Red gunners down 8 Yank 'copters

SAIGON (UPI)—Eight American helicopters were shot down over Laos today in the worst aircraft losses suffered in a single day of the 24-day-old South Vietnamese drive across the frontier, the U.S. command reported.

The U.S. command reported earlier that North Vietnamese antiaircraft batteries for the first time had fired surface-to-air missiles across the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) at U.S. planes flying over South Vietnam, but a spokesman said the eight helicopters were brought down by conventional antiaircraft fire.

Spokesmen said one American crewman was killed, seven wounded and eight missing. The eight losses brought to 45 the total of American planes officially reported lost in supporting the Laos incursion against the Ho Chi Minh Trail supply routes used by the Communists to bring down supplies from North Vietnam. Unofficial reports said more than twice that number have been damaged.

cut the Ho Chi Minh Trail and the Communists, government paratroopers today turned back a heavy assault on one of their positions deep in Laos. They killed 88 North Vietnamese in 10 hours of bitter fighting, military sources said.

North Viet invasion threatened

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu tonight threatened an invasion of North Vietnam unless the Communists "stop immediately their aggression in the South and withdraw their troops back to the North."

The 37-foot, radar-controlled missiles were aimed at U.S. aircraft supporting the South Vietnamese drive into Laos to cut the Ho Chi Minh Trail. The incidents, involving two Navy A7 Intruder jets and an Army OV10 Bronco, took place Tuesday, the spokesman said.

FBI lists suspects

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI agents investigating the bombing of the U.S. Capitol building asked Senate employees to try to identify photographs of three possible suspects. It was learned today.

The FBI has charge of the investigation, with help from the Capitol building police force, the Washington Metropolitan police force and Army demolition experts.

Big drop

The bomb, believed to have been a dynamite charge of 12 to 20 pounds, was set off in a men's washroom on the ground floor of the Senate wing of the original part of the Capitol building.

Hospital to launch home health service

registered nurse at St. Jerome County commissioner and health board member, said. If the program is expanded throughout the district, the nursing service would be under the administration of local hospitals, he said.

Freed American 'excited'

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI) — Tupamaro terrorists freed kidnaped U.S. agriculture expert Claude L. Fly Tuesday night and left him on a hospital doorstep for treatment of a heart attack. Fly said he was "excited at finding myself among free men again."

A spokesman for the FBI, asked about the report, replied: "We would have no comment to the U.S. Capitol bombing."

Arson suspected in T.F. blazes

TWIN FALLS — Two fires Tuesday night and early Wednesday in which arson is suspected are being investigated by Twin Falls Police.

Jerome City Council adopted the 1971 budget with no protests Tuesday night. The budget of $54,967.88 is $7,713.72 larger than last year, Mayor Jack Russell said.

Jerome Day fixed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon Tuesday designated May 1 as Law Day and urged appropriate public ceremonies to reaffirm "dedication to our form of government and the supremacy of law in our lives."

Released

CLAUDE L. FLY, kidnaped Aug. 7 by Tupamaro terrorists in Uruguay, was freed Tuesday when he was left at a hospital in Montevideo. He had suffered heart attack about 10 days earlier. In photo taken while in captivity, he is shown reading. (UPI)

Fly was wrapped in several sheets and his eyes were bandaged, apparently as a blindfold.

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee sent out without recommendation today a teacher negotiations bill but the committee chairman warned an attempt might be made to add a "no strike" clause to the proposal.

School talks bill out

BOISE (UPI) — The House Resources and Conservation Committee decided today to amend a bill limiting the number of non-resident hunters so that their number is increased and they do not have to get licenses on a first come, first served basis.

Gem budget windfall for CSI

TWIN FALLS — A little-noticed provision in the tentative State general fund budget just made public by the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee may bring in $150,000 windfall to the College of Southern Idaho.

Sen. High said the current 70-30 funding for the vocational training programs was "unfair" because only two of the state's six area vocational schools previously were funded below the 100 per cent level.

Sen. High said the joint committee vetted to bring all the area vocational schools — including the ones at CSI and North Idaho College — up to the same 100 per cent level of funding that the other vocational schools had enjoyed.

Speak, boy

Carver ousted for 30 days

BOISE (UPI) — The State Board of Health, meeting secretly Saturday, suspended Health Administrator Dr. Terren Carver for 30 days and ordered an investigation of his department, UPI learned Tuesday.

The board, according to minutes of the meeting, also appointed Robert Des Aulniers as acting director of the Department of Health, pending the outcome of the investigation which will be conducted by the attorney general's office.

Release of the information was not made until late Tuesday afternoon, although it is common practice for health board meetings to be well publicized ahead of time.

The Health Department had allegedly been instructed to say nothing of the suspension, and was ordered to direct all questions pertaining to the suspension to Fred Humphreys, board chairman.

Copies of the minutes of the meeting were sent to both Attorney General Tony Park and Gov. Cecil Andrus.

In the minutes, the board charged Carver had been negligent in providing the Health Board with information, and had taken some action without first consulting the board.

In ordering the month-long investigation, the board asked the attorney general's office to see if "There have been flagrant withholdings of information from the Board of Health or flagrant action taken by the administrator contrary to explicitly expressed wishes or policy positions of the Board of Health."

T.F. duo to join 'U.N.'

POCATELLO — Two Twin Falls students at Idaho State University will participate in a model United Nations session scheduled at ISU March 12 and 13, sponsored by the ISU Council on International Relations and United Nations Affairs (CIRUNA).

A number of ISU students will serve as delegates from the various nations currently members of the United Nations.

They include, from Twin Falls, Robert Lassen, a sophomore government student, representing China, and Norman Jones, CIRUNA treasurer and junior-class history student, speaking for Great Britain.

Andrus said it was unfortunate that the board had chosen not to release the information about the 30-day suspension. He said Carver is not responsible to the governor, but directly responsible to the health board.

Andrus said he backed the action of the board and assumed that it had been taken with cause.

UPI attempted to contact Humphreys and was told he was tied up on the phone. After holding for several minutes, Humphreys' secretary came back on the line and said Humphreys had left town and could not be reached for several days.

The Saturday meeting was conducted in the hospital board room of the Baimock Memorial Hospital with only three members of the five-member board present. The meeting, according to the minutes, lasted exactly 35 minutes.

The Health Department had allegedly been instructed to say nothing of the suspension, and was ordered to direct all questions pertaining to the suspension to Fred Humphreys, board chairman.

Copies of the minutes of the meeting were sent to both Attorney General Tony Park and Gov. Cecil Andrus.

'Rocky' folks plan display

'Rockhounds' polish gems for T.F. show

TWIN FALLS — Idaho "rockhounds" are putting the finishing touches on their prized displays in preparation for the 19th annual Magic Valley Gem Show, opening at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Twin Falls Armory.

Ray Moon, a Twin Falls gem specialist and special-displays chairman of the gem show, said a wide variety of displays are planned, including unique cuts, unusual designs and collections of semi-precious gems. Entries are anticipated from rockhounds throughout southern Idaho, Moon said.

Many displays are being prepared to illustrate the attractive rock formations which can be utilized in making jewelry, still-life arrangements and other decorative designs.

Among Moon's own collections are agates which are cut and polished to form pictures. These picture agates include one in which the formations of different colored stones resemble a golfer with club in hand on a golf course. Moon said as he began polishing it the faint line forming the club began to disappear so the stone is not as highly polished as some.

Another features a red fire-like line above a dark area resembling evergreen trees and has been mounted in a bracelet. He calls it a forest fire painting. These will be featured in his special display.

Dee Almsworth, co-chairman of the show, said this year's displays will range from Indian artifacts to precious faceted stones. There will also be demonstrations in faceting and a cutting and polishing demonstration with opal.

A "silent" auction is planned for persons wishing to purchase items and numerous door prizes will be provided by the sponsoring Magic Valley Gem Club. Jerry Baltzer serves as co-chairman of the show with Almsworth.

