

Red Chinese try out first ICBM missile

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird today unveiled evidence Red China may have already fired its first ICBM and said an apparent pause last year in Russian missile development could have heralded the birth of a new Soviet ICBM system.

China could develop an initial force of operation intercontinental ballistic missiles. "The Soviet and Chinese threats to the U.S. call for moving ahead toward the full safeguard (anti-ballistic missile) deployment," he said. The complete safeguard system would include 12 ABM sites in the United States. At present only three sites have been approved.

Laird announced plans to start surveys for a fourth site in the safeguard system. He also outlined military threats to the free world and potential hot spots, detailed plans for a top-level Pentagon reorganization and traced a long-range program to hand over more defense responsibility to U.S. allies by substituting increased military aid for the presence of American soldiers.

"The better equipped our friends and allies are to provide for their own security, the more firm will be our own security," Laird said. "This is so because the probability of war and of U.S. involvement in war will be lowered."

Laird also revealed that during the first half of 1971, despite an increase by 110 in the total number of Russian missiles while the U.S. total holds steady, the number of Soviet warheads will increase by only 11 per cent while the U.S. warhead total goes up 15 per cent.

"There has been an unexplained slowdown in deployment of current Soviet ICBM models," Laird said. "But he said tests of modifications to the huge SS9 and smaller SS11 and SS13 missiles have continued. "The implications of these trends are still not clear," he said. Two possible explanations he offered were that planned installations had been completed or that new installations had been "stowed" down to permit installation of improved missiles or multiple warheads in existing silos. "Alternatively, the explanation may be that the Soviets are preparing to deploy new ICBM missile systems," Laird said.

Of the Chinese ICBM program, Laird said: "The start of testing has not yet been confirmed, but a reduced range test of an ICBM may have occurred in late 1970."

Guerrillas shake truce

By United Press International Israel reported clashes on its borders with Jordan and Lebanon today in a surge of Arab guerrilla activity. The Suez Canal front with Egypt remained quiet despite tension described as so thick it could be cut "with a knife."

In Cairo, a government spokesman denied Israel's charge that the Soviet Union was determining Egyptian policy. The spokesman said Israel Foreign Minister Abba Eban, who made the charge, "has lost his balance."

"Eban knows very well, as well as the whole world knows, that the policy of Egypt is made in Cairo alone," the spokesman said. Eban said Sunday that Egypt refused to renew the Middle East ceasefire which expired Sunday.

There was no shooting along the Suez Canal but the Israeli newspaper Ma-Arivi said "one can cut the tension with a knife." An Israeli military spokesman in Tel Aviv announced an Arab guerrilla bazooka round wounded an Israeli soldier in the occupied Galan Heights of Syria today and a guerrilla infiltrator was killed by an Israeli patrol on the Lebanese front near Jebel Ras.

Minico shifts school zones

RUPERT — Minico school district trustees changed zone boundaries Monday, completing action resulting from a law suit against the district.

Camden Meyer, superintendent, said the changes amount to "straightening" boundaries in trustee zones. A group of parents sued the district, seeking to shift student population at the county's two new junior high schools and to change zone boundaries.

Judge Charles Scoggin, Gooding, senior Fifth District judge, ordered the district to realign its boundaries. Superintendent Meyer had divided the district using 1970 census figures studied and made with the help of Minico High School students. The parents charged the survey had not been done according to state standards. Meyer said "parents attended the meeting Monday night and concurred with his figures on realignment. He said they simply "wanted it explained to them."

Changes made in trustee zones Monday night were along the city limits of Rupert. Part of trustee Zone 4 was moved to Zone 5; part from Zone 4 into Zone 3, and part from Zone 3 into Zone 4. Meyer said some shifting in student population also has taken place at the junior high schools, with present enrollment being about 750 in East Minico Junior High School and about 625 in West Minico Junior High School. Meyer said Judge Scoggin has informed the district that if the trustee zone changes meet with his approval, no election will be required.

Tax ceiling eyed by T.F. schools

By LEE TREMAINE Times-News Staff Writer TWIN FALLS — Since state law imposes a limit of four per cent on new taxation each year, "how does the city get away with a 16-per-cent increase," George Staudaer, incoming superintendent of Twin Falls schools, asked Monday night during the board of trustees meeting.

Board members discussed the financial bind imposed on all taxing units by legislation clamping a limit on new taxation, figured as a percentage of the previous year's tax levy. Staudaer said the Twin Falls City Council had indicated the 1971 city budget would require an increase in city taxes amounting to about 16 per cent over last year. "How do they do it when we can't?" he asked.

Calley trial at end

By H. D. QUIGG

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — The government comes today to the final resting of its case against Lt. William L. Calley Jr. with testimony that incidents both before and after My Lai he showed the mental capacity to premeditate murder.

The prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, announced he had only four more witnesses and should be finished by noon of this 44th day of the military trial in which Calley, a former platoon leader, is charged with premeditated murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians. One of the witnesses would bolster the testimony of three men who testified Monday that as close as two weeks before the March 18, 1968, My Lai assault, an unarmed Vietnamese farmer was killed in a well. Calley, who was seen with a gun at the well, later reported he had shot a Viet Cong suspect, they said.

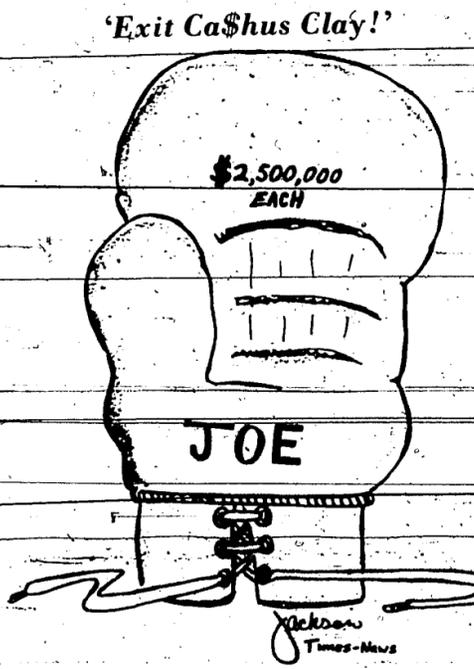

Captured airmen released

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Anti-government Turkish guerrillas freed four kidnaped U.S. airmen Monday night, leaving them in an unguarded apartment 700 yards from the U.S. Embassy. The GIs walked to freedom through a door their captors left open.

The Americans said they had been well-treated and adequately fed on cheese, bread and olives in five days of captivity at the hands of guerrillas who called themselves the Turkish Liberation Army. They threatened to kill the Americans unless the Turkish government paid $400,000 ransom. "We did not pay a single cent," said a Turkish-government spokesman. Sgt. Jimmie J. Sexton of San Angelo, Tex., and Airmen L.C. James Ghobson of Alexandria, Va., Larry S. Heavner of Denver, Colo., and Richard Crazi of Stamford, Conn., had been held Thursday as they left a radar station outside Ankara. Ghobson said the guerrillas left the apartment about 11:30 p.m. Monday night without a word.

Vandals hit Jerome dump

JEROME — Vandals in the county-operated dump northeast of town is causing concern to Jerome County commissioners, John Van Orman, chairman, said today. Lights on the land leveling equipment of Vernon Mason, Wendell, who has the maintenance contract, have been shot out and lumber and metal building material to be used for a shed to house the equipment have been stolen, Van Orman said. Commissioners plan to install a gate and after learning what hours the dump is used the most, will set a definite schedule when the site is open. Monday, commissioners discussed the problems of the dump, which the accidentally dropped napalm on county assumed the first of the South Vietnamese troops advancing toward Sepone Saturday.

Bombs strike trail, allies

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. saturation bombing of the Ho Chi Minh Trail junction near Sepone has touched off a massive series of secondary explosions caused by the blowing up of Communist supplies, military spokesmen said today. Air Force forward air controllers said more than 1,600 secondary explosions were touched off Monday by 3 1/2 hours of heavy air strikes one mile northeast of Sepone, captured Saturday by South Vietnamese forces. On Sunday, spokesmen said B52 bombing missions brought about 500 secondary explosions in the same area. In a delayed announcement, the U.S. Command said two Air Force F4 Phantom bombers operating the dump, which the accidentally dropped napalm on county assumed the first of the South Vietnamese troops advancing toward Sepone Saturday.

Legislator sees tax ceiling hike legislator said he does not expect an increase in taxes will be necessary at this session — nor at next year's session — to meet general fund budget requirements. "I believe we have geared the budget we will recommend with this in mind," the Boji legislator, a member of the Joint Finance and Appropriations Committee, said. "It is the attitude throughout the whole legislature that there not be a tax increase. "I believe this will hold true a year from now because we will be living on the budget we have proposed and we will be living in areas in which we have recurring money coming in to us. The legislature a year from now will be made up of the same people and their attitudes will prevail just as it did this year. They are not going to put any general fund tax increases on the people." The controversial HB-391 will be considered Wednesday and Roberts thinks the legislature calling will come "as a political reality." There is a bill to escape classes for those who are

ROK pullout plans studied

SEUL (UPI) — President Park Chung-Hee of South Korea says his government is studying a timetable for eventual withdrawal of the 50,000 South Korean troops in Vietnam but that no immediate withdrawal is planned. The United States will be fully informed of any decision, he said.

