CIA-led tribal force joins Laos battles

SAIGON (UPI) — Military sources today reported the arrival of 3,000 U.S.-trained Laotian hill tribesmen led by American Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) agents to harass North Vietnamese troops in the Ho Chi Minh Trail complex of Laos.

The report coincided with a U.S. command announcement that at least 12 Americans were killed Monday in helicopter crashes including loss of a big cargo chopper over Laos. Military spokesmen also said a U.S. jet fired on a North Vietnamese antiaircraft site for the second consecutive day.

Military sources said Kha and Lao Thung tribesmen were moved into a region west of the Communist supply junction of Sapano, 27 miles inside Laos from the Pakse area, 110 miles to the south. The guerrillas have been recruited and armed and led by CIA agents, the sources said.

The guerrillas are being used for attacks against North Vietnamese units preparing to face a South Vietnamese task force pushing west along Highway 9, the sources said.

UPI Correspondent Robert E. Sullivan reported from Quang Tri, South Vietnam, meanwhile, that U.S. military commander Gen. Creighton W. Abrams and Gen. Cao, South Vietnamese army chief of staff, arrived for secret meetings on the Laotian campaign.

They were met in Quang Tri by Lt. Gen. J. W. Sutherland and Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, joint commanders of the Laotian drive. They left by helicopter for an undisclosed location.

Five GIs were killed and a sixth was missing in the crash of a big CH-47 Chinook cargo helicopter supporting the South Vietnamese drive in Laos. It was the first Chinook lost in the Laotian offensive.

It was the 15th American helicopter reported destroyed in the Laotian campaign although American officers have said the number of copters shot down but later recovered totals nearer 30.

Seven other Americans were killed Monday with a UH-1 Huey helicopter on a medical evacuation mission crashed 12 miles southeast of Hue. The crash

Champ painter proves chimp

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)—D. James Orang, the winner of a recent painting contest, has turned out to be none other than "Djakarta Jim," an orangutan at the Topeka Zoo.

"Jim" won first place in the painting contest at the Conference of the Kansas Recreation and Park Association in Hutchinson. The other contestants were children.

Gary Clarke, director of the zoo, said Monday the judges didn't know D. James Orang was an ape until he was selected the best for his creations, "Trains from Tokyo" and "Tornado."

"He's a modern impressionist, but his work defies description," Clarke said. "You might call him primitive."

Jim is working for more than artistic expression. He's going to pay for his mate, Dnisy, who was recently purchased from the Dallas Zoo.

Clarke plans to sell Jim's work to the public to pay for Dnisy. About half of the $5,000 for the animal has been raised. Dnisy is already at the Topeka Zoo.

Clarke says Jim paints with his feet and hands, and occasionally even gets his big lips in the work. He usually tastes the paint before using it.

Hassle greets survey agents

TWIN FALLS — The visit of an evaluation team from the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Seattle office to survey Magic Valley Head Start programs today brought a flurry of argument over policies.

The six-member team arrived this morning for a conference with Twin Falls School District personnel and officials of the South-Central Community Action Agency at the CAA office. The evaluation will require most of the week, concluding on Friday with an "exit interview," according to the team leader, Patrick Davis, the program review and resources officer for Region 10, Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), at Seattle, Wash.

Dennis Pratt, CAA executive director, asked Davis if the agency, which funds the Head Start program, was required to retain an "educational coordinator," as called for by HEW regulations. Pratt said the potential cost of the coordination could be more than the CAA could allow in their budget.

Davis said this was called for in the agreement between the CAA and School District No. 411, which operates the Head Start classes.

This brought a brief dispute between school district officials, who claimed that the initial agreement contained no "special conditions," such as requiring an educational coordinator, and Davis, who said the agreement was between the Tri-County CAA and the school district, and that the Seattle office was not involved.

Burley power sale approved

BOISE (Special to the Times-News) — The Idaho House is expected to pass today a bill to permit Burley and other Idaho cities to sell excess electrical power.

The bill earlier was approved by the senate with a 25-0 vote and is likely to receive approval from both the house and the governor.

The bill would permit the city to resell its excess back into the BPA system.

Mayor Garis Robertson said today the bill will have no immediate effect on the city, but simply is a "paper transaction," which will allow municipalities to re-sell additional power back to BPA when the planned nuclear plant is put into operation, probably in 1975 or 1976.

Idaho's constitution does not permit cities to buy power and re-sell it to wholesalers, and the bill would rectify this, Robertson said.

Road tax shift taken under fire

BOISE (UPI)—Earl E. Reed, Nampa, said today proposed legislation to increase the city portion of the highway tax levies "does not solve the problem, it merely shifts the burden."

Reed, attorney for the Idaho Association of Highways and Good Roads Districts, was one of several persons who appeared before the Senate Transportation Committee to discuss three pieces of legislation which would make changes in highway funds.

Reed Objected to SB 1058, saying, "At no time, have the city proponents suggested that the county road system has too much revenue, but merely that the plight of the cities begs relief."

"No city can remain an island in itself," he said. "It is served and grows with the county secondary road system. Being a part of the county, it has a burden to support such a system."

Ralph Olmstead, chairman of the Twin Falls Highway District, said he felt the proposals would be "very damaging to the program of the Twin Falls Highway District."

Lee Ross, city maintenance foreman, said the contractor will make good all repairs but Filer residents were finding things a bit inconvenient.

Suspects bind, slay 3 officers

DALLAS (UPI)—Two men being sought as burglary suspects shot and killed three helplessly bound sheriff's deputies Monday night. One other deputy was wounded and another escaped the murderous barrage of gunfire by rolling off a ledge into a riverbed filled with tall grass.

Police took an entire Mexican-American family into custody in an attempt to unravel the execution-like murders.

One of the family members, Rene Adolfo Gusman, 33, was charged with murder. Gusman, however, was not in custody, and his half brother told police he thought Gusman was trying to escape into Mexico.

Police said Gusman was one of at least two men who participated in the killing of Dallas County Deputies Samuel Garcia Infante, 32, and William Don Reese, 31, and Ellis County Deputy A. J. Robertson, 55. Each of the victims was shot several times and Reese was shot with two different weapons apparently held by the same gunman.

Deputy Wendell Dover, 49, was wounded and stumbled a half mile from the scene before he was found by other police officers. A. D. McCurley escaped unharmed.

"This has gone far enough," McCurley quoted Reese as saying shortly before the shooting began. "They mean to kill us."

McCurley was released from prison only last June. He had been convicted of killing a man by driving over him with his car.

"Both my mother and my father told him he was going to get in trouble one of these days," said David Flores, Guzman's half brother. "He was always stealing things."

Flores was questioned by police since he was near the house where the police were surprised and disarmed.

The deputies had originally gone to an address in an impoverished section of West Dallas Monday to question two brothers who were believed to have burglarized a home in Bristol, Tex. Bristol is a small community south of Dallas without a police force that has been hit by a wave of burglaries.

County to hear inmate

TWIN FALLS — A 22-year-old Twin Falls County jail inmate has been granted a request to meet with the county commissioners after writing a letter to Gov. Cecil Andrus and to the board of commissioners.

Sheriff Paul Corder delivered the letter to the commissioners Tuesday morning. The inmate, Bernard Wayne Savor, Twin Falls, is serving a commuted one year county jail sentence on conviction of first degree burglary. The court sentenced him to 15 years in the state penitentiary and commuted it to one year in the county jail with time credited for his confinement prior to sentencing. His sentence will end in August.

Commission Chairman W. L. Chancey said the prisoner did not state his reason for wishing to meet with the county but said he had been advised by the governor to meet with the commissioners as his problem was "a county one."

Commissioners said they will hear his complaint, whatever it is, but gave no indication they intend to make the "accommodations" more enjoyable.

Interest rate cut by bank

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bankers Trust Co., the sixth largest bank in New York City, today reduced the prime rate of interest it charges its most creditworthy corporate customers from 6 to 5 1/2 per cent. The new rate is effective immediately.

A bank spokesman said other interest rates would be "appropriate to the type and term of credit." The spokesman said the reduction, one of a number made within the past four months, "reflects current money market conditions." Last year the prime rate was as high as 8 per cent.

CSI board rules out power profit

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — The board of trustees of the College of Southern Idaho agreed with CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor Monday night that the college is not a utility and cannot make a profit by selling electricity.

Dr. Taylor told the board, at the regular monthly meeting, that the college has an agreement with Nelsen and Miller, contractors for all the college buildings, including the recently completed Commons and dormitory buildings, whereby the college bills the contractor for electricity used in his work.

Since the college is of all-electric construction, it is far easier and simpler to plug in electrical equipment anywhere on the campus, during the construction, than to run a special line and erect power poles, Dr. Taylor said.

However, an audit has disclosed that the college has been billing Nelsen and Miller more for its portion of the electricity than the college has been paying — about $2,600 more to date.

The board recommended that henceforth the college bill the contractor for only the amount of electricity used. "We're not a utility," Dr. Taylor said, "we can't sell power at a profit."

The board and Dr. Taylor discussed at length the intricacies of balancing the account with the contractor. Half of the new construction funds come from government grants, complicating the picture.

In addition, the dormitory and student union portion of the Commons building were built by the Dormitory Housing Commission with a separate loan from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development, so this account would have to be taken into the calculations in figuring how to repay Nelsen and Miller, Dr. Taylor said.

In other board business, the trustees approved a recommendation from Dr. Taylor on offering contracts to faculty members, at an average increase in salary of six per cent. No names or details were released by the CSI president, pending formal signing of contracts.

The total salary budget for the year from June 1, 1971 to May 31, 1972, amounts to $61,740, including the vocational school, or $46,790 for the academic departments, Dr. Taylor said.

A subcontractor working for Nelsen-Miller, Rio Grande Building Products Company, made an error of nearly $3,000 in bidding for installation of mail boxes and other equipment, Dr. Taylor said. The firm bid $863 for mailboxes, but this actually covered only part of the items ordered, leaving the firm nearly $3,000 short in overall bidding.

Calley offers double climax

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—The much-interrupted murder court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. got back in business today with the promise of a double-climax of testimony. The stocky little defendant was expected to take the stand later this week and tell his story. Calley, 27, is accused of murdering 102 women, children and old men in an American infantry sweep of My Lai village on March 16, 1968. With three more weeks of testimony likely, a verdict could come close to three years to the day after the My Lai search and destroy mission. The defense has announced Calley would tell his story of obeying orders in a legal act of war. It was produced by 19 members of the platoon Calley commanded to testify that the company commander, Capt. Ernest L. Medina, in a briefing the night before, ordered every living thing in the village destroyed.

