Stiff fighting rages around trail center

SAIGON (UPI) — Heavy ground fighting broke out today in the Sepone area of Laos and front dispatches said the North Vietnamese were sending in tanks despite massive air strikes which have killed more than 1,000 Communists in the past two days.

U.S. military sources said B52 strikes accounted for at least 600 of the victims and that the raids were the most successful of the entire war by the high flying bombers. Spokesmen said this brought Communist deaths to more than 7,000 since the Lzotian operation began Feb. 8.

UPI correspondent Barney Selbert, aboard an American press helicopter attempting to reach the area of the B52 strikes, said his chopper was turned back this afternoon by heavy ground fire.

Selbert said it appeared that South Vietnamese forces in the region 25 miles inside Laos and astride the Ho Chi Minh Trail were in ground contact with North Vietnamese forces and that North Vietnamese tanks were spotted moving toward the battleground.

Brig. Gen. Pham Van Phu, commander of the 1st South Vietnamese Infantry Division, said at Khe Sanh, 12 miles inside Vietnam, that his troops at Sepone were having "some difficulty" in resupply by helicopter but they were carrying five to seven days supplies when they moved out of base areas.

The North Vietnamese have been reported sending in more and more heavy anti-aircraft guns for use against the swarms of American supply helicopters and Cobra gunships supporting the South Vietnamese incursion. A spokesman said three helicopters were shot down in less than one hour today.

The North Vietnamese delegation in Paris issued a statement Wednesday saying an American helicopter was shot down near Khe Sanh and that the two crewmen were captured.

Hits unions

ARTHUR BURNS, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, in an appearance before the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday said the time has come for Congress to take away some of organized labor's powers and to stop subsidizing the strikers.

Showery Union

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve System said Wednesday the time has come for Congress to take away some of organized labor's powers and to stop subsidizing strikers. Testifying before the Senate Banking Committee, Burns said labor unions have grown so powerful that even their members suffer from their policies.

He said it is "much more difficult for employers to take a strike to whip a strike than it was 10 or 20 or 30 years ago."

Congress created this imbalance with laws written in the depression era, when labor was weak, and Congress can correct it, he said.

His target was labor in general and specifically construction trade unions, which he said still use "medieval practices" such as the apprenticeship system and the hiring hall.

Breakdown of the new budget shows $129,037 allocated for general fund expenditures, $335,950 in the electric department and $83,750 for sewer operation.

Mrs. Brower said recent growth in the city has boosted the amount of state revenue received both from the highway users' fund and liquor appropriation, since these are based upon population.

Heyburn has grown from 829 persons to 1,637 in the past 10 years, she said, and some 50 new homes have been built since Jan. 1.

Councilmen also approved a plat of Block 3 in the Second State Addition, presented by Lloyd Fless of Southern Idaho Land Development. The area will be used for a housing project.

The council decided to work with Heyburn Lions Club members in developing a small park at the triangle bounded by Highway 30, 12th and J Streets.

Licenses are now due for dogs, trailer courts and junk yards, Mrs. Brower said.

Driver training periled

By LEE TREMAINE Times-News Staff Writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Schools Superintendent Ernest H. Ragland said today the district's driver training program will be dropped next year unless state funds are made available for its continuation.

Dr. Ragland said the district's program is currently $14,000 in the red for the driver training program, and will finish the year with a $24,000 deficit.

"Unless the state pays us back and provides a sure guarantee that the program will receive funds in the future, we simply cannot afford to 'loan' the state the money to keep the driver-training program going," Dr. Ragland said.

In Boise, the Joint Senate-House Finance-Appropriations Committee has not yet acted on a request for a supplemental appropriation to pay driver-training costs, though the request has been submitted, according to the office of Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls.

A secretary who asked not to be quoted by name said the supplemental appropriation must be approved by the legislature before the local school-district bills can be paid.

As originally conceived, the driver-training program was operated at no cost to the local school districts. New-car dealers provide the cars and gasoline for the districts, and the state pays salaries and other costs of local instructors.

"We'll finish this semester, of course; we won't pull the rug out from under the kids before the end of school," Dr. Ragland said. "But we can't continue."

Filer's budget up third

FILER — The Filer city budget approved for 1971 is 35 per cent higher than last year.

The new budget of $149,847 compares with last year's budgeted $111,405.

Mayor Dan Kauffman said most of the new expenditures are of the "one-time" type, and will not appear in following budgets.

The operation of the police department was taken from the maintenance division and transferred to the administration division which accounts for the raise of $47,000 from last year's $23,000.

The city council felt the police department could give much better service by separating it from the maintenance division.

New police equipment includes a 1971 car on order for $3,295, and a new car and radio communications operation for city and police work.

"Having our own radio band will improve the efficiency of both the police and maintenance departments," said Kauffman.

The new radio is being installed and should be completed within the next several weeks. (Continued on p. 15)

Galley trial witness ends

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — Testimony in the murder court-martial of Lt. William E. Calley Jr. ended today after Col. Oran K. Henderson took the stand and disclosed that higher commands at My Lai were concerned over civilian deaths even while the operation was in progress.

Henderson, who commanded the brigade that bossed the My Lai assault task force, was the 104th and final witness.

He testified that the commander of the division over him, Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, ordered a report on the number of civilian casualties a little over two hours after the helicopter-borne mission began on March 16, 1968.

Calley, 27, is charged with premeditated murder of 198 women, children and old men while leading an American infantry platoon at My Lai.

One of the most important and most publicized — and perhaps the longest court-martials in U.S. history ended testimony at 10:55 a.m. EST on the 46th court day. The testimony concluded one day short of four months after jury picking began on Nov. 12. Three long recesses delayed proceedings.

Bottle return worth nickel

TWIN FALLS — That pop bottle many consumers casually throw out the window is worth real money now — five cents apiece.

Some 7 shoppers have discovered the recently increased price when grocery store clerks charge them 5 cents deposit for a six-pack of soft drinks.

The deposit on returnable bottles jumped to five cents apiece on March 1, up two cents from the familiar three cents that has been the price of soft-drink bottles for so long.

hoping to convince buyers to return the bottles. Each soft-drink bottle costs the bottler "between 10.5 and 11 cents," Crowell said, and the bottler must use the bottle as many times as possible or the profit goes out the window — along with the bottle.

"We get six or seven trips per bottle now before the bottle disappears somewhere, but it used to be a lot higher," he said. Many buyers, apparently, have felt that at three cents a pop bottle wasn't worth hauling back to the store.

"Kids wouldn't even collect them for the deposit at three cents. We're hoping they will at a nickel apiece," Crowell said.

Party stranded in desert

TWIN FALLS — A ground party was formed today to travel to the Three Creek area to assist three people stranded there since Wednesday.

Sheriff Paul Corder said John Doerr, a Twin Falls attorney, and his two sons failed to return Wednesday evening from an excursion into the desert.

The sheriff was notified about 9:30 a.m. today that a pilot had located Doerr's vehicle.

The two boys were still with the vehicle and indicated by signals that their father had set out on foot for help.

The pilot, Robert Harney, said he searched from the air for Doerr after dropping the boys a note, but could not locate the attorney.

Sheriff Corder said several people in four-wheel drive vehicles were expected to set out for the area late Thursday morning and probably would find Doerr hiking along the road.

He said the stranded vehicle, apparently stuck in the mud, was found about 25 miles southwest of Balanced Rock.

Judge cites TV home 'wrecker'

LONDON (UPI) — The biggest marriage wrecker can be found in almost every home, in the view of a divorce court judge. A television set.

The judge, Sir George Baker, cited television Wednesday as the main reason for the matrimonial troubles in the case before him in the London divorce court.

He called television "that object of modern life which is almost without exception the cause of trouble in matrimonial cases."

The judge was giving a judgment in a case in which a husband claimed his wife refused to let him make love to her, to kiss her — or watch television.

John Edison, 52, a legal executive, was granted a divorce because of cruelty.

Key bank cuts rate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chase Manhattan bank today cut its prime business loan rate to 5 1/2 per cent from 5 3/4 per cent, effective immediately. Chase is the nation's third largest bank.

Money market sources expect other commercial banks across the nation will follow suit, although some were surprised by the half-point Chase move because most of the recent prime rate cuts have been 1/4 point.

CHANG (UPI) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today the United Nations would be signing its own death warrant by admitting Communist China.

The Nationalist Chinese leader, in an exclusive interview with UPI, said that if given the chance Communist China "will do everything within its power to sabotage this world organization."

Chiang, 83, yet appearing in excellent health, said his government will try its best to keep Communist China out of the United Nations.

"But if the Chinese Communists were allowed to join, it would spell the doom of the United Nations," he said.

Chiang gave the warning at a time when some of Nationalist China's allies, including the United States, showed signs of willingness to work out a formula under which both Peking and Taipei will be represented in the U.N.

Chiang warns on Chinese

Chiang reiterated his opposition to the two-China policy. He said this is a problem which "can be solved if the world community of nations has the spirit of righteousness and justice to condemn the Chinese Communists."

Heyburn spending to rise

HEYBURN — Heyburn City councilmen Wednesday night adopted a 1971 budget of $548,737, which is 10 per cent higher than last year, according to Vida Brower, city clerk.

There were no protests at the budget-hearing.

Breakdown of the new budget shows $129,037 allocated for general fund expenditures, $335,950 in the electric department and $83,750 for sewer operation.

Mrs. Brower said recent growth in the city has boosted the amount of state revenue received both from the highway users' fund and liquor appropriation, since these are based upon population.

Heyburn has grown from 829 persons to 1,637 in the past 10 years, she said, and some 50 new homes have been built since Jan. 1.

Councilmen also approved a plat of Block 3 in the Second State Addition, presented by Lloyd Fless of Southern Idaho Land Development. The area will be used for a housing project.

The council decided to work with Heyburn Lions Club members in developing a small park at the triangle bounded by Highway 30, 12th and J Streets.

Licenses are now due for dogs, trailer courts and junk yards, Mrs. Brower said.

44 more GIs killed

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. spokesmen said today 44 Americans were killed in combat last week, a four-week low and 25 fewer than the week before.

However, American wounded jumped to 434, the highest figure in five months.

The higher number of wounded was attributed to the increased Communist harassment of U.S. bases in South Vietnam supporting the South Vietnamese move into Laos to cut the Communist Ho Chi Minh supply trail.

The U.S. command said that from Jan. 1, 1961, through Saturday, the Indochina war had claimed 44,631 American dead.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve System said Wednesday the time has come for Congress to take away some of organized labor's powers and to stop subsidizing strikers.

Bean bargaining unit formed

TWIN FALLS — Citing a "growing concern among Magic Valley seed-bean growers," a group of growers has organized the Contract Growers, Inc., a bargaining organization.

According to the organization's president, Louis Reinks, 58 growers have already signed up and paid dues for the bargaining effort.

Reinks said the group seeks to protect the growers of seed beans, one of Magic Valley's largest and most important crops.

Many of the dry seed beans being today are extremely difficult to grow, Reinks said, and are genetically weak. This makes it "extremely important" for growers to invest their

"It's not unusual for a grower to wait five or six months before receiving his money from the company, after selling a crop," Reinks said.

A major objection has been voiced by the growers to the provision in the company contracts which demands that

Hanoi boycotts Paris talks

PARIS (UPI)—The chief Hanoi and Viet Cong negotiators boycotted the Paris peace talks again today in protest against President Nixon's Vietnam policies. The Saigon delegate was ill and U.S. Ambassador David K.E. Bruce was the only chief negotiator to attend.

The Communist deputies issued lengthy statements accusing the United States of preparing to invade North Vietnam and, before flying off to Romania for a visit, chief Viet Cong negotiator Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh told UPI she was convinced Communist China would give Hanoi all the help it needed.

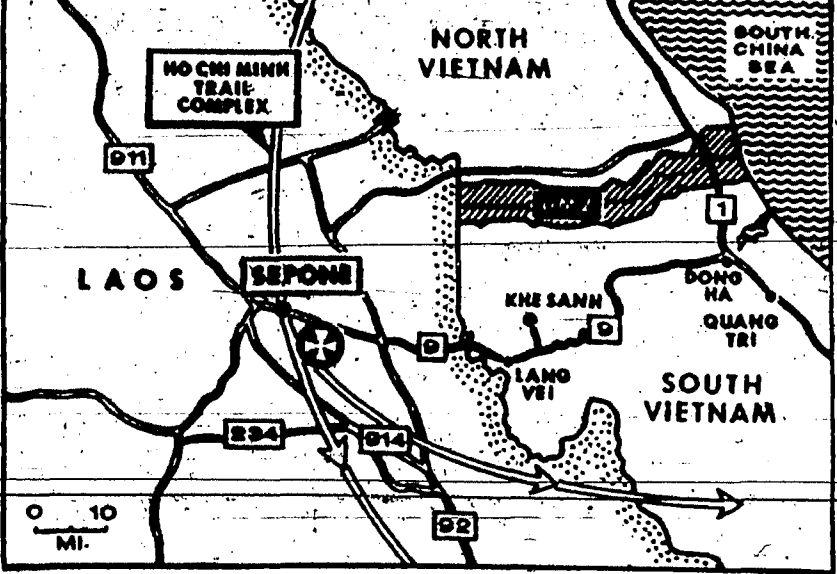

Bruce, in one of the hottest prepared statements he has yet made, said the Communists prefer propaganda maneuvers to serious discussion. I therefore have nothing further to say at this time.

The conference ended again without progress and the delegates agreed to meet again next Thursday—but without saying who would be there.

Both Madame Binh and Hanoi delegate Xuan Thuy boycotted last Thursday's meeting as well. She sent deputy Nguyen Van Tien and Thuy sent deputy Nguyen Minh Vy, both of whom said they fully approved the North Vietnamese stand.

Tien said it was becoming increasingly evident that the United States and South Vietnam were massing troops for military adventures against North Vietnam. Vy, speaking last, echoed those charges and insisted the Communists were inflicting grave defeats on the United States.

AT LEAST 600 North Vietnamese troops were reported killed by U.S. command in raid by B-52 bombers 10 miles south of Sepone, shown by cross. Raid was termed most destructive strike since big jets began flying missions in Indochina war more than five years ago. (UPI)

Tight charter control backed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The head of the National Transportation Safety Board Wednesday told Congress that the crash of a Wichita State University charter flight "showed the need for tough policing of charter regulations."

Chairman John H. Reed told a Senate aviation subcommittee that surveillance was particularly needed until rules governing charter flights are changed to close loopholes used by unscrupulous operators.

The Wichita State University charter flight crashed Oct. 2, killing 31 persons, including members of the football team. The plane flew into a canyon near Loveland Pass in Colorado.

In its report on the accident, the safety board said the crew failed to understand the capabilities of the 20-year old twin-engine prop plane. The plane, unable to turn around in the canyon, crashed 2,000 feet below the level of the pass.

"While we recognize that regulations alone may not necessarily prevent every accident, we do know from history that higher standards result in greater safety," Reed said.

He also urged that a study be made to "better identify the extent of public need" for large and complex planes in small charter businesses.

Reed aimed his criticism at the charter operation with a few planes, not the supplemental airlines or the scheduled airline charters, both of which must meet tougher safety standards.

Reed said the Wichita accident clearly demonstrated the need for better surveillance. He also said there was a need for more information to educate people "in need of charter services as to which operators are authorized to conduct" the flights.

