tying a career best, added 18.

"It was just a great team effort," said Coach Gordon Hogan, admitting "I'll bet I sweat as much as any kid on the floor." And he added "It's a funny thing, but my boys felt they could beat Oakley after we lost that first game to them."

Oakley Coach Neal Wyatt was in the position of not knowing whether to laugh or cry. "I'm glad it's over because the pressure was getting greater all the time," he said. "But at the same time, I hated to see it end because the boys wanted to keep it going. I'd a lot rather lose one now than in the tournament," he ended.

Never more than five points separated the two teams. Oakley, which led by narrow counts at each quarter rest, last held a five-point edge at 58-53 early in the fourth quarter but Hansen turned loose what proved to be the decisive flurry right after that, mounting a 63-63 lead.

Oakley cut back to within three and one point but Crockett hit three times off the baseline to prevent the Hornets from getting the lead. Hardy paced the closing Hornet rally, getting 16 of his 34 points during the final period. Hansen added lead it when Pearson hit a pair of free throws for a 72-68 lead.

After Oakley cut back to within two again, Crockett, with six seconds remaining, drilled two more charity tosses. Oakley got the final bucket at the buzzer but by then Hansen was already celebrating.

Oakley won the preliminary 58-48.

Utah rallies past Condors
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — George Stone came off the bench to spark a second quarter scoring rally that brought the Utah Stars from behind and Zalmu Beatty contributed 32 points to lead them to a 145-127 victory over the Pittsburgh Condors Tuesday night in an American Basketball Association game.

The Stars were trailing 61-43 with 5:50 to go in the first half when they needed off 14 straight points, seven of them by Stone, to go ahead 55-51. Stone finished with 24 points.

Utah staged another 8-point spur before ending the half with a 69-50 lead. They never trailed again and held their biggest margin, 140-110, at 2:16 in the final quarter.

Beatty was the game's high scorer and led in rebounds with 15.

Greer shoots 76ers to win
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Hal Greer poured in 35 points Tuesday night as the Philadelphia 76ers outlasted the Atlanta Hawks 129-122 in a National Basketball Association game.

Philadelphia rallied to whip out an 11-point deficit in the third quarter after Jim Washington scored 17 of his 28 points in that period. The 76ers led 83-90 entering the last quarter and were never headed — after opening up an 8-point lead at 105-77.

Atlanta kept pecking away at the Philadelphia lead, and was behind by only 123-120 with 52 seconds left. Greer then converted two free throws and Bill Cunningham added a field goal to clinch Philadelphia's third straight victory.

Peach Bowl slates move
ATLANTA (UPI) — After a three-year stay at Georgia Tech's Grant Field, the Peach Bowl has announced it will play its next three games at Atlanta Stadium.

The Braves will reportedly get a 5 per cent cut of the bowl's revenues. But this is reported less than the usual amount for similar arrangements in deference to the Peach Bowl's charitable na-

Super Bowl star Howley says Dallas made correct choice

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts turned an interception of a third down pass in the final minute into the field goal that won the Super Bowl.

But if the Dallas Cowboys had to do it all over again, Chuck Howley would still approve of passing on third down from the Cowboy 27 with the score tied 13-13 in the final minute of regulation time.

"I still think I would have gone for the victory," Howley said Tuesday after the luncheon at which he received an automobile from Sport Magazine — for being "the most valuable player of the game despite the Cowboys' 16-13 loss."

"I don't see any point in playing conservatively and going for the overtime," he said. "We had the ball and you might as well try doing something with it."

Craig Morton's pass boomed off the fingertips of Dan Reeves into the hands of Baltimore's Mike Curtis and that set up Jim O'Brien's field goal with five seconds remaining that won the game.

But like most cowboy rooters, Howley is still trying to figure out why Morton was passing so poorly this season. "He's had some injuries but it could be a mental problem. He's trying so hard not to make a mistake that he can't relax." Howley said Morton was throwing "very well" the week before the Super Bowl even though he wasn't on target in the game.

Howley thinks Morton still can be a good quarterback. He cited Morton's work in past years as a backup for Don Meredith and in the first six games of the 1969 season before he hurt his shoulder.

Howley said it helped to a "certain extent" to have coach Tom Landry calling the plays for Morton in the second half of this year. But he added, "I'm sure that Craig will disagree with that because the quarterback likes to control the game himself."

The linebacker said he didn't expect Meredith to come out of retirement. "Haven't talked to Don but I've talked to some people who are close to him and they don't expect Don to come back," he said.

He also said he wasn't sure what the Cowboys' quarterback plans are for next season. There has been speculation the club might switch from Morton to his backup, Roger Staubach, next season or even look for a quarterback in the draft this week.

Howley also said he was "surprised" when he was named the winner of the MVP award. It was the first time a member of the losing team has received the auto since Sport magazine started awarding it after the NFL championship game in 1958. The award was switched to the Super Bowl five years ago. Howley was the third defensive player to win.

Howley made two interceptions and helped cause a Johnny Unitas fumble while playing a brilliant game on defense. He also held up Tom Mitchell at the line of scrimmage on the play at the Dallas one at the end of the first half when Earl Morrall's fourth down pass sailed over Mitchell's head.

Marquette hikes skein
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The Marquette Warriors took a 6-3 lead early in the game and went on to swamp Northern Michigan 106-57 Tuesday night.

For the third-ranked Warriors it was their 15th win in a row this season and 28th in a row over two years, the longest winning streak in the country. The Warriors streaked to a 60-27 halftime lead with Dean Meminger leading the way with 16 points.

