County cuts 1971 budget

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — County Commissioners lopped $37,882 from their tentative 1971 budget proposal in a late Friday afternoon meeting and adopted a final figure of $4,048,822.
The final figure compares with $4,096,041 for 1971 or a difference of $457,219 between the 1970 and 1971 expenditures.
Largest cut was the $25,000 reduction in the proposed solid waste budget of $101,000. This is a new budget item this year, required by revised state sanitation laws. Budget officer Harold Lancaster said it was decided to budget a large enough amount to cover any reasonable amount of work in connection with land filling at county dumps.
Smaller slices removed Friday included $1,000 from the district court budget of $58,000 in the special services division and $5,000 from the janitor's budget.
Commissioners had hoped to have several thousand dollars for cleaning the outside of the old courthouse. This was eliminated, but only $5,000 was cut because of the critical fall improvement needs on which a final estimate has not been received.
Another $1,000 was cut from weed eradication and about the same amount from the public health budget.
From the hospital budget, of which $150,000 will be collected from tax revenue, commissioners cut $5,000.
W.L. Chancey, commission chairman, said it has been a busy past week and some of the cuts made in the budget are token reductions only but taxpayers are concerned about increasing property tax costs and commissioners felt every dollar that can be trimmed should be in keeping faith with taxpayers.

TRAGEDY is etched in the faces of relatives of Robert Haken, apparent victim of inhaling the fumes of a solvent. His wife, 15-year-old Cassia Seebold Haken, at left, said they were married just five months "and seven days" before his death. His stepfather, George Sanderson, at right, was "stunned." S. Viets advance in Laos

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops supported by hundreds of American planes and helicopter gunships battled deeper into Laos Saturday, capturing vast quantities of supplies on the Ho Chi Minh Trail including trucks, guns—and 2,000 chickens and ducks.
Fighting intensified and the South Vietnamese said they had killed 179 Communists in the past 24 hours, bringing the six day Communist toll to 361 at a loss of 42 dead and 142 wounded. As the fighting increased there were new international diplomatic efforts to end the invasion.
Canadian External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp called last Monday for reconvening of the International Control Commission (ICC) for Laos to end the fighting. He was joined Friday by Poland and by India on Saturday.
The ICC was formed by the 1962 Geneva Convention on Laos to halt a civil war raging at the time and India was named chairman and Canada and Poland members. Poland's Foreign Minister Stefan Jedychowski added to his call for ICC action a warning that U.S.-Polish relations were deteriorating.
Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai met in Peking Saturday with a North Vietnamese delegation led by Vice Premier Le Thanh Nghi in search of more military and economic aid. In the background was Peking's warning that it considered the invasion of Laos a "grave menace to China."
However diplomatic analysts in Hong Kong said there were no positive indications *Red China is preparing to intervene militarily. The United States took a similar viewpoint despite the serious tone of three consecutive Chinese warnings.

Cassia still eyes clothes

BURLEY — The recent Idaho Supreme Court decision declaring that students may not be disciplined for defying school dress codes brought a fast response in a Burley school, according to Harold Blauer, superintendent of schools in Cassia School District No. 152.
"One girl was sent home last week for being indecently dressed," he said. "She told the principal that she could dress any way she wanted to — the Supreme Court said so."
He said she was wearing a skimpy blouse.
The girl was sent home to change her clothes. "The principal said she could sue the school district if she wanted to, but she wasn't going to dress that way in his school," he said.
Cassia County educators generally reflect the same attitude — students will continue to dress "in a civilized manner" or face the consequences.
Blauer said his district's dress code will continue in effect. It declares that the student's "dress and behavior" must not conflict with school standards.
"We have adopted a policy which has worked well for some time," Blauer said. "We tell our students that if they want to represent their school in any way — in sports, debate, music or any field of activity, they will be groomed and dressed in accordance with school policy."
"If they do not want to represent their school in any way — if they want to agree to go right home after school and not take part in any school activity, they may let their hair grow long. This has worked quite well; most students understand and agree," Blauer said.
Earl H. Carlson, principal of West Minico Junior High School between Burley and Paul, said his policy has been clear-cut:
"We have no long-hairs in my school. Period."
He said his policy will continue until he is specifically instructed to alter it.
"We don't have much trouble with students here; they're younger than the high-school set, and they're not as interested in long hair and short skirts," Carlson said.

Reflect loss Fumes kill Youth dies after sniffing solvent

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — A 15-year-old Twin Falls youth, Robert Haken, died Friday night from "cardiac arrest" resulting from inhaling the fumes of "a solvent" according to Twin Falls County Coroner Cloyce Edwards.
The death was believed the first of its nature on record in Twin Falls.
The youth, son of Mrs. George Haken Sanderson, 447 Fall St., had apparently been inhaling fumes from a plastic bag containing rubber cement, according to the coroner.
He said police found two plastic bags with the cement at the scene of the death.
A 16-year-old youth, who had also apparently been inhaling the fumes, was taken into custody and faces juvenile charges, Detective Capt. Tim Qualls said. The youth was later released to the custody of his parents, pending a court hearing.
Edwards said an autopsy was performed by pathologist Dr. Robert Maler, and the autopsy results confirmed the initial diagnosis.
Edwards said fumes from the solvent contained in the rubber cement were the harmful agent. An ambulance was called after police were notified by a telephone operator.
The youth was found stricken in the alley behind his home at 447 Fall Street. The home is located a block west of truck lane just south of West Five Points.
Edwards said the victim and his companion were outside a shed on the victim's father's property when the Haken youth collapsed. He was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, where he was dead on arrival.
The victim's companion apparently had not inhaled the fumes so heavily, as he was coherent and was not hallucinating when police arrived, Edwards said.
Police declined to say if the 16-year-old youth admitted attempting to inhale the fumes, or whether any further investigation is planned. There is no law against selling or buying the cement, but there is a county ordinance against inhaling it for intoxicating effects, according to Police Chief Frank Barnett.

Agnew bonks 2 more

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Vice President Spiro Agnew hit two persons with errant shots Saturday at the Bob Hope Desert Golf Tournament. No one was hurt seriously, although a woman he struck was taken to a hospital.
On his first tee shot on No. 1, a par-five 495-yard hole for amateurs, Agnew lingered a long time over his ball before finally striking at it. When he did swing, the ball veered sharply to the right and went only 20 yards. It sailed into the gallery and struck a man on the forearm.
The man was not hurt and the Vice President tried again. In golf parlance he was given a "Mulligan," which is a second chance.
TWIN FALLS — "Please — say he died of a heart attack. He had a bad heart; he had spells with his heart. Please say it was a heart attack."
These words from the stricken mother of Robert Haken, Mrs. Ruth Haken Sanderson, only served to deepen the tragedy. Young Mr. Haken did indeed suffer a "cardiac arrest," as pathologist Dr. Robert Maler described it, but he said inhalation of solvent fumes undoubtedly brought on the "arrest."
The youth's father died four years ago of a heart attack.
Robert Haken and Cassia Seebold were married only five months ago, on Oct. 5, 1970, in Caldwell. They were living with his parents in a modest but tidy, comfortable home at 447 Fall Street in Twin Falls. He had not been in school, but was looking for a job.
He was scheduled to start on a job on Monday, his wife said.

Solvent smothers victim

TWIN FALLS — "It's a lot like being smothered with a pillow. You just don't get any air."
That description of death by "glue-sniffing" comes from Twin Falls County Coroner Cloyce Edwards.
Fumes from a solvent such as is found in rubber cement interfere with the flow of oxygen to the lungs and heart, Edwards said. In effect, the fumes take the place of the air usually breathed, and being much more volatile, fill the air space rapidly.
Dr. Robert H. Maler, pathologist at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, said "it's usually an accident when this happens," referring to the fatal effect of solvent fumes. "Most people usually either quit, or move on to something else."
Dr. Maler said a person would have to be unusually susceptible to solvent fumes in order for death to result. "A weak heart, for example, would make it more likely."

Reds launch 5-year plan

MOSCOW (UPI)—Communist sources said Saturday a proposed new five-year plan for the Soviet economy would call for increased production of consumer goods, and stress the need for better quality.
The sources said the plan, to be published Sunday, would be aimed at satisfying growing demands by a more affluent Soviet public.
The plan will be presented for final approval to the 24th congress of the Soviet Communist party which convenes March 29. The congress meets every four years to approve Soviet policy for that period.

Stricken Lon Nol in U.S.

HONOLULU (UPI)—Cambodian Prime Minister Lon Nol, recovering from a stroke that left him partly paralyzed, arrived here Saturday for specialized treatment at a U.S. military hospital.
The ailing ruler landed at Hickam Air Force Base outside Honolulu at 2:52 p.m. after a 12 hour flight from Phnom Penh in an American C141 jet transport. He was taken by military ambulance to Tripler General Hospital a few miles away.
At Tripler, Lon Nol was with his right arm to military police guarding the main entrance as he was taken into the hospital.
Security was tight at Hickam, where his plane taxied to a secluded part of the base, and at Tripler as it was in Cambodia for his departure.
Cambodian government sources said the 58-year-old prime minister needed one or two months of recuperation before he could return home and resume his duties.

Suspect wins bid for examination

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Helen Wilcox, 64, Twin Falls, accused of the first degree murder of her mother, has been ordered to undergo psychiatric evaluation and treatment at Salt Lake Hospital.
Twin Falls Magistrate Dan Meehl granted a motion by defense attorney James May to postpone a preliminary hearing to allow Mrs. Wilcox to receive the evaluation.
Mrs. Wilcox is charged in the strangulation death of Mrs. Anna Laura Wilcox, 86, on Jan. 2.
The suspect was transferred Friday to the LDS Hospital in Salt Lake from the Twin Falls County Jail.
Judge Meehl overruled objections of Twin Falls County Prosecutor Leon Smith to grant the hearing postponement and evaluation.
Judge Meehl agreed that Mrs. Wilcox be removed to Salt Lake City on the stipulation that she remain there no longer than six weeks.
May said the evaluation may take only one week.

Idaho Jacks head for Italy

By MIKE ROBERTSON
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — How much is a live Idaho Jackrabbit worth? To most farmers, the wiley old bunny isn't worth the buckshot it takes to keep him out of the crops.
But for Italian importers and exporters, Nereo and Gullio Battistuzzi, the going price is $1.50 each or $180 per hundred rabbits.
Why would anybody want a live jackrabbit, much less pay hard cash for it?
Many Italians, like Americans, are hunters, but have no native rabbits to shoot. This is where the Battistuzzi's enter the picture. They are the rabbit suppliers and dealers for different hunting preserves all over Italy.
These preserves are in northern Italy where the country and terrain is much the same as that of Idaho and other states with desert-type areas. There are very few people living in these regions and the rabbit can prosper.
The Battistuzzi have exported rabbits for several years trying to keep up with the demand of Italian hunters. They have taken many from Kansas and nearly 25,000 a year have been taken from Argentina.
Now the two Italians want to collect 10,000 jackrabbits by the end of this March. Next year they plan to come back for a total of 35,000 rabbits between December and March.
The rabbit hunting season in Italy runs from September until December. After the season is over, the two men will return for the next year's supply of rabbits.
The U.S. and Italian governments give the men all possible help in the exportation and importation transactions.
As the rabbits are collected from around Twin Falls, they will be shipped in special cases built by the Longview Fiber Company to the Battistuzzi's specifications. They will be shipped from Twin Falls to New York. From New York they will be flown to Italy.
Anybody interested in capturing rabbits for money can contact them at the Imperial 400 Motel. The two Italians will show a prospective rabbit trapper many ways to catch rabbits without harming them.
Nereo Battistuzzi lives in Italy now while his uncle Gullio Battistuzzi has lived in California for several years. He has been making wine there for about 20 years.
He said that while in Twin Falls he has noticed that Twin Falls is an excellent place to grow grapes to make fine dry wines.
He said he may have plans to start growing grapes and build a winery here.
In the future, maybe Twin Falls will be known as a major exporter of Jackrabbits and a home of fine wines.

Pictures of moon shown

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The first batch of the Apollo 14 astronauts' moon pictures released today showed a large jagged boulder and gently rolling terrain covered with a gray, powdery blanket of dust reminiscent of fresh snow on earth.

One unusual color photograph was taken as Apollo 14's moonship blasted off from Fra Mauro Valley one week ago today. Its exhaust scattering bits of gold foil across the surface and blowing the American flag as if it were in a wind storm.

Alan B. Shepard, Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell, meanwhile, today re-lived for the future highlights of the nine-day expedition that scientists say appears to have returned long-sought pieces of the moon's primitive crust.

The pilots awoke from their first night in the comfortable isolation quarters here and planned to spend most of the day "taping recording" their experiences in narrative style for later study by engineers and scientists.

A total of nine color photographs and six black and white pictures were released today—from the hundreds of frames shot by Shepard and Mitchell on the moon. They left one magazine of color-movies on the lunar surface by mistake.

Rolls-Royce still accepting orders

LONDON (UPI)—Scores of British firms breathed easier today with the news Rolls-Royce, though bankrupt, will continue to order and receive raw materials and components they supply.

"In this way the immense value of the good will of the business will be maintained," Rolls-Royce official receiver Rupert Nicholas said in a Friday night statement.

At the same time, British European Airways (BEA) announced its supply of spare parts for the Rolls engines which power its 130 jetliners as "negligible."

"When we start running out of things we could have quite a good many problems," a Bea spokesman said. Britain's other state-run airline, British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC), "envisages no difficulties as yet," a spokesman said.

Meanwhile, Secor Browne, chairman of the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board, was due in London Sunday to discuss the Rolls-Royce RB211 jet engine program with British government and company officials.

JAMES CASH PENNEY, pointing in above photo to his first store, died Friday at the age of 95. He founded the J.C. Penney Co., and maintained an active part in the nation-wide department store chain until his death. (UPI) accident, he had been active as a member of the board of J. C. Penney Co. and spent five days a week in his office atop the Penney skyscraper here.

The last of the nation's merchant princes born in the 19th Century retired as president of his company in 1917 to become chairman of the board, a post he held until 1958.

Teddy Roosevelt was president of the Panama Canal was under construction, and the Wright brothers were building their first plane when Penney and two partners opened the Golden Rule Store in Kemmerer, Wyo., a crude mining community, in 1902. Penney invested $500 savings and $1,500 he had borrowed.

Penney and his bride, Berta, lived in an attic room above the store and managed it. Goods were sold at the lowest prices possible for quick turnover and transactions were strictly cash and carry. By 1907, Penney was able to buy out his partners and two other stores they owned.

By 1912, Penney had 34 Golden Rule stores in Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Colorado and Montana, all developed through a partnership plan which allowed a store manager to buy one-third interest in a new store if he had trained a man to manage it. In 1913 the chain was incorporated as the J. C. Penney Co. in Utah.

Penney, born on a farm near Hamilton, Mo., in 1875, was a natural for the American Schools and Colleges Association's Horatio Alger Award, which he won in 1953. He wrote or collaborated on five books, one of them entitled "Fifty Years With the Golden Rule." Until his last illness, he wrote a column for the Christian Herald magazine. His favorite charities were the 4-H clubs and the Young Men's Christian Association.

Penney is survived by his third wife, the former Caroline Autenrioth; their two daughters, Mrs. Mary Frances Wagley of Baltimore and Mrs. Carol Marie Guyer of New York; two sons by two previous marriages, Roswell K. Penney of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Kimball Penney of San Francisco, and 12 grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held at St. James Episcopal Church next Tuesday and burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Aide still jailed

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — Claude Fly, who loves fertile land and wheat and sunlight, Sunday marked his sixth month in captivity, confined to a tiny wire cell.

More than 8,000 troops and police have been searching the cobble streets and homes of this Uruguayan capital. But the American and two other terrorists hostages are well hidden.

The leftist Tupamaro guerrillas — who have killed another American with two bullets in the head — say it's nothing personal, of course. Fly is simply, as he himself puts it, a "pawn" in a deadly power struggle.

The agriculture expert from Fort Collins, Colo., went to work in his soils laboratory last Aug. 7 at 9 a.m., as usual. Less than an hour later, a group of hooded young men broke into the office and took him away.

"I have been held in a four by six-foot space, seeing no daylight, knowing no time of day or week, neither hearing nor reading current news—virtually suspended in time and space," he said in a letter delivered to UPI on Dec. 9.

President Jorge Pacheco Areco has refused adamantly, despite the murder of kidnapped American police adviser Dan Vitriano, of Richmond, Ind., last Aug. 10, to deal for Fly's freedom.

The Tupamaros—named for a long-dead Peruvian Inca chieftain and armed with sub machineguns and dynamite—also hold Brazilian Consul Aloysio Dias Gomide, 41, and British Ambassador Geoffrey Jackson, 55.

Broken Dam?

Now that Idaho's Supreme Court has ruled, by a vote of 3-2, that school authorities cannot tell male students how long they can grow their hair...

Nearly all the schools in the state have adopted some sort of code which governs the length of skirts, the wearing of slacks suits, the wearing of ragged jeans...

Does the ruling by the court on hair length mean the end of codes? It could be just that because if school officials cannot control the length of hair on a student, surely they cannot control the length of a skirt — within reason, of course. But then, what is reason?

Over the past few years these dress codes have resulted in a long series of arguments between parents, students and school officials. Now it is just quite possible this situation will change.

When daughter comes home and tells mother a teacher has ruled her skirt is too short, mother might just reply:

"Don't say anything to anyone because it might be held against you. We will sue 'em."

The TurboTrain and Metroliner fast train systems operated between Boston and New York and New York and Washington by the federal government have been given a two-year extension of government sponsorship by U. S. Transportation Sec. Volpe...

The GAO study, which was completed last Nov. 30, was not released to either the public or the Transportation Department prior to Volpe's Jan. 18 announcement that the TurboTrain project would be continued another two years at an additional cost of $3.8 million.

"Because of continuing technical problems with the trains' gear boxes, which materially affect the serviceability of the TurboTrains," the GAO study concludes, "it appears that any long-term extension of the demonstration without resolving these problems would contribute little toward providing the public with the degree of improved service which the agency anticipated would be provided by the TurboTrains.

"In addition, unless the TurboTrains can be used to provide further improved service, it is questionable whether an extension of the demonstration will provide the agency with any further beneficial data on public reaction to the service provided or on the operating characteristics of the TurboTrains."

In addition to putting the Transportation Department on the griddle, the GAO analysis points up one of the major problems experienced in the experiment: the train has been able to operate at only about half the speed originally intended. Unless a way can be found around numerous grade crossings and equipment malfunctions, the concept of speedy commuter trains traveling long corridors in the United States may remain little more than a dream.

The Case Of Henry Kissinger

WASHINGTON — The case of Henry Kissinger, which is being debated in high White House and Cabinet circles as well as at every cocktail rout in town, suggests that we the people may have forgotten how to conduct a law suit.

A number of administration stalwarts, including Secretary of State William Rogers and Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney, are unhappy about Kissinger's public approach to the kidnap-bomb plot charges against the Rev. Phillip Berrigan and five others, including two other Catholic priests and a nun. The six are accused of plotting to kidnap Kissinger, national security affairs assistant to the President, and to blow up the heating systems of Federal buildings here.

Kissinger, the Nixon administration's official swinger, was quoted by Time magazine as remarking that "three sex-starved nuns" wanted to seize him. The fallout in the corridors of power has been tremendous, with aides being chosen up all over town.

It is known that both Rogers and Romney, a straitlaced Mormon, have let Nixon know they regarded the Kissinger quip as unfortunate. Robert Finch, a Presidential aide and former secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, is said to be annoyed. So, goes the report, are Herb Klein, director of communications, and Ron Ziegler, White House press secretary.

There are even reports, savored by Kissinger's numerous governmental and political enemies, that Nixon will give Henry the sack. This would seem to be wishful thinking. The President has total respect for Kissinger's acknowledged high competence in a complex field. But the whole sordid business is unnecessarily unfortunate. Unnecessarily because it is not the sort of issue that should be occupying the thoughts of important people. Indochina and the economy are quite sufficient to drive these men up the nearest wall.

Indeed, the tragedy is that a case under the jurisdiction of the courts should be discussed at all by anyone in government. So far, Father Berrigan and the others are merely accused; their innocence has to be assumed right up to the moment the verdict is returned. Tasteless jokes about the case of government VIP's — and Kissinger is not the only culprit — seem to suggest a guilty verdict is inevitable.

None of the defendants is entitled to special treatment because he is of the religious community. A clergyman's cloth or a nun's habit does not confer immunity from the laws. But neither should they be subjected to special, vulgar harassment by persons in positions of power.

In this context, the other, or Berrigan, side also at times has taken leave of its senses. Various preachers and ultra-liberal spokesmen seem to feel that the conviction of the brothers Berrigan for burning and napalming draft records was an example of governmental persecution for acts of boyish fun. Although a grand jury found probable cause to try the group on the kidnap-bomb plot charges, Berrigan supporters tend to see this as a conspiracy — sometimes sinister, sometimes hilarious — to destroy freedom of speech. Read Father William Van Etten Casey, S.J., in the Alumni Quarterly of Holy Cross College: "I stand by the Berrigans. I am convinced of their innocence... Therefore, I brand (FBI Director) Hoover and (Atty. Gen.) Mitchell as cowardly, contemptible and malicious in their persecution of the Berrigans."

This is all pretty stuff. The issue is being confused by hysteria and the lack of good taste on both sides. The White House is getting bulging sacks of mail protesting both Kissinger's remark and the utterances of extremists in the Berrigan camp. Some people, not excluding certain political columnists, are letting their religious belief, and prejudices, show.

In such an atmosphere, the gloomy question is whether either Berrigan & Co. or the government can get a fair trial. The dangerous nonsense spewed up pro and con presumably is being gobbled up by people who one day will serve on the jury. Depending on the relative persuasiveness of street-corner arguments, the peril is great either that the Berrigans will be railroaded or the government will lose a true case — on the legally inadmissible evidence of public opinion.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Mongoloid

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How is it determined what has caused a child to be retarded?

Is there a difference between a "Mongoloid" child and one who is "retarded"? Can it be determined whether the genes of the parents caused a retarded child, or if it was caused by the mother being exposed to German measles? Are all retarded babies termed Mongoloid? — M.B.

Not all retarded children are Mongoloid by any means. Mongolism is just one form of retardation, and it is accompanied by physical characteristics that are easily recognized. In the case of a Mongoloid child, it is now possible to make quite sophisticated laboratory tests and show that the child has an extra (and defective chromosome) — has 47 instead of 46 (A chromosome is an assemblage of many genes).

This does not mean that there was anything wrong with the parents' genes and chromosomes, or at any rate anything yet identified. Many people have perfectly normal children, then a Mongoloid is born. There is somewhat greater chance of this happening when the mother is getting along toward the end of her child-bearing years. But exactly why it happens is not known.

For your original question, I can only say that many times it is entirely impossible to determine what caused retardation. Most of what is known about this has come from "working backward" — studying large numbers of retarded youngsters, searching for common characteristics, and hunting for factors in the history or heredity of children with similar forms of retardation.

Some cases have been pinned down to a certain metabolic fault, and when this is discovered in earliest infancy (as can now be done with a widely used test) the retardation may be prevented by proper diet.

In other cases, nothing can be done. The children are born that way, and that's that. And in some cases the child may be normal at birth, but disease or injury damages the brain later on and the youngster's thinking capabilities are diminished.

As to German measles, this causes a great many "birth defects," if the mother has not had the disease but is exposed to it in the early part of her pregnancy, especially the first three months. Some of these babies are retarded. Some are not, but have physical defects of heart, eyes, ears or other organs.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you suggest a remedy for dandruff? Apart from the dandruff, my head is always itching. — C.L.

For mild dandruff, the common dandruff shampoos quite often are satisfactory. But when they do not help, or when dandruff is severe, look for some more important cause. Remember that severe dandruff can result from scalp disease, of which seborrheic dermatitis is the commonest. Psoriasis of the scalp is another.

Especially with your itching, suspect some scalp disease. See a skin specialist and let him make the diagnosis and prescribe proper treatment.

MR. SPECTATOR

This Is The Day

In Chaucer's time, the names of young men and women were placed in a box and drawn out in pairs on St. Valentine's Eve. Those whose names were drawn together had to exchange presents and be each other's valentines for the ensuing year. The young women soon arranged it so that only the men gave presents.

Such was the origin of the lovers' festival now celebrated with gifts and messages in the shape of a heart, filled with ribbons and paper lace. There are many legends, but they are believed to have little historical value.

But who wants to be accurate or pedantic about love, which baffles even the psychiatrists? What do lovers care about the origin of the valentine? Research is out of place.

Part of love's charm is that it cannot be described as an exact science. About all that historians can reveal about love is to cite the fates of some famous lovers through the centuries, most of whom encountered far from smooth sailing in pursuit of their selfish, but beautiful, dreams.

Celebration of St. Valentine's Day has another virtue. It is a sure sign that spring is lurking in the budding thickets. St. Valentine is the supreme prophet of fair weather, of spring blossoms, soft winds, gentle blushes upon the maiden cheek and the manifest of suitors, bearing gifts.

WORDY LAW

Every now and then a frustrated taxpayer, struggling with his tax returns, gets the idea he would like to see the tax law to discover whether it is really all that complicated.

Forget it. A Treasury official gave some indication of how wordy the law is in testimony over legislation which would substitute the word "Secretary" for the phrase "the Treasury Secretary or his delegate" wherever it appears in federal law.

That one change, the official estimated, would shorten the Revenue Code by about 5,000 words.

APPROPRIATELY NAMED

Fashion designers and the tax man have clashed in Britain, and the ensuing frolic is becoming interesting. At issue is a 14 percent tax on clothing, which applies to adult clothes, but not to children's. The dividing line, the law says, is a 28-inch waist.

Along came Paris designers with a garment called hot pants, which are described as short shorts to be worn beneath a skirt. British women started buying children's shorts, and evading the tax.

Shorts manufacturers say they are caught in the middle, figuratively speaking, with some retailers charging the tax and others not. Women say the 28-inch dividing line should be adhered to; tax officials say it doesn't apply. The issue is becoming hotter than even Paris intended.

ANOTHER DOCKING PROBLEM

ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

The Frankenstein

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — On the peaceful, sun-washed San Diego campus of the University of California is evidence that there are worse things than a rock through the window or a building in flames.

The threat here, hidden behind the characteristically languid surface of today's American campus, is the fledgling Third College — a now, semi-autonomous institution designed to give Negro and Mexican-American students a special break. To worried professors at UC San Diego (few of whom dare speak out publicly), the Third College sums up the danger to quality higher education: growing student involvement in academic decisions; lowered standards for students and faculty, radically and downward revised curricula.

The Third College is the direct product of the hyperagitated campus of recent years. To appease black militant agitation in 1968, then Chancellor William McGill (now president of Columbia University) agreed to establish the Third College — so-called because of two existing colleges at San Diego, one concentrating on liberal arts and the other on the sciences. Now, McGill's concession is eyed by critical professors as a Frankenstein monster that may devour this seven-year-old university.

Not surprisingly, political conservatives most abhor the Third College as an alleged training ground for revolution. For example, Third World, a university-subsidized student publication, demands the release of Angela Davis and exhorts students to "attend the revolutionary meeting of your choice." Two Third College student leaders, riding in a university car, were arrested at the recent Chicano riot in East Los Angeles and charged with slashing tires.

Moreover, this radicalism is creeping into classrooms. A course last term in Third World studies was a "compendium" in leftist propaganda, featuring writings of Ho Chi Minh, Kwame Nkrumah, and Che Guevara — ludicrously balanced by a Barry Goldwater book out of print and unavailable to students. Liberal professors describe the course as a travesty on education.

Such obvious politicization is a red flag to public and politicians, and consequently is being played down by Third College administrators. But more ominous in the long run is the insidious but less obvious lowering of academic standards.

PAUL HARVEY

Blunders

Now our best friends are trying to tell us.

The president of France, Georges Pompidou is trying to warn us that the Vietnamese war is spreading to all of Indochina. That the onetime one-front war may soon involve the United States on four fronts. And he, the French president, demands that we respect the neutrality and independence of those countries.

France speaks from experience. South Vietnamese troops are yet unable to fight their own war in their own country, yet here we are holding their hands and loading their guns and egging them on to march off into neighbor nations to try to fight their wars.

Sincer our incursion into Cambodia widened the war in that direction, Congress has lowered the boom: No more American troops or advisers in Cambodia or in Laos.

Yet our President and our Pentagon continue to support invasions by South Vietnamese troops into those neighbor nations. Maybe there's a more polite word for it than "subterfuge" but what else can you call it? When South Vietnamese forces are fighting elsewhere, American troops must fill in for them back in South Vietnam. So there is increased involvement of Americans, increased fighting involving Americans; probably there are more Americans killed, wounded and captured.

Unlike the Cambodian invasion which has so demonstrably boomeranged, the United States "supported" the

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Talks Souring

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The continuing four-power talks on easing conditions for West Berlin have soured badly. The newest talks at the ambassadorial level, 14th in a series that began last March, are taking place without the customary preparation provided by a prior meeting of middle echelon experts. The three Western powers — the United States, France and Britain — told Moscow they could see no point in the detailed preparatory effort.

The reasons are basically two. The West is gravely annoyed that three times since late November the East Germans have enforced traffic slowdowns up to 15 hours on the vital highway lifelines to Berlin from West Germany. The most recent disruption lasted five days.

We are also upset at what one spokesman here calls the "sterile, arid" character of recent four-power conversations. They are going nowhere, and the indications are this hollow routine may mark the talks for at least the next two or three months.

Furthermore, officials here say the Soviet Union has hardened rather than softened its demands relating to West Berlin. These demands are a proposal that West Berlin sever all political links with West Germany. The Soviet Union and West Germany go even further to insist that nothing "provocative" toward the Communist world be uttered in West Berlin — and they want to define what is provocative.

Western sources say the Reds' tolerance levels evidently are being lowered. The recent three Berlin access traffic disruptions were touched off by West German political activity in that city of a minor order that caused no trouble four years ago.

No one is quite sure whether Russia will in time soften its totally unacceptable position. Some diplomats feel the Kremlin is just testing Western resolves and will ultimately shift tone. A West German view is that this spring's Communist party congress in the Soviet Union is a watershed point, and legislative elections very soon, including West Berlin (which has status as a state) on March 14. These will not be clean-cut referendums on his "Ostpolitik," since he has homefront trouble on inflation, education, health and other issues. But, obviously, reverses would not do his eastern policy any good.

What Brandt began as a hopeful exploration bent toward lessened tensions has today trapped him in serious difficulties which the Reds may try to exploit.

A Double Burden Mercury Threat?

A recent article in the Times-News indicates area residents are threatened with the loss of a Catholic school there due to financial pressures.

Many Catholics, and others availing themselves of the high quality education offered by such schools, have carried a double tax burden since advocates of the "separation of church and state" policy have opposed any form of government aid to parochial schools.

In January 1970 four members of a House Select Subcommittee on Education, including Idaho's Orval Hansen, visited Israel to determine "what aspects of education in Israel might be applicable to U.S. needs." It's report, released in August 1970, indicates that Israel religious schools receive total government subsidy, much of which comes from U.S. citizens, directly and from our government agencies. So, we do for Israel what we will not do for our own!

Kibbutz and Moshavin settlements are described, where land "is nationally owned... based on collective property and communal work and living... summed up by the slogan "To each according to his need and from each according to his capacity." (Official Communist slogan is "From each according to his ability to each according to his need.") Here, we are told, children "appear to be largely free of the stress encountered by children raised in traditional homes." An ar-

Editor, Times-News: To the people of Magic Valley, we wish to make a correction in the article by Lori Ivie, in the February 2, 1971 TIMES NEWS headlined "Mercury Threat from Fish or Animals real, growing."

We appreciate the fact that the TIMES NEWS is trying to keep the public aware of environmental hazards such as pollution and physical health problems concerning Mercury poisoning, but we feel that we in the Trout Industry should clarify the amount of Mercury parts per million that the Federal Food and Drug Administration has established.

In Mr. Ivie's article, he states 0.05 ppm as the tolerance source. According to our information the tolerance level set by the FDA is 0.50.

We as a Company have also had tests conducted by an independent research laboratory in Wisconsin and from the reports we received from them indicate that we have no problem meeting this guide line.

We would like to commend Mr. Ivie on his explanation of the sources of Mercury contamination. We would like to add one more to the list. That being inorganic Mercury which is suggested as being a source and contributing through geological formations. This being the case fish have possibly always had a certain amount of Mercury in their diets.

We acknowledge the fact that a level should be adhered to, and applaud the FDA for controlling that level.

We have taken steps to keep ourselves informed of this situation. We hope the people of Magic Valley will support us in keeping Idaho waters, unpolluted and free of unnatural sources of Mercury. With 75 to 85 per cent of the Rainbow Trout processed in the United States coming from Magic Valley, the loss of clean Idaho water would result in a great economic loss to this area.