Bulk mail facilities planned

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postmaster General Winton M. Blount announced today a nearly $1 billion project for the Army Corps of Engineers to build 33 bulk mail handling facilities across the nation.

Blount also told the House Post Office Committee the present one-year residency requirement for appointment as postmaster in major cities will be eliminated.

He said he hopes the building program of 21 major facilities and 12 "satellite" units will be completed before June 30, 1975.

Blount has been named to continue as postmaster general and chairman of the board of governors of the new U.S. Postal Service created by the last Congress. The new independent agency is functioning now but will officially come into existence July 1 when the postmaster general will no longer be a member of the President's cabinet.

Blount said the new "national bulk mail system" program "will permit us to handle parcels with far less breakage and with much greater dependability in terms of delivery time."

He estimated the cost of constructing and equipping the buildings will be "less than $1 billion."

Future doubtful for SST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The future of the controversial supersonic transport (SST) remains doubtful, with at least one indication the Senate would vote to kill the project if a decision were made today.

But final action was a long way off as the Senate Appropriations Committee rounded out its hearings on the plane by calling a series of scientists and economists to the witness stand.

The House plans to vote next week on a $290 million appropriation for the SST—including $134 million to keep the development going until July 1. Senate action will follow.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., leading Senate opponent of the project, said he thought the weight of the testimony Wednesday was against the SST. He cited as "most damaging" a statement of Najeeb-E. Halaby, president of Pan American World Airways, that as of now he would not exercise an option to buy Concorde—the British-French version of the SST.

Last year the Senate voted to kill the SST, but tentatively revived it at the insistence of the House pending the current round of hearings.

"If a vote were taken today I think the Senate would kill it again," one senator told UPI. He said right now he could count 50 votes against the plane.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, also called on Congress to continue funding the project.

Grace L. Boyd

HAGERMAN — Mrs. Grace L. Boyd, 77, died at her home in Hagerman early Tuesday morning of an apparent heart attack.

She was born Oct. 28, 1893, in Detroit, Mich., and started school there. In 1900 she moved with her family to Orange County, Calif., where she finished her schooling. On Oct. 31, 1910, she was married to William James Boyd in Costa Mesa, Calif. They lived there until moving to Hagerman in October, 1958.

She had lived here since. Her husband died Feb. 29, 1968. She attended the Baptist Church.

Survivors include one son, Harold Boyd, Costa Mesa; three daughters, Mrs. Bill (Mary) Scruggs, Hagerman; Mrs. Joseph (Lucille) Dorsey, Paul, and Mrs. Robert (Betty) Bomboy, Costa Mesa; one brother, Harold Monroe, Vallejo, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Merle (Esther) Cipperry, San Mateo, Calif.; 13 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Friday at the Hagerman Cemetery by Rev. James Holt, Shoshone. Friends may call at Thompson Chapel this evening and until 1 p.m. Friday.

Dole attacks Clark, Muskie

CUMBERLAND, Md. (UPI)—Sen. Robert J. Dole, in his toughest speech since becoming national Republican chairman, has accused Ramsey Clark of being a "left-leaning marshmallow" and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of undercutting President Nixon in Moscow.

In a speech to a Republican fund-raising dinner Wednesday night, the Kansas senator also criticized Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., the only announced Democratic candidate for president, of failing to denounce bombers who damaged the U.S. Capitol March 1.

The rhetoric was the harshest delivered by a leading GOP spokesman since Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's campaign speeches last year. The written text of Dole's address was punctuated largely with exclamation points.

Dole flayed Clark, the U.S. attorney general under President Lyndon B. Johnson, for becoming involved in the defense of the Rev. Phillip Berrigan and five other persons indicted in an alleged plot to bomb government facilities and kidnap Nixon aide Henry A. Kissinger.

"No wonder the extremists had a heyday under the Democrats when they knew that the chief law enforcement official of the federal government was a left-leaning marshmallow like Ramsey Clark," Dole said.

Dole said Muskie, who is considered the front runner for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972, was a "wandering minstrel" who had "undercut the President's position in foreign affairs." He said he referred to Muskie's meeting with Premier Alexei Kosygin in Moscow recently, after which Muskie said he told the Soviet leader there was an anti-administration view in the United States and that many persons were concerned about the arms race.

James Garfield campaigned for the presidency in German as well as in English. German was of great help to him in obtaining the German-American vote.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At least one Democrat—Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota—says he's not after the party's 1972 presidential nomination.

"I'm not a candidate," he said Wednesday. "The door is locked and bolted. I'm such a dark horse, I can't even get publicity when I withdraw."

Air, health panels set T.F. meet

BOISE (UPI) — The chairman of the Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission announced Wednesday the commission will meet with the State Board of Health in Twin Falls at the Holiday Inn on March 17.

Commission Chairman Robert Montgomery, Pocatello, said the commission will have a full agenda of business.

Board of Health Chairman Fred Humphreys, Boise, said the board would not have a separate agenda and does not plan to consider any other matters except air pollution business.

Heading the commission's agenda will be consideration of proposed Kraft pulping mill standards. A public hearing in Lewiston last Wednesday took testimony on proposed standards.

According to Montgomery the commission may adopt regulations at the Twin Falls meeting. Implementation of the standards would mean a significant reduction in air pollution associated with the Potlatch Forests Inc. mill near Lewiston, Montgomery said.

The air pollution control staff will present discussion of new state and federal legislation affecting air pollution control in the state. Reports concerning continuing programs of abatement and monitoring will be presented.

Dr. J.O. Carver has declined to make any statement about his suspension as state health administrator pending further action by the Board of Health.

Board members suspended Carver at a secret meeting in Pocatello Feb. 24. Their action came to light March 2 when United Press International received a tip about it.

After suspending Carver, the board named his assistant, Robert Des Aulniers, as acting administrator and ordered an investigation of the department.

Carver said he has not made any plans. "I won't know anything until such time as I meet with the Idaho Board of Health," he said.

Compensation law adopted

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate approved 30-3 Wednesday the recodified workmen's compensation law the floor sponsor described as "one of the major pieces of legislation of this session."

Sen. Fisher Ellsworth, R-Leadore, said the measure would bring about a 35 per cent increase in costs for those carrying the compensation insurance, but said the step was necessary "only because Idaho has refused to keep pace with economic realities."

The measure, already approved by the House, will now go to the governor for his approval.

Sen. Dean Summers, R-Boise, objected to the standard exemption for agricultural labor, but said he understood it was the "only way it could get out of committee."

Ellsworth said the re-working of the code has been under study since 1969 by a legislative committee and said consultant to the group was E. B. Smith, former chief justice of the Idaho Supreme Court and one of the "foremost authorities" on the subject in Idaho.

Ellsworth said the original workmen's compensation was drawn up in 1917, but said "frankly, Idaho has not kept pace with other states and changing times."

He said the bill represented one of the "first times labor and industry have sat down together and come up with something all could support."

Sen. Dean Summers, R-Boise, promised Wednesday a "daily in-depth study" of state land leases which he plans to read on the Senate floor to draw attention to low rates paid for state land leases.

Summers made his statement shortly after the Senate approved 31-1 a resolution calling for appointment of a legislative committee to work with the lieutenant governor to assist in selection of lands due Idaho from the federal government.

Summers, however, noted a House committee had just tabled a Senate-approved measure which called for advertising of the state land leases and criticized the senators for worrying about the federal lands while demonstrating a "total fiscal lack of responsibility on state ground."

Summers said he had already called the state land commissioner to ask for a daily listing of state land leases, which he said he planned to read "by name, by rate, and what the rates have been for the last 30 years."

Burglars strike 'Y'
TWIN FALLS — Damage to a file cabinet and cash drawer at the YM-YWCA building, 1751 Elizabeth Blvd., and loss of $14.50 in cash were under investigation today by Twin Falls city police.

Sally Molyneux, executive director of the YWCA notified city police about 11 a.m. Wednesday after discovering a burglary. Officers said entry apparently was made between 11 p.m. Tuesday and 9:08 a.m. Wednesday.

A filing cabinet drawer and a cash drawer in the main desk of the administration area were both pried open. Missing were $10 in bills, a roll of pennies and a bank money sack containing $4 in change.

NASA job awarded Fletcher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. James C. Fletcher, 51, president of the University of Utah and a pioneer space scientist, won the Senate Space Committee's unanimous approval Wednesday to be the new head of the nation's space program.

His confirmation by the Senate as successor to Thomas O. Paine as administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is expected to follow shortly.

Fletcher assured Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., that he had no intention to downgrade the space program. But he declined to predict that manned exploration of space would not ultimately yield to unmanned flights.

Champions of unmanned exploration consider it far more efficient and less costly than manned flights.

Fletcher said exploration "will have to be done in an optimum fashion—whether that turns out to be manned or unmanned. The distinction between those two is sometimes exaggerated and artificial."

Fletcher has been connected with space technology since 1948, when he ended a career teaching physics to head the theory and analysis laboratory of the electronics division of the Hughes aircraft co.

Later, with a subsidiary of RAMO-Woolridge Corp., he directed the development of NASA's first space probe, Pioneer 4.

Fly Right

The answer to airport congestion is simply to expand airport facilities, right? Not necessarily, says a report submitted to the New York Port Authority, although that has been a pattern frequently adopted.

Compiled by the National Academy of Sciences and the National Academy of Engineers, the report concluded a plan to extend Kennedy International into Jamaica Bay was undesirable. Mentioned, of course, was the fact that such an extension would intrude further into nature's domain, with predictable damaging results.

But that is not the main reason for knocking the theory of expansion. The apparent need for more room at Kennedy, the investigators concluded, was more imaginary than real. With better organization, the airport could handle a higher volume of traffic without any major problems.

Airline schedules are repetitive, expensive for airlines to maintain, and ought to be consolidated, the report recommends.

Air traffic control came in for its share of lumps, as did the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board. In short, what the study recommended was that the U.S. Department of transportation ought to get busy and organize itself.

This is an interesting observation which could be adapted to other problems in addition to airport congestion.

It could apply to plans for completely new airports. There should be a certainty that resources already available are utilized to maximum efficiency before such moves are proposed.

Right Tools

It was one thing for President Kennedy to proclaim the goal of landing men on the moon by the end of the decade of the '60s, and quite another for science and technology to devise the means of getting them there — and back.

Equally, it was one thing for President Nixon last January, as his first official act as the decade of the '70s, began, to establish a White House Council on Environmental Quality, stating that "it is literally now or never" for the nation to reclaim the purity of its air and water and living environment.

And quite another thing for science and technology to devise the means for reaching that goal.

The primary need, of course, is for methods of preventing or controlling pollution. But a companion need is for instruments to monitor the effectiveness of that control.

Already in some areas, says Chemical & Engineering News, suitable instrumentation is just not available for standards that either have been set or are expected to be set very soon.

Too many analyses still require expensive and complicated instrumentation that can be run only by highly trained personnel. The critical need is for automated, simplified "black box" methods that can be handled by technicians.

An example is a satisfactory and low-cost method of measuring the gaseous pollutants in automobile exhaust that a garage mechanic can operate.

Just as companies must now keep financial records that are credible to the Internal Revenue Service, plants will eventually have to keep pollution records that are credible to regulating agencies, the magazine says.

It predicts that the total market for pollution instrumentation will grow rapidly — about 15 per cent a year — during the 1970s. It will total at least $1 billion for the decade.

The market for auto emission instruments will peak at about $30 million per year in 1976, and the market for instruments to measure pollutants from stationary sources million a year by 1980.

This year to close to $40 million a year by 1980.

In the 1960s we geared up to land life on the moon. In the coming decade we will have to gear up again — this time to preserve life on earth.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Nothing is more puzzling than the Nixon administration's enduring lack of confidence in the capacity of Americans to accept unpleasant truth. Official utterances on the incursion into Laos provide fresh example.

In the opening days of the venture, several key Pentagon officials quite candidly warned that South Vietnam forces, though well-equipped and greatly improved over earlier years, could expect to be foughed up by the North Vietnamese army defending the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Now that it is happening as predicted, government officials — not least Defense Secretary Melvin Laird — are trying to gloss it over as of no consequence.

Admittedly, wipeouts of South Vietnamese fire bases in Laos, or even just hard threats to them, are not of a magnitude with effective assaults on Saigon's main forces.

But those forces, probing along Highway 9, have been stalled for nearly two weeks at a point about 16 miles inside Laos.

Again, statements by Laird and others that this protracted halt is according to plan just do not stand up. It can hardly be accident that the South Vietnamese have stopped at a place that keeps them under the umbrella of U.S. long guns firing from within South Vietnam.

Moreover, a day after the incursion started on Feb. 8, high Defense officials said the ARVN (South Vietnamese) expected to push at least 48 miles into Laos — to the junction of the Highway 9 and Highway 23, a southward-running road that is considered the westernmost part of the Red trail system.

The halt at the 16-mile mark is only a third of the way to Highway 23, and nine miles short of Sèpone, the midpoint on the trail as measured from east to west.

Thus limited in their advance aimed at slaying the trail routes, the South Vietnamese do not sound plausible when they claim the Red supply flow in Laos is reduced to very little.

Early on, key word from sources here was that the in-cursion might be limited to a few weeks — a quick slice at the trail to strangle the supply flow, destroy caches of weapons and other material, upset Hanoi's timing and maybe block any offensives designed to influence the 1971 South Vietnamese elections.

Repeatedly, however, our military men have been saying the venture has longer-range objectives, that the ARVN will stay until the trail dry season ends in May. Such a disruption could damage Hanoi's offensive, potential until after President Nixon has made his reelection bid in 1972.

There has to be serious question whether this makes sense, given the restricted size of the ARVN forces committed to the action. So far some 10,000 of an available 20,000 men have crossed into Laos. Probably a much bigger attack contingent is required to take and hold territory aghast the broad Ho Chi Minh trail.

Our air support with fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships has been persistent and has taken its toll of enemy soldiers, supplies, tanks, etc. But it has not prevented damaging Red drives against ARVN fire bases north and south of Highway 9, and we, of course, have had very substantial helicopter losses.

If more fire bases fall, ARVN columns might then be opened to severe Red Counterfire. Highways 9 today is a thin strand without proper protection from buffer zones.

In view of the known difficulties, any plans to hang on until May and push 48 miles into Laos seem a long bet. Return to an earlier pullout strategy may be forced on the planners, if Red resistance is high. The longer goals would be lost, but Hanoi's 1971 timetable might still be wheeled beyond repair.

CORNERED

RAY CROMLEY

A Boomerang

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Two things to remember when analyzing the bombing of the United States Capitol:

A bombing can be carried out by one man, or two or three. It is not a sign the antiwar movement as a whole is growing more violent. In this reporter's experience as a guerrilla, in fact, individual acts of extreme violence tend to increase when extremist factions of a movement begin to lose their influence.

Like a losing gambler grown frantic, each weakened splinter group, feeling itself on the downhill skids, attempts to recoup its losses (influence) by ever-greater sensationalism — here interpreted as violence.

As these splinter groups become less influential, they lose what moderate members they have, leaving only a hard core, the idiot fringe.

This bombing was not well designed to achieve any purpose whatever.

The bombing of a building identified with oppression or cruelty, however unjustified the label, can sometimes be used to stir up a feeling of achievement among some people. The U.S. Senate has no such aura.

Violence of this type is of strategic help to a thoroughly organized, slowly developing underground when the government in power has grown so weak it cannot protect itself. Such bombings then dramatize the fact, frighten many people who would otherwise oppose the underground. It broadcasts that the revolutionaries will be the government of tomorrow and signals that you had better cop out and be prepared to accept their rule or suffer the consequences.