He also said in an interview with UPI Monday that South Korea plans to increase its defense forces at home to offset the withdrawal of 20,000 American troops from Korea before the end of June. That would leave 45,000 U.S. servicemen in South Korea.

"Under no circumstances would we withdraw without full consultation with our Allies," Park said. "The United States consulted us on its own withdrawal plans."

He said South Korean troops will begin to pull out from South Vietnam when the Seoul government decides that the time is right after a thorough study and consultations with the United States and South Vietnam. The Korean troops are part of the Allied forces.

The return of the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division which has been guarding an 18-mile stretch along the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating North and South Korea is supposed to result in savings to the U.S. government of $500 million a year.

Park, 54, said he did not know what it would cost for his government to replace the Americans along the DMZ.

He questioned whether the U.S. troop cutbacks would result in weakening South Korean defense capabilities and said the important thing now is to upgrade the equipment of South Korean armed forces.

Park said that by the end of this decade South Korea will be able to defend itself against any aggression from North Korea.

Asked if the American withdrawal would lead to more North Korean acts of provocation, Park said, "It is exactly what we are concerned about."

But he said Communist provocations along the truce line recently have declined in number. It was believed the North Koreans fear their border provocations may be the planned U.S. troop reduction in Korea.

"If they make a miscalculation in connection with the U.S. cutback in Korea, they may step up their provocations in the coming days," Park said.

He said if the Communist Chinese and the Soviets acted in concert with the North Koreans it would be another story whether South Korea could defend itself by the end of the 1970s.

over the amount of increase set by law, he said, and he added that the tax commission to date has not turned down an increase based on a justifiable reason.

Roberts said he anticipated that the limitation would remain a law until "we reach the 20 per cent equalization on all properties and then it will be removed entirely. This would be in about ten years."

The legislature, he said, is now exploring a different way which would provide for indigent funding by counties including supplemental nursing home care and drugs to welfare recipients.

"We are exploring the possibility of the state taking over the funding in this particular field so that the mill levy at local levels for indigent care could be reduced," he said. "We have talked over this proposed legislation with the governor and he seemed favorable to it.

"The handling at state level would be through the Department of Public Assistance and by this method we could meet some federal matching money which would make about three times the amount of money available for this part of public assistance."

He said he was "glad" that the governor is taking the lead along this line as proposed by members of the Joint Finance and Appropriations Committee.

The present session of the legislature, he said, has a target closing date next Saturday night "but we may run over a day or two, putting us at about 64 days."

The session may not end, however, because the governor has "more or less" expressed the opinion he will call a special session immediately.

Lawyer explains firing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Susan Atkins told her former lawyer that Charles Manson ordered the Tate-LaBianca murders, but she repudiated that statement and her confession after a "Pig Latin" conversation with the cult leader.

"They talked in a sort of Pig Latin which I couldn't understand," Miss Atkins' former attorney, Richard Caballero, told the penalty phase of the trial Monday.

"But they could understand each other—much to their satisfaction and much to my dismay. Two days later she fired me."

Caballero, the attorney who persuaded Miss Atkins to go before a grand jury and admit the 1969 slayings, appeared as one of the last defense witnesses at the trial, now nearing the end of its ninth month.

Paddling OK if required

TWIN FALLS — Public school teachers are legally empowered to use any form of discipline which a parent might use, including paddling recalcitrant students, according to trustees of the Twin Falls School District.

Legally, a parent stands "in loco parentis," or in place of the parent, in dealing with his young charges, board chairman Elmer Sommers said in response to a question from a concerned parent and mother of an O'Leary Junior High School student.

As a "substitute parent," the teacher is held fully responsible for each student's discipline and welfare during school hours.

The concerned mother brought her seventh-grade youngster to the school administration offices during the board meeting Monday night, to present a complaint about treatment by a teacher at O'Leary. The woman, whose identity was held confidential, said the teacher inflicted a sizable bruise on her son's leg in a paddling incident.

School trustees and administration officials, including Superintendent of Schools, E. H. Ragland and incoming superintendent George Staudaer, agreed that a teacher must be allowed to exercise a certain amount of discipline on students to prevent possible chaos in the classroom. The trustees did not define the extent of a "proper" amount of discipline.

Dr. Ragland said he would investigate the incident further.

CSI adult classes due vacation

TWIN FALLS — The adult education classes at the College of Southern Idaho will meet on schedule tonight, but will enjoy a spring vacation along with the college's 1,500 day students the rest of the week, according to Marvin Glasscock, director of adult education.

Spring vacation begins officially Wednesday at CSI, running through Sunday. All day and evening classes will be dismissed.

Zoning change denied

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Planning and Zoning Commission voted Monday to recommend retaining the Wills Addition on Falls Avenue East in a residential low-density zone, rejecting the developer's request.

The developer, Wills, Inc., had asked for a residential medium-density zone on lots fronting Falls Avenue to permit multi-unit dwellings.

Following a public hearing on the question, the board voted against the zoning change. Zoners argued that traffic demands on Falls Avenue would not adapt to the additional curb cuts and increased use created by multi-unit dwellings.

Board members will recommend the city council not grant a request for medium density residential zoning in the Cathedral Heights sub-division east of Sunrise Boulevard because of the existing low density residential zoning in that area and indicated expansion of this type of development.

Zoning board members set March 30 at 7 p.m. as the time for a public hearing on a request from Ben Mottern and Ted Smith for revision of the city zoning ordinance to permit sale and service of new and used automobiles in commercial local zones throughout the city.

Such a change would allow for construction of the proposed Ace Hansen Chevrolet agency facilities on Blue Lakes Boulevard North, across from the Bill Workman Ford agency. The Workman agency was permitted to locate under county zoning as the west side of the boulevard is in the county and the east side in the city.

Man dies in Belfast shooting

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—One man died in a burst of street gunfire and an explosion badly damaged a furniture store owned by Belfast Lord Mayor Joseph Cairns today, police said.

A police spokesman said no security forces were in the area at the time and the early morning gunfire incident may have been the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) settling a feud in darkened streets.

The explosion which damaged the Cairns' store in Duncairn Gardens also damaged nearby shops, but no one was injured in the blast, police said.

Bomb experts sifted wreckage seeking clues which might lead them to the persons who set the explosion.

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI has tentatively planned a journey that will take him to Britain, France and Spain in May or September this year, Vatican sources said Monday.

There was no official Vatican confirmation, however, the sources said the 73-year-old pontiff definitely is considering the visit, although final arrangements have not been completed.

Agency gets route data

TWIN FALLS — Traffic route studies which will serve as a basis for a decision by the Idaho Highway Board on another public hearing on redesign of North Five Points in Twin Falls are complete and in the office of the planning section, Twin Falls City Manager Jean Millar said Monday.

He said the city requested another hearing on redesign of the intersection along alternate plans following a hearing last August in which overwhelming objection to the original proposal was voiced. Following the hearing the state highway board announced all plans for improvement of the intersection had been dropped.

City officials then asked for a second look at the project and another hearing. Before a hearing could be called again, highway engineers agreed traffic routing should be reviewed and possible alternate plans submitted for public review.

Richfield school music plan OK'd

RICHFIELD — School trustees in Richfield approved development of a music program if a teacher can be found, at Monday night's board meeting.

Trustees reviewed applications for teachers in the fifth and seventh grades, but no action was taken. Hot-lunch equipment will be purchased including a meat grinder, salad-maker, electric griddle, can opener and a seven-quart food mixer. The federal government will pay 75 per cent of the cost of the equipment through the state hot-lunch program, trustees were told by Superintendent Neil Andreason.

Skiers fair, good

TWIN FALLS — Two persons injured in an accident at the Pomerelle Ski Resort Saturday were listed in good and fair condition today at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Virginia Baugh, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baugh, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Paul Newton, Twin Falls, both suffered severe back injuries when they jumped from the stalled chair lift at the resort. Hospital attendants said both suffered possible fractures.

Miss Baugh was listed in good condition by hospital attendants and Mrs. Newton was reported in fair condition.

Persons in the area at the time said they were among a number of persons who jumped from the chair lift after waiting for a time after it stopped. They were the only ones suffering injuries. The two were not riding together. Miss Baugh was near the seventh tower and Mrs. Newton near the fourth, relatives said.

Camp Fire Girls celebrate month

TWIN FALLS — The Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups of St. Edward's Catholic School observed Camp Fire Month with a Camp Fire Ceremonial Sunday.

The girls sang the processional as they marched in and formed a semi-circle. Karen Gillette led the group in the pledge and Patty Mathews and Anna Marie Wagner explained the symbols of the group flag. The candles were lighted by Laura Abundis, Anita Hernandez, Heide Walker, Pam Davis, Karen Gillette and Betty Abundis.

Several songs were sung and several members, Christy Williams, Debbie Wasko, Barbara Merkle, Paula Burgess, Kathy Fuchs, Susan Baker, Tammy Walker, Carla Aguirre, Laura Stevens, Lore Bastion, Kathy Madland, Katherine Bourner, Mary Helen Hernandez and Carol Beglan, explained the meaning of the beads.

The Council of Catholic Women sponsored a breakfast for the girls.

The Gain

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Thinking back on my own days as a guerrilla, this reporter believes the excursion into Laos, of itself, will not block North Vietnam's supply lines. There are far too many ways to get arms and material through. And the men in Hanoi over the years have shown an astounding amount of ingenuity in developing new routes and new methods.