ART BUCHWALD Up the GNP

WASHINGTON — In order for President Nixon's new economic game plan to work, the United States must increase its gross national product by 9 per cent to $1,065 billion. That is to say, this country must produce that amount of goods and services in 1971 whether it needs to or not.

Now it isn't enough to just produce that amount of goods and services. Someone has to buy them.

Unless Mr. John Q. Consumer becomes a big spender, all Mr. Nixon's economic hopes for the country will go down the drain.

It is for this reason that the President has set up a Commission on Wild Spending to see that every American does his share to meet the $1,065 billion GNP goal.

The plan is to swear in several hundred thousand federal marshals to go around the country and persuade people to spend more money than they've ever spent before.

This is how it would work: "Mr. and Mrs. Moore, my name is Coleman and I'm from the UGNP!"

"Yes, it stands for 'up the gross national product.' Our U.S. Army civilian files on you indicate that you haven't bought a new car this year."

"No excuses. Do you realize because you've only taken one vacation the Boeing Aircraft Co. is going broke?"

"Please, Mr. Coleman, you're making us feel so bad. What can we do?"

"Go down to the savings bank tomorrow morning, withdraw everything and spend, spend, spend. Eat, drink and consume or tomorrow the GNP will die."

"All right, if you say so."

"Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Moore. President Nixon will be very relieved."

Forum Rules

Forum letters must be concerned with topics of general interest and must be of a reasonable length.

The editors of the Times-News reserve the right to refuse publication if, in their opinion, the subject matter is of a libelous nature or is in good taste or is repetitious and has previously been thoroughly covered in the forum.

All letters must bear the signature and address of the writer. The name of the writer will appear when published unless there is a personal request that it be withheld and the reason for such a request stated. This request will then be considered by the editors and it will either be granted or the letter will be returned to the writer.

About Rumors

I am writing in regard to The Embers Teen Center, 220 Shoshone Street East. Recently there have been rumors circulating about the area about the reputation of this establishment which should be corrected.

These rumors, which have been circulated by people who haven't taken the time or made the effort to even come into The Embers and talk to the management or to see for themselves if these rumors are true, perhaps could have a very damaging effect on the benefit of this establishment for the youth of our Magic Valley area.

The Embers was and is established as a place for the youth of the area to go to have a good time in a supervised environment completely free of alcoholic beverages and drugs. There are no, nor have there been any such things allowed on these premises and certainly no drugs or alcoholic drinks will ever be allowed on them. Nor is the sale or discussion concerning the sale of such items allowed on these premises. Also people obviously under the influence of such items are not allowed here either.

After discussion with concerned interested parents there has also been established certain rules in regards to smoking. This being that no one under 18 will be allowed to smoke while in this building. We are also distributing, free of charge, membership cards to our patrons which will be required for admission to The Embers. By so doing it is hoped to eliminate some of the problems encountered thus far.

The Embers is a place where all of our youth can be made to feel comfortable and welcome. Anyone who has any questions can feel free to drop in anytime and talk to us. We want the Embers to be a place where parents will know their son or daughter is under the right kind of influences.

Concerned Voice

Editor, Times-News, God almighty made the valley for a land of milk and honey, but a corporation's got it for to turn it into money.

These last lines from a poem written over 30 years ago seem to me to voice the concern of most of us here in Idaho at this time.

In every issue of every paper one sees an notice that so-and-so business will merge with this-and-that corporation. It is getting so the story reads something like this.

"Directors of so-and-so corporation announce the sale of their stock to this-and-that corporation which is an affiliate of Big-and-Better Inc. which is owned and directed by Our-Friendly-Insurance Company of Bo-Idaho."

Ford Motor Co. no longer makes just cars — they make TV's, own lettuce patches, run oil companies, charities, etc.

TV Networks don't run TV networks — they own baseball teams.

The U.S. government figures just released show that over 80 per cent of the profits made in the United States last year, by all businesses went into the hands of corporations owned or controlled by 286 people.

Dangerous? You decide. BOB JOHNSON Twin Falls

Urk-Erp

Editor, Times-News: Double urk and erp. Surely somebody is mistaken in the press account of Feb. 5 where in an interview with officers of the Cascade Commodities Corp. (formerly the Carter Packing Co.) a rendering plant for dead animals and waste products of butchering, the information was given that "The plant now collects offal or waste material from butchered animals and dead animals which are cooked until they are reduced to grease and meat scraps... The grease, sold as tallow for use in making soap, candles and OLEO MARGARINE."

If this is true the use of oleo has been dealt a low blow in our household. I'm no cartoon eater, no matter how it's cooked and visions of bloated bulls, hogs

FUNNY BUSINESS By Roger Bowen

Council to read annexation bill

TWIN FALLS — An annexation ordinance, proposing the expansion of the present southern boundaries of the city limits to include subdivisions, property and several commercial properties along State Highway 74 will be placed on first reading Tuesday by city council members.

The council will meet Tuesday of this week instead of Monday because of the Washington's Birthday holiday Monday.

Council members indicate the ordinance will be read during another two successive regular council meetings before action is taken to give residents plenty of opportunity to discuss or protest annexation.

Annexed areas would include a small group of properties east of Highland Park on Highland Avenue proposed for medium density residential zoning, and a similar zone for a small parcel of land on Iola Street south of Highland Avenue.

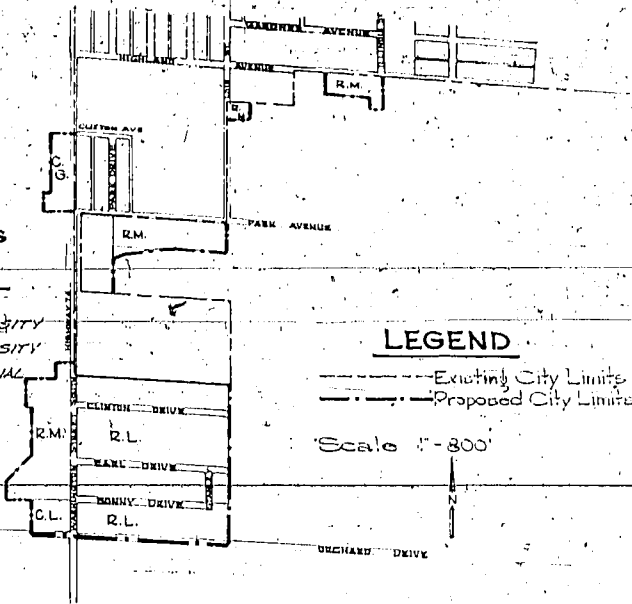

Present city limits are proposed to be moved south of Park Avenue to take in a slightly larger area running east of Park Drive. All other proposed annexation areas border on Washington Street South, or Highway 74.

A parcel on the west side of the highway between Park Avenue and Clinton Avenue is proposed for commercial general zoning to comply with existing use. Areas on the west side north of Orchard Drive, will be commercial local and residential medium density.

Sub-divisions on the east side of the highway will be annexed under the proposed ordinance in residential low density zoning to protect existing usage.

PROPOSED ANNEXATION

PROPOSED BOUNDARIES of Twin Falls south along State Highway 74 are shown on the above map by heavy broken lines. The area is proposed for annexation under an ordinance to be read for the first time Tuesday night by city council members when they meet in the city auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Clinton Earl subdivisions constitute a large part of the annexation area.

Good steelhead run due

By JIM HUMBIRD
 Idaho Fish-Game Department
 BOISE — This should be a good year for steelhead in Idaho waters.

More of these big sea-run rainbow trout entered the Snake and Clearwater and Salmon rivers last year than in 1969 as evidenced by counts from Lower Monumental Dam. Checking station reports showed fishermen in the White Bird-Higgins area were averaging about 17 hours per steelhead.

The same angling success at Lewiston was experienced during mid-October in both the Snake and Clearwater rivers and also on the main Salmon River below North Fork.

Though Idaho steelhead are early spring-time spawners, at least three-fourths of them enter the Snake River by the end of October. The count was nearly 52,000 fish at Lower Monumental Dam at the end of October last fall, compared with 50,800 in 1969. A fish year is July 1 - June 30. Past records show an average of about 10,000 steelhead cross Ice Harbor Dam near the mouth of the Snake River from Nov. 1 - June 30, the end of the fish year.

In a wild environment, steelhead eggs are deposited in reddis in late April or May, where they do not hatch and emerge from the gravel until sometime in mid-summer. They do not reach smolt-size and migrate downstream to the ocean for one or two years, depending on variable conditions in the habitat. In two or three years they return to the stream in which they were hatched. Several steelhead hatchery programs, as well as chinook salmon, have been operating in the state the past few years, and the release of large numbers of smolt-sized downstream migrants has resulted in more steelhead and salmon in the creek. The two most notably successful artificial propagation programs for anadromous fish in Idaho have been the Rapid River Hatchery and the introduction of salmon and steelhead into the Clearwater River drainage (eyed egg plants).

Dworshak National Hatchery on the North Fork of the Clearwater River started operations in 1969. It will release 3.5 million steelhead smolts annually as partial mitigation for losses incurred by construction of Dworshak Dam.

About 1,000,000 steelhead smolts raised at Niagara Springs Hatchery on the Snake River are hauled to the Pahlmerol River in special refrigerated tanker units and released to start their downstream migration to the ocean.

Although returns to the Pahlmerol were considerably below expectations during the spring of 1970, many were taken in the sport catch. Check station records indicate that slightly more than 20 percent of the steelhead catch in the Salmon-North Fork vicinities during the fall of 1969 and spring of 1970 were hatchery fish. About 400,000 chinook smolts also were reared in ponds on the Pahlmerol River and released into this stream in the spring of 1970. Why do steelhead migrate? Nobody knows for sure but there are as many theories as there are theories to explain the twice-a-year movements of numerous species of birds. But whatever the motivation, sea-going characteristics distinguish anadromous steelhead from resident rainbow trout. It is impossible to separate one group of fish from the other until they are six to eight inch fish and steelhead begin migrating.

One likely theory explaining why steelhead originally went down the rivers to the sea is that they were in search of better food supplies. Another is that they were originally in the ocean and came to fresh water for spawning purposes. The complete story still remains a mystery in spite of the many advances of the fisheries sciences.

Some fishermen have mastered the art of catching steelhead on large streamer flies in the fall of the year. They use shooting heads of 30 feet or more of sinking line backed by monofilament and a large capacity fly reel with star drag.

WITH NEW ELECTRIC RATES

The more you use the cheaper it gets

IT'S TIME TO GO TOTAL ELECTRIC

A single low, step-down rate for all residential electric use offers lower average kilowatt-hour cost to families who wish to add to their electric comfort and conveniences.

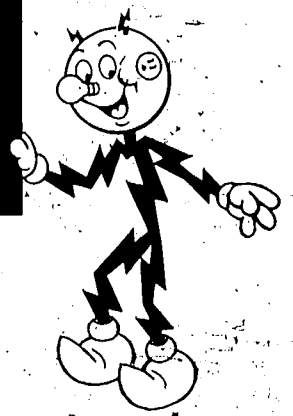

Electric heat users, for example, will note that the 1.21-cent step of the rate is 3.3 percent lower than their former 1.25-cent "All-Electric" rate.

All domestic electric customers using more than 400 KWH in a month are entitled to a "Best Bargain" block of 500 KWH at only 9 mills, the same price as your former "water heating" rate.

When you install electric heat, your heating costs are included on your electric bill right along with cooking, water heating and other electric uses. You have one less bill to pay, at the same time enjoying the advantage of the lowest steps of the new rate for heating and any other services you may wish to add. Copies of the new schedule are available at your local Idaho Power office.

THE RATE ADJUSTMENT: The maximum increase per customer is about a nickel a day. No domestic customer's rate increase will exceed $1.00 a month. The average increase for electric heat users, for example, will be 77 cents a month. The average adjustment for non-residential electric users is about 5% percent. This is only the third general rate increase requested by Idaho Power Company in its 64 years of service.

Homeland doors shut behind CSI student

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — When "Daja," as he is called by everybody at the College of Southern Idaho, left his native Czechoslovakia 18 months ago, the doors closed behind him for good.

Daja can never go home while the Communists rule his homeland. And that may be forever.

Daja (pronounced "Da-ya") is the pronounceable part of his "real" name — Drahomir Pospichal. He's here in the United States for good; the Communists of Czechoslovakia take a dim view of a vow to return in one month by someone who stretches it out to many years.

Daja, who is 21, left Czechoslovakia in April, 1969, on a one-month visa granted by the Czech government on his pledge to return. The visa required eight months of negotiation, but after the 1968 Prague invasion by Russian troops, and after the oppression visited on his people, the only thing Daja wanted was "out."

He came to America on April 24, 1969, arriving in South Dakota to live briefly with a distant relative — his grandfather's cousin. After working in South Dakota at a number of jobs, including farm work, welding and construction, he began to look longingly at a college education.

Hopefully, Daja said, a college career might lead to his real love — professional ice hockey. He was a pro player in Czechoslovakia for a number of years, and hopes to settle in Salt Lake City or Denver, where there are pro teams.

His jump from South Dakota to Twin Falls, and CSI, came as the result of another family tie — Dave Perkins, dean of students at CSI, is the grandson of his hostess in South Dakota. "That's a distant relationship, to be sure, but we're related, anyway," Daja says with a grin.

Daja hopes to finish his two years of classes at CSI, then move to a "hockey town" to find an American career.

The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service gave him permission to stay in the U.S. permanently, as a refugee from Communism. In effect, Daja said, he sought asylum as have many refugees, and was granted his plea.

Life in America is a strange thing to someone raised in Central Europe, and especially to one who has seen the steady encroachment of Communist terror. Daja said the amount of freedom enjoyed by all in the U.S. is almost unbelievable; "there is no freedom over there."

His parents' farm, about 82 miles south of Prague, was confiscated by the Communists as was all land and private property. Everybody works for the government, and is told how and when to work, Daja said. Agriculture is a lost cause; there is no profit allowed and the government takes all produce. But there is little chance for anyone to change jobs, under the iron grip of the regime.

Czechs are allowed to travel — "but only to Russia, and nobody wants to go there," he said. The government planned a tour of Russia for Czech citizens before Daja left, but had to cancel it — nobody showed up to take the tour.

Daja and several friends were on a vacation in Yugoslavia when the Russian army moved into Prague in August, 1968, ending a brief time of relative happiness for the oppressed Czech people.

DAJA POSPICHAL

"We were enjoying ourselves on the beach when someone said they heard the Russians had taken over Czechoslovakia. We couldn't believe them at first, but we found out they were right."

"We spent 16 hours a day listening to the radio to find out what was happening," Daja recalled.

Fearing they would not be allowed back home by the Russians, Daja and his friends went to Vienna, Austria, where they tried to find work. After a short time, he said, "we walked home to Prague." They had to leave all their belongings at the Austrian-Czech border, but were glad to do so.

They were given rides by passing motorists, and arrived home in a few hours. It was then that "Daja" began planning to leave.

"My family understood; they told me to go ahead. They wanted me to do whatever was best," he says.

Life has long been hard in Czechoslovakia; the average working-man's wage is "about 1,500 kroner or $40 per month." Even the "doctors and lawyers" make about the same, under a heavily socialized regime that provides free medical care and hospitalization for all working citizens.

"I would rather make more money and pay for my doctors," he reminisced.

Clothing and food are high; a pair of Levi's "costs about $7 which is the better part of a week's wages, especially after government taxes which average about 20 per cent are deducted."

One major attraction that drew Daja to Idaho was the famed skiing conditions. "I love to ski and play tennis," he said. He has been to the area ski resorts, including Magic Mountain, where he is taking lessons, and Sun Valley, several times.

So Daja Pospichal studies, skis and plans while the Communists rule his homeland with an ever-tightening grip. He can correspond, perhaps surprisingly,

WILD LIONESS is most threatening when protecting her young. In this case a lion from a different pride at Lion County Safari, the African wildlife reserve near West Palm Beach, Fla., strayed too close. Instantly the lioness bolted for the intruder — who got the message and fled. (UPI)

Anti-war protesters rampage

NEW YORK (UPI)—Student demonstrators protesting U.S. involvement in Laos suddenly went on a rampage Friday smashing windows and doors and attempting to seize a Columbia University building.

Police reported the demonstration had been orderly until about 100 of the demonstrators tried to seize a building on West 113th Street.

Police headquarters received an urgent call to "send the emergency service squad at once."

The radio patrol car reported the demonstrators smashed windows and doors and that another "large disorderly group" moved up Broadway to the main Columbia campus.

Patrol cars in the area, detectives and special plainclothes units rushed to the scene.

Before the police reinforcements arrived, young radicals raided the offices of the Southeast Asia Institute on the seventh floor of McVicker Hall, which houses Columbia's School of International Affairs.

They overturned desks, bookcases and filing cabinets and broke glass partitions.

Planner urges plant location where housing for all groups

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government's top metropolitan planner is urging industry to locate new plants in communities where there is an adequate housing supply for all income groups and all races.

If businessmen follow the advice of Samuel C. Jackson, assistant secretary of housing and urban development for metropolitan planning, it could open for the poor and black many suburban neighborhoods now the preserve of affluent whites.

"For years, American businessmen have chosen industrial sites carefully," Jackson said recently. "None would locate where there is no water supply; where they have to pay exorbitant taxes; where vandalism and crime threaten their property and employees; where declining property values will lower the value of their investment."

"By the same token, corporate executives are beginning to recognize the importance of balanced housing in communities where they locate."

Jackson, one of the highest ranking Negroes in the Nixon administration, argued housing discrimination is immoral and is dividing the nation into hostile camps.

But, he argued, businessmen have a strong economic incentive to locate their plants in open communities regardless of moral considerations.

"Large employers relocating in suburban areas are finding it ever more difficult to house their lower income employees, regardless of race: few factors are more crucial in the operation of any enterprise than adequate supply of labor," he said.

If all industry would insist on building plants in communities with an adequate supply of housing for all income groups, he said, more suburbs would have an economic incentive to integrate.

"It is encouraging to note that more and more communities are learning that housing for low and moderate income workers, far from lowering property values, attracts coveted industry," Jackson said.

"Thus, all citizens within these communities benefit from better jobs, better schools and increased community services."

Jackson's appeal is an effort to integrate suburbs without violating President Nixon's repeatedly-stated prohibition against "forced integration."

He reasons if suburban communities have an incentive to integrate, force will not be required.

"Certainly, I do not advocate a policy of dispersal which would require—or even encourage—inner-city residents to move to the suburbs," Jackson said.

Car builders report sales up, profit off

DETROIT (UPI) — Financial reports from the four major U.S. auto manufacturers show they're selling more but profiting less.

The latest figures from the companies illustrate the profit squeeze.

During 1969, for example, General Motors had record worldwide dollar sales of $23.4 billion, and its profits totaled $1.7 billion. Yet in 1968, the company had dollar sales totaling only $20.7 billion but reported an all-time record profit of $2.1 billion.

GM is the only big four company to report full-year financial results for 1970 when profits shrank to $609 million on sales of $18.8 billion. The lower dollar sales reflected repercussions of the 67-day strike by the United Auto Workers.

Actually, GM had made a profit of $821 million the first six months of 1970, but the strike starting Sept. 15, late in the third quarter, resulted in a $77 million loss for that period followed by a $135 million loss in the fourth quarter.

The strike settlement on Dec. 7 adds $2.4 billion to GM's cost of production in wages alone during the next three years. The company boosted prices an average of $23 per 1971 car, but GM Board Chairman James M. Roche said this increase covered only a part of the increases in wages and fringe benefits to workers, plus the anticipated increase in cost of materials.

Industry-wide, the cost of the wage UAW settlement was placed at around $5 billion. Increased fringe benefits added many more millions. Financial analysts estimate that the cost of an hour's work in the auto industry is now $7 per worker in wages and fringe benefits.

Other U.S. auto companies show the same general trend of lower profits on higher dollar sales even though none was struck during 1970.

The future of the American auto industry depends on a number of things. Wage costs will be predictable for the next three years but cost-of-living increases, part of the contract, are not. Neither are fringe intangibles such as health and medical insurance paid for by the company.

Since the auto companies signed with the UAW and announced new prices, the steel companies have boosted prices by $9 per ton. Steel faces contract bargaining with the United Steel Workers next July. Wage increases there could trigger another boost in steel prices, the basic material item in autos.

A third impendable is the impact of the minicar battle in the United States. To counter lost sales to imports, American companies have brought out sub-compacts.

Permits approved

TWIN FALLS — Building permits issued in January by the Twin Falls County Zoning office included permits for 1,000 homes in the amount of $16,000 in structural values and commercial permits in the amount of $11,000, Ed Woods, zoning administrator, announced today. He said one new subdivision south of Twin Falls, listed as the Brehm Subdivision, was also approved.

Every true crab has a tail which it cannot use for swimming.

Seats available

SEVERAL AVAILABLE seats for each night of the Country Music Jamboree Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were found by Richard Shaffer, left, general chairman of the jamboree and Holland (Holly) Houfburg, CSI public relations, in a last minute check of jamboree ticket sales. Every ticket sold is guaranteed a seat, Shaffer reminded country music fans.

No one will have to stand at music event

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Country Music Association members are hoping to fill every seat in the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the annual jamboree program, but they say there will be no one standing this year.

Only the exact number of seats have been offered for sale this year and with some ticket salesmen still holding tickets there may be a few empty seats, but no one will have to stand, says Richard Shaffer, general jamboree chairman.

The 10th annual jamboree, extended to cover three nights this year, features a different program each night with each performing group given 15 to 20 minutes of time. Several specialty items will be carried over each night including several single performers.

Lana Brackeberry, Jerome, current Miss Rodeo America, has informed committee members she will be back in Idaho for the event and will appear each night to support the musicians and their benefit projects.

Holland (Holly) Houfburg will return this year as master of ceremonies for the three nights. Shaffer said Houfburg, "Mr. Country Music" himself, will return by demand of the musicians and the fans.

Programs begin each night at 8 p.m. with a three-hour show planned. Tickets not sold through Helen's Record Shop, Penny-Wise Drug and Saw-Mor Drug, Buhl, as well as other sales outlets will be available at the door each night.

Brandt kidnap planned

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A band of West German "revolutionaries" planned to kidnap Chancellor Willy Brandt and another government minister and hold them as hostages for the release of jailed friends, a Frankfurt newspaper said Friday.

The newspaper, Frankfurter Rundschau, quoted police sources for its report. It said this explained a fierce police manhunt currently underway in Frankfurt, Berlin, Stuttgart and Bremen.

In the course of the search in Frankfurt, two of the self-styled "revolutionaries" shot their way out of a police trap in downtown Frankfurt Wednesday night and escaped in a sports car.

Police identified the pair as Jan-Carl Raspe, 26, a former student, and Astrid Proll, a 22-year-old woman photographer. Both were wanted on charges of taking part in an anarchist burning of a Frankfurt department store two years ago.

given from jamboree proceeds and most of the money is earmarked for Harbor House's permanent building program.

Nixon hails N-pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has labeled an "important step" toward strategic arms control the signing of a treaty designed to keep world sea beds free of nuclear weapons.

The United States, Soviet Union, Britain and about 60 other nations signed the treaty Thursday. Communist China and France were the only two nuclear powers that refused to sign the pact.

The treaty goes into effect when it is ratified by 22 of the signatories. It prohibits placement of nuclear and all other mass destruction weapons on the ocean floor more than 12 miles from the coast of any nation.

Rise in ills said linked to pollution

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's time to link the rise in chronic ills to pollution, says Dr. John J. Hanlon, assistant surgeon general of the Public Health Service. "It is frustrating to hear sometimes from fellow professionals that the predominant illnesses of the day—malignancies, cardiovascular diseases, chronic respiratory diseases, and the like—are more prevalent because people live longer and have time to acquire these conditions," he said at the 1970 clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. "This is a gross oversimplification. Chronic and degenerative physical and mental ailments have increased.

PRESCRIPTIONS are TAX DEDUCTIBLE and all osco prescription customers have received a statement showing the total amount of their 1970 prescription purchases

Upon receipt of your name, family names and address, a record is immediately started for you and placed on file. Each prescription will be listed in your private file and at the same time provide us with a complete chart of all new Rx's and refills for every member of the family, as well as other pertinent data.

Your Family Record Means:

1. Instantly available original prescription numbers to obtain refills.
2. Your doctor can review instantly your medication over a previous period of time.
3. Total of all prescription purchases is available to you for tax purposes at the end of the year.

AT LAST... you can show proof of your purchases
 PHARMACY PHONE: 733-0342

Your Osco Pharmacist keeps all your prescriptions recorded under your "family name" as well as by number. That way, he can instantly find any past prescription order for refill purposes.

Prescriptions for Mom, Dad, and the children too -- are all added to the same family record -- so your whole family's complete medicinal history is immediately available should your doctor need it and call.

Other advantages include: Record of all prescription purchases for tax purposes; Provides medication history for your new doctor should you move to another location; Alerts pharmacists to drug reactions.

Blacks gain in West

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Young black families in the North and West made long strides in the past decade toward equal income with whites but blacks living in the South—still lagged far behind, Census Bureau figures showed Friday.

A still unpublished report indicates that black families headed by a man under 25 years of age living in the North or West, mostly in big cities, earned an average 7 per cent more than white families in the same circumstances.

Ten years earlier, blacks in the under 25 age group earned only 75 per cent of the average income of whites of the same age.

The figures are based on interviews involving 50,000 households conducted in 1969 and 1959. They do not reflect the results of the 1970 census, the Bureau said.

The median income of black families including both a husband and wife living outside the South and between the ages of 25 and 34 years was about 90 per cent of the income of similar whites in 1969. Ten years earlier it had been 78 per cent.

However, the figures showed that for black families with no father present there was no gain relative to whites. The income of all black families in the South was only 67 per cent of white income in 1969.

For the nation as a whole, black families averaged 81 per cent of the income of white families in 1969.

Nixon-labor gulf grows

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Top leaders of organized labor—unhappy with rising unemployment and prices, increasingly alienated from the Republican administration and determined to oppose reelection of President Nixon in 1972—meet here Monday to regroup and set labor's goals for the year.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) opens its annual midwinter meeting at the plush seaside Americana Hotel in this sunny haven.

The 35-member council, headed by AFL-CIO President George Meany, is expected to concentrate on criticism of the Nixon administration, focusing on what the labor leaders feel is catastrophic deterioration of the economy.

Unemployment is at the highest rate in nine years, inflation is the worst in 20 years and interest rates are the highest in 100 years. All this means hardship for the 13.6 million union members the council represents, which is about two thirds of total union membership in the nation.

Meany and other labor leaders complain that the Nixon administration is basically oriented toward helping business, with the hope that some of the benefits will trickle down to workers and poor people.

They point to Nixon's recent proposal to give business a multibillion dollar tax break through liberalized depreciation allowances for equipment, while at the same time the President vetoed a bill that would have created thousands of new federally financed jobs to help reduce unemployment.

They also fault Nixon for not putting a ceiling on interest rates, which climbed last year to the highest level since the civil war, putting a strain on lower and middle income Americans and keeping many from buying homes. Bank profits reached record high due to the inflated interest rates.

Organized labor always has regarded Nixon with suspicion, but it offered relatively mild criticism during his first year as President. There even appeared to be some rapprochement late last summer when Meany and about 70 other top union leaders joined Nixon at the White House for dinner on Labor Day. Meany and Nixon exchanged cordial but restrained toasts.

Land bank has biggest year

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent
FILER — In terms of credit service to farmers and ranchers of the Pacific Northwest, it was the largest year in the bank's history, Wayne Neal, senior vice president of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, said here Friday.

He spoke at the annual stockholders dinner meeting at the Turf Club. More than 2,200 loans were closed for $118,563,100, he said, and of this amount almost $100 million was new money. Both of these amounts exceeded any previous 12-month period.

According to Neal, 1970 was a "Best" year in another important way. Loan delinquencies for the year averaged only 27 per cent of the total of all loans outstanding, a record low percentage for the Spokane bank.

In the "worst of times" category Neal related that the cost of borrowed funds in 1970 had been at an all-time high. "We are hopeful that the current downward trend in the market price continues well into 1971," he added.

The Variable Interest Rate, the new concept in Land Bank real estate financing where rates can adjust up or down as warranted, has been in effect for over a year and meeting with excellent reception. The plan protects both the bank and the borrower.

Three additional new service programs were also announced to the stockholders.

The Future Advance Loan Plan permits the bank to close a loan with a borrower for a definite amount with a portion of the funds to be held by the bank and disbursed later at the request of the borrower.

Credit Life Insurance, a voluntary basis term insurance, is offered for the first time to Land Bank borrowers. Its objective is the protection of the borrower's family in the event of his or her death before the Land Bank loan is paid in full.

Melvin Jagels, representing the West end of the county, was re-elected to a three-year term as director, and Leslie Jones was elected director for the Twin Falls area, succeeding Elmer Dossett, director for the past 25 years who did not seek re-election to the post.

Dossett was presented a plaque from the national office, and a tie clasp engraved with the association emblem, presented from the local office by Bill Nutting, manager, who stated, "We lose many years of faithful and eventful service to agricultural credit in this area and we publicly acknowledge our gratitude."

Clarence Hollifield, Hansen, local association president, introduced directors, employees and special guests. Rev. Eugene Tjarks, pastor of the American Lutheran Church, offered the dinner invocation. Charlotte Crockett and Wilnoth Kinsey, Rock Creek, offered musical numbers during the amorgasbord dinner.

George Atkins, Buhl, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Flame Klundt, assistant to the manager, read the 1970 minutes. Reports were given by Jagels' and manager Nutting, and candidates for directorships spoke briefly.

The Federal Land Bank Association, with headquarters in Twin Falls, is owned by approximately 650 farmers and ranchers in Twin Falls and a portion of Jerome counties. In 1970 the FLBA loaned over 1.3 million in long term real estate mortgage credit to its members, "Nutting said.

Mark Moorman, Murtaugh, chairman of the Spokane Farm Credit Board, spoke on prospects for the coming year, noting the company began pioneering with agriculture and is still pioneering in these fields in modern ways.

He stated the two paramount problems of farmers today are an oversupply of farm produce and a lack of cooperation among farmers in getting together on programs of mutual interests. He added he was not down-grading any of the farm organizations, instead was optimistic for future unifying by the fact that five agricultural associations had helped draw up the report for the Farm Credit Legislation measure and he looked for more unifying in the future.

Jagels was elected chairman of the local board at a director's reorganization meeting held late Friday afternoon in the Twin Falls office, and Atkins was elected vice chairman. Both will serve one year terms. A welcome was extended to new director, Jones, who farms 400 acres on the Salmon Tract and also does custom work.

The directors voted to retain the same office manager and assistant. Moorman and Neal of the Spokane offices, met with the local directors.

Reserve champion bull brings highest price

RESERVE CHAMPION Angus bull, Freemans Evax W6, owned by Joe Freeman, Baker, Ore., brought the high price of $1,550 at Saturday's Angus sale in the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds. A Dawson Gaertner, Midvale, newly-elected president of the Idaho Angus Association, purchased the animal, one of 75 to go through the sale ring.

By MARJORIE LIERMAN

FILER — The reserve champion Angus bull brought a higher price than the grand champion at Saturday's Idaho Angus Sale in the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds.

Grand champion, D.C.C. Jingo 89, a two-year old Angus bull, owned by Dale Countyman, St. John, Wash., sold for $1375 to Noh-Brackett, Hagerman.

Named reserve champion at Friday's grading was Freemans Evax W6, consigned by Joe Freeman, Baker, Ore., and sold to A. Dawson Gaertner, Midvale, for $1550 at Saturday's sale.

Gaertner is the newly-elected president of the Idaho Angus Association which sponsors the annual sale. Ken Trout, Emmett, served as auctioneer, and Dick Carrier, Hansen, was chairman of the sale committee, assisted by Sam Thornton, Eden; Ralph Baughman, Buhl; Harold Honstead and John Feldhusen, Kimberly. A 765 lb. Angus heifer, donated by Bob and Ruth Morley, Eagle, was purchased for $350 by the Robin Dale Angus Farm, Kimberly. Proceeds from the heifer sale and also from a black kaffir cape, go toward junior youth activities including scholarships, field trips and tours.

The cape was won by Lynn H. Pearson, Moore, with Mrs. Ralph Baughman, Buhl, serving as model, and Elaine Mills, Malad, announcer.

A total of 75 bulls was sold during the sale from the 90 originally consigned. Grading Friday afternoon was by Harry Morris, Divide, Mont.; Dick Noh, Rogerson, and Carl Houburg, Hammett.