Some analysts hold this was what the North Vietnamese-Viet Cong had in mind when they engineered Tet 1968.

By no stretch of the imagination could this situation be thought to prevail today in the United States.

This type of violence is also recommended by Mao Tse-tung when, in a tactical situation, the underground wants to create a diversion. It is impossible to see such a situation as this in the present bombing of the Capitol.

Guerrilla history is filled with examples which show that bombings aimed solely at

Crackdown

WASHINGTON — Unless Richard Nixon is a party to the Pentagon's sly evasions and half-truths concerning the war in Indochina, he should crack down on the military propagandists if only to protect his chances for reelection in 1972.

Perhaps the latest Gallup Poll will persuade the President that his best course lies in a directive to the Pentagon to come clean. Gallup notes that Nixon lost 5 percentage points on the question of how well he is handling his job between Jan. 9-10 and a survey taken Feb. 19-21 — after the Laos incursion. His popularity, says Gallup, has slipped to 61 per cent approval, his low point to date.

I suggest this decline has been caused by a feeling of confusion among the electorate about the Laotian adventure, which was launched Feb. 8. At this writing, it is virtually impossible to tell how well the operation is doing, due in large part to the Defense Department's frequent changes in signals. One day a place on the map is a major objective of the drive, the next it is unimportant. Spokesmen back off from previous statements, and equivocate when apparently caught trifling with the truth.

A rather serious case in point is that concerning the cutting of a North Vietnamese fuel pipeline in Laos. Several days before Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird announced the pipe had been cut (at a press conference Feb. 24) I sent a confidential memo to my editors reporting that Pentagon sources "claim" the South Vietnamese have cut an underground fuel pipeline, still under construction, in several places."

My informants said the pipeline had been cut as part of the Laotian operation initiated Feb. 8. At his press conference, Laird confirmed my memo and displayed a length of the pipe.

But the other day, after Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedman had sparred with reporters who wanted to know when the pipeline was cut, Defense officials admitted that the pipe Laird displayed had come from a clandestine South Vietnamese foray into Laos before the current thrust against the Ho Chi Minh trail.

(Meanwhile, incidentally, one of my sources insisted he had been told, again, the pipeline was cut during the current offensive.)

Now why should Melvin Laird and Co. give the impression the job had been done during the American-supported operation? Unfortunately, the answer is obvious: As part of a propaganda campaign to convince the American people that the operation was meeting with certain successes — that it was hurting the North Vietnamese supply system.

I say unfortunately because the war in Indochina is too serious a matter to be subjected to propaganda gimmicks. The Laos incursion has made the Vietnam War even more controversial here at home. If there is anything the American people don't need at this point it is a suspicion that their military leaders are a trifle casual in reporting what goes on over there.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Pacemaker

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Sometime will you please give some facts on the "pacemaker" that helps a heart block?

Mrs. F.F.J. In principle it is quite simple. The surgical installation and the adjustment and the steady improvement in the instruments are another matter.

The heart beats because a nerve impulse orders the heart muscle to contract rhythmically.

This nerve impulse has an electrical component (which we can record with an electrocardiogram). There may be more to it than that — there probably is. But the electric impulse is there.

If for one reason or another the impulse does not reach the heart muscle or is delayed in its course, that is a heart block. The heart beat is delayed.

Therefore, an electrode is embedded in heart tissues, and a very mild electric current is allowed to flow in brief, tiny surges. This small current takes the place of the natural impulse, and each time the current flows, the heart muscle contracts or "beats."

If we could run a wire through the chest wall and into the heart, then we could hitch it to any of various types of electrical instruments that will emit rhythmic pulses of electricity.

As a matter of fact, we CAN do that. But the problem is that after the passage of a little time, infection invariably develops at the point at which the wire enters the body. Then it has to be removed.

The answer to that has been to make very small instruments, possible with the miniaturization of electronic gear, and enclose the whole thing, and a battery, too, underneath the skin. It is thus totally inside, and there is nothing passing through the skin and providing a place for infection to start.

The tiny batteries last for many months, sometimes for a year or two. The instrument and battery are not implanted in the heart itself, but merely as close below the surface of the skin as possible. Therefore, it is relatively simple to open the surface tissues, put in a new battery, and let the patient go on his way.

Great technical improvements have been made and more are being developed to insure dependability. In some cases it would be helpful if the rate of the electrical impulses could be regulated from the outside: Perhaps a way will be found.

One theory, which doubtless would work if we could find out just how to do it, would be to devise an instrument that would pick up enough stray energy from the radio signals constantly all around us. Then replacement of batteries wouldn't be necessary. So far as I know, attempts are still being made but have not yet succeeded.

Anyway, these tiny pacemakers are in use with countless patients, from small children to very old people — the oldest, I believe, is a man well along in his 90s.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has hypoglycemia (low blood sugar). He stayed on his diet for about three months, but now he is drinking beer, wine, and on occasion mixed drinks. He does eat the proper foods, however. What effect will this have on his health? He is 46. — Mrs. C.V.M.

So far as the hypoglycemia is concerned, alcohol will aggravate the condition. If used occasionally and in moderate quantity, it may be tolerated fairly well — but by "occasionally" and "in moderate quantity," that's what I mean. Not every day.

Of course, heavy use of alcohol is a threat to anyone's health.

Note to Mrs. D.F.: Severe thyroid deficiency can cause loss of luster and thinning of the hair, so some further investigation of thyroid activity may be in order.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated into his column whenever possible.

MR. SPECTATOR

Nostalgic Memories

We are getting on who can remember the so-called Golden Age of radio, when families gathered around the set every night to listen to the very ultimate in entertainment — Fred Allen, George Burns and Gracie Allen, the Voice of Firestone, Ed Wynn, The First Nighter and many others.

Mr. Spectator can remember them all. He can also remember that late afternoon in Pocatello when, as a kid, he actually tuned in a station in Denver (KOA, I think it was) and then ran around the neighborhood to get everyone to come and listen. And come they did. Only trouble was that by the time they arrived the program had faded.

We can also remember our skill at stringing arials back and forth across the roof of our house. Mom didn't like it very much because it destroyed the beauty of the place. Perhaps she was right — but it was progress and progress actually destroys the beauty of a lot of things.

But getting back to the early days of radio: It was the heyday of the radio networks, and competition was fierce and strong to bring listeners the best and most attractive programs.

Everyone had his favorites, but still would concede that there was little that was mediocre and still less that was bad in the radio programming of that day.

Radio was a medium of genuine entertainment and few foresaw the day when it would drop to its present status of mere annoying background music.

Having gone through that age — which is now past forever — Mr. Spectator has but one wish carried over from that era. We've always wanted to be a "ham" operator. Perhaps some day we can get the job done! To us that is radio at its finest!

UNLISTED NUMBERS

According to a news story from Denmark, the Copenhagen telephone book is so informative that it even lists people who have unlisted phone numbers.

That would certainly be tough on a person who was trying to escape the clutches of his mean old creditors.

The American plan seems infinitely better. Here the telephone company will, for a slight charge, respect a subscriber's desire to remain unlisted.

Silicone impact grows

NEW YORK (UPI)—Silicones, one of today's least understood developments, have improved thousands of products. Since fluid silicones have decreased in price from $2.35 a pound to $1 over the last five years, despite the inflation, they will have even more impact on industry and science in the future.

Perhaps that's why the society of the chemical industry recently gave its Perkin Medal to Dr. James Franklin Hyde of Dow Corning, the man known as "the father of silicones."

The simplest silicone product is the little "sight saver" used for wiping eye-glasses. The more complicated products are silicone lubricants, textile treatments that make fabrics water repellent while retaining a soft texture, silicone rubbers and plastics used for shock absorption, insulation, mold casting and long lasting molded-in-place gaskets and seals for motors, space vehicles and all kinds of machinery and instruments.

Silicones, made by a complicated process from two plentiful elements, silicon and oxygen, also go in paints and coatings for metals that will outlast other surface coatings by many years.

surgeon developed silicone rubber joints that have been implanted in fingers of 2,000 arthritic patients. A Providence, R.I., dentist regained full use of his hands with the silicone rubber finger implants after giving up his practice in 1969.

Dr. Hyde told UPI the public will be concerned by the new automotive uses of silicone rubber. The molded in place gaskets and seals and silicone rubber cooling hose, already available, can outlast the average automobile engine and may become standard equipment on many cars in the middle 1970s, he said.

"Use of silicone rubber seals could make an automatic transmission last many more years," he said.

More dramatic are newly designed bumpers, developed by Menasco Co. of Burbank, Calif., which are backed by a pair of horizontal shock absorbers employing silicone rubber as the absorptive medium. They were designed to exceed the National Highway Safety Bureau's requirement that all 1973 model cars be able to withstand a 5 MPH crash with no damage to the cars or harm to passengers.

Menasco and Dow Corning believe their silicone rubber shock bumpers will reduce the impact of a collision at 30 MPH to about that of a 5 MPH crash.

Definitions create arms limit talk snag

by PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

After three sessions beginning Nov. 7, 1969, United States and Soviet attempts to negotiate an agreement on limitation of strategic weapons (SALT) are hung up on the definitions of two comparatively simple words.

They are:

"Offensive"—defined by Webster's Third New International Dictionary as "relating to or characterized by attack; fitted for or used in attacking," and "Defensive"—defined by Webster's as "serving to defend or protect; devoted to resisting or preventing aggression or attack."

Nor, as the conferees meet in Vienna next week (March 15) to begin their fourth round, will there be total agreement on the definition of "strategic" weapons.

The United States limits the term to land or sea-based intercontinental missiles and long-range bombers.

The Soviets take the position that any weapon capable of destroying a Soviet city is "strategic" and therefore want to include in the talks the 500 U.S. fighter-bombers based in Western Europe and at sea.

The United States says no, that these are "tactical" weapons employed in the defense of Europe and therefore not to be included in U.S.-Soviet negotiations.

They are, according to Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, subjects for a future conference which will seek mutual reduction of tactical forces in Eastern and Western Europe.

As for the matters of offensive and defensive weapons, these are definitions lost in the complexities of the U.S. and Soviet weapons systems.

Matters of definition are not the only reason the talks are resuming under circumstances not particularly auspicious.

WORLD'S TOP soul singer, America's James Brown, arrives with wife, Delodre, and big smile in London, where he will fill three concert dates. Two are in London, one in Birmingham, England. (UPI)

Early windup slated

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It's just possible that Americans will be going out more at night beginning this fall because of the upcoming government cut-back on the prime time of the television networks. Although local and syndicated shows will surely fill the gap on the stations, the reduction of network prime time, ordered by the Federal Communications Commission, will mean that the main entertainment programs will conclude earlier nationally. This will be the case particularly in much of the midsection of the nation, where, because of the different time zones, network shows are seen an hour earlier.

Being specific, most prime time programming come fall will be seen from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. on the East and West coasts. But in the Midwest prime time will be over at 9:30 p.m., so far as network shows are concerned. And this kind of fact may have wide showbiz repercussions. To begin with, entertainment outlets currently (and for a long time) affected adversely by television—such as movies, nightclubs, theatres, discotheques and restaurants—could capitalize on video's early network finish by using a little imagination, and cooking up special attractions adjusted to the available hours. The same goes for sports franchises.

Second—and along the same lines—a sizeable stay-up-late audience seems certain to be lost to television, and gained by competing outlets of entertainment.

Third, because of this, video could well lose some ground with the very viewers it is courting most avidly because of their purchasing power—the so-called "young" audience ranging in age from 18 to 49.

It is curious that CBS-TV, which is trying to shed its rural image and capitalize on the new urban audience, should be mainly responsible for the early prime time finish—aside, of course, from the FCC. For CBS-TV has virtually forced its competitor (who wanted to begin prime time at 8 p.m. EST) to begin earlier by lining up its own schedule at 7:30 p.m. (which means 6:30 p.m. in the middle of the country).

Broken windows noted

TWIN FALLS — About $65 worth of damage has occurred to windows in Twin Falls during the past two days, police report.

The latest incident, which was reported Wednesday morning, occurred at McCoy Coal and Transfer Co., where two windows were broken by rocks. The office windows were valued at about $10 each, police said.

John Laib, 133 Sidney St., reported to police Tuesday night that a storm door window had been broken by a water balloon. The loss is about $10. Also reported Tuesday was breakage of four windows at 736 Second Ave. No., the residence of Pearl Suckow. Officers said windows valued at about $35 were broken by a BB gun.

Government cost rise in 20 years momentous

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the most momentous things that has happened to the United States during the past 20 years is an enormous rise in the cost of state and local government. Nearly everyone is aware that states and cities are taxing harder and spending more, but few realize just how sharp the increases have been.

A study by the White House Office of Management and Budget reveals that expenditures by units of government below the federal level have sextupled over the past two decades. In 1950, state and local governments together spent $22 billion. Last year, they spent $132 billion.

Some increase in spending was inevitable because of population growth and inflation. The U.S. population has grown by more than 50 million and prices have risen more than 60 per cent since 1950. But these factors, by themselves, do not explain a 500 per cent rise in state and local spending.

Another factor, often overlooked, is that major changes that have taken place in the geographic distribution of the U.S. population. We have today much higher proportions of young people, who require expensive education, and of people, who often need costly health care or welfare assistance. Also, there has been an increasing concentration of people in urban areas. This is significant, according to urbanologist L. L. Eckert-Racz, because government "is obliged to do more things" for city-dwellers than for people who live in town and country, and each government service costs more. The bigger a city gets, the more it has to spend per capita to provide police and fire protection, sanitation and health services and transportation facilities.

Finally, Americans today demand more services from their cities and states than they used to do. They want better schools, more hospitals and clinics, bigger networks of highways. And all of this costs money. The federal government has cushioned the shock by expanding its programs of grants-in-aid. In 1950 states and cities got $2 billion in federal aid. Last year, they got $24 billion.

But as usual, taxpayers have borne most of the burden. During the past 10 years, state and local property taxes have more than doubled, sales taxes have increased by 150 per cent, and income taxes have soared by about 350 per cent. Forty-eight of the 50 states raised one or more types of taxes or added new taxes, during the past two years. This year, nearly 14 per cent of the total personal income of Americans will be siphoned off by state and local governments.

'Husbands' hit for actor Falk

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Peter Falk has finally got his hit, "Husbands."

A magnificent but unheralded actor, Falk has slogged along in movies and television accepting a variety of roles. Most of them were bad. But Pete's enormous talent made them memorable. He remained a journeyman actor. Producers took advantage of him by giving him impossible parts, characterizations poorly drawn, knowing Falk would break his back pulling them together.

"I've never been in a big boxoffice blockbuster," Peter said wistfully. "This one (Husbands) looks as though it might be the kind of picture that makes it big."

"That's important. One hit can make a tremendous difference. An actor begins to get good scripts. He's in demand."

Falk is an interesting man. He's small in stature. The voice is Bronx-Brooklyn, its quality rasping. He has a cast in one eye and his hair is unruly.

He appears to need a shave immediately after he's shaved. Falk looks and sounds tough. He was a Bohemian in Greenwich Village before today's kids invented the term Hippie.

But Peter's appearance is a sham. It belies the man beneath. There is a softness in him tempered by hard times and years of striving against difficult odds. Unlike many who have overcome the barriers of show business, there is no cynicism in Falk.

