Justices receive briefs

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Supreme Court justices met briefly Tuesday morning to receive briefs in cases scheduled for hearing during the day with regular court sessions closed.

Briefs have been taken under consideration in all three cases, with decisions to be announced later. Regular court sessions are expected to resume Wednesday with three appeals on schedule.

Two matters in which the county of Twin Falls is involved were on schedule Tuesday.

These included the application for a peremptory writ of prohibition in the case of Karl R. Lewis, Buhl, former justice of the peace charged with a felony of misuse of public funds. Twin Falls County brought the action against Lewis.

The application for peremptory writ was filed by Lewis against Sixth Judicial District Court Judge Gus Carr Anderson who was assigned by the supreme court to hear the case after Judge Gilbert Norris, Third District Court, Gem County, disqualified himself and dismissed a jury there on the opening day of the Lewis trial because of a news release in a Boise newspaper.

A decision on the matter will be announced at a later date by the supreme court after a review of briefs.

Briefs were also requested in the case of Douglas D. Kramer, Twin Falls attorney versus the county. The attorney appealed the decision of Judge Henry Martin, Idaho Falls, to deny legal fees arising from a case in which Kramer represented former Probate Judge Richard Reed in a legal matter resulting from a contempt citation the judge issued against Police Chief Frank Barnett.

Also scheduled for Tuesday was the appeal of Richard and Hope Openshaw, Murray, Utah, against Oregon Automobile Insurance Co.

3 suspects surrender

TWIN FALLS — Three people charged on warrants from the Halley Police Department were arrested Monday evening by Twin Falls police after they surrendered themselves at the Twin Falls police station.

Kenneth L. Sechler, 19; Terry L. Sechler, 23, and Jennifer Sechler, 19, are charged with illegal possession of narcotics. They were released on their own recognizance.

Cyclist builds jump ramp

TWIN FALLS — Construction of a ramp from which daredevil motorcyclist Evel Knievel will attempt a motorcycle jump across the Snake River chasm is in progress on the Parke Ranch southeast of Twin Falls. Mike Gray, a spokesman for Knievel, said the jump across the gorge is tentatively set for Labor Day, 1972.

Knievel first came to Twin Falls last year to inspect the site.

Knievel is scheduled to return to Twin Falls April 5 to spend about a month overseeing construction of the dirt filled ramp, Gray said.

Gray said the "mystery girders" being produced in Seattle for a suspension bridge for Twin Falls, Idaho, "won't not be used for Knievel's project."

Andrus declares Perrine emergency

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus released an emergency proclamation Monday in an effort to speed up release of federal emergency relief funds for use in replacing the Perrine Memorial Bridge north of Twin Falls.

The proclamation noted use of the bridge had been restricted since 1969, and said enforcement of the restrictions on a 24-hour-per-day basis had cost the state nearly a half-million dollars.

The proclamation said "immediate replacement" with a new bridge "is vital to the security, well-being, health, and economy of the citizens of the state of Idaho."

In a letter to Transportation Secretary John Volpe, Andrus said the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1970 allowed use of emergency relief funds for repair or reconstruction of bridges on the Federal-Aid Highway Systems which are in danger of collapse due to structural deficiencies or physical deteriorations. Andrus said the language in the law was clear the governor of a requesting state must make an official proclamation that a state of emergency exists due to the condition of the structure for which funds are requested.

Andrus said he understood a four-lane bridge would cost $7,540,000 and approach and roadways an additional $500,000 for a total estimated cost of $8,040,000 based on 1970 prices.

County cautious on grocery wine

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Commissioners took a wait-and-see attitude today on whether grocery store wine sales should be permitted here.

Gov. Cecil Andrus signed into law Monday a bill permitting counties to permit sale of table wines in grocery stores on a county-option basis.

The Twin Falls commissioners, the monkey now on their backs, appeared in no hurry to take action.

W.L. Chancey, commission chairman, said he sees nothing wrong with the present system of handling sales through state liquor stores exclusively.

Merl Leonard, commission member, said he would like to see a meeting of area county commissioners with Boise attorney, William Roden, who authored the bill. He said he felt an explanation of the bill and its intent would help commissioners in this area decide on their future action. He added he believes the people should make the decision.

Amendments to the bill provide the county officials may vote either to allow wine sales or to prohibit them, or they can call for a vote of the people.

The decision of the county commissioners, if this route is taken, can be changed by a petition from voters calling for an election which commissioners must call within 30 days and a simple majority of the people will decide.

Leonard said as he understands it, if the commissioners do not approve the sale and a group of citizens wish to overrule the decision they need only petition for an election and if the results differ from the action of the commissioners they will be overruled and sales legalized.

By the same method the retail sale, if approved by the commissioners, could be prohibited.

The wine bill sets strict limits on the sale of wine in grocery stores with the first major step being an election in every county in which the wine is to be sold.

By "table wine," the bill specifies "any alcoholic beverage containing not more than 14 per cent alcohol by volume obtained by the fermentation of the natural sugar content of fruits or other agricultural products containing sugar."

Calley attorney hits jury habits

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — Lt. William L. Calley's defense attorney complained bitterly today that his murder court-martial jury was "wining and dining" and worrying about paychecks and laundry when it should be locked down in deliberation "with a life at stake."

The military judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, replied that the six officers on the jury were supposed to relax when they returned after deliberation hours to the officers quarters in which they are sequestered. "It seems to me that they should deliberate when they are fresh enough so they can assimilate," Kennedy told George W. Latimer, Calley's chief counsel.

Latimer's objections came when he introduced in evidence a clipping from today's Atlanta Constitution headlined "Verdict: A Week Off!" The story, from Ft. Benning, said it had been learned the jury, which rounded out a week of deliberation today, had requested a six-week supply of clean clothing and had asked that someone look after paychecks, which are due March 31.

The article pointed out that it was the longest court-martial deliberation in American history.

A great deal of the jury's time in recent days has been taken up in re-reading of testimony that was presented by the prosecution in early December. Today, they heard the completion of testimony by James J. Dural.

Coup fells Argentine president

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The Argentine Armed Forces overthrew President Roberto M. Levingston in a bloodless coup and set up a three-man military junta today to rule until further notice.

A communique from Army headquarters shortly after midnight said "the commanders-in-chief of the Armed Forces have decided to fire Gen. Levingston in his functions as president of the Republic. We have decided to assume political power in the nation until we fulfill the process of the Argentine Revolution."

Levingston, 51, quietly quit the presidential office into which he was projected nine months ago by the same three-man junta. He walked out of the frosted pink government house at 3:25 a.m. and shook hands with about a dozen reporters.

"Good luck," he said, then got into an automobile and drove to his official home three miles away. He has several days to pack up and move out. Levingston's ouster came on a power play that failed.

On Monday he met with the junta that put him in power in June, 1970, after they overthrew President Juan Carlos Onganía.

Faulker heads N. Irish

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Development Minister Brian Faulkner today was elected prime minister of Northern Ireland to succeed James Chichester-Clark who resigned Saturday under pressure by Protestant Conservatives demanding tougher policy against the province's Roman Catholic militants.

Unionist Party members elected Faulkner over William Craig, the rightwing leader of the Party by a vote of 26-4.

Faulkner, like Chichester-Clark, is considered a moderate in the Protestant-dominated Unionist Party which has ruled Northern Ireland since 1922.

Craig had been an unceasing critic of reform legislation aimed at removing grievances of the Catholic minority.

Belfast's leading bookmaker quoted odds of 5-1 against Craig and inside Faulkner an odds-on bet. Although Craig had seemed to lack parliamentary strength, there was no disputing his powerful influence at the grassroots level.

Withdrawal nears finish

SAIGON (UPI) — The South Vietnamese incursion into Laos neared its end today in a blaze of rearguard action and military sources said the withdrawal may be completed by Wednesday. The Communists increased pressure inside South Vietnam, attacking Khe Sanh and ambushing a U.S. armored column three times.

The Communists hit the U.S. helicopter base of Khe Sanh with 200 rounds of mortars and then sent 40 sappers into the camp itself to blow up American helicopters. Two choppers were destroyed in a battle in which 20 of the commandos were killed and three Americans died and 13 were wounded. A U.S. armored column pushing westward toward the Laotian border along Route 9 required two hours and a half today to travel a seven-mile stretch of the road past the skeletons of burned out and shot up armored vehicles littering the roadside. They were ambushed three times and the lead tank was destroyed by a mine, killing one American and wounding four.

American spokesmen said eight Americans were killed in the fighting at Khe Sanh and in other attacks in the Route 9 area.

As the Americans moved toward the border to salvage a self-propelled eight-inch howitzer and its ammunition they passed 500 South Vietnamese paratroopers and armored personnel carriers returning to Khe Sanh.

Military sources said the original force of 24,000 South Vietnamese in Laos had dipped to less than 7,000 and they were expected to be out by Wednesday night. They evacuated artillery base Bravo four miles west of the border and have only two more bases left in Laos, the farthest eight miles from the border.

The withdrawing troops were reported under steady harassment by Communist gunners along Route 9.

Nixon view

Laotian action said 'milestone'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, declaring that the full importance of the Laos invasion will not be known for some time, said the campaign shows the South Vietnamese can fight very well and have "passed a milestone" in the capability to take over the fighting.

Nixon, in an easy, relaxed hour-long interview with ABC-TV commentator Howard K. Smith, predicted the Laos operation would enable him to continue withdrawing U.S. forces at the current rate of 12,500 a month.

The Laos operation, Nixon said, "cannot be judged a great success" but it "cannot be judged a failure." He said the campaign could be assessed only on a long range basis, and that would not be known for some time.

He said it now may be possible for him to announce accelerated withdrawals and his next announcement may display "the end of the tunnel," a phrase often used during the Johnson administration.

"For six weeks the South Vietnamese have disrupted the enemy supply lines," he said. "For six weeks they've tied down some of the enemy's best divisions, and for six weeks, we have seen, too, that the South Vietnamese have been able to handle themselves quite well under very, very difficult circumstances."

Smith asked Nixon if the Communists will be able to repair their trails and pipelines before the rainy season begins in about a month.

"They can never gain back the time," Nixon said.

The interview in the White House Library, was devoted mainly to Nixon's guardedly optimistic assessment of the Laos operation.

Solons ponder districts

BOISE (UPI) — Legislators armed with colored pencils and maps returned to the statehouse chambers today, the second day of the special session, to tackle the problem of equalizing population in legislative districts.

Re-apportionment, re-districting of the state's two congressional districts, and re-structuring of political parties on the one hand, one vote principle were named by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus in his call of the extraordinary session, and the legislators must adhere to the agenda.

The lawmakers must try to re-do legislative district boundaries — without gerrymandering — to fit the specifications as closely as possible.

In joint caucus Monday, Senators generally agreed to try to maintain 35 districts and for the most part agreed with the suggestion made by Andrus and Idaho's congressional delegation that re-districting be accomplished by moving Elmore County and a part of Ada County into the Second Congressional district.

Lawmakers divided themselves into "regional" groups Monday to try to work out boundaries, and in the Senate North Idaho legislators indicated there would be little problem fixing the possible number into each district.

Lanting seeks remap opinion

BOISE (UPI) — House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Hollister, asked the attorney general for an opinion today on whether it is constitutional to reapportion the House with both multi-member and sub-districts.

At the same time, Lanting asked for an opinion on students at the various colleges and universities in Idaho must be counted as residents in their college or home areas.

Majority Leader Terry Crisp, R-Idaho Falls, said the second question in particular could have considerable bearing on the number of representatives and members to which certain areas of the state are entitled.

First signs of a partisan flare-up also showed up today when Republicans prepared to caucus on whether they want 35 or more legislative districts. Democrats have voted in caucus to start with the present 35 districts in working out a remapping plan.

Minority Leader Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, warned Crisp and Lanting that if the GOP tries arbitrarily to set numbers of districts in caucus or to try to gerrymander for the Republicans "we'll be here in August."

This led to a short session meeting behind the closed doors of the legislative chamber.

Vote at age 18 seen earning Congress' OK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress planned to give its approval today to a new constitutional right—to vote at age 18—and send the proposed 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to the states for ratification.

The House scheduled what was expected to be easy debate and an overwhelming approval of a proposed amendment that would require states and localities to lower their minimum voting age to 18. Sponsors have hoped the required 38 state legislatures would ratify the change in time for the 1972 elections.

The amendment, approved 94 to 0 earlier this month by the Senate, was drafted more to remedy a situation that Congress caused last year than to break new ground in voting rights. The 1970 voting rights law sought to qualify citizens 18 and older to vote in all elections, but the Supreme Court later said Congress could set such qualifications by law only for federal elections.

That left a situation in 47 states where 18 year olds were entitled to vote for president, for senator and for members of the House, but not for governor, mayor or other state and local officers.

Soviet weapons pour into Syria

By United Press International Diplomatic sources in London said today the Soviet Union has followed up big new arms shipments to Egypt by increasing the shipment of jet warplanes, antiaircraft missiles and other arms to Syria.

The report came as Egyptian government sources said military and political leaders were in the midst of conferences to prepare for possible resumption of hostilities with Israel. The armed forces of Egypt and Syria were recently placed under a single commander.

Cairo reports said Egypt is stepping up a diplomatic offensive to rally support from Western European nations for its proposals for a peaceful settlement of the Middle East crisis. They said that was the main purpose behind Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad's scheduled visits to Rome and Paris starting Saturday.

Although backers hope for quick action, the amendment is written so that ratification can take as long as seven years. That is the usual time limit on constitutional amendments, and some observers, less optimistic about the proposal's attractiveness than its sponsors, think it may need the full time. They point out that voters in a number of states have rejected the 18 year old vote in recent years, especially in states where there have been campus disorders.

Senator sworn in

BOISE (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy administered the oath of office Monday to Sen. Dean Abrahams, R-Caldwell, who has been named acting state senator from District 11.

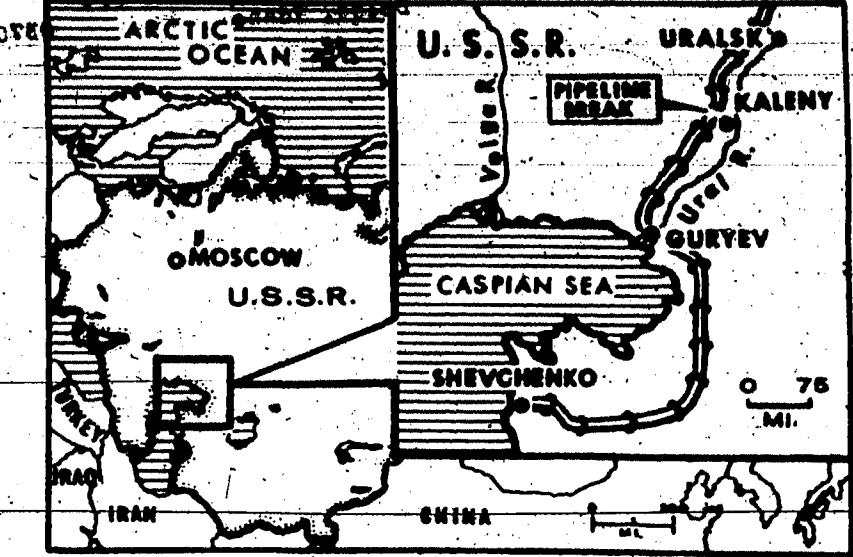

Abrahams, the newest senator, will be the first called on each rollcall, replacing Sen. Joe Allen, R-American Falls. Andrus re-affirmed appointment of Sen. Margaret Manley, D-Coeur d'Alene, who was named during the first session to replace her husband, Sen. Art Manley, while he was hospitalized with a heart ailment.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers was reported to have asked Israel to draw up a map of what it considers "secure borders" in efforts to break the deadlock. Mrs. Meir was said to be consulting with her ministers on the request.

