Huge bombs hit attacking enemy

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. military sources said today the U.S. Air Force was dropping 7.5-ton bombs on Communist troop concentrations around besieged Fire Base 6 in the first such tactical use of the weapons in the war. B-52s also hit Communist positions there today with 500 tons of bombs.

UPI correspondent Robert E. Sullivan reported from the area that the North Vietnamese commander in charge of the attack on Fire Base 6 had moved his headquarters from Laos into South Vietnam to direct the fight. The base is near the intersection of Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam in the Central Highlands.

Sullivan, quoting highly placed South Vietnamese military sources, said the headquarters of Hoang Minh Thoa, commander of the 13-day-old offensive against the base, was believed located about 14 miles southwest of the base, but that he moved his headquarters frequently to avoid bombing attacks. The headquarters is known as B3.

The 7.5-ton bombs have been used previously to blast out landing pads in the jungles for U.S. helicopters but military sources said they were effective against massed Communist troops. In some operations the big bombs are floated down by parachute and detonated a few yards off the ground to blast out an area the size of a football field.

Front dispatches said the bombs were used today six to eight miles southwest of the border ranger post of Ben Het, itself six miles northwest of Fire Base 6.

Sullivan, reporting from the Central Highlands, said a North Vietnamese defector told interrogators he had seen 2,000 fresh North Vietnamese troops in a rear area awaiting orders to move into the battle area. He said the defector, Lt. Bui Ngoc Chieu, told questioners his battalion had been ordered to cut Highway 512 east of Ben Het, the base's only land link to the outside.

Ben Het withstood a 56-day Communist siege in the spring of 1969 when it was a Green Beret camp.

While the C130s unloaded their blockbusters, B-52s returned to the area in strength. Military sources said the big eight-engine bombers have dropped nearly 2,500 tons of bombs on the Communists around Fire Base 6 since the post was overrun 13 days ago. It was recaptured later and is still in government hands.

U.S. helicopters managed to resupply the base today despite heavy ground fire. All were fired upon today but none was shot down. Sunday, only 5 to 10 helicopters managed to land at the base and one of these was shot down.

TERRA-COTTA IS removed from the front of the old Lind building which is being torn down as part of the Twin Falls Urban Renewal project. The carvings are being saved for their historical value by members of the Twin Falls County Historical Society. Robert N. W. Balleisen, Twin Falls, dons a hard hat to help other society members in the work. (See other photos, page 11)

Salvage job

Priceless artwork removed

TWIN FALLS — At least one of the ornate architectural terra cotta arches from the old Lind Garage has been saved for historical value, Earl Peck, president of the Twin Falls County Historical Society, said today.

It was removed Saturday following several hours of hard labor and delicate handling by a group of volunteers.

The ornament is now resting in pieces, on a low-boy truck. Peck said it will be taken to the Twin Falls County Historical Society Museum, unloaded and hopefully put back together.

The arch in the form of a giant eagle and other ornate work was installed in the building when it was erected in 1917. The old building is now being razed in the Urban Renewal project and historical society members felt the unusual work should be preserved.

Because of the extreme difficulty in removing the heavy stonework, only one of three such arches was preserved, society members said.

Without equipment donated by Sign's Inc., and the expert work of heavy equipment operators from Iverson's Inc., society members said the stone arch could not have been recovered.

A large tractor with a clamshell bucket was used to work under the arch after it was loosened, and to lift it from position to the bed of the low-boy truck.

Members said at one time the heavy arch was being held in place only by a piece of wood, the width of the doorway and about 12 inches wide and one and one-half inches thick.

S.V. ski year ends

SUN VALLEY — The skiing season in Sun Valley and Ketchum came to a close Sunday as resort officials proclaimed it the best year ever.

Closure of the 13 ski lifts and 51 runs under Sun Valley Co. Inc. operations came Sunday as warm weather began to melt snow on the runs.

Valley solons 'secure'

TWIN FALLS — The new legislative redistricting in the Magic Valley apparently will mean no major changes in legislative representation, though some lawmakers will have new territory to cover.

No legislators will lose their posts through the redistricting, an analysis indicates. No two incumbents will have to seek a single seat.

The new District 22, encompassing Camas and Elmore counties, will allow Sen. J. Wilson Steen, R-Elmore, who lives at Glenns Ferry, to remain in the district.

Sen. Don G. Fredericksen, D-Gooding, will represent the new district of Gooding, Jerome and part of Lincoln counties.

Reps. Karl E. Koch, D-Hammitt, and Virgil L. Kraus, R-Mountain Home, will not be affected by adding Camas County to their district, since the present legislative lineup lists no House members living in Camas County.

In Gooding and Jerome counties, Reps. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, and Earl Greenawald, R-Jerome, also should be safe in their jobs.

The Blaine-Minidoka-Lincoln County District, now represented in the Senate by Sen. John T. Peavey, R-Rupert, and in the House by Reps. E.V. McHann, R-Ketchum, and Steve Antone, R-Rupert, will see no changes with the elimination of part of Lincoln County.

Aeronautics aide resigns

TWIN FALLS — Chet Moulton, state director of aeronautics, today resigned his position and announced in Boise he had been requested to take this action by Cliff Hinkley, Lewiston, chairman of the aeronautics board.

Moulton had been director since 1946 and has just under two years to go before his retirement.

Gov. Cecil Andrus, contacted by the Times-News, said that members of the board had discussed the matter with him last week but that he had not "stuck his neck into it" and the decision was that of the board.

He said that under the aeronautics act of 1969 the board has the right to hire or fire the director.

In Twin Falls, O.A. (Gus) Kelker, chairman of the Twin Falls City-County Airport Board, was critical of the state board's action.

"I realize that a thing such as this could well be political, but Moulton has done a good job down through the years and it is hard to realize he will not be permitted to take his retirement which is due in just under two years," Kelker said.

Kelker said he and members of the local board had disagreed with Moulton many times but that generally Moulton's program had been "good for aviation in Idaho."

He added that there is "absolutely no truth" to any story that members of the Twin Falls City-County Airport Board had been "out to get Moulton" because of his "small airport" program as against aiding larger airports.

"We didn't like it," Kelker said, "but we did not start any campaign to get his job."

According to United Press International, Moulton said he felt the request was politically motivated with pressure being applied from the state's five largest cities. He said Boise, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Idaho Falls and Lewiston wanted department funds expended on their municipal airports.

Moulton said the request for his resignation came as a surprise.

Laos war claims former area man

OAKLEY — Warrant Officer Hyrum Barry Port, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Port, formerly of Oakley, died in action March 7 in Laos, his parents were notified after his body was recovered.

Mr. Port was reported missing in action in Laos after his helicopter was seen on fire. The helicopter crashed inside Laos, military authorities said, and enemy action prevented recovery of the bodies.

The crash was blamed on mechanical failure, according to military authorities.

Mr. Port was born Feb. 18, 1948 in Oakley. His parents moved to Wenatchee, Wash., where he was reared, then to Pittsburgh, Pa., where they now reside.

He is survived by his parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Poulton, Oakley.

WO Port was buried last week with full military rites in Wenatchee, Wash.

'Good cry' after fall

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mark Brown, 2, had "a good cry" after he fell nine floors from an apartment window Sunday "but he's in good shape," a hospital spokesman said.

Young Mark, who was listed in "satisfactory condition" apparently with only minor injuries, was taken to Mount Sinai Hospital after he fell into some bushes nine stories below the window of his grandmother's apartment.

Israelis cite Soviet war aid

By United Press International
An Israeli source said today in Tel Aviv Egypt had received "new types of aircraft" from the Soviet Union and that they were manned by Soviet crews. He declined to specify the make of the new combat jets involved, but previous reports said they were MIG23s which can outperform American F4 Phantoms.

The disclosure came as political sources said Prime Minister Golda Meir may call a special meeting of her cabinet this weekend to discuss the final draft of Israel's counter-plan for reopening the Suez Canal under an interim settlement of the Middle East conflict.

The Israeli source, commenting on newspaper reports Egypt has acquired MIG23s and possibly an advanced version of the Sukhoi fighter-bomber, said "it constituted a qualitative contribution" to Egypt's military might.

The source said the Egyptians were preparing for the resumption of war although they were still pursuing diplomatic efforts to end the Middle East conflict.

Tennis players see China Wall

PEKING (UPI)—American table tennis players drank a powerful Chinese wine with their Communist hosts at a banquet Sunday night but got up early this morning to visit the Great Wall of China.

The 15 Americans who entered China Saturday left the capital of Peking to get a first-hand look at the Wall, built of earth faced with brick and granite between 228 to 210 B.C.

To keep out Asiatic barbarians from the north, they were due back in Peking later in the day. At a Sunday night banquet given by the All-China Sports Federation and the Chinese Peoples' Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries, the Chinese and the Americans toasted each other with glass after glass of mau tai, a powerful wine made in North China from sorghum.

Speeches given by the Chinese and Americans were short, based on the theme of friendship between the two peoples.

"We do not confuse the American people with the U.S. government," one Chinese official told the American visitors.

In his banquet toast to the Americans, Li Ching-Chuan, an official in the Chinese Peoples' Association, said:

"The Chinese people and the American people have always been friendly to each other. We express our good wishes for the American sportsmen and people.

"To safeguard and develop the friendship between the people of the two countries is in conformity with the desire of the Chinese and American people.

"The visit of the U.S. table tennis delegation to China is an expression of friendship of the American people for the Chinese people."

In reply, Graham Steenhoven of Detroit, president of the U.S. Table Tennis Association, said "We have received a warm welcome everywhere we have been in China. It warms my heart to see the Chinese players generously giving their time and talent to our players."

"On behalf of all Americans, I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

Evel readies leap

TWIN FALLS — Evel Knievel, daredevil motorcyclist who says he will jump the Snake River Canyon next year, plans to be in Twin Falls this afternoon and will stay about a month, supervising construction on a take-off ramp.

Knievel was in Twin Falls briefly Friday to make arrangements for his stay here, according to Mike Gray, local representative for the stuntman. Knievel's leap on a jet-powered motorcycle is tentatively set for Labor Day, 1972.

Pioneer TF woman legislator dies

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Emma Clouchek, 94, widow of Twin Falls' first doctor and herself a pioneer Twin Falls County legislator, died Saturday in Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Clouchek was active in many organizations, and a charter member of many which started at the birth of Twin Falls City in 1904.

