Protests don't budge Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon said Thursday night he would not be "intimidated" by antiwar demonstrators in Washington but would stick to his policy of attempting to win a lasting peace in Indochina.

In a televised news conference, the President said a more rapid withdrawal from Vietnam advocated by his critics would lead to a "very dangerous situation in the Pacific and would increase the dangers of war in the future." He said demonstrators who break the law will be prosecuted.

Nixon also bid to further improve American relations with Communist China, saying "I hope and I expect to visit mainland China ... at some time in my life, in some capacity."

He said he would in a matter of weeks announce a list of nonstrategic goods the United States would be willing to trade with China, but he cautioned it was "premature" to speculate about whether the United States would support Peking's entry into the United Nations. He said he had not made a decision on this issue.

"I would just summarize it this way," Nixon said of the improvement of contact between the United States and China illustrated by the recent visit of a U.S. table tennis team to the mainland. "What we've done is broken the ice. Now we have to test the water to see how deep it is."

When he said he would like to travel to China, Nixon said, he was "referring only to a hope, an expectation."

Referring to antiwar demonstrations in Washington for almost two weeks, Nixon said he wanted to correct an impression from television accounts that "Washington is somewhat in a state of siege."

"The Congress is not intimidated," Nixon said. "The President is not intimidated. This government is going to go forward."

But he said he did "not want to leave the impression that those who came to demonstrate were not listened to."

Nixon repeated that he would not set a definite date for the withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam. He said it would have the effect of saying to the North Vietnamese, "We quit, regardless of what you do."

The setting of a definite date, Nixon said, would destroy any incentive the other side might have to negotiate and would destroy the American bargaining position of prisoners of war.

Spring bloom

To abide by rule

PRESIDENT NIXON told news conference Thursday the administration will abide by Supreme Court decision busing should be used to eliminate segregation in southern schools created by local or state laws. He also vowed government has heard demonstrators' demands for end to Indochina war, but will not be intimidated by them. Nixon said he hopes to visit Communist China sometime. (UPI)

Amtrak

Judge won't delay midnight changeover

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. District Judge Howard Corcoran refused today to order a delay in the scheduled takeover at midnight of most of the nation's railroad passenger service by a semipublic corporation.

Railroad unions and a consumer lobbying group made immediate plans to appeal the decision in a last minute effort to prevent the corporation—called Amtrak—from implementing its plan to drop 101 of the nation's intercity 285 passenger trains beginning Saturday.

The unions had charged that the labor protection provisions of the Amtrak contract with participating railroads were inadequate and would work extreme hardship on up to 25,000 rail workers, some of whom they said could be cut off without a cent of severance pay.

The National Association of Railroad Passengers also asked for a delay on the ground that the railroads had not followed proper procedure requiring a 30-day public notice they would discontinue passenger service after signing contracts with Amtrak.

But the main suit was the one filed by rail labor unions, which charged that Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson's order stipulating required protections for laid-off or otherwise displaced employees was inadequate and not in compliance with Interstate Commerce Commission regulations.

On Capitol Hill, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield threatened to try by legislation to prevent the takeover, but there was no chance for full Congressional action because the House was not in session today.

The Senate Commerce Committee refused Thursday to heed Mansfield's request for action.

Amtrak—Code word for the National Railroad Passenger Corp.—plans to operate 184 intercity passenger trains, compared with the present 285. Mansfield has opposed the plan because the service in his home state, Montana, would be across the northern section of the state, instead of through the more populous southern section.

"The people in the heartland of this country are as entitled to railroad service as are the big cities on the east and west coasts," Mansfield said Thursday.

B52 bombs keep border pressure

By BARNEY SEIBERT
SAIGON (UPI)—Waves of B52 bombers struck near the borders of Laos today to prevent the North Vietnamese from attacking the rear of the slow-moving South Vietnamese push into the A Shau Valley. Other B52s hit the Central Highlands and ranged into Cambodia and over the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

The U.S. command said the B52s had dropped more than 3,400 tons of bombs in the A Shau area since April 14 both in direct support of the A Shau operation known as Lam Son 720 and against Communist positions near the Laos border behind the operation.

The South Vietnamese so far have moved along the northern fringes of the valley which is a dense jungle nestled between 10,000-foot mountain peaks.

Maj. Gen. Phan Van Phu, commander of the ARVN 1st Infantry Division conducting the sweep, said today at his Lang Vang headquarters his troops may cross into Laos again "if I think it advisable."

Exact location of the ARVN force was not known but in a skirmish Thursday in which they had no losses they were reported only a few miles from the border. It was in this area that the heaviest B52 raids struck, following a pattern in which the ARVN moves into the target areas after the strikes.

In fighting in Cambodia near the border town of Snoul the South Vietnamese backed by U.S. airpower said they killed 23 Communists along Highway 7, losing five men wounded.

B52s struck Communist supply routes in this area as well as in support of the A Shau Valley forces.

War crime probe set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman F. Edward Hebert of the House Armed Services Committee says the committee staff will examine unofficial testimony about alleged war crimes committed by U.S. soldiers in Vietnam.

In a brief speech on the House floor Thursday, Hebert said the staff would study the allegations made during four days of informal hearings before any formal hearing was held—the procedure followed after the My Lai massacre.

Hebert said that any investigation of the allegations would be done by the committee in secret session. A spokesman for Hebert said today the fact that the staff would investigate the charges did not necessarily mean that the chairman would call for formal hearings.

Freshman Rep. Ronald V. Dellums, D-Calif., said at the end of the informal hearings that he was not interested in committee hearings if they are held in secret.

Tutors offered 7% pay increase

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer
TWIN FALLS — Trustees of Twin Falls School District No. 411 have proposed a salary scale for the 1971-72 school year averaging about 7 per cent in pay raises for all teachers and boosting starting salaries above the $6,000 mark.

The proposal was presented to a faculty negotiating committee in a closed board meeting Wednesday night. The committee will in turn present the offer to the teachers in a mass meeting Monday afternoon at the high school.

Trustees will then meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the school administration offices to take formal action on the salary schedule. Contracts for the coming school year cannot be sent out until salaries are approved, and with the delay in determining state appropriations, the school district is "way behind schedule" in contracting teachers, Dr. Ernest H. Ragland, superintendent of schools, said today.

The proposed salary schedule incorporates an additional $20 per month benefit for group insurance premiums, for employees on the district's group plan, and $15 per month in additional salary for employees buying their own insurance.

In order to qualify for the $15 per month benefit, however, a district employee must certify that he is carrying insurance equal to the district's group coverage.

The proposed salary scale ranges from a low of $5,215 for a new teacher with three years of training to a high of $9,085 for a teacher with 17 or more years of experience and a master's degree or above. For teachers employed at the present time, the lowest salary will be $5,350 for a teacher with three years of experience and three years of training. The district has no teachers with less than three years of experience at the present time.

Increases will range from $235 for the three-year teacher to a range of $280 to $420 for the top-ranked teachers, of which there are nine presently employed.

Degree teachers, with bachelors degrees, will start at $6,050, compared with $5,880 for the previous year, ranging up to a top of $8,180 for 17 years or more of experience and a B.A., incorporating an increase of $225-$385 over the previous salaries.

TF teachers have long experience

TWIN FALLS — Teachers in Twin Falls School District No. 411 have, by and large, a lot of experience.

A survey of teachers at each salary step indicates that of the 263 teachers presently employed, 89 teachers or well over 25 per cent, have 17 years of experience or more.

There are more teachers with bachelors' degrees — 122 — than there are in any other educational level. Teachers with additional training, ranging up to masters' degrees total 120, while 21 instructors have only three years of training.

There are more teachers at the bachelor's degree-17-year level — 23 — than any other step, but the 17-year teachers with a bachelor's degree plus 30 hours total 22.

By step, the district employs 27 teachers with masters' degrees, 53½ teachers (including one part-time instructor) with bachelor's plus 30 hours, 40 with bachelor's plus 15 hours, 122 with bachelors' degrees and 21 with three years of training.

TF airport gets big repair grant

TWIN FALLS — Cong. Orval Hansen announced today that a $183,580 grant for improvements to the Twin Falls City-County Airport has been awarded by the Department of Transportation to the city and county of Twin Falls.

Hansen said the funds will finance land-acquisition, clear zone easements, runway construction and resurfacing and runway lighting and marking modifications.

The grant was awarded under the Transportation Department's Airport Development aid program. The grant was lauded by City Manager Jean Miller and Airport Board Chairman O. A. (Gus) Kelker.

Both men said that as soon as formal notification is received from the Department of Transportation steps would be taken to advertise for bids for the proposed improvements.

The money, the two said, will permit replacement of a large portion of the older portion of Runway 25-7 and will provide a jet runway which will be usable for more than 20 years. It will also permit taking a "dip" out of the runway on the No. 7 approach.

Under present plans it will be necessary to close the main runway during the construction period but light planes, and Trans-Magic planes, will be able to land on an alternate runway.

Hughes Air-West jets will have to bypass Twin Falls during the construction period but Milar said the work should be completed by early fall and at that time full jet service can start again.

The runway portion to be replaced is 23 years old and could not stand the heavier jet traffic because it was originally constructed for the lighter DC-3 traffic of 20 years ago.

Two Magic Valley men have been named to the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mexican-American Affairs.

They are Floyd Padilla, Twin Falls, and Omar Anguiano, Rupert. They were appointed Thursday by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, who created the committee earlier in the week.

Humberto Fuentes, Weiser, was appointed chairman by the governor, with Tony Solis, Homedale, chosen secretary. Other members are Rogelio Garza, Nampa; Julio Perez, Caldwell; Tony Rodriguez, Nampa; Jose Estrada, Caldwell, and Frank Rodriguez, Pocatello.

Complaints spur new carcass plant order

BUHL — An order was issued by Fifth District Judge James M. Cunningham late Thursday and served immediately on officials of the Cascade Commodities Corp. rendering plant here halting any further rendering at the plant.

Judge Cunningham issued a closure order on rendering operations on April 20, to become effective April 22 at 2 p.m. following a show cause hearing. The order yesterday stated the sheriff must "use whatever force necessary" in implementing the temporary injunction issued April 20 to stop all rendering activities at the plant and prevent the continuation of rendering.

Residents of the Buhl area have brought legal action against the plant on grounds it constitutes a nuisance by emitting a strong odor from collections of dead animals and rendering of same.

Sheriff Paul Corder turned the order over to Deputy Sheriff Curtis Pryor for serving immediately in compliance with the court order. He said if the plant continued to ignore the court's orders the next step would have to be an arrest of person or persons responsible.

Judge Cunningham said affidavits were filed with the court Thursday showing the plant continued the rendering operation in violation of the April 20 injunction.

The plant was to have closed last Thursday under the first court order and affidavits filed with the court by attorney Ted Behns, representing residents in the plant area, stated it was operating one week later. Affidavits stated a truck load of bones and animal parts were at the plant Thursday and the rendering process was proceeding.

Protests

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Antiwar protesters picketed the Justice Department and the FBI today carrying placards proclaiming "we are all POWs" and "try criminals not war resisters."

About 100 demonstrators were on hand.

Jerome gets jobless help

JEROME — The week has been full of ironies for Jerome residents.

First came the bombshell announcement that the giant Tupperware factory, to employ 450 people to start with and grow to 900 employees, would locate south of town. Obviously this would help the employment picture of the county.

The very next day, today, the wheels of the Federal Government ground around to just about the same decision.

Today Sen. Len Jordan and Rep. Orval Hansen announced that Jerome has been declared eligible to receive public works assistance because of its high unemployment rate.

The county in Idaho that appears most likely to be booming in the near future is now able to receive up to 50 per cent of the total cost of public works projects from the Federal Government. The Federal money is intended to stimulate the County's economy.

Jobless rates here had been at about 10 per cent during the past winter, but had fallen recently to between five and six per cent, according to Ken Bumgartner, supervisor of the Jerome office of the State Department of Employment

Jail meal fee OK'd

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls city and county officials tentatively agreed Thursday on a $1-a-meal fee for meals served prisoners. Prisoners are usually served two meals a day.

Commissioner Heber Loughmiller said following a meeting with city council members and officers Thursday, the fees will cover all costs including medical and drug needs not the direct result of imprisonment.

Jean Milar, city manager, said an agreement along the lines favored by the two groups Thursday will be prepared for final approval and signature within the next few days.

Because of the new court reform system which designates the county jail as the place of confinement for all prisoners excepting special cases the county had requested assistance in meeting food and lodging costs. County commissioners asked $2.35 per day and city officials offered 90 cents per meal as an alternate proposal. In the Thursday meeting the compromise figure of $1 per meal was reached.

2 named to Latin committee

Two Magic Valley men have been named to the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mexican-American Affairs.

They are Floyd Padilla, Twin Falls, and Omar Anguiano, Rupert. They were appointed Thursday by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus, who created the committee earlier in the week.

Panther probe bias charged

CHICAGO (UPI)—A special grand jury investigating the police slaying of two Black Panthers faced a dual challenge today in a hearing before the judge who impaneled the jury. Two petitions were scheduled for a hearing before Criminal Court Judge Joseph A. Power.

Both ask that Power determine whether the 23 jurors have been "tainted or biased" by publicity and one also asks a determination whether the special prosecutor has "engaged in exhortations, pleas and arguments."

Chicago police who participated in the raid while assigned to the state's attorney's office. The petition asked for a closed hearing to determine whether published accounts—including those saying State's Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan would be indicted—have biased the jury. It also questioned the prosecutor's methods before the jury.

The other petition, filed earlier in the week, Attorney John P. Coghlan, representing a police sergeant involved in the raid, contended the grand jury's integrity had been compromised by a television news broadcast saying Special Prosecutor Barnabas Sears had said the jury voted to indict Hanrahan.

The newscaster later said he was mistaken in attributing the statement to Sears, who is presenting evidence to the jury. The current probe is the fourth into the fatal raid. A coroner's jury and a county grand jury cleared the 14 participating policemen of any wrongdoing in connection with the deaths.

Job travel time limit proposal draws blasts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A young poverty lawyer got a dressing down Thursday for suggesting that food stamp recipients be permitted to turn down jobs requiring them to travel more than 96 minutes a day to reach their job.

"We'd be laughed out of the Senate if we proposed that," Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., told Ronald F. Pollack, director of the Food Research and Action Center, a poverty law agency.

work to pay taxes to buy food stamps for people who won't travel an hour and a half a day to work?" Cook asked incredulously.

The food stamp law enacted by Congress last year denies stamps to a family if the head of the household refuses to take a job he can perform.

In implementing that rule, Pollack suggested to a Senate hunger committee, no one should be required to work more than 40 hours a week or to travel to his job for more than 20 per cent of his working time.

Pollack said he feared the heads of food stamp families would be required to take low-paying jobs as domestics, working 60 or 70 hours a week and traveling two or three hours a day to the job unless strict guidelines were imposed.

Tito plans U.S. visit

BELGRADE (UPI)—President Tito will visit the United States later this year, a high U.S. administration official said today.

"We in our country are looking forward to President Tito's coming to America later this year," Robert Finch, President Nixon's special adviser, said in a statement to newsmen here.

Gas plans imperiled by gophers

DENVER (UPI)—Scientists checking out plans to destroy 3,071 tons of mustard gas at the Rocky Mountain Arsenal said Thursday one thing might put a crimp in the project—the common gopher.

The scientists said gophers on the land near Denver are eating coaxial cable which will be used to transmit data to a monitoring board during detoxification. M. C. Gilvray, a member of the Regional Air Pollution Control Agency's technical advisory committee, said the rodents chew up the plastic and wire cable.

The scientists made no recommendations on how the Army should handle the gopher problem.

Cow killed

SHOSHONE — A cow belonging to Ed Sharp, Shoshone, was killed when it was struck by a truck driven by Mrs. Kenneth Dixon, Richfield, 20 miles north of Shoshone on the old U.S. Highway 93 at 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Chief of Police Jerry Conklin said he is citing Mrs. Dixon for failure to observe the basic rule.

Swan Falls-Guffey tops meet slate

BOISE (UPI)—The proposed Swan Falls-Guffey hydroelectric project on the Snake River south of Boise will open the agenda May 7 when the State Water Resource Board meets in Idaho Falls.

Board members also plan to attend the Snake Plain Aquifer Conference in Idaho Falls on May 6.

Besides the proposed hydroelectric project, the board will hear Council and Raft River Project progress reports, Reclamation Bureau investigation program report, a public works appropriation committee report, a Kootenai River Basin seminar report and a Bear River progress report.

Survivors include her husband, Buhl; one daughter, Mrs. Jerry (Flora) Thornburg, Fallon; one brother, Charles Victory, Holton, Me.; seven sisters, Mrs. Mary Anderson and Mrs. Hettie Moore, both Holton; Mrs. Helen Rice Prequels, Maine; Mrs. Grace Knoff, Brackenridge, Pa.; Mrs. Alice McCrystal, Sharon, Conn.; Mrs. Dorothy Weston, Massachusetts; and Mrs. Ruth Toben, Woodstock, New Brunswick.
Graveside services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Buhl Cemetery by Rev. Richard Scholz. Friends may call at the Hopkins Buhl Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon and evening, and until 10 a.m. Saturday.

Double Seen... policy listed

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Corps of Engineers spokesman described his department's "conflict of interest" to a seminar on water resources at the University of Idaho Thursday night.

Col. Richard M. Connell, administrative officer for the corps' Walla Walla District, said Army Engineers seek to develop the nation's water resources to promote its high standard of living but on the other hand must seek to preserve these water resources.

Connell said the corps aims to fulfill multiple demands on a fixed supply of water, providing the best usage of water resources for the greatest good.

"Today nearly all water resources programs" he said, "must be evaluated in terms of environmental considerations — and people differ in what they consider a quality environment."

Connell said "it is easier to criticize than to initiate and plan practical means to a solution of water resource problems."

No longer, he said, could the bad side effects of short-term planning be ignored.

He noted that the Corps of Engineers has invested $5 million since 1952 on fish and wildlife studies and $250 million on fish ladders and hatcheries.

In the Walla Walla District, which includes all of the Snake River Basin and part of the Columbia River Basin, Connell cited the installation of three 190-ton slotted gates at Little Goose dam as an example of long-term planning.

The gates of the dam, located on the Snake River below Lewiston, Idaho, and Clarkston, Wash., will reduce the nitrogen saturation level which kills fish. The buildup in nitrogen had been caused by water flowing freely over the dam's spillway.

Chamber blasts school move

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — The South Idaho Chamber of Commerce voted Thursday to protest what may be a move to remove the Gooding facilities for the deaf and blind.