Proposals split Israeli cabinet

By United Press International The Israeli cabinet was reported split today over how to handle U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring's peace proposals. The rift stemmed in part from belief Egypt had gained the diplomatic upper hand by accepting his proposals while Israel was ignoring them. At the same time, a scandal was blowing up in France over Libya's announced intention to use 100 French Mirage jets any way it wished—possibly against Israel—despite a French pledge they would not be used against Israel. France refuses to deliver 50 bought and paid for Mirages to Israel. The well-informed Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv said a majority of cabinet members led by Foreign Minister Abba Eban wanted to continue to ignore Jarring's proposals while continuing to press for an Egyptian declaration of its readiness to sign a peace treaty.

A minority led by Defense Minister Moshe Dayan holds that Israel should formally reject the Jarring proposals and declare that any proposal which would call for Israeli withdrawal to boundaries that existed before the 1967 war unacceptable. So far the majority group is winning. The Jarring proposals were reported to ask Israel to withdraw from most of the Sinai Peninsula in return for peace with Egypt and with a U.N. force guaranteeing Israeli passage through the Strait of Tiran, guarded by the fortress at Sharm El Sheikh. The Israeli cabinet called another meeting for Thursday to discuss them and its belief Jarring is only a messenger boy and not a negotiator. The French embarrassment arose from a statement by Libyan President Mouammar Khadafi Monday night that "we are free to use the weapons we buy the way we wish..." and that the Mirage deal in no way meant "Libya will fall to abide by her obligations towards other Arab countries." French Defense Minister Michel Debre disclosed 14 months ago the Dassault Aircraft Co. will deliver more than 100 Mirages to Libya between 1971 and 1974 under a $90 million contract, the largest single arms deal ever made by France. The contract sparked a major controversy in France because the French government in 1967 embargoed the delivery of 50 Mirage 5 fighter-bombers to Israel although they were paid for. They have been sitting on French air force bases in mothballs ever since. Part of Israel's unhappiness over the Jarring proposals was that they ignored Israel's demand that Egypt must respond to its demands for recognition of Israel as a nation before there can be a specific settlement.

Gas fired at rioters

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (UPI)—Police fired tear gas into clusters of rock and firebomb throwing youths today in a fresh outbreak of street fighting touched off by the Calabria regional council's decision to confirm the rival town of Catanzaro as district capital. Residents awoke to hear morning radio newscasts announce the decision over which they have rioted off and on for more than seven months. Housewives, men and youths rushed into the streets to set up barricades from one end of the town to the other.

Passports granted

MOSCOW (UPI)—Leonid Riggerman and his American-born mother, both Muscovite Jews, today acquired U.S. passports at the American embassy. The Riggermans are among at least 18 Jews leaving the Soviet Union this week. Most are ultimately bound for Israel. The Riggermans leave Sunday for New York, then Los Angeles. Riggerman, 30, entered the embassy today without incident. Late last year, Soviet secret police three times prevented him from entering to try to establish U.S. citizenship on the ground his mother was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. The U.S. State Department later recognized Mrs. Esther Riggerman, 61, as a U.S. citizen.

TV food message reforms proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — presented the Federal Communications Commission a proposed code on children's advertising which would include: "Mandatory identification of ingredients and nutrients in foods advertised over the nation's airwaves; reduction in the advocacy of sugar; elimination of toys, gimmicks and bonuses to make a child select one food over another; restriction in the number and timing of advertisements; separation of advertisements from program content; and the establishment of a research center to maintain surveillance over television's impact on children." A child with moderate television watching habits, Choate said, is exposed to more than 5,000 food commercials each year. "Advertisements of most of the products mislead the unsuspecting child to equate sugar with nutrition, and energy and happiness with a food snack whose nutrient contribution is low," Choate said. Choate made the remarks Monday at a meeting, speaking on behalf of the Council on Children, Media and Merchandising. He said the council has POPULAR PAIR that appeared in the opening night of the 10th annual Country Music Jamboree Monday night at CSI Fine Arts Center were Carletta Cox, vocalist, and Slim Dossey, well-known western star. They will appear as a team tonight and Wednesday night with Dossey performing as a single tonight and Wednesday. Proceeds from this jamboree go to the Harbor House organization.

Opening night of country western jamboree sell-out

TWIN FALLS — Opening night of the 10th annual Country Music Jamboree at the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium indicates country music performers will be playing to sell-out audiences tonight and Wednesday, Dick Snuffer, show chairman, said. He said the show was one of the best in the 10 years and some of the crowd favorites who will be performing tonight and Wednesday included the King's Witnesses, a gospel group from Boise, and the Office Boys, a trio from Paul.

Another crowd pleasing performance was that of Slim Dossey, professional country music maker and now a permanent resident of Magic Valley, and Carletta Cox, Twin Falls. Dossey, a product of the "Grand Ole Opry" of Nashville, Tenn., has been appearing throughout the country as western singer for many years. He has worked with Eddie Arnold, Ferlin Husky, George Morgan, Marty Robbins and many others. He played in southern California with Smokey Rogers and the Western Caravan, worked on television with this group and sang with the Western Caravan five years.

The most beautiful western song ever written according to Dossey is "Tumbin' Tumbleweed," guaranteed to be one of his offerings each night.

Not only does he sing songs country music fans around the country applaud, but he also writes them. He and Carletta plan to do some of his original numbers during the jamboree. Dossey has his own recording label, Landmark Records. He is affiliated with BMI as both writer and publisher with his own publishing license under Oneonta Music Co.

He lives in Magic Valley because he thinks this is the greatest western country around. And it really doesn't matter where you live, they like country music everywhere, he says.

Carletta who has been singing since her earliest schooldays has appeared with a number of local groups in recent years. She is secretary of the jamboree sponsoring organization, Magic Valley Country Music Assn.

Versatile in her talent, she now sings everything from wedding and funeral numbers to what might be called country rock and other appropriate jamboree selections. Carletta Cox is one of the most staunch supporters of the country music organization and has now participated in all 10 jamborees. The association has sponsored.

Each one, she says, has been bigger and better than the previous one and 1971 can not help but follow the trend.

Proceeds from the jamboree will go to help the Harbor House organization, a foster home for children who for one reason or another are temporarily homeless. Musicians donate their time and expenses in performing in order to assist in community projects they consider worthwhile and needed. In addition several music scholarships will be given music students at CSI to help further their studies.

CSI electrical profit ruled out by trustees

Trustee Eldon Evans suggested that Neilsen-Miller, as prime contractor, should settle the account with the subcontractor, instead of having the board decide what action to take.

The trustees also agreed to reaffirm a policy denying free use of college facilities to any group. Dr. Taylor relayed a request from the Snake River Council of the Boy Scouts, asking free use of the gymnasium for a Scout function. Dr. Taylor said that he was firmly opposed to setting a precedent of allowing any group to use college facilities without charge, since the college could be involved in considerable expense.

Dr. Taylor said the Pat Boone show on Sunday required 70 man-hours of labor in moving sound equipment from the Fine Arts Center to the CSI gymnastium. "This spreads our maintenance staff too thin," he commented in opposing free use of college facilities.

Dr. Taylor said he had recently refused to allow a musical group known as "The Iron-Butterfly" to appear on campus.

"I understand that's a sort of 'acid' group, and I told the Lyceum Committee that we don't want that kind on campus," Dr. Taylor said. The committee agreed, he added.

Evans moved that the college reaffirm its policy on denying free use of any facilities, and the trustees agreed unanimously.

In reporting on legislative action, Dr. Taylor said the college has "many friends in the legislature, including the Magic Valley legislators." He said several education bills are moving through the legislature, with the help of Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl. Dr. Taylor said he hopes for prompt action on a measure freeing funds for construction of the new vocational-technical building at CSI.

The joint request for funds from CSI and North Idaho Junior College is still in the works, Dr. Taylor said.

In his president's report, Dr. Taylor said that the second-semester enrollment at CSI is "about 200" higher than the first-semester total of 2,542 students.

Andrus does not favor horse racing

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Monday he would like to do away with horse racing in Idaho "if it is not possible for us to clean it up satisfactorily."

Andrus also said he would prefer a three-man Idaho Horse Racing Commission, but said some states had increased commission membership to achieve "broader representation."

Andrus referred to a measure pending before the Idaho Senate which would increase from three to five the membership on the horse racing commission. The Senate State Affairs Committee assigned a three-man subcommittee to study the legislation after allegations were made at a hearing concerning "irregularities" in horse racing practices.

Andrus, however, said there were no "major irregularities" but added, "there's been failure to pay back some salaries that were paid (to members) that the attorney general said the board did not have coming and some other things."

Andrus confirmed he had asked commission chairman Lester Brown of Sandpoint to submit his resignation. However, he said, Brown had indicated he would not resign.

"So now, frankly, it's up to the legislature," Andrus said. "It's not a big thing right now. We're spending more time discussing and arguing about horseracing, than we are about appropriations and other things, which cause me consternation."

United Fund meet set

TWIN FALLS — The annual business meeting of the Twin Falls United Fund will be held at 7:30 a.m. Feb. 26 at the Depot Grill, says Jack Muldoon, president.

Several awards will be presented during this meeting by Ken Newman, campaign chairman. New officers and directors also will be elected.

Those planning to attend should call 733-4922 for reservations.

Education measure described

BOISE (UPI) — The House Education Committee was told Monday a teacher accountability bill, now before the committee, would give direction to teaching programs throughout the state and could lead to greater uniformity.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction D.F. Englekling said the program, where teachers would be required to outline the requirements of a course and set goals that the course hoped to meet, could be implemented within the state rapidly.

He told the committee such a program would give the state board of education more authority over prodding local boards of education into action and setting goals.

However, the committee was warned by State Rep. Don Brennan, D-Pocatello, goal-setting as it now exists is measured only by tests and does not take into account the student's creativity or any original thinking, whether it be right or wrong.

Wilber, Barnett backed

BOISE (UPI) — The chairman of two Young Republican organizations issued a joint statement Monday supporting state Republican Chairman Roland Wilber and State Republican Committeewoman Gwen Barnett.

Mike Adams, chairman of the Bannock County YR's, and Lynn Smith, chairman of the Idaho State University YR's, said they felt it was "unfortunate that some Republicans in the state have decided to take the November gubernatorial defeat out on our party leadership."

"We have analyzed the performance of Mr. Wilber and Mrs. Barnett and we feel they have discharged their duties in a proper manner."

The statement said delegates to the Republican state convention will be able in June, 1972, to replace party leaders if they wish to do so.

The statement also said "all of Idaho lost" when Cecil C. Andrus was elected governor.

'Happy ending' for trio

TWIN FALLS — Three men were sent on their way by local law enforcement officers after an armed assault report turned out to have a "happy ending" for the trio.