Coach Al McGuire played mostly reserves in the second half. Meminger wound up the night with 20 points and Jim Chones had 18 for the Warriors.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Notre Dame picked up its 10th straight win Tuesday night, beating Michigan State 104-80, the first Irish win over the Spartans in six seasons.

Austin Carr led all scorers with 36 points and Collis Jones added 29 to pace the Irish. Jones dropped in enough to carry him past the 1,000-point mark in his career and Carr climbed to within 12 of a 2,000-point career total.

Rudy Benjamin put in 31 to lead the Spartans, who had a five-game winning streak going

Kentucky drops Texas

DALLAS (UPI) — Kentucky, led by guard Darel Carrier, fought back from a 15-point fourth-quarter deficit Tuesday night to overtake Texas 125-122 in an American Basketball Association game.

The Colonels took the lead with just seven seconds showing on the clock when Cincy Powell hit a short jump shot. But it was Carrier who caught fire in the last quarter, scoring 12 of his team's final 28 points.

Rookie sensation Dan Issel was the big man for Kentucky overall, leading all scorers with 39 points and all rebounders with 13 grabs.

Texas looked like a sure winner after a 40-point outburst in the third quarter. The Chaps led 105-83 going into the final period, stretched the lead to 114-99 and then collapsed.

Bullets take third in row
BALTIMORE (UPI) — Earl Monroe and Jack Marin combined for 47 points Tuesday night and Gus Johnson hauled down 22 rebounds as the Baltimore Bullets pulled away from the San Francisco Warriors midway in the fourth quarter to their third straight victory, 103-86.

Monroe scored 28 points and Marin, who has 21, put Baltimore ahead for good with 8:50 left in the game with a three-point play that made the score 83-80. Monroe hit four straight free throws to help build the Bullets' lead to 89-82.

San Francisco cut the lead 99-96 with 1:20 left but Kevin Longhery then netted two successive jump shots to produce the winning margin and Johnson took a pair of key rebounds away from the Warriors' Nate Thurmond.

Thurmond got 23 points for San Francisco, which dropped its third straight game.

Misplay May Go Unpunished

South smiled happily and cashed two diamonds and four clubs to his contract with an overtrick.

North and South were happy, but they would not have been if East had led that spade queen. South could and should have guarded against that contingency by letting West's queen and king hold the first and second diamond trick.

What about East's play of the third heart? West didn't like it at all but we feel it was his fault. West should have led the eight of hearts, not the three when he was with the king of diamonds. East would see that only one higher heart would be left and would assume that West was trying to tell him to lead some other suit, if and when he should get on lead.

A bad bridge player should be able to win plenty of friends. Every time he misplay a hand he delights two opponents and only angers one partner. But somehow the opponents forget their pleasure the first time our hero goes wrong when he's their partner and the partner never forgets.

Of course—all bad play doesn't get punished. South covered East's queen of hearts with the king, led a diamond to dummy's ace and returned a diamond. West was in with the king and played the three of hearts which was won in dummy.

The last diamond was led from dummy and East was on lead with the jack. He considered leading the queen of spades, but eventually decided to keep on with partner's suit. West had shown five hearts; he might well have led from the ace twice.

PASS IT ON

TAKE TWO PEOPLE who are talking with one another. You can't hear what they say, but you can see them. One's the boss, so to speak, the other's not quite so strong. But which is which? The boss is the one who repeatedly looks away from the other's face during the conversation. The weaker of the two tends to gaze directly at the other. Or so contends a scholar who claims expertise in this highly specialized field of study.

WOMEN DRIVERS in general tend to have fewer accidents than do men. That has been reported repeatedly. However, one nationwide study of women taxicab drivers recently turned up the peculiar fact that they get into three times as many traffic smashups as do the men cabdrivers. Why is a mystery.

OPEN QUESTION - Why do we call a widow's peak by that name?

WHY THE OLD Roman Empire fell, that's still open to argument. One man of history says it was because the well-heeled citizenry ate food cooked in lead pots while the working folk ate food cooked in crockery. He theorizes the upper class lead-poisoned itself out of business. And he cites the foregoing to prove an entire civilization, including mine and mine, can pull up lame on phony foods.

HERE'S another technique whereby it's said you can get rid of the moles in your garden. Sink empty beer bottles halfway into the ground. The wind makes the bottles vibrate, even whistle sometimes. And this symphony supposedly irritates the moles beyond endurance, so they depart. Am aware a garden full of beer bottles is not much improvement over a garden full of moles, but no plan of man is perfect.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "In British weight, how much is a stone?" A. Just 14 pounds. Any girl who weighs 168 pounds might keep that in mind. Doesn't "twelve stone" sound better? ... Q. "In diving gear, where'd the word 'scuba' come from?" A. Self-Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus.

IF YOU HAVEN'T been following the horse races lately, maybe you don't know that numerous trainers now exercise their ponies in swimming pools. To develop the muscle and the wind without that pounding on the hooves and legs. Most particularly, this is the practice in Florida.

AS FOR THOSE nominees to The Proper Job Club, don't forget Mr. Combs, a barber in Casper, Wyo., Mr. Faucett, the city water commissioner in Buhi, Ida., and Miss Bills, a medical bookkeeper in Santa Ana, Calif.

RAPID REPLY - Yes, sir, if you and your wife make a total of $20,000 a year, your combined work is worth about 17 cents a minute.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 99068, Seattle, Wash. 98199.