In any event, the Hanoi-trained and -based Viet Cong fought a very successful war indeed in the days when the supply lines from North Vietnam were little more than a trickle. Thus, this writer believes there's a mistaken concept abroad on what the Laos campaign will accomplish, even among the strategists who ramrodded the operation.

Maybe we're rushing the hot sports season!

House OK's hunter cut

BOISE (UPI) — Legislation to reduce the number of non-resident big game hunters to the 1967 level won House approval 32-27 Monday and took aim on the Senate.

Floor sponsor Emery Hedlund, D-St. Maries, said that by limiting the number of non-resident licenses to seven per cent of the resident combination hunting-fishing licenses sold the previous year the legislature would cut the number back to about 8,500.

That, he said, was the number of out-of-state hunters in Idaho in 1967.

As amended recently in the House, the bill would permit the Fish and Game Department to control distribution of the non-resident licenses. Originally, they were to be offered on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Another recent amendment in the bill raised to seven per cent from five the percentage of non-resident hunters. Hedlund called this change a "fair compromise."

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, said he was disappointed the measure does not include a mandate for distributing the non-resident licenses by lottery.

"The department can pick whoever it chooses," Reardon said. "That could include some kissing cousins or even some closer relatives."

He and Rep. Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, persuaded the House to adopt with the bill a statement of legislative intent that the number of deer and bear permits also be set at seven per cent.

During the debate Williams noted that the limitation will cost the Fish and Game Department a half-million dollars a year. Hedlund corrected this figure in closing debate to $340,000—saying he got his figures from the department.

Rep. Helen McKinney, R-Salmon, urged defeat of the bill on grounds it will cost the economy of the state a considerable amount of money that would have been spent by visiting sportsmen.

While the bill, as amended puts distribution in the hands of the department, said Rep. Ed Hedges, R-Boise, it still does not prevent selling the licenses on a first-come, first-served basis.

This, he said, would serve the needs of the "end of the road" hunter who comes in from a neighboring state to compete with resident hunters.

Rep. Larry Jackson, R-Boise, said he feared legislation like this merely will encourage efforts already under way in Congress to put a national hunting and fishing license on national lands in all states.

But Hedlund said he was concerned about the resident Idaho hunters and that they have enough game to hunt.

Salary measure offered

BOISE (UPI) — A proposed constitutional amendment was introduced in the Senate Monday which would give Idaho's lawmakers an annual salary of $4,800 plus mileage for trips to and from each legislative session.

The measure was introduced the day before the deadline for Gov. Cecil D. Andrus to decide whether he will sign a recent pay bill approved by both houses of the legislature.

The proposed amendment, the second to be introduced in the session, would give each lawmaker $4,800 each year, payable monthly, and 10 cents per mile each way by the usual traveled route for going to and returning from each regular or extra session of the legislature.

Another proposed amendment, one which would provide a salary of $5,500 each year, is being held in the senate state affairs committee. That measure would also give legislators the same mileage.

Both Republicans and Democrats caucused in the Senate Monday to discuss whether to place any salary change proposed on the ballot as a constitutional amendment or as a referendum question.

Sen. William Crutcher, D-Groffino, said a referendum would include a phrase used in the revised constitution which would set legislative pay at a level "prescribed by law" but no change would apply to the legislature which enacted it.

Workers granted exemption

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate first killed, then reconsidered and passed Monday a bill which would remove employees of various commodity commissions from the provisions of the state personnel system.

The measure, which now goes to the governor, was killed 12-15, but finally passed 18-17.

Supporters of the measure said its main thrust was to aid the state brand commission, which finds it cumbersome to go through the personnel system to hire workers needed only two or three weeks each year at peak periods.

But opponents maintained the commissions—which are funded through dedicated sources—want to raise salaries to employees but cannot do so as long as employees are under the personnel system.

Sen. Neil Miller, D-Blackfoot, said the measure "wasn't just a shot gun proposal."

He said the honey advertising commission, one of those named in the bill, had only three members and found it "quite cumbersome" to go through the personnel commission to hire a secretary every time it meets.

Polluter actions approved

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate approved 27-0 Monday a bill authorizing the Attorney General to enter into actions against violators of Idaho's water quality standards.

Moments later, the senate approved 26-0 a bill which includes governmental units under authority of the Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission.

Sen. C.C. "Cy" Chase, D-St. Maries, floor sponsor of the proposals, pointed out the attorney general need not exhaust administrative procedures before entering into a water quality violation.

But, he said, to meet certain objections, a 30-day waiting period was added to restrain the attorney general from acting until the health department had had a chance to do its work.

The air pollution measure would also give the commission new investigative authority, including that of entering private property to check violations.

Tenure retained

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate killed 12-18 Monday a bill which would have eliminated tenure for public school teachers even though proponents of the measure argued tenure eliminates the elements of "challenge and competition."

Sen. Leon Swenson, R-Nampa, floor sponsor of the measure, told his colleagues he believed each person had "a spark of the divine in each of us and we have the potential to achieve even beyond our wildest dreams."

But, he said, the current tenure practice "tends to cause us not to develop to the maximum of our abilities."

"Both those who teach and those who are being taught suffer."

Opposition, however, came from those who cited low wages paid to Idaho's teachers and said tenure—automatic contract renewal—represents security for the teachers.

Sen. Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise, described the measure as "possibly the worst bill" seen in the session for education—and warned it would "put the field of education back 100 years."

If the bill should pass, he said, it would "deprive the teachers in our state a degree of the comfort I feel they so rightly deserve."

Recall bid set on foot

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — The recall of three Eastern Idaho legislators, all of whom voted in favor of increasing legislative pay, was underway Monday in Idaho Falls.

Two Republican Party leaders in the State, Keith Brower and Jim Hill, said they were going to put recall machinery into action immediately.

The recall is aimed at House Majority Leader Terry Crapo, Rep. Aden Hyde, and Sen. Fisher Ellsworth, all Republicans from Idaho Falls.

Machine tax proposed

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. Robert Haakenson, D-Coeur d'Alene, started a farm rebellion Monday when he suggested the house revenue and taxation committee harvest sales taxes from production machinery.

At present, such machinery is exempt from Idaho's three per cent sales tax if it is used or consumed in manufacturing, processing, farming, mining or fabricating operations.

Haakenson took note of floor debates in the house in which the various members have spoken of an increase in the sales tax within the next year to meet rising costs of government.

By removing the production exemption from machinery, he said, the legislature could broaden the base of the sales tax—possibly enough to forestall an increase in the rate of sales tax.

Rep. Harold Reid, D-Craigmont, spoke out against the proposal and attempted unsuccessfully to table it.

"If we want to hurt our state and get less tax this is the way we ought to go," Reid said.

Rep. Lester Hartvigsen, D-Malad, agreed.

"This is another example of a tax the other guy has as being a fine tax," Hartvigsen said, suggesting the income tax was the best way for everybody to go if the legislature wants to be fair.

He called taxation of production equipment "completely unreasonable."

Fee bill sent out

BOISE (UPI) — A Senate committee sent out without recommendation a bill to permit fee charges at Idaho's institutions of higher education Monday even though some lawmakers warned a court test may be necessary to legalize such a step.

The Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee acted on a measure which would allow the charging of a fee—deliberately defined as not being tuition—at a maximum level of $200 per semester.

But Sen. Nels Solberg, D-Grangeville, said he felt the "free public school system" required by Idaho's constitution extended through college and questioned whether the fee would be constitutional.

"I certainly don't want to be a part of legalizing this," he said.

School pay act offered

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. Kurt L. Johnson, R-Idaho Falls, proposed Monday a concurrent resolution urging all increases in public school appropriations be used for salary increases for school teachers.

Johnson, acting chairman of the House Education Committee, asked the committee to consider such a resolution directed to local school trustees.

He said teacher salaries in Idaho were continuing to fall behind those in other states and that it was therefore important that all available education funds be directed to teachers' salaries.

Legally, Johnson said, the legislature cannot obligate school boards to use all increased appropriations for teachers salaries.

But he said a resolution would convey the feeling of the legislature to school board members.

Pianist slated for Burley concert

BURLEY — The Mini-Cassia Community Concert Assn. will present Don Shirley, pianist, at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Burley High School Auditorium.

He is a many faceted pianist whose musical creativity has skyrocketed him to high praise and recognition in the music world. The art forms he creates with his colleagues makes the music of Don Shirley unique on today's concert stages.

He had his debut recital in 1965 at Carnegie Hall and returned to Carnegie Hall on April 28, 1969, with his usual ensemble plus an orchestra conducted by Archie Bleyer.

During 1962-63, the artist toured under Columbia Artists management and performed at 50 American cities. Since that time 70 to 90 cities have comprised the itinerary of the Don Shirley ensemble each season.

In 1969 he was listed in the Who's Who in America. He is a "free" artist whose musical erudition has won him admirers who range from classicist Igor Stravinsky to Duke Ellington, high priest of American music. Shirley cannot easily be categorized as an interpreter of any specific style or idiom. Whether he plays classical, folk, or modern works, the music emerges as an exciting musical invention, a fresh creation of the uncommon imagination and musicianship which are Shirley's hallmark.

With increasing regularity, he has been engaged as soloist with the Detroit Symphony, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Minneapolis Symphony, the National Symphony of Washington and many others.