The annual membership meeting was held Thursday evening in the Rogerson Hotel and a dinner for all consignors and buyers Friday evening. Members of the Idaho Angus Auxiliary served a "Come as You are Breakfast" in Twin Falls Saturday morning. The Idaho Junior Angus Association met Saturday afternoon at the fairgrounds.

Louie Dohran, Boise, served as president of the Idaho Angus Association last year with Gaertner, vice president, and Robert W. Morley, Eagle, past president.

Directors include Larry E. Moir, Salmon; Gaertner; Sam W. Thornton, Eden; Dale Thompson, Pocatello; Dohran; Dick Carrier, Hansen, and Ned Wilde, Arco. Edith Sawyer, Emmett, is secretary.

The next event of the association will be the March 15 Idaho Angus Bull Sale at Emmett which will feature sale of 50 top graded range bulls.

American showcase exhibit scheduled for Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — American Showcase, a national exhibition of United States heritage and history will be presented to the people of Magic Valley beginning Feb. 24 at the Lynwood Shopping Center.

The presentation is being cooperatively sponsored by the American Heritage Magazine, Lynwood Shopping Center and 23 national corporations.

It has been created to pay tribute to the genius of American industry and its constant effort to produce better products for more people.

There will be 24 displays in three 57 foot long trailer coaches. Two thirds of each display is devoted to the history of a product and the rest depicts the product as it is today.

The exhibition is valued and insured for more than half a million dollars. Hundreds of authentic artifacts from many museums and historical associations are included in the presentations.

The five-year tour of American Showcase was inaugurated in Baltimore, Md., May 4, 1968.

The purpose is to encourage a broad public interest in America's past by showing how the history of many familiar products of today's industry has been part of American enterprise and innovations.

Each of the 24 exhibits is 12 feet wide and 5 feet high, presenting samples of both old and new products to tell the history.

Among the exhibits will be the stories of photography, firearms, and soft drinks. There is no admission and the displays will be open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Open house set Monday at Gooding

GOODING — An open house for all parents of Gooding elementary school children has been announced by the Gooding PTA for Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

The open house will be followed by a PTA business meeting and program at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. The program will include skits by high school students and sketching and art demonstrations by Mrs. LaRoy Johnson. A brief program will also be provided by first grade pupils.

Van Riper, Ex-Jerome aide, dies

JEROME — L.H. Van Riper, 72, former Jerome county commissioner, died Friday in a Mesa, Ariz., hospital of a brief illness.

He served as Jerome county commissioner for several terms, resigning in January, 1964, because of ill health. Mr. Van Riper had operated on implement business in Gooding and farmed near Buhl.

His daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Jacobson, Jerome, has gone to Arizona to be with her mother.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Hope Funeral Chapel by Rev. William L. Barrett. Final rites will be held in the Buhl Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel Monday afternoon and evening and Tuesday until time of services.

Chief GOP aide speaks

By DALE STEWART
Times-News City Editor

BOISE — Attracting more persons to party affiliation is a major problem confronting both Republicans and Democrats, Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, Republican national chairman, told a press conference Friday.

Dole was in Boise to address a Lincoln Day dinner gathering of Republicans. It was one stop on a western swing.

"We are a minority party," Dole said in replying to a question about the need to broaden party appeal. "Only 29 per cent of Americans are considered Republicans. We must attract more people. And the Democrats have the same problem," he said.

"The Republicans can't outpromise the Democrats, but the party can attract young people with positive programs," Dole said.

The trim, dark-haired Kansan who became party chairman in January said the Nixon administration record is one which should be attractive to young Americans. In support of that point, Dole cited the withdrawal of American forces from Indo-China, draft law reforms, and moves to create an all-volunteer Army.

A hawk — due to his conservative and military background — Dole said he does not believe reports American ground forces entered Laos in support of South Vietnamese units.

If the reports are true, Dole said, he would want to know what those units are doing there.

"If there were combat ground troops in Laos, then that would violate the President's own directive," Dole said.

On domestic matters, Dole said he believes some form of revenue sharing will be passed by Congress, as will a social security increase and some manner of welfare reform.

"The question will be to hold down spending in a pre-inflation year and try to keep inflation under control," Dole said.

On other points, Dole said: —Indications are President

Nixon will seek another term. —Nixon has no plans to dump Spiro Agnew as vice president. —The President's legislative goals are attainable in Congress.

SEN. ROBERT DOLE

Kansan senator's rise in politics meteoric

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Don Stewart, Times-News city editor, covered talks by Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., national Republican chairman, while working on Kansas newspapers. His observations are drawn from that background.)

BOISE (Special to the Times-News) — In Kansas, Sen. Bob Dole has been known as a public official for a decade or longer. —His national prominence has developed more rapidly.

Since his election to the United States Senate in 1968, it has been almost meteoric — first as a Nixon administration spokesman and since mid-January this year as Republican national chairman.

To Jayhawkers, the tall, trim, dark-haired Republican is usually Bob Dole. "Robert" sounds a bit pretentious to them.

Dole won a seat in the Kansas Legislature in the early 1950's.

After two terms, he returned to Russell County — his home grounds in central Kansas, noted for oil, cattle and grain farming — and served as county attorney for eight years. That was followed by eight years as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives and election to the U.S. Senate in 1968.

Dole's home district in Kansas, which once covered almost half the state, may not be heavily populated but the folks living there are strongly conservative. That background shows in Dole's approach to many issues and in his hawkish stand on matters relating to the Indochina war or any weakening of the nation's defenses.

His appeal to Kansans may be illustrated by a statement made by a central Kansas farmer at a meeting a couple of years ago when Dole was verbally shelling proponents of any American pullout without victory in Vietnam. At the end of the address, the stockman observed, "He sure sounds like a Senator."

There's a touch of the "mod" about Dole these days, perhaps as a result of Republican party efforts to appeal to the younger voters. It's evident principally in the slightly longer sideburns.

On first encounter, the most noticeable aspect of Sen. Dole is his left-handed handshakes.

Then comes the recollection — that 39 months of hospitalization and medical science plus tremendous determination enabled this man to overcome a handicap imposed by war wounds suffered in fighting in Italy during World War II.

At 47, Dole has been in the Senate only a little over two years. It would appear at this time that Americans will be hearing much more of him in the years ahead.

Truck checking costly

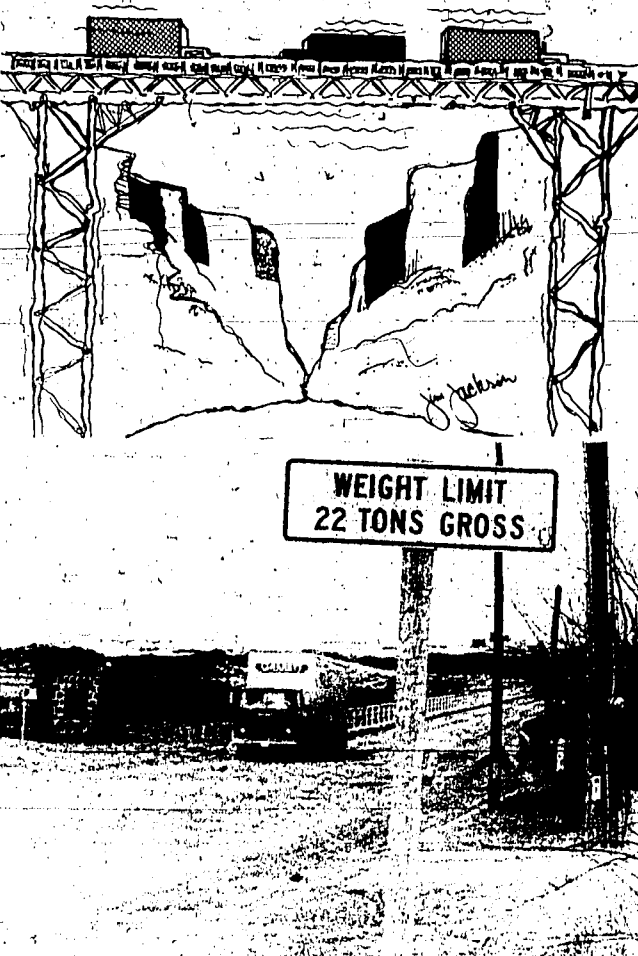

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — The state of Idaho has paid $60,000 to date to keep highway department crews on duty at the Perrine Memorial Bridge, weighing all three-axle trucks and detouring those over 22 tons gross weight.

Howard Johnson, highway engineer at the Shoshone regional offices of the highway department, said the state pays $4,000 per month to keep a crew of nine men on rotating duty in the two modified buses located at either end of the bridge.

This averages out to $48,000 per year, or another $192,000 if construction of the new Perrine bridge were to take four more years. The total could equal a quarter of a million dollars for the entire period the weight limitation has been imposed.

The men work eight-hour shifts in the buses. They must be alert at all hours for oncoming trucks, stopping all larger trucks and checking their weight.

There is no effort at present to spread out heavy trucks traveling close together, to keep them from bunching up on the weakened Perrine Bridge, Johnson said. "We rely on the signs and the good judgment of the drivers," he told the Times-News.

Costly project

SIGN LIMITING TRUCK weight on the Perrine Memorial Bridge, above, north of Twin Falls, is familiar sight to area motorists.

On an average, one truck per day has to be turned around and detoured over the Hansen Bridge.

Laws won't save lives

BOISE — "Putting laws on the statute books will not, in itself, save a single traffic accident victim," said State Police Supt. L. Clark Hand.

"The traffic laws must be known and obeyed by all if we are to cut down Idaho's highway toll," he said.

The superintendent said he believed most highway traffic accidents could be prevented if everyone would acquaint himself with and comply with the requirements of the motor vehicle code.

"Idaho's highway death toll last year was due largely to a lack of respect for common sense rules of the road," Hand said.

He said "No normal human being would deliberately use his vehicle to take another's life, yet our files show accident after accident which occurred because someone violated a traffic law."

Bill to protect burros introduced

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Legislation to protect the noble breed of free-roaming horses and burros on public lands has been introduced in the House by Cong. Orval Hansen.

Hansen said the free-roaming horses, descendants of horses brought to America by the Spanish, are living symbols of the historic and pioneer spirit of the West and that they should be protected as a national heritage.

He noted the wild horses are commonly hunted down for sport or slaughtered for pet food, and are virtually unprotected by law.

Hansen said that at the turn of the century, there were an estimated two million horses freely roaming the western grasslands. The Bureau of Land Management estimates that approximately 17,000 remain today scattered in 11 western states. It is estimated that about 100 of these are in Idaho.

The first U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam was announced June 8, 1969.

Nominee Mother, priest refuse queries to answer questions likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Banking Committee is likely to question President Nixon's nominee to head the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) about a 1962 case involving violation of the securities laws, its chairman said today.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the Banking Committee, said new hearings were justified by disclosure that William J. Casey settled out of court a lawsuit charging him with violating the law he would administer as SEC chairman.

Casey's nomination won approval by Sparkman's committee following a brief hearing Wednesday. It was later learned that Casey had been sued in 1962 on a charge that he helped sell an unregistered stock on the basis of false information.

Roland H. Boggs, who alleged he paid $10,000 for stock in Advancement Devices, Inc. which later became worthless, filed the civil suit against Casey. Two years later, Casey settled out of court for $8,000.

The Wall Street Journal, which disclosed the suit today, quoted Casey as saying he had not informed the Nixon administration of the lawsuit when he was selected as a nominee for the SEC vacancy.

"I'd forgotten about it," he was quoted as saying. "I don't think it's relevant."

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Telling the grand jury to look for the answers from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, a divorced mother of three refused to answer any questions about an alleged kidnap-bomb plot by antiwar activists. She had been granted fully immunity from prosecution.

A Catholic priest, also granted immunity, told the panel "priestly confidence" prevented him from answering any questions.

The grand jury then recessed its investigation for an indefinite period. The panel has indicted jailed antiwar priest Phillip Berrigan, three other Baltimore priests, a nun and a Pakistani scholar on charges of plotting to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and blow up heating systems of government buildings in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Patricia Chanel, 41, Silver Spring, Md., said she took the Fifth Amendment to all questions except her name and address.

"I suggested they subpoena Hoover and Kissinger, since they know a lot more about it than I do," she said.

Mrs. Chanel and the Rev. J. William Micheltian of Baltimore followed the example set last month by Sister Jogues Egan, 51, a Roman Catholic nun. Sister Egan was jailed for four days in contempt of court.

Kenmore COMPACTOR

Puts a Powerful Crush on Garbage and Trash

New Compactor takes anything that will fit into its bin... glass jars, bottles, aerosol cans, boxes, bones and grease. Compactor can be used like a wastebasket... toss in unwanted items at any time and close the drawer. Then, at the push of a button, contents are crushed to one-fourth of original size. Deodorant spray helps keep waste odor free. Each garbage Compactor pick-up bag holds a week's trash for an average family of four.

White, Coppertone, Avocado, Tawny Gold

It's push-button easy! Insert the plastic lined bag, toss in garbage or trash, close the drawer, press the button. Spray deodorant is released in the bin automatically!

The crushing ram exerts a ton of pressure on bin contents, returns to starting position and shuts off automatically. Unit can be locked when it is not in actual use.

Takes up little space... acrylic enameled steel cabinet with a vinyl top to 15x24x34 in. high. Available in white, tawny gold, avocado, coppertone.

By Frank Schell

From D.C., Twin Falls: I have a collection of mill sales tax tokens from a number of states, including the first ones issued in Missouri which were printed on milk bottle caps. Is anyone collecting them and of what value are they?

I also have a piece about the size of a quarter, brass or copper, with a portrait of Theodore Roosevelt on one side, 1901-1909, 26th President of the U.S.A. On the other side "Teddy" Colonel of Rough Riders in War with Spain, Governor of New York, Vice-President, became President upon death of McKinley; Built Panama Canal — The Trust Buster. Speak Softly and Carry a Big Stick is around the edge. I'm wondering where it came from.

If you can tell me about the above, it would be appreciated. I'm enclosing a self-addressed envelope.

Answer: We have mailed this reader a personal reply, but since these medals appear frequently in our mail, an explanation may help others.

The Theodore Roosevelt medal is part of a set of all the presidents of the United States. These sets have been struck for many years, by various companies, and sell for about $2.50 a set, new. They have no collector value. The sales tax tokens are interesting but have no collector value to speak of, although once in a while they bring a dime apiece if some collector needs one. They are not scarce — there are millions of them, and are not seriously collected at present.

From E.M., Twin Falls: I have a large paper bill — dated 6-20-1915 — marked Vete Pesos, Chihuahua, Mexico. Is this of any value?

Answer: Revolutionary paper money has little value. Your note is from Chihuahua, Series 1915, and is quoted in Criswell's "North American Currency" at from 15 cents to $1, depending upon condition. Actually, the note rarely brings more than 60 cents. They are not legal tender any more, and as with most foreign paper money, have little value.

From Mrs. R.L., Jerome: I have a couple of coins we are curious about and thought maybe you could tell us if they have any value. First of all, one has 1 Penny stamped on the back, with "Chartered, June 14th, 1911" in a circle and in an outer circle, "Twin Falls Charter No. 15, RAM, Twin Falls, Idaho." The front has a design with the letters "H.T. W.S.T.K.S." The coin is about the size of a half-dollar.

The other coin has the words, United States of America, and Columbian Half-Dollar. It has the face of a man on the front which must represent Columbus. On the back, it has "World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893." It has a picture of a sailing ship. Then it has 1402 with two different views of "the world between the year.

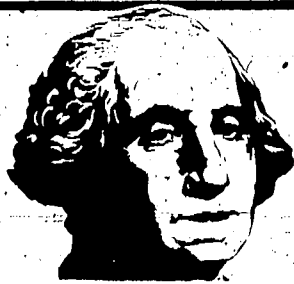

Answer: Your first token is a "Masonic Penny," given to new members when they join the lodge. RAM stands for Royal Arch Masons. This one is, of course, from Twin Falls. The date is the charter date of the lodge — not the date of issuance of the medal. Most lodges issue this as a pocket piece. They are not scarce, but bring about $2 if in nice condition.

The second coin is a Columbian Half-dollar — the first commemorative fifty-cent piece issued by the United States, for the Columbian Exposition in Chicago. In 1892, 950,000 were struck, and in 1893, 1,550,405. Your coin brings from 75 cents up to $3.25, depending upon its condition. The Columbian Half-Dollar is not scarce, and can be bought in brand new condition for about $5.

A.L.B., Jerome: I have a token or a coin about the size between a twenty-five cent piece and fifty cents. Silver, on each side the same picture and writing. Profile picture of George Washington. Writing — 1789 1st President, U.S.A. 1707 George Washington. I would like to know the value.

Answer: See the first paragraph of this column. Your medal is somewhat different, but is undoubtedly related to the same group. Thousands of such medals have been struck to commemorate Washington since he first became president. There are many old ones, but it would be hard to date any of these strikes. As far as I know, they have little value.

Hiding place
NEW BRIGHTON, England (UPI)—When Harold Palm, 61, complained his car was not running smoothly, the garage mechanic checked and found dozens of peanuts stuffed down the air intake of his car's carburetor.

The mechanic suggested vandalism—but Palm knew immediately who the culprits were. He realized some squirrels had managed to get into sacks of peanuts he keeps in his garage for feeding them and decided to use the car as a boarding place.

Airline baggage snags draw ire

NEW YORK (UPI)—Back in the early 1960s when the jets began flying, people used to joke about "breakfast in London, lunch in New York and bags in Paris."

It really was no laughing matter—certainly not to the passenger who was inconvenienced to say the least, or to the airlines.

In fact, according to a recent report by the Civil Aeronautics Board, handling of baggage ranks as one of the leading causes of complaints against U.S. scheduled airlines.

The report showed that the U.S. air carriers paid out more than $17.5 million in claims for lost, damaged and mishandled luggage during the fiscal year ending last June.

The CAB said there were 204,093 complaints, ranging from a low of 724 reported by American Airlines to a high of 60,535 by Eastern Air Lines. It said 47,500 bags were lost and 152,445 damaged.

EAL paid out $2.68 million in claims, followed by United Air Lines $2.24 million, Delta Air Lines $1.3 million, National Air Lines $978,000, Trans World Airlines $957,000 and Pan American $703,000. Lesser sums were paid by other domestic airlines.

While it is the responsibility of the airlines to deliver all checked-in baggage (keep claim stubs in a safe place) to the proper destination, passengers can help guard against mishandling and loss.

Wouldn't shake...

CAPT. JERRY L. Finley, a white Army officer from Louisiana, says he was relieved of his duties as a military lawyer in Okinawa last month for refusing to shake hands with a Negro officer. Finley said he was transferred to Washington after the incident. (UPI)

RCA slow to exploit Beethoven bicentennial

NEW YORK (UPI)—RCA's tardiness in exploiting the Beethoven bicentennial with a deluge of Beethoven recordings probably can be attributed to switching over to its new "dynaflex" disc which is thinner and lighter than the record in general use and almost as flexible as any pancake. It is pretty to look at, a pleasure to handle. It works well and is silent on a changer in a stack and promises to fulfill the maker's claim that surface noises will be slower to develop with repeated use while its smaller grooves enhance sound quality. RCA has been switching over for months, without telling the customers.

The RCA contribution to the Beethoven 200th birthday observance is magnificent. First, there are recordings of all 32 of the piano sonatas by Artur Schnabel's best known pupil, Claude Frank, on 12 boxed records but marketed under RCA's budget-price label (Victoria 9000).

Then there are recordings of all 16 string quartets plus the "grosse fuge" by the Guarneri Quartet on 11 boxed records which carry RCA's "Red Seal" Label (11-100). Next are all nine of the symphonies performed by the Boston Symphony under Erich Leinsdorf on seven boxed records (Red Seal 6903). Still to come are all five of the piano concertos played by Artur Schnabel with Leinsdorf and the Bostonian on four boxed records (Red Seal 6417).

So much takes days' even for a superficial appraisal, especially of the sonatas and quartets. Frank's interpretations will remind of those of his teacher, Schnabel, which shouldn't be surprising. His playing is technically clean and he never pushes nor bangs.

Oldest bed discovered

NEW YORK (UPI)—Archeologists have discovered what is believed to be the oldest wooden bed in Europe in excavations on Thera, an island in the Aegean Sea—that was devastated by a volcanic eruption in 1520 B.C.

The bedstead was a scant five feet long, and a double animal hide stuffed with padding covered the wooden frame. Compared to a modern bed, it was short, narrow, and poorly cushioned. For example, a modern king-sized bed is 84 inches long by 78 inches wide; and boasts a latex foam mattress six inches thick.

The bed from Thera was buried in volcanic ash from the eruption. Eventually, the wood disintegrated, but its shape was perfectly preserved in the ash. Archeologists poured plaster into the holes and re-created the form of the bed.

Tense peace maintained after prison upheaval

RAIFORD, Fla. (UPI) — A tense peace maintained by a highway patrol riot squad settled over Raiford Prison Saturday after the warden isolated 30 ringleaders of an uprising that saw 43 convicts injured by shotgun fire Friday night.

"Everything in the main unit is relatively quiet now," Assistant Warden William Booth reported Saturday, "and the maximum security east wing is normal and quiet. We are still in a tense situation, but we're attempting to restore things to normal as quickly as possible."

Ten convicts were hospitalized at the prison Friday night with wounds from birdshot fired at 100 inmates who broke away from a mass prisoner meeting in the athletic field and charged an electric chain-link fence.

One convict, 23-year-old James Peoples, was wounded in the eye and was taken to the University of Florida Medical Center in nearby Gainesville, where he was reported in fair condition. The 10 convicts in the prison hospital were reported in good condition.

Booth said 30 ringleaders of the uprising on the 10-acre athletic field had been placed in "administrative segregation." This means, he said, they would not be allowed out of their cells.

Prison officials clamped a news blackout on the sprawling two-unit prison 30 miles north of Gainesville after the uprising and refused to talk to newsmen until noon Saturday.

Crysler salaries ratified

DETROIT, Mich. (UPI) — Chrysler Corp.'s 10,000 salaried employees in the United States and Canada have ratified a new master contract agreed to by bargainers Feb. 2 after a three-hour strike.

Douglas A. Fraser, UAW vice president and director of the union's Chrysler Department, announced the results of the ratification vote Saturday and said the three personnel groups ratified their agreements by large margins.

GOP solons term Andrus revenue plan one shot

BOISE (UPI) — Republican senators said today Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' proposed budget was a "one-shot" approach to the state's financial problems, while Democrats responded the majority should present alternatives rather than criticism.

The legislators — all rising on points of personal privileges — spend a great part of their week-end session discussing the $128.1 million proposed general fund budget for fiscal year 1972 and the suggestions made by Andrus to balance the budget.

posed two new revenue plans he said would generate an estimated $6.3 million during the next fiscal year without raising taxes.

One would have corporations file with the State Tax Commission a quarterly estimate of their corporation income tax as they do for the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. The other would have individuals who file declaration of estimated personal income taxes with the federal government do the same with the state.

But Senate Majority Leader

Wayno Kidwell, R-Boise, questioned the corporate tax suggestion, adding, "The political talk we always hear is of a broad-base tax approach, but this is a narrow base approach."

Kidwell said the revenue generated would be on a "one-time" basis.

Sen. Richard C. High, R-Twin Falls, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said the two proposals made by Andrus presented a problem in that they did not "provide sustaining revenue for future fiscal year."

"It's clear to me we can look at all possible means for finding revenue for this current fiscal year," High said. "We could find a budget of $140 to $150 million."

"If we do this, it will be a serious disservice to the people of Idaho. We're funding proposals that cannot be sustained. We're promising the voter a tax increase — not in the distant future but next year."

Minority Leader John Evans, D-Malad, said he was "quite surprised" at the Republicans' criticism and said Andrus was "trying to provide some leadership, some alternative directions to go."

He said the proposals made by Andrus were a "new, novel approach for states although the federal government started them years ago."

He said the Republicans were "constantly critical of what the governor tries to do. I wonder if the people of Idaho realize you're constantly trying to throw roadblocks into the path of good government."

Evans noted the Senate did not plan to meet Monday and challenged the Republicans to come up with their own suggestions by Tuesday.

"It's giving you three days," Evans said. "Maybe by Tuesday you'll have a vision. We haven't seen anything yet. Maybe this will give you some time to do it."

In the House, the Education Committee introduced a compromise bill providing for professional negotiations between teachers and school trustees.

A cross between legislation offered earlier and unacceptable to one side of the other,

Panel urges court revamp

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An advisory commission created by Congress charged Saturday there is little "system" in the state and local court system. It recommended that judges be required to retire at age 70 and Justice of the Peace courts be overhauled or abolished.

The commission recommended that compulsory retirement of state and local judges, now in effect in 22 states, be made a nationwide practice, setting retirement at age 70.

"Once even the most eminent judge is selected, there is no guarantee that he will remain competent," it said. "He will age, may become tired and can grow out-of-touch."

It further recommended that all judges be licensed to practice law, that they devote full time to their judicial duties and that they be screened by commissions representing the bar, the judiciary and the public before appointment. It said they should be subject to voter approval or disapproval in an election at the end of each term on the bench.

"If not abolished, the report said, justice of the peace courts should be placed under state administration. The justice should be paid salaries rather than self-collected fees and should be required to be licensed to practice law in the state or to pass a qualifying examination.

In all but five of the 33 states which still have justice of the peace courts, the report said, the justice is compensated "at least in part by fees collected when he convicts, earning him

Demos assail Nixon economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats attacked the Nixon administration's "economic game plan" Saturday as inadequate and unbelievable. Republican National Chairman Robert J. Dole accused them of "mindless criticism."

Gardner Ackley, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers during the Johnson administration, said that "the proposed budget and other policies are clearly inadequate to achieve the administration's ambitious targets for GNP (gross national product) and employment."

The administration has stated a goal of $1.065 trillion in GNP or total output in goods and services — for 1971 and at the end of the next fiscal year June 30, 1972, a goal of 4.5 per cent unemployment and a 3 per cent annual rate of inflation. Current figures are 6 per cent unemployment and about 5.5 per cent inflation.

Nixon has said the goals will be achieved by spending as if there were full employment now, but Ackley said that idea is "oversimplified and misleading."

Ackley said, "The inevitable exposure of the error of some of the premises and promises of the new game plan could undermine much of the improvement that might otherwise be achieved."

Chrysler's white-collar workers "are the only salaried workers in the automotive industry represented by the UAW. The salary increases matched the 13 per cent increases granted by Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. to their salaried workers who are not members of a union.

The ratification of the white-collar contract at Chrysler ended the current round of negotiations of new three-year agreements between the UAW and the big three auto companies.

Booth said a 35-man Highway Patrol riot squad, along with extra prison guards, would remain at the institution "until we feel they are no longer needed."

He said the 2,000 convicts in the main prison unit would be confined to their cells over the weekend and were being fed in groups of 75 instead of in mass as normal.

The trouble erupted Friday when convicts in the main unit began a demonstration to support the just-ended hunger strike by the 1,200 convicts.

Arson blamed in LDS cannery fire

MURRAY, Utah (UPI) — Arson was blamed in the $40,000 fire early Saturday at a cannery operated by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. It was the sixth fire this year in which arson was suspected and the second in a week to occur in an LDS building.

About 30 volunteer and professional firemen battled the blaze at the Jordan Valley Regions Cannery for two hours. One volunteer, Dean Larson, sustained minor injuries and a second volunteer was overcome by smoke, but was revived and continued on the job.

Murray Fire Chief Arthur Caldwell said the fire was set in stacks of cans in the warehouse on the north end of the cannery plant.

It was the sixth suspected arson case in Utah this year. The last suspected arson fire caused $75,000 damage to the LDS Church's Millcreek Stake Center last Monday.

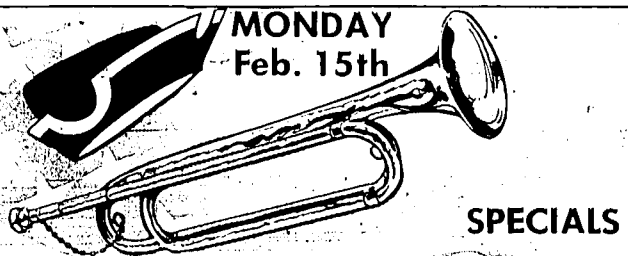

The fire came as 500,000 cans were in the cannery for the start of canning season for the church welfare program.

Evidence of burglary and vandalism was found in both fires at LDS buildings.

In the cannery fire, Murray police found thieves had stolen a battery from a fork lift machine in the warehouse, desk drawers had been rifled and a change box in a soft-drink machine had been pried open.

A large wrench and two socks were found near a large metal door on the loading dock. An hand cart found near the door may have been used to haul stolen items from the building to the dock, police theorized.

The cannery serves 54 stakes. Most of the damage was done to empty cans and officials said a new order would be placed immediately but a threatened strike at the manufacturing plant may force a delay in shipment.

CSI wraps up ICAC title by whipping Eastern Utah

Nationally top-ranked College of Southern Idaho wrapped up its fourth straight Intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference title Saturday night behind the scoring of Ron Behagen, Vic Kelly, and Ralph

Palomar — beating Eastern Utah 65-82. Friday night the Eagles whipped Mesa 79-60. It gave CSI a spotless 8-0 conference record, its nearest rivals for the crown having four losses and eliminated. The Golden Eagles, running their record to 25-1 on the season, got 20-plus scoring from three men — but had to rally in the first half to take a narrow one-point lead against the pesky Eagles from Utah.

Little Vic Kelly, the spark plug in Friday night's win over Mesa, popped in 22 points — the third straight game he's gunned in more than 20 points. CSI led just 48-47 at the half against Eastern, but took complete control of the backboards in the second 20 minutes and at one point led by 28 — 89-63, before Eastern rallied briefly at the end.

Ron Behagen, displaying a hot hand once again from around the key, was red-hot in the second half and ended with 28 points. Palomar, getting his usual inside points, got 25.

In the first minutes of the game the Eagles looked poor for the second night in a row, when they fell well behind Mesa. Dave Paup and fancy Charles Anderson led Eastern to a 15-9 lead after four minutes and the visitors led 27-18 after an Anderson 15-footer. The Golden Eagles spent the rest of the half catching up, and behind Kelly's outside and inside drives finally went ahead 44-43 on Behagen's two charity tosses with 1:42 left.

Friday night Kelly played a super floor game and pumped in 22 points and Ron Behagen pulled down 27 rebounds in the Eagles' 79-60 victory over Mesa. The Mavericks displayed some fine ballhandling and worked a full-court press well in the first 12 minutes of the first half — and gave CSI fits to say it mildly. Mesa seized a 4-3 lead, upped that to 11-5 two minutes later, and got three easy buckets on a steal and off the press to jump in front 17-7.

Mesa increased the margin to 22-0 after a Jim Wakefield bucket, but after that it was a matter of the Eagles adjusting to the press and putting the ball in the hole. Workhorse Tim Bassett, who pulled down 19 rebounds for the night, got six inside points and Kelly and Behagen hit to work within 24-18. CSI gradually moved to within 28-32 and the two teams traded baskets until the half, with the Mavericks up one, 36-35.

The Eagles took the lead for good after a Kelly driving crippler 43-24 and never trailed again. CSI pumped in seven straight after that and was never in trouble as Mesa cooled off considerable and couldn't cope with Kelly's ballhandling and bringing the ball upcourt, and his dish-offs at the end of drives for easy buckets. The little flash from the Bronx scored well for the second straight game, and took up some of the slack left by Hagens, who had an unusually cold night from the floor after blazing red-hot his last time out against Utah State.

Spartans knock Pocatello out of SIC race with 66-48 romp

RUPERT — The Minico Spartans turned loose a game-long, sticky man-to-man pressure-defense Saturday night and rolled the Pocatello Indians out of the Southern Idaho Conference title picture with a 66-48 decision. The victory was a complete reversal of Minico's Friday night loss to Twin Falls as the Spartans controlled the game from most aspects and even managed an even break on the boards against the leaping Indians.

But the press was the thing as it kept Pocatello from getting into its offense. The Spartans held the conference's second leading scorer, Jerry Quenton, to six points while Guard Dave Comstock, who entered the game with a 15-point average, was limited to four.

In the meantime, Coach Gary Swan shifted junior guard Randy Ketterling to forward the youngster responded with an 18-point night. Junior guard Tony Sarus added 15.

Pocatello managed to take the pressure through most of the first half, although Minico was ahead 29-24 at intermission. But the pressure began telling in the third period when the Spartans outscored the visitors 22-12 to mount a 15-point lead.

UCLA nips Beavers in last five seconds

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)—Sidney Wicks hit a five foot jumper from the top of the key with four seconds remaining to save UCLA from a stunning upset by Oregon State as the Bruins won 67-65 for the second close shave in two nights Saturday.

