S. Viets resume war drive

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops bolstered by 3,000 marine reinforcements and U.S. air power have resumed their drive into Laos and are within a few miles of the big Ho Chi Minh Trail supply center of Sepon, South Vietnamese military spokesmen said tonight.

They did not pinpoint the location of the troops strung out along old French colonial Route 9 but said they were now 35 to 40 kilometers (21.7 to 24.8 miles) inside Laos. Sepon is 27 miles from the South Vietnamese border.

The forward surge of six to 10 miles after almost three weeks in positions 16 to 18 miles from the frontier was announced after another battalion of South Vietnamese marines—more than 600 men—was flown in today aboard American helicopters, bringing the number of ARVN troops in Laos to 19,000. A total of 3,000 marines was flown in the past three days.

Since crossing the border Feb. 8 South Vietnamese ground troops and American air and artillery support have killed 3,903 Communist troops; South Vietnamese spokesmen said. They said 71 Soviet-made tanks, 127 trucks and a large quantity of weapons, fuel, food and ammunition have been destroyed.

Part of those losses were inflicted in the biggest single victory of the Laotian campaign, fought one mile from Hill 31, seven miles inside Laos. The South Vietnamese said they killed 383 Communists in that battle at a loss of three ARVNs wounded.

Spokesmen said American support of the Laotian campaign brought American deaths last week to 69, the highest in six months. The South Vietnamese loss was put at 432 dead, the highest since the Tet offensive of 1968. Communist dead rose to 5,107, the heaviest since last spring's allied drive into Cambodia, the U.S. command said.

The South Vietnamese also reported a major victory in the Central Highlands to the south of the Laotian incursion. They said troops in a battle 10 miles from the Laos border killed more than 300 Communist troops Wednesday at a loss of 14 South Vietnamese killed, 64 wounded and five missing.

Spokesmen said 250 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 700 wounded in battles there since Feb. 26, mostly in heavy Communist shellings and ground attacks. They said the ARVN forces killed 600 Communists in the same period.

"This is a 100 per cent victory," said a military spokesman in Saigon. The battle was centered around a government camp four miles north of Highway 9. The casualty toll claimed by the Saigon government spokesmen was one of the highest in nearly two years.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky visited support bases for the Laotian drive just inside the border today and called for more B52 bombing raids.

Suspect stabs himself

TWIN FALLS — A suspected arsonist was arrested late Wednesday and then allegedly stabbed himself in the abdomen during booking procedures at the Twin Falls Police Station.

Douglas R. Hoops, 28, Twin Falls, was arrested at his home at about 10 p.m. Wednesday and charged with two counts of arson.

Police Detective Capt. Tim Qualls said Hoops pulled a pocket knife from his clothing and plunged it into his upper abdomen Wednesday night during the police booking procedure.

He had not been searched prior to that time, police said. Hoops was taken to a fair condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital today. He is being held in protective custody at the hospital.

Because of this injury, the suspect had not been arraigned. Hoops is charged with setting a fire at the Barrel Inn Tuesday night and with throwing a burning bottle atop the Riddle, Roth, Evans and Evans office at 122 Third Ave. N. early Wednesday morning.

Hoops was arrested at his home, at 2106 Sherry Drive. Police said his parents and attorney were with him at the time of the stabbing.

Body found at Buhl home

BUHL — Investigation was continuing today in the death of Mrs. Clara Windle, 72, Buhl, who was found dead just west of her house in her yard early today.

Buhl City and Twin Falls County officers were investigating and said the woman probably died of natural causes. County Coroner Cloyce Edwards said he will announce later if an inquest will be held. The woman resided at 1018 Hines St.

Snow, rain to remain

Forecasters predicted snow and rain to remain in the area through the weekend. The weather service said the system will bring more snow and rain to the region.

Calley got 'no kill' instruction

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—The last U.S. commander of My Lai gave a direct order to Capt. Ernest L. Medina during the operation to be sure his men were not hurting civilians or unnecessarily burning huts, a witness testified today at the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley.

The order came, Maj. Charles C. Calhoun said, between 11:30 and 12 on the morning of March 16, 1968. At that hour, the American infantry swept through the Vietnamese hamlet which had been nearly ended.

Calley is charged with the premeditated murder of 102 South Vietnamese civilians at My Lai. He has admitted executing villagers, but contended he was merely following the orders of his superiors.

Calhoun said the order to spare villagers and their homes came from Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker Jr. who was killed in a helicopter accident three months after My Lai. Calhoun was Barker's operations officer and was in a helicopter over the scene of the operation when he got the order from Barker and passed it to Medina on the ground.

The cease-fire has been renewed twice since it went into effect Aug. 7.

The London sources said soundings in Cairo and Jerusalem indicated neither side is likely to resume fighting even if there is no formal extension of the cease-fire, but the big powers felt an extension would help relieve tension along the Suez Canal.

Egypt had placed its forces on full alert in the canal zone and major increases in troop and weapons movements by both Israel and Egypt have been reported near the canal in the past two days.

Diplomatic sources said the big powers were considering an appeal for a cease-fire extension by either the Big Four or U.N. Secretary-General Thant as a method of saving face for Egypt and Israel.

FTC cracks sweepstakes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) today accused Procter & Gamble Co. and Longines-Wittnauer Watch Co. of promoting deceptive "sweepstakes" games in which most of the advertised prizes were never awarded.

The two complaints are the latest in an FTC crackdown on allegedly false advertising of promotional games. Similar citations have been issued in recent months against Reader's Digest, McDonald's hamburger chain and the Coca-Cola Co.

Crawler kills canal worker

HANSEN — A workman for the Twin Falls Canal Co. died instantly Wednesday when the crawler tractor he was operating tipped over and crushed him.

Twin Falls County sheriff's officers identified the victim as Auburn Jackson Orr, 64, Twin Falls. The accident occurred on the highline canal, near where another canal company employee drowned less than a year ago.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the victim was part of a maintenance crew which was clearing debris from the channel. Orr had been operating the John Deere 350 on the canal bed and apparently tried to climb the bank with the tractor when it struck a frozen place and tipped over backward.

Orr was pinned beneath the equipment until two other workmen, Bob Owenbey and Glenn Cox, both Twin Falls, and a farmer used the canal company's derrick and a tractor to lift the crawler from the victim.

The sheriff said the accident occurred about 11:30 a.m. Wednesday about five miles south of Hansen near the Rock Creek Road.

Coroner Cloyce Edwards said death was caused by a crushed chest.

Gooding H.S. gets principal

GOODING — William Bode, Emmett, has been named principal of Gooding High School, Supt. Dee Keller announced today.

Bode will replace James Mancest, who will succeed Keller as superintendent of the Gooding School District next year. Keller is retiring.

Cassia's teachers ready trek

BURLEY — Cassia County schools will be closed Friday — with school board approval — as the county teachers trek to Boise to lobby for increased school aid and against a bill which they say would reduce the district's share of state school support.

Supt. Harold Blauer said the Cassia School Board had approved the exodus, granting teachers release time. The missed day, he said, would be made up in the Spring.

Spokesman for the Burley delegation, Lovell Turner, Burley Junior High School principal, told the Times-News that one objective of the trip to Boise is to protest a bill which would increase state support for schools to about 75 per cent. Burley teachers feel the bill would also see a disproportionate share of the state pot go to other districts.

The Cassia delegation, he said, will lobby for continuance of the existing school fund distribution formula.

A secondary consideration of the Burley delegation is the scarcity of funds available to give teachers salary boosts they feel necessary.

Turner said the board granted only a 75 annual raise by teachers at the last salary revision.

"We are concerned that there are no funds available for the county and feel it is time to betterment of schools in the speak up," Turner said.

IEA's plan supported

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls teachers will support a statewide move to "withhold services" by Aug. 15 if the proposal is adopted by a delegate assembly called by the Idaho Education Assn. on Friday in Boise.

The proposal, advocated by an IEA committee at the state level, would call for teachers throughout the state to "withhold their services" beginning Aug. 15 if the Idaho Legislature does not provide what the IEA considers is "adequate" support of schools.

This "adequate" level calls for an annual increase of $18 million each year for five years, with at least $6.5 million of the increase earmarked for increased teachers' salaries, according to Ron Finn, Twin Falls, vice president of the IEA.

A mass meeting of Twin Falls teachers on Wednesday voted to endorse the state resolution. A delegation of 28 Twin Falls teachers will attend the IEA delegate assembly in Boise. Their classes will be taught by substitute teachers.

The IEA delegates will confer with legislators on the school funding formula, seeking to "impress them with our needs," Finn said.

Finn, in Boise today to draft plans for the assembly, said Rep. Jenkin L. Palmer, R-Malad, told him that the legislature "may have to find $2 million to $3 million additional funds for the schools."

Finn said Rep. Palmer asked him why the teachers "waited until the legislature was nearly finished" before calling their statewide assembly.

"I told him the IEA had requested the additional funding in December, well before the legislature convened," Finn told the Times-News. "I'm known-our stand for the entire session; it's nothing new."

In Twin Falls George Staudaher, who will take the helm as superintendent of schools on July 1, said only that "I'm not happy" about the teachers' stand. "We'll wait until we see what the delegate assembly comes up with before deciding on a further course of action," Staudaher said.

Herzinger appointed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Norma J. Herzinger, Times-News women's editor, was among 22 new members of the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services named today by Defense Secretary Melvin Laird.

Mrs. Herzinger was among six women from western states chosen for membership on the committee.

Hunters' tale due for print

JEROME — Life Magazine will print the story of Joe Conquest and Robert Bailey in its March 19 issue, and True Magazine will carry the story in its June issue, on the newstands in mid-May.

An editor of Life Magazine reported the date of publication on Wednesday when he contacted Mrs. Conquest, widow of the hunter who failed to survive a wintry ordeal in the Sawtooth Mountains.

Conquest, 34, of Jerome, and Robert Bailey, 26, Wendell, were stranded on Nov. 29 when their panel truck stalled in snow while on a hunting trip in the Copper Basin area northeast of Sun Valley.

Bailey eventually walked to safety, after a 53-day ordeal, but the body of Conquest was later found in the truck where he had been awaiting rescue.

Both men kept notes of their experiences, and these notes are believed to form the basis of the accounts which will appear in the magazines.

Postmen return

LONDON (UPI) — Union leaders said today they lack the money to continue a 44-day-old strike against the British post office and advised their 230,000 members to go back to work even without guarantee of a pay raise.

Prime Minister Edward Heath's conservative government was sure to view the victory over the unions as a major triumph in its efforts to hold the line on what it sees as inflationary wage settlements.

"If I had more money, the strike would have gone on," said postal union secretary general Tom Jackson. "Facing reality, this is the best way out of the situation."

Post office officials said Britons would be able to send and receive letters again within a few days but it would take six weeks to return postal service to normal.

RR talks break off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's railroads and the United Transportation Union broke off negotiations for a new contract early today, raising the possibility of a crippling strike by 150,000 crewmen.

Clyde Lane, chief negotiator for the union, said no new talks had been scheduled. He said a decision on whether or not to strike would be made later today by the union president, Charles Lane.

The negotiations ended at 8:30 a.m. following an all-night bargaining session at the Labor Department monitored by Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson and his aides.

The negotiations to reach a settlement of a 17-month-old contract dispute began at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday and reached a critical stage early today, according to Assistant Labor Secretary W. J. Henry.

Reds boycott Paris parley

PARIS (UPI)—The Communist chief negotiators boycotted the Vietnam peace talk session today to protest alleged U.S. threats to attack North Vietnam. The United States promptly branded the move a publicity stunt.

Visibly angered by the absence of Hanoi delegate Xuan Thuy and the Viet Cong's Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, American delegate David Bruce told Communist deputy delegates: "The attitude on your side today indicates you are still not interested in a negotiated settlement of the conflict in Indochina."

"Instead of treating the real issues here, you waste everyone's time with maneuvers, polemics and propaganda," Bruce said. "Instead of recognizing and addressing the question of the illegal presence of North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, you indulge in distortion and even fantasy to support your acts of aggression."

"In sum, instead of taking the opportunity these meetings offer to make your peace and end the killing, you use them only to justify your continuing to wage war."

Bruce spoke after Hanoi's deputy delegate, Nguyen Minh Vy, and the Viet Cong's No. 2 representative, Nguyen Van Tien, announced their chiefs were absent from today's 105th negotiating meeting to protest alleged U.S. threats to the security of North Vietnam.

The Communist diplomats warned the allied military moves threatened the future work of the Paris conference. The Communist chief negotiators agreed to return to the negotiating table next Thursday, however.

In a statement released before the meeting Madame Binh said the Communists would "thwart any aggressive plans on the part of the United States, as well as any scheme to escalate or extend the war even further."

Turks kidnap airmen

ANKARA (UPI)—A group calling itself the "Turkish Peoples Liberation Army" kidnaped four U.S. airmen today and threatened to execute them Friday unless they received $400,000 ransom within 36 hours, Turkish radio officials said.

"We are counting the hours from 6 a.m. today," the kidnapers said in a note to government officials. The ransom note was delivered to Turkish radio and television headquarters by a teen-age girl dressed in black. The deadline was 6 p.m. (noon EST) Friday.

Police said they captured one of the kidnapers but that four were still at large. They identified the arrested man as Mete Rtekin, a 24-year-old former student at Ankara's Middle East Technical University and said he was captured after he drove off in the kidnap victims' car with its trussed up Turkish driver.

U.S. authorities identified the kidnap victims as Jimmy J. Sexton, San Angelo, Tex.; James M. Gholson, Alexandria, Va.; Larry J. Heaver, Denver, Colo., and Richard Carasz, Stamford, Conn., all airmen first class.

It was the second kidnaping of Americans in little more than two weeks. On Feb. 15, three armed Turks seized Sgt. Jimmy R. M. Finley, 25, of Fort Worth, Tex., but released him a few days later.

The "Turkish Peoples Liberation Army" claimed credit for the Finley kidnaping, for two recent bank robberies and for a series of protest campaigns against what they called "American imperialism."

The kidnapers threatened to blow up government offices unless their demands are met.

Sato fears Japanese rearmament

TOKYO (UPI)—Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said today the Japanese people fear that their rearmament could lead to another war.

The leader of Japan's conservative government said in an exclusive interview that he never will repeal Japan's unique constitutional ban on war and the maintenance of regular military forces.

The prime minister said his nation must rely on the United States for nuclear protection after most American troops are withdrawn from East Asia.

"We have to keep our self-defense strength commensurate with our national strength and the situation at home," Sato said. "Our national strength is increasing and Japan's economy now is the second largest after the United States in the free world."

"But our people still have the fear that increases in our defense strength will lead to another war, and they are very reluctant to see this defense strength increased."

Japan, a nation of 103 million people, maintains small air, ground and naval self-defense forces of 258,980 men and, Sato said, spends only seven-tenths of one per cent of its gross national product on defense.

Article Nine of Japan's constitution, written after its World War II defeat, renounced war as a sovereign right of the nation.

Reagan slices welfare fare

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan embarked today on a statewide campaign to boost his welfare program, designed to force able-bodied recipients into jobs and light a "prairie fire" for the nation.

"We can show the rest of the country the way," he said. The Democrat-controlled legislature was skeptical.

"This has overtones of slave labor," asserted Democratic caucus chairman Mervyn M. Dymally, a Negro from the black community of Watts in Los Angeles.

Reagan unveiled what he termed "the most significant and important program" of his gubernatorial career Wednesday at a meeting of 1,000 Los Angeles business and civic leaders. The legislature refused his request to address a joint session.

The governor's program—which he termed "humanitarian"—would save taxpayers $575 million a year in federal, state and county welfare and medical health care funds.

Among the most controversial of his 70 proposals is a requirement that unemployed able-bodied recipients—mothers as well as men—register for "public assistance work force projects aimed at making California a better place in which to live."

Reagan listed such examples as earthquake, flood, forest fire and oil spill cleanup; park maintenance; recycling discarded waste; schoolyard supervision, and baby sitting of other recipients' children.

Pots recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration says 400,000 pieces of California-made pottery have been recalled because of an alleged connection with the lead poisoning death of a baby. The FDA said the suspect pottery, which has been marketed since 1960, was made by Metlox Pottery, Inc., Manhattan Beach, Calif., and includes plates, cups, saucers, pitchers, creamers, bowls and glasses.

A Metlox spokesman said the plates are labeled "Poppy Trill Metlox, Made in California" but the other pieces are not labeled.

NY teen-age gang grabbed

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police today arrested eight persons, mostly teen-agers, who authorities said confessed to between 75 and 100 muggings in the Manhattan theater district this year.

Detective Thomas Wolfe said the gang, usually worked in groups of three—two males and a female.

"The girl would approach the victim and ask for a cigarette or a match," Wolfe said. "She would usually stand in a doorway and when she had his attention the two boys would grab him, haul him into a doorway and rob him."

The eight, five males ranging in age from 16 to 19 and three girls 17 to 20, usually operated in the midtown area along Broadway, he said.

Pupil helps

NEW QUARTERS are now in use by the Twin Falls Day-Care Center for children from 2 1/2 to 5 years of age, following a move from the old Salvation Army building to the basement of the Baptist Church on Shoshone Street E. Here Rose Swan, left, teaching aide and Mary Helwick, director, receive assistance from Cory Ochauer in putting away children's books.

Day care unit moves into Baptist church

TWIN FALLS — The South-Central Community Action Agency-sponsored Day-care center has moved from its "classroom" in the Salvation Army building to new quarters in the First Baptist Church, 910 Shoshone St. E.

The Salvation Army had asked to reclaim their space for other uses when the contract ran out at the end of the year. Maj. George Driver, Salvation Army commander in Twin Falls, said a ruling from regional headquarters at Portland was responsible for the decision, citing a need to develop recreational facilities for the community as a whole, rather than for a smaller group such as low-income families.

The new day-care center in the First Baptist Church will be located in the basement, in large rooms used by church members for banquets and other church assemblies. A fully equipped kitchen adjoins the sizable hall which may be used for a variety of activities suitable for handling pre-school youngsters.

The day-care center aims to provide women with "much more than just a baby-sitting service," the instructor, Mary Helwick, said. Women who must work to help support their families, or who need to attend classes at the College of Southern Idaho in order to obtain a better position, may qualify to leave their pre-school children at the day-care center, where all-day care and supervision or provided, including a hot lunch.

Mrs. Helwick and her teachers' aides strive to provide their young charges with the best possible care, and include careful pre-school classwork to help the youngsters adjust to school when the time comes.

Moving day for the day-care center was eased considerably by the volunteer help of Ford Transfer and Storage Co., which provided a moving van and crew at no cost to move the furniture and equipment of the center, Mrs. Helwick said.

Tuition return killed

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate killed 4-28 Wednesday a provision for pay-back of tuition costs under the Western Interstate Compact for Higher Education program even though the floor sponsor contended the practice was discriminatory.

Sen. Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise, said students attending professional medical schools in other states are required to pay back to the state the cost of tuition unless they elect to practice the profession in Idaho for two years following graduation.

But, he said, the act discriminated against students taking advantage of the WICHE program because Idaho is the only one of the 11 states in the program requiring the pay-back and because students undergoing professional training in state schools are not required to remain in the state.

Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, said the state was spending some $303,000 to send 120 students out-of-state under the program, which he said was furnishing "educational opportunities" for students who might not otherwise receive the training.

"Is it asking too much when the state puts up that amount of money...that they do one of two things: return to the state and give back to the people who advanced them this opportunity two years of service...or reimburse the state?" Yarbrough asked.

"I recognize we say we give our students a free education," he said. "But anyone who is in education knows there is no such thing."

'Break' studied

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — A Nevada legislator wants to "reward good citizenship" by giving a tax break to persons who vote in primary and general elections.