During a business session at the chamber's annual membership meeting, Gooding Mayor Harley Crippen said the Idaho Department of Health is considering closing the Gooding school, sending the 42 blind students to a new facility at Idaho State College, Pocatello, and sending the 100 deaf students to Boise State College.

A federal grant would provide $2 million for ISU and $5 million for BSC to provide the new facilities, Crippen said.

Chamber members voted to send a letter of protest to the Idaho Department of Education on the proposed move.

In another report, Del

Hollinger, Rupert, chairman of the Recreation and Tourism Committee, said rest stops along the interstate-highway system "work against the best interests of Idaho," by allowing tourists to stop outside of the cities. Many tourists even camp overnight at the rest stops, and need never detour into a nearby city, Hollinger said.

Ray Rostron, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, asked the area group to offer formal congratulations to the Jerome chamber for its successful efforts in locating the new Tupperware plant in Jerome. He asked if the chamber was interested in continuing an effort to put together a slide-film presentation on the benefit of locating in the Magic Valley.

The idea was first advocated a year ago, but only one community sent slides of its area, Rostron said. Dr. Taylor said it was often hard for communities to take their own photos, and volunteered to send a photographer around to each community. The community would pay the photographer's expenses as its contribution, Dr. Taylor said.

The members agreed unanimously to the proposal; one saying it was a "good idea."

Vernon Clinton, Twin Falls, organizer of the statewide environmental liaison "GEL" (Gem Environmental Liaison), and chairman of the Water and Air Pollution Committee, described the dangers to the state from growing pollution, warning that if the individual communities and the several counties don't take action to control pollution, the federal government will step in at an extreme cost in funds and freedom.

Clinton said he had seen the effects of public apathy on pollution when he lived in the east a number of years ago. When he came to Idaho, he said, he was appalled at the lack of action on public problems, so he organized a number of small environmental groups in Boise and throughout the state into GEL.

Members of GEL include the Idaho Environmental Council, Citizens' Environmental Council, Idaho branch, American Association of University Women; Idaho Wildlife Federation and others.

"We're headed for total control by the federal government if we don't do it ourselves," Clinton warned.

He said measurements of air pollution in Twin Falls have shown a higher level of particulate matter than Pittsburgh and other heavily polluted areas in the east.

New hours at landfill

TWIN FALLS — New hours become effective Saturday at the Twin Falls City Sanitary Landfill south of town, aimed at giving residents better opportunity for cleaning and hauling trash under daylight saving time. City Manager Jean Milar said today.

The landfill will be open week days from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Sunday hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Presently the landfill has been closing at 6 p.m. weekdays, 5 p.m. on Saturdays and 4:30 p.m. Sundays.

Milar said the new schedule of remaining open later in the day will accommodate persons who work in their yards during the evenings and wish to haul the trash collected during that time. Milar said the move is also being made to encourage residents to concentrate on spring clean-up activities now and to provide an opportunity to remove unsightly trash from city and county homes and businesses.

All city residents who have a validated water and sanitation bill may use the landfill without charge. County residents will be charged a fee of 50 cents per automobile load, $1 for pickup truck loads, $1.50 for the larger trucks up to one ton size, and a maximum of $20 for all other vehicles.

Logging practice defended Guard aid for events requested

MCCALL, Idaho (UPI) — A spokesman for the Intermountain section of the Society of American Foresters today defended clearcutting of timber as an effective, ecologically sound system of harvesting.

Paul W. Easterbrook, chairman of the Intermountain section, said many timber types — including the West Coast Douglas fir type — can be regenerated successfully only by clear-cutting of some modification of this system.

He said the bulk of the timber harvested in Washington and Oregon is removed under a clearcut system. He said the annual harvest in these states has been remarkably stable for many years, indicating that new growth is replacing the timber utilized.

Easterbrook said much of the present storm over clearcutting has been generated "because of a lack of understanding of some of the basic principles of forest management."

"Concerned citizens, lacking technical training, are prone to form judgments on the basis of what is immediately visible, missing the long-term beneficial results of good forest management," he said.

"The newly awakened public interest in environmental preservation has resulted, in some instances, to an over reaction that could prove disastrous to American forestry."

BOISE (UPI)—Coeur d'Alene officials have asked the state to ask Washington State Civil Defense Director Tom Pryor, to furnish men and equipment for two events this summer.

Mayor John McHugh and Police Chief George B. Lenz have asked for the assistance during the July 4 weekend and July 16-18 when the city hosts the limited hydroplane races.

They pointed out the city has only 18 patrolmen and seven patrol cars and want to take advantage of an intrastate agreement for additional manpower.

Edward V. Williams, governor Andrus' administrative assistant, said the request will be forwarded to Idaho State Civil Defense Director Charles Rountree for action.

More than 15 miles of carpeting are used within United Nations headquarters.

Pay lack hurts Andrus' search

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus told an informal news conference Thursday he is having trouble filling two state positions because he cannot offer enough money.

Andrus said he has been turned down "flat" by three prospects holding lesser positions in other states because they are making more money there.

The governor is seeking to hire a new budget director and a new commissioner of public assistance.

He said he was to seek Idahoans holding similar positions in other states because the jobs require specialized background and training.

Andrus said the former budget director made $14,400 per year but he hasn't found the man he wants who will take the job even at $18,800.

Andrus said he found a man in another state who was making $23,000 as deputy director.

The governor said he is also looking for the "right people" to fill the positions of commissioner of finance and commissioner of public works.

Pocatello man dies in crash

POCATELLO (UPI) — A 24-year-old Pocatello man became Idaho's 68th traffic fatality of the year when the car he was driving failed to negotiate a turn in Pocatello Thursday evening.

Dead is Reed Austin Bisworth. State Police officials said he died instantly after the car turned over.

Two passengers were in the car. Ronald Brickery was admitted to a Pocatello hospital in serious condition. John Haley was not injured in the accident.

There were 87 traffic fatalities in the state at this time last year.

The cost of attending a medical school averages well over $4,000 a year, says the National Institute of Health.

Lawyers slate ad claim talks

BOISE (UPI) — Chief Deputy Attorney General Clarence D. Sutter said Thursday he plans to confer with attorneys for a Boise advertising agency about the agency's attempts to collect a commission.

Sutter earlier reported that the L. E. Johnson and Associates Agency was attempting to collect its 15 per cent commission on a spring travel ad program which the state cancelled last Jan. 6.

So far the state has refused to pay the claim, pointing out the program — authorized last

Dec. 21 by then State Commerce Secretary Albert E. Minton — was cancelled by Minton's successor, Lloyd Howe.

Sutter said the state does not appear to have any contract with Johnson and Associates and that work performed on the program before it was cancelled apparently was not covered in that manner.

The first U.S. unemployment law was passed in Wisconsin in 1932, says Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The People's Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON — That so-called "peoples peace treaty" being noisily fanfared at this weekend's anti-war demonstration in the capital is an out-and-out Communist gimmick. It was admittedly cooked-up in Hanoi, and is being aggressively propagandized by radical elements who have long touted the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese cause.

Foremost among them is Rennie Davis, one of the convicted Chicago Seven conspiracy trial defendants. He conceived and organized the scheme to send a delegation to Hanoi for the proclaimed purpose of "negotiating a peace treaty."

Following the return of the delegation, one of its members, Ronald Lee Eachus, described as a "student leader," admitted in an Oregon press conference that the "treaty" had been drafted by the North Vietnamese and no consequential changes had been made by the U.S. "negotiators."

That's very evident on the face of the "treaty." The text, published in the Communist "Daily World," reveals the "treaty" is exactly similar to the terms long propounded by North Vietnam.

In every detail, large and small, they are the same, as follows:

"The U.S. to set a date for total troop withdrawal; the U.S. to end its imposition of the Thieu government on the people of South Vietnam; a provisional coalition government to be established with Communist participation." At a meeting in Los Angeles, Davis belligerently advocated mass support of the "treaty," even if that means defiance of the U.S. government.

"I say the hell with Richard Nixon," declared Davis. "Now is the time to negotiate and sign a peace treaty directly with the North Vietnamese. Then take it to every school, church and business in the country and have it signed by millions and millions of American people. The total fraudulence of the Nixon policy will become clearly apparent."

"May 1st is the date we will give the people's ultimatum. If by May 1st the government doesn't stop the war in Vietnam, we the people will then stop the government of the U.S."

Two organizations of leftist anti-war activists are publicly sponsoring the so-called "people's peace treaty."

They are the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice (PCPJ) and the National Student Association (NSA). The PCPJ is actually a new name for the National Coalition Against War, Racism and Repression (NCAWRR).

Trotskyites and other radicals are active in these organizations.

They are adept hands at using fronts and dupes to wage aggressive propaganda and demonstrating operations. Church, civic and other organizations, as well as politicians, have learned this to their sorrow.

After Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., avowed presidential aspirant, warmly endorsed this weekend's leftist-sponsored anti-war demonstration, a blunt warning was forthcoming from Rep. Thomas O'Neill, Mass.,

Democratic whip. He vigorously cautioned against either encouraging violence or participating in it.

"Any incidents which occur that violate the responsibility to demonstrate within the law and within the limits of good judgment can only delay the ultimate goal of an end to the war," said the veteran legislator. "Implicit in the right of expression is the assumption that it will be carried out in a prudent and orderly manner. If the stated purpose is to gather support for withdrawal from Indochina, then it must be done in a way that will elicit the kind of support needed to end this war."

O'Neill flatly derided the effect of the extensive anti-war demonstrating that has been going on in Washington. He pointed out it is changing no authoritative opinions, while extremism could be counter-productive.

How Free?

"Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press..."

This First Amendment clause is one of the bedrock rights of the Republic. But there are ways other than by making laws that those freedoms may be abridged.

Newspapers are familiar with numerous attempts by authorities to force reporters, under threat of contempt citations, to reveal the sources of their stories, particularly those that may involve criminal activities or be embarrassing to officials.

Congress now seems to be trying to do the same thing with the electronic media.

In the aftermath of the controversial Columbia Broadcasting System program, "The Selling of the Pentagon," the Special Subcommittee on Investigations of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has subpoenaed not only a film copy and written transcript of the program but all notes, unused film and other materials used in connection with preparing it.

The network has provided the first two items but refuses to go further.

"No newspaper, magazine or other part of the press could be required constitutionally to comply with such a subpoena with respect to material gathered by reporters in the course of a journalistic investigation but not published," CBS president Frank Stanton has stated.

"The fact that television and radio stations are licensed by the government does not deprive the broadcast press of First Amendment protection, and the courts have so held. That protection does not depend upon whether the government believes we are right or wrong in our news judgments."

The Federal Communications Commission, which licenses broadcasters, has wisely taken the stance, in this case and in others, that in the absence of overwhelming proofs of deliberate distortion, it will not meddle in journalistic judgments or pose as the arbiter of truth.

Congress might wisely adopt the same stance.

Machines

Machines do not always win in the battle to take over the labors of men, especially when they are ill-designed to cope with human problems. Two examples at opposite ends of the nation have confirmed the belief that the human hand is still the best servant, even when the tasks would seem ideally suited for automation.

The state of California has ordered the removal of new automatic coin collecting machines on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge because they can't cope with "inexperienced drivers." State officials have decided that "automatic collection is, at present, not safe and efficient," and the toll collectors have been recalled to man the booths.

In Philadelphia, a legislative investigating committee looking into charges of wholesale fraud in Pennsylvania's welfare system, has heard testimony from the state treasurer's chief investigator in the city which blames computer for much of the problem.

Recalling that his office handled about 20 complaints a week from welfare recipients about lost or incorrect public assistance checks in the days when checks were distributed manually, the investigator testified that since the state installed computers in 1968 to handle the work, errors have risen to about 7,000 a month.

The longer the machine age continues, the more appreciated is the hand which untangles the snafus.

Observation

A specialist in improving office efficiency has emerged as one of the more reliable fashion experts, at least when applied to the attire women wear in an office. Robert E. Nolan of Simsbury, Conn., reports his studies have convinced him hot pants are preferable to miniskirts in an office, but "both are extremely detrimental to efficiency."

What he means is males in an office where women wear such attire spend a considerable part of their day just gawking, but do less of it where hot pants are concerned. They spend the same amount of time on glances and double takes, Nolan says, but 22 per cent less time in continuous observation on pants than minis. The ladies can take it from there.

About The Minority

This is a time when lots and lots of people in lots and lots of places are concerned about the minority.

We have minority groups for or against crime, for or against campus dissent, for or against Vietnam and for or against civil rights.

Some of these minority groups seem to be tearing the country apart. They are either for everything or against everything.

Well, browsing through a Western Electric publication the other day, we ran across a report of one minority group in these United States who seem to be everywhere. It is a very unusual type of minority.

It includes wealthy, aging dowagers, hard-headed business tycoons, blue-collar workers, white-collar workers, doctors, lawyers, overworked housewives, tiny babies, campus radicals, and these people are Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Agnostics, Atheists and they are Black, White, Brown, Oriental and or Indian.

Who are they? They are one-eighth of the total population. They are 26 million people. Now what could these people possibly have in common?

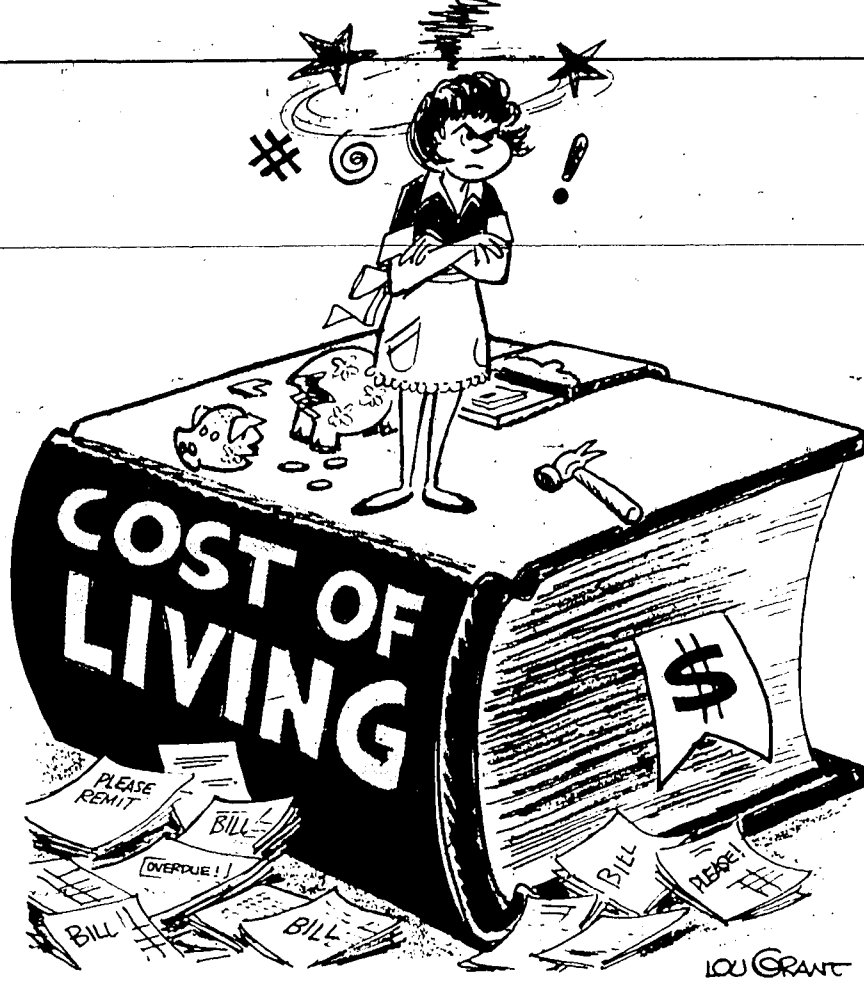

They are stockholders in American corporations, a fact which all by itself says a great deal about the American free enterprise system. These 26 million people are really proof that a growing segment of the population has a faith in the "system."

So there you have it. If you own a little stock — and who doesn't — then you are one of them.

Secret Order

WASHINGTON — This will be denied, but a secret order has gone out from the State Department to American embassies around the world to plow up their tennis courts.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, a man of action, is now seeking a supplemental appropriation for the purchase of 7,641 ping pong tables for installation in those embassies.

Rogers, of course, has a personal stake in this reacting to a blow from which tennis — until now the sport of diplomacy — may never recover. As a golfer, his own position is in jeopardy. Indeed, hitherto unimpeachable White House sources revealed today that President Nixon is seriously considering replacing Rogers with Graham Steenhoven of Detroit, president of the U. S. Table Tennis Association.

Always the pragmatic politician, Nixon is said to be "facing up to the reality" that ping pong is diplomacy's wave of the future as the result of the American team's "glorious achievement" in its negotiations with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

"I don't want to see any tennis players hanging around here," the President is reported to have told Dr. Henry Kissinger, his top adviser on national security affairs. Informed that Secretary Rogers was taking ping pong lessons in the basement of his Bethesda, Md., home, Nixon snapped: "It's about time."

By now, in point of fact, many of the tennis players in the American diplomatic corps have gone into hiding. Tennis rackets have been burned or concealed in underground silos hitherto exclusively reserved for anti-ballistic missiles and former unsuccessful candidates for Vice President.

It was also learned that there has been a wave of suicides in the diplomatic tennis-playing set. And, after a top State Department official was caught sneaking in a game at a suburban country club and forthwith demoted to the post of purchasing agent for paper clips, tennis clubs in the Washington area reported a flood of resignations.

Meanwhile, some of the State Department's more courageous — or subversive, tennis players have gone underground. "I'm not going to abandon a game to which I've devoted a lifetime," said one of these hunted men. But he admitted he had been shaken by an FBI raid on a clandestine court in the wilds of Chevy Chase.

Well he might be. FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover has issued a top-secret memo to his agents warning that "Tennis players may be armed, and all are to be considered dangerous. Every

RAY CROMLEY

Social Voting

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Protesters have not made much headway thus far in getting colleges and universities to vote stock proxies to further particular social aims.

But there could be a time bomb here.

The nation's private educational institutions own an estimated $8 billion worth of securities in industrial, rail and utility corporations.

Foundations own $16 billion. This ownership is most heavily concentrated in the shares of a few hundred major concerns.

If only a small number of these decided to vote in accordance with social objectives, the pressure for change could be enormous in some bellwether American companies.