State, county and city police were called into action late Monday after an armed assault report was received from an attendant at the Mobil gasoline station on Interstate 80 north of Hansen. The report stated three men traveling in a white 1962 sedan had threatened the station attendant with a knife.

Officers converged on the vehicle at the North Five Points intersection in Twin Falls and marched three surprised suspects off to the city police station of gun point.

Police said one of the men did have a hunting knife but as investigation continued it was learned he had displayed the knife during an argument with the service station attendant over an air filter and no crime had actually been committed.

The three were told to be on their way, but told to leave the knife in the car or they could get into trouble.

"You don't have to tell us," commented one of the three.

Soviet Navy In Pacific Region?

WASHINGTON — Soviet diplomats assigned to Chile's new radical-left government are quietly sounding out the possibility of building a new port facilities at Valparaiso for the Chilean fishing fleet, a move regarded here as a prelude to establishing Soviet naval power on South America's Pacific coast.

This grandstrategic design is being fueled in Soviet shipyards by the most intensive ship-building program ever undertaken by a nation not at war. Consider, for just one example, the submarine program.

Move To Idaho?

Concerned about environmental pollution? We bet there's one kind you've never heard of: "Light pollution."

Hamilton is losing its effectiveness because of development of the area south of San Francisco. The world's largest reflecting telescope, the 200-inch Hale on Mount Palomar, is being endangered by light pollution from both San Diego and Los Angeles.

In Tucson, Ariz., rapid city development is interfering with the work of four major observatories in the area, including a new 150-inch telescope still under construction.

The observatories have asked for help from the Tucson city council by requesting that new city streets be paved with asphalt instead of light-reflecting concrete. Street light shields have also been requested to prevent light from escaping above the horizontal, as well as special filters to screen out light components which add little to illumination but which hamper astronomical observations.

Since only so much can be done to mask the glare of city lights, and since the cities aren't going to stop expanding in the foreseeable future, the astronomers may be reaching for the moon.

In fact, that is precisely where the most important work in astronomy may well be done in the next century. Unless, of course, they move to Idaho to do their work.

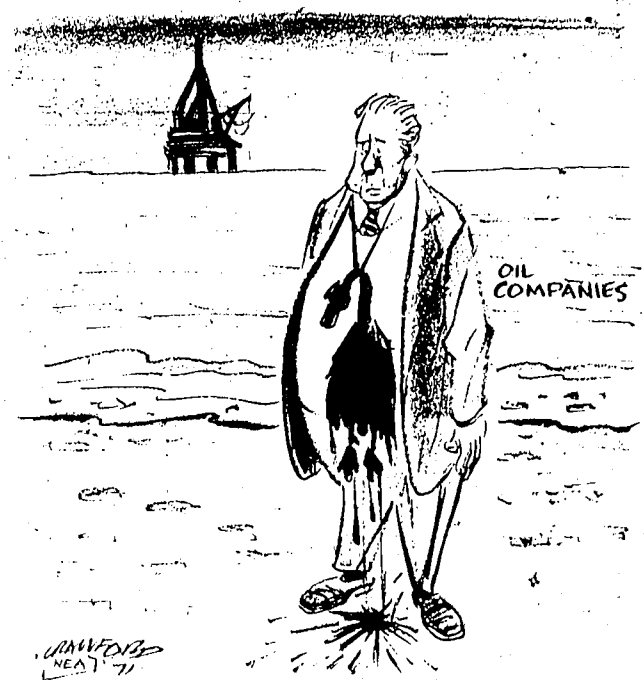

Like certain other types of pollution, light pollution is a direct consequence of increased urbanization. It's the spillover of light into the atmosphere from the multitudes of lights in a city.

In this case, the pollution is in the eye of the beholder. Light pollution is literally getting into the mechanical eyes of astronomers.

The problem is growing rapidly in the West and Southwest, where the country's largest telescopes have been located because the skies are not, normally, cloudy all night. According to "Natural History," published by the American Museum of Natural History, some of these telescopes are slowly being blinded by the glare of encroaching city lighting.

The 100-inch reflecting telescope at Mount Wilson Observatory has already been overrun by the lights of expanding Los Angeles. The 120-inch Lick Telescope atop Mount

The Albatross

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Meaning

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard so many people say, "So-and-so had a D.N.C." I don't know what the initials stand for, so don't understand what it is about. I hate to ask anybody because everyone else seems to know what it is, and I hate to look ignorant. — F.R.

Well, never ask, and never find out! And don't be too sure that "so many people" know what the initials stand for, either.

It isn't "D.N.C.," you see. It's "D. n. C." or "D. and C.," meaning "dilatation and curettage," and I'll explain that for you.

It's a procedure used quite frequently by gynecologists for a variety of purposes, sometimes for diagnosis of various "female troubles" and sometimes as a corrective measure.

Sometimes, either because of unexplained vaginal bleeding or pain, it is necessary to find out what conditions exist in the uterus. That's one use of the D. and C. Some of the inner surface tissues are scraped off so the cells can be studied.

The "D." stands for "dilatation." Instruments are used to dilate the neck, or entrance, to the uterus. (The uterus, as shown in pregnancy, has a tremendous capacity for expansion, but it has to be expanded gradually.)

Then, when it has been dilated sufficiently, other instruments are used to scrape off ("C" for curettage) some of the tissues. Examination of these often gives an immediate answer as to what the trouble is and how to correct it.

Another use of the same procedure is required following a miscarriage, if some fragments of the afterbirth remain attached to the uterus and need to be removed.

Or, for yet another example, the D. and C. is one of the methods used in abortions, which now are legal in some states. The fertilized egg attaches itself to the inner surface of the uterus in its early stages and can be removed by the curettage (scraping) process.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A relative, 39, married and with three little sons, has cirrhosis of the liver. In spite of being warned against it, he drinks beer steadily and hard liquor occasionally and is careless about eating. He works steadily except for occasional fits of sickness.

How long do you think he can keep up this pace, and what are his prospects for continuing work and even living? — Mrs. T.P.

I can't guess how long he can get away with it. All I say with certainty is that his spells of illness will come oftener until he collapses. Unless he stops all alcohol and eats properly, then he may have a chance.

White Again

It had to happen. After several seasons of going from bold stripes to even bolder stripes, from solid colors to even more vivid solid colors, the men's shirt business has nowhere else to go but — you guessed it — back to the traditional white shirt.

"We've got them all wearing colors," one manufacturer is quoted by the Wall Street Journal. "Now we'd like to get them all wearing whites again."

His company anticipates that 10 to 15 per cent of its production for next fall will be in white. But if one thinks he is going to outsmart the fashion arbiters by reaching into the back of the drawer and retrieving those white button-downs he stashed away in anticipation of just such an eventuality, he's got another think coming.

The new whites will be "fashion" shirts, with longer collars, fancy cuffs, textured fabrics, white-on-white satin stripes — everything the colored shirts have except color.

Thus it's crack open the piggy bank for another wardrobe turnover. Either that or get some very strong bleach.

ROBERT ALLEN AND JOHN GOLDSMITH

Finance Fronts

WASHINGTON — Communist, revolutionary and other extremist personalities are using a new stratagem to exploit the flourishing and lucrative nationwide college lecture circuit.

Incorporated enterprises are set up to handle their bookings — thus providing them and the colleges legal cover from hostile trustees, state officials, congressional and other investigators.

These "fronts" enable the educational institutions to claim they have not negotiated with the notorious speakers or paid them directly. Correspondence and other records are cited as evidence that the bookings are made through an agency and that it receives payment.

A still incomplete congressional survey indicates this play is being increasingly resorted to by radical hangers-on.

Also that this development is considerably due to the House Internal Security Committee's sensational disclosure last year of the widespread prevalence of white and black extremist lecturers on the college circuit and the large amount of money they are deriving from this source.

The committee reported that of the 134 colleges and universities surveyed, they had 1,168 speakers of this type who were paid a total of $900,335 in "honoraria." Said the committee:

"If, in a sampling of 3 1/2 per cent of the institutions of higher education, payments of this magnitude are derived by such individuals, the Congress and the people of the United States have a right to conclude that the campus-speaking circuit is certainly the source of significant financing for the promoters of disorderly and revolutionary activity among students. Such speaking engagements are not only revenue producing, but afford a forum where the radicalization process may be continually expanded."

This conclusion was directly confirmed by William Kunstler, militant attorney for leading extremists and himself a foremost turmoil-advocating lecturer.

Following a volatile talk at the University of Cincinnati, Kunstler was asked where leftist agitators and disorder instigators get the funds to finance their operations, including legal expenses. His revealing reply was:

"We get most of the money through lectures and speaking engagements."

The backstage congressional inquiry also indicates more radical and extremist speakers are appearing before student audiences than ever before.

These "lecturers" apparently are enjoying a boom season — with numerous bookings and juicy fees ranging from $1,000 to $2,500. In many instances, the money comes from student funds over which college authorities have little or no say.

New Attack

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The last five U.S. presidents have complained, publicly or privately, they could not control the bureaucracy.

Once entrenched, continuing from administration to administration, senior officials are sometimes more the government than the president or Congress. Worse yet, incompetents become frozen in place.

No official this reporter has talked to in the past 25 years has suggested Civil Service be abolished or that we resurrect "to the victor belong the spoils" as practiced in earlier days of this Republic.

But if elections have any meaning, and if a president is to be president, then whoever is in the White House — not holdovers from the past — must be the boss of the executive branch.

And if there is to be efficiency, the president must have wide latitude in shifting his top men from job to job. Administrators must not be locked in place.

Career employees under three-year contracts, renewable at the option of the government. These top men could be shifted from post to post and from agency to agency.

Career officials whose contracts were not renewed would have options. They could revert to grade GS-15 (at $24,250 to $31,500 a year). They could retire with an annuity, if eligible, or with severance pay. They would continue to have Civil Service protection and appeal rights. Their selection would be passed on by a Civil Service qualification board.

Congress would be wise not to reject this proposal as partisan. For the next Democratic president will surely face the same problems as Nixon.

This reporter has spent a great deal of time over the past two decades listening to Democratic and Republican political appointees who had the problem of eliminating or transferring senior officials who were not performing up to standard or who refused to alter their approaches to meet the requirements of a new administration.

Actually, Nixon will benefit less from the proposed FES than his successors. The plan, if adopted, will go into effect one year after Nixon's signature, and all supergrade career employees on the job will then be offered three-year contracts.

WHY APRIL 15?

Two accounting professors suggest that the filing of federal income tax returns, now due for most citizens on April 15 every year, be staggered throughout the year.