Assemblyman Arthur Olsen, D-Las Vegas, predicted Wednesday his bill would boost election turnouts by 25 per cent. The measure would grant voters a property tax exemption of the first $500 of assessed valuation.

New board seat plan rejected

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate killed, 16-18, Wednesday a bill which would have created three ex-officio positions on the State Board of Education after opponents questioned the wisdom of putting interest groups on a state board.

The bill would have made as members of the board the state director of vocational education, the executive director of the Idaho School Trustees Association and the executive director of the Idaho Education Association.

Sen. James Stoicheff, D-Sandpoint, floor sponsor of the measure, told his colleagues it was "time our state grew up to the point of educational interests behave as partners, not protagonists conflicting thoughts."

He said the ex-officio members would be present to advise, but would have to withdraw when any vote was taken.

Civil defense session scheduled next week

TWIN FALLS — A follow-up to a civil defense exercise conducted in Twin Falls last October will be March 10 and 11, according to Cloyce Edwards, Twin Falls County Civil Defense director.

Edwards said the exercise will begin at 3 p.m. March 10 for two hours of training. The following day a four-hour exercise will be held from 8 a.m. until noon. The sessions will be in the basement of the courthouse. Russell W. Cooke, Moscow, assistant coordinator for the University of Idaho's extension civil defense program, is in Twin Falls this week assisting Edwards and Harlan Fillmore, assistant director, in preparing for the exercise.

Cooke said next week's program, which will all be in the field or communications, will simulate conditions several days prior to an impending nuclear attack and for several days afterward. The session last August focused on the time frame before and after an attack.

Next week's exercise will see the simulation of the beginnings of reconstruction of essential resources.

All heads of local government in the county will be involved in the exercise. This includes law enforcement officers, mayors, commissioners, firemen and others falling into the executive and operating heads categories. There also will be a disaster analysis group and a small group of support people students from Twin Falls High School.

Aide appointed for Lewis case

TWIN FALLS — Douglas Kramer, Twin Falls attorney, has been appointed special assistant deputy prosecutor in the Karl (Jack) Lewis case, W. L. Chancey, County Commissioner, chairman, said Wednesday.

Kramer is a member of the law firm of Kramer, Plankey, and Beeks.

The case is currently pending before the Idaho Supreme Court where a writ of prohibition has been filed seeking dismissal. Assistant County Prosecutor Robert Galley said the writ will be argued here March 23 when the supreme court meets in Twin Falls and if the writ is denied the case will be scheduled on the district court calendar.

Judge Gus Carr Anderson, Pocatello, has been named to hear the case, a criminal complaint against Lewis, former justice of the peace in Buhl. He is charged with misuse of public funds.

The case was to have been heard in Caldwell but a story in a Boise newspaper, the morning the trial was to have begun, covering the filing by Lewis of a damage suit against one of the state's witnesses resulted in a change of venue.

The writ of prohibition seeks dismissal on grounds of double jeopardy against Lewis.

Weed chemical bids accepted

TWIN FALLS — Approval of Simplot Co., Twin Falls, and Pure-Gro Rupert, to furnish weed-spray chemicals for the Twin Falls County Weed Department this summer was given Wednesday by county commissioners.

W. L. Chancey, chairman of the commission, said the two firms submitted low bids which were opened Monday. The Simplot bid on furnishing 2,4-D was accepted. The firm's figures included $2.47 per gallon on chemicals in one gallon containers, $2.30 in 50 gallon containers.

Pure-Gro will furnish the Amitole-T and Cyrtol Amitole-T on a bid of $7.12 per gallon on one-gallon containers and $8.77 in five-gallon containers.

Eight firms submitted bids for furnishing weed spray chemicals for county programs.

T.F. students place second

TWIN FALLS — With only 17 classroom hours of instruction, the new Twin Falls High School "DECA" club (Distributive Education Clubs of America) claimed the reserve championship in a state "pre-contest" Tuesday at Idaho Falls.

Burley High School's DECA students, with five years of organization and experience to their credit, claimed the championship.

The Idaho Falls competition is a prelude to the state contest in Boise during the first week of April. State winners will go on to the national DECA conference at San Antonio, Texas April 18-20.

Sheldon Affield, instructor of distributive education at the high school, said Gary Newberry claimed first place in management decisions and third in the job interview category. Yolanda Stocking was third among all entrants in public speaking and second in management decisions, and Pat Gillespie claimed second in salesmanship.

Seven classifications of business expertise are tested in the DECA competition, including salesmanship, job interview, management decision, advertising layout, public speaking, window display and business math.

In the management decision division, in which Twin Falls students took first and second places, a student is given a five-minute tape-recorded outline of a specific business situation, Affield said. All phases of business and corporate management may be included — how and when to advertise; how to invest capital funds; expansion decisions and meeting the competition.

The student must then present a 10-minute oral discussion of the situation and what advice he would offer. The discussion is given in front of judges and other competitors, Affield said.

The public-speaking category requires a competitor to discuss a specific topic orally for exactly five minutes; penalties are applied if the speaker is as much as 15 seconds over or under the five-minute limit. The student is given only 30 minutes to consider his topic before he must speak, Affield said.

Other divisions are equally demanding. In salesmanship, for example, a student must sell "the product of his choice to an unknown customer with unknown objections." The item to be sold is generally on display before the audience, so the salesman can refer to it, though students in other schools have tried, unsuccessfully, to sell houses and other large items.

Pat Gillespie, who claimed second in salesmanship, took his own motorcycle to Idaho Falls in the back of a pickup truck so he could have it on display during the competition, Affield said.

The Twin Falls High School DECA club, recently organized, elected Pat Gillespie as president; John Loder as vice president; Val Archer, secretary; Joe Edson, treasurer; Yolanda Stocking, historian; and Mark Taylor, parliamentarian.

SWENSEN'S MAGIC MARKET

IMPORT HAWAII

Swensen's Magic Markets are sure that all those Times-News feature articles lately about a few local folks frolicking their way through the Hawaiian Islands, have left you feeling the same way we feel... COLD. What with the chill factor being what it is lately, frozen windows to scrape, the virus invasion, and the coal shortage, those pictures of grass skirts are almost enough to make you cry.

DON'T CRY!! As a small consolation, Swensen's Magic Markets (this weekend) have imported a little bit of HAWAII offering you the ingredients for a SUPER DELICIOUS TROPICAL FRUIT SALAD at unreasonably LOW PRICES.

P.S. By taking advantage of Swensen's other low prices, you'll easily be able to afford the trip to Hawaii next year.

RECIPE

Dice or cube together in a bowl approximately equal quantities of BANANAS, APPLES, FRESH PINEAPPLE AND PAPAYAS. Sprinkle with sugar and chill in refrigerator. Serve as is or topped with whipped cream or a dash of graham syrup.

The Cold War On Poverty

WASHINGTON — In the newest battle of the poverty war between the Nixon administration and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) has quietly decided to close down a Los Angeles legal services program given a clean bill of health over national television by Reagan himself. What's more, the Federal men have the goods on the Los Angeles Neighborhood Legal Services Agency (LANLSS). Alarmed by the defiance of one of its offices with causes on the extreme political left, OEO found LANLSS a honeycomb of incompetence, replete with wholesale violation of Federal regulations — a common situation throughout the poverty program. Thus, Director Frank Carlucci and his aides at OEO are by no means the permissive bleeding-hearts that Reagan has implied. They have been busy terminating badly managed Community Action programs across the country quite similar to LANLSS, which were permitted to flourish under the Johnson administration. But whereas Carlucci is committed to make the poverty program work, Reagan leaves little doubt that he wants it plowed under. At very least, Reagan's handling of legal services in California lacks consistency. He vetoed OEO's funding of California Rural Legal Assistance (CRLA), which non-political experts here believed contained far more good than harm. But appearing on ABC's "Issues and Answers" Jan. 24, Reagan described the 8,000-a-year legal services cases in Los Angeles County (3,000 of them under LANLSS) as "a tremendously successful program." Such praise at a time when OEO inspectors were finding a mess under the carpet at LANLSS can be easily explained by Reagan's inability to keep tabs on burgeoning anti-poverty activities all over California. But it also can be traced to the relative ineffectiveness of LANLSS as compared to CRLA, which has stirred up moneyed interests in rural California and their conservative Republican allies in Congress. Thus, the complaint that triggered OEO's investigation came not from Capitol Hill but in a handwritten note last Dec. 2 to Donald Rumsfeld — then director of OEO, now a Presidential counselor — from a private resident of Santa Monica, Calif. Enclosed was a newspaper clipping linking LANLSS with a Tucson, Ariz., court case in which members of the notorious Weatherman faction of SDS were indicted for purchasing explosives in Arizona for transport to California. A hurried secret investigation found that Ken Cloke, a lawyer in the Venice office of LANLSS, was representing Terri Ann Volpin, a Venice girl and member of the LANLSS board charged with contempt of court in the Tucson case. Miss Volpin, whose car allegedly carried the explosives, scarcely met Federal requirements that clients of Federally funded legal services must be poor. She earned $790 a month as an architect for the city of Los Angeles before voluntarily resigning last summer, and her parents met the $50,000 bond in Tucson. OEO inspectors immediately ran into the larger question of what Cloke was doing in the government program in the first place. Convicted of petty theft in Berkeley, Calif., in 1963, Cloke had a long record of far left associations: attendance at Communist party meetings, Communist-sponsored trips to East Germany and the Soviet Union, and active membership in the SDS. When he joined LANLSS, Cloke was executive secretary of the National Lawyers Guild, long identified as a Communist front.

Blow To SST

How small the world has become and how interdependent has been shown by the financial crisis at Lockheed and the inter-related bankruptcy of Rolls-Royce.

It is not surprising, therefore, that action in London may prove the heaviest blow so far to the projected supersonic transport (SST) in the United States.

British Overseas Airways Corporation has informed the British government it sees no way of operating the Anglo-French supersonic airliner, the Concorde, at a profit. Air France reportedly has given an even gloomier evaluation to the French government.

The decline in airline traffic generally has caused the industry to have new misgivings about the SST while the "jumbo jets" are having problems of filling seats. BOAC's figures were based on analysis of nine months of testing two Concorde prototypes and study of direct and indirect operating costs. The difference in overhead between the SST and the jumbo jet was called "alarming."

Few if any routes, including the trans-Atlantic, promise enough passengers to justify the service within the decade.

The BOAC report will have a profound effect on the British government's decision, just as Air France must influence the French decision.

Cancellation of the $2.4 billion project would cause an industrial shock in Britain greater than the collapse of Rolls-Royce, which was attributed to heavy losses in supplying engines for Lockheed.

It is obvious that aircraft technology is running ahead of man's capacity to use it profitably or beneficially. A slowdown now might prevent ruinous strain on both aircraft builders and operators.

Here And There

At a time when many formerly sex-segregated colleges and prep school are going coed, the opposite is happening at the lower end of the education ladder—at least in one California grade school.

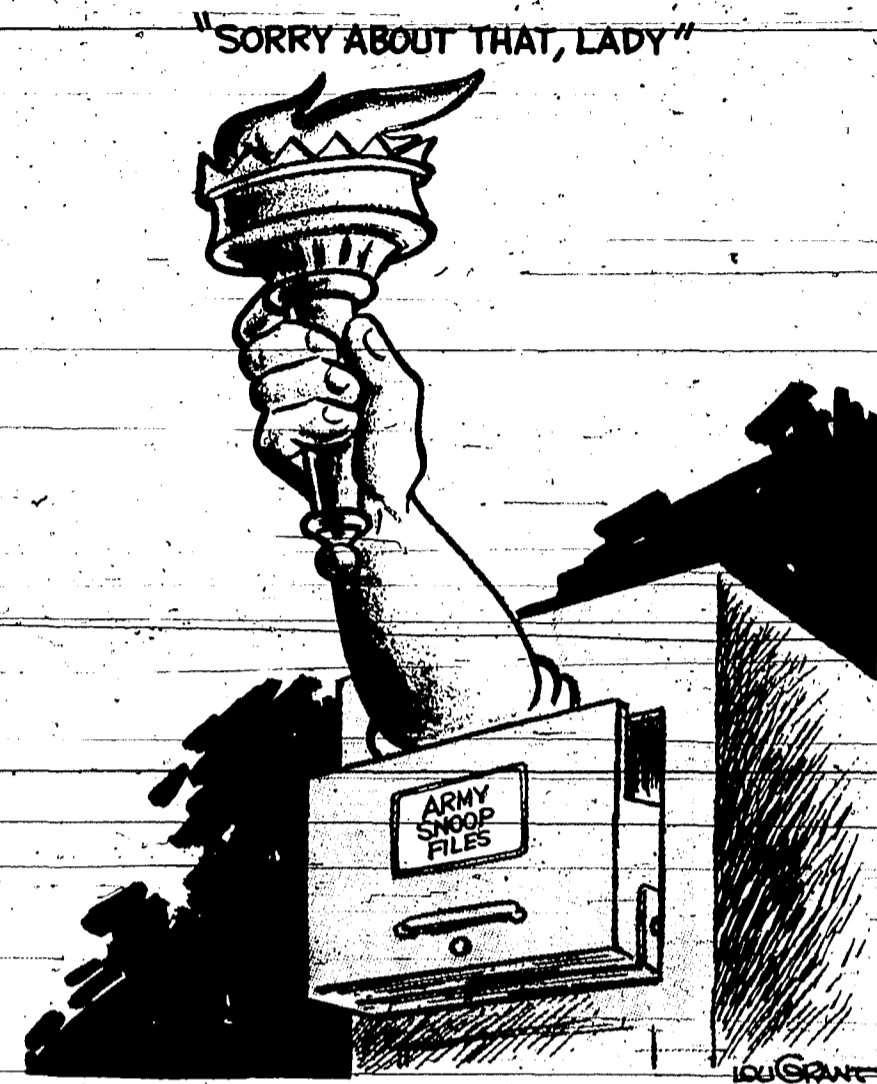

Last September, reports "Education U.S.A." newsletter, Donald Cooks, a principal in the Elk Grove Unified School District near Sacramento, decided to separate the boys from the girls because boys get a bad deal in coeducational classrooms.

"Everything little girls do is exactly right with the teacher," he explains. "They sit quietly in their seats. They are not rowdy." It's just the opposite with boys, "They can't sit still. They're restless."

Cooks put 65 boys in grades four, five and six into separate classes. There they have more freedom and make a lot of their own decisions, he says. As for the girls, "They're glad to get the boys out of the room."

Girls also often lose out in traditional classrooms, he observes, because the teacher is giving all her attention to the troublemakers—the boys.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Immunity

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please comment on why you are immune to some diseases after having them, yet after active tuberculosis you are still not immune to it, the germ being in a dormant state. I find this all confusing and contradictory. — L.K.

Confusing maybe, but let's not call it contradictory. It's nature. Medicine, by and large, is simply an effort to know how nature behaves and to be guided accordingly. We have to start by accepting facts the way they are.

Immunity to some diseases is based on changes in the blood. That is, antibodies, or protective substances that fight a certain disease germ, are created in gamma globulin, which is a protein constituent of the blood. The release of interferon (discovered in 1957) also is a factor, although not thoroughly understood yet.

Some germs cause a long-lasting supply of antibodies to be produced. These antibodies go to work if those particular germs are picked up subsequently. Various virus diseases usually produce lasting immunity: smallpox, measles, German measles, mumps, polio, whooping cough, chickenpox, to name a few.

Yet other virus diseases produce only a mild or temporary immunity, such as influenza and the common cold (which has so many varieties). Thus the vaccine provides some protection, but it has to be repeated each year or the protection dwindles.

Bacterial diseases, as opposed to virus diseases, are not so likely to produce immunity. One can get repeated attacks of rheumatic fever, strep or staph infections, syphilis, gonorrhea, and others.

Volunteers aid blood drawing

TWIN FALLS — The record-breaking blood drawing on Monday at the College of Southern Idaho gymnasium required the services of a large number of volunteers and nurses, according to Chuck Charlton, collegiate director of the drawing.

Members of many organizations turned out to boost the final tally to 289 pints, most for any Red Cross drawing in Twin Falls.

Registered nurses working on the drawing included Mrs. Willard Clark, Mrs. Lloyd Griffith, Mrs. Kenneth Given, Mrs. Harley Hammond, Mrs. Russel Pletz, Mrs. T. Phillips, Miss Beverly Richardson, Mrs. Paul Roberts, Mrs. Paul Shabacker, Mrs. John Sims, Mrs. Luther Thompson and Mrs. Charles Wagner. Dr. Morton Cutler was the physician in attendance.

The CSI Art Department made the signs that announced the drawing around town and directed donors at the college; the college also furnished cookies, cream-and-sugar and use of the gym, as well as serving dinner to a number of Boise nurses who worked on the drawing. The Jay-C-Ettes furnished orange juice.

Organizations whose members listed their affiliations included the LDS Church, 18 donors; Lutheran Church, 12; Methodist Church, eight; Elks Lodge, six each; Quality Roofers, five; Masonic Lodge, four; Presbyterian Church, St. Benedict's Priory, Idaho Power Co., Agricultural Research Center and First Baptist Church, three each; Salvation Army, Nazarene Church, Penny-Wise Drug, and Vaughn's, two each, and Pentecostal Church, Lynwood Chapel, Rotary Club, Immaculate Conception Church, Church of Christ, post office, Kiwanis Club, Mountain Bell, Lytle Signs, Valley Christian Church, KEEP Radio and Jaycees, one each.

Knothole tourney slated

TWIN FALLS — Six games are scheduled tonight at Robert Stuart Junior High School in the annual Twin Falls City Recreation Department Knothole Basketball Tournament.

At 6 p.m. the fourth-grade contest will see Hale's Angels vs. Benefiel's or Ron's 5 Peppers and Tim's Tigers vs. either Benefiel's or Ron's.

Fifth-grade tournament games will be played at 7 p.m. and will include Pfeiffer's Pythons vs. Shockley's Shockers and Putzier's Professionals vs. Ticker's T. Birds.

Sixth graders will play at 8 p.m. with Parades' Panthers vs. Sterling's Stealers and DeLeon's Dribblers vs. Green's Gorillas.

Winners of the fourth-grade contests will meet Friday at 6 p.m. in the Robert Stuart Junior High School gymnasium and winners of fifth-grade contest will face off at 7 p.m. Friday while sixth-grade semi-finalists play at 8 p.m. Friday.

Chad Browning, recreation director, said there will be a nominal admission fee to tournament games but all players and coaches are admitted free.

Gunmen get $500,000

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Two gunmen grabbed the president of the Palm Beach Bank and Trust Co. at his home early Wednesday, forced him to open the bank's vault and escaped with up to $500,000 in cash. The FBI said bank president James E. "Jake" Morgan Jr. was not harmed and was left behind in the bank after one of the gunmen cleaned out the vault.

Pentagon ends spying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon says it has ordered a halt to widespread spying on civilians — not because it is illegal but because it is inefficient.

Defense witnesses told the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights Tuesday that a controversial program begun in 1967 to collect information on civilians to prepare the Army for civil insurrections has been ended for good.

"The Army is out of it," Assistant Defense Secretary Robert F. Froehke told the subcommittee.

But he refused to concede that the Army practice of collecting information on civilians and filing it in thousands of personal dossiers was illegal. The practice was stopped, Froehke said, "for no other reason than good management."

and because it was "at the very minimum inappropriate." "We maintain right now," he added, "that the action was legal."

Froehke, along with lawyers for the Defense Department and the Army, confirmed to the committee that undercover agents were used in the late 1960s to monitor and infiltrate anti-war rallies and civil rights activities, storing the information in thousands of dossiers. Even political leaders such as Adlai B. Stevenson III, D-Ill., now a U.S. senator, were the subject of files, he acknowledged.

free speech, the right of assembly and the right of association.

Ervin said each citizen must be free to exercise these rights without fear of reprimand.