UCLA had just managed to whip Oregon 69-58 Friday night. The Beavers had led the Bruins from the first minute of the ball game until Curtis Rowe of the Bruins tied the game with 26 seconds remaining on a pair of free throws. Then UCLA recovered the ball when Beaver Freddie Boyd lost the ball as he moved down court.

UCLA then called time. When play resumed Wicks held the ball until he threw the winning basket.

Oregon State-led by as much as 14 points in the first half and was ahead 35-22. Rowe topped scorers with 22 points and Wicks added 18.

Boyd had 18 for the Beavers and Gary Arbelbide 15. Sam Whitehead, the Beavers' leading rebounder for the night, fouled out at 1:38 in the second half with the Beavers ahead 64-62.

The Bruins shot a cool 33 per cent in the first half but warmed up for a 41 per cent mark overall. The Beavers shot 47 per cent from the floor.

Chargers put trust in Svare

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Harland Svare, former coach of the Los Angeles Rams and most recently a defensive coach with the Washington Redskins, Saturday was named general manager of the San Diego Chargers by executive vice president and head coach Sid Gillman.

Svare, 40, a 10-year veteran of National Football League coaching positions, comes to the Chargers after serving the Redskins under the late coach Vince Lombardi. Prior to that, he was with the New York Giants and from 1962 through 1965, coached the Los Angeles Rams while developing the "fearsome Foursome," the Rams' renowned front line.

Svare told a news conference here that his new position was "a big challenge and I'm very excited about it."

Gillman said Svare was recommended to the Chargers by some of the foremost people in pro football as "a man with the character, the personality, the experience and the executive ability we were seeking for the position."

Gators top Kentucky

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Tom Purvis scored 24 points and Earl Findley added 22 Saturday night to pace the Florida Gators to a 74-65 basketball upset over eighth-ranked Kentucky.

Purvis and Findley dominated the backboards despite Kentucky's 7-foot center Tom Payne. Kentucky's high-scoring offense never got going against the Gators' zone defense. Tom Parker led Kentucky with 20 points while Payne hit for 14 and Mike Casey 12.

Notre Dame trounces De Paul

CHICAGO (UPI)—Austin Carr scored 36 points Saturday to lead Notre Dame to a 107-76 victory over DePaul in the highest-scoring game for Irish this season.

The Irish also rang up the highest point total scored against DePaul, one point better than Kentucky's 106 against the Blue Demons in a December tournament. Notre Dame's previous high was 104 against Michigan State. It was the fourth time this season the Irish have scored over 100 points.

DePaul, losing its eighth consecutive game and its 15th against five wins, was in front only three times and never by more than three points.

The Irish had a 46-37 lead at the half and quickly opened up a 30-point edge.

Carr cut out the final three minutes and 43 seconds. It was Notre Dame's 13th win against six losses.

Brodhead has Oiler top job

HOUSTON (UPI)—Robert E. "Bob" Brodhead, a frustrated quarterback whose Duke University counselor advised him to study accounting as insurance when his playing days were over, Saturday was named general manager of the Houston Oilers at the age of 34.

The 6-2, 230-pound Brodhead, who has been controller of the Cleveland Browns, fills a vacancy which has gone unfilled for a year since Don Klosterman left to join the Super Bowl champion Baltimore Colts.

His appointment and announcement of two other top-level shifts in responsibility by Oilers owner K. S. "Bud" Adams virtually completed a wholesale reorganization of the Oilers' front office.

Adams, who had hired Ed Hughes off the San Francisco staff to succeed resigned Wally Lemm as head coach, revealed that ticket manager Dan Downs would become director of public relations and that Tom Williams would move from the coaching staff to director of player personnel.

Downs succeeds John Brown, who becomes head of a speaker's bureau in public relations. Williams replaces Charlie Hall; the former player personnel director, who was fired.

Cyclones whip KSU

AMES, Iowa (UPI)—Rick Engel, a 6-5 junior forward, hit a career high of 31 points Saturday night to lead Iowa State to an 89-66 win over Kansas State and help snap a seven-game Cyclone Big Eight losing streak.

Engel hit 12 of 21 from the field, pacing the 82 per cent shooting of Iowa State, and grabbed nine rebounds as well. The Cyclones, now 2-7 in the conference, led throughout the game, holding a 42-34 halftime advantage.

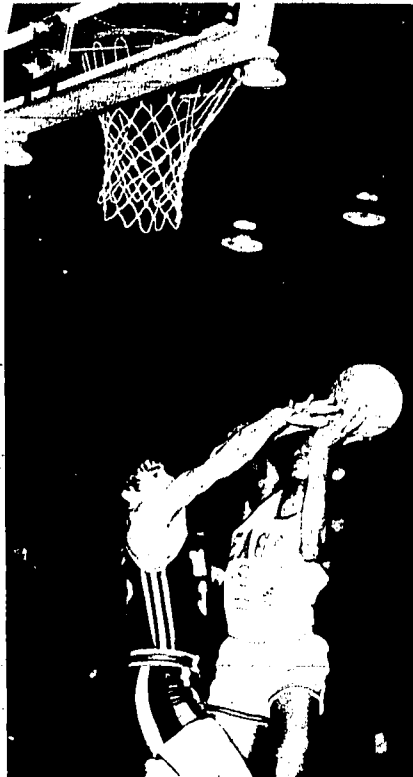

G.F. stops late Wood River rally

HAILEY — The Glenns Ferry Pilots, after leading throughout the contest, turned to the free throw line in the closing 30 seconds to stave off the rallying Wood River Wolverines 52-47 Saturday night.

Glenns Ferry, with Bob Shrum and Rick Brown combining for 28 points, jumped into a four-point lead in the first period and generally held away from four to eight from then on.

But in the fourth quarter, Wood River went to a full court press and started cutting into the margin. It cut the deficit to 49-47 with 30 seconds remaining but then had to foul in, an effort to get possession. Glenns Ferry made the most of the situation to pad the final margin.

Paul Nelson banked in a long shot at the buzzer to give Wood River the preliminary win 47-46 in overtime.

3-pointer

STEVE HEGENS goes up over Mesa's Jim Cherry, draws a foul, and eventually ended up with a three-point play Friday night against the Mavericks. Hegen struggled through one of his worst shooting nights — he just got five — but the Golden Eagles rallied in the second half behind Vic Kelly, Ron Behagen, and Tim Bassett to whip Mesa 79-60. CSI wrapped up its third straight ICAC title last night against Eastern Utah.

Richman and Vikings whip Hornets 106-70

EDEN — Larry Richman poured through 42 points in the three quarters he played and Valley dumped in 32 points in the fourth quarter Saturday night to take a racehorse 106-70 victory over the Declo Hornets.

Both teams were unbelievably hot in the third and fourth quarters, but after leading 22-20 in the first quarter Declo couldn't keep up with the torrid Vikings.

Richman got 10 field goals in his barrage, staking Valley to a 74-54 lead after three quarters. The Vikings' substitutes came on, in the last couple minutes but couldn't miss anything themselves and broke the hundred mark late in the game.

Rob Loveland got 10 points in the first quarter if helping the Hornets take the 23-20 lead, but could only get 11 the rest of the way. Kim Gergen added 20 points to Richman's total, and Frank Krohn had 19.

Declo won the preliminary.

Oakley runs past Kimberly

KIMBERLY — The Oakley Hornets ended all doubt in the opening 12 minutes Saturday night as they raced past the Kimberly Bulldogs 87-54 in non-conference play.

Kimberly rallied only 20-12 after the first period but early in the second quarter Oakley turned red hot and quickly ran out of reach. The Hornets outscored the Bulldogs 20-10 during the second quarter to reach a 48-22 intermission advantage.

Nebraska tips Missouri

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Chuck Jara scored 25 points and Marv Stewart tossed in another 19 Saturday night to lead Nebraska to an 81-72 Big Eight basketball victory over Missouri.

Jerome throttles Knights

JEROME — Roger Campbell pumped in 27 points and the Jerome Tigers clamped a tight man-to-man defense on Bishop Kelly Saturday night in ripping the Knights 64-38.

The Tigers led 15-8 at the first rest and by 13 at the half at 34-21, then Bishop Kelly could come up with just three points in the third quarter and fell way back at 44-24. The Knights couldn't penetrate at all in the first half — getting just two shots from inside the key.

For the night Bishop Kelly shot a poor 28 per cent to 45 per cent for the Tigers, who also got 12 points from Charlie Stewart in the victory.

Jerome took the first game 52-47.

WSU drops game to Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—The Washington State Cougars were victims Saturday night of the first Pacific-8 conference uprisings by Stanford as they fell to the Indians, 77-70.

Led by hot-shooting guard Claude Terry, who finished with 27 points, the Indians overcame a 47-44 halftime deficit.

Stanford is still in the conference cellar with a 1-7 mark, trailing the Cougars who are now 1-4.

Cutright and Highland trip Bruins 64-57

The Southern Idaho Conference scoring leader, Rick Cutright, went on a 10-point tear while Twin Falls was ice cold as the Highland Rams ran up a big first-half lead and dropped the Bruins 64-57 Saturday night.

Cutright, who is averaging 23.5 points per game, led the Bruins' chance for a big upset tied on poor shooting in the first half. The Bruins, hitting well from the foul line entered the second quarter trailing 19-15 but then went seven minutes without a field goal. By then Highland was coasting along on a 15-point lead. The Bruins, for the second night, sorely missed the scoring punch of 18.5 point leader, Mike Crandall who was sidelined by illness.

Rimrock rolls past Dietrich

DIETRICH — The Rimrock Raiders easily broke a full court press and took complete control of the backboards Saturday night to topple the Dietrich Blue Devils 82-62.

The Raiders blazed for 27 points in the first period and pushed their advantage to 47-19 halftime. Rollie Woolsey, who crammed in 30 points, and Bybee gave Rimrock backboard control at both ends.

Dietrich had only one flurry, that coming in the third period when the Devils cut a 28-point deficit to 16. But by the end of the quarter Rimrock was rebuilding its margin.

Dietrich took the preliminary 47-45.

Buhl has 68-51 win at Burley

BURLEY — Kendall Meier got 11 points in a decisive third-quarter rally and ended with 18 Saturday night as the Buhl Indians beat Burley 68-51.

Burley led 13-11 after the first quarter and only trailed by three at the half, but Buhl blew it completely open in the decisive frame, outscoring the Bobcats 21-8. Buhl put three men in double figures, with John Muehler getting 13, and Tim Hudson 10.

In the preliminary, Burley won its 15th game of the season against just five defeats, 64-50.

Trojans fast break past Filer

FILER — The Wendell Trojans broke the Filer Wildcatters' collective back with a fast break in the second quarter and walked into an 82-41 Big Six Conference decision Saturday night.

Ahead 25-12 and not pressed in the first period, Wendell exploded in the second period, largely on long passes and easy cripplers to Kirk Dennis. That hoisted the Trojans into a 47-18 halftime lead.

Wendell also won the preliminary 46-31.

night with 25 points, four fouls early in the third quarter sending him to the sideline for a long spell. But he got six free throws before leaving.

Twin Falls' chance for a big upset tied on poor shooting in the first half. The Bruins, hitting well from the foul line entered the second quarter trailing 19-15 but then went seven minutes without a field goal. By then Highland was coasting along on a 15-point lead. The Bruins, for the second night, sorely missed the scoring punch of 18.5 point leader, Mike Crandall who was sidelined by illness.

Twin Falls did a good job of holding Highland's fast break down and had no trouble with the Ram press. The Bruins hit 14 per cent in the first half and 37 per cent in the second half.

The Bruins made one move in the third quarter when they cut a 16-point deficit to 40-50 and had the ball three times without scoring — twice without getting a shot. Late in the period Tom Tomlinson and Craig Avery shot Highland back and out by 14.

It stayed at 12 to 14 points until the final two minutes when Twin Falls came back on eight straight points against the Highland reserves.

Highland also won the preliminary.

T.F. Mrs. surprise Mushers

The Twin Falls juniors broke away from a third-quarter deadlock to defeat the Camas County Mushers 49-42 Saturday night.

The Mushers, who clinched a share of the Northside Conference title Friday night, led through most of the first-half and some of the third-quarter. But the young Bruins tied it at 33-all going into the fourth quarter and Jerry Barbour's six points spearheaded the attack that carried them out of reach.

Twin Falls outscored the Mushers 16-9 in the decisive period.

Gooding terrorized by Shoshone

GOODING — Gooding terrorized the boards for 81 rebounds, with Frank Krahn and Gary Gorrell getting the lion's share of those, and used reserves half the game Saturday night in sweeping past Shoshone 83-31.

Sonators' coach Jimmy Thacker used his second unit in the first and third quarters, but Krahn and company put in 32 points in the second period and 34 more in the last quarter to turn the game into a laughter.

Krahn pulled down 21 rebounds against the much shorter Indians and had 18 points, while Gorrell had 18 rebounds and Reink 14. Gorrell was the high scorer with 25 points, including 11 field goals — most of those from in close.

Shoshone took the first game 67-47.

FROM ALL ANGLES

The fourth district combined wrestling tournament this week proved for perhaps the first time that the sport has improved to the point where domination, in the old Minico tradition, is no longer possible.

Wrestling, like the other sports, will now go in cycles, each school taking a turn at winning titles and then waning as the "horses" fail to show up.

Both classifications made that point, it would appear. For instance, in the Class A division, only four of the top seeds did indeed win weight titles. The 12 class A championships were divided up among six of the eight schools with the most for any one team being four.

Seven of the nine Class B schools had individual championships, four again being the most.

Valley's victory in the B division was a result of being psyched up for the big session, getting things going early and staying with it — just as they talk about momentum in football and basketball games.

Next week, the same teams could wrestle with the same opening pairings and we'd bet there would be different champions and the same could be said for another in two weeks.

Valley really ruined what could have been a real brain-buster by getting that big lead and coasting in. Had the Vikings cooperated a little bit, there could have been a couple tight three-team races going Thursday night.

As it was, the Twin Falls-Minico-Jerome little battle waxed and waned by school with Twin Falls waxing just a little bit better to win it. The meet was very interesting to follow, very similar to a tight track meet in which the mental games you can play in looking toward the end are myriad and take on new ramifications with every match won or lost. For a while all Jerome had to do was keep its seeds and it would win, then Minico had a shot, then Twin Falls took command, but the Bruins, although they actually earned the winning number of points themselves, clinched it when Wood River beat Minico in a match.

There are drums of change beating now in wrestling circles, proposing an idea we like and being backed by the larger schools. It calls for each team entering two teams in the district tournament — two men at each weight with the possibility of having them meet in the finals.

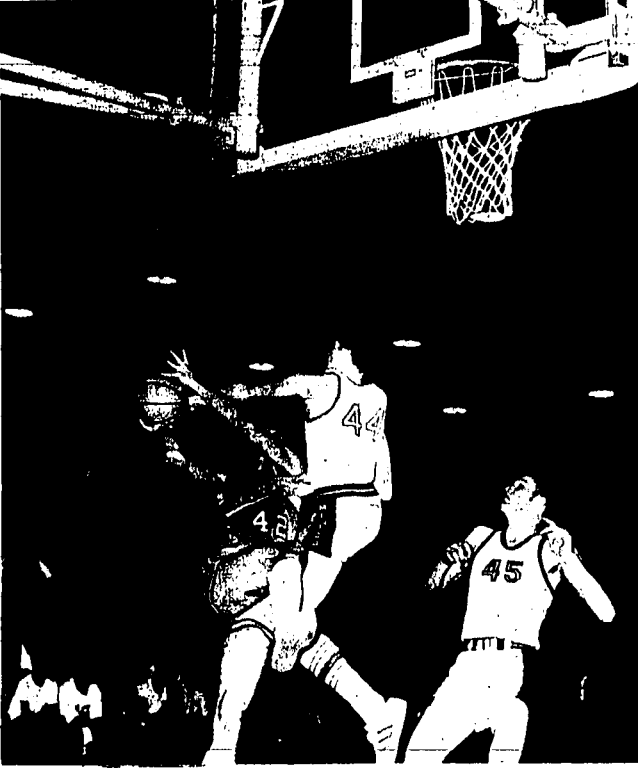

At the outset, this appears a little ridiculous but your mind has to play with it. One good example comes from Jerome where twins Mick and Rick Otto are going to state as district champions at 101 and 107 pounds. Both are 101 pounders and very well could collide for the state title. Last year in Oregon, which uses this double-up system, there were three divisions, among the various classifications, that saw the champ and runner-up come from the same school.

Under Idaho's system, the boy who might be the second best in the state would perhaps never take the mat for his school and wrestle preliminaries all his career. The double system eliminates that possibility.

Steve Buratto, Twin Falls coach, likes the idea. "We have 15 or 20 boys roaming the hills and doing nothing this winter although they have wrestled as freshmen and sophomores. They can't beat the boys ahead of them and there is no incentive for them to stay out and work as hard as they have to in this sport. It also hurts our first stringers because they have no one clawing after them every day to take this spot, no one to force them to work and improve. Without that steady pushing every day, they can never reach their peak. It is like having 11 kids out for football."

The thing adds another dimension to this daily battle for No. 1. In dual meets, each team enters only one. That means that before each dual, each team would have a challenge of two at every weight with the survivor dominating the school colors for that match.

The double up plan offers better justice for the individual, promotes total participation and guarantees improvement in the sport.

Twin Falls uses free throws to outlast Minico by 44-41

Relying on free throws and the hustle of Darrell Groves on loose balls, the Twin Falls Bruins outlasted the Minico Spartans 44-41 in a battle of frigid shooting teams Friday night.

It was simply a matter of nothing going through although both teams had opportunities to break away from six and seven point leads. The teams took turns going three and four minutes without scoring from the field. And in the end, Minico pulled to within one point with 10 seconds left, then forgot to send a man deep to protect the

Oakley beats Raft River stall

MALTA — The Oakley Hornets got two points off the tipoff Friday night for the early lead that foiled Raft River's attempt at a slowdown and the Magic Valley Conference leader's moved to within a game of clinching a tie for the title.

Raft River used its slowdown throughout the battle but Oakley picked up enough turnovers and scored well enough to push slowly and steadily away.

Blackfoot outlasts Burley

Blackfoot took a seven-point lead in the first quarter and pushed it to 33-25 at halftime. But, the Bobcats were hurt when junior and leading scorer Corey Kidd fouled out midway through the third period, taking his rebounding strength and point punch with him. The young Bobcats, with two sophomores playing most of the night, refused to let down but tired and Blackfoot pushed away.

Wendell wins with late rush

WENDELL — The Wendell Trojans' full court press finally took command in the fourth quarter when the home team exploded for 33 points and rushed past the Shoshone Indians 77-45.

Until that period Shoshone stayed within three points of the favored Trojans. Wendell Coach Ed Otten went with an all-senior starting crew to start the game and used all juniors in the second period. The first team, tied at 24-24 at intermission, couldn't break away until the final quarter.

During that period Kirk Dennis hit 10 of his 27 points and Kirk Webb added eight, all 21 points off the press, while Shoshone was able to hit only four points.

Wendell took the preliminary 51-49.

Gooding drops Wood River to claim SCIC cage crown

GOODING — The disciplined Gooding Senators took a big halftime lead and nailed down the South Central Idaho Conference basketball championship with a 52-35 decision over second-place Wood River.

Wolverines Friday night. The victory gave Coach Jim Thacker's Senators a perfect 8-0 record in the SIC and 16-1 for the year. Wood River absorbed its second loss in the league. Gooding, also, is running undefeated, in the Big Six Conference and will meet Wendell in a similar title show-down — if nothing untoward happens to either until then — in the season finale next Friday.

Frank Krahn and Gary

Girrell combined for 30 points and 31 rebounds — Krahn getting 17 of those, but after taking a big 24-11 halftime lead the Senators saw Wood River pull to within three points in the fourth quarter.

But right after Wood River made its rush to within three, it went stone cold for five minutes and didn't make anything. The Senators upped it to the final 17-point margin. Ed Bowden led the Wolverines with 11 points, while Brown had 10.

Gooding took the first game 65-50.

Hanke lifts Glens Ferry by Valley 61-60 in 2 overtimes

GLENS FERRY — Harley Hanke hit an 18-footer with 27 seconds left in the second overtime Friday night to lift the Glens Ferry Pilots past Valley 61-60, spilling its undefeated record in the Little Five Confidence although the Vikings have clinched the title. The Vikings took the ball downcourt and were called for traveling after Hanke's bucket and never got it back. Bob Strum had tied it up in regulation time for Ferry with a return shot right at the buzzer, 50-50.

Rich Brown, who gunned in 31 points for the night, got all six of the Pilots' points in the first overtime, but Kim Gergen, Wes Krohn, and Lon Frazier each got a bucket as Valley stayed even. Frazier, the Vikings' big man, fouled out in the first overtime — a total of five men on both teams were benched on fouls.

Krahn got four points in the second overtime, but after Valley took the lead 60-59 Hanke got the clincher.

In the preliminary Valley won — yes, in double overtime.

New-look Murtaugh downs Declo 74-63

MURTAUGH — The Murtaugh Red Devils came out in a new-look offense Friday night and defeated the scrappy Declo Hornets 74-63.

Murtaugh switched the role of top gun Mark Howard, moving him to the point and making him the team quarterback. Guard Wayne DeGeorge moved inside to center where he potted 21 points and Stanger had the biggest night of his career by hitting 24 points, most of them on back-door plays.

Murtaugh moved ahead 25-16 in the first period with Stanger hitting 10, DeGeorge eight and John Flynn five. Declo moved to within eight at halftime and then, behind the scoring of Schrenk and Loveland; cut to within one late in the third period. Points by Flynn and Howard kept Murtaugh just ahead but in the fourth period, DeGeorge and Stanger hit six each and Rob Wright added four more to shove Murtaugh out of reach.

9 scorers help Carey cop win

GOODING — Nine players scored for Carey Friday night, Dennis Rush leading the way with 10 points, as the Panthers whipped Gooding State 49-35 despite one of the Redskins' better shooting performances.

Carey led 12-5 after the first quarter and boomed ahead 27-14 at the half. The Redskins pulled to within 36-22 after three quarters but could not close.

In the preliminary Gooding State won 50-43.

Bybee-led Raiders top Tigers

BRUNEAU — Keith Bybee pulled down 20 rebounds and got 23 points along with teammate Rolly Woosey Friday night as Rimrock raced by Richfield 82-71. The loss ended Richfield's title hopes.

The Raiders took a 16-10 lead at the first rest and never trailed, putting five men in double figures. Richfield cut the margin to 34-29 at the half, but fell behind 58-45 in the third quarter. Bowers pumped in 22 points for the Tigers, Jones chipped in with 19.

Mushers cinch tie for title

FAIRFIELD — Stove Shippey led Camas County domination of the backboards and had 20 points Friday night as the Mushers blew into a 41-15 halftime lead and beat Bliss 73-47, clinching a share of the Northside title.

The ice-cold Bears hit just 15 points over the 16-minute period after trailing 17-5 in the first quarter and were behind 53-27 after three periods. 10 men scored for the Mushers, Dave Bauscher joining Shippey in double figures with 14 points.

Camas romped in the preliminary 66-13.

Blackfoot outlasts Burley

BURLEY — The Blackfoot Broncos rallied from an eight-point halftime deficit to top the young Burley Bobcats 73-66 Friday night.

Burley went into the game without a senior on the team, the last two along with two juniors having been cut from the squad for breaking training rules.

Burley took a seven-point lead in the first quarter and pushed it to 33-25 at halftime. But, the Bobcats were hurt when junior and leading scorer Corey Kidd fouled out midway through the third period, taking his rebounding strength and point punch with him. The young Bobcats, with two sophomores playing most of the night, refused to let down but tired and Blackfoot pushed away.

Hollway gets Card position

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Bidwill brothers, owners of the St. Louis Cardinals football club, ended more than a month's search for a new coach Friday, naming 45-year-old Bob Hollway to replace the fired Charley Winner.

USLTA rankings give broad recognition to pros for first time

BELLEAIR, Fla. (UPI)—The United States Lawn Tennis Association (USLTA) wound up its annual meeting Saturday by granting greater recognition than ever before to professional players.

War Heim wins race in long stretch duel

ARCADIA, Calif. (UPI)—Lightly regarded War Heim won a protracted duel down the stretch from Hanelai Bay to score a nose victory Saturday in the $132,100 Charles H. Strub Stakes for 4-year-olds at Santa Anita.

Pacific coasts by Dons 81-63

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI)—The University of Pacific defeated the University of San Francisco, 81-63, Saturday afternoon as 8-10 junior center John Glanell continued to dominate his West Coast Athletic Conference opponents.

Glanell, the nation's fourth ranked rebounder with an 18.2 average, pulled down 18 from the boards, blocked eight shots and scored 24 points.

Bob Thomason followed with 23 points for the Tigers and Bernard Dulaney added, 11. The Tigers broke a 20-20 tie with five minutes remaining in the first half, then moved to a 35-27 halftime lead, and were never headed.

The Dons shot a poor 23 percent of their free throws, hitting only 22 of 95. USF's leading scorer Steve Ferreboeuf, who scored 27 in the earlier meeting with UOP, scored only six points. Johnny Burks and Mike Quick paced the Dons with 11 each.

Michigan keeps lead in Big 10

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Michigan survived a second half rally by Purdue to remain undefeated and in the lead for the Big Ten basketball crown with an 81-74 victory Saturday. The win left Michigan 7-0 in conference play and 13-4 overall while Purdue is 4-3 in Big Ten action and 11-6 for the season.

The Bulls continued to battle from a five-point deficit, 42-37, at the half to knot the score at 71-71 for the last time. The score had changed hands eight times in the final 20 minutes.

Milwaukee rallies past Bulls

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Bucks finally caught the Chicago Bulls with just 3:08 left in the game and won going away 103-96 Saturday afternoon.

Until the last minute heroics, sparked by guard Jon McGlocklin, the Bucks had to play catchup ball and just barely made it. Chicago stepped out to a 13-point lead at 23-10 in the first period and led 27-24 at the end of the quarter.

The Bulls then opened up a nine-point lead in the second period, but again had to be satisfied with just a three-point bulge at the half at 48-45. The third quarter was more of the same as Chicago led by 13 at one point, but had to settle for a 79-75 lead going into the final period.

The USLTA issued an All-American net ranking for the first time, listing the top 10 American male players—both pros and amateurs.

War Heim's victory was greeted with a roar of astonishment from the crowd of more than 47,000 as he paid $100 to win, $29.60 to place and $11.20 to show.

The well-paced race was won in the excellent time of 2:00 3/5 just a second off the track and takes record set by Bold Bidder in 1968 over the mile and a quarter distance.

For more than a mile, the Strub Stakes was a head-and-head battle between Hanelai Bay and Delaware Chief with War Heim laying back in fourth position most of the way under steady ride-by jockey John Sellers.

Delaware Chief took the lead as the field came by the stands for the first time but could barely get his head in front of Hanelai Bay. Mayhede was third and Sellers dropped War Heim into fourth place for the early stages of the race.

The same pair held the lead down the backstretch as they turned the six furlongs in 1:11 and the mile in 1:35 4/5. But as the horses moved around the second turn, Sellers brought War Heim to the outside and moved him up to challenge while Delaware Chief began fading.

Down the stretch it was a head-and-head battle between War Heim and Hanelai Bay with just a nod at the wire deciding the winner.

War Heim had won only one previous stakes in his career, a division of the Del Mar Derby last summer and he had never run more than a mile and an eighth. But the son of Slipper Disc demonstrated both stamina and distance ability in his surprise win.

Cliff Richey, an amateur from San Angelo, Tex., led the "All-America" ranking, followed by amateur Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif. But six pros were also listed—including four who are not under the association banner — Marty Rieas, Dennis Ralston, Pancho Gonzalez and Earl Buchholz.

The association adopted an executive committee recommendation to rank all contract pros who played under its auspices prior to the 1970 Forest Hills tournament in the regular rankings. Richey and Smith also led the regular USLTA men's ranking in one-two order.

Billy Jean King of Long Beach led the women's ranking, which includes a dozen pros formerly excluded from the ranking. There was no separate women's "All-America," since all the outstanding female pros are now playing under USLTA auspices.

Robert B. Colwell of Seattle, Wash., was elected president of the USLTA as expected. Other new officers are Walter E. Elcock of Brookline, Mass., first vice-president; W. E. Hester Jr. of Jackson, Miss., second vice-president; Stanley Malless of Indianapolis, secretary; and J. Clarence Davies of New York City, re-elected treasurer.

The Samuel Hardy award for outstanding service in tennis education programs was given to Daniel Johnson of New York City, president of the Eastern Tennis Patrons Association.

John Conroy of Princeton, N.J., received the tennis educational merit award for outstanding service by an instructor or teaching pro. Conroy conducts a junior community tennis program in Princeton.

BYU slips past New Mexico

PROVO, Utah (UPI)—Bernie Fryer hit four free throws in the final minute of play to give Brigham Young University a narrow 70-68 Western Athletic Conference victory over New Mexico Saturday afternoon.

BYU trailed 66-64 going into the last two minutes of play but a lay-in by Mike Faulkner tied the score at 66-66 with 1:59 left.

Fryer, the Cougars' leading scorer with 20 points, was fouled with a minute left to put BYU in front 68-66.

Seconds later the Cougars controlled a tip and Willie Long fouled Fryer who made it 70-66.

The Lobos' last basket came on a lay-in by Mike Faulkner with three seconds left.

BYU went ahead 19-9 early in the game but the Lobos came back to within one at 32-31 with 3:44 left in the first half. The Cougars then scored five straight to lead at halftime 37-31.

BYU is 6-3 in conference play and 14-8 overall. The Lobos dropped to 3-8 in the WAC and 13-8 overall.

Entries sought for cage meet

FILED — Entries are now being taken for the annual Magic Valley Outlaw basketball tournament which will be held March 17 through 20 at Filier High School gymnasium, announces Tournament Chairman Lee Bartlett.

Bartlett said the 16-team bracket with single elimination and consolation, will be filled on a first come, first served basis. Player limit will be 10 men on each team and those eligible must not have played with or against any college, junior college or AAU basketball team. Each player will be allowed to play with only one team in the meet.

The sessions will run five games Wednesday and Thursday night and six games Friday night, all starting at 8 p.m. The Saturday windup will have four games starting at 1 p.m. and the two title games starting at 7 p.m. that night.

Teams or team managers interested in entering a team should contact Bartlett by writing 1740 Harmon Park, Va., in Twin Falls or calling 733-2126.

Duke edges Terps 70-67

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI)—Dick Devenzo scored two four shots with four seconds remaining in the game Saturday to clinch a 70-67 victory for Duke over Maryland Saturday in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

Maryland, down by 10 points at the half and as many as 14 points in the final period, began a comeback with 15 minutes left in the game. Trailing 53-43, the Terps cut the margin to 55-51 with 10:33 left behind the shooting of Howard White and Jim O'Brien.

Idaho State breaks away in last half to top MSU

POCATELLO (UPI) — Idaho State's Bengals broke open a close contest in the second half giving coach Dan Miller's quintet a 91-82 nod over Montana State at the Mindoro Saturday night.

The Bengals, who upped their Big Sky mark to 6-3 and overall effort to 8-10, started quickly, and during the early moments held an 11-1 lead over the Bobcats. The visitors, on the strength of guard Bill Brickhouse, scored 20 first-half tallies and were behind only one point at the half.

With Willie Humes continuing his steady output and Trent Wagner's collecting 13 of his 16 in the final stanza, the Bengals held a comfortable margin during the final minutes. Humes took game scoring honors with 35. He collected 13 rebounds and had five assists for a brilliant evening.

Brickhouse, whose name is most often mentioned as the other guard slot on the all Big Sky team, could manage only two points in the second half and finished with 22.

Team statistics showed each with 36 field goals, but the Bengals hit on 19 of 31 from the charity stripe, while Montana State had 14 attempts and hit on 10.

The Bengals held a 62 — 48 rebounding edge, with Abe Gibbons collecting 16 to go along with his 16 tallies from the field.

Bascus KO's Maxwell while Boise State wallops Montana

BOISE (UPI) — Willie Bascus of Montana University held the individual punch the Grizzlies seemed to lack as a team as Boise State college whipped the visiting Montanans 98-74 in Big Sky Conference play.

The Broncos, soundly by Ron Austin, 542 points, led by wide margins most of the game, but the 6-6, 200-pound Bascus drummed up his own excitement with 1-42 before intermission by flooring Bronco guard Ron Maxwell with a right to the jaw.

The flagrant foul benched Bascus, but the Broncos also lost Maxwell for the duration after he was revived from 30 seconds of unconsciousness.

Bascus was apparently plucked by an aggressive BSC defense — hands everywhere — and by terror first half shooting which resulted in a 53-30 Bronco lead at the time of the infraction.