"This picture could set up a chain reaction for me," he said hopefully. "If it doesn't, at least I've enjoyed the experience."

"John (Cassavetes) and Ben (Gazara) and I became good friends. John is one of the best directors I ever worked with. In my dreams I want a director who sees the truth, detects fakes, a guy I like and can insult with no grudges—out in front of the camera.

"I honestly believe good actors know more about their roles than directors. We're more obsessed by characterization."

"I have a particular regard for John as a director and I would like to have seen him out front rather than as an actor. Not that he didn't turn in a helluva performance."

"I've seen other performers with magnetism, theatricality and basic elements, but I'm also aware the performers are acting. I never see that in John's pictures." Creativity crackles through Falk as much as it does Cassavetes. He is in the process of writing a screenplay which hopes to produce. "Someday I want to do my own pictures," Falk concluded thoughtfully.

Tickets costing $635 paid

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Dolores Thomas, 22, who police have termed the city's "most wanted traffic violator," Tuesday paid $635 in back fines on 81 outstanding parking tickets.

She received the money from her father who said he cashed in his savings bonds to pay the traffic fines. "I have only 17 tickets at home. I don't know how they can say I have 81," she said as she paid the fines. Miss Thomas headed the list of the city's 10-most wanted parking violators which was drawn up by police in a crackdown on illegal parking.

Work year value told

NEW YORK (UPI)—If one college president could dictate admission requirements nationwide, every student would work one year before entering college.

The payoff, according to Dr. Miller Upton, head of Beloit College in Beloit, Wis., would be this: A student body possessed of more maturity, greater motivation and more common sense.

Next September Beloit will offer entering freshmen an option to do just that. Under option II, as the plan is called, selected students will pay $100, receive college tuition and job guidance—and then go out and work for a year.

They will have the peace of mind that comes from knowing they have been accepted by a college, plus some of the prestige of being associated with same.

"When a person works," Dr. Upton said, "that person feels needed, develops self reliance, independence and can even risk failure. To parents, anticipation of failure is a horrible thing, but they forget that they got to where they are via trial and error.

Dr. Upton maintains that many students today, products of 12 years of compulsory education, enter college with a negative attitude toward what it's all about.

"Their attitude is that education is an onerous system you have to learn to beat," he said. "That, instead of viewing education as a process designed to help a person learn.

"Such an attitude among high school graduates kills the spirit of the intellect instead of stimulating and inspiring."

The educator, a native of New Orleans and former Dean of the School of Business Administration at Washington University in St. Louis, has pioneered other changes in higher education.

Eight years ago, when Beloit went on a trimester plan (three terms of four-months each), a work term was instituted. During the term, students assigned "work" go off campus and hold down a job.

Some go to Europe and work in hotels and banks, some go to the nation's capital and work for solons or federal agencies, others work in poverty programs.

"This is not just busy work," Dr. Upton said. "They go into existing jobs and see the world as it is."

No bomb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House grounds and the Executive Mansion were searched Wednesday after an anonymous caller told the District of Columbia police that a bomb had been placed there.

A spokesman said no bomb was found and the call was the work of a "crank."

Holds power

INDIAN Prime Minister Indira Gandhi led her Congress Party back to power Wednesday in Indian elections despite violence which claimed 94 lives. Mrs. Gandhi was returned to Parliament with margins of over 100,000 votes in home constituency. (UPI)

Vote age cut OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate approved a constitutional amendment today to lower the voting age to 18 for all elections.

The House is expected to approve the amendment next week, sending it to the states for ratification. Thirty eight states (three-fourths) must ratify it before it can become part of the Constitution.

Before passing the amendment, the Senate rejected a rider offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to grant full voting representation to Congress to the District of Columbia.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield moved reluctantly to kill the Kennedy proposal for fear it would delay approval of the 18-year-old vote.

Investing rules ready

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Securities and Exchange Commission announced Wednesday it will adopt regulations to prohibit mutual funds and other big institutional investors from cashing in on secret information concerning possible corporate mergers and takeovers.

In an eight-volume 3,400-page report on institutional investors, the SEC also said it planned to impose rules to prohibit institutions from receiving special price inducements to buy or sell stock in connection with takeover bids.

The report indicated that some funds had profited unjustly at the expense of other investors.

The report, ordered by Congress in 1967, was sent to the Senate and House following three years of study.

Institutional investors—mutual funds, pension funds, bank trust departments, insurance companies and others—controlled about 26 per cent of all outstanding stocks in 1968, the report said.

However, the institutions controlled 39.4 per cent of all stock traded on the New York Stock Exchange, indicating a substantial interest in the nation's biggest corporations. In 1900, institutions controlled less than 7 per cent of all stocks.

The commission said additional regulation was needed to control activities of institutions in connection with efforts of one company to take control of another through open market stock purchases and tender offers. Such takeover efforts are often opposed by a target company.

The commission said it would adopt rules "to prevent power-

Aussie leader 'hawk'

By United Press International
 William "Billy" McMahon, Australia's 20th prime minister, is a hawk on foreign policy. One of his first statements after replacing John G.orton was to pledge Australia's continued support in Vietnam.
 McMahon, 63, has the reputation of being a hard-working politician. Unlike the man he replaces, he is a traditionalist where Gorton was a master of the unexpected.
 Although small (5 feet 4), McMahon is a physical fitness buff and is a top squash player. He is a lawyer and a member of a wealthy Sydney family, and has served in the Australian House of Representatives since 1949.

McMahon is married to a glamorous blonde, Sonia, and has two children, a boy and a girl.
 On foreign affairs, he is noted as a friend of the United States and a firm believer that Australia must remain active in Southeast Asia.

Mrs. McMahon is the youngest and most glamorous first lady Canberra has ever had.
 Tall, blonde, willowy, with a flashing smile and a friendly informal manner, Mrs. McMahon, 38, exudes charm. They were married in 1965.
 They now have two children and live in a luxury home in Sydney's fashionable Bellevue Hill. Mrs. McMahon entertains frequently, figures prominently in the social pages, and is a regular fire nighter and racegoer with her husband.

Environment bogs Alaskan bonanza

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—In the Gold Rush of '98, all a prospector needed to haul his paydirt out of Alaska's back country were a tote bag and two sturdy legs.
 Things are different in '71—and Alaska's new "gold rush" is bogged down.

The second bonanza for the 49th state is a mammoth oil reserve under the frozen North Slope above the Arctic Circle. Oil companies have paid the state $900 million for drilling rights and spent millions more on exploration.
 But they must get the crude oil from wells on the frozen tundra in Eskimo country to refineries on the West Coast of the "lower 48" states.
 The oil firms want to build a $1 billion, 800-mile heated pipeline from the fields to the ice free port of Valdez on Alaska's Southern Coast. They've got most of the state's politicians and residents on their side—but powerful conservation groups and some Alaskan natives oppose the pipeline as an environmental hazard.

 The pros and cons were argued heatedly in eight days of Interior Department hearings in Anchorage and Washington, D.C., which ended last week.
 Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, who has the final say on a pipeline permit, indicated when the hearings ended that he planned to take his time in reaching a decision. He said a ruling was at least months away.
 Morton urged the oil firms "to rehab and review the entire problem" on an economic basis. He also suggested the huge oil resource should not be considered a "real reserve" until some way is developed to bring the oil to market.

The interior secretary noted a Canadian route for the pipeline had been unofficially proposed during the hearing, and said it ought to be looked at as a method of minimizing maritime hazards.

The Canadian pipeline proposal was strongly criticized by Alaskan and officials from Seattle, Wash., who expect to provide the southern port for many oil supertankers on the Valdez run. Seattle Port Commissioner Merle Adum criticized "this meddling in our internal affairs" by Canadian officials who have hinted they won't take kindly to oil ships plying their coasts because of the danger of spills.

Conservationists who fear the construction of the line and shipping of crude oil in supertankers may do irreparable harm to the ecology of Alaska and raise the danger of oil spills along the Pacific Coast got in their big licks in three days of hearings at Washington.

The man whose company plans to build it, Edward L. Patton of Bellview, Wash., said the environmental impact of the pipeline would be minimal and be outweighed by the benefits.

Pep pills termed aid to some youth

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government made public today a report by a panel of private specialists saying there was strong evidence that school children with certain "behavior disorders" improved in learning aptitude when given pep pills.

The panel—including pediatricians, psychiatrists, education specialists, mental health experts and others—also said they found no evidence to show that amphetamine drugs, when properly administered to pupils, might lead to drug addiction in later life.

"When the medication is effective, the child can modulate and organize his activities in the direction he wishes," the report said.

"The stimulant does not slow down or suppress the hyperkinetic (overactive) child in the exercise of his initiative. Nor does it pep him up, make him feel high, over stimulated or out of touch with his environment."

The group said their studies indicated that children given amphetamines showed improvement, from the standpoint of alertness, learning and social behavior.

The report was released by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, based on findings of a 15-member panel headed by Dr. Daniel X. Freedman.

Connally report 'excellent'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democrat in President Nixon's cabinet, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, says he enjoys excellent rapport with the President and can see him "whenever I want."

Connally said Tuesday he has encountered none of the problems of access to the White House Oval Office which former Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel complained of publicly and which some of Nixon's Republican appointees grumble about in private.

"I have the finest of relationships with the President and his staff," Connally said in an interview with a group of newsmen.

The former Texas governor declined to discuss his political plans or even say if he would work next year for Nixon's reelection or campaign for the Democratic Party. There has been speculation Connally would switch to the Republican side and replace Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as Nixon's running mate.
 "I'm not going to make any commitments along those lines," he said. "I'll just sit and listen for awhile. The others seem so well informed. I'll just let them speculate."

Business controls opposed

BOISE — Nearly half of Idaho's independent business proprietors are opposed to the government imposing wage and price controls to stop inflation's erosion of the dollar according to a National Federation of Independent Business poll.

However, 45 per cent of the responding Idaho business proprietors say they favor a general wage-price freeze, even though it might entail a bureaucratic buildup, according to the poll.

Replace GNP

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (UPI)—The Gross National Product should be replaced by more human criteria of progress in the United States, says ecologist and former Assistant Secretary of the Interior Stanley A. Cain, director of the University of Michigan's Institute for Environmental Quality.

By BARNEY SEIBERT
 QUANG TRI, South Vietnam (UPI)—I never knew his name until it was too late to call him by it.

And now I won't use it for he told me the last time I saw him and bought him a beer that his mother didn't know he drank beer. Perhaps she would disapprove, and she shouldn't have that added to her grief.
 I called him "the proverbial 19-year-old helicopter pilot." He called me, "sir," with that respectful way 19-year-old helicopter pilots have.

That's what he was, just 19, from a small city in Florida. Maybe it was because I'm 49, but he seemed like he was about 16.

He'd been in Vietnam three months and he didn't know what he wanted to do after the Army. College was out because that would mean he would have to give up flying and he loved that too much.

I tried to tell him he could go to college, fly with the National Guard or the Army reserve on weekends. But he said that wasn't enough flying. He wanted to do it every day. He flew "LOHs" (light observation helicopters), OH58 Kiowa day in and day out, the most hazardous job in the Indochina War—cruising at 20-foot altitudes, where the slightest error in judgment is fatal, attempting to draw Communist fire.

The last time I saw him, two nights ago, he told me he felt guilty because his helicopter wasn't flying over Laos—it was supporting a unit in South Vietnam.

He said he felt guilty because the pilots flying over Laos were taking so much fire. He felt he wasn't doing his bit.

Sunday, he got his chance to go into Laos—a visual reconnaissance mission, just himself, all alone.

Sunday night the crew chief of his aircraft came to me in the officers' club and told me he wouldn't be in for a beer any more.

Official kidnaped

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—Leftist Tupamaro terrorists kidnaped Uruguay's attorney-general for "an official talk" Wednesday. They told his wife they would return him to his home afterwards.

The Tupamaros, who have plagued the government with a recent series of daring acts ranging from bank robberies to political abductions, took the attorney-general, Guido Berro Orbe, 55, from his home at gunpoint.

Berro Orbe's distraught wife, Maria Mercedes, said two or three men and a woman barged into the house through the servant's entrance at around 8:20 a.m. while a second car full of terrorists waited outside.

She said the leftist guerrillas, who have also kidnaped four foreigners and a judge in less than eight months, told her: "We want him for an official talk." One hinted that the attorney-general's release might be by nightfall, she said. Berro Orbe recently helped expedite a request by the military that Tupamaros involved in incidents with the armed forces be turned over to military justice. The Uruguay Supreme Court has largely ignored the request.

The Tupamaros, who take their name from an ancient Inca chieftain, presently hold British Ambassador Geoffrey Jackson as a captive. The British diplomat, 55, was taken at gunpoint from his limousine nine weeks ago, on Jan. 8.

Repeal asked

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—A bill to repeal a little-known law which provides a manslaughter penalty for persons who aid pregnant women in finding abortionists was introduced in the state senate Wednesday.
 Sen. Garland Lane, sponsor of the bill, said it was meaningless to discuss abortion reform legislation until the provision was repealed. The senate has a bill on its calendar which would give any woman resident less than 16 weeks pregnant the right to seek an abortion.

Bond issue voted down

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Voters rejected a $20 million bond issue to build a downtown convention center Tuesday despite a promotional campaign by Mayor Alfonso J. Cervantes.
 The proposal didn't come near the required two-thirds majority. There were 29,627 votes for and 51,531 against the bond issue.

Panel sets 3 budgets

BOISE (UPI)—The Joint Finance Appropriations Committee set three more budgets Wednesday night, two of them higher than the amounts recommended in its tentative $122.9 million General Fund level for fiscal 1972.

For the Department of Administrative Services, the committee recommended $127,341 out of a total planned budget of $332,819; for its Division of Building Services, $421,000 out of a total of $487,788; and for the Division of Communications, $1,092,231.

The figure for Administrative Services was higher than the amount originally set by the committee. Part of the funds will go for a "top-level computer specialist" and part will help fund reporting services and copy services.

Those services were formerly performed by the Division of Management Services, which has been phased out.

But Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malden, a co-chairman of the joint committee, said, "really, this is just a new name for Management Services, isn't it?"

Dr. Sidney Duncombe, budget consultant to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, agreed the functions were the same as those performed by the Division of Management Services.

The General Fund expenditure of $85,372 for the Division of Communications, was the same amount recommended in a revised budget submitted by Andrus.

The $421,000 set for the Division of Building Services was less than the $476,570 originally planned, and showed a cut in the salaries and wage categories.

Skip Chillberg, a member of the budget staff, urged the committee not to cut the money from the Division of Building Services, and said the funds were needed for a contract for maintenance on elevators and air conditioning in the Capital Mall system.

But Sen. Marsden Williams, R-Idaho Falls, questioned the request for some 40 new positions in the division. Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grandview, questioned the job the division had done in landscaping around the Supreme Court Building, and the committee's secretaries questioned a recent bill submitted to the committee for work done in the joint committee's room.

Palmer said he had been told by the secretaries a bill for $53 which represented $9 an hour had been submitted by the division for hanging drapes in the committee's room.

But Sen. Vern Brassey, R-Boise, said the secretaries were "in error" and promised to produce the true bill shortly.

Trade classes lose

BOISE (UPI)—Led by an industrial arts teacher, the House killed 25-30 Wednesday a bill permitting establishment of vocational high school districts in Idaho.

Rep. Robert Haakenson, D-Coeur d'Alene, said he agreed Idaho youngsters need more vocational training and that too many are "trapped" into college programs for which they are unsuited.