Webbed feet

"Files were kept on persons and organizations who conceivably might contribute directly or indirectly to the creation, exacerbation or continuation of civil disturbances," he said. "They were also kept on persons and organizations who were believed to have a potential for assisting in preventing or ending civil disturbances."

Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the subcommittee and an expert on constitutional law, contended that such activities violated the rights of MIDWAY (UPI) — This tiny two-island atoll — a famous World War II landmark — has a U.S. Navy and Air Force population of 2,250 plus an estimated 600,000 web-footed Laysan albatross, also known as "gooney birds." Midway is 1,300 miles northwest of Hawaii.

Casey alters stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — William J. Casey, reversing his earlier position, has agreed to give up control and knowledge of his extensive stock holdings if he wins Senate confirmation as Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Casey's concession came, Capitol Hill sources said, after Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., bluntly warned Casey in private that he would fight the nomination on the Senate floor unless he put his holdings into a "blind" trust while holding the SEC post.

Casey's stocks are said to be worth at least several million dollars.

His decision was disclosed to the Senate Banking Committee in a 20-page letter in which he reviewed and defended his business career.

Volumes added at Filer

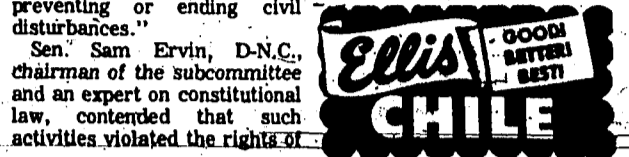

FILER — New books were placed this week on the shelves of the Filer Public Library, according to Mrs. F. E. Albin, librarian.

Fiction selections include "The Child from the Sea," Goudge (on best seller list); "Melebury Square," Eden (best seller); "The Three Daughters of Madame Liang," Buck; "Sounds of Rescue, the Signs of Hope," Flynn; "Charity Girl," Hoyer; "The Blunt Instrument," Hoyer; "The Young Clementine," Stevenson.

Non-fiction books include: "In Review Pictures I have Kept," Eisenhower; "Footprints on the Moon," Associated Press; "Pearl S. Buck, an Autobiography," Harris; "Treasury of Courage and Confidence," Peale, and "Only One Year," Alliuvea.

New children's books are "Trumpet of the Swan," and "Stuart Little," both by White; "Peanuts Classics," Schultz; "Old McDonald Has An Apartment House," Barret. Also added are 14 Easy-to-Read-Books for Beginners for Sesame Street enthusiasts.

Total circulation of books for February was 732 and for records, 217, the librarian said.

Prime time trimmed for fall

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—As of an NBC-TV decision—revealed Tuesday, it now appears that most prime time network television programs will be concentrated between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m. EST starting in the fall.

Viewers currently get most of their chief prime time shows between 7:30 and 11 p.m. EST (not counting the early evening newscasts).

But, come fall, the networks must each reduce their nightly prime time programming by 30 minutes because of a ruling by the Federal Communications Commission aimed at encouraging local and independent broadcasts.

At first, NBC had said that, as of next season, it would offer the majority of its prime time programming between 8 and 11 p.m. EST.

Among other reasons, it felt this would maintain the strong audience flow from prime time shows to the late news to Johnny Carson's "Tonight" series—and serve as protection to each.

The only exception NBC made in its original plan was to have its Sunday night programming run from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. EST in order to preserve the family-oriented flavor it tries for on this evening.

CBS, however, made clear that it favored a 7:30 p.m. EST start on all nights—which meant getting a half-hour jump on the competition.

And, said an NBC spokesman

Tuesday, it was frank concern over getting beaten to the punch by CBS in the nightly ratings race that resulted in his network's new decision to go with the earlier 7:30 p.m. EST start also.

There is one variation in NBC's plans. With a waiver from the FCC, it expects to broadcast from 7:30 to 11 p.m. EST on its Sunday "Family" nights. This would mean dropping an extra 30 minutes on another evening—and the spokesman's comments supported previous reports that Friday would be the shortened prime time night.

As for the smallest of the major commercial networks, ABC, it too had indicated a preference for an 8 p.m. EST nightly start, but had not taken any definite position, obviously waiting to see what its two larger competitors would do. If CBS and NBC stick with their 7:30 p.m. EST starting plans, ABC would seem to be at a severe disadvantage unless it also goes along.

NBC, by the way, had some good news for viewers: In another Tuesday announcement, Despite the FCC prime time cutback and fears that it will result in a reduction of special programs such as documentaries, the network says its monthly, two-hour newsmagazine, "First Tuesday," will return next season. It will, however, be switched to Friday nights and, obviously, get a new title.

JoAnn's freckles animated

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It appears, with few exceptions, that the first order of business for becoming a top leading lady is to develop an expressionless face.

Today's glamour girls and actresses have copied high fashion models whose principal asset is total boredom.

On the screen they face life, death, childbirth and passionate lovers with a single reaction: Hauteur.

Take our screen beauties today, one at a time. Faye Dunaway, Mia Farrow, Candy Bergen, Jane Fonda, Katharine Ross, Jacqueline Bisset, Julie Christie (unless she's crying), Vanessa Redgrave.

For the most part they are stone faced. Female Ned Sparks. Buster Keatons in skirts.

The exceptions have managed to endure in television: Mary Tyler Moore, Mario Thomas and Doris Day. They can smile, cry, laugh and react the way non-actresses do.

Another, and startling exception, is Jo Ann-Pflug who is animated as the San Andreas Fault.

Even her freckles are in motion.

Viewers had an opportunity to see the willowy brunette in "A Step Out of Line," a CBS movie of the week last month with Peter Falk; Pete Lawford and Vic Morrow.

Movie-goers will remember her as the sexy nurse in "M-A-S-H."

Jo Ann is that rare female who has the femininity in volume turned to maximum at all time.

Oregon lawmen reported 193 head lost, strayed or stolen during 1969.

Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, March 4, the 63rd day of 1971 with 302 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

The morning stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Mercury.

The evening star is Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1791 Vermont became the 14th state of the Union.
In 1891 President Thomas Jefferson became the first chief executive to be inaugurated in Washington. He was the third president.

In 1916 Montana Republican Jeannette Rankin was sworn into the House of Representatives to become the first woman member of Congress.
In 1963 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled against railroad "featherbedding."

A thought for the day: Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "Nothing can bring you peace but yourself."

Senate eyes wine sales

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate first killed, 12-22, and then re-voted and into the amending order Wednesday a bill to allow retail sales of table wines after halting a last-minute parliamentary maneuver designed to kill the bill once and for all.

The senators first voted against the proposal, but Sen. Art Murphy, D-Mullan, served notice he would ask for reconsideration.

In order to do so, Murphy had to change his vote from "aye" to "no" in order to qualify as a member of the prevailing side.

But Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa — who voted against the bill — asked for immediate reconsideration, a move designed to halt further consideration of the bill since a measure can be reconsidered only once.

Sen. Mike Mitchell, D-Lewis, rose to tell his colleagues the plan was to move the measure into the amending order to change some of the local option provisions — presumably to require that county commissioners decide to allow the sales. The original measure would have made the retail sales automatic as of July 1 unless county commissioners decided otherwise.

Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, said "at least three or four people" had told him they would have voted in favor of the bill if the change were made.

Sen. Wilson Steen, R-Glenns Ferry, said many housewives liked to use wines in cooking, but said, "Many of our ladies are reluctant to be seen in liquor stores."

Two senators from Idaho Falls objected to the measure. Sen. Fisher Ellsworth, R-Idaho Falls, said there were many Mexican and Indian laborers in his area, and they were "very, very susceptible to alcoholic beverages, particularly wines. Many of them are winos."

He said he did not want to make it easier for the people to obtain wines.

In addition, he said, many 21 areas serving persons under 21 years of age had small grocery stores. He said sales of wines "could contribute to delinquency and also to accident rates."

Sen. Marsden Williams, R-Idaho Falls, said his office was close to a liquor store and "some of the scenes that you see there are not favorable."

He said if the sale of wines were extended to grocery stores "these fellows... are going to be cluttering up the alleys and the doors of the grocery stores... and it's going to cause law enforcement problems."

The Senate gave its unanimous consent to moving the bill to the 14th order for amendment.

Sen. William Crutcher, D-Orofino, floor sponsor of the measure, said it referred only to table wines with no more than 14 per cent alcohol.

Land board removal introduced

BOISE (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee reported to the floor with favorable recommendation Wednesday a constitutional proposal to remove elected officials from the State Land Board.

Under this proposal the board would be reconstituted by the legislature. The measure passed the Senate Jan. 27 by a vote of 32-3.

come up for parole hearings once a year. He said it was "very much demoralizing" to raise false hopes of parole this way.

Reps. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, and Paul Worthen, R-Boise, voted against the measure.

Approved 57-0 was a measure to extend to 120 days from 60 the time in which a judge may withhold execution of sentence while attempting to determine if a prisoner should be granted probation.

Third in the package, and also approved 57-0, was a measure setting for a schedule for computing "good time" served by convicts.

Potato proposal offered

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Joe Allen, R-American Falls, outlined a three-point plan Wednesday to help Idaho's potato growers, which he said he would send to the Senate Agriculture Committee in hopes of bi-partisan support.

Allen's plan included: — A substantial increase in the advertising efforts of Idaho's growers.

— An effective means "of tailoring the supply to the demand so that the price is reasonable to the consumer and the grower" during years when a surplus exists.

— And a graduated tax on potatoes which would go into a revolving fund to buy cellars of potatoes in surplus year to the extent that prices would be raised to 95 to 105 per cent of parity. He said the potatoes would be used for non-human consumption.

Allen, who is president of the Potato Council of the Western Farmers Association, said the potato industry in Idaho is in a "real financial bind" due to a depressed price brought on largely by a surplus supply.

House OK's bills for penal change

BOISE (UPI) — Three Senate bills designed to revise laws relating to paroles, probation and "good time" served by convicts won House approval with little opposition Wednesday.

They go next to the governor for consideration.

Approved 54-2 was a measure which bars applications and interviews for paroles when prisoners have are not eligible for parole under the law.

Certain prisoners — including life termers, those convicted of violence and sex offenders — are not eligible for parole until they have served five years or one-third of their sentences.

Rep. Ralph Litton, D-St. Anthony, pointed out, however, that at present these convicts

Health unit said muzzled

BOISE (UPI) — Employees of the Board of Health were advised earlier this week not to prepare testimony for presentation at a hearing on possible creation of a department of ecology, UPI learned Wednesday.

According to Robert Des Alniers, acting administrator of the Department of Health, the verbal order originated from Fred Humphreys, Board of Health, director and was disseminated to key department officials.

Tuesday, UPI learned that the board met secretly last Wednesday and suspended health administrator Dr. Terrell Carver, for 30 days without pay.

No public statement was ever made by the Health Department or board of the dismissal until UPI was tipped that the suspension had been made.

Humphreys said Wednesday the board had not released the suspension to the news media because he wanted to give Des Alniers time to explain the situation to the directors of the various departmental divisions.

Humphreys denied he had told Health Department officials not to release the meeting minutes where Carver's suspension was agreed upon. Department officials were tight lipped Tuesday when questioned of the suspension and referred all inquiries to Humphreys, allegedly at his order.

"We at no time have tried to put a gag on the department's employees. It was unfortunate the board meeting was not advertised, but it was set up at the last minute," Humphreys said.

Humphreys confirmed the recent publication of an idea of Carver's, that would have realigned the department into two different divisions, was probably the reason leading to the suspension. Humphreys said however, it was just one of several events that led to the suspension.

Rep. Emery Hedlund, D-St. Maries, has pressed for the seven per cent figure over the five per cent figure. He called it a "fair compromise."

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, suggested the non-resident licenses be issued on a lottery basis so persons wanting them do not have to live in a neighboring state in order to get them. This, he added, would be fairer to outfitters and guides who depend primarily on non-resident hunters for their business.

Reardon expressed concern about the Lincoln amendment, saying he did not believe it went far enough.

Land lease ads backed

BOISE (UPI) — Despite opposition concerning increasing costs, the Senate approved, 29-6, Wednesday a bill requiring advertising of state land leases prior to expiration date.

Sen. Darrell Manning, D-Pocatello, floor sponsor of the bill, said the only thing he asked "is that free enterprise be allowed to work."

Sen. James Ellsworth, R-Leadore, said he estimated it would cost $55 to follow the advertising procedure for 40 acres of state land which would bring only $25 each year in return.

Sen. James Stolcheff, D-Sandpoint, pointed out many persons now leasing state lands who have made improvements on the lands might be defeated in any competitive bidding.

Panel submits dam plan bill

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Resources and Environment Committee voted Wednesday to recommend introduction of a bill outlining procedure for the proposed dam construction on the Grandview-Guffey area of the Snake River.

The bill authorizing the Idaho Water Resource Board to study the possibilities of a wholly state-owned project or, as an alternative, a joint project with a power company, will be accompanied by a resolution which would create an advisors group to review any contract for the project brought to it by the water board.

Sen. David Bivens, R-Payette, said there were three alternatives for the project but said in each one revenue generated from the sale of power would be used to pay for construction and further development of the state's resources.

Dam project proposed

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Resources and Environment Committee voted Wednesday to recommend introduction of a bill outlining procedure for the proposed dam construction on the Grandview-Guffey area of the Snake River.

The bill authorizing the Idaho Water Resource board to study the possibilities of a wholly state-owned project or, as an alternative, a joint project with a power company, will be accompanied by a resolution which would create an advisors group to review any contract for the project brought to it by the water board.

Sen. David Bivens, R-Payette, said there were three alternatives for the project but said in each one revenue generated from the sale of power would be used to pay for construction and further development of the state's resources.

Bivens said the three alternatives included: —A joint venture proposed with Idaho Power Co. whereby the state could build the dam and the power company the power facility.

—A totally state-owned project whereby the state would sell the power to Idaho Power Company or some other utility for use and distribution.

—And total state financing of the project with the state to lease the facilities to a private power concern with a long-term

Potato promotion measure proposed

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Joe Allen, R-American Falls, outlined a three-point plan Wednesday to help Idaho's potato growers which he said he would send to the Senate Agriculture Committee in hopes of bipartisan support.

Allen's plan included:

—A substantial increase in the advertising efforts of Idaho's growers.

—An effective means of tailoring the supply to the demand so that the price is reasonable to the consumer and the grower during years when a surplus exists.

—And a graduated tax on potatoes which would go into a revolving fund to buy cellars of potatoes in surplus year to the extent that prices would be raised to 95 to 105 per cent of parity. He said the potatoes would be used for non-human consumption.

Rent cottage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's daughter and son-in-law, David and Julie Eisenhower, have rented a small furnished summer cottage at Virginia Beach where David will take navigator training March 15 to May 31. He is scheduled to be commissioned a Navy ensign at Newport, R.I., March 12.

Allen, who is president of the Potato Council of the Western Farmers Association, said the potato industry in Idaho is in a "real financial bind" due to a depressed price brought on largely by a surplus supply.

Aid shots exchanged

BOISE (UPI) — The chairman of the House appropriations committee and the House minority leader traded verbal shots across the aisle Wednesday on what may be done for the public schools.

Rep. Jenkin L. Palmer, R-Malad, chairman of the appropriations committee, recalled Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, a Democrat, had recommended increasing educational funding by $7.4 million for the next fiscal year.

However, Palmer said, the governor included general funds, endowment funds, federal and other local funds in that figure.

He said if the governor's proposal for $2.8 million worth of public kindergartens removed the tentative appropriation suggested by the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee of some $200,000 above the governor's proposal.

Minority Leader Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, said he did not agree the joint committee was above the governor — saying part of the money suggested by the joint committee comes from an earlier proposed diversion of inventory tax phase out monies.

Palmer also took note of school teacher attacks on the proposed budget and asked why nothing was said last January when the governor came out with his proposals. Taking note of an impending teachers' march on Boise, he added.

"These pressures are building up and I'm sure by Friday all Hell's going to break loose."

he chairs will have a room for conferences between teachers and legislators.

And Majority Leader Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, said he was pleased the educators were coming to Boise.

He said he was glad they "finally" were becoming concerned about educational funding.

"I'm surprised they were not concerned last January when the budget was announced," Crapo said.

Speech set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced Wednesday that President Nixon will fly to Rochester, N.Y., Friday in the second of a series of trips seeking public support of his proposal for state-federal revenue sharing.

Bad year

HONG KONG (UPI) — Police arrested a record 47,673 persons in gambling raids in 1970, about 8,000 more than in 1969. The average number of raids was more than 100 a day and the average daily arrests were more than 130.

Union official pleads innocent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle, president of the United Mine Workers union, pleaded innocent Wednesday to charges of conspiracy, embezzlement and making illegal political contributions of nearly $50,000.

Boyle, 66, and two top officers of the 190,000-member union were arraigned before U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica on charges in an indictment returned by a special federal grand jury here Tuesday.

The three were released on their own recognizance and the judge said they could travel freely on union business outside Washington.

Boyle, who earns $50,000 a year, replied "Not guilty, your honor," when asked how he pleaded to one count of embezzling $5,000, one count of conspiring to embezzle and to make illegal political contributions totaling $49,250, and to 11 counts of actually making such contributions.

Embezzlement is the key charge in the case. Federal law provides that conviction for embezzlement prohibits anyone from holding union office for five years.

The union charged the government was abridging the rights of coal miners through the charge.

Arraigned with Boyle were Secretary-Treasurer John Owens, 80, and James Kmetz, director of Labor's Non-Partisan League (LNPL), the union's political arm.

Named as co-conspirators but not defendants were former LNPL Director Robert Howe and Boyle's executive assistant, Suzanne Richards.

The indictment returned Tuesday charged that between 1966 and 1969, Boyle, Owens and Kmetz used the league to make illegal political contributions. The indictment said Boyle would authorize payments from the league by checks made payable to "cash." The checks would then be deposited to the personal account of one of the officials, and they would then make the political contribution from their accounts, the jury charged.

Amendment approved

BOISE (UPI) — Expressing concern about protection of subsurface mineral rights, the House Resources and Conservation Committee agreed Wednesday to amend a land exchange title bill.

This bill, which originated in the Senate, authorizes the Land Board to give clear title to land exchanged with the federal government.

Land Commissioner Gordon Trombley told the committee the purpose of the bill is to permit land swaps between the state and federal governments of acreage which has existing easements of various kinds.

Unless legislation such as this passes at this session, Trombley said, a lot of money and work spent on the proposed Dworshak land exchange could be wasted.

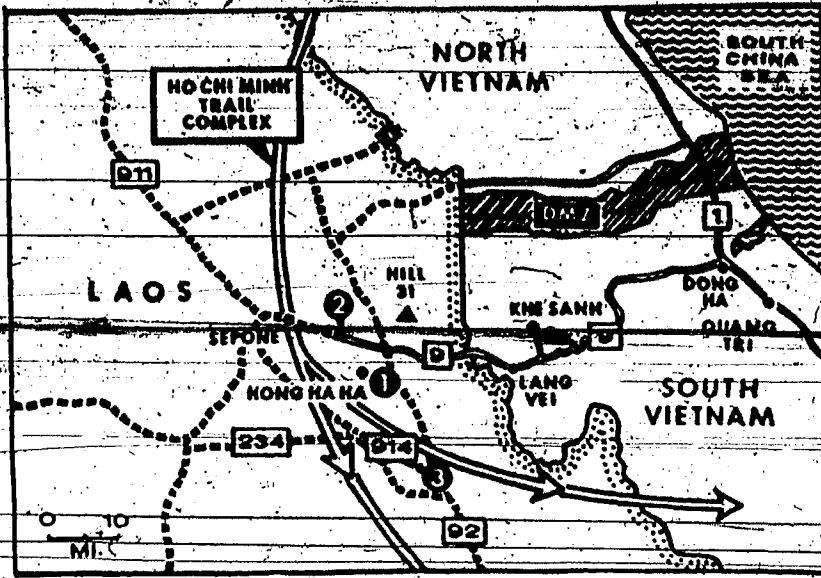

He said the Army Corps of Engineers is getting "antsy" about completing the exchange because by late this year or early next it will begin flooding the Dworshak Dam pool in northern Idaho. Rep. Lloyd Dunn, R-George, expressed concern that the wording of the bill could wipe out some long-standing claims of the state against the federal government for mineral rights reserved from earlier exchanges.