Doors will open at the armory Saturday at 10 a.m. and close at 10 p.m. On Sunday a one-hour period is reserved for photography and all interested photographers are invited to photograph special-interest items.

Sunday's public show will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Eight dealers offer bids to supply weed killer

TWIN FALLS — Eight dealers submitted bids Tuesday for supplying weed spray chemicals to the Twin Falls County Weed Bureau and figures have been taken under advisement with a contract expected to be awarded within a few days.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster opened the bids and read them with only one firm disqualifying because of failure to meet specifications. The bid of Cenex Plant Food Co., Paul, was rejected because it was not accompanied by a surety bond. Bids included 2,4-D and Amitrole-T or Cyrol Amitrole-

T with figures requested on 2,4-D in amounts of 400 gallons in one-gallon containers; 4,125 gallons in five-gallon containers; 1800 gallons in 30-gallon containers and 7,150 gallons in 55-gallon drums.

The Amitrole-T bids were requested in 240 gallons in one-gallon containers and 1,875 in five-gallon containers.

Firms bidding on the products included Simplot Co. and American Oil, Twin Falls; Henry Farm Sales, Kimberly; Pure-Grow and Wasatch Chemical Co., both Rupert; Steve Regan Co., Boise; Cenex Plant Food Co., Paul; and Van Waters and Rogers, Inc., Twin Falls.

Commission Chairman W. L. Chancey said county weed director Wallace Savage would review the amounts, brand names and bid specifications with commissioners prior to the awarding of a contract.

Al Peters, Twin Falls Canal Co. manager, met with the commissioners for the bid opening as the canal company and county cooperate in a number of weed control programs in the county where road and canal company right of way join.

Ecology department plan stirs 'dictatorship' fear

BOISE (UPI) — A joint committee heard testimony Tuesday night that a bill to create a Department of Ecology would vest dictatorial powers in the department's administrator.

The Senate Committee on Resources and Environment and the House State Affairs Committee met in joint session to hear testimony on a bill, presented by Atty. Gen. Tony Park, that would create a separate Department of Ecology, centralizing all agencies that have control over the environment.

Tom Hoyenden, representing the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association, told the committee the bill would vest too much power in the hands of the director of the department without any recourse through the legislature or the governor.

That same sentiment was echoed by Al Teske, secretary of the Idaho Mining Association, who told the committee while his group does not oppose centralizing the environmental functions of the state, it fears that the director could impose undue hardships on the state.

He said if powers to fine, enforce and regulate were given to an ardent "environmentalist who had little regard for industry, it could be the blueprint for stagnation in Idaho."

Park, in introducing the bill, however, claimed that the state has long lacked direction in guidelines for protection of the environment. He said such a department would establish those guidelines.

He said it would also provide a central agency so that each person in the state would know where to go with questions or problems on any phase of the environment.

Park claims there would be no increase in governmental costs because the department, in essence, would only pick up budgets from agencies it would usurp if the bill was passed.

Carl Burke, a Boise attorney, said the Health Department, which currently administers most of the state's environmental protection laws, is underfunded and has its duties split between public health problems and the environmental problems—even though its director is only trained to adequately deal with problems of public health.

John Higgs, chairman of the Washington Ecology Department, said his department was set-up in a like manner as what is being proposed for Idaho.

He warned that if Idaho failed to take strong action to protect its own, then the federal government would step in and force regulations on the state.

He noted that the bill creating the establishment of such a department in Washington, had faced rough-sledding in the legislature.

Music group elects

TWIN FALLS — Officers for the O'Leary Junior Music Club, an affiliate of the National Federation of Junior Music Clubs, were elected at the Monday meeting at the school.

Officers include Kathy Coleman, president; Andy Musser, vice president; and Meg Rayborn, secretary-treasurer.

For the program, several students presented their festival selections. Participating in the program were Miss Musser, Virginia-Hafer and Mary Tjarks.

Refreshments were provided by Kelli Frank.

Reds close Berlin route

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germans disrupted West Berlin's traffic routes to the West today to protest a three-day meeting of Bonn politicians in the isolated city.

West German border authorities said beginning at 6 a.m. signals governing the flow of traffic through East German border control points were switched to red. Every few hours thereafter the Communists switched the lights back to green to let a trickle of the heavy traffic enter the 110-mile highway linking West Berlin with West Germany.

split between public health problems and the environmental problems—even though its director is only trained to adequately deal with problems of public health.

John Higgs, chairman of the Washington Ecology Department, said his department was set-up in a like manner as what is being proposed for Idaho.

He warned that if Idaho failed to take strong action to protect its own, then the federal government would step in and force regulations on the state.

He noted that the bill creating the establishment of such a department in Washington, had faced rough-sledding in the legislature.

Young ranked most popular

'Normal' no more

BOISE (UPI)—The last normal school in the United States came to an end today when Gov. Cecil Andrus officially signed a bill making Lewis Clark Normal School a state college.

Winter's beard

DEEP FREEZE in Snake River Canyon has developed as a result of freezing temperatures and seepage water throughout the northern exposure of the rock wall. Numerous ice formations such as this one line the south wall just above the Twin Falls sewage treatment plant.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Robert Young, by all accounts of polls ratings and fan mail, is the most popular performer on television.

He knows why. "When I'm on tour or make public appearance, or even walking down the street the thing that strikes me most is the genuine affection people seem to have for Robert Young and Dr. Marcus Welby," the actor said.

"I think it is a return-on-an investment I make. When I perform I feel a great deal of affection for the audience—the folks watching."

Actors commonly perform because they seek affection. Few, if any, have ever said that personal affection for viewers or audiences are an integral element of their own performance.

"I believe in the characteristics of Welby," Young went on. "He is a decent man who is credible. He's not a remote scientist or impersonal surgeon. Welby deals with the fundamentals of life and death. He's sympathetic and compassionate. That's a hard combination to beat."

Another thing, Dr. Welby isn't a caricature of the old-fashioned physician or country doctor as played by Jean Hersholt in his old radio series or Milburn Stone in "Gunsmoke."

An element Young skirted was his own contribution.

Young, by a freak of physical conformation—his facial features, height, weight and even the way he combs his hair—is the sort of man others trust on sight. To women he radiates strength and dependability plus his own low-key sex appeal.

"Love—which I think is an over-used word—is a force in my life like electricity," he said. "It has its negative side as well as a positive element."

News Of Servicemen

BURLEY — Navy, Fireman Apprentice Vaughn W. Tracy and Hospitalman Ronald L. McNeely, both Burley residents, participated in the recovery of the Apollo 14 astronauts when they returned from the moon.

Both men are serving aboard the amphibious landing ship USS New Orleans which served as primary recovery ship. Parents of the two Navy men are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon B. Tracy and Mrs. Adrienne McNeely, all Burley.

TWIN FALLS — Petty Officer a-C Richard E. Kelso, Twin Falls, is serving aboard the nuclear attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

BUHL — Navy Petty Officer 3-C Gerald W. Lively, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lively, Buhl, is serving aboard the USS Enterprise, nuclear attack aircraft carrier.

BURLEY — Petty Officer 3-C Ronnie E. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durand S. Barnes, Burley, is serving aboard the USS Enterprise, a nuclear attack aircraft carrier.

"If you project affection it's returned. If your ego is overwhelming, then audiences respond negatively."

Viewers like Welby because he has a respondent chord within him.

"I believe the American people are fundamentally decent because they respond to decency in any form, especially in entertainment."

CASE OF THE MISSING PORE

By Mary Sue Miller

A mature Lovely writes: There are no pores in my facial complexion, except tiny ones in my nose. Consequently the use of treatment creams does not seem feasible for me. Without pores, how could a cream be absorbed? What alternative is there when the skin is dry? Mine is crinkly from dryness.