Writing in the current issue of "The Tax Advisor" publication of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, Charles A. Nickerson of Virginia Commonwealth University, and Earl F. Davis of the University of Georgia, say that cyclical filing — determined by one's birth date, social security number or some other variable — would be more convenient for taxpayers and more economical for Uncle Sam.

As the professors explain it, staggering the "processing of 70 million plus returns over 12 months instead of approximately three makes sense from the standpoint of increased efficiency on the part of IRS personnel and reduced costs.

They concede that such a changeover would cause problems, but they say these are not insoluble.

Pending official implementation of the proposal, however, most people are likely to consider that the filing of their returns by April 15 under the current rules "is staggering enough to think about."

That's Mr. Spectator's opinion — what's yours?

Cards played Mrs. Daw, Smith win

TWIN FALLS—Pinochle, bridge and bingo were played Friday at the annual benefit card party of the American War Mothers at the American Legion Hall.

Cookies, ice cream and coffee were served to those attending. The lace covered serving table was centered with a feather bouquet and orange candles provided by Rose Sinclair.

Lulu Shumway, ways and means chairman, was in charge. Ann LeClair was chairman of pinochle and Jillian Arnga was in charge of bingo.

Lora Doss, vice president, conducted a brief business meeting prior to the party. Josephine Wurst, Rose Sinclair, Mayo Jensen and Della Rambo were general workers for the event.

HANSEN—Mrs. A.F. Daw was high score prize winner for women and Wayne Smith was high scorer in the men's division at the sixth in a series of 10 benefit card parties co-sponsored by the Modern Woodmen of America and Royal Neighbor of America lodges Saturday night at the Woodmen hall in Hansen.

Second high winners were Elva Drake and Orville Haskins. The traveling prize was won by Oral Shobe. Lydia Mae Pylon won the door prize. Mrs. John Brown won the cake.

The next in the series will be at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Woodmen hall.

Committees announced by CowBelles

PAUL—Mrs. Clinton Easton, Paul, president of the Mini-Cassia CowBelles organization, announced her committee chairmen today.

Chairmen include Mrs. Esther Montgomery, beef promotion; Mrs. Martha Estes, beef for Father's Day; Mrs. Luella Peavey, legislative, and Mrs. Peggy Clayville, reporter.

Mrs. Taisy Abo was elected vice president, filling a vacancy.

A report was given by Mrs. Montgomery on the Idaho Feeders convention held recently at Boise.

Mrs. Estes read a letter from Mrs. Les Morgan, home economics instructor at Burley High School, for a check from the Idaho Beef Council to be used for beef education in the home economics classes. Mrs. Morgan explained she had purchased various cuts of beef to teach her students what the cuts are and the meat was used for special meat dishes.

Each high school in Cassia and Minidoka counties was presented a check for home economics classes.

Members attended from both Cassia and Minidoka counties and Mrs. Easton served refreshments at the close of the meeting in her home.

Golden Agers have meeting

TWIN FALLS—Community singing, accompanied by Elva Olson at the piano, opened the regular meeting of the Golden Age Club Friday at the DAV hall.

Albertino de Schepper showed slides of Southern Idaho following a brief business meeting conducted by John Henderson.

Dancing and card games followed the meeting. Fred and Hatlie Craig played violin and piano music for dancing.

Lora Doss, Saroptimist representative to the club, will provide oysters for an oyster fry Feb. 26 at the DAV hall.

The ball is one of the most ancient of all toys, says Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: When I was a little girl, my mom used to paint pictures of how many boy friends I would have when I grew up. What a fantasy?

I am convinced that the decent girls don't have a chance anymore because of the vast majority of promiscuous girls. Boys don't like to spend money on girls who won't shell out. Mom always used to say (and still does) that a boy respects a girl who doesn't sleep with every fellow in town. That's true—boys respect them, but they don't date them.

I'm the type of girl boys might marry—10 years from now. So what do I do in the meantime? I am getting bitter toward boys because they are dating other girls like mad while I go to the movies with girl friends.

I was talking to my brother about this and he said I was wrong. But I say I am right. I am a living example. Two of my girl friends are really sharp and cute, but they are just like me—dateless. Why? Because they're decent.

EUDORA, KAS.

DEAR EUDORA: Sorry, but I vote with your brother. When a guy wants his way with a girl he will give her a line, but she can depend on her brother to tell her the truth.

DEAR ABBY: I have wondered about this for several years and have finally decided to ask you.

My husband and I were in the Army in Hannau, near Frankfurt, Germany, a few years ago. The Army arranged special programs for the men and their wives. One night they had a "Dear Abby" night, and announced that Dear Abby would be there in person to give a talk and answer questions from the audience. We were anxious to see you in person, so we went.

The "Dear Abby" who came out on the stage was a slim, dark-haired, tall woman—about 6 feet tall! I never imagined you as being that tall.

She answered questions from the audience and let everyone call her "Abby." She went into great detail about how serious the drug habit was. Then she lit up a cigarette and said, "This is my habit," as if she were proud of herself.

Was that you? Or was that an impostor? DUBIOUS

DEAR DUBIOUS: She was an impostor. I stand 5 feet nothing in my stocking feet, have never smoked, and have never been near Frankfurt.

DEAR ABBY: Something has been bugging me for a long time, and I would like to get it off my chest. (Please don't disclose my name or town if you print this.)

I resent having to kiddy in for a Christmas present for the "big boss" every year. He is a rich man who has more than he needs, but every year the secretary of the office manager goes around and hits everybody in this company for a donation so the "big boss" can have a Christmas gift.

I am not cheap, and I don't mind contributing toward a gift if there is a need for it, but chipping in to buy an expensive present for this tycoon just rubs me the wrong way. How do you feel about it? BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: Same as you, but don't discount the possibility that the boss has nothing to do with it. I do think, however, that "big bosses" who disapprove of such annual gifts should make their thoughts known.

U.S. reaction pleases Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration is gratified by the relatively mild reaction in the United States to the Allied drive into Laos, contrasting sharply with the bitter denunciations and demonstrations last spring against the Cambodian incursion.

Some officials, however, view the change with mixed emotions. They naturally like to see the Allied effort in Indochina receive what appears to be overwhelming public backing. But they are aware that much of this support is based upon complacency and would backfire on the President if things took a turn for the worse.

In other words, they consider public opinion somewhat less than a solid base for confident official action.

The lack of any official claims here as to what may be achieved by the assault on the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos, supported by heavy American air attacks, reflects uncertainty as to the level of success that may be achieved.

The effort by 20,000 South Vietnamese troops to disrupt Hanoi's supply line southward until the dry season ends around May 1 makes sense from a military standpoint. It also makes sense, if successful, from the standpoint of withdrawing more U.S. troops—at least over the short range.

Whether it is going to prove to have been a wise move from the standpoint of achieving peace and stability in Southeast Asia is another matter. South Vietnam's vice president, Nguyen Cao Ky, has voiced doubts on this score. He said the South Vietnamese—had found it difficult, once they invaded Cambodia, to pull out of the country. And he expressed the opinion this might well prove to be the case in the Laotian panhandle.

Ky's conclusion was that the Saigon government might ultimately find that virtually all the U.S. troops had gone home and left South Vietnam with a war on three fronts. U.S. officials privately dismissed this as a political gambit, since they think that Ky wants to run for president in the September elections in South Vietnam.

If the Laotian operation fails to produce any great success and the South Vietnamese thrusts farther south into the new Communist sanctuary in Cambodia fail to deal the enemy a major defeat, the situation a year from now could be somewhat more grim than anticipated.

In this connection, the stroke suffered by Cambodian Premier Lon Nol worries officials in Washington more than they will admit publicly. If he is incapacitated for many months, the considerable progress made in developing the Cambodian army could come to a halt.

Against this background, it is understandable why nobody in Washington is making any unduly optimistic claims at the moment.

News Of Servicemen Concorde engine modified

GOODING — Army Capt. Lyle D. Gessford, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gessford, has completed a 36-week armor officer advanced course at the U.S. Army armor school, Ft. Knox, Ky.

The course prepares senior company grade officers for command and staff duties at battalion and brigade level and as assistant general staff officers at division level. Capt. Gessford entered the Army in 1961 and was last stationed at Ft. Rucker, Ala. He holds the Purple Heart, the combat infantryman badge and two awards of the Bronze Star medal, one for valor.

He is a 1961 graduate of Gooding High School. His wife, Judy, was with him at Ft. Knox.

LONDON (UPI)—An engine part fell off a Concorde during a test flight and the supersonic jet airliner is being modified because of the incident, the chief test pilot said today.

Pilot Brian Trubshaw told a news conference the incident occurred recently, a small part "flying off" and dropping into the Atlantic.

Trubshaw said that when the engine part fell, that engine failed. He said the crew restarted the engine—one of four on the plane—but its operation was "rough." So the crew flew the plane home on three engines "without any drama at all," he said.

"For a bit like this to come flying off without causing any great drama is really an impressive thing to have happened," the test pilot said.

BURLEY — Pvt. Lane E. Gochmour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Gochmour, Route 2, has just completed a seven weeks training program in recovery and evaluation at the U.S. Army Ordnance Center and school Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

His training included recovery and evacuation operations for abandoned, damaged and disabled vehicles. Operation of light and medium track vehicles, wrecker trucks and tank transporters was included in the training. Pvt. Gochmour has been in the Army since 1970 and completed basic training at Ft. Dix, N.J. He received his BS degree from Utah State University, Logan, Utah before entering the service.

TOPIC sets T.F. project

TWIN FALLS — Improvement of the west five-points intersection in Twin Falls, a $350,000 project tentatively slated for the 1971-72 biennium, is one of eight Idaho projects under the new TOPICS program.

Phillip A. Marsh, Highway Department planning and traffic engineer said the TOPICS program, (Traffic Operations Program for Increasing Capacity and Safety) permits the use of federal aid funds to improve traffic capacity and safety within cities where many such projects have been delayed because of limited federal aid funds.

Under TOPICS certain streets in areas of 5,000 population or more can be made part of the federal aid highway system and thus become eligible for the special federal assistance.

Annually, Idaho receives more than $20,000 in such funds and currently has $56,783 in federal aid TOPICS money for the 1970 through 1972 apportionments. With matching funds from city and state money there will be $1.5 million available to improve traffic bottlenecks in the gem state.

Other projects for this year include Nampa, $30,000; Idaho Falls, two projects of $220,000 and $240,000, and Boise with four projects in the amounts of $30,000, $370,000, $140,000 and $310,000.

Marsh said the streets qualifying for TOPICS funds include those classified as arterial highways and major streets not already on the Federal Aid system, portions of the street grid in the downtown area and a limited street grid in other areas where there is a high concentration of traffic.