But he said he prefers the philosophy of the industrial arts program whereby school children sample various occupations at the high school level until they find the one in which they want full training.

He recommended the schools not waste money training the youngsters for a trade until the youngsters decide to go into that trade.

Rep. E. G. Jenkins, R-Nampa, the measure's floor sponsor, urged passage of the bill on grounds the training the schools have offered the children is "not what the doctor ordered."

"For too long we've been force feeding a diet of academic training and the result has been malnutrition," Jenkins said.

He was supported by Rep. Virgil Farmer, D-Nampa, who said passage of this bill would be "one of the greatest things we could do for our young people." He said he knows of no better way to get mileage out of the education dollar than by such a cooperative venture.

Farm workers protest

BOISE (UPI)—More than 100 Chicano farm workers marched in protest Wednesday around Idaho's capitol and then a small group met with the governor and told him to veto H. B. 241 or face possible violence this summer.

During the demonstration the group was eyed by Ada County Sheriff Paul Bright, who allegedly had been asked to stand by Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy. Bright said he was at the capitol to testify in behalf of a bill to set up a statewide teletype network and said he knew nothing of Murphy's request.

Minutes after the meeting with the governor, the Senate adopted the bill in question and then put an expiration date on it of March 1, of 1972.

The bill basically allows workers to unionize and the right to collective bargaining in its simplest form.

Fifty per cent of the qualified employees may petition for a union representation and 50 per cent of those workers must vote in an election.

In order to picket the bill provides that the employer has worked for the employer for at least six days.

At the meeting with Gov. Cecil Andrus, the group emphasized that the bill, that they had been told would surely pass in the legislature, is unconstitutional and would further push the farm worker into the hole he has occupied for generations.

Rogelio Garza, Nampa, told the governor, "the only hope we have left is your office. We are here to encourage you to reject the bill."

"We are not sophisticated as the legislators are in bringing opposition to the bill but we feel the bill is a bad one, and it is better not to have any legislation than bad legislation."

He listed three areas of the bill that trouble his group:

- It would favor the farmer because it puts unrealistic time limits on employment before strikes or labor organizing can be undertaken.
- It's generally a bad bill, which has been admitted by both the proponents and legislators, and
- It offers, few if any protections for migrants.

The group pointed out they have given the legislators alternatives to the measures — all of which have been largely ignored and said the legislators are bent on adopting the bill, even though they know it is poor legislation.

He said the bill would put labor groups in untenable situations when strikes were called because of the staggered arrival dates of the workers. If the workers chose to strike, they could be placed in jail and that

"frightens many workers away from coming to Idaho."

The governor asked whether some legislation, while studies being conducted to come up with better legislation, would be better than no laws at all.

He was answered by several members of the group that said the bill would suppress even if it only lasted for one year. They said the bill might force some workers to violence.

The governor asked if the workers could promise, if the bill were rejected, that there would be no violence this summer.

The workers replied: "Can the farmers make the same promise? They are the ones who have threatened violence. We will only resort to violence when backed into a corner that we can't get out of. There was no violence last year, but we can't promise there won't be any this year."

Jullo Perez told the governor

he had heard news that crew leaders in Texas were being told not to move and there might not be an oversupply of laborers this summer, as had been earlier forecast: If that occurs the chances for violence would be lessened.

Others emphasized all the group wanted was for the laborers to be able to ask for higher wages — not ones that are out of sight — but those that compensate them adequately for the work they perform.

They discounted rumors that the far-labor movement is a "Communist plot" and said farmers were bringing in rabble rousers to scare everyone into believing Cesar Chavez is in Idaho.

"I can tell you he's not here and won't be here. He has a big enough problem in California. We're just working for a settlement for ourselves, that's all," Pete Lopez said.

Fund raid plan loses in House

BOISE (UPI)—Rep. William Onweller, R-Boise, attempted to raid the permanent building fund of $1.1 million for water pollution control Wednesday but was stopped cold by the House.

Working in committee of the whole, the house snipped the enacting clause from a bill Onweller was trying to amend to divert one-half of the head tax revenue to the water pollution control fund.

Rep. William J. Murphy, D-Wallace, who proposed the bill-killing amendment, said the Onweller proposal would turn around completely the intent of the bill as it was first introduced.

When this is necessary, he said, "you have a bad bill."

He pointed out the Revenue and Taxation Committee, of which Onweller is a member, still has the privilege of introducing bills and can come out with new and "proper" legislation later.

"I feel that a raid upon the permanent building fund at this time is inopportune," Murphy said.

As originally proposed, the bill would have diverted from the permanent building fund back to the counties of origin all the revenue from the $10 head tax the public pays in filing state income tax returns.

Onweller proposed Wednesday that the bill be amended to divert one half of the head tax revenue to the water pollution control fund so it could be matched with city and federal funds for sewage treatment.

"This is gravely needed," Onweller said, adding that there is not enough money at present in the pollution control fund to take care of the needs adequately.

Unless money is found to meet the needs, he said, there will be a backlog of $887,200 in 1972, $2,587,400 in 1973 and $3,238,700 in 1974.

Wine sales bill passed

BOISE (UPI)—The Senate approved 18-16 Wednesday a measure to allow retail sales of table wine, a bill killed by the upper chamber once before but apparently made more palatable by an amendment.

The measure first passed the House, but was killed 12-22 by the Senate Feb. 19. The measure with its new amendment must now be returned to the House for the lower chamber to concur with the amendment.

control fund so it could be matched with city and federal funds for sewage treatment.

Senators back veto

BOISE (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday sustained the first veto by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus in this session, a veto meant to clarify regulations concerning overtime, vacation and sick leave for state employees.

Andrus said, however, he felt the measure "quintessentially" the duties and responsibilities of a department head by having the personnel committee's approval shall be expected by the administrative personnel.

Student body elections set at ISU

POCATELLO (ISU) — Idaho State University students will vote for a new student body president and vice-president in elections at the school Tuesday and Wednesday, March 9 and 10. Three president and vice-president candidate teams are running for the top offices.

"Probability of a run-off election for president is good since a team must receive a majority of the votes cast to win," said the ISU student newspaper, "The Speculum."

"Run-off elections have been necessary in the last two presidential elections because more than two teams ran."

The two teams receiving the most votes will face each other in another election within one week, according to Associated Students of Idaho State University (ASISU) regulations.

The president and vice president candidate teams, with the presidential candidate listed first, are:

Ron Estep, Hazelton, and Paul Fees, Walnut Creek, Calif.; Mark Hennessee, Pocatello; and Marc O'Connor, Pocatello; and Jerry Robinson, Twin Falls, and Roger Welt, Modesto, Calif.

Candidates for top offices in the ISU School of Vocational-Technical Education are Robert D. Kuhl, Twin Falls, president; Daniel L. Harris, Pocatello, vice president; Michael Mertzlock, Pocatello, president; Gordon Williams, Pocatello, vice president; Dennis McGary, Pocatello, president; and Brent Boodry, Pocatello, vice president.

The school's two senators. Eleven candidates are running for three student senate seats from the College of Liberal Arts. They are Gregg Henderson, Pocatello; Kathleen Hoene, Boise; Craig LaChance, Pocatello; Jeffrey Lemar, Boise; Brent Manning, Pocatello; John Moore, Pocatello; Douglas Moran, Boise; Gayle Ann Rice, Idaho Falls; Larry E. Sims, Glenns Ferry; Ian R. Strong, Pocatello; and Tony Taquba, Waihawa, Hawaii.

Running for two College of Education student senate seats are Cary Baird, Pocatello; Ed Jameson, Boise; and Leigh Lint, Pocatello.

One student senate seat for the College of Business is sought by Jerry Higgins, Twin Falls; Garn W. Theobald, Shelley; and Vickie R. Wallace, Pocatello.

The one student senate seat for General Studies will be won by either Barry Winmill, Pocatello, or Nancy Strong, Craftsburg Common, Vt.

Ronald Bolinger, Twin Falls, the interim Graduate School senator, is running unopposed.

Men are 19 times more likely to have gout than women, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Boy Scouts of America acts on youth involvement

TWIN FALLS — The youth of America today is seeking a bigger piece of the action, and the Boy Scouts of America is giving it to them.

James Kinney, new president of the Snake River Area Council, which serves Magic and Wood River valleys, points out that the purposes and prime methods of Scouting will remain the same, but in the time ahead there will be greater flexibility and more boy involvement in the planning of their own growth and development.

Youth participation is now an important factor in all levels of Scouting, Kinney said.

Nationally, there are four youth participants on the National Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America, and young men are planning and carrying out the programs for 1971 events including the National Explorer President's Congress to be held in Washington, D. C., June 2-6, and the National Conference of the Order of the Arrow at the University of Illinois, Aug. 24-28. Twelve young men will be elected at the latter event to serve as an advisory committee for the Boy Scouts' national jamboree to be held in 1973.

"Project SOAR, which stands for Save Our American Resources and is the year-long National Conservation Good Turn of the Boy Scouts of America, is also a good example of youth involvement," Kinney said. "This ecological activity will have boys sharing at all levels in the planning and execution of local conservation programs. It's 365 continuous days of meaningful involvement."

Kinney also reported that research and experiments have brought some considerations for improvements in the Boy Scout program for boys from 11 years of age and older that may be put into effect within the next two years.

A research study called "Scouting in Tune with the Times" was the basis for a careful look at the Boy Scout program, including the advancement program. The recommendations now being considered by national volunteer committees may bring about a realignment of skills and program content and the addition of new skills.

The study showed that there are certain outcomes desired by the present two million Boy Scouts as well as by boys who

By Mary Sue Miller

A Lovely writes: My husband weighs about 15 pounds more than when we were married 10 years ago. He attends a great many business luncheons and dinners, where fancy dishes and rich desserts are his downfall. Still, I hate to serve him diet meals at home. Seems so institutional. Your ideas, please.

The Answer: A wife is smart to be concerned. A man who gains 15 pounds in 10 years is apt to be 30 to 40 pounds overweight by the end of the next 10—if left unchecked. He is just as aware of this as you. The dangers of excessive weight to fitness are on every tongue.

So what should you do? Put your foot down and put him on a reducing diet? Only doctors have any success at all with diets about dieting. Your best course is not words, but action. Give him the foods he should have, so deliciously prepared and attractively served that he never suspects hidden motives.

You make a good beginning by emphasizing protein foods and decreasing fats to 50 grams per day. Fats get to his waistline and possibly to his health quicker than other foods. One tablespoon of salad oil and one of butter add up to 224 calories, 21 grams of the daily fat allowance and no solid eating. To keep the fat intake in hand, trim fat from meats; serve butter or other spreads in fluffy curls; season with herbs and spice instead of butter; avoid frying; serve low-cal salad dressings. Such gambits, used daily, can log off some 400 calories. The saving reverses creeping weight and no one the wiser.

T.F. scholarship holders relate interests

POCATELLO (ISU) — Four holders of Idaho State University Club Scholarships from Twin Falls have many exceptional and exciting interests. World travel, language-education, Greek-life, concert choir and student government are just some of the interests listed by the four, John Moore, Greg Wills, Sherrie Nelson and Shauna Jensen, all graduates of Twin Falls High School.

T.F. students . . .

Parents Weekend, early in May. She is active in Der Wittenberg — a college-age discussion group for Lutheran students. Sherrie likes to knit, to play the piano, to swim and to read in her spare time and is planning a career as a Navy nurse after graduation.

Shauna Jensen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Jensen, is a German-education major at ISU. Her interest in German can probably be attributed to three years of German in high school and a two-week language camp this summer. The camp was designed to teach the participants the German language, German culture and the German way of life. Shauna found the camp an exciting experience that she will never forget.

Puerto Rico lib sounds out

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)— Puerto Rico was producing its share of outstanding women long before the first shot was fired in the women's liberation revolution. Now the daughters of that militant tradition may carry the movement to its stiffest test to date: the male stronghold of Spanish-speaking America.

A women's lib leader, Gloria Steinem, recently brought the message to Puerto Rico, her first foray into a Spanish-speaking country, to a largely female audience. At the end of Miss Steinem's presentation, a 90-year-old retired schoolteacher few cheers when she told the audience that regardless of the structure of society or existing laws, "what women want, God wants, and it will come to pass." Liberated women are no rarity on the island. San Juan's former lady mayor, Felisa Rincon de Gautier, was probably one of the best known Puerto Ricans in the world during her 22-year tenure at City Hall. There is a woman in Gov. Luis A. Ferre's cabinet, Secretary of Labor Julia Rivera de Vincenti, and Puerto Rican women have distinguished themselves in the legislature, as judges, in hospitals and in the arts. A Puerto Rican beauty, Marisol Malaret, is the reigning Miss Universe this year. Despite 75 years as a U.S. possession and the resulting American influence on everything from the grocer's shelves to the language, Puerto Rican society still is rooted firmly in its Spanish colonial past. The growing crops of politically sophisticated, emancipated young women at the island's universities still is vastly outnumbered by the kitchen-bound women, both urban and rural, who never question the dominant role of men and raise their sons and daughters to respect the traditional pattern. The strength of that tradition was evident in comments from the dissenting minority at the island's first women's lib rally.

Visit in Washington

CONG. James McClure recently greeted Rosemary and David Alvord, Twin Falls, at his office in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Alvord have just completed a tour with the Peace Corps and stopped in Washington on their return trip to Idaho. Rosemary and David have worked as Peace Corps recruiters here in the United States and as teachers in Micronesia.

news about the people you know Valley Living

DEAR ABBY: I am 39, and Edwin is 40. We've been married for 19 years, and I'm not saying our marriage has been a bed of roses, but then, whose has?

About a year ago Edwin tried to run me down with his car but I was too quick for him. Of course he denied it—said the brakes didn't hold, but he was lying. A few months ago Edwin was on the roof fixing a leak and I was down below turning on the garden hose when he tried to drop a heavy metal tool box on my head. It missed me by a hair. I just don't know what he will pull next; Abby, I have heard rumors about him and a neighbor lady whose husband is gone for months at a time working on a ship.

If Edwin wants to be rid of me, why doesn't he say so? If I didn't have 9 kids I would leave him tomorrow.

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If you suspect Edwin is trying to get rid of you, beat him to the punch and get rid of HIM. If you can't afford a lawyer, see your local legal aid society. Better to be suspicious and alive, than the dead "victim" of an "accident." (P. S. If he asks you to go hunting, fishing, boating, or mountain climbing with him, don't go.)

DEAR ABBY: During most of my childhood I had pale blond hair, but as I grew older it gradually turned to that "dishwater blond," so I started to bleach it in order to retain the same light blond color. At the time I met my husband I was a "blond," with the help of the beauty parlor. I never tried to deceive him. He knew, and had no objections.

About a month before our marriage I took a good look at myself and decided the artificial blond hair was not becoming to me—also my hair was in sad shape from all the bleaching, so I dyed it back to my natural light brown color with gold highlights. Ever since, my husband has been throwing a fit because he wants me to be a blond again. So, Abby, I need some advice from you—and from your readers. Should I be a blond to please my husband, or should I stay the way I am to please myself?

TO DYE OR NOT TO DYE

DEAR TO: To thine own self be true. Retain your natural color and explain that nothing is forever. And tell him that when he loses HIS thatch you'll not love him less. P. S. Buy a smartly styled blond wig for those occasions when he gets blond-hungry.