Though the percentage of ownership by the colleges and universities in any one concern would be small, in a significant number of large companies it would be large enough to attract attention. The officers and directors of most major American enterprises are very sensitive to shareholder criticism. During a decade and a half of watching company reactions as a reporter for a national financial newspaper, the frequency of quick adjustment following some shareholder complaint has constantly amazed. And in many of these cases, the shareholders concerned owned very little stock.

Colleges and universities may be especially vulnerable to continuing pressure. A college or university which gives up government contracts, or severs its ties with a venerable research institution because research might not be in line with social objectives, is not likely to stand up indefinitely against charges that its investments are funding companies which are polluting the atmosphere, practicing unfair racial policies or producing types of war materials which a vocal segment of the junior faculty, graduate students and undergraduates finds objectionable.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Physical Thing?

(Second in a series of two articles) Yesterday the question was posed: "I have heard that schizophrenia is a chemical imbalance in the body. Does this mean there is a cure for it?"

As pointed out in yesterday's column, schizophrenia is a mental illness — a common one, too, for about half of all the patients in mental hospitals are schizophrenic.

And yet, although it is a matter of mental illness rather than physical illness in the ordinary sense, there is growing belief that some sort of chemical imbalance is, indeed, involved.

There has been some extremely detailed technical study of this over the years, and it still continues. Various differences in the body chemistry have been discovered, and I would hope — we all hope — that this may lead to some better way of treating the disease.

But a cure now? Now, unfortunately. Finding that certain chemical differences exist is quite a different matter from being able to change them.

And, of course, the presence of these differences does not mean it represents the whole disease. It may very well be only a part of it. It might, for all we can say now, be a result — one of the consequences of schizophrenia rather than cause. Besides this, although these chemical clues are being found, it is also possible in many cases to recognize some of the emotional pressures under which a patient begins to crack — the young person under family pressure to go into a business he doesn't like, the child who gradually founders under too many demands upon him to perform thus and so, and so escapes into a make-believe world.

Can it be that schizophrenia is a condition which lets its victims succumb under pressures that others can withstand? For certainly some people have equal pressures but do not become schizophrenic.

Does a patient realize that something is wrong? Indeed, yes, some do. But others become so submerged in their dream worlds that either they do not clearly recognize how wrong their view is or, possibly, it becomes a matter of their being unable to communicate what they think or feel.

By and large, however, it is probably safe to assume that most schizophrenics think the world is out of joint rather than themselves.

Is schizophrenia inherited? That's about as hard a question as the one about body chemistry. There are some instances which seem to indicate a tendency toward schizophrenic behavior may be inherited, although that is not the same as saying the disease itself is.

Again, schizophrenia can pop up in a family in which there is no evidence of the same ailment in other members.

It is, in many ways, a disease as mystifying as some of the simpler physical diseases were, before the discovery of germs.

There's this difference. There is very great, organized effort today to find some answers, and a disinclination to accept the folklore of the past. Such as, for just one example, the belief in the 1700s that you could "drive out devils" by beating the patient!

Albert rips Nixon stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Speaker Carl Albert accused President Nixon and top Administration officials Thursday of being out of touch with reality and proposed a national conference on unemployment and inflation.

"It is clear that the White House needs fresh advice and assistance in formulation of its economic policies," the Oklahoma Democrat said at a news conference announcing a resolution asking Nixon to convene such a meeting.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., urges that jobless workers, be represented at such a conference, together with the government, industry, finance, labor, agriculture and consumers.

Said Albert: "The Administration appears not to wish to be held accountable for the 5 million Americans who are officially unemployed, at least another million who have given up looking for work and additional millions who have less than sufficient part-time employment."

In the Senate, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., introduced legislation to move up to this year the effective for full implementation of scheduled increases in personal exemptions and standard deduction rates in personal income tax reports.

The personal exemption per person in filing federal taxes rose, effective with 1970 reports, from $600 to $625, and is scheduled to rise gradually to $750 after three years. The standard income deduction for persons who do not itemize also is scheduled to rise gradually during the same period to 15 per cent. Mondale proposed that this also be made effective for 1971 income, in filings due April 15, 1972.

Mondale, saying changes were needed immediately to stimulate the economy, also called for reinstatement of a 7 per cent tax credit for the first $25,000 of investment in new facilities or equipment.

Another proposal by Mondale would extend from 26 weeks to 39 weeks the maximum period of eligibility for unemployment compensation.

A new government report today indicated that consumers are still apprehensive about assurances by Nixon and some of his cabinet members that the economy was on the road to improvement.

The Commerce Department said a survey of consumer buying expectations "suggests that consumer confidence in the economy has improved only slightly since January."

Administration strategists have been counting on a surge of consumer buying to lift the economy out of a 1970 slump and produce the "good year" which Nixon foresaw for 1971.

In a speech Monday to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the President said: "In dealing with the future of this country, if you want to be a realist, you have to be an optimist."

Nixon's advice looks good

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors who took President Nixon's advice one year ago and purchased stock very likely are showing a profit now.

But they would have had to hold on to their purchases through a decline.

One year ago Wednesday, Nixon told members of the American Society of Association Executives: "Frankly, if I had any money, I'd be buying exact stocks making up the Dow Jones industrial average (actually, this is impossible), he would have had a loss of $3,100 at the bottom of the 1971 recession.

On the day Nixon made the remark, the Dow-Jones industrial average stood at 737.59. It continued to fall during the next few months, dropping to a low about 31 per cent below its position on the day Nixon had suggested buying stocks.

So, if the President had been able to invest $10,000 in the exact stocks making up the Dow Jones industrial average (actually, this is impossible), he would have had a loss of $3,100 at the bottom of the 1971 recession.

But then the market turned. By Wednesday—one year after Nixon's remark was made—the Dow-Jones industrials were at 951.

Drinking age down

BOSTON (UPI)—A House-passed bill to lower the legal drinking age in Massachusetts from 21 to 19 was defeated on a 21-15 roll call vote in the Senate Wednesday.

Before killing the bill, the Senate rejected an amendment to place the question on the ballot next year.

Interest rates for funds told

BOISE (UPI) — State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon Thursday announced interest rates that are to be paid for time deposits of state and public funds as of May 1.

Miss Moon said an interest rate of 4.86 per cent is to be paid on all amounts of money deposited 60 through 91 days. She said 5.08 per cent must be paid on amounts $100,000 and larger on deposits 92 through 182 days and 5 per cent on amounts under $100,000 for that time period.

For deposits of 183 through 273 days, she said, 5.4 per cent must be paid on amounts $100,000 and more and 5 per cent on amounts under $100,000.

She said that for 274 through 364 days 5.42 per cent interest must be paid on amounts of $100,000 and more and 5 per cent on amounts under $100,000.

For 365 days or longer 5.42 per cent should be paid on all amounts, Miss Moon said.

Viewers' letters cut canned laugh tracks

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—As an example of the incredible viewer response that a television show can bring, consider this:

Representatives of ABC's "The Odd Couple" series said Wednesday 135,000 letters have been received in response to a request to viewers to tell whether they want the show's laugh track thrown out.

"The Odd Couple," which will return next season, stars Jack Klugman and Tony Randall. And Randall is one of those connected with the show who made it loudly clear that he thoroughly disliked the laugh track.

There were many observers who felt the series—while nowhere near the match of the Neil Simon play it was based on—might well be improved by eliminating the phony laughter. Somehow, the electronic merriment didn't fit the tone that Randall and Klugman were trying to establish.

As a result, "The Odd Couple" publicized the fact that one of its episodes, a while back, would be shown without a laugh track—and then asked viewers to write in saying how they liked it that way.

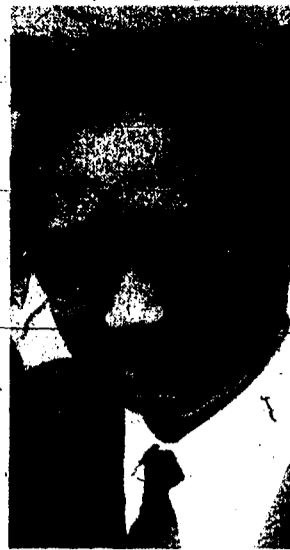

The 13,000 letters are in response to that request, said a spokesman for the series, who added:

"Of that total, about 112,000 of the letters were against the laugh track. Statistically, that means that roughly 83 per cent of those who wrote in were against it. Or, put another way, it was about five to one favoring naturalness."

And that is one reason, said the spokesman, that there will be no laugh track on "The Odd Couple" next season. The program is set to be performed before a live audience with a three-camera technique.

ABC finally has been handling the finals of the National Basketball Association playoffs in first-class style, showing all the games on a coast-to-coast basis. Unfortunately, the artistic matchup between the awesome Milwaukee Bucks and their foes, the Baltimore Bullets—as indicated by Wednesday night's third contest—can only appeal to those who like to watch public executions.

NBC says it has sold its first television programs to Russia. One of the shows is "American Profile: Home Country, U.S.A.," a 1968 hour examining "the philosophy that the heritage and bedrock strength of America is in its grass roots." The other is "The Vanishing 400," a 1962 hour about high society in the United States. NBC says the shows will be broadcast in the Soviet Union next month.

Declines

GEN. LON NOL, who resigned as Cambodian prime minister 10 days ago, declined Thursday to form a new government with three virtually autonomous premiers which would allow him to cut work load to hour daily. Lon Nol was left partly paralyzed by stroke in February. (UPI)

TV nominations defy analysis

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Unlike the movies' Oscars, television's Emmys defy analysis and prediction.

Precisely 208 nominations were announced by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences recently by blue-ribbon panels. The winners will be rewarded May 9 during a 90-minute video special.

While the television presentation show is less formal than its movie counterpart, the welter of nominees and categories is abominable.

For example, there is not a single winner for best actor of the year. There are three.

The academy has nominated actors for outstanding single performance in a series or special; outstanding continued performances by an actor in a leading role in a dramatic series; outstanding continued performance by an actor in a leading role in a comedy series. A nominee for best single performance is George C. Scott. Ah, there is a familiar name. Scott was nominated for his role in a segment of "The Hallmark Hall of Fame."

Thus far Scott's Oscar reposes with the movie-academy, unclaimed and presumably unloved. The actor wants no part of it.

Scott isn't the only one confronted by embarrassing situations.

As happens frequently with the television academy, some nominees find themselves no longer on the air.

This year Ted Bessell and Marlo Thomas ("That Girl") are contenders, but their show is cancelled. The same is true of Linda Cristal who co-stars in "The High Chaparral" which also has gone.

However, the categories closest to the hearts of viewers are still with us: The best comedy series of the year and the best dramatic series.

STEVE JOHNSON, on right, acclaimed "most outstanding music student" at the College of Southern Idaho, received a full-scholarship award from music professor Eugene Mildon, left, during the first CSI awards assembly on Wednesday in the Fine Arts auditorium. Johnson has appeared in a number of CSI productions and participated in all fields of music; Mildon said in presenting the award.

Best music student

Patsy McIntyre named most outstanding student at CSI

TWIN FALLS — Patsy McIntyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene P. McIntyre, Twin Falls, was awarded a $100 scholarship from the College of Southern Idaho Student Senate as the "most outstanding student" during the college's first annual awards assembly Wednesday morning in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Dr. Terry Smith, academic dean at CSI, presided in the absence of CSI President Dr. James L. Taylor, who was out of town on college business.

A number of faculty members were commended by Dr. Smith for their contribution to education, including Chester Campbell, an instructor in chemistry, who was one of 40 professional people throughout the nation selected for the American Chemical Society's "Operation Interface" conference; Chuck Charlton, a physical education instructor, who received the "most outstanding worker" award during the 1971 Campaign; Mrs. Virginia Bright, a library staff member, honored for "excellent service and outstanding achievement in the CSI library;" Mary Ann Fisher, an instructor, named secretary of the Idaho Academy of Sciences; basketball coach Jerry Hale, honored as "Coach of the Year" in Junior college Region 18; biology professor Ruth Ann LeBaron, who has been listed in the publication "Outstanding Educators of America, 1970," and is the author of a textbook, "Hormones: A Delicate Balance," published by Bobbs-Merrill Co.; drama professor Fran Tanner, also named an "outstanding educator;"

physical sciences professor Donald Puder, honored as vice president of the Magic Valley chapter, Research Society of America; Dr. Adele Thompson, dean of women and an honoree in "Who's Who in American Women," and Delores Sims, who was elected to the board of directors of the Idaho Nurses Association.

German professor William Hughes was commended for winning a Fulbright scholarship for study in Germany, business instructor Michael Glenn was honored for his work in the field, and for winning a fellowship for study in Oregon.

Student honors were presented by various department heads. Coach Jerry Hale honored cheerleader Becky Howard for placing second in a Santa Barbara, Calif., workshop in "originality of cheers;" Will Ward, selected most valuable baseball player; Dan Osterhout, who claimed first place in the I.C.A.C. wrestling conference, and second in the Region 18 wrestling tournament, gaining a berth in the national tourney; Victor Kelly, most valuable freshman basketball player; Ralph Palomar, most improved basketball player; Ron Behagen, most valuable sophomore basketball player, and Tim Bassett, also named "most valuable" player.

Two students not listed on the program were also honored.

Wheat down 25 per cent

BOISE — Total wheat stocks in Idaho on April 1 were down 25 per cent from a year ago, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

All wheat in storage totaled 9,992,000 bushels, compared with 13,325,000 bushels on April 1, 1970. On farm stocks were down from 7,677,000 to 5,983,000 bushels. Off-farm stocks at 4,009,000 bushels were down from 5,648,000 bushels a year ago.

Idaho stocks of feed grain — corn, oats, barley and mixed grains — on April 1, were 436,431 tons compared with 486,162 tons last year. Supplies of barley and corn were down but oats and mixed grain stocks were up from a year ago.

Total stocks of the four feed grains on April 1 amounted to 98.4 million tons — 16 per cent less than the 116.7 million tons a year earlier.

Large declines in corn, sorghum and barley were only partially offset by a small increase in oats. Stocks of all wheat were 11 per cent smaller and durum wheat stocks 21 per cent under a year ago.

Rye stocks were up 41 per cent and flaxseed stocks up 23 per cent from April 1, 1970. Soy bean holdings were down 16 per cent.

Recommendations slated

BOISE — A hearing on the report and recommendations of the Public Land Law Review Commission has been set for May 21 at the State House, according to Herman McDevitt, chairman of the commission. McDevitt said legislation will be introduced in Congress as a result of the report and recommendations of the commission.

The reports have a direct bearing on the administration and management of the public land in Idaho. These lands constitute nearly two-thirds of the area of Idaho, McDevitt said.

Idaho has as many diverse types of public lands as does any other state, making Idaho's public land management affected by nearly every recommendation of the report.

The hearing planned by the Idaho Commission on May 21 is part of the commission's efforts to let Idahoans express their views on the commission's recommendations.

In the past two months, the commission has met with different groups and people to find what should be accomplished before the group's regular operation ends June 30. In addition, the commission has gone over the program to determine if it could be updated, McDevitt said.

Information from the hearing will enable the present commission members to add to reports and files. The files will become an informational background for state agencies handling various legislative proposals of the commission report, McDevitt said.

Patients paid

NEW YORK (UPI)—Indiana has enacted legislation to compensate patients in mental hospitals for tasks performed just as if they were outside employees.

The National Association for Mental Health, Inc., said the state is the first in the country to enact "anti-peonage" legislation. The rate of pay to the patients will be set by a remuneration board.

Mexican pot roast

MARIJUANA lovers groaned in anguish Thursday as Mexican federal officials burned two tons of the weed in the former river bed of the Rio Grande east of Juarez in the Chamizal territory. The confiscated weed was seized in arrests over the past several months from both Mexican nationals and Americans. (UPI)

Dairy support costs increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of the government's dairy price support program rose sharply last year, and officials conceded privately today they expect another jump this year following a recent boost in milk support levels.

Dairy support costs jumped from $227 million in the 1969-70 dairy marketing year to $380 million in the 1970-71 year which ended last March 31, officials estimated.

Most experts currently expect that costs for the 1971-72 season which started April 1 will rise another $70 million to $100 million, a source said.

The increase was expected because the Nixon administration, after initially refusing to boost milk price supports, backed down under farmer pressure and raised the support rate from $4.66 per hundredweight to $4.93 a hundredweight on April 1.

A department report released today said the agency's support purchases of dairy products in 1970-71 were equivalent to 7 billion pounds of milk, or 6.3 per cent of all milk sold by farmers.

In the 1969-70 season, purchases were equal to 4.1 billion pounds of milk, or 3.9 per cent of farm sales.

The government purchases were in the form of butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk, with most of the products donated to schools, institutions and needy people at home and abroad. The increase in support purchases, officials said, was due mainly to the fact that milk production in 1970 rose to 117.7 billion pounds — up 1.2 billion pounds from 1969.

Lamb pool set

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Livestock Marketing Association's first lamb pool will be held May 11 at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission Co. stockyards.

Donald Youtz, Twin Falls County agent and secretary of the association, said members are to bring their lambs for the pool between 8 and 10 a.m. as bids will be opened shortly thereafter.

1972 potato meet slated for T.F.

TWIN FALLS — World leaders in potato research will be meeting in Twin Falls in 1972 for the annual conference of the Potato Association of America and Potato Utility Conference, it was announced today by Hugh Farmer, president of Acme Machine Works, Filer.

Farmer, who is also a consultant to potato advertising groups, said the selection of Twin Falls for the 1972 conference was made earlier this week in Pocatello at a meeting of the conference committee.

Not since 1964 has the Potato Association of America met in Idaho, Farmer said. It will bring between 500 and 800 delegates from about 25 potato producing nations of the world to Twin Falls. While here the scientists and university doctors will inspect the area's potato processing facilities, production fields and the research programs being carried on in Aberdeen and Twin Falls.

Because of the scope of the annual meeting, conferences are planned a year ahead of time, Farmer said. The 1971 meeting will be held in North Dakota. Since about one third of the nation's potatoes are grown in Idaho, Farmer said, the gem state is a natural location for the conference.

Dates for the 1972 conference have been approved as July 26, 27, 28 and 29 with the College of Southern Idaho selected as headquarters for business sessions. The officials will probably spend one day at least in field tours, Farmer said. Dr. Richard Ohms, potato specialist, University of Idaho, is working with Farmer on local arrangements and Bob Mercer, Shelley, is conference general chairman.

Farmer said 1972 will be the first time the Potato Utilities Conference will combine with the Potato Association of America.

Research and educational phases of the industry will be highlighted in the conference and growers and shippers will have an opportunity to review world research achievements on a local level, Farmer said.