The Answer: No matter how 'invisible' pores may be to the naked eye, they are there and can be seen with a magnifying glass or mirror. A complexion without pores would be in serious trouble. Having no outlet, the oil glands and perspiration ducts would cause eruptive matter to form beneath the surface.

Actually, a woman is lucky when her pores are so fine that they appear non-existent. Never attractive, enlarged pores trigger all manner of problems. Blackheads, for example.

Help for dry conditions does not depend on pore size. Products labeled for dry skin—cleansers, moisturizers, emollients, masks, powder base—bring relief via surface and sub-surface action. The degree of penetration may be argued, but is nonetheless real.

A regular skin care program brings about a dewier, smoother look. But, please note, "regular" is the key to success. Hit-and-miss applications are a waste of time, effort, money and—smooth skin.

ON THE MALL — DOWNTOWN

DEAR ABBY: Are you on vacation or what? I can't believe you couldn't have thought up a better answer for the person who wrote in saying "Grandma" loves to knit and crochet but she never makes anything to fit anybody and the colors and styles she uses are terrible, so consequently nobody wears any of her hand-knit sweaters, socks, scarves, etc. And Grandma wonders why.

Abby, anybody who can knit and crochet can make things people can wear! All they need is the yarn and the patterns. Obviously Grandma doesn't have either. So instead of complaining about the terrible things she turns out, the relatives should select their own yarn, in the colors they prefer, and also give Grandma a pattern. Prist This!

MAD IN MILWAUKEE

DEAR MAD: You forgot the needles. [I'll be glad to return the one you just gave me.] Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: A few months back some new people moved in across the street, so my husband and I went over to visit them and welcome them into the neighborhood.

She offered us a cup of coffee, so we set down at their table and I noticed a roach was crawling around on the table. My husband noticed it same time as I did but neither of us said anything. The lady saw it, too, as I saw her watching it, but I guess she was too embarrassed to do anything about it. What do you do in a case like that? Shouldn't somebody have brushed the roach off? Or killed it maybe? Or do you just sit there and watch it crawl all over the table? If something should have been done who should have done it?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: The first person to spot the little creature should have "removed" it as inconspicuously as possible.

DEAR ABBY: You must be kidding! That sailor's mother has to open all her son's mail in order to read it and decide what is worth sending on to him. A person would have to be a millionaire to send [airmail yet!] all the junk the average person gets these days in the line of coupons, contests, brochures, advertisements and get-acquainted offers.

ANOTHER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Who's kidding whom? It doesn't take a genius to distinguish between a personal letter and an offer to join "The Dirty Joke-of-the-month club." The author resented his mother's opening his personal mail.

DEAR ABBY: Tell K. M. of Roseburg that the purpose of your column is not to instruct people on what should be done to save our country. Rather it is to help them with their everyday problems.

I agree, pollution and the war are two of the most serious problems we are facing today, but we still must meet our daily challenges. People like K. M. who are so busy worrying about doomsday that they think of nothing else make me tired.

"If all the people who write to Dear Abby would write to their Congressmen instead," she rants, "we could change the world."

Oh, yeah? If every citizen who is against the war in Viet Nam were to crawl to Washington on his hands and knees it wouldn't make one bit of difference.

'Withdrawal' threatened

BOISE (UPI)—The president of the Idaho Education Association warned today there could be a "withdrawal of services in August" by Idaho teachers if there are no alternatives to the present level of funding for public schools.

Louise Jones, New Meadows, said an emergency delegate assembly for the IEA is scheduled in Boise Friday and that out of the meeting will come a decision as to what future course to take.

Mrs. Jones and Wayne York, executive secretary of the IEA, held a news conference to discuss the delegate assembly and the "Education Emphasis Day" which the IEA hopes to undertake in Idaho communities.

York said the IEA still felt an additional $16 million is needed for public schools—$6.5 million of which would go to increase teachers' salaries.

He said the delegates would question "all appropriations to date" and said he meant "all and every and any appropriations—suggestions made during this session."

The current level of spending in the state is approximately $40 million from the general fund. The executive budget of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus gave public schools $46.6 million and the legislature's Joint Finance Appropriations Committee suggested $43 million.

Andrus had earmarked $2.8 million for public kindergartens but the bill approved by the Senate and pending in the House to establish kindergartens carried with it no appropriations.

Mrs. Jones said the $2.8 million "Must go to the public fund."

But she said, the teachers "may accept less (than the $18 million) and they may very well do this during the delegate assembly."

York said education in Idaho "has steadily approached a crisis situation in the last four years as the quality of education in the schools has slipped further and further behind other states."

He said through the "Education Emphasis Day" teachers in every community "will tell the story of Idaho schools more forcefully."

He said the IEA had asked for cooperation in closing schools for the day.

"Idaho teachers, through IEA, are saying we cannot be passive in accepting the position of 46th in the nation in the two quality indicators of education—amount spent for child and amount spent for teacher," he said.

"If more adequate funding doesn't happen this session, we will very likely slip to 50th in the nation within the next two years."

Mrs. Jones was asked what persuasion the IEA could use to get its demands yet since there is no shortage of teachers in Idaho.

Mrs. Jones noted, "A child in the classroom is only treated as well as the kind of teacher you're willing to pay for."

He said plenty

Drug charges name 7

CAM RANH AIR BASE, South Vietnam (UPI)—Seven of the 43 U.S. airmen arrested in a drug raid at this Air Force Base have been charged with narcotics violations, military spokesmen said Tuesday.

The 38 others detained in the raid Saturday were released without charge, pending further investigation, the spokesman said. Each of those released has been relieved from duty until the investigation is completed.

Five of the seven men charged were sent to the U.S. Army stockade at Long Binh near Saigon for confinement, and a sixth was released to custody within his unit. Only these six were identified.

The seventh man charged remained in custody at Cam Ranh for further interrogation by the Air Force Office of Special Investigation.

Six of the seven charged were identified as Airmen 1st Class Timothy J. Bizler, 19, of Albuquerque, N.M.; Donald Dunn, 21, of Athens, Ga.; Larry D. Jones, 21, of Chicago; Airmen Basics Robert E. Banks, 21, of Mobile, Ala.; William E. Bentley, 20, of Louisville, Ky., and Aaron M. Mitchell, 23, of Patterson, N.J.

Magruder said SST contractors had put $79 million into the program and the airlines $60 million.

Magruder urged Congress to approve the administration's request to keep the SST alive.

Magruder and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., testified before a House transportation subcommittee.

Scrapping cost told

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The head of the government's supersonic transport (SST) project said Tuesday scrapping the program would cost more than $1 billion.

William M. Magruder, director of the SST project for the Transportation Department, said the government would lose $983 million of taxpayers funds already invested in the program if Congress decided not to approve further funding to build two prototypes.

Magruder said SST contractors had put $79 million into the program and the airlines $60 million.

Magruder urged Congress to approve the administration's request to keep the SST alive.

Magruder and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., testified before a House transportation subcommittee.

Ziegler 'loves' job

WASHINGTON (UPI)—He stands at the lectern in the White House press room, a coffee cup balanced in one hand, a cigarette in the other. His black hair is neatly combed, his suit a conservative blue.

After a minute of banter with two newsmen, Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler nods to the three dozen reporters seated informally below him and the ritual begins anew.

In a level voice, occasionally glancing at a scribbled page of notes before him, Ziegler weaves his way through the twice-daily maze of questions. The answers are carefully phrased, in language befitting a diplomat.

On a touchy political question, Ziegler simply replies: "I have no information on that."

Later, sitting behind his desk, only a few yards from the President's Oval Office, Ziegler talks about his job.

"I love it. My view is there is no other job I'd rather have. I enjoy the excitement of being involved in the process of decision-making."

"I have total access to the President," he adds. I can walk into his office at any time, I can't conceive of doing my job otherwise."

At 31, Ziegler is the youngest man ever to hold the job of White House press secretary. Before joining the Nixon presidential campaign in 1968, Ziegler worked for an advertising firm in Los Angeles. He contends he "learns" every day in his White House job.