To correct this Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, suggested the bill be amended to spell out it was addressed to surface and not sub-surface rights. Trombley agreed this would be worthwhile but said he hoped some action was taken at this session of the legislature.

Chairman J. Vard Chatburn, R-Albion, names Ravenscroft, Dunn and Rep. Ed Hedges, R-Boise, to a subcommittee to work Trombley and the Legislative Council on amendments and the committee voted to put the bill out to the floor for amendment.

The committee also considered briefly a Senate bill to appropriate $35,000 in general fund money to start a revolving fund for planning and development of sewage treatment facilities on state lands. Because the committee learned this amount was not figured in the budget it asked Rep. Emery Hedlund, D-St. Maries, to discuss it with the Joint Finance - Appropriations Committee before taking action.

Code hikes premiums

BOISE (UPI) — After more than an hour of explanation and only a couple of minutes of debate the House approved 59-7 Wednesday a workmen's compensation code that raises premiums as much as 35 per cent. But Rep. William J. Murphy, D-Wallace, one of the five floor sponsors of the comprehensive, 62-page bill told the House increases are necessary to fit Idaho law into the "contest of 1971."

He also pointed out that under the Mine Safety Law the federal government has started involving itself in the field of workmen's compensation. "In 1971, Congress passed a Health and Safety Act, which among other things, directed the President to establish a 15-man commission to thoroughly study all state workmen's compensation laws and report back to Congress by July 1, 1972," he said.

"This is all a prelude to intervention of the government in the field of workmen's compensation," Murphy said.

Viet invasion support not discussed in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said Wednesday there has been no discussion at the policy-making level of the U.S. government about support for a possible South Vietnamese invasion of North Vietnam.

President Nixon doubtless will be asked about President Nguyen Van Thieu's latest invasion threat, broadcast Wednesday in Saigon, when he holds a news conference at the White House today, starting at 9 p.m. EST.

The half-hour session with newsmen, his first since Feb. 17, will be carried live on radio and television. The White House said Nixon wanted to limit the questioning to foreign policy.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler had no direct comment on Thieu's statement warning the Communists not to "put us in a situation which forces us to attack them right in their own territory."

Ziegler said, however, that "there's been no policy discussion within this government on that matter." The State Department refused all comment on Thieu's remarks.

Reports from Saigon said

Thieu conferred with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, before making the statement, which was issued to reporters and then broadcast on Vietnamese radio and television.

Ziegler said the United States "quite obviously is in close touch and consultation with the government in Saigon" and was aware of Thieu's statement.

At his Feb. 17 meeting with reporters, Nixon refused to rule out U.S. support for a South Vietnamese invasion of North Vietnam.

Clack room, Mrs. Derrall Butcher, chairman, and Mrs. William Morrison; publicity, Mrs. LePage Layton and Mrs. Butcher; entertainment; Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Correy; auditing, Mrs. Helen Morrison; Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Wayne Rogers, all trustees; relief and charity, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Skiles, Mrs. Eddie Albert and Mrs. Jim Easton.

It was announced a Mother-Daughter tea is being planned for April 4 and Mrs. Miller is chairman of the annual event. Other committees for the tea include general committee; Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Albert and Mrs. Morrison; decorations, Mrs. Nina Hartwell, Mrs. Korb, and Mrs. Sprague. Entertainment for the tea will be under the direction of Mrs. Cheryl Widmer.

A ways and means project was discussed and Mrs. Skiles and Mrs. Miller will serve as co-chairmen of the event. Others assisting with the planning include Mrs. Easton, Mrs. Hubbard, Miss Widmer, Mrs. Sam Hamilton and Mrs. Butcher. The type of project will be announced by the committee. The next meeting is at 8 p.m. March 15 at Elks Lodge Hall. After the meeting, members will work on decorations for the Mother-Daughter tea.

Finalists named at Ricks College

REXBURG — The three finalists for the Ricks College "Woman of the Year" for 1970-'71 have been announced. There were 17 nominees. The finalists were chosen by women students at Ricks.

The winner will be announced April 1 at the annual Women of the Year assembly which is part of Women's Week at the LDS Church-supported college.

Named were Ann Rhees, Rexburg; Megan Smith, Walnut Park, Calif.; and Karen Bates, Salt Lake City.

The women students choose the winner on the basis of what she has done for Ricks College and her example as an ideal LDS girl, according to Mrs. Inez Searle, dean of women students.

Miss Rhees reigned over Homecoming events last fall. She is a member of Senate, Valkyries and is president of Associated Women.

Miss Smith is head songleader, AWS sophomore class representative and is a member of Valkyries.

Miss Bates is president of Women's Choir and is vice chairman of the Second LDS Stake Mutual Improvement Association. Miss Bates is pledge mistress for a Lambda Delta Sorority on campus and is corresponding secretary for Valkyries.

Women's Week will commence March 29 and end April 2. There will be a concert by Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, a devotional assembly when recognition will be given an LDS mother, a Family Living Fair, the AWS Formal and testimony meeting for mothers and daughters.

Theme this year is "Women, the Perfect Workmanship of God."

A Lovelier You

NECK IN AGING NOOSE

By Mary Sue Miller

Unless the feminine throat is slender and smooth, it is scandalously aging. You can often come closer to guessing a woman's age by the appearance of her throat than by that of her face.

Poor posture is as guilty as any other factor in the aging process. A main fault is letting the neck telescope into the shoulders. When habitual, the pose leads to loss of muscle tone. The neck thickens, rolls and wrinkles.

If youth is to survive, the neck must be tautly drawn upward — out of well-squared shoulders. The chin must be held parallel to the floor, or a bit higher. Happily, it is never too late to establish the correct carriage. Once you do, it acts both to prevent and remedy deterioration.

When the throat has already become flaccid, a few simple exercises aid the cause. The following help to strengthen the muscles and also assist good posture:

1. Standing erect, draw shoulders down and tip of chin up. Slowly roll head to left and try to touch tip of chin to left shoulder. Roll back to starting position and continue on to right shoulder. Without pause, work for 20 counts.
2. Lower head back as far as possible; open mouth and let chin fall. Now quickly snap mouth closed. Repeat 10 times.

If you can cream your throat before exercising, so much the better. Do be sure to apply throat cream at bedtime, come what may.

Western Playboys slated for Burley program Friday

BURLEY — One of the nation's finest eight-piece country-western swing bands, known as "The Western Playboys," will appear Friday at the Ponderosa Inn Convention Center.

The public is invited and tickets will be available at the door.

The group was formed the middle of February, 1971, by a man in Boise, who wanted "to put together the best western swing band in the country." He got together with Curt Doolin and signed him up as the arranger and band manager.

He then spent weeks calling around the country trying to find the professional musicians that could be put together as an outstanding musical aggregation. His selling point for these fine musicians was that they could live in Boise and raise their families here in the great northwest, this meant the end of living on a bus and the one night stand for this group. After several weeks of practice together and working on new arrangements the band is ready.

Members besides Doolin include Junior Bost, Dallas, Tex., drums, who played with Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys; Jerry Lambert, Eugene Ore., bass guitar and vocalist, who played with Wills and with Glen Campbell.

James Wilkinson, formerly San Francisco, Calif., now at Boise, piano, played with the San Francisco and Oakland Symphony Orchestras; various jazz and rock groups; Frankie Hardcastle, Bakersfield, Calif., steel guitar, played with many of the big western music names including Merle Haggard and Hank Williams; Herman Whitley, Panhandle, Tex., violin, has also appeared with many of the big names in western music including Win Stewart and Tex Ritter.

Curly Lewis, Tulsa, Okla., lead violin and vocalist, has played four years with Leon McAuliffe and nine years with Hank Thompson.

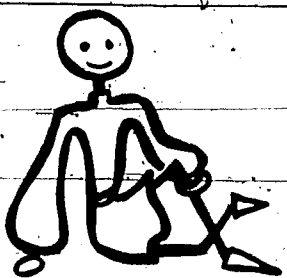

Tag Lambert, Roswell, N.M.; lead guitar and vocalist, played for nine years with Bob Wills and has appeared with many stars including Ernest Tubbs, Hank Thompson, Merle Haggard and Johnny Cash.

Local Swinging Sixties hold old-fashioned dance

TWIN FALLS — Fifty members of the local Swinging Sixties met at the IOOF Hall for an old-fashioned dance. The costumes worn by the members, men and women alike, featured old-fashioned attire at its best and added much to the party atmosphere.

Music for the dance was played by Dorothy Bryson, Wes Steward and Russell Dillie, with Earl Bryson calling for the circles and mixers.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wavra, Julian Ocana and Caralee Ashcraft. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Asci Parish, Harold Navin and Ella Norris.

Eagle awards given to four area Scouts

HAGERMAN — Four scouts received their Eagle awards at a Court of Honor at the United Methodist Church after the annual Boy Scout — Cub Scout dinner for troop and pack No. 35, it was announced today.

Receiving the Eagle awards were Mike Brown, Tom Bennett, Brett Titmus and Matt Carleton. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur (Jim) Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Titmus and Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Carleton.

Leonard Titmus, scoutmaster, also presented awards to scouts David Tupper, Coy Pepper, Marvin Campbell, Glenn Beebe, Ronnie Jones, Lonnie Anderson, Tony Zaccane, Mike Owsley, Rodney Baker and Jeff Brown.

After the presentation of scout awards, a plaque was presented to Titmus who is resigning as scoutmaster due to moving from the community. The plaque was in appreciation for his service to the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts through the years 1958-1971 and for having helped 21 boys receive their Eagle awards.

Cub Scout awards were presented to Greg Howland, bobcat; Scott Mays, bear; David Titmus, one-year pin; Doug Wickham, silver arrow; Mark Moreland, one-year pin, assistant denner; Mike Billiard, Dean Peterson and Robert Sandy, bear; Steve Butters, Sam Ainsworth, Jim Kepler, wolf; Copy Pepper, Glenn Beebe and Marvin Campbell, Webelos. The cub presentations were made by Jim Bright, cubmaster.

The flag presentation was made by Lonnie Anderson and David Tupper. The Eagle Scout Oath was given by Dick Bennett, Eagle Scout.

Alfred Sandy, scout committee chairman, was master of ceremonies. Guest speaker was Dick Gooby, Gooding, chairman of commissioners, Northside District.

Special introductions were extended all special guests.

The planned potluck dinner served prior to the Court of Honor was attended by more than 140 Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and their families. Centerpieces for the tables were made by the Cub Scouts, under the direction of their den mothers, Mrs. Gene Titmus, Mrs. George Talbot, Mrs. Dea Peterson and Mrs. Alfred Sandy assisted by Mrs. Karen Peterson and Mrs. June Mays.

Music scholarship money presented

BURLEY — Mrs. Donald Youtz, Twin Falls, state scholarship chairman for the Idaho Federation of Music Clubs, has presented Mrs. Grant Bickmore, Pocatello, state president, a $200 check from James Sinclair, president of the Twin Falls First Federal Savings and Loan.

The check will make available a scholarship through the Idaho Federation of Music Clubs which will be awarded to a college freshman to continue his study in music.

The check was presented during the Idaho Federation of Music Clubs board meeting at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley. Mrs. Bickmore was in charge of the business session.

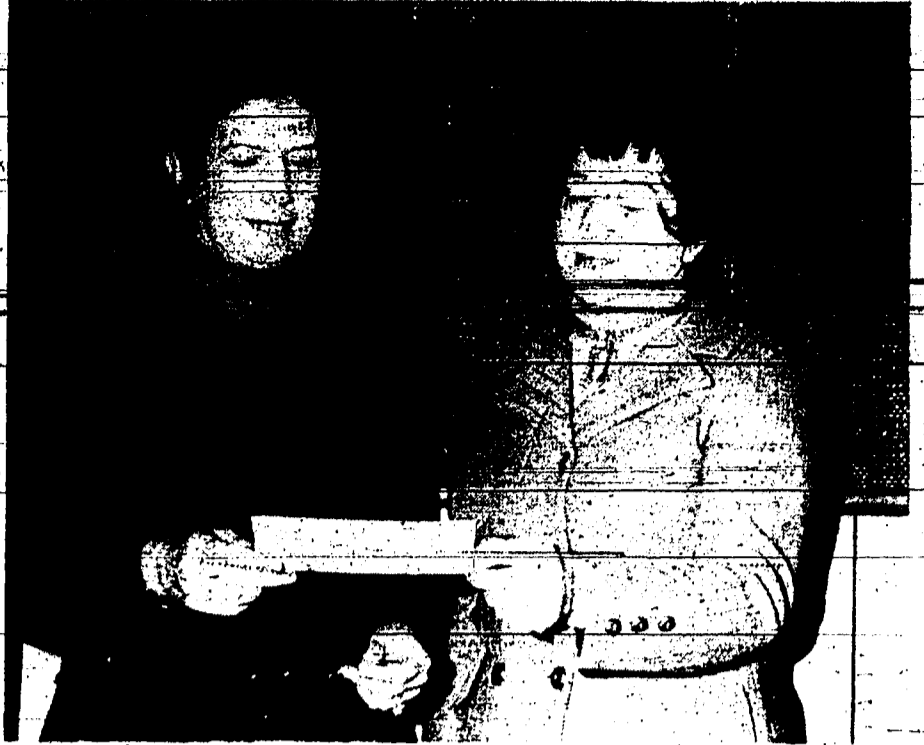

The luncheon was hosted by Mrs. Trafford Bray, Burley, Fifth District National Federation of Music Clubs president.

Mrs. J.W. Young, president of the Burley Music Club, announced the mini-concert performers including Miriam Carey, violinist and piano soloist; Marilyn Brady, vocalist, and Mary Mellor, pianist. The three performers were local scholarship winners for 1970.

Reports were made by state club presidents and board chairmen. During the business session, the group elected the historian to serve on the executive committee.

It was announced the music clubs are more than halfway along in their goal of raising $10,000 for a scholarship trust fund, with the interest of the fund to assist with further schooling in music.

Members were reminded of the state convention May 13 and 14 at Bannock Hotel, Pocatello.

Writing, art contest set by T.F. club

TWIN FALLS — Students in the five grade schools, two junior high schools, Catholic and Lutheran schools and Twin Falls High School have been invited to participate in the school art and creative writing contest, sponsored locally by the Twentieth Century Club of Twin Falls.

This is a statewide contest of the Idaho Federation of Women's Clubs.

Entries will be judged by a panel of no less than three qualified persons and winners will receive ribbons and cash prizes.

There are four divisions in the poetry contest, grades four to six; grades seven to nine; grades 10 to 12, and adult, Federated Women's Club members only. No poem over 16 lines will be accepted and only two poems can be submitted by each student.

There are also four divisions in the art contest, grades one through three; grades four through six; grades seven through nine, and grades 10 through 12. Pictures must be mounted on cards no larger than 22 by 28 inches. No frames are allowed. Water color, tempera, collage, chalk, pencil, ink, crayon, pastel, prints, oil or other mixed media (no ceramics) are allowed.

Students are invited to submit any classroom efforts in poetry or art or any homework, signed as original by the teacher. Work will be assembled and picked up by March 12 in each principal's office. Earned ribbons or cash prizes will be accompanying the returned entries. A district contest will be held April 22 in Rupert, where local winning entries will be sent. A statewide judging will be held in May in Coeur d'Alene.

Hints

Sturdy plastic food bags can be reused — sometimes more than once. Wash them with suds, rinse, stuff with crumpled paper, toweling and stand upright to drain.

A fork makes an excellent holder for a recipe card. Stand it, times up, in a glass and put the card between the tines. The card stays clean, and is easy to read.

Clean the rubber gasket on the refrigerator door with the cleaner used for white side wall tires.

Before freezing an iced cake, put it in the freezer for about 15 minutes to set the icing, then wrap the cake and put it back in the freezer.

Try adding lemon juice to the water used for making ice cubes for iced tea and fruit drinks.

After emptying, washing and sanitizing garbage cans with hot suds, scatter some packaged soap or detergent into the clean cans. This will repel flies and other insects.

If the fireplace has no ash trap below, cleanup will be easier if you line the hearth with a sheet of aluminum foil before laying the fire. When the embers are cold, roll them up in the foil and discard.

Mrs. Ray Lincoln is the contest director of the arts and poetry contest locally and district chairman of fine arts, with six clubs participating in the total district. Mrs. D.A. Jackson is president of the Twentieth Century Club.

Expensive

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ten years ago, Americans spent $38 million for toys. Last year, the toy bill registered $2.2 billion — and then some.

Inflation accounts for some of the increase in the toy bill but not all of it. Clearly, contemporary children are the possessors of greater numbers of toys or at least more expensive ones.

The prospect that today's boys and girls may be drowning in toys when compared to the children of yesteryear and children of other nations came up the other day during a symposium sponsored by the Toy Manufacturers of America (TMA).

Participating in the discussion led by Dr. Walter I. Ross, TMA vice president, were four correspondents from the United Nations.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Jana Berryhill Loyd is a 5-foot, 2-inch civil engineer who doesn't think the terms "lady" and "engineer" are contradictory. Mrs. Loyd is the first woman to receive a master's degree in civil engineering from Texas Tech University. She wishes more women would see the advantages of civil engineering as a career.

She is the wife of G. Richard Loyd, who is working toward a master's degree in electrical engineering at Texas Tech. She went into civil engineering despite discouragement from teachers, counselors, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Berryhill of Richardson, Tex.

"I expect to have both a family and a career, with opportunities to give proper attention to both," Mrs. Loyd said.

Membership drive starts

TWIN FALLS — Approximately 2,000 brochures went into the mail this week to solicit membership in the annual YMCA-YWCA membership campaign.

The brochures include an invitation to join the local organizations and provide membership applications. Garry Standley, Mrs. John Ricks and Mrs. Mary Russell, heading the membership drive this year, say a concentrated effort is being made to bring membership up during the next few weeks.

Notice!

The Times-News finds an increasing number of stories appropriate for its women's pages. Because of the premium on available space, stories must be selected on the basis of currency.

All stories pertaining to the women's pages must be brought to the Times-News no later than two days after the meeting to be considered for publication.

