Syrian guns blast Jordan border town

By United Press International
The Jordanian border town of Ramtha came under heavy fire from Syrian territory today for the second consecutive day, a Jordanian spokesman reported in Amman in Jerusalem, Israel deputy Prime Minister Yigal Allon "suggested" the Syrians not get involved.

Both the Jordanian army and guerrilla spokesmen told of widespread fighting in Jordan today for the ninth consecutive day and UPI correspondent John Bonar reported from Amman that a guerrilla offensive appeared to be pushing Jordan toward another civil war.

Jordan reported Thursday that Syrian-based troops had bombarded a border town and that infantry forces based in Syria attacked government positions and were beaten off, but he did not say whether they were guerrillas or Syrian.

Allon recalled the Syrian invasion of Jordan last September during the nine-day civil war and said the Syrians were defeated because of stiff resistance from the Jordanian army, the military preparedness of the United States and its "secret contacts with the Soviet Union" and Israel's readiness to intervene.

"It is possible that the very possibility of the recurrence of these factors would prevent a future invasion," Allon told newsmen at a Labor party conference. "I suggest to the Syrians, who threatened yesterday that they might help the terrorists, that they remain in their own territory."

Quits stockade
FREED by presidential order, Lt. William Calley salutes as he leaves stockade at Ft. Benning, Ga., to return to quarters at base. Convicted of My Lai murders, officer is confined to quarters pending appeal of life sentence. (UPI)

Calley out Confinement waived throughout appeal

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—Lt. William L. Calley Jr., released by presidential order from the Army stockade, was under the military version of house arrest today with the virtual freedom of this huge infantry base.

The 27-year-old soldier, sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of 22 Vietnamese civilians in the My Lai massacre, returned to his bachelor apartment to the cheers of his neighbors Thursday night.

President Nixon, in an order from the Western White House late Thursday, said Calley should be kept out of prison pending the appeal of his conviction, which could take years.

Unemployment rate up again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment moved back up to 6.2 per cent in the nation during March after two months of slight declines, the government reported today.

The rise from a February rate of 5.8 per cent of the civilian labor force came as the actual number of workers with jobs held steady.

Rank and file workers did take home more money last month, the report said. Average hourly earnings went up a penny to $3.36, and their average earnings increased by $1.37 and $123.98 a week, the latter mostly because of the two-tenths-of-an-hour increase in the average work week.

Cassia hospital gets OK

BURLEY—The long-awaited Cassia Memorial Hospital expansion project has been cleared for bidding, according to hospital administrator Robert G. Barton.

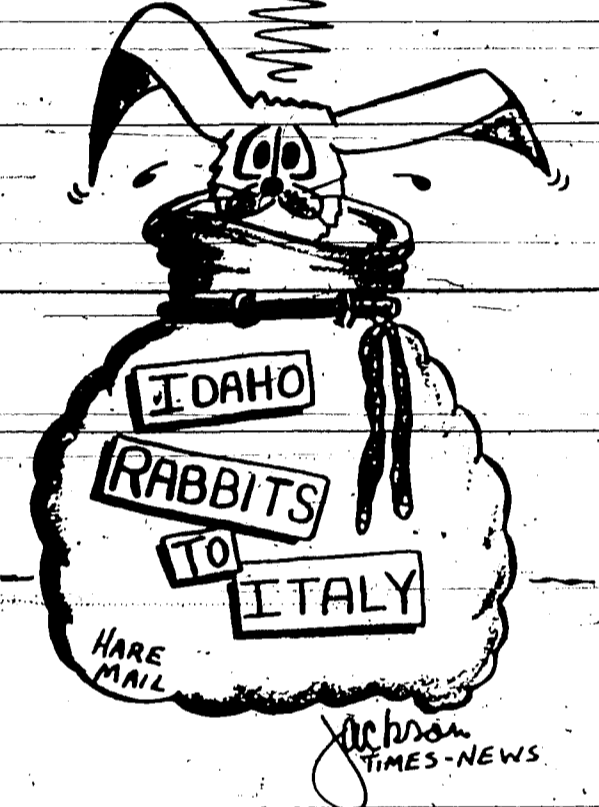

The U.S. Comptroller-General in Washington, D.C., has given the green light for bidding, Barton said Thursday. The hospital recently received word of approval of $177,000 in federal funds from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for the fiscal year 1970 allocation.

Pakistan battles continue

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Reports reaching India today indicated fighting between rebels and the army continued in a number of areas of East Pakistan. The United States and other governments announced plans to evacuate their citizens from the area.

The U.S. embassy in Bangkok, Thailand, announced an Air Force C130 transport would bring the first load of American refugees out of East Pakistan today, but later said the evacuation had been postponed until Saturday. It gave no reason, but said the daily flights would continue until all Americans who wished to leave East Pakistan had been removed.

"But... I'm the Easter Bunny!"

Vet strike halts rabbit shipment

TWIN FALLS—An unforeseen Italian labor dispute has slammed the door on the "harelift" from the Magic Valley for the time being.

A shipment of 300-plus Idaho jackrabbits, ready for shipment to Italy, was halted Thursday when word was received that Italian veterinarians are on strike.

Idaho 'wastes' unused funds

BOISE (UPI)—Legislative Auditor James A. Defenbach contended Friday the state is losing an estimated $237,000 per year because the treasurer is not investing "idle" funds on a daily basis.

Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon disputed Defenbach's findings, saying she and Defenbach differed on the meaning of "idle" funds and added it would be impractical to invest such funds on each day.

Vocational aid rises for CSI

TWIN FALLS—A tentative distribution of funds proposed by the Idaho Board of Education would give the College of Southern Idaho $18,305 for operation of the vocational school—a 70 per cent increase over last year.

The figure reflects a legislative directive to provide full funding for the two state junior colleges which had been the only vocational schools not funded at the 100 per cent level.

Education panel gets T.F. head

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI)—Joseph B. McCollum, a J. R. Simplot executive from Twin Falls, was named Thursday as president of the Idaho State Board of Education.

The action took place at the opening session of the board's spring meeting here. McCollum succeeds Eldon Hampton as president of the board.