Perhaps much of Shirley's fame can also be accredited to him as a recording artist. Some 20 albums made earlier in his career are now collector's items. He is now under contract to Columbia Records, and his first album on that label, "Water Boy" quickly achieved the kind of popularity his special kind of musicianship deserves.

His talents are surely innate, but they have been highly polished through years of training and personal curiosity which is part of each true artist's makeup.

Shirley was born to Kingston, Jamaica, and his mother was his first teacher. At the age of 9 he was invited to study theory with Mittolobski at the Leningrad Conservatory of Music. Later he studied with the famous organist, Conrad Bernier, and advanced composition with Bernier and Dr. Thaddeus Jones at the Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

His career as a performer and composer came to a halt when he deserted music and went into psychology and earned his Ph.D. Then he set out on a career of teaching and lecturing in leading colleges and universities of the U.S. and in the Caribbean.

Dr. Shirley was awarded a grant from a national psychological association to study the alleged music-crime relationship after the "thrill killings" in New York's Central Park.

His approach to his research was an unusual one. He devised a number of musical arrangements and with the help of some of his students studied scientifically the reactions and responses of the audiences. The public flocked to hear Don Shirley's exciting new sounds.

Thus he returned to his earliest endeavor, music.

A Lovelier You AS YOUNG AS YOU LOOK

By Mary Sue Miller

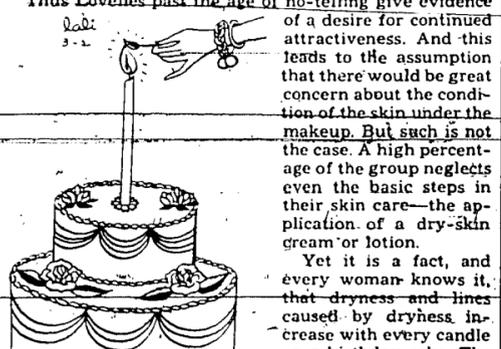

Tabulations show that most mature women have a well-stocked makeup kit. It contains powder base, powder, rouge (blusher) and lipstick. Eye makeup, in limited quantities, has a place in most kits.

Thus Lovelies past the age of no-telling give evidence of a desire for continued attractiveness. And this leads to the assumption that there would be great concern about the condition of the skin under the makeup. But such is not the case. A high percentage of the group neglects even the basic steps in their skin care—the application of a dry-skin cream or lotion.

Yet it is a fact, and every woman knows it, that dryness and lines caused by dryness increase with every candle on a birthday cake. The number of candles that you may expect are surely on the increase. Modern medicine predicts an ever-lengthening life span.

If left to itself over the years, the skin could come to resemble antique parchment. What a pity, when the use of modern skin-care products retards wither. Why then would a woman ever be neglectful? Either she's a skeptic or she does not understand the bare essentials of skin care.

For the latter lady, this small list: moisturized cleanser, superfatted facial soap, oil-rich, moisturized night-care cream or fluid. For skeptics: Take the advice. Results rout doubts.

BANISH CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method: It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and makeup. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, BANISH CREPEY THROAT & CHIN. WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nixon administration officials who want to kill a $104 million milk subsidy for school children find themselves facing opposition from an unusual and probably overwhelming — House coalition.

When conservatives like Rep. Barry Goldwater, Jr., R-Calif., team up against the administration with Liberals like Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., all signs indicate the White House is playing a losing hand.

Goldwater and Mrs. Chisholm were among 100 House members co-signing a letter by Rep. Ogden Reid, R-N.Y., last week. The letter urged Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss., to save the milk program despite an administration proposal to cut it out of the Agriculture Department budget for the 1971-72 fiscal year. Whitten heads a House appropriations subcommittee which voted to fund the milk program for the current year despite administration objections and probably will repeat the performance for the 1971-72 budget. The list of co-signers on the letter to Whitten underlined the way backing for the milk program cuts across normal liberal-conservative, urban-rural and Democratic-Republican lines on Capitol Hill. Signers included Chairman W.R. Poage, D-Tex., of the House Agriculture Committee along with freshman Rep. Herman Badillo, S. Rosenthal,

D-N.Y., signed along with John M. Zwach, a farm-oriented Republican from Minnesota. Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., signed with Rep. Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky.

With this far-reaching base of support, a dairy industry spokesman predicted today: "I don't think there is any question about our getting the appropriation this year."

"We have the votes," said Patrick B. Healy, secretary of the National Milk Producers

Federation, in an interview here. Healy conceded the administration could refuse to spend the school milk subsidy money even if Congress appropriates it. But he said Congressional and other pressures to continue the program make it "almost sure" that administration would accept the predicted Capitol Hill verdict.

The major impact of the administration drive to kill the milk program, Healy said, might turn out to be a blunting of efforts to raise the appropriation. Lawmakers and lobbyists fighting to prevent outright cancellation of the program would have less leverage in trying to boost the funding closer to the legally-authorized level of $125 million.

Under the milk program, the federal government subsidizes the sale of half-pint cartons of milk to children of all income groups in schools, summer camps and other non-profit child care programs. The subsidies do not cover milk served as an integral part of regular school lunches, but concentrate instead on promoting additional milk sales either at lunchtime or at recess "milk breaks."

White House officials have said they want to eliminate the program because it provides subsidies to the rich as well as the poor. Government aid of this kind should be reserved, President Nixon said recently, for the needy.

Irrigation commission bill loses

BOISE (UPI) — Irrigation pumpers asked the House Monday to create yet another agricultural commission and found the well has gone dry.

By a vote of 24-43, the House crushed the measure which would have imposed a tax of seven-tenths of one per cent of its total power bill each year on irrigation pumpers.

Floor sponsor Allan F. Larsen, R-California, said the proposed levy would raise about $70,000 and give the industry a voice in rate hearings by the public utilities commission.

He said the levy would be collected by the power companies.

Gooding school goes up

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News Correspondent
GOODING — Foundations of the new Gooding High School should be complete by April, Ed Peterson, architect, told Gooding school trustees at a board meeting Monday night.

He said the walls also should be up on the gymnasium by that date and the building should be roofed by Oct. 1. Excavation on the project is now under way. Trustees decided to make necessary improvements in the hot lunch cafeteria at the elementary school building, instead of having grade schoolers eat lunch at the junior high school cafeteria next year.

This possible alternative was suggested by Mrs. Scott Nelson, school lunch supervisor. But administrators pointed out the disadvantages of the smaller children having to bundle up and go outside to another building to each lunch.

Supt. Dee Keller read a letter from the Department of Education, school lunch division, advising the local district it is eligible for money under the non-food assistance provisions to pay 75 per cent of the cost of the cafeteria in the new high school. Application will have to be submitted by June 30, Jim Muscat, high school principal said.

The school budget hearing was set for April 12 and the trustee election April 27.

Trustees approved a $200 raise for all teachers, making the starting salary for a degree teacher $6,100; $6,300 for 16 graduate hours and $6,500 for teachers with five years of college.

Mrs. Robert Stuart, guidance counselor, was given permission to visit the Air Force Academy March 17-19.

Joint panel set on zoning

TWIN FALLS — Formation of a joint city-county zoning coordinating committee was announced today by John Rosholt, chairman of the Twin Falls City Planning and Zoning Commission.

He said the committee was instigated in a zoning meeting Monday night and will function as a study group to review growth and development of areas adjacent to the city but under county zoning jurisdiction.

The six-man committee will work out a systematic method of zoning which will be suitable to city development in areas where city annexation is obvious in the future, he said.

Members of the committee include Jerry Shane, Harold Grigg and Tom Schuster, representing the city and Dean Moore, Hansen, and Oren Boone and Ed Woods, zoning administrator, Twin Falls, representing the county.

One of the cooperative studies discussed Monday night would be a review of streets and highways, exclusive of state highways, which would be given arterial or through route designations in the future with plans for carrying a heavy portion of traffic into and out of the city.

Recommendations will be made by the city and county coordinating committee and by the city zoning commission as to widening, speed limits and other factors on such designated routes, the zoning chairman said.

Wendell hair rule dropped

WENDELL — Members of the Wendell School District No. 242 board of trustees voted to remove restrictions pertaining to length of hair and growing of beards and mustaches from the school dress code Monday night.

Boys participating in extra-curricular activities, however, must conform to the standards set up by the school department in which they are participating, trustees said.

Supt. Lawrence LaRue said the board also approved establishment of an advisory council for the business education department of the high school. Members will be appointed by LaRue.

The superintendent said a conference on management and decisionmaking will be conducted at the Ramada Inn, Burley, next Wednesday and Thursday, March 17-18, for school administrators and trustees.

Trustees asked the administration to proceed with plans to change the high school courses of study to a semester system similar to the programs of most colleges.

The trustees approved closing the junior and senior high schools on Thursday and Friday of this week to allow the students to attend the state basketball tournament in Rexburg. In other business, the board approved sending Ellen Cox and several students to the University of Idaho on April 23 to attend leadership training conference for business students, and approved a trip to Ricks College on April 16 to attend a business conference.

LaRue notified board members that trustee terms expire this year for Frank Orth in Zone 5, and Dr. Richard Hagerman in Zone 1. An election will be scheduled in April or May for the election for three-year terms.

Rap. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malden, co-chairman of the committee, said in 1960 the joint committee created the special Univac Accounting and Data Processing Committee in order to get information and "uniformity."