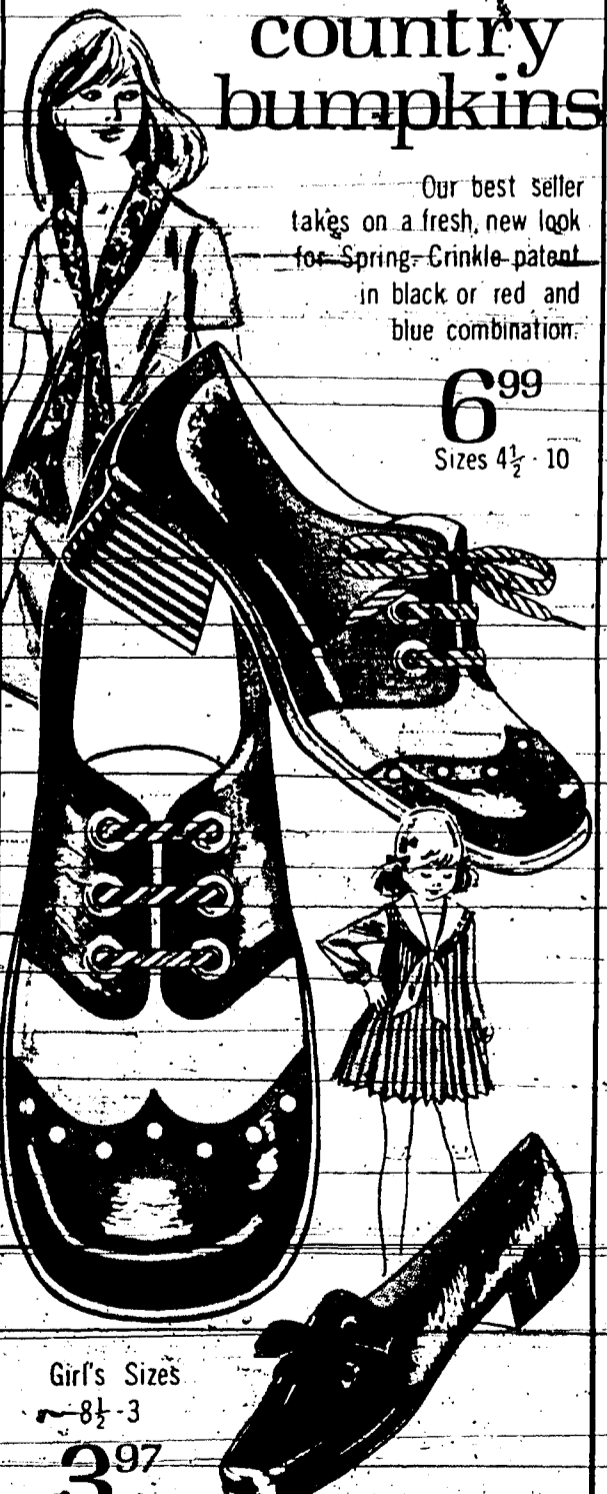

Wedding pictures and stories must be in within two weeks of the wedding. As in the past, a $5 fee will be charged for two-column wedding pictures and a $2.50 fee for engagement pictures.

Intruder leaves calling card for Hawaii visitor

By NORMA HERZINGER, Women's Page Editor
TWIN FALLS — When you are traveling with a group of people anything can happen, but Mrs. Leo Handy, Heyburn, one of the 53 members of the recent "Home News sponsored 'Magic of Hawaii' tour, had an experience she won't forget for awhile.

We were staying at Kona on the big island of Hawaii in deluxe accommodations at the Kona Islander Inn. Each room opened onto its own private lanai through large French doors. From the lanai one could see beautiful tropical foliage and flowers of all descriptions and at night, tiki lamps were lighted which encircled the swimming pool area.

Mrs. Handy was a bit restless one evening and had gone out onto her lanai, which was on the second floor, to get a breath of fresh air and look over the beautiful setting. When she went back to bed, she left her French doors open, but failed to close the screens which completely covered the door area. Her breath of fresh air must have done her some good, because when she went back to bed she slept soundly. Well, sound enough anyway that she did not hear her visitor who took a great liking to her new handbag.

Now, her visitor couldn't be described as a thief, although Mrs. Handy might have felt better about the entire incident if it was.

The next morning she took one look at her handbag and went to visit the desk clerk in the hotel lobby, asking what in the world had been in her room to have left her purse in such condition. There were four large holes chewed into the side — rather neat holes at that. The desk clerk looked at the holey purse displayed by Mrs. Handy and immediately asked if she had left her screen open during the night. When he got an affirmative answer, he very apologetically, yet with a bit of a smile on his face, informed the confused traveler her visitor had been a mongoose. Yes, a mongoose.

The desk clerk went back to the room with Mr. and Mrs.

Handy and found the mongoose had been up on the dresser also, where it had chewed holes in two cardboard-covered packages containing men's cologne they had purchased to bring home as gifts.

When Mr. and Mrs. Handy told me and several others about the incident on the bus that morning, I had shivers just thinking about it. I am terrified of a little mouse so you can imagine the mass hysteria I could conjure up over a mongoose.

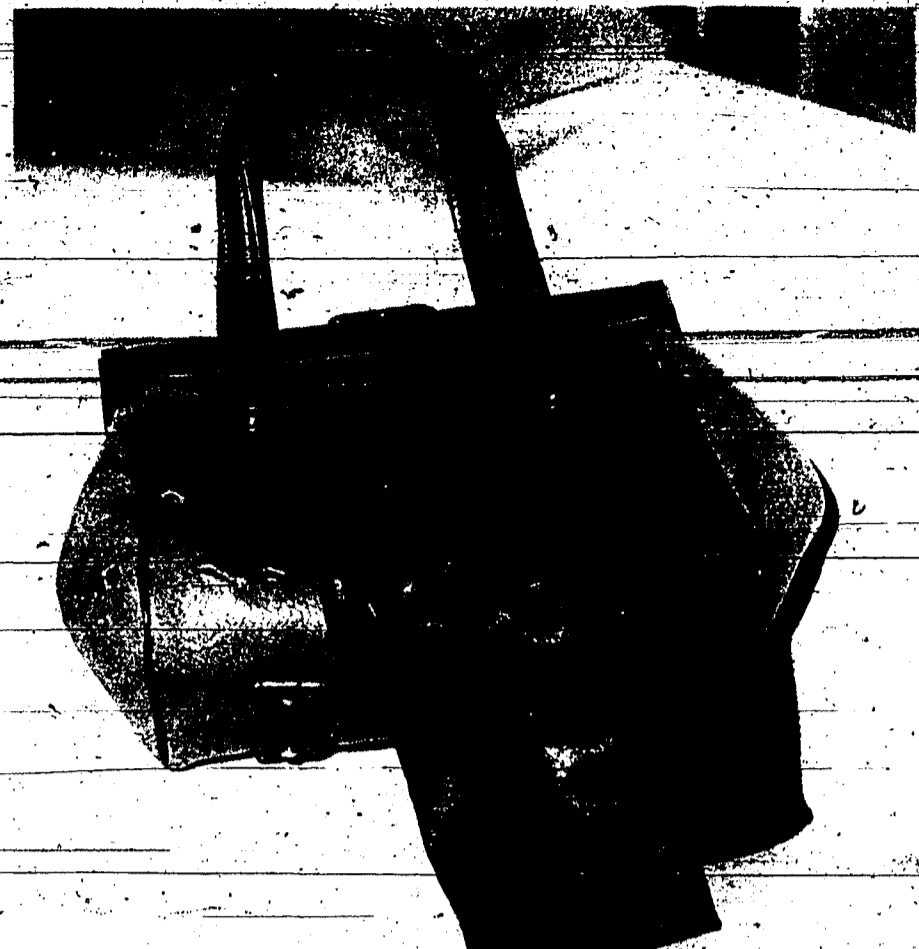

Just minutes after they told us about the intruder, the bus driver pointed out a mongoose running along side the road. When we asked him about it, he said a mongoose is an agile and keen-sighted brown and black viverrine mammal about the size of a ferret. It has a sharp snout and a long heavy tail and captures and feeds on snakes, including the most venomous, and on rodents. And, get this, it is often domesticated. (Not by me it wouldn't be.)

He said the animals were brought to the island to help with the rat problem not with snakes, as there are no snakes on the islands.

Although she is better informed, Mrs. Handy is still out one good purse. It does make a good conversation piece, however.

Caller leaves mark

AN UNEXPECTED visitor left his calling card, four large holes in Mrs. Leo Handy's handbag during her recent visit to Hawaii. It sure ruined the purse, but makes a good conversation piece.

Official visit set

TWIN FALLS — Plans were made for the official visit of Mrs. Harley Williams, district deputy president, when members of Primrose Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday evening at the IOOF Hall.

The visit is scheduled for March 16.

A donation was made to the educational foundation fund and the attendance banner and gift were displayed that the lodge received at the district meeting for the most members in attendance.

Guests were Jean Markham, second vice president of the Department Association of Ladies Auxiliary Patriarchs Militant; Oda Helen Rork, lodge deputy; Ruth Neely, noble grand; Luella Nelson, vice grand, and Mildred Dismuke, assembly song leader, all from Guiding Star Lodge, Mountain Home.

Humorous monologues from a book by Vernon Howard were read by Mrs. LaVern Strong and humorous poems were read by Mrs. Lawrence Rudolph and Mae Chatterton. The thought for the day was given by Mrs. Gene Smith.

TWIN FALLS — The Women of the Moose, who are attending the mid-winter conference Sunday in Idaho Falls will meet at the home of Ruby Murphy 1637 11th Ave. E. and will leave at 9 a.m.

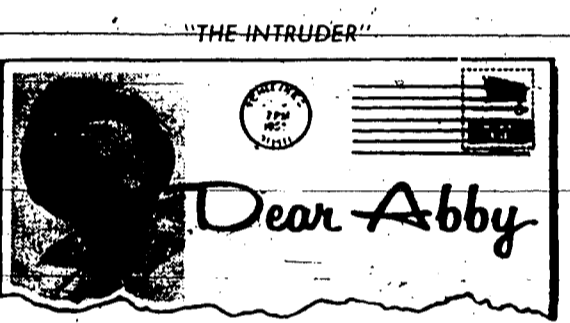

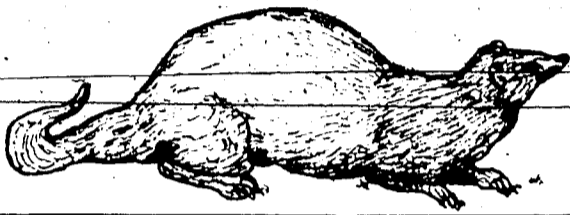

TWIN FALLS — A dance scheduled for Saturday night at the DAV Hall in Twin Falls has been canceled, Albert Stevens reports.

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary members will sew pinkies in the guild room from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday.

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley Iris Society will meet at the R and R Cafe in Buhl at 12:30 p.m. Saturday for a luncheon meeting. The program will include slides by Mr. Henschel of Rupert. Reservations must be made by Thursday by contacting Mrs. Albert Toberer, Buhl.

TWIN FALLS — Royal Neighbor Lodge will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the IOOF Hall.

TWIN FALLS — Frontier Riding Club members will hold an annual season Kick-Off

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and I are in total disagreement over a matter I wish you would settle. Becky (made-up name) is 19, which makes her an authority on everything. She attends college away from home. Becky now goes braless and says most of her girlfriends do, too. When Becky was home for vacation she wore a bra only as a concession to me, but she wasn't happy about it. I should explain that Becky is full-bosomed.

I told Becky that common sense should tell her that a full-bosomed girl needs to wear a bra for support, and if she goes without that support, in time all her muscles and tissues will be stretched and broken down and she will look like an old cow. Becky says I am all wrong and old-fashioned.

Abby, will you please tell her? She won't listen to me, and I don't want to be in a position of telling her, "I told you so," if she winds up wearing a size 42 Quadruple F cup by the time she's 30.

If I am wrong I will shut up. But if I'm right, I'd like her to find out before it is too late. MIDWEST MOM

DEAR MOM: If Becky's bra size is 34 B or larger, she needs a bra for support. [P.S. More women look like "old cows" because they wore ill-fitting bras rather than none at all.]

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me who is right. I have a teen-age daughter who will soon be ready for dating. I have a sister in law who has a daughter the same age.

We were talking, and I told my sister in law that if a boy ever tried to take my daughter's virtue against her will, I would rather have her submit and come out of it unharmed than to put up a struggle and perhaps get killed. Even if my daughter were to become pregnant we could bear it together, but I would rather have my daughter alive in any shape.

My sister in law thinks I am out of my mind. What's your opinion? A LOVING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't think you and your sister in law are communicating. I am sure your sister in law would rather have her daughter "alive in any shape," too. But if she actually would rather see her daughter dead than the living victim of a rapist, I think she could be out of her mind.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to make a comment on the My Lai incident. I served in Viet Nam at the same time as Lt. Calley. [Same division, same brigade, but different battalion.] What that man and his men are being tried for was, and probably still is, an everyday occurrence over there. I have seen so many of those peaceful people murdered, raped and beaten I thought I'd go crazy before I got out of that country.

No single similar occurrence in my unit was on so large a scale as My Lai, but if I were to total all the men, women and children we shot because they looked like V. C. in the age group between 15 and 40 or were too scared to stand still when we approached, you could double the number as were killed at My Lai.

I am not defending Lt. Calley, I am only saying that if the Army and the people must judge that man and his men then they had better judge me and the three million other men that pulled time in that hell-hole.

I learned one thing. Life over there is no more worth the time and effort it takes to pull the trigger.

DEAR BEEN: Thank you, soldier. And to the American people as a whole, I say, "Judge not lest ye be judged!"

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Soviets expand power

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

A succession of visits by Soviet naval vessels to Cuban waters suggests a Soviet buildup in the Caribbean similar to that in the Mediterranean. Latin American ports may become regular ports of call for Soviet warships.

Beyond an agreement reported to have been concluded last Oct. 13 against servicing of nuclear-armed Soviet submarines in the Caribbean area, there is little the United States can do about a seemingly clear Soviet challenge in waters previously considered exclusively a U.S. domain.

The "agreement", whether written or unwritten never has been made clear, was an extension of that reached in 1962 between the then President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev whereby the Soviets withdrew nuclear missiles from Cuba and promised not to return them in exchange for a U.S. promise not to try to overthrow the regime of Fidel Castro.

Soviet warships have been plying Caribbean waters regularly for more than a year, occasionally undergoing repairs at various Cuban ports.

The first Soviet warships entered the Gulf of Mexico in July 1969, were back again in 1970 and have been reported in the same area on a number of occasions since, including the last few weeks.

Other Soviet forces have been reported south of Cuba in a position to maintain surveillance over a huge area traditionally used by U.S. naval forces for training.

Latest Soviet vessels to visit Cuba, as reported by the U.S. Defense Department early in February, were a submarine tender capable of servicing submarines armed with nuclear missiles, a guided-missile cruiser and a merchant tanker. The Soviet news agency TASS also listed a submarine as among those making a "business call" on Cuba.

It was last September that Washington, without previous public notice, suddenly warned the Soviets against attempting to establish a base at the Cuban port of Cienfuegos where U.S. U-2 spy flights had disclosed Soviet construction of two barracks capable of handling 100 men each, a football field and a communications center. At anchor were two Soviet barges, that could handle radioactive waste and a submarine tender.

The Soviets ridiculed the U.S. warning and denied any intentions of building a Cuban base. Work on the Cienfuegos installation subsequently was halted. The submarine tender departed only to be replaced by another a short time later.

From the Cuban crisis of 1962, the Soviets drew a serious lesson, which was that intercontinental missiles were not enough and that a globe-circling navy remained a necessity.

Since then they have been building at a frantic pace with the avowed intention of being able to challenge U.S. naval strength anywhere in the world. This they now are doing in the Caribbean.

The build-up of Soviet naval strength in the Mediterranean has gone on apace with their increased influence in the Middle East, with Soviet trade ties increasing in Latin America and a Marxist regime in Chile, Soviet vessels may be expected to step up their calls on Latin American ports as a matter of course.

Indian numbers zoom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unless drastic birth control steps are taken immediately, India's hard pressed economy will have to support a population of 1 billion people by 1990, world population experts here believe.

"Most informed people know that India has a serious population problem; few understand how serious it is," a recent publication of the Population Reference Bureau declared.

Simply for India to check its staggering population rate at 1 billion persons by 1990, the publication said, "they would have to find ways to cut India's birth rate of 40-45 per thousand by more than half in the next ten to fifteen years."

"Even if Indian parents were to alter their family patterns so drastically that by 1985 they were producing only enough children to replace themselves, such is the momentum of population growth that the ultimate population of India would still exceed a billion," the study said.

"That is the inevitable consequence of having a population of which nearly 45 per cent is under 15 years of age with many fertile years ahead."

The report, called "India: Ready or Not Here They Come," is based on a statistical analysis made by the International Demographic Statistics Center of the U.S. Bureau of the Census at the request of the State Department and the Population Reference Bureau.

The most critical fact in India's population explosion, according to George Tobias of the Ford Foundation, "is that babies born in the population explosion between 1955 and 1965 will, during this decade, turn 15 years of age. They number 170 million."

Tobias, who is stationed in New Delhi with the Ford Foundation, said: "Close to 90 million of them will enter the labor force in the 1970's. Ready or not, here they come!"

Tobias said successful family planning is the first priority in this decade for the ultimate development of India's human resources. But he warned that "no program of family planning, public or private, emotional or rational, surgical or spiritual, chemical or mechanical, will have the slightest effect whatsoever on the labor force explosion of the 1970s."

John P. Lewis, who headed the U.S. Agency for International Development mission in India for four years, said financial incentives to have smaller families are just about the only family planning technique that will really be successful.

Lewis, now Dean of Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, said in the publication: "Whatever we have so far learned about the motivations of Indian families confirms the common impression that the average Indian couple wants at least two surviving sons."

Because daughters are born about as often as sons, Lewis said, "it is self evident that the large family tradition will keep India's birth rate high unless there is a basic change in motivation."

Gooding panel states survey

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News Correspondent

GOODING — The Gooding County Planning Commission will send a public opinion questionnaire soon to every household in Lincoln, Camas, Blaine and Gooding counties, Chairman Bob Bolte said today.

There will be sections pertaining to all four counties and some questions concerning only Gooding County. The purpose of the questionnaire is to learn residents' opinions to all phases of the problems, opportunities, and projects in the four county area. Some questions will cover school consolidation, wildlife management and zoning ordinances.

In January a sample survey, mailed to 200 people in the area, showed that a majority favored some kind of zoning ordinances for the counties.

At the commission meeting Tuesday night, possible sites for a county sanitary landfill were discussed. County Commissioner Ben Glauner announced that two locations had been inventoried in the Falls area. Soil Conservation Agent Dick Gooby pointed out that in many places in Gooding County a landfill is not possible because of the lack of deep soil.

The planning commission also studied the problem of inadequate rental housing available in the city of Gooding and also the high number of dilapidated empty houses in the city. Bolte suggested that the commission write to other cities, such as Sandpoint, which have undertaken beautification projects. Recommendations would then be made to the city council.

The economic opportunity of developing some of the county's resources was discussed. The diatomaceous earth beds in Hagerman Valley were pointed out to have great commercial value for the county if an oil road could be built to the site. Aldrich Bowler, committee chairman for resources and recreation, offered to write to various companies to find out how much diatomaceous earth could be taken from the area and what its value would be.

Diatomaceous earth is used in making toothpaste and kitchen cleanser, and a section of public land in Hagerman Valley contains one of the United States' largest deposits of the material.

Bowler reported on progress being made to find an outlet to market artistic wares created by county residents. He is in charge of a project which would include a training program and provide a marketing agency for Gooding County citizens interested in arts and crafts.

Bowler also suggested county-wide education to interest people in the possibility of recycling glass, and asked that the Gooding County Planning Commission persuade a civic club to promote the project.

Cassia Hospital grant due

Reed said the second-year portion — $173,000 — has not been given final federal approval, but has been given tentative backing from the Idaho State Health Facilities Advisory Board — the key hurdle in the approval procedure.

The federal Hill-Burton Act funds will permit work to begin at the Burley hospital's project. Plans call for construction of a new 40-bed wing for short-term hospital care. All patients in the wing would be housed in single-bed rooms.

The existing hospital rooms would be modernized to meet federal standards for use of long-term — nursing home type — care.

The hospital will have "one of the finest hospital operations in the entire state" upon completion of the new 40 unit "opti-care" wing in late 1972, Robert G. Barton, Cassia Memorial administrator, said.

Barton said the addition will mean no extensive changes in the hospital's core, but will add short term medical care beds and long-term-care beds.

The main addition will contain 40 "opti-care" single bed rooms for treatment of short term patients. These rooms, he said, are designed to give the patient complete medical service in his private room. Each bed is electrically controlled, by either the patient, nurse, or doctor. Rooms are independently air conditioned and have separate temperature controls. To encourage early mobility, a bathroom with tub and toilet is three steps from bedside. Oxygen and suction outlets are above the head of the bed for convenient access.