She was elected a member of the Idaho Legislature in 1931 and represented Twin Falls County in the House. She was National Republican Committee woman for 12 years.

She was a charter member of the First Presbyterian Church of Twin Falls, Twentieth Century Club, Business and Professional Womens' Club and the Order of Eastern Star, Chapter 29. For many years she was a member of the Board of Regents of the College of Idaho.

Born March 3, 1877 near Carlton, Ore., she attended college at McMinnville for two years and then taught in Yamhill County, Oregon, until her marriage to Dr. H.W. Clouchek in 1904. They moved to Twin Falls where he was the physician for the Twin Falls Land and Water Co., builders of the canal system for the Twin Falls tract.

Dr. Clouchek practiced in Twin Falls until his death on Feb. 19, 1934. Mrs. Clouchek went to Portland in 1945.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Colner, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Ella Myers, Portland, as well as nieces and nephews in the Twin Falls area.

Services will be Wednesday afternoon at the McGinnis and Wilhelm Funeral Home in Portland. The family suggests memorials to a favorite charity.

GIs empty pockets to help

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—An Air Force sergeant says it took him only 12 hours to raise $30,000 from servicemen in Vietnam to aid a brother and sister stricken by a rare kidney disease in Texas.

Sgt. Robert L. Jones, 22, of Turlock, Calif., said he raised the money through a radio appeal at Phan Rang Air Force base. He said one sergeant donated $1,000 from his reenlistment bonus and another soldier cancelled an order for a new car to give $450 to the cause.

Jones arrived from Vietnam Sunday and was met by his parents, his wife, Norma, and their 13-month-old son, Robert Jr., at Oakland International Airport.

"I was very surprised and proud when I heard what he had done," said Jones' pretty wife. He will have a 14-day leave with his family before returning to Vietnam.

Tired, but obviously happy, Jones flashed a $30,000 check made out to Paula Holt, 17, and her brother, Gary, 20, of Austin, Tex.

Official Pakistani Radio said Sunday Pakistani troops had "wiped out" two companies of Indian border security forces in the Benapole area two miles inside East Pakistan Saturday.

Indian denied the claim and accused Pakistan of kidnaping three of its border security guards who had been on a routine patrol in the Petrapole region on the Indian side of the border. The Indian government demanded the release of the men.

Pakistani troops drove to within eight miles of India's border Saturday when they captured Navaran from the East Pakistani rebels.

In reaction, truckloads of Indian troops moved to within a half mile of the border accompanied by jeep-mounted, recoilless rifles.

Fears the Civil War in East Pakistan might lead to fighting and close the border areas between India and Pakistan have swept New Delhi for several days. India has voiced support of the East Pakistani rebels but has denied Pakistan's charges it is smuggling arms to them across the border.

Pakistani troops appeared to be engaged in a major offensive to retake major towns and close the border areas before monsoon rains make the roads impassable toward the end of April.

Charges denied by ex-officer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Charges of wrongdoing which reportedly caused the plunge into bankruptcy of the huge Penn Central Railroad have been denied by its former chief financial officer.

David C. Bevan issued a statement Sunday saying that the blame should be pinned on the two former top officials of the Penn Central, Stuart T. Saunders and Alfred E. Perlman.

According to Bevan, it was the job of Saunders, the former chairman, and Perlman, the vice chairman, to run the railroad and they were responsible for the results.

All three were fired 12 days before the Penn Central filed for reorganization under the Bankruptcy Act on June 20, 1970. The huge carrier said it was virtually without cash and could not pay its bills. Bevan's statement Sunday was issued in response to a suit filed last Thursday in U.S. District Court by the trustees of the railroad. They had charged him and others with using Penn Central money to further their own financial positions while the railroad was in deep money troubles.

The charges, Bevan said, were "a well-defined plan to make Bevan the scapegoat for the situation whereas in reality the responsibility rests elsewhere."

He said his job was to raise funds to keep the railroad operating. Despite the fact that he raised almost $1 billion, Bevan said, "Saunders and Perlman were incapable of keeping the railroad solvent."

Marxist retained as Tokyo governor

TOKYO (UPI) — Ryokichi Minobe, a self-proclaimed "Marxist," won re-election Monday as governor of Tokyo, piling up an overwhelming lead over former Police Superintendent Akira Hatano.

With 38 per cent of the ballots counted, Minobe had 688,800 votes to Hatano's 382,600. Political observers said Minobe's margin was unbeatable.

Minobe, 69, a former professor of economics, ran with the combined support of Japan's Socialist and Communist parties.

His opponent, Hatano, 59, was the hand-picked candidate of Japan's Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

But elsewhere in local elections held throughout Japan Sunday, Sato's Liberal-Democratic party fared well.

The LDP crushed candidates for governor jointly backed by the Communist and Socialist parties in two key provinces, Hokkaido and Fukuoka.

Governorships of 18 provinces were at stake in Sunday's election. Interest was centered in five provinces where the Socialists and Communists joined forces to challenge the Liberal Democrats.

In the other 13 provinces, candidates backed by the LDP won easily, as expected.

Sato's party also was running well in races for legislatures of 44 of Japan's 46 provinces.

Sponsored by the Idaho department of employment, the training will be conducted at Pocatello and will extend over a period of 38 weeks.

Castleford barn destroyed in fire

CASTLEFORD — Fire leaved a barn at the William A. Stombaugh farm northeast of Castleford early Sunday.

Stombaugh said no estimate of damage had been made yet but that the loss would be several thousand dollars. He said it was partially covered by insurance.

The fire was observed about 1:30 a.m. Sunday by a passing motorist who alerted the Stombaugh family. The Buhl and Castleford fire departments and numerous volunteers responded to the blaze. Stombaugh said that by the time the fire was noticed, the barn was engulfed in flames.

He said several tons of hay inside and outside of the barn were burned. A sow and her 12 piglets, milking equipment, rolled grain and a boat, motor and trailer which were in the barn, were lost. A truck parked outside the barn also was burned and a tractor was damaged.

Stombaugh said the fire still was smoldering Monday morning.

Confusion on taxes scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Millions of Americans, many of them scarcely able to afford it, are paying more income taxes than they really owe this year because they are confused by the complexity of the Internal Revenue Law.

Some are overlooking benefits they should have because they do not understand how to claim special advantages.

This is particularly true of some elderly persons permitted a credit of 15 per cent for some of their retirement income. This credit is designed to cut the tax burden on the elderly.

In theory it is easier this year for such a person to claim retirement credit since the IRS will do most of the work. If such a person wants the government to figure his credit, he has only to list the amount of his tax-exempt pensions (including Social Security and payments from any private pension fund) plus the amount of his earned income and the total of his qualifying retirement income.

This is far simpler than the system used last year. But the taxpayer still must obtain information that is sometimes difficult to assemble; he must file it on a separate piece of paper; and—in the first place—he must realize he qualifies for the credit.

The IRS concedes many taxpayers overpay every year. No one knows exactly how many but the figure surely tops a million.

The Senate Special Committee on Aging said recently the cost of honest mistakes falls hardest on the elderly.

The committee urged creation of a simpler tax return.

Railroad business booming

BOISE (UPI) — Union Pacific Railroad did a booming ticket sale business Saturday, after the announcement is out that southern Idaho will not receive passenger service under Railpax due to begin May 1.

Saturday, 142 passengers boarded the westbound Portland Rose with most ticket destinations for Nampa, Baker and Portland. Ticket agent Gary Moser said many parents were taking their children for the last train rides before UP bows out of the passengers' service picture.

Moser said he expected heavy passenger traffic to continue through the two remaining weekends of service in southern Idaho.

Question...

My mother has a Postal Savings account which is to be used for her burial. Since there is no longer a Postal Savings system, what will we do when we need these funds?

Answer...

When the Postal Savings System was discontinued in April, 1966, Congress authorized the Postmaster General to transfer the funds in this system to the U.S. Treasury. Since July 1, 1967, payments on these accounts have been made by the investments Branch of the Treasury Department.

Applications for withdrawals which are made to local post office depositories will be forwarded to the Investments Branch of the Treasury Department for payment. There are no joint tenancy postal savings accounts. Disbursements from these accounts must conform to the laws of the state in which your mother lives. Funeral expenses have priority over most other claims. When the time occurs to withdraw these funds, we will help you with the details.

Two killed by crash in Bannock

POCATELLO (UPI) — A two-car head-on Easter Sunday collision four miles north of Pocatello claimed the lives of Marlon Osborne, 40, Fort Hall, and Delese Marshall, 38, Blackfoot.

Idaho State Police in Pocatello said the accident occurred about 3:23 p.m. with five other persons injured and taken to St. Anthony Hospital.

Listed in serious condition is Enos Osborne, 44, Fort Hall; Glen E. Marshall, 44, Blackfoot, no report; Dennis Falkner, 30, Pocatello, good; Jean Falkner, no age listed fair; and Laurie Falkner, 4, critical condition.

Hospital officials said the child was transferred to Salt Lake for emergency treatment. The extent of her injuries was not available.

The Idaho traffic fatality toll stands at 56, compared to 68 on this date one year ago.

Britain's census draws protests

LONDON (UPI) — A young mother stripped in protest, the nation's liberal party chief said he would rather be fined and one man demanded the director general be beheaded. But Britain is going ahead with its decennial census.

No one escapes —not even the head lady at Buckingham Palace who will fill in her name as "Elizabeth II" and occupation as "Queen of England," and then have to tell the census taker how many bathrooms she has in the palace.

The keeper of the lonely Duncansby Head Lighthouse at John O'Groats in lone northern Scotland will fill out a census form. So will the Swedish deckhand whose ship docks at the right — or wrong — time at Hull, Liverpool and wherever.

And so will you, if you happened to be in Britain at the "magic hour" of midnight, April 25 — even if you are just passing through London airport.

Failure to comply carries a fine. At the last full census, in 1961, only 80 persons of a total population of 53,750,737 refused to fill in their forms.

But there are likely to be more defiant ones when the 1971 census begins collecting the supposedly completed forms on April 26.

Sue Rogers, a 26-year-old mother of two, has no use for the 1971 census — and to underscore her point, she went to the beach at Plymouth Sunday and stripped to her bra.

Written across her chest in black ink was "6174" — her "census number," she said.

"I would take it all off if it would stop the census," said Sue. Her contention: The census gets too nosy.