With Austin hitting for 29 points and the entire team shooting 51 per cent — 23 of 45 — by halftime, Boise jumped to an 8-1 lead in the first 1:20, doubled the score on Montana at 26-13 and repeated the trick again at 30-15 and 34-17.

After Bascus went to the bench, Austin connected on two free throws in Maxwell's behalf and pumped in two buckets for himself in the last minute for a 59-32 halftime lead. The lead went to 61-32, widest gap of the contest, on Greg Bunn's basket after the second half jump.

Montana whittled the Bronco lead to 18 points with 14:50 to play on a strange three-point play by Earl Tye. Tye's layup was ruled good via goaltending on Bunn and Tye sank a free throw as well to cut the margin to 66-48.

Austin waxed hot again late in the second half to notch a career single-game record for himself on 14 field goals and 14 of 15 free throws and the only yelling from the crowd the final eight minutes came as the Broncos missed five straight tries at 100 points.

The victory was Boise State's fifth of nine Big Sky starts and put their season toll at 10-11. Montana, which saw a three-game win Skein snapped, dropped to 5-14 overall and 3-6 in the BSAC.

LaSalle upsets Villanova

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—LaSalle College, playing without star Kenny Durrett, upset Villanova 73-69 Saturday night as Bob Fields took up the slack with a sparkling 30 point performance.

The Explorers, ahead 34-29 at halftime, never trailed in the final 20 minutes although Villanova tied the score four times.

Fields put LaSalle ahead to stay on a three-point play with 7:13 left. Ron Kennedy, who had 17 vital points in the game, then scored five straight points for the Explorers.

Durrett, who suffered a knee injury last Wednesday in a game with Canisius, watched from the bench as Fields and Kennedy led the Explorers to their 17th victory against two losses.

Utah beats Chaparrals

DALLAS (UPI)—Merv Jackson led a last minute rally which carried Utah to a 121-114 ABA victory over Texas Saturday night.

Jackson hit 9 points in the last three minutes of the game to pave the way for the win. Texas led 110-109 before Jackson started to work. The Stars led by only one point, 118-114 with 25 seconds left in the game before Jackson hit four free throws and a field goal.

Jackson ended with 24 points, but bowed to teammate Glen Combs for high point honors.

Dolphins coast by Bradley

CHICAGO (UPI)—Artis Gilmore, heading toward his second consecutive national rebounding championship, hauled in 20 rebounds and scored 24 points Saturday night to lead the Jacksonville Dolphins to a 89-79 victory over Bradley before 6,223 Chicago Stadium fans.

The sixth rank Dolphins, racking up their 12th straight win and their 18th in 20 games, played the Braves almost even in the first half and were behind as frequently as they were ahead until Harold Fox scored two baskets and a free throw in the closing minutes to give Jacksonville a 43-41 halftime lead.

In the second half the Dolphins got the first two baskets and six of the first eight to quickly earn a 10-point lead and never were in danger thereafter.

Cal has win over Huskies

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Phil Chenter scored 32 points Saturday night to lead the University of California to a 92-90 Pacific-8 win over the University of Washington Huskies.

Chenter scored 10 of his points in the first half and lifted four freethrows in the pace of 20 seconds to keep Cal ahead 90-84 with two minutes left in the game.

Bear Center Ansley Tright had 18 points and 21 rebounds while holding Washington's Steve Hawse to 7 points.

Washington was led by Dave Willenborg's 21.

The Bears led all the way and held a commanding 56-37 lead at the intermission. They were ahead by as much as 20 points midway in the second half.

Meely breaks Wilt's mark

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—Cliff Meely broke Wilt Chamberlain's old Big Eight scoring record Saturday night as the University of Colorado overpowered Oklahoma 98-69. Meely garnered 47 points, crusing the mark of 46 set by Chamberlain for Kansas in the 1957-58 season against Nebraska.

Meely also had 25 rebounds, which gave him 876 career rebounds to break the old CU record in that department too.

Oklahoma held CU to a 36-39, halftime tie but could not hold back the Buffaloes second half attack led by Meely, Jim Creighton and Dudley Mitchell. Creighton and Mitchell finished with 22 and 20 points respectively.

Bobby Jack led the losers with 19 points.

Palmer carries 3-stroke margin into final round

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, warming up to the heat and the cheers of a huge gallery he shared with Vice President Spiro Agnew, shot a four-under par 68 Saturday to take a three stroke lead with one round left to play in the 90-hole, $140,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

The 41-year-old Palmer, plugging along in quest of his first title since late 1959, played methodically if not spectacularly in 90-degree weather to run his 72-hole score to 18-under-par 272. Palmer had two birds going out and two coming home and for the first time in the journey did not have a bogey. He played at Bermuda Dunes. Closest to him were former PGA champ Ray Floyd, who shot a fourth round two under 70, Bert Yancey, who had a six under 68. That put Floyd and Yancey at 13-under 275. Floyd also played Bermuda Dunes while Yancey carded his fine round at Tamarisk.

Jim Wiechers, who started the fourth round tied with Palmer at 12 under 264, had a one over 73 and tied with Bob Rosburg who shot a 67 at Indian Wells, at 11 under 277, while Billy Casper, the 1970 player of the year, carded a one under 71 and was all alone at 10 under 278.

Next came John Miller, who shot a six under 66 at La Quinta, and Charles Coody, who had a 69 at Bermuda, tied at 279, nine under par. Dick Rhyen, with a 71 at Tamarisk, and Bob Murphy, with a 69 at the same course, were tied at 280.

The cut was set at 291, three over par, and not one leading pro was knocked out for the final round.

Palmer two-putted every green except the fifth, seventh, 14th and 18th where he bagged his birds. His longest putt was 18 feet on No. 7, a par-three.

Putting has been Palmer's big problem for a year but he said he was satisfied with his putting Saturday.

"I was rolling the ball good on slow greens," Palmer said. "I feel that any time I roll them that good some are going to go in." Palmer has won the Hope Classic, played over four desert courses, three times and said it is one of his favorite tournaments.

"I always play well here, so I'm encouraged by what I've done this week," he said.

George Hixon, who shared the second round lead, shot a 69 and was tied with Al Mengert and Tom Shaw, winner of the Crosby and Inwallan Open, at seven under 281. Shaw and Mengert both shot 68 in the fourth round.

Marly Fleckman, the first round leader who faded in the second round, shot a 70 and was tied with Mike Hill (71) and Steve Elchstaedt (69) at 282.

No one else among those who made the cut figured to have a chance of catching Palmer and the other front-runners.

Mike Reasor, who once carded for Palmer, shot the tournament's best round—a nine under 63 at Indian Wells—and was in a group at 283.

Miller Barber, the Phoenix Open champ, was at 286 and defending champion Bruce Devlin was at 287.

Agnew, playing with pro Doug Sanders, host Bob Hope and baseball star Willie Mays, hit two spectators on the very first hole, then settled down and managed to par two par-three and two par-five holes.

One of the spectators Agnew hit with his tee shot was Jacqueline Woods of Chatsworth, Calif. She went to a local hospital but was not hurt seriously, suffering a bruise on her ankle.

Despite the presence of 60 marines and the usual platoon of secret service men, a huge gallery followed the Agnew group around Bermuda Dunes. Sanders, who was hit by an Agnew shot in last year's Hope Classic called the vice president "a courageous guy."

"He's a man's man," added Sanders. "He showed me something the way he came back to play well once we got away from the first hole."

Agnew, talking about his problem on the first tee, said: "It looked for a while like I was going to get on my horse and ride into the sunset. But I did settle down and I had a lot of fun. I'm happy no one was hurt seriously."

Cochran sisters, Russi cop victories in skiing slaloms

MONT. STE. ANNE, Que. (UPI)—The skiing Cochran sisters from Richmond, Va., Marilyn and Barbara, Saturday finished one-two in the women's slalom at the 13-nation Bank of Montreal International meet.

Switzerland's Bernhard Russi, hailed as a "new Jean Claude Killy," powered his way to victory in the men's giant slalom, holding off a challenge from teammate Edmund Bruggmann in the second heat for a .05 second edge. The Swiss team, outstanding so far, took three of the four top places in the event.

Austria's Anne-Marie Froell regained the women's World Cup points lead from France's Michele Jacot with a fourth place finish in the slalom. She also placed fourth in Friday's giant slalom. Miss Froell had 142 points, nine more than Miss Jacot.

Russi jumped from seventh to fifth place in the men's standings. Gustavo Thoenen of Italy retained the lead with 110 points.

Marilyn Cochran, 20, who has often played second-fiddle to her younger sister, bested her at this Laurentian Mountains resort, flashing down the 1,275-foot course for a combined time of 82.20 seconds in the two-heat slalom. It was her first World Cup victory.

Barbara, the ace of the U.S. team, had a combined time of 83.45. It was the first time in two years that she had lost to her sister.

"I am very happy my sister beat me," Barbara graciously offered.

Marilyn, who had the best second heat time of 40.45, said:

"I attacked the course more on the second run. It was a very interesting course. I had no special difficulties. The snow conditions were perfect."

USC elubs Oregon on backboards

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Aggressive Southern California, getting numerous second and third shots at the Oregon hoop, broke from a tie midway through the second half Saturday to down Oregon 93-78 in the Pacific-8 Conference.

The victory kept the third-ranked Trojans in hot pursuit of UCLA for the conference title with a 6-1 record. UCLA, which plays Oregon State Saturday night, is 6-0.

Hot-shooting by center Stan Love shoved Oregon to an early 14-8 lead over USC in the regionally televised match. But the Trojans came back and dominated their offensive backboards to race to a 43-36 halftime lead.

Love went to work again in the second half and reeled off 11 straight points to pull the Ducks to a 60-60 tie with 10 minutes remaining.

However, the Trojans then went on a 33-18 spurt to pick up their second victory in less than 18 hours in Oregon. USC downed Oregon State 82-63 Friday night.

Big guns for the Trojans was Ron Riley with 23 points. Love topped all scorers with 34 points.

HAGERMAN — The Hagerman Pirates set the tempo of the game with a full court press in the first period and then ran to an 89-46 decision over the Castleford Wolves Friday night.

Hagerman, which had a scare in the first meeting with the Wolves on a slowdown, got the game going its way from the start. The press was not responsible for many Wolf turnovers but once Hagerman had established the lead it became impossible for Castleford to be as deliberate as Coach Bud Watkins would have liked.

The Pirates, leading 17-12 after the first period, began pulling rapidly away in the second quarter and then took the press off. The Pirates completely dominated the backboards and saw Laughlin hit 31, Glauner 20 and Doug Butler 19. Castleford was paced by Ron Kaercher who had 18.

Hagerman now meets Hansen Tuesday in a showdown that will probably establish the second place team in the Magic Valley Conference and the coveted second-place bye in the district tournament.

Hagerman also won the preliminary 43-35.

Mtn. Home overpowers Jerome

MOUNTAIN HOME — The resurgent Mountain Home Tigers, using the height of 6-8 Joe Podrabsky and 6-8 Gregg Thompson, took their sixth victory in seven games Friday night by whipping the Jerome Tigers 63-45.

Mountain Home led just 14-11 after the first quarter against Jerome, again playing without top rebounder Jim Meeks. Jerome, powerless underneath, gave away a lot of close shots and trailed 34-20 at the half.

High-scoring Roger Campbell could manage just four points for Jerome. Charlie Stewart was top man for the Tigers with 12. Thompson had 10 points for Mountain Home to go with Podrabsky's 18.

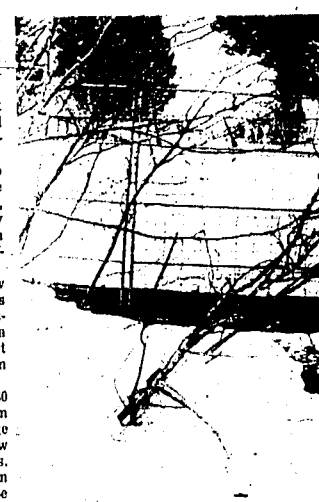

Mountain Home started the season with an 11-game losing streak but now stands 6-12. Earlier this season the Tigers surprised Jerome in Jerome.

The injury-plagued Tigers hope to have Meeks back next week and in action for the district tournament in two weeks. Walters had eight points for Jerome. Morris and McIntyre chipped in four apiece.

Fordham nips St. John's

NEW YORK (UPI)—A dramatic steal by Bart Woytowicz in the final minute and a pair of key free throws by Charley Yelverton carried 14th-ranked Fordham to a 76-72 victory over St. John's Saturday in the second game of a college basketball doubleheader.

Feeding and trapping

IDAHO FISH AND GAME department personnel are carrying out a two-pronged project to help wintering elk on Warm Springs Creek range. At the upper end of the valley at Crony Cove, Dale Turnipseed, department biologist, and sportsman Cal See spread hay, a thrice a week 15-mile trip by snow machine. At the lower end, just out of the Ketchum city limits, the department is using this trap and transport system to move the elk from the depleted and shrinking range to better range in the Magic Reservoir area.

Buchanan stops Navarro

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Smooth-boxing Ken Buchanan increased his stature as the world's lightweight champion Friday night when he pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over Ruben Navarro of Los Angeles in the first defense of the crown he won last September from Ismael Laguna.

Navarro, named only last Tuesday as a substitute for injured former champion Mando Ramos, fought a game bout but the loser graciously said after the bout, "He was the better man and he just beat me."

Liquori has 3:57.2 mile in Federation track meet

HOUSTON (UPI)—Marty Liquori of Villanova ran the third fastest indoor mile in history and the best of his illustrious career, a 3:57.2 to win the event in the Astrodome Federation National Indoor Track and Field championships Saturday night.

Matson outduels rival Al Feuerbach in Athens games

OAKLAND (UPI)—Tall Texan Randy Matson set a meet and Oakland Coliseum record with a 68-4 heave in the shot put Saturday night to edge his weekly rival Al Feuerbach by 14 1-2 inches at the Athens Invitational.

Pender ties mark for 70-yard dash

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Army Capt. Mel Pender, a 35-year-old veteran from West Point, tied his own world record for the 70-yard dash Saturday night, timed 8.8 seconds in the 11th annual Mason-Dixon game.

The stocky short-legged officer handed Kentucky's Jim Green his first defeat of the current indoor track season as the Kentuckian finished one-tenth of a second behind in second place.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, the late-blooming 27-year-old sprint sensation, was forced to withdraw from the event after pulling a leg muscle in a heat which he won in 7.2 seconds.

Kjell Isaksson, former soldier in the Swedish army, soared 16 feet, six inches to win the pole vault, but he was more than a foot short of the new indoor world record he set Friday night in the Los Angeles Times meet.

Isaksson, 22, who has recently enrolled at Southern Cal, said his winning vault Saturday night was his worst in his last nine meets.

He blamed the poor vault on the angle of the box in which he plants his pole for the takeoff, calling it "old fashioned."

Leon Coleman of Boston easily won the 70-yard high hurdles in the absence of his 1968 Olympic teammate, Willie Davenport. Coleman was clocked in 8.1 seconds with second place Charles Peters, Kentucky, finishing in 8.3.

Terry Musika, of the Pacific Coast Club, outlasted Tom Turner of Murray (Ky.) State University to win the 440-yard run in 47.8 seconds. The shotput was won by Brian Oldfield of the University of Chicago track club with a heave of 61 feet.

The University of Chicago Track Club, anchored by Lowell Paul, won the two-mile relay in 7:29.4. The University of New Mexico was second and the New York Athletic Club third.

Mamie Rallins, of the Chicago Mayor Daley Youth Federation, captured the women's 70-yard low hurdles in seven minutes, 11 and John Uggie-10.

Liquori, whose previous best was 3:57.6 at the Compton Relays in 1969, took the lead on the back stretch with 660 yards to go and beat Houston's Leonard Hilton by about 20 yards.

Hilton finished in 3:59 to become the first native Texan to run a sub four minute mile and Greg Carlburg of Nebraska was third in 3:59.6.

The world indoor record for the mile is 3:56.4 by Tom O'Hara of Loyola of Chicago March 6, 1964. O'Hara also has the second fastest indoor time of 3:56.8.

Kansas' Jim Ryan had the fourth best mark at 3:57.5. Liquori was fourth at the quarter in 59.8, third at the half in 2:02 and in front after three quarters at 3:02. He was hemmed in by Hilton and front runner George Stewart of Oklahoma State when he tried to make his first move out of the pack on the final turn of the second lap on the one-fifth mile board track.

Mark Winzenried ran a 1:46.3 half mile to lead Wisconsin to a world record of 7:10.8 in the two-mile relay.

Oklahoma State, spurred by a 45.3 third leg by Dennis Schultz, won the mile relay in 3:07.8. Dave Morton of Texas ran a 44.6 anchor leg to pull the Longhorns from last to fourth in the seven-team race.

It was the second indoor triumph in four starts for Hart this season.

He also won his dash heat in 6.1 while Kornilouk topped five other sprinters in taking the other heat in 6.2.

In the 60-yard high hurdles, Lance Babbs of the California Track Club nipped Ery Hall at the tape to win in 7.2 seconds.

Former Olympian Ralph Boston returned to long jump competition for the first time in six months and cleared 24 feet, on all six of his attempts, hitting a best of 24-9 1-4.

However, that was good enough only for second place as Stan Rosteyer captured the event with a leap of 24-11.

Boston was competing unattached for the first time since he had been reinstated as an amateur by the AAU. Boston had been suspended last year by the AAU for working in Southern California as a television color man at track meets.

In the 500-yard run, Jim Kemp put on a closing burst to win over Jay Eibel in 57.0.

Vandy has 81-75 nod

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Vanderbilt's Thorpe Weber scored 22 points and pulled down 12 rebounds as the Commodores tightened the Southeastern Conference basketball race with an 81-75 victory over Louisiana State.

Vanderbilt turned four LSU fouls into five points on free throws in the final two and a half minutes to help clinch the victory.

Utah, helped by a great second half and the ejection of Texas-EI Paso coach Don Haskins, beat the Miners 69-64 Saturday night to hold on to first place in the Western Athletic Conference.

Leading 61-59 with 47 seconds remaining, Utah's Mike Nowlin scored four free throws, three awarded as a result of Haskins' ejection from the game following an intentional foul call against Utah's Rick Warner.

Warner had fouled Nowlin and when the referees awarded two shots for the intentional foul Haskins argued and was removed from the game.

Nowlin converted on one of the two intentional foul tries and all three technical foul and Utah led 65-59.

The game's leading scorer, Utah's Dick Gibbs then scored five more points but Utah's Ken Gardner had four as the Redskins held on for the victory.

Gibbs had 22 points for the night. Nowlin had 21 and Gardner scored 14.

Utah's only other double figure scorer was Ron Warner who had 10.

The visiting miners controlled most of the ball game and Utah didn't lead until 14 minutes into the second half when Eddie Trail scored a rebound basket to give Utah a 54-53 lead.

A-State has win

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI)—Arizona State University survived a five-minute lapse early in the second half to defeat Wyoming, 81-76, Saturday night.

The win gave Arizona State a 6-3 record in the Western Athletic Conference, good for a tie for first place with Brigham Young and Utah. Wyoming's record fell to 4-6.

The Sun Devils were led by Dave Hullman, who came off the bench to get 18 points, 10 of those during the last 12 minutes of the first half when Arizona State raced to a 44-37 halftime advantage.

ASU widened the margin to 53-40 during the first four minutes of the second half, then was outscored, 16-2, in the next five minutes as Wyoming came to within one, 57-56, with 11 minutes left.

Utah, helped by a great second half and the ejection of Texas-EI Paso coach Don Haskins, beat the Miners 69-64 Saturday night to hold on to first place in the Western Athletic Conference.

Squires nip Colonels

HAMPTON, Va. (UPI)—Rookies Charlie Scott of Virginia and Dan Isell of Kentucky waged their usual duel Saturday but Scott's five points in the closing minutes meant the difference as the Squires edged the Colonels 128-123 in an American Basketball Association game.

Marquette tops Detroit

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Dean Meminger sank 27 points Saturday night to lead second ranked Marquette to a 81-67 victory over Detroit and its 20th victory in a row this season.

The win was the warriors 32nd straight over two seasons—the longest winning streak in the nation—and the 55th in a row on their home floor.

'Skins topple UTEP

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Utah, helped by a great second half and the ejection of Texas-EI Paso coach Don Haskins, beat the Miners 69-64 Saturday night to hold on to first place in the Western Athletic Conference.

Leading 61-59 with 47 seconds remaining, Utah's Mike Nowlin scored four free throws, three awarded as a result of Haskins' ejection from the game following an intentional foul call against Utah's Rick Warner.

Warner had fouled Nowlin and when the referees awarded two shots for the intentional foul Haskins argued and was removed from the game.

Nowlin converted on one of the two intentional foul tries and all three technical foul and Utah led 65-59.

The game's leading scorer, Utah's Dick Gibbs then scored five more points but Utah's Ken Gardner had four as the Redskins held on for the victory.

Gibbs had 22 points for the night. Nowlin had 21 and Gardner scored 14.

Utah's only other double figure scorer was Ron Warner who had 10.

The visiting miners controlled most of the ball game and Utah didn't lead until 14 minutes into the second half when Eddie Trail scored a rebound basket to give Utah a 54-53 lead.

Idaho leads throughout in upsetting Weber State 69-54

MOSCOW (UPI)—Idaho upset the front-running Weber State Wildcats in Big Sky Conference play Saturday night, 69-54, leading all the way.

The Vandals played a deliberate offense and controlled the boards over the much taller Wildcats. With John Nelson and Malcolm Taylor leading the scoring in the first half the Vandals built up a 28-17 lead.

Defensive play by Nelson on All-America candidate Willie Sojourner held him to five points in the first half and a total of nine for the game.

In the second half, the Vandals kept up their controlled offense and despite a tight foul court press by the Wildcats held on to a 10 to 15 point lead.

The closest Weber got was 51-44 with Idaho in front with seven minutes left to play. However, Gary Koethe, coming off the bench, and Malcolm Taylor and Marvin Williams combined with quick buckets and built the lead back up.

Weber could sink only 21 of 55 field-goal attempts for 33 per cent while the Vandals hit 28 of 52 for 55 per cent and out-rebounded the taller Wildcats, 41-27.

Wins

SEATTLE (UPI)—Utah State piled up 61 first half points and used a second half egg throwing incident to spur them on to a 99-85 basketball win over Seattle University Saturday night.

Marv Roberts, who had a game high 41 points, poured in 28 of them in the first half as the Aggies built a 61-51 half-time lead.

"Diamonds are a girl's best friend," according to the old Broadway hit song. But what about the FAKE diamonds that are all the rage these days?

Imitation diamonds are usually man-made mineral compounds that have enough diamondlike qualities to be able to "fool your friends" and make attractive jewelry. Unfortunately, some claims for simulated diamonds have led a number of buyers to expect too much of them.

If you plan to buy an imitation diamond, know what mineral compound you're getting and be prepared to wear it with special care. Some imitations have qualities of brilliance, but not hardness. Others have some hardness but less brilliance. Here's how they line up:

STRONTIUM TITANATE: This mineral compound has plenty of diamondlike brilliance and a fiery look caused by dispersion of white light into flashing colors. According to Dr. George S. Switzer, mineralogy curator, Smithsonian Institution, "Strontium titanate has too much of a fiery look." A top-grade diamond, he says, has a white, cool look.

The main drawback of a fake diamond made of strontium titanate, however, is its softness. It has a rating of 6 on the hardness scale (real diamonds are rated 10) and is easy to scratch or chip.

It's not a good idea to use strontium titanate for a wedding or engagement ring, a person plans to wear all the time in such places as the kitchen, laundry or office. Worn as an occasional "dinner ring," as a pendant, strontium titanate can make a handsome piece of jewelry.

Strontium titanate stones are being marketed nationally by such names as Fabulite, Pauline Trigrere, Kenneth Lane and Wellington. Prices run around $50 a carat with a mounted piece of jewelry averaging $150. A good, authentic, one-carat diamond costs from $1,000 to $2,000.

A carat is a measure of weight, not size. To get a strontium titanate stone the size of a three-carat diamond, you'd need five carats.

DOUBLETS: Hattie Carnegie has a "doublet" diamond imitation—made of aluminum titanate with a thin cap of synthetic spinel cemented on top. It is marketed under the name Carnegiegem and sells for $75 a carat ($50 a carat for three carats or more).

According to Bernard N. Burnstine, who does diamond appraising for the U.S. Treasury, "the synthetic spinel cap on the Carnegiegem is harder and provides some surface protection (it's rated 8 on the scale). It also cuts down some of the fiery look of the strontium titanate which makes it look more realistic." But Burnstine warns that the bottom part of the Carnegiegem is still relatively soft and should be used with considerable care.

YAGs: Synthetic yttrium aluminum garnets (otherwise known as YAGs) make an imitation diamond product that is tougher than strontium titanate but lacks some of that compound's fire and brilliance. Union Carbide makes a YAG product called the Linde stone. Raytheon markets its product through Trifari under the Trimond name. Sake Fifth Avenue sells Liton Industries' YAG under the Diamonair name. Prices average $45 a carat with some stores selling one carat YAG stones in a simple, goldsetting for $65.

"Some claims for yttrium aluminum garnet and Carnegie imitation diamonds have tended to overemphasize the hardness factor," says Robert Crowningshield, director of the Gemological Institute of America. Crowningshield says YAGs (rated at 8.25 on the scale) are harder to scratch or crack than other simulated diamonds but are nowhere near as hard as a real diamond.

When you buy a simulated diamond, says Crowningshield, you must remember it won't have the continuing value of a real diamond. For this reason, most gem appraisers think it's foolish to spend a lot of money on a fancy-looking-for-an-imitation.

Warranties for simulated diamonds tend to be vague. A reputable store with its own "satisfaction guarantee" is your best place to buy.

Realtors name new committees

SHOSHONE — Committee appointments for the year were announced Saturday by Ray Assendrup, Jerome, president of the North Side Board of Realtors.

They include Edgar Dryden, Jerome; Roger Brown, Wendell; and Carlisle Buttler, membership; Glen Jackson, Jerome; Phil Hirrel, Wendell; John LeMoine, Hagerman, and Harrell Thorne, Shoshone, make America better; Marcus Kill, Wendell; Harrel Thorne and Harvey Iverson, Gooding, arbitration; James Muffley, Gooding, legislation; John LeMoine, Hagerman, education, and Mrs. Thorne, reporter.

Members voted at their last meeting to change their fiscal year from September to Aug. 31, with election of officers scheduled for May. The action was taken upon suggestion of the state board of realtors to allow newly elected officers to attend state meetings prior to their taking over their duties.

Assendrup reported on the state presidents and secretaries conclave in Boise. He said the state board will travel through the state this year, holding one-day seminars.

RAY ASSENDRUP
Glen Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mahan, Jerome, showed slides of their trip to Europe last summer at the meeting, which was the first for the new local officers.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Roberts and Herbert Thorne. Roberts and Thorne are two new members to the board. The meeting was hosted by Glen Jackson.

Revision made on Columbia runoff

SPOKANE (UPI) — The total runoff for streams of the upper Columbia River drainage system have been revised upward, Robert Small, chief meteorologist for the National Weather Service said here Wednesday.

Small said January precipitation, especially in the mountain areas of British Columbia and northern Idaho, was well above average, although some lower elevation stations, like Spokane, had less than normal precipitation.

"All streams in the Columbia River drainage above Grand Coulee dam are expected to flow near or above normal for the period extending from February through September. Other runoffs in the area were the Kootenai River at Libby, Mont., at 104 per cent of normal; the Clark Fork River at St. Regis, Mont., at 110 per cent; and Pend Oreille Lake inflow in northern Idaho at 109 per cent or normal."

Small temblor noted

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (UPI) — A ground tremor described as a "small earthquake" shook homes, rattled windows and played havoc with dishes in this Wabash River town Friday.

Sismologists at St. Louis University said the quake registered between 3.5 and 4 on the Richter scale and lasted less than 10 seconds.

The epicenter was about 125 miles east of St. Louis, Mo., and about five miles west of Mount Carmel in Illinois, they said.

support hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said Friday President Nixon would support new senate hearings on the disclosure that William J. Casey, his nominee to head the Securities and Exchange Commission, was once accused of selling unregistered stocks on the basis of false information.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said his Senate Banking Committee probably would reopen its hearing into Casey's nomination as a member and probable chairman of the SEC. The committee approved the nomination Wednesday after perfunctory hearings.

Time for living

Recently I read about a real active gal. Mrs. Harry H. Cameron, San Diego, Calif. During her retirement she's become quite a celebrated volunteer — donating 25,500 hours of service in twelve years.

Two days a week at 8 a.m. Mrs. Cameron checks in at the Hillside Hospital to man the information desk. Then she's off helping at fund-raising rummage sales, rolling bandages, filling in menu forms, or sorting mail for the hospital. She volunteers an average of five hours a day of her time.

Maybe you've been trying to shake those "doing nothing" blues that sometimes creep into retirement. If so, you may find volunteer work offers one of the best cures.

Thousands of retirees find volunteer work a highly rewarding and satisfying experience. Why? Because by serving others through volunteer work, you can help yourself by enhancing or securing your place in your community. . . you meet new friends. . . and you may discover unknown talents or skills that will lead to paid jobs or a second career.

You may not be able to contribute "record breaking" hours like Mrs. Cameron, but you can look about your immediate circle of interest to see what appeals to you and decide how much time you'd like to give.

Take Dr. Elmore Helle of Cincinnati, Ohio. He's one of sixteen retired men in his area who regularly drive 120 persons for the Stepping Stones recreation program for the handicapped or crippled children, victims of cerebral palsy, or mentally retarded. Since transportation is a critical aspect of many programs, Dr. Helle and his "Committee on Wheels" are rendering a unique service.

"I enjoy being of service," says Dr. Helle. "and feel happy at the end of the day if I made someone smile."

Ester Smith, Wichita, Kan., began one project that led to other ones. At first, her Twentieth Century Club urged her to teach an "Art of Living" class. Her lessons were so well received that she was asked to teach a Sunday school of young marrieds; mostly college graduates. These led to book reviews, some for pay.

But she decided she'd rather donate her services to smaller organizations eager for the talks, but unable to pay for them. Her lecture topics expanded, and one such talk, "The Meaning of Easter," was so popular that she sold it to a magazine. She has since compiled other talks into a book soon to be printed.

Julius Chaffl, Brooklyn, N.Y., finds that volunteer work keeps his skills as a magician and musician fresh. He's often seen performing his magic act or playing his violin at veterans hospitals.

"To a sick person, entertainment is almost as beneficial as medicine," he believes. And he's reaped the benefits of feeling useful and needed as a result.

Surely within the range of your interests there's someone you can contribute to in some way — being a friendly visitor, instructing in arts, crafts, music, assisting in recreational programs, committee work, etc. I'll guarantee that in most cases you'll get more than you give when you volunteer.

Perhaps volunteer work goes hand-in-hand with the words of philosopher William James: "The great use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it."

Calendar's crazy: spring's sprung!

Twin Falls and vicinity: Partly cloudy today; increasing clouds tonight with a chance of rain showers; partly cloudy on Monday. High today and Monday 35 to 45; low tonight in the teens. Chance of precipitation 10 per cent or less today, and 30 per cent tonight. Central Idaho Mountains, Camas Prairie; Hailey and lower Wood River Valley: Partly cloudy today; increasing clouds tonight with a chance of rain showers; partly cloudy Monday. High today and Monday 35 to 45; low tonight in the teens. Chance of precipitation 10 per cent or less today, and 30 per cent tonight. Central Idaho Mountains, south of Salmon River: Partly cloudy in the south, ranging to mostly cloudy in the north today; increasing clouds tonight with widely scattered rain showers spreading from the west. Showers continuing Monday in the eastern sections, with snow at higher elevations. High today and Monday 35 to 45; low tonight upper teens through the 20s. Chance of precipitation

10 per cent today, rising to 50 per cent in the north and 30 per cent in the south tonight. Weather synopsis: The ridge of weak high pressure over the Far West is still strong enough to force most of the storm systems north of the Snake River Valley for the next couple of days. The cold front now approaching the Pacific Northwest coast would have little effect on the Magic Valley, with the exception of some increasing cloudiness and slightly cooler temperatures, and a chance of showers over the northern mountains. The forecast calls for partly cloudy skies through today, with increasing cloudiness and a chance of a few showers over the mountains tonight.

Proposed law restricts any large encampment

BOISE — Long-haired hippies seeking to foster a hard-rock festival in Idaho face rough sledding under terms of a comprehensive law introduced in the Idaho House by the Judiciary Rules and Administration Committee.

The proposed legislation imposes severe restrictions on any group of 1,000 persons or more desiring to encamp in any one location for 22 hours or more. There are a few exemptions, but the law is clearly drawn to allow county commissioners to clamp the lid on any actively deemed offensive or undesirable.