Dr. James Taylor, CSI president; Ray Rostron, chamber of commerce, and Jean Millar, city manager, are among those assisting in advance planning for the conference, Farmer said.

Beet leafhopper samples reported

TWIN FALLS — The beet leafhopper populations in the combined southern Idaho range breeding areas average 34 per 100 samples in the March-April survey for overwintered beet leafhoppers, according to Roland Portman, extension Entomologist for the University of Idaho. Each sample is equal to one square foot area of land.

The 1971 average compares with 28 in 1970, 60 in 1969 and 42 in 1968.

In the Twin Falls area the 1971 average was four per 100 samples as compared to zero in 1970, two in 1969, and one in 1968.

In the Jerome - Gooding area they averaged 33 per 100 samples as compared to 15 in 1970, 21 in 1969 and 136 in 1968.

House passes oleo bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House has passed and sent to the Senate legislation that would lift the requirements for restaurants to serve oleomargarine only in triangular-shaped pats.

The bill would also ease present requirements that each portion of oleo be so labeled and that restaurants serving the butter substitute advise their customers either on the menu or with a "conspicuous" sign.

Regional migrant services proposed

BOISE (UPI) — A federal official outlined plans Wednesday for a regional migrant committee of federal agencies having manpower responsibilities augmenting those of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Vince Brings, Seattle, manpower technical services specialist, said the advisory committee would emphasize coordination and improvement of services to migrants through assistance of federally - sponsored manpower, educational and health programs.

How will you control wireworms and sugarbeet maggots?

You'll need effective control. But you want control without causing crop residue problems. That's why Diazinon is such a smart choice for wireworm and sugarbeet maggot control in potatoes and beets. Diazinon gets even the resistant strains of soil insects. Yet doesn't leave a crop residue problem.

Just follow the label and there's no worry about applying Diazinon, either. And no yield reductions to fret over. Besides effective control of soil insects, Diazinon gives you some peace of mind.

against the ravages of sugarbeet maggots and wireworms. Use the proven soil insecticide. Use Diazinon.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market showed a steady tone as trading turned the halfway point Thursday. Turnover was heavy.

Advances barely topped declines, 655 to 624, while key market indicators moved in both directions. A three-hour turnover of 12,640,000 shares compared with 15,410,000 shares traded at a comparable period in the previous session.

Analysts said the list was caught between profit taking and continued optimism about the economy.

Moody's Investors Service, in its publication, The Stock Survey, said "rising consumer spending will be an important determinant of the duration and intensity of the economic recovery now in progress."

The firm said it expects consumer spending to continue in an upturn, although with gains less dramatic than in the first quarter of the year.

In the meantime, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., introduced a bill Thursday to speed up scheduled tax and unemployment benefit changes he said were needed immediately to stimulate the economy.

Among the day's most active issues were Central & South West Corp. off 1/2 on 281,200 shares, Cleveland Electric down 1/4 on 208,900 shares, Texas Utilities down 3/4 on 184,600 shares, and Ling-Temco off 1/4 on 179,000 shares.

Less active General Motors and Standard Oil of California added a point apiece. Louisville & Nashville Railroad gained 5, Texas Instruments 3/4 and Paroid 3/4.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I suppose you've had dozens of letters like this, but here goes. My wife of over 15 years came to me about two months ago and said, "I've been in love with another man for a year and I want to be with him as much as I can, so I'm leaving you."

It turns out the guy is married with a young child. He doesn't want to leave his family, but he can be away from them legitimately three or four nights a week, so my wife moved into a "love nest."

I am now batching it with my teen-age son. My wife comes home every Saturday and goes back on Sunday. She says she's not sure what she wants, and it's still too soon to know. She claims she still cares for me, and isn't sure she wants a divorce, but she is happiest when she is with this other guy. I have tried to be open-minded about it, but it's tearing me up inside and my ego is down to zero. Any advice?

NUMBER TWO

DEAR NUMBER TWO: Don't be so "open-minded" that your brains fall out. Give "See Saw, Marjorie Daw" a deadline to decide which man she wants. Tell her you don't want a part-time wife. And whether or not there will be a divorce shall not be decided by her alone because you may want to be free to fall in love with someone else and marry again. And be tough! Nice guys finish last.

DEAR ABBY: I am 11-years old and already have a problem for Dear Abby. My mother has always told me that I should finish up the food on my plate. So I have been finishing up my plate.

Then, I read in a book on manners that a person should always leave a little something on his plate. So what should I do?

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: When you're eating at home, "finish-up" what's on your plate. When you are a guest or dining out, leave a little something.

DEAR ABBY: My parents are very well off. Six years ago I married a "poor" boy. [Poor by my mother's standards.] We love each other. He doesn't drink or run around, and he's a wonderful father to our two sons. He works hard and steady, and I have everything I need, plus we save a little for our future. I am very happy. So what's my problem? My mother. She thinks I could have done better and she never lets me forget it.

Everytime I go to her house, I cry all the way home. To her, money and material things are essential to a happy marriage and she insists I can't be really "happy" because I don't have as much as some of the girls I grew up with.

I try so hard to love my mother, regardless, but sometimes it's difficult. Please tell me what to do?

POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Tell your mother that as far as you are concerned, you couldn't have done better. And if she doesn't quit playing on that one string, she's going to see less of you.

DEAR ABBY: We just buried our beautiful 17-year-old daughter. She died from an overdose of drugs.

Now I realize it was partly her father's and my fault. Drug information classes were held at our church, but we never got around to going. Our PTA also had drug clinics where reading material was distributed, advising parents on how to help their children handle the problem. We didn't go there either. We didn't think it was "our" problem. In fact, we didn't even know our daughter was on anything until it was too late.

I am filled with remorse and shame. Nothing will bring our daughter back, but perhaps if you print this, it will save someone else's child.

TOO LATE

Concert choir harmonists

COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN Idaho music department will give a choir concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Fine Arts Center auditorium. Soloists for Haydn's War Mass are, from left, Becky Shebley, Mrs. Connie Sinclair, Tom Schiermeier, Valeta Burk, Mrs. Mary Walker and Steven M. Johnson. The concert is free and open to the public.

Welcome to Filer set during rodeo

FILER — The Filer Kiwanis Club will host a "Welcome to Filer" dinner for 500 contestants of the National High School Rodeo to be held in August, and plans for the dinner were discussed at the Tuesday luncheon meeting in the United Methodist Fellowship Hall.

The club members will be soliciting food items and volunteer help in the near future.

Paul Shover, program chairman, presented Ron Spath, a worker for the American Cancer Society, who showed a film of cancer of the colon and rectum. He said this was the fastest growing killer cancer in the United States but very few people know much about it because they are ashamed to talk about the subject.

The Filer Kiwanis Club voted to donate $50 toward the Helen Henderson Fund to help send Mrs. Henderson, Idaho's Mother of the Year, to New York City for the national contest.

T.F. piano recital set Monday

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Teala Bellini, Twin Falls, will present six students in a concerto recital at 8 p.m. Monday at the Magic Valley YM-YWCA auditorium.

Each student will play one movement of a concerto and Mrs. Bellini will play second piano for each. Those taking part are Sue Coleman, Rene LaGrone, Jeannine Berry, Sue Anne Johnson, Martin Wright and JoAnn Vincent.

The program, dedicated to National Music Week, is open to the public.

Blooming

MRS. PAUL PROCHNOW, left, and Mrs. Alice Prescott view species of African violets which will be displayed during the annual Magic Valley Saintpaulia Club violet show and sale from 1 to 8 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday at the YM-YWCA. Gifts for Mother's Day also will be available and tea will be served. "Violets in May" is the theme.

Hospital auxiliary gathers

POCATELLO — Several Magic Valley members of the Southwestern Idaho Hospital Auxiliary Association are meeting today in Pocatello.

"The Volunteer: A Very Special Person," is the theme of the all-day meeting. Workshops on blood replacement programs, community service, fund-raising and the recruitment and training of volunteers are being conducted.

A tour of the Department of Nursing and the Life Science Complex at Idaho State University will follow business meetings.

Those attending from Magic Valley are Mrs. Cleo Shaddy, Mrs. W. L. Claiborn, Mrs. Dalton Brawley, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. Jack Stephens, Mrs. Wilford Herrett, Mrs. Lyle Schnitker, Mrs. David Marrs, Mrs. Richard Meadows and Mrs. Gene Carpenter.

The first modern safety pin was patented in 1849.

Mrs. Murphy conducts meeting

TWIN FALLS — Ruby Murphy, senior regent, conducted the regular meeting of the Women of the Moose Tuesday night when the group met at the Moose home.

Mrs. George Long, junior graduate regent; Mrs. Virgil Malone, assistant guide, and Mrs. Paul McCollum, sentinel, were pro tem officers.

The membership committee and senior regent reports were given. Following the meeting the members attended installation of the Loyal Order of the Moose.

Bomb witness flown to Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—Leslie Bacon, 19-year-old blonde from a well-to-do California family, has arrived here to appear before a federal grand jury as a material witness in the March 1 bombing of the U.S. Capitol. Or has she? Waiting newsmen could not confirm that she had been whisked off the United Air Lines flight which arrived here late Thursday night although several passengers said they had seen her aboard. She is the first person arrested in connection with the explosion which caused nearly $200,000 damage in a Senate wing. No one was injured.

accepted the government's argument that Miss Bacon might flee rather than go voluntarily to Seattle. One of eight children from an Atherton, California family, Miss Bacon has been living in an antiwar commune in northwest Washington for some months.

apparently infiltrated the peace commune, reported Miss Bacon had information material to the bombing inquiry and also that she likely would flee if subpoenaed.

Open canal called help

ANKARA (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today a strong impetus was needed for a Middle East peace settlement but that an agreement to reopen the Suez Canal could help reduce the danger of renewed fighting while peace efforts continue.

He emphasized again that the United States is supporting the efforts of U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring for a lasting settlement. The secretary said he did not expect his forthcoming trip to Egypt and Israel to "produce any dramatic results."

Rogers told the opening session of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) that the United States is "prepared to play a role if Egypt and Israel want us to help" bring peace to the Middle East.

"My efforts will be devoted to encouraging movement on the basis of the possible factors at work in the Middle East today—the factors of organization already made, of logic and enduring self-interest," Rogers said.

Rogers did not say exactly what role the United States might play but diplomatic sources said he probably meant that of an observer toward achieving reopening of the Canal, closed since the 1967 war. American officials said Rogers was well aware of the difficulties he will face when he visits Cairo and Jerusalem next week.

Alaska pipeline decision far off

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton says his decision on whether to approve construction of the controversial Alaska oil pipeline will not be made until mid-September.

industry officials to take a look at whether the pipeline could be built across Canada instead. Whatever his decision, Morton added, the issue is far from settled since the matter almost certainly will wind up in the courts once he acts on the requested construction permit.

slope south to the ice-free port of Valdez. Some environmentalists have attacked the project, claiming the pipeline could endanger the land it passes over, either through oil spills or through heat damage from the heated oil flowing along the line. Others have claimed it would disrupt the migratory paths of wildlife.

Passenger runs sought for mail

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senator Frank Church, D-Idaho, introduced legislation Wednesday that would require the United States Postal Service to send mail by passenger train, as opposed to freight train. Church said the purpose of the bill would be to give the newly formed National Rail Passenger Service Corporation, Amtrak, a stabilizing source of revenue.

"The Nixon Administration has consistently said that financial reasons are behind the elimination of rail passenger service elimination in South Idaho. If this legislation is passed, that argument would simply not hold water." Church has been a critic of the system proposed by the Nixon Administration, which leaves Southern Idaho without any passenger service under the new Amtrak setup.

He said it would be foolish to grant a permit for the $1 billion pipeline without considering alternative ways of transporting the crude oil. He conceded his department had not studied alternative proposals for a pipeline through Canada, but said preliminary studies have indicated there are some "very rugged problems" connected with the Canadian idea—problems that are comparable to those involved in the Alaska route.

Israelis adamant

By United Press International A high government official said today Israel will not soften its conditions for peace in the Middle East despite U.S. urging that it be more flexible in its demands. Minister without portfolio Israel Galili, a close aide of Prime Minister Golda Meir, said in an interview with the newspaper Yedioth Aharonoth the Israeli position will be presented to U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers during his Middle East tour.

"The visit will give us an opportunity to explain to the American secretary of state the problems of the existence of our state," Galili said. "I believe that Mr. Rogers will find in Israel a united nation, strong in the justice of its demands. "And if there still are hopes in the (U.S.) state department that it is possible to erode the Israeli position, or to soften it, by compensation or deception it will be made clear to him there is no basis for this hope."

Pay boost accepted in Cassia

By JERRY HERRMANN
Times-News Writer

Cassia County Education Association Thursday night.

BURLEY—Cassia County teachers have accepted the school board's offer of a 3.5 per cent salary increase, making a base salary of $5,900. The offer was accepted by the Teachers originally had sought a six per cent increase, for a base of $6,042. The board then offered a base salary of $5,850, or a three per cent raise which was turned down.

Then at a special closed meeting Wednesday night, trustees instructed Supt. Harold Blauer to send out contracts to teachers with the $5,900 base salary.

Dale Swan, head of the professional rights and responsibilities committee of the Cassia teachers, told fellow teachers Thursday night that their meetings with Supt. H. Blauer had been useful as it "let us understand the problems faced by the district in trying to balance the budget."

The teacher representatives came away after meeting with trustees with the feeling if there was any money available it would go toward teacher salaries, he said.

"I feel we made the right decision to stick by our demand for a six per cent increase," he said. "We had hoped the board would gamble with balancing the budget and offered a base of $5,950, but the trustees wanted to be sure of a balanced budget, so offered the $5,900, he said."

Swan also said he did not recommend the elimination of 15 or 16 teachers as had been previously rumored. The rise in librarians' salaries from $17,000 to $40,000 is not a pay raise, but simply a bookkeeping change in the budget, he said.

The new salary increase will give teachers with a B.A. degree and no experience an increase from $5,700 to $5,900, and those with master's degree and no experience, a raise from $6,270 to $6,490.

Swan said the raise will give the top teachers in the district, with master's degrees and 12 years experience a salary of $8,762, compared to the present $8,465.

Matt Warr, district business manager for the school board, said this morning the budget, as prepared, was based on a $5,850 base salary so the only way to keep within the budget was to eliminate three or four teaching positions.

Trustees instructed Supt. Blauer not to fill these vacancies where enrollment is down. With the teachers' acceptance of this provision, the base salary of $5,900 can be realized. Principals also will get the same raise, Warr said. The new budget allocates $86,500 for elementary principals, compared to $63,000, and $72,000 for secondary principals, compared to $68,000.

No plans for visit made yet

JEROME—James Keith, president of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce, said today the chamber has not yet made official plans for the visits of Tupperware officials.

He said the chamber is awaiting notification of the exact time of the visit before arranging a welcome. The company officials are expected to arrive on Tuesday or Thursday.

Keith said a special chamber meeting will be called as soon as the date of the meeting is certain to arrange an official welcome.

Tupperware announced this week that a $5 million plant employing up to 900 employees will be located south of the city.

Kimberly drawing readied

KIMBERLY—Semi-annual blood drawing for the east end communities of Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh is scheduled for Wednesday, according to Mrs. Wallace Brown, chairman.

Quota is 100 pints. The drawing will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Kimberly Grade School.

Replacement blood is needed for Mark Curry, Tim Drown and Jennie Craig, Mrs. Brown said.

Mrs. Ron Taylor is in charge of enlisting workers, Mrs. Terry Butler is in charge of obtaining blood replacements, Mrs. Lloyd Shewmaker is in charge of nurses, and Mrs. Don Taylor and Mrs. Hal Hill are handling publicity.

The telephone committee includes Mrs. Clyde Goodman, Murtaugh; Mrs. Jack Dodson, Hansen, and Mrs. Paul Holcomb, Kimberly; posters are being made by Mrs. Richard Self, Murtaugh; Mrs. Eldon Larson, Hansen, and Mrs. Jerry Heath, Kimberly.

Seniors in the high schools in the three communities will be contacted by Mrs. Ross Medley, Kimberly; Mrs. Bill Allen, Hansen, and Mrs. Glenn Bessire, Murtaugh. The canteen will be staffed by the Kimberly LDS Relief Society members, according to Mrs. Melvin (Bud) Morgan, chairman.

Dr. V. Ellis Knight will be the physician in attendance. Appointments may be made by donors with a limited time schedule by calling 423-5932 or 423-5805.

Buhl horse sale set on Saturday

BUHL—The Buhl Rodeo Association will sponsor a horse and tack sale Saturday and Sunday.

Weather permitting the sale will be in the Buhl Rodeo arena. In case of storms the sale will be held indoors at the Jim McArthur farm, three blocks east and three-quarters of a mile south of the arena on the Clover road.

There will be a truck load of new tack including saddles, blankets, bridles, ropes and halters to be sold at 1 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 2 p.m. on Sunday. Horses go on sale Sunday beginning at 2 p.m.

Fairfield plans drive on weeds

FAIRFIELD—As part of a city cleanup campaign, weeds growing along the curbs and in side streets along the main street here have been sprayed with a weed killer.

The city council authorized the work.

In the past the weeds made profuse growth during the summer months and had to be mowed at times with a tractor and mower so that people could walk along the sidewalks.

County suspends club's license

TWIN FALLS—County commissioners Thursday ordered the suspension of the county beer license for the Crystal Clipper, located just west of Twin Falls, for a six months period.

Sheriff Paul Corder said the order was served on the club late Thursday evening and the owners were given about 10 days in which to dispose of their stock.

The suspension order signed Thursday by the county officials, charged the establishment has been operated as a nuisance.

Warning tickets were issued the establishment Feb. 17 regarding charges of permitting a minor to remain on the premises, and the establishment faces charges of operating lewd and lascivious films in the establishment; the suspension order states.

AS ONE fourth grader at Bellevue Elementary School put it, "We're here to 'clean up this environment!'" and the 'environment' they chose was along Highway 93 north of Bellevue. About 50 fourth graders, with teachers and a few parents, spent several hours this week picking up litter as part of a delayed project concerned with Earth Day.

Gooding fair set for August dates

GOODING—Dates of the Gooding County Fair and Rodeo were set Thursday during a meeting of the fair board at the courthouse.

The fair will run Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 9-11. The rodeo will be on Aug. 10-11, with the carnival to be set up the Saturday preceding the fair.