Marsh said this would pertain to the west five points in Twin Falls where U.S. 30 joins city street traffic from four directions.

Work which can be covered under the TOPICS program include improved signal systems, channelization, pavement marking, signing, turning lanes in intersections, installation of reversible lanes and control systems.

Other eligible programs would include upgrading of Bobby Jones, Francis Oimmet, Walter Jingen and Gene Sarazen were the first players to be selected for membership in golf's Hall of Fame.

CSI nips TVCC on shot by Kelly in last 4 seconds

ONTARIO — Little Vic Kelly's short jumper with four seconds left, following two life-giving, crucial buckets by Ron Behagen and Gary Quessnell, lifted the beleaguered College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles to a 74-73 decision over the Treasure Valley Community College Chukars Monday night.

CSI jumped into an eight-point lead in the first 10 minutes, but that evaporated under the gunning of Kave and Newby. Treasure Valley bounced into the lead and CSI hurried back to tie it at 38-all at halftime.

What is usually considered the CSI "put 'em away" rush: Kelly hit twice, Bassett tumbled in a missed free throw and Kelly and Behagen hit again as CSI bloomed into a 61-56 lead.

Then came the Behagen, Quessnell and Kelly savers. Skillwell pushed TVCC ahead 60-66 with 2:27 remaining, and Kelly replied for CSI. Then Kave got two buckets in a 20-second span and it appeared the Eagles were done for.

Missouri posts 80-66 win over Iowa State

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Behind the 16-point first-half performance of sophomore John Brown and 17-point second-half contribution by senior Henry Smith, Missouri posted an 80-66 win over Iowa State.

The win left the Tigers in second place in the Big Eight Conference with a 6-2 mark and 14-7 on the season.

Brown finished with 23 and Smith 22 to pace the Tigers. Missouri shot almost 51 percent and led by as much as 15 points in keeping its Brewer Fieldhouse record spotless.

Format for A-1 cage meet set

Minico will meet Burley at Burley Feb. 26 to open the third regional A-1 basketball tournament with the winner traveling to Twin Falls Feb. 27, coaches and administrators of the three member schools decided Monday.

The decision continues the format adopted six years ago which has proved the most successful.

Only the champion will advance to the state playoffs in Pocatello's Mindome.

Following the opening weekend, the tournament will resume March 4 and continue March 5. That leaves March 6 open for a sudden-death playoff.

The group also did away with the sophomore tournament portion of the event as Burley Coach Ivan Davis, noting some boys had recently been discharged from the Bobcats for training rule violations, said the Bobcats didn't have sufficient manpower to handle both.

"All we have on the varsity now is sophomores and juniors," Davis said. In addition, Davis has handled both teams for Burley this year and that would have worked perhaps an even greater hardship on the Bobcats in preparing for the tournament games.

However, Twin Falls and Minico voted to have their sophomore teams play in preliminaries whenever those two varsities met.

Top skiers training for races

KINGFIELD, Maine (UPI)—Many of the world's best amateur skiers arrived Monday to begin training for World Cup races later in the week at Sugarloaf Mountain.

Most of the female competitors arrived in the afternoon by bus from Mont Ste. Anne, Quebec, where World Cup competition was held last week.

A snowstorm delayed the departure of women skiers for a day. Other competitors came from Sapporo, Japan, the site of pre-Olympic competition.

The races are scheduled to be held on the 4,200-foot Narrow Gauge Trail, which has a vertical drop of 2,430 feet.

In addition to hosting the U.S. World Cup races in the U.S. this year, Sugarloaf will also be the site of the women's downhill part of the Alberg-Kandahar on Thursday, making the first time the prestigious race has ever been held outside Europe.

The regularly-scheduled World Cup races, to include a downhill and giant slalom for men and women, got underway on Friday.

Racers began skiing the Narrow Gauge on Monday with non-stop runs due on Wednesday.

Stuart tourney slated

The annual Stuart fresh basketball tournament will begin at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday with the title just about up for grabs.

Host Stuart will meet West Minico at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday with Burley going against Filer at 3 p.m. O'Leary takes on Jerome at 6:30 p.m. and East Minico plays Buhl in the finale of the opening day.

The single elimination with consolation bracket will demand four games on Thursday with the consolation finals and championship games going at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Cassius says 15 rounds

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Cassius Clay predicted Monday his heavyweight title fight with Joe Frazier March 8 would go the full 15 rounds because he wants to "punish" Frazier. He asked for a different referee for each round.

"I want a fresh referee every round because there ain't no one man who can keep up the pace I'm going to set except me," said Clay, who calls himself Muhammad Ali.

He proposed that there be a referee from each of 15 countries in which the Madison Square Garden fight will be televised via satellite.

"This fight is going all the way," said Clay, who's doing his training and tub-thumping here.

"He ain't got no respect," said the former champion of the present champion.

"I told him the day we signed for the fight I would punish him for calling me Clay instead of Ali. I'm going to punish him for calling himself the champion, too," said Clay.

Before stepping into the practice ring for his daily workout at the Fifth St. Gym, Clay told just what the fight will be like:

"Things are going to happen so fast, Joe Frazier won't be able to keep up with them. Referees will be running in and out of the ring, people will be singing and dancing in the aisles and when it's all over, Muhammad Ali will take his rightful place as the champion of the world."

"I'm going to pip, pip, pip Frazier with the fastest jab he ever did see. I'll be a flittin' and a hittin' at a speed that will betray the human eye. Joe Frazier will be sorry he didn't fight Jerry Quarry again or George Chuvalo, or some of those other losers."

Italians and Swiss lead

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (UPI)—Italian and Swiss two-man bobbed teams swept the first four places in the finals of the Kennedy International Memorial Games Monday.

Enzo Vicario and his brakeman, Corrado Del Fabbro, both of Pieve Di Cadore, compiled a total time for four one-mile heats down the Mt. Van Hoesenberg run of 4:33.80.

VOTED BEST FIGHTER at the Golden Gloves AAU Invitational meet Saturday in Pocatello was Dyrk Godby, 12-year-old 85 pounder from Gooding. Godby's next match will be on March 12 at Gooding against Delon Fuller, Gene Fuller's son.

Kentucky defeats Georgia

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—Kentucky fought off a late Georgia charge Monday night to defeat the Bulldogs 107-95 behind Tom Payne's 34 points.

Down by 14, with 5:35 left in the game, the Bulldogs caught fire and pulled to within 93-89 with 2:20 left. But Kentucky surged again, leaving the Bulldogs behind.

The Wildcats took a 9-0 lead and led by as much as 12 points in the first half, leaving the floor with a 43-34 lead. They maintained the lead in the second-half, running it to as much as 15 points.

Kentucky's free throw shooting held off the late Georgia rally.

Has surgery

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Ab McDonald, left wing for the St. Louis Blues, underwent surgery Monday for removal of a disc between the fourth and fifth vertebrae in his back.

INDIANA'S BILL KELLER (11) drives on Texas' Joe Hamilton, left, all the way under for two points. Texas, however, came back and won a hard fought game 119-118. (UPI)

UCLA hangs on to No. 1 spot

NEW YORK (UPI)—UCLA lost a little but still managed to hold on to first place in the United Press International Board of Coaches weekly rankings.

The Bruins ran into some unexpected trouble on their weekend trip to Oregon and needed last minute heroes to salvage a one-point victory over Oregon and a two-point triumph over Oregon State.

The top seven teams remain unchanged from last week. Southern California, which solidly whipped Oregon and Oregon State over the weekend, receive three first place votes and held on to third place with 276 points while Pennsylvania, undefeated in 20 games, is fourth with 227 points.

Kansas, which has lost only once in 19 games, got the other first place vote cast by the 34 members who participated in this week's balloting and was fifth with 214 points.

The fact the Bruins failed to demolish both squads cost them a few first place votes in this week's balloting of the 35-member UPI board. However, the Bruins still received 17 first place votes and 318 points to maintain a 20-point lead over Marquette.

Marquette, which ran its record to 20-0 by whipping two opponents last week, held on to second place with 43 first place votes and 298 points.

There were two changes among the last three positions in the top 10. Michigan, which leads the Big Ten Conference, climbed from 12th place to the No. 8 spot and North Carolina moved up one place to No. 10 after stretching its record to 16-3 by beating three opponents. South Carolina, victorious in its only outing of the week, remained in the No. 9 spot.

The biggest move among the second 10 was made by LaSalle, which vaulted from a tie for 15th place a week ago to the No. 11 slot. The Explorers, who are 17-2, showed they could win even without star forward Kenny Durrett when they downed Villanova, 73-69, last weekend. Durrett missed the game with a knee injury.

Duquesne, also 17-2, and Fordham, which is 18-1, also moved up one notch. The Dukas climbed to No. 12 and Fordham moved to No. 13. Each team defeated two opponents last week.

Kentucky and Notre Dame fell off dismally in this week's balloting. Kentucky suffered an embarrassing loss to Florida over the weekend and dropped from No. 6 a week ago to 14th while the Irish fell from 10th to 20th after losing to Villanova.

Notre Dame, which is the only team to beat UCLA this season, has a rather disappointing 13-6 record, remained in the No. 7 spot.

Notre Dame, which is the only team to beat UCLA this season, has a rather disappointing 13-6 record, remained in the No. 7 spot.

Florida drops Tennessee

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Florida's Gators, fresh from their upset victory over nationally-ranked Kentucky, did it again Monday night with a 56-55 victory over Tennessee.

Senior Earl Findley tipped in a Tony Miller shot with one second left in the game to end a see-saw Southeastern Conference match.

Florida trailed by as much as 10 points early in the game and was down 34-30 at the half. But the Gators fought back to tie it up at 34-all with two minutes gone in the second half.

From then on, the two teams traded the lead, with the margin never more than three points.

ISU rips Montana 109-77 as Humes scores 49 points

POCATELLO (UPI) — Idaho State continued its home court dominance with a 109-77 thrashing of the Montana Grizzlies in Big Sky action at the Mildred Monday night.

While Montana fell to 3-7, Overall Idaho State is 9-10 including a 9-1 mark at home. Willie Humes, who finished with 49 points, led a first half scoring outburst by the Bengals which saw the hometown club to a 59-29 advantage to the locker room at the half. Humes, the nation's third ranked scorer, hit on 11 of his first 15 shots and 27 at the half. Overall, Humes connected on 20-37 from the field and 9-11 from the charity stripe.

Wille Bascus was high for the Grizzlies with 14 markers and Ray Howard had 13. Lonzo Lewis was the third Montana player with 10 points. Trent Wagner and Abe Gibbons were the only other Bengals to finish

Denver surprises Utah State

DENVER (UPI) — Denver University, behind the 32-point effort of senior Willie Cherry, scored a 96-74 upset basketball victory Monday night over powerful Utah State.