The law has been suggested to prevent unruly mobs from spreading havoc and destruction as has been done in other cases, according to the sponsors of the measure.

A major provision of the law, and one that may well halt any plans to mobilize rock fans by the thousands, is the requirement that a license must be obtained within 30 days of a planned gathering from the county commission. The license will cost a flat $100 per day of the gathering, with no exceptions or exemptions. In effect, a separate $100 license is required for each day the gathering continues, and the commissioners can refuse the license at any time.

Referring directly to the excessive noise of rock music festivals, the proposed legislation declares that "The license shall not permit the sound of the assembly to carry unreasonably beyond the enclosed boundaries of the location of the assembly."

The law, however, would not apply to "any regularly established permanent place of worship, stadium, athletic field, arena, auditorium, coliseum or other similar permanently established place of assembly . . . which does not exceed by more than 250 people the maximum seating capacity of the structure where the assembly is held."

The legislation also specifically exempts "government-sponsored fairs held on regularly established fairgrounds."

The law establishes rigid standards for sanitation and cleanliness; the group seeking the license must provide that the assembly site contains a fence which will in effect, keep out "party-crashers; plus a plentiful supply of drinking water, including one gallon per person per day of drinking water and 10 gallons per person per day for bathing.

For an assembly of 1,000 persons, the sponsors emphasized, the sponsors would have to provide a minimum of 11,000 gallons of "potable" water per day . . . a rather difficult assignment for any other than a well-organized group.

Ample sanitary facilities must be provided for the assembly, with "separate enclosed toilets for males and females, meeting all state and local specifications," at the rate of at least one for every 200 women ("females," as the law says), and one for every 300 men, plus a lavatory with running water "under pressure."

The stringent regulations demand that one nurse and one doctor be provided on the grounds for each 1,000 people, plus an enclosed infirmary for treating any injuries or ailments; proper nighttime lighting; a "free parking area" with one parking space for every four persons, or 250 parking spots for each 1,000 people; an "outside telephone line accessible to all; overnight camping facilities; security guards, with one guard provided for every 750 people; proper fire protection; and a repeated demand for noise control.

In addition to the $100 per day fee, a bond of $1 per person must be deposited with the county to handle any demonstrations or destruction of property.

All stipulated conditions must be guaranteed in writing by the person responsible for the group, before a license will be granted.

Violation of the proposed legislation would make the violator liable for a fine ranging from $1,000 to $10,000 for each day the law is violated.

The act would take effect, if enacted, on June 1 of this year.

Homeowners warned on swindle plans

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Beware of home improvement swindlers, cautions a family economist. Dr. Gary Hansen, chairman of the Department of Family Economics and Management, University of Nebraska, said some of the most common tricks are: —"You've won a prize!" Some salesmen use this gimmick to get a foot in the door and then sell you the latest improvements in siding, storm windows or burglar alarms.

—The fake bargain. The salesman offers you a "wholesale price" for a home item because you've been chosen as a "model" for your neighborhood.

—The phony emergency. Non-existent dangerous leaks are found in the water or pipes in your home.

—Bait and switch. Extremely low prices are quoted in advertisements, and when you respond you're discouraged from buying the item only to be encouraged to buy a better product at an inflated price.

Hereford bull sale slated

MACKAY — The 10th Annual Spring Hereford Range Bull Sale of the Central Idaho Hereford Association will be held at the Mackay heated Sale Barn, Saturday, March 6 starting at 1:00 p.m. with auctioneer Ken Trout conducting the sale featuring 75 Top Quality Hereford Range Bulls.

The grading and show will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock when Wayne Aangle of Nampa will judge the animals. No bull grading under a B will be offered in the ring.

Trophies donated by the Mackay Office of the Idaho First National Bank and the Butte County Bank at Arco will be presented to the owner of the Grand Champion and the Reserve Champion Bulls.

Secretary Paul Patee stated that extra fine quality bulls are to be offered at the sale as many of the top Idaho breeders and some out-of-state breeders will offer consignments of choice quality animals.

The bulls offered at this sale have a reputation for being, big, rugged and range-ready Herefords, both horned and polled.

Ida gem sets annual meet

JEROME — The 56th annual membership meeting of Ida Gem Dairymen, Inc. will be held Thursday at the main office in Jerome. It will start at noon. Reports will be given by auditor Albert Jentzch, Walla Walla; President Robert Burks and General Manager R. Lyons Smith.

BURDETTE L. FISHER

The main speaker will be Burdette L. Fisher who succeeded James P. George as general manager of the Challenge Cream and Butter Association. Fisher was born in Valders, Wis., Feb. 21, 1920. He graduated from high school there and went to University of Wisconsin where he majored in agriculture.

His entire business life, except for a tour of duty in the Coast Guard during World War II, has been in the dairy industry. He comes to Challenge from Louisville, Ky., where he was general manager of Kyana Milk Producers Inc.

In addition to his duties as general manager of Kyana, Fisher was in charge of public relations for Dairymen Incorporated.

Upon graduation from college Fisher started as a fieldman for the DIFA and later was in charge of the field department and public relations for the Lake to Lake Dairy Co-op in Kiel, Wis. He served four years as executive director of the Wisconsin Milk and Ice Cream Producers Association in Madison, Wis. Prior to going to Kentucky where he has been since 1962. He has had extensive experience in federal order markets and in merging cooperatives.

Paper currency notes issued during the French Revolution were called assignats.

Bull sale planned March 12

FILER — Date of the annual Spring Bull Sale of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association here will be March 12. Robert Henderlinder, association executive secretary, said Saturday.

Henderlinder said the sale will again be the largest such event in the western states this year. Consignments will be offered in all major beef breeds with breeders from Idaho, Washington, eastern Oregon and other surrounding areas indicating plans to offer quality bulls.

Changes in sale plans for this year, Henderlinder said, should make this a far bigger sale than the association has ever held in Filer.

Core sampling discussed at meet

RUPERT — Wool coring samples are now being perfected to give ranchers and producers the benefit of true value for their wool, Lowell Wilson, research wool specialist, Dubois Sheep Experiment Station, told the annual Minidoka County Wool and Lamb Pool Association meeting.

Wilson discussed core sampling methods which are used to set the value of the wool being sold. He reminded ranchers clean wool alone can result in a price increase of up to 33 per cent.

Members also heard a panel discussion of proper feeding of lambs and ewes with Wade Wells, Boise, extension livestock specialist and moderator and Lloyd Patterson and Gerald Schneider, both Paul, as speakers.

Association members re-elected Merrill Butterfield as director for a three year term. Members were served dinner as guests of the First Security Bank of Rupert; Idaho Bank and Trust; Paul; Idaho First National Bank, Rupert, and the Production Credit Assn., Burley. Bernard Scott conducted the Tuesday meeting as association chairman.

Record given on Moscow cow

MOSCOW — Idaho Majority Ben, one of the University of Idaho's registered Holsteins, has given more than eight tons of milk in less than a year, according to Dr. Auttis Mullins, head of the department of animal industries.

In 324 days the 2-year-old has given 16,200 pounds of milk, 585 pounds of butterfat and 1,311 pounds of solids-not-fat (SNF). Solids-not-fat is the part of milk that contains protein, lactose, minerals and other elements which affect milk's nutrition and flavor. The Holstein Association's testing program has provided for determining SNF nutrients since 1902.

Today's their special day

Memorial books donated

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent

FILER — Books are "memories suspended in space." Good books are much like old friends — all are enjoyable, comfortable and enduring.

The memory of a well-read book is much like the memory of a beloved friend after the friend has moved away or been taken by death. Perhaps this is why some clubs and individuals in Filer observe the gracious custom of placing a book in the Filer City Library as a living memorial for deceased members and friends.

Such a club is the Lucky Twelve Club, which recently donated its eighth book, "The Woman at the Well," by Dale Evans Rogers, in memory of the late Alice M. Staats. A plaque in the library is inscribed with the names of those remembered by the club and the books given in their behalf.

The front page of each memorial book carries an inscription and the signatures of all the members. The club consults with Mrs. F.E. Albin, librarian, as to the type of book which the member had liked to read before selection takes place.

This small, but pleasant club hold its membership at 12, just the right number for three tables of pinocle, the club's entertainment at meetings. It has been in existence for approximately 40 years and was originally called the "Stitch 'n Chatter Club." In its earlier days — members brought their sewing and mending to club, hence its name.

When members began preferring card playing to sewing, the name was changed to the Lucky Twelve Club. It meets at the homes of members. Mrs. Nellie Evans is president; Mrs. Irene Childers, vice president, and Mrs. Homer Bean, secretary-treasurer.

When children of members get married, the club hosts showers for them, and when new babies arrive, it presents baby gifts.

The Hillside Helpers Club is another book-minded group. It was organized in 1933 as a small neighborhood club whose members enjoy getting together to visit. Mrs. Laura Miller, Mrs. George Erhardt and Mrs. Amy Glassinger are three charter members of the club. Mrs. Ralph Smith is president; Mrs. E.E. Lee, vice president; Mrs. Marie Greenwood, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Herbert Fender, reporter.

This club began donating books to the library in 1954 and gives one or two every year, sometimes as memorials for deceased members. The books are inscribed in front from the club and those selected are usually written by Idaho authors. They prefer books for children or younger readers. The most recent book donated by them is "Beloved Monster" by Helen Markley Miller.

This club keeps a rather small membership and enjoys getting together for social events such as the annual Christmas dinner at a downtown cafe. It holds a white elephant sale in the fall with proceeds going to the Rupert Youth Ranch.

Mrs. Albin has been librarian for the city library since 1955 when she took over the duties of the late Dency Telford. She welcomes gifts of books from clubs and individuals, as new books are always in demand and there is never too much money from which to buy them.

The library was originally started many years ago as a project of the Filer Woman's Club, and for many years was supported solely by the club until its management was taken over by the city some years ago.

The library was first located in the former Love's Store on the corner of Main and Yakima, later was moved to the location of the former Variety Store, and after that to the room in the back of the bank building where it now is.

The bank donates the use of the room, and also the heat. The lights, librarian's salary, expenses of rebinding, new books, and other supplies, comes from the $1,000 a year allowance which the city allocates.

The library is open three days a week, Monday, Tuesday and Friday, from 3 to 6 p.m. Cards for 50 books are purchased at 10 cents a card. When a card is full, a new one must be purchased. Most of the reading material on the shelves is for pleasure reading as space does not allow very many research-type volumes. However, a person holding a Filer library card, is eligible to purchase a card from the Twin Falls Library for an additional five dollars, much below the regular cost of a library card. This is especially appreciated by students who can drive to Twin Falls to do their research work.

For the last 12 to 15 years, the library has been supplemented by books from the State Lending Library, which are taken on a loan basis.

An innovation several years ago was a record lending library, added to the shelves when RCA presented 75 records for use. These are loaned on the same basis as books with cards being purchased. The record lending has proved very popular and more records could be used, especially children's records.

The library contains a few magazines which the librarian brings from her own home, however, lack of space prevents displaying of very many. National Geographic magazines have been donated several years by a citizen of the town. The Filer Woman's Club was responsible for a new green rug in the library and other clubs have assisted with money for books and supplies.

Most recent order at the library is for a new set of Encyclopedia World Books, noted Mrs. Albin. These will supplement the 1965 set now on the shelves and will allow the 1965 volumes to be taken to homes for reading.

Memorial presented

LIBRARIAN at the Filer City Library, Mrs. F. E. Albin, receives the book, "Woman at the Well," from Mrs. Irene Childers of the Lucky 12 Club. The book was presented to the library in memory of the late Alice M. Staats.

Book-minded

PRESIDENT of the Hillside Helpers Club, Mrs. Ralph Smith, standing, presents a new book, "Beloved Monster," to Mrs. F. E. Albin, librarian. The club presents books several times a year to the library, usually choosing those written by Idaho authors.

Girl of the year

A BOUQUET of long stemmed roses was presented to Mrs. Derald Schafer, right, girl of the year for Epsilon Sigma Alpha, by Mrs. Walter Quast Jr., retiring girl of the year. Mrs. Schafer will represent the Burley chapter in state competition.

Girl of year named at Burley

BURLEY — Mrs. Derald Schafer was honored as Girl of the Year by members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha during the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Schafer.

She received a tiara and a bouquet of long stemmed red roses from the chapter. Mrs. Walter Quast, Jr. who received the honor last year, made the presentation.

There were three candidates and the winner was chosen by secret ballot. Candidates are chosen by their accomplishments and activities during the year.

Mrs. Schafer will be entered in the State Girl of the Year competition with a winner to be selected during the state Epsilon Sigma Alpha convention in May at Boise.

Pallas Athena awards were presented to Mrs. Bill Mai and Mrs. Warren Frost, both first degree, Mrs. Quast, Mrs. Keith Uscola, Mrs. Sinafer and Mrs. Ken Frank all second degrees. Mrs. Uscola was in charge of the first degree ceremony and Mrs. Mai directed the second degree ceremony.

The award is made on a merit point system with members acquiring points through their committee work, services rendered to the chapter, community philanthropic hours, educational projects, rushing new members and attendance at sorority functions.

Pallas Athena is symbolic of knowledge, patronage of the arts, and spirit of truth and was chosen as the Greek Patroness of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

The lesson on "How to Add to your Husband's Prestige" was given by Mrs. Roger McBride and Mrs. Vernon Pough gave the lesson on "Telephone Manners." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Schafer and Mrs. Quast, co-hostesses.

Mrs. Clute honored by Chapter No. 47

HOLLISTER — Mrs. Goldie Clute, chaplain, was honored by the Hollister Chapter No. 47 Order of the Eastern Star, Thursday night. Mrs. Clute has been chaplain for her chapter for 20 years, and for this record Hollister Chapter No. 47, under the direction of Mrs. George Clark, and Mrs. Ray Clark and Mrs. Donald Parrott, presented a special program and scrapbook to her.

Worthwhile club sets Feb. 24 date

HANSEN — Mrs. Birchle Brown will be hostess at the Feb. 24 meeting of the Rock Creek Worthwhile Club.

At the last meeting Mrs. Glenn Gott, hostess, gave a reading of the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. Pete Austin, former member, was welcomed back into the club after several years absence.

At a previous meeting at the home of Mrs. Elsie Henry a wedding shower was given for Mrs. Henry's granddaughter, Genda Gott.

Eden Legion gives awards

EDEN — Mrs. Austin Matheny, Unit Americanism chairman of the American Legion Post 82 announced today that special certificates of commendation for outstanding service to the community were awarded to the Eden First Segregation fire department, Eden city marshal and the deputy sheriff, at the regular legion meeting.

Boy Scouts, Greg Rogers, and Eddy Hernandez presented the flags and a junior auxiliary member, Sandy Reed, led the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Matheny was in charge of the program and her theme was "America Our Country".

Special guests of the legion were former Girls' State citizens, Mrs. Ina Height Russell, Mrs. June Schaubman Reed, Mrs. Donna West Beam, Patty McClain, Gale Welhausen, Irma Dee McDonald and Susan Montgomery.

patron, presided over the regular meeting. They also honored Mrs. Clute as the honored officer of the month. Mrs. Nelson read a special ceremony for Mrs. Clute and gave her a gift from the worthy matron and worthy patron.

Mrs. Joe Miller, chairman of menu committee, reported on the past masters dinner that the chapter had prepared and served for the Hollister Masons. Mrs. Ray Clark, chairman of sick and visiting committee, reported and Mrs. Harriet McDaniel also reported. The officers exemplified the initiation ceremony with Mrs. George Wells acting candidate.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stanley and Mrs. Dora Clark.

Reid wins pencil

BURLEY — Paul Reid was winner of the trophy for the best speech at the Burley Toastmasters Club. It was announced today by Leon Henschel, toastmaster.

"Being Rational" was the title of Reid's speech. Earl Hunter gave a book review titled "A Few Buttons Missing," which was a biography of Dr. James T. Fisher.

Each member spoke for two minutes listing pros and cons of legalizing abortion. Darwin Jeppesen was selected by the table topics winner.

Salmon club meet in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — The Salmon Social Club met Thursday at the Colonial House with Mrs. Margaret Stuart as hostess.

Ada Anlauf, Lois Andrews and Elton Garrison were guests. There were 16 members present.

Mrs. Bertha Snyder presented the program and secret pal gifts were received by Effie Mauer, Mary Ellen Taylor. Roll call gift was presented to Nina Hardy. Alice Courtney received the hostess gift.

The next meeting will be March 4 at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith. Maxine Nelson will be program chairman and the roll call will be "who is my pal?"

Banker is guest speaker

BURLEY — Guest speaker for the Credit Women's International luncheon meeting Thursday was Merrill Atkinson of First Security Bank of Burley.

Atkinson discussed the changing interest rates for banks, business and private loans. Mrs. Sandra Critchfield, president, conducted the business session. A discussion was held on the annual Bosses Night banquet which will be held in April.

It was announced a new Credit Women's International Club has been organized in Hamilton, Mont., and best wishes will be sent to them from the Burley Club.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Reta Moultrie, club chaplain. Mrs. Judy Pough was a guest.

Spring luncheon planned

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Unity Club are planning their annual spring luncheon, with the time and date to be announced.

The plans were made at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Smith.

It was reported the men's dinner and pinchle party held at the Colonial House had a total of 10 tables in play. Earl O'Harrow received high score and Max Vannausdell received low.

Members brought gifts for exchange throughout the evening. Mrs. Elva Olson gave the club collect and Heidi Deters received the club gift. Mrs. Lou Peterson will become a new member of the club.

A patriotic poem was presented by Mrs. O'Harrow. Mrs. Irma Scott assisted the hostess.

A work meeting and business meeting were held at the church Wed. Items for the gift cabinet and quilting were the projects worked on. There is a good supply of items for the gift cabinet and a new supply of greeting cards which the organization sells. These are available for anyone. Those interested should contact Mrs. C.R. Miller, Ph. 837-4773.

Results released

GOODING — There are 153 children ages 3, 4 and 5 living in Gooding according to results of a survey released today by Mrs. Ed Leach, chairman of the PTA pre-school count. The survey was conducted by the Gooding PTA in cooperation with the Mothers' March of Dimes. The information, Mrs. Leach said, will be helpful in determining the size and number of kindergarten classes for Gooding if kindergartens are approved by the state legislature. Mrs. Peggy LaRue, Gooding County March of Dimes chairman, said the survey also was taken to determine the number of children vaccinated against German measles. About 855 children received the shots in the elementary school in September.

New hats...
THESE TWO TURBAN styles are shown in a collection of hats presented by the Millinery Guild in London. State PTA head visits Richfield RICHFIELD — Idaho State PTA president Mrs. Floyd Kistling, Dietrich, and former Richfield school superintendent Clint Bugg, Kimberly, were guest speakers at the Richfield PTA program Thursday night. Mrs. Neil Anderson, PTA president, performed the introductions. Mrs. Kistling told PTA members how state and national PTA funds are used for scholarship to train teachers in special education, guidance and counseling. Bugg, who was Richfield superintendent for 11 years, talked about his memories of PTA. He and Mrs. Jennie Thomas were the first recipients of the life membership awards in Richfield.

Mrs. L.E. (Mary) Browning, Richfield teacher for 17 years who will retire this year, was presented the life membership award.

Mrs. W.T. Flavel, elementary school principal, read Mrs. Browning's history and Mrs. Kistling presented her with a pin and a card.

Goodwill club sets meeting

TWIN FALLS — The next meeting of the Goodwill Club will be at the home of Mrs. Ivan Waring with Rose Mattice and Mrs. Evelyn Nelson in charge of the program.

At the last meeting which featured a valentine theme in observance of Sunday's holiday, Mrs. Harold Freeman was hostess, with Mrs. Gene Tynes presiding.

Mrs. Ronald Scherupp led the pledge to the flag and Mrs. Emery Treat recited the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Nelson received the white elephant and the thought for the day was given by Mrs. Ilene McCollum.

Secret pal gifts were received by Rose Mattice, Mae Mender, Dorothy McGinnis, Joyce Everet, Jennette Kelly, Lydin Scherblinski, Chloe Carr, Nellie Oendarff and Pearl Hoffman. Marjorie Kennon of the Magic Valley Doll Clinic was a guest.

Garage sale set

TWIN FALLS — Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi planned a spring garage sale when the sorority met Wednesday at the home of Beverly Richardson.

The sale will be at the home of Mrs. Dave Gietzen.

A committee report was given on suggestions for projects to donate money to. No decisions were reached and the discussion will be continued at the next meeting Feb. 24 at the home of Mrs. Helen Thorne.

The chapter offered its sympathy to Jerome sorority sister Mrs. Jon Wilmoth whose husband is hospitalized with injuries received in a snowmobile accident.

Mrs. Warren Thorne gave a cultural talk on art.

DONNA BLAKESLEE

CONNIE PRESCOTT

Summer wedding planned

FILER — The engagement of Donna Blakeslee to Charles R. Mollerup, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Mollerup, Caldwell, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Wright, Filer.

Miss Blakeslee is the daughter of Mrs. Wright and the late Mr. Roy R. Blakeslee. She was graduated from Filer High School in 1967 and is currently a senior at Idaho State University, majoring in business education.

Mollerup was graduated from Caldwell High School in 1965 and received a BBA degree in management and organization from Idaho State University. He is currently employed by the Department of Employment in Boise.

A summer wedding is planned.

April wedding

JEROME — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prescott, Jerome, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Connie, to Stephen S. Kelly, son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Kelly, Grand Junction, Colo.

The couple will be married April 1 at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. A reception in their honor is planned for April 2 in Jerome, with an open house April 8 at Grand Junction, Colo. Invited to attend the bride are Mrs. Kathy Lyman, Mrs. Sidney Thulin, Mrs. Robert Davis, Kathy Vandrey, Mary Jane Montan, Maureen Hall and Kathy Kelly.

A graduate of Jerome High School, Miss Prescott is a junior in political science at Brigham Young University. Kelly is a senior in a pre-dentistry course at BYU.

T.F. student elected at U of I

MOSCOW — Terrell Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Huddleston, Twin Falls, has been elected Eminent Warden of the Idaho Alpha Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of Idaho.

He is charged with the physical maintenance of the chapter house. The chapter is one of 183 collegiate chapters of SAE.

SAE is one of 18 Greek fraternities at the U of I.

Huddleston is a sophomore majoring in zoology.

WILLING TO WAIT SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—The manager of a Salem cemetery has written the state Liquor Control Commission urging earlier closing time for taverns in the hope of reducing fatalities caused by drunken drivers.

"We well know this can only hurt our business, but we are very willing to wait," he said.

Literary Art Guild meets

TWIN FALLS — The Literary Art Guild met Thursday at the home of Mrs. William Jones.

Mrs. Jones had decorated her house in a valentine theme in observance of the Sunday holiday.

Mrs. Bernell M. Skinner, president, extended a welcome to members and special guest Mrs. William Frye.

The March 11 meeting will be guest night at the home of Mrs. Vaughn M. Pond. The review for the evening will be "Great Lion of God," by Taylor Caldwell. Mrs. LeRoy E. Permann will give the review.

Mrs. Mary Louise Seamons reviewed "The Cay," by Theodore Taylor.

The guilded thought was ready by Mrs. Ross G. Ward. Author's sketch was given by Mrs. Marty Crandall.

Mrs. Permann and Mrs. Roy E. Babbal were hostesses.

OES official makes Richfield visit

RICHFIELD — Mrs. Harold Stoltz, Jerome, was the official visitor to the Richfield Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star Thursday night. She is chairman of the interest and benovolent society. Plans were made for attending the Washington's Birthday dinner at 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 21, sponsored by the Masonic Lodge. The Altar was draped for Mrs. Della Scanlon, Gooding, a charter member of the Richfield chapter. Mrs. Edward Schlisler and Mrs. Stoltz took part in the ceremony.

Card party planned by "Woodmen"

TWIN FALLS — The Omaha Woodmen will hold a card party on Feb. 23 at the Idaho Power Auditorium. The public is invited and pie and coffee will be served.

Mrs. Lillian Comini, new president, has appointed committees to serve for the coming year. They are Mrs. Addie Rudakovitch and John Henderson, membership; Elizabeth Havens and William Gardoski, entertainment; Mae Gardoski, publicity; Vorn Woolley and Mrs. Boyd Tipton, hospital, and Mrs. William Edwards, community service.

Plans also have been made to hold a cooked food sale on April 3, with the place to be announced. Mrs. Ray Reynolds is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Mary Bolton.

Mrs. Comini has been chosen as delegate to the jurisdictional convention to be held in April at Portland. Mrs. Tipton is alternate.

The March meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Comini.

State officers visit Richfield has panel discussion

GOODING — Two leading state officials of the IOOF Lodge are continuing visitations of area lodges during the month of February.

Wednesday they visited their home-town lodge, Wood-River Valley No. 22 in Gooding.

Brig. Gen. Robert Bryan, department commander, department council patriarchs militant, and Lady Ruth Harrison, department association president, made their official visit here Wednesday night. A potluck dinner was served in their honor prior to the business meeting.

Lady Harrison presented retired captain Sy Regan a special birthday cake and gift from the Gooding auxiliary commemorating his 83rd birthday anniversary.

Following the business meeting Cmdr. Bryan and Lady Harrison were introduced to representatives of the lodge as were regional officers. The two state officials discussed methods of improving local orders.

RICHFIELD — Mark Dixon was student chairman of a Richfield MIA speech department panel discussion, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Wendell King.

The discussion was on ways parents can help during their children's teen-age years.

Speaking for the Laurel class were Joyce Ward, Carol Lyn Sanders, and Peggy Falls under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Ross Swainston. Speeches for the Explorer's and Adventurers were Steve Bowers and Dale Crowthers under the direction of F.M. Crowther.

Adult speakers were Bishop Ken Dixon, Mrs. Grant Flavel, Mrs. Clifford Dayley, Crowther, Lee Brinkerhoff, and Merrill Beveler.

Blaine State visitors were Kenneth Blackburn, Shoshone, and Mrs. Grant Haws.

Pinocle played

HANSEN — The Jolly 12 Pinocle Club met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. A. F. Daw.

Mrs. Earl Tridle was high score winner and Mrs. Jack Nuckols was second high, with Mrs. Cloe Weech third. Mrs. Ruth Wright won the travelling prize.

Mrs. Nuckols and Mrs. Jessie Calco were guests.

Gifts were received by Lena Bohrn, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Minnie Bedow, Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mrs. Tridle, Mrs. Ralph Simmons and Mrs. Daw.

Theology student speaks at Burley OES

BURLEY — Harold C. Moeller, student at Theology Seminar, Clairmont, Calif., was guest speaker during the Evergreen Chapter No. 48, Order of Eastern Star at Masonic Temple, according to an announcement made today. Moeller was awarded one of the ESTAR awards during Grand Lodge Chapter session last June in Twin Falls. He told of his experiences in the seminary and outlined some of his future plans. Moeller and his wife are en route to the United Nations for an internship and to work with Youth Pilgrims there until July. The United Nations program is sponsored by the National Council of Churches. Mrs. Louise Talbert, worthy matron conducted the business session and announced that

Mrs. Roberta Showalter, worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Idaho will make her official visit Feb. 15 in Burley. A no-host luncheon will be at noon at Price's Cafe which is being planned by the Past Matron's Club. All officers and Order of the Eastern Star members are invited to attend the luncheon. After the luncheon the members will return to the Masonic Temple for school of instructions under the direction of Mrs. Showalter. A banquet will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the Temple dining room by the Job's Daughters Bethel No. 18. A practice session will be held at 4 p.m. today in the lodge hall. Games were played under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Forschler, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rogers and Mrs. Ted Schofield.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am curious to know exactly how fair you are.

John (not real name) had an unhappy home, so at age 20 John decided that more than anything else he wanted a nice home and family.

He met Mary, who promised to give John everything he was looking for. All Mary wanted was a meal ticket, but John was too young and inexperienced to know. John married Mary and she had two children immediately to hook John but good. She hated housework and didn't bother too much about the children. She turned out to be a sloppy, lazy woman who didn't make friends easily, so consequently they had practically no social life.

Fifteen years later John has met a wonderful woman who was perfect for him in every way. They fell in love. If John leaves Mary, his children will be turned against him. Also, everyone will say, "Poor Mary was a good and faithful wife, so John must be a louse." True, Mary was faithful, but no credit is due her as no man with good eyesight would look twice at her.

Now, must John spend the rest of his life with Mary just because he made a mistake when he was young? Abby, if you are the woman I think you are, you will not say that John must keep his marriage vows. I am anxiously awaiting your reply.

INTERESTED PARTY

DEAR INTERESTED: Before I reply, let's both be "fair." Who's going to tell me Mary's side of the story?

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of 10 children, and we're surrounded by neighbors who have nothing to do but complain if a ball bounces on their grass. Since we have the most children, everything from the chalk writing on the sidewalk to the overturned garbage cans at Halloween is blamed on us.

Am I supposed to apologize for the number of children I have? Or do I tell my neighbors that I have trained my children to be law-abiding citizens, and they should get off my back?

MOTHER OF 10

DEAR MOTHER: Your children may be "law-abiding" but the law of averages is against you. When a childish prank is pulled, they figure it's 10 to one that one of your 10 did it.

DEAR ABBY: Because you have shown compassion for animals, I appeal to you to discourage the practice of giving young children live pets as gifts. At Eastertime, thousands of baby chicks and rabbits are handed over to small children who mall and squeeze them to death. Puppies and kittens, by the thousands, are given to children who haven't the faintest idea of how to care for them.

Abby, live animals are not toys. Please tell your readers to give stuffed animals to youngsters who aren't old enough to care for live pets. Thank you.

LOVES ANIMALS

DEAR LOVES: And if you love children, be aware that animals, when forced to defend themselves, will bite and scratch. Animal care can best be learned from your local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals or from any veterinarian.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LEARNED THE HARD WAY": You belong to a large club. There is hardly a man alive who couldn't retire comfortably in his old age if he could sell his experience for what it cost him.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply—enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

ship at this year's fall nationals. South was that well-known expert Mr. Namless. It is not the policy of this department to give the names of victims. Bill remembered that George had played the five of hearts at trick one and that the five was the lowest heart missing. Would he had played it if he held four hearts? Very unlikely, thought Bill. Then why did good old Namless waste his king of hearts? Because he was afraid of some other suit. Bill knew what the suit had to be. He led the spade king, just so that George would know what was going on. Then the deuce of spades to the ace and the deuce had four spade tricks. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

PASS IT ON by L.M. Boyd

DID YOU KNOW a bedbug squeaks with large delight when it gets close to a warm human body? Neither did I. So it's said, however, by the modern warfare specialists of the United States now operating in Vietnam. What they do is put a pocket of bedbugs with a sensitive transmitter in the mysterious foliage. When enemy troops get within sniffing distance, the bedbugs squeak, the transmitters transmit, and some sad man with earphones in G-2, I presume, makes out a report in quintuplicate.

THOSE THREE masculine names said by one pollster to be most preferred by college men now are Adam, Samson and Bart. That's most preferred, not most common. THE MORE FOODS you dislike, the more warped your personality. That's what the psychologists claim. Eggplant and liver don't count, of course.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "Isn't it a fact the airline stewardesses marry faster than girls in any other occupation?" A. Almost. However, understand the young ladies who skate in ice shows rank No. 1 in the swift marriage category. They are much in demand. Our Love and War man points out you almost never meet a spinster whose specialty is ice skating. Q. "I know a Miss America contestant can't wear falsies, but she can wear a wig." A. Only in the talent contest where it can be claimed as part of her act. Still don't know whether she can wear falsies therein as part of her act, as so many do, but will check on that and report promptly.

ALASKA is where the most men per capita own airplanes. You know that? All right, the next six states with the most airplane owners per capita in order are Montana, Nevada, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota and Idaho. What about Texas? It has the most airports.

AND 1492 was also the year the German mapmakers put South at the top. DID I TELL YOU it has been established definitely that men blush more readily than do women? SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH shows the average doctor nationwide eats far less meat than the average man generally.

"WHEN A WIFE reaches the age of 50 and her husband no longer finds her responsive, what then happens? He goes to other women. The only solution is to allow the man to have more than one wife, provided he can maintain all of them." So spoke a member of the Alliance Party in the Johore State Assembly of Malaya. In ancient times? No, sir. Just eight years ago. And polygamy is still a lively item for debate in that fascinating spot. A sizable number of men there go for the notion, although not all wives over the age of 50 think it necessary.

PRACTICALLY EVERYBODY recalls the enduring imperative delivered by Paul Revere at the end of his famous ride. "Whoa!" But not many remember that Classic last command of George Washington before he crossed the Delaware. It was, "Get in the boat!" To make points, quote the foregoing to your history teacher, young fellow.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

By GEORGE ABRAHAM
Why is gardening America's biggest hobby?