"We are supposed to be financial wizards in 60 days," he said, "and we wonder now whether we are going to provide the $300,000 to implement the system."

Old pistol found near King Hill

KING HILL — Three Glenns Ferry residents are currently negotiating with several eastern museums for the sale and preservation of a rusted revolver found by Arlie Brood on a ranch near King Hill.

The gun, believed to date back to the 1860's, was found on the Sam Blackwell, Jr., ranch in an area just off the route of the old Oregon Trail, Brood said.

He was checking cattle when he stumbled over the gun. With him at the time were Sam Blackwell, Sr., and his son, Sam, Jr. The finders say the revolver is similar to one shown in a catalog as an Allen and Wheelock model manufactured in Worcester, Mass., in about 1860. Patents for the Allen and Wheelock gun were issued in 1857 and in 1858 and the three local men say the model they found may be a bit later. The barrel of the gun is partially in a hexagon shape while the model shown in the old gun collector's catalog shows the entire barrel in the hexagon shape.

Brood said when the gun was found there were six bullets intact in the gun. They are of the type used in early loading rifles and must be tamped into the firing chamber of the revolver, he said. The trigger guard acts as a loading rammer, and five of the bullets had been rammed, Brood said, indicating the revolver's owner was in the act of loading the gun when it was lost.

The gun is about 12 inches long and is a .38-caliber six-shot Navy revolver, the catalog states.

Brood said it has a number "120" and since individual gun numbers were recorded efforts are now being made to trace the history and original owner of the gun. Museums the finders have contacted include a U.S. Navy relics museum in Boston where the three say they may sell the old gun.

Later, a committee named by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus recommended the big Univac be abandoned and be replaced by two medium computers, one in the state auditor's office and the other in the Highway Department.

In his budget, Andrus recommended no funds for the Division of Management Services which has jurisdiction over the data processing and the Uni-

Jerome school trustees hit 75 per cent state funding

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Correspondent
JEROME — Jerome school trustees opposed Monday night a plan to bring schools up to 75-per-cent state funding because, they say, it would reduce the share going to Jerome schools.

Trustee Gordon Hollifield said the plan would reduce the district's funds by $23,322.

He reported on attending a hearing on the bill in Boise and said if this bill is enacted, the Jerome district would be $23,322 short.

This would possibly mean the district would have to impose a two-mill levy on Jerome taxpayers to maintain schools at the present level, Hollifield said.

The plan calls for a statewide property tax and a property tax levy on counties be distributed to school districts on a unit-classroom basis.

Combined with current school funding, the new taxes would bring the total of state-controlled funds going to schools to the 75-per-cent mark.

Sponsors of the legislation say the local districts would then be able to reduce their local property tax levies by an equal amount of the new taxes.

Jerome Mayor Jack Russell and Walt Bentzinger, city councilman, and John Van Orman, county commissioner, met informally with the school board to discuss common problems of receiving adequate state funds to maintain operation.

Mayor Russell said the city does not have the same problem of the school district and county in that "we don't have to fight quite as hard for every penny."

Supt. John Campbell said he has received approval from the hot lunch program for purchasing new furniture for the high school cafeteria. Itex, Twin Falls, has been awarded the contract for chairs and round tables, and Chapman, Inc., Idaho Falls, for the folding tables. The furniture should be delivered soon, he said.

Dallas Ward, driver's education teacher, suggested dropping 14-year-olds from the program in order to save funds. He said the program is operating in the red.

Cassia likes subdistricts

BURLEY — Cassia County school trustees voted to send a letter of appreciation to the county's legislative delegation following legislative approval of a bill to permit subdistricting of the school district.

The measure would permit the district to create subdistricts for the purpose of building school facilities.

Cassia school officials have long felt that such subdistricting would make school bond votes more palatable to county school patrons.

Fourteen delegates of Burley High School will attend the Tri-State Convention April 16-17 at Pullman, Wash., according to a decision made by the board.

The FFA soil testing team will be allowed to go to Oklahoma for a soil testing contest. Trustees approved the Burley High School stage band's proposed trip to Nevada in April and a delegation from the business leadership class of Burley High School going to Moscow in April.

Harold Blauer, superintendent, Norman Hurst, instructor, and Norval Wildman, trustee, reported on American School Administrators' convention in Atlantic City, N.J., which they attended last month.

The board set Monday, April 12, as the date for teachers to make up the day missed last Friday when they attended the state legislature.

Blauer presented three plans for a building program which the board is going to study.

Hot lunch area studied

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News Correspondent
SHOSHONE — Supt. Kenneth Crothers was asked by Shoshone school trustees Monday night to prepare a report of specifications and costs for construction of a serving area for hot lunches at the Shoshone High School.

The high school now has no cafeteria or serving facility, but with the addition of a serving area, food could be brought from the grade school cafeteria and served to high school students.

Crothers said the Idaho Department of Education hot lunch program will pay for 75 per cent of the cost of the equipment and construction.

Trustees took under advisement proposed improvements in the vocational agriculture shop at the high school as outlined by Gale Serr, instructor. He requested equipment, tools and some remodeling.

Action will not be taken until a thorough study is made, Superintendent Crothers said.

Leigh Kelley, local businessman, asked the trustees to renew the lease on school property adjacent to his residence which he has been using. The board instructed him to prepare and present a lease for their consideration at the April 12 meeting.

Trustees voted to purchase two 30-passenger school buses for next year. Bids will be opened at the April 12 meeting.

The annual trustee election was set for April 12 at the high school. Terms of Elmer Terry and Herb Forbes, zones 2 and 3, are expiring. They have made no public announcement as to whether they will seek re-election, Crothers said.

The school budget hearing was set for 8 p.m. April 22. Trustees read a letter from the Ririe school board asking support for the organization of a second Idaho Trustees Assn. to serve the needs of the smaller school.

They asked Crothers to write the Ririe board, expressing sympathy for the plight of the small school districts.

Twelve pints were donated for Nicholas Woody, former Hagerman resident, now in Pallasades, who requires two blood transfusions every eight days.

Mrs. S.P. Richter was canteen chairman; Mrs. Robert Nicholas served as receptionist; Mrs. Jim Watson, nursing assistant; Mrs. Clara Nelson, juice table, and members of the volunteer bloodmobile committee, Mrs. Jerry Diehl, Mrs. H. L. Prescott and Mrs. Overfield assisted.

TWIN FALLS — The annual trustee election in Twin Falls School District No. 411 was scheduled for May 11 by trustees of the district during the regular board meeting Monday night at the school administration offices.

Trustees Edward R. (Ted) Smith, in Zone 3, and Dr. H. W. Ronk, in Zone 4, whose terms expire in June, said they will seek re-election. Each must obtain the signatures of five or more qualified electors on a nominating petition which must be returned to the clerk of the board not less than 18 days before the election, according to state law.

Dr. Ronk is seeking his second three-year term as a member of the board of trustees, and Smith, who is completing his second, will seek a third term.

In other business, the trustees agreed to retain architect Harold Gerber to set up specifications and prepare bids for needed roofing repairs on the high school and O'Leary Junior High School, and granted a one-year leave of absence to Roger McKinney, an elementary school teacher, on her request.

Auditor claims system

BOISE (UPI)—State Auditor Joe Williams said Monday his office will be the one to implement a new $300,000 uniform accounting and data processing system no matter which computer system is chosen.

Williams appeared before the Joint Finance - Appropriations Committee, which ended a hearing without deciding between a giant $1.5 million Univac 494, already purchased, and two medium-sized computers recommended for the state by a special data processing advisory committee.

The committee heard comments from both sides during its long hearing, but was unable to pinpoint the blame on the person or persons who ordered the big Univac.

Rap. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malden, co-chairman of the committee, said in 1960 the joint committee created the special Univac Accounting and Data Processing Committee in order to get information and "uniformity."

"We are supposed to be financial wizards in 60 days," he said, "and we wonder now whether we are going to provide the $300,000 to implement the system."

counting and data processing system be implemented by the state auditor. It said the implementation could be done either by the Univac or another computer.

Later, a committee named by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus recommended the big Univac be abandoned and be replaced by two medium computers, one in the state auditor's office and the other in the Highway Department.

In his budget, Andrus recommended no funds for the Division of Management Services which has jurisdiction over the data processing and the Uni-vac and recommended the system be turned over to the state auditor's office.

Robert Lenaghan, acting director of administrative services, said there was "a history of incredible bad management" in the operation of data processing under management services.

He said state agencies "refused to cooperate" with the division because they did not like the choice of the Univac.

However, he added, "If you give it a chance, we think we can make such a system work. Department heads want a system they have confidence in and that can work."

Altruistic project announced

TWIN FALLS — Members of the Alpha Delta Kappa have adopted the Idaho Youth Ranch as an altruistic project for the coming year. Ruth Gates, sorority president, said today.

H. Lee Childs, executive director of the ranch, addressed members Saturday explaining the purpose and operations of the ranch for young boys. He said most of the boys there are "troubled." They have been deprived of the security and love of a normal home, Childs said, and at the ranch are given an opportunity to live in a home atmosphere. Each group of boys resides with house parents, attends school, church and has an opportunity to work and study handicrafts or take part in sports.

Childs said the state could use additional facilities patterned after Idaho Youth Ranch operations.