Khe Sanh deserted

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. troops all but abandoned Khe Sanh today two months after opening it to support South Vietnam's Laotian offensive. American warplanes blasted Communist supply convoys which had been pinpointed in Laos by a South Vietnamese commando raid.

Meanwhile, Hanoi radio broadcasts said Communist troops captured five American military advisers when they overran a South Vietnamese base near the Laos-Cambodian border Wednesday. South Vietnamese units recaptured the outpost. Fire Base 6—Thursday night, U.S. B52 bombers raided the area to fend off any new Communist forays.

Lanting eyes districts

BOISE—House Speaker William Lanting, R-Twin Falls, told the Times-News late Thursday that the legislature is making progress toward redrawing legislative districts for the state's 105 legislators, but that some difficulties remain.

An original plan for the Magic Valley put Elmore and Camas counties into one legislative district, but the two counties have only about 18,000 people, according to the 1970 U.S. Census, Rep. Lanting said. The districts are supposed to be drawn to contain within five per cent above or below the average of 28,250 people—a range from 19,333 to 37,167.

Recruiter encouraged

TWIN FALLS—Sgt. J.C. Helkropp, Army recruiter in Twin Falls, said today President Nixon's decision to release convicted My Lai murderer Lt. William L. Calley will help local recruiting efforts.

Sgt. Helkropp said the President's decision "shows our President cares."

Sgt. Helkropp had just been named outstanding recruiter for a five-state area for the month of March. He had recruited 23 men, 80 per cent above his goal of 12. (See related story, p. 1)

Valley mental health facility moves nearer

By LORAYNE SMITH
Times-News Staff Writer
TWIN FALLS — Realization of mental health facilities in Magic Valley is one step closer today with the announcement

Thursday night of the completion of the organization of a 16-member regional board. Rev. Mike Fitzgibbon, Shoshone, was named chairman of the group, which is composed of two persons from each Magic Valley county. Bill Strasser, Rupert, was chosen vice chairman and Mrs. Roy Slotten, Twin Falls, secretary.

Officers of the newly incorporated private, non-profit group known as the South Central Idaho Regional Mental Health Center, Inc., were announced at a dinner meeting Thursday night at the Holiday Inn, sponsored by the Idaho State Mental Health Advisory Council.

About 50 civic leaders and persons involved in the regional planning group formed in July, 1969, attended, in addition to personnel from the Mental Health Division of the Idaho Health Department and advisory council members who acted as hosts.

The gathering was at first planned by the advisory council as a means of launching an educational drive to explain the mechanics of obtaining mental health services, based upon the assumption that the regional planning group was inactive.

The regional group has met intermittently since its formation and at a meeting in Shoshone last November. Lloyd Webb, chairman, was instructed to ask the state health department for a professional person to assist in writing the federal grant, but no action has been taken because of a freeze on hiring of new state employees.

Then on March 17 the regional group decided to incorporate and with the announcement Thursday night of the membership of the eight-county board, it appeared the local impetus which is a prerequisite for seeking federal funding was assured. Mrs. Norma Buchanan, Idaho Falls, advisory council member who presided at the dinner meeting, said "We are here to help you on your way."

District Judge Theron Ward, speaking of the need for mental health facilities on a local level, said "There is never a day we don't have cases in which we'd give anything to have professional evaluation."

He said the services offered by psychologists and other trained persons at a mental health center are needed in all types of court cases — juvenile, divorce and criminal. He said Judge Sherman Bellwood has been sending individuals brought before him to the Gateway Mental Health Center in Pocatello, and that some cases are sent to State Hospital North at Ocofino, but this involves extra time, expense and difficulty.

Also speaking briefly was Dorothea Nolan, Bethesda, Md., rural mental health aide for the National Institute of Mental Health. She said successful operation of a mental health center can never be achieved by the staff alone, but needs continuing citizen support.

Members of the new regional board, which met Thursday afternoon to elect officers, include Rev. Bill Kelly and Mrs. James Hogg, Blaine County; Mrs. Wes Fields and Mrs. John Humphrey, Camas; Bob Barton and Dr. Charles Terhune, Cassia; Mrs. Floyd Goss and Johnette Braga, Gooding; Rev. William Barrett and Mrs. Lois Jepson, Jerom; Rev. Fitzgibbon and Dorothy Alexander, Lincoln; Bill Strasser and Charlotte Manning, Minidoka, and Roger Abernathy and Mrs. Slotten, Twin Falls.

Bylaws for the regional board have been accepted and the articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state by Webb, who is providing legal counsel, said Dr. Terhune.

Rev. Fitzgibbon said the board will meet early in May in Shoshone and begin work again on writing the grant which was started by the larger regional planning group. It is hoped the request for matching federal funds can be completed this summer, he said.

Area Youth Corps programs list 23

TWIN FALLS — Neighborhood Youth Corps programs are continuing in Magic Valley for 23 youths from 16 through 17 years of age who are no longer attending high school, Royal Slotten, Idaho Department of Employment, Twin Falls, said today.

He said the 23 youths include those from Twin Falls County of whom there are 11; Burley, Gooding and Jerome areas.

Under the program, the youth earn $1.60 per hour on jobs for which they have been selected, and attend basic education classes at the College of Southern Idaho or special adult education programs in their own community to obtain their high school diploma equivalency. The program is one of several directed under the Community Action Agency management. Slotten said. Funds for 1971 were approved approximately three weeks ago and amount to $83,210.

Slopes remain good

TWIN FALLS — Spring skiing conditions are expected to be good this weekend at all resorts, with the season nearing an end.

One area is closed but most others will continue operating as long as weather permits. Reports include Sun Valley with snow depths from 22 inches on the valley floor to 81 at the top of Baldy. There is no new snow and temperatures are in the high 20's. All runs and bowls are open although some lifts including Sunnyside and Ridge are single chair. Roads are dry but rough. Sun Valley will close April 11.

Soldier Mountain has 48 to 69 inches of snow with no new snow. The road is dry and good. Temperatures are 30 to 40 degrees and the area is operating Thursday through Sunday.