Montana State spoils BSC home finale 87-79

BOISE (UPI) — A hot-cold Montana State University basketball club ran mostly hot during the second half of Monday night's ball game to belt Boise State 85-79.

Sophomore Willie Weeks, Wolfpoint, Mont., teamed up with New Yorker, Bill Brickhouse, for 53 points to baffle the Boise Broncos.

All four of his misses came in the second half, symptomatic of the Bronco free throw shooting trouble as Montana State was blown for 23 fouls against only 10 for the Broncos, during the entire game.

Vandals pull away in final half to drop North Arizona

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — The Idaho Vandals won their second Big Sky conference game in a row with an 87-65 victory over the Northern Arizona Lumberjacks in Memorial Stadium Monday night. After a slow and deliberate first half with neither team able to hit consistently from the field, Idaho slowly built up a 34-30 halftime lead on the basis of John Nelson's inside jumpers and Marvin Williams' outside shooting.

In the second half the Vandals again started slowly nursing a two to six point lead through the first thirteen minutes of play. Then Tim Cummings and Williams started hitting on outside jumpers and Nelson again on easy lay-ins moved the Vandals in front 68-52 with five minutes left.

Alecindor maintains point pace

NEW YORK (UPI) — Milwaukee's Lew Alecindor continues to dominate the National Basketball Association scorers with a 31.7 average in the latest statistics released by the league.

Alecindor, who has led the scorers since the first week of the season, had 39 points against Phoenix last week and 38 points against Detroit to stay in front of San Diego's Elvin Hayes and Boston's John Havlicek, currently tied for second at 28.9.

Cincinnati's Johnny Green is the field goal leader with a .596 percentage with Alecindor trailing at .581.

Nets snap Utah win skein at 4

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Rookie center Bill Paultz scored 25 points and Bill Melchioni contributed 10 as the New York Nets snapped Utah's four-game winning streak with a 88-69 victory Monday night.

Utah maintained a two-game lead in the Western Division of the American Basketball Association because of Indiana's loss to Texas.

The Stars missed injured center Zelmo Beaty sorely and could not keep up with Paultz who scored on 12 of 17 from the field and one of one from the foul line. He also pulled down 14 rebounds.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—

Advanced led declines by a ratio of almost a two-to-one as trading on Wall Street rounded the halfway mark Tuesday. Turnover was heavy.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, the barometer of 30 selected blue chips, showed a gain of 2.67 at 81.50. The last time the Dow finished higher was June 13, 1969, when it closed at 84.84.

Among the day's most active issues were Howard Johnson up 1/2 on 202,100 shares, Occidental Petroleum 1/4 higher on 183,900 shares, Jersey Standard up 1/8 on 120,200 shares, Leasco Data Processing up 1/8 on 117,300 shares, and Goodyear 3/8 higher on 116,900 shares.

Less active Atlantic Richfield and Standard Oil of Ohio were up 1/8 and 1/4, respectively. Strength in the oil fields reflected the price agreement reached over the weekend between the Persian Gulf oil states and the international oil companies.

The oil firms agreed to increase their payments to the oil countries by $1.2 billion in the first year of a five-year contract.

Other firm spots on the list included IBM up 1/8, Honeywell 2/8 and Fairchild Camera 1/8.

Magic Valley Weather

Gusty winds at times ...

DURING the night, rain is indicated in the Pacific northwest, while showers are expected in northern California and the eastern portions of the plains. Snow flurries will be noted over the western Great Lakes area. Clear to partly cloudy skies elsewhere with somewhat milder temperatures in the Atlantic coastal states. (UPI) southern Idaho by mid evening tonight. Pressures will start to fall and the clouds will thicken with the approach of the cold front from the coast and rain with snow above the four thousand foot elevation will spread eastward over southern Idaho tonight.

The extended outlook calls for continued seasonal temperatures with showers by Thursday night or Friday with the approach of another Pacific frontal system.

Wall Street Paperwork grows for ship order

NEW YORK (UPI)—Aggressive stock buyers are buying on what they hope will be strong earnings in 1972. W. E. Hutton Co. says. The company says these investors are betting the anticipated economic recovery will bring substantial earnings in 1972. "The stock market always gets into trouble when it starts discounting earnings too far in advance," Hutton observes.

The six pages contained all the Navy's specifications for the ship's dimensions, materials and workmanship and the price and terms, according to Howard Chapelle, the Smithsonian Institution's maritime historian.

Today the paperwork in ordering a big warship can easily run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, counting the pay of those who draft, peruse and file the documents.

But it's only a symptom. The total cost of preparing and processing Uncle Sam's paperwork has accelerated astonishingly in the past 15 years.

Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio said in a recent magazine article that it jumped in those 15 years from $4 billion a year to $8 billion!

Not all this cost is borne by Uncle Sam. The states pay out at least $150 million of it in submitting reports to Washington. The cities and counties pay another big chunk and millions of private citizens and corporations are stuck for a lot of it.

Governor Rhodes charged that much of this paperwork is waste. The governor's ire was aroused when a Chicago management firm, Warren King & Associates, Inc., figured out that filing reports to federal agencies cost Ohio $2.6 million a year and enough manhours to equal 250 full-time workers.

Rhodes isn't a lone voice in the wilderness. Thousands of citizens and businessmen seem to be up in arms over the work and expense in filling out governmental forms. Washington is promising to do something about it. The Bureau of the Budget, the Office of Economic Management, and the General Services Administration have instituted surveys aimed at finding ways to eliminate tons of government reports now required.

But nobody is betting fast progress will be made. The reason, according to most observers of the phenomenon, is that surplus paperwork is the sole reason for existence of tens of thousands of federal jobs.

And it is contended that these people will defend their little empires founded on tons of dusty, unread records stored in the basements of government buildings, using every weapon in the bureaucratic and lobbyist arsenal to keep things as they are.

FILER — Buyers attending the 15th annual Idaho Angus Association bull sale in Filer paid $42,850 for 71 top quality black bulls, or an average of $604 per animal, Edith Sawyer, Emmett, association secretary, reported today.

The sale average reflected the high quality of the animals and the interest in Angus cattle in improving their beef production, she said. Buyers attended from throughout southern Idaho.

Top price paid in the sale was $1,700 paid by Jack High, Idaho Falls, for a consignment from Var Mar Ranch, Nampa.

Grand champion of the sale was consigned by Cliff Countryman and Sons, St. John, Washington, and was purchased by Brackett Livestock, Inc., Rogerson for $1,375, while the reserve champion consigned by J.O. and Joe Froman, Freeman Angus Ranch, Baker, Ore., brought $1,550 to outsell the grand champion.

The reserve champion was purchased by A. Dawson Gaertner, Midvale. Two other bulls placed in the AAA grading including one consigned by Ben R. Goslin, Horseshoe Bend, and sold for $1,100 to Flat Top Sheep Co., Rupert, and another offered by Ned Wilde, Arco, and purchased for $1,000 by Pickett Ranch and Sheep Co., Oakley, Carey.

The 4 AAA bulls of the sale brought $5,025 or an average of $1,257. There were 15 AA-plus bulls selling for $12,000 and averaging $800 per animal; 24 AA bulls totaling $14,735 and averaging $614 and 28 AA-minus bulls selling for $11,090 and an average of $396.

The sales listing in addition to AAA bulls according to lot number, consignor, amount paid and purchaser included:

Rural environmental assistance discussed

TWIN FALLS — Rural area environmental assistance was discussed at a district meeting of ASCS officials, it was announced today.

County ASCS committees, executive directors and program assistants from Blaine, Camas, Cassia, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties attended the conference.

Arvil Miller and Adrian Nelson, state committee; Forest Severe, State Executive Director, Loyde Campbell, program specialist, Harland Blackburn, district director, and Don Worthington, training specialist, led discussions.

The new Rural Environmental Assistance program is a continuation of the Agricultural Conservation program providing more public environmental benefits. It is being administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Forest J. Severe, State ASCS director said the program is directed primarily at privately owned land on farms. It offers federal cost-sharing for installing practices which improve the quality of life for all people by preventing or abating pollution; conserving the land to assure continuing ability to produce food and provide for wildlife, open space and outdoor recreation opportunities.

He said, "We are enthusiastic about this new approach and intend to let everyone know the extent of environmental enhancement accomplished under the program."

State ASCS officials gave rules which apply to the development of eligible practices, specifications and cost-share rates for their county. They will consult with all interested organizations and agencies in the county before final determinations are made.

Highest priority will be given to practices that provide multiple purpose use such as dams and ponds, permanent grass cover, and waterways and tree planting.

These measures help retain and slow down water, and reduce siltation as the water moves downstream. Practices which help reduce pollution from animal wastes, fertilizers and pesticides also will be given high priority.

Honorees 7 honored by hall of fame

TWIN FALLS — Seven southern Idaho men were honored Monday night at the

TWIN FALLS — Limited tickets will be available at the CSI Auditorium tonight for the second and third performances of the 10th Annual Country Music Jamboree.

Terry Nendorf, ticket chairman, said a few are left for tonight and a better supply for Wednesday. The tickets are on sale prior to the performance at Helen's Record Shop.

Probe Stans stock deal, Hartke asks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Vance Hartke says Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans should be called before a Senate committee to explain his ownership of stock in a Penn Central Railroad subsidiary while his department was deeply involved in negotiations for a huge loan for the railroad.

Hartke, an Indiana Democrat, said Monday he would ask that the full Senate Commerce Committee be convened "at the earliest possible date" to take Stans' testimony on his ownership of 38,000 shares of stock in the Great Southwest Corp., a Penn Central subsidiary.

Hartke said there appeared to be "a strong possibility of impropriety" in connection with Stans' testimony at hearings which confirmed his cabinet appointment in 1969 and his role in loan guarantee negotiations for the Penn Central last year.

A House banking committee report showed Stans owned stock worth about $300,000 in Great Southwest Corp. on June 12, 1970, when the Penn Central Southern Idaho Livestock Industry Hall of Fame Banquet. The honorees named to the hall of fame were Thane Lancaster, Filer; John W. Jones Sr., Hagerman; E. R. (Ed) Kelsey, Burley; Manning Patterson, Gooding; and the Alzola brothers — Jim, Frosty and Arsen — all of Granger.

The cattle rancher's award was accepted by Arsen Alzola from Jim Kevan, Idaho State Bank, Glenns Ferry. The Alzolas run 700 mother cows, 400 yearlings, and 50 horses in their two-state operation. They now have 7,000 acres of deeded land and a large area of state and federal grazing land.