Much of the cost of maintaining the facility, he said, comes from donations. Members of Alpha Delta Kappa attending the Saturday luncheon meeting in the Rogerson Hotel brought articles to donate to the ranch.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Grace Shriver, Ruth Rieman, Jane Sevy and Edna Reid. The St. Patrick theme was used in table decorations. The April meeting will be held in Gooding.

Research grant awarded by Alpha Delta Kappa

BURLEY — Alpha Delta Kappa, international honorary sorority for women educators, has awarded its second $8,000 research grant to Dr. Hilde Hein, philosophy professor at Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., announces Mrs. Mary Curl, president of the Burley Kappa Chapter of the organization.

Dr. Hein was selected by the panel of university educators because of her keen mind and superior intellect as well as the originality of her project.

Dr. Hein proposes that a study of negative features of aesthetic situations can provide insight into social problems, as well as enlarging understanding of aesthetics. By focusing upon the "negative" in aesthetics, Dr. Hein hopes to reveal the extent to which deficiencies in social, political and moral institutions and in the fabric of personal lives, are reflections of aesthetic miseducation and insensitivity.

This undertaken, Dr. Hein concludes that aesthetic inquiry may yield practical suggestions for correcting some social and political ills.

Alpha Delta Kappa will offer a third grant and information on this grant will be available in Oct. from the international headquarters, Kansas City, Mo., or from local chapters, announced Mrs. Curl.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: This is in reply to "FOR DEMOCRACY," who wanted to know why the women in her office couldn't vote about whether or not to wear pants suits:

Perhaps the boss knows the interpretation some women would put on "pants."

Here in New York City, female teachers were recently permitted to wear pants suits. Since that time, every kind of pants imaginable has been worn by women teachers of all ages, shapes and sizes, and some of the rear views have been horrendous. I've seen skin-tight jeans, ill-fitting knit pants, bell bottoms, ski-type stretch pants, lounging pajamas, hip-huggers, and a few neat, well-tailored pants suits. (Very few.)

Let the ladies inflict pants on the world OUTSIDE of business hours. They are, for the most part, hideous. Please omit my name. I am a woman teacher in the Bronx.

ANTIPANTS

DEAR ANTI: "Interpretation" is all important, I agree. One young woman, when arrested for swimming topless at a beach where a sign was posted, "Women must wear two-piece swim suits," explained that hers WAS a two-piece swim suit. Shorts and a cap to match.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of mature adults speaking French (or any other foreign language for that matter) in front of people who don't understand a word?

My future in-laws speak French in front of me, knowing I cannot speak a word of it. They speak English very well, and there is no reason for them to speak French.

This has been going on for two years. Please don't tell me to learn French because I had all I could do to pass Spanish in high school.

Am I making a big deal out of nothing? Or are they just plain rude?

NO PAR LAY VOO

DEAR NO-PAR-LAY-VOO: They are rude for sure. But you could also be making a big deal out of nothing. You don't have to "par lay voo"—just pretend to "comprende."

DEAR ABBY: The story about the 16-year-old girl not being able to attend public school because she was not living with her parents may not have made any sense to you, but it is true.

We had reason to investigate that very situation and learned that a student may not attend a Detroit public school unless he is living with his family or a legal guardian.

It seems to me that if a student finds living conditions at home intolerable, but is able to live with family friends, he should be permitted to attend school as long as he makes his grades and attends school regularly.

We hear so much about "drop outs." I think an investigation would show that many are "locked out."

MICHIGAN READER

DEAR READER: I heard the same is true in New Jersey. It still doesn't make any sense to me.

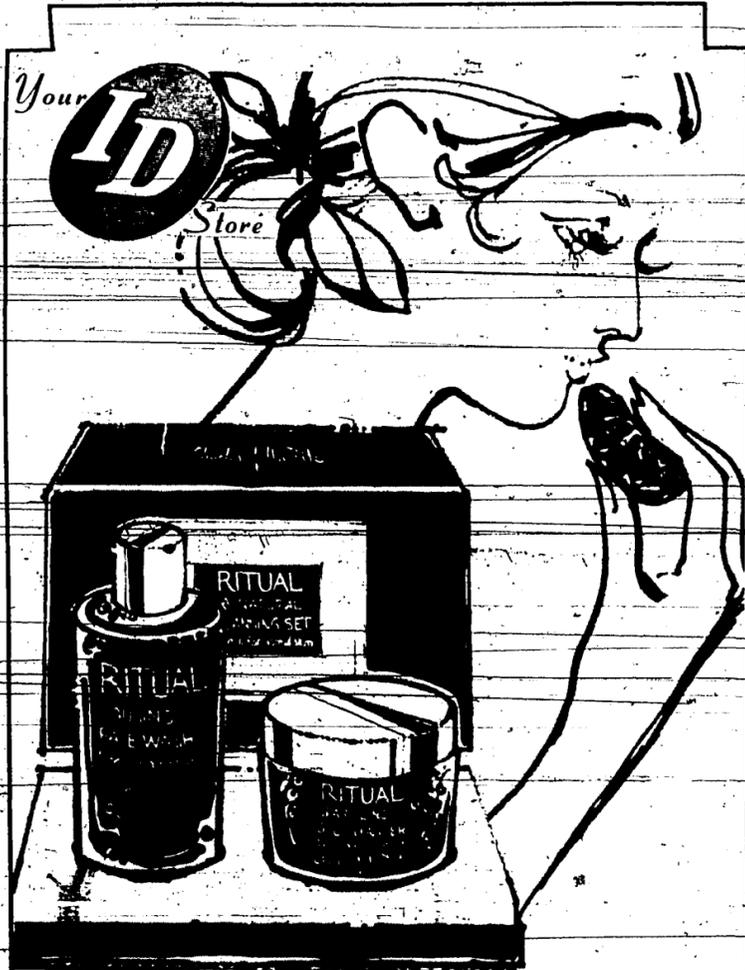

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE WITH AN INTELLECTUAL": The correct quote you are searching for is: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

(The next.) The question is whether your intellectual friend is "stepping to the music" of a far-off drummer, or making up his own tune as he goes along.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

CSI grabs 91-76 win from Arizona Western Defense, keyed by Ron Behagen, rebounding on both ends of the floor plus the usually flashy, penetrating offense of Vic Kelly paced the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles past the Arizona Western Matadors 91-76 Monday night. The victory gave the Eagles a 1-up lead in the best of three inter-region series that will take the winner to the national finals in Hutchinson, Kans., next week.

But although the Eagles dominated the opener, the nation's No. 1 ranked team's reign of terror sustained what could be a mortal blow with 2:37 left in the game when leading scorer Ralph Palomar incurred a severe ankle injury.

Following the game Coach Jerry Hale feared the young El Paso giant might have broken the ankle or at the very best sprained it severely. In either case Palomar, who tanked his 25th and 26th points on the play in which he was hurt, will not be available for the Tuesday or possibly Wednesday night's play. The teams meet again at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the CSI gymnasium.

Behagen turned in what may have been the best of a long series of great games since Christmas time. The 6-8 New Yorker put a nine-point lead on Western's top gun, Wayne Williams, threw in 21 points himself and did yeoman work on both backboards.

Kelly put on his usual assortment of drives for points and feed-offs for points and when Western went to a press, broke that single-handedly.

Western's chances were severely cramped when 6-9 frosh Bill Hagins picked up three quick fouls and sat out most of the first half. He played only a few minutes of the second half before fouling out and his loss of points and presence on the boards and defensively cost Western a lot.

Western broke out on top as Candy LaPrince of New York hit six of Arizona's first eight points for an 8-3 lead. CSI hung within one to three and saw its last three-point deficit with 13:20 left when LaPrince made it 14-11. Behagen, Kelly and Palomar then shot CSI into the lead and, with the exception of one tie, the Eagles stayed there.

That tie occurred with 4:17 left when Joe Babinaki hit for Western to make it 30-all. Palomar, Kelly and Behagen immediately shot CSI ahead by six and Tim Bassett extended that to seven two minutes later. Kelly made a steal and drove for a bucket, making it 43-34 and the largest difference of the half before Lovard Coleman hit for Western in the closing two seconds.

Western made a little run early in the second half when Hagins, Coleman and James Horné gunned the invaders to within three with 2:58 gone.

After trading buckets, CSI reeled off eight straight points — Bassett, Steve Hegens, Kelly and Palomar — for the first 11-point margin which Coleman and Talley immediately cut to seven.

The last time Western really was in the game came at the midpoint when Talley hit twice to reduce the margin to nine. Bassett's field goal and a three-point play from Palomar sent the Eagles ahead by 14 and CSI generally had 11 to 14-point advantages the rest of the way.

Jaw breaker

Frazier offers rematch

NEW YORK (UPI)—Undisputed world heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier is willing to give Muhammad Ali a rematch "anytime, but I don't think he wants one."

Frazier, bleeding from a cut inside his mouth and having ice applied to a swollen left cheekbone, credited Ali with hitting "some punch. The shot I hit 'him with," Frazier said, referring to the devastating left to the jaw which floored Ali in the 15th round. "I had to go all the way home for."

"I didn't make him crawl across the ring to me on his knees," Frazier said, referring to Clay's pre-fight promise of what he would do if he lost. "But," added Frazier, "I want him to come to me and apologize for what he said before the fight."

Frazier claimed Ali told him before the fight, "I'm (Ali) going to kill you, Nigger." Frazier said Ali "underestimated me. He thought I was flatfooted and slow, but I showed him."