Liberal leader Jeremy Thorpe agreed. He said the questions — particularly those about names of all members of his household and where they lived five years ago — went "far beyond what is reasonable."

And at Somerset House in London, where nearly 800 million tons of paper from the census will be stored for the next 100 years, there is the persistent telephone caller with his own solution.

"He keeps ringing up to tell us that the director general (of the census) ought to be beheaded at Tyburn" — an old London site for execution of common criminals, a Somerset House spokesman said.

Environmental center started

POCATELLO (UPI) — The Bannock-Shoshone Tribal Council on the Fort Hall Indian Reservation has shown concern for their environment, and as a direct result a center for environmental studies have been set up at Idaho State University.

Professor of Biology at ISU, Dr. John A. White, will head the center, under an executive board including Chairman of the Tribal Council, Keesley Edmo. Also, representatives of the university's science faculty and administration will serve on the board.

Ecological research programs will be conducted on the reservation by the center based on projects already instituted at ISU. Two projects are investigation of mercury content in wildlife and eutrophication of the Portneuf River.

White said one exciting plan involved providing particularly Indian youth with intellectually stimulating jobs on the reservation.

ISU President William E. Davidson allocated the center an initial operating budget of $2,000 from the university grant reserve fund.

Parked car burns in Twin Falls

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls firemen quelled a car fire in a parked, locked car Saturday night, after prying a door open; then locked the car up and let police look for the registered owner.

The car was parked well out in the street on Fourth Avenue North, near the sheriff's office, police said. The fire "burned everything that would burn underneath the hood," a fire department spokesman said.

Police were looking for the owner, identified as Arthur S. Brewster, late Saturday night.

No Moustache

WASHINGTON — Citizens whose lives are warmed by gentle excursions into nostalgia perhaps will join me in a lament concerning the physiognomy of the several Presidential candidates already on the scene.

It is a majestic specimen — black, with just enough gray to add a touch of distinction, and full all the way across, with the ends upturned. It reminds me of Kaiser Wilhelm's. The kind of moustache, in short, that fair cries for a crimson cloak and sword.

PAUL HARVEY

Mr. Truman

There is a bill on the Hill proposing a medal for Mr. Harry S. Truman. May I second the motion.

Monday-morning quarterbackbacks called it unnecessary, diplomats called it cruel, scientists said they were "ashamed" of their science.

History judges most Presidents after they're gone; judges them by the long-range results — the long-range effects — of their decisions.

And for two decades thereafter, American leaders, self-conscious, fearful, fought pulled-punches wars with outdated weapons.

It could be that Presidential hopefuls have studied Dewey's two unsuccessful attempts to win the White House and decided that a moustache is a liability.

But no man can be insensitive to the cruel indictment which Mr. Truman suffered for doing what he believed best.

President Truman, as Commander in Chief, left with an unprecedented decision, did not procrastinate.

And though historians can already see the humaneness of the swift-knockout strategy, officially nobody has told him so.

Aware of the terrible toll in American lives resulting from our tedious amphibious invasions of South Pacific islands — knowing there were years of bloody surf between us and the ultimate invasion of Japan — on Aug. 6 he lowered the boom on the enemy.

While in the White House, Mr. Truman frequently presented the Congressional Medal of Honor with the words "I'd rather have this medal than be President."

In one blow, four square miles of Hiroshima, Japan, were destroyed; 135,000 Japanese were killed or injured.

He repeated that statement so many times it must have reflected a very agonizing personal question, until then unanswered.

But when it was either them or us, Mr. Truman chose to kill them.

While he lives, would it not be most appropriate for our former Commander in Chief to receive our nation's highest military decoration?

In subsequent years, President Truman was more damned than praised for that decision.

And let the inscription read that when the chips were down — and it was either them or us — he was on our side.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Canker Sores

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For almost a year I have been bothered with canker sores in the mouth. The dentist put something on and two doctors gave me prescriptions, but I still have them.

some tea leaves in the area of the sore seems to help — probably due to the astringent action of tannic acid in the tea. Touching the spot with alum, or with a tiny amount of silver nitrate, can be effective.

They do not hurt me. It is just a funny feeling to know they are there. I am 72 and my doctor says it is nothing to worry about.

Antibiotic lozenges have been used — but are effective only if some bacterial action is at work. Steroid ointments that will stick to the membrane also have been used.

Like the common cold, canker sores keep bothering us and a cure eludes us.

Tablets containing lactobacillus have their devotees. Another thing that has been tried is a flavored solution of urea to swish around in the mouth.

(A canker, inside the mouth, is not the same as "cold sores" outside the lip.)

What it proves is that there's no specific remedy — and quite possibly no single cause — for these annoying spots.

At least 20 percent of the population has had trouble — one or more bouts — with cankers, at one time or another, and women have more of this trouble than men.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our doctor insists our 8-year-old should have another smallpox vaccination. He insists that Federal law requires it, although our school does not.

Theories of the cause are numerous — injury to the mouth membrane from a toothbrush or eating something hard; allergy, with vinegar and the acid of citrus foods sometimes blamed; chocolate and nuts have been suspected; so have viruses.

Maybe not "necessary," but another smallpox vaccination three years after the first is advisable; it is simple, no great problem for the child, and a safety precaution. (Federal law requires a vaccination within three years of entering the country — even for a citizen returning from a trip abroad.)

But which might be the real culprit, whoknows? Or can it be any of several? I suspect so myself.

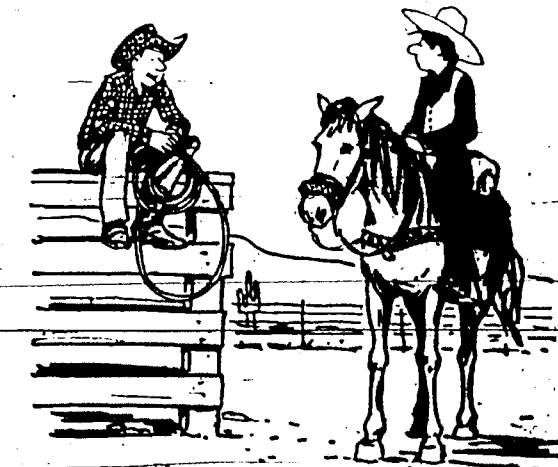

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Years ago we were taught that we shouldn't drink coffee that has stood in the coffee pot for several hours, as there would be acid from the aluminum that would be poisonous.

With differing causes suspected, a variety of "cures" have been tried. Each person — and each doctor! — seems to have his own pet remedy. Since cankers tend to disappear in seven to ten days, the various pet remedies get the credit.

I have a new automatic percolator but have hesitated to drink leftover coffee. — Mrs. E. H. That's a discarded idea. It's safe to drink the coffee.

Irish stone troops to commemorate uprising

LONDON, Ireland (UPI)—Roman Catholics marched through the cities of Northern Ireland Sunday to commemorate the 1916 Easter uprising that led to Ireland's independence. They stoned British troops and wrecked a bus in Londonderry.

There were Catholic marches and Protestant counter-marches throughout the province. With nearly 18,000 troops and police on full alert, most of the demonstrations passed without incident.

But in Londonderry, 300 Roman Catholics let loose a flurry of stones at British troops who stood between them and Protestant youths waving British Union Jack flags.

The Catholics, many of them mothers pushing children in carriages, yelled "Army out! Army out!" The soldiers pulled helmet visors down over their faces and crouched behind protective shields but made no more.

The Protestants, who were returning from a wreath-laying ceremony for British troops who died in two world wars, stood 100 yards away behind barbed wire, out of the range of the stones.

Later, a group of Catholic youths forced the passengers off a bus in Londonderry's Catholic Bogside district, wrecked it and tried to use it as a street barricade. Scores of troops charged in behind riot shields, firing rubber bullets, and were met with a shower of stones.

Nine soldiers were injured, one with a broken leg, an army spokesman said.

In Armagh, founded according to legend by St. Patrick, police cordoned off Protestant areas during a march by 1,000 Catholics and there was no trouble.

Six policemen were injured and three persons arrested in Lurgan after a group of Catholic marchers unleashed a hail of stones at police, an army spokesman said.

In the County Londonderry village of Louisa, militant Catholics defied Premier Brian Faulkner's ban on parades and marched to the cemetery of Louisa's St. Patrick's Church to commemorate the 1923 death of Sean Larkin, a local Irish Republican Army hero.

Tensions were high in Londonderry even before the marches. Police arrested 11 youths during the night in a stone-throwing incident, and a gasoline bomb was thrown at an army patrol vehicle as it passed through one of the old walled city's gates.

Strike in Pittsburgh ended

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Some 2,300 bus and trolley drivers began returning to work Sunday, ending a bitter three-day wildcat strike.

Some 175,000 daily commuters, forced to seek other means of transportation since last Wednesday night, braced for a nickel increase in fares Monday.

Both the strike and the fare increase hinged on a 55-cent-an-hour wage increase the drivers received last week in an arbitration award. The drivers said it was not enough. The Port Authority Transit (PAT) said it was enough to boost base fares to 40 cents.

The drivers, members of Division 85, Amalgamated Transit Union (ATU), began returning to work about 5 a.m. Sunday. A PAT spokesman said the buses and trolleys were keeping a routine Sunday schedule. Some 364 drivers were scheduled to work on the holiday.

Officers of the ATU, who encouraged the men to return to work, promised to go to court in an attempt to obtain an increase in the arbitration award.

Crowd lags for Death Valley fete

By United Press International

An Easter rock festival in Death Valley whose sponsors had predicted a gathering of a quarter million people wound up Sunday with only a little more than 1,000 hippies braving the intense heat, wind and dust.

The California Highway Patrol said that more than half the 2,500 young men and women who had congregated at the ghost mining town of Ballarat had left before the musical program and "spiritual happening" got under way Sunday.

Crowds of college students and other young people numbering at the peak more than 30,000 were camping out, boating, skiing and sunbathing along a 200-mile stretch of the Colorado River on the California-Arizona border.

The sheriff's office in Parker, Ariz., said there had been more than 200 arrests, most of them for possession of marijuana, but that there had been little trouble. A deputy said a number of young people bathing in the nude had been ordered to put their clothing on but had not been arrested.

In Palm Springs, Calif., which in past years has been overrun with hippies numbering more than 30,000, the city Police Department said only about 5,000 were on hand and that virtually all of them had stayed in motels or hotels.