Fair board members Andy James, Ben Glauner, Tom Miller, Ed Koester, Walter Higgins and Orpha Meyers, met with nine visitors, including representatives of several Gooding-area groups. Lions Club members volunteered to sell tickets and advertising for the fair and members of the roping club and the Gooding County Sheriff's Posse offered to help install grandstand floors and new ramps into the grandstand. Representatives of the Liberty Belles Riding Club and junior 4-H leaders volunteered to assist in painting the grandstands. Stock producer at the rodeo will be F.A. (Swanny) Kerby Stock, producer of last year's show.

Petitions distributed

TWIN FALLS—The petition to establish a regional airport authority has been distributed to members of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce, and copies will be placed in all communities in the eight-county area involved in the airport concept.

The petitions were distributed Thursday during the chamber meeting at the College of Southern Idaho. Each county must gather signatures of a minimum of five per cent of the registered voting population to authorize the petition for that county, Dr. James L. Taylor, retiring president of the South Idaho Chamber, said.

The petition, addressed to the "State of Idaho and the State of Idaho Department of Aeronautics," asks for establishment of a regional airport authority, under provisions of Idaho law.

Specifically, an election of the regional airport authority is sought by the petition, after the signatures are certified as valid by the county commissioners of each county. The election would select the members of the airport authority, who would then develop firm plans for the regional airport construction and financing.

The interim airport board of trustees, appointed to get the proposal under way, has fixed a schedule of percentage of financial participation for each county in the region, based on the "benefits each county would receive therefrom," according to the petitions. The interim board considered "the distance of each county seat from the proposed regional airport, the tax base of each county and the population of each county."

In addition, the board has determined the location of the proposed regional airport as lying east of Highway 93 and south of Interstate 80, in Jerome County north of Twin Falls. The major portion of this land is owned by the federal Bureau of Land Management; a "small portion thereof" is owned by the state of Idaho, and "there are various smaller parcels owned by individuals," the petition states.

The financial participation of each county ranges from 45 per cent for Twin Falls County to one per cent for Camas, and includes 18.5 per cent for Cassia, 15.5 per cent for Minidoka; 10 per cent for Jerome, 5 per cent each for Gooding and Blaine and two per cent for Lincoln County.

Victim remains 'critical'

TWIN FALLS—Gary Marsh, 17, Twin Falls, injured March 13 in a traffic accident in Blaine County, remains in critical condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital with head injuries.

He was taken to a Boise hospital for special treatment and returned to Twin Falls about a month ago.

Fern Louise Overlin, 19, Kimberly, injured in an accident in Twin Falls April 14, when her vehicle and a city police car collided at the corner of Shoshone Street West and Second Avenue West, has been released to her home.

Teacher pay hike approved

The range of increases at the 17-year level incorporates a number of salaries presently paid at a higher level into one level.

A new step, for teachers with a bachelor's degree plus 15 credit hours of additional study, ranges from $6,355 to $8,480 for the 1971-72 year. Dr. Ragland explained that 40 teachers in the district have the additional study to their credit, and they have been paid a lump sum in addition to their contract salary in past years.

However, the negotiating committee felt that a specific salary step should be included midway between the former B. S. degree step and the B.S. plus 30 hours step. The new step averages $300 more than the B. S. level and $300 less than the B. S. plus 30 hours level.

"We feel it is a fair, acceptable salary schedule, and we are hopeful that the teachers will approve it," Dr. Ragland said.

Jerome man hurt in wreck

JEROME—Leo A. Gergens, 60, Route 1, is listed today in "fairly good" condition at St. Benedict's Hospital here following a one-car accident Thursday night.

Gergens was driving a pickup truck that was northbound on Buchanan when his truck went into a ditch and lodged in a culvert between 6th and 7th avenues.

The truck turned onto its left side, trapping Gergens inside. Irving Altman, police officer who investigated the mishap, said that apparently Gergens drove straight into the ditch. He said officers had some difficulty freeing the victim.

The accident occurred at 10 p.m. Investigation is continuing.

A thought for today: Bishop Fulton Sheen said: "Baloney is flattery so thick it cannot be true and blarney is flattery so thin we like it."

Board vows to battle zone suit

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Writer

Herman Bedke, school board attorney, said today he has been instructed to file a brief in answer to the suit filed by five residents in Zone 2, who claim the present zoning boundaries violate both the Idaho code and U.S. Constitution. They also have asked an injunction to stop the May 10 trustee election.

Jerome due boost by plant

JEROME—C.R.N. Shepherd, manager of First Security Bank, at Jerome, said "We are extremely happy with the announcement that the Tupperware firm will locate in Jerome."

"The infusion of this company into our community can only have beneficial effects, both on community living and the general economic position of the area," Shepherd said.

According to national figures, over 400 new jobs in Jerome could conceivably bring in more than 1,000 new people and could add as many as 200 more children to our schools, more than 200 more people employed in other business, retail sales will be up more than $1 million, bank deposits will increase up over $1 million, personal income will increase more than $2.5 million.

This will mean many new homes, there will be 200 more passenger cars registered, perhaps 10 new retail establishments.

"This will encourage all of us in Jerome to upgrade and expand our shops, increase inventories and carry new expanded lines. We know we have a great town and this move to Jerome by Tupperware should stimulate all of us to make Jerome worthy of our confidence in us."

Hough said that, through oversight, Claiborn had not been notified of the appointment before the announcement. Claiborn had been recommended by House Speaker William Lanting, R-Hollister, who will now recommend another candidate for the position to the governor.

Ski trip on Teton planned

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI)—The first attempt to ever ski down rugged 13,768-foot Grand Teton Peak will be made about mid-May, according to one of the men planning the daring effort.

"It will be around the 14th of May or so," said Bob Garrett, a professional ski patrolman. He, ski instructor Bill Briggs, and ski racer Craig Shanholzer first devised the idea, but Garrett said now perhaps six persons in all would be on the trip.

"We're getting all our equipment together," he said. Garrett explained they were going to wait until mid-May to "let the snow become stable."

"Earlier than that, you have avalanche conditions," he said. According to the plan, they will climb about half-way the first day, then climb to the peak the following day and ski down. Garrett has estimated it will take about four hours to make the complete descent.

Ravenscroft also explained how legislators arrived at the reapportionment in their special session. Lincoln county was divided between Districts 21 and 22.

Claiborn rejects land job

BOISE (UPI)—State Rep. Jack Claiborn, R-Twin Falls, turned down an appointment to the Idaho Commission on Federal Land Laws because of lack of time.

According to John Hough, the governor's press secretary, Claiborn called the governor's office and asked to be excused from the post after he heard of the appointment.

Hough said that, through oversight, Claiborn had not been notified of the appointment before the announcement.

Claiborn had been recommended by House Speaker William Lanting, R-Hollister, who will now recommend another candidate for the position to the governor.

Divorce judgment affirmed

BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's Supreme Court Thursday affirmed a district court judgment granting a divorce to Andrew Smetstad, Weiser.

In an opinion by Justice Charles R. Donaldson the high court held that the trial court had jurisdiction to divorce the couple since Smetstad was an Idaho resident for a least six weeks before instituting the suit.

Ride train

SHOSHONE—Thirty-five persons attended the kindergarten train ride-picnic event Wednesday. The group went by train to Glens Ferry, where they then had a picnic lunch at the Glens Ferry park.

CYCLIST'S HELMET marks accident scene at which slight injuries resulted when a motorcycle and automobile collided at about 9 p.m. on Addison Avenue and Elm Street. The cyclist, William Gary Mohr, 16, was treated for cuts and bruises. The vehicle was struck by a car driven by Russ Allen Danks, of Twin Falls.

Soroptimists hear reports

BURLEY — Reports on the Rocky Mountain Regional Soroptimist Conference were given during the luncheon meeting of the Burley Soroptimist Club Wednesday at Bryan's Cafe.

LaNae Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kendall, Burley, was a guest with her mother as Girl of the Month. She assists with the school paper The Paw Prints, is a member of the senate, has attended Girls' State, served as a delegate to Magic Valley Youth Council and served as secretary of the Science Club. She plans to major in journalism in college.

Mrs. Ken Grimsman reported on the May 8 countywide cleanup meeting which is being directed by Bureau of Land Management officials and Cassia County Commissioners. Volunteer works are to report at 8:30 a.m. in designated areas of the county for work assignments and lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. at the same place work assignments were made. It was announced a public meeting will be held at 8 p.m. May 7 at Burley Masonic Hall to work out details for a pageant later this summer at City of Rocks.

Reports on the recent Rocky Mountain Regional Soroptimist Conference held at Jackson Hole, Wyo., were given by Mrs. Glenn Bailey, Mrs. D.C. Fuller, Mrs. Wayne Konrad, Mrs. LePage Layton, Mrs. Jeannette Chamberlain, Mrs. Edith Raustadt, Mrs. Ralph Thornton, Mrs. Fred Sherrod, Mrs. Gerald Bryan and Mrs. Gay Jones.

It was announced that new officers will be installed during a dinner meeting June 9 and Mrs. Konrad is general chairman.

Board members were reminded of the noon meeting May 7 at Bryan's Cafe.

Mrs. Harlow Cheney, ways and means chairman, announced a rummage sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 8 in the old Burley Motor building. Rummage may be taken to the building Friday May 7 from 4 to 6 p.m., reported Mrs. Cheney.

Opening exercises were conducted by Mrs. Retta Payne and the Thought for the Day was given by Mrs. Rodney Murphy.

Officers named by Burley BPW

BURLEY — Mrs. Anna Laura Westrom has been re-elected president of the Burley Business and Professional Women's Club.

Other officers elected to new terms during a covered dish dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Beth I. Jones were Mrs. Doris Grimsman, vice president; Mrs. Audrey Vanek, secretary, and Mrs. Jones, treasurer.

A special guest at the meeting was Mrs. Marygrace Cox, Jerome, state historian for BPW clubs.

Cox displayed a copy of the newly compiled history of Idaho BPW Clubs which covers the 50 years since the Idaho Federation was chartered.

She presented a series of slides and a history of the National Foundation of BPW Clubs which has its headquarters in Washington, D.C. The foundation has a vast library of information pertaining to legislation affecting women. This information is readily provided for anyone or any group requesting it even though they are not BPW Club members.

Mrs. Westrom conducted the business session. It was reported those attending the recent South Central District BPW meeting were Mrs. Vera Williams, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Westrom and Mrs. Grimsman. The Burley Club will be host for the district meeting in October.

Also at the district meeting, Mrs. Grimsman, general chairman of the coming state convention, met with Mrs. Lois Brock, Orofino, state president, and representatives from the South Central District clubs to complete convention plans.

Plans were announced for a LaVoy Lingerie Party and dinner today at Ramada Inn for club members and guests. The next regular meeting will be May 10 at Price's Cafe at which time the officers will be installed.

Gem safety group sets Burley meet

BURLEY — The Idaho Safety Council will hold its spring meeting May 7 at the Ponderosa Inn with Bartlett R. Brown, Idaho commissioner of labor, as principal speaker.

He will speak at the luncheon, which is open to the public, as are all sessions, according to Gail Loynd, Rigby, president.

Other speakers scheduled are Dr. Michael A. Nerbonne, Idaho State University; John W. Barrett, Boise, law firm of Moffitt, Thomas, Barrett and Blanton; Roland Portman, University of Idaho, and A.J. Teske, executive secretary, Idaho Mining Association.

Topics to be discussed include noise control and hearing

Winners announced

BURLEY — The Burley Duplicate Bridge Club used the Howell Movement in playing bridge at Burley Elks Lodge hall.

Winners were Mrs. Ellen Saunders and Mrs. Marguerite Hogg, first; Mrs. Lucille Haight and Mrs. Nadine Miller, second; Mrs. Betty Grant and Mrs. Julia Brown, third; Mr. Arlie Harris and Lester Saunders, fourth, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holmes, fifth.

John Miller, president of the Duplicate Bridge Club board, resigned and Gail Wolf, vice president, assumed the duties of president. Harry Warnke was elected to the board.

Try a taste

By GEORGIA LAYTON Times-News Writer
RUPERT — "There has never been a period in history when public interest in conservation has been more intense than today. Newspaper accounts prove there are several issues being decided on the long range use of resources and many contrasting views of future human needs," Glenn D. Gallison, Seattle, said here Thursday.

Gallison, operations evaluation specialist with the National Park Service for the northwest region, was featured speaker during the Rupert Chamber of Commerce meeting.

"There are serious concerns about the survival of salmon and steelhead in the Snake River. The debate over additional dams continues on toward some sort of decision and the concern over the possibility of any open pit mining in the White Clouds has become a national issue," Gallison said. He narrated slides which he showed.

"Parks have been established because of the actions of individual citizens who have urged Congress to introduce legislation to provide the best possible protection of the superlative natural values these areas have," said Gallison. The establishment of Yellowstone Park in 1872 came about without much debate in Congress, and there were probably few people in the Wyoming territory who were informed or concerned about the withdrawal from entry or claim of this area for use as a park. Early day residents near the park did not take the new status seriously and the first years after 1872 did not provide much protection from injury or spoilage. There was vandalism and continued killing of wildlife and the new park was already in some danger, as a new concept.

"It was not until the army was directed by Congress to take over in 1886 that there was a way to control the use of our first national park. The cavalry was effective in stopping the poaching and the vandalism and in building the first roads and trails as money was finally provided," he reported.

"When the National Park Service was established in 1916 park rangers took over from the cavalry in Yellowstone, Yosemite and Sequoia and the new concepts of how to manage national parks was evolving," he said.

"Today's national park system consists of 283 areas including 36 national parks and encompasses over 29 million acres of some of the finest parklands in America. A great deal of growth has taken place in the past 10 years. This has been a recognition that the opportunity to meet the recreation needs of the future rested with our generation as land use was changing at an accelerating pace," he said.

"Congress under Kennedy added 13 areas; during Johnson's administration 51 areas were added, and the Nixon administration has added 8 areas.

"It was the people who urged Congress to establish the new areas and our recent national parks such as Redwood and North Cascades were the subject of extensive review and debate before acceptable legislation could be worked out. Various groups had proposed a national park in California's coast redwoods since the turn of the century. But we cut over 90 per cent of the coast redwoods before we finally decided to set aside a representation sample of the redwoods.

"Each one of you has a different understanding of what the policies of the National Park Service are, you all have different images of what a park should be as a result of your personal experiences.

"Because you live in Idaho with access to choice mountain scenery and the opportunity for frequent chances to visit uncrowded places you may feel that there are just too many tourists in Yellowstone and Grand Teton," said Gallison.

"If you had lived your life in a large city and was seeing Yellowstone for the first time you would be less conscious of the hundreds of other visitors. It all depends on what you are used to and what you expect," he added.

"Our objective has been to make possible the most meaningful park experiences by providing appropriate facilities in a way that best displays the park and with the least damage. We have located our own facilities in the least conspicuous locations and to take care of the visitors needs with controlled developments. We have provided a wide range of interpretive facilities to increase the understanding of what people are seeing," he reported.

"In newly authorized areas (usually those natural parks and monuments authorized since 1961) we have a different land acquisition problem since federal lands are limited and private lands are extensive. The priorities of acquisition is first, land needed for preservation or protection of park values, and second, land needed for development of facilities. The third priority is unimproved land needed to prevent threatened development or use which would be incompatible with existing or potential park uses. However land is still acquired from willing seller at the fair market value.

"To solve some of our problems of the many cars and too much congestion, we have been carefully considering alternate forms of mass transportation. The service is presently conducting research into the capabilities, cost and possible effects on the terrain of many different methods of transporting people, including tramways, monorails, rail conveyor systems, buses, and helicopters.

"The Wilderness Act recognizes the differences in the management practices of the various federal agencies charged with the administration of land to be included in the wilderness preservation system. The act provides for certain multiple uses in wilderness areas of the national forests designated by the act such as existing grazing, mineral prospecting until 1984 and mining, and water conservation power projects as authorized by the President," he stated.

"No such lowering of park values is contemplated by the Wilderness Act for National Park Wilderness. Moreover, the act does not contemplate the lowering of park values on the remaining lands not designated as wilderness," he added.

"The management of the roadless sections of all national parks has been as wilderness since each has been established. The new designation mainly means that we must recommend within each park area that portion which will be included in the National Wilderness System.

"The legislative acts which have established each area have emphasized and repeated the statement that the areas are to be managed so as to protect and perpetuate them in their natural condition. There is no doubt as to the role that parks play in today's environmental ethics; the most vigorous supporter of environmental quality is the park user; one whose being has been touched by parkscapes whether through sightseeing, hiking and camping or by the simple knowledge that unspoiled parkscapes exist and will continue to exist," he concluded.

Chamber members were reminded by Pete Ford, vice-president who conducted the meeting, to decorate their windows and honor the Lamb and Wool Industry all next week.

Creates toys

JOHN W. WOOD, Burley, holds a miniature organ which is one of the many pieces of miniature furniture he has made in recent years. He has had furniture making as a hobby for the past 62 years, but has concentrated on it since retiring.

Tasting tea held at Burley

BURLEY — Several hundred persons attended the annual Tasting Tea Thursday sponsored by Cassia County Extension Homemakers Council at Methodist Church Educational building.

Meats, salads, breads and rolls, desserts, coffee and punch were sold for 10 cents per serving. All of the dishes were prepared and donated for the tea by members of the various clubs in the county.

The dining tables were covered with white cloths and were centered with arrangements of driftwood and spring flowers.

Proceeds from the tasting tea will be used for a community service project, according to Mrs. Jim Rodgers, Declo, general chairman of the event.

Clubs whose members worked on the tasting tea were the Burley Home Improvement, Cheerful Doers, Domestic Duchesses, Easy Does It, Farm and Home, Independence Rockettes, Better Homes, Malta Social Club, Homemakers, Pella N-R-Getic, Springdale Happy Homemakers, Sunshine Better Homes, Thrifty Thrivers, Town and Country and View Lamplighters.

All the recipes of the various dishes were compiled in a booklet which was also sold at the tea.

He makes miniature furniture

By JERRY HERRMANN Times-News Writer

BURLEY — In homes around the west can be found small miniature pieces of furniture that were built by John W. Wood, 1746 Almo, Burley.

Wood, who is 70, has been making miniature toys and furniture off and on for the past 62 years.

When asked how he got started in building miniature articles Wood said, "I've always been fascinated by small articles made to scale. All of the objects I build are either one-inch to the foot or two inches to the foot."

Wood who began making miniature toys at the age of 8, really started building miniature furniture in earnest after he retired in 1963.

In 1969 Wood gave away 600 pieces of miniature furniture that he had made to children in the area. Several of the younger girls in the neighborhood that Wood knew were given enough furniture to furnish a six or seven room doll house. He has also given pieces of furniture to children from throughout the west who were visiting people in the neighborhood.