A communication center is built into a patient operated wall console within easy reach. Controls to operate the radio, television and intercom system are all on the panel. The console also provides space for books, water, telephone and personal needs.

Barton said the single rooms eliminate many patient conflicts within the hospital, such as prohibition of placing men with women, smokers with non-smokers, isolation cases with medical patients or regular patients with infectious cases.

In addition, long term facilities will be modernized with the addition of a new dining room and recreation room.

Forty-two old acute patient rooms in the north wing will be upgraded and turned into long term patient rooms. An 18-bed extensive care-nursing room area will also be added to the long term patient wing.

Barton said construction must be under way by June. The request for bids will go out this month to the different contractors. He said it will take about 12 months building time to complete the structure. Barton said he hopes to be in the new part of the structure by the summer or fall of 1972.

Bosworth appointed

BUHL — William H. Bosworth, Buhl accountant and veteran pilot, has been appointed to the Twin Falls City-County Airport Commission, W. L. Chaney, county commission chairman said today.

He will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Ed Novacek, also Buhl. Chaney said the appointment becomes effective immediately as Novacek's resignation was submitted March 1.

Chaney said the new appointee was endorsed by a number of Buhl area residents and the Buhl Chamber of Commerce.

Bosworth is also active in the Civil Air Patrol in Twin Falls, and has been a pilot since 1947. He is a veteran of World War II, having served as a radio operator in the U.S. Air Force. He resides east of Buhl and operates his own accounting business.

On the airport commission he will represent the west-end area of the county, Chaney said. Mrs. Bosworth said her husband owns a plane in cooperation with several other Buhl citizens and the plane is based in Buhl.

Firm renovates former station

TWIN FALLS — A former service station at West Five Points in Twin Falls will soon gain a completely new exterior design and will house Twin Falls' newest business — Lindbloom's Decorator Wall Coverings.

Lindbloom's Twin Falls outlet is the first outside of Boise for the firm which operates two interior decorating firms in Boise, and will eventually open an outlet in the Sun Valley area, according to Richard Lindbloom, originator of the company.

Lindbloom's will include a full line of wall coverings, terming themselves a "specialty house on wall coverings," including draperies, floor coverings, mirrors and accessories, and will carry a full time interior decorator on its staff. That position is yet to be filled, Lindbloom said.

In addition, a full line of Fuller Paint Co. paints will be carried, marking the return to Twin Falls of Fuller paints since a previous outlet closed.

Contract glass work will also be provided, ranging from residential and commercial to all types of auto glass.

A Twin Falls man, Marv Robertson, will head the glass department, Lindbloom said. The new firm will have a staff of three full time people in the store and one outside salesman who will cover a wide territory, ranging up to Sun Valley. The Twin Falls store will include about 4,000 square feet of floor space, and represents an investment in excess of $90,000.

"We've been interested in Twin Falls for over 18 months," Lindbloom said of his decision to expand into the Magic Valley area from his Boise headquarters. "There is a tremendous future for growth, both in population and in business activities in the Twin Falls area."

Lindbloom's of Twin Falls will be open for business by mid-April, the owner said. Richard Green of Boise, currently affiliated with the firm in Boise, will move to Twin Falls as local manager.

Missing Buhl boys found

WENDELL — Two 15-year-old Buhl boys missing since Wednesday after school were found in a Wendell restaurant about 10:30 a.m. today by Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn.

The deputy said he was in a grocery store here when he was told the boys were missing and started looking for them. He soon found Larry Covey and David Leno in a restaurant.

The officer said the Leno boy's father appeared about that time and he turned the boys over to him. Sheriff Paul Corder said they were reported missing by their parents in Buhl about 1 a.m. today when they failed to return home after leaving on a motorcycle about 3 p.m.

Missing are Larry Covey and Don Leno. Officers said the motorcycle they were riding was found at the Carl Dalos farm about 7 miles north of Buhl and reports were received of two youths attempting to hitchhike north of the Clear Lake area of Snake River Canyon late Wednesday.

Longest Home Run
On April 18, 1952, Mickey Mantle hit a home run in Griffith Stadium, Washington, D.C., that traveled about 565 feet. It is believed to be the longest home run ever measured in a regular major league baseball game.

Quota beat by Wendell

WENDELL — Wendell residents topped the quota of 75 pints at Wednesday's Red Cross blood drawing at the American Legion Hall.

Mrs. Harold Holsinger, chairman, said 88 persons appeared to donate, but five were rejected, for a total of 83 pints.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gasper, Wendell, each received a five-gallon donor pin and their son, Joe Gasper, Hagerman, received a gallon pin. Walter Stockham, Jr., Wendell, received a one-gallon pin.

Mrs. Holsinger said there were more than a half dozen youths about 18 years old donating blood for the first time.

Doctors in attendance were Dr. Holsinger and Dr. Maurice Scheel. Nurses included Mrs. Edward Reay, Gooding; Mrs. Gene Overfield, Jerome, and Mrs. Dorothy Alexander, Shoshone.

Shoshone budget studied

SHOSHONE — Members of the Shoshone City Council worked until 2 a.m. Wednesday on the 1971 budget but Mrs. Claude Chess, city clerk, said final figures are not ready to be released.

The councilmen did set a public hearing on the budget for 8 p.m. March 22.

Plans for selling $580,000 in sewer bonds were made by the councilmen, Mrs. Chess said, but an opinion must be secured from the bonding attorney before they can be sold. The bonds will be paid back over a 30-year period from the monthly charge to users. Mrs. Chess said although the total costs of the sewer project is $790,000, the $210,000 difference will come from federal and state grants.

Councilmen Tuesday night signed an approval for sewer pipeline crossing and encroachment contract with the Oregon Short Line-Union Pacific Railroad.

Cassia collision hurts 4

BURLEY — Four persons, including an elderly Oakley couple, were injured in a head-on collision in Oakley about 10 p.m. Wednesday, reports Marshal Jarroll Geppson.

Mrs. Penola Hale, 81, was listed in critical condition today at Cassia Memorial Hospital and her husband, Wallace A. Hale, 83, is in good condition. A daughter of the couple, Mrs. Yvonne Buckley, and Mrs. Laura Holmes, 31, were treated and released.

The marshal said the car driven by Hale collided head on with a pickup truck operated by James Holmes, 33, Oakley. Holmes and Mrs. Rella Paskett, another daughter of the Hales, were not injured.

Both vehicles were traveling slowly, Geppson said. The Hales had attended the basketball tournament in Burley and had just taken Mrs. Buckley home. They were about a half-block from the Paskett home when the collision occurred.

Mrs. Buckley heard the crash and ran to the scene. She was struck by her father's car, which had gone into a spin, and was thrown into the ditch.

Lynch Ponderosa president

BURLEY — Robert (Bob) Lynch, Burley, has been elected president of the board of directors of the Ponderosa Inn.

Other officers are Larry Duff, Rupert, secretary-treasurer; George Forschler, Burley, retiring president; W. B. Whiteley, Oakley, Vainess Anderson and Dan Howarth, both Burley, and Lewis Harper, Ogden, Utah, all vice presidents and directors.

Forschler said the reorganized board will direct policies and plans for the Ponderosa Inn, Burley, and will also direct the expansion program in which other inns will be acquired.

Judge calls court rulings 'reasonable,' 'ridiculous'

By RUTH KOONCE MILLER
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Recent United States Supreme Court decisions affecting the nation's poor were described both as "reasonable" and "ridiculous" by Judge Theron Ward of the Fifth Judicial District, Twin Falls.

Judge Ward said the high court's determination that poor people should not be sent to jail simply because they cannot pay fines is justifiable and a policy already used extensively in Idaho. He said he believes judges in this area will begin to follow the federal guideline over before a last case is taken to the Idaho Supreme Court.

He said the main problem posed by the ruling will be in bookkeeping because a payment schedule will have to be enacted in many cases. He said magistrates will now be required to inquire into the defendant's financial background to determine what payment schedule would be feasible.

Judge Ward said since many defendants are already being given time to pay fines, the ruling will simply mean the policy will have to be broadened to include all defendants who are unable to make payment at the time sentence is passed.

He said payments will have to be made on a schedule agreed to by the court and the defendant before sentence can be executed. He said if a defendant has a justifiable reason for not making payment, judges will take this into consideration.

The companion case, involving a woman who was unable to pay her taxes, was criticized from some quarters.

did from Justice Hugo Black of the U.S. Supreme Court. Justice Black, who was the lone dissenter to the opinion, said the decision is one which would use taxpayers' funds to encourage divorce.

Judge Ward said until the Idaho Supreme Court rules that the federal decision must be followed "judges in my jurisdiction will continue to collect a $25 filing fee for divorce actions."

Judge Ward said in many cases if a couple in such circumstances is divorced, the cost of raising the children will fall on the taxpayers.

The "no jail" decision involves an action which was thrust "unwittingly" upon a poor person, Judge Ward said. He said the action is against the state.

But, Judge Ward said in divorce cases, the complaining partner has had "months" maybe even years to know that a situation which could end in divorce was at hand. "They have had time to save the $25," he said.

Judge Ward said he feels the "no jail" decision is justified further because a man "sitting in jail is no good to anyone." He said the courts would rather have him out, working to support his family and making regular payment to the courts to justify the action brought against him.

Judge Ward emphasized that the new divorce law means only that poor people would not have to pay the $25 filing fee to start a divorce action.

Judge Ward said he believes the new law will help many poor people who are unable to pay their taxes.

Winter wheat strains noted

SHOSHONE — "As farmers get ready to plant grain, they wonder about the possibilities of seeding a winter wheat like Nugaines or a winter barley like Luther in comparison with standard spring varieties," reports Ivan Hopkins, county extension agent.

"Nugaines is a true winter wheat and should be planted in the fall so it will go through enough cold weather to vernalize," advised the agent.

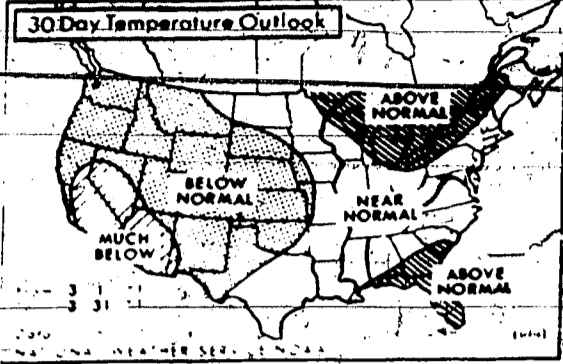

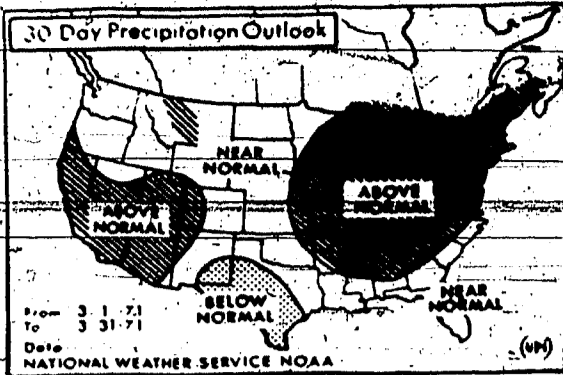

Winter wheat, he said must have about six weeks of near-freezing temperature so that it will produce heads. Occasional warmer days do not matter if nights are cold.

If soil conditions are such that winter wheat can be planted very early in the spring, and there is cold weather for five or six weeks after seeding, a fair crop may be produced. Even so, yields are seldom greater than those of a well adapted spring wheat.

There is always a chance that the winter wheat may be only partially vernalized, or not at all, resulting in a poor crop or complete failure. So the best bets for spring planting are Lemhi 66 and Federation 67.

The case of winter barley is slightly different, but results are about the same. Luther and Alpine varieties are classed as winter barley because they have the ability to survive cold weather better than common spring varieties. Winter barley is not as hardy as winter wheat.

Below normal

NATIONAL WEATHER Service's 30-day outlook for March is for temperatures to average below seasonal normals from the Great Plains to the West Coast. Above normal temperatures are indicated for the Great Lakes and Florida while near normal values are expected in unspecified areas. Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over most of the eastern half of the nation as well as the Pacific coast and central and southern portions of the Intermountain region. Subnormal totals are indicated for the southern plains. (UPI)

Rural areas face crisis

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Cong. Orval Hansen told his House colleagues this week that "we are now in a deep and serious crisis in rural America," and said we must create expanded economic opportunities and more jobs in rural areas.

Hansen addressed the House during a three hour forum set aside to examine current problems facing American agriculture.

"We hear a great deal about the urban crisis," Hansen said. "But perhaps because we do not see the same kind of explosions and the dramatic incidents on the farms we often overlook what is a more basic and more serious crisis in the rural parts of our country."

The Idaho Congressman told the House, "American farms gave our country the manpower that helps make possible our dramatic growth as an industrial nation. But the farmer who contributed so much to the progress of our country is now the victim of the very advance in technology and the rapid increase in efficiency that have characterized the remarkable rise in productivity that is a part of the story of American agriculture.

"The farm will always be the foundation of the rural economy, and we must raise farm income if we are going to give needed stimulus to the economic growth in our rural areas.

"We in Congress and in government must create the kind of framework within which farmers can expand markets, develop and employ bargaining power that will assure a fair price for their products in the market place and maintain the conditions of fair price for their products in the market place and maintain the conditions of fair competition that will protect farmers against discriminatory freight rates and import policies that can weaken and destroy markets.

"In serving the needs of rural America — and of our farmers who have contributed so much, we are serving the needs of America," Hansen concluded.

Help offered on pollution

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County farmers and ranchers can now make applications for government cost-sharing on conservation and pollution abatement practices, Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

Requests for cost sharing on spring and early summer projects will be accepted until March 12 at the county ASCS office, 582 Blue Lakes Blvd. N., Twin Falls. There will be a sign-up period later in the year for fall practices. The County ASCS committee will review requests on March 15 and obligate funds for those applications which are approved. Pollution abatement practices will receive priority, Boyd said.

The list of practices eligible for cost sharing include such projects as measures to prevent or reduce pollution from animal wastes or from sediment and chemically contaminated runoff; seeding of permanent cover; rangeland improvement and protection measures; reorganization of irrigation systems, and concrete ditch lining.

The ASC chairman said cost-sharing on these practices has been authorized under the new Rural Environmental Assistance Program which was formerly known as the Agricultural Conservation Program. Cost-sharing assistance under the 1971 REAP is intended to provide the needed incentive to bring about environmental improvement and pollution abatement through farmland conservation practices.

Snake river has adequate storage

IDAHO FALLS — Snow surveys and water measurements along the Snake River indicate there's plenty of water flowing and in storage for this summer, according to the Geological Survey of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

All snow-survey stations show a considerable increase in snow level as of March 1 over the same period a year ago, and the Snake River from Jackson Lake to Milner is flowing well above the levels of early spring, 1970.

Reports from the Bureau of Reclamation, Geological Survey and cooperating agencies show snow levels ranging from 126 to 167 per cent of the 1953-67 average.

Big Springs reported 75 inches of snow, 26.2 inches of water content, 18.6 inches of water a year ago, 17.9 inches for the average, amounting to 146 per cent of the average; Island Park, 66 inches of snow, 20.7 inches of water, 15.1 inches a year ago, 13.9 inches for the average, total amounting to 149 per cent of the average; Valley View, 65 inches of snow, 22.2 inches of water, 10.1 inches last year, 13.3 inches and 167 per cent the average; Sawtelle Mountain, 108 inches of snow, 39.5 inches water, 26.0 inches last year, no data on Henry's Lake, as of Feb. 18, average; Lewis Lake Divide, 80,400 and 82,400; Island Park Snake River Drainage, 135 Reservoir, 112,400 and 132,800; inches of snow, 53.5 inches of water, 35.1 inches last year, 36.7 inches the normal, total 146 per cent of normal; Togwotee, Snake River Drainage, 97 inches of snow, 33.5 inches water, 29.9 inches last year, 25.9 inches the normal, total 126 per cent of normal; Moran, 47 inches of snow, 14.8 inches of water, 13.7 inches last year, 11.7 inches the normal, amounting to 126 per cent of normal, and Stude Creek, 75 inches of snow, 26.8 inches of water, 22.8 inches last year, 19.2 inches the normal, 140 per cent of normal.

Precipitation, on the other hand, is slightly below normal. Island Park listed .95 inch of precipitation last year, for a February total of 2.99 inches; about half an inch below the February normal total of 3.47 inches; Moran listed a month-long total of 1.70 inches, also half an inch below the normal for February of 2.28 inches, and Palisades, with only .88 inch for the month, was nearly 50 per cent below the normal of 1.68 inches.

Acre-foot measurements of storage reservoirs, as of March 1, included Jackson Lake, 602,500, compared to 637,000 a year ago; Palisades Reservoir (in usable storage), 889,800 this year and 925,200 last year; last year, no data on Henry's Lake, as of Feb. 18, average; Lewis Lake Divide, 80,400 and 82,400; Island Park Snake River Drainage, 135 Reservoir, 112,400 and 132,800; American Falls Reservoir, 1.34 million and 1.46 million; and Lake Walcott, 43,300 and 37,400. Streamflow measurements of the Snake River were well above last year's level. In cubic feet per second, the figures showed: Moran, 535 and 402; Henry's Fork, below the dam, 583 and 531; Heise, 4,930 and 1,540; Shelley, 6,440 and 3,030; Blackfoot, as of Feb. 27, 6,330 and 2,660; Neley, 4,660 and 1,020; Snake River near Minidoka, 4,780 and 1,440; and Snake River at Milner, 4,480 and 1,340.

News Of Servicemen

WENDELL — Sgt. Scott L. Cutler, son of Mr. and Mrs. K.L. Cutler, Wendell, has received the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev., for his outstanding duty as a munitions maintenance specialist at Cam Ranh Bay Air Base, Vietnam. He is now assigned to Nellis as a fuels specialist.

Falled at First — Fidel Castro failed in his first attempt to overthrow the Cuban regime of Fulgencio Batista in 1953, when he led an unsuccessful attack on a Santiago army barracks, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Wheat school held

BURLEY — Various topics were discussed during the Wheat School held at Price's Cafe sponsored by Cassia County Extension Service.

Glen Jensen, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, Burley, reported on the revised provisions of the Agricultural Act, 1970; discussed feed grain programs and reported on the farm storage facility loan program.

Chemicals which are advisable for use in weed control in grains was reported by Bob Higgins, Twin Falls.

Howard Roylance, Boise, announced that some new varieties of wheat are now available and others will be available for the 1971-72 crops.

Wayne Theissen, soil specialist, Twin Falls, discussed fertilizers recommended for dry land wheat and irrigated wheat.

Pointers given on herbicide use

JEROME — Wilmer G. Priest, Jerome County Extension Agricultural Agent, reminds Magic Valley residents to use pre-plant herbicides correctly.

The proper use of Pre-plant Herbicides can be one of our best labor-saving production tools, he said. In using a herbicide you need to follow main steps, Priest said.

First use the right chemical and the right amount for your soil and for your crop. A good many of our herbicides are approved for the use on one crop, but not for the other crops in the rotation. Use the wrong chemical often damages other crops and it also can create residues which are above the tolerances set by the Food and Drug Administration. In general less chemical is used on a sandy soil than is used on a silt or clay soil.

Apply the chemical properly. A lot of our herbicides require complete and thorough incorporation immediately after application. These are volatile and a half hour after application and before incorporation can mean a complete failure.

The crop treated needs to be in a vigorous, rapid growing condition while the chemical is working. These are selective herbicides and will let one plant grow while another is killed. However, they are not completely selective and some irritation occurs to the plants being protected. Any stress on the desired from the herbicide. Give your crop every chance possible to get up out of the ground and growing rapidly, Priest said.