Explaining his sometimes especially cautious response to questions, Ziegler says: "What I say for the President and the White House can have a tremendous impact."

Ziegler is of German descent on his father's side and Scotch-Irish on his mother's. He was born in Covington, Ky., and met his beautiful blonde wife, Nancy, when they were first graders. The Ziegler's have two daughters, Cindy, 7 and Laure,

Fund diversion idea examined

BOISE (UPI) — Some members of the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee discussed the possibility Tuesday of using Fish and Game Department dedicated funds to assist General Fund agencies with common interests.

Farm act adopted by House

BOISE (UPI) — The House passed 42-21 Tuesday a farm labor act that proponents may "avoid a disagreeable confrontation". It goes now to the Senate for consideration.

The discussion began during examination of dedicated fund agencies when Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malad, asked a budget consultant whether it was possible to have any position control over such agencies.

Palmer said he lived in "constant fear of dedicated funds running away with salaries and wages over General Fund agencies."

The Fish and Game Department put in a request for $7.2 million from dedicated funds, and of that earmarked almost $3.2 million for salaries and wages.

Dr. Sidney Duncombe, budget consultant to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, said the Budget Division would have to "allow positions sufficient to use up these funds... unless you instructed us to do otherwise."

Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, said fish and game was a money-making agency and was "just dreaming up ways they can spend this money."

He suggested the dedicated funds might be used to help other agencies, and suggested aid with fire fighting costs, stream channel alteration administration and "all kinds of areas that they should be concerned with and should bear part of the financial burden."

Land sale bar studied

Under the bill a farm worker would have to work for a farmer at least 14 days in the calendar year to enter into union negotiations with him.

Under the bill strikes or lockouts would be prohibited until proper notice was given and a "cooling off" period ensued. Secondary boycotts would be prohibited.

Rep. Angus Condie, R-Preston, said this bill was a revised version of one introduced earlier at this session. He said it was changed to meet specific complaints brought out in the hearings.

But Rep. Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, contended that — as written — the bill sets up a "super board" which is answerable to nobody and that it contains no provision for the board to be audited even though it will have state funds.

Referring to farm labor strife in southwestern Idaho last summer, Williams said he felt the legislature was acting in haste and over-reacting to a very unfortunate situation.

No incensing

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The Swedish justice ombudsman has dismissed a petition from a Greek convict who wanted to burn incense in his prison cell. Prison authorities had refused him permission to burn the incense because they suspected it contained narcotics. The inmate asked the ombudsman to reverse the decision but he refused on grounds that smoke pollution would be unfair to the other inmates.

"Blue Monday" According to the lore of the sea, the expression "Blue Monday" had its origin in sailing ship days when Monday was fogging day — and errant sailors were flogged until they were black and blue.

Weak job rights action blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House backers of the only major civil rights bill to surface in the new Congress urged today that the Justice Department be stripped of its power to enforce laws against discrimination in job hiring.

Charges that the Justice Department has a history of weak enforcement of the law were made in a House Labor subcommittee hearing.

On a bill designed to give the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC) sweeping power to enforce its findings of job discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin or sex.

In addition to taking over the Justice Department's enforcement power, the EEOC would be given jurisdiction for the first time over the hiring practices of federal, state and city governments. The measure also would repeal the exemption of teachers from the protection of the anti-discrimination law.

The EEOC now can only make investigations and cite an employer for discriminating in hiring, leaving it to the Justice Department to determine whether court action would be taken. A similar bill passed the Senate last year but died in the House Rules Committee.

"Notwithstanding that equal employment opportunity was established as a principle of national policy in the 1964 civil rights act, it has remained a hollow right, due especially to the lack of enforcement power in the EEOC," subcommittee chairman John Dent, D-Pa., told UPI.

"Minority groups and women continue to be denied equal opportunities," Dent added. "A re-declaration and implementation of a national policy on equal employment rights is of paramount importance at this stage of U.S. history."

Auditor finds office 'comedy'

BOISE (UPI) — An accountant hired by a joint committee to audit the divisions of Management Services and Communications said in his preliminary report Tuesday he found "really a comedy of a lot of problems."

Leonard Wilson, asked by the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee to audit the two divisions of the Department of Administrative Services after their directors were dismissed, said he could not say "whether management had anything to do with it at all."

Earlier in the day, Republicans on the Senate State Affairs Committee had succeeded in postponing again discussion of the appointment of Robert Lenaghan as acting director of Administrative Services.

Lenaghan dismissed the directors of the two divisions and both have appealed to the State Personnel Commission contending their jobs were classified under the state's merit system.

The State Affairs Committee was asked to wait until Friday when the joint committee would have the results of Wilson's audit. An auditor outside of state employe was hired since Legislative Auditor James Deffenbach at one time was acting director of Administrative Services.

Wilson said he found "some friction" between all departments involved with the two divisions, including the office of State Auditor Joe Williams.

"They (the agencies audited) can't understand why when they ship a voucher down to Joe Williams' office he ships it back because there are no funds... or it is not correctly coded."

He said he found many mis-codings of minor items in his audit and said he was "surprised" to learn that Management Services had one of the "largest computers in the world," and yet did its bookkeeping on a machine only one-step up from hand-written books.

He said he found nothing wrong with the auditor's office returning the incorrect vouchers and said the auditor's office was the "final catch of the accounting system."

"Part of his duties is as an internal control to catch such slips," Wilson said. "He is the one who writes the warrant, the payment of the bill."

Wilson said part of the field work for the audit was performed by state employes, but said the work was checked by outside auditors.

Meet set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Idaho's entire Washington delegation Tuesday announced the group will meet with the incorporators of the Railpax system to press Idaho's case for rail passenger service.

Sens. Frank Church and Len Jordan and Reps. James McClure and Orval Hansen said they would meet Friday with David W. Kendall, chairman of the board of the incorporators of the National Rail Passenger Corp.

Vote delay approved

BOISE (UPI)—Republicans on the Senate State Affairs Committee used their majority muscle once again Tuesday to postpone until Friday action on a gubernatorial appointment held since Jan. 27.

Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, asked to put off any action on appointment of Robert Lenaghan as acting director of administrative services until the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee receives an audit ordered of the divisions of management services and communications.

Shortly after he took over Big plane given year to get out

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The mysterious "Spruce Goose," Howard Hughes' eight-engine wooden flying boat which has been under heavy guard and locked in a hangar since 1947, has one year to vacate the premises.

The Long Beach Harbor Commission decided Monday that the income from developing the waterfront site as a deep water berth would be more than the $100-a-day rent paid by Hughes.

The propeller-driven plane constructed of laminated birch was towed into the hangar in 1947 after Hughes piloted it on its only test flight. It has never been seen by the public since. The current lease on the property runs out Sept. 3. With an automatic 180-day extension, that means the plane must be off the land by March 3, 1972.

Utah convict chooses noose

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Convicted murderer Bennett Merle Bellwood chose the noose over the firing squad Monday and was sentenced to hang April 12.

"I'll hang," he said, "if I last that long. If you get a chance to put the rope around my neck, you can hang me."

The death sentence was mandatory as the jury which convicted Bellwood, 25, for the July slaying of Ronald Paul Smith, 22, did not recommend leniency.

Third District Judge Joseph G. Jeppson ordered Bellwood, of Tooele, sent to the Utah State Prison. He will be the fifth man on death row.

Lenaghan fired Ray Clovis, director of management services, and Bert Colwell, director of communications.

"Both men have appealed to the State Personnel Commission contending their positions were classified under the state merit system."

Yarbrough said Lenaghan had dismissed "two of our highly technical men for what I thought was very little reason."

But Democrats on the committee accused Republicans of stalling the appointment and hinted Gov. Cecil D. Andrus was reluctant to send any further appointments to the Senate until the question over Lenaghan's appointment is settled. Sen. John Evans, D-Malad, reminded his Republican colleagues Andrus was "elected by the people of the state of Idaho."