Two years ago they flocked in such numbers to the Indian-owned Tahquitz Canyon that the tribe protested. This year they were banned from the canyon under a fire code ordered into effect because of an unusually dry season. Police said 157 arrests had been made and the suspects taken to the county jail at Indio.

Kern County Sheriff Barry Aubrey said a few hippies were passing through there. He was asked what they were doing.

"Oh, they just sit around and smoke pot, pop pills and fall into cricks—whatever hippies do," he said.

Thomas Alva Edison had 1,093 patents in his name, says National Geographic.

Wire tap drives pushers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Increasing use of telephone taps may drive drug pushers out into the open where they will be easier to catch, the nation's chief enforcer of narcotics laws said Sunday.

"The telephone has been a God-send to illicit traffickers," said John E. Ingersoll, director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

"It gives them privacy. The telephone is used a great deal by those we're aiming at... If they can't hide behind the telephone they'll have to come out in the open and we'll have an easier time catching them," Ingersoll said in an interview.

Ingersoll, a holdover from the Johnson administration, nonetheless reflects the Nixon administration's high regard for wire tapping as a powerful tool in the fight against crime. He has only been authorized to use it since President Nixon took office under regulations requiring approval in each case by Attorney General John N. Mitchell and then a court order.

Ingersoll, a youthful looking 41, was named director of the bureau July 12, 1968, by Attorney General Ramsey Clark and was retained by Mitchell. Clark would not use the domestic wire tap authority against organized crime authorized in the 1968 Safe Streets Act.

"We've had 40 wire taps in the last two years," Ingersoll said, "and they've accounted for the arrest of about 190 persons up to the end of March 1971. They've also accounted for the seizure of 50 pounds of heroin, 30 pounds of cocaine and 902 grams of LSD—that's $14 million worth."

Ingersoll was much more cautious about the controversial "no-knock" authority given his agents in the 1970 narcotics reform bill.

Mitchell castigated Congress June 19, 1970, for "delaying to death" the measure but Ingersoll said, "There were no occasions we could have used it (no-knock) before the law was passed." The measure passed Congress last Oct. 27, 1970.

Ingersoll called "no-knock"—a provision that permits federal narcotics agents to enter a suspect's premises unannounced—"an exceptional device."

Flow of lava watched

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI)—A river of fiery lava nearly two miles long oozed down the northwest slope of Mt. Etna Sunday towards a tourist hotel about half way up the 10,902-foot-high volcano.

Authorities said it posed no danger to the hotel at Serra la Nava yet. They said the glowing stream was still some 600 yards away.

Authorities were, however, showing concern for the first time since Europe's tallest volcano began rumbling and bubbling seven days ago.

The mayor of one foothill town ordered a halt in cable car service after lava engulfed the bottom of nine support pillars. Police at several points asked tourists to stay back from new craters and lava streams.

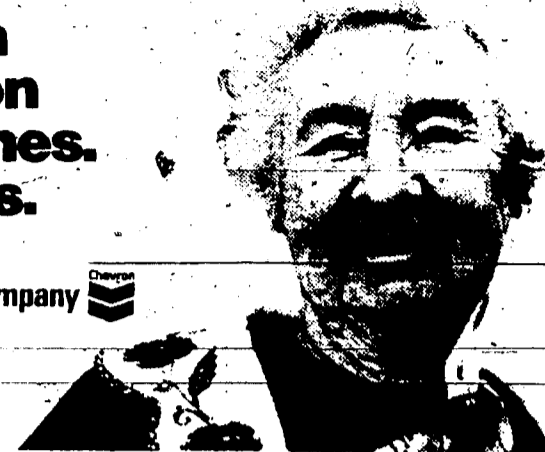

Etna continued to spew jets of molten rock and clouds of incandescent sand, steam and smoke from new cones.

The pickup was so very good when you wanted to get by another car it would just scoot by...

Trees replanted in downtown mall

TWIN FALLS — Spring is planting and tree replanting time and also tree replacements are being made. Several long needle pines planted in the downtown area last fall were winter-killed, City Manager Jean Millar said, and are now being replaced by the landscape sub-contractor, Kimberly Nurseries. The nursery will also begin soon to plant between 6,000 and 6,500 small ground cover type plants which are also part of the landscaping plan but which could not be planted last fall. As soon as these are in, Millar said, the city's downtown caretaker will be working on a full time basis keeping the plantings watered and attractive. Several additional sprinkler heads will be installed by the nursery while final

Frenchman does script of new film

MONACO (UPI)—Mel Ferrer believes the film industry can help win back its audience by turning to the great living authors. So he tempted the famous French playwright, Jean Anouilh, to write the screenplay of his new film, "Time for Loving."
 It was a long but rewarding collaboration — Ferrer encouraging and translating and Anouilh writing — and the actor talked about it at the International Television Festival of Monte Carlo. If he seemed distracted from time to time there were good reasons, as well he seen.
 Pointing to the success of the film "Love Story" in the United States and predicting the descent into "boredom" of the present flood of sex movies, Ferrer said he convinced Anouilh that writing for the films is as elevating as writing for the stage.
 The playwright, then engaged in putting on two of his plays in Paris where he eventually had four hits running at the same time, was skeptical but agreed to try.
 "One of the problems," Ferrer said, "is that the author of Becket, Antigone, The Lark and so on rarely goes to the movies. We showed him rushes of the film as it was being shot. He was very patient, worked on the script for eight months sending me pages written in ink in neat, precise longhand."
 Anouilh conceived the idea of four stories of love set in the same apartment in Montmartre at different times.
 "We filmed during the August holiday when all the French leave Paris," Ferrer said. "One of the episodes concerns two youngsters — Susan Hampshire and Mark Burns. In another I'm in love with Joanna Shimkus but I leave her because of the age difference which I consider bad for her. I'm a surgeon and she's a student."
 "Britt Ekland and Robert Dery play another of the couples. And we have songs by Michel Le Grand who wrote "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg." Since his divorce from Audrey Hepburn in 1968, Ferrer has been busy himself with films as actor, director and producer but he prefers the latter role. He is excited about a new stage venture with Dale Wasserman who wrote the long-running "Man of La Mancha."

MAGIC VALLEY BOATERS will be glad to know their license fees go toward "maintenance of this scenic viewpoint overlooking a pile of garbage and tin cans above Shoshone Falls ... or so says the sign. Actually, the unfortunate fact is that garbage seems to be self-sustaining ... motorists trying to avoid city garbage-collection fees think nothing of befouling the community nest with their offal. This scene is only a few feet from an overlook above the Falls that provides a sweeping view of the cascade of water ... and an equally clear view of a mounting pile of trash. Benjy the buffalo joins lonely mate

By RAMESH C. PANDE
 NEW DELHI (UPI) — Benjy, the VIB (very important buffalo), traveled 15,000 miles from South Dakota to New Delhi to join a lonely female of his species.
 Benjy, 10 months old, weighs only 600 pounds now. But when fully grown, the shaggy groom will weigh about 2,000 pounds and sport a long, black beard, just as did his ancestors which once roamed America's Wild West in huge numbers.
 The young groom from South Dakota must wait another couple of years before he can mate.
 The average life span of a buffalo in the wild is from 15 to 20 years, but the prospective newlyweds can look forward to as many as 30 years together in their protected environment at New Delhi's Zoo, considered to be one of the best in the world today.
 Benjy's already grown-up consort, Jessie, became a widow a few years ago when she lost her mate in the local zoo.
 Late last year the U.S. ambassador in India, Kenneth Keating, learned of Jessie's bereavement.
 "I do not normally act as a go-between for prospective mates of non-human species," Keating said. "But it was disturbing to learn that Jessie was living alone so many miles away from home."
 The matchmaking called into action the U.S. State Department, the National Zoo in Washington, D.C., the Great Plains Zoo in Sioux Falls, S.D., and the Indian government.
 "Everyone played a magnificent role in bringing this match to consummation," Keating said. "There were moments when we were ready to give up."

British plays highly praised

NEW YORK (UPI)—The British, who have contributed so much to the New York stage in recent years, have come through with a pair of commendable plays — "Abelard and Heloise" by Ronald Millar and "The Philanthropist" by Christopher Hampton.
 "Abelard and Heloise" at the Brooks Atkinson Theater, is, of course, another of several dramas about the classic love story of that star-crossed French couple of the early 12th century who ran into trouble with the Roman Catholic Church.
 It is a well-turned piece of writing, rich in its period atmosphere, expertly directed by Robin Phillips and splendidly acted, with stress on interpretation of the title roles by Keith Michell and Diana Rigg.
 Briefly, Abelard, brilliant Catholic lay teacher of theology and philosophy who stresses the reason in all things, betrays his vow of celibacy when he falls in love with Heloise, niece of a Notre Dame canon. They have an illegitimate child, a secret marriage ceremony against her wishes solves nothing, the vengeful uncle has Abelard castrated and the two lovers are separated forever as they become monk and nun.
 In his early 20s, Hampton is regarded by the British as an outstanding new playwright, and "The Philanthropist," his first original work seen here, seems to bear this out.
 The play is a witty, literate, humorous study of an introverted professor of philology whose worship of words and their meanings makes him a man of letters. About 22.6 million homes enjoy it in all its tins — and there are almost 30 million color sets in use.
 Television once was regarded as a living room gimmick. Families have now installed sets in bedrooms, recreation rooms, even the kitchen. RCA designers are talking about a set-for-the-future for the housewife that will include a television screen, built-in computerized banking shopping facilities, digital clocks, radios, and other things.
 A quarter of a century ago, there were about 5,000 sets. Those were black-and-white with relatively tiny viewing screens.
 But even while black-and-white video was aborning, RCA demonstrated flickerless, all-electronic color.
 On Oct. 30, 1946 a public demonstration was held at Princeton, N.J. and the new method of transmission established a principle that long has been the dream of radio scientists.
 On Aug. 25, 1949, compatible, all-electronic color transmission was announced. Now, even the color has been improved by a new system, called Accumatic fine tuning. It locks the color and tint levels at a pre-set design range.

TV first appeared in 1946

NEW YORK (UPI)—It was 25 years ago this year that television first appeared in a few of the nation's living rooms.
 Now, there are approximately 60 million U.S. homes equipped with sets. About one-third of them have two or more receivers.
 Originally a neighborhood wonderment when a family purchased a 10-inch screen that flickered and faded, it now comes in color. About 22.6 million homes enjoy it in all its tins — and there are almost 30 million color sets in use.