Magic Mountain has 60 to 76 inches of snow with a skiff of new snow. The road is rough in the upper canyon but drying in muddy areas. The area is operating Saturdays and Sundays with bus service on Saturdays.

Pomerelle reports 84 to 108 inches of snow with a skiff of new snow. The road is rough and muddy at the top. Temperatures are in the 30 to 40 degree range in the daytime and skies are clear. The area operates Saturday and Sunday. Rotarun has closed for the season.

Snowmobiling is reported good in the Halley and Ketchum areas, excellent in Fairfield and good in the South Hills.

Filtering unit bids studied

TWIN FALLS — Three firms submitted bids for furnishing heating and filtering system equipment for Harmon Park swimming pool Thursday afternoon and city council members are expected to award a contract for installation Monday night.

City Manager Jean Milar said the bids are under study by George Michael, city engineer. He will make a recommendation to the council.

Bids included Pump and Equipment Co., Twin Falls, $17,498; Intermountain Specialty, Salt Lake City, $17,489; and Forschler Sheet Metal, Burley, $15,858.

Milar said the equipment includes a natural gas heating system, sand filters, a hair and lint strainer, flow metering devices and pump and pipes. Wiring will also be included in the contracts.

Meet set at Filer

FILER — Dr. Morris Weigelt, professor of religion at Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, will be guest speaker at a "Spring Spiritual Ascent," beginning at 7:30 p.m. today and continuing through Sunday at the Filer Church of the Nazarene.

Each service will feature color slides of the Holy Land in addition to a message by Dr. Weigelt. The Saturday service will have a question period and a trio from the college will present special music.

Easter program planned

TWIN FALLS — The Magic Valley YM-YWCA is planning an Easter Fun Club for boys and girls during Easter vacation, according to Charles (Chuck) Upton, executive director of the YMCA.

The program will be conducted April 9, 10 and 12 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. The daily program will feature games, crafts, songs, archery, movies and special programs, Upton said. Children in the first through fourth grades may attend.

Most of the programs will be conducted at the Y facilities at 1751 Elizabeth Boulevard.

Anyone wishing to apply or wanting further information may call the Y, 333-1331.

Accident damages sought

TWIN FALLS — Roger A. Graefe, Twin Falls, as guardian for Peter Graefe, a minor, is seeking $186,000 in damages in a suit brought in Fifth District Court here against Ivan C. Smith and John Does representing five companies and corporations.

The suit resulted from an accident April 1, 1969, in which Peter Graefe was struck by an automobile while crossing Eighth Avenue East near 143 8th Ave. E., in Twin Falls.

The complaint alleges negligence and carelessness on the part of Smith, driver of the vehicle, and negligence on the part of the John Doe owners of vehicles parked in the area obscuring the view of the cross walk. As a result of the accident, the complaint charges, the child suffered injuries including permanent brain damage.

Remap bills die, session longer

BOISE (UPI)—With the first two reapportionment bills defeated and killed, legislators returned to the special session today with the prospect of a lengthening session.

The House took the afternoon off Thursday, cleaning up its calendar in the morning and waiting for senate action on the reapportionment bills.

But under suspension of rules, the Senate first killed 16-18 the so-called "Democratic bill" which would have created an urban legislative district in South-eastern Idaho, then killed 16-19 the "Republican" measure which would have created a largely rural area.

Sen. Wayne Kidwell, R-Boise, objected to the first plan, pointing out its population disparity ranged from more than 15 per cent below the mean to more than eight per cent above the mean.

He quoted a Supreme Court justice as saying "slide rule in hand" legislators must work out boundary lines with "mathematical precision" and added he doubted the bill would stand the test of court review.

The second bill, which would have combined Oneida and Power Counties with parts of Bingham and Bannock counties, was described by Senate Minority Leader John V. Evans, D-Malad, as a "horrible thing," a farce, and "the worst case of gerrymandering that I have ever seen before this legislature."

He said the bill would place a large Republican population in with a smaller Democratic population, adding "this monstrosity has moved in the direction of moving all the Republican support you can muster into Oneida and Bannock."

"You'll dilute the strength to the point that we're going to have another Republican Senator, another Republican district in the state of Idaho."

"I thought we signed a pact in blood to protect the interests of people, but apparently it was a pact signed on only one side," he said.

Earlier, the Senate killed 12-20 a House-approved bill which would require political party registration, although party affiliation could be changed the day of the election at the polls. But Sen. Charles Bilyeu, D-

Pocatello, said the last-minute change was "building a raid age" and the tendency to cross over and help the other party dominate a less desirable candidate.

He said the ability to switch parties at the polls would allow the "excitement" of neighbor-

FBI nabs 4 in plot

CHICAGO (UPI)—Four persons have been charged with bank robbery and aiding and abetting a bank robbery in connection with a $118,000 extortion plot in which the wife of a bank president was held at gunpoint in her suburban home.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced three arrests late Thursday night, about 11 hours after the bank president, Lawrence W. Nortrup, turned over the money. The fourth arrest was announced early today.

The first three suspects were identified as Frederick W. Marschke, 31, of Homewood; his wife Joyce, 34; and Robert Manley, 34, of Chicago. The fourth suspect was identified as John Carthen Starble, 25, of Berwyn.

Neither the FBI nor local police agencies would detail what roles the four were suspected of playing in the plan.

Nortrup, president of the downtown Hartford Plaza Bank, said in a statement that he received a phone call in his office before noon "from a man who told me that he was holding my wife and no one would be hurt if I put $150,000 in a Buick across the street from the bank within 15 minutes."

Nortrup said he talked to his wife in suburban Wilmette on the phone then asked a bank teller to collect the money. He carried the money in two bags to the car.

An FBI spokesman said the money—a later check showed Nortrup actually delivered only $118,000—was handed to a slender, dark-haired woman about 30 years old who immediately drove off with a man.

Mrs. Nortrup told Wilmette police that a man posing as a department store deliveryman had walked up to the colonial-style home and forced his way into the house after she opened the front door.

She said she was bound by her wrists to the chair and held at gunpoint.

When her captor received word the money had been handed over to an accomplice, the man yanked out the telephone cords and fled, she said.