"This is his administration," Evans said. "This is his choice. Criticism of Mr. Lenaghan and his past is criticism of the state of Idaho and of the governor."

But Yarbrough responded, "I too, was elected by the people and we confirm appointments for one reason as I can see—to get qualified men for state positions."

Sen. Art Murphy, D-Mullan, said he was told by Sen. Vern Brassey, R-Boise, that many businessmen in Idaho felt Lenaghan was a poor choice.

But, he said, he had met a representative of "one of the biggest businesses in Idaho" Monday and was told "unsolicited that Lenaghan would be one of the finest appointments Andrus has made."

Murphy asked that Lenaghan's qualifications be hashed out in committee rather than on the floor of the senate.

Mountain climb slated

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Ten American mountain climbers announced today they will attempt to reach the summit of the highest unclimbed mountain in the world—25,782-foot K2 peak in West Pakistan.

Warren Bleser, leader of the expedition, said in a letter today to the American Alpine Club that his group would attempt the climb in the Karakoram mountain range in the summer of 1972 if they get approval of the Pakistan government.

Bleser said there have been only two previous attempts to climb the mountain—by a British team in 1952 and by a Japanese team in 1955—but neither reached the summit.

He said those expeditions tried to go up the south-south-west ridge but his group would try a "more direct and more difficult" line than previously climbed.

Nationalism Vietnam goal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several years ago correspondents in Southeast Asia used to sit around and muse about the best way to end the American involvement in Vietnam. One of the most popular scenarios went something like this: Pick a highly esteemed and patriotic South Vietnamese leader and throw him into jail for a few months to sharpen his sense of outrage. Then send him into exile to Paris or somewhere in the West where he can give vent to his anti-Americanism. Then popularize his concept of South Vietnam's destiny. He might even be allowed to make campus tours and lecture tours in the United States. In a short while, then, he would return home on a wave of nationalism as the embodiment of South Vietnam's pride and purpose and the instrument for achieving its aspirations. London would be a good place for exile, the argument went, because the British have been using the system for years. It was pointed out, with only slight exaggeration, that most of the leaders of the Commonwealth had been in jail or in disrepute before attaining the current eminence. And after all, the only thing the United States really hoped to achieve in South Vietnam was creation of a national leader who could unite the diverse factions of his fractured little country to a political force strong enough to counter the communism of Ho Chi Minh.

The fighting in this war is not for territory. Terran has only a very transitory value. The aim of all the bombing, search and destroy missions, helicopter landing forces, and riverine battles in the Mekong is to win the allegiance of the peasant — not for America — but for a government in Saigon which could merge the disparate interests of the people and impress on them a sense of nationalism. The battles are the negative aspects of the struggle. And they are necessary to eliminate the disruptive actions of the Viet Cong in order to provide security and get on with the positive aspects of nation building. But corruption is as much of a disruption as lack of security. So, influenced perhaps by the oriental fondness for intrigue, the neogrammer joined occasional by junior diplomats, would sit in a little restaurant off Saigon's Tu Do Street and plot under the bemused gaze of its proprietor, a former South Vietnamese general who fell victim to a coup. Underlying all the schemes was the premise that friendly neutrality was the best wish for Saigon — and the United States. Julius Caesar was assassinated in 44 B.C.

Programs approved

BOISE (UPI) — Members of the Idaho Land Law Review Commission agreed Tuesday to allow executive John E. Martin to continue two programs set up by the former commissioner. It was the second meeting for the Idaho commission, organized after Gov. Cecil D. Andrus fired eight of the nine members of the commission and placed seven Democratic state senators and Herman McDevitt, Pocatello, on the commission.

Martin said one of the projects undertaken by the commission was an inventory and valuation of federal lands the impact of the land on each county as part of a plan to give counties and states in lieu payments for the federal lands. Martin said Idaho's Congressional delegation felt Idaho might be "used as a base" for any legislation since no state has more of the various types of public lands than Idaho.

Visit coming

New boat hull tried

NEW YORK (UPI) — A gleaming copper-nickel-hulled 67-foot shrimp boat launched in mid-February was built by a Mexican company to be operated off Nicaragua in the Caribbean by Booth Fisheries, a Chicago firm. The copper-nickel hull, resistant to barnacles and corrosion, is expected to enable the vessel to fish all year without loss of speed or time due to bottom fouling. About the same time Union Carbide Corp. announced it was entering the shrimp fishing and packing business. It sent three Indian-based trawlers to the waters off Kuwait to supply shrimp to United States and Asian markets. The shrimp market, which once catered to gourmets, is showing enough growth potential to attract big companies. It also has produced some touchy encounters between the United States and Mexico and the United States and Cuba.

In 1969, U.S. boats hauled in 317 million pounds of shrimp valued at $123 million. Another 190 million pounds were imported. "The potential is fantastic," said B. V. Salenius, managing director of Union Carbide India Limited. "India could be just a beginning of our fishing operations," said James W. Wilson, a Union Carbide staff member in New York. The growth of shrimping has accentuated hazards and the "shrimp wars." Oil spills from tankers or offshore oil well leaks endanger baby shrimp if the oil residue is allowed to sink to the bottom after being treated with dispersant chemicals. Hurricanes can wipe out entire shrimp beds. Arguments over jurisdictional rights to shrimp close inshore have touched off international disputes. There have been clashes between Mexican authorities and U.S. shrimpers who venture closer than 12 miles to Mexico's coast. Florida authorities seized some of Cuba's fleet of 150 modern shrimp boats just outside the 12-mile limit. But the federal court at Tallahassee ordered the state to cease interfering with Cuban shrimpers unless they strayed across the 12-mile line. Fishery experts of 30 nations have a continuing program to survey and improve shrimp production and make shrimp and prawns a food for all mankind. Scientists also are learning how to farm shrimp and make them grow fast and fat close inshore. When that happens at a commercial rate, the industry really should take off.

Committee gets bill

BOISE (UPI) — On a 19-16 party-line vote the Senate returned to committee Tuesday a bill which would have authorized the attorney general to bring legal action against water quality standard violators. Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, Senate majority leader, at one point urged his colleagues "not to make political football" of the bill. But, he said, a similar measure dealing with air pollution had been returned to committee for further amendment and asked that both be handled at the same time. He said the water pollution bill was an "attempt to bypass and ignore the Department of Health."

Jerome center to open

JEROME — R. J. Reichhardt, acting chairman of the Jerome Community Action Agency, announced today the agency's new Day-Care Center will open Monday.

Enrollment is scheduled for March 4 and 5, at the United Methodist Church, Jerome, from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. The center, he said, will provide more than just a baby-sitting service for the children of working mothers. It will offer social and educational assistance plus medical and dental examinations. It will serve children from two and one-half to five years of age from low-income families and will be able to handle only 20 children at the present time, he said.

Reichhardt said the center will operate in the basement of the United Methodist Church, 211 South Buchanan St. The Community Action Agency signed an agreement with the church for rental of the basement area through Dec. 31. Hours the center operates are 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the present time but are subject to change depending on the needs of the working mothers.

Mrs. Susan Staple, Buhl, has been employed as teacher for the Day-Care Center with Mrs. Hazel Norris and Mrs. Gwyneth Swenson, both Jerome, as teacher's aides. Mrs. Marion VanLelsout, Jerome, will be a part-time aide at the center and Mrs. Joyce Easton, Jerome, will be cook. Reichhardt said volunteer help is still needed and at the present time the center will have use of the telephone listed at the church, 324-2981. Interested persons are urged to contact Mrs. Staple.

Water rates vex Jerome council

JEROME — Jerome City councilmen were holding a special meeting today at the request of Elwin Tinker to review water bills which have been "sharply increased," the councilman claims.