DEAR ABBY: I always read your column first for two reasons. First, because it is different every day, whereas the news is always the same. Politics, war, crime, etc. And second because it shows us what a motley crowd we human beings are.

For example, you recently had a letter from a woman commenting about a previous letter concerning sickness in old age. She believed that sickness in old age is punishment for sins committed in younger days. That's like believing, as they did in the early Christian era, that people with mental illness were possessed of the devil.

Then today you told somebody that people who leave their TV sets on when friends called are justified if the callers dropped in unexpected.

If you are right, what has happened to the old idea of friendliness? I can't think of a TV-program that is more important than having an old friend drop in to pay me a visit. It's the folks who are called upon who are honored. We are always pleased when unexpected company drops in. Yes, we human beings are a motley crowd.

War Mothers hear drug program

BURLEY — The Cassia County Chapter of American War Mothers heard a program on drugs during a meeting at the home of Mrs. Hallie Boyd, it was announced today. The program was presented by Sheriff Ray Mitchell. He displayed a wide variety of drugs and devices for administering them. Many of the devices were homemade and picked up from local users.

Mrs. Mae Doman, public-relations chairman, arranged the program. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Rhubie McClaffin, president. It was announced the next meeting is 7 p.m. April 5 at Mrs. Boyd's home. Mrs. LaVon Myers, music chairman, will make arrangements for the program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Anna Parish.

Study club hears review

BURLEY — Members of the Burley Study Club heard a review of the book, "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory" during a meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Clea Holyoak.

Mrs. Peal Lee gave the book review which was an autobiography of Anita Bryant. The success story began in Barnsdall, Okla., with extraordinary humor and candor she tells about events which led her from school girl, to television shows to the Miss America Pageant.

Included in the story is her life with Robert Green, their marriage and love story, and arrival of four babies. A short meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mae Hanks, president. It was announced the next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. LaRene Bingham and Mrs. Ruth Curtis will give the book review. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Holyoak.

4-H junior leadership explained

HANSEN — Kurt Daw gave a talk on his junior leadership in the 4-H program during the Royal Neighbor meeting Tuesday night at Woodman hall.

He explained the purpose of the program and gave details of his special project, raising sheep and showing them at the county fair. Hansen junior leaders have received awards for their work in helping beginning 4-H clubs and they have received national recognition from Standard Oil of California.

Pro tem officers were Bertha McCarty, Ruth Wright and Minnie Bedow. Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. Bedow. Finance plans were discussed and it was voted to bring articles for sale to the April 13 meeting.

Girls' Stater for Hagerman announced

HAGERMAN — Lorna Butters has been selected as a delegate to represent Hagerman High School at the 25th annual Girls' State to be held at the Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, June 13-19, according to Mrs. Bud Owaley, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, Lea Owaley Post No. 31. Alternate delegate is Jolinda Jensen.

Miss Butters is presently serving as an officer in the local chapter of the Future Homemakers of America and is assistant editor of the high school annual staff, as well as being active in student council and other school activities. She is also president of the youth group of the United Methodist Church and teaches a Sunday school class. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brown.

Miss Jensen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bowen. Active in school and church organizations, she is a member of the Pep Club, worked on the high school annual staff, a member of the LDS Seminary and is editor for the ward's weekly bulletin.

The local American Legion Auxiliary annually sponsors the delegate for the Girls' State program.

LORNA BUTTERS

Auxiliary plans dinner for April 12

SHOSHONE — A potluck dinner will be served at 6 p.m. April 12 by the American Legion Auxiliary in commemoration of the Legion's 52nd birthday, reports Mrs. Elmer Terry, secretary.

Mrs. Omer Shook, Mrs. Ray Tanaka and Mrs. William Thomason are members of the committee in charge of the dinner.

Mrs. Reid Newby was accepted as a new member at the March meeting. A card of sympathy was sent to the family of Arthur Osburn.

Cards of thanks were received from Girls' State delegates and alternates. They are Kay Saraa and Sheila Carlson, delegates, and Cindy Stimpson and Terri Forbes, alternates. Mrs. Joe Pagoaga is the Girls' State chairman for the auxiliary.

Hostesses were Mrs. E.D. Saraa, Mrs. Herb Love and Mrs. Gladys Shaw.

Qualified as finalist

BUHL — Jackie Lee Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miracle, has qualified as a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Corporation contest.

She is among 15,000 finalists competing for approximately 3,000 scholarships that are worth $1,000 a year. Two-thirds of the scholarships are renewable for four years of schooling. Winners of the contest will be notified May 15.

'Basketball B' Cue' Scores For You

NO SPECIAL holiday or party idea is needed for a barbecue buffet for neighborhood friends and hungry teenagers, particularly after a big noisy high school basketball game.

With the aid of an electric broiler-roaster, it's easy to move the spirit of outdoor eating indoors—right in the family room—without worrying about cooking messes.

Let dad "man" the broiler at your "basketball barbecue" while you tend to the preparation and serving. Make it hamburgers for everybody, but be sure to eat plenty of them.

A crispy tossed salad, potato chips, a relish tray, coleslaw for the kids, and coffee for the adults will complete your post-game food fare. The party is guaranteed to be a success, even if the home team loses.

Scouts start anti-drug program

NEW YORK (UPI)—Girl Scouts and drug abuse sound mutually exclusive but they are not—the Scouts are alert to the drug problem and even the possibility of it reaching out to their girls.

The role they have chosen for themselves in combatting drug abuse is prevention through education, starting at the youngest age levels.

Interestingly enough, the impetus for the anti-drug programs conducted by councils in areas throughout the country comes from the girls themselves, not for adults.

Take the words of the writer of a background report when a senior Girl Scout troop in Knoxville, Tenn., wanted a $500 grant to help furnish the living room of an Awareness House in Oak Ridge, Tenn., a grant which they eventually received.

She was explaining how the troop became involved with Awareness House, a youth center with a commitment to preventing and eliminating drug abuse.

In relating the history, she wrote: "Finally in November, 1969, we held our first 'Speak With'—an encounter session of sorts with a panel of adults from the school, clergy and parents with an equal number of Scouts. Our 'thing' for the evening was to convince our parents to take us seriously... please recognize (the drug problem) and give us some help."

Eventually, help was forthcoming as the girls convinced adults of their need.

What really has happened in the Scouts is that it is the girls themselves who keep it contemporary, albeit with adult guidance.

When you and I were young, Maggie, Girl Scouts earned badges in first aid or camping skills, very nice but hardly in tune with the '70s.

Nowadays, according to a spokesman for the Girls Scouts of the U.S.A., girls may earn badges in anything they wish, if they can provide a good case for its need.

RUTH ANN CHICK

Miss Chick, Keith Beebe set date

HAGERMAN — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chick announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Ann, to Keith Beebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernell Beebe, all Hagerman.

A September wedding is planned at the Lutheran Church, Wendell.

Both are 1969 graduates of Hagerman High School and have attended the College of Southern Idaho.

The bride-elect is employed at Helen's Record Shop, Twin Falls, and Beebe is employed at the Wendell Implement Co.

Election set by TOPS

RICHFIELD — Diet-Does-It Club members will elect officers at the Monday meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Clifford Dayley. Plans are also being made to attend State Recognition Day at Moscow in April.

Mrs. Nelson Fredrickson was best loser for February for a hair styling award. Mrs. Frances Frestad and Mrs. Dayley have received treasure chest gifts.

Mrs. Nessen named "woman of the year"

RUPERT — Mrs. Robert Nessen, Sr., Rupert, was crowned "Woman of the Year" during a tea Tuesday hosted by Alpha Eta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority at the Rupert First Christian Church.

Mrs. Mike Koehler, president of the chapter, conducted the crowning ceremony.

Mrs. Nessen received a long-planned rose and a charm from her chapter, in acknowledgement of her service and dedication to the sorority.

Active in her chapter, Mrs. Nessen is the mother of four sons and works parttime at Kraft Food Plant, Rupert.

Mrs. Norman Nielson, Burley, presented a humorous sketch. "The Liberated Woman" Rev. John Sinclair of the local Christian Church presented a program of songs and nature slides.

Scarlet and pink roses decorated the ceremonial arch and tea table. Serving at the tea table were Mrs. John Simpson, Mrs. Robert Metzgerman and Mrs. Guy Meuleman.

Special guests were Mrs. Derald Schafer, reigning "Woman of the Year" for Alpha Eta Chapter, Burley; members of Alpha Psi, Burley; and Alpha Nu Chapter, Twin Falls.

Scheduled airline service within the United States started in 1926.

Couple uses vacation for God

By RAY CRIPPS
Witney, England
'I'd like it to be a vacation that God could use,' said my wife, Jean, the night before we set off to tour Scotland three summers ago.

but the boy scarcely any. But as the miles sped by, we slowly and painstakingly elicited something of their story. The girl's name was Marta Zemanova, and the boy was Alec Pokorny, though he answered to the name of Ben, a nickname given him by some English students he had met the year before in Prague.

spent the next two days with them. After regretful good-byes we left them to make their way home to Czechoslovakia. We hadn't been back home a day or two before the news of the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia came over the radio. A few days later there came a letter postmarked Germany. 'Dear English parents,' it began.

Within 10 days, our Czech children had hitchhiked back across Germany and France, and were in our home. With the help of some Czech people who already lived in England, we found them jobs in a London clothing factory. To our delight Marta and Ben decided to get married. At one point before the wedding, the young couple expressed amazement at the series of coincidences that had brought us together.

A neighbor bought a hearing aid a couple of weeks ago; yesterday he tossed it into a bureau drawer because 'it doesn't work right.' I was shocked. This friend, once a successful accountant, had spent almost $300 for a hearing aid that he says is no good. He 'got took,' he says.

2006 to see if they can give you the name of a clinic. Also, you might consult the Veterans Administration performance score listing of hearing aids; they've been printed recently in several newspapers and magazines (but heed the VA's warning that 'there is no best hearing aid for all individuals. Those that test well for one person may not test well for another.')

Q—Does a termite exterminator have to bore holes into the wood of your house to inject insecticide? Can't they just spray it on? — Mrs. D.A., Pottsville, Pa. A—No, they can't just spray. The Department of Agriculture says exterminators have to do a lot of drilling, even into cinderblock, if a termite-threatened home has a sub-surface basement.

Q—I have some Teflon pans that keep peeling. I have sprayed them with liquid Teflon but it only lasts a few washings. Will the specks of Teflon harm the food? Are some coated pans better than others? — Mrs. Y.W., Bethesda, Md. A—The American Chemical Society says Teflon (by DuPont) is made of fluorocarbon resins which are in an inert state on the pans and will not dissolve in the stomach. No problem there.

Checked up on car urged
DETROIT (UPI)—It's tune up time. While it's bothersome and sometimes expensive, that annual spring checkup on your car may save money and headaches in the future. And this year the accent is on engine tuneup to help reduce air pollution.

Elko district slates confab

JACKPOT, Nev. — Dr. Earl Drake, University of Nevada extension veterinarian, Reno, will speak at the annual meeting of the Northeast Elko Soil Conservation District scheduled for Friday noon at Club 93 in Jackpot. He will talk on animal diseases. Clark Torrel, superintendent of the Knoll Creek experiment station will speak on work at the station which is located southwest of Contact, Nev. Two supervisors for the soil district will be elected, reports Harvey Hale, chairman of the board of supervisors.

Spring bull sale opening at Filer

FILER — Judging of the more than 200 Hereford, Angus and Shorthorn range bulls consigned to the 32nd annual spring range bull sale of the Idaho Cattlemen's Assn., began here this morning with sale judges praising the outstanding quality of this year's offerings. Lawrence Bradbury, Challis rancher, Wayne Naugle, Nampa cattleman and Joe Dahman, University of Idaho livestock specialist, Caldwell, reviewed each of the 218 entries giving them a grade under which they will be offered for sale Friday beginning at 11 a.m. Consignments this year represent select range bulls from throughout Idaho with special entries from Utah and Oregon. Offerings include 180 Jack A. Pierce, Malta, Hereford bulls, 29 Polled Herefords, seven Angus and seven Shorthorn bulls.

Maryland-South Carolina rematch keys ACC meet

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—The halftime score read "Maryland 3, South Carolina 3" and the result of the Jan. 9 game probably still gives South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire nightmares.

Ball-holding Maryland sprang into action with 17 seconds left in overtime, trailing 30-25, and hit a basket. The Maryland squad then stole two consecutive Gamecock passes and turned them into goals that meant an upset victory.

Frank McGuire, coach of the nationally seventh-ranked Gamecocks, maintains he has no fear either of the slowdown of Maryland as the 18th Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament gets underway here today.

But both meetings between Maryland and South Carolina have been traumatic this season, and the slowdown has been one of the few things that has worked successfully against the tall and speedy South Carolina team in the past.

South Carolina and Maryland's first meeting of the season this year ended in a free-for-all in which Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell got punched in the face. The officials called the match with South Carolina winning.

Using slowdown tactics and going for almost-certain shots, Clemson gave South Carolina a scare in the ACC tournament last year and North Carolina State University used a slowdown to advantage to whip South Carolina in double overtime.

Maryland's win over the Gamecocks earlier in the season came in a dismal week for McGuire in which the Gamecocks also fell to Virginia and North Carolina. Since the mid-season slump, South Carolina has come out battling and is probably playing its best basketball ever.

South Carolina has developed an aggressive defense in recent weeks, surprising other teams with ball-stealing tactics.

Sensational senior guard John Roche has gone back to handling the ball virtually 90 per cent of the time, either drawing fouls like flies to flypaper or driving the baseline for scores.

Nobody in the ACC has a front court to match the size of the Gamecocks' 6-10 forward Tom Owens, center Tom Ritter or forward John Ribcock, a burly Augusta, Ga., senior.

North Carolina, with a sharply-coached, aggressive squad, holds first seed in the tournament after a 20-5 season and 11-3 conference mark. Second-seeded South Carolina was 20-4 over-all, 10-4 in the conference.

McGuire has drilled his charges on ball-handling in an effort to thwart teams who would hold the ball.

Of the eight teams in the conference, only Clemson and Maryland appear out of the running for the tournament crown.

North Carolina was matched against Clemson in the opening game, with the winner to meet the winner of the Wake Forest-Virginia game. South Carolina opens against Maryland tonight, with the winner to meet the victor of the nightcap Duke-North Carolina State game.

Fordham and Furman surprise teams in NCAA east regional

NEW YORK (UPI)—Just a month ago Fordham was shooting for a bid to the NIT and Furman was trying to finish above .500.

But the two surprise teams meet Saturday night in a first round NCAA game at St. John's Alumni Hall and the winner will advance to the Eastern Regional at Raleigh, N.C.

Fordham earned an at-large NCAA berth by upsetting Notre Dame and pushing second-ranked Marquette into overtime before losing. Furman got its NCAA berth by upsetting Davidson in the semi-finals of the Southern Conference tournament last weekend and then downing Richmond in the finals.

Fordham is ranked 10th in the nation and has a 23-2 mark going into its final regular season game tonight against Manhattan. Furman is 15-11 after going 12-11 during the regular season and 5-5 in its own conference.

Joe Williams, who coached Jacksonville to the NCAA finals last season before losing to UCLA, admits, "If someone told me a month ago that we'd be in the NCAA playoffs, I'd have thought he was nuts."

Furman will be the underdog but Fordham coach Dick "Digger" Phelps isn't taking anything for granted.