John W. Jones Sr. received the sheep rancher's award for his contribution to the industry. The award was presented by Ralph Faulkner of Faulkner Land and Livestock, Gooding, to Jones' son John W. (Bill) Jones Jr. His father was not able to be present for the award. Jones owns land in Camas, Gooding and Custer counties. He has held posts in the Idaho Woolgrowers Assn. and on the Hagerman school board.

The purebred ram breeder's award was presented to Ed Kelsey by Mez McMurray, Allied Agencies, Inc., Burley. Kelsey has been active in the purebred ram business since 1917. His first consignment of rams was in 1918 at the Filer fairgrounds. He was selected as Cassia County Grassman of the Year for 1963.

Thane Lancaster, who is a familiar face all over the western United States in the Quarter Horse business, received the quarter horse judge and sales honor. The award was presented by Robert L. Harney, Appaloosa Acres, Twin Falls.

Lancaster is an approved judge by both the American Quarter Horse Assn. and the American Horse Show Assn. He started training horses at the age of 16 for $25 a horse per month.

The sheep and cattle rancher honor was presented to Manning Patterson by Wade Wells, Livestock Specialist University of Idaho Extension Service, Boise. Patterson and his son run 2,300 head of sheep and 150 head of cattle. He owns 820 acres of irrigated farm land in Gooding and Lincoln counties, 900 acres of dry farmland in Camas County.

Ken Riekey of KMYT television made a 20-minute film presentation on the operations of the honorees.

The wives of the honorees were presented with engraved silver trays.

Heyburn given reading grant

HEYBURN — The Heyburn elementary school will receive $2,465.75 in federal funds to conduct a project in reading improvement, Principal Boyd Earl said today.

The grant is part of a $50,000 federal appropriation being administered in Idaho, Boyd said. He received notification of the award from Helen H. Warner of the Idaho Department of Education.

Heyburn's application was among 23 approved out of a total of 84 submitted on a competitive basis. The fund is to be spent for school library resources and other instructional materials under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title II.

Chief says crime in U.S. grows

BURLEY — "Crime is growing rapidly across the nation and only about one-half of the crimes committed are ever reported," Ken Barry, Burley police chief, told Burley Chamber of Commerce members Monday.

Speaking at the luncheon meeting at Bryan's Cafe, he urged residents to lock their doors and windows prior to leaving home and to notify a neighbor and the police if they will be gone for any length of time.

Car windows should be rolled up and doors locked and never leave camera, guns or other items in plain sight in a car, he warned.

He said children should be taught to lock their bikes when they park and leave them, and bikes should be licensed.

There are 19 sworn officers and one civilian employe in the Burley Police Department. All of the officers have at least completed basic police training and many have taken additional special training classes. Last year there were five special police courses held in Burley and additional classes are planned for this year.

A question period followed his talk.

Hay stolen

TWIN FALLS — George Juker, Route 4, Buhl, reported to Twin Falls County sheriff's officers today someone took between three and four tons of hay from his farm. Investigation is being made, officers said.

Herrera and his three children, Grace H., 11, Charles, 3, and Joe 2, were treated at the hospital and released.

"Dickson was injured."

Gooding to share cost of service

GOODING — The city of Gooding will pay the sheriff's office $4,500 per year for handling emergency calls on the police radio which will be manned 24 hours per day, Mayor Harley Crippen told councilmen Monday night.

He said he did not know why Bon Glauner, commission chairman, had reported at the county budget hearing the city would pay the county $7,000 for the service.

"The city will make the payment in quarterly amounts," Crippen said.

George Silva, city clerk, reported anticipated revenue for 1971 will be $45,187, and that last year the city actually received $47,394. When questioned by councilmen as to the $2,000 decrease in the anticipated amount, Silva said there is no significant difference, but merely a matter of which year's books the money is credited to.

All department heads are asked to have their budgets ready by the next council meeting, March 1, Silva said.

Councilmen approved a request for Councilman Don Simis to have property owners notified to remove trees obstructing the view at the intersection of Fourth and Michigan.

Silva announced the city received $94.50 from Magistrate Court fines for January, which is 90 per cent of the city fines received by the court.

Electrical group chooses officers

TWIN FALLS — Newly elected officers of the Snake River Valley Electrical Assn. were announced today.

R. E. (Gus) Gustafson, Boise, was elected president at the 16th annual conference at the Holiday Inn, William C. Slith, Pocatello, is vice president, and James E. Bruce, of Idaho Power Co., and Ernest A. Fisher, Terry's Appliance Co., both Boise, were re-elected secretary and treasurer.

R. A. (Dick) Cox, manager, marketing training services, Whirlpool Corp., Benton Harbor, Mich., spoke at both morning and afternoon sessions, and Dan Valentine, Salt Lake City columnist, was the luncheon speaker.

Robert J. O'Connor, vice president, and assistant to the president of Idaho Power Co., told the group that "working against a more abundant use of electrical energy is to work against a neater, cleaner world."

"I know of no industry like the electrical industry which has done or will do as much as ours to make this a more livable world and to repair the damage to the environment that has been done," he said.

He said belittling the electrical industry, "without realizing it is the strongest tool we have to clean up the environment," will work directly against the environment.

The utility official asked his audience of some 160 industry leaders if they could believe the "validity of the suggestion we reduce service, when in fact the great majority of people want no part of being without power." He cited as an example a two-hour service interruption earlier this month in New York City.

The Snake River Valley association is composed of chapters in Magic Valley, eastern Idaho and central Idaho, and directors represent utilities, manufacturers, distributors, contractors, retailers, electronics, appliance repair and news media.

Crash kills Idahoan

ROY, Utah (UPI) — A Nampa, Idaho, mother died early this morning following a double pickup truck accident in the north bound lane of I-15 near here.

Shon Herrera, 43, died in the emergency room at Ogden's St. Benedict's Hospital from injuries received in the 3:00 a.m. accident one mile south of the Roy exit.

Mrs. Herrera was a passenger in a truck driven by her husband, Thomas Adonia Herrera, 44, Herrera was driving north on I-15 when he was struck on the left side by a second vehicle driven by Melvin J. Dickerson, 37, Roy, Utah.

The Herrera vehicle struck the right hand guardrail several times, according to Utah Highway Patrolman Ralph Jackson, before crossing the interstate and rolling in the embankment.

Herrera and his three children, Grace H., 11, Charles, 3, and Joe 2, were treated at the hospital and released.

"Dickson was injured."

Highways said good over Idaho

BOISE (UPI) — New snow fell on a few mountain roads today but most of Idaho's major highways remained in good condition for travel.

By road, this was the report from the state departments of highways and law enforcement.

U.S. 95 — Council to Mesa Hill, icy; Craigmont, Grangeville, Culecass Hill, icy spots, rolling rock; Whitebird Hill, broken snow floor.

State Highway 55 — Banks Canyon to Cascade, icy; snow floor; Cascade to New Meadows, icy spots.

U.S. 93 — Galena to Stanley, icy spots; Lost Trail Pass, snow floor.

State Highways 46, 68 — Mountain Home area, snow floor.

State Highway 21 — Mores Creek to Idaho City, icy spots; Idaho City to Lowman, icy, chains advised.

State Highway 32 — Broken snow floor.

U.S. 101 — West Yellowstone, broken snow floor.

Dogs killed by poison

TWIN FALLS — Sheriff's officers and city police have received two reports of dog poisoning in the vicinity of the Labor Camp.

Officers said the camp manager reported Monday five or six dogs owned by residents of the camp had been killed within the past few days by poison.

Tuesday another report was received at the city police station indicating several more dogs in that area have died. Officers said an investigation is being made.

Jerome doctor improves

SUN VALLEY — Dr. Jon Wilmoth, Jerome physician, who was injured on Jan. 30 while snowmobiling in Sawtooth Valley, is still in the intensive care unit of Sun Valley Hospital, but is continuing to improve.

Staff physicians at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, including doctors from Wendell and Shoshone, are continuing to take care of Dr. Wilmoth's patients at his office in Jerome.

Three Island State Park dedication set for June

GLENN'S FERRY — Three Island State Park is nearing completion with dedication ceremonies set for June 18 and 19, according to Kent Giles, dedication committee chairman.

He said a special planning meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Glenns Ferry City hall with all organizations in surrounding communities asked to send representatives.

The dedication ceremonies will include participation by Gov. Cecil Andrus and Miss Rodeo America, Lana Brackenbury, Jerome, in a five-mile long parade, and a free barbecue.

The barbecue will be held in the center of circle of covered wagons, reminiscent of pioneer days. Giles said the events should be one of the most colorful in Idaho this year.

The principal dedication events will be held June 18, but the Buhl Antique Festival Theatre will present a performance the evening of June 18, followed by a square dancing.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. June 19 and will include Gooding's 116th Mounted Cavalry unit, bands and procession of antique cars from throughout Idaho and many horse-drawn buggies and carriages.

Giles said the parade will wind through town and to the state park on the north side of the Snake River and the wagons then will be placed in a circle.

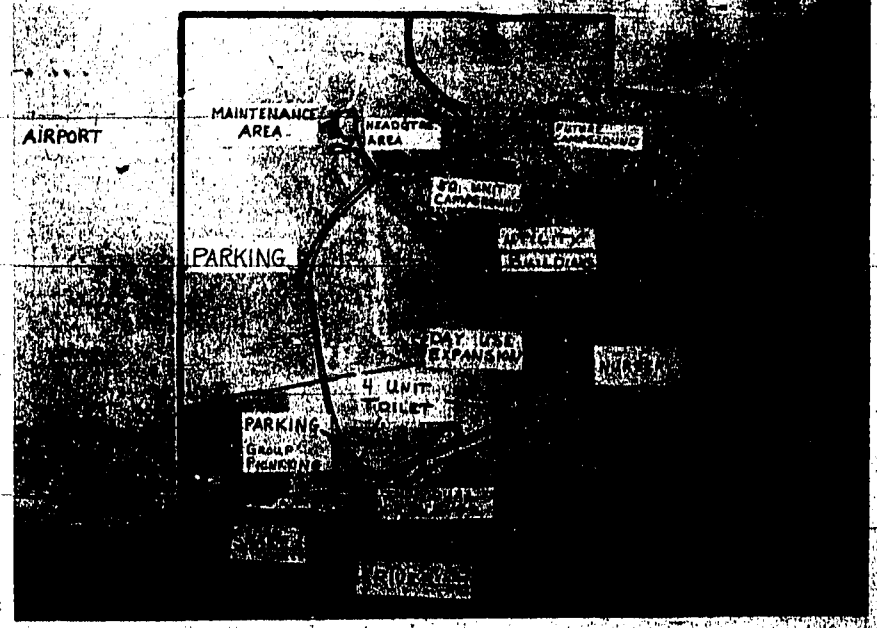

The cavalry unit will present a mounted drill. A cart will try to ford the river at the Three Island Crossing, to emulate the crossing by pioneers at the site a century ago.