One big reason is that you can enjoy some form of gardening regardless of whether you're in good or poor health. America alone has 81 million gardeners and more are joining the ranks daily. Doctors prescribe gardening because it's good therapy. Even a few house plants indoors can give you comfort and peace of mind.

One of the curses of modern day society is that some of us have too much time on our hands, and we haven't been taught how to use it. Idleness produces illness so if you happened to be bored with life, take up some form of gardening and see how it changes your attitude. There are roughly 14 million in the U.S. who are alone. Over 9 million are widows, and over 2 million are divorcees, or separated from their husbands. There are nearly 3 million women over 30 who have never married. To any one in these groups who needs a good hobby and doesn't have a husband, we suggest gardening to them.

You don't need a big patch of land for gardening. If you live in a room, an apartment or a townhouse, you can still garden. A window sill, a balcony or a doortop will give you enough space for a mini-garden. Balcony gardening even gives you a chance to grow various vegetables.

Robert West, Horticulturist for the USDA at Beltsville, Md., has been doing some wonderful work for the benefit of "Balcony Gardeners." If you're interested in obtaining a copy of his recent bulletin, MiniGardens, send me your name and address. This might be a cure for a new disease which has crept into our society, namely "High Rise Illness."

This malady affects apartment dwellers who have no place to "air" a cat or dog, send kids into the yard to play, or trim plants and shrubs. We prescribe mini-gardens for apartment dwellers who are suffering from "high rise illness." It's just what the Plant Doctor ordered.

THIS WEEK'S HERB: Caraway, called the Pride of Holland, is noted for its aromatic seeds used for flavoring bread, cakes, cheese, goulash, sauerkraut, and it can be used for boiled potatoes, beets. Its feathery leaves are good in soups and salads. Seed sowed in spring will give you a crop early in the second year, since the plant is a hardy biennial. Plants grow slowly first year, so cultivate them well and keep free from weeds. When the fruiting seed heads they can be cut from the plant before they dry and shatter.

ZOYSIA GRASS: As with olives, some people like zoysia, others don't. A reader writes "My neighbor has a fine lawn of zoysia and thinks it's wonderful. I disagree mainly because of early winter browning. The grass has now spread about 6 feet into my lawn and I'd like to put up a barrier of some sort. Is there anything to stop it?"

The Meyer strain of zoysia is pretty tough to kill, even by cold winters. Zoysia has survived all the way up to Minnesota, and even though the soil is frozen, the zoysia thrives. In the heat of summer the zoysia is great, but its growing season in the north is just too short and it turns brown.

It won't begin to green up until some time in May. It starts to go off color no later than October. Some people get around this problem by spraying the browned grass with a dye and it works fairly well. Kentucky bluegrass, if you can pull it through the summer in good shape, is green until after Christmas, and picks up again in March.

Dr. Robert Schery, Director, the Laven Institute, says there are herbicides which can be used, but they are apt to be a bit tricky. I doubt if barriers would work. Dr. Schery says that Zoysia spreads by runners that grow both above and below ground. He says these runners can dip a foot or so down in good soil to get under some obstruction. I think it's a tough problem, trying to stop the Zoysia. Here's an excellent opportunity to display neighborly withholding-of-tempera.

THIMBLEBERRY EDIBLE? Many readers have asked me about a wild plant, "flowering Raspberry". Is it edible? Also called Thimbleberry (Rubus odoratus) the term is also used for the black raspberry and several blackberries in the East and West. The fruit is perfectly edible but not flavorful. It can be eaten raw or made into jellies and jams, either by itself or mixed with other raspberries. In the wild, thimbleberry bush has single rose-like flowers and the berry is like a large red raspberry. Birds eat the berries and spread the seeds, causing plants to sprout quite profusely.

HONEY AS A "ROOTING AGENT": The latest issue of the North American Pomona Magazine mentions the use of honey for rooting plants. "A mixture made up of one teaspoon of honey to each cup of water plus a few grains of permanganate of potash — enough to color the water — is all you need. Stand the cuttings in the solution for one hour before planting and we're told they take root in the most energetic manner."

I hope to test honey for rooting cuttings this summer.

QUESTION BOX
QUESTION OF THE WEEK: D.E. of Ida: "Last fall I returned home from vacation to see my Big Boy tomatoes ripening. They had good size, deep red and capped with a yellow crown. The fruit was hard and unusable for canning and sauce. Please tell me if there is any control for this as we don't want our red tomatoes this year to have yellowed shoulders."

You have a condition known as Yellow Top, a form of what is commonly called blotchy ripening. Little is known about the cause. Some feel it is physiological, caused by soil, weather, sun, or something in local growing conditions. Others think it is a virus, and as a compromise it may well be a combination of the two factors.

The bullsnake is one of North America's four largest reptiles.

DEAR POLLY—When using my portable sewing machine on a table, it vibrated and made so much noise that it was almost unbearable. I put a rubber bath mat under the machine. This absorbs vibration and noise, and holds the machine steady.—JUDY

YOUR MACHINE'S ANWFULLY QUIET—ARE YOU GOOFING-OFF?

DEAR POLLY—My two sons always yank the buttons off and lose the buttonholes in their pajama tops till I sewed the fronts to there is only room left to poke the head through. This makes a cute pull-over. I leave the buttons on for decoration.—DELORES

DEAR POLLY—I wanted something different as a table decoration for my son's seventh birthday. My inexpensive arrangement made such a hit that I want to share it with other mothers. I inflated seven balloons of different colors, tied one end of a string to each balloon and then pushed the other end through a paper drinking straw and attached securely with adhesive tape. I mounted my balloon-lollipops in colorful clay (contents of one can, flattened) and had a centerpiece the kids loved. When the party was over, each helped himself to a balloon.—TIM'S MOM

DEAR POLLY—By my sink I keep a three-pound coffee can lined with one, or sometimes two, plastic bread bags with the tops pulled tightly over the top of the can. Into this go coffee grounds and small scraps till the can is full. I pull the bag out, tie the top or close with a twistie, and throw into the garbage. I keep the top of the can on so there is no odor, and the can is easily washed.—BETTY

DEAR POLLY—At a recent bride's shower one guest brought her gift wrapped in a gray, metallic-looking ironing board cover with a bunch bow, made of brightly colored round plastic scouring pads. This made two more useful gifts plus the lovely shower gift.—JUNE

DEAR POLLY—I keep the vegetable brush hanging by the sink. It is so good for washing the ridges in cake and tube pans, fork tines and hard-to-reach areas on the stove.—BOBBIE

DEAR POLLY—After using a pattern, it is almost impossible to fold and put back in the envelope as it was. I iron the pieces with a warm iron and they are as flat as when new.—MRS. D. S.

Ask Them Yourself

FOR SEN. JOHN TOWER, Texas

When do the three-day national holiday weekends become effective? How many will there be each year, and when will they occur?—Norman D. Jones, San Antonio, Texas

● In Public Law 90-363, Congress enacted a new scheme of holiday designations so that there would be more three-day weekends. As such, the holiday designations apply only to Federal employees and residents of the District of Columbia. Each state has to choose whether it intends to observe the new Federal designations. The statute designations are in effect as of Jan. 1, 1971. The new holiday arrangement will be: New Year's Day, Jan. 1; Washington's Birthday, third Monday in February; Memorial Day, last Monday in May; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Veterans Day, fourth Monday in October; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, Dec. 25; Inauguration Day, Jan. 20 of each fourth year after 1965; Columbus Day, second Monday in October.

FOR SISTER MARY THOMAS

MORE, professor of history, Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wis.

Must farmers unite to survive?—George Hill, Seattle, Wash.

● Farmers are in a weak economic position because they do not plan together for the good of the industry, their fellow producers, and the consumer. To plan well, farmers must get together, unite, organize tightly, with a high degree of unselfishness. Their organizations, e.g., the co-operatives, could provide the planning machinery needed, but too many farmers regard them only as service outlets. Worse, farm-organization meetings are poorly attended; elected leaders have unlimited tenure; women and young farmers have scarcely any voice; idealists are nipped in the bud. Result? Zero horsepower.

FOR BOB HOPE

Of all your Christmas trips entertaining American troops in Vietnam, which one do you hold as your most memorable experience?—Mrs. Margaret Lewis, Dubuque, Iowa

● Asking me which of my overseas trips has been most memorable is like asking a father which of his children he likes best. Each of them had something memorable—the faces of the wounded, the joy of the combat troops when they forgot the war long enough to whistle and applaud the pretty girls, so many things. One experience which stands out was the kid who insisted on giving me a plain Zippo lighter he had—no engraving, nothing fancy. He just wanted to give me something, while all the time I wanted to say "thank you" to him.

FOR PAUL HARVEY,

When you give your comments on television, you are usually in a room with the décor of a study. Is this in your home? Also, are your suits tailored just for you? They seem to fit you so well with no wrinkles or pulls?—H. Adams, Ft. Walton, Fla.

● It is a reconstruction of my home library in a Chicago studio. Yes, they are tailored just for me. My proportions require it.

FOR D. W. RABENHORST,

aeronautical engineer, Applied Physics Laboratory, Johns Hopkins University

Do you see engineless cars in the near future?—Mrs. Laura Hill, Humboldt, Saskatchewan, Can.

● Definitely yes. There are quite a few engineless electric cars on the road even now, although most of them are in Europe and Japan. However, these cars are limited to a few miles range and have very poor acceleration compared with conventional cars. Fortunately the electric cars of the future will be powered by a superflywheel instead of batteries and will have several times the range and acceleration performance of the present electric cars. The feasibility of the superflywheel concept was recently demonstrated in tests here at the Applied Physics Laboratory, the Johns Hopkins University. The concept will soon be made available to industry for development and production of electric cars. Hopefully, you will be seeing them on the road in a very few years.

FOR PETE MARAVICH,

Atlanta Hawks

What was the biggest adjustment you had to make going from college to professional basketball?—James H. Fetter, Lancaster, Pa.

● The biggest adjustment is actually three-fold. First, you're playing with the best players in the world, and you have to realize this. Secondly, the long schedule and travel can leave you limp. I played a maximum of 30 games in college, and we'd played more than that before the college season started; and last, but not least, learning to take the constant pounding you get in the pros.

FOR MR. KENNETH, hair stylist

Since so many teen-age girls have adopted long, straight do-it-yourself hairdos, what influence do you think this has on the gross dollar intake of beauty shops?—Joel Allard, San Antonio, Texas

● Women today believe in the ecology of hair—healthy, shiny, luxurious-looking hair. The hairdresser who insists his clients wear a feathered cut with a lot of teasing and spray and a long comb-out time each week is not tomorrow's hairdresser. There are other services in salons besides "shampoos and sets." They include scalp and hair treatments, hair coloring, straightening, body permanents, make-up and facial or body services. And long hair is at its most beautiful when it is well-trimmed by a professional hairdresser at least once a month.

FOR MARLO THOMAS,

it's "That Girl"

How did you get the name Marlo?—Ann Streb, Dalton, Ohio

● As a small child, I was unable to pronounce the name Margo, short for my given name of Margaret. "Marlo," as I pronounced it, then became a family nickname.

FOR JOHNNY CARSON

On the Don Rickles Friars Club Roasts, who wrote the roasters' material?—S. J. Grochmal, Willingboro, N.J.

● The material for the roasters (Milton Berle, Dick Cavett, Chet Huntley, Alan King, George C. Scott, and Henry Young-man) was credited to the regular team of Kraft writers—Danny Simon (head writer), Murry Farrell, Norman Harsach, Carroll Moore, Tony Wolstler, Coleman Jacobly, and Bob Ellison. My remarks were more or less ad lib.

FOR ELIZABETH POST,

etiquette authority

Is it proper for a military wife to use her husband's title? I recently read a society article mentioning Mrs. Capt. John Smith, and I wondered.—Alvin Haldein, Petaluma, Calif.

● The wife of a military officer is addressed just as any other married woman. She does not use her husband's military title ever.

FOR JOE NAMATH,

quarterback, New York Jets

I have heard one report that you are quitting pro football to make a career in the movies. Another report says that you will come back despite your knee trouble. Which is right?—N. L., Niagara Falls, N.Y.

● The way I feel right now I want to play next season. I've discovered that I really miss not being able to play. That and the fact that I can play better than anybody at my position, and I want to prove that next year.

FOR RUDD WEATHERWAX,

owner-trainer of Lassie

Is Lassie a thoroughbred collie? If not, what mix breed is she?—B. K., Grand Forks, N.D.

● Lassie is the fifth generation of purebred collies, and when offspring come along, I give them to friends—along with papers to prove their heritage.

Tells How to Make Money Writing Short Paragraphs

Chicago Man Reveals a Short Cut to Authorship

Discloses little-known angle by which beginners often get paid five to ten times more per word than the rates paid to famous authors. Now anyone who can write a sentence in plain English can write for money without spending weary years "learning to write."

FOR years and years a relatively few people have had a "corner" on one of the most profitable authors' markets ever known. They've been going quietly along selling thousands and thousands of contributions. None of them has had to be trained authors. None of them has been "big name" writers. Yet, in hundreds of cases they have been paid from five to ten times as much per word as was earned by famous authors.

The successful men and women in this field had such a good thing that they kept it pretty well to themselves. Mr. Benson Barrett was one of these people. For years he enjoyed a steady income—made enough money in spare time to pay for a fine farm near Chicago. Finally, Mr. Barrett decided to let others in on the secret. Since then he has shown a number of other men and women how to write for money. He has not had to give them any lessons in writing. He has not asked them to go through any long course of study or practice. In fact, most of his protégés have started mailing contributions to magazines within two weeks after starting with his plan.

Mr. Barrett says that the only skill required is that the beginner be able to write a sentence in plain English. Almost anyone with a grade school education can write well enough to follow Mr. Barrett's plan, because the contributions you will send to magazines are almost never more than one short paragraph in length.

Shut-ins, housewives, folks who are retired on small incomes, even employed men and women who like to use idle hours in a constructive way—all types are making money on short paragraphs.

Mr. Barrett does not teach you to write. He shows you what to write, what form to put it in, and whom to send it to. He shows you a simple method for getting ideas by the hundreds. He gives you a list of more than 200 magazines whose editors are looking for this kind of material and who will buy from beginners. In other words, he teaches you a method, an angle, a plan for starting to write for money right away.

If you would like to see your writing in print and get paid for it—just send your name on coupon to Mr. Barrett. He will send full information about his plan of coaching by return mail—postage prepaid. He makes no charge for this information. And, no salesman will call on you. You decide, at home, whether you'd like to try his plan. If the idea of getting paid for writing short paragraphs appeals to you write to Mr. Barrett for this information.

No telling where it might lead. Such a small start may even open opportunities for real authorship. And, since it can't cost you anything more than a 5¢ stamp, you'll certainly want to get all the facts. Please address coupon below to Mr. Benson Barrett, 6216 N. Clark Street, Dept. 376-O, Chicago, Illinois 60626.

BENSON BARRETT

6216 N. Clark Street

Dept. 376-O, Chicago, Illinois 60626

Please send me, free and without obligation, the full story of your unique coaching method, showing how I can write to sell right away, how you furnish names and addresses of editors who buy from beginners and tell me how I can start submitting manuscripts the first week. I understand that everything you send me will come postpaid and that no salesman will call.

QUIZ

Can You Handle A Medical Crisis?

By TODD CARRINGTON

I was having dinner with some friends recently when one of the women in our party suddenly got a piece of crusty bread stuck in her throat. She managed to swallow the bread, fortunately, because the rest of us at the table were momentarily frozen in uncertainty as to what to do!

When medical emergencies arise, knowing what to do—when even seconds are important—can save a life. This right-or-wrong quiz tests your first-aid knowledge of emergency procedures recommended by the American Red Cross.

1. Your dinner companion suddenly chokes on a piece of bread. Instantly slap him hard on the back.
2. Someone faints at a party or meeting in a crowded, smoke-filled room. Get some ice and apply it immediately to the person's forehead, and to the back of his neck.
3. A dog you've never seen before in your neighborhood takes a nip out of you and breaks the skin. Wash the wound at once with soap under running water; then bandage.
4. A swimmer underestimates a strong tide and is pulled under water, almost drowning. When he is on shore, roll him onto his stomach and begin artificial respiration.
5. Your nose suddenly and unaccountably starts spurring blood. For a severe nosebleed, you should squeeze or press the nostrils.
6. The kids are playing "house" in the kitchen, and one of them accidentally swallows cleanser or bleach. Induce vomiting immediately.
7. You're helping your do-it-himself neighbor install a new electric line, when he accidentally grabs a "hot wire" and collapses. You should immediately pull him away from the hot wire.

8. An amateur chef drops a skillet of hot fat, and some of it spatters on you. Your friends should immediately apply a dry sterile compress.

ANSWERS

1. Wrong. Slap a person on the back only as a last resort if choking continues. Otherwise you may force the bread (or other food) into the windpipe. A coughing spasm will usually expel the food. Use mouth-to-mouth resuscitation if breathing stops; and rush the person to the hospital.

2. Wrong.

Loosen the person's clothing, and lay him down with the head turned to one side. Open windows for air and use aromatic spirits of ammonia under his nose. Have the person rest quietly for a half hour. If unconsciousness lasts for more than a few minutes, call a doctor.

3. Right.

After you've thoroughly washed the bite and bandaged it, try to have the dog apprehended and tested for rabies. Check your doctor about the necessity for tetanus or anti-rabies injections.

4. Wrong.

You should roll the swimmer onto his back and begin mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

5. Right.

And apply an ice pack or cloth wrung out in cold water, to the forehead, back of neck, or upper lip. Don't blow your nose!

6. Wrong.

When anyone swallows a corrosive substance such as lye or bleach, look first for the antidote instructions printed on the container. If there are none, give water or milk of magnesia, and call your doctor or Local Poison Control Center. Do not induce vomiting.

7. Wrong.

Do not touch the person until the electricity is shut off, or you may be shocked as well. If it's not possible to turn off the power, use a length of rope or a wooden pole to pull the victim away from the "hot wire." Then, if breathing has stopped, begin mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and call the doctor.

8. Right.

But don't try to clean the burn or break blisters. Simply stay warm and quiet until the doctor comes.

A delightful fantasy that will entertain and amuse for hours on end. The album also includes The Submarine, Cretaceous, Casey Jones and John Henry.

PETER AND THE WOLF
Here is an all-time favorite Disney classic told in an exciting fashion. The other side of the album - The Sorcerer's Apprentice from Fantasia.

HANSEL AND GRETEL
Music from the world famous opera by Humperdinck. Orchestra conducted by Camarata. An arioso favorite.

THE LITTLE MERMAID
All the songs and music from the original motion picture sound track. A truly memorable musical experience for any child.

SWISS FAMILY ROBINSON
The greatest adventure story of them all. Fully narrated by Kevin Corcoran with musical background and sound effects to enhance the excitement.

MARY POPPINS
You never-to-be-forgotten songs from Walt Disney's greatest triumph. You'll hear Award-winning Chirn Glin Cheres, Spoonful of Sugar and others.

In 15 fabulous records - 30' long-playing sides - your child can now have a total of 91 great children's classics of Music, Education and Entertainment!

It is a library filled with fun and happy surprises. Every song, every story, every educational record is a stimulating adventure for thirty young minds.

And best of all, the whole Walt Disney Library is yours to examine and enjoy for 10 days free before you commit yourself to spend a penny!

AN INVESTMENT YOU WILL TREASURE FOR YEARS

The Walt Disney Library is by far the most complete anthology of children's records ever offered in any record library. But make no mistake - these are not just ordinary "kiddy" records which you might expect your children to play a few times and toss aside. These are fully orchestrated recordings of the finest quality and richest material possible. Here are stories, songs and lessons that never grow old - that become a lasting and treasured part of your children's childhood.

FROM PRE-KINDERGARTEN THROUGH SIXTH GRADE

No expense was spared to make this library the finest collection of children's material ever recorded. Its color on with exceptionally wide appeal even for toddlers as young as 3 and 4. And because of the Disney penchant for perfection, your children will relish as they never have before stories like the 3 Little Pigs, The Little Engine That Could, Swiss Family Robinson, Mickey and the Beanstalk and 101 Dalmatians, every tale brought to them by story-telling artists with fascinating sound effects and musical backgrounds.

You will be utterly amazed how entranced youngsters are by the simple way Addition and Subtraction are presented - at the way Music is explained, and how the magic of the alphabet and the mysteries of time are unraveled.

And in addition, there are thrilling scores from Mary Poppins, Winnie the Pooh, Hansel and Gretel, Peter and the Wolf and Cinderella - 5 of the most beloved children's classics of all time.

This remarkable library has the variety to suit all tastes and fill the entertainment and educational needs of youngsters of any age. Only The Walt Disney Studios could have created it.

A Valentine's Guide To the 'New' Woman

St. Valentine has seen many changes in how his day is celebrated. Two generations ago it was all the rage to send "ugly" cards pointing out the recipient's defects. One generation ago romance made a comeback, and all was hearts and flowers.

Today, however, what with so many young women wanting to be "liberated" from their customary sex roles, the average young man isn't quite sure how to treat this new breed of female. Here, then, is a handy guide to the kind of approach called for when one is courting the Liberated Woman who is "turned off" by old-fashioned male gallantry:

Watch Your Language. There's a whole new feminist vocabulary. Don't ask a liberated woman for a date. There are friendships, and they evolve. Guard yourself against such remarks as "you're a good-looking broad." This isn't man talk. It's just-insulting to a woman. Don't call this woman lady, girl, doll, honey, or baby: belittling terms which define her as an object, a thing. Use her name.

To the liberated woman, "feminine" connotes a pretense, something unnatural—like batting one's eyelashes. If you dig her, say she's female, not feminine.

If she's an ardent feminist, be careful. Never insinuate she's a man hater—anti-men—just because she's pro-women. She'll never forgive you. Anyway, ridicule is a ploy used by a man to keep a woman in her place.

Who Calls Whom. After you've made each other's acquaintance and you decide you'd like to see one another again, who calls whom? It should be left casual, informal. She can call you, or you can call her. It will give you a chance to see what it's like on the other side—to accept or refuse a date as well as being accepted or not.

Calling for Her. This is largely circumstantial. If she has a car, let her pick you up. If you do, then vice-versa. If you both drive, flip a coin. If neither of you does, arrange to meet at a central place. Don't act as if you're responsible for her. A liberated woman detests paternalism.

Where to Go. The liberated gal may be as interested in a Women's Lib meeting as she is in spending the evening with you. Why not go along, take an interest in her activities.

The liberated woman is a great talker. Why not suggest dinner. Don't choose the place: Two decisions and you're a chauvinist. Better yet, be unconventional. Why not cook supper and let her bring the wine.

This gal's involved in politics, the community, so know what rallies and lectures are around.

Choosing the Wine. If you've agreed to have dinner out, play it by ear. Decisions can be shared which formerly were assumed by the man. If she frequents the restaurant in which you are dining, let her ask the headwaiter for a good table. What about the wine? She might be able to suggest a good take pride in her accomplishments.

Know, too, that with this woman you're not in competition. You don't have to prove you're an authority. But believe in what you say. She can spot a phony.

Status Symbol. (An extra hint) Don't invite this woman out to impress friends, coworkers. She'll sense it and dislike you. She's not a possession, a decoration. This kind of invitation is out: "Would you enjoy meeting me for dinner? I've just finished a business conference, and some of the fellows have asked me to join them."

Compliments. Save them. They're usually patronizing: "Honey, I like that dress (better than the other one)"; or, "Your hair looks great that way (rather) become familiar with the ideas of Simone de Beauvoir, Ti-Grace Atkinson, and Robin Morgan.

Care about the Equal-Rights Amendment (on and off) in Congress and Women's Lib activities in your town: job, discrimination, child-care centers, disparaging images of women on television as well as in films.

Criticism. Don't correct her manners. Keep quiet if she uses the wrong fork during dinner or mispronounces the name of a house specialty.

Oneupmanship is usually distasteful. Ask yourself, "Would I ever want her to correct me?"

Saying Good Night. The liberated woman has discarded the taboos and inhibitions handed down by Mother. So Chablis if you're eating fish. You may let her deal with the wine steward.

Paying the Bill. Split the check, no "it's, and's, or but's. The liberated woman doesn't want a man paying for her services." You're spending the evening together because you like her, not because you're buying her time.

The Conversation. What to talk about with a liberated woman: the more heated the discussion the better. The liberated woman loves to argue, use her wits. Her being cute, sweet, pretty may be enough for you, but it's not for her. She will resent discussing trivia, also intellectual condescension. "Man is intellect, woman intuition" became obsolete the day the first woman entered a classroom. Encourage her to er than hanging limp)." Seldom a man can flatter without sounding like he's instructing a woman. Sometimes compliments are exploitative: "Your skin is so soft"; "Your hair is so lovely." This kind of adoration makes the liberated woman feel as if she is being turned into an object.

Manners. Don't hold doors, help her on with her coat, carry packages, open cars, light her cigarette. They're taboo—plays which keep woman in a subordinate, dependent role.

Boning Up on the Lib. Know something about woman's history: who were Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Emma Goldman, Elizabeth Blackwell? Read Kate Millet's "Sexual Politics" and Betty Friedan's "The Feminine Mystique."

Don't be surprised if she's affectionate. And don't be astonished if she's not. Women's Liberation means an option to choose.

Forget the Myths. "Machismo" might work for John Wayne, but the present-day woman doesn't like the drill sergeant, the conquering hero. She knows a tender, thoughtful man is much more satisfying. And forget what Dad told you about a woman wanting to be subdued. It frustrates her—all the time having to pretend she's weak and spineless. And what a bore!

So turn to that woman sitting next to you and strike up a conversation. Relax. Enjoy it. You might find out your initial fears were unwarranted and that you really enjoy being with her.

QUIPS AND QUOTES

A family who moved from town to the suburbs decided they needed a watchdog to guard the house at night. So they bought the largest dog they could find at a local kennel.

Not long afterwards, burglars broke into the house.

The dog slept through the robbery, so the furious head of the house went to the kennel owner and complained.

"Well," explained the owner, "what you need now is a little dog to wake up the big dog."

A college professor was trying to advise a difficult young man on choosing a career. But the student seemed to have no ambitions at all. He found many objections to every possibility of a life's work.

Finally the professor asked in despair: "Isn't there anything on earth you'd like to be?"

"Why, yes," the young man drawled, "I'd like to be a retired businessman."

The father was reading a bedtime story to his young, precocious son. It was a story he had read many times before.

Occasionally, when the boy's eyes closed sleepily, the father would skip a paragraph. Instantly the boy would be wide awake, and he'd insist that his father go back and pick up the missing paragraph.

"What difference does it make?" the father protested. "You know the story word for word any way."

"I know," the little boy replied, "but a father should tell it like it is."

A young mother was patiently trying to teach her preschool daughter how to memorize her home address. The child kept omitting or forgetting some portion of it.

"But what will you do if the nursery-school teacher asks you where you live, Debby?" the mother worried.

After a moment's hesitation, the little girl replied: "Don't worry, Mommy. I'll let David answer first. Then I'll tell the teacher that I live across the street from him."

Here are the little-known facts ab

Night Observation Device, which can detect enemy activity at up to nearly a mile.

Quietly, but with efficiency and speed, the U. S. Army is forging a startling revolution in warfare. Experts believe it will completely reshape combat techniques.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, says flatly: "We are on the threshold of an entirely new battlefield concept."

The concept is "IBCS"—Integrated Battlefield Control System—a futuristic complex of vision-expanding devices, advanced automation, exotic sensors, electronic technology, and complex computerization.

In action, here is what the sophisticated IBSC is all about. First, the battlefield of the near future will be sown in a planned pattern (by airdrop or by ground patrol) with thousands of miniaturized sensors—devices that detect the presence of an advancing enemy by the sounds of his movement, by the subtle but distinctive odors of his explosives, by the minute earth vibrations caused by his footsteps, by the infrared rays emitted by his unseen fires, and even by the chemicals released in his body wastes.

Immediately upon detecting an enemy, the unmanned sensors automatically radio their information to "portatales"—electronic read-out display panels—in a bunker miles away. The portatale operators interpret their read-outs to rule out such false alarms as animal activation of the sensors. The combined inputs from the various sensors can then reveal the location, size, speed, and direction of the enemy's movements. Finally, data from all the portatales go to a central command post where they are fed into a computer.

Meantime, on this electronic battlefield of the future, ground observers are scanning the forward areas with a series of remarkable optical instruments: "scopes" that permit clear observation even on pitch-dark nights by a many-fold amplification of starlight; devices that see through foliage; heat-image instruments that use temperature differences to create a cathode-ray-tube picture of a marching column of soldiers; sighting devices that utilize laser technology; "pink searchlights" whose invisible beams enable an observer—equipped with special glasses—to see an unsuspecting enemy in total darkness. All these sightings from the forward observation posts are radioed to the command post where they, too, are punched into the computer.

Along with portatale-and-ground-observer data, information flows into the main command post from helicopters equipped with advanced radar and infrared detectors, or with such exotic devices as LLTV—a low-light intensification camera that transmits TV images of the battlefield directly to a display panel in the command post. Data from the hell-borne devices are fed into the computer to join that sent by the sensors and the ground-sighting

... "sees" soldier and tank in complete darkness as if they were in bright daylight.

Already in the computer, of course, are thousands of "bits" of information previously assembled from more usual sources: intelligence estimates, agents' reports, interrogations of prisoners, data from captured documents, and intercepted messages.

But even this tremendous array of information is only half of the military equation. The commander's staff has also fed into the computer an enormous mass of facts on our own or allied forces: the location and strength of all units; weaponry and ammunition stocks; types and numbers of vehicles and aircraft; meteorological data; the condition of the roads; the status of reserves and back-up support available from rear commands.

Now, perhaps the most amazing thing in the whole IBSC setup takes place. From this welter of information, the computer produces in seconds a precise and up-to-the-second picture of both the enemy's and our own situation. The value of IBSC does not end even here. The computer is also programmed to integrate its thousands of "bits" of information into a print-out of the military action options open to the commander. The hard decisions are still his. No machine can exercise human judgment, resolve, or wisdom. But IBSC gives the commander unprecedented scope for making lightning-fast yet surpassingly sound battlefield decisions.

And while IBSC cannot fight the individual soldier's battle for him, it does give the GI a vastly enhanced opportunity of defeating the enemy with the least possible risk to himself.

There is no doubt that, in the words of General Westmoreland, IBSC will exert as profound a change on land combat as did the tank and the helicopter. Indeed, many Pentagon insiders believe that Westmoreland understates the case. They say that IBSC will make the face of warfare more thoroughly than anything since the invention of gunpowder.

When can we expect the Integrated Battlefield Control System to become fact? Is IBSC still far down a distant road, or is it drawing into sight? "With cooperative effort," says General Westmoreland, "no more than 10 years should separate us from the automated battlefield."

Electronic Battlefield

America's fantastic new system of computerized warfare

By VERNON PIZER

But the truth is that the first stages of IBCS are already a reality. For example, here is a sampling of some of the more than 250 automated battlefield items that are already developed:

MINISID (Miniature Seismic Intrusion Detector)—Implanted by hand along likely routes of enemy approach this compact sensor detects the vibrations of moving soldiers at a distance of more than 100 feet, and those of vehicles at more than 1,000 feet. It instantly converts these seismic vibrations into electrical impulses and transmits them by self-contained radio to a distant "portable" monitor. (ADSID and PSID, similar to MINISID, have greater range.)

XM-3—Popularly dubbed "the people sniffer," this is a chemical sensor that detects the presence of humans by identifying tell-tale substances in their body wastes. It also sends its data to a read-out monitor.

SEAR—This highly sophisticated airborne radar is able to look sideways as well as straight ahead, thus vastly increasing the area of battlefield surveillance. On the ground, there is AN PPS-9 and AN PPS-10—radars so miniaturized that one can be carried by a single patrolling soldier.

ACOUBUOY—A compact acoustical sensor has emerged from pioneering Navy development of sub-killer sonar devices. Delivered on target by air-drop, the device picks up and broadcasts to its home base all the sounds made by an enemy who does not even suspect he is "on the air."

STARLIGHT SCOPE—An individual weapon sight that abolishes darkness for the night-fighting soldier by multiplying a thousand-fold the faint starlight or moonlight that is reflected by his target. This is only one in a whole family of night-vision devices. Another is helmet-mounted, infrared binoculars that enable a driver to see in the dark.

These and scores of other devices have already been battle-tested in Vietnam and have emerged with flying colors. The first major test came in early 1968, when a massive Vietcong and North Vietnamese force was closing in on the U.S. base at Khe Sanh. The U.S. command scented the approaches to Khe Sanh with its sensors, not without a certain degree of skepticism. But skeptics were rapidly converted to believers when the sensors began to "talk" to them around the clock, drawing a detailed picture of the advancing enemy.