"I've already gone through this once," Phelps said. "Last year when I was an assistant at Penn, we were supposed to beat Niagara in the first round game and advance to the Eastern regionals in South Carolina. But we got beat by Niagara and our season was over."

He added, "this is the NCAA tourney and we have to be up for it. The kids are going to be ready. Furman beat Davidson, which was supposed to win, and we don't want the same thing to happen to us."

Both teams will workout Friday afternoon at St. John's arena holding about 6,000 fans. Furman will be travelling up from Greenville, S.C. while the Fordham team just has an 11-2 hour drive from its Bronx campus to St. John's in Jamaica, Queens in New York.

While Furman has been pointing for Fordham all week, Phelps said he hasn't even mentioned Furman to his players yet because he's looking to tonight's game with arch-rival Manhattan.

"Manhattan is always a tough game for Fordham and they'll be up to knock us off so we can't afford to look ahead," he said. "I haven't even studied the scouting report myself yet."

Fordham will have a slight edge because it is healthy while Furman's top scorer, sophomore Russ Hunt with a 16.8 average, has a bruised thigh and is unlikely to play.

Fordham lost its starting center with an injury before the season started but the Rams have relied on quickness and a devastating full court press to overcome its lack of height and to cause turnovers.

Fordham only had a 10-15 record with virtually the same players last season but Phelps has molded his club into a cohesive unit that plays tight defense and works for the good shot.

Furman also doesn't have much height and uses its speed in a run-and-shoot offense hustles constantly.

Michigan, Sooners accept NIT berths

NEW YORK (UPI)—Michigan became the first Big Ten team ever to accept a bid to the National Invitation Tournament and Oklahoma accepted for the second straight year Wednesday as the field was swelled to 12 teams.

Only four berths now remain open with the runners-up in both the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Missouri Valley all but assured berths.

This is the first year that the Big Ten has allowed its second place team to go to a tourney and the Wolverines have clinched at least a tie for second place behind Ohio State with an 11-2 record. The Wolverines close their regular season Saturday night against Wisconsin.

The Wolverines are 17-8 overall and are led by a 6-4 sophomore, Henry Wilmore, who played in high school ball in New York City and is looking forward to his first appearance in front of his hometown fans. He's averaging "26" points a game.

Oklahoma, second to Kansas in the Big Eight, now 19-7 overall, shows a balanced attack paced by Bobby Jack, who is averaging 16 points a game, and Scott Martin, averaging 15.

Oklahoma accepted a bid for the first time last season and advanced to the quarter-finals before losing to LSU and Pete Maravich. LSU was then bumped off in the semi-finals by eventual champion Marquette.

The 10 teams previously in the tourney are St. John's, Providence, Dayton, St. Bonaventure, Tennessee, Hawaii, Massachusetts, LaSalle, Georgia Tech and Syracuse.

The tourney opens on March 20th and runs through March 27.

Lunn feels confident in tourney

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Defending champion Bobb Lunn, a Sacramento motorcycle policeman's son whose sideburns go up and down with his golf score, feels a new-found self-confidence will help his chances in a tough field at the $150,000 Citrus Invitational which begins here Thursday.

The 26-year-old Lunn, who aspires to be "the outstanding putter of some year," edged hometown favorite Arnold Palmer on the last green of last year's classic at the Rio Pinar Country Club and got off to a super start this year with a sudden death victory over Billy Casper in the Los Angeles Open.

But he finished in a tie for 17th at last week's Doral in Miami and, thus, his sideburns got a moderate trimming.

"When I'm playing good, I'll let my sideburns grow," Lunn explained. "When I'm playing bad, there's this urge, and I don't even know exactly why, to trim 'em off."

Palmer, whose home base is his Bay Hill Club on the other side of this central Florida citrus center, is back to try to avenge a muffed putt of four feet which gave Lunn the win last year.

The field of 144 golfers out for the $30,000 first place money on the pine-guarded 6,849-foot course also includes such crowd favorites as Gary Player, the handsome South African; Lee Trevino, the glib-tongued Texan.

Bundini suspended by N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bundini Brown, one of Muhammad Ali's cornermen in his Monday night loss to Joe Frazier, was indefinitely suspended Wednesday by the New York State Athletic Commission.

A spokesman for the commission said that Brown was suspended for repeatedly coaching from the corner and for throwing water into the ring.

The spokesman said commission deputies warned Brown throughout the fight to stop his coaching. They suspended him on the spot when he threw the water into the ring during the 15th round.

Losing, Lew don't mix

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lewis Ferdinand Alcinder played on the losing side in a basketball game Tuesday night.

That's something that doesn't happen very often to Alcinder, who's one of the winningest athletes in sports history.

When his Milwaukee Bucks were beaten by Chicago, 110-103 in overtime despite Alcinder's 39-point outburst, it snapped Milwaukee's 20-game victory string that was the longest in National Basketball Association history.

But for Lew Alcinder, whose kids now until Saturday night when the Bucks play the Knicks in New York, a 20-game winning streak is nothing to get excited about.

Alcinder's high school team, Power Memorial of New York City, racked up 71 straight victories before it was beaten by DeMatha of Hyattsville, Md. in a game at Cole Fieldhouse on the University of Maryland campus.

His college team, UCLA, ran up streaks of 47 straight and 41 straight while winning three straight NCAA titles—and that doesn't count an unbeaten freshman season.

If you throw out last season when Alcinder and the Bucks lost 28 regular season games and five more in the playoffs, Alcinder has played in only 15 losing games in eight years.

This is the year-by-year total of Alcinder's losses, since the 1962-63 season when he was a sophomore in high school: 1962-63 (high school soph)—No losses
1963-64 (high school junior)—No losses
1964-65 (high school senior)—One loss
1965-66 (UCLA freshman)—No losses
1966-67 (UCLA soph)—No losses
1967-68 (UCLA junior)—One loss
1968-69 (UCLA senior)—One loss
1969-70 (Bucks)—31 losses
1970-71 (Bucks)—12 losses as of March 10th

Alcinder and the Bucks, who are now aiming towards the playoffs, still have one more regular season game. They'd like to snap Philadelphia's 68-13 regular season record with an .840 percentage that was set with the help of Wilt Chamberlain in 1967.

Milwaukee is now 63-12 this year with an .844 mark and can only afford one more loss if it is to break Philadelphia's mark. The NBA now has an 83-game schedule instead of the 81 games it played in 1967. So, the Bucks can lose the same number Philadelphia did—13—but still win one more.

When the Bucks play the Knicks Saturday night, they'll be meeting a team which has handed them three of their 12 losses this year: Milwaukee is 1-3 against the Knicks this season.

New York set the old record for consecutive victories of 18 straight last season and protected the record when they beat Milwaukee in back-to-back games earlier this year after the Bucks had won 16 straight.

The Bucks didn't play the Knicks while running up their streak of 20 straight.

Esposito, Orr batter NHL marks

OAKLAND (UPI)—Boston's Bobby Orr set a goal-scoring record for defenseman in the National Hockey League and teammate Phil Esposito tied Bobby Hull's all-time, single-season goal production mark Wednesday night against California.

Orr netted his 33rd and 34th goals to surpass by one his own NHL goal-scoring mark for defenseman achieved last season. He opened the game scoring with the lone goal of the first period to tie his own record.

Then 56 seconds into the final period, Orr blasted home another goal on a feed from Ed Westfall.

Esposito tallied his 58th goal of the season in the second period to match the NHL record achieved by Chicago's Hull.

McLain, acquired in a controversial eight-player deal during the winter, made his second appearance of the spring Wednesday and was tagged for four runs in the fifth inning of the Baltimore Orioles' 14-2 romp over the Senators. McLain now has pitched a total of nine exhibition innings this spring, yielding 12 hits and five runs.

A two-run double by Bobby Grich and a two-run single by Brooks Robinson were the big blows of the Orioles' rally against McLain. Rookie Don Baylor hit a two-run triple in a four-run eighth and Jim Hutto ripped a grand slam homer in a five-run ninth as the Orioles turned the game into a rout.

On other fronts: Bob Robertson drove in five runs with back-to-back homers in the fourth and fifth innings to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies, who have lost five straight games... Home runs by Matty Alou and Joe Hogue enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to beat the Detroit Tigers, 7-5.

Big Ten to review park stand

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Big Ten agreed Wednesday to hold a special meeting in a Chicago motel March 21 to reconsider its decision barring the Chicago Bears from Northwestern's Dyche Stadium.

The special meeting was called on request of Northwestern, which had signed a five-year lease permitting the Bears to play regular season games and one exhibition game a year in the university facility. The lease was contingent upon Big Ten approval.

The conference turned down the Northwestern application Monday. Northwestern contended that its special needs were not considered in the rejection and also cited a December policy statement of the conference as permitting such a lease.

The lease also was contingent upon clearance by the city of Evanston of zoning laws which now prohibit professional contests. Evanston has not yet approved the arrangement.

Use of Dyche Stadium would have added about 10,000 seats to the Bears' capacity and would have paid Northwestern more than $1 million over its term. Evanston would have received about $500 thousand.

Pete guns Hawks past Phoenix

ATLANTA (UPI)—Pete Maravich scored 15 points in the first quarter, staked the Atlanta Hawks to a big early lead and led them to a 139-98 rout of Phoenix Wednesday night.

Maravich, who left to a standing ovation with more than nine minutes left to play, finished the game with 37 points. He also had nine assists and time and again thrilled the crowd with his flashy passes.

Atlanta trailed only once in the game, when it went four minutes without a field goal in the first period. The Hawks closed that quarter, however, with a 26-8 flourish and were never again headed.

Atlanta got the lead up as high as 45 points in the second half.

Much of the runaway could be traced to Atlanta's domination of the backboards. The Hawks had a 91-74 advantage there, led by Walt Bellamy's 24. The total 138 rebounds was an Atlanta Coliseum record.

Sellout seen for MV playoff

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Bradley University predicted quick sell-outs Wednesday for Missouri Valley Conference basketball playoff games scheduled Thursday and Saturday in the Braves' arena, which seats 7,300.

Louisville and St. Louis will play Thursday night with Drake meeting the winner Saturday night. The three teams tied for the conference championship with 9-5 records, and will share the championship in the record book.

The playoff will determine which team advances to the NCAA midwest regional tournament.

Haywood suit postponed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Trial of a civil suit involving basketball star Spencer Haywood and the Denver Rockets in federal district court was postponed Wednesday.

The case was put over until Monday so Haywood will be free to play with the Seattle Sonics in games which will determine final standings in the National Basketball Association's western division.

McLain's conditioning up, but his performance droops

Al Kalline and Willie Horton homered for the Tigers off Steve Carlton.

With the three-ball-walk experiment in play, Oakland pitchers walked 16 batters and the Athletics bowed to the Tokyo Yatte Orions, 11-6. Tokyo pitchers issued three walks... Denis Menke's two-run seventh-inning double off Dean Chance gave the Houston Astros a 4-3 decision over the New York Mets.

Harmon Killebrew hit his third homer in five games and went 3-for-3 to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 5-2 triumph over the New York Yankees. Jake Gibbs and Tony Solaita homered for the Yankees... Rookie Jim Breazeale singled in the winning run.

Pro coaches name Wicks, Carr as best prospects

NEW YORK (UPI)—Slaney Wednesday when they were unanimously named to the College All-American Team by the 17 National Basketball Association coaches.

Wicks, a 6-foot-8 forward with

UCLA and Carr, Notre Dame's 6-foot-3 guard and the second leading scorer in the nation, were the only two unanimous choices selected to the first team, which also included Artis Gilmore of Jacksonville, Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky and John Roche of South Carolina.

Other players who received votes were Ken Durrett of LaSalle, Dean Meminger of Marquette, Elmore Smith of Kentucky State, Howard Porter of Villanova, Johnny Neumann of Mississippi, Paul Westphal of Southern California, Stan Love of Oregon and Ted McClain of Tennessee State.

Top scoring team, two best defensively collide Saturday

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The nation's most potent scoring college basketball team and two of the best defensive units, all ranked in the top 10 nationally, feature the first round of the NCAA tournament on the Notre Dame court Saturday.

Jacksonville, sixth ranked, leads the nation in scoring with a 101 point per game average, and will risk its chance for another trip to the national finals against eighth-ranked Western Kentucky.

Marquette, No. 2 rated and unbeaten in the last 38 games, will stake its defensive ability, rated third nationally, against unranked Miami, fourth rated defensively, in the second contest of the doubleheader.

Dolphins may have 2 key men on sidelines

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (708)—Jacksonville University will have two seven-footers on the floor against Western Kentucky in the NCAA Midwest-subregionals Saturday, but if 5-10 Vaughn Wedeking is not available to direct traffic, the Dolphins may be in trouble.

He joined 6-6 strongman Greg Nelson, Jacksonville's top reserve, on the injury list. Nelson suffered two torn ligaments in his ankle in a win over East Carolina Feb. 21.

The winner of the Jacksonville-Western Kentucky game will advance to meet Southeastern Conference champion Kentucky and the Marquette-Miami victor to meet the Big Ten champion Ohio State in the Midwest regional at the University of Georgia next week.

Fullmers to fight at Gooding

GOODING — Gene Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah, former middleweight champion, will manage his two sons and a group of Utah boxers at an invitational boxing tournament Friday in Gooding.

The Dolphins dropped an 83-82 decision to Houston two days after Wedeking's injury but then came back to drop Miami (Fla.) 94-75 in the season finale at Miami.

Western Kentucky avenged that defeat in a regular season game this year, topping the Dolphins 97-84.

Royal cops A division cage title

John Geister hit 17 points and Royal-Lounge moved away in the final two minutes to nip Faux Cigar Store of Buhl 48-39 and claim the A division title in the Twin Falls recreation league city tournament Wednesday night.

Sponsored by the Gooding Jaycees, the tourney will start at 8 p.m. at Frahm Junior High School, Gooding, according to Brent Brooksom, Jaycee publicity director. Featured boxers will include Golden Glove champions and AAU junior Olympic fighters from Gooding, Jerome, Blackfoot, Fort Hall and Pocatello.

Wedding emphasized he wasn't trying to make excuses and he still feels his club can win even if they should have to go without Wedeking and Nelson. "We have complete confidence in Dublin's ability," he said.

Miami will be without a season-long starter, sophomore forward Larry Garloch who suffered two fractured vertebrae in a fall from parallel bars in gym class Monday.

Bills still eye move to Seattle

SEATTLE (UPI) — Buffalo Bills owner Ralph Wilson plans to visit here "before the end of next week" to discuss possible transfer of the National Football League franchise to Seattle, King County executive John Spellman said Wednesday.

Wadsin said if Wedeking is unable to start, he will open with 6-foot senior Chip Dublin at the point.

Carr, named to the second team last year, has a spectacular array of shots ranging from twisting, unhandcd layups to a classic jump shot from anywhere around the key.

Perez inks pact, Rose holds out

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Slugging third baseman Tony Perez signed with the Cincinnati Reds for an estimated $75,000 Wednesday night, leaving two-time batting champion Pete Rose as the National League champions' only holdout.

Wilson said he was "very hopeful" that Seattle would become the new home of the Buffalo franchise.

"I think Wilson has been a very patient man," Spellman said.

Rose, who hit 316 last season, has said that he will settle for $110,000 — a $5,000 raise over his 1970 salary — but the club says it will not go one cent over $105,000.

Jack Horrigan, public relations director for the Bills, said the club was "no closer to a (Buffalo) stadium solution today than we were two months ago." Time definitely is on Seattle's side right now.