Funeral Services

BURLEY — Funeral services for Mrs. Mable H. Rosenauer will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Walk Mortuary Chapel, Rupert, by Rev. Fred Pickett, Episcopal Church. Final rites will be in Pleasant View Cemetery, Burley. Friends may call at Walk Mortuary Wednesday afternoon and evening and until time of services Thursday.

Russian front

SPRING THAW could pour tons of leaked oil into Caspian Sea, polluting sturgeon fishing grounds and further reducing supply of natural caviar. Pravda, Communist party newspaper, reported that pipeline completed in 1970 broke in several sections where it crosses Ural River near Guruyev, 21 miles from shore of sea. (UPI)

Wine sale plans not drawn

(Continued from P. 1) When the "retail sale" (i.e., grocery-store sale) of wine is approved, the state liquor outlets in the county will no longer sell wine, after their existing stocks are exhausted, according to the new law.

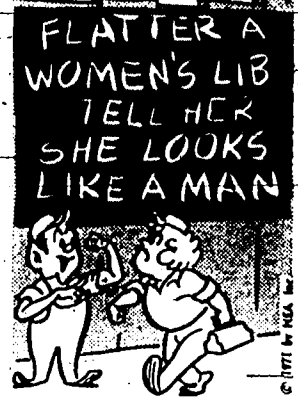

The law also sets strict qualifications for any person desiring to "manufacture, import into this state, possess for resale, or distribute or sell wine within the state of Idaho." Licenses are required from the state, as with any liquor sale, and the licensee must not have any criminal record within five years or any record of a liquor-law violation within three years. He must be a citizen of the United States and be of age to sell liquor.

In addition to all these stipulations, the new law declares that no person may import wine into the state for resale to anyone other than "the premises of a distributor"; no distributor may store wine for resale unless he has a valid license; no retailer may purchase wine for sale except from a licensed distributor, and all distributors must keep comprehensive, accurate records.

Pants and caps

NEW YORK (UPI)—An informal survey by "Hospital Topics," a journal, shows that more than 100 hospitals permit nurses to wear pantsuits.

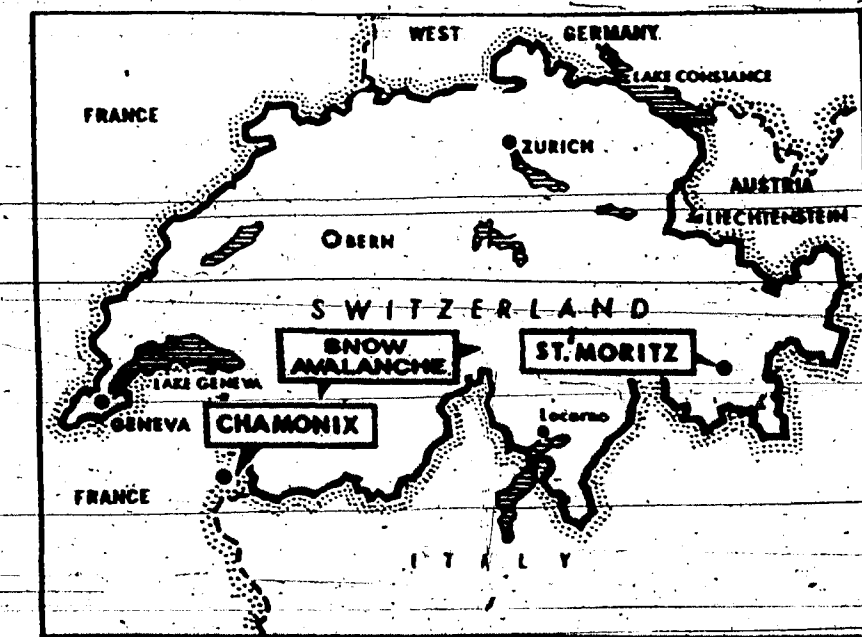

Still, many hospitals remain cautious about the transition from dresses, cautioning nurses to "wear pantsuits only if you look good in them." Among those fighting the trend, one respondent said: "Pants and a cap don't go together."

DENVER (UPI) — Joseph A. Bieme, president of the Communications Workers of America, told delegates at a special convention Monday there was no reason the union could not get a 25 per cent wage increase.

Bieme made the comment at a day-long gathering of 850 union delegates to discuss structural changes in the CWA. The union recently launched new talks with various units of the Bell telephone system.

The union leader said the industry was healthy financially and could meet the wage demands.

However, he warned that company officials intend to "hew to (wage control) prices and guidelines of the administration. And at this late date, we are saying that is not good enough."

Bieme said the Nixon administration could "get more dollars into the consumer pipeline through the device of a 25 per cent increase for the workers in this industry, who will pay and spend those dollars."

Wine may be sold in two ways: The holder of a valid "hard-liquor" permit, such as a tavern, may allow consumption of wine on the premises, and may sell wine only during the hours that liquor-by-the-drink may be sold.

Wine may be sold in two ways: The holder of a valid "hard-liquor" permit, such as a tavern, may allow consumption of wine on the premises, and may sell wine only during the hours that liquor-by-the-drink may be sold. Grocers and others holding only the wine license may sell the product only "in its original unbroken container," may not allow consumption on the premises, and can sell the wine only during the hours that beer may be sold.

No person may drive or ride in a vehicle "upon a public highway," while drinking wine or possessing wine in an open container of any kind. Finally, no person under the age of 21 may drink or possess wine.

The act takes effect 60 days after the end of the first session of the 41st Legislature — which adjourned March 20. This would make the act effective May 19. However, the law stipulates that "no retail wine license shall be issued" before July 1 of this year.

Wine license; no retailer may purchase wine for sale except from a licensed distributor, and all distributors must keep comprehensive, accurate records.

Importers must pay an annual license of $200; distributors will pay $200 per year for each "separate warehouse" used to store wine, and each retailer must pay $100 per year to the state for the license to sell wine. In addition, each retailer must pay an annual license fee "not to exceed $100" to the county, and, if the "licensed premises are located within the incorporated premises of a city," the retailer must pay another fee of up to $100 per year to the city, making a total maximum annual fee of $300.

In addition to the fees, the law imposes an excise tax of 30 cents per gallon on all wine imported into the state, and on all wine transported or produced for sale.

The lengthy statute also delineates labeling, storage, pricing and other specifications for the wine to be sold. Each distributor may set his own scale of prices, but the prices must be uniform for all stores, and all buyers within "the same trade area," such as the Magic Valley.

Violations of the law can bring revocation of the licenses and a fine of up to $5,000 against the retailer, distributor or importer.

Crime prevention strategy planned

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon said Monday the government is devising a national strategy stressing prevention rather than correction to curb rising juvenile delinquency and serious crime by young people.

Nixon said the first of a series of "model systems" for four basic settings—nonwhite urban ghettos, where the problem is particularly severe, suburbs, rural areas and campuses—will be established in the entire state of Montana.

An administration official said the Montana project will include substantially increased use of foster homes for children and creation of a volunteer corps to work with wayward youths.

The President told Congress in an annual report on juvenile delinquency that existing programs are fragmentary and ineffective. He said rehabilitation methods must be modernized, with more community-based treatment for a steadily worsening situation. The report cited FBI statistics showing that the number of persons under 18 arrested for all offenses except traffic violations increased in the last decade almost four times as fast as the national population.

In nonwhite urban ghettos, Nixon said, the entire living pattern must be changed if the situation is to improve. "One of the greatest challenges facing the nation today is to be found in the interlocking problems of poverty, discrimination and the cities," he said.

The report pointed out that the juvenile delinquency problem as well as more serious crimes by young people are increasing in rural areas, the suburbs and on high school and college campuses also.

"Prevention is given priority since, in addition to the human factor in preventing delinquency careers, this report shows preventive services are far less costly," the report said.

"Also, there is evidence that the juvenile justice and correctional system often fails to correct."

The report was based on findings by Robert J. Gemignani, head of the Health, Education and Welfare Department's Youth Development and Delinquency Prevention Administration. It had little praise for current programs. Among other things, it said the existing effort suffered from a lack of effective national leadership, poor planning and inefficient use of federal grants to states and cities.

League meeting called

TWIN FALLS — League of Women Voters of Twin Falls will hold its annual meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church.

New officers will be elected, a budget adopted and program items for 1971 adopted, Mrs. Royal Stotten, president, announced.

Retiring officers in addition to Mrs. Stotten are Mrs. Roger Abernathy, first vice president; Mrs. Bill Morrison, secretary; and Mrs. Douglas Sutherland and Mrs. Charles Groves, directors.

Five delegates will also be named for the state convention scheduled in May.

Mrs. Tom Nelson and Mrs. Tom Howard will present a skit. Refreshments will be served. All interested women as well as members are invited to attend.

Gem crime funds exceed $1 million

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said Monday Idaho will receive more than $1 million from the Federal government under the omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act to continue "this state's assault on crime."

Andrus said he was especially pleased the plan would allow strengthening of the state's drug abuse program. Of the $1,286,000 allowed to Idaho, $18,500 is allowed for community drug abuse prevention and $52,665 is for drug control and equipment.

The plan which was approved by the federal government, thereby qualifying Idaho for funding, contains a detailed description of Idaho's criminal justice system and the programs and projects requested for the prevention, detection and control of crime.

Single stop draws fire

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus says it is "regrettable" the nation's new Railpax system will have only one stop — Sandpoint — in Idaho.

"It's regrettable that they have chosen once again to ignore Idaho," Andrus said. "It appears the routes were determined on the basis of votes and not on the needs of the people."

"But," said the Democratic governor, "that has been the basic criteria of the present national administration anyway." The railpax system begins May 1.

Burglary terms given 3

TWIN FALLS — Judgment was passed Monday on three of four men accused in a burglary Feb. 10 at Emmen's Food Store on Blue Lakes Boulevard South.

All four men had previously entered pleas of guilty to second degree burglary. Monday three of them appeared before Fifth District Judge James Cunningham.

Michael Bean, 25, Twin Falls was sentenced to not more than five years in the Idaho State Penitentiary. Charles H. Raney, 18, Rupert, was sentenced to not more than three years in the penitentiary. Judge Cunningham will retain jurisdiction in his case for 60 days.

Judgment was withheld for 18 months and Wayne Hotchkiss, 21, Rupert, was placed on probation for that period.

The fourth man accused in the case, Greg Lockard, 18, Twin Falls, will appear in court for sentencing next week.

Taken in the February burglary were numerous items of food.

Tax panel draws T.F. commission

TWIN FALLS — W. L. (Bill) Chaney, chairman of the Twin Falls County Commissioners and commissioners Heber Loughmiller and Meri Leonard are in Idaho Falls today to attend a one-day tax seminar.

Chaney said the commissioners and other county officials were invited to the session concerning appraisal of farm machinery and equipment and other changes in the appraisal system for personal property taxes. The seminar is under direction of the Idaho Tax Commission.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster, also invited to attend, said he declined the invitation because of the Idaho Supreme Court meeting here this week and he felt his going would be a waste of taxpayers' money as he does not work directly with any personal property tax assessments.

Rodeo panel sets plans

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls County board of the National High School Rodeo met Monday in Twin Falls to continue preparing plans for the event which will be Aug. 2-8 at the fairgrounds in Filer.

No new developments were reported at the meeting, according to Lynn Koch, publicity director.

About 500 teen-age contestants from 24 states will be in Twin Falls in August to compete in the finals of high school rodeo. They are top contestants from their home states.

There will be 11 shows during the rodeo, with two events going on at the same time. There will be competition in 11 riding and timed events.

INVITATIONS TO WORK-party planning meeting are signed by committee officials. From left are Heber Loughmiller and William Chaney, county commissioners, and Bob Brock, Bureau of Land Management, seated, and Commissioner Meri Leonard and Bud Phillips, standing. Cleanup planning meeting is scheduled March 31 at 8 p.m. in the county judicial building.

Plans set up

Cleanup meet planned

TWIN FALLS — Letters inviting more than 100 people to a meeting March 31 to plan the 1971 county-wide cleanup day were signed today by county officials and Bob Brock, Burley, of the Johnny Horizon program.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Twin Falls County Judicial Building, is open to all interested persons, County Commission Chairman W. L. (Bill) Chaney said. Those not receiving a letter are also welcome and are encouraged to participate. He said youth organizations such as 4-H groups, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire girls and even school classes were a help in the last year's event.

Sponsored by the county and the BLM Johnny Horizon project, the event is aimed toward making Twin Falls County one of the most trash free areas of the state, Chaney said.

A tentative date of May 8 has been set for the cleanup campaign, about a month earlier than last year.

Brock said heavy equipment, truck and many volunteer workers will be needed to make the campaign a success. Plans for organization and for a picnic lunch to be served at Filer at the conclusion of the work program will be planned in the March 31 meeting.

Highway fund meet set

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's highway board planned to meet with officials of the Federal Highway Administration and Forest Service today to determine what might be done about forest road construction.

Originally, the three agencies had planned a hearing on allocation of forest highway funds.

But that hearing, scheduled for Wednesday, was canceled because of a continuing federal freeze on such funds.

Monday, Sen. Joe F. Allen, R-American Falls, appealed for completion of a 6.7-mile stretch of State Highway 39 between Aberdeen and Springfield.

Allen, a member of a five-man delegation, told the board the legislature "may need to take a new look at the state road system," next year.

He said the legislature recognized state highway systems' needs but lawmakers feel there is an immediate need for road moneys by cities.

Although the Highway 39 project tentatively is scheduled for 1973, Board Chairman Howard Thomason of Sandpoint said much work remains to be done.

State Highway Engineer Ellis Mathes said the department is strapped for money and for all practical purposes is "right back to 1967 when the board appealed for additional funds."

Thomason said he felt the board has been set back to 1950. The board chairman said the loss of the one cent a gallon gasoline tax will result in a $27 million loss of revenue to the state and possible loss of $8 million in federal road aid.

Counties and highways also will lose under the bill which diverts revenue from a penny of the tax to city streets.

Concession lease approved

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's State Land Board approved assignment of a concession lease agreement at Heyburn State Park in Benewah County to C.R. and M.J. Ferguson Monday from Louis A. and Marlan J. Bartley.

The Fergusons proposed to acquire the concession for $2,500 with a down payment of $12,500 and payment of the balance at $8,500 per year including seven per cent interest.

In other action, the Land Board held for further information a proposed snowmobile lease on 12,080 acres of state land in eastern Idaho to Snowmobile, Inc., of Firth.

The proposed rental would be $25 per year or one and one-half per cent of the gross profits, whichever was greater.

This would give the lessee exclusive use of the land from Dec. 1 to March 1.

There are about 70 miles of snowmobile trails in the area and about half of them are on state land.

Land Commissioner Gordon Trombley questioned the size of the fee. Public Instruction Superintendent D.F. Engelking also questioned the fees and asked whether public hearings should be held.

In still another action, the board agreed to release 41.78 acres of the Kootenai River bend near Bonners Ferry to Vernon E. Sandy for a sand and gravel operation. But in doing so the board said it would be with the understanding that the rental price would be subject to adjustments after a land department study. Board members said they felt 10 cents per cubic foot was too low a royalty.

'Fling' awards listed

ALBION — Winners of the various events of the Spring Fling held at Pomerelle Ski area over the weekend are announced by Roger Jones.

Giant Slalom race, open class: Jim Adams, Ketchum, first; Robert Hilliard, Burley, second; Ron Quessnell, Burley, third; and Steve Hallstone, Paul, fourth. Boys 18 to 18: Kelly Kurdy, Rupert, first; Robert Paulson, Burley, second; Mark Hobson, Burley, third, and Curtis Eames, Burley, fourth.