Queen Clinic scheduled

TWIN FALLS — Twelve young women in Twin Falls County will be taking on the chore of staging the Fifth Annual Idaho Rodeo Queen Clinic in Twin Falls May 8 and 9.

Sponsored for the past four years by the Idaho Rodeo Queens' Association, the clinic is designed to help young women interested in competing for horse show and rodeo queen honors.

Karen Jones, Filer, leader of the Dozen Dudes 4-H Club, and a charter member of the sponsoring committee, said her 4-H club will handle the two-day event this year. All members have horse projects and many are interested in competing for queen titles this year.

The clinic is open to anyone interested but only the first 20 applicants will be accepted. Mrs. Jones said it is necessary to limit the enrollment to 20 to give those participating the best possible opportunity for first-hand assistance from the experts who will be working with them.

She said it is not necessarily restricted to young girls but is open to persons who will be judging in the contests or shows and who wish to become better informed. All age-limits have been lifted, she said, because of the increased popularity in queen selection for such events as the Little Britches Rodeo and Little Buckaroo Rodeo event in which children of all ages take part.

During the two-day event girls will have an opportunity to gain advice on clothing selection, the latest styles in street and Western wear, hair styles, makeup, and horsemanship. Several former Miss Rodeo Idaho title holders and possibly the current Miss Rodeo America, Lana Brackenbury, Jerome, will participate as coaches and speakers.

The first day is devoted to sessions in which assistance is offered on modeling, hair styling, makeup, clothing selection and public speaking.

On Sunday, May 9, the girls will meet at Frontier Field for horsemanship work and goat-tying. Mrs. Jones said each day's activities will begin at 8 a.m. and will continue through the day with a strenuous schedule.

Saturday's program will be in the Turf Club with a banquet Saturday night, open to the public.

Cost of the banquet is covered in the registration charge. Door prizes have been donated by local merchants for the banquet and range from hay and grain for the horses to boots and other clothing items.

Assisting in the clinic as instructors will be Yo Wilhite Marts, Nampa, former Miss Rodeo Idaho, and a veteran member of the clinic committee, and Jackie Bodenhofer Brown, Gooding, also a former Miss Rodeo Idaho and early clinic participant. They will direct horsemanship work and goat-tying sessions.

Jeanette Peterson and Marlon Robinson, Filer, will assist in clothing, hair styling and appearance. Jimmy Davis, Jerome, will offer assistance in the hairstyling for western costumes and in the use of wigs and wiglets.

Registration blanks are available from the sponsoring 4-H club members or from Western clothing and equipment firms in Twin Falls.

QUEEN CLINIC entries are being sent throughout Southern Idaho by members of the Dozen Dudes 4-H Club. The club will sponsor the fifth annual Idaho Rodeo Queen Clinic in Twin Falls May 8 and 9. From left are Debra Smith, vice president; Sharon White, assistant leader; Karen Jones, leader, and Paula Galloway, president.

Italians told to 'swear mildly'

By BARRY JAMES ROME (UPI)—The National Antiblaphemy Movement thinks it is a goldmine shame that Italians swear so much.

But the Milan-based organization is realistic about the impossibility of stamping out one of Italy's most deep-rooted vices. Instead it tries to persuade Italians, if curse they must, at least to respect the Second Commandment and not "Take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

Italians have the reputation of being the heartiest and most colorful cussers in Europe, equipped with a repertory that makes Anglo-Saxon four letterisms pale and repetitious by comparison. The Antiblaphemy Movement estimates 40 per cent of Italian men and 10 per cent of the women swear regularly.

"We perhaps cannot get rid of bad language, but at least we hope to persuade people to use a milder form of imprecations than blasphemy," said Ettore Giulietta, a 65-year-old priest who heads the movement.

The movement publishes a booklet of substitute expletives. It advises a person who feels an oath coming on to try something like "orcocane," which means ogre of a dog, and is similar to the existing "prococane" (pig of a dog) that already passes for a mild insult.

The movement asks Italians to forget the bloodcurdling invective they use to describe their enemies and try, perhaps, "sacripante"—it only means bullyboy in English but has a satisfying ring to it.

When everything seems against them, the movement advises Italians to let loose with "mondo ladro"—thieving world—instead of their customary stream of profanities and imprecations.

Getting people to swear "decently" is only half the anti-profanity battle of the movement, which was founded 10 years ago with the support of Pope Paul VI when he still was archbishop of Milan.

The movement has placed some 5,000 stickers in railway compartments and 78,000 in stores and bars appealing to people not to use profanity.

A typical sticker found in many bars reads: "Welcome to my customers. Happiness yes. Blasphemy no."

The movement, a nonpolitical and lay organization, has enlisted nearly 60,000 members, including 62 deputies and senators, in its anti-blasphemy battle. The members pay 16 cents a year in dues and a Milan bank picks up the tab for the group's deficit.

Winners listed of farm contest

TWIN FALLS — Early-eight photographs of Magic Valley Farms were featured by advertisers in the Times-News Farm Review and Forecast edition March 26.

First prize winner of a $100 savings bond is Mrs. Golden McMurdie, 105 Madison Street, Twin Falls. Second prize winner of a $50 savings bond is Mrs. Herbert May, 579 Quincy, Twin Falls.

Winners of $25 savings bonds are: Mrs. Marie Harding, 215 Du Bois Avenue, Twin Falls; Mrs. Vella Chambers, Route 1, Jerome, and Mrs. Donna Lutz, Route 2, Twin Falls.

Contestants were asked to correctly identify as many of the farms as possible. Correct answers could be obtained by visiting advertisers stores where the farm owner's names were posted.

The contest closed at midnight Friday, April 9.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—It's twice as costly to market farm products as to produce the food, say agricultural researchers at Texas A&M University.

Annual net worth of food raw materials when they leave the farm is about $32 billion but by the time they reach the consumer the same products sell for $96 billion.

of several groups fighting the same campaign. They all have the same general purpose—to change the swear words Italians use.

But no one has suggested changing the intonation.

Grand guardian visits Burley

BURLEY — Mrs. Helen Barclay, Coeur d'Alene, grand guardian of the State of Idaho and Supreme Director of Music, made her official visit to the Jobs Daughters of Bethel No. 18, Burley.

Mrs. Barclay conducted a school of instruction for council members and the five top officers. A luncheon was held at noon at the Ponderosa Inn.

In the afternoon Mrs. Barclay conducted special sessions for all Bethel members. A formal dinner was served by members of the Evergreen Chapter No. 46, Order of the Eastern Star. The business session was held under the direction of Trudy Sherrod, honored queen.

Members initiated were Patricia Larson and Tammy Breeding.

Special honored guests were introduced Carolyn Wylle, honored queen of Bethel No. 56, Twin Falls; Mrs. Barclay and Debbie Thronburg, Sweetheart of Mount Harrison Chapter DeMolay. Guests attended from Rupert, Jerome, Pocatello and Burley.

Mrs. Hans Forschler directed the musical program. Melody Forschler sang a solo accompanied by Edi Lou King on the guitar; Gara Barlow and RoxAnn Lee each sang a solo accompanied by Andrea Skaggs, Bethel musician.

Ted Kelsey, associate guardian for the Bethel, presented rituals to the new initiates.

Members of the Bethel presented Mrs. Barclay with a monetary gift for the Shriner's Children's Hospital.

Easter egg hunt held at Filer

FILER — Max's Clover Farm donated all the eggs for the Filer Easter egg hunt at the fairgrounds Thursday morning, according to Mrs. Don Lierman, chairman for the egg hunt.

Other Filer merchants who assisted with donations were the Filer Mutual Telephone Company, Bud's Repair, Idaho First National Bank and Filer Super Service.

Special prize winners in the one to two year old children were Alexandra Barker and Wayne Billington, while Valerie Sheridan and Julie Hepworth were winners in the three and four year olds, and Dana Jones and Ronnie Stultz won the special prizes in the five and six year old class.

Mrs. Jay Hannenbaum was co-chairman of the event, an annual project of the Filer Civic and Home Extension Club.

Pointers given to club

FILER — Harry Gault, instructor of agriculture business at the College of Southern Idaho, spoke to Maroa Woman's Club members Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl Blass, and gave them pointers on the proper use of herbicides and fertilizers.

Mrs. Irene Childers was appointed to represent the club in the Best Cooks Contest in Buhl. Mrs. Ted Johnson presented the inspirational thought for the day. A thank-you note for a dinner served after funeral services was read from the Joe Simon family.

Mrs. Ben Mai and Mrs. Ray Hepworth won prizes. A bulb and plant sale was featured at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Cecil Brown was assistant hostess.

Mrs. Johnson will host the May 13 meeting, assisted by Mrs. Wayne McCandless.

Crowned

RICHFIELD — Ron Jones was crowned king and Sandra Brauberger queen of the Richfield Junior-Senior prom Thursday night at the high school.

Scott Ward was named prince and Joyce Brauberger was the princess. Theme for the prom was "We've only Just Begun." The Burley High School dance band provided music.

Why You Need Extra Cash In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family

Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever—you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month
Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security
For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, you will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead!"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1
Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesman will call. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered by Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 68 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha, when you are hospitalized.

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized.

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

when you are hospitalized, $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized, $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $6.45 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized. $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized.

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

$14.28 daily extra cash when you are hospitalized. $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof

(unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any lawfully operated hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:
50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS... if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).
If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:
DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$1,499.40 A MONTH!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "un-insurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan$2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan 3.50
Male on any Plan 3.50

19 Important Questions Answered ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

- What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?
The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand new, low-cost health protection plan that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.
- Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?
Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.
- Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?
Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.
- Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?
None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.
- Which plan should I choose?
You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!
If you live by yourself, or wish to cover only one family member, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.
If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.
If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN: You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.
If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.
- If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?
On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day of covered hospital confinement, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.
- How much extra is paid?
Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.
For example, under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000 - $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized.
- Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500 - $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.
- Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000 - $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 monthly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized; $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.
- Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500 - $428.40 monthly ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $214.20 monthly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.
- Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?
Yes! You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).
- What are the "double" cash benefits?
If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY or HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits: You get twice the amount—$1,499.40 A MONTH!
- Does this plan pay in any hospital?
You will be covered in any lawfully operated hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.
- When does my policy go into force?
It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.
- What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?
Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.
- What conditions aren't covered?
Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.
- Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?
We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy or change your rates unless we do "so" on all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.
- Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?
When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500 or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account!"
- Will my claims be handled promptly?
Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.
- Why are the premiums so low?
With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesman will call. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.
- How much does my first month cost?
Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay: only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)
- Why should I enroll right now?
Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

Bertie Poultry farm in Twin Falls sold to firm

TWIN FALLS — Sale of the 34-year-old Bertie's Poultry Farms Inc., Twin Falls, one of the largest poultry processing concerns in the state, was announced today by John P. Bertie.