The FBI said the money delivered by Nortrup was not recovered "as yet."

Uncertain path faces pay boost

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A house-passed bill boosting military pay and allowances by a record $2.7 billion faces an uncertain future in the Senate, where a coalition of conservatives and liberals is unalterably opposed to the volunteer Army such a pay raise would make possible.

The pay raises and quarters allowances—the highest single increase in the republic's history—were led by the House Thursday to a two-year extension of undergraduate draft deferments.

President Nixon had requested only $387 million as part of a two-step plan to move towards an all-volunteer army by mid-1973. The House combined his recommendations into one package with the increases to start July 1.

Final passage, 293 to 99, came after antiwar critics sought unsuccessfully to limit U.S. involvement in Vietnam by setting a deadline for withdrawal.

Released

PARIS (UPI)—Entertainer Maurice Chevalier, 82, was released from the American Hospital of Paris Thursday after 13 days for treatment of laryngitis and for a series of tests.

District plan given to House

REXBURG (UPI)—A 19-year-old speech and drama major from Salt Lake City was elected woman of the year at Ricks College by the Associated Women Students.

Named in a 2 p.m. assembly at the school Thursday was Kren Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bates of Salt Lake City.

A spokesman said the woman of the year award goes annually to the person "they feel has done the most for Ricks."

Miss Bates, a speech and drama major, was president of the women's choir, pledge master for her LDS sorority on campus, corresponding secretary for Valkyries (a service organization), vice chairwomen of the MM Men and Gleaners Council of the Second Ricks Stake, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

Runners-up were Megan Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny L. Smith, Walnut Creek, Calif., and Ann Rhees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rhees, Rexburg.

House defeats seating plan

BOISE (UPI) The House clobbered 21-46 Thursday Rep. Patricia McDermott's proposal to require candidates for the House to run against stated opponents.

As something of an alternative to "A" and "B" sub-districts the Pocatello Democrat proposed that candidates in multi-member districts run for "position one" or "position two."

They still would have to run district-wide but they would have to state which seat they wanted, she said.

"It would result in more responsible and responsive legislators," Miss McDermott said.

But Rep. Angus Condie, R-Preston, said he felt the concept was "contrary to the best interests of the Republican form of government."

"All this does is develop a bit of footsy when filing time comes," Condie said. "(Candidates) will look to see who is the strongest and weakest opponent and file accordingly."

Rep. William J. Murphy, D-Wallace, countered that "no one should fear a good open contest—head to head."

"If you're proud of your record you should run on it," he said.

Rep. Clyde Keithly, R-Nampa, said he felt the bill will make it more difficult to upset incumbent legislators and therefore he opposed it.

But Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, disagreed, saying it will require incumbents to stand on their own two feet and answer to their records.

"If your record cannot stand up to the electorate then you should not return to this body," Ravenscroft said.

Rep. Ed Hedges, R-Boise, said he felt it would help elect to the House a person who normally might run third in a race for two House seats.

Canadian rail talks continue

MONTREAL (UPI)—A tentative agreement between Canada's two national railways and 56,000 employees brought the railroads and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers back to the bargaining table today in an effort to avert a nationwide shutdown Monday.

The agreement was reached Thursday between the non-operating employees and the Canadian National (CNR) and Canadian Pacific (CP) railways. A ratification vote will be taken by mail with results expected in three to four weeks.

Settlement of that contract dispute heightened pressures on the 4,500 locomotive engineers, who broke off talks Wednesday. Their representatives agreed to resume negotiations at the bidding of Labor Minister Bryce MacKasey.

American strike dropped

By DAVID W. CHUTE
DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers early today canceled a threatened 6:45 a.m. strike deadline against American Motors and agreed to work without a contract while talks continue on a new pact.

The move came after the union rejected two contract proposals by AMC and had a counter offer of its own turned down by AMC negotiators.

The talks recessed shortly after 1 a.m. EST, subject to recall by the company.

The union said it would order its members to work as scheduled today.

Earlier the UAW's American Motors Council rejected a company offer of a four-year contract and demanded instead a three-year agreement which would bring the union's AMC members to parity with their counterparts at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

However, after caucusing for several hours, union negotiators presented new demands for a four-year contract, proposing separation of national and local plant contract issues.

The company rejected the idea and came up with another offer, which shifted some of the effective dates of various benefit increases. That proposal was turned down by the company and talks recessed.

The contract would cover 11,000 UAW members at AMC plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and Brampton, Ont.

Strip mine ban sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., a leading Senate environmentalist, said today he will introduce legislation today to ban all strip mining in the nation within six months.

A companion bill previously was offered in the house by Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., and has gained 60 co-sponsors.

Nelson, in January, introduced another strip mining bill to regulate surface mining through federal-state standards and federal aid for reclamation.

He said he was now joining with Hechler in an effort to ban it entirely "because it (the bill) raises serious questions which must be considered in any action," on strip mining.

"In considering strip mining legislation, Congress must frankly ask whether reclamation is possible, and if so, in what circumstances," Nelson said.

He noted 1.8 million acres of land has already been stripped in this country, and Interior Department statistics show only 56,000 acres have thus far been effectively reclaimed.

The Wisconsin Democrat said if the damage from strip mining cannot be undone, "the consequence is not only the loss of natural beauty, but a permanent handicap on the economy of the strip mined area."

Wildman slates address

BURLEY — Norval Wildman, Burley, president of the Idaho School Trustee Association, is the only Idaho speaker for the 31st annual convention of the National School Boards Association, Saturday through Tuesday in Philadelphia, Pa.

Wildman, member of the Cassia County School District board, is vice president and manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Burley.

He also will be an Idaho delegate to the convention. As a speaker, he will discuss "Simple majority requirements on bond issues."

McHan bids House aid for Calley

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. E. V. McHan, R-Ketchum, asked fellow House members Thursday to write or wire the President of the United States on behalf of Army Lt. William Calley, the convicted killer of My Lai.

"There probably has been many, many murders in South Vietnam," McHan told the House, rising on a point of personal privilege.

"I do know this young man was sent over there by you and I," he said. "He never went over there by his own volition."