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — Take a look at a couple of quotations:
"I do the very best I know how and I do mean to keep doing so to the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything."
"... we can debate as to whether or not my view of it is right or the rest. I hope for the good of the country mine is, and if it is right, what you say now doesn't make any difference."
Is this, President Nixon responding to criticism of the Laotian incursion and his general conduct of the Indochina war? Yes and no.
The second comment is indeed Nixon's, made in his March 4 press conference. The first is Abraham Lincoln's, uttered as he struggled with an earlier bitter war.

How many other U.S. presidents have said or might have said something similar? No thorough research has been done. We are sure only of Harry Truman, who kept Lincoln's remark in a leather profile on his White House desk and once told a scholar: "That's the way I feel, too!"
What is the point here? That presidents are sensitive to criticism and react defensively? This is surely true, but the matter is a great deal subtler than that.
The evidence of history is that American presidents in crisis circumstances — most particularly war situations — consistently have believed themselves possessed of wide-ranging power. At the same time, they have felt an awesome loneliness in its exercise, and have looked wistfully for assurance that their big decisions are right.
Historian Henry Steele Commager has just told some senators on the Foreign Relations Committee what they convened an inquiry to hear — that presidents "only in the last 20 years or so" have, on their own without concurrent support from Congress, thrust the country into military operations in places near and far.
The view is unbelievably myopic. More experienced constitutional experts than Commager accept no such limited time frame. The celebrated Edward S. Corwin, in his book "Total War and the Constitution," wrote:

"Our three wars of outstanding importance prior to World War II were all the direct outcome of presidential policies in the making of which Congress had but a minor part."
As for World War II, Corwin listed — with no suggestion the tally was complete — some 14 actions by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1941 before Pearl Harbor, which were either virtual acts of war or provocative to the belligerent Nazis.
These included orders to "sink on sight" foreign submarines discovered in our "defensive waters," to provide naval escort for convoyed Lend-Lease supplies bound for Britain, to U.S. warships to drop depth charges in "self-defense" against Nazi submarines anywhere, to those same warships to destroy any German or Italian sea or air forces encountered. U.S. vessels sometimes moved under British command.

Many of these FDR orders were not learned of by Congress or public until well after they had been issued. The escort of Lend-Lease supplies by the Navy flatly contravened a ban on such support composed by Congress in the Lend-Lease act.
The facts simply crush Commager's argument that only in the era of Korea, the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and Vietnam have presidents "thrown caution and even constitutional scruples to the wind" in military ventures.

Staggering

There was a third contender in the ring during the so-called "fight of the century" — or so a number of television critics maintain.

That third party was commercial television, which they fear may have suffered a near-fatal TKO.

"The impact of the Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali fight on the world of communications will extend far beyond tonight," wrote one. "The effect thus far of the closed-circuit presentation already bears out many contentions of broadcasters who have opposed pay-as-you-see TV on economic and public service grounds. The electronic life is going to change."

"The rich few will be able to afford the astronomical prices asked by theaters but millions of the poor will be left with only nostalgic memories of Joe Louis, Jersey Joe Walcott and Kid Gavilan on their 12-inch screens. The TV medium, once open to all regardless of station, is becoming a restricted instrument and the fight may be the handwriting on the wall for the future of much entertainment and big sports."

All very disturbing, but as a certain well-known personage would say, let's make one thing perfectly clear: Closed-circuit television should not be confused with pay-TV or subscription-TV.

The purpose of pay-TV is to provide, for a fee, entertainment that would not otherwise be available over free television — first-run movies, live stage plays, blacked-out local sports events. Explicit FCC regulations govern what may or may not be shown.

There has not been a heavyweight boxing championship match on conventional commercial television for more than 10 years. The 1964 Liston-Clay fight, however, was offered to subscribers in Hartford, Conn., during the 6½-year experiment with pay-TV in that city, at $3 a set. It could be seen locally on closed-circuit theater TV at $5 per admission.

Eight-three per cent of subscribers tuned in. Counting family and visitors, they represented a total viewing audience of 32,733. Thus pay-TV in Hartford served an average of nine viewers per TV set at a cost of $3, or 33 cents apiece. At the theater, these nine would have paid $45 to see the fight.

Ironically, had pay-TV not been opposed for so long, chiefly by the same theater owners who cashed in on the closed-circuit broadcast of the "fight of the century," millions more could have witnessed it at an average price far lower than was shelved out at the box offices.

It may very well be that once pay-TV is established around the country (the first permanent outlet will be in Los Angeles, using Zenith's Phonevision system), there will be pressure to liberalize the rules, to the disadvantage of free TV.

This pressure, if and when it occurs, must be resisted. Pay-TV must always be an alternative source of entertainment and information, not the only or dominant source. The rules must be maintained to ensure that it provides — to repeat — only such programming that is not now and would not otherwise be available over free television.

MR. SPECTATOR

Always Interesting

You had better enjoy this old bridge while you can. Apparently it just ain't long for this world.

In case you are confused, it is the famed Perrine Memorial Bridge which spans the Snake River Canyon between the north and south side and which carries the weight — and traffic — of Highway 93. It is suffering the ravages of old age and someday, in the not too distant future, it will have to be replaced. It might be replaced by two bridges, come to think of it.

It is a famous old structure, named for a famous man — the late I.B. Perrine, father of the Twin Falls tract. Mr. Perrine's grave, within sight of the bridge, is on the canyon floor at Blue Lakes.

From the air you can get the full majestic span of the bridge in one sweep, and can also get an outstanding view of the canyon surroundings. This outstanding view, and the fact the bridge might not be long for this world, is reason enough for printing this Times-News aerial photo.

THE "MAD MONEY"

Everybody gets a raise this year, of sorts.

Thanks chiefly to an end to the income tax surcharge and an increase in personal exemptions, the average American will have to work only two hours and 37 minutes out of an eight-hour day to pay his state, local and federal taxes.

Last year the figure was two hours and 43 minutes. That means an extra six minutes worth of "mad money" every day.

A word of caution from Mr. Spectator — don't spend it all in one place.

By CHARLOTTE BELL
Times-News Staff Writer
JEROME — The world's supply of fresh water is strictly limited. Salt water is 97 per cent of the total, and almost 98 per cent of the remaining 3 per cent is tied up in the polar ice caps. This rather small total of fresh water supply is now being reduced. North Americans are now removing twice as much from groundwater reserves as is being returned.

Water flows through all the problems facing man and his environment. Water, essential to life, is quickly becoming a conveyor of death.

Virtually every stream, river, lake and estuary in the country is polluted to some degree. The Great Lakes are becoming dirtier every year. Lake Erie is the worst, followed by Lakes Ontario, Michigan, Huron and Superior. The once great commercial and sport fishing industry in Lake Erie is dead, and recent DDT threats to Lake Michigan foretell the same fate for it.

Water pollution takes many forms: municipal wastes and industrial effluent; pesticides and fertilizer runoff from agricultural operations; heat released through cooling operations; radiation from atomic generating plants and now a new threat mercury is showing up in large quantities in many rivers and streams across the United States.

Diseases contracted from drinking polluted water include cholera, typhoid, dysentery, hepatitis, diarrhea, amebiasis, paratyphoid and leptospirosis. Fish reported killed by water pollution have doubled in number from last year.

New laws are not the answer. We need to enforce the laws already on the books. But it's going to take further research (in fertility and pesticide runoff from farms, for example) and massive doses of money. U.S. mayors say $3 to $37 billion will be needed for municipal water treatment plants over the next six years. Current federal budget has only $800 million in grants to cities for combating water pollution. Primary-secondary water treatment, which removes up to 90 per cent of the pollutants, cost 12 cents per 1,000 gallons. Tertiary treatment necessary if we want our water really pure-rises cost to 30 cents per 1,000 gallons.

And, demands continue to skyrocket: By 1980, nuclear power plants alone will require one-eighth of the total stream flow in the U.S. for cooling, emphasizing again the need to reuse available water whenever possible.

ROWLAND EVANS

Disunited

WASHINGTON — An energetic effort by Democratic National Treasurer Robert Strauss to unify all ideological factions in party fund-raising is running into coldly implacable non-cooperation from the left.

Major liberal money-givers are showing little interest in the $500-a-plate dinner planned by Strauss April 21 at the Washington Hilton Hotel, the first major fund-raiser by the Democratic National Committee since its fiasco at Miami Beach Feb. 5, 1970. The reasons for non-cooperation: a desire to feather the nests of favored liberal Presidential candidates rather than the committee; suspicion of committee operations under National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien and Strauss; outright hostility to Strauss as a conservative Texas Democrat.

Such liberal hostility, added to normal reluctance in contributing to the party as a Presidential election nears, severely handicaps Strauss's efforts to make even a little bite in the oppressive $9 billion deficit he inherited. More important, it shows how paper-thin is the new facade of Democratic ideological unity.

Strauss's intent has been to create a unified facade as much as to reduce the deficit (which will persist anyway until such time as a Democrat becomes President). Accordingly, Strauss planned three private dinners — one each in Washington, Los Angeles, and New York — preliminary to the April fund-raiser.

At each dinner, under Strauss's plan, local Democratic fat cats would be invited to meet potential Presidential candidates. Strauss would make a selling pitch for the $500-a-plate dinner. But his overriding aim was to get together the party's money men from across the ideological spectrum.

The first dinner, at the home of Washington banker True Davis March 10, went off smoothly. But the second, scheduled March 23 at the Manhattan home of theatrical executive Arthur Krim (chief party fund-raiser of LBJ days), immediately confronted difficulties. Liberals, unhappy with the National Committee's O'Brien-Strauss regime, declined to attend in alarming numbers.

A case in point is New York curtain manufacturer Marvin Rosenberg, longtime liberal stalwart and intimate of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. Rosenberg told friends he blamed Strauss for the defeat of liberal Sen. Ralph Yarborough in the 1970 Texas Democratic primary and wanted no part of him. For days the invitation to Krim's party rested, unattended, on Rosenberg's desk. As for the April fund-raiser, Rosenberg wanted not a single ticket.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Proteins

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How much protein should a person eat each day? I've heard anywhere from two to seven ounces. Also, can cottage cheese be substituted for meat? — Mrs. J. Y.

Protein is necessary because it constitutes the "building blocks" of the body. It represents the material (a complex collection of amino acids) from which the cells of the body are manufactured, as opposed to the foods that simply supply energy.

Thus protein is absolutely essential for growth — and it continues to be necessary for the rest of our lives, since the body is constantly replacing itself, cell by cell.

On an average, a person should get at least three or four ounces of protein foods a day. Some, of course, require more. The principal sources of protein are fish, fowl, lean meat, eggs, cheese, milk. Some is in vegetable products, primarily beans, peas, nuts.

Thus an adequate intake could be two meat servings a day — or one egg and one meat serving — plus at least a pint of milk (whole or skim) and some of the vegetable sources.

Cottage cheese gives about the same, or slightly less, protein as compared to beef, and thus can be substituted. That does not mean that it has an equal calorie value ounce for ounce, however, since beef contains a certain amount of fat in addition to its protein, and fat is high in calories.

Another characteristic of protein foods is that they digest more slowly, satisfy the appetite, and "stay with you."

return for 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send request to Dr. Thosteson, care of Times-News.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is a baby being robbed of nutrition by giving him skim milk? When he drinks regular milk, he spits up and has loose bowel movements, as many as four or five a day.

He is five months old, eats very well, and drinks the skim milk, but I worry about the milk — Mrs. L. L.

Some youngsters have trouble digesting milk because of a deficiency of an enzyme necessary for breaking down milk sugar. (This tends to correct itself as the child gets older.)

That sounds like the situation here. Skim milk is low in fat, and this deprives him of calories as well as some vitamin A and D. However, if he gains weight adequately, he is getting enough calories. The vitamins can be supplied by drops in his formula. And the skim milk is providing protein and calcium. Therefore I would have no hesitancy in continuing the skim milk.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please discuss trauma in your column. What causes it? What treatment? Is it fatal? — Mrs. J.C.F.

Trauma is a general term for a wound, injury, damage to a person. Being shot is trauma. So is stubbing your toe. Trauma can be the strain of an illness. There can also be psychological or mental trauma. In a word, it's any damage to the human system, large or small.

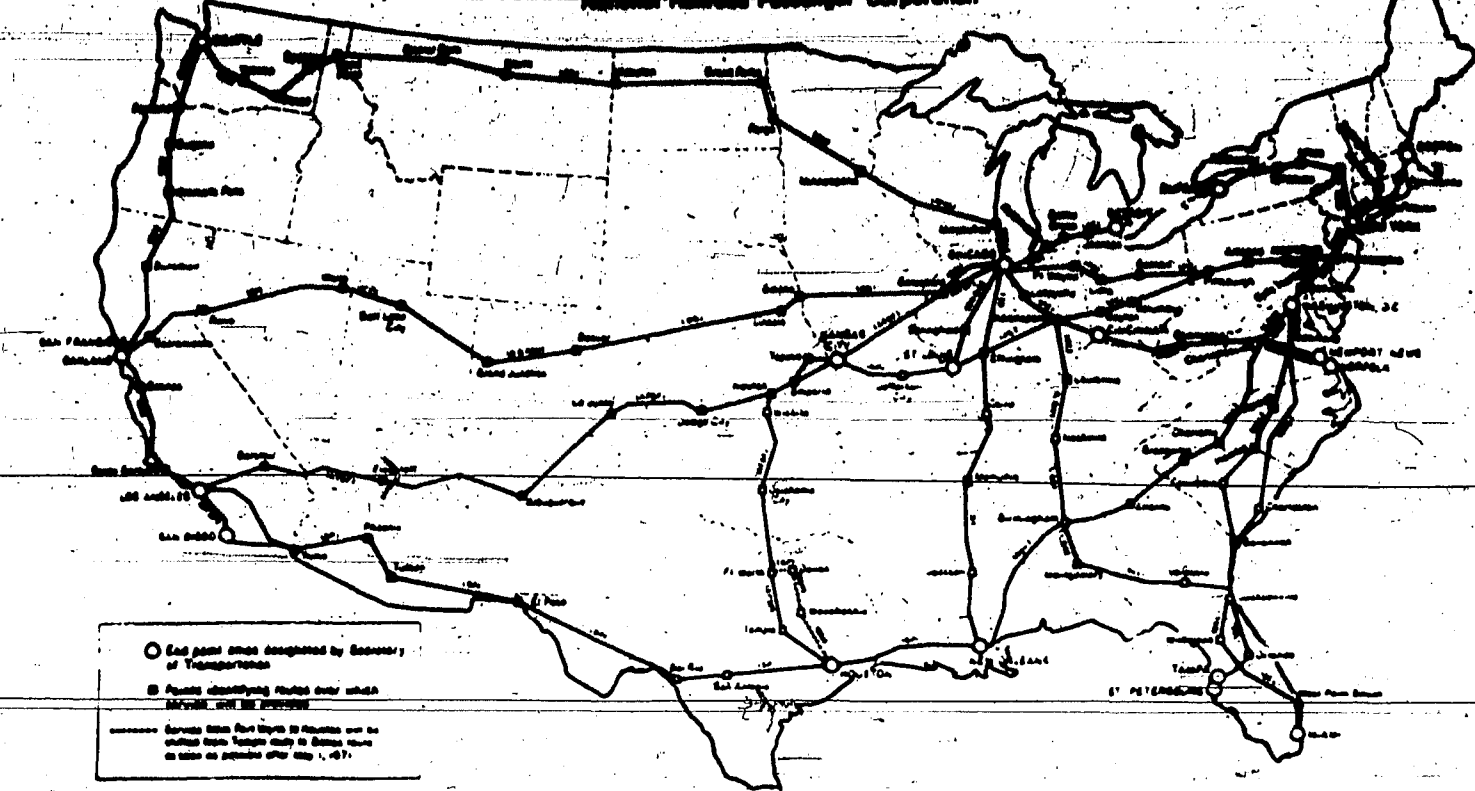

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Rail routes set

Scenes net rail traffic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Passenger trains under the new Railpax system will be routed through Grand Junction, Colo., to Salt Lake City instead of through Wyoming because of "outstanding scenery and world-famous ski resorts" along the southern route.