Phosphorus needed in cattle feed

JEROME — Wilmer G. Priest, Jerome County Extension Agricultural Agent, reported today in the Intermountain area phosphorus is one of the most needed elements in cattle feeds.

The lack of adequate phosphorus causes milk fever, partial sterility, and inability to produce red blood cells, he said. Any of these conditions limits the income secured from dairy and beef cattle.

The dairy and beef cattle utilize phosphorus and calcium in the ratio of two parts calcium to one part phosphorus. In our areas where we have a high lime content in our soils, our feeds have a great deal more calcium than this 2 to 1 ratio and the animal is only able to use calcium in ratio to the amount of phosphorus it receives.

Alfalfa hay contains calcium to phosphorus in the ratio of 7 or 8 parts calcium to 1 of phosphorus. Pasture grasses have a ratio of 3 1/2 to 1. Corn silage has a ratio of 2 to 1. Dried beet pulp has a ratio of 7 to 1 and wheat has a ratio of 1 to 1.

When the overall ration is high in alfalfa hay and limited on grain and silage, it is very easy for the blood calcium to phosphorus ratio to get out of line. Feeding of a good phosphorus supplement will help correct this condition, he said. The phosphorus supplement needs to have soluble phosphate in it and also needs more phosphorus than calcium. Some good phosphate supplements are Mono-Sodium phosphate and Dicalcium phosphate.

FILER — The Idaho Cattlemen's Assn. will sponsor its 32nd Annual Filer Spring Range Bull Sale on Friday, March 12, at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds, beginning at 11 a.m., according to Jim Faulkner, Bliss, manager of the sale.

Faulkner said there are 200 Hereford, both polled and horned, Angus and Shorthorn range bulls, all over 16 months and under 30 months of age consigned to the sale by registered cattle breeders from Idaho, Utah and Oregon. All of the bulls are registered and will be graded into classes of A, B-plus and B by Lawrence Bradbury, Challis, commercial cattleman; Wayne Naugle, Nampa, purebred breeder; and Dr. Joe Dahmen, University of Idaho, Caldwell, said Faulkner.

Grading will begin at 10 a.m., March 11. Each bull will be inspected for visual defects by Dr. John Lowry, deputy state veterinarian from Twin Falls, during the grading at the fairgrounds.

Faulkner also stated the Filer sale has maintained its record of being the largest mixed breed range bull sale in the Northwest and has long been noted for its outstanding offering of top quality bulls of excellent type, breeding characteristics, classification, and ability to produce top calves.

Many of the breeders are working with herd improvement programs to improve the quality of their sale bulls, he said.

"You can depend on the Idaho Cattlemen's bull sales to gather uniform bulls, grown for mountain ranges, so both the small and large cattle operators can purchase the type and quantity most suitable for their particular operation," he said.

The Idaho Cattlemen's Assn. in its continual program of improving the quality of Idaho beef and for the convenience of the cattlemen of Idaho, began these sales 32 years ago. A fall sale at Filer and one each spring at Filer have brought the best of breeding bulls to this central point for the convenience of both the consignee and the buyer.

Auctioneers will be Ken Trout, Emmett and Clayton Tschirgi, Fruitland Members of the Idaho Cattlemen's bull sale committee include Jim Faulkner, Gooding, chairman; Bill Tindall, Grasmere, vice chairman; Dale Thomas, Malad, secretary; Tom Chivers, Challis; Farrell Daniels, Malad; Keneth Naugle, Nampa; Tom Prescott, Jerome; Lew Rothwell, Arco and Kenyon Weeks, Sun Valley. Wage gap

NEW YORK (UPI) — The wage gap between men and women in the United States has been widening in recent years, reports a study by the Chase Manhattan Bank. The bank attributes this decline to several factors, including that women are generally employed in lower-paying, lower-level jobs than men; and that the marked increase in women on the labor force has created greater competition for the jobs open to them, thereby tending to depress wages in those jobs.

Pilots stun Valley to gain A-3 meet finals

SHOSHONE — The Glenns Ferry Pilots got four clutch points from Rolly Clark and Rich Brown in the last three minutes Wednesday night and then put up a precarious delay game to outlast favored Valley 58-56 and send the pre-tournament favorite Vikings to the sidelines of the fourth district A-3 basketball tournament.

The surprise win for the Pilots earned them a shot at the district title, but first they must beat the tourney-unbeaten Wendell Trojans and Kirk Dennis twice starting Thursday night at 8 p.m. However, Glenns Ferry is assured of another shot at the state A-3 tournament in Rexburg even if they fall to the Trojans, that coming in a Saturday playoff with Grace in American Falls.

For the Vikings, Little Six Conference champions, it was a bitter loss. Valley had beaten Wendell twice during the regular season handily and its only loop loss came at the hands of the Pilots in Glenns Ferry late in the year.

But the Pilots—victims of their own poor shooting many times this year—got fine scoring from workhorse Brown and Paul Shrum. Shrum ended the night with 20 points—at least eight of those coming in pressure situations with the Pilots holding one or two point leads. Clark, who was given the job of stopping 6-7 Lon Frazier underneath, fronted him effectively—especially in the first half as Frazier didn't get a point until late in the second quarter.

Ferry seized the early advantage and led the entire first half, but never by more than three points until they managed a four-point lead with four minutes left and later a six-point margin at 26-22. Vikings' guard Kim Gergen got hot early in the third quarter, but the pilots hung on and after Valley pulled within 33-32 with six minutes left Ferry mounted its biggest lead of the game up to that point, 40-34. But the Pilots rallied behind five points from Larry Richman and a tip by Frazier into a 46-46 third quarter tie. Richman's three pointer with 1:31 left in that frame shoved Valley into its first—and only—lead at 44-42, but Brown tied it up with a six-footer and Ferry never trailed again.

The last quarter of the bitterly fought game was full of big plays, but after the teams largely traded baskets, it came down to a clutch hoop from Clark and a one-and-one free throw conversion from Brown in the last minutes.

When Clark got his bucket—a return shot underneath after he's gotten position on Frazier—it was 54-52 Glenns Ferry with 3:08 left. Valley went down and missed badly, then Brown was fouled and got his two from the line to put the Pilots in front 57-52.

With 1:53 left Frazier got a lob pass underneath and flipped it in just as he was fouled by Brown—but he missed his free throw that would have made it a two-point ballgame and Wes Krohn's tip attempt on the errant shot went in and out.

Ferry went into the stall ahead 57-54 and worked it for 45 seconds before a pass went out of bounds. Valley put up three shots next time down the court and they all missed—Brown finally rebounding. Bob Shrum put it away with seven seconds left with two from the line before Krohn swished a 30-footer at the buzzer for the Vikings.

Clay brightens up weigh-in with little bit of 'poetry'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay and Joe Frazier, the Sound and the Fury, underwent their physical examinations Wednesday in the same ring they'll use for their Fight of the Champions next Monday night, and to no one's surprise both were declared "magnificent." Clay, also known as Muhammad Ali, made his entrance shouting to the delight of the crowd of several hundred fans that had gathered outside and hundreds of reporters inside.

"Joe's gonna come out smokin' and I ain't gonna be joking. I'll be pecking and a pekin'." Pouring water on his smokin'.

As he underwent his examination, he said, "Where's that Joe Frazier, who's going around calling himself champion. I got some things I want to say to him. I'm the talker and I'm the predictor, and he's trying to play my game. Next thing I know, he'll try to do the snuffin'."

The examinations by the New York commission physician, Dr. A. Harry Kleinman, were conducted at separate times just so the two fighters couldn't confront each other before they climb into the ring. Even next Monday's noon weigh-in will be held separately for each man.

Right after undergoing inspection, the 27-year-old Frazier returned to his training camp in Philadelphia, where he will conclude his last two days of training against the Garden's wishes to have him stay in New York. Frazier left nearly an hour before the 29-year-old Clay arrived at the Garden. Clay asked reporters, "Do you want me to train here or go back to Miami?"

"Stay here," was the unanimous reply.

Flamingo stakes won in upset

HIACLEAH, Fla. (UPI)—Peter Kissel's Executioner took a six-week vacation at Hiacleah Park and came back Wednesday for an upset victory in the $155,000 Flamingo Stakes, the first major money race for the triple crown colts.

With jockey Jacinto Vasquez riding him perfectly, Executioner was a tired horse at the end of the mile and one-eighth, but his head was in front of Greentree Stables' pace-setting Dynastic to win the big purse of $100,750.

F. J. Caldwell's Jim French captured third money, three and a half lengths behind Dynastic. The favored His Majesty from Darby Dan Farms finished a well-beaten sixth. The crowd of 27,582 lost $94,196 on the colt in the win betting pool alone.

Although Executioner had been kept training sharply for the six weeks following his victory Jan. 20 in the Hibiscus Stakes, his comparatively few followers received a lucrative payoff of $14.80, $8.00 and $5.20 for a $2 bet across the board.

Wichita cans cage mentor

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—A one-time Missouri Valley Coach of the Year, 38-year-old Gary Thompson, was looking for a job today after he was fired Wednesday at Wichita State by athletic director Cecil Coleman.

Thompson was head coach at Wichita State for seven seasons and an assistant for six seasons prior to that. Succeeding Ralph Miller, who went to Iowa, in 1964, Thompson took the Wheatshockers to the NCAA finals after winning the Missouri Valley championship and the NCAA Midwest Regional title.

Thompson ran upon hard times in recent years, however. Wichita State finished sixth in the Valley in 1968-69 (11-15 and 4-6) and fell to seventh in 1969-70 (8-18 and 3-13). Thompson barely escaped being fired a year ago.

This season's team finished 10-16 overall and 3-11 in the rugged Missouri Valley. The last-place finish virtually assured a new coach for next year.

Thompson's last game was Monday night in the season finale. Wichita State suffered a 93-60 pasting by Tulsa in front of the Wichita fans.

- 1 and 3:10 p.m. (CST)—Midwest Regional.
- 2 and 4:05 p.m. (MST)—West Regional.

Coaches named for grid game

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—Bob Devaney of Nebraska and Charlie McClendon of LSU, opposing coaches in the 1971 Orange Bowl game, will match strategy again June 26 in Lubbock, Texas, in the annual Coaches All-America Game.

Devaney, whose Cornhuskers completed an undefeated season with their 17-12 victory over LSU, will be head coach of the West team. McClendon, co-coach of the year in the balloting by the American Football Coaches' Association, will direct the East.

It will be a repeat performance for McClendon, whose East team won a 34-27 thriller in last summer's game.

The appointments were announced by Earle Edwards of North Carolina State, president of the American Football Coaches, the game's sponsor.

Assisting Devaney will be John Ralston of Stanford's Rose Bowl champions and Benny Ellender, college division coach of the year who is the new head coach at Tulane. Last season he coached Arkansas State.

On McClendon's staff are Alex Agase of Northwestern and Fran Curci, now head coach of Miami, Fla., but last season coach of Tampa.

Bucks claim 17th in row

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Bucks shook off Lew Alcindor's lowest scoring total of the year Wednesday night to beat the Los Angeles Lakers 112-97 for their 17th successive victory, one short of the National Basketball Association record.

Alcindor scored just 15 points while seeing limited action because of foul trouble and a desire to give him a rest, but Oscar Robertson, Jon McGlocklin, Bob Dandridge and Greg Smith picked up the slack.

Robertson hit 24 points and McGlocklin 22, including 10 in the first quarter when the Bucks built a 27-21 lead. Dandridge added 17 and Smith 16.

Gail Goodrich had 25 points and Wilt Chamberlain 24 to lead Los Angeles.

Sooners keep hopes alive

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma, paced by big Clifford Ray, kept its NFL hopes smoldering with a 95-68 victory over Iowa State Wednesday night.

The Sooners, who raised their league record to 8-4 and the overall mark to 18-6, had six men in double figures, but the big difference was Ray.

Missouri, idle Wednesday, is 9-3 in Big Eight action and has the edge over Oklahoma in post season tournament hopes. Iowa State fell to 3-10 in conference play and 5-19 overall.

Suns break Bulls' skein

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Backcourt men Clem Haskins and Dick Van Arsdale teamed for 51 points as the Phoenix Suns broke Chicago's seven-game win streak Wednesday night with a 115-90 victory over the Bulls.

The Suns also got double scoring from Lamar Green and Mel Counts, who shared the duties of forward Connie Hawkins, ill with the flu.

Haskins paced the Suns with 28 points, including 12 in each of the closing quarters. Van Arsdale added 25, Counts 18, Neal Walk 14, and Green and Paul Silas 11 each.

The Suns broke open a close game in the closing minutes of the first half, outscoring the Bulls 17-10 in the final minutes to move into a 53-42 halftime advantage.

Celts win

BOSTON (UPI)—Jo Jo White and John Havlicek offset a 35 point performance by Elvin Hayes Wednesday night as the Boston Celtics overcame the San Diego Rockets 128-113.

Torn knee ligaments sideline West for remainder of year

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jerry West, the Los Angeles Lakers superstar guard, will be lost for the season with torn ligaments in his right knee, a spokesman said Wednesday, dimming the team's hopes for a National Basketball Association championship.

West was to undergo surgery later in the day at Centinela Valley Hospital. Dr. Frank Jobe was expected to perform the surgery.

According to Dr. Robert Kerlan, Laker team physician, the 32-year-old West will be in a cast for six weeks and will be unable to participate in any athletic endeavors for three months.

West was injured Tuesday night when he and 6-10 Buffalo Sabre Bob Kauffman collided.

The loss of West cast a pall over the Laker's playoff hopes. Coach Joe Mullaney was counting on West and his 27.1 points-per-game average to help lead the team to the finals.

West has been injured so often in the past four years that his "on the injured list" time amounts to nearly a full season. Since he broke into the pros in 1960, West has suffered at least 10 broken noses, several sprained ankles, a fractured hand, numerous jammed thumbs and a series of leg injuries ranging from pulled hamstrings to strained ligaments.

Earlier in the season, he mentioned that it might be his last and Tuesday's injury may have been the bellringer.

"It hurt like hell," said the usually softspoken West who was carried to the locker room following the collision in the first half. "It felt like someone ripped a piece of adhesive tape off my leg when it happened."

West, who after last season's loss to the New York Knicks in the NBA finals said he was considering retiring from basketball, has never played on a championship team. It was one of the moving forces that brought him back this year. He wanted to help the Lakers win the title that has eluded them three of the last five years.

The tidal current in San Francisco Bay reaches a peak of 10 million cubic feet a second, says National Geographic.

City bowl champions

Washington OKs 11th game

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Approval has been granted to add an 11th game to the University of Washington's 1971 football schedule, Joe Kearney, director of sports programs, announced Wednesday.

Kearney said the game would be played Sept. 11 against an opponent yet to be named. He said the University had been negotiating with several schools, including San Jose State, to play a 1971 game in Seattle.

Oakley smothers Hagerman to claim district crown

BURLEY — Oakley's powerful Hornets did it all Wednesday night, played defense, shot red-hot and controlled the backboard as they dropped the Hagerman Pirates 85-64 to win the sixth district A-4 championship and earn the right to defend their state crown

In Coeur d'Alene next week. Hagerman, which saw its title hopes doomed six minutes into the game, still will have a crack at joining the Hornets at Coeur d'Alene. Coach Bob Chapman's crew will meet the fourth district champion — either Rimrock or Greenleaf — but probably Rimrock — in a single game playoff at 8 p.m. Saturday at Mountain Home for the eighth tournament spot. The prospects of the two rematching for a fourth time in the state finals isn't that remote, either. For the first time this year, Hagerman found the shoe on the other foot. Matching up well defensively, Oakley took a couple-three minutes to get its feet on the ground. But when they got there the end came suddenly. Hagerman, after falling behind 8-3, pulled to within one. Then all five Oakley starters hit at least two points while the Pirates struggled five minutes with only one field goal by Greg Laughlin. By the time Laughlin hit two free throws 1:02 into the second period, the Hornets were in a laugher, sitting on a 30-10 lead. It was the kind of position that Hagerman has seen often this year — but until Wednesday night it was the Pirates who were coasting: Oakley Coach Neal Wyatt started going to the bench midway through the second period but it didn't make much difference. For a while everything Oakley threw up went in. Late in the second period Oakley's overall strength was evident. In two trips down the floor the Hornets needed five attempts to get the ball through but ping-ponged it around the hoop until it finally did.

Oakley 6-5 senior Randy Hardy, winding up his third starting year, said farewell in outstanding fashion. He hit 16 of his 24 points in the first half and hit five straight at one stretch. He turned in a good early job of defense and joined with Simmons in bulwarking the Hornet rebounding. Keith Adams and Egbert, Oakley's guards, fairly well shut off Hagerman's strength — the fast break — and their ball hawking was a big key in the first-quarter breakout. Only Hagerman's Laughlin was able to maintain his equilibrium in the face of Oakley's all-out attack. He hit 18 points, was 10-for-10 from the foul line and came on to stabilize Hagerman after the early disaster.

Raft-River claimed the jayvee championship on a free throw by Allred with two seconds left. The shot beat Rockland 52-51 in a unique situation that saw Rockland ahead 51-38 and decline to shoot for most of the fourth quarter in an attempt to stall the game away. It was the second cliff-hanger for Raft-River which nipped Oakley 52-50 on a bucket by Leon Paskett Tuesday night in the final five seconds.

'Blue Monster' of Doral open awaits challenges of pros

MIAMI (UPI) — It's time for the "Blue Monster" again, and officials of the $150,000 Doral Eastern Open promise the demanding course will be tougher than ever this year for the top field that starts play Thursday. Doral President Howard Kasel says each of the 106 bunkers has been recontoured and refilled with sand, all fairways were scraped, spiked and resseeded and some of the greens have been recontoured. In charge of the work was golf architect-tour pro Bruce Devlin who promised there will be no more easy one-putts from the back of the greens and no more using a putter out of traps. While a safe rite is not to tamper with success, officials at the par 72, 7,028-yard layout are confident that the alterations in the "Blue Monster" will preserve the water fringed course's reputation as one of the most demanding anywhere. Among the players to watch in the 72-hole tournament will be Devlin himself and Jack Nicklaus, winner of last year's

PGA tournament at Palm Beach gardens. Although it is becoming increasingly difficult to win tournaments back to back and although Nicklaus admits he is prone to spend much of his efforts preparing for the big

NBA will appeal decision

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Basketball Association has appealed a decision by Justice William O. Douglas to the Supreme Court to prevent Spencer Haywood from playing with the Seattle Superonics until lower court decisions are rendered on other cases involving Haywood. League attorney George Galantz told NBA owners that the appeal of Douglas' decision could be acted upon as early as Friday. Douglas, on an appeal by the Superonics, had overruled an appellate court decision to allow Haywood to play for Seattle until decisions are made in federal district court on two other cases. Haywood, who played with the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association last year before jumping to Seattle, must defend in federal court in Los Angeles a suit by Denver contending that it has a valid contract with him. If the court finds for Denver, the other cases would be dropped. If the court finds that Haywood could jump to Seattle, then a trial would be held of a suit by Haywood against the NBA seeking a ruling that the NBA regulation prohibiting any team from signing a player until his class has finished college is a violation of antitrust legislation. The Supreme Court decision on the NBA appeal could be made before either of the Haywood cases in Los Angeles federal district court begins. The owners also granted Buffalo the 26th draft choice in the next draft meeting to compensate the team for its failure to attain Ray Scott, chosen by Buffalo from Baltimore in the league expansion draft. Scott jumped to the ABA and never played for Buffalo.

Tar Heels win ACC eage title

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UPI) — North Carolina recovered from a shaky start to clinch the regular season Atlantic Coast Conference title in convincing fashion Wednesday night by downing North Carolina State 97-81.