McHan said many things were involved in the My Lai killings and said he felt the people of the United States "pushed that young man" into whatever he did.

"I think he is a scapegoat," McHan said.

Interest rate told

BOISE (UPI) — State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon announced Thursday interest rates for time deposits of state and public funds.

Rates will be 4.52 per cent for 60 through 91 days; 4.89 per cent for 92 through 182 days; 4.50 per cent for 183 through 273 days; and 4.68 per cent for 274 days or longer.

WILLIAM A. KING

Veteran ad man retires

TWIN FALLS — William A. (Bill) King, Jerome, member of the Times-News advertising staff since 1964, retired this week.

King had a long career with news and advertising media. In 1924 he went to work with the Cleveland Plain Dealer as an advertising salesman.

Later he worked in radio and newspaper sales in Anchorage, Alaska, and as an insurance salesman in Salt Lake City.

He returned to the newspaper business in Jerome shortly before joining the Times-News.

King says he will continue making his home in Jerome. He and his wife, Marguerite, have two daughters and a son, 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. A daughter was killed in a traffic accident last year.

Publisher Al Westergren praised King for his years of "excellent service to the community and the newspaper."

"We at the Times-News will miss Bill. We wish him the very best in the many fruitful years ahead," he said.

GOP Senators attack Viet war critics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republicans unleashed a partisan counter-attack against Democratic war critics Thursday, accusing them of harping, carping, sniping, and "rooting for the other side."

A half-dozen senators, led by Republican Leader Hugh Scott, rose after the opening buzzer to serve notice they would begin following Democratic critics to the floor and rebut their charges on the spot. They accused them of playing politics with Vietnam.

Scott said he would no longer permit the Senate's "sheep herd left" and "neo-isolationists" to go unchallenged. Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, himself a critic of the war, said he was "sick and tired" of Democrats "playing politics" with the war.

The outburst followed passage by Democratic caucuses in both the House and Senate of resolutions urging total withdrawal from Indochina.

A spokesman for Scott said President Nixon and the minority leader, in a telephone conversation earlier this week, had decided that no future Democratic challenge to Vietnam policies would be permitted to go unanswered.

Scott said he would not permit any senator in this chamber to prey on the emotions of the day and grab for the headlines by using snappy, eye-catching language, while being loose with the facts.

"It appears to me, as one of our nation's major news magazines reported on the war this week," he said, "that some are really rooting for the other side. If they are, they are giving comfort to the enemy and crying the same line of Moscow, Peking and Hanoi."

Saxbe, who has introduced legislation to bar American support for any South Vietnamese incursion into the North, noted he had a son in Vietnam, and said he was "sick and tired of the war."

"One thing that distresses me even more, however, is those who continually play politics with this unfortunate war," he said. "I am also sick and tired of that."

He said only the President was in a position to "steer the nation out of Vietnam and we should unite behind the President as he moves with reasonable haste to get us out and keep us out."

Sen. Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo., blasted the "shocking display of intemperate criticism and carping directed both at our country and its allies."

Three freshmen senators joined in. Sen. Lowell Weicker Jr., R-Conn., blasted "irresponsible scrambling" among Democrats. Sen. William Brock, R-Tenn., charged "a dirty and ugly campaign to discredit the time being made no effort to answer the criticism. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield even helped the GOP arrange for an extension of their allotted time to continue the debate.

President of the United States. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, said it was "almost humorous to listen to the harping of some of my Democratic colleagues."

Valley school slates concert

EDEN — The Valley High School music department will present a religious concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday designed to "illustrate in sound the great significance of this deeply religious season of the year," according to David Follingstad, music instructor.

Moussorgsky's "Chorus of the Pilgrims" and Wagner's "Parsifal" highlight the concert to "express the deep emotional impact of Easter in sound and legend," Follingstad said. Also on the program will be Mendelssohn's "He Watching Over Israel"; the Renaissance mood of "O Wondrous Nativity," and the Easter spiritual "He never Said A Mumbin' Word."

Others include Morrissey's "Divertissement for Band," selections from "The Carpenters" and other popular favorites.

The public is invited. Donations to the school's music fund will be gratefully accepted, Follingstad said.

House Dems open wage hike drive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders began a drive Thursday to raise the federal minimum wage to $2 an hour by 1973 and add up to 7 million workers to new wage-hour law coverage.

Speaker Carl Albert gave the blessing of the Democratic leadership to a bill by Rep. John Dent, D-Pa., that would provide the first increase in the wage floor since Jan. 1, 1968, when it went to $1.60 an hour.

Albert also indicated the minimum wage bill was a part of the Democrats' overall pre-election year plan to emphasize bread-and-butter economic issues—jobs and wages—without waiting for the Nixon administration to make proposals.

expected it to pass. He said there would be brief hearings in late April and the bill would be ready for House consideration in four or five weeks.

Dent's bill, introduced Thursday, would increase the minimum wage for all presently covered non-farm workers to $1.80 on Jan. 1, 1972, and to $2 a year later. Farm workers, now at a $1.30 wage floor, would go to $1.50 Aug. 1, 1971; $1.60 Jan. 1, 1972; $1.80 a year later and $2 on Jan. 1, 1974.

The bill would extend wage-hour law protection—the minimum wage and 40-hour work week—to all federal, state and local government employees.

Dent estimated the total new coverage in the bill at 5 million to 7 million, although Labor Department figures issued last year showed only 4.7 million public employees now without coverage.

However, the bill also would extend time-and-a-half pay for more than 40 hours of weekly work for fishing, canning, sugar processing, public transit and some other workers now exempt from the overtime law.

There was no immediate estimate of how many workers would be benefited by this additional coverage.

Innocence claimed

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco and three former Washington state officials pleaded innocent today in U.S. District Court to charges of bribery and mail fraud.

Judge William T. Beeks gave the defendants until April 13 to file motions and the government until April 23 to respond. Beeks also set a pre-trial conference for May 7.

The four men, indicted by a federal grand jury in connection with a $2.3 million fee-splitting arrangement in an antitrust case, have all said they plan to ask for speedy trials.