While acknowledging that the Wyoming route, which would go through Cheyenne, would be two of three hours faster, Railpax said in a route explanation Monday that the Grand Junction route had the better potential.

The decision of Railpax was a disappointment to Ogden which would have benefited had the proposed passenger line been routed through Cheyenne. But Railpax left the door open for possible passenger service to Ogden at some future date.

"Consideration is to be given to the possibility of improving the Ogden passenger facility to permit future service to that city," Railpax said in its route explanation.

Under the plans announced by Railpax Monday, passenger trains would go from Chicago to San Francisco-Oakland by way of Ottumwa, Iowa, Omaha, Neb., Lincoln, Neb., Denver, Colo., Grand Junction, Colo., Salt Lake City, Wells, Nev., Reno, Nev., and Sacramento, Calif.

Through service will provide three trains per week each way, Railpax said, with daily service between Chicago and Denver.

"The basic route through Omaha was chosen because it is shorter in miles, faster in running time and contributes more passenger miles annually," Railpax said.

"The route through Ottumwa from Chicago to Omaha was chosen because it has the fastest running time and best track conditions of the three alternate routes. The Lincoln segment was chosen because it has a greater population. The line has more ridership now than the alternative.

"The segment through Grand Junction and Salt Lake City was chosen because of somewhat greater population, past ridership and market potential.

Reward offered in Boise bombing

BOISE (UPI)—A $2,000 reward is being offered by a Boise radio station for information leading to the arrest of persons responsible for the bombing of a Boise Police agent's car Saturday.

Jack Anthony, the 24-year-old husband of a narcotics agent Pam Anthony, was injured when a bomb exploded inside his car as he was driving to an army reserve meeting.

Mrs. Anthony has been responsible for as many as 25 drug arrests through her undercover work, and Boise Police fear the bombing may be an attempt by "pushers" to eliminate her.

Sgt. Chuck Palmer said the family has been given around-the-clock protection by policemen.

Monday, KATN Radio issued a plea to local residents to donate money to make up the reward fund. By late afternoon, station Manager Ralph Frazer said the fund had grown to $2,000 and was growing.

He said interested parties should send contributions to the radio station where they will be kept in escrow until the guilty party or parties are convicted.

Palmer said Anthony's car was being checked for any clues that might lead the police to suspects. He said no positive clues have been uncovered during the investigation to date, but said several tips are being checked out.

Death knell

ROANOKE, Va. (UPI)—The legendary "Wabash Cannonball," immortalized in song and verse since the turn of the century, may have been finally plowed under Monday by a corporate giant named Railpax.

The Norfolk & Western Railway, which inherited the "Cannonball" when it merged with the Wabash Railroad in 1964, said it would ask regulatory agencies for permission to discontinue the St. Louis-to-Detroit passenger train on May 1. An N&W spokesman said routine approval was expected.

Last run set

PORTLAND (UPI)—Union Pacific Railroad's last passenger train from Portland east probably will leave April 30, a spokesman for UP said today.

The railroad statement was issued after announcement of the new Railpax nationwide passenger routes.

'Final' routings may face changes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The "final" version of the government-backed plan to preserve the nation's passenger train service—with 184 trains serving 85 per cent of the urban population—still has room for change, even after it becomes official May 1.

For one thing, it contains a provision whereby train service will be added if a state, region, local agency or city puts up at least two-thirds of the cost.

This contingency, built into the final rail system announced by the National Railroad Passenger Corp. Monday, is not considered to be one that will win wide acceptance, largely because of the cost involved. It does, however, offer an opening to any state or region which feels the Railpax System left it without needed service.

The second possibility for change in the system comes from the fact that none of the 22 railroads currently offering noncommuter type passenger train service is obligated to join the government-backed system.

Although it is expected that most railroads will join the plan, industry sources have reported that at least two lines, one in the South and one in the West, may elect to continue their present passenger train operations outside the Railpax System.

If any line chooses that course, the law requires they must continue to offer passenger service at their present levels until 1975. The determining factor in what course some lines will choose to take seems to depend on the terms of the as yet undecided contract Railpax will offer the railroads.

There are currently 285 passenger trains running. Under the Railpax Plan 101 of them would stop running May 1.

Federal unit rejects Gem mine safety rules

BOISE (UPI)—State Mines Inspector Carl Griner said Monday he had been notified the U. S. Bureau of Mines had rejected some of Idaho's safety standards.

Griner said he would probably have to call an advisory committee together again to bring Idaho's standards and bring them up to federal standards.

Under Public Law 89-577, the Metal and Non-Metallic Mine Safety Act, states were required to draw up standards equal to or superior to the federal standards to retain state control of mines inspection.

If the federal government were to take over the job, Griner said, "I believe everybody will probably suffer from it."

In addition, Griner said, Idaho is required to have an industrial hygienist and will be required to have laboratory facilities to make atmospheric samples.

In the past, he said, samples from Idaho were taken to a man from Salt Lake City, but added, "It's a little bit ridiculous when we do have some extensive laboratory facilities in the state of Idaho."

head in two days after he has taken office to justify a request made by the previous agency head."

He said he felt new agency heads needed "a little more time" to study budget requests. Griner also said he would like to see agency heads who will be enforcing laws more actively consulted during drafting stages.

Referring to new mining laws, which he said will mostly be under the jurisdiction of the State Land Board.

'72 Gem budget complete

BOISE (UPI)—The state's budget for fiscal year 1972 is $206,631,989, Legislative Auditor James Defenbach said Monday.

In addition, he said, the lawmakers appropriated $2,937,712 for use in the remaining months of the present biennium.

The total budget included:

- $125,046,265 from the general fund, approximately equal to revenues which will be accruing to the state during the same period.
- $6,772,922 from dedicated funds, which must be approved by the legislature before agencies can spend the funds.
- $64,344,188 in federal funds.
- $6,792,491 in "receipts to appropriations, or local income which the agencies can receive.
- $2,048,631 in endowment funds, or returns from state land held for specific purposes.
- And $1,827,486 in county or local funds.

Viet visit set

SAIGON (UPI)—Actress Jane Fonda plans to visit North Vietnam soon, informed sources said Monday. Miss Fonda has been touring the United States recently making speeches against American involvement in the Indochina War. She also has organized a troupe of antiwar entertainers to perform at U.S. bases.

Foreign oil industry in Libya has shakes

TRIPOLI (UPI)—The billion dollar foreign oil industry in Libya has a bad case of the shakes.

Many oil men believe it is only a matter of time until the impatient military officers ruling Libya decide to take over the foreign companies which seek, pump and ship oil. Some diplomats say contingency plans for this already have been prepared.

The question one oil executive said recently, was when the Libyans will move—and how.

The latest case of jitters came after Algeria seized 51 per cent of the oil companies operating there. Oil Minister Ezedeen Mabrouk immediately sent a cable of congratulations and reminded Algiers of the close cooperation between Algeria and Libya in oil policy.

As soon as it can, the government will take over foreign oil companies, a Western diplomat said. "This is going to happen and the oil companies know it in their heart-of-hearts."

But executives of some of the 40 oil companies in Libya are not so certain. "Sure, these are men in a hurry," one oil man said. "But they are not so much in a hurry they would endanger the one thing making Libya rich."

That oil is enriching Libya is beyond question. Since the first discovery of oil on Jan. 20, 1958, this Alaska-sized state has been transformed from a broke and sandy kingdom to a republic exporting more than 3.3 million barrels of oil a day. Libya earns about $1.35 for every barrel leaving the country.

The oil income this year alone may exceed $1.5 billion, giving Libya a per capita income of $1,700.

Some foreign observers believe Libya eventually will take over 51 per cent of the oil companies, following the Algerian example, just enough to exercise control but not so much that the companies will give up their considerable stake in the industry.

Outright and complete confiscation is considered less likely, at least as things stand now.

In any case, there is concern among even the giants like Occidental, Esso, Texaco, Mobil, Marathon and Continental. "The honeymoon is over," one oil man said. "I give us another five years."

Music, variety shows vanish from ABC list

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—ABC-TV's weekend cancellation of the Pearl Bailey, Johnny Cash and Lawrence Welk shows means that the network has eliminated all musical-variety series from its announced schedule for the fall.

There will, in fact, be only a handful of variety series on all three commercial networks come autumn. While ABC-TV is planning on doing without any, CBS-TV says it will have just two: the Carol Burnett and Glen Campbell hours. NBC-TV, meanwhile, is bringing back the Dean Martin and Flip Wilson variety series, as well as introducing a musical-comedy hour, "Marriage Can Be Fun."

Also on NBC-TV is "Laugh-In." The expected viewer protest to the cancellation of Welk, after 16 years on the network, has already begun, says an ABC-TV spokesman. In addition, country music fans undoubtedly will complain about the axing of Cash. Miss Bailey's show, meanwhile, has been very big with the critics. All three of the series, however, have lacked strong ratings.

Other current shows canceled from ABC-TV's announced fall schedule include "Let's Make a Deal," "The Newlywed Game," Danny Thomas' "Make Room for Granddaddy," "Dan August," "The Young Lawyers," "The Monday Night Movie and "The Reel Game." Another current series, "That Girl," will not return because its star, Marlo Thomas, decided to call it quits.

The programs being brought back by ABC-TV are "The FBI," "The Sunday Movie," "Nanny and the Professor," Monday Pro Football, "The Mod Squad," "Marcus Welby, M.D.," "Bewitched," "The Smith Family," "Movie of the Week," "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," "The Partridge Family," "Allas Smith and Jones," "The Brady Bunch," "Room 222," "The Odd Couple" and "Love, American Style."

Recent stronger ratings by ABC-TV are a factor in the network scheduling only seven new series for the fall. They are:

—An hour drama starring Anthony Quinn, tentatively titled "The City," about the mayor of a midsized Southwestern town. Getting Quinn undoubtedly is something of a coup, but past experience has shown that big movie names are by no means a guarantee of success on television.

—"The Persuaders," a previously announced lighthearted hour in which Roger ("The Saint") Moore and Tony Curtis portray a couple of wealthy adventurers who try to bring villains to justice.

—A Shirley MacLaine half hour, also previously announced, in which the actress plays a globetrotting photo journalist.

—"Longstreet," with James Franciscus as an insurance investigator who has been blinded at the peak of his career, but continues to pursue his work, sharpening his other senses: One hour.

—"Owen Marshall, Counselor at Law," with Arthur Hill as an attorney who is a widower with a daughter. Hour.

—"Movie of the Week," a tentatively-titled Saturday night entry of original 90-minute suspense, mystery and drama tales. This series is obviously just a slight variation on the same network's enormously successful Tuesday series, "Movie of the Week."

—A half-hour starring Bobby

Sherman, combining comedy with the music that has made him a popular young entertainer. In the series, he plays a musician who is unable to write lyrics to his tunes and collaborates with a tone-deaf eccentric pal.

And that, apparently, is just about how close ABC-TV will get to a musical show this fall.

Wrecker does job

ZEELAND, Mich. (UPI)—The second wrecker did what it was sent to do—bring back a car from the scene of a weekend accident.

A first wrecker took two cars away that had been involved in a collision. The second wrecker found only one car at the scene when it arrived. It towed the car away. The car belonged to Police Chief Lawrence Veldheer who left it there while he investigated the accident.

Canine yodeled with LBJ

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson and his dog, Yuki, the constant presidential companion during Johnson's last 18 months in the White House, sing duets which were worthy of a sideshow act, according to Luci Johnson Nugent.

In an article in the current Ladies' Home Journal, Mrs. Nugent said she and her husband, Patrick, discovered the mongrel's ability to "sing" soon after they found him, lost and whimpering, at a Texas gas station on Thanksgiving, 1966.

"Pat taught him to 'sing' and he would jump in our laps and echo the exact note we sounded," Mrs. Nugent recalled. "Later a duet was to be one of daddy's great acts with Yuki, and one has to see—and hear—the two of them yodeling together to believe it."

David due for class

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UPI)—The Navy said today Ens. David Eisenhower would be part of a 23-man class when he begins an eight-week naval navigation course here next Monday.

Eisenhower, son-in-law of President Nixon, was commissioned earlier this month at Newport, R.I., and will undergo training at the fleet anti-warfare training center at the Dam Neck Navy Base here.

David and his wife, Julie, the President's daughter, are renting a home here for the temporary duty assignment.

Spending brakes due off

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration hopes its special revenue sharing proposals for education will, if enacted, help upgrade the way states put federal school funds to use, U.S. Education Commissioner Sidney P. Marland Jr. said Sunday.

"It is the hope that this law will increase the sense of responsibility, increase the sense of accountability, increase the creativity of the states in the administration of these funds," Marland said. Under the plan, the administration would decentralize the spending of more than $3 billion in education funds by consolidating over 100 aid programs into five packages. If approved by Congress, it would give states wider authority in deciding how to spend the money.

Marland was asked in a UPI Washington Window interview if the proposal would include a provision to enforce the administration's hopes.

"You can't legislate creativity and wisdom," he answered. "The states have widely different needs and interests... they can best resolve the question as to how funds for education can be most wisely deployed within that state."

Climbers find famed Kenya peak pushover

By JAMES O. JACKSON MARANGU, Tanzania (UPI)—As a mountain, Kilimanjaro is a pushover.

The snow African peak is easier to climb than any other of comparable height anywhere in the world. Sir Edmund Hillary would find it a bore.

But the towering, 19,340-foot mountain can provide the experience of a lifetime for a slightly flabby city dweller anxious to trade some extra pounds for a foot full of blisters and a pretty view.

The journey takes five days, and begins at this drowsy two-hotel town, on the flanks of the massive mountain. The distance from the town to the mile-wide crater at the top of the extinct volcano is 35 miles, taking climbers from a tropical 4,500 feet up to a rarified and cold 19,000.

"The secret is to do it slowly," said the lady manager of a hotel that outfits amateur climbing expeditions—called safaris here. "You have to get used to the altitude a bit at a time."

"Remember," she said. "Slowly." There was no other choice for the tenderfoot. The first two days of the ascent covered 22 miles of rough mountain paths, starting among banana trees at 4,500 feet and ending among stunted, wind-bent scrub at 12,000 feet.

April meet date listed

BOISE (UPI)—The State Board of Education will hold its next meeting April 1-2 at the North Shore Motor Hotel in Coeur d'Alene.

Dr. J. P. Munson, Sandpoint, recently appointed to the state board by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, will be given his oath of office and the board will reorganize at the meeting.

The board will also visit North Idaho Junior College during its two-day meeting.

Gaullists claim lead

PARIS (UPI)—Gaullists and their allies claimed control of Paris Sunday and said the Communist and the non-Communist left had suffered a setback in two rounds of nationwide municipal polling to elect local officials for the next six years.

Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin went on national radio and television shortly before midnight to analyze the known results. About 10,000 races were still undecided.

Marcellin said he would issue definitive figures Monday, but said the picture was that the Gaullists had won eight major cities, including leftist-dominated Toulouse in the South of France.