He told fellow councilmen at the Tuesday night meeting he has received numerous complaints of bills being too high. There has been no rate increase.

"I'm not worried about the guy whose bill is up $10 or $12 but the dozens of cases where the bill is up $2 or $3," Tinker said.

S. N. (Shorty) Weeks, councilman, explained the city has been trying to check every bill which has increased, whenever a complaint is received. In most cases, he said, people have been using more water.

"We have checked our meters for leaks and any other possible reasons," he said.

Many people have complained about the fact that water bills have been estimated, but Mel Merris, city works director, said the only month the bills were estimated was in January. This was because of freezing weather in December, making it inadvisable to open the covers over the meters. He said an average of the customers' past bills was used to obtain the estimate.

The council accepted a bid of $1,469 from Bob Blamires to blast and drill in the canal along Sixth Street East where flooding occurred last month. Tinker said the North Side Canal Co. will do rip-rapping and haul the rocks away.

M.V. students attend forum

MOSCOW — Three Magic Valley students at the University of Idaho will attend the sixth annual Western Regional 4-H Leadership Forum March 4-8 at Reno, Nev.

They include Kendall Brigham and Mary Hondo, both Burley, and Veda Schufelt, Rupert.

A delegation of 24 volunteer 4-H staff members from the university will attend the forum, joining more than 200 other leaders from western states, according to Dorothy Hole, assistant state 4-H leader at the University of Idaho.

Carolyn Barnes, Rupert, Cassia County extension agent, will also attend.

Jerome adopts budget

Under the special funds, budget items for the coming year include parks and recreation, $15,400, the same as last year; irrigation, $15,459.30, up $4,059.30 over last year's budget of $11,400; street lighting, oiling, $58,338, an increase of $15,338 from last year; sewer, $47,459, a decrease of $63,338.

This is because of completion of the new sewer treatment facilities. Mrs. Mabel Beveridge, city clerk, said:

Sanitation, $27,235, an increase of $4,455; library, $13,375 an increase of $875. The total for this year's special fund budget is $177,264.30.

Water department budget of $140,000 is an increase of $25,050 from last year's budget of $114,950. This includes maintenance and operation $50,588, up $23,238 from last year's $27,350; an debt service, a decrease of $988; Social Security, $1,600 up $400; insurance, $1,500; customer deposit $3,000 and retirement, $2,200.

Foust files suit against county

JEROME — An application for an alternative of mandamus was filed in Fifth District Court in Jerome Tuesday by attorneys for DeWayne Foust, owner of the Frontier Theatre, against Jerome County and the three county commissioners.

Foust filed the writ against the county on grounds that commissioners had earlier refused to allow a beer license at the theater. Ella McVey, county clerk, said the case will be heard in District Court as soon as room can be made on the crowded calendar.

Commissioners named in the writ are John Van Orman, chairman; Cleo Ambrose and Claude Bernard.

The legal move is an effort by the theater owner to override the decision of the county commissioners to deny the permit, attorneys said.

Nursing home asks more stamp books

KIMBERLY — The Mountain View Convalescent Center at Kimberly needs more Gold Strike trading stamps in order to acquire the film projector needed by the nursing home, according to a spokesman of the facility.

A campaign to collect stamp books has brought in 66 books, but 140 more are still needed to obtain the 18-millimeter sound projector.

The nursing home is hoping to amass the required stamp books by June 1.

Filer power cut

FILER — About 310 rural Filer residents were without electricity for an hour and 10 minutes Tuesday noon when an overhead connection broke, dropping the power line onto the ground a mile west of the Filer substation of the Idaho Power Co.

Jim Johnstone, Twin Falls, electrical engineer for Idaho Power, said customers over an 11-mile area were without electricity. Linemen said they didn't know at the time what caused the line to break.

Mexican dinner to raise funds for YMCA projects

TWIN FALLS — Frijoles, mole, tortillas, and tamales will be a few of the specialties of the house Saturday night in a Mexican dinner at the Twin Falls YWCA.

Sally Molyneux, YWCA director, said the dinner will be prepared by local women recognized as outstanding cooks of Mexican food. Dinner will be served Saturday from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Y and all funds will be used to improve the new community center building the YW-YMCA organizations are preparing in the South Park area of the city.

Cooks for the special dinner are Carmela Maruca and Irma Salinas, sisters-in-law, and Francis Rodriguez.

Grocery shopping for the dinner began early this week and included several dozen packages of dried corn husks which will be soaked and used in making tamales; five pigs' heads, Spanish rice, and many small hot peppers and special seasoning.

On the menu will be salads and beverages, Spanish rice, and a selection of tortillas, tamales, frijoles and mole. Mrs. Molyneux suggested residents plan to attend early as previous Mexican dinners served at the Y have attracted more customers than the cooks had anticipated. This year, she said, efforts will be made to serve all who attend.

Assistance in preparing the dinner will be provided by members of the Church Women United with other cooperating organizations including the Home Extension Services, Neighborhood Center and many YWCA volunteers.

THE SHOPPING LIST for cooks who will prepare the special Mexican dinner for Saturday night at the YWCA includes such things as pigs' heads, hot peppers, dried corn husks and lots of rice. Shoppers include Carmela Salinas, Maruca Salinas and their interpreter Mrs. Wayne Murphy, all from left.

Rupert pipe purchase OK'd

RUPERT — Two contracts were awarded by the Rupert City Council Tuesday night for the purchase of pipe to expand the city water system.

The Larry Fairbanks Co. was awarded a contract for $4,837.86 for a portion of the contract and Pacific State Co., Provo, Utah, won another contract of $5,667.40. The total was $10,505.26 for the two bids accepted.

Other bidders included Grinnell Co., Pocatello; Consolidated Supply Co., Boise, and Amcor, Burley.

Councilmen approved a plat containing 26 acres which could be made into 36 lots for subdivision at 100 N. Meridian St.

The acreage is presently out of the city limits, but must be approved by the council since it adjoins the city limits and will be used as a subdivision, according to Mayor Wendell Johnson.

The council also authorized purchase of three adding machines, approved an agreement with the Rupert Chamber of Commerce to cooperate in purchasing Christmas lighting amounting to $750 and granted a trailer license as well as considered the new city budget.

Nominee faces new probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Banking Committee voted Tuesday to call back William J. Casey for questioning on his qualifications to be chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the committee wanted to ask Casey, a nationally prominent tax lawyer, about a plagiarism case in which he was a defendant and about two other lawsuits in which he was charged with violating the securities law which he would have to enforce as SEC chairman.

Both lawsuits came to light after the committee tentatively approved the nomination three weeks ago. Casey settled one case out of court with an $8,000 payment. The other is still pending.

The decision to re-examine the nominee came on a voice vote. But on a roll-call vote three Republicans—John G. Tower of Texas, Wallace F. Bennett of Utah and William Brock of Tennessee—opposed making the hearing a public session. Twelve other members voted for an open hearing. It will be held next Tuesday.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., asked for the reopened hearing in light of the new disclosures about Casey's lawsuits.

Casey has dismissed the cases as a type of nuisance suit every active businessman was bound to encounter. Casey had called on the committee members and circulated a letter responding to the questions raised by the lawsuits in an effort to avoid more hearings.

To substantiate his charge that Casey had not been candid with the committee, Proxmire planned to cite a letter written in 1957 by Casey to Henry Field, the lawyer who sued Casey for plagiarism.

Before the committee Casey denied that plagiarism had occurred. He said the federal judge who tried the case, Braxton Craven Jr., told attorneys for both parties the guilty verdict was not supported by the evidence.

But in a letter to Proxmire, Craven said he was "as reasonably sure as one can be after nine years that I made no such statement."

And the 1957 letter from Casey to Field indicated that plagiarism in fact had occurred. In that letter, Casey said he gave Field's manuscript on tax law to a subordinate in his office, John Cuddahy. He said Cuddahy "apparently clipped a couple of pages" from Field's manuscript and had them published in a tax series, Pay Plans, edited under Casey's direction.