So timely and accurate was this sensor-developed data that the U.S. defenders were quickly able to fashion a counter-strategy and smash two enemy divisions. An official U.S. report of the action, referring specifically to the role played by sensors, declared that "The results at Khe Sanh fired the imagination of the field commanders."

Probably the most experienced of all U.S. commanders in the new techniques of the electronic battlefield is Major General Ellis W. Williamson, commander of the 25th Infantry Division in Vietnam from mid-1968 until the end of 1969.

The 52-year-old North Carolinian, who began his military career as a National Guard private, was a highly decorated combat commander in World War II and Korea as well as Vietnam. When he talks about combat, people listen.

Not long ago, members of the U.S. Senate Armed Services Committee listened attentively as General Williamson testified on his experiences on the electronic battlefield.

"The best real war story I have is Fire Base Crook," he said. "This is where 412 enemy soldiers were eliminated with the loss of only one U.S. soldier."

Fire Base Crook was established in April, 1969, northwest of Tay Ninh city. A sharp thorn in the enemy's side, the base blocked one of his divisions and also served as a springboard for American operations near the Cambodian border. Aware that attack against Crook was only a matter of time, Williamson ordered sensors seeded along its approaches.

On June 5, the North Vietnamese attacked. In General Williamson's own words, "The first indication of enemy activity near Crook was given by sensor activations 950 meters east and 550 meters northwest of the base at 2000

Cloud cover cleared shortly after midnight, and the soldier manning the night-observation device on the tower began confirming radar sightings."

Fighting broke off at dawn when the North Vietnamese withdrew. They left 76 dead behind. On the American side one soldier had been killed by an incoming mortar round.

The next night the sensors came to life again, heralding a renewed attack in greater strength. This time the American forces—alarmed by their sensors and aided by their night-vision devices—accounted for 323 enemy dead and 10 captured without a single American loss. On the third night, the North Vietnamese launched a final but half-hearted attack that cost them three more casualties. The one-sided statistics lend emphasis to the contention of General Williamson and other experts that the developing electronic battlefield has already cost the enemy dearly, while conserving American lives.

But the Fire Base Crook story wasn't over yet. The enemy attempted to neutralize Williamson's 25th Division by sowing the entire sector with thousands of difficult-to-detect plastic mines and booby traps. Mining was not new; it had been going on for months; but the scale of these nightly plantings was a serious and unprecedented threat.

At division headquarters, General Williamson and his staff had a hunch that electronics might hold the key. They had a UNIVAC 1005 computer that was used to process personnel records. Pressing the computer into far different usage, the staff fed into the location of every mine and booby trap that had been discovered over the past several months. Their hope was that the computer's ability to analyze the enormous amount of data would reveal the enemy's master plan for his mining operations.

The hunch paid off. The computer revealed a clear pattern of seven specific areas of high-density mining. Williamson immediately diverted 56 sensors to the seven areas. His aim was to overcome the mines by eliminating the soldiers who moved in each night to plant them.

The payoff was immediate and dramatic. Each night, the sensors came to life, announcing that enemy mine layers were at work. Artillery then zeroed in on the unseen miners, wreaking havoc. In an understatement, Williamson says matter-of-factly: "We complicated the life of the mine planter no end."

Obviously the first phases of the Integrated Battlefield Control System is still in its infancy. But it holds the awesome promise of an electronic battlefield of the future that might well make war itself obsolete. ♦

Helicopter crewman is about to seed battlefield with ADSID—a compact sensor that imbeds itself in the ground and picks up slightest earth vibrations created by enemy soldiers.

A Special Lunch

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Seafood Supreme in a large, rich pastry shell teamed with a fruit salad of pineapple, mandarin oranges, and avocado is served with sesame sticks.

Exclusively feminine—and irresistibly delicious—is an intimate luncheon featuring a superb seafood concoction in a pastry, a fruit salad, and a chocolate soufflé. Together with other personal food preferences and a beverage of distinction, you'll be certain to please all feminine fancies.

Seafood Supreme in Pastry Shells

- 6 Pastry Shells
- 8 oz. frozen shelled and deveined shrimp, cooked, following pkg. directions
- 12 oz. frozen cooked Alaska king crab meat, thawed
- Mushrooms (about 8 oz.), cleaned, sliced, and sautéed
- 1/4 cup snipped parsley
- 2 cups cold milk
- 1/2 cup instant blending flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 2 tablespoons sherry

1. Set prepared shrimp, crab meat, mushrooms, and parsley aside.
2. Measure the cold milk into a saucepan; add instant blending flour and stir until blended. Add salt, pepper, and butter or margarine. Set over medium heat; bring to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil 1 min.
3. Blend in the beaten egg yolks and prepared ingredients. Bring just to boiling, stirring gently. Stir in sherry.
4. Set pastry shells onto serving plates and immediately fill with the hot seafood mixture. 6 servings

Pastry Shells

- 2 cups instant blending flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1/4 cup water

1. Mix the instant blending flour and salt together in a bowl. Cut in the shortening thoroughly and finely, using a pastry blender. Sprinkle with water, a tablespoon at a time, mixing lightly with a fork until all the flour is moistened.

2. Gather dough into a ball and turn out on a pastry canvas which has been lightly floured with instant blending flour. Knead gently with fingertips until dough holds together (a few drops of water may be added if necessary).

3. Divide dough into 6 equal portions. Roll each to a 6-in. round, or large enough to fit over the back of a large custard cup. Prick pastry with a fork while on canvas. After placing pastry over cups, pinch where necessary to fit closely. Set on a baking sheet.

4. Bake at 475°F. 8 to 10 min. Remove from oven and set on a cooling rack. When ready to use, carefully remove pastry shells from the custard cups. 6 pastry shells

Cold Chocolate "Soufflé"

Tie an aluminum foil collar around top edge of a 1 1/2-qt. soufflé dish. In a large bowl empty 2 cans (18 oz. each) ready-to-serve chocolate pudding. Fold in 1 cup heavy cream, whipped to soft peaks, and 3 egg whites, beaten to stiff peaks with 1/2 cup sugar. Pile lightly into soufflé dish. Sprinkle with chopped salted nuts. Set in freezer until thoroughly chilled. Remove collar before serving.

Lemon Consommé

- 1 qt. boiling water
- 8 chicken bouillon cubes
- Lemon peel, finely shredded
- Lemon juice (2 to 3 tablespoons)
- Dairy sour cream

1. Dissolve bouillon cubes in the boiling water. Blend in the lemon juice.
2. Serve the Lemon Consommé in demitasse or small tencups. Add a dollop of sour cream to each and sprinkle with shredded lemon peel. Accompany with specially-shaped snacks. 1 qt. consommé

An Important Message To Every Man And Woman In America Losing His Or Her Hair

If you are troubled by thinning hair, dandruff, itchy scalp, if you fear approaching baldness, read the rest of this statement carefully. It may mean the difference to you between saving your hair and losing the rest of it to eventual baldness.

Baldness is simply a matter of subtraction. When the number of new hairs fail to equal the number of falling hair, you end up minus your head of hair (bald). Why not avoid baldness by preventing unnecessary loss of hair? Why not turn the tide of battle on your head by eliminating needless causes of hair loss and give Nature a chance to grow more hair for you? Many of the country's dermatologists and other foremost hair and scalp specialists believe that seborrhea, a common scalp disorder, causes hair loss. What is seborrhea? It is a bacterial infection of the scalp that can eventually cause permanent damage to the hair follicles. Its visible evidence is "thinning" hair. Its end result is baldness. Its symptoms are dry, itchy scalp, dandruff, oily hair, head scales, and progressive hair loss.

So, if you are beginning to notice that your forehead is getting larger, beginning to notice that there is too much hair on your comb, beginning to be worried about the dryness of your hair, the itchy-ness of your scalp, the ugly dandruff — these are Nature's Red Flags warning you of impending baldness. Even if you have been losing your hair for some time, don't let seborrhea rob you of the rest of your hair.

HOW COMATE WORKS ON YOUR SCALP

The development of an amazing new hair and scalp medicine called Comate is specifically designed to control seborrhea and stop the hair loss it causes. It offers the opportunity to thousands of men and women losing their hair to bacterial infection to reverse the battle they are now losing on their scalps. By stopping this impediment to normal hair growth, new hairs can grow as Nature intended.

This is how Comate works: (1) It combines in a single scalp treatment the essential corrective factors for normal hair growth. By its sulfazone action it stimulates blood circulation to the scalp, thereby supplying more nutrition to still-alive hair follicles. (2) As a highly effective antiseptic, Comate kills on contact the seborrhea-causing scalp bacteria believed to be a cause of baldness. (3) By its keratolitic action it dissolves ugly dandruff. By tending to normalize the lubrication of the hair shaft it corrects excessively dry and oily hair. It eliminates head scales and scalp itch. In short, Comate offers you in a single treatment the best that modern medicine has developed for the preservation of your hair. There is no excuse today except ignorance for any man or woman to neglect seborrhea and pay the penalty of hair loss.

COMATE IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED

To you we offer this UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE. Treat your scalp to Comate in your own home, following the simple directions. See for yourself in your own mirror how after a few treatments, Comate makes your hair look thicker and alive. How Comate ends your dandruff, stops your scalp itch. How Comate gives your hair a chance to grow. Most men and women report results after the first treatment, some take longer. But we say this to you, if, for any reason, you are not completely satisfied with the improvement in your own case — AT ANY TIME — return the unused portion for a prompt refund. No questions asked.

But don't delay. For the sake of your hair, order Comate today. Nothing — not even Comate — can grow hair from dead follicles. Fill out the coupon now, and take the first step toward a good head of hair again.

COMATE CORPORATION
21 West 46th Street, New York, N.Y. 10036

Male pattern baldness is the cause of the great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss. In such cases neither the Comate treatment nor any other treatment is effective.

Note To Doctors
Doctors, clinics and hospitals interested in scalp disorders can obtain professional samples and literature on written request.

"I used to wash my hair with a hair shampoo but it did me no good. The itching was terrible." — M. M. Los Angeles, Cal.

"Comate is successful in every way. I mention blood to you if it has changed in my scalp." — E. M. W. Richmond, Wash.

"I've used a good many different 'creams' but until I tried Comate, I had no results. Now I'm rid of seborrhea and I have my hair back looking fine." — E. S. Albion, Canada.

"My hair has improved. It used to fall out by handfuls. Comate stopped it from falling out." — M. Williams City, Ga.

"My hair has been thinning and falling out since I was 17." — J. W. Chicago, Ill.

"Used to have and my hair has already stopped falling." — W. W. Carleton, Cal.

"My husband had tried many treatments but found a great deal of money on his hair being shaved until he started using your Comate." — Mrs. W. T. Phoenix, Ohio.

"How my hair looks with this." — J. W. Chicago, Ill.

"He troubles with dandruff since I started using it." — W. W. Carleton, Cal.

"My hair had been coming out and breaking off for about 21 years and Comate has restored it to me." — Mrs. J. S. Lincoln, Cal.

SAUNA SHORTS

GUARANTEED TO TAKE 3 TO 6 INCHES OFF YOUR HIPS, THIGHS & WAISTLINE IN JUST ONE WEEK OR YOUR MONEY REFUNDED.

Here it is: The Brand New "Inches-off" discovery which is proving beyond doubt that you can take inches off your hips, thighs and waistline in just days—without dieting. Men and women alike are experiencing amazingly fast results with this new inches-removing method. Read what they say:

B. W.: Montreal, Canada

"I lost 6½" in just 7 days with my fabulous new Sauna Shorts. Two inches from my waist, two inches from my thighs, and 2½ inches from my hips! I didn't believe it was possible, but the tape measure doesn't lie!"

Mr. R. C.: Burbank, California

"I wore my Sauna Shorts one day to mow the lawn, and after I was done, I found I had lost 2 inches the very first day! No more pleated pants for me. I look great in the new styles, if I do say so myself."

Mrs. L. J. S.: Miami, Florida

"You should see me doing the housework in my floral print Sauna Shorts. I've had such great results, it almost makes cleaning house worthwhile. Three inches gone in a week—three more to go!"

J. L.: Paris, Texas

"I'm down to a size 9 pants from a size 11 and I owe it all to Sauna Shorts. All my clothes look much better on me now, and I feel great. I just wear my Sauna Shorts every two weeks or so now to keep in good shape (Literally!). Thanks for developing such an easy way to slim down."

HOW DO SAUNA SHORTS WORK?

These incredible new Sauna Shorts are made of a ventilable "bee hive" of air pockets that combine the benefits of your own personal Swedish Sauna with an amazingly simple exercise plan—all designed to work away your unwanted inches. Just slip into your Sauna Shorts as you would any shorts, and inflate them with the convenient, detachable air pump we provide you with (at no extra charge). Immediately, you'll feel a gentle massaging action, a comforting warmth and unique support. You'll feel these hundreds of tiny air pockets—each with its own individual pressure point—snuggling up to you, lighter and lighter. When you feel the resistance is appropriate put aside the air pump and feel the comforting sauna-like warmth and support these tiny air pockets bring. How can something that's working off inches feel so good? It's almost cheating!

We'll also send along instructions for three simple exercises you will perform in order to pinpoint inches-removal from your hips, thighs or waist—or all three at once. The exercises take just a few minutes. Then, you'll keep your Sauna Shorts on while you relax or go about your regular routine. They're not heavy like many so-called reducing devices. Sauna Shorts work on the principle of creating resistance to natural movement—somewhat like isometric exercises—except that you don't have to do the work! Sauna Shorts are designed to make your every movement (even breathing) an exercise for dissolving inches. After you remove your Sauna Shorts, you'll feel slimmer, firmer—even after just one wearing. Many people report a loss of inches the very first day!

WEAR YOUR SAUNA SHORTS FOR 1 WEEK!

Provided you actually have excess inches which you can afford to lose, we recommend your wearing Sauna Shorts for about half an hour or so every day. Many persons have lost as much as 4 inches from just one session with the Sauna Shorts. And you may use your Sauna Shorts with the single exercise plan on a regular basis. You'll be able to maintain a firm, trim and youthful figure. The results obtained, this first week, will differ among individuals depending upon physical factors. But from the amazingly effective results users are now experiencing, we're prepared to make you this outstanding money-back guarantee: Wear your Sauna Shorts for 1 week, if you are not completely satisfied and/or if you have not lost from 3 to 6 inches, you may return them for a 100% prompt refund.

TWO DIFFERENT TYPES TO CHOOSE FROM... BOTH INCREDIBLE BARGAINS!

Choose the regular Sauna Shorts for reducing hips and thighs—just $9.95. For hips, thighs and waistline reduction, select the long-line Sauna Shorts... only $14.95. And remember, these Sauna Shorts are not sold in any store. They are not available elsewhere—at any price! They are available exclusively from SAUNA SHORTS, INC. in an attractive floral print pattern for ladies and in handsome navy blue for men.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

So thoroughly convinced are we that you will consider Sauna Shorts the most convenient, rapid and amazingly effective reducer for the hips, thighs (and waistline), we are offering you this unconditional money back guarantee:

Man or woman, if your total inches-loss does not equal or exceed 3 to 6 inches in just one week, you may return your Sauna Shorts for a prompt, total refund—no questions asked. So, if you want a slimmer, trimmer, more youthfully sleek look now, order your amazing new Sauna Shorts today! You have nothing to lose but inches! There is nothing like Sauna Shorts anywhere!

The Land Where Legends Live

Winter vacationists traditionally fall into two main categories: snow birds and sun worshippers. But for woods lovers and lake fanciers, the Cajun Country of Louisiana can be a surprising change of pace.

Step behind that Spanish moss curtain, only about an hour's drive south of jazzy New Orleans, and voilà!, you are in the colorful back-country, where serpentine bayous wind their watery way around moss-veiled oaks, antebellum plantations, and quaint villages.

"Cajun" is a time—and dialect-distorted version of "Acadian." Two centuries ago the French-speaking settlers of Acadia—which we now call Nova Scotia—were exiled by the English. They made the long trek south and found refuge in Louisiana and other Southern states. Thus, still today, the region is a jumble of French patois, country music with Gallic 17th-century undertones. Old World folklore starring the werewolf, Loup Garou, Acadian-Creole cuisine (Oh, that crayfish étouffée!), romantic legends (Spanish moss originated from the tresses of a loveless Indian maiden), Saturday all-night Jas-do-do dances, festivals for shrimp and suckling pig.

For us, Cajun Country begins at Cut Off in Bayou Lafourche, my husband's home town. From here, we drive hundreds of miles deeper into the soul of Cajun Country; Hospitality Cajun style decrees that my husband must stay at the homes of childhood friends, no matter when he returns to Cut Off.

Cajun Country is a land of legends, and I have followed one to St. Martinville, about 15 miles south of Lafayette. The oldest Acadian community on big Bayou Teche, St. Martinville, still retains the old tradition of tacking printed funeral notices on street posts. Here in the churchyard lies Evangeline, the heroine, immortalized in Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's epic poem.

Evangeline—one of the banished Acadians

BACKACHE Aching Muscles

You long to ease those pains, even temporarily, until the cause is cleared up. For palliative, or temporary, relief of backache, DeWitt's Pills contain an anesthetic to reduce pain and a very mild diuretic to help eliminate retained fluids, thus flushing out irritating pain causing bladder wastes.

DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail if pain persists. Always see your doctor.

Helps Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Caused By Inflammation And Infection

Also Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief In Many Cases from Pain and Burning Itch in Such Tissues.

There's an exclusive formulation which actually helps shrink the painful swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by infection. In many cases the first application gives prompt, temporary relief from itching and pain in hemorrhoidal tissues.

The sufferer first notices relief from such painful discomfort. Then this medication helps to gently reduce swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues. Tests conducted by doctors on hundreds of patients in New York City, Washington, D.C., and at a Midwest Medical Center showed this to be true in many cases.

The medication used by doctors in these tests was Preparation II—the same exclusive formula you can buy at any drug counter without a prescription. Preparation II also lubricates the affected area to protect the inflamed, irritated surface and so helps make bowel movements more comfortable.

There is no other formula like Preparation II. In ointment or suppository form.

How Denim Left the And Found a Home In the City

By ROSALYN ABBREVAYA

Designers this season are taking the country out of denim. Once the gear of farmhands and cowboys, today a status symbol of the youth cult, denim is really putting on the dog. According to Ken O'Keefe, Fashion Director of the Men's Fashion Association, "denim is no longer synonymous with overalls and jeans."

Simple sophistication, but in all kinds of combinations and permutations, characterizes the new "city" denim as it débuts in red, white, or in shades of traditional blue. It can be brushed into a soft texture or pinstriped.

But the big news is in the silhouettes. Styled for leisurewear in a shirt or tunic suit or tailored for the office in a shaped model, denim is widening horizons for the fashion-conscious male.

It's getting so, a gal to keep up with her guy no longer asks where are we going, but what are you wearing!

COVER: Brushed denim tunic suit by McGregor-Daniger

Above: taking on city ways, a brushed blue denim suit by Easy Rider sports top stitching and patch pocket details. It's teamed with denim and white shoes by Renegades. Right: multi-colored stripes make up this belted denim shirt suit designed by Larry Kohn for Reflex Wear. The accessories: denim shoulder tote and boots by Renegades.

Country denim was never like this. A hand-some wide-lapel striped sport jacket débuts in polyester and cotton denim by Contino.

Imagine! A 40-Foot House Covered with GIANT RED ROSES From One Single Plant

Amazing rose discovery soars up to 40 ft. high—spreads up to 20 ft. wide—spreads across bare walls like wildfire with blazing color from spring to frost.

You're looking at the amazing new climbing rose developed by the Rev. W. W. Bunge of Minnesota that has been called "a phenomenal rose factory". Imagine the glory of a rosebush that streaks skyward 18 inches in a single week—and once established reaches fantastic heights of 20 feet in a single season—spreads 40 feet along walls, fences and trellises.

Imagine the glory of a rosebush that bursts into gigantic blossoms up to 5 inches across—roses so eager to bloom the entire plant is covered with hundreds of lavish flowers at one single time—roses that burst into fiery masses of bloom again and again in June, July, August, September, October—until snow starts to fly.

Turn your house into a showplace from June to frost

This incredible rose discovery has been acclaimed as a new floral sensation by leading garden authorities. And no wonder! With just one single plant you can "curtain" a whole house wall and breathe way with masses of roses—frames, windows and doorways with garlands of blossoms. Here roses that sweep over the roofs of ranch houses and trail fountains of bloom from one side of the house to the other. Roses that screen your garage and backyard on arbors or trellises—roses to sweep along fences and surround your property with living walls of color 5 months of the year.

Yes, now you can create a floral paradise, the kind of lavish beauty you see in garden magazines, cause a neighborhood sensation of fiery splendor that can be seen for blocks—and do it all at an incredibly low cost!

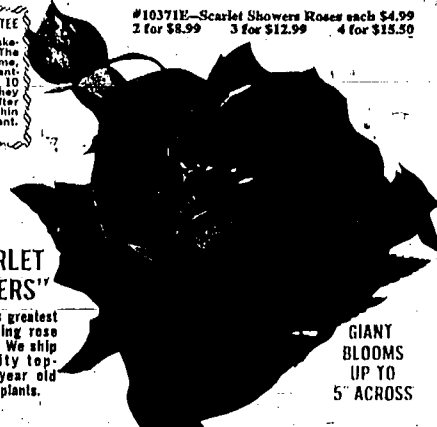

Exceptionally winter-hardy and disease resistant. Even blooms in partial shade.

Called the Ray Bunge "Scarlet Showers" Rose, it has laughed off even bitter-cold Minnesota winters with almost no protection whatever—and is so disease resistant that it actually withstands blackspot. More amazing—it even blooms in partly shady locations in Rev. Bunge's test gardens where practically no other rose can survive. (As little as 3 hours of sunlight produces ravishing masses of bloom.)

This is the wonder rose that Rev. Bunge has finally perfected and patented after 32 years of breeding. Now you can have it blooming in your garden for a lifetime of beauty if you order now—before our limited supplies are exhausted.

2-WAY MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
All plants are shipped on Lakeland's 2-way guarantee. (1) The plants must reach you in prime, fresh condition, ready for planting—or return them within 10 days for full refund. (2) They must take hold and thrive after planting—or return them within 2 months for full replacement. No order now without risk.

At 4½ she's reading 3rd grade books

a child prodigy?
not at all! your child, too can be reading one, two or three years beyond his present age level...even if he's a "poor" reader now

Prove it to yourself...with this 10 day free trial!

Reading is fun for Sarah—as it should be for every child. At age four and a half, she's already choosing her own books at the San Diego, Cal. library. She reads books many third graders find "hard going." Yet she won't enter first grade for another year.

Sarah is typical of thousands of children who learned to read with "Listen and Learn with Phonics"—a reading kit that actually makes reading fun.

"Listen and Learn with Phonics" was developed by a reading expert. It has been endorsed, after extensive testing by teachers, schools, and educators.

This practical (and inexpensive) home-learning kit fascinates eager young minds from three to ten. The child hears the letters or sounds on the phonograph record; sees them in his book and repeats them himself. This makes an absorbing game of better reading—with amazing results!

FOR EXAMPLE:

- Slow or average readers show sudden, often spectacular improvement in reading, in spelling, in understanding.

- Older children often advance their reading skills several years beyond their age levels.
- Young "pre-schoolers" actually teach themselves to read by this simple but startlingly effective phonics method of words, pictures, and records.

6 TEACHING GAMES INCLUDED FREE
Set includes six separate "word building" games. All six are sent with your Listen and Learn Phonics Set FREE, of charge!

TEACHERS & PARENTS ACCLAIM RESULTS

"I received your Combination Teaching Set and am positively delighted with it! . . . your marvelous approach to reading is just what we need."

Mrs. Rogovin, Central High School, Snyder, N.Y.

"We purchased 'Listen and Learn With Phonics' . . . for our nine year old son . . . within two weeks his reading had improved 100%."

Mrs. Grayson, San Leandro, Cal.

4-MONTH UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE

If not satisfied with the program shown by your child—just return the set for complete refund.

These "Learning Tools" Simple to Use!
You don't need special teaching skills to use this program. Nor do you need any special knowledge of phonics.

In fact, your child needs no special supervision on your part. This set is so simple, so fascinating, he can learn "on his own" without help.

10-DAY FREE TRIAL—PLUS 4-MONTH MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!

Results are so dramatic, the publishers will make the complete kit available to your child with an equally dramatic FREE trial and guarantee.

Under the terms of this unusual offer you can test the kit free of charge for ten days. Moreover you may use the kit for four months and then return it for full refund if you're not completely satisfied with your child's progress!

See for yourself how fast your child can learn to read. Just fill out and mail the coupon attached. There's no obligation, and six teaching games are included free—yours to keep whether you buy or not. The Land Where Legends Live —was separated from her lover Gabriel, on the trek south. When she finally reached St. Martinville, then an Attakapas Indian trading post, Evangeline caught up with Gabriel. Then came the moment of truth under an oak tree. Gabriel confessed he had married another girl. The ancient oak, heavily veiled with moss—as though in mourning, has been christened the Evangeline Oak.

The haunting legend leads to Long-fellow-Evangeline Memorial State Park, a scenic 175-acre tract of land for picnicking, camping, or swimming. Here lived the real Gabriel, Louis Arceneux, in what is now the Acadian House Museum. And, of course, there is a Gabriel Oak in the park. Gabriel definitely carried someone else over that threshold as his bride. His daughter, Cidalise Arceneux, is buried in Lafayette's St. John Cathedral cemetery.

After the sentimental journey to St. Martinville, we like a change of pace and stop in Breauz Bridge, a picturesque town on the banks of the Teche, where crawfish is king and served royally. The pace quickens in the nearby small town of Happy Landing, when the community has a public fals-do-do dance. Old dancers, young dancers all call out in French, "Laissez les bon temps roulez!" which means "Let the good times roll!"

For visitors who prefer big-city comforts but want their Cajun Country, too, it's a good idea to stay in Lafayette, an excellent base for drives to off-the-beaten path Cajun communities. A swinging city, complete with airport, Lafayette struck oil, and Cajun customs have become enriched with sophistication. But Cajun cooking in the restaurants is simply delicious! Some of the specialties or gumbos (thick seafood or chicken "stews" with the distinctive flavor of powdered sassafras root), the crawfish etouffée (crawfish, vegetables and seasonings blended into a rich gravy and served over Louisiana rice), jambalaya (a wonderful mixture of anything—seafood, ham, vegetables, rice).

From Lafayette, good roads lead to strongly Cajun Opelousas with its Jim Bowie Museum; Crowley and the famous rice fields; Loreauville and the Acadian Heritage Museum (a recreated village recapturing the Cajun past).

About 25 miles south of Lafayette, there's a whole new scene, in New Iberia, "Queen City of the Teche." New Iberia can truly be called "hot stuff"—this is the hot pepper sauce center of America. At nearby Avery Island (which is not an island at all), the McIlhenny family of Tabasco fame welcome visitors to their plant and Jungle Gardens.

Unfortunately, local color is fading fast. The boucherie, a Cajun community social event when hogs are butchered is going out of style. But who will make the boudin, chaudin, and gratons? There are not so many authentic Cajun weddings, which lasted for days. There are fewer hunters, trappers, and fishermen. The patois also has lost some of its French purity. But the new French Heritage Committee has rushed to the rescue of the old traditions, and the natural beauty of the bayou will never change, nor the Beautiful People of Cajun Country, who greet guests with "bien-venue."

ESTELLE PARSONS:

Her Real Life Is Harder Than Acting

"I was hoping the baby would be a girl," said Estelle Parsons. "We even had a name picked out, Martha Abbie. I can still remember, after I'd given birth, hearing the doctor's surprised voice—'Another baby!' No one had expected twins."

No one expected Mother's success as a movie star 15 years later, either. Least of all, Estelle Parsons herself. Her life had been concentrated on being a mother and a good, solid stage actress, off-Broadway and on. But within the past three years, she has won an Oscar for her first film, "Bonnie and Clyde," and an Academy Award nomination for her second, "Rachel, Rachel." Her most recent film is "I Never Sang for My Father."

About her instant success, Estelle says: "I never wanted it!" Her open, un-made-up face becomes serious. "To me, success meant being drained. It meant hard work and little money, working in the theatre, but it never occurred to me I would do anything else."

The Parsons' life style hasn't changed. She still lives in the same apartment on New York's West Side that she took after her divorce from writer Richard Gelman. The twins were two years old then. She still rides a bus rather than a cab, plays tennis on the public courts in Central Park, swims at the Y, shops in the supermarket, and seldom bothers with make-up or hairstyling.

"Once I made movies, everybody started asking me questions, invading my privacy," Estelle says. "My daughters' friends suddenly wanted to come home with them and look at me. And all the time my work was the same. It's just that people thought of me differently."

The folks in Marblehead, Mass., Estelle's home town, must have known, however, that the granddaughter of successful attorney Starr Parsons would make an impact on life. She studied law for a year at Boston U. What she learned from that was "how those men were training for a man's world—ruthless, competitive, cut-and-dried, ambitious. That's not for me."

Estelle went to New York to work on the "Today" show, advancing from production assistant to a producer of short features. That, in turn, led to musical revues and her debut in an off-Broadway play, "Mrs. Dally Has a Lover," which won a "Theatre World" Award.

Estelle Parsons is not a public person. The first time I met her, two years ago, she spoke of her need for privacy. She was tan, wholesome-looking but rather plump. She was not dating anyone special. She put most of her time into an open-air Shakespeare production in New York's Central Park. At that time she was explaining why she didn't hire a maid to ease her busy schedule. "I don't like help around. I like to be alone when I'm alone. If I'm not sleeping much, I want to be able to get up and prow around, wear anything, with no one to bother me."

When I saw her recently, Estelle Parsons had begun to adjust to fame. "I was upright then," she recalled. She was 20 pounds thinner. Her complexion was fresh, glowing—and still un-made-up. At 43 ("I couldn't face 30, but the 40's are all right"), she is prettier than her movie roles would indicate.

Romances? "Nobody," she answered and changed the subject. Later she added, as part of her outspoken case against fame, "I don't want to make an effort to have a boy friend... but it would be wonderful if it would just happen. It's hard for a person in my position to have a meaningful relationship. I want someone who is medium bright. But not many men I'd want would want me. They just want a good wife and mother, not a woman who likes to discuss the world."

Estelle's daughters obviously come first with her. "I never got serious with a date, at least not for long, because he would latch on to me. Martha and Abbie are great kids." (Their mother split the original name choice, one for each twin.) "They're both good cooks, better than I am these days. They can take care of themselves. I tell them if they're not on their own by the time they reach 16, I'm going to kick them out and move to Europe." Estelle says that with a straight face, but then she has to cover her sudden giggle with her fingers.

Martha and Abbie... there's something familiar about the names, but the reference is elusive. Were the girls named after someone special? "An actress once told me that those were the names of the old ladies in 'Arsenic and Old Lace,'" Estelle says. "But that was just coincidence. If I had known, I never would have done it."

And if Estelle Parsons had known how troublesome success would be to her, she might never have made "Bonnie and Clyde," either.

What in the World!

The Cigar-Box Museum You've heard of the little acorns from which big oak trees grow—well, there's a good-sized museum in the Baltimore, Md., area which sprang from a couple of cigar boxes. The Salvation Army Boys' Club there has an Indian lore program—do most of the 880 Clubs across the country—which also boasts its own full-blooded Sioux Indian consultant when it meets at nearby Camp Puh'tok. Chief Sunrise taught the boys how to recognize Indian artifacts, and they began filling their cigar boxes with them. Eventually there were enough artifacts to form the nucleus of a museum.

Contract for spouses No matter how great the love and trust between husband and wife, business is business. So says Harriet F. Pilpel, an attorney who has served on various Presidential Commissions concerned with the status of women. If a couple anticipates working together for financial gain, she says, their agreement should be put down on paper with the help of a lawyer while the couple are "alive, friendly, and competent." The document may never be needed, but "if one spouse should die, then it becomes a question of what their understanding was." If there should be a serious disagreement—or a divorce—it could be possible that a "grave injustice" might arise. A wife, for instance, could work some 30 years, helping to build a joint million-dollar estate; she could then find herself a widow with everything she had helped to earn in her husband's name only—which he'd then willed to someone else.

Headlong into the Past Antique shops from coast to coast are reporting a new run on old mirrors. Ornate mirrors that have been long stored away in the attics of old mansions, particularly in the South and Texas, are now finding a rebirth. As today's young people rediscover the joy of creating their own handiwork, such rococo objects—that can never again be made in an age geared to mass production—are becoming highly prized. The big mirror is notably back in style, as it complements the trend toward longer, floppier, and decorated clothing. Many old mirrors will be displayed at the National Antiques Show, representing some 300 collections from all over the U.S., which opens this week in New York. Example: a hand-carved wood mirror with gold leaf, 18th-century French.