Frazier, richer by $2.5 million for his grueling bout, was evasive when questioned about his possible retirement from the ring.

"I have to talk about it first with Yank (Manager Yancy Durham), but I do have to live a little. I've been working for 10 years now and it's time for a little rest."

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

SPORTS

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

Although College of Southern Idaho won the first game of the inter-regional tournament, the opener should be little indication of how the next game or two should go.

The big reason for the home standpoint, of course, is the injury to Ralph Palomar. The 6-7 El Paso sophomore, the team's leading scorer for the season and Tuesday night, evidently landed on the side of an Arizona Western player's foot and doubled his ankle over. By late Monday night it wasn't known if the ankle was broken or severely sprained. Whatever it means that Palomar, his scoring, his rebounding and his 6-7 body, will not be available for the remainder of this playoff.

Hurting even more deeply, however, is the situation that if the Eagles can now cripple past the Matadors, it is highly possible that Palomar wouldn't be available for action in the nationals next week. Whirlpools to the contrary.

But the differences in the two teams from Monday to Tuesday will be more than the absence of Palomar — penalty enough. A prime consideration in Monday's win was the rebounding and defense of Ron Behagen. Behagen stopped Western's leading scorer, Wayne Williams, Monday night. Williams is a full-time job for any defender and without Palomar available Behagen will have to be more conscious of the boards and the guards on whichever side he may find himself. That means he will have to play Williams at least a little softer — and that won't hurt Williams at all.

The Eagles will be 6-7 and 6-8 Tuesday against 6-9, 6-7 and 6-5 on the boards.

So it has come to pass that exactly what Coach Hale said would be the only possible recourse in event of loss of a big man will have to be done. Steve Hegens, a 6-2 leaper but usually a guard, probably will go into the forward spot where he will be defending against a 6-7 man and in foreign territory.

It would also be expecting too much to see Western's 6-9 frosh star, Bill Hagins, get into early foul trouble two nights in a row and spend at least half of the game on the bench.

Hayes declines paycheck

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—San Diego Rockets' center Elvin Hayes turned down a $9,000 paycheck when the Rockets were in the throes of a losing streak two months ago, it was revealed Monday.

"We are losing and attendance is down," Hayes told owner Bob Breitbard. "I don't want to be paid."

There was no way Breitbard could decline to pay Hayes but the big man refused to take the money until the Rockets began winning.

"It was something like February when I got the money," Hayes said. "We started winning, things started perking up and I received a check."

The Rockets dropped 16 of 17 games during the slump.

"It was a nice thing for Elvin to do," Breitbard said. "And of course he received his salary. We could not think of such a thing."

"I hear people say things about me," Hayes said. "They say I don't pass off, I shoot too much and I'm only interested in points. But of course those things are not true. I try to help the team the only way I can."

Theismann signs Dolphins contract

MIAMI (UPI)—The Miami Dolphin managing partner Joe Robbie.

Coach Don Shula said he felt Theismann would "fit" in well with what we want to accomplish with the Dolphins."

Theismann negotiated his own contract and said he was "happy to reach terms man-to-man." He was Miami's fourth round pick in the college draft.

Theismann, from South River, N. J., as a senior at Notre Dame completed 155 of 263 pass attempts for 2,429 yards and 16 touchdowns and climaxed his career by leading the Irish to an upset over Texas in the Cotton Bowl. He was runnerup in the voting for the Heisman Trophy.

Whittier has NAIA victory

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Whittier (Calif.) saw an 18-point lead melt to one, but regrouped in time to post a 65-59 victory Monday night over Sacred Heart (Kan.) in the NAIA Basketball Tournament.

Top-seeded Kentucky State toyed with St. Thomas (Minn.), 100-65, and fourth-seeded Stephen F. Austin (Tex.) outran North Carolina-Asheville, 91-73, in other night games.

Whittier built a 33-15 lead in the first half, but Sacred Heart closed the gap to 69-58 with 4:14 to go. The Poets steadied, though, and made their delay game payoff in the closing minutes. Bob Cheeks led Whittier with 17 points, while Mike Bayer and Lynn Hamm each had 14 for Sacred Heart.

Sooners take win

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma kept its hopes for a bid to the National Invitational Tournament alive Monday night by defeating Oklahoma State, 80-74, in a fiercely fought Big Eight basketball contest.

The Sooners hit 30 of 49 from the field, tying the Gallagher Hall record of 61 per cent get last year by Iowa State.

The victory, coupled with Missouri's loss to Kansas, put Oklahoma and the Tigers in a tie for second place in the conference.

Olympia, Royal and Faux win

Faux Cigar Store of Buhl, Olympia Beer and Royal Lounge took wins in the opening round of the Twin Falls recreation department A league city tournament Monday night.

Faux, with Larry Shark and Anderson splitting 24 points, bounced H and H Service 54-31. Holtzen hit eight for the losers.

Olympia Beer, getting 22 points from Fred Trenkle, nipped Me n' Eds Pizza 60-54 despite 25 points by the losers' Clarence Phillips.

Mel Hise threw through 12 as Royal Lounge outlasted Bud's Duds 36-33. Van Buren had 18 for Bud's.

Two games are slated for Tuesday night at Stuart gymnasium. H and H Service meets Me n' Eds at 7:30 p.m. and Faux meets Oly at 8:20.

Kansas defeats Missouri

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Fifth-ranked Kansas came from behind to record its second straight overtime win by nailing Missouri 71-69 Monday night in the final basketball game at 42-year-old Brewer Fieldhouse.

A sell-out crowd of over 6,000 watched Missouri lose for the first time in 11 outings this year at Brewer, and succumb for the third time this year to Kansas. The Tigers finished their regular season at 17-9 and 9-5 in the Big Eight.

Bud Stallworth hit two free throws with 56 seconds left to send the contest into overtime, 62-62. Missouri lost its chance to win it outright when Greg Frazier missed a shot under the basket at the gun.

Dave Robisch hit three free throws in the overtime to give Kansas its winning cushion. The Jayhawks are now 24-1 and 13-0.

Henry Smith of Missouri led all scorers with 24 points. Aubrey Nash was high for the winners with 16.

Frazier retains world boxing title

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Frazier buried a myth to remove the only stain on his world heavyweight crown, laying the ghost of Cassius Clay to rest with a vicious barrage of left hooks that smashed the challenger's jaw and dumped him to the canvas in the 15th round for an unanimous 15-round decision.

While 300 million watched around the world, the 27-year-old Frazier finally caught up with the man who had taunted and teased him from outside the ring for four years.

In the 11th round, the 29-year-old Clay fell apart, and in the last round, the myth came to an end as Clay was bashed to the canvas and his face was swollen almost beyond recognition from the barrage.

Staggering from the power of the punches chopping in at him, Clay was lucky to last until the final bell. No dancing steps came to him any more and he was left sobbing with remorse on the ropes as he became a mere punching bag for the man he had hoped to playfully torture.

At the conclusion of the fight, the ring was filled with security men, obscuring the fighters.

"I always knew who the champion was," Frazier said. He certainly proved it by beating the man he had returned sullenly to his corner where his manager, Yank Durham, stopped the flow and leed his puffed right eye.

The end came for Clay in the 11th round when he crumbled. The man who prided himself on his rhythm, tripped over his own feet from sheer exhaustion from the pace that Frazier had set and his knees buckled from the impact of Frazier's punches. There was nothing left in Clay, his boast had become hollow and his punches lacked any power.

After the 11th round Clay made only one last desperate attempt to pull out a victory, trying to regain his composure and go for the needed knockout in vain in the 14th round.

The knockdown was almost anticlimactic, with Clay toppling to his face in a neutral corner from a series of left hooks. He lay almost face down for a moment and then dragged himself up at four to last out the decision, but the same punches that had dumped him to the canvas also broke his jaw.

Frazier tried to laugh but the punches were clearly too hard to be laughed off and he returned sullenly to his corner where his manager, Yank Durham, stopped the flow and leed his puffed right eye.

NEW YORK (UPI)—For the first time in his life, Cassius Clay was left speechless.

Clay's jaw was swollen on the right side almost beyond recognition and he merely got dressed, walked to his limousine that was parked inside the Garden and was driven to a hospital.

As he got into his car, he winked and tried to smile but the pain clearly showed through. His entourage piled into other limousines and with one car leading the way with a red beacon light, sped into the night.

Clay took the loss philosophically in the dressing room and said he wasn't disappointed.

"I'm glad that I was not knocked out," said Clay, after the loss to Joe Frazier by unanimous decision.

both trumps and clubs break as evenly as possible and if the finesse works. Possible, but not probable.

How about putting dummy's five hearts to work? The last two will become tricks if hearts break 3-2 and the suit can be established if trumps also break 3-2. This represents the best chance.

South leads his four of hearts at trick two and plays low from dummy. East will probably win the trick and lead a trump and South will rise with the ace. All he wants is to break trumps 3-2.

South cashes his king of trumps. Both opponents follow and he is now ready to put that heart suit to work. He plays his ace of hearts and continues. West should take his queen of trumps immediately and lead a diamond. This will hold South to 10 tricks while any other defense will give South 11.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner gives a preference to two hearts. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Let's see how an expert plans his play with today's hand. He notes that while his hand warranted a jump to game and his partner had a proper raise, the contract is not a very good one because dummy's queen and jack of diamonds are no help.