Magnetic suspension for trains feasible

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—High-speed trains held above the ground by the power of magnetic force are well within the range of technical feasibility, says a University of California physics professor.

Whether magnetic suspension trains "get off the ground" in the United States in the next decade or two may depend more on economic and political considerations than upon technical problems, said Paul L. Richards.

The principle of superconductivity—something that until recently has existed mainly in the laboratory.

There already is a major commitment to magnetic suspension development in Japan, Richards said, and small but growing numbers of experts in the United States are at work on various phases of research.

Held up by the force that causes like poles of two magnets to repel each other, a magnetically levitated train could give a fast and smooth ride with complete safety in case of power failure and without excessive power requirements.

Such a train could also be essentially silent and it would not endanger or pollute the environment.

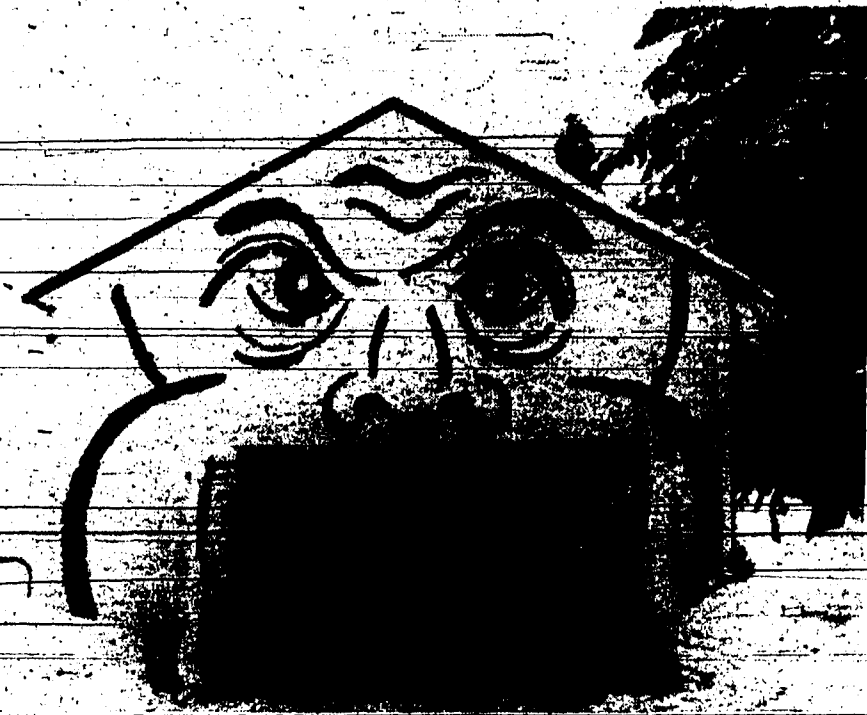

Richards said that while steel wheels are likely to fall at speeds above 200 miles per hour, a magnetic train could operate up to a foot above the ground at speeds up to 300 miles per hour before it encountered problems of wind resistance.

In the partial vacuum of an enclosed tube, he said, the train might travel up to a thousand miles per hour while the passengers relaxed in pressurized comfort.

The big problem of providing magnets that are both powerful and lightweight can apparently be solved by applying the

Land link once spanned Atlantic

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI)—Animals migrated from Europe to North America via an isthmus bridging the Atlantic as recently as 2 million years ago, according to the theory of geologist Friedrich Strauch of Cologne University.

Strauch based his theory on the discovery that several extinct and extant forms of animal life in North America are related to those in Europe but not to any found in Asia. This means those animals could not have reached North America via the Bering Strait land bridge, Strauch reasoned. Strauch said he determined, among other things, that a type of snail and a type of turtle are common to America and Europe but not to Asia. Furthermore, the snail and turtle each appeared in America at about the time they began disappearing in Europe, the geologist discovered.

The isthmus linked Europe and what is now Canada via the Shetland and Faroe Islands, Iceland and Greenland, Strauch believes.

He claimed he confirmed his theory by investigating 100 fauna found in tertiary deposits on Iceland. They were exclusively North American. None of them could have been brought there by the Gulf Stream, which means the isthmus blocked off the waters from the south.

Strauch estimated the isthmus collapsed during an upheaval between the Pliocene and Pleistocene periods, about 2 million years ago. He said the remaining islands are linked by underwater ridges.

Traffic sentence reversed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday that a man cannot be sent to jail because he is too poor to pay a court-levied traffic fine.

The unanimous decision by the high court reversed a lower court ruling in which Preston A. Tate was sentenced to 85 days in the Houston, Tex., prison farm after he said he had no funds to pay six traffic fines totalling $425.

"It is a denial of equal protection to limit punishment to payment of a fine for those who are able to pay it but to convert the fine to imprisonment for those who are unable to pay it," Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said in the opinion.

The justices noted that their ruling did not affect a court-ordered jail sentence in the case of a defendant who has the money to pay a fine but refuses to do so.

The court also emphasized that the decision did not bar imprisonment "as an enforcement method when alternative means are unsuccessful despite the defendant's reasonable efforts to satisfy the fines by those means."

The constitutionality of that action, the court said, "must await the presentation of a concrete case."

Tate, who claimed he was indigent, was sentenced Aug. 1, 1968, at the rate of $5 a day but was released by the Harris County Criminal Court Aug. 28 pending his appeal. That left

Potato bill aids growers

BOISE (UPI) — Legislation was introduced in the Senate on Monday which would establish the Idaho Marketing Act of 1971 to oversee marketing of Idaho-grown potatoes.

The bill, which came from the Senate State Affairs Committee, declared as an "unreasonable and unnecessary economic waste of the agricultural wealth of this state" disorderly marketing, improper preparation, unfair methods of competition, inability of individuals to maintain present markets or develop larger markets, or marketing of potatoes in excess of reasonable and normal market demands.

Because of such actions in the past, the bill stated, "The purchasing power of such producers has in the past and may continue to be in the future low in relation to that of persons engaged in other gainful occupations within the state."

The purposes of the bill, according to its stated policy, are to:

- Enable producers with the aid of the state to more effectively correlate potato marketing with market demands;
- Establish orderly marketing of potatoes;
- Provide for uniform

grading and proper preparation of potatoes for market;

—Provide methods and means for the maintenance of present markets or for the development of new and larger markets;

—Eliminate or reduce economic waste in the marketing of potatoes;

—And restore and maintain adequate purchasing power for the producers of the state.

The bill would create a 15-man Idaho Potato Commission to administer the provisions of the act.

Planting dates noted

JEROME — Howard Roylance, University of Idaho extension agronomist, suggested today that farmers who are planning to grow Nugaines or Gaines wheat this spring should get the seed in the ground right away. The suggestion is particularly true for farmers in southwestern Idaho.

Roylance said seeding of Nugaines by March in the Twin Falls area should be satisfactory. A deadline for the Aberdeen area is about March 15. Trials have shown that Gaines may do better than an adapted spring variety when both are planted very early. Research by Washington State University at Prosser, Wash., which has a climate comparable to Treasure Valley, shows dropoff in yield of Gaines seeded after the middle of February.

Gaines seeded by Feb. 16 produced 118 bushels per acre. March seeding produced 70 bushels per acre and March 16 planting only 53 bushels per acre. There was no yield from plots seeded late in March, because the grain did not head out. Late planting dates do not leave enough cold weather for the wheat to "vernalize"—a requirement for grain production, Roylance said.

Vernalization takes place after the seed has germinated. To become vernalized, winter wheat must be exposed to temperatures near-freezing for five or six weeks. Vernalization is not just a matter of causing grain to head; but when fully vernalized there will be more stems per plant.

Winter wheat varieties differ in their ease of vernalization. Gaines and Nugaines require less cold than Wanser or McCall, which are red winter wheat varieties popular in dryland areas. Seeding in early February usually permits enough cold weather to head and produce a good crop of Nugaines.