The opposition, however, ranging from the Communists through Centerists, won seven other cities from the Gaullists including the Riviera playgrounds of Antibes and Grasse.

In Paris, the Gaullist party lost four of its seats on the Paris City Council, but emerged at the head of its allies to claim 46 of the 90 seats and a majority of 70, one, Marcellin said. In the previous council, the Gaullist-led coalition controlled only 39 seats.

Two styles shown

Art exhibit . . .

THE FOURTH ANNUAL "Magic Valley Invitation" art exhibit in the CSI Fine Arts Building allows a comparison of two radically different styles: the traditional oils of Mrs. Jack (Barbara) Allen, Hansen, and the ultra-modern neo-cubistic surrealism of Pat Heinemann, Twin Falls. Mrs. Heinemann, a housewife who is studying at the college, utilizes the entire shape of the canvas — square, octagonal or rectangular — to highlight the artistic message. Mrs. Allen, on the other hand, uses solid, attractive wooden frames to indicate the traditional nature of her work. The paintings will be on display throughout March.

Worthy grand patron honored at Twin Falls homecoming

TWIN FALLS — Magic Chapter No. 82, Order of Eastern Star, met in special session Saturday at the Masonic Temple for the homecoming of the worthy grand patron, William Grange, of the Grand Chapter of Idaho, OES.

The event was preceded by a no-host dinner at the Turf Club. Mr. and Mrs. James Page, worthy patron and matron, presided. Roberta Showalter, worthy grand matron, and Grange were presented, introduced and seated in the east. Members of the grand family introduced included Laura Callendar, associate grand matron; Harold Holm, associate grand patron; Hope Clemens, grand treasurer; Glenadine Keister, grand conductress; Ina Wilson, associate grand conductress; Wilma Ellensohn, grand chaplain; Penny Grange, grand marshal; Virginia Peters, grand Ruth; Mary Ramseyer, grand Esther; Hazel Morf, grand Martha; Hortense Swendenborg, grand Electa of the Grand Chapter of Utah; Lurlene Bragg, grand warder, and Ralph Kromer, grand sentinel.

A special introduction was given Jane Benfer, a General Grand Chapter committee member.

Past grand matron and past grand patrons introduced included Jane Benfer, Eula Chilcotte, Lillian Barton, Hope Clemens, Erna McFarland, Jessie Edgar, Irma Maule, Rachel Paulson, Beulah Schaefer, Walter Olwejn, Bob Gregory, Aubrey Smith, Gall Anderson, Lon Clayton and Jim Wheelock.

The special program included three numbers from the Grand Chapter trio from Filer Chapter No. 40, Mary Ramseyer, Donna Brown and Alice Reed; a humorous piano solo by Mabel Brock, Twin Falls Chapter No. 29; humorous reading by Homer Roberts, Hollister Chapter No. 47, and an addenda given for the worthy grand patron by the other members of the grand family. "The Championship Game," a takeoff on baseball.

Thirty-three committee members and appointees were introduced and welcomed. Worthy patrons and worthy matrons were introduced and the traveling stars brought 73 members from throughout the state. Thirty-nine chapters were presented, three from out-of-state.

Serving committee members were Marian Langdon, Lillian Moran and Thelma Brown, co-chairmen, assisted by Hazel Wilder, Wanda Glandon, Bob and Nellie Black, Barbara Detweller, Bill Moran and Carl Kobel.

Special observance scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Because members of the Federated Garden Clubs of Idaho feel special effort must be made to preserve bird life in Idaho, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus has proclaimed April 3 as Bird Day in Idaho.

Birthdays observed

TWIN FALLS — Bessie Sims, Kerry Sue Treadwell and Laura Mortensen were honored at a potluck birthday dinner by the Royal Neighbor Lodge at the Saturday meeting at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Mortensen cut and served the decorated birthday cake. The group sang a birthday song for each honoree. An Anniversary song was sung for Mr. and Mrs. Ted Samples who observed their 25th Wedding Anniversary recently.

Lodge members attended as a group the funeral service for Ollie Howard and assisted in preparing food for the family dinner.

The white elephant gift was received by Mrs. Mortensen. Mary Taylor, recorder of the Hansen camp, was a guest. Iola Britt baked the birthday cake.

Film shown

SHOSHONE — Improvements in living were viewed in a film shown to the Magic Home Economics Club members by Helen Walker, Twin Falls, from the Idaho Power Co.

Discussion during the March business meeting of the club centered around the new Magic Grange Hall construction to begin this week.

The April meeting is at the home of Mrs. Ed Sheer.

Most colored furniture on the market is tinted round the doors and drawers with a faint touch of color.

Huge success . . .

A TORCHLIGHT parade and ham dinner were the highlights of the Soldier Mountain Ski Patrol's annual fund raising event Saturday night. In the top picture, some of the young skiers are just coming in to eat, and the bottom picture shows the serving area. About 350 people were served during the ham dinner and were on hand to view the torchlight parade down the ski runs performed by ski patrol members. The volunteer ski patrol will use the proceeds from the event to assist in purchasing splints, bandages, first aid kits, rescue toboggans and other items of benefit to all skiers at the area. There are 13 members of the Soldier Mountain Ski Patrol, with six more being added later this year. Lowell Ruby, Hill City, is patrol leader.

Local woman invited to convention

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Donald Youtz, member of the National Junior Festivals Committee, has been extended a special invitation to attend the 36th biennial convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs April 19 to 23 in New Orleans, La.

The convention will bring to a close the four-year administration of the incumbent national president, Mrs. Maurice Honigman, Gastonia, N.C.

Headquarters for the convention will be the Monteleone Hotel in the heart of the old French Quarter.

Meetings of the executive committee and the board of directors, election of board members and officers, and reports of the departmental work of the 1969-71 biennium will occupy the time allotted for business. The convention theme is "A Festival of 'Music Through the Centuries' in Historic New Orleans," reflecting the early 19th century when New Orleans was undoubtedly the most musical city in the land, and its contribution in various areas, particularly in jazz.

Other plans, as announced by Mrs. Honigman and the national convention chairman, Mrs. Frank A. Vought, Baton Rouge, La., include music by outstanding concert artists, distinguished speakers from the music world and interesting social events.

Book reviewed

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Jerry Holman reviewed the book, "Nicholas and Alexandra," for members of the Emanon Club at the home of Mrs. I.T. Creed, according to announcements made today by club officials.

Mrs. Glen Ward was program chairman for the March meeting. Members decided to continue making lap robes for the rest home and to collect articles which will help patients at the Idaho State School, Nampa.

Mrs. Harry Sharp received a gift. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Creed and Mrs. T.M. Knight.

A thermometer should be washed every time it is used.

An important message to every mother in America

Today, many people are asking serious questions about the nutritive values of the foods they eat each day. With this in mind, we thought you might be interested in the nutritional background of some of the fine products we bake for your family... Wonder Bread and Hostess Cakes.

It started in 1941

Shortly before America entered World War II, the Committee on Food and Nutrition of the National Research Council noted serious deficiencies in the American diet. Because bread is so widely consumed by every segment of our population, the U.S. Government requested that white bread be enriched so that it would provide even more of the nutrients needed for healthy growth and development.

ITT Continental Baking Company worked with millers, pharmaceutical experts and U.S. Government agencies to develop the high-quality enriched Wonder Bread you enjoy today. Shortly after the war, when the mandatory bread-enrichment program was discontinued, it was ITT Continental Baking, with Wonder Bread, which led the way in continuing this bread-enrichment program on a voluntary basis.

Nutrition — our continuing project

Recently, ITT Continental Baking took another step toward providing more nutritious foods by introducing the first vitamin-fortified snack cakes. This was in line with recommendations made by the White House Conference on Food Nutrition and Health. Thus our Hostess Cakes provide sound nutrients as well as good taste. As a mother, you know how important this is.

As a further step in our efforts to contribute as much as we can to America's nutritional well-being, we developed "Astrofood." This specialized breakfast food is designed to help provide children with the nutrients they need for greater attentiveness and learning capacity. Especially important to children in underprivileged areas, "Astrofood" is being made available to schools across the nation. ITT Continental Baking worked with the U.S. Department of Agriculture on this project.

A word about advertising

At ITT Continental Baking we have always believed in producing wholesome, quality products and advertising them in a completely honest and factual way. For 15 years our theme for Wonder Bread has been "Helps build strong bodies 12 ways." This fact is authenticated by our own laboratories and by independent research organizations. We are proud that our product and its advertising have done so much to make Americans aware of the importance of nutrition in the foods they eat each day.

What the future holds

ITT Continental Baking will continue to improve the products it makes for your family. For example, we have advised the Food and Nutrition Board, National Research Council, National Academy of Science, that we will provide additional nutritional fortification in our products, if and when they decide such fortification is desirable. So you can be certain that products made by the ITT Continental Baking Company will continue to be as nutritionally beneficial as they can possibly be.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is two years overdue, but nonetheless sincere. When I was a sophomore in college I wrote you a letter with tears dropping all over it. I had just found out for sure I was pregnant by the boy I'd gone with since high school. He was also in college. We were really in love, and even though my parents approved of him, I just couldn't see myself telling them that their daughter, whom they considered such a "good girl," was pregnant. I considered suicide, and abortion. Then I wrote you, asking for advice, and I will never forget your words:

"Honey, tell your parents at once. They are your best friends. I promise you they will understand and help you. Forget the abortion. You could end up in the hands of some butcher who may do such a poor job that you'll never be able to have a child. Good doctors don't perform illegal abortions for a living."

I took your advice and told my parents. Abby, you were so right. They were wonderful! We were married right away, and now we have the most beautiful baby in the world. My husband will graduate from college in June. I'll graduate six months later. How much do I owe you? HAPPY I WROTE

DEAR HAPPY: Not a thing. You've just repaid me.

DEAR ABBY: Would you care to speculate on how a man can "lose" his wedding ring on the average of once a year?

My husband and I have been married for six years, and he has lost six wedding rings.

When he lost the first one, I quickly replaced it with another which he lost in six months. He claims he never takes his ring off, but if that is the case, I can't understand how he loses it. I buy the ring to fit his finger and it isn't even loose enough to twist around, so it certainly can't fall off, can it?

I don't want to believe that he actually takes off his wedding ring when I'm not with him to give the impression that he isn't married, but what else am I to think? He claims he enjoys wearing a wedding ring. If you were me, would you buy him a seventh? SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If I were you, I would not have bought him a FOURTH! If he really "enjoys" wearing a wedding ring, he'll buy one himself. But don't hold your breath.

DEAR ABBY: It is obvious that your man has other hobbies besides TV football, because your answer to Sunday Widow shows a complete lack of understanding for this growing national sickness. Addiction to TV football is as much a "cop out" as the drug scene—a total escape from communication. It's not just Sunday, it's all weekend long and Monday nights.

Our husbands have no time to be creative; they have forgotten how to read; the beauty of nature bores them; they don't know the theater, museums or the symphony exist. They have let their bodies become as flabby as their minds.

If you think a wife, while her lifetime companion ignores her, can spend her weekends cleaning closets and drawers without building up sufficient resentment to destroy a marriage, you don't understand women. "T"

DEAR ABBY: "Santa Ana" says that dogs have no souls. How does she know? Our family has had a dog for 14 years. He has fallen victim to our anger, but is always quick to forgive and he never bears a grudge. His devotion and loyalty is unsurpassed. I think our dog has the most beautiful soul of anyone in our family. BLOOMINGTON

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69769, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Selfless acts can bring joy

By CATHERINE MARSHALL

Author of Christy and A Man Called Peter
 "I don't understand why I'm so unhappy," is the way the letter began.

Then the woman summed up her life as follows. "I have a fine home, a faithful husband and a wonderful 11-year-old son. So I should be happy, but I'm not. I'm almost embarrassed to ask the question, but what's the matter with me?"

I had this letter on my mind that night when I sat in our living room and heard a dynamic young man tell the story of how his 6-year-old boy had died in his arms from leukemia — a man who today gives himself totally to helping college students.

It was on my mind several days later when I visited a woman dying of cancer who mostly wanted to talk about the teen-agers in her Sunday-school class.

I have also been corresponding with a woman whose husband turned out to be a homosexual and divorced her. This woman lost her eyesight several years later. Yet she is a cheerful person and has found a way to support herself.

You might say that people like those are the ones who almost have a right to be unhappy. Surprisingly, none of the three seemed so, because they were more concerned about others than themselves.

I have observed that when any of us embark on the pursuit of happiness for ourselves, it eludes us. Often I've asked myself, why?

It must be because happiness comes to us only as a dividend, as a gift given us by God. When we become absorbed in something demanding and worthwhile above and beyond ourselves, happiness suddenly becomes ours as a by-product of the self-giving.

I knew a couple who found the answer some years ago. Having moved to a new town where they had no friends, they became irritable with each other and deeply unhappy.

In desperation they turned to the Bible one day and were struck by the 15th chapter of John, where Jesus asks His disciples to love others as He loved them. "You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you that you should go and bear fruit."

Somehow that passage was like light penetrating their darkness, and they realized that much of their unhappiness was caused by self-interest. But practically speaking, how could they get out of their self-confinement by helping others?

The first person they encountered was the waitress who served them in a nearby restaurant. She apologized for giving slow service, admitted she was new in the city and miserable. They invited her to visit them in their apartment after work.

"You did not choose me, but I chose you . . ." A widower in the next apartment was the second person they befriended. Soon a dozen people were meeting together once a week for conversation and prayer.

Out of those meetings grew a project called Adventures in Friendship. Soon dozens of people were involved in seeking the lonely and the shut-ins throughout the whole area.

Needless to say, this couple (who do not want to be identified) soon became so concerned with the needs of others that their life was enriched beyond anything I can describe. Happiness found them.

In answering the letter from the unhappy woman, I asked her if her unhappiness might stem from too much concentration on herself. Then I suggested that a two-pronged spiritual exercise might help her, if she followed it daily.

First, spend a quiet time — a minimum of 30 minutes, including prayer — talking to God. Thank Him for the gifts He has already given you.

This may start woodenly. To prime the pump, read two or three psalms (91, 100, 113, 138 are good ones) to get the feeling of praise. Keep up the "artificial" praise until you feel the emotion of gratitude begin to well up in you.

Second, each day ask God how and for whom He wants to use you to give a lift to someone. If He does not plant the name of a person with a specific need in your mind, then put out your spiritual antenna and walk through your day watching for the elevator girl, the waitress, the boy who carries out your groceries, your neighbor, your own child, your boss — your "bundle from God."

Don't let one day go by without asking and without the follow-through of at least one unselfish, loving act for someone else.

I challenge you. If you will try this exercise, one of these mornings you will wake up and notice with surprise and delight that His joy has found you.

Robber gets $5,000

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Broadway office of First Security State Bank was robbed of an estimated $5,000 shortly after opening Monday by a dark complexioned man brandishing a revolver.

The holdup occurred at the bank, located at 381 East Broadway, shortly after 9:30 a.m. Wayne Baer, the bank's head cashier, said the bandit entered the bank shortly after it opened for the day, walked up to two tellers on duty and pulled out a revolver.

"He told them this was a holdup and to give him all the money," Baer said. The women then were instructed to get on the floor and not move.

Death car

THIS AUTO was raised Monday afternoon from the depths of the Malad River Canyon near Tuttle where it crashed Sunday, killing its lone occupant, S. Sgt. Charles S. Booker, 30, Mountain Home Air Force Base. Gooding County officers said today investigation into the death is continuing. They have not yet determined if an inquest will be held. Booker's wife, Nancy Booker, was not in the car when it rolled from a parking area into the 320-foot deep canyon.