He is delighted with the club lead. This takes away the problem of the king of clubs. He can try to ruff a couple of those in dummy but one of those is sure to be overruffed. If it is ruffed by a hand with three trumps it won't really hurt. Otherwise, it is likely to leave South with two trump losers plus one heart and one diamond.

How about ruffing one club and trying the trump finesse? That will succeed if

THE SWISS NOW MANUFACTURE a lady's watch that tells its wearer when to take the pill... EYE EXERCISES do not improve near-sightedness. That's the flat declaration of one medical specialist. Can you contradict it? ... NO. 5 AT LAST REPORT on the list of ailments most apt to kill the middle-aged hereabouts is cirrhosis of the liver.

IT MADE feminine-looking women less so, add unfeminine-looking women more so. That's what the analysts finally said about the midskirt. Last year, 1970. It's also what they said about the chemise, the sack. Back in 1959. And financially, those two years have been the worst for the fashion industry in recent history, note that. If they want to make money, those costume designers, they're going to have to accent the ladies' femininity, that's pretty obvious. Wish they'd pay attention.

IN HER ADVICE to brides, Emily Jenkins said, "Regard his razor as a delicate bomb set to detonate at the touch of a feminine finger." How wise! ... MOST DIFFICULT musical instrument to play, I'm told, is the koto. It's Japanese. Some blind people can master it, but few others. ... WHAT ADDISON said was not, "He who hesitates is lost." What he said was, "A woman who deliberates is lost." Some difference! It's item No. 417 D in our Love and War man's file on Female Virtue.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q. "All right, if you know so much, tell me how many logs were in the cabin where Abe Lincoln was born." A. Nothing to it, 143 logs. A little nail-buffing going on here, ho-ho... Q. "How many women miscarry?" A. At least half. That is, at least half of those who become expectant at all will miscarry once, the record shows. Fairly common thing, I guess. The doctors say one in every six pregnancies ends in a miscarriage.

"REPORT THIS to your Name Game man," writes M. Glazbrook of Oceanide, Calif. "My sister in Canada married a Charles Evans. My sister in the United States married a different Charles Evans. Unusual?" Unusual indeed... MOST GOOD COOKS among women are relatively short. Possibly even pleasingly plump, too. Julia Child is the exception. She's 6-foot-2-inches tall. Exception is right. She pours more vermouth than gin into her martinis.

FIRST YEAR of a dog's life is equal to the first 15 years of a man's. Second year of a dog's is equal to 24 of a man's. After that, each year of a dog's is equal to four of a man's. So at the age of 16, a dog is as old as a man aged 80. Such is the most recent report from the canine experts.

AM ASKED IF the teddy bear is still the most popular toy. Certainly was such for 50 years. But not anymore. Those little racing cars that run on plastic tracks are No. 1 now.

Under arrest

FBI AGENTS escort Thomas Kelly Marston, 16, Mobile, Ala., after arrest on charge of air piracy at Miami, Fla. Marston commandeered National Airlines jetliner during stop at Mobile; ordered it flown to Montreal, then changed mind and surrendered. (UPI)

Set Gem speed limit bill beaten in House

BOISE (UPI) — The House clobered 14-43 Monday a bill to require absolute speed limits in Idaho instead of the present prima facie speed limits. Rep. Clyde Keithly, R-Nampa, told the House the measure would help cut down fatal traffic accidents in the state.

Senate studies measure

BOISE (UPI)—A Senate committee held for further study Monday a House-approved bill which would allow the State Park Board to appropriate the natural flow of certain springs in Hagerman Valley.

"Ladies and gentlemen, speed kills and I'm not talking about the pills," Keithly said. At present, law enforcement officers must prove that a person is endangering life or property in addition to exceeding a posted limit to convict him of speeding.

Robert Bakes, a Boise attorney representing the Rimview trout farm, told the Senate Resources and Environment Committee the measure would retain the "historical flow" of Niagara Springs as determined by the director of the Department of Water Administration. But Bakes said, the flow has already been appropriated by the trout farm, Idaho Power Company, and a farm in the area.

"I think an absolute speed limit so far as the public is concerned is much better," Keithly said, adding many motorists drive now as if that were the rule.

He said he agreed with the principle of the bill which he thought to be to retain the aesthetic appearance of the springs, but said the measure could be unconstitutional.

Rep. Rudy Andersen, R-Boise, led off opposition to the bill, saying "everybody's going to be under suspicion."

He said he agreed with an opinion from the attorney general's office written Feb. 3 which said the legislature could prohibit construction of diversion works above the present diversion of water, but still allow use of the water downstream.

Adding his voice to the dissent was Rep. Wayne Tibbitts, D-Lorenzo, who objected to the hours set forth to describe daylight and darkness. In his closing debate Keithly said those descriptions were taken from existing law.

The executive secretary of the Idaho Reclamation Association, Jack Barnett, said he agreed with the need to preserve scenic values, but said the language in the measure "disturbs us."

Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, said she opposed the bill because a person going 71 miles per hour in a 70 mile per hour zone could have no defense against a speeding charge even though road, weather and car conditions might be fine.

He said the bill could apply "to every stream in the state being set aside for aesthetic purposes."

Farms are getting larger. The average farm in the United States in 1969 was 377 acres, a one third increase over 1959 farms.

Taxpayers due notice

BOISE (UPI) — To counteract what one member called a "conspiracy of silence" in Ada County on tax notices the House approved 52-10 Monday a bill requiring tax notices be sent to all property taxpayers.

"We've got a conspiracy of silence existing in Ada County with regard to tax notices," Rice said.

At present, the tax collector in a county sends the notices either to the taxpayer or the lienholder on his property if the lienholder makes the payment from a reserve set up for the taxpayer.

Under present law, he said, many taxpayers have no way of knowing where his tax dollars are going — especially to which taxing unit of government.

This bill, which goes to the Senate, requires the tax collector to send the notices to both.

"The taxpayer does not have a tax receipt," he said. In Ada County, he added, spending of tax money has become controversial. He mentioned the county's purchase for $600,000 of a building originally assessed at $325,000.

Medina to face charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army announced Monday it will court martial Capt. Ernest L. Medina on three counts of murder and charges that he was responsible for the deaths of more than 100 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, also supported the bill, calling it "something for the little guy so he knows in which closet the mice are hiding."

Medina, 31, commander of Charlie Company which swept through the hamlet on March 16, 1968, also will be tried on two counts of assault with a dangerous weapon, the Army announcement said.

Rep. Max Kendall, R-Aberdeen, opposed the measure on grounds it will cost county government more money to carry out its provisions.

But it said that two other murder counts and one assault charge would be dropped for lack of evidence.

"In my particular county they tell me they will have to hire one additional person," Kendall said.

In a statement issued in Washington, Medina declared: "I am innocent of the charges against me."

But Rep. H. Ferd Koch said the measure simply will give "more information to the taxpayer so he can be more intelligent about where his tax dollars go."

He added cryptically—and without elaboration—"The Army itself has a special reason to know this."

Rep. Wayne Tibbitts, D-Lorenzo, agreed.

The trial was ordered by Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, commanding general of the 3rd Army, at Ft. McPherson, Ga. No trial date was set.

"That person that has to pay the tax should have the same recognition and courtesy as the lienholder."

Medina, of Springer, N.M., is the last of three officers to be ordered court martialled for the alleged massacre at My Lai.

TMA halts 5 trips in state

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission has authorized the suspension of Trans-Magic Airlines to engage in intrastate common air service between five Idaho cities.

The commission noted a letter was received March 3 from the Jerome-based firm requesting the commission suspend the Boise, McCall, Lewiston, Moscow, Coeur d'Alene and Sandpoint, temporary route authority granted to them until May 1, 1971, due to insufficient load factors.

The commission further noted that the airline may remove the suspending order anytime between now and May 1 by a written request to the commission.

It was ordered that on or before May 1, Trans Magic Airlines must inform the IPUC as to its intent to either resume operations or request cancellation or modification of the temporary route authority.

Fire bombs increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The International Association of Chiefs of Police reported Monday it had received reports of 93 U.S. incidents involving bombs and incendiary devices in December and January. Fifty involved explosives, in which there were 40 detonations. Forty-three involved incendiary devices, with ignition in 39 instances.

Mob closes Ohio state offices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The State Office Building was ordered evacuated and closed Monday after about 1,000 blacks smashed windows and ripped out plumbing to protest alleged racism in public schools.

More than 100 Ohio highway patrolmen and city police converged on the building shortly after noon to clear it of student and adult demonstrators.

The demonstrators jammed into a room where the Ohio Board of Education was holding its weekly meeting.

Pay meeting set

BOISE (UPI) — The Democratic caucus in the Senate named a three-man subcommittee Monday to meet with Republicans and the governor to work out details of a possible referendum on legislative pay.

Sen. William Crutcher, D-Orofino, caucus chairman, said such a referendum would require a two-thirds majority in each house before it could be placed on the ballot for a decision of the voters.

The caucus came one day before the deadline for Gov. Cecil D. Andrus to decide whether to sign a recent pay bill approved by both houses of the legislature. The pay bill increased legislative compensation over the level set in the pay initiative approved in the last general election, but lawmakers maintain the pay is still lower than they received before the initiative was approved.

Sen. John Mix, D-Moscow, said the governor wanted the people "to have their say on this matter."