Center-fielder Bobby Tolan, who suffered a pulled achilles tendon in his left heel playing basketball during the winter, is also unsigned but is not considered a holdout. Tolan had the cast removed from the area of the injury Wednesday and is expected to report to camp on Friday. Tolan batted .316 and led the league with 57 stolen bases last season.

Wilson has made no comment since giving Buffalo a "deadline" in January to produce plans for a new stadium.

Royals nipped the Cincinnati Reds 120-118 in the third quarter lead to end regulation play locked with New York at 104-104 following a last-second jumper by the Knicks' Bill Bradley.

Minnesota coach quits

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — The head basketball coach of the University of Minnesota, George Hanson, announced his resignation Wednesday night.

Indiana coach says he's quit

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — Indiana basketball coach Lou Watson resigned Wednesday in an apparent dispute with members of his team.

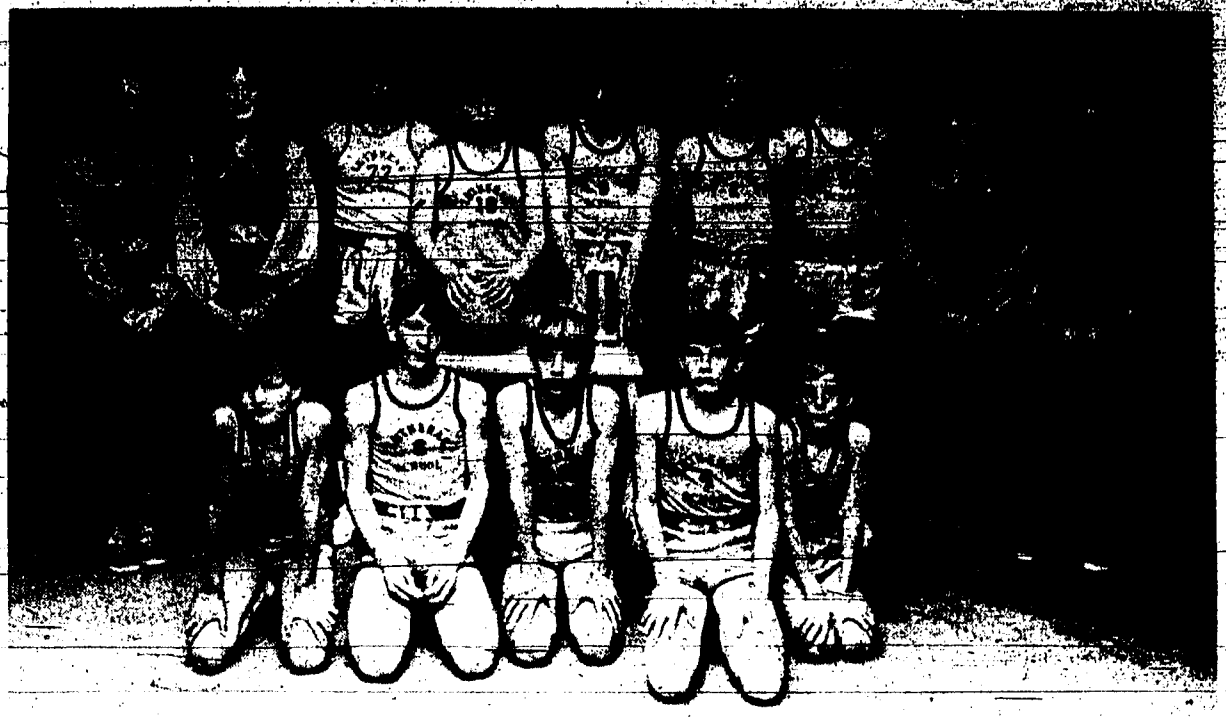

Royals nip Knicks in overtime

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Tom Van Arsdale scored 31 points, including a free throw with five seconds left in overtime Wednesday night, to boost the Cincinnati Royals to a 120-118 win over the New York Knicks and keep the Royals' playoff hopes alive.

Hanson, in his first year as head coach at Minnesota, said in a statement "I'm disappointed in results of this season." The Gophers finished their season Tuesday with a 5-9 record in the Big Ten, 11-13 overall.

The Royals beat a 10-point third-quarter lead to end regulation play locked with New York at 104-104 following a last-second jumper by the Knicks' Bill Bradley. A layup and a foul shot by Sam Lacey, who finished with 28 points, put Cincinnati ahead 108-106 at 3:28 of the overtime period and five straight points by Nate Archibald kept the Royals ahead in the last 100 minutes.

Floridians edge Denver

DENVER (UPI) — Former Denver Rocket Lonnie Wright stole the ball from his ex-teammates with 25 seconds remaining and then scored a layup and a free throw to give the Floridians a 118-113 American Basketball Association win over Denver.

Clarence Phillips' 18 points paced a balanced attack that carried Twin Falls title and Trust-Me n' Eds past Bud's Duds 72-35 for consolation honors.

City slowpitch loop to organize

Organizational meeting of the Twin Falls city slowpitch softball league will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the council chambers of the city hall, reports Chad Browning, city recreation director. Browning said all managers and persons wishing to join or form a team should attend.

Consumers shop more carefully today. Here's why they buy Fords.

Ford LTD, quiet and strong, is the luxury car without the luxury car price. Torino is sized and priced right in the middle. Room for six, small car handling. Maverick, the simple compact car, offers 2 doors or 4; 6 or V-8 power. Consumers know the mid-size Torino gives them the roominess of a big car plus the easy handling of a small car. For a price that's right in the middle. As a result, Torino has become the most popular 4-door in its class. Your Ford Dealer has thirteen other models to choose from. Take Maverick. Consumers know that the simple machine is simple to own and simple to run. And they learned recently that a leading independent survey found Maverick has the best frequency of repair record of any American car. That might explain why it's America's best-selling compact.

Z remarked, "Yes indeed. Everything begins to fall in place." He promptly cashed dummy's ace, king and queen of spades in order to discard his losing diamonds. Then he ruffed a fourth spade to reduce his trump holding to the same number as East. Next came the ace and king of clubs followed by a ruff of his last club in dummy. Then he led another spade. East ruffed with the seven. Z overruffed and led his six of hearts. East won with the eight but had to lead a heart to give Z the last two tricks. "Suppose I had been able to overruff the third club," said East. "You would have been set!" "Yes," said Z, "but that's not the way Sidney made up the hand."

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Z and Y the old auction players have adopted modern bidding methods with great enthusiasm although not always with the most approved results.

Thus Z's two-club call was their only forcing open. West jammed them up with his four no-trump call which was the unusual no-trump to show both minor suits, but Y was not going to be shut out. He bid five spades and Z bid six hearts. Z looked over dummy carefully. "I think I played one just like this in a Sidney Lenz article back around 1925. It is just as well that I am a declarer."

CAN YOU STOP smoking for a year? Dandy. Do so, and there's only one chance in five you'll start again the next year. Stop for two years, and there's only one chance in 20 you'll start again the next year. Or so say the odd makers.

WHAT DID YOU have for breakfast this morning? Many citizens put away the following: Some ammonium chrysgenase, sodium ascorbate, ferric orthophosphate, niacinamide, and maybe just a little thiamine monofluoride, too. For flavor, or something. Anyhow, that's what's in a highly popular brand of Instant breakfast now on the market.

ONE SAN FRANCISCO MAN sleeps nightly in an open coffin. No publicity stunt. This fellow suffers from a morbid fear of falling out of bed. ... ALSO CREDIT the old Greeks with the creation of the first cold cream. About A.D. 150, it was a doctor named Galen came up with it. ... HALF THE SHOES sold in this country in the next five years could be foreign made. That's not a certainty yet, but it's likely.

TOO FEW HOMES for the aged allow pets. No dogs, no cats, particularly. Too bad. Dr. Morris M. Levinson, a New York City specialist who has made a study of the matter, says many is the nursing home patient whose frame of mind would be helped considerably by an obedient pup. The condominium boys might keep that in mind when they build for retired folk. Why not dog runs? And cat walks? By cat walks, I mean places to put cats, Roger.

SAY YOU'RE DRIVING through the Yukon in mid-winter. Your car stalls. Nobody around. What do you do? The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who like horses but love cars, suggest: 1. Use the car's sun visor for a snow shovel. 2. Turn its seat covers into blankets. 3. Tuck the floor mats against the doors to shut out wind. 4. Burn a quart of oil in a hub cap to make a smoke signal. 5. Swab your skin with grease to seal out frostbite. 6. Set a fire on fire for warmth. And 7. If you have any hot dogs at hand, make the dip stick do for a skewer.

CUSTOMER SERVICE - Q "What proportion of the youngsters under 14 live with their mothers only?" A Exactly 10.2 per cent of them. And 85.5 per cent live with both their mothers and fathers. And 9 per cent live with their fathers only. And 2.2 per cent live with other relatives.

WOMEN WHO MARRY men younger than themselves tend to be the happiest wives, that's known. The late Dr. Lewis M. Terman of Stanford University claimed his investigation proved such. The wife four to 10 years older than her husband seems to be the happiest of all, he said. Now a client wants to know if the divorce statistics back up Dr. Terman's assertion. They do. Our Love and War man says divorcees are far rarer among these couples.

Soviet police break hunger strike

MOSCOW (UPI)—More than 100 angry Jews crowded into the Soviet Parliament building Wednesday and tried to stage a all-in hunger strike to back their demands for permission to go to Israel. Soviet police drove them out more than five hours later as they prayed in a darkened hall.

The group of 110 persons from six Soviet cities sat down in the reception hall of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) less than 100 yards across Karl Marx Street from the Kremlin.

Their demonstration began at 2 p.m. after a group of Latvian Jews from Riga visited headquarters of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee and had their appeal for permission to emigrate to Israel rejected.

"We have been fighting this fight for 15 years," one of the strikers said. "Many of us have lost our jobs and been thrown out of schools because we wanted to go to Israel. We will demand that we be allowed to go to our homeland."

Members of the group said police burst into the parliamentary hall at about 7:30 p.m. (11:30 a.m. EST). Authorities had turned off the lights and blocked off the building after the building's 5 p.m. closing time.

A woman who was in the reception hall said a man in a militia (police) general's uniform threatened the Jews with arrest if they did not leave "in two minutes."

"The lights were off, and we sat there in the dark," she said. "One young man said prayers in Hebrew, and another translated into Russian."

Then, she said, scores of uniformed and plainclothes policemen crowded into the room.

"They surrounded us, and began pulling out the benches we were sitting on," she said. "They started pushing us, and what could we do, we had to leave."

The woman said she knew of no arrests being made.

Appointed land board approved

BOISE (UPI) — The House gave final legislative approval Wednesday to a constitutional proposal to make the State Land Board appointive but tabled a measure to require advertising of state land leases.

This means the people at the 1972 general election will have a chance to vote on whether they want a land board composed of elected officials or one created by the legislature and made up of appointed members.

After a call of the House to bring all members to the floor, the House approved the proposed constitutional amendment 84-5. It went through the Senate 32-3 on Jan. 27.

Only one house member failed to vote on the proposal, Rep. Wayne Tibbitts, D-Lorenzo. Reps. Jack Claiborn, R-Twin Falls, Lloyd Dunn, R-

Georgetown, Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, Harold Snow, R-Moscow, and Paul Worthen, R-Boise, voted against it.

Fifteen minutes earlier, the House tabled a Senate-initiated measure to require advertising of state land leases prior to the time they expire. This virtually kills the bill since it takes a two-thirds vote to lift a measure from the table.

Vets protest

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Five young Vietnam veterans demonstrated against the war Wednesday outside the Mart Building, a federal office building.

Two of the veterans carried toy guns, and when the five went inside to the cafeteria to eat lunch, the two with the guns were stopped by security guards.

Early scene

FINAL three performances of the Dilettante's production of "Oliver" will be at 8:15 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday at the CSI fine arts auditorium. Here, Mr. Bumble, portrayed by Rex Reed, left, and Oliver, played by Timothy Driscoll, are shown in the opening scene of the musical.

Andrus message called 'review,' 'challenge'

BOISE (UPI) — Republicans found the governor's special budget message to the legislature Wednesday mostly a "review" of his past proposals while Democrats said he has challenged the legislature to act.

House Majority Leader Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, said he did agree with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, however, that "we need increased appropriations for public school spending beyond the $43 million."

Otherwise, Crapo and other GOP leaders said they did not glean much from Andrus' message.

"There certainly wasn't anything new in the message," Crapo said. "He merely reviewed the same old proposals for revenue and spending we've had for the last 55 days."

"I don't think his message will significantly change the course of the legislature at this point," Crapo said.

Senate President Pro Tem James Ellsworth, R-Leadore, said the proposals the governor recommended "are just not the type we need to produce sustaining revenue."

"I hope we can agree on whether there is additional review available from the current tax structure so that we can do more for education," Ellsworth said.

But Senate Minority Leader John Evans, D-Malad, said he felt the governor once again had given the legislature guidelines by which "we can truly meet the needs of the people."

"He recognized the great need for more funds for the schools," Evans said. "He recognized that higher education students should not be required to pay more."

"He provided a solution for funding public assistance for nursing homes and prescription drugs with the possibility of actually getting a property tax reduction at the county level," Evans said.

House Minority Leader Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, said he felt the reassessment done by the governor was necessary "in the light of the new-found revenues."

"He's laid it out for us again," Williams said. "We either accept his program or do as we did before and reduce the program."

Reactions from other key legislators included:

Sen. David Bivens, R-Payette, assistant majority leader, who said he felt the problems raised by Andrus "will set the stage for additional consideration and require a minimum of at least another week and probably more to conclude this session."

Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, chairman of the Senate finance committee, who said, "We can see the needs, the problem is the revenue." High said there was merit to Andrus' suggestion to put $500,000 in sales tax revenue now going to the permanent building fund into the general fund.

Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, Senate majority leader, who noted since Andrus' budget address came on the 59th legislative day "there is no way we can conclude close to the 60-day limit by reconsidering old matter and considering new."

Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the Senate health, education and welfare committee, who said the legislature must go above the $43 million recommended in the tentative budget of the finance-appropriations committee for public schools.

Rep. Ernest Allen, R-Nampa, chairman of the House education committee, who said, "I didn't see much hope in it. I don't see how the proposals he put out for more funding will all be accomplished."

Sen. Richard Egbert, D-Tetonia, ranking Democratic member of the Senate finance committee, who said he was "disappointed" to learn Andrus used an estimate of approximately $114 million in revenue rather than the $118 which other sources say could be used.

Sen. John Mix, D-Moscow, assistant minority leader, who said he felt Andrus "has thrown down the gauntlet once again to the legislature and I certainly share his concern with his attempt to meet these challenges."

And Sen. Ray Rigby, D-Rexburg, member of the Senate HEW committee who said he supported Andrus' position "wholeheartedly" and commended the governor for wanting to "touch bases on these important issues rather than to go to just a few

Wendell Scouter meet set

WENDELL — The third in a seven-week series of Boy Scout leadership training sessions is scheduled for today at 8 p.m. in the Wendell Presbyterian Church.

Scout leaders throughout the North Side District of the Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, are invited to attend the comprehensive series of training sessions, scheduled throughout the district.

James E. Archibald, Wendell, is serving as training coordinator for the sessions, which will qualify Scout leaders for leadership awards.

In last week's session at the Gooding hospital, 25 Scout leaders from throughout the Magic Valley studied the Scout patrol system and its operation, Archibald said.