Shoshone science fair draws crowds, awards

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News Correspondent
SHOSHONE — The annual science fair of the Shoshone schools drew a large attendance of parents and interested townspeople Monday night. Displays of junior high and high school students were shown at the high school gymnasium and were arranged under direction of Dale Chatterton, teacher. Grade school entries were directed by Mrs. L.M. Hatmaker. First place winner in the displays at the high school were John Johnson and Kay Saras, who worked on plant radiation. Michael Pate and Denise Blackburn were second with a display on dairy bacteriology. Tied for third place were Pat Saras, on water pollution in the Shoshone area, and Terry Hopkins, whose display was entitled "The Truth about Phosphates." In the junior high section, Ralph Ballard was first place winner with a corn display. Jimmy Jacobsen and Steve Kelley were second with a project on dinosaurs, with Don Setser and Paul Freeman third for a display on telephones. There were 80 entries from junior high and high school students, Chatterton said. Judges were Joel Caldwell, Gooding, and Gary Kissler, Richfield. At the grade school there were science fair displays as well as art, poetry and poster contest winners. Art winners in the fourth to sixth grades were Della Sue Parsons, first; Shirley Gaskill, second, and Cristine Hill, third. In the first

Jerome victim said OK

SHOSHONE — Randy G. Fiala, Jerome, was treated at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, and dismissed after the car he was driving overturned 12 miles north of Shoshone on Highway 93 Sunday morning. Sheriff Thomas W. Conner said the left front tire blew out on the vehicle, causing it to flip end over end on the pavement.

to third grade group, Rusty Warbus was first. Poetry winners, grades four to six, were Diane Magoffin, first; Cristine Hill, second; Tammy Bateman, third, and Deann Sorensen, fourth. Poster contest winners were Carol Bryant and Tammy Bateman. In the science fair, grades three and four, Danny Dallas was first with a weather station display; Mary Parkhurst, second, with a mould experiment. Fifth and sixth grade: Curtis Kidner was first with life from death display; Donna Pearson and Mary Betita, second, on a heart display. Judges for the grade school were Dan Gillette, William Closson and Joseph Nishimoto. A short PTA business meeting was held preceding the science fair. A nominating committee report was given by Mrs. Ray Tanaka. Officers will be elected in April. The executive board will meet at 7 p.m. April 5 and the district PTA meeting is slated for April 24 at Kimberly, reports Mrs. Floyd Kisling, state PTA president.

Jerome victim recovers

JEROME—Rocky Jackson, 19, remains in fairly good condition at St. Benedict's Hospital today where he is being treated for injuries suffered in a one-car accident Saturday morning on Interstate 80-N between Twin Falls and Jerome.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jackson, Jerome. State police officer Bill Watts reported the youth, alone in his automobile at 1:30 a.m. apparently fell asleep and lost control of the vehicle near the rest area northwest of Twin Falls. The vehicle rolled over two or three times, the officer said.

Four California residents, one of them a ski patrolman en route to Sun Valley for a ski vacation, discovered the accident and administered first aid to the youth, then brought him to the Jerome hospital, the officer said.

Jackson was cited for inattentive driving.

Levy hike requested for Camas

By ROBERTA DANIELS
Times-News Correspondent
FAIRFIELD — At a special meeting Monday night, Camas county school trustees decided to ask for a five mill maintenance and operation levy increase to cover cost of school operation.

Plans call for an election for the increase to be held May 10, Supt. Harold Stroud. A public hearing will be held on the proposal before the election. Stroud said the proposed maintenance and operation levy would raise about $18,000.

In other business, Victor Gormley offered his resignation as math teacher and basketball coach. He has held this position the past two years. Stroud said he will welcome applications for the vacancy. Annual trustee election will be held May 10. The three-year term for the Hill City trustee district will be up for election before the election. Zane Harrison, incumbent, has not indicated whether he will seek re-election. A public budget hearing is slated for 8 p.m. May 10 at the school.

Jerome to hear Governor

JEROME — Gov. Cecil Andrus will speak at the Jerome Chamber of Commerce annual banquet at 7:30 p.m. today at Wood Cafe here.

Gene Fredericksen, Jerome county prosecuting attorney, will be master of ceremonies and Richard Everson will give the invocation.

Leo Alftin, chamber president, said new directors will be elected. The terms of Jim Keith, Dick Waite, Dr. Charles Parker and LeRoy Craig are expiring. Holdover directors include Walt Bentzinger, Al Lee, Alan P. Mencher and Alftin.

FREDERICKA WHEELER, daughter of Mrs. Ardith Wheeler of Hansen, has been awarded a $100 scholarship as first-place winner in the girls' division of the "Most Valuable Student" competition sponsored by the Twin Falls Elks Lodge. Miss Hansen is a senior at Hansen High School. The scholarship was awarded for "outstanding scholastic achievement, leadership, purposefulness, integrity and community service," according to the Elks citation.

Burglars hit school

TWIN FALLS — Lincoln Elementary School in Twin Falls was broken into Monday night, Twin Falls Police said, but nothing appeared to be missing.

Police said damage to the building from broken windows and a broken door was estimated at about $80.

A window was broken to gain entry and a window in the principal's office also was broken. A door leading to the inner office was damaged and an attempt had been made to get into the school's safe, officers said.

No autopsy scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County Coroner Cloyce Edwards said Tuesday he has no plans at present to hold an autopsy on the body of a man found Tuesday morning at a Twin Falls hotel. The coroner said the death of Frank James Perry, about 60, appeared to be from natural causes. Perry was last seen Monday evening.

Jerome H.S. chorus sets performance

JEROME — The Jerome High School Varsity Chorus and Chorales will hold a special free pre-tour appreciation concert at 8 p.m. today at the high school gymnasium.

Carson Wong, director, said the two groups will leave Thursday for Boise where they will perform before the northwest division of the Music Educators National Conference, and then take a six-day tour of Oregon.

The Jerome chorus is the only high school chorus in Idaho asked to sing before the music educators, Wong said. The Oregon tour will include performances at Burns, Bend, Newport, Woodburn, Portland, Arlington Nyssa and Harper. The tour will conclude March 31.

Cassia school hearing April 26

BURLEY — Cassia County school trustees set April 26 as the date for a hearing on the proposed budget when they met Monday night.

Figures on funds have not yet been received from the state, Supt. Harold Blauer said, but the board hopes to have the budget completed by that time.

Salary schedules were discussed but no action was taken, reports Supt. Harold Blauer. He presented building plans, including remodeling, to the trustees for review and study.

Ken Newman, of Burrows and Smith Bonding firm, Salt Lake City, discussed bonding prospects and details of the new law permitting non-taxpayers to vote.

Herman Bedke, school attorney, outlined the legal procedure for the election March 29 on proposed re-zoning of the county-wide school district.

Trustees approved purchase of hot lunch equipment, with three-fourths of the cost to be paid by the federal government. The school district's share will be $3,218, Blauer said.

The equipment, which will include refrigerator, steam tables, food conveyor and dishwashers, will be installed during the summer, Blauer said.

Landfill operating time set

JEROME — Jerome County commissioners today announced hours of operation for the sanitary landfill northeast of town.

It will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., seven days a week, said Cleo Ambrose, commissioner.

A gate has been installed across the road leading from Highway 93 and a trench dug around it to try and curb vandalism at the dumping site.

A man will be on duty during these hours, Ambrose said. Vern Mason, who has the contract for maintenance at the site, will furnish a man four days a week and commissioners have hired Ron Silcox, Jerome, to work the other three days.

Burley armory slated

BOISE — The Burley National Guard's priority number has finally been reached, and it will get an armory building after waiting 11 years.

Maj. William J. Orton, Idaho National Guard spokesman, said today that the building is still in the planning phase because the National Guard doesn't have the money. He said "the money is still planned to be appropriated."

The $253,200 building will be constructed from funds to be approved by the legislature from the state building fund and additional funds from the federal government.

The building was originally planned for 1964 construction but a long list of problems changed the priority. First, the Department of Defense put a freeze on the money. Later, other cities in Idaho took priority over Burley because of their inadequate buildings. Burley's building was considered to be adequate where others in the state were not.

The construction of the building will begin as soon as possible with advertising for bids going out within the next two weeks. Maj. Orton said the completion date is more than a year away.

Kellwood workers get citation for excellence

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor
TWIN FALLS — Workers and management of the local Kellwood Co. plant have received the Sears-Roebuck and Co. "Symbol of Excellence Award" for outstanding production quality and a sound research and development program.

the plant employed some 260 people while today the total has climbed to 400 with a payroll of about $2 million a year. "We are satisfied with Magic Valley and Twin Falls," McKinley said. "We like the people here and we are sure the people like us. We plan on being here for a long time." Discussing business conditions, he said imports are still a threat to the industry and that approximately eight million dozen panty hose are imported each year from West Germany, Israel and Brazil. This represents about 12 per cent of the United States production. "Because of the import competition, the Kellwood official said some mills have had to shut down and some have curtailed operations. This has been the case with Kellwood "which manufactures a top product distributed by Sears." Speaking briefly at the country club, Satterfield pointed out there are 25 supervisors in the plant here and that 17 of these are from the Magic Valley area.

Presentation was made during a banquet at the Blue Lakes Country Club Monday evening and was accepted on behalf of the Kellwood Co. by Bob McKinley, president of the Glendale Group of Kellwood. It was given by Bob Wade, one of the top buyers for Sears. Another ceremony was held early this afternoon at the plant with the award being accepted on behalf of the production workers by Bill Satterfield, local manager. This award of excellence has been made by Sears only five times in the last year to the concern's various suppliers.

At the presentation Monday evening the Sears official said the work at the local plant was "outstanding" and he added it was very unusual for such an award to be made at conclusion of the first year of operation.

McKinley accepted for Kellwood and said "it was won by a lot of hard work by our people in Twin Falls." He praised the local workers and management people highly and pointed out that when it opened

Lincoln petitions due soon

SHOSHONE — Petitions of candidates for election at the April 12 school trustee election must be filed by Thursday, according to Mrs. Claude Chess, clerk.

To date only two petitions have been taken out, both for newcomers. In zone 3 a petition has been filed for Mrs. Phyllis Betita, for the post now occupied by Herbert Forbes.

In Zone 2 a petition is now out for Donald Runberg, though it has not yet been filed, Mrs. Chess reports. This is for the post now held by chairman of the board of trustees, E.I. Terry.

Neither Terry nor Forbes have solicited re-election. The terms are for three years each. Holdover trustees are Wayne Sorensen, E.D. Saras and Wade Jones.

Cassia readies vote on school boundaries

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Correspondent
BURLEY — The polls will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. Monday for the special school election for Cassia County on the question of redrawing boundary lines.

If the rezoning is approved by the voters, each member of the 5-man board of trustees would have to run again in the regular May trustee election.

If the proposal is defeated, the trustees must propose another rezoning plan, according to Harold Blauer, superintendent of schools.

The trustee zones, according to law, are to be established on the basis of population, and need not be the same size in area.

Cassia County school trustees have proposed zones that are slightly larger in size, with the largest having a population of 3,639, and the smallest 3,563.

School trustees used population figures from the 1970 census report, and voter registration in determining estimated population figures for the zones.

The proposed zones include Oakley voter precincts 1 and 2, Parsons, Pella, Unity and View for the first district. Zone 3 would include Burley voting precincts 1, 5 and Starrs Ferry; zone 4 includes Burley precincts 6 and 7; zone 5, Burley precincts 3, 4 and 8 and zone 6 includes Albion, Almo, Bridge, Declo, Elba, Reglar, Yale, Malta, Springdale and Sublett.

The greatest change in the proposed rezoning would be the combination of zones 1 and zone 2 into the proposed new zone 5.

Polling places are Burley High School, Burley Junior High, Declo High School gymnasium, Raft River High School lunch room, Albion elementary school, Almo school, Oakley High School gymnasium, Bean Growers Warehouse at Milner, and Southwest elementary school.

Boundary lines for the proposed re-zoning of Cassia County school district were outlined by Gene Sorensen, trustee, at the Burley Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Monday at Bryan's Cafe.

He said the election March 31 on the re-zoning of trustee zones in the countywide district has no connection with the recent bill passed in the legislature allowing rezoning of school districts for

Duke, North Carolina take NIT wins; go to semi-finals

NEW YORK (UPI)—Randy Denton, a husky 6-10 center, bulled his way for 32 points and collected 17 rebounds Monday night to pace Duke to a 78-64 victory over Tennessee as the Blue Devils joined fellow Atlantic Coast Conference representative North Carolina in the semi-finals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

North Carolina, with Dave Chadwick scoring 22 points, as a replacement for injured star Dennis Wuyck, defeated Providence, 85-79, in the second game of a tripleheader Monday night to reach the semis. Duke and North Carolina, the first two teams from the ACC ever to reach the NIT semis, will meet each other Thursday night.

In the first game of the tripleheader, Tom Newell calmly sank two free throws with 12 seconds left in a second overtime period to preserve an 88-87 victory for Hawaii over Oklahoma. Hawaii will meet St. Bonaventure and Michigan faces Georgia Tech in another quarter-final round Wednesday night.

Denton, who had only eight points in Duke's 68-60 victory over Dayton in the opening round, took advantage of his size against the smaller Vols. He scored 18 points in the first half as the Blue Devils took a 41-40 edge at intermission. Then he collected 14 more in the final 20 minutes as Duke's superior height advantage finally proved too much for Tennessee to handle.

Tennessee, which shot at a 55 per cent clip in the first half to stay close, began to miss on its long-range jump shots in the second half as Duke slowly pulled away to a 10-point advantage midway through the second half.

Tennessee pulled to within five points with 3:24 remaining but Duke outscored the Vols, 10-2, in a three-minute stretch to take command.

Rick Katherman contributed 19 points to the Duke attack while Don Johnson was high for Tennessee with 24 points.

North Carolina, which boosted its record to 24-6, led throughout most of the game and enjoyed an 11-point lead with 7:18 remaining only to have the Friars draw to within five points with 5:06 left to play.

However, Bill Chamberlain, who finished with 19 points, went on a one-man scoring spree in the final minute and 32 seconds of play to prevent Providence from getting any closer than five points. Chamberlain scored six points in a one-minute stretch to preserve the Tarheels' victory.

North Carolina also got 18 points from Lee Dedmon and 15 from George Karl in turning back the Friars. Ernie DiGregorio led Providence with 23 points and Vic Collucci added 17.

Wuyck, North Carolina's leading scorer, did not suit up for the game. He suffered a strained ligament in his right knee in an opening round victory over Massachusetts and is doubtful for the rest of the tournament. However, Chadwick filled in with nine field goals in 14 attempts.

Newell's two free throws in the second overtime proved to be the winning points as they gave the Rainbows an 88-85 lead with just 12 seconds to play. Oklahoma's Bobby Jack, who led all scorers with 32 points, hit a basket with three seconds remaining to pull the Sooners to within one point as time ran out.

Hawaii had jumped to a quick seven-point lead in the second overtime period, 84-77, but Oklahoma came storming back to pull within one point at 84-83 with 1:03 remaining. Bob Nash, however, tipped in a shot to give the Rainbows a three-point lead and, after a basket by Jack, Newell was fouled and promptly converted the winning free throws.

Hawaii, which trailed by 11 points at halftime, came back to tie the score twice during the second half of regulation play, the last time at 73-73 on a basket by Al Davis with 2:01 remaining.

The Rainbows had a chance to win the game in regulation time as they regained possession of the ball with 1:35 to go and held it until they called time out with 10 seconds remaining. However, Newell's shot with three seconds left hit off the back rim, sending the game into overtime.

John Penebacker paced Hawaii with 20 points, Nash had 19 and Davis finished with 18. John Yule finished with 19 for Oklahoma, which concluded its season with a 19-8 record. The Rainbows are now 23-4.