Dedication ceremonies will begin at 3 p.m. with a free barbecue at 6 p.m. Beef and other food will be donated, Giles said, by local organizations.

Local historian, Frank Clark, is assembling a brochure containing the history and pictures of the Oregon Trail, Three Island Crossing, Glenns Ferry, Mountain Home, Bruneau and Bliss area.

Free transportation will be provided, visitors from Glenns Ferry to the park for those wanting to avoid parking problems.

The new state park will include 50 campsites with plans to enlarge the facilities in the future. Sanitary facilities are included.

MAP SHOWS the Three Island State Park facilities. This park is nearing completion and dedication will be held June 18-19. A big celebration also is planned for the two days.

One reason why we favor reasonably light opening bids is that all else being equal the side that opens the bidding has a distinct advantage. The opening bidder seldom gets into trouble when his partner has a very bad hand. The man who acts against an opening bid may find himself in the meat grinder when he overcalls. South was one of those players who just hated to open the bidding vulnerable. He liked to back in after passing and sure got his wish fulfilled today. He wouldn't open with one club, but he did try two clubs after West's opening heart bid and East's spade response. West doubled and South had no place to go except down. Actually, he played the hand rather well and managed to collect three trumps as well as his ace of spades, but somehow or other his partner was not impressed with losing 1100 points. South wasn't upset at all. It could happen to anyone; he pointed out and anyway East and West would have scored game and rubber so it wasn't a total loss. South's remark that it could happen to anyone was not completely accurate. It couldn't happen to anyone who opened the South hand with one club. West would overcall and East and West might work their way up to might no-trump or they might stop at a part score, but the one thing sure is that they wouldn't collect 1100 points. Of course, we don't claim a monopoly on opening the South hand. Most bidders would open it just as we would.

IN TOKYO you can buy chewing gum with a sour pickle flavor. WHY I DON'T KNOW, but among all the athletes, it's the tennis player who is apt to have the longest eyelashes. DID YOU ASK how long a sardine lives? About 14 years, average. ALMOST NOWHERE in the world is the suicide rate lower than in prisoner of war camps. BUST MEASUREMENT of the average 17-year-old girl is 30 1/2 inches.

TAKE 100 YOUNG MEN Ask each of them to read the same short speech into a tape recorder. Only about one in three will recognize his own voice when the recordings are played back. Exceptions are the divinity students. Virtually all of them can identify their own voices immediately. So it was shown in a Menninger Foundation study recently.

OPEN QUESTION -- Has anybody anywhere ever proved a boa constrictor actually can squeeze a man to death?

AMONG TWINS, the girls usually want to go on living fairly close together, even after they marry, but the boys generally don't. That much the researchers already know. Now they want to know why the difference. AT SEA YEARS AGO the sailors made yarn by unwinning rope. And it always took two men to operate the winch. So they found a quiet place aboard ship to do the job, and talked the whole Our Language man says this where we get the phrase to spin a yarn.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q "How many gorillas live in the U.S.?" A Maybe 85. We're a little shy on gorillas this year. Q "Are there a lot of alcoholics in Russia?" A Must be. At least there are a lot of drunks on summer nights, the correspondents say, every park in Moscow is cluttered with bodies.

A PSYCHIATRIST in San Jose, Calif., reports in the last two years he has treated five patients who said their sole reason for going to him was to improve their golf game. YOUNG LADY, if you want to find an eligible bachelor, just follow around in the footsteps of an Arab girl. Our Planet man says she can be expected to know where the men are. THERE WAS A TIME about 40 years ago in several Texas towns where you could prove the residence requirements to vote by coming up with six laundry receipts.

DON'T BELIEVE the fact a girl can't cook is grounds for divorce in any state now. Still, it has been cause for marital difficulty for centuries, and no young lady should wait until her wedding day for on the job training. Our Love and War man strongly endorses premarital cookery. Even Confucius, he points out, divorced his wife because he didn't like the way she fixed his meals, and history regards Confucius as a just man.

Controversial measures advance

Honors

WREATH presented by Secretary of Interior Rogers C. B. Morton was placed at base of Washington Monument in nation's capital Monday, commemorating birth of first president. Day marked first observance of anniversary on third Monday in February. (UPI)

Drinker hit by Gem bill

BOISE (UPI) — With off-duty senators watching from the gallery, the House swung another club at the drinking driver Monday and then voted to modify the law on meat inspection. By a vote of 37-7, the House approved a measure to lower to .08 from .10 the blood alcohol percentage considered legal proof of intoxication and sent the bill staggering to the Senate.

Then it okayed 54-7 a bill to bring Idaho's meat inspection law into conformity with a revised federal act despite outcries branding it a "rustler's bill." Meantime, members of the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee sat down to begin carving out a budget for the fiscal year ahead. They kicked newsmen out of the meeting. In the House, the Judiciary Committee reported out with favorable approval a bill setting up new procedures for authorizing abortions and permitting such operations in cases of rape and incest.

Portraits in place

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The portraits of President John F. Kennedy and his widow, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, have been officially placed in the White House. The full-length canvas of the former First Lady was hung on the left side of the diplomatic reception room on the ground floor where a portrait of Eleanor Roosevelt used to hang. The portrait of the late President was placed on a wall in the green room, replacing a Claude Monet work, "Morning on the Seine," which was a gift of the Kennedy family. Newly acquired portraits of President John Quincy Adams and his wife, Louisa, done during their lifetime by Gilbert Stuart, will be unveiled at the White House in the last week of February, during a reception at which all of the various Adams descendants were expected.

BOISE (UPI)—Three controversial bills—pertaining to abortions, non-resident hunters and farm labor—advanced in the legislative process today. Meantime, the House considered five bills on third reading, including one to lower the blood alcohol content level for drunken driving. Senators took the day off in honor of Washington's birthday, although the Joint Finance Committee planned an afternoon meeting. Acting with a bare quorum, the House Judiciary Committee reported to the floor with favorable approval a bill to re-

Budget session closed

BOISE (UPI)—The Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee went into closed-door executive session Monday despite a ruling late last week the committee must sit in open session to consider the budget. Rep. Jerkin Palmer, R-Madlad, a co-chairman of the committee, said he would have to "excuse the press." Palmer referred to a committee decision earlier this year to exclude the press and legislators not on the joint committee would begin with dedicated fund budgets, but would hear further testimony Wednesday from the Department of Agriculture. Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, the other committee co-chairman, said there were a "lot of contradictions" in the open session ruling and said it was "almost incumbent" on the committee to ask for further interpretation.

Last week the Senate Judiciary and Rules Committee cited a statute and a Senate rule in its decision the joint committee would have to sit openly. Section 67-3513 of the Idaho Code states standing committees of the house and senate in charge of appropriations measures shall "sit jointly in open sessions while considering the budget."

Under Senate Rule 47-B, any conflict between a statute or the constitution and a senate rule shall be resolved by holding the statute or constitutional provision to be superior. High said it was an "almost historic first" accepted in the U.S. Congress that "it is in the public interest at certain times to go into executive session," particularly when personnel topics are being discussed.

Legislative log

By United Press International
Passed by House
HB60 (Judiciary, Rules & Administration)—Revises rate that can be charged for publication of legal notices in newspapers. 50-13.
HB62 (Sessions et al)—Reduces amount of alcohol in person's blood to .08 per cent from .10 per cent for presumption of intoxication. 37-37.
SB1032 (Agricultural Affairs)—Allows custom slaughterers to process game animals at request and for use of owner without the carcass being inspected. 54-7.
Introduced in House
HB198 (Resources & Conservation)—Regulates surface mining.
HB199 (Revenue & Taxation)—Brings water companies under law relating to assessment of properties.
HB200 (Judiciary, Rules & Administration)—Strikes reference to administration of wife's estate dying intestate with community property.

Housing check in L.A. pushed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A task force of the city department of building and safety today expanded its house-to-house canvass in the hardest hit areas of the Los Angeles earthquake checking structures for safety.

The department reported that one week following the devastating quake 298 private buildings, including 1,017 family dwelling units had been found unsafe for occupancy. Many of the buildings were multi-unit apartment buildings. Inspectors said the figure resulted from checks of about half of the nearly 3,000 structures listed as possibly unsafe following Tuesday's massive temblor which claimed 62 lives.

In a report prepared for Mayor Sam Yorty, the department also said 925 private buildings sustained major structural damage, but most could be repaired. The others "will have to be demolished."

walt, R-Jerome, asked to be recorded as voting "no." Besides permitting abortions in cases of rape or incest the bill also tightens up present procedures which must be followed in authorization of abortions. The resources and conservation committee voted to introduce for printing a bill which would restrict non-resident hunting licenses to five per cent of the previous year's total resident combination licenses, this would cut the number

Accept tie to Berlin, Reds told

BERLIN (UPI)—Western diplomatic sources said today the allies are demanding that the Soviet Union accept the ties between West Berlin and West Germany that have arisen since the two German states were founded in 1949.

They said in the Big Four ambassadors' talks on the city, the western powers even have gone so far as to propose that the Soviets agree to the West German government representing West Berlin in some relations with foreign nations. They said "the American, British and French ambassadors to West Germany steadfastly have rejected the demand of the Soviet ambassador to East Germany for 'liquidation' of the ties that in effect make West Berlin a state of the West German Federal Republic."

The East Germans contend West Berlin is not a part of West Germany and that "political activity" such as West German parliamentary proceedings there constitute provocations.

cutting the number of out of state licenses that low. He recalled that Idaho packers and guides recently testified before the committee that anything less than 8,000 or 10,000 non-resident licenses would "put them out of business." In the Agricultural Affairs Committee, Phil Batt, Wilder, a representative of the Idaho Food Producers, worked on amendments to the farm labor union bill recommended by his group. Among the charges suggested was one requiring the governor to make all appointments to the board with the consent of the senate.

Copper producers to combat gases

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eight major copper companies announced Monday the establishment of a research association to develop improved methods of controlling gas emissions at their plants. A spokesman said budget estimates indicate that the cost of a single major testing project involving the removal of sulfur dioxide and particulates from smelter stacks could exceed $1 million. He said results of studies and test programs will be published for the benefit of the non-ferrous smelting industry and the public. Founding members of the association are American Smelting and Refining, Anaconda, Cities Service, Copper Range, Inspiration Consolidated Copper, Kennecott Copper, Newmont Mining, and Phelps Dodge. Their combined output accounts for virtually all of the estimated 1.7 million tons of copper smelted in the United States annually.