After he retired he also built some miniature houses (doll houses) for some of the girls in the neighborhood. "On these houses the girl's parents paid the cost of the material and I made them," he said.

During the past seven years Wood has let the children who visited his home help build some of the miniature furniture.

"The furniture that they made or finished was theirs," he said. Also, for a brief period he sold items in a Burley store to pay for his materials.

A native of Newton, Iowa, Wood attended schools through the 10th grade in Manilla, Iowa. On March 2, 1917, he enlisted in the Army. During World War I Wood served for 4½ months on the front lines in France. He received his honorable discharge from the Army in April of 1919.

After his discharge Wood went back to Iowa and worked for awhile in the plumbing business. During 1920 he spent six months in California working as a street car conductor. He then returned to Iowa and got married.

In 1923 Wood returned to California and worked as a street car conductor for five years. They moved back to Iowa in 1928 and went into the plumbing business with his father. During the next 14 years he was in the plumbing business and at the end owned his own business in State Center, Iowa.

When World War II came along Wood and his son were sworn into the Air Force on Dec. 2, 1942. After the elder Wood received his radio training in the Air Force he was given a conditional discharge on the condition he go to work for the Maritime Commission in California.

He worked for the commission until December of 1945, when he was discharged.

After a short vacation Wood and his wife returned to Iowa. There Wood and his son worked in the plumbing business until he retired in 1953.

Wood got tired of being in retirement and eight months later he and his wife went to work in the state of Iowa's juvenile home, which Wood described as like a foster home, at Toledo, Iowa.

They worked there until May of 1957 when his wife died. Two months later Wood moved to Burley where his daughter and her family lived.

He then worked in the Bureau of Land Management's office for 90 days as replacement for a sick employee. After that job Wood went to work for Stephenson's installing furnaces in homes.

In the spring of 1958 Wood quit that job and went to California for a few months. After he returned Wood got a job with the city of Burley's water department. He worked there until he retired in 1963. He has lived in his present home since April of 1967. Since that time he has remodeled the inside of the house to meet his needs.

While Wood was working for the city he used his vacation time in 1960 and 1961 to have cataracts removed from his eyes. With the glasses he received after the operation Wood said that he can see items closer than they really are. These glasses made it easier to work on the miniature objects he built.

Of all the objects that Wood has built — over 1,000 — he likes the organs the best when they are completed.

He also said that all of the material for his furniture is ordered from New York City, N. Y. All of the wood is imported, he said.

Couches are the easiest to make, he said, and chairs the hardest to make.

This winter Wood decided he wanted to try something different. Therefore, he did more reading and this spring is working on a garden.

Wood said he has had many hobbies during his life and keeps changing from one to the other.

He hasn't always built just miniature furniture and house either.

Mrs. Hunter, Burley, wins state honors in TOPS event

BURLEY — A loss of 55 pounds during 1970 enabled Mrs. Ray (Patricia) Hunter of 260 E. 100 S, Burley, to win the TOPS Clubs of Idaho's Division I contest.

Mrs. Hunter, a member of the TOPS to KOPS Club of Burley, was presented with her trophy at the TOPS State Recognition Day in Moscow last weekend. She is the first state winner the Burley club has had.

Besides the trophy Mrs. Hunter received an all expense paid trip to Moscow for the State Recognition Day. At the conference the oldest graduate, Mrs. Hunter said, was 72 years of age.

On and off for the past six years Mrs. Hunter has been a member of TOPS clubs. She first joined the Burley TOPS club in 1965. She lost 18 to 20 pounds in the short time she was there. Then the family moved to a location where there wasn't a club. Mrs. Hunter also had an accident and was laid up for three months, during which she gained more weight.

Then in June, 1969, when the family moved back to the Burley area Mrs. Hunter rejoined the TOPS to KOPS club in Burley. Since that time she has lost 93 pounds.

She said there are eight divisions in the club. They are divided up as: Division I, 300-400 pounds; Division II, 250-300 pounds; Division III, 200-250 pounds; Division IV, 150-200 pounds; Division V, up to 150 pounds; Division VI, 13-17 years of age; Division VII, 400 pounds and up; and Division VIII, pre-teens.

Mrs. Hunter's goal for this year is to win the Division III contest.

She said that when a person enters the club she is a member of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly). Then when she gets down to the weight she and her doctor have agreed on she becomes a KIW (KOPS in Waiting). If the KIW keeps her weight at her set level for three months she becomes a KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly).

At present there are 27 members in the club. In the club there are 24 adult members, one teen-age member and two pre-teen members.

The club meets each Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church in Burley. Weigh-in is from 7-7:30 p.m. each Monday.

Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings to learn more about TOPS and see what the club does, Mrs. Hunter said.

She also said that the club is the most active this year that it has been since she first joined it. The club has had hair stylists, probation officer, home extension agent, interior decorators and arts and crafts people in to talk on their subjects.

The goal for the chapter this year, she said, is to have two graduates, and two district winners.

She also said that anyone who joins TOPS must have a doctor's program to follow to show how much she is to lose.

If any men in the area are interested in joining TOPS they can contact Mrs. Hunter at 678-5222. She said if there was enough interest shown a separate TOPS club for men could be formed in Burley.

Anyone wanting to join or learn more about the club can do so by calling Mrs. Hunter or Darlene Babbitt, a.m. only at 678-9728; Marilyn Rehwalt, 678-9797; Betty Helmes, p.m. only at 678-3971; Jill Fackrell, 678-8021.

One of the club's projects for the near future is a rummage sale to be held May 29. This sale will raise funds for the State Recognition Day to be held in Twin Falls next year. They want all members of the club to be able to go.

Officers are Darlene Babbitt, president; Patricia Hunter, vice president; Betty Helmes, secretary; Joyce Maier, treasurer, and Jill Fackrell, weight recorder.

New state phone trials satisfy

BOISE (UPI) — A "pioneering" project to provide state agencies with direct distance dialing and a flat rate method of billing appears to be working out well in the test phase, it was reported Thursday.

Robert Lenaghan, acting director of administrative services, said the new "netcom" program so far seems to have pleased department heads.

Under the system, state agencies pay a flat 11 cents per long distance telephone call made intrastate and department heads can obtain detailed or summary information on the calls made.

Begun Jan. 1, the system is being tried out in Idaho on a six months' basis. The charge made to the state is the same as what the state paid for intrastate calls under the previous combination of WATS (wide area telephone service) lines and telapak.

But the telephone company has supplied the state with a computerized tape which, when run on specially programmed state computers, shows what the costs would be under the new system.

These are being supplied to department heads so they can learn how long their calls are, what they would cost under the new system and even to whom the calls are made.

Because it took time to program the state computer, Lenaghan said, print out detailed information was not available until recently. He said detailed reports for the first three months are being sent out this week to agency heads for scrutiny.

He said his department will continue sending out monthly detailed reports until July 1. After that, he said, department heads will get only a summary report listing the number of calls, time spent and cost of the calls unless they request more detail.

He said legislators and other elected officials will be able to receive information only about their own telephone calls. He said, "A slip of the tongue could be dangerous."

Don Darner, account manager for Mountain Bell in Boise, said New Mexico has decided it, too, will try the system pioneered by Mountain Bell and other Idaho telephone companies and the state and that at least seven other states are studying the system with an eye toward possible use of it.

Even the federal government has shown interest in it, he said.

Under the previous system, Darner said, during the busiest time of day persons trying to make long distance calls could get a busy signal 40 per cent of the time. That has been cut to approximately three per cent under netcom, he said.

Official lauds baseball fans

TWIN FALLS — Kip Horsburgh, youthful manager of the Cowboy Baseball Club, Thursday told members of the Kiwanis club that Twin Falls is a good baseball town, deserves a good ball club "and we will see that you get it."

Horsburgh, who is from Cleveland, holds a masters degree in business from Stanford University and has been in Twin Falls five weeks, said the 33-game season would open in Twin Falls on June 25 when the Cowboys play Great Falls. Five major league clubs are providing players for the local club, he said.

"Two months ago it looked like Twin Falls would not field a team," the speaker said, "but now it is certain that we will. The local cooperation to get things going has been fantastic."

Horsburgh was introduced by Dick Reed, program chairman for the day.

Prior to the program at the Turf Club, Dick Pierce, who now lives in Buhl and who is associated in the Robertson-Obenchain Agency in Twin Falls, was inducted as a member. Inducting officer was Bill Koch.

Program next Thursday will feature motorcyclist Evel Knievel. A spring ladies' night program-dance-dinner will be staged at the Blue Lakes Country Club next Monday with a no-host social hour starting at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. Dancing will continue until 1 a.m., according to Bill Evans, chairman in charge.

Mortgage loans peak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's savings and loan associations closed $2.7 billion in mortgage loans in March, the highest monthly total in the three years during which the records have been kept, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board said today.

The loan total was $900 million higher than February and was more than twice the $1.3 billion closed a year earlier, the board said.

New commitments for future mortgage lending increased by $3.1 billion during the month.

Gem solon backs jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Orval Hansen said Thursday he has joined a massive bipartisan campaign in Congress to fight urban blight and create jobs.

Hansen said he and more than 100 of his House colleagues have introduced legislation permitting a $750 tax deduction for home repair.

Rental property owners would be permitted rapid amortization over five years for the cost of rehabilitating rental housing, he said.

Gold prices hit 18-month high

LONDON (UPI) — Gold prices rose to an 18-month high on the London bullion market Thursday and the U.S. dollar hovered weakly near floor level amid mounting fears of a new international money crisis.

But dealers said buying of gold was only "moderate." They said there was no panic buying spree like that in March, 1968, when the United States lost nearly $1.5 billion of its gold reserves.

The gold price increased to $39.95 a fine ounce at the close on the London bullion market. This represented a 50-cent increase over Wednesday and the highest point touched since late 1969.

Gold prices are those recorded on the so-called "free" market created in April, 1968, when the world's leading financial nations set up a "two-tier" system for buying and selling gold.

Central banks still buy and sell gold between each other at the price of $35 a fine ounce maintained by the United States since 1934. But commercial dealings are at the free market price.

Strategy dominates play on Kentucky Derby eve

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—There were strategy meetings all over the backstretch at Churchill Downs today as trainers and jockeys studied the post positions assigned to 20 horses for Saturday's $188,000 Kentucky Derby.

ing but the field was reduced by one late in the day when Mrs. Taylor Hardin's Sole Mio was scratched. Sole Mio apparently hurt a leg in his stall and trainer Woody Stephens said the colt would be unable to run in the Derby.

Olsen will defend crown in Buhl golf tourney Saturday

BIHL—Tom Olsen of Boise will return to defend his title this weekend during the annual Clear Lakes amateur golf tournament.

The field, which has run either 127 or 126 for the past three years, will begin competition Saturday morning. It will be divided into five flights, ac-ording to handicap, with the lower four flights playing 18 holes in the two-day run and the championship flight playing 18 Saturday and 27 on Sunday.

New York completes sweep over Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Donn Clendenon's three-run homer sparked a six-run spurge by the New York Mets in the seventh inning Thursday for a 7-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and a sweep of the four-game series.

Nolan Ryan, who allowed two Cardinal singles in six innings, received credit for the win in his first start of the season to make his record 2-0. Ryan was lifted for a pinchhitter, Don Hahn in the Mets' seventh inning.

Due to the pressure of turning on the nine-hole course, host professional Frank Stewart is inaugurating a new system. No one will be allowed to go off the No. 1 tee from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, which will allow the early morning starters to complete their full 18 without undue delay in turning on the second nine.

Expos 7, Cubs 6

CHICAGO (UPI)—Johnny Bateman singled home Ron Swoboda during a three-run rally in the ninth inning Thursday to give the Montreal Expos a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Wayne Simpson, with a helping hand from relief pitcher Wayne Granger, picked up his first victory of the season. He departed after walking leadoff batter Chris Cannizzaro in the seventh inning.

The tournament this year also is closed to most juniors. Teen-agers planning to enter must be 18 years old and/or graduating seniors. All entries must have an Idaho Golf Association handicap card.

Giants 5, Braves 2

ATLANTA (UPI)—Ken Henderson's bloop single scored Willie Mays with the go-ahead run in the 13th inning Thursday night and the streaking San Francisco Giants added two more runs to beat the Atlanta Braves, 5-2.

Wayne Simpson, with a helping hand from relief pitcher Wayne Granger, picked up his first victory of the season. He departed after walking leadoff batter Chris Cannizzaro in the seventh inning.

Stewart said Thursday night it was impossible to size up the field for this year's event since the tournament committee does not require pre-tourney entries. However, he said he'd heard of sufficient numbers of top caliber players who planned to come to make the championship flight strong.

Reds 4, Padres 2

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Pete Rose, Ty Cline and Lee May rapped out three hits apiece to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-2 victory over the San Diego Padres Thursday and a sweep of their three-game series.

Stewart said Thursday night it was impossible to size up the field for this year's event since the tournament committee does not require pre-tourney entries. However, he said he'd heard of sufficient numbers of top caliber players who planned to come to make the championship flight strong.

N.Y. wins in three overtimes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pete Stewkowski, scored at 1:29 of the third overtime period to give the desperate New York Rangers a comeback 3-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night and a 3-3 deadlock in their Stanley Cup semifinal series.

Eagles fear loss of passer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Eagles said Thursday they are wondering whether another National Football League team may be trying to woo away missing quarterback Greg Barton with an attractive financial offer.

Wayne Simpson, with a helping hand from relief pitcher Wayne Granger, picked up his first victory of the season. He departed after walking leadoff batter Chris Cannizzaro in the seventh inning.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pete Stewkowski, scored at 1:29 of the third overtime period to give the desperate New York Rangers a comeback 3-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night and a 3-3 deadlock in their Stanley Cup semifinal series.

L.A. 2, Pirates 1

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 Thursday night in a game that featured a dramatic 11th inning comeback by the Dodgers.

It was the second game in the series that Stewkowski won in overtime and the two goals are the only ones he has compiled in 12 playoff games this season.

Orioles top A's on power

OAKLAND (UPI)—John Powell and Don Buford drove in all the runs with homers and Jim Palmer outdueled Rolie Fingers for his fourth victory Thursday as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Oakland A's, 3-2.

Pat Stapleton of Chicago had just returned from the penalty box when the Rangers put the pressure on goalie Tony Esposito and Stewkowski poked in a rebound of a shot by Ted Irvine.

Crawford KOs

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Frankie Crawford, 129, No. 6 ranked featherweight, knocked out Japan's Kenji Imai, 130, at 1:17 of the seventh round in a scheduled 10-rounder at Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

Jerome schedules 22-bout ring card

JEROME — A 22-bout amateur boxing bout, perhaps highlighted by a rematch between Gene Burley of Twin Falls and James Gibson of Owyhee, Nev., will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Jerome High School gymnasium.

California outlasts Cleveland

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Roger Repoz and Tony Gonzalez each doubled in two runs Thursday night to back up the no-hit relief pitching of Eddie Fisher for an 8-4 California Angels victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Fisher took over for starter Tom Murphy after Graig Nettles hit a two-run homer for the Indians in the fifth, scoring Ken Harrelson. Fisher gained credit for the win, his third against one loss.

Cleveland starter Alan Foster lasted only two and two-thirds innings, during which he gave up one hit but walked five men and was charged with five runs and the loss to make his record 1-2.

Foster walked two men in the third with the score tied 2-2 and Ken McMullen singled in Gonzalez before Repoz doubled in McMullen and Jim Fregosi.

Bruins host Borah, Boise

The undefeated Twin Falls Bruins, carrying a 9-0 record, will take on Borah and Boise in a doubleheader at Jaycee Park Saturday.

The Bruins will meet Borah in the opener at 11 a.m. and then go against the Braves in the second game at 1 p.m.

Coach Harold Brown is expected to start junior lefty Kevin Nelson who no-hit Borah in the first meeting of the season at Boise.

After Saturday's games, the Bruins have a May 6 date with Minico before heading into the district tournament May 11, 12 and 13.

Officials at Salt Lake's Salt Palace Coliseum report a greater ticket demand for the first two games than they've ever witnessed before.

They report a "capacity crowd" for Monday's first game, and a "great number of requests" for seats at the second game Wednesday.

Both the Stars and the Colonels entered their regional playoffs in the underdog role, after both teams finished second in their respective divisions.

Utah won its seventh and deciding game of the defending ABA champion Indiana Pacers 108-101 Wednesday night to capture the Western Division, and Kentucky took the East with a 129-117 victory over the Virginia Squires, winning the playoff in six games.

Shots of pain killer have kept Johnson going the last few weeks.

Feldman, said guard Earl Monroe, would probably play Friday night, despite a pulled adductor muscle in his groin. Monroe was injured in Wednesday's game.

Coach Gene Shue considers Wednesday's effort the best his club has made in the three title games played so far.

"We did the things we wanted to do in the first two games," he said, "But we gave up too many easy shots because of careless errors."

The Bullets stalled, ran and double-teamed Wednesday and managed to hold Lew Alcindor to 23 points and Robertson to 20. But Bob Dandridge exploded for 29 points and Greg Smith added 15.

"Twenty-six of the Bucks' 45 field goals came from within nine feet of the basket on tips and layups.

"They don't have any overpowering forward without Gus Johnson," Dandridge said.

If anything can pull the Bullets together for even one win, it will be pride.

"I don't like guys beating me and then laughing at me," Jack Marlin said. "I saw a lot of smiles out there Wednesday."

Guard Kevin Loughery, who has seen limited duty because of injuries, said, "I'd like at least to win just one."

That would do a lot for me—give me a lot of satisfaction," he said.

After arriving in Salt Lake Thursday afternoon, the Stars announced plans to start immediate workouts in preparation for their ABA showdown.

The team plans to go with the regular season lineup against Kentucky, with Zelmo Beaty at center, Red Robbins and Willie Wise will flank Beaty at forwards and Merv Jackson and Glen Combs will be on the guardline.

Stars coach Bill Sharman plans to use his big men, Beaty and Robbins, to keep Kentucky's Dan Issel away from the boards. To win the playoffs Utah will have to control Issel, the ABA's regular season leading scorer.

The Colonels will have some defensive problems of their own. If they concentrate on Beaty, as Indiana did in the seventh game of the Western series, Wise and Robbins could kill them.

Kentucky will probably back up Issel with Jim Ligon and Cincy Powell at forwards and Darel Carrier and Louis Dampier at guards. They also have a strong bench in Les Hunter and Walt Simon.