Arizona State, Stanford beat Oklahoma and KSU

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI)—Favored Arizona State romped to a 14-5 victory over Oklahoma and Stanford University edged Kansas State 8-7 Monday in opening round games of the fifth annual Riverside National Intercollegiate Baseball tournament. The Sun Devils' Roger Schmueck hit a grand slam home run in the sixth inning when Arizona State was leading by only a 5-4 score and Oklahoma could never come close again. Rick Valley also hit a two-run homer for the winners in the fifth. The game's leading hitter was Arizona State's Alan Bannister who went four for five and drove in three runs.

Stanford had to come from behind with two runs in the ninth to edge Kansas State. With one out, Rod Boone singled for his third hit and scored from second on Mark Lucich's single. Lucich reached third on the throw to the plate and scored on Glen Johnson's pinch single.

In late afternoon games, Brigham Young University scored eight runs in the final two innings to defeat the Air Force Academy 10-1 while host UC Riverside edged Oregon State 7-6.

In the eighth inning, BYU's pitcher Jeff Dusek hit a three-run triple and Mike Folster smashed a two-run double. Folster then added a two-run home in the ninth as he went four-for-five.

UC Riverside rallied for five runs in the fifth inning highlighted by Keith Bailey's 400-foot triple to drive in one run while Tim Searl tripled in a pair in the same inning.

Russia trounces U.S. hockey team

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—Russia's defending world champions taught the United States how to play hockey Monday night, trouncing the U.S. team 10-2 in the 1971 World Ice Hockey championships.

The young American team trailed 1-0 after one period, but then the Russians took over, scoring seven goals in the second period.

For 20 minutes the game was wide open with the Americans setting up aggressive attacks on Victor Konovalenko in the Russian net.

The Russians had problems with the Americans, who used tough forechecking and plenty of body contact to bring the Russian skaters off balance.

In the third period the game slowed down the Russians were content to score twice.

It was tense from the start with the capacity crowd of 11,000 in the Bern Ice Stadium rooting for the Americans. Tempers ran high from the opening buzzer and there were numerous individual clashes.

A few minutes from the end three Americans sat in the penalty box after a scuffle in front of the U.S. net.

into the scoring column after 6:35 of the second period.

Tim Sheehy, a 22-year-old center of International Falls, Minn., converted a pass from George Konik, a former National Hockey League defenseman of Bloomington, Minn. The goal came on a powerplay.

The second U.S. tally came early in the 45th period when the Russians had already slowed down.

Keith Christiansen, 26, also of International Falls, took a pass from defenseman Tom Mellor, 21, of Cranston, R.I., and slapped it past Konovalenko in the Russian net.

The Russians were back in their usual World Championship form, which is likely to give them their ninth consecutive world title in this tournament.

They have three wins from three games and along with Sweden the Russians are the only undefeated team in the six nation tourney.

It was the Americans' second loss in three games. They started with an upset win over Czechoslovakia, 5-1, then went down 4-2 to Sweden.

In the opening game, Czechoslovakia walloped West Germany, 9-1.

Female Chinese sprinter gets award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Chi Cheng, the Nationalist Chinese sprinter who broke or equaled world records nine times last year and has become one of history's foremost female runners, received the annual Tanqueray Sports Achievement Award here Monday.

Miss Cheng was undefeated in 63 races in the United States and Europe in 1970 and captured the 100-meter title in the Asian Games during December despite injured muscles in both legs. She won 70 of 71 races in 1969.

Married to Vince Reel, her former track coach at Claremont-Mudd College in California, the attractive black-haired Miss Cheng laughingly parried some of the questions about American girls after receiving her silver plaque award.

"Do you think they run too much—after men?" She was asked.

"To a certain degree they do," she said, laughing. "I was born in Taiwan but since coming to this country I have discovered that society is different here. When a girl reaches a certain age in the United States, her parents start to worry about her getting married. We don't do that in Taipei. Our society is much more conservative."

The 26-year-old Miss Cheng is a straight A student at California Poly. She plans eventually to coach in Taiwan.

Her husband was present at the award ceremony. When he was asked whether he agreed with those who claim his wife is the greatest woman runner of all time, he debated a moment and said:

"She's pretty good."

Parade of managers bugs Yastrzemski

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI)—Life could be beautiful for Carl Yastrzemski.

He's coming off a fine year, he sees no reason why he shouldn't have another one, he feels good, he looks good and he's the highest paid player in the American League, if not in all baseball.

Only one thing bugs him and it has to do with the steady parade of managers in and out of Fenway Park the past 10 years. If Boston is known as the graveyard of all managers, then Yastrzemski certainly has been designated the caretaker. Anytime the Red Sox fire a manager, somebody comes along, puts a hand alongside his mouth, and tell you confidentially:

"You know whose fault it was, don'tcha? Yastrzemski's!" How does Boston's $500,000 Golden Boy feel about this? How do you think he feels?

"It galls hell outta me," he says. "Every manager that's been fired from the time (Johnny) Pesky came on, they claim I had something to do with it. I won the batting title Pesky's first year as manager. I had yellow jaundice that year and when I got over it I put on 25 pounds. The next year I came to spring training weighing 200 pounds. I was overweight and it hurt me. I hit .289 that year and everybody said I did it intentionally. They said that's why Pesky got fired."

Bill Herrmann came next. "I played bridge with the guy 5-6 years," Yastrzemski says. "He came right out and said we were good friends, yet some writers said I had something to do with him getting fired."

"Okay, now comes (Dick) Williams. I stated right along I never liked the man. I never liked him when I played with him. That really has nothing to do with it. But it's a fact. You take my three years under Williams. I averaged 40 home runs, driving in more than 100 runs two of the three years, scoring 100 runs, getting 100 walks and hitting .300. What more could I do? Yet some writers said I had something to do with Williams getting fired because I couldn't get along with him. They never came to me and asked the question when the man was fired. Assume, assume, assume. That's all they did."

The present Red Sox manager is Eddie Kasko. He's a gentleman, quiet and dignified, but he seems to be getting a little tougher this spring. Yastrzemski has had no trouble with him.

"I don't think I have that much more of a relationship with him than I had with the previous managers," he says. "I like the man. No doubt about it. That doesn't mean we're sitting and talking every day. We just said hello last year at times and that was it. He has a job to do and I have a job to do. Period."

Another thing that annoys Yastrzemski is the feeling among some that simply because he's the highest paid player with the Red Sox, and the one with the most talent, he should be some kind of cheer leader.

"I work under the belief that I have a wife and four children and I have to take care of them," says the 31-year-old outfielder. "Baseball is a business. I come in the clubhouse, I dress, I sit quietly in front of my locker and I prepare myself for the ball game. Period. I'm not supposed to be running all around the locker room and saying 'hey, let's go, let's go, let's go!' I do it on the field, between the white lines. That's where I try to lead a ball club, not in the clubhouse. That's just the way I feel and I'm not gonna change."

"Was Joe DiMaggio a big talker? Did Joe DiMaggio go around to all his teammates and say 'C'mon boys, we gotta

Dobbs, Johnson take Golden Gloves titles

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Middleweight Jerry Dobbs of Knoxville, Tenn., and light heavyweight Marvin Johnson of Indianapolis, Ind., upset two defending champions Monday night to take titles in the 44th Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.

Dobbs won a close decision over Larry Ward, the defending middleweight champion from Milwaukee. Johnson outpointed FETon Woods of Grand Rapids, Mich., the defending light heavyweight.

Dobbs is a fireman. Johnson, 36, is a junior in high school and has been fighting less than two years.

Larry Carlisle, a 23-year-old Marine boxing with the Charlotte, N.C., team, was the first fighter crowned in the 1971 tournament. Carlisle led the bill with a decision over the Shipman of Salt Lake City to capture the welterweight title. Carlisle's win was not an upset. The Marine holds Corp's championship banners for three years as well as the 1969 AAU championship.

Samuel Nesmith of Indianapolis took the light middleweight championship by default when Levon Session of Elizabeth, N.J., was banned from the finals bout by doctors after he received a facial cut during a semi-final bout.

Coach named

WOOSTER, Ohio (UPI)—Robert P. "Pat" O'Brien Monday was named head football coach at College of Wooster, succeeding Jack Lengyel. O'Brien had served as an assistant to Lengyel for five years.

Ronald Draper of Kansas City took the heavyweight title on a close decision over John Dennis of Lowell, Mass.

James "Bubba" Busceme of Beaumont, Tex., became the only defending champion to survive by taking a close decision over James Hear of Roswell, N.M., in the light-weight division. Busceme was the featherweight champ in 1969 and 1970.

Two Texas team fighters James Martinez of Dallas and Johnny Moreno of San Antonio balled down the flyweight and bantamweight titles.

The three fighters helped balloon the Texas team points to 23. The Texas team had already clinched its third team point trophy in the last four years. Martinez barely outpointed Gregory Lewis of Cincinnati.

Moreno outpointed John Glover of Elizabeth, N.J.

Louis Self, 21, of Toledo, Ohio won the featherweight crown outpointing Earl Wilson of Jackson, Tenn.

Wiley Johnson, Cincinnati, decided Brooks Byrd of Roswell, N.M., for the Light welterweight title.

Even should the College of Southern Idaho win the national junior college tournament one of these first years, it will never have a better chance than it did this past week.

Despite the myriad complications that beset the team — not the least of which being an unreal number of injuries — the Golden Eagles were the class of the tournament. However, we will have to qualify that by telling it like it is, that the fans in Hutchinson could be excused for not believing our previous statement. The simple truth was the Eagles never did quite show what they were capable of doing.

If we establish the two-game performance against Western Arizona in the inter-regional as the optimum 100 per cent of this 1970-71 Eagle team, we would have to estimate that CSI never got above 80 per cent in any one game. And in the finals, the Eagles might best have been at 50 to 60 per cent.

The exception in all games, we felt, was the play of Ron Behagen who put on a great all-around display. Ron was a 110 per center. Tim Bassett, as usual, was strong all the way but hampered by that bum knee of his.

The injury thing was unreal and the Eagles' MVP award probably should go to Dr. Thad Scholes, who flew in from Cleveland to watch the festivities and fortunately brought along his little black bag.

Steve Hegens hurt his ankle in making a jump shot the first night. Bassett was injured while flying downcourt on the wing of a fast break with Vic Kelly at the controls. The knee just gave way. That came against a snarling, scrappy bunch from Columbia, Tenn., who made the Eagles play their best game. With tears in his eyes, Bassett returned to the lineup after a short rest and got some big rebounds. Only a couple of minutes later, Garry Quessnell was dumped on his left elbow and the swelling was immediate. Still Quessnell went to the free throw line in a late critical situation and nailed down the win with two points.

Against Robert Morris in the semi-finals the Eagles at times clicked on all points. It was CSI all the way.

Then Saturday morning, Ralph Palomar bent over to turn the water off in his shower. A giant muscle spasm grabbed his left side and he couldn't straighten up, sit down or anything. Dr. Scholes said the probable cause was the 10 days of favoring that side of his body due to the ankle injury in the inter-regional. It was a near daylong fight by doctors to get Ralph out on the floor for the championship.

But what happened that night is really beyond anyone to say. Everyone was tired, a lot were hurt. It appeared Ellsworth came out in the first five minutes and waited for CSI to blow them off the court. The ball wouldn't go down. The Eagles have probably twice the number of shots in the early going.

But Ellsworth hit a couple of quick ones to get back even and from then on they exuded confidence. CSI, meanwhile, became cautious. Ellsworth played a zone which CSI usually picks apart. No one underneath was moving and the guards were dribbling rather than passing. It was, unfortunately, the kind of night that one could say after "now I know how they lost to the Weber frosh."

Among things learned, Benny Clyde, Ellsworth's MVP, is a going jessie at 6-7 and ultra quick. He has the outside range of Steve Hegens and consistently out-jumped CSI's big men. He's a fine one.

Also, the No. 1 season ranking proved no boon at Hutchinson. Everyone was automatically against the Eagles in the great American underdog sense. As it was last year, the only real friends either CSI or Casper, Wyo., had were each other.

Kansas likes CSI, too. Last year it greeted the team with a record 13-inch snowfall, this year with a giant 85-mile per hour wind that turned over trailerhouses, shattered windows and destroyed commercial signs. It even popped 11 windshields out of cars on the arena parking lot that afternoon. Just ask Ben Mottern about that!

Distance considered, CSI had the best representation except host Hatch. Chamber skipper Ray Rostron had everyone wearing Twin Falls buttons. At halftime of the second game, we were outside when a rather elderly gentleman started past, then backed up a half step to

Mets beat Cards 2-1

St. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Pitcher Fred Norman's two-base wild throw on Tommie Agee's soft infield hit enabled Ken Boswell to score the winning run Monday as the New York Mets beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 in 10 innings.

The Mets, handing the Cards their fifth straight setback, clinched the five-game St. Petersburg city spring series by beating the Cards for the third time in four games.

St. Louis' run was unearned and was scored off Gary Gentry in the third inning, a result of Tim Foli's fumble, Reggie Cleveland's sacrifice and a single by Ed Crosby.

Cleveland, after blanking New York on two hits for five innings, yielded a tying run in the sixth. Gentry walked with one out; Boswell singled with two out and Agee's porcellid in short center for a hit. St.

Louis leftfielder Leron Lee delayed a Redbird loss when he threw out Mike Jorgensen at the plate as he tried to score from second on a single by Agee in the eighth.

In the 10th, after Boswell walked with one out, Agee tapped a slow roller towards third for an obvious infield hit. The lefthanded Norman, fielding the ball as he reached the foul line, whirled and threw late and far over first base for the error that decided the game.

Judge recesses Haywood trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—U.S. District Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson Monday recessed the trial of a $1.9 million contract dispute between the Denver Rockets and superstar Spencer Haywood until Friday.

The judge said he was forced to recess the trial, which has been under way for a week, because of a congested court calendar.

Haywood claimed the contract was breached by the American Basketball Association club, leaving him free to sign with the Seattle SuperSonics of the rival National Basketball Association.

When the trial resumes Friday, Donald W. Ringsby, president and general manager of the Rockets, will resume his testimony. He was on the stand when the case recessed last Friday. The trial began a week ago.

Baltimore has win

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI)—Mike Cueller attempted to go the full nine innings and lasted 8 1-3 innings as the Baltimore Orioles hung on for a 6-5 decision Monday over the Chicago White Sox.

The Orioles piled up their lead when Bart Johnson of the White Sox also tried to go too far. Seven innings was his objective and he was belted for five runs in the seventh. Dave Johnson got the pivotal hit with a two-run double and also homered earlier in the contest.

Lee Maye topped a 10-hit White Sox attack with a 3-for-4 on a single, double and triple.

White Sox takes win

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Paced by third baseman Rico Petrocelli's five runs batted in, the Boston Red Sox (8-4) hammered out a 14-hit, 10-5 Grapefruit League win over the Los Angeles Dodgers (8-4) Monday.

Petrocelli went 3-for-5, pounding out a solo homer, a two-run double and two-run single off three Los Angeles hurlers. Outfielder Billy Conigliaro gave strong backing by getting two doubles and a single in three at-bats.

Righthander Sonny Siebert worked six innings in gaining the victory. Dodger southpaw Dennis James, working in relief of starter Al Downing, took the loss.

While it might be a little difficult to adjust to the defeat, one only has to hear what CSI chief Dr. James Taylor told Coach Jerry Hale before the semi-finals.

"Don't worry about it," Dr. Taylor said. "If we don't win it this year, we will next year or the year after. We're going to be a permanent entry in this thing for a long time."