Beeks said he would do his best to set a trial date for late May or early June, but added that he could not commit himself to such a date at the present time.

Alioto, who flew here from San Francisco Wednesday night, said he would ask Beeks to transfer his case to his home town so he can continue to function as mayor. But no such motion was made today.

Hansen uprights on hand

HANSEN — Poles for the lighting project at the Hansen High School football field have arrived in Twin Falls and are awaiting transportation to Hansen. Supt. William Barnard said today.

He said the holes for the poles have been dug and the lights and other equipment have been ordered. They will be installed when they arrive.

Volunteer help will be solicited for installing the lights to the poles. Anyone interested in helping should call Barnard or one of the school board members soon.

Barnard said three-fourths of the money for the lighting project has been raised. The board originally thought the poles would be donated, but they cost more than $800, so additional contributions for this project will be appreciated.

Funding loss hit by Park

BOISE (UPI)—Attorney General W. Anthony Park spoke out Thursday against a House bill which would take $240,000 in state liquor profits away from the Law Enforcement Planning Commission.

"It would be a tragedy and a disaster for the legislature to fail to provide the state of Idaho with sufficient matching monies to qualify for federal funding under the Omnibus Crime and Streets Act passed by the Congress in 1968," Park said.

"For example the Post (Police Officers Standards and Training Academy) Academy is funded under this act," he said. "There is a possibility we might lose this academy."

Park said Idaho has received considerable federal money through the crime control program from the federal government and it has gone to help local law enforcement.

"With the rising crime rate it would be a shame to emasculate this program," Parks said.

Farm relief bill rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Rules Committee plans to consider clearing for floor action a relatively minor farm relief bill which has drawn sharp protest from some Republicans on the House Agriculture Committee.

The bill — companion to a generally similar measure which passed the senate without debate last week — is designed to bail out sugar beet growers in parts of Minnesota, Utah and Montana by allowing them to qualify for feed grain subsidies.

The growers involved were left without a market for their sugar crops by the recent closings of beet processing factories at Chaska, Minn., West Jordan, Utah, and Hardin, Mont. Under the legislation, the farmer would be given an estimated total of 60,000 acres of feed grain allotments for use on the land formerly planted to sugar beets.

The existing general farm law then would allow the farmers to idle or "set aside" 20 per cent of their new feed grain allotments. By taking that step, they would qualify for direct federal subsidy payments on the corn or grain sorghums grown on part of the remaining feed allotments. They would also qualify for support loans on all of their corn and sorghum.

Nixon administration officials have endorsed the legislation, but eight House Agriculture Committee Republicans headed by Rep. Charles M. Teague, R-Calif., attacked it in a committee minority report as "special legislation designed to give preferential treatment to a privileged few."

"What possible common sense can there be in conferring payments on a select few farmers for not growing, (i.e. setting aside) corn upon acreage where no corn has ever been grown," the minority report demanded.

Teague and the other GOP farm bloc protestors said any needed relief for the beet farmers should be granted under the federal sugar program. The pending bill, they said, is unfair to some established feed grain growers who have been trying unsuccessfully, in many cases, to get increases in their allotments for many years.

The Senate-approved version of the measure would allow beet growers in the three affected areas — plus part of Maine — to get either feed grain or wheat allotments.

FARM

Hardin to disclose subsidized farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin has decided to release the names of farmers who got big cotton, feed grain and wheat subsidy payments — more than $1 million apiece in a few cases — in 1970.

Lower-ranking department officials earlier had indicated, and a letter signed by Hardin had appeared to confirm, that the information would not be supplied this year. But Hardin told UPI this was the result of misunderstandings, and said he never had intended to withhold the information.

A preliminary tabulation compiled recently, which does not name names, showed five large farms got payments of $1 million or more apiece and collected a total of $10.3 million. All were cotton producers.

A dozen other big farms, 10 of them cotton producers, got individual payments of between $500,000 and $1 million.

The previous year's payments are the last for such huge subsidies because of a 1970 law, which took effect this year, which puts a $55,000 per crop limit on individual subsidies to any one farmer growing cotton, wheat or feed grains.

For the past four years, the Agriculture Department had been furnishing annually to the Senate Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee a lengthy list identifying recipients of cotton, wheat and feed grain payments of $5,000 and up. The massive list was published annually by the subcommittee.

Earlier this month, Hardin wrote Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., that the Senate request for the annual list had not been renewed, and "since we have no need internally for this information, we are not planning to have such a list prepared."

Wednesday, however, Hardin told UPI he intends to make the list of big farm program beneficiaries available again regardless of whether there is any formal request from the Senate subcommittee.

Retail milk prices seen rising again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retail milk prices, which reached record levels in some areas last month, probably will go up again as a result of a government increase today in dairy price supports, dairy experts said.

But butter probably will be a little cheaper according to a spokesman for the National Milk Producers Federation.

The milk price boosts are expected to amount to two cents per half gallon carton in many areas.

The increases grow out of an administration decision late last month, which went into effect today, to raise government supports for manufacturing-grade milk to $4.93 a hundred weight.

The government support program applies directly only to similar products. But the manufacturing-grade milk used for making butter, cheese and milk because manufacturing milk prices are used as a base for bottling milk, sales in many areas.

Clover mites invading homes

TWIN FALLS — Numerous clover mites "invasions" of homes are being reported, Extension Agricultural Agent Donald Youtz, said today.

Control measures can be started as soon as they appear, he said.

Clover mites breed and feed in grass, clover, and other plants around buildings and on lawns. The heaviest infestation occurs at the sites of new homes; apparently new lawns and heavily fertilized old lawns are favorable for them.

While these mites are most annoying in the fall and early spring, they may be a nuisance to homemakers during any warm period in the winter. They may also invade homes in large numbers during the summer if their food plants have been cut or have dried up, Youtz said.

The clover mite, an eight-legged, reddish or brownish creature smaller than a pinhead, is frequently a household pest. When clover mites invade homes, they overrun floors, walls, furniture, and windowpanes and get into beds and clothing.