As for reserves, Utah can match anybody in the league with Ron Boone and George Stone. Boone helped ignite a third quarter rally Wednesday night that carried the Stars past Indiana.

The playoff also features a showdown between two former teammates. In their playing days Kentucky's coach Frank Ramsey and Utah's Sharman played together on the champion Boston Celtics of the rival National Basketball Association.

Sharman said it will be interesting to see how the two teams do against each other since they'll both be using game plans stolen from the Celtics.

If one team has an advantage, it will probably be Utah with the homecourt advantage. This season Utah won four of six games with Kentucky, but took all three games played in Salt Lake.

After the first two games in the Salt Palace, the teams travel to Louisville for games three and four Friday night and Saturday afternoon May 8.

If more games are necessary, the fifth game will be at Salt Lake May 12; then May 15 at Louisville, and May 18 in Salt Lake.

Canadiens advance to cup finals

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI)—Rejean Houle's second-period goal from right in front of the net gave the Montreal Canadiens a 3-2 victory over the Minnesota North Stars Thursday night and put them into the finals of the 1971 Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Canadiens, who were expected to sweep the series in four straight games, took the best of seven series four games to two.

With the score tied at 2-2, Houle took the puck in front of the net after Minnesota Goalie Cesare Maniago went down on a shot by Henri Richard and tapped it in at 13:29. Each team was down one man at the time.

The Canadiens had taken a 2-1 lead on goals by Yvan Cournoyer late in the first period and Claude Larose at 1:07 of the second period. But Minnesota's Jude Drouin was in front of the net at 9:18 of the second period to grab a rebound of Tom Reid's shot and push the puck in past Montreal goalie Ken Dryden.

However, Houle scored four minutes later and neither team was able to score in the third period as Minnesota pulled their goalie at 18:14, put him back in for a face off and then pulled him again at 19:01.

Minnesota took a 1-0 lead when Charlie Burns drove into the Montreal zone, passed to Murray Oliver, got the puck back, went behind the net and brought it around and in at 9:50 of the first period.

Then at 16:00, Cournoyer took a rebound of J.C. Tremblay's shot and hit it in front of the net on a Montreal power play as the Canadiens sent a barrage of shots toward Maniago.

Larose made it 2-1 at 1:07 on the second period when he jammed the puck in from the left side after Maniago was unable to control the rebound.

Chicago signs No. 4 choice

Sox snap four-game loss spell

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Walt Williams, Rich Morales and Rich McKinney all delivered successful pinch-hits during a four-run seventh inning rally Thursday night that sparked the Chicago White Sox to a 5-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

The triumph snapped a four-game White Sox losing streak. Washington was leading 2-1 on Mike Epstein's first home run in 66 times at bat until Mike Andrews and Williams and Morales rapped consecutive singles to tie the score at 2-2 in the seventh. After Lee Maye was intentionally walked to load the bases and Lee Richard forced Williams at the plate, McKinney dumped a bloop single to rightfield to score two runs. Chicago then scored what proved to be the winning run on Carlos May's sacrifice fly to deep rightfield.

The White Sox took a 1-0 lead in the top of the sixth when Ed Stroud, a former Senator, doubled to left-center and scored on May's ground single to center.

Pace Thursday after firing a six-under-par 66 in the first round of the $125,000 New Orleans Open. "I'm hitting the ball as straight as I've ever hit it, as accurately, and my putting is about as good as it's been."

Pace's 66 put him one stroke behind first-round leaders Lou Graham and Jacky Cupit, another Texan, and tied with Larry Ziegler, J.C. Snead and Chi Chi Rodriguez.

Pace came into prominence April 11 when he captured first place in the Magnolia State Golf Classic. It was his first tour victory.

Pace says a golfing self-improvement project he began 18 months ago flourished at the Magnolia and continues to bloom in New Orleans.

"I used to hook the ball a lot," he said. "But I've worked my swing into a pattern when I can hit the ball a lot straighter now, and even fade the ball where before I couldn't fade it at all."

"And my pattern enables me to hit a lot more shots and it seems like I can hit better shots under pressure."

Pace, of Longview, Tex., said, "I've been working on the same thing for the last year and a half, and it's just now starting to materialize and kind of get normal."

Pace had plenty of competition, though, because 76 golfers broke par over the 7,080-yard, par-72 Lakewood Country Club Course in the first round. Most of them praised the wide, flat greens and dry conditions.

One stroke back at 67 were Rod Funseth, Dave Hill, Gordon Jones, Johnny Pott, Alex Sutton, Lee Elder, Jack Lewis, Gene Littler and Kermit Zarley.

Pretournament favorite Lee Trevino, who won at Tallahassee last week and who fired a hot 66 in the pro-am, faltered at 74, nine strokes off the pace in the first round.

Billy Casper, who has won $64,820 this year to go with his previous $1 million winnings, complained of buritis in his hip point and withdrew after firing a par 36 on the back nine.

Curt Flood moves, but keeps mum

MADRID (UPI)—Washington Senator outfielder Curt Flood who has quit baseball for the second time, wants to be left alone to sort out his problems.

Flood briefly surfaced in a small Madrid hotel Thursday after leaving his team and hopping a plane to Lisbon Tuesday. When he realized that a reporter was on his trail, he furtively checked out of the hotel at daybreak and vanished.

He refused to answer any questions and hailed a taxi which disappeared in highway traffic to Barajas Airport.

Nazarenes select superintendent

TWIN FALLS — Norman Garlington has been named superintendent of the Sunday school of the Twin Falls Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Joe Chastain, pastor, announced today.

The superintendent was selected in the annual meeting of the church membership at which time new trustees and stewards also were announced. Named to the Sunday school board were Carol Brockway, Darlene Sparrrell, Vera Heyer, Rose Marie Rosenau and Dan Edwards.

Trustees elected include Charles Brockwat, Don Edwards, Hubert Hendrix, Doyle Mason, Rudy Loder, Neil Miller and Russell Rosenau.

Stewards elected are Leona Anderson, Lavern Noyd, Darlene Dietz, Ladine Hendrix, Danny Peak, Marvin Robinson, Anna Sievers, Rae White, Virgil Worcester and Wayne DeBoard. Selected to represent the local Nazarene Church at the district assembly to be held in May were Bill Andre, Pauline Chastain, Donna Garlington and Bette Hendrix.

Plans were announced for a banquet for teachers and officers of the Sunday school Friday night in the Rogerson Hotel. Plans were discussed for an all night of prayer Saturday, beginning at 9 p.m. and ending at 6 a.m. Sunday.

Sunday is baby day at the church.

Workshop held by Lutherans

BUHL — Teachers of the churches of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, Magic Valley Zone, participated in a special workshop on the new Mission Life Curriculum conducted at St. John's Lutheran Church, Buhl.

Approximately 100 men and women attended the workshop. Included among the guests was Rev. Carl Nitz, Portland, counselor of education and stewardship for the Northwest District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

One of more than 600 such meetings arranged by the Board of Parish Education in cooperation with district boards of parish education, these workshops provide a preview and demonstration of the new Mission Life teaching materials.

Parish education administrators and age-level leaders and teachers are given the opportunity at these gatherings to experience, in miniature, the methodology and impact of the new program.

The workshop was led by a team composed of Lawrence Brose, Twin Falls, team leader; Rev. Thomas Burton, Jerome, for the adult level; Rev. Lawrence Mietzner, Rupert, for the youth level; William Rupprecht, Filer, for the upper elementary level; Mrs. Ralph Besel, Burley, for the lower elementary level and Mrs. Lawrence Mietzner, Rupert, for the preprimary level.

Following the circuit workshops, congregations of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod will host similar workshops for their teaching staffs and education leaders.

These groups will be responsible for administering the Mission Life program and acquainting the teachers with the curriculum materials.

Collegians slate concert Wednesday

TWIN FALLS — The "Collegians," a seven-voice mixed ensemble from Mountain View Bible College, Disbury, Alberta, Canada, will present a sacred concert at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Lynwood Chapel.

Rev. E.A. Pollman, who has spent 12 years in the pastorate and has completed his eighth year at the college, travels with the group and will speak. Jacqueline Weber, director of music and Christian service at the college, also accompanies the group.

Mountain View offers a Bible diploma with majors in Bible and theology, pastoral studies, sacred music, missions and Christian Education.

Retreat set
FILER — More than 40 young people from Filer churches, and their counselors, will attend a spring youth retreat at Cathedral Pines in the Sawtooth Mountains this weekend. The group will meet at the First Baptist Church at 4 p.m. Friday to arrange for transportation.

Churches

Ordination considered

DETROIT (UPI)—Two Bishops Wednesday raised the possibility that women and married men may be ordained as priests of the Roman Catholic Church.

The more than 200 prelates attending the three-day National Conference of Catholic Bishops also elected, after three ballots, the four representatives they would send to the International Synod of Bishops in Rome in September.

Although the bishops refused to reveal their representatives' names because of "courtesies" to the Pope and Synod rules, observers felt Cardinal John Dearden, president of the NCCB, was among those elected. The names will be announced Thursday.

Bishop James W. Malone of Youngstown, Ohio, told a news briefing, "on the question of is it possible to ordain women in the church, we have no theology which says we can't, so it's quite possible that women will be ordained into the church in the future."

As he spoke, a group of Catholic women who demanded such a measure and accused the church of discriminating against women stood outside the conference room.

During the bishops' closed door meeting, Archbishop James E. Davis of Santa Fe, N.M., said, "The possibility of ordaining married men seems not remote." His remark was read to newsmen by a spokesman during the briefing.

The statements stemmed from a $500,000 series of psychological, sociological and theological studies of the priesthood commissioned by the bishops. The studies suggested the majority of priests favored having the freedom to marry, and a progress report of the theological study by Father Carl Armbruster of Chicago suggested women should be ordained.

Priority sought for Chicanos needs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of Chicanos asked U.S. Roman Catholic bishops today to make the needs of Spanish-speaking, particularly Mexican-Americans, the top priority of the bishops' anti-poverty Human Development campaign.

"The Spanish-speaking make up the largest minority in the U.S. Catholic church," the group said. "They are among the nation's poorest, least educated and most deprived." The request was made in a letter sent to Cardinal John Dearden, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops. "It was signed by Herman Gallegos, University of San Francisco, San Francisco; State Sen. Joseph Bernal, San Antonio, Tex.; Lionel Castillo, director of the Community Relations Council, Galveston-Houston Diocese, Houston, Tex.; and Gustavo Gaynett, director of the Latin American Secretariat, Detroit Archdiocese.

Ministers advised not to talk too long, get right to point

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

Since consumers are having their say in all fields these days, it may be in order for a veteran sermon-listener to offer a few suggestions to preachers.

The first is simply a reiteration of what every good seminary has been trying to teach students for years. Alas, too many preachers seem to forget it after they gain access to a pulpit.

Don't preach too long. Twelve to 15 minutes is a sufficient length for sermons. Twenty minutes is the absolute maximum. Any good that may be accomplished in the early stages of a marathon sermon is dissipated by the rising irritation of the captive audience when a preacher drones on and on.

The second piece of advice is closely related to the first: Get right to the point. Don't beat around the bush with long-winded introductory remarks. Don't digress into irrelevant drolleries. Don't try to impress your listeners with your erudition by quoting copiously from the Scriptures or vogue theologians.

When you make your point, stop—even if you've been preaching only five minutes. Anti-climax is even deadlier in speaking than in writing.

Suggestion number three:

Always use the language of the people you're addressing—not the (to them) exotic language of theology. People who are familiar with the Bible, or who read a lot of religious books, can communicate with each other in a kind of jargon that is utterly baffling to most laymen.

The fourth suggestion is: Don't try to water down the Gospel to make it easier for your listeners to believe and accept. If you soft-pedal the supernatural aspects of the Christian faith because you think "modern" minds may find them incredible, you will drive people to seek elsewhere—either in another church or in some weird "occult" practice—for a transrational dimension of existence.

Finally, remember that a sermon should appeal to the heart and will as well as to the mind. The most that rational argument can do is remove invalid prejudices against religious truth. The leap of faith—the decision to risk one's life on the possibility that Jesus really is the way—takes place at a deeper level of the human personality than logic alone can reach.

Thus a good sermon is not just an argument or a moral lecture or a sales talk, but a challenge, an invitation, a dare and a promise.

Good Shepherd group installs new officers

BUHL — Officers for the Good Shepherd Auxiliary, Idaho Unit, were elected at a meeting at the Home of Mrs. Del Butterfield in Twin Falls.

New officers include Mrs. Art Kaster, Hagerman, president; Mrs. Kenneth James, Twin Falls, vice president; Mrs. Eimer Schroeder, Buhl, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Adolph, Hagerman, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Martens, Eden, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Don Schroeder, Buhl, financial secretary; Mrs. Edwin Lierman, Filer, membership chairman; Mrs. Virgil Adams, Buhl, publicity chairman, and Rev. Thomas Johnston, pastor of Clover Trinity Lutheran church, pastoral advisor.

Committee members include Mrs. Larry Schwartz, Hazelton; Mrs. Ervin Ehlers, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Wayne Schroeder, Filer, projects; Mrs. Charles Valentine, Kimberly, and Mrs. Kenneth James, Twin Falls, bylaws; Mrs. Edwin Brune, Murtaugh, Mrs. Clarence Degner, Hansen, and Mrs. Albert Brune, Hazelton.

resolutions committee. Mrs. Albert Schroeder, Twin Falls, was named parliamentarian.

The evening devotion was given by Mrs. Adolph.

It was reported that approximately $70 received at a cooked food sale at Wendell and $99 from the spring fair at Clover were donated for sponsorship of Connie Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Adams, Buhl, the only resident at Good Shepherd Home from Idaho.

A Good Shepherd gift shop will be operated at the home of Mrs. Wayne Schroeder three miles west and one mile south of Jordan's corner at Filer. All proceeds from the gift shop will go to the home.

For the program, Mrs. Kaster, Mrs. Butterfield and Mrs. Adolph showed slides of the Good Shepherd Home at Terra Bella, Calif. from its construction stages to the present time. They also played tapes of the children's choir from the home. The three ladies visited the home and attended the board meeting there recently.

It was announced that ground-breaking for the Good Shepherd Home at Cornelius, Ore. would be July 25 with occupancy of the home July 1, 1972. The Good Shepherd Homes for the mentally retarded are maintained by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Mrs. Donald Schroeder, Buhl, was hostess for the meeting.

Reports slated Sunday

TWIN FALLS — Reports on the state Episcopal diocese convention at Pocatello will be presented by delegates from the Church of the Ascension Episcopal Church at the 10 a.m. Sunday service.

Rev. John M. Wallace said Rt. Rev. Norman Foote, bishop of the diocese, addressed the convention, expressing the necessity for reaching out and following leaders into "perhaps uncharted areas of concern."

Bert Larson will report on the bishop's charge to the diocese and action taken on it and Mrs. Arlene Steele will report on general convention business. Robert Stradley will report on youth action and on next year's convention which will be held in Twin Falls, with the Magic Valley Episcopal congregations to serve as hosts.

These include the Twin Falls Church of the Ascension, Holy Trinity at Buhl and Calvary Episcopal Church at Jerome. Rev. John Tulk, formerly from Shoshone, now at Trinity-St. Andrew's Church, Pocatello, was host for this year's convocation.

Catholic rise, priests decline

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The number of Roman Catholics in the world increased by more than 10 million last year to a total of 528 million but the priesthood continued a slow but steady decline in numbers, the Vatican said today.

The figures were contained in the 1,028 page book "Activity of the Holy See in 1970" which was presented to Pope Paul VI by Secretary of State Cardinal Jean Villot.

Services slated at T.F. church

TWIN FALLS — Final services to be conducted here by Evangelist and Mrs. Lester Summers, Houston, Tex., are scheduled for Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Assembly of God Church. Rev. Summers will minister at the Friday evening services and the Sunday morning worship hour.

Prophecy and related subjects will be the topic of the services. All interested persons are invited by Rev. L. I. LaMance, pastor, to attend the special services. The church is located on North Locust Street and Shoup Avenue East.

Indiana man sets sermon

TWIN FALLS — Rev. Bob Fansler, Fort Wayne, Ind., will speak at the Lynwood Chapel at 11 a.m. Sunday.

He is the youth director of the Missionary church. He and David Passey, Moses Lake, Wash., district youth director, will meet with young people of the Lynwood Chapel and the Filer Missionary Church at 3:30 p.m.

Rev. Fansler also will speak at the 7:30 p.m. Sunday service at the Filer Missionary Church.

Catholic women at Buhl elect

BUHL — Officers have been installed for the coming year by the Buhl Council of Catholic Women, it was announced today.

Mrs. Pat Hamilton is president; Mrs. Carmelo Zamora, First vice president; Mrs. Erving Twerdy, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Eggleston, secretary; Mrs. Ted Kokes, treasurer, and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, historian. Bob McManaman, out-going president, was installing officer.

Mrs. Frank Karel and Mrs. Ted Kokes were named delegates to the 52nd annual convention of the Idaho Council of Catholic Women in Pocatello May 1-3. Alternate delegates are Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. John Wagner, Sr.

The Buhl League will serve a noon luncheon for the senior citizens at the Lincoln Courts on May 19. Any members wishing to donate food or help serve is asked to contact Mrs. Erving Twerdy.

Mrs. Henry Eggleston reported on community affairs.

play would have produced an overtrick if the queens had been reversed, but in that case the simple play of ruffing with the jack would have let him make his contract. That play would only lose the contract if West held both queens. This was highly improbable. East had opened the bidding with a five-card club suit. If he didn't hold either queen he would have only 11 high-card points for his vulnerable opening. This simple line would also yield an overtrick if East held both queens. A third line of play is probably better than either of the above. South simply discards a low diamond on that third club. Later on he gets to discard another diamond on the 10 of clubs and doesn't need the diamond finesse.

Consumer suit bills assailed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's leading manufacturing and retail associations lined up before a Senate subcommittee Thursday to condemn proposals, including an administration bill, which would allow consumers to file class action suits in federal courts.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the nation's largest business federation, said such legislation would "set up legitimate business enterprises as high visibility targets for bounty hunters." The main thrust of the opposition was against class action suits, in which one person files suit in behalf of all persons who may suffer because of the defendant's alleged wrongdoing. The chamber, in a statement presented by attorney Irving Scher, told the Commerce subcommittee that "consumer class actions will not provide an expedient or meaningful remedy for consumers against unfair and deceptive trade practices." The National Association of Insurance Commissioners said the proposed legislation would "lead to anarchy" within state insurance department regulatory activities and "diminish insurance industry effectiveness in serving the public need." Opposition centered primarily against a bill introduced by Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., and the Administration's Consumer Fraud Prevention Act of 1971.