One word about next year, the chances appear very good that Isaac Devore of New York City will be enrolling at CSI. Devore last week was named first team all-city and is rated as one of the if not the best big man there. He averaged about 20 points per game with a team that was noted for its near perfect balance. At a shade under 6-4, he is rated a strong rebounder and an excellent offensive player.

White Sox takes win

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Phillies scored four runs in the ninth inning Monday to edge the Cincinnati Reds, 6-7.

Singles by Tim McCarver, Ron Stone, Larry Bowa and Don Money, a walk and an error on a fielder's choice ended the game.

Earlier, Money, Oscar Gamble and Larry Bowa homered for the Phillies and Lee May followed a tie-breaking double in the eighth by Ray Fero to hit the Tigers to a hard fought 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees Monday.

The Tigers, who trailed until the eighth inning, battled back to tie the score twice before Collins' RBI hit won the game.

Tigers nip Yankees

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Pinch hitter Kevin Collins, 0-for-16 this spring, drove a Ron Klimkowski pitcher over the rightfield fence in the 11th inning to hit the Tigers to a hard fought 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees Monday.

The Tigers, who trailed until the eighth inning, battled back to tie the score twice before Collins' RBI hit won the game.

Phillies edge Reds

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI)—The Philadelphia Phillies scored four runs in the ninth inning Monday to edge the Cincinnati Reds, 6-7.

Singles by Tim McCarver, Ron Stone, Larry Bowa and Don Money, a walk and an error on a fielder's choice ended the game.

Earlier, Money, Oscar Gamble and Larry Bowa homered for the Phillies and Lee May followed a tie-breaking double in the eighth by Ray Fero to hit the Tigers to a hard fought 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees Monday.

Padres down Angels

HOLTVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—Al Santorini pitched two-hit ball for seven innings while his teammates jumped on Jim Maloney for 10 hits Monday as the San Diego Padres pounded out a 10-0 victory over the California Angels.

Maloney, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, made his worst showing of the spring as the Padres got to him for five runs in the first inning. He gave up 10 runs in the 4 1-3 innings he worked and walked six men. Relievers Eddie Fisher and Dave LaRoche finished up the game and allowed no runs.

Santorini, who spent part of last season at Salt Lake City, allowed an infield single to Jerry Moses in the second and a ground ball single by Fisher in the sixth.

Dave Campbell led the Padres' attack with a double and two triples while Al Ferrara went two-for-five and drove in three runs with his pair of singles.

Steals second

CHRIS SPEIER, San Francisco rookie infielder, makes like a bird as he applies the tag to Cleveland's John Lowenstein on an attempted steal in the third inning of Monday's game in Phoenix. However in spite of what the picture shows, the umpire called Lowenstein safe. The Giants won 5-2. (UPI)

Mays hits homer as Giants tromp Indians

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Willie Mays hit a 450-foot home run Monday to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 5-2 Cactus League victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Gaylord Perry worked seven nearly flawless innings to just about assure himself of the starting role on opening day against the San Diego Padres in San Diego April 6. He struck out six and did not walk a man.

Mays' home run came off towering Mark Ballinger but Steve Hargan was the loser when the Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth by scoring three times. The principal blows were doubles by rookie shortstop Chris Speier and rookie catcher Frank Healy.

Third baseman Graig Nettles tripled off Perry.

Catcher Ray Fosse was hit on the left hand and was taken to a hospital for x-rays. The damage was nothing more severe than deep bruise and he'll be able to return to action by the weekend.

North's one-spade response was nothing to ring bells about, but it is the sort of response that should be made. He has six high-card points and a decent five-card spade suit.

East's three-diamond call was one of those gambling reopening bids. East could be pretty sure his partner would have some high cards. Otherwise, North and South would have bid more. He knew that he might be doubled at three diamonds but he took that gamble. It paid off when South bid once more and once too often.

We approve of competition, otherwise your opponents will partial-score you to death. However, South had no reason to bid a third time. North still had a bid if he had the right hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three hearts your partner has bid four clubs over your three diamonds. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

By Oswald & James Jacoby

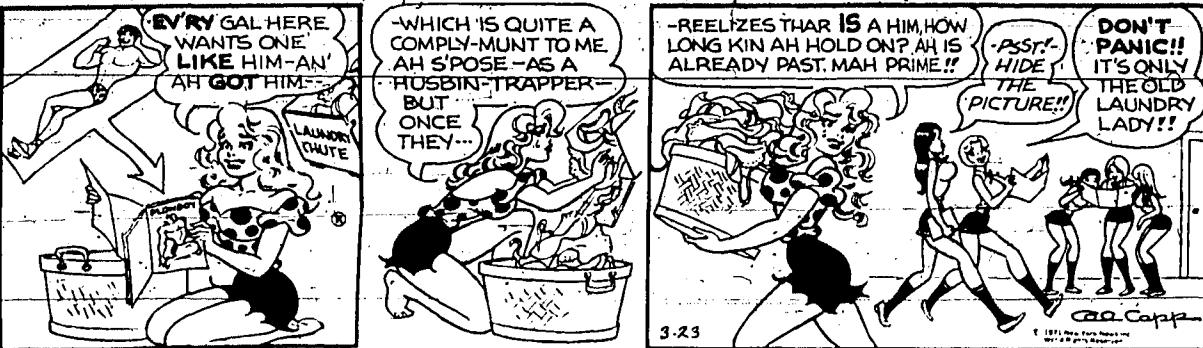

Let's look at our old friend, the unlucky expert. There was certainly nothing wrong with his opening one heart or his two-heart rebid. Yet, no one will convince him there was anything wrong with his bid of three hearts.

West doubled and opened a diamond. Our friend struggled, but when the debris had cleared, he had collected only five tricks, while East and West won a juicy 700 points.

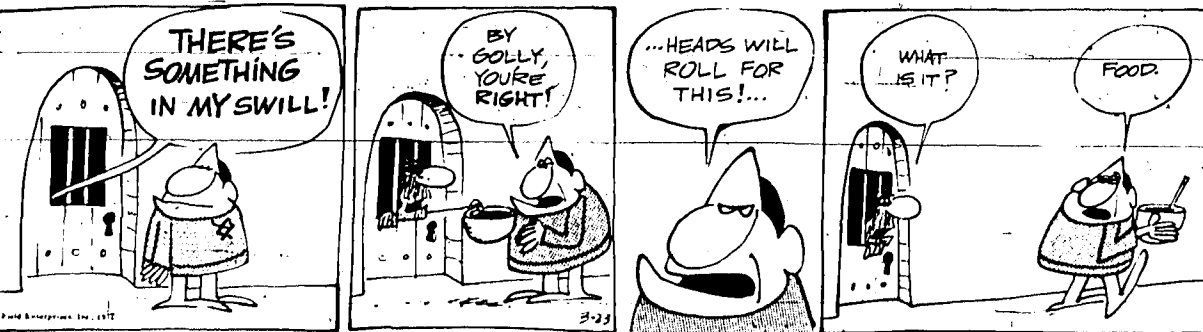

The unlucky expert blamed North for his one-spade response. He criticized East's three-diamond call at considerable length. Finally he cursed all the Gods of Chance.

DO WIDOWS who promptly remarry possess any single common characteristic? So inquires a client. Not without exception. But our Love and War man says his research reveals that trait most apt to be common among these highly desirable ladies is a low and gentle voice. Faces and figures, bank balances, kitchen talent, they all vary. But the tones of voice usually are mellow, he says.

AS TO WHO has worn contact lenses daily longest without losing one or both of same, Karen Birtchet of Vancouver, Wash., reports 12 years, and now claims the title. . . . U.S. SENATORS live considerably longer on the average than most other men. But why is a mystery. Just refuse to give up their seniority maybe. . . . ONE SCHOLAR contends those sisters who write under the bylines of Ann Landers and Abigail Van Buren are the only twins in history, who ever became truly famous.

NEZ PERCE INDIANS always mounted their horses on the right. Cinched their saddles on the right, too. That's why they rarely lost their animals to alien horse thieves. Other tribesmen approached their horses from the left, but the Nez Perce ponies wouldn't put up with that. So reports a 76-year-old subscriber who spent most of his life on the reservation.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q—"How many of our girls aged 18 or 19 are married?" A. Just 22 out of 100. . . . Q. "Perry Mason did, too, lose one case. . . ." A. You going to count that two-part series? First he lost, but came back the second week to clean it up. Come on. . . . Q. "Who has the most dangerous job, the policeman or the fireman?" A. The fireman. Most dangerous job of all, in fact. Miners used to claim that dreadful distinction. Not anymore.

THOSE FINANCIAL FELLOWS who invest in pharmaceuticals get an 18 per cent return on their money, average. That's high. Those who invest in textiles get an 8.3 per cent return, average. That's low. . . . WHAT A LOT of the business boys unfortunately fail to figure when they try to launch a company is this: It costs an average of $6,843 to find and train a new salesman. That adds up, mister.

SALE OF GERMAN SHEPHERDS, trained to stand guard on command, has doubled in the last five years. Trainers are getting from $1,000 to $4,000 per dog now, roughly. Serious decision, that. Whether to buy a dangerous dog. An incredibly large number of men are considering it at the moment, it's known, but just haven't made up their minds yet. Our Chief Prognosticator predicts it will turn into a major national issue shortly. Like birth control, gun control and no control.

DO YOU BELIEVE you're the victim of insomnia? One citizen in every seven so believes. Sleep specialists say it's the middle-aged divorcee who's most apt to suffer from same, really. Least likely insomniac is the young married man.

Services' pay hiked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Armed Services Committee voted Monday to increase military pay July 1 by $2.7 billion, nearly three times what President Nixon had asked.

The committee added the pay increase to a bill that would extend the draft two years until June 30, 1973, and give Nixon the authority to end deferments for undergraduates.

The committee approved the pay increase, which was $1.7 billion more than the administration request, by a vote of 28 to 14, then by a 36-4 vote sent the over-all bill to the floor.

"That gives them a full loaf instead of a half-of-loaf," said Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., the committee chairman.

Vietnam pullout plan in danger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's prediction that the Indochina War will not be a worthwhile campaign issue for his opponents next year was based on the expectation that U.S. ground forces in that country can be reduced to slightly more than 100,000 men by mid-1972.

High military and civilian officials contend this is possible. And some of them indicate that the U.S. ground force level could be as low as 50,000 by the time of the November election.

If this should turn out to be an accurate projection, much of the ground would have been cut from under aspirants such as Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., who appear to be counting on the war issue as the main weapon in their arsenal.

Administration critics contend that the current allied operation in Laos, which officials acknowledge is ending somewhat earlier than had been planned, have placed the President's forecast in jeopardy. They believe his predictions may well backfire on him.

It is true that the Laotian operation, involving attacks by South Vietnamese ground forces and U.S. air power on the Ho Chi Minh Trail, was a key element in the administration's scenario for winding down the war rapidly.

Nixon himself has said the have been "more doomed." "I refuse to buy the concept that the Americans' patriotism can be bought with a dollar sign," Hebert said.

The House is expected to give speedy approval to the bill, but the Senate must concur with the pay levels and Hebert said "I wouldn't hope to predict what they will do."

Nixon requested $887 million to raise the pay of enlisted men by 50 per cent. The $2.7 billion proposal would also benefit career officers and non-commissioned officers with higher quarters allowances which are most tax free.

The administration is seeking a zero draft by mid-1973. Hebert said the higher pay levels would supplement the administration's efforts.

"Even though I don't think it will work, I'm trying to assist them," he said.

Repeal planned

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—State Rep. Bert C. Brennan said Monday he will introduce a bill to repeal a 1915 law prohibiting cigarette smoking by persons under 21 and an 1889 law forbidding the use of tobacco by persons under 17.

Brennan said he didn't want to encourage smoking by anyone but the 1915 law "seems ridiculous in light of present conditions and enforcement practices."

Colorado has more than 1,000 peaks two miles high.

Midlands using European water link

TULSA (UPI)—Paper mills in the Mississippi and Arkansas valleys now can ship directly by water to Europe and compete right under the noses of the Finns, who dominate the European paper industry.

This has been made possible by expansion of the U.S. Inland Waterway system. A new spoke has just been added in Arkansas and Oklahoma that saves users of steel in the region $12 a ton and farmers $2 a ton on fertilizer.

The new spoke is the 440-mile Arkansas-Verdigris river canal from the Arkansas's confluence with the Mississippi to Tulsa. This canal could make Tulsa one of the biggest inland ports in the world. It already serves the largest territory of any inland port.

Its creation not only has brought freight savings by waterway but has forced down the rates of competitive carriers. For example, the railroads have slashed their rate on steel from Pittsburgh to Tulsa by $9 a ton.

John A. Creedy, president of Water Transport Association, estimated during a recent visit to Tulsa that rate competition created in anticipation of the new canal had saved southwestern farmers $60 million over the past three years.

For the past year and a half, Oklahoma farmers have been able to ship wheat at 6 to 8 cents a bushel less than formerly in spite of an inflationary economy.

Now that the new port at Tulsa is finished, Creedy said some experts believe its annual tonnage will be greater in a few years than that of 80 per cent of the country's ocean ports.

Exports from the river ports already are growing astonishingly, says the Army Corps of Engineers, which has primary responsibility for maintaining the inland waterways.

The Corps reports that Arkansas exported 13,000 tons of coal to the Far East in the last four months. In the first year after completion of the barge port facilities at Little Rock, total cargo tonnage on the Arkansas River spurted to 3.4 million tons from 2.6 million the previous year.

Demo disputes look plentiful

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democrats are pasting enough potential disputes to their 1971 convention plans to keep it going for four weeks instead of the customary four days.

But by the time convention assemblies, the Party managers should be able to pound sweet reason into the heads of the 5,000 delegates and alternates to persuade them to keep close to a normal schedule.

The latest prospective controversy, still in the talk stage, would reorganize the Democratic National Committee to deny an equal vote to each state and to give the states votes roughly equal to their strength at the National Convention.

This proposal will get attention from the convention and Party rules commission headed by Rep. James G. O'Hara of Michigan.

The National Committee, the guardian of Party affairs between the quadrennial national conventions, now bears a relation to the convention like that of the United States Senate to the House of Representatives. Each state has two votes in the committee whereas its delegation to the convention is more in line with its population and Democratic voter turnout.

The advantage given to the small states was demonstrated in a Feb. 19 vote of the National Committee. The committee rejected a formula from the O'Hara commission to give equal weight to population and the Democratic vote in the last three presidential elections. Substantial gains in delegate votes would have gone to the heavily populated states at the expense of the sparsely populated states.

Compared with the 1968 convention apportionment, the formula adopted still would enlarge the delegations from the densely populated states at the expense of the small states, but with less drastic shifts than the O'Hara commission recommended.

Thirteen Party officials and members—mostly from New York and California—then filed a lawsuit March 15 to require that delegates be allotted to the states solely on the basis of the Democratic presidential vote in one or more recent elections. Their proposal would hurt the small states—and the South—even more than the O'Hara commission plan.

A vote on restructuring the National Committee presumably would come at the second session of the National Convention.

Tests due for cancer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Using confiscated marijuana, the government began making 2 million cigarettes Monday for use in laboratory experiments to see whether smoking large amounts of "pot" can lead to cancer.

"These are the first studies ever made in this field," said Dr. Gio Gori of the National Cancer Institute.

He said the cigarettes being turned out in a suburban Virginia laboratory would be transferred to New York where the experiments on mice and hamsters will be performed.

"These animals were chosen, he said, because they 'have reactions that can be translated to humans.'"

The marijuana for the cigarettes came from shipments seized by the U.S. Bureau of Customs and represents "the average national quality" of the drug.