Luther winter barley may be seeded in fall or spring. Spring-planted Luther barley will head and mature but it should be planted as early as possible because it is a late maturing variety. If it starts late it may not be ready for harvest until very late.

CSI crowned NJCAA champ in last poll

The College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles were officially named the "voted" national college championship by NJCAA regional directors Wednesday and Thursday start the tougher chore of proving it on the court when it goes against Mount Hood College of Gresham, Ore., in the 18th regional tournament at Coeur d'Alene.

NCAA frosh teams. Brevard of Cocoa Beach, Fla., was named second although it lost three games last week and was eliminated from further competition in the state's post-season playoffs. Ninth ranked Gulf Coast JC won the Florida State playoff and is expected to go to the national finals in Hutchinson, Kan.

San Jacinto, Tex., was placed third with defending national champion Vincennes, Ind., fourth and Casper, Wyo., fifth. The Eagles left Twin Falls by plane Wednesday afternoon with an eye toward a practice session on the North Idaho JC floor before Thursday night's opener. Mount Hood won the Oregon Community College Athletic Association title behind the play and scoring of two guards. One of them is expected to have a bad night because quick Vic Kelly is going to be in front of him all that evening.

Meanwhile, touted North Idaho, which enjoys the home court advantage, will play Southwest Oregon of Coos Bay and the two winners collide for the title Friday night. The regional champion then will return to the court Monday night for inter-regional competition, a best of three series that will determine which goes to the national finals. Should CSI win the regional, the Eagles will be the host team Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, if necessary, against the Arizona-Utah champion. Playing in Mesa, Ariz., for that title will be Snow College of Utah, host Mesa, the favorite; powerful Western Arizona and Phoenix JC. They will play Friday and Saturday which gives them Sunday to get into the Pacific Northwest for the playoff.

Foster retains boxing crown with TKO of Carroll in 4th

SCRANTON (UPI) — Bob Foster, knocked out his last fight by Joe Frazier, defended his own light-heavyweight title Tuesday night by opening a slice over Hal (TNT) Carroll's left eye, dropping him three times and finally knocking him out at 2:32 of the fourth round. The 30-year-old Carroll was dropped three times in the second round but the referee counted over him only twice. A right to the head put the challenger down the first time midway through the second round but he jumped up immediately.

After a combination of the ropes, Carroll sagged to his knees again but was up so quickly that Foster continued pummeling him and the referee failed to call it a knockdown. With 10 seconds left in the round, Foster, 32, dropped him a third time and it was only a matter of time after that.

However, Carroll came out for the third round, trying to get inside the reach of the 6-foot-3 Foster, who had nearly a five-inch height advantage and he seemed to be making some headway until a deep gash was opened on his left eyelid just at the bell.

Marquette and Utah State named to at-large berths

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Unbeaten Marquette, boasting the nation's longest winning streak, heads the field of 10 independent powers accepting bids to bolster the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) 1971 basketball championships. The 15 other tournament berths are reserved for conference champions.

Seven of the 10 at-large bids extended Tuesday went to teams ranked among the nation's top 20 and one of the three unranked schools assured of an NCAA playoff spot is Notre Dame, the only team to defeat defending national champion and top-ranked UCLA this season. But the NCAA's prize pick Tuesday was Marquette, which rejected an invitation last year and went on to win the National Invitational Tournament (NIT). The Warriors have won 36 straight, including 24 this season, and rank No. 2 nationally. Marquette landed a berth in the Midwest bracket, Notre Dame in the Midwest.

Other independents headed for the NCAA playoffs are ninth-ranked Fordham (21-2), 12th-ranked Duquesne (20-3) choice of where the Warriors were going to be placed this year," McGuire said Tuesday in obvious reference to his team's record. He said he was "real pleased" and was happy the "unfortunate situation of a year ago" was not repeated. Marquette was paired opposite Mid-American Conference champion Miami of Ohio in a Midwest first-round doubleheader March 13 at Notre Dame. The other game pits Jacksonville against seventh-ranked Western Kentucky, winner of the Ohio Valley Conference.

Coach Jerry Hale also plans to use Gary Quesnell considerable against Mount Hood if their guards are as good as scouting reports say. It is the first 10 minutes of the games that now is the CSI bugaboo. For most of the year the Eagles have been destroying opposition and getting well away during that time. But of late, CSI has found itself struggling in the opening minutes and quite often trailing.

Dayton, Bonnies, Tennessee extended invitations to NIT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dayton, St. Bonaventure and Tennessee were the first three teams named Tuesday to participate in the 34th annual National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 20-27. Dayton, which was passed over by the NCAA tournament earlier Tuesday, has an 18-7 record with one game remaining. The Flyers, coached by Don Donohue, will be making their 12th appearance in the NIT. The Flyers won the tournament in 1962 and 1968. Dayton, which has won 10 of its last 13 games, will be making its seventh consecutive appearance in a post-season tournament. The Flyers are paced by Ken May, the brother of pro star Don May, who was the most valuable player in the 1968 NIT. Kenny has averaged 19.1 points per game this season.

St. Bonaventure, another team which was passed over by the NCAA in the Eastern bracket, boasts an 18-4 record with one game remaining against Providence Wednesday. The Bonnies will be appearing in the NIT for the eighth time, having last competed in 1964. Coached by Larry Weise, the Bonnies are paced by senior Gre Gary, who is averaging 17.6 points per game.

Tennessee finished second in the Southeastern Conference behind Kentucky. The Volunteers have a 20-5 record with a game remaining against Kentucky. Earlier this season Tennessee defeated the Wildcats for its most impressive triumph of the season. The Volunteers, coached by Ray Mears, will be making their third appearance in the NIT. They finished third in the 1969 classic and their two star players this season were starters on that team. They are senior guard Jimmy England, who has a 20.6 points per game average, and forward Don Johnson, who is averaging 18.5 points per game. A spokesman said there would be no more bids extended Tuesday. The committee still have 13 berths to fill.

Ellis KO's Doyle in 10th round

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Jimmy Ellis, former World Boxing Association heavyweight titleholder, took a step toward a boxing comeback Tuesday night with a knockout victory over Irish Tony Doyle at 2:42 of the final round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

"This victory proves that I can't be left out of the picture anymore," said Ellis, of Louisville, Ky. "One more strong victory and I feel I'm ready for the winner of next Monday night's fight (between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier)."

Ellis, 198-1-4, looked sharp as he dominated the fight against Doyle, 207, of Salt Lake City. Doyle was down for the eighth count twice in the seventh round and got up the second time just four seconds before the bell ended the round.

Ellis boxed conservatively in the eighth and ninth rounds but came out for blood in the 10th. He hit Doyle with a hard right that put him down for the 10-count by referee Sy Gottfried.

Buckeyes keep first place

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Sophomore Duke Wittle scored 26 points, with 21 in the second half, to lead first-place Ohio State to an 84-70 Big Ten victory over Minnesota. The win gave the Buckeyes, ranked 13th in this week's UPI major college poll, an 11-1 mark in conference play and 17-5 overall. Ohio State took the lead for good at 8-7, with 15:45 left in the first half on a basket by Allan Hornyak, who finished with 22 points.

Drake topples N. Texas State

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Drake, led by the shooting of Bobby Jones, came from behind in the final three minutes of play to down North Texas State 65-60 Tuesday and preserve its chances for a first place tie in the Missouri Valley Conference. Drake, which ended its season Tuesday, can share the MVC championship with Louisville if the Cardinals lose either of their last two games later this week.

Less cash, more carry.

Consider the Jim Beam half gallon:
(1) The World's Finest Bourbon Since 1795 costs less per drink.
(2) There's a handle on it. Easy to carry, easy to pour.
(3) There's less chance of running out; less need to run out for more. A sensible way to enjoy the Bourbon that has been a family art since 1795.