Bertie, one of the owners of the family-operated business, said the firm has been purchased by a new corporation, Northwest Poultry Growers Inc. The new corporation was formed by about 40 employees and growers for Bertie's on April 2.

President of the new corporation is Vaughn E. Egan, Burley, and other officers are Ralph Esslinger, Twin Falls, vice president, and Irene Bertie, secretary-treasurer.

Elected by stockholders to serve on the board of directors in addition to the officers are Donald Fox, Ralph Bogar, Twin Falls; Robert Adamson, Carey, and Jay M. Anderson, Wendell.

In addition to Bertie's Poultry Farms Inc., the new corporation has also purchased Bertie's Apple Valley Farms,

Twin Falls, the agricultural phase of the business.

Bertie said the new corporation has been operating the business since April 5.

The purchase was on a contract basis, he said, and a meeting was held in Twin Falls this morning with creditors of the old company to discuss plans for liquidating the firm's indebtedness.

Bertie said under the new operation, the firm will be able to expand and will be able to sell stock for operating capital, growth and to bring more individuals into the organization. No change in personnel at the plant is planned, he said.

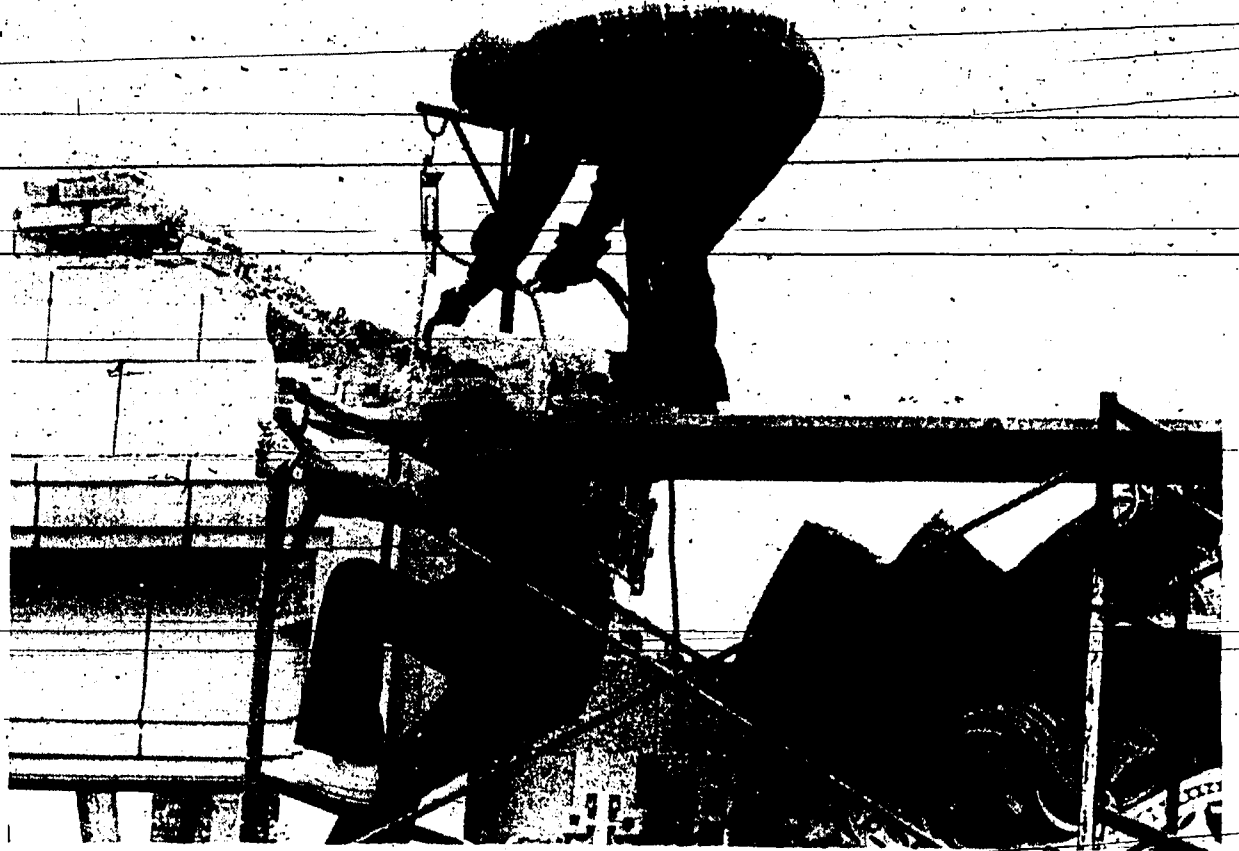

Bertie's parents started the business in the kitchen sink of the family home in 1937 as a part-time income and spare time project. It has grown in the past 34 years to one of the largest poultry products outlets in the state.

Production is now about seven million pounds of poultry per year, shipped throughout eight western states including Alaska, Bertie said.

Growers for the firm are located in Magic Valley, Boise Valley and in the Tremonton, Utah area.

In addition to John P. Bertie and his wife, Irene, owners of the Bertie's Poultry Farms Inc. and Bertie's Apple Valley Farms Inc., included his mother, Cecilia Bertie, original owner. All three will remain as minority stockholders in the company, Bertie said.

VOLUNTEERS WORK ATOP the remains of the Workman Ford building on Second Avenue East to remove the carvings, visible at lower right, from the front of the building. The workers include members of the Twin Falls County Historical Society and others, including Bernard Schmidt, on top on scaffolding, a former vice president of the historical society; and his son Kent, climbing the scaffolding. The Signs, Inc., firm donated and manned its crane for the job.

2 drug suspects confined

HAZELTON — Two Hazelton men arrested for violation of state drug laws remained in custody Monday at the Jerome County jail.

Gene Fredericksen, Jerome County prosecutor, said their arrests culminated a valley-wide narcotics investigation by agents of the State Bureau of Drug Control.

Arrested Thursday were Shannon Ross, 18, and Charles Lee Kimball, 22, both charged with selling narcotics to an undercover agent.

During arraignment Friday before Jerome County Magistrate Russell Shaud, bond was set at $1,500 for both. It had not been posted. Phillip Becker, public defender, was named to represent Kimball and Ross indicated he would obtain his own attorney.

Neither suspect has yet requested a preliminary hearing, pending consultation with their attorneys.

The arrests Thursday bring the total arrested last week on drug violations to 15. The arrests began on April 5 in Jerome, with a raid on a narcotics center in that area, according to Fredericksen.

Seven suspects were arrested for possession of narcotics, two for selling narcotics to an undercover agent and four vehicles were seized, Fredericksen said.

The area-wide crackdown continued in Burley Wednesday evening. There, Bureau of Drug Control agents, in cooperation with local authorities, executed six search warrants simultaneously. Five Burley residents were arrested on charges of selling narcotics, enumerated drugs and prescription drugs to an undercover agent. Another subject was arrested for allegedly assaulting an undercover agent with a deadly weapon.

Arrest warrants have been issued by Magic Valley magistrates for others accused of passing drugs in the area.

The arrests last week were the result of a six-month-long investigation in the area by agents of the State Bureau of Drug Control.

Puntney receives award

JEROME — C.H. Puntney, Jerome City police chief, received the Jerome Elks distinguished citizenship award Saturday evening during the Elks annual installation ceremonies.

Chief Puntney received the award, the local Elks Club's first, for outstanding meritorious service to humanity. Presenting the award was Darwin Shulsen, exalted ruler.

He received the award for his work with the youth in the city and for the outstanding job in maintaining law and order in Jerome.

Drug charge shifted to fit age

BURLEY — Cassia County Magistrate Gleason Anderson dismissed the juvenile petitions against Russell Heitzman today when it was discovered that Heitzman is 18 years-old and not 17 as previously thought.

Heitzman, who was one of the Burley residents arrested in a drug raid last Wednesday, today had charges filed against him as an adult for one sale of marijuana and one sale of LSD on Feb. 27.

He is presently free on $300 bond, Gordon Nielson, Cassia County prosecuting attorney said.

Fairground vandals do cleanup

SHOSHONE — Damage from rock throwing at the fairgrounds here netted the offenders, six teen-age boys, some work and cash.

Shoshone City police said six windows were broken at fair buildings.

The boys were not taken into court, but through consultation with school authorities and the county agent's office, and agreement was reached in which the boys cleaned up the outside and inside areas of the building and replaced the broken glass.

The youths ranged in age from 16-19.

Hearing set on Sawtooth

BOISE (UPI) — A proposal that the Sawtooth Primitive Area be included in the National Wilderness System will be up for a formal public hearing in Boise May 4 at 10 a.m. at the Rodeway Inn.

Vern Hamre, U. S. Forest Service Intermountain Region Forester, Ogden, Utah, said the proposal is made under provisions of the 1964 Wilderness Act, providing all National Forest primitive areas be considered for inclusion in the nation's wilderness system.

The proposal recommends some 185,388 acres of the Sawtooth Primitive Area in the Sawtooth, Challis and Boise national forests be added to the system.

The Forest Service proposes 19,804 acres of the Sawtooth Primitive Area be excluded from wilderness classification, and also suggests 13,902 acres adjoining the primitive area be incorporated within the proposed wilderness area.

A hearing on the re-classification proposal is planned May 3 in the Sun Valley Opera House, and the Boise hearing will follow May 4. The area would be withdrawn from mineral entry once the wilderness designation becomes official.

Hamre said, with exception of existing valid rights. Under the 1964 Wilderness Act, mineral entry in wilderness areas is permitted until 1983. A study by the U. S. Geological Survey and the U. S. Bureau of Mines indicates very little mineralization in the area proposed as wilderness.

Persons unable to attend the hearings may submit written comments to the Regional Forester, 324 25th Street, Ogden, Utah, for inclusion in the official report. Deadline is June 3.

Bliss showing features rocks

BLISS — "Putting It All Together" was the theme for the Northside Gem and Hobby Club's first annual gem, rock and antique show held Saturday and Sunday at the Bliss High School gymnasium. The show featured exhibits from southern Idaho and parts of Oregon and California.