They do not bite people, transmit diseases, or feed on household furnishings or pantry supplies, but they are a nuisance. If they are crushed, they leave blood-red spots that are especially noticeable on linens, curtains, walls, and woodwork. It is difficult to remove these pests from homes without creating these stains. A vacuum cleaner can be used to remove mites from surfaces indoors without crushing them.

AMERICAN FLAG flown upside down, with black drape attached, was displayed by Robert Whitaker, 75, resident of suburb of St. Louis, Mo., in protest of verdict and sentence in trial of Lt. William Calley. Whitaker, a veteran of World War I, said conviction is "killing our flag." (UPI)

Idahoan boosts Viet rice crop

MOSCOW — Vietnam is boosting its rice production rapidly, thanks to leadership of an Idaho scientist, Department of Agriculture spokesmen said this week.

Administrators of international extension programs gave credit to Tom Brackney, a former University of Idaho agronomy researcher and field station superintendent for 17 years. He worked at Moscow and Sandpoint.

Vietnamese and American officials of the Agency for International Development said Vietnam will be close to self-sufficient in rice by the middle of 1972, if not sooner. Brackney has been instrumental in the work more than three years. He has signed up for another tour of duty.

At a train-the-trainer school he has supervised the instruction of about 1000 Vietnamese in skills of growing improved varieties. About one-fifth of the trainees are women. Members of the classes have relayed their knowledge to an estimated 300,000 growers.

Brackney has been national rice production adviser since 1938. The job is described by the international service as "one of the most responsible posts in the entire program." His Vietnamese counterpart was promoted last year to director of agriculture.

The international branch of USDA said most Vietnamese farmers growing new varieties of rice had some contact with the training program. Brackney estimated that 20 per cent of the total acreage and 45 per cent of the total yield last year came from varieties developed by the research institute.

The summary said Brackney's program has been so successful that it now trains workers from four other Vietnam ministries.

Farm program details told

TWIN FALLS — There can be a lot less "if" between seeding and profit from a crop this coming year, said Lyle P. Shafer, district director for Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

Two federal farm programs now provide food and fiber producers with the nearest thing in agriculture to a guaranteed return. A producer's income need not hinge on the whims of nature. It can be as sure as "money in the bank, even before you plant the first seed," Shafer said.

By combining participation in the voluntary 1971 set aside program with the protection offered under FCIC the producer is able to guarantee a minimum income which covers his crop investment.

Although programs vary from county to county and by individual farmers, a general understanding of how the two plans work together can be determined from the following example.

Assume that an Idaho wheat farmer is in full compliance with the 1971 ASCS program, that he has a wheat allotment of 200 acres and a projected yield of 20 bushels per acre. Total set aside payment plus certificates will be $6,000 in this particular case.

In the same case, assume the producer has chosen the $2 per bushel FCI selection. His total indemnity less premium will be about $9,600. The total return from this farm, even though the crop was harvested, will be the total of his ASCS set aside and certificate payment plus the FCIC indemnity.

As was said before, depending upon the county, a larger or smaller payment could be realized, taking into consideration, also, land productivity. FCIC guarantees are meant to cover most of the production costs and the ASCS payments can give the producer a profit over and above the amount of the crop falls below FCIC guarantees. An insured who chooses the $2 bushel selection and produces 10 bushels less than the guarantee would receive a $20 per acre indemnity, he said.

Shafer said crop losses in Idaho, although widespread last year primarily hurt the southern producers, with insured farmers receiving over $311,000 in indemnities for hail, frost, wind and excessive heat damage.

Over 3,500 farmers protected crop investments totaling $8 million in liability to the corporation in 1970. This protection covered 3,582 crops in 151,835 acres.

Federal crop insurance is now being offered in 27 counties in Idaho. The corporation insures wheat, sugar beets, beans, green and dry peas and barley in the Gem State.

The signup period for spring wheat and barley is being completed. But eligible producers have until April 15 before applications will be closed. Sugar beet growers should call the local FCIC office for full particulars, he said.

While neither crop insurance indemnities nor ASCS payments are a full substitute for a bumper crop, they are an assurance that farmers will have a better chance to start again if disaster should strike, Shafer said.

Upturn in West seen in quarter

LOS ANGELES — In the most optimistic poll taken since the second quarter of 1966, business leaders in Montana, Idaho, Utah and throughout the western United States, predict an expanding economy, according to the latest Western Business Forecast survey by Prudential Insurance Co.

According to the poll, 73 per cent of the businessmen surveyed in the Montana-Idaho-Utah region expect 1971 second quarter business growth to surpass the first quarter's activity. This represents a 22-point increase in optimism over the last quarterly survey.

Seventeen per cent of the region's businessmen anticipate no change in economic activity and 10 per cent look for a decline in business.

Businessmen display even greater enthusiasm throughout the western United States. Seventy-four per cent of the businessmen polled look for increased business activity. This represents an 18-point increase in optimism over the last survey and is the highest level of optimism expressed since the second quarter of 1966.

Only 14 per cent of the businessmen in the West foresee a decrease in their economic activity over the next three months while 12 per cent expect business activity to remain stable.

In the industrial categories surveyed the trade industry is the most optimistic. Eighty-one per cent of the businessmen in this category anticipate their business for the coming quarter will equal or exceed that for the second quarter of 1970. In contrast, only 48 per cent of the businessmen in the agriculture and extractive industry expect their second quarter business to be as good or better than it was during the same period last year. This represents a 16 point drop in optimism from the previous survey.

Nezperce OK's wine sales

LEWISTON (UPI) — Nezperce County apparently became the first in Idaho to pass a resolution allowing grocery stores to sell table wines when the county commissioners took action at their meeting Wednesday.

The regular session of the current legislature approved a new law making it legal to sell wine in grocery stores on a local-option basis. Prior to this legislation it was possible to buy wine in Idaho only from the state liquor dispensaries.

The commissioners set July 1 as the date the new ordinance becomes effective and set a $25 fee for the license to sell the wines.

Leaflets available on shrubbery tips

SHOSHONE — "If shrubs around your house don't grow as well as you think they should, something may be wrong with the soil or the drainage," reports Ivan Hopkins, county extension agent.