The Tar Heels outscored the Wolfpack 25-10 in the first nine minutes of the second half and pulled up a season high 59 rebounds enroute to the win. The win left North Carolina, which still has a game at Duke remaining, 11-2 in the ACC and 20-4 overall. State bolted to an 18-3 lead behind the aggressive play of Rick Holt and Paul Coder. But Dave Chadwick and Kim Holman narrowed the gap to two points and Dennis Wuyck, high scorer with 26, put in four straight layups 3-31 lead 5:17 remaining in the first half. The Tar Heels went to the locker room at the half with

Big Sky indoor meet set

POCATELLO — The first annual Big Sky Conference track meet will be held Saturday in the ISU Mindome. Field events start at 7:30 with the pole vault, high jump and long jump. The first running event will be Idaho State's record attempt in the 800 relay at 7:45.

Trials will be necessary in most running events and some field events, starting at 1 p.m. Idaho State is the favorite since the Bengals are one of two Big Sky schools with indoor track facilities, and have won seven consecutive outdoor titles. The Bengals also have several performers who have done well enough this winter indoors to earn ranking in the U.S. top ten.

Carl Lawson last week broke the world 220-yard dash record with a 21.4 clocking. Lawson earlier held a share of the 300 American All-Comers mark at 30.4. The 300 will be contested Saturday, along with the 60, 440, 600, 880, 1000, Mile, 2 mile, 60-yard hurdles, 880 and mile relays, pole vault, long and triple jumps, high jump, and shot put.

The Bengal 880-yard relay team shoots for the word record of 1:27.5. ISU has clocked 1:28.9 earlier but passed out of the lane and was disqualified. ISU's mile relay team clocked 3:14.8 last week to rank it third in the U.S. in 1971.

Carey tops Richfield in overtime; Mushers oust 'Skins in A-4

GOODING — The Carey Panthers took advantage of a costly Richfield foul in the last two seconds to come from three points behind and tie the game Wednesday night, then blanked the Tigers in overtime to take a 48-41 victory and move into the finals of the fifth district A-4 basketball tournament. In the first game, Camas County eliminated Gooding State-73-33.

Carey sits out Thursday night while the Mushers and Tigers battle in a loser-out game at 8 p.m. The winner plays the Mushers Friday night and a Saturday extra session is possible if either Richfield or Camas County wins.

Camas can win the Thursday game. Richfield seemingly had the nightcap all wrapped up but Dick Simpson drove in for a cripple in the last two seconds and instead of letting him have the two points and allowing time to run out the Tigers fouled. Simpson calmly dropped in the tying point and then the Panthers went to work in the overtime, outscoring Richfield easily as the Tigers missed three one-and-one opportunities. Simpson — who had 12 points from the line for the game — got three in the extra session and the Panthers got points from Cenarrusa

Stocking, and Dennis Rush to close it out. Carey controlled the first half, but barely led 22-20. In the opening the Redskins, who shocked Buys in the second round last week, played adequate defense but couldn't buy a basket. Meanwhile Camas, putting five men in double figures, broke it open by the half 34-16.

Humanitarian changed life

By HUGH O'BRIAN TV and Movie Star

Somewhere across the wide river lay my angsr. Anxiously I settled in the dugout as paddlers stabbed the Ogowee, each surge drawing me closer to Albert Schweitzer.

Meeting this great humanitarian had become vital to me. For in spite of the success of my acting career, I still searched for that indefinable something.

A magazine article by Schweitzer on world peace had spurred me to ask to visit him. The cable invitation came just as I was finishing a tour for my television role as Wyatt Earp.

Grabbing a suitcase, I flew to Africa, hop-skipping into the interior by small planes until the battered DC 3 landed on the red dirt strip of Lambarene.

I was met by one of the volunteer doctors serving with Schweitzer, and soon we were heading four miles up the river to the famed hospital.

The jungle loomed higher, and a small knot of people came down to the bank. As we approached, I could make out the white walrus mustache under the white pith helmet.

Our dugout ground gravel, and the gentleman stepped forward. Cobalt-blue eyes looked into my soul. "Willkommen!" he said. His compassionate grip helped me realize that this was not a dream.

For this meeting had long been a dream ever since I, when a pre-law student, had first read his writing. Night sinks quickly in Gabon. And with the doctors and nurses we filed into the dining hall for the evening meal.

Before dinner, we listened to the doctor softly play Bach on the zinc-lined harmonium. And then he read from a great Bible, his hands caressing its pages. I can't understand German, but when he gave his interpretation, somehow the message touched me, and I sensed the deep love that flowed here in Lambarene.

The next morning I discovered that everyone works at Lambarene. As Schweitzer once said, "Usefulness is the test of value." So I worked in the kitchen, built baby cribs, exercised old plumbing skills, and lugged supplies to the leper colony.

Goats and chickens wandered about the hospital. In the laboratory, I saw an attendant pursue a bee, gently capture it under a glass beaker and release the intruder at the window. It was the doctor's orders. Schweitzer would fight even to save a tree from being cut down, reflecting the philosophy which summed up his spirit—reverence for life.

In explaining, he said, "To live in true humanity means to be inspired by the idea of reverence for all of life. If he finds a creature that needs help (and everyone finds such creatures), he will help. This will bring him happiness because he realizes that it is in his power to act for good."

"Though freeing a bee may seem insignificant, it should remind man of the mystery of life and the respect he should have for each life. It should make him a more human, thinking being." Love and respect for all of life. How far ahead of his time he was! For doesn't his philosophy relate to what ecologists stress today—that when any form of life is damaged, be it scarlet tanager or tidal marsh, all of nature and mankind suffers?

My opportunity to further explore Schweitzer's thinking came after evening meals when an interpreter and I joined him in his study.

As he expressed his ideas, he'd close his eyes, slowly forming his words, a gnarled forefinger tapping the air for emphasis. I hung on each syllable, the interpreter's voice just an echo.

Again and again he stressed that though we all must work to live, our real purpose in life is to show compassion in helping others. Only then, he emphasized, do we become true human beings.

After our talks, I would lay awake on my cot and think on them. Many confirmed old personal beliefs. Others sparked new insight.

But my special enlightenment was the full realization of Schweitzer's statement: "So many people come here to Lambarene," he said, "and others wish to but are unable to come. But everyone is capable of his own Lambarene."

This was my truth. I couldn't change the world, but I could do something on my own in my own way to put something back into life.

I thought of the people already hard at work doing just this, from women ringing doorbells collecting for cystic-fibrosis research to men giving time and themselves to underprivileged kids. Instead of only taking from life, they were giving to it. Each was demonstrating his reverence for life. Each was creating his own Lambarene.

The mist was rising from the river the morning Doctor Schweitzer and I walked down to the landing to say good-bye. I got into the dugout, and the paddlers picked up a slow chant as we glided away.

I waved at the man in the white pith helmet under which shined those marvelous twinkling eyes. As he receded into the mist, I turned and faced my challenge. Would I just admire a memory, or would I try to create my own Lambarene?

EDITOR'S NOTE: After returning from Lambarene, Hugh O'Brian expressed his reverence for life by establishing a foundation to help young men develop leadership. Each year 60 outstanding high-school sophomores from every state and 10 foreign countries qualify for a special week-long workshop, on subjects ranging from national politics to science.

when he didn't have to. Instead he played dummy's four of clubs. The best East could do was to rise with the queen and return a spade, but once that queen appeared there was no need to try for a second spade trick. Mr. Lincoln had started with 11 tricks. The jack of clubs had become his 12th.

Suppose that West had held the queen of clubs. It would have gobbled up the jack but Mr. Lincoln would still have had plenty of time to choose between the spade finesse and a possible club-spade squeeze in case Mr. Douglas had started with the king of spades and four clubs to the queen.

The bidding has been:
West North East South
1♥ 3♦ 1c 2♣
Pass 3♦ Pass 3♣
Pass 4♥ Pass

You South hold:

AKQ732 W ♠ AK98 ♣ K1043
What do you do now?
A—Bid four no-trump. You are willing to play a slam if your partner holds three aces since he almost surely has a diamond suit of at least five cards.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three diamonds your partner has bid well have tried the spade three hearts over your two finesse and gone down, but hearts. You bid three spades to Mr. Lincoln was a mighty see what will happen and he good bridge player. He bids four. What do you do now? never tried a one shot play

Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Extensive research on our part has shown that Abraham Lincoln actually said, "You can fool some declarers all of the time and all declarers some of the time, but you can't fool all declarers all of the time."

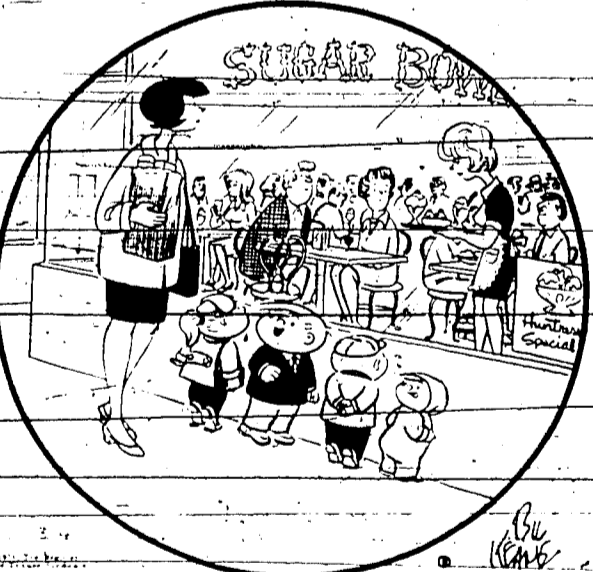

It was made when Lincoln was playing six no-trump against Sen. Stephen Douglas. The 10 of diamonds was opened and won in the South hand. Mr. Lincoln cashed dummy's three top hearts and the remark came when the little giant discarded the spade deuce.

If Mr. Lincoln had believed that deuce he might well have tried the spade three hearts over your two finesse and gone down, but hearts. You bid three spades to Mr. Lincoln was a mighty see what will happen and he good bridge player. He bids four. What do you do now? never tried a one shot play

AN ELIGIBLE BACHELOR with fine brown hair, 11-year-old husband hunting, that's what you ought to look for, young lady. Such a fellow is said to make the best matrimonial mate. A man with exceedingly dark hair tends to be loyal. But a fair-haired boy is apt to be too interested in himself. Men with prematurely gray hair are known to be good-natured, but it's said their fascination with finances sometimes interferes with romance. The foregoing is not our own Love and War man's analysis. It was contributed by another human relations specialist, currently unemployed.

HOW LONG does it take you to wind your watch, mister? A craftsman with a national jewelry firm says the average man spends 19 seconds a day at it... THE LOVELY LADIES of Italy centuries ago were so complexion conscious a number of them went to bed nightly with a milk-soaked veal cutlet strapped to each cheek. Quite a fad for awhile there, that... CERTAINLY you already knew the starfish that loses an arm can grow another arm. But were you aware the snail that loses an eye can grow another eye?

RARE IS the American who can tell you the whereabouts of those historical bodies of water once known as Lake Tracy, Lake DeConty, Lake Illinois, Lake Fontenac and the Sweet Sea. Never heard of them, what? Neither had I. Respectively, they're Lake Superior, Lake Erie, Lake Michigan, Lake Ontario and Lake Huron.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "How much hot food is too much to put in the freezer at any one time?" A. Our Household Hints specialist says you ought to be able to freeze up to two pounds per cubic foot. A 20-foot box would take 40 pounds at a time, in other words... Q. "What suggestions can your Love and War man offer a 23-year-old single girl - me - who's about to go to Italy to meet some nice European gentlemen?" A. Buy a round-trip ticket, honey, says he, cynically... Q. "What's the survival rate of twins?" A. Eleven out of 12 make it. As do five out of six triplets. And three out of four quadruplets.

NOT OFTEN has it been reported how some Australians hunt rabbits. They get them drunk. The rabbits then are baited with rum. Rabbits go for rum. And after they drink so much they pass out, those Australian hunters just walk around with gunny sacks to pick them up. Realize the foregoing sounds like something we Forest Service boys used to tell one another around the campfire in Montana, but it is affirmed to be fact by correspondents who are not always wrong.

THE MORE EXPERIENCED the traveler, the less luggage he carries. An airline stewardess told me that... GOING TO PAINT the porch stairs? Might toss a little sand into the paint. To prevent slipping... BELIEVE the vending machine operators shortly will stock spring water at a nickel a cup. It's in the works.

RAPID REPLY - Ace of spades carries a fancier design, because that was the card years ago the British stamped to show the tax had been paid on the deck.

Jurors indict police

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted six police officers in connection with three incidents last summer in Los Angeles—four of them in the shooting deaths of two Mexicans.

The indictments were announced by Attorney General John N. Mitchell. Mentioned in over-all indictments were six Los Angeles policemen and one from San Leandro. A seventh person, a civilian, also was indicted.

The three cases involved two separate shooting deaths and injury to a man.

At the same time, Mitchell announced that the Justice Department has closed its investigation into the deaths last August of newsmen Ruben Salazar and Jerry Lee Amie—the latter a Negro Vietnam veteran—during a rally of Mexican-Americans (Chicanos) in Los Angeles.

Witnesses describe briefing

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — Two army veterans testified at the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley today that there was no mention of killing women and children in the briefing for company commanders prior to the American infantry sweep through My Lai.

The rebuttal witnesses called by the government were Lt. Col. Frederic W. Watke, who commanded a helicopter company that did reconnaissance over the assault troops on the My Lai mission, and Staff Sgt. Lones Warren, who was senior military policeman for Task Force Barker.

They said that the late Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker Jr. gave the briefing to company commanders and others on March 15, 1968, at his headquarters. Barker was killed in a helicopter crash about three months after the My Lai operation.

The defense contends that Calley's commander, Capt. Ernest L. Medina, came from that Barker briefing and told his men to kill every living thing in the hamlet.

Calley is charged with premeditated murder of 102 women, children and old men during the sweep. He contends he was following orders.

The testimony of Watke and Warren came after Judge Col. Reid W. Kennedy granted the government the right to widen its case and produce later testimony that Calley, one month before My Lai, watched while his men beat an elderly Vietnamese man in a well.

Calley then allegedly shot and killed the unarmed man.

Watke said that he did not remember the names of the company commanders present at the Barker briefing but he believed there were only two of the three in the task force.

"Was there any specific mention of women and children?" asked Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, the prosecutor.

"Not specifically, no," Watke replied.

"Was an order given to kill every man, woman and child in the area?"

"No,"

Warren testified that it was customary for him to attend all Barker briefings. He said he remembered instructions on the 48th enemy battalion at this one.

Mitchell said a grand jury in Los Angeles indicted three city police officers and a San Leandro policeman on charges of depriving three Mexican nationals of their constitutional rights.

In a separate indictment, the grand jury charged two Los Angeles policemen and a civilian with conspiring to burglarize a woman's home. A third Los Angeles police officer was indicted on charges of requiring a young Chinese woman to disrobe for a search.

Indicted in the shootings of the Mexicans were Sgt. Marshall F. Gaines and officers Jeffrey J. Fedrizzi and Hector R. Zepeda of Los Angeles and William Kinsella of the San Leandro Police Department.

In one indictment the three were charged with the fatal shooting of Guillermo Alcazar Sanches and the injury of Angel Michel Bartoleno on July 16, 1970. Sanchez was shot and Bartoleno was injured as they dropped from a second story rear window of an apartment.

In the second indictment, Gaines was charged with the fatal shooting of Guillermo Beltran Sanchez at the front entrance of the same apartment on the same day.

Mitchell said the grand jury acted after manslaughter and assault charges against the officers were dismissed in local court. If convicted on deprivation of the constitutional rights of persons by death, the accused officers could be sentenced to a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

In announcing an end to the Salazar and Amie investigations, Mitchell said the separate deaths were extensively investigated by the FBI and testimony was heard by a grand jury. He said no prosecutable civil rights violations were found.

Salazar was a columnist for the Los Angeles Times. He and two other persons were killed during a Chicano moratorium rally and march last Aug. 29.

Mitchell said Amie, by Los Angeles police officers. A Los Angeles County Grand Jury declined to prosecute, and the U.S. attorney's office "conducted an extensive investigation," Mitchell said.

Sgt. Gaines, indicted in the Mexican shootings, together with Lt. Edgar Brown, and a police informant, Angelo Di Renzo, the civilian, all were indicted on charges of conspiring to burglarize the home of Mrs. Virginia Van Shaw on March 11, 1970.

Soviet Jews to combat harassment

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Jews who claimed they were threatened with violent reprisals for trying to emigrate to Israel have warned Soviet authorities they may adopt self-defense tactics if harassment is not stopped, Jewish sources said today.

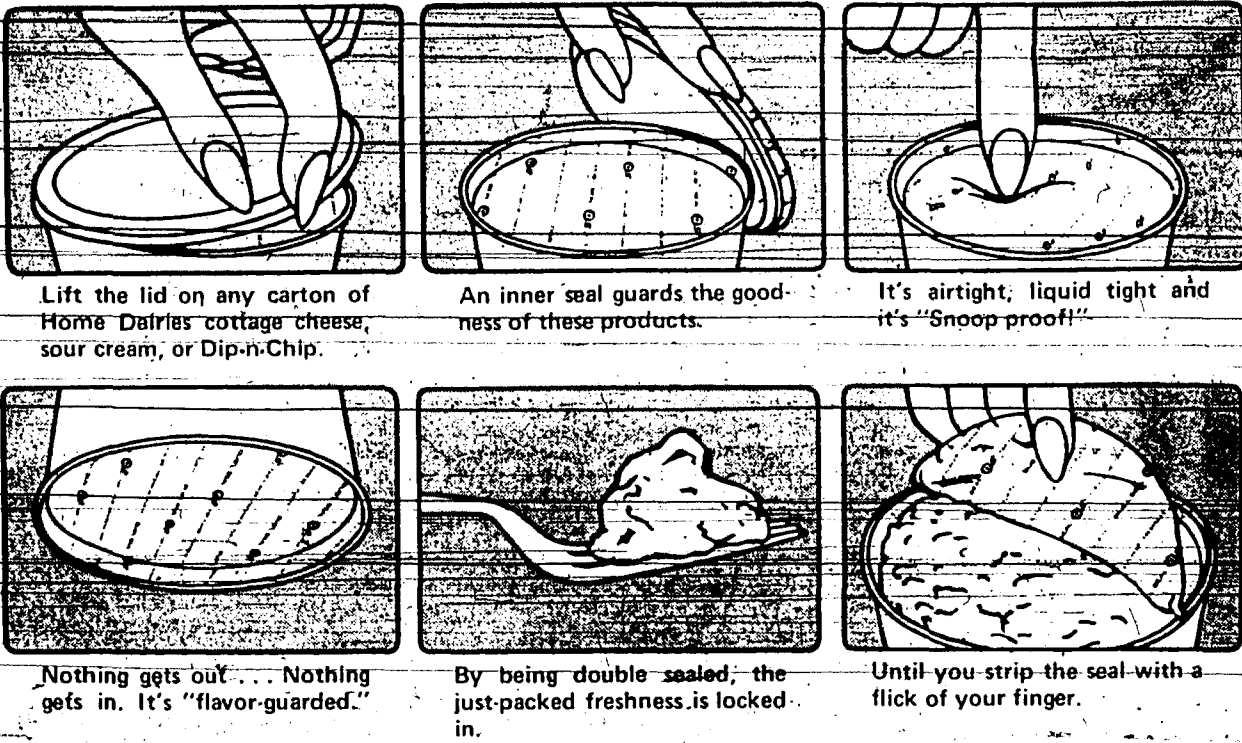

A letter signed by 17 Soviet Jews has been sent to the Soviet Minister of Internal Affairs, N.V. Shchelokov, sources said.

It alleged the Jews had received anonymous letters carrying "direct threats of physical reprisal."

It said at least one Jew was beaten by officials inspired by a letter who told him: "Now you will know how to leave for Israel." The letter said the Jew was threatened with arrest for making a false claim when he reported the beating to the police.