Mark Stepler, Spencer, demonstrated how to cut Idaho opals, and a demonstration of amber cutting was given by Lowell Fields, Gooding. The art of making arrowheads was shown by Ray Anderson, Clearfield, Utah, and methods of pottery making were demonstrated by Aldrich Bowler, Bliss, of the Snake River Pottery. Ross Parker, Hagerman, made gold wire jewelry mountings at the exhibit.

Some of the special displays at the rock show included a 50,000-year-old prehistoric bison skull exhibited by the Osgood Agate Shop, Rupert. Among the other displays were wood carvings from the Gooding State School; old bottles from Galena, probably the earliest town on the Wood River; antique books, pictures, coins, dolls, and clothes from Marjean Anderson, Hagerman; Chinese and Russian beads from Hazel Fields, Gooding; shells and petrified wood from Hugh Denton, Burley, and semi-precious stones from Jim Henry, Gooding, and Harry Jennings, Buhl.

Miniature furniture made from agate were displayed by Harold Johnson, Emmett, and other agate displays came from Blaine Boley, Murtaugh; Juanita Christoffersen, Bliss; Carl Abercrombie, Emmett, and Lowell Fields, Gooding. Opals were exhibited by Howard Duncan, Burley, and Spencer Opal Mine, Spencer. Silver mountings were displayed by Irv Kacalek, Bellevue.

Wood R. survey at end

SHOSHONE — Citizens of four Magic Valley counties are reminded by Ivan Hopkins, Lincoln county extension agent, that Monday is the last day to complete the survey questionnaire from the Wood River Resource committee and mail it back to their respective counties.

Results of the questionnaires mailed to Blaine, Camas, Lincoln and Gooding county residents have started coming in, Hopkins said, with about 31 per cent answering so far. He said the answers are varied and will definitely assist in the future planning for improvements and development of the four-county area.

He said the results show a fair sample of public opinion. The answers are to be processed by a computer at the University of Idaho and results will be made public.

In some cases the husband and wife have each answered the questions, and some of their answers are different, showing the serious thought given the questions. Most additional remarks are favorable to the survey, though a few have been rude, he said.

Visual art aids learning process

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A recent report to the Department of Health Education and Welfare by a group of Los Angeles educators points out that children learn quicker when they have a chance to express themselves through visual art and picture taking.

Not only is there a marked improvement in the child's ability to express himself artistically, the report concluded, but significant test data showed that their new-found sense of visual awareness enabled them to achieve higher reading and vocabulary scores.

A study of five school districts in Los Angeles County showed that the visual awareness of an experimental group of nine and ten year olds in the fourth grade was superior to a comparable group not similarly stimulated visually. In the Iowa basic skills test for example, reading comprehension for the experimental group showed a 8.7 point gain compared to a 6.9 point gain for the others over a complete school year.

It was also brought out that of the groups tested, those from lower socio-economic levels experimented more widely and exhibited a greater learning potential than the others. The children were tested in three areas.

First, they were given cameras and sketch pads and asked to see visual art data in a variety of environments—on their way to school, to the park, the zoo. They then recorded their impressions with the cameras or their sketchbooks.

Second, they were asked to use their experiences during their walks as a source of ideas to which they could respond in various art media. They used crayons, paint and pieces of wood, plastic, cloth and yarn to give form to their ideas.

In the third area of study, the children learned to view and respond to works of art during three study trips to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

There, they were accompanied by non-teacher-volunteers who explained the art works and elicited their responses.

From results of the photographic experiments, the teachers concluded that photography proved to be a "valid and reliable instrument" in evaluating visual awareness.

One of the more surprising outgrowths of the study, both from the teachers' standpoint and that of the experimental group's was the emergence of the quick learning of the children from low socio-economic levels.

"This was totally unpredictable," said Earl Owens, one of two consultants who assisted the director, Dr. Frances D. Hine. Owens said he did not know why the children from families of low socio-economic backgrounds improved their reading scores more rapidly.

"Children who have more restricted environments may tend to explore more," he said.

Course slated at hospital

Boise men set visit in T.F.

TWIN FALLS — Dr. John M. McKain, local course coordinator, has announced plans completed for the University of Oregon Medical School circuit course which will be presented Tuesday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for physicians of Magic Valley.

The continuing course, according to Dr. McKain, is "Coronary Artery Disease." The four and one-half hour seminar will contain information about the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of coronary artery disease. Scientific advances in this disease in recent years have resulted in a new bank of knowledge useful to both the primary physician and the physician specialist and patient.

Businessmen from the Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce will host a group of Twin Falls businessmen Tuesday with a hospitality hour and banquet at the Rogerson Hotel starting at 6:30 p.m.

In letters to invited Twin Falls businessmen, W. Charles Anderson president of the Greater Boise Chamber, said "the purpose of this annual trip is to become better acquainted with you — and you with us — and we have nothing to sell."

The Boise citizens will arrive in a chartered bus. More than 50 are expected to be in the group.

Vicar exorcises spirits of youth

LONDON (UPI)—The Rev. Christopher Neil-Smith can understand the parents' point of view when they ask him to exorcise the evil spirits which they are sure have taken possession of their suddenly rebellious teen-age sons and daughters.

What else, they ask in anguish, could turn beloved children into violent strangers? "Sometimes they are right," said the 49-year-old vicar of St. Saviour's Church, one of the few clerics authorized by the bishop of London to conduct the rite of exorcism. "The evil spirit is cast out and the children become themselves again."

In addition to his usual ministry, Neil-Smith has moved for the past 20 years through an almost medieval world where there are suspicions of black magic, of spells and poltergeists and innocent victims in the baleful control of evil spirits. From time to time his activities surface in the ordinary world of workday London.

Recently for example his testimony was carefully considered in court—as it has been before—in a hearing that might have come out of the Salem witch trials. A 13-year-old boy was accused of setting a school on fire causing $168,000 damage.

The defense admitted the charge but asserted the boy was under the influence of evil spirits at the time. His attorney told of strange events at his home—fires that started mysteriously, heavy furniture that moved of its own accord.

Desperate, his parents resorted to the ancient ritual of fire, earth and water within a circle to try to help their son.

They drew a chalk circle and placed a lighted candle, a saucer of earth and a glass of water inside it. The old witchcraft remedy did not work and Neil-Smith was asked to conduct the rite of exorcism at the altar of his church. In an interview at his vicarage he said it was successful.

He said the boy had been "wholly controlled by an outside force." The case was adjourned for medical study of the youngster.

If the demands on Neil-Smith are any criterion, the times are getting worse. A well-built former cricket player and Cambridge graduate, he said he had exorcised more than 1,000 spirits and ghosts, the vast majority—some 800—in the past three years. In some instances the parents have come to him, in others the youngsters themselves, "wondering what has gotten into them" that they are so obsessed with "seduction and destruction."

He said John Lennon of the Beatles had chatted with him about the subject and had agreed that evil is a form of energy. "Police at the Charles Manson trial (in Los Angeles) reported vibrations in the courtroom," the cleric said. "They could have been evil."

Neil-Smith said actual cases of possession were rare; what most people meant was "oppression" by an evil spirit. But possession, when it appeared, was extraordinary. He told of a boy in his 20s, quite happy with his widowed mother's second marriage, who suddenly tried to strangle her.

He was committed to a mental home in such a violent state he could only be brought out for trial under the guard of male nurses. Neil-Smith conducted the rite of exorcism and discovered the youth was a puppet for his dead father, an insanely jealous man when he was alive.

"The father didn't want anyone else to have his wife," Neil-Smith said. "The boy is still a bit unstable but he is no longer violent and visits his mother on his own."

Japanese car sales worry Detroit firms

NEW YORK (UPI)—The way Japanese automobiles are grabbing a major share of the American market for foreign cars worries Detroit.

The Japanese makers have captured about 30 per cent of the market for importers in only a few years. Most significant is that both the American marketers of the Nipponese cars and independent automobile trade experts say they have done so more at the expense of Detroit's compacts and minicars than European cars.

"The Japanese are mainly responsible for the enormous growth of imported car sales in the last few years in spite of Detroit's introduction of very small cars," said an editor of Automotive News.

Take Subaru. This moderately priced front-wheel drive import made by Fuji heavy industries in Japan is relatively new to America. Yet Michael L. Sanyour, who left Volkswagen to become president of the American company distributing Subaru, noted that Subaru sales grew so fast they passed sales of the French Peugeot by 12 per cent last year. In 1969, Peugeot outsold Subaru in the United States two-to-one. This year, Sanyour hopes to sell 20,000 Subarus.

That could pull Subaru even with Renault which has been on the American market in force since World War II. But Sanyour admits it would take him a long time to catch the two top selling Japanese cars in America. Toyota sold 184,896 cars in the U.S. last year and Datsun sold 100,541.

Neither of the two Japanese leaders threatens Volkswagen which sold 565,000 in the U.S. last year. Sanyour points out, however, that the Japanese have cut Volkswagen's share of the U.S. market from 40 per cent to about 35 per cent.

Several Japanese cars on the U.S. market—aside from the leaders—sell around 20,000. One goes under an American name, the Colt, made for the Dodge division of Chrysler by the Mitsubishi Co. in Japan. Another is the Mazda, made by a relatively small company. It is sold in western and southern states with the option of either a conventional motor or a Wankel rotating combustion engine.

THE MOST COMFORTABLE PLACE IN THE HOUSE

WITH FLAMELESS ELECTRIC WATER HEATING

The relaxing comfort of a soaking bath is hard to beat, especially when you have a generous supply of hot water. Flameless electric water heaters have been bringing comfort for years. Ever so fast, clean, quiet, dependable and free of care, they have no match for efficiency. No wonder they are the overwhelming first choice of families in our area.* It's another among the many jobs electricity does best.

*Electric water heating was chosen for more than nine out of ten new homes built in 1970 in the area served by Idaho Power Company.

considerable cloudiness and some showers in the northern mountains. A strong high pressure ridge will build over Southern Idaho tonight and Tuesday. This will result in mostly fair skies and warmer daytime temperatures late today through Tuesday. There will be increasing clouds again late Tuesday or Tuesday night over the western half of the area as the next frontal system begins to affect the area.

Hodgkin's cure followed effort

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

CAREFREE, Ariz. (UPI)—Ten years of scientific effort have produced curative treatments for a highly lethal form of cancer—Hodgkin's disease—but those treatments are to be had only in the best medical centers, a panel of experts said Wednesday.