The Magnuson bill would allow a consumer to bring a class action suit in federal court against retailer or manufacturer on behalf of other consumers with identical complaints against the product in question. Should the consumers win their case, court assessed damages would be subsequently awarded to all consumers under the class action suit.

The Administration measure is far narrower in that it would permit such class suits only after the government has first initiated its own regulatory action.

Eugene Adams Kenney, president of the American Retail Federation, said class actions "promise much, but deliver little." Kenney urged that the Federal Trade Commission be given broader authority "to seek preliminary injunctions to stop fraud before it preys on consumers."

Laird rests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird Thursday underwent successful surgery for a double hernia in a two hour operation at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

The Pentagon said there were no complications and that Laird was resting comfortably. He is expected to remain at Walter Reed about 10 days and then recuperate at home before returning to his desk about mid-May.

Aide asks united front on schools

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's chief state school officer told a meeting of school superintendents today that all groups involved in education "must present a united front on critical educational issues."

D.F. Engelking, superintendent of public instruction, addressed the opening session of the two-day conference of the Idaho Association of School Superintendents.

"If we are to cope with the many problems facing us — problems of student demands for change, problems of adequate funding, problems of planning for the future, and problems of a critical public and a skeptical legislature then we have to plan together and work together," he said.

Engelking said "it is increasingly evident that superintendents, principals, teachers and trustees must work together."

"We may have reasonable differences but on major problems we must coordinate our efforts," he said. "We can no longer isolate ourselves in private domains if we are to provide the best possible education for our kids."

Jerry Evans, Caldwell, president of the association, said Gov. Cecil D. Andrus will speak to the association Friday morning.

Trustees to plan meeting

TWIN FALLS — School District No. 411, Twin Falls, will sponsor the state Idaho Trustees Association conference in November, according to Dr. Ernest H. Ragland, superintendent of schools.

The association is composed of school board members from throughout Idaho, who confer regularly on school policy and problems.

Twin Falls board members will confer with the state president, Alan Smith, Bancroft, in an open board meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the school administration offices to plan for the convention, Dr. Ragland said. The meeting is open to the public.

The trustees will meet at the College of Southern Idaho for their business sessions and for a dinner, according to early planning.

VC offer to quit shooting

PARIS (UPI) — The Viet Cong's chief negotiator at the Paris talks, Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, said Thursday Viet Cong troops were ready to stop shooting at American forces "who undertake no action against them."

The statement by Mme. Binh touched off a flurry of cease-fire reports but the Viet Cong quickly made it clear that there was no departure from the standing Communist demand for an American troop pullout before there could be any truce. U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce said he did not see Mme. Binh's statement as "truly a cease-fire proposal" and the White House dismissed the Viet Cong statement as "more for propaganda purposes than for other reasons."

"We would be delighted if the other side were to negotiate a cease-fire," White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said in Washington. But he added that Mme. Binh's statement did not represent a bona fide proposal.

Mme. Binh spoke at the 11th session of the Vietnam talks, a meeting that lasted five hours. She was speaking of the April 26 Viet Cong order to withhold fire against U.S. troops opposed to the war.

Both the United States and South Vietnam made two new proposals on the prisoner issue.

Bruce urged the Communists to suggest the name of a third party organization or government to act as "protecting power" over prisoners held on both sides to oversee their welfare and condition.

The U.S. suggestion coincided with reports from Stockholm that Sweden was ready to help on the prisoner issue. The Stockholm reports said Sweden had held informal talks with the United States on this and also broached the subject in informal contacts with Hanoi diplomats.

Ambassador Pham Dang Lam of South Vietnam asked the Communists also to name a "neutral government" to aid in the repatriation of 1,200 North Vietnamese troops who have been held in South Vietnam camps for more than four years.

Delegation spokesmen for the United States and Saigon said the Communists evaded replying to the proposals, and demanded instead that the United States propose a deadline for troop withdrawal before they would agree to even discuss the prisoner issue.

Bride Edition

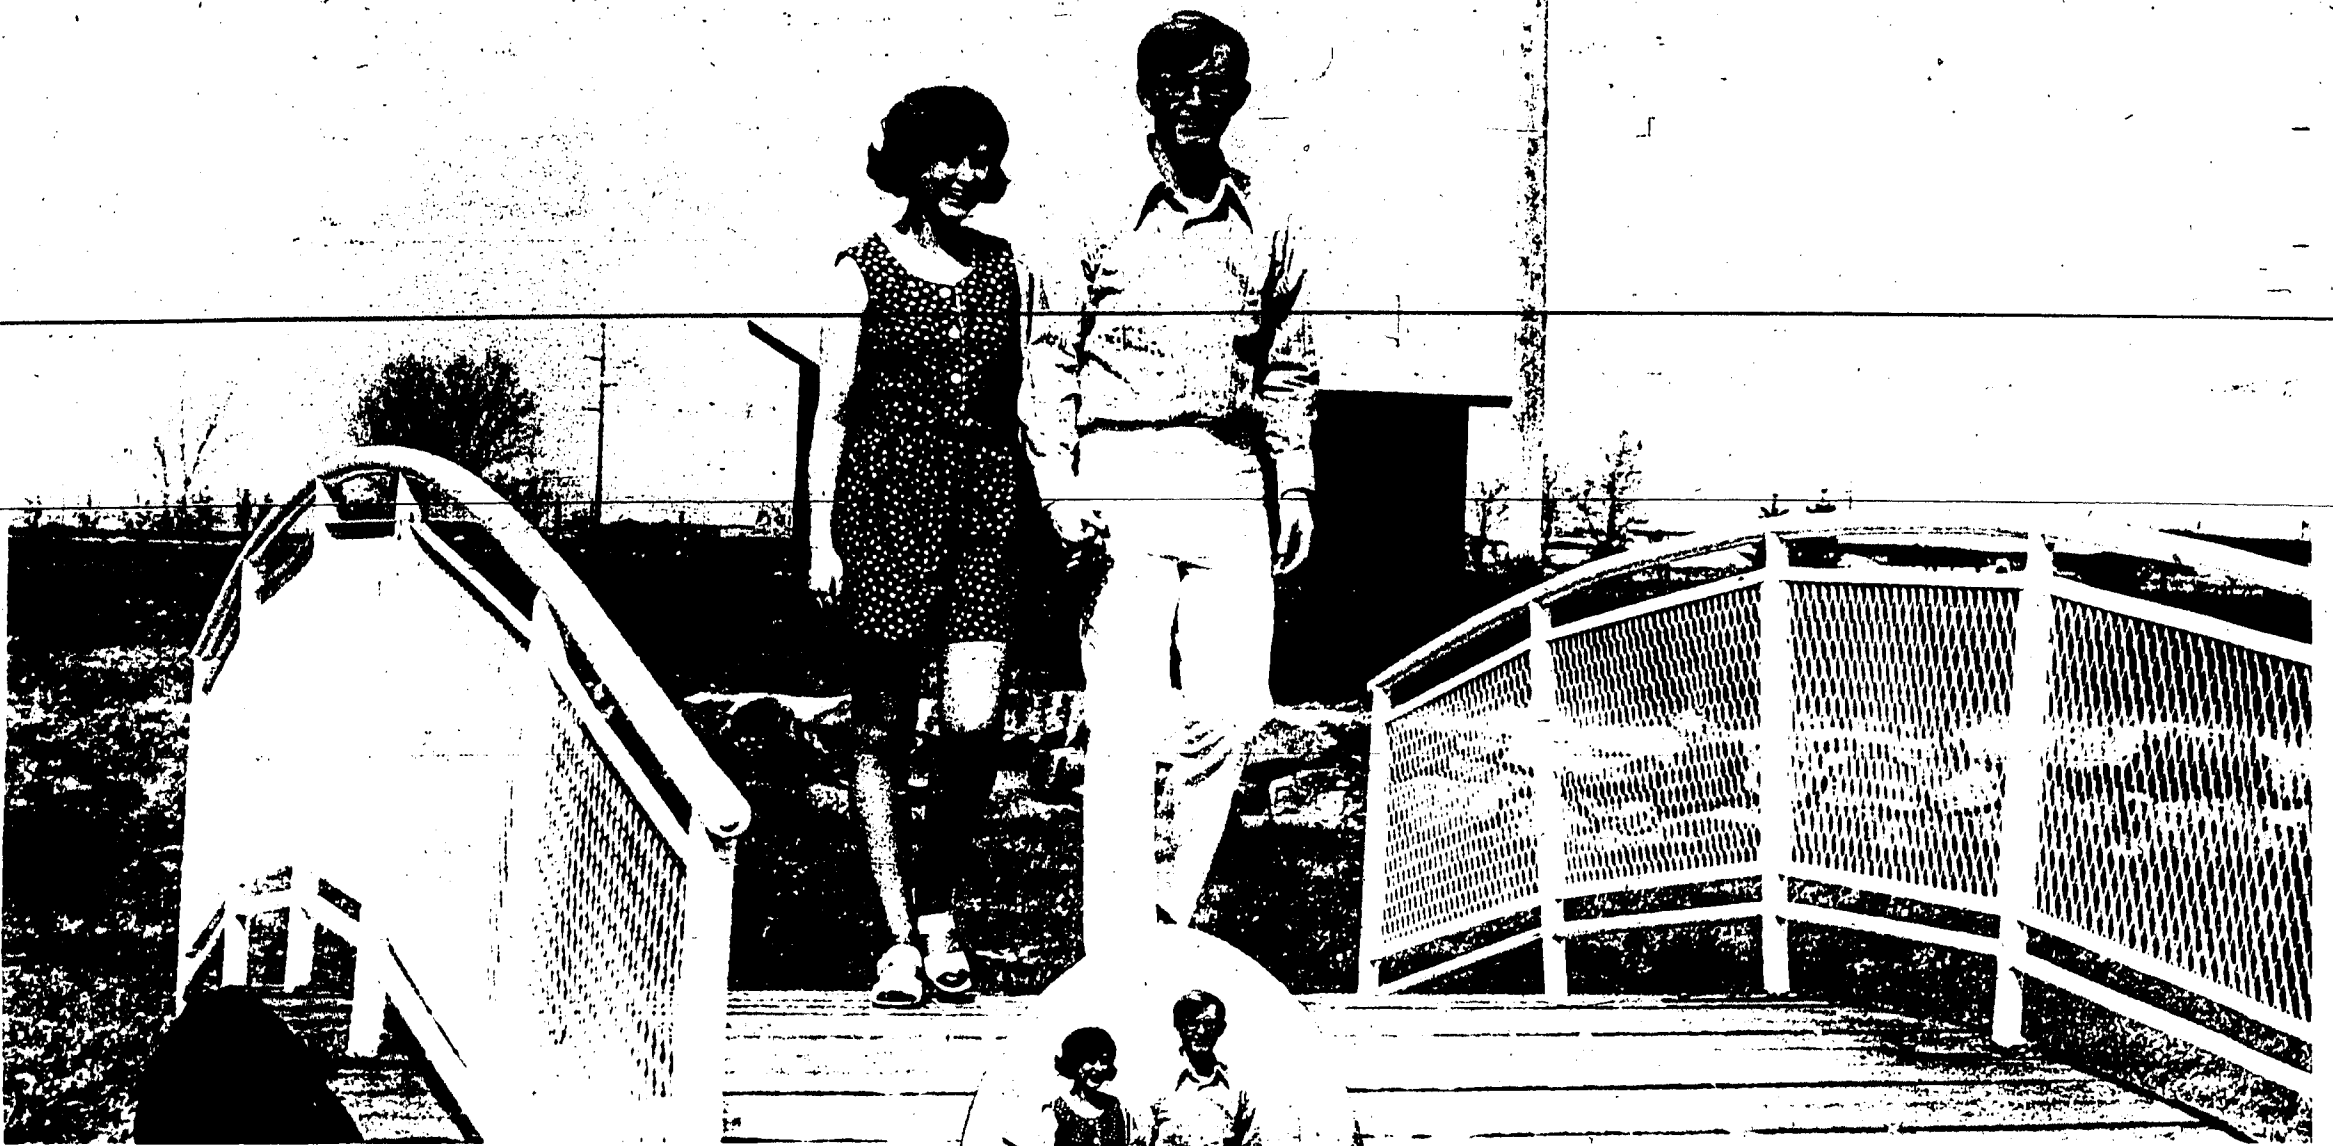

Miss Lynn Havener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Havener, Twin Falls is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and will graduate from CSI in May. Lynn is presently employed as a secretary at CSI. Duane Wiedenheft is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wiedenheft, Twin Falls, and is a graduate of Twin Falls High School. Duane graduated from CSI last year and is presently employed at Havener's Camera and Sound.

A summer wedding is planned and after a honeymoon which will hopefully be kept a secret, the couple will reside in Pocatello where they plan to attend Idaho State University. Duane plans on a business career and Lynn will major in Education.

AND NOW . . .

let us turn to the tour of our hometown merchants, where Lynn and Duane met many friendly salespeople, and found innumerable items and ideas for their new life together. The Times-News and a host of Twin Falls friends and businessmen wish Lynn and Duane a long happy married life.

Here's Where The Beautiful Wedding Belles Come From!

Sound Sets The Mood
For The Newlyweds

Lynn looks at the beautiful "Bridal Original" designer wedding gown in the Mayfair Bridal Salon Collection. This is a bride's favorite and is of 3D Fine cotton with Venice Lace accenting the bodice and encircling the wide acetate peau de soie hem of the rayon organza cage that sweeps to a chapel train. Bridal consultant, Mrs. Joyce Wells, who has dressed the most beautiful brides for the past 10 years, gives every bride-to-be a free booklet of facts and fashions to answer most questions. At The Mayfair they can help her with even more, such as bride-groom fashion balance, bridesmaids dresses, mother-of-the-bride fashions, and trousseau for milady.

The first sight of this magnificent Motorola Console caught Duane and Lynn's attention. The beautiful Mediterranean design is sure to add richness in decor to any home. It's magnified as Mr. Vede Walker explains how true dimension in music is achieved from the deepest bass note to the most fragile treble sounds of the audible scale. To develop the sound system the Motorola engineers have translated advanced technology of space age electronics into dynamic design concept for home entertainment. This 350 watt system for reproducing music and voice is crafted with all solid state components and engineered with the same know how that created the Quasar Color TV for optimum performance, dependability and reliability.

Being Beautiful For The Groom Is Very Important To The Bride

Lynn is being shown the Ultimate of "Ultima" by Nikki Lewis, an experienced cosmetician, at Crowley's Drug Store. "Ultima," Ultra Perfume spray, the new breed of fragrance, flagrantly feminine, is a never-before high note with super staying powers to last through long ceremonies, the reception, and on.

There's more to "Ultima" than perfume, they also have Enriched Milk Bath, Soapless Mineral Bathing Gelée, Bath Soap, After Bath Cologne, Enriched Body Lotion, Perfumed Dusting Powder, Colling spray Bath Powder, and a complete line of Skincare products by "Ultima."

Lynn will not only look beautiful, she will smell lovely too. Duane looks on with obvious approval.

Duane Is Pleased With Roper's Smart Double Knit Fashions

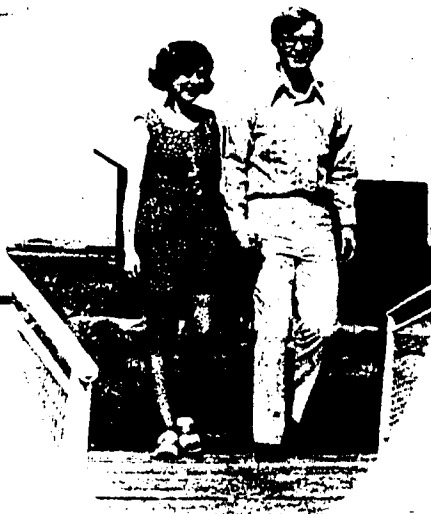

Groom's have their moments too! At Roper's, Duane enjoys the attention of Jim as he tries on a sportscoat by Louis Goldsmith. The 100 per cent polyester double knit makes it an ideal summerweight for travel. This is one of the many Spring and Summer models now on display at Roper's in Twin Falls — featuring fine clothes for men from such famous manufacturers as Hart, Schaffner & Marx, Kingsridge, Louis Goldsmith, Hendrix Square and Manchester . . . plus many, many others. Roper's offer complete selections of men's furnishings, from ties and socks and other accessories right up to and including the latest styles in formal wear.

Even though she is not in the picture, Lynn enjoys the fine selection of ladies sportswear and dresses in the Roper's Ladies Department.

Where You Save Does Make A Difference

It was only natural that one of the first stops Lynn and Duane made on their prewedding tour would be the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. Here, they are greeted by Elaine Halverson who explains that the best years of their lives are coming! They can be such fun, too . . . so full and rich and satisfying if they plan for them. Whether its travel, retirement, a place in the country, where they save for their future does make a cash difference. There's no better place to save than at First Federal. Returns are excellent. Savings grow faster . . . and savings are insured to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. What's more, your money can't lose a penny of its dollar value . . . and there's no charge to put it in or take it out. To be sure of those precious years ahead . . . making them the happiest of all . . . Lynn and Duane realize the many benefits of starting a savings account now.

Selecting Furniture Styles From Blacker's Collection

Lynn and Duane are delighted with the large selection of Fine Home Furnishings shown them by Ed Cook in Blacker's. Here he shows them the rich finish and high quality of the bedroom furniture on their mezzanine. They were very pleased with the other rooms of furniture offered such as living room sets, end tables, lamps, pictures and wall decor. Blacker's also furnish the finest line of General Electric appliances along with distinctive styles of furniture priced for the average income home. Other items include elegant carpet by Alexander Smith, bedrooms by American Drew, living rooms groups by Bailey Schmitt and B. P. John and recliners by Strato-lounger.

Lynn and Duane found Blacker's specialize in furniture for young people with a budget plan to fit every pocketbook.

Even What You Walk On Can Be Lovely!

On their visit to Claude Brown's, Duane and Lynn tried to visualize which color of carpeting would add to the decor of their living room. They know they especially like the luxury of Shag Carpet by Evans & Black.

Lynn and Duane are also interested in the modern indoor-outdoor carpet that is so popular as a sensible floor covering. Besides it's wearability, indoor-outdoor carpeting is virtually accident-proof and designed to replace vinyl floorcovering.

For the past 51 years, Claude Brown has had a reputation for their fine carpeting because of the very large selection of all types of the finest carpeting... the largest selection in South Central Idaho.