Tips on how to tell if they are sick and what to do are given in a leaflet just prepared by Harry Fenwick, plant pathologist of the University of Idaho extension service. A free copy is available at the county agent's office.

Poor soil preparation is a major reason for unthrifty growth of shrubs in Idaho, Fenwick said. Almost all soils need organic matter before ornamentals are planted. This increases aeration and capacity to hold water. Work in some organic matter before planting, the agent advises. "Dig a large hole so the root system can penetrate into the new soil mix."

The publication offers a key to diagnosing difficulties. It describes such symptoms as stunted growth, sudden decline, yellowing, browning or leaves, failure to flower, and loss of berries before maturity. Some losses are caused by soil condition. Others are blamed on insects and diseases. Remedies are suggested in each case.

Poor nutrition is the most common cause of yellowing (chlorosis), the plant specialist said. Nitrogen deficiency usually shows first lower foliage, and causes pale color. You can correct this condition by adding recommended amounts of nitrogen around the base of the plant. If the ailment is lack of iron or zinc, add these elements in the form of chelates or sulfates by spraying on the foliage or putting them in the soil.

Setbacks are common, the leaflet points out, if trees or shrubs are transplanted when they are not dormant and are partially leaved out. Shock may also occur if roots are pruned too much, even if the plant is dormant.

Hunt family foundation open house set Sunday

OAKLEY — "Hunt for the Hunt Family Foundation" open house and regional meeting is set from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Hunt, 2960 Park Ave., Burley.

Mrs. Alonzo Stringham, second vice president of the Idaho Chapter of the Hunt Family Foundation, invites all persons of this descent or bearing this name to attend.

The organization was founded in 1957, with the first Hunt homecoming being held in Kentucky with 450 descendants attending from seven different states. A committee was formed to preserve in proper style, a beloved acre and churchhouse, "Old Hebron," belonging to a great-grandfather, John Hunt, a Revolutionary War soldier of North Carolina. He settled there with his family more than 150 years ago. Since then, Kentucky has held a Hunt homecoming on the second Sunday in August at "Old Hebron," Mrs. Stringham said.

A little history of the Hunt family has been traced back to 1006 and the first Hunt of record was an officer in the Army of William the Conqueror in 1006.

Mrs. Stringham points out the goals of the foundation are to discover the Hunt family, in all generations and establish their kinship; to strive to build Hunt "Family Fidelity" and solidarity; discover the role of Hunts in the panorama of history with its social movements, organizations and value, to name just a few.

There are now four state Hunt Chapters organized, Kentucky, Nevada, Idaho and Utah.

Anyone attending the open house is asked to bring a list of the names and addresses of his immediate family members. Further information can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Stringham, Oakley, 862-3362.

Youngest ever

MICHAEL FAW, left, 15-year-old deacon of the First Presbyterian Church at San Anselmo, Calif., compares notes with Douglas H. Rogers, 16, an elder of the same church. The two teen-agers are believed to be the youngest church officials of any Presbyterian congregation in the U.S. Both said the congregation bought them out, rather than that they asked for the responsibilities. They plan to bring youth's ideas into the formal structure of the church. (UPI)

Some Christians still tell about good news

By LOUIS CASSELS, UPI Religion Writer

In His last conversation with His disciples, Jesus Christ urged them not to treat their faith as a private treasure but to share it with men of all nations.

Some Christians still take very seriously this final instruction of their Lord. They attach high importance to the task of disseminating the good news of the gospel as far and wide as possible.

Others, however, seem to feel it is no longer necessary, and perhaps not even good manners, to tell non-Christians about Christ. They ask: "Why should we try to cram our religion down the throats of people who already have a religion of their own?"

If the question were valid in that form, it would be unanswerable. But it is loaded with three serious misapprehensions.

The first is the assumption that all or most non-Christians already have a religion of their own. In point of fact, there are hundreds of millions of human beings on earth today who are not firmly rooted in any religious faith, and are seeking, with varying degrees of desperation, to find some worldview that will make sense of their lives.

The second misapprehension is reflected in the phrase, "our religion." Christianity is not a tribal possession of Western white men. It originated among Semites of the Middle East, but was intended from the start to be a universal faith.

The third and worst error concerns the nature of the task which Jesus laid upon his disciples. They were not asked to bully, browbeat or brainwash anyone. They were simply to make known to others the profound change that had taken place in their own lives—and in their attitude toward life—as a result of their encounter with Christ.

Dr. David H. C. Read, minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York, points out, "The true evangelist forswears all attempts at pressure, physical or psychological. He is not concerned with enlarging the membership or influence of his own church. He simply knows what Christ has meant to him and wants to share this happy discovery with others."

But a sensitive concern for the religious freedom of others is not the only reason why some Christians have ceased to practice or support evangelism. A more basic hangup in many cases is lack of conviction that Christ really is "the way, the truth and the life" which all men are seeking.

Church ponders miracle

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — A Roman Catholic church court has completed hearings on a reported miracle attributed to the intercession of the late Pope John XXIII.

The court did not publicly announce its findings, which were being forwarded to the Vatican as part of the long process to determine whether Pope John should be enrolled among the saints of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Naples archbishop, Cardinal Corrado Ursi, in a speech, called the healing of a Naples nun a "miracle" worked by John.

Sister Caterina Capitani of the Daughters of Charity testified she recovered from a critical illness after Pope John appeared to her in a vision May 25, 1968, and said: "Don't despair, my child. You will be healed."

The reported vision came nearly three years after John died June 8, 1963.

Experts have discovered that every fingertip makes one of four general patterns — arch, loop, whorl or composite.

"White Christmas," by Irving Berlin, is the best selling record of all time. It has sold over 44 million copies since it was released in 1941.

Yes, you too can afford to move up to a new Comet for as little as $192 down and then break those payments into easy pay-as-you-go system. As little as $65.41 per month for 3 years (that's $14.18% per week) will put you in the driver's seat. However, if you have a trade-in the payments can even be lower, but if not you get all the federal taxes paid in the $2188 price along with the Idaho Title Transfer paid. If financed, the total contract would be $2354.76 which is including APR of 11.08 which makes finance charges $358.76.