At Stanford and other top medical centers the first three stages are treated with "the expectation of curing," by high voltage X-rays generated by a linear accelerator directed in carefully calculated dosages at carefully "mapped" nodes. The far advanced stage four cases are treated with drugs.

all cases," Kaplan said. The results are being achieved at all the "best" medical centers equipped with the expensive linear accelerator or its equivalent. The experts were reluctant to list the centers for fear of omitting some.

Top men discuss

CHARLES COODY discusses the Masters while a dejected Jack Nicklaus listens. Nicklaus tied for second, after a strong challenge.

Coody terms Masters championship as revenge

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Charles Coody, the green coat of the Masters championship draped over his big shoulders after his two-stroke triumph, looked back to two years ago Sunday and the word he used was "revenge."

Coody, who had won only two tournaments in eight years as a golf professional until he came sailing down the stretch Sunday to beat both tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus and 23-year-old John Miller by two strokes with his final-round 70 for a nine-under-par 72-hole total of 279, admitted that he was under pressure this time, too.

Coody said the shot that won the tournament for him was a seven-iron second shot on the 17th hole. He had just gone into the lead with consecutive birdies on the 15th with a nine-foot putt and the 16th with a 15-foot putt when he messed up his tee shot on the 17th.

Coody said the shot that won the tournament for him was a seven-iron second shot on the 17th hole. He had just gone into the lead with consecutive birdies on the 15th with a nine-foot putt and the 16th with a 15-foot putt when he messed up his tee shot on the 17th.

Masters cost Nicklaus a chance for a "Grand Slam"

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus is looking ahead to 1972. The way Jack sees it: since losing this year's Masters cost him his chance to win an unprecedented "Grand Slam" in '71, he'll just have to try again next year.

Nicklaus was short and to the left on an eight-iron tee shot and hi ball landed at the edge of Raes Creek, on a sand bar. "I tried to play out with a sand wedge but hit the top of the bank and the ball rolled back down," Nicklaus explained sadly.

Coody, also paid tribute to his caddy, 27-year-old Walter "Cricket" Pritchett, a bus driver from Atlanta, Ga.—originally from Houston, Tex.

"Cricket and I have a real good rapport and it certainly helped me," said Coody. "He knows that when I've got a feeling for using a certain club I should use it, even when strict logic tells him I should use another club. And he's in there for me all the time—he doesn't moan and groan when I mess something up. He caddied for me in '69, too."

Roy Pace takes Magnolia Classic

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI) —Texan Roy Pace fired a five par 65 Sunday to take a one stroke victory and $7,000 prize money in the fourth annual Magnolia State Golf Classic.

The 29-year-old Longview, Tex. pro had a 72-hole score of 270, followed at 271 by Jack Lewis Jr. of Florence, S. C. Fred Marti of Baytown, Tex., was third with a 273.

Senators rally past New York

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bernie Allen's bases-loaded pinch single tied the score and Curt Blefary's error on the hit let in the winning run Sunday as the Washington Senators rallied to edge New York 4-3 in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Yankees won the opener, 1-0, on Steve Kline's five-hit shutout and Blefary's inside-the-park homer.

The Senators, trailing 3-0 and held scoreless for 23 straight innings, opened their four-run sixth inning attack when El Maddox singled and scored on Frank Howard's long double.

After walks to Mike Epstein and Richie Schenblum filled the bases with two out, Allen cracked a two-strike single off reliever Jack Aker; driving in Howard and Epstein. When Blefary bobbled the hit in right, Schenblum came all the rest of the way from first with the tie-breaking run.

A walk to Horace Clarke and singles by Roy White and Bobby Murcer had given New York a 1-0 lead in the third inning.

Orioles, Tigers trade victories

Nate Colbert tied a club record by driving in six runs with a pair of homers and a ground out Sunday as the San Diego Padres beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-7.

Royals walk over Angels

OAKLAND (UPI)—Catcher Ed Kirkpatrick and pinchhitter Bobby Knopp each drove in two runs to key a 15-hit Kansas City attack Sunday in a 10-5 win over Oakland.

Gibson led attack bows SF Giants

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bob Gibson continued his mastery over San Francisco Sunday as he won his sixth straight from the Giants, 4-2, in the first game of a doubleheader.

Kaat leads Minnesota victory

CHICAGO (UPI)—Jim Kaat scattered 11 hits and drove in two runs with a bases-filled single in the fourth inning Sunday to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 5-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Indians defeat Red Sox

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Alan Foster, making his American League pitching debut, tossed a three-hitter but needed relief help in the ninth Sunday, as the Cleveland Indians ran their winning streak to three games by defeating the Boston Red Sox 7-2.

first trick. East's best return is a diamond. South must go up with the ace, enter dummy with a trump, ruff a club, enter dummy with a second trump, ruff a second club, go to dummy with another trump, ruff out dummy's last club and finally throw West in with a diamond.

Oswald: "West's best lead will be a spade. If he leads low, South must stick in dummy's nine. If he leads the jack, South must cover with dummy's queen."

Jim: "Either way, East is end-played and forced to give South the rest of the tricks."

Oswald: "I mentioned transfer bids earlier. Actually, this South-hand is not one that really cries out for use of a transfer bid since sometimes it is better to keep the really unbalanced hand concealed."

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "Here is a good hand for second-hand low. South couldn't wait to put the queen of diamonds on West's jack and his ace on East's king."

Oswald: "If South had used a transfer bid to get the four-heart play into the North hand there would have been no trouble winning game and rubber. Or if South had simply played low from dummy as he should have, everything would have worked out nicely. Even after playing the queen of diamonds, South could have made 10 tricks if he had let East hold the first trick."

Jim: "I'll show the play after letting East hold that

by L.M. Boyd

AMONG those fortunate fellows who earn over $100,000 a year, research shows 15 out of 100 either make their own breakfast or eat out. . . . IT'S A MEDICAL ESTIMATE pause that cigarettes have killed almost five times as many Americans as were killed in combat in all of our wars since the Revolution gasp . . . QUICK, NAME those three fields of activity wherein you find child prodigies. No, not art, not literature. They're music, mathematics and chess. Yes, chess.

OLD SOLDIERS never die, they just fade away. You've heard that. Far more widely known observation than any of these, certainly: Old lawyers never die, they just lose their appeal. Old bookkeepers never die, they just lose their figures. And old ticket agents never die, they just lose their reservations.

MOST commercial airliners in this country have no seat No. 13 . . . WHAT'S missing from the motion picture rating system is an "M" category for films you can take your mother to. Agreed? . . . WHY breast cancer occurs far more often on the left than on the right is another mystery . . . AM TOLD the word "smile" appears nowhere in the Bible. Odd . . . CAN YOU name the only four states wherein there are no ski slopes?

NEXT TIME you're driving at night in the vicinity of that dandy little metropolis called Shiprock in New Mexico, observe the luminous cows that shine in the dark. Citizens thereabouts spray their loose livestock with reflective paint. What glows by the side of the road is not just a mysterious pair of eyes, but the whole hairy beast. Particularly weird when purple.

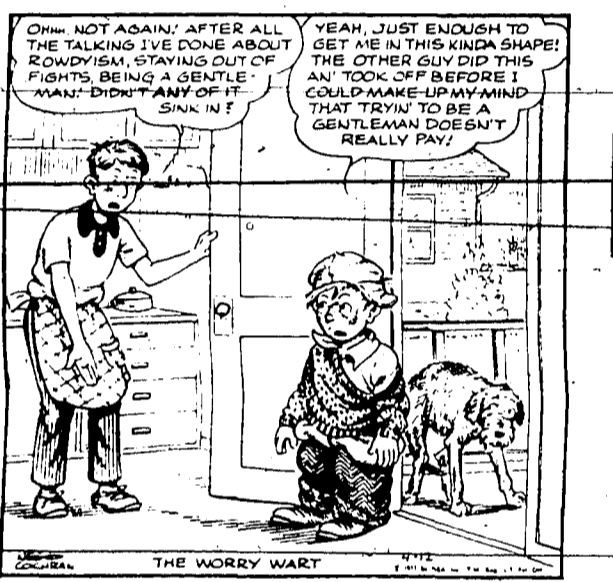

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q: "Those African tribesmen who eat grasshoppers, do they eat the wings and legs, too?" A. Not supposed to. That's bad form. When snacking on grasshoppers, you tear off the wings and legs first, remember that. Unless the grasshoppers are french fried, then it's all right . . . Q: "How does President Nixon like his steak?" A. Medium rare.

ARGUMENT CONTINUES over whether it's legal, as herein once reported, to change your name without going to court. Our expert in the law still insists it is. What's illegal, he says, is to change your name with intent to defraud . . . ANY EXPERIENCED ARTIST will verify this. If the main object in a painting is on the left, it will look closer than if it were on the right. Take a look at the pictures around your house. Checks out, does it not?

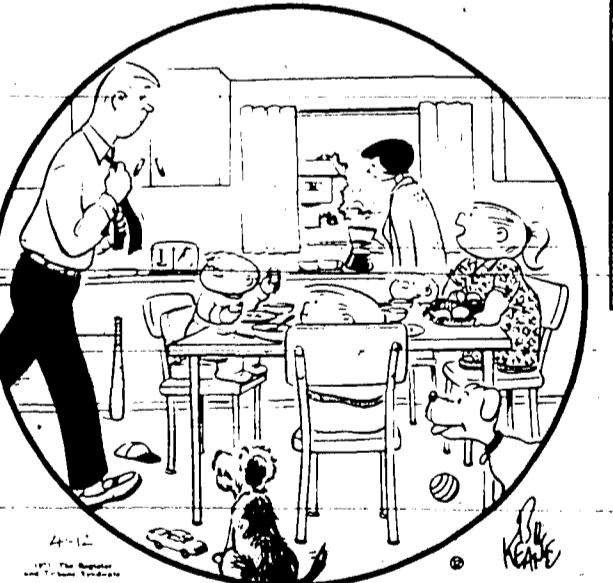

"WHEN IT COMES to nagging," writes a feminine subscriber, "what's the difference between husbands and wives? Men nag, don't they?" Sure enough, says our Love and War man, men nag. With a difference, however. Men nag their wives about what their wives do. Wives nag their husbands about what their husbands don't do.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 17076, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.
